LONG IS RELEASED BY STATE COURT

COVINGTON, La. (AP)—A state court ordered Gov. Earl Long released today from the Southwest Louisiana (mental) Hospital at Mandeville. Long is now free to resume his duties as governor.

Dist. Judge Robert Jones signed a dismissal of the order committing Long to the hospital at 10:40 a.m.

Jines took the action after Joe Arthur Sims, ramrod of the 63-year-old governor's 11-man legal staff, told the court the State Hospital Board dismissed officials opposing Long's release.

The board met in an emergency session on Long's order before the hearing and voted the removal of State Hospital Director Jesse Bankston.

Missing from the dramatic hearing scene was Long's wife, Blanche, and Sen. Russell B. Long (D-L), two of the three persons who signed the governor's original Texas commitment papers May 30.

Mrs. Long remained out of the state—leaving the governor's habeas corpus freedom plea unchallenged from her quarter.

In a surprise move, Long filed a suit for separation from his 58-year-old wife. It served to nullify any possible future commital action by Mrs. Long, but attorneys said the suit was in preparation for a full-scale divorce proceeding.

Senator Long in Washington disengaged himself from the sanity proceedings. The senator, a nephew of the governor, said the matter now rested with the court.

Long's chief counsel, Joe Arthur Sims of Hammond, asked Thursday night for the resignation of Jesse H. Bankston, state hospitals director.

Sims, in a taped radio interview, charged the Long-appointed official assisted in Long's commitment. He said Bankston kept Long a virtual prisoner and deprived him of counsel.

Third Version Of Tax Bill Presented

AUSTIN (AP)—The House Tax Committee presented representatives today its third version of who will pay Texas' largest tax bill in history.

Wrapped with a 168 million dollar ribbon, the one-package rewritten tax bill won't raise enough money to eliminate the deficit and keep state colleges, hospitals and other agencies operating after Sept. 1.

The committee approved the measure 12-6 last night. It refused 13-4 to work on the 184 million dollar measure backed by Gov. Price Daniel.

In unusual action, the committee took 1½ hours publicly to rewrite the original measure authored by Rep. Frates Seeligson of San Antonio.

Major changes are cutting Seeligson's proposals on cigarette and corporation franchise taxes, while increasing cigar and other tobacco levies.

Ten of 12 amendments offered were adopted. Seeligson said they were acceptable, but he opposed changes proposed by Rep. James Cotten of Weatherford.

Defeated were amendments to eliminate a 2 per cent sales tax on all items costing more than $50 and reducing the tax on sulphur from $1.40 to $1.03.

"We're trying to get a compromise that will be acceptable to the Senate and the House," Seeligson said. "my bill is very close to splitting taxes 50-50 between business and individuals."

Seeligson said the 2 per cent "luxury sales and use" tax to raise 72 million dollars will be paid "half by individuals and half by business. It will be paid on refrigerators, television sets and other things costing more than $50.

Business will pay for machinery, office equipment and other items."

"This is a pure and simple sales tax," Cotten said.

"Hooray," others said and clapped their hands.

"You're creating a critical political problem if this bill passes. You're insuring the election of a Labor Legislature," Cotten said. "I don't want that. There are some 80 members who refused to vote for a sales tax. I think you're spinning your wheels."

Crip Tucker Is Loser In Hearing

Luther (Crip) Tucker, Snyder man charged with bootlegging who had filed a habeas corpus proceeding contesting the warrant used for his arrest, lost his case in a hearing in 132nd District Court today.

Tucker's arrest warrant was held legally sufficient by Judge Sterling Williams, who also said a habeas corpus hearing is not a hearing under which defensive matters can be tested.

Williams also refused to change the $3,000 bond set in county court, and immediately after this morning's hearing Tucker's attorney, Hartman Hooser of Big Spring, made bond for him.

George Killam, county attorney, represented the state in the hearing. Witnesses were Sheriff Earl Abercombie and Jim Farr, deputy.

Tucker had been arrested by officers several days ago and Killam filed an enhancement case of illegal possession of intoxicants. Enhancement can be filed against habituals with several prior convictions, and the law provides up to four times the maximum penalty.

IN ARGENTINA

Military Threat Fading

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—The military threat to President Arturo Frondizi's government appeared to have slackened today. But Frondizi's new economic czar was having trouble recruiting aides to push his program to rebuild Argentina's economy along free-enterprise lines.

The military officers who brought on the current crisis were split among themselves. Some still insisted on Frondizi's resignation. Others appeared appeased, for the time being, by the changes he has made in his Cabinet.

Alvaro Alsogaray, Argentina's chief exponent of free enterprise, was sworn in as economic minister and acting labor minister Thursday. He said he hopes to make progress toward halting inflation and labor unrest within half a year.

But when he started looking for assistants, the prospective candidates refused.

LATE BULLETIN

A Trans World Airline spokesman in Rome said the TWA office in Milan reported the crash.

The plane was flight No. 891 from Athens to Chicago via Rome and Milan.

Debt Limit Is Hiked To $295 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fast Senate action has authorized a seven-billion-dollar increase in the national debt—to a peacetime record of 295 billion dollars.

With equal speed, the Treasury announced less than an hour later it would take advantage of the new debt ceiling by borrowing five billion dollars in new cash early next month.

Usual Senate procedure was pushed aside for the House-passed measure after Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Democratic leader, said the Treasury was holding up action on a big refinancing operation until the new ceiling was set.

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) voiced the only opposition vote heard. He said the government ought to practice more economy.

If Congress had not acted, the present temporary 288-billion-dollar limit would have dropped to the permanent 283-billion limit next Tuesday, the start of the new fiscal year.

The debt varies from day to day and now ranges around 286 billion dollars.

Explosion Hurls Two Workers To Death

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—An explosion Thursday night hurled two chemical plant workers to their deaths in a 13,000-gallon vat of acid. Firemen recovered the bodies of Albert Hurst and Mac Cox from the vat at the Foote Mineral Co. plant early today.

Thunderstorms Are Threatening Again

By The Associated Press

Thunderstorms threatened much of the state again Friday as South and Southwest Texas recovered from flash floods that followed heavy rains in those areas Thursday.

Authorities expected to reach a Boy Scout camp, a Girl Scout camp and about 15 summer camps on various streams which were either cut off or made hard to reach by high water.

Campers were reported in no danger, however.

Flood warnings were posted for lowland areas along at least five streams in South Texas.

On the Guadalupe River, 15-foot rises were reported on both the North and South Forks, cutting off the Indian Creek Boy Scout Camp between Kerrville and Ingram.

Officers sought an unidentified woman motorist who failed to arrive at Kerrville on schedule after leaving the Moody Ranch. Capt. Harry Cook, police and fire dispatcher in Kerrville, said the woman probably waited for water to recede at a low-water crossing somewhere along her route.

The La Jita Girl Scout Camp at Utopia, in Uvalde County, also was cut off by an eight-foot rise in the Sabinal River, which blocked roads into Bandera and Utopia. Fire Chief Edgar Garrett said he reached the camp and found campers safe and unafraid.

It was the second straight year high water threatened the camp. Last year Air Force helicopters were used to evacuate campers after a flash flood.

Steel Workers Break Off Settlement Talks

NEW YORK (AP)—The steel industry said today the Steelworkers Union broke off negotiations after a two-hour bargaining session this morning.

R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator, said the union refused to meet this afternoon with the industry's bargaining team.

Asked whether it was a break up of negotiations, Cooper said: "It seems so—at the moment."

The vast industry was already starting to shut down to prepare for a walkout of some 500,000 members of the United Steelworkers Union in the basic industry.

Industry and union proposals to extend the present labor contracts beyond their June 30 expiration fell through Thursday.

R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator, told reporters just before resuming bargaining this morning that "We're here for collective bargaining."

This indicated that consideration of a contract extension may have been abandoned and a new effort was under way to hammer out a peace pact before the Tuesday midnight deadline. The bargainers, however, seemed as far apart as ever.

David J. McDonald, union president, said he didn't know whether there would be weekend negotiating sessions.

Prospects seemed gloomy that a walkout could be averted. The industry started banking furnaces. The trouble is simple. It's a straight and classic clash of opposing economic views.

The steel industry, warned by President Eisenhower that the economy can stand no new steel price boosts, said it cannot afford any more labor costs.

David J. McDonald, Steelworkers Union president, said the industry can boost wages and other benefits out of profits. Steelworkers averaged $3.10 hourly earnings in April, by latest government tally.

McDonald said other industries, including steel-owned coal mines, have already granted handsome pay boosts in 1959.

The steel industry said it could not take on the responsibility for setting off a new round of inflation.

The industry first proposed a strike postponement from Wednesday. It called for an indefinite extension of present contracts, scheduled to expire at midnight Tuesday.

It was on this retroactivity feature that the industry disagreed. Calling it a "red herring," the industry said it implied steel companies would eventually grant concessions they have no intention of making.

THREE-CAR PILEUP—Three cars piled up at the general store 15.9 miles southwest of Snyder on the Big Spring highway at 9:20 o'clock this morning injuring the driver of one of the vehicles. Barney Lee Autry, 72, of Cuthbert, was brought to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by Bell ambulance. He was driving a 1956 Ford which was in collision with a 1950 Buick driven by Vonnie Luther Black, Odessa. The Buick was towing a 1952 Plymouth sedan which was being delivered to a car dealer in Snyder. Autry suffered facial lacerations and bruises. (Lee Watson photograph)

House Balks On Tax Revisions By Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—House tax leaders balked today at accepting major tax law changes added by the Senate to a bill to continue corporate and excise tax rates at their Korean War level for another year.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark), chairman of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, told a reporter the House would insist on limiting the legislation to a simple extension of the current rates.

In a session running past midnight, the Senate voted to repeal the 10 per cent passenger travel tax, kill the 4 per cent dividend tax credit, repeal the 10 per cent communication tax next year, and increase federal old age grants 142 million dollars.

If enacted, the Senate tax cuts and additional old age grants would throw the President's budget out of balance several hundred million dollars next year.

Mills' stand for the bill as passed by the House was to be expected in advance of negotiations on Senate-House differences.

It did not foreclose House agreement to go along with some of the Senate amendments.

Mills' statement was made as Senate and House conferees met to seek a compromise on the tax and on a bill to continue the present law as to renegotiation of defense contracts.

Before going into the closed-door sessions, Mills had a long discussion with Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson, who is against any tax cutting that would cut government revenues.

On extension of the renegotiation act, which permits the government to recover excessive profits on defense contracts, the main Senate and House difference was whether the extension should be for three or four years.

Before passing the tax bill Thursday night, the Senate rejected two proposals providing for more highway building funds.

Unless the bill is signed into law by Tuesday midnight, tax rates drop on corporate income taxes and on excises on automobiles, auto parts and accessories, cigarettes, liquor, wine and beer. The House bill extending them for a year had no other provisions.

Committees from the House and Senate hoped to meet today to agree on a final draft of the measure so the Senate and House can pass it early next week.

In votes taken after midnight, the Senate rejected both Eisenhower's proposal for a gasoline tax increase and an alternative Democratic plan to prevent an eventual heavy cutback in the big interstate highway program.

The result was to throw in question whether any action would be taken to keep the program on schedule for the years ahead.

Both the rejected amendments would have provided more money for the special highway trust fund from which federal grants are made.

Stage Set For Farm Plan Battle

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vetoes of two farm bills may well have set the stage for bitter struggles over farm issues next year, both in Congress and in the presidential election campaign.

President Eisenhower rejected Thursday bills affecting wheat and tobacco, saying they failed to meet needs of growers in expanding markets and in curbing costly surplus production.

Under the bills, he said in effect, an already bad situation would have been made worse instead of better.

Eisenhower's action — which had been recommended by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson—apparently killed all prospects of legislation for these two crops this year.

Wheat is in serious trouble because of surpluses and past failure of the present program to control production. Tobacco is losing foreign markets because its rigid support system keeps prices going up. The tobacco bill would have stopped the increase but would not have lowered the prices.

Democratic leaders in Congress sharply criticized the President's action. Disagreeing with his conclusions, they prepared to carry to the voters their contentions that the rejected measures would have reduced wheat production and cut the cost of farm programs to taxpayers.

President, Queen Open St. Lawrence Seaway

By RELMAN MORIN

MONTREAL (AP) — President Eisenhower, at ceremonies formally opening the St. Lawrence Seaway today, called the new water route "a magnificent symbol to the entire world of the achievements possible to Democratic nations peacefully working together for the common good.

The President joined Queen Elizabeth II here for a five-hour cruise through 31 miles of the seaway aboard the royal yacht Britannia.

In her speech the Queen emphasized that the seaway is a product of the joint efforts of the United States and Canada, a "monument to the enduring friendship of our two nations."

Both the Queen and the President spoke from brief prepared texts.

President and Mrs. Eisenhower flew from Washington to Canada's St. Hubert Air Force Base near Montreal this morning. Elizabeth and Prince Philip, who are on a six-week tour of Canada, met them there. Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and his wife were present when the presidential party arrived.

The main ceremonies took place at St. Lambert Lock, the eastern gate of the seaway, on Montreal's doorstep.

Eisenhower said the two nations cherish a record of cooperation and the development of reciprocal trade with Canada.

"There have been and are still problems to solve between us," he said. "But in the past as now we never have faltered in our conviction that these must be settled by patient and understanding negotiation, never by violence."

Eisenhower saluted the architects, planners and workmen who brought the seaway to reality and said former President Herbert Hoover and Canada's former Prime Minister R. B. Bennett "helped create the sentiment for this great development."

The Queen opened her speech with a personal tribute to the President. She said thousands of British Commonwealth fighting men were "proud to serve under your leadership until the ultimate victory was won. We have a special welcome for you as Gen. Eisenhower."

Elizabeth recalled centuries-old dreams and plans for a deep-water route to the Great Lakes and praised the common efforts of Canada and the United States in bringing them to reality.

"The two nations built it together and the two nations will share its benefits," she said. "More than all this, it is a magnificent monument to the enduring friendship of our two nations and to their partnership in the development of North America."

It was a great day for both chiefs of state.

For President Eisenhower, it was the mark of his success in getting U. S. participation in the St. Lawrence Seaway approved by Congress—after other presidents before him had failed.

For Elizabeth, it emphasized place as Queen of Canada, and was the high point of her current tour across her North American territory. The Seaway has been in actual operation since April, but the ceremonial opening was delayed for the Queen's participation.

Today's highlight, after brief remarks by the President and Queen, was a 31-mile cruise into the seaway through some of the locks which enable ocean ships to rise from sea level to the Great Lakes and proceed as far as Duluth, Minn.

The Queen's six-million-dollar yacht Britannia was polished for the five-hour trip carrying the President and Elizabeth from the St. Lambert Locks, at Montreal's doorstep, to the Beauharnois Locks upstream.

The President's schedule in Canada covered 7½ hours beginning with Elizabeth's greeting at nearby St. Hubert Air Base, where U. S. and Canadian defense units operate. President and Mrs. Eisenhower were flying in from Washington to meet the Queen, her husband, Prince Philip, and Canada's Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and his wife at the air base.

After a 21-gun salute to the President, he and the Queen were to make an eight-mile automobile ride through crowds of cheering Canadians to the St. Lambert Locks for the ceremonies.

More than 500 guests, including officials and dignitaries of 50 nations, were invited to the St. Lambert ceremony.

The President's pary included Lewis L. Strauss, spending his last days as secretary of commerce after Senate rejection of his nomination. Others on the President's list were his secretaries of state, army and labor, the U. S. attorney general, and Sens. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) and Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.), the ranking members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Seaway officials had prepared for each chief of state a silver-encased book commemorating completion of the 475-million-dollar project.

The center of eyes at St. Lambert was a gaily decorated platform, set amid five wooden arches, each 40 feet high.

The house flags of scores of shipping firms using the seaway lined the approaches to the platform. Military and naval units were detailed to the area — kilted Highlanders, red-coated Canadian Mounted Police, American and British naval formations in white with gold braid marking their officers.

Warships of the United States, Canada and Britain were to escort the Britannia through the St. Lambert Locks, the seaway's eastern gate. To the west, in Lake St. Louis, 16 more naval vessels of Canada, Britain and the United States lined up for a salute to the royal yacht.

Aboard the yacht, after another 21-gun salute, the Queen and Prince Philip were to entertain at a luncheon.

After the cruise to Beauharnois Locks, the President was to make an evening flight back to Washington. The Queen was to continue on the yacht to the area of the St. Lawrence lying between Cornwall, Ont., and Massena, N. Y.

This is the site of a joint U. S.-Canadian power project using the power behind the St. Lawrence's cascading waters. Vice President Richard M. Nixon will meet her there Saturday.

Collision - Battered Freighter Sinks

ALPENA, Mich. (AP) — A radar [illegible] rescued [illegible] men of the collision - battered freighter Monrovia ended today when the [illegible] vessel went down in fog-shrouded Lake Huron.

The Coast Guard reported that the freighter Norman W. Foy lost radar contact with the doomed Liberian ship at 1:15 a.m. EST, more than 11 hours after it collided with the Canadian freighter Royalton in heavy fog Thursday.

The Foy tacked into the collision area after losing contact and reported heavy debris in the water. There was no sign of the Monrovia.

The collision off Thunder Bay Island in northern Lake Huron was the first major shipping accident in the Great Lakes since the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The Coast Guard cutters Mackinaw and Acacia continued to patrol the area after the sinking. Markers were put in the water to warn other ships and the Foy proceeded toward Detroit.

The Monrovia's hours-long struggle for survival was watched from the Foy by radar and reports of her condition relayed to crewmembers who were brought after the accident.

Fast action by the Foy which ignored fog dangers resulted in the rescue of the Monrovia's crew some 60 minutes after an order to abandon ship was flashed.

The Monrovia suffered deep gashes below her waterline. Her engine and boiler rooms and two holds flooded quickly. Her refusal to sink earlier baffled veteran lakes seamen aboard the Foy.

The Royalton suffered only minor damage in the collision. Cause of the collision has not been determined.

The collision occurred at 2:05 p.m. Capt. Sysoanes Sinkas ordered his Greek-nationality crew to abandon ship an hour later.

Capt. Alex Gillies of the Foy estimated the "routine rescue" took about 40 minutes. Gillies is from Buffalo, N.Y.

The 417-foot Monrovia, which was carrying a cargo of steel from Antwerp, is out of Monrovia, Liberia. It was headed for Chicago and Duluth. The Royalton is owned by the F. Scott Misener, Ltd. of Port Colbourne, Ont.

Lubbock May Lose Out On Braceros

LUBBOCK (AP) — Officials awaited clarification today of a report the Mexican government has banned contracting of its nationals for farm work because a beauty parlor refused to do the hair of two Mexican women.

The Mexican consul here, Miss Cecilia Molina, said yesterday she has "an official message from the Foreign Ministry in Mexico City that all reception centers (for workers) have been instructed not to contract workers for the City of Lubbock and its surrounding agricultural area."

But H. L. Rodker, assistant manager of the bracero farm labor reception center at El Paso, said: "We don't have anything definite. ... Until we get further notice we'll continue to process braceros for Lubbock County."

D. L. King, U.S. District Attorney, declined comment.

Rodker said that rumors of the restriction had been heard but the Mexican consul at El Paso had received no official notice of such action.

Miss Molina said, "On June 22 two ladies of the consulate staff tried to make an appointment by telephone with Jessie Lee's Hair Design Institute in Lubbock but were informed that they could not be accepted because of their Mexican nationality."

Bill Sharpley, co-owner of the salon with his wife, said:

"We reserve the right to refuse service to anyone. We don't cater to Latin Americans and so informed the Mexican consulate. When they came in we very politely told them that we didn't cater to Latin Americans ... There is another very nice, modern beauty salon in Lubbock where they can get efficient, courteous service and we referred them to that place. ..."

The women refused service were identified as consulate employes Mrs. Claudia Padres and Maria Rosa Esquerro.

Miss Molina said the restrictions on hiring braceros became effective Wednesday but would not affect immediately any of the 3,000 to 4,000 workers now in the country. They will complete their contracts, but the contracts will not be renewed unless the restrictions are lifted.

She called refusal of the beauty parlor to accept Latin Americans "discrimination against the Mexican people for their nationality and ancestry."

WOMEN

ADVICE TO MOTHERS-TO-BE

Avoid German Measles

INSIDE THE expectant mother a new human being is growing and developing. The mother wants him to be a strong sturdy baby. She knows the importance of dieting, following the doctor's advice and eating nutritious food.

What else is important? What happens to the baby if the mother gets sick?

How Baby Grows

The baby is, of course, nourished by his mother's blood, but the mother's blood does not circulate through the baby. Nature has devised an elaborate mechanism which keeps the maternal and the infant circulation separate. The mother's blood goes to the placenta, a large flat organ that grows on the side of the womb. From the placenta the mother's blood flows back into her body. On the baby's side of the placenta, new blood vessels develop. The blood they contain is pumped around the baby's body by his own heart. Nourishment from the mother seeps out of her capillaries on her side of the placenta and seeps into the baby's placental capillaries. In this way only substances in solution or very tiny things like viruses can go directly from mother to child.

Many diseases the mother may have during pregnancy do no harm the baby because the germs causing them are too big to get across the placenta. Infections with the streptococcus which can make the mother miserable with a sore throat or a nasty sinus infection do not seem to affect her baby at all.

Virus Infections

As far as we know many virus infections do not pass the placental barrier, but there is one virus disease, German measles, which we now know for certain does pass across the placenta. Why this disease does and other virus do not, we just don't know.

German measles is not dangerous for the baby during the entire time he is in his mother's womb. It is only in the early part of pregnancy — about the first three months, that he may be injured by German measles.

During the early months of pregnancy each organ system of the baby goes through a peak time of development. While an organ is developing at a very rapid rate it seems to be more susceptible to damage than after it is pretty well formed. If the mother develops German measles while the ears are undergoing the maximum development, they fail to progress normally and the child may be born deaf. If the disease in the mother comes a week or so later it may be the eyes that are at their most vulnerable stage and the baby may be blind or have some serious visual handicap. Both the heart and the brain can be injured if the mother's attack of German measles happen to hit their peak moment of development.

German measles is a disease to avoid in early pregnancy. If you have had it during childhood you do not need to worry. Second attacks of this disease are very rare. If you should be exposed to it during the first three months of your pregnancy get in touch with your doctor immediately. He may be able to help you avoid getting the disease.

OUR VIEW

Wants Return Of CCC

THE HOUSTON CHRONICLE

Among the rash of welfare state bills before Congress one by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D Minn.) is perhaps the most simon-pure New Dealish of the lot. It is no other than a proposal to revive the Civilian Conservation Corps.

As in all welfare state projects, this one has the glitter of laudable objectives. In providing jobs for 150,000 youths on federal conservation projects the primary purpose is stated to be to combat juvenile delinquency by taking the youngsters off the streets and giving them healthful outdoor work.

The old CCC was perhaps fairly successful as a "pump-priming" device. It was primarily a "make-work" project and if there was nothing better to do than rake leaves, then leaves were raked up.

Today, however, the lines of unemployed are not long, and almost any youngster capable of doing such work as would be done on federal conservation can find a job. The nation, facing a possible deficit in the next fiscal year on top of this year's record peacetime flood of red ink, simply can't afford to engage in another boondoggle that would cost several hundred millions a year and would be difficult to terminate, as such affairs always are.

Further, "youth corps" don't look nearly as attractive as they once did, even in times of unemployment emergency. This sort of thing was one of Hitler's most effective devices in building up a generation of fanatical Nazis and preparing for war.

One Or More New Congress Members Might Be Oriental

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

HONOLULU (AP) — Candidates in Hawaii's first state election July 28 are all Americans but the names are Japanese, Chinese, Portugese, Filipino and Irish.

And the newest state seems certain to send at least one Oriental to Congress.

Hawaii's list of office seekers is as racially mixed as the people of the island chain.

Islanders will ballot first in a primary election Saturday and, on the same day, decide in a final referendum whether they want statehood.

Anything short of an overwhelming "yes" on statehood would be an upset.

Primaries will decide party nominees for two seats in the U. S. Senate, one in the House of Representatives, for governor, lieutenant governor and for the 76-seat state Legislature.

Nearly all primary contests for major offices are in the Democratic camp, with Republicans running unopposed.

Of the eight hopefuls in both parties seeking to go to Congress, five are of Japanese or Chinese descent. The others are Caucasians.

On the Republican side, the unopposed nominees for the two U. S. Senate seats are Hiram L. Fong, 52, a prominent businessman of Chinese descent who was once speaker of the territorial House, and Territorial Senator Wilfred C. Tsukiyama, 61, a lawyer and "elder statesman" among the islands' legislators of Japanese ancestry.

Charles H. Silva, a territorial director of institutions and of Portugese extraction, is unopposed as GOP candidate for the House of Representatives.

Among Democrats, the lone House seat nomination is being contested by Mrs. Patsy Takemoto Mink and Daniel K. Inouye.

Inouye, 34, a lawyer of Japanese ancestry, is a territorial senator. He lost an arm in World War II fighting while serving with the all-nisei "Go For Broke" regimental combat team in Italy. Inouye initially declared for the U. S. Senate but in the last minute switched to the House. Mrs. Mink, 30, also a lawyer, is the only woman in the territorial Senate.

Three Democrats are in the primary contest for the two U. S. Senate seats. They are Territorial Senators Frank F. Fast and Oren E. Long and former Senator William H. Heen. The 76-year-old Heen, of Hawaiian-Chinese origin, holds no office at present. He had ranked as dean of Hawaii's legislators through his 32 years in the island Senate.

For governor, important because of patronage powers of the first governor, Democrat John A. Burns will be up against Republican William F. Quinn. Both are unopposed in the primaries.

Burns, 50, a one-time policeman, is now serving his second term as Hawaii's delegate to Congress. Quinn, 39, a lawyer, is the island's 12th and last appointed governor. He was named to the post, his first public office, by President Eisenhower in the fall of 1957.

Also to be decided in the primaries are party nominees for 25 state Senate seats and 51 in the state House of Representatives.

The list of aspirants contains many Japanese, the largest single racial group in the islands. At least four of Filipino descent are in the race.

Use salad greens and celery with the meat, or add cooked vegetables to it; or you can make it into a Waldorf salad with apple, celery and walnuts.

Business Trying To Assay New Seaway

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower and Queen Elizabeth II dedicate the St. Lawrence Seaway today while business still tries to assess how much it'll change the nation's trade patterns.

The first month's rush of traffic upset some ideas, uncovered some weaknesses, disillusioned some businessmen, fired others with new optimism.

Competing truck and rail lines also divided on how much the Seaway will hurt them. Some point with glee at the first month's record of delays—both at locks where waiting vessels piled up, sometimes for days, and at various times where docking facilities proved inadequate.

Some rail and truck men think business will turn back to them because they can promise greater speed and more accurate delivery dates.

Others gloomily look for the Seaway, once the early trouble spots are rubbed out, to cop the largest share of the handling of bulk cargo, such as grain, ore, steel, autos, coffee and canned goods.

Probably none will know for sure until after the harvests are moved in the fall and the Seaway closes for the winter and for reassessment of its operations.

Early results stack up like this: United States and Canadian authorities report that 2,243,450 tons of cargo moved through the 27-foot channels in May of 1959. The 14-foot depth was achieved in 1901, replacing 9-foot channels established in 1848.

Heaviest traffic this year has been ingoing. Outgoing tonnage was only 9.2 per cent above a year ago.

Lining up export business has been hard so far for the 40 or so shipping lines. Part of their trouble has been the general decline in U.S. exports. Part has been seasonal, with the fall harvests expected to reverse the flow of traffic.

But part, they say, has been the difficulty of breaking business traditions in firms used to shipping their goods by rail and truck to Atlantic ports for overseas shipment under long-term contracts with shipping lines.

On the other side of the coin is the report that a number of new businesses are starting up in cities along the Great Lakes. The new merchants plan to sell such things as foreign cars which the Seaway can deliver to them more cheaply.

All-Night Dancing Caused By Curfew

By ANDREW BOROWIEZ

ALGIERS (AP) — They dance from 9 p.m. to 5 o'clock in the morning in swank villas along Algiers' beaches.

No one can come later or leave earlier because of curfew.

In the evening twilight, armored cars slowly patrol the road, some 20 miles from Algiers. A territorial sentry leans lazily against a sandbag gun emplacement.

On the oval floor of the giant, flower-bedecked living room, some 40 French couples whirl to the latest American tunes.

"You see, mama said we should never trust these people," said a pretty brunette. "Ever since the gardener stole papa's gun and joined the guerillas we never hire Arab servants. We import them from Spain."

"Feel my gun," said a young lawyer. "I had this suit cut so no one could tell I carry it. I never leave the house without it. You can't trust the Arabs."

"Two years of this mess," he said. "I have wasted two years here. Don't ask me how the army feels. I don't represent the army. I hate it."

"It's all settled," an oil engineer said. He had just been to the new Sahara oilfields and beamed enthusiasm. "In two or three months the whole war will be over. We will negotiate with the rebels if necessary. We have to keep this country bcause of the oil. We will give the rebels some concessions but the oil must be ours."

"You see here papa's Algiera," said a psychological warfare officer pointing to the dance floor. "Daughters and sons of rich settlers. Handsome, well-dressed, carefree. They think the army's job here is to make sure that Algeria of tomorrow will be the same bed of roses for them and their kind."

A searchlight stabbed the darkness. The guiding lights of a nearby airbase glittered in even strings.

At 5 a.m. girls in party dresses and their young men began to leave. They formed small convoys of two to three cars for it still was dark.

Slowly dawn began to break over Algeria.

Seeks Gold Near Frisco

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—That's gold in them thar hills, podnah, even if it is within sight of the San Francisco - Oakland Bay Bridge. That's the opinion of Elizabeth French Moss of Fresno, Calif., who Thursday filed a mining claim on Albany Hill.

She said she found a vein of mineral that includes gold, uranium and lead and has sunk a 10-foot shaft on the hill.

Edward Wisser, professor of mineral exploration at the University of California, said it's unlikely that gold and uranium would be found together in such a formation.

Playing tennis Wednesday with his wife, Martin pulled a ligament. Curtis, with whom Martin is scheduled to perform in a movie next month, recently hurt his Achilles tendon whil playing tennis with Kirk Douglas.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

IT'S A LITTLE OUT of the season but Tiger basketball coach has now got the field completed for the annual Canyon Reef Invitational Basketball Tournament next winter.

As in the past it will be an 8-team tournament.

A new champion will be crowned as defending champion Borger isn't returning. Last year's runnerup, however, Tom S. Lubbock, is returning.

The 1959 Canyon Reef tournament field will be made up of Dumas, Lake View, Graham, Stamford, Breckenridge, Childress, Tom S. and Snyder.

For Dumas, Graham, Stamford and Breckenridge it will mark their first appearance in the Canyon Reef tourney.

The dates for the tournament will be Dec. 11-12.

Speaking of basketball, five local youngsters attended the annual two-week session of the Wayland College cage clinic in Plainview the past two weeks.

Two of the five were high schoolers, Steve Free and Ed Phy, who'll be sophomores next school year, attended the clinic.

The other three local boys attending the clinic were junior high students. They were Stuart Long, Bruce Brooks and Darrell Aldridge.

Ham Gets New 'Coach'

If Society Editor Kay Pope will pardon us, tonight is the night that one of the Tigers' best all-around athletes of all time, Milton Ham, gets "hitched."

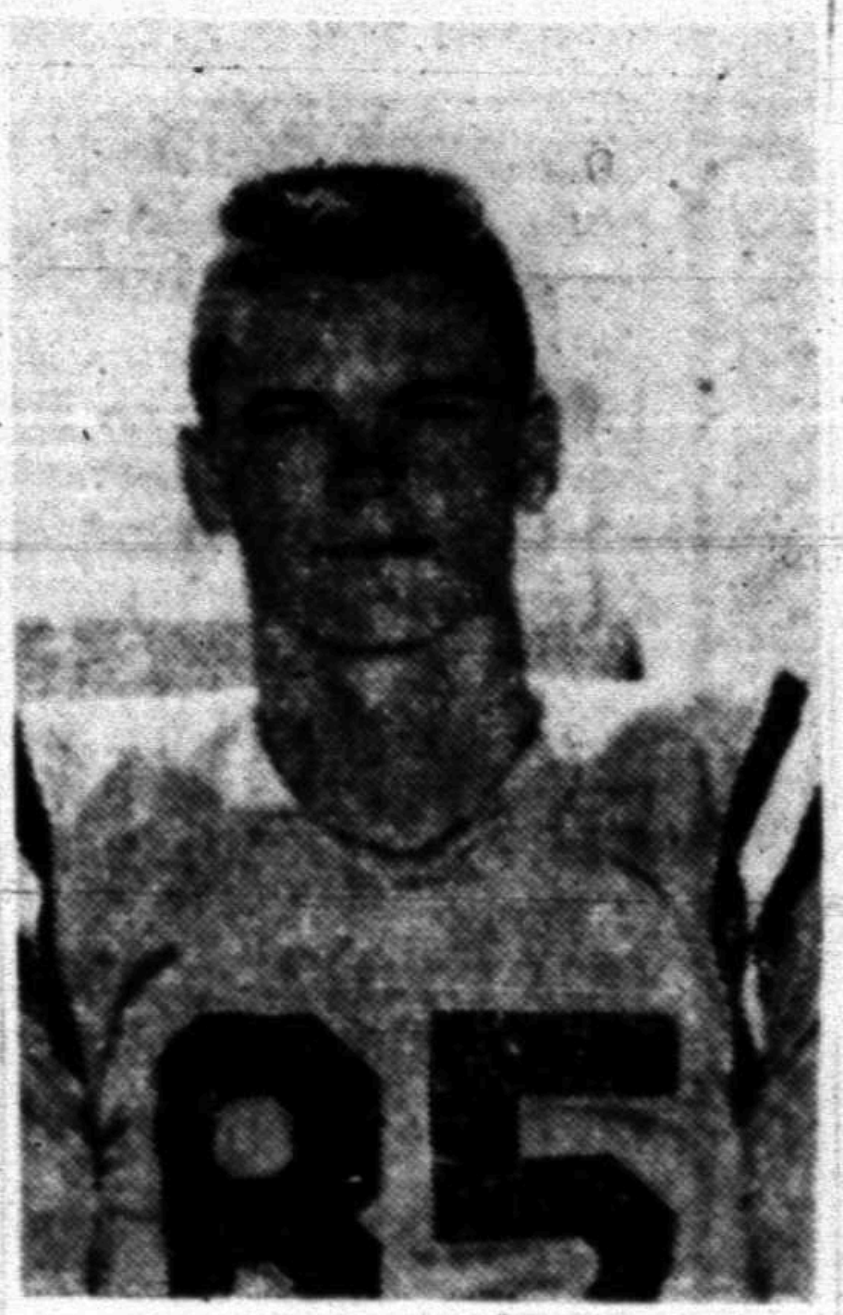
Wedding bells will ring for Milton and pretty Miss Jo-Ann Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Miller.

To our knowledge, Ham is the only Tiger athlete to ever win all-district acclaim in three different sports in a single school year. In the school year of 1955-56 Ham made the all-district football team at end, the all-district team in basketball at forward, and the all-district baseball team at first base. Ham was only a junior that school year.

Ham then repeated as all-district in football and basketball his

Ham was a unanimous choice for all-state end his senior year and was Honorable Mention all-state in basketball. In basketball, Ham led the Tiger scorers in point-making both his junior and senior year and he still holds the career scoring record for SHS at 1,001 points.

senior year but since the Tigers were the only team in the district in baseball his senior year, his bid to become a two-time triple all-district performer was spoiled more



MILTON HAM

Ham is the second all-state Tiger athlete to enter into wedlock the past week. Ronnie Baker, all-state tournament pitcher for the Tigers in 1957, married Miss Sherry Harty a week ago today.

Tigers, Buffs In Pony League Wins

The Courthouse Tigers and Walter Hales Buffs registered victories in Pony League play last night.

The Tigers edged past the A. B. C. Phillies 9-8 in the Pony League while the Buffs downed the Snyder Savings Braves in the Graduate Pony League, 6-2.

The Tigers got only two hits off Dean Howard of the Phillies but the Bengals took full advantage of nine Phillie errors mixed with four walks and two hit batsmen.

Both the Braves and Buffs scored twice in the first inning but Bob Pena of the Buffs then shut off the run-making of the Braves the rest of the way while the Buffs scored three in the third and one in the fourth for the victory.

Tommy Minton and Weldon Ware shared hitting honors for the Buffs with two safeties apiece. Ware drove in the tie-breaking run in the third.

Bubba Fleming got two of the three hits the Braves collected off Pena. Pena struckout 10.

Patterson, Ingo To Try Again Tonight

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP) — Another threat of rain and a ticket-rhubarb today hung over the once-postponed Floyd Patterson-Ingemar Johansson heavyweight title fight—probably the most harassed heavyweight promotion ever.

The fighters and promoter Bill Rosensohn peered anxiously at the glowering sky, wondering whether the 15-round show would be able to go on tonight at 9:30 p.m. (EST) at Yankee Stadium.

The forecast was far from promising. The weatherman predicted another warm, humid day with scattered thundershowers this afternoon and night.

It was virtually the same forecast that was made Thursday and came true. Rain muddied the field at the stadium, forcing Rosensohn to announce the postponement at 1:05 p.m.

Ironically, the rain stopped in the evening. At the scheduled fight time, it was cool but a heavy mist shrouded the tops of the skyscrapers. The $100 "deluxe, red carpet" customers, however, would have been ankle deep in mud.

Another bad break like that may delay the long-awaited scrap until Monday. Rosensohn and Irving Kahn, president of TelePrompTer which is running the closed circuit telecast to theaters, said that if the weather was bad today and the forecast was not optimistic for Saturday, they might put it over until Monday.

The ticket hassle may come to a showdown today. Rosensohn refused to make refunds Thursday after the postponement was announced despite an order to do so by Gen. Melvin Krulewitch, chairman of the State Athletic Commission.

Krulewitch said the commission rules required the promoter to make refunds on demand. Rosensohn said his lawyer's interpretation of the rules indicated no refund was mandatory.

"I don't want to hurt any people but I've got to protect the promotion," said the weary Rosensohn.

The commission rule is vague, but it has been observed by other promoters in the past. Krulewitch said he would take it up with a lawyer.

If another postponement is required, however, Rosensohn said the return policy would be reviewed. He said that he is making refunds for hardship cases.

That would have to include Swedes and out-of-towners who have booked transportation today.

As for the fighters, they took the delay calmly enough. After all this was just one of many incidents that have plagued the promotion. There have been law suits, a threat by Patterson's manager to take the fight out of New York, and probably anything else you can name.

Afte rthe weigh-in ceremony — Johansson weighed 196 to Patterson's 182—the fighters, their managers, the promoter and virtually everyone else connected with the promotion were served with legal papers on behalf of California contender Eddie Machen and the Chicago Stadium, Corp.

Machen obtained a writ of attachment in federal court to tie up Johansson's purse. Machen and the Chicago Stadium are seeking $1,229,375 damages because Johansson allegedly violated a contract to give Machen a return bout.

"I will be stronger," said Johansson who did some shadow boxing Thursday, his first lick of work since last Saturday.

"Certainly I don't like the delay," he said, "but I'm sure the delay will not bother me. I feel fine now and I will not lose my edge."

The 26-year-old unbeaten European champion had a steak dinner at his midtown hotel, then took a stroll through the streets. He topped off the evening by taking in a movie with his pretty fiancé, Birgit Lundgren.

Patterson loosened up somewhere in town. Manager Cus D'Amato wouldn't say where. Then the 24-year-old champ went into seclusion.

There were reports that the odds favoring Patterson had jumped from 4-1 to 5-1. Several of the bigger bookies, however, held the price at 4-1 but reported very light betting.

The heavyweight fight will get some competition from the regular Madison Square Garden and national television bout featuring middleweights Ralph (Tiger) Jones of Yonkers, N.Y., and Victor Zalazar of Argentina.

Brown Stars In Yankee Win, 4-1

Leslie Brown turned in one of the top performances in Little League here this season last night when he pitched and batted the Legion Yankees to an upset 4-1 decision over the Trinity Methodist White Sox.

On the mound Brown hurled a one-hitter and struckout 16 of a possible 18. At the plate Brown banged out two homeruns to drive in three of the four Yankee runs.

In the National League Jack Keller blanked the Rotary Cardinals on four hits to lead the Quarterback Giants to a 5-0 victory.

Brown's first homer came with Rayburn White on base in the first inning. For all practical purposes that was all the runs the Yanks needed. But Brown homered again his next trip to make it 3-1 and on his third trip, Brown was hit by a pitched ball and eventually scored the fourth Yankee run.

Lino Felon, who spun a neat four-hitter for the White Sox, spoiled Brown's no-hit bid with a single in the third.

The Giants broke loose for four runs in the fourth to break a close game wide open in the National League. Until the fourth the Giants were holding tenaciously to a 1-0 lead.

Kenny Gay led the Giants with three-for-three, accounting for one-half of the Giants' six hits off three Card pitchers.

Yanks, Chisox Open Crucial Series Tonite

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees aren't the swaggering champs of old, yet, but there's no sign of any more staggering as they slam into Chicago for the opener of a four-game weekend series tonight.

They roll into Comiskey Park in fourth place, just two games shy of the American League lead on an 8-out-of-11 spurt that began with a three-game sweep over the second place White Sox 11 days ago.

Then they were fifth, five games out of first and four games back of Chicago. Now they're within a single game of the White Sox after finishing a fattening four-game series in Kansas City with a 5-4 victory over the A's.

The Yankees swung for 50 hits, nine of them homers, and 29 runs while winning three of the four at Kansas City.

While the Yanks were bashing the A's, the White Sox managed to win two of three from Washington, regaining second place Thursday with a 4-1 victory. Cleveland beat back Baltimore's bid for first place by skidding the Orioles to third, 3-2, and regaining a one-game lead.

Elston Howard and Norm Siebern hit home runs for the Yankees, with Siebern's leadoff shot scoring the clincher in the eighth inning. Relievers Bobby Shantz and Ryne Duren put it away for winner Duke Maas (6-4), who left for a pinch-hitter in the sixth. Ex-Yank Tom Sturdivant (1-4) lost it.

When the medical profession approves a new remedy, it is made public so that everybody may benefit from it. Poliomyelitis vaccine is a good example.

Should you read or hear about a "secret remedy" for the cure of some serious disease, be on guard. Shun it by all means, because its use could be disastrous.

Consult your physician. Ask his views on "mystery remedies." He will give you a candid evaluation.

There is nothing hush-hush about medical research and its discoveries. Medicine is an open book — for all the world to see.

British Methodist Minister Is Due In Snyder Saturday

The Rev. John H. Blamey, pastor of a Methodist church at Ipswich, England, will serve for the next five Sundays as exchange pastor of the First Methodist Church in Snyder.

Rev. and Mrs. Blamey are to arrive here tomorrow night, and he will be in the pulpit at the church at the Sunday 10:55 a.m. service.

While Rev. Blamey is serving here, the Rev. Harry Vanderpool, pastor of the church here, will serve in the Ipswich church. Rev. and Mrs. Vanderpool have been gone for several days, touring Europe before going to Ipswich.

The church here has scheduled a reception and ice cream supper for the membership at 7 p.m. Monday in honor of the Blameys.

While here Rev. Blamey, in addition to filling the pulpit in the First Methodist, will have a number of other speaking engagements in this area, including speaking before local civic groups. The weekdays of two weeks have been kept open, however, for the Blameys to spend sightseeing in Texas.

Already on the calendar for Rev. Blamey is speaking at the Methodist intermediate encampment at Butman Camp, near Abilene, on July 6, speaking at the First Methodist Church at Big Spring on the evening of July 8 and at the First Methodist Church at Colorado City on the evening of July 21. On July 22 he will speak at the annual family night gathering of the First Methodist Church of Lubbock.

While here the Blameys will live in the church parsonage.

Rev. Blamey has been at the Ipswich church five years. Ipswich is near London and is a city of 100,000 people in a rich agricultural community. A historic town, it is noted as the birthplace of Cardinal Wolsey and one-time center of his foundation to supply scholars for Christ Church at Oxford.

The minister was reared on a farm in the western part of England. After attending grammar school, he took a degree in English and literature at Oxford. He began a career as a teacher but during a period of illness became convinced his work was in the church.

He completed work for a degree in divinity at Manchester University and was ordained. He served for four years during World War II in London, where his church was completely bombed but he then had a church in the outskirts of London, followed by one in the West country, where he was also chaplain of a Methodist boarding school for girls.

Mrs. Blamey, who is also from the West country, shares in all branches of the church's work. They have three daughters.

(QUESTION) "How do we become children of God?"

(ANSWER) By faith. According to Galatians 3:26 we are "the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus." But just what is faith? Is it something mysterious? Is it something that cannot be explained? Is it something that comes upon one in a miraculous way? Let us examine God's word and see just what faith is! There is an axiom which says, "Things equal to same thing are equal to each other." This axiom manifests itself in the field of mathematics in this way: 2 and 2 is 4; 2 times 2 is also 4; therefore, 2 and 2 is equal to 2 times 2. This is very easy to see. Now if in the Bible we can find something else that makes us children of God then we can conclude that that something else is equal to faith. It is common knowledge that one is not a child of God until his soul is purified. In I Peter 1:22 we are told this: "Seeing ye have purified your souls in obeying the truth . . ." We see then that our souls are purified by obeying the truth which is the word of God. Hence, James' statement in James 1:21 ". . . receive with meekness the engrafted word which is able to save your souls." So when Paul said that we are children of God by faith we understand that he meant obedience to God's word. Because, "by faith" is equal to children of God and "obeying the word" is equal to children of God; therefore, "By faith" is equal to "obeying the word." The very next verse, Galatians 3:27, says, "For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ." Christ commanded baptizm (Mk. 16:16). Therefore, when we are obedient to this command, and all others that Christ has given, we are "children of God by faith in Christ Jesus."

(By Bob Barnes in the absence of Glen Pace

What high company; What a privilege to be held in the palm of the strong hand of God. No man dare trying to stand alone... to walk without Him. Just as surely, no man can fail when God is with him. "My Father, which gave them me, is greater than all; and no man is able to pluck them out of my Father's hand."

John 10:29. He has everybody in His Hand. He who would be wise should step upon the strong hand of God this day and take Him at his word. He said, "My grace is sufficient for thee."

Only trust Him. Help support His cause. Attend church every week and may the Lord ever be with thee.
