Move To Rush End Of Blockade Pushed

Heavy Showers Fall Over South Plains

QUITS "BATTLESHIP ROW"—The troopship Chilton moves out of Shanghai with nearly a battalion of U.S. Marines aboard. The ship quit "battleship row" in a move to avoid any possibility of incidents such as involved four British warships on the Yangtze river. ### Wide Section Receives Fall

THUNDERSHOWERS coupled with a drizzling rain continued last night over most of the South Plains to dump more moisture on the area's already well-soaked soil.

The front extended completely over West Texas, parts of New Mexico and into other sections of Texas, the Lubbock Weather bureau reported. Thunderstorms were reported at Amarillo, Dalhart, Clovis, Hobbs, Midland, and Big Spring, all outside of the South Plains.

On the South Plains, Plainview, Morton, Littlefield, Anton, Lamesa and Hale Center reported heavy downpours and severe displays of thunder and lightning. None of the points reported high wind or hail, however.

The heaviest falls were reported at Littlefield where one and one-half inches was measured and at Hale Center where an estimated inch fell. Other points reported from a quarter of an inch to almost one inch of precipitation.

The Weather station at Municipal airport said that .36 inch had fallen there since 6 p.m. to bring the total for Tuesday and Wednesday nights to .42 inch. Half an inch of rain was measured in downtown Lubbock following a severe rain and hail storm Tuesday night, but the shower barely reached northward to the weather station. A heavy downpour hit Lubbock about midnight and was continuing early this morning.

Light showers which loosed .10 inch or more of rain and light drizzles were reported over most of the area.

Warm Weather Needed

While the rains were generally welcome, area farmers were beginning to look for a break in "East Texas" weather. Some already have begun to plant some crops. However, South Plains' major crop, cotton, will begin to go into the ground around May 1, with planting volume increasing heavily up to about the middle of the month. Inclement weather in that period probably would be most unwelcome.

Farmers agreed that soil conditions over the Plains were about the best they ever had experienced, and that warmer days with sunshine would be needed soon

Air Force Admits Some Flying Disc Reports Not Explained

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 27—The Air Force admitted today that in almost two years it has not been able to solve the mystery of the flying saucers.

In a digest of studies made by the Air Materiel command at Wright Field, Ohio, the Air Force said that hundreds of celestial phenomena ranging from flying saucers to "spaceships" had been reported and that some 240 domestic and 30 foreign incidents had been investigated.

In about 30 per cent of the incidents the objects were identified as meteorological balloons, ordinary aircraft, planets and hoaxes perpetrated by publicity seekers.

The rest, the Air Force said, remain a mystery and are under investigation by the Air Materiel command.

The Air Force has investigated the possibility that the saucers are weapons from a foreign power or have arrived from other planets or even from outer space. None of

University Of Iowa Offers Course In Weight Reduction

IOWA CITY, April 28 (INS)—Along with co-education, nuclear physics, jurisprudence and other phases of higher education, the state University of Iowa now offers practical instruction in reduction of excess weight.

Dr. Frank Sills, head of the "adaptive physical education program, reported today that one student in the course lost 69 pounds in 18 months, another 47 pounds in four months.

Special Diet Recommended

Overweight students are introduced to the program when they take entering physical examinations at the University Health service. The first step is a low calorie diet recommended by Dr. C. I. Miller.

The overweight students are then given a course of reducing exercises designed not only to ower their weight but develop physical fitness as well.

The program requires a certain amount of "home work," too. Special exercises are demonstrated in class and instructions given for practice at home.

The third step consists of instruction in physical skills best suited to the individual student's capabilities.

Grading is based on improvement shown in physical fitness tests given twice each semester.

Reds Claimed Ready To Test Line To Berlin

By RICHARD S. WEIL
INS Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, April 27—The Russians today were reported ready to make a concrete gesture toward lifting the blockade of Berlin by dispatching a train this weekend from the Soviet zone to the British zone along the main Berlin-Helmstedt railway.

East Berlin Communist informants said this would be a demonstration that the "technical difficulties" on the line are being removed and that two-way traffic will be possible soon.

"Technical difficulties" was the phrase used by the Russians when they clamped their ground blockade on Berlin nearly a year ago. The western airlift defeated the blockade and an allied counter-blockade affected Soviet zone economy.

Preparations Completed

The Berlin-Helmstedt line was a main supply artery for the Western Allied sectors of Berlin before the blockade. It is reported in excellent condition.

The Eastern Berlin Communist informants said the Russian authorities conceived the train-dispatching idea and so informed Communist leaders Wilhelm Pieck, Otto Grotewohl, and Walther Ulbricht at last night's emergency meeting at Karlshorst, Soviet headquarters.

The contents of the train were not specified. If it is dispatched it may be just a string of empty cars. The Allies long have accused the Russians of failing to return freight cars due the Western Zones.

The British-licensed DPD news agency said all preparations are completed for immediate resumption of rail, canal and highway traffic to and from Berlin once the Allies agree.

Soldiers Withdrawn

Eighteen Russian soldiers suddenly appeared without explanation today at three canal locks in the British sector of Berlin and demanded Soviet-issued papers from bargemen using the locks.

They were removed and traffic resumed normally after a British protest to Soviet authorities.

Bellhop Begins To Pay Off His Share Of National Debt

(By The Associated Press)

OCEAN PARK, Calif., April 27—Most people talk gloomily about the national debt. But mere talk isn't enough for David Epstein, a 76-year-old bellhop. He's paying off his share in installments.

Two years ago Epstein read that each American's share of the national debt is $1,700.

"So I mailed a check for $100 to President Truman," Epstein said today. "I got a nice letter of thanks from the Treasury department, so I sent another in 1948. I wrote the third check yesterday. I intend to keep sending them until I pay off the $1,700."

Why does he do it?

"I immigrated here from Lithuania 58 years ago. I made a new life for myself. I love America and freedom and want to pay my share."

U.S. Demands Reds Terms To End Deadlock

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 27—Ambassador Philip C. Jessup asked the Russians today to tell the Western Powers exactly what are their terms for lifting the Berlin blockade.

The Russians then started work on their answer. When it will come is anybody's guess.

That sums up the formal and informal reports on a 92-minute meeting today between Jessup and two Soviet deputy foreign ministers, Andrei A. Gromyko and Jakob A. Malik.

The conversations were held under unusual secrecy on the second floor of the ornately furnished Russian delegation offices on upper Park avenue.

At the end of the talk, which extended through lunch time, Jessup left a written communication with Gromyko and Malik. Informed quarters said the communication was intended to draw from the Soviet government its precise views on what can be done about the blockade and to put the whole talks on a formal basis.

Jessup had nothing to say when he left the meeting except to tell waiting reporters, "I'm just as hungry as you are." The talks ran from 12:30 to 2:00 p.m.

Diplomatic sources described the Jessup message variously during the day as a note, a communication, and a written memorandum.

Comment Withheld

An American delegation spokesman explained that it was not a "note" in the usual diplomatic sense. He said usually at this stage in negotiations the ambassador reads a prepared statement and then leaves a copy on the table when he departs.

Jessup drove up to the Russian headquarters alone in a State department limousine. The iron-grilled door of the Russian headquarters closed and nothing more was heard until he emerged still alone and drove back to the U.S. headquarters at 2 Park ave.

A few minutes later Gromyko left for a United Nations committee meeting at Lake Success.

Malik stayed inside the Russian building where he lives. A reporter sent a note to him after the meeting asking, "May we have

Acheson Asks Pact Approval

By MORGAN REYNOLDS
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 27—Secretary of State Acheson brought basic East-West differences into sharp focus today, saying that even if the Western Powers reach an agreement with Russia on Berlin there still will be need for the North Atlantic defense pact.

The 20-year security treaty deals with a "much larger problem." Acheson said he has urged speedy Senate approval of the pact as a way "to save succeeding generations from the scourge of war."

The secretary of state told the Senate Foreign Relations committee the "only attractive" way to deal with war is to "prevent the war from happening."

Necessity Stressed

To that end Acheson asked the lawmakers to endorse this country's role in the alliance and to provide a $1,450,000,000 arms program to make the treaty "more effective" against any threat of aggression.

Acheson's comments came at the end of his day-long testimony before the Senate group.

Senator Lodge (R-Mass) asked whether the treaty "would still be necessary" in the event the blockade deadlock were broken. To this Acheson replied:

"Yes, in my judgment it will be necessary."

Acheson spoke out sharply against what he said is the "ten-

Two Would Send McGee To Electric Chair

State Witnesses Say Defendant Is Sane

By EDWARD WELSH
Avalanche Staff Writer

"YOU would like to see this jury give Richard McGee the electric chair, wouldn't you?" Col. E. A. Simpson asked state's rebuttal witness William O. Linn, Lubbock automobile man, yesterday afternoon.

"Yes sir, I would," Linn, a brother-in-law of the slain victim, answered unequivocally.

This testimony was offered during the questioning of 26 rebuttal witnesses brought to the stand by the state yesterday afternoon to testify in the trial of Richard W. McGee, charged by indictment with the murder of R. L. Allston, July 7, 1948.

The 26 were called to the stand by District Attorney Lloyd Croslin and special prosecutor George Dupree. The questioning was limited to their contacts with Richard McGee, the defendant, and their opinion as to whether or not they considered him sane or insane. Every one of the 26 said that they thought he was sane.

Upon cross examination by Col. Simpson and Burton S. Burks, defense attorneys, most of the witnesses who were relatives of the slain man admitted that they had "no sympathy for McGee" and would "like to see him punished."

Mrs. O. W. Allston, Pampa, sister-in-law of R. L. Allston, said: "If I was a man on the jury I would probably give him (McGee) the death penalty."

Questioning Opposed

C. F. Tarkington, Amarillo, another brother-in-law of the shooting victim and now employed at the Amarillo post office, said that he thought McGee was sane.

"Mr. Tarkington," Col. Simpson said, "you feel pretty strongly against this boy and would like to see him get the electric chair, wouldn't you?"

"Yes," Tarkington answered.

"You would like to throw the switch that would kill him wouldn't you?"

Croslin objected to such questioning and Judge Dan Blair sustained the objection.

"Did you contribute to a fund to employ a private prosecutor in

U.S. Steps Up Shanghai Moves

By FRED HAMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

SHANGHAI, Thursday, April 28. — Americans steped up their evacuation today as Communist advance forces slashed nearer this Asian metropolis and Hangchow.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, who made a brief, dramatic appearance in this threatened city, has left, it was announced officially, after making a dramatic appeal to all Chinese to fight "Communist tyranny."

(A Nationalist official announced that more than 100,000 government troop reinforcements have arrived at Shanghai aboard 12 warships to help defend the port against Communist forces, International News Service reported.)

May Hit Hangchow

Red forces were known to be in Soochow, 50 miles west of Shanghai, and sending spearheads toward this city of more than 5,000,000 persons. Another Red column was heading for Hangchow, 100 miles southwest of Shanghai.

Reports so far do not indicate whether the Communists are sending important forces toward Shanghai. There is still considerable opinion that they will take Hangchow first.

Once that port city is in Red hands, all land escape routes from Shanghai will be sealed.

Speaks As Citizen

Chiang's dramatic appeal came as two Communist columns moved toward Shanghai and another lanced deeper to the south to cut off the last rail lifeline to the rest of China.

It was a perilous time for Chiang, branded by the Reds as Lesinski (D-Mich), chairman of

Lubbock County Road Work Included In Highway Bids

Work on more than nine miles of highway in Lubbock county was included in low bids totaling $2,999,597 on 21 road construction projects over the state announced by the Texas Highway commission Wednesday, according to the Associated Press.

The Lubbock county project was for work on 9.492 miles of U. S. Highway 84, from Lubbock to Shallowater. Low bid of $31,249 was by Ernest Loyd of Fort Worth.

The Fort Worth man also was low bidder on 12.77 miles of work on State Highway 86, from the Parmer county line to Dimmitt. The low bid was $114,263.

Industrialist May Fill Army Post

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—The administration tapped Curtis E. Calder, former president of the Dallas Power & Light Co., for secretary of the army today but he promptly raised a doubt over his acceptance.

This was the sequence of developments:

A. Secretary of Defence Louis Johnson called on President Truman.

B. Reporters crowding the White House lobby were told after the Truman-Johnson conference that Calder would take over in 60 days the post vacated by Kenneth Royall. They also were told that Gordon Gray, now assistant secretary of the army, would be promoted to undersecretary of the army and act as secretary until Calder could qualify.

Has Not Accepted

C. Calder called the Associated Press in New York and said: "I have not accepted the secretaryship of the army today or accepted it in 60 days from now."

D. There was no comment from Defense Secretary Johnson. Calder declined to amplify or say whether he might accept the post in a greater period than 60 days.

It was reported in Washington that Johnson and Calder conferred here Monday. It had been an open secret that Johnson has urg-

Suit For $192,000 Is Filed At Lamesa

LAMESA, April 27 (Special)—A suit for $192,000 damages was filed here today with District Clerk W. W. Petteway by J. D. Kee against George W. Tucker, contractor, and West Texas Gas Co. as result of accidental death of Betty Lee Kee, 12, daughter of the plaintiff, here last Nov. 19.

The girl was fatally injured near her home at 402 South Roosevelt when a "traveling block," a device used to clean gas pipelines, emerged from a pipe and struck her.

Kee's petition charges Tucker, engaged by the gas company to clean lines here, and A. G. Barnard, local agent of the company, with negligence and failure to take proper safety measures.

The petition requests $75,000 for exemplary damages, $90,000 for actual damages, $25,000 for compensation, and $2,000 for hospital and burial expenses.

Attorneys for Kee said compensation was asked because the child lived for several hours after the accident while in severe pain.

Representing the plaintiff are Carl Rountree, Mac Wassell and Bob Huff, all Lamesa attorneys.

PROTEST PARADE HELD AT AUSTIN

Drive To End Segregation In Texas Education Is Renewed

By MAC ROY RASOR
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, April 27.—A parading band of 75 young negroes and whites carried to the legislature and the governor today an old fight to end segregation of the races in Texas education.

Earlier, 35 negro students of the group had applied for and were refused admission to the University of Texas.

The demonstrations were orderly.

Banners called for "civil rights for everybody" . . . "Lift the 75-year-old color ban" . . . "separate and equal education is mockery."

The banners were carried into the Senate gallery but were not admitted in the gallery of the House.

House Sergeant-at-arms Bob Murphey told W. Astor Kirk, professor of government at Tillotson college for negroes here, and leader of the parade when it reached the gallery door, that House rules forbid banners and demonstrations.

"We want to comply with your rules," Kirk replied. The signs were stacked in the adjoining hall.

Neither House nor Senate took official recognition of the visit.

T-H Repeal Bill Changes Okayed

WASHINGTON, April 27. (INS) The administration today agreed on four amendments to its Taft-Hartley repeal bill and considered writing in authority for government seizure of plants in major strikes.

The latter proposal was advanced in some quarters as a compromise substitute for the anti-strike injunction which the administration wants to abandon.

It would be unnecessary to include the latter weapon in the labor law if the government has power to seize plants.

Demo Leaders Confer

The Supreme court ruled two years ago, in the case against John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers, that the government has a right to go into court for an injunction to keep production going in federally-seized property.

Democratic leaders in Congress and "downtown" conferred throughout the day seeking to put the administration labor measure in the form to command the widest possible party support.

Congressional sources said Secretary of Labor Tobin agreed to the amendments along with Rep.

'Peeping-Tom' Ready For Quick Getaway

A window peeper whose tracks were found Wednesday outside a bathroom and bedrooms of four residences in 3300-block Twenty-fifth was prepared for a quick getaway in case of detection, police theorized.

Tracks plainly showed that the prowler was wearing spiked athletic shoes, detectives said.

A $65 camera and carrying case were stolen from the parked car of Curtis Davis of 1509 Seventh, he informed police.

Bond of $1,000 was posted late Wednesday by Lewis G. Painter, 34, who was returned here that afternoon from Levelland by Sheriff Grady Harrist to face a charge of felony swindling.

Painter was arrested by Sheriff Charlie Bullock of Hockley county for the sheriff's department here.

The charge, sworn to Monday by A. J. Stetz before E. G. Pharr, assistant district attorney, accused Painter of writing a worthless $210.22 check March 25 to Hub Motor company in payment for an automobile.

HST Cracks Whip On Demo Rebels

WASHINGTON, April 27. (INS)—President Truman and his leaders in Congress cracked the patronage whip today in an effort to solidify House and Senate Democratic majorities behind the lagging administration legislative program.

The President and the party chiefs decided at a White House strategy conference to make "party loyalty" the test for dispensing federal jobs ranging from judgeships on down to postmasters titles.

This was interpreted as notice to rebellious southerners who have often teamed with Republicans in Congress that they can expect no "plums" from the Truman administration.

Program Bogs Down

The President's domestic legislative program has become bogged in a slowdown which threatens to force a special session of Congress late this summer or fall.

Present at the conference with the President were Vice President Barkley, Speaker Rayburn of the House, Sen. McGrath, RI, chairman of the Democratic National committee, Sen. Myers, Pa., Senate majority whip, Director William Boyle of the Democratic National committee, and Presidential Executive Assistants Donald Dawson and Charles Murphy. Dawson is in charge of "personnel matters" at the White House. This means that he handles job vacancies on the presidential appointment level.

Loyalty To Be Test

On leaving the White House, McGrath frankly stated that the conference centered entirely around patronage. He said that hereafter for Democrats to get

Independent Indian Republic To Remain In British Commonwealth Of Nations Under New 'Formula'

By THOMAS C. WATSON
INS Staff Correspondent

LONDON, April 28 (Thursday) —The British commonwealth of nations announced today that India will remain a member after becoming an independent, sovereign republic.

The agreement is based on a formula under which India will recognize the king as a symbol of leadership of the commonwealth.

The communique stressed that "the basis of membership of other members of the commonwealth is not hereby changed."

Members Remain United

The communique which stated that the commonwealth members "declare they remain united as free and equal members of the commonwealth of nations, freely cooperating in the pursuit of peace, liberty and progress."

Prime Minister Attlee's official residence issued the communique at the end of his week-long series of talks with the prime ministers of Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, India, Pakistan and Ceylon, and minister for external affairs Lester B. Pearson of Canada.

The talks were declared to have been in "an atmosphere of good will and mutual understanding."

Pearson said in an overseas broadcast that the agreement on India "strengthened our commonwealth association and above all maintained the firm bridge through that association between East and West."

Formula Outlined

The formula devised by Attlee was hailed in the communique as signifying "the traditional capacity of the commonwealth to strengthen its unity while adapting its organization and procedures to changing circumstances."

Parliamentary circles acknowledged the Attlee formula as a personal triumph which rescued the conference from a threatened breakdown.

In effect, this is what the formula means:

1. India will continue to enjoy full imperial trade preference.
2. There will be no change in King George's present style of title.
3. No legislation is needed by any of the commonwealth members to make the agreement effective since the premiers were empowered to come to agreement.
4. Within the commonwealth Indian citizens will have the same position as other commonwealth citizens and will continue to hold all rights now accorded to them.
5. The word "dominion," which has not been used officially for some time, will now be abandoned altogether.

Oil Company Representative To Interview Tech Students

Jce W. Luckett, jr., of the Pure Oil company in Midland will be at Texas Tech Friday to interview students who are interested in jobs with his company.

Mrs. Jean Jenkins, head of Tech's Placement service, said Luckett would talk with students who had majored in geology and petroleum engineering with a geology option. There are positions to be filled in the production and exploration departments.

Students who wish to make an appointment for an interview should drop by the Placement office on the second floor of the Administration building.

Former Star Athlete Placed On Probation For Robberies

LOS ANGELES, April 27 (INS)— Dan Ducich, 23, former star athlete at Butte, Mont., Compton (Cal.) college and Utah Agricultural college, was placed on probation for five years today after pleading guilty to robberies total- $6,000.

Superior Judge William B. Neeley gave Ducich full court leniency, without requiring that the athlete make restitution.

Court records disclosed that leading citizens of Montana had appealed for clemency in the case.

Increase In Building Permits Noted Here

Residence builders apparently took advantage of unfavorable outside weather Wednesday to apply for an unusually heavy number of building permits.

In so doing, they pushed the year's building volume to $3,041,801.

April permits so far total $767,613. Permits issued so far this week total $212,613.

Residence Permits Issued

Largest group of permits was issued to Johnie Arnold, for four residences at 2805, 2809, 2820 Forty-first and 2822 Forty-second, with cost estimated at $6,850 each, or a total of $27,400.

Other residence permits were issued to Bill Sams, owner, and David Garrison, contractor, 2407 thirty-sixth, $7,800; L. J. Stokes, 2821 Forty-first, $6,250; D. E. Waters, 2602 Thirty-eighth, $6,550; K. O. Peterson, 3517 Twenty-sixth, $10,000; Aydelotte company, owner, and Aubrey R. Anderson, contractor, 3513 Twenty-fourth, $6,700; Stewart and Saylor, owner, and Aubrey R. Anderson, contractor, 2210 and 2218 Fortieth, $3,500 each; W. E. Buck, owner, and Travis Martin, contractor, 3511 Twenty-third, $7,200.

Although there is some debate on the origin of meteorites, they are probably remains of masses circulating about the sun.

TEXAS LADY LOSES 47 POUNDS

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcentrate DOES take off fat.

It contains nothing harmful. In fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger. Barcentrate, the original grapefruit juice recipe, takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

Here is proof

Here is what Mrs. H. P. Bishop, Route 2, Stamford, Texas, wrote us:

"I am very glad to endorse Barcentrate, so please accept my sincere thanks and appreciation for the great benefit I derived from its use. I not only lost weight, but also looked and felt better in every way.

"I had to have a very serious operation and was told that I must lose a lot of weight before the operation could be performed. I went on a diet and tried very hard to reduce, but wasn't losing much weight until I heard of Barcentrate. I began taking it and could soon tell the difference in the way I felt and the weight I was losing. I weighed 209 pounds when I started and I lost a total of 47 pounds and was able to undergo my operation. I can truthfully recommend it to others, since it did so much for me."

At all druggists

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.

See it! Drive it! The New '49 PONTIAC

Pontiac—Division of General Motors

Even Better than it Looks!

When you observe its fresh and fleet new beauty, it might seem unbelievable when we say that the 1949 Pontiac is even better than it looks. But after you've experienced its really exciting performance, we're sure you, too, will agree that in basic goodness, it surpasses its own good looks!

It's hard to believe a car so low-priced could combine the flashing aleekness of Pontiac's new styling . . . the gracious comfort of Pontiac's new Vision-Aire interiors . . . and the almost incredible smoothness of Pontiac's exclusive "Travelux" Ride. Add to those unique attractions, the "zing" . . . the economy and proved dependability of Pontiac's famous improved straight eight and six cylinder engines . . . and the matchless driving enjoyment of GM Hydra-Matic (optional at extra cost) and you've got something almost irresistible! There's no better time than now to see it and place your order.

Decision To Junk Super-Carrier Made By Joint Chiefs Of Staff

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, April 27—Navy Secretary John L. Sullivan resigned the other day with pretty much the same vehemence as a heavyweight champion of the same name used to knock over challengers.

Seems that Defense Secretary Louis Johnson had cancelled the 65,000 ton, $189,000,000 carrier "United States." Or so it seemed. Sullivan called this "unprecedented" and possibly "tragic." Anyway, he blamed Johnson.

Johnson Blameless

Johnson had about as much to do with cancelling work on the ship—work which had been started before the public and its proper authorities had quite accepted the whole idea—as Shirley Temple. The decision to junk the carrier a-borning was made by the joint chiefs of staff, headed by Gen. Eisenhower. It had the complete approval of the President. Johnson was called upon simply to announce the decision, but in his own name.

Sullivan said that the Navy had found the construction of the United States "so indispensable" that it had twice sacrificed other substantial construction. Then why didn't its brass show up at the keel-laying in Newport News?

Carrier Too Expensive

From everything I can learn about the junking of the carrier, the opposite side, which carried the day, reasoned that it would cost too much to build and equip with planes, that carriers became obsolete the day we produced an intercontinental bomber, that it would be a set-up for the almost undetectable schnorkel type of submarine, and that (and this was actually discussed) it was badly named because if it were sunk the newspaper headlines would have to state that the "United States goes to bottom."

Friend of mine was on a carrier not long ago that launched (by jato) a twin engined Lockheed which flew from off the coast of Virginia to Alaska and back to San Francisco. An amazing performance, if those particulars are correct in all respects. But his point was, and he is friendly to the Navy, that the same thing could have been done more efficiently from a dozen different unsinkable land bases, built and operated at a fraction of the cost.

Reds Build Subs

This friend says, and he's not too happy about it, that the first great carrier attack of World War II—Jimmy Doolittle's Tokyo raid—marked the end of that type of warfare. He is not an Air Force lobbyist but he agrees with that staunchest old naval man, Winston Churchill, that we must concentrate hereafter on control of the air, not the sea. And, he added, there just isn't enough money to give all the services what they demand.

He points out that nobody is campaigning any more for bigger and better battleships, and he puts carriers in the same general class. He adds that the Russians, with their German scientists, have long since dismissed capital ships as decisive weapons, and are concentrating on their modern submarine fleet, guided missiles, and the perfection of the long range B-29 like bombers they fashioned after the two superforts of ours they grabbed while we were pals.

Politburo Seeks Headlines

If something constructive comes of the Russian offer to lift the Berlin blockade and to talk peace in a Big Four meeting, our man Joseph Kingsbury Smith ought to be nominated for the Nobel prize.

But as a friend of Joe, I don't think he'll get it. And not because of fraternity politics, either. The politburo is playing footsie for headlines. It may indeed call off the Berlin blockade, and take bows for saving U. S. and British taxpayers all that money we've been spending on the air lift.

But on the day this happens, and the boys sit down to talk peace, you may expect to see accounts of how many more thousands of square miles and millions of allies their Chinese Communist armies absorb—in stories which they feel certain will be printed and ignored in the obscurer inner reaches of your favorite newspaper.

Recreation Official Loses Job Because Of Wife's Poetry

READING, Pa., April 27 (U.P.)—The director of the city recreation department was fired today because city council didn't like his wife's poetry.

The councilmen, angered over some verses in which Mrs. Wade Hawkins commented on affairs at city hall, held a special session and dismissed Hawkins, effective immediately.

More than 200 townsfolk, most of them members of the Reading Playground association, stormed into the regular council session a short time later to protest the action. They threatened legal action.

Poem Angers Council

The poem which brought down the council's wrath was entitled "Hawkins Family Diary," by "Mom."

The two verses which incensed the council read:

"Pop's driving around in a Ford that is new. Pried loose from city fathers whose favors are few,

Having worn out our own car for the good of the cause We're now on our feet again for a pause."

"The major issues and friction at city hall Have been setteled and soothed to the relief of all.

Whether the protests of the public taught council a lesson Or if the dogs are just sleeping is mostly just guessin.'"

The poem was written by Mrs. Hawkins for distribution as an Easter greeting to their friends. Hawkins had it mimeographed in his city hall office, councilmen said, and some of the poems got into the hands of officials.

Hawkins is a native of Fort Worth.

Delaware Man To Head Airport Executives Association

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 27 (U.P.)—Don Martin, airport manager from Wilmington, Del., has been elected president of the American Association of Airport executives, which closed its convention here last night.

Martin succeeds D. C. Langstaff, New Orleans. Other new officers are Pat Moore, Fort Worth, chairman of the board of International Air Terminal guild, first vice-president; Cecil Meadows, Sacramento, Calif., second vice-president; Walter Bettsworth, Waterloo, Ia., third vice-president; Nel Nuss, Reading, Pa., secretary-treasurer.

New members of the board are Homer Hoskins, Pontiac, Mich.; Jack Bolton, Columbus, O.; Frank Hidenger, Cedar Rapids, Ia.; Peter Powell, Lexington, Ky.; Wayne Parks, Beaumont; Francis Fox, Worcester, Mass.; David Leigh, St. Louis, Mo.; Fred Alley, Charleston, W. Va.; and Emory Boelson, Evansville, Ind.

Woman Held In California Slaying Seeks Reduced Charge

RIVERSIDE, Calif., April 27. (INS)—Mrs. Agnes Garnier, who faces preliminary hearing next Tuesday for the gunshot death of Millionaire John E. Owen, indicated today that she may seek reduction of the charge from murder to manslaughter.

The woman's attorney, Sam Houston Allen, said that the reduced charge would obtain Mrs. Garnier's release from the Riverside jail on bail pending trial of the case.

In the meantime, close relatives of the slain rancher were to meet tomorrow for the reading of his will.

Authorities said that investigation of the slaying centered around three possible motives—that Mrs. Garnier shot Owen in a fit of jealousy over a set of drinking glasses given to Owen by stage and screen actress Irene Rich, that Mrs. Garnier feared loss of her job as Owen's business manager, and that the two had quarreled over financial matters.

The Woman's Angle
By Ellen Miller

HOW many times have we all taken pies from the oven topped with light, fluffy meringues baked to an even golden brown, and have the meringue shrink and sag pitifully before time for it to be served?

Here's a tip: Place meringue around the edge of the pie, a little at a time. Press it to the crust all the way around. Then pile remaining meringue in the center and spread lightly to cover pie completely. This sealing at the edges is to prevent shrinkage. A pinch of cream of tartar added to the egg whites just as beating starts will help make them lastingly fluffy. Meringue pies should be cooled away from drafts for about two hours before serving. The toping will cut easier if a wet knife is used.

SMOKE IN YOUR NOSE

There is no use of anyone's trying to sell our family a product to get rid of cooking odors . . . not since last week when we discovered liquid smoke is back on the grocery shelves for the first time since before the war.

Primarily, the smoke is designed to be applied to roast to give it a smoke-barbecued flavor. But we brush it on broiled steaks, add a dash to tuna salad and salmon croquettes . . . and think it belongs wherever meat is served.

And almost as good as the flavor is the odor in the kitchen. It's wonderful.

EXPLANATION

In case anybody wonders why we keep talking about food: We overslept and came to work breakfastless. We can't think of anything but food.

BUTTER SUBSTITUTE

A different flavor in creamed potatoes is achieved when small bits of pasteurized cheese instead of butter are added to the hot potatoes before they are whipped. The resulting dish is fluffy and delicious. However, it must be served immediately or the cheese will begin to cool and solidify into a leathery sort of mess.

REFRESHMENT PLATES

CANAPES, hors d'oeuvres and small sandwich spreads are a necessity for many hostesses, and, to conclude the food section of this column we will pass along a few reasonably new thoughts:

Spread chive cream cheese between slices of dill pickles or sweet cucumber pickles and put together sandwich fashion.

Fold flat anchovies on one end of a half slice of fresh cucumber pickle and fasten with a toothpick. Serve with canapes.

To four diced hard cooked eggs add two slices of crumbled crisp bacon, three tablespoons of sweet pickle relish and three tablespoons mayonnaise. Serve on crisp crackers, whole wheat wafers or triangular pieces of toast.

Mix roquefort cheese with chopped dill pickle. Place mixture on a slice of chipped beef and roll up. Chill. Slice in half in lengths.

Pettyjohn, who has charge of plans for the breakfast to be conducted Friday morning in the homemaking department; Mrs. Dora Nell Carroll, director of the cafeteria, who will have charge of today's luncheon, for which approximately 250 tickets had been sold Wednesday; Bertie Brown, ninth grade student who was among students working on the favors, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brown of 2215 Twentieth; Miss Mary Lu Roberson, in charge of favors for the luuchеon, and Mrs. W. Paul Willis, chief hostess for the luncheon, wife of the O. L. Slaton Junior High Parent-Teacher association president. (Staff Photo.)

Workshop To Be In June

Seeking to find better understanding between parent and teacher groups, a Parent-Teacher workshop will be held at Texas Technological college June 21 and 22, sponsored by Area 8, Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers. Area 8 includes Districts 14 and 16.

The program will include discussion groups and lectures, on objectives and procedure of the Parent-Teacher association, and on general information concerning parent relationships.

Aggie Memorial auditorium is being reserved for the two-day session, and rooms in college dormitories will be available for those attending.

Mrs. H. F. Goodeke is vice president of Area Eight. District presidents are Mrs. E. S. Smith, Lorenzo, District14, and Mrs. Holland Holt, Abilene, District 16. Mrs. H. G. Stinnett, Plainview, is vice president and aide to the president, and will help plan and carry out the work shop program.

Family Program To Be Conducted At Club Tonight

The weekly "family night" program at Lubbock Country club will be held tonight, instead of Friday night, this week, Manager Bill Overton announced yesterday afternoon.

The "family night" change from Friday to Thursday is for this week only, Mr. Overton said. Hereafter, the programs will be held on Friday nights.

Tonight's program will begin with buffet dinner service at 6:30 o'clock, with entertainment features to follow.

OES Holds Services

A memorial service for late members of Order of the Eastern Star, under grand jurisdiction of Texas, was conducted Thursday night at IOOF hall by members of Freedom chapter, No. 898, OES. The candle-light service was directed by Mrs. Fred Holleman, assisted by Miss Bessie Bullock who read during the ceremony. Chapter officers participated in the service and presented a drill.

Miss Sue Tyson sang "Face To Face," "The Lord Is My Shepherd" and "The Lord's Prayer." She was accompanied by Miss Larue Tibbets.

Pink rosebuds, bridal wreath and fern decorated the altar memorial cloth and the hall. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Holleman, Miss Bullock and Mrs. A. D. Leonard, hostesses, to 60 members and guests who were from Earth, Plainview and Oklahoma City chapters.

Reports on recent visits to the Anton, Tahoka and Lubbock Truth chapters, to the homecoming at the OES home in Arlington, and to a school of instruction in Dallas were made.

Dessert-Bridge Is Held In Yaggy Home

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Yaggy, 1106 Twenty-third, were hosts at a dessert-bridge given in their home Tuesday night.

Guests were Mrs. Lennox Davies, and Messrs. and Mesdames Charles T. Forrester, Don D. King, James White, Clyde Lindsey, and Lt. and Mrs. Thurston Mallard. Mrs. Lindsey made high score.

Directors Are Named

New directors of Lubbock Women's club, elected at an advisory committee meeting Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. George Berry, are Mesdames Howard Hampton J. C. Rigney and Berry. They will be installed in an annual open May meeting, and will serve three-year terms.

Mrs. Berry made a final report on the ticket sales of a recent house beautiful tour sponsored by the club.

Twenty members attended and plans were made to hold the next committee meeting in June, at which the time new officers are to be elected.

1949 Forty-Two Club Meets At Wolfforth

WOLFFORTH, April 27 (Special)—Mrs. M. E. Casey was hostess to members of Wolfforth 1949 Forty-Two club Tuesday afternoon. Spring flowers were used in decorations.

Attending were Mesdames S. A. Durham, A. C. McWhorter, E. R. Haskins, L. M. Hargrave, J. J. Harral, G. H. Hutcheson, Nolan Trautham, Leo Davis, G. P. Wright, members; and Mrs. R. P. Mayhugh and Mrs. Ross Adamson, guests.

Next meeting will be with Mrs. Davis May 17.

Club Holds Meeting With Mrs. Watson

Members of 1936 Forty-two club met in the home of Mrs. W. E. Watson, 2109 Main, Wednesday afternoon.

Playing were Mesdames S. B. Hay, Elbertine Hush, Pearl Sampson, L. C. Montgomery, B. A. Maddox, R. D. Cole, George Foster, T. E. May, Margaret Rampy, C. M. Kennon and R. J. Williams.

The next meeting will be held at 2:30 p. m. May 11 in the home of Mrs. Foster, 1923 Broadway.

Readers Club Meets To Hear Reviews

Mrs. Gladys Sims and Miss Neville Wrenn were hostesses to Tuesday Night Readers this week in the Sims home, 1921 Sixteenth.

Books reviewed were "Houndog Man" (Fred Gipson) by Mrs. K. M. Renner and "City, The Beloved Country" (Alan Patton) by Mrs. Isabell Garrison.

Today's Town Talk

MR. AND MRS. RETHA MARTIN, 2701 Nineteenth, will leave today by automobile for Lynchburg, Va., to visit their daughter, Callie, who is a freshman student at Randolph-Macon Woman's college.

Mrs. Martin will return to Lubbock from Lynchburg, and Mr. Martin will go on to Boston and come home from there the first of next week.

Mrs. Archie Scott, 2521 Twenty-second, entertained Wednesday in the Lubbock Country club with a luncheon honoring Mrs. Frank Pettit, who is a guest, in the W. F. Eisenberg home, 2214 Sixteenth.

Spring flowers in a copper container centered the table.

Guests were Mrs. Frederick WHson of California, Mrs. Scott's mother, and Mesdames Eisenberg, Maria Libby, Alfred Strehli and George Pierce.

Mrs. S. H. Norton, 2623 Twenty-fifth, was hostess at a recent luncheon given at Hector's.

Her guests included Mesdames Marion Sanford, Tom Duggan, J. H. Stiles, R. C. Tucker, W. L. Ducker, Ed Hambright, Newton Walton and George P. Livermore.

Mrs. C. Paul Mills and her mother, Mrs. Ivy Savage, have unusual additions to their spring wardrobes.

Four-and-a-half years ago, when Mrs. Mills was stationed in Australia with the WACs, as a joke she sent home an aqua-toned calf skin from Brisbane with no particular use for it in mind.

Mrs. Savage later sent the skin to I. Miller company and had a pair of shoes made from it for both her and her daughter. From the remaining "material" Mrs. Mills designed and manufactured a matching pouche bag.

So this spring the two Lubbockites are "tripping the light fantastic" in very American-looking footwear which originated in Australia.

Mrs. J. D. Peters, president of Sorosis club, is vacationing in Phoenix, Ariz., and will return to Lubbock about the middle of next week.

She joined her sister, Mrs. J. H. Carlock of Ardmore, Okla., and the two made the trip together to Arizona, where they are visiting another sister, Mrs. A. F. Jones.

History Inspired Festivals

Lubbock Woman's Editor Describes Trip To Italy

(EDITOR'S NOTE: A series of articles is being written by Margaret Turner, Woman's Editor of The Avalanche and Journal publications, from Europe where she is spending a two month's vacation. One of the stories appears below.)

SALZBURG, Austria — Here is a city whose landscape, architecture and history inspired founding of the now world-famed festivals that exploit the richness and variety of higher German theater, opera and drama.

The Oesterreichischer Hof, where we stayed after coming back from Munich, was requisitioned by the American Army and the voices of American children are heard on its sun porch and couples from our country who have not yet found housing facilities live here. In its day it was a favorite hotel for many Americans who attended the festivals, including the late Mrs. Sarah Delano Roosevelt.

Our room was as large as two ordinary hotel rooms and was furnished with a comfortable bed, an immense chest, two bedside tables, a gigantic wardrobe, a dressing table and a number of chairs. The large casement windows overlooked the river. After seeing a sign, "Water not potable," we rang for a pitcher of chlorinated water, which was not bad when diluted with ice, which we hope was potable.

ON OUR drive to Innsbruck, en route to Italy, we passed through a rich farming country. As seen from the highway, the plots of ground appear not much larger than the plots our boys play sandlot baseball on and certainly they could not be compared with what we think of as a farm. The day was beautiful and everyone was working—men, women and children—spreading fertilizer on the land that will mean sustenance in the summer, fall and winter.

Because Innsbruck is a great railway center, it received a terrific shelling during the war. The railroad station has been rebuilt and buildings damaged when the bombardiers were aiming for the railroad and missed are being repaired.

We spent the night at Iglshof or Golf hotel, near Innsbruck, a place recommended by the French liason officer in Linz. On the walls of the spacious lobby are hung water colors by two noted Austrian artists, Edor Handel Mazzetti and Mahler Werfel. Master grand pianos are placed in three corners and one entire side is given over to windows which looked out on high Alps, their jagged peaks snow-wreathed. We arrived in late afternoon. Sitting on the second floor porch, we watched farmers leaving their fields; watched children at play; looked far down in the valley to a wayside shrine and saw two women kneel in prayer. That evening we walked down to the small town of Igls; bought some post cards and went in a church yard, reading the inscriptions on the headstones. One marked the grave of an Austrian pilot and his porcelain portrait was near the top, bearing under it the name Grenadier Edward Goff, 1944.

IN GOING to Italy we passed through the Brenner Pass which made the headlines day after day during World War II. Crocus and violets dotted the hillsides. We met men behind oxen-pulled carts; saw women picking up stones in the fields. At the check point near Brenner, the Austrians raised the pole across the highway as soon as Lt. Smiley showed his travel orders and we showed our passports, but the Italians were more deliberate and an hour passed before we were once more on our way. For one thing, there were a number of others wanting to get through and then we've discovered no one in Europe is in as big a hurry as the first American you might meet.

Sunlight and shade played on the distant Alps, the warm Italian sun shone on the gray-green olive trees; plum, apple and cherry trees were blooming in profusion everywhere in the lower regions and wistaria trailed its feathery lavender plumes, creating majestic beauty against the ancient ruins and vari-hued houses.

WE HAVE been told that Easter in 1949 meant more to the people of Austria than Easter in many years. Thanks to the ERP they are better off. The city of Linz was practically at a standstill durirg the holidays which began with Good Friday and continued through Easter Monday.

Easter means much to these people, both in a religious and a secular way. They buy and make gifts and children believe in the Easter bunny as much as our children do Santa Claus, perhaps more so.

Report Read At Meeting

A report from Mrs. Sam Jones, who is representing the Col. John Elder chapter, Colonial Dames of the Seventeenth Century, at the national convention in Washington, D. C., was read at a chapter meeting Wednesday in the home of Mrs. W. A. Miller, 2603 Thirtieth. Mrs. J. A. Laney was hostess.

Mrs. Jones wrote that she was among guests attending a tea, given by Mrs. Harry S. Truman in Blair house. Miss Dorothy Rylander was Mrs. Jones' guest for the afternoon. The letter was read at the meeting by Mrs. F. A. Kleinschmidt, chapter president.

Mrs. Leroy T. Patton presented a program on the history of weaving, discussing various phases of the art from ancient times to the present. The business and program were followed by a social hour. Nine members attended.

Fourteen Brownies Journey To Bakery

Fourteen members of Brownie Troop 80 of George R. Bean school went on a field trip to Baldridge bakery Tuesday afternoon.

Attending were Kay Meyers, Beverly Biggs, Kay Connally, Martha Scott, Carron Evans, Brenda Guy, Shelley White, Patsy Tucker, Roberta Kershner, Sybil Brown, Julia Cline, Ovela Brown, Lois Kershner and Donna and Sylvia Mathus.

Mothers accompanying the girls were Mesdames Conrad Guy, Clyde Mathus and R. F. Evans.

Famed Andean Quinoa Plant May Be Used In UN Fight To Improve Diets Of Native Tribes

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Not being an old chenopodium quinoa drinker myself, I wouldn't know.

And not knowing, I went to visit my old friends at the library of the National Geographic society, where they know everything — almost.

It seems that the United Nations has been puzzling over the chenopodium quinoa. The UN has, in fact, put its Food and Agricultural organization on the trail of the problem. After considerable research, I can set 'em right.

Native Of Andes

The quinoa, also known as "goosefoot" and "Incan arrow" is an all-purpose vegetable. It's a perennial. You can eat it, drink it, or swallow it as a pill for medicine.

I didn't know it before, but the Indians in the Lake Titicaca region of Peru, Bolivia, and Chile have cultivated it for uncounted centuries.

Quinoa is pronounced "key-no-ah," with the accent on the "key." It thrives at 12,000-foot altitudes. It is a native of the lofty Andes and if we tried to grow it here, we'd have to try to plant the seeds on our highest summit, which is California's Mt. Whitney.

Quinoa, on the average, grows about three to four feet high, but has been hopped up to sprout up to six feet in parts of the Andes. The family name is chenopodium. That means "goosefoot," because the leaves are irregular and triangular shaped.

Tastes Like Oatmeal

But what the UN is interested in is the seeds. They usually are snowy white when shucked and taste bitter.

The seeds are the base of many staple foods in the Andean highlands and serve the same purpose as grits or rice and come in handy for gruel or porridge. They also are ground into flour for cake or bread-baking. You might even compare it to buckwheat flour, as we know it—with a lentil-like flavor added.

I haven't tasted it, but I'll take the word of the geographic people. They claim that the gruel made from quinoa seed resembles and tastes like oatmeal. If you like oatmeal.

The natives apparently like it in any form. They brew a tea steeped from the seed and sip it for relief from tuberculosis. The green leaves make good salad.

UN May Promote Study

The plant has been grown in the United States, but only as a curiosity. The UN has gotten over being curious. Its aim in promoting the growth of the quinoa is practical. It wants to expand the crop where it grows best—in the Andes. There it may improve the diet of the native tribes. Once that end is achieved, it could become an important export commodity to other areas around the world which are short of food.

The seed of the quinoa contains a lot of proteins, carbohydrates, and fats that correspond to what we call wheat.

And, oh, yes. To get back to the drinking business.

The Indians in the Andes take the seed and ferment it with millet to make a kind of beer.

Boy! We'll have a couple more quinoas and then we'll go.

Two Winners Of Howard Hughes Fellowships Are Announced

PASADENA, Cal., April 27 (INS)—The California Institute of Technology announced today that the first Howard Hughes fellowships in creative aeronautics will be awarded to Leo Stoolman, 30, formerly of Chicago, and Harold M. Hipsh, 27, formerly of Kansas City.

The two were selected from several hundred applicants. Each will receive a salary for advanced development work at Hughes' Culver City aircraft plant, a year's paid tuition at Cal-Tech graduate school and a cash gift for personal expenses during the year.

Purpose of the fellowships is to encourage the development of top-grade aviation research engineers.

The club will hold a breakfast at 8:30 a.m. May 10 in Mackenzie State park.

Seven members of Friendly Needle club sewed and embroidered for Mrs. Dick Lesh when they met in her home, 3114 North Fourth, Wednesday. Bluebird presents were exchanged.

Attending were Mesdames H. A. Beaty, Leroy Kennemer, A. L. Mansker, O. P. McCall, Robert Davis, Jimmie Veal and C. E. Combs. Next meeting will be at 2 p.m. May 11 in the home of Mrs. McCall, 2425 North Third.

Airmen, Wives Begin Week's Vacation

Endurance Fliers Reap Praise, Rewards For Record Flight

HOLLYWOOD, April 27. (U.P.)—Bill Barris and Dick Riedel began a week's vacation with their wives at a swank Hollywood hotel today in a shower of praise and rewards for their new world endurance flight record.

Ten thousand persons crowded the tiny airport at nearby Fullerton, Calif., yesterday as they landed their tiny little Aeronca monoplane after 1,008 hours and two minutes of non-stop flight. Later 15,000 watched the fliers, their families and ground crew parade through the town.

Whisked To Hollywood

Then they were whisked to Hollywood for dinner and a television and radio show last night. Similar engagements will follow during the week.

Messages of congratulations poured in. A Hollywood syndicate was reported bidding for screen rights to the flight. Rep. Dewey Short (R-Mo.) said he would ask President Truman to congratulate the men. The Aeronca company promised them a brand new plane.

"It's wonderful," said Riedel. "We never dreamed of this."

For their first dinner after six weeks in the air, Barris and Riedel ordered filet mignon, mashed potatoes, green salad, apple pie and coffee. Then they settled back, lighted cigarets and had a couple of drinks—two stimulants they didn't allow themselves during the flight.

Soon To Get Treatments

"All we want to do is take it easy," they said. "Our plans don't go any farther than that right now."

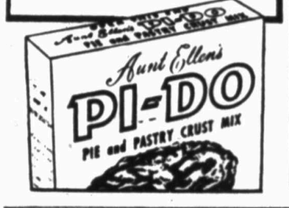

They got showers, haircuts and massages after landing. Both men had crew cuts when they started the flight but landed wearing shaggy manes.

Riedel, 34, said he and his wife would take their 10-year-old son Dick, jr., to Hot Springs, Ark., next week. Publicity from the flight brought the boy, an arthritis victim, an offer of free treatment there. Barris, 35, also hopes to get enough money to get his year-old son Steven an eye operation.

An oil company has already given the pilots $5,000 and they hope to get more from endorsements. A popular subscription drive and a $1,500 gift from the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce wiped out a $4,500 debt they incurred on three previous unsuccessful record attempts.

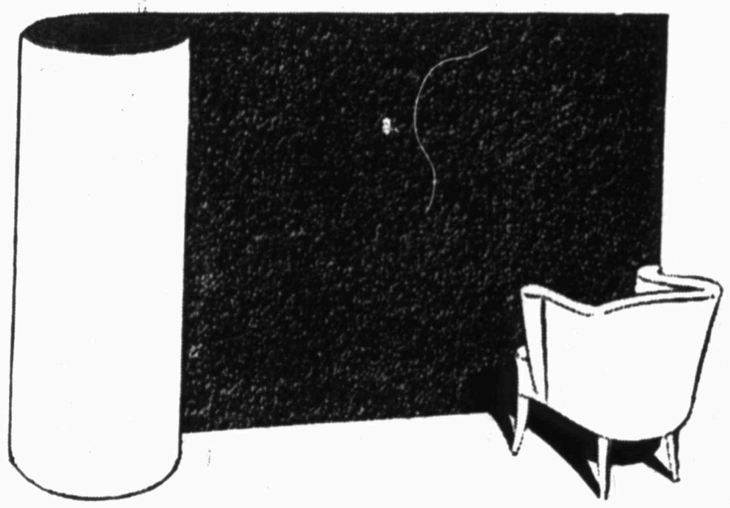

Barris and Riedel logged more than 75,000 miles since they took off from Fullerton March 15, making a round trip to Miami, Fla., "to break the monotony." On April 14 they passed the decade-old mark of 726 hours set by Wes Carroll and Clyde Schliepper of Long Beach, Cal., and while they were at it they stayed in the air 11 days and 18 hours more.

Support Program To Give USDA Major Share Of Nation's Wheat

WASHINGTON, April 27. (U.P.)—Through its price support program the government expects this weekend to come into possession of a major share of the wheat in the United States.

In fact, agriculture officials said today, there is a chance that privately-owned wheat may become so scarce before the new crop comes in that the government may have to sell some of its big wheat stocks back on the market.

There probably is slightly less than 500,000,000 bushels of wheat in the country now.

Additional Wheat Pledged

Here's how the government's holdings could swell to about 300,000,000 bushels this weekend:

1. The government now owns about 45,000,000 bushels purchased for export under its foreign supply program.

2. It has another 250,000,000 pledged to it as collateral for price support loans made to farmers. If the loans aren't repaid by Saturday, the government will take title to this wheat, officials said. In view of the current market price for wheat, officials do not expect many of the loans to be repaid.

Purchase Agreements Signed

3. In addition, the government signed an agreement last fall to buy from farmers at the support price 113,000,000 bushels of wheat during the first two weeks of May. Officials expect the government actually may get delivery on only about half of this "purchase agreement" wheat. Farmers who made the agreement are believed to have sold a large portion of their holdings already.

Most of the so-called loan wheat is being held in the big grain terminals. By Monday, officials said, the government will be ready to order the rest of this wheat moved in from country elevators and farms. Some of this wheat will be shipped straight to ports for export under the supply program.

Sentence Of Former Slaton Constable Upheld In Austin

The court of criminal appeals affirmed a five-year sentence for Walter Eckels, 27-year-old former Slaton constable who was convicted of murder in a trial here last winter, the Associated Press reported Wednesday from Austin.

Eckles was convicted of the May 22, 1948, slaying of Clyde Tune, an itinerant, in the railway yards at Slaton, by a jury verdict returned Dec. 1.

Two previous trials of the case had ended in mistrials. A hung jury ended the first trial, a sick juror the second.

E. A. Blair and Grady West, Eckels' counsel, will file a formal motion for rehearing, it was expected.

Former Lubbock Boy Wins California FFA Championship

Lawrence Williams, of San Juan Bautista, Calif., formerly of Lubbock, won the state championship of California in the Future Farmers of America Oratory contest and will compete with representatives from 10 states May 2 in Reno, Nev, in the western states contest.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Williams, formerly of 2401 Twenty-first, he was a Junior High school student when the family moved from Lubbock about five years ago. He now is a senior student in high school. Lawrence represented southern California in the contest in competition with Bob Storm of Grindley, northern FFA orator champion.

His subject was "Let's Save Our Land."

Rotary Club Hears High School Debaters

Three students of Lubbock Senior High school, who participated in literary events in the recent regional meet of the Texas Interscholastic league, appeared on the program of the Lubbock Rotary club in the Hilton hotel Wednesday. They were Norma Smith, extemporaneous speaker; and J. C. Chambers and Mary Duggan, debaters.

Floyd Honey was program chairman and the speakers were introduced by J. W. Reid, Lubbock High debate coach whose teams have gone to the state meet 12 times in the past 18 years.

Miss Smith declared the recent North Atlantic pact is the first time the Soviet has known fear and it shows the efforts of men who seek peace without arms.

Her subject was "Will the North Atlantic Pact Bring About an Effective Alliance?"

The debaters argued the question of levying of a severance tax on natural resources of Texas.

Edward L. Colby and R. C. Johnson, jr., were introduced as new Rotarians.

Out-of-town visitors at the luncheon included: Col. Frank Pettit, Detroit; Barney Springfield, Ackerly; Edward Garland, Lamesa; Morris Hall and N. S. Griggs, Amarillo; Mark Allen, Seagraves; Ray Lupfer, Floydada; Fred McDonald, Ralls; Dr. J. W. Marshall, Plainview; Bill Blakney, and Truett Walton, Abilene; Bynum Britton, Spur; Ed Hearn, Little Rock, Ark.; and Rev. R. T. Eissfeldt, Sycamore, Ill.

Rites To Be Held Here Today For Mrs. Kenneth Frazier

Funeral rites for Mrs. Kenneth Frazier, 35, of 503 Hub Homes, have been set for 4 p.m. today in St. John's Methodist church.

Rev. Wayne Reynolds, pastor of Grapevine Methodist church, will officiate.

Burial is to be in Tech Memorial park, under direction of Sanders Funeral home.

Mrs. Frazier died at 4:45 p. m. Tuesday in St. Mary's hospital while undergoing surgery.

Mrs. Frazier had been a resident of Lubbock for 16 years. She had been hospitalized since April 5 when an infant son was born by caesarean section. Condition of the child is satisfactory.

She is survived by her husband, Kenneth Frazier; two sons, John and Kenneth, jr.; one daughter, Ava Marken; her mother, Mrs. Mary V. Cooper of Lamesa and one brother, Martin Cooper of Hobbs, N.M.

Man's Proposed Cure For Divorce Works In Reverse

NEWARK, N. J. April 27 (INS) — A Newark man who advocated wife-beating as a cure for divorce, found his panacea working in reverse today.

Mrs. Ruth G. Shanerman sought and won a divorce from her husband, Jacob, on grounds of extreme cruelty.

Introduced as evidence was a letter written by Shanerman and published in a newspaper, in which he suggested a "national one-day-a-week wife-beating." The letter continued:

This would make 'em happy and contented like in the old days when divorce was practically unknown."

The letter also suggested that "all mothers-in-law should be gassed and eliminated."

Dallas Grocery Store Official Locked In Vault After Robbery

DALLAS, April 27.—An assistant manager of a drive-in grocery was robbed of $325 and locked in a cold storage vault by two bandits early today.

The bandits left Clarence W. Crowston, 21, sitting in a pool of ice water, his arms and legs bound. He was wearing a light, cotton uniform.

Hugh Jones, 26, another assistant manager of the store, found Crowston about two and a half hours later.

In the meantime, Crowston had managed with one foot to drag a beer carton to himself and lift himself onto it to get out of the water.

"He was so cold he couldn't stand up," said Jones. The vault is kept at 32 degrees.

Crowston said the bandits herded him into the vault at gun point.

Odessa Youth Denied Rehearing In Slaying Of Twin Brother

AUSTIN, April 27 (U.P.)—Dennis Randel, Odessa youth convicted of slaying his twin brother, Dallas, was denied motion for rehearing of his life sentence today by the state court of criminal appeals.

The slaying, on Feb. 12, 1948, resulted from an argument over playing of a juke box.

Randel asked a rehearing on his conviction on grounds that the higher court failed to take into concideration that judges were changed during his original trial.

This action, his counsel held, deprived Randel of his constitutional right of trial by jury.

However, the appeals court said that "it has been long the holding of this court that judges may agree to exchange benches or one judge sit for another."

Such an action, the court said, did not involve a defendant's right of trial by jury.

Nearly 10,000 illegitimate native children have been born in Durban, South Africa, since 1943, compared with 10,950 legitimate births, a City Councilman stated.

Texan Attends GOP National Committee Meet In Washington

WASHINGTON, April 27. (Special)—Col. R. B. Creager, member of the Republican National Executive committee, is here attending the closed sessions of the committee this week, at which plans are being made to try to elect a majority of the House and Senate at the next election.

H. J. Porter, Houston, defeated Republican candidate for U.S. senator in Texas, accompanied Colonel Creager to the meetings at his request.

Creager is still strong for senator Bob Taft and cannot help but say "I told you so" to the Deweyites.

"The issues would have been Truman against Taft in the last election and Taft would certainly have waged a stiff campaign," he said. "What's more, Taft would have gotten out the Republican vote."

Aged Texas Veteran Dies In Oklahoma Confederate Home

WICHITA FALLS, April 27 (AP) — John D. Shepherd, 103 year-old Texan, died in the Oklahoma Confederate home at Ardmore last night, it was reported here today.

Shepherd, a former Wichita Falls resident, was the next-to-last known Confederate veteran in Oklahoma.

He was born in what is now Blanco county, Tex. As a young man he helped drive cattle from Texas to Chicago. He was a private in the Confederate army.

His daughter, Mrs. Loeretha Witherspoon, lives here. Shepherd lived with her from 1920 until 1942, when he entered the Confederate home.

He will be buried here at an undetermined date.

State Exchange Club Leader Speaks Here

T. H. Rutherford, state Exchange club president, was featured speaker at Wednesday's Exchange club luncheon in Hotel Lubbock.

Rutherford, also president of Rutherford Business college of Dallas, briefly outlined the work currently in progress in other Exchange clubs in West Texas. He cited the Abilene club as being particularly active in recent months.

The state president also discussed plans for this year's state convention, set for June 10-11 in Dallas.

At the close of his talk, he delivered to Roger Kuykendall, local member, a diamond-studded Exchange club pin denoting Kuykendall's service as state president in 1948. The award was announced at last year's state convention, but no pin was presented at that time.

Rutherford was introduced by Dr. James Reynolds.

An inter-squad softball game for club members will be at 6 p. m. Thursday on the Roscoe Wilson school softball diamond, Bill Bartley announced. He urged all interested members to attend and take part.

One out-of-town guest, Rev. James A. Reynolds of Conway, Ark., was introduced. President Charles Cathey presided.

Edwin H. Boedeker Named To Head WTSTC Ex-Student Group

Edwin H. Boedeker was elected Tuesday night president of the Lubbock chapter of the West Texas State Teachers College Ex-Students association at the organization's annual dinner in Hotel Lubbock.

Other officers elected were Arvol D. Hays, vice-president, and R. D. Ford, secretary-treasurer.

Sixty-seven ex-students attended the dinner, which featured a breif informal talk by Dr. James Cornette, president of WTSTC. Also present were 14 other WTSTC faculty members, and D. A. Shirley, dean emeritus of the college.

Dr. Mitchell Jones, chairman of the college athletic council, spoke briefly on WTSTC athletic prospects for approaching seasons.

Dr. Emmett Hazlewood, outgoing president, presided.

FBI Agent Says Secret Material Found In Purse Of Spy Suspect

By EARLE MARCKRES
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 27—A G-man said today that Judith Coplon's purse contained sketchy data from a top secret FBI report on Soviet and Communist spy activities in the United States.

An affidavit, signed by FBI Agent Robert R. Granville, reported he found a written note in Miss Coplon's purse in which she admitted an unsuccessful attempt to get the full 115-page report.

The memorandum, Granville said, explained that she had "breezed through" the report and came up with this resume:

Contents Of Note Disclosed

"It (the report) summarized Soviet intelligence activities, including Martens, Poyntz, Altschuler, Silvermaster, et al. It had a heading on the Soviet UN delegates, but that was all I remember.

"The rest of the report I think was on Polish, Yugoslav, etc. activities and possibly some information on CPUSA."

The affidavit was offered today during the trial of the trim, little 27-year-old former Justice department political analyst, who is charged with stealing secert government security data for transmission to an unnamed foreign country.

The memorandum was unsigned. It mentioned that the writer had described the report to "Michael," who was not otherwise identified.

References Not Identified

"Silvermaster" was not identified either. However, the House Un-American Activities committee has described Nathan Gregory Silvermaster as part of a Communist apparatus in the U. S. The "CPUSA" was not identified. It could stand for Communist party of the United States.

Granville described the contents of Miss Coplon's pocketbook when she was arrested with Valentine Gubitchev, suspended Soviet engineer at the United Nations, on March 4 in New York.

He said it contained more than 30 data sheets of extracts from FBI reports on internal security, background on three potential espionage service recruits, and a brief statement on her post-graduate work.

Public Disclosure Assailed

Granville said Miss Coplon sought to get the FBI report from her superior, William A. Foley, chief of the Internal Security division. The memorandum said:

"Have not been able (and don't think I will) to get the top secret FBI report which I described to Michael on Soviet and Communist intelligence activities in the United States.

"When the moment was favorable, I asked Foley where the report was (he'd previously remarked that he'd had such a report). He said that some departmental official had it and he didn't expect to get it back.

"Foley remarked there was nothing 'new' in it. Then I saw the report for a minute. I breezed through it rapidly. . . ."

Earlier Assistant U. S. Attorney General John M. Kelley strenuously objected to the public disclosure of the data sheets on grounds that it would endanger "national safety."

Tyler Officials Resign After Dispute With City Commission

TYLER, April 27. (U.P.)—City Manager Bill Taylor and City Commissioner G. H. Lasater both resigned today at a hectic meeting of the city commission.

Taylor was appointed several months ago by the old commission, three of whose members recently were defeated for re-election. His resignation had been expected.

Lasater accused three new commissioners of meeting secretly in violation of the city charter. He gave that as a reason for his resignation.

The commission was negotiating with George Fairtrace, former Wichita Falls city manager, to succeed Taylor. Fairtrace was city manager here seven years prior to 1944.

MacArthur Named Honorary Member Of Tokyo Rotary Club

TOKYO, April 27 (INS) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur today became an honorary member of the newly revived Tokyo Rotary club.

Rotary International's secretary, George Means of Chicago, is in Tokyo to recharter the club, disbanded during the war.

In accepting honorary membership Gen. MacArthur praised the international friendship and fellowship that Rotary is developing.

He pointed out that Rotary is the first international society save for religious organizations to be admitted into Japan since the end of the war.

MacArthur is also an honorary member of Rotary clubs in Manila, Melbourne and Milwaukee.

Goods Sent To Europe By U. S. Lutherans Total $4 Millions

MASON, Tex., April 27. (AP)—Four-million dollars worth of food and clothing have been sent to Western Eupore by Lutherans in the United States since the end of the war, Texas Lutheran District convention members were told.

The report on relief work was made after a talk by Dr. George Federer of Stuttgart, Germany.

Hub-Clovis Game Rained Out

Chick Fowler Is Leading Hitter

Rain accomplished something the Lubbock Hubbers haven't been able to do for the past two days, moisture breaking a two-game losing streak last night at Clovis, N. M., and sending the Hubbers on to Albuquerque to open a two-game set tonight.

Manager Jackie Sullivan must have welcomed the layoff, which gives him time to organize his team and inject a needed shot in the arm. The Hubbers have gotten a total of four runs on 14 hits in their last two games, while committing 11 errors in the field. A rest may have been just what the doctor would have ordered.

PROTEST NOT UPHELD

DALLAS, April 27. (AP)—A protest by the Lubbock Baseball club was disallowed today by Milton Price, president of the West Texas-New Mexico League.

Price said the protest was based solely on an umpire's judgment and could not be upheld.

The Lubbock club had protested an interference ruling by Umpire Kermit S. Cran in a game with Albuquerque April 25. The play occurred in the second inning with Albuquerque leading, 3-0.

One Hurler Gone Route

The one-day off also gives the sore-armed pitchers that much more time in which to get into shape. So far this season, only one hurler has gone the route. Bill Grafton, and he was roundly whipped. Cotton Russell almost lasted the distance against Borger, then blew sky high. Don Hensiek has been bothered with a sore arm. Royce Mills hasn't started and Charley Willis hasn't been able to go the route. Neither has Herby Pitts.

After seven full games, Chick Fowler is the leading Hubber hitter with 13 hits in 32 times at bat for an average of .406. Fowler has hit two doubles, a triple and three home runs to drive in 10 tallies. He's the only Hubber with a triple, leads in home runs and runs batted in. He also has posted the top average.

Other regulars have not fared so well. Pedro Dunabeitia and Al Duarte each are hitting .400. Dunabeitia with four hits in 10 appearances, Duarte with two hits in five trips. Only two other regulars are over the .300 mark, Nelson Davis and Jim Prince. Davis has had eight hits in 26 trips for a .307 mark, while Prince has had nine hits in 30 appearances for an even .300.

Other Hub Averages

Other Hubber averages are Mills, .285 (two for seven); Buddy McCallum, .267 (eight for 30); Russell, .250 (two in eight); Sullivan .241 (seven in 29); Willis, .217 (five in 23); and Mike Dooley, .148 (four in 27).

Hubbers hitting doubles so far have been Prince 3, Sullivan 2 and Davis, Russell, Willis, Mills, Dooley, Dunabeitia and Grafton one each.

Home run hitters besides Fowler have been Davis 2, Dunabeitia 2, and Prince and Dooley one each.

In RBI, following Fowler are Davis 7, Prince 6, Dunabeitia 5, Dooley and Sullivan 4, and McCallum, Mills, Willis, Duarte and Grafton one each.

Cerdan Will Defend Crown On June 21

NEW YORK, April 27. (INS)—The Tournament of Champions, Inc., today announced that Marcel Cerdan, of France, will defend his world middleweight championship at the Polo Grounds June 21.

His opponent will be Steve Belloise, Jake LaMotta or Rocky Graziano, the latter currently under suspension.

The T. of C. also announced that Ray Robinson had agreed to defend his world welterweight title against Kid Gavilan, of Cuba, during the summer.

The announcement said that both fights may be on the same card or that Robinson may be given a later date.

The T. of C. officials would not elaborate on including Graziano's name among the likely middleweight challengers, but reportedly there is a chance his suspension will be lifted in New York before summer.

Red Sox Take 10-6 Game From Athletics

BOSTON, April 27. (AP) — For the second time this season Vern Stephens drove in five runs in a single game as he walloped two mighty home runs to lead Boston's Red Sox to a 10-6 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics today before 12,677 happy fans.

Stephens' first four bagger was a towering smash which cleared wall and screen in left field and scored two mates ahead of him in the first inning.

That gave starting pitcher Ellis Kinder a three run lead but the Boston right hander gave up four runs in the third when Taft Wright lined a three run homer into the right field stands.

Kinder was rapped for the other two Athletic runs in the fourth. He was replaced by lefty Earl Johnson who twirled four hit shut-out ball the rest of the route.

After the Sox picked up another run in the fourth, Stephens rapped his second homer of the game in the fifth, scoring Ted Williams.

CLEVELAND GAINS 11 TO 3 VICTORY OVER WHITE SOX

CLEVELAND, April 27. (AP) — Home runs by Mickey Vernon and Ken Keltner sparked the Cleveland Indians to an 11 to 3 victory over the Chicago White Sox today. The Indians blasted five White Sox hurlers for 13 hits.

Tribe manager Lou Boudreau was hit on the left elbow by a pitched ball in the seventh and retired from the game.

Lubbock Tops Cubs, 10 To 1

By AL WILLIAMS
Avalanche Sports Writer

BROWNFIELD, April 27 — Lubbock High school's Westerners ran their string of district baseball victories to four here today, defeating the Brownfield Cubs, 10-1, in a south half District 1-AA tilt.

The Westerners have only two games remaining, both with Plainview, and one victory over the Bulldogs would give the Lubbock nine the south half championship.

A cool breeze was blowing into the batters face throughout the game and sand was flying from the dirt field.

Righthander Jimmy Hamilton started for the Westerners, notching his second district victory and giving up three hits and one run to the Cubs. Jimmy Richards took over in the fifth and allowed no hits in a three inning stint on the mound, allowing only one batter to reach first, that on an error, but the runner was thrown out attempting to steal second base by Catcher Morris Turner on a throw to Neil Sikes. Bill Tankersley was the losing hurler.

Errors Aid Lubbock

Brownfield errors and wildness on the part of the pitchers allowed Lubbock to score their runs on only four hits. There were four wild pitches, split evenly between Tankersley and Glenn Gorby, one balk by Tankersley, and four passed balls by Ray Carter.

The Westerners scored three runs in the initial frame, and from that point they were never threatened. Except for the third inning when the Brownfield run was scored on a one base hit by Third Baseman Sam Richey, a double by Tankersley, and an error by Charles Galey on a wide throw to first, no Brownfield runner got to second base. Two baserunners were thrown out attempting to steal by Turner. Only five Cubs reached first safely, and no walks were given by Lubbock pitchers.

In the first inning Dan Adkisson, second base, led off with a walk, stole second, and went to third on a single by Powell Hinson, third base, into short left field. Adkisson was thrown out at home on ground ball hit by Turner, Turner reaching first safely on a fielder's choice and went to second without a play being made to put him out.

Turner Hits Triple

Galey hit a ground ball that was missed by Second Baseman John Franks, and Hinson and Turner scored on the error. Galey stole second, went to third on a passed ball, and scored on a wild pitch. Jessie Fullerton struck out, and Garnet Reeves grounded out shortstop to first to retire the side.

The Westerners counted two runs in the third inning, four in the fifth, and one in the seventh.

Morris Turner hit a triple for the Westerners in three trips to the plate, got on once on a fielder's choice, once by error, one time by a walk, and scored four runs. Hinson, Adkisson, and Berry Allen singled for the other Lubbock hits. Galey scored three runs.

Leading Brownfield at the plate were Richey with a single in two times at bat, Tankersley with a double in two trips, and Dale Cary with a single in three times at bat.

OLD ROCKPORT SECOND AT 5 TO 1

Olympia Is 7 To 5 Favorite To Win In Kenfucky Derby May 7

CHICAGO, April 27. (INS)—The final revision of the winter-book line on the Kentucky Derby today set down Olympia to 7 to 5 and made Old Rockport the second choice at 5 to 1.

Thirteen horses were listed as likely starters and six others as doubtful. The balance of the original entry list may be played as a field by the audacious bettor at a flat 60 to 1 for win, 25 to place and 12 to show.

Most bookmakers are offering a quinella-like angle to the before-race betting, too. If you say Olympia will win the derby and Old Rockport will run second, you get 7 to 1 if it comes out that way. Likewise, Olympia as a winner is teamed with every other likely starter as a likely second.

Further, if you think Olympia will run second, you can get various odds depending on which horse you think will win the May 7 business. The lowest such combination is Old Rockport for first and Olympia for second, at 10 to 1.

Reviewing the straight odds on likely starters, behind Olympia and Old Rockport, four others are at 8 to 1. They're Capot, John's Joy, Wine List and Palestinian.

Kentucky Colonel is listed at 12 to 1, Halt at 15, De Luxe and Model Cadet at 20 each.

Duplicator, Petey Cotter, Ponder and Swap Out are at 50; Wellsab, Jacks Town, Lexington and Mr. Smug at 100; and Shakems at 150.

Lamesa, Abilene To Meet In 3-AA Game

LAMESA, April 27. (Special)—Lamesa and Abilene High school baseball teams meet for the second time in three days at Abilene Thursday in a District 3-AA game, postponed the first time.

The Golden Tornadoes whipped the Eagles here Tuesday, 7-4, to take command of the district race with six consecutive wins against a single loss. The game was originally carded for April 1 but was rained out. The Tornado coach, Jack Wetzel, said lefthander Royce King, with a 2-0 record including one shutout, would pitch for Lamesa.

On Friday Lamesa plays Midland here at Lobo park.

Kay Carter Junior High Nine Wins Games From Guadalupe

Boys and girls baseball teams of Kay Carter Junior High school won victories over corresponding teams from Guadalupe school yesterday afternoon by scores of 12-11 and 19-18.

A. Coronado and R. Coronado, brothers, worked on the mound and behind the plate for the Carter school, with Salazar the losing pitcher. Rodriguez was his catcher.

Cities Bid For '56 Olympics

ROME, April 27 (UP) — The program for the 1952 summer Olympic games at Helsinki, Finland, will comprise 18 events—just as in last year's games at London—despite objections from the United States.

An American faction, led by President Avery Brundage of the U. S. Olympic Committee, claimed that the large schedule was cumbersome and tried to have it cut to 16 sports.

But the International Olympic Committee announced yesterday that it has decided to keep the 18-event list Chancellor Otto Mayer of Switzerland said the decision had been reached after two closed sessions.

The bidding for the site of the 1956 games apparently was narrowing down to a choice between four cities—Buenos Aires, Mexico City, Melbourne and a city in the United States.

By agreement among the U.S. representatives here, the I.O.C. will select one American City as a candidate in order that the U.S. may present a united front and not be bidding against itself. U.S. cities seeking to be picked are Detroit, Minneapolis, Los Angeles, Philadelphia, and Chicago.

Polly Riley Wins In Women's Golf Meet

NEW ORLEANS, April 27 (AP) — Rain failed to produce any upsets in the Women's Southern Golf Association championship play here today.

Polly Riley, defending champion from Fort Worth, Tex., defeated Mrs. G. T. Schneider, New Orleans, 7 and 6.

Margaret Gunther, last year's runnerup, came from behind to win over Ed Dell Wortz 3 and 1. Miss Gunther is from Memphis, and Miss Wortz from Fort Smith, Ark.

Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta came through in championship form to defeat Mrs. Thomas Findley of New Orleans, 5 and 4.

Close play is expected in all the quarterfinal matches Thursday. Miss Riley meets Miss Betty Mackinnen, Mt. Pleasant, Tex., for her first serious competition.

Milne's Pinch-Hit Homer Gives Giants 11-8 Win Over Dodgers

Chicago Cubs Nip Cincinnati, 8 To 3

NEW YORK, April 27. (AP) — Rookie outfielder Pete Milne's pinch-hit home run with the bases loaded in the seventh inning gave the New York Giants an 11-8 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers today and moved them back into the league lead.

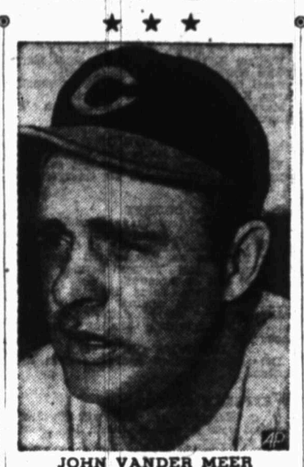

Milne's blow, off relief pitcher Ezra (Pat) McGlothin, was a line drive that eluded centerfielder Duke Snider and rolled past him to the centerfield wall. Until that hit, it looked like the Giants were going to lose another because of their leaky pitching staff.

Weather Slows Tech Track Drill

Coach Maxey McKnight cast a dour glance at the skies Wednesday, shrugged his shoulders and remarked that he guessed another day or two away from the track couldn't hurt his Texas Tech cindermen any more than they already had been hurt.

The red-thatched Red Raider mentor has not been smiled upon by the destinies of weather this spring. Last week the entire period of training was lost because water was standing on the track. It was so bad, in fact, that he had to have the water pumped off to enable the Region One meet to be held here.

Drill Is Held Up

Monday and Tuesday were the only days in over a week that the Raider trackmen could work and even those workouts were curtailed. As a result, there has been no improvement in the squad since the dual meet with New Mexico at Albuquerque two weeks ago.

Saturday the Raider trackmen are scheduled to be hosts to New Mexico, Texas Mines, West Texas State Teachers college and Hardin-Simmons. The meet is slated for 2 p. m., but indications Wednesday were that New Mexico might not appear and Hardin-Simmons probably would not.

Should only WTSTC, which is bringing only five men, and Texas Mines, not apparently a strong squad, come to Lubbock, the Raiders would have little more than an intra-squad meet. But if the weather is good, Coach McKnight will welcome even that much competition.

Miners Are Question Mark

Mines is an unknown quantity and the Raider mentor doesn't know who they will bring. The Miners might bring a full squad, or they might bring a few men, probably most of them in the weights. The Buffs will concentrate on the middle distances, as well as the distance events, with possibly one broad jumper and maybe a discus thrower.

Texas Tech easily trimmed New Mexico two weeks ago and there is little possibility that they have improved enough to shade the Raiders on the home track. Tech grabbed all but one first place against the Lobos and should repeat here.

The Raider squad is in good condition, rested and ready to go again, although Charley Reynolds, ace dash man, still has not rounded into shape. Otherwise, the Techsans appear ready.

Idalou Sixth Graders Defeat Similar Teams From Lorenzo

IDALOU, April 27. (Special)—The sixth grade Idalou boys and girls made a clean sweep here when they defeated the sixth grade boys and girls from Lorenzo in two softball games.

The boys score was 16-8 and the girls won, 20-2. They were both return games with the Idalou students taking the opening pair as well as those today.

Royce Williams pitched for the Idalou boys and Polly Turner was the girls pitcher.

Rifle Expert Exhibits Here

Herb Parsons of Tennessee, demonstrator for the Winchester Arms company, exhibited an eagle eye, a ceaseless line of chatter and some first rate marksmanship for a crowd of approximately 100 persons yesterday afternoon at the Lubbock Skeet and Trap club range.

Parsons, bothered by a misty rain that fell without interruption throughout his exhibition, kept the crowd entranced with his shooting. The dapper marksman disdained the rain to break targets as though there were magnets in them.

Applause broke out several times during the exhibition, particularly when Parsons made hard shots appear easy. He worked as easily as he made the shots appear, busting everything from eggs to cabbages, .22 cartridge jackets to one gallon gasoline jugs.

The rifle expert also demonstrated the use of guns ranging from the .22 through the larger .348. Parsons tossed wooden blocks, oranges, cabbages, grapefruit, cartridge shells, little black balls, potatoes, metal discs, eggs and coins into the air. All fell before his accurate eye.

Parsons may return within two weeks to present another demonstration, which also will be free.

MINERS EXPECTED TO BE TOUGH

Tech Netters Will Meet Mines, New Mexico Teams Over Weekend

Texas Tech's netters will play host to the tennis teams from two Border conference schools here this weekend, meeting the University of New Mexico crew Friday afternoon and the strong Texas Mines group Saturday. At least one of the schools is scheduled to be represented by a six-man team.

The New Mexico strokers are not expected to give the Raiders a major test, since the Tech "second team" defeated New Mexico at Albuquerque recently while the top four Techsans were competing in the River Oaks tournament at Houston. But the Miners are slated to battle the Raiders for match honors and repeat their 1948 dual meet victory over Tech. In the match last year, the Miners gained a 5-4 triumph.

Raiders Show Improvement

The Raider netters have shown consistent improvement this season and, as a result of valuable experience gained on the recent journey to Texas university, University of Houston and River Oaks, are expected to make a strong bid for Border conference honors next month. For the last two seasons Jake Broyles, Tech's top net star, has been eliminated in the Border loop meet by the final winner. This year, with added age and experience, he should be even more dangerous.

The Tech team which will compete this weekend will probably include, in order of their team positions, Broyles, Carl Schmidt of Mexico City, Glenn Ivy of Lubbock, Eddie Scudday of Lubbock, David Hester of Lubbock and Jack Prentiss.

NEW MEXICO TENNIS TEAM TO BE HERE ON FRIDAY

ALBUQUERQUE, April 27 (Special) — After dropping two games on their Arizona trip, the University of New Mexico tennis team is set to journey to Lubbock Thursday for a dual match at Texas Tech Friday, April 29.

Coach Joe Palala said David Ong has recovered from a recent illness and will be the fourth member of the four-man squad Palala will take to Lubbock.

Other team members ranked one-two-three by Palala are: Johnny Allen, Amarillo; Carl Webb, Bernalillo, Bob Kayne, Palm Desert, Cal. Doubles play will be handled by Allen and Webb, and by Kayne and Ong in the other pairing.

The Lobo netters lost at the University of Arizona and at Arizona State, Tempe.

TENNIS MATCH CALLED OFF

FORT WORTH, April 27. (UP)—A tennis match between Texas Christian and Southern Methodist scheduled here tomorrow, was postponed today until a later date in deference to the death of the wife of head coach Dutch Meyer.

Bishop Joins Committee

NEW YORK, April 27 (AP)—Lt. Col. James H. Bishop of Culver Military Academy today was appointed chairman of the U. S. Davis Cup selection committee, succeeding Jones W. Mersereau of New York City.

Bishop, head of the history department at the Indiana school, this summer will attend all important tennis tournaments and watch play of candidates for the American squad.

America has held the international trophy since it defeated Australia in the '46 challenge round at Melbourne.

Other members of the selection committee are Wilmer Allison, Austin, Tex.; Walter M. Hall, New York City; Perry Jones, Los Angeles; Alrick H. Man, jr., New York City; Dean Mathey, Princeton; Donald McNeill, New York City; James B. Moffett, San Francisco; Walter Pate, New York City; Holcombe Ward, Red Bank, N. J., and Mersereau.

State Witnesses Claim McGee Is Sane; More Testimony Set Today

this case Mr. Tarkington?" Simpson asked.

After a long, tense pause, Tarkington answered, "Yes."

The rebuttal witnesses were called after a full morning session devoted to examining and cross-examining Mrs. H. H. Stull, Pampa, mother of the defendant. At 12:10 the defense announced that they were ready to rest.

Others called to the stand included: Mrs. George Talbot, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Thompson, Abilene; Joe Ford, Abilene; Dean W. C. Walton, Hardin-Simmons university, Abilene; Jo Ann Bailey, Vernon; Duane L. Faw, Denton; O. W. Allston, Pampa; Clare McCollum, Amarillo; Mrs. Cappie Linn, Lubbock; Mrs. C. F. Tarkington, Amarillo; S. J. Hays and Richard Kendrick, Brownfield; J. A. Wright, F. H. Bolen, Earl Horton, George Eubank, Grady Harrist, and Lem Pounds all of the Lubbock sheriff's department; Alvin Lary and V. L. Prather, Brownfield.

Some of these witnesses were asked only one or two questions and a few were not even cross-examined. In one instance Col. Simpson dismissed Mrs. Allston, 70-year-old mother of the slain man, with:

"I have no questions Mrs. Allston," the colonel said, "and I have the deepest sympathy for you."

Mrs. Talbot, Dean Walton and Faw were former instructors of Richard McGee at various colleges he has attended. All three testified that he had been "an average boy in school and had made good grades."

McGee lived with the Thompsons for several months while he was attending school in Abilene.

"Richard had the run of our house," the Thompsons said. "He was a well behaved and friendly boy all the time he was with us."

Kendrick, an employe of the First National Bank, Brownfield, said that he had cashed a check for McGee on the day of the killing. The cancelled check was introduced in evidence. It was made out for $10 and was signed "Margaret McGee by Richard McGee." The check was drawn on a Borger bank. Kendrick said he cashed the check after referring to McGee's driver's license and his social security card.

Crowd Jams Court Room

The ninth day of the trial was enacted before a crowd of more than 500 persons who jammed their way into every available seat and standing space. Many sat on the low rail of the balcony and the double doors of the 72nd district court room had to be opened to furnish air and accomodate the overflow crowd.

Many people come to the court room early so that they can obtain seats where they can hear and see everything. Some have attended the trial every day and have occupied the same, or nearly the same, seats. Judge Blair has had to call for order on several occasions.

One outburst of laughter came when Col. Simpson objected to a question which had not yet been asked. The colonel said he knew what was coming and was going to object anyway.

The court room was very warm and the restlessness of the crowd added up to make enough noise to drown out much of the testimony.

More Witnesses To Testify

Court Reporter John Edmisson, who has to take down every word that is asked and also the answers given in testimony, had to ask some witnesses to repeat their words. Edmisson has written down thousands of words since the trial began on April 18. The testimony has filled dozens of notebooks. The notes are transcribed after the court adjourns for the day and the information becomes a part of the permanent record of the trial.

There is still no indication as to when the dramatic trial will end. There are four more rebuttal witnesses to be called by the state this morning and then the defense will have the same opportunity to introduce more or new evidence.

Judge Blair will have the power to limit the time on the arguments of both sides but he has not stated yet how much time he is going to allow. After that will come the long and very technical charge to the jury before they will be allowed to retire and deliberate on the case. Some observers believe that the jury may get the case Friday but others believe it may be the early part of next week.

Mother Takes Stand

Judge Dan Blair's 72nd District court was late in convening Wednesday morning because Col. Simpson's watch had stopped. The session began at 9:21.

Mrs. Stull, mother of the defendant was first on the stand.

When she took the stand Mrs. Stull related that she had married Richard's father in Hanesville, La., in 1922.

"Richard's father was always a heavy drinker and would stay away from home on frequent occasions. I separated from him in 1927 when Richard was only three years old and divorced him in 1930." Mrs. Stull related. "I did not hear from my first husband again but did learn that he died in 1938."

Settled In Borger

After the separation Mrs. Stull said she brought her three children to Texas and settled in Borger. In 1932 she was married to A. R. Avery, Borger furniture and real estate dealer. Mr. Avery died of a heart attack in 1938, she said.

"At the time of Mr. Avery's death," Mrs. Stull said, "Richard seemed to go into a stupor which lasted for several days. I would have to lead him to and from the bathroom and to meals. After that he would often be elated and then again he would be extremely depressed."

Attorney Burks asked Mrs. Stull whether or not she had ever told Betty Jane Allston, 18-year-old daughter of the shooting victim, and college sweetheart of the accused man, that Richard was a mental patient.

"I told Jane that Richard was a mental case and was subject to the regulations of Waco VA hospital. I also told her that he was drawing a 100 per cent disability," Mrs. Stull answered.

Mrs. Stull also said she had mentioned this fact in the presence of Mrs. Ethel Allston, mother of the girl.

"I first noticed that Richard was an unusual and difficult boy when he was about nine," Mrs. Stull stated. "I took him to several doctors but they didn't seem to know what to do for him."

"Once while I had Richard in a dentist office to get some work done on his teeth he threatened to jump out of the second story window," the mother continued.

Ran Away From Home

Mrs. Stull continued to relate how her boy had difficulty in getting along with other children of his age. Often, she said, Richard would run away from home or stay by himself for long periods of time. I had to whip him on many occasions but this did not seem to do any good," she said.

"On more than one occasion Richard attacked me with a butcher knife or with a razor," Mrs. Stull said and she emphasized this remark by raising her voice and gritting her teeth to show how the boy appeared to her at the time of the attack she described.

Upon questioning Mrs. Stull gave the same testimony given by the boy's two sisters as to his time in hospitals and his antics while in schools and colleges. She said that she had signed papers approving the severe electric shock treatments that were administered to him at the Waco VA mental hospital.

Improvement Reported

"After these treatments, Dr. Samuel H. Ross called me and said that Richard was improved and ready to be taken home," Mrs. Stull said. (Dr. Ross's deposition was offered by the defense yesterday and is a matter of recorded testimony).

"When I got to the hospital I told Dr. Ross that Richard didn't look any better to me and I thought he ought to be kept under treatment for a while. I told him that I was afraid Richard would do some harm to me," Richard's mother said.

At this point Mrs. Stull stood up in the witness stand and shouting said:

"Dr. Ross told me to 'take that damn boy out of here. You are the first damn mother I've seen who refused to take the responsibility of taking care of her son'," Mrs. Stull kicked the witness chair as a further emphasis.

All Mixed Up

Upon cross-examination by special prosecutor Dupree and District Attorney Croslin, Mrs. Stull said:

"When Richard was a small child he came to me and said, 'Mother I'm all mixed up. What is the matter with me'?"

Dupree asked her if Richard was a stubborn boy and often wanted to have his own way.

"Richard was always wanting things," she said, "I beat him half to death because he was always wanting things."

To most of the questions propounded by Dupree, Mrs. Stull answered, "I don't remember."

patronage "the test will be party loyalty."

He was vague, however, in answering questions as to how the new crackdown rule is to be put into effect.

McGrath was asked:

"Does this mean that if Democratic congressmen don't vote the right way they won't get patronage?"

He replied "No."

He was then asked just what he did mean, and answered:

"It will depend on how they function back home. It goes down to the districts."

"Wait And See"

"How will it work there?" he was asked.

"You will have to wait and see," he replied.

The senator refused to discuss the matter further.

His replies to questions were generally interpreted this way:

Patronage will not be withheld from senators and representatives just because they happen on rare occasions to vote against the administration. However, persistent opposition to the administration would be regarded as a breach of party loyalty.

In particular, a bolt against the party, such as occurred in the case of the Thurmond-Wright ticket supporters in the 1948 election, would be regarded as complete alienation from hope of patronage.

This presumably would apply to the party bolters in the 1948 campaign, particularly if they fight the administration during the present Congress.

the House Labor committee, who introduced the administration measure.

The announcement came as the House concluded eight hours of general debate on the labor bill and prepared to begin voting tomorrow.

General Strike Urged

Democratic leaders felt that the advance commitment on modifications in the Lesinski bill will insure its approval and rout the pro-Taft-Hartley coalition of Republicans and southern Democrats.

Rep. Klein (D-NY) denounced the "reactionary coalition" and called on the leaders of organized labor to stage a nationwide general strike against the Taft-Hartley law.

Klein asked AFL President William Green, CIO President Philip Murray and other union chiefs to order the strike to remind Congress of the election "mandate" for repeal of Taft-Hartley.

ents from the University of Texas. They said they were members of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Three were girls.

Jester Called On

During the legislative demonstration nine other members of the movement called on Gov. Beauford H. Jester.

Sheffield Quarles of Palestine, a student at Bishop college at Marshall, told the governor that they represented 300 senior negro students desiring further professional study without facilities in Texas to do it.

David Williams, another of the spokesmen, said the group came "not looking for sympathy, but as citizens of the United States and as native Texans to ask what is rightfully ours."

Jester said he understood that. He said their petition for educational facilities, which had been left earlier, would be turned over to the proper authorities.

Seek To Register

The group objected to offering new facilities to meet their needs, arguing that it would not be equal to the University of Texas.

"Institutions grow with the years," said Louis Brown of Bishop college. "A negro university could never equal the University of Texas the same as I can never be as old as my older brother."

"Time isn't always the answer," the governor replied.

The students appeared at the universitys registrar's office in two relays to present credentials and seek registration—mainly for admission to the medical and dental schools.

They marched orderly—two abreast—across the campus to the office. They carried banners calling for lifting of the color ban and asking to study medicine in Texas—"not in Tennessee."

He explained in an interview given the German press that "difficulties" over the existence of the Soviet sponsored and western-sponsored currencies would bar immediate renewal of trade.

Russia has declared the emergency problem should be taken up at the Big Four ministers' meeting after the blockade is lifted.

Wilkinson also predicted that lifting of the ban on foreign investments in Western Germany is imminent.

He added that lifting of the Russian blockade and western counter-blockade would quickly raise the economy level of Berlin to that of Western Germany.

Meanwhile, 300 German Communist and anti-Communist youths battled for two hours tonight within the area of Tempelhof, terminal of the vast western airlift.

There were some minor injuries but no arrests. West German police broke up the riot which occurred when the anti-Communists attacked the Communist youths who had begun marching after a rally near the airport.

The Russians, meanwhile, were reported ready to make a concrete gesture toward lifting the blockade by dispatching a train this weekend from the Soviet zone to the British zone along the main Berlin-Helmstedt railway.

The Shanghai garrioson command said Nationalist troops had taken up new positions six miles east of Soochow and that fighting was continuing. Thus the Reds might be only 44 miles west of Shanghai.

Changes Announced

At the pre-conference board of managers meeting conducted at Hilton hotel Chimayo room Wednesday night, a nominating committee for next year was elected as follows: Mrs. E. M. Pittman, Anson, chairman; R. W. Davidson, Plainview; Mrs. R. E. Donovan, Matador; H. P. Clemmons, Whiteface; and P. L. Vardy, Slaton. Officers are not to be elected this year.

District board members resigning and their replacements are as follows: Mrs. Frank Nease of Plainview resigned as vice president of Floyd and Hale counties and was replaced by Mrs. Hershel Carthel of Lockney; Mrs. John W. Thomas of Ralls was replaced as vice president of Crosby, Kent and Dickens counties by Mrs. Walter Gillon of Ralls; Mrs. Noyce Jennings of Plainview resigned as pre-school chairman and Mrs. Charles Walton of Slaton was named to take her place; and J. Cleo Scott of Hamlin, publicity chairman, was replaced by Mrs. Earl Tinnin of Ralls.

Conference rules were read and approved by Mrs. Lee Davis of Post. Mrs. E. S. Smith, Lorenzo, district president, presided for business.

President Speaks

Mrs. J. H. Moore of Deport, president of Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, addressed the board and guests at a dinner given in Hilton hotel Navajo room following the business session. In a talk on "Friendship," she stated, "Every member of P-TA is a potential leader and has something very important to do in the community."

The speaker listed knowledge, vision and courage as being important qualifications for leadership. As a challenge to the group, the president said, "Parent-Teacher members can make things better through their service, interest and prayers."

Mrs. T. F. Wiesen, president of City Parent-Teacher council in Lubbock, acted as toastmistress and introduced the speaker. Other guests included Mrs. Jack M. Little, Dallas, Mrs. W. A. Cawthon, Paris, and Mrs. J. C. Stewart, Brenham.

The invocation was offered by Mrs. H. F. Godeke and the musical benediction, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," was led by Mrs. Earl Tinnin.

Arrangements of iris, snapdragons and tulips and rose candles in silver and crystal holders decorated the tables at which 35 persons were seated. Mesdames L. L. Miller and R. C. Badgett directed the decorating and Mesdames Claud Keeton, Joe Arrington and Grady Knight made corsages for guests.

these are believed probable.

The Air Force said that the saucers "are not a joke. Neither are they a cause for alarm to the population."

The report said that investigation was difficult because no photographs of flying saucers have been produced and because when they were seen by such competent observers as air line and Air Force pilots they were not under observation for any length of time.

One Death Reported

The report related that sighting of a reported saucer was responsible for at least one death—that of Thomas F. Mantell, who chased an unidentified object high into the air until he ran out of oxygen and his F-51 plane came to pieces in the dive that followed when he lost consciousness.

Referring to the possibility that the phenomena represent projectiles from Mars or Venus, the Air Force said it was difficult to believe "that any technically established race would come here, flaunt its ability in a mysterious way over two years, but each time simply go away without ever establishing contact."

In summing up, the USAF said:

"No definite conclusive evidence is yet available that would prove or disprove the possibility that a portion of the unidentified objects are real aircraft of unknown or unconventional configuration."

The Air Force said it was continuing its investigation and welcomed any reliable reports as to the nature of unexplained celestial phenomena.

Heavy At Littlefield

Rain fell in varied amounts over the South Plains Wednesday afternoon and night, a survey last night showed.

Rain began falling in the Morton area about 8:30 p.m. and was continuing to fall steadily at 10:15 p.m. No high winds or hail was reported, although there was considerable lightning and thunder. Light showers and mist fell at Morton prior to the time the actual rain began, it was reported.

Rain began at Anton at about 9:30 p.m. and was still falling slowly at 10:30 p.m. No hail or excessively high winds were reported.

Plainview had received rainfall estimated at about a half inch by 10:30 o'clock last night. Rain fell there beginning about 10 p.m., and is was reported that it fell extremely hard within the thirty-minute period.

The Santa Fe dispatcher at Slaton said officials at Littlefield had reported one and one-half inches there at midnight.

Rainfall estimated to be as much as an inch was reported last night from Hale Center. Rain began to fall there about 9 p.m. and fell for a period of 30 to 45 minutes thereafter. Electrical power failures were reported in parts of Hale Center.

Brownfield received rain beginning about 8 o'clock last night, which continued to fall steadily for well over an hour. Total rainfall was estimated to be near a quarter of an inch. There was no hail.

Other Areas Hit

Only a "very light drizzle" fell in Levelland, observers there said at 11 p.m. last night.

Ralls reported a "pretty good shower" which began at about 10 p.m., and had begun to taper off shortly before 11 p.m.

Both Petersburg and Floydada reported showers, both of which were estimated to have left less than a quarter inch of moisture. No hail or high winds were reported at either community.

Matador last night had had only light mists and drizzles, which began falling in the late morning and continued intermittently through the remainder of the day. A light rain fell last night in Slaton, but no high winds or hail were reported from there.

Heavy At Lamesa

Lamesa reported heavy downpours totalling approximately three-fourths inch between 9 p.m. and 11:30 p.m. accompanied by electrical display and winds ranging from 15 to 40 mph. Travellers from San Angelo indicated that heavy rains fell constantly during the trip and that Big Spring received strong winds and electrical disturbances.

Reports from Post indicated that intermittent showers had been falling all day, totalling approximately one-half inch.

Tahoka received varying winds and rain totalling approximately one-fourth inch.

Grassland received approximately one inch in heavy downpours.

FLOOD WATERS CONTINUE TO PLAGUE SOUTH TEXAS

(By The Associated Press)

The rain-swollen Guadalupe river surged slowly toward the 28-foot mark—seven feet out of banks—at Victoria Wednesday night. Smaller floods were reported along the lower Rio Grande.

But the only threat of damage was to young corn and cotton crops in the Guadalupe bottomlands at Victoria.

"The town is in no danger," E. I. Stahala of the Victoria Advocate said. "Water doesn't enter the town until the river reaches at least 29.23 feet. Even then it overflows only among three or four blocks of shacks along the bottoms."

Ranchers Cheer Rains

As the flood-producing rains tapered off to light scattered showers in South Texas, they were given departing cheers by West Texas ranchers who called them life savers.

Meanwhile, the biggest flood at Mercedes since the Weather bureau began keeping books on the Rio Grande was in the making. But even a record breaker probably would cause little damage.

Flood stage at Mercedes is 21 feet, and the record flood, in 1944, swelled the river to only 23.4 feet. The Rio Grande Wednesday reached 23.2 feet at Mercedes and kept rising.

At Brownsville, the Rio Grande was expected to rise to 19 feet, after hitting 18.5 Wednesday. Flood stage there is 18 feet.

Other points reporting light rains Wednesday were Marshall, Lufkin, Bryan, Tyler, Texarkana, and Galveston.

your comment on the Jessup conference? An aide, by this time somewhat harried, came back with the card and the single word, "no."

No one would say when the next meeting would be held. But American sources previously have explained that the talks so far are entirely informal and meetings can be arranged by a telephone call at any time.

Jessup talked over the meeting with Sir Alexander Cadogan, Britain, and Jean Chauvel, France, at the U.S. delegation offices.

The ambassador-at-large also talked with members of the U.S. delegation to the UN and with American press officers.

The conference was held in New York City but no statement on it came from American sources until two hours later at Lake Success headquarters of the UN. A delegation spokesman said the U.S. decided to do this to accommodate newsmen covering the UN assembly who could not follow the movements of the diplomats in New York.

The Russians blockaded Berlin last June 19. Western efforts to settle the issue by negotiations in Moscow were unsuccessful. The Western Powers then lodged a charge with the UN Security Council in Paris last September, contending the Russian blockade was a threat to the peace.

On Oct. 25, 1948, Russia vetoed a resolution approved by the Western Powers and a majority of the Security Council to end the Berlin crisis. This called for the Russians to lift the blockade and for the four powers—Russia, the U.S., France and Britain—to agree on a date for a meeting of the four-power council of foreign ministers.

Efforts in the UN to settle on a single currency for Berlin also were fruitless.

There the case stood until the Americans noticed that Prime Minister Joseph Stalin did not refer to the currency issue early this year in answer to questions on the Berlin blockade asked by an American journalist.

dency" of some people in this country to feel that the United States should "go down or up" depending upon the amount of heat Russia stirs up in the cold war. This is delegating the responsibility for American foreign policy to other nations, he said.

Assurances Given

"I feel this is a most unwise way of proceeding," Acheson said, adding that the nation should go ahead "calmly" with its own plans and not be influenced by "peace offensives," or a "war of nerves."

Questioning by the senators produced these other highlights:

1. Assurance that the pact does not call for dispatch of U. S. forces overseas prior to any attack against any alliance member. Acheson gave a flat "no" in answer to a question by Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) as to whether this country will be expected to "supply substantial numbers of troops and troop organizations to implement the land power of Western Europe prior to aggression."

2. No "ring of steel" will be erected around the Soviet Union or any group of nations opposed to the Western Powers' peace program. Acheson said the arms program is designed only to enable the European members to modernize their defense forces so as to forestall any possibility of aggression.

Preparedness Is Urged

3. The United States must continue its own preparedness program without sacrificing its own needs to help other pact members rearm. Acheson commented: "We are doing, I believe, as little as we can in time of peace to prepare ourselves for a crisis." He went on to say that it might take from one and a half to two years to put the arms aid program into effect, but that he hoped U. S. financial contributions would not be needed for a long period of time.

4. The European recovery program has priority over the military assistance project, Acheson said.

His testimony opened hearings on the historic treaty which, if ratified as expected, will bind the United States and Canada to a 20-year mutual aid agreement with 10 nations of Western Europe.

Acheson stressed that the treaty would never be invoked if the UN carries out its obligations to prevent acts of aggression.

Of the $1,150,000,000 arms fund proposed for the pact members, Acheson said $150,000,000 would be for raw materials to be purchased in this country. An added $320,000,000 would be for a separate arms program to Greece, Turkey and other countries not members of the Atlantic pact.

ed Calder to take the army post.

Calder is chairman of Electric Bond & Share Co., and director of numerous other firms, including the American Bank Note Co.

Johnson was reported to have discussed the appointment with President Truman during a White House call today.

Probe Suggested

He gave no indication whether he and Mr. Truman discussed the resignation of Secretary of the Navy John L. Sullivan. Sullivan quit yesterday with a heated blast at Johnson for his decision to stop construction of the Navy's projected supercarrier, the USS United States.

That decision, and Sullivan's trigger-quick reaction to it, brought expressions of concern from lawmakers, especially Republicans.

Rep. Bates (R-Mass), a member of the House Armed Services committee, suggested the appointment of a special subcommittee to make a detailed inquiry into the affair. Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) told him the matter would be gone into thoroughly when the committee considers legislation which would give the secretary of defense additional powers.

Unless Sullivan himself should seek a hearing, there seemed little prospect that the matter would be reopened officially.

Calder was born in Winfield, Kas., May 15, 1890. By the time he was 31, he was president of the Dallas Power & Light Co. He has been chairman of Electric Bond & Share since 1944, and also is president of the Southwestern Sewer Co. He is married and has three sons His residence is at Bronxville, N. Y.

The Army secretaryship became officially vacant today when Royall stepped out to become a member of a New York law firm. A 19-gun salute boomed out as he left the Pentagon—the customary honor for cabinet officers.

New Type Of Fast Transmission On News Is Demonstrated With Dispatch From London

NEW YORK, April 27 (U.P.)—For the first time in history, a news dispatch was sent directly and simultaneously last night from London to newspapers and radio stations on three continents.

The dispatch was a United Press story sent at virtually the speed of light, which is 186,000 miles a second. It went through automatic relays to U. P. clients in the United States, Canada, Spain, Puerto Rico, Mexico City, Buenos Aires and Honolulu.

Facilities used were a combination of radio teletype across the Atlantic, leased teletype circuits across the United States and into Mexico and Canada, and radio teletype from San Francisco to Honolulu and from New York to Puerto Rico.

Covered Wide Area

The channels which carried the dispatch are used regularly by the U.P., but for a demonstration of speed the relay points were "tied" together, permitting the London signals to go directly to the far-flung cities.

The experiment was conducted in connection with the business meeting of the executives of the United Press in New York for the annual convention of the American Newspaper Publishers association.

The London dispatch began rolling at 5:05 p. m. EDT. It shot across the Atlantic and through the automatic repeater relay in New York, and went directly on the U.P. transcontinental trunk wire system.

The dispatch also was "cleared" directly on a leased radio-teletype circuit to San Juan, and on a land circuit to Canada. Simultaneously, the dispatch was relayed automatically at Kansas City, speeding through U.P. leased wires to Oklahoma, Texas and to Mexico City. At the same time, the dispatch was clearing automatically through San Francisco, and being picked up directly by Honolulu for use by U.P. clients in the islands.

Debate Is Described

In addition, the London signals carrying the dispatch were received directly and simultaneously by radio in Madrid and Buenos Aires.

The dispatch was sent at 60 words a minute, taking about five minutes of wire radio time.

It was by James McGlincy of the London staff of the U.P. and described the debate in Parliament yesterday when Winston Churchill attacked the labor government for its handling of the Yangtze river incident after Chinese Communists had fired on British warships.

At no time was it necessary for a recording of the London dispatch to be made and then relayed manually. The familiar London call letters of "LN" preceded the dispatch and appeared on the automatic receiving printers in newspapers and radio stations of the three continents. Copy from the automatic printer machines comes out in typewritten form, even though the London signals were sent by radio.

The electrical impulses that spelled out the London dispatch letter by letter were received in San Francisco approximately one 25th of a second later, and reached Honolulu in one 20th of a second.

Normally, such fast transmission is not required, but the demonstration showed that the U.P. facilities can meet the need when it arises.

Bookie Accused Of Taking Horse Bets In Insane Hospital

NEW YORK, April 27 (INS) — Just how desperate can a bookie get?

Special sessions court sitting in Queens got an answer to that today when James Ahfeld, 36, pleaded guilty to booking bets among the patients at the Creedmoor state hospital for the insane.

Ahfeld, an attendant at the institution, told the court:

"The cops are right. I was making book in the nut house."

The defendant's lawyer said he "wouldn't take bets from those patients who are too far gone" and Judge Hofman retorted:

"All I can say is that people who gave this man horse bets certainly deserve to be where they are."

The bookie was held in ~~$500 bail~~ for sentencing May 5.

Seven Killed When Calcutta Police, Communists Clash

CALCUTTA, April 27 (INS)—Seven persons were reported killed tonight and nine wounded in Calcutta in a fight between police and Communists in which both guns and bombs were used.

The clash occurred in Calcutta's Bow bazaar area where the Communists staged a parade in defiance of police orders.

Police opened fire on the Communists who were reported to have thrown at least one bomb.

Five of those injured were policemen. Twenty-seven persons were arrested.

Brooklyn 'Captive' Rescued By Police, Seeks Return To Cubicle

By CHARLES MERCER
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 27 — The world Paoul Makushak shunned for ten years closed in on him today. He didn't like it.

While psychiatrists sought to plumb his mind, Makushak, 33, pleaded to go back to the dark, filthy three-by-five-foot cubicle in the wall of a Brooklyn tenement house where he says he lived since 1939.

Police broke through the wall last night and fell back before the fetid air of the cubicle. Out crawled a massive man wrapped in filthy rags. A great fringe of curling dark beard almost covered his face. Full-pupiled dark eyes blinked at unaccustomed light.

No Evidence Of Crime

He was stooped and barely able to stand. He had not bathed in ten years. His cubbyhole contained no sanitary facilities. Virtually all his time there he spent lying on a filthy pallet.

That was the Paul Makushak whom his tailor father, Peter, had not seen since he went on an errand for him ten years ago.

His mother who fed him guarded the secret of his existence until she was forced to go to a hospital yesterday.

District Attorney Miles F. McDonald said there was no evidence of any crime since Makushak entered his living tomb voluntarily. He added that Makushak told him:

"If I'm released I want to go back to the room."

FBI Enters Case

Meanwhile, U.S. Attorney Frank J. Parker and the FBI sought to learn if Makushak had gone in hiding to avoid the draft. If he had been there since 1939, as his father believed, he could not have crawled away to avoid the draft which was not enacted then.

On the other hand, his cubicle contained an old radio. But Makushak claimed he knew nothing about the war. He said he didn't care how the world was running. He spent his time sleeping and practicing short hand.

The mind behind the impassive, bespectacled eyes did not seem totally irrational to police. Makushak answered most questions calmly.

But psychiatrists at Kings County hospital had to plumb deeper. Their task was to learn why he shunned the world and then, if possible, readjust him to society.

Makushak's parents quarreled and separated. His father lived downstairs in his tailor shop. His mother lived upstairs handy to her son's third-floor cubicle. Once Mrs. Makushak told her husband Paul was in Canada.

A neighbor, whom Mrs. Makushak asked to feed her son while she was in the hospital, notified police.

Denver Divorcee Seeks New Mate

DENVER, April 27 (INS)—A 33-year-old Denver divorcee today entered the husband-hunting derby.

Mrs. Mary Lou Williamson announced that her new husband must have certain qualifications, which are:

"He must be a man who is pleasant, nice, not too horrible to look at, somewhere between the ages of 35 and 40. He should be a businessman, good spiritually, and neat and tidy."

She promptly ruled out Cedric Von Rolleston, Illinois muralist, who sought to marry Mrs. Elena Lebaron of Salt Lake City, mother of eight children, who also called publicly for a second husband. Mrs. Lebaron solved her problem of 500 proposals by returning to her first husband.

The Denver woman has one child, a 3-year-old son. She describes herself as a person who loves to cook, likes wholesome fun and does not drink. Her favorite actor is Robert Taylor, and her favorite author is Somerset Maugham.

She said she likes good literature.

Denver Man Completes 23rd Day Of Fast 'Directed By Lord'

DENVER, April 27 (INS)—A 52-year-old Denver bachelor was on the 23rd day of a fast today, because "the Lord laid it on my heart to fast."

John Cloud said he has taken only water, and occasionally water with a little salt in it since April 4. He will continue, he declared, "until the Lord lays it upon my heart to quit."

Cloud spends most of each day working in his yard and garden or attending revival services. He declared that a fast of 40 days—or even as much as 80 days—"is not so unusual."

He weighed 152 pounds when he started doing without food, and has lost 23 pounds—a pound a day. He said his hearing has improved, and that rheumatism in his legs has gone away.

He added:

"Normally I wouldn't want to miss a single meal, but I am following the three great fundamentals of Christ—alms giving, prayer and fasting."

Occasional periods of weakness soon pass, he said.

Allowances For Buses Is Hiked

By BO BYERS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, April 27.—House debate on the second Gilmer-Aikin bill neared an end today with only one amendment put on against wishes of the measure's leaders.

The House voted 71 to 58 to cut off further amendment of the last significant section in the school financing bill. It then recessed to 10 a.m. tomorrow. Approval of the bill on second reading was anticipated tomorrow.

Rural representatives added several million dollars to the cost of the Gilmer-Aikin program by liberalizing allowances for school buses.

Nokes Opposes Change

Rep. George Nokes of Corsicana, House leader of the Senate-passed bill setting new education standards and a new method of financing the school program, opposed the amendment by Rep. J. F. Gray of Three Rivers.

Rep. William S. Jameson of El Paso offered an amendment to insure that every school district would receive at least $55 per capita from the state. He said that a smaller amount would mean districts would have to raise local tax rates.

The bill's backers said that would kill the idea of giving aid on a basis of real need. The amendment was downed, 80 to 46.

An amendment to cut the total amount of local support of education from $45 million a year to $37 million was also defeated 94 to 34.

Nokes said local support under the present method of financing public schools totaled $64 million in 1946-47, or 47 per cent of the overall cost. The G-A bill calls only for 25 per cent from local districts, the state paying the rest.

Other Amendments Defeated

On Gray's amendment relating to transportation aid, Nokes said the G-A bill would increase the allowance from a current outlay of $7 million a year to $10 million. He thought that was liberal enough.

"This is the first time I've ever heard Mr. Nokes worrying about the cost of the Gilmer-Aikin program," shouted Rep. Joe Fleming of Henderson. "They don't mind raising teachers pay, but they won't protect our school children."

The amendment was passed by a 78-to-57 vote.

Earlier, G-A proponents were able to knock down all other amendments they considered harmful. One sought to give teachers with bachelor degrees pay increases for each year of experience through 15 years instead of 12 as provided in the minimum school foundation bill by Senator Otis Lock of Lufkin.

Another would have cut the

TESTS UNDERWAY ON WELL

Prospects Boosted For New Oil Production In Central Scurry

Prospects of a new Canyon-Pennsylvanian producing area were developed on a drillstem test at Magnolia Petroleum company No. 1 Eicke, central Scurry county wildcat.

The venture called a tentative top of the Canyon reef on 6,767 feet. The test was from 6,765 feet to 6,778 feet, with the tool open two hours.

Gas reached the surface in 25 minutes. Gas volume was too small to be of consequence. Recovery was 215 feet of drilling mud, 185 feet of heavily oil and gas cut mud, 450 feet of 30.8-gravity oil cut 1.6 per cent mud, 135 feet of oil cut 18 per cent mud and 6,500 feet of heavily oil and gas cut mud.

Flowing bottom hole pressure was 300-350 pounds. After 15 minutes shutin, pressure was 2,950 pounds.

The development was running casing. Further testing then is to be made.

Nearest production is at the same company's No. 1 Moore, Canyon discovery one and one-half miles to the south. The current strike is thought by some observers to be the same reservoir.

Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 209, block 97, H&TC survey, about four miles west of the town of Snyder.

Barnsdall Oil company No. 1 Billie Williams is to be a 10,000-foot wildcat in Southwest Lynn county. Operations at the venture are to start by May 2.

The drillsite is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 2, block 8, EL&RR survey. That makes it six miles southwest of the town of Tahoka.

Rotary tools will be used. The slated destination of 10,000 feet is calculated to take the exploration

Discussion Set On Rent Control

Should Lubbock rents be decontroled?

The issue will come up at 8 p. m. for discussion in the auditorium of the second floor of the county courthouse.

T. E. (Chief) May, chairman of a committee recently appointed to arrange the public meeting, will preside.

"We hope that a large crowd of landlords, tenants, and others will be present and state their stand on the issue," he said.

"All who wish to be heard will be heard."

Vote To Be taken

A vote will be taken after the discussions. If it is so desired, recommendation will be made to the city commission that a public hearing be scheduled on the problem.

Should the commission decide, based upon the public hearing's evidence, that rents should be decontroled, that finding would be sent to the governor for approval.

Under the new law, rents will go off if the governor approves action of a city counsel in voting to end controls.

"With the air force base planning to set up permanently here and other evidences of a growing city, the matter of rent control, or lack of it, affects everybody here—directly or indirectly," a spokesman for the committee arranging tonight's meeting said.

Group Leaves Today For LAFB Conference

Mayor W. H. Rodgers, Spencer A. Wells and A. B. Davis will leave today for Shreveport, La., where they will confer tomorrow with Maj. Gen. Robert Harper concerning problems connected with the forthcoming reactivation of Lubbock Air Force base.

Wells is chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Air Force Affairs committee and Davis is manager of the chamber.

General Harper, who commands all Air Force training stations, has his headquarters at Barksdale Air Force Base, near Shreveport.

Journalism Meet To Open At Tech Friday

The annual Southwestern Journalism Congress which will be held at Texas Technological college Friday and Saturday will get under way tonight in the Hilton hotel when the Tech chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, nationwide fraternity for women in journalism, is host to visiting member delegates at a banquet.

The congress, of which the Tech journalism department is acting as host, will attract delegates from seven other member schools in Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana. It was founded in 1927 at Baylor university. With the exception of a few years during World War II, the congress has been meeting regularly each year.

The congress has established as its purpose a means whereby professional journalists and newspapermen could talk with both faculty and students who are planning to enter the field of journalism.

Tech Students Register

Prof. Cecil Horne, head of Tech's journalism department and president of the congress, announced Wednesday that registration of Tech journalism students for the congress was under way. He said local students were being allowed to register in order that incoming delegates might be taken care of as quickly as possible.

Prof. Horne said around 200 student and faculty members of the schools of journalism in Oklahoma university, Oklahoma A&M, Texas university, Baylor university, Southern Methodist university, Louisiana State university, Texas State college for Women and Texas Tech are expected to attend the two-day meeting.

Banquet Slated Tonight

Miss Malvina Stephenson, nationally known newspaper woman and columnist, will be the principal speaker at the Theta Sig banquet. It will begin at 6:30 p. m. in the main ballroom of the Hilton.

Immediately following the banquet at 8 p.m., on the mezzanine floor of the Hilton, all incoming delegates will register. A buffet supper for the incoming delegates will be held in the Yaqui room of the Hilton at the same time. There will be entertainment in which all delegates will participate.

The congress-proper will begin Friday morning with a registration period for 9 a.m. until 9:30 a.m. in front of the Aggie building on the campus. Earlier Friday at 7 a.m. the Theta Sigma Phi will hold its annual convention rally breakfast at Hectors. Miss Juanita Schlitz of Dallas will be the speaker at the breakfast.

Junell To Give Welcome

After the registration Horne will call the congress to order in the Aggie Memorial auditorium in the agriculture building. Rev. David L. Zacharias, pastor of the Westminister Presbyterian church will give the invocation.

CAPT. A. B. SANSOM

Frank Junell, administrative assistant to Tech's president, will give the welcome address on behalf of the college. Homer D. Grant, president of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, will welcome the delegates on behalf of the city.

After the welcome addresses, Horne will introduce officers and special guests. Guests who will address the congress proper include some of the best known speakers in the field of journalism.

Sansom Funeral Rites Set Friday

Funeral services for Capt. Altus B. Sansom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Altus Sansom, 2507 Twenty-second, who was killed in an airplane crash, March 27, on Mt. Fugii, Japan, will be conducted at 3 p.m. Friday at the First Baptist church.

Capt. Sansom's body is due to arrive from Seattle, Wash., at 1 p.m. today. Bryan McDonald & Son Funeral home will have charge of arrangements.

Dr. J. Ralph Grant, pastor, will officiate in the services. Interment will be in Tech Memorial park cemetery.

Graduate Of Tech

Pallbearers will be: Dr. A. G. Barsh, Dr. Lee Hale, Dr. John Chalk, Turner Kimmel, Aubrey Thompson and Orville Alderson.

Capt. Sansom was born in Dallas, Aug. 15, 1924 and moved to Lubbock with his parents in 1927. He attended the Lubbock public schools and was graduated from Lubbock Senior High school in 1940 with high honors, being valedictorian of his class. As a high school student, he participated in many activities including two years of debating.

Entering Tech that fall, he received his B.S. in absentia in 1944 after entering medical school at the University of Texas at Galveston in 1943.

He graduated from the medical school with honors in April 1946, being salutatorian of his class. He was president of his fraternity, Phi Chi, while in medical school.

Took Special Training

He interned in Philadelphia General hospital, Philadelphia, Pa., from May 1, 1946 to July 1, 1947. While there he was president of the Blockley organization for internes.

Oct. 1, 1947, he entered Randolph Field, San Antonio, for three-months special training in aviation medicine in which he graduated No. 1 out of a class of 102.

Capt. Sansom went overseas Jan. 20, 1948, to Japan where he had been serving as flight surgeon in the Fifth Air Force, when he was killed. He was to have come home on Sept. 1 this year.

Village constables in India's United Provinces must supply their own bicycles.

Youth Testifies In Dean's Slaying

CLEBURNE, April 27 (AP)—"I hit him because I was mad," Arthur Clayton Hester testified at his murder trial here tonight. He is accused of bludgeoning to death Dr. John Lord, 70, his guardian.

"I was mad because he promised that morning to let me use the car that night," Hester said. "He promised to let me use the car if I would submit to an unnatural act. And I did."

Hester, a jaunty 18-year-old, took the stand in his own defense at 7:30 p.m. He concluded his testimony at 9:30 p.m. and court recessed until 9 a.m. tomorrow. At that time the state will begin its crossexamination of him.

Dr. Lord was killed last March 8. Hester was arrested in Los Angeles March 12.

Hester said he met Dr. Lord, who was dean of the graduate school at Texas Christian university in Fort Worth, at a Fort Worth theatre in 1945. "He made improper advances to me then," Hester asserted.

The youth said Dr. Lord offered him a job if he would go to the dean's house and live.

Hester said he joined the Navy in January, 1947, and remained a sailor until December, 1948, when he was dishonorably discharged.

Employed As Caretaker

He related that he was given a summary court marshal, a general court marshal and his discharge from the Navy because he had overstayed leaves.

He said he failed to return to duty at the end of his leave in all three instances because Dr. Lord wrote him letters imploring him to come back to Fort Worth. Hester said each time he did go back.

The youth testified Dr. Lord had bought a farm near Burleson in January of this year and asked "me to come and live with him."

Hester said Dr. Lord employed him as a caretaker and agreed to pay him $50 a month.

Youth Comes Home Late

Hester said he would leave the farm, 7 miles from Burleson, occasionally and go to Rort Worth.

"Three days before the fight," Hester said, "I went to Fort Worth and fooled around doing nothing in particular."

He continued, "I came in late the night before the fight and went to bed. Dr. Lord came into my room that morning and we had the argument about the car and about the money I was supposed to get."

The state closed its case about 4:45 p.m. It had called seven witnesses.

Journalism Congress To Open At Texas Tech Friday; Banquet Is Scheduled For Tonight

28 he will be perhaps, the youngest speaker to talk to the group. Miss Stephenson will also speak to the whole group. She has become famous through her daily column, "Mirrors of Washington."

Others Will Speak

Students will learn about editorial writing from Ernest Kirschten, chief editorial writer of The St. Louis Post-Dispatch. The editorial page of the Post-Dispatch won a Pulitizer prize for its campaign to do away with smoke in St. Louis.

Don Hinga, roving editor of The Houston Chronicle, will talk about magazine article writing. Dr. Ralph Casey, director of the school of journalism at the University of Minnesota will speak of the social responsibilities of the press.

Journalism graduates in the field of radio will be touched on by R. B. McAlister, manager of Station KICA in Clovis, N. M. He is former program director for KFYO in Lubbock. Another interesting comparison will be made when John L. Mortimer, public relations director for U. S. Steel in Houston, will tell of public relations work.

Banquet Friday Night

Delegates will be guests at a banquet at the Lubbock Country club Friday night. Main speaker for the banquet will be Dr. Casey and Lynn Landrum, columnist for The Dallas Morning News. Landrum's column, "Thinking Out Loud" is widely read. He says he prefers to be known as simply, "Lynn Landrum, tax payer and newspaper man." A dance will follow the banquet.

Saturday's speakers include Nolan Norgaard, head of Associated Press bureau in Oklahoma City. Norgaard is famous for his coverage as a war correspondent in World War II. He was present when Rudolph Hess parachuted into Scotland in 1943 and when the Allies landed in North Africa.

Ward C. Mayborn, publisher of The Sherman Democrat, and Paul White, editor of The Ford News, will be two more of the top speakers. A highlight of the congress will be a panel discussion during which students may ask questions from the floor.

Members of the panel include: Keen Rafferty, head of the school of journalism at the University of New Mexico; Robert Whipkey, managing editor of the Big Spring Daily Herald; Forrest Weimhold, publisher of The Hockley County Herald; Bill Donnell, city editor of The Wichita Falls Times and N. Dwight Allison, managing editor of the San Antonio Light.

The congress will adjourn after a business meeting Saturday afternoon.

number of years experience for which masters degree teachers could receive pay increases from 26 to 15.

The Senate turned down a change made by the House yesterday in the proposed constitutional amendment to abolish the poll tax requirement for voting. A conference committee to iron out differences was named.

Senate and House took time out from business during the morning to hear former Ambassador to Russia William C. Bullitt discuss the threat of Communism. He was vigorously applauded in his denunciation of present administration policy toward Russia. He suggested more aggressiveness on the part of the United States.

through the Pennsylvanian.

Barnsdall's No. 1 Billie Williams will be 2,970 feet north of the same company's No. 1 Lennie Williams, which was completed on November 9, 1945, as a dry hole, on a total depth of 7,509 feet.

The No. 1 Lennie Williams logged some slight signs of oil and gas, but none of the indications were sufficient to make any sort of a commercial producer.

Barnsdall Oil company has spotted a west offset to a recent Canyon discovery in north-central Scurry county as its No. 1 A. L. Wren, an outpost to Sunray Oil corporation No. 1 Brown, strike formerly operated by Ryan, Hays and Burke.

The Barnsdall operation will be located 660 feet from north and east lines of tract 9, section 20, block 1, J. P. Smith survey. Elevation is 2,477 feet.

It is to be a 6,700-foot, rotary tool venture, starting by May 2.

The Sunray discovery was last reported making production tests of the Canyon preparatory to taking potential.

Humble Oil & Refining company ran two more drillstem tests in the northwest Scurry county Ellenburger with its No. 1 Edmondson, wildcat eight and one-half miles northwest of Snyder.

A 51-minute examination was taken at 8,195-8,225 feet, showing a week blow of air for eight minutes and recovering 20 feet of drilling mud. There were no shows of oil, gas or water.

The other test was at 8,235-55 feet, with the tool open 40 minutes. A slight blow of air held at the surface for 15 minutes. Recovery was 20 feet of drilling mud with no shows.

Operator has drilled ahead to 8,285 feet, set a packer at 8,255 and on last report was running another drillstem test.

Location is 330 feet from north and east lines of section 437, block 97, H&TC survey.

A drillstem test was taken at Lone Star Production company No. 1 Maule, deep wildcat in the area west of the North Snyder pool of North Scurry county.

The tool was open 50 minutes at 8,177-8,238 feet and recovered 15 feet of drilling mud with no shows. More hole was being made in lime and chert.

The Senate dawdled through an hour-long session in the afternoon.

Senator Keith Kelly of Fort Worth explained a House bill which would raise fees of the state bar. The Senate recessed until 10 a.m. tomorrow without taking action on amendment by Kelly to raise fees from the House-approved $5 to $7. Present fees are $4 annually.

Second Kentucky Siamese Twin Follows Infant Sister In Death

OWENSBORO, Ky., April 27. (AP)—The second member of Siamese twin girls born to a 23-year-old mother died last night eight hours after a separation operation in a vain attempt to save her.

The twins were born yesterday at 11:30 a.m. to Mrs. Melvin Glover, jr., by caesarean operation, authorities at Owensboro-Davies county hospital announced. Mrs. Glover is in a fair condition, the hospital said.

The twins were back to back, joined at the base of their spines. Physicians reported one of the twins was physically perfect, but the other lacked discharge openings and could have lived only a few days. Death to the one twin would have proved fatal to the second, had they still been joined.

SMALL RETAILERS OPTIMISTIC

U.S. Businessmen Expect Sales Volume To Approach 1948 Level

By ALLAN J. FUNCH
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 27—The government announced today that businessmen expect their 1949 sales volume of basic goods and services to be close to the high level of 1948.

This optimistic forecast was disclosed in a survey conducted jointly by the Commerce department and the Securities and Exchange commission.

The department reported, at the same time, that small firms are more pessimistic than big business about the future.

Expenditure Decline Seen

The Commerce department, in announcing results of the survey, said that businessmen generally anticipate a decline of about five per cent in expenditures for plant and equipment from the 1948 record. This still would be very high. These outlays are regarded by economists as a key prosperity indicator.

It was estimated "roughly" that the demand for new automobiles will exceed production for another 20 to 22 months at the current rate of output.

The department also reported that the backlog of washing machines and vacuum cleaners has been filled and that a still-unquenched clamor for electric refrigerators should be satisfied by the end of the year.

Auto Dealers Optimistic

Because of the gap between demand and supply, auto dealers expect sales to increase during 1949.

The department pointed to the check in the unemployment rise in March as another encouraging spring development.

Continuation of the cautious buying attitude previously noted among both business and consumers was noted in March.

But the department said that retail sales generally picked up in March so that the dollar volume held up to the January and February levels, despite price declines.

The dollar volume of retail sales for the first quarter of 1949 were about three per cent below the last quarter of 1948.

Personal income in February was running at the annual rate of 214.5 billion dollars, a drop of about four billion dollars from December's high. As in the case of the retail sales, this is not looked upon as a serious decline.

Retail Stocks Decline

The Commerce department explained that, after sales had leveled off toward the end of 1948, businessmen acted promptly to check their accumulation of inventories. This was particularly true of retailers. Retail stocks declined during the winter.

The survey revealed that manufacturing industries expect their 1949 sales to be only seven-tenths of one per cent below the 1948 level. Other industry expectations were:

Electric and gas utilities, up 3.7 per cent; other commercial and miscellaneous businesses, up 1.1 per cent; the mining industry, down 2.6 per cent; carriers other than railroads, down nine-tenths of one per cent, and businesses engaging in trade, down two-tenths of one per cent.

Motorist Killed, Truck Driver Hurt In Accident Near Crockett

CROCKETT, April 27 (AP)—Dennis Iran Daniels, 33, of Grapeland, Tex., was killed instantly and another man was critically hurt when Daniels' automobile collided head-on with a truck near Kennard, Tex., last night.

The negro truck driver, whose name was not available, was in a grave condition.

Funeral services for Daniels will be Thursday.

Fort Worth Landlord Has Change Of Heart After Sleepless Night

FORT WORTH, April 27. (U.P.)—A Fort Worth landlord, who couldn't sleep "half the night because of a guilty conscience," today sought a woman and child to whom he refused to rent a room yesterday.

He is M. B. Hale, who wants to offer the woman and youngster the roof, with kitchen privileges.

Hale said he told the woman when she called yesterday that he would rather not take a child. Then after the call, he said he "got to feeling mean and low."

"I'm a human being and I was a child myself 75 years ago," Hale said.

Phone Company Still Repairing Lines Damaged In Ice Storms

FORT WORTH, April 27. (U.P.)—About 50 telephone repairmen still are working here and in West Texas to make permanent restoration of lines damaged by January's ice storm.

Ed J. Ernest, division manager of Southwestern Bell Telephone company, said all the work would be completed in about three weeks.

Some kinds of fish can survive being frozen in ice, but the length of time they are frozen and the conditions under which the ice melts are important factors to survival.

LEWIS BLASTS T-H LABOR ACT

Mine Chief 'Hopes' To Get New Coal Contract Without Strike

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 27 — John L. Lewis said today he "hopes" a new coal mining contract can be negotiated without a strike.

Lewis, in an unusually conciliatory mood, spoke out after a two-day meeting of his United Mine workers 200-man policy committee on strategy in the negotiations for a work pact to succeed the current agreement which expires June 30.

The committee did not set a date for bargaining sessions with the nation's coal mine operators. Neither did the operators, who also met in Washington today and will meet again tomorrow.

The UMW policy group did, however, grant Lewis full authority to draft a 1949 contract.

Attacks Labor Law

Lewis returned to his customary aggressiveness as he struck two more blows at the Taft-Hartley labor act. First he told newsmen he hoped a new contract could be negotiated without "imposition of oppressive legal sanctions by government." He said he meant:

"The utilization of the infamous and vicious Taft-Hartley law. The use of brutal injunctions whereby the mine workers are convicted at the whim of the judiciary as has happened in the past."

Then the boss of 450,000 soft and hard coal diggers served notice the UMW will boycott hearings scheduled to begin Thursday on alleged violation of the T-H statute by Lewis' current contract with 18 steel companies which own coal mines.

Hearing May Be Blocked

A spokesman for the National Labor Relations board said it was doubtful if the hearings could start in view of the development. An NLRB examiner has ruled that the contract flouts the law by permitting a union shop without an employes' election to sanction the arrangement.

Lewis has been unable to request the NLRB to hold such an election because he refused to sign an affidavit disavowing Communism required by the law before board services can be utilized. Lewis is violently anti-red but won't sign "on principle."

Today UMW said the board examiner exceeded his authority and that its position has been made amply clear by briefs previously submitted.

In a formal statement after the policy meeting, Lewis said:

"The policy committee joins with all other Americans in the constructive hope that a new agreement in the anthracite and bituminous coal industry can be consumated without strife or economic loss and, for once, without the imposition of oppressive legal sanctions by government."

Lewis would give no indication as to when he will notify the mine owners of his desires regarding a conference date. Either party under the current pact can give notice of termination and desire to write a new agreement. Lewis must act before May 1 to satisfy the T-H act's requirement of 60 days notice of termination.

Southern operators have already notified Lewis they will end the current agreement, but the UMW chief has not replied.

5 doctors prove this plan breaks the laxative habit

If you take laxatives regularly—here's how you can stop!

Because 5 New York doctors now have proved you may break the laxative habit. And establish your natural powers of regularity. Eighty-three per cent of the cases tested did it. So can you.

Stop taking whatever you now take. Instead: Every night for one week take 2 Carter's Pills. Second week—one each night. Third week—one every other night. Then—nothing!

Every day: drink eight glasses of water; set a definite time for regularity.

Five New York doctors proved this plan can break the laxative habit.

How can a laxative break the laxative habit? Because Carter's Pills "unblock" the lower digestive tract and from then on let it make use of its own natural powers.

Further—Carter's Pills contain no habit-forming drugs.

Break the laxative habit . . . with Carter's Pills . . . and be regular naturally.

Car Buying Predicted To Drop From First Quarter's Average

DETROIT, April 27 (AP) — Is the auto industry putting too much emphasis on production?

Right now car and truck output is at the highest level of more than a decade Many industry experts believe output already exceeds demand for all but a few makes in the lower price bracket.

Up until eight or 10 months ago the industry had a huge backlog of unfilled orders. Dealers were pleading with the factories for more cars. But something happened. Perhaps it was chiefly the steadily mounting prices.

Whatever it was shook out a substantial part of the unfilled orders.

The price cuts that have been made so far this year are encouraging to some extent.

However, for most car buyers the price cuts don't amount to very much. Neither did they stimulate demand very greatly.

The industry is selling a large volume of new cars at present. It will continue to sell nearly 100,000 a week between now and mid-july. But unless there is some serious interruption the assembly lines will turn out far more than that average during the next 12 weeks.

And the sales volume after mid-year cannot keep up with the average of the April-May-June period.

Arguments Slated In Damage Suit Today

Judge G. V. Pardue ordered Wednesday afternoon that a jury return at 1:30 p.m. today to hear the court's charge and arguments of counsel in the damages of C. H. Doggett and Helen Doggett against Berch Scott.

Two cases had been consolidated, court officials said. One, brought by Scott against the Doggetts, sought judgment on a $1,200 note. The other, brought by the Doggetts against Scott, seeks damages as outgrowth of an attachment of the Doggett's grocery stock, court officials said. Obligation on the note is admitted, it further was explained, leaving only what damages, if any, would compensate for the attachment.

The jury is composed of W. A. Austin, L. D. Rogers, Cecil Cagle, I. F. Wallace, C. A. Brewer, Marvin R. Hickman, Earl D. Allen, W. J. Kennemer, L. V. Littrell, Fred E. Walker, Julian M. Joplin, and O. G. Andrews

The Doggetts are represented by James O. Cade, Scott by Homer L. Pharr.

Judge Pardue entered interlocutory judgment Wednesday afternoon in the action of M. L. Wilkison and others against E. J. Burkhead, a suit on note and for foreclosure of chattel mortgage, for Wilkison. The parties had stipulated agreement Tuesday afternoon and the jury was dismissed.

Probe Ordered In Wreck Of British Ship At Rio De Janeiro

RIO DE JANEIRO, April 27 (U.P.) —Maritime police today ordered an investigation into the grounding and splitting in two of the British luxury liner Magdalena on its maiden voyage.

The 17,000-ton royal liner, equipped with every modern navigational aide, broke in two under tow off Rio De Janeiro yesterday after being refloated from a reef on which it had grounded Monday.

The bow, including the bridge, sank close to shore near Sugar Loaf mountain at the entrance to Rio De Janeiro harbor. The remaining two-thirds of the ship stayed afloat long enough to be beached. It has been placed under guard.

All 236 crew members were rescued safely, although four had to be treated for burns. A captain of a tug which was towing the Magdalena said he heard an explosion just before the ship broke in two. He thought it might have been caused by water reaching the liner's engines.

Last to leave the ship was the 59-year-old skipper, Capt. Douglas Lee, who intended to retire when the vessel returned to Britain. He refused to comment on the disaster.

His 358 passengers were removed from the vessel shortly after it had grounded. They took with them only their hand luggage, and it was questionable whether any of their heavy luggage in the ship's hold could be salvaged.

Parent-Teacher Group To Give Three-Act Play At New Home

Krug Asks Oil Industry To Seek Solution To Tidelands 'Deadlock'

WASHINGTON, April 27. (U.P.)—Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug today asked petroleum industry representatives to find some way to break the "deadlock" over ownership of the oil rich tidelands.

However, no solution would be "feasible," he said, if it required the federal government to quit its claim of ownership to the tidelands. He spoke to the National Petroleum council, the industry advisory committee to the government.

HST Veto Hinted

Krug said he is "confident" that President Truman will veto any bill giving the tidelands back to the states. He added that at the same time Congress apparently will not pass legislation to establish more firmly the Supreme court's ruling that the federal government has "paramount interest" over California tidelands.

Meanwhile, he said, one of the main problems facing the country is the fact that no new oil development can be undertaken in the California tidelands.

Suggestions Asked

Krug also asked the council to suggest ways and means for the "proper handling" of oil imports so that they will not adversely affect domestic production. The council also should investigate means to provide an "adequate cushion" of reserve oil supplies in event of an emergency, he said.

Walter Hallanan, council president, said that council members have expressed concern over whether the Economic Co-operation administration's program for building up European oil industry would create a "Frankenstein that would come back to haunt us."

Wife Of TCU Coach Dies In Fort Worth; Rites Set Today

FORT WORTH, April 27 (U.P.)—Mrs. Margaret Marrs Meyer, wife of TCU varsity coach, L. R. (Dutch) Meyer, died early today at her home here after a long illness.

A native of Mansfield, Mrs. Meyer had lived here 23 years. She and her husband observed their 25th wedding anniversary last January.

Mrs. Meyer had been in failing health the past six years, and in the last two she had received a number of blood transfusions.

Despite her illness, however, she retained an active interest in Southwest sports activities and particularly in the TCU football teams.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow in University Christian church, conducted by Dr. Granville Walker. Burial will be in Mansfield.

One-Time Friend Of U. S. Public Enemy Indicted In Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, April 27. (AP)—S. J. Whatley, 34, one-time friend of desperado Clyde Barrow, has been indicted on two counts of burglary.

The grand jury returned the indictments against the Dallas man yesterday.

Whatley was once convicted for harboring Barrow and his girl friend, Bonnie Parker. These two were shot to death by officers after an intensive manhunt in the early thirties.

He was sentenced to 12 years in prison for shooting and critically wounding Mrs. Henry Barrow, mother of Clyde. He was released from the state penitentiary a year ago.

Services Set Today For A. C. Pickens

Funeral services for Arley Clifton Pickens, 44, of 2821 Merthel, will be held at 3 p.m. today in Tabernacle Baptist church.

Rev. Ralph McCoy, pastor, assisted by Rev. Cecil Ray, will officiate.

Burial will be in Tech Memorial park under the direction of Rix Funeral home.

Pickens died unexpectedly, while working for the McDonald Engineering company at the Producers Grain elevator under construction. Justice of the Peace C. E. Lynn indicated a verdict of death from natural causes, presumably heart attack, would be returned.

Pickens had lived in Lubbock approximately three years, having moved here from Phillips.

Survivors include the wife; two sisters, Mrs. Jack Earnest and Mrs. J. B. Rigdon, both of Borger; two brothers, A. O. Pickens of Odessa, and Perry Pickens of Eunice, N. M.; and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Pickens of Durant, Okla.

Negro Convict Dies As Result Of Stabbing At Texas Prison Farm

ANGLETON, Tex., April 27 (AP)—J. P. McNeil, 32-year-old negro serving a 10-year murder sentence from Gregg county, was stabbed to death today at Ramsey prison farm near here.

O. B. Ellis, general manager of the Texas Prison system, said McNeil was stabbed by a 22-year-old negro from Houston.

Ellis said the two negroes had been involved in two previous stabbings with other inmates.

Texas Congressmen Deny Report They Will Back Lesinski Bill

(Special To The Avalanche)

WASHINGTON, April 27—Several Texas Congressmen denied here today that they intended to vote for the Lesinski bill to change the Taft-Hartley law, as stated by Fulton Lewis, jr., radio commentator, last night.

Lewis said an unnamed Southerner had told him that Speaker Sam Rayburn, Bonham, had lined up Representatives Wright Patman, Texarkana; W. R. Poage, Waco; John Lyle, Corpus Christi; Eugene Worley, Shamrock; George Mahon, Colorado City; and Homer Thornberry, Austin, to vote for the Lesinski bill.

Many members describe the Wood bill as being revisional but more in line with retaining the present law, while the Lesinski bill is termed quite similar to the old Wagner act.

No Comment By Rayburn

Asked first to comment, Speaker Rayburn said in effect that he would refuse to dignify Lewis' remarks by making any comment.

Among other things, Lewis said Rayburn had informed persons in the cloak room that the Easter recess had been a good thing as it had enabled labor to pressure Congressmen so that now he has enough votes to pass the Lesinski bill. Lewis said a number of these votes came from Texas and the South.

Here's how the Texans reacted:

Poage—"I am not going to vote for the Lesinski bill. I presently intend to vote for the Wood bill. I think I would vote for the Taft-Hartley law to be continued. It is not perfect, but it has good features. Mr. Rayburn has never directly or indirectly mentioned this to me. Neither has Mr. Lewis nor anyone working for him that I know of."

Mahon Seeks Changes

Lyle—"I had not planned to vote for the Lesinski bill. I am opposed to it. I am also against the Wood bill. I will support a number of amendments to the Taft-Hartley act which I think should be there."

Lyle indicated he might vote for the Lesinski bill if it is amended heavily to incorporate certain features.

Mahon—"I have not talked to Mr. Rayburn. I have only seen him at a distance since my return from Texas. I have had no message from him directly or indirectly. During my stay in Texas, none of my friends in or outside of organized labor made any specific appeal to me in connection with pending legislation. I would not support the Lesinski bill unless it were drastically amended to include the better provisions of the Taft-Hartley act."

Burleson—"I have not yet made up my mind as to how I am going to vote. It depends upon parliamentary procedure used. I don't expect to vote for the Lesinski bill in its present form."

Wheelchair Tourist Arrives In Longview

CLOVIS, N. M., April 27 (INS) — Bill Lebo, 43-year-old infantile paralysis victim, was traveling across the United States today in his hand-propelled wheel chair, enroute to New York from Clovis in a drive to raise money for a children's hospital.

Lebo, who has been in a wheel chair for 35 years, started out from Clovis, and reached Longview, Texas, 600 miles east today. He is traveling by way of Warm Springs, Ga., and covers 15 miles a day.

Lebo is selling pictures of himself. The proceeds will go into a building fund for a crippled children's hospital in Clovis.

The wheel chair traveler has appeared on the "This Is Your Life" radio show in Hollywood, and will appear on the "Experience Speaks" program. Money from the radio shows also will go into the fund, and when Lebo has completed his journey, the wheel chair will be auctioned off. He also plans to sell his shirt for $100, and give the money to the fund.

CUTTING IT FINE

ALFRED, N. Y. (U.P.)—An instrument which will measure the weight of a pencil mark or a puff of smoke has been installed for experimental testing at the naval research laboratory at Alfred university. The device is known as the electronic thermobalance.

TO VISIT KIWANIS CLUB—Dr. F. L. McDonald, governor of the Texas-Oklahoma district of Kiwanis, will be principal speaker at the luncheon of the Lubbock Kiwanis club at Hotel Lubbock today noon. Dr. McDonald, director of the Texas State College for Women departments of journalism and public relations since 1935, is to be here attending the Southwestern Journalism congress at Texas Tech. Dr. McDonald served nearly five years in the Army during World War II, and held the rank of colonel. Today's visit will be his first official visit to the Lubbock club and the South Plains area. Members of the Plainview and Lamesa clubs will come here to hear his talk. Dr. McDonald will be introduced by Burritt S. Mills, chairman of the inter-club relations committee of the Texas-Oklahoma district.

TRAFFIC HAS TO WAIT

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (U.P.)—A young student policeman at St. Mary's school made the most of his authority when he was directing traffic at a busy intersection. He blew his whistle and tied up traffic several minutes while his puppy frolicked to the other side.

In Southern Rhodesia used car prices have dropped 35 per cent recently.

Texas U. Faculty Member Urges Funds To Study River Basin Secrets Before Dams Built

By SARAH McCLENDON
Avalanche
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Before numerous rivers in Texas are dammed under the present programs of the Army engineers, the land which is to be flooded with water should first be made to give up its secrets about the past, otherwise much yaluable information will be lost, T. M. Campbell, chairman of the department of anthropology of the University of Texas, has notified Senator Tom Connally.

Campbell and Alex D. Krieger, who is conducting research in archaeology, asks that $180,000 of the Interior department's appropriation be restored by the Senate. This fund would be used for river basin studies. The item was cut out of the money bill by the House.

Value Of Studies Explained

River basins about to be covered by the Leon river dam near Temple, the Lavan dam near McKinney and dams near Canyon and Texarkana are of chief concern by the university officials now.

They say that these river basin studies now can yield much valuable information on the changing course of rivers, climactic fluctuations and what kinds of crops to grow. No longer do these studies produce only Indian arrowheads and beads for museums. Scientists have discovered that much valuable information to present generations and to posterity can be obtained from these studies. Climate, which formerly was thought to change over long periods, can now be seen as changing in hundreds not thousands of years. Great changes in activity are noted for the rivers to be dammed which should be of much interest to the flood control engineers, the experts say. Also, much can be learned about the supply of water, now a No. 1 problem in Texas.

"It's easy to cut out an appropriation of this character because there are no politicians pulling for it," said Campbell.

Senator Connally is going to try to get the sum restored to the bill.

NTSTC Issue Results In Official Ruling

AUSTIN, April 27 (AP) — Changing the name of North Texas State Teachers college would not bar it from sharing in funds provided under the college building amendment, the attorney general ruled today.

He had been asked for an opinion on the effect of the bill by Senator R. L. Proffer of Justin. Proffer's bill would change the name of the college to North Texas State, and set it up under a separate board of regents.

Assistant Attorney General Chester E. Ollison offered the Senate committee on education a proposed re-draft of the Proffer bill to meet possible objections that it "was drawn to circumvent the constitutional provisions found in section 17 of article seven in order that the legislature might provide from the general revenue fund for its building requirements in violation of these provisions."

The bill as revised, Ollison said, would not bar the Denton school from sharing in building funds provided under the amendment adopted in 1947.

DE LUXE BUT RESTRICTED

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (U.P.)—Mrs. R. J. Barber decided not to take the furnished room in a "de luxe" rooming house, even though utilities were furnished. A sign in the bathroom read: "Baths on Mondays, Wednesday, Fridays, only."

Siam expects a good rice year, with 1,000,000 tons available for export.

Rites For William L. Hillis Are Scheduled Here Today

Funeral services for William L. Hillis, 68 of 2106 Ave. L, will be held at 3 p.m. today in Asbury Methodist church.

Rev. C. A. Bickley, pastor, assisted by Rev. Austin Moore, of Wellington, will officiate.

Burial will be in Lubbock Memorial park under the direction of Bryan McDonald & Son Funeral home.

Hillis died at 2 a.m. Wednesday in Lubbock Memorial hospital after a lengthy illness.

He had been a resident of Lubbock for the last 12 years.

Survivors include the wife; three daughters, Mrs. W. R. Adams, Mrs. Bob Rainwater and Mrs. Roy Lambert, all of Lubbock; three sons, W. L. Hillis, jr., of Ropesville, and W. C. and Gilbert T. Hillis, both of Lubbock; two sisters, Mrs. Frank C. Horn of Holdenville, Okla., and Miss Nannie Hillis of Clovis; two brothers, A. J. Hillis of Portales and T. J. Hillis of Snyder; 10 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be T. P. Hughes, Bill Whitaker, C. H. Andrews, H. E. Ross, E. M. Martin and Jack Foster.

Ancient gold mines in Hyderabad, India, will be opened up through installation of $3,000,000 worth of modern machinery by a newly formed company.

Goes On Easily! Wears Longer!
Believe me, the finer materials used in Cook's Paints make a difference . . . when you apply them . . . and the way they wear. Yes, the finest modern pigments and specially refined linseed oil used in Cook's Paints produce a paint that spreads easily, gives you better coverage and real savings through extra seasons of wear.

You Get 3-COAT PROTECTION AT 2-COAT COST WITH COOK'S PAINTS

"One Coat for the Wood."
It's Cook's amazing new primer discovery, SUPERWHITE PRIMER. It sticks as tight as the paint on your car. It seals—doesn't soak in—provides a base that lets the finish coat last much longer.

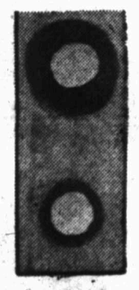

"One Coat for the Weather."
Cook's HOUSE PAINT, used over Superwhite Primer gives you a surface that laughs at the weather for so many more seasons. Thousands of home owners agree that Cook's 2-coat system actually saves them money.

Controlled penetration makes this difference!
Equal amounts of ordinary paint and Cook's Superwhite Primer were dropped on a test panel. Look at the results!

Ordinary Paint
Note the large amount of oil that is absorbed by the surface. Where this happens, there is not enough oil left in the film to bind the pigment particles of the paint together permanently.

Cook's Superwhite Primer
Here the oil remains in the paint film to bind the pigment particles tightly together. You get paint value of 2 coats—a primer and undercoat—in one coat of Superwhite Primer.

Czech Official Severs Ties With Country, Requests Asylum In U.S.

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Josef Schejbal, military and air attache at the Czech embassy here, has quit his job and asked political asylum in the United States, it was learned today.

Schejbal was the second official in recent days to sever connections with the Communist government of Czechoslovakia and seek refuge in this country.

Hugo Skala, a high official of the Czechoslovak ministry of finance, resigned as No. 2 man on a Czech economic mission which arrived here a couple of weeks ago.

State Department Contacted

Schejbal wrote to the State department last Thursday explaining what he had done and asking asylum.

Diplomatic sources who revealed Skala's action said he waited to make his move of renunciation until his family escaped from Czechoslovakia. They said his family reached the western zone of Germany on Good Friday, about the time Skala arrived here.

These latest defections from Soviet satellite nations swelled the growing colony of anti-Communist eastern Europeans in this country.

"Iron curtain" nations represented here by former officials now fugitive from their Communist regimes include Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, and Romania.

Schejbal and his wife and son Dusan, now 14, came here two years and one month ago.

Mrs. Schejbal said her husband left his embassy job last week because he "did not like the politics" of his home government.

Asked if the family will remain in Washington, she said, "yes." Then she added, "but we must find job."

Schejbal is 46. During the war, a refugee in England from the Nazis, he was a colonel in the Czech element of the Royal Air Force.

San Angelo Man Sentenced To Life Term On Assault Charge

SAN ANGELO, April 27 (AP)—A sentence of life imprisonment has been given Tom Randolph Griffin, convicted here last night of rape.

A 119th District court jury found Griffin was sane at the time of the attack upon an 11-year-old San Angelo girl March 3.

The jury assessed the life sentence for the 48-year-old former employe of a carbon plant.

Defense attorneys William C. McDonald and W. W. Tupper said today they will file a motion for a new trial today or tomorrow.

During the trial Tuesday, the rape victim testified she accepted a ride with Griffin and was taken to suburban Lakeview where he attacked her.

Tire Sales Firm To Observe Anniversary

In connection with the 50th anniversary of one of the world's most famous trademarks, the "Little Fisk Boy," Shook tire company is opening a 10-day tire sale for the purpose of demonstrating advantages of low-pressure tires, G. V. Fulton, manager, announced Wednesday.

A "three-day free trial" period will be a feature of the sale, Fulton said. The company will equip cars with a set of Fisk Air-Borne tires. And if the owner is not satisfied at the end of three days, the original tires will be returned to the wheels without cost.

Shook Tire company is jobber for Fisk tires from the Fort Worth-Dallas area west through New Mexico and part of Oklahoma. It operates stores here and at San Angelo, Sweetwater and Abilene.

Elmo R. Bourg, of New Orleans, special sales representative for the Fisk tire division of United States Tire and Rubber company, is in Lubbock completing arrangements for the event.

NIGHT PARKING

Spotlights A Need

THE need for a Citizen's Traffic Advisory commission, which has been suggested often during the past two years, was given added emphasis by the protests resulting from the wholesale tagging of autos for all-night parking on residence streets of Lubbock Monday night.

The protests did not lack justification. All night parking has been a common practice in Lubbock for many years. It is contrary to City ordinance and has been as far back as we can recall. But it has not been enforced. So indignation was natural when, without advance notice, the wholesale tagging took place. Even if the ordinance should be acknowledged to be a good one and even if it should be enforced, people are entitled to fair warning before enforcement is begun.

HOWEVER, all-night parking is only one of the many serious and difficult traffic problems confronting Lubbock, and many other cities. Probably it is somewhat more difficult here than in most cities because of our rapid growth.

No reasonable person will deny that all-night parking is objectionable and hazardous — particularly in Lubbock with its miserably lighted streets. Most owners of cars who have followed the practice don't do so out of preference. They would much prefer the shelter and added security that off-the-street parking would afford. In the vast majority of cases, they park at their curbs at night because no other practical place is available to leave their automobiles.

Yet the practice is so dangerous that it demands corrective action as speedily as possible. The hazards represented by unlighted cars parked on dark streets are too obvious for comment. Many Lubbock streets are almost impassable even to one line of traffic practically every night because of cars parked at both curbs. It takes exceedingly careful driving to thread the narrowed passageways without hitting parked autos.

The all-night parking practice also contributes to civic unsightliness and may, in some degree, create a community health problem. Streets cannot be swept when curbs are lined with parked cars. The condition is one which is making a soiled community of the Lubbock which, for years earned and enjoyed a national reputation as the cleanest city in Texas.

THE problem is not one which can be solved overnight. The practical consideration of the hundreds, or thousands, of people who have no practical place except curbs to park their cars cannot be ignored. Neither can we ignore the bad features of such parking.

We don't know what the answer to the problem may be. If there is one—as assuredly there must be—we believe the often-suggested Citizen's Traffic commission would be most likely to discover it and at the same time, find the answers to numerous other traffic problems here.

The City commission, among many others, has discussed the need for a special traffic group numerous times. Progress invariably has stopped with talk which has gained nothing.

Perhaps recent experiences will obtain the action which has been neglected. Lubbock certainly has nothing to lose, and might gain a great deal, from the creation and activation at once of the special traffic group.

LIEUTENANT LAY tossed the statement on his desk and said, "Run through it again."

Sagmon Robottom sat on a hard wooden chair beside Lay's desk in the cubbyhole that served the homicide chief as an office.

"I did the wrong thing," he said hoarsely. All the hard lines of his face that had been stern now seemed confused and ineffectual.

Lay tapped the statement. "Run through those bare facts again." Leaning against the closed door, Thelma Loomis brushed ashes from her blue patrolman uhiform.

Robottom cleared his throat. "I'm an archaeologist, Lieutenant. I first told the story of the lost Spanish galleon to Barselou more than a year ago. Naturally, I was eager to locate it. So was he and —well, we pooled our talents.

"As time passed, I discovered that Barselou regarded the ship almost fanatically. I knew that it was the Reina's jewels rather than the relics. I made myself overlook his personal motives. But believe me, Lieutenant, I didn't realize how far he'd go!"

"Go on," said Lay inflexibly.

Robottom stared with gray unseeing eyes at the floor. "I supplied him with maps and what knowledge I possessed. He hired a man named Anglin to do the exploration and promised to sponsor an expedition later. A week ago I hurried here from Los Angeles. Anglin had found the ship."

"You certainly hurried," Thelma Loomis put in.

ROBOTTOM went on, "Barselou phoned me Saturday night that a man and a woman named Jones, masquerading under the name of Conover, were trying to beat us to the Reina." Robottom squirmed. "Lieutenant, those relics would have doubled my reputation. I had to discover them first!"

"All right."

"I thought I might be able to bluff the Conovers out. I talked to the woman and thought I had succeeded. I was wrong."

"What about this Faye Jordan?" Lay pressed.

"I met her once—this morning. That's all, Lieutenant. We talked for a few minutes and I gave her a card to Barselou's—ah—"

"Casino," said Lay evenly. "I know about it." He consulted Thelma Loomis' skeptical expression and then turned again to the man across the desk. "You might be in pretty hot water now, you know that? Conspiracy, possible accessory to a murder, intimidation—"

Robottom attempted to straighten the creases of his soiled white trousers but his strong hands were shaking. "What are you going to do to me, Lieutenant?"

"What'll you do if I let you go?"

No hopeful shade crept into Robottom's eyes. His dull voice replied automatically. "Why—I'll go home—my wife—"

The police officer said, "Recognizance and this statement will do me for now. Keep in touch."

IT took John Henry, Barselou, Sin and Trim with his revolver a half hour to climb the 200 feet up to the suspended ship. Anglin had done his work well. A rough ladder of deep steps had been chipped in the soft stone of one cliff, leading up to the stern of the Queen.

Sin clutched at the crude stone steps and kept her eyes as nearly closed as she dared. Then suddenly to one side, was a rotting balcony of sand-covered wood. She grabbed for it and John Henry pulled her onto the desk of the galleon.

"No wonder I couldn't spot it from the air," Barselou muttered. This topmost deck was heaped with sandy dirt and small rocks. Sagebrush, mesquite, a few struggling wild flowers had taken root. From above, it would seem a piece with the surrounding Badlands.

The masts were three broken stumps that barely poked through the small dunes on the main deck below them. Near one rail, the pocket back of a cannon still showed above the sand. John Henry looked nervously at the ground level a few feet over his head.

Trim interpreted the glance and chuckled. "No, Mr. Conover. Down into the hold. That's where the chests will be."

Barselou led the way lightly, but at every step the timbers beneath him creaked and groaned. The four picked their route gingerly across the towering deck, down a rotting flight of steps, and into the low waist of the galleon. Part of the decking had fallen away here, exposing the deck below and forming a sloping incline that joined the two levels.

John Henry eased himself down the splintering boards. Then he extended a hand back to Sin. "They crossed the Pacific in this little boat?" she asked.

"They didn't know any better," said John Henry.

"The risk for the profit," Barselou said heavily.

Trim sidled away from them, his pug-nosed face leaning over the pistol barrel as though he had scented their thoughts. "I warn you. I shed my compunctions easily."

Sin shuddered up against her husband and extended a trembling forefinger. "Look at them!" Sprawled around the deck in haphazard piles were collections of bleached bones. A skull stared at them with hollow eyes as the rising sun caressed it.

"Arvaez' crew," Barselou said in tones almost scholarly.

Trim, in his red knee breeches and long blue coat, seemed a fit commander for the ghost ship. He wasn't looking at the bones on the cannon or the empty hold. His sharp eyes raced around the corners of the shadowy deck. Then he let out a whoop of triumph.

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

IF you want to get any kind of information on Economics, please write to me.

I know nothing about it, and consequently, am in a position to tell you all about it.

BRANDEIS

I did study Economics for a while in college many years ago. But the Economics of my youth is about as effective today as a man on horseback would be against a fast airplane.

It almost makes me laugh when I make a few comparisons.

I was taught that sound Economics consisted of working, saving, investing and producing.

My teachers defined Economics as the science of the production, distribution and consumption of wealth.

An offshoot of the Economics that I was taught was the theory that better brains and greater industry were entitled to greater rewards. Wealth was supposed to be derived from vision, enterprise, ambition, character and incentive.

One of our great authorities was Adam Smith whose work "The Wealth of Nations" was long the very basis of economic teaching.

In that work free enterprise and non-interference by government were the very corner stones of the American system.

I looked at my "Wealth of Nations" a little while ago.

I wondered whether the Adam Smith of 1776 was completely wrong in his economic thinking or whether we of 1949, have deteriorated economically rather than progressed.

Adam Smith, who, I suspect, will still be known and honored when the Trumans, the Achesons, the Krugs, the Snyders, are long forgotten, wrote as follows:

"The sovereign, for example, with all the officers both of justice and war who serve under him, the whole army and navy, are unproductive labourers.

"Their service, how honourable, how useful, or how necessary soever, produces nothing for which an equal quantity of service can afterwards be produced."

I shall not quote any further, because Adam Smith lists in the same category of "unproductive labour" such people as "churchmen, lawyers, physicians, men of letters of all kinds; players, buffoons, musicians, opera-singers, opera dancers, &c," and thus steps on my own toes.

PERHAPS his principles of Economics were all wrong. Perhaps our present-day Economy of squandering billions, throwing money around like confetti, constant adding of "unproductive labourers" to the public payroll, and government interference is right.

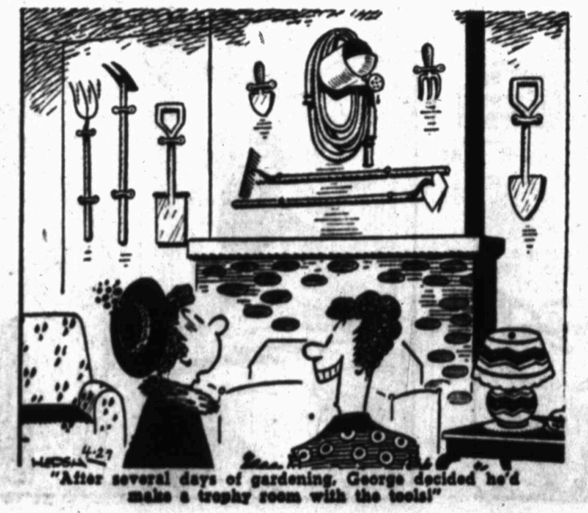

Smith lived two centuries ago.

Neither you nor I will be here to check on the comparative merit of the two systems.

I only hope that what Edward Gibbon, another historian and economist of his time, predicted

WESTERN STATES CLASH

Struggle For Water

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

BOULDER CITY, Nev.—The California-Arizona struggle for additional power and irrigation water from the Colorado river derives national importance from the fact that President Truman has proposed the same sort of project for the Missouri and Columbia Basins, which involve more states than are included in the western dispute.

The legal rights to Colorado river water, for instance, were supposed to have been written down in black and white when the original "law of the river" was framed in 1922 compacts. Yet today the states in the Lower Basin are in complete disagreement over their terms.

So, this twenty-seven-year-old "cold water war" serves warning to the states embraced in the proposed Missouri Valley and Columbia Valley Authorities. Should they ever organize a similar water-control organization, their lawyers must insist that the contracts be copper riveted.

WEAPONS: The final determination of the California-Arizona dispute will also affect our ability to wage any future war.

California built ships, planes and other weapons during World War II only because Los Angeles, San Diego and nearby cities had a sufficient supply of water, and at times there was such a scarcity threat that the Navy built an aqueduct to reinforce its San Diego base. In any future conflict, California will become an even greater citadel of the "arsenal of democracy."

Arizona, on the other hand, has few industries. It will use the water now in dispute largely for production of food. Although luxury fruits, vegetables and alfalfa are weapons in total war, they do not rank with bombers and destroyers when civilization's chips are on the table.

COSTS: There is also the factor of taxpayers' costs, which is an important item in these days of record peacetime taxes.

California spokesmen insist that their need for more power and irrigation water, as reflected in their growing population, will enable them to pay back every cent of the projects proposed for their use.

They maintain that Arizona's Central Valley Project, for which this state demands the water in dispute, is so economically unsound that it can never pay out. The cost of irrigation water and power, it is argued, will be prohibitive for liquidation by the actual beneficiaries. If that is so, the ultimate cost will fall upon federal taxpayers so remote and in such low brackets that they could not afford a date, head of lettuce or an avocado produced with their own money.

Finally, four other states in the Northern Basin—Wyoming, Colorado, Utah and New Mexico—cannot make long-range plans for water use until their quarreling neighbors come to an agreement. Although they have recently composed difficulties among themselves over water allocation in their area, they will feel more comfortable when California and Arizona get together.

GROWING: Bread-and-butter considerations seem to favor California over Arizona. Almost 5,000,000 people in the southern section of sprawling California are dependent on the disputed water, as against a total Arizona population of only 664,000.

The coastal state is one of the fastest growing areas in the nation. Industries and ex-G.I.'s who trained there are pouring in to make more acute the need for additional water. Last, there seems a better chance that California can pay future development costs instead of unloading them on the general taxpayer through specific, Congressional appropriations.

MEANWHILE: Arizona stubbornly refuses to negotiate, arbitrate or submit to the Supreme Court its dispute with California over additional rights to the Far West's "last water hole"—the Colorado River—because defeat would mean that areas now producing more than $100,000,000 worth of crops and cattle annually would return to bare, bleak, prehistoric desert.

This consideration surmounts Arizona's contention that it is legally entitled to the disputed 1,200,000 acre feet of water under the "law of the river," as written in a series of contracts and legislation through the twenties.

For, technicalities aside, the outcome will determine whether about 300,000 fertile and irrigated acres around Phoenix, now producing basic and luxury foods for animals and humans, shall revert to the status of nearby Indian ruins which excite the curiosity of eastern tourists and seekers after health.

SURVIVAL: As Arizona's spokesmen point out somewhat wistfully, California's failure to obtain the contentious water would merely cramp that state's economic style and growth, with its population of more than 10,000,000. But for Arizona to lose out would deprive about one-third of its 664,000 people of all hope and livelihood.

With California, Arizonans insist, this David-Goliath struggle is merely a question of expansion. With Arizona, it is a matter of survival, as water was to early explorers who crawled and plodded and cover-wagoned from the Mississippi river to the Pacific ocean, when the Colorado river and its tributaries often saved them from a sunny death.

Therefore, the cattlemen and farmers around Phoenix, which derives its name from the mythological bird that arose to life from ashes, must fight as their ancestors fought with Indians and even rival Americans over primitive water holes in the burning desert.

COURT: Obviously, Arizona will not—cannot—submit the controversy, which has general interest because of the two states' importance in the national economy, to the Supreme Court of the United States. That tribunal has no member from this section of the country. Nearest judicial neighbor is Justice William O. Douglas of Washington.

Arizona will not permit its existence to become tied up in protracted court proceedings that might benefit California. It demands immediate enactment of pending measures (the MacFarland-Hayden Bill) for construction of dams, pumping stations and aqueducts that will divert enough water from the Colorado so as to give it that life-or-death 1,200,000 acre feet, which means sufficient water to cover that number of acres to a depth of one foot. That's a lot of water in any man's drink.

Believe It Or Not -- By Robert Ripley

OHIO SOLON'S STAND PRAISED

Sen. Taft Again Leading GOPs

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON -- Despite his sometimes irritating, professional exercises in dogmatics, Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio rises again in this interlude between presidential elections as the most arresting and provocative figure in the Republican party, if still not the most ingratiating political figure in what has come to be accepted as the hail-fellow-well-met modern manner.

While the Ohio Senator is undoubtedly looking somewhat to the next election—his own contest for re-election next year and perhaps another try at nomination in 1952—he also has an eye to the next generation, which is the test of statesmanship.

STOKES

The best safeguard for the next generation under our political system, as it is for this generation and was for the one before and the others back through our history, is a strong two-party system to preserve constantly the most reliable year-in-year-out check and balance against excesses.. It is that which has given our Democratic system both its resilience and its sturdiness.

Makes Fair Study

The greatest present danger to preservation of the two-party system, as Senator Taft sees so clearly, is the mixed-mindedness that continues to weaken one of its necessary elements, meaning his own party, which is exemplified in its failure to win in five successive presidential elections. Worst of all, it has been unable to win against a party which is divided internally even more than itself.

That is, indeed, weakness of a grave and disturbing sort. That Senator Taft recognizes this is a tribute both to his political sagacity and his statesmanship, for it is sometimes hard for a man in his particular location, that is, in the midst of the battle, to back off and take a look at the whole panorama of the war in which he happens to be engaged.

He has done that lately, and is earnestly trying to make his contribution to formulation of a philosophy to which a majority of his party can subscribe and to which it can seek to convert the necessary majority of voters.

The chief challenge of the party before the public at this time is on what are known as social welfare measures; for a factor in the party's latest defeat certainly was its failure to achieve anything finally in that field in the 80th Congress, despite all Senator Taft tried to do himself.

Here the senator has evolved a philosophy which, broadly, embraces federal financial aid where private enterprise cannot do the job, as in the housing bill, and subsides to states by the federal government where states are not financially able to meet other problems in the related field, such as education and health, but with state instead of federal administration.

Backs New Policy

In this compromise with New Dealism and Fair Dealism, the senator's basic thesis is, as he himself puts it, that "the poor are always with us." Accepting this patently static and negative approach, he would set them aside as a separate segment of society and, as a duty and responsibility, contribute directly to their support. This may be commendable charity, but it is hardly socially constructive. It does not seem the basis of a dynamic Democratic society of self-supporting and self-reliant citizens.

But Senator Taft shows some forward movement even in this, and it can be offered as the alternative to the Truman administration approach.

Consequently, the senator, once the darling of the GOP old guard as it is familiarly known, now finds himself in a position about midway between say, Senator Wherry (Nebr.), the Republican floor leader, on the right, and Senator Morse (R. Ore.), on the left.

Such a position is politically advantageous, for the progressives in the party go along with him on some issues, though occasionally they would go further and sometimes do, which is enough to give the party a mildly progressive tinge and, at the same time, isolates the extreme right. An example was the final vote last week on the long-range housing bill, of which the Ohio senator was one of the principal architects, which isolated the hard, right core of the Republican party in the Senate, in this case eleven members.

PITCHERS APPEAL

ST. ALBANS, Vt. (U.P.)—Eye-appeal rather than intrinsic value has been the basis of Mrs. Howard J. Johnson's collection of some 500 pitchers. Favorites among the pitchers she has collected in 18 years are two vessels shaped like busts of Winston Churchill and Neville Chamberlain.

"You plant it with a complete!"
Compare STRETCH-R DELINTED with ordinary cottonseed:
Goes farther in equal volume.
Germinates 3 to 5 days faster.
Germinates on less moisture.
Needs no extra planting tools.
Keeps planter box clean of lime and lint. Makes cotton chopping unnecessary. Resists seed-borne diseases. Proves its profit in the field.
Order one of our five STRETCH-R Delinted brands . . . they make the crop that makes you money.

MARKET CONTINUES GAINS

NEW YORK, April 27. (AP)—The stock market put its best foot forward at the opening today but faltered before the close.

Final prices showed a mixture of gains and losses, with gains slightly in the majority. Changes ranged from fractions to around a point either way.

Steel stocks gave the market a powerful shove ahead at the opening. Steels moved up around a point and the rest of the market showed rising tendencies. Aggressive buying, though, was short-lived. Steels closed with all or most of their gains but the balance of the list showed a wobbly streak.

Only 830,000 shares changed hands, in contrast with 870,000 yesterday.

Interest in steel was stimulated by news after the close Tuesday that Big Steel's directors had voted an increased dividend.

The aircraft lost 1¾ at 60½, Lockheed dropped 1⅝ to 19, and Boeing 1⅛ to 21.

Up ⅝ of a point to around a point were U. S. Steel at 73½, Jones and Laughlin at 29, Wheeling Steel at 42½, and Inland Steel at 54. National Steel, however, lost ¼ at 74, while Bethlehem remained at 39 and Republic at 23⅝.

Closing higher were Goodrich, Sears Roebuck, Consolidated Edison, Phelps Dodge Copper, American Can, Westinghouse Electric, and Allied Chemical.

Lower were Consolidated Natural Gas, Dow Chemical, Standard Oil (NJ), and Gulf Oil.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks averaged .1 of one point to 63.1. Of the 980 individual issues which traded, 370 moved ahead while 336 declined.

Higher in the curb were New Mexico and Arizona Land and Pantepec Oil.

Corporate bonds held steady. U. S. governments were trimmed a few 32nds of a point.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 27 (AP) — Cotton futures turned steady today in later dealings, following an early sharp reaction. Suspension of cotton shipments to China by the ECA pointed to lower cotton export prospects and influenced the early liquidation, along with the fact that covering against recent Japanese sales have been largely completed. Short covering subsequently met limited offerings, with prices readily moving higher.

Cotton futures closed irregular, with some deliveries making new highs for the day on aggressive trade and short covering.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, April 27 (AP) — While grains barely held small fractional gains, soybeans and lard came up with a show of strength on the board of trade today.

Soybeans spurted around 2 cents at times, helped by action of the Senate finance committee in approving a bill to repeal federal taxes on oleomargarine. Soybean oil is used in making margarine.

Wheat ended ½ lower to ½ higher, May $2.25-$2.24¾, corn was ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, May $1.35⅝-$1.36, oats were ¼-⅜ higher, May 87¼-⅜, rye was ½ to 1 cent higher, May $1.52, soybeans were 1¼-1¾ higher, May $2.27½-¾, and lard was 10 to 33 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $12.10.

Looking At Life

in his "Rise and Fall of the Roman Empire" will, one of these days come true.

At that time he congratulated the world on having attained such a degree of refinement and education that there could "not long be any more political or social catastrophes."

I should be the first to join in Gibbon's congratulations if the occasion arose this very day.
