THE TRUTH ABOUT TERRY IS GOOD ENOUGH

The Terry County Herald

AN APPRECIATED WEEKLY THAT COVERS THE TERRITORY.

Printed in Terry County, on the South Plains; the last stand of the Cattleman and the future home of the most prosperous Farmers in the United States

VOLUME 25 | BRBWNFIELD, TERRY COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, OCT. 25, 1929 | NUMBER 10

YES THE HERALD WANTS TO HELP THE FARMERS

But It Wants to Help Them Without Injuring Their Neighbors If Possible. If Local Produce Men Are Not in Line With Others, Let Them Get in Line.

There is no institution in the county that is more anxious for the farmers of Terry county to be prosperous tha nthe Herald, and there is not an institution more anxious to see them get better prices for their products that they have sweated the year round for, than the Herald. There is not another agency in the county that is more willing to give them publicity in order to help them alone in their endeavors to succeed than the Herald. But, on the other hand we are not willing to slap another set of neighbors and perhaps friends in the face about a matter we know nothing about until we have some time to investigate.

A farmer called us up this week. He is a good farmer and perhaps highlyrespected in his neighborhood, and wanted us to tell the world just how much the creamery men were paying for that commidty in Brownfield that day, and then give the price some town way out in another state was paying. In the first place, we had no way of making comparisons between this place and the one mentioned, in order to help the farmer as our informant said. We did not know the conditions there. Perhaps there was a fight on between one or more cream stations and they were buying so close that none were realizing a profit—perhaps actually losing. Then they may be within reasonable distance of a big creamery plant for all we know, and can pay a few cents a pound more for cream and still make as good profit as local buyers. Perhaps they were near enough to a plant that trucks were sent out from it to gather up the cream without shipping expense. Who knows; we don't.

A newspaper that will deliberately jump at conclusions and "dust the pants" of its local business men without making a fair investigation, is in a fair way to have to quit the business. On the other hand, if our creamery men are not paying a fair price for the farmer's cream, leaving only a legitimate prift to themselves, they are robbing their customers. But everyone in business must have a fair profit if they stay in business. A fairer way to have tested the matter would have been to compare prices paid in Brownfield and neighboring towns, say Meadow, Tahoka, Lamesa and Seagraves. Each of these towns are all on branch railroads and about the same distance from creamery plants.

If the farmer who called us up has the right dope on the matter, and feels that he and other farmers here are not getting a square deal, then the columns of the Herald are open for his free use to tell his grievances, but we ask that he sign his name to the article. Let's put up or shut up.

GASTON BELIEVES IN TELLING 'EM ABOUT TERRY

He Has the Herald Sent Down to Louisana in Order to Teach Them that the People of this Section are the Equal of All and Inferior to None. No Horns—All "Mulies"

T. W. Gaston, who lives in west Terry, knows of no better way to let the people in the east know about this section than to send them the Herald, and let them read and decide for themselves. He says that some of the people at least back down in Louisana where he found his good wife think this a half civilized country, and that people wear horns and keep their six-pistols buckled on all the time, and he had us send the Herald to his wife's family in order that they may judge for themselves.

As to civilization, statistics show that the people of this section have the longest average school terms than any section of the entire south, and further, that they have the best buildings and equipment of any portion of the same section; more teachers per pupil, etc. In fact, the average rural school in this section compares favoralby with the village and small town schools of most of east Texas and Louisana.

As to horns, there is no such thing. Even the old cow punchers and their cowboys of the early days were badly maligned, for instead of being always ready to kill everything in sight that they did not like, they were the most tender-hearted people on earth and would not harm a calf. If a stranger was half a man, if broke, could come among them and remain as long as he wanted to and no questions asked, neither pay. If sick, he had the best care they could give him. But you had better play the game square with them. If one tried to put anything by on them, was the only time shooting irons were ever used. They hated a crook like sin.

We appreciate the attitude of the people in the east, for we were raised there and were taught that it nearly tickled a cowboy to death to puncture a tenderfoot and watch him die in a pool of his own blood. Nothing was farther from the truth. It was pure fiction, wool and woof, woven in the ten cent novels we used to buy and read in the hay lofts back east. These trashy books have done more damage to the settlement of this section than any other one thing.

The people of the west, being pioneers, have always welcomed strangers among them, as they did when the pioneers settled in east Texas and Louisana, or Tennessee or Kentucky for that matter, and the people here now are just the offsprings of these hardy pioneers that came here from the old states mentioned—except that they have not been crowded long enough to get selfish yet like they are back east. Mr. Gaston says he had rather rent here than to own land back there, and he weant every word of what he said.

Ginners at Tahoka Charged Cotton Trust

The Grand Jury which was in session most of last week and has been in session all this week is expected to make its final report and be discharged soon afternoon, today. This report is expected to be of much more than ordinary interest. It is known that much of its time has been taken in investigating alleged violations of the Anti-Trust laws of this state. Two representatives of the Attorney-General's office at Austin have been here this week conferring with District Attorney T. L. Price and sitting with the grand jury and assisting in its investigations. Galloway Calhoun, first assistant to the Attorney General, was here Monday and Tuesday, leaving at noon. Judge Lawrence of the same department was here until Wednesday afternoon.

It is also known that the investigations pertain to the ginning and buying of cotton and that a number of ginners not only in Tahoka but operating in adjoining counties appeared before the body.

It is stated on high authority that Messrs. Calhoun and Lawrence claim to have procured sufficient evidence in the grand jury investigations to justify indictments and to form the basis of civil suits for penalties provided by statute against parties found guilty under these laws.

It is also understood that the scope of their investigations are not merely local but will possibly be statewide. The report of this grand jury, therefore,and the results of its investigations are expected to be of a rather sensational nature.

Of course none of the evidence brought before the grand jury is available to the newspapers or to the public at this time. It is not believed, however, that the situation in Tahoka is any different from that which exists throughout the state generally. The lightning just happened to strike here and there may be a storm that will sweep the entire state before the matter is finally closed.—Tahoka News.

Terry County Singing Convention Greatest

What was said to be one of the best if not the very best singing conventions in the history of the county, was pulled off at the Harmony school house last Sunday. Despite the mud, a great crowd was on hand, and there was plenty for all at the noon day meal. It was said to be a great dinner.

Several leaders from a distance as well as quartettes from Lubbock, Texas, New Mexico and other places were on hand and lent their assistance to putting the program over in good style, as well as all the best singers in Terry county.

The next meeting will be held in January in the new brick auditorium of the Gomez school building.

Mr. W. B. Johnson, is one of the new readers recently added.

Starts Cafe and Barber Shop For Negroes

Lewis Breverly (colored) and wife have opened a cafe in the old Martin Boot shop building, located just south of their race who have come here in dation of the hundreds of new people the rush season is over.

the past few months to help gather the cotton crop. It is estimated that a great many of these negro families will remain here another year to help the white farmers make crops, while some will return to the sections where they came from. He has also opened a barber shop for his color in the old half-dugout at the same piace.

Lewis came nere a year or two ago, and has been a faithful and efficient porter at the Sanitary Barber Shop. While he came here from Floydada, his old home is at Hearne, and he has brought some thirty colored cotton pickers from that section this fall to help gather the cotton crop here.

Lewis is both intelligent and industrious, and has seen the need of such a place for the people of his race for some time, but found it a hard matter to get a place owing to objections of white people to the close proximity of such a place, but knowing Lewis' disposition to be law-abiding himself, the white people near the old Martn property agreed to let him open there, and so far he has kept the best of order, and we believe will continue to do so. Lewis' wife is said to be an excellent cook, and he has secured a good colored barber to take charge of that work.

Carried Herald Home in His Watch Pocket

Anton Hansen of the Hunter community was in one day the past week and introduced us to his brother, Gilbert, we believe, who has come out from Jones county to help harvest Anton's cotton and feed crop. This is a younger brother, and we failed to learn whether or not he had a family.

Anton was discussing the Herald with us and claimed that when he first began taking the Herald that he often took his copy home in watch pocket—and he was serious about the matter. But now, it is as large as the Dallas News, says he.

Anton is a good farmer as was his late brother Harrel, who died last winter. They have the Danish get-up-and-go about them and are not only good farmers, but the very best of citizens.

The Herald had a letter the past week from T. P. (Slim) Ellis, of Detroit, Texas, stating that many good farmers were leaving that section for Terry county. Slim says that while that is a good country, Terry is a better one.

Editor O. P. Gaymon, of Canal Winchester, Ohio, who owns some good farm land in west Terry, recently sent in his renewal for two more years, putting his paper up to July 1932. Thanks, brother!

Night Riders May Appear in This City

There certainly was a bunch of mad radio fans in this city Tuesday morning, and they were all looking for the guy who was responsible for their losing what Amos and Andy had to say the night before, but so far they have not been successful, but they are not thoroughly aroused and organized, and if this interference starts up in the future, some of them will be on the streets hunting for the guilty party until he is located.

Several have tried to explain what effect it had on their radios. That is easy; it just knocked the socks out of them, and they were as dead as the snakes in Ireland as long as that witch or whatever it was had charge. But the noise the radio made while the spell was on was some easier to describe. About the best that we have heard was a combination of a boiler factory, assisted by six big trucks all stripping their gears and blowing out their gaskets at the same time, accompanied by the passi ng of four freight engines all going up grade on double tracks. Then apparently, as if to add to the den, some other guy was trying to drill through a piece of case hardened steel with a dull electric drill. These with a few other noises, including a screetch owl or two ought to give you a fair idea of the interference complained of.

From this on, we are going to send a squad out in all directions, and when the fellow is found that is running the old wreck of a motor, we are going to toss it out in the junk heap and the owner will follow if he says anything. If we find that the trouble is with any of the engines at the plant, we are going to ask the city to buy a new one and throw that one away even if they raise our taxes. Us radio fans will simply not stand any interference with our Amos and Andy programs, and this is fair warning that our night riders are now ready to ride at night.

One hundred new words, I understand, are added to the English language every year. But these do not include the pet coinages of certain copy writers who, principally because they lack a comprehensive knowledge of their own language, must resort to silliness of their own confection. Such words, as "mailvertising," "letter-smith," "advertect," and "aditorial" are not only vulgar, but inexcusable; and you can bet your bottom dollar that they are the products of moronic minds. Which reminds me that I have just read a circular describing a new parrafin treatment for the reduction of fat. The copy closes: "Come visit me at my Paraffinarium." If this keeps up, the coal dealer will tire of his coal yards and call them coalatoriums, the men's wear retailer will insist that his store is a haabrdasheryarium and—oh, you finish them—The Printing Industry.

PLAN BUILDING 150 STORIES

NEW YORK, Oct. 7. (AP)—Projected construction of a $100,000,000 office building of 150 stories—the highest in the world—was announced today by Charles F. Noyes, real estate operator, who will be associated in the work with David Schulte.

The new building will be 1,600 feet high, more than twice as high as the Woolworth building.

Another Weekend Rain Followed by Norther

It looks as if it is almost impossible for it to get fair and stay that way any length of time. There were sections of West Texas that had no rain through the summer, and the Rain Man is now trying to make up for all should have come, and we are getting all the slosh over. For the past two week ends, we have had big rains; the one two weeks ago amounting to about an inch and a half, and the past week 8-10th of an inch. We certainly have a season.

The first part of this week it got cloudy and the first real norther of the season came up, and all the old winter clothes came out of the closets and fires started in the stoves. The dealers in gas stoves did a land office business Tuesday and Wednesday mornings, as many people had not installed them. There was much complaint at the school buildings as there were no fires, and in some of the rooms, some window panes were out.

It began to clear up Wednesday morning, and we hope it will moderate for a few days.

Blue and Yellow Prevail 1930 Auto License

Blue and yellow will be the colors of the 1930 automobile license plates, according to Sheriff Mon Telford, who last week received the consignment for Terry county.

The pleasure cars will have plates with yellow backgrounds and blue numbers, while the commercial cars will have blue backgrounds with yellow numbers, Mon said. It is possible that the Sheriff's office may begin issuing the 1930 license about December 1, although he is not yet sure of that fact.

At any rate, the Sheriff says the new schedule of rates passed by the last session of the legislature will be in effect when motorists buy their new plates. These new rates will provide a reduction of about 50 per cent on pleasure cars over that of 1929, while other motor vehicles will be reduced about 40 per cent.

Cars, this year, are to be rated by weight only, the heavier trucks getting the benefit of the reduction while there will be little change in the license cost of the smaller trucks. Motor cycles will have a charge of $5.00, with an additional charge of $3.00 where the side car is used.

COTTON THIEVES ACTIVE

About 1,400 pounds of seed cotton was stolen from Mrs.S. A. Berry, a widow lady living about seven miles east of town, Tuesday night. The cotton was in a wagon in the field and a truck was driven into the field and the cotton transferred. The truck was equipped with smooth tires and on account of the early morning traffic could be traced but a short distance.

T. R. Childs, a farmer living northeast of town, also lost about 1000 pounds in a similar manner. Sheriff Williams stated that from the tracks he would say that the same truck took the cotton from both farms.—Levelland Herald.

If you wear a vest what's the sense of buying four-dollar neckties?

Another Man Put on The Nightwatch Force

Former Sheriff, F. M. Ellington, is now on the nightwatching force, and with E. Brown, who has been on for several years, it is hoped that some of the burglaries will be stopped, or at least some of them caught. As we stated some time since in these columns, it was almost impossible for one officer to be everywhere at once, and that some of the thieves could watch him while others were breaking in the stores.

With the fall season on, and a rush here of a lot of strangers, most of whom of course are just as honest as anyone, and who came here to work and make an honest living, came those who prey upon others. These have to be watched, and punished if they are caught. It may not be necessary to keep two officers on the night force all the time. That will depend a great deal on conditions after the rust season is over.

But burglars will have a much harder time breaking in stores here now with two wide-awake officers on the job, one in one end of the town and the other somewhere else. And it will not be so easy for these thieves to use one or two of their band as decoys to attract the attention of one officer to one end of the city, while their confederates are breaking a store at the other end. Now one can watch them while the other is shadowing their pals who aim to pull a nob-knocking stunt.

The people in general should give these officers the very closet cooperation. If you see a suspicious character keeping to the shadows late at night, there is nine chances out of ten that his aims are anything but angelic. Report his whereabouts to the first officer you see.

JUSTICE TAFT SINGES COLLEGE FEATHER-HEADS

Chief Justice William Howard Taft last week spoke about education to members of Psi Upsilon, his Yale fraternity, who were convening in Washington. Soundly did Mr. Taft rebuke undergraduates who went to college for social reasons and those who, once there, overstressed the extra-curricular.

Said he: "When a man grows old as I have, he then feels like resorting to profanity, as he ought not to do, at the misconception of life and the use of universities by feather-headed young men that don't look ahead to know the opportunities they have and to appreciate these opportunities—I don't want to criticize athletics or a great many extra curriculum duties, but I think there is a great deal of time and money wasted on these things—We must get our public and private schools down to a simpler curriculum."—Time.

W. R. McDuffie, whose old home is Waxahachie, handed us dairy edition of the Daily Light of that city, recently, that was about the most interesting edition of its kind we have ever seen. While Ellis county has the reputation of being the banner cotton producing county in the world they are trying to get away from all-cotton production to diversified farming.

Of a once numerous species of American wild-fowl, the heath hen, there is today only one known surviving bird.

Terry Banks Are in Splendid Condition

Although the last call of the comptroller of the currency for bank statements came with their close of business Oct. 4th, when the cotton crop had just begin to move, we find that the three banks of Terry county had made quite a nice gain in resources and deposits, with a corresponding decrease in loans since the last call which came early in July. This shows a healthy growth, and a statement now would show an even greater increase.

The combined loans of the Brownfield State, the First National of this city and Meadow are $452,896.95.

The combined deposits, and this is individual or demand, and does not include time, cashier's checks, cotton transits or other transient deposits, municipal or county, is $748,446.17.

The combined resources of the three banks is $1,165,655.14.

In other words, there was at that time, almost a month ago deposits belonging to the citizenship of the county three quarters of a million dollars, and we rather expect that they are near the million mark now. Lay down your hammer if you have been using it to knock the country, but if you have been using it in a constructive way, keep hammering away.

Local Rotarians Attend Dis. Meet at Lubbock

A large percent of the local Rotarians attended the district meet at Lubbock last Friday evening, and all report a fine lot of entertainment and a swell feed from the Lubbock wheelers.

Noted speakers were there from various parts of the country, including the district governor from Stamford. After an unusually good program of speaking and music, the Lubbock boys staged one of their famous barbecued chicken feeds.

WAPLES PLATTER GROCERY ONE OF THE PIONEERS

Back in the covered wagon days of the great Southwest, some fifty years ago, when shootin' irons were a part of the regular equipment of every he-man, there was started in Indian Territory (now Oklahoma), a small trading post from which to supply foodstuffs and coffee, to the hardy pioneers.

Housed in a tent on the banks of the Red River, and operated under the partnership name of Waples and Platter, this trading post early became the center of trading activities for hundreds of miles around. History records that it was a success frmo the beginning, so successful, in fact, that the business moved shortly to Denison, Texas, then terminal of the Katy railroad. That early beginning was the nucleus of the present Waples Platter Company, manufacturers and distributors of foods and coffees, an organization which has for many years been a dominating factor in the business and industrial leadership of the great South-

Big Celebration For Inventor of Lights

One of the greatest celebrations ever to take place in the history of the American people, and one in which probably more people heard if they did not see what was going on, was given in a National Broadcast Monday night in celebration of the Golden Jubilee of the incandescent electric light, which was perfected by Thomas A. Edison 50 years ago. Not alone was the American people listening in, but thousands, perhaps hundreds of thousands in Europe and other countries were hooked up with the broadcast.

The broadcast started at Dearborn, Michigan, where Mr. Henry Ford has the old laboratory re-established, together with all its paraphenalia used by the old wizard of electricity. Every brick and piece of wood of the old building was moved from its old site in New Jersey. Mr. Edison started up the old steam engine, which was plainly heard running. From there the host of the occasion, Messrs. Henry and Edsel Ford, the honoree, Mr. Edison, President Herbert Hoover, and hundreds of other invited guests assembled in an auditorium where many prominent speakers, including Owen D. Young, Mr. Ford, the president and Mr. Edison himself spoke. In his broken voice, cracked with emotion, Mr. Eidson perhaps made one of the longest speeches he ever made to not only those present, but to literally millions of people in all parts of the world, and it was perhaps the first time many had ever heard his voice. President Hoover made a splendid address, and while just a bit techinal, showing the engineer part of his make up, it was never-the-less plain enough for the laity to thoroughly understand. It was hard to tell which got the lion's share of applause, he or Mr. Edison.

Telegrams were read from the Prince of Wales, Commander Byrd and others who could not attend. The climax of the evening came when a hookup was effected with Berlin, Germany, and Prof. Albert Einstein was heard in broken English for a few minutes, perfectly clear, but with a rather lot of statics as his voice had to travel part of the time by wire—from Berlin to London.

We are living in a wonderful age, and to this grand old American can be given a large share of modern high plane of living by his invention. All America loves him. Many Brownfield people heard the entire program.

Mrs. "Whitey" Walker, tried in the district court of Lynn county the past week for burglarizing a store, pled guilty and turned states evidence on her two male companions. She was given a five year suspended sentence.

Dr. W. M. Copeland stopped us on the streets recently to tell us how much he appreciates the Herald. He is always anxious for the day to arrive to get a new Herald, he says, and that his son, Andrew, was just like him, in that way.

W. G. Hardin was in recently to renew for his and the Herald going to his mother at Springtown, Texas.

Hunter Notes

Well Folks, after a week's absence, we'll call again.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Goza spent Sunday with their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Lyon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Fitzgerald from Brownfield spent Sunday in this part with friends and relatives.

Mrs. Jewell Hutchings from Brownfield spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. Lee Lyon.

Mrs. R. B. Offill has as her guests, her brother and sister, Mr. C. E. Smith from Chapman Ranch, Texas, and Mrs. S. A. Lawson from Corpus Christi, Texas. They came in last Friday, and reported that they didn't think much of this sandy country, but never the less, they would change their minds, if they should stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bryant from the Challis community spent the week end with Mrs. Bryants mother, Mrs. R. B. Offill and family.

Messrs. Lee Lyon and Arthur Wood went to Seagraves Monday on business.

Mr. Jack Bryan went to Hobbs, New Mexico Friday, and returned home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Travis Jenkins is sporting around in a new Ford.

—CHENK.

C. P. Buchanan, of the Tokio community, was in one day the past week and informed us that he just brought in some mgihty fine jersey cattle to add to his dairy herd. He bought them from one of the best breeders in the state. We are always glad when we learn that more and better cattle are being brought in .

H. T. Kimbro, prominent business man of Lubbock, was given a place on the State Industrial Board, by Gov. Moody, recently and accepted and qualified.

The case of the State against Mrs. Mollie Turner, who is accused of the murder of her husband at Wilson a few years ago, was continued as defense attorneys claimed her son, a star witness for the defense was absent. The case was continued but her son, John, was fined $500.00 for non-appearance.

M., in the office of City Secretary in the City of Brownfield, Texas, to all owning or claiming any property abutting upon said portions of avenues and streets, and to all owning or claiming any interest in any such property. At said time and place all owning or claiming any such abutting property, or any interest therein, shall be and appear and will be fully heard concerning said improvements, the cost thereof, the amounts to be assessed therefor, the benefits to the respective parcels of abutting property by means of the improvement on the portion of avenue or street upon which the property abuts, and concerning the regularity, validity and sufficiency of the contract for, and all proceeding relating to, such improvements and proposed assessments therefor, and concerning any matter as to which they are entitled to hearing under the law in force in the City and under the proceedings of the City with reference to said matters. Following such hearing assessments will be levied against abutting property and owners thereof, and such assessments when levied, shall be a personal liability of the owners of such property and a first and prior lien upon the property as provided by the law in force in the city, and under which the proceedings are taken, being the Act passed at the First Called Session of the 40th Legislature of the State of Texas, and known as Chapter 106 of the Act of said Legislature.

The improvements on each said portion of avenue or street constitute an entirely separate and distinct unit of improvement, all to the same extent as if entirely separate and distinct proceedings had been taken with reference to the improvements and assessments therefore in connection with improvements on each such portion of street or avenue, and the assessments against the property abutting upon any unit shall be and are in no wise affected by any fact or circumstance relating to or connected with the improvements in other units.

Of all said matetrs and things, all owning or claiming any such property, or any interest therein, as well as all others in any wise interested or affected will take notice.

DONE byorder of the City Council of the City of Brownfield, this 4th day of October, A. D. 1929.

City Secretary, City of Brownfield, Texas. 10c.

ERRONEOUS REPORTS

About Changes in Ford Models

Due to the number of inquiries coming from dealers regarding th rumors now in circulation that changes are contemplated in Model A Ford Cars, We are prompted to make the following general statement.

This Branch has no information what ever that any changes are even contemplated and our production schedule as now outlined would not permit any changes in the near future.

Statements in the newspapers that we have curtaield production for a change in models are absolutely erroneous, as we are now building the largest production in the history of the Company. Our September output was over 161,000 Cars and Trucks a ndour October schedule calls for 170,000.

MORRIS SHEPHARD HAS A GREAT PLAN

Senator Morris Sheppard comes forward with a proposal to make the buyer of whiskey guilty along with the seller as a real enforcement program that would put an end to much of the bootlegging of whiskey.

Now, we prohibitionists like Senator Sheppard and the Messenger man who keeps faith with our party and know how to stay "put" can get along nicely without a bootlegger.

But, gentlemen of the the jury, wouldn't it be awful for some who promise their wives before leaving for a fish to keep sober to turn down the very thing they want when out of sight of home?

There is a differenece in a politician preaching prohibition for vote and getting himself in jail for satisfying his thirst than a clever bootlegger comes along.

The man who buys is guilty alright along with the seller. But, Mr. Sheppard, the Republicans are in control and you couldn't pass that honest law even if you doubled the tariff on Canadian and Bermuda Isle booze.—Greenville Messenger.

FIRF DESTROYS GIN AT ROPES WEDNESDAY MORNING

Between 7 and 8 o'clock Wednesday morning, "The Red Gin" as it is known by the folks of this section was destroyed by fire. The flames were under such headway when discovered that it was impossible to save any part of the gin.

This gin, while practically new, and which has been idle for the past few years, had only recently been over hauled, new machinery placed. The first bale of this season's cotton was being run thru at the time of the fire.

The fire originated in the press room, and started while the gin crew were in another part of the gin making some repairs to machinery that had broken down preparatory to getting started. The whole east end was in flames when they discovered it.—Ropes Hustler.

Dr. W. W. Fowler, of Dallas, who owns some farms in this county was here the past week looking after same, and had a man with him who will likely take charge of the doctor's property this coming year. The Dr. seemed to be deeply interested in the deep plowing methods as well as tractor farming.

W. J. Moss of the Wellman section was in Saturday after supplies and called on the Herald for a few minutes.

J. J. Whitley was over from Gomez this week selling spaces for the stage curtain in the beautiful new school building.

It's pretty hard to manufacture conversation immediately following an introduction to a person you never heard of and who never heard of you.

MEMBER TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

One thing we like about these gas stoves is that you can sit out in front and see the fire, which is a great help in getting warmed up.

The bank statements carry their message of prosperity this week, and we want you to read them. While they may not have let us have all the money we wanted, we are nevertheless proud of them, and wish them well. We must have good, strong banks if we are to grow and prosper.

It seems that many of our editorializers are trying to stir up a warm campaign over the Hoover and Anti-Hoover Democrats this winter, but we are betting they can't put it across. Wait till next summer when the drops of perspiration and sweat begins to run down our honest brows, and then we'll get all het up with these agitating editorial writers. Until then, ideaose, if that is the way to spell the Mexican farewell.

One of the best mediums you can use to get your folks or friends to come out here to live or at least to investigate, is to send the home paper to them for six months or a year. These weekly messages, together with your influence will usually suffice to bring them out before the end of the subscription. Now is a good time to get these weekly messages of prosperity to your friends. Come in and let's talk it over.

The Lorenzo Tribune came out all colored up in red, yellow, purple, green and blue last week. Editor Suits explained that a shipment of news failed to arrive and he had to dive into his pile of poster stock to get out on time. Our hats are off to the editor and publisher who will do this rather than hold up the issue of his paper when the merchants are paying good money to get their messages to their customers before the week end trade starts.

Fire prevention week went by in this city without any special effort to observe it, but our fire boys are still keeping in trim for emergencies. They have their regular meetings which are mostly held around a banquet table and discuss things that come within their line of not only fighting, but preventing fires if possible. Brownfield should lend more encouragement to the boys who risk their lives every time they are called to a fire, and they do this without money and without price.

One of the most noted evidences of prosperity is the pepping up of the weekly papers in this section. Those that printed from six to eight pages during the dull part of the summer, are coming to us now with from ten to twelve pages. This shows that merchants are waking up to the fall cash trade. This, however, should not be the case, and Brownfield merchants are gradually drifting away from it, and others will follow. Our merchants carry almost as much space in summer as in the fall. They find that it is a splendid policy to pick up all the cash trade in summer they can get, and they offer special inducements to that end. Mail order houses found this out years ago, and when local merchants quit advertising, they ran in a bunch of catalogs, but the time is coming when there will be not let up times, and this is the reason that mail order stores are fast breaking up and establishing retail houses nearer the people.

Almost every week beggars appear on the streets of this city to hit up the long suffering community. In most cases the women or children are sent around to do the collecting, and in most cases the plea or card, if they have one says that the husband is ill —TB generally—but he is kept in the background. After one such case was investigated here a few years ago, it was found that the "sick" husband in a tent on the outskirts of the city was very healthy and hearty, but perhaps a very lazy rascal. It is a very noticable fact that when either woman or child is turned down, they don't seem to mind, and usually leave your place whistling or humming. One did us that way this week. Every case of this kind should be reported to the officers and investigations made. If worthy, the Herald and others, perhaps are willing to help. If just pure D beggars they should be slapped in jail.

Tokio News

Mrs. W. A. Farris was bitten by a rattlesnake last week but is doing nicely.

Don Martin is the proud possessor of a fine litter of nine Duroc Jersey pigs.

Mr. Luther Hobbs and family journeyed to Johnson Chapel last Sunday where Mr. Hobbs helped with the ordaining service.

There were quite a few from this community at the Singing Convention Sunday. Some of them were Norman Lovelace and family, J. T. Pippin and family, W. T. Upton and family and Miss Beuna Jowers, Barney and T. C. Farris and Joseph Young.

Mr. Earnest Rush and Miss Freda Miniky, who are teaching at Turner in Yoakum county, were recently married. They are now at Silverton but will return soon to open school which was closed for cotton picking.

There will be a meeting of the school board Tuesday night and we are hearing that the new brick house is not far off. Hurry, children, and get the cotton out so that school can begin again.

We are very glad to see Bill Winkle able to go again.

Melvin Anderson has recently taken typhoid fever. We hope to see him up again soon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Patterson and sons, Bertram, Marshall Earl and Ross are attending the Dallas Fair this week. From there they will visit Mrs. Patterson's mother in eastern Texas.

Sundown Siftings

(Over in Hockley County)

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. May enjoyed a visit with Mr. May's relatives Sunday at Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Bolen and family of Enloe, Texas arrived in our comunity one day last week.

Messrs. Wood were callers at the F. Y. Lincoln home one day the past week.

We are glad to report that since the rain business is again picking up in our community. Quite a little cotton was damaged by the wind and rain but it is believed that the crop will not be cut so very much shorter than estimated.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. May and little daughter, Mary Lou, left Sunday evening for Lubbock where they spent the night with relatives before leaving for Dallas and other points in the north central part of the state. They will be gone about a week and will attend the State Fair at Dallas before returning home.

BOX SUPPER

Friday night November 1st at Johnson school house for benefit of singing school. Everybody invited to come and bring a box. Good entertainment during the evening. 1tp.

Byron Wirtz is very low and not expected to recover. He underwent an operation sometime ago and seemed to have gotten alright, but recently has been growing worse.

Donald Hill, who has been in south Texas through the summer buying cotton, returned home this week.

NEAR YOU AND FOR YOU

We are your neighbors here at this bank. What a difference that makes in your feeling toward us, and in our feeling toward you!

Not only are we right close by, but we are just as close in sympathy with the things that help you and help this section.

There is one thing above all others that we are trying to do and that is to make this bank a public servant and of the utmost benefit to our town, our community and trade territory. We cordially invite your business predicated upon this spirit.

Citation by Publication

THE STATE OF TEXAS, To the Sheriff or any Constable of Tarrant County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded that by making publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the County of Yoakum for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof (same being 42 days after date of issuance hereof,) the first publication thereof to appear within 13 days from the date of issuance hereof, you summon J. T. McClanahan, W. R. Moore and J. N. Gaines, whose residences are unknown, to be and appear before the District Court of Tarrant County, Texas, 67th Judicial District, at the Court House in the City of Fort Worth, on the Monday next following the expiration of forty-two (42) days from date of the issuance of this citation, said Monday being the 18th day of November, A. D. 1929, and then and there to answer, at or before ten o'clock a. m., the original petition of Dick Lotspeich, as Plaintiff, filed in said Court, on the 30th day of September, A. D., 1929, against J. T. McClanahan, W. R. Moore and J. N. Gaines, as defendants, said suit being numbered 85036, the nature of which demand is as follows, towit:

That on or about September 12th, 1926, the defendant, J. T. McClanahan made, executed and delivered to Ben S. Long his seven vendor's lien notes, as follows: No. 1 to 4, inclusive for $100.00 each, and No. 5 for $150.00 and Nos. 6 and 7 for $250.00 each, all of said notes bearing interest at the rate of 7 per cent, and secured by a vendor's lien upon 120 acres of land out of survey No. 181, Block D., John H. Gibson Grant in Yoakum County, Texas, described by metes and bounds as follows: Beginning at the N. W. corner of said survey No. 181; Thence south 711.6 vrs; thence East 950.4 vrs; thence North 711.6; thence West 950.4 vrs, to the place of beginning. That thereafter on October 26th, 1925 the said Ben S. Long sold the above described notes to Virginia Lotspeich wife of plaintiff and transferred the lien securing the same. Plaintiff alleges that none of the said notes have been paid, and that the first three are now past due and unpaid. That the said McClanahan and wife sold to one H. C. Lee, and conveyed to said McClanahan three promissory notes for the total sum of $400.00, said notes being dated January 30th, 1926, that said notes executed by the said H. C. Lee are second vendor's lien notes on the above described property. That the McClanahan sold note No. 1 to W. R. Moore and plaintiff believes that said McClanahan sold notes Nos 2 and 3 to defendant J. N. Gaines.

Wherefore plaintiff prays that upon a final hearing hereof that he have judgment for his said debt, interest, attorney's fees, a foreclosure of said lien as against all defendants herein, and for the title and possession to said land and premises, all costs of suit and general relief.

Herein Fail Not, but on the return day hereinabove named, have you then and there before said Court, this Writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

WITNESS, R. E. Neely, Clerk of the District Court of Tarrant County. Given under my hand and seal of said Court in Fort Worth, this 30th day of September, A. D. 1929.

Oakland features

a real delight

Foremost among the many convenience features offered by the Oakland All-American Six is the Cross-flow radiator. The Cross-flow radiator practically eliminates losses of water and alcohol through boiling. Only Oakland in the entire medium-priced field employs the Cross-flow radiator. Foot-controlled headlights represent another great convenience. Only Oakland and one other medium-priced car offer this feature. And it is such features as these, combined with Oakland's impressive performance, distinctive style and exceptionally long life, which make Oakland ownership an uninterrupted experience in motoring enjoyment.

Oakland All-American Six, $1145 to $1375, f. o. b. Pontiac, Michigan, plus delivery charges. Spring covers and Lovejoy Hydraulic Shock Absorbers included in list prices. Bumpers and rear fender guards extra. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

$1145 AND UP

Consider the delivered price as well as the list (f. o. b.) price when comparing automobile values . . . Oakland-Pontiac delivered prices include only authorized charges for freight and delivery and the charge for any additional accessories or financing desired.

Millions of Miles of Constant Testing to maintain the outstanding quality and dependability of The Chevrolet Six

In spite of the fact that a million Chevrolet Sixes have already been placed in the hands of owners, and have proved their performance and stamina by billions of miles of service over every type of highway the nation affords—

—the Chevrolet Motor Company continues to take new Chevrolet Sixes from the assembly line at the factory and subject them to pitiless testing on the roads of the General Motors Proving Ground!

This passion for proof—this consistent refusal to accept any tests as final—is one of the fundamental reasons for the overwhelming popularity of Chevrolet cars. For in no other way is it possible to make the Chevrolet Six so sound in design and materials—so dependable in performance—and so economical to operate!

If you are considering the purchase of an automobile, come in and see the new Chevrolet. You will find that it is more than a Six in the price range of the four. In every way it is a finer car than you ever thought possible in the low-price field!

A fifth wheel speedometer accurately measures speed and mileage on all Chevrolets that come to the Proving Ground.

PUBLIC HEALTH PHYSICIAN DISCOURAGE BOYISH FIGURE

To the "teen age" girl the fad for a boyish figure is fraught with very real danger, according to Lewis E. Bracy, Executive Secretary of the Texas Public Health Association.

"Perhaps mothers and aunts on the uncertain side of forty need to count calories and carefully eschew large quantities of pastry and potatoes," said Mr. Bracy, "although even for them the advice of a physician should be sought before 'reducing' is undertaken.

"The ages between 20-24 show the highest tuberculosis death rate of all ages. Physicians are unanimous in blaming lack of rest, scanty clothing and dieting fads for this condition. They say the young girl is not likely to break down from tuberculosis in her twenties if in her 'teens' she gets enough sleep—is not overworked under unhealthy conditions, and has a diet of good plain wholesome food, including a warm nourishing breakfast. She need not fear that any loss of beauty will result from a few pounds added, for her clear skin, shining eyes, glossy hair and abundant 'pep' will make her popular and successful."

The Texas Public Health Association is engaged in a year 'round campaign for the promotion of better health among Texas children. On the staff of the Association are a public health nurse and a child health education director whose services are available to schools and communities upon request. Also on the staff are a Mexican and a Negro health worker, especially trained for health work among their races. All if the work done by the Texas Public Health Association, which includes not only child health and racial health work, but also general health education toward the prevention and cure of tuberculosis, is financed through the sale of Tuberculosis Christmas Seals. These seals will be sold in every county in Texas from Thanksgiving Day until Christmas.

Jew, Catholic, Protestant To Improve Marriage What Is Happiness? Wise Young Dinosaur

Calvin Coolidge, Governor Smith and the distinguished philanthropist, Julius Rosenwald, are selected to dispose of an $8,000,000 charity fund left by Conrad Hubert.

The man who left the money wanted it distributed "by one Jew, one Protestant and one Catholic."

No better choice could have been made than Coolidge, Smith and Rosenwald.

But why Jew, Protestant, Catholic? Why not three good, average Americans, regardless of their religious brand?

There is too much emphasizing of "Jew, Protestant, Catholic," too much dividing of political offices among them.

That wasn't the idea of the men that established this country.

Great Britain proposes to bar from marriage the "mentally unfit." That might improve the human race, if you could identify the mentally unfit with certainty.

Some unfit will be exempt from matrimonial extinction because they possess fortunes or important titles or names.

Others mentally unfit will escape because they are only dull, belonging to the negative class that Destie put into one of hell's unexpressive compartments.

The Rev. C. Everett Warner, Methodist Episcopal, will start a "happiness clinic" with philosophers engaged to lecture on happiness, how to start, how to reach it. The clinic will pay especial attention to marriage, health, work and human nature.

In starting a "happiness clinic" it is important to remember Voltaire's advice to define the meaning of words.

What is happiness?

Sheridan calls it "an exotic of celestial birth."

Socrates said, "Happiness is unrepented pleasure."

Schopenhauer called happiness "absence of pain"—a dull definition.

Rousseau's definition, "A good bank account, a good cook, and a good digestion," is also rather dull.

Schiller thought he had found "earthly happiness" because he had "lived and loved."

There are two kinds of happiness.

The lesser consists in finding the work for which you are fit and doing it.

The greater, reserved for a few, is working for others.

Samuel Insull, Jr., following in his father's industrial dinosaur tracks, as president of the Midland United Company of Chicago, tells the American Gas association that to boom the gas industry and increase sales they must cut prices, add use "persuasive advertising and proper salesmanship."

If young Mr. Insull follows out those ideas he will be a big industrial dinosaur some day.

Mr. Lamont, "the" Mr. Lamont, says business is good and will continue good. Gerard Swope, president of General Electric, says "Amen!" and means it. Orders received by his company for the three months ending September 30 were $150,000,000, against 800,000,000 in the same period last year. That increase of 25 per cent has prevailed throughout the entire year.

Vicomte Aguilar, physician to King Alfonso of Spain, tells Chicago that the King "is in beautiful health because he has never been a man of regular habits."

He means that King Alfonso does not confine himself to any particular diet, which is intelligent. Man was made to cultivate the whole earth, and is healthiest when he uses in moderation the greatest number of earth's products, from the North to the South pole.

Charles Fourier said that if a man could read his own palate he would find it to be a correct map of the earth properly cultivated.

Madame Curie, who helped the discovery of radium, comes here to accept for the new Radium Institute at Warsaw, one gram of radium, costing $80,000, paid for by American women.

You could put in a small valise radium worth more than all the wealth of Rockefeller, Ford, Secretary Mellon and George F. Baker combined, if such a radium quantity existed.

Our sun, with its source of infinite energy only guessed at by science, may contain millions of tons of radium.

We can't get at that. But we might give more poor children the benefit of the sun's light, which is accessible and costs nothing.

Dr. Frederick Tilney, professor of neurology at Columbia university, warns you that a headache is a serious thing. There are sixteen different kinds of headaches, all requiring particular care and understanding.

Headaches often come from anxiety, and you should be cautious about taking medicine to kill a headache.

It may kill the headache, while the forces that cause the headache continue working to kill you.

DALLAS, Oct. 19. (AP)—P. G. Stanford, correspondent at Plains, Texas, asked a question of the Associated Press Dallas bureau and then answered it himself.

"What is the matter with the staff? I send in?" he asked. "I haven't had a check for four moons. No one will kill anyone else; the highways are so quiet no one gets killed that way; there are so few folks here no one will fight; we all have plenty to eat so no one will steal. So rainfall and crops are about all we have to report."

WHY RAISE MORE HOGS IN WEST TEXAS

(by Frank R. Phillips, head Department of Agriculture, West Texas State Teachers College.)

At the Master Dairy Farmers' banquet held in Amarillo recently, the statement was made that hogs were essential to the dairy business. At the Canyon College Dairy, over one hundred dollars worth of hogs are sold per month. More money is cleared on hogs than from the dairy proper. Cows certainly require more labor than hogs. It is the plan to put more land under hog fence and to double the number of hogs next year. It is expected to do this without buying any additional feed unless it be tankage.

Recently Walter Barlow, manager of the Great West Mill and Elevator Company, said:

"The thing I do not understand is why farmers do not raise more hogs in the Panhandle. Is there not money in hogs, with all the grain sorghum that we have?" The answer was that the College Farm at Canyon showed greater net profit from hogs than it did from the dairy enterprises. Attention was then called to the value of hogs in West Texas, when Colonel C. T. Herring of Amarillo remarked that the reason we have no greater packing industry located here is that the packers claim that they cannot get enough hogs; that cattle alone do not make a packing plant profitable.

Last week a Randall county farmer stated that there is more money in selling grain sorghum at twenty dollars per ton than in feeding it to hogs. The reply to such statements is that experiments in Kansas and in Texas stations contradict his figures. Perhaps one reason why few hogs are produced in West Texas is that farmers here have not kept up with the modern hog feeding experiments, but have accepted their father's belief that corn is required to produce profitable pork.

Danish dairy farmers owe much of the progress made in their farm enterprises to their hogs. The Panhandle farmer has now reached the point where he needs to give more attention to the marketing of his products in a finished condition. Grain sorghum fed to hogs offers a simple plan whereby this desirable marketing step may be taken.

Lee Walker, of the Tatum route was in recently to renew for the Herald and to get another winter reading matter for the family. He had us order the Farm News and Farm & Ranch for him.

Weldon Howel, one of K.-W.'s boys who is attending the State Normal at Canyon, is getting the Herald.

Mrs. L. W. Graham is one of the new readers recently added.

SHERIFF'S SALE

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
County of Yoakum.

WHEREAS, By virtue of an order of sale issued out of the District Court of Terry County, Texas, on a judgement rendered in said Court on the 28th day of August A. D. 1929, in favor of E. T. WE CAN'T CONTROL THE WEATHER . . . but ..WE CAN CONTROL VOLATILITY!

"There's been a lot said about the weather but very little done about it" —until Phillips 66 was perfected. Here, at last, is a motor fuel in which the volatility of each gallon is controlled to fit the season and the climatic conditions of the locality in which you buy it. The result? Instant starting—any weather. Quick warm-up. Easy acceleration. Mileage and power that gratify. All this at no extra cost! For best results try a full tank of Phillips 66 . . . or 66 Ethyl.

"WAS THEODORE ROOSEVELT A MYTH?"

"Did Theodore Roosevelt actually live or was he just a myth or imaginary character?" will be the sermon subject at the Methodist Church next Sunday night at 7 o'clock.

Infidels have tried to explain away the life of Christ by saying that he was a myth or imaginary character. This sermon will show how easy it will be for some learned scholar 2000 years from now to prove that Theodore Roosevelt never lived—using the same kind of reasoning that Infidels have used to explain away Christ's actual life.

You never heard a sermon like it in your life. It will be interesting, instructive and helpful. Don't fail to hear it.

At 10:50 A. M. the sermon subject will be "Is the Methodist church a true church of Christ?" This sermon will give the works of a New Testament church and tell you what church or churches come up to these works.

You will get much information and help, if you hear this sermon.

You are cordially invited to attend the Methodist church next Sunday.

CHEVROLET TO START MECHANICAL SCHOOL

At Flint Michigan 50 picked youths between the ages of 16 and 19 years will soon begin an educational course in which books will be copspicuous because of their total absence. They will attend class in overalls, and drafting boards, micrometers, wrenches and screw drivers will take place of fountain pens, blackboards and notebooks. Salaries will supplant credits in this the world's most novel educational plant.

It will be an institution endowed by Chevrolet Motor Company, and its faculty will be composed of hard-headed production men with years of factory experience. At the head of the school will be C. F. Barth, vice president in charge of manufacturing one of whose life dreams will be realized when the first class is held.

Here it might be well to explain that this unique training place is not a school. The word "school" is one which Mr. Barth wants permanently dissociated from this newest Chevrolet undertaking. It is definitely a shop, operated under shop discipline, and maintaining shop hours. It is to be known officially as the Chevrolet Apprentice Shop.

There will be many features to this novel training place, but it is doubtful if any are more interesting or more significant than the reason for its conception. And no one can make this more clear than Mr. Barth, himself.

"The Apprentice Shop is actually a necessity," he told his visitor last week. "Chevrolet Motor Company, like all other large manufacturers has for several years past noted a decrease in good all round mechanics. When the automobile industry started there was no such shortage. The founders of the industry were themselves super mechanics, and in every instance they surounded themselves with competent all around men.

"The opportunities for training men in the early days were relatively easy. Shop forces were much smaller and every ambitious worker had the opportunity of working at as many jobs as he chose.

"Then volume production came along and specialists were developed. In order to get sufficient cars to the public each man had to be marter of one operation. Changes about were dangerous because precision workmanship such as Chevrolet employs can take no chances with the novice.

"Because of the scores of good mechanics who got their training in the pioneer days of the industry no shortage was actually felt until recently. Now it has grown quite apparent throughout the industry at large.

"Chevrolet by taking this step, has taken the bulls by the horns. Because of the growth of aviation and the inspiration of Lindbergh the country has thousands of youths who have become intensely interested in mechanics.

Mr. J. B. Goza, Mrs. Hodges, Mr. and Mrs. Goins are Brownfield visitors this week from Durant, Okla. Mr. J. B. Goza is Mrs. Hutchings (a teacher in our city schools) and Mrs. J. L. Lyon's (of the Hunter community) ,father. Also Mrs. Hodges and Mrs. Goins are sisters of Mrs. Lyons and Mrs. Hutchings.

Nowadays people apologize if they own only one automobile.

T. C. U. PROFESSOR WRITES SONNET ON TEXAS

Forth Worth, Oct. 22.—A poem, "A Sonnet for Texas," by Dr. Herbert L. Hughes, head of the English department of Texas Christian University, was published in the literary section of the Sunday edition of The Dallas News for Oct. 6. Dr. Hughes wrote the poem during the summer. He is a member of the Poetry Society of Texas.

A SONNET FOR TEXAS

I love the far-flung majesty of Texas:
Its glory, and its story of the past;
The rod, quixotic of its "exes"—
Ex-France, ex-Spain, but Texas to the last,
I love its high and haughty contradiction,
The cock-and-bull that's in its history;
Its innocent and comic derelictions
That ride the Texas winds of mystery.
I love the curious essence of this empire,
The subtle, strange enigmas of the plain;
Its ancient wind (benevolent distemper);
The sardonic cachinnation of its rain.
So thus I love the Texan's mighty story—
The tale of Texas is a tale of glory.

DEPENDABLE MERCHANDISE FOR LESS

AN ORDINANCE REGULATING THE OPERATION OF MOTOR VEHICLES, AS WELL AS OTHER VEHICLES, ON THE PUBLIC STREETS IN THE CITY OF MEADOW, TEXAS, AND PROVIDING PUNISHMENT FOR VIOLATIONS OF SAID ORDINANCE.

Be it ordained by the City Council of the city of Meadow, Texas, that:

1. Hereafter all vehicles of any kind being propelled over or upon the public streets within the city of Meadow shall keep on the right hand side from the center line of said street in the direction in which such vehicle is travelling.

2. Such vehicle shall not be diven on or to the left hand side of said center line until it passes the center point of the intersection of said street with some cross street, at which point said vehicle shall be permitted to turn to the left hand side of said street, provided such vehicle shall continue on on the right hand side of the street intersected, or shall turn in the street it was travelling in around such intersection and continue back in the opposite direction on the right hand side of such street in the direction it is travelling.

3. If such vehicle shall desire to park it shall pull in to the curb with the right front wheel against such curb and the car parked at an angle of approximately 45 degrees in the direction it was travelling before being parked.

4. When a vehicle is parked against said curb and the driver desires to resume his journey he shall sound the horn of said vehicle before backing out, if it is equipped with a horn, and shall back out in a slow and cautious manner so as not to interfere with approaching vehicles and shall as soon as the vehicle regains the street proceed with the same in the direction such vehicle was travelling before it was parked.

5. Any driver of a vehicle travelling along the street where a "stop" sign may be placed under direction of the City Council at the intersection of said street with another running in the opposite direction, shall bring his vehicle to a full stop before proceeding on to said intersection street, and he shall not proceed on said intersected street in such manner as to interfere with any approaching vehicles thereon.

6. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall upon conviction be fined any sum not less than $1.00 nor more than $50.00, and each and every violation of this ordinance or any part thereof shall constitute a separate offense and be punishable as such.

Passed and approved this 14th day of May, A. D., 1929.

ROBERT WELCH, Mayor.

CATHOLIC RADIO HOUR

The Editor.
Dear Sir:

It will probably interest your readers to know that Very Reverend Thomas Carney, Rector of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Cathedral at Galveston, Texas, will lecture over KPRC at Houston, Texas, every Thursday evening during the Fall and Winter from 5:30 to 6.00 o'clock. The lectures will accept the challenge that has been thrown to his Church and her people in repeated accusations of "Romanism," by explaining in frank, open speech, the organization and principal doctrines of the Roman Catholic Church.

The subject of the lecture Thursday evening of this week will be "What Catholics Think of the Bible."

Throughout the Fall and Winter these talks will come over KPRC at 5:30 on Thursday evenings. "Protestanism vs. Catholicity," Martin Luther the Bolshevist," "Catholics and Marriage," "Catholics and Confession," etc—these are types of the subjects of the weekly broadcasts.

May I ask you to publish this bit of news.

Very sincerely yours,
Thomas A. Carney, Rector.

POSITIVELY

He was in college, and needless to say, he was in financial straits. So he wrote home to his father, the usual type of trusting farmer, and told him of a wonderful new system by which they were now teaching dogs to talk. He suggested that for $1,000 paid in monthly installments he could have his dog Rover trained in the new art, and that eventually he could make many times the original investment by showing Rover around the country during the summer vacation. So each month Dad sent the $100 and lived ina state of expectancy, meanwhile receiving glowing accounts of Rover's progress. But came a day of reckoning the term ended and sonny must journey homeward. Dad met him at the station with the buckboard and was so impressed with his new clothes and high hatted mannerisms that he forgot about Rover until they were well on their way homeward. Suddenly, however, he turned to his boy.

"Where is Rover, son?" he asked.

"Poor Dad," said Eric with tears in his voice, "after all the money and trouble I hate to tell, but Roover is dead."

"Yes, poor dog! He was killed this morning on the way. You see he had gained almost as much proficiency in speaking as many children, and suddenly when we were on our way home today he turned to me and said, 'And so we're going back to the farm?' 'Yes' I replied. 'Tell me," said Rover, 'is your old man still sweet on the hired girl and that neighbor lady next door?' And I was so incensed at his insult to you that I struck him. He immediately sprang out the window, and as the train was going sixty miles an hour, he was killed instantly."

The old man didn't reply, and for a long time they rode in silence. Finally he turned to the boy again.

"Son," he asked quaveringly, "do you reckon that dog is surely dead?"

LARGE LAND SALE MADE IN HOCKLEY

Representing one of the largest land deals on the South Plains within the last two years, Hardy Grissom and J. E. Grissom, both of Abilene, purchased Monday 4,428 acres in Hockley county, eight and one-half miles south of Levelland, for a consideration of more than $100,000.

Tom Jones, Lubbock realtor, completed the transaction.

The tract of land was formerly owned by M. W. Clopton, of Gainsville.

The tract is league No. 24, McCullough county school land in Hockley county, and is located 25 miles southwest of Lubbock.

The Grissom brothers, department store operators, are connected with the Sunset Stores, Inc, a unit of which is the Carter-Houston store, which will be opened here October 19. —Lubbock Avalanche.

MORE FLOWERS— FEWER VEGETABLES

The great American home is becoming more the beautiful home, according to the sales of flower seed. Seven companies last year sold $826,312 worth of flower seeds in packets, which is an increase of 19 per cent since 1925, and 38 per cent since 1922. Let the good work go on. A dollar or a dime invested in colorful surroundings for the home brings rich returns in pleasure and pride in the home.

Sales of vegetable seed in packets have decreased nearly $1,500,000 for the same seven companies since 1925. This of course is explained by the increased proportion of people in cities with no facilities for vegetable gardening, and the increased commercial production of vegetables. We hope the farm home garden is still holding its own, and from observation, we should say that it is actually gaining in the Southwest.

Fewer back-yard gardens in town and more of bigger and better gardens on the farm is practical farm relief in the right place.—Farm and Ranch.

HENRY FORD'S HOBBY

Henry Ford was a complete fizzle as an editor, squandering enough on his weekly paper in the course of a very few years to have kept all the weekly editors in America out of the poorhouse for a hundred years to come. So now he has turned to a new hobby—buying up historic landmarks and antiques.

Up at Dearborn, Michigan, where he resides, he has a millhon dollars worth of relics, including a complete inn of ancient vintage and a blacksmith shop.

Now he has bought a court house in Illinois, the one in which Lincoln once practiced law. He proposes to move it bodily to Dearborn. It's an expensive hobby, yet Uncle Henry is past the point where he need worry about expenses.

But it is a hobby that helps to put a little of his tremendous wealth into circulation so the average citizen ought to be glad enough to hope that he will kepp right at it and that every section of the country will have a chance to unload a few antiques while he is in the market for them.—Littlefield Leader.
