Japanese Delay Reply To U.S. Demands On Panay Sinking

Charge That Boat Was Gunned Is Said 'Serious'

Tokyo Maintains Silence Over Situation; Amends May Not Be Met In Entirety

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Dec. 18. (Saturday)— A foreign office spokesman said today Japan's reply to the United States' note demanding full redress for the sinking of the gunboat Panay would be materially delayed by American charges that Japanese surface craft machine-gunned the Panay after she was bombed.

NEW INVESTIGATION MADE

SHANGHAI, Dec. 18. (Saturday) (AP) A Japanese army and navy spokesman announced today that a new and thorough investigation of Sunday's Japanese warplane attack on American vessels in the Yangtze had been launched.

He said the inquiry resulted from declarations by the United States government and many survivors of the United States gunboat Panay that the vessel was machine-gunned from the air and from the river before she sank.

"This is the most serious type of charge to make," the spokesman declared. "Justice to both sides demands a full investigation, and a thorough inquiry can not be made in a minute."

(The Panay was sunk by Japanese warplanes Sunday in the Yangtze river above Nanking.)

Tokyo Maintains Silence

All sections of the Tokyo government maintained silence concerning official information from Washington on machine-gunning of the Panay. Officials declined to discuss the possibility of stronger American representations on this point.

In spite of the new light on the bombing, high officials insisted they were confident the affair would be settled smoothly. However, it was noted that, as dispatches reported a cooling off of American public sentiment, Tokyo officials were less positive in their assurance that Washington's demands for amends would be met in entirety.

Britain Looking To Her Defense

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Dec. 17.—Great Britain looked to the defense of her Far Eastern possessions tonight as reports indicated Japan's undeclared war against China soon might be extended to the south.

A high diplomatic source predicted an increase in British naval strength in Chinese waters "by early in January" with or without the United States taking parallel action.

Decision Expected Wednesday

A definite decision to reinforce the British China fleet was expected at next Wednesday's cabinet meeting. Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden were convinced, this diplomat said, that France can take care of any developments in the Mediterranean.

Britain was said to have decided action in the Far East was necessary to protect British interests.

Houston Cops Blush As Lawyer Supplies Detective To Help

HOUSTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—Houston's big, red-necked cops had red faces tonight for two reasons.

Reason No. 1: James E. Kilday, attorney who said he represented an anonymous millionaire, today offered to hire a private detective to help them solve $2,000 worth of burglaries and holdups yesterday.

Reason No. 2: The chief tonight accepted the offer.

The private detective is scheduled to begin work tomorrow.

Christmas Darkens For Family When Savings Lost In Gutter

DALLAS, Dec. 17. (AP)—Christmas loomed bleakly tonight for the family of Mrs. C. C. Howell. She said a member of the family dropped a purse containing all their Christmas funds, $200, into a gutter during a downpour and the torrent carried the purse into the storm sewer.

"We had planned a pretty big Christmas," she said, "but I don't guess we'll be able to have it now."

Brindle Cat Is Center Of Court Battle

HUGO, Okla., Dec. 17. (AP)—A house cat of doubtful ancestry dined nonchalantly in the Choctaw county jail today and was released on $50 replevin bond, unconcerned over the battle two families were fighting for his custody.

The cat was placed in jail last night by Sheriff Cap Duncan after Johnny Bennett, bus station manager, made bond seeking to recover possession. He was contested by Mrs. F. O. Deatherage.

Mrs. Deatherage said she had lost the cat and found it this week in the bus station. Bennett turned the feline over to Mrs. Deatherage but Mrs. Bennett, who had become attached to the cat, induced her husband to go to court.

A hearing was set for December 22.

Sheriff Duncan said the cat "looks like just plain brindle cat" and he could not understand why all the trouble started.

Test On Elliott Viscera Reveals More Poison

"Strychnine was found in the viscera of T. J. Elliott. Complete report will follow."

That terse telegram to Bill Mabray, police identifications officer, from J. H. Arnett, chemist and toxicologist of the department of public safety at Austin, Friday afternoon marked advancement of investigation into the 75-year-old man's death in his hovel late Monday.

Testimony Is Heard

A 72nd district grand jury, which reported three bills of indictment to Judge Daniel A. Blair at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, heard testimony of three witnesses incident to Elliott's death but deferred further action pending a more complete report from state chemists, said Burton S. Burks, district attorney.

Mabray and Capt. W. W. Legge of the state highway patrol took the viscera to Austin after the district attorney's department made application to S. E. McMillan, justice of peace, for an order to prevent the body's being sent to Mt. Calm for burial before an autopsy could be conducted here.

None Are Arrested

The three indictments charged a negro with murder, one defendant with drunk driving and another with swindling over $50. None of the suspects had been reported arrested.

A 32-year-old woman, self-described as a paralytic from the waist down, continued to be detained in the hospital ward of county jail, as a material witness in the death of Elliott.

The woman, twice married and the mother of a son, 16, said she had lived in Lubbock "since the

No Trace Is Found Of Alcatraz Escapees

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17. (AP)—The shadow of uncertainty still hovered tonight over Alcatraz island's reputation as an "escape proof" prison but Warden James A. Johnston concluded that the two desperadoes who vanished from it yesterday "escaped" only in death.

Johnston conceded there still was a "possibility" the prisoners, Ralph Roe, 29, Duncan, Okla., robber, and Theodore Cole, 25, Stroud, Okla., kidnaper, remained in hiding on the 12-acre rock in San Francisco bay.

But the probabilities, he said, were that they left the island; that they had no outside help, and that they perished in the treacherous tides.

"They had only one chance in a thousand," said searching authorities, "if they took to the water."

But the tiny speck of doubt sent coast guard and police boats out into the bay again to search for traces of the men. Heavy police detachments patrolled all possible landing places.

Chinese Hope For End Of Harsh Military Rule At Nanking; Other Cities Fear Fate

(By The Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, Dec. 18. (Saturday)— With Japan's highest army and navy leaders in control of the situation in Nanking, Chinese hoped today that the period of harsh military rule which had gripped China's former capital since the Japanese captured it Monday would be ended.

General Iwane Matsui, commanding Japanese armies in the Yangtze valley, and Vice-Admiral Kiyoshi Hasegawa, commanding Japanese naval forces in China waters, made a triumphal entry yesterday into the city which for a decade had symbolized hopes of reborn China.

Missionaries Make Appeal

Fourteen American missionaries who remained in Nanking through the seige and capture of the city and still were working to alleviate sufferings of the inhabitants sent an urgent appeal to Shanghai for doctors and other missionaries to come to their aid.

The Japanese forces carried the war deeper into the heart of the Yangtze valley, richest region of China. Fresh advances north, west and southwest of Nanking brought new areas under Japanese domination and carried grave threats to other Chinese cities.

Inhabitants of Hankow, great midland industrial center 400 miles up the Yangtze from Nanking, and Canton, the Metropolis of the south, were convinced their cities soon would share Nanking's fate.

Admiral Hasegawa, in a communique, declared:

"The Japanese government is not satisfied with the success of its arms with the capture of Nanking. The situation is far from being settled. "The armed forces of the empire

Winters Blast Fatal To Two

(By The Associated Press)

WINTERS, Dec. 17.—An explosion of gasoline at their home today killed Mrs. Troy Peters, 28, and her four-year-old daughter, Darlene.

Mrs. Peters was cleaning clothing with gasoline at the time of the blast. She had poured a portion of the contents of a five-gallon can into a dishpan and officers believed flames from a cookstove nearby ignited it.

Blew Hole In Roof

The child was on a bed in a room adjacent to the kitchen when the explosion killed its mother, blew a large hole in the roof of the four-room dwelling, blew a heavy veneer coating off the walls and hurled glass across the street. The resultant fire gutted the house.

Mrs. Peters' husband, a barber, was at work and another daughter, Dorothy, 7, was at school.

Mrs. Peters was survived by her mother, Mrs. Maggie Lewallen; a brother, Malcolm Lewallen, of Big Spring, and a sister, Mrs. Vester Pincher, who resides in California.

Mrs. Lewallen, who was on her way to California for a visit, was notified of the accident at Abilene.

The Dallas attorney said 500 reservations had been made for the dinner and that 1,500 Texas Democrats were expected.

HOUSTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—The state today charged that Charles Jackson, truck driver, broke Leslie Betterson's leg last Monday by remote control.

The complaint of assault by auto charges Jackson's truck and a truck driven by Clifton Darby sideswiped; then Jackson's truck struck a car driven by W. L. Hollingsworth, after which the truck hit W. L. Evan's parked car and Evan's car was pushed into Betterson, whose leg was broken.

Violence Breaks Out In Kansas City Strike

(By The Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 17.—Three men were shot, one was overcome by tear gas, at least a dozen suffered severe beatings and more than 100 persons were arrested here late today shortly after employes of the labor troubled Ford assembly plant quit work for the day.

Two deputy constables were wounded as they escorted approximately 300 Ford workers to their homes from the plant where the United Automobile Workers of America, a C.I.O. affiliate, called a strike a week ago.

Officers Shot

The officers, Dan Mustaine, 30, and Bob Scott, 20, were struck in the legs by shotgun pellets, but were unable to say who fired the shots. Russell Williams, 28, a bystander was shot in the hand.

Rail Loans OK'd But Public Works Not

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—President Roosevelt publicly O.K.'d the revival of government loans to distressed railroads today, but threw cold water on the idea of new public works spending to prime the pump of inactive industries.

He said at a press conference the stoppage of loans to the railroads in the last few months was only a general rule and that exceptions were to be expected.

But there would be no exceptions, he added, to his recent decision terminating allocations of emergency public works funds.

His statement came after considerable sentiment had developed in congress for a moderate increase in government spending to stimulate business activity.

FDR's Program Is Disrupted By Action

Southern Democrats Combine With Northern Republicans To Recommit Wage-Hour Act

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The combined house votes of Southern Democrats and Northern Republicans disrupted President Roosevelt's special session program tonight by sending back to committee the bill to establish minimum wage and maximum hour requirements for interstate industry.

The vote, 216 to 198, brought the career of that battle-scarred measure to an abrupt, if possibly temporary, halt and evoked a triumphant roar of applause from the southern bloc.

Dead For Many Months

Technically, the measure was sent back to the labor committee for such revisions as would bring it in line with the views of the house, but actually, there were few who doubted that the bill was dead for many months to come.

Administration leaders, though confident to the last minute of victory in the wage-hour fight, nevertheless made a dramatic appeal against the motion to recommit.

Rayburn Receives Ovation

After receiving a prolonged ovation from the house, Representative Rayburn (D.-Tex.), the majority leader, said "A vote for the motion to recommit this bill, if it is recommitted, is the death of the bill."

He asked the membership, "No matter what our personal opinions may be" to pass the measure, send it to a conference of senators and representatives and then "see how you like it when it comes back."

Chairman O'Connor (D.-N. Y.) of the rules committee charged that Republicans were "playing politics" on the bill and said:

"The rank and file of the working people of America are interested

Plan To Kill Tax Is Voted Down

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Democrats lined up solidly against Republicans at a house subcommittee meeting to batter down today the first definite attempt to strike the undistributed profits levy from the tax laws.

Representative Crowther (R-NY) forced the issue to a vote. His motion was to accept a bill by Representative Treadway (R-Mass), which would repeal the tax on undistributed corporate earnings, impose on corporations a normal income tax of 9 to 16 per cent and tax capital gains at a flat 12 1-2 per cent.

Motion Fully Debated

"The motion," Chairman Vinson (D-Ky) announced, "was quite fully debated. When we were informed that if the plan had been in operation for the present taxable year, there would have been a loss of $416,000,000 in revenue, the Crowther motion was voted down by a vote of 6 to 3—a party vote."

That action left intact the subcommittee's previous agreement to remodel both the undistributed profits and capital gains levies while retaining the principles of each.

Numerous legislators, backed by business men who contend the taxes have curtailed business and employment and discouraged investment in productive enterprises, have demanded immediate repeal.

King Cotton Is Trouble Center

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. — King Cotton will be the trouble center, congressional leaders said today, when a joint congressional committee tries to iron out differences between "ever-normal granary" bills passed by the house and senate.

They said the senate bill in general provides greater compulsion, larger penalties, and more controls over what the farmer grows and sells than the house measure.

Senators said their cotton program would clamp down rigid control over production next year, while the house measure would not apply restrictions until 1939.

Corn and wheat sections of the senate measure also differ from those of the house bill in that they would require farmers to sign acreage contracts with the secretary of agriculture before they could get federal benefits or loans.

Marketing quotas would become effective much sooner under the senate bill than under the house measure, because it provides for their operation when total supplies are smaller.

The senate corn controls also apply to all corn producing areas, while the house measure is limited to commercial corn areas, defined as counties where ten-year production has averaged 400 bushels a farm.

Wheat controls under the senate bill apply to farms producing more than 100 bushels for market, while the house measure starts control on farms producing above 200 bushels.

The senate measure carries numerous clauses, liberalizing terms of cotton loans and subsidies, which are not included in the house bill.

Payments now being made under the soil conservation act would be continued on all crops under the house bill, while the senate measure would take 55 per cent of these funds and use them for "parity payments" to wheat, cotton, and corn producers.

These are defined as payments intended to give farmers buying power equal to that of other groups.

The senate bill places a limit of three per cent on administrative costs, while the house bill allows five per cent.

The House bill authorizes $10,000,000 to finance research regarding new uses or markets for farm products. The senate measure provides up to $2,000,000 for proposed regional research laboratories in their first year, and $1,000,000 a year thereafter.

Referenda among farmers before marketing quotas could operate would be by secret ballot for corn and wheat under the senate measure, and for cotton, tobacco and corn under the house bill.

'Toy Matinee' At Palace Will Feature Goodfellows' Drive Today; Funds Still Needed

A "TOY MATINEE" at the Palace theater at 10 o'clock this morning will add another boost to the 1937 Goodfellows' campaign to furnish a real Christmas to every one of Lubbock's underprivileged boys and girls.

The matinee, scheduled by Palace Manager Arlie Crites at 10 o'clock, will feature an hour and a half's run of comedies especially selected for children. Boys and girls of 14 years and younger will be admitted to the show in exchange for one new toy or two used ones. The toys will be turned over to Goodfellows for distribution on Christmas Day.

Contributions Boom Along

The financial campaign, in which a $1,200 budget has been set, boomed along on Friday, the day ending with a total of $776.33. Chief Goodfellow, anonymous leader of the drive, announced that collection of funds will end at 6 p. m. on Wednesday, Dec. 22, "whether we have our $1,200 quota or not, I believe, however," he continued, "that we'll have it. I know Lubbock won't let its 2,200 needy children down at Christmas time."

Donations are being welcomed—from 25 cents on up—at Avelanche-Journal offices, 1211-13 Texas avenue. They may be made either by personal delivery, or by mail. When checks are used, they should be made out to Chief Goodfellow. All the money collected will be used for Christmas presents for needy children from six months through 14 years of age, residing within the Lubbock city limits. Race, color, or creed makes no difference.

Lists Close December 22

Mrs. M. H. Benson, heading the Junior Welfare league's locating and listing department, announced yesterday that no more names can be received after 10 a. m. next Wednesday, Dec. 22, and urged the public to continue to send in names of needy youngsters. War Referendum Opposed By FDR

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—The movement in congress to require a favorable vote of the people before the United States could declare war encountered opposition today from President Roosevelt.

A woman reporter asked the president if he thought a referendum on war was consistent with the representative form of government.

He replied: "No."

Secretary of State Hull previously had opposed the referendum idea, and state department officials were gratified at Mr. Roosevelt's stand.

They felt it was timely because of the situation in the Far East. They had been apprehensive that prominence given the war vote proposal at this time might weaken the strong position taken by this government toward the Japanese bombing of the United States gunboat Panay.

Differences On Farm Measure To Conference

Senate Approves Legislation, 59 To 29; Four Laboratories For Research Are Voted

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. — The senate passed the administration's "ever-normal granary" farm bill tonight.

Passage came after four weeks of wrangling, marked by repeated bipartisan assaults on the measure.

The bill, together with a farm measure passed by the house, now goes to a conference committee of senators and representatives for adjustment of differences.

Agreement Is Doubtful

Because of many differences, it has been assumed generally that the conference committee will be unable to reach an agreement prior to the end of the special session, scheduled December 22.

Secretary Wallace predicted yesterday the conference committee could formulate a measure which would be stronger than either the house or the senate bills.

The latter provide varying controls on production and marketing of major crops, benefits for growers cooperating with the legislation, and storage of surplus production under government loans for use in years of lean harvests.

Vote Is 59 To 29

The vote approving the bill was 59 to 29.

Vice President Garner named Senators Smith (D-SC), McGill (D-Kas.), Pope (D-Idaho), Bankhead (D-Ala.), Hatch (D-NM), Frazier (R-ND), and Capper (R-Kas.) to be members of the conference committee.

He then placed before the senate the anti-lynching bill, against which Southern members are expected to conduct a prolonged filibuters.

Asked whether the chamber would make the anti-lynch debate its next business, Democratic Leader Barkley of Kentucky said that would be settled Monday.

Home-Building May Be Next

There have been indications that the senate might give right-of-way to the administration's bill to encourage private home-building.

Prior to passing the crop control bill the senate rejected two substitute measures. One, by Senator McAdoo (D-Calif.), proposed federal regulations under which farmers would be guaranteed the cost of production on crops sold for domestic consumption. The other, by Senator Lee (D-Okla.), proposed a government bounty on that part of a farm crop sold on home markets.

There was no record vote on the Lee substitute.

Reject McAdoo Amendment

The chamber rejected the bill offered by McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, by a vote of 46 to 40.

McAdoo's proposal would have re-

Youth Sees With 'Donated' Eye; Operation Is Unique

(By The Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 17.—In a hushed charity hospital ward Dr. George Haik lifted the bandage from the surgically remodeled eye of Frank Chabina, jr., 19, today and held up two fingers.

He asked: "How many fingers do you see?"

The tense figure on the bed stirred as the roomful of anxious doctors, nurses, reporters and cameramen craned forward.

"Two!" came the dramatic answer.

A murmur, like applause, swept the room.

Dr. Haik half smiled with pleasure and held up three fingers.

"How many?" he asked.

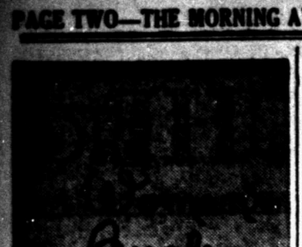

"Three," was the reply.

Dr. Haik was calm.

"There has been some progress," he remarked. "Now, only time can tell just how far suc-

Most Attractive Parties Of The Year Are Being Given At Yule Season

WE'VE heard no end of persons say they were "going on diets" just as soon as the Christmas holidays are over. That seems a splendid idea since we believe this is the one time in the year when everyone should eat without an eye to the future. But fruit cakes, plum puddings, candies and rich meats and gravies do take their toll of those poor mortals (and their name is legion) who realize wide girths when they forget calories and the scales.

If you have never tried going on a liquid day for the sake of your health or your figure, try it now. After the Christmas over-excitement and over-eating your system will welcome it. Here's how:

Begin early in the morning with a glass of grapefruit juice. About ten, take at least 5 ounces of another juice. Then, at one, try a glass of skim milk. At four in the afternoon, try still another fruit juice combination. For dinner have no more than a raw vegetable salad. Before retiring, take one more glass of fruit juice. In the morning you should feel peppy and there is a large possibility the liquid day may have cut your poundage.

ETIQUETTE ON PARTIES

AND NOW comes the popular Jack Dempsey to give advice to young ladies on correct behavior while at parties, or perhaps it would be better to say while "on a party." Says Monitor Dempsey:

"She sticks to her own party, doesn't attempt to attract attention to herself by a lot of raucous laughter or loud talk, and never allows herself to be 'picked up'—even to the extent of an 'innocent' flirtation."

While on her first party the young girl should stay in a group, says the former boxing champion and present purveyor of advice. There will be someone who will keep an eye on her if she should become too enthusiastic, especially if it's a New Year celebration.

ALTHOUGH we seldom wish we were back in college usually we feel a nostalgia for our freshman days at this time of the year when the Tech youngsters leave for the Christmas holidays. COMFORTING RELIEF FOR YOUR "HEAVY" CHEST COLD

Tonight—rub your chest with Penetro before you go to bed. It will ease tightness and pressure so that your cold will "feel easier," you'll be more comfortable. Penetro combines 113% to 227% more medication than any other nationally sold cold salve together with a base of mutton suet, to create thorough counter-irritant action, thereby increasing blood flow and stimulating greater body heat.

Because mutton suet is an animal fat, it helps to better "hold in" this heat by conserving and concentrating it. That's why Penetro brings you such comforting relief, relieves the congestion and pressure of your "heavy" cold. Its aromatic vapors are inhaled into nasal passages to help open up stuffy noses, make breathing easier. Keep stainless, snow-white Penetro on hand to use generously on both children and adults. 35c a jar. Accept no substitute—be sure to ask for Penetro. Sold by all dealers.

Postoffice To Remain Open All Day Today

To accommodate expected Christmas package mailing rush today, all windows at the postoffice will be open all day, Postmaster Amos Howard pointed out late Friday. It is the last Saturday before the holiday.

Five trucks, each with two drivers, will be in service for handling delivery of packages received here. Additional clerks are to be on duty for handling of mail, both incoming and outgoing.

Expect Heavy Business

Saturday's business is expected to be the heaviest of the year so far. It may be that Tuesday or Wednesday will be even larger in volume.

Postmaster Howard is urging persons who have letters, cards or packages to go long distances, to mail them today. Packages that have to go half way across the continent, need additional time at this season, because of extra business. For that reason, Howard said, he hoped that type of package would be mailed early.

Dramatization Of Tragic Fires To Be Presented Over KFYO

Tragic Christmas fires of the past will be dramatized for presentation over radio station KFYO next week as feature of holiday fire prevention observance, according to information given Friday by Guy L. McAfee, chairman of the chamber of commerce fire prevention committee.

Announcement also was made that Marion Sanford will speak on fire prevention over KFYO this morning at 7:45 o'clock. The "Git-tum Up Gang" will play several numbers.

Exact schedule of the programs has not been worked out, but one of the events to be dramatized will be the tragedy in Alabama last year in which seven prominent society women were fatally burned. A cast of several persons will participate in the presentation.

McAfee said also that several ministers have advised the chamber that they will call attention to fire prevention in their sermons Sunday, as was requested in letters to them early this week.

Police Investigating Activities Of Women Soliciting 'Charity'

Police last night had received no further report of the activities of four women who have appeared at a number of Lubbock homes seeking contributions with the explanation they were "soliciting funds for charity.

So far as city officers were able to ascertain, no one had given them anything.

The latest report of their appearance, according to City Recorder Lewis Kittrell, was given Friday. Information to police was to the effect the women were evasive when asked the specific nature of the charity for which they were soliciting.

It was the suspicion of police that the women either were seeking contributions for themselves or that they may be "spotters" for burglars.

Cash Income To U.S. Farmers Increased

Total Approaches Nine Billions

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. — The agriculture department estimated this year's cash income of farmers today to be $8,500,000,000 compared with $7,920,000,000 last year.

The figures represent the aggregate cash income from 78 crops, livestock and livestock products, and government soil conservation and benefit payments.

Crops Income Higher

Crops brought in $3,840,000,000 compared with $3,462,000,000 last year.

Livestock and livestock products were responsible for $4,280,000,000, against $4,171,000,000 a year ago.

Government payments aggregated $380,000,000. They were $287,000,000 in 1936.

Cash income, representing the value of products actually sold off the farms, was used in today's annual report for the first time. In previous years the farm value of crops and the gross income were used in the report. Farm value represented the value of production irrespective of use. Gross income comprised cash income plus the value of commodities consumed in farm households or used as feed for livestock and other purposes.

Change Is Explained

Explaining the replacing of farm value figures with those of cash income, department officials said the latter was a "better standard" because it gave an indication of farm buying power.

Farm value of crops last year was $6,84,932,000, while gross income from crop production was $3,870,000,000. Gross income in 1936 farm livestock and livestock products was $5,180,000,000. All gross income from farmers' operations, including government benefit and soil conservation payments, totaled $9,530,000,000 last year.

Cash income from various crops for this year and last year reported included:

All wheat $666,459,000 and $408,200,000; oats $61,522,000 and $50,672,000. Rice $32,300,000 and $28,500,000; cotton lint $684,622,000 and $763,358,000; cotton seed $136,535,000 and $141,521,000.

Other fruits and nuts (including oranges, grapefruit, lemons, limes, pineapples, plums, prunes, apricots, figs, olives, almonds and walnuts) $198,570,000 and $180,500,000, all truck crops, $350,030,000 and $314,887,000.

Final Estimates Given

Final estimates of production of important crops this year included:

Corn 2,644,995,000 bushels; all wheat 873,993,000; winter wheat 685,102,000; all spring wheat 188,891,000; durum wheat 27,791,000; other spring wheat 161,100,000.

Oats 1,146,258,000; rice 53,004,000; cotton, lint, 18,746,000 bales; cottonseed 8,337,000 tons; oranges 67,067,000 boxes; grapefruit 26,090,000 boxes; lemons 8,550,000 boxes.

Production of important crops this year and the cash income from portions of these crops actually sold, included:

Corn: Oklahoma 30,960,000 and $850,000; Texas 72,048,000 and $5,950,000.

All wheat: Oklahoma 65,462,000 and $46,250,000; Texas 41,690,000 and $33,700,000.

Oats: Oklahoma 27,347,000 and $1,300,000; Texas 30,432,000 and $2,250,000.

England Disturbed Over Nosey Parker Bill Which Seeks To Probe Falling Birth Rate

LONDON, Dec. 17. (AP)—Have you caused a fall in the populating?"

Such, according to one London wit, is a fair sample of questions the British birth registrar may pop at proud fathers if the government's populating statistics—"Nosey Parker"—bill becomes law.

The bill, designed for a statistical inquiry into Britain's declining birth rate, already has caused nationwide hilarity and some misgivings.

Would Require Registering

It would compel parents registering births or deaths to tell their age, occupation, date of marriage and previous marriages, the number of children born of each marriage, whether they are legitimate, and the number of the parents' brothers, sisters and dependents.

Many fear it will authorize embarrassing official prying into what goes on within the Englishmen's hitherto embattled castle—his home.

The measure has been dubbed the "Nosey Parker" bill.

A Nosey Parker, in plain American, is a very nosey guy.

Its historic precedent is Matthew Parker, 16th century archbishop of Canterbury. He had a big nose, piety and irreproachable morals, too.

Herbert Leads Opposition

D. P. Herbert, incorrigible humorist and parliamentary member for Oxford university, is leading opposition to the bill.

He lashed at it in a daring commons speech charging the information sought could best be obtained in one fell swoop by a census scheduled in 1941.

"Why are not more babies being born?" he asked the bill's sponsor, Health Minister Sir Kingsley Wood.

Herbert gave his own reply to the question in verse lampooning high taxes, multitudinous motor cars and the world armament race, each stanza ending "why the population fell."

Opponents of the bill, while quarreling with its methods, have admitted the information it would yield is necessary for practical consideration of the birth rate decline.

The British birth rate has dropped from 35 per 1,000 population in 1871 to about 14 per 1,000.

At this rate Britain's population might fall in 30 years to 35,000,000 and in 100 years to 5,000,000.

Meanwhile the proportion of old persons increases.

Many natives of Peru and Bolivia chew the leaves of the coca shrub, which produce a mild narcotic effect.

Sister Of Lubbock Woman Pays Visit Here On Learning Of Near-Tragedy In Home

An experience which almost cost the lives of Mrs. Ray W. Amick and her daughter, Miss Mary Amick, in their gas-filled home at 2110 Seventeenth street several days ago led Mrs. A. G. Nelson of Chanute, Kan., sister of Mrs. Amick, to visit here.

Mrs. Nelson arrived Friday, making a 1,300-mile journey by railroad just to spend a week-end.

Husband At Home

The fact that Mr. Amick was at home was credited with having saved their lives. Often at that particular hour he is at his business.

Relating her experience in the expressed belief that it might be the means of saving the lives of others, Mrs. Amick attributed the incident to the fact that gas connections had not been properly adjusted in the new home into which the family had just moved. Odors of the new home likewise prevented her and the daughter from detecting the malodorant in the gas.

Complained Of Headaches

Mrs. Amick said both she and the daughter had complained of headaches and nausea without realizing the cause. Suddenly Mary collapsed. Mrs. Amick started toward her, but fell unconscious before reaching her side. Mr. Amick opened windows, called the family physician and both were revived without difficulty, although they were violently ill the remainder of the night and still felt the effects of their experience two or three days later.

Mrs. Nelson plans to leave for her home late Sunday.

Loans Will Be Made Farmers

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—L. H. Hauter, Farm Security administration director of the "dust bowl," said today nearly $2,000,000 would be lent farmers in that area next spring for purchase of seed, livestock and equipment to plant crops.

He said about $500,000 would be loaned to farmers in the 43 Panhandle counties which comprise the portion of Texas under his supervision. The balance will be loaned in New Mexico, and parts of Oklahoma, Kansas, and Colorado, all served out of the Amarillo headquarters.

Dust Storms Expected

With dust storms expected next spring as a result of insufficient rainfall the past few months, special emphasis would be laid on listing of land and other practices tending to lessen their severity, Hauter said. Farmers and ranchers aided by FSA loans will be advised of the program they should follow in spring planting.

Hauter said county committees for administration of the tenancy program in his region probably would not be selected before January.

Wichita Falls And Longview Favored In State Schoolboy Semi-Finals Today

North Side High Invades Coyote Den For Battle

(By The Associated Press)

WICHITA FALLS, Dec. 17.—A dry, fast field was in prospect today as the Wichita Falls Coyotes and North Side (Fort Worth) Steers squared off for their Texas Interscholastic league semi-final football battle here tomorrow afternoon.

Warming sunshine, the first since Monday when drizzling rains set in, broke through the clouds to cheer more than 4,000 ticket-holders and to dry the soggy stadium field. Officials immediately revised their predictions on the probable attendance, boosting their estimate from 5,000 to 6,500.

Second Try For Steers

The winner tomorrow plays the team emerging from the other semi-final battle at Conroe between Longview and Conroe. Wichita Falls was making its first semi-final bid since Amarillo defeated the 1935 team. North Side was eliminated in the semi-finals by Amarillo a year ago.

The attitude of the rival coaches was exceedingly pessimistic. Coaches Ted Jeffries of Wichita Falls and Herman Clark of North Side each persisted in claiming an underdog rating for his team. Close critics termed the game a toss-up.

The Coyotes, lined up behind Harold Fleming, giant triple-threat star, were expected to employ a passing attack as their chief weapon. The team averages 165 pounds. The Fort Worth team, with Danny Reese as its aerial artist, was also expected to take to the air lanes early. The Steers average 156 pounds.

Each team boasts a rock-ribbed defense that is expected to send most of the action into the air.

Kick-off time is 2 p.m. Probable starting lineups:

Wichita Falls	Pos.	Fort Worth
Maddox	LE	Blackmon
Brand	LT	Crawford
Geforth	LG	Harris
Damerell	C	Ashmore
Zachary	RG	Kindel
Swanner	RT	Tullis
Prichard	RE	Ozee
Collins	QB	Reese
Wallis	LH	Conway
Monaghan	RH	Mayfield
Fleming	FB	Burklow

Uubeaten Teams To Clash At Conroe

CONROE, Dec. 17. (AP)—Texas' only untied, undefeated high school football teams—Conroe and Longview—will battle here tomorrow for a chance at the State Interscholastic league schoolboy championship.

Seven thousand fans are expected for the game, which will start at 2 p. m.

Light, but tricky and speedy, Conroe was the underdog tonight despite its season's total of 433 points in 11 games. Longview, conquerors of Temple last Saturday, outweighs the South Texans both in the line and backfield.

The victor will meet the winner of the Wichita Falls-Fort Worth North Side game, which is to be played tomorrow.

Conroe is practically assured of full strength with Bob Looney, versatile guard, back in shape after suffering a shoulder injury earlier in the week. Halfback E. L. Hardy, out with influenza last week, is ready Coach Joe Lagow said.

Longview is in top shape.

The brothers, Dick and Hardy Miller, bulwarks of the Longview backfield, will be matched against the elusive Cam (Powder) Harrell, Conroe's fleet back, in what many expect to be a free scoring game although both teams have stood out on defense during the season.

A clear cold day was predicted and, despite heavy rains in South Texas, the field tonight appeared to offer fair footing.

Probable starting lineups:

Longview	Pos.	Conroe
Pouncey	LE	Isbell
Sullivan	LT	Sims
Daniel	LG	Neiderhofer
McMahon	C	Simes
Richardson	RG	Looney
Brannon	RT	Berry
Burandt	RE	Ferguson
Lobus	QB	Woods
Cantrell	LH	Harrell
Dick Miller	RH	Waldie
Hardy Miller	FB	Barfield

Cagle Quits Grid After 18 Years

By PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 17. — Calling all cars—or a sports parade in ink:

PRO AND CON . . . Attempts to get Helen Wills Moody to turn pro failed. She signed to play on the pro circuit but demanded too much dough and wanted Alice Marble as her opponent. Alice turned down all offers after the fashion of J. Donald Budge, who even let a big movie producer stew as he broke an appointment which meant thousands of dollars for the red-head as a film star. But the pro boys are confident Budge will turn pro next year.

QUITS . . . After 18 years of competition, amateur and pro, Christian Kenner (Red) Cagle is quitting football. "The game is too tough today," explained the famed red-head who won All-America honors with the Army where he played four years with the varsity. In 1922, Cagle resigned from the Army to become a newspaper man, also playing pro football with the New York Giants from 1930 to '32. In '33, he bought an interest in the Brooklyn football Dodgers. He played with them until '35 when he sold his interests and organized his team of all-stars. He is now affiliated with a New York insurance firm.

RELATIVES . . . Eadgan Hinson Case, Buffalo hotel manager, always thought he was the last of the Hinsons until he read of how Earl Hinson ran some 95 yards in the last three seconds of a game to keep little Appalachian college's record intact in football last month. Now he's out to check up on all the Hinsons. A pal of mine once was a bug on relative finding until he discovered a long lost uncle about to be shot for swiping horses. He quit looking for more.

HOLDOUTS . . . Word around the baseball grapevine is that player holdouts will tread more softly this year, especially the New York Yankees, who got a terrible lacing from old Colonel Ruppert last spring. Dizzy Dean will yelp and holler when he sees what he's going to be offered but the guess is he'll fall right into line. Our three star special as the ivory here who will hold out for plenty is Joe DiMaggio. Giuseppe wants from $25,000 to $30,000 and probably will get the former figure.

Frenship And Ropesville 5's Divide League Double Bill

WOLFFORTH, Dec. 17. (Special)—Ropesville and Frenship basketball teams divided honors in South Plains league engagements tonight, the Ropesville girls taking a 27-to-18 win from Frenship, while the boys of the latter school triumphed, 34 to 24, over Ropesville.

Lofland and McWhorter of Frenship led the scoring in each game with 14 and 13 points respectively.

In a semi-final game of the junior boys tournament here, Frenship defeated Idalou, 30 to 10. In consolation semi-finals, Ropesville won from Roosevelt, 21 to 20, and in another game, Clauene won from New Deal, 20 to 12. Finals are set for Saturday night in the Frenship gym.

South American Horse Gets Test On 'Frisco Tanforan

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17. (AP)—Amor Brujo, South American thoroughbred whose racing speed has provoked a controversy through comparison with the best in this country, gets his big test tomorrow in the $10,000 added San Francisco handicap.

The black thunderbolt from Uruguay, packing top weight of 125 pounds, will share favoritism with Indian Broom, one of the better stake stars, in the mile and a sixteenth classic which rings down the curtain on the fall racing season at Tanforan track.

In his only two starts in this country, Amor Brujo won less important handicaps in ridiculously easy fashion. Some turfmen rate him in a class with Seabiscuit and War Admiral, the two speed monarchs of the year. Others say he has not been sufficiently tested—that the competition was not strong enough.

High Spots In The Rawls Career

Katherine Rawls, recently voted the outstanding woman athlete of the nation for 1937, the diving, freestyle and breast-stroke swimming star of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., is the most versatile woman swimmer in the world. She has held records and championships galore. She is one of four sisters, all of them swimming champions. When her engagement was announced, the public wandered what would happen to her career. Katherine replied she would go on swimming. Here are highlights of what, regardless of her future activities, will remain one of the bright careers of the sport.

YOUNG STAR
Reporters in 1931 had trouble spelling the name of "Kathryn" Rawls, who, at 14, was one of the youngest entrants in the women's national A.A.U. championships. Miss Rawls was already junior diving champion. Many another title lay ahead of her.

OLYMPIAN
Slight of build, Katherine—or "Kitty"—always has photographed well — something she has in common with Eleanor Holm Jarrett, another Olympic swimmer. Here she is (left) in a 1936 Olympic picture with Olive McKean of Seattle.

VETERAN STAR
In 1937 she retained her national indoor breaststroke title at Chicago. At San Francisco, where this picture was made, she won the national A.A.U. titles in the 300-meter medley, the 440-yard, 880-yard and one-mile freestyle.

COLLEGE GIRL
Last autumn Katherine entered Florida State College for Women. Majoring in journalism, she wrote her first "signed" story for The A. P. Feature Service. She complained her schoolwork was hard, and told of the delights of food packages from home.

FIANCEE
On November 21, 1937, the engagement of Miss Rawls to William W. Starr, Daytona Beach, Fla., advertising man, was announced. Miss Rawls did not set a date for her marriage. She didn't say what effect her tough college course had on her decision.

Alabama's Tide Leaves Next Tuesday For Rose Bowl Site

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Dec. 17. (AP)—Alabama's big red regiment leaves Tuscaloosa for Pasadena next Tuesday, pledged to carry on a victory torch passed down by four elevens undefeated in Rose Bowl football.

Set aflame by the 1925 Alabama team wit ha 20-19 victory over Washington, the torch flickered in 1927 in a 7-7 tie with Stamford, but blazed brightly when teams of 1930 and 1934 smashed Washington State, 24-0, and Stanford, 29-13.

Victory over California New Year's Day would heighten the aura of tradition begun years ago by Pooley Hubert, Bill Buckler and other Alabama gridiron greats.

There is no cockiness in the players' attitude, but a determination they must not lose because of the victorious teams that have gone before.

Arizona Wildcat Cagers To Play Stanford In Opener

TUSCON, Ariz., Dec. 17. (Special)—University of Arizona's basketball quintet will open its intercollegiate season here next Monday night (Dec. 20), tangling with the Stanford university Cardinals, rated last year as the nation's No. 1 college outfit.

Coach Fred Enke has sent his squad through two tilts with Tom Gibbings' freshman crew at the university, and will meet the Mesa Merchants here Friday (Dec. 17), and the Phoenix Town Taxerns (Dec. 18). The barnstorming Cardinals are expected to give him the first indication of his squad's potentialities.

The Cardinals opened their season Dec. 7, defeating the Olympic club of San Francisco, 60 to 51, and downed San Jose State the next night, 45 to 38.

Always A Thorn In Each Rose Bowl Contest

By ROBERT MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 17. — Where ever there is a rose there is a thorn, and the annual Tournament of Roses football attraction is no exception.

If it isn't one row it's another. Rose Bowl officials sighed today, as blasts of criticism continued to blow over the coming New Year's Day game between California and Alabama.

The ticket shortage is the acute problem. Last year the grumbles started first over the selection of Pittsburgh to play Washington, and later turned into a surprising mad scramble for tickets.

Mustangs Were Okay

The season before, when Southern Methodist was invited West, was one of the calmest in the long history of the classic. The Mustangs were unanimous choice for the invitation, and with neither Stanford nor S. M. U. saddled with unweildy alumni groups, the ticket problem was hardly a headache.

A roar of disapproval went up in 1933 when Stanford chose supposedly impotent Columbia as its Jan. 1 opponent. The roars were stilled when Lou Little's Lions set the Stanfords down, 7 to 0. It proved, just as did Pitt's shellacking of Washington last New Year's Day, that anything can happen in the big bowl game and the "problems" have a way of solving themselves.

Pitt took another pre-game beating when Southern California, having romped over the Panthers 47 to 14, in 1930, was invited again by the Trojans in 1933. In this case the mal-contents were justified, however, Troy running up a 35 to 0 score.

Alumni Tickets Slashed

Alabama has always been a bowl favorite, never having been beaten in four trips, so it is no wonder the Tide and the Golden Bears, pride of the West, apparently could sell out the bowl several times again.

The Pacific Coast conference met the criticism this year by announcing it would cut down the six ticket per alumnus policy in the future, thus enabling the public to get in.

In the meantime a greater thunderbolt may strike—when the tickets actually appear on the streets. Scalpers never fail to get their share. The gullible paid as high as $25 a pasteboard last year, and the general supply was fat compared to the present shortage.

California Gridders Buckle Down For Rose Bowl Drills

BERKELEY, Calif., Dec. 7. (AP)—Ways and means to wallop Alabama in the Pasadena Rose Bowl, became part of University of California's football curriculum today as the Bears buckled down to heavy work for the New Year's Day classic.

Coach L. B. "Stub" Allison boomed words of warning as he cracked the practice whip for the first official session since the regular season was completed Nov. 20.

His fight talk reminded his husky auditors that Alabama had won its last three games during the final five minutes of play and that California's watchword, therefore would be "no letdown until the last gun."

WHIZZER TO FRISCO

BOULDER, Colo., Dec. 17. (AP)—Colorado university's football team will take a stiff "toughening up" workout tomorrow before entraining early Sunday for Fort Worth, where the Buffs will go into intensive preparation for the Jan. 1 Cotton Bowl game with Rice institute.

Byron (Whizzer) White, key man in the Buffalo attack, left the practice field this afternoon for San Francisco, to take oral examinations for a Rhodes scholarship. He is expected to rejoin the squad by Wednesday.

Tommy Farr Good For Big Upset Of 1937 Season

NEW YORK, Dec. 17. (AP) — Joe Louis' failure to do better than outpoint Tommy Farr in their heavyweight title match last August was rated the year's No. 1 sports upset by the country's sports-writing experts voting in the seventh annual Associated Press poll.

For the econd consecutive year Louis and the Minnesota football team figured in the happenings that occasioned the biggest surprise in the sports world.

While football upsets were a dime a dozen, the general view of the sports writers was that not even subsequent events overshadowed Nebraska's surprise early season victory over the Golden Gophers. This was voted second place.

Giants Are Considered

Louis' showing against Farr polled 18 first place votes and a total of 83 points tabulated on a 3-2-1 basis. Eleven exports put Minnesota's defeat at the top of their list and it took runner-up honors with 52 points.

Newark's Bears, who came from behind to win the last four games of a seven-game "Little World's series" from Columbus were credited with baseball's biggest surprise.

Tabulations of the poll:

Event—	First Points
Tommy Farr's heavyweight title fight with Joe Louis	18 83
Nebraska's football victory over Minnesota	11 52
Newark's "Little World's series" comeback	3 13
Late-season flag comeback of New York Giants	1 10
Harvard's football victory over Yale	3 10
Lafayette's unbeaten, untied football season	2 9
Washington's rout of N. Y. Giants in pro football	2 8
Rout of N. Y. Giants by Yankees in world's Series	1 7
Washington's second rowing 'slam' at Poughkeepsie	2 6
Anita Lizana's triumph in U. S. title tennis	0 6

AAU Head Sees Large Indoor Track Season

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Dan Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the National A. A. U., today predicted an unusually active indoor track campaign starting in January.

Three of the more shining prospects are being groomed at Columbia university. All of them—shotputter Francis Ryan, weight thrower Michael Pappas and pole vaulter Dick Ganslen—probably will make their seasonal debuts when the Brooklyn Knights of Columbus meet starts the season along on January 8.

Beaten out for the I. C. 4-A title last summer by team-mate Danny Dayler, Ryan consistently bettered 52 feet in practice.

Surprise For Heavies

Pappas, Columbia hopes, will come as a surprise to the Rhode Island weight-tossing monopolists. A comparative novice—he took up the event only this year—Mike has improved so rapidly that now, according to word leaking out of the Columbia campus, he is hitting near-record distances with both the 35- and 56-pound proectiles.

Ganslen, who cleared 14 feet once as a sophomore last winter, also is doing better and plans to top that height by several inches when he stacks up against West Coast skyscrapers like Earle Meadows, Bill Sefton, George Varoff and Cornelius Warmerdam. That foursome, all of whom cleared 14 ft. 7 5-8 in the outdoor nationals this summer, has been invited to compete in the Millrose A. A. games that will be the first in Madison Square Garden, on February 5.

Two other promising field event men are Charles Walker and Les Steers. Walker, younger brother of Ohio State's Mel set a junior championship broad jump record of 24 ft. 10 inches at Milwaukee and has bettered 6 feet in the high jump. Steers, only a high school boy, is clearing 6 feet 7 and 6 feet 8 and will form part of the eight-man San Francisco Olympic club squad that will seek to add the indoor A. A. U. crown to its outdoor laurels. The board-track championships are scheduled at the Garden for February 26.

Kimbrough Applies For Ole Miss Job

TUPELO, Miss., Dec. 17. (AP)—Brit Rogers, a member of the subcommittee on applications at the University of Mississippi, said today the "door was still wide open" for head football coach to succeed Ed Walker, retiring.

"We have received a few applications," he said, "but only two important ones. Harry Mehre of Georgia and Frank Kimbrough of Hardin-Simmons college, Abilene, Tex., have applied.

Former Resident Is Gas Victim

Funeral services for Miss Evelyn Randolph, 26, who was found dead in the gas filled bathroom of her home in Sweetwater Friday morning, will be conducted this afternoon in Lubbock and burial will be in Lubbock cemetery, relatives announced Friday night.

Services will be conducted in Rix Chapel at 2:30 here after arrival of the body at 1:40 o'clock, by train. Burial will be in Lubbock cementery.

Formerly Lived Here

Miss Randolph is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Ward, and a brother, Peyton, of Sweetwater. The family formerly lived in Lubbock, and Miss Randolph attended Texas Technological college three years.

Details of the death were not known here, but relatives said Miss Randolph was thought to have gone to the bathroom, and had been overcome by gas fumes before she realized their presence. She had been out with friends earlier Friday night.

Relatives here include her grandmother, Mrs. G. W. Lee of 806 Avenue R, an aunt, Miss Josephine Lee of the same address, and an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Graham of 1907 Fifth street.

O'Donnell Man's Condition Is Showing Some Improvement

LAMESA, Dec. 17. (Special)—Condition of John Proctor, about 35, O'Donnell barber suffering of five knife wounds in a stabbing at O'Donnell late Thursday, tonight had shown improvement, according to authorities at the Lamesa sanitarium where he was rushed for treatment.

An O'Donnell man, about 42, was arrested shortly after the fight and transferred to Tahoka and jailed. The man will be held and charges probably will be filed, pending outcome of Proctor's wounds, said Sheriff B. L. Parker, Tahoka.

Proctor's condition at first had been considered possibly serious, but physicians today said he was not in a critical condition.

Cotton Variety Session To Be Conducted In Lamesa Today

LAMESA, Dec. 17. (Special)—Ginners, farmers, oil mill men, compress managers and others will meet here Saturday for a cotton variety meeting with F. E. Lichte, extension service gin specialist, and E. A. Miller, extension service agronomist, chief speakers.

Need of better seed and cotton improvement will be discussed. Cotton grades must be improved to meet foreign competition.

Meeting is set for 9:30 o'clock. County Agent Joe Williams has selected the district court room as place for the meeting. Joe M. Peterson, chairman of the agricultural association, will preside.

Saturday afternoon the two men walk at Snyder.

The cigar originated in the Spanish West Indies.

News Briefs...

The "John" Milner referred to in the Evening Journal relative to a county court case charging swindling properly should have been written "J. W. Milner," associated with a gin company at Lamesa, and is NOT the John Milner of 504 Avenue W, resident of Lubbock 12 years. John Milner of Lubbock is in the cotton business, formerly operated the North Spade gin, was a partner of C. E. Dean of Lubbock, and built the Hart's Camp gin and several others for the old Farm bureau. The mistake was found in a docket sheet of county court. A mistrial resulted, the jury having reported to Judge J. J. Dillard it hopelessly was deadlocked.

An automobile, described as being a two-door sedan and which was found at the end of Sherman avenue here, was identified Friday as the one recently stolen from Jack Parris of Abernathy. Hale county authorities were here Friday in connection with the identification of the machine. Members of Lubbock squadron of Sons of the American Legion will offer fireworks for sale on Lubbock streets today as a means of increasing their fund for a drum and bugle corps for which instruments have been ordered, according to E. Kelley Nail, sponsor of the squadron for Allen Bros. post of the Legion. Boys may be identified by the trench helmits they will wear, Nail said.

C. E. Maedgen, president and John D. Mitchell, vice president of the Lubbock National bank, went to Odessa yesterday on business connected with the Odessa National bank of which they are officers.

Completion of plans for organization of a singing convention of the air, scheduled for Friday night at the regular meeting of the Lubbock county Singing convention, was postponed until the next meeting Jan. 7 because of absence last night of M. L. Kelly, president of the convention, according to Rev. Jeff D. Welch, pastor of the Central Baptist church. Approximately 90 persons attended the Friday night session.

December's building permit totals climbed to $58,119 and the year's to $1,593,281 with addition of a permit issued Friday by Building Inspector Jim Reid. The permit went to W. G. Bailey, owner, and Claude Martin, contractor, to construct a one-story frame residence and garage at 1506 Twenty-fourth street, $2,150.

Taking the place of Dr. Doyle D. Jackson, regular teacher, Senator G. H. Nelson will teach the Horn Bible class lesson at First Methodist Sunday school Sunday morning, J. C. Reynolds, president, said Friday. Dr. Jackson will leave soon on his Christmas vacation.

An automobile stolen from Amel Willingham of 2115 Twenty-fourth street late Thursday had not been reported found early today. The vehicle assertedly was stolen at 324 Avenue E. J. H. Tompkins told officials a tool chest was stolen from his car near a downtown hotel.

Only one of four persons who suffered injuries in an automobile accident about 9 miles north of Lorenzo late Thursday remained in the hospital Friday night, Miss Marcine Foy, 19, of Estacado, receiving treatment at West Texas hospital, was reported in a satisfactory condition and was showing improvement. Others who were injured were: L. S. (Bunch) Kyle of Lorenzo, 24, dismissed Friday from the Lubbock sanitarium; J. B. Wall, 39, of route 1, Petersburg; and Buster Bryant, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. A man driving an old model coupe late Friday was being sought by police after a woman in the 1200 block Sixteenth street told officers she gave clothes to a man she thought worked for a laundry but apparently did not.

Firemen were called at 4:50 o'clock Friday afternoon to a burning automobile in the 1300-block Avenue G, but the blaze had been extinguished when they arrived. Damage was negligible, it was reported.

Hugh Anderson, assistant county attorney, prepared the complaint and it was sworn to by Tom Cannon, member of the police department. The woman had been arrested early Friday by police.

Sheriff Tom Abel Friday transferred Charles O. von dem Berg, charged with theft of a jacket from Corcorran's tailors, to the county jail here from Amarillo. The defendant, charged in county court here, was arrested by Amarillo authorities several days ago. Late Friday he had not posted bond.

Changing Citizenship Not To Save Heiress Money, Officials Say

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—Treasury experts said today they did not believe Countess Haugwitz-Reventlow, the former Barbara Hutton, would save any taxes by changing her citizenship to Denmark.

In the case of both income and estate taxes, they said, the rates in the higher tax brackets are the same for both citizens and aliens.

They declined to estimate what the heiress pays.

She May Not Be Liable For Income Taxes In Denmark

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 17. (AP)—Tax experts said today decision by the Countess Haugwitz-Reventlow to give up American citizenship and keep that of her Danish husband would not make her liable to income tax here unless she lived in Denmark three months each year or transferred her fortune here.

Size Of Future Planes Will Dwarf Any Now In Air, Aviation Officials Predict Friday

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. — The size of future planes will dwarf any now in the air, aviation officials said today on the 34th anniversary of the first airplane flight by Orville and Wilbur Wright.

Orville Wright, who piloted the pioneer airplane on its first flight at Kitty Hawk, N. C., in 1903, will be honored tonight in New York at a dinner given by members of the Institute of the Aeronautical Sciences.

Working On Problems

He was here yesterday for a meeting of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, an official government research agency which is working on problems of the giant skyliners of the future.

Wright departed from custom in attending the meeting. He has not flown in recent years and has stayed close to home at Dayton, Ohio, because of an old spinal injury.

Nevertheless, other airmen said, he is still one of the best aeronautical engineers in the United States and maintains interest in aeronautical research.

Could Go Within Tail

The original Wright plane, now housed in the British museum, could be accommodated within the tail of one of the giant flying boats to be built next year, such as the 55-ton sky giant planned by Consolidated Aircraft corporation.

This and other boats planned or being built by the larger manufacturers — Glen L. Martin, Igor I. Sikorsky, Donald Douglas and the Boeing Aircraft company indicate "the shape of planes to come," said Dr. George W. Lewis, research director of the national advisory committee.

Observing the anniversary of the Wrights' flight, now National Aviation day, the army ordered all its available military planes into the air at or near 10:30 a. m., approximately the time Orville Wright first left the ground.

Just A Lot Of Foolishness

THE recent Japanese crisis and that nation's ravishments of China have brought numerous suggestions from various sources of boycotts in the United States of Jap-made goods. The latest demand of that kind is from President William Green of the American Federation of Labor.

While understanding that the feeling behind the various suggestions of boycott are in keeping with the finer parts of American nature, The Morning Avalanche seriously doubts the wisdom of any such attitude.

Certainly it would be very poor business and it is difficult to see where motives of nobleness should interrupt the continuation of trade. We agree, of course, that munitions of war should not be shipped to the island empire, but why bite off our noses in regard to other commodities?

Japan has been America's best customer among lands across the seas for many years. She has bought an average of nearly 2,000,000 bales of cotton per year the last five years. Our biggest purchase from her is of raw silk—one of the few commodities the United States does not produce and which gives employment in American factories to thousands of skilled workers. Since trade relations between the two nations began, Japan always has spent more in the United States than we have bought there. Last year, which admittedly was exceptional, the Japs spent nearly $3 in the United States for every dollar we spent with them.

The Morning Avalanche, of course, does not suggest that our people sacrifice principle for dollars. But, for the present at least, it cannot see the principle which would justify the sacrifice, and which would intensify a bitterness which easily could lead to war.

A Great Texan Passes Away

DEATH of John G. Hardin, 83-year-old philanthropist, has taken from Texas one of her greatest, widely known and best loved citizens.

But as he approached death, it must have been with the consoling thought that the world had been made a better place to live because of his having been in it; that generations unborn will be the beneficiaries of his career as long as civilization as we know it is likely to endure.

He was one of the few men who have accumulated great wealth without having aroused questioning envy. He became one of an even smaller group who knew what to do with his accumulation, so that it might become a continuing blessing to mankind.

Starting from a dugout home at Burkburnett, he displayed business shrewdness which made him a wealthy man long before discovery of oil skyrocketed his holdings. Then, as he neared the close of his life he began the disposition of his great wealth with the result that orphanages, hospitals, schools and other institutions designed to benefit man have been given assurance of the perpetuity of their work.

His, indeed, has been a career of service, and although the world has lost his personality, he has given to it a spirit which will not die.

With Our Contemporaries

"Being still in the age limit of the young people who are 'going to the dogs' I have done a little delving into the pasts of some of our respectable and leading citizens to see if we are so much wilder than they were at our ages," Buford Davenport admits in the Abernathy Review." We aren't."

"One advantage of being the forgotten man' is that he is never called on to head all the petitions in town, make after dinner speeches and say nice things about a candidate whom he knows ought to be in jail," A. E. Richards says in the Ropes Plainsman.

"Those representatives of big business, who keep howling for 'retrenchment' of government spending, are likely to change their tune if and when that happens," H. G. Richards points out in the Anton News.

"Happiness often arrives as a back order of merchandise shorted from the regular shipments of grief, worry and futile hopes," Douglas Meador says in the Matador Tribune.

The One-Minute Sermon

Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.

For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting.—Galatians 6, 7 and 8.

STRIKEOUT RECORD

Thirty strikeouts in a single baseball game is quite a record—at least nothing better has been heard of in the St. Louis area.

Leslie Mueller, pitcher of the Belleville High Maroons, performed that feat in a 5-to-4 12-inning victory over Livingston, May 10, 1937. And on top of that, just to prove it wasn't a freak, three days later Mueller followed with 16 strikeouts against Murphysboro and won, 12-1, in 7 innings, allowing just one hit. That made a total of 46 strikeouts in 19 innings—and, needless to say, aroused the interest of Big League scouts.

CONFIDENTIAL REPORT

CRIME FILE ON BOLITHO BLANE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

BOLITHO BLANE, British financier, disappears from yacht owned by his principal competitor, CARLTON ROCKSAVAGE, off Miami. A note found in Blane's cabin, addressed to his secretary NICHOLAS STODART, indicates suicide since he faced bankruptcy. A memo written by Stodart shows Blane's company stock, ARGUS SUDS, closing at a new low day.

Other passengers aboard yacht GOLDEN GULL are MISS FERRI ROCKSAVAGE, Rocksavage's daughter; LADY WELTER; REGINALD JOCELYN, MRS. JOCELYN, Lady Welter's daughter and son-in-law; the BISHOP OF BUDE; COUNT LUGI POSODINI and INOSUKE HAYASHI.

Detective Officer KETTERING, boarding the yacht at Miami, finds strange marks on the curtain. Upon examination, Rocksavage admits inviting Blane aboard to effect an amalgamation of their companies. It is also revealed that Lady Welter is heavily interested in Rocksavage stocks. Next, the Bishop, under questioning, faints when Stodart enters the room. Subsequently, Hayashi reveals he was aboard endeavoring to sell a huge soap monopoly either to Blane or to Rocksavage. Posodini avers he is aboard merely for pleasure.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER IX

From the foregoing statements it is obvious that, as we have a note in Blane's own hand, scribbled on the back of the leaf torn from Stodart's pocketbook with the share quotations on it, which was sent down to him at 7:45, he must still have been alive at that time.

The steward, Ringbottom, entered his cabin at 8:30 and discovered him to be missing. Therefore, Bolitho Blane must have been murdered between 7:45 and 8:30. The situation of the cabin steward's pantry and Ringbottom's stateroom, backed by that of the carpenter, Jenks, rules out the possibility of the crime having been committed by any member of the crew and we must, therefore, assume that the guilty party is either Carlton Rocksavage or one of his guests.

After I had questioned Count Posodini, Detective Officer Neame told me that he felt certain that this man's face was familiar to him, and that we had him on our criminal records. Every effort should, therefore, be made to obtain ful particulars regarding him at once.

Having taken statements from all the guests and the only members of the crew who might possibly have been concerned in the affair I proceeded to analyze their statements with a view to seeing how far they vouch for each other, and the limited time in each case, when they were on their own, during the period, 7:45-8:30, during which the murder must have been committed.

TIMES ACCOUNTED FOR BY PRESENCE IN THE LOUNGE

Analysis of people eliminating each other from suspicion by their presence in the lounge from time when Blane was known to be alive until he was reported missing.

At 7:45—Mrs. Jocelyn, Count Posidini, Mr. Rocksavage, Mr. Stodart.

At 7:45 to 8:00—Steward, Rocksavage, Stodart.

At 8:00 to 8:05—Steward, Rocksavage, Stodart, the Bishop.

At 8:05 to 8:10—Steward, Rocksavage, Stodart, Bishop, Lady Welter.

At 8:10 to 8:15—Steward, Bishop, Stodart, Lady Welter.

At 8:15 to 8:25—Steward, Stodard, Bishop, Lady Welter, Mr. Hayashi.

At 8:25 to 8:30—Steward, Stodart, Bishop, Lady Welter, Hayashi, Posodini.

At 8:30 to 8:32—Steward, Stodart, Bishop, Lady Welter, Hayashi, Posodini, and Mr. and Mrs. Jocelyn.

At 8:32 to 8:33—As above with cabin steward who reported Blane missing.

UNVOUCHED FOR TIMES

The following table shows the number of minutes in the period 7:45 to 8:30 when each member of the party was not under direct observation of one of the others and, therefore, at liberty to commit the crime.

MRS. JOCELYN: In lounge till 7:45. Returned, changed to lounge 8:30. Unvouched for time ful period of 45 minutes.

COUNT POSODINI: In lounge till 7:45. Returned, changed to lounge at 8:25. Unvouched for time (in period) 40 minutes.

MR. ROCKSAVAGE: In lounge till 8:10. Returned, changed to lounge at 8:35. Unvouched for time (in period) 20 minutes.

MR. STODART: In lounge at 7:40. Remained there till 8:33. Unvouched for time (in period) nil.

BISHOP OF BUDE: Came below with Lady Welter at 7:05. In lounge changed at 8:00. Unvouched for time (in period) 15 minutes.

LADY WELTER: Came below with the Bishop at 7:05. In lounge changed at 8:05. Unvouched for time (in period) 20 minutes.

MR. HAYASHI: Went to cabin at 6:10. In lounge changed at 8:15. Unvouched for time (in period) 30 minutes.

MR. JOCELYN: Came below with Miss Rocksavage 7:30 (approx.). In lounge changed at 8:30. Unvouched for time full period of 45 minutes.

MISS ROCKSAVAGE: Came below with Mr. Jocelyn 7:15 (approx.). In lounge changed at 8:40. Unvouched for time full period of 45 minutes.

The foregoing tables rule out the lounge steward, Cane, as he was only absent from the lounge for two periods of two minutes each during the time under review, and in each of these had to go down to Blane's cabin and come up again, and so he could not possibly have had time to perpetuate the crime in either.

The only other person who is entirely ruled out is the secretary, Nicholas Stodart, as he was in the lounge during the whole period under review.

Rocksavage and all his other guests were, however, absent from the lounge for periods of from 15 to 45 minutes between 7:45 and 8:30, during which they might have committed the murder.

I then proceeded to make an analysis of possible motives.

POSSIBLE MOTIVES

MRS. JOCELYN: Nil, as far as is known at the moment.

COUNT POSODINI: Nil, as far as is known at the moment.

MR. ROCKSAVAGE: Blane's death will send the shares of the Blane companies down to zero and, in their present precarious state, possibly cause them to crash altogether. That would suit Rocksavage's book far better than the proposed amalgamation. Blane also stated his fear that Rocksavage might attempt his life before he died. Motive in Rocksavage's case is, therefore, strong.

THE BISHOP OF BUDE: Nil, as far as is known at the moment.

LADY WELTER: As the largest holder in the Rocksavage companies she stands to benefit by Blane's death. She may have other assets outside the Rocksavage companies, however, so, although there is motive in her case it is weak.

MR. HAYASHI: Nil, as far as is known at the moment but, as he is concerned in the world soap interest, he may well have a motive which has not yet come to light.

MR. JOCELYN: Nil, as far as is known at the moment but, as a dependent of Lady Welter, his interest marches with hers, so it is possible that he might have acted at her instigation.

MISS ROCKSAVAGE: Nil, as far as is known at the moment.

Having analyzed the information gained from first statements, as above, I then went below to examine the dead man's property. An inventory disclosed the usual travel apparel, dress suits, shoes, shirts, hats, etc., and in addition two tins (100 each) Balkan Sobranie cigarets, one bottle Phensic, one bottle Gum Tragacanth, a 22 Scott Webley automatic, unloaded, and bullets for same, an electric torch, and a postcard addressed only "Bolitho Blane, Esq." found in right-hand top dressing table drawer.

The last item on the inventory is of considerable interest as it comes from the Japanese, Inosuke Hayashi. It is on a yacht postcard and, therefore, written after Hayashi's arrival on board. Presumably it was delivered to Blane some time betwen his arrival on the yacht at 7:05 and his death, which is known to have occured between 7:45 and 8:30.

Griggs Points To Importance Of Signing Seal Contributions

A Lubbock resident who contributed to the Christmas seal sale but neglected to sign his name should inform the Texas Tuberculosis association or Joseph R. Griggs, chairman of the drive here, so that he may be accredited, it was explained by drive officials.

Griggs urged that persons on the mailing list of the association either use the two sheets of seals or sell them to someone else, at any rate to "feel responsible for the sending of $2 for the seals to the association." Half the contribution will be returned to the county where it was subscribed and will be used for the fight on tuberculosis there, he explained.

The Colorado river aqueduct, now under construction, will bring water 242 miles across the desert to Los Angeles and surrounding cities.

The coffee tree is believed to have developed originally in Ethiopia.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE three wise men who scout the economic scene for the President can hardly believe their eyes, but their charts record faint signs of an upturn for the first time since August. Pending further confirmation, they haven't yet reported to the head man.

Prices have dropped sufficiently in certain sensitive commodities—copper, hides, rayon, textiles, shoes, clothing—so that buying has been resumed sooner than anticipated. Heavy inventories are being liquidated in some lines, notably steel, and there is a nibbling of new orders at the regional plants. The normal result should be for the descending index to halt and level off for a while, probably two or three months. What happens then to furnish solid and permanent underpinning for the economic structure will determine the long-time movement—another recovery or depression period.

Several bright prospects—they are no more than that—raise their hopes. Business and industry may touch 1929 peaks under the inspiration of (1) an entirely likely billion dollar rearmament program; (2) large scale housing projects; (3) payments of unemployment insurance beginning January 1; (4) honest teamwork between government, capital and labor; (5) pro-business legislation on Capitol hill. Your guess on this is as good as theirs.

BUILDUP: Vice-President Garner's anti-Roosevelt associates on Capitol hill saw nothing funny in the President's letter hinting that the deer-slayer from Texas was only a tame cowpuncher. The more capitious thought they detected a grimace behind the literary smile.

With or without his consent Mr. G's friends envisage him as their champion in any showdown with the White House over the party's direction and candidate in 1940. They haven't forgotten how his one-man "revolt" blasted the Presidential program at the last session, and they count on a similar performance at the regular January convocation. They look to him rather than to Mr. Roosevelt for leadership. Cloakroom conspiracies buzz with suggestions for giving the V. P. a popular build-up, especially as a two-fisted fellow whose age hasn't affected his political arteries. The deer hunt—and the photographs—were part of the plot to lug home the venison as a rival dish to rare White House beef.

COUPS: President Roosevelt has apparently nipped two Senate investigations that might have ruffled important feathers at an embarrassing moment. Even enemies on Capitol hill admire his strategy.

A bi-partisan resolution for airing Communication commission scandals got unanimous approval of the Wheeler committee last year, but was stymied for lack of funds through Jim Farley's intervention. It is generally understood that the taint of politics permeated the place till a few months ago. Mr. Roosevelt immediately named Frank McNinch as clean-up man. His reforms are proceeding so far and fast that the inquiry's sponsors seem disposed to nolle prosse their indictments—at least temporarily.

Senator Wheeler's railroad quiz was edging toward insurance companies' handling of several major reorganizations—also toward a public study of the government ownership question. But Mr. Roosevelt, though sharing the senator's indignation over rail duplication and finances, went out of his way to warn that too drastic medicine might damage insurance firms (which are loaded up with government securities, too)—and the "windows and orphans." So don't look for any sensational coups on Capitol hill.

INDEPENDENCE: The Roosevelt-LaGuardia flirtation hasn't cracked up completely, but the No. 1 men in Washington and New York aren't the political sweethearts the public imagines them to be. It appears to be one of those off-again-on-again romances so common in this temperamental period.

The President apparently resents his old friend's new political prominence, looks upon him as a threat to any schemes he may entertain for New York in 1938 and for the country in 1940. In signing up as a member of the American Labor party, Mr. LaGuardia served notice that he did not intend to dangle as a tail to the New Deal kite. F.D.R. probably disliked, too, recent suggestions from the LaGuardia camp that he sought to steal last-minute credit for the mayor's anti-Tammany triumph.

The outcome indicates that sometimes the Homer of American politics can nod. The President, deeply offended the Farley-Wagner-Mahoney faction by his silent cheers for LaGuardia, but his sideline support hasn't budged the New Yorker from his rock of nonpartisan independence.

DEEP: Americans recently returned from Europe report that the Duke of Windsor is still a honeymooning husband. He can't bear to be separated from his wife for a minute.

At a dinner in Paris he fidgeted and fussed because he could not see his lady, who was sitting across the table but hidden by a floral centerpiece. "Where is she? Where is she?" he asked again and again. Finally, the host ordered that the flowers be moved so that his royal view would not be obstructed.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

FINANCIAL insiders learn that Washington is working on a railroad plan behind the scenes apart from the freight rate increase which is being considered by the Interstate Commerce commission.

The railroads have pruned their equipment purchases almost to the vanishing point as a result of the recession plus higher wage and material costs. This has of course accentuated the slump in heavy industry. In an effort to get the wheels turning again, an arrangement has been proposed whereby the government—via the R.F.C.—would underwrite consolidated purchases of locomotives and cars for all the railroads, the equipment to be assigned wherever it is most needed. The money thus spent would become an obligation of all the roads, to be paid for when possible on some pro rata basis not yet determined. Meanwhile any temporary advances of cash from the R.F.C. would be refunded by a government-guaranteed issue of equipment trust certificates to be sold to the public. Thus the government would not be spending the money itself.

This ingenious idea to stimulate heavy industry and replace obsolete rolling stock at the railroads' ultimate expense is likely to be announced with a flourish in the near future.

DRAMATIZE: The Interstate Commerce commission has always prided itself on its independence of political pressure—meaning especially White House pressure. Hence the heat currently applied by the President to expedite its decision on the railroads' application for a 15 per cent lift in freight rates is naturally irritating to its members.

Because of this, railroad men would normally be nervous for fear White House influence might work in reverse. This time they aren't. Inside word is that all but three of the commissioners—a clear majority—are already sold on the urgent necessity of granting a substantial rate increase. However, they insist on going through the motions of hearing the shippers' side of the argument so they cannot be charged with basing their decision on one-sided evidence.

Rail leaders aren't in the least discouraged by the commission's rejection of their appeal for an emergency rate increase on five days' notice. They hadn't the slightest expectation that it would be granted when they made it. It was just a gesture, designed to dramatize their plight in the public mind. They will privately be well satisfied if they can get action by February, which now seems reasonably possible.

WARNED: Several people known to have been regular informants of the LaFollette group were spotted at last week's New York sessions of the National Association of Manufacturers. They were escorted politely but firmly to the nearest exit.

Others were deftly blanketed when asking embarrassing questions. The N.A.M. publicity staff was on the job warning the questionees not to answer the queries of certain individuals.

FISH and MILK SUPERSTITION

No facts of physiology or food chemistry substantiate the milk-fish fallacy. Experience of years disproves it. It probably originated in days before refrigeration when people who became ill from eating fish, which was not strictly fresh, chanced also to drink milk at the same meal.

Foods are made up of chemically inert substances and react with each other little, if at all, when mixed in the stomach. The idea of their combining to form mysterious poisons in the body is the product of a lurid imagination unhampered by facts.

Trade Advances On Gift Buying

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—As shoppers swarmed into stores to buy Christmas gifts and winter merchandise, retail trade this week jumped 4 to 10 per cent above last week for the country as a whole, and ran 3 to 12 per cent above last year, Dun and Bradstreets reported today.

"Earlier lag in the buying of Christmas and seasonable merchandise was replaced by a concerted forward lunge at most leading centers of distribution," said the credit agency.

Buying of gifts in the New England states lifted retail sales up to last year's level for the first time in several weeks, it was reported. Retail sales in the East were 4 to 10 per cent, in the Northwest up 5 to 12 per cent, South 3 to 8 per cent, Southwest 4 to 10 per cent, and Pacific coast 2 to 5 per cent.

Funeral Services For Seminole Mayor Are Conducted Friday

SEMINOLE, Dec. 17. (Special) — Last rites for C. C. Cothes, 55, mayor of Seminole, were held this afternoon. He died unexpectedly Thursday of a heart attack and acute indigestion.

Cothes had been in the drug-store business here for several years, having recently taken his son, R. W. Cothes, into partnership in the store. He came here in 1909. When the town was incorporated about a year ago, Cothes was chosen mayor, and had been president of the chamber of commerce and was active in civic work.

TARZAN'S QUEST. No. 120 By Edgar Rice Burroughs

When Modek the slave was gone, Jane admitted Annette to her cell. A few minutes later, they were startled by a thud in the corridor, as though someone had fallen. Then the door opened and a voice spoke: "Woman, are you there?" It was the voice of Ogdii.

"Hurry," he urged. "We go now—by the secret tunnel, into the forest." "But what of the slave? He will see us." Jane reminded him. Ogdii pointed down. Across the doorway lay the body of Modek. "He looks, but he does not see!" the Mavuru chuckled.

The girls shuddered and pressed on behind Ogdii through dark corridors. Already Jane's mind was occupied with the problem of eluding the warrior once they were in the forest. At last Ogdii halted and whispered: "The tunnel entrance is through this chamber."

Warily he pushed open the door as the two girls followed blindly. Instantly hands reached out of the dark and seized them. Jane struggled to free herself, but she knew it was futile. Their plan to escape had been foiled. Now the last hope had vanished!

We will have our regular sale the 14th and 21st, but we know that everyone will be busy Friday, the 24th, so we have planned not to have a sale on that date, but every Tuesday and Friday thereafter.
During the holidays the need for good cattle will be greater than ever, so we need your help in supplying this demand.
Am quoting you the prices we had in our auction Tuesday, 14th: Good bald face cows, $3 to $5.50; good Jersey cows, $3.50 to $4.50; good bald face calves, $6.00 to $7.00; cutter cows, $2.50 to $3.50; canner cows, $1.50 to $2.50; Jersey rannies, $3.50 to $4.00; springer and milk cows in demand, selling $35.00 to $80.00; good bald face bulls, $4.50 to $5.50; light Jersey bulls, $4.00 to $4.50; mixed butcher cattle, mostly from $4.00 to $5.00. Market all over the country looks stronger for Holidays.
Our New Year Resolution: We shall be prepared and equipped to serve you better in 1938 than we have in 1937. Remember, we are bonded for your protection. The little business is just as important to us as big business, but we can take care of either.

Brownfield Host At Santa Party

(Special To The Avalanche)

BROWNFIELD, Dec. 17—More than 5,000 children, accompanied by their parents, representing Terry, Yoakum, and Gaines counties, thronged Brownfield's streets today and participated in the giant Santa Claus celebration. It was sponsored by the chamber of commerce.

A parade more than a mile long was headed by a squad of highway safety patrolmen and the high school band.

Behind a Santa Claus float the children rode and walked.

More than 5,000 packages of Christmas candy were distributed and all children were permitted to attend the Rialto theater free.

Kansas City Strike

occupants of a motorcar near 15th and Blue Ridge road. Later two of the five men were arrested. They said they had stopped the group to demand that the Ford workers be searched for weapons when the fighting started.

After the melee, officers searched the workers but found no weapons. Witnesses said the only guns seen were those carried by the constables.

"At Least" 20 Fights

Police Captain Hugh Dougherty said 82 persons were arrested by his men and charged with disturbing the peace. He estimated 22 more were being held under similar charges by county officials.

Dougherty said the police received 10 calls for patrol cars during the disturbances and estimated the total number of fights and disturbances as at "least 20."

Tear gas released at one of the outbreaks overcame a man who gave his name as Lawrence Damiano, 26, a Ford plant maintenance employe. He was taken to a hospital.

More than 300 pickets have been arrested during the first week of the strike. All, however, were released without charges.

The strike was called by the U.A.W.A., which charged the Ford company discriminated against union men in re-employing workers after the seasonal layoff.

Approximately 1,000 men are employed there now.

LEADING ISSUES FALTER

NEW YORK, Dec. 17. (AP)—Buying forces turned thumbs down on the stock market today and leading issues fell fractions to a point or more.

It was a creeping decline, however with transfers of 792,760 shares being the smallest for a 5-hour session since Dec. 1. They compared with 1,033,830 yesterday. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .3 of a point at 45.2.

Gold mining favorites and a handful of specialties contested the trend, but steels, motors and coppers slipped from the start.

The reversal was attributed partly to the fact some speculative contingents cashed profits accruing in the past two recovery days. Also, further year-end tax selling dribbled into the list.

Most financial quarters held to the opinion the business recession may be scraping bottom, but there was disagreement as to when an upturn would get underway.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 17. (AP)—Increased hedging and scattered commission house selling depressed cotton prices 4 to 6 points here today. The closing tone was steady.

Better foreign cables than expected and a mild demand absorbed overnight selling orders at the start and initial transactions were 2 to 3 points net higher. Soon after the start, however, recent buyers took profit and hedge sales became more numerous as the session progressed.

At no time was the selling aggressive but the lack of sustaining support kept prices on the downgrade throughout most of the day.

Occasional flurries of covering were encountered but were supplied at small rallies. Towards the close trade demand erased part of the loss and last prices were about mid-way between the highs and lows.

Jan. contracts finished at 8.26-bid, March at 8.35@8.36, May at 8.36@8.37, July at 8.39, Oct. at 8.47-bid and Dec. at 8.49-bid. Spots were strong and middling declined 5 points to 8.35 on sales of 4,956 bales.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 17. (AP)—The advancing trend in cotton was checked today. March sold off from 8.30@8.20, closing at 8.21, with final prices 5 to 8 points net lower.

The market opened 1 to 4 points higher. Demand was less aggressive following rallies of about $3.00 a bale above the December lows. The advance attracted hedge selling and realizing but trade buying absorbed the offerings. The market turned quiet and fluctuations in late trading were narrow.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 17. (AP)—The average price of middling cotton today at ten southern spot markets was 8.22 cents a pound; average for the past thirty market days 7.98 cents a pound.

Wage-Hour Bill

in the Democratic party carrying out the specific pledge of its platform to do something about wages and hours.

"The motion to recommit is a deliberate stab at the bill because I have never seen a bill sent back to committee that ever saw the light of day again."

The action recommitting the bill saved conference committees a difficult task. Their job would have been to work out compromises on the points at which the measure varied from that of the senate.

Two Bills Contrasted

As perfected before the recommittal vote, the house bill would have established a one-man administrative agency to fix minimum wages of not more than 40 cents an hour and maximum hours of not less than 40 per week, upon the recommendation of a committee of investigation.

By contrast the senate bill would establish a five-man board, an independent agency, to do its own investigating and arrive at its own conclusions, within the same limitations specified by the house measure.

Speaker Bankhead and Majority Leader Rayburn, tears in their eyes, had "nothing to say" about the defeat.

Nanking's civilians, having suffered a fortnight's looting, burning and impressment of men by the Chinese military, actually greeted the first appearance of the Japanese conquerers with timid cheers. But their hopes of peace soon turned to despair. There was renewed hope today that the period of violence would be ended with General Matsui himself in the conquered capital.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Dec. 17. (AP)—Recovering from ill effects of sudden tumbles in Liverpool quotations, the Chicago wheat market scored moderate gains at times today. The outcome averaged a trifle net higher, despite late selling to realize profits.

Some estimates, issued after futures trading had ended, put export business in United States wheat today at 1,150,000 bushels, including 150,000 bushels of Pacific coast white wheat. There were also scattered trans-Atlantic takings of Canadian wheat.

Helping to impart late firmness to wheat prices here was an authoritative unofficial report that the condition of all wheat in Kansas is but 70 per cent of normal. Washington official reports that downward revisions of Argentine government wheat production figures appeared likely were likewise given special notice.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were ¼ off to ⅜ up compared with yesterday's finish, Dec. 94¼@94⅜, May 90⅞@91, July 85⅝@85½, corn unchanged to ⅛ lower, May 58¾@58⅞, July 58⅞, oats ⅛ advanced, rye ½ to ⅜ down, and provisions showing 7 to 15 cents setback.

Farmers Capture Two And Turn Them Over To County Officers

Two men were being held in the county jail Friday night pending investigation today of assertedly attempted theft of maize from a farm near Shallowater. One man was captured first by Henry Mahoney and another farmer and held for Deputy Sheriffs James P. Posey and Cap Moore. Later the man's brother was captured after he was fired upon by the farmers.

It was not known Friday night whether charges would be filed against the men. It was indicated charges might not be filed because of difficulty in making their cases actionable for anything more than trespass, officers said.

Senate Approves Farm Measure

quired the secretary of agriculture to ascertain the cost of producing any crop in which there was a surplus problem, and to fix a minimum price at which it could be sold on the domestic market.

Secretary Wallace recently had issued a warning against farm price-fixing proposals, contending they would lead to regimentation and Fascism.

Step Nearer Vote

Rejection of the McAdoo bill brought the senate a step nearer a vote on the "ever normal granary" measure, which provides for control of major crops and storage of surpluses under government loans for use in years of lean harvests.

The chamber voted quickly, 57 to 29, against a motion to send the latter bill back to its agriculture committee.

Earlier, the senate voted to establish four regional research laboratories to find new uses for farm products.

Authorized Laboratories

It approved an amendment by Senator Bilbo (D-Miss.) to the "ever normal granary" bill and thus authorized $2,000,000 for the laboratories in their first year and $1,000,000 annually thereafter.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) hailed Bilbo's amendment as "the most constructive contribution to the possibility of farm relief that has been made here in four weeks of rather amazing debate."

The proposed laboratories would be established in the Northeast, Midwest, South and Far West, their exact location depending upon which states came forward first with offers to furnish sites and contribute $250,000 each toward the cost of buildings.

Suit Is Instituted To Recover U. S. Taxes

DALLAS, Dec. 17. (AP)—A suit under which the late John G. Hardin, millionaire philanthropist, and Buckner Orphans home, seek to recover $6,648.96 in taxes paid on the estate of Hardin's deceased wife was filed against Internal Revenue Collector W. A. Thomas today.

The plaintiffs contended that at the time of her death in September, 1935, Mrs. Hardin's benefactions equalled her estate, and that therefore she was without a net estate on which taxes were due.

The Buckner home is a party to the suit by reason of the fact that in 1931, the Hardins bequeathed it $1,250,000, in return for which they were to have a life income of $62,500 per year.

The suit was filed by Harry Weeks of Fort Worth, attorney for the plaintiffs.

Condition of Mrs. Johnson, a patient in a Breckenridge hospital, was regarded as critical. She received a double fracture of the pelvis and was suffering from shock and internal injuries. Taylor was dismissed from the Breckenridge hospital Wednesday night after treatment for a cut over his eye.

Sherman Man Held On Charge Of Theft; Nine Cars Said Stolen

FORT WORTH, Dec. 17. (AP)—Bowen McClure, 47-year-old Sherman wrecking yard owner, was in county jail today charged with receiving and concealing stolen property as city detectives continued their investigation into the activities of a man alleged to have stolen and disposed of nine automobiles.

Johnny Broaca Denies Charge Of Cruelty In Divorce Court

BARNSTABLE, Mass., Dec. 17. (AP)—Johnny Broaca, suspended Yankees' pitcher, told under cross-examination today how he had written a hospital to have his wife moved from a private room to a ward because "I couldn't afford it."

He declared his wife cried without any words and added "if it was cross" to ask her to cook breakfast "then I was cross."

He denied telling Mrs. Broaca she was his slave.

Yesterday Broaca said he was willing to resume living with his wife and son.

What Relief! Chick Meehan Has No More Grid Worries

NEW YORK, Dec. 17. (AP)—John Francis Meehan is out of football coaching to stay.

Popular Chick, who ended a career that began at Syracuse in 1919 when he withdrew from his Manhattan college post this week, admitted as much today. He looked out from the office of his construction company and the rest of the world looked fine.

"I don't care what sort of an offer I might get, and what the job might or might not be I wouldn't be interested," he said.

He likes this new life too well. Now that he has decided to devote all his time to his business, he isn't kept awake nights by worries over finding replacements for graduating seniors, or by trying to figure out what backfield combination will work best.

Public Works Show Gain In November

NEW YORK, Dec. 17. (AP)—A reversal of the declining trend of publicly-financed construction was indicated by a 20 per cent increase in expenditures for projects undertaken in November, a survey by F. W. Dodge corp., building statisticians, said today.

Privately financed construction in the 37 states east of the Rocky mountains continued to lag, averaging 15 per cent under October, a more than seasonal decline, the survey said.

Contracts from all sources for the month were estimated at $198,464,600, a decline of 2 per cent from October and of 5 per cent from November, 1936.

The survey pointed out new contracts for the New York World's fair during the current month were not responsible for the increase in public work, accounting for only $599,800 of the November total. However, it was expected the project would have greater influence upon future contracts since only $11,550,500 of the estimated total of around $100,000,000 has been awarded to date.

Contracts for the first eleven months totaled $2,704,672,400 against $2,475,600,300 for the like period last year, a gain of 9 per cent, the survey showed.

Government Political Internes See Patient Past Four-Month Mark; Enthusiasm Is High

By EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Thirty-seven internes in federal government—youthful Phi Beta Kappas working on the body politic without pay—saw their patient past the four-month mark today.

The students, brought here from colleges all over the country by the National Institute of Public Affairs, have contracted nothing more contagious than enthusiasm.

Tremendous Interest Cited

"Everyone doesn't know it," said Dr. Henry Reining, jr., their educational director, "but there is a tremendous collegiate interest in government."

More than 300 graduates, after being recommended by their schools, applied for the 37 jobs as full time assistants to high government officials. None of those selected has quit or been fired.

They work just about everywhere except the White House and the Supreme court. One is even an assistant to a senator.

Hold Roundtable Clinic

Once a week the internes—(their official title) — hold a roundtable clinic and theoretically operate on Uncle Sam. Details of the operations are not public.

All sorts of students make up the interne staff. Nine are women. One man was the captain of his football team; he's bucking the line at the federal reserve.

Interneship Ends Next June

Their interneship is over next June. Some will go back to school, others into business, and still more into government service—with pay.

The institute is a nonpartisan outfit. It's president is Louis Brownlow, chairman of President Roosevelt's committee on government reorganization. The chairman is Frederick M. Davenport, a former Republican representative from New York.

Early next month the institute intends to send out a call for 1938-39 internes.

Installation Ceremonies Of Knights Templars Scheduled

Installation ceremonies for newly elected officers of Lubbock Commandry of Knight Templar will be held the night of January 10 at the hall in Citizens National Bank building, according to announcement Friday by Hugh J. McClellan, recorder-elect.

At the same time, McClellan disclosed that J. H. Moore had been accorded the unusual distinction of being named recorder emeritus after having served the chapter as recorder for many years. Moore has been in ill health several months.

New officers are John M. Denman, commander; W. Hurley Carpenter, generalissimo; Fred H. Higbee, captain general; Altus Sansom, senior warden; H. B. Bryan, junior warden; V. L. Doughtie, prelate; L. C. Ellis, treasurer; and McClellan.

Douglas F. Pounds is retiring commander of the chapter.

City Election's Cost To Be Low

Cost to the city of holding the parking meter election here Jan. 11 will be less than $100, city officials said Friday.

The estimate was given in answer, it was explained, to some reports that the poll will cost $500 or more.

One Polling Place

Only one polling place will be opened, that at the city hall, and serving it will be three judges and the number of clerks needed to expedite the count. The only remaining cost will be the printing of ballots, of which there will be 3,000 to 5,000, depending on the indicated vote.

Judges will be named at the semi-monthly meeting of the city commission next Thursday, but ballots will not be printed until a few days before election, officials said.

Officials also announced this morning that any citizen will be qualified to vote who holds a poll tax receipt issued either for 1937 or 1938.

They added further that strenuous efforts will be made to obtain a large poll, although specific plans in that direction are to be worked out.

Supply Of Nickels Prove Puzzle To Officials And Bankers; No Shortage Experienced In City

Lubbock officials and bankers are unable to understand why the city has not experienced a nickel shortage.

In spite of the immense number of nickels which are required in the operation of parking meters in the city, banks have been shipping the coins out at the rate of about $1,000 a month. They are sent to the federal reserve bank at Dallas.

The question is bewildering because, during the course of a holiday month, approximately 60,000 nickels are dropped in the meters, sometimes with as many as 6,000 or 8,000 of the coins tied up in the devices or in process of counting at the same time. Yet not once since meters have been installed, according to information to officials, has it been necessary to bring shipments in nor has there ever been a shortage.

The only explanation that officials could see, they said, was that so much new money is brought into Lubbock from outside sources that it has meant a continuous surplus of the five-cent pieces.
