ONE KILLED—Charley Hollinger, mechanic at the Johnson Pontiac, lost his life in this car Thursday morning in a collision with a car driven by E. J. Frantz. The accident occurred at the east edge of Perryton.

Perryton Mechanic Killed In Thursday Morning Car Wreck

Charley Hollinger, mechanic at Johnson Pontiac Inc., was killed Thursday morning and E. J. Frantz was injured in a wreck which occurred at the east edge of Perryton on highway 117.

The collision occurred just east of the city limits at the intersection of the highway with the dirt road leading west to the sales barn.

State highway patrolmen Jack Shields and Bob Loving, who investigated the accident, said the accident occurred as Hollinger, coming west into town, met Frantz, turning left to the sales barn road while driving east on the highway.

Hollinger was driving a 1953 Oldsmobile owned by Mrs. Maurine Bostick. He had done some repair work on the car and was road testing it, according to employees at the garage.

The collision was almost head-on, and both cars were heavily damaged by the impact. The officers said Hollinger died instantly. He was thrown out of the car and crushed when the vehicle rolled over him.

Frantz was taken to a local hospital for treatment for shock, cuts and bruises.

Hollinger had been employed at the Johnson Pontiac firm for about two years. He is survived by his sister, Mrs. Dorothy Norman and a brother, Ray Hollinger, both of Colorado Springs, and Joe Goss, a foster son who made his home with Hollinger.

Funeral services were conducted Friday afternoon at the First Baptist church with Rev. Keith McCormick and Rev. W. O. Harmon officiating. Pallbearers were Don Wilcox, J. D. Johnson, Frank Shaffer, Roland Ward, Garland Redfern and Bernard Bryan.

Interment was made in Chapman, Kansas, where graveside rites were held Saturday.

Gunnells Rites Held Monday At ME Church

Mrs. Gunnells, 94 years of age, had fallen and broken her hip several weeks ago and had been critically ill since that time.

Born in Alabama on January 8, 1960, Mrs. Gunnells had made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Edwards, since 1925 in Perryton.

She is survived by her daughter, a son, C. E. Gunnells of San Antonio, three grandchildren three great-grandchildren, and one great great grandchild.

Rev. A. B. Cockrell conducted the final rites. Pallbearers were W. H. Lance, Henry Richardson, Jake LeMaster, Otis Burk, V. W. Richardson, Earl Glasgow.

Interment was in the Ochiltree cemetery.

In a joint statement, the partners said that the move was made "so that we might better serve our customers and friends of this area. We have grown into one of the largest Studebaker agencies in the Panhandle and more time is needed to insure a balanced relationship with all customers."

Snow Fence To Control Dust

School authorities this week installed a "snow fence" along the northeast corner of the school playground, designed to help slow down the blowing dirt which has filled yards of houses across the street. This fence, the standard roll-type picket, will break the wind and catch a great part of the blow dirt, the school hopes. A great deal of this picket fencing has been sold to farmers who plan to use it for the same purpose.

Wind Erosion Called Mild In Spite of Severe Dusters

Less Than 10 Per Cent of Land Blowing

Although the past few weeks have seen dust storms of greater intensity than at any time since the 1930's, the damage to land in this area has been mild, according to the Soil Conservation Service.

The bi-monthly report of Houston Maness of the local SCS office estimated that 18,000 acres of land in Ochiltree county have suffered moderate wind erosion thus far with another 20,000 acres suffering active wind erosion.

This indicates that less than 10 per cent of the Ochiltree county crop land is blowing and that less than five per cent has suffered moderate erosion.

The SCS considers erosion as damage from wind which affects the farming ability of the soil and does not include land which may have lost wheat due to wind. Some areas of the county have lost wheat due to wind and dust, but the soil is not damaged.

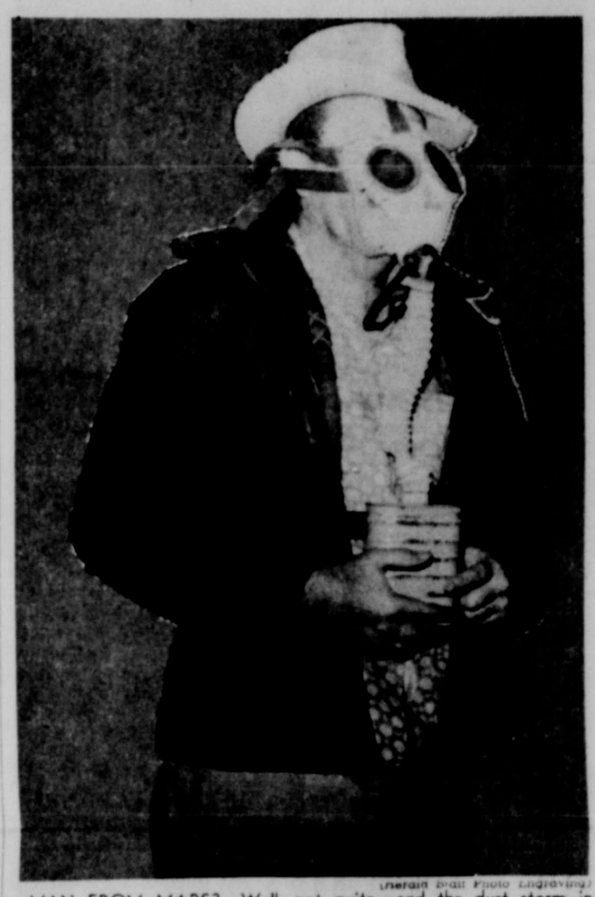

Moderate erosion is defined as areas with 2 to 6 inches of new accumulations, lister furrows filling, fence rows, roads and other obstructions showing accumulations. Severe erosion is defined as areas with more than 6 inches of blow dirt, usually hummocky, or areas blown down from two inches to plow depth. There is no land failing in this classification yet.

Active erosion is defined as slight shifting of soil with no permanent damage.

Maness pointed out that the most severely hit part of this county is the southwest corner in south of Farnsworth and Waka. There is an area northeast of Perryton suffering from wind erosion and a few acres in the northwest part of the county.

In the southwest part of the county, where there has been little moisture, fields have been chiseled in an effort to stop blowing. Next step will be throwing up lister ridges if the area doesn't receive a rain soon, Man-

Red Cross Funds Totals $1,239 As Drive Hits Half Way Mark

With the Red Cross drive at the half-way mark, a total of $1,239 has been contributed toward the goal of $2,886, Gene Akers, county fund chairman, announced today.

Only one area is more than 90 per cent complete, Akers said. This area is the rural section of precinct two and the report of only one worker has not been received.

Volunteer workers are urged to make their contacts and report to Mrs. Frank Cox, executive secretary, as quickly as possible. However, Akers pointed out that workers should not slight their calls just so they can make their report.

"This county has never failed to make the Red Cross quota and if everyone will cooperate we will not fail this year in spite of dust, no rain or high water," Akers said.

More volunteer workers are needed to complete canvassing the northeast section of the city. Volunteers should contact Mrs. Cox at the Red Cross office.

Solicitors on Main street and Brillhart avenue have been asked to complete their calls before March 29 in order that a few calls can be made on those who were not in town at the time.

Grandma Budock, 91 Years Young, Has Her Own Method of Filing Friends' Telephone Numbers

Mrs. Anna Budock, who celebrated her 91st birthday Wednesday, can't read or write English, but with the aid of a remarkable memroy, uses her dial telephone with the greatest of ease.

She has her friends write their telephone numbers on a piece of paper—she drops this piece of paper into her "filing box," which is really a cardboard shoebox—and from then on, she knows her friend's telephone number by hunting up the piece of paper with the number written on it.

There are more than 100 telephone numbers on scraps of paper in the cardboard box and Mrs. Budock, known to her many friends as "Grandma" can tell who has each telephone number.

This is just one indication of how alert and active Grandma Budock is on her 91st birthday. She does her own housework, attends church and Sunday School regularly, and still has her own teeth. Her hair, which is still black with only a few gray hairs in it, has never been cut.

Open House

Her birthday is marked each year by an open house to which scores of friends come to pass the time of day. This year was no exception.

Grandma Budock came to America 61 years ago from Germany. She was born in the small town of Wieskin, close to the Hungarian border, on March 17, 1863. She was 30 years old when

City Grants Gas Franchise

A 25 year franchise for natural gas was granted by the city council Tuesday night to the Public Service Corp., effective March 16. The present franchise was due to expire on March 29.

The franchise contained most of the same terms as the present franchise, calling for a franchise rate of 2 per cent of the gross receipts of the company.

No change in the gas rate was indicated in the franchise.

Major new stipulation in the franchise was the insertion of a recapture clause which would enable the city to buy the gas plant facilities in the future for the original cost of the plant, plus five per cent.

This recapture clause is used in franchise agreements with utility companies by many Texas cities.

For 80 Years . . .

. . . a Byron Jackson Product has been recognized as a "quality" product. Following the basic principles established by Mr. Byron Jackson, the Company has progressed to its present status by turning out first-quality products such as centrifugal pumps for mining, irrigation, pipelines, factories, and industry in general. From thousands of satisfied customers who have consistently reordered BJ products, the reputation of the Company has been established.

Byron Jackson Co. was the first in the country to undertake the manufacture of, and to market widely, a line of successfully performing centrifugal pumps in anything approaching a complete range of sizes. Mr. Byron Jackson was a pioneer in the designing and developing of centrifugal pumps, building the world's first deepwell turbine pump in 1901. He was also the first centrifugal pump manufacturer to test the pump before shipment, and had installed a complete testing laboratory for this purpose in 1902.

Today's counterpart is the half-million dollar hydraulic testing laboratory at the BJ headquarters in Los Angeles. Believed to be the largest of its kind in the world, this laboratory contains the newest equipment and instruments for testing pumps under actual operating conditions prior to shipment. This is further assurance for the customer that a BJ product is quality-controlled from design to shipment.

BJ Pumps are economical, dependable, efficient, with low maintenance costs, and are built with all parts standardized. All of these factors are important to you, and are available only through an established pump manufacturer such as Byron Jackson Co. and its fine dealers.

Hundreds of Chairs At Less Than Cost Unable To Advertise!

WE ASK FRANKLY—

WHAT WOULD YOU DO?

Yes—WHAT WOULD YOU DO? We're an aggressive firm maintaining an enviable reputation. We stand high in the community and known far and near for our quality merchandise and fair trade practices. But . . . like all well-rated firms there comes a time when mistakes are made and adjustments are in order to keep abreast of the times. Frankly—(and we don't like to admit it)—we face a serious inventory crisis. We bought too much. Grabbed every bargain that came our way. Business has been good but not good enough. Our 5 warehouses are bulging with merchandise in great quantities—enough to supply five stores our size.

WILLING TO SWALLOW OUR PRIDE— ADMIT OUR MISTAKES— FACE THE SITUATION!

We're MERCHANTS—NOT antique collectors. We can't eat the stuff and we don't want it hanging around! It's a bitter pill to swallow—and we're willing to swallow our pride, too, to get the job done. In fact—FRANKLY SPEAKING — we think we're on our toes and smart merchants to look at it this way. A no-profit sale for ten days won't break us but it will enable us to remedy our mistakes . . . balance our inventory and put our "house in order."

Don't Get The Wrong Impression— We "ARE NOT" Going Out of Business!

Sounds like we are but please rest assured—NOTHING could be further from our minds. We're GROWING LIKE A CREAM-FED KITTEN. We don't need cash and we're not going broke.

We don't like this kind of a sale either—TOO SENSATIONAL. But we realize that it takes something drastic of this nature to accomplish the purpose of the sale—TO UNLOAD HUGE QUANTITIES OF MERCHANDISE. That's why we're going ALL-OUT to get the job done within 10 days at the most. You can save 20%, 50%—yes even 75% and EVEN MORE. Never in all our years in business have we seen anything to equal it.

Space Travel Revealed in New Picture

"Riders to the Stars," a dramatic story in color about three space pilots, attempt to capture a meteor and return it to the earth, will be seen at the Ellis Theatre on Friday and Saturday.

The story concerns three men who are assigned by the Office of Scientific Investigation to try to capture a meteor and bring it back for inspection. This is necessary in order to find out what causes steel to disintegrate while rushing through outer space. When this problem is solved, space travel will become a reality.

The rugged preparatory tests these pilots undergo and the hazardous flight through space and their even more hazardous return to earth make up the exciting tale told in "Riders to the Stars," which is being released by United Artists.

The picture uses background and equipment employed by physics labs and testing grounds. One such machine shown is the centrifuge, which tests a persons' ability to withstand gravity.

Madcap-Heiress Stars in Film

The story of a madcap oil heiress who returns to a small Arkansas towns told in "She Couldn't Say No," the picture which comes to the Ellis Theatre on Sunday and Monday.

Jean Simmons is the heiress who returns to the town of Progress to reward the good people who saved her life by chipping in money for a doctor when she, as a small girl traveling with her father, had been stricken ill.

Here she meets Robert Mitchum, doctor son of the medico who nursed her back to health, and the plot begins to thicken.

she made the trip to America with her husband and three children.

There were five children, but four are deceased, with one son, John, surviving. He lives with his mother at 717 S. Ash.

Mr. and Mrs. Budock settled at Seneca, Mo. in 1893 where he worked for his uncle who had preceded him to America by several years. When the Budock family landed at Seneca, they had 75 cents between them. This meant that Mrs. Budock had to go to work, too, and she did, hiring out for housework around the town.

"This left my poor children alone to bring themselves up," she says. "We always have a hard time and there is much hard work."

Made Oklahoma Run

He husband made the famous run into Oklahoma when the Indian Territory was opened for settlement, and found land near Enid but didn't get it. "He couldn't speak English," Grandma relates. "And he didn't know how to go about filing on land until the men with him had claimed all the land around."

Grandma Budock had a hard time learning to speak English and she still carries a brogue from Germany. She learned in Seneca, Mo. while working for a woman with small children to look after. Grandma would take the woman by the hand and point out an object and the woman would tell the name of it. Gradually she learned the English name for things enough to converse in the strange language.

"It was hard for me because I was a grown woman when I try to learn English," she says.

Once she was approached by an Indian while working in the yard of a house in Seneca, but when she brandished a cutting scythe, the Indian was about as afraid of her as she was of him, and he departed peacefully.

After the unsuccessful Oklahoma run, the Budock family lived in several towns in Oklahoma, including Grove and Cheyenne. Mr. Budock died in Cheyenne, Okla., over 40 years ago. Mrs. Budock and son John lived in Grove for about ten years then came to Ochiltree county in 1921.

Move to Ochiltree

She and John bought a half section of land northwest of town which was farmed until sold to R. H. Holland about ten years ago.

After the farm was sold, Mrs. Budock moved to town, buying a home on Ash street, where she has lived for the past ten years.

Grandma worked for the W. B. LaMaster family for 13 years and "helped raise the children" until she feels like they are her own family.

Friends are always dropping by with something to eat or bringing something for her house. She has a refrigerator, a deep freeze and several other articles of furniture given by her friends.

She is a member of the Methodist church and belongs to the Busy Ladies Sunday School class.

She has nine grandchildren, a number of great grandchildren and some great-great grandchildren, the exact number being rather vague to her.

"I have more friends than hairs on my head," Grandma says. "And I always remember, to have a friend you must be one. And to have a neighbor you must be a neighbor. That I always remember."

Final Rush for License Tags Seen In County

Less than half the license tags to be issued in Ochiltree county have been sold, reports Mrs. Ruby Malaney, office deputy at the county tax collector's office.

As of Tuesday, there had been about 800 sets of passenger tags sold and this leaves at least 1,000 to go, Mrs. Malaney said.

There is less than two weeks to secure the 1954 license plates, as deadline is March 31.

Mrs. Malaney said that there have been reports that license tags may be purchased cheaper in Lipscomb or Hansford counties. This is quite untrue, as every county in the state of Texas has exactly the same rate for license plates, she pointed out.

Car owners are required by law to buy their license plates in the county of their residence. Failure to do so can result in a $200 fine and can cause the vehicle to be registered again in the county of residence.

Pearson, Hale Begin Meetings

W. Dale Pearson and James Hale began a series of gospel meetings in the Church of Christ building Wednesday evening which will continue through March 28.

Speaker for the occasion each time is W. Dale Pearson who is now the minister of the church in Ponca City, Okla. Song director is James Hale, director of singing at the South Side church in Roswell, N. M.

The public is invited to all of these services. The church is located at the corner of Fifth and Colgate.

Mrs. E. C. Dodson returned home Sunday from a two weeks visit in Amarillo in the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. L. Bishop. Mrs. Dodson stayed with her grandchildren while Mrs. Bishop attended a workshop in Austin. Mrs. Bishop teaches Vocational Nursing in Amarillo Junior College.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Sooter were in Oklahoma City from Wednesday until Friday of last week. They visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Meek and bought Easter merchandise for their store.

The trees include Chinese elm and red cedar, both very popular in this area for windbreaks. Orders may be placed through the county agent's office.

A Community Asset

Too often, when a community casts about to find ways of attracting an industry, the present industries are overlooked.

An outstanding example is the trade brought to Perryton by two modern hospitals and five doctors which serve a wide area.

Most towns the size of Perryton would consider themselves lucky to have one or two doctors and perhaps one hospital—instead of two medical institutions such as we do have.

These hospitals serve the needs of people in surrounding counties and a drive past either hospital on any given day will show a row of cars with out-of-town license plates, driven there by persons with friends or relatives receiving medical treatment.

It goes without saying that these hospital visitors spend some money in Perryton—for food and lodging, if for nothing else.

And the hospitals with a considerable payroll, support a good many business establishments.

Our hospitals are definitely a community asset—and both are operated strictly under private enterprise, on a business like basis. They asked nothing of this community, except reasonable support and patronage.

And this, we believe, they are certainly entitled to receive.

No Place To Put It

Although the problem hasn't bothered people locally for the past four years, the United States Department of Agriculture is frantically scouting for more places to store wheat. Already the government has filled up mothballed merchant ships, empty airplane hangers, vacant garages, abandoned Army barracks, closed down movie houses and all sorts of empty buildings.

And now the government is out of storage space again—and it is costing plenty of storage money to keep the wheat on hand.

If the search for storage space is unavailable, still another headache will be added to the Republican administration with whic to cope in its efforts to solve the delicate farm situation.

Under the price support laws, support prices apply only when the grain is stored. If there is no place to store them, another situation results.

And wheat is not the only commodity which is stretching the storage space—it takes about $14 million every month to pay the storage bill on the grain, cotton and dairy products that the government owns.

The Perryton area will probably have enough storage space on farms and in elevators to take care of the wheat crop this year. But the storage problem is one that will grow each year until some day it will defy solution unless some way is found to dispose of the surplus commodities.

We don't envy the Department of Agriculture, under any administration, Republican or Democratic, in solving this problem.

Herald Classifieds Get Results

From the SIDELINE

with HAROLD HUDSON

There is no mystery to us as to why track, as a sport, hasn't received such enthusiastic support from high school athletes of this area. Running around a track is hard work under favorable weather conditions, but it seems like downright punishment to try and run in a dust storm. The weather has a lot to do with the lack of popularity of tennis, too, we suspect.

We received a chance to employ a Don Carr as a syndicated columnist this week for $1 per week—but passed up the opportunity. This in spite of the sales letter which said, in part, "The problems of a weekly newspaper editor are well known to us, for we have published a weekly. Ignored by the wire services and the big news services it is a constant struggle to keep the sheet readable."

This is true— the Herald is ignored by the wire services and the big news services—but it is by our choice. This newspaper is devoted to local news—or tries to be—and we doubt if the addition of a snappy, sophisticated Don Carr column about Hollywood doings, night club performers and sporting events would add much to our present reader interest. The stuff in the Herald may not be the best in the world, but it is home grown, at that.

We can't see where Sen. Joe McCarthy gets off demanding free radio and television time over a national network to answer charges against the Republicans brought by Democrat Adlai Stevenson. The networks allotted free time to the Republicans to make a rebuttal, seems they are compelled to by law, but McCarthy wasn't satisfied with that. "They (the networks) will grant me time or they will learn what the law is. I guarantee that," said McCarthy. To date his demand hasn't been honored, and we are glad.

Time is money to radio and television stations and when it comes to the point where every politician is able to demand free time, our country is getting in bad shape. Carried to its ultimate conclusion, we soon would have nothing but political speeches over the air, and the networks would go broke. We much prefer music.

The Stewart Printing Co., as does many other business houses and individuals in Perryton, receives daily a deluge of pamphlets and catalogs, offering about every kind of merchandise at "wholesale." There seems to be a trend to try and cut out the "middleman," and you can buy almost anything at wholesale, sight unseen. The big catch is that you must pay the freight, which in most instances wipes out the "big savings." Aside from this, who ever heard of one of these wholesale houses helping foot the bills of our city or county governments, schools, churches or any of the other countless demands for funds which our local business houses are called upon to satisfy?

Another angle is that by merely labeling the price of an article "wholesale," you don't necessarily mean that it is wholesale. We have received pamphlets at the office selling steel filing cabinets at "wholesale" when actually our retail selling price on the floor was cheaper. We suspect this holds true in other lines of merchandise.

They say a real music lover is a guy who puts his ear to the keyhole of a strange bathroom instead of his eye when he hears a woman singing in the tub.

Talked to J. H. Neufeld a few minutes at the Golden Wedding Anniversary at the A. P. McCelvey home Sunday afternoon. Mr. Neufeld remarked that he and his bride came to Beaver county in 1904 and set up housekeeping in a dugout, where they lived for two years. "It took a lot of courage for my wife to come out to the wilderness where the nearest town was 35 miles away," he commented. We think it took a lot of courage for both of them. Wonder if we would have as much courage nowadays?

Mr. Neufeld said he did some custom broomcorn farming the first few years in Beaver county—and that pulling broomcorn was work of the hardest order. We have always heard it was, and we are willing to take other people's word for it.

We got thinking about the hard work and the hard times put in by the pioneer families who settled this country in the late 1800's. They had tough times, and never once thought of calling upon the government to bail them out of their difficulties. Do present day Americans have that much intestinal fortitude? Nowadays, when the shoe begins to pinch, up goes the cry for the government to do something about it.

It looks like a mild political session this year. Here the deadline for filing for city office has passed and not a contest in sight. No opposition on the school board, and to date only one race for county office. Of course, there is some activity on the state level, and Perryton has a Republican congressman candidate in Pete LaMaster, but local politics are mighty quiet. Is this because the jobs are not attractive enough—or are people satisfied with the incumbents?

Rev. and Mrs. James Cooper and children, Paul, Stephanie and John of Waco, were guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Neufeld last week end.

Wolf Creek Philosopher

Brings Cheer to Dry Neighbor

(Ed. note: The Wolf Creek Philosopher has a novel way of proving how helpful he is, but then, his ways are often novel.)

Dear editar:

A man the other day accused me of bein one-sided, said I seemed to spend all my time seein that I was comfortable and not worryin about anybody else's comfort, said it looked like just so my cows made it through the winter, with maybe a little help from a neighbor's pasture thru the courtesy of a sorry fence, I didn't have any further concern for the human race.

I wish to deny this. While it has always been my contention that a man's biggest job is to get himself and his own through the winter before he started worryin about somebody else, in fact, if everybody was able to follow that principle there wouldn't be anybody left needin help, I still would like it known that I do spend considerable thought and time on other people, frequently neglectin my own plowin to worry about national problems, although I'll admit I have never been able to put the national debt ahead of a personal debt when it comes to worryin.

But what I started out to do was to tell you about a little deed I did once, just to make my neighbor happy.

This neighbor had been worryin pretty deeply about the weather, about the lack of rain all over the country and especially on his land. He's one of these fellows they never have made any weather for yet that really suited him, but last year he got to worryin more than ever, and along at the tail end of the summer, about wheat plantin time, he worried so much it affected his health.

"If we could get just one inch of rain, I'd be satisfied," he said. "We've just got to have some rain."

Well, in a few days along came a little rain, not much, but the clouds were pretty dark lookin about sundown and prospects for moisture looked pretty good.

Along about an hour after dark it began to pepper down pretty good, and I got to thinkin about that neighbor. I knew he was gonna be out the first thing in the mornin looking at his rain gauge, and if it showed only about a quarter of an inch he was gonna be as disappointed and downcast as a candidate who lost by two votes.

So in the spirit of neighborliness and goodwill I put on my rain coat, got a fruit jar full of water out of my well, and eased down to his place and poured enough in his rain gauge to show a good inch, then came on back home.

We got enough rain that night to wet the ground out here, but we didn't get anywhere close to an inch, but you have never seen a happier man than him when he turned a flashlight on his rain gauge at 6 o'clock the next mornin and saw where the water level was.

His appetite picked up, the mornin took on a rosier glow, and he went to town later in the day and bought a television set just on the strength of it.

It's these little inexpensive, thoughtful things a man does that brings happiness to others.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Dick Meyer Farm Seen In Herald Mystery Series

The Dick Meyer farm home 4½ miles northeast of Booker was seen as last week's Herald Mystery Farm of the Air. The farm has been owned by Meyer for the past 19 years and he bought it from John W. Teare, Lipscomb county pioneer.

Mr. Teare bought the farm in about 1890 from the Santa Fe.

All of the improvements on the farm have been built by Meyer.

Mr .and Mrs. Meyer were married in 1926 and have six children, Cecil, Melvin, Wendell, Bernard, Glendell, and Mrs. Gene Deeds. There are six grandchildren.

The Meyer family belong to the Baptist church and he is a member of the High Plains Dairy Association.

The farm, consisting of seven quarter-sections, or about 1120 acres, is devoted to wheat, grain sorghums and a balanced livestock program. There are beef cattle, poultry and hogs raised on the Meyer farm and Meyer is starting a herd of registered Swiss dairy cattle.

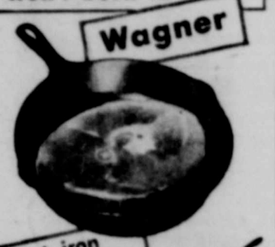

Best crop year was 1941 when the farm averaged about 40 bushels of wheat. This year is the poorest, with the wheat already gone, Meyer says, although he has lost three other wheat crops to add to this year's total loss.

He usually milks about 40 cows, Holstein and Jerseys and trys to grow all the feed for the dairy cattle possible. The dairy herd require his presence at home seven days a week and twice on Sundays—for milking purposes, Meyer commented.

He practices the usual soil conservation methods and has five earth dams on the place.

"I went through the dirty thirties on this place and plan to stay until it rains," Meyer concluded.

NOT ONE BUT 2 POWERFUL NEW GASOLINES

Shamrock's NEW Blending Formula:

1. Adds Premium Qualities to NEW SHAMROCK TRAIL MASTER Giving Users of Regular Gasoline Extra Performance at No Extra Cost
2. Makes NEW SHAMROCK CLOUD MASTER the Finest Premium Gasoline For Superior Performance in High Compression Engines

THE Shamrock station near you now has in its pumps two of the world's finest motor fuels. This means that regardless of the make or model of your car one of the new Shamrock gasolines will give you MORE POWER . . . BETTER PERFORMANCE . . . GREATER ECONOMY . . . and, for no more than you would pay for any other leading brand of gasoline. Vitally important to the performance of your car is controlled volatility. Shamrock controls the volatility of the new gasolines with a wide range of light and heavy fractions . . . fractions that assure quick starts . . . clean burning, plus more mileage, more power and better performance. This careful control means that these new Shamrock gasolines will meet the varying requirements of your car from season to season. As a bonus . . . Shamrock gives you truly outstanding anti-knock qualities. Shamrock anti-knock qualities are now raised far above the requirements of the most powerful engines put in today's cars.

New TRAIL MASTER

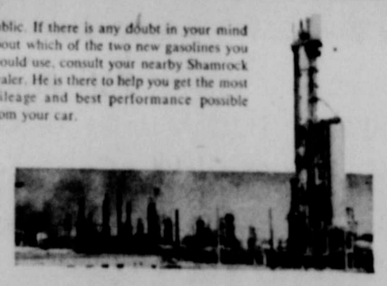

Shamrock's New Trail Master is the performance-plus motor fuel for users of regular gasoline. It costs no more than regular gasolines yet gives the anti-knock, extra-power, maximum mileage features you expect only in a more expensive, premium gasoline. New Trail Master offers the drivers of cars with lower compression engines all the performance advantages of recent gasoline improvements without requiring that they pay for a full premium gasoline. If you want the most from your car, get the best gasoline for lower compression engines . . . Shamrock's New Trail Master . . . the new, budget-wise gasoline with premium qualities.

New CLOUD MASTER

Today's powerful, high compression automobile engines make strong demands on the gasoline they use. But as a result of Shamrock's new blending formula, New Shamrock Cloud Master not only meets these requirements but far exceeds them. Shamrock Cloud Master . . . octane rating more than enough to positively eliminate even trace knock . . . octane rating more than enough to assure maximum mileage and the quickest starts, fastest warm-up, greatest power, smoothest performance your car was designed to deliver. No matter what kind of car you drive, if the engine knocks when using Shamrock Cloud Master Premium, there is something wrong with your engine.

One of these new gasolines is exactly right for your car. A series of distillation tests carefully check the volatility of Shamrock, making certain that it meets the requirements of the new blending formula. Special knock-test engines establish definitely that the new gasoline is of such high octane rating that there is no chance of your engine knocking. Not only can an engine knock waste a portion of every tank of gasoline you use; but the effect of the knock can seriously damage the engine itself. Other tests prove the absence of gum forming copper and corrosive sulphur. These new gasolines are the result of the development of two new fuels, each to fill a specific need of the motoring public. If there is any doubt in your mind about which of the two new gasolines you should use, consult your nearby Shamrock dealer. He is there to help you get the most mileage and best performance possible from your car.
