Floyd County Bank Deposits Up Over Last Year

Floyd County Development Company Receives Charter

County Bank Reports Reflect Steady Economy

Floyd county's two First National banks at Floydada and Lockney showed a gain in deposits as of the June 30 bank call in comparison with the same time last year.

According to the bank call reports the banks are up in deposits $184,373.81. Last year's deposits were $14,792,582.35. This year's were $14,976,956.16.

The individual bank reports were as follows: First National in Floydada up from last year's $8,913,135.31 to this year's $9,013,972.38; First National at Lockney up from last year's $5,879,447.04 to this year's $5,962,983.78.

LOANS

Looking at the bank's loan reports... Lockney's loans were up a little and Floydada's were down a little. The First National at Floydada loans were down from last year's $4,381,247.09 to this year's $3,822,064.47. The First National at Lockney was up from last year's $3,060,427.15 to this year's $3,114,927.24.

OUTLOOK

President of the local bank, Clay Henry, said there were several factors that possibly make the economy picture look good at this time, as reflected in the deposit and loan reports: although a lot of wheat has not been sold, dryland wheat made better than expected; rains have saved the farmer irrigation money; consumers are more conservative in their buying, less speculation or investment in real estate and more farmers are able to operate on their own funds this year instead of borrowing the money.

Seeking Growth Through Industry

The first big step in getting more industry for the Floydada community has been taken with the announcement this week by Ray Reed that a corporation charter has been issued for the Floydada Development Company.

Reed is acting chairman of the new development company. The non-profit corporation is designed to aid either the enlargement of present industries in Floydada or the bringing of new industry here. The members of the organization will work very closely with the Texas Industrial Commission for contacts and if necessary the Small Business Administration for financing of a new industry here.

Reed said that every person in this trade area is invited and urged to give the development company any tips that they may have in regard to more industry here. "We need the cooperation of every person in this effort if we are going to be successful in helping our community grow through industry," Reed added.

One of the board of directors of the new development company, district attorney John Stapleton was instrumental in filing for the corporation charter.

A brochure is now being prepared by Southwestern Public Service to aid the development company in presenting facts about Floydada to prospective industries.

Reed said that the development company has started to work on an industry that will employ 25 persons and prospects look good.

The following men have agreed to serve on the various committees and on the board of the new company:

Trustees of Charter: John Stapleton, Clay Henry, Ray Reed.

Directors: Ray Reed, Chairman; Clay Henry, Don Pemberton, V. H. "Andy" Anderson, O. M. Watson, Alton Higginbotham, Wendell Tooley, John Stapleton, John Reue.

Membership: Doyle Walls, Chairman; Bill Cagle, E. A. Williams.

Local Government: O. M. Watson, Chairman; C. J. Payne, Leonard Matsler, Mayor; A. E. Baker.

Civic Government: Rev. Floyd C. Bradley, Parnell Powell, Tommy Assiter.

School Board Interviews Coaches

The Floydada School Board interviewed two prospective head basketball coaches at its regular meeting Monday night. Announcement will probably be made next week about their decision on a new coach.

Jack Bell, former basketball coach, who was here for one year, has resigned to enter the drive-in business in Lubbock.

NEW TEACHERS

In other business the board hired Judge Elbert Reeves of Matador to teach Junior High science and James Pope as Junior High coach. Reeves taught here in 1955 and 1956 and for years was judge of Motley County.

Pope has several years of football experience and was recently honorably discharged from the service after fighting in Vietnam. His home is Carlsbad, New Mexico.

The board still is looking for an assistant band director, since Mr. and Mrs. Glen Thompson have resigned. It is thought they will teach in Quanah next year.

TAX RATES

The board set the tax rate at $1.60 per $100 valuation. . . . the same as last year. $1.25 of the $1.60 will go into the general fund and .35 for bonded indebtedness.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business the board granted a $977.20 contract to Les Copeland to repair the west wing of the high school, approved the reading of the minutes and payment of the current bills.

The board voted to allow the St. Mary Magdalen Catholic Church to meet in the Della Plains gymnasium for two months while their church is being built. The rent will be $15.00 per meeting.

All board members were present.

City Council Buys New Water Meters

Floydada city council accepted the low bid of $6840 from the Neptune Company for purchase of 200 water meters at its regular monthly meeting Tuesday night.

It also approved converting a 1952 Cooper-Bessemer electric plant engine to a CB-5 ignition system at a cost of $1,622.78.

An equalization board composed of Henry Willis, Bob Medlen and Don Barrow, was appointed by the council and contract was renewed with Jack McCreary, Austin attorney to collect delinquent taxes.

AIRPORT RUNWAY

The council accepted a proposal by the airport commission for construction of an east-west runway at the municipal airport at no cost to the city. The new runway would be 2300 feet long by 100 feet wide.

J.D. Nash Promoted To Hereford Office

J. D. (Pete) Nash, who has been manager of the Gifford-Hill Western office here for the past eight years will move to Hereford and assume his duties at that office August 1.

He has lived in Floydada the past 12 years. He was with the Soil Conservation Service here prior to going with Gifford-Hill Western.

He is looking for a home to rent in Hereford and will probably rent his home here to Ed Combs who will be the new Floydada manager. Combs will move his family here from Wilcox, Arizona. The Combs have two children. Nash is a native of Calvert, Texas. Gifford-Hill Western built a new office and distribution yard here about two years ago on the Lockney highway.

"SHE JUST QUIT FLYING!"

Floydada Pilot Escapes Spray Plane Crash Uninjured

A Floydada farmer and spray pilot, Louis Lloyd came out of a spray plane crash last Wednesday afternoon without a scratch when the Call Air crop dusting plane he was piloting "just quit flying!"

The accident occurred about seven miles northwest of Floydada on the W. A. Johnson farm about 4:30 p.m. as Lloyd began to circle to make another spray run on a field of cabbage farmer owned by Buck Hickerson. Lloyd said that the motor did not stall, that he checked all his instruments, RPMs were 2500, everything was in perfect order, "but she hit a whirlwind or vacant air spot and just wouldn't fly."

It was a very humid afternoon, no breeze, the plane was loaded with about 70 gallons of insecticide and 35 gallons of gas. The plane held about 100 feet off the ground as it flew across the Johnson house and crashed just after clearing the trees in the Johnson yard. Johnson was working on a tractor under the trees and observed the crash.

Lloyd ended up hanging upside down in his safety harness with his crash helmet on. . . . quickly got loose and scrambled out from under the plane fearing that it might catch fire. Insecticide and gasoline were pouring from the wreckage. Johnson ran toward the wreckage and Lloyd met him about half way to the house from the plane.

Duane Robinson, owner of the plane, was flagging for Lloyd and also witnessed the crash. The plane crashed in a soybean field located just west of the field of cabbage.

Lloyd said he turned off the master switch ignition just before the crash in hopes that the plane wouldn't burn.

The plane was insured.

Trained Boll Weevil Hunters At Work

Field activity in the fourth year of the High Plains Diapause Boll Weevil Control Program was sharply boosted July 5 when 30 trained weevil hunters took to cotton fields along the eastern edge of the Plains.

These men, working in two-man teams, will keep a thorough check of weevil infestations this summer to delimit and map the control zone for this fall's operations. They will inspect fields throughout the original 300,000 acre control zone.

But Ed Dean, Field Service Director for Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., says it is hoped the base acreage to be sprayed this year will be 125,000 acres or less. However he went on to say that every field where a weevil is found this summer will have to be sprayed, so no definite prediction of acreage can be made. Last year's program covered 185,000 base acres.

The search for weevils will continue right up to September 5 when the first application of ultra low volume malathion is expected to start.

Like last year, the first three applications will be applied in rapid-fire sequence at intervals of only 5 days. These will be followed by applications at 10 to 14 day intervals until frost or chemical desiccation does away with the weevil's food supply.

The first three chemical applications, dropping 12 ounces of the deadly material per acre, are designed to break the weevil's reproductive cycle. The following doses, because of cooler weather and wider time spacing, will be at 16 ounces per acre. Their purpose is to kill remaining weevils before they attain the diapause stage and leave fields for hibernation sites.

This same two-phase system has been used in the program for the past two years and has achieved from a 97 to 99 per cent reduction in the number of hibernating weevils.

The 15 mapping teams are working under the direction of USDA's Plant Pest Control Division, which is charged with the general operation of the spray program.

Two other teams from the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will be inspecting weevils at the same time for additional information on dates of emergence, time required to reach diapause and other data pertaining to population dynamics.

Ultra low volume malathion has been used exclusively in the program for the past three years and will be used this year on all but about 6500 acres.

That acreage, located along and on either side of Duck and Dockum Creeks in Dickens County (near Farm Road 836 north-west from Spur), is tentatively set aside for a test run on guthion, only recently approved by USDA for use in low volume form.

Dean said guthion is also an exceptionally safe insecticide and tests on small acreage have indicated it has a longer residual effect, kills weevils quicker and retains more potency when subjected to rain or other adverse weather after application.

"If guthion should prove itself in this year's test, it offers good possibilities for reducing the cost of next year's program," Dean said. He pointed out that it is a little cheaper chemical and that its other characteristics might permit fewer applications without reducing the effectiveness of the program.

Dean also noted that plans are going ahead toward initiating methods development work in which some of the new eradication techniques now in the laboratory can be field tested in connection with the High Plains program.

"The sooner we get this eradication work underway the sooner we can look for an end to the weevil problem on the Plains," Dean said, and added that "entomologists are now giving us hope that the means to this end may not be too far away."

Front runner among eradication techniques is now the sterile-male approach, similar to that which has been so successful in eliminating the screw worm fly.

Texas A & M University has already allocated funds for construction of a laboratory at the South Plains Research and Extension Center, according to Dean, "and the prime need now is for funds to build a mass rearing facility."

He pointed out that this phase of weevil research is outside the realm of the High Plains program which was designed and operates solely as a protective barrier to prevent westward weevil migration into the whole High Plains area.

"Financing for this eradication research must come from other sources," Dean stated, "because the entire cotton belt, not just the High Plains, stands to benefit from it."

Discussing the value of weevil control to High Plains producers, Dean called attention to the pink bollworm situation in Arizona. In 1962 an intensive control program in which all Arizona producers took part had reduced infestations of the "pinky" to almost nothing.

"Intensive control efforts were stopped," Dean says "and this year virtually every cotton field in Arizona has pink bollworms, costing farmers an average of $30 an acre to control. And the boll weevil would soon have Plains cotton producers in the same squeeze without our diapause control program."

July 13 is now thought to be the most likely date for the Senate to begin consideration of the Agricultural Appropriations bill, according to Donald A. Johnson, executive vice president of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

The House version of the bill, passed last month, contains funds for three projects of particular interest to the High Plains cotton industry, and Johnson plans to be in Washington to work for retention of these funds by the Senate.

In addition, Senator John Williams of Delaware has declared his intention to offer an amendment which would limit to $10,000 the amount of government payments that could go to an individual producer under current farm programs, and Johnson will join others in a determined effort to defeat that amendment.

Included by the House were appropriations of $502,800 to carry out this year's High Plains Diapause Weevil Control Program, $275,000 for a research project on utilization of short staple cotton and instrument classing, and $241,000 for staffing and equipping a ginning research laboratory at the South Plains Research and Extension Center, Lubbock.

"It now appears that these items will meet no strong opposition in the Senate," Johnson said, "but we can't afford to take anything for granted."

Mrs. Robert Day Home From Extended Trip To Maine

(By Peggy Medley)
Mrs. Robert F. Day has returned home from an extended trip to Brunswick, Maine where she visited her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Culpepper. Mrs. Culpepper is the former Vida Mae Day.

Mrs. Day enjoyed many sightseeing trips and among her favorite was a trip to Cabbage Island, which was owned by one family for over 100 years. The last family to operate the island had it for 17 years.

There is a country store, a big dining room which seats over 100 persons, where you are served clams and lobsters cooked in seaweeds from top to bottom, covered with tarps and rocks to capture all the flavor and sweetness. She said you were served first with a steaming cup of delicious New England Fish Chowder, luscious bright red lobster, tender white clams wrapped in foil, sweet golden corn on the cob, new Maine potatoes, and onions baked in their skins. For dessert you are served famous Blueberry cake by the yard and gallons of coffee.

The spruce studded island, with its panoramic scenes, delights any artist as well as folks craving quietness and relaxation. Its name was derived from the vegetable, cabbage, which was grown there earlier in the century and fertilized with help from the sea.

Mrs. Day found Bowdoin College very impressive. It was named for the Honorable James Bowdoin. His son, James Jr., was one-time Minister to Spain and France. It is independent of church, state and university. The college is probably best known as the college of Longfellow and Hawthorne. It was founded in 1794 at Brunswick and on its campus is Walker Art Gallery.

Other major points of interest to visitors to the Brunswick area include the Harriet Beecher Stowe House, now a modern hostelry with colonial atmosphere, here the famous authoress tutored Brunswick children and wrote the immortal "Uncle Tom's Cabin"; plus the Brunswick Summer Playhouse, located on the campus of Bowdoin College.

Adjoining the college campus toward the large Naval Air Station are the cathedral-like Bowdoin Pines, a small majestic remnant of the dense forest of white "mast" pines covering the area.

Mrs. Day found interesting sights in Bath, a ship building city and home of the Bath Iron Works Corp. It is Maine's only resident center for the rehabilitation of its crippled children and adults. The Bath Iron Works is one of the oldest ship-building companies in the United States and is the only remaining shipyard of scores that once lined the banks of the Kennebec River.

She also visited Harpswell, a fishing community and quaint village; Boothbay Harbor area where a nearby Edgcomb a house was prepared for Queen Marie Antoinette of France and the Edgcomb Block House where early settlers fought off the Indians.

Perhaps Mrs. Day's most memorable occasion was to attend church services at Harpswell Baptist Church at Cranberry Horn Hill, Cundy's Harbor.

The oldest church in Harpswell, it opened for its second service in fifty years while she was there. The historical church has closed pews, antique furnishings including the manual pump organ. The building was erected in the early 1800's, during the term of Thomas Jefferson, and was officially established in 1817. The 150th anniversary marked the beginning of complete restoration.

Across from the church is a cemetery where there are ten graves of Revolutionary War soldiers. One is the grave of Nathaniel Purinton, the captain who led a handful of men from Cundy's and captured a British Man of War that was anchored at the harbor.

Mrs. Day also visited the U. S. Naval Station which covers 3,298 acres of land. It was commissioned in 1943 and originally conceived as a base for in-shore and off-shore patrol squadrons. Its mission during World War II was shifted to the training of Royal Canadian Air Force pilots of the British Naval Command. In 1947 the station was deactivated and in 1951 was recommissioned and assigned a primary mission of anti-submarine warfare. There are five squadrons of Fleet Air Wing Three which comprise the largest assemblage of patrol aircraft on the east coast.

"My trip to Maine was completed with a visit to the Capitol," Mrs. Day said. She also related that it was a great state with its wonderland of color and a paradise for sportsmen.

Members attending included Mmes. Mather Carr, Sherwood Ramsey, Bob Hopper, Zant Scott, Glenn Curtis, Monroe Schulz, Loyd Hopper, Glenn Pool, Horace Carr, R.C. Davis, Bruce Davis, R. B. Gary, Velmer Hamilton, Charles Carr, James Hale, Truman Dunavant, the hostess and the Curtis, Hopper, Carr and Hale children.

The next meeting will be at the Community Center at 9 a.m. July 13. Mary Phillips, home economist at Lighthouse Electric, will bring the program on artificial respiration.

Mrs. J. R. Turner, Mrs. W. C. Snodgrass and Mrs. Walter Hanna assisted the hostess in serving refreshments of hot apple cider, cheese crackers, ham and olive balls and birthday cake.

BULLETIN:
IN THE FRESHMAN LEAGUE
THE TIGERS DEFEATED THE
GIANTS 13-10 MONDAY NIGHT.

T-Shirters Nearing End Of Road

"Hey, let's get these games over with so we can take off to the mountains!" That's pretty much the cry of some parents in the little league of all. At any rate, when this week began, there were three make-up games yet to be played, all involving the Pirates. Since it would be unfair to expect them to play all three games this week, it is possible that one of them would be contested even after the all-star game. It was hoped this could be avoided, as they like to think of this contest as a climax of the season.

RESULTS
Three games were played in this 8-9 bracket last week, the Orioles taking the Cubs 8-3; and the White Sox winning both of their contests. In a heavy hitting barrage they upended the Yankees 27-2, and in a much closer contest slipped by the Pirates 3-2.

MAKE-UP
The Pirates were to challenge the Cubs on Monday, meeting the Yankees and Orioles at intervals staggered far enough apart to give them a chance at putting at least a fairly well rested pitcher on the mound.

WHITE SOX TOPS
The White Sox definitely sealed up the championship position, having lost only one game and winning seven. Their nearest competitors, the Yankees, had won 4 and lost 3.

PLAYOFF
Whenever the all-star game is reeled off, it is to match the White Sox against a roster of an even dozen boys made up of three from each of the disappointed teams. That gives quite a number of boys something to hope for. And when Mom has made one more trip back to the house to see if anything has been left, and Dad has checked the family photo once more, little Sister has settled down (?) in the back seat of the car as they head off for the mountains. Junior can say, "Boy, we really had a good baseball season this year. It won't be long till school starts. . .," to which there is a sudden reply from somewhere, "What did you say?"

Mike Burk Heads For State In TAAF 880

Mike Burk is headed for the state T.A.A.F. Track and Field Meet this weekend in his specialty, the 880 yard run. The durable youngster, who is to be a Floydada High School freshman this fall, had won his two previous races this summer, but was forced to take a back seat by about fifteen inches in the district meet at Lubbock Saturday night. He exceeded his previous best mark by .3 second, running 2:10.1. The winner timed an even 2:10. His first race produced a 2:10.8, the second 2:10.4. Mike suffered stomach upsets both before and after the race. Kirby Pierce placed sixth in this half-mile race. Sometimes this race is called a "dash." This scribe hastens to assure you, from personal experience, it is no dash. It's a grind!

CENTER

Newsom visited Mr. and Mrs. Leo Frizzell Friday evening. The Frizzells were Sunday dinner guests of their daughter and family, the Garvin Beedys of South Plains. The special occasion was honoring the grandson, Larry, who is 18 today, July 4.

Other local relatives including the Frizzells, visited the out-of-town relatives at Mrs. Jackson's.

Floydada Takes District; Headed For Regional At Lockney July 31 - Aug. 5

Floydada baseball players in the 16-18 age range clinched their league crown on Thursday evening with a 6-5 decision over their Floyd County rivals, Lockney. This enables them to enter the double-elimination regional tournament there beginning July 31 and ending August 5. Since one of the teams they will be facing is the Post contingent, which took them on Friday evening, they will go into this post-season contest knowing what a challenge they are facing.

RONNIE HILL HOMERS
Ronnie Hill banged a two-run homer in the first inning in the tight contest with Lockney. All told he made three hits, as did Steve Marler. Kerry Bearden, Todd Wester, and Domingo DeLeon all hit two each. Bobby Gilliland pitched until relieved by Kerry Bearden in the sixth.

POST 9, FLOYDADA 0
Post was stingy with hits and prodigal in the display of their power in the Friday night practice contest on the local field. The boys had played the night before, and two of their top players were away. Leland Woods struck out an even dozen.

ERRORS HURT
Post had a fine pitcher and displayed tight fielding, and the locals made a number of errors in the field, which hurt a great deal. But, after all, this was only for practice. The regional at Lockney will draw Floydada, which in effect is the home team, plus the pesky Post people, and the Haskell team, which has been playing host for a number of years. It was unknown as to who would be playing besides these three teams.

LOCAL INTEREST
Local interest should be high, particularly as the times are quite slack, the contests are nearby, and the locals are accustomed to winning, despite two setbacks within a three-game period.

LOCKNEY 9, SILVERTON 0
Lockney caught Silverton on a rebound from the latter's surprise victory over Floydada and administered a sound 9-0 thumping Monday night.

Freshman League All Caught-Up

By dint of using "all the Saturday nights," the Freshman League was "all caught up" at the end of play on July 8, according to the league vice-president, Tom Moore. At that time the Red Sox had clinched the pennant in the American League division with a 10-1 record.

TIGER-GIANT BATTLE
The Tigers and Giants, with identical 9-2 records, were knotted at the top of the National League. They were to play on Monday evening of this week. Based on form, it seemed likely that the winner of that tilt would emerge victorious, with each facing two weak teams. That, of course, was no cinch, or baseball would not be so interesting.

PLAYOFF SETUP
In the playoffs in which the local teams participate, the winner of each league gets to compete, using three pitchers and/or catchers from other teams within the league. In other words, theoretically it would day to visit Gilmer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Denison. The children remained till today when the grandparents took them home.

Keith, another of the Denison's grandsons, in company with other Lubbock youths, is in Hawaii this summer combining work with pleasure. Keith is employed in a cannery and broke the Dole production record the other day and got his name posted tops on the list. He ran through 21,363 cans in an hour. He runs the machine which puts juice in and lids on.

There are still sick people, and highway accidents. We so deeply sympathize with those who have lost loved ones - the fine family and loved ones of Hollis McLain, and of the Reeves woman and boy killed yesterday in the north part of the county.

FLOYD DATA
Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Swepston and Danny, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Swepston and Miss Anne Swepston attended a family reunion at Lake Tawakoni last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Deral Young and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Smlthern went to Lubbock Tuesday to see about Mrs. Elmo Reeves and Pamela Reeves. Many of our area have gone to see them, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fortenberry sat up with the sick ones Saturday night in Lubbock. We sincerely hope they both continue to improve.

Hobby Club will meet Wednesday, July 19, at 10:30 in the morning at the home of Mrs. J. P. Taylor. Each member will bring a picnic lunch to have at noon, and they plan to go down on the creek to have the picnic. Members will hunt driftwood and arrowheads. Mrs. Taylor will furnish drinks, and there will be a vehicle to carry members down in the canyon.

Highway Patrol Needs More Men

"The Texas Department of Public Safety still has an ever present need for young men who are interested in the field of law enforcement as a career," Major Luther C. Moore, Regional Commander of the DPS, said today.

Employment practices have been drastically changed to allow qualified applicants to take the examination immediately, in contrast to previous policy of not holding examinations until time for a patrol training school to begin.

"We realize," Moore said, "that a person looking for career employment often needs to know immediately if he is acceptable for the job. For this reason we have made the changes necessary in our procedure to tell an applicant within ten days if he has been accepted for employment."

Training schools will be held at the DPS Law Enforcement Academy in Austin in July and August and periodically thereafter. This training is designed to equip the cadet to handle any of the various situations he may encounter as a patrolman, and will start him off on the right foot toward a rewarding career in law enforcement. Pay will be $571.00 per month upon completion of training.

Moore encourages all interested high school graduates from the ages of 20 through 35 to contact their nearest Department of Public Safety Patrolman for complete details on becoming a commissioned officer with the DPS.

Junior League Playing Catch-Up

The Junior League is still playing catch-up. There were three games during the past week. Lighthouse Electric took a couple of triumphs, both over Floyd County Co-op Gins. The scores were 11-5 and 5-2. Veterans of Foreign Wars defeated First National Bank 10-3. This was VFW's first win, and leaves them in the cellar even yet. It also enabled LHE to pull away from FCCG, its nearest competitor to date, and still in second place. In other words, despite all the play, the standings remain the same in the matter of position occupied.

Six Local 4-Hers Awarded Certificates Of Scholarships

Six Floyd County 4-H members have been awarded certificates of scholarship by United Gas to attend the 1967 Texas 4-H Junior Leadership Training Laboratory. The lab will be held at the Lake Brownwood Christian Retreat starting Monday, July 31 and ending Saturday, August 5.

The lab purpose is to help 4-H participants learn to:

1. Better understand themselves and others.
2. Work more effectively with their own and other age groups.
3. Plan and carry through certain lab activities.

The lab is also designed to help agent participants learn:

1. What the 4-H participants are learning.
2. About the learning - teaching relationship that provides these experiences.
3. How to support this kind of developmental learning in county 4-H programs.

In sponsoring this lab, United Gas pays for the travel, meals, and lodging as a part of the Texas 4-H Junior Leadership Training Program. One county from each of the 12 extension districts is selected to attend the lab. A county may be represented at lab once every three years. 4-H members selected to attend the lab feel that this is one of the highlights of 4-H work.

The six 4-H members from Floyd County who will be representing the 20 counties of Extension District II are Paula Gipson, Genita Jones, Donna Schulz, Larry Scott, Billy Finley and Lindsay Lovell. Floyd County extension agents, John Fields and Sherry Mullin will accompany the group.

The agents and 4-H members from Floyd County express great appreciation for the cooperation of United Gas in sponsoring this phase of the 4-H Junior Leadership Training Program in Texas. Although United Gas does not operate in all counties of the state, they sponsor the program throughout the state.

New car sales climb by 4 per cent.

Ewing Preaches In Amarillo

Friends of Henry Ewing will be interested to know that he preached a sermon in the Southside Church of Christ in Amarillo on July 2. This is the word brought back by Mrs. Troye Stansell, who flew up to Amarillo with her son Keith Stansell of Lockney. "I wouldn't have missed it for anything," declared Mrs. Stansell, as she described the enthusiasm with which Ewing, a former minister of the City Park Church of Christ, told of his experiences in the last two months. (A comprehensive report is given in the Hesperian of June 22 on his condition as it was known at that time).

COBALT
At that time Ewing had taken 5 of the 28 cobalt treatments

he was scheduled to receive to combat the malignancy in his body. One treatment is given per day. He was to take five per week. The treacherous thing about it was that some body cells could be infected in the vital organs, and thus start a new growth. Mrs. Stansell described the joy Ewing displayed as he spoke on the theme, "Sowing the Seeds of the Kingdom." He told of his missionary experiences in Southwest Africa.

SOUTHSIDE CHURCH
The Southside Church of Christ in Amarillo is providing an apartment for the Ewing family in Amarillo. Members at City Park and other places are assisting with the upkeep on rent and medical expenses, which are quite heavy.

HOLLIS McLAIN FUND TOTALS AT $3301.87

THE TULLA PICNIC is well known in this area... and they're really planning a big celebration this Saturday. They're gonna have Miss Texas (Susan Logan) riding atop a float decorated with 7,000 yellow roses in the afternoon parade.

In fact, Mary Tom and I have an invitation to have lunch with Miss Texas at the Elm Street Inn at Tulla Saturday during a press interview set up.

My family moved to Swisher County back in 1934... so I've enjoyed many Tulla picnics since then.

FLOYD PHILOSOPHER

Cities Shouldn't Look To Him For Their Financial Salvation

Editor's Note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has had some trouble napping, if we understand his letter correctly.

Dear editor:

At first I thought I was suffocating but when I finally woke up under the tree where I was napping I discovered a copy of The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal had blown over my face and when I flailed around and got it off I decided I might as well read it. Sometimes this is a good way to get back to sleep. It didn't work, because of two articles I found in it.

One was a report quoting a big city mayor as saying every city in the United States needs help from Washington. New York alone could use 10 billion in the next few years. The cities' problems are so big and so complex, he said, that the financial burdens are now too big to bear alone. "No big city can exist without help from Washington," he said. "The problems of slums, ghettos, schools, crime, traffic, violence, drinkable water, sewage disposal, air pollution... these can't be solved without outside help."

The other article said the farm population has now dwindled to only 8 per cent of the population. In other words, 92 per cent of the people in this country are city dwellers.

I got to thinking about this and the cities can't tax each other to the hilt. Washington can't tax itself, can it? You're right, it leaves the cities who are farming and ranching.

What it means is that 92 per cent of the population is saying it can't make it from us 8 per cent.

Now this is flattering enough, I would like to help and would like to see Dallas or Fort Worth go under, but I've just looked over grass farm and I'm afraid that looking to me for financial salvation in worse shape than they realize better trying to get their notes maybe turning to some other place, Cuba, for foreign aid. Or try some of the other cities.

No use looking to Washington, I tried that and the farm population from 30 per cent of the population to 8 per cent.

Yours truly,
J. A.

be "going great guns." The Jack Jordan even try to find conventional lodging for their nightseeing at the world's fair there, as they had warned of the situation. They and the family of Doug Fergusons, of Boonton, N. J., used their camped out to the south of Montreal, making an Canada's largest city both days they were there.

CAMPING COMPLETE
It is so complete that persons may even rent not just the sites and utilities, as the Jordan-Fergusons did. Mrs. Jordan describes the trip as "quite an experience." The pavilion constructed by the United States is high, a geodetic sphere of plastic and glass, more impressed with the outside than the inside.

"MAN AND HIS WORLD"
The theme is "Man and His World." There are "Man the Explorer," "Man in the Community," and "Man's Health Complex." Films spotlight the man in a theatre in the round. There were 8,000,000 people, with far greater numbers expected during the fair ends on Oct. 27, a run of six months. The pavilion begins with cowboys and ends with the project.

SPACE AND ARTISTIC
Real contrasts are the Russian and French pavilions. The Russian is a gigantic propaganda effort, with a huge building, on products. Space programs are highlighted. They try to overwhelm visitors with sheer bulk on material aspects. The French stress the arts, with a basement portraying Paris.

FOR ALL
Everyone can see something of interest in the other pavilions and industrial exhibits that sprawl 1,000 acre fair grounds of Montreal's Cite du Havre. The islands of St. Helena and Notre Dame in the St. Lawrence River. Dirt from tunnels was used for these islands, a disposal and procurement policy in one neat package. The Jordan expressed appreciation for the fact that the pavilion and the exposition were not in each other's way for convenience. The Jordans were able to see the Russian and Russian expositions only at night, because of the closing, as far as letting people get in for a night-seeing, at 9:30, and at 9:20 huge lines were still thus could consider prices, too. These were generally high, and there were many hamburgers and hot dogs eaten. All signs were in both French and English.

BURMA, CEYLON
She was especially impressed with the very beautiful Burmese exhibits, which featured gold, ornate woodwork, and with the exhibits from Ceylon. Arnold Toynbee, the outstanding English historian, holds Ceylon as one of the brightest civilizations of ancient days, and that impression is borne out in their pavilion. The outstanding features are the delicately traced roof, beautifully carved exterior wall panels and relief sculpture. There were also exotic costumes from India, Scotland (kilts), and from African negroes.

MRS. J. H. BARNARD
Mrs. Jordan referred the inquiring reporter to Mrs. J. H. Barnard, who had made a tour of 1 1/2 days previously, and who is well-known for her graphic descriptions of places she has visited. Despite her having to go back a third time to see her own country's exhibits, due to escalator trouble, she managed to make a number of sharply etched observations on the exposition. As in the case of the Jordans, she only wished she could have seen much more.

LIBYA
The silver, wire, tracery, baskets, sandals, and costumes of Libya, in north Africa, impressed Mrs. Barnard tremendously. She also stressed the reclamation efforts of the Israelis in the southern part of their homeland. The exhibit of Sierra Leone, wedged in between Guinea and Liberia on the "hump" in Africa, also impressed her, as well as did the exhibits of England, Yugoslavia, and Czechoslovakia.

CHINA, TEA
England stressed the protection given its eccentrics. This may well have kept England in the fine balance it has displayed in a topsy-turvy world. Her magnificent chinaware came in also for praise, as well as "that great Indian tea!"

CENTRAL EUROPE
The central European countries of Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia came in for distinct praise in Mrs. Barnard's observations. The former had magnificent pictures of mountains and seacoasts, while the latter had the longest lines of the entire exposition waiting to see their crystal, glass, statuary, lace, and jewelry. The lace hung from the ceiling. The jewelry had the same high artistic level.

DOWN ON THE FARM

How 'Ya Gonna Keep Em?

WASHINGTON — By 1975, 73 out of every 100 Americans will live in urban areas.

The gap in per capita income between metropolitan and rural areas will widen from the $800 it was in 1962 to $1000.

Greater job opportunities in the city will steadily drain the population from the countryside. These projections were published in the monthly report of the National Planning Association (NPA), a prominent research organization.

"Swell" Expected

The study was conducted by Dr. Joe Won Lee, who said that the 68 per cent of the nation's population which currently lives in metropolitan areas will swell by 5 per cent in the next eight years as the economic exodus from country to city intensifies.

The NPA article forecasts that 60 per cent of America's 225 million residents in 1975 will be concentrated in the 25 largest metropolitan areas, and their personal income and employment rate will exceed their national share.

Lee pointed out that metropolitan areas are defined as ones where a central city has more than 50,000 population; more than 75 per cent of the work force is engaged in non-agricultural activity; and the density is greater than 150 persons per square mile.

The continuing population shift from the countryside to the city is directly linked to the steady increase of job opportunities in urban areas, the NPA article concluded.

NPA said metropolitan centers in the Southeast, Southwest, Mountain, and Far West regions would increase their percentage of the nation's population, with the Middle Atlantic region growing at a slightly lesser pace.

Federal Wheat Checks On Way

WASHINGTON — Government checks totaling more than $700 million soon will be headed to 822,000 farmers who participated in the Agriculture Department's 1967 wheat program.

This compares with about $435 million paid wheat growers in 1966. The department makes payments to growers who plant within allotments designed to help stabilize supplies and prices of this food grain.

The payment rate on the 1967 crop will be $1.36 a bushel compared with $1.32 last year. This payment is made on 35 per cent of the projected production of cooperating farmers. It is in addition to whatever price the grower is able to get for his wheat in the market or the price support loan averaging $1.25 a bushel offered by the department.

There've been some changes made

There was a time when our telephone operators wore "floor duster" dresses and sat on high wooden stools. Not so today.

New equipment and new work techniques have revolutionized the familiar world of "Number, please." And the operating room of the future incorporates the most dramatic and far-reaching changes ever. In these new rooms, there are no plugs, cords or jacks. Instead of being lined up along a multi-position switchboard, operators sit at desk-like consoles widely spaced through the room. Everything is bright and modern.

Already operational in a few Southwestern Bell cities, these newest operating rooms represent more than a change in looks. The new consoles make many new services possible. Customers can dial person-to-person, credit card and collect Long Distance calls. Service is faster and more efficient.

More and more of these new consoles will be installed as time goes by. But despite the changes in equipment and techniques, one thing will remain the same. Our operators will still be dedicated to giving the best possible service to our customers. The "voice with a smile" is as important and meaningful as ever.

Some things just don't need changing.

Devotional of the Month

Are You Afraid?

In the Bible we read, "Be careful for nothing; but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God" Philipians 4:6.

Be careful for nothing. In nothing be anxious! There is not a message that we need to hear more than this message now. Anxieties are all around us. To those who are not Christians should be afraid, but Christians have no reason to be afraid. Jesus taught us the way out of the world of anxieties. His prescription was simple. Believe in God, obey God and trust in God.

Why be more concerned with the cares of this life, with earthly possessions and worldly pleasures than with your spiritual relations with God? Why give more time and thought and effort for earthly honor or other material rewards than with your dedication to Jesus Christ?

In nothing be anxious! Seek God's way of living. Yield your life to Christ. Receive lasting peace with God and then you can know the peace that passeth all understanding. When the storms broke around Jesus, the foundation stood, because his faith was in God. Peace for your mind and heart comes from God. Faith in God will calm every doubt and fear.

Today, if you want real peace hear the words of Jesus, "Have faith in God. Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you; not as this world giveth, I give unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let
