Freak Shot Kills Reporter In California

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A reporter for the Long Beach Independent was accidentally shot and killed early today by a police detective described as one of his best friends.

Police said William B. Hunter, 32, died instantly, shot through the heart, as he sat at his desk in the press room of the Long Beach police station.

Officers said the bullet came from the pistol of robbery detail detective Creighton Wiggins Jr., 29, son of the Long Beach police inspector.

They described Wiggins and Hunter as best of friends.

Wiggins and Errol Greenleaf, 32, also of the robbery detail, came in to chat at 12:05 a.m., officers said.

Wiggins took off his coat, catching it on a chair, and his service revolver dropped to the floor. It discharged accidentally, the bullet striking Hunter in the heart, police said.

Before going to California, Hunter worked for Texas newspapers at Vernon and Wichita Falls. Surviving are his widow, a son and two daughters; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hunter of Dallas; and two sisters, Mrs. Peggy Latham of Dallas and Mrs. Patricia Richey of Montgomery, Ala.

Tentative plans called for the funeral service to be held in Dallas.

Hunter, who had been a night reporter for the Independent for five years, recently won a California Newspaper Publishers Association Special Award for "Three Days in Dallas," his eyewitness coverage of the events immediately following the Nov. 22 assassination of President Kennedy.

Hunter, a native of Dallas, returned to his native city to cover the trial of Jack Ruby, convicted killer of Kennedy's suspected assassin, Lee Harvey Oswald.

Geneva Recess Set

GENEVA (AP)—The 17-nation disarmament conference decided today to recess from April 28 to June 9.

Chief U.S. delegate Adrian S. Fisher proposed the conference adjourn for a period of study and consultation at government level.

Cuba Faces Poised Jets

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hundreds of U.S. jet fighter bombers and attack planes — each capable of hurling tons of explosives — are poised within striking reach of Cuba, a check disclosed today.

A significant force of these high speed, powerfully armed U.S. jets could be over carefully pinpointed Cuban antiaircraft missile batteries within minutes of any order to go.

Some of them are posted at Air Force and Navy bases in Florida. Others are aboard two big aircraft carriers now in the Mayport, Fla., area.

President Johnson, the State Department and other U.S. official and unofficial sources have been warning Cuba of possible serious consequences if Fidel Castro follows through on his threat to shoot down American reconnaissance planes.

These U.S. warnings have been prompted by a belief that the Soviets may be about to turn over to the Cubans 24 complexes of SA2 antiaircraft missiles.

It was such a missile, able to reach 80,000 feet, that downed a high altitude U.S. U2 reconnaissance plane over Cuba at the peak of the 1962 crisis.

Pentagon sources said no precautionary alerts have been ordered.

The most probable form of retaliation, observers believe, would be a swift blow to knock out one or more of the Cuban antiaircraft missile complexes.

Almost certainly it would be a high explosive attack, although all the U.S. jets are capable of nuclear warfare.

Coming in low under radar, the American fighter bombers and attack jets could hit fast and hard before the defenses could react, sources said.

The United States gets photographic coverage of all of Cuba by high altitude planes at least once a week.

International Policy Theme

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said today he would like to confer personally with Republican presidential aspirants so they could chart a positive course for discussing foreign policy problems.

Johnson, at a news conference in the rose garden outside his office, announced that foreign policy intelligence briefings would be offered to seven presidential aspirants — including Democratic Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama.

He said Henry Cabot Lodge, ambassador to South Viet Nam, and a potential GOP nominee, already gets the information.

In addition to Wallace, the briefings will be offered to Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York; Sen. Barry Goldwater; Harold Stassen; Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon; Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania, and Sen. Margaret Chase Smith All are potential Republican nominees.

On other points, Johnson declared:

He saw a very few civil rights demonstrators Wednesday at the opening of the New York World's Fair whom he considered rude. "I pity them," he said. "They served no good purpose."

The President will tour areas of heavy unemployment and poverty in Indiana, Kentucky, West Virginia and Pennsylvania Friday.

Additional defense savings of $68 million a year were announced.

Johnson said the installations affected by the economies and specific actions to be taken would be announced later by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Johnson raised the prospect of spending more money to pursue the anti-Communist war in South Viet Nam. And he said he hoped "we'll see some other flags in there" as a result of discussions at the recent conference of the outheast Asia Treaty Organization.

Johnson, discussing the possibility of conferring with his potential Republican opponents on foreign policy matters, said some of them seem to want more war in Viet Nam and others "more appeasement."

He said that if he could talk with the major Republican aspirants, they might be able to find some common ground as a foundation for election-year discussions of Viet Nam and other overseas problems.

Johnson said he would like to have a relationship with the Republican presidential nominee like the one he had with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower when Johnson was Senate Democratic leader.

He said he and Eisenhower used to discuss foreign policy matters and reach understandings on the way to debate them publicly.

The information to be offered, Johnson said, would include background material and motivating reasons for the administration's foreign policy steps.

Of course, he said, top secret data would not be employed in the campaign by anyone.

In announcing Friday's trip, Johnson said he would visit South Bend, Ind.; Pittsburgh; Huntington, W. Va., and Paintsville and Inez, Ky.

He said he was inviting the governors of the Appalachian region to confer with him at Huntington on area problems.

The President will begin the one-day tour after spending tonight in Chicago, where he makes a political speech.

On still other topics, Johnson said:

—He is optimistic about the prospects for world peace because "generally speaking, the world is anxious to pursue the same objective that I am."

—His cutback in production of nuclear explosive materials was "reached on our own initiative," and companion moves by the Soviet Union and Britain marked "a policy of restraint by mutual example."

—Johnson does not see why any Republicans should feel uneasy about the economic boom, in view of what he termed their "noted interest in private property." He said some unhappiness might be natural before the November election, but "after November I'm sure they'll be happy—with what the economy is doing."

—Asked about the possible selection of Secretary of Defense McNamara as his vice presidential running mate, Johnson said, "I don't plan to conduct any evaluation scores" on possible running mates before the Democratic nominating convention. Questioned about McNamara's past Republican associations, Johnson said, "I've never been a man who believed in guilt by association."

Strike Threat Ends On Give-Take Note

WASHINGTON (AP)—A give and take agreement has ended the threat of a nationwide railroad strike, with President Johnson a victor in the toughest domestic test of his administration.

A few hours after the agreement was reached, two dissident union officials threatened to strike part of the New York Central Railroad. But sources involved in the negotiations in Washington discounted the possibility that the threat would be carried out.

Johnson, obviously elated, went before television cameras Wednesday night to announce settlement of the long, highly complex dispute a little more than 48 hours before a scheduled strike threatened to tie the nation's economy in knots.

The agreement in effect gave union members financial gains in exchange for letting the railroads reduce employment. Just how many jobs will be affected or how much money the railroads may save won't be known for some time after the general agreement is translated into contract language.

In herding union and management negotiators successfully through 13 days of emergency White House talks, Johnson stamped his brand indelibly on U.S. labor history and achieved what two former presidents, Congress, the courts and five years of bargaining had failed to accomplish.

"This agreement prevents — we hope for all time—a crippling and disastrous strike in the railroad industry," Johnson said.

Negotiators for the five unions whose members run the trains and spokesmen for nearly 200 railroads expressed general satisfaction at the outcome.

The agreement ended the threat of a scheduled strike at one minute after midnight Friday night. Johnson had estimated a strike would have idled 7 million American workers, endangered the health conditions and virtually paralyzed the economy.

Johnson gave due credit to the five federal negotiators, headed by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, who emerged red-eyed and exhausted from day and night efforts at untangling one of the longest and most complicated labor quarrels in the annals of collective bargaining.

The unions won pay increases for railroad yard employes, expense money for overnight layovers, maintenance of present mileage payments, and seven paid holidays for hourly-paid employes.

The railroads gained the right to cut the number of employes now required to man self-propelled track maintenance equipment and limited use of train crews for yard work under certain conditions.

Union withdrawal of demands for overtime pay for road employes and night pay for all classes of train crewmen also represented gains for management.

The only unresolved issue was the railroads' proposal to combine some divisional train runs, thus lengthening the number of miles before crews must be relieved.

This issue will be referred to a national committee of labor and management and two private mediators.

L. K. Mathews Dies Here; Rites Friday

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Friday for Mr. Lewis K. (Duck) Mathews, 63, who lived six miles south of Snyder on the Big Spring Highway.

Mr. Mathews died at 12:15 p.m. Wednesday at Cogdell Hospital.

Born Sept. 7, 1900 at Henrietta, Mr. Mathews had lived in Scurry County or the past 62 years and had been employed by the Texas Highway Department for 15 years.

Highway Department engineers will serve as honorary pallbearers at the funeral services which will be held at the Avenue D Baptist Church. The Rev. T. L. Nipp, retired Baptist minister, will officiate. He will be assisted by the Rev. D. W. Copeland, pastor of the Knapp Baptist Church, and by the Rev. Bobby Phillips, pastor of the Avenue D Church. Burial will be in Snyder Cemetery under the direction of Bell - Seale Funeral Home.

Mr. Mathews is survived by his wife, Floy Moffat Mathews; two sisters, Mrs. Jack Keller of Snyder and Mrs. Frank Fenton of Eugene, Ore.; and one stepson Jimmy Lee Wilson of Hobbs, N.M.

Pallbearers will be Roger Hensley, Pete Walls and A.P. Girley, all of Post, Bob Brannon of Big Spring, and Gene Best and M. C. Fowler, both of Snyder.

Odessa Police Hold Ohio Man, Wife

ODESSA (AP) — Police charged an Ohio shoe salesman and his wife with armed robbery Wednesday night in the $8,500 robbery of a grocery.

Police said they recovered the money when they surprised the couple in a motel.

The gunman robbed Furr's market at the peak of the afternoon rush period.

Charged were Lewis Blake, 25, and his "good - looking, bleached blonde wife," Virginia, 20, both of Columbus, Ohio.

SLAMMING TEXAS

Gov. Criticizes Prof's Remarks

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally criticized today remarks about Texas made by a Dartmouth professor in a magazine story on the assassination of President Kennedy.

"His reference to Texas as a 'semi-civilized part of America' peopled with oil millionaires and hatemongers is all the more childish in view of his obvious standing as an educator," Connally said of the article, written by Wentworth Eldredge in the March issue of NATO Letter.

Connally's remarks were in a letter to Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

The governor, still recovering from bullet wounds received while riding in the Dallas motorcade with Kennedy, added:

"At a time when we are striving to strengthen the unity of the free nations of the world, it is almost beyond belief that such an article would be printed in the publication of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization."

"It can serve no purpose except to distort in the minds of our allies the facts of the Nov. 22 tragedy."

Under the sub-heading, "The U.S. Home Front," Eldredge wrote:

"The stunned, shattered stupefaction of the American public lies beyond mere verbal description; something fresh and good (full of hope) had been squashed in a 'semi-civilized' part of America where Adlai Stevenson had been spat on weeks before and earlier Vice President Johnson mauled.

"This is the area which has spawned the oil millionaires and which, through a bad loophole in the American income tax structure, the oil (and other mineral) depletion allowances, has produced fabulously wealthy individuals, a number of whom have served as the financial angels for the radical right with its lunatic fringe of hatemongers so reminiscent of Germany's Nazis of pre-World War II days."

Connally remarked, "The article indicates that the author has an extremely remote and unqualified view of the events surrounding the assassination."

"The fact that Prof. Eldredge was emotionally distressed by the tragedy, as so many of us were much more directly involved, is no excuse to print such irresponsible diatribe in a magazine of this nature.

"I doubt if any thinking person believes anything which has been written by self-appointed critics since the assassination occurred. I do not think defense is necessary for most of this trash, because it is obviously trash. However, when a similar article is printed in NATO Letter I believe the matter has exceeded all bounds of reason.

Texas Hunters Get Extra Weekend

AUSTIN (AP) — The Parks and Wildlife Commission may give Texas deer hunters an extra weekend of shooting this fall, Chairman Will Odom said today.

Odom said the three commissioners are studying the advisability of opening the deer season Nov. 14 in certain counties where the season has traditionally begun on Nov. 16.

Four-Engine Airliner Set; Due Certain Smash-Up

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A four-engine DC7 airliner was to roar down a Phoenix airstrip this morning in a take-off that never gets far off the ground.

The big craft, guided by rail and occupied only by 15 dummies, was to reach a speed of 140 miles an hour before smashing up into a pile of twisted metal.

Barring unfavorable weather, the airliner was to be sacrificed in the hope of making future air crashes more survivable. The simulated crackup was to take only about four seconds.

As it reached the projected speed, barriers were to clip off the landing gear with the plane skimming along about six feet off the ground.

Next, a wing was to slice into a small mound of earth while the other sheared off three telephone poles. The battered plane, after a bounce or two, was expected to crumple up on the side of a hill.

Inside, 20 cameras were to take pictures of what happened to the dummy passengers, new safety devices and standard airplane equipment.

Shocks and stresses to various parts of the plane and the dummy human beings were to be recorded on 82 test channels. Main fuel tanks carry colored water to allow a study of spray patterns when they ripped apart.

Sponsor of the performance is the Federal Aviation Agency which awarded the research contract to Aviation Safety Engineering and Research, a nonprofit Phoenix group.

Victor Rothe, head of the Phoenix research organization, called the test "a simulated survivable accident" whose purpose is to make air travel safer.

The fatality rate for scheduled airlines is .23 per 100 million passenger miles, Rothe said, compared with 3.0 in 1940. Even so, he said the many more millions of miles logged makes it necessary to reduce this rate.

Viet Violence Claims More Americans

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—An American Ranger officer was killed and another American wounded in a clash with Communist Viet Cong units 25 miles west of Saigon today, reliable American sources reported.

An American spokesman reported seven Vietnamese Rangers were killed and eight wounded in the clash but would not confirm the American casualties. Such official confirmation usually is up to 12 hours in coming.

The latest American death brought the total Americans killed in action in Viet Nam to 130. Thirty-four have died in action this year.

China's Reds Urge Break

BERLIN (AP)—The Chinese Communists have demanded that East Germany break with the Soviet Union and quit the Communist council for mutual economic assistance — Comecon—an East German Politburo member said in a speech released today.

The speaker, Herman Matern also said the Chinese proposed that East Germany make friends with West Germany to split Bonn from the United States.

Matern, often mentioned as one of the possible successors to party chief Walter Ulbricht, made the speech at a ceremony Wednesday commemorating the birthday of Lenin.

Excerpts were carried by the official news agency ADN.

However, the party paper Neues Deutschland omitted the passages about the Chinese demands.

Rotan Woman Is Elected By PTA

The 18th District Parent-Teacher Association elected officers at the ninth annual Spring Conference Wednesday in Snyder.

New officers are: Mrs. M. F. Garland of Rotan, president; Vice presidents and the counties they represent are: Mrs. W. D. Sims of Snyder, Kent, Scurry and Fisher; Mrs. Donald Love of Childress, Dickens, King, Cottle and Motley; Mrs. Kenneth Whisnant of Abilene, Taylor and Jones; Mrs. Fred Brown of Haskell, Knox, Haskell, Stonewall and Foard; Mrs. Leon Sterling of Ira, recording secretary; and Mrs. Carl Duncan of Aspermont, corresponding secretary.

The election committee included Mr. M. N. Galbreath, Mrs. Thelma Huddleston and Mrs. J. C. Massingill.

Registration begin at 3:30 Tuesday afternoon in the East Elementary School for the district and state board members. At 7 p.m. the District P-TA Board members were honored at a dinner, courtesy of the Snyder School Board of Education. Mr. T. E. McCollum was master of ceremonies, and introduced the school board and guest, Mrs. D. W. Boren, president of the 18th district.

Mr. Tom Adams, Mr. Bill McLaughlin, Mr. Robert Smith and Mr. Bob Womack presented several musical numbers. Guest speaker was Dr. A. B. Lightfoot, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

The first general session began Wednesday morning at 8:30 with coffee, courtesy of Snyder City Council P-TA. Registration was in the foyer of the High School auditorium.

Mrs. D. W. Boren presided at the meeting. Cadette Troop No. 325 of Snyder presented the colors, followed by the pledge to the U.S. flag and the Texas flag. Mr. Tom Adams directed the group singing "God Bless America," and Mr. M. H. Galbreath gave the invocation.

Greetings were given by T. E. McCollum, superintendent of Snyder Pulbic Schools, Mrs. Elmo Crowder, president of the Snyder City-Council P-TA, and Mr. J. Mark McLaughlin, mayor of Snyder.

The conference theme, "We the P-TA Cooperate in the School Story," was presented by Mrs. Chesley McDonald, state vice president of Sterling City. Mr. A. E. Wells, superintendent of Abilene Schools presented the workshop panelists:

Group I — "Parent Teacher Association and School Administration," Mr. K. C. McCasland, Rotan, chairman; Mr. W. T. Falls, Snyder, and Mr. R. M. Hix of Abilene.

Group II — "Parent- Teacher Association and the School Curriculum," Mr. C. Henry, Snyder, chairman; Miss Aleise Cline, Abilene, and Dr. Donald McDonald, Abilene.

Group III — "Parent-Teacher Association Interprets School Program to Community," Mr. Elbert Hall, Abilene, chairman; Mrs. Nena Kate Lewis, Abilene, and Mr. Jerry Barton, Paducah.

The Snyder High School stage band, under the direction of Mr. Melvin Montgomery, presented three numbers.

A luncheon was held in the school cafeteria at 12:45 with the Ira P-TA doing a fine job on decorations. Rev. Harry Vanderpool, First Methodist Church pastor, gave the blessing. Mrs. A. C. Berry and Mr. C. D. Henry presented the history for the past three years entitled "The Administration That Was."

The Acapella Choir of Snyder High School, directed by Mr. Tom Adams, presented three numbers. Life memberships were awarded by Mrs. Robert Counts of Abilene, Life Membership District Chairman. Mrs. W. J. Danforth, State President, gave a summary on P-TA.

Mrs. Chesley McDonald, state vice president, installed the new officers, and Dr. Robert Clinton sang "Bless This House."

A Post Conference District Board meeting followed the adjournment.

Highway 84 Construction Started North Of Dermott

A meeting was held this morning in the office of the Texas Highway Patrol to coordinate the activities of the various groups interested in the new construction on Highway 84.

The present section which is being constructed is an eight-mile segment which runs from one mile north of Dermott to the Garza County line and consists of the addition of another two-lane road parallel to the present highway. The highway is already a four-lane road north of the Garza County line.

Meeting together this morning were representatives of the Highway Patrol, the sheriff's office, the contractor on the job, and engineers of the Texas Highway Department.

Homer Ray, resident engineer conducted the meeting. Bob Brown, who will supervise the project, represented the contractor, Henry L. Stafford of Lubbock.

Work on the $549,348.87 project is already underway with the clearing, grubbing and construction of bridges. Dirt work will start about May 7, according to the contractor.

The project is to be completed in 225 days, and Brown said he saw no reason why the job should not be finished by late fall.

The existing road will not be involved in the construction except where adjoining deceleration lanes will be constructed, and where truck crossovers will be necessary. Speed limits in the actual construction areas will be set at 40 miles per hour, but highway traffic is expected to be affected very little by the construction.

The Texas Highway Patrol, however, agreed to give the construction area additional patroling as a safety measure for motorists and for construction workers.

Letting of the contract for construction of the two-lape highway through Dermott and on south to Snyder has been delayed pending the procurement of the necessary right-of-way through Dermott. The Highway Department recently requested the help of the Scurry County commissioners court in obtaining the necessary land.

Clear titles to several small parcels of land, especially within the town of Dermott, have been difficult to obtain. Some consideration is presently being given to by-passing the Dermott area entirely.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am twelve years old. My bangs touch the end of my eyebrows and that's the way I like them. The kids at school like them that way, too, but my Mon and Dad want them cut. I think I should be able to have my hair the way I like it at my age. What do you think?

LORRAINE

DEAR LORRAINE: Even more important than how you wear your hair is obeying the wishes of your parents. BUT, I wish more parents would worry less about how their children wore their hair (as long as it was clean and neat) and worried more about what was UNDER the scalp.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: The day after I was married my husband told me that he had paid $500 to have a thorough investigation made of my background because he knew I wasn't telling him "everything" I had done in my life before we met. He was right. I didn't lie. When he asked me, I told him I had made some mistakes, but they didn't concern him. (I had no illegitimate children or previous marriages to hide.) We have been married five months, and a day has not gone by that he doesn't throw something of my past in my face. His greatest pleasure is taunting me about this. I cannot stand the torture any longer. He knew all this a month before we were married, but he kept it quiet until afterwards. I think my marriage was a mistake. We were married in the church. What can I do, short of suicide?

TWENTY-TWO AND MISERABLE

DEAR MISERABLE: Run—do not walk — to your minister and tell him your story. It could have a happy ending. Good luck.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I have a husband who hates to write letters. Even to his parents. He says he can never think of anything to say. His parents are the type who feel hurt if they don't hear from Sonny at least once a week. Well, they get that letter from "Sonny" — but guess who writes it? I do! But they don't know that because I use a typewriter and Sonny signs it. Don't use my name or I'll be in trouble.

Tanganyika, Zanzibar Agree On Merger

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanganyika (AP) — The presidents of Tanganyika and the neighboring island of Zanzibar have agreed to merge their countries to form a new nation, the government of Tanganyika announced today.

Diplomatic sources in London said they thought the merger would diminish Communist influence in East Africa. But they added it could open the door to more Red penetration via Zanzibar.

The British Commonwealth Office in London said the merger presumably would take some time to complete.

Informed sources in Dar es Salaam, the capital of Tanganyika, said the new nation would be run from here.

Rusk Says Tour Will Include Belgium

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk will visit Brussels, Belgium, on a trip to Europe next month, the State Department announced today.

He will speak at a luncheon in the Belgian capital May 9 and confer with leaders of the government and the European community.

The announcement said Rusk will stop off for two nights and a day on his way

Miss Mott Playing Lead Role

Miss Kathleen Mott, 21-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Mott of 302 Thirty-third, thrilled an audience in Waco last Friday night with her leading role portrayal of Amelia in Verdi's "A Masked Ball," presented by the Baylor University School of Music. Miss Mott will also be singing two more performances this week, on Thursday and Saturday nights, April 23 and 25.

The most impressive production of Verdi's well - known opera is under the musical direction of Dean Daniel Sternberg, dean of the School of Music; also sharing in the long months of preparation as director of dramatics and set designer has been his wife, Felicitas Gobineau Sternberg. Costumes for the entire cast of approximately 60 persons are being rented from Brooks-Van Horn Costume Company of Lincoln Center in New York. All performances are being accompanied by the Baylor University Symphony Orchestra.

Miss Mott has only recently been presented in her Junior Recital at Baylor on April 7, at which time her difficult program included "Nel Cor Piu non me Sento" by Paisiello, "If Music Be the Food of Love" by Purcell, "Fruhlingstraume" by Schbuert, "Wie Melodien Zieht es Mir" by Brahms, "Senza Mamma" (from Suor Angelica) by Puccini, "La Colomba" by Schindler, "Strange Magic" and "Sing, O My Heart" by Charles Kingsford. The composer of the last two songs, Charles Kingsford, was the former coach and accompanist of Kathleen's voice teacher Miss Tina Piazza, professor of voice at Baylor.

Miss Mott, outstanding in her musical and vocal ability, received high praise on both occasions.

WOMEN

District President Visits Local VFW Auxiliary

The Scurry County Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 8231 held a regular business meeting Monday evening at the clubhouse. Pearl Sellers, president, presided.

Prior to the meeting the ladies joined the men of the post in supper.

Three new members were initiated. They were Mazelle Wall, Joanne Plymell and Harriett Kincheloe. Dale Wilson, District 8 president made her annual visit to inspect the auxiliary and found all in order.

Government agents report rustlers today prowl through private forests in search of walnut trees, one of which may yield veneer worth $20,000.

Disposable Towels Ease Polishing Job

On furniture polishing day do you go rummaging through the rag box in the closet — only to find you're fresh out of clean cloths?

Frequently the problem is solved by sacrificing a dish cloth to the cause — or by simply postponing the job. Neither is necessary now that paper towels have been made softer and lint-free.

The new disposable towels are perfect for polishing furniture or doing any job that calls for a clean, soft cloth. They're strong enough to last through brisk buffing. Best of all, they don't contribute to the confusion of the rag box.

Sorority Meet Held Tuesday

Lambda Kappa Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Tuesday, at the community room of Snyder Savings and Loan, for their regular meeting.

Pat Allen introduced the guest speaker, Father Peter Vergauwin of St. Elizabeth's Church, who talked on "The Good."

During the business meeting plans were discussed for the Founder's Day Banquet on April 30. Also final plans were made for the Spring Style Show and a list of door prizes donated by the local merchants was read. By-laws to the Chapter Constitution were passed.

Refreshments were served to Carole Patterson, Barbara Gilbert, Frances Shamburger, Jean Terrell, Mary Lou Scott, Anita Arnold, Pat Allen, Pat Pate, Patti Slater, Pam Mengwasser, Barbara Novikoff, Betty Winkles, Ann Yielding and Mary Ragsdale by hostesses Linda King and Helen Gilbert.

Cops Plagued By Demonstrators At Fair Grounds

NEW YORK (AP)—Hundreds of civil rights demonstrators marched, chanted, lay down and resisted police as the New York World's Fair opened in a chilling rain Wednesday.

More than 300 demonstrators, both Negro and white and some from distant states, were dragged into police vans, hauled off to a wire-fence stockade, and thence to court.

Some stayed in jail, unable or unwilling to post bail.

There were a few bloodied heads, but no serious injuries. One of the 5,000 city and private policemen on duty said the demonstrators were treated "with kid gloves."

"We had instructions from our captains to go easy," said Lt. Robert Como, leader of one detail.

Opening day attendance was 92,646, about a third of what had been expected. Officials blamed the rain and demonstrations.

Chanting "freedom, freedom" demonstrators nearly drowned out one of President Johnson's two speeches, and they sat down through the national anthem.

They forced temporary closing of at least two of the modernistic commercial pavilions.

A much-heralded auto "stall-in" to create a huge traffic jam around the fair site in Queens did not develop. Traffic was only 25 per cent of normal and moved better than usual, said Traffic Commissioner Henry Barnes.

Among those arrested was James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, which planned the demonstrations inside the fairgrounds and suspended its Brooklyn chapter for planning the "stall-in."

Farmer said the demonstrations were intended to point up the contrast "between the glitter and the fantasy of the World's Fair and the real world of discrimination."

Also arrested was Bayard Rustin, a leader of last summer's civil rights march on Washington

Demonstrators said they were protesting what they called discriminatory hiring practices of some companies sponsoring exhibits, and segregation and discrimination both South and North, especially in schools and housing.

There was no charge that the fair itself was guilty of discrimination.

Texas Water Safari Begins Fifth Day

VICTORIA (AP) — Eighteen boats had passed Victoria as the fifth day of the Texas Water Safari began.

Of the original 40 who left San Marcos Sunday, nine have dropped out, leaving 13 still to arrive here.

Just before dawn, only three contestants were camped at the Safari rendezvous at Swan Point marina near Seadrift. Others who reached the mouth of the Guadalupe River yesterday were held up at Jacobs' landing by the coast guard because of high winds.

Two Michigan men kept their lead. They are Albert Widing and Robert Gillings.

Texas Areas Slated For More Turbulent Weather

By The Associated Press

A tornado skipping through lightly populated Northeast Texas farming country left two men seriously injured today. More rough weather loomed for much of the state.

More reports came in of thunderstorms and rains of up to nearly 5 inches in North and Central Texas.

Pecan Gap, a village of 300 about 40 miles northeast of Dallas, was the main target of the Wednesday night twister.

A four-room house simply disappeared at Pecan Gap and the writhing winds shattered three other homes in the community.

Millard Woods, 79, and his son, Lewis Woods, 53, suffered severe injuries in one of the crushed dwellings. It stood a quarter mile south of Pecan Gap, in Delta County. Both men were taken to a Commerce hospital.

State police reported the tornado struck ground six times. They estimated total property damage at $125,000.

Although some witnesses had an impression the tornado funnel hopped and skipped through Pecan Gap, daylight inspection showed scores of trees down and a clear path of destruction.

Rainfall totals in other areas ranged as high as 4.85 inches at Justin in the 24 hours ending at 6 a.m. today.

Amounts elsewhere included Little Elm 3.77, Celina 3.50, Boyd 2.69, Pilot Point 2.35, Gunter 2.28, Anna 2.25, Roanoke 2.04, Arthur City 2.03, Springtown 1.75, Slidell 1.35, Sherman 1.27, McKinney 1.19, Decatur 1.07, Denison 1.05 and Trenton 1.03.

Skies were clear today in Northwest and extreme West Texas while the rest of the state was mostly cloudy and warm.

A tornado alert in effect for the northern portion of East Texas, part of southeast Oklahoma and part of southern and central Arkansas expired without incident at 5 a.m.

Before striking Pecan Gap, in Delta County, police said the twister smacked Jot 'em down, a Fannin county farming community. A house and barn were destroyed as occupants huddled unharmed in a storm cellar.

The house, barn, tractor and automobile of James Middlebrook were reported destroyed on his farm between Commerce and Paris.

Utilities were knocked out by the storm for a period after the twister, and repairmen spent most of the night restoring service.

Heavy rains and hail pounded wide areas of north Texas Wednesday, for the third straight day. Hail damage appeared large in some sections, especially in Denton county and around Fort Worth.

Two bridges washed out on Farm Road 718 near Newark in north Tarrant County. Fossil creek overflowed its banks near Saginaw, and high water cut off traffic on the road between Boyd and Decatur.

The Dallas area, which had minor flooding Tuesday night, received another torrential downpour Wednesday.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 44 degrees at Dalhart to 76 at Brownsville.

Showers and thundershowers were predicted for the northern half of Texas, but the entire state was to be cloudy.

Solons Say Issue Is Constitutional

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The issue of prayers in public schools does not pit the godly against the godless, say several members of the House Judiciary Committee.

Aroused by the tone of early witnesses in the committee's hearings on proposed constitutional amendments to permit school prayers, several members erupted in protest Wednesday and demanded future witnesses address themselves to the constitutional issues only.

They had heard repeated references to cynics, atheists and "strange and obnoxious" persons opposing the amendments, and the "anti-God" nature of the Supreme Court's 1962 decision banning official school prayers.

Rep. John V. Lindsay, R-N.Y., was the first to complain. "I hope members who seriously question the issue raised here are not going to be charged with being anti-God," he said.

Lindsay said witnesses should relate the proposed amendments to the First Amendment's provision that "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof."

"This has been called the bulwark of the republic," he said, "and the question before us now is, 'Do we want to change the First Amendment?' It must be discussed without any suggestion that those who seriously question any change are somehow anti-God, or anti-children or anti-mother."

Rep. Jacob H. Gilbert, D-N.Y. complimenting Lindsay for bringing the subject out into the open, called for an end "to all veiled accusations."

"This issue is not between the godly and the godless," Gilbert said. "It is not even a religious question. It is a serious constitutional question which all Americans must try to resolve."

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY — Sounds like the traffic is getting heavy in the direction of Oaxaca because here is a fellow from Pennsylvania who writes he is going there and wants to buy a fine, authentic machete. And he wants to buy a wool blanket with lots of color and says how much is a train ticket because he would like to watch the countryside roll past and could we recommend a travel agency that will help him find some places not frequented by tourists.

All this fellow wants is Peace and Quiet and if he ever finds it, I would like him to drop me a line so I can move next door to him.

The authentic machete house in Oaxaca is Aragon, established in 1700 something. Ask anybody to point the direction. You may find guides who will take you to outlying villages where they weave the wool blankets but you can buy them about as cheaply on the main plaza in Oaxaca. There are vendors all over the place who cart arm loads of every possible color and design. You have to bargain and a good start is half of what the vendor asks. You end up somewhere between, both happy and surprised. The train ride, incidentally, is at night so you would miss all the landscape.

Caravan Tours, Berna 6-A Mexico City 6, specializes in out of the way spots. You might write Ricardo Lopez, the manager, and ask him for some suggestions.

A friend of mine brought back some large brass candlesticks from Mexico to make lamps. Any idea where they are sold?

Around the Laguna Market area in scads of establishments that deal in quaint merchandise. Also on Allende Street in the antique shops.

* * *

Am interested in making a boat trip from a Mexican gulf port to Yucatan. Any information?

I would suggest Veracruz as the best starting point. You can get first class passage on a small steamer to Progreso (the port for Merida) for about $10 U.S. Trip is pleasant and takes about two days.

* * *

Can we get Swiss watches cheaper in Mexico than in the United States and do you have to pay duty on one for your personal use?

Yes, Swiss watches are considerably cheaper here and you won't have any problems finding one. Shops all over town carry them. As to taking one back, you are supposed to declare anything you buy out of the country so U.S. Customs can figure out the tab. However, if it occurs to you to just wear one back don't get the idea I am suggesting such a thing.

* * *

What sort of taxes would we have to pay on a small industry if we set one up in Mexico? Would we be subject to U.S. taxes also?

For this information you should write the Oficina de Impuestos, Secretaria de Hacienda, Mexico City. You would have to give a rough idea of the type of operation you have in mind so they could let you know the tax rate. U.S. citizens are income tax exempt up to $20,000 (dollars) a year after 12 months residence abroad. After three years, you are exempt up to $35,000 a year. Real nice.

(Questions on Mexico? Write John Abney, Indianapolis 72, Mexico City 18, Mexico.)

Just Glad He's Here To Pay Fishing Fine

CORSICANA, Tex. (AP) — Game warden John Gerganess rescued a man he saw going under for the third time in the Navarro Mills Reservoir.

On shore, the warden noticed that Nelton Tarrent of Italy, Tex., had in his possession a string of under-legal-size bass.

Tarrent didn't complain when County Judge Kenneth Douglas revoked his fishing license until September—he even smiled as he paid a $25 fine.

'Family Night' At C-C Resumes May 8

The regular "Family Night" event at the Snyder Country Club will not be held the next two Friday nights, it was announced today.

The family night, a regular Friday feature at the club, will be resumed on May 8. The brief suspension of the activity was required because other activities have been scheduled for tomorrow night and for May 1 at the club.

Some 40,000 men including American technicians, Spanish and Jamaican laborers, Chinese launderers, Greek cooks and Sikh ditchdiggers from India worked to build the Panama Canal.

Southern Baptists Report Declining Spiritual Interest

EDITOR'S NOTE—An apparent trend away from organized religion is being felt by the Southern Baptist Convention, largest Protestant body in the United States. In this report, Baptist leaders discuss what is happening and why.

By DON MCKEE

Atlanta, Ga. (AP) — Southern Baptists, comprising the nation's largest Protestant denomination, are facing a dilemma of growing financial resources and declining spiritual interest.

Baptist churches are collecting more money but there are fewer converts.

Since it broke with Northern Baptists over slavery in 1845, the loosely organized Southern Baptist Convention has grown from its original 351,951 members to nearly 10.5 million. Its Northern counterpart, the American Baptist Convention, has not experienced such a rate of growth. Its membership is 1.5 million.

Southern Baptist, conservative and fundamentalist, has spread into the 50 states and 54 foreign countries. It operates six seminaries, 45 hospitals, and numerous children's homes.

Last year, Southern Baptist counted 10,395,940 members to become officially the biggest non-Catholic denomination in the United States.

Its contributions ran to more than $556 million last year; its property was valued at a record $2.75 billion.

Despite these gains, the rate of growth is declining and there have been sharp drops in baptisms the past two years.

Baptisms dropped from 416,867 to 355,325 in an eight-year period starting in 1955. Last year the decline was 6.9 per cent.

Baptist leaders disagree over the reasons but many attribute the decline to a national trend away from organized religion. Others cite growing urbanization and failure of the church to provide needed direction or inspiration.

"It's an alarming situation," said Searcy Garrison of Atlanta, executive secretary of the Home Mission Board. He blamed it on a trend of secularism.

"I'm afraid we've grown fat and unconcerned as a nation," Garrison said. "Unless we can find some new approach, we're not going to turn this tide."

Almost the opposite view was expressed by the convention's president, Dr. K. Owen White of Houston, Tex.

"There is a real revival and awakening concern among our people," he said. "This is turning the tide."

Dr. White said state conferences on evangelism are helping.

Part of the decline is merely a leveling-off, he said, and part is attributable to what he called institutionalizing of the church, together with indifference.

Between the views of Garrison and Dr. White are those of other Baptist leaders interviewed by The Associated Press.

Dr. Porter Routh of Nashville, Tenn., secretary of the convention's executive committee, said the shift of population from rural to urban areas has a direct bearing on the problem.

"Our culture, especially in the South, has been largely rural—where a person didn't lose his identity in a small community," Dr. Routh said. "This changes in the big city."

A Chicago clergyman, the Rev. Preston Denton, agreed.

"The reason for the over-all decline is the exodus of people from the South to more industrial areas, many of which do not have Southern Baptist churches," he said.

The Rev. Mr. Denton said there had been no decline in the Chicago area. He is superintendent of city missions for the Chicago Southern Baptist Association.

One factor cited by several clergymen was complacency accompanying economic prosperity — the growth of materialistic values, emphasis on church buildings and property instead of on Christian living.

"There seems to be a let-down in spiritual emphasis in the entire country among my people," said Dr. J. D. Grey, pastor of the First Baptist church in New Orleans, La.

Dr. Grey, former convention president, said the main problem is "the general spirit of defeatism brought on by the worldwide conflicts which tend to discourage people in all areas of their life."

Would Place Ruby In Hospital

DALLAS (AP)—Jack Ruby's chief lawyer has asked Judge Joe Brown to release the condemned man from jail temporarily for admission to "a modern hospital with neurological and psychiatric facilities."

Dr. Hubert Smith filed the motion Wednesday on behalf of Ruby, 53. He told Brown in his petition that American courts would face "criticism and condemnation" unless Ruby is allowed further mental tests.

Brown indicated he will reject the defense request for further tests, which would involve hypnosis and "truth serum."

"I don't believe I have the power to send Ruby to a hospital for these tests," Brown said. "I know of no principle of law under which I could do so. A jury already considered the evidence and ruled in his case."

Ruby, who pleaded temporary insanity, was convicted of murder in the slaying Nov. 24 of Lee Harvey Oswald, President Kennedy's accused assassin.

Turtles Canvases Displayed In Show

OLEAN, N.Y. (AP) — Two college seniors let their turtles walk in blue ink. Then the turtles were set loose on four canvases. The results have been put on display at the St. Bonaventure University arts festival.

The "paintings" have been titled "The Storm," "In Memorium," "Rebellion" and "Periphenomenon."

The turtles, owned by Tom Rogers and William McGrath, are named Moses, Abraham, Sam and Josephus.

Mental Health Assn. To Honor Texans

AUSTIN (AP)—Five Texans will be honored next week for outstanding work in public hospitals for the mentally ill or handicapped, the Texas Association for Mental Health said Wednesday.

Winners of the National Association for Mental Health Psychiatric Aide awards include Pedro Perez, Big Spring State Hospital, and Louise Cromwell, Rusk State Hospital.

Candidates are nominated by the hospitals and schools.

Tigers, C-City Meet Again Here Friday

Colorado City and Snyder will take up where they left off last Saturday when they tangle again tomorrow in a District 3-AAA baseball game on the Towle Memorial Park diamond. Game time is set for 4 p.m.

It will be Snyder's first game in the second round of conference play. The district is playing a triple round robin schedule this year, and the slate brings the C-City Wolves here twice.

The Tigers took a 1-0 decision last Saturday, the only blemish on the C-City conference record. Snyder won its four first-round games and goes into the second round in first place.

The Wolves launched their second round of play Tuesday afternoon by taking a 3-1 decision over the winless Lamesa Tornadoes. The victory kept the Colorado City crew in hot pursuit of the league - leading Tigers.

Tiger Coach Speedy Moffett said he probably would go tomorrow with the same lineup that squeezed out the 1-0 victory over the Wolves last Saturday.

That will send righthander J. N. Wall to the mound, with Kenny Gay behind the plate. The infield will have Drew Bullard at first base, Martin Benitez at second base, Leslie Brown at shortstop and Jim Marcum at third base. The outfield will be composed of Jay Williamson in leftfield, Rob Hall in centerfield and Mack Galyean in rightfield.

In the other league game played Tuesday, the Brownfield Cubs decisioned the Sweetwater Mustangs, 10-8.

Fish - Balance At Lake Thomas OK

Lake J. B. Thomas is in too good balance to risk a selective kill aimed at dimishing rough fish.

This is the opinion of G. G. Henderson Jr,, Slaton, biologist for Area II of the Parks and Wildlife Department.

Directors of the CRMWD had appropriated up to $2,500 for experimental kills directed at control of non-game fish. No need to spend this, the biologist said in effect, for "Lake J.B. Thomas has a very desirable fish population as represented by our survey, and I sincerely wish all the lakes in region 1-A2 demonstrated such a condition."

Biologists have been making a series of studies at the big lake, which is the reservoir of the Colorado River Municipal Water District. Against a standard of satisfactory balance when game and rough fish are about 0-50, the lake showed 63.07 per cent in favor of the game fish by weight although the numbers were about even.

Agents of the Parks and Wildlife Department had collected samples in 14 units of standard survey nets at the end of March and beginning of April. There were 364 fish examined, 184 of them classed as desirable, and they weighed 256.29 pounds as against 150.10 pounds for the undesirable fish. However 74.08 of the latter class were shad, and Henderson noted that "the shad could be considered a desirable fish."

They are being readily devoured by the larger game fish. For instance, of the 29 channel catfish examined, 16 had remains of 28 shad in their digestive system. Sixteen of the 29 white bass examined had 23 shad, and of 14 largemouth bass checked, nine had a total of 14 shad. About 80 per cent of the fish checked in the samples had food.

"It should be noted," observed Henderson, "that all fish examined were in good condition. The large volume of desirable food, shad, small carp and minnows contribute toward a fat and healthy game fish population in which the individual fish is not as easily caught, possibly, as a hungry fish, but the fisherman who catches fish at J. B. Thomas will be well satisfied with the fish he catches. Any fisherman worth his salt who likes to face the challenge of making a fat, satisfied six or seven pound bass smack a plug or who enjoys teasing two or three-pound white bass into hitting a spinner or minnow can find good use for talents at Lake J. B. Thomas."

In view of this Henderson believed that it "would be unwise to risk altering the (fish) population in such an unpredictable manner" as an experimental kill might produce. Fish populations exposed to this type of treatment in the past have had explosive over-balancing occur in favor of the rough species as frequently as not, he added.

Texas Loop Tilt Uses 15 Pitchers

By The Associated Press

Fifteen pitchers took the mound at Fort Worth Wednesday night for what was to have been a seven-inning game but turned out to be a 12-frame, four-hour, 25-hit, nine-error struggle in the best Texas League tradition with Albuquerque emerging with a 2-1 victory over its host.

In more prosaic fashion, the New Mexico squad took the seven-inning nightcap 2-0 while Tulsa edged San Antonio 8-6 and Austin downed El Paso 4-1.

As result of their marathon evening at Fort Worth, Albuquerque moved into a third place tie with Tulsa in the league race. El Paso and San Antonio now have identical 4-2 marks, Albuquerque and Tulsa are 3-3 and Fort Worth and Austin are 2-4.

The 342 Fort Worth fans in the stands saw the Cats' 4-0 first inning lead fade to a 7-7 tie at the end of the seventh. Then after four scoreless frames, the visitors pushed over an unearned run to take the game. Dick Calmus, the 14th pitcher in the game, was credited with the victory.

Charlie Spell completed Albuquerque's double sweep with a four-hit shutout. He struck out eight Fort Worth players and walked only one.

Power hitting by Bob Tolan and Chris Krug gave the Tulsa Oilers their first home victory of the season after the San Antonio Bullets bombarded Tulsa starter Tom Hilgendorf with a triple, a double and a single to score four runs in the first inning.

Tulsa took its winning margin in the seventh on a bases loaded single and a San Antonio error that allowed two runs to come home.

The relief pitching of Ray Orlikowski and Herb Hippauf and a home run by Glen Clark sparked the Austin victory. Clark's 354 feet homer over the right fence accounted for two of the Senators' three runs in the first inning.

NFL Extends Slate Into Week Days

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League has extended its 1964 schedule into the week to include five Saturday games, a Friday night contest and two Monday night games in addition to the usual Thanksgiving Day special at Detroit.

Among the innovations in the 98 - game schedule, announced today by Commissioner Pete Rozelle, are a Friday night home opener for the New York Giants with Washington, their first home night game since 1938 and Monday night dates in Detroit and St. Louis.

The season will open with a night game, Saturday, Sept. 12 in the Cotton Bowl, where the Dallas Cowboys will meet the St. Louis Cards. It will close Sunday, Dec. 13. The championship game will be played Sunday, Dec. 27 in the home city of the Eastern Conference champions.

Most of the games are televised regionally into the home area of the visiting team with the home city blacked out. The Columbia Broadcasting Company bought the rights for two years at $14.1 million a year, plus another $1.8 for the championship game.

O'Hara May Loaf Way To Record

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — America's premier miler, 134-pound Tom O'Hara, will start loafing into Olympic preparation by probably shattering the meet mile record in the 55th Drake Relays opening Friday.

The brakes will be on for the Chicago Loyola University runner in his first outdoor start of the season, but O'Hara still may better the 4:06.7 Drake record set by Dyrol Burleson in 1959.

The two-day meet will find 453 university division and 435 college athletes in action that for some may fan hopes of a trip to Tokyo this Olympic year.

The biggest attractions are O'Hara, whose 3:56.4 in Chicago Stadium March 6 was the fastest indoor mile in history, and world class sprinters Henry Carr of Arizona State and Roger Sayers of Omaha University.

Carr and Sayers meet Friday in the 220-yard dash.

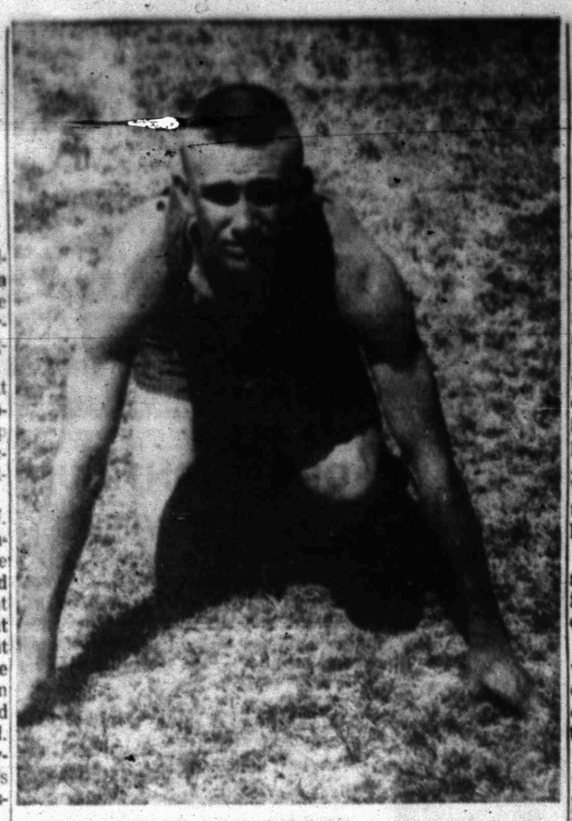

O'Hara, who runs in a special mile Saturday, came off a sensational indoor season with a strained groin, aching knee and sore hip.

"It's a long, long way to Tokyo and I want O'Hara to go as easy as he can here," said Loyola track Coach Jerry Welland.

He set broad jump records in junior meets at Sweetwater, Brownfield and Big Spring, his longest jump being 21-2½ at Big Spring. He set a new record in the 330 yard dash at Brownfield with a time of 37.1 and tied the 220 dash record at Sweetwater in 24.5. In the triangular varsity meet he ran a leg on the winning sprint relay team and placed third in the broad jump.

Koufax Nurses His Arm As Dodgers' Headache Grows

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

While the Los Angeles Dodgers suffered from a growing headache in St. Louis today, Sandy Koufax was 2,200 miles away—nursing his hot dog arm.

The Dodgers' ace left-hander was forced out of the game with the Cardinals Wednesday night after the first inning with an elbow inflammation and a slight muscle tear in his left forearm. He returned to Los Angeles for an examination.

Before he left the game, Koufax unleashed a rare wild third strike that eventually led to Charley James' three-run homer and a 7-6 victory for the Cardinals. It was the seventh straight defeat for the Dodgers, who have won just one game.

Dr. I. C. Middleman, St. Louis team physician, estimated Koufax would miss at least one or two pitching turns. He normally pitches every four days.

Elsewhere in the National League Wednesday night, Houston blanked Cincinnati 2-0, and San Francisco stopped Milwaukee 8-6. Rain halted Pittsburgh at Philadelphia and Chicago at New York.

In the American League, New York downed Chicago 3-0, Los Angeles nipped Detroit 3-2 and Minnesota edged Washington 7-6. Rain washed out Boston at Baltimore and Cleveland at Kansas City.

Koufax, whose 25 victories last season earned him the league's most valuable player award, got into trouble when Bill White swung and missed for the third strike. The ball got by catcher John Roseboro, though, and White reached first. Koufax then walked Ken Boyer and gave up the home run pitch to James.

Carl Warwick and White later hit home runs, nullifying homers by the Dodgers' Frank Howard and Willie Davis. Curt Simmons won his second game for the Cardinals but needed help from Roger Craig.

Willie McCovey belted home runs in his first three times at bat for the Giants. He had a puny .080 batting average going into the game. His performance overshadowed the two home runs hit by the Braves' Joe Torre.

Ford's 200th Victory Is Mere One Sweat-shirt Job

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Measured by Whitey Ford's meticulous standards, the 200th victory of his major league career was a complete success—strictly a one sweat-shirt job.

Ford, the ace left-hander of the New York Yankees who doubles as the pitching coach for the American League champions, put himself down for an A grade after winning No. 200 Wednesday night by blanking the Chicago White Sox 3-0 on six hits.

"I only went through one sweat shirt," said Ford, laughing, "I'm giving myself an excellent report for the game."

Ford's chart, when completed, will show he kept the White Sox off balance, allowing only one extra base hit and striking out two while issuing only one walk.

The record book, when revised, will show Ford the 61st pitcher in major league history to reach the 200-victory plateau.

The long, bright future also may be approaching for the Yankees, who marked their second victory in six games with still another achievement. In the fifth inning, Clete Boyer hit a homer—the first by a Yankee this season.

The Minnesota Twins hit three homers—by Tony Oliva, Rich Rollins and Don Mincher—but scored the winning run on a passed ball in a 7-6 triumph over Washington. In the only other AL game played, the Los Angeles Angels struck for two runs in the ninth and a 3-2 victory over Detroit.

Two games were postponed by rain—Boston at Baltimore and Cleveland at Kansas City.

In the National League, St. Louis made it seven losses in a row for the Los Angeles Dodgers by beating the world champions 7-6, San Francisco belted Milwaukee 8-6 and Houston shut out Cincinnati 2-0. The Chicago at New York and Philadelphia at Pittsburgh games were rained out.

Ford, who was the AL's winningest pitcher last year with a 24-7 record, was locked in a duel with White Sox starter Gary Peters until Boyer hit his bases-empty homer in the fifth.

Many Top Names In Texas Open

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—More than 150 golfers, including many of the game's top names, strike out over the Oak Hills Country Club course today after a share of the $40,000 up for grabs in the 37th annual Texas Open.

So far, the tournament has failed to yield a favorite.

The rolling 6,715-yard par 70 layout offers sub-par rounds for consistent shooters, but has its trouble spots. A host of the pros proved during practice rounds and the pro-amateur tournament Wednesday they could whip the course.

Billy Maxwell, who hasn't won a tournament since the 1962 Dallas Open, caught the eyes of many Wednesday with a four-under-par 66 that was tops in the pro-amateur.

However, nine others turned in below par rounds, including defending champion Phil Rodgers, who sizzled over the same course last year 16 strokes better than par.

Perhaps one reason most feel the tournament, which ends Sunday, is anybody's title is the fact that several of the biggest names have skipped it.

Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player and Julius Boros are absent. Mike Souchak, who won the Houston Classic Sunday, also did not enter.

16 New Records Assured In Meet

SEGUIN (AP) — Sixteen new track and field records will be set here Friday when the first annual Bulldog Relays are staged with more than 200 athletes from 13 colleges and several military bases.

The meet will be held on the campus of Texas Lutheran College. Preliminaries start at 10 a.m. with finals scheduled for 2 p.m.

COULDN'T HAPPEN TO A BETTER GUY!

LBJ's Persistence Brings Another Political Triumph

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson put a way of life to work—his way—and the railroad dispute was settled without a strike. His performance here is perhaps the best single insight into how he runs the presidency.

How did he get the railroads' management and unions to reach a settlement after being at each other's throat for five years? He worked at it. He never got off their backs.

He has more drive than Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy and more down to earth dogged persistence, and apparently far more energy as was demonstrated in this past week alone by all his handshaking, speeches and news conferences.

Whether in the long run his general judgment is half so good as either man's remains to be seen in future events.

He made his reputation as Democratic leader in the Senate—and he was probably the best Senate leader in this century—by getting opposing sides to compromise their differences and reach agreement. And he was tireless.

He did exactly the same in the rail dispute which had dragged on since 1959. In their time neither Eisenhower nor Kennedy could get the two sides to agree. But Johnson did.

The case reached the Supreme Court twice; Congress stepped in once (1963); a presidential commission, arbitration board, and emergency board failed to prevail; and the government exhausted its machinery for delaying or stopping a strike.

It was due to begin April 10. Johnson called both sides to the White House and on the night of April 9 got an agreement there would be no strike before April 25 and that in the meantime the two sides would work hard for a settlement.

The President kept them at it day and night, worked Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz overtime, and called in experienced outside mediators to help out. Johnson was on top of it all the time. He coaxed but didn't threaten.

He had a big personal and political stake in the outcome himself. He put his presidential prestige on the line in this one—particularly by making optimistic statements — and a strike would have been an impressive setback.

A settlement would mean the opposite. No wonder he was so delighted when he rushed to a studio to go on the air—although it meant interrupting programs—and announce the result as fast as he could.

Johnson is not experienced in foreign affairs. He lacks Kennedy's intellectuality and the heroic symbolism of Eisenhower. And the typical corn of the American politician pops through his public statements.

But he is, above everything, a politician and it is as such that he is running the presidency. But that is not meant just shaking hands and making speeches, although he does plenty of both.

There are various kinds of politician: The sonorous, the pompous, the placid, the active, and the very aggressive who tries, often behind the scenes, to anticipate and shape events. Johnson is this aggressive kind.

For example: He has kept up a private correspondence with Soviet Premier Khrushchev and as a result of it Johnson and the Russian were able to announce at the same time they were cutting down production of material for nuclear weapons.

How To Get Along With N. Y. Cabby

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Visitors to the World's Fair here will find their stay much more pleasant if they give a little forethought to getting along with New York cab drivers.

They are a race apart, a law unto themselves, and are sometimes as hard to predict as the weather. A few hints as to their nature and strange ways may be in order.

Naturally, the stranger on entering a cab here believes the driver must be speaking in Albanian or some equally foreign tongue.

Actually the language is Brooklynese, a form of communication whose vowel sounds were borrowed from the screech of subway wheels. Its main words generally can be understood by an out-of-towner after three days of concentrated listening.

The New York cabby is a proud man and refuses to wear a uniform. If prizes were given for sartorial neatness, he would win the booby prize. His usual garb consists of a beat-up cap, an old sweater or wrinkled windbreaker, and the kind of odd trousers other people wear on Halloween.

Our cabbies also pride themselves on lack of service. If the driver leaps out of his vehicle, opens the door, and salutes you smartly as you enter or leave, you'd better look at your road map again. You undoubtedly are in some other city. That just don't happen here.

Don't be surprised if your driver bursts suddenly into song or starts reeling off a string of Joe Miller jokebook gags. Four out of five hackies here are convinced they are born singers or comedians. They go through their acts hopeful that sooner or later one of their passengers will turn out to be a television producer looking for new talent.

As to destinations, it is better for you to choose one of three—Penn Station, Grand Central terminal or the Empire State Building. These are the only places in New York City that most cab drivers have heard of, although now and then you may ride with an old-timer who recalls where Grant's Tomb is.

Never tell a driver your troubles or ailments. He'll top you every time. If you tell him you have a toothache, he is almost certain to reply. "What's a sore tooth? My cousin has gallstones—and never a word of complaint out of him."

Unless the sun is shining brightly, there isn't much point in trying to hail a cab. At the first sign of rain or snow, every cabbie automatically locks his doors, puts up his "Off Duty" sign and drives off for coffee.

One final point—the matter of tipping. Manhattan cabbies are convinced to a man that anybody hailing from west of the Hudson River, north of the Bronx, or south of Staten Island is a tightwad.

To really please a cabby after paying your fare, you should hold out your wallet and let him have at least 20 per cent of all you have left.

Or you might simply arrange to adopt him. That would be cheaper.

Junior Editors Quiz on SOIL

QUESTION: How is soil formed?

• • •

ANSWER: Soil-making processes started long ages ago, when rain and wind began to break off the rock which formed the earth's original crust (A). Ice, working into cracks of the rock and then expanding, helped the process by splitting rock into smaller parts. Turbulant streams and freshets (B) carried the process further by grinding the rock pieces together and spreading them out in times of flood. Air, working it's way through the crushed rock, helped to soften it by chemical processess (C). Then, after the first plants and trees developed, the soil was greatly enriched as decaying plant and animal matter mixed with it (D). It had now finally arrived at a point where abundant crops of all kinds of vegetables, grains and fruits could be grown and harvested, giving man the steady food supply he needed to be able to create civilization.

But unfortunately man did not always use this valuable heritage of the soil wisely. When the white man first came to America, there was an average layer of nine inches of topsoil—the productive part in which crops are grown. Many of the first farmers used land carelessly, leaving exposed areas where topsoil could erode and wash or blow away. Now, we have only six of the original nine inches left. But modern farmers are becoming alert to the danger of losing more soil, and through good conservation practices they are preventing it from being eroded or washed away.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Two soil conservation practices are shown in the picture. What are they? We're not going to tell you. Tear the picture out and see if you can find someone who can explain them—if you don't figure it out by yourself.

Option Pact With Johnson Is Submitted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Capital Cable of Austin has bowed to the Federal Communications Commission and submitted a copy of its option agreement with a television firm controlled by President Johnson's family.

Twice, Capital Cable had spurned the FCC's request for a copy of the agreement, which gives Texas Broadcasting Corp. an option to buy half its stock. The deadline on a third request was Wednesday, and Capital Cable complied—but not without a protest.

A review of the agreement, it said in a letter, will show the matter to be a "tempest in a teapot." The commission did not at once make the agreement public.

Capital Cable, owned by Midwest Video, and TV Cable of Austin are competing before the FCC for the chance to relay television programs in Austin by cable. The city now has one television station, KTBC-TV, owned by Texas Broadcasting.

The President's wife, Claudia, owned a controlling share of Texas Broadcasting stock, but soon after Johnson became president, she placed the stock in the hands of trustees. Presumably, the Johnson family will regain control when he leaves the presidency.

The Austin situation has come up at presidential news conferences and Johnson has reiterated that he has no interest in Texas Broadcasting, nor in any government-regulated industry.

Last Thursday, after the FCC posted the deadline, Johnson said Texas Broadcasting would be "perfectly willing to comply" with any FCC request.

In its letter Capital Cable said it does not know whether Texas Broadcasting will ever exercise its option on Capital Cable. Capital Cable also said Texas Broadcasting has no interest in Midwest Video and that the agreement has no relevance to the community antenna television system case before the FCC.

Capital Cable said it would have submitted the agreement earlier "but for the innuendoes and inferences of something improper and sinister."

"These companies feel obliged to accede to the commission's demand for a copy of this agreement in order to put the matter to rest, although Capital Cable and Midwest consider this demand an intrusion into what they consider private affairs," Capital Cable added.

Speak-In May Resume

AUSTIN (AP) — Civil rights demonstrators, conducting a stepped-up campaign for an anti - discrimination ordinance, might try to resume a "speak-in" today when the city council meets.

The speak-in tied up council members for two weeks until the council ordered police to eject three demonstrators at last week's meeting.

After police removed the protesters, the council conducted business behind a screen of policemen standing shoulder-to-shoulder.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, NAACP sponsor of the talkathon, began last week supplementing the council demonstrations with Sunday afternoon rallies to gather support for the campaign.

The NAACP wants the council to adopt an ordinance banning racial discrimination in hotels, restaurants and theaters.

Billie Sol Estes' Influence Big Issue In Senate Race

By PEGGY SIMPSON
ASSOCIATED PRESS WRITER

The influence of convicted swindler Billie Sol Estes has mushroomed into the most bitterly disputed question in the Texas Senate race.

With little more than a week left before May 2 elections, Sen. Ralph Yarborough denounced as "a monstrous falsehood" an accusation by Gordon McLendon, his Democratic opponent, that he accepted $50,000 cash from Estes in 1960.

Yarborough called the Dallas radio executive a "bankrupt huckster" and told a Dallas rally that McLendon was "spending upwards of $1 million in the final weeks of the campaign trying to beat me."

He said McLendon was waging a "hate campaign, with slander and smear."

Earlier Wednesday, Yarborough asked the Federal Communications Commission to investigate what he called "infamous lies being broadcast against me" by McLendon over his three Texas radio stations, in Dallas, Houston, and San Antonio.

McLendon replied that Yarborough "has got hold of a real tough old Scotchman. . .He's not about to intimidate and bully me into submission. Our radio stations will continue to broadcast the news."

In Marshall, McLendon said "The only statements we have broadcast have been direct quotes from the Dallas Morning News. We will not only continue to broadcast them, but from now on we are going to factually expand upon them."

He referred to a Dallas News story of April 12 that said Yarborough accepted $50,000 from Estes on Nov. 6, 1960. Yarborough has warned newspapers that the account was libelous.

At the Dallas rally, Yarborough said his last campaign contribution from Estes was in 1961. He added that the Dallas News had praised Estes as late as March 28, 1962, the day before Estes was arrested by federal officers. He said he learned later the News had been probing Estes' activities but said, "How did they expect me to know, if they had investigated him and they didn't know?"

Meanwhile, the four rivals for the Republican Senate nomination appeared in a panel discussion sponsored by the Pasadena Republican Women's Club and agreed on their opposition to the civil rights bill under debate in the Senate. They differed, however, on ways to settle civil rights problems.

Robert Morris said the world's fair demonstrations Wednesday showed that legislation is not the solution. "You cannot legislate love or the acceptance of one man as the brother of another. . .it takes time to reverse the trend," he said.

Jack Cox said he didn't believe more laws were needed—"the present constitution and statutory provisions are sufficient."

Another GOP candidate, George Bush, said "Texas has a reasonable record in civil rights. Job opportunity and education at the local level are the best solutions."

Dr. Milton Davis said the answer was to let Negroes "compete for job opportunities. I hope our leaders in Washington will stop trying to take advantage of the situation."

Don Yarborough, Democratic candidate for governor, called for a debate with Gov. John Connally. "We can both go on television and debate and it won't be any strain on me or on the governor," he said.

"The newspapers of Texas are trying to create an atmosphere of apathy in Texas. They must do this if they hope to reelect the present do-nothing governor for another two years," Yarborough said.

In the race for congressman-at-large, Democratic candidate Robert W. Baker said the voting record of the incumbent, Joe Pool, is the main campaign issue.

Baker said Pool voted against the Democratic administration "more than 70 per cent of the time on 1963. . .more than any other Democratic congressman in the U.S.," according to the Congressional Record.

Another at-large candidate, Dan Sullivan, said if elected he would fight for improved industrial safety laws. He said Pool fought a proposal for such laws when he was in the Texas legislature, "The only thing Pool is interested in is protecting his rich Dallas Republican friends," Sullivan said.

Austin headquarters for Jack Pope, Democratic candidate for the State Supreme Court, said he received his 37th endorsement from a legal group. The latest was from nine members of the Hockley County bar, the headquarters said.

Terms Of Rail Settlement Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are the general terms of the railroad labor settlement announced Wednesday night by President Johnson:

1. Virtually all employes of the five unions involved who are paid on an hourly basis will receive seven paid holidays.

2. Trainmen who must spend more than four hours away from their home terminal will receive suitable lodging for the night and $1.50 meal allowance.

3. The railroads will be able to reduce the number of employes required under present rules to man self-propelled track maintenance equipment. It could not be estimated how many employes would be affected, but government sources said it would not involve a large group.

4. The railroads withdrew their proposal to change the present basic wage structure, which provides a daily rate of pay for either 8 hours of work or up to 150 miles for employes who receive pay on a combined time and mileage basis. It was agreed that any wage increases until Jan. 1, 1968 will be limited to basic hourly rates and will not apply to existing mileage rates.

It was also agreed in connection with the wage structure that yard foremen will receive a 12-cent raise to $3.10, yard helpers an 8-cent increase to $2.90, and what were described as commensurate increases in the hourly rates of other yard service employes. These increases were described as inequity adjustments to bring employes paid by the hour closer to wage rates of those who are paid on a mileage basis.

An estimated 50 per cent of the union members in the five unions involved will receive the inequity adjustments:

5. The unions withdrew their request for overtime pay for road employes. Yard service workers now receive overtime beyond eight hours.

6. The unions withdrew their request for night shift differential pay for all classes of employes.

7. The railroad's proposal to combine some divisional train runs, thus lengthening the runs before crews are changed, was referred to a committee composed of the parties and two of the mediators, Dr. George Taylor and Theodore Kheel. The committee will discuss the issue further but will not have the power to make any binding decision. A government spokesman said the issue could not lead to another strike threat.

8. New rules will be established which will enable the railroads to a limited extent to use road crews for certain kinds of yard work. This affects the present rule requiring a separate crew to bring a train into a railroad yard and another crew to handle it there. There will be provisions for special pay for road crews who handle their own train in the yard.

Hunters Are Rescued

BARROW, Alaska (AP)—Four polar bear hunters, two of them injured, were rescued Wednesday from the Arctic icepack 85 miles northeast of Barrow, where they spent more than 48 hours after making a forced landing.

They were picked up in a light plane piloted by Bob Cooper of Fairbanks and flown to a larger plane on smoother ice nearby, which flew them to Barrow. They left behind their two damaged planes and a bear they had shot.

Pilot Juels Thibedeau had cuts on his face and Stan Dale, a passenger, an injured leg. Olly Huddleson, the other pilot, and Army Sgt. John E. De Frehn, the other passenger, were unhurt. All are from Fairbanks.

The hunters left Barrow Sunday and radioed for help Monday.

Ask Freedom For Captured Chinese

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The Mexican Society of Friendship with People's China has appealed to Brazilian authorities to free Several Chinese reportedly taken into custody in Brazil during the recent coup.

Recardo Pozas, a teacher who heads the society, made public Wednesday a letter which he said he presented to Brazil's Ambassador in Mexico, Carlos Pio Correa.

Guthrie Scene Of Street Battle

GUTHRIE, Okla. (AP) — About 80 Negroes and whites were arrested here Wednesday night in a street battle brought under control by fire hoses, hastily summoned police from nearby cities and state troopers.

The violence erupted at the end of Oklahoma's 89er Day celebration and involved fist fights and brick and beer can throwing. At least one man was injured by a blow on the head.

Guthrie Police Chief C. H. Noble said it was not a race riot but said both Negroes and whites were involved. A Guthrie policeman said a number of young Negro and white youths moved to a Negro-area dance hall after a rodeo show.

He said he heard a shouted racial threat by one of the young persons. It was near the dance hall that the mass fighting broke out.

"Everytime we'd get one group calmed down with the fire hoses," one policeman said, "another wave would come from another direction."

"Taverns were ordered closed an hour before the regular midnight curfew. Desk Sgt. Roy Clinton said the violence was a culmination of a day of drinking and celebrating. "It was the worst I've seen in quite some time," he said.

For three days celebrants had been whooping it up, marking the 75th anniversary of the land run that led to the settlement of Oklahoma. Similar observances were held throughout the state, but the big celebration was in Guthrie, the state's first capital.

There were some 80,000 persons jammed into the town which normally has a population of about 10,000. There were extra police from nearby cities, along with highway patrolmen, on hand when the fighting started.

Noble sent out an emergency call to neighboring Oklahoma City and the patrol for reinforcements. The Oklahoma City police brought along their canine units and they had a calming effect on the crowd.

"It was just a bunch of drunkards," said Claude Canning, a deputy sheriff. "It was a skirmish kind of like we were going to have a riot but it was settled off pretty quickly."

LBJs Make Political Trip To Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — President Johnson, accompanied by his wife, makes a frankly political trip to this Democratic stronghold today.

With Illinois' primary election settled last week, party leaders look to Johnson to help fill the party campaign coffers for the fall election campaign.

Johnson is scheduled to speak before more than 6,000 persons at McCormick Place tonight in the largest $100-a-plate dinner ever held in Chicago.

The money will go to the Democratic Cook County Committee, whose chief is Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley.

Security precautions are the heaviest Chicago ever has made with 1,700 city policemen and U.S. Secret Service men ready to guard the President.

Johnson was scheduled to arrive at O'Hare at 4:45 p.m. (Eastern Standard Time).

The President, who spoke at the New York World's fair on Wednesday as civil rights demonstrators chanted nearby, was to get no respite in Chicago.

A newly formed civil rights group announced it will picket Johnson as he delivers his speech at McCormick Place, the city's lakefront convention hall.

Liz, Burton Sued For Misconduct

NEW YORK (AP)—Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton have been sued for $50 million by 20th Century-Fox in connection with the movie "Cleopatra."

The suit, filed Wednesday in U.S. District Court, contended their conduct and deportment during and after the filming lessened the commercial value of the picture.

A spokesman for the couple termed the action "an absolutely ludicrous move on Fox's part, and we'll let them do the talking."

Miss Taylor and Burton are married now. During the filming of "Cleopatra" she was married to Eddie Fisher and he to Sybil Burton.

News Media Tell Fight Against Govt. Interference

NEW YORK (AP)—The United States news media continue to struggle against interference by "big government," although government agencies sometime cooperate with publishers to serve the public interest, the American Newspaper Publishers Association was told today.

Stanford Smith of Bronxville, N.Y., general manager of the association, told of moves by the ANPA and individual newspapers against such government activities as a market news wire service operated by the Department of Agriculture; "the logjam on news that exists at some places on the federal level," and efforts of the Federal Trade Commission to rule on cigarette advertising.

"A free press is free only so long as it is free from the interference of government," Smith said in a speech at the ANPA annual meeting.

"Unfortunately, in these days of complex newspaper operations, government can interfere with a free press without the necessity of license. The newspaper business can be subjected to pressures not anticipated in the constitution," he said.

"Indirectly, governments in other countries have killed a free press by measures which restrict the supply of newsprint; by laws which restrict its income from advertising and circulation; and by labor laws which give unions an unreasonable authority in the management of the newspapers' affairs," Smith said.

"The U.S. federal government has already taken some steps in that direction, and they have been vigorously opposed by ANPA and many newspapers.

"The chief danger to a free press is from government, Big Government, especially.

"Since the press is the only business with constitutional protection, we must be constantly alert on behalf of the people whom we serve.

"We've had to oppose government action and intervention in some areas and we have, in others, been able to work in cooperation with government agencies to bring about the most desirable results for all concerned in the public interest."

Smith reported ANPA vigilance in many areas of government policy.

No. 1 on his list was the start last Aug. 1 of a market news wire service from the Department of Agriculture to commercial subscribers on a nationwide leased-wire network. Smith called this "a shocking thing—in competition with privately owned news agencies."

The government news wire is being challenged in court, but it continues in operation, Smith noted.

Ask Oil Producers To Attend Meetings

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association (Tipro) wants independent oil producers at all meetings of the Federal Trade Commission considering gasoline marketing prices.

Tipro's request was part of an agreement among either independent producers associations in Oklahoma, Texas and Kansas which met recently in Oklahoma City.

The groups agreed they needed to be included in any commission action on a petition by the Mid-Continent Independent Refiners Association for proceedings directed toward promulgation of a trade regulation rule dealing with marketing of gasoline.

Board Refuses To Commute Sentence

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Board of Pardons refused Wednesday to commute the death sentence for Lawrence O'Conner, convicted in Houston of rape, to life in prison. He is scheduled to die Sunday in the electric chair at Huntsville.

Moscow Shows Fear That China Is Up To No Good

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Moscow displays fear that Red China has a long-range plan to smash out of its isolation and throw its weight around in Western Europe in competition with both the United States and the Soviet Union.

The plan might seem far fetched now, but evidently the Soviet Communist party is taking an extremely dim view of it, apparently nursing lively suspicions that the Chinese are up to no good.

The Soviets describe the Chinese plan as "the intermediate zone theory." The Soviet Communist party's top theoretical journal, Kommunist, denounces the entire thing as a serious danger to the world Communist movement.

The way the Soviets see it, the Chinese have decided to regard Japan, West Germany, France, Britain and Italy as nations under "the bondage of American imperialism" and therefore are wooing those countries.

The implication is that Peking is offering future prospects of a market of three quarters of a billion people, and inviting these countries to get in on the ground floor.

Peking will remain unimpressed by Moscow's wrath.

Early this year, Mao Tse-tung the Chinese Communist leader, talked with visiting politicians from France. He is reliably reported to have broached the idea of a "third world," even to suggesting that some central organization be set up for a formal beginning.

Nothing has come of it, and nothing may come of it for a long time. But Mao's idea appears to be to start modestly, perhaps with Red China and France as the nucleus of such an organization.

Japan, West Germany and Italy would be approached later and perhaps later on even the British, if Britain should lose what Mao regards as her subservience to Washington. Some day, also, Latin-American nations and others might be invited.

So the Soviet Communists are accusing the Chinese of developing the notion that governmental leaders of France, West Germany, Japan and possibly even Britain should be looked upon by Communists as potential allies against the United States. Perhaps, by implication, this means allies against Khrushchev's supporters, whom Peking calls renegades from communism.

The Smithsonian Institution's new Museum of History and Technology in Washington has on display a 180-ton steam locomotive and tender. They are so large that the hall had to be built around them.

GORDON McLENDON
Your candidate for the Democratic nomination for U. S. Senator

BELIEVES . . .

- FOREIGN AID—Foreign aid should be withheld from all communist-dominated countries. Foreign aid should be maintained in those countries in which we have military bases. In other countries where any aid might be prudent, it should be mainly in the form of surplus agricultural products.
- NATIONAL DEBT—Government expenditures should be made only from current income in peacetime. An orderly program for retirement of the public debt should be initiated.
- FOREIGN AFFAIRS—The Monroe Doctrine should be firmly restated and upheld.
