Germans Feel That Czechs Are Playing Dangerous Game

Repeated Border Violations Are Charged; Reckless Act Being Feared At Any Time

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, May 25—Germany regarded the situation on her Czechoslovak frontier tonight as having taken a turn for the worse because of repeated border violations by Czechoslovak military planes.

The feeling here was that Czechoslovaks were playing a dangerous game. Apologies," it was feared, would not remove causes of tension which, the Berliner Tageblatt warned, might be brought to explosion point at any moment by the reckless act of some Czechoslovak soldier.

Protest Is Lodged

Dr. Ernest Eisenlohr, German minister to Praha, protested to the Czechoslovak foreign minister, Kamil Krafta, and was assured efforts would be made to prevent recurrences of border violations.

A sixth incident in which Czechoslovak army planes flew over German territory within the past 24 hours was believed to have occurred after publication of a Deutsches Nachrichtenbuero (D. N. B.), official German news agency, report of five border violations.

None of the Czechoslovak flights seems to have been of long duration, however, nor were there any reports of shots fired.

Denial Is Issued

The German foreign office denied Eisenlohr had been instructed to protest against the massing of Czechoslovak troops in the Sudeten regions of Czechoslovakia, where a minority of 3,500,000 Germans live.

It was held here, nevertheless, that such military movements to within a few yards of the Czechoslovak-German border were a constant source of anxiety to Germany's frontier population.

Papal Plea For Peace Sounded

(By The Associated Press)

BUDAPEST, May 25—A hundred thousand devout Catholics today heard a papal plea for peace at the opening of the 34th eucharistic congress.

The holy father's message, which called the eternal laws "the safest foundations for justice and peace," was read by Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli, vatican secretary of state.

Pageant Is Held

Reading of the papal bulletin formally opened the congress after a gorgeous pageant enacted in vast Heroes square. Thousands upon thousands of priests wound in solemn procession past the royal box where Regent Nicholas Horthy and Lady Horthy waited.

Every bell in the city pealed in a cascade of sound as the procession flowed around the square.

During the morning the prelates celebrated 2,000 masses in 100 churches and chapels as a prelude to the first session.

It was estimated 1,000,000 persons representing 37 foreign countries would see some of the ceremonies.

WASHINGTON, May 25. (AP) — Three "dust bowl" congressmen conferred with Secretary Wallace and agriculture department officials today in an effort to obtain immediate resumption of a cover crop program in western Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle.

Representative Hope (R-Kas.), who with Representatives Jones (D-Tex.) chairman of the house agriculture committee, and Ferguson (D-Okla.) talked with Wallace, said an announcement would be made at the department within the next few days on what program could be placed in effect.

Texas Officers Follow Cold Trail As Five Convicts Bind Prison Guard And Escape

(By The Associated Press)

HUNTSVILLE, May 25—Texas officers followed a cold trail tonight as they hunted five convicts who bound a guard and escaped from the Eastham prison farm today.

Highways were watched throughout East Texas as the group, three trusties, fled in a small black sedan stolen from a guard.

A wave of prison unrest after a recent ruling by the attorney general that all convicts must work 24 hours before being credited with an extra day on their sentences, instead of 10 hours as in the past, was blamed by General Manager O. J. S. Ellingson for the break. The state prison board ordered the rule effective June 1.

Ellingson said prisoners eager to foment discontent had spread stories through the prison that the ruling also took away overtime earned by convicts.

The five who escaped today were listed as Robert York, 25, serving four years from Polk county for burglary; Harlan Massey, 24, serving six years for robbery in Stephens, Eastland and Palo Pinto counties; Clint White, 67, serving 20 years for burglary in Falls county; Joseph Gupton, 34, serving 10 years from Bexar county for robbery and George Simmons, 24, serving three years for burglary in Falls county.

Gupton, Massey and York were trusties.

The three bound up Guard G. R. Thompson, who was unarmed, as they repaired a barn on the Ferguson camp of Eastham farm.

Wage-Hour Bill To Face Traps Before Senate

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 25—Political forces which caused the house to make an abrupt about-face on wage-hour legislation are at work to complete enactment of the measure before adjournment despite parliamentary traps that lie ahead.

Within five months of the day when it sent the bill back to committee, the house reversed itself to pass it, 314 to 7.

Prospects Are Slim

Prospects of die-hard southern resistance in the senate are slim. The fact that otherwise warring labor factions were united to support the bill as it passed the house will exert an influence in the senate.

That recent Democratic primaries in Florida influenced the house struggle is obvious. The discharge petition which took the bill away from the hostile rules committee was rushed through after Senator Pepper was renominated with administration support.

Labor Is United

There is little doubt, however, that the major political factor in the house vote was that quarreling factions of organized labor, the Committee for Industrial Organization and the American Federation of Labor, were united in support of the bill. In primaries this year, such as those in Pennsylvania and Oregon, labor has demonstrated a political balance-of-power position in a fashion to cause every house member from an industrial area to stop, look and listen. They did it, Democrats and Republicans alike, in the house vote on the wage-hour bill.

Possibilities of an outright filibuster by southerner senators were already slim before the house voted. Republican opponents of the bill in the senate are not expected to join a fight of that kind.

Independents Are Believed To Have Advantage Over Chains

WASHINGTON, May 25. (AP) — Some house members expressed the opinion today that the independent retailer would have an advantage over his most formidable competitor—the chain store system—under the wage-hour bill passed by the house.

Shortly before the house approved the measure last night, Representative Celler (D-NY) won adoption of an amendment which he said assured exemption of local retailers from wage and hour provisions unless a substantial part of their sales moved across state lines.

Boys Can "Pop The Question" Now Without Fear Of Suit

BOSTON, May 25. (AP)—Boys, you can "pop the question" in Massachusetts without fear of being sued for breach of promise if you change your mind.

Governor Charles F. Hurley's signature today made law a stipulation that "breach of contract to marry shall not constitute an injury or wrong recognized by law."

Representative Katherine A. Foley (D-Lawrence) mother of three pretty daughters, 16, 18 and 19—and none of them are engaged yet, she says—sponsored the bill, declaring heart balm suits were nothing but a "gold-digging racket."

O'Donnell Youth Makes Bond In Charge Filed At Barstow

PECOS, May 25. (AP) — Melvin Moore, 21, of O'Donnell, furnished $1,500 bond today after a hearing before Justice of the Peace D. J. Hays at Barstow on charges of driving while intoxicated and negligent homicide.

Moore's case was scheduled for grand jury investigation June 2.

The charges were an outgrowth of an automobile collision near here Monday night when Novice Louise Everett, 23, and J. C. Jackson, 19, were killed and three others, all of Madill, Okla., were injured.

Mother And Daughter To Receive Degrees At Same Time This Year At Texas Tech; Enrolled As Freshmen In Fall Of '34

MOTHER and daughter are to receive degrees at the same time this year at Texas Technological college.

Mrs. Minnie McGee and daughter, Jean McGee, of 2313-A Thirteenth street, are to sit side by side in the August commencement service. They enrolled as freshmen in the fall of 1934.

To make the situation further unusual, Miss McGee is one of the youngest members of this year's graduating classes. She was 19 in February.

Mrs. McGee, who is majoring in history, is working toward both her master of arts and bachelor of arts degrees. She expects to lack only six hours, ordinarily two courses, completing work for her master's degree when she receives her bachelor's degree. Miss McGee is enrolled in the home economics division and is a candidate for a bachelor of science degree.

They moved from Post to Lubbock to enroll at Tech.

Hopkins In Center Of Senate Storm

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 25 — Harry L. Hopkins' intervention in Iowa politics created a furious storm today in the senate, where Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) declared that the relief administrator might "just as well have put a slip in the pay envelope of every Iowa relief worker" telling him how to vote.

Wheeler referred to Hopkins' action in expressing preference for Rep. Wearin (D-Ia) over Senator Gillette (D-Ia), both running in the senatorial primary.

Same As A Threat

Senator Clark (D-Mo) said the Hopkins statement was the same as saying to relief workers:

"If you don't vote for Wearin, you'll lose your jobs. If you vote for Gillette your families may go hungry."

Clark, Wheeler and Gillette joined in demanding that Hopkins withdraw his remark in view of his official position.

Wheeler said the American people "resent" every attempt to use "relief funds to play politics or pay political debts" and he would see they were fully informed.

Grim Alcatraz Prison Quiet

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25—Grim Alcatraz prison was as quiet as if it had never happened, officials said today, and the suppressed excitement and fear engendered by the bloody jailbreak attempt of Monday afternoon was waning.

The body of R. C. Cline, 36, senior custodian officer who was fatally beaten with a hammer, was being sent to the family home at Sweetwater, Texas.

Body Sent To Iowa

The body of Thomas R. Limerick, 36, midwest bank robber, fatally shot in the abortive break, was en route to Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Rufus Franklin, 24, Limerick's accomplice was in the prison hospital, a bullet wound in his shoulder, and the third convict involved, James C. Lucas, 26, was still in "solitary."

Challenge Made Of Honesty In TVA's Affairs

Dr. Arthur E. Morgan Charges His Former Colleagues With Grave Official Misconduct

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 25. — Dr. Arthur E. Morgan challenged today the "honesty" of the administration of T. V. A., the vast agency he once headed, and charged his former colleagues of the T. V. A. board with official misconduct.

He told a joint congressional committee investigating T. V. A. that Dr. Harcourt A. Morgan, now chairman, and Director David E. Lilienthal, have been guilty of costly "mismanagement," misrepresentation and intentionally deceitful statements to the president, congress and the public.

To Make Things Easy

They tried deliberately, he said, to make "things easy" for Senator Berry (D-Tenn.) when he filed a claim for damages against T. V. A. for marble land submerged behind Norris dam, a claim later held valueless by a federal commission.

Lilienthal, he asserted, deliberately attempted to build up public animosity against public utilities by spreading a "false" impression that Commonwealth and Southern was "arbitrarily" refusing to sell its utility properties to Tennessee valley authority.

Yardstick Was Dishonest

The famous "T. V. A. yardstick," a use of T. V. A. power rates for comparison with rates charged by private utilities, was "dishonest," he said, because it took no account of "hidden subsidies" from other government agencies that should be included in the cost of T. V. A. power.

The former chairman, ousted after he refused to tell President Roosevelt what he told the committee today, was the first witness in an investigation ordered by congress as a result of an exchange of charges and countercharges between himself and fellow directors.

Charge And Counter-Charge

"For me to state here what constitutes mismanagement, would be futile," he said. "It would be just charge and counter-charge."

He proposed that a board of engineers determine what constituted mismanagement. He would, he said, point out specific instances of "mismanagement" which had cost the government "very large sums," when he has been given access to T. V. A.'s files.

Two Men Led By Vision To Make Jaunt To Jerusalem

(By The Associated Press)

SEATTLE, May 25.—The shortest way from Puget Sound to Jerusalem by boat is a long trip, but it's still longer by way of Alaska.

Undismayed, however, and led by a "vision" they said came in prayer, two traveling missionaries, former St. Louis men, both lanlubbers, are building a seven-ton boat here out of scrap iron and steel to start such a trip.

"The vision leads us on and I've left everything, even my wife and four children in St. Louis, to follow it", says John Krause, the elder missionary.

An Expert Welder

The younger, Charles H. Theobald, an expert welder, has been doing much of the assembling of the boat, which will be powered by two salvaged automobile engines. Started last fall, it is near completion under a bridge on the waterfront.

The boat will be christened the Mary Mil, for two of Krause's daughters, Mary and Mildred.

Except for taking the message of a "simple, kind, loving God" and their belief that the "last days" are at hand, the two have no explanation of why they chose to go to Jerusalem.

Young Killer Trembles As He Recalls Vivid Details In Death Of Sweetheart

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 25. — Donald Carroll, jr., 16, sitting in the witness box with shoulders slumped and hands shaking, told today how he killed his 18-year-old sweetheart, how together they put the pistol to her breast, how he pulled the trigger and saw her arms thresh in a spasm of death.

He said he shot Charlotte Matthiesen in a contract to die with her—"because that was the only way we could always be together."

Wanted To Save Her

But, when the prosecution asked him why he failed to carry out his end of the bargain, he said it was because he thought the girl still lived and he "wanted to save her."

"She did die, didn't she?" asked Prosecutor Joseph Loscalzo.

"Yes, sir."

"Did you try to shoot yourself?"

"No, sir."

Lost Track Of Everything

The defense attempted to show that the boy lost track of everything at the sudden burst of the pistol—fired in a bedroom of his home last March 24.

"Did you ever hear a gun explode before and see blood spurt out?" counsel asked.

"No, sir. . . . After it happened I wished it hadn't happened."

As he described their walk to the bedroom where Charlotte died, the boy acknowledged that there was a sexual interlude before he got the pistol.

Handed Pistol To Her

"She . . . took the pistol from under the pillow," he went on. "I was alongside her looking into her face. I handed her the pistol after putting six bullets in the magazine." She was unable to fire it, he added —"I remembered I hadn't put a bullet in the chamber."

". . . I could see the bullets come up in the chamber. She was very nervous then. She asked me to use the gun. . . . She helped me find her heart. After that, we held the gun to it. She gasped and moaned; her arms and legs moved. I thought she was still alive."

"I decided the best thing to do was to call the police."

Court Upholds Death Penalty

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 25.—The court of criminal appeals today affirmed the death sentence of one San Antonio man but ordered a new trial for another.

It agreed with a district court jury that Jesse Polanco, accused of slaying George Forbes, a bus driver in 1936, should die in the electric chair, holding there was not enough evidence to show jury misconduct as claimed.

Remark Was Hurtful

Because a remark of an assistant district attorney was "obviously hurtful and prejudicial," the court reversed and remanded conviction of Baltazar Rodriguez, given the death penalty for fatally shooting Hope Estelle Hyman last year.

Vince Boss, a Houston youth, lost his final plea for a review of his case when the court overruled a motion for rehearing. He was convicted of slaying R. W. Albert, Brenham cheese salesman, whose body was found in the ice compartment of his truck near Houston in 1936.

Ten Thousand Chinese Prepare For New Stand Against Japs

SHANGHAI, May 26. (Thursday) (AP)—Ten thousand Chinese soldiers who escaped Japan's encirclement of Suchow attempted to brace today for new resistance to the Japanese campaign inland through Central China.

These forces, scattered by the collapse of China's defenses at Suchow, were converging near Mengcheng about 80 miles southeast in Anhwei province.

Apparently they had salvaged enough rifles and machineguns to menace the Japanese westward drive along the Lunghai railroad.

Processing Tax Plan Proposed To Raise Cash

New Revenue To Pay Benefits To Farmers Needed; Little Support Being Expected

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Secretary Morgenthau sought support of congressional leaders today for new taxes to meet any increased farm benefit payments voted at this session. He received little encouragement.

The treasury secretary, Daniel W. Bell, acting budget director, and Roswell Magill, treasury undersecretary, conferred with a group of legislators which included Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, and Rep. Rayburn (D-Tex), majority leader in the house.

New Benefits Are Voted

The $3,247,000,000 relief bill now pending in the senate includes $212,000,000 for additional farm benefits, written in by the senate appropriations committee.

Morgenthau and President Roosevelt have contended that new funds for farm aid should not be voted unless tax revenue is provided.

Barkley said the $212,000,000 appropriation probably would be approved, but it would be impossible to enact new taxes before 1939.

Consider Processing Taxes

Senator Pope (D-Ida) said he sought an arrangement whereby congress would vote the money now and consider processing taxes to raise new revenue early next session.

A new amendment to the relief measure to restrict government-financed duplication of private utility plants was submitted by Senator Adams (D-Col), floor manager of the bill.

Support for an amendment by Senator Copeland (D-NY) to earmark $325,000,000 for floor control and rivers and harbors projects was given on the floor by Senator Miller (D-Ark).

Extradition Of Texan Denied

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 25. — Governor James V. Allred today refused a request of the state of Arkansas for the extradition of Frank E. St. Jacques, jr., of Lipscomb county, on a charge of assault to murder.

The governor said the alleged offense occurred when St. Jacques attempted to take his child, 3-year-old Francine Lee, from her mother in Arkansas after a Texas court had awarded him custody of the girl when the couple was divorced.

Removal Was Prohibited

Allred said the Lipscomb county divorce court order expressly provided the child should not be removed from Texas.

The child, however, the governor said, was removed to Arkansas and St. Jacques went there to bring it back. The mother refused, he said, and St. Jacques took the child in his arms and was alleged to have struck the former Mrs. St. Jacques when she resisted.

Value Of Big Winter Wheat Crop In U. S. Drops Almost $50,000,000 In A Month

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, May 25.—The price of new wheat now beginning to pour through harvesters' combines in the southwest tumbled today to the lowest level in five years.

Although almost $50,000,000 has been wiped off the value of the United States' huge 1938 winter wheat crop in the last month, grain traders estimated it still will be the biggest money crop since 1930, except for last year.

The July wheat quotation in Chicago, which represents the new wheat price, has declined about 6 cents a bushel since the first of May. Closing at 72 1-2-5-8 today, it was the lowest since 1933 and was 46 cents lower than a year ago. In 1932 wheat sold down to 44 cents but except for the period between 1930 and 1934 prices now are the lowest in 30 years.

New crop wheat contracts lost about a cent in Chicago today. May wheat, which represents the old crop, dropped about 4 cents, however. Some Winnipeg quotations were down the 5-cent daily limit.

Threshers are beginning work in southern Texas. Soon they will move northward through Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri and neighboring states and by late June or early July the harvest crews will have spread throughout the broad Mississippi valley.

The prospect of a big crop has reduced demand for wheat temporarily. European importing nations, anticipating a lower price, have virtually withdrawn from the market. Flour business is unusually quiet. Traders said much of the current market support comes from dealers who are buying wheat to cover previous sales, converting the operation into a profit.

Beauty Angle

WHEN we consider the size of the beauty industry in Texas—the 20,000 licensed operators, the 6,000 shops, the 125 instructors and 65 beauty culture schools, we realize the necessity for regulation in this vast profession. And it was of this, of beauty care in general and individual care in particular that we talked with Mrs. P. A. Houston in a pleasant hour Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Houston, here for the annual West Texas and New Mexico trade show sponsored by Russell Morrison company, is one of three members who make up the Texas State Board of Cosmetology and is the only woman in Texas to be affiliated with the International Master Lady Hairdressers association.

A GROWING BUSINESS

IN January 463 graduates of beauty culture schools appeared before a board for examinations in Austin; 600 were in Houston in March for examinations and 520 applied for licenses in Dallas recently, said Mrs. Houston in indicating the wide spread appeal this business has for young women. The theory and the whys and wherefores of beauty culture are stressed by the lately passed Texas cosmetology law which seeks to revive beauty culture, set standard prices and create in the public mind a confidence in the sanitation of the shops.

Mrs. Houston is anxious for a teachers' course to be established in Texas and, when this is accomplished, looks forward to the time when the business will be on a level with the nurses' and doctors' professions. This course would offer lessons in cosmetic hygiene, and would specialize in the study of cosmetology for active and prospective teachers, indicating what to teach, how much, when, where and why and would be required for all instructors.

• • •

SHE IS QUESTIONED

BEAUTY operators ask Mrs. Houston three leading questions she said. The first: How can a hairdresser gain the confidence of his client?

"I always say a hairdresser should remember she is not a prima donna. By 'prima donna' I refer to one who considers herself rather than her customer; who looks upon her appointment as just another job to be finished as quickly as possible. I therefore urge that the operator consider her customer and keep their relationship on a dignified basis, even professional status. I might say, such as the medical profession. When a woman visits a beauty shop she is tired and wants beautifying and relaxation; if there is talking to be done she wants to do it. I believe most hairdressers talk too much."

THE second question: How can a more personal feeling be created which will hold the customer and invite her to return to the establishment?

"I believe that a 'personal' feeling between the beautician and his client would be detrimental to business. To have the confidence of your client it is necessary that you have an adequate knowledge of human hair and its treatment. You will learn from experience that hair is affected by emotion, health and other outside influences. You will know, perhaps, that your client is using home remedies to care for her hair and scalp and if her hair discolors or fails to take a permanent you will be blamed. This is a point that creates friction between client and beautician but it can be marked up to experience."

The lack of confidence in the public towards the hairdresser is often caused by the inexperience of operators who try to cover their lack of knowledge in repeating meaningless phrases they have picked up such as "acid condition."

WHAT TO EXPECT

THE third question: What does the customer expect of the hairdresser? To this Mrs. Houston replies a hairdresser is not a servant of a client; she is an artist, a psychologist, an architect. She is an architect because she must study the symmetry of the face in order to create a fitting hairdress. Naturally the customer thinks she can suggest a style, so a study of human nature is necessary to convince her the style is becoming.

And regardless of all else, Mrs. Houston urges the beauticians to make their customers comfortable and happy tell them the truth and, borrowing from Dale Carnegie, they must learn "How to Win Customers and Influence Women."

ON COLORING HAIR

THE Austin visitor is a tall, rather large women with bright brown eyes and gray hair, worn in short flat curls becoming to her and very little makeup. In her discussion she talked about "coloring the hair" and curious as to why her own hair was gray we asked why no tint. Her answer made her a friend: "Because nature has changed the coloring of my skin to be worn with gray hair. If I should color my hair black my skin would appear yellow and the lines in my face would positively stand out."

She thinks many people realize this today since there seems to be more gray heads among the middle-aged groups than in the past.

Mama gives me Teethina when I'm temporarily constipated and when gas or a sour stomach give me colic pains, or when I eat the wrong kind of food and run off my bowels. Howell said a landscape meeting probably will be conducted next spring for Garden club members and others interested.

New Problems Face Industry

WICHITA, Kas., May 25. (AP) — Development of highly volatile motor fuels has created new storage problems for the oil industry and resulted in dotting the countryside with pudding-shaped tanks, the American Petroleum Institute was told today.

The importance of proper storage of crude oil and petroleum products and the extent to which economy of operation of the average motor vehicle is dependent upon efficient storage of motor fuels were described to the institute by D. E. Larson of the Chicago Bridge and Iron Co.

"During the recent years new refining processes and improved blending methods have made it possible to use the more volatile hydrocarbons in the production of superior motorfuels," Larson explained. "The necessity for preserving these light constituents, which were formerly wasted, has stimulated an extensive search for more efficient methods of storing petroleum products."

Tanks Are Developed

Pudding-shaped tanks were developed to provide storage conditions for modern fuels which prevent evaporation and loss of qualities motorists now demand, Larson said.

Police Lieutenant Herbert L. Marcey testified that officers found three marked one-dollar bills in Buchly's possession. He had worked at the executive offices for nine years.

Development of a standard method for measuring well depths was recommended to the institute by C. E. Reistle, jr., and S. T. Sikes, jr., of the Humble Oil & Refining Co., of Houston, Tex.

Drilling of wells more than two miles into the earth has taxed the capacity of available measuring devices and subjected them to strains and high temperatures which affect their accuracy, the engineers reported, pointing out that steel measuring lines are believed hopelessly inaccurate for depths below 6,000 feet.

Czechoslovak Government Keeps Peace On Border, But With Great Restraint

Tension Mounts In Wide Area

PRAHA, May 25. (AP)—The Czechoslovak government kept peace today on the German borderland—but with great restraint.

The day passed without serious disturbances, but with inflammatory oratory and nazi shouts of "whenever der fuehrer calls us, we are ready."

Government Worried

The government had been worried by the tremendous funeral demonstration at Eger for two Sudeten Germans whose deaths in a frontier shooting last Saturday aggravated a grave international crisis.

Troops have occupied the border districts since last Saturday, and additional reinforcements were sent today to the scene of the funeral services and processions.

Gendarmes kept out of sight as far as possible and left maintenance of order to uniformed members of the Sudeten German (nazi) party.

Heroes Of Faith

Because a message of condolence sent by Sudeten German members of parliament to bereaved relatives referred to victims of the border incident as "heroes of the national socialist faith," the government had feared Konrad Henlein, nazi leader, might whip the Sudeten throng into a frenzy with similar sentiments.

Henlein, however, showed moderation in his brief address.

But passages from the funeral speeches delivered by two other Sudeten German deputies were resented by the government as too pointedly political for funeral eulogies, and texts in Praha newspapers were censored.

Lightning Strikes Gasoline Tank But No Fire Results

ROTAN (Special)—During a rain and electrical storm here Saturday afternoon, ligthning struck a large steel welded gasoline storage tank at the Post Refinery Co. plant in the south part of town, and the explosion blew the flame out without resulting fire.

The tank has a capacity of 4,500 gallons and was about half full of gasoline. The flat bottom and top of the tank were pushed out to the limit, pulling connecting pipes from the ground. The tank did not burst and was continued in use.

Mass Meeting Slated Friday

Editors and chamber of commerce secretaries of the South Plains have been invited to a mass meeting here Friday night at which city planning will be discussed, according to announcement at the chamber of commerce Wednesday.

Letters also were addressed to several hundred Lubbock citizens urging them to attend. It was explained, however, that every citizen is invited to be present, regardless whether a letter may have been received.

Meeting Starts at 8 p. m.

The meeting will be in the east ballroom of Lubbock hotel at 8 p. m. Lubbock Technical club is in charge of arrangements and George M. Garrett, division engineer of the state highway department and president of the club, will preside.

Attention was called in both letters to the fact that Maj. E. A. Wood, director of the state planning board, has accepted an invitation to explain the law governing the establishment of city planning boards. Major Wood is to preside Saturday at the monthly meeting of the state board, to be held at the chamber of commerce.

Objectives Set Forth

Objectives of the mass meeting were explained in the letters. That circulated in Lubbock said in part:

"Would you start a house without some kind of plan? Would you build a living room and then a kitchen and then build a hall to connect them?

"That is the way we are building Lubbock. If we continue along this road, we will have to pay a mighty high price for our mistakes in years to come.

"Statistics bear out the belief that Lubbock will be a city of 50,000 to 75,000 population within 10 or 15 years — perhaps sooner — and we know from experiences of other cities that unless we begin now to plan our growth systematically, we will be seriously handicapped within the next few years."

Letters to editors and chamber of commerce secretaries asked them to invite "all of your interested citizens to this meeting, and particularly the officers and directors of chambers of commerce, city officials and presidents of men's and women's civic clubs."

"The majority of South Plains towns are young and growing and now is the time to plan for the future," the letter continued. "Many Texas cities are spending stupendous sums correcting mistakes in city building."

Roosevelt FFA Boys Leave For Trip To California

Two teachers and 11 boys who are members of Roosevelt Rural High school chapter of Future Farmers of America left for California early Wednesday on a trip described as without parallel in the organization. Las Cruces, N. M., was their first scheduled night stop.

The boys, to be gone 14 days, will visit farming institutions and observe work being done with livestock along the route to and from the west coast. They will camp at night and visit farming, stock raising and other operations, as well as points of general interest.

Roy M. Monk, vocational agriculture teacher, and Homer Harrison, school principal, are directors of the trip. Others in the group are Mr. Stinnett of the Acuff community, Dale Sanders, "Mule" Sherrod, Grady Trotter, James Alspaugh, David Montgomery, Joe Bob Baker, M. U. Hutto, jr. Neuman Hutto, George Bartlett, and George Stinnett.

The trip was arranged at a minimum cost to students.

If You Are Tired Of Your Job, Grab Some Rattlesnakes And Start New Business

By AUBREY McCARTY

"Scads of slithering snakes, that's what he has in that tent." "He" was "Daddy" Poole, gray-haired, bespectacled.

"Yessir, Bud, I have a standing offer of fifty dollars for any snake, poisonous or otherwise that I can't pick up and handle. I've handled rattlers for thirty-five years and haven't been bitten yet."

Performer At Show

Poole is a performer with T. J. Tidwell shows in Lubbock this week.

His prodecure of handling snakes is "simple". Snakes can see only over a limited scope, so put one hand in front of the victim as a lure, then snap the other behind his head. Tuck him under your arm and there you have him. Once touched by human hands, the snake has no desire to bite unless hurt, says Poole.

Simple, isn't it? Oh, yeah?

"People oughta learn that a male snake won't bite unless molested and a female will bite anything the four or six weeks in which she protects her young, born in June or July".

Make Good Living

If you are tired of your job, and Poole said "job" not life, you can make a good living with 200 rattlesnakes. Venom for use in inoculations commands a price of $180 an ounce and snakes can be "milked" every 48 hours. Milking, extraction of venom, is easy, according to this veteran who milked for the government in the World war. All you do is grab the snake, open his mouth, push his fangs through a piece of rubber stretched over a jar, and gently rub behind his ears. The venom drips out in amber colored drops which must be kept in liquid form till marketed. It requires constant cold to keep it from granulation.

Yes, you could get rich living with 200 rattlesnakes.

Poole plans to give exhibitions of milking and "cleaning" (extracting fangs) Friday and Saturday nights if expected consignments of rattlers arrive. Cleaning involves removing visible fangs and probing for "intermediates" which would fall into place in eight days if not drawn.

Fang extraction is easy, too. Just open his mouth, take a pair of pliers and pull.

RENT HOUSE BURNS

Simple Rules For Dealings With Public Are Related

Citing two sets of "ten commandments," one for salesmen who call on business men and the other for salesmen dealing with the public, Clyde Cale of Dallas, a master of ceremonies for the Russeell Morrison beauty school, yesterday told Rotarians some of the simple rules for getting along with the public.

Cale, who frequently visits Lubbock, talked informally on business ethics. He explained his business was comparatively new, but that while it is in its "infancy" it is attempting to weed out the "sleepy person" who is a detriment to the business. He said the "standard of a beautician of tomorrow" is that of a woman, trained in business as well as in the technical side of the trade.

Arch L. King was chairman presiding, with Jess Mytinger as co-chairman. C. I. Wall, vice president, presided in the absence of President James I. Kilpatrick. Dr. Bradford Knapp was present, the first time in more than two months. George M. Garrett invited Rotarians to hear Major E. A. Wood, of the state planning board, who speaks here Friday night on city planning.

Ellsworth To Deliver Address At Frenship School Exercises

The commencement address at Frenship Rural High school will be delivered tonight by Dr. J. O. Ellsworth, head professor of economics and business administration at Texas Technological college.

Dr. Ellsworth will address Amherst High school graduating students Friday night; County Line grammar school graduating students Monday night; and the Abernathy High school class Wednesday night.

The Frenship service is scheduled for 8:15 o'clock in the school building.

The grammar school graduating class at Frenship was addressed Wednesday night by G. V. Pardue, Lubbock attorney.

Untapped reserves of the world's three great natural resources, gas, coal, and oil, amount to 2200 times the world's annual consumption of all forms of energy.

Stiff Federal Terms Given

AMARILLO, May 25. (AP) — Stiff sentences for narcotic law violation were given Mary O'Dare and her husband, Ray Tilghman, former pals of the desperado Raymond Hamilton, in federal court here today.

Arnold Chambless, brother of Mary, who testified at the trial he sold narcotics for the Tilghmans in Amarillo, was convicted but his sentencing was delayed until tomorrow.

Given Long Terms

Tilghman was sentenced to serve 10 years in Leavenworth and given an additional five year sentence suspended for five years.

Chambless' young wife was given a five-year suspended sentence.

The four were convicted yesterday.

Mary O'Dare had served a year in Alderson, West Virginia, for harboring Raymond Hamilton, once her "boy friend." Both Tilghman and Chambless had criminal records.

Hubbers Stay Ahead With 5-4 Win From Clovis; Open Series At Clovis Today

Stevens Cracks Single In 9th For Local Win

By COLLIER PARRIS

Malcolm Stevens, the Hubbers' demon little second sacker, dragged his bat after a low, outside pitch, pushed a single to the boards past first base to score Bob Mosel from second to give Lubbock a 5-4 victory and a clean sweep of the two-game series with Clovis here yesterday.

One was out, two were on base in the last of the ninth when Stevens came to bat with the score knotted at four apiece. Clovis, its back to the wall, had jumped on Wee Marvin Gramly in the eighth for three runs to take a 4-2 lead, but the Hubbers pushed two men across in their part of the eighth to tie the package up. Stevens delivered it to Lubbock, and kept the Hubbers atop the West Texas-New Mexico league standing.

Play At Clovis Today

The teams move to Clovis for a two-game series beginning this afternoon. Charley Bryan is billed to start on the mound for Lubbock, possibly opposing the lanky Christopher.

Gramly pitched six-hit baseball yesterday to hang up his fourth straight league victory. Until the seventh yesterday, he had allowed but one hit, that one, off Dick Ratliff's bat, driving in the lone Clovis run up to the eighth. Pitcher Red Boisseranc, recently acquired by Clovis, bagged a double in the seventh for the second hit. McDonald's home run with Wyss aboard started the rally in the eighth. After two were out, Gramly walked Catcher Gagliardi, hit Shortstop Adkins, and gave up a single to Boisseranc which scored Gagliardi.

Boisseranc, a big, red-headed righthander with a floating curve ball, also pitched good ball, giving up but five hits and keeping them scattered. Hits meant runs, however, and the passes Boisseranc gave up were costly.

Hubs Take Lead

The Hubbers went away in the first when Mosel walked, advanced on Johnny Taylor's single and scored on Stevens' bingle through short. Taylor was nabbed trying to steal home, and Miller grounded to short.

Clovis tied it up in the third, but Gramly scored another for Lubbock in the same inning after drawing a walk. Gedzius followed with a walk. Mosel grounded to pitcher and Taylor singled, scoring Gramly. Stevens batted into a double play to stop the rally, and the score remained 2 to 1 until the eighth.

The goose-egg innings were made possible by some snappy infield play on the part of both clubs, each hanging up two twin killings. Lubbock made another in the ninth to cut short a rally that threatened disaster. A Hubber threat in the fifth came to naught when Manager Miller hit into a double play to the pitcher with the bases full and one out. Joe Gedzius messed up two chances and Taylor one, but the Gedzius-Stevens, Mosel combinations functioned for three nice double plays.

Of the five Lubbock hits, Taylor and Stevens got two each, Boyd Watkins one.

Crafty Barney Ross Is 7 To 5 Favorite To Put An End To Armstrong's Streak

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, May 25.—Two of the greatest fighting men the ring has produced in a decade are primed to settle the first major argument of the 1938 outdoor setason.

Unless bad weather beats them to the punch, Barney Ross and Henry Armstrong will give fistic fandom a much-awaited thrill over the 15-round title distance in Madison Square Garden's big wooden saucer in Long Island City, tomorrow night. If it rains, as the official forecaster suspects, the show will go on Friday night.

MIGHTY LITTLE MEN

NEW YORK, May 25. (AP)—Measurements of Barney Ross, welterweight champion, and Henry Armstrong, featherweight titleholder, who meet in a 15-round welterweight title bout at Madison Square Garden bowl tomorrow night.

ROSS		ARMSTRONG
28 years	oldage	25 years old
142 pounds	weight	136 pounds
5 ft. 6¾ in.	height	5 ft. 5½ in.
15½ in.	neck	15 in.
68½ in.	reach	67 in.
36½ in.	chest (normal)	33 in.
38½ in.	chest (expanded)	37½ in.
11½ in.	biceps	11½ in.
9¾ in.	forearm	10½ in.
6¾ in.	wrist	6½ in.
8 in.	fist	8 in.
31 in.	waist	28½ in.
19½ in.	thigh	18½ in.
13 in.	calf	11 in.
8½ in.	ankle	8¾ in.

Bout Is A "Natural"

It's theoretically an unprecedented "handicap match," with Ross defending the 147-pound or world welterweight championship against the dusky young "whirlwind who holds the featherweight title, at 126 pounds, but actually the bout is a "natural" in which the disparity in weight has been thoroughly minimized.

The agreement between the principals calls for Ross to make 142 pounds and Armstrong no less than 136 on the official scales tomorrow noon. When the pair finished light training today, Ross at a mid-town gym and Armstrong at his Pompton Lakes, N. J., camp, there was no indication either would have difficulty tipping the beam inside the prescribed limitations.

Ross Is Favorite

Ross, confident, crafty and apparently in first-class condition, rules the 7 to 5 choice to stop the winning streak of the negro who has been blasting his way through the little fellows for nearly two years. Ross' backers figure the Chicagoan, ringwise and a sharp puncher, has the antidote for Armstrong's rushing, windmill style of fist-throwing.

There are just as many who doubt the ability of Ross to survive 15 rounds of the kind of punishment Homicide Henry usually administers.

The title bout is scheduled for 9 p. m. (E.S.T.) (8 p. m. CST) and will be broadcast.

Texas Dominates All-Star Team

COLLEGE STATION, May 25. (AP)—Six baseball coaches of the Southwest conference today named an all-conference diamond squad in a poll conducted at the close of a season again dominated by the University of Texas.

Only two players were unanimous choices, Tommy Fine, Baylor pitcher, and Leroy Westerman, Texas outfielder. John Hill of Texas and Bob Williams of the Texas Aggies tied for first base.

The first team:

Fine, Baylor; John Garnett, Texas; Harry Cohn, Aggies, and J. C. Wofford, S. M. U., pitchers; Charley Crenshaw, Baylor; Joyce Rawe, Texas, catchers. John Hill, Texas, and Bob Williams, Aggies, first base; Johnny Nolen, Aggies, second base; Bob Stone, Aggies, third base; Jack Conway, Texas, shortstop; Bob Moers, Texas, utility infielder; Woody Bell, Aggies, left field; Francis Churchill, S. M. U., center field; Leroy Westerman, Texas, right field. Ross Hightower, Baylor, outfield utility.

Sampson Gives Up To Bromberg In Main Event At Wrestling Arena

Dick Sampson, the man of changeable moods, was back in "gentlemanly" form last night, but once more he proved that he was just an ordinary wrestler, with little staying ability, rather than the powerful "unbeatable" panther-man who made such an impressive start in these parts.

Sampson stood back on his heels last night and allowed Carl von Bromberg, the flannel-mouthed Irishman, to rock him back and forth and win a rather pitiful main event at the Auditorium.

Jack Hagen Visits

Perhaps the most encouraging sign at the Auditorium last night was the presence, in civilian clothes, of Jack Hagen, the headlock artist from Shreveport, who comes through on a visit but promises to return in a couple of weeks to take a turn or two on the mat. If the promoters of the circuit can move somebody in who can stay a few minutes with Jack, there should be some interesting minutes.

Highlight of last night's entertainment was the semi-final between Ohio Buzz Reynolds and Hartay the Hungarian. They weaved and bobbed, slugged and slammed for 30 minutes of amusement and hard work. Their match resulted in a draw, with Reynolds carrying the fight. The fast, clever youngster with the Chaplin moustache and the wrestling germ of his ancestor, Uncle Jack Reynolds, has a lot to learn in the way of really effective offense, but he has the speed, determination and grit right now. He flew into the veteran Hartay and stayed with him, swarming around the mat like a hive of hornets, now and then stinging Hartay with holds and blows not in the wrestling books.

Davis, Thomas Tie

The preliminary, even, was as good as, if not better than, the main event, with Dizzy Dilly Davis playing the villain's role again and Soldier Thomas of Washington staying with him for 20 minutes and a draw.

Quite a crowd gathered for the Sampson-von Bromberg event, but the customers went away hungry. Sampson did more "laying down on the job" than he ever has done here, while Bromberg, not an accomplished wrestler, hung around to get the best of it in the first and third falls. He won the first in about 15 minutes with three flying mares and a body smother. Sampson was a bit more industrious in the second to win easily in 7 minutes with a cradle, after a series of bumps to the mat. Sampson and the referee helped, whether purposely or not, to make von Bromberg "look good" in the third, and to Sampson's sorrow.

Four Americans Survive Play

By SCOTTY RESTON
Associated Press Sports Writer

TROON, Scotland, May 25—United States forces suffered two vital setbacks in the British Amateur golf championship today, but still had four big guns firing as a field of 32 reached the first real climax of the international battle.

Defeated were Walker Cup Captain Francis Ouimet of Boston and Reynolds Smith of Dallas. Survivors were U. S. Champion Johnny Goodman of Omaha, Charles (Chuck) Kocsis of Detroit, Charley Yates of Atlanta, and Fred Haas, jr., of New Orleans. The only trouble now is that Goodman and Kocsis meet in the fourth round tomorrow morning in what looks like one of the decisive matches of the tournament.

Ouimet Loses

Ouimet was beaten, one up, in a third-round match by Cecil Ewing, burly Irishman who played on the 1936 British Walker Cup team. Smith, beaten 2 up by Jocelyn Walker, former Cambridge star, went out in the second round, together with American-born Robert Sweeny, the defending champion, who lost to Dr. W. M. Robb, 5 and 4.

Goodman and Kocsis, who reached the third round yesterday, played only once today, the American champion swamping Albert W. Briscoe, Irish internationalist, 6 and 5, and Kocsis disposing of John S. Montgomerie, 4 and 2. Yates beat Frank Pennink, English champion the last two years, by 3 and 2 in the morning, then beat Stanley P. Morrison, 5 and 4. Haas' victims were Dr. J. D. MacCormack, by 7 and 5, and Derek A. Drayson, 4 and 3.

In order to get an idea of just how tough the four surviving Americans are one must look at their cards. Yates, the man who made putting look easy, was three under 4's for the 30 holes it took him to eliminate Pennink and Morrison. Kocsis was two under par for the 15 holes he needed to thump Montgomerie; Goodman was even par against Briscoe, and Haas shot even par for both his matches.

The international complexion of the field may be gathered from the fact that still in the running are 17 Scots, five Englishmen, four Americans, two Australians, and one each from Canada, India, Wales and Ireland.

Hobbs Tramples Wink To Tie For Second

(Special To The Avalanche)

WINK, May 25.—The pesky Hobbs Boosters, struggling for leadership in the West Texas-New Mexico league, and boasting the most "hustling" club in the circuit, went to town against four Wink pitchers here tonight to collect 25 hits and a 23-3 victory over the second place team.

The result threw Hobbs and Wink into a tie for second place, a game and a half behind the Lubbock Hubbers who won from Clovis, 5-4, this afternoon.

The teams change places today for two games, before Wink goes to Lubbock for an important series beginning Saturday.

Wink Lead Fades

Wink took a lead tonight with a run in the first inning, but the Boosters started their attack with five runs in the second, added seven more in the third, but waited until the sixth to do the most damage, scoring 8 times. Three Wink pitchers were blasted from the mound in less than 7 innings, after which Roberts, veteran righthander, went in and held Hobbs to two hits and one run. Every player on the Hobbs club hit safely except Rey. Homers by Hargrove and Donaldson featured the attack.

Eleven Road Projects Included In Orders Of Highway Group

AUSTIN, May 25. (AP) — Highway commissioners today approved for inclusion in the current federal aid program, in which the state and federal government split costs, 11 projects costing $1,707,000.

These replaced 10 items which were set back to the next program beginning July 1.

Reasons Are Given

Engineers said plans for improvements transferred to the next program had not developed fast enough while those for items moved up, and on which bids probably can be asked soon were nearing completion.

By counties, projects switched to the current program included: Smith, highway 64, 8.7 miles surfacing; Navarro and Hill, highway 22, 4.8 miles surfacing; Marion, highway 49, 4.3 miles surfacing; Lynn, highway 9, 14 miles surfacing.

Those moved back included: Howard, highway 9, 4.5 miles grading, drainage structures and surfacing; Wood, highway 80, 2.9 miles surfacing, Dewitt, highway 29, 12.4 miles grading and drainage structures; El Paso, highway 80, 8.8 miles widening grading and drainage structures and surfacing.

Other Orders Given

Other commission orders included:

Bell, appropriated $10,585 for grading, drainage structures and flexible base on highway 36 from 4 miles northwest to Temple to intersect the Belton-Moody road. Engineers were directed to immediately prepare plans and place the work under contract.

Callahan and Taylor, ordered set up a WPA project at a total cost of $92,149 for completion of grading and flexible base on highway 36 from an intersection with highway 80 east of Abilene to the Callahan-Taylor counties line and grading, drainage structures and flexible base from the Taylor-Callahan line southeast 6 miles in Callahan county. The proposed project cancels grading, drainage structures and select material from the Taylor-Callahan southeast 3.65 miles in Callahan county.

Transfer Is Ordered

Nueces and Jackson, withdrew from current secondary federal aid program grading, drainage and surfacing of a feeder road from Chapman ranch west 6 miles, ordered transferred from the 1939 to the current program surfacing highway 172 from 3.5 miles north of highway 35 to Laward at an estimated cost of $45,000 and added to 1939 program grading and drainage structures from Bluntzer school westerly to the Nueces-Jim Wells county line at an estimated cost of $45,000 providing Nueces county agrees to advance to construct a connection between the west end of the proposed project and an existing county road to highway 96 near Casa Blanca.

Kent, appropriated $25,000 from first accruals from other projects for surfacing highway 18 from junction with highway 70 east to connect with approved federal location, a distance of 2.2 miles on condition county secures right-of-way along approved route of highway 18, a total distance of 2.7 miles.

Highway Designated

Menard, designated a state highway from highway 4 near Menard to Mission San Saba, 1.2 miles, and instructed engineers to prepare plans and request bids for building the road at an estimated cost of $16,500.

Rusk, instructed engineer to survey and estimate cost of reconstructing drainage structures and surfacing of highway 135 in town of Overton.

Castro, instructed WPA project set up for grading, drainage structures, and flexible base from the Swisher-Hale county line to Hart on highway 194, 10 miles, at an estimated cost of $60,066.

To Make Survey

Tom Green and Concho, designated a state highway from U. S. highway 277, at or near San Angelo, to U. S. highway 83, at or near Paint Rock. Ordered engineer to make a location survey with understanding funds are not now available for construction.

Coke and Tom Green, appropriated $28,000 in state funds to supplement WPA funds for completing base course in Tom Green county and grading and drainage structures in Coke county on a current project on highway 208. Total estimated cost is $40,000 and Tom Green county labor is to be used throughout.

Cochran, ordered highway 214 extended from Bailey county line to Morton at an estimated cost of $24,058.

Crosby, ordered set up as WPA project construction of flexible base course on highway 207 from the Floyd county line south five miles and appropriated $15,300 state funds to supplement WPA funds.

Ranchers Of New Mexico Will Fight Hoppers With Model T

FARLEY, N. M., May 25. (AP) — Wind-tanned farmers and ranchmen of northeastern New Mexico who survived drouth and depression, pinned their hopes on the old "model T" Ford today to stand off a growing grasshopper menace.

A mechanical spreader made from the rear end of the out-moded "model T", with which, hopper poison is spread at the rate of 400 acres a day, is their most lethal weapon in the battle, they told Gov. Clyde Tingley at a five-county council of war last night.

Their plea to the governor was for funds.

At Least 250 Persons Killed As Rebel Planes Drop Bombs

ALICANTE, Spain, May 25. (AP)—Six insurgent bombing planes swooped down upon Alicante today in a ferocious bombardment which killed at least 250 persons and wounded more than a thousand.

It was the most disastrous single raid of the Spanish civil war.

The death toll was exceedingly high because two of the heaviest bombs fell squarely into the market place, in the center of the city, where hundreds of women were lined up to buy foodstuffs.

Few Details Of Event Offered

MEXICO CITY, May 25. (AP) — An undetermined number of San Luis Potosi towns were bombed today by rebel chieftain Saturnino Cedillo's planes which the Mexican minister of war charged were piloted by United States pilots.

Government censorship interrupted telephone communications with the San Luis Potosi state capital before details of the bombing could be learned.

U. S. Pilots At Controls

The raids were said by War Minister Manuel Avila Camacho to have been carried out by Cedillista planes with United States pilots at the controls. The minister did not disclose the source of his information.

Uncensored dispatches from San Luis Potosi, center of the agrarian leader's rebellion, reported a force of 2,000 rebels were near Rio Verde, in the northern part of the state, which federal troops captured last week in the uprising's only important engagement.

Propaganda Is Dropped

Reports from Tampico, important oil-shipping port on the Gulf of Mexico, said a plane presumed to be one of Cedillo's flew over dropping quantities of rebel propaganda.

Earlier, defense ministry officials had called the rebellion a "war without battles."

A Chance For Our Neighbors

IF the civic minded citizens of towns of the South Plains are as alert and far-sighted as the Morning Avalanche believes them to be, they will seize the opportunity to attend the mass meeting here Friday night at which city planning will be discussed.

Chief speaker on that occasion will be Major E. A. Wood, director of the Texas State Planning board, who will discuss the legal phases of city planning. In other words, he will explain how a city may adopt a long range plan for orderly development so that it will comply with the intricacies of law. Any city plan which fails to meet such requirements is obviously worse than none at all.

Major Wood should be—and we feel sure that he is—as well qualified as any man in Texas to discuss the legal phases of city planning. Therefore, it will be little less than short-sightedness for those who have the welfare of the towns of our area at heart to avail themselves of the opportunity to hear him.

By seizing the chance, Lubbock's neighbors may avoid the mistake of omission we have made, and for which we now pay and continuously must pay. All of our neighbors are at the threshold of their growth. Some of them undoubtedly will become cities and there is every reason why all should expand as the area develops. Right now is the time to prepare for the future—to make sure that their development follows a planned and orderly course.

If they want an example of what short-sightedness may cost them, all they have to do is look at Lubbock. They will discover that in many cases, a resident of our city is hesitant to build a beautiful home because he is helpless to prevent the erection of a shack, hamburger stand or some other unsightly structure on the property adjoining him or across the street.

Lubbock, of course, is not to be blamed too much. Nor is it to be supposed that conditions here are anything like as bad as in most cities of approximate or larger size. When this city was very little larger than a good many towns on the South Plains today, a real effort was made to adopt city planning. The movement failed then only because of the worst depression in the nation's history. But we can look back now and see that, depression or no depression, it would have been economy and good sense to have pushed the plan to completion.

The Morning Avalanche joins with officials and civic leaders in extending the invitation to our neighbors to join us Friday night in attacking a problem common to us all.

In The Right Direction

CONGRATULATIONS to the City commission if members of that body go ahead with reported plans to authorize immediately additional men and equipment for the police department.

The fact that the department is undermanned has long been recognized. The Morning Avalanche recognizes that the fact the city operated on a budget then in effect may have delayed needed increases. But now that a new fiscal year has just begun and a new budget is being prepared, there should be delays no longer.

While the proposed increase of two men and one night cruising automobile is not enough to bring the department up to numerical par with most cities, it at least would be a step in the right direction. Perhaps before cotton picking time, four additional patrolmen recommended by law enforcement authorities as the minimum Lubbock need may also be provided.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
JACKIE DUNN — heroine; she wanted to fly.
ROGER BRECKNER — hero; he wanted to test the stratosphere.
BERYL MELROSE—wealthy widow; she wanted Roger.
EVELYN LA FARGE — Jackie's mother; she wanted a son-in-law.

• • •

Yesterday: Jackie rushes to Roger's bedside. An enormous pity engulfs her and then she finds Beryl Melrose has arrived first.

CHAPTER XVIII

Beryl Melrose was staying at the same hotel with Jackie. She had been staying there ever since Roger had been found and removed to the hospital. The moment she had received word that the silver plane had been forced down she had boarded the first transcontinental ship headed back East.

The nurses told Jackie, over and over, how wonderful Mrs. Melrose had been. They said it was doubtful if Roger could have held on to the slender thread of life without her. She had scarcely left his side, day or night.

"He certainly wouldn't be alive today, if it weren't for Mrs. Melrose," Doctor Watson, who attended Roger, added his word of praise. "My, but she is a wonderful woman!"

That was what Roger had said about Beryl too. More than once he had told Jackie how wonderful he thought Beryl was. In the anxious days that were to follow Jackie was to agree, if somewhat reluctantly, with this general opinion. Beryl was indeed a pillar of strength; her calm poise never deserted her, never for a moment did she show signs of emotions her heart may have held.

She was wonderful to Jackie, too. Not only was she cheerful and kind, but she made every effort to be friendly and to win the younger girl's liking and confidence. There were many long hours that they had to spend in each other's company, not only in the hospital at Roger's side, but they had many meals together, took walks around the little old-fashioned town, talked far into the night after they had returned to their rooms.

Jackie had to admit, to herself at least, that she did not know how she could have pulled through this trying time without Beryl. But she admitted this reluctantly, too. For Jackie did not want to grow to admire Mrs. Melrose; she was not eager to be friends with her.

• • •

Jackie would not have been human if she had not resented the fact that Beryl had reached Roger's side first—and that he practically owed his life to her. It is not easy to love someone whom you know another person loves too.

It was not easy to stumble, unwittingly, upon the sort of scene that Jackie came upon several days after her arrival.

Roger had been improving steadily, if very slowly, so that now the crisis had passed. He had suffered a severe head wound, a double-fractured arm and a bad ankle, but there seemed no question as to his full recovery. He was still extremely weak; it would take weeks before he would be strong again; the shock alone was not one from which he could recover rapidly.

He was able to talk a little now, though not allowed to overtax his strength. He could be propped up on pillows for a short while each day. Jackie and Beryl usually took turns now visiting him, chatting cheerfully and impersonally — as orders still remained that he was not to be excited—reading aloud, or just sitting in the room while he dozed.

The morning of this particular day, Jackie had spent with him. She planned to write a few letters in the afternoon, while Beryl was at the hospital.

"I'll stay until you come," Beryl said, in parting. "Don't feel that you have to hurry, Jackie. Take time to do a few things for yourself today. You should, now that Roger is improving so much."

"I will," Jackie said. "Isn't it grand that he's coming along so well? He seemed so much more like himself this morning. I wonder how long it will be, Beryl, before Roger can leave the hospital?" She would like some definite news to write her mother. Oh! the world was a grand place, now that Roger was going to be all right. Jackie felt more like herself, too; her heart was light again, with relief and joy and gratitude.

• • •

Beryl said, "I am going to have a conference with Dr. Watson today. Then we ought to know pretty definitely how much longer it is going to take for Roger to mend. Though what counts is the fact that he will get well. You know, Jackie," her lovely dark eyes grew sober, "if he hadn't—if anything serious had happened to Roger — I — I should have blamed myself for it. I should never have forgiven myself—never!"

This was the first time Beryl had let anyone glimpse through her carefully guarded reserve. Jackie was surprised—and moved. "You must not feel that way," she said. "It wouldn't have been your fault, Beryl." Of course she knew why Beryl felt that way; it was because she loved Roger.

"I can't help it," Beryl said, and for another brief moment, her eyes again betrayed her secret. Then she smiled, adding in her usual quiet manner, "But how foolish to talk this way even! Now that we know Roger will be all right—and are so thankful." She said goodby once more and went on her way.

• • •

Jackie was feeling entirely made over, late that afternoon, as she mounted the steps to the hospital. She felt a singing sort of happiness deep within her, as she had not felt since that dreadful day when Roger's ship had crashed down from the skies.

For the first time the long narrow hallways of the hospital failed to subdue and sadden her with their gloomy silence. She hurried towards Roger's door, at the far end, not dreading now what she would meet within these walls, but walking lightly, firmly with quick, confident steps, and actually daring to hum a gay little tune underneath her breath!

Soon now, Roger would be well again; he would leave this place forever. He would grow strong and brown and whole. All that had been would be as though it had never happened, this terrible accident, these anxious days of waiting and worrying—even all that had gone before that.

For when Roger was entirely well Jackie would tell him that all that had been between them had not been make-believe, pretense; she would tell him that their trial engagement could be a true one, if he wanted it to be. She would let him see how much she loved him, if necessary! She would be proud to tell him, glad . . .

Now at his door she slackened her steps, curbing their eagerness. The door was slightly ajar; she would push it open gently and surprise Roger and Beryl. She had brought a surprise, too, purchased on her way; a lovely, colorful bunch of spring flowers, gay as the warm sunshine streaming in through the window, playing on Roger's narrow, high, white bed.

He was propped up, ever so slightly, against his pillows. But he did not see Jackie in the doorway. His eyes were on Beryl, who knelt at his side, her beautiful dark eyes fixed on his, their expression again unguarded without reserve. She leaned forward now and caught Roger's free hand in hers. She pressed it swiftly, with infinite tenderness and passion, to her lips, then lay her head down, her shoulders shaking with long-drawn sobs.

Jackie did not wait to see more. She turned and walked quietly down the long silent hallway again, the flowers still clasped in her arms.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THOSE coy, underwater nibbles at A. F. of L. William Green's membership line are the direct result of Rival John L. Lewis' defeat in the Pennsylvania primary. Within three days Green headquarters at the capital were flooded with offers of surrender by C.I.O. or independence union organizations.

On the day that Mr. Lewis' political colors were lowered, Harry Lundberg landed at Washington to negotiate settlement terms with the A. F. of L. boss. Lundberg heads the independent sailors' union on the Pacific coast, and both Messrs. Green and Lewis have been angling for his support. So far he has held aloof, bargaining for advantage. But now he has undertaken a plebiscite of his men that will not be completed for some weeks, since many are far out to sea. How they finally vote—A. F. of L. or C. I. O.—will reveal just how fatal was the thrust that Mr. Lewis sustained in the Keystone state.

Garment President David Dubinsky and Sidney Hillman—C.I.O. bulwarks—may also flop in reaction to Mr. Lewis' political repulse. Labor strife has provoked them, and they grumbled when the C.I.O. chieftain's political activities imposed heavy assessments on their part-time workers. If these three powerful groups fall away, it won't be long before Mr. Lewis will be only another labor leader.

• • •

SCALPS: Mr. Green lost not a minute in capitalizing on his rival's political loss, which will be reflected in membership and dues droppings. Speaking at Cincinnati, he voiced a bid for industrial peace the rebuked both the C.I.O. generalissimo and his political sponsor—Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Behind Mr. Green's appeal lies a long story. Offstage representatives of labor and management have been huddling in an attempt to settle the difficulties without resort to government interference. On both sides, however, there are hard-boiled groups which refuse to compromise an inch. On the side of industry they were responsible for the rejection by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce of the Green offer of friendship a few weeks ago. Cooler heads regret that mistake, and have so informed Mr. Green.

Otherwise, the A. F. of L. president would not have renewed his proposal for peace at Cincinnati. What's happening is this: Both Mr. Green and the industrialists figure that they have disposed of the more truculent Mr. Lewis and that now is the time for them to bury their hatchets in his head. Another scalp they would like to lift while they're about it is the President's!

• • •

MUNITIONS: "Well," said a thrifty House member as a $35,000 appropriation bill slipped through on unanimous consent day without a single objection, "that's the price the taxpayers must pay to reelect Sam McReynolds and keep Sol Bloom from becoming chairman of the Foreign Affair scommittee."

And so it was. The veteran foreign expert of the House, Mr. McReynolds, faces a difficult reelection contest revolving around his opposition to the wage-hour measure. His canny opponent argues that the small wages paid to Tennessee mill workers hurt the local community. The savings benefit northern absentee owners, he insists, whereas higher pay would mean money in the pocket for the local butcher, baker, and candlestick maker. Mr. McReynolds is having trouble in meeting the argument, despite long and illustrious service at the capital.

So his buddies did not object to the $35,000 appropriation for a pilgrimage to the scene of almost forgotten historical events that occurred in his district seventy-five years ago. The great battle which the money will help to commemorate involves Mr. McReynolds rather than the blue and the gray. And it's hard on Mr. Bloom, the ranking member whose Harlem heart aches for the prestige and the embassy invitations which the chairmanship would bring him.

• • •

KICKBACK: With hardly any debate and with only 40 members present the House recently passed an omnibus flood control measure lifting almost $100,000,0000 from the federal Treasury. What the "save" men didn't know is that this small-change bill may eventually nick Uncle Sam for $1,000,000,000, though with a miscroscope you couldn't find that figure in the committee print.

For years the federal government has required local communities to furnish 100 per cent of the land and easements needed in the area to be flooded. In many instances states have had to forego protection against recurring disasters because they couldn't dig up their share of the cost. In some sections they have paid their way. But the new bill calls on them for only 30 per cent contribution of local costs. The government finances the balance.

Any political bookkeeper knows what will happen now. Those states which fulfilled the 100 per cent requirement will demand and obtain—refunds on the basis of the new 70-30 arrangement. It is estimated that the bickback will amount to at least $500,000,000, hiking the total for the 1938 program to more than twice its facial cost. "It should be called a political control bill," commented a Democratic wag whose state rates no federal contribution.

• • •

LAG: Housing Administrator Nathan Straus is weeping on the shoulders of newspaper cronies these days, begging them to "lay off" his secret sorrow. That is the failure of occupants of his sunny tenements in the slums to pay their rents.

As the depression deepens, Mr. Straus' collectors are running into defaults almost every rent day. The tenants have lost jobs, their wives or children are ill, and they can't meet their bills. So Mr. Straus has become a combination of Santa Claus and evictor. Where unemployment and illness combine to prevent payment, he certifies the names of the defaulters to Harry Hopkins for relief assistance. When convinced that deliberate shirking underlies the rent lag, he moves the furniture to the sidewalk.

The slum clearance proposition seemed to be a grand humanitarian move when it was started—like the C.C.C. camps—but it will turn out to be a sour investment if the depression continues. For consider: First the government builds these tenements with only a 45 or 10 per cent local contribution. Then it supplies relief funds so that occupants may pay their rent, not to the government but to the local community. Even ebullient Mr. Straus begins to wonder where it will end!

STYLE: A New Dealer with leanings toward economic royalism attended Assistant State Secretary R. Walton Moore's annual garden party in Old Virginia. As he reached the parking green, he found his way blocked by a shiny limousine a mile long and a mile high and tended by a liveried chauffeur.

The new arrival concluded that the offending automobile must be the property of Sir Ronald Lindsay, the British ambassador, or probably that of Mr. Saito, the ambassador from the Land of the Rising (or Setting) Sun.

Believe it or not, the limousine belonged to John L. Lewis, head of the C.I.O. and, with Mr. Roosevelt, the champion of the "forgotten man."

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

THE striking triumph of the Repuolican old guard in the Pennsylvania primary is likely to have national repercussions. Gifford Pinchot, for years a standard bearer of the "progressive" wing of the party, was swamped by more than 2 to 1. This angle is emphasized above all others in backstage conferences of G.O.P. leaders in New York and elsewhere.

The roster of Arthur James' chief backer reads like an arch-conservative "Who's Who." Sun Oil Magnate Joseph N. Pew, Jr., was the chief organizer and angel. Very much among those present were Ernest Weir of National Steel—second only to Henry Ford as a thorn in the side of the National Labor Relations Board; Jay Cooke—Philadelphia financier; ex-Senator Joseph F. Grundy of high tariff fame.

It is worth noting that the Pew-Weir crowd is close to National Chairman John D. M. Hamilton and has contributed heavily to the financial support of the Republican National committee as well as the state organization. They figure to have an important voice in selecting the party's presidential candidate in 1940. Their wishes won't be easy to ignore—especially if Judge James wins in November.

Side Glances---By George Clark

"We're ready for dessert and some more bug spray."

The Plainsman Says:

That girl on Broadway says the measure of a man is the amount of money it takes to make him feel bigger than the law.

★ ★ ★

EVERY TWO YEARS, between the months of April and September, the desks of Texas editors are flooded with "news" from the various candidates for state offices.

Stack after stack of stereotyped "tripe" goes tumbling into the wastebaskets — representing money wasted on paper, typing, mimeographing and actual writing time which is bought and paid for.

Just how long it is going to take candidates for state offices to discover that their money is being largely wasted in this regard, The Plainsman doesn't know.

All he does know is that they haven't learned anything in the past 14 years, because they are following the same old trail in 1938 that they were following in 1924—when The Plainsman landed in Texas—and heaven alone knows how much longer.

★ ★ ★

Good "press contact men" are worth a lot to a candidate.

But they're worthwhile only in towns where the candidate happens to be campaigning, where they contact editors direct.

Their "canned" stories flooding the state daily rarely, if ever, see the light of the printed page.

★ ★ ★

THE AVERAGE READER would be both shocked and amused at some of the stuff sent out labeled "news."

Further, the average reader would be astounded at the repetition which dogs the "publicity" of every candidate.

The thing we've never been able to understand is why the candidates themselves, are never shocked, amused or astounded at the stuff which is mailed out to editors concerning their campaigns.

They're about the only people who haven't yet gotten "hep" to the situation.

★ ★ ★

Take, for instance, the campaign of Karl Crowley, who is running for governor.

When he left Washington and his post as a lawyer for the Postoffice department, Mr. Roosevelt wrote one of his usual "Dear So-and-So" letters, thanking Mr. Crowley for his work. There was nothing unusual about that. Mr. Roosevelt writes letters like that almost every day.

But Mr. Crowley's publicity men sent out mats of the letter to all editors—few, if any, of whom, printed them—and since that time have continued to including copies in every batch of Crowley material.

Waste. Nothing but waste.

★ ★ ★

ANOTHER EXAMPLE of asininity in campaign publicity has cropped up in that of Tom Hunter, also a gubernatorial candidate.

As everyone knows, the people of Texas have hollered until they are hoarse in an effort to make Mr. Hunter understand that they don't want him for governor. Three times have they told the Wichita Falls man that he isn't needed in the statehouse.

So to try and offset that fact, Mr. Hunter's publicity boys blithely and serenely compare him with Abraham Lincoln!

A line in his publicity material reads:

"Remember this: Abraham Lincoln was defeated more than a dozen times before he finally was elected to a public office!"

That, kind friends, is not only unmitigated gall, but furthermore it has nothing to do with the Texas gubernatorial campaign in the good year of 1938.

★ ★ ★

Hunter and Crowley publicity men are not alone in these foibles.

The other boys are probably fully as bad. We just quoted these above instances simply because they happened to bob up most recently.

If willful waste brings woeful want, then it's sure going to be too bad for every candidate for state office in Texas this year—and for years past.

★ ★ ★

THE PLAINSMAN isn't criticizing the press contact men because they do not write readable stuff for daily state-wide dissemination.

Better reporters than the writer are many of those working for candidates.

And one of the toughest jobs under the sun is traveling the long, hot highways and byways of Texas from early morning until late at night, as writers and candidates both must do in political summers.

But we are criticizing the system which gets the candidate nothing for his paper, mimeographing and postage money and the writers nothing for their effort.

It's just wrong, that's all.

★ ★ ★

That man on Avenue Q says if you intend to quit smoking do it young. Then you'll have more years to brag about it.

★ ★ ★

UNLESS you are a very unusual Texan, you can't guess within a half-million your state's present population.

What's your guess?

The correct answer is 6,172,000. That is, the figure is as nearly correct as can be computed without an actual nose-counting of the state as a whole.

★ ★ ★

According to figures compiled by the All-South Development council, Texas has more than doubled her population since the turn of the century.

Only California has outstripped Texas in rapidity of growth during the 1930's thus far.

But despite our rapid and continued growth, we still have opportunity to add many another million citizens before the saturation point is reached.

Texas, at present, has a population of only 22 persons per square mile. That's not much when compared with 131.8 for the New England states; 262 for the Middle Atlantic states of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, and 103 for what's generally known as the Midwest.

We've got lots of room in which to spread, as we West Texans well know.

★ ★ ★

IN your opinion, is the United States moving slowly, but surely, toward a dictatorship?

Let's see how your opinion stacks up with the opinions of 1,644 newspaper editors who recently answered that question for a nation-wide survey.

Of the 1,644 editors venturing an opinion, 1,204 said they believe we are heading for a dictatorship; 440 thought not. That is a percentage of 73.24 against 26.76.

On the same questionnaire was the query:

"In your opinion, has our legislative and governmental trend in late years been consistent with the principles and the spirit of the constitution?

Two hundred eighty-two thought "yes," but 1,360 answered in the negative.

What do you think about that question?

The Plainsman would not stick his neck out to say, flatly, that the United States is headed for a dictatorship.

He does say, however, that we are headed in that direction; that we may see the day when an attempt will be made to set up the dictator form of government.

However, we believe that the American public—the great backbone of the nation—will rise up and squash any such effort if and when it is made.

This column still has faith in the average citizen, in his intelligence and his courage.

Panhandle Crop Prospects Good

AMARILLO, May 25. (AP)—Despite a total wheat crop failure predicted for six Panhandle counties, the Panhandle Grain and Feed Dealers association here today forecast a grain yield of 20,000,000 bushels for the area—3,000,000 bushels above the estimate at the same time last year.

Damage by wind and grasshoppers explain the total loss of crop in Dallam, Moore, Hartley, Parmer, Bailey and Lamb counties, the dealers said in closing their two-day annual convention.

TARZAN UNDER FIRE No. 16 By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Fearlessly Tarzan faced the revolver. "If you believe I kidnaped your child, and know where she is, you defeat your purpose by killing me," he said quietly. The officer lowered the revolver, ashamed now that his grief had driven him to a lawless threat.

"Why do you believe I am guilty?" the ape-man continued. Captain d'Albert turned and shouted a command. Five jungle blacks filed into the room, each swearing he had seen the strange prisoner with the child. These were the hired henchmen of the Arab, Abdul Keb.

The last of the false witnesses was the one who said he had found little Yvonne's locket while trailing the white savage and the child. "None of these men saw me," Tarzan growled; "for I saw none of them. In the forest no man sees Tarzan without being seen."

"The evidence is against you," the officer roared; "you killed my daughter for revenge, because I ordered you from the district; or you have hidden her. If she is not found in a reasonable time, you will be brought to trial. The verdict is inevitable—death!"

The trade interests are generally agreeable on the one point that values are 25 to 50c higher for the week.

With prices advancing sharply as they are now doing we are expecting you to bring us in good butcher cattle so that we can fill our buyers' orders.

With our sales—both Tuesday and Friday—beginning at 10:00 a. m. it enables you to get your stock sold and collected for at much earlier hour than was the case in the past when the sales started at 1:00 p. m.

We have the buyers—you bring us the cattle, and we feel sure you will be pleased with the returns your cattle will bring you.

DECLINES REGISTERED
NEW YORK, May 25. (AP)—Skidding prices for major farm products helped cut the ground from under the stock market today. Share quotations slipped fractions to more than 2 points, with a few registering wider declines, in extension of a slow retreat from the recent spring recovery.

Traditionally a blessing, bumper crop forecasts in face of industrial stagnation failed to excite traders into a buying mood. On the contrary, a sharp break in wheat at Chicago and further deflation in other key staples seemed to discourage buying of stocks and to quicken the downtrend for industrial shares.

Farm implement, mail order, electrical equipment, chemical, motor and miscellaneous industrials took the main force of the selling.

Fresh war jitters aroused by news of the Czechoslovak situation, accompanied the fall of commodities.

The Associated Press index of 35 key staple prices sank to the lowest since May, 1934.

Accenting the decline in some stocks and supplementing the drab business picture painted in trade reports were additional dividend omissions and cuts, including such companies as Crucible Steel, Republic Steel, Commercial Solvents, America Bank Note and American Safety Razor.

Hopes for a late summer or autumn business pickup were relegated to the background by actual trade reports and apprehension the fall of farm products would cut into rural purchasing power and trade.

International Harvester touched a new 1938 low at 50, off 1⅛. J. I. Case lost 2⅞ at 72¾. Sears Roebuck 1⅛ at 52 and Montgomery Ward 1⅛ at 28⅞ as echoes of the fall in grains sounded in the stock market.

Eastman Kodak was off 5 at 148 and Ingersoll Rand 6¾ at 78. Fractionally to more than a point down were U. S. Steel 41⅝, Bethlehem 42¾, General Motors 28⅛, Anaconda Copper 23⅜, Kennecott 29¼, Westinghouse Electric 73, General Electric 33, Douglas Aircraft 42⅛, Standard Oil of New Jersey 45⅜, Consolidated Edison 22½, New York Central 11¼, Santa Fe 25¼, and Woolworth 43⅛.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT
NEW ORLEANS, May 25. (AP)—Weakness in foreign markets and in domestic securities brought in heavy selling in cotton today and prices slipped off to the lowest levels for the year. The close was barely steady at net declines of 18 to 20 points.

The bulk of the foreign offerings came from Liverpool and Bombay and was believed to be the undoing of straddle purchases made several months ago when the differences between the respective markets were comparatively narrow.

Local sources liquidated contracts and there were some stop loss offerings uncovered by the subsequent decline.

Last prices were at the bottom with July at 8.30@8.31, Oct. to 8.36, Dec. to 8.38@8.39, Jan. to 8.39, March to 8.41 and May to 8.48.

Spots were quiet and sales totalled only 490 bales. Middling declined 17 points to 8.33.

NEW YORK REPORT
NEW YORK, May 25. (AP) — Cotton slumped into further new low ground for the movement today under heavy foreign selling and general liquidation. October declined from 8.35 to a closing low of 8.25 and final prices were 16 to 19 points net lower.

The market opened 9 to 10 points lower in sympathy with the action of Liverpool and Bombay and under active offerings from these markets. Offerings seemed to be influenced largely by the more favorable quotations here as compared with prices prevailing on the foreign cotton exchanges. Nervousness over European political conditions and easiness of foreign currencies brought additional selling from abroad late in the day.

AVERAGE PRICE
NEW ORLEANS, May 25. (AP)—Average price of middling cotton at 10 southern spot markets today, 8.26 cents a pound; for past 30 market days, 8.71 cents.

CHICAGO REPORT
CHICAGO, May 25. (AP) — Five cents wheat market collapse at Winnipeg and 4⅛ cents here smashed low price records today that except between 1930 and 1934 extended back thirty years.

It was the third successive day that Chicago quotations had reached new bottom levels largely because of prospects that the 1938 domestic harvest getting underway now in Texas would result in bumper production. Notwithstanding the series of sensational breaks in values, trading today was characterized by pronounced absence of purchase support rather than unusual pressure to sell.

Favorable weather developments in the United States and in parts of Europe, disturbing price tumbles abroad, and enlarged liquidation of Chicago May contracts, together with almost total suspension of North American export business, all put a heavy weight on prices. Indication of added warlike tension between Germany and Czechoslovakia received little immediate heed.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were ¾ to 3¾ cents lower compared with yesterday's finish, May 72½@72¾, July 72½@72⅝, corn ¾ to 1⅛ down, May 55½@55⅝, July 56⅝@56¾, oats unchanged to ½ off, rye ½ to ⅞ decline, and provisions a setback of 2 to 30 cents.

Analysis Of Fiscal Affairs Of State Given In Address

HUNTSVILLE, May 25. (AP) — Ernest Thompson brought his campaign for governor into Huntsville tonight with an analysis of the state's fiscal affairs.

Texas needs no new taxes to operate the state government during the next two years, Thompson stressed. "It cost $150,000,000 last year to run Texas," he declared. "I think that is too high!"

Savings of approximately 20 per cent can be made in the cost of operating the state by a governor who could cut out needless cost and make the outgo meet the income, he said.

Economies by elimination of wasteful and extravagant spending can save the state millions of dollars annually, he asserted.

Hydro-Electric Project For Palo Pinto Area Approved

WASHINGTON, May 25. (AP)—The federal power commission issued a license today for the construction of a hydro-electric project on the Brazos river in Palo Pinto county, Texas.

The action paved the way for the release of $4,500,000 of federal funds for the project, known as "Possum Kingdom."

The power commission, in granting the license, agreed to certain modifications asked by the Brazos river conservation and reclamation district which sought to remove certain language which it said might have been construed as preventing the district from meeting its obligations to the state.

The state is to aid in the financing.

Federal Court Is Adjourned

Clearing the docket of all scheduled cases, Judge William Hawley Atwell late yesterday afternoon adjourned the May term of United States district court until July 2. Jury was dismissed for the term. Several cases have been scheduled for the July date.

Jury in the case of W. W. Kurfees against Montgomery Ward & Co., after about 40 minutes deliberation returned a verdict favoring the defendants. Trial of the case began Monday afternoon and the case went to the jury yesterday at 11:30 o'clock. The case was over a fire assertedly caused by a kerosene water heater which had been purchased from the defendants.

Case Is Argued

Williams and Day, Plainview, and E. L. Klett, Lubbock, represented the plaintiffs and Crenshaw and Dupree the defendants. Dupree and Klett argued the case yesterday morning.

After hearing testimony in the case of I. C. Enochs against C. S. Vandeventer and others, involving Bailey county land, Judge Atwell dismissed the case. J. I. Kilpatrick represented Enochs and Benjamin Kucera defendants.

Several other cases were continued: E. L. Thornton against Mrs. Gladys Bray, administratrix; W. L. Lee vs. Farmers Royalty and Holding Co., and others; Clyde Faught against A. E. Jacobs and others; Mrs. Rebecca Knight against Farmers Royalty and Holding Co. An order was issued in the case of I. H. Spikes, bankrupt. Bankruptcy case of Ray C. Sawyer was continued to July 2.

Judge Atwell left last night for Dallas. Mrs. Ramilie Paul, deputy clerk; E. R. Goss, bailiff and Tom Irby, court reporter, also returned to Dallas. G. W. Parker, clerk, had left Tuesday night.

Questionnaires also are being filled out by members of this year's graduating class. Candidates for graduation in the engineering division are to meet at 5 o'clock this afternoon. They will fill out questionnaires and Dean O. V. Adams will bring other business before the group.

Reminders of the Alumni and Ex-Students association banquet to be conducted June 4 and financial statements were included in letters to association members.

Lubbock County Farmers Are Advised Of Their Allotments

Lubbock county farmers with cotton acreages have been advised of their farm allocation for the 1938 growing season, said County Agent C. C. Jobson yesterday. Many farmers have been calling at the office in the federal building relative to their allocated acres. The others have been notified by mail.

"Several letters we sent out were returned, because of a change of tenant or address," Jobson said. "If farmers have not received their allocations, they may call at this office and we will give them the figures."

Approximately 2,900 farms in the county have had allocations of 170,000 acres that may be planted this season without penalty of overplanting. Old contracts numbered 2,898 after changes had been made. Several farmers with sod land going into cultivation this year were added.

Hull Says Too Many Nations Are Heading For Downfall

Foreign Trade Week Observed

WASHINGTON, May 25. (AP) — Secretary of State Hull said tonight that "too many nations," by making excessive efforts toward self-sufficiency, were "steering straight in the direction of an economic, political and social Niagara."

Hull, speaking on a national radio hookup in connection with foreign trade week, read a message from President Roosevelt. It said in part:

Indispensable Requirement

"This annual observance throughout the country of foreign trade week is an altogether fitting recognition of the vital role of foreign commerce in the economic life of the nation. Our own experience, no less than that of other nations, is living testimony to the fact that a healthy and vigorous flow of trade between nations is an indispensable requirement for general and lasting prosperity.

"We have profited by that experience. For four years our government has been engaged in a major effort to reopen the channels of trade. The trade agreements that we have concluded with seventeen foreign countries during this period attest to the progress that has been made."

Problems Are Grave

Hull said the United States, in common with all nations, "is confronted today with many domestic and international problems of the utmost gravity."

These, he said, require "vigorous and cooperative effort at home and thoroughgoing economic appeasement internationally." He added:

"What is fundamentally at stake today is nothing less than the very survival of the entire western civilization that has been laboriously built through centuries."

Two principal factors for the progress of civilization, he said, have been the development of order under law and the growth of international commerce; and these factors should be revitalized.

Expansion For Police Talked

Proposal that additional men and equipment be authorized for the police department and that a change in city recorder be made are scheduled for discussion at the semi-monthly meeting of the city commission at the city hall this afternoon, according to information at the city hall.

The possibility also loomed that the commission may at last be put into position to act on a proposed livestock zoning ordinance from the statement by City Attorney Durwood H. Bradley that he will "try to have ready" a draft of the measure for submission to the session.

Would Add Patrolmen

Immediate plans for police department expansion, as scheduled for discussion, include the addition of two beat patrolmen, increasing the total personnel of the department to 21 members, and a deal which will make another "prowl car" available for night cruising.

Prospective change in the recorder's place, the announcement said, results from the request of Walter Wharton, who has held the position several months, for transfer to outside duty.

Provision of a new prowl car would mean, police said, that two such automobiles would be available constantly for night cruising about the city. In time of emergency, another car could be switched over from day assignment.

Expansion of the department, advocated for several months, has been deferred, according to officials to await the forming of the new city budget for the fiscal year which began last April 1.

May Add More

During various discussions, officials have indicated they favored an expansion plan which would step up the personnel gradually, until a total of perhaps six additional patrolmen have been added by next winter.

City Attorney Bradley continued efforts to complete a draft of the livestock zoning ordinance but was hampered by the fact that numerous other city legal matters demanded his attention.

The proposed ordinance, as outlined to city commissioners, will create three zones in the city and the residents of each zone will decide by election whether they are willing that cows, horses, mules, sheep and goats shall be kept within their zones.

Reduction In Liquor Budget Is Revealed

AUSTIN, May 25. (AP)—Liquor Administrator Bert Ford today submitted to the board of control a budget request for the fiscal years 1940 and 1941 which he said would reduce expenditures $170,000 annually.

The proposed budget asked $793,862 annually compared with $969,870 for each year of the current biennium expiring Aug. 31, 1939.

Ford said the proposal would mean a reduction of 46 employes and was in line with a general movement for governmental economy.

"Enforcement of the liquor laws has improved to such an extent to permit a reduction of personnel," he said.

"Cooperation from local officers has improved and the present law is more workable than the original act."

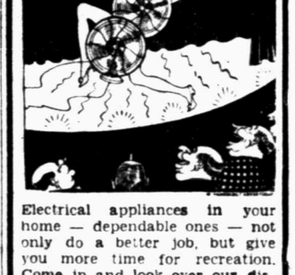

The liquor control act was generally amended at the last general session of the legislature.
