FORTY-FIRST WEEK

Ever wonder how "Son-of-a-Gun" managed to come up with such commentaries on people, places, and events? We did so last week we "talked him into" writing a column for us. We waited until he was deep in the throes of creative work and we got one of those rare photographs—a picture of genius at work.

Then was when we discovered his secret column-writing formula—you've gotta hold your mouth just right.

Mayor Schwiening Proclaims Clean Up Week July 21 - 26

an editorial

Cleanliness Is Next To Godliness

By Rev. Alanson Brown

We have all heard this saying until it has become meaningless, however, let us examine its real meaning.

The simple meaning is that because of man's divine origin he owes his Creator, himself and others respect enough not to live like pigs! Cleanliness therefore is an expression of honor due the Creator out of gratitude for the blessings of this life. Cleanliness is an expression indicating that we realize the dignity and worth of man.

Now let's get specific. Sonora is a good community to live in or many of us would not live here. By and large this is true. But like the human beings we are we get used to such things as they are and we don't notice the cluttered rear view of Main Street. In the hustle and bustle of daily business boxes, etc. accumulate around back doors and soon the rear view of Main Street has a cluttered aspect.

Drive down any street and the likelihood is that you will see vacant lots grown up in weeds. Such places are hazards for our children. The weeds may conceal broken glass, beer cans, and snakes all lurking to cause injury to children playing in such areas.

We like our town better than this. We like it better than to let it look to others like we don't care. We do care and next week, July 21-26, the Lion's Club is promoting CLEAN-UP WEEK in Sonora. Let's every one of us straighten-up and clean-up that vacant lot next door, or that mess around the back door, or whatever mess around your place that needs attention.

City Wide Clean Up To Begin Monday

Sonora's first clean-up campaign in several years will get under way Monday July 21 and continue through Saturday July 26. The city wide clean-up is being sponsored by the Sonora Lions Club. The Rev. Alanson Brown has been selected to head the campaign.

Citizens are urged to make a special effort in cleaning vacant lots, alleyways, and garbage can areas. Full cooperation from city officials has been assured. Do your part.

Mayor Sets Clean-Up Week

WHEREAS, all civic minded citizens are interested in having their city present a clean and beautiful appearance to visitors and residents alike, and

WHEREAS, we all share a concern for the health and sanitary conditions of our city, and

WHEREAS, we are desirous of maintaining our low fire insurance rates through elimination of unnecessary hazards in the form of tall grass and weeds,

NOW THEREFORE, I, Alfred Schwiening, Mayor of the City of Sonora, do proclaim July 21 through July 26 City Clean Up Week in Sonora and urge all citizens to participate in its observance by cleaning up the premises of their residences and any and all other of their property in the City.

Signed: Alfred Schwiening

Little League All-Stars To Play Ozona Monday

A Sonora team of Little League All-Stars will travel to Ozona Monday night to participate in the Ozona Tournament at 8 p.m. The Sonora team will meet Ozona in the first round of the tourney. The winner of this game will play the winner of the Del Rio-Bracketville game which is scheduled for 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Team managers of the four Sonora teams selected the all-star group from their 11 and 12 year old members.

JUDGE JOE GREENHILL HERE ON VISIT JUNE 28

Judge Joe Greenhill of Travis County visited here Saturday, June 28, in the interest of his candidacy for the Texas Supreme Court.

Judge Greenhill is currently serving on the court by appointment and is seeking his first elective term.

He said he was campaigning in as many parts of the state as his court duties would allow.

Blakley Wants Red Tape Cut For Braceros

McAllen, Texas, June 13, 1958.—A bracero program unhampered by federal red tape was advocated here Thursday by William A. Blakley, candidate for the U. S. Senate and he blamed "outside labor organizing influence" for delays presently interfering with an efficient program.

"Farmers all over Texas need help and are unable to get it," he told a crowd of about 75 persons who attended a reception at the Casa de Palmas Hotel.

He advocated a coordinated bracero program which would provide a supply of Mexican farm hands for work in Texas when needed, where an adequate number of workers cannot be obtained from the domestic labor market and he emphasized "I think it can be done."

Out-of-state labor bosses, in their efforts to unionize farm labor are contributing to the current critical shortage of farm workers, he said.

"It has been proven," he added, "that domestic labor surpluses are not interested, for the most part, in agricultural work. Therefore the bracero program is a necessity for Texas farmers and it should not be hamstrung by red tape."

In 1901 he married the former Miss Ethel Heald, and the couple moved to California for one year, and returned to San Angelo.

He is survived by a daughter; four sisters; two brothers, including Dr. E. M. deBerry of Sonora.

Mariam La Cour Selected Miss Wool Of Texas For 1958

Surprised almost to the point of tears, Miss Miriam LaCour was crowned Miss Wool of Texas for 1958 Tuesday night in San Angelo. Miriam, a shapely 5' 7" brunette from Raywood, Texas was almost unbelieving when Mrs. Adolph Stieler, Texas Sheep and Goat Raiser Auxiliary president, and Jimmy Powell, chairman of TS&GRA's Wool Promotion Committee, announced the judges decision, in the dressing-room back stage in San Angelo High School's auditorium. The 10 other contestants added to the excitement with their congratulations.

Fifteen minutes late Miriam, radiant in a strapless pink wool crepe formal, was crowned by TS&GRA president T. A. Kincaid, Jr., of Ozona and was presented a bouquet of cerise carnations.

The coronation climaxed three days of activity in which the 11 girls were judged by a 11 member team of men and women from the sponsoring organization. A capacity crowd of 1,200 persons were present and an estimated 1,000 had to be turned away.

The 11 girls arrived Sunday from all sections of the state. Their stay in San Angelo was spent in interviews with judges, fittings, talent exhibitions, and rehearsals. The judges began their work on Saturday, completing their plans for the coronation. Then followed three days of observation of candidates, and consideration of such points as poise, grooming table manners, adaptability to various situations, personality, knowledge of or aptitude for acquiring knowledge of the wool industry, dignity, beauty and posture.

The 11 girls, 5 blondes, 1 redhead and 5 brunettes, represented towns and cities in all parts of Texas. They were Miriam LaCour of Raywood, Jeanne Rosser (alternate) of Abilene, Glenda Eldredge of El Paso, Shyrle Grisham of Blanco, Sharron Hoff and Madge Hall of Dallas, Barbara Slay of Houston, Carelean Douglas of Corpus Christi, Faye Johnson of Waco, Charlotte Hunt of San Antonio, and Yvonne Skinner of Lubbock.

Miriam, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. LaCour will be Texas' candidate for the first National Miss Wool Contest to be held August 29 in San Angelo.

Miriam LaCour, shapely (36-24-36) brunette from Raywood, Texas, is crowned Miss Wool of Texas for 1958 by TS&GRA President T. A. Kincaid, Jr., of Ozona. Miriam will represent Texas in the National Miss Wool Contest next month.

Pioneer Gathering To Construct Carbon Dioxide Removal Plant

Pioneer Gathering System, Inc., Amarillo, today announced plans to construct a carbon dioxide plant near Sonora. The announcement was made by Burton P. Smith, president of the company.

To be built on a tract 20 miles northwest of Sonora, the plant will remove carbon dioxide and hydrogen sulfide gases from natural gas sold to Permian Basin Pipeline Company. Located on Pioneer Gathering's Main transmission line, the plant will process natural gas from the Clayton Ranch, Addie and Vinegaron gas fields.

The plant will have the capacity to process approximately 12,000,000 cubic feet of sour gas per day, and will be built on a 20-acre plot in Section 4, Blk. "D", G. G. & S. F. Survey in Schleicher County.

In connection with the plant, a dehydration plant will also be built at this location. The removal and dehydration plan will both be designed for automatic operation. For power drives, natural gas engines will be used throughout the plant.

Design and construction contracts have been let to Baird and Company of Tulsa, Oklahoma and work on the plant will begin around August 15. The plant is expected to be in operation on or about December 1, 1958.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

Your editorial in the issue of July 3 of your paper makes commendable mention of two of Sutton County's native sons for their being worthy and honorable for seeking high government offices and at certain sacrifices to themselves. All of which I heartily endorse.

But in the same issue you publish as front page news about another of Sutton's sons and one of its citizens being ordained into some form of ministry to the church. Also on another page mention is made of another native son entering a certain school to begin preparation for ordination. And do not this latter trio also have to make personal sacrifices? So I would just ask if you do not think one group is just as worthy of editorial commendation as the other?

Perhaps the action of each group and the fact of all having to make great sacrifices, or at least putting themselves in a position where they are likely to be called on to do so may be significant of something or other.

Perhaps Mr. Edwin S. Mayer or others could enlarge on that significance.

Yours very truly,
Name Available On Request.

(We are certain that neither the Rev. Mr. Aldwell nor the Rev. Mr. Puckett nor Thomas Bond, Jr., feels that he has made or will make any personal sacrifice in entering the ministry. The two newly ordained Deacons feel that it is a privilege to be among those called to serve God through teaching and preaching His word, and we are sure Mr. Bond shares the same feeling. Editor.)

Devil's River Philosopher Wonders If Alaska Knows What She's Doing In Wanting To Become 49th State

Editor's Note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-weed ranch on Devil's River has a new slant on the Alaskan problem, his letter this week reveals. Dear editor:

As I understand it from reading the newspapers the last few weeks, Alaska finally has won the right to become a state. Congress has passed the necessary bill, and President Eisenhower has signed it. Now all that's left is for the people of Alaska to vote to come in, and they'll be the 49th state.

However, I've been thinking about this matter pretty thoroughly and I'd like to ask: You reckon those Alaskans know what they're doing?

Understand, it's mighty nice to be a part of the United States, it's nice to be a state, to get Federal grants, to get to send Senators and Congressmen to Washington and to vote on presidents, but has Alaska gone into the other aspects of this proposition?

For example, take debts. The United States is reputed to be a rich country, but you've got to remember in some places they measure a rich man by the amount of money he owes. I don't want to discourage those Alaskans, but one 49th of what the United States owes may put a different light on the benefits of statehood.

Dear Sir:

I agree with you that exceedingly long delays in having your long distance calls completed are inconvenient and irritating and we regret the situation very much. It was brought about, however, by circumstances more or less beyond our control.

Moreover, have they considered taxes? States rights is a fine theory but have those Alaskans figured how many acres of snow and ice it'll take to produce enough tax money to build some roads, some schools, court houses, a state capitol, a governor's house? Have they figured how much it costs to run a legislature, with a state supreme court, welfare office, assorted bureaus and departments, and other necessary endeavors of a state?

On the other hand, I don't see any reason for assuming those Alaskans are any better than the rest of us, and I for one say, come on in, Help tote the load. Taking in more states may be the only answer to our problems, and if anybody else, say Hawaii or any unhappy portions of Canada, Old Mexico, or any place else wants in, get in line.

The way I see it is, every new state we get, that's just another endorser on our note.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Mr. and Mrs. Libb Wallace will return home this weekend after spending the month touring the western states with Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Gibbs of Fort Worth.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

In order to expand our long distance facilities for the Sonora area we found it necessary, in cooperation with the Bell Telephone Company, to rearrange our toll line facilities near the city limits of San Angelo at the junctions of the Eden and Sonora highways. This work was started in the first week of June and was not completed until the first week of July. For short periods during that time Sonora had only four circuits in service. This was due to the fact that it was necessary to change transpositions in the toll lines, and while this was being done service interruptions were unavoidable. We are very sorry this work had to be done at that time. It could not have been deferred, however, due to our commitments with the Bell Company which enabled us to expand our facilities and furnish Sonora ultimately with ten toll circuits next year.

Sonora is at this time operating with seven toll circuits. A recent toll circuit usage study indicated we were handling only a five circuit load on the Sonora

New Senate Hand Aided Democrats

When William A. Blakley was appointed to the U. S. Senate in 1957, he was a political unknown in Texas. But Washington awaited his arrival with great interest. So close was the party balance in the Senate that Blakley's vote was the difference between Democratic and Republican control.

True to his Democratic tradition, Bill Blakley voted with his fellow Democrats. They have been in control ever since.

Now Bill Blakley seeks his first elective term in the U. S. Senate. A vote for Blakley is a vote for sound, Democratic government.

toll circuits. With seven toll circuits we feel Sonora subscribers should be able to receive the best possible long distance service.

Sonora has been connected with the national intertoll dial network and all long distance calls to your city are coming in over these facilities. Outgoing calls from Sonora still are being handled by the Sonora operator.

We appreciate your patience and consideration and hope this explanation will help you to understand that we are endeavoring to give Sonora the best possible service and that we regret very much the inconvenience you have experienced. It was necessary, however, to enable us to improve and expand our facilities. Very truly yours,

John E. Robbins, Jr.
Division Manager, General Telephone Co.

(It is a real load off our shoulders to know that our service has been enlarged and improved. It is now possible to receive an incoming call in as few as five hours after it is placed. This is a real improvement, Mr. Robbins. Especially when the incoming call we refer to was a death message coming from a not-too-distant West Texas town. Maybe there is a loose screw in that machine that makes your "toll circuit usage study". Editor)

Smoking Habit Is Fault Of Sir Walter

It all started with Sir Walter Raleigh and a Y-shaped pipe.

The pipe was a gift to Raleigh from Sir Francis Drake—a souvenir from the West Indies, where natives put the pipe prongs in their nostrils and inhaled the smoke of a smoldering substance they called "tabaco."

Raleigh apparently set the style of his day, for when he took up smoking the practice soon became fashionable. All this happened nearly 400 years ago—in 1586. Since then smoking has become the most deeply ingrained habit of humanity.

Today in the United States alone, more than half the men and a fourth of the women smoke cigarettes daily, and additional millions smoke pipes and cigars. Altogether it adds up to almost 40,000,000 smokers—26,000,000 men and 14,000,000 women—out

Hold Onto Those Old 48-Star Flags Says Fisher

WHAT ABOUT THE FLAG, now that Alaska is coming in? The make-up of the new flag will be decided later, probably by a commission. The last change was made in 1912, and was decided by a special board, headed by Admiral Dewey. Congress can, of course, legislate on this but it is more likely the President will make the decision, probably through a commission he would appoint.

But what to do with the 40 million old flags is being asked. They may continue to be used even though a new one with 49 stars is okayed. In fact, under the law it would be appropriate to fly a flag with only 13 stars, since it was once the recognized flag of our country.

So, let's hold on to those old flags. They are good souvenirs to keep, and they will continue to be just as appropriate and useful as they ever were.

of an adult population of approximately 50,000,000.

The seriousness of the smoking habit has been made clear in a recently finished study by the National Institutes of Health. Results of the study, already widely publicized, indicates a strong and undeniable relationship between cigarette smoking and increased death rates from lung cancer and heart disease.

The studies reveal a death rate among cigarette smokers 58 percent greater than the rate for non-smokers. Moreover, it shows that heavy smokers die off quicker than light smokers.

In addition to lung cancer and heart diseases, smokers run a much greater risk of dying from such diseases as bronchitis, pleurisy, ulcers, and cirrhosis of the liver.

The connection between cigarette smoking and high death

Beneficial To Fishermen

By Vern Sanford

One of the most thrilling sights I've ever seen on the water is the shrimp boats coming in. Recently at Port Aransas I watched these trawls, one after another, moving slowly but majestically through the pass to make their way in or out between the bay waters and the Gulf.

As each loaded boat moved through the pass it was followed by literally thousands of gulls. They have learned they can pick up the dead shrimp being knocked off the boats. They are an enthusiastic welcoming committee.

Hundreds of these boats work through the Aransas Pass in season, and the season is when shrimping is good. Otherwise rates has been so definitely proved that cigarettes would probably be banned for public sale if introduced as a new product on today's market.

The British Ministry of Health for some time has been warning about the hazards of smoking. Now the U. S. Public Health Service has begun a similar campaign.

The Texas State Department of Health will support such a drive to the fullest.

The late Dr. William Mayo used to say that cigarettes, cigars and pipes were nothing more nor less than "adult pacifiers," something for idle hands to play with. If true, breaking the smoking habit probably isn't as hard as it is supposed to be.

Should you, personally, make the effort? That's your decision. But while you're making it, keep in mind that the best research talent in the world is convinced that heavy smoking shortens life.

they are tied to moorings, or docked in the basin at Aransas Pass or some other Texas port.

You might wonder what this has to do with an outdoors column. It has plenty to do, because shrimping, in one form or another, has so much to do with our whole coastal fishing program.

Naturally shrimping is a major commercial operation on the Texas coast, from Port Arthur to Brownsville. Shrimp, likewise, is one of the principal baits to be found on the coast.

Admittedly not too much is known for sure about the shrimp, except they are getting in shorter supply every year. There are many reasons for this, and these reasons all affect the salt water fisherman. Take the shrimp out of our Texas bays and we no longer have trout, red fish and many others that we now take on rod and reel.

Take the shrimp out and commercial netting also is shot, in the coastal water, and millions will not have fish for their tables.

I know practically nothing

Blakley Story Is Typically Texan

The typical American story is of the poor boy who made good through his own efforts. This is the story of Bill Blakley, born in a covered wagon while his parents were on their way to homestead in Oklahoma territory. He has come a long way in 59 years. Said the Austin American-Statesman, when William A. Blakley announced for the Senate:

"... He was a top-hand cowboy; he was a crackerjack bank clerk; he was an exceptionally good accountant and lawyer. We have an idea that he is going to be a refreshing, able political candidate. He would make a great United States Senator."

Vote for Bill Blakley on July 26 — an able man whose only ambition is to serve all of Texas.

FOR THE
TEXAS SUPREME COURT

A statewide poll of the legal profession, conducted by the State Bar of Texas, shows the vote to be:

JOE GREENHILL 5,844 votes
His Opponent 1,727

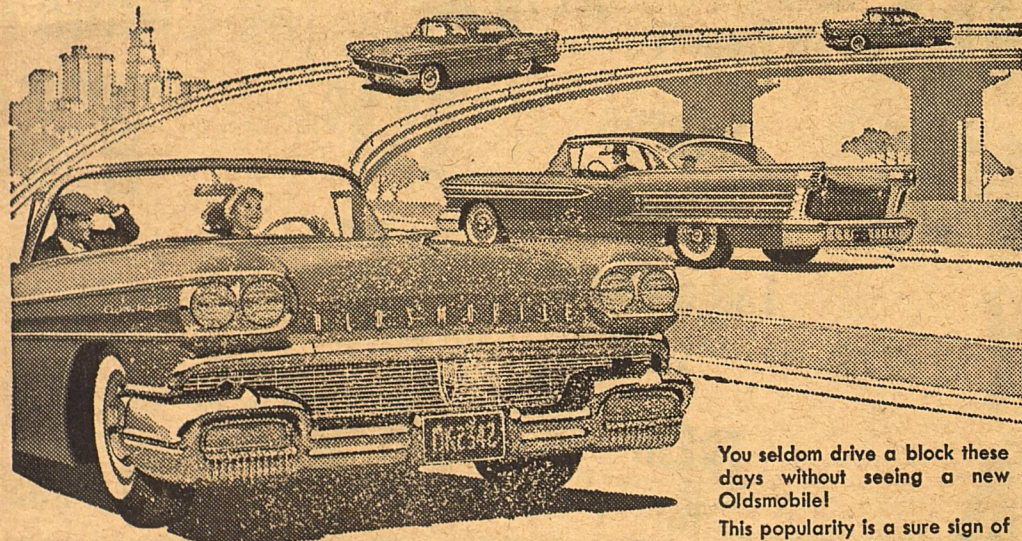

This is the overwhelming verdict of members of the candidates' own profession after carefully weighing their qualifications and experience, studying their record and considering their judicial temperament and personal integrity.

The lawyers of Texas have thus joined farmers, ranchers, merchants, laborers, businessmen and other professional people in supporting the candidacy of Judge JOE GREENHILL because all of them want to keep a fair, honest and sincere judge on the Texas Supreme Court.

There is no substitute for experience. Joe Burkett, Jr., candidate for State Representative, has had more than six years of active, effective and constructive service as a legislator. He has fought for clean and economical government; he has sponsored and fought for efficient and better soil and water conservation measures; he has faithfully, actively and effectively represented the best interests of his district and of Texas; he has had an unblemished record as a legislator representing his district, and there has been and is no complaint of his excellent service. Yvonne Chavers Bride Of Darcy Carroll In Church Rites Here Saturday

Mrs. Darcy Carroll

Miss Yvonne Chavers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hightower, became the bride of Darcy Carroll, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Carroll, Saturday at four o'clock in St. Ann's Catholic Church, with Father Godfrey Blane performing the double ring ceremony.

The church was decorated with baskets of white gladioli and majestic daisies and the altar pieces were arrangements of white gladioli and majestic daisies. The family pews were marked with white satin ribbon and majestic daisies.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white net over taffeta with a fitted lace bodice and cap sleeves. The full ballerina length skirt was trimmed with lace medallions and the elbow length veil fell from a crown of pearls. She carried a fan shaped bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids, stephanotis shower and lace and pearl streamers.

Miss Lavada Brochmeyer of Baytown was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Carole Palmer of Houston, cousin of the groom, Miss Charline Neill of Austin, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. B. M. Halbert, III. Their dresses were fashioned of blue nylon organza over net with full waltz length skirts. They wore matching head bands and blue shoes. They carried bouquets fashioning parasols of white net, lace and carnations.

Rebecca Darcy of Houston, cousin of the groom was flower girl. She wore a white organdie dress with blue sash. Her head band was fashioned of carnations and she carried a basket of flower petals.

Miss Yvonne Davis was organist. Arthur Carroll served as his sons best man. Groomsman were Albert Ward of Waco, Turney Friess and Tracy Crites. Billy Bob Ellingson of San Angelo and Glen Hay were ushers.

Mrs. Hightower, mother of the bride, wore a dior blue, peau d'oe dress with matching blue shoes. Her head dress was a blue veil and flowers, and her corsage was made of white agapanthus and fleur de amor. The groom's mother, Mrs. Carroll, wore a champagne lace frock with matching shoes and hat. Her corsage was made of pink rose buds.

A reception at Ka-Bar followed the wedding ceremony.

Receiving with the bride and groom were Mrs. Hightower, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll, and members of the wedding party. Mrs. Lee Price of Dallas and Mrs. Andy Moore served. Others in the party were Misses Nancy Wilson, Rex Ann Baker, Janice Glasscock, Betty Sue Fields, Mrs. Granville Barker, Mrs. Mack Cauthorn and Mrs. Albert Ward.

Out-of-town guests, not already mentioned, included Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Darcy of Monterey, Calif., Scotty and Dianne Darcy of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Starkey of Seguin, Joseph George of San Antonio, Misses Bertha, Julia and Susie George of Floresville, Mrs. Grace Palmer of Houston and Lee Price of Dallas.

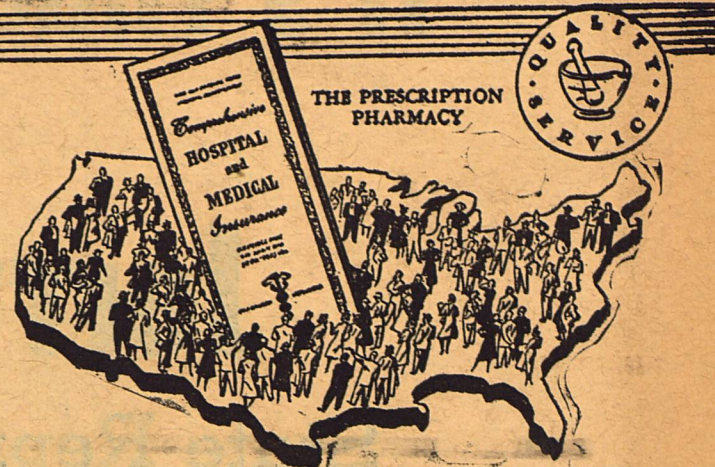

Pre-Nuptial Party Honors Bride

Miss Charline Neill and Mrs. B. M. Halbert, III were hostesses for the bridesmaids dinner given at the A. B. Hightower home Thursday evening.

The bride's table was covered with a white cut-work cloth and centered with a square arrangement of daisies surrounding a miniature bride and groom.

Attending the dinner were Misses Carole Palmer, Rex Ann Baker, Janice Glasscock, Betty Sue Fields, Mmes. Grace Palmer, Arthur Carroll, A. B. Hightower, the honoree and the hostesses.

The Harold Friess ranch was the scene for the bachelors dinner and Albert Ward of Waco, Turney Friess and Tracy Crites were hosts.

THE GREATEST MODERN MOVEMENT Toward Improved Health

More than one-third of our nation's people voluntarily and freely pay for medical or hospital care in advance through cooperative insurance plans. This is probably the greatest voluntary movement toward improved health and welfare in the history of the world.

Every phase of this activity is laudable. The cooperation of industry and its employees, and the foresight of breadwinners to invest money in their families' health in advance of actual need, are evidence of progress. Active participation of the medical profession is evidence of its stature.

The desire for improved health, and the newly found personal pride and dignity of the individual are universal; and you may depend upon us, as upon your physician, in the achievement of these objectives for your family.

Arrangements of carnation were featured in room and table decorations.

Guests included A. B. Hightower, Arthur Carroll, Glen Hay, Billy Bob Ellingson and the guest of honor, Darcy Carroll.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hightower were hosts for the rehearsal dinner given in their home Friday evening. Arrangements of summer flowers were featured in the decorating scheme and approximately 35 guests were present.

REUNION HELD AT BRADY

Descendants of the Owens family held their reunion in Freeman Park, Brady, last Saturday and Sunday. Approximately forty members of the family attended.

Those who attended from Sonora included Mrs. Ellen Ray, Mrs. Artie Joy, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Luckie.

Mrs. Juliet Driskell is in San Antonio this week visiting Mr. and Mrs. Hal Holland and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brenton.

There is no substitute for experience. Joe Burkett, Jr., candidate for State Representative, has had more than six years of active, effective and constructive service as a legislator. He has fought for clean and economical government; he has sponsored and fought for efficient and better soil and water conservation measures; he has faithfully, actively and effectively represented the best interests of his district and of Texas; he has had an unblemished record as a legislator representing his district, and there has been and is no complaint of his excellent service. He has fought a good fight for his people—he has kept the faith of his people.

So, why trade experience for inexperience? Why change a tried, true and loyal representative, for one of unknown and untried capability? Why change the ripe judgement of mature manhood, for the inexperienced judgment of a young and immature man? In short, why change at all? Think it over.

It's Time For A Change

Elect

Jerry Shurley

State Representative, 78th Dist.

Education

is important for the quality of our citizenship and to our national security. Jerry Shurley intends to do what he can for schools and teachers of Texas.

HIS OPPONENT has consistently voted against teacher and school legislation and has even proposed House Bill 13 to repeal the Gilmer-Akin Laws which have greatly improved our School System.

Lobbyists

do not and will not have attachments on Jerry Shurley. HIS OPPONENT is being actively campaigned for by some of the most powerful 'career' lobbyists in Texas.

Farm To Market

are of extreme importance to the farmers and ranchers of this district and to the towns where they trade. Jerry Shurley opposes the proposed legislation that would cut down Farm To Market road funds, thus severely curtailing Farm To Market road construction.

HIS OPPONENT- What is his view?

Water Conservation

is important to Jerry Shurley as an active rancher of this district.

HIS OPPONENT notes with pride his own achievement in this field in spite of the fact that the Texas Legislature was never "prodded" hard enough to pass water legislation until several months AFTER the seven year drought ended.

Edwards Plateau Soil Conservation District News

By E. B. Keng
Soil Conservation Service

Tom Davis, though his ranch is small, has done an outstanding conservation job. His range is making remarkable recovery. There is an abundance of side-oats grama and bluestem growing on the ranch. The abundance of these climax grasses indicates that Tom's country has made rapid recovery from the drought. This speedy range recovery is attributed to a moderate stocking rate (33 animal units per section) and frequent deferment of pastures.

Tom has also made several brush water spreaders by piling brush on the contour. The effectiveness of this practice is proven by a cover of good grasses above each brush spreader.

There are 7 grass gardens located near windmills on the Davis ranch. These grass gardens contain many species of grass which furnish a seed source for seeding other parts of the ranch. The following grasses can be found growing in Tom's grass gardens:

Big bluestem, little bluestem, caucasian bluestem, can bluestem, KR bluestem, sideoats grama, indiagrass, blue panicum, buffelgrass, Canada wildrye, green sprangletop, plains bristlegrass, and Arizona cottontop. Tom harvests seed from these grass gardens and scatters it by hand as he is riding over the ranch.

The grass gardens provide excellent cover for quail. One garden near the house contains several plants of multiflora rose which is very good quail feed. Tom has released 200 quail since 1956. A small earthen tank located near the house and fed by an overflow pipe serves as a watering place for wildlife.

Tom, being an ardent wildlife enthusiast, has a 66 acre pasture which is devoted entirely to wildlife. Several head of deer, including one blacktail buck, run in this pasture. Bobo, a whitetail doe, had twin doe fawns by the blacktail buck this spring. The twin fawns are six weeks old and looking healthy. Tom has been trying to get whitetail and blacktail deer to cross for several years.

Tom Davis is a good example of how a man can take a small ranch on the Edwards Plateau and make a good living through conservation practices.

Texans Hardened

To Facts Of

Traffic Deaths

Texans are becoming "case-hardened" to fatal traffic accidents. Accepting them as a part of routine news and not as state and national disasters.

The Galveston Flood of 1900 with its 6,000 fatalities; the Texas coast hurricane of 1915 and 375 dead; the New London school explosion in 1937 costing 294 children their lives; Texas City's 550 dead in 1947; and, the Waco tornado of five years ago with its toll of 114 lives; these represent some of Texas' worst disasters. They are headlines of yesterday and they won't soon be forgotten.

But the combined death toll (7,333) from these tragedies falls short of the 7,697 lives lost on Texas streets and highways in just the past three years.

In fact, in the 20 years since the New London explosion, traffic smashups have claimed more than 40,000 lives in the Lone Star State. We are apparently becoming case-hardened to reports of these motoricides, because we continue to tolerate them in spite of published, effective measures of accident prevention.

It depends on what you like, of course. There is the warm neighborliness . . . the dignity and satisfaction of life in a community like ours . . . and there is life as she is lived in the cities . . . as one of the scrambling herd . . . where neighborliness is viewed with suspicion . . . and squalor is the lot of anybody who gets pushed aside in the rat race.

Those of us who live here have already voted our preference for the more tranquil smaller community unit as a way of living. We like churches where everybody knows everybody else . . . and schools where we know our children's teachers . . . and they know us . . . we like living that is more calm, easier, safer . . . and we like business dealings with neighbors we can depend on.

But happy communities do not just grow . . . they have to be built. It takes revolving money . . . local trade volume . . . to build and maintain and enrich our chosen way of life.

Sure-footed Man Serves Texas

The colorful language of the ranch and trail seems to fit Bill Blakley, who made his start in life as a working cowhand. He still rides and ropes with the hands on his ranch at roundup time.

Speaking of Blakley's service as U. S. Senator in 1957, the Dallas News said: "... If he was as unassuming as an old boot, it was nevertheless a well polished boot that never wobbled or wandered from its purposeful path. For this man Blakley is a sure-footed man who knows exactly where he stands and what he believes."

Texasans will vote to return William A. Blakley to the Senate on July 26 because he truly represents the spirit, traditions and views of all Texas.

P. J. Taylor, new Santa Fe agent here, says he likes Sonora well, and that he is pleased with his work and the Sonora people. Mr. Taylor came here from Alpine where he had been in the employ of the Santa Fe. He has a wife and one child. Mr. Taylor handles the Western Union business here and also that of the American Railway Express Company.

The News, in behalf of the Sonora citizenry, welcome these people to our town.

—28—
Joseph M. Vander Stucken, prosperous young ranchman, was the first to ship livestock over the new Santa Fe rails. Mr. Vander Stucken shipped a double deck car of three-year-old muttens to Fort Worth market Monday. The run to Fort Worth requires twenty-four hours. The charge for a double deck car to Fort Worth is $81.40.

E. F. Vander Stucken received the first carload of freight to come into Sonora over the Santa Fe. The car consisted of Purina feeds.

—28—
Miss Lillian Ramsel, popular assistant to T. C. Murray, is spending her vacation with home-folks in Merton and Eldorado. During her absence, Mrs. Cyrus Ogden is "dishing out" mail at the postoffice.
