

1935 COTTON PROGRAM IS EXPLAINED

By Joe C. Williams, County Agent

More On 1935 Cotton Program I have had numerous inquiries about the contents of the 1935 cotton program, as to the changes if any that are to be made in the 1935 cotton contracts.

I quote you a letter from Mr. A. L. Smith, special agent, cotton, for Texas.

The letter:

To All Agents in Cotton Counties, and Assistants in Cotton Adjustment A. A. A. Cotton Letter No. 10

We are transmitting to you the following telegram which is self explanatory:

"The accepted interpretation of Section Seven of the Contract and that under which we have operated and which is to the effect that landlords in good faith endeavor to keep the same number of tenants on their farms but not necessarily the same identical tenants still stands and there will be no change in this interpretation."

We also quote the following excerpt from a letter from the Cotton Production Section relative to the above ruling:

"There is nothing in the cotton retraction contract to prevent a landlord from renting the land to another tenant in 1935 or to prevent the tenant from renting land from another landlord in 1935, providing the tenant had only a one year lease in 1934. If a change is made the landlord, however, maintains the same number of tenants and these tenants must have the same status as in 1934. In other words, it would be a violation of the contract for him to change from managing share tenants to share croppers or from share croppers to day hands in order to secure for himself a greater share of the benefit payments."

Reference is also made to Cotton Letter No. 7, paragraph 4, which reads as follows:

"Some are confused about Section 7 of the voluntary contract. Our information is that this paragraph does not bind the landlord to keep the same tenants, but that it does bind him to keep the same number of tenants in the same status as in 1934 or if farms were rented on one-third and one-fourth basis he agreed in 1934 contract to keep one-third and one-fourth tenants."

Yours very truly,

A. L. Smith, Special Agent, Cotton Terracing Demonstrations

Eight men were present during the day at terracing, demonstration on the Doc Thurmond farm at Patricia Tuesday.

Another demonstration will be held Tuesday at the R. S. Spraberry farm in Klondike School District. All interested farmers are invited to attend the demonstration in which the full operation of running terracing lines will be given to all present. This includes adjusting the Terracing Level, and actual running lines, in other words the terracing program complete with the exception of actual building of terraces.

Other demonstrations will be given in communities that want the work, in terracing or water leveling the rows.

More Cotton Checks

Forty-nine checks were received in the office this week representing $1711.00. These checks were second rentals and parity checks making a total received in this county of 1555 checks on the second rentals and the parity payments.

"Where Texans Are Texans"

The Dawson County Courier

VOL. 5 LAMESA, DAWSON COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1935 NO. 5

Lamesa Federal Loan & Savings Ass'n Is Backed by the Gov't

Savings invested in shares of the Lamesa Federal Savings and Loan Association of Lamesa, Texas are insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, an agency of the United States government, W. V. P. Baker, president of the association announced today.

The Federal Savings and Loan Corporation, created by Congress last June, affords protection for investors in thrift and home financing institutions under a different method than that in 1933, insuring depositors in commercial banks. The former operates in the long term savings and home financing field to insure the safety of the investor's capital whereas, the latter insures bank deposits.

"The safety feature now made available by Federal insurance is open to all savings and loan, building and loan, and homestead associations, and cooperative banks which apply for insurance, provided that they are approved as to solvency and operating methods by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board," Mr. Baker said.

"The financial breakdown of 19 months ago disclosed an imperative need for the protection of long term savings invested for income in the thrift and home financing institutions of the country, which aggregate the vast total of $7,000,000,000 to eight billion dollars held by some ten million people of all classes and occupations, largely wage earners and salaried workers."

Lamesa Divides Series With ACC Freshmen

The Lamesa Golden Tornadoes basketball team held the Abilene Christian College freshmen Kittens to an even break in the two games played on the local gym last Friday and Saturday night. The Tornadoes won the game Friday night by a score of 51 to 38 and the Kittens won Saturday night 49-41.

Both games were hard fought and close throughout most of the time. Extraordinary ability at hitting the goal was also a great feature.

Key School To Present Play Friday Night

Key High School will present a three act comedy, Friday night, February 22, entitled, "A Sweeping Victory". The comedy is built around a thrilling football romance having a bit of "big town" politics mixed in occasionally, and is ultra modern in every respect.

A small admission of 5 and 10 cents will be charged. Reserve seats may be had at 15 cents each. Such reservations may be made at the Key Service Station. The proceeds will be used for track and play ground equipment.

Everyone is invited to attend.

Income Tax Collector Here March 1st

In a letter received this week from W. A. Thomas, Collector of Internal Revenue, Treasury Department, with office at Dallas, Mr. Thomas states that due to certain changes effecting the filing of income tax returns embodied in the Revenue Act of 1934 income tax payers are likely to be confused.

For this reason, Deputy Collector Cam L. Fannin will be in Lamesa for the purpose of assisting taxpayers in correctly filing their returns. He will be in the lobby of the Dal Paso Hotel, Lamesa, Texas, from 8:30 A. M. to 5:00 P. M. on the 1st of March, 1935, where he will be glad to confer or assist anyone who wishes to avail himself of his help.

60 PEOPLE HEAR GOVERNMENT MAN TUESDAY

Sixty men and women attended a joint luncheon of the Lamesa Luncheon Club and the Lions Club, Tuesday noon to hear the Hon. Sam T. Strauss of Washington, D. C., explain the features of the Lamesa Savings and Loan Association.

Mr. Strauss emphasized two phases of the local association: Investment, or depositing money for savings at reasonable guarantee for dividends, and the loan feature. Mr. Strauss stressed the fact that any one could buy the stock and invest their savings in this local association and any one with good collateral could borrow to refinance, rebuild, new buildings, etc. He further stressed the fact that the government was behind both the savings and borrowing end of the association's activities and made regular inspections and in reality guided the actions of the association.

"Money is as safe as your government, invested in this organization, and will pay a reasonable dividend Mr. Strauss said. He further pointed out that this is a home organization supervised by the government and all the money put into it stays in the community. The government puts $3 to every $1 that you put into the association. You can get your money back any time you want it under the rules of the organization."

Lamesa and Dawson county citizens are urged to make use of this association. If you do not have but 50c per month to salt away, do it. See O. H. Morris, secretary and start a savings account. Start a fund to educate that child or to serve in that rainy day. Also if you need a loan see Mr. Morris. "Lamesa folks let's keep Lamesa money working at home."

SCHEDULE FOR DISTRICT TOURNAMENT IS SET

Play Starts Friday to Continue Through Saturday

Virgil Ballard, Texas Tech basketball coach and District 3 athletic director, yesterday announced a revised schedule for first round play in the district interscholastic basketball tournament.

The tournament planned for sixteen entries starts at 9 o'clock Friday morning, February 22, and continues through Saturday night. All games will be played at the Texas Tech gymnasium.

A slight change in the district line up made necessary the shift in the schedule, Ballard said. In the new arrangement, Bailey county is included in this district, Gaines county is not.

The revised schedule places Plainview High School and Lamesa High school in the upper bracket, with Shallowater, the Lubbock county champion, Lubbock High school and Levelland in the lower bracket. These teams probably are the most dangerous tournament entries.

Returns from all county tournaments were not in when the schedule was made, and the pairings list names of counties to be represented here:

Terry vs. Garza at 9 a. m. Friday. Dawson (Lamesa) vs. Lamb at 11 a. m. Friday.

Crosby vs. Dickens at 12 noon Friday.

Bailey vs. Floyd at 1 p. m. Friday. Cochran vs. Heckley (Levelland) at 2 p. m. Friday.

Lynn vs. Lubbock High school at 4 p. m. Friday.

Lubbock county (Shallowater) vs. Yoakum at 3 p. m. Friday.

Second round games begin at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon with winners of the Terry-Garza and Plainview-Hale games playing and continuing down the list.

Four teams will remain in the field Saturday, and semi-final games are scheduled for 9 and 10 o'clock Saturday morning, with the final at 8 o'clock Saturday night.

The eyes of the road beneath your car are blind to trick phrases, pretty colors and exaggerated claims—only facts count in the constant struggle between speeding rubber and grinding concrete. Saying that a tire will not blow out—that it is three or four times safer—that it is "the marvel of the tire world" may tickle the vanity of the bollyhoo artist, but unfortunately you cannot ride with safety, economy or satisfaction on bollyhoo.

When a tire blows out or fails long before it should, it is poor consolation to remember that it was supposed to be burst-proof and three or four times safer.

Seiberling tires are built to wear well—not read well. They reflect in mileage, safety and economy the fact that F. A. Seiberling has been building good tires since 1898. Glib phrases make good reading but as F. A. Seiberling says—"You'll go farther on facts."

Come in and let us show you visible proof of the superiority of Seiberling Air Cooled tires—the only tires with two anti-skid trends that grip and protect to the final mile.

CLUB NEWS

By Miss Madeline Cox
Dawson County Home Demonstration Agent

"Improving my bedroom will mean that I must plan my clothes very carefully in order to make the money received from my cow, clothe me and improve my room," said Alene Baxter, 4-H Bedroom Demonstrator of Higginbotham 4-H Club.

Allene plans to paper her room, make curtains, refinish the woodwork and floors, build a closet, provide a dressing table writing desk, wash stand, and improve her bed.

The low score on her bed room gives Allene an opportunity to accomplish much for the last score. With the ambition and integrity which Allene possesses we expect great results from her room.

4-H Girls Bedrooms Scored

On Thursday of last week all the 4-H Bedroom Demonstrators rooms were scored. Mrs. Gus Schmidt of Central Club, scored each bedroom.

The purpose of the first scoring of the bedrooms is to give all demonstrators an equal chance. The girl with the least to start with has a better chance of winning because the difference between her first and last scores indicates what she has accomplished.

In order to have a room suited to her needs, each girl needs a rest center, study center, storage space, dressing center and facilities for bathing.

The final scoring of the bedrooms will be done in May.

Sacks To Be Used in Bedroom Improvement

The co-operators of the Munger 4-H Club plan to help their bedroom demonstrator, Miss Ruby Kidwell, by each donating a feed sack to aid in the improvement of her room.

The sacks may be dyed or left plain, they may be tufted or trimmed in a single manner to make lovely curtains, bedspreads, shoe bags, laundry bags, scarfs, mattress pads, spring covers and countless other necessary articles for the bedroom.

HIGGINBOTHAM H. D. CLUB MET FEBRUARY 13TH

The Higginbotham Home Demonstration Club met February 13 at the home of Mrs. W. A. House.

There were seven members and two visitors present. After the business meeting we quilted a quilt for a friend.

The club will meet February 27 in the home of Mrs. H. F. Pounds. Miss Cox will meet with us. Members are urged to be there. Visitors and new members are always welcome.

4-H CLUB COUNCIL MET FEBRUARY 16TH

The sponsors and Presidents of nine different clubs of Dawson county met Saturday, February 16 for the purpose of organizing our 4-H Council. After starting the meeting with a few songs, the following officers were elected: Mrs. T. C. Drennan, Woody, chairman; Mrs. L. L. Draper O. K., vice chairman; Mrs. Doc Riley, Key, Treasurer; Mrs. Jocie Helen Strickland, Key, secretary; Miss Ola Gay Drennan, Woody, Reporter.

Mrs. Doc Riley told in a very interesting way the plans the Key girls were making for a Texas Centennial program on March 1. Key is very fortunate in having their pastor and teachers take part in helping with the program.

Plans were discussed for the encampment and Short course. It was decided we should meet the second Saturday at 2:30 in each month. The membership of the 4-H council will consist of the sponsors and presidents and one elected delegate from each 4-H Club.

The following clubs were represented: O. K., Woody, Mullins, Hancock, Five Mile, Klondike, Fairview, Key, Munger, McCarty, Wilson and Ballard.

Everyone enjoyed the "pillow race", led by Miss Cox, also the delicious candy. After which the standing rules committee retired to Miss Cox's office to appoint the following business committees: Finance committee, Mrs. L. A. Duff, Klondike chairman, Floy Norris of Wilson, Marie Borden of McCarty, Expansion committee, Bernice Hill, Higginbotham, chairman, Evelyn Robison of Mullins, Louise Cox of O. K. Exhibit committee, Mrs. Clay Cowger, Five Mile, chairman, Jean Harrell of Hancock, Mildred Cox of Fairview; Year Book committee, Julia Carlton, Ballard chairman, Evelyn Kidwell of Munger, Marie Shillingburg, Key, Reporter.

MUNGER H. D. CLUB MET LAST WEEK

"I used my foundation pattern to make this dress I have on and didn't have one bit of trouble," is what we heard Mrs. C. N. Jones say Friday as she walked into the club meeting wearing a very pretty print dress.

The club met in an all day session with Mrs. H. S. Phillips. Morning was spent in piecing a quilt, then a luncheon was served after which the president took charge.

Roll call was answered by all saying "One thing I can do to make my self a better home maker." Business session, then a program, "Ideals in Home making," was given with Mrs. Lloyd Fincher as leader. Each member on the program responded splendidly. Twenty members were present three new members added to the roll and also two visitors, Miss Evelyn Hoover and Mrs. Tarter of Lubbock were present.

Next meeting will be March the first at the home of Mrs. Walter

Jones with Miss Cox present. Every one come and bring some one.—Reporter.

ON TEXAS FARMS

Looking toward more home orchards in Runnels county the county agricultural council appointed an orchard committee to secure bids from nurserymen and asked each community agricultural association to canvass and list the persons wanting fruit trees and vines. More than 700 trees were ordered.

Mrs. Ora Montgomery, yard improvement demonstrator of Collin county has a rule that no shrub is to be planted in ground that has not been especially prepared for it. If the ground is tight and waxy it has to be loosened up by working in barnyard manure and cotton waste from the gin before this home beautifier will risk the life of one of her plants.

Cold weather in Llano county was the signal for more pecan budding work there. On the ranch of F. H. Westerman, farmers, ranchmen and 4-H club boys gathered to take part in the pecan budding demonstration when Glen Patton, R. H. Nelson, and D. D. Steele, farm demonstration agent, "showed 'em how." Westerman plans to increase the number of top worked trees on his ranch gradually until he has the banks of the San Fernando bordered with fine pecans.

Hardy shrubs proved their worth in the recent freeze according to Miss Effie McClane, home demonstration agent, on the yard improvement work being carried on by rural women in Kleberg county. Plants that were acclimated by nature stood the cold as they stand the long dry spells, while tender though beloved shrubs lost out completely. These probably will be replaced by more hardy varieties to insure no future loss, Miss McClane said.

WILSON 4-H CLUB MET FEBRUARY 14TH

The Wilson 4-H Club met February 14 at the Wilson school house. We had a very good meeting and some good talks. Hope to have better next time.—Reporter.

PENNEY'S

J. C. PENNEY COMPANY, Incorporated

THE MAN FROM YONDER

By Harold Titus

left and ahead, thwarted momentarily by heavy planks in their dance but, by that very stoppage, given fresh food for growth.

Men were coming, shouting as they ran through the darkness. In all stages of partial dress they came, crowding close to Elliott and Buller.

"Stand still, you, and keep still!" Ben snapped. "You, McFee, and you and you,"—pointing to individuals. "Roll that barrel of salt up from the sliding. Now! Snap into it!"

"You and you and you,"—indicating other men—"get every bucket in the place. Water buckets from the barrels in the yard and along the tramways, pails from houses, kettles, anything that'll hold and carry water."

"You, there; get me an ax and a shovel. Snappy, now!"

His voice had bite to it and as he tolled the men off for these explicit errands, they went on the run.

"Buller! Get upstairs and knock a hole in the floor, to the left of the saw. Couple of boards wide. So long,"—measuring with his spread hands. "We've got to get that flame drawing straight up instead of mushrooming all over the floor bottom. Form the rest of your men into a bucket brigade and pass water up the slide. . . . Fast as you can! Don't anybody think about anything but sending up full buckets and taking down empty ones. You stand by the hole, Buller, and knock her down as she comes through. Not so fast, now, that you spill water and drop pails. Hold your heads and four feet. It's our only chance to lick it. . . . Hike, now!"

Grunting and cursing, four huskies came lugging the barrel of salt and Ben, trying to still his excited breathing, snapped his fingers as he waited for their arrival.

"Gasoline!" he shouted to Able, seeing him for the first time. "Water won't touch it! We've got to smother it and we can't get sand handy and salt should do, if Buller can hold her when she strikes her head through the floor!"

"Up here, boys! Close, now!" Ben heaved on the heavy barrel of salt himself, rolling it in to the doorway which led directly into the fire. "All right. . . . Jake! Into the bucket line, all of you!" He swung his ax on a wire hoop and the barrel popped open. He struck again to clear away staves and drove a dozen quick blows into the lumpy salt that spilled out, to pulverize it.

Next he grabbed up his shovel, scooped it full and disappeared into the smoke.

His eyes smarted but he took his time, blinked and surveyed the fire. Then he swung his shovel upward and sideways and sent its burden in a plastering, spattering smear at the center of a particularly hot spot. The blue-green-orange combination of living fire gave up at once to a saffron smudge.

Ben leaped into the open again, breathed deeply, filled his shovel and doing his best to hold his breath, edged back into the smoke. He drove that shovel of salt hard upon flame, too, and retreated at once. A dozen trips, and he had the flame down in an area the size of a blanket. He worked to the right, then, going further into the mill, coughing and reeling, and when he emerged that time he retched painfully. He stood over his salt pile a moment, gulping fresh air while nausea shook him. He breathed quickly, forcing his lungs to pump deep and fast, sending clearing life through his arteries. His head steamed, he scooped up more salt and compressing his lips against the shaking coughs, ducked into the mill.

Faster and faster the buckets came up, some big, some small, now and then one that leaked away its precious contents. Fire found hold on the edges of the hole Buller had made in the floor. Little tongues of flame ate into the dry wood and curled upward. To Buller's right a finger of fire crept up between two boards; beyond it another appeared. In a dozen places fire was coming through the floor and Buller, swaying on his feet as he coughed, turned to the next man in dismay.

"He said . . ." he choked. "Got to have air! Move up!"

The line moved up. The man who had taken Buller's place crouched a bucket of water across the floor, knocking down those tendrils that wormed through from below. Then he attacked the uprushing column of flame again.

Down below Ben Elliott had the heart of the burning litter a writhing mass of saffron smoke. He started out, fell and crawled to the entry, got his knees beneath him and retched again and again. His eyes smarted madly and streamed tears; he coughed as he vomited and it seemed as though he never would find strength to rise. But he did after a moment and renewed his attack.

The gasoline soaked litter was blanched by its layer of salt, but overhead holding blazing and fire was finding hold in uprights and cross timbers. . . .

"Here, you! Three men. . . . Two buckets each!" Ben croaked as he ran out to the foot of the slide.

"Throw it high, and hard. So!" he cried hoarsely and lunged the first water himself with a wide, sweeping, overhead swing. It knocked fire off the nigger, blotted out an orange panel on a heavy sill. "Now, you!" he cried to the next man.

They filled their own buckets and that duty took them into the fresh air, cleared their lungs, kept the nausea down, steadied both legs and heads.

"Getting Her!"

With hissing splashes the water from their pails went sloshing against the overhead woodwork and gradually the glare through the thick smoke subsided.

"Getting her!" Ben pointed as Able tried to say something to him. "Getting her!" He coughed and his words had come in a half-strangle but, even so, the exaltation in his tone was unmistakable.

Smoke on the ground floor thinned somewhat. Men ran further into the building with their water, took a bit more time in throwing it. Again salt was used down below to cover hot little islands in the litter. Up above more water was thrown across the floor to kill flames in the cracks.

Living flame no longer leaped and roared through the hole in the floor. Thick smoke swept upward but that was all and as Ben ran up the icy slide for the first time and saw this he cried out:

"Good work, Buller! Over there, though; look!"

Fire had taken fresh hold in a greasy timber and was worming its way up beneath the trimmer saw. Buller dashed a half dozen pails of water on the spot and it went black.

"Keep going, Buller!" Ben cried. "I'll take half your men."

He went slipping down the slide and at the bottom called men from the bucket line.

"Stretch out, the rest of you!" he called. "Now, this way, you kids; in here and mop her up, and make it fast!"

Stubborn flames ate into the litter on the ground floor. Again and again they broke out, but the driving heat was gone, roaring gases no longer gave impetus to the spread of destruction as the first need for speed became less imperative.

Not until the final curl of smoke had been subdued completely did Ben Elliott relax. Then, with lantern lighted, he entered the saw floor, completely ice glazed, charred in places, and surveyed the damage. As he swung his lantern and looked about, peering at timbers eaten half away, at burned ceiling, at other vital damage, he moved slowly, said little, as a man will who is thinking soberly.

He stopped beside Able Armitage finally.

"Well, the insurance'll cover it," the old justice said, as if trying to make the best of things.

Ben laughed shortly.

"But she's two weeks idle at the inside. And belting zone and a good many other things. If—

"Say, chum!"

It was the night watchman, slumped in flakes of ice from his waist down, whom Ben hailed.

"Where were you?"

NEW RULES FOR TINY TOT STORY CONTEST

New rules governing Tiny Tot Story Telling contests have been promulgated according to information received this week at the county superintendents office. The new rules are as follows:

1. Each member school having eligible contestants may enter in the county meet two contestants—one boy and one girl.

2. There shall be two classes in this contest: (a) Rural schools; (b) Ward or grammar schools. Each class shall have two divisions, namely boys and girls.

3. Entries in this contest are restricted to pupils in the first grade only.

4. Each contestant must have reached his or her sixth birthday and must not have passed his or her 8th birthday by September 1, 1934. The contest is restricted to six and seven year old children.

5. No story told shall exceed four minutes in length.

6. All contestants must be eligible under the rules and regulations as set forth by the Interscholastic League in Article VIII of the Constitution and rules.

7. The content of the story told must come under the general classification of "Children's Stories", and must lie in the general field of interest for children of Tiny Tot age. Dialects such as Negro and others may be used intermittently through out the selection if desired. The speaker shall not use any extrinsic assistance in the interpretation of the story such, for example, as the carrying of a flag or other emblem.

8. This is a contest in Story Telling and the speakers shall be judged upon their ability to tell stories effectively. Among the elements to be considered will be naturalness, a direct, clear and sympathetic expression of the thought and emotion of the story. These shall count relatively more than gesticulation or any showy manner of delivery.

9. All entries in this contest must be sent to the county director of Tiny Tot Story Telling Contest.

MRS. CLAUDE F. GOWEN WINS IN YARD CONTEST

Mrs. H. H. Matthews, of Fort Stockton, has been awarded a prize of $100 for her work in improving her ranch home, according to an announcement made by Progressive Farmer and Southern Ruralist, sponsor of a three year farm home beautification contest which closed in December, 1934. Mrs. Matthews took first place among the contestants from the Texas-Oklahoma territory covered by the magazine.

Affectionately dubbed "Little Boss", she has, with the assistance of her husband, remodeled an old adobe ranch house, installed all the comforts of modern living and at the same time retained its authentic old Western charm. Native stones have been used for pillars, walks, underrunnings, and outbuildings, and the grounds completely landscaped.

Mrs. C. A. Redding, Rural Route No. 3, out of Cooper, Texas, won second prize of $75 for the territory by general improvements in the repair of her house, enclosing beneath it, building walks and drives and landscaping grounds.

Mrs. Claud F. Gowen, of Star Route 2, Lamesa, place third, and will receive $50 for improvements made in the appearance of her house which had just been completed when she entered the contest three years ago. Her work has included the planting of trees and shrubbery and the building of a lily pool.

The fourth place ($25) winner, Mrs. J. T. Stewart of Liberty Hill, improved her home grounds, laid cobblestone walks and underpinned the house with native stone.

Fifth place ($10) was won by Mrs. A. B. Stanford of Buda, who made interior and exterior improvements on her house, and landscaped the grounds.

Following is an extract from Mrs. Gowen's story of her work:

"When I entered the contest, we had just built a new house on a ten acre field on the highway, with not a tree or a shrub about. It took three days with a team and slip to level the yard and remove the sand and weeds.

"We elevated our lawn 12 inches above the level, using native rock for a curb. We sloped the lawn from the house so it would drain.

"I got our Home Demonstration Agent to come out and help with the landscaping. She drew off our plans and sent them to the landscape specialist at A & M college, and she O. K.'d the plans, with a very few small changes.

"It took all my spare time the first summer to rid the lawn of weeds, which had been used to having their own way. We used native shrub which grew well. My son took his vacation in Old Mexico, and brought back some plants for us.

"We outlined our outdoor living room with shrubs, making a trellis at the doorway with honeysuckle running on it. We also built a lily pond.

"The second year we set out Chinese elm along the highway, straightened up the fences, took down sign boards. I made the money to improve my yard by selling setting eggs to the hatcheries.

"The third year we set out locust trees and popular to cut off the view of the chicken house and outbuildings.

"I want to state that every member of the family enjoys our pretty yard, and even grandma enjoys sitting out in the outdoor living room among the flowers under the shade trees and reading or knitting and watching the gold fish swimming in the lily pond.

Troop 22 Wins Kite Tournament

By taking eight firsts, seven seconds and two third places for a total score of 121 points, Troop 22 won the fourth annual Boy Scout Kite Tournament held at the Lamesa airport Sunday afternoon, before a large crowd of enthusiastic people.

Troop 23 amassed a total of 87 points.

Competition was extremely keen in patrol and individual contests each troop winning 81 points, and it was by winning the "kite battle" and the box kite division that Troop 22 was able to forge ahead. The Beaver Patrol of Troop 22 with 25 points and the Bat Patrol of Troop 23 with 18 points won first and second honors in Patrol competition. Skeet Noret, Troop 22 with three first places and one second, was easily the high point man in individual competition and deserves special mention for displaying some of the most unique and finest kites ever entered in local contests.

The Bat Patrol, Troop 23, had the highest flying kite, while the dragon kite entered by the Pine Tree Patrol of Troop 22 was adjudged the most unique. Bonner Allison's cellophane kites were exceptionally beautiful.

Special Notice To Schools Interested In Music Contests

As it is obligatory that the Director General have an estimate of the number of contestants in the music Memory contest, that he may order sufficient score sheets to accommodate all schools, it has been suggested that each principal send the number of entrants from his school to me at once. Furthermore, as most schools have new violas it appears that more schools will be interested in this contest than heretofore making it impossible to estimate the number of score sheets from the entrants of last year.

The Choral Singing contest is to be held the evening of March 21. If possible, notify me of the size of the choir to be entered from your school so that preparations may be made to care for all participants.

Our program was based on "Art". All choirs will be asked to join in singing a number in unison from the stage.

Mrs. H. V. Williams, Director of Music Memory.

SAYS NEXT MAJOR DROUTH IN 1944

There will be no more drouths until after 1940, says Captain J. J. See, professor of mathematics in the U. S. Navy, who bases his prediction on a study of the sun spots which he claims to have traced back as far as 51 B. C. in their relation to heat and moisture.

"The heat is the greatest when the spots decrease, so as to leave the solar disc at white heat all over, and give us terrible drouths like those of 1881, 1901, and 1934.

"Seeing now that under present cooling the sunspots and rainfall will steadily increase until 1939. No more drouths will come until 1940, the worst drouth being expected about 1944.

"Last August, just as the rains began, Secretary Wallace wished to know the probability for the outlook on crops, depending on rainfall in 1935, 1936 and 1937. I submitted a safe reckoning of crops of at least 80 per cent normal output in 1935, 80 per cent in 1936, and a 100 per cent crop in 1937. I expect a bumper crop in 1935, as happened in 1882 and 1902."

Other scientists do not agree in all details with Prof. See as to the accuracy of his methods. Yet, those of us who know little about science and nothing of the art of forecasting rainfall wish him luck in his predictions regarding the immediate future.

School Tax Collector Gives Information

Enforced collections of delinquent school district taxes will be at a standstill until March 15, 1935 when the tax moratorium law passed by the last called session of the 43rd Legislature will end. The district's tax collector, Leslie Pratt is sending a statement of tax accounts to each person or firm whose taxes will be affected by the expiration of this Act in an effort to let all persons so indebted to the district know the advantages of the moratorium law and what charges will accrue after March 15th.

Unpaid taxes for 1934 come under the amended law which provides for a graduated increase of penalty and interest which reaches the rate of 8 per cent penalty and 6 per cent interest about the middle of the summer, July 1, to be exact.

With the warning given by the Legislature that no more acts are to be passed which remove interest and penalty charges, many persons of this community may effect savings, clear their titles at considerable savings.

It is reported that outstanding taxes due the district reach a total of more than $39,000 and that the district is hard pushed to pay its bonded debt obligations and to carry on school for the 1200 children of this community. Approximately half of the delinquent amount belongs to the credit of the sinking funds of bond issues and is required to meet the full amounts due in those funds, our months of school for the current year must be financed to complete a normal school year.

VALENTINE PROGRAM AT AMERICAN LEGION HALL

One of the most outstanding social events of the month was the Valentine party given at the Legion Hall Thursday afternoon, February 14th complimenting Mrs. Ray Hollingshead. Hostesses for the occasion were Miss Thelma Merrick, Mrs. Loretta Rainey Travis and Mrs. L. M. Pratt.

Upon entering the vestibule some ninety guests were asked to register in a beautiful hand painted guest book made and presided over by Mrs. E. R. Yates. The color scheme of red and white and the valentine motif was carried out here as well as throughout the other decorations.

Turning from the guest book callers of the afternoon were ushered to the attractively appointed tea table where a colorful water scene, nestling in a cluster of red and white carnations, formed the symbolic centerpiece. The soft glow of the tall red tapers enhanced the loveliness of Miss Eleanor Ragle, attired in a quaint pastel mousseline frock, as she poured a hot spiced beverage for her attendants who in turn served the guests. These attendants, Misses Kathleen Webb, Virginia Lindsey, Leanne Meyers and Inez Sharp, former pupils of Mrs. Hollingshead were simply gowned in fluffy afternoon dresses and moved gracefully among the assembly serving and seating the guests.

A unique Fine Arts program under the direction of Mrs. L. M. Pratt was then presented. "The Maker of Dreams" a clever fantasy in one act charming in its appeal to every woman's heart was enacted by Elizabeth Arnett, Dick Collins and Earl Winter Jacobs.

A violin solo from Brahms played by Mrs. J. E. Hardesty, brought the audience into a reverie of love and peaceful understanding.

Mrs. Carl Rountree and Mrs. Matt McCall then dedicated to Mrs. Hollingshead one of her favorite classical duets in a touchingly beautiful interpretation.

Accompanying her self and Mrs. E. R. Yates on the accordion Mrs. W. J. Beckham and Mrs. Yates favored the guests with a delightful rendition of "The Cradle Song."

With simplicity and unaffected style Mrs. Carl Rountree made vibrant her version of "Tender Little Flower" by Baril.

A mirth provoking monologue entitled "Aunt Bet on the New Deal", was given by Loretta Rainey Travis in her usual vivacious manner much to the delight of her listeners.

Under the direction of Mrs. Matt McCall, a girls trio, Georgia Mae Williams, Bettye Burgess, and Ruth Merrick gave a characterization in song that created a thing fascinatingly live.

As a grand climax to the program Mrs. Pratt presented little Miss Betty Ann Surface as Dan Cupid costumed in white satin briefs carrying a romantic message to Mrs. Hollingshead which entitled her to the magic valentine tree laden with many messages of love and tokens of affection.

MRS. ELBERT GREEN HONORED WITH SHOWER

Mrs. Wid Stanfield, assisted by Misses Dora Lee Richey and Flora Self, was hostess to a bridal shower at her home in the Shumake community, Wednesday afternoon, February 5 honoring Mrs. Elbert Green the former Miss Beatrice Callahan. The Valentine scheme was carried out throughout the afternoon. A bridal crossword puzzle on hearts was an interesting feature. Miss Flora Self won the prize which was presented to the honoree. Heart puzzles were put together, the honoree winning the prize, which was a large box of gifts from her friends.

Refreshments of punch and cake were served to Mesdames V. G. Callahan, John White, J. W. A. Cox, Melvin Stevens, Bruce Chilton, Frank Green, Buck Brandon, Tom Holmes, Sid Birdwell, Miss Bonnie Marie White, Mr. Elbert Green, the honoree and the hostesses.

PRESBYTERIAN WMS MET WITH MRS. AULT

The "homey" apartment of Mrs. C. E. Ault was the place where the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian Church held their last meeting. The program, which was written on miniature hatchets, a reminder of the great Christian American whose birthday we celebrate this week, was as follows:

Invocation Prayer, led by Mrs. Eugene H. Surface.

Hymn: "America."
Roll call and Minutes, secretary, Mrs. Hubert Nelson.

Devotional hymn: "Love Divine." Devotional, led by Mrs. H. B. Wilhelm.

The subject of this devotional was "The Fruit of the Spirit It Love." Lovely things are costly—gardens, children, knowing, peace, friends—all these lovely things are costly. LOVE costs—pain sympathy, patience, renunciation, cultivation, consecration. Love in its maturity—

Shows us
Stars we never saw before,
Awakens desires we never may forget.

Makes us share forever more
The burden of the world's divine regret.

Business session: 1. Discussion of Missionary Education, Mrs. Eugene H. Surface.

2. Discussion of Missionary Literature—Mrs. O. T. Murphy.

3. Announcement of Stewardship Programs.
Benediction.
