BUSY WEEK as always in Eastland...Annual Arts Festival Thursday luncheon at Lone Cedar Country Club; Law Enforcement Banquet Friday evening; and we'll all want to go or send congratulations to Cong. Omar Burleson up at Anson Saturday. (Bet you might still be able to get tickets at the Farm Bureau or from Ray Norris.)

A.L. SHARP has set a grand opening Saturday over at his Sharp Do Nut Shop, 209 N. Main St., where he'll be serving coffee and delicious donuts.

PRETTY EASTLANDERS Becky Hanna, Susie Hanna, Evelyn Chapman and Debbie Johnson will be playing prominent parts in "The Big Country Review" Thursday evening at Cisco Junior College. Becky and Susie will be in the orchestra and Evelyn and Debbie will be in the chorus line and dance groups. The show begins at 8 p.m. at Harrell Fine Arts Auditorium at CJC.

GAME DAY for May at Lone Cedar Country Club will be Friday, May 3, according to our efficient scout.

ONE OF our favorite people dropped in today for a visit when Mr. Grady Owen, long-time Eastland attorney, dropped in. He came to Eastland in 1919 and taught Latin at EHS and began his law practice. He lives in Fort Worth now and if we didn't know him to be an honest man, we'd never believe that he'd be 84 on his next birthday.

SALUTE MRS. Ann Jernigan of Harelik's Dept. Store. She was the only member to show up Tuesday for a Chamber Committee meeting. (Actually she was the only one who hadn't been notified that the meet had been re-set for Wednesday.)

IN TOWN Tuesday for a special visit were 24 women from Stephens County who were hosted by Mrs. Marene Johnson and C. C. Manager James Wright. The Home Demonstration visitors toured the Post Office where they enjoyed the Stamp Mural, then went across the street to the Victor Cornelius Plant where they were given a tour and gifts. Then out to Vassarette for a tour and gifts and on to the Ramada Inn for lunch, and then to the House of Webster for a tour and gifts.

OUR FAMILY enjoyed an Eastland weekend trip to where the wind really blows. We drove to the new D-FW Airport and got on a jet to Amarillo. (Gay Nell liked it but never did put all her weight down)...We were met there by her brother and family who took us to their ranch 17 miles south of Dumas, where we just enjoyed the peace and quiet until Monday when we flew back. It was a real rest. There were cows to look at, horses for the kids to ride and all the great outdoors to enjoy. And of course the wind to blow, and it did.

Dick Foster Issues Statement

To all the people in Eastland County, I would like to take this opportunity to thank each of you for your kindness and interest that you have shown me while I have been campaigning. There are some whom I have been unable to contact, if I have missed you please accept this as my personal communication with you. It is hard to meet every one of you personally due to the fact I have a job to do. As most of you know, I'm now serving as County Commissioner for Precinct Two which will expire January 1, 1975, because of the redistricting and I will be unable to run for re-election.

I was born in Gorman and have lived here all my life except for the time I spent away from here during World War Two. I spent twenty-two months on the Philippines and in Japan as a Staff Sergeant in the United States Army. I attended the Gorman Public Schools and after my discharge from the service in 1946 I attended four years of G.I. School, two years in mechanical and two years in bookkeeping.

I am married and have three children, the youngest being sixteen and a sophomore in the Gorman Public School. I am fifty-one years of age and have been with the County eighteen years, ten years in maintenance and eight years as your County Commissioner. I would like to stay with the County if possible since the County has a retirement plan now and I have a few years yet to go. I am a member of the Chamber of Commerce, serving as a director. I am a member of the Church of Christ, serving as an Elder and teach the Junior High Sunday School Class.

The reason I'm asking for this office is because I need the job and I feel that I'm qualified to do the work. My opponent is a fine woman and I consider her my friend. I thought since she is old enough to retire, she would step down and give a younger person an opportunity. So many people have encouraged me to do this so I have decided I would like to serve you in this capacity. I promise to keep a true and honest record of all money and expenditures of the County. I would greatly appreciate your vote and influence for this office on May 4th.

Thanks a Million
Dick Foster

Law Banquet To Feature POW Here Friday Night

The Annual Banquet of the Eastland County Law Enforcement Association will be Friday, April 19, at 7 p.m. at the Eastland Elementary Cafeteria.

Lt. Col. Arthur W. Burer, U.S. Air Force, former Prisoner of War in Vietnam, will be featured speaker.

Police Chief John Morren reports that all of the 300 tickets for the Law Enforcement Banquet have been sold.

He was born on September 3, 1932, in San Antonio, Texas, the second of four sons. His dad dedicated 25 years of honorable service to his country. His older brother served 20 years in the USAF. His brother served four years in the USAF, and is currently a law enforcement officer with the Justice Department in Alpine, Texas. His youngest brother is currently serving as a captain at Fort Benning, Georgia. During Col. Burer's captivity his brother served two separate tours in South Vietnam and distinguished himself on the field of battle.

Col. Burer's early life was spent at various military posts. He graduated from Anacostia High School in Washington, D.C., in June, 1950. He went to work as a paying and receiving teller at American Security and Trust Company of Washington, D.C. During the summer of 1951 at the height of the Korean War, he enlisted in the USAF and was subsequently assigned to Bolling Air Force Base, Washington, D.C., as an aircraft maintenance technician. In 1957 he won an appointment to Officer's Candidate School which led to a commission and flying training. He served as an Aircraft Maintenance Officer and Branch Chief at Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas. In 1960 he was assigned as an instructor pilot the Air Force Pilot Training Program in Laredo, Texas.

Col. Burer started his formal education at George Washington University in 1954, transferred to Laredo Junior College in 1960 and received his BA degree from the University of Omaha in 1964 through Operation Bootstrap.

With the outbreak of hostilities in South Vietnam, Col. Burer volunteered for training in the reconnaissance field piloting an RF 101 aircraft. On March 21, 1966, while on a reconnaissance mission deep in the heart of North Vietnam, his aircraft was struck by hostile fire and he was forced to abandon the aircraft over enemy territory. Within moments after reaching the ground, he was captured and imprisoned in and around Hanoi, North Vietnam, until February 12, 1973. He was in captivity for 83 months. During that time he conducted himself as an officer, a gentleman and a prisoner of war, living his life in accordance with the Code of Conduct.

Since his release he has completed the Professional Update Program at Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama, and the Pilot Refresher Course at Randolph AFB, Texas. Currently, he is in the Pilot Instructor Training Course at Randolph AFB, Texas. Upon completion of this course, he will move to his next assignment at Webb AFB, Big Spring, Texas.

He married Nancy Dickerman of Arlington, Virginia, on January 14, 1962. Her love, devotion and faithfulness has proven to be a sterling pillar of strength to him throughout his life. They have four children, 2 boys and 2 girls.

The Colonel has been awarded the following Air Force decorations: Good Conduct Medal, Longevity Ribbon, National Defense Medal, Vietnam Service Medal, Air Force Commendation Medal, Air Medal with oak leaf cluster, Distinguished Flying Cross and the Purple Heart.

During his 22 years of military service, he has attended the additional following professional military schools: Basic Flying Instructor School, Academic Instructor School, Instructor Pilot Instrument School, Squadron Officers School, High Speed Flight School and AF Reconnaissance School.

Eastland County Newspapers Co. will make their second award to the outstanding Law Enforcement Officer, selected by a secret committee. The first winner, last year, was Emory Walton, Criminal District Attorney.

Burleson Event To Be Saturday

ANSON - Congressman and Mrs. Omar Burleson arrived in the District from Washington this week to spend the Easter recess visiting over the district and to be honored on April 20th at Anson with the "Friends of Omar Burleson" Day celebration.

According to General Chairman B.J. Gist, several thousand people are expected to jam the Jones County Courthouse square in Anson at five o'clock Saturday for the Western barbecue, program and unveiling of the bronze of the veteran Congressman. The bronze, life-sized bust of the Congressman, is to be erected on the north side of the Jones County Courthouse. The sculptress, Juan Dell of Lubbock, will be present for the unveiling and celebration.

Some of Burleson's colleagues in the U.S. House of Representatives will be present, including Congressman and Mrs. Olin Teague of College Station, Congressman O.C. Fisher of San Angelo, and Congressman and Mrs. Bob Poage of Waco have indicated they will attend if possible, along with state, county and city officials from all over the 33 county 17th Congressional district.

The famous Hardin Simmons University Cowboy Band and the Albany Fandangle will present the musical entertainment and the barbecue will be furnished by the Albany Texas Trails Chuckwagon.

Gene and Bobbie Moore will provide vocal patriotic selections from among the Congressman's favorite songs. Several blocks of the Main street in Anson will be roped off to handle the crowd for the celebration, according to L.Sheriff Woodrow Simmons of Jones County. The festivities will get underway at 2:30 with a tea honoring Mrs. Burleson at the First Methodist Church, and a coffee for the men to visit with the Congressman is scheduled for the high school cafeteria starting at 2:30. The Barbecue is to be served at 5:00 p.m.

Some of the works of Juan Dell, the sculptress, will be on display in Abilene at the Citizens National Bank on Thursday and Friday during banking hours, April 18 and 19, for those who would like to meet the sculptress and see some of her art work.

Mr. B.J. Gist, General Chairman of the Steering Committee for the Burleson celebration, in a statement to newsmen this week said, "I have never been involved in any program or project in which there was a greater response and willingness to contribute time and financial support than I have found among the fine people of this entire congressional district."

Gist continued, "It has been my hope throughout the past year, that this celebration could be a big success insofar as honoring our veteran Congressman is concerned, and all indications at this time suggest that it may be the biggest success of anything ever undertaken by the people of this district. He added, "And we certainly hope that it will be, in order to show our appreciation of a man who has devoted most of his adult life to serving the people of this wonderful West Texas area."

Gist predicted that the turnout for this celebration could run into several thousand, based on the number of tickets that have been distributed. Tickets will be on sale in Anson on the afternoon of the celebration.

Congressman Burleson is in his 28th year of service in the U.S. House of Representatives and is a member of the powerful House Ways and Means Committee. Only fifteen of the 435 members of the house have served in the Congress longer than Burleson.

Major league try outs will be held Thursday and Friday at 5:30 p.m. at the Little League Field. Anyone who hasn't signed up may do so at that time.

WASHINGTON

"As it looks from here"

OMAR BURLESON
Congressman
17th District

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- NOT EVERYONE HAS A BOY OR GIRL IN COLLEGE but those who do or have one about to enter, know very well the effects of inflation on education.

A NUMBER OF GOVERNMENT SOURCES ARE

AVAILABLE FOR STUDENT FINANCING. In fact, it is possible for a student to seek three loans at the same time and reports indicate some have done so. It was not intended under the law and tends to reflect on those who diligently seek help for their education and who expect to repay their debt out of earnings from their training. The rate of repayment thus far has not been the best. DILEMMAS FACE BOTH PARENTS AND LENDERS IN CERTAIN SITUATIONS. Financial aid officers at colleges and universities across the country are concerned over the growing number of students declaring themselves no longer dependent on their families and insisting they should be eligible for aid regardless of how high their family income.

THE OTHER SIDE OF THE COIN ARE REPORTS FROM INSTITUTIONS OF MOUNTING IN stances of parents who say their offspring are on their own. Some parents refuse to provide their personal income data necessary to determine the need for a student loan.

THE QUESTION IS INTENSIFIED IN SOME FORTY STATES BY LEGISLATION under the Twenty-Sixth Amendment recognizing eighteen year olds as adults for practically all purposes. Dr. Parker Young, an associate professor of higher education at the University of Georgia, pointed out that "Once a student has reached the age of majority and is not claimed by his parents as a dependent for income tax purposes, it will be most difficult to convince the courts that criteria related to the parents must be considered in the student's application for financial aid."

A RECENT SURVEY CONDUCTED UNDER THE AUSPICES OF THE COLLEGE ENTRANCE Examination Board found that more than two-thirds of 63 four-year colleges and universities which responded rated as "dramatic" the increase in self-supporting students.

WHAT SEEMS TO BE AT THE CORE OF THE DIFFICULTY PRESENTED BY THE many new applications for assistance is the feeling that there simply is not enough money to go around and the fear that students with affluent parents will get money that might otherwise go to those more needy.

AT A RECENT CONFERENCE IN DALLAS, SPONSORED BY THE COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIP Service, it was found that aid officers and policy committees are confronted by resistance to financial disclosure on the part of some families, while others, however reluctantly, are baring their financial souls for the sake of furthering the education of their children. One educator speaking to the Dallas conference said, "It is expedient to accept the appearance of emancipation, but it is immoral in my judgment for us to do so if some parents are released from the obligation to prepare their young for life, while others, of lesser means, continue support and thus find aid barred to them."

TRADITIONALLY, MOST ALL STUDENTS FROM EIGHTEEN TO TWENTY + ONE YEARS old were considered for financial aid only in relation to the proportion of their education for which their parents could not afford to pay. Today, changes in life-styles, in addition to the legal adult status given to eighteen year olds, present the question: "Is it proper to continue to base aid decisions on parental income when independent-minded young people leave home at an earlier age to seek an education on their own?"

NO READY ANSWERS ARE YET AVAILABLE TO THESE QUESTIONS BUT EVIDENTLY there has got to be some if there is to be fairness in the program.

T.I.A.A. Chairman Emphasizes Need For Readiness

The killer tornadoes which recently struck with such devastation in other states renewed warnings for Texans to be prepared should such a catastrophe strike this state.

J.O. (Jim) Smith, Jr., chairman of the Texas Insurance Advisory Association executive committee, said "The tragic loss of human life in other states emphasizes the need for precautions to be taken by Texas home owners. This obviously is the time when Texas communities face the threat of tornadoes and windstorms. It's extremely vital to know what to do before and after a storm, though sadly there is no way to be totally safe from nature's fury."

Texas was hit by over 800 tornadoes from 1968 - 73, causing 72 deaths and over one million injuries.

"Knowing what to do before the storm can save lives and property", Smith said. "Knowing what to do afterwards can prevent further damage and help get the necessary repairs made quickly and properly."

In a tornado or other high winds, Smith said the TIAA recommends:

-- If there is time, get in a bathroom or closet. Windows should be slightly open to relieve pressure inside the home. If there is no time, at least get under a table or other protective covering to avoid injury from falling debris.

-- Avoid auditoriums, gymnasiums and other buildings having large roofs relatively lightly anchored.

-- If you sight a tornado in open country, move at right angles to the tornado's path. If there is no time to escape, lie flat in the nearest ditch, ravine or other depression. Don't stay in your automobile.

-- Mobile home damage can be partly prevented by an anchorage system, or "tie downs" to hold the home in place.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN -- Consumers shopping for furniture may have encountered some confusion in the past few years, what with plastics that seem to be wood, vinyl that appears to be leather, and marble dust that looks like slate.

In addition there's pressure-sensitive paper that simulates just about anything. All of these have given consumers a wide range of choices between natural and synthetic furniture materials, but sometimes it has been difficult to tell at a glance exactly what you're getting for your money.

Some unscrupulous dealers have taken advantage of the proliferation of terms for furniture materials to deliberately mislead the public.

For example, attorneys in our Consumer Protection Division recently settled a complaint from a woman who purchased a bedroom suite advertised as "all wood" only to find out when it was delivered that just the visible parts were constructed of wood. The rest were of glazed fiberboard.

But furniture-buying consumers should find it less confusing to shop for what they want since new Federal Trade Commission guidelines for the furniture industry went into effect in March.

Advances in technology have greatly changed the types of materials used by furniture manufacturers since the previous FTC guidelines were set out in 1963. This, plus what the FTC terms "misleading advertising and other deceptive practices" among a few members of the furniture industry were the reasons for the revision of the guidelines.

One major change is that "affirmative disclosure" is required. My assistants say this means when any materials used to simulate a more expensive one it now must be identified on furniture tags and in catalogs, brochures, and advertising.

And if furniture has a "veneer", the term used when a more expensive wood is glued to another type of wood, this fact must also be disclosed. So now if you buy a "maple captain's chair" you can be sure it's maple through and through, not maple veneer on oak or some other wood.

Terms such as "French (or Italian) Provincial" or "Mediterranean" can still be used, since most people realize such phrases describe the style of the furniture, rather than its origin. But terms such as "Danish" or "Spanish" cannot be used to indicate style. Instead, "Spanish Style" or "Danish design" or some other phrase must be used if the item doesn't actually come from that particular country.

The new guidelines tend to discourage the widespread practice many retail furniture stores followed of removing the manufacturer's tags and substituting their own. Now, if the manufacturer's tag is removed, it must be replaced with one that provides the same information about materials and construction.

FTC guidelines also state that results of tests made on upholstery fabrics must be clearly disclosed in language the lay person can understand.

Our Consumer Protection attorneys say that while these guidelines will not prevent every misleading or deceptive trade practice encountered in shopping for furniture, they will be of great assistance not only to consumers but to the large majority of reputable furniture manufacturers and retailers.

They remind mobile home purchasers that furniture sold with mobile homes should also carry labels that give information about its construction and composition.

And they suggest that consumers always ask to see product labels, that they check carefully on warranties and that they inquire about how to care for the fabric on any upholstered furniture they purchase. In this way, they may avoid consumer problems later.

For assistance with consumer complaints call our Consumer Protection Division, your county or district attorney, or your local Better Business Bureau.

Texas Tourist Stay Longer Spend More

AUSTIN -- Out-of-state auto visitors who came to Texas during the past three months stayed longer and spent more money than they did during 1973, according to a Texas Highway Department report summarizing travel experiences during December, January and February.

Although the Highway Department has long compiled annual reports on the Texas auto visitor industry, this is its first quarterly survey, made possible by computer technology. Regular three month summaries will enable the Department to monitor travel throughout each year.

Tom H. Taylor, director of the Department's Travel and Information Division, explained that all information in the quarterly summaries comes from visitors themselves. During the winter quarter, more than 4,000 auto parties returned questionnaires distributed at Highway Department tourist bureaus.

They reported where they came from and where they went, what they did and how much they spent. Only the determination of the total number of out-of-state motorists must await the end of the year, when all quarterly summaries will be correlated with thousands of hours of visual and automatic traffic counts for the annual Texas visitor industry report.

Jim Battersby, who heads the Discover Texas Association which represents the commercial sector of Texas tourism, said of the quarterly concept, "With this Highway Department innovation, we can take the pulse of the state tourist industry every 90 days. Trends can be spotted as they develop, and marketing strategy can be adjusted to fit current patterns, rather than last year's."

The first quarterly survey showed that winter visitor parties consisted of 2.34 people who stayed 7.57 days and spent an average of $391.44 in Texas. All those figures were substantially greater than the average for the full year in 1973.

Thoughts

From The Living Bible
"Warn your brother
Aaron not to enter into the Holy Place behind the veil, where the Ark and place of mercy are, just whenever he chooses. The penalty for intrusion is death. For I myself am present in the cloud above the place of mercy. Here are the conditions for his entering there: He must bring a young bull for a sin offering, and a ram for a burnt offering. He must bathe himself and put on the sacred linen coat, shorts, belt, and turban.

The Bonnie Bells, a high school handbell choir under the direction of Bob Stiltman, have touched many lives educationally, spiritually and socially. From its inception 12 years ago, this choir has given young people of the congregation an opportunity to lead in worship services and provide musical inspiration for rest homes, schools and social gatherings.

The public is cordially invited to come this Sunday evening at 6:00 p.m. to the First Christian Church to experience this wonderful ministry of music.

MRS. BETTY HANNA

Mrs. Betty Hanna Speaks To Lions Club Tuesday

One of my favorite places, Mrs. Betty Hanna described the City of Austin, as she gave impressions of the capitol city and state government for members of the Eastland Lions Club at their luncheon meeting Tuesday at the Ramada Inn.

The capitol building, building 1888, is the most imposing in the nation, and all the statues face South, she pointed out as she told of the vastness and uniqueness of the state government headquarters.

When you view the House and Senate chambers, it often appears that there's nothing going on but a lot of visiting, but since most law making is done in committees, the Senators and Representatives really do know what's going on.

The late speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, a bachelor, is responsible for having apartments in the capitol for the Speaker and Lt. Governor, she explained.

There was one story during the last session to the effect that nothing in Austin was done, until it was cleared with the Speaker Father (Price Daniel), the Lt. Governor's mother (Mrs. Olita Culp Hobby) and the Governor's wife (Mrs. Janney Briscoe.) Mrs. Hanna also compared the University of Texas campus of today to when she attended several years ago. (The late J. Frank Dobey was one of her instructors). The youngsters are different, she said, but she found them to be still good kids, looking for an education. The cost has changed a lot. When she first attended, cost averaged $63 a month; today it's nearer $255.

Billy Jack Johnson New County Deputy On Job

Billy Jack Johnson is the new Eastland County Office Deputy, replacing J.C. Clements of Ranger, who retired because of illness.

Johnson is a former Eastland native, having been born, raised, and schooled here. He worked in the Eastland Police Department for a year in 1950 then transferred to the Fire Department where he was fire chief and fire marshal until 1959.

Clements had been in the Eastland Sheriff's department since April of 1970. He worked as a field deputy for a year and a half, then the remainder of his time as office deputy. J.D. had been ailing for quite a while with a bone disease but kept hanging in there to do his job.

"There's nobody with more heart than J.D.," admitted Eastland County Sheriff Lefty Sublett.

GLAD TO BE BACK

"I'm glad to be back in Eastland," admitted Johnson. "I've been at the grindstone for so long as a big city fireman in Midland that I will feel more relaxed here in Eastland County."

Johnson worked for the Midland Fire Department until last year when he retired.

He drove a truck for a construction company around Sonora, but "oil field work is not for me," he admitted.

He then drove a mail truck between Midland and El Paso until a bad highway accident put him in the hospital.

"I got out of the hospital, had three weeks and decided I wanted to find another job in this part of the country."

Johnson called Lefty Sublett, a personal friend since 1949, found out about the job opening and accepted it. "I don't know why I called, but I'm glad I did, because I sure wanted to come back down to this part of the country."

"And I'm glad to be back at this kind of work," admitted the new office deputy. "There's something about law enforcement work I've always liked, ever since I was an M.P. in the Marine Corps during WW II. Johnson served three years in the Southwestern Pacific and China.

He admits he'll have to get used to an office job, since he's always worked outside before and been on the move. However after the 24 on - 24 off hours of the Midland Fire Department and holding down a part time job to boot, he'll enjoy the desk work.

Johnson's family will come down after school lets out in June, from Las Cruces, N.M., where his wife is a secretary for a cattle company.

Work Resumed On Hospital

Work on the $2 million - plus expansion of Eastland Memorial Hospital resumed at noon Tuesday after it had stopped when site workers walked off their jobs in sympathy with sheet metal workers seeking higher salaries and better working conditions, according to Cecil Clark, local superintendent for contractors Miller and Holmes.

The sheet metal workers were seeking salaries and working conditions comparable to similar jobs in the Fort Worth area covered by Local No. 18, Sheet Metal Workers of America.

Although Local 18 covers Eastland, the local workers are employees of U.S. Mechanical of Amarillo and are not members of the union.

Clark said that most of the workers returned Tuesday, and that the rest were expected to return Wednesday morning. He said the stoppage was caused by a "misunderstanding" and that the workers agreed to return after negotiations with Chester Miller of Miller and Holmes home office in Wichita Falls.

Clark did not disclose negotiation terms and Miller was unavailable for comment.

Ronnie Hurt, local supervisor for the sheet metal workers who are employed by U.S.S. Mechanical, said the sheet metal workers locally were being paid $6.50 an hour and that the standard wage being paid in the area covered by Local 18 is $8.47.

Clark said that the job was about 50 percent completed, and said it would take approximately one year to finish.
