Forty Dead, Seven Missing In Pennsylvania Mine Blast

Most Of Bodies Are Recovered; Hope Is Lost

Gas Explosion Is Believed Cause Of Coal Mine Mishap

By WILLIAM BLAIR
Associated Press Staff Writer

SONMAN, Pa., July 16. (Tuesday) —Forty bodies had been recovered early today from the explosion-blasted Koppers coal mine. Officials announced seven other miners were missing and feared dead.

L. C. Campbell, assistant to the coal company's vice president, said a re-check established that 47 was "the top number who could have been lost" when an explosion shook three sections of the mine shortly before noon yesterday.

Virtually all hope for the trapped men was abandoned when the weary rescue workers broke into right entry 16, the last one to be reached. There they reported finding 34 of the bodies, most of them badly burned.

In Small Village

Earlier Campbell had placed the lost at 50, saying 21 others had scrambled to safety, most of them crawling on hands and knees.

The bodies were to be taken to freshly made tables in the firemans' hall at nearby Portage.

Sonman is a typical mining village of about 400, situated in the central Pennsylvania bituminous fields, about 16 miles east of Johnstown.

Describing the tragedy, Stanley C. Yuwus, 23, of Portage township, one of those who escaped, said:

"It was more of a concussion than an explosion. A great ball of white fire swept down the tunnel. I was knocked down. With the others, I began scrambling on my hands and knees for the main dip of the slope."

Gas Is Blamed

All but one man, Freeman George, escaped from right entry 18. He was the first of the dead to be identified. A dozen bodies were found in right entry 17. Most of the missing were believed to have been in right entry 16.

Campbell said there had been little actual destruction in the mine and that rescuers were making rapid progress restoring ventilation. Few of the bodies were crushed, although most of them were burned.

Five of the 21 miners who stumbled from the entrance after several hours of groping through dark and dangerous passageways said they believed a gas explosion caused the blast. The company received one report, unverified, that a spark from a coal cutting machine was responsible.

League Of Nations Is Invited To Princeton

PRINCETON, N. J., July 15. (AP)—An invitation has been extended to the League of Nations to transfer the work of three non-political departments from Geneva to Princeton, it was announced officially today.

The three sections are of finance and economics, international health and opium control.

An announcement that Princeton university, the institute for advanced study and the Rockefeller institute for medical research had issued the invitation was made by Dr. Harold W. Dodds, university president; Dr. Frank Aydelotte, study institute director, and Dr. Carlten Broeck of the Rockefeller institute.

The invitation was cabled July 12, but no response has been received.

Five Persons Lose Lives In Collision

SAN ANTONIO, July 15. (AP)—Two men and three youths were dead today as the aftermath of a truck-automobile collision on the Seguin highway near here.

Listed as burned to death in the truck were: the driver, Tim Walker, about 27, John Edward Miller, 14, and W. J. Davis, a boy whose exact age was not determined. They were employes of a Trinity, Tex., lumber company.

Occupants of the car, tentatively identified as Richard Suarez, 28, and Sam Molina, 19, both of Seguin, died two hours after the accident in a hospital here.

Axis Ultimatum To Britain Is Hinted By Italian Press

(By The Associated Press)

ROME, July 15.—A forecast was flung out of Italy today that the axis powers in a few days would give Britain her chance to line up with their "renovating, restorative" plan for a new Europe—or else face an onslaught of arms to force her "final overthrow."

The authoritative Fascist editor Virginio Gayda, hinted that an ultimatum to that effect would be forthcoming. Gayda's editorials in Il Giornale d'Italia frequently are regarded as the voice of Premier Mussolini himself. Gayda's declaration seemed an answer to Prime Minister Winston Churchill's defiant speech on Sunday.

While Gayda made his prediction the Italian air force stabbed at the British fleet in the Mediterranean.

These aerial forays, the Italian high command declared, cost the British two submarines and a destroyer over the weekend.

The British fleet was declared to be heading home to Alexandria, harassed by bombing lanes, after an ill-starred foray into the open sea.

(Yesterday the British admiralty told of the sinking of the 1,350-ton destroyer Escort, torpedoed in the western Mediterranean, and today it said the 760-ton submarine Shark is "overdue and presumed to be lost.")

The air fighting in the Mediterranean area and in Africa cost the British 10 planes over the weekend, said the high command, adding that Italian scouting planes had turned their machine guns on British troops near Buna, East Africa.

(For the first time of the war bombs dropped on the Holy Land. The explosives fell around Haifa, Palestine port on the Mediterranean, causing a few casualties. The planes, presumably Italian, were driven off by anti-aircraft fire).

Woman Is Killed In Fall From Automobile

Mrs. Pauline Stoval, 27, who had spent the last three months with her parents four miles northwest of Levelland, died of a basal skull fracture in West Texas hospital Monday afternoon, 15 minutes after she fell from a moving automobile.

A member of the family told hospital authorities the accident happened four miles south of Lubbock on the Lubbock-Big Spring highway. She was taken to the hospital at 3:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Stovall was being returned to Big Spring where she had been a patient in the state hospital. She had spent a three-months furlough at the home of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Shirey.

Shirey was accompanying the woman in a car driven by a neighbor, a Mr. Wright.

Mrs. Stovall also suffered multiple bruises of the body when she struck the pavmeent.

Funeral services will be conducted at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the First Baptist church in Levelland, with the pastor, Rev. A. A. Brian, officiating. Burial will be in Levelland cemetery under direction of Davis-Mason Funeral home of Levelland.

In addition to the parents, the husband, of Wichita Falls, a son and a daughter, and several brothers and sisters survive.

Pilot Killed, Mate Injured In Crash

MISSOULA, Mont., July 15. (AP)—A pilot flying supplies to forest fire-fighting crews was killed and his co-pilot injured seriously today when their airplane crashed in the bitter Root mountains in western Montana.

A forest service lookout's story of seeing the plane go down reached headquarters soon after the forest service had reported under control 98 per cent of the fires that popped out after a rainless electrical storm across 200 miles of explosively dry spruce and pine country.

Bodies Of Five Found In Wreckage Of Plane

MARKLEEVILLE, Calif., July 15. (AP)—The wreckage of a small cabin plane yielded the bodies of five persons today and solved the disappearance of a party of wedding guests who left Reno yesterday afternoon.

Two young couples, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bruce Mills, and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Cummings, met death with their pilot, Clyde Hamilton Hodges, as their plane crashed into the sheer side of a cliff in the Sierras, 23 miles southwest of here. All were from Los Angeles.

Sit-Down Picketing Leads To Alimony

LOS ANGELES, July 15. (AP) — Alimony sit-down picketing at her estranged husband's home got results today for Mrs. Evelyn Himburg, 34.

Her lawyer said an amicable settlement had been reached whereby the husband, Theodore Himburg, guarantees payment of $50 a month alimony as decreed in court June 3. Saying she had been unable to collect, Mrs. Himburg, with her bags, began sitting on the sidewalk wall Sunday night at the residence of Himburg and his parents.

Four Are Named In Old Murder

(By The Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, July 15. — A woman and three men were charged today in connection wtih a seven-year-old alleged insurance arson-slaying which officers said was revealed by a voluntary confession.

Charges of murder and arson were filed in criminal district court against Anthony Beninate, 49, restaurant owner of Houston, Tex.; and Mrs. Mary Manale, 38; William C. Crawford, 33, and Harold Richards, 30, all of New Orleans.

The charred body of Eugene P. Clark, 56, was found in his bed in the rear of a saloon and billiard hall in Algiers, that part of New Orleans on the west bank of the Mississippi river, on April 8, 1933.

Was Believed Accidental

The fire was then believed accidental. Clark's skull was fractured but an assistant coroner who performed an autopsy said also it was accidental.

Assistant District Attorney Guy Johnson, who filed the charges, said that a week ago Crawford walked into a police station and stated he had been "worried" for seven years and wanted to surrender.

Johnson said statements were obtained from Mrs. Manale, Crawford and Richards but that Beninate declined to make any statement. Johnson said the motive for the alleged crime was a $900 insurance policy.

Beninate, who waived extradition, was returned to New Orleans by Frank von der Haar, Louisiana fire marshal; and City Detectives William Vandervoort and Joseph Klein.

Wichita Falls Doctor Dies In Hollywood

WICHITA FALLS, July 15. (AP)—Dr. Everett Jones, 55, president of the Texas Surgical society and co-founder of a large hospital here, died tonight in a Hollywood, Calif., hotel, associates here were advised.

In the World war he recruited a medical detachment here, was commissioned a major and served overseas. After the war he formed a partnership with Drs. Q. B. Lee and O. B. Kiel who also had served in France and in 1926 they established the Wichita Falls clinic hospital.

Dr. Jones had gone to Hollywood for an extended rest. A heart attack about a week ago was followed by another late today which resulted fatally.

O'Daniel Calls His Opponents 'Snakes, Vipers'

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

GREENVILLE, July 15. — Governor W. Lee O'Daniel tonight ridiculed assertions that his new sound truck cost $15,000 and characterized his critics as a "nest of snakes—vipers sticking their tongues out at me."

Making his second campaign speech of a stumping tour throughout East and South Texas, he announced an enlarged itinerary under which he plans five additional speeches tomorrow. A throng which stood around the Hunt county courthouse for an hour awaiting his appearance cheered frequently as he sailed into his opponents and others fighting his re-election. There was little heckling and there were frequent cries of "pour it on."

Too Much To Answer

"I could not answer all my critics if I stood here for 10 days," O'Daniel cracked early in his speech. "They remind me of my farm days when I took two garden hoes along to kill snakes when I was sledding corn on the north 80. Every now and then I'd have to stop and clear the deck of snakes, and before I get into the real issues I'm going to do a little snake clearing."

He said the "$15,000 sound truck you've been reading so much about from the slander brigade, the corporation press and the influence lawyers, is just a truck that Pat O'Daniel signed a note for $500 on as part payment. All this trapping will come off after the campaign is over and it will go back to the dealer as a used truck for hauling cotton."

The truck, he said, was accepted "in the name of the flour company the family owns and it is registered under that name."

"A Floating Palace"

"But now," he went on, "it becomes a floating palace in the minds of the slander brigade that has been turning the land upside down in its efforts to defeat me."

O'Daniel cried that his opponents would "like to steal my band, my truck, and the type from my paper

British Raiders Range Far Into Nazi Territory

German Stations Go Off Air; RAF Fliers Active

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, July 16. (Tuesday) — British fliers were believed early today to be ranging far and wide over Germany as at least 12 German and German controlled radio stations almost as far east as the old Polish border went off the air—the usual mute signal that raiders are in their vicinity.

The Germans, on their part, were reported over northeast England late last night but no bombs were dropped and no gunfire was heard.

The stations silenced suddenly are at Bremen, Cologne, Munich, Leipzig, Berlin, Breslau, Frankfurt, Saarbrucken, Vienna, Brussels, Hilversum and Strasbourg.

Attacks Are Resumed

If the British actually are raiding on such a wide scale over Germany, they are resuming heavy aerial attacks of the past few days.

Earlier, the air ministry announced that British fliers rained explosives on 22 German airdromes during the last 48 hours.

R. A. F. raiders also attacked and aircraft factory at Bremen, aircraft stores at Paderborn and Diepholz, oil plants and refineries at Geisengirchen, Hamburg and Bremen, and freight yards at Hamm and Soest, the ministry said.

Damage Reported

"Fires and explosives resulted and considerable damage was done," the communique said.

Two British planes failed to return.

The attackers' bombs also fell on objectives in the old gabled Belgian city of Ghent, setting several oil tanks afire.

In Berlin the Nazi high command said the British bombings were "aimless," that only slight property damage was done and that three British planes were shot down.

Nazis Make Claims

Berlin also claimed that her bombers yesterday sank three British Merchantmen totalling 17,000 tons in the Dover straits and said a British destroyer, an auxiliary cruiser, and four other merchant ships were damaged.

Other German claims lacking confirmation here were that Nazi raiders bombed armament plants in southern England last night, causing fires, particularly at Faversham and that two German planes and four British Hurricane fighters were lost in the engagement.

German air raids today were slight, the British declared. Four persons were killed and eleven injured when bombs fell in southeast England and South Wales.

American Property In France Is Not Hurt

PARIS, July 12. (Via Berlin-Delayed) (AP)—United States property in France has emerged from the war with relativity small damage.

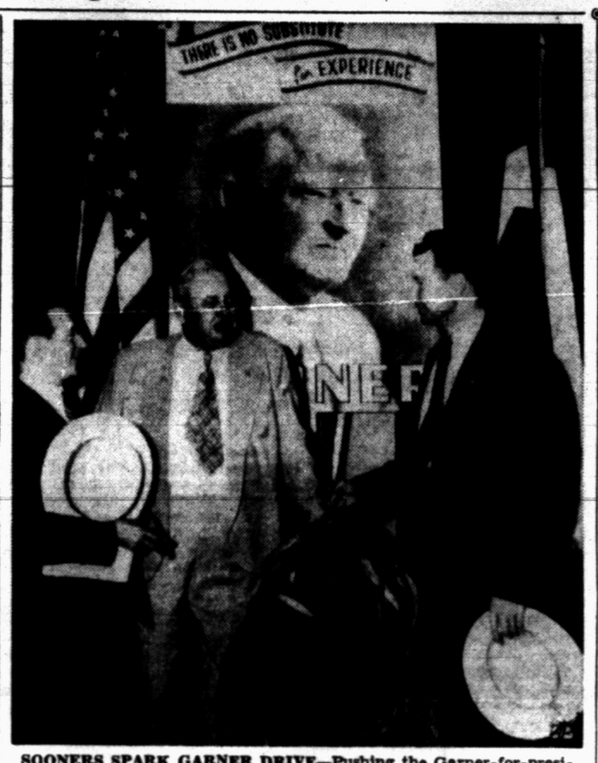

United States officials said no estimate of total losses was available, but that reports received since France made terms with Germany indicated damages had been held to a minimum.

More than a thousand notices signed by Tyler Thompson of New York, third secretary of the embassy, had been posted on United States property, certifying to its ownership, and this was, in general, untouched.

American oil companies, which were ordered by the retreating French to destroy their supplies, and communications companies, whose coastal cableheads came under heavy fire, were believed to be among the heaviest losers.

Bankhead Lauds Democratic Party, Raps Republicans In Opening Chicago Convention

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, July 15.—The Democratic party was exhorted by its convention keynoter tonight to seek another four years in power "upon the record of its performance" since 1932 and with determination to "resist to the death" any compromise of democracy with Europe's dictators.

Sounding this party call to battle, Speaker William B. Bankhead of the national House of Representatives also denounced as "discreditable" and "calumny" what he called a Republican charge "that the Democratic party and administration are attempting slyly and covertly to lead the United States into the shambles of a foreign war."

Have Done All Possible

To this the Alabama orator replied emphatically that President Roosevelt, Senator Hull and a "Democratic Congress" have done "everything possible within the bounds of reason" to "keep us out of involvement in a foreign war."

WILLIAM B BANKHEAD

On issues of domestic policy Bankhead said that the Republican party's recently - adopted platform would neither repeal nor abolish a single major law of the Democratic administration. That, he asserted, amounted to a Republican endorsement of the Democratic record which he summed up as a record of "advances we have made in liberal government for the benefit and protection of the average man."

The fight for those advances, Bankhead said, began in 1932, achieved a "magnificent victory" in 1936 and is becoming in 1940 a struggle to "preserve" them for the people.

To Have GOP Support

"Fighting by our side," he predicted, "will again be millions of Republicans and independent voters who have forever foresworn allegiance to the forces of reaction."

But the speaker said that the

Demos Divided On Platform

By REG INGRAHAM
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, July 15.—A proposal to convoy supplies to Great Britain led to a clash today as Democratic party platform drafters sweltered through what they hoped was the last day of public hearings.

Senators Wheeler (D-Mont) and McCarran (D-Nev.) took sharp issue with Clark M. Eichelberger, secretary of the Committee to defend America by Aiding the Allies, who said that aid to the British should include not only airplanes, guns and destroyers but convoys for food and for child refugees traveling to the western hemisphere.

"An Act Of War"

Both senators declared the convoying of contraband foodstuffs would be an act of war and would quickly result in the sinking of American warships.

"If a battleship flying the American flag at the masthead is sunk it won't be Hitler that declares war," predicted McCarran. "It will be the American people."

Wheeler accused Eichelberger and his committee of wanting to get the United States into war and of "sneaking up on the people" by failing to distinguish between aid by the government to the British, which he said would be in violation of international law, and private assistance. Eichelberger heatedly denied Wheeler's charges and reminded the senator "this is not the floor of the United States Seante."

Appeals by the National Grange and the National Association of Manufacturers for a strong defense plank in the Platform were coupled with a warning by Louis J. Taber, president of the Grange, that one of the most serious dangers facing the country as a result of the war was the likelihood of a drastically lowered standard of living. This, he said, might develop in the next two or three years due to fierce economic competition from the "dictatorships" and the staggering cost of strengthening national defenses.

Meanwhile, Secretary Wallace said he expected the Democratic party's platform committee to agree upon a farm plank endorsing the agriculture department's crop control programs to the western hemisphere.

Former Officer Put On Stand In Trial

FORT WORTH, July 15. (AP)—B. H. Shaffer, 31, former narcotics bureau agent charged with accepting protection money, as a witness in his own behalf today vehemently denied in federal district court testimony of others which had connected him with the alleged "Green Dragon" narcotics conspiracy.

Asked by his counsel if Glenn Cox, defendant turned government witness, had ever paid any protection money to him as Cox had testified, Schaffer shouted:

"Glenn Cox lied."

Assistant United States District Attorney William Fonville and Cylde Hood bounced to their feet in protest.

In response, Schaffer repeated the statement.

Federal Judge T. W. Davidson warned him against similar outbursts and at the conclusion of the session had him placed in the custody of United States Marshall J. R. Wright for one hour as punishment.

TRIAL CONTINUED

AUSTIN, July 15. (AP)—A district court here today continued until its September term trial of Attorney General Gerald C. Mann's anti-trust suit against a number of electrical phonograph operators and local union No. 716, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, of Houston.

FDR Virtually Nominated By Chicago Mayor

"Draft Roosevelt" Move Launched As Convention Opens

By RICHARD L. TURNER
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO STADIUM, July 15.—Calling for an aggressive campaign on the "record" of performance, Speaker William B. Bankhead voiced tonight a 1940 Democratic keynote of uncompromising resistance to "malignant" aggressors abroad and assailed the Republican platform as "political subterfuge."

He spoke a few minutes after Chairman James A. Farley of the Democratic national committee, delivering an address which sounded to some like a formal farewell to his party colleagues, had denounced Republican leaders for "an effort" to "pin the odious label 'war party' upon the Democratic party."

Based On Record

Both speakers joined in asserting that the coming campaign against Wendell L. Willkie and the Republican party must be waged upon the record of eight Democratic years in office. Farley asserted that "unless we give the country a ticket and a platfrom that will satisfy the majority, we have no certainty of victory."

The addresses closed a day which had seen third term leaders considering a plan to win renomination for President Roosevelt without so much as placing his name in formal nomination and an opening session transformed from the usually dull routine to a rousing Roosevelt rally by an address of welcome from Mayor Edward J. Kelly, which was, in effect a nominating speech.

Statement Interpreted

Much attention was attracted by Farley's closing paragraph so great has been the speculation whether he would follow his own well-known desires and retire from the party chairmanship or continue to direct what may be President Roosevelt's third campaign for the presidency. Farley has opposed a third term.

"Mine," he said, "has been a happy service," and he went on to thank party workers.

"I know," Farley said, "that your new organization will not let the Democratic party down and I firmly believe that every member of this great gathering will give our successors and the new national party organization the same support that was accorded to the national committees in 1932 and 1936, and if that is so, let me promise you now another triumph."

Dissatisfaction Noted

Downtown while Farley spoke, Ed. A. Carroll, Democratic national committeeman from Washington, said in a statement that there was "a feeling of dissatisfaction" in his state delegation, "with the treatment being accorded" the national chairman.

Carroll, also chairman of the state delegation, which is instructed for Roosevelt, told reporters that "from what I've heard it is possible that the convention may be turned into a thunderous upheaval by Thurs-

More Foreign Assets In U. S. Are 'Frozen'

WASHINGTON, July 15. (AP) — President Roosevelt today extended his monetary "freezing" order to Latvia, Estonia, and Lithuania.

The order was the first preventing the export from the United States of assets belonging to Russian-dominated countries. The other orders all applied to countries invaded by Germany—France, Belgium, Holland, Denmark, Norway and Luxembourg.

The order applies to assets in this country as of July 10 and after.

Officials offered no explanation of the move, but as in the cases of the German invasions, they indicated the order was intended to prevent Russia from confiscation of American assets of the three countries.

Texans Are Deeply Hurt As Their Flag Is Inverted

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, July 15—Texas is mighty proud of its Lone Star flag.

That's why the eyes of Texas reflected pained surprise today.

Saturday, Texas delegates to the National Democratic convention left for Chicago to vote for a candidate and do some powerful paradin'.

Six white horses with as many pretty girls for riders went along. A cowboy band went, too. And a big Texas flag.

Really, it was goin' to be some doins.

Folks back home were proud.

Yesterday the Texans paraded.

Today, when wirephoto pictures appeared in the back-home newspapers, Texans gasped.

The pictures showed the proud Texas flag flying a distress signal. It was hung upside down.

Work On Boys' Building Slated

Monday's application by mail for a charter for Lubbock Boys Club, inc., means construction of a club building will begin this week, said Dr. Marshall Harvey, president, Marion Sanford, secretary-treasurer, and DeWitt Landis, publicity chairman.

Construction will open "in the next two or three days" and will be occasion for a ground breaking ceremony and celebration to which the public in general will be invited, the officials said.

The building is to be constructed at Twenty-fourth street and Avenue K, facing west toward a park. It will be built on school land leased by the building organization, with option to buy.

Money Is Available

Initial cost will be $6,000 but cost of the completed structure will be $11,000.

"We have enough money in the bank to start construction and enough pledged to finish the preliminary construction," officials assured.

The building, which will be a recreational center for Lubbock boys, will be 76x102 and will contain a gymnasium with a basketball court, handicrafts room, music room, library, apartment for supervisor, office, showers, barber and shoe repair shop, handball court, and office. The gymnasium also may be used as an auditorium.

Use of the structure also will be open to civic club members who have contributed toward its construction.

No general contract will be let. A supervisor will be hired. Much of the labor will be donated by labor unions and much of the materials will be obtained at cost.

The completed $11,000 structure will be brick veneer but the first structure will be frame.

Officers of the organization are Dr. Harvey, president; Don Reeder, vice president; Sanford, secretary-treasurer; Robert H. Bean, Dr. M. M. Ewing, John Halsey, J. A. Raley, jr., and S. E. Marbut, members of the board of directors.

An advisory committee is comprised of representatives of the Lions, Kiwanis, Optimist, Rotary and American Business clubs.

Committees include:

Publicity—Landis, Halsey, Grady Knight, Earl Hunt and Reeder.

Building—Dr. Ewing, chairman, Carl Maxey, Bean, Raley, Dr. W. B. Irvin, Harold Humphries, Emmett Galloway and Marbut.

Finance—Sanford, chairman, John Shewmake, George Watkins, Horace Hawkins and C. E. Hunt.

The advisory committee is comprised of those persons and Harry Morris, who has served as general chairman of the movement to construct the building. Ray Farmer and the Salvation Army captain, H. G. Lambrecht.

Final arrangements with school authorities and employment of a construction supervisor remain before opening of construction.

Galloway, counsellor for the Downtown Boys club, will serve as supervisor for club work. His salary will be paid by the city.

Rites For S. G. Brown Read Here Monday

S. G. Brown, 88, former Lubbock resident, was buried in Lubbock cemetery after rites read Monday afternoon in Sanders chapel by Rev. C. J. McCarty, and a Masonic ritual was read.

He died Sunday in Albany, of a brief illness.

He lived in Lubbock from 1918 to 1936. He went to Albany in 1936 to live with two daughters, Mrs. Effie Pate and Mrs. Ercel Sanders. He died at their home.

Mrs. Brown died in 1931. Mr. Brown died exactly two months prior to his 89th birthday. He was a retired farmer.

Survivors include five daughters, Mrs. J. H. Wilson and Mrs. Will Shelly of Lubbock, Mrs. Pearl Dougherty of Fort Worth, Mrs. Pate and Mrs. Sanders; three sons, Lee Brokn of Hamlin, Dave of Kalgary and G. C. of Clifton, 16 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren. All are here.

Seminole Lions To Get Charter Soon

An Aug. 6, the newest Lions club in West Texas, at Seminole will be presented its charter.

The club was formed last week and the charter will be awarded by F. W. Wallace of Dumas, newly-elected district governor.

Twenty-one Seminole business men formed the group, sponsored by the Seagraves club, said Wallace. He had just visited the new group. It makes the tenth club to be formed in district 2-T for the past year, of which A. G. Bearden of Lamesa is retiring governor.

Wallace congratulated the Seagraves club on its organization work. The charter night will be following one at Littlefield. The new club will meet at the Seminole churches each Tuesday.

Alvin F. Nemir was selected as president; H. L. Jordan, Eugene Gross and Max Maloney, first, second and third vice presidents respectively; Roy K. Shiflett, secretary-treasurer; T. C. McCarty, Lion tamer; Ramsey Longbotham, tail twister and George L. Nelson, Lee R. Johnson, H. C. Kyle and W. P. Bowen, directors.

Willkie Sees One Demo Vote

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., July 15. (U.P.)—Wendell L. Willkie, who predicted exactly how many ballots the Republican national convention would take to nominte him—six—today announced his prediction for the Democrats—one.

The Republican nominee, combining business with pleasure by having conferences with party leaders at his vacation retreat here, said at a press conference he wanted to "preserve my reputation for accuracy" but didn't hesitate to predict the Democratic nominee would be chosen on the first ballot in Chicago.

Labor Not Discussed

When asked to comment on the speech of Sen. James F. Byrnes, D., S. C., in which he said the Democratic convention would be the first "unbossed convention which met on Americam soil under the auspices of any party," Willkie laughed and said: "Jimmy Byrnes certainly has a sense of humor."

Willkie had breakfast today with Carl Snyder of New York, author of the book, "Capitalism the Creator." For lunch he was the guest of Claude M. Baker of Indianapolis, president of the International Typographical union, at Baker's home near here.

Willkie said there was no political significance to his visit with Baker and that labor problems would not be discussed.

Housing Facilities Ordered For Texans

WASHINGTON, July 15. (AP)—The war department has ordered construction of temporary housing facilities as existing and proposed Texas army air fields, estimated to cost a total of $1,090,150, but no definite information is available as to when the work will actually start.

Representative Paul Kilday of San Antonio, member of the House Military Affairs committee, conferred with several officials at the department and was told that no decision has yet been reached as to whether work will be given by contract to various builders or whether they will advertise for bids.

With Kilday at the conferences was a San Antonio general contractor, Gilbert Falbo.

Constructions projects and their costs are planned as follows: Brooks field, $149,550; Randolph field, $132,200; Kelly field, 40,900; San Angelo (where new field is planned), $676,500.

Dallas Recruiting Sets New Record

DALLAS, July 15. (U.P.)—Recruiting officers said today that Dallas now is setting new records for peacetime enlistments in the United States army, navy and marine corps.

Quotas have been increased greatly during the last two months, but officers said they were having no trouble in meeting them with highly desirable men.

Through June the navy enlisted 1,089 men as compared with 308 for a corresponding period of last year. The July quotas of 250 is expected to be reached soon, with 145 already having been enlisted.

The marine corps enlisted 330 men during the first six months of this year as compared with 150 for the initial half of 1939.

The army enlisted 367 men during the first 13 days of July bringing the total to above 2,000 for the year.

Rural Carrier Believes United States Mail Must Go Through; He Wades Across Highway

SHREVEPORT, La., July 15. (AP)—The mail must go through!

Crit Petty, rural mail carrier of Ida, viewed the flooded highway ahead of him. The water three feet deep, too much for his automobile to venture into. But those folks on the other side of the rushing flood were marooned.

Then a large sweetgum log came floating along. Petty deserted his car and with the mail wrapped carefully in his rubber coat he leaped upon the log and started for the other side of the flooded area. The log struck a snag, throwing Petty and the mail into the water.

"This won't do," Petty mused as he retrieved the mail and he re retrieved the mail and proceeded to wade down the inundated highway. He reached the other side and delivered the mail.

EDITOR DIES

KANSAS CITY, July 15. (AP)—John Morton Hazelton, 73, cofounder and for 20 years editor of the American Hereford Journal, died at his home today following a heart attack. He was author of "The History and Handbook of Hereford Cattle," and generally was recognized as an authority on the breed.

Farm Practices To Be Talked

When J. Ross Bell of Childress, attorney for the Agricultural Adjustment administration, meets today with the county AAA committee, he will be asked what the attitude will be of the AAA towards alleged violations of check splitting practices between tenants and landlords in other counties besides Lubbock.

Some weeks ago Bell held a hearing here, interviewed a number of landlords and tenants and took statements on alleged practices of forcing tenants to pay a "bonus" to the landlord. Numerous complaints had been made to the committee of the practice and an investigation was asked.

Investigation Seen

It is understood the state AAA committee has made a recommendation to Washington. No word has been received as to what the administration has done regarding the recommendation.

Members of the county committee, it was indicated, feel that further investigations should be made over the state, the same as in Lubbock county.

Marine Official Asked To Resign Because He Publicly Criticized U. S. Navy

Cause Found In Correspondence

PITTSBURGH, July 15. (U.P.)—The Pittsburgh Press disclosed correspondence today that revealed Major Al Williams, aviation columnist, resigned from the U. S. marine reserve because the "navy department, of which the marines are a branch, threatened to revoke his commission for criticizing the navy in his newspaper column."

Major Williams explained he released the correspondence because "the navy violated" his proposal for "gentlemanly silence." The navy last week announced Major Williams' resignation.

Major General Thomas Holcomb, marine corps commandant, on April 11, wrote Williams, according to the Press, that a column of his published in February contained "statements extremely derogatory in tenor to the administration of the U. S. navy. Such destructive criticism of the administration of the naval service in the public press by an officer of your rank in the marine corps reserve, is exceedingly inappropriate and can not be condoned by the major general commandant," the letter added.

A warning declared that further "destructive criticism . . . will be considered sufficient cause for the major general commandant to recommend to the secretary of the navy that your commission as a major in the marine corps reserve be revoked."

It was believed, the Press said, that the column which brought the protests was published Feb. 2, when Williams recommended a "major overhauling" for the navy department.

On April 23, Major Williams replied to Holcomb's letter, asking for clarification, saying: "Specifically, I would like to know where my privileges as a private citizen are overlapped by my duties and obligations as a reserve officer . . . being on the reserve list, I have been of the opinion that the spoken or written word of mine in nowise is to be interpreted as official or under censorship."

When he received no reply, Major Williams said that on June 7 he tendered his resignation, saying he "desired to speak freely and vigorously" in expressing his opinions.

Two days later, Major Williams received a letter from Major General Holcomb saying the chief of naval operations had ruled that Williams, in his present status, "is not subject to U. S. navy orders or regulations concerning the publication of articles in the public press." The letter added that it has not been the custom of persons attached to the naval service to publicly criticize the navy "in a derogatory manner," and said Williams is an officer in the naval service.

On July 8, Williams received formal notice of the acceptance of his resignation.

None Injured In Auto Accident Monday

Neither of two women were injured sufficiently for hospital treatment after a Monday morning collision, but Rix ambulance ran to the mishap scene.

They were Miss Sannie Callan of 2628 Twenty-fourth street and Mrs. Clayton Gammill of 2912 Twenty-first street.

The accident report at police station shows Miss Callan's coupe was being driven north on Adams avenue and Mrs. Gammill's coach, west on Twenty-first street. They collided at the intersection. The car Mrs. Gammill was driving turned over on a side.

Demo Session Gives Chicago Its Seventeenth Political Convention Since 1860

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, July 16—Eighty years ago gaunt, stoop-shouldered Abraham Lincoln received the Republican nomination for the Presidency in a ramshackle building called the Wigwam. This week not far from the same spot another Presidential candidate, this time a Democrat, will be chosen.

During the period from Lincoln's nomination in 1860 to the present 16 nominees have been named in Chicago. William Howard Taft was nominated twice, elected once and defeated once. Grover Cleveland was nominated twice and elected twice. Five others were defeated.

Chicago, as a convention city, has seen much of the heartbreaks and thrills associated with the unique American institution of the nominating convention. In 1880 a dark-horse, James A. Garfield, was named by an exhausted Republican convention after 35 ballots had eliminated the favorites, Gen. U. S. Grant, James G. Blaine and John Sherman.

Session Stormy In 1912

Again in 1912 the Republicans held a stormy session in Chicago. It was the bitter contest between William Howard Taft, candidate for re-election, his one-time friend Theodore Roosevelt and Wisconsin's Sen. LaFollette. Cries of "theft" rang through the convention hall as time and time again the Taft-controlled committee refused to seat Roosevelt delegations. Taft won the nomination, but at a cost fatal to his chances in the election. Roosevelt and LaFollette left the party, the former as a Bull Moose candidate, the latter as a Progressive with the split resulting in a Democratic victory.

The Democrats, too, have held memorable conventions in this city. That of 1896 is remembered as it shot to national prominence William Jennings Bryan. Bryan's impassioned plea for the farmer, his words, "you shall not crucify mankind upon a cross of gold," turned the convention into a frenzied, wildly cheering bedlam.

Fight Curbed In 1932

The last Democratic convention held here was in 1932 during the depression's darkest days. The battle for the nomination appeared a dogfight between Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York, John Nance Garner of Texas, and a handful of others. After an all-light session the convention was stampeded to Roosevelt when William Gibbs McAdoo announced that the California delegation would change its vote from Garner to the New York governor.

The list of Presidential candidates chosen in Chicago:

1860—Abraham Lincoln (R., elected).
1864—Gen. George McClellan (D., defeated by Lincoln).
1868—Ulysses Grant (R., elected).
1880—James A. Garfield (R., elected.)
1884—James G. Blaine (R., defeated by Grover Cleveland).
1884—Grover Cleveland (D., elected).
1888—Benjamin Harrison (R., elected).
1892—Grover Cleveland (D., elected).
1896—William Jennings Bryan (D., defeated by William McKinley).
1904—Theodore Roosevelt (R. elected).
1908—William Howard Taft (R., elected).
1912—William Howard Taft (R., defeated by Woodrow Wilson.)
1916—Charles E. Hughes (R., defeated by Wilson).
1920—Warren G. Harding (R., elected).
1932—Herbert Hoover (R., defeated by Roosevelt).
1932—Franklin D. Roosevelt (D., (elected).

Church Women Meet Monday Afternoon For Programs And Business

The Woman's Angle
by Margaret Turner

THE Woman's Angle is a student ... of that school of tourists who ... sigh as they approach their native ... city, "The best part of a vacation is getting home." However we did have a glorious time last week with two swell companions, Mr. and Mrs. Sherrill Boyd, and we enjoyed a cool rest, acquired a tan and thought of our friends and relatives sweltering in the heat.

We met Lubbockites all the way from Albuquerque to Evergreen Valley who had joined other tourists for a pleasant stay in "the land of enchantment."

Monday morning we sat at an adjoining table with the Arno Dalbys and son, Giles, who spent the night in Albuquerque en route to Denver for a business visit and that afternoon in Santa Fe as we sat at a hotel desk writing the usual "having a good time wish you were here" cards, we noticed on the blotter a note from H. H. Halsell informing his wife he had gone to the capitol building and for her to come after him in the car. We penned a post script to the note and hoped they wouldn't think we were crazy.

Lubbockites Are There

EVERGREEN Valley, which is run by former Lubbockite Charlie Middleton is a "Little Lubbock" and has been for years. This month is no exception. Thus we enjoyed stories about fishing and hikes and sighting wild animals with the Jack Barrs, R. E. Stroups and Dr. and Mrs. D. D. Cross. E. B. Green who "discovered" the valley years ago joined his parents, the E. B. Greens and his brother, Lawrence Green, and Mrs. Green for a stay in one of the cabins. Beatrice Tapp was with them.

Sycily Roberts and Margaret Studhalter, who planned to return home Monday, had pitched their tent in the valley and have spent the last five weeks hiking up to mesas and over mountains. And the Alan Strouts and sons, Habby and Dickie, have been living in an Evergreen cabin for the same length of time. In accordance with a former rule, Doctor Strout had not shaved for five weeks, we say "had not" advisedly because Mrs. Strout told us she was going to point out a barber shop in Las Vegas as they headed for home.

Mrs. Clarence Bestwick, a new Lubbock resident, ended a stay at the ranch house last week-end.

You Feel Swell

IF YOU have an exaggerated opinion of your sphere in the universe, we heartily recommend a trek to the mountains. Out there under those golden New Mexico stars watching the sun hiding behind the Sangre de Cristo mountains and sitting silently as the evening chill creeps over the meadow one comes to know that peace that passes all understanding and feels very small indeed.

And while we came to feel a greater respect for God's generosity to New Mexico's nature, even so did our pride in man increase as we viewed the maiden passenger flight of the transcontinental stratoliner as she paused briefly at the handsome Albuquerque airport. Our visit was made more enjoyable by the company of Mrs. Ada Williams of Albuquerque, Lubbock and other points west, who is as pretty an executive as ever commended a fumigation project and with her manager, a Mr. Holmes, veteran pilot.

Mr. Holmes regaled us with unpublished incidents in the lives of the late Wiley Post, Amelia Earhart, Will Rogers and Kingsford-Smith as we waited for the gigantic silver birds to come in. Waxing philosophical, he ventured that death is not too great a price to pay when one views the future of aeronautics. We thought of how needless the loss of each life in the four cases mentioned but had the sense to keep our silence.

Visited Davis Camp

ONE afternoon we bounced up the rough, rocky trail past El Povenir that ends in the camp sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Mule Davis. Their four charming sons joined in showing us the sights and the youngest Jerry took our hand and led us to the skeleton of a skunk, shot by Bill Tubby Wright who already has earned three medals as a sharpshooter. The Davies have found a worthy answer to that constant question asked by children during the three months vacation of "What can I do?" and their sons and other Lubbock boys over there are getting tanned and strong hiking, horseback riding, fishing, swimming, pitching horseshoes and doing many other interesting things planned by Mr. Davis.

To a person loking for a place to spend a few days resting we heartily recommend New Mexico. There the air is sweet and in the mountain sectors is actually chilly, the mountain vegetables and fruits are colorful and sweet, the people are friendly and there's a wealth of history which has been carefully traced and marked for the conventional tourist. But as we said at the beginning "There's no place like good old Lubbock."

Mission Studies Are Lessons

Women of Lubbock met Monday afternoon for church societies. They enjoyed programs, musical selections and refreshments.

The First Methodist Women's Division of Christian Service met at 4 o'clock at the church. A continuation of the Bible lesson and "Jesus and the Social Redemption" was held. Mrs. C. M. Chandler was leader. Mrs. J. B. Cardwell sang.

Sixteen members attended a meeting of the Central Baptist W.M.S., for a song service led by Mrs. Osa Wilbanks.

Mrs. J. C. Sledge presided for business. Miss Iva Brock led a prayer and Rev. Jeff Welch directed a lesson from the Bible.

Meet In Circles

Asbury Methodist W.M.S. met in circles as follows: Suzanne Wesley, Mrs. W. W. Owens, hostess, six members and two visitors present, prayer and devotion, Mrs. W. P. Bonds, talks by each one present and 14 visits reported, refreshments served; Kitty Bond, Mrs. W. B. Kelly, hostess, Mrs. J. P. Davis, devotion, one new member, two guests and 21 other members present; Mary Martha, Mrs. H. S. Hawkins, hostess, Mrs. Vernon McCullough, song lead and devotion leader, poem, Mrs. E. M. Loveless, talk on Philippine Islands, Mrs. J. F. Gregory, salad course and punch served to 12 members.

College Avenue Baptist W.M.S. also met in circles. The Elkin Lockett met with Mrs. H. E. Goeth for a study taught by Mrs. Lloyd Ricketts from the Mission book and the Louella Beddoe circle met with Mrs. G. E. Lowe for a lesson by Mrs. S. M. Wilson.

Attend Luncheon

Ninty women attended a meeting of the First Christian Woman's council. Mrs. Raymond Marshall reviewed "Forty Years A Country Preacher," (Gilbert). A luncheon was served.

Mrs. H. W. Moore sang and Mrs. Elliott Taylor accompanied her at the piano. Mrs. E. L. Pitts read a poem on "The Model Child."

The Lottie Moon circle of the First Baptist W.M.S. met at the home of Mrs. W. E. Twitty for a Bible lesson taught by Mrs. C. P. Edwards and a business session. Five members attended. Mrs. C. L. Goodnight entertained the Blanche Rose Walker circle with 17 members and one new member. Mrs. R. H. Ewing, present. Two visitors, Mesdames W. H. Porter and G. V. Pardue were present.

Mrs. Earl B. Collins and Mrs. Charles C. Watson were hostesses to the First Presbyterian Women's Training circle at the Collins residence. Mrs. H. A. Davidson was the guest Bible leader and Mrs. F. H. Parker directed the program.

Others present were Mesdames Virgil Craig, O. A. Wooten, A. C. McDavitt, C. L. Minyard, Bruce Wooddell, Willis Jack Lewis, E. S. Greve, Philip Sterrett, R. C. Douglas, jr., O. M. Stewart and Spencer Albright.

Program Is Given By Two Girls Monday

Misses Olive Huff and Madge Malone were presented in piano and voice recital Monday night at 8 o'clock at Miss Margaret Huff's studio. They are pupils of Miss Huff. The program was as follows:

RECEPTION POSTPONED

A reception to be held in honor of the new assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Rev. Willis Jack Lewis, has been postponed a second time because of the illness of Rev. Lewis. The reception was to have been July 12 and was postponed until this week because of the illness of Dr. J. M. Lewis, pastor of the church. A date is to be announced later.

Weddings Continue To Be Of Interest To Lubbock Persons This Week-End

Announcements are being made of weddings over the South Plains that are of interest to Lubbockites. Two ceremonies were read in the city Sunday.

Miss Virginia Cornelia Norman, daughter of Mrs. Cornelia L. Norman of Dallas and A. N. Norman of Littlefield, and David Dudley Humphries, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Humphries of Clarksville, were united in marriage Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church with Dr. J. M. Lewis officiating.

The altar was banked with palms and baskets of Picardy gladioli and lighted with white tapers.

Preceding the ceremony Rex Webster sang "Ah Sweet Mystery Of Life" and "Because," accompanied at the piano by his sister, Miss Imogene Webster. Miss Webster played the traditional wedding marches and "Indian Love Call" during the service.

Wears Blue

The bride wore a heaven blue dress with matching redingote, navy trim and accessories. Her hat was of sunrise pink. She wore a matching pink necklace. For "something borrowed" she wore a gold and ruby bracelet that had been in the Humphries family for more than 90 years. Her arm bouquet was of pink rosebuds. Her father gave her in marriage.

Miss Jeane Robinson of Abilene was maid of honor. She wore a rose chiffon street length frock with an "Old Blue" hat which was trimmed with veiling and flowers. Her colonial bouquet was of white gladioli and cornflowers.

H. H. Humphries served his brother as best man.

Ushers were Burl Koeninger of O'Donnell and A. N. Norman, jr., brother of the bride.

Following a trip to Texas cities the couple will be at home at 2405 Broadway.

Mrs. Humphries is a former student of Texas Technological college where she was a member of Ko Shari social club. She also attended John Tarleton Agricultural college.

Mr. Humphries is a former student of the college and is associated with the budget department of a tire company here.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included Messrs. and Mesdames A. N. Norman of Littlefield, A. N. Norman, jr., of Stratford, W. E. Bennett of Amherst, Paul D. Bennett of Littlefield, Ed Robinson of Abilene, Eldon Gattis of Tahoka; Miss Agnes Kegans of Abilene and Miss Mary Ellen Porterfield of Tahoka and Mr. C. M. Staley of Vernon.

Miss Singley Weds

The wedding of Miss Tarsey Singley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Singley, 1611 Avenue O, and Winton Harvey Kyle, son of C. H. Kyle of 1904 Sixteenth street, took place at 7:30 o'clock Sunday morning at the home of the officiating minister, Dr. C. E. Hereford, pastor of the First Baptist church. A single ring ceremony was read.

The bride wore a Reich original redingote of woodrose and white print with navy accessories and a white turban. She wore a white gardenia.

Miss Bertha Singley was her sister's only attendant.

Heston Kyle served his brother as best man.

Other guests at the service were Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Webster, Mrs. Heston Kyle, H. E. Singley, jr.

Former Tech Student

Mrs. Kyle is a graduate of Lubbock High school and attended Texas Technological college for two years. She is city cashier and treasurer of the Alpha Delta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority. She is also a charter member of the sorority.

Mr. Kyle was graduated from the Fort Smith, Ark., High school and attended the University of Arkansas for four years where he was a member of the Razorback football team for three years. He was affiliated with Theta Kappa Nu fraternity. The couple will be at home here where Mr. Kyle is associated with the appliance department of Sears-Roebuck company.

They left immediately following the ceremony for a trip to Little Rock, Hot Springs, and Fayetteville, Ark.

Announcement Made

Announcement is being made of the wedding of Miss Juanita Gowin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Gowin, 2002 Eighteenth street, to Charles Ferguson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Ferguson of Nashville, Tenn., which took place March 3 in Clovis, N. M.

Miss Loraine Graham and R. P. Pace accompanied the couple to the New Mexico city.

The couple is at home at 2105 Fourteenth street.

Mr. Ferguson is a graduate of Lubbock High school and attended Texas Technological college.

Mr. Ferguson received his education in Tennessee. He is an apprentice at the Avalanche-Journal.

Wed In Big Spring

In a candlelight ceremony in Big Spring, Miss Eloise Kuykendall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kuykendall, and Jim Bob Pool of Sweetwater, were united in marriage at 8 o'clock Sunday night at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. J. O. Haymes, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiated with a ring service.

WED IN BIG SPRING

In a candlelight ceremony, Miss Eloise Kuykendall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kuykendall, and Jim Bob Pool of Sweetwater, were united in marriage at 8 o'clock Saturday night at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. J. O. Haymes, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiated with a ring service.

Mrs. Bruce Frazier played "Wedding March" by Mendelssohn and accompanied Miss Clarinda Mary Sanders who sang "Indian Love Call."

The service was read before an altar of fern and white daisies. White tapers burned at either side of the scene.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a street length frock of navy and white made with sheer white blouse and dark skirt. She carried a colonial bouquet of gardenias and white Sweetheart roses. For "something old" she carried her grandmother's watch.

Japs Must Withdraw Before Peace Seen

CHUNGKING, China, July 15 (U.P.)—Chinese officials said today that only withdrawal of Japanese troops could pave the way for peace in China.

While the government protested to Britain against shutting off supplies to China, official sources said new reports of peace efforts with Britain acting as mediator would be ignored.

They indicated that a broadcast by S. W. Jones, acting British governor of the straits settlements, saying that Britain was seeking to promote peace in the Far East, would not affect the struggle against Japan.

Mrs. Howard Is Honor Guest

Mrs. Leroy T. Patton, 2415 Nineteenth street, entertained with a seated coffee to honor Mrs. Howard C. Arnold of LaGrange, Ga., who is the guest of Mrs. Russell Redding and Mrs. John L. Ratliff, at 10 o'clock Monday morning.

A frozen fruit plate with English scrones and coffee were served. Mrs. Allan L. Carter presided at the coffee service.

Those attending were Mesdames J. T. Hutchinson, T. R. Prideaux, M. C. Overton, W. G. Murray, Oran Lewis, Ratliff, Redding, C. M. Stanley, jr., Maurice Erickson and Miss Nan Overton.

Army Unit Goes To Plainview

A special recruiting detachment from the Fifth cavalry, which has been in this section the past week, left Monday for Plainview after appearing at Slaton, said Lieut. George T. Coleman, army recruiting officer, who was host to the group.

The party spent two hours at Slaton and were guests of the Legion post, with Commander P. G. Meading in charge, Robert J. Allen, county attorney, spoke. The party was a guest of the town in the community club house.

In the afternoon the party went to Plainview where a concert and program were given in the Hale county courthouse park. After the program the visitors were taken by the Plainview Chamber of Commerce to the American Legion hut in the community park in the south part of town.

Members of the American Legion post auxiliary served fried chicken, ice cream and cake and other food to the visitors. Allen again spoke at the courthouse meeting.

Sunday night the band, which accompanied the unit, gave a concert here on Texas Technological college campus. It was attended by between 2,500 and 3,000 persons. The party, while making Lubbock its headquarters, camped on the college campus.

Six Recruits Are Sent To Army Posts

Six men who enlisted in the U. S. army through the army recruiting office in the federal building, left Sunday for their stations, Lieut. George T. Coleman, district officer in charge, announced.

Recruits were, Marshall F. Pullen, Childress for medical corps, Fort Sam Houston; Willie A. Fletcher, Memphis, for field artillery, Fort Bliss; Clyde W. Robinson of Littlefield and Robert A. Manning of Channing for cavalry, Fort Bliss and Leverene Walling of Floydada and E. R. Myrick of Big Spring for quartermaster corps, Fort Bliss.

Assistant Recruiting Officer Arrives Here

Lieut. J. T. Carroll, a member of the Army Reserve Officers training corps and recently recalled to active service, has arrived in Lubbock and will be assistant to Lieut. George T. Coleman, army recruiting officer. He is to spend six months in recruiting work.

Corporal Gist has arrived here from Fort Bliss and will spend 10 days in training here. He will then be sent to Pampa where a new substation for the Lubbock district office, is to be opened. Other substations are at Amarillo, Plainview and Childress.

Expenses Listed By County Candidates

Expenses accruing to Lubbock county political candidates were listed Monday in the second accounting reports filed with Ed D. Allen, county clerk.

Two office seekers said no money had been spent since the first expense report was given July 1. They were W. B. Baker, for constable, and J. B. Johnston, for commissioner, precinct 4.

Deadline for the second and final report before the July 27 primary is Friday.

Expenditures listed were:

Elmer Rush, for commissioner, precinct 3, $8; A. A. Gartman, for public weigher, precinct 2, $38.50; G. V. Pardue, for county judge, $462.17; Clara L. Castle, for treasurer, $12; Sam R. Pangburn, for justice of peace, place 2, precinct 1, $21; J. H. Snider, for commissioner, precinct 4, $15.20; H. M. Sage, for commissioner, precinct 3, $00; V. J. Farris, for reelection as commissioner, precinct 4, $70.50.

Ira H. Burris, for commissioner, precinct 3, $5; J. W. Teal, for constable, $13.50; J. W. Tarlton, for treasurer, $116.71; E. E. Gray, for commissioner, precinct 3; J. W. Robinson, for constable, $4; Horace Smith, for reelection as justice of peace at Slaton, $10; and Newton Stokes, for commissioner, precinct 4, $72.50.

Dairy Leader Here Is From A. And M.

D. M. Carrell, the new field man for the Lubbock County Dairy Herd Improvement association, who came here from the Central Plains association, and who is now at work, is a graduate of Texas A. & M. college in 1936 and has been engaged in cow testing work for the past two years. He resides at 2118 Sixteenth street.

The new group, of which R. L. Burdette is president and Clayson Fuller secretary, has a membership of ten herds. Carrell hopes to get four or five more herds. There are approximately 400 cows on test in the group.

While attending A. & M., he was a member of the college dairy judging team, worked a year in the college dairy and two years in the creamery. He received his B. S. degree in dairy manufacturing. Later he attended the Louisiana State university, graduating in 1938 with an M. S. degree in dairy production. While there he helped coach the dairy products team. He had a two year fellowship in the school.

Has Own Equipment

For one summer Carrell was superintendent of the only exclusive cheese factory in Louisiana, owned by the Dairy Farmers Protective league and the largest farmers organization in the South. Later he was a milk price adjuster for the same group in New Orleans.

In college he was a member of the Block and Bridle club and of Alpha Zeta, professional agricultural fraternity. He also holds a commission with the Army reserve corps and is a member of the Christian church. He was reared on a farm in San Saba county.

The field man will give a large portion of his time to development of proper rations for herds of the members. He has his own equipment and makes tests at the farms.

Stamp Plan Report Made

Operation of the federal food stamp plan in Wichita Falls has resulted in increased business for retail dealers there and has been satisfactory from the standpoint of those using them.

This was the report this morning, according to officials of the chamber of commerce, to members of a special chamber committee investigating the possibility of operating the plan in Lubbock.

Wilburn Page, manager of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce at the time the plan was put into operation there, was quoted as advising that the stamps increased the volume movement of surplus food commodities, thus benefitting the producers. Needy families have not suffered, according to the report, because those on relief and without income have been given the green stamps with which to obtain the surplus commodities. Such stamps are redeemed by the government at face value from the merchants accepting them. Page now is secretary of the Permian Basin association with headquarters in Midland.

Uncertainty still existed as to when and if the plan is to be put into operation here. The immediate task facing the stamp plan committee, it was explained, is to obtain a sponsoring agency and to obtain a revolving fund with which to buy the initial supply of stamps.

Dormitory Bids Will Be Called

Despite the fact there is no assurance of construction of a women's second dormitory at Texas Technological college, a call for bids will be published this morning, it was announced Monday.

Funds Are Sought

"Following several weeks' endeavor to provide for the girls' new dormitory, we have authorized the architect, Wyatt C. Hedrick & Co., Inc., of Fort Worth to advertise for bids," said Dr. Clifford B. Jones, president of the college.

"Such authorization is predicated upon our belief that funds will be made available to us within a short time for construction and equipment of such a dormitory," he stated.

The Tech board of directors last February authorized efforts to obtain funds from private sources for construction of another dormitory. Officials believe money will be forthcoming soon from a private source.

Have Three Dormitories

There now are three college-owned dormitories, three stories each, and each built at a cost of approximately $350,000.

The notices to be published in Lubbock and Fort Worth this morning and signed by Joe T. Sneed, jr., board chairman, will call for sealed proposals for the general construction, plumbing, heating and ventilating, and electrical work for a three-story dormitory building, in accordance with plans and specifications drawn by Hedrick, copies of which are on file in the office of W. T. Gaston, business manager of Tech.

Publishing of the notice to bidders today, Sunday and July 28 will dispense with the requirement of notification of bidders a certain length of time prior to opening of bids and will make it possible for immediate awarding of the contract should the money be made available by date of opening of bids, Aug. 9.

The board will reserve the right to reject any or all bids.

Lubbock Construction Totals Are Boosted

Lubbock construction for the week got off to sizeable start Monday with the issuance of permits totaling $28,450, in the office of Jim E. Reid, city building inspector.

Only one of 10 permits, that for only $500, was for other than residences. The nine dwelling permits ranged from $2,500 to $5,400, reaching an average comparable to that of the entire year.

Dwelling authorized were for Homer Maxey, owner, and Jack Nelson, contractor, 3121 Twenty-first street; A. W. May, owner, and H. H. Jones, contractor, 2318 Twenty-sixth street, $3,800; B. S. Atchley, owner, and Nelson, contractor, 2708 Twenty-fourth street, $3,600; Jack Louden, owner, and M. H. Day, contractor, 1311 Twenty-seventh street, $2,650.

Maxey, owner, and Nelson, contractor, for five residences, each to cost $2,500, at 1502 and 1530 Thirtieth street and 1513, 1517 and 1529 Hill street.

Total for July was increased to $97,079 and for 1940 to $2,303,463.

Bond Is Posted By Mexican Defendant

A Mexican charged in county court with striking Mrs. Joe Swindle with his fist provided $250 bond and was released Monday afternoon.

The defendant was Francisco Filorio. Mandy Lennals, a Slaton negro woman, was charged with aggravated assault, having been accused of ripping the left shoulder of another Slaton negro, W. B. Brown, with a knife. She had not posted bond.

Officials said the Mexican knocked down Mrs. Swindle and threatened her husband when he sought to intercede. The complaint showed that trouble happened in a railroad bunkhouse in north Lubbock.

According to Sheriff Tom Abel, who arrested the negro woman in a Slaton negro's residence, Brown was "only painfully injured."

The complaint naming her was filed erroneously in the justice court of Walter Davies, but was to be refiled in county court later in the day.

Lubbock Boys Snare Honors

Lubbock county 4-H club boys who attended the junior short course at College Station last week, returned with many honors, said Monroe U. May, assistant farm agent and club leader, Monday. The boys returned late Saturday night.

The county team placed third in dairy products and third in cattle judging. J. R. Snodgrass, James Potts, Eugene Perkins and Lewis Countess comprised the team.

A penant from the Texas Swine Breeders association was given Lubbock county for "excellence in swine production in district 2." They also received a check for $25 for winning third place in the state contest.

Beef Cattle Shown

Five gold star pins, awarded Douthit Grinstead, Cleo Paden, George Kveton, Lewis Countess and Melvin Johnson, were brought back. This was the largest number of club boys in any one county in Texas to receive pins in one year. Pins will be presented the boys at Achievement day, tentatively sent for July 26.

Lubbock county was one of eight in the state chosen to present an exhibit of products at the Dallas state fair in October. A grain sorghum exhibit will be shown, said May. Hale county will show beef cattle. Exhibits of hogs, sheep, corn, cotton, poultry and other crops will also be prepared.

AAA Committeemen Recommend More Emphasis On Soil Conservation In 1941

Crop Insurance Wins Approval

WASHINGTON, July 15. (AP) — State AAA committeemen recommend that greater stress be placed on saving the soil in the 1941 farm program.

Their proposals, which agriculture department officials said today would form the basis for drafting a specific program, would not change the general outlines of the present agriculture adjustment program.

Major suggestions, made at the end of a four-day conference which ended Saturday, included:

New Practices

Adding new soil-building practices to the program. Extending government advances of lime, superphosphate and other materials to farmers, as credits against later federal payments earned under the program.

Increased opportunity for county committees to adapt the AAA program to local needs.

Enlarging the struggle against wind-erosion to cover a large area of the southern great plains.

Extension of crop insurance to additional commodities, such as corn, cotton and tobacco, as soon as practicable.

R. M. Evans, AAA administrator, commented that the soil conservation and crop insurance proposals "are an important contribution to national defense."

Tank Contract Is Announced

WASHINGTON, July 15. (U.P.)—The army, speeding mechanization of its land forces, today contracted with the American Car and Foundry company, Berwick, Pa., for 6627 heavily-armored light tanks, said to cost about $11,000,000.

The order was the largest of its kind in American peacetime history. The award was made from bids opened at Rock Island, Ill., arsenal last week.

Informed officials said the tanks would be about 12 tons each, equipped with .30 and .50 caliber machine guns and one 37 mm. cannon.

The tanks, described as "the latest thing," will be used to augment the equipment of the mechanized divisions being established this summer at Fort Knox, Ky., and Fort Benning, Ga. The divisions are patterened along the lines of the famous Nazi Panzers. Ultimately they will use 1,400 tanks, 13,000 semi-automatic rifles, 600 pieces of artillery, and 18,000 men.

O'Daniel Answers

—they would like to muzzle me so I could not tell you folks the truth."

The governor flew back at the game, fish and oyster commission's answer to his criticisms, and assailed former State Senator T. H. McGregor, who suggested recently that the governor might have disqualified himself in accepting the truck as a gift. He characterized McGregor as a "political influence lawyer who made the discovery of my amazing truck," adding further that his critic was also a bandwagon jumper-oner." He banged away at the "corporation press" that is "always against the common citizens."

Assumes Responsibility

Replying to the game commission's statement that Pat and Mike O'Daniel had utilized a game commission boat at Lake Buchanan, the governor said, "I don't care whose boys it was—mine or any others—they have no business using public facilities. If they went out there and had a ride in the game warden's boat, I didn't know about it. One of my secretaries arranged it as a personal favor and I will assume ful responsibility for his acts. But would the game commission have granted the privilege to your boys? If this took place, they did it to play politics with the governor's office."

O'Daniel referred to one of his opponents as a "proxy," and sharply criticized three others without specifically calling their names. He made no reference to the remaining candidate.

Politicians Howl

"While the hot oil flows in East Texas, we witness the spectacle of two members of the railroad commission running up and down the state seeking votes," he said.

"You will find a member of the highway commission criticizing your governor and using the prestige of his office to get himself elected governor. The highway commission is a full-time job and today it is being neglected for political reasons."

And the "howling" about his appropriation bill cuts, he said, was "from the professional politicians who want to set their buckets up to the political cow."

Demo Platform

recently that the United States buy up surplus farm products of the Americas and dispose of them abroad was being discussed among delegates from some middle and far-western states.

Wallace said he understood that there was "some opposition" to the project among farmers.

Wallace is a strong advocate of western hemisphere economic unity, but he has indicated that he is not enthusiastic over the surplus-purchase idea.

Party Is Pledged

The secretary sought a platform commitment pledging the party to sharp expansion of present programs of distributing domestic crop surpluses among needy families in this country.

By endorsing New Deal crop production restrictions, the Democratic party would take a position directly in contrast to the Republican position. The latter, while promising to continue "all present" benefit payment programs, declared it would eliminate control features.

News Briefs

After two months in West Texas hospital with a thigh fracture, Mrs. A. H. Leidigh, wife of the dean of the division of agriculture of Texas Technological college, has returned to her home, 2101 Seventeenth street. It was her third thigh fracture within two years. She entered the hospital June 12.

Lubbock county tenant farmers, interested in the tenant purchase program of Farm Security administration, Monday called on Marvin C. Wilson, rural supervisor, for blanks on which to make applications. A committee, to be announced later, will check applicants.

Asking for $575.05 alleged due for labor and materials on a subcontract for construction of the Brownfield postoffice in 1938, Dick Rains and the federal government has filed suit in U. S. district court against W. K. Martin Co., of Kansas City, Mo., and the Standard Accident Insurance Co.

Absentee ballots were voted Monday by 40 persons who plan to be away from the city for the Democratic primary July 27, it was announced in the office of Ed D. Allen, county clerk. Ballots have been marked by 162 persons. Ballots have been requested by 153 others who already are vacationing. Deadline for absentee voting is July 24.

Station agents of the Panhandle & Santa Fe railroad are to meet in Amarillo today with H. C. Vincent, general freight and passenger agent, to discuss cotton handling problems, among other matters. There is said to be more than 300,000 bales of cotton from previous crops now in storage on government loans over the South Plains. R. H. Forbes, division freight agent here, went to Amarillo Monday to attend the meeting. New freight rates on cotton will also be discussed.

Seventy six farmers of the Acuff community have formed a one-variety cotton group and will receive free classification from the federal government this season, said L. O. Buchanan of 2218 Sixth street, with the U. S. department of agriculture. The farmers have 7,133 acres planted to Hi-bred cotton. Several other one-variety cotton groups over the county will also receive free classing, including one at the W. O. Fortenberry gin at Monroe and the other at the South College Avenue Cooperative gin.

J. E. Barker, district agent of the Fish and Wildlife service of the department of the interior, left Sunday on his vacation. He and Mrs. Barker will visit relatives in Texarkana and other East Texas points.

Mr. and Mrs. James Heath of Lubbock route 2 are parents of a daughter weighing 7 3-4 pounds born Monday morning in Lubbock sanitarium. The father is a mechanic.

Allen Bros. post of the American Legion has agreed to sponsor sales of ball chewing gum from penny vending machines for a share of the proceeds which will go into the post's relief fund, according to A. I. Glassman, commander.

B. M. Wright of Dallas, employe in the accounting department for Errol Holt, Dallas independent oil operator who is running for the railroad commission, was a visitor in Lubbock Monday in the interest of Holt's candidacy. He said Holt would be in Lubbock Thursday on a regular campaign visit and planned to contact as many voters as possible on his visit here.

Two Are Placed In Visa Work

WASHINGTON, July 15. (U.P.)—The state department today designated two consular officials to work at various points on the Canadian and Mexican borders to speed issuance of visas for Canadian and Mexican nationals seeking entry to this country.

Regulations became effective July 1 requiring, for the first time, that citizens of western hemisphere nations carry passports obtained from their own governments, visaed by an American consular officer, in order to enter the United States.

Vice-Consul James G. Byington, now at Torreon, Mexico, has been ordered to Matamoros, and thence to Reynosa to handle urgent visa cases in those areas.

Vice-Consul Frederick E. Farnsworth, now at Montreal, has been ordered to Cornwall, Ontario, for temporary duty to handle visa applications of Canadian visitors in Cornwall and Prescott areas.

After clearing up the urgent cases in their respective areas, Farnsworth and Byington, or some other consular officers, will be assigned temporarily to other points along the two borders to handle similar urgent cases.

Having never been on a train, a European father in Mossel Bay, South Africa, boosted his three children and wife through the window, then was stopped by a railway employe and compelled to enter through the door.

Negro Charged In Theft Case

Lonzader Payne, 23-year-old negro woman, was charged Monday in corporation court with petty theft after she allegedly stole three pieces of women's underwear from J. C. Penney Co.

She was held in city jail. The garments were recovered.

Sidney Keeton of 1711 Seventeenth street reported theft of a man's $65 wrist watch from a car parked in front of the postoffice.

Police Monday arrested a 46-year-old Kerens man on pickup orders from the police department at Plainview. He was taken as he alighted from an intercity bus.

Mexican Is Held

A 33-year-old Hale Center Mexican was held in county jail pending filing of drunk charges. He was arrested by Patrolmen F. R. Land and Walter Whorton.

The sheriff's department arrested a Lubbock man, about 26, after he slashed the face of a negro porter in a hotel in 900-block Main street. The negro told Cap Moore, deputy sheriff, he had been cut with a knife when he asked the man if he had rented a room. The laceration was not serious.

Deputies had sought the man and a companion after Julio Herrera, Mexican policeman, had reported they attempted to force two Mexican girls into a car.

Hatch Bill To Hit Texans

AUSTIN, July 15. (AP) — An estimated 9,000 state employes might be affected by the Hatch clean politics bill which is awaiting President Roosevelt's signature.

State department officials were awaiting an official interpretation of the bill before deciding its application to state workers who draw part of their pay from federal funds.

The act prohibits political activity by all governmental workers paid in part or in full from federal appropriations.

Approximately 67 employes of the vocational division of the state department of education will be affected, said James R. D. Eddy, division director. These workers, engaged in agricultural, home making, trade, rehabilitation and crippled children's work, are paid partially from federal funds.

Would Affect Many

Dr. James R. Cox, chief of the health department, said virtually every division of its work was financed partly by the federal government and an estimated 400 workers might come within terms of the Hatch legislation. He was awaiting an official interpretation of the bill.

Similarly, the highway department, the state's biggest, might find its 8,500 employes blanketed by the bill but officials were not prepared to announce a decision before they studied the measure.

The highway department receives millions annually from the federal government but this money is used principally for road and bridge construction projects, not overhead expenses of the department.

Socialists Not Foreign Group

WASHINGTON, July 15 (U.P.)—Socialists party campaign headquarters today made public a letter form Attorney General Robert H. Jackson saying that the Socialist party is not regarded as representing or being influenced by foreign governments.

Jackson replied to a letter from Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for president informing the attorney general that many people believe that signers of Socialist nominating petitions would be investigated by the Federal Bureau of Investigation as "fifth columnists."

"It is regrettable that such a story should gain the slightest credence in this country," Jackson wrote. "The Socialist party under your leadership has not been regarded as representing or as being under the influence of foreign governments.

"It is a lawful political party and an American citizen is not subject to harassment because he exercises his right as a citizen in signing your nominating petitions."

Travel Continues, Despite Conflict

WASHINGTON, July 15. (U.P.)—Despite outbreak of the European war last September, Americans spent almost as much on travel during 1939 as they did during 1938, the commerce department said today.

In 1939 United States citizens spent $469,000,000 on foreign travel, less than one-fifth of which went for European tours. The previous year $532,000,000 was spent for this purpose, almost one-fourth in Europe.

More than two-thirds of the total amount for 1939, the department said, was spent on travel in Canada and Mexico, the outlays in the latter country increasing from $52,000,000 to 53,000,000. Canada's share decreased from $267,000,000 in 1938 to $256,000,000 in 1939.

South American travel continued its rising trend, with United States nationals paying out $9,000,000 compared with $8,000,000 the previous year. Travel in Central American, exclusive of Mexico, also increased from $4,000,000 to $5,000,000.

WITHOUT A COUNTRY—Happily unaware that he is a royal refugee without a country is 15-month-old Prince Alexander, pictured clutching his nurse's hand during an outing in London. Son of former Albanian sovereigns King Zog and Queen Geraldine, he was born four days before his mother fled the Italian invasion of Albania.

Canyon, Acuff Celebrate Road

Completion of a farm-to-market road between Canyon and Acuff communities was celebrated Monday with a watermelon feast, attended by 800 persons at Acuff gin.

Durwood Bradley, Lubbock city attorney, was principal speaker. He was introduced by Joe Seagler, master of ceremonies.

Lubbock county political candidates were introduced but none spoke. Music was furnished by Hop Halsey and his Drugstore Cowboys.

More than two tons of watermelons were served from 14 truck trailers, lined up on the gin yard.

Douglas Pounds was chairman of the arrangements committee, composed of Luke Moore, Hugh Rush and Seagler. The celebration originally was scheduled two weeks ago, but was postponed because of a death in the community.

Candidates will speak at 8 o'clock tonight at Twenty-seventh street park. Lemonade will be served. W. C. Fincher, campaign chairman, said. Other rallies will be held this week, at 8:30 o'clock Thursday night at Cooper and at 2:30 Saturday afternoon at Idalou.

Rockefellers Turn Out OK

By MARY ELIZABETH PLUMMER
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, July 15.—John D. Rockefeller, jr., smiles today at the memory of friends who used to tell him:

"With all that money to spoil them, you've entitled to four black sheep out of those five boys if only one comes out good."

Not one black sheep has shown up yet, and it looks as though none will.

For it was announced this week that his youngest son, David, is engaged to wed, at 25, without having had a single sensational fling as a rich playboy.

Three of the four older boys are already married.

Only Winthrop remains unattached, and his liking for gaiety, which once worried his father, has long since been accepted by the family as harmless fun.

Notoriety has no place in the Rockefeller tradition, just as divorce has no place in the matrimonial sphere David is preparing to enter.

David's engagement to Margaret McGrath, who shares his taste for intellectual pursuits, is in keeping with the family's conservative faith in happy marriages which last, and which have little to do with the night club set, and little interest in the world of fashion.

Attractive Peggy McGrath, who will become Mrs. David Rockefeller, didn't care to have a formal debut, although her parents are listed in the social register and her mother is a member of the exclusive Colony club.

She cares more about literature, pictures, music—interests she has in common with David Rockefeller, whose scholarly pursuits have made him a candidate for a doctor of philosophy degree at the University of Chicago.

Her father, Francis McGrath, is a partner in a famous old Wall street law firm. Her grandfather was a former railroad executive.

David and his bride-to-be have been friends for years. Acquaintances say he sought her for a partner at her first dances.

SPEAKS AT POST

Judge Marshall Forby of Dickens county will speak at 5 o'clock this afternoon at Post in interest of his senatorial candidacy. He will be represented at the Twenty-seventh street rally tonight by Riley Wooten of McAdoo and will speak at 11:30 o'clock Friday morning over KFYO.

Bankhead Opens Demo Meeting

shadow of events abroad falls heavily upon the domestic political arena, that under this shadow its people "will have no tolerance for the superficial banalities of politics," and that both parties should avoid "criminations and personal innuendo."

"The major objective of both parties," he said, "must be unity and solidarity of purpose in preserving inviolate the structure of our government and the perpetual freedom of its people."

Course Is Related

He related the course of German conquest in Europe, naming the countries that have fallen until Great Britain alone stands against the hurricane of the blitzkrieg."

"And now," Bankhead declared, "Hitler and Mussolini have sworn her total annihilation. They have furthermore sworn eternal enmity against all so-called decadent democracies, and that includes us.

"I do not know what attitude this convention may take on that subject, but I know that it is the attitude of the American people that we will resist to the death any compromise of our democratic principles with those malignant disturbers of the peace of the world; that we do not propose to appease those aggressors whose doctrines wage war upon every principle of liberty for a free people that our declaration of independence proclaimed and our federal constitution preserved."

Speaker Takes Issue

In his discussion of national defense the speaker took direct issue with the Republican assertion that President Roosevelt has failed to provide adequate armaments and that once in power the Republicans would do so.

Interspersing statistics in his recital, Bankhead related a story of disarmament and slowed-up naval construction during the Republican administrations of the 20's. From 1922 to 1934, he said, Republican administrations caused to be laid down "a total of only 35 combat ships." During the Roosevelt administration, Bankhead continued, there were laid to June, 1940, "a grand total of 1553 new units in seven years."

He gave the following as his "startling summary of ships authorized and constructed" for the navy under the last previous Republican and the present Democratic president: "During Mr. Hoover's administration none; during Mr. Roosevelt's administration, 326."

Foreigners Restrained

He said, too, that the army has now an authorized strength of 375,000 men and the National Guard, of 251,000 men. The airforce, he added, has an ultimate objective of 50,000 planes.

"That is the record," Bankhead thundered. "Let the opposition make the most of it."

On another phase of defense, that involving "fifth column" activities, Bankhead said legislation already enacted provided "every possible restraint upon and punishment of these enemies of our institutions that could be devised within the limits of our constitution."

The keynote speaker wove into his address some quotations from recent formal statements of Mr. Roosevelt, citing among these, in connection with the defense-foreign situation the president's statement in a defense message that last our arms in the way of aggression; we will not send our men to take part in European wars."

Question Fired

Among the strokes which the veteran Southern Democrat aimed at the Republican party's platform was his statement that "it is a document filled with equivocation and political subterfuge."

But, he said, "the most remarkable significance of that platform is the fact that despite their clamorous and bitter denunciation of the legislative program of this administration," the drafters "did not have the confidence or courage to demand the repeal or abolition of any single one of the major laws we have passed for liberal government and a better state of life for the masses of the American people."

"No greater compliment could be paid to the wisdom and soundness of the legislative and executive program of this administration," Bankhead continued.

Forecasts Made

"How can the Republican party go before the electorate in November urging the removal from power of that party whose wisdom and progressive policies they were compelled, even if by indirection, to endorse?"

Among those fighting with the Democratic forces in the coming campaign Bankhead forecast will be the masses of labor. He said:

"I predict that the great masses of labor in this country, organized and unorganized, will, when they go to the polls next November, not forget that the Democratic party has been its friend and not its oppressor."

Republicans, he said, were contending that the farmers would not support the Democratic party.

Contention Refuted

"I refute that contention," he continued. "I do it because the farmers are men of intelligence and with a high capacity for appraisal of legislative action as it affects their welfare."

Outlining the record of parity and benefit payments voted for farmers, he said the majority of House Republicans had opposed them. "By their votes," he added, "ye shall know them."

He conceded that the Democratic record was not unmarred by "temporary errors" in policy and administration but added:

"It is too much to hope that there will ever be infallibility in the arena of political action and the American people fuly understand the fairness and justice of that statement."

day."

"The Washington delegation has been approached by a number of instructed delegations as to the possibility of violating instructions in the event the Democratic organization is pushed out of the picture," Carroll added.

In advance of the key-note address of Speaker William B. Bankhead tonight, Kelly had sounded the convention keynote—Roosevelt and a third term—the renomination of the president in the firm expectation that he would accept.

Many Boomlets

As to the latter, only Farley, paradoxically, and perhaps one or two others really knew. Just before the convention started, Farley, who has been guarding the president's secret for a week, talked to the chief executive over a special telephone circuit linking the White House with Chicago. In response to a question as to how "things are going," Farley told the president, simply, "Okay."

While the convention was going on an attorney for a brother of the late Jacob Ruppert was asserting that the New York Yankees baseball club probably would be sold to a syndicate headed by Farley "within two weeks at a price of $4,000,000." This was taken as a sign that Farley would not stay on as national chairman very long.

Vice presidential booms and boomlets were springnig up all over the lakeside. Mr. Roosevelt had plenty of names from which to choose a running mate, if he accepts the nomination. A new one was that of Louis Johnson, assistant secretary of war, added today to those of such possibilities as Vice President Garner, Jesse Jones, Senator Wheeler of Montana, Senator Lucas of Illinois, Associate Justice Douglas of the supreme court, and many more.

Officers Arrest Emmet O'Malley

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 15. (U.P.)—R. Emmett O'Malley, former state insurance superintendent, surrendered today to United States Marshal Henry L. Dillingham to face charges of conspiring to obstruct justice in connection with the $9,000,000 Missouri fire insurance rate settlement in 1936.

Tom J. Pendergast, former overlord of Kansas City politics, and A. L. McCormack, St. Louis insurance official, indicted with O'Malley, were given until Thursday to surrender after Dillingham learned that McCormack was in the Ozarks and unable to reach here today. John Madden, attorney for Pendergast, asked for and received the extension. The three will be arraigned on one of the two indictments Thursday and the other Friday.

They were indicted Saturday after a grand jury heard details of the 1936 fire insurance risk rate compromise which gave back to insurance companies 80 per cent of $9,000,000 in impounded premiums. Policy holders received only 20 per cent of the fund.

O'Malley posted $3,000 bond today pending the arrignment Thursday before Judge Merrill E. Otis.

Slaton Boy Improving After Traffic Mishap

SLATON, July 15. (Special)—Truly Bownds, jr., 15, of Slaton was resting well tonight in Mercy hospital, an authority said.

The youth was injured Sunday night when the coupe he was driving was in collision with a truck driven by Walter Lee Taylor, also of Slaton, on the Slaton-Post highway near the high school. Taylor was only slightly injured.

Bownds had a broken arm, severe cuts and bruises.

Shallowater Club Boy Named By State FFA

Edward Elliott, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Elliott, of Shallowater, will be secretary of the state Future Farmers of America chapter, it was announced here Monday.

He was elected at the Houston FFA convention last week in Houston. He also received a Lone Star farmer award.

The Shallowater FFA chapter, of which Elliott is a member, was designated a Lone Star chapter at the Houston meeting. M. J. Williams is Shallowater vocational agriculture teacher and sponsor of the chapter.

NEW YORK, July 15.—One-half of a German Panzer division opened the way for the military defeat of France and Vice-Premier Pierre Laval presented the French government fleeing to North Africa, private advices from Bordeaux disclosed today.

The details of the swift collapse of the French army and of the dramatic conflict over the government's course were related in a letter received from an American who followed the history-making events from the German break-through on the Meuse river to the conclusion of the armistice.

Here is how he told the story:

"The sudden breakdown of the French armies was a tremendous surprise but, looking backward, it can be seen how Adolf Hitler must have known from the technical information at his command that it was impossible for the French army to withstand the tremendous strength of the Germans.

Both Are Surprised

"Nevertheless, the turning point appears to have been the German crossing of the Meuse in the so-called Givet loop and success of that operation must have surprised the Germans as much as the French.

"The Germans punched at the Meuse in the Givet loop merely as a secondary operation, intended to force the French to pull troops back from Beligum. The Germans apparently did not expect to break through at that point. They hit the Meuse river defenses with only one-half of a Panzer (mechanized) division or about 6,000 men, 200 tanks and 1,500 vehicles.

"They apparently were merely feeling it out. Yet when they got down to the river, in a valley with walls as abrupt as the Grand canyon and therefore easily defended, they found that the French had not destroyed the bridges, but had retreated leaving everything intact. Of course, the Germans proceeded to pour tanks across and widen a bridgehead. Twelve hours later four British pilots dove on the bridge and blew it up, at the cost of the lives of three of them. Then it was too late because the French were pushed back so far that the Germans could lay pontoon bridges without interference.

"That was a turning point because the German tank formations immediately headed for Laon and Soissons. I was at one army headquarters on that day and there were rumors that the Germans had broken through but no one believed it possible, although admittedly the two French divisions holding the sector were poor ones and were made up largely of Parisians who had been rounded up and sent to the front in a mop-up of alleged slackers. Half of each division also was far in the rear helping with spring planting and working in sugar factories.

"Later on it would have been comparatively easy to have stopped the German motorized columns south of the Somme, but so much material had been left behind in the retreat from Belgium that the army had insufficient munitions, and little artillery. Troops shot at tanks with rifles and machine guns but it was like shooting at crocodiles with bean shooters.

Spectacle Depressing

"The spectacle of the French government in flight was still more depressing. Of the many politicians who fled to Tours and then to Bordeaux, Pierre Laval (former premier and now vice premier) emerged the dominant figure. Laval called upon members of the government to stay in France at a time when all of them talked of going to North Africa.

"Laval (long been known as an advocate of French co-operation with Italy) got together a group of senators and deputies and called on President Albert Lebrun.

"His remarks to Lebrun were described as extremely pointed and he described what he thought would result if the government leaders fled and left millions of Frenchmen at the mercy of the German armies. Laval's sarcasm was described as effective and as of greatest importance in convincing the government leaders to remain in France. Another factor of importance was Marshal Henri Philippe Petain who said that Bordeaux was as far as he would go and that he was ready to become a hostage if necessary to save France.

"Laval warned the cabinet members that he, too, would remain in France and that, after the war, he would demand that Parliament ban all of those who fled. About 25 members of Parliament did leave France, including the esteemed Georges Mandel, former colonial minister, who was the victim of a strange incident.

"Mandel was sitting at a cafe terrace with Jules Buhrer, chief of the colonial armies, discussing the military situation, which was the worst possible. A major of gendarmes at a nearby table overheard their remarks and had them arrested on a charge of defeatism. Everyone realized that Mandey and Buhrer were merely talking privately of what they actually knew and were not speaking publicly, but they were forced to go to police headquarters.

"The next day Mandel sailed."

Robert Wadlow Dies Monday

MANISTEE, Mich., July 15. (AP)—Robert Wadlow, 22, whose 8 feet 9 1-2 inches made him the tallest person in American Medical history and perhaps in the world, died today of complications following a foot infection.

An infection in his left ankle started the trouble. Physicians resorted to a blood transfusion and a minor operation on the foot but the 491-pound giant failed to respond.

Until young Wadlow began traveling for a shoe company, with his father Harold F. Wadlow as manager, his daily life was like that of any other boy his age.

He took part in boyhood games, he ran a soda pop stand in his front yard, he swam, he liked ice cream.

Normal At Birth

In his studies he was above average. After graduation from the Alton, Ill., high school, he attended Shurtleff college.

A child of normal size at birth, Wadlow weighed 491 pounds while making his last public appearance. Medical men said his great height resulted from over-activity of the pituitary gland.

Wadlow suffered his injury July 4. A brace worn on his ankle chafed, and infection set in.

Father, mother, two sisters and two brothers all were of normal stature. Robert weighed eight and a half pounds at birth, Feb. 22, 1918. By the time Robert reached young manhood the elder Wadlow's shoulders came only to his son's hips.

Scientists classified him as an "acromegalic type," designating a person whose growth has been abnormal because of over-activity of the pituitary, lying at the base of the brain.

Hollywood Must Teach Elephants To Forget

HOLLYWOOD, July 15. (U.P.)—The job of teaching two elephants to forget confronted Paramount studios today.

Duchess and Pinto were severely burned at the Goebel's wild animal farm last week in a fire that killed Sally and Queenie, veteran "acting" elephants. The injured pachyderms are the only ones available to take part in "Moon over Burma," starring Dorothy Lamour, Robert Preston, and Preston Foster.

One essential sequence in the picture calls for the elephants to race through a jungle forest fire, carrying Miss Lamour. Studio technicians admittedly are worried about the old adage that an elephant never forgets, and they feared a stampede during the episode.

Both animals have been moved to specially-built quarters at the studio, which has ordered an unlimited budget for tid-bits and delicacies.

Hubbers Boot Game To Amarillo 4 To 2; Teams Conclude Series Here Tonight

Fumbles Figure Prominently In Lubbock Defeat

By COLLIER PARRIS
Avalanche Sports Editor

With one earned run—and that one was questionable—the Amarillo Gold Sox defeated Lubbock 4 to 2 last night in the opener fo their two-game series.

Amarillo got six hits, two of them of the questionable variety, off big Gib Williams, whose own mental

GORSKI COMING BACK

Joe L. Brown, business manager of the Hubbers, announced yesterday that Walter Gorski, the big boy from Milwaukee who won 17 and lost six for Lubbock in its championship form last year, would return to the club this week as result of a trade with Jonesboro of the Northeast Arkansas League. Lubbock will send Roy Finocchiaro and Ray Stine of Jonesboro in a trade for Gorsky, who started the season with Waterloo but who was sent to Jonesboro a few weeks ago. Gorski is expected to leave Jonesboro today and may arrive in time to pitch one game this week. Finocchiaro and Stine leave for Jonesboro today. The Hubbers play Amarillo tonight in the second and final game of the series with Mel Kramer expected to pitch for Lubbock. Edgar Lynn for the Gold Sox.

error played a definite part in his defeat, his first at home, while the Hubbers collected eight good bingles off Lefty Bus Dorman of the Amarillos, and likewise scored one earned run.

No Bunting, Elmer

As earned runs go, the teams might be playing yet, but it was a fast, snappy game before the largest Monday night "paid" crowd of the season, lasting only an hour and 42 minutes.

Lubbock, the "we-won't bunt" team of the league for this, the third straight year, blew its opportunities to get ahead and stay ahead by its unwillingness or its inability to lay 'em on the altar. The Hubbers just don't believe in moving runners to scoring positions.

Breaks Winning Streak

The defeat hurt because it broke an 8-game winning streak at home, and because the Hubbers wanted to make it 18 out of the last 20 home games. As a result, the Lubbock have won only 17 out of the last 20 home games.

Gib Williams, the tall righthander from Longview, started off well against the Gold Sockers, shutting them out, with aid of a double play, in the first three innings. Meanwhile the Hubs had registered once in the second inning when Boyd Watkns got a life on Denorio's boot at short, advanced on Gene Schlereth's single and scored on Vince Castino's hot single through the box. Mahan followed with what looked to be a home run, but Duarte backed up against the left center field fence and caught it about a foot from the top of the wall. Williams fanned for the third out, ending the rally and leaving two men on bases.

Knotted In Fifth

To start the fourth, Duarte was safe when Mahan failed to handle his grounder to short. Emmett Altenburg banged one to short center which Watkins tried to shoestring, missed, and the ball rolled to center field, giving Altenburg a double. Bill Altenburg moved brother Emmett to third with a grounder to short and the runner scored on Fulenwider's short fly to Chester Hajduk in left. Hajduk had ample opportunity to complete a double play, but threw the ball too low to Castino, allowing E. Altenburg to score what, in big league scoring, would have been on an error.

The Lubbocks tied the count in the fifth when Steve Niedziela hit a magnificent home run over the right field wall, after two were out. Drake fanned to stop that rally.

Errors Mean Difference

In the sixth, after Duarte had skied to Hajduk, E. Altenburg was safe easily. Bill Altenburg was safe on a fluky infield single to third, which Schreleth didn't handle. Fulenwider then pushed an easy grounder out to Williams at the box, who scooped it up for some strange reason threw to first base instead of at home plate, allowing E. Altenburg to score standing up. Sanders flied to left.

The Hubs never tied the score again. Schweda led off in the sixth by being hit, but instead of advancing him, Hajduk fanned swinging, and Watkins hit into a double play. In the seventh, Schlereth doubled to lead the Lubbocks, but instead of advancing him, Castino grounded to third, and so did Mahan, and Williams grounded to short, leaving Schlereth on second. Three Hubbers popped out to outfielders in the eighth, and in the ninth, Hajduk led with a single. Did Watkins sacrifice? Indeed he did not. He hit into a double play, and Schlereth popped to Altenburg in right, ending the game.

No, the Hubbers don't bunt, and their hits don't count except in the batting averages, which doesn't

Finals In Softball Meet Set Tonight

SOFTBALL SENSATION—It is L. D. Cunningham, the Andrews pitcher, in action. He's the guy who has pitched a no-hitter, a one-hitter and a two-hitter in the South Plains Open Softball tournament, and who is due to wind up things in the finals tonight at Fox Park in the feature contest.

One-Armed Star To Show Wares

The Martins and the Coys of Lubbock softball, Central Labor Union and Dalby Motor Freight, played, argued and brawled for two hours at Fox Park last night without reaching a decision. So tonight they go together again, beginning at 8 o'clock, to determine which team will advance in the South Plains open tournament.

Littlefield will play the winner of the first contest at 9 o'clock for the right to play unbeaten Andrews Humble Oilers in the finals. At 10 o'clock. Humble won its fourth game of the tournament last night, backing L. D. Cunningham's one-hit pitching to beat Olton, 5 to 1.

Could Be Extended

In case more than one game is necessary in the finals, the second game will be played Wednesday night.

Dalby and Central Labor started their brawling in the first inning and kept up a constant fire of sideline bickering throughout the game. In the seventh, this flared into sideline fisticuffs and a general argument which made further playing nearly impossible. Umpire Red Norman then ruled the game no contest and ordered it replayed. At the time Dalby was leading 8 to 7, Central Labor had the tying run on third, the winning run on first with one out.

Hit In Seventh

Cunningham was in his usual fettle last night, striking out thirteen and holding Alton hitless until the seventh. With two out, Eby bounced one through the box that was a little hot for the one-armed pitcher to handle. G. Richards went down on strikes to end the game.

The Oilers splurged for three runs in the fourth on successive hit by Martin, Irwin and Bryan. They had scored one each in the first and third.

Cunningham had pitched a no-hitter in the opening round last week, and seemed near his second of the tournament.

The line score:

OLTON	000 100 0—1	1	3
ANDREWS	101 300 x—5	9	1

D. Hair and Richards; Cunningham and Bryan.

Hagen, Sarazen To Clash Today

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, July 15.—Gene Sarazen's challengers tee off against Walter Hagen's Ryder Cup team over the long, difficult Oakland Hills course tomorrow and if the battle is anything like the verbal tilts between fiery Gene and the Haig, it should be the golfing classic of the year.

The rival captains clashed today over final arrangements, with Sarazen contending that since it's a Ryder Cup match the solid, gold trophy should go to the victor.

Both Blow Up

"There's going to be a kidnaping of a trophy if they don't give us the Ryder Cup if we win," Gene declared. "We've been told this was an official match with the Ryder Cup team and we're out to beat their pants off."

That was the latest outburst over the two-day match, which is expected to draw $25,000 for Red Cross war relief.

Sarazen blew up at a meeting between the two planned to iron out difficulties and insisted on strict application of Ryder Cup rules with Hagen to remain merely a non-playing captain.

Has Last Word

"Then," burst out the Haig, "why have you been going around announcing you were going to play me in a special match?"

Sarazen denied he had said anything about such a match.

The argument ended with Hagen flatly declaring that he, as captain of the Ryder Cup team, would make the rules. Minutes later Sarazen stalked out and the Haig commented "that's why he never was captain of the team. He never could sit down and get something like this ironed out."

Guldahl, Snead To Play

Hagen named Ralph Guldahl and Sam Snead as his No. 1 team with Henry Picard and Dick Metz as the No. 2 combination. Third position went to Byron Nelson and Harold (Jug) McSpaden and the fourth to Paul Runyan and Horton Smith.

Against this array Sarazen chose Jimmy Demaret and Ben Hogan for the No. 1 spot, with Ed Oliver and Harry Cooper, Tommy Armour and Jimmy Thomson and Craig Wood and Willie Burke following in that order.

For alternates, Hagen has Jimmy Hines and Vic Ghezzi, Sarazen, Lawson Little and Al Watrous are alternates for the challengers.

Gassers Drop Odessa, 6-5, In Tenth Frame

ODESSA, July 15. (Special) — Borger's Gassers tonight shoved across a single tally in the tenth frame to eke out a 6 to 5 decision over the Odessa Oilers in the opening tilt of a two-night stand.

Bill Garbe sparked the losers' plate work with a booming homer in the fourth that accounted for three tallies to add to a pair that were made in the initial frame. Borger also counted twice in the initial stanza.

Pioneers Take 7 To 4 Decision From Lamesa

LAMESA, July 15. (Special)—The faltering Loboes dropped their third straight game tonight, 7 to 4, Clovis' cellar-bound Pioneers emerging victorious in the first of a two-night series.

It was not through their own wildness that the Tatemen lost the contest as much as it was Shirley's control. He scattered eight hits over the distance, slowing up only in the lattter innings.

Smith for Clovis, and Eddie Guynes for Lamesa, banged out four baggers, each with the sacks empty.

Pampa Annexes 7 To 5 Game From Midland

MIDLAND, July 15. (Special) — Milbert Vannoy and "Pat" Patrick tangled in a pitching duel here tonight, but the Vannoy's Pampa mates managed to shove in clusters of three runs each in the third and fifth frames, sandwiching in a tally in between to take a 7 to 5 triumph in the series opener over the Waddies.

Each nine collected eight safeties, the winners turning in errorless play afield while Midland was charged with one miscue.

Armstrong Faces Greatest Threat In Long Career Against Lightnin' Lew Wednesday

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 15.—The wild waves went whacky along Jacobs' beach today.

The fight mob just couldn't get together on what's going to happen when Henry Armstrong and Lew Jenkins collide in the Polo Grounds' ring Wednesday night, in a battle that promises to be the biggest, financially, in Armstrong's skyrocket career.

The fellows who make their meat and potatoes out of the business still were as wide apart as the top and bottom of a club sandwich when the lightweight champion and the welterweight boss put the finishing touches on their training today.

Two things, they believed, were definite:

1. Armstrong, woeful in training and no longer the little dark destroyer who held three championships simultaneously, will have to snap out of it in a hurry if he hopes to take care of the Texas thin man. He can't afford to fool around in the early going.

2. Jenkins, who came in suddenly from his mountain training camp at Grossinger's lake to wind up his gym work at Stillman's was punching just as good as ever—and he's riding now on a streak of eight straight knockouts.

One funny thing about the whole set-up was that, while one and all admit Armstrong

Farley May Buy Yanks Soon

Demo Boss Has Little Comment

By EARL HILLIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, July 15. —Baseball's richest holding—the World Championship New York Yankees—probably will be sold within two weeks to a syndicate headed by Postmaster General James A. Farley, it was disclosed today by Attorney General Jeremiah T. Mahoney of New York.

Mahoney, attorney for George Ruppert, brother of the late Col. Jacob Ruppert, said a contract calling for a price of $4,000,000 has been submitted by the Ruppert estate to Farley's legal representative and added "the transaction has gone from the speculatory to the very realistic stage."

Likes The Song

The announcement by Mahoney fanned long persistent reports that Farley planned to resign as chairman of the National Democratic committee but the Democratic leader smilingly declined to commit himself when in formed of Mahoney's statement.

"As I said this morning," Farley grinned, "that song 'Take Me Out To The Gall Game' that they played this morning at the stadium, sounded all right."

Mahoney, former president of the Amateur Athletic union and now a director of the Ruppert Brewing company, explained the projected deal simply, saying "we need money to meet inheritance taxes."

No Personnel Changes

Since the death of Col. Ruppert at the age of 71 in January, 1939, there has been much speculation on the ultimate ownership of the club and its subsidiaries, which include the Newark team of the International league and the Kansas City club of the American Association. The New York Yankee Stadium home field of the team which has won four straight world championships, is assessed at $2,500,000.

At Col. Ruppert's death ownership passed to three women. Two were nieces, Mrs. Joseph Holleran and Mrs. J. Basil MaGuire. The other third went to Helen Winthrope Weyant, sister of Rex Weyant, assistant traveling secretary of the club. Edward G. Barrow remained in active charge of the team and now is club president. It was said there would be no change in directing personnel under the new ownership.

Tigers Nip A's, 9-8; Take League Lead As Tribe Loses To Sens

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, July 27. — An eight-run fourth inning, in which Hank Greenberg homered with two on, gave the Detroit Tigers a 9 to 8 victory over the Athletics today. Paul Trout hit another home run in the sixth.

The victory moved the Tigers back into the American league leadership, Cleveland's Indians dropping a close 8 to 6 decision to the Senators.

Abilene Women Will Visit Here Wednesday

Reservations for the Lubbock Country club's ladies day activities Wednesday must have before 5 o'clock this afternoon, those in charge for the event have announced.

The local women will play host to Abilene and possibly the Big Spring Country club women golfers. Luncheon will be served at the club at 12:30 o'clock.

Hostess for the day will be Mrs. Wright Kerr, assisted by Mesdames W. L. Morrison and George Pierce.

All women of the Lubbock Country club are requested to be at the club house at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, pairings for the day's competition to be made at that time.

Entry Deadline Set Saturday

Warning that Saturday is the last day for entries, officials making plans for the big South Plains district tournament of the American Softball Association last night urged that all managers or representatives who intend to participate in the event write, wire or call Wesley Youngblood, district commissioner of the A.S.A. immediately.

Youngblood will be in charge of the affair, the winner of which will be sent on an expense paid trip to Abilene to participate in the state tournament where a $1,000 expense paid trip to Chicago for the national contests awaits the Texas titlist. Youngblood can be reached at station KFYO.

Starts August 8

Dates for the Lubbock district melee have been set from August 8 through August 14. Fox Park will be the scene of the week-long affair.

It is necessary that all teams planning to compete make their intentions known to Younblood immediately so that an official okay may be given by the state committee. Youngblood will send official entry blanks to all managers, who will be requested to fill them in and return them not later than July 28. District entries must be in the hands of Jack Rafferty, state commissioner of the A.S.A., in Houston by August 1. Eligibility and official sanction for the district tourney then will be given by Rafferty.

Other Prizes Offered

The state meet in Abilene starts August 25. Other than expenses to the state melee, winners here will receive various other prizes for individual and team accomplishments.

At least one entry from each of the following counties is expected to participate, although there is no limit to the number of tens from each county: Lubbock, Yoakum, Cochran, Bailey, Lamb, Hockley, Terry, Lynn, Hale, Floyd, Crosby, Garza, Motley, Dickens and Kent.

GETS 4-H HONOR

AMHERST—A. V. Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wood of near Amherst was winner of a gold star for his club work, L. H. McElroy, assistant farm agent, said. Wood was sent to College Station to receive the honor. He is 16 years old and has been in club work for years.

Cincinnati Wins As Pittsburgh, Dodgers Split

(By The Associated Press)

CINCINNATI, July 15.—Bucky Walters pitched his 13th victory of the year today as the Cincinnati Reds took their third straight game from the Philadelphia Phillies 3 to 2. Johnny Rizzo hit a homer in the ninth for the Phils. Walters gave only five hits.

William Green Believes Roosevelt Can Solve Nation's Unemployment Problem

Statement Said Boost For FDR

By WILLIAM H. LAWRENCE
United Press Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, July 15.—President William Green of the American Federation of Labor told Democratic platform writers today that he believes President Roosevelt will solve the unemployment problem if given an opportunity.

Listeners interpreted Green's statement as a boost for a third term for Mr. Roosevelt but Green explained to newsmen later that his assertion had no bearing on that issue.

"I am one American who believes that President Roosevelt, if he is permitted to deal with it, ultimately will bring about the solution of the unemployment problem," Green declared to the platform committee. His statement, phrased as it was, with reference to the president's being given continued opportunity to deal with the jobless problem sounded like Mr. Green's personal endorsement of Mr. Roosevelt.

None Endorsed

The AFL as such does not endorse any one presidential candidate but Green in his personal capacity gave his support to Mr. Roosevelt even before the 1936 convention nominated him for his second term.

Green's views on the president's efforts to solve the unemployment problem were in sharp contrast with those of CIO President John L. Lewis who charged recently that Mr. Roosevelt has made depression and unemployment "a chronic fact in American life."

Green said that the president's efforts have resulted in steady reduction in the number of unemployed since he took office in 1933 and that he "knew of nothing more that the president can do than he already has done."

Given In Response

Green's views were given in response to a question by Sen. Sherman Minton, Ind., after the AFL leader had outlined a 27-point program to the platform committee which is winding up its public hearings today to draft a 1940 campaign document for presentation to the convention Wednesday night.

To solve unemployment, Green asked Democrats to advocate a long range permanent public works program including construction of transcontinental express highways, housing, airports, and hospitals for national defense.

He asked higher wages and shorter hours for workers as partial solutions for the unemployment problem and said the government should insure long term private loans to encourage industry to provide new productive capacities.

Little Opposition

The platform committee is embroiled in a controversy over the wording of its anti-war plank and five isolationist senators have drafted a plank which they say the platform committee must accept or force a fight on the convention floor.

This plank would pledge the Democratic party not to use American armed forces in a war of agression or send American soldiers to wars in Europe or Asia. It would reaffirm the principles of the Monroe doctrine against foreign encroachments in the western hemisphere, and oppose attempts by nations of this hemisphere to "dictate or control the affairs of others."

This was the substance of what Mr. Roosevelt pledged to Congress last week and there was little likelihood of opposition except, perhaps, to the wording.

Armstrong On Spot

has been cuffed around freely by his sparring partners, most of the fight managers who sun themselves along the 49th street sidewalk "beach" figure he'll be in there winging the same as ever come Wednesday. Yet, despite the opinion of these folks "in the know," the betting men continued to cut the price today. A week ago, they had Hammerin' Hennery at 1 to 3 to take care of the newly crowned lightweight champion. Today, you were lucky to get 5 to 9.

On the strength of Jenkins' punching power and Armstrong's apathy in training, I pick long-shot Lew to stop Armstrong for the first time in his career somewhere along the 12-round route. This selection is made despite the warning of Eddie Mead, Hennery's stout Svengali, that Armstrong is going to wear Jenkins down with body punches and put him away in six or seven rounds.

All the weight ballyhoo and hot air having been released in advance, the scales were called in today and showed everything just about as expected. Jenkins tipped the beam at 135, and Armstrong was 140 "on the nose." As usual, Promoter Mike Jacobs refused to make a prediction about the gate. However, he admitted the advance sale has been better than for any fight this summer.

Hymie Caplin, Jenkins' manager, laughed off a report that he and Lew's wife had had words over the training methods employed for this fight. And Mrs. J., a mighty surprised young woman when asked about it, "reckoned" someone had "thought that one up as a publicity stunt."

Registration Permits Issued 432 Students

Permits to register for the second summer term at Texas Technological college had been issued to 432 students Monday night, W. P. Clements, registrar, said.

The library will be open from 8 to 12 and 1:30 to 5 o'clock today for completion of registration. Permits to register are issued in room 113, the administration building. Approval of living quarters and payment of fees are required before completion of enrollment.

New students must obtain physical examinations. It is expected that approximately 300 new students will enroll. Total registration for the first term was 1,485.

Plenty Of Entertainment Is On Tap For Delegates

By EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, July 15. (AP)—The Democratic national committee brought out an Indian soprano and unlimbered 150 tunes today to battle any boredom that might develop among delegates to the party convention.

"The Indian lady," said Carter T. Barron of Washington, chairman of the committee to keep the delegates entertained, "is Miss Mobley Lushanya, and the tunes are—well, you ought to hear them."

The place where barron keeps the entertainment on tap is a large pink hotel suite overlooking blue Lake Michigan. As big as it was, it was crammed with tunesmiths, singers and performers.

The opening of the door and prospect of an audience—however small—was a signal for action from within. A blonde girl with a guitar began warbling something about ivy on the White House.

A young man with very long hair dropped to his right knee and began to recite in a bass voice full of dramatic overtones.

Barron held up his hand.

"Please," he said, "one at a time."

After hearing five dramatic recitals and some dozen-odd patriotic tunes—all volunteered to the convention—he got down to the sheet music.

"We have received unsolicited songs," said Barron, "from all over the country. Most of it is very good and some of it is—well—"

One tune was entitled—"If Franklin D. will Keep the Key."

Another, also on the third term theme, was "Roosevelt, Stay Where You Are."

"Obviously," said the entertainment chairman, "we have to keep politics out of it. Some of these tunes can't be used until after certain things have been decided."

Sterling Test Being Staked

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

SNYDER, July 15.—Focusing the attention of operators to the southeast part of the Sharon Ridge oil field, Magnolia Petroleum company has announced the staking of its No. 1 W. R. Sterling test in section 130.

The southeast extension test, located 330 feet from the south and west lines of the southwest one-fourth, section 130, block 97, H&TC survey, will be spudded Sunday afternoon.

Attention was also focused Saturday on the pool's northwest outpost test, Ordovician Oil company's No. 1 R. O. Bishop test, located in the southeast corner of the northwest one-fourth, section 145, which was drilling at 580 feet after cementing 10-inch casing at 500 feet.

Interesting Test

Most interesting test of the week was D. & R. Oil company's No. 1 W. F. Burney test, 330 feet from the north and west lines of the northeast quarter, section 143, which was drilling at 1,795 feet, in lime.

The test, running high and looking good, topped the salt at 646 feet, "free air" at 1,087 feet and marker lime at 1,471 feet. This test is the pool's next indicated strong producer.

F. W. Merrick's No. 4 First National Bank of Snyder test, northwest one-fourth of section 130-97-H&TC, was drilling at 1,910 feet.

Mudge Oil company's No. 3 Alva Johnson (Grace Holcomb), section 142, was drilling at 920 feet. Salt topped in this test indicates that other sub-surface formations will be encountered high.

To the northwest of Snyder, Coffield & Guthrie's No. 1 J. Wright Mooar wildcat, considered one of the most important in the past two years, was drilling late Saturday afternoon at 4,327 feet, in lime.

LEMONADE WITH MEALS

Lemonade with lunch or dinner instead of plain water is catching on everywhere! It's delicious, refreshing, and has just the zip and tang to make good food taste better.

GOOD FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

Lemonade helps digestion, offsets that lazy feeling after a heavy meal, and makes it easier to consume the amount of liquid nutrition authorities suggest.

Lemon juice, too, supplies additional vitamin C and B₁—the vitamins needed daily because the body doesn't store them. It is the only known source of citrin (the newly discovered vitamin P) which may explain many of its special health benefits, scientists say.

Enjoy a big pitcher of tart lemonade with dinner tonight! Order Sunkist Lemons—California's finest, juiciest.

Too Many Soliciting

IN AN effort to prevent repetitions of relief racketeering which occurred in this country during the first World war, certain regulations were put into effect last year.

Agencies which proposed to solicit funds for relief purposes of various kinds were required to register with the U. S. State Department and to meet certain conditions before a permit would be issued to them.

Sharp limitations were placed, among other regulations, upon the percentage of collections which might be used for "administrative" purposes — a requirement which recalled that some of the so-called "relief agencies" during the World war used less than 10 per cent of their collections for that purpose. The remainder went into salaries and "expense accounts" of promoters.

Since the new regulations were put into effect, more than 300 agencies have registered with the State Department, according to most recent reports. Most of them doubtless are sincere in purpose and are for worthy causes. A few, in all probability, are nothing but promotions which have complied with technical requirements and therefore have obtained permits to solicit funds. They are unworthy.

But if it should be assumed that every last one of the soliciting agencies is of the worthiest kind, it still is a self-evident fact that more than 300 agencies are too many to be passing the hat for relief money. It means that the overhead expenses of 300 organizations have been paid, and that certainly will mean a duplication of effort and of expenses. Economy requires that there be just as few administrative organizations as possible. Efficiency makes the same requirement.

There is just one safe course to be followed by the contributor to relief. That course is to give to the agency with which the contributor is personally familiar or which he has known by long reputation. Otherwise, most of his contribution may merely add to the luxury of living for some promoter.

Creager Regime Passes

RESIGNATION of R. B. Creager of Brownsville as member of the Republican national committee from Texas is apt to mean a new deal for the party in this state.

His retirement was not unexpected and was forced upon him. It was the inevitable consequence of the fact that the Texas delegation to the recent national Republican convention was the hardest to die among the "die hards" of standpat Republicanism. While the remainder of the states were stampeding to the banner of Willkie despite all that the party bosses could do, the Creager-dictated Texas delegation continued straight down the line for the hopeless cause of Senator Taft.

The dominance of Mr. Creager in Texas Republicanism has been hard to understand. The party never has prospered in this state under his dictatorship, in spite of the fact that it went for Hoover against Alfred E. Smith in 1938. That, however, was the result of circumstances, and not because of any energies on the part of the organization. The vast majority of Texans who voted the Republican ticket that year were not voting for Mr. Hoover. They were voting against Al Smith.

During the Creager regime, the extent of the benefits the party has enjoyed in this state has been the patronage which resulted when Republicans were in power nationally. That, of course, menat a lot of jobs, in the dispensing of which Mr. Creager was almost absolute dictator.

Had he continued in the saddle and in the event of a not-impossible Willkie victory next November, Republicans in the state would have received scant leavings in the distribution of patronage. They could not have expected much consideration.

However, with Creager out and a new and progressive organization in existence, there is reason to expect that Texas will receive all to which it is entitled if Mr. Willkie should move into the White House.

CAST OF CHARACTERS

PEACE WARREN—a 6-year-old traveler en route from Boston to Los Angeles.

WAYNE DENNIS—agreed to deliver Peace safely—a larger order than he expected.

RHODA LOWELL — Wayne's fiancee, thinks Peace a nuisance. Doesn't like crossing the country to get married, either.

CAROLE LOVE—a movie star.

DARBY and JOAN—Peace's pet turtles.

YESTERDAY: Mrs. King arouses the ear with her screams after a turtle crawls over her. Denny recovers the pet, takes a lecture from the conductor. In the morning he finds Peace has invited a family to breakfast. The size of the check astonishes him. Latey Carole and Mrs. King come to the diner. He asks Peace what she told Carole about him.

CHAPTER IV

Carole Love finished her grapefruit, came up to Denny's table with a piece of the yellow rind.

"Poor little thing," she said to Peace, as she looked at the still furiously swimming turtle. "Perpetual motion must be difficult. Shall I stuff in this peelnig for Darby to rest on, until you can find some pebbles?"

Denny half rose. "Next time I travel, it will be without pests."

Carole gave her honeyed curls an almost imperceptible toss towards Mrs. King. "One never knows what pests will attach themselves." Carole had not noticed that Rhoda had come in behind her.

"I hope I'm not intruding." Rhoda's tone was crisp, her nod a stiff smile, which froze when she discovered the turtle.

Denny, a bit flustered, began a formal introduction, then stopped abruptly as Carole passed on down the aisle.

"H'mmmm." Rhoda's eyebrows went up. "Boy meets glamor girl. Boy'll bear watching."

"Ssssh!" Denny frowned at Peace. "Don't be silly."

Rhoda's heather suit didn't become her in the morning. Or maybe it was the mustard-colored blouse. "We'll be getting into Chicago soon. Will Bertrand meet you?"

"I wired him not to. I'm taking a taxi to his office. Aunt Tilly said it would save time. He's pretty busy."

"Are you—fond of him, Rhoda?"

"Fond? What a way to put it. I haven't seen him since we were kids. He twisted my camera the wrong way and broke it. I remember. I hated him at the time."

"Chicago. A third of the way." Denny sighed. "I'll be thankful when I've changed trains safely with—Why, where is Peace? That child can be in more places! Mind if I go to see what she's up to?"

Rhoda shrugged. "Run along. Personally, I can't say I'm sorry a third of this—what did you call it—almost honeymoon—is over. Every time I do manage to attract your attention I feel like saying, Remember me? I'm the girl you're engaged to!"

Denny flushed, as he tried to laugh. Funny, he had never noticed how sharp her voice could be. She didn't look very well either, a bit sallow under the rouge of her peaked little face. Her sleep had been disturbed, but then so had Carole's, and Carole had been smiling. Come to think of it, Carole had an oval face, and the loveliest voice he had ever heard. What was he mooning about!

"You should have a swell time with your cousin," he said. "Most of the afternoon till midnight. But be sure you're on the right train at the stroke of 12, Cinderella."

"If we didn't have the infant along—! You don't mind, do you, Denny, if I have a little fun without her? I can't very well take you with us and stick her in a day nursery, or could we?"

"We could not. I promised Warren not to let her out of my sight, and I'd better be hunting her up right now." Denny concealed the slight hurt he felt. After all, Bertrand was Rhoda's cousin and it was natural she should want to see him. Hang it! He was her fiance, wasn't he? Which one of them was she ashamed of?

They reached Chicago on the dot. Rhoda dashed ahead for a taxi while Denny gathered up the baggage and Peace and installed them on the bus for the transfer to another station.

Carole Love was on the same bus. And the pest, Mrs. King might not be talking Carole's ear off about him, but she was certainly looking at him. Her sibilant whisper reached him clearly.

"See? They've split up. Don't dare be seen together. Wait till I get—" The rest was lost to him.

The big bags had been previously check through, but Denny carried the overnight cases to parcel window to be free of them until the train was made up. Peace clung to the waterbottle prison. "Hand it over, honey, then we'll go have some fun."

Peace drew back. "Darb yand Joan wants some fun, Uncle Denny."

"But we can't carry that thing!"

"Let her keep them." Carole's porter had brought her luggage to the same window. "Excuse me for the suggestion, Mr. Denny—"

"Dennis. Wayne Dennis."

"Mr. Dennis. But since we're all taking the same train tonight, why can't I take care of your—your little girl? Then you could spend the day with your friend. I do wish I'd dared offered before, but then I didn't know we were all going the same route. We'd have a swell time in Lincoln Park, hunting a raft for the turtles to rest on, wouldn't we, honey?"

Peace danced up and down, spilling water on Denny's gray trousers.

"That's terribly good of you, Miss Love. But Miss Lowell is spending the afternoon with—with a relative. And as for this chicken, I don't dare leave her out of my sight."

Mrs. King hissed darkly. "What more do you want?" She tugged at Carole's elbow. "Come on. Let's get a paper. Maybe this one will have—"

Idiot that he was, he had let her walk off when he might have invited her to go to Lincoln Park with them. Now he had lost her. Perhaps it was better though. Rhoda would never have understood. He watched the two women stop at a magazine stand. He couldn't fathom them; one so antagonistic and suspicious, the other so sweet and co-operative. Co-operative, that was the word. He wished Rhoda would be a little more co-operative about the obligation he had undertaken. A man felt so lost with another man's child.

"Won't dare let you out of my sight," Peace was saying, as she hid the turtles behind her.

Denny hadn't noticed. "Come on, honey. The park sounds pretty good to me. There'll be a zoo and animals."

"Nelephants?"

"Nelephants and monkeys and buffaloes and popcorn and peanuts and everything."

The blue waters of Lake Michigan glinted in the hot afternoon sun. Denny hadn't realized the zoo had so many exhibits. Peace was running him ragged. All those caged creatures, the apiary, even the snakes. All the children in the world were there, stuffing themselves. He hoped he hadn't let Peace eat too much.

He had been quarterback at college, but this 6-year-old had tuckered him out. He found a shady tree, stuck the waterbottle he'd lugged all the afternoon under it, and said, "Now, we'll take a nap." To his astonishment Peace obeyed, lying on the newspaper he spread for her.

He awoke with a guilty start. Forty winks? Terror smote him; till he saw her buff frock a few yards away. Denny stood up. What was she doing, crawling on her hands and knees? He went forward to investigate.

"It's Joany, Uncle Denny." Peace explained without looking up. "Me took her out to do her exercises in the sun, and she runned away."

Relief that only the turtle was lost set him to helping in the search, though the little beast was probably in Kansas City by now.

"Yoo-hoo! I know where she is!" Denny heard a girl's voice call from behind a bush. And when she straightened up, he saw that it was Carole.

Manganese Producers Call For Showdown

WASHINGTON, July 15. (U.P.)—President J. Carson Adkerson of the American Manganese Producers association urged the national defense commission today to determine "once and for all" whether the United States shall continue to depend on foreign sources for its strategic war materials.

Contending that domestic producers of manganese ore "are enjoying little or no participation in the current armament program," Adkerson said that although the $10,000,000 fund provided by Congress for the purchase of necessary materials already has been spent, the manganese producer "didn't get enough to put gold caps in his teeth."

Edward R. Stettinius, jr., the commission's defense materials chief, said Saturday that the nation is assured adequate supplies of critical and strategic materials for the huge defense program and that the group is "getting things done."

The National Whirligig

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE newest name suggested for Democratic Vice-Presidential candidate is Louis Johnson of West Virginia, assistant Secretary of War. He may not achieve second place to Mr. Roosevelt or any other nominee, but it is generally admitted that he would make a formidable candidate. At the last minute at Chicago his American Legion buddies will angle for his nomination.

Louis has so many qualifications that it is almost painful to enumerate them. He was one of the original founders of the American Legion, and wound up as its most popular commander since its organization. He is a businessman. As a bigtime lawyer in West Virginia, he knows utilities, and he would be able to cross swords with Wendell Willkie on that issue. Moveover, although a dogged backer of New Deal reforms, he has kept on good terms with the Farley-Garner faction.

Unlike Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, who seems to be the New Dealers' favorite for second place, Secretary Johnson would actually win votes for the ticket. If the President runs again, this West Virginian exponent of all-out national defense might find himself in the place where his magnificent campaigning abilities could be made to count 100 per cent.

OUTCOME: Our State department fully expects that Hitler will strike against England within a week. Their info indicates that he may leap off against embattled Britain on the very day that the Democrats assemble in Chicago to name a Presidential candidate.

Der Fuehrer, according to our General Staff, must smash resistance in the tight little island in two or three months, or else suffer a crushing setback. Unless he can reduce and conquer England by November, the Channel and North Sea weather will become so thick that it will handicap his operations by air and sea. Should he fail in a blitzkrieg victory, it will give the war government in Great Britain untold spiritual and material assets. Through the winter they will receive thousands of planes, guns, ammunition and plenty of foodstuffs from the United States, their dominions and colonies. Meanwhile, the British blockade will have pinched German stomachs, far from fat now.

So, in our people's opinion, the outcome of the war insofar as Europe is concerned will depend upon the accuracy of German predictions. And the part which the United States will play—either under President Roosevelt or his successor—will be determined by these imminent events.

TIRED: The New Dealers' suggestion that President Roosevelt will accept a renomination with the promise to resign when the emergency has expired strikes even his closest admirers as fantastic. Such an unprecedented scheme would throw the Democratic convention into a turmoil.

Mr Roosevelt—no doubt of it—has discussed this plan with close friends, but they have argued against it. They have pointed out that the Vice-Presidential candidates have always been innocuous persons or tail-enders who were named to give political or geographical balance to the ticket. There is no reason to believe that a renominated Roosevelt will be able to force acceptance of a statesman or political genius for second place. Therefore, if he should allow himself to become the nominee, and if he wins, the White House might have as heir apparent a pole horse such as a Jimmie Byrnes from South Carolina, a likable but inexperienced Governor Stark of Missouri, a man Friday like Barkley from Tennessee, a youngster like Scott Lucas of Illinois—unless Cordell Hull got the nod.

Should FDR demand renomination with intent to resign in mid-term, it is extremely doubtful whether the convention would nominate him in the first place. The leaders, though they favor Mr Roosevelt almost unanimously, are growing tired of what they call "this high school stuff"—namely his witholding of his plans so long that it may wreck his party's chances of victory.

NUDIST: Wendell Willkie demonstrated his instinct for politics when he met his Vice-Presidential candidate—Senator Charles L. McNary—at Washington for the first time. Mr. McNary has frequently supported New Deal proposals which Mr. Willkie opposed—Bonneville Dam, for instance—but there was no talk of such differences. The two men, being human, liked each other right off the bat.

There was no high-hat stuff on the part of Mr. Willkie. Nor was he apologetic. The same applied to 'Charley Mac". Both know that they are fighting for a greater cause than the question of public or private power. Indeed, in their private hotel-room conversations they found that they were not so far apart on that problem, although Democratic publicists will attempt to picture them at swords' points.

The same thing happened when Nominee Willkie met Republican members of Congress at the Willard hotel dinner in Washington. He won their hearts and their confidence as no candidate since Theodore Roosevelt has done. They like him—and "Charley Mac", and they will take off their shirts for the pair. It is the first time they have been willing to go politically nudist in many, many years.

NEW YORK
By Perdix

THE action of the London stock market, in spite of all wartime restrictions, has been found to be one of the most reliable indicators of what's really going on in the United Kingdom. For a considerable time it was in a state of rot. Every bomb that was dropped on industrial property deepened the coma. Then, during this past week, the market firmed up and banking inquiries were insistent regarding the possible causes.

The answer is that important money people believe that the behind-the-scenes negotiations between English and German bigwigs have a good chance of succeeding. The talks have centered upon the hard-boiled question as to what the Nazis hope to gain from an invasion of Britain and from a possible occupation. The clear-cut reply was "a final and definite break of the blockade of Northern European waters". Therefore, any Anglo-German deal at all will have to acccomplish at least that. Berlin, so goes the story, has no intention of reaching out for the empire, but will be satisfied with its old African colonies plus, but the bulk of the British fleet hereafter is to be kept in South Africa, Canada, Australia and New Zealand, not in Europe.

GERMANY, furthermore, would be quite sympathetic to a pro-Fascist government in the United Kingdom which would take into account the new order on the continent. These proposals appeal to Great Britain's professional fighting men who, as this writer has reported, are fed up with their own politicians and would not mind cooperating with Berlin. Very enticingly, the hope of such cooperation is dangled before their eyes now, conceding British superiority on the seas and leaving the military policing of the continent to the German army.

Whether or not the present regime in London will sign on the dotted line is still an open question. There are two factions within the cabinet. One group is inclined to look at the future realistically and close the deal. The other is afraid to give up the United Kingdom without a fight, for fear of being repudiated by their own people to whom their boasts of the islands' impregnability and strength are credible.

A cross-section of public opinion in England is becoming alarmingly pessimistic as to the inhabitants' future, and wrath against most of the present leaders is rising. In this confusing picture, everything is possible, experts on English affairs hold. Any unforeseen event may swing the tide in either direction. If there should be a general impression, for example, that the Mediterranean naval engagement with Italian forces was not a victory, we should be prepared for surprises. While this is written, the latest private word from high admiralty sources describes the results of the clashes as "disappointing".

AMERICAN industrialists smile about Washington's efforts to bring about "hemisphere solidarity". So far as they are concerned, whatever coordination can be created already exists. Our big business men, heading famous American industries, have not been caught napping. They have long realized that the time for selling their wares abroad were over, unless there was production abroad as well. Import duties and the high standard of living in the United States make it impossible for them to compete otherwise.

Here And There In Texas

AUSTIN, July (AP)—Lon A. Smith, veteran member of the Railroad commission whose long career in public office will terminate next January, has almost, but not quite decided what he will do thereafter.

"I am thinking about doing some of the things I have been accused of doing while in office," Smith replied when asked about his post-retirement plans.

More seriously, he said he probably would engage in some form of the insurance business. He now is vice president of an insurance company.

There are 18 candidates for Smith's place on the commission.

IT WAS A MISTAKE!

The clangor of the big gong startled the capitol the other day. It was the burglar alarm at the state treasury on the first floor near the main entrance to the statehouse.

A call brought this cheery explanation from the telephone switchboard operator:

"No, the treasury is not being robbed. Soneone must have stumbled against the alarm switch."

The last time the treasury was robbed, according to Miss Harriet Smither, custodian of state archives, was June 11, 1865, in the stormy reconstruction period.

A group of 30 or 40 men obtained $17,000, but were driven off by citizens before they completed looting. In the treasury were about $60,000 in cash and several million dollars in bonds.

THE game department's motto for a real sportsman: "Take a boy fishing." Keneth Dorman, 7, of Alice apparently doesn't need adult guidance for his angling. The 60 pound lad recently hauled a 120-pound gar out of Mathis lake after a 40-minute fight.

The game department wants anglers to know that no fish—including little ones—can be taken from a fish sanctuary, many of which have been designated in streams and lakes over the state. The prohibition applies to seining minnows as well as angling for the big ones. The fine for violations is $25 to $200.

KIDS VISIT CAPITOL

An estimated 7,000 school students puffed their way to the top of the capitol dome this year. Almost without exception the school groups which visit Austin head for the state house first. They come from all sections and range in size from 14 to 800. Three of the larger delegations came by special train. Most travel in school buses.

TEXAS farmers can, under favorable conditions, net about $25 an acre by growing flax, a crop found adaptable to most agricultural sections of the state, says Agriculture Commissioner J. E. McDonald. The comparatively new crop can be planted and harvested at a cost of $5 an acre.

Production from dry land farming runs about 20 bushels an acre. Flax seed brings an average of $1.50 per bushel. Irrigation has run the yield to as much as 36 bushels an acre.

The planning board is dead but its memory lingers. It bobbed up recently after the Lavaca river flood which played havoc with the town of Halletsville.

Rescue and rehabilitation in the town found a map very helpful to them. The map was issued by the planning board created by the legislature several years ago.

The last legislature let it die by not appropriating funds for its operation. The board's functions was to aid in an orderly development of the state's industry, commerce, culture and recreation.

Round Table Planned

If it works out, a program at the University of Texas, including talks by all candidates for the governorship, should be good.

T. J. Kline, secretary of the University Chamber of Commerce, has received a favorable response from several gubernatorial candidates to speak on any current topic and submit to being questioned by students attending summer school.

The project has the approval of President Homer P. Rainey of the university.

"Since this is a state institution," Rainel wrote Kline, "I think it would be appropriate to have a public discussion of any topic in which there is widespread interest. I am sure there is a great deal of interest in what the candidates for governor will have to say."

W. J. GALBREATH, blacksmith and state representative from Wharton county, wants it understood that he has no ghost writers.

In a recent letter to Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, whom Galbreath bitterly opposes, the elderly blacksmith challenged the governor and Judge Tom L. Beauchamp of the Court of Criminal Appeals, an O'Daniel appointee, to a public debate.

It seems Galbreath heard accusations suggesting he was not writing his own speeches.

"Now if either of you," Galbreath informed O'Daniel and Beauchamp, "are the least bit timid, I will be glad to take on both of you at the same setting."

The representative's only stipulation was that the debate place be at Wharton.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed proposals for the general construction, plumbing, heating and ventilating, and electrical work of a three-story dormitory building for the Texas Technological College, Lubbock, Texas, in accordance with plans and specifications prepared by Wyatt C. Hedrick, Architect and Engineer, Fort Worth, Texas, will be received by Mr. Joe T. Sneed, President of the Board of Directors, Texas Technological College, Lubbock, Texas, in the office of Wyatt C. Hedrick, 1005 First National Bank Building, Fort Worth, Texas, until 10:00 a. m. August 9, 1940, at which time bids will be publicly opened and read aloud.

Any bid received after closing time will be returned unopened.

Copies of the plans, specifications and other proposed contract documents are on file in the office of the Business Manager of the Texas Technological College, Lubbock, Texas, and are open for public inspection.

A set of such documents may be obtained from Wyatt C. Hedrick, Architect and Engineer, 1005 First National Bank Building, Fort Worth, Texas, upon deposit of $25.00 for the general plans and $15.00 for the mechanical plans. This deposit will be refunded to each actual bidder upon return of such documents in good condition within ten days after the receipt of bids. Other deposits will be refunded with reductions not exceeding the actual cost of production of plans and specifications upon return of all documents in good condition within 30 days after date of opening the bids.

A Cashier's Check or Certified Check or bid bond payable to Mr. Joe T. Sneed, President, for 5% of the base bid shall accompany each proposal.

All contractors shall comply with the Texas State Labor Law as enacted by the Forty-Third Legislature.

The Board of Directors, Texas Technological College, reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive informalities.

TEXAS TECHNOLOGICAL COLLEGE,
By Joe T. Sneed, President of Board.

NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE
THE STATE OF TEXAS,
COUNTY OF LUBBOCK.

BY VIRTUE OF AN ORDER OF SALE issued out of the 72nd District Court of Lubbock County, Texas, on a judgment rendered in said court on the 18th day of June, 1940, in favor of the Lubbock Independent School District of Lubbock, Texas, plaintiff, and Lubbock County, Texas, the State of Texas, and the City of Lubbock, Lubbock County Texas, interveners and impleaded defendants, against C. C. Lane, defendant, for the sum of Two Hundred Thirty-seven and 03/100 ($237.03) Dollars, for taxes, interest and costs and penalties due on the lands hereinafter described, and further sum of Four Dollars, costs of suit, I did on the 13th day of July, 1940, at 10:00 o'clock A. M., levy upon the following tracts and parcels of land situated in the County of Lubbock, in the State of Texas, to-wit:

Lot 5 and North one-half of Lot 6, Block 81, Original Town of Lubbock.

And will, on the first Tuesday in August, 1940, the same being the 6th day of said month, at the Court House door of said Lubbock County, in the city of Lubbock, between the hours of 2 o'clock and 4 o'clock P. M. on said day proceed to sell for cash to the highest bidder all the right, title and interest of said defendant in and to the above described real estate, levied upon as the property of said defendant.

Said lots are delinquent to the Lubbock Independent School District for the years 1927 to 1939, both inclusive, in the aggregate sum of $93.59; to the City of Lubbock, Lubbock County, Texas, for the years 1927 to 1939, both inclusive, in the aggregate sum of $87.50; and to the County of Lubbock, Texas, and the State of Texas, for the years 1928 to 1932, inclusive, 1934, 1935 to 1939, inclusive, in the aggregate sum of $55.94.

Said order of sale provides that none of said property shall be sold to the owner of said property, directly or indirectly, or to anyone having an interest therein, or to any other party than a taxing unit which is a party to the suit, for less than the amount of the adjudged value of the property or the aggregate amount of the judgments against the property in said suit, whichever is lower, and sets forth that the adjudged value is $400.00.

Said order of sale further provides that if the defendant or his attorney shall at any time before the sale file with the sheriff or other officer in whose hands such order of sale is placed, a written request that the property described therein shall be divided and sold in less tracts than the whole, the officer in such case shall sell as many subdivisions as near as may be to satisfy the judgment, interest and costs.

Said order of sale further provides that said property sold may be redeemed within two years from date of such sale as provided in Articles 7284 and 7285 of the Revised Civil Statutes, and that no writ of possession issue until the expiration of the redemption period.

NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE
THE STATE OF TEXAS,
COUNTY OF LUBBOCK.

BY VIRTUE OF AN ORDER OF SALE issued out of the 72nd District Court of Lubbock County, Texas, on a judgment rendered in said court on the 18th day of June, 1940, in favor of Lubbock Independent School District of Lubbock, Texas, plaintiff, and Lubbock County, Texas, interveners and impleaded defendants, against J. A. Blackwell, defendant, for the sum of Seven Hundred Sixty-six and 98/100 ($766.98) Dollars, for taxes, interest and costs and penalties due on the lands hereinafter described, and the further sum of Four Dollars, costs of suit, I did on the 13th day of July, 1940, at 10 o'clock A. M. levy upon the following tracts and parcels of land situated in the County of Lubbock, in the State of Texas, to-wit:

Lots 16 and 17, Block 160, Original Town of Lubbock, Texas.

And will, on the first Tuesday in August, 1940, the same being the 6th day of said month, at the Court House door of said Lubbock County, in the city of Lubbock, between the hours of 2 o'clock and 4 o'clock P. M. on said day proceed to sell for cash to the highest bidder all the right, title and interest of said defendant in and to the above described real estate, levied upon as the property of said defendant.

Said lots are delinquent to the Lubbock Independent School District for the years 1930 to 1939, both inclusive, in the aggregate sum of $278.91; to the City of Lubbock, Lubbock County, Texas, for the years 1930 to 1939, both inclusive, in the aggregate sum of $259.01; to the County of Lubbock, Texas, and the State of Texas for the years 1930 to 1939, inclusive, in the aggregate sum of $229.06.

Said order of sale provides that none of said property shall be sold to the owner of said property, directly or indirectly, or to anyone having an interest therein, or to any other party than a taxing unit which is a party to the suit, for less than the amount of the adjudged value of the property or the aggregate amount of the judgments against the property in said suit, whichever is lower, and sets forth that the adjudged value is $1,000.00.

Said order of sale further provides that if the defendant or his attorney shall at any time before the sale file with the sheriff or other officer in whose hands such order of sale is placed, a written request that the property described therein shall be divided and sold in less tracts than the whole, the officer in such case shall sell as many subdivisions as near as may be to satisfy the judgment, interest and costs.

Said order of sale further provides that said property sold may be redeemed within two years from date of such sale as provided in Articles 7284 and 7285 of the Revised Civil Statutes, and that no writ of possession issue until the expiration of the redemption period.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, July 15. (AP) — Wheat prices rallied fractionally in late trading today, wiping out about half of the earlier 1 cent a bushel decline that established the lowest quotations chalked up on board of trade blackboards since last Sept. 1.

After dropping to 72⅝c for July and 73c for September, wheat closed at a net loss of ¼ to ⅜ cent compared with Saturday's close, with July 72¾c and September 73½@73⅝c.

Corn closed ⅛ to 1⅛ higher than Saturday, July 61⅞@62c and September 58⅜@58½c.

Oats closed ¼ off to ¼ up; rye unchanged to ⅜ higher and lard 3 to 8 lower.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, July 15 (AP)—Wheat No. 1 soft red winter 81½-82½; No. 1 hard 79½-80½.

Barley No. 2 nom 50-51.

Sorghums No. 2 yellow milo per 100 lbs. nom 1.40-44.

Corn, shelled, No. 2 white nom 87½-88.

Oats No. 2 red 37-38.

Honeycutt Named To Head Fort Bragg

WASHINGTON, July 15. (UP) — Brig. Gen. Francis W. W. Honeycutt, who has been in command of Fort Stotsenburg in the Philippines, today was ordered to command the new ninth streamlined infantry division being organized at Fort Bragg, N. C.

Honeycutt was graduated from West Point in 1904 and during the World war was assigned to the war plans division. He is a native of San Francisco.

The Pilgrim Trust of London having started a project for encouraging music and arts, Lord Macmillan, its chairman, received 20 cents from a man who said he always liked music and darts and hoped the Trust would continue its good work.

At A Glance . .

NEW YORK:

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, July 15. (AP)—The average price of middling 15/16-inch cotton at 10 Southern spot markets today was unchanged at 10.41 cents a pound.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, July 15. (AP)—Cotton futures overcame early losses today and new crop deliveries closed 2 to 3 points higher. Old July ended 2 points down.

Hedge selling against both foreign and domestic growths of the staple tripped the list at the start. Modest demand came from domestic mills and local dealers who interpreted bullishly the week-end weather news.

Further rains in the central and western belt gave rise to the comment that with the new crop already delayed because of late plantings and inclement weather, better than normal conditions were needed for the rest of the summer to assure best progress.

Exports Saturday 373 bales; season so far 6,344,508. Port receipts 6,277. Port stocks 2,522,911.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, July 15 (AP) — Cotton futures advanced here today on trade buying and unfavorable crop reports. Closing prices were steady, two to six points net higher.

STRENGTH LACKING

NEW YORK, July 15. (AP)—Stocks generally leaned a bit to the upside in today's market, but real strength was lacking in any department.

Domestic politics vied with the European war, brokers said, to keep traders in the waiting ranks and commitments either way were inconsequential.

While the Associated Press average of 60 issues edged up 1 of a point at 41.2—it has varied but slightly from this figure in the past two weeks—the day's turnover of 226,580 shares compared with 255,990 last Friday and was the smallest for any full session since Aug. 2, 1918.

U. S. Steel finished up ⅛, Republic ⅛ and Youngstown Sheet ⅜. Bethlehem showed a net loss of ¼.

American Telephone was off ½ and du Pont up ¼.

General Motors and Chrysler gained ⅛ and ¼, respectively.

On the upside fractions to around a point were United Aircraft, Glenn Martin, Celanese, Eastman Kodak, Philip Morris, Great Northern, Montgomery Ward, Kennecott, Consolidated Edison, Westinghouse, Air Reduction and General Electric.

Off as much were Johns-Manville, Douglas Aircraft, Boeing, Union Carbide, International Nickel, Standard Oil of N. J., Santa Fe, Woolworth and U. S. Rubber.

Bonds and commodities were mixed.

Curb gains running to a point or so were posted for Bell Aircraft, Brewster Aero, Gulf Oil and Columbia Oil and Gas. Off a shade were Bath Iron Works, Cities Service and American Gas. About 58,000 shares were traded here against 74,000 Friday.

Lubbock . .

The prices are furnished by the following Lubbock firms: Poultry—Lubbock Poultry and Egg company, delivered Lubbock. Grain—S. C. Cone Grain and Seed company. Following prices being bid by Lubbock grain dealers. Cotton — Carlock and Carlock. All prices subject to change during day.

Garrison's Blood Boils At Hearing

GALVESTON, July 15. (AP)—Col. Homer Garrison, jr., of Austin, director of the state department of public safety, said he had heard information that made his blood boil while attending executive sessions of the Dies house un-American activities committee at Austin last week.

He made the statement while speaking to the annual convention of the Texas division of the international association of identification here.

He did not reveal the information he had learned.

England's famous Jockey Club is believed to be 190 years old, but no information as to exactly when it was organized can be found.
