South African sanctions announced

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan, backing away under pressure from his longtime opposition to imposing sanctions against South Africa, announced today he will take immediate steps to punish the white-ruled regime economically for its continued enforcement of apartheid laws that discriminate against the nation's black majority.

The abrupt shift to avoid an embarrassing foreign policy defeat in Congress came as the Senate prepared to move toward adoption of a sanctions bill.

Reagan said his executive order taking many of the steps Congress was moving toward requiring was "designed and aimed against the machinery of apartheid without indiscriminately punishing the people who are victims of that system — measures that will disassociate the United States from apartheid but associate us positively with peaceful change."

He pledged to veto sanctions legislation if it reaches his desk.

Reagan said he is:

—Banning all computer exports to South African law enforcement agencies;

—Halting all exports of nuclear technology until Pretoria agrees to meet the terms of international non-proliferation agreements;

—Prohibiting loans to the South African government, except for those going to programs helping blacks.

—Taking steps to ban the importation of the Krugerrand, the South African gold coin, in the United States. He also directed the Treasury to consider minting a gold coin he said could serve as an alternative to the coin, held by investors and collecors.

But he warned Pretoria to take clear steps to end unequal treatment of blacks and said, "The American people are impatient. We all feel very strongly about the changes needed."

Reagan announced he was sending Ambassador Herman Nickel, recalled three months ago, back to Pretoria with a presidential letter expressing growing impatience with South Africa's resistance to grant equal political status for all its residents.

Part-time signup still 'off' at WTC

With Western Texas College beginning its second full week of classes — and with the final day to register next Friday — college officials Monday indicated an earlier goal of 1,100 students this fall now appears doubtful.

As of last Friday, the WTC student count was at 965 and Dr. Duane Hood, dean of student services, said a final count of around 1,000 is now expected.

This would be more than 300 students down from the 1984 semester, when an all-time fall record enrollment was tallied. That figure was 1,319.

A sharp drop in the number of part-time students was again credited for the smaller numbers this fall — in part due to a reduced offering of part-time classes. Hood noted the fulltime student count continues to be healthy.

The significant areas of lost enrollment included physical education and computer science. He noted these are two areas which have drawn part-time students in the past.

The breakdown as of Friday was 499 fulltime students and 466 part-time. The number of semester hours stood at 9,200, compared with 11,200 as registration ended last fall.

Hood said it was the first time in several years that the number of fulltime students had exceeded those registering for part-time classes.

Dormitory space on campus still has vacancies also, Hood indicated.

The final day to enroll for classes this fall is Friday.

County estimate okayed...

No public input at budget hearing

No public comment was offered Monday morning during a public hearing for the 1986 Scurry County budget and its related tax rate.

The 1986 operating estimate totals some $11.9 million, a decline of $56,025 in expenditures from 1985.

This involves an anticipated $11,405,765 in revenues compared to expenses set at $11,995,253. A carryover balance in excess of $935,000 will help make up the difference between the two.

The ad valorem tax expected to be generated from a rate of .1765 cents per $100 valuation is now estimated at $3,859,324.

Included in the budget is expected revenues of $180,000 through the federal revenue sharing program. This marks a sharp decline from this year, with some $280,000 now received.

A 4 percent pay raise for county employees is included also.

In addition, $150,000 has been set aside to provide for capital improvements to county facilities.

The budget also contains a $100,000 increase in hospital tax supplement, raising the amount of tax revenue the hospital will receive from $500,000 to $600,000 in 1986.

After no public comment was received, Pct. 4 Commissioner Ted Billingsley made the motion to adopt the county budget and the revenue sharing budget.

In addition Monday, the court opted to again offer county taxpayers a discount for early tax payments. Payments received in October will receive a 3 percent discount; in November, 2 percent; and in December, 1 percent.

The court also met with Jerry Church, Hermleigh superintendent, who inquired if the county would pave the Hermleigh school parking lot if Hermleigh ISD paid for all materials.

No official action was taken and the request was referred to Pct. 4 Commissioner Ted Billingsley.

Also Monday, Louie Vaughan, sanitarian for the Scurry County Health Unit, requested county insurance coverage for a health unit staffer employed fulltime during the summer but only part-time during the winter.

The court indicated they would check the legalities of this.

ISD officials due seminar

Approximately 30 area school administrators will attend a workshop from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Western Texas College Fine Arts Theatre.

Sponsored by the Snyder ISD, the workshop is being coordinated by Dr. Tom Scannicchio, assistant superintendent in charge of instruction.

Presenters at the workshop will include Richard Crowell and Ray Simmons of the Education Service Center 14, who will be discussing effective teaching practices including teaching strategies, time on task, reinforcement strategies, classroom and campus learning climate.

The workshop on Tuesday is the fourth such meeting to be held in Snyder. Previous sessions were held May 28-29 and Aug. 13.

Three more workshops are planned. In these sessions, topics will include the administrators role in developmental supervision and teacher evaluation.

Each of the topics to be covered in workshops will involve a total of 36 hours of instruction.

According to Scannicchio, House Bill 72 has mandated that all school administrators receive training in three major areas: instructional leadership, general management and teacher evaluation.

Administrators will attend from Snyder, Ira, Sweetwater and Colorado City.

IT WORKS — The traffic light at 37th St. and Ave. U is now working properly after months of being on the blink. Mike Post, Snyder plant process foreman at Sun Oil Co., volunteered his time to work with city officials, including City Engineer Rick Conner, to install a programmable controller for the unit. Citizen volunteer helps fix troublesome red light

By Shirley A. Gorman

Motorist who pass by 37th St. and Ave. U daily have likely noticed the traffic light there — on the blink for most of the summer — is suddenly working properly again.

Its resurrection is thanks to the altruistic assistance of a local citizen, who donated his time and expertise at no cost to the city.

Mike Post, who is the Snyder plant process foreman at Sun Oil Co., read about the city's troubles and offered to assist in correcting the problem.

He first contacted City Engineer Rick Conner, who said that after talking to Post he realized "it was too good an opportunity to pass up."

In essence what the two men did was to install a programmable controller which is a minicomputer used for electrical circuits rather than for the storage of information.

"We did a custom job on it," Conner explained. "The old controller box on the traffic pole had many parts to it. We took all that out and left the box empty."

The next step was to take an old traffic sign and cut a template board from it. This was then fitted into the old box. The new equipment was then installed on the board and wired to the lights.

Total cost of the project was $600, but Conner said that replacing the existing system with a ready made unit would have cost more than $4,000. Conner credits the saved dollars to Post.

"The beauty of Mike's system is that it is so simple," Conner explained. "We can replace individual components if necessary or re-program it."

Conner noted the city council "expressed real appreciation to Mike for his services and to Sun Oil for allowing him to work on it."

Final read slated to ok city budget

The second and final reading for both the proposed city tax rate for 1985-86 and the city budget are scheduled Monday night during the regular September meeting of the Snyder city council.

The session will begin at 6:30 p.m. at city hall.

The budget equals some $4.9 million and was approved on first reading last Aug. 5.

In terms of total dollars budgeted, it includes a slight increase when compared to 1984-85's. The exact total for the new budget is $4,922,954 which is $19,000 above last year.

Included in it is a 4 percent pay raise for all city employees plus merit raises equaling an added 3 percent for some.

Regarding the tax rate, the council has proposed retaining the same rate as used last year, 25.5 cents per $100 valuation.

The new city budget goes into effect Oct. 1.

The council is also scheduled to consider recommendations regarding the long range computer needs for the city.

At the August meeting, the council requested the report from Bill Hicks of Consolidated Software of Big Spring.

During budget planning sessions this summer, the council discussed at length city computer needs — specifically trying to determine at what point the city would have too much computer equipment.

At that time, several council members noted they felt a recommendation was needed from an "outside" computer analyst.

Other agenda items, listed by categories, will see the council consider:

In Brief

Bus wreck

DENISON, Texas (AP) — At least 18 people were injured today when a Greyhound bus bound from Chicago to Laredo hit the back of a tractor-trailer rig and ran into a ditch, the Department of Public Safety said.

The accident took place about 6 a.m. CDT on U.S. Highway 69-75 three miles north of Denison, near the Oklahoma border, said DPS investigator Steve Shally.

Authorities said the bus, which was carrying 30 passengers, hit the back of an 18-wheeler that had just pulled out of a truck stop, Shally said. The bus went out of control and ran off the road into a shallow ditch.

Parts found

HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston man who spotted a dog dragging a human head along a road in northeast Harris County made a gruesome discovery of three trash bags filled with human parts, a sheriff's investigator said.

Weldon Dobbs saw the small black dog dragging what appeared to be another animal Sunday afternoon, said Deputy C.M. Patberg.

Jet's engine was damaged before it took fatal plunge

MILWAUKEE (AP) — One engine of the Midwest Express Airlines DC-9 was already damaged when the plane crashed after takeoff, killing all 31 aboard, but the plane should have been able to land with only one engine, a federal investigator said.

Flight 105, heading for Atlanta, crashed Friday a half-mile south of Milwaukee's General Billy Mitchell Field, where investigators were still searching for signs of why the twin-engine plane crashed.

Metal detector sweeps of the runway had turned up 20 compressor blade pieces and 13 other parts from an engine like the DC-9's, National Transportation Safety Board Chairman James E. Burnett said at a press conference Sunday.

While it was not certain that all the pieces came from the plane, he said, "there is damage to the right engine where the compressor blades would have come from" and no reports that any other aircraft had a similar problem at the site.

Earlier, Burnett said investigators had determined that the right engine was not producing power at the time of the crash, but he said the plane should have been able to fly on one engine.

Board investigators in Washington, D.C., have listened to the cockpit voice recorder, but board policy prevented the disclosure of pilot dialogue until a transcription was made, Burnett said.

The cockpit recording includes a sound of "the stick shaker," described as an audible warning of imminent stall, he said. The recording also included a ground-proximity warning that alerts a pilot that a plane's altitude is too low.

Investigators were hampered at the crash site by heavy rain and wind gusts of up to 30 mph Sunday, Burnett said.

Satellite will collide with comet

GREENBELT, Md. (AP)— At 7 a.m. EDT Wednesday, 44 million miles from Earth, an American satellite will slice through the head of a comet, becoming the first human creation to contact one of the most fascinating heavenly bodies.

The encounter, however, is not with the glamorous Halley's, the royalty of comets, which makes its heralded return next March. This space traveler is called Giacobini-Zinner, a comet with a head 45,000 miles in diameter, a third the size of Halley's, and with a mere tail of 435,000 miles — 10 times shorter.

The Giacobini-Zinner mission, with a 7-year-old, well-used satellite, is the U.S. answer and one-upmanship to the far more ambitious and expensive flights the Soviet Union is sending to Halley's.

If all goes well, the 1,034 pound satellite called International Cometary Explorer — or ICE — will pierce "G-Z" 4,900 miles behind its mile-wide iceball nucleus to study the interaction between the comet and the "solar wind." The solar wind is a flow of protons and electrons streaming from the sun.

From the returns, scientists hope to learn more about what comets and comet tails are made of, a subject of informed conjecture so far.

Priceless Memories Worth More Than Expensive Wedding Party

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1985 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Please print this for "In Love in W.Va.," the two 18-year-old Christian virgins who want a big church wedding but can't afford it, so they came up with the idea of having a Dutch-treat wedding. They're charging $32.60 a couple and expect no gifts—just the money to pay for the wedding:

Now is the time for you to learn a very important lesson. What you can't afford, do without. A wedding you cannot afford is no way to begin a marriage. Someday you will realize that the things you can't afford are not worth the headaches that result from going into debt to acquire them, or asking other people to give them to you.

I'm sure your friends do not want to pay for your wedding any more than you do.

We had a $5 wedding 50 years ago.

FRUGAL BUT SOLVENT IN CALIFORNIA

DEAR FRUGAL: According to my mail, the Dutch-treat wedding idea went over with a dull thud. Read on:

DEAR ABBY: To "In Love in W.Va.": I've been married for 22 years, and whenever I see something we received as a wedding gift, I think of the giver. I cherish the rolling pin from a young cousin, and the rotary egg beater my late grandmother gave us. You can't put a price tag on memories. My husband's brother took movies during the ceremony, and in front of the church where family and friends gathered afterward. What a priceless gift! If my life depended on it, I couldn't name the people who gave us money.

My grandmother made fruitcake, and my mother baked our wedding cake, which a neighbor decorated. Family and close friends prepared the refreshments. We didn't have a band. We played taped music on a loudspeaker.

If you are determined to have a church wedding, you can do it. I don't believe churches make a profit by holding wedding ceremonies. Clothes can be borrowed or bought secondhand at a thrift shop. Flowers grow in gardens. Receptions can be held in backyards, parks, basements or church social halls.

I'd rather accept a wedding invitation that was handwritten on a postcard than buy a ticket to a farce.

ALICE C. HENGY,
CARLETON, MICH.

DEAR ABBY: Many years ago I wrote to you from another city. I told you that I had a dream job and also a dream boss to whom I was very much attracted, and the feeling was mutual. The problem was that he was married, and I felt that an affair was rapidly becoming inevitable.

You advised me to look for a job elsewhere, saying, "You can't build happiness on the misery of others." It was the hardest thing I ever had to do, but I quit my job and moved out of town to work elsewhere. My heart ached for a long time, but finally I met and married a good man, raised a family and had a happy, interesting life.

Last year, my husband died, and I went back to my hometown for a visit. Quite by chance I ran into my former employer. He was a widower! We started seeing each other, and the feeling between us is stronger than ever. We are planning to marry soon. There were times over the years when I might have blamed you for influencing me, but now I bless you because we neither hurt nor betrayed anyone to be together.

Please keep telling people who lack the strength to do the right thing that happiness cannot be built on the misery of others. You are always saying someone made your day. Well, Abby, you've made my life!

SECOND CHANCE

DEAR SECOND: And you made this column a real upper. Love can be lovelier the second time around.

Will seek to move trial

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — An El Paso lawyer said he has been retained to defend suspected California "Night Stalker" Ricardo Ramirez, and another local lawyer is considering helping in the case.

Lawyer Manuel Barraza said he will go to Los Angeles this week to talk with Ramirez at the request of the accused's family. He said he hopes to associate with El Paso criminal defense attorney Joseph "Sib" Abraham in the case.

Abraham confirmed late Sunday he is considering joining the defense of Ramirez, 25, an El Paso native who moved to California about seven years ago.

Ramirez was charged last week with one count of murder and seven other felonies stemming from two early-morning attacks in Los Angeles County during May.

The "Night Stalker," blamed for a series of attacks on people in their homes at night, is thought to be responsible for 14 slayings in California since February.

Barraza said his first priority would be to seek to have Ramirez' trial moved out of Los Angeles.

"That shouldn't be much of a problem," he said. "The public sentiment there is just too great against this guy. It's the classic thing about free press against fair trial."

Room additions

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Americans spend more money annually on room additions than on any other home remodeling projects, according to Payless Cashways.

The firm, a building materials retailer headquartered here, says, "A room addition is a major investment, costing from $20,000 to $40,000 on the average, but it can pay for itself in increased value when the home is eventually sold."

ABWA to host tea

The Deep Creek Chapter of the American Business Women's Association (ABWA) will hold a fall enrollment event Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Scurry County Museum at Western Texas College.

Founded in 1949, the organization has over 110,000 members in 2,100 chapters throughout the United States and Puerto Rico.

Dedicated to the professional, educational, cultural and social advancement of women, last year ABWA chapters awarded more than $2.5 million in scholarships to women students. In addition, the ABWA national scholarship fund awarded more than $400,000.

Women who are employed are eligible for membership.

Getting to slam in a minor suit

By James Jacoby

For many years the Cavendish Club of New York has sponsored a prestigious international pair event, usually early in May. Several dozen world-class players are each invited to submit an entry, including partner's name, but no one is guaranteed acceptance. A committee selects only the strongest pairs. That decision is subjective, but the quality of the field has always been high. The scoring is in international match points (IMPs), and so there is a premium for bidding and making games and slams. As in team-of-four play, overtricks are not important. This week we will look at deals from last May's Cavendish Pairs.

Today's deal demonstrates the value of a 5-3 fit in a minor suit for slam purposes. North-South had no more than 11 tricks at no-trump, but six diamonds was easy. The three-diamond response to the Stayman three-club bid denied a four-card major. Four diamonds showed a suit, and four hearts was a cue-bid in support of diamonds. North then asked for aces and bid the slam.

South won the opening lead with the jack of hearts and led a spade to dummy's king and the ace from East. It was easy now for declarer to ruff the third spade with his small diamond, draw trump and get rid of dummy's last spade loser on the third high heart. The only way six no-trump would make is if East sticks the spade ace in his back pocket and never finds it.

Lady Tigers triumph again; win Breckenridge tourney

BRECKENRIDGE - Make it 2 and 10 for Coach Vicki Nelm's varsity volleyball team.

That's two tournament championships and 10 matches they've won in a row now.

The Tigers, 13-2, will try to make it 11 in a row when they trek to Plains on Tuesday. The District 2-4A slate opens Saturday, with Snyder entertaining Fort Stockton.

In claiming championship honors here Saturday, Snyder defeated Breckenridge junior varsity 15-4, 15-5; whipped Keller 15-7, 15-10; then cracked Breckenridge 15-10, 15-3.

A week earlier, the Tigers had won the San Angelo Tournament.

"The girls played real well against all the teams," said Coach Nelms. "There was only one area in which we really had problems. Our serving was terrible, especially in the championship game. We missed five serves in a row," said the coach.

Nelms held out Karlene Thompson in the first match against Breckenridge junior varsity because of a shoulder problem, but played her in the other two matches.

Nelms said girls that came in off the bench - Tammy Williamson, Pam Casias, Stacy Dunk, Donna Clay and Leslie Ward - all did "a real good job for us."

Donna Anderson was chosen to the all-tournament team. Coach Nelms said, "She played as well as she's played all year. She certainly deserved it. Apparently they (the all-tournament committee) picked only one player from the top three teams. That was a little disappointing because I thought we had several girls who played real well."

Game time in Plains Tuesday is set for 6:30 p.m. The district opener with Fort Stockton, to be played in the Snyder High School Gym, is 3.

Cats take second place at tourney

PECOS -- Snyder junior varsity took second place in the Pecos JV Volleyball Tournament, played here Saturday.

The Cats defeated Kermit in their first match, 8-15, 15-6, 15-10. Snyder was down 10-2 in the third game before Monica Hinojos served points three through 10 and tied the game for the Tigers. Yolanda Anderson finished out serving 11 through 15.

Snyder played Lamesa in its second game and won 15-9, 17-15.

The Tigers took second place when they lost the championship game to Midland High 15-12, 13-15 and 14-16.

"They (the players) were disappointed but they shouldn't have been. They played hard. I was real proud of them," said Coach Patty Grimmett.

Denise Overton injured her knee in the second game of the championship match. The extent of the injury was unknown Monday morning.

Snyder, 9-3, will play Plains in its next outing, Tuesday at 5:30.

Super Bowl teams fall flat; Oilers stun Dolphins, 26-23

by The Associated Press

The championship teams - San Francisco and Miami - and their glamour quarterbacks - Joe Montana and Dan Marino - saw the other side of the National Football League on opening day. Taking their places at the top of the QB heap, at least for one week, were Mark Malone, Jim McMahon, Bill Kenney and Eric Hipple.

The defending Super Bowl champion 49ers and the team they vanquished last January, the Dolphins, were upset losers Sunday. San Francisco fell 28-21 at Minnesota and Miami dropped a 26-23 decision in Houston, with both games being decided in the final moments.

Malone, McMahon and Kenney made sure that their teams didn't have to worry about late rallies by the opposition, however.

Malone threw for five touchdowns, tying a Pittsburgh record, and ran for another as the Steelers overwhelmed the Indianapolis Colts 45-3. McMahon tossed a pair of TD passes and ran for two more scores as Chicago took Tampa Bay 38-28, and Kenney had 379 yards and three touchdowns through the air in Kansas City's 47-27 victory over New Orleans.

Elsewhere, it was St. Louis 27, Cleveland 24 in overtime; Detroit 28, Atlanta 27; Los Angeles Rams 20, Denver 16; New England 26, Green Bay 20; Seattle 28, Cincinnati 24; New York Giants 21, Philadelphia 0; Los Angeles Raiders 31, New York Jets 0, and San Diego 14, Buffalo 9.

Vikings 28, 49ers 21

San Francisco, which lost only one game last season, equalled that in the first week with a sloppy fourth quarter. The 49ers led 21-14 when Wendell Tyler's third fumble of the game was scooped up by Doug Martin, who ran 29 yards to the 49er 1. Alfred Anderson scored, then Derrick Harmon fumbled the ensuing kickoff.

Ted Brown's 10-yard run with 1:49 to go then won it for the Vikings, who were 3-13 last year, prompting the firing of Les Steckel as coach and his replacement by his predecessor, the popular Bud Grant.

Oilers 26, Dolphins 23

Marino, who shattered an NFL record with 48 touchdown passes last season, didn't have any on Sunday. After completing 13 of 24 throws for 159 yards, he was yanked in the fourth period in favor of Don Strock, whose 67-yard TD pass to Mark Duper gave Miami a 20-16 lead.

Houston, 3-13 last year, used two scoring runs by Mike Rozier.

Steelers 45, Colts 3

Malone, the fourth starting QB for Pittsburgh in four opening days, hit Louis Lipps three times for scores and nine times overall. John Stallworth had a 6-yard scoring catch and Rich Erenberg added an 119yarder as Malone hit 21 of 30 attempts for 287 yards in his best day as a pro. It made Indianapolis Coach Rod Dowhower's debut a disaster.

White named 'Poke captain; ready to battle Washington

IRVING, Texas (AP) - There will be three things different about Dallas quarterback Danny White when he starts against the Washington Redskins tonight in a National Football League opener.

White will be the starter for the Cowboys, which he wasn't last year until midway of the season.

He also will be wearing a flak jacket for the first time in his career to protect tender ribs.

White also will replace Tony Dorsett as offensive captain of the team in a vote by teamates.

"If I've had any differences with the players, they've been resolved one way or the other," White said. "Coming from the players, it's an honor to be named captain."

White has a 7-2 lifetime record against Washington as a starter while the Redskins' Joe Theismann is 6-9.

"Danny is back into the leadership role," said Dallas wide receiver Mike Renfro. "He's more relaxed now than he has been. You can see he has respect in the locker room now."

Dallas' game plan is simple: Stop Theismann.

"We have to stop Theismann to win the game," said Cowboys safety Michael Downs. "John Riggins just kind of bothers you. But Theismann kills you."

The Cowboys go into the National Football League opener as one-point favorites based on the homefield advantage.

However, Dallas hasn't beaten Washington in Texas Stadium since 1982. The Redskins have the second winningest record (16-5) in the NFL on the road over the last three seasons.

The Redskins have beaten Dallas three consecutive games, their longest victory streak in the 50-game history of the series.

The Cowboys and Redskins have opened Monday Night Football on ABC-TV twice before and Dallas won on both occasions at RFK Stadium.

On a third occasion in 1978, the Cowboys nudged the 'Skins 9-5 in the highest-rated Monday Night Football game in the series history, a 26.8 rating.

For the Cowboys, it marks the fourth year in a row they have been invited to play the opening Monday Night game and the sixth time in eight seasons.

"No matter how you look at it, Monday night games have to be something special," said Theismann. "There is a little extra charge that goes through you. You get a chance to show your wares to an entire nation.".

Dallas owns a 28-20-2 series lead over Washington but the Redskins have been taking a lot of scalps lately.

Both teams went undefeated during the preseason.

Although the game is a sellout the Cowboys' officials are taking steps to see that the crowd is an unusually noisy one: Some 35,000 megaphones will be given away at the gates.

Dallas Coach Tom Landry and Washington Coach Joe Gibbs are batting .500 against each other with four wins and four losses in their eight confrontations.

Title earned by Wadleigh

Lanny Wadleigh took top honors in the 1985 Snyder Country Club Men's Club Championship, held Saturday and Sunday at the local course.

Wadleigh opened the two-day tournament with a 71, then came back Sunday with a 74 for 145 over the weekend. He was chased by Larry Anderson, who shot a 69 on Sunday, but who had started with a 77 Saturday. Anderson finished one stroke off the pace, with a 146.

Third was Jim Patrick with scores of 72 and 77 for a 149.

Thirty-nine players participated in the annual event. There were two divisions and everyone competed in both. Wadleigh won the scratch or low gross division.

Handicap champion was David Hines, who had to defeat Buck Rambin in a playoff to claim the honor. Hines shot handicapped scores of 60 and 69 for his 129. Rambin reached a 129 by scores of 66 and 63.

Tying for third place were Pat Gilstrap, 64-67, and Ted Crenwelge, 63-68; both with 131s.

Fifth went to Rickey Daniell with a 134 total.

Mal Stevenson and Mike Taylor tied for sixth with 135s.

Lendl claims Open victory

NEW YORK (AP) - Ivan Lendl had said from Day One of the U.S. Open that he had nothing to lose.

He never did lose.

And with his victory Sunday over two-time defending champion John McEnroe, Lendl gave Czechoslovakia a virtual sweep of the American national tennis championships.

Virtual because while Hana Mandlikova, the women's champion, still calls Czechoslovakia her homeland and is fiercely proud of that fact. Lendl, although a Czech citizen, lives in pastoral Greenwich, Conn.

"I love my country and I never said anything wrong about my country and I wish they could see this over there," Mandlikova had said following her 7-6, 1-6, 7-6 victory over Martina Navratilova, somewhat of a non-person in Czechoslovakia since her defection in 1975.

"I can't even describe it," Lendl said after he beat McEnroe 7-6, 6-3, 6-4, "because this is the tournament I was saying I think is the biggest of the year, the one I want to win the most and finally did it."

Lendl's victory here was the first by a foreigner since Guillermo Vilas of Argentina did it in 1977. Mandlikova's was the first for a foreign woman since Margaret Smith Court of Britain beat Australian Evonne Goolagong in 1973.

The semifinals - McEnroe's struggle against Sweden's Mats Wilander, Lendl's relatively easy match against Jimmy Connors - were at least in part responsible for the final outcome, McEnroe said.

"I think it made a difference. I had to play in 115-degree weather for five sets and he got the opportunity to play later and it wasn't hot and it was only a three-set match."

The Statue of Liberty's cornerstone was laid in 1844 on Bedloe's Island.

Engineer fixes pesky signal

rammable controllers was atural since for eight years he as an engineering technician at he Jamison Plant at Silver and rom 1980-84 he was involved with he installation of around 12 programmable controllers.

Post said one of the benefits of he new system is that it does not ave any moving parts inside to ear out. However, it can be subected to lightning damage if it eceived a "close hit," he said.

Another advantage is that nce such units are becoming ore common, more electrical ontractors are familiar with it nd parts are readily available.

Post said after checking with onner and determining what the ght sequence should be, he was en able to program the comuter to follow those commands.

He said he used some relays in the city's unit because additional current was needed for the lights. He built the wiring between the controller and the relays and interfaced them.

He also assisted the city in wiring the lights to the relay and was involved with testing the apparatus.

Including program design, Post estimated that he devoted about 12 hours to the project.

Post said he is presently working on documenting how the programmable controller was set up so that the city will have it on file.

Post said he became involved with the project because he "enjoys working with programmable controllers and gets excited about seeing new applications for them."

The old light system at 37th and U was purchased used from the state highway department and had been in operation at the intersection since 1956 or 1957, Conner said. Before that the highway department had used it for several years.

"We attempted to repair it and Bill Cooper, retired city employee, also offered his services but we didn't seem to be able to solve the problem," Conner explained. "Also we later learned that we had other problems that we didn't know about then. There were problems in the fixture itself and the power supply that also had to be corrected."

Conner said that Post's efforts on the city's behalf "not only saved money but also allowed them to customize the unit to fit their needs."

Motorcyclist has surgery

A 27-year-old Scurry County man was undergoing surgery at Cogdell Memorial Hospital Monday morning for injuries sustained in a one-vehicle motorcycle accident Sunday afternoon.

Ralph Arthur Rodriquez of Rt. 2, Snyder sustained injuries described as a broken arm along with possible rib and internal injuries. It occurred about 2.7 miles southeast of Snyder on U.S. Highway 84.

According to Department of Public Safety highway patrolmen, Rodriquez was riding a 1984 Honda southbound on 84 when he apparently lost control of the cycle. He was thrown from it as it left the roadway.

Rodriquez was taken from the scene of the 6:25 p.m. mishap to the local hospital by units of Aid-Ambulance Snyder.

False report said called-in Police responded to an apparent false report of a shooting-stabbing incident in east Snyder at 8:46 p.m. Saturday.

The individual who called police about the incident — which allegedly occurred in the 900 Block of 28th St. — reported that one man had been shot at and another stabbed.

Police, however, found neither victims nor assailants when they arrived at the scene.

A call to a fight in the 2500 Block of Ave. M Sunday night did, however, result in the arrests of two individuals on misdemeanor charges.

Both were charged with resisting arrest and one was additionally charged with public intoxication.

Eight other subjects were jailed for various offenses over the weekend.

Two suspects each were charged with disorderly conduct, public intoxication and driving with suspended licenses.

One local man was jailed for driving while intoxicated and a 48-year-old woman was arrested on a county court warrant for misdemeanor assault.

Minor wrecks with weekend

Two minor traffic accidents were reported in Snyder during the weekend.

Involved in the first — at 7:12 p.m. Saturday in the 2200 Block of 43rd St. — were a 1983 Oldsmobile driven by Edward Earl Foree of 2209 43rd St. and a 1979 Ford driven by Julie Filler of 3103 Cherry St.

The second accident was reported at 7:09 p.m. Sunday on the parking lot of the Varsity Square Shopping Center.

Involved in it were a 1978 Ford driven by Belinda L. Dollins of 3205 40th St. and a 1984 Oldsmobile driven by Leonard Eugene Lomax of Ira.

No injuries resulted from either mishap.

Auto, trailer said vandalized

Police are investigating two misdemeanor criminal mischief reports filed over the weekend.

Emma Wells of 701 27th St. filed the first report at 10:57 a.m. Sunday.

She told officers that someone had apparently broken out the taillight lenses on her 1974 Dodge. The vandalism is thought to have occurred while the vehicle was parked at her residence bewteen 10:30 p.m. Saturday and 10:50 a.m. Sunday.

Sharyon Bond of 811 29th St. filed the second report at 7:24 p.m. Sunday.

A rock had apparently been thrown through the window of a camper trailer parked at the residence.

No estimates were available for the value of damage in either incident.

Dr. Gott

Peter Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — For the past three or four years, I have had what seems like an internal itching sensation occurring in my legs. The symptoms are worse at the end of the day, when I am sitting down or in bed. My own doctor doesn't seem to have much information about this problem. I'm female. Is there anything you can suggest for this miserable condition?

DEAR READER — "Restless legs" is a disorder that may reflect the increasingly poor circulation that comes with age. Exercise, medicine to improve blood flow and the application of heat (like a lap blanket) may help. If the condition is really making you miserable, ask your doctor to refer you to a cardiovascular surgeon, who may be able to give you specific tips on what to do.

DEAR DR. GOTT — What is being done in way of research for a cure or treatment of M.S.?

DEAR READER — Multiple sclerosis is a serious neuromuscular disease for which no cause is known and no universal cure available. Hyperbaric oxygen (the use of oxygen therapy under high pressure) enjoyed a transient therapeutic enthusiasm, but at a recent meeting of neurologists, the technique was reported to be of little benefit.

Presently, M.S. is treated by nursing support. This means that doctors try to treat the symptoms (weakness, energy, loss of mobility and other nerve disorders) to make the patient as independent and comfortable as possible. Until the cause of the disease is known, a specific antidote is — unfortunately — far in the future.

Parolees to get aid from state

AUSTIN (AP) — A pilot program designed to reduce crime by increasing employment among ex-convicts is about to get underway at Texas Employment Commission offices in Dallas and Houston, state officials say.

The program was inspired by a recent Board of Pardons and Paroles study that found that five times as many unemployed ex-offenders wind up back in prison within a year of their release as do ex-convicts with steady jobs.

"It's just common sense," said John Byrd, executive director of the board. "Employment is a critical element in recidivism."

TEC staffer Paul Russell said the new program will provide intensive job services for parolees, such as helping them fill out applications and finding employers willing to hire ex-offenders.

"Sometimes their confidence has been shattered. Sometimes they are embarrassed by a background of being in the penal system," Russell said. "They need help and encouragement to face the job market."

The project will add eight staffers to Texas Employment Commission offices in Houston and Dallas.

Byrd said the program will enable the parole and employment agencies to work together on the problem of finding jobs for inmates newly released from the Texas Department of Corrections. Currently, the only assistance for inmates in finding jobs comes from parole officers or outside organizations.

"We want to ensure to the greatest extent possible that a person will come out to a job direct from confinement in TDC," Byrd said.

Police puzzled by murder rate rise

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — What police described as an alarming rise in the city's murder rate is being blamed on everything from growth and an influx of illegal aliens to drugs and the weather.

"Sure, we're alarmed at any increase. We don't like it if there's just one murder," said homicide Lt. Jack Summey. "But there's no real pattern in homicides in San Antonio. We go through ups and downs in our murders, just like any big city."

San Antonio is facing a 30 percent rise in its murder rate over the first eight months of 1985. As of Sept. 1, the city had recorded 130 homicides, compared with 97 reported for the first eight months of 1984. A total of 166 homicides took place in San Antonio last year, police say.

Summey said part of the increase is attributable to an increase in the number of illegal aliens from Mexico and Central America.

"We're seeing a greater number of illegal aliens than before on both ends of the picture, both as victims and suspects," Summey said. "It's a conservative guess that about 15 to 20 percent of the homicides this year involved aliens."

Another factor is San Antonio's growth, police say. Since 1980, San Antonio has experienced a growth rate of 10.8 percent, increasing its population by more than 80,000.

Drinking, narcotics use, poverty and the weather also are factors, Summey said, but what prompts people to kill remains elusive.

"Friday and Saturday nights are out heaviest homicide nights. That's when folks are off, they've been paid and they're drinking," Summey said. "Most of the homicides occur in the lower-income areas. And the biggest increase in homicides this year occurred during the last three months, when it got hot."
