Lone Wolf Invitational Basketball tourney gets underway today with an entry list containing some of the top cage teams in West Texas.

Included in the group are Coleman, Stanton, Sweetwater, Westbrook, Merkel, Roscoe, Ballinger, Stamford, Coahoma and Colorado City.

Coleman has turned out possibly one of their greatest teams in history — one that is reported to have scored over 100 points in three games thus far this season.

Roscoe is one of the powers in Class A in this area.

Westbrook, led by high scoring Elmer McMahan, has an impressive won-lost record for the year.

Colorado City's Wolves bring a 5-3 record into the tourney with one of the losses coming at the hands of Sweetwater, another tournament entry.

Schedule for the opening day of action goes like this: Ballinger vs Stamford at 4:45 p.m.

Sweetwater vs Westbrook at 6 p.m.

Merkel vs Roscoe at 7:15 p.m.

Coahoma vs Colorado City at 8:30 p.m.

First game for Coleman and Stamford is set at 2 p.m. Friday when the two teams clash.

Remaining games Friday will come at 3:15 p.m., 4:30, 7 and 8:15 p.m.

Action will be hot and heavy all day Saturday with the consolation crown going up for grabs at 6:30 p.m. and the clash for the tourney crown coming at 8 p.m. Saturday night.

Based on prior action during the young season the spot would probably have to go to the Coleman Bluecats.

CHS Coach Caddo Matthews extended an invitation to all local and area basketball fans to attend any or all of the scheduled games.

"We have a good lineup of teams and feel that fans will find some exciting play throughout the tournament," Matthews commented.

Building's Fate Still Undecided

By JAMES ANDERSON
News Editor

Colorado City has officially lost its battle of the Texas National Guard upon recommendation of Col. Otto E. Scherz, battalion commander in San Angelo.

The local unit, whose members have been attending meetings with the Big Spring battery, will be merged into that group.

Col. Scherz and other National Guard officials were in Colorado City Monday night to meet with a citizens' group consisting of Mayor John Chinn, City Councilman C. C. Burt, Frank Deregibus and Tandy Curlee of the Chamber of Commerce, County Judge Elmer Martin and City Manager Ford Merritt.

Purpose of the meeting was for the National Guard representatives to hear any objections or comment considering the removal and closing of the local unit.

"I have recommended to the Adjutant General that federal recognition be withdrawn from the Colorado City unit and transferred to Big Spring," Scherz said.

He noted that his recommendation would remain the same regardless of local objections if there should be any. There were none.

Scherz said the meeting was requested by the Adjutant General in order to hear the opinions of local citizens and to handle the matter at the local level.

The battalion commander listed three reasons for the local unit shutdown including: (1) Control and record keeping with the merger there will be only one set of records to keep.

(2) Simplify training by getting all troops in one group.

(3) The government would save money by having only one armory in operation.

Speaking on the removal Merritt said, "I think we are only recognizing something that has already happened."

Local officials inquiring about the required strength of the Colorado City battery learned that it was two officers and 16 enlisted men.

At the present time there are six enlisted men from Colorado City meeting with the Big Spring unit.

Deregibus inquired as to the possibility of keeping the unit should the required number of men be found.

The Guard officials noted that current curtailment of enlistments in the National Guard would completely do away with any possibility of increasing the number of men in the Colorado City unit.

Scherz explained that the local problem was one being experienced by many towns of the approximate size of Colorado City. It was also brought out that the local facilities were inadequate for most training except for classroom work.

It was also brought out that each active unit needed a full time man to operate it due to strict security control over weapons and the requirement to take an inventory of the weapon stock each day.

Armory Talked
The big question on the minds of local officials was just what would happen to the armory building in Colorado City.

There has been some talk in the past as to the possibility of using the building to house the Historical Museum. Scherz explained that the State Armory Board owned the building and only leased it to the National Guard.

Approximate cost of remodeling the local armory years ago for National Guard use was $75,000. This cost was paid 75 percent by the federal government and 25 percent by the state government.

It was brought out that the federal government felt it had received full use of the building for the money invested.

The state still has a portion of the revenue bonds used to finance its portion, but the exact figure was not available.

Thus, it would be up to local officials to negotiate with the State Armory Board for the structure.

Wolves Drop Second Tilt

Colorado City lost a nip-and-tuck battle to the Snyder eagles 65-61 in a Wolf Gym battle Tuesday night.

Riley Tilley provided the last period impetus for the Wolves as he put on eight points to help the C-City cause.

Jerry Franks topped all scorers in the contest as he poured in 20 points for C-City. Mike Hillhouse hit 13 and Wayne Snowden contributed 10 points.

The score was knotted three times in the last period, but the Wolves could never quite catch up with the Tigers.

In the B-game Snyder whipped C-City 33-31.

Macca Findley topped local scorers with 11 points and Ronnie Wilson had five.

Antlerless Deer System Is Clarified

Unavoidable conflicts involving last minute deer population counts were explained by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

"The explanation was prompted by hunter and landowner problems primarily relating to necessarily belated issuance of antlerless deer permits."

The Department stated that some hunters have made yearly leases with landowners in areas where antlerless deer permits were previously issued, on the assumption permits would again be issued the following year.

Department's method of estimating deer populations dictate that the counts be carried out in early fall just prior to the hunting season.

Thus the Department is not in a position, under this method, to advise hunters where antlerless deer permits will be issued prior to completion of the counts.

In many instances, hunters renew existing leases or secure new leases immediately following the hunting season close. Others wait until mid-summer.

But it is noted almost all season leases are negotiated prior to the time when the quota for issuance of antlerless deer permits is established.

The Department suggested this explanation might avoid misunderstanding among both hunters and landowners.

WIN DISTRICT OPENER

Wallace In Overtime Victory With Quanah

Wallace boys and girls' basketball teams made a clean sweep of a pair of closely contested District 1-B games played with Quanah's Douglass High School cagers Saturday night in the Wallace Gym.

The Wallace boys edged the Quanah quintet, 77-75, in a see-saw battle which was not decided until the final buzzer. Wayne Russell and Melvin Williams paced the Wildcats with 25 and 24 points, respectively. Willie Brown had 14 with Curtis Taylor garnering 11, Kerry Campbell, two, and Don Irvin, one.

Don Simmons and A. V. Woods scored 23 each to lead the Quanah pointmakers.

A brilliant clutch-shooting performance by Duvie Green enabled the Wallace girls to nip the Quanah sextet, 56-53, in overtime. With her team trailing, 51-49, she dropped in two free throws three seconds before regulation play ended to tie the score, and then scored five points in the overtime to clinch the victory.

Mary Dickens of Quanah took game honors with 27 points, while Joyce Lewey led Wallace with 23. Duvie Green hit 18 for Wallace and Lonnie Williams meshed 11 before fouling out in the fourth period.

Trailing 23-22 after the first quarter, the Wallace boys pulled even, 42-42, at halftime. Quanah, however, thanks to the sharpshooting of Simmons and Woods outscored Wallace during the third period.

Diane James bagged four before moving to a guard position at halftime. Sandra Bracy replaced Lonnie Williams, while Linda Campbell and Patricia Williams performed creditably in guard positions after Florence Green, Doris Bender, and Evelyn Biggers went out on fouls.

The Wallace cagers, boys and girls, have 10 district records, being tied with Paducah and Floydada for first place. The Quanah teams have 0-2 records, while Cotton's cagers have 0-1 record.

Faced with the prospect of losing their first game of the season, the Wildcats rallied to tie the score, 65-65, on a left-handed hook shot by Melvin Williams. Moments later, Williams added another two-pointer, which sent the Wildcats ahead to stay.

Morris Asks Early Mail

Postmaster Arlene Morris is predicting a dramatic rise in mail volume over last year's Christmas "rush".

"Literally billions of pieces of mail will be delivered between now and Christmas. If everyone were to wait until the last week to mail their gifts and greetings, there is a possibility that the postal system would be literally swamped in a sea of mail. More important, special messages of good will would not be delivered on time. Public cooperation is the key to fast and on time mail delivery at this time of year," he said.

"In the past, the public has been very helpful. We have not reached the peak days of this mailing rush but are preparing to handle the load when it does arrive.

The postmaster's plea was short and to the point: "Shop early, mail early, and use ZIP Codes."

Feeding Experiment Shows Cost Rise

Research done at Texas A&M University's Coastal Bend Experiment Station indicates the cost of cat le feeding goes up considerably after the cattle have been on feed for 112 days.

Ed Neal and Bill Conrad say their tests show a sharp decrease in the conversion of feed to grain in the cattle after 112 days. Because of this factor, they say feeders should study marketing possibilities before extending feeding periods past the 112-day period.

Might be better to sell than to continue feeding.

CONVERSATION CORNER

THERE are all kinds of ways to tell when the Christmas season is in full flower, like a potted poinsettia . . . even without counting the days on the calendar on the wall . . . When a wife suddenly grows more affectionate is one sure sign of the time.

And when any wife repeats and repeats "I can't think of anything much I want for Christmas, I sure wish I had a new sweater, though. Cashmere, beige. Size 34. There just isn't much else I NEED," it's time for any husband to make a note of that.

WHEN a husband says, "Please don't spend any money on ME, this year. Now don't go and buy me a new top coat. Course I could use another weather-proof jacket and I can always use more white shirts," it's time for any wife to start memorizing sizes again.

When a child says "I want a camera, a microscope, a sleeping bag, a transistor, some books and games and stuff. Or maybe a little portable TV . . ." it's time for any parent to come up with "Choose ONE."

THOSE are just a few of the homefront signs. Actually, other signs are all over town.

When the shorter days grow dark and the Christmas lights sparkle like rubies and jade and sapphire over the streets . . .

When the train comes in later and later every morning . . .

When the stores are alive with shoppers, happy and harassed alike . . .

When there are lines at the parcel post window . . . and you can't find a parking place any place . . . it's getting time for Christmas.

THIS is also the season of the unexpected, the unpredictable signs of the season.

When the car insurance comes due . . . And the car needs the brakes reined all at once . . . when it's time to pay for the "mycin" drug prescribed for that last month cold . . . When the cat is looking for kittens . . .

When the plumbing goes perplunk and the TV is on a tear . . . When shoes suddenly wear out . . . and it's all at once time for that dental appointment . . . There's no need, really, to consult the calendar. Christmas is coming. It always happens.

Such small complications are annually a very reliable part of the schedule. Well? Christmas is supposed to be the season of surprises!

SEEN LATELYS, here, there and yonder, have been that nice-looking young couple named the Charles Arledges . . . Mrs. W. L. Joyce, one of the always-fun-to-talk-to ladies in this town, and her daughter Christine Eastwood.

Saw Marie Benson, wife of Acey and mother of Don, wearing a beautiful new blue Christmas hat . . . Billie Harrison, wife of Jimmie . . . Leonard Henderson . . . Young-looking Mr. and Mrs. Rodney James at church . . . Laura and Ruth Grantland having lunch downtown together . . . Bill Randle, too.

HEAR TELL that our Kitten Richardson, wife of Jake and mother of Bob, was to fly to Denver, Colorado, Thursday to be with Bob's wife Robin and "babysit" with grandsons Rick and Thad while Robin has minor surgery. Jake will join the family for the Christmas holidays in Denver. That reminds me to say that Nita Cantrell, wife of Clyde M. Cantrell, has flown to Denver to be near her husband who is seriously ill.

HARRY RATLIFF house is happy over the engagement and wedding plans of their younger son, Hubert Ratliff. It's coming up Dec. 23 in a Houston church. The bride is a graduate of Alabama University and teaches in Houston.

Perry Barber house is happy, too. Their second son James took a bride on Thanksgiving Day in Maryland. Perry Sr., his dad, is recovering at home from a recent illness so they didn't get to go. Perry Jr. represented the family and was best man. He and James are both lawyers like their Pop.

Laura Barber, daughter of the Perry Barbers, was home from Austin where she is a graduate student in English at the University of Texas, for the Thanksgiving recess. With her she brought another graduate student, Suzanne Strivings of Rochester, New York.

TWENTY-FOUR years to the day after Pearl Harbor — the day so many mothers died a little, inside — learned that another C-City lad is now headed for duty in Viet Nam.

C. A. Wilkins, Jr., captain and jet pilot in the Air Force, spent Thanksgiving saying "Adios" to his mother Lucille Trulock, her husband Oren and to the O. B. Trulocks, Jr. C. A.'s beautiful wife Marian and the children will live in San Antonio to be near her mother while the fighter pilot is away. He is due to be overseas a year.

He's a grad of MCK (Mrs. Coffey's Kindergarten) and used to star as soloist for "Little Buckaroo." Once more, and again, tempus fugit.

FAMILIAR FACES, various places, belonged to Marcella Fee (Mrs. Bob Sr.), Dale Geer (Mrs. A. L. Buck), Betty Ginzler (Mrs. Frank), Mrs. L. B. Gibson, wife of the Junior High principal, all spied at the Hesperian tea.

Also Ophelia Thomas (Mrs. Nat Sr.) of the L.T.N.S., long time no see, department . . . Neil Scott (Mrs. Bennett) . . . Isla Watson (Mrs. Jim) . . . Mattie Hines (Mrs. Witt) and Irene Graham (Mrs. Ralph).

Downtown scene brought in brief office visits from G. D. Foster who moved, recently, with Mrs. Foster to their spacious new home . . . Margaret Oylar . . . Doris Montgomery Carter (Mrs. Bill F.) . . . Clem Myers . . . Forgot to say that Trevor Crawford, our former mayor, now of Coahoma and Cosden (in Big Spring) was over for a recent visit, too.

P.S. When every Sunday School Class, every club, every school room, and every organization of any kind is making plans for special Christmas party . . . it's that time of the year again.

When the social calendar for Saturday has Lions Club chili feast (library benefit) a square dance by Do-Si-Do members in Community Center, also to benefit the county library . . . AND a reception for Roberta Craddock . . .

When your Christmas shopping is not even begun — much less finished . . . and you're about to meet yourself coming back . . . it's nearly here again. THE day. Rudolph the red-nosed reindeer May find me still downtown this year.

Good Start . . .

Driving by the Colorado High campus these days, one can see a beehive of activity concerned with the construction of part of the new facilities in the school expansion building program.

Already underway is work on vocational shops and an extension to Wolf Gym. Also, the ground is almost cleared for the beginning of work on the cafeteria-library-study hall combination structure.

Progress is reported to be coming along fine on all phases of the initial building in the project.

This is a big step forward as a part of the program to bring local schools up to par with the best around. And it is truly a community effort of school and administration officials, plus a great many local citizens interested in the well-being of our youngsters' opportunities.

Thornton-Barber Vows Repeated In Maryland

In a candlelight ceremony at eight in the evening of November 25, Miss Nancy Lee Thornton became the bride of James Conner Barber.

The couple pledged their wedding vows in University of Maryland West Chapel, College Park, Maryland, with the Rev. B. Ross Morrison, of Wheaton, Maryland, as officiant for the double ring rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Williamson, Jr. of Greensboro, Maryland. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Perry O. Barber of Colorado City.

Altar of the chapel was decorated with wedding tapers and marked by a fan-shaped arrangement of gladioluses and chrysanthemums.

Escorted by Mr. Williamson the bride wore a formal gown fashioned of white brocade in a rose pattern, designed with a fitted bodice, a scoop neckline, long pointed sleeves. Skirt of the dress was straight in front with a bow enhancing the back of the waistline over unpressed pleats which swept into a chapel-length train. Her veil of silk tulle illusion was fastened to a small crown of seed pearls. She carried a crescent of feathered white carnations.

Miss Virginia Newman Corbett, friend of the bride of Arlington, Virginia, was maid of honor. Her floor-length gown had a gold brocade bodice of rose pattern, designed on empire lines with a skirt of pale yellow crepe. Crepe also fashioned the bow at the waist and the chapel train. Her headpiece was a Dior bow of gold brocade, her flowers a crescent of feathered carnations of pastel yellow.

Mother of the bride, Mrs. Williamson, wore a dress of pale green, fashioned with a lace top and a skirt of crepe. Her flowers were yellow carnations.

Perry Oscar Barber, Jr., of Alexandria, Virginia, attended his brother as best man. Usher for the wedding was Rowland Cook, of Washington, D. C., friend of the bridegroom.

Wedding soloist, James Blalock, of Silver Spring, Maryland, sang "Whither Thou Goest, Wedding Prayer and The Lord's Prayer." Organist was Mrs. Florence Labin, also of Silver Spring.

Parents of the bride entertained the wedding party and guests at a reception in the Landover House, in Alexandria, Virginia.

For a wedding trip to Williamsburg, Virginia, the bride traveled in a costume suit of blue-green wool worn with brown accessories.

The couple will live at 3201 Landover St., in Alexandria, Virginia. Mr. Barber, a graduate of the University of Texas School of Law, is at present employed in the Veterans Administration Department in Washington, D. C., but expects to enter the United States Navy in March.

His bride is a graduate of the University of Maryland.

Self Culture Members Study Life Of Mozart

Mrs. E. L. Tiller hosted the Friday Dec. 3 meeting of Self Culture Study Club members for a program "Behold the Beautiful Through Music."

Director of the afternoon's program was Mrs. A. A. Herrington. Members answered to roll call with "My Favorite Singer."

Speaker for the main topic, "The Life of Mozart," was Mrs. Sam Armstrong, who read a biography of the famous composer, born at Salzburg in Austria, in 1756, the son of a musician.

"A child prodigy who played the harpsichord when he was three, played concerts for emperors at six, and had his first composition published at seven, Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart had composed sonatas, concertos, chamber music, symphonies, church music, cantatas, an opera and an operetta by the time he was 13-years-old," Mrs. Armstrong said.

Mozart's "Figaro" was first performed in 1786 and "Don Giovanni" in 1787, Mrs. Armstrong reminded club members. "Così Fan Tutti!" was produced in 1790, "The Magic Flute," the following year. Then Mozart, depressed, financially worried and sick, began "Requiem," she told club members.

Mozart died of typhus, after instructing his pupil Susmayr how to finish "Requiem," Mrs. Armstrong's paper concluded.

"The composer — in his youth the favorite of kings — the man who gave to the world most wonderful examples of pure music — was buried in a pauper's grave," she said.

Club members, in a business session with Mrs. Earl Brown presiding, decided to adopt several Christmas projects: money for gifts at both Big Spring State Hospital and McKnight Sanatorium; and candy and apples for children at Wallace School. Members will also provide holiday gifts for a needy child.

After the formal program a round table discussion was held. Mrs. L. A. Strain, recounted highlights of her recent trip to Hawaii.

The hostess served cake and coffee to a former member, Mrs. Charles Wakefield, now of Abilene; to Mrs. John Brown, Mrs. Earl Brown, Mrs. Tom Grant, Mrs. Herrington, Mrs. Leslie A. Keith, Mrs. Leroy Gressett, Mrs. Paul Beeman, Mrs. Armstrong, and Mrs. Strain.

"Through the Light of Christmas," program set for Dec. 17, will be presented in the home of Mrs. Earl Brown, club president. Mrs. Tiller will be program director. Mrs. John Brown will review "The Light of Christmas," and Miss Ruth Hightower will play favorite themes from Handel's "Messiah."

Winsome Class Plans Light Entry

Winsome Sunday School Class, Calvary Baptist Church decided in a recent meeting to take part in the "Light a Window" contest to be sponsored during the holiday season by local Jaycees.

Mrs. Jimmy Bolin and Mrs. Rodgers will head the "Light a Window" decorating committee.

Members also decided to work in the church parsonage, Dec. 3.

Mrs. Orville Griffith led the devotional period prayer. Mrs. Bobby Joines presented the study, "What Is Christmas?"

Christmas presents were exchanged and holiday refreshments served by the hostess to Mrs. O'Neal Bloom, Mrs. Conrad Buchanan, Mrs. Wayne Claxton, Mrs. Jerry Kraatz, Mrs. Charles Ritchey, Mrs. Eldon Ruffin, and Mmes. Christon, Bolin, Rodgers, Joines, and Griffith.

Theis graduated from Colorado City in 1962 and attended A & M University and San Angelo College before entering the Navy Sept. 30, 1965.

Hesperian Study Club Tea Hour Features 'Roses In December'

Hesperian Study Club, first organized here in 1892, celebrated with a "Roses in December" tea, Friday afternoon, honoring members of the Hesperian Daughters Study Club, in Medallion Room at Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative Building.

Also honored were three Hesperian Members of long-standing, all three of whom served the club as presidents between 1916 and 1920.

They are Mrs. Edgar Majors, Hesperian president in 1916-17; Mrs. Everett Winn, whose presidential term was for the club year 1918-19; and Mrs. Sam Wulfjen, 1919-20 club president.

Theme of the program was built around a quotation from Barrie, "God gave us memories so that we might have roses in December."

Leader for the afternoon tea program was Mrs. Bennett Scott, president of the club this year.

All former members of the Hesperian Club were invited as special guests for the afternoon.

Mrs. F. N. Thomas, Sr., greeted guests at the door. Mrs. J. W. Watson introduced them to Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Winn, Mrs. Majors, and Mrs. Wulfjen in the formal receiving line. Mrs. Witt Hines presided at the guest registry table, decorated with a giant chrysanthemum and a single red bow.

Presiding at the silver tea service was Mrs. Ralph Graham. Assisting in serving refreshments were Mrs. O. L. Simpson and Mrs. J. E. Hale. Tea table, laid with a white Madeira linen cloth, was centered with an arrangement of white gladioluses.

Music in the reminiscing mood was played by Miss Ruth Hightower, guest pianist. Miss Hightower also accompanied Mrs. J. C. Garrett who sang "Memories" and "Dear Old Girl."

Mrs. J. A. Sadler Sr. presented a gift from the Hesperian Club to each of the three early-day members, Mrs. Majors, Winn and Wulfjen. The trio were presented with copies of "Flowers That Never Fade," by Levon Brownlow.

As each of the former "Before 1920" presidents was presented, she responded with "Reminiscences."

Mrs. Majors recounted the history of the Hesperian Club, the name of which means, she said, "Western." The club is second oldest study club still active, in the Texas State Federation of Women's Clubs. The club was federated in 1897 and joined the General Federation (national organization) in 1927. First yearbooks were printed in 1901-02.

"Meetings were held every Friday at 3 o'clock," Mrs. Majors remembered, "and members would stay until the lamps were lighted and it was dark outside. . . . They were always served a regular dinner with dessert — talk, quail on toast, turkey, deer, chicken, beignets, oysters, cheese straws, scalloped oysters. Last meeting of the year members staged a reception and attended dressed as a character from Shakespeare (the club's major early-day study)."

Mrs. Majors became a Hesperian Study Club member in 1910, two years before her marriage. Her club history included a graphic account of World War I work done by the club — sewing, knitting, rolling bandages, working in the Red Cross room. She also reviewed the beginning of the Federation Library, now the Mitchell County Library.

Mrs. Winn, who joined the club as a bride in 1914, said "I soon found out the club was one to make one do by doing. . . . I don't ever remember in early days, a quiet snapper. Club members had to fill the program."

Later, after discussing the important role of the club circle, she said "We adopted two rural schools each year. Two members were sent to visit them every month and were given assigned topics for speeches to make to the schools. I'll never forget how scared I was the first time!"

Among other reminiscence facts given by Mrs. Winn were "We sponsored the first traveling Art Show. It came out by express on the train and we staged it at the high school. . . . We gave a silver tea to help pay for a piano at the high school. . . . We talked and talked hot lunches for schools. . . . We wanted a park on the T&P depot grounds, but the railroad said 'no water'. . . . We favored good roads and helped the city in a cleanup campaign. "I well remember the first time I entertained the club. While the 60 questions about Shakespeare were going on, a friend and I fried 22 quail, made hot coffee and biscuits," Mrs. Winn said.

Early-day Members Honored by Hesperian

Mrs. Sam Wulfjen, left, Mrs. Everett Winn, center, and Mrs. Edgar Majors, at right, were honored by members of the Hesperian Study Club Friday at a 'Roses in December Tea.' The three are pioneer members of the study club and each served as Hesperian president before 1920. Program hour at the tea featured talks by the three honored members who gave lively accounts of the club's early days.

Mrs. Wulfjen, long recognized as the club wit, made of her speech a "take off" on her knowledge of Shakespeare, as warned since she became a Hesperian.

"Shakespeare was way out," she said, as she launched into a merry review of Macbeth then Othello. Her condensed versions sparked with contemporary comparisons of human behavior.

Mrs. Wulfjen, who became a Hesperian in 1914, told two of the club's favorite "member jokes." The first concerned the member who introduced her niece by reminding members that her guest "has been educated in the cemetery (seminary) for four years."

The second was about one of Mrs. J. G. Merritt's sons who told his grandmother, "I know where I was born. It was at home while mama was at the Hesperian Club."

Her humorous account of "horse and buggy club days," was climaxed with a rhyme which Mrs. Wulfjen said "fits the occasion today." The rhyme, author unknown, was "I don't miss my bifocals, my dentures are fine, I am used to my wrinkles. . . . But I sure miss my mind!"

Present at the tea were former Hesperian members, Miss Clydine Stickney, Mrs. Sam L. Majors, Sr., Mrs. J. L. Pidgeon, Mrs. Oscar Majors, Mrs. H. B. Broddus, Mrs. W. R. Motley, Sr., Mrs. Claude E. Cogswell, Mrs. Bill Coffey and Miss Louise Hardison.

Hesperian Daughters Study Club members attending were Mrs. L. B. Gibson, Mrs. Warren Costin, Mrs. A. L. Geer, Mrs. R. F. Fee, Sr., Mrs. D. W. Albright and Mrs. Frank Ginzel.

Members of the host club there were Mrs. Graham, Mrs. Lynn Halbert, Mrs. Hale, Mrs. Hines, Mrs. Sadler, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Simpson, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Watson, Mrs. Winn, Mrs. M. E. Miller.
