There's still a lot to be said for formal education, according to Robert Jenkins, the top placement officer at Texas Tech University. He says it is "bunk" that people with college degrees are not getting jobs.

His comments undoubtedly were prompted by recent emphasis on vocational and technical education.

"Technical-vocational training is great for some people, but I think there is a tendency for some career counselors to over-emphasize opportunities there," Jenkins said.

He says that a person trained for a specific trade or vocation usually is in it for life, but one trained professionally will change professions about seven times in a life-time, and that a university graduate has more options.

It has been determined by experts that many people who went for academic degrees were wasting their time and should have gone into vocational-technical training, and of course once this was brought to light it got a lot of attention, but Jenkins fears there has been too much emphasis on this, especially on the availability of employment. He said the Tech Placement service had records of only about 130 graduates this year who failed to find jobs they wanted and in each case the graduate had placed geographical restrictions on his application.

This indicates that a community college such as Western Texas College offers unusual opportunities to students, especially those who haven't made up their minds about what line of work they want to pursue. With both academic and vocational-technical programs side-by-side, they have a chance to make a personal investigation.

As to the job opportunities, students just entering colleges or vocational schools may well find the situation changed by the time they finish their courses. We are reminded of the advice an old-timer volunteered years ago down there in East Texas: "When there are so many hogs around that people are selling off and going out of the hog business, it's usually a good time to take a look at it, because there could even be a shortage by the time a new crop comes off."

So it is with jobs. Fields that are full to overflowing today, may face shortages tomorrow for the simple reason that young people today are looking elsewhere.

Milton Ham says it was tough to tell the Graham and Estacado people that the football stadium was already booked here for Friday night, because their Class 3A game was regarded as one of the prizes in the early rounds of the high school football playoffs. However, Snyder already had bagged possibly the best first-round Class 2A game in the state—Slaton vs. Anson—and they wanted to play Friday night. Graham and Estacado even discussed the possibility of delaying their game until Saturday in order to play here, but with the Thanksgiving holidays coming up next week, both were anxious to get the bi-district game out of the way, because their next opponents might even want to play on Thursday, and they want all of the workout time they can get between games.—WACIL McNAIR.

WORLD LEADERS EXPRESS CONDOLENCES

Spain Mourns For Franco

Juan Carlos Is Named Successor

By FENTON WHEELER
Associated Press Writer

MADRID, Spain (AP) — An ideologically divided Spain began 30 days of national mourning today for Gen. Francisco Franco while across the border in France about 100 Spanish refugees celebrated in cafes and drove cars through the streets of Hendaye with their horns honking to mark the death of the dictator.

President Ford and other world leaders expressed condolences. A statement issued by Ford in Washington said in part: "We wish the Spanish people and the government of Spain well in the period ahead. The United States for its part will continue to pursue the policy of friendship and cooperation which has formed the touchstone for the excellent relations existing between our two countries."

West European governments expressed the hope that the death of the man who had ruled Spain with an iron hand for 36 years would mean the rebirth of democracy in Spain. The Kremlin said while Franco's road to power was "covered by hundreds of thousands of corpses ... one can be sure that Spain will now enter the widened road of democracy and social progress."

Franco died early today at the age of 82 after a month-long battle for life. His last words, reportedly dictated after he became ill, were "upward Spain, long live Spain." He will lie in state for two days in Madrid's national palace, an open air mass will be celebrated in front of the palace Saturday and on Sunday there will be a state funeral.

Prince Juan Carlos de Borbon, Franco's handpicked successor, will be installed Saturday as Spain's first king in 44 years.

"Gen. Franco himself picked the prince as his successor and we have to accept it," three right-wing Falangists told newsmen on leaving a funeral mass commemorating the 39th anniversary of the assassination of their founder, Jose Antonio Primo de Rivera. "As of now the prince can count upon our support. The future will say if we have to withdraw it."

GEN. FRANCISCO FRANCO
....last of dictators

Other Falangists said, "We never gave him our support and it's hardly impossible that we change our mind. However, we'll try to not to be an obstacle to the king, at least not until he proves how far he can go and how well he gets along."

The funeral mass was held at the Valley of the Fallen, 35 miles north of Madrid, where Franco will be buried. An estimated 5,000 Falangists attended the ceremony, giving the raised-arm, Fascist-style salute at the end of the mass. Juan Carlos was to have presided over the ceremony but was unable to because of Franco's death, thereby removing him from possible political embarrassment.

The 37-year-old prince, who has been acting chief of state since Oct. 30, is a grandson of King Alfonso XIII and was educated and trained under Franco's supervision from the age of 11. The dictator designated him as successor in 1969, but many Spaniards expect him to try to move the political system toward democracy.

Juan Carlos will take the name King Juan Carlos I.

Reaction to Franco's death among ordinary Spaniards was split, just as it was among the Falangists.

"He was old, he had to die. But I feel as if I had lost a member of the family," said Felipa Sanchez, a cleaning woman on her way to work.

"He was a tough man. My God, what a heart he had," said taxi driver Carlos Martin.

"I'm sorry he died. He gave us a lot of years of peace," a barman pouring coffee said.

A young businessman said: "I could say a lot about Franco, especially in the last part of his life when he did both good and bad things. One bad thing was not to allow political associations years ago."

A farm worker said only, "I am thinking about the future of the country."

Condolences poured in from leaders around the world, including Paraguayan President Alfredo Stroessner, a longtime dictator, and Argentine President Isabel Peron.

TWO FATALLY INJURED— Mr. and Mrs. Ray Long, former Lubbock residents, were pronounced dead on arrival at Cogdell Memorial Hospital after their car went out of control and crashed into a bridge approach Wednesday eight miles north of Snyder. The Longs were en route from their home at Marble Falls to Lubbock.

2 Persons Die In Road Crash

A retired couple formerly of Lubbock sustained fatal injuries yesterday afternoon around 12:20 p.m. 8.8 miles north of Snyder on U. S. 84 in a one-car crash.

Dead on arrival at Cogdell Memorial Hospital where they were taken by Galyean Ambulance Service, were Wilburn Ray Long and his wife, Clara Long, both 64, of Marble Falls.

Investigating Highway Patrolmen said that the Long vehicle was travelling north on U. S. 84 when it apparnetly ran off the road and hit a concrete embankment on a creek. Over half an hour was spent in freeing the couple from the wreckage. Their late model vehicle was demolished.

The Longs were reported returning to Lubbock from Marble Falls for a banquet scheduled tonight in Long's honor. He was a retired Lubbock fireman, with 34 years of service.

Funeral arrangements were being made at Sanders Funeral Home in Lubbock.

Ballots Go To Farmers

The Scurry County Producers Association, a new organization working on a boll weevil control program, is sending out ballots this week to all Scurry County cotton farmers. They are asking for a yes or no answer on support of the program.

The organization hopes to get 100 per cent participation in a diapause program to control boll weevils, which have taken a heavy toll in area cotton fields the past season. The letter of explanation and ballot includes a return envelope and official s of the association urged that all cotton farmers mark the ballot and return it as soon as possible.

There has been a promise of state funds up to half of the expenses for spraying, provided county cotton producers cooperate, and the association must know as soon as possible how much support the program will have. Some 300 or more farmers who participated in a meeting recently, which led to formation of the association, expressed overhwelming approval of the program.

Citation Said Grave Matter

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford said today the House Intelligence Committee's vote to cite Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger for contempt "involves grave matters affecting our conduct of foreign policy" and should be resolved through "cooperation and adoption of a spirit of mutual trust and respect."

In a letter made public today, Ford said the National Security Council staff has been making "a substantial effort" and will continue to work to provide the committee with the documents it seeks.

"This issue involves grave matters affecting our conduct of foreign policy and raises questions which go to the ability of our republic to govern itself effectively," Ford said.

The White House released his letter, dated Wednesday and addressed to committee chairman Otis Pike, D-N.Y., as presidential aides were turning over documents subpoenaed by the panel before it voted to cite Kissinger for contempt of Congress.

Truckers Strike Begins Quietly

PHARR, Tex. (AP) — A truckers strike called early today by the Produce haulers of Texas got off to a quiet start with virtually no truck traffic on Lower Rio Grande Valley highways.

David Coers, president of the recently organized truckers group, said the strike was called because Valley produce shippers refused to grant a requested 25 per cent rate increase.

Reagan Makes His Bid Official

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ronald Reagan announced his White House candidacy today, challenging President Ford and a Washington "buddy system" he blamed for major national problems. He said he wouldn't be surprised if other Republicans entered the race "now that someone has broken the ice."

Reagan, his wife Nancy at his left and an American flag at his right, said he will be represented in all 30 presidential primaries although he isn't going to campaign for all of them.

The former California governor said he will run on his own record "in a gentlemanly manner" and will not criticize President Ford. Reagan wouldn't even say where he differs with Ford.

He said he will discuss his record and let others draw the distinction between his proposals and the policies of the President he seeks to oust.

When a reporter asked what's wrong with Ford, Reagan said that a reply would breach what he called the 11th commandment, that one Republican should not speak ill of another.

Reagan, 64, made his long-expected announcement at a televised news conference in the ballroom of the National Press Club, to the applause of scores of campaign volunteers and supporters who stood in the back of the hall.

He said he does not think his challenge will divide Republicans and hurt their chances against the Democrats in 1976. Reagan said the key to the election will be the 40 per cent of Americans who shun affiliation with either party.

He said he can gain support among them.

Reagan, as is customary for presidential candidates, said he doesn't want the vice presidential nomination, although he did not flatly rule out the possibility. "I have given no consideration to that. I'm not interested," he said.

Nor, he said, has he thought about what he might do if he is badly beaten in the early presidential primaries.

He said he will campaign actively for the New Hampshire primary on Feb. 24 and the Florida primary on March 9, but he wouldn't speculate about his likely showing.

While he insisted on a strong national defense, Reagan declined to say how much money he thinks the United States should put into the defense budget.

OTHER GOODS UP, TOO

Food Costs Feed Inflation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Inflation accelerated in October as sharply higher grocery prices pushed the cost of living up seven-tenths of one per cent, the government said today.

Last month's price increase was the third highest this year and followed increases of only two-tenths of a per cent in August and five-tenths of a per cent in September, the Labor Department said.

Inflation had cooled earlier this year, but spurted briefly during June and July before easing in late summer. Economists, both in and out of government, are concerned that the new acceleration of inflation could choke off consumer buying power and slow the recovery from recession.

Consumer prices over the past 12 months were up 7.6 per cent, the smallest over-the-year increase since the 12-month period ending September, 1973, when they were up 7.4 per cent.

Higher food prices led the October increase, but there also were substantial price gains for new cars, clothing, fuel oil, mortgage interest rates and auto insurance, the government said.

The consumer price index in October stood at 164.6 of the 1967 average of 100, meaning it cost $164.60 to buy the same goods and services that cost $100 eight years ago.

Prices so far this year have increased 5.9 per cent.

At the grocery counter, where prices fell slightly in September, sharp increases for meats, dairy products and coffee pushed prices up 1.5 per cent last month. It was the sharpest jump since a 1.7 per cent increase last July.

However, there were substantial savings on poultry and eggs. Fresh fruit prices dropped sharply for the third straight month, while cereal and bakery products continued their decline that began earlier this year. Sugar prices also were down after increases over the previous two months.

Over-all food costs, including restaurant meals, were up 1.3 per cent following September's rise of only one-tenth of a per cent.

Goods other than food increased in price by three-tenths of a per cent in October, the same as in September. Prices of services rose six-tenths of a per cent largely because of increases for mortgage rates, medical care and rent.

In a separate report, the Labor Department said the buying power of worker's paychecks was unchanged over the month. However, over the year, real earnings were up 1.9 per cent, thanks to the reduction in federal income taxes which took effect last May.

The rise in the non-food price index of three-tenths of one per cent compared with average monthly increases of about six-tenths of a per cent in the first eight months of the year.

In October, fuel oil and coal prices rose 1.8 per cent, one of the sharpest increases this year. Gasoline and motor oil prices declined slightly, but not as much as usual in October and as a result were still up nine-tenths of a per cent.

Prices for new 1976 cars were up 2.7 per cent. However, they normally rise at this time of the year, and the new car index declined one-tenth of a per cent after seasonal adjustment.

Gasoline prices last month averaged 59.4 cents per gallon for regular grade, one-half per cent less than in September. Premium gasoline prices averaged 63.6 cents per gallon, a drop of four-tenths of a per cent from the previous month.

'Glass Menagerie' New WTC Plateau

Charles Holland rates "The Glass Menagerie" as the best play he has produced at Western Texas College. Although some may not find the Tennessee Williams vehicle as entertaining as some WTC productions in the past, from the technical and professional standpoint, Holland undoubtedly is correct in his assessment of this play which opened Wednesday night in the Fine Arts Theatre on the WTC campus.

There are only four in the cast—Bill Carter, Julie Jones, Cindy Hanson and Bill Martin, with Carter and Miss Jones carrying the principal loads, and it would be tough to determine which of the two turned in the best performance. Miss Hanson carries off her role well as the shy, handicapped daughter and sister with the big inferiority complex, but the domineering mother whose husband "split" years ago, and the restless, ambitious son and brother over-hadow the others within the script itself. Martin, the hoped-for, but unavailable suitor, doesn't make an appearance until the second act, and the few minutes he and Miss Hanson have the stage to themselves are really the only quiet and calculated period in the play. The remainder is filled with spontaneous action with Miss Jones and Carter asserting themselves in clashes with each other and with life itself.

Scenery and lighting are no minor factors, and both enhance the mood of the production. And, as you watch the play unfold, listen to the dialogue and take in the scenery you cannot help but marvel at the quality laboratory facility that this little theater provides for Holland and his drama students at WTC.

And they are putting it to good use. It is doubtful that you could find a play being done this well anywhere else for $2.50 per seat. The stage lights go up on the second performance at 8 o'clock tonight. The play will close Saturday night.—WACIL McNAIR

More Women Are Going Into Crime

NEW YORK (AP) — Women are going into crime in a bigger way but law enforcement officials are ignoring it, the deputy chief of the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration said today.

Criminologists have done little, if any, research to determine why some women turn to crime and what might be done to prevent it, and the courts and prison system pay little attention to the particular needs of women offenders, said Charles R. Work in a speech prepared for regional LEAA administrators.

In addition, he said, law enforcement officials have failed to provide equal job opportunities for women and have neglected the women victims of rape and other crimes especially directed at them.

He said the criminal justice system "is a system run by males, predominantly for males. Consequently, it has demonstrated little concern with or interest in the problems of women — either as offenders, victims or as employes."

Work spoke on his last day in office. He submitted his resignation about a month ago and plans to join a private Washington law firm.

He said an LEAA task force on women has found that "law enforcement officials are largely unaware of the status and needs of women in all facets of the criminal justice system."

Women and crime have received recent attention following the federal indictments in California earlier this year of Lynette Fromme and Sara Jane Moore on charges of trying to kill President Ford.

FBI figures indicate that the number of crimes committed by women soared 246 per cent between 1960 and 1972, although women still commit far fewer crimes than men do, he noted.

FBI crime statistics released this week showed that the number of women arrested in 1974 was 9 per cent greater than the number arrested the previous year. The number of men arrested rose 2 per cent during the same period.

During the past five years, "arrests of males were up 35 per cent and female arrests increased 68 per cent" for the seven crime categories measured, the FBI report said.

BIG HAUL— Snyder Police Department Detectives and Sheriff's Authorities confiscated these drugs last night around 11:30 p.m. at a Lake Thomas residence. The narcotics were taken here from Stinson Drug around Oct. 26.

Drugs In Burglary Recovered

Snyder Police Department Detectives have cleared a burglary which occurred here around Oct. 26 at Stinson Drug, and announced the arrest of two Snyder men, one a juvenile, and the confiscation of approximately $1100 worth of a variety of hard narcotics.

The Snyder man, 19, was arrested at the police station last night around 10 p.m. where he had been called for questioning. The juvenile was arrested this morning around 8:30 a.m. Police and Sheriff's Authorities confiscated the drugs, valued at between three and four thousand dollars on-the-street, around 11:30 p.m. last night at a Lake Thomas residence.

Between 18,000 and 19,000 pills were confiscated at the house.

Police detectives said that charges are expected to be filed in the case later today, and investigation is continuing into the duo's possible involvement in similar burglaries here.

County Pickup Is Recovered

A precint 4 county pickup stolen here Tuesday night from the county barn south of Snyder was discovered abandoned in Big Spring by Big Spring Police last night around 6:30 p.m.

Local authorities there reported the vehicle to be in good shape other than having a flat tire.

The 1970 International pick-up was discovered missing Wednesday morning when county employes reported for work.

Big Spring police reported no one was in custody.

Suspect Held On Drug Count

A Snyder man, stopped yesterday by City Police on a traffic violation at the intersection of highways 84 and 180, was expected to be charged today with possession of heroine and dangerous drugs.

Five packages of heroine, with a street value of $125, six packages and a block of a substance believed to be hashish, a quantity of marijuana, and other drugs were confiscated, officers said.

The man was to be charged with assault on a peace officer. Sheriff's Authorites aided in the arrest.

Plea Is Entered

James Robert Roberson pleaded guilty yesterday in county court to driving while intoxicated, and received a $100 fine plus court costs, and 30 days in jail probated for six months.

He was arrested here Sept. 26 by City Police.

Tornado Hits Oklahoma City

By The Associated Press

A winter storm front whipped into Oklahoma Wednesday, dropping rain ahead of it, snow behind it and slamming a tornado into Oklahoma City.

No injuries were reported from the tornado, which hit a motel and a vacant restaurant building in northeast Oklahoma City.

The buildings were demolished, however.

In the western part of the state, meanwhile, blowing snow packed roads north and west of Boise City in the Panhandle and all travel in those directions was discouraged as forecasters predicted more snow and temperatures in the 20s.

Straight, hard winds were blamed for minor damage around the state, breaking limbs, damaging some farm buildings and overturning a mobile home.

Snow started falling at Boise City about midnight and by 9 a.m. Wednesday had piled up two to three inches. Snow was still falling in the Panhandle area late Wednesday night and was being whipped by winds gusting to 40 miles per hour.

Although Oklahoma roads were open, all roads north of the Oklahoma border in Southeast Colorado were closed because of blowing snow and drifts.

The Colorado State Patrol reported 14 inches of snow had fallen at Lamar and Springfield.

State Highway 18 from Clayton, N.M., north to Raton was closed and all roads in eastern New Mexico were snowpacked and hazardous, the Oklahoma Highway Patrol reported.

Roads in the Texas Panhandle were reported wet, and snow packed on highways around Dalhart.

The tornado struck at the Wilson House motel and its vacant restaurant.

"It looked like a bunch of grass and leaves in the wind coming up the hill and I thought that was all there was to it," said desk clerk Ray Bloedau, 22. "But then it knocked over the restaurant sign and took the big sheet glass window and was coming my way.

"The office is all glass, so I jumped under the counter and when I looked up the front of the restaurant was gone and it had knocked over a semi-trailer truck in the Big Town Truck Stop across the street."

Cogdell Grant To Hospital At Temple

TEMPLE— Scott and White Memorial Hospital has received a grant in the amount of $250,000 from the Martha Ann Cogdell Hospital Trust of Lockney. This grant is earmarked for the hospital's Radiology Diagnostic Center and particularly to help fund the EMI Brain Scanner.

In announcing this gift, Dr. Richard D. Haines, president of the hospital, commented: "We are extremely pleased to received this fine contribution from the Cogdell Trust. This West Texas family has been generous to Scott and White through the years and now has assisted us in funding the EMI Brain Scanner which helps our doctors determine neurological brain disorders in a safe, quick and painless manner."

Two sons of the Cogdells, D.M. Jr., and Billy, along with their wives, currently serve as trustees on the Cogdell Memorial Trust. A plaque will be erected at the entrance to the Neurological Diagnostic Center in memory of their parents.

Mrs. E. A. Birdwell of Silverton also serves on the advisory board of the Trust.

The Martha Ann Cogdell Hospital Trust Fund was created by the will of the late Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Dogdell Sr., ranchers from Snyder. Martha Ann Cogdell died at the age of 13 and the Cogdells created the Trust to honor her memory. The trust has given grants extensively to West Texas hospitals, clinics and educational institutions.

The late Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Cogdell Sr., donated $225,000 to help establish Scott and White's X-ray Therapy Department.

Senate Approves Construction Bill

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 25-year controversy apparently is at an end following Senate passage of a labor-backed measure that will allow striking building trades unions to picket an entire construction site.

The bill was passed 52 to 45 Wednesday night after the Senate twice invoked cloture to shut off filibusters against it.

The measure was sent to a conference that will iron out differences between House and Senate versions. But sponsors said they see be no great difficulty in reconciling the two versions.

The proposal would give unions the power to close down an entire construction site even if they have a dispute with only one subcontractor.

Riding the bill as a second major section is a Ford administration proposal designed to bring quicker and less inflationary settlements in construction industry labor disputes. The President has said he will not sign the picketing legislation without the companion proposal.

The picketing bill would overturn a 1951 Supreme Court decision holding that a building trades union could picket only the subcontractor with whom it has a dispute. Labor has been seeking such a bill since the Supreme Court ruling.

Construction unions contend that the general contractors and subcontractors on a site are a single entity engaged in one enterprise and that unions should have the right to picket an entire work site.

Without this power, they say they do not have the same rights as industrial unions which can seek to shut down an entire company.

Opponents of the bill argue that the measure bill will further drive up construction costs.

Under the bill, local unions would have to give 10-day written notice of their intention to picket an entire construction site and would have to obtain strike approval from their national union.

The Ford proposal to improve collective bargaining in the construction industry would create a 23-member industry collective bargaining committee, with 10 members from industry and labor and three neutrals.

The committee could take jurisdiction in industry disputes, enforce a 30-day cooling-off period and try to mediate disputes.

Helping Hand Project Still In Operation

Project "Helping Hand," sponsored by the Scurry County V. F. W. Post 8231 and its Ladies Auxiliary and endorsed by the Chamber of Commerce and Snyder Public Schools, is still in effect.

The project's purpose is to protect the children of the community from menacing strangers, neighborhood bullies, threatening dogs, and the fear of being lost.

There are one or more houses in a block, recognized by a blue sign with an extended hand in white, and red letters proclaiming "Helping Hand," which will give help to children needing aid of any kind. Parties in the "Helping Hand" home will call parents of a child in distress, and in the case of molestation, they would also notify the police and school.

School authorities are asking that parents cooperate in this program by explaining the significance of the "Helping Hand" signs to their children and by further giving safety instruction such as not accepting rides from strangers, etc. Those wishing to volunteer their homes as a "Helping Hand" station are asked to sign a letter and have their child return it to the school principal's office.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

* * *

Q. I pay an annual fee plus monthly finance charges on my credit card. Are these deductible?

A. The annual fee is not deductible because it is not interest, but a charge for maintaining and servicing your account.

However, the separately stated monthly finance charges you pay are interest, and may be deducted.

For more information, see IRS Publication 545, Income Tax Deduction for Interest Expense, available free at your nearest IRS office.

Q. I maintain a foreign student in my home under the auspices of a national charity. Am I entitled to any deductions for the expense of maintaining the student?

A. Assuming the student is not your dependent and is a full time student in the twelfth or any lower grade, you may be able to deduct some of the expenses. However, you must have a written agreement between you and the charitable organization stating that educational opportunities are provided the student. You may receive no reimbursement toward your expenses.

You may deduct up to $50 of your expenses for the student for each school month the student stays with you more than 15 days. The deduction is considered a charitable deduction, and is itemized on Schedule A of Form 1040.

Q. My medical insurance reimbursed me for some of my medical expenses this year. Will this affect the tax I pay?

A. Yes, if you itemize your deductions. You must reduce your medical expenses by the amount of the reimbursement you receive from insurance, including Medicare benefits (Medicare A) and supplementary Medicare benefits (Medicare B), paid to you or the provider of the service.

The expenses must be reduced by the amount of the reimbursement before you apply the one and three percent limitations for medical expense deductions. However, you do not have to include any reimbursement for loss of earnings or damages for personal injury.

Addressing Oldsters Who 'Shack Up'

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1975 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Here among us Florida retirees, more and more of our widowed friends are "shacking up." If they marry, the widow loses part or all of her Social Security payments. Our problem is how to address these couples.

"Mr. John Smith and Mrs. Robert Jones" is probably correct, but it sounds so stilted, and besides, I think old Bob would want no part of this whole deal.

"Mr. John Smith and Mrs. Mary Jones" not only is incorrect but also slightly salacious. Their mailman is a very straight-laced, conservative type, which makes matters worse.

Shacked up or not, these are very proper people, and we want to address them correctly.

Can you help? And please don't take the easy way out and suggest "Occupants."

FLORIDA RETIREES

DEAR RETIREES: The only correct way to address one is by his (or her) legal name. Don't worry about the mailman. His job is to deliver the mail, not to make moral judgments.

DEAR ABBY: Two years ago, my husband's brother died and left a widow. (No children.) We agreed to let her live with us for a while so she wouldn't be alone. (Their apartment held so many memories she didn't want to live in it without him—which was understandable.)

Well, it's now going on the third year, and she hasn't said a word about leaving. We do love her and didn't mind having her for the first year, but we want very much to be by ourselves now.

She dates a little and has made a good adjustment, and it's time she started to think about moving. But how do we accomplish this without making ourselves look like villains?

TOUCHY PROBLEM

DEAR TOUCHY: Tell her that you admire the manner in which she has overcome her grief, and you'd be glad to help her find another apartment. It's how you look to yourselves, not to others, that counts.

DEAR ABBY: We have a daughter-in-law who is stealing us blind, and we don't know what to do about it. She steals small items, such as saving-stamp books, small tins of tuna and sardines, cosmetics—anything she can stick into her purse.

We have mentioned having "misplaced" or "lost" specific items in her presence, hoping she will get the hint and quit stealing from us, but it has done no good.

She is not in need of anything, Abby. I cannot understand why she steals from us. Perhaps she steals from others, too. I have seen her slip things into her purse, but of course I would never humiliate her by asking her if I could go through her purse before she leaves the house.

The Bible says, "No thieves shall enter the kingdom of heaven," and I love my daughter-in-law and do want to see her in heaven.

If you print this maybe our son will see it and recognize it as his wife. We haven't the heart to accuse her to her face.

HEARTBROKEN IN ARKANSAS

DEAR HEARTBROKEN: And what if your son doesn't see this column? This problem is much too serious to rely on "hints" and chance. Have a frank talk with your son immediately and suggest that his wife get professional help.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Decorated Denim New Folk Art

By The Associated Press

Decorated denims are emerging from the closets of the flower children to the wardrobes of the middle and upper class as a new form of American folk art.

Stitchery, embroidery, beads, acrylic, feathers, sequins, buttons, tassles, patches, studs and rhinestones are adorning the latest in fancy pants and jazzy jeans.

"It is not confined to the barefoot lady madonnas living on brown rice and macrame," says Peter Beagle, author of "American Denim, a New Folk Art" — a pictorial of denim wear published by Harry N. Abrams, Inc. this month.

"In recent years, the rich and powerful have become almost compulsive about being seen in the traditional costumes of the variously rebellious, worn-out, penniless and freaky.

"It isn't just a matter of current chic: there is something plaintively haunting about photographs of people like Nelson A. Rockefeller, Elizabeth Taylor, Marlene Dietrich and Frank Sinatra wearing blue jeans and dungaree jackets."

A few years ago, decorated pants were just funk, exemplified by an appliqued heart on a blue denim sleeve — or more likely a posterior. Today the craftsmanship is highly sophisticated and individual.

Stitchery dinosaurs eat stitchery ferns on a pair of shorts while stitchery pterodactyls wing their way around the waist band.

An embroidered river of green satin flows from a purple embroidered sunset down the back of a jacket.

The careworn face of an American Indian is painted on a faded denim thigh with feathers at the seams.

An appliqued Eve on a pair of jeans plucks an appliqued apple from a stitchery tree; a black thread spider spins a sequined web on a pants leg.

Dr. Lamb

Drinking problem is personal

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB—I need help right away. I am desperate. Is there any organization on the idea of Alcoholic Anonymous, but someone I can talk to about personal problems over the telephone without giving names?

If a person has a drinking problem and stops, how soon will it be, even with a doctor's examination, that there is no trace of liquor in the system?

DEAR READER—Different communities have different services available. Look in the white pages of your telephone directory for Mental health which may be the beginning title for a group available to provide some professional help. Otherwise, you might call your county medical society office and see if they know of a service available in your community.

There are some crisis center organizations in some cities, and even telephone services just to cheer people up, but many communities do not have these organizations, yet. I think you should try to find a community mental health clinic and talk to someone. You won't be able to tell them anything they haven't heard before.

Your letter does not explain who is having the alcohol problem, but Alcoholics Anonymous is very successful in helping a lot of people, and I wouldn't overlook it.

Alcohol is metabolized as is other food. The alcohol itself should be gone within 24 hours, but the effects may last a lot longer—the liver damage, brain damage, stomach inflammation and whole, long, sorry list of things that alcohol can do to the human body. I would suggest you send 50 cents for The Health Letter number 1-4, Alcohol, Whiskey, Gin, Vodka, Rum, Wine, Beer. Send your letter to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing. You can get a better idea of the far-reaching effects of alcohol from this issue. It also tells you how long it takes your body to eliminate alcohol in relation to how much you have drunk. This is also related to when it is safe to drive and when it is not.

DEAR DR. LAMB—What is a polyp? What causes them? What should be done about them and why? Are there alternate treatments? How can they be prevented?

DEAR READER—A polyp is simply a growth or protrusion of tissue from an inner surface lining of the body. They occur in the lining of the nasal sinuses or in the digestive tract or anywhere that a lining exists.

We don't know what causes them, in all cases. Those in the nasal passages are often related to allergies. Those in the colon have no known cause.

Many of them are not important medically. Others, depending upon their location and characteristics should be removed. Some surgeons think all polyps in the colon should be removed.

You can treat an allergy if you have one, but otherwise, the only course of treatment of a polyp, if it needs to be treated at all, is to remove it by some surgical procudure or leave it alone.

There is no known way of preventing polyps.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

"Greed is a terrible thing," remarked East as he watched his opponents chalk up that doubled slam.

"South could always make it," remarked West half-heartedly.

After West's double and his first look at dummy, South decided that the double could only be based on both major-suit kings. In that case the finesses were sure to lose and the normal play of taking those two finesses would lead to defeat.

Then South saw a way to end play West, if he held exactly two trumps and at least three clubs and three diamonds.

He took his queen of diamonds, ace of hearts and queen of clubs. Then he led a club to dummy's king and cashed the ace-king of diamonds and king of clubs. Now he led and ruffed the last club.

West saw that it was hopeless to overruff and discarded a diamond whereupon South simply threw him in with the king of trumps. He was caught in the same end play.

Ask the Jacobys

An Alabama reader wants to know how the impossible slam made in a recent article. The contract was six spades. South had lost a trick and led the queen of spades from Q 9 8 5 toward dummy's A 7 6 4 3. West got brilliant, played the deuce from king-deuce and there it was. The gremlins had cut a few words out of the article.

American's First Holiday

Although the Pilgrims of the Massachusetts Colony celebrated the first Thanksgiving in 1621, the traditional Thanksgiving held on the last Thursday in November was established by proclamation by President George Washington in 1789. Our first President and the Congress agreed to establish a day of public thanksgiving to offer thanks in the tradition of our Pilgrim forefathers for the opportunity to establish a nation based on the principles of freedom. As we approach the 200th Anniversary of the United States, we should pause and be grateful for the opportunity to live in a land where peace and freedom are our sacred rights guaranteed in a Constitution and based on a tradition which was started more than 350 years ago by a group of Pilgrims seeking religious freedom in a new land.

LURED BY POSSIBLE LIQUOR ELECTION

Record Number Of Abilene Citizens Register

By MIKE COCHRAN
Associated Press Writer

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — "Liquor, liquor, liquor. That's all I've heard all day," grumped Burl King, Taylor County's tax assessor-collector, one recent evening.

"Some of them say they're for it or against it, but most just say they want to be eligible to vote if it comes down to it."

Lured by a possible liquor election in the "buckle on the Bible belt," record numbers of would-be Abilene voters were parading into King's office to register.

Others were flooding the Abilene Reporter-News with "letters to the editor" while leaders of opposing factions jockeyed for favorable headlines.

Although "wet-dry" elections are not uncommon, this one is.

With nearly 100,000 citizens, Abilene is the second largest city in Texas still legally dry. Booze has been taboo for 73 years and a vigorous effort is under way to keep it that way.

Unlike many West Texas towns, Abilene's heritage is one of religion rather than rowdiness and when citizens call it "God's country" they mean it.

"If Jesus had lived in Abilene, would he have turned the water into Kool-Aid?" a letter writer asked.

And then there's Impact, a tiny oasis surrounded totally by Abilene, a situation some might compare with the fabled fox which gnawed away at the spartan's belly.

By a vote of 28-0, Impact declared itself a city in 1960, then swiftly and just as decisively approved liquor sales for off-premises consumption.

However, a series of legal challenges ensued and it was Christmas 1962 before Impact dispensed its first spirits.

At the end of 1963, Impact's first full year of operation, beer and liquor revenue reportedly totaled $2.5 million, suggesting Abilene was not without a thirsty element.

The state comptroller's office in Austin reported last September that the city of Impact had received $185,420.39 from the one per cent city sales tax since Jan. 1, 1971.

That computes out at $18,542,039 worth of taxable goods sold during the nearly five-year period.

Impact's business district consists of two liquor stores, a grocery store that peddles beer, a warehouse from which stores are stocked and, finally, the home of Mayor Dallas Perkins.

Perkins, who camouflages a keen mind and subtle wit behind a crackerbarrel philosophy and an exaggerated drawl, scoffs at speculation that he's the richest man in town.

"Mercy," he told an inquiring visitor.

Although a second watering hole subsequently sprung up at Buffalo Gap, just south of Abilene, most of the abuse is directed at Perkins and his beloved township:

"They take millions from Abilene that never come back."

It has been noted with more than passing interest that the lone liquor store at Buffalo Gap is quite similar to one at Impact, both in structure and prices.

"Mercy," said Perkins.

If anyone doubts the old adage about politics spawning strange bedfellows, he might consider that no one benefits more than Perkins if Abilene remains dry.

"The church councils are finding themselves siding with Impact and the private club owners, even though for not the same reasons," said one observer.

Although reticence is not among Perkins' strong suits, he sighed: "I feel like anything I'd say would just fan the flames of the uprising."

But if his honor is silent, he is about the only one. And it appears that a tactical error triggered as much hoopla as the wet-dry issue itself.

A half-page newspaper ad, entitled "Abilene is a Unique City" and sponsored ostensibly by "the 40 congregations of the Abilene Baptist Association," declared:

"We would like our friends, who are promoting a possible election, to know that every name on the proposed election petition will be printed a double page ad of the Abilene Reporter-News."

In retrospect, the response was predictable. Wets and drys alike cried "blackmail ... extortion ... coercion ... intimidation" and angrily rushed out to sign the circulating petition.

From as far away as Dallas, 200 miles to the east, came one letter that was typical in tone of many others:

"I can hardly wait for my Abilene Reporter-News to arrive in Dallas to see what the 'Christians' are up to now—it's going to be hard to top blackmail...."

It soon became clear that not all "40 congregations" had agreed to such an ad, and some of the city's most prominent ministers said so. Some denounced the ad. Some labeled it confusing.

A subsequent but smaller ad, this time signed by the executive board of the Abilene Baptist Association, appeared several days later. With a headline reading "Let's Clear The Issue," it said in part:

"In as much as the issue has been clouded, it is the feeling of the board members that we should not and will not print the names of those who sign the current petition being circulated."

But, both sides agreed, the damage had been done.

On Halloween eve, County Clerk Mrs. Chester Hutcheson announced she had validated 4,196 signatures on the petition circulated by the Abilene Committee on Taxation and Trade (ACTT).

Although obtaining only 62 more signatures than required by law, ACTT Chairman Dub Burke Jr. quipped, "I'd like to think of it as a landslide."

Burke's jubilation was short-lived.

Even before a hassle over an election date could be resolved, Mrs. Hutcheson said she was refusing to certify the petition on the advice of Dist. Atty. Ed Paynter.

Paynter, the county's legal advisor, counseled against certification on grounds that commissioners cannot call an election for a city geographically located in two counties.

A small portion of Abilene spills over into Jones County.

Burke vowed to appeal the decision, meanwhile circulating a similar petition for "Taylor County Justice Precinct One" and declaring:

"The ACTT doesn't anticipate having any difficulties in collecting the required number of valid signatures in two weeks, or no more than three, for sure."

Barring further bombshells, said Burke, "I see no reason why we couldn't have an election in December."

Asked to comment on the developments, Perkins replied:

"Mercy."

Coast To Coast

By Dick Maurice

JULIE NIXON EISENHOWER was spied dining with a handsome young man, who was definitely not DAVID EISENHOWER,

White House press secretary RON NESSEN reportedly will be dropped by PRESIDENT FORD, very shortly. . .

LIZ TAYLOR and BETTE DAVIS, a couple of big runs, may co-star for the first time in "A Little Night Music."

PETER LAWFORD and his Indian ladyfriend, Miss Maxine Yates, spent four days and an equal number of nights in The Republic of El Salvador in Central America and they never left their rooms. Despite what you may think, the reason was that their suite looked like a ward in Mount Sinai. Peter had just been walloped by a car at a party for MICK JAGGER in Beverly Hills and could barely hobble. Then he got a little Montezuma's Revenge in his stomach and just to keep in the action Maxine developed a lovely kidney problem.

ERNEST BORGNINE who is madly in love with his wife, Tove, confesses the other three or four didn't count. "I tell you the truth, it's like I was never married before," he said. Tove, a knockout of a Norwegian redhead, is a once-upon-a-time cosmetologist and she gives Ernie facials.

TELLY SAVALAS blew half a million - give or take a few farthings - to downpayment a home in Cloucester, England.

EDDIE FISHER recently admitted he'd been so seriously hooked on amphetamines that he was at one time up to four shots a day. Also that he'd dropped more than $100,000 gambling in one night at Las Vegas, and that he went through the $2.5 million he got when Liz divorced him to marry Burton. Fisher's drug doctor was the same one who used to needle JFK.

ROBERT ALTMAN is one of BARBRA STREISAND's most candid critics: "I had a private screening for her of "Nashville." She never mentioned the film. She just wanted to talk about her. I said, 'You rude bitch, get out of my office. You're only here for one reason, to take something.'

SUSAN ST. JAMES and ROCK HUDSON, who speak to each other only when the lines of "MacMillan and Wife" make them do so. And DEBBIE REYNOLDS and EDDIE FISHER, after all these years of apartness, have suddenly begun saying nasty things about each other. Then, the feud between DIANA ROSS and DIONNE WARWICKE has taken a bitter turn. They're so angry they both switched hairdressers when they realized they were using the same one. Now they have to switch supermarkets too' they met in the aisle at one store and Diana was so upset she stomped out leaving her loaded cart right there. . .

Guess who's an art collector? JIMMY CAAN has a sensational art collection, which includes a Picasso and lots of Western art.

ROBERT REDFORD was not exactly thrilled by the rude, overflow crowds at the "All The President's Men" press conference at the Burbank Studios. He departed quickly and in a huff.

Don't say I told you so, But an actress now trying to reactivate her singing career is making no secret at Hollywood parties of her sexual duality.

AL PACINO, who created such a virile, macho image in both "Godfather" films, shocked a lot of timid souls by playing a homosexual in his new film, "Dog Day Afternoon."

PETER FALK recently told me that his raincoat, which has become Colombo's trademark, was never in the original script. When they were filming the pilot for the show, Peter felt he needed a prop so he went to his car and pulled out this old raincoat he had purchased many years ago. How does Peter feel about that old coat? "They've made me some other mummified coats, but I don't use them unless it's a scene that might ruin my own."

Everyone is still gasping over BOB EVANS' elegant dinner party at his sprawling Beverly Hills estate for Time editor Hedley Donovan. You can bet Bob's next movie gets a Time cover!

JIMMY STEWART's friends in London are extremely concerned about the actor, who is there in "Harvey", which is a howling success. He is as marvelous as he ever was in the play but offstage he looks drained and not at all well. Could an illness be the reason that Jimmy doesn't want to extend the run of the play? I hope not.

LUCILLE BALL has completed two specials for CBS this season. On one of them she's visited by ART CARNEY and JOE BOLOGNA; the other boasts JACKIE GLEASON.

A Philadelphia disc jockey has started a new game, creating double features with "Jaws." For example, "Jaws" and "A Farewell To Arms"; "Jaws" and "Whatever Happened To Baby Jane" and "Jaws and A Brief Vacation." Make up your own. It's fun.

EMPLOYE HONORED—A reception was held Wednesday at the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. office in honor of W.M. Starnes, wire chief in Snyder, who has been with the company for 30 years. A pin was presented to Starnes. Pictured at the reception are (left to right) M.R. Bridges, District Plant Manager of Abilene, Starnes, Mrs. Starnes, and D.L. Storch, wire chief of Sweetwater.

GET SERVICE PIN—Jack Tucker, Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. deskman here, was presented a 10-year service pin at a reception Wednesday at the telephone building.

Women Pilots Seen In USAF

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The U.S. Air Force may see it's first female military pilots in the near future, Lt. Gen. James R. Allen, superintendent of the Air Force Academy predicts.

Allen talked about women flyers Wednesday during a recruiting trip for the first women cadets at the academy.

Some 150 women in the incoming academy class will get about the same training as their male counterparts except they presently may not be taught to fly.

However, Allen said the academy probably will train young women as non-combat pilots eventually, "perhaps by the time the first class has graduated."

Women never have served as military pilots in the United States although they flew mainly ferrying missions as civil servants for the Army Air Corps during World War II.

Field Office Posts Filled By Bullock

AUSTIN—Comptroller Bob Bullock has announced the appointment of Tomas G. Soto, Andrew A. Alaniz, Jimmie P. Folkner, and Ramona G. West to the Abilene Field Office of the Comptroller's Department, acting field manager, James W. Martin said.

As new employes of the office, they will work with taxpayers throughout the office's district which includes the counties of Brown, Callahan, Coleman, Comanche, Eastland, Fisher, Haskell, Jones, Mills, Mitchell, Nolan, Scurry, Shackelford, Stephens, Stonewall and Taylor.

"Competition for jobs in the Comptroller's Department is heavy," Bullock said. "I want to make this the best agency in state government, and we need people who share this goal. We are fortunate to be able to pick the best."

The Comptroller's Department has more than 900 people working in its field offices located in 35 cities across Texas under the leadership of the Field Operations Division headquarters in Austin.

Bullock calls these field offices "the heart of the department and the heart of Texas Government because it is these people who represent state government to the taxpayers on a day-to-day basis."

"These people are here to help you," Bullock said. "We are friends of the taxpayer. Here is where we start cutting the red tape. We want to solve problems before they start."

Slaton Fans Excited About Playoff Game

"This is the first time Slaton has been in the playoffs in 25 years, and everybody around here is real excited," declared Ed Cook, head football coach of the Slaton High Tigers, whose team takes on the Anson Tigers at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Snyder's Tiger Stadium in a Class AA schoolboy football playoff game.

Slaton is tri-champ of District 5-AA and won the right to represent the district in a drawing with representatives of the Post and Denver City High Schools. Anson is undisputed champion of District 6-AA.

Coach Cook pointed out three of the four Slaton losses (the team is 6-4 for the season) occurred early in the season with the opponents scoring the winning touchdowns in the final two minutes of play.

"The team came on strong (Slaton won its last five games) at the last of the season," said Coach Cook, "And I feel we are better than the 6-4 record indicates."

Primarily a ground-oriented team, the Slaton Tigers operate from the Slot I attack, led by All-South Plains tailback Bill McCleskey, a 194-pound senior, who has scored 114 points while gainng 1,397 yards in 10 games.

Slaton doesn't pass much, but quarterback Mike Tumlinson, a 150-pound junior, is an accurate passer if he is called on. Rounding out the backfield are fullback Charlie Haynes, a 157-pound senior, and slotback Gary Aycock, a 140-pound senior.

Cook said his main concern is "stopping the option."

The main person he is concerned about stopping is Anson quarterback Tony Watts, who is the team's leading ground gainer as well as a talented passer. Watts is especially dangerous on option plays from the Anson Houston Veer attack.

"We throw the ball about as often as we run," declared Anson Coach Dick Rogers, who, like Cook, is in his second year with the Tigers.

Rogers, however, expressed equal conern about stopping McCleskey.

"If we can stop him, it should be a good game," he said. He said the Slaton tailback is "The best we've seen."

Watts' favorite receivers are end Monte Schmitt and flanker back Merle Pryor. Both are 150-pound seniors with good speed.

Also slated for starting duty in Anson's backfield are Mark Guffey, a 150-pound sophomore, who will hold down the left half slot, and Eddie Munoz, a 150-pound junior, who will operate at right halfback.

Anson will be without the services of John Booker, a senior runner, who received a knee injury in the Clyde game, but the team has won five out of six since that game and goes into the playoffs with an 8-1-1 record.

Both teams employ an Oklahoma Five defense. Slaton has an outstanding individual defender in middle linebacker, John T. Basinger, a 172-pound senior, who is averaging 10 tackles a game.

Anson has a bigger offensive line than Slaton and appears to have better balance. But, everything points to a close, hard-fought contest that could go either way.

Coach Cook described Aycock, who also plays at halfback on defense, and Tumlinson, who also plays at safety on defense, as "Super secondary people."

"We're fortunate to have everybody healthy for this game," Cook concluded.

Call it a tossup.

Tiger Cagers To Meet San Angelo

The Snyder High School varsity basketball team inaugurates the 1975-76 season at San Angelo tomorrow night against the Class AAAA Bobcats. Tipoff is set for 8 p.m.

The Tigers, with three returning lettermen, are expecied to be quick and have good desire, but Coach Bob Moore's main concern is a lack of height and experience.

Moore said probable starters against the Bobcats will be Earnest Brandon, 5-10 senior with JV experience, at guard; Chester Cobb, 6-2 senior returning starter, at wing; and, Randy Gressett, 6-3 senior letterman, at either post or wing.

The other two starters will come from a group that includes Kelly Ragland, 6-0 senior guard and letterman; Joey Arnold, 6-1 senior wingman with JV experience; Kenny Thompson, 6-1 senior wingman with JV experience; and, Dane Witherspoon, 6-2 senior post with JV experience.

If Ragland starts, he will be the other guard. Either Arnold or Thompson could start at wing. If Witherspoon starts, he will be at wing.

Cobb is a three-year letterman, and he made All-District the past two seasons. A smooth all-around performer, he could be a candidate for state honors this year. Gressett lettered twice but was not a starter while Ragland has one letter without being a starter.

Moore said the Tigers plan to run a single post against a man-to-man defense but operate from a double post attack against the zone. Defensively, he said the Tigers will operate mostly from a man-to-man but also press some from both a full court and half court.

San Angelo opened the season at Del Rio and lost 73-71 in double overtime, although Arnold McDowell, 6-3 senior post, scored 39 points. He was the leading scorer in District 5-4A last season and made All-District. The Bobcats depend on Steve Speer, a 6-0 senior guard, to do most of the outside shooting. He scored 11 points against Del Rio.

The other starters for the hosts probably will be Mark Hudman, 5-8 junior guard, and either Loyd Franklin, 5-11 junior forward, or Kevin Settle, 6-1 junior forward. San Angelo runs a double post attack.

"We've got to try to stop McDowell," declared Coach Moore.

The program begins at 4:15 p.m. with the sophomores meeting, followed by a 6:15 p.m. encounter between the JV's, and the varsity clash at 8 p.m. Saturday, Snyder will host Odessa in games beginning at 4:15 p.m., 6:15 p.m. and 8 p.m. in the Scurry County Coliseum.

The varsity girls meet Levelland there at 8 p.m. Friday following a 6 p.m. tussle between the JV squads. Monday, the girls host Colorado City in the Tiger gym with the JV match set for 6 p.m. and the varsity tilt at 8 p.m.

Coach Geral Greene said he probably would start the same girls that opened the season at Hamlin Tuesday night. That would include Cathy Minton, Deborah Waltz and Lorindo Jordan at forward and Patti Ayers, Paula Grimmett and Tammy Maxfield at guard.

The Snyder Freshmen girls meet Colorado City there today with the A team playing at 8 p.m. following the B team game at 6 p.m.

Giant Staff Fired

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Letters notifying San Francisco Giants' Manager Wes Westrum and his entire coaching staff of their dismissal went out Wednesday, the San Francisco Chronicle said it has learned.

The move was expected as owner Horace Stoneham reportedly had asked Westrum to resign before the season ended, and Westrum refused.

The Giants had an 80-81 record with one rainout and finished third behind Cincinnati and Los Angeles in the National League West.

Westrum, who will be 53 next week, came to the Giants in the middle of the 1974 season after Charlie Fox was fired.

Turkey Shoot Set Saturday

A turkey shoot is to be held Saturday at the Snyder Trap Club just off the Highway 84 By-pass near Rip Griffin's Truck Stop. Proceeds will go to the Little Dribblers basketball program.

Shooting is to begin at 10 a.m. and continue until dark. Prizes will be turkeys and whole hog sausage. Persons wishing further information may contact Ira Riggs.

WTC Hosts McMurry JV

The Western Texas College Westerner basketball squad will be seeking its third non-conference victory without a loss tonight when it plays host to the McMurry Junior Varsity in an 8 p.m. tussle at the Scurry County Coliseum.

"McMurry is different from anyone else we've played," commented WTC Coach Mike Mitchell. "They have two big boys, David Teel, a 6-9 junior, and Terry Crocker, a 6-9 sophomore."

"They'll probably try to slow the game down and work the ball into these big men. We'll try to speed up the game and run the ball," added Mitchell.

The Indians of McMurry will be going into their third contest on the year also. McMurry lost its first game of the year to Howard College of Big Spring, 107-80. They have since tangled with Cisco Junior College.

"Howard had a lot of success pressing McMurry," explained the WTC mentor, "causing numerous turnovers. We'll probably try to do the same."

Western Texas put away Texas State Technical Institute handily 118-30 and set a school scoring record last Saturday night. In its opener, the "mean green" nailed down a 100-63 win over the Wayland Baptist College JV of Plainview.

Only three lettermen are back from last year's national championship team, and none of them were starters. But a crop of outstanding freshmen, and these three lettermen are expected to keep the Westerners right in the thick of the conference race again this year.

Western Texas likes to run the ball and score quickly, offensively while defensively the Westerners will full-court press, with some man-to-man play.

Mitchell stated that he would go tonight with the same alignment that started the previous two tilts that will include Stanley Covington, 6-0 sophomore from Washington, D.C. and Lawrence Butler, 6-3 freshman from Glasgow, Mo., at the guard slots; and Tyrone Clopton, 6-6 sophomore from Washington, D.C., Darryl Smith, 6-8 freshman from College Park, Ga., and Larry Orton, 6-8 freshman from Portsmouth, Va., manning the forward positions.

Other Westerners available for duty include Butch Person, 6-4 freshman from Brooklyn, N.Y., Harrison Johnson, 6-2 sophomore from El Paso, Tex., and Allen Corder, 6-3 freshman from Lake Charles, La., at guard positions, and 6-5 freshman, Anthony Mack, from Richmond, Va., 6-4 freshman, Chris Tisdale, from Richmond, Va., and 6-4 freshman, Ricky Frazier, from Savannah, Ga., at forward spots.

Walter Benjamin, 6-2 freshman guard from Richmond, Va., is still ailing from a knee injury.

Cuero Seeks 3rd Crown

By The Associated Press

It's that time of year again for the Cuero Gobblers, not Thanksgiving but their annual crowning as the No. 1 ranked team in the final Associated Press Schoolboy Football Poll.

Cuero, with the state's longest winning streak intact at 41, joined Cameron in 2A and Big Sandy in B in completing season long reigns in their classifications of the AP's weekly balloting.

Longview in 4A and Seagraves in A will head into this week's playoffs with No. 1 rankings after a week of major shakeups in final regular season games.

Cuero, which has a 59-2-1 record over the past five years, has been ranked No. 1 in Class 3A since Oct. 29, 1974 and is taking aim on its third consecutive state championship.

Possibly the biggest upheaval of the season took place in 3A last week when five of the 10 ranked teams were defeated, including four of the top five teams.
