Reagan Proposes $48.6 Billion Across The Board Reductions

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan, declaring, "the next steps are up to Congress," today proposed $48.6 billion in spending cuts for 1982 across the breadth of government, sparing defense and little else from the chopping block.

The $695.3 billion budget for 1982 would leave a deficit of $45 billion. It urges newly announced spending reductions in more than 200 areas, including veterans and job programs, water projects and mortgage insurance.

"The plan I outlined will stop runaway inflation and revitalize our economy if given a chance," Reagan said in a statement that outlined cuts in more nearly 300 programs from food stamps to space exploration.

In a revamped version of his 1982 spending plans, the president said he is prepared to recommend still deeper spending cuts if necessary to keep federal spending from rising faster. In relaying his plan to Congress, Reagan pointedly reminded lawmakers and special interest groups that he felt he was acting on a "mandate for change" delivered by the voters last fall.

"There is nothing more important than putting America's economic house in order. The next steps are up to Congress," he said.

Reagan submitted his revised 1982 budget in tandem with the details on his proposal for a three-year cut in personal income tax rates of 10 percent a year. Top Republicans on Congress' tax-writing committees were to introduce the administration's tax plan later today.

Reagan's budget makes deep cuts in the spending blueprint President Carter recommended before leaving office.

The more than 200 newly disclosed program cuts included:

—a $700 million reduction in Veterans Administration spending, forcing deferral or cancellation of hospital construction;

—Cuts in the Comprehensive Employment and Training Administration (CETA) in addition to the previously announced intention to abolish the $3.6 billion public service jobs program that employs 310,000 people.

ONE HURT - Mark Rhodes of Snyder received minor injuries when his car left the roadway and struck a utility pole Monday around 4 p.m. The accident occurred on the Clairemont Highway north of town. Rhodes Tuesday morning was listed in good condition at Cogdell Memorial Hospital. Hospital personnel reported he was admitted for observation. (SDN Staff Photo)

Tuesday update

Assassination Try Fails

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — U.S. Ambassador John Gunther Dean today escaped unharmed when a man believed to be a sniper fired at his motorcade and struck the tire of an escort car, U.S. Embassy sources said.

They said a single shot was fired at the procession as the ambassador was heading from Christian East Beirut to Moslem West Beirut across the Green Line in the embattled port area on the Mediterranean.

The escort car was following the ambassador's bullet-proof limousine when the shot rang out.

Polish Hold Warning Strike

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — An estimated 500,000 Polish workers held a one-hour warning strike today in the central province of Lodz after last-minute talks between government and independent union leaders broke down.

Workers placed red and white Polish flags around the provincial capital of Lodz — the nation's second largest city — and factory sirens wailed as the first major strike in Poland in three weeks got under way.

Hostages Getting Nervous

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Beginning their ninth day in captivity, more than 100 hostages aboard a hijacked Pakistani airliner were reported getting increasingly nervous as they awaited the Pakistani government's response to their three captors' latest demands.

A 22-year-old flight attendant released by the hijackers Monday night, Farzana Sharif, told reporters the hostages were being treated well. But "the psychological situation of the passengers is extremely difficult," she said, "...especially since they all know the hijackers will blow up the entire plane."

Prime Reduced To 18 Percent

NEW YORK (AP) — Major banks in New York and Chicago today cut their prime lending rates by one-half percentage point to 18 percent, undercutting the bulk of the banking industry.

Citibank, the nation's second-largest commercial bank, led the move by trimming its prime rate from the 18.5 percent level that had prevailed nationwide.

First National Bank of Chicago, ranked 9th in size nationally, quickly matched Citibank, and No. 6 Chemical Bank later followed suit. Some smaller, regional banks also dropped their rates to 18 percent.

The rate reductions were spurred by lagging demand for business loans and declines in banks' cost of acquiring funds.

The prime rate is what banks charge on short-term loans to their best-risk corporate customers. Smaller businesses usually are charged at least one percentage point above the prime.

The prime does not apply to consumer loans. Rates on those loans are limited by law in most states. But the prime is considered a weather vane of trends in all kinds of interest rates.

The prime peaked at a record 21.5 percent last December and has since been falling.

WRECK ON 84 - A gasoline truck driven by Mark McCormick overturned Monday about 3:45 p.m., approximately two miles east of Ezell-Key Feed Mill on Highway 84. McCormick was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital and Tuesday morning was listed in good condition. (SDN Staff Photo by Julian Saenz)

Extension Of Contracts For Principals Okayed

Principals and assistant principals in the Snyder public schools Monday night were granted a one-year extension to their present contracts at a meeting of the trustees of the Snyder Independent School District.

The individual contracts were extended by an unanimous vote of the board. Following the vote, trustee Mike Reed asked for information concerning the practice of multi-year contracts.

The extensions run through June 30, 1983. The vote included the high school principal and assistant principal, the junior high principal and assistant principal and the six elementary school principals.

On a 5-1 vote, the board approved the school's annual application for funding of vocational education programs. The 1982 allocation is $7,596 and the money is used to help defray travel costs for various vocational teachers. Trustee Bill Eiland cast the dissenting vote.

In other routine business, the board adopted the textbooks recommended by the school's textbook committee. The board also approved an agreement form with the regional service center to provide services for the visually handicapped. It was reported that the school district currently has no students in this category.

Also, the board unanimously voted to participate in the Legal Assistannce Fund of the Texas Association of School Boards. The school's assessment is $200.

The board opened bids for the purchase of three 53-passenger buses and tentatively awarded the bid to Wayne Coaches for an International bus. However, the bidding was to remain open until noon Tuesday, the time stated in the bid notice. The regular meeting was changed to Monday night because of a conflict with the Tiger bi-district basketball game tonight.

Also, the board changed the date of its regular April meeting from April 14 to Thursday, April 9.

Four of five candidates for school board, subject to the April 4 election, were guests at Monday's meeting. Those present were Charlie Freeman and Roy McQueen, candidates for place 6; and J. D. Hinton and Dr. Paul Thompson, candidates for place 7.

Presiding at Monday's meeting was board president Ted Crenwelge. Other trustees present were Bill Seale, G. A. Parks, Jerry Rice, Reed and Eiland. Not present was Lillie Sullivan.

The SDN Column

Add to the list of it doesn't seem possibles:

Dennis the Menace is approaching his 30th birthday.

That's right. Although he doesn't look much, if any, older than he did the first time we saw him, Dennis will be 30 come March 14, we have been advised.

Of course his parents, his playmates (Margaret and Joey) and his neighbors (Mr. and Mrs. Wilson), also are 30 years older than they were when Dennis made his first appearance in daily newspapers, and, fortunately, all are still going strong.

In our opinion, Dennis is one of the best daily cartoons, and-or comic strips, and the nature of his message is such that he can ill aford to show his age.

The Bumpsteads in the Blondie comic strip have aged some, as have the characters in Gasoline Alley. Indeed, some of the original characters have all but faded from the picture.

And you seldom see Barney Google any more. In fact, there probably are many who don't know Google at all, despite the fact that he and his horse, Sparkplug, at one time were the principal characters in that strip which now features Snuffy Smith.

And, do you remember Alexander Bumpstead's nickname during his infancy? How about "Baby Dumpling?"

Still, these comic strips continue their popularity despite the changes that have occurred over the years.

But some of the real classics have dropped from the scene completely. Such as Al Capp's L'il Abner. We always thought Capp's satire was second only to that of Walt Kelly's Pogo, also long gone from the comic pages. We especially liked an episode in L'il Abner several years ago when he poked fun at a folk singing protestor by depicting her as declaring that she refused to appear at a rally protesting capitalistic greed unless they paid her at least $2,000.

But Kelly's Pogo, using animals of the wilderness in Okefenokee Swamp to satirize the current scene, was tops in our estimation. For example, the mole was a character who could not see, literally or figuratively, and communists were portrayed by cowbirds, the feathered breed that in real life lays its eggs in nests of other birds and leaves its young for them to rear.

In fact, one of our prize possessions is a book of Pogo daily strips covering a 10-year period.

Now that Dennis has been going 30 years, we are reminded that some of the best editorial messages are rammed home via the cartoonist's pen, and Dennis is one of them.

Bids On Materials For College Project Okayed

Western Texas College trustees Monday night ratified two bids for an apartment under construction, and then authorized the advertisement for bids for replacement of the stage lighting system in the Fine Arts Theatre.

Head Heating and Air Conditioning was awarded the bid for heating and air conditioning for apartment five now under construction by the Building Trades department. The low bid was $3238.20.

The low bid of $2590.04 was awarded to Snyder Lumber Co. for the purchase of paneling and other finish materials for the same apartment. The apartments are used to house college students.

In a departure from normal purchasing procedures, the board authorized the business manager to seek bids for the drama department's stage lighting system.

The equipment is expected to cost approximately $25,000 and would be purchased in next year's budget. Because of the delay in delivery and the condition of the present system, the decision was made to place the order as soon as bids can be received.

The present lighting system is 12 years old and because of advanced technology, it is difficult to obtain parts to repair the present system.

WTC President Dr. Don Newbury said engineers working on plans for an addition to the WTC dorm is expected to be in Snyder Wednesday for a site visit. It is hoped that plans and specifications will be final by the end of the month and ready for bidding. The engineers estimated that it will take about 10 months to construct the building.

The board also accepted the resignation of Bob Hays, instructor in mid-management, at the end of his current contract. Hays will be moving to Florida.

Rex Hopkins and John Jones met with the board to discuss grounds equipment, but asked that any decision be delayed until additional information can be obtained.

Dr. Harry Krenek, representing the Scurry County Historical Committee, again met with the

AFS Seeks Funds For 2 Programs

The Snyder Chapter of the American Field Service, which did not host a foreign exchange student this year for the first time since 1959, has plans to revive its activity and already has some commitments for 1981-82.

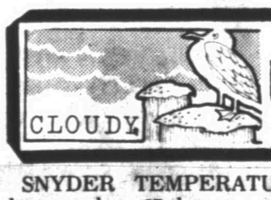

Plans are already guaranteed to sponsor Nettie Moss, a Snyder student, abroad this summer. She was one of nine applicants to apply.

Also, an application has been made by a local family to host an exchange student for the 1981-82 school term.

The local AFS unit is now seeking funds to meet these commitments, with some $3,000 needed for the two programs. Club or individual contributions may be sent to Mrs. D. V. Merritt Jr., secretary-treasurer of the AFS chapter, 2301 40th St., Snyder.

Laquita Reaves, last summer's Americans Abroad student, is now available for programs showing and telling of her experiences in Greece. She may be reached at her home, 573-8619, or at her place of employment, The Shack, 573-8943.

el salvador's 3 wars

The subject is El Salvador.

Again. Sorry, but it will not go away. Worse, the more attention it receives, the more confusing the developing civil war in that tortured Central American nation becomes.

To the point that depending upon which newspapers you read or commentators you follow, entirely different conflicts can appear to be under discussion. Which isn't actually so strange since there are, as a matter of fact, three wars under way in El Salvador.

To start with, there is the war being waged by the governing junta, publicly committed to social and political reforms, against leftist guerrillas seeking to seize power by force.

There is also the war of a loose coalition of political groups, ranging from dissident Christian Democrats all the way to hard-line Marxists, against an entrenched oligarchy of a few dozen immensely wealthy families and their allies in the army officer corps, the latter alliance defending a position of economic power and social privilege enjoyed since the Spanish colonial era.

And then there is the war of the far right within the military and the junta itself against most of the rest of the country, a war of terrorism waged through torture and murder with the country's large peasant population supplying most of the victims.

All three wars are going on simultaneously, which is enough in itself to explain the confusion. But it is further compounded by the insistence of most concerned observers in focusing on only one of the wars, downplaying if not totally ignoring the others.

The United States government is providing an excellent case in point. The first is the official war and has Washington's backing, a commitment initiated by the Carter administrtion, which energetically encouraged the junta's reforms while carefully limiting military assistance, and now even more firmly endorsed by its successor, with less ephasis on reform and more on hardware.

But the Reagan administration is doing even more. It is internationalizing the Salvadoran crisis, making it a litmus test of sorts for relations with the United States, good or bad and for allies and adversaries alike.

Largely in the latter category, the Soviet Union, Cuba and Nicaragua most prominently among others are being warned to keep a distance or face the diplomatic wrath of the tough new administration in Washington. Meanwhile, State Department teams have been dropping in on the European alies to explain why lining up solidly and publicly behind the U.S. dicision to draw a line in Central America is vital to the interests of the free world.

The response has not been uniformly enthusiastic, which does not reflect any lack of concern in Europe over the war in El Salvador and its trouble-making potential but real differences in focus. Particularly on the second war, which is seen as a justified national revolution.

But to many in Europe and the United States, by far the most appalling war is the third. The best estimates place at some 13,000 the Salvadoran death toll in the terrorism of the past year. In exactly what proportions they were victims of the right or the left is disputed, but there is no serious question that the right is responsible for the heavy majority of terrorist deaths, whether by a ratio of 3-to-1 or 10-to-1.

The allies may eventually line up after a fashion, if only as a brake on unilateral U.S. intervention. There is already talk of El Salvador becoming a new Vietnam. It is certainly premature and probably unrealistic. It would require quite a selling job to get the U.S. public to go along with the commitment of American forces to another foreign civil conflict.

And even if it came to that pass, much smaller and closer El Salvador would present a much different challenge than Vietnam. It might well be effectively pacified, in which case success could really be a defeat. By seeing only the first war, the United States could well end up thwarting a popular revolution and confirming in power and binding itself to yet another repressive authoritarian regime.

That might be a victory, but not for the free world.

electronic penetration

Since Cain clobbered Abel with a four-pound club, effectiveness in combat has been measured in the foot-pounds of destructive energy which one man is capable of delivering.

Through the development of the slingshot and the crossbow, the catapult and the cannon -- the damage one man could do increased in a rather steady incline -- until August of 1945 when there was delivered into man's hands a weapon 400 million times more lethal than anything theretofore.

The divided atom nominated itself as the ultimate weapon: perhaps awesome enough to prevent war.

There is now a weapon more sophisticated than that.

A 19-year-old electronics expert in California -- by initiating a vareity of audio tones over his parents' telephone -- was able to gain access to the telephone company's computer. He thus placed orders and initiated delivery to himself of a million dollars worth of merchandise.

And he was not caught stealing; he was finally caught selling the stuff.

Nobody knows how many computer manipulators never get caught. But the Chamber of Commerce of the United States guesstimates that computer crime costs somebody in excess of $300 million per year!

Now a sophisticated refinement of computer crime threatens our nation's very security.

Computers can themselves be "attacked," disabled.

A computer program of inestimable value could be "kidnapped," held hostage.

With "penetration" of another nation's computer networks, conceivably, a nation could be rendered impotent, helpless.

Stanford Research Institute's international consultant, Donn B. Parker, says, "Major nations have now become so dependent upon their computers that if those machines were suddenly crippled those nations would be defenseless."

He says there are presently technologists who know preciesly how to bring a nation to its computerized knees.

Computer expert Bob McLeod of Jacksonville, Alabama, is one of them. Fortunately, he is on "our side."

He believes that future wars will be "electronic computer wars"; that "Armageddon may involve first the destruction of data banks."

Technology presently available could sabotage any nation's air traffic control; cause chaos...

Could manipulate worldwide weather forecasting, sabotage the money and commodity markets, alter computers that control distribution of energy, "turn us off!"

An enemy could throw a monkey wrench into computers and knock a nation off balance; disrupt the civilian population and snafu its military response.

Our FBI is studying ways and means of intercepting computer crime. It's logical to assume other governments are comtemplating the computer as a weapon.

my turn

by lois gleason

A man came in the office some time ago and complained that he had just seen a funeral go by and not one person had bothered to stop or even slow their vehicles out of respect for the mourners.

People are in a hurry. There is school and work to go to, bills to pay, appointments to keep and assorted errands to run. There are just too many things to do and not enough hours in the day to do them all.

We're always busy playing catch-up and we don't take time to sit back and relax.

But while we're scurrying around like the world's future rests on our shoulders, the people who seem so serene and never seem to be in a hurry for anything are the ones who are getting things done.

It's like the old story of the tortoise and the hare and it usually holds true. The more consistent and easy-going a person is the more they seem to accomplish.

It's the worrywarts who get bogged down with little distracting things because they're in a state of excitement all the time and they ascribe great importance to each little problem or occurrence.

If we can't slow down for our own benefit, we could consider slowing our pace for the people who have to put up with us. Those who take their time about everything and take time to smile and take an interest in others are nicer to be around than those who are always cranky from worrying. A man who was in an accident lost his sight and most of his hearing. He was constantly in pain. But he devised ways around his handicaps instead of complaining about them. He accepted what happened and just lived his life as normally as possible. He developed a severe problem with angina, but still he didn't complain. He plodded along as usual.

One day, several years after his accident, the man was outside in a thunderstorm and was hit by lightening. Almost immediately, his eyesight returned, his hearing returned, his pain was gone and he had no more angina problems.

There may not be any moral there, but I like the idea that the man didn't fret all those years about his problems. Eventually they went away on their own.

woman's world

by rusty brown

I used to stand at the window and watch the waves crash and the gulls ride the wind to shore. Now I stand at the window and watch hot-air balloons rise above the mesa and ride the wind to the mountains.

I used to shop in a nearby ethnic neighborhood for a Slovenian nut roll called potica. Now I fry bread from Pueblo Indians and eat it with honey while it's still hot.

Christmas '79 I hung a pine-cone wreath on the front door. Christmas '80 I hung a string of dried red chilies.

The icy winter blast off Lake Erie always found a way to sneak up my sleeves. Now there is a strange dryness to my face and hands, and desert dust turns my yellow tennis balls to gray.

Where are we, I sometimes wonder. What happened?

But I know. We are among the one in five American families who moved last year.

In our case, we were transferred from Frostbelt to Sunbelt, suddenly plucked from our Midwestern hometown, leaving behind our roots, the graves of our parents, next of kin, longtime friends — and familiar newspaper jobs.

Until these last three months, I did not know the nerve it takes to say farewell to all that and start over half-a-country away.

I have known people who moved from city to city, but I never understood the tests they faced, never fully appreciated their resilience.

I once had a neighbor named Jean. She was the perfect "corporate wife," with a husband rising to the executive suite. A few weeks after she moved in, she broke out in an awful rash. A doctor concluded it was nerves, brought on by seven company transfers in 10 years.

I didn't know then what that can do to a woman. I do now.

It's the wife who bears the most stress and the greatest burden in a move. It is she who lies awake at night mentally placing the furniture in the new house bought in a hurry-up, four-day visit to the new town.

Often the husband goes on ahead of the new job, and she is left behind to make the arrangements. The packers arrive like an invading army and sweep everything loose into sealed cartons. It is she who often faces alone the arrival of the van in the new location and she who fights down the hysteria when the mover stands at the front door with the first of 500 things off the truck — a floor lamp and a tool box — and asks, "Where do you want these, lady?"

She tries to fix dinner without being able to find the paring knife amidst all the boxes marked "kitchen" and waits endless hours for a repairman to come to adjust the refrigerator that doesn't work right.

It is the woman who unpacks the dish barrels all by herself in an empty house where the phone seldom rings. Her husband and children have adjustments, too, but at least they go off to office and school where built-in, ready-made companions are but a "hello" away.

And despite the arrival of a cheerful Welcome Wagon lady with enticements from local stores, she can't find a one that carries ham-loaf mix like the store back home.

There are times she can't wait for Saturday and the lower rates to make a long-distance call to a dear friend. "I've met lots of friendly faces," she says, trying to keep the catch out of her voice, "but not a single kindred spirit like you."

I suppose that I will survive this moving experience as have all the stout-hearted women before me. I, too, will adjust, make new friends and find a niche in the new town.

After all, it's not as though I had to help drive the wagon, clear the land or homestead in the wilderness.

But just don't ask me to go through this again.!

Your Birthday

March 11, 1981

This coming year joint ventures are likely to prove more profitable for you than situations or enterprises which you approach on your own. This should be especially true where another already has a strong start.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Although they may not appear so at first, changes foisted upon you by others today could prove very fortunate for you in the long run. Don't buck trends. Find out more about the year following your birthday by sending for your Astro-Graph. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, P.O. Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Your luck should take a turn for the better now, regarding ideas or proposals you've been trying to sell to the boss. Lay them on the line to him once again today.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Today you're likely to be luckier in financial or material matters where partners are involved instead of in things which you attempt to do on your own.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Small ventures or projects could fall flat today, but not the large ones which are truly important. Those you'll handle with care and skill.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Don't despair today if things initially appear not to be working out as you anticipated. Lady Luck should come to your aid in the later rounds.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Take advantage of any opportunities you have today to attend gatherings where you might meet new people. There's a good chance you'll make a valuable contact.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You should be luckier than usual today in situations which can add to your resources or enhance your reputation. You'll get something going in these areas.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) It should prove more advantageous today to focus on your grander schemes rather than on your more mundane ideas. "Big" is lucky for you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Lady Luck tends to favor you today rather indirectly. In fact, something highly advantageous could be developing which might be completely screened from your view.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Commitments or agreements which you make today should turn out beneficial for all concerned, especially if you're dealing with persons of your caliber.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) A career opportunity could develop for you today because of the clever way you are able to handle an old, unresolved problem. The right eyes will be watching.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Be both alert and a good listener today. Someone whom you know socially may come to you with an interesting proposal whereby you could use your know-how profitably.

The Twentieth Century Club met in the home of Lois Bishop, hostess, for a health program recently. Mrs. Gaylene Harrison, program leader, asked each club member to participate.

Members shared health information and treatments for a variety of ailments they were familiar with.

Mrs. Charles Tyer gave an informational talk on health. She said "A happy person is a well person," and told of the work being done in Snyder by the West Texas Rehabilitation Center. She said they have three therapists and that their treatment is extensive for all ages. They work with patients who have speech problems, strokes and other problems and serve the communities of Snyder, Roby, Rotan, Post, Ira and Colorado City.

She also told of the work of the Community Health Center and said that nurses go to the patient's home and give care similar to what they would receive in the hospital. They serve Borden, Mitchell and Scurry County.

She went on to say that the Scurry County Health Unit also serves the health needs of the community. She closed the program by reading "The King's Insurance."

Mrs. Guy Stoker gave a talk on guilt and how it affects health. She quoted Wayne Dyer, a psychiatrist, who said guilt is a useless emotion and that it is a human thing to feel guilt and make amends for it.

Mrs. Haskell Beard shared several points on how to cope with a hiatal hernia. She said one must observe his diet; eat and then wait two hours before lying down, not eat excessively and avoid stress. She also said the symptoms could be confusing and that the person might think he has a heart problem.

Margaret Miller presided for the business session. Members expressed things they were doing to help the Alpha Study Club in their city project.

Mrs. Lois Bishop served refreshments to Mrs. Mattie Wilson, Marjorie Tyer, Luella Stoker, Martha Moore, Margaret Miller, Mary Ann Key, Mary Faver, Henrietta Dupree, Essie Mae Davis, Lois Bartels, Elizabeth Beard and Gaylene Harrison.

TALL TALES—Mrs. Patterson's fourth grade class at West Elementary was one of two groups performing the play "The Tall Tale Tournament," recently for students and parents. "Haste makes waste" certainly is a good adage for declarer to follow when he is in a slam contract.

South wasted no time in hastening to lose his slam. As he explained slowly and carefully after the axe fell, it was really bad luck, but somehow or other the explanation fell on deaf ears as far as North was concerned. East and West accepted it gracefully.

South won the club lead, cashed his queen and jack of spades. He then entered dummy with the queen of hearts, discarded his queen-ten of diamonds on the ace-king of spades and started on the rest of the heart suit.

East held four hearts and the last spade and had to get those two tricks.

Do you see how South could have made the slam?

Fairly easy. At trick four he should have played low hearts from both the North and South hands. This would have cost him a 30 point overtrick against a 3-3 heart break, but given him 1440 points for making a slam against the five spade-four heart combination he was up against.

Dear Abby

'Sensible' Choice Not Always the Right One

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1981 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: My problem is a conflict between my head and my heart. Two men want to marry me. "A" is successful, attractive, attentive and we share many of the same interests and beliefs. He has loved me for years, and I know he would make a wonderful husband and provider. Everyone thinks I'm crazy for putting him off as I have. My head tells me that marriage with "A" would be very sensible, but, Abby, my heart just isn't in it. I make our good-night kisses as brief as possible.

The other man, "B," is the reason I have been putting off "A." "B" will always make a good living because he's hard-working and industrious, but he will never be rich because he helps so many friends and family members. He's supporting both his parents, and he's helping a nephew through college. Abby, I really love this man; just holding his hand excites me.

Both men are waiting for my answer. I want to marry before my 30th birthday. What do you say?

A 29-YEAR-OLD VIRGIN

DEAR VIRGIN: Use your head, and listen to your heart.

DEAR ABBY: May I comment on your men's underwear debate? We in our brief-type "Fruit-of-the-Looms" remain fruitless, while our brothers in their boxer shorts remain "heir-conditioned."

ROBERT W. IN WALTERBORO, S.C.

DEAR ROBERT: I wish I'd thought of that.

DEAR ABBY: Since others use your column to air their pet gripes, may I? It's repairmen who set up appointments to repair a television, refrigerator, furnace or whatever, and never call to say they can't make it. They just don't show up.

I left work early on Tuesday to be home at 3 p.m., the time when the TV repairman said he'd be there. He never showed up! I called him the next day and set up another appointment. Again I got off work early, and again he didn't show. (Always an excuse — car trouble, got tied up on another job, etc.) He had my number at work and home and he could have called me.

Abby, I paid someone to cover me at work so I could leave early for these appointments. My friends tell me they've had the same lousy experiences with repairmen.

If there's a solution, please print it. If not, thanks for letting me get this off my chest.

BURNED UP IN ALLENTOWN, PA.

DEAR BURNED UP: If your serviceman is the only one in town, you need him more than he needs you. If not, in the future give your business to another serviceman.

DEAR ABBY: The letters in your column about "the other woman" really hit home because I have been the other woman in a married man's life for six years. He has never told me that his wife was fat, homely, cold, a shrew, or that he hasn't slept with her for 10 years.

I know he sleeps with her because she's had four kids in the last six years. After the last one, he told me not to feel bad — that he sleeps with her because he has to, but he sleeps with me because he wants to. I have no complaints. He's man enough for both of us.

Says Texans Would Be Safer If Allowed To Carry Pistols

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Rep. Henry Allee calls it a "self-help remedy," but to Houston Police Detective David Collier it sounds like a return to the ways of the Wild West.

Allee, D-Houston, wants to allow Texans to carry pistols in their vehicles. You need to pack a pistol when you're driving Texas roads, he told the House Criminal Jurisprudence Committee on Monday.

"We've reached the point in Texas ... there's no question but that the individual has the need of the right to carry a handgun to protect himself," Allee said.

Texas law now allows you to carry a handgun in your car only if it is locked in the trunk. Allee said the weapons should be where they can be used.

"I trust the people of Texas to use a weapon rationally. Some individuals have commented, 'Well, they'll have everybody shooting themselves on the freeways.' I don't think that's true," Allee said.

But Collier, president of the Houston Police Officers Association, said highway murders already are out of hand in Houston.

"We're going to have an increase in the number of freeway shootings," he predicted. "If this bill were to pass I suspect we'd have to double the size of the homicide division."

"We're going back to the old Wild West, I'm afraid," he testified.

Allee said the bill might increase the number of murders but would cut down on rapes and robberies.

The legislator's father was kidnapped last year and released unharmed.

"I'm sorry we have to resort to these self-help remedies," he said.

Collier was the only witness to speak against the bill. Allee brought several former policemen, gun course teachers and citizens who want to carry handguns in their cars. Some, including Houston engineer Walt Christmas, already pack a pistol in their cars. Christmas said he has never shot at anyone but his pistol has warded off potential attackers.

Clayton Urges Water Fund

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Speaker Bill Clayton says saving half the state's treasury surplus in a special water fund, year after year, could provide backing for $25 billion to $95 billion in water projects over the next two decades.

Clayton's proposal — which also would keep legislators from spending the perennial surpluses on other state needs such as education — goes before the House Constitutional Amendments Committee today.

He denied his proposal was designed chiefly for farmers, such as himself, who rely on the declining Ogallala Aquifer for irrigation water.

The 1979 Legislature authorized creation of an Ogallala Water Import Authority, which could receive and distribute water from other states.

"This is not related to solving the problem of the Ogallala Aquifer. It is to solve a problem that is growing across the state. ... Houston had to ration water last summer," Clayton said.

His proposal would place all the treasury surplus each biennium into three special funds. Half would go for water. The other half, up to about $620 million, would be dedicated to retirement of state bonds. The rest would go into a reserve fund that the Legislature, by a two-thirds vote, could spend on emergencies.

Clayton made it clear he did not intend that the water fund be spent but that it remain in place as backing for bonds that would be issued by cities, river authorities and water districts for water projects.

"You don't use the money out of the trust fund. You just use it to guarantee the bonds," he said.

Bi-District Title On Line Tonight!

LEVELLAND -- Snyder High School looks for its second bi-district basketball championship in as many years here tonight, taking on highly-touted Canyon at 8 in Levelland High School Gym.

Winner of the contest will face either Iowa Park or Cleburne, who meet tonight at 8 o'clock in Stephenville's Tarleton State University court. Victor of the regional bout, presumably to be held Friday or Saturday of this week, will advance to the state tournament in Austin.

Canyon, 25-8 on the season, is led up front by 6-8 post Butch Beardon, who averages 15.7 points and 10.2 rebounds a game. Four Eagles average in double digits for Canyon, which has won 14 straight contests. Led by Bearden, Canyon gets accurate fire power from guard Kendall Walling, who puts up 13.8 and from fowards David Harbin, 12.6 points and 9 rebounds, and Steve Beck, 11 points and 6.8 rebounds.

The Eagles are coached by Jody Richardson.

Starting at guard for the 20-13 Tigers are expected to be John Wilson, a 6-0 junior, and Curtis Gafford, a 5-11 sophomore.

Challenging the height of the Eagles will be a trio of 6-3 seniors, including leading scorer Eric Arnold, a threat from 22-feet and in for his 14.6 points. Kris Seale is the key threat inside, averaging 12.3 points, and Barry Blackmon - leading rebounder for the team - is capable of getting his 11.3 from several places on the court.

Primary backup is 6-3 sophomore James Caldwell, while Byerly frequently calls on 6-1 junior D.W. Lofton, as well. Others who may see action include 5-10 junior Brad Robertson, and 6-0 junior Ricky Housden.

The Tigers average 59.2 points offensively and have allowed 46.6. Both teams have been heralded more for their defense than offense this season, though both are capable of putting a lot of points on the board.

Neither Canyon or Snyder were picked to get out of district this year. The Eagles had to stop No. 3 ranked Borger to take its District 1-4A crown. Snyder, which held a 17 game streak until falling to Coleman in a warmup bout last week, knocked off No. 7 rated Andrews to claim the 2-4A title.

O'Day To Resign Athletic Director Post At College

Bob O'Day, Western Texas College Athletic Director, has submitted his resignation effective immediately.

He will remain with WTC as manager of the golf course and racquetball facility and will teach golf - classes and coach golf.

O'Day, now in his 10th year at WTC, has coached the Westerner golf team since the college opened in 1971. A native of Florida, he was graduated from Sul Ross State University. He was a coach and teacher in Snyder Public Schools before joining the WTC faculty.

In submitting his resignation to Dr. Don Newbury, WTC president, O'Day indicated that he felt the addition of racquetball facilities and continued increase in activity at the WTC pro shop, along with his teaching duties made it impossible to devote sufficient time to the athletic director's position.

Newbury said there were no plans to seek a new athletic director immediately, but that the position will be discussed by the board and administration later as they make plans for the 1981-82 session.

Fisk Ponders Chi-Sox Pact

CHICAGO (AP) — After almost a decade as the pride of Boston, Carlton Fisk says he's ready for a change of scenery. But Chicago White Sox owners Eddie Einhorn and Jerry Reinsdorf still are trying to get the All-Star catcher to sign on the dotted line.

Fisk appeared Monday at a news conference with White Sox officials amid speculation that a contract already had been signed. But the veteran catcher said only that he had made a decision — "a potential decision, really" — to come to Chicago.

Miller Fired; Reeves Hired

DENVER (AP) — Red Miller has been fired as head coach of the Denver Broncos, and Dan Reeves, offensive coordinator for the Dallas Cowboys, has been hired to take his place, team sources say.

Miller was fired Monday afternoon along with Fred Gehrke, general manager of the National Football League team. Gehrke will be replaced by Grady Alderman, 43, director of planning and development for the Minnesota Vikings, said Mike Lynn, vice president of the Vikings.

Gehrke said he was surprised by the action, taken just 12 days after the team was sold to Edgar Kaiser Jr. of Vancouver, British Columbia.

"Red has been a good coach. I hired him. It's all a surprise," Gehrke said.

Asked if he felt bitter, Gehrke, 62, said, "No, no way." He said he may retire from professional sports and devote himself to playing golf.

Tom Landry, head coach at Dallas, said Reeves was offered the Broncos coaching position after Reeves talked with Kaiser over the weekend.

Miller's firing was the first major change to take place since the team was sold Feb. 25 by Gerald Phipps of Denver. The new owner, 38-year-old Kaiser, is chairman and chief executive officer of Kaiser Resources Ltd. of Vancouver and Kaiser Oil, U.S. Ltd., a Denver-based oil and gas exploration company.

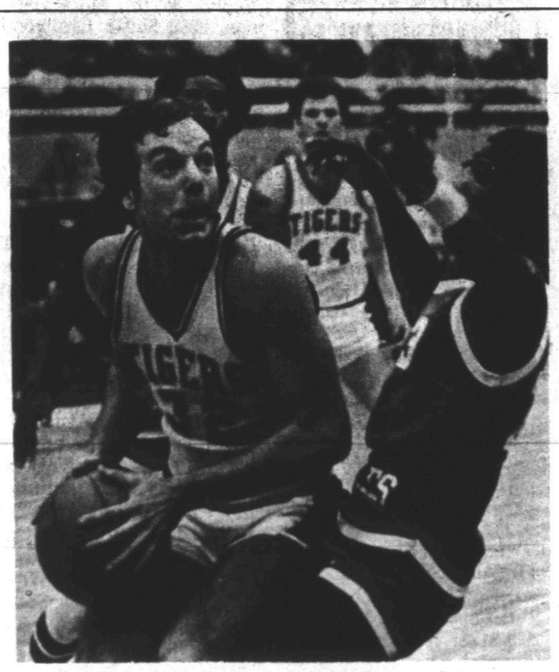

No sale price was announced, but sources indicated it was in excess of $30 million.

Miller, 53, has coached the Broncos for the past four seasons. A former offensive coordinator for the New England Patriots, Miller succeeded John Ralston as the team's head coach in February 1977.

In 1980, the Broncos had their worst finish in Miller's four years as head coach. At 8-8, the team tied with Kansas City for third place in the American Conference Western Division.

Reeves, 37, became offensive coordinator for the Cowboys in 1977, after serving as backfield coach for four years. Reeves was a running back for the Cowboys for eight seasons — until 1972, when he became a player-coach. He finished his career as the Cowboys' fifth all-time leading rusher.

Reeves and his wife, Pam, have three children.

GO FOR TITLE TONIGHT -- Snyder's Tigers, defending bi-district champions, try a repeat term tonight as they take on the Eagles of Canyon at 8 in the Levelland High School Gym. A key player for the Tigers is senior Barry Blackmon, above, whose boardwork will have to be strong against the superior height of the District 1-4A champs. Tickets for the game are $3 for adults and $1 for students. (SDN Staff Photo)

Aguirre Paces All-Americans

NEW YORK (AP) — Mark Aguirre, the man many consider the best in college basketball, "skyrocketed us into the national limelight," DePaul Coach Ray Meyer says. The junior forward also has launched himself toward superstardom.

Aguirre was named Monday to The Associated Press' first-team All-America squad for the second season in a row, the only repeater from 1979-80.

"He's worked harder this year and is no longer just a scoring machine," Meyer said. "His defense has gotten better as well as his rebounding, and he's given out more assists this year, I think, than in his first two years combined."

In addition to his scoring average of 23.5, Aguirre handed out 130 assists, actually 33 shy of his combined freshman and sophomore totals but an astounding figure for a high-scoring forward.

Joining the 6-foot-7 Aguirre on the first team were Ralph Sampson, a 7-4 sophomore center from Virginia; 6-8 junior Kevin Magee of California-Irvine; 6-5 senior guard Danny Ainge of Brigham Young, and 6-1 sophomore Isiah Thomas of Indiana.

Members of the second team were 6-6 senior Al Wood of North Carolina; 6-7 senior Danny Vranes, Utah; 6-10½ senior Steve Johnson, Oregon State; 6-3 junior Eric Floyd, Georgetown, and 6-2 senior Darnell Valentine, Kansas. Lewis Lloyd of Drake, Jay Vincent of Michigan State, Sam Bowie of Kentucky, Jeff Lamp of Virginia and Rob Williams of Houston were named to the third team.

Umpire Clinic Planned Here

Efforts are being made to form an Amateur Softball Association in Snyder which would provide a one-day certification clinic here for anyone interested in becoming an umpire.

Interested persons should contact Mike Levens at 573-4774 after 5 p.m. in order that he may schedule the clinic. If interested, call Levens before March 30. The clinic will need to be scheduled between March 30 and April 15.

Completion of the clinic will qualify its students to call men's and women's slow and fast pitch softball.

Minimum age is 18.

Midland Raps Snyder; Cats Tourney Bound

MIDLAND -- Snyder held its own in the last three innings here yesterday, but it was that second stanza that handed the Tigers their fourth defeat in a weather-shortened contest.

Midland High came up with three singles and two walks and took advantage of a trio of Tiger errors to score all of its runs in the second inning, then hung on to defeat Snyder, 7-3.

Doug McLean, 1-0, took the win for the Bulldogs, while Mike Roemisch, 0-1, was pegged with the loss.

Next action for the Tigers will be the 14th annual Monahans Tournament, held March 12-14 in Monahans. Snyder will take on Fort Stockton in Thursday's late game at 7:45.

Midland went four-up and three-down in the first inning, but reached base at the outset of the second when Frank Garramone took first on an error. Next-up Benny Ozuna struck out, but Tim Davis got aboard on another error and Peter Galindo and Fabian Ramos both drew walks.

Another error sent Davis scurrying in on an error, and shortstop Eddie Portillo and centerfielder Kyle Ford followed with back to back singles. Joel Casteneda ground out to third, but Jerry Zachery lined a basehit that completed the damage.

Snyder got its first run in the fourth inning, as Jesse Hernandez doubled and Neil Evans later rapped a single to bring him in. The Tigers added two more in the sixth when Tony Degrate slammed a home run and Jesse Hernandez rapped a single. The rightfielder was pushed around the bases by a Brent Roemisch single, and brought home on a Trey Harlin double.

Ralph Hernandez went the final four innings atop the hill for Snyder. The Tigers limited the hosts to only five hits while acquiring seven themselves, but the pair of walks and those errors chained together a winning combo for Midland.

Disagreement about flat feet

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — What causes flat feet, and what problems can one expect to encounter because of them? What can be done to help someone with flat feet? How do flat feet affect one's ability to walk and run?

DEAR READER — You may not get too much agreement about flat feet and fallen arches even among specialists. For some people flat feet are normal. Many Olympic athletes have had flat feet, so if they are normal for you, there is no reason why you can't exercise and live an entirely normal life.

Babies are born with flat feet because of the fat pad they have to help them when they first start walking. The fat pad usually disappears within two years. Overanxious parents sometimes pressure their doctor into doing something when time is all that is really needed.

Feet will break down in some diseases, such as arthritis, or from injuries. The problem is that foot pain is often attributed to flat feet or low arches when in fact the foot pain is on an entirely different basis. Many normal people with flat feet have no foot pain.

As explained in The Health Letter number 11-10, Common Foot Problems: What to Do about Them, which I am sending you. Many support devices end up allowing the arch to get weaker. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

In general, if you have had flat feet or low arches all your life and have not had foot pain, you should disregard the finding. To strengthen the arch muscles you might want to do exercises, such as picking up objects with your toes and learning to curl and extend your toes to move those muscles.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Could you explain the correct procedure for taking a bath or shower? My husband and I disagree. I feel he is doing damage to his skin. He believes in showering in very hot water with just a bar of soap — no washcloth. When he dries himself his skin is sunburn red.

I bathe in moderately warm water and rinse off in slightly cool water to close the pores. It seems to me a washcloth, since it is somewhat abrasive, would help in cleaning the skin.

Please tell me who is correct. I would hate to have a wrinkly husband in his youthful years.

DEAR READER — There is such a thing as overdoing it, but water that is warm enough to increase the circulation to the skin helps the skin to release oily deposits that accumulate in the pores of the skin. That is the principle of using warm soaks over the face for acne. Oils flow easier when warm and wash off the skin more easily.

Hot tub soaks may not be good for older people or those with circulatory problems as the excess heat accumulation may overload the circulation.

I don't think it makes much difference how the soap gets on the skin. And the washcloth will help rub the skin clean if you need a mild abrasive action.

Closing the pores after bathing is a good idea to help retain the natural moisture in the skin — which does help prevent wrinkling on a temporary basis. Failure to do so won't cause permanent wrinkles, though.

Police Probe Two Mishaps

Two minor traffic accidents were investigated Monday by city police.

The first occurred about 12:35 p.m. at Snyder High School and involved a 1977 Ford driven by Royce Sitton and a 1981 Chevrolet driven by Bobbie Donelson. Investigating it was Sgt. Jerry Parker.

The second accident was in the 900 block of 26th St. at 6:35 p.m. Involved in it were a 1979 Chevrolet pickup driven by Kerry Lane Rodgers and a 1980 Toyota driven by William H. Cauble. Working it was Bill Armstrong.

2 Fires Doused By Firefighters

Two fires were doused by Snyder Fire Department.

The first occurred about three miles northwest of the city in the dashboard wiring of a 1978 International truck. The fire was reported about 7 p.m.

The second, reported about 9:50 p.m. Monday, was also an automobile fire. It occurred in a 1973 Thunderbird owned by Bertha Alaniz and driven by John Alaniz. The fire occurred at Ave. A and East Highway.

board to consider locating the Medallion Dodson Home somewhere on the campus. Although the board did not close the door on such a possibility, it was the consensus of the board that locating the home near the coliseum would result in better utilitization of the home.

The committee met with Scurry County Commissioners Monday and the commissoners court agreed to consider the request.

In reports, the administration revealed that spring enrollment is 1224 students, representing an increase of 102 students over last spring.

In legislative reports, Dr. Newbury and trustee Bill Jones reported on their recent trip to Austin for a hearing before the senate finance committee. Junior colleges are still favoring the funds proposed by the Legislative Budget Board. It was also reported that 63 percent of all freshmen and sophomore students in the state attend junior colleges while junior college enrollment represents 42 percent of all the state's college students.

Following the regular meeting, the board went into an executive session to discuss a personnel matter and also to discuss the acquisition of real estate.

Presiding at the meeting was board president Edwin Parks. Other members present were Jones, Dr. Robert Hargrove, Wacil McNair, Bill Wilson, R. C. Patton and Howard Sterling.

District Court Sentences One

One man was sentenced Monday in 132nd District Court.

Oscar R. Tavarez, 1801 Ave. T, was sentenced to 90 days in the county jail and fined $500. He was charged with driving while intoxicated.

Police Seek Bible-Toting Bandit Suspect

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Lubbock police are looking for a Bible-toting man whose attempted robbery of a Lubbock family was foiled when he was chased away by a screaming woman armed with an unloaded revolver.

The man's alleged accomplice was in custody Monday night after he fired an automatic weapon at Lubbock police officers.

Franklin H. Payne, 41, of Forney, is charged with attempted capital murder, attempted aggravated robbery, carrying a prohibited weapon and possession of a firearm by a convicted felon. Justice of the Peace Wayne LeCroy denied bond for Payne, who police said was previously convicted of robbery, burglary and a weapons offense.

Diet Center Winners!

Kathy had tried "every diet invented." from fasting to fad diets. She could always lose but was never able to keep it off. Diet Center's Maintenance Program really appealed to her. She knew that she needed a lifetime plan.

Kathy Livingston of Birmingham, AL. lost 67½ pounds in 18 weeks.

"I am an R.N. and was worried about the health problems involved in being obese. I started on the diet and within six weeks I had lost 25 pounds. I couldn't believe how much better I felt and all the comments I was getting from friends and co-workers. This gave me the incentive to keep on. After only four and one half months of dieting I have lost 67½ pounds. I feel great!"

Kathy Livingston

In September, 1979, Connie called the Diet Center. She couldn't move without difficulty and had high blood pressure because of her excess weight. She felt this was her last chance.

Connie Koester of Sioux City, IA. has lost 131 pounds.

Connie shares her feelings about losing weight. "Now, at last, I feel released; I feel free:

- to wear size 14, instead of a tight 24½
- to jog for the joy of knowing my body can and will do what I ask of it
- to hold my head up when I walk down the street
- to feel bones I never felt before
- to have my husband pick me up
- to know I'll be there to watch my daughter grow.

Constance L. Koester

Carolyn was not heavy as a child, or a teenager, or even as a young married. So when "middle-age" weight problems crept up it was almost as if she didn't know it happened.

Carolyn Anderson of San Francisco, CA. has lost 50 pounds.

"When the jolt hit, I tried Weight Watchers and discovered it would take the rest of my life to lose an ungainly amount of weight. When a friend told me of the quick weight loss of Diet Center, I signed up at once. It took only six weeks to accomplish what had taken sixteen weeks before. All I can say is nothing can compare with being a winner!"

Carolyn Anderson

Cam, a physical education instructor, had a strong background in nutrition. She knew what foods she should eat and how her body functions. However, she was having a real problem keeping her weight down. The problem was eating too much of the "good foods."

"I have always been physically active and involved in sports. I had a tremendous appetite. I simply could not control the amount of food I ate.

I decided to try the Diet Center program after seeing the results of the diet in the life of a close friend. She looked terrific! I lost 25 pounds in [illegible] weeks and felt terrific. I had lots of energy. My husband totally supported me on this diet because I was never grumpy or out of sorts.

Cam Prewitt of Sacramento, CA. lost 25 pounds in six weeks.

This program was definitely the best diet I had ever tried after experimenting with many diets.

Cam Prewitt

Janice came to the Diet Center Program from a recommendation from her doctor who is also a successful dieter on this program. She had always tried the "get-it-off-quick" diets that everyone passes around.

"The Diet Center Program is faster and easier than any other weight-reducing program that I had been on.

Janice Sivley of Olton, TX. lost 30 pounds in nine weeks.

"My energy level has been overwhelming and getting up in the morning has been 'great' instead of a drag. I have a full-time job at our local bank as assistant cashier; I keep up with two teenagers and run my household."

Janice Sivley
