JFK-Krush Parley Set

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev will meet in Vienna June 3 and 4 for a "general exchange of views" on major world issues, the White House announced today.

The announcement ruled out any effort to reach agreement on "the major international problems that involve the interest of many other countries."

"The meeting will, however, afford a timely and convenient opportunity for the first personal contact between them (Kennedy and Khrushchev) and a general exchange of views on the major issues which affect the relationship between the two countries," the announcement said.

Announcement of the meeting was made simultaneously in Washington, Moscow and London.

It disclosed officially what had been rumored for some time — that after a meeting with French President Charles de Gaulle in Paris May 31-June 2, the President will go directly to Vienna.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy will make the trip on the morning of June 3. It is approximately a two-hour flight.

Sometime on June 4—Salinger did not know the hour—the President will fly from Vienna to London for a visit with Mrs. Kennedy's sister and her husband, Prince Stanislas Radziwill.

The London stopover gives the President an opportunity to meet with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan after the talk with Khrushchev. The White House statement disclosed that meeting will occur at a luncheon on June 5.

Kennedy, the statement said, "will depart London for Washington late in the evening" of June 5 while Mrs. Kennedy will remain with her sister in London for several days.

The schedule will get Kennedy back to the United States much too late to keep a scheduled date for a speech at West Virginia University June 5.

As late as Thursday afternoon Salinger had said there was no change in the President's commitment to speak at the university.

Today in announcing Kennedy's revised plans Salinger gave no information on what would be done about the engagement at the university.

The announcement said the agreement to meet in Vienna followed "discussions through diplomatic channels which began last March and an exchange of communications."

Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov called on Kennedy last Tuesday and delivered a message from Khrushchev.

Messages have gone back and forth between the White House and the Kremlin since Kennedy was inaugurated Jan. 20.

The announcement confirmed earlier word from informants here that Kennedy considered the talk with Khrushchev should be private and completely informal and should not involve actual negotiations since most of the important issues of the cold war are matters of great concern to many other governments.

"The President and Chairman Khrushchev understand that this meeting is not for the purpose of negotiating or reaching agreement on the major international problems that involve the interest of many other countries," the announcement said.

"The meeting will, however, afford a timely and convenient opportunity for the first personal contact between them and a general exchange of views on the major issues which affect the relationship between the two countries."

That wording was wide enough to cover every major problem, present or imminent, in the world now—the deadlocked nuclear test talks at Geneva, the crisis in Southeast Asia, the future of the United Nations, the long dispute over West Berlin, the nuclear weapons race, disarmament, and many others.

The announcement did not emphasize a need for discussion of any topic or group of topics although it is understood that Kennedy intends to concentrate primarily on trying to get Khrushchev to modify the Soviet position on the nuclear test talks and thereby open new hope for some agreement.

An announcement in London said the Kennedys will dine with Queen Elizabeth II June 5.

Diplomatic officials say privately Kennedy's primary interest in meeting Khrushchev is to try through direct personal diplomacy to save the Geneva negotiations on a nuclear weapons test ban. The talks among the United States Britain and the Soviet Union have been deadlocked for many weeks.

In addition, the President is said to feel that it would be useful for him at this time to make clear to Khrushchev that in spite of U. S. reverses in Cuba and Laos the United States is determined to stand by commitments to prevent free nations from being taken over by international communism.

Reds To Help Supply Panel

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

GENEVA (AP)—Under prodding by Canada, the Soviet Union agreed today to help solve the urgent problem of supplying the control commission in Laos with equipment needed to preserve the peace.

The 14-nation conference here sent off a message to the commission asking what it needed in the way of planes, helicopters, trucks and communications equipment for patrolling the Laotian jungles.

Foreign Secretary Howard C. Green of Canada brought up the question of supply, declaring the need was imperative. Conference sources said he thus put the issue squarely up to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrey A. Gromyko.

Rather than assume a stalling attitude before the conference, Gromyko agreed to Green's proposal, these sources said.

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and other members of the American delegation were delighted at Green's triumph, they added.

The action represented the first fully defined achievement in four days of lengthy and complex conference negotiations on Laos.

Indian delegate V. K. Krishna Menon told newsmen he understood the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union were ready to help out the truce teams with planes, helicopters and other equipment.

India is chairman of the three-nation commission, Poland and Canada the other members.

Menon said Indian and Canadian pilots could fly the Western aircraft and Poles the Soviet machines.

East and West delegates approved the move to tighten the shaky truce in Laos. Both sides had charged Thursday that the rival factions in that country were violating the cease-fire.

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home and the Soviet Union's Andrei A. Gromyko, as cochairmen of the conference, discussed ways to strengthen the truce commission's hand.

They included proposals for reinforcing the commission with more money and manpower; swiftly providing a fleet of airplanes, helicopters, cars, trucks and communications equipment; calling for countrywide surveillance of the uneasy cease-fire.

The initiative for the conference's crash program to buttress the international commission came from Canadian Foreign Minister Howard C. Green, who urged for speed and said the commission could not properly check the truce without its own fully self-contained system of transportation, communications and maintenance.

Meanwhile, the Western Big Three shaped up a new plan designed to rid the troubled kingdom of the North Vietnamese who they claim turned the tide of battle in favor of the Pathet Lao rebels.

Duplication Causes Stir

BALTIMORE (AP)—The postman not only rang twice, he rang three times, and Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Scott hope he doesn't ring again.

In March the Scotts received a refund check from the Internal Revenue Service for $304.71.

On April 10 they received another. Realizing an error had been made, they returned it. Unfortunately, it somehow got torn, and the IRS sent them another check to "replace the one which was mutilated." Again it was returned.

Then came a bill for $306.06. The IRS had discovered the duplication and the added amount was for interest.

A phone call to the Baltimore IRS Bureau brought this encouraging advice: "Send the bill directly to us, or your wages will be attached."

Mother, Three Tots Die In Fire

EUREKA, Calif. (AP)—A mother and her three children burned to death Thursday night at their home in the hills over Korbel, about 25 miles over torturous mountain roads from this Northern California town.

Killed were Vivian Dusi, 27, and her children, Terry Lynn, 6; Eldo Jr., 4; and Julia Alene, 9 months.

Her husband was at work.

Korea President Yun Steps Aside

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — President Yun Po-sun has resigned, a presidential secretary announced today. The development was reported as military rule prevailed again in South Korea for the first time since Syngman Rhee was ousted last year.

A statement issued to newsmen over Yun's name said "I regret that I made so little contribution to the nation that a military revolution has occurred."

Yun was the only constitutional official left in office ater a military coup this week seized power and forced the resignation of Premier John M. Chang.

Yun's resignation, which was confirmed by spokesmen reached by telephone at the presidential palace, followed by one day Premier Chang's capitulation and resignation.

Under the South Korean form of government, the premier exercised the real ruling power and the president was a figurehead chief of state.

In a Korean crisis such as this week's uprising, it is traditional for the leading figures to step aside in penance.

The nation's military chiefs had arrested 930 suspected leftists and imposed stringent censorship.

The 38-year-old general, still in combat fatigues, told newsmen those arrested will be "properly dealt with after careful investigation."

The general did not give any names, but most were thought to be Socialists with from moderate to extreme left leanings. The Communist party is outlawed in this nation of 23 million and its operation is underground.

Chang said deposed Premier John M. Chang and his cabinet ministers were at their homes and under house arrest. They will be subject to severe punishment, he said, "if any serious crimes by them are uncovered."

Chang said he based his forecast of good relations between the U. S. government and his regime on the fact that "our armed forces ... have had closer relations with U. S. authorities than any other Korean agency."

In Washington, Undersecretary of State Chester Bowles said the United States can hardly cheer at the upsetting of a constitutional government" but that he thought the new regime would be recognized.

A spokesman for the U. S. operation mission, which this year will dispense some $200 million in aid to South Korea, said work was resumed Thursday on all projects on the planning boards or under construction.

As censorship was broadened, Korean radio stations were ordered to quit relaying the Voice of America's twice-a-day news programs in the Korean language. The object was to keep any criticism of the military government from the people.

Newspapers were carefully checked by censors. Anything critical of the army revolt was deleted from both local stories and dispatches from overseas. The papers also were ordered to quit publishing blank or searred spaces to indicate censored matter.

Heavy Rains, Hail Hit Some Areas Of County

The rains came to Scurry County late Thursday, drenching some portions with deluges mixed with hail, while other areas got modest showers.

Heaviest downpours were in the south part of the county, with up to 5.8 inches reported around Dunn. Heavy hail accompanied the rainfall theere, covering the ground with a blanket of ice.

Snyder received varied amounts of moisture, with 1.72 inches recorded on the official gauge at the city water treatment plant in the south part of town. Substantially heavier amounts, ranging up to an estimated 3 inches, fell in the east part of town, while the fall was lighter in West Snyder.

Hermleigh had heavy rains with no hail, with the fall ranging up to 4 inches, while Ira had 2.5 inches with no hail and only a few gusts of high winds which resulted in no damage. The rainfall was heavier west of Hermleigh toward Dunn.

About 5 inches of rain was reported at the Martin Murphy place north of China Grove, and no hail was reported there. Five-inch rain gauges reportedly overflowed at the Ernest Sorrells and Gerald Crawford places at Dunn.

Rainfall ranged up to 1.5 inches at Fluvanna and in the Lloyd Mountain area. The Fluvanna area also got some hail Thursday afternoon, with the heaviest fall reported north of town.

To the southwest, only .42 inch was reported at the Von Roeder orchard near Knapp and Lake J. B. Thomas. Early reports from the lake listed no runoff into the lake this morning, indicating relatively light rain in the immediate area to the north and west.

County Agent Bill Roach said the rains should replenish surface moisture in the area where the heaviest downpours were received. Most of the county had good subsoil moisture, but the surface moisture was depleted, the county agent said.

The rains came during a night of turbulence for much of West Texas.

Winds up to 64 miles per hour struck Colorado City, felling trees and downing six utility poles west of town. Hail, some as large as golf balls, damaged roofs and broke some windows.

The Colorado City vicinity got up to 6.85 inches of rain but no flooding occurred. The town itself had 4.79 inches from 4:30 p.m. Thursday to 7 a.m. Friday.

The rains were welcomed enthusiastically by farmers and ranchers, some of whose land was parched.

Sterling City, in the same general area, reported 7.02 inches.

Other heavy rains included Garden City 3.57, Rotan 1.35, Plainview 1.73, Snyder 1.72, Childress 1.15, Coleman 4.00, Burkett 2.27, Dooley 1.70, Paint Rock 3.55, Leaday 2.90, Van Court 2.44, and around Alpine in the Big Bend Country up to 2 inches.

A car driven by Dr. Paul Weyerts of Alpine was washed off the road and into a ditch. The doctor was not injured.

Water flooded over U.S. 67 between Alpine and Fort Stockton, while a minor flood closed Texas 118 between Alpine and Ft. Davis.

Official rainfall at Alpine was .96 inches, with 2 inches at the Keesey Kimball ranch northeast of Alpine.

New Estimate On Yield Of Tax Measure

AUSTIN (AP)—A new estimate today of the revenue in the pending package tax bill showed it would produce $328,858,000 in 1962-1963, minus administrative costs.

The tax plan, chiefly a 2 per cent levy on sales of 25 cents and over, has been approved by the Senate and is pending in the House which will approve or disapprove it in an unusual Saturday session.

Kenneth Kimbro, chief aide to the state comptroller, said the new estimate was received today from the Texas Research League, a privately financed research organization, that did much of the background work for the bill sponsored by Sen. Wardlow Lane.

Kimbro said the league's figures would be helpful to the comptroller's department in making its own estimate of how much it will cost to administer the act if finally passed. The bill allocates up to 2 per cent of its income for administration if necessary.

The league estimate says the sales tax feature of the bill will produce $286,308,000, the extension of the state franchise tax $21,490,000; a 50 per cent increase in drivers' licenses $7,259,000, and an increase in the gas production tax from 7 to 8 per cent $13,801,000.

The $328,858,000 estimate of total income takes into consideration the 2 per cent that retail merchants would be allowed to keep for the trouble in collecting the tax, said James McGrew, research director of the research league.

Minuteman Fails Its Second Test

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A Minuteman missile veered off course and was destroyed by the range safety officer today about 90 seconds after it blasted off on its second test flight.

The safety officer pushed the destruct button during second stage flight when instruments on his console indicated it was off course.

The explosion occurred after the rocket had streaked several miles through the sky and was not visible to Cape observers. The third-stage nose cone and pieces of the rocket plunged into the Atlantic.

The trim 58-foot rocket rode a column of thick white smoke into the sky as it leaped swiftly from its pad at 9:18 a.m. It was aimed at a broad patch of South Atlantic Ocean 4,600 miles southeast of here.

The Air Force hoped to repeat the success of the first Minuteman launching on Feb. 1 when the solid fuel missile plunked its nose cone in the same area aimed for today.

The rocket is essentially the same as the first Minuteman. The primary difference is the addition of more than 200 telemetry channels to radio information on performance of all systems.

Seconds after it blasted off, the rocket pitched over slightly and streaked downrange. The second stage appeared to ignite successfully but this was not immediately confirmed.

The Air Force plans to have the first operational Minutemen ready to plant in steel and concrete silos on a Montana prairie by mid-1962.

One in place, the missiles will be manned and guarded only through remote control.

In an emergency two men in an underground control center miles away could launch all 50 rockets in one squadron in a matter of minutes. With a 6,300-mile range, they could zip over the North Pole and strike enemy targets in less than 30 minutes.

Once Minuteman is perfected, the Air Force and Boeing Co., the system's manager, plan the biggest missile buildup in U.S. history. At least 600 of the swift, deadly missiles are expected to be on station by 1964. Defense planners are talking of eventually deploying 2,000 of the rockets across the northern tier of states.

An earlier plan to place Minutemen on mobile railroad cars has been shelved temporarily.

J. L. Green Dies Today

John Leonard Green, 58, died at his home on Route 1, Snyder, at 4 a. m. today.

Mr. Green is survived by his wife; two daughters, Dorothy Gill and Betty Jo Hildreth, both of Snyder; two sons, Billy of Snyder and John Green Jr. of Indianapolis, Ind.; a sister, Mrs. Sallie McMakin, of Weatherford, and a brother, Jim Green of Weatherford.

Funeral service will be conducted at 2:30 p. m. Monday in the Bethel Baptist Church with the Rev. W. L. Cass, pastor, officiating. He will be assisted by the Rev. Walter A. Mitchell.

Burial will be in the Snyder Cemetery, under direction of Bell Funeral Home.

Johnson Gives India View Of A Politician In Action

By SPENCER DAVIS

AGRA, India (AP)—U.S. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson gave rural India an example of an American politician in action today as he shook hands through villages and assured them the people of the United States are interested in their welfare.

Johnson and his wife also visited the beautiful Taj Mahal, shimmering white in 106-degree heat. Johnson took a long look and called it "the greatest monument to love and a woman." It was built by Shah Jahan in the 17th century as a tomb for his wife.

Inside the domed central room a guide called a Moslem prayer for the visitors to hear a 15-second echo around the high circular ceiling of the elaborately inlaid marble.

Johnson let out a Texan "whoo-hop" but its echo was lost in laughter.

Johnson carried a basic message of American interest in the economic improvement of this impoverished farm area. Wherever he popped out of his air-conditioned car into the heat to look at bullocks or draw water from a well or inspect a village, the vice president reiterated the interest of President Kennedy and other Americans in their progress.

As he hauled a bucket up from a 40-foot well, Johnson told a grizzled farmer: "I was a poor boy and grew up where we had to draw water for horses and mules."

But, he added, rural electrification under President Franklin D. Roosevelt brought pumps and Johnson said he hoped rural India would be electrified soon.

While he was here, a joint communique was issued in New Delhi in the names of Johnson and Prime Minister Nehru calling on all mankind to join in the attack on ignorance, poverty and disease.

"The conquest of these everywhere is the first step to the assurance of peace and fredom," the communique said in a resume of two days of talks by the two men.

Daniel Threat Of Sales Tax Veto Lauded By Democrats

By DAVE CHEAVENS

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel voiced a new threat today to veto any general retail sales tax bill and won a round of applause from state Democratic leaders.

Daniel told the State Democratic Executive Committee that all of the "arrogant lobbyists in Austin are not going to get me to change."

The committee applauded as Daniel said "I have made my pledge and I am going to stick with this platform."

The governor was referring to the state party platform opposing the principle of retail sales taxes or state income taxes to provide budget balancing revenues.

Daniel said one or more special sessions of the legislature will be necessary if the House does not send the tax bill to a conference committee Saturday.

The governor said that he hoped that a conference committee could work out a compromise "to get everybody's ideas into a tax bill [illegible] which taxes private citizens for 90 per cent of its revenue."

He said he knew that some individual members of the executive committee differed with him but he thought a majority was with him and he hoped the committee would back him up on the Democratic platform.

He told the State Democratic Executive Committee that a powerful force of lobbyists is trying to force a sales tax and "thwart the party platform" on this and several other issues.

If the House sends the Senate-approved tax bill to conference committee, the governor said, "I believe a compromise and success will result."

"Otherwise, of course, one or more special sessions will be inevitable," Daniel said.

The statement carried with it the implied threat of a veto of the $329 million tax bill—loaded with sales taxes—unless it can be altered in a joint committee of senators and representatives.

Reservists Saluted

(EDITOR'S NOTE — The following are excerpts from an address by Maj. Gen Gilman Clifford Mudgett published recently in "The Army Reservist." They are reproduced here as a feature in connection with Armed Forces Day, set for Saturday.)

I am going to talk to you about our citizen-soldiers, and I think it particularly appropriate that a professional soldier be the one to tell you about your debt to them. This occasion is also an opportune one for me personally, since I am fast approaching the age of legislated senility, and this will be one of my last opportunities to salute them before I put away my uniform.

The strategy to support national policy has deployed our deterrent force to many areas of the world. This, in turn has resulted in a military situation not fully appreciated by the American public and one in which a small group of citizens carries a heavy load.

Who are these citizens? They are the most dedicated and patriotic of this country! They live daily by motto of "service above self." They are a group poorly recognized by the average American citizen. They deserve far more credit than they receive. They are the unsung heroes of our current age. I refer to the citizen-soldier.

Who are these citizen-soldiers? We have them in many categories.

First, the drafted soldier. He is an individual who, through due process of law, has been selected by his neighbors in what might be called a grab-bag method to serve his country. He represents all classes of young American citizens.

The drafted soldier is serving because of a law which you have established and support. He needs a word of encouragement. But how often does he get it? Have you as a citizen made an effort to recognize him, to give him a pat on the back? Have you let him know that you as an individual know that he is carrying out an obligation which you personally have placed upon him?

Next is the same drafted soldier who, after completion of his active service, returns to civilian life with a continuing obligation to serve in a Reserve or a National Guard unit. This again is a requirement you as a voting citizen have placed upon him, while many of his compatriots in the same age bracket have yet to serve a single day on active duty. He has already completed his two years' duty; yet you require that he continue his service in the active Reserves. Here again, do you ever recognize him? Do you ever give him a pat on the back for carrying out an obligation which you as a citizen have imposed upon him? And do you as an employer make it easy for him to carry out these duties?

Next, I would like to refer to the ROTC student—especially the cadet in this third or fourth year. He is the student who voluntarily selected to continue his military training to become an officer. He recognizes that he has more to contribute to defense than his less fortunate compatriots who lacked opportunity for a college education. After he leaves college, he must serve either two years or six months on active duty. On return to civil life, he too must serve in a Reserve unit. His group represents three-fourths of the lieutenants in our active Army today. He needs special recognition from you, and I often wonder if you in turn ever encourage him by a simple pat on the back for carrying out an obligation which you have placed on him.

Next among the citizen-soldiers comes the group that I particularly desire to bring to your attention and discuss in some detail today. These are members of the National Guard and the U. S. Army Reserve who have completed their obligated service, but who continue to devote many of their leisure hours from their civilian occupation to your defense. The time they give is that which you devote to golf, to fishing, to hunting, to playing bridge and to the other avocations you pursue during your vacation period.

I refer especially to the officers above the grade of lieutenant in our National Guard and Reserve Forces and the senior noncommissioned officers. They are the individuals who are dedicating their time and their service in carrying out an obligation of citizenship which they recognize as a continuing responsibility. They . . . certainly represent the unsung heroes of our present day.

As a professional soldier, I am often asked why we need Reserve Forces. Why isn't the Active Army enough? Why must we have Reserve Forces that are better prepared, better trained, and ready for more immediate employment than ever before when we have an active Army bigger than any we have ever maintained in peacetime?

The question is sometimes answered by a simple reference to the fact that the time element has been greatly compressed, that oceans are no longer barriers, and that we may become involved in a war at a much faster tempo than has been true in the past. This is only a partial answer.

If a shooting war occurs, who is going to reinforce and back up (the Active Army) units?

The only reinforcements the Army has today to accomplish this mission are the citizen-soldiers of this country—the individuals this country has always relied upon in times of emergency.

What is the status of our reinforcing units?

We sent your sons, sons of friends and neighbors of yours overseas to carry out a national policy. In case of war, they will need reinforcements.

The citizen-soldiers I refer to—voluntary members of the National Guard and the Army Reserve—fully recognize this problem. They are exerting every effort to make certain that their units reach the stage of training where we can shorten that long period of waiting for trained reinforcements. We are making progress in this field.

. . . These are the dedicated men—the citizen-soldiers, the unsung heroes—who deserve far more recognition than they are receiving today. . . .

What can you do to assist? First, you can give the drafted soldier a pat on the back when he departs for service or is home on furlough. Let him know that you fully recognize that he is carrying out an obligation you have placed upon him.

In the case of the ROTC student, you can also review your employment procedures for recruiting junior executives and give more consideration to that youngster who delayed his entry into the business world. Remember he did it to improve his qualifications as a junior officer for your defense in time of emergency. You will find that he has acquired considerable experience in handling men. He has had more practice in leadership than your own business could have provided him in the first two years of employment.

I would also like to ask that those of you who are employers review your policies in reference to military leave. I find that the majority of the young men who have an obligation to attend the two weeks' summer training are forced to do so on their vacation time. This is a real sacrifice not only for them, but more especially for their wives and children.

As you review your military leave policies, give consideration to the fact that these young men who are giving up their vacations are doing so to carry out an obligation that you as a citizen have directed. In fact, they are doing a job for you; but too many of them are forced to do it on their own vacation time. ASK YOURSELF, IS THIS FAIR?

But above all, give more recognition to National Guardsmen and Reservists who no longer have an obligation but who are devoting long hours to this problem of having reinforcing units ready in an emergency. Give them an encouraging word in your normal business contacts and recognize them publicly whenever the occasion presents itself. These are men who recognize the real significance of a statement made by General Marshall while he was Secretary of State—"We have tried since the birth of our nation to promote our love of peace by a display of weakness. This course has failed us utterly."

Fresh Water From Sea Is Presented

WASHINGTON (AP)— Secretary of Interior Stewart Udall presented bottles of fresh water converted from sea water at the saline water conversion plant at Freeport, Tex., to four Democrats in Congress.

The water, converted May 12 in the first test of the plant, was given to Sen. Clinton Anderson of New Mexico; Rep. Walter Rodgers of Texas, co-author of the bill which authorized the program; Rep. Wayne Aspinall of Colorado, chairman of the House Interior Committee; and Rep. Clark Thompson of Texas, in whose district the plant is located.

Udall said the Freeport plant represents a number of firsts. They include:

First sea water conversion plant in the United States capable of producing one million gallons of fresh water a day and first such plant in which the basic patent is held by the government.

It is the first sea water conversion plant erected as a result of cooperation between a municipality, an industry, and the federal government; the first for public demonstration with information available to the public; the first plant regularly to supply water needs of a U.S. municipality; and is credited with four technical firsts in connection with operational factors.

Girls To Register For Rec Program

Summer fun with the girls in mind is to begin tomorrow with the registration sessions at the Towle Park Barn of the Summer Recreation Program.

Mrs. Tiny Moore, a swimming instructor, has been added to the staff. She will teach advanced swimming and is qualified to issue Red Cross instruction in that phase of activity. As an added attraction, swimming teams will also eventually be organized.

Mrs. Moore will begin her lessons on June 5. Each series of lessons will be of two weeks' duration, with one lesson being given per day. Each group of 10 lessons will be offered at the rate of $2.50, which is payable at the time the girls register.

Art lessons will also be taught this year by Mrs. W. A. McGlaun. These lessons will be held in the Barn at the rate of one lesson a week on either Tuesday or Wendesday.

The registration sessions are scheduled for tomorrow at the Barn in Towle Park. All girls going into the third grade and through high school are eligible for this program. Third and fourth grade girls are asked to register from 10-11 a. m.; fifth and sixth graders from 11 a. m.-12 noon; and junior and senior high girls from 1-4 p. m.

A host of activities are to be offered, the list being a continually expanding one. Specialized instructors include James Wesson (tennis and angling), Mrs. Moore (swimming), Mrs. W. A. McGlaun (art), Mrs. Jack Longbotham (horseback riding), and Guy Sullivan (track).

A charm school will also be offered, with Mrs. Longbotham teaching the phase on exercises; Mrs. Eula Williams on health; Mrs. Barbara Bigham on posture and walking; Mrs. B. J. Weaver on proper clothing; and Mrs. Mark McLaughlin on table etiquette.

In addition to the above, numerous other activities cram the varied agenda, including gym activities, softball, crafts, bowling, and bicycling. Yo-yo and fishing contests will be announced at a later date, also.

All Scurry County girls are encouraged to take part in the program, with the membership fee for the summer being 25 cents.

Mrs. Dorothy Miller and James Wesson are co-directors of the program.

Blakley To Sell Holding In Airline

DALLAS (AP) — Sen. William Blakley said today he and the Blakley-Braniff Foundation are selling their multi-million-dollar interest in Braniff International Airways to four Dallas businessmen.

The purchasers in the $13.5 million transaction are J. Erik Jonsson, chairman of Texas Instruments, Inc.; Eugene McDermott, Cecil Green and P. E. Haggerty. All are top executives of Texas Instruments.

Blakley said the deal involves slightly more than one million shares in Braniff Airways.

The senator, now serving by interim appointment and candidate in a May 27 election for the unexpired term of Vice President Lyndon Johnson, said his reason for selling his Braniff stock was that he could best represent Texans by divesting himself of both his Braniff stock and the responsibilities it entailed.

"It is my intention to devote full time to the duties of United States senator," Blakley said, "and to represent the people of Texas with full freedom of action and decision."

Jonsson, speaking for the purchasers, said the purchase for cash of the Blakley interests in Braniff represented a personal investment for each of the purchasers and did not in any manner involve Texas Instruments, Inc.

Blakley's opponent in the May 27 Senate election is John Tower, a Republican and former college professor.

Blakley has widespread interests in oil, ranching and other investments.

I. E. H. Homes Go On Display Here

Residents of this area will be able to inspect the I. E. H. model homes built under the Institute for Essential Housing Program by the Home Lumber Co. of Rotan.

Grand opening of the display at East Highway and Avenue E is set for Saturday and Sunday. After the grand opening the homes will be open for public viewing seven days a week, according to L. E. McBeth, authorized I. E. H. builder for this area.

"We are able to build the kind of home people want, and at a price they can afford to pay," said McBeth. "This is real progress in home building in America."

The Institute For Essential Housing is an organization formed utilizing private capital, to fill the great need for low-cost homes not now covered by conventional building and financing practices. The Institute for Essential Housing is equipped to maintain complete research, architectural and production supervision services, as well as total financing for essential single family dwellings on any accessible, suitable land to which the prospective home owner has property in the city, farm, or lake, or resort area. I. E. H. homes are available in four stages on construction, the basic (or shell house); the basic plus material and equipment package to complete the home; the livable home, and the completely finished home which is completely finished and decorated.

Officers Go To Session

Five persons from local law enforcement agencies attended the semi-annual meeting of the West Texas-New Mexico Communications Association yesterday in Big Spring.

Attending from Snyder were Allen Owens and George Roemisch of the Sheriff's Department, and Pat Bullard, J. H. Kimmel and C. E. Patton of the Snyder Police Department.

The sessions are conducted twice each year to improve communications services of law enforcement agencies. The session in Big Spring dealt with the use of teletypes for inter-agency communications, and with records systems for fingerprint and auto registrations files.

Homicide Is Prolonged

DETROIT, Mich. (AP)—Joseph Fields lived 30 years with a knife blade in his chest. He died last Monday at 52.

Thursday his death was ruled a homicide.

There will be no prosecution, however. Under Michigan law a death occurring more than a year and a day after an assault cannot be legally attributed to the assault.

An X-ray in 1959 showed a broken 3-inch knife blade imbedded in Fields' chest. He said it was a pocket knife blade which broke off in a fight "about 30 years ago."

Doctors decided it was too dangerous to attempt to remove the blade.

Fields had been ill with diabetes and a heart condition before his death. But after an autopsy Dr. Theodore S. Rosen, assistant medical examiner, ruled his death a homicide.

One Injured In Mishap

A vehicle was damaged and one injury was reported in a traffic mishap this morning.

City police reported that Eloise White, 3201 Hill Avenue, was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by Bell ambulance after the 1956 Ford she was driving was involved in a collision with a 1957 Chevrolet truck driven by William Walter Wood. She suffered a possible back injury. The car sustained damage estimated at $200, while the truck was not damaged.

At about 3:20 p. m. Thursday, a 1960 Pontiac driven by Linda Bilbrey Orr of Odessa sustained damage estimated at $150 when it went out of control and hit a utility pole at 1311 Avenue S.

At 8:36 p. m. Thursday, a 1956 Chevrolet driven by Elmer Walton of Hermleigh, was in collision with a 1955 Ford owned by H. N. Faulkner, Snyder Courts. The latter vehicle was parked at Twenty-sixth and Avenue L when the mishap occurred. The Chevrolet had damages estimated at $300, while the Ford sustained damage estimated at $250.

Parents Of Band Pupils Will Meet

Two sessions have been scheduled for parents of prospective band students. The first meeting will take place Monday night at 7:30 in the Lamar Junior High Band Hall. The second gathering will be Tuesday night, also at 7:30 at the Travis Jr. High Band Hall.

Future band students are urged to accompany their parents.

Purpose of the meeting, according to Melvin Montgomery, Director of Instrumental Music, is to further aquaint the parents and students with the band program and to help them arrange for an instrument. Representatives of several music companies will be present and explain their purchase and rental plans. Also a limited number of used horns available in Snyder will be listed.

Invited to attend these meetings is any student who will be in 7th grade next year and may have failed to preregister for band.

Summer band classes for beginners and advanced students will begin at the High School on July 17; at Travis on June 19; and at Lamar on July 31. Any beginners however, start in the fall. Additional information will be in the Snyder Daily News before summer session begins.

Ira P-TA In Installation

[illegible] — The Ira Parent-Teachers Association [illegible] yesterday in [illegible] with [illegible] in attendance.

Mrs. Leon Sterling, president, presided at the [illegible] business meeting at which the group voted [illegible] for all girls in the Ira community.

Mrs. [illegible] Kincaid, [illegible] chairman, introduced Mrs. O. W. Bacon, who is [illegible] from [illegible] Secretary Mrs. [illegible].

Those members having the perfect attendance records for the [illegible] meetings of the year were introduced and included Mesdames Jack [illegible], Howard Sterling, [illegible], O. W. Holladay, Steve Cox Jr., [illegible] Sterling and Miss Martha [illegible], who is a teacher at the school.

Mrs. Leon Sterling recognized committee chairmen of the past year, after which Mrs. Bacon installed the new slate of officers. The installation theme was "Believe, Belong and Help Build." Incoming officers included Mrs. Holladay, president; Mrs. Cox, vice president; Mrs. Bernard Bishop, secretary, and Mrs. Buford Sterling, treasurer.

Notification of new chairmen was also handed down. They include Mrs. Harold [illegible] (Program), Mrs. Lyndon [illegible] (Membership), Mrs. [illegible] Wilson (Publicity), Mrs. [illegible] Sterling (Hospitality), Mrs. [illegible] (Room Chair-[illegible]), Mrs. [illegible] Sterling (Publicity), Mrs. [illegible] (Yearbook), [illegible], Mrs. W. B. Sterling Jr. [illegible], Mrs. [illegible] (History), Mrs. [illegible], Mrs. [illegible] (Health and Welfare), Mrs. Leon Sterling (Parliamentarian) and Mrs. Harold Rosson (Librarian).

At conclusion of the business session Mrs. Leon Sterling pinned a president's pin on Mrs. O. W. Holladay, after which a style show was presented by the Homemaking Department.

Following the style show refreshments of iced mint tea and cookies were served in the school lunch room, with the fourth grade mothers hosting. The centerpiece was of lace cloth over green with a pink spring arrangement.

WOMEN

Phyl's Meatballs And Onions

2 thin slices bread (crusts off)
2 tablespoons water
1 egg
1 tablespoon instant onion
1 pound chuck beef (ground once)
¾ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons flour
Bacon fat
1 very large onion (cut thin and separated into rings)

Crumb bread into mixing bowl; add water and mix with fork. Add egg and beat with fork to mix yolk and white. Add onion, beef, salt and pepper; mix well so bread crumbs combine with meat. Shape into 20 balls and roll in flour. Grease hot 10-inch heavy skillet with bacon fat; add meatballs and brown slowly on all sides. Push meat balls around edge of skillet; add onion rings to center; continue cooking over low heat, stirring onions often, until they are golden brown and meatballs are cooked through. Add a little bacon fat to onions if necessary while cooking. Makes 4 servings.

Peas and Celery

1 can (8½ ounces) very small young peas
1 cup finely diced celery
Salt and pepper
1 or 2 tablespoon butter

Drain pea liquid into a small saucepan; add celery; boil gently until celery is tender-crisp—about 5 minutes. Add drained peas; reheat; drain off liquid. Add salt and pepper to taste and mix in butter until melted. Makes 3 servings.

Freezer Sauce

1 small head celery (with leaves off)
½ cup parsley sprigs
½ pound mushrooms
1 large onion
2 cloves garlic
1 slice bacon
¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup olive oil
1 pound ground lean beef
½ pound ground lean pork
1 can (6 ounces) tomato paste
2 cans (1 pound, 13 ounces each) tomato puree
1 tablespoon salt
1 teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon each oregano and allspice

With fine blade of food chopper, chop first 6 ingredients. In a large heavy kettle heat and butter and oil; add chopped ingredients and meats; brown meat lightly stirring often. Add remaining ingredients. Simmer, covered, about 1½ hours, stirring often. Makes about 2½ quarts. Refrigerate portion of sauce to be used overnight to develop flavor; store remainder in freezer.

Mykle Book Explores Love Vs. Sex

THE SONG OF THE RED RUBY. By Agnar Mykle. Translated from the Norwegian by Maurice Michael.

When Mykle's first novel, "Lasso Round the Moon," introduced a young man named Ash Burlefoot to the world, it caused quite a stir.

In this volume Burlefoot's story is continued into his college days. The hero's main achievement is to learn that love consists of a lot more than sex.

In arriving at this discovery, he proceeds through a number of tomcat adventures with some undistinguished young women who are not very difficult to conquer. These sections of the book led to a belief on the part of Norwegian officialdom that sex in this book was more literal than literary. On a final appeal against an obscenity charge, the publisher won the verdict. It is literary.

Between these adventures Burlefoot managed to do a little studying and to attend meetings of the Students' Socialist Society, where he met a more sophisticated young woman named Embla. He fell in love.

Mykle can write, there's no doubt about it. But it seemed to this reader that Burlefoot might have been a deeper character if there had been some hint of what if anything was happening to his mind while these emotional things were going on. What impression socialism made on his intellect, for example. Perhaps Myke intended his hero to be wholly sophomoric. Let's let it go at that.

Minow Sounded Encouraging As Barricuda, But Hedges

BY INEZ ROBB

One swallow does not make a summer, nor the first 100 days a new Administration. Still, there will be a lot of audience participation, mainly cliff - hanging on the part of hopeful Americans, in coming months until it is determined whether Newton N. Minow intends to activate his words or eat 'em.

At the moment, who can figure out what the new chairman of the Federal Communications Commission intends to do? Commissioner Minow sounded like a big, bold barricuda when he told the annual convention of the National Association of Broadcasters to give the nation quality programing or accept the consequences, i.e., loss of licenses.

He became an instant hero to viewers and critics alike who are offended, as Minow said he was, with teevee blood and spilled guts, endless horse opera, sadism, private eyes, game shows and "situation comedies" in which there is neither situation nor comedy.

"Lord love you, Mr. Minow," cried that usually cool cyanide - and - stainless steel critic of the air waves, Harriet Van Horne, who, in the past, has called for heaven's intercession in teevee but never in the form of a blessing. Other critics, both professional and amateur, including myself, echoed Miss Van Horne's emotional words.

Then, just as multitudes of Americans, who believe radio - teevee has a great national mission that it misses by a billion miles, settled back to await the renaissance and reformation of the home screen, a paper Minow swam in view.

Gone was the barricuda breed when the commissioner muttered that "censorship," which had not yet figured in the discourse, was un-American and that good taste should not be forced upon broadcasters and audience alike.

Is the nation to imply that good taste only smacks of censorship and un - Americanism? Are we to deduce that the present radio-teevee programing policy aimed at the mythical lowest common denominator is the only democratic way? God forbid!

Is there no hope, either, for radio, which is also in Minow's province? When I drove across the country a few weeks ago, I was revolted by the sub-human programing that gushed from radio stations across the land. For almost 2,800 miles I dialed the car radio in vain for programing above the cretin level.

The constant preoccupation of radio stations, particularly across the Southwest and mid-South, with hillbilly music, an art form that would offend the natives of Lower Slobbovia, is one of the most discouraging national phenomena I have ever encountered.

Not only are the music and lyrics debased and an insult to education and good taste, but stations add injury to indignity by hiring alleged hillbilly M.C.s to preside over the programs. These morons, in a twang and a whine that would offend a buzz saw, assault the English language with intent to kill hour after hour after hour.

In my despair, I began to wonder why we even consider Federal aid to education when, in a large section of the nation, a Federal agency — Commissioner Minow's — cannot or will not protect children from radio's vulgar mockery of their mother tongue. Why worry that multitudes of high-school graduates can neither read nor write their native language?

Mr. Minow, say it ain't so and say it soon! Say you [illegible] up the crusade before it starts. Get in there and smite the offenders, hip, thigh, A.M., P.M., F.M. and high frequency.

Wives Anxious For Solons To Adjourn

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—"Send the boys home soon."

That's the advice J. D. McCarty, speaker of the Oklahoma House of Representatives, got from the wife of another House member.

Mrs. Stona Fitch, in a wire to McCarty, added: "Lawn needs mowing, garden needs hoeing, cattle need spraying, house needs painting, finances are low, low, low."

The plea has significance. The legislature has been in session 4½ months with no immediate end in sight.

Road To Hit Songs Long For Pair

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Sometimes you have to bake a lot of lonely bread to become the toast of Broadway.

It was that way with composer Charles Strouse, 32, and Lyricist Lee Adams, 34.

Both were comparatively unknown to the public the night of April 14 last year when their smash musical hit, "Bye Bye Birdie" opened. The next morning they were being hailed as the nation's newest and youngest top song-writing team.

The big money began to flood around them in a green tide—and it's still rolling in.

But both Charley and Lee—each of whom will earn $100,000 or more this year—grimace wryly at the idea success came to them as an overnight bolt from the blue.

"We've been slaving hard since we first met at a party 12 years ago," said Lee.

He was a hard-up young radio writer. Charley was a hard-up young classical composer.

Working in their spare hours together, the two turned out scores of songs and sketches for revues and supper club singers. For three summers they put on shows at a resort hotel for room and board and a salary of $200 each for a 12-week season.

It all added up to a lot of hard work, a lot of fine experience—but not much cash and no fame.

"Just four years ago I was still shining shoes—my own," quipped Lee.

It was in 1958 that the two first stepped on the springboard that bounced them to success.

Veteran stage manager Edward Padula had a big idea—why not produce a happy musical about American teen-agers who weren't gang members or delinquents? He had another big idea: The show should be the product of young talent.

Padula picked Strouse and Adams after trying out 15 other song-writing teams. He paid them $50 a month each out of his own limited funds to turn out songs.

Two years and 80 auditions later the trio had raised the $300,000 necessary to put on "Bye Bye Birdie," and the two songsmiths had hammered out 55 tunes—17 of which were used in the show.

Now royalties from recordings, the original broadway production and two touring companies—plus an $850,000 sale of the movie rights—have put Strouse and Adams on Easy Street for some time to come.

Driveshaft Of Truck Is Taken

ROSWELL, N.M. (AP)—Eddie Johnson was driving a semitrailer diesel from Clovis toward Roswell when the universal failed and the driveshaft fell on the highway near Elkins, N.M.

It took about half a mile for Johnson to roll his truck to a stop.

Looking back, he saw a black sedan stop. Someone picked up the shaft and speed away. The shaft will fit only one make of diesel truck.

HOWDY PARTNER—Kentucky Derby Winner Carry Back (left) greets Orleans Doge, one of his long shot rivals in Saturday's $150,000 added Preakness at Baltimore. Orleans Doge arrived at Pimlico to bring the probable field for the second leg of the Triple Crown to eight. (AP Wirephoto)

'Beat Carry Back' Is Success Secret

By GEORGE BOWEN

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — "If you can beat Carry Back, you can win," is the way trainer John Jacobs views Saturday's Preakness.

And so does just about everyone else.

"That little fellow is a rough customer," says Jacobs, who trains Dr. Miller for his mother, Ethel Jacobs.

Jacobs has good reason to respect Mr. and Mrs. Jack Price's doughty Carry Back and so should handlers of the other seven colts expected to be entered today in the Preakness.

The trim son of Saggy proved in the Kentucky Derby two weeks ago he can never be counted out. He overcame a disadvantage of 11 lengths in the last quarter of a mile in beating Crozier.

It was the fifth victory for Carry Back in eight 1961 races and stamped him as the one to be beaten for the 3-year-old championship. In addition to Dr. Miller and Crozier, Carry Back licked two of the other Preakness probables in the Derby.

The others still not discouraged are Globemaster and Sherluck. Joining them for this second leg of the triple crown are Hitting Away, Crimson Fury, Orleans Doge and Nashua Blue.

All have been forewarned not to expect Carry Back to give them as much of a head start as he did in the Derby.

"For the sake of my own ticker, I hope he lays closer to the pace," said Price.

He thinks jockey Johnny Sellers has the same plans. "But I never have given him any orders," Price says. "The only thing I ever told Sellers was to hurry back."

Rain, Rain, Go Away . . .

Precipitation played havoc with participation here last night in Little and Farm League play. Which is to say that the scheduled encounters were washed out completely.

The Braves and the Cubs got through three innings of their Farm fray before the rains came.

And the Little League Cardinals and Giants waded through an inning and a half of scoreless play before hiking out for higher country.

The basepaths were still under water this morning, so that play of tonight remains in the question mark stages.

Death Strikes LL Youngster

TEMPLE CITY, Calif. (AP)—Jack B. Babcock sat dry-eyed in a house that seemed suddenly empty.

Grieving for his son, the first youngster ever killed in a Little League baseball game, he said: "No one could help this. I don't blame anyone.

"My wife Carolyn (recuperating from a heart operation undergone a few weeks ago) doesn't blame anyone.

"We want the Little League to go on. We know it should go on, and we know that's exactly what Barry would want too."

Barry J. Babcock, 9, was the smallest boy in Temple City's Little League team.

But he was a 52-pound, 4-foot-8, tow-headed "tiger," his father said Thursday.

"I called him Tiger," he said. "You know . . . what you call a kid who gives his whole heart and soul to everything. Barry was like a little tiger when he was competing."

The youngster died Wednesday, moments after being hit in the chest with a pitched ball. His father was in the stands.

"They said at the hospital that his heart was crushed," Babcock said.

But an autopsy failed to disclose cause of death.

NCAA Rep To Emerge

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas and Arizona will play a three-game series for the District 6 championship of the NCAA, the winner going to the collegiate world series at Omaha June 9-11.

Dates of the playoff are uncertain because Texas starts examinations next week.

First Racing Week Arrives At Ruidoso

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N. MEX. — The Mr. Bar None Allowance, first Quarter Horse feature of the year at Ruidoso Downs, and a four-panel sprint for Thoroughbreds, honoring one of the Southwest's top newspapers, the Roswell Daily Record, will be offered as co-features on Saturday's card as the Downs moves into its second day of racing.

Honed for the $2000 Mr. Bar None Allowance, a 350-yard event for three-year-olds and upward, are six of the nation's top sprinters. Racing Secretary Virgil Bond has termed the Mr. Bar None a "wide open affair." Tonto Bars Hank, world's leading money-winner, looms the probable favorite. Also in contention will be Aunt Judy, winner of the Quarter Horse Derby here last year. The Carl Mercer speedster looks sharp after a long rest. Table Tennis, good at any distance, cannot be eliminated, while Dale Robertson's Antler's Trade must be given strong consideration. Fly Straw, recent stakes winner at Sunland Park, will be going against tougher competition.

The co-featured Roswell Daily Record Allowance will find some of the meeting's top Thoroughbred sprinters matching strides in the popular half-mile event. Bruce Brinkley, leading rider here last year, will be up on Bob Crossett, and Ak-Sissy is expected to draw strong support from the large crowd expected on opening weekend. The Roswell Daily Record Allowance will honor the turf writers and editors for their outstanding racing page.

Gets More Zip Without 'Yips'

By DICK LEONARD

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP)—Sam Snead feels he has shaken the putting "yips." And that spells trouble for his golfing opponents.

Of course, once you get the putting yips, you never get rid of them entirely, said the West Virginia slammer who shrugged off the rain Thursday to grab a two-stroke lead in the opening round of the Sam Snead Festival.

"But you can shake the yips off once in a while," Snead said. "I had them so bad in 1949 that I got an entirely foreign putter and an entirely foreign way to putt and won twice as many tournaments as anybody else, twice as much money, and had the lowest stroke average of any of the pros.

"So what happens? Ben Hogan wins one tournament and is named golfer of the year. After that I decided to quit playing full-time on the circuit."

Between You And Me

BY JERRY JACKSON

Michie Brous, Scurry County Boys' Club director here over the past several years, is pulling up stakes and heading for a new and different roundup.

Fort Worth is where he'll hang his topper now, that being where his original roots and "stomping grounds" are embedded. He has given his assurance that both he and his family will miss Snyder, and more than just a little.

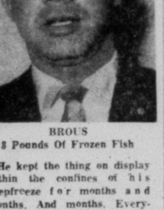
The feeling on that subject is a mutual one. Snyder, without a doubt will sorely miss him.

He has given time, effort, and—most important of all—heart to the Boys' Club here. The job has had its headaches and grievances, and to a great degree is a thankless one. He has performed countless services in the furtherment of the organization, visual proof of which may be seen today, tomorrow, and the days after tomorrow by merely dropping in for a visit there, such impromptu visits being encouraged at any time.

A very fine opportunity awaits him in Cowtown when he takes over the directorship reins of the Panther Boys' Club. It's a bigger job with bigger potential headaches, but the theory from this corner is that he will take it all in stride.

In order to arrive at a full appreciation of the guy, you've got to become more than just casually acquainted with him. He leaps toward extroversion, an admirable trait in his case, and has been known to playfully and harmlessly brag on occasion.

One of his stores—a "fishy" one, of course—always comes to this befuddled mind at the mention of his name. Has to do with a supposed 8-pound black bass he supposedly caught one supposed day.



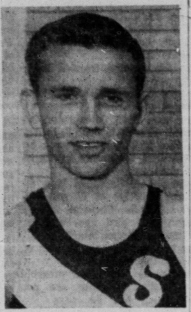
BROUS
8 Pounds Of Frozen Fish

He kept the thing on display within the confines of his deepfreeze for months and months. And months. Everybody he knew he made it a point to invite over for a looksee. It became his Pride, and—I must admit—his Joy. And for anyone to so much as hint that said bass might make a pretty good supper sometime for somebody never failed to bring on a hurt expression on the part of Brous, like possibly he had you figured for some sort of a cannibal or such.

I asked him one day—strictly in the interests of science and fair play, of course—whether or not his prize honestly and truly and cross - your - heart - and - hope - to - die tipped the scales at 8 whole pounds.

He looked at me disbelievingly, like maybe I were some sort of vegetable or something.

"Well, he sure OUGHTA have," he retorted. "After all, I weighed 'im myself."



ALL-STATER — Snyder's stellar speedster, Jesse Crawford, yesterday was honored by the Texas Sports Writers Association in being named to the 1961 all-state schoolboy track and field team. His 9.6 second running of the 100-yard dash and 18.7 clocking in the 180-yard low hurdles both were among the "top three" times as registered in those events over the course of the season. Longhorns, Bears Land Seven Spots

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Champion Texas and runner-up Baylor placed four and three players respectively to lead the All-Southwest Conference baseball team selected by the coaches.

Three schools also had the only unanimous choices. Baylor's Bobby Barnett topped the pitchers with the full six votes. Chuck Knutson of Texas was picked by all six coaches but five of them placed him at one outfield position and the sixth at utility outfielder.

Bob Callaway and Tom Belcher, both of Texas, rounded out the pitching staff.

Jim Fox of Rice was the overwhelming choice for catcher.

Glenn Gregory of Southern Methodist was picked at first base, Jerry Funk of Baylor at second, Ronnie Goodwin of Baylor at third, Pat Rigby of Texas at shortstop and Leon Baze of Texas Christian as utility infielder.

Funk led the infielders in votes, getting all but one.

Knutson was placed in left field, Clifford Davis of Texas A&M in center field, Cliff Justice of Texas Christian in right field and Byron Barber of Texas A&M utility outfielder.

All conference schools landed players on the all-star team with Texas Christian and Texas A&M each placing two and Rice and Southern Methodist one apiece.

The all-conference team:
Catcher—Jim Fox, Rice.
Pitcher—Bobby Barnett, Baylor.
Pitcher—Bob Callaway, Texas.
Pitcher—Tom Belcher, Texas.
First base—Glynn Gregory, Southern Methodist.
Second base—Jerry Funk, Baylor.
Third base—Ronnie Goodwin, Baylor.
Shortstop—Pat Rigby, Texas.
Utility infielder—Leon Baze, Texas Christian.
Left field—Chuck Knutson, Texas.
Center field—Clifford Davis, Texas A&M.
Right field—Cliff Justice, Texas Christian.
Utility outfielder—Byron Barber, Texas A&M.

Wide Assortment Of Oddities Mark Majors

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

From the very start this has been a strange season in the American League, what with its expansion to 10 teams. But how about these for a trio of added oddities:

1. Reliever Ryne Duren tied a major league record and became the first AL pitcher in 45 years to strike out four batters in one inning—but he was charged with his third defeat as the Chicago White Sox beat the Los Angeles Angels 6-4 Thursday night.

2. The slugging Detroit Tigers, after practically ripping apart sprawling Memorial Stadium in Baltimore, managed just four hits in cozy Fenway Park at Boston and suffered their first shutout of the season in a 1-0 defeat by the Red Sox.

3. Lefty hitter Marv Throneberry, dropped to eighth in the batting order against southpaw starter Jim Kaat, drove in all of Kansas City's runs, three with a homer off Kaat, in a 4-3 victory over the Minnesota Twins.

Those were the only games played in the majors Thursday. No games were scheduled in the National League.

Duren, the ex-Yankee fire-baller, took the loss in the seventh inning at Los Angeles when the Sox broke a 4-4 tie and scored a pair of unearned runs. The big right-hander struck out Minnie Minoso leading off the seventh, then fanned Roy Sivers—who reached first when the third strike got past catcher Del Rice for a passed ball. Jim Landis followed with a triple that broke the tie, and after J. C. Martin struck out, Landis came in on a single by Sherm Lollar before Duren whiffed Sammy Esposito.

Four National League pitchers had struck out four men in one inning previously, but Duren was only the third to do it in the AL. Walter Johnson, the old Washington Senators' immortal, did it in 1911 and Guy Morton of Cleveland did it in 1916.

Frank Baumann (2-2) won for the Sox in relief.

The Tigers, after walloping 42 hits for 29 runs in three games at Baltimore, managed nothing but singles off Gene Conley (2-3), the ex-Philadelphia Phillie right-hander, who had lost three in a row, walked just two and struck out six in his first complete game in the AL. He retired Rocky Colavito on a pop fly for the final out with the tying run on first.

Boston scored in the fifth off Jim Bunning (2-4) on a single by Pete Runnels and a double by Don Buddin.

Throneberry blasted the fifth home run of the season in the second inning off Kaat (1-3). Then he brought in the clincher in the eighth with a single off right-handed reliever Ed Palmquist, following a walk and single by Andy Carey. Ray Herbert (3-2) won it.

Boys' Club Track Meet Tomorrow

The fifth annual Scurry County Boys' Club Track Meet is on tap here tomorrow, with the first action of the day set for 9 in the morning at Tiger Stadium.

All club members are eligible to participate, and divisions of competition include those of Midgets (10 years and under, Juniors (11-12), Intermediates (13-14), and Seniors (15-17).

An added incentive for those entered stems from the fact that a team will be selected from tomorrow's contestants to represent the Scurry Club in the Texas Area Council State Boys' Club Meet which is to be held here June 10.

Reef Archers Will Hold Shoot Here

Snyder's Canyon Reef Archery Club will play host to the West Texas Archery League shoot this Sunday on its range located on Thirty-seventh Street just east of Winston Park.

Registration will begin at 9 a.m., with the official 28-target roving round slated to begin at 10 o'clock and be completed at approximately 12 noon. Then at 1 p. m. a colored animal face round will be shot consisting of 14 targets, that phase to be followed by the always fun-filled novelty shoot.

Clubs and individual archers attending in addition to the host Snyder group will hail from Abilene, San Angelo, Roscoe, Post, Lubbock and Ralls.

The public is extended a special welcome, with there being no admission charge.

Mid-week seervices are set for 7:30 p. m. Wednesday.

First Baptist

Rev. Walter Dever, retired minister residing in Snyder, will bring the message at First Baptist Church, here Sunday morning. "The Wonderful Saviour" will be the sermon subject. The all-church choir will sing, "O Mighty God, How Great Thou Art."

The pastor, Rev. Walter A. Mitchell, and his wife will be in St. Louis, Mo., attending the 104th session of the Southern Baptist Convention. The convention will convene Monday and will conclude Friday, May 26. The Mitchells will return to Snyder on May 27.

Sunday evening service at 7:30 p. m. will be dismissed. Most churches in Snyder will dismiss their services in cooperation with the School baccalaureate service which will be conducted on Sunday evening.

The annual Vacation Bible School will begin on Saturday, June 3, with preparation day being observed from 9 a. m. until 10 a. m. at the church auditorium. The school proper will begin at 8:30 a. m. Monday morning, June 5, and will conclude with commencement exercises on Friday night, June 9, beginning at 7:15 p. m.

St. John's Episcopal

Whitsunday will be celebrated at each of the worship services Sunday at St. John's Episcopal Church. Whitsunday, one of the major festivals of the church, commemorates the descent of the Holy Ghost at Pentecost.

The sacrament of Holy Communion will be observed at the 8 a. m. and 10:30 a. m. services with the Rev. Custis Fletcher as celebrant. Rev. Fletcher will lead a meditation titled, "Hear What the Spirit Saith," at the early service.

At the 10:30 a. m. service, Rev. Fletcher will have as his sermon subject, "God Is A Spirit." Gene Green, lay reader, will assist Rev. Fletcher.

The Episcopal Young Churchmen will meet at the church Sunday at 2 p. m. and go to St. Stephen's Church in Sweetwater for their program and recreation.

At 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, the congregation will have an hour of song.

* * *

Union Baptist

"The Walk in Newness of Life" will be the sermon subject of the Rev. R. N. Tucker, pastor for 10:50 a. m. services Sunday at Union Baptist Church. This message will be another from the book of Ephesians, which the pastor recently started.

Dr. Floyd Golden of Amarillo will be the speaker for the 7:30 p. m. service.

Sunday School will begin at 9:45 a. m. and Training Union at 6:30 p. m.

At 7:30 p. m. Wednesday the "Hour of Power" will be held. After prayer the pastor will speak on the subject, "The Bible Doctrine of Sin."

Conservatives To Join GOP

HARLINGEN (AP)—A group of 150 conservative Democrats, some active in Cameron County party affairs, said Thursday they will join the Republican party.

The group said the move was prompted by the feeling that as conservatives "Our support of the Democratic party is taken for granted and, consequently our conservative philosophy and the selection of candidates."

"It is our plan to function as members of the Republican party in holding local Republican primaries and locating candidates to run as Republican for all local and state offices so that Texas and the Valley will have a two-party system," the group said in a statement.

Frank Boggus, president of the Harlingen School Board, and M. W. Russell, city commissioner, were spokesmen for the group. Both were delegates to the state Democratic convention last September.

Capacity Of Airlift Hiked

SEWART AIR FORCE BASE, Tenn. (AP)—The Air Force has taken steps to increase the nation's capacity to airlift its troops, says Air Force Secretary Eugene H. Zuckert.

The secretary Thursday night said the build-up, ordered by President Kennedy, has included the addition of 53 new and better troop transport planes.

A mockup of a new jet transport, the C141, will be ready in November, he said, with flight tests scheduled for October, 1963, and the first operational units for June, 1965.

Zuckert visited this sprawling base, home of far-ranging transports, before addressing a civic meeting in nearby Murfreesboro.

Resolutions Adopted By Presbyterians

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The Synod of Texas of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., adopted resolutions Thursday opposing legalized gambling and racial discrimination. It refused to go on record as saying capital punishment is wrong.

At its final business session, the synod also elected Dr. John Mosely, president of Austin College, as moderator-elect and selected Midland for its 1962 meeting.

The synod also urged each of its six Presbyteries to demand documentary evidence from persons accusing Presbyterian ministers of Communist beliefs or leanings.

Delegates rejected an appeal from some members of the First Presbyterian Church of Texarkana who objected to merger of the church with the Aiken Presbyterian Church, but criticized a commission of the Northeast Texas Presbytery that investigated the complaint.

A resolution adopted at the urging of the Rev. Jack Moore of Longview commended the synod's colleges, schools and children's home for "willingness to accept qualified students of all races and colors."

Dr. Mosely defeated the Rev. George Mauze of San Antonio, 149-134.

Midland was chosen over Houston.

Sugar Beet Plant Set In California

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. B. F. Sisk, D-Calif., said the Spreckels Sugar Co. will construct a $16 million sugar beet processing plant at Mendota, Calif.

Testifying before the House Agriculture Committee in favor of increasing domestic sugar allotments in proportion to increased American consumption, Sisk said he had been authorized to say that ground will be broken for the new plant within 30 days.

Under a proposal advocated by Sisk, domestic sugar growers would be allowed to increase their production to meet present domestic consumption levels and would be allotted 75 per cent of future increases with 25 per cent going to foreign producers. Beet sugar would be given a larger share of domestic production.

Rep. George Mahon, D-Tex., told the committee Thursday that Congress has an unusual opportunity to reduce production of crops in surplus while stepping up the yield of a deficit commodity.

"We cannot defend the policy of giving Cuba's three million ton production quota to other countries and not one pound to our own farmers," he said. "It just does not make sense."

Under the Sugar Act which expires June 30, 1962, none of the Cuban sugar quotas can be assigned to American growers. Congressional critics say that provision was determined foreign policy without proper consideration of American farmers.

The president of the Hale County, Tex., Sugar Beet Growers Association, Ernest Sammann of Plainview, said sugar beets had been grown in his area of Texas for many years.

"If the farmers could get enough sugar quota to justify the construction of sugar refineries so they could rotate sugar beets into their farming operations," Sammann added. "The whole economy of the farms and cities of the area could continue to develop."

H. L. Benefield of Hereford, president of the Texas Sugar Beet Association, said the cost of production was lower in the Texas Panhandle than in many parts of the country and the yield was of high quality.

Truitt Sides, representing the Sugar Beet Association of Lamb County, Tex., said lands now devoted to such surplus crops as feed grains should be put into sugar beets since this country uses more sugar than it produces.

"Sugar beets for our area would not only be a top producing cash crop," he added, "but its byproducts yield highly nutritious feed for livestock."

Rev. Fletcher On Morning Devotions

Speaker on the Morning Devotions radio program next week will be the Rev. Custis Fletcher, vicar of St. John's Episcopal Church.

The program is presented at 9:15 a.m., Monday through Friday, over KSNY. It is scheduled by the radio committee of the Snyder Ministerial Alliance.

Traces Beginning Of Anti-Semitism

By ANDREW MEISELS

NEW YORK (AP)—Does anti-Semitism have its roots in the Christian faith?

Has Christianity—founded by a Jewish savior in a Jewish land and spread by Jewish apostles—fomented the hatred of Jews?

Yes, says Prof. Jules Isaac, an eminent French-Jewish historian, in a book published this week by the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Although anti-Semitism is a direct contradiction of Christianity, Isaac holds, the Christian church fostered it in past ages and set into motion forces which culminated in the wholesale murder of Jews by the Nazis.

Isaac makes clear that present-day Christian churches are not anti-Semitic, but he says the trend set in former times has had far-reaching effect.

The professor, who lost nearly his whole family in a German concentration camp during World War II, says it is now the duty of Christianity to reverse this trend by purging itself of anti-Semitic relics in its liturgy and teachings.

Isaac has devoted much of his life to reversing what he feels are Christian misconceptions about Judaism and Jews. He has written two books on the subject and, in 1947, submitted 18 points recommending changes in Christian education about the Jews.

The current work, "Has Anti-Semitism Roots in Christianity?" is a translation of a lecture delivered by Isaac in France. Accompanying it are an introduction by Richard Cardinal Cushing, archbishop of Boston, and a critical analysis by a Protestant theologian, writer and educator, Dr. Bernhard E. Olson.

True anti-Semitism, Isaac contends, began with Christianity and its teaching that the Jews killed Christ, that they had rejected him and continued to reject him and that their sufferings were just punishment for their sins.

Isaac says these teachings are historically unsound.

It was the Romans who crucified Jesus, he states, and they were supported in this not by the Jews at large but by a small oligarchy the Jews themselves detested.

It was not Christ the Jews rejected, Isaac argues, saying they remained faithful to him "up to his last hour."

The Jews rejected Christianity, he says, because "Christianity, directed towards the Gentiles, totally rejected obedience to the Torah, to the law."

Stung by this rejection and forced to answer the competition for the minds of man Judaism presented in the ancient world, the early Christians determined on a "teaching of contempt" for the Jews, Isaac says.

When Christianity became powerful, it extended this teaching of contempt to a "system of degradation" of the Jew, he adds.

Today, Isaac notes, "there is no Christian involvement in such crimes. Christian charity is employed in favor of the persecuted—sometimes it is employed to the point of heroism."

But the "teaching of contempt" has not completely disappeared, he says.

Baccalaureate Set Sunday At Fluvanna

Baccalaureate services for Fluvanna's graduating class will be held at 8:15 p. m. Sunday in the school auditorium, L. M. Dawson, superintendent, has announced.

The Rev. Bernie Finch, pastor of Fluvanna Baptist Church, will preach the baccalaureate sermon for the five seniors and 11 eighth graders.

Commencement exercises are set for 8:15 p. m. Tuesday. The commencement speaker will be Judge Eldon Mahon of Colorado City, presiding judge of the 32nd District Court.

Americans To Arrive From Cuba Today

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A planeload of Americans is due here late today from Cuba, where many had been real or virtual prisoners of the turbulent Fidel Castro regime.

Instead of the rum and night club souvenirs of happier days, these repatriates will bring home memories of armed militiamen confisceting their property or hazing them into jails.

Their exit from Havana is being expedited by the Swiss Embassy, which represents the United States in Cuba since the U.S. break in diplomatic relations with Castro's revolutionary government.

A host of other Americans, eager to quit Cuba, still had frustrating hurdles to clear in the shape of permits to leave. Lack of credentials acceptable to Castro officials was a common complication.

Today's special repatriation flight of Pan American World Airways is expected to take some of the pressure off accommodations in embassies at Havana, which have sheltered numerous Americans since the abortive April 17 invasion of Cuban exiles with U.S. support triggered a crackdown on U.S. citizens throughout Cuba.

Some of the Americans who didn't reach embassy protection were held in jail or in makeshift concentration points. Their homes and business offices were ransacked.

Says Apology To Ike Is Still Due

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—A Rhode Island Republican leader says President Kennedy shouldn't meet with Soviet Premier Khrushchev until the latter apologizes for insulting former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Republican State Chairman William T. Broomhead said Thursday night he had telegraphed the President that Khrushchev owes an apology "to the people of the United States for his deliberate and malicious insult of former President Eisenhower . . . last year in Paris."

Seven Negro Students Are Released

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—City police during the night took seven Negro college students held in protective custody to Ardmore, Ala., on the Tennessee line, and released them.

At Ardmore, Police Commissioner Eugene Connor, who was with the group, told them: "There is the Tennessee line. Cross it and save this state and yourself a lot of trouble."

He said one of the Negroes told him, "We'll see you back in Birmingham about noon."

Two members of an original group of 10 college students—a Negro and a white man—remained in jail in Birmingham on minor charges growing out of an attempt to integrate the Greyhound bus station Wednesday. The 10th member of the group a white girl held in protective custody, also remained in Birmingham, with no explanation.

The racially mixed group are Tennessee College students. There were reports that they had staged a hunger strike in the Birmingham jail. Jailers refused to comment or even admit that the 10 were being held in protective custody.

Len Holt, a Negro attorney of Norfolk, Va., earlier had said Police Chief Jamie Moore offered to release the students a few at a time if they would leave the city by private transportation.

Five Negroes in the group taken into custody at the Greyhound bus station were released after being held 24 hours. All of them had joined the Nashville group here.

The 10 were attempting to make the trip by bus that a group of "freedom riders," sponsored by the Congress Of Racial Equality (CORE), had been thwarted from making by violence and refusal of drivers to handle buses on which they proposed to ride.

Pair Will Attend Lutheran Session

The Rev. Walter L. Lentz, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, and Raymond Graves will attend the 110th annual Convention of the Texas-Louisiana Lutheran Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America next week.

The convention will be held in Grace Lutheran Church in Houston on Tuesday and Wednesday. Rev. Lentz and Graves will represent the local Grace Lutheran Church at the convention.

Dr. Golden Will Speak At Churches

DR. FLOYD GOLDEN

Dr. Floyd Golden of Amarillo will fill speaking engagements at two Scurry County churches Sunday.

He will be in the pulpit for the 11 a. m. worship hour at Ira Baptist Church, and at 7:30 p. m. he will [illegible] for services at Union Baptist Church.

His subject will be "Religion in Russia" based on his findings on a trip to Russia last year with 30 American educators.

Those attending the Sunday morning service at the Ira Church will bring basket lunches and have their noon meal at the Ira community center immediately following the service.

Dr. Golden, a native of Scurry County, is a well-known educator and Baptist leader. He was principal speaker at the recent banquet of the Snyder Classroom Teachers Association.

He attended Snyder Schools, and received his bachelor of science degree from West Texas State College and his master of arts degree from the University of Colorado. He received an honorary LLD degree from Hardin-Simmons University in 1950.

He held administrative posts with several public schools in West Texas and was president of Eastern New Mexico University in Portales from 1941 to 1960. He is now president emeritus of ENMU.

Girl Offered Salary Based On Height

LONDON (AP)—The owner of a Worcester cocktail lounge advertised today for a tall ex-debutante—at least 5 feet 9 inches—to grace his saloon.

John Bentley Walls of the Horn and Trumpet offered a salary of 3 shillings 6 pence (49 cents) per inch of height.

At that scale a 6-footer would get a basic wage amounting to $35.28 a week.

Walls' advertisement in the Times said the applicant must have "poise and personality" and promised her an "incentive bonus."

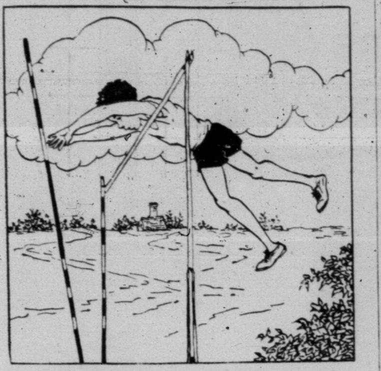
Junior Editors Quiz on SPORTS



QUESTION: When did pole vaulting originate?

• • •

ANSWER: Pole vaulting is a difficult sport. Excellent timing and coordination are needed to execute the proper pole vault. The pole vault as a sports event was first included among athletic events in the early 1800s. This was in German sports activities. But we know that men have used poles to help them get over obstacles for many centuries. To use a pole in this way is relatively simple and you can quickly learn to take the pole while running and then place one end down and use it to swing yourself a greater distance than you could cover by jumping. As a sports event, it isn't how far you can go, but how high. Cornelius Warmerdam, the greatest pole vaulter in history, was the first to clear 15 feet. He set the outdoors world record of 15 feet 7 3/4 inches in 1942, and the indoors world record of 15 feet 8 1/2 inches in 1943.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: If there is a high school or college near you, you can very likely see the pole vault event and observe how it is properly done. But for your own fun, you need only a pole. Try it.

Deactivated AFB Is Now Busy Center

(Editor's note: The Air Force's new emphasis on missiles instead of conventional planes, with resultant deactivation of scores of once-bustling air bases, has caused and will continue to cause serious economic losses in many Texas communities. This is the story of what one of them has done about it.)

By JAMES F. CARTER
Victoria Advocate Staff Writer
Written for The Associated Press

VICTORIA (AP)—Long accustomed to sonic booms made by Air Force Sabrejets, this South Texas city of 33,000 didn't pay too much attention when the bombshell fell Aug. 29, 1957.

That was the day Foster Air Force Base, with 4,100 military and 400 civilian employes and a payroll of $1 million a month, was ordered deactivated by the next Jan. 1.

When the full impact of the order's economic effect struck business leaders, the general feeling was that they'd been belted not by any ordinary bombshell but by something between a blockbuster and an atomic warhead.

Gloom set in while the bottom quietly dropped out of the real estate market, stores along Main Street closed and unemployment claims piled up.

The Chamber of Commerce formed a "Save Foster" committee, and through its efforts the sprawling $15 million air base was given an extra year to shut up shop. This was only a temporary reprieve, and everyone knew it.

The two biggest banks, Victoria Bank & Trust and Victoria National, were caught with their contracts down for $1 million expansion jobs. A third, American Bank of Commerce, had enjoyed a high percentage of Foster's business because of its location handy to the field.

As the central city for three giant industries—DuPont, Union Carbide and Alcoa—Victoria felt it couldn't take the blow lying down. The two large banks said they would go ahead with their costly expansion projects.

Still, the city faced a problem complex enough for a psychiatrist.

But in this case, instead of the community leaders "going to a psychiatrist," it was a psychiatrist who went to them.

"You say you need a new industry to take the place of Foster AFB," Dr. George Constant, local neuropsychiatrist, began in a conversation with a group of bankers and merchants. "How about a therapeutic-educational center for emotionally disturbed children? Some of you must have heard about the Devereux Foundation. It operates such centers in Devon, Pa., and Santa Barbara, Calif. As a trustee, I happen to know the foundation is interested in a Texas location."

Dr. Constant's audience jumped at the chance. Although several other Texas cities had been trying to entice the non-profit Devereux organization to locate there, Victoria's leaders went to work.

They first found an attractive 320-acre site which Devereux bought for $50,000. Then the banker-merchant group pledged that amount as a reasonable share in helping Devereux get started here in preparation for building a permanent $1 million school plant.

That was two years ago, soon after Foster AFB had been officially closed Dec. 31, 1958.

This city's warm reception for Devereux brought its southwestern center here. Plans are rapidly forging ahead for construction of its permanent plant to care for 150 students with a ratio of one staff member for each student. Since it was founded in 1912, the schools have returned 8,000 students to useful lives.

Even with 50 students from 15 states—the current enrollment—the Devereux payroll and local supply items are higher than [illegible]

It is located, ironically enough, at the same Foster Field whose closing had once caused—even if temporary—a sort of mental depression in Victoria.

Devereux became the first "tenant" of Foster Field after it was acquired by Victoria County in a deal with the government in which the county swapped another old air base—Aloe Field—for Foster.

With Foster Field under county ownership, it immediately began coming to life again. Following the lead of Devereux school, the Power Cat Boat Corp. of Paramount, Calif., located a Texas branch plant at the former air base.

Oil field service companies such as Dialog, Baroid and Dowell moved headquarters to Foster Field; the YMCA leased a building and swimming pool; Twin Pines Rest Home moved in; the Church of Christ took a building.

"Deactivated" Foster Field came full circle this week as the county airport facilities including the U.S. Weather Bureau moved there along with Trans-Texas Airways.

Failure Unlikely To Delay Program

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Army does not expect failure of the latest Pershing flight to delay the test program of the tactical missile.

One of the 34-foot rockets was destroyed in flight by the range safety officer Thursday night when the second stage did not ignite. It was only the third failure in 16 Pershing launchings.

"Any missile test program expects failures," an official commented. "We've had a good record with Pershing, and there's no reason to believe we won't meet our operational date of early next year."

The missile was aimed at a target 250 miles down range. The Pershing is being developed as a mobile field weapon with range of 50 to 700 miles.

Art Saves Day For Aged Laundryman

By RAY KOHN

NEW YORK (AP)—Art—on a wholesale basis—has proved just the ticket late in life for Yee Hong Yin, former Chinese laundryman.

A year ago Yee, judged to be at least 75 years old (he says "66 up"), was reduced to begging after he was discharged from his laundry job because of his age. He drifted around the Bowery and finally was taken in tow by a welfare worker.

Today the Hamilton-Madison Settlement House near Manhattan's Chinatown is filled with Yee's paintings.

Bella Bergen, director of the Chinese Golden Age Club, which occupies quarters in he settlement house, explains the begging of Yee's art binge.

"One day I took him by the hand and led him to the art room, and he's never left there since," she said. "He's extremely prolific. He paints from 8:30 to 5. We have a closet full of his work."

In little less than a year, Yee has done 60 large paintings. And he isn't particular about the color medium, says club art director Carole McCully, adding: "He paints with anything he can get his hands on. One morning there was a jar of ceramics glaze missing, and we found him splashing it on paper."

Yee scorns the traditional fragility of Chinese painting. He uses bold strokes and colors, and his canvases are crowded with detail.

One club worker smilingly pointed to a painting of a tree with a bright, bright yellow lobster at the base. Commented the worker: "This is Mr. Yee when he was in his tree period."

Driver Hangs Self After Fatal Mishap

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — A truck driven by Boniface Nita collided with a car between Czestochowa and Krankow in southern Poland.

The French couple in the car, in Poland to visit relatives, were killed.

The Polish Press Agency said Nita "experienced an unusually strong shock in the accident and, under the influence of this nervous upset, committed suicide by hanging himself to a roadside tree."

HAVE
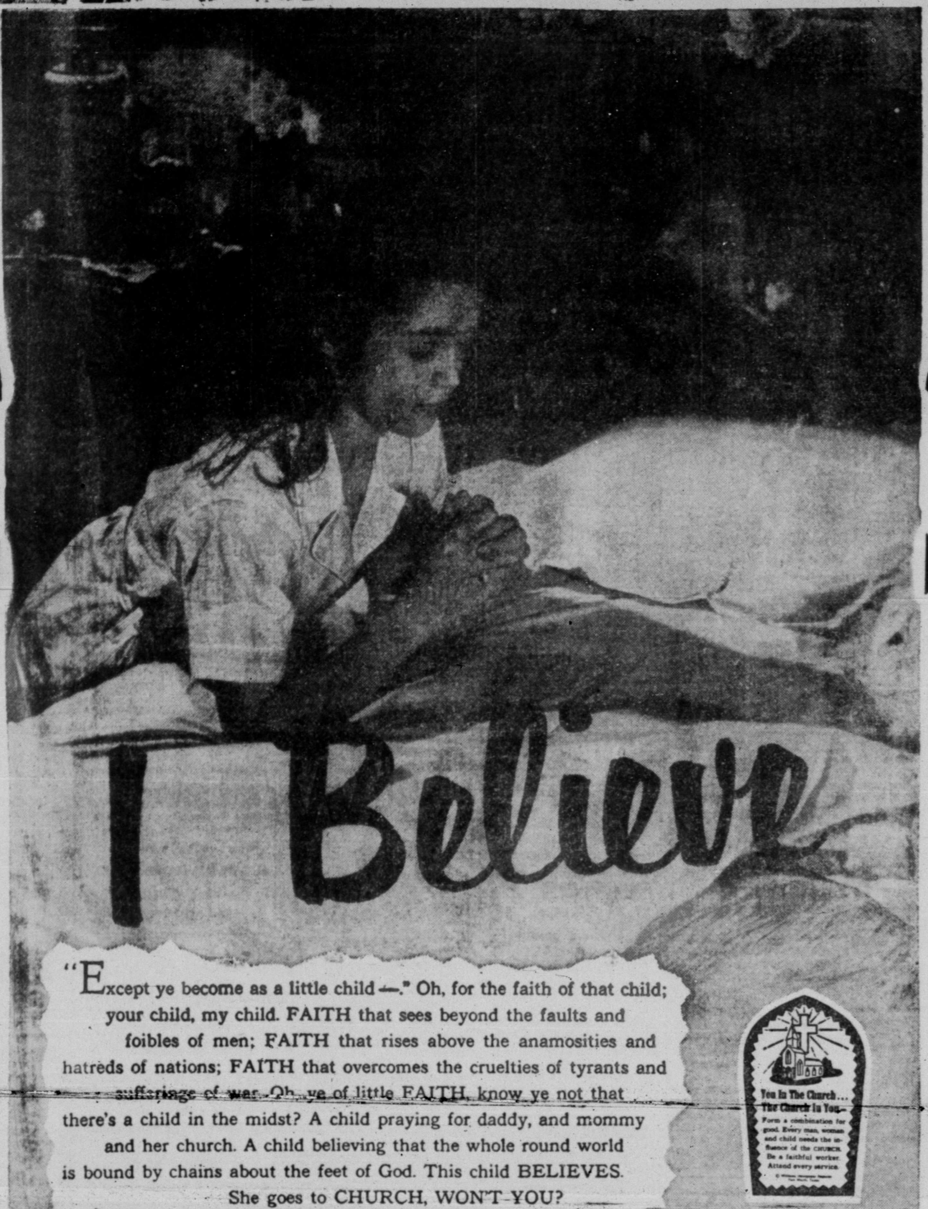
GOD



"Except ye become as a little child —." Oh, for the faith of that child; your child, my child. FAITH that sees beyond the faults and foibles of men; FAITH that rises above the anamosities and hatreds of nations; FAITH that overcomes the cruelties of tyrants and sufferiage of war. Oh, ye of little FAITH, know ye not that there's a child in the midst? A child praying for daddy, and mommy and her church. A child believing that the whole round world is bound by chains about the feet of God. This child BELIEVES. She goes to CHURCH, WON'T YOU?

You In The Church...
The Church In You—
Form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the CHURCH. Be a faithful worker. Attend every service.
