U. S. Troops Ordered To Korea

Picked Units Already Are On The Way

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman Friday gave a go ahead for use of American ground troops in Korea. Defense officials said they already are on the way.

Just what forces are to be used is a military secret. Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson, who said they are on the move, explained he could "say nothing that will be of any use to the other side."

On that point, a White House announcement said only that Gen. Douglas MacArthur had been authorized "to use certain supporting ground units."

Anti-tank weapons and forces are the South Koreans' biggest need. Such forces likely would require supporting infantry and supply troops.

The President announced he has authorized:

1. The United States Air Force to fly specific military missions into Northern Korea wherever necessary.
2. Naval blockade of the entire Korean coast.
3. Gen. Douglas MacArthur "to use certain supporting ground units" in the effort to turn back the Communist invaders of Southern Korea.

These new moves were announced after a cabinet-congressional conference at the White House.

They followed reports to the Defense Department that a North Korean force, spearheaded by 40 to 80 armored vehicles, had broken through Southern defenses south of Seoul.

The White House statement said: "At a meeting with congressional leaders at the White House this morning, the President, together with the secretary of Defense, the secretary of State, and the joint chiefs of staff, reviewed with them the latest developments of the situation in Korea."

"The congressional leaders were given a full review of the intensified military activities."

"In keeping with the United Nations Security Council's request for support to the Republic of Korea in repelling the North Korean invaders and restoring peace in Korea, the President announced that he had authorized the United States Air Force to conduct missions on specific military targets in Northern Korea wherever militarily necessary, and had ordered a naval blockade of the entire Korean coast."

General MacArthur has been authorized to use certain supporting ground units.

Youth Admits Ringling Fire, Four Slayings

COLUMBUS, OHIO (AP)—The State Friday named a 20-year-old Ohio man—driven by visions of a flaming red Indian horseman—as the firebug who touched off the Ringling Bros. circus fire that killed 168 persons in Hartford, Conn., six years ago.

Ohio Fire Marshal Harry J. Callan also said Robert Dale Segee of Circleville, Ohio, also confessed four slayings and setting more than a score of major fires in Maine, New Hampshire and Ohio.

Callan said "the record speaks for itself" in deciding whether the husky Ohioan is a pyromaniac, a person who gets a sexual thrill from setting fires.

And, he indicated full belief in a signed statement by Segee despite the extreme youth of the Ohioan at the time many of the crimes were alleged to have been committed.

Segee's signed statement was withheld from the public, but prosecutor Guy B. Cline of Pickaway County, Ohio, said it contained a weird story of the red Indian, who comes to Segee at night.

The Indian, Cline quoted Segee, orders the youth to set fires. Then, after a spell of mental blankness, Cline said, Segee comes to with fires already blazing.

Callan said all of Segee's statements have been checked carefully by his investigators since Segee was taken into custody last May 17 on the farm of a relative near East St. Louis, Ill.

Joe Stalin Is Reported Gravely Ill

SALEM, MASS. (AP)—Col. Roland W. Estey, USA, retired, writing Friday in the Salem Evening News, said Premier Stalin suffered a heart attack July 2 while on a plane.

Estey said he received the information from sources in Europe and that it had been turned over to our intelligence agency.

The colonel wrote that the plane was enroute to a conference in the Town of Ghila, 100 miles north of the Chinese border.

"The heart attack apparently was of such a nature," Estey wrote, "it seemed wise to return him to Moscow to permit his impersonator to proceed on the trip."

A former OSS officer, Estey said that during the May 31 demonstration in Moscow Stalin became fatigued and his double again took his place.

Estey said he received a letter June 21 from Europe containing this message: "Watch Formosa or Chosen before one July."

He explained Chosen is sometimes used instead of Korea.

Kirk said the Soviet government does not approve of the "interference of foreign powers in the internal affairs of Korea."

The U.S. had asked also for assurance the Soviet government would not take upon itself the responsibility for this unprovoked and unjustified attack.

Russia replied that responsibility for the fighting in Korea "lies with those who stand behind them."

There was no elaboration in the note of the phrase "those who stand behind them."

"The events which are going on in Korea were provoked by the attacks of the troops of the South Korean authorities on the frontier areas of Northern Korea," the Soviet message added.

The Soviet government said it had "confirmed its traditional principle of non-interference in the internal affairs of other states" by withdrawing its troops from Korea "earlier than did the U.S. government."

City Drilling Ban Passes First Test

An ordinance prohibiting the drilling or developing of oil or gas wells within the corporate limits of the City of Midland, and providing a penalty for violations, was passed on its first reading by members of the City Council at their meeting Thursday afternoon. Second and final reading is scheduled at the next regular session.

'Fun Night' To Be One Of Areas' Top Holiday Programs

Midway attractions, square dancing and a mammoth fireworks display will feature the "Fun Night" celebration to be held Monday night at Midland Fair Park on East Highway 80.

Sponsored by the Midland Lions Club, with proceeds going to its famed International Convention Band's "On to Chicago" fund, the entertainment event will get underway at 6:30 p.m. An exhibition of square dancing will be held on a specially-built platform in front of the grandstand, to be followed by a concert by the Lions Band. The fireworks display, the largest ever seen here, will start at dark.

"Biggest And Best" C. C. Manager Delbert Downing said the Fourth of July weekend celebration will be one of the "biggest and best" ever staged here, and is due to attract citizens from a wide area.

Admission to the evening's program will be 10¢ per car, with no limit on the number of persons in the automobile. Grandstand seats will be available at no extra charge.

Earl Chapman and Mrs. Bea Halfast are in charge of the square dancing event, with the dance music to be furnished by E. D. Fitzgerald and his Lone Star Ramblers. Two square dance teams from Garden City Friday sent word they will be on hand to join in the festivities.

Members of several Midland clubs will participate. Dancing will continue after the fireworks display.

"It is a holiday event to which every resident of Midland and vicinity is invited," Roy Minear, Lions Club president, said. "Entertainment for everyone is assured."

Oklahoma Escape Artist Sentenced By Munich Court

MUNICH, GERMANY (AP)—A U. S. High Commission Court Friday sentenced Homer Cook, 27-year-old Oklahoma escape artist, to four and one-half years in prison.

Cook was convicted on 16 charges, including jail break, illegal entry into occupied Germany and impersonating a federal agent.

The tall, blond former boxer from Muskogee had testified that he stayed away to Germany last March in order to marry his brown-eyed German sweetheart, Anna Spreng, a waitress.

He had broken out of jail three times since his first arrival in April. He could have been sentenced to 100 years in prison.

Midland Gets .44 Inch Precipitation

The total recorded at the City Barn was .44 inch and the OAA office at Midland Air Terminal reported .35 inch there.

Three Known Dead In Wake Of Texas Rains, Wind Storms

By The Associated Press Texas had cool, cloudy weather with widely scattered showers following a line squall Thursday which took three lives and caused property damage in some places.

But persons planning to start their Fourth of July holiday Saturday probably can do so under clearing skies and warming temperatures, the Weather Bureau reported.

Thursday's squall took three lives near Rome, Texas, when an automobile was swept into a rain-filled ditch, and caused some property damage at Fort Worth and on the South Plains.

The heaviest rains appeared to center in the Fort Worth-Dallas-Mineral Wells section, where more than an inch fell.

Temperatures dropped over much of the state, with only two points reporting more than 100 degrees maximum—Presidio 105 and Laredo 101.

McCamey Suffers Wind, Hail Damage

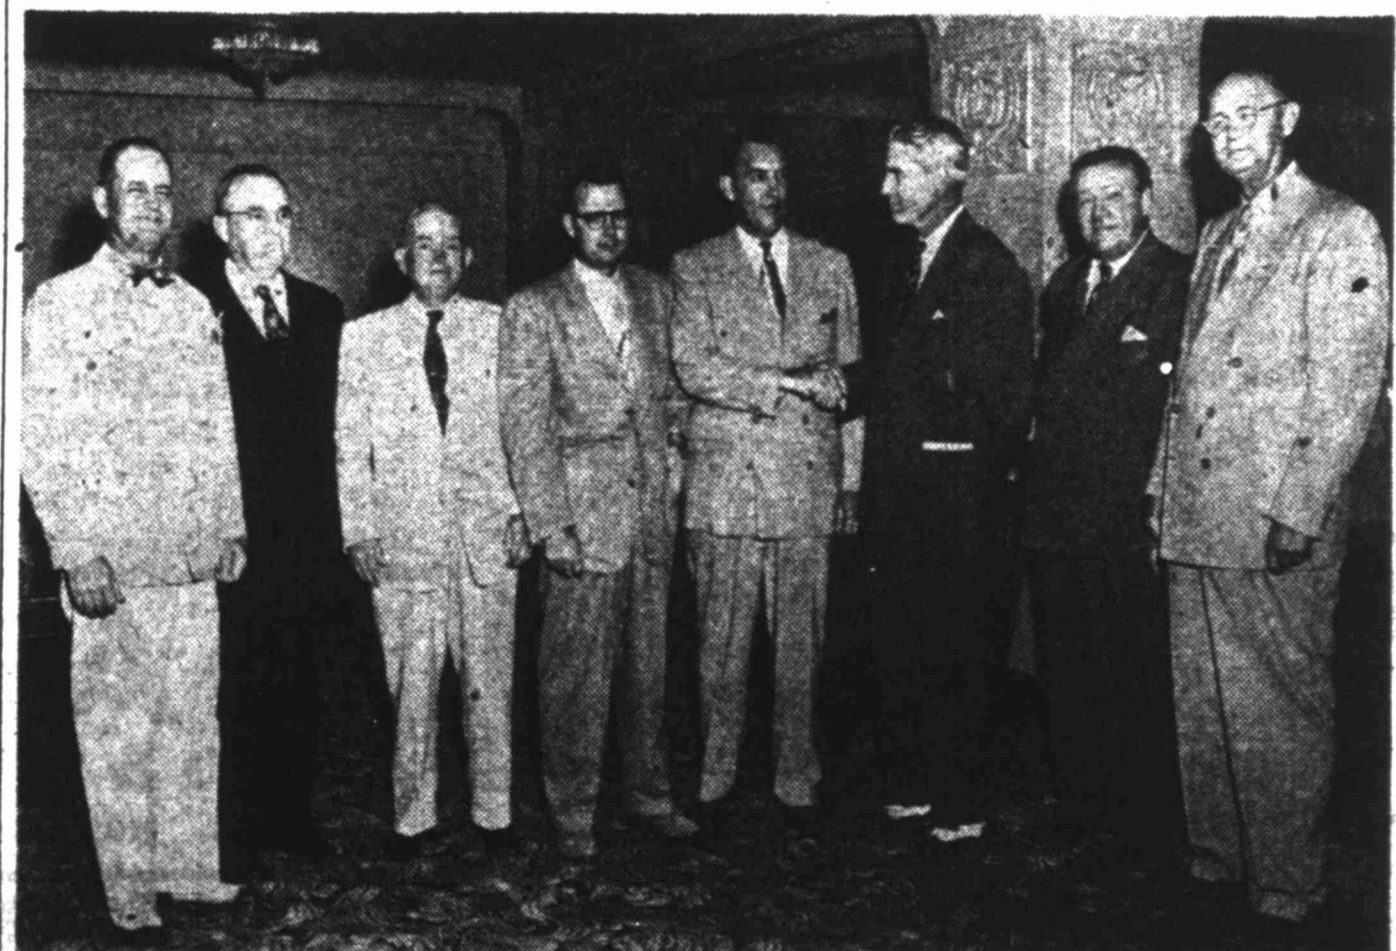

MCCAMEY—A strong east wind, accompanied by a three-inch rain and heavy hail, struck McCamey late Thursday, inflicting damage over a wide area.

Roofs, out buildings, glass windows and signs were damaged extensively in the storm, which lasted about 45 minutes.

Four small planes at the McCamey airport were damaged by the hail and winds. Air service to and from McCamey was not interrupted, however.

The Humble Sales Storage building was demolished completely by the storm. Several trailer houses were blown over by the strong winds.

Horsemeat Dealer Ordered To Prison

DALLAS (AP)—Minneapolis meat dealer Louis K. Risken Friday was unable to pay a $5,000 fine for selling horse meat shipments and was committed to federal prison for six months.

Risen was convicted here May 12. At that time Judge T. Whitfield Davidson fined him $5,000 and sentenced him to six months. But he said he would suspend the jail sentence if the fine were paid.

Judge Davidson allowed Risken three extensions of time to raise the $5,000. Friday the meat dealer pleaded that he did not have the money.

Gas, Distillate Signs Encountered By Gulf Wildcat In Martin

Interesting shows of gas and distillate have been encountered in the Pennsylvanian lime in Southwest Martin County at Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1-E-B George W. Glass, slanted 13,500-foot wildcat.

This prospect is 12 miles north of Midland and 18 miles west of Stanton.

It took a five hour drillstem test in the Pennsylvanian lime at 10,810-893 feet. Gas showed at the surface in 45 minutes. The average gas volume was at the rate of 18,000 cubic feet per day.

Recovery was 800 feet of heavily gas cut mud, with a slight show of distillate.

Making More Hole Operator is now making more hole.

This venture is 1980 feet from north and east lines of section 13, block 39, TP survey, T-1-N.

It logged some slight shows of oil and gas in the Spraberry section of the lower Permian, but found water below those shows.

It was originally started as an Ellenburger exploration.

Midland's Discovery Flows 650 Barrels Of Oil In 20 Hours

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 2 Parks, Midland County's deepest and largest oil discovery, 1 1/4 miles south of the city of Midland, flowed 650.64 barrels of 54-gravity oil in 20 hours, through a one-quarter inch tubing choke and was still flowing to cleanout, test and complete.

The oil produced during that 20-hour period was cut with three-tenths of one per cent drilling mud. There was no formation water.

Cas-oil rate was 1.42 shut-in casing pressure was between 750 pounds and 875 pounds. Flowing tubing pressure was between 1,500 pounds and 1,600 pounds.

Previous Tests This major discovery had flowed six hours prior to the 20-hour test. During the first three hours of that period it flowed through a three-quarter inch choke and made 262.4 barrels of oil.

In the next three hours it flowed through a one-quarter inch choke and made 93.12 barrels of oil.

On a drillstem test, before casing was run the well flowed 123.71 barrels of oil in one hour through a one-eighth inch bottom hole choke, and a one-inch top opening.

The production is coming from the top 15 feet of the Ellenburger between 12,955 feet and the total depth of 12,970 feet. It is natural.

The 5 1/2-inch casing is cemented at 12,944 feet.

Location is 660 feet from north and 1,180 feet from west lines of section 10, M. Daugherty survey.

Tex-Harvey Pool Gets West Outpost

General American Oil Company has staked a one and one-half mile west outpost to the Tex-Harvey Spraberry pool in Central-East Midland County.

General American No. 1 Ben Winkelman and others is to be 660 feet from north and east lines of southeast quarter of section 18, block 37, T-3-S. T&P survey.

Drillsite is 12 miles southeast of the city of Midland. Slated depth is 8,500 feet. Operations are to begin immediately.

SE Sutton Slated For Deep Venture

Gem Oil Company of Dallas has scheduled an Ellenburger wildcat in Southeast Sutton County, 16 miles southeast of Gordon.

Operations on the No. 1 James M. Vanderstucken are to begin by August 1. It will be in the center of the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 80, block 14, TW&NG survey.

The slated 5,800-foot venture will be two miles south of Shell Oil Company No. 1 Duke Wilson, a gas discovery from the Strawn.

Kennard Cook of Dallas secured from American Republics Corporation a farmout of approximately 2,500 acres and turned the drilling deal to Gem. Cook retained an override.

East Vealmoor Opener Through Shallow Pay Sunray Oil Corporation (formerly Barnsdall Oil Company) No. 3 Wilson, South outpost to the East Vealmoor field, which lies on both sides of the Howard-Borden County line, apparently is through the new, shallow pay it developed in that area.

The No. 3 Wilson was last reported drilling below 7,107 feet in black shale. On a core from 6,972 to 6,992 feet, recovery was 20 feet of lime with slight porosity and oil stain.

This new pay opener flowed 15 barrels of oil in one hour on a drillstem at 6,911-73 feet in an upper Pennsylvanian lime, some 450 feet above the canyon pay to the three producers in the East Vealmoor pool.

Offset To Discovery At first operators were undecided whether this upper pay was limited or a sand. They now conclude that this oil came from a lime zone of the upper Pennsylvanian.

The Canyon producers in the field have pay from approximately 7,400 to 7,450 feet.

The No. 3 Wilson is on the Howard County side of the pool and 660 feet from east and 1,850 feet from north lines of section 16, block 27, (Continued on Page 11)

Contract For New Four-Lane Highway Scheduled In August

Plans are being readied for the letting of a contract during the latter part of August for the proposed new four-lane highway to Odessa, Texas Highway Department officials announced Friday.

The new four-lane highway will begin outside Midland's west city limits and will extend to Odessa. The contract for the entire project will be let at one time.

Plans and specifications for the highway have been taken to Austin for inspection by State Highway Department officials.

Meanwhile, condemnation proceedings are being taken by Midland County on a right-of-way tract near Terminal, County Judge Clifford C. Keith has announced. The land, located at the old Garden Grill site, and another tract, owned by the Odessa Country Club, still must be purchased by the county before the highway project can begin.

Stock Prices Soar In Dizzy Upturn

NEW YORK (AP)—The unpredictable stock market, in a dizzy change of direction, Friday shot ahead $1 to around $5 a share.

At the close of trading Thursday the market was headed downward at high speed.

Friday the tape was late again immediately after the opening. This time, though, it was because of a burst of intense demand.

Bargain-hunters were at work in the market, attracted by the prices to which leading shares have plunged during the week. Speculating, too, may have been stimulated by the comparatively mild manner in which Russia has objected officially to Korean developments.

Fasken Named New Midland Bank Official

The appointment of Murray Fasken as a vice president of the Midland National Bank, effective Saturday, was announced Friday by officials of the financial institution.

Fasken has been actively associated with the bank since last February. He previously was engaged in the ranching business here.

29 Passengers Escape Injury As Plane Crash-Lands

HYANNIS, MASS.—(AP)—Twenty-nine passengers escaped injury when the nose landing gear of a Northeast Airlines transport collapsed as it landed here Thursday night. The craft slid about 100 yards on its nose before it came to a stop, resting on its nose and the two main wheels under the wings. Seat belts held the passengers fast. The transport was enroute from Boston to New York by way of Hyannis. Capt. George H. Hamilton of the four-engine DC-4, said the plan was rolling along the runway at about 70 miles an hour when the nose gear gave way. Stewardess Georgia Record reported that "everybody on board was calm." About a fourth of the passengers were women. Captain Hamilton said it was his first accident in seven and a half years with the line.

The Midland Theatres are cooled with clean, washed air, which changes completely every two and one-half minutes, assuring the constant flow of pure, healthful air.

(4) Remember the price you are to pay—yourself. If you ask for the gift of the Spirit Himself, then it is obvious that this cannot be unless you offer yourself. You can ask for His gift and in return give your gifts, but you cannot ask for the Gift of Himself and not involve the gift of yourself. Let us repeat what we said before: There is no love between persons unless there is mutual self-surrender. If either withholds the inmost self, love is blocked. So here. (5) Then pay the price of a complete surrender. I mean surrender to God, to His will, to His plan, to His purpose. He said about 1,200 communications, mostly telegrams, had been received as of Thursday and that the letters still were coming in.

It is an unfortunate child who has to live with perfection. It's an unfortunate parent who cannot admit his imperfections. I have known many parents and many children. I have never known a parent who "lost face" with his child by admitting his failings. I have known a good many who lost it irrevocably by pretending to virtues they did not possess. My personal conviction is that people who cannot admit their faults are people who are not doing much about correcting them. If we have succeeded in persuading our young children that we are paragons who never feel anger or hurt or discouragement, we will lose them in adolescence when they find out we are nothing of the kind. Our struggles toward perfection are what earn our children's respect and love—not the perfection itself.

Answer To Kilt: Question Insults Many Highlanders

LONDON —(AP)— The London Daily Mirror published a picture of a young Scotsman losing his kilt while dancing a reel. He was wearing a pair of brief, dark-colored shorts underneath. The caption read: "Now You Know." But that answer to the age-old question: "What does a Scottish Highlander wear under his kilt?" was insulting to many. It brought the Mirror a lot of indignant letters, including one which said, in tones of authority: "A Scots soldier would as soon be wearing a bowler hat with his kilt as wear anything under it."

Another wrote: "I served in the Cameron Highlanders during the war for six years and it was a serious offense for anyone to be found wearing anything under the kilt. We were not allowed to go on the top deck of a bus or tram." Another explained that "In some barracks men on pass have the kilt lifted by a non-commissioned officer. In tones of authority: "When dancing, the correspondents conceded, the men may wear shorts. But D. B. McNeill, former master tailor of the famous Black Watch regiment, laid down the rule: "No Scots soldier wears anything under his kilt in battle, while on duty, or walking out."

Tells His Sick Great-Grandchild To Take Hadacol

Little 3-year-old girl was suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin.

Who says older folks don't keep up on the latest advancements? Here is a most interesting bit of news from Mrs. Francis C. Parr, Senior, of 1356 Walton Way, Augusta, Georgia. Mrs. Parr writes:

"Our daughter's 3 yrs. old and has been sick for quite some time. Children her age would make two of her. We have been giving her HADACOL for a month now and we can already see a great change in her.

"Her complexion has a rosy tint to it now, but before Joyce had a pale look and color. So many people told us to try HADACOL. The results are wonderful. Joyce's great-grandfather was the one who took it in our family and recommended it for our child. We really are grateful to the makers of HADACOL and never will our little girl go without HADACOL."

A Very Smart Man

Little Joyce's great-grandfather certainly knew what he was talking about and Joyce should be very thankful that her great-grand-daddy kept abreast of modern medical blessings.

So don't delay. If your kiddies are underweight, nervous, have no appetite, suffer from constipation or easily upset stomachs due to lack of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin in their systems—have them start taking HADACOL at once. Let this great new HADACOL give your kiddies a grand appetite, let it help them grow up into healthy, happy men and women.

Big Improvement Often Noticed Within Few Days

HADACOL not only supplies deficient little systems with more than their daily needs of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin but also helpful amounts of precious Calcium, Phosphorus and Manganese—elements so vital for growth and to help maintain good health. And these vitamins and minerals come in pleasant liquid form so that they are more quickly absorbed into the bloodstream—ready to go to work at once.

HADACOL even helps build up the hemoglobin content of red blood (where iron is needed) to go coursing to every part of their little bodies bringing unbelievable new strength and energy. A big improvement is often noticed within a few days' time in nervous, rundown kiddies who have such deficiencies.

You owe it to your little ones to give them HADACOL daily. Be proud when your neighbors comment about your happy, healthy youngsters! Trial size bottle of HADACOL costs only $1.25. Wise mothers always buy the large family or hospital size for $3.50. Refuse substitutes. There is only one genuine HADACOL—recommended by many doctors.

Rum Falls Defeated As 'Ten Nights' Opens

Rum, the villain, went down in defeat to temperance and the happy home Thursday night when "Ten Nights in a Barroom" was given in the American Legion Hall.

W. H. Pomeroy, Jr., is director of the show and Betty Simpson is his assistant. E. J. Elliott is stage manager and Mary Williams plays the piano.

Thursday was "Shell Night," the night each year when the Summer Mummies give their production for Mothers' Week.

The bride's mother wore a blue skirt and a blue and white imported organza blouse with natural accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Blackman wore a beige suit with natural accessories with a pink carnation corsage.

A reception was held in the church parlor following the ceremony. The table was covered with an Irish linen cloth and centered with an open prayer book. The three-tiered cake was trimmed in orchid flowers and a miniature bride and bridegroom. Crystal candleholders were encircled with wreaths of asters and daisies. Puschia asters and white gladioli were used in the decorations throughout the room.

Miss Womack, Mrs. James Hill, sister of the bride, and Jean Hughes were members of the house party. Mrs. Miller played piano selections during the reception.

Live in Midland

After a wedding trip to Carlisbad, N. M., the couple will be at home at 405 West Parker Street. Mrs. Blackman is a graduate of Brownwood High School and attended Draughan's Business College, Abilene. She is employed by the Tex Harvey Oil Company. Blackman attended Midland High School and was graduated from Hope High School, Hope, Ark. He attended the University of Oklahoma, Norman, and will enroll in Texas Technological College, Lubbock, this fall. He is employed by Rotary Engineers.

Out-of-city guests included Mr. and Mrs. Grant Blanchard, Jr., and Mrs. Adele Blanchard of Tulsa, J. W. Hillsman of Carlisbad, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Blanchard of San Antonio, Mrs. Willow B. Anderson and Mrs. L. G. Taylor of Brownwood, aunt and grandmother of the bride.

Olio Numbers Add Variety To 'Ten Nights'

A can-can number, a skit by Bill Adam, a dance routine by O. B. Richards, quartet numbers and group singing are included in the olio, the after show following "Ten Nights in a Barroom," current Summer Mummies production.

The olio, "presented positively no extra charge," is reminiscent of the theater a century ago.

Richards, who has a dance studio here, is directing all olio numbers. He also does a tap dance routine with Mary Williams as accompanist. Melodramatic skit

Bill Adam does a melodramatic skit in which he plays the worried father, his daughter Nellie who has run away with a piano player, the villain with the mortgage on the home and the policeman who clears up the whole mess. He is assisted in the skit by Julie Rindig.

Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Gibson, W. H. Cobb and Mrs. C. E. Brusenhan are members of the quartet who render several numbers, including "She's Only a Bird in a Gilded Cage."

Emily Hamilton, Ann Kleiboh, Carolyn Cook and Betty Perry are members of the can-can chorus. Gail Baker also will dance in the chorus line during the show.

Duke Jimerson leads group singing between numbers.

A brand new towel idea to solve the "his" and "her" problem is an ensemble consisting of a set of two each in a slightly different motif and color. A tailored "Spartan" pattern is designed for the man of the house. It is a Greek key motif. The feminine towel has a pattern of cherry blossoms, silhouetted against the Greek key background. The ensembles—face cloth, hand and bath towels—come in six shades.

RUTH MILLETT Follows These Rules Aids Acceptance In A New Group

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

The woman who finds herself in the position where she has to make friends with a new group of women should abide by the following rules:

Until you are well-acquainted and feel that you are really accepted, do more listening than talking. But don't go around repeating to other members of the group all the things one member tells you.

Don't join in any criticism of a new acquaintance. The crowd may be tearing a woman apart, but they'll resent it if a newcomer joins in with a few flat statements of her own.

Don't try to outshine your new acquaintances. It is easier to arouse envy than admiration when you're the stranger in the group.

Don't push yourself. Stand back, friendly and willing to join in, but remember that a group of women seems to delight in treating out any newcomer who is too anxious to be one of them.

Don't over-sell yourself. Let your new acquaintances find out things about you gradually. If you try too hard to impress them with all your accomplishments you'll be accused of having too high an opinion of yourself. If you let others find out what you have to offer a little at a time, they'll be much more admiring.

Always be willing to do your share of work in any kind of group activity. There is no woman more respected than the one who always acts like a guest, willing to be entertained or enjoy the honor of being on a committee, but always at the last minute falling down on the job she is supposed to do.

The woman who will follow those rules can usually fit in with any group of women.

Holiday Traffic Warning

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, says the Fourth of July weekend—Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday—is calculated to be the deadliest in the history of Independence Day traffic in the Lone Star State.

Department statisticians estimate 36 persons will be killed in traffic accidents during the four-day period. Colonel Garrison adds that the Highway Patrol will be on the job early and late with instructions to curb excessive speed and to apprehend those drivers who endanger their own lives and the lives of others.

Speed is termed by Colonel Garrison as the number one killer, claiming one out of every three traffic deaths. Just plain carelessness is another principal cause of traffic deaths.

It is said that traffic accidents in Texas are killing about one-third more persons this year than last, and that if the rate continues more than 2,500 lives will be lost in traffic accidents during 1950—540 more than were killed in 1949.

Certainly these facts and figures should make every driver more conscious than ever before of traffic hazards, while emphasizing the responsibility of the individual in operating an automobile on crowded Texas highways.

That highway accidents can be reduced by care and caution is self evident—and there is no time like the present to put careful and more cautious driving practices into effect.

It would be a wonderful thing if the estimated 36 holiday traffic deaths in Texas could be averted. It would be well if that number even could be cut in half. Certainly the number can be reduced if holiday drivers will abide by seven rules advanced by Colonel Garrison as follows:

- 1. Drive well within the posted or legal speed limits. 2. Do not pass another vehicle unless you have a clear road ahead. 3. Driving is a full time job. Do not let your passengers distract your attention. 4. Be sure to check your tires, brakes and lights before starting. 5. Stop often for non-intoxicating refreshments. 6. Wear dark glasses during daytime driving. Eye fatigue will result in miscalculating distances. 7. If there is a question of right-of-way, give it to the other fellow. The few seconds you might lose will be a great contribution to safety.

Let's make it a SAFE and SANE Independence Day holiday on Texas highways.

This isn't a health column, but we can tell you how to live to be a hundred. Drink a glass of water every day for 1,200 months.

"Excuse Us While We See How Deep it Goes!"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1950, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: Acheson plea that we not let Korea down caused Truman decision to intervene there; Danger noted that Reds may attack Iran, due to Soviets' need of oil; President firm in belief we must show Russians we mean business.

WASHINGTON — The emergency Cabinet session held by President Truman immediately after the attack on South Korea was one of the most dramatic since V-E Day. The President had just flown in from Independence, Mo., to find Secretary of State Acheson, Secretary of Defense Johnson, Secretary of the Army Pace, Secretary of the Navy Matthews, Secretary of Air Finletter, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff Omar Bradley, Air Force Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg and various others waiting for him. "First I must call Mrs. Truman and tell her I've arrived safely; I always do that," the President said, referring to the fact that Mrs. Truman was still in Missouri. "You make yourselves at home," he continued. "I've ordered dinner and after we eat we'll sit around and talk this thing out. I want to hear from every one of you."

After the meal the military chiefs gave their estimates of the Korean situation. Secretary Johnson said he expected the South Koreans to hold. General Bradley was more cautious, pointing out that it was a difficult country to defend. He said he expected rapid gains by the Communists on the first day, after which he expected three South Korean divisions to form a defensive line, perhaps south of Seoul. Russia's Real Goal: Erley raised the important question of whether the Russian attack was a main Soviet blow, or merely a diversionary tactic aimed to attract attention away from other areas. He warned that the main Russian punch might be at Iran, since Russia was in need of oil. He also warned that Iran was weak and cautioned that we should not overcommit ourselves in Korea. Navy and Air Force officials reported that both the British and the Americans were strong in the North Pacific and ready for any emergency. They were less cautious than General Bradley.

The most dramatic statement of the evening was made by Secretary Acheson. It was his plea which tipped the scales in the President's mind and caused Truman to make the momentous decision to intervene actively in Korea. Acheson, the man who has been pilloried in the Senate for allegedly concealing Communists in the State Department, told the group that if we let Korea down, we would suffer a crippling defeat in the eyes of the world. "Our credit with the nations which had to worry about how far they can go to stop communism and Russia will be nil," Acheson said. "Unless we can make a firm stand in Korea, he emphasized, the Russians will continue with the conquest of Indo-China, then take over Japan internally."

Truman listened quietly; occasionally he asked a question. After all had finished, he made a brief statement which can be summarized as follows: "I think I understand pretty well what the Russians are trying to do. I've been through it all from Potsdam. "If this is a major Russian move, and the Soviet is committed to supply brains, men and supplies to win Korea, then this gentlemen, may be the beginning of World War III. "I gather from what you have reported to me that it is not the case. Korea has no strategic value, except politically. It has no oil. If the Communists lose it can be considered by Moscow merely a civil war put down by American imperialists. "However, we cannot let Russia haul all peaceful means through the get away with this. We must extend the United Nations to stop the attack. We should get all possible arms and send them to the Koreans as they set up a defense line, that will give us time to find out just what the Reds are up to. "I emphasize that how deeply Russia is committed."

Note — The State Department believes mere arms aid won't help Korea; that she must have U. S. troops. After the President had made the decision, he told his advisers that

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written For NEA Service One of the favorite diversions of George S. Kaufman, the playwright, is to drop in at New York's famous Regency Club and give the bridge experts a few pointers on their own game. His skill is well illustrated in the play of today's hand.

West opened the jack of diamonds, and Kaufman, playing the South hand, let it ride around to his queen. South's own losing cards included a spade, a diamond, one or two clubs, and one or two trumps. Some of those in diamonds and clubs might be ruffed in dummy, but even then South would have trouble returning to his own hand.

Kaufman decided that his best plan was to go after dummy's long spade suit. If the opponents led trumps, the spades could probably be set up. If the opponents failed to lead trumps, South might manage to ruff out his losers in the minor suits.

At the second trick, therefore, Kaufman led the six of spades from his hand. West played low, the jack was finessed from dummy, and East won with the queen of spades. East did not dare return a heart up to dummy's queen, and therefore returned the jack of clubs. South covered with the queen hopefully, but West played the king, and dummy won with the ace.

Kaufman now embarked on a program of setting up the spades and getting a ruff or two in dummy at the same time. He began by ruffing a spade in his own hand. His next step was to lead a diamond to dummy's ace after which he ruffed another spade in his own hand. Then he cashed the king of diamonds, discarding dummy's losing club.

South next ruffed a club in dummy and led one of the established spades. East discarded a club, and South ruffed with the eight of hearts.

West over-ruffed with the ten and quite properly returned a trump. The queen was played from dummy. East covered with the king, and South won with the ace. Now declared led his last club, ruffing with dummy's last trump. Thereupon another spade was led from dummy.

At this point, East had left the jack and seven of hearts. Kaufman had the nine of hearts and a losing diamond. If East ruffed high, South could discard the losing diamond and win the last trick with the nine of trumps. If East ruffed low, Kaufman could win his tenth trick immediately by over-ruffing with the nine.

Persons Employed In Cities Hit New High CHICAGO (AP)—The number of men and women who work for cities in the U. S. has reached a record high.

The International City Managers Association reports the total of such employees was 1,962,000 at the start of 1950—a gain of 43,000 in one year. Payrolls have gone up, too. They totalled $219,000,000 in October, 1949, compared with $205,000,000 a month a year earlier.

Perhaps it is the fated task of those of us now living in the United States to develop our own civilization... in order to transmit it to the survivors of World War II at other lands.

I think the world should know what happened to them (the 1,500,000 German soldiers who were held in Russia) and to the many thousands of German civilians who also disappeared into the Soviet Union.

Europe is the greatest bulwark of our ideas, and our greatest hope rests there.

Bipartisan foreign policy does not preclude disagreement and debate. But it does mean a true interchange of information and a good-faith effort to agree on matters affecting the security of the country.

The ECA could well be called a self-defense program.

Israel Tightens Rules On Travel TEL AVIV, ISRAEL (AP)—That big question—"Is this trip really necessary?"—so often used during the last war now is getting a thorough workout in Israel. It has been determined to put a stop to exit permits for Israelis who go abroad for fun and take a lot of foreign currency with them.

David Horowitz, director-general of the Ministry of Finance, told a news conference that 8,956 Israelis went abroad the first four months this year. That represented an increase of 178 per cent over the 3,297 persons who traveled in the corresponding period of 1949.

That meant, too, that the Israeli travelers, by converting pounds into dollars at banks in this country, took a lot of badly needed foreign currency with them. Now the ministry of finance has decided that foreign currency may be obtained only by those Israelis who are making "essential journeys" abroad.

The eruption of Mt. Katmai, Alaska, in 1912, was heard 750 miles away.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Sight-Seer Edson Impressed By Covered Wooden Bridges

By FRITER EDSON NEA Service Correspondent

ROCKVILLE, IND.—Parke County, Indiana, of which Rockville (population 2,000), is the capital, boasts more old-fashioned wooden, covered bridges than any county in the Hoosier state. They number 41. There were 42 but one burned in 1943. All 41, however, are in daily use and give evidence they will continue in regular service for some years to come. So this is covered bridge fans' paradise.

Parke County can't claim more covered bridges than any other county in the U. S. Parke County ranks third in this respect. Noble County, Ohio, has 54. It is in Southeastern Ohio. Tyler County, Pennsylvania, just across the Ohio River from Noble County, Ohio, ranks second.

Parke County, Indiana, does, however, claim to have the longest single-span covered bridge in the country. It is the Jackson bridge, across Sugar Creek, just a few miles above where it flows into the Wabash River, and a few miles below beautiful Turkey Run State Park. The Jackson span is a full 300 feet long. It was built in 1861, and it has given continuous service ever since, on the same foundation. The oldest covered bridge in these parts is Crooks Bridge, built in 1856, which would make 94 years old. The newest was built in 1929.

Local historian and authority on covered bridges in Parke County is a retired Hoosier schoolmaster, J. G. Hirsbrunner of Rockville. He is a relative by marriage of J. A. Britton, who built 16 of the Parke County bridges. The other big covered bridge builder was J. J. Daniels, with 11 spans to his credit.

Neither Britton nor Daniels was an engineer. Both were practical carpenters and contractors. But they built well, and the monument to their skill and to their successors' skill is found in their spans still standing across Big Raccoon, Little Raccoon and Sugar Creeks.

The old bridge builders had no power tools and only the most primitive cranes and hand or horse-powered winches. Some of the timbers were, of course, cut by steam mill power saws. But mostly they were built by hand, the bridges built by main strength and awkwardness.

Hirsbrunner tells one story about the old Mansfield covered bridge which was built in 1867 for a 14-ton load limit. Most of them are rated at only eight or 10 tons' capacity today.

Anyway, three trucks came down the road with heavy loads. The first truck stalled before it got across the span. The other two trucks, not knowing that the first was stalled, and not being able to see it because of the cover and siding, followed it out over the water.

It wasn't till after the first truck was repaired and all three had cleared the bridge that the drivers figured they had taken a pretty big risk. When they added up their combined loaded weights, they found the total came to 53 tons. In other words, the bridge had been built with a safety factor of at least three.

Most of the bridges have 8x8-inch oak for their main timbers. The ends are doubled, and in a few cases tapered at the ends to reduce weight yet give greatest strength in the center. Sills also are doubled on many bridges. The siding in the older bridges was mostly yellow pine, which grows in Indiana.

But a few of the more recently built bridges have pine siding, which evidently was shipped in. Flooring, of course, has been replaced many times. But the contracts for flooring still carry the old specifications for three-inch oak planks. Only one of the bridges—the Jackson Bridge of 1861—now has a corrugated metal roof, which sharp eyes peering from a lined, wary face. I told him. He shrugged. "I was afraid of that. It's a rotten shame. McGregor can be guilty of nothing more than a technical violation of the law. His intentions were honorable."

I couldn't tell him that I agreed, for that would be double-crossing Kever.

Jeris went to break the news to McGregor and after about 10 minutes he rejoined us. "Can you hold off long enough for me to find bail for McGregor?" he asked. "It certainly won't be more than $10,000. Some of McGregor's friends will put up that much."

I got Kever on the phone and after Jeris talked to him, figuratively down on his knees, Kever agreed to let Jeris have two hours if Shellie and I stayed with McGregor. "Don't let him out of your sight," he added.

Jeris took Sylvia with him as they drove off toward Capital City and Shellie and I went upstairs to see McGregor.

WE found him in a bedroom at the rear of the second floor. He sat dizzily at a window, dressed in an old bathrobe and staring out at the woodlot at the rear of the house. He turned a haggard face toward us, and his eyes blazed as he recognized us.

"So it's you!" He recognized Shelton and nodded oddly. Then he returned his gaze to me. "I promise you one thing—I'll have plenty of company! I won't be the only one in a cell!"

I exchanged a quick glance with Shelton. "Mind explaining that crack, Mr. McGregor?"

U. S. Treasurer's Check 'Bounces'

OMAHA —(P)— An Omaha newspaper woman gleefully reports a check she got from Mrs. George Neese Clark has "bounced."

Mrs. Clark, whose signature as treasurer of the United States appears on every piece of U. S. currency run off these days, was in Omaha last month. She gave Evelyn Simpson, Omaha World-Herald women's news editor, a $4.98 personal check on the Richland, Kan., State Bank to pay for a skirt she asked Mrs. Simpson to buy for her.

Thursday Miss Simpson reported that the check had been returned by the Federal Reserve Bank in Kansas City.

Mrs. Clark had forgotten to sign it.

Think Again, Moe! $50 Is Deductible

PIERRE, S. D. —(P)— Bill Moe of Pierre was in a collision with his auto. Garagemen estimated the repair costs at $398.

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And The Island

The riverboat was floating and floating on the river on down to the sea, taking with it Daddy Ringtail, Mother Ringtail, Mugwump Monkey, and the Ringtail children.

"We can play like we're explorers," Daddy Ringtail said, "and pretend that no one has ever been along here on the river except us."

It was fun to be an explorer and pretend that they were seeing things that no one else had ever seen before, until Mugwump said: "Can't we be real explorers? Can't we find something that no one else has ever found?"

"And something no one else has ever seen," said Sammy.

Daddy Ringtail didn't know how they could do it, for how would they ever try to find something that no one else had ever found before? Well, maybe you don't try. Maybe it just happens, for suddenly Daddy Ringtail pointed down the river and said: "Look! It's an island. It's right in the middle of the river!"

They looked, and an island is what it was sure enough. It was some sand and rocks in the middle of the river with water all around it, because that's what an island is. And would you believe it, the riverboat went on down the river as straight for the island as though the riverboat knew exactly where it wanted to go. It bumped on the edge of the island and Daddy Ringtail jumped out with a rope and tied the boat to a tree.

MRS. BAIRD'S BREAD

Daddy Ringtail said, "This is a new island, I think." And that's what it was. The river had brought sand and rocks along with the water and dropped them where it wanted the island to be. And the river had kept on doing it until there was an island there—one that no one had ever seen before.

Mugwump jumped up and down and clapped his hands and almost stepped on his own tail he was so excited. "We're real explorers," he said, and that is what they really were, for they were the first to find that island.

Since the island was new it didn't have a name, and Daddy Ringtail said that Mugwump could name it. Mugwump called it Mugwump Island, for naming a something an explorer finds is the most fun there is to being an explorer. That's what Mugwump thought, and you would have too, I guess. Happy day!

Pittsburgh Area Milk Strike Ends

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—A three-week strike which had choked off all but emergency milk deliveries to 2,500,000 residents of the Pittsburgh area ended Thursday night.

Nearly 3,000 AFL members accepted a new contract by a booming voice vote. There were only a few scattered shouts of "No."

Regular milk deliveries will begin Saturday in Pittsburgh and six nearby counties, Beaver, Butler, Fayette, Greene, Lawrence and Washington.

Ice cream deliveries began Friday but nearly 24 hours is needed to get milk in from farms and process it for delivery.

Liver Trouble Doesn't Cause Skin Spots; Other Sources Responsible

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D. Written for NEA Service

For some reason which I have never been able to determine, spots on the skin frequently are called "liver spots."

Q—I have a few brown spots around my chest and hands. Does this indicate something wrong with my liver?
A—There is no such thing as "liver spots." There are a number of different conditions of the skin which may produce a spotty kind of appearance including chloasma and Vitiligo. Without looking at them and perhaps taking scrapings, it is impossible to make a definite diagnosis.

Q—What causes a keyhole pupil?
A—The technical name for this is coloboma. It is either a defect present at birth or the result of an injury or operation.

Q—Are there any good cures for alopecia areata? It is caused by a vitamin deficiency? Is penicillin useful in treatment?
A—The cause of alopecia areata still is unknown. It is almost certainly not caused by a vitamin deficiency. There are several helpful treatments but no absolute cures. So far as I know penicillin is of no value.

Q—The flesh above my knee cap moves violently from time to time for about one-half second. What could the cause be?

A—The most likely explanation is a muscular spasm. What produces this muscular spasm, however, is hard to say.

Q—For several months I have been having black and blue spots appear on my left leg just above the knee. The spots have a little lump in the center.
A—The chances are that this comes from small points of bleeding. Whether this is caused by fragile blood vessels, or something else, is difficult to say. It would be wise to have some tests made.

Q—Is it dangerous for a man of 70 to have an operation for hernia?
A—The operation can be done under local anesthesia and should not be at all dangerous.

Q—Is snapping of the fingers caused by hardening of the arteries?
A—Snapping of the fingers is caused by slipping of tendons and ligaments across the joints and is not caused by hardening of the arteries.

Q—What causes the heart to have spells of rapid beating?
A—This condition has a complicated medical name and often is not serious at all. However, a person who has this should have an examination of the heart and an electrocardiogram.

Q—I am the mother of three girls and one little boy. Is it true that scientists have found a method of predetermining sex?
A—Unfortunately, it is not true and there is no way of telling in advance whether another child would be a boy or a girl. There is, however, a 50 per cent chance that it would be a boy.

Q—What causes a keyhole pupil?
A—The technical name for this is coloboma. It is either a defect present at birth or the result of an injury or operation.

Q—Are there any good cures for alopecia areata? It is caused by a vitamin deficiency? Is penicillin useful in treatment?
A—The cause of alopecia areata still is unknown. It is almost certainly not caused by a vitamin deficiency. There are several helpful treatments but no absolute cures. So far as I know penicillin is of no value.

FUNNY BUSINESS

"George!"

Area Real Estate Dealers Convene Here To Meet State Commission; Sandlin Is Speaker

More than 100 real estate dealers from Midland, Odessa and Seminole gathered Thursday night in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer to meet members of the Texas Real Estate Commission visiting here.

C. E. Nelson, president of the Midland board, presided at the meeting, and introduced George W. Sandlin of Austin, chairman of the state board. Sandlin in turn introduced other members of the board and staff members.

Visitors were Harvey W. Draper, Houston, vice chairman; J. C. Culpepper, College Station, and T. R. Logan, San Angelo, directors; Burke Summers, San Angelo, inspector for the board; L. D. Ransom, Austin, director; and Andy James, Austin, assistant director.

Sandlin addressed the group, outlining the history of the passage of the Texas Real Estate Dealers Act of 1949.

He pointed out that with 22,000 licensed dealers in Texas alone, it was vitally necessary to have a workable piece of legislation to control the dealings of the real estate business.

Under the act, which was passed in October, 1949, Sandlin said, nine investigators are allowed. Seven have been employed so far, with the latest in San Angelo. Another is to be placed in Lubbock or Amarillo.

he said, to give West Texas the same representation as other more heavily-populated sectors.

Few Complaints
He emphasized that the board has had few complaints to handle since the act was passed, and that 90 per cent of those complaints stemmed from ignorance on the part of the dealer.

"Most of the complaints," Sandlin said, "arise from failure to account for or remit money coming into their possession. Many dealers have thought earnest money paid by a prospective buyer was commission, earned by them. Then when the sale was not consummated, they were unable to return the money which should have been placed in an escrow fund."

Sandlin told of stiffened requirements for licenses, and of careful screening of new applicants. He said it is not the board's desire to keep anyone from becoming a dealer, but to be certain applicants have the knowledge of the regulations and laws to insure against violations of the act.

The speaker wound up his talk by opening the session to questions from the assembled dealers.

Attending the meeting with the commission members were Mrs. Summers, Mrs. Ransom, Mrs. James, Mrs. Sandlin, Mrs. Culpepper and Mrs. Logan. Two members, James Rushmann of Kenedy and R. C. Hawley of Texarkana, were unable to be present.

Johnny Isn't All Good Nor Is He All Bad

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE
AP Education Writer

Are you over-working the terms "good" and "bad"? Prof. Gelolo McHugh thinks many parents do. McHugh, who is assistant professor of psychology at Duke University, where he gives a course on "Preparation for Parenthood," writes in the National Parent-Teacher Magazine:

"What do you do when your child behaves in ways that please you? How do you show your approval, offer encouragement? When your three-year-old eats nicely, without spilling or messing, do you reward his performance by telling him how good he is? When your little boy or girl voluntarily shares a treat or makes you proud of his good manners, how do you let it be known that you appreciate such behavior? Are you likely to use that word 'good' again? If so, you will neglect some better ways of reinforcing the personality traits that you want to promote."

Overwork These Words
Many mothers and fathers grossly overwork both "good" and "bad" in directing the social and emotional development of children, he says. A child who eats in the proper manner will profit more from being told "That's the right way to eat and I like to see you eat that way" than he will from "You are so good to eat nicely."

On the question of manners, he says, girls and boys really need opportunities to learn that these are forms of behavior that help us get along well with others. If you have suitable chances to do so, all children soon understand that "Thank you" and "Please" are used to build good will and reduce social friction.

When a youngster acts generously, he should find out that there is much more to this kind of behavior than a glow of self-satisfaction. If he acts this way only because he wants to be considered good, he will develop some unattractive, self-centered traits.

When a child lends his toys or gives away part of his candy point out what fun it is to share things: "That's a fine way to enjoy your toys, isn't it?"

bursting in air...

Centuries ago man invented gunpowder. Then he learned how to use that gunpowder to create beauty!

And so, on the Fourth of July we celebrate Independence with fireworks.

Our own generation has unleashed the stupendous power of the atom. Will we be so busy building bigger and more destructive bombs that it will take us centuries to learn how to use that atomic power to create beauty?

Our Independence will never be complete until all of our implements of war can safely be turned into instruments to create beauty. And the only course of life which has ever given promise of such a day is the Christian religion our churches teach.

America led the world to Democracy. America can lead the world to Christ!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Luke	12	16-21
Monday	Luke	17	8-11
Tuesday	Luke	10	1-6
Wednesday	Deuteronomy	10	12-15
Thursday	Deuteronomy	11	18-25
Friday	I Corinthians	9	16-27
Saturday	Luke	12	27-34

And when the child discovers that he cannot share with all his friends because some of them have not yet learned to respect the property of others, he will not suffer unnecessary feelings of guilt over a failure to be good. He will be in a position to understand that there are exceptions to the rules of generosity.

House That Built Babe Ruth Closes

BALTIMORE (AP)—The house that built Babe Ruth and turned many an orphan and toughie into a good, solid American passed out of existence as St. Mary's Industrial School closed its doors.

For 84 years—since 1866—the Catholic-sponsored school has taken into its grey walls boys who were homeless or tabbed as potential law-breakers.

But because the state has made other arrangements for its juvenile problems, financial aid has been withdrawn.

Two of its more noted products blazed their names across the nation and became figures of speech in the sports and entertainment worlds.

George Herman Ruth entered the school when he was seven because his father, a saloonkeeper, thought his environment around his place wasn't too good.

He stayed there until he was 18 and his baseball career was in full blossom.

The school must have made an impression on the Babe. Father Albert, who knew him at the school, said Ruth once told him, when he said at the height of his glory: "We're all in life to do good. And I hope that when I die I will have lived so I can help the boys of America to live straighter and cleaner lives."

Al Johnson, who visited the school last September for the first time in about 50 years.

"That's the yard where I used to play," Johnson told his wife then. "When was that? About the time of the Spanish-American War. I was a bad boy, then, but not too bad. I had run away from home. I gave my brother's name, because he was supposed to be the black sheep of the family. After a few months, my parents came from Washington and took me home. All the hired help has been dismissed, with the exception of old Charlie Carter."

He has cooked (here) for the last 28 years and is rather affected by the closing," explained Brother Charles.

Brother Charles didn't say much when asked how he felt about the school closing.

His eyes misted, then he said slowly, "All the brothers will miss St. Mary's."

WT-NM League—Pampa Holds First In Spite Of Loss

By The Associated Press
The Lamess Eboras' Mammoth West Texas-New Mexico League-leading Pampa Thursday night with clusters of runs to take a 16-12 victory.

However, last-place Abilene nipped second-place Lubbock 3-1, and Pampa still holds a one and one-half game command over the Hubbers.

Abilene bunched three of its five hits to score three times in the fifth to whip Lubbock. Abilene hurler Rudy Lorona gave up only six hits.

STRETCHING IT—Roy Smalley's six feet three inches come in handy as the Cubs' shortstop stretches to reach the ball in time to force Catcher Andy Seminick at second base. Smalley had a rough afternoon as the Phillies won, 8-4, at Chicago's Wrigley Field. He made two errors, was struck on the head by a thrown ball, went hitless in four times at bat.

Odessa-Ackerly Fracas Saturday Is Headliner

The boys who do duty for the seven remaining teams in the National Baseball Congress District Semi-Pro Tournament will go after the blue chips Saturday afternoon and night and Sunday afternoon at Indian Park as the meet comes to a close.

The Midland Cats and Joe's Gulf of Midland will get the action underway at 2 p.m. Saturday in a consolation bracket semi-finals tilt.

Texas League—Fort Worth Loses But Cinches 1950 All-Star Classic

By The Associated Press
The Fort Worth Cats clinched the right to be the host team in the Texas League All-Star Game July 21 Thursday night—but they dropped a 7-6 decision to the Dallas Eagles in doing it.

Second place Tulsa also took a slice of defeat as the Oklahoma City Indians whipped them 8-4. The loss leaves them seven full games behind the Cats, and it would be mathematically impossible for the Oilers to take over command of the loop by July 14. There are only six games remaining to be played by that time.

According to league rules, the team leading the pack after games of July 4 automatically becomes host to the All-Star contest.

The Cats scored three runs in the first inning, two in the second and one in the third to take a six-run lead over Dallas. The Eagles produced two runs in the fifth on two hits and then broke lose for five runs in the sixth on five hits and an error. Relief Pitcher Fred Schmidt, who took over from Don Watkins in the second, gained the victory.

Oklahoma City combined a four-run rush in the seventh inning with effective relief hurling by Al Aber to trounce Tulsa. The win boosted the Indians' win streak to four straight. Aber tossed shutout ball for two and a third innings to get credit for the victory. Tulsa Manager Al Vincent was thumbed from the contest in the second frame following a dispute with Umpire Milt Stearns.

Marty Garlock tossed a three-hitter at the Shreveport Sports for the Houston whitesash job. He allowed one hit in the first and two in the second, then hurled hitless ball the rest of the way. The Buifs bunched four hits for three runs in the fourth and picked up another counter in the fifth on three hits.

Beaumont slammed out a 14-hit, 14-run attack at San Antonio. Keith Thomas led the parade on three San Antonio hurriers with a homer and a triple, good for seven runs batted in. Catcher Clint Courtney drove in four more runs with his three hits.

THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, JUNE 30, 1950—9

Dusters Nip Indians 6-5 In 13 Innings

The Midland Indians wind up their four-day home stand Friday night in Indian Park, meeting the Vernon Dusters at 8:15 p.m. Ernie Nelson will chuck for Midland. Sam Grzywack, Cotton Russell or Dick Tross probably will go for Vernon.

The Midland Indians and the Vernon Dusters Thursday night staged the hardest fight seen in Indian Park this season as they battled to a 6-5 Vernon victory in 13 innings.

Darwin Chricso, acquired by Midland from the Lubbock Hubbers just two days ago, hooked up with Vernon's brilliant Curtis McElhaney in a top-notch mound duel.

Chricso, an 18-game winner for Vernon last season, showed 'em he still has the stuff even though he lost Thursday night's tilt.

Bill Peeler, Duster first baseman, blooped a single into short right field in the top of the thirteenth inning and scored on James King's long foul-line double to left to give the Dusters the decision. The score had been knotted at 5-5 since the seventh inning.

Midland had a perfect opportunity to break the tie in the bottom of the twelfth but an attempted squeeze play with the bases loaded backfired.

McElhaney was a little shaky in the first inning and the Tribe picked up two runs on four singles. Scooter Hughes was the first to reach base. He advanced on Tex Stephenson's infield out.

Jim Prince pounded a long single to center to score Hughes.

George Firnbach singled through shortstop and Prince came home on Bob Cramer's single.

when Tex Stephenson reached third base with one out but didn't get across. Kenny Jones opened the tenth with a double but was out at the plate when Hughes singled to left.

McElhaney was a little shaky in the first inning and the Tribe picked up two runs on four singles. Scooter Hughes was the first to reach base. He advanced on Tex Stephenson's infield out.

Jim Prince pounded a long single to center to score Hughes.

George Firnbach singled through shortstop and Prince came home on Bob Cramer's single.

Chricso blanked the Dusters through the third inning and the Indians picked up another run in the last of the third to give him a 3-0 lead.

Prince's double, an error and Cramer's single produced the tally for Midland.

King's fielder's choice after Arnold Davis had walked and singles by Lou Ehlinger and Auerbach gave the Vernon one in the fourth.

The Redskins added another pair, their last, in the fifth.

The box score:

Player	AB	R	H	O	A
Vernon	26	6	11	3	2

Longhorn League—Pascual Hurls Win Over Odessa Oilers

By The Associated Press
Third baseman Potato Pascual took over mound duties for Big Spring in the Longhorn League Thursday night and struck out 15 batters as his mates pounded lead-off Odessa for a 13-7 victory.

Vernon edged Midland 6-5 on John King's double in the top of the thirteenth inning. San Angelo swamped Sweetwater 13-1 and the Ballinger-Roswell affair was rained out.

Pat Stacey, Big Spring manager, hit four times in four trips to the plate against Odessa to stretch his consecutive hit string to seven in two games. Pete Hernandez homered for Big Spring and Leo Eastham slapped one for Odessa. The defeat dropped Odessa to six games ahead of Idle Roswell.

Big Spring and Vernon are tied for the third spot, eight games off the pace.

John Tayoan homered for San Angelo and his teammate, Don Schneegold, slapped a three-run homer. Bob Cruise, Colt outfielder, also collected a round-tripper.

Several fans here have voted for Clyde Bell, former Roswell outfielder, but the votes are wasted. Bell now is with Ballinger and will poll his votes in the East division of the league.

Ernie Nelson, the Longhorn's winningest hurler in history (24-5), is gaining more support as the voting draws closer to the end.

Nelson is just about the only Midland pitcher with a chance to make the club. He has notched 10 victories and will be going after No. 11 Friday night against Vernon.

Donohoo Resigns; Swift In

The resignation of W. H. Donohoo as clubhouse manager at Midland Country Club was announced Friday by club president, Percy Bridgewater.

Donohoo recently purchased an interest in the Midland Indians, professional baseball club, and is devoting full time to that enterprise.

Bridgewater said Jack Swift will replace Donohoo as house manager. Swift was selected by the board of directors.

Bridgewater said the change will become effective about July 10.

Donohoo has been house manager at the club since December, 1947, and expansion of the grill and dining facilities has been made while he has been in charge. A new kitchen, private dining room and other additions now are under construction at the club.

Six Americans Hold Pace At Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON —(P)—The only sure bet in the men's singles competition in the all-England Lawn Tennis Championships is that the winner won't be a homebred boy.

The last glimmering British hope went out the window Thursday with the defeat of Tony Mottram, Britain's No. 1 player, by Australia's Geoff Brown in five sets.

Two other British players also were erased. An Englishman hasn't won the main event at Wimbledon since Fred Perry turned the trick in 1934-35-36.

The men's field is down to 16, including six Americans, six Australians, a Dutchman, a Frenchman, South African Eric Sturgess and the Czech Exile, Jaroslav Drobný.

The Americans are Billy Talbert, Budge Patty, Gardnar Mulloy, Art Larsen, Vic Seixas and Fred Kovalski.

Major Leagues—Boston-Athletics Set New Scoring Mark In Slugfest

By JACK HAND Associated Press Sports Writer

Nobody ever will forget the 1950 Boston Red Sox. That's for sure.

How Ted Williams and Company ground the record book to bits. How the Sox raced up and down the scale from heroes to bums and back in the glorious month of June, losing a manager in the process.

How they hit the 20-run mark three times in June and reached the last day of the month struggling in fourth place, seven games off the pace.

Maybe they have found themselves under Steven O'Neill, successor to Joe McCarthy. Maybe not. But their June records will stand for years to come.

Take Thursday's 22-14 wrestle with the Philadelphia A's. Never before in the American League did two clubs run up 36 runs in a nine-inning game. The old high of 35 also was set by the Red Sox and A's in 1901.

Then there was the 29-4 slaughter of the St. Louis Browns, June 8—highest score by a major league club since 1897. The day before that it was 20-4.

Still In Fourth You'd think a club capable of such muscle-flexing would be leading the league. But even now, with a seven-game win streak going, the Sox are fourth behind Detroit, New York and Cleveland. In the weird adventure in Shibe Park Thursday, Boston scored six in the first, the A's four. At the end of two innings it was 14-7.

And no home runs until the seventh when Williams hit his twenty-fourth with a man on. That was the only homer. Detroit maintained its four and one-half game lead over New York as both lost. Young Bob Cain of the Chicago White Sox survived a shaky first inning to trim the Tigers 7-3.

Sid Hudson also weathered a first inning blast to give Washington a 12-7 verdict over the Yanks. Cliff Mape's three-run homer was the big blow in the Yanks' first inning attack on Hudson. But Joe Ostrowski couldn't protect a 5-1 lead. The Senators knocked him out in the second and hung the loss on reliever Tom Ferrick in the fourth.

Steve Gromek set down St. Louis with six hits while Cleveland rapped Duane Pillette for a 4-1 night game victory. It was the Tribe's thirteenth win in its last 16 starts.

Bums Hold Lead Brooklyn retained its half-game lead in the National while losing to New York 11-5. Vern Bickford helped the Dodgers by pitching Boston to a 3-2 night decision over the Phillies. The Dodgers and Phils open an important series Friday night.

The Giants hopped on Ralph Branca, loser Dan Bankhead and Erv Palic for four runs in the eighth inning to ruin Brooklyn, although Jackie Robinson hit two homers for the Dodgers.

Buddy Kerr's two-run single in the eighth settled a night duel between Bickford and Ken Heintzelman at Boston. Not even Dick Sisler's three doubles and a single in four trips could help the Phils.

Sam Jethroe put on quite a show in the sixth. He reached first on an error, stole second for his eighteenth theft, then scored from second when Earl Fergerson grounded out, first baseman to the pitcher.

Chicago hung another loss on the St. Louis Cardinals 6-1 behind Bob Rush's five-hitter. It was the Cards' tenth loss in their last 14 games and Rush's tenth complete game for his ninth win.

Pittsburgh and Cincinnati were not scheduled.

Negro Minister Wins Divorce From 'Joe Louis-Loving' Spouse

CHICAGO —(P)—The negro minister who said Joe Louis stole his wife's love was granted a divorce from her Thursday.

He is the Rev. Matthew C. Faulkner, 34, Judge Daniel A. Roberts said in the decree from Carroll, 27, in Circuit Court after the pastor said his wife, a former model, had "transferred her affections" to the boxer.

The minister's $500,000 alienation of affections suit against the heavyweight champ was dismissed Tuesday in Superior Court after an out-of-court settlement. The former Atlanta, Ga., negro Baptist preacher charged his wife deserted him.

8,174 Gain Shown By 21st District

SAN ANGELO —(P)—The 21st Congressional District picked up 8,174 persons in the last decade. The district would have lost had it not been for Tom Green (San Angelo) County's whopping 19,288 gain—enough to erase losses posted by 18 of the 27 counties in the district.

The district extends from the U. S.-Mexico border north to Brownwood, and from Ison County on the west to Lampasas County on the east.

Tom Green County gained from 39,302 to 58,590. The only other counties with sizable gains were Uvalde, which gained 2,728 from 13,246 to 15,974, and Brown, which jumped from 25,224 to 28,464. Great loss occurred in Coleman County, which dropped from 20,571 to 15,402, down by 5,169.

Sumerians Knew Euclid Theorem

BAGHDAD —(P)—A Babylonian scientist discovered one of Euclid's theorems some 1,700 years before the father of geometry was born, asserts Taha Baqir, curator of the Iraqi Museum in Baghdad.

The "most ancient mathematical text known to date" was deciphered in a cuneiform inscription carved on a 4,000-year-old clay tablet, Baqir said in an interview.

The tablet, along with several others, was unearthed at Tel Harmal, six miles south of Baghdad, last fall. It dates back to the beginning of the First Dynasty of Babylon, around 2,000 B.C., toward the end of the Sumerian era.

"The Tel Harmal tablet, it has been found, outlines one of the basic theorems of geometry—an application of the principle of similarity of two right-angled triangles obtained in drawing a perpendicular on the hypotenuse of a right-angled triangle," said Baqir.

Ector Plant To Be Dedicated Saturday

Dedication ceremonies for the North Cowden gasoline plant, located 15 miles northwest of Odessa on the Goldsmith road, will be held Saturday morning at the plant site.

William J. Murray, Jr., chairman of the Railroad Commission of Texas, and Lt. Gen. Ernest O. Thompson, commission member, will each deliver an address at the ceremonies.

F. M. Perry, manager of the gasoline and chemicals division of Cities Service Oil Company, Bartlesville, Okla., will serve as master of ceremonies during a radio broadcast from 11:30 to 12:00 noon over the combined facilities of radio stations KCOA and KRIG in Odessa and KCOR, Midland.

The Midland High School Band will perform during the ceremonies.

Water Consumption Decreases Here; Still Above 1949

Midland's daily water consumption fell from Tuesday's record of 7,896,000 gallons to 7,348,000 gallons Thursday.

Thursday's figure still is above any day in 1949. Wednesday, a total of 7,428,000 gallons was used.

City Manager W. H. Oswalt said a new well added to the city's water system Wednesday now is producing 720,000 gallons per day. That's an average of 600 gallons a minute.

Other wells, which are expected to increase the production capacity here to 1,500,000 gallons, will be added at 10-day intervals, he said.

Louisiana Count Gains 13 Per Cent

BIRMINGHAM —(P)—The 1950 population of Louisiana is 2,669,043, a gain of about 13 per cent over 1940, preliminary U. S. census figures showed Friday.

Census area headquarters said the 64 parishes had gained 305,163 in the 1940-1950 decade.

Most of the increase was attributed to large gains in the Baton Rouge, Lake Charles, New Orleans and Shreveport areas. The parishes of Orleans and Jefferson jumped 126,000 while East Baton Rouge gained 68,000.

Many predominantly rural areas showed losses.

American Jet Pilot Hits Silk, Lands In Friendly Territory

SUWON, KOREA —(P)—The first American jet pilot to bail out of his damaged airplane over South Korea had an audience Friday by two U. S. newspapermen and an Army photographer.

First Lt. Edwin T. Johnson, 28, of Seattle and through two Korean positions along the north bank of the Han River outside Seoul when his fighter, swishing along at almost ground level, struck a cable or telephone line.

Johnson hauled back on the stick and headed south.

"I wasn't going to land there if I had to get out and push," he said. Arriving over Suwon Airfield, probed by other American planes, Johnson bailed out. He struck his leg against the rudder as he left the plane.

The jet crashed and burned in a rice field close by, astonished Keyes Beech of the Chicago Daily News, Corp. John S. Romanowski, an army photographer, and the writer who had been watching the pilot fall.

Koreans To Rescue "We raced in a jeep over rice paddies and through two small villages toward the field where Johnson landed," Beech related.

"As we arrived an estimated 100 solicitous South Koreans were lifting the pilot from the field which Johnson called through clenched teeth the 'hardest piece of ground between here and Pusan.'"

A South Korean hoisted the pilot on his back and carried him to the jeep. He was taken to the Korean Military Advisory Group headquarters, where he received medical treatment for cuts about the legs and face and shock.

The operation was an expensive one for Beech. In racing to the downed pilot he lost a wallet containing about $2,000 in traveler's checks and letters of credit.

Youth—

Callan's prepared statement about the Hartford fire said:

"It has been definitely established that Segge was employed by the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus from June 30 to July 13, 1944.

"He joined the circus on June 30 at Portland, Maine, and the day he joined the circus there was a fire on tent ropes that was extinguished without loss.

"The circus moved from Portland, Maine, to Providence, R. I., and while there another small fire occurred on the tent flap, which again was extinguished without loss.

"On July 6, 1944, at Hartford, Conn., the major fire occurred, which took the lives of 158 people."

Callan said Segge said his first slaying was a nine-year-old girl, beaten to death with a stone during a fit of anger. He identified the victim as Barbara Driscoll, slain on a river bank at Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 5, 1938.

Other victims, identified by Callan were:

A watchman who caught Segge setting a fire in a warehouse at Portland, Maine, March 18, 1943; a 12-year-old boy, strangled to death on the beach at Cape Cottage, Maine, in 1943 "to the best of his (Segge's) recollection, and a Japanese boy killed in Japan in 1945 while Segge was in the U. S. Army of Occupation.

The last three victims listed by Callan were not identified by name, but the state fire marshal said all three were actual slayings as shown by his and Army investigations.

Callan said the method used by Segge in setting the Hartford circus fire is contained in his signed statement. But, the state fire marshal declined to disclose details at this time.

Callan said he did not know the names of three of the four persons Segge said he killed.

Callan indicated his belief in Segge's statements, after investigation, despite the extreme youth of the prisoner at the time many of the crimes were alleged to have been committed.

Asked if he thought Segge was a pyromaniac, a person who gets a sexual thrill from the setting of fires, Callan said:

"The record speaks for itself."

Minor property damage was caused Friday morning when an automobile, driven by Mrs. W. B. Yarborough, 506 West Storey Street, went out of control on North Big Spring Street and crashed through a wooden fence and came to rest against a house at 401 West Storey Street.

Mrs. Yarborough reported to police that she swerved to miss a dog in the street, and lost control of the car in the loose gravel on the street. Police reported only minor bruises to Mrs. Yarborough.

The fence was torn loose for approximately 12 feet. No damage was done to the house.

Damon appeared before the council Thursday to inquire as to the status of the house controversy. He said the city had granted a permit for him to move the house, but that he would be glad to move the building back to its original location next to the Furnias Building on West Texas Street if the city would grant such a permit.

Damon told the council he planned to improve and beautify the house immediately.

The council adopted an ordinance accepting the bid of Brown and Root, Inc., on the proposed C and D paving projects. The Houston firm's bid was the lower of two received by the council.

Acceptance of the final portion of the group B paving by Brown and Root also was voted.

A plat of the Lyndale Addition in North Midland, submitted by Dr. L. W. Leggett and Raymond Leggett, was approved on recommendation of the Planning and Zoning Commission. R. C. Conkling represented the commission at the meeting.

The awarding of a contract for a new garbage truck chassis to the Elder Chevrolet Company on a low bid of $2,150 was approved. The chassis is to be delivered immediately.

An ordinance regulating the disposal of property at Midland Air Terminal was adopted on second and final reading.

A contract for water and sewer extensions in the University Park addition was awarded to George Tucker of Odessa on a low bid of $4,098.50. Other bids were submitted by Joe W. Copeland, Midland, $4,452.58; and W. L. Johnson, Midland, $5,089.78. The project will be financed by the addition developer.

West Texas Group Attends Highway Meeting In Austin

(Continued From Page One) KERRITT — A delegation representing cities and towns from Odessa to Ranger, all on U. S. Highway 90, were to appear in public hearing before the Texas Highway Commission Friday in behalf of the commission's proposal to designate a highway west from Kerritt through Loving County to connect with Highway 185 in Reeves County and eventually to connect with U. S. Highways 180 and 69 in Culberson County. This announcement came from M. H. Albert, chairman of the Kerritt Chamber of Commerce Highway Committee. Charlie Green, manager of Kerritt Chamber of Commerce, was to be the spokesman for the delegation.

The delegation was to present to the Highway Commission a petition prepared by the Chamber of Commerce Highway Committee, answering, point by point, the 10-point plea for reconsideration which was presented at the last commission hearing by 18 towns and communities from Monahan's west.

"The main purpose of this hearing," Albert said, "is to express our thanks to the State Highway Commission for passing the resolution proposing to designate the new highway."

There was immediate and general backing in Congress for Truman's action in the Korean situation.

Representative Eaton (R-NJ), one of those called to the White House, told reporters:

"We've got a rattlesnake by the tail and the sooner we pound its head in the better off we'll be."

Eaton is an ordained Baptist minister. He is the ranking Republican on the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the Republican floor leader, said he had "full confidence in General MacArthur, but thought the President should seek the advice and consent of Congress in the rapid developments."

"Load 'em Dynamite" he added:

"I think Congress should be required to share the responsibility of whatever acts the President takes."

Senator Wherry (R-Wis.) said he supports the move but commented: "It's a load of dynamite. The question is how big a charge of dynamite it is."

Secretary of Defense Johnson, in response to questions, said as he left the White House that actions now being taken are authorized already have been taken.

He would not say what units are moving to Korea.

"There may be those who would like to know that is on the way," he said, "but they are turning the question aside."

For that reason, he said, they should not look for any immediate amplification from the Pentagon or the White House announcement.

Johnson also said he could not answer a question as to whether B-36 bombers will be used.

A reporter asked whether a Chinese offer of 30,000 troops had been accepted.

Johnson said he was not yet ready to say about that.

Asked whether MacArthur recommended the move, Johnson said:

"This action was recommended by the Defense Department."

Before the cabinet-congressional session, the President had a long session with Secretary of State Acheson, Secretary of Defense Johnson, the joint chiefs of staff, and W. Averell Harriman, new special assistant to the President on foreign affairs.

These people remained for the second meeting and were joined by the three secretaries of the armed forces, Deputy Secretary of Defense Early, President's Special Envoy, Rayburn, Senate Democratic Leader Lucas, House Democratic Leader McCormack, and the following Congress members:

Chairman Connally (D-Texas) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and Chairman Tydings (D-Md.) of the Senate Armed Forces Committee; Senators Thomas (D-Utah), Wherry (R-Neb.), Wiley (R-Wis.), Smith (R-NJ), and Gurney (R-SD).

America Not At War

From the House side there were Chairman Kee (D-Wy.) of the Foreign Affairs Committee and Representatives Mansfield (D-Mont.), Brooks (D-La.), Short (R-Mo.), Vorys (R-Ohio), and Eaton (R-NJ).

There appeared to be some hope, despite the extreme official caution on the subject, that Russia's rejection of the American appeal for aid in halting the Korean war does not portend any direct and active intervention on Russia's part to help the invasion along.

As for America's role, President Truman made clear at a news conference Thursday the United States is pursuing the immediate and limited objective of preserving Korea's freedom and independence from conquest by what he called a "bunch of bandits."

"We are not at war," he said. He described the use of American arms in support of South Korean defense forces as constituting simply a police action under the United Nations. He expressed confidence in eventual success.

Switchmen's Strike In Sixth Day Friday

CHICAGO — A switchmen's strike that has knocked out four big railroads and knotted up a fifth entered its sixth day Friday. And in Washington a senator commented that if the American people will not "stand for any He-up American railroads at this time of peril, and shouldn't."

But there were no signs of peace from either union or railroad camps.

The senator, Morse (R) of Oregon, spoke in the Senate chamber asking for a speedy end to the AFL Switchmen of North America's walkout. In addition, he asked assurance that trainmen, yardmasters, and conductors not leave their posts as they threatened on July 15.

ALBANY, N. Y. VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. Reed Wisenburn and daughter, Mary Joseph, of Albany, N. Y., are visiting their aunt, Mrs. Phil Scharbauer.

US Troops—

Dispatches from Korea have made it plain, however, that the South Koreans are particularly in need of artillery and anti-tank weapons.

MacArthur has in his Far East command an Army strength of 123,500 men.

This includes four divisions. They are the First Cavalry Division—an infantry division despite its name; the 24th Infantry Division, the 25th Infantry Division and the 25th Infantry Division.

Gen. J. Lawton Collins, the Army's chief of staff, said after a recent visit to the area that the Far Eastern troops are in a high state of readiness and training.

The U. S. ground troops are stationed in Japan, Okinawa and other islands of the Ryukyu chain, and the Philippines.

Following the White House announcement, an Army spokesman said all of the army troops in the Far East Command have been alerted. He said he did not know what units or what types of troops would be sent to Korea.

On MacArthur's Advice

The Army also has an additional 8,000 men in Hawaii.

Truman's decisions presumably were taken on recommendation of General MacArthur. The Defense Department had disclosed that a report had been received from him covering his personal inspection of the Korean situation.

There was immediate and general backing in Congress for Truman's action in the Korean situation.

Representative Eaton (R-NJ), one of those called to the White House, told reporters:

"We've got a rattlesnake by the tail and the sooner we pound its head in the better off we'll be."

Eaton is an ordained Baptist minister. He is the ranking Republican on the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the Republican floor leader, said he had "full confidence in General MacArthur, but thought the President should seek the advice and consent of Congress in the rapid developments."

"Load 'em Dynamite" he added:

"I think Congress should be required to share the responsibility of whatever acts the President takes."

Senator Wherry (R-Wis.) said he supports the move but commented: "It's a load of dynamite. The question is how big a charge of dynamite it is."

Secretary of Defense Johnson, in response to questions, said as he left the White House that actions now being taken are authorized already have been taken.

He would not say what units are moving to Korea.

"There may be those who would like to know that is on the way," he said, "but they are turning the question aside."

For that reason, he said, they should not look for any immediate amplification from the Pentagon or the White House announcement.

Johnson also said he could not answer a question as to whether B-36 bombers will be used.

A reporter asked whether a Chinese offer of 30,000 troops had been accepted.

Johnson said he was not yet ready to say about that.

Asked whether MacArthur recommended the move, Johnson said:

"This action was recommended by the Defense Department."

Before the cabinet-congressional session, the President had a long session with Secretary of State Acheson, Secretary of Defense Johnson, the joint chiefs of staff, and W. Averell Harriman, new special assistant to the President on foreign affairs.

BREAKS ANKLE

RICHARD DAVIS, 20, of 602 North Colorado Street, an employee of the Triangle Food Market, was admitted to Western Clinic Hospital Thursday for treatment of a broken ankle. He is reported to have dropped a heavy object on his foot while working.

FALLS FROM RIG

George B. Evans, 46, a driller's helper employed by the Tex-Harvey Oil Company, was admitted to Western Clinic-Hospital Thursday morning after he had fallen from a rig. Evans suffered a broken arm and in the fall, Evans resides in the Worth Hotel.

Red Thru—

An earlier South Korean report said Southern troops had reentered the suburbs of Seoul on the heels of fleeing Communists. It was not clear whether this report still stood, although it did not necessarily conflict with the news of a Red breakthrough southwest of the city.

Military informants said the Han River apparently was crossed by the Reds during darkness after two small advance bands of invaders had been wiped out by the South Korean defense. The Red armor apparently was ferried across, as all bridges were reported destroyed.

The highway route from the river to Suwon and for a great distance on southward cuts through flat farmlands where there are no fixed defenses.

Loss of Suwon would cripple seriously the American ability to supply the South Koreans with arms, for no other strip north of Pusan can handle big transports.

The main barrier to a deep southward sweep by the invaders' armor at present appeared to be American warplanes.

Allies Pledge Support

Hard American blows also were being directed against North Korean bases and installations.

General MacArthur ordered the raids against Red invasion bases and installations "wherever they are."

His order came after Britain, Holland, Nationalist China, Australia and New Zealand pledged active support in the battle against the invaders. The pledges included air, sea and ground forces, the latter reportedly being considered by Nationalist China.

Maj. Gen. E. M. Almond, MacArthur's chief of staff, said the raids on the North Koreans would include possible invasion bases and facilities, which means American planes would ignore the thirty-eight parallel dividing line between the two sections of Korea and go after the Reds wherever they assembled to strike at the South.

Corn production for 1949 was 14 bushels per acre more than the 1935-39 average in North America.

JayCees Tour New Memorial Hospital

Members of the Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce dined Friday noon in the dining rooms of the new Midland Memorial Hospital. Hospital personnel served the meal from the completely modern kitchen.

Following lunch, Administrator E. R. Andres conducted the JayCees on a tour of the hospital including the modern operating rooms and other surgical facilities.

President Irvy Dyer expressed the appreciation of the JayCees for the opportunity to tour the new hospital as guests of the Memorial Hospital Foundation.

Grand Jury Indicts Woman For Murder

AUSTIN — (AP) — Anna Pearl Wheeler of Dallas was indicted for murder by a 12th District grand jury here Thursday.

The 21-year-old woman was charged in the slaying of T. R. Outhrie June 15 in his home on the Manchacha Road here.

She is free in Dallas on a $10,000 bond. Sheriff Ernest Best said she would be returned to Austin to post a new bond of $10,000 set by the grand jury.

Another woman, 17-year-old Helen Goodrow, also was charged with murder in connection with the slaying. Free on a $5,000 bond she appeared before the grand jury Thursday as a witness.

FROM GLAMOR TO . . . GULP!—Dunking the coxswain of a victorious crew is one thing, but dunking a bathing girl contest winner is death to glamor. Defeated competitors for the title of "Mack Sennett Girl of 1950" tossed the winner, glamorous Pat Hall into a Hollywood hotel pool—with the unglamorous result at right.

Security Council Reviews Korean War Developments

LAKE SUCCESS—(AP)—The United Nations Security Council met Friday afternoon to review developments in the campaign to save Communist-invaded South Korea.

The meeting was called by Council President Sir B. N. Rau of India primarily for two reasons:

1. He feels the council should keep constant watch both on the conflict and on the UN efforts to repel the Communists across the 38th parallel into North Korea.
2. India and Egypt want to make new statements on the sanctions resolution which the council adopted Tuesday night by a vote of 7 to 1. Both countries asked to be excused from voting originally on the ground that they had no instructions. India announced Thursday she now supports the resolution and Egypt was reported ready to make a similar announcement.

Hope For Sinatras' Reconciliation Fades

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Any hope of a reconciliation between singer Frank Sinatra and his wife Nancy is making a movie.

Mrs. Sinatra is going ahead with her separate maintenance suit against the crooner. It is set for July 7.

Sinatra came home from a European junket and a visit with Ava to discuss the property disposition. There was talk of a reconciliation but his attorney, Joseph Ross, says that is out.

Displaced Russians Eye Canadian Army

OTTAWA—(AP)—Democracy-muddled Russians living in Canada have been trying to enlist in the Canadian Army.

An Army headquarters official said letters from Russian displaced persons here, some of them written in their native language, have been coming in recently.

The Army has to turn down the applicants. To join the Canadian Army one must be either a Canadian citizen or a British subject resident here.

The spokesman said the flow of applications may be increased by fighting in Korea.

Armed Forces Turn Down Man 20 Times

MEMPHIS, TENN.—(AP)—The armed forces said no for the twentieth time Thursday to John Patrick Laxton.

The words of the Army recruiting sergeant: "We could use you to raise and lower the flag without a halyard. But the regulations x x x." Laxton, 38, is six feet 11 1/2 inches tall.

Somebody said yes though. Laxton, an ex-prize fighter, revealed he is getting married. The bride will be Mrs. Zona McLemore of Memphis. She's five feet, three inches tall.

Accused Atom Spy Will Plead Guilty

NEW YORK—(AP)—Harry Gold, 39-year-old Philadelphia chemist indicted on a charge of giving atomic secrets to the Russians, has agreed to plead guilty and his case will be transferred to the U. S. District Court in his home city.

U. S. Attorney J. Vincent Keogh's office said Gold signed a written statement giving a "consent of transfer" and stating he wishes to plead guilty. An office spokesman said the transfer to Philadelphia will take place "within a few days."

Gold is accused of being a go-between for Dr. Klaus Fuchs, convicted British scientist, and members of a Soviet spy ring. He was arrested May 23 in Philadelphia by FBI agents and since has been held in $100,000 bail there.

Bullet Taken From Head After 12 Years

LITTLE ROCK, ARK.—(AP)—A pistol bullet was removed Thursday from a man's head where it had been embedded 12 years.

The surgeons who performed the delicate four and one-half hour operation on Jack Daniels, 26, described his prospects for recovery as "good."

Daniels, a farmer of Jamestown, Ark., was 14 when a neighbor mistook him for a chicken thief and fired at him. A .45 caliber bullet struck him high in the forehead. He recovered from the wound and resumed normal activities.

Later he married. He and his wife have two children.

About eight months ago, Daniels began to lose physical coordination. He indicated the bullet. Examination indicated it had gravitated toward the back of his skull and downward and was interfering with that portion of the brain which controls the muscles.

Construction Men Caught Off Guard - To Tune Of $175

BALTIMORE—(AP)—A group of construction workers were caught with their hands—guard down Thursday.

The victims told police they answered an ad for out-of-town jobs at a suite at a downtown hotel. A ruddy-faced "interviewer" accepted all 18 and told them to go into the next room to disrobe for medical inspection.

He would keep their valuables, if they liked. Nine handed over their wallets, with cash amounting to $175.

Stripped to their shorts, the 18 waited. And waited. And waited. But no doctor came in to look at them.

Finally, after about an hour, one of them peeked into the main room. The interviewer was gone. So were the wallets. And the hotel found the room had been cleaned out completely.

Seen a ruddy-faced "interviewer" with a swollen wallet around?

Laundry, Canteen, Jewelry Importing Help Business College Teach Business

LEICESTER, MASS.—(AP)—It is entirely possible for a student of Leicester Junior College's Business Administration to graduate with a good education, diploma and a handsome profit, well.

Because it specializes in turning out men for business careers, Leicester has organized the "Leicester Associates" to provide a practical proving-ground for business.

The associates, which is a legal corporation, helps students run several businesses.

If a student has an idea for a money-making enterprise, he applies to the associates. If they think it will work, they advance him an interest-free loan. The student takes it from there, with the associates always at hand for advice and assistance.

Under this setup, a college laundry was organized that is now a flourishing enterprise. Another student set up a hot plate in his room and began serving hamburgers. From this, with the aid of the associates, has blossomed a canteen that now embraces a well-equipped student lounge and a complete jewelry imported.

Hand-made jewelry was imported from Iran by a student from that country. Gaining experience in advertising and merchandising, a group of Leicester students marketed the jewelry by mail and also distributed it in stores in nearby cities.

One of the most spectacular associates-supported ventures was a wrecking project. Two seniors formed a partnership to salvage the wreckage of a fire-ravaged mansion. They underbid professional house wreckers, and the associates promptly loaned them $200.

With this money, they bought an old truck and began hauling away the debris. They uncovered the boilers and sold them for more than $800, then sold the pipes, fittings and railings for more.

With this money, they bought a newer truck, attached a rope to it, and proceeded to pull the chimney down. They sold the 5,000-odd bricks, which were scattered over the lawn, for two cents apiece.

Scouts Open Annual Jamboree; To Hear Truman Friday Night

VALLEY FORGE, PA.—(AP)—The Boy Scouts of America opened their mammoth National Jamboree Friday in the now-peaceful valley where George Washington's troops fought cold and hunger that freedom might be born on this continent.

And President Truman, speaking on these historic grounds at 7 p.m. Friday, is expected to tell the massed Scouts and their leaders that the fight for liberty continues today.

Nearly 50,000 attending this first National Jamboree since 1937 will greet the President when he arrives by train from Washington.

The week-long campcraft festival, dedicated to the Scouts' 40th anniversary motto of "Strengthening the Arm of Liberty," opens officially with the raising of the colors to the accompaniment of an aerial fireworks "bombardment" echoing and re-echoing across the wooded hills.

All States Represented

Mostly the jamboree will be fun, sightseeing and camping practice for the boys and their leaders, who have come from all 48 states, the territories and 17 foreign countries.

Symbolizing the Scout ideal of brotherhood, a United Nations troop encamped near general headquarters of the 625-acre campsite is made up of boys from eight nations, including three "Iron Curtain" countries.

But there was no talk of iron curtains or of war, cold or hot, when Poland's Wojciek Woznicki pumped hands with fellow Scout Robert Kimes of Oil City, Pa., and Scouts from Hungary and Czechoslovakia got similar back-slapping welcomes.

Some 100,000 spectators were expected to jam the camp grounds on opening day. A force of 200 Pennsylvania state policemen keeps traffic moving constantly on a one-way counter-clockwise circuit of the area.

Jap Cutie In U. S. Still Is Unkissed

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Kissable but kissless—that's Japanese movie star Shirley Yamaguchi, who says she came to the United States to study the Hollywood technique in screen lovemaking.

Shirley, who is quite a dish judged by any standard, had an idea that American men were romantic. She thinks Robert Ryan is very appealing "because he's big, so strong, so handsome." But neither Ryan nor any other male star has offered his services as an instructor.

"I am so surprised," she said in an interview Thursday "that American men are shy. I had heard differently."

Gets Kiss And $20 For Returning $5,640

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Cab driver Lawrence Corley, 49, turned in a purse containing $5,640 cash and was rewarded with a hug, a kiss, and $20.

The purse belonged to Mrs. C. C. Carson. She said almost half the money was earmarked for an important operation. Corley noticed the purse when he opened the door for a fare who hailed him shortly after Mrs. Carson left the cab.

Mrs. Carson had reported the loss and was waiting at the cab office for him.

California Woman Is Sea Lion Salesman

HERMOSA BEACH, CALIF.—(AP)—She sells sea lions by the sea shore. Her husband, who trains them, took an act on tour leaving half a dozen or so behind.

"I either had to go into business with the lions or have them eat me out of house and home," Mrs. Kay L. Snow explained. "I decided to sell them. But when I started disposing of them I began getting more requests than I could fill." She found a fisherman who agreed to hunt them for her and now has an assured supply. Most of her orders are from zoos.

Singer's Widow Seeks $2,001,307 Damages

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Singer Buddy Clark's widow, Nedra, has sued the owners of the plane in which he crashed to his death last Fall for $2,001,307 damages.

She alleges the plane, returning from a Stanford football game, crashed in a Los Angeles street because it was operated "carelessly and negligently."

Named as defendants are D. W. Mercer, James D. Melvin and James L. Hayter.

Monahans Water Rights Suit Settled

DALLAS—(AP)—A lawsuit over water rights to 8,000 acres of ranch land near Monahans was settled here Thursday.

The agreement gives L. L. O'Brien and Pat O'Brien, who bought the land from the heirs of George Sealy of Galveston, one-fourth of the royalties from a water contract with the Texas Electric Service Company.

The remaining three-fourths goes to the Sealy estate.

The O'Brien brothers contended they bought the water rights with the land. The contract of sale reserved oil, gas and other mineral rights for the estate.

PIONEER STOCKHOLDERS GET DIVIDEND CHECKS

DALLAS—Dividend checks totaling $22,500 were mailed to 280 Pioneer Air Lines stockholders Friday, in payment of 25 cents per share dividend declared by the company's directors to stockholders of record as of June 14.
