Outlook For Labor Peace Is Gloomy

DECREE RULE TO DALADIER

Walter Winchell

A Roundup Of The Doings In Little Old New York

THE First-Nights: "Sing Out the News" arrived two Saturday nights ago at the Music Box, where the first witnesses and most of the critics appreciated its jollier sections . . . Meaning that if you scored the entire proceedings the box-score would read: "12-8" in favor of the show . . . Monday night at the Booth the Guilders delivered "Dame Nature" . . . It is a fragile fable with the acting of Jessie Royce Landis, Lois Hall and some others making it easier to sit through . . . After the usual six weeks it is doubtful if "Dame Nature" will linger . . .

WINCHELL

"Thanks For Tomorrow" came to the Bayes the following night, which is an obituary in itself . . . Clare Boothe, author of "The Women," delivered another slampoon called "Kiss the Boys Goodbye" to the Henry Miller, and some of us kissed it passionately . . . Some others admitted it was vastly funny, but didn't think it had any purpose . . . We go to the theaters merely to be diverted for two hours and a half . . . When a play makes us forget the grind and routine, and keeps us chuckling or laughing most of the evening, then it's entertainment . . . And, therefore, has its purpose . . . A big kiss then to The Beautiful La Boothe for "Kiss the Boys Goodbye."

The Magic Lanterns: "Too Hot to Handle" is full if incredible items, but the sponsors were smart enough to hide the yarn behind Gable and Loy . . . The Paramount's enticer, "If I Were King," is a sword-waving opus with Ronald Colman and Basil Rathbone and baby-eyed heroines. It's a good picture . . . Hope Hampton's loveliness is to be enjoyed in "Road to Reno" at the Globe . . . The Ritz Brothers in "Straight, Place and Show" at the Roxy are funnier than seeing Il Duce in his underwear. D Runyon wrote it . . . "Drums" at the Music Hall is a pictorial cocktail aided by technicolor . . . Its story moves as smoothly as the peeling of a banana . . . "The Story of a Cheat" is a French mediocrity . . . "Mr. Doodle Kicks Off," starring Joe Penner, was unappreciated by the critics . . . The Embassy Newsreel theater (which usually enjoys able editing) unloaded five versions of the hurricane, one from each studio. The kodaking was identical in all of them, the only variation being in the narrator's wearisome adjectiving . . . The chances are that the theater didn't want to antagonize any of the companies by omitting its shots—it being so much safer to antagonize the audience.

THE Wireless: "Information Please," which has finally won a sponsor, must now be more fussy than ever to remain good fun . . . Chamberlain's speech really caused the heart to sweat tears. His sincerity tied the emotions in a knot . . . Jack Benny in "7 Keys to Baldpate" was like welcoming an old friend into the house. Benny is one man who makes the invention of radio worthwhile . . . Kate Smith's song styles remain in a class alone. Delightful listening . . . A new low was bringing the wife of a self-confessed snatcher-murderer to the "We the People" microphone. It was a maudlin session which took the edge off Daniel Frohman's contribution to the same program . . . Don Ameche is too cheerful. We're sure he doesn't read the front pages . . .

The Story-Tellers: Grace Adams discusses the evils of the WPA system in Harper's, in a summing-up called: "The White Collar Chokes" . . . The lady, it seems to us, forgets that the needy had the choice of a tight collar or a loose belt . . . Laurence Bell shows his fangs at the New York subways (in the Mercury) and denies that they are as cozy as cabs. He cannot, of course, deny that the subways get you there fast for a nickel—which is all they promise . . . Joe Williams in College Humor

Chief Of Little Republic Has To Step Out

Executive Holds His Nation Together As Long As Possible Under Tremendous Pressure

(By The Associated Press)

PRAGUE, Oct. 5 — The resignation of President Eduard Benes of Czechoslovakia was officially announced today.

The resignation of the chief of state, who had held his little republic together as long as possible under pressure of tremendous events, was not unexpected although it had been denied several times recently he intended to step down.

EDUARD BENES

Benes became president of Czechoslovakia in December, 1935, succeeding the founder of the republic, the late Thomas G. Masaryk.

The Munich agreement of the four big powers, compelling Czechoslovakia to cede the Sudetenland to Germany, represented a complete failure of the foreign policy with which Benes had been closely associated since the founding of the state 20 years ago.

The pressure of Britain and France to compel Benes and his government to accept submission to the terms of Adolf Hitler proved a tremendous blow.

Informed persons felt that Benes' departure from office—and possibly from the country—might remove the curent acute situation and make collaboration with Germany possible.

Benes had been the target for bitter attacks by Hitler and other German leaders and for a scathing campaign of denunciation in the German press.

Syrovy To Be Acting Head

It was understood General Jan Syrovy, soldier-premier, would be acting president until an election could be arranged to choose Benes successor.

The election will be conducted by the national assembly, composed of the chamber of deputies and the senate sitting together.

Benes prepared to broadcast his

3500th Student Enrolled Today

Texas Technological college reached the significant 3,500-mark in enrollment shortly before noon today.

Registered student No. 3,500 was George Huff, San Antonio, who enrolled as a freshman majoring in business administration.

When business offices closed at the college late Tuesday, 3,498 students had completed all requirements for registering by paying necessary fees. Some 30 or 40 others who had enrolled and who still were attending classes were advised that unless fees were paid this morning, they would not be permitted to continue classwork. Leniency had been allowed them because of the efforts most were making to continue in school.

Just what the final total registration will be college authorities explained, will not be known until final reports late today.

New Constitution Is Said Need Of Texas

DALLAS, Oct. 5 (AP)—Adoption of a completely new Texas constitution was proposed last night by Gerald C. Mann of Dallas, the state's next attorney general.

Speaking at the annual banquet of the Oak Cliff-Dallas Commercial association, Mann said Texas should draft a new constitution to fit the needs of a modern state.

ANXIOUS TO REACH U. S.

PARIS, Oct. 5 (AP)—Arturo Toscanni, the conductor who was said to have had passport difficulties with the Italian government, took a boat train today less than an hour after his arrival in Paris from Milan. He sailed aboard the Normandie with his wife and young grand-daughter. Friends said he was anxious to reach the United States "as soon as possible."

ROWLETT MAN KILLED

DALLAS, Oct. 5. (AP)—A man tentatively identified as Grover Cleveland Bowling, 47, of near Rowlett was killed by a street car on a viaduct here last night. The street car operator said the man apparently was crawling along the track on his hands and knees.

They Must Not Like Hitler!

A booing throng, shouting "Down With Hitler," and "Deport Kuhn," attempted to rush German-American Bund headquarters at Union City, N. J., where Fritz Kuhn, leader of the fascist group, was to have spoken celebrating German's seizure of Sudetenland. Police had to escort him to safety through the threatening crowd.

German-American Bund Has 'Shooting Contests' For Its Members, Witness Testifies

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 — A house committee investigator testified today the German-American bund at its 1937 national convention in New York arranged secretly to establish shooting ranges for all its storm troopers.

The investigator, John C. Metcalfe, told the Dies committee investigating un-American activities that target ranges had been established by local units in Philadelphia, Buffalo, Reading, Pa., and Detroit. He added the troopers drilled and engaged in target practice at night during the summer.

Metcalfe is a former storm trooper.

Hold Shooting Contests

He quoted Henry Lage, leader of the San Francisco bund post, as saying a number of West coast posts held shooting contests "to help train our men in the use of guns."

The witness declared also the American bund had been attempting to consolidate all Nazi-fascist elements in this country into one great movement which he said a "Hitler-inspired" bund was to lead.

Among the groups the bund in-

'My Campaign's Over,' W. Lee O'Daniel Says In Austin Today

AUSTIN, Oct. 5 (AP) — W. Lee O'Daniel's campaigning is over, at least for the time being.

He has three opponents in the general election, a Republican, a socialist and a Communist, but doesn't intend to do anything about it.

Here for a water conservation meeting, he was asked if he planned any campaign before the November election. He laughed.

"My campaign's over," he said.

State To Push Cement Suit

AUSTIN, Oct. 5 — State's attorneys closed their files today on one celebrated anti-trust suit and marshaled prosecution for another.

They wrote "finis" to a case charging 15 oil companies and two associations with conspiracy illegally to restrain trade and looked to commencement, probably early next month, of hearings in another charging six cement companies with price-fixing.

State Gets $425,000

The oil litigation ended yesterday —by payment of a $425,000 agreed judgment in open court.

The judgment was paid by the Texas Petroleum Marketers' association and exempted all other defendants. The state had sought maximum penalties of $17,850,000 and forfeiture of the defendants' charters.

Settlement Rapidly Accepted

Almost seven years old, the suit was based on a code of marketing practices for the oil industry. Because the code has long since been abandoned District Judge J. D. Moore urged an out-of-court settlement, which was readily accepted by defense and prosecution.

The cement suit, seeking possible penalties of $30,000,000 and cancellation of the companies' permits, was filed only last March following months of investigation by the attorney general's department.

Closer U. S.-Canada Union Is Envisaged

TORONTO, Oct 5 (Canadian Press) — A closer union between Canada and the United States arising from the struggle of European countries to become self-sustaining was envisaged last night by Mitchell Hepburn, Ontario's farmer-premier.

Hepburn told the American Transit association Japan, Italy and Germany revealed in the recent world crisis they had serious designs upon the rest of the world, seeking to make themselves self-sustaining at the expense of other countries.

Canada and the United States never had feared invasion, he said, but they should give serious thought to becoming self-contained.

Japanese Follow Up Advance With Furious Attack On Loki

SHANGHAI, Oct. 5. (AP)—Japanese followed up a 12-mile advance today with a furious attack by which they occupied Loki, 38 miles southwest of Juichang.

Japanese claimed the maneuver turned the left flank of the Chinese line defending bitterly-contested Teian. Chinese said they defeated Japanese attempting to push through the Tapieh mountains on the north bank of the Yangtze, northwest of Hankow.

Labor Attorneys Seek To Refute Contention Of Rails' Counsel

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—Labor attorneys sought to refute today a contention by witnesses for the railroads that wages must come down 15 per cent to save the industry from bankruptcy.

Dr. Willford King, New York university economist, told President Roosevelt's fact-finding board yesterday the "shrinkage in railway income is so large as to forecast bankruptcy of the industry unless the situation is remedied."

Counsel for the railroad brotherhoods contended his studies conflicted with government statistics and failed to take into acount business prospects.

SENATE GRANTS DECREE

PARIS, Oct. 5. (AP)—The senate today voted to grant Premier Edouard Daladier's cabinet powers to govern France by decree until Nov. 15, powers already approved by the chamber of deputies.

al with which the chamber yesterday acclaimed Daladier as a savior of peace.

Daladier now has to push his dictatorial powers bill through the senate, which adjourned shortly after midnight. Lengthy wrangling kept the chamber in session until dawn.

Senate approval of the premier's demand for decree powers seemed assured when the finance committee of the upper house passed the government bill with only three absententions, including former Premier Pierre Laval, and no opposing votes.

Only by a strange combination of appeals to patriotism and shrewd political trading did Daladier keep socialists from casting the 157 votes against him.

He was forced to cut the term of

Overthrow Of Government Is Avoided

Chamber Of Deputies Grant Consent To Decree Which Must Go Before Senate

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Oct. 5—Premier Edouard Daladier early today won chamber of deputies consent to rule France by decree until November 15, after a stormy night of political maneuvering during which he was forced to make repeated concessions to avoid overthrow of his government.

The vote was 331 to 78 with 204 deputies refusing to vote, notably different from the 535 to 75 approv-

AFOL Reply To Appeal Of FDR Seen

Resolution Demanding Peace Efforts Be Renewed With CIO Faces Disapproval

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Oct. 5 — American Federation of Labor leaders, well informed sources said today, may reply indirectly to President Roosevelt's appeal for labor peace by disapproving a resolution calling on the 58th annual convention to order reopening of the unity conference with John L. Lewis' CIO.

The resolution, submitted by delegates from the Hotel and Restaurant Employes International Alliance, demanded that the CIO peace negotiations broken off last December be renewed immediately.

It also asked that the A. F. of L. recognize the policy of industrial unionism advocated by CIO Chairman Lewis for mass production industries.

Possibility Virtually Exploded

Any possibility that the resolutions committee might approve the resolution was virtually exploded yesterday by William Green, the federation's president.

"Overtures for a peace conference should and ought to come from the CIO," Green told newspapermen. "There is no immediate prospect for peace and nothing for us to do but wait."

FDR Sends Message

Green's comment was prompted by a message of good wishes to the convention from Mr. Roosevelt in which he expressed the hope the door to peace would be left open and warned of the reaction which might injure all workers if the labor war went on.

Poloists To Play At New Mexico's Fair

Members of the Lubbock Polo club will leave here next Wednesday for Albuquerque, N. M., where they will participate in games with the Plainview club as a special attraction at the New Mexico state fair, Oct. 13 and 14.

The teams will be paid all expenses to and from Albuquerque and while there. Thirteen horses will be sent there by each team.

Lubbock players who are to make the trip are: R. L. Hester, Claude Hurlbut, Ben Parkinson, J. H. Cooper, and Guy Smith. Plainview players will be: Blackie Norris, Clyde Bradley, Marvin Shurbert and Lloyd Phillips.

The Lubbock club went down in defeat in a game Sunday afternoon, the Smith Bros. club of Lubbock winning 3 to 2 in a fast contest in which the victors played greatly improved polo. Practice sessions will be held until Wednesday.

James Roosevelt To See Series Game And Then Go To Coast

ROCHESTER, Minn., Oct. 5. (AP)—James Roosevelt, son of the president, who had been recuperating from a stomach operation which kept him in bed 23 days, will leave for Chicago tonight to take in one game of the World series before heading for a California ranch. From Chicago he will go to the ranch of Welter P. Murphy, Chicago, at Hollister, Cal., for further rest.

AAA Pays $55,140,808 In Farm Benefits In July And August

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—The Agricultural Adjustment administration reported today it disbursed $55,140,808 in benefit payments to farmers and administrative expenses during July and August of this year. It said administrative expenses, exclusive of those of local county farmer committees, totaled $3,134,703.

Payments by states included: Oklahoma $1,639,804; Texas $2,541,808.

There's Still Plenty Of Room At Top Of Texas Educational Industry; Seek College Heads

(By The Associated Press)

There still is plenty of room at the top of the Texas educational industry.

This was evident today as boards of directors continued their careful search among candidates for president of three leading institutions—the University of Texas, Southern Methodist university and Texas Technological college.

Selection "Not Far Off"

Dr. Edward Randall, president of the U. of T. board of regents, said at Galveston Tuesday he believed selection of a $17,500-a-year man to succeed the late Dr. H. Y. Benedict was "not far off." Dr. Randall said the regents probably would meet at Austin within the next two weeks but no definite date had been set.

Comptroller J. W. Calhoun has directed the affairs of the university since Dr. Benedict's death May 10, 1937.

At Dallas, Board Vice-Chairman Frank McNeny announced Tuesday a nominating committee would present the names of seven candidates to the entire

Red Ruffing Holds Cubs As Mates Put On Batting Power

By Associated Press

WRIGLEY FIELD, CHICAGO, Oct. 5—Turning on their famed batting power for 12 hits against Bill Lee and Jack Russell, the World Champion New York Yankees defeated the Chicago Cubs, 3 to 1, in the opening game of the World series here today before 44,000 disappointed fans.

Lee, backbone of the Chicago hurling staff, was combed for 11 hits by the Manhattan sluggers before he retired for a pinch-hitter in the eighth. Red Ruffing held the Cubs to nine hits, including a triple by Manager Gabby Hartnett, and was never in serious danger.

Ruffing and Joe DiMaggio alone of the Yankee lineup failed to get in on the clubbing. Bill Dickey, tall catcher, was the biggest explosion with four singles. He scored what proved the winning run in the second inning and drove across Tommy Henrich with the final run of the game in the sixth.

Following is the play by play detail of the game:

First Inning Yankees

Crosetti worked the count to three and two and then struck out.

Rolfe sent a bounder off first base and Collins threw to Lee to put him out. Henrich struck out.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

First Inning Cubs:

Hack fouled several times, then singled sharply to left center. Hack then was out stealing. Dickey to Crosetti. Crosetti threw out Herman. DeMarrais fanned.

No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

Second Inning Yankees:

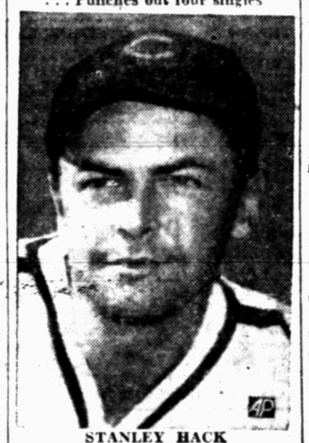

Hack took DiMaggio's grounder near third base and threw him out. Gehrig walked on four pitches. Dickey slashed a single into right field and when Cavarretta tried to catch Gehrig with a throw to third Dickey went to second, Gehrig making third easily. Herman fumbled Selkirk's easy bounder, Gehrig scoring. Dickey going to third and the batter reaching first. Gordon's hard roller went through Hack and into left field for a single scoring Dickey and sending Selkirk to second. Ruffing grounded to Jurges who threw to Herman forcing Gordon, and Herman's throw to Collins re-

Texas Aggies Drill At Tech Field Today

Coach Homer Norton brought his Texas A. & M. college football Aggies to Texas Tech field this morning where they practiced enroute to San Francisco.

The Farmers, rated strong contenders for the Southwest conference title, play Santa Clara university at Kezar stadium in San Francisco Saturday in one of the country's more important intersectional combats.

Thirty-one players, including the popular Dick Todd, Aggie backfield star, drilled under the observation of Coach Norton, his assistants and a hundred or so sideline fans attracted to the field. The squad left at 1:30 for the West coast.

Arp Man Critically Hurt In Car Mishap

W. L. Massey, 32, of Arp, Texas, was critically injured when the automobile in which he was riding overturned near Ralls early this morning.

He was brought to Lubbock sanitarium where attendants said he had received head and chest injuries, several fractured ribs and serious lacerations of the face. His skull apparently was fractured and his chest was crushed, information continued.

J. B. Starritt, also of Arp, another occupant of the car, escaped with minor injuries.

Massey and Starritt, according to information here, are cotton pickers and had found work near Ralls. They reported they were driving to the farm where they had been employed when something happened to the car, causing it to overturn with Massey pinned beneath.

An investigation of the accident is being made by officers of the state highway patrol, according to Capt. W. W. Legge, district commandant.

Suit Which Had Been In Court For 23 Years Is Dismissed By Dallas Judge On Tuesday

DALLAS, Oct. 5. (AP)—A suit which had been in the courts more than 23 years and on which 18 continuances were granted was dismissed Tuesday by District Judge Dick Dixon. It was styled ex parte Traders Compress Warehouse vs. H. & T. C. railroad.

When plaintiff's attorneys asked for another continuance, Judge Dixon took a quick look at the age-stained records, then remarked caustically:

"Gentlemen, the defendant now has his turn. I will set this case for trial."

Neither parties to the suit nor attorneys appeared and the case was dismissed.

State Fair Of Texas To Open Golden Jubilee Show On Saturday

Attendance Is Expected High

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The state fair, after a two-year lapse, resumes operations Saturday for a 16-day run. Has the elegance of the two Centennial celebrations worked an insuperable hardship on it? What may the visitor expect to see? Here is the answer, in a series of two stories).

By WILLIAM T. RIVES
Associated Press Staff Writer

DALLAS, Oct. 5. — The State Fair of Texas, stretching lustily in its infancy, drew a deep breath in its reorganization year of 1904 and recklessly tossed $10,000 into the amusement and electrification of a few thousand awed attendants who came by ox wagon and horseback.

Today its administrators were calmly smoothing out last-minute details before exhibiting the $25,000,000 golden jubilee show, the world's largest state fair.

Expect 1,250,000 To Attend

They confidently expected 1,250,000 persons to click the turnstiles from opening day Saturday until the finale Oct. 23—an average of 78,000 per day.

What is the lure?

Simply application of the fundamental rule of show business — you've got to give 'em a bigger and better show, or they'll stay home.

Two minutes' conversation with state fair officials engraves the impression they believe the Centennial celebrations of the past two years—gaudy, expensive and magnificent though they were—will be outstripped by the fair, which politely bowed its way to the sidelines while the Centennial whopped and hollered to the world.

Using Centennial Buildings

The Centennial was staged on the sprawling, 187-acre plant of the state fair. The fair's renewal will find it setting up shop in the beautiful buildings and landscaped work which dazzled visitors to the hundredth-anniversary festivities.

The fair, however, did plenty of work on the physical properties, and is certain the show, from outward appearances, will not appear like last year's suit dragged out of the mothballs.

Where the Centennial lost money, although providing a fine medium for advertising Texas, the fair officials fail to see any such outlook for their extravaganza.

They already have sold every available square inch of exhibit space—more space than the Centennial show sold.

Show For Texas, Southwest

It's going to be a show for Texas and the Southwest, and here are some of the reasons:

One of the world's largest livestock and agricultural shows, designed to give a complete picture of Texas farm work.

Two hundred thousand square feet—largest space ever occupied for a show of that nature—have been allotted Texas dealers in implements and farm machinery.

One hundred thousand dollars in premiums will be awarded.

"America's largest midway" will lure those interested in amusement only.

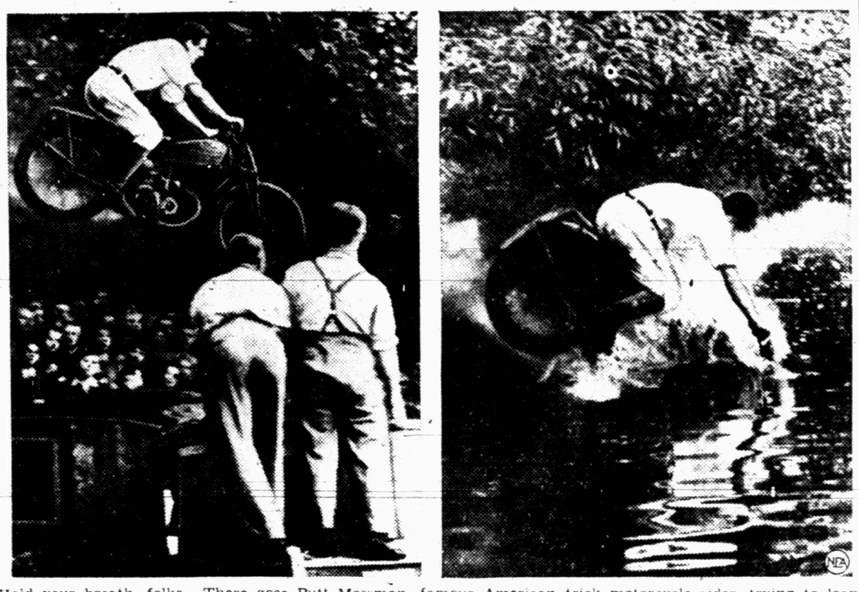

More than 125 special days have been crammed into the 16-day program.

Such youth organizations as the Future Farmers of America and the 4-H clubs will be given prominent parts in the show throughout its run.

Times are better and the farmer's income has increased over a year ago.

A dish of green peas in dark blue pods was exhibited at the horticultural show in England. They were grown from seed which had been lying dormant for 4,000 years in Tutankhamen's tomb.

He's Up . . . He's Down . . . He's Dunked

Hold your breath, folks. There goes Putt Mossman, famous American trick motorcycle rider, trying to leap the River Lea at Rye House, England, after getting up speed on a specally-built 60-foot runway. But he doesn't make it, as the picture at the right shows. He and the motorcycle get dunked and the crowd gets a thrill.

Fifteen Vacancies On Federal Tribunals

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—There are 15 vacancies on the federal bench, ranging from the supreme court to district courts.

President Roosevelt has authority to fill them at any time, but informed persons said today his nominations probably would be delayed until after the November election, and possibly until congress meets in January.

The vacancies include four places on circuit courts of appeal and 10 district judgeships in addition to the highest court vacancy resulting from the death last July of Associate Justice Benjamin N. Cardozo.

The lower court places resulted from an omnibus judgeship act approved by the last congress as part of the administration's program to expedite federal court cases by providing additional judges.

Justice department officials said prompt appointments would aid this purpose, but added that few judges would care to act until the senate had confirmed presidential appointments.

Although the president appoints the federal judiciary, subject to senate confirmation, recommendations nearly always come from the attorney general after investigations by justice department agents and consultation with senators from the states involved.

The omnibus act created a score of new judgeships. Six appointments have been made, but only one has been confirmed by the senate.

Organization To Produce Mae West Pictures Is Formed

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5 (AP) — Organization of a $6,000,000 "Mae West Empire Pictures, Inc.," to produce pictures starring Mae West, motion picture actress, was announced today by Louis Lurie, San Francisco promoter.

Lurie said the company will produce four pictures a year, two written by and starring Mae West and the other two directed by her. He added arrangements are pending with United Artists to be the distributing agency.

N. Y. Tests Prove Women Can Lose FAT

Ask Your Doctor If It Isn't Good Way. Read EVERY Word —

NEW YORK, N. Y. A test conducted by a prominent N. Y. physician and a nationally known newspaper woman proved there is a harmless, effective way to lose fat, if you'll only STICK TO IT and give it a fair trial.

In 40 days, 5 women lost a total of 286 lbs. EVERY woman lost fat—the average loss per woman being 11½ lbs. The women first of all ate sensibly. And for proper functioning they took a little daily dose of Kruschen Salts. If you have the slightest doubt about this Plan just ask your own doctor about its safety and merit.

And this is important to know:

Kruschen is not just one salt as some people may ignorantly believe. Rather, it's a blend of 6 active mineral salts (see on box) which, when dissolved in water, make a healthful mineral drink similar to the waters of famous European Spas where wealthy fat women have gone for years.

Here's the Kruschen Plan. Just take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in hot water every morning for better functioning. Go light on fatty foods and sweets—eat plenteously of lean meats, fresh fruits and green vegetables. Plan to do this faithfully for 28 days and see if you don't lose fat and feel healthier and younger. A jar costs but a few cents and makes 5 gallons of almost highly efficient mineral health water. At druggists everywhere.—Adv.

WHY FALSE TEETH WEARERS HAVE Bad Breath

MILLIONS SUFFER WITHOUT KNOWING

You can't notice any odor from your plate or bridge—but others can! Dentists call this odor "denture breath" and it's serious. It comes from a mucin-scum that collects on plates and bridges. This scum is almost invisible—but it can make your breath so bad that friends shudder. It can breed decay-bacteria that infect your other teeth, actually hurt your health and spoil your pleasure.

Ordinary brushing cannot get this scum off plate or bridge—can't protect you against "denture breath." But just try Polident! Polident not only cleans—it actually purifies plates and bridges without brushing. It gets every bit of scum, tarnish, stain and odor—dissolves it away and leaves your plate sweet and clean as new.

POLIDENT
Cleans, Purifies Like Magic

Put plate or bridge in ½ glass of water. Add a little Polident powder. Leave in 10 to 15 minutes — rinse — and it's sweet and purified—ready to use!

Your breath will be fresher, your mouth feel cleaner—and your plate last longer and look better. Polident is approved by dental authorities. Good Housekeeping and tens of thousands of users. Long-lasting can costs only 30¢ at any drug store.

YOUR MILEAGE MERCHANT backs up his personal assurance of easy winter starting and oil economy by OIL-PLATING YOUR ENGINE —more than an oil change!

JUST because this is in print instead of coming direct from Your Mileage Merchant's lips doesn't change the fact that he backs every word personally. How does he go through with that? By giving your engine the only OIL-PLATING. That's not mere words; it's what patented Conoco Germ Processed oil DOES.

Activated by an ADDED man-made compound—ADDED to oil's best natural qualities—ADDED to the best refining—this exclusive Germ Processed oil ADDS itself direct to the inner engine surfaces... unites so thoroughly that every working part stays constantly OIL-PLATED.

Does the chrome plating on the bumpers drain down every time your car stops? Neither does OIL-PLATING in your engine. When you want to start up again, after hours of wintry parking—after nights or even weeks in the coldest garage—you've got ready lubrication faster than instantly!—in advance of the fastest oil-circulation. For drain-proof OIL-PLATING has stayed lastingly plated all the way up, to make things slide lightly and swiftly for your starter and battery. That also tells you why you're rid of costly starting wear. And OIL-PLATING stays in as long as you use Germ Processed oil. The gauge-stick gives Your Mileage Merchant his strongest backing.

Mayor LaGuardia And John L. Lewis Twin Enigmas Of '38 Campaign

Attitudes Not Yet Declared

BY KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Twin enigmas of the 1938 campaign are Mayor LaGuardia of New York City and John L. Lewis, CIO chieftain.

Neither has yet declared his attitude toward the Republican-Democratic contests for governor in Pennsylvania and New York—contests on which national attention will center. Those neighboring states on the East coast cast 15 per cent of the total electoral vote in presidential years, 83 out of 523. LaGuardia in New York and Lewis in Pennsylvania might wield sufficient influence to determine whether this year is to see an up-set in one or both states to darken Democratic hopes of retaining national political control in 1940.

May Not Break Silence

Lewis' silence as to the inter-party contest in Pennsylvania dates back to the defeat of the CIO ticket in the Democratic primaries. It has grown so prolonged that there is a feeling among some Washington political observers, that it will not be broken at all before election day.

The case of Mayor LaGuardia is wholly different. There appears to be agreement among both Republican and Democratic leaders in New York state that he will take a stand as between Governor Lehman and the Republican nominee, Thomas E. Dewey. Both groups express hope he will bat on their side; but in Washington, at least, the Democrats seem more confident of his eventual support for Lehman.

Should a New Deal dictated Democratic nomination go elsewhere than New York in 1940, some observers think LaGuardia might come in for consideration for second place on such a ticket. The fact that he is an American Labor party member, after various party affiliation adventures, might be no bar to his consideration for Democratic second-place honors.

Close Alliance With Demos Made By Labor Party

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. (AP)—A close political alliance for November with Democrats in New York state was effected Tuesday by the American Labor party as it ended its state convention.

Alp, whose leaders have predicted a total vote under its emblem of more than 500,000, completed selection of a slate largely made up of Democratic nominees simply by making these candidates its own, and pledged continuing support to Roosevelt policies.

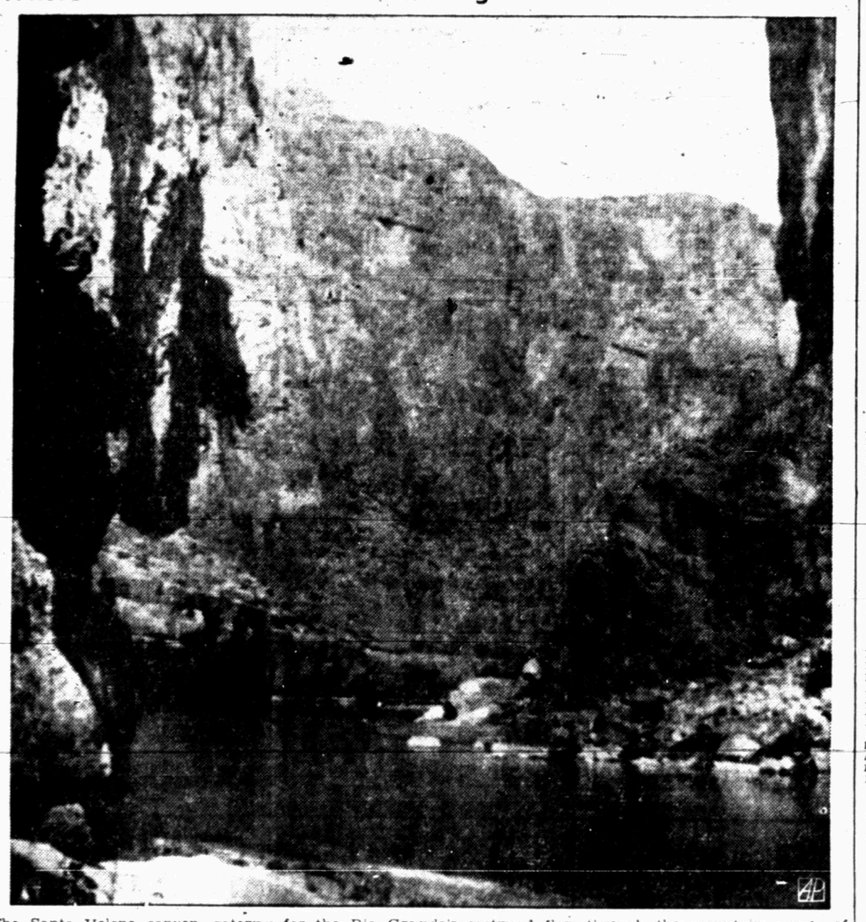

The ticket included:

For governor—Herbert H. Lehman, Democrat, seeking re-election to a fourth term.

For re-election to the U. S. senate (full term), Robert F. Wagner, Democrat.

For the U. S. Senate (short term, to fill the vacancy left by the death of Senator Royal S. Copeland), Rep. James M. Mead, Democrat and, like Wagner, a leading New Dealer.

Where The Rio Grande Bisects The Big Bend Mountains

The Santa Helena canyon, gateway for the Rio Grande's eastward flow through the mountain ranges of the Big Bend country, recently was the scene of a hazardous adventure of three United States soldiers. Attempting to swim the treacherous, rough, waterway one was drowned and two marooned several days. This scene is where the border river emerges from the towering walls of the eroded cleft in the lonely hills.

Thirteen-Year-Old Is Freshman At Baylor; Fourteen-Year-Old Girl Not Far Behind Him

WACO, Oct. 5 (AP)—Josh Galen Lawrence is only 13 years old, but he doesn't allow his age to stand in the way of his education. He registered at Baylor university last week and now is a full-fledged freshman at the Baptist institution.

"High school was easy for me, and I believe I can make good grades in college too," he said confidently while his older classmates gazed in awe as the 85-pound youngster used both arms and his chest to hold his college books.

John is the son of Supt. W. E. Lawrence of the Axtell Public schools, a Baylor alumnus. He said he would like very much to play on the Baylor football team but he is afraid his 85 pounds would make him ineligible.

Pushing him for age honors at the school is little Miss Frances Scott, 14-year-old from Utopia. She was valedictorian of her class with a 98 per cent record.

Both expect to give much of their time to extra-curricula activities and will take the full four years period to finish Baylor. They reached college at the early age by skipping several of the lower grades.

Auction Sale Of Cattle On Duke's Ranch Brings $11,450

HIGH RIVER, Alta., Oct. 5 (Canadian Press)—The auction sale of cattle on the Duke of Windsor's "E. P." ranch in the southern Alberta foothills realized $11,450 for the Royal owner.

The sale was held last Friday after the management announced the ranch was "going out of cattle raising."

More Than 100 Bales Of Cotton Burned

IDALOU, Oct. 5 (Special)—More than 100 bales of cotton in the seedhouse at the Farmers Cooperative gin were destroyed by fire here Tuesday night.

The cotton loss was estimated at $5,000 to $6,000. Loss of the cotton house also was estimated at several thouand dollars.

The gin, however, was saved by fire-fighters who kept the flames guarded.

The cotton continued to smoulder until midnight, and it was indicated would continue several days probably.

Origin of the flames was not known. The blaze was detected about 6:30 o'clock tonight soon after a bale had been unloaded in the cotton house.

The chemical truck from the Lubbock fire department was called to assist in fighting the fire. Chief W. E. Twitty accompanied the truck.

Teachers Name Officers Here

Erton Tate, member of the high school faculty here, was chosen president of the Lubbock County Teachers association at a meeting in Senior High school auditorium Tuesday night.

Joseph R Griggs, county school superintendent who called the meeting to order as retiring second-vice president, explained the organization is a chapter of the state teachers association.

Songs by a girls' sextet directed by Mrs. Waldo Trotter preceded the election of officers. New officers, additional to Tate, are:

E. R. Haskins of Friendship Rural High school, first vice-president; Joe Webb of the Slaton school faculty, second vice-president; Mrs. Mauriece Elbert of Roosevelt Rural High school, Slaton, route 2, secretary; and R. W. Matthews, principal of Lubbock Senior High school, treasurer. Haskins was chosen program chairman and Webb director of publicity.

Report Is Given

Dan W. Powers of the Lubbock High school faculty reported on the status of the teacher retirement system of Texas and said in the last year teachers deposited $2,300,000. Under the constitutional amendment, the state is scheduled to match the teachers' fund dollar for dollar.

Powers urged each teacher to encourage legislation beneficial to the teachers retirement plan.

Teachers voted in favor of each rural school faculty selecting one representative, Slaton school faculty selecting one, Lubbock schools selecting two and Texas Technological college one to attend the district meeting in the spring. Names of the 10 delegates to represent the Lubbock County Teachers association are to be sent to the association's secretary.

Other Officers Selected

Roy Boyd, principal of Slaton schools, presided at a meeting after the association meeting, to organize the county set-up of the Interscholastic league.

Officers elected were G. A. Lowery, Idalou superintendent, director general; K. S. McKinnon of Slaton Junior High school, director of declamation; J. Collins Beaty, principal of Roosevelt Rural High school, Lubbock route 1, director of debate; B. M. Keese, principal of Frenship Rural High school at Wolfforth, director of extemporaneous speaking; B. T. Rucker, superintendent of Shallowater public schools, director of spelling; Miss Vada Bain, teacher at Cooper Rural High school, route 6, Lubbock, director of ready writing; and Robert E. Horsley of the New Deal Rural High school faculty, route 3, Lubbock, director of athletics.

Next meeting of the county teachers association will be announced later.

Dallas Tech Exes Plan Banquet There On Night Of Nov. 25

Former students of Texas Technological college and their friends in Dallas are making preparations for an early banquet there, according to word received here Tuesday.

Tentative plans were made for the banquet to be conducted the night of Nov. 25. The state association will meet Nov. 24-26.

Attending the Tuesday meeting were Dr. James M. Gordon, chairman of the executive committee; A. H. Leidigh, dean of agriculture; Miss Margaret W. Weeks, dean of home economics; Dr. A. W. Evans, head professor of education; and Calvin Hazlewood, administrative secretary of the Alumni and Ex-Students association.

Members of the committee named to plan the banquet are Dr. Albert Barnett, chairman, Miss Geraldine Clewell, T. L. Leach, and Denzil Probasco, members of the college staff, and Fred Fairly, president, Judge Marshall Formby of Dickens, vice president, and Hazlewood of the Alumni and Ex-Students association.

PURCHASES HOTEL

LITTLEFIELD, Oct. 5 — Y. Onstott of Lubbock, a former Anton merchant, has bought the Littlefield hotel from Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Whicker and is now operating it.

Onstott bought 480 acres from the Spade ranch in 1925 and farmed it from 1929 to 1932 when he sold it. Later he operated a grocery in Anton for two years and four years ago moved to Lubbock.

As a young man Onstott was in the hotel business for some time. Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Shore of Sudan have leased the dining room.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 25 cents. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

GOODYEAR TIRES—TUBES—BATTERIES

REMEMBER THURSDAY 5:15 P. M. AVE. Q NORTH OF BROADWAY

HERE'S HOW THEY WORK

The Goodyear LifeGuard is a two-ply reserve tire inside a conventional tube — both inflated through the same valve... If casing and tube fail at any speed, the inner tire holds enough air to support the car until it can be brought to a safe, smooth stop without ruining the tire or injury to the occupants... Goodyear LifeGuards are needed in any make or brand of tire. They are manufactured to fit old or new automobile, bus, truck and motorcycle tires.

FDR Sees Better Times If Industry And Labor Get More Friendly

Bright Spots On Horizon

(By The Associated Press)

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Oct. 5 — President Roosevelt was said on high authority today to believe business would have a clear track toward better times if industry and labor substituted friendly conferences for name-calling and recrimination.

Whether disclosure of this opinion meant the president was preparing to act toward industrial peace was not announced. The mere statement of his sentiments was conveyed without comment to newspapermen at the temporary White House here.

No Statement To Make

At his press conference the president himself had no statement to make regarding business.

Those who spoke authoritatively regarding Mr. Roosevelt's attitude suggested bitterness in the domestic economic scene parallels the recent European crisis.

The war-like gestures of European nations, they said, find their analogy in what they described as frightening statements, misrepresentation of government policy for partisan political purposes, too-gloomy predictions of the future and the raising of bogies to scare the people.

Friends of Mr. Roosevelt said the sooner labor and industry sat around the conference table and stopped hurling names at each other, the sooner the nation would see business make real progress.

At his press cofnerence, the president had no comment on the recent European settlement.

Responding to a question as to whether the United States would initiate a program to bring about world disarmament, Mr. Roosevelt suggested that reporters read the record of the administration's foreign policy for the last five years.

Ready And Willing

During that period, there have been indications the government was ready and willing to talk over international problems with other nations.

As to the practical side of the current business situation, friends of Mr. Roosevelt asserted that merchandise stocks are down from last year.

Consumer demand, they added, is under that for this period a year ago, but not so far down as some reports would indicate.

Bright spots in the economic picture were said to be a more-than-seasonal increase in employment and the government's pump-priming program, which will not reach its top effectiveness until next spring.

Fate Of Meters To Be Learned Soon, Officials Believe

Early ruling is expected here by the state court of criminal appeals, now in session in Austin after summer recess, on the legality of parking meters in Lubbock.

Pending before the court since early last summer is a test case filed on behalf of Homer Harrison of Tahoka by W. H. Evans, Lubbock attorney. Harrison was fined in corporation court for violation of the city parking meter ordinance. He appealed to district court here and the conviction was upheld. The appeal to the court of criminal appeals on a writ of habeas corpus followed, attacking the constitutionality of the city's parking meter ordinance.

The appeal was argued before the higher court several weeks ago by Durwood H. Bradley, on behalf of the city, and by Evans.

Should the appeal be upheld, officials here believe, it would be the end of parking meters in Lubbock.

CONCERT DATE CHANGED

Date of the program to be presented here by Richard Bonelli, baritone of the Metropolitan Opera company, has been changed from Oct. 12 to Nov. 8, according to R. A. Mills, chairman of the Texas Technological college artists' course committee which will sponsor the presentation.

The change of date was necessitated by change in plans for an engagement of Bonelli with the San Francisco Opera company.

His appearance here will open the season's artist course program.

Yanks Can't Coast Now
By Collier Parris

Strongie Stratton and Helbint Hagen do main event honors at the Auditorium tonight.

It should be interesting.

And since there's no fair, no baseball, no football, it should attract quite a gathering. You'll be looked for.

IT'S WORLD SERIES time, and you won't be interested in much else today except what kind of a start the Yanks make toward another championship. And far be it from us to deter your baseball line of thought. . .

The more conservative experts are predicting for the Yanks within five games, and there's no convincing argument on the other side. As Paul Michelson, the AP critic puts it, anything but a Yankee victory would call for an investigation.

The Cubs, with a poor offensive, generally speaking, aren't hoping to out-bombard the Yanks. They are placing the full responsibility upon their pitchers, hoping the company of Bill Lee, Dizzy Dean, Larry French, et al, can hold the Yankee sluggers within reason.

We're not going crazy, but we're suggesting that if Lee triumphs over Red Ruffing today, the Cubs will take the series to six games, and maybe seven.

And wouldn't it be funny if we were to collect that miserly wager we just placed on the Cubs to win the series?

Outside of the win-and-lose and "color" angles, the World Series does not appeal so strongly to us as a symbol of baseball entertainment. This idea, of course, comes in handy since we wouldn't be privileged to see the Series anyway, but, seriously, we are prone to agree with Mickey Cochrane in his Collier's Magazine article of current reading. Mickey, who knows about such things, points out that a World Series is a poor place to go to see baseball at its best, although the Series is generally recognized to portray the two best teams of the world in concentrated action.

Cochrane points out, and there's little room to doubt it, that more mistakes are made, more "goats" created, more bum playing executed, in World Series competition than at any other time of the season. The players, nervous and jittery, tired and worn after a season of trying to win a league pennant, are in no condition, physically or mentally, to play their best. This state of mind and body results frequently in errors and bad judgment. And World Series games are full of them, says Mickey.

This puts the pressure on the Cubs, especially. They had to battle hard and all the time to pull through with the National League title, while the Yanks coasted along all season, and finished coasting. They may still be coasting and the Cubs may still be battling.

SHORT, SHORT STORIES: The Hubber baseball park, like many other ball yards, may be converted into a football gridiron right away. . . In fact, three games already have been scheduled tentatively . . . The Lubbock colored high school team, boasting quite a bunch of material, are booked to play the Abilene High school colored boys here Saturday . . . And local school officials have asked use of the ball park.

Coach Freddie Rich's Cooper High team, bidding for a Class C title this year, is to play Meadow here at the ball park on Thursday, Oct. 20 and the Rich Brothers, Freddie and Bob, the latter head coach at Frenship (Wolfforth) are to send their teams against each other here the following Thursday, Oct. 27.

Four tons on the hoof' . . . That's the total weight of the Marquette university football squad this fall. . . The four tons move in on Lubbock for a Saturday-after-Thanksgiving game, y'know . . . The Marquette news bureau assures us that the average member of the Golden Avalanche is barely 20 years old, weighs 184 pounds, and is 5 feet, 11 inches tall. . . But as it so happens, not a single Marquette player hits all three of those average figures. . . .

It's encouraging to see a number of West Texas boys on the Tech freshman squad this season. . . There's Ed Irons of Paducah, Stanley Sigmon of Plainview, Wil Albright of Loraine, John Gregory of Slaton, Arthur Wilie of Plainview, Joe Hayter of Fort Stockton, Byron Mayfield of Sweetwater, J. H. Childs of Cross Plains, Roger Smith of Rising Star—and, we're proud to see, William Oliver of Amarillo, a 190-pound end, and Norman Cox, 192-pound tackle, from Pampa. . . . It's seldom, in fact rare, that Amarillo boys come to Tech, and it's mighty fine to see Oliver here playing football. . . .

Three other Mineral Wells boys have followed Johnny Sims to Tech, and they're husky lads, too—Guards Charles Daniel, 185, and Albert Crowe, 189, and Bill Ray Abernathy, a 174-pound back . . . Stamford contributes Jim "Gorilla" Jones, 187-pound back, and Burkburnett sends Tollie McKown, a well known Class B backfield star, at 154 pounds. . . .

Always glad to see a Sherman boy on the roster, and this fall he's Arthur Weber, 173-pound end . . . From Grapevine, which sent Bill Davis and Prince Scott, comes another end, Clarence Tillery, at 183 pounds . . . And Itasca, home of George "Mayor" Webb, sends Gordon Davis, a 188-pound tackle . . . Two Dallas boys are trying for an end position, Richard Lawson, 173, and Bob O'Connor, 190 . . . Tom Douglass, 164-pound back from Houston; "Cotton" Cox, 154-pound back from Lometa, and Reveau 183-pound back from Lewisville, just about complete the roster of Picadors, all from Texas, . . . and luck to them. . . .

Mexico City Polo Team Is On Way To Tourney At El Paso

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 5 (AP)—The Mexico City polo team left Tuesday for El Paso, Tex., to participate in the Southern Polo association tournament.

The team is due at El Paso Oct. 6 and is scheduled to play its first game on the Fort Bliss field Oct. 9.

Jose Martinez Zorilla, of 1932 Cornell football fame, plays No. 1 on the polo team, and his brother, Christopher, who was a year ahead of him at Cornell, is a substitute. Other regulars are No. 2, Eduardo Rincon Gallardo; 3, Julio Muller, and back, Guillermo Cisneros. Muller captained the Mexican team at the 1936 Olympics. The other subs are Javier Tamariz and Enrique Landa.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.— Attention St. Louis Browns: Hundreds of fans in southern Illinois are signing petitions asking that you give old Babe Ruth a whirl at managing the team next season . . . Add All-America timber: Sid Luckman, Columbia, and Capt. Pete Powell, Navy end . . . The latter guy can't seem to miss a pass and he's tough meat on the defense too . . . Helen Jacobs, the tennis star, is house hunting in historic Virginia but hasn't been able to find just what she wants yet . . . Tony Lazzeri, who knows every Yankee like a book, won't do the Cubs any harm on that bench today, believe you it.

Lou Nova, the coast heavyweight who upset Gunnar Barlund as well as every critic in town, will be brought back as soon as possible . . . Already he has agreed to fight Tommy Farr, Max Baer or Bob Pastor on Dec. 16 and may [illegible] . . . This is [illegible] away week for the Southwest conference . . . Mileage of its six football teams will total around 6,000 miles . . . Only one conference club will play in Texas and it will do it stuff away from home . . . Join a Southwest conference team and see the country . . . Tony Galento, booked in Philly Nov. 14, begins training in two more weeks.

It's really an Oregon team of the U of Oregon this year . . . Nine of the 11 starters are natives . . . Well, gents, you can say for us that Mr. Whizzer White was all they said he was . . . Mike Jacobs leaves for California Saturday to look over prospects for a spring show for Joe Louis . . . Pity poor Col. Kansas City Blues Pin Hopes For Victory On Kemp Wicker

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 5 (AP)—The Kansas City Blues, still in the running but a full lap behind, pin their hopes for victory over the Newark Bears in the fourth game of the Little World series here tonight on the stout arm of Kemp Wicker.

Wicker blanked the Bears in the series opener at Newark to give Kansas City its lone victory in three games. In the other two games the Blues' pitching was inadequate, the fielding spotty and the batting weak, with 12 to 4 and 7 to 1 Newark victories the result.

Manager Johnny Neun of the Bears was slated to send Atley Donald, knocked from the mound in the opener, back against Wicker.

MULLINS WHIPS MONTGOMERY

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 5. (AP)—Harry (Moon) Mullins of D'Lo, Miss., won the Southern heavyweight championship here last night by punching out a hard-fought 10-round decision over Lloyd Montgomery, Bauxite, Ark. Mullins weighed 188 pounds, Montgomery 182.

WEBB WINS DECISION

HOUSTON, Oct. 5. (AP)—Jimmy Webb, 170 1-2, St. Louis, won a 10-round decision from Eddie Dreher, 168, Los Angeles in the main event of a boxing card here last night.

Cub Hopes Depend On Bill Lee's Pitching In Opener

Strong Hunch Is Held By Chicagoans

BY GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—Unaccustomed as they are to winning a world series, the Chicago Cubs go into their battle against the wonder Yankees today with bounding hopes and a strong hunch that they are going to upset the apple cart.

There is nothing very sensible about their dream. The Yankees look just as tough as they ever did, and you can't imagine how lethal they look when Red Ruffing is pitching and swinging his bludgeon in ninth position. That particular line-up gives the Yankees nine hitters, any one of whom can, and do, break up ball games.

Yet They Think They'll Win

But that is how the Cubs feel about it. They know that the posted odds are 12 to 5 against their chances, and that the consensus of the experts is that the Yankees will cop their third straight world championship in five games, winding up the series in New York next Monday night.

Yet the Cubs go into today's tussle thinking they are going to win. They have an abounding confidence in the pitching of General Bill Lee, who faces Ruffing in the first game and they think they are a "team of destiny," or something. At that, there is something mystical about the fact that General Lee, a big fellow from the banjo belt, is taking another whack at the Yankees.

Wrigley Field Is Sell-Out

A capacity crowd of loosely 44,000 was assured for today's game and that of tomorrow. Wrigley field, one of the prettiest emporiums in baseball, with its red brick wall circling the outfield, was a sellout last night. Speculators were demanding up to $75 for a set of single seats to the three games that will be played here if the series goes six games, and the more hardy bleacher fans were in line at noon yesterday.

The Yankees, cocky as ever, think they will knock over the Cubs in four straight games. They are, if anything, a trifle too confident. They clinched the American league pennant some three weeks before the campaign ended and they haven't played good ball since. They didn't look very good in their practice yesterday, and several rival managers of their league have been shaking their heads around the hotel lobbies here the last two days, speculating whether the champions would recover [illegible] form.

All Depends On Lee

[illegible] agreed that the Cubs [illegible] without a ripple if Lee [illegible] them today. Lee has won 22 [illegible] this year. He has pitched nine [illegible] more than have been pitched by any other two elbowers in the big league. He pitched three innings against the American league in the all-star game at Cincinnati and allowed only one fluke hit.

Lee is a fast-ball pitcher with a sharp curve that he keeps low and outside. That is supposed to be the only effective pitching against the sluggers of the Yankee batting order. If Lee stops them, then the Cubs have a chance because the champs will permit him to pitch three games in the series. If Ruffing beats him today, it was a pleasure to have seen you.

Gomez To Pitch Third

Lefty Gomez is set to pitch the second for the Yankees, and Monte Pearson the third. The Cubs can reply with Clay Bryant and Dizzy Dean, which is strictly no argument if Lee comes a cropper.

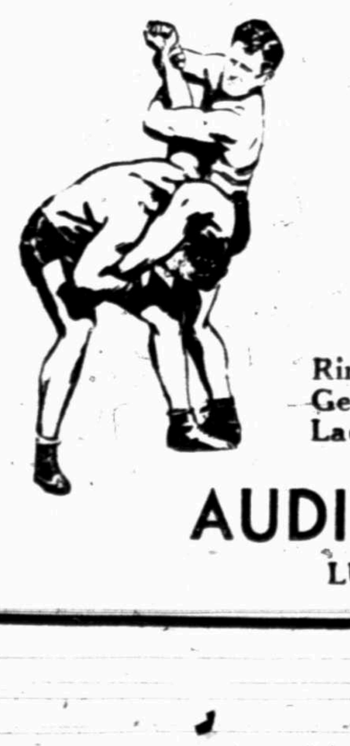

Gabby Hartnett, catcher-manager of the Cubs, is determined to play in the series, though he is suffering with a couple of damaged fingers on his right hand. His bat is an important factor in the Cubs' attack.

The games here will be broadcast, but not by Charley Grimm, former manager of the Bruins, who has since become one of the sweetest voices on the air. Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis forbade it, on the ground that Charley might be partial to his old club. The commissioner must have made his decision before he heard that the Cubs had cut Grimm off without a cent of the World series swag.

Gov. Bailey Invites Allred And O'Daniel To Steer-Hog Game

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 5. (AP)—Governor Carl E. Bailey has invited Gov. James V. Allred and Democratic Gubernatorial Nominee W. Lee O'Daniel of Texas to be his guests at the Arkansas-Texas football game here Oct. 15. O'Daniel was asked to bring along his famous hill billy band.

The U. S. consular service was established in its present general form in 1856 and was reorganized under the Rogers act of 1924.

They Come Back Quicker On The Grid As Season's Early Games Have Already Shown

BY DREW MIDDLETON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 5—They come back quicker in football; a halfback declared eligible, a key lineman from last fall's frosh, the sudden maturity of a handful of players; any of these can turn a mediocre team into a good one in a year's time.

Currently Columbia, Michigan, Kentucky, Mississippi, Princeton, Brown and Southern California are hitting the comeback trail after sorry seasons in 1937.

Columbia Grade A Exhibit

Columbia, licked five times last year, is a grade A exhibit. The attack was added force and balance mostly because Art Radvilas, an end last year, has been shifted to the wing back position.

He is no Grange but he gives the Lions balance. Running on reverses to the short side, he balances Sid Luckman's strong side charges. Columbia should field one of the best offenses against Army Saturday.

Although Purdue and Wisconsin are bidding for glory in the Big Ten, Michigan is the outstanding comebacker in that rugged sector. The "punt, pass and prayer" boys won four and lost four last year, fired Harry Kipke and hired Fritz Crisler, who had doctored Princeton's lagging fortunes.

Should Be Two Straight

Apparently he also has the medicine for Michigan. The Wolverines knocked over Michigan State, a tough customer in any league, and they should make it two straight against Chicago, Saturday.

Iowa, Wisconsin and Missouri are other definite comeback threats in the West with the Badgers granted the best chance of regaining the heights. Kentucky, considerably pushed about last season, meets Vanderbilt Saturday in a Southeastern conference game that offers the chance the Wildcats have been awaiting.

Mississippi, knocked down by six rivals, has done considerable comebacking so far, trampling L. S. U. and Louisiana Tech. A soft one Saturday with Mississippi Teachers tunes up the eleven for a schedule in which they can give every opponent a rub.

Princeton Faces Test

Princeton will get a severe test Saturday. The Tigers, deep in one of those slumps that occur at even the oldest powers, have met only Williams. Now they encounter Dartmouth, touted as the class of the Ivy league.

The coast's most perennial comebacker, Southern California, meets Ohio State in one of the day's major intersectional battles. Already beaten by Alabama, the Trojans have their chance to save national prestige and Howard Jones' coaching job.

Tahoka Plans Big Pep Rally Tonight For Thursday Game

TAHOKA, Oct. 5 (Special)—A big pep rally of Tahoka fans tonight will prelude the town's entrance into the realm of night football Thursday night.

Coach Bob Harlow's Bulldogs are primed for an invasion of the Post Antelopes when the arcs are officially dedicated.

Coach Pete Cawthon of Texas Tech and Senator G. Hobart Nelson headline preliminary speaking on the program Thursday night.

A big feed for visiting high school bands, school men, and other invited guests before the dedication ceremonies will be sponsored by the local Rotary club.

Bands from several district member schools have accepted invitations to attend.

Southwest Squads Off For Contests Over The Nation

(By The Associated Press)

Two Southwest conference football squads were on the way today and another leaves tonight for intersectional games that place them in the national limelight.

The Texas Christian university Horned Frogs, who met Temple university at Philadelphia Friday night, departed yesterday and the Texas Aggies, who play the Sugar Bowl champions, Santa Clara, at San Francisco Saturday, left last night.

The Southern Methodist university Mustangs hop a train this evening bound for Chicago and their clash with Marquette university Friday night.

Meanwhile the Baylor university Bears and Arkansas university Razorbacks dug in with a vim for their conference struggle at Fayetteville Saturday in which a new stadium will be dedicated.

Return to form of two players who had been on the injured list heartened Arkansas but Ralph Atwood, backfield letterman, was still ailing and will be unable to play.

Baylor showed up well at stopping Arkansas' ground attack as demonstrated by the freshmen and Bill Patterson was never better at chunking passes. Durham Bivins, veteran back, nursed injuries.

The University of Texas Longhorns worked on defense against Oklahoma university plays which they will try to stop at Dallas Saturday. Indications were that Sophomore Nelson Puett, jr., would break into the line-up as a backfielder.

Injuries plagued the Rice Owls with Bill Haner and Andy Nobles, guards, being forced from the line-up. The Owls play Louisiana State at Baton Rouge Saturday.

Hagen And Stratton Headliners On Mat

Jack Hagen and Walter Stratton head the Auditorium's weekly rassle card tonight. Prelims start at 8 o'clock instead of the usual time 30 minutes later.

The Shreveport butcher boy is ready for some fast action after preliminary engagement and may get just that from the Boston strong man.

Stratton is a battler from the word "go." However, he is not the aggressor that Hagen is in rough, tumble grappling.

No doubt the Shreveporter will irk him sufficiently to make fur fly, both ways.

Old Panther Joe Kopecky hasn't liked the way John Nemanic has been challenging matches as the third man in the ring, so tonight he gets a chance to get even. They meet in the 30-minute semi-final.

The Denver battler has confined his activity to refereeing during most of the summer but has kept in trim for such occasions as this, evidenced by a recent scrap with Sheik Mar Allah.

Scotty Williams ties into Jack Hendrix, a newcomer from Cowtown, in the curtain call.

Phillies Draw Prize Rookie From Minors

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 5 — The "new deal" that Philadelphia's futile Phillies hope to swing under their new manager, Dr. James T. (Doc) Prothro, was off to a fine start today with the acquisition of Merrill May, Newark third baseman and generally regarded as the "prize" of the big league draft meeting.

May has been one of the standouts of the "wonder team" of Newark Bears that has mowed down the rest of the International league for the past two seasons. Since the Cubs bought Jimmy Gleeson from the Bears some weeks ago, May has been the most talked of player, from a big league standpoint, in the International loop.

Batted A Neat .333

And the Phillies, notably President Gerry Nugent, stepped right up and picked him first crack out of the box at the annual draft meetings last night. May batted a neat .333 with the Bears during the regular 1938 season, and is still in the process of playing the Little World series against Kansas City.

Altogether, 17 players were drafted from the minors by 10 of the 16 big league clubs. Only the pennant winners — the Cubs and New York Yankees — the Boston Bees, New York Giants, Cincinnati Reds, and every deal at the meeting.

Two Veterans Returned

Two well-liked veterans of the big leagues were brought back when the Washington Senators selected gallant Charley Gelbert, ex-St. Louis Cardinal infielder, from Toledo, and the Philadelphia Athletics picked Roy (Tarzan) Parmelee, former New York Giants, Chicago Cubs and St. Louis Cardinals pitcher, from Minneapolis.

Parmelee was one of five picked by Connie Mack for the A's. The others were Pitcher Bill Beckman, who won 20 games for Atlanta; Henry Pippen, 17-game winner for Sacramento of the Pacific coast league; Joe Gantenbein, Toronto third-sacker, and Bill Nagel, infielder and outfielder from Baltimore.

Other Selections Made

Others selected were:

By Phillies: Leonard Scott, Indianapolis outfielder.

By Brooklyn: Hugh Casey, Memphis pitcher, and Russ Evans, Jersey City hurler.

By St. Louis Cardinals—Jimmy Outlaw, Syracuse third baseman.

By Pittsburgh—Fern Bell, Louisville outfielder and Jack Jeulich, Rochester third-baseman.

By St. Louis Browns—Hal Spindell, Seattle catcher.

By Chicago White Sox—Art Herring, St. Paul pitcher.

By Detroit Tigers—James Lynn, Columbus pitcher.

By Boston Red Sox — Wayman Kerksieck, Little Rock pitcher.

Dentist Turned Baseball Pilot To Try Phillies

CHICAGO, Oct. 5 (AP)—A dentist turned baseball manager will try to drill the lowly Phillies into pennant contenders during the next two years.

He is Dr. James Thompson (Doc) Prothro of Memphis. He was signed to a two-year contract yesterday by Gerald Nugent, president of the Philadelphia National league club.

Prothro, former manager of Little Rock of the Southern association, succeeds Jimmy Wilson who resigned last Saturday after being at the Phillies' helm since 1934 when he replaced Burt Shotton.

Prothro practiced dentistry in 1921 and 1922 after a trial in the majors with the Washington Senators. Then returned to baseball and has been associated with it ever since. The last nine years were spent in the role of manager, all in the Southern association. Five years with Memphis and the last four with Little Rock. He won one championship at the helm of each club.

Facts And Figures On Series

CHICAGO, Oct. 5 (AP)—Facts and figures of the 1938 World series:

Contestants—New York Yankees, champions of American league, vs. Chicago Cubs, champions of National league.

Managers—Charley Leo (Gabby) Hartnett, Cubs; Joseph Vincent McCarthy, Yankees.

Schedule of games: Games 1 and 2 at Wrigley field, Chicago, October 5 and 6, starting at 2:30 (EST); games 3, 4 and 5 at Yankee stadium, New York, October 8, 9 and 10, starting 1:30 p. m. (EST) except Sunday, Oct. 9, when game starts at 2 p. m. Games 6 and 7 (if necessary) at Wrigley field, Oct. 12 and 13. Case of rain, schedule postponed one day.

Weather forecast: For tomorrow's opener, partly cloudy and cooler.

Betting odds: 2 to 5 against Yankees winning series, 2 to 1 against Cubs; first game, 1 to 2 against Yankees, 3-2 against Cubs; against Yankees winning four straight 5-1; against Cubs winning four straight 15-1.

Seating capacities: Wrigley field, 44,466; Yankees stadium, 70,029.

Probable attendance first game: 44,466.

Starting batteries: Chicago, Bill Lee and Hartnett; Yankees, Charles Ruffing and William Dickey.

Umpires: Moran and Sears, National league; Kolls and Hubbard, American league.

Radio broadcast: National, Columbia and Mutual chains.

Players pool: Players share in proceeds of first four games only. After deduction of 15 per cent for commissioner's share, 60 per cent of balance goes into players' pool of which 70 per cent is divided among participating teams, 30 per cent among players of second, third and fourth place teams in both leagues. Of the contending players' purse, 60 per cent goes to the series winner, 40 per cent to the loser.

Raiders Aren't Taking Goldbug Game As Lightly As You May Think; Close Scores Cited

The Red Raiders aren't taking those Oklahoma City Goldbugs as lightly as one would think.

Out at the college field today, they will be going through their paces with all the gusto of Rose Bowl entries, for Coaches Pete Cawthon and Dutchy Smith have warned plenty against over-confidence.

In other years Tech has played the boys from the Sooner state some close games, more recently a 7 to 7 deadlock in the City. Each time the Raiders have been cuffed around considerably. And each time they had been considered the stronger team by several points.

New Plays Dished Out

So the Raiders will continue to take things seriously.

Tuesday afternoon the 15 regulars who took part in the Duquesne game last week were back in uniform, with lots of whoops and hollers. New plays were dished out.

The new plays are of the open type, requiring plenty of precision and embodying frequent passes, both forward and lateral. Such fleet backs as Bobby Holmes, Johnny Sims, Milton Hill and others fit into them well.

Parents will be honored at the contest Saturday night. Further the kids of the South Plains will have their inning. All children under 12 years of age will be admitted free.

Westerner Regulars Get Back Into Regular Practice Today

Lubbock's regulars get back into practice seriously for the first time this afternoon since their defeat at Oklahoma City Friday night.

Coach Weldon Chapman has dismissed the first stringers the past two days, although they have participated in light workouts of their own accords.

Pete Smith, a newcomer, reported Tuesday afternoon. The 190-pounder, whose eligibility will open in 30 days, may develop into a helpful addition to the squad.

Tuesday the shock troopers were sent through pass defense tactics and a hard scrimmage session.

Drive To Open On Thursday

Wranglers of the "Horse Fly" and the "Mosquito Bar" ranches announced today that they are all set for the competition and subsequent shirt-tail clipping involved Thursday in the annual Lubbock Boy Scout sustaining club membership drive.

The campaign, according to Marion Sanford, general chairman, will start immediately following an 8 o'clock breakfast at Hilton hotel and will close at a 6:30 p. m. dinner at the same place. Objective is $3,500.

Teams Have 40 Members

Two teams, each of approximately 40 members, have been appointed and designated as the "Horse Fly" and the "Mosquito Bar" ranches, with Charles H. Read and C. H. (Brownie) Hamilton the respective foremen. Each foreman will be served by six "straw bosses," each of whom heads a committee of "wranglers," Sanford explained.

The foreman of the winning team will be privileged to clip the shirt-tail of the loser when and where he chooses, according to the contest rules.

Women Are To Aid

Participating in the campaign also will be a women's committee headed by Mrs. Marvin McLarty and composed of the following members: Mmes. John Spikes, M. E. Heard, Roy McKinney, L. B. Wright, J. C. Sanders, A. C. Jackson, George Brewer, Alex McDonald, F. H. Zeitz and E. J. Lowrey.

The personnel of "ranch" organizations follows:

Horse Fly — Strawboss DeWitt Landis and Wranglers Arlie Crites, Bruce Collier, Q. F. Parker, Wayne Henly and C. I. Wall; Strawboss A. T. Cocanougher and Wranglers J. A. Fortenberry, H. Ewing, Charles Collier, Jim Milam and C. Fred Litton; Strawboss C. J. Bell and Wranglers C. A. Still, Paul Davis, W. G. Alderson, H. J. Bingham, Raymond Buford and George Langford; Strawboss L. E. Waite and Wranglers Ernest Pope, E. C. Kuykendall, W. D. Girand and Joe McIlhaney; Strawboss Vernon Herndon and Wranglers Paul Graham, J. C. Mytinger, jr., Fremont Berger, Ed Hambright and Jimmie Wilson; and Strawboss B. Brammer and Wranglers L. C. Pouncey, O. E. Wilcox, Paul McKinney, H. L. Roper, W. A. Hood and Dudley Brummett.

Mosquito Bar—Hamilton foreman; Strawboss Marshall and Wranglers F. N. Blackwell, Tom Atkinson, Riley Huie and J. C. Sanders; Strawboss J. E. Maisen and Wranglers Frank Lanotte, Ken Leftwich, B. H. Bergman, Carl Maxey, Bert Pinson, M. T. Hill, Frazier McGuire and Joe Leaverton; Strawboss Ed Allen and Wranglers Tom Duggan, C. M. Guess, Lon Ingram, Otiss Felty and Robert Maxey; Strawboss H. B. Daniels, Douglas Parker, Clayton Gammill, jr., F. H. Zeitz and Oliver Thomas; and Strawboss Ralph Brock and Wranglers Charles C. Crenshaw, jr., John Vickers, W. S. Coffman, Maurice Lloyd and W. E. Lavender.

Ohio Fugitive Will Be Returned There

Officers of the Ohio Reformatory at Mansfield are expected here late today or early Thursday to return Paul, alias Eddie Nixon, an escaper from the reformitory there, who is being held by police. Nixon, first picked up here last week, and later at Abilene, is said to have admitted his identity to local officers. Nixon will not fight his return to Ohio.

A 25-year-old man associated with the carnival here last week at the Panhandle-South Plains fair who gave his name as Eddie Nixon, was arrested at Abilene on the grounds of the West Texas fair Monday night by Bill Mabray, police identifications officer, Don Reeder, chief of police, and Aubrey Fawver, also of the police department.

Transferred To Lubbock

He was transferred to Lubbock early Tuesday.

Mabray said the man had been arrested here last week for investigation and had been fingerprinted and "mugged," then released. Copies of the man's prints were sent to the Austin office of the department of public safety.

The police department here was notified Monday that the man's fingerprints were identical with those of Paul Nixon who escaped from the Mansfield, O., state reformatory Nov. 28, 1936. Nixon, however, had been released by the department here, since officers had not learned he was wanted.

Mabray said Nixon told him he had been sent to the reformatory in Ohio on a conviction of hijacking and that four years and eight months of his sentence had not been served.

Fifty-Three-Word Program Is Given For Solving Rail Ills

CHICAGO, Oct. 5 (AP)—Railroadman E. E. Norris submitted today a 53-word program for solution of the railroads' complicated economic problems. It was:

"Let the railroads be run as a business the same as your business, with reasonable freedom to price their product, to adjust their facilities and services to business needs and their expenses to their necessities. And give them fair and relatively equal conditions of competition and regulation with all other agencies of transportation."

The suggestion was embodied in an address by Norris, president of the Southern Railway system, prepared for delivery to the transportation division of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce.

Doctors who use motors cars in Belgrade now are supplied with a special sign exempting them from traffic regulations.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 5. (AP)—Cotton futures opened 3 to 4 points net higher today under scattered buying which was induced by steady foreign markets and a bullish private crop estimate.

A private authority forecast production at 11,369,000 bales against 12,189,000 bales estimated by the same source a month ago and compared with the last officially-indicated crop of 11,825,000 bales.

October contracts opened at 8.27 bid, Dec at 8.29, Jan 8.27, Mch 8.25 bid, May 8.20, Jly 8.19, and Oct (new) at 8.05 bid.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. (AP)—Cotton futures opened 6 to 7 higher on steady Liverpool cables, a reduced crop estimate by a leading trade paper, and trade and foreign buying. Open Oct 8.16b; Dec 8.20; Jan 8.18; Mch 8.17; May 8.11; Jly 8.10.

A little more hedge selling and realizing was attracted by the initial advance but following reactions of a few points, the market again turned steadier on continued trade and foreign buying.

Dec. recovered from 8.17 to 8.21, leaving prices at net advances of 7 to 10 points shortly after the first half hour.

A private estimate reduced the crop to 11,369,000 bales from its indication of 12,189,000 a month ago owing to sharp deterioration in condition.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP) — Broad-scale buying gave the stock market another strong boost today and many shares sold at the highest prices recorded this year.

The complete change in sentiment since the announcement of the Munich four-power parley a week ago dispelled immediate war fears was apparent all along trading fronts. Bonds and commodities rose with stocks. Outstanding in the advance were building supply, steel, motor, chemical and other industrial shares rated as favorites on business prospects.

Gains were stretched to as much as 5 points at one time in such issues as du Pont, Chrysler, General Motors, Westinghouse, American Can, Air Reduction, U. S. Gypsum, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Santa Fe, American Telephone, Montgomery Ward and Kennecott Copper.

Turnover increased substantially on the advance. Transactions approximated 2,000,000 shares, the largest since mid-September.

Markets At A Glance:

NEW YORK

STOCKS — Strong; many new highs for the year.

BONDS—Higher; nickel plate issues in spectacular rise.

CURB—Improved; industrials advance.

COTTON — Higher; trade and foreign buying.

SUGAR—Steady; better spot market.

COFFEE—Improved; trade buying.

CHICAGO

WHEAT—Higher; stimulated by securities.

CORN — Firm; sympathy with wheat.

CATTLE—Steady to 10 higher.

HOGS—Strong to 10 up.

Play-By-Play

tired Ruffing for a double play.

Two runs, two hits, one error, one left.

Second Inning Cubs:

Gehrig took Cavarretta's grounder back of first base and stepped on the bag to retire him. Gordon caught Reynolds' high fly. Hartnett fouled to Dickey.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Third Inning Yankees:

Crosetti flied to Reynolds in center. Rolfe sent a long fly to DeMaree. Henrich singled over first, Collins taking the ball several yards back of the bag but having no chance to make a play. Henrich was caught stealing, Hartnett to Herman.

No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

Third Inning Cubs:

Collins singled. Jurges fanned. Dickey took Lee's weak roller five feet in front of the plate and threw him out, Collins advancing to second. Hack singled to right scoring Collins, and went to second on the throw-in to the plate. Herman's liner bounced off Rolfe's glove for a single but when Hack tried to score on the play Crosetti, backing up third, recovered the ball and threw him out at the plate.

One run, three hits, no errors, one left.

Fourth Inning Yankees:

Jurges made a fine stop of DiMaggio's grounder and threw him out. Gehrig sent a long single to right but was out when he tried to stretch it to a double. Dickey singled over second. Selkirk popped to Hack.

No runs, two hits, no errors, one left.

Fourth Inning Cubs:

When DeMarree tried to dodge a pitch the ball hit his bat and bounded to Ruffing who threw him out. Cavarretta struck out. Reynolds popped to Gehrig.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Fifth Inning Yankees:

Gordon doubled to the left field corner. Ruffing sacrificed, Hartnett to Collins. Crosetti struck out. Herman threw out Rolfe.

Fifth Inning Cubs:

The clouds were heavy overhead as the Cubs came to bat in the fifth. Hartnett fanned. Dickey dropped the third strike and had to throw the Cub manager out at first. Gordon made a sensational stop of Collins' grounder with his back to the plate and threw him out. Jurges struck out.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Sixth Inning Yankees:

Henrich doubled off the wall in right. DiMaggio flied to Cavarretta in right, Henrich holding second. Gehrig struck out. Dickey's high fly fell safely in left for a single, Henrich scoring. Selkirk grounded to Lee and then beat the hit out for a single, just reaching the bag in front of Lee's throw. Collins protested. Dickey went to second on the play. Gordon fanned.

One run, three hits, no errors, two left.

Sixth Inning Cubs:

Lee flied to DiMaggio in deep center. Hack beat out a bounder down the third base line for a single. Herman rolled to Rolfe who threw to Gordon forcing Hack but Herman was safe at first. DeMaree popped to Crosetti.

Seventh Inning Yankees:

Ruffing flied to DeMaree in left center. Crosetti was hit on the left leg by a pitched ball and went to first. On the hit and run, Rolfe singled sending Crosetti to third. Jack Russell began to warm up in the Cub bullpen. So did Larry French, a lefthander. Collins made a beautiful stab of Henrich's liner and stepped on first to retire Rolfe who was off the bag.

Seventh Inning Cubs:

Cavarretta lined a single to center. Murphy began to warm up in the Yankee bullpen. Reynolds bounced into a double play, Crosetti to Gehrig. Crosetti took the ball just off second stepped on the bag and easily retired the batter at first. Hartnett tripled to the right field corner. Henrich fell in a desperate lunge at the ball and the big Cub manager galloped to third. Crosetti made a fine stop of Collins' bouncer and threw him out.

No runs, two hits, no errors, one left.

Eighth Inning Yankees:

Jurges threw out DiMaggio on a nice play. Gehrig was called out on strikes on a three and two pitch. He thought he had walked and started for first and when Moran called to him that he was out he raced back to the plate and registered a vigorous protest. Several Yankees also gathered at the plate. Gehrig protested so vigorously and seemed about to rush at Moran that his mates pushed him back toward the Yankee dugout. Coach Art Fletcher finally quieted the first baseman and the crowd booed. Dickey singled to right center. Dickey stole second. Hartnett's throw drawing Jurges wide of the bag. Selkirk flied to Reynolds in center.

Eighth Inning Cubs:

Before the Cubs came to bat it was announced that the argument on Gehrig's strikeout in the first half of the inning had arisen over a foul tip for a third strike which Hartnett caught. Gehrig apparently let his bat down as the pitch came toward the plate and it nicked the bat. Gehrig did not know this, but the umpire called it that way. Jurges singled to right. O'Dea, the Cubs' reserve catcher, batted for Lee. He sent a roller to Crosetti who threw to Gordon forcing Jurges. O'Dea beat Gordon's attempt at a double play and was safe at first on the fielder's choice. Hack rolled into a double play, Gordon to Crosetti to Gehrig.

No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

Ninth Inning Yankees:

Old Jack Russell, veteran right-hander, went in to pitch for the Cubs. Gordon sent a high fly to Reynolds in center. As Ruffing came to bat the crowd gave him a round of applause. Ruffing was thrown out by Herman. Crosetti's fly fell just inside the right field foul line for a double as Collins, Herman and Cavaretta all raced after it. Herman threw out Rolfe.

Ninth Inning Cubs:

DiMaggio raced over to deep left center to take Herman's fly. DeMaree flied to Selkirk near the left foul line. Cavarretta lined a single to right and went to second when Henrich fumbled the ball for an error. Reynolds popped to Gordon.

Supreme Court Of Texas Upholds Law

AUSTIN, Oct. 5 (AP)—The supreme court today in effect upheld a law passed by the 45th legislature regulating dental advertising.

In a case from San Antonio the supreme court refused petition for writ of error by G. W. Sherman and others who had attacked constitutionality of the law.

The action allowed the judgment of San Antonio district and appeals courts, refusing an injunction against enforcement of the law, to stand.

Others who attacked the law, in additon to Sherman, were O. K. and J. E. Mayo, L. M. Hamman and J. V. Robinson.

Borah Suggests Loosening Of Restrictions On U. S. Debtors

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—Senator Borah (R-Idaho) sugested today that congress might agree to loosen credit restrictions on war debt defaulters if this would promote the sale of agricultural surpluses abroad.

"If it can be demonstrated that there is any practical way of disposing of agricultural surpluses to foreign governments, I would favor amending the Johnson act," Borah said. He added, however, that there appeared little reason to believe debtor nations could establish credits in this country.

The Johnson act prohibits United States loans to nations in arrears on debt installments.

farewell address to the world tonight.

Followed Renewed Pressure

Some sources said Benes' resignation followed renewed German pressure based on Hitler's personal antagonism to the Czechoslovak president.

It was reliably reported Hitler had indicated he would be more generous in his negotiations with the new Czech state if a president more acceptable to Germany were named.

German Claims May Impede Peaceful Settlement

(Copyright, 1938, By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Oct. 5—German claims for "reparations for injustices inflicted by the Czechs on the Sudetens since 1918" loomed today as a formidable obstacle to completion of a peaceful settlement of Germany's quarrel with Czechoslovakia.

German financial experts were understood to be busy already drawing up a bill for such damages, and informed observers believed Reichsfuehrer Hitler would press the reparations demands as insistently as his previous ones.

A foreign office spokesman said this question was one of several difficulties confronting the international commission for supervision of the cession of Sudetenland, which resumed its deliberations at the foreign office today.

Others were delimitation of the fifth zone of German occupation and determination of a just basis for plebiscites in doubtful areas of Czechoslovakia.

Czechs Troops Are Stripping Forts Of All Equipment

KARLSBAD, Sudetenland, Oct. 5 (AP)—Czechoslovak troops are taking with them all movable weapons and military equipment when they evacuate their fortifications in Sudetenland.

This apparently is being done with the approval of Major Strong, a British officer who preceded German troops as liaison officer and arranged details of the Czechoslovak evacuation.

Neither Major Strong nor the German army, so far as can be learned, have offered any objections to the stripping of the forts.

The setting up of Nazi local government continued today without incident. There were no signs of increasing anti-semitism as the Germans took charge. Most of the Jews left before the German army arrived.

ADDITIONAL JUDGES ASKED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5. (AP)—The judicial conference, composed of senior judges of the federal circuit courts and justice department representatives, has recommended provision be made for 13 additional judges to relieve congestion of federal dockets.

These would be in addition to 20 judgeships authorized by congress at the last session.

Simon Says Britain Has No Desire To Shut Out Soviet

LONDON, Oct. 5 (AP)—Sir John Simon declared before the house of commons today that Britain had no desire to shut the Soviet Union out of "any future settlement of Europe."

The chancellor of the exchequer, a member of the "inner cabinet" which advised Prime Minister Chamberlain on the Czechoslovak-German crisis, urged Russia to join other powers in guaranteeing the boundaries of the Czechosovakia that is to be left after dismemberment.

Simon spoke in the third day of debate on the "peace of Munich" and formally asked for a vote of confidence in Chamberlain's steps to bring that peace at a cost of satisfying Reichsfuehrer Hitler with Czechoslovak territory.

Denies Proposed Pact

Simon affirmed Chamberlain's desire for a lasting understanding between democracies and dictatorships but denied Chamberlain was seeking a four-power pact among Britain, France, Germany and Italy which would disregard other states and "impose its will on Europe."

Simon's speech came on the heels of a frigid, semi-official statement in Moscow virtually renouncing the Russian-French alliance and asking, "who can rely on England?"

"It is our hope that Russia will be willing to join in the guarantee of Czechoslovakia," Simon said.

Not Trying To Exclude Russia

"It is most important that she should do so. The government (British) had no intention whatever of trying to exclude Russia from any future settlement of Europe."

At almost the moment of this declaration the Soviet embassy in London issued a statement drawing attention to dispatches of Tass, Russian official news agency, to the effect the Soviet Union had nothing whatever to do with the Munich conference or its decisions.

The embassy said the statement was intended to "dispel any misunderstanding."

A little earlier Chamberlain told commons that Britain was seeking release of "certain Czech officials in frontier districts" and Czech residents in Germany who had been imprisoned in Germany as "hostages."

Chamberlain said the government had received reports such officials and residents were held during the occupation of ceded territory.

He said the government was unable to estimate the number involved but had instructed the British representative on the international commission supervising the cession "to press for the release of any such hostages as soon as possible."

Guidi Denies Connection With Italian Government

BOSTON, Oct. 5. (AP)—Ubaldi Guidi, Boston Italian-American newspaper publisher described by a witness before the house committee on un-American activities as an agent of Ovra, a branch of the Italian government secret police, today branded the description "absolutely untrue and ridiculous."

"I have absolutely no connection with the Italian government," Guidi said. "I am only a newspaper publisher and a radio news commentator for about four years."

Acclaims Acclaimers

Demonstration To Be Given Thursday

Demonstration of how an automobile tire reacts when it blows out will be included in a safety show sponsored by Gunn-Hinerman north of Broadway on Avenue Q Thursday, according to announcement this morning.

The car will be moving at low speed when the casing will be blown out with dynamite, the announcement said. City officials and others interested have been invited to be present.

Another feature will be a blowout at high speed of a Goodyear Lifeguard, described as a new safety achievement which turns a tire failure into a slow leak.

The Lifeguard, it was explained, consists of an inner tire inside an outer tube, both joined at the base, air passing from the inner to the outer through a single tiny vent. When a blowout occurs, air escapes from the outer tube instantly but from the inner tire so slowly that it absorbs the drop of the car, permitting the driver to come to a safe stop.

S. M. U. board at a called meeting Nov. 7. The committee has considered prominent laymen and churchmen at several meetings recently.

No Salary Determined

Dr. Eugene B. Hawk, vice-president, has been acting president of S. M. U. since Dr. Charles Selecman relinquished his position after being named a Southern Methodist church bishop. No definite salary has been determined for the place.

At Lubbock, Vice-Chairman Spencer Wells said the Texas Tech directorate was "nowhere near a choice" of a successor to the late Dr. Bradford Knapp, who died June 11. Wells said the board would meet Oct. 8 to continue its discussions but revealed the names of none of those considered for the $7,500-a-year position.

The school is being directed by Dr. James Marcus Gordon, dean of arts and sciences; Dr. Harry L. Kent, administrative assistant to the late Dr. Knapp, and Business Manager W. T. Gaston.

Prominently mentioned as leading candidates for the S. M. U. presidency were two churchmen and a layman: Dr. Umphrey Lee, former pastor of Highland Park Methodist church of Dallas and now dean of the school of religion of Vanderbilt university; Dr. J. N. R. Score, pastor of the First Methodist church at Fort Worth, and John T. Andrews, professor of New York university. Declining to be considered as candidates were Dr. Hawk, Dr. Paul Quillian of Houston and Dr. W. A. Smart of Atlanta, Ga.

Among those mentioned in unofficial discussions of a new president at the U. of T. were: Dr. Dykstra, president of the University of Wisconsin; Dr. Frank Graham, president of the University of North Carolina; Dr. Herman James, president of the University of Ohio; Grayson Kefauver, dean of the Stanford university school of education; Dr. Justin Miller, former dean of the Drake university law school; Dr. Homer P. Rainey, director of the American Youth commission, and Irvin Steward of the Carnegie Institute of Technology.

Silver Dollars Pay Hospital's Bill And Doctor's Fee For Little Sandra Kay McWhirter

Little Sandra Kay McWhirter started life a few days ago with more silver dollars than the average person collects in a lifetime.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. McWhirter of 1515 Twenty-fourth street, have paid the bill at the hospital where Sandra Kay was born Thursday afternoon with silver dollars and will pay the doctor with the silver coins. They expect to have some left over even after paying those expenses.

Mr. and Mrs. McWhirter had saved 143 silver dollars before Sandra Kay was born.

Saving of the coins is not new to them. McWhirter has developed a hobby of collecting them. The couple enjoyed a vacation in 1937 with savings in the dollar coins.

McWhirter is general manager of Southern Auto stores here, in Seagraves and in Littlefield and has opportunity to collect more silver dollars than would a person not receiving them in business. So efficient is the Jap war machine that when it becomes 10 times as deadly it will be able to keep up with the Chinese birthrate.

AS was the case last year, directors of the Panhandle-South Plains fair have approved use of the exposition's property on East Broadway for a concentration camp for cotton pickers, and the city is supplying lights, sanitation supervision and policing.

It is a very good idea to concentrate the hundreds of pickers who annually come in here to gather the cotton crop.

Instead of having truckloads of laborers camping on every vacant lot and behind every signboard, the system provides for keeping them all together and makes for better sanitation facilities for the workers as well as safeguards the health of the city.

Valuable also to the farmer seeking labor, the system makes it easy for the pickers to be found and traded with by the farmer.

Whoever had the idea in the first place was doing some first class thinking.

This isn't supposed to be generally known, but The Plainsman understands that by another year Uncle Sam may invest some of his "XYZ money" in a permanent concentration camp here.

There's a plan on foot to secure land and build what is necessary in the way of structures to care for the annual fall influx of pickers.

If such a project is put over, something like $40,000 may be available for it.

JOHN LOMAX, widely known man of letters, for 20 years an executive and faculty member of the University of Texas and more recently delving into folklore for the Library of Congress, is in Lubbock, visiting his daughter, Mrs. C. C. Mansell, and his nieces, Miss Dorothy Lomax and Mrs. Fred Standefer.

Last week Mr. Lomax was in Washington, en route home after a seven months vacation in Europe and dropped into the Library of Congress.

There he heard a bit of news highly interesting to us out here. Dr. I. L. Martin, now with the Library of Congress but formerly a history teacher at the University of Texas, told Mr. Lomax that:

The University of Texas is seriously considering for its presidency Clifford B. Jones, of Spur, chairman of the directorate of Texas Technological college.

Whether Doctor Martin's report is with foundation or not, it is true, of course, that Mr. Jones would be a fine selection for the Austin school — or for any other school, for that matter.

The university couldn't do better.

If such a thing should come to pass, however, it would be a terrible loss to Texas Tech, of which Mr. Jones is — and for years has been — the mainspring.

For our part of it, we hope nothing ever comes of the report.

Texas university has all the buildings and all the money as it is.

Give it Clifford Jones on top of all that and the Austin school would just about have the world with a fence around it!

The Story So Far: Heartbroken because the man she loves has left her, Judith Goodloe decides to marry Reuben Oliver. This man, who has pulled himself up by his bootstraps, has one thing the aristocratic Goodloes need—money. Desperately in love with Judith, Reuben refuses to heed the warning of his partner, Clem Rogers that unless he leaves the Maryland valley and gets back into the fight he is due for a financial licking.

Chapter 16
'A Man With Spunk'

In resentful surliness Reuben's hands tightened on the wheel. After all the years—lean years and fat—Clem was letting him down! Incredible! Out of all the world Clem was the one person whom he believed he could count on. Now—

Surely Clem understood that a man must select his own wife. Must choose his own path—And again like a gong tolling faintly and from afar he heard Judith saying: "If I had to leave this valley—"

And he had dreamed of marrying another Biblical Ruth! "Whither thou goest—"

Clem, making a ceremony of cleaning and putting away of his pipe, glanced surreptitiously at the lean, serious face of the younger man, with rebellion and frustration in his eyes. What good was money? "The only thing in the whole wide world that Cissy wants and I can't buy him or bribe him!"

Grim satisfaction in that thought in spite of a rising anger. If he could buy or bribe Reuben, he wouldn't want him for Cissy. Well, let the young ass go ahead! Let him go the limit! Then when he came crawling back—

In stubborn mood Clem and Reuben arrived at the gates of Goodloe's Choice just as Judith, mounted on Winona, came out. The temperamental animal pretended to be afraid of the shining automobile. She staged a grand act. She danced and pranced all over the road. She reared on her hind legs. She pawed with her front feet. She dilated her thin nostrils.

Judith let her go through all her stunts. She even encouraged her a little. She gave a fine exhibition of horsemanship. Reuben watched fearfully. Clem with delighted fascination.

"Whoops, whoops and a couple of hooplas!" he exclaimed when Winona at last drew quite close to the machine she had pretended to fear. "That's the best act I've ever seen outside of a circus. Don't know as I've ever seen a better in one. You're Rube's girl, I take it?"

Judith still busy with Winona's bridle nodded her assent.

"Well, by cracky if you're going to manage your husband like you do your horse Rube's going to need sympathy."

Judith laughed gayly; "Sh-h-sh!" deliciously confidential. "Let's keep him thinking he has all the luck."

"Maybe he has at that."

'Isn't It Appalling?'

"This is Clem Rogers, Judith," Reuben made a belated introduction. "The man who gave me my start."

"But who won't be in at the finish," Clem thought dourly. He said: "Pleased to meet you, ma'am."

Judith leaned from her saddle to take Clem's hand.

"You've been a good friend."

She smiled her own peculiarly friendly smile. "The very best friend Reuben ever had."

Clem fell before her charm almost without a struggle. "I was afraid Rube was being hooked by a cold-blooded dame," he confessed sheepishly.

"You don't know the half of it, Mr. Rogers."

"Neither do you, ma'am," Clem chuckled.

"He means," Reuben explained quickly, not knowing what Clem would say next, "that I'm poorer than I was yesterday."

"And he'll be poorer tomorrow," Clem further enlightened Judith, watching her as a cat does a mouse, "and poorer still the day after that."

Deep in the role she had set herself to play, Judith said with just the right shade of concern: "Isn't it appalling the way money is made and lost?"

"You said it, ma'am. It's harder to make than to lose these days."

"I'm sure of it."

"It doesn't frighten you?"

"No. I've been poor all my life. I'm afraid I wouldn't know how to act natural under any other circumstances." Her eyes were honest. Her confidence disarming. "Come on in and meet Gran." She turned back to the gates.

Gran, in her most gracious mood, talked with Clem about prospecting oil, wheat and whatnot while Reuben had a fragrant goodby kiss from Judith.

"Don't worry, sweet."

Laughter rippled over Judith's red lips—"You don't know the Goodloes if you think they worry."

Like Buzzards

Judith thought old Clem rather a dear. He told her how Reuben had looked on the day he helped to reload the cabbage. "Cold and thin as a starved rat, with freckles all over his face and no shoes on his feet."

She glanced at Reuben, sartorially perfect, talking with Jim, and felt the inexpicable pity she so often felt when she looked at him. Ths old Clem kne wthey were all cheating Reuben—preying on him like buzzards—

"He's a fighter, ma'am," Clem bragged. "He wasn't beat that day and I've never seen him beat since."

"I believe you."

"And I'm never gonna see him beat unless," Clem turned keen green eyes, not unlike his daughter's eyes, full upon her, "he runs afoul of something he can't hit back at."

"Y-yes." But she did not quite see. She only knew that Cissy's father was appraising her. That he was afraid she was the somebody who would rob Reuben of his power to fight. Of his power to—win.

"You're getting a man with spunk, ma'am, and honesty. Can you match those traits?"

Her blue eyes did not waver. "I think so," proudly. "What do you think?"

"I'm not thinking. I'm hoping everything is going to turn out swell and I wish you luck."

"Thank you." Judith made a quick decision: "I'm asking Cissy to be maid of honor."

"W-well now—Cissy will be tickled to death."

But Clem was more tickled than Cissy would be. He didn't give a hoot for place and honor for himself but he wanted his girl to strut with the best. He left Goodloe's Choice well pleased and secretly a bit overwhelmed.

"Not that I ain't seen grander places," he confided to Rube. "But when it comes to class—tone—Boy, I reckon you're marrying it!"

Reuben, his hands tense upon the wheel, his eyes upon the road, his thoughts roaming far, did not answer.

Clem, craning his neck for a last look at gardens, meadows, hedges, said: "There's nearly a half a million dollar lay-out here. Gosh—unless there's a miracle you're gonna have a heck of a time living up to it!—"

Tomorrow: The wedding march.

This is a true story.

A Lubbock store recently advertised a shoe sale and under the terms of the sale was to sell several hundred pairs of shoes at $1 each.

Two ladies entered the store when it opened for business and each tried on a shoe. Each liked the shoe and each decided to make a purchase. Then it was discovered that one lady had tried on the left shoe, the other right, of the same pair—and the only pair which each liked!

After a lengthy discussion between customers and clerks, during which each prospective customer held out for the shoes, it finally was decided to flip a coin.

The lucky customer got the shoes.

ONE never knows how much he thinks of a friend until he loses him—or thinks he has.

The other morning a telephone caller to The Journal reported:

"I understand Kid Powell just died."

While the city desk galvanized into action, The Plainsman's heart sank.

W. B. "Kid" Powell has been one of the writer's most valued friends ever since, as a friendless kid, the writer came to Lubbock to help put over what then was a new and very rickety newspaper.

W. B. Powell has held the writer's affection in boundless quantities throughout more than a dozen years.

But as is too frequently the case when men get busy and their town grows by leaps and bounds, The Plainsman has not seen much of Kid Powell in recent years and when the news came that he was gone it was as if a surgeon's keen blade had sliced a piece out of the writer's heart.

A hurried call to the Powell residence brought the information from Mr. Powell, who answered the phone, that rumors of my death have been greatly exaggerated."

No one will ever know the profundity of the sigh of relief that whistled through The Plainsman's lips.

Kid Powell's voice never sounded quite so warm, so good to hear.

We pass along this little happening for the benefit of readers who, in the hustle and the bustle of the work-aday world, do not take time out frequently enough to think what their friends mean to them—until it's too late.

All of us — or, at least, the great majority of us — have that fault.

We take it for granted that our friends will always be around, never realizing the mistake until it is too late.

TO be sure that the word gets out to every nook and cranny of the territory, Dr. Peter Willis Cawthon, head coach out at Texas Tech, asks The Plainsman to stress the fact that the Red Raiders want to be hosts to every South Plains boy and girl under 12 years of age when the team meets the Oklahoma City university club here on Saturday night.

In other words, South Plains kids under 12 — the age at which government tax must be paid on a spectator — will be admitted to the game free of charge.

Anticipating that many school buses from over the territory will come in loaded with youngsters, officials at Tech have set aside special parking areas for those vehicles. The areas are located just north of the stadium, facing college avenue.

Brass collars out at the college are anxious that as many kids as possible attend the game and a special section of the stands has been set aside for them.

THERE'S SOMETHING WRONG WITH THE LAW

Fines totaling $16,800 were imposed a few days ago upon the manufacturer of a patent medicine which contained a poison responsible for the deaths of at least 70 persons.

Charges against the manufacturer alleged violation of the national pure food and drug act because his "elixir" contained a poisonous substance. His plea was that he didn't know the stuff was poison; that he had reason to believe it was harmless.

No one believes that he deliberately would have placed a poisonous product on the market. Thought for his own hide would have deterred him even had he been without consideration of others.

But the major moral of this whole incident has been the apparent fact that something must be lacking in the food and drug act that such things could be made available to the public; that anyone could have offered such things for sale without more positive evidence to himself that they were not dangerous. They are evidences there is something wrong with the food and drug act, and that something should be done to remedy its weaknesses.

We hold no brief for the manufacturer.

That $16,800 fine, we think, was too light a punishment for the negligence involved.

But the fact remains that the food and drug act must be sadly lacking and if so, should be revamped and strengthened.

Hollywood Chit-Chat

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 5. — Short takes:

Press agents at Universal received their strangest request the other day. Stepin Fetchit, the sleepy sepian, asked that no publicity be given him during his work in "Adam's Evening."

Seemed that certain people had the notion that Step owed them money, and they were always pestering him. . . . No such plea for obscurity has been heard in Hollywood since the filming of "The Green Pastures," when Adam himself was having alimony trouble.

Add Delicate Situations

William Powell probably will not be able to appear in the next "Thin Man" picture, so the studio is testing Reginald Gardiner. In that case, propriety would demand substitution for Myrna Loy, because at the conclusion of the last picture Powell and Miss Loy were expectant parents.

So Virginia Bruce will take the feminine lead, thus confusing everyone but shocking nobody.

"He was a new young player in whom I had great confidence," Zanuck said. But after a day or two of shooting, Lanfield was still dissatisfied, and the actor was taken from the cast.

Asked to name the actor, Zanuck answered, "Tyrone Power."

HOW ABOUT "LOVE"?

William K. Howard is making a picture which originally was called "Frankie." Then the title was switched to "Home Town," until Howard decided upon "It Might Have Been You."

But the latter name already was owned by somebody, so "Black Star" was substituted for a while.

The picture now is known as "Picket Fence," but Howard does not like that very well and is looking for another title. Any title, apparently, just so it's catchy.

The Greatest Minority Problems Of All

Supreme Court, Oblivious To Threats Of War Or Famine, Grinds Slowly Along Its Way

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5. — It takes more than the threat of another World war to jolt the Supreme court from the even tenor of its ways as it continues to grind out decisions shaping the law and public policy.

Dutcher

More than ever the court is recognized as a "super legislature." This conception of the court, on which the ill-fated Roosevelt plan to reorganize it was based, has been easier to grasp since the pronounced swing toward more liberal opinions which began during the historic Senate struggle over "packing" the court and continued as vacancies permitted the President to appoint justices leaning toward New Deal viewpoints.

TVA, the Wagner labor act, the Tom Mooney case and other items of national interest are on the Supreme court docket as it reconvenes — with only eight justices sitting because of the death of Justice Benjamin N. Cardozo. The docket includes about 400 cases.

TVA Is Up Again

Eighteen power companies still seek the injunction against the whole TVA program which was denied them by a three-judge circuit court. If the Supreme court sustains the lower court, the TVA act finally will have been judged constitutional.

Among several National Labor Relations board cases before the court, that brought by the Consolidated Edison company of New York probably is the most important. Here the NLB undertook to cancel a contract between the company and an A. F. of L. union, maintaining that the company had violated the law by encouraging the A. F. of L. union as against a C. I. O. union, thereby allegedly depriving employes of the right to choose their own collective bargaining representatives.

Because the board's insistence on its right to invalidate as illegal such contracts is a chief A. F. of L. complaint against both it and the Wagner act, a Supreme court decision against NLRB would soften the A. F. of L. drive to have the act changed. But if the Supreme court sustains the lower court, the labor federation is likely to intensify its attack on the act.

Whether NLRB may order reinstatement of strikers who engaged in a strike violating an arbitration contract or of sitdown strikers who allegedly broke the law by staying in company property are points also before the court.

The Mooney case comes to Washington again through an appeal from decision of California courts against a habeas corpus petition based on claims that Mooney's conviction was obtained by perjured evidence, following fatalities in the Preparedness Day bomb explosion in 1916.

Dewey Challenged

Judge Ferdinand Pecora's recent action in declaring a mistrial in New York's sensational Hines case will be recalled as lawyers for "Lucky" Luciano, sent to Sing Sing by District Attorney Tom Dewey as a "white slave king", argue before the Supreme court that Luciano was deprived of his constitutional rights. As in the Hines case, Dewey's methods of prosecution are questioned.

Possibly foreshadowing developments in the Department of Justice's most recent action against the big motion picture companies, the court will consider Texas and Pennsylvania cases involving the validity of exhibitor-distributor contracts forbidding "double feature" programs and restriction of

Decision Is Promised In Suit To Test Oklahoma School Law

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Oct. 5 (AP)—Three federal judges have promised a decision by Thursday on constitutionality of Oklahoma's law providing separate school systems for negroes and whites.

Circuit Judge R. L. Williams and District Judges Eugene Rice and A. P. Murrah, sitting en banc, prodded opposing attorneys to bring the test case to a close after an all-day hearing Monday.

Financed by a national negro organization, the suit sought to enjoin the city school board from issuing $275,000 in school bonds voted for construction of a school for white children.

Attorneys for each side agreed the case would be appealed to the U. S. Supreme court, regardless of the decision handed down this week.

Meteorites, although blazing hot during part of their fall to earth, cool so rapidly when nearing the surface that they have been known to fall into a hay stack without causing it to ignite.

WRECKER SERVICE—COMPLETE BODY SHOP

Brings A Fortune

Kindness toward a complete stranger won a tidy fortune for Mrs Rosalie Spatcher Kniskern, above, a dancer in New York's Radio City Music Hall. A religiously regular patron of the theater, 70-year-old Mrs. Edna M. A. Elliott, was accorded the privilege of entering before the show opened, while the ballet was rehearsing. Between numbers Mrs. Kniskern would sit with her and chat. She thought nothing of it until, when the aged woman died recently, the dancer was notified that she had been left a legacy reported to total $80,000.

FLASHES OF LIFE

(By The Associated Press)

Just One Big Family

WICHITA, Kas. — Sedgwick county residents marvelled 11 months ago when Bert Taylor's cow gave birth to triplets.

Now Bossie is back in the spotlight with quadruplets, all in excellent health.

Lap Dog—At $10 A Lap

NEW YORK—Elbridge Gerry Snow, wealthy baker and broker, decided as he walked through Central Park, that his Pekingese dog was thirsty.

He held it up to lap water from a drinking fountain and promptly received a summons. A magistrate fined him $10.

Has A Conscience

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. — Silas Noke took a key a prison mate whittled from a broom handle, unlocked his cell door, and escaped from the county jail.

Then he telephoned Sheriff Ernest Watson long distance from Hillsboro, Va., and asked permission to be jailed again. He was "sorry," he said.

100 Per Cent

LOS ANGELES — At least four men have the correct answer for the contest sponsored here by a shoe store chain—a contest to guess the exact number of dimes contained in a certain shoe.

But for these four men it is no guesswork.

They broke the contest show window, ran off with the shoe and its dimes.

Modern Version

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore. — Two birds with one stone—that's nothing.

Mrs. Letty Ethbridge bagged two, blacktail buck deer with one bullet while hunting near here.

She fired. One buck fell dead. Its companion, a few feet beyond, stumbled and fell too, mortally wounded.

Oil overages — accumulations in excess of allowables through humanly imperfect tank and pipeline measurements which cannot be shipped into commerce—are being studied by the railroad commission.

Reservoirs Of Nature Best

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Nature's own reservoirs deep in the earth are still unexcelled as petroleum storage vaults.

This and many other interesting and valuable observations are contained in a report released today by the bureau of mines of a two-year study of above-ground stocks of oil in the United States.

Data was obtained by a close analysis of samples taken from scattered lots of petroleum located in all of the leading oil states, includinng Texas, Oklahoma, California, Louisiana, New Mexico, Kansas and Pennsylvania.

Wealth Of Data Given

The investigation was made at the request of the Interstate Oil Compact commission and other groups interested in forecasts of demands on petroleum stocks. It was conducted with funds appropriated for the purpose by the 75th congress, and covered 1936 and 1937.

Included in the wealth of pertinent data on the oil industry were these facts:

Total net stocks of refinable crude oil in the United States over the past 15 years have fluctuated considerably, with a high of about 434,000,000 barrels in the latter part of 1929 and a low of about 287,000,000 barrels on Jan. 31, 1937.

Stocks Are Increased

Stocks in store at the end of 1937 totaled 306,084,000 barrels and on June 30, the last check made, 292,634,000 barrels.

Generally, the major upward movements of crude oil stocks in the last 15 years have occurred in periods marked by numerous discoveries of large fields, specifically the periods of 1922 to 1924 and 1926 to 1929.

Only since 1933 has data on stocks of individual states been available. Texas had 35.1 per cent of the total stock stored at the close of both 1933 and 1937. Oil in storage in Oklahoma fell from 23.7 per cent to 23.1 per cent of the total in the same period, and California's stock fell from 10.1 to 9.9 per cent.

Glad She Gave Gly-Cas A Trial

Freed Of Every Ache and Pain, Stomach Regulated, Night Risings Ended; Enjoys Good Health Again

"I did not realize a medicine as wonderful as Gly-Cas had been discovered," said Mrs. Arla Maroney, 199 North 16th St., Paris, Texas, "For years I had been in ill health, Night risings were a constant worry, up four to six times every night so of course my sleep and rest was disturbed making me tired and sluggish continually. Dreadful aches and pains settled over my entire body, in my shoulders, arms and chest so severe but there seemed to be little I could do about it. Regardless of what I tried I grew worse each day. My stomach added to my distress, foods would not agree with me and I became very nervous. But that was before I knew of Gly-Cas—it actually seemed made for my case alone."

"Never had I tried a medicine with such a mild yet thorough action," continued Mrs. Maroney. "I can now sleep good the entire night through without a single disturbance, enjoy renewed strength and feel fine. Those awful pains have been driven from my body too, stomach is now regulated so I can eat what I want, enjoy my meals and never suffer any ill effects afterwards. Every sufferer should realize how fortunate they are in being able to get such a remarkable remedy as Gly-Cas."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, this city, and by the leading druggists in surrounding towns.—Adv.

Baptist Plans Outlined Here

Objectives for October were outlined at a meeting of more than 300 Baptist pastors and laymen for 17 counties of Lubbock district in First Baptist church here Tuesday night.

Pastors and laymen from as far as 100 miles away were in attendance.

Speakers were Dr. H. D. Bruce, pastor of the Midland First Baptist church; R. A. Springer of Dallas, former educational director of the First Baptist church here and now treasurer of the Baptist General convention of Texas and leader of the laymen's movement in Texas; and Rev. C. A. Huff of Plainview, district missionary.

Several representatives from laymen's districts reported.

Three objectives for October were outlined: the mobilization of 150,000 Baptist men in Texas; the raising of $150,000 in Texas; and laying of the ground work for raising $1,000,000 in Texas in 1939.

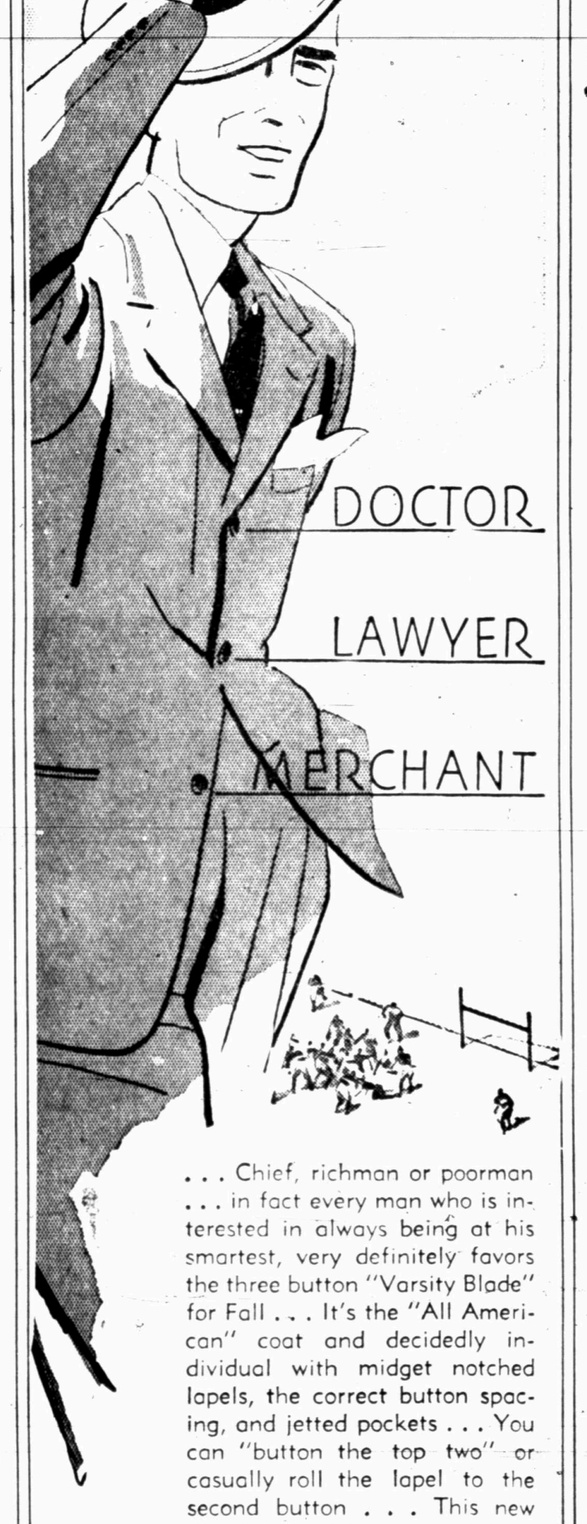

Bamboo forms a better windbreak in regions of violent storms than any other kind of plant. The clumps of stalks are able to weather hurricanes in which trees would be uprooted.

Europe's Troubles Merely Postponed, Not Settled, Rhodes Scholar Here Observes; Tech Graduate To Give Lecture Tonight

Europe's troubles merely have been postponed; they haven't been settled.

That was the observation of Canon Clements, 25-year-old Rhodes scholar and a graduate of Texas Technological college, who a month ago returned from Europe after three years study in Oxford and travel in Europe.

To Go To New York

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Solon Clements of 1920 Seventh street, he returned to Lubbock late last week for a brief visit with friends and relatives; and after an address in the engineering building auditorium at Texas Tech at 8 o'clock tonight, he will leave for New York where he will become associated with the J. Henry Schroder Banking corporation.

He will speak tonight on "Some Experiences as a Rhodes Scholar." His address is under the sponsorship of the college business administration club.

Young Clements received his bachelor of business administration degree from Tech in 1932, later received a master's degree. He attended the Harvard business school from 1933 to 1935 and began his study abroad in January, 1936. It was completed this summer.

Returned A Month Ago

From the first of 1936 until his return a month ago he was not in America.

Many are the differences in the English colleges as compared with American institutions of higher learning, Clements outlined a few.

Each term is eight weeks long with six-week vacations at Christmas and Easter which allows much time for travel.

"I spent all my vacations in travel," he said. "I traveled in France, Belgium, Germany, Luxemburg, Austria, Hungary, Italy, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, and Holland. Usually two or three American students traveled together. Much of my traveling was with C. S. White of the University of Colorado, a brother of 'Whizzer' White, nationally known football star.

Pleasure And Study

"The trips were for both pleasure and study. When convenient I visited banking institutions in attempts to learn the various systems and to obtain an insight into economic conditions, since I was especially interested in those subjects.

"If I were forced to select the most interesting country in which I traveled, I believe it would be Germany. It has every type of scenery, a wealth of art, and is famous for its music and appreciation of music."

He volunteered the belief that the domination of Nazism of Austria probably would lead to the decline of Vienna and all of Austria as the center of learning it has held for centuries. The country can not retain its place as a center of culture, art and civilization when under the influence of Hitler and his Nazis, he said he believed.

Are Fond Of Americans

"Because of the hatred for Germany of the Czechoslovak peoples, we had trouble entering until they learned we were Americans. Then they welcomed us. They are fond of Americans. In one city two of the streets are named from American presidents, Woodrow Wilson and Herbert Hoover.

"Sweden and Denmark are probably more like the United States than any others I visited. They are alike in the products produced and habits of living. Climatic conditions likewise are similar. Both countries are adapted to winter sports with much dry snow. That probably accounts for their high ranking always in winter sport competition."

In speaking of travel in Norway, he said, "I suppose that country has the oldest cars in the world. Although the roads and streets are good, they are lined with Model T's, old Maxwells, and many other old types of American cars, many of which are no longer manufactured here. Practically all there are American-made.

Budapest Most Beautiful

"I believe I would select Budapest as the most beautiful city I saw, possibly because of the contrast of the old with the new. Buda represents the old section of the town, depicting an olden age, and Pest represents all that is new. The two sections are divided by the Danube river."

Back to Oxford:

Clements was a student of Hertford college, one of Oxford's 22 colleges for men. There are five colleges for women. Each college is a unit with its own administrative officers and staff of tutors. Each has an average attendance of approximately 130 students.

"There are no professional coaches in English colleges," he said. "The training period for athletes for competition is practically nil.

President Does Coaching

"Rugby football or 'rugger' corresponds to football in American colleges. The president of the rugger club, with help of the secretary, does the coaching.

"I would say it is equally as 'tough' as American football, but there is lots of difference in the game. Football players from American colleges who have gone to Oxford and who have played rugger say it is as difficult to play and that the athletes are about as good.

"The English players use no padding, only shirts and shorts for suits."

He explained England's banking system as "centralized," with all banking done through the thousands of branches of the country's five large systems. The systems are known as the "Big Five." It is that element of strength which contributed to the steadiness of the bank system in England in the depression, he said.

Not Practical In U. S.

"Such a system probably would not be practical in the United States because of its area, but it might work separately in the states or better still in the districts of the Federal Reserve banks."

He said he had followed economic conditions in America lately only through the press but was of the impression they were becoming more favorable. On the other hand the "recession" did not strike England until late in 1937, he said.

"The huge rearmament programs of European nations, however, has caused the economic indicator to rise. The rise has been 'but very little.'

"No European county can stand a war financially, but that will not prevent a war. A war would be calamitous to any nation, but I believe it is inevitable.

"The recent four-power parley has postponed the crisis and may be the beginning of a series of such meetings, but I believe it is only a matter of time until there is a European war. It is inevitable with all the preparations that have been made and are being made."

Tech's only Rhodes scholar noticed a "tremendous" growth in Lubbock and especially the college since he left less than three years ago.

More Poll Tax Receipts Issued In County; Other Taxes Paid

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Powell, 1202 Avenue N, residents of Lubbock 35 years, became possessors of new poll tax receipts Nos. 5 and 6 this morning, according to H. B. Bryan, county tax assessor-collector.

Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Zachary, 2213 Twenty-fourth street, obtained receipts Nos. 3 and 4 Tuesday. They have lived in Lubbock 12 years, according to the records.

Exemption certificate No. 1, however, still remained unclaimed. The poll tax receipts and exemption certificates became available last Saturday, when tax collections on current rolls began.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Powers, 1409 Broadway, obtained poll tax receipts Nos. 1 and 2 Saturday.

Among those who already have paid their state and county taxes were listed as including N. Link, 1902 Sixteenth street; George F. Moore of Seymour; O. O. Lynn of Houston; Ed B. Thompson, 1920 Fourteenth street; J. H. Marriott of Electra; Mary C. Hall, 1710 Texas; Mrs. R. T. Coffee, 1220 Avenue O; S. L. King, 1826 Avenue D; J. J. McGaw, route 6; and Mrs. Hurst Luna, Lubbock general delivery.
