Panhandle Oil Deal Brings Offices Of Company To Wichita

Operating headquarters of the Dixon Creek Oil and Refining company of Amarillo are being established in Wichita Falls, it was learned Wednesday night following announcement of the sale of Dixon Creek properties to the King Royalty company of Wichita Falls.

R. A. King, president of the King Royalty company, confirmed the purchase of three-fourths interest in the Dixon Creek, one of the largest independent oil concerns in the Panhandle field. The purchase price was not disclosed but payment will be made in cash and stock, Mr. King said.

One of Largest Independents

The Amarillo offices of the Dixon Creek were closed Tuesday night after consummation of the negotiations which had been under way during the last month. The deal makes the King Royalty company one of the largest independent concerns in Northwest Texas.

The Dixon Creek company, headed by S. D. McIlroy and other Panhandle capitalists, had been one of the most active developers of the Panhandle field since its discovery about seven years ago. It is a complete property, consisting of developed and undeveloped oil and gas leases, transportation lines, a refinery and gas distribution facilities. Mr. McIlroy retained part of his stock in the company and was made vice president of the new board.

The King Royalty company has been operating in Wichita Falls eight years and controls production and royalties on hundreds of leases in Texas fields. Its wells, exclusive of the Dixon Creek properties, are producing about 1,600 barrels of oil daily under the present stringent proration regulations.

Refinery in Operation

The Dixon Creek properties consist of 15,000 acres of leases in Moore, Carson, Hutchinson and Gray counties; 60 wells producing a daily average of 2,500 barrels of 43-degree gravity oil; six gas wells with lines supplying the cities of Pampa and Panhandle with fuel; total oil storage facilities for 700,000 barrels of crude, and a refinery at Kings Mills in Gray county with a capacity of 2,500 barrels daily and now operating at 60 per cent of its capacity.

The properties, except the refinery, will be operated without change. The Kings Mill Refining company will take over operation of the refinery, although it will continue to handle Dixon Creek production.

The King Royalty company already operates in Stephens county, Oklahoma, and in Wichita, Archer, Wilbarger, Young, Jack, Cooke, Brown and Shackelford counties, Texas.

High Court Has Texas Oil Case

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16. (AP)—The controversy between Gov. R. S. Sterling of Texas and the federal courts, arising out of an order by the governor declaring martial law and restricting oil production in the East Texas field, is in the hands of the supreme court.

COURT STAYS OIL DECISION

Decree in Proration Suit Awaits Hearing

LAREDO, Texas, Nov. 16. (AP)—Federal Judge Randolph Bryant announced late today that entry of any decree in the proration decision of the three-judge court would be deferred until after the state railroad commission holds its hearing Nov. 26.

The announcement was made to attorneys for independent oil companies and a member of the attorney general's department after Judge Bryant had conferred with Federal Judge J. C. Hutchison Jr., by telephone at Fort Worth.

Judge Hears Pleas

Earlier in the afternoon Judge Bryant in federal court heard pleas entered by attorneys for certain oil companies operating in the East Texas field. These were S. A. L. Morgan of Amarillo, attorney for the Bill & Dave Oil company, et al.; T. L. Wynne of Athens, attorney for I. V. Hollyfield, independent producer; and W. T. Saye of Longview, attorney for Petroleum Producers, Inc., et al.

All of the companies represented have suits pending against the state railroad commission. Pleadings of attorneys for the plaintiffs attacked the validity of proration orders of the state railroad commission in the East Texas oil fields on constitutional grounds.

Challenge Authority

These proration orders also were attacked for alleged lack of statutory authority to prorate the East Texas fields to the extent they were prorated by the commission.

Plaintiffs asked that a decree be entered giving a permanent injunction against the enforcement order which the three-judge court at Houston held invalid.

Maurice Cheek, assistant to the attorney general, represented the state railroad commission. Through him, the state asked for a stay of execution of the decree of the three-judge court until the railroad commission has held its hearing Nov. 26, or until the United States supreme court decides the case of the railroad commission vs. MacMillan. This was the first case ever tried in East Texas. It will be tried by the supreme court Dec. 5.

Others already charged in connection with activities of the same company are Howard Lee, under $3,000 bond here; Walter B. Down, Los Angeles, and William S. Bailey, Chicago.

It is alleged by the government that the men sold unlisted securities on a partial payment plan, then failed to make deliveries.

Votes reported thus far comprise a total of 771,616 cast, as compared with the 1928 complete total of 720,835—already an increase of more than 50,000.

OLD BOARD RETAINED

Henry I. Harriman and Sir John Cadman Are Final Speakers

HOUSTON, Nov. 16. (AP)—C. B. Ames, vice president of the Texas corporation, late today was chosen president of the American Petroleum institute, which closes its 13th annual convention here tomorrow.

Mr. Ames, whose headquarters are in New York, but whose home is in Oklahoma City, was selected over Amos L. Beaty, retiring president, with whom W. R. Boyd Jr. of New York, executive vice president of the institute, had disagreed as to certain matters of policy.

All-Day Session

The board of directors announced its choice after spending nearly the entire day in executive session, working at full steam.

Mr. Boyd was re-elected executive vice president. Friends said it was doubtful that he would have again accepted the post had Mr. Beaty been chosen president for a second term.

Vice presidents re-elected were as follows: Charles F. Roeser, independent of Fort Worth, vice president for production; D. J. Moran of the Continental Oil company, Ponca City, Okla., vice president for refining; W. T. Holliday of the Standard of Ohio, Cleveland, vice president for marketing; H. R. Gallagher of he Consolidated Oil corporation, New York, vice president at large. Axtel J. Byles of Tidewater-Associated of New York, was re-elected treasurer and Lacy Walker of the institute, secretary.

Executive Committee

Members of the committee chosen were R. C. Holmes of New York, F. A. Leovy of Pittsburgh, J. Edgar Pew of Philadelphia, E. G. Seubert of Chicago, H. F. Sinclair of New York and W. C. Teagle of New York. The other members of the committee are the president, retiring president, the vice presidents and the treasurer.

The executive committee will determine what changes, if any, will be made with respect to a salary, $50,000 annually at present, which is paid to the president. There were proponents of a plan to make the post without salary, as it once was.

Ames formerly was an assistant United States attorney general. His

Bandits Use New Style In Bank 'Job'

CLAY CENTER, Kan., Nov. 16. (UP)—Five machine gun bandits, employing a new style of bank robbery, raided the First National bank here late today and escaped with $7,500 in currency.

The bandits, after entering the building and sacking the money counter, took officials, employes and customers outside with them. With machine guns they forced members of the crowd to surround their car, while they entered it, thus protecting themselves from bullets from vigilantes.

Five shots were fired at the bandits, however, by J. H. Kerby, president of the People's National bank, who chanced to be standing across the street during the robbery. The shots, apparently, did not take effect.

The bandits forced two bank customers to ride on the running board of their car until they reached the city limits.

One of the bank's vice presidents, James McIntyre and four other persons, were held captive in the bandit car until the robbers were two miles out of town.

The first session was featured by addresses of Mrs. Hugh Bradford, Sacramento, Calif., national president; Dr. J. A. Hill, of Canyon, president of the Texas State Teachers association; Mrs. Maggie W. Doctor Suggests Spartan Practice Of Letting Deformed Children Die

BALTIMORE, Nov. 16. (AP)—In an address described as "a message to doctors and not to the public," Dr. W. A. Guild, of Chicago, called attention to the ancient Spartan practice of permitting deformed infants to die and made this statement before the convention of the Eastern and Southern Homepathic Medical associations:

"We cannot take life (except by way of punishment for crime) no matter how useless or pitiful its existence may be, nor" however great the social and economic burden the total congenital defectives may be.

"Yet may there not be cases when the officiating obstetrician may legally and honorably and with sincere humanity turn his back and minimize his efforts to bring life into such misshapened products of twisted human formation?

"This, indeed, is one of the many difficult obstetrical problems which the individual physician must solve for himself alone. His conscience must be his guide. Perhaps he will be influenced by considering what he would want done if the mother were his wife and the child his offspring."

Dr. Guild prefaced these remarks by giving his personal experience in his early medical practice. He told of the death of one infant, and added:

"In trying to comfort the mother by telling her how much of earthly trouble her infant had escaped, I found myself picturing how much the little mother was being saved by the non-existence of her monster offspring."

Fisher Oil Well Hits Heavy Pay

FORT WORTH, Nov. 16. (AP)—The largest well for Fisher county in months and a northern extension of more than a mile for the Royston pool was indicated today when Southern Oil Corporation of America No. 1 Dr. Pardue flowed a reported 300 barrels of oil in two hours from a total depth of 3105 feet.

The well is 990 feet from the south and east lines of section 202, block one, B. B. B. & C. railway survey one mile and two locations north of the nearest production on the Texas company's Jean lease.

After flowing 300 barrels in two hours Wednesday morning, Southern Oil corporation No. 1 Dr. Pardue was shut in awaiting pipe line connection.

The first showing of oil was encountered in the Royston pool extension at 3090-92 feet and operations were suspended at that point several weeks while big pipe was pulled.

'DRY FREEZE' NIPS GRAINS

Mercury Skids to 19 For Season's Low

Winter wheat and other small grain crops of the Wichita area probably suffered in the sub-freezing temperatures of Wednesday, County Agent G. C. McGown said. The mercury dropped to 19 degrees early in the morning. Grain crops usually do not suffer under the same temperatures but in view of the current need for moisture, resulting in a dry freeze, some damage is expected.

Mr. McGown did not obtain a check on conditions in Wichita county Wednesday, however. The low mercury reading was the coldest since March 10, when the temperature was 18 degrees. A break in the cold wave was forecast in this section for Thursday when slightly higher temperatures were predicted. The weather continued cold and cloudy Wednesday night. The mercury stood at 38 degrees at 12:30 a. m.

The maximum thermometer reading by the Texas Electric Service company bureau Wednesday was 41 degrees. A light northeast breeze was blowing at 5 o'clock in the afternoon and the barometer was high. The mercury stood at 39 degrees at that hour. The cold wave continued general over this section, reports of railway dispatchers said.

AMARILLO REPORTS COLD MODERATING

(By The Associated Press)

Texas shivered Wednesday night and watched its breath turn to frost on the window pane, hoping the weather bureau was really a prophet in forecasting warmer weather for Thursday, with "increasing cloudiness."

Sub-freezing temperatures still prevailed in the northern and western sections of the state, on the trail of a sharp norther which swept down out of the Rocky mountains Tuesday.

Amarillo, in the Panhandle, reported the weather was moderating there, after a low temperature of 18 early today and a maximum of 45 during the afternoon. San Angelo had a low temperature of 21; Abilene 19; Lubbock 16; Temple 26; Austin 29 and San Antonio 28.

Rainey Announces For Speakership

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16. (AP)—The race for the speakership of the house in the new congress began today with the formal announcement of Representative Rainey of Illinois, Democratic floor leader, that he would be a candidate.

The vigorous veteran of 28 years in the national assembly told newspaper men:

"I think I am in line for the speakership and will be a candidate."

The speakership will become vacant next March 4 when John N. Garner of Texas leaves the house to take up his new post as vice president. At least five candidates for the Democratic speakership nomination expect to announce their intentions soon.

Rainey, Byrns of Tennessee, McDuffie and Bankhead of Alabama and Rankin of Mississippi are outstanding contenders.

Appellate Sustains Sheriff's Conviction

AUSTIN, Nov. 16. (AP)—Conviction of N. L. Speer, former sheriff of Walker county and former warden of the Texas state penitentiary, on a charge of theft of $1,000 from the state was sustained today by the court of criminal appeals.

Speer, who was tried in the Travis county district court, was sentenced to serve three years in the prison over which he formerly had charge.

The former sheriff was convicted of having appropriated to his own use a $1,000 over-payment by the state in settling an account of Speer's for fees of office. The account called for payment of $1,626.95 and Speer was mailed a state warrant for $2,626.95.

TEXAS BAPTIST SESSION OPENS AT ABILENE

Baylor Belton Head Named President of Meet; Rules With Iron

DRY LAWS QUESTION

Stamford Pastor Ruled Out Of Order in Protest Of Baylor Speaker

ABILENE, Texas, Nov. 16. (AP)—The general Baptist convention of Texas, representing one-half million men and women of that denomination, tonight reaffirmed its "unrelenting hostility to the return of the legalized liquor traffic to this country in any form whatsoever."

The convention pledged the half million Baptists "as far as we can influence them by moral suasion" to support "our senators and congressmen in their efforts to resist the attack on the 18th amendment and the dry laws."

"If the Baptist constituents, meaning actual members, be added to adherents of the Baptist faith, but not members, the number will reach 2,000,000 persons under Baptist influence in Texas," the resolution stated.

ABILENE, Nov. 16. (AP)—There was only a ripple of dissension today when the Baptist general convention of Texas, representing more than 3,000 churches and 500,000 members of the denomination, organized and started its annual inventory of affairs.

The discord was short-lived under the stern gavel of Dr. J. C. Hardy, head of Baylor College for Women at Belton, who was chosen president of the convention by a rising vote after two other church leaders, placed in nomination for that honor, requested their names be withdrawn.

Status of messengers from the church at Happy and the Berry Street Baptist church at Fort Worth, who were not permitted to participate in organization of the convention, still had not been determined.

Credentials Withheld

Credentials to the messengers from these churches were withheld under a constitutions provision that only representatives of "cooperative Baptist churches" can be seated prior to organization may later be seated by a majority vote of the convention. It was uncertain whether the Happy and Fort Worth messengers would push their claims to seats in the convention.

Dr. Hardy succeeded Dr. Lee R. Scarborough of Fort Worth, president of the Southwestern Baptist Theological seminary, who had a tenure of the customary maximum of three years.

Dr. J. B. Tidwell, professor of

Druggists Facing Ruin, Says Convention Speaker

HOUSTON, Nov. 16. (AP)—Retail druggists are facing a serious crisis and unless they are permitted by law to regulate and control prices among their trade they eventually will be ruined, Homer L. Huddle of Orange, president of the Southeast Texas Retail Druggists association, told some 50 members who met in a one-day session here today.

Mr. Huddle suggested that the association, along with the state organization, retain an attorney at Austin in view of having such laws enacted favorable to retail drug stores.

Garner Kills Big Deer And Wounds Panther

UVALDE, Texas, Nov. 16. (AP)—Vice President-elect John Garner and Ross Brumfield, Uvalde business man and "Cactus Jack's" hunting and fishing companion for many years, returned to Uvalde at 5 p. m. today with a large eight-point buck deer, one turkey and several ducks. They reported Garner killed the deer at a range of 200 yards.

The next vice president was elated with the success of his hunting trip and told friends he wounded a large panther which was prowling about their camp Tuesday night. The hunters were unsuccessful in their efforts to trail the big cat.

Garner's deer was the first brought back to Uvalde this season. He planned to go on another hunting trip in the wild ranching country south and west of his home city before he returned to Washington in time for opening of the December session of congress.

Since he returned to Uvalde the Saturday night before the general election, he has been on several hunting and fishing expeditions bagging numerous squirrels, ducks and turkeys and catching fish. He prefers to go with only one or two friends, explaining that when a large party of hunters sets out, some one always wants to do something different from what you want to do."

Hoover Plunges Into Consideration Of Attitude U. S. Must Take On Debts

President Greeted by Cheering Throng on Seturn From Home In California; Awaits Date From Roosevelt

By JOHN F. CURTIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Gathering his advisors around him, President Hoover today plunged deep into consideration of the nation's war debt course and of the policies his administration will pursue until its March 4 conclusion. Almost before the echoes of a returning-to-the-capital reception for him had died, the chief executive called in one after another of his aides.

Secretary Mills after a half hour conference, let it be known he had discussed the policies to be outlined shortly in response to requests from foreign debtors for a review of their obligations and for a suspension of payments due Dec. 15. Senator Reed of Pennsylvania followed, while Secretary Stimson discussed the debt problem, also, across the White House luncheon table.

Curtis Confers

Other cabinet and official callers, including Vice President Curtis, reported they had spoken principally of more domestic problems and of other matters to be placed before congress by the chief executive when it convenes Dec. 5.

Although the president himself remained silent on debt matters, as possibly he may until the closer approach of his conference with President-elect Roosevelt, Mr. Hoover was represented in authoritative quarters as definitely opposed to another year's moratorium.

The president is not convinced, it was said, that all payments due the United States Dec. 15, will not be made and feels that a more rigid attitude should be adopted than wholesale suspension of these payments.

Today the separate but similar requests of Great Britain, France and Belgium for a deferment of payments and a reopening of debt negotiations were reviewed by the president. Esthonia, Latvia and Poland previously had advised the Washington government they could not meet princinal payments due in September, while Greece has defaulted upon a payment due recently and Hungary has said her payment due in December cannot be met.

Meeting Date Unset

While the president was discussing plans for meeting this situation to be placed before Governor Roosevelt upon his arrival at the White House, probably early next week, presidential aides awaited a call

Divorce Court Dissolves Couple's Law Partnership

CHICAGO, Nov. 16. (INS)—Down went the sign "Wellman & Wellman" today. The law firm stood dissolved and Attorney Helen C. Wellman was preparing to move from the premises which she had shared with her former husband, Attorney Walter Wellman. The male half of the partnership, specializing in divorce cases, obtained a divorce for himself. The feminine half of the partnership, who specialized in commercial business, slapped and struck the masculine half on numerous occasions, according to the testimony. The firm of Wellman & Wellman was founded when the partners were married.

ANN V. BURNETT WEDS AVIATOR

Daughter of Iowa Park Capitalist Marries

NEW YORK, Nov. 16. (AP)—Miss Ann V. Burnett, Texas heiress, and James Goodwin Hall, broker-aviator, were married today and left a few hours later on a honeymoon to Cuba and Mexico.

Determined to have a quite wedding, the couple slipped into the vestry of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church long before the hour set for the ceremony and in a few minutes they had been married by the Rev. Henry Howard, rector of the church.

Cattleman's Heir

The bride is a granddaughter of the late Capt. S. Burk Burnett, Fort Worth, Texas, cattleman. When he died about 10 years ago, she inherited a large share of an estate estimated at $20,000,000. She received more than $500,000 in the settlement when she was divorced several years ago from Guy Waggoner, son of W. T. Waggoner, Fort Worth oil operator and ranchman.

Hall is a Wall street broker but in recent years he has spent much of his time flying. Many of his inter-city flights have been made in the interests of the Crusaders, an antiprohibition organization. He recently purchased another membership in the stock exchange.

Bride Is Flier

Mrs. Hall also is an amateur flier, and part of their honeymoon will be spent in the air. They left on the Oriente for Havana, saying they would go later to Mexico where a plane is to be ready for them. They plan to fly first to Fort Worth and later to New York, where they will reside after the first of the year.

The bride is the daughter of Thomas Burnett, Iowa Park, Texas, and Mrs. Ollie Lake Burnett, Fort Worth, Texas. She was attended by Mrs. J. Robert Hewitt, New York, and Mr. Hewitt was best man. After the wedding, which was performed so early many of their friends missed it, Mr. and Mrs. Hall held a reception at the Waldorf Astoria hotel.

FORT WORTH, Nov. 16. (AP)—An armed hobo, held in jail since late Monday night, has been cleared of the mysterious slaying of Luther Stafford, 21, Hot Springs, Ark., in a freight car on a T. & P. train here.

The suspect had a pistol when he was arrested down town but detectives found the gun had not been fired recently. A pistol carrying charge may be filed against the man.

Another hobo, held as a witness and who had identified the suspect as having been in the T. & P. yards a short time before the shooting early Monday night, has been released.

Stafford was killed by a bullet fired into the car where several men were huddled. The body was taken off the train at Dallas.

SOONERS MARK DAY HONORING FIRST CITIZENS

Silver Anniversary of 46th State Honored as All Join in Holiday

PIONEERS BANQUET

Indians and White Men In Parades; Murray Joins In Festivities

By DAN ROGERS
United Press Correspondent

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 16.—Oklahoma, the 46th state, today celebrated its silver birthday anniversary.

From 9:16 a. m. the hour that President Theodore Roosevelt signed the proclamation with a quill made from an eagle feather from Indian Territory 25 years ago, until late tonight, anniversary observances were held in many communities.

A banquet honoring 26 pioneer leaders and a square dance in the capitol's corridors brought the day of pageantry to a close.

Oklahomans turned out by the thousands as a parade, including a half hundred floats, wound its way among modern Oklahoma City's 25-story buildings. Muffled in a heavy black coat, Gov. W. H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray followed the leading girls' kiltie band. In the turbulent statehood days he was one of the leaders, having been an author of the constitution, president of the constitutional convention and speaker of the first house.

Indians in March

Indians and white men marched side by side. Veterans of the three wars joined in the march to the steps of the state historical building. Pioneers rode in comfortable automobiles, their children and grandchildren walked.

This afternoon the famed "territorial wedding," a feature of the original statehood celebration at Guthrie, was re-enacted. Gen. Richard Alexander Sneed, former commander of Confederate veterans, was "Mr. Oklahoma." The original "Miss Indian Territory," Mrs. Warren Butz, of Muskogee, took her place on the float before the capitol building. She removed her coat.

But General Sneed, 86, declined to brave the wintry blasts without his long coat. Finally he doffed his hat. The crowd became quiet.

The minister read:

"And if there is one among us who objects to this wedding of the territories, let him forthwith leave the state."

None left.

Other Cities Celebrate

Seventeen-year-old Coyle Payne, El Reno High school girl, was awarded the honor of "Queen of the Day," as a result of a competition with contenders from 20 other counties. She led the Canadian county float.

Similar celebrations were held in other cities. At Tulsa, Victor Murdock of Wichita, Kan., was principal speaker at a statehood banquet. This brought to a climax Tulsa's jubilee observance of pioneer pageants, old time dances and fun making.

At Bartlesville, 5,000 persons braved almost zero weather to watch a two-mile parade of Indians, cowboys and pioneers pass in review.

Led by C. B. Stuart, chief justice of the territorial supreme court who delivered the commemoration address here tonight, the story of Oklahoma's statehood reverberated from hamlet to city.

Young Delayed Collapse Of Insull Utilities

CHICAGO, Nov. 16. (UP)—Had it not been for the influence of Owen D. Young upon New York bankers, the affairs of Samuel Insull would have been hopelessly involved a year before his utilities collapsed, a Chicago banker testified in federal court today.

Young, a prominent Democrat, financier and manufacturer, acted as mediator in getting the New York banks to sign a standstill agreement on the millions they had lent the now defunct Insull Utilities Investments, Inc., said Edward E. Brown.

Brown, who is vice president of the First National bank here, was called in Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley's search for assets of the $200,000,000 utilities concern.

Red Cross Leaders Hope To Close Drive Five Days Ahead Of Schedule

First reports from group solicitation and special gift teams of the 1932 Red Cross roll call drive were received Wednesday at headquarters, 706 Scott avenue. Wichitans are cooperating in the drive in realization of the relief work faced by both the national and local organization, leaders said.

Roll Call Chairman Linton H. Estes declared the team members hoped to complete the roll call by Saturday of this week. The drive period was announced as Nov. 15-24 but if response of individuals to the drive continues "we will close the work five days earlier," he said.

Seven 100 per cent firm memberships were listed by workers Wednesday. The group includes Draughon's Business college, Dixie Tire Service company, Noble-Little Hardware company, Wichita Falls Cotton Oil company, Summers Cigar company, Postal Telegraph-Cable company, and E-Z Self Serving stores.

The financial report of the National Red Cross for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1932, reveals expenditures of $6,500,000 of which $3,838,500 was for disaster relief. The work included health activities, first aid and life saving work, services for regular army men and disabled veterans and assistance for foreign and insular areas, including war services and disaster relief.

HOOVER BACK AT HIS DESK

President Takes Up Work On Debt Situation

from the New York governor to set an exact hour for the parley. Up until near closing time for the executive offices, however, there was no call from Albany.

The exact proposals to be discussed at this debt conference have not been outlined, although repeated opposition to cancellation has been expressed by the chief executive. He already has communicated to the president-elect, also, his belief that if concessions were made, concrete extensions of American markets abroad should be received in return.

Mr. Hoover has expressed to his successor-elect, also, the fact that debt matters must be dealt with in the final analysis by congress, adding the view that if any negotiations are to be begun, the views of the Democratic leaders on Capitol hill who look to him as leader will play an important part.

Although he intends to confer with outstanding Democrats before submitting recommendations to congress, the president has not taken definite action upon Mr. Roosevelt's suggestion that he hold a parley with these leaders.

Before returning to his desk this morning for the first time in two weeks, the chief executive was given a resounding reception as he stepped from his special train after a speedy trip across the continent from his Palo Alto, Calif., home.

Virtually the entire official family was on hand, and the president and Mrs. Hoover walked through a solid lane of officials, shaking hands on each side to a chorus of cheers and handclapping from a throng in the station concourse. Within half an hour after his train reached the capital at 8:30 a. m., Mr. Hoover was seated at his desk.

ROOSEVELT UNDECIDED WHEN TO CALL ON HOOVER

EXECUTIVE MANSION, Albany, N. Y., Nov. 16. (AP)—Governor Roosevelt, in a gray business suit, up from a sick bed after five days' illness, worked on the state budget at the mansion today, seeking ways of making up a deficit of "something under $80,000,000" in this year's revenue.

The president-elect held his regular press conference and saw a few visitors, among them Louis B. Wehle, a relative of Supreme Court Justice Louis B. Brandeis. Wehle, a former Louisville resident, now is an attorney in New York. His was a social call.

Mr. Roosevelt, appearing rested and without an apparent trace of the cold that sent him to bed a few days after his election, said he felt "fine."

Talk With Hoover

"Tomorrow I'll be down in my study on the first floor and perhaps the next day I'll go outside," he remarked. He is scheduled to go to Hyde Park Saturday and to leave for Warm Springs, Ga., early next week. He will stop off at Washington for an informal talk with President Hoover who invited him to the White House to discuss the foreign debt situation.

"No, I don't know when I shall call the president," he replied to a question. The governor asserted, in his answer to Mr. Hoover's invitation, that he would telephone him when he decided to leave for Georgia.

When the newspaper men entered the governor's bedroom he was seated at a card table signing letters. Behind him on a bureau was a large model of a motor speedboat made by Harry Doremus, a convict at Great Meadow prison. Doremus had named it the "Pardon Me." In his note to Mr. Roosevelt he said he had done all the work on the model.

"Isn't it a beauty; complete in every detail, even to a motor," said Roosevelt.

Sure of "Balance"

"Oh, we'll balance the budget of the state," he declared pointing out that a provision of the state constitution required that deficit one year must be made up the next.

"How will you do it," he was asked.

"By economies and perhaps taxes, but we haven't got down to that yet," he answered. The "we" referred to Mark Graves, the budget director.

On last Sept. 1, the deficit was estimated at $100,000,000 but since then increases in taxes, the governor said, had reduced the prospective deficit to less than $80,000,000. Increased returns from stock transfer, corporation and inheritance taxes have helped the situation.

Mr. Roosevelt will present a complete budget to his successor Lieut. Gov. Herbert H. Lehman, he said.

ROME, Nov. 16. (INS)—Enlarging the scope of his recent sweeping amnesty to political offenders, Premier Benito Mussolini today abolished the decree which deprived Italian exiles abroad of their native citizenship.

He also put an end to the decree which provided for seizure of the personal property of almost all anti-Fascist exiles.

ABILENE HOST TO BAPTISTS

Dissension Cut Short By Convention Head

Bible at Baylor university, and Dr. W. B. White, pastor of the Broadway Baptist church at Fort Worth were presidential nominees who asked that Dr. Hardy's selection be made unanimous.

Vice presidents chosen were W. H. Poole, professor of Latin in Baylor university, Dr. M. M. Wolfe, of Houston and Rev. J. N. Marshall of Austin.

Repeal Question

B. D. South of San Antonio and J. P. Truett of Whitewright, veteran recording secretaries were re-elected without opposition. Robert Coleman of Dallas was chosen secretary of the convention.

Tonight the convention prepared to consider a report from a committee of 15 selected by the ministers' and laymen's conference yesterday to draft a proposed expression of the convention's attitude in opposition to modification or repeal of any of the national and state statutory or constitutional prohibition articles.

A report on activities of Simmons university, one of the church's schools, located at Abilene, and of Buckner Ophans home at Dallas also were on the program for discussion.

Rev. Sam Morris, pastor of the First Baptist church at Stamford, tried to get a series of motions before the convention without success. He was ruled out of order each time.

It was generally expected in the convention that the Rev. Mr. Morris had planned to press for adoption resolutions directing criticism at Baylor university activities, particularly reception there last June as the commencement speaker of Kirby Page of New York. Rev. Mr. Morris objected to Page addressing Baylor graduates on grounds he was "modernistic and radical."

Rev. Mr. Morris first was ruled out of order when he proposed that the resolutions committee present its report to the convention tomorrow and that an hour's time be allotted to discussion of its recommendations.

It previously had been moved that all resolutions be referred to the committee without being read to the convention.

Later Rev. Mr. Morris came to the platform and said:

"I move that this convention express its regret at the action taken last June by Baylor university—"

That was as far as he got. His voice was drowned out by the pounding gavel of President Hardy, who held the motion out of order. The delegates cheered.

Again, at the afternoon session, Rev. Mr. Morris tried to get his motion before the convention, but again he was put in his seat by the president. The convention cheered more enthusiastically than it did previously.

Dr. Hardy contended that the order of business could not be altered from the form recommended by the committee on order of business. It previously had been amended, however, to permit reception of the prohibition report tonight.

The convention exchanged messages of fellowship with Baptist assemblies in Alabama, Oklahoma, and Louisiana, now in session.

Friction is so great in the underground mail tube system they use to deliver mail to branch postoffices, that they had to refrigerate the tube to prevent overheating. Encouragement Given

Advice and encouragement was offered the oil industry this afternoon by speakers before the convention.

Henry I. Harriman of Boston, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce urged amendment of the Sherman anti-trust act to permit firms to legally obtain by agreement the benefits they may "by the device of merger."

Sir John Cadman of the Anglo-Persian Oil Company, Ltd., of London, England, told the delegates the oil business stood today on firmer ground and had a more open path to better conditions than any other.

Peter Molyneaux of Dallas, editor of the Texas Weekly, dwelt upon society's "stake" in oil, and asserted little progress could be expected in the matter of preventing economic waste so long as the present attitude of society toward the industry was maintained.

Convention Inactive

The convention was inactive during the morning, save for long meetings of the nominating committee, which selected the executive officers of the institute. What occurred before the committee could not be learned officially, since all sessions were behind closed doors.

The speeches at the general session were delivered before big crowds, but some of the delegates were leaving late in the day, as tomorrow's program will comprise only a number of committee meetings on technical subjects.

Mr. Harriman, in saying the anti-trust act should be amended added the country's industries with "reasonable opportunity to work together" might have softened the blow of the depression and that a declaration that public policy "includes their welfare" would speed economic recovery.

Would Limit Competition

In addition to the antitrust act "to give to enterprises in interstate commerce the right to obtain through agreement those advantages they might lawfully obtain by the device of merger," he suggested there should be legislation "defining as unfair and illegitimate and therefore illegal competition all acts which, if adopted in an industry as a whole, or a major part thereof, would demoralize markets, interrupt continuity of operation and thereby seriously imperil employment."

Sir John dwelt particularly upon the fact oil was a world business, and urged the friendliest of commercial relations internationally. He asked the industry to stock with its cooperative principles and said he thought the main action necessary was to "travel on the road we now are treading."

Resolutions paying tribute to the work of Mrs. Katherine M. Samuels as prinoipal and teacher in the Benito Juarez school have been adopted by the Wichita Falls Teachers association, it was announced Wednesday. Mrs. Samuels died recently after an illness of two days.

The resolutions, drawn by a committee composed of Miss Jennie Roberson, Miss Erma Nala Voss and Superintendent H. D. Fillers, follow:

"Mrs. Samuels was a teacher whose qualities of leadership, whose devotion to duty, and whose deep love for humanity won for her the profound respect of her fellow workers. Her work was unique. Supreme Court Has Texas Case

litia officers from the decision of a three-judge federal court prohibiting them from enforcing orders issued by Governor Sterling fixing the amount of oil to be produced in those fields.

With the price of oil falling and production daily increasing in the East Texas fields, the Texas Railroad commission sought to enforce a conservation act by prorating oil to prevent waste. When the commission's order was enjoined Governor Sterling declared martial law ordering out state troops to suppress what he stated was riot and insurrection.

Owners of land there, finding their royalties materially reduced by the fall in the price of oil threatened, the governor asserted, to force operators to reduce production.

On the ground the "riot and insurrection" could be suppressed only by a reduction in production, Governor Sterling instructed officers of the troops to restrict the output of the East Texas wells. The owners of the wells obtained an injunction from a three-judge federal court and from that the two appeals were taken to the highest court.

Counsel for Governor Sterling contended the federal courts had no jurisdiction to interfere in the enforcement by the governor of any orders which in his discretion were necessary to restore peace and order, even though they included restriction of production.

The oil operators through their counsel charged the governor in ordering out the troops, declaring martial law production was attempting to circumvent the orders of the federal court. They insisted the acts of the governor were a subterfuge and denied riots or insurrection prevailed.

LIBRARY HOLDS OPEN HOUSE

Board Joins Staff in Book Week Tea

Fifty mothers and teachers of Wichita Falls were guests of the Kemp public library Wednesday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock for a tea as a feature of the 1932 children's book week, Nov. 14-20. "Young America's Book Parade" is the theme of the week and was carried out in an exhibition of early day items. The exhibits were shown in a basement room and illustrated divisions of book themes.

The 1932 book week is dedicated to the memory of Louisa M. Alcott in a centennial celebration of her birth. A special display of Alcott books greeted visitors at the door. Tea was served from a table decorated in green and gold with a bowl of marigolds in the center.

Variety in Displays

Stories of American life for boys and girls were displayed with a carved ship in the center of sea adventure yarns. Indian lore was arranged with an exhibit of museum items on the subject. Books on colonists and pioneers of the nation were arranged about a miniature colonial mansion. One table presented picture books for younger children. Art work and posters on the walls carried out the theme.

A new trend in children's books was evidenced in the display to add to the attractiveness and beauty of books for young Americans in developing a wider interest in reading. Attractively designed invitations announcing the annual exhibit were issued by the library staff. The invitations carried the North American continent in outline and an early day steam engine and coach train.

The open house closed with an open forum discussion among interested parents and school instructors on problems in developing interest in good books. Members of the library board joined with the staff as hosts for the party. Board members are Mesdames J. A. Kemp, J. A. Richolt, C. R. Hartsook, J. T. Montgomery, C. W. Snider, W. B. Patterson and Messrs. Walter D. Cline, W. M. Priddy, W. E. McBroom, Walter Nelson Jr., V. R. Smitham. The staff members are Miss Lucia F. Powell, librarian, Miss Avalon Rines, children's librarian, and Misses Zula McKay and Luciel Doke.

Children's Department

A feature of the public library is a children's department in the basement, with a special entrance, that is complete in every detail for serving young Wichitans. Books that appeal to boys and girls are included in the shelves and a magazine table offers the latest editions for children.

Favors for guests were presented by the library, "The Book Shelf for Boys and Girls," listing new books for Christmas gift suggestions.

Funeral Services Held For Young County Pioneer

Special to The Record News.

GRAHAM, Texas, Nov. 16.—Hundreds of West Texans and Young county citizens today paid final tribute to Mrs. Archie Medlan, 96-year-old pioneer who died Monday at her ranch home at Medlan Chapel, seven miles west of here.

Services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Fisher, pastor for 31 years of Medlan chapel, little stone church founded 50 years ago by Mrs. Medlan and her late husband. Burial was in the private cemetery a short distance from the home, and where Mr. Medlan was buried following his death in 1903.

Mrs. Medlan, known as "Aunt Betty" to the folk of her little community and to scores of friends throughout this entire section, had spent the latter 53 years of her life at the home where her life ended Monday, culminating her 96th birthday celebration at which she entertained more than 100 guests.

An invalid for the past five years, she was stricken Sunday with a heart attack. Plans had been made for the birthday celebration and she insisted that they be carried out. Guests filled the home on the 1,300-acre estate Monday, and as the last was departing after an old-fashioned dinner and roundup of cattle that featured the festivities, Mrs. Medlan died.

Surviving Mrs. Medlan are three daughters, Mrs. F. R. Ragland of Graham, Mrs. J. Worth Timmons of Havre, Mont., and Mrs. S. E. Turner of Raton, N. M.; three sisters, Mrs. Anne Brogdon, who resided at the Medlan chapel ranch home; Mrs. Truly Willis and Mrs. Margaret Turner, both of Graham, and a number of grandchildren and great grandchildren.

FARM RELIEF POLICY RAPPED

Government Competition Charged in Probe

CHICAGO, Nov. 16. (UP)—Woes of the men who raise the fruits and vegetables the nation eats and of those who can them were spread today in the records of the Channon committee investigating government competition with private business.

For eight hours, witnesses from the extremes of the country recited the troubles of cherry growers, peach orchardists, vineyard owners, and growers of such various produce as watermelons, sweet corn, onions, strawberries and lettuce. Others told of the crisis faced by packers and canners.

Blame U. S. Farm Policy

Blame, a majority said, falls upon the government's agricultural relief policy. Horace H. Herr, research director of the National League of Commission Merchants, expressed the general view in the figure of speech:

"The government can nurse this agricultural situation as long as it wishes, but when it takes the bottle away, the coddled industry will wither. Where millions are being wasted now, billions will be wasted if the policy is not changed."

Herr accused the government of attempting to "play noses and Mussolini" at the same time, with the farmer as the victim.

The "forgotten consumer" was considered after a question of Representative William H. Stafford of Wisconsin, who with Chairman Joseph B. Shannon, Missouri; Robert F. Rich, Pennsylvania, and Samuel P. Pettingill, Indiana, is conducting the hearings, now in their third day at the Palmer house.

"What about his forgotten consumer?" Stafford asked. "Who is looking after the man from the industrial area who has to buy food products?"

Herr declared there was nothing in the federal legislation for farm aid that indicated it had been based on any consideration of the consumer.

"Unless we do something to fix the limitations beyond which governmental intervention shall not go," Herr said, "a century more and we will have no private business in this country—only government.

"We are making very rapid progress toward a nation of hirelings and no law in all our history has so accelerated our approach as the agricultural marketing act."

Amy Johnson On Flight In Africa

DAKAR, French West Africa, Nov. 16. (AP)—Amy Johnson, who is flying a tiny plane from England to the cape in an effort to better the record of her husband, Capt. J. A. Mollison, successfully crossed the Sahara desert yesterday and today she was speeding toward Douala, on the Gulf of Guinea.

Miss Johnson made the 1,400-mile flight from Oran, Algeria, to Gao, on the upper Niger in French West Africa, in a little more than 13 hours. She landed at Gao at 12:30 p. m. yesterday.

The flight to Douala from Gao is 1,200 miles.

Douala is on the African west coast at the point where the coast line turns southward to Cape Town. It is 6,200 miles from England to the cape and more than 4,500 miles from England to Douala.

Captain Mollison's record for the Cape Town flight is four days, 17 hours, 19 minutes. Reaching Ouala without delay, Miss Johnson would be almost 24 hours ahead of her husband's record at that point, as she omitted one of his desert stops.

French-German-British Industrial Combine Aimed At Creating Jobs

PARIS, Nov. 16. (AP)—The creation of an economic consortium by France, Germany and Great Britain, which is designed to assist in coping with the unemployed problem, was announced today by Raymond Patenotre, who will be in charge of its operations.

"We foresee," said M. Patenotre, "a return of prosperity by the natural process of the development of industrialization.

"The unemployed in the smaller depressed countries will be given work, while the jobless in the larger countries will be relieved by the operation of factories."

Franco-German Combination

The plan was described as a combination of French capital and German industry, with guarantees covering the subjects of insurance, security and non-competition.

M. Patenotre, who was born in the United States and whose father served as French ambassador at Washington, is France's undersecretary for national economy. As vice president in actual charge of the operations of the consortium he will have headquarters in Paris. The German minister of national economy will serve as German vice president of the organization.

Loan to Be Offered

The first project of the consortium will be the offer of a loan of 17,000,000,000 francs (currently $680,000,00) for the electrification of railways in Poland, Rumania, Irak and Portugal.

The Paris edition of the New York Herald Tribune said France and England would provide 40 per cent of this loan, each, and Germany would furnish 20 per cent.

The consortium will consist of three syndicates — Franco-German financial experts; British, French and German bankers; and a Franco-German syndicate designed to carry out recommendations of the banking group in the electrification projects.

M. Patenotre said the organization was purely an economic arrangement. Premier Edouard Herriot will be its titular head in France and Chancellor Franz von Papen in Germany.

E. L. Cord Misses Fishing Trip To Wage Stock War

CHICAGO, Nov. 16. (AP)—Aviation's youngest giant is still trying to find enough time to wind up a fishing trip started almost 20 years ago.

E. L. Cord decided to take a vacation at 20. He and a friend started on a fishing trip which was never finished, as Cord was diverted by a business opportunity. It and succeeding ones have fully occupied his time since and the fishing trip remains unfinished.

Two years ago, Cord was known as a successful young automobile manufacturer with a flair for aviation. Six years before that, he was merely an unknown young automobile salesman.

Today, Cord is drafting final plans for the biggest fight of his career—control of the Aviation corporation, huge holding company owning the majority of stock in several of the biggest air lines in the United States.

The Cord corporation, which he heads, owns 800,000 of the 3,187,386 shares of Aviation corporation stock outstanding. A battle for proxies is now being waged between Cord and the management. Cord objects to the management's plan to purchase a rival company, North American Aviation, Inc., and claims too much is being offered for the stock.

The battle will be fought out at a directors' meeting in New York, Tuesday, Nov. 22.

Cord entered the Aviation corporation picture when that company purchased the Century Air Lines, owned and operated by Cord, and he took stock in the bigger company as payment.

FARMERS TO HEAR EXPERTS

Value of Terracing to Be Discussed in Hardeman

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, Texas, Nov. 16.—M. R. Bentley, specialist in farm engineering of the extension service of Texas A. & M. college; A. K. (Dad) Short, soil specialist for the Federal Land bank of Houston, and John R. Edmonds, district agent for the Panhandle district, extension service, will be in Hardeman county Tuesday, Nov. 22, to meet with farmers to get their views on the value of terracing.

County Agent L. T. Hunter is arranging public meetings for Chillicothe at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, and for Quanah at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The Chillicothe meeting will be at the chamber of commerce rooms, and the Quanah meeting in Mr. Hunter's office in the courthouse.

All farmers who have had lands terraced in Hardeman county and any citizen interested in soil conservation, whether tenant farmer or landlord, are urged to attend one or both of these meetings.

Thousands of acres of Hardeman county lands have been terraced, and practically every club boy is able to run lines and handle laying out of tracts. The value of this work in the county can hardly be estimated in dollars and cents, according to farm owners and tenants who have handled crops on the terraced lands.

Coleman Bank Pays Out Its Restricted Accounts

COLEMAN, Texas, Nov. 16. (AP)—The First Coleman National bank today released 30 per cent of its restricted accounts, or more than $100,000. Twenty per cent had been released previously.

The bank, formed a year ago when the three other banks here closed, then had $300,000 cash and owed $160,000. Today, it has $425,000 in cash and has paid its debt.

Today's release was not due until next March, and the remaining 50 per cent is due Dec. 31, 1933, but bankers were optimistic, saying big cotton and turkey crops had aided the people in paying their notes and banking conditions thus were improved.

U. S. ANSWERS CAPONE'S PLEA

Gangster Appears Bored During Hearing

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 16. (UP)—Federal Judge E. Marvin Underwood took under advisement today a motion by the federal government to dismiss the application of Alphonse Capone, former Chicago gang chieftain, for a writ of habeas corpus that would release him from federal prison.

Judge Underwood gave counsel for Capone one week in which to file a brief in answer to the government's motion. Capone, serving a 10-year sentence for income tax fraud, sat through the two and a half-hour hearing as if bored by the proceedings.

If the motion of the government is sustained, Capone's attempt to gain his freedom on grounds his case was outlawed by the statute of limitations, will fail.

If the court should deny the government's motion to dismiss, further agreement then would be in order on Capone's plea that the Chicago federal court which sent him to the penitentiary was without jurisdiction.

GOVERNMENT MAY SEIZE PROPERTY

ATLANTA, Nov. 16. (AP)—The Atlanta Journal says that Al Capone, Chicago gangster, has never paid the income tax for the evasion of which he is serving a 10-year sentence in the federal penitentiary here and has never been served with a personal demand for payment.

The Atlanta internal revenue office is momentarily expecting arrival of warrants demanding payment. When they reach here Capone will be served immediately.

After the warrants are delivered the government is empowered to seize property and sell it unless the tax is paid.

Floyd County Women Win Prizes at Fairs

Fairs at which awards have been won were Texas state fair at Dallas, Panhandle South Plains fair at Lubbock, and Tri-State fair at Amarillo.

"B.C." Relieves Periodical Pains In Three Minutes

It is so unnecessary to suffer month after month from inorganic pains, because "B. C." will bring soothing relief in three minutes. "B. C." is prepared by a registered pharmacist, compounded on a different principle from most relief-giving agencies in that it contains several ingredients, used by many physicians, so blended and proportioned as to accomplish in a few minutes what we believe no one drug formula can do in so short a time. "B. C." should also be used for the relief of common colds, headaches and neuralgia, muscular aches and pains, reducing fever and for quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit forming drugs. Get "B. C." in 10c and 25c packages, wherever drugs are sold.—Adv.

YOUR CAR WILL NEED ANTI-FREEZE TONIGHT

EVEREADY PRESTONE

You're right—it's cold. And you need anti-freeze in the cooling-system of your car at once! In unheated garages, and out on the street, cars won't be safe tonight without an anti-freeze. You must act quickly—go to your dealer or garage-man and have him put in Eveready Prestone without delay. Why Eveready Prestone rather than something else . . . ?

BEFORE YOU BUY ANY ANTI-FREEZE,

read these facts

EVEREADY PRESTONE is different from all other anti-freezes — there is nothing else like it.

In developing Eveready Prestone, the laboratories of Union Carbide and Carbon Corporation, keeping in mind the requirements of the U. S. Bureau of Standards for an ideal anti-freeze, have perfected a product that satisfies the following specifications:

Eveready Prestone does not boil away. So it does not require frequent renewals, nor does it leave the car unprotected when a cold snap follows warm weather.

The fumes of boil-away products may mar the finish of fine cars. Smelly fumes also make winter driving unpleasant, and inflammable mixtures increase the hazard of accidents. Eveready Prestone is non-inflammable and odorless. It will not affect your car finish. And it is thoroughly effective in preventing freezing.

Eveready Prestone circulates freely at the lowest operating temperatures. Yet it will not "creep." A heavy, viscous fluid, which is not free-flowing, is a poor cooling agent. Other substances in use may "creep"— leak from systems that are watertight, but not tight enough to hold these liquids.

Many products, because of their thickness in the concentrated form, are sold as water-diluted solutions. The cost of canning and shipping plain water is thus borne by the public. Eveready Prestone is packaged as a concentrated product, not water-diluted. It's ALL anti-freeze! You know what you are getting for your money!

NOW REDUCED IN PRICE

Eveready Prestone now comes to you at a substantial reduction in price. Today it offers the safest and most economical anti-freeze you can buy for all-winter protection.

And Eveready Prestone also brings you protection against rust and corrosion. On brass, copper, solder, aluminum and zinc, it reduces the corrosive action of the water in the cooling-system at least 75%. On cast iron, 95%.

Eveready Prestone is approved by all car manufacturers and guaranteed by National Carbon Company. Put it in — today.

NATIONAL CARBON COMPANY, INC.
General Offices: New York, N. Y.
Unit of Union Carbide UCC and Carbon Corporation

● THIS POPULAR-PRICE CAR, operating in a cold-weather zone, needs only one-half gallon of concentrated Eveready Prestone to protect it all winter long. Cost $2.25. No scale, no corrosion—absolute safety.

If you buy a water-diluted anti-freeze for this car, remember that you are paying for a large amount of plain, ordinary water, as well as for anti-freeze material. The low cost per gallon, therefore, cannot be compared with the cost per gallon of concentrated Eveready Prestone. Obviously, you will need a much greater amount of the diluted product to get the same protection.

If boil-away anti-freeze is used, there must be one-half gallon in the cooling-system every time the thermometer drops to 20° F. Cost (?) . . . it depends on the number of cold snaps. Meanwhile, frequent renewals, checking, trouble and bother.

● THIS MEDIUM-SIZE CAR, in an average-weather zone, needs only one gallon of concentrated Eveready Prestone. Cost $4.45. All-winter protection against freezing, rust, clogging and corrosion.

The cost of enough water-diluted anti-freeze to give this car the same protection cannot be computed unless you know how much anti-freeze and how much water there is in the product you buy. Some brands contain as much as 55% plain water. Low cost per gallon, therefore, means nothing.

If boil-away anti-freeze is used, the cost per season may be a great deal more than the cost of Eveready Prestone. Meanwhile, no certain, sure protection through all weather changes. No protection against rust and corrosion.

● THIS LARGE CAR, operating in a zero-weather zone, needs only two gallons of concentrated Eveready Prestone. Cost $8.90. Complete peace of mind for the owner of a valuable car.

You can buy a water-diluted anti-freeze at a lower cost per gallon, but you will have to buy much more than two gallons to get the same protection. How much more will depend on the amount of water in the product. Therefore, the cost per gallon of such anti-freeze means nothing.

If boil-away anti-freeze is used, two full gallons must be present every time the temperature drops to zero. The cost may easily exceed the cost of Eveready Prestone. Meanwhile, no certain protection against freezing — none at all against corrosion.

Splendid Programs Given By Women's Study Clubs

English and American writers, America and far distant lands and other subjects of equal interest furnished programs for the women's clubs who met in special study sessions Wednesday. Members of the Junior Travel club, who held their meetings at the Woman's Forum clubhouse, began their study of the second national creative period in American literature with the study of Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Roll call was answered with prose quotations from Emerson and Mrs. N. H. Downing, who was leader, exemplified the reputation of the club members in her splendid paper on "Emerson as an Essayist." Mrs. W. J. Morgareidge gave a forceful paper on "Personality of Emerson," and the excellent talks were followed as usual by round table discussion.

F. W. C. conference recently held in Corpus Christi. Miss Peery attended as a delegate from the Junior forum and at the convention gave an outstanding report of the work done by the junior clubs of Wichita Falls. The report, it has been stated, received unusual recognition as being one of the best given in the state.

In the scheduled program study of James Fennimore Cooper and William Cullen Bryant, Mrs. Robert Bridges gave a critical estimate of the Leather Stocking series, with especial emphasis on "Last of the Mohicans." This was followed by a contrast of Bryant and Cooper as representatives of the 19th century New York.

Dainty refreshments were served to Mesdames Charles Spragins Jr. Lloyd Taylor, Shadie Hale, T. C. Anthony Jr., Wm. Seiber, Robert Bridges, R. K. French, Miss Marguerite Peery and the hostess, Mrs. Bass.

New Century, Junior

Mrs. Paul Oles was hostess to members of the New Century Junior club when Miss Crystelle Waggoner opened the program with an extremely interesting 10 minute talk on newspapers.

Mrs. D. G. Whitney, a guest, substituted charmingly for the secret talk that has made the meetings charming in one unknown form of entertainment, by reviewing "An Abandoned Farm," by Eleanor Risley. The book was a clear and pretty study of a fresh clean story.

In the social half hour, dainty refreshments were served to Mesdames Overton Abernathy, Dillard Anderson, Ray C. Arnold, Eugene Clark, S. M. Gose, O. B. Keil, Ted R. Krohn, Paul S. Oles, Ray Puckett, Dwight M. Ross, Gordon West, Chester Wynne, Earl Stilley and Misses Marguerite Fisher and Crystelle Waggoner.

These interesting numbers concluded the program carried over from a former meeting and Mrs. Coleman was director of the study of "Renaissance in Italy, 1250-1540."

Ruth Laird to Boss Floor Show at Banquet

Announcement that Ruth Laird of Dallas had been placed in charge of floor show entertainment for the fifth annual Junior chamber of commerce banquet and party at the Woman's Forum clubhouse Dec. 10 was made Wednesday by President Don T. Haynes.

Miss Laird's revue staff was secured by a committee including Bert Ripley, Darrold Kahn and J. C. Straus Jr., on a trip to Dallas Saturday. The Tickville band of Ranger also has been secured for the party.

ASLEEP IN THE DEEP

DENVER, Colo.—Glen was not in the habit of playing hookey, so his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lowe, couldn't understand it when the school principal notified them that Glen had not reported to his class. The police were called and told to be on the lookout for Glen, but they had no luck. That evening Glen's father called the police station and said, "It's all right! we've found him. He's been asleep in the basement all day."

Business Women Have Splendid Dinner Program

Members of the Business and Professional Women's club held their monthly meeting at the Woman's Forum clubhouse, where they enjoyed a delightful dinner Tuesday evening. Walter Cline was the speaker and Mesdames Walter Priddy and A. H. Mahaffey gave lovely musical numbers.

Progress made in the past 50 years in a cultural way, and hardships of the pioneers and particularly of those men who were drivers and went over the old Chisholm trail, were interesting themes of which Mr. Cline spoke.

In an interesting and unique manner, he divided his address into two parts, making the latter part in the form of a personal will, bequeathing all the accomplishments of progress to the younger generation so that this progress might be given to future generations.

The two lovely songs given by Mrs. W. M. Priddy, with Mrs. A. H. Mahaffey as a delightful accompanist, were "House Beside the Road," and "The Old Chisholm Trail."

In the business session, Miss Susie Downing announced a square dance to be given at the Y. W. C. A. Dec. 10, and a rummage sale, Nov. 26. Miss Ethel Glasgow was elected a member of the board to take the place of Miss Minnie Bedford, resigned.

Unusual Program Given At Crockett School

Oriental rugs, magnificent Japanese screens, Satouma vases and other splendid curios made the stage in the Crockett school auditorium an exquisite setting for the review given Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Anna Witherspoon, who was charming in her authentic Japanese gown and accessories. Mrs. Witherspoon's gracious poise, her beautifully modulated voice and her understanding of the East, made her review of "The Mother," written and translated into English by Yusuke Tsurumi, one of Japan's most progressive thinkers, of remarkable interest.

Preceding her review, she gave a brief study of the author who is head of the Japanese Liberal organization, is widely traveled, and has written 23 books.

Japanese family life and mother love were beautifully portrayed and the modern man's relations to his family and his attitude toward geisha girls were also described.

Mrs. Grover C. Johnson, president of the Crockett P.-T. A., who was responsible for the brilliant setting, greeted the guests and presented those on the program. Miss Roberta Lincoln opened the program with a delightful violin number, her mother, Mrs. R. A. Lincoln accompanying her.

A dainty plate and delicious tea were served to the large group by the P.-T. A., who sponsored the meeting in the short social hour following the program.

Every druggist has California fig syrup all bottled, with full directions for a babe of two years or child in his teens. Its delicious taste makes it delightful to use; no child ever tired of it.

HAS it ever struck you that most coffees taste alike—despite the difference in labels and advertising claims? And—like so many other women—have you frequently wondered why it's almost impossible to find a coffee that's really better?

If so, here's something you'll be glad to know:

There is one kind of coffee that's really different—a rare coffee that's mountain-grown!

Produced chiefly along the West Coast of Central America, in isolated districts north of the Panama Canal, where an odd type of volcanic soil and clear mountain air give coffee a flavor that experts concede is not duplicated anywhere else in the world.

These are the unique coffees you find in Folger's—a revelation in coffee taste. Mellow-rich, with a rare, wine-like tang that can't be described in words. Brought to you with all their mountain-freshness faithfully preserved in key-opening, vacuum tins.

In order that you may try these rare coffees without delay, we make the unusual suggestion below. And please note, that because of greater richness and strength, you may allow 1-5th less when you're using Folger's.

Just go to your grocer and get a pound of Folger's today. Drink it tomorrow morning.

The following morning serve the coffee you previously used. The third morning serve Folger's again. Then choose between them.

In the very middle of national book week, we remember with interest a lecture on juvenile reading delivered by Mrs. Grover C. Johnson, secretary of first district, T. F. W. C. before the Archer County federation several weeks ago.

Her figures were infinitely interesting. "Of the 106,000,000 people in the United States," she said, "50,000,000 may be included in the reading public." It is a proportion that should be of interest to the entire nation during this week.

◇

For, as Mrs. Johnson further stated, "A person who is skilled in reading," an art which she names as a fine art, "may grasp the meaning of a sentence or even a paragraph at a single glance." And we can vouch for the truth of this statement for we read by lines, not by words, and our tongue, when we are reading aloud, is never able to keep up with our vision.

◇

In the speech which we mention, Mrs. Johnson stated that children receive their knowledge of life, their education, from three different sources, verbal instruction, personal instruction or observation and reading. "By nine years," she emphasized, "the child should be reading easily and with enjoyment. Children of this age are not too young to understand and appreciate good reading."

◇

That "a normal child is an active, vibrating question mark," all parents know. Because they are such question marks is one reason they are so interesting. For who would feel interested in a child who has no curiosity about this strange thing, life?

◇

As a child ourself, we read everything that came to hand. We taught ourself to like good reading just before we were out of our teens. Since that time, we have had little use for trash. But we wonder how appreciably different our love of books would have been if we had been introduced to real literature as a child.

◇

By real literature we do not mean that a child should read those dry as dust old tomes that were once put on library shelves as real literature. There is so much that is alive and vital and beautifully told even in the most modern books; so much that gives riches to a child of which nothing can rob him.

◇

We would be rather astounded at an 8-year-old youngster whom we found sitting back reading Marcus Aurelius Antonious, or perhaps chapters from Herodotus, although the latter does at times sound like a fairy tale. (And may be partly one.)

◇

But in this year when the 100th anniversary of Lewis Carroll (as the writer was known) was celebrated, we feel it particularly appropriate that during book week, an effort should be made to introduce children to Alice and all the strange people whom she met in wonderland. The books of which we speak should be known by grown-ups.

◇

Publishers are making a specialty of beautifully illustrated books for children, and the fairylike cuts intrigue the interest of a child who is even too young to read. "You would be alarmed," Mrs. Johnson said, "if you could make a survey and actually find the number of children who have never read one book through."

◇

It is robbing a child not to teach him to read and especially to read worth while things. This is a week when every parent-teacher association, every woman's club and every mother should think seriously upon the subject.

Export Bounty On Commodities Urged

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16. (INS)—An export bounty on wheat, corn and cotton offers the only hope of raising American farm prices to a profitable level, Nesbit Grammer of Buffalo, N. Y., a major grain elevator and steamship operator, declared at senate hearings today on the St. Lawrence waterway treaty.

"A 20-cent bounty on wheat and corn moving for export would cost the government only about $38,000,000 annually," he asserted, "while it would raise the prices of these two commodities by $760,000,000 annually.

"With foreign governments levying tariffs of $1.30 per bushel or less on American wheat, the only hope of the American producer is in an export bounty."

Back-Firing Autos Cause Two Blazes

Identical reports on two automobile fire alarms were filed at the central station Wednesday. The alarms were turned in by John O'Donohoe from 600 Fillmore and W. A. Bachman from 1907 Collins. The alarms were received at 9:45 o'clock Wednesday morning. Both fires were caused by back-fires when the motors were flooded. A blaze at the city hot house, 1809 Fifth, was controlled without damage at 5:45 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Kuhn was chosen after Hugh Williams, New Mexico, was elected and resigned. Williams declined the office because he was defeated by a Democrat for railroad commissioner in the recent election.

FOUR HELD FOR SMUGGLING RUM

Agent Charges 1,055 Gallons of Alcohol Moved

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 16. (AP)—R. C. Estes and J. C. Lambert, charged with conspiracy in connection with the alleged smuggling of 1,055 gallons of Mexican alcohol into the United States, may be able to make their bonds of $1,500 each immediately, according to W. C. Williams, attorney for the two.

The two were committed to the Bexar county jail yesterday in default of bond by United States Commissioner Paul Lockhart, before whom the charge was filed by customs inspectors. The men were arrested here by customs inspectors. The bonds are returnable to Corpus Christi Jan. 2.

Estes and Lambert are specifically charged with conspiring with Tom Turner and John Melvin to violate the tariff act of 1930.

The charge filed by Customs Agent Edwards alleged that the two confederated with Tom Turner and John Melvin to receive, conceal and transport merchandise which had been introduced into the United States contrary to law. The merchandise is described in the complaint as "Mexican alcohol."

The complaint also charged that Tom Turner received 560 gallons of Mexican alcohol at a point in Hidalgo county near the border and transported it to Sinton, Texas. John Melvin in the complaint is specifically accused of receiving 495 gallons of Mexican alcohol at a point in Duval county and transporting it to Alice, Texas. The conspiracy is recited in the complaint as having taken place from July 10 to Oct. 6 in Hidalgo, Starr, Duval and San Patricio counties.

Aged Farmer On Trial At Montague Today For Slaying Saint Jo Couple

Special to The Record News.

MONTAGUE, Texas, Nov. 11.—L. H. Reynolds, 63-year-old Montague county farmer, will go on trial here Thursday on one of two grand jury indictments charging murder of O. P. Goff, 46, and Goff's wife, Nettie, 39, near Saint Jo Sept. 20.

Goff and his wife, tenants of a farm neighboring Reynolds' place five miles west of Saint Jo, both were shot to death with a shotgun. The shooting occurred on the Goff farm, just inside the boundary that separated it from the Reynolds land.

Reynolds and his stepdaughter, Amanda Poole, 25, were arrested near the scene. Both said that the slaying was the outgrowth of an alleged attack about to be made on them with clubs by Goff and his wife. Trouble, said to be of a year's standing between the two families, was declared to have come to a point when Reynolds and his daughter sought to retrieve calves belonging to them and which had broken into Goff's corn field.

Reynolds has been in jail at Montague since the shooting. He had never requested bond, authorities said. Miss Poole was charged with murder and allowed bond, but the grand jury indicted only Reynolds.

County Attorney Temple Yarborough said Wednesday night that the state would announce ready when the trial is called Thursday.

A special venire of 75 men have been summoned in the case, and Yarborough said he expected to have a jury completed by noon, after which introduction of testimony would begin.

Reynolds is charged separately with the murder of both the man and the woman, and will face two trials. The count upon which the first trial will be based will be selected by the defense, Yarborough said.

Mr. and Mrs. Goff were the parents of six children, ranging in age from 5 years to 17 years.

GUNMAN SEEKS TO AID VICTIM

Bootleg Hooch Blamed For Wounding of Man

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 16. (AP)—Bootleg liquor was blamed by a moaning penitent gun-wielder today for the shooting of Britt McCullough, filling station employe, who is near death at a hospital with a bullet wound in the right groin.

The man held by police pleaded for a chance to "do anything I can to help," begging for the "honor" of supplying McCullough with blood for a transfusion if physicians thought it would aid.

McCullough told police he was sitting in the office of a filling station where he is employed when a man he did not know entered the establishment flourishing a revolver. The gun-wielder did not seem bent on robbery, McCullough said, and was asked to put up his weapon.

His reply was a bullet which struck the station employe in the groin, passing upward through his body. The missile was found later beside a plate glass window which it had broken.

Japan Sends Fresh Troops To Manchuria

TOKYO, Nov. 16. (UP)—Minister of War Sadao Araki announced today several additional cavalry and infantry units were entraining tonight for northern Manchuria to reinforce Japan's present forces in that area.

The announcement substantiated earlier reports that the Japanese are launching a heavy drive against the forces of Gen. Su Ping-Wen, Chinese leader who has held the Manchurian city of Manchuli since September.

Su's refusal to negotiate with Japanese officials last week for the release of 100 Japanese held captive at Manchuli was believed to have hastened the decision to launch a vigorous drive against him. It was regarded as an almost certainty that the captives would be sacrificed in the drive against Su.

Ruth Elder Knows How It Feels To Fall Before Fist

RENO, Nev., Nov. 16. (UP)—Ruth Elder, attractive young flyer and actress tonight had a new sensation to add to her memory of being rescued at sea from a disabled airplane.

It was being knocked to the floor by a man's fist.

Just who swung the blow that floored the newly-divorced wife of Walter Camp Jr., was in dispute. Two men bore puffed and blackened eyes as proof the affair had been no mere shoving match.

M. J. Holland, one optic swollen shut, came into court to accuse "John Doe" of assault.

"John," who is Kendrick Johnson, Reno divorce attorney and former University of Southern California track star, accused Holland of having struck the first blow.

"Johnson started fighting with Miss Elder," Holland retorted. "I butted in and got smacked in the eye."

Johnson's version was different. Holland, he declared, "horned in" on Miss Elder and himself, insisted on accompanying them, and struck the first blow when he was ordered out of an apartment.

In the melee, Miss Elder was accidentally struck by a flying fist, but was unhurt, Johnson insisted.

The flier herself retired to the dude ranch where she had lived prior to divorcing young Camp yesterday, and maintained silence.

College Paper Attacks 'Homecoming' Debauchery

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 16. (UP)—The Missouri Student, university student weekly paper, today charged that the home-coming celebration last week-end was made an occasion for "drunkenness by alumni and debauchery and moral filth."

The celebration did not serve its true purpose of providing for old college friends to meet again, said the paper in an editorial. The home-coming was in connection with the Missouri-Kansas football game.

"An Ideal Crumbles" was the title of the editorial.

Hereford Award Won By Illinois Farmer

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 16. (UP)—One of the highest awards of the American Royal Livestock show—the grand championship of the Hereford cattle class—was won today by an Illinois farmer.

Fifteen Hereford yearlings, exhibited by Richard D. Lacy of Kansas, Ill., won the prize and the $3,200 in cash it carried. Lacy competed against 200 other entries in the carlot class.

Cold weather and snow drifts did not prevent thousands of visitors from throughout the mid-West from flocking to the show, held in a 10-acre brick structure housing more than 8,000 head of livestock and other farm animals.

Children's activities, 4-H clubs and exhibitions of cattle raised by farm boys, have figured prominently in the exhibition this year. The official's decision to awaken an interest in agriculture in the youth of this section was awarded with the announcement that 3,500 boys and girls have attended in four days.

Tonight's horse show, a major event of Kansas City's winter social season, featured harness ponies in addition to the routine exhibition of hunters and saddle animals.

Q.—Has the membership in golf clubs dropped off due to the depression?—P. L.

A.—Eighteen-hole private golf clubs report a loss of 10 per cent in active members; nine-hole clubs report a loss of 2 per cent. The reduction would be greater but for the increase of women players, who now average more than 35 per cent of the active players at 18-hole clubs.

Q.—How many of the world air records does the United States hold?—F. C. M.

A.—In the list of nations holding the 105 air records recognized by the International Aeronautical Federation, the United States is third with 19 world air records. A.—The president kisses the Bible, opened to a selected verse.

Q.—Is a cold shower bath to be preferred to a warm shower?—C. C.

A.—Not every one can stand a cold shower. A warm shower—with soap—is recommended because it cleanses the skin and has a beneficial effect on the muscles, circulation, and mental alertness. A cold shower afterwards closes the pores and is stimulating to most people.

Q.—How can paste be made to hang wall paper?—N. A. S.

A.—The bureau of standards says that paper hanger's paste may be prepared as follows: To one quart of water add one tablespoonful of powdered alum. Sift flour into the water, stirring continuously, until it has the consistency of dough. Pour in boiling water until the paste turns. Dilute to the desired consistency. A little creosote or carbolic acid will prevent decomposition.

"Never the Two Shall Meet?"

WHILE eddies of a great political campaign and local struggles toward escape from a prolonged economic depression hold the foreground in the political and social arena, there are nevertheless being shaped in the background international and universal policies of profound significance. Social movements and composite thinking bearing heavily on humanity's future course are in the making beneath the turbulent surface of daily affairs.

Two factors of great importance in the certain evolution of a world-civilization are the fight for peaceable handling of international differences, and the rapidly changing attitude of the West toward the Far East in the matter of religion.

With reference to efforts to outlaw war and to accomplish disarmament, there is far-flung contempt and skepticism. Disbelievers credit the League of Nations, the Geneva conferences, and allied agencies for peace with nothing more than a poor effort to draw up "Marquis of Queensbury" rules for international fighting. But such an attitude ignores the one avenue by which all great movements affecting the race have been brought about—sustained public thought toward a desired goal. Such a force is as resistless as the tide. There is required but enlightened and courageous leadership in each generation to keep the wheels turning. So long as conferences like that now being held at Geneva are continued; so long as the League of Nations reports—such as the Lytton report on "Manchukuo"—are respected, world peace becomes constantly more probable.

Changes in the attitude of western Christendom toward the East are coming also from the growing capacity of individuals and groups to think in world-terms. After two years of study the appraisal commission of the Laymen's Foreign Missionary Inquiry—created by Protestant churches—now is reporting that Christianity must forget its western history, must realize that "its task now is not to argue with native eastern religions, but with materialism, secularism, and naturalism."

Pointing out that Christianity has become more a positive religion, and less negative; a religion of beneficence rather than of fear, the commission describes the new conception of this religion in the Far East:

"It has passed through and beyond the stage of bitter conflict with the scientific consciousness of the race over details of the mode of creation, the age of the earth, the descent of man, miracle and law, to the stage of maturity in which a free religion and a free science become inseparable and complementary elements in a complete world-view.

"Whatever its present conception of the future life, there is little disposition to believe that sincere and aspiring seekers after God in other religions are to be damned: It has become less congerned in any land to save men from eternal punishment than from the danger of losing the supreme good."

That the nations of the world have been made a small neighborhood in a physical sense by modern methods of communication and travel is not questioned. Examination of processes now shaping behind the screen of daily events make it equally apparent that human relationships also are moving steadily toward a world-wide standard.

Solving That Liquor Problem

IT BEGINS to look like a safe bet that something more or less drastic is about to be done to the national prohibition law.

The incoming administration rode to power on a platform which flatly demanded repeal. Surveys show an overwhelming wet majority in the new house, and indicate a strong preponderance of wet sentiment in the new senate. Nine more states have discarded their own enforcement acts.

The question at issue, then, seems to be, not whether revision is to be made, but what sort of revision we are going to get.

And as the time for such revision approaches there is danger that the nation as a whole will overlook two things:

First, that the 18th amendment was passed largely because certain very real abuses which cried to heaven for correction existed under the old license system.

Second, that the revival of wet sentiment has come about chiefly because of equally real abuses, also crying for correction, arose under national prohibition.

It is of the profoundest importance that whatever solution is reached be of a kind that will apply some corrective to both classes of abuses.

No one who lived through the old, pre-prohibition days needs to be told of the shameless greed of the liquor interests in those days was a force that worked directly against the public interest.

Nor does any one who can remember what has happened since 1920 need to be told that the bootlegging industry created an utterly intolerable situation.

Any change that fails to take both of these factors into full consideration will not last. The job of revision demands the utmost in the way of intelligence and fair-minded concern for the welfare of the nation.

Learning Our Lesson

DURING the first 10 months of 1932, approximately 23,000 Americans were killed by automobiles. This indicates a probable fatality list for the entire year of about 29,000, which will be nearly 15 per cent below the total for 1931.

Much of the reduction, of course, is due to the simple fact that there are fewer automobiles on the highways this year than last. But an analysis of the figures made by the Travelers Insurance Co. shows that the fatalities decreased even more than did car registrations or gasoline consumption; and to a certain extent, at least, we are justified in assuming that the long years of safety campaigning are beginning to bear fruit.

Having rejoiced over that, however, we can only admit that the toll is still shockingly high. We may be beginning to get some rudimentary ideas of safety on the highways, but we still have a long way to go.

SO THEY SAY!

He who calls himself a 100 per cent Briton, or a 100 per cent Frenchman, or a 100 per cent American, is today likely to be the most dangerous and the most effective enemy that his countrymen can have. —Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university.

A Columnist's Sec'y Jots Down a Few Notes

Dear W. W.: Marie Dressler will b'cast with Rudy Thurs. She's at the Savoy Plaza....The rumor that Jimmy Walker would inherit Will Hays' czar job in the movies is best stifled with these facts—The two big gents in the business, Mayer in California, and Lasker here, are both Republicans. The organization is not, as believed, a political one, and anyway, Hays has a 5-year contract which cannot be broken....Clarence Darrow will make his last grand public gesture by defending Robert Burns, author of "I'm a Fugitive".....Burns, as you know, still is in hiding. Darrow will demand a full pardon, and the event probably will be another "Scopes Trial," all of which certainly will help the cinema by the name, according to local movie men "in on the know"....The announcement, it appears, will be made following the premiere of the flicker in Atlanta....Ted Weems called. He says the trouble with radio is that too many of the comedians have a one-crack mind.

The George (Life) Egglestons were babied last week. When the pappy looked at the baby, it was very red. He said: "It's a boil!" ...The nurse said: "No, it's a goil!" ...Okay, let it go, let it go....That big painting in the Canadian Nat'l Railways window on 5th Ave is all wrong. It shows a golfer about to drive from a tee, and the tee points right at the porches of the clubhouse! Tee-hee!....The Dancers club in West 54th should draw their blinds now and then....I heard one of the craft described as "a dried dish rag that hadn't been wrung out!"....They've revived that very funny bit in the newsreels about the heroic dogs, winding up with a sissy telling how his pet won a medal. It's immensely comical....Judge, as a monthly mag, is now out of the red....Have you ever noticed on special delivery stamps how the postoffice dep't misrepresents itself? A postman is seen delivering a letter by motorcycle! Hisses!

You said that John D. Rockefeller recently installed heat in his mausoleum....Did you know that Clarence Mackay had electric lights installed in his at Greenwood cemetery years ago? ...What a pastime that must be....Phil Green is the second richest man in the Lambs club. But Bywich Wiman, the producer, never heard of him. The other day Wiman passed Green in the club and was impressed by his manner. So Wiman asked some one there to have Mr. Green see him about playing Capone in a new show'....Tammany should toss an orchid at Edward J. Ahearn, leader of the 24th Election Dist's here. The vote there was Roosevelt 725, Hoover 1, Thomas 1, Lehman 723, Donovan 1, Medalie 1....O'Brien 720 Pounds, 1, Hillquit 7....The Republican nominee for sheriff, senator and congressman received no votes at all!....What a record that is!....I see by the gazettes that McKee may receive an important U. S. job....Could it be director of the budget, which you recently said would be McKee's reward?

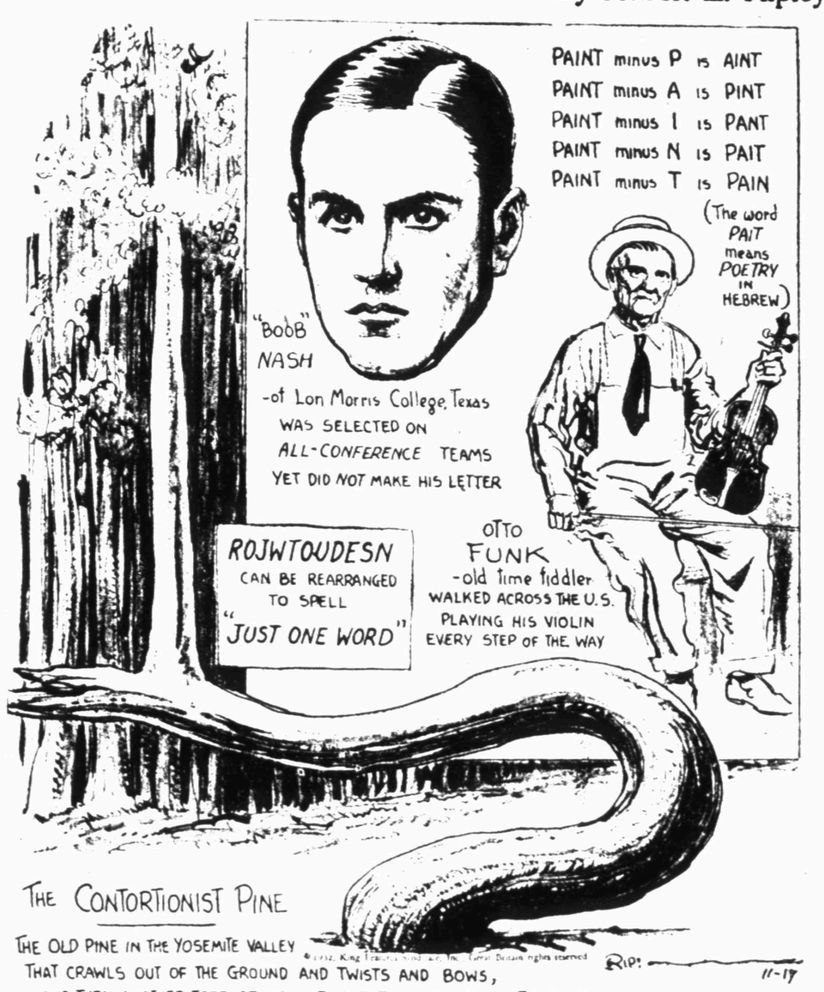

Josefsberg called. He said some people voted Republican but most people voted sensibly....Personally, I feel veddy, veddy soddy for Herbert. He has to take the slaps for his party and the bums in it. He's a human being, and his heart must have cracked when he saw the returns come in as they did....Of course, if one were to sympathize with his plight there would be some one to remind that he now knows how Smith felt 4 years ago when Hoover clicked....Then when I see the photos of the Roosevelts beaming, I can't help thinking that Hoover is the one who ought to laugh. His worries now are at an end. No more cares, no more heavy problems to unravel....Roosevelt will now begin to get wrinkles and worries....Oh, I know it is an honor to be president, but name me two of them who lived to a ripe old age....Guinan phoned to say that she has a suspicion that many a politician who hears his country calling is a ventriloquist.

Say! Wanna give a break to a coupla Indians who have written a song?....It's named "Waterfalls," plenty pretty, too. Words by Art Wakolee, and music by Gladys Carmen Wakolee. The family publish it at Irving, N. Y. Clem McCarthy is now with the N. Y. Press. ...I hear that everybody connected with "Music in the Air" sings except "Blumey." Which is just as well....Atkinson of the Times reported that the real bear in that show is a fake....He's still trying to live down his report (of a Ziegfeld show) that the papiermache elephants in it were real....Don't let him, honey, don't let him!... Ruth Fallows wishes you would help stifle the report about town that she has been engaged to play in "The Barrister," since "Rendezvous" folded suddenly....She wants it known that she is at liberty, altho' there are three companies after her—namely, Telephone, Gas and Electric....Those congratulatory messages used by Postal Telegraph customers were designed by Katherine Bleecker Meigs, local social registerite....They are called "Orchidgrams."

The Friars went stupid the other day. They sent out a call to members to go in a bunch to a funeral, which was held on a Sunday.... The cards were mailed the day before Saturday, at 6:30 p. m. and received on Monday!...Francis X. Bushman called. Said he played at that "break-in" house for that coin just to try out his new act. He says he still gets $1,000 weekly.... Lina Basquette at the Palace is doing a refreshing turn. Lovely dancer....The Lubitsch picture at the Rivoli is plenty swelegant....Jeff Mashamer suggests that those shows that close while playing tryouts should call those burgs "tryout"...That's teddibly good. A Cleveland headline read: "Roosevelt to Win U. S. and Ohio"...Huh—the out-of-towners always claimed that New York was the place that always felt it was bigger than the nation....F. P. A., who has twitted the best, the mediocre and the worst writers for using wretched grammar, was pounced on this week for doing what a high school student wudent. The Nyorker started it. Even a high school student knows that a relative pronoun agrees with its antecedent in number....I suggest F. P. A. did it for publicity.

Cunnel Stoopnagle and Budd, my pet radio clowns, have several new inventions. One is a pair of permanently wrinkled pants to hang in your closet so that the rest of your clothes, if any, look neat.... They also have invented a red piano without keys—for people who would rather play a violin....And a pink piano without keys for those who prefer a zither....Better, however, is their watering can without holes —for people who don't like to water flowers....A can without 25 holes is for not watering geraniums, and a can without 50 holes is for not watering hollyhocks!...And that, Mr. W., winds up my routine until tomorrow morning at 11....I now hasten to my hotel suit (room to you!) to take a nap—so that the local dandies can never say that your Girl Friday has more wrinkles in her brow than in her nose.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE INDEFATIGABLE MAYOR—Mr. Waller's family name, which is so prominent in Texas that Waller county is named after it, probably accounts for his success in getting his name on the ballots. Nineteen times he has run for office unsuccessfully, and at the time my cartoon was drawn Waller's name was posted for the 20th time, in this case for office of state representative, with full support and good wishes of his townspeople. Coincidentally, for the last 20 years Mr. Waller has been mayor of Quintana, Texas, a town that does not exist. About 1910 Quintana ceased to function as a trade center, and its entire population of 3,000 moved elsewhere. But, as it still retains its legal status of an incorporated municipality, its last elected mayor is still in office.

FALL GARDEN IS SUCCESS

Sunset Farmer Produces Late Vegetables of Quality

Special to The Record News.

SUNSET, Texas, Nov. 16.—Albert Shoemaker, a farmer residing two miles northwest of Sunset, made good with a fall garden this year. He cultivated peas, beans, onions, turnips, Irish potatoes and other products. His fall crop of beans were of the green pod variety and they made good. He sold a nice quantity of green beans at four and five cents a pound to local dealers and consumers. Only a part of his fall Irish potato crop matured before frost. Mr. Shoemaker picked nice ripe tomatoes from the vines in his garden on the morning of Nov. 8.

Mr. Shoemaker also made a good early garden and potato crop. He made 100 bushels of sweet potatoes on one acre of ground. Owing to the unattractive market offerings he is feeding his potatoes to his hogs instead of selling them.

Besides the farm, truck farm and garden crops, the Shoemaker family has a small orchard and vineyard, which usually affords more fruit than they need for themselves. Four Alberta peach trees in the orchard produced 25 bushels of first class peaches this year.

For many years the Shoemakers have been milking cows and selling cream. They also give attention to poultry raising every year.

Texas Oil Man's Attorneys Argue Against Massachusetts Tax Levy

BOSTON, Nov. 16. (AP)—A trio of attorneys today presented to the Massachusetts supreme court the reasons why Edgar B. Davis, oil millionaire, formerly of Brockton and now of Luling, Texas, feels he should not pay income tax and interest charges of $439,537 to the state of Massachusetts.

The state assessed Davis $360,930 on his 1926 income and obtained a judgment from a superior court in 1930. Davis, appealing to the supreme court, contended through counsel today that he became a resident of Texas in 1926 and therefore, was not liable to taxation in Massachusetts. The court reserved its decision.

Davis, who gained note as the backer of "The Ladder," one of the most spectacular dramatic failures in Broadway theaterdom, filed an income tax report in 1926 setting forth that he had changed his residence to Texas, it was brought out in the hearing today. In this report, Davis set forth his reasons for moving to Texas as a token of his "deep appreciation of my debt, first to God and next to the great state of Texas."

Davis maintained that divine guidance brought about the striking of oil on lands he controlled in Texas, netting him a profit of $6,000,000 and saving him from ruin.

The commonwealth contended that inasmuch as Davis maintained a residence in Brockton in 1926, he was liable to the assessment.

LONE STAR GAS PROPERTY NEW

Engineer Says System Is 92.8 Per Cent New

FORT WORTH, Nov. 16. (AP)—The finding of P. McDonald Biddison, Dallas, consulting natural gas and petroleum engineer, that the physical properties of the Lone Star Gas company are in 92.8 per cent of new condition was submitted Wednesday as an exhibit before Texas Railroad commission examiners in their investigation of the utility's gate rates.

Biddison, who is the company's eighth witness since the hearing opened here Nov. 1, testified that he had used a reproduction-cost-new estimate prepared by E. A. Steinberger, Dallas, chief valuation engineer of the Lone Star, in arriving at his estimate of the present fair value of the company's physical properties.

Steinberger's estimate of what it would cost to reproduce the physical properties new is $60,228,623. That figure was included in Steinberger's testmony nearly two weeks ago, using the $60,228,623 as the reproduction-cost-new estimate, Biddison arrived at $55,890,268 as the present fair value of the physical units.

That total value he attributed in his exhibit to the physical property also includes the undistributed overhead cost such as legal engineering and administrative expense, taxes and interest during construction, but does not include going concern value, cash working capital, preliminary and organization costs and other such items. Biddison began his testimony late Tuesday afternoon. His report was introduced in evidence Wednesday morning.

It shows the following percentages of condition in which general classifications of property were found and the present fair value:

Production system, 99.6 per cent condition, present fair value of $10,036,986; gathering system property, 85.7 per cent, $1,493,405; transmission system property, 92.8 per cent, $37,206,295; compressor station property, 87.1 per cent, $5,275,655; general system property, 83.4 per cent $1,878,961.

Laten Stanberry, director of the gas utilities division of the railroad commission, was too ill Wednesday to attend the hearing. He had a throat ailment.

Olin Culberson, chief examiner for the commission, is presiding. None of the railroad commissioners is here at present.

INJURY KNOCKS STAR T. C. U. END OUT OF RICE CONTEST

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED THOMPSON

The Undefeated Teams

There are only three high school teams in the state with undefeated and untied records in both conference and nonconference games—Amarillo, Masonic Home and Sweetwater.

Corsicana, now the big gun in district 11 since Waco has been tied twice, has one tie to its credit and although the outfit probably will come out with the district crown, it is not attracting half so much attention as a state title contender as it did earlier in the season.

Most seasoned observers, in fact, believe the Corsicana team will fade out of the picture ere long. This view is taken by Prexy Anderson, sports sage of Abilene, who writes:

"It was thought for some time that Corsicana was a standout among the A teams of the whole state, but Corsicana is only following its usual course. Johnny Pierce's Tigers reached their peak early in October instead of waiting until mid-December to do so. That was the history of the team in 1930 and again of the team in 1931—teams that went out in the state semi-finals, after appearing to be on their way to championships for sure."

Sweetwater ranks as the favorite to take the San Angelo Kittens on Thanksgiving day in the deciding game of district five. In district one, Amarillo is the favorite, but by a meager morsel, to defeat the powerful Lubbock Westerners and cop that district's championship. If this dope runs true to form, then Sweetwater is a cinch to win its bi-district with the El Paso circuit's winner, Amarillo would be a favorite to beat the Oil Belt winner in its bidistrict, and also a favorite to blast Sweetwater from the picture and remain as West Texas' representative in the state race. Its East Texas opponent probably would be Masonic Home of Fort Worth.

The Amarillo boys may not have such luck as the above dope indicates. But there are plenty of men and boys in Wichita Falls who not only believe the Sandies will clean up West Texas, but that they will polish off the East Texas opposition, whether it be the Masons, John Reagan of Houston, Corsicana, or just anybody.

The loudest in praise of the Amarillo bruisers are the Coyotes. Some members of the team who ought to know rate Enochs of Amarillo a better all-around player than Scott McCall of the Masons. That's hard for an innocent bystander to believe, but the Coyotes who hold this belief base it on firm foundations—they saw McCall play here last year, and they played against Enochs last Friday.

The boys figure the Amarillo team better than the Masons, however, for another, and perhaps a more important reason. Amarillo has a wealth of reserve material, while the Masons, drawing from a limited student body, have very few substitutes able to carry on as well as the regulars. Take McCall out of there, for instance, and the team would be seriously handicapped; perhaps, indeed, its whole offense against first rate opposition would be shattered.

Another Reason Why

The Freshmen and Sophomore class football teams of Wichita Falls Junior college played a good football game on the college field Tuesday afternoon. Among the stars of the Freshman team were such ex-Coyote players as Johnny White, fullback, J. R. Holton, halfback, and Bob Souther, a guard. On the Sophomore team were Lester Daniel, big tackle; and Danny Cox, backfielder for the Coyotes in 1928, 1929 and 1930.

Now not a one of those boys, we'll wager, is very much over 19 years of age. Some of them are about 18. In other words, these husky fellows compare very favorably with the mastodons of such high school teams as Amarillo, Waco, Abilene, San Angelo, Sweetwater, and other first rate teams whose players, though 18 or 19 years of age, are still in high school. Our players, however, by the time they reach the age when they are developing into fine football material, are not only graduates of high school, but are freshmen and sophomores in college.

This condition also prevails in several other class A schools of this district.

The moral is, apparently, that the boys are simply too anxious to start to school when they're about four or five years old.

We've got only one player on the Coyote squad who is 19 years old or better. He's Charlie Rice, the big center. If we had a way knowing, when a kid is 5 or 6 years old, that he would develop into a triple threat backfielder, we could delay his entrance in school so that he would be about 18 or 19 when he graduated from high school. Perhaps the scientists can do something about it; they usually have a solution for everything.

The Chillicothe Game

The Chillicothe Eagles and the Burkburnett Bulldogs fight it out tomorrow at Chillicothe. The winner will land the third place position in the district standings, below Olney and Crowell. We will not get to see the game, and our inability to attend is one of the Rambler's disappointments of the season. For we wanted to see those Burk Bulldogs in action. We've seen the other three play at least once. Chillicothe we've seen twice. But this writer did not get a look-see at Burkburnett this whole season on account of various conflicts and we realize we have missed a grand show.

Third place may not sound like such a prize to be battling for but it so happens that position is one of much honor and prestige in this year's class B district No. 4. There are very few percentage points difference between Olney, Crowell, Chillicothe and Burkburnett, the loop's leaders, and the third rung of the ladder carries much weight and importance. In fact a team able to maintain a third place rating in this year's strong district could have won the district flag with ease not so many years back.

The game will be a toss-up of the first order, according to the comparative showings of the two teams against Olney. Chillicothe's scoreless tie with the Cubs might give the Eagles a slight edge but we seriously doubt it.

X-Ray Reveals Broken Bone in Player's Leg

FORT WORTH, Nov. 16. (AP)—On the eve of their departure for their game with the Rice Owls Saturday at Houston the Texas Christian university Horned Frogs today learned that one of their regular ends would be lost for the remainder of the conference season. An X-ray of Dan Salkeld's injured leg showed a broken bone and his only hope of being able to return to action will be in a postseason game if one is played by T. C. U.

Coaches Schmidt and Wolf will leave tomorrow night with 27 Horned Frogs for Houston. They will take a final workout there in the afternoon.

AGGIES LEARN NEW PLAYS

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Nov. 16. (AP)—The Texas A. & M. Farmers will present an entirely new offense with old players in new roles in the Thanksgiving day game against the University of Texas Longhorns, Coach Madison Bell said today. His squadmen are spending long hours behind locked gates learning the new plays.

Welded into the new alignment will be a number of players who have been on the injured list, including Capt. Jimmy Aston and "Pete" Hewitt, letter men, in the backfield. Ray Murray and "Bear" Wright, ends, will be in condition to play, as will "Peck" Merka, scrapping sophomore tackle. Only three men now are on the injury list.

LONGHORNS LEAVE FOR FAYETTEVILLE

AUSTIN, Nov. 16. (AP)—Leaving two regulars at home to languish with injuries, Coach Clyde Littlefield and 26 members of his University of Texas Longhorns left here this afternoon for Fayetteville, where they are to meet the Arkansas Porkers Friday.

Hank Clewis, regular quarterback and Herschel Moody, regular tackle, were left behind. Clewis is suffering with an internal injury. Moody is out with a hip injury.

Charley Bankhead or Ronald Fagan will start at quarterback in Clewis' place, while Arthur Neibuhr will likely start at tackle in Moody's place.

Coach Clyde Littlefield stated he expected a hard game from the Razorbacks and had warned his charges against over-confidence.

THREE PONY PLAYERS HURT

DALLAS, Nov. 16. (AP)—Coach Ray Morrison began today putting his Southern Methodist Mustangs into condition for their game with Baylor university at Waco, Saturday. Three players, were definitely out of lineup and two others were doubtful as starters.

It was learned today that Bert Baxter, suffering with an injured knee, would be unable to play against the Bears. Baxter was injured in the contest with the University of Arkansas last week.

Glenn Larrimore, sophomore guard, and Goodwin Bray, sophomore tackle, also will be out this week, Larrimore nursing a bad ankle and Bray suffering from a pair of fractured ribs.

Captain Howard Sprague and Whitey Baccus were in uniform today but it was doubtful if either would see much service Saturday because Baccus still was crippled from bruises and Sprague was ill with a stomach ailment.

Triple Tie In Golf Tourney

PINEHURST, N. C., Nov. 16. (AP)—A couple of veterans of golf's money campaigns, Al Watrous, Detroit, and Al Houghton, Washington, and a 23-year-old youngster, Henry Picard, Charleston, S. C., wound up in a triple tie for first place in the mid-South open golf tournament today.

Each shot a 143 for the 36 holes, but the two veterans played steady golf for their scores while Picard romped over the course in 68 this morning and faded to a 75 in the afternoon. Watrous put together rounds of 72 and 71 and Houghton did likewise, although he got his 71 in the morning and took a 72 this afternoon.

The three leaders split the prize money for the first three places, getting $250 each, and decided they would not play off for the title.

As a result of finishing in a tie for the top today, Watrous became the big money winner for the two days of campaigning over the difficult No. 2 course here.

Yesterday he teamed with Tommy Armour, Detroit, to win the best ball preliminary which gave the winning team $500.

Five players finished a stroke back of the three leaders and drew down $20 each. They were Errie Ball, Atlanta; Phil Perkins, Long Beach, N. Y.; Henry Cluci, Flushing, N. Y.; Abe Espinosa, Chicago, and Denny Shute, Columbus, Ohio.

Walter Hagen, the Detroit veteran, and four others finished with 145's. Bracketed with Hagen in this group were Whiffy Cox, Brooklyn; Johnny Farrell, Mamaroneck, N. Y.; Willie MacFarlane, Tuckahoe, N. Y., and Charlie Rice, Chicago.

Postponed Vernon Junior Grid Game Booked Today

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Nov. 16.—In their final game of the 1932 season, Vernon's Marines will tangle with the Electra High school "B" team Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the City park here. The game was originally scheduled for last Tuesday but was postponed because of inclement weather.

The Marines, third string high school organization here, will enter their last game of the season as outstanding favorites to win. They trounced the Electrans, 22-0, at Electra in the first game between these two teams recently, and also boast a 19-0 victory over Acme High school and a 13-0 win over Victory Consolidated High school of near Davidson, Okla. The only loss suffered by the Marines to date this season was a 7-0 setback at Acme early in the season.

Reagan And Zundy Clash Today At Stadium In City Junior Title Tilt

The Reagan Junior High school Redbirds, defending champions, and the Zundelowitz Junior High school eleven battle at Coyote stadium this afternoon for the city junior weight football championship. The game will start promptly at 3 o'clock. Admission prices were announced as 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

The game will mark the annual renewal of grid competition between the two schools, who each year book a number of games with other teams mainly to prepare for the big bout with each other. The battles always have been thrilling and this year's game is due to be no exception.

Both Coach A. D. Beck of Reagan and Mentor Roy Golden of Zundy were forced to start from scratch this season in the building of their teams, which lost many stars at the last graduation exercises. Although injuries and scholastic ineligibilities have riddled the ranks of both teams this season, today's battle promises to be a close one.

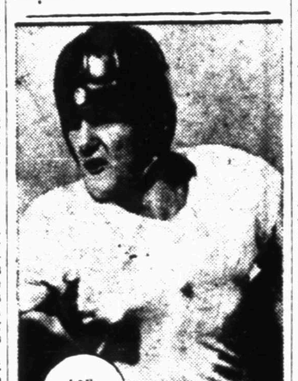

The teams use practically the same method of attack, relying on speed and deception, with the backs lined up in the Warner formation, sometimes shifting to the short punt lineup. Each team is captained by its quarterback, Stephens leading the Zundymen while John Davis pilots the Redbirds.

The probable starting lineups follow:

ZUNDELOWITZ		REAGAN
Warren	L.E.	R.E. McAbee
Cohen	L.T.	R.T. Peevey
Porterfield	L.G.	R.G. Fain
Whitlow	C.	Kennedy
Swain	R.G.	L.G. McMillan
Morgan	R.T.	L.T. Woodley
Cox	R.E.	L.E. Corbell
Stephens (c)	Q.B.	(c) Davis
Hill	L.H.	R.H. Smith
Rutledge	R.H.	L.H. King
Smith	F.B.	Beeson

Officials: Earl Dayvault (Texas), referee; Bill Ward (Georgia Tech), umpire; Alf Howard (Simmons), linesman.

Speed Boy

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Nov. 16. (AP)—The University of Maryland probably will establish no claim to the national football title this year, but it does lay claim to the fleetest ball carrier in the country.

Earl Widmyer, 155-pound sophomore, was the sprinting sensation of the East and South the past spring, winning 18 straight events before he was beaten by Emmett Toppino by a step in the final eastern Olympic tryouts at Boston.

He did 100 yards in 9 4-5 seconds several times and in practice on a slow track was timed in 10.5 for the 100 meters. Coach Geary Eppley of the track team expects him to run the century in 9 3-5 next spring.

Sturdily built and with plenty of stamina, Widmyer is a shifty runner and a clever pass receiver.

AUBURN FACES ONE MORE TEST

Undefeated Eleven Faces Georgia Saturday

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 16. (UP)—Auburn, one of the nation's six unbeaten, untied major football teams, needs only a victory over Georgia Saturday to bring the Southern conference football title back to the plains of Alabama, where it has been a long time absent.

A small, cohesive, hard-blocking team with all the elusive speed of the Notre Dame system at peak efficiency has put Auburn at the head of the parade after many years as a tail-ender.

Auburn's test comes Saturday, for Tennessee and Vanderbilt tied last Saturday to leave Auburn all alone in the title race.

Auburn's team is practically the smallest in Dixie. It must depend on speed, blocking and deception. It has all three.

Capt. Jimmy Hitchcock, the spark plug of the team, is the best performer, a hard, fast runner, loosely built and hard to tackle. He also passes and punts.

Ripper Williams runs the team from quarterback. He is a good blocker and like the incomparable Dodd of Tennessee, serves as a coach while the team is on the field.

Firpo Phipps and Truck Talley have weight and speed and rank with Hitchcock at ground gaining.

"A good deal of progress has been made since the start of the season," says Coach Wynne. "The boys now have more poise and are smarter. We have a good team but are worried about Georgia."

Auburn started out by smothering Birmingham Southern, 61-0. The Tiger clawed Erskine, 77-0; turned back a tough Duke team, 18-7; showed that it had versatility by defeating Tech in the rain, 6-0; ended Tulane's three-year rule in the South with a 19-7 victory; relaxed against Mississippi but made a grand last minute stand to win, 14-7; took Howard easily, 25-0, and had little trouble with Florida, 21-7.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 16. (UP)—Appointment of H. H. Wilson as superintendent of the state tubercular hospital at Clinton by Gov. W. H. Murray was announced today by Health Commissioner G. N. Bilby, effective at once.

Wilson succeeds C. Boler. Bilby refused to comment on the change.

Rail Executives and Labor Leaders to Confer

NEW YORK, Nov. 16. (UP)—Representatives of the 21 railway brotherhoods met in a secret session at a hotel today to discuss a scheduled meeting tomorrow with railroad executives at which they plan to call attention to alleged violation of the wage agreement signed at Chicago last January.

The conference included 50 members of the Railroad Labor executive association. They contend the Railway Executive association has not lived up to terms of the agreement under which employes accepted a 170 per cent cut for one year in return for a promise to put more men to work.

Argentina expects its wheat crop to be 11 per cent greater than last season.

TIGER GAME MOVED UP DAY

Electrans to Battle At Breckenridge Friday

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Nov. 16.—The Electra Tigers have buckled down to hard work in preparation for their practice tilt with the powerful Breckenridge Buckaroos in Breckenridge Friday afternoon. The game was formerly scheduled for Saturday but the date was moved to Friday to enable the local squad more time in which the prepare for their last conference tilt with Vernon Thanksgiving.

The Tigers came out of the Childress scrap in good condition with the exception of a few minor ailments, Watkins, O. Stroud, and Foy have been hampered this week by jerked muscles, but will be in condition for the Vernon tilt. The Breckenridge game will be nothing short of a practice game, and it is expected that the Tigers will come out at the short end of the contest. The Buckaroos have one of the strongest teams in the Oil Best area and the game probably would not have been played except for the fact that it is a return match from last season.

The practice this week has consisted of passing, receiving punts, and brushing up the weak spots in the Tiger backfield. The Tiger punters, Lambdin, Curfman and Smith have been given their share of the workouts with the ends and backfield men drilling in going down under the punts.

The linemen have held light work outs.

The substitutes will likely see plenty of action in the game as Coach W. W. Gibson is anticipating the Vernon game. The Tigers always play their best games with the Wichita Falls Coyotes and the Vernon Lions. The Tigers are the underdogs in the Vernon game, but the Lions will have a tough battle on their hands.

Coyotes Go Through Final Hard Grind Preceding Invasion Of Stripling Hi

According to the places they occupy in their respective district standings, a third-rate club will play a fifth-rate club here Friday when the Wichita Falls Coyotes meet the W. C. Stripling boys of Fort Worth.

But the position in the standing is not always a true index to a team's merit. The Coyotes did not look so hot in their conference games but even the most discriminating critic would hardly call Ted Jefferies' gang a third-rate club in its present stage of development. The same may be said of Stripling, and even emphasized a little more, for a fifth place club in the strong Fort Worth district is apt to be quite a football team.

Like Wichita Falls, Stripling has completed its district schedule. It lost to all the big boys, Masonic Home, Central, North Side and Poly and defeated Mineral Wells and Weatherford, the weak sisters. Wichita Falls has lost to the principal district five opposition, Vernon and Quanah, and defeated the weaker Electra and Childress teams.

Boss Jefferies yesterday sent his Coyotes through the last hard drill preceding the Stripling invasion and announced everything was in readiness for the game. An unexpected casualty developed when Preston Thompson was forced to undergo a minor operation on a leg wound that became infected. Thompson will not play against Stripling, it was announced, but he perhaps will be in shape for the Abilene debacle here Turkey day.

EAGLES GROOM FOR BULLDOGS

Chillicothe Plans Bitter Scrap Against Burk

Special to The Record News.

CHILLICOTHE, Texas, Nov. 16.—After a week of idleness, the Chillicothe Eagles have begun a week of strenuous practice in preparation for the game with the Burkburnett Bulldogs, to be played on the local gridiron Friday afternoon.

The team is in high spirits for Friday's tilt, feeling they are capable of giving the Bulldogs a hot fight. Fans are assured of a much better game than that demonstrated at Crowell Nov. 4, as the local team has had a week of idleness in which to recuperate from any defects received from either the Olney or Crowell affairs. New ideas have also been taken up and will be practiced on before the game Friday.

At present there seems to be a doubt whether the same lineup will enter against Burk, as in former games. This is not a positive fact, however, and fans may be assured there will be the same old fighting eleven on the field. The game with Burkburnett concludes Chillicothe's conference schedule for 1932. However, on Nov. 24, Thanksgiving day, it is stated the Eagles will go to Graham for a practice game. After that, the local lads will be at ease for the remainder of the season.

Archer Forfeits Crowell Game

Special to The Record News.

CROWELL, Texas, Nov. 16.—The Archer City Wildcats today forfeited their game with the Crowell eleven, scheduled to have been played here Friday, according to an announcement by Coach Grady Graves. It was to have been a conference game.

The forfeit was decided upon by Archer City officials on account of the physical condition of the Archer City squad, it was said.

Crowell officials indicated no game would be booked in its place. Crowell plays Matador, strong class B team, Thanksgiving day. The Archer City forfeit completed Crowell's conference schedule.

Thumb-to-Nose Gesture Gets Defendant 180 Days

PASADENA, Calif., Nov. 16. (UP)—Albert Kirker wished today the judge hadn't asked him that last question.

Kirker decided to plead his own case when he was arraigned for jury trial on a charge of vagrancy. He thought he had made a pretty good appeal for his acquittal when Judge Kenneth C. Newell asked him if that was all. The defendant flushed.

"All but this," he muttered angrily. He placed his thumb to his nose and waved his fingers.

Judge Kirker decided that gesture was worth 180 days in jail.

MATADORS AIM FOR LOBO GAME

Tech Warriors Play New Mexicans Saturday

Special to The Record News.

LUBBOCK, Texas, Nov. 16.—The Texas Tech Matadors are starting down the home stretch of the greatest season in the school's history as they work out for the game with the New Mexico Loboes at Albuquerque next Saturday, Nov. 19. This is a Border States Athletic conference game. Tech is not supposed in the coming fray to lose any of her standing of 1.000 per cent, although the New Mexicans are preparing to put up a strong fight.

The Loboes went down before the Matadors last year on the Tech field 32 to 7.

The game with Simmons university at Lubbock on Nov. 24 will wind up the season for the Matadors. There is a good deal of unofficial talk regarding a postseason game with some of the outstanding teams of the Southwestern conference, and fans in West Texas are exceedingly anxious to see the scarlet clad warriors, who have already piled up a total of 331 points against their opponents, pitted against the country's best ball toters.

Woodring Concedes Defeat In Kansas Election

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 16. (AP)—Conceding victory to Alfred M. Landon, Gov. Harry H. Woodring today sent "sincere and hearty good wishes" to his Republican opponent in the close governorship contest.

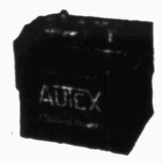

At the time the Democratic chief executive made public his congratulatory telegram, The Associated Press tabulation, unofficial but complete except for a few thousand mail ballots cast in the election eight days ago, gave Landon a 4,547-vote plurality. Dr. John R. Brinkley, independent, was trailing in third place with approximately 30,000 fewer votes than Woodring received.

Park Springs Woman Honored With Party On 81st Birthday

Special to The Record News.

SUNSET, Texas, Nov. 16.—Mrs. Lizzie Mitchum, a pioneer resident of the Park Springs vicinity, recently observed her 81st birthday, and on the occasion received a surprise shower of many useful gifts from a large number of friends. Many of these gifts were sent from distant points in Texas and from other states by relatives and friends who were unable to be present on her birthday.

At the appointed hour, 28 guests were invited into the dining room, where a flower-decorated table held a large white cake, on which 81 pink candles had been carefully placed. After Mrs. Mitchum had expressed her thankfulness for the many gifts and the friends who had remembered to send them at this time, the cake was cut and divided among the attendants. The birthday observance was at the home of Mrs. Edna Martin.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Nov. 16. (AP)—Trading in cotton was quiet today and the undertone was fairly steady. Reactions from an opening advance were followed by rallies at the close. December after selling off from 6.36 to 6.24 closed at 6.30, compared with 6.27 on Tuesday, the general market closing at net advances of 3 to 6 points.

A feature of trading was the increased evening-up of December contracts. Some liquidation of that position was absorbed by trade buying, presumably to fix prices, while there was considerable switching from December to later positions, without much change in differences between months.

Some thought the continent might be holding off for the development of international debt negotiations. Liverpool cables said light offerings in that market had been absorbed by trade and Bombay buying and reported an improving business in cotton goods at Manchester with a good far eastern inquiry.

Futures closed very steady, 3-6 higher. Spot quiet; midling 6.40.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 16. (AP)—Cotton was a dull and featureless affair today, fluctuating narrowly without definite trend and showing a spurt of activity only in the last half-hour when some buying developed. The close was at net gains of 1 to 3 points.

The market opened steady as Liverpool cables came in 3 to 4 penny points better than due. December closed at 6.28, up 1 point net for the day and March closed at 6.45, up 3 points net.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow unchanged to 1 penny point down.

Port receipts, 44,307; for week, 243,274; for season, 3,996,442; last season, 4,431,630. Exports, 59,624; for week, 139,694; for season, 2,165,630; last season, 2,270,883. Liverpool Cotton

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 16. (INS)—There was a better demand for spot cotton at the opening today with prices steady. Receipts totaled 7,000 bales, including 6,600 American bales.

At midday, middling fair was quoted at 6.69d, strictly good middling 6.42d, good middling 5.99d, strictly middling 5.74d, middling 5.54d, strictly low middling 5.39d, low middling 5.24d, strictly good ordinary 5.04d, and good ordinary 4.74d.

Futures opened steady, with Jan. at 5.24d, March 5.27d, May 5.29d, and July 5.31d.

CHICAGO COTTON

CHICAGO, Nov. 16. (AP)—An early bulge in cotton today was more than lost at the close, which was strong but four points net lower to one point net higher. The opening was 3 to 11 points higher on cables that were five penny points better than due. Prices yielded gradually under scattered and lower grain markets, exerted a depressing influence. Rain covered the central area and South Texas. Coldest temperatures of the season to date occurred in Oklahoma, Texas and other cotton states. Forecast is clear and warmer in the West, colder in central areas, and rain and colder in the East.

Market Drops Back Into Sluggish Trend As Prices Lose 1-3 Points

By JOHN L. COOLEY

NEW YORK, Nov. 16. (AP)—The stock market found buying thinner today and prices resumed their sluggish decline, leaders losing generally from 1 to 3 points in a turnover of less than a million shares.

With the line of least resistance downward, professional traders, in whose hands the market appeared to be resting, exhibited little interest in the day's developments. Perplexity as to the debt question, which President Hoover was discussing with important administration figures, and further evidence of seasonal easiness in trade doubtless contributed to the attitude of speculative aloofness which the share market reflected.

U. S. government bonds provided a bright spot in the investment market, selling higher on reports presumably, that there was to be no immediate change in the open market reserve policy by which the system is maintaining a portfolio of around $1,850,000,000 in federal securities. Wheat and corn closed steadily, while cotton was able to show some net appreciation.

American Telephone failed to draw inspiration from the expected regular dividend. The stock was heavy prior to the announcement, firmed a little when the decision was given out and then fell back, losing more than three points.

R. H. Mack weakened severely when its directors voted for discontinuance of the 5 per cent annual stock dividend which had been a fixture for five years. The shares had a tumble of 4 points. Rails were soggy on indications that a sizable decline in freight traffic occurred last week, advance evidence thereof being given by New York Central's report. A number of carrier shares, including Central, Union Pacific, Santa Fe, Baltimore and Ohio and Norfolk and Western, sagged 1 to 3.

Industrials seemed to take little comfort in word that steel operations had eased only half a percentage point, or to 19 per cent of rated capacity.

DRY GOODS MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 16. (AP)—Sales of cotton goods continued in moderate volume today with additional interest noted in spring lines.

Mills that sought postponement of rayon yarn deliveries early in the month are now asking for prompt shipments. Requests for heavy wool cloths for immediate cutting continue. Burlaps hold about steady with buying quiet. Silk goods for spring are being widely sampled.

Advice To Investors

By Charles W. Storm—Editor of the "News Service of Wall Street"

D. T.—I am a holder of Pennsylvania R. R. stock. Any recent information will be greatly appreciated by a regular reader of your interesting column.

Answer—Ability of this major trunk line carrier to curtail operating expenses and benefit from the seasonal pickup of traffic was illustrated in the September report of net operating income of $4,519,365, which was 135 per cent above the July low level, although gross revenues increased only about 9 per cent during the period. Expressed differently, reduction of net operating income from 1931 amounted to less than $1,200,000 in the latest month reported, in the face of a corresponding curtailment of gross by over $10,000,000. It is indicated that forthcoming report of nine months' net profit will show around 45 cents per share; total traffic in October was well above the September level, despite the downturn in the latter part of the period, and further improvement of operating results will probably be reported for the 10th month. Net for the full year should equal 70 cents a share. The Pennsylvania has come through the depression thus far with a comfortable financial condition. Debt maturities coming due within a year are in relatively small amount, and the next large single maturity ($60,000,000 of 6½ per cent bonds) is not due until February, 1936. Eventual benefits expected from the road's electrification and improvement program represents a constructive factor from the longer term viewpoint.

FISH HALT TRIAL

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—The trial of Gus Walker, who was charged with burglary, can be held any day but Friday and Saturday. When Walker's case came up for trial it was found that Walker was serving time on the county roads on another charge and the case was to be reset. Saturday is an off day to start a trial, and Jim McK. Long, assistant solicitor, asked that Friday be excluded, because all the witnesses work in the fishhouse, and Friday is their busy day.

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Nov. 16. (AP)—Very light receipts featured the cash grain market here today but they were ample for the slow demand here.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis car loads on track at Fort Worth, freight paid, delivered Texas gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points: Wheat, No. 1 hard, according to protein and billing 53@54c. Barley, No. 2 nominally 32@33c; No. 3 nominally 31@32c. Sorghums: No. 2 milo per 100 pounds 64@66c; No. 2 kaffir 62@64c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 16. (AP)—As an immediate market influence, southern hemisphere reports of better than average crop prospects more than outdid today adverse conditions for United States winter wheat.

Uncertainties connected with the new British preferential tariff militating against wheat shipments by way of United States ports were also a bearish factor. Overseas buying of upwards of 1,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat, however, had a somewhat steadying effect.

Wheat closed unsettled, ⅛@⅜c under yesterday's finish, corn ¼@¼c off, oats unchanged to ⅛c up, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 5c.

Wheat bulls gave stress to reports that drouth regions southwest and west had received little moisture and that with unseasonably cold weather further seeding was impossible. Predictions were current that the United States government report next month would show a larger reduction in domestic winter wheat acreage than private forecasts had pointed to and that low temperatures would be hard on young wheat, especially where the soil was dry or the plants were fly-infested.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—Dec. 44⅛@44⅛c, 45⅛c; May, 49⅛@49⅛c, 50⅛@50⅛c; July, 50⅛c, 51⅛c. Corn—Dec., 26⅛c, 26⅝c; May, 31⅝c, 31⅛@31⅝c.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 16. (AP) (U.S.D.A.)—Fed steers and yearlings, although in limited supply, found a slow outlet at steady to 25c lower prices. Several markets reported the bulk of supply unsold at a late hour. A few better grade fed steers and yearlings sold at $7@8.00 and the majority were of quality to bring around $5@6.50 with a few plainer grades down to $4.00 or slightly below. Stockers and feeders found a steady trade under limited supply. Wichita Students Win Places on U. T. Glee Club

Springer B. Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Williams, and John Flynn, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Flynn, both graduates of Wichita Falls High school, have been selected as members of the University of Texas Men's Glee club, claimed by critics to be the "greatest male chorus in the Southwest."

Last year the glee club made a tour to Monterrey, Mexico, and later to northern Texas. Plans for the coming season's trips have not yet been announced. Both Williams and Flynn were members of the glee club at Wichita Falls High school.

Haskin Issues Booklet On Contract Bridge Containing New Scoring Plan

Acting on its policy of up-to-date service for newspaper readers, the Washington information bureau of The Record News has incorporated into its Contract Bridge booklet the new international contract scoring as agreed upon by the Whist Club of New York, the Portland Club of London, and the Commission Francaise du Bridge of Paris.

The new score chart, as announced Nov. 1, is already a part of the bridge booklet, and ready to be sent out to readers of this newspaper.

In addition to this new information, the Contract Bridge booklet contains valuable information on contract bridge in general, such as ethics and etiquette, how contract differs from auction, bidding and raising, how to study and practice, statistics on the "Battle of the Century" between Lenz and Culbertson, and a section of important questions and answers.

Remember, the booklet includes the international contract score chart, and is offered for a mere cost and handling charge of 10 cents.

Every contract player should have a copy of Contract Bridge.

Federal Relief Checks For $47,683 Distributed To Wichita Area Towns

November Allotments of Funds to Provide Food and Clothing For Needy Residents

More than 100 representatives of 21 West Texas communities received federal relief allotments for the current month totaling $47,683.07 at a meeting Wednesday here. The representatives were from the organized groups which will handle disbursement of the relief funds in the communities.

The meeting was held at the chamber of commerce offices with Manager D. A. Bandeen of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce presiding and assisted by Assistant Manager Maury Hopkins. The meeting here was the first of a series of five held at convenient points in West Texas for community groups to obtain the funds.

The allotments were obtained through applications filed with the regional chamber and presented by President Wilbur C. Hawk of Amarillo and Vice President Walter D. Cline of this city to Gov. Ross Sterling and Robert W. Kelso, federal representative of the Reconstruction Finance corporation at Austin. Governor Sterling requested distribution be handled by the regional officers.

$369,000 Approved

The applications were approved for a total of $369,000 for November and December for 107 communities in the area. Checks distributed this week total more than $180,000 and the remainder of the funds for use in December will be distributed by mail in that month. A series of group meetings similar to the session here Wednesday will be held in December when applications for 1933 needs will be filed.

The check made to "Wichita Falls" was presented to Chairman Jacob B. Price of the municipal charities commission and president of the community chest. Mr. Cline spoke at the meeting here in a discussion of details for community handling of the funds and the importance of posting bonds. A detailed report also must be given a federal inspector in December when further applications are filed.

Communities on List

Communities receiving checks here Wednesday and amounts were Benjamin, $477.80; Bowie, $1,984.30; Burkburnett, $993.38; Cisco and five Eastland county towns, $15,492.05; Crowell, $992.39; Denton, $569.02; Electra, $964.07; Gainesville, $4,033.18; Glen Rose, $363.56; Graham, $733.11; Haskell, $3,218.59; Henrietta, $1,339.08; Iowa Park, $1,113.58; Jacksboro, $623.34; Mineral Wells, $1,563.59; Munday, $212.07; Newcastle, $142.53; Quanah, $2,571.39; Seymour, $396.35; Vernon, $139.06; and Wichita Falls, $9,932.98.

WICHITA VOTE SETS RECORD

Perry Browning Leader Of County Ticket

Casting a total of 10,413 votes in the general election on Nov. 8, Wichita county set a new record for itself, that figure exceeding by almost 2,000 votes the total of 8,482 recorded in 1924 when Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson defeated Dr. George C. Butte for governor.

Tabulation of returns from this county had not yet been completed Wednesday evening at the county clerk's office. A request was sent to Clara Wednesday morning for a report on the votes cast there for precinct and county officers, such returns having been omitted from the election reports sent in formerly by the Clara election officials.

On the count thus far completed, Orville Bullington, Republican candidate for governor, had a majority of 1,300 votes over Mrs. Ferguson, their totals running 5,787 and 4,487 respectively. Sheriff Perry Browning apparently scored the highest total of votes, with 9,789. Runner-up honors appeared Wednesday to have gone to Tom McHam, veteran county treasurer, who received 9,788 votes. Jim Robinson, tax assessor-elect, was in third place with 9,786, and was but seven votes ahead of Julian McFall, county clerk-elect. Judge P. A. Martin and Judge Irvin J. Vogel, elected to benches of the 89th and 78th district courts, respectively, received 9,759 votes each.

Democratic electors received 8,889 votes against 1,479 for the Republican ticket, giving Roosevelt a majority of more than six to one over Hoover.

Tabulation of returns on the remaining county and precinct officers, including the expected returns from Clara, is to be completed Thursday morning.

Hermann to Present Chorus at Shrine Party

Artist models from the studio of Noble Emil Hermann of Wichita Falls will be presented in the best metropolitan revue style at the Maskat temple night club dance Friday as additional entertainment requested by Potentate Sydney A. Gaines. Mr. Hermann is recognized as the impresario of Northwest Texas in presenting such entertainment and his wide selection as a local artist will result in an unusual show of feminine pulchritude.

Additional ladies of the chorus are desired, however, and all applications will be received by Mr. Hermann or J. Paul Montgomery. The party opens at 10 o'clock Friday night and will officially close at 3 o'clock Saturday morning. Seating capacity of the Golden Dragon night club, where the party will be staged is limited to 65 couples.

National Book Week Reveals Many Fine Works To Delight Youngsters

Children are celebrating national book week by the enthusiasm they are showing in the children's books at Kemp library, where Miss Avalon Rines, children's librarian, knows that "children's book illustration is a specialized art and that the picture book is no longer something ephemeral," but, she says, "an object of beauty and delight to the small lover."

Speaking of some of the books that will particularly delight the younger Wichitans, she says:

"One of the most famous contemporary artists of Russia has in 1932 made a picture book of great distinction, using a famous old Arabian story as his text. It is The Lion and the Ox' (Macmillan $1.25). The artist is Vladimir Lebedev. There is perfect 'rapport' in the ancient story and the vigorous, realistic animal portraits. The book will appeal to younger children for its story, to older ones as an art treasure."

The Lion and the Lamb

"Here is another," she says "that has a foreign flavor. The soft blues, reds and purples of the appealing illustrations set it down at once as Swedish. The book is 'Snipp, Snapp, Snurr and the Red Shoes,' by Maj. Lindman and is the story of three little Swedish boys who do something very nice for their mother on her birthday. Four and 5-year-olds will want to hear this story over and over until they can 'read it themselves' by looking at the pictures. In contrast to this, because it is quite American in its flavor, is 'Ask Mr. Bear,' by Marjorie Flack, who has written and illustrated some of the most popular of little children's books the last few years. Yet it is very similar in its theme for the little boy in this story also wants to do something nice for his mother to surprise her on her birthday. The gay little story of how he does it will exactly suit the littlest ones."

PLYMOUTH SIX ON DISPLAY

Chrysler Sets Pace in New Body Design

The new Plymouth six, sensationally announced in the world's first international radio business conference to more than 75,000 Plymouth dealers and their employes by Walter P. Chrysler some days ago, is now on display at the Morgan Motor Co., Inc., 1012 Scott avenue.

Entirely new from bumper to bumper and from top to tires, the new Plymouth Six represents as finely balanced body design as the low priced field has ever offered.

Deep sloping radiator; wide, deep front and rear fenders constructed to conceal the chasis; a similarly-concealed gasoline tank; sloping hood louvres carrying out the lines of windshield and radiator, this new six is styled in the smartest and most modern manner.

According to Mr. Chrysler's statement, four body models at an average decrease of $60 under prices on the four-cylinder line are announced.

DEATHS

BETTY MARIE SKELTON

Funeral services for Betty Marie Skelton, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Skelton, 2609 Buchanan, were held from the home at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The Merkle Undertaking company directed burial in Rosemont. The child died Wednesday morning. The parents and a sister survive.

Electra Man Injured In Auto-Truck Crash

Bob Wallace, 26, of Electra was resting well in the Wichita General hospital Wednesday night from injuries suffered in an automobile-truck collision at the City View grocery at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning. His injuries included a fractured knee cap and painful lacerations about his face and head.

Wallace was taken to the hospital in a Hines ambulance. City Detective F. M. Dowdy investigated. The car in which Wallace was riding smashed into the rear end of a truck, officers said.

KING URGES CIVIC PRIDE

Work for Things to Boast About, He Advises

Members of the Wichita Falls Optimist club Wednesday noon heard an address by Bert King of this city, governor of Optimist International for the Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas district. Mr. King spoke as the personal representative of David W. Onan of Minneapolis, international president, Wednesday having been designated as Optimist International day.

The speaker commended the spirit of genuine optimism which he said has characterized work of the organization from its inception. Such a wholesome attitude of hope, backed by good work, has accomplished much in the way of civic service in every community, he declared.

Boys work has been one of the chief accomplishments of Optimist clubs, Mr. King said, pointing out that such work usually is undertaken in cooperation with existing agencies for that purpose.

Mr. King also outlined the leadership furnished by the club for various civic enterprises.

"As Optimists," he said, "we must each get the habit of optimism about our home town and about our club. We must look for the good things and proclaim our pride in them. If something is not right, we must do our part to make it right, and then include it in the things we boast about. We are proud of this organization which appeals to men of high caliber who adopt optimism as a philosophy of business life."

Readings by Miss Anna Lee Cherry, and a phonograph address by President Onan, completed the program.

Legion Rites To Honor Veteran

Funeral services for Harry A. (Slim) Madison, 40, will be held from the Merkle Undertaking company chapel at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The Rev. Finis Crutchfield, Floral Heights Methodist church pastor, will officate and burial in Rosemont will be in charge of the American Legion post. Mr. Madison was a veteran of the world war and was widely known here. He was active as stage manager for many vaudeville troups showing at local theaters. He died at Arlington, Texas, Tuesday morning.

Pallbearers will be P. S. Tullis Jr., Dewey Shelton, Joe Long, L. R. Abbott, J. B. Day and J. A. Finley.

Survivors are three sisters, Mrs. E. D. Mathis of McAllen, Texas, Mrs. Preston Evans of Brownwood, Texas, and Mrs. Orville Murphy of Shawnee, Okla.

How Do Women in the Movies Manage?

Filming a picture means weeks of work without a pause. The star can't stop because she is "indisposed!" Monthly sickness does not excuse her. If you know some woman who is in pictures, she will tell you how Hollywood women manage on days they menstruate. Try to find even an "extra" girl who doesn't carry Midol with her!

Midol was a marvelous discovery. It isn't harmful. It isn't a narcotic. But it acts in seven minutes—ends all menstrual pain or discomfort for hours at a stretch! Just ask for Midol at any drug store.
