Mother, Daughters Should Understand

By MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

There is nothing sweeter than the relation between mother and daughter when they are harmonious. When daughter realizes that mother may have a little more wisdom than herself and occasionally knows best, and mother knows that daughter knows what is right and will do it and remembers that she was once a girl herself and a little of her feelings and longings at that time.

But when mother and daughter are unsympathetic. When mother distrusts her child, heeding all the talk and I don't want you from the bottom of my heart for all your help to me. I wrote not long ago of the problem of a nagging mother and an emotional daughter. I am determined to be resigned to the wishes of my mother. I tried to let her see that I was not a rebel, but she would not believe me. I see that I am doing just as she says until I am older and my education is completed. I cannot bring the matter up any more for she starts to cry and becomes hysterical. But Mrs. Lee I am still speaking out now and then. But do not get the idea that these excursions are not in every way correct (except the sneaking out part) because we only go to the theater or to a friends or on long walks.

But now I am going to ask you help in another matter. Lately I have been getting long lonesome spells which make me want to cry and leave me so weak that I can scarcely do anything. This only happens when I am alone. When I am with friends I am my usual self, laughing and talking with the rest. It is not my physical condition, as the doctor says I am in normal health. For this reason I try to be with my friends as much as possible. I have very many nice friends but they have their boy friends and as I am forbidden to have them their outings are not for me. That is why I am sneaking out. I have not for about three months now. Why can't I be like other girls and have good times? Please tell me what to do.

BROKEN HEARTED AND DISCOURAGED

Your mother can be well or she would not get hysterical over the idea of your going out. And if you are not careful you are going to get yourself into the same condition. Self pity is said to be mental tuberculosis—that is it weakens the person who indulges in it and is likely to end in an unbalanced state of mind. Now suppose you say to yourself: "I have a good home and good mother if she is a bit strict. I will take all the good times I can get and try to keep the health of my mind as well as my body and be happy and contented." It is only a matter of a short time before you will be your own mistress and you will probably look back and laugh to think what a woe begone little girl you once were. Cheer up, dear. There are many girls who have no homes, who are orphans and live in institutions where no one cares much for them and where the discipline is much stricter than you have to endure.

Two Speakers Heard At P. T. A. Meeting

Talks were made by Mrs. E. W. Camp and Miss Dorothy McFarlane Thursday afternoon when the K. Carter P. T. A. met at the school for a regular study program. The physical care and diet of small children was discussed with Miss McFarlane, who is of the Tech home economics faculty, stressing diet. Children in the room of Mrs. O. N. Bauman gave a citizenship playlet.

Pearson of Los Angeles, Calif., Mrs. Dell Morgan, Mrs. McFarlane and Mrs. Hendricks presided at the table.

Mrs. Leaverton Is Party Honor Guest

Mrs. Joe Nislar and Mrs. Volney Hill entertained yesterday afternoon with a bridge party complementing Mrs. Dave Leaverton, who was Miss Lucille Payne before her recent marriage. The party was in the Nislar home at 2111 13th street.

A shower of lovely gifts was presented to the honor guest and the hostesses gave her a bed lamp. High score in the games was made by Miss Kate Boyd and Miss Genevieve Murray scored low.

A palatable sweet course was served to Mrs. Leaverton, Misses Mary and Anne Snyder, Mary Alice Stanton, Kate Boyd, Lucille Monday, Mary Lou Bayless, Genevieve Murray, Mrs. Walker Stanton, Mrs. Jewel Davis, Mrs. Lewis Kirtell, Mrs. Frank Griffith, Mrs. Mark Helber and Mrs. Melvin Dow.

Mrs. J. R. Barrier Is Club Hostess

Mrs. D. H. Mansell was elected president of the Loyal Sisters Needle club yesterday when Mrs. J. R. Barrier was hostess to the members in her home at 1614 Avenue K. Mrs. C. A. Pauliger was elected vice president. Mrs. W. E. Holder was elected secretary and Mrs. J. O. Biffle was named reporter.

The afternoon was spent in sewing and refreshments were served to Mesdames John R. Hall, Mansell, Pauliger, Fred A. Owens, W. R. Pickett, W. A. Childers, Ed Allen, W. E. Holder, J. G. Biffle and W. D. Benson. The next meeting will be with Mrs. J. M. Bishop at 1918 6th street.

Colors of gold and brown were used in appointments and a pumpkin pie course was served.

Frolic Attended By Baptist Folk

About fifty young people of the First Baptist church attended a snow frolic Thursday evening in parlors of the church. Decorations of artificial snow, icicles and a two woman were in keeping with the theme of the party and appropriate games and contests were enjoyed. Refreshments of ice cream and frosted cakes were served. Miss Juanita Pool was chairman of the entertainment committee. Miss Elsie Lawrence headed the committee which served refreshments. Mrs. Marian Sansom was in charge of decorations for the party and Jim O. Hill directed games.

Christian Endeavor Enjoys Party

Intermediate Christian Endeavor members of the First Presbyterian church enjoyed a party last evening in the home of Mrs. J. H. Howse at 1615 Main street. Games and other diversions were enjoyed during the evening and refreshments were served.

tempt yesterday by Lieutenant Governor Paul N. Cyr, chairman of the state pardon board to obtain an eleventh hour interview with Beadle, the lifer who is said by the defense to have fired the fatal shot, brought on a new clash of words between the governor and Cyr.

After failing to be admitted to the convict's presence, Cyr charged Governor Long with refusing to permit the trapper to make a confession that would bring out the truth.

Unable to locate the governor, Cyr then charged Long "hid out on them."

our state rights." Wirtz's amendment to the resolution was passed by a viva voce vote and the resolution received twelve yeas against ten "noes."

But the chair held a two-thirds majority was necessary for passage.

Yer's proposal to investigate the affairs of the board of control and the state highway department seemed to take the senate by surprise.

The Fort Worth senator asserted these two divisions should have the right "to clear their skirts" as well as the state land office.

Diaprote Brought Criticism.

The dispute between the board of control and the state highway commission concerning the purchase of road machinery a few months ago called forth much criticism.

In asking that the amendment be tabled, Senator Moore said he was not opposed to an investigation of the two departments but he did not want the land office examination "cluttered up" with other investigations so that the committee would be unable to make its report to the present session.

Protests Investigation.

Immediately after Yer's amendment had been tabled, Senator Holbrook, who was the most persistent questioner of J. T. Robinson, land commissioner, in committee meeting two days ago, rose to protest against an investigation of Robinson's conduct of affairs.

"An investigation by innuendo carries with it a suspicion of wrongdoing," Senator Holbrook said. "Personally, I have all the faith in the world in Mr. Robinson's integrity and I have not heard even a word of distrust of his activities."

Senator Love, while echoing Senator Holbrook's faith in the honesty of the land commissioner, took issue with him on the investigation.

He asserted he believed it was the duty of the legislature to "get at the facts" of the conduct of any servant of the people in which interest had been manifest regardless of the legislator's feeling concerning his guilt or innocence.

Carl E. Slaton, manager of Hicks Rubber company, is expected to return Friday from Seagraves, where he attended to business for the Hicks chain of stores.

insufficient to build the highways, then there would be ample funds available from other sources, without any further raise in taxation, whereby any lack could be made up—and none of the lateral county roads would in any way be affected as to the amount of maintenance funds to be expended on them.

On page 5 of this issue of The Journal, you will find a letter from an assistant engineer of the State Highway Department, with former County Judge Charles Nordyke's answer to it, which pertains to the sufficiency of funds to be voted in bonds. Late last night the chairman of the State Highway Commission, R. S. Sterling, was wired in regard to this assistant engineer's opinion. Mr. Sterling informed as to the Lubbock county commissioners' resolution about making up necessary funds, if necessary, which will also be found on page 5.

Santa Fe Favors Bonds.

It was brought out at the meeting last night that the Santa Fe Railway company, which was opposed to the last bond issue, is not opposed to this one, but is favorable to it, and that an expression of one of their high officials, made at El Paso recently, was to the effect that the railroad would not oppose this election.

County Judge Robert H. Bean, in his talk, stated that he did not see where the question of whether or not there will be sufficient money to pay for concrete roads should enter into this question, or as to how that question could affect the result. He called attention to the fact that Hale county found it had a surplus of about $200,000 over the amount necessary to pave its highways, from the bonds voted for that purpose.

Speeches were made by J. H. Hankins, W. L. Brashear, L. C. Denton, N. A. Payne, C. E. Meadgen, Charles A. Guy, M. G. Abernathy, L. H. Hunsale, Spencer Wells, T. W. Sawyer, E. L. Kietz, Fred Spas, J. Clements, F. E. Wheelock, and others.

BOTH RICH AND POOR OF LUBBOCK RUB ELBOWS TO MEET KESSINGER REPRESENTATIVE

Personal Representative of Noted Organs Health Teacher Tells

Anxious Hearers That Modern Ailments Are Mostly Imaginary, and Cite Striking Examples of Conditions Everywhere.

Harvey Martin, the personal representative of Harry Kessinger, the man who claims that Americans have weak stomachs and who met the public of Lubbock yesterday in such large numbers at his headquarters in Bowen's drug store, seemed to be bearing out his predictions. Scores of Lubbock people called all day to see him and to hear about the Kessinger theories and treatment, and this well known drug store presented a novel sight.

A remarkable feature to the onlooker was the varied types of people whom the representative attracted. They ranged from prosperous looking business men and fashionably dressed women to laborers and their plainly dressed and hard-working wives. All rubbed elbows in a common cause—the pursuit of health, or, as the representative put it, "sound digestion."

A Million Doesn't Help.

While commenting upon the striking differences in the varied visitors who called on him, the representative said: "Why not? Because a man has a million dollars that doesn't make his stomach any better. On the contrary, sitting at a desk all day, riding back and forth in an automobile and stuffing himself with rich food, will put the entire system 'out of order' as sure as fate."

Hold a Council of War—against the Common Cold

The discoveries of modern science make overheating of the home a matter that seriously concerns every member of your family.

Years ago, shrewd old Benjamin Franklin thought that colds must have something to do with heating. Modern scientific men have proved that this is a fact. In tests in New York city schoolrooms by Dr. C. E. A. Winslow, professor of public health in the Yale School of Medicine, overheating by only two degrees caused a seventy per cent increase in respiratory illness.

Automatic Heat Control Prevents Overheating

Our unique "10-point Demonstration" shows you the one practical way to prevent overheating: To install an automatic temperature regulator on your home heating plant. Also explains how you obtain steady heat without anyone ever touching dampers or drafts — fuel saving—warm rooms to dress in, through clock control. Call here, or phone for an appointment at your own home any day or evening.

ND ELECTION ASSUMES UNEXPECTED LIFE AS VOTERS PREPARE TO BALLOT

This morning, a number of the voters, organized under the Texas Taxpayers' Association, are visiting all sections of the county, urging the passage of the bond issue. A large number of voters are expected to be considerably late in getting to the polls. Free transportation will be afforded those who come to the polls.

Although approximately 3,000 in the previous election, the is expected to be considerably later in tomorrow's campaign.

New Life in Campaign. The campaign both for and against the bonds took unexpected life yesterday, last night and today. A joint meeting of Kiwanis and Rotary clubs Thursday noon, a mass meeting at the house of Mrs. J. H. Baskin, a street into the county as a whole promises a more spirited election than looked for.

Another feature of the campaign was a statement requested and received from M. G. Abernathy, one of the leaders supporting the bonds, to the effect that he is not and has not been in the employ of any of the contractors who are now working on the highway.

A marriage license was issued this morning to Henry Verble Bringle and Mrs. Alma Budie Bringle.

60 FILE AS NOTARIES. Sixty persons had filed their names for application for appointment as notary publics during the present session of legislature. County Clerk Amos Howard said this morning. Those wishing to apply for appointments are filling their names with Mr. Howard who will in turn send them to Austin.

PINKSTON OPPOSES COUNTY RESOLUTION. Special to The Journal. SLATON, Jan. 11.—Commenting upon the action taken Thursday by the Lubbock County Commissioners' court which placed the court on record as being committed to providing an additional million dollars of the proposed road bond issue in Lubbock county, for the paving of the state and county highways, J. T. Pinkston, commissioner of Precinct No. 2 of Lubbock county, issued a statement here today.

Before making the statement, Mr. Pinkston said he was anxious for the people of the county to know his position in the matter before the road bond election is held on Saturday, January 12.

Mr. Pinkston's statement, issued today, is as follows: "I was notified that there was to be an official meeting of the Lubbock County Commissioners' court at Lubbock yesterday. In fact, I had been advised it would not be an official meeting of the court, but it would be an informal meeting of the court with members of Kiwanis and Rotary clubs of Lubbock. Therefore, I wish to make explanation that I did not deem it necessary for me to be present, for this reason, I had no opportunity to voice my objections to the action as passed by the Commissioners' court at the meeting on Friday.

I am opposed to the issuance of bonds by the county or using any of our maintenance funds to surface state highways. I have every dollar we are getting from the state highway fund to be used for the proper up-keep of our lateral roads. This is not the first time I have opposed the issuance of county warrants to hard-surface state highways, and my position on this question should be well-known.

In my opinion, when a Commissioners' court issues warrants to provide money to hard-surface state highways, they are violating the intent of the law, and I shall, therefore, do all in my power to prevent such action in Lubbock county. I am likewise opposed to the use of regular maintenance funds for hard-surface state highways.

In addition, it is my opinion that there are already too many outstanding county warrants in Lubbock county bearing six per cent interest."

NEW HEADS TO SLATON POST

INSTALLATION WILL BE MADE TONIGHT AT CLUB HOUSE

SLATON, Jan. 11.—Installation ceremonies for the newly elected officers of the Luther Powers Post of the American Legion, of Slaton, will be held at the Slaton Club House this Friday night, Jan. 11, according to post officials.

About twenty-five members of the Lubbock legion post are expected to visit the meeting and assist in the program.

Officers to be installed are: Dan W. Liles, post commander; F. G. McAdams, senior vice-commander; Walter Savell, junior vice-commander; H. C. Burrus, adjutant; Henry Jarman, finance officer; Dr. E. C. Foster, chaplain; J. S. Bates, sergeant-at-arms; and R. W. Collier, Jr., historian.

Refreshments of coffee, sandwiches and other "eats" are to be served at the meeting, all ex-service men being invited, according to post officials here.

A Kansas newspaper makes a top headline on page one of "Pretty Woman Acquitted by Jury." Oh, well, they have to have something to fill up the papers these days.

NEW ORLEANS TRADING. NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 11 (AP).—The cotton market opened easy on a smaller private ginnings estimate for December and rather indifferent Liverpool cables. First trades showed losses of 6 to 8 points and selling continued somewhat aggressive after the start, carrying January off to 19.22 and March to 19.28. By the end of the first hour January recovered to 19.35 and March to 19.48, or 13 to 20 points above yesterday's close.

The market advanced a little further during the second hour January trading to 19.35 and March to 19.54, or 2 to 14 points net higher. Near noon, however, some realizing developed and January receded to 19.31 and March 19.45, or 2 points down to 5 up compared with the previous close.

NEW YORK TRADING. NEW YORK, Jan. 11 (AP).—The cotton market opened steady at a decline of 7 to 13 points with active months selling 11 to 14 points net lower during the first few minutes. After selling off to 19.89 for March the market rallied to 20.06 for that position by the end of the first hour, when the market was about net unchanged to 4 points higher.

Offerings were light after the initial selling had run its course, with the market showing a firmer tone. March, sold up to 20.18 and July to 19.81 on covering or rebuying by recent sellers, or about 14 to 16 points net higher but net some realizing at these figures and showed reaction set 3 or 4 points from the best at Midday.

Two surprises were furnished in the New York Federal Reserve bank statement, yesterday, first the unexpectedly small decrease of $17,304,000 in brokers' loans, and second, the changes in gold holdings which disclosed an unheralded arrival of $23,000,000 in gold from Canada offset by the earmarking of $30,000,000, presumably for the bank of France.

National Bellas Hess extended its gain to 7-1-2 points. Wright Aeronautical and Brooklyn Union Gas each sold more than 3 points higher. American Machine and Foundry climber 3-3-4 points to a new high at 187 and American Steel Foundries attained a new top at 75-1-2.

A brisk demand was again apparent for the railroad shares. Texas & Pacific and Norfolk & Northwestern quickly advanced 2 points and early gains of a point or more were recorded by St. Louis Southwestern, Missouri Pacific, Erie common and Kansas City Southern.

Foreign exchanges opened easier, with cables off 1-32 of a cent at 44.85-3-32.

TEXAS LEADS IN DAIRYING

IS BANNER STATE FOR JERSEY PRODUCTION EATON ASSERTS

Texas as the leading state in the nation from the standpoint of Jersey cattle production both in number and registrations was pictured at the two-day annual meeting of the Texas Jersey Cattle Club at Amarillo Wednesday and Thursday, according to Lubbock County Agent D. F. Eaton, who returned last night from the convention.

Mr. Eaton reports an enthusiastic and informative program, stating that he learned that Texas now contains twenty per cent of the nation's Jersey dairy cattle and that the South leads the United States in Jersey development. It was learned, also, that six of the ten highest ranking Jersey cattle in the state of Texas last year were from the Plains.

About 150 attended the convention from all parts of the state, including a large number of farmers and dairymen. Mr. Eaton said. He reports splendid entertainment at the hands of Amarillo and was enthusiastic about the speech of Sam P. Crabbe, president of the American Jersey Cattle Club.

tion. It is because The Journal believes a system of hard surface highways is essential to the growth and development of this county and the surrounding country, that it is taking this stand.

Further than that, if the measure is defeated at the polls tomorrow The Journal will not believe that the people of Lubbock county are opposed to paved roads but instead will believe that they have permitted inconsequential circumstances to blind them to the real issue involved.

Let's Vote the Bonds!

EXCAVATION FOR PAVING STARTED

Excavation work preparatory to paving construction included in the project authorized last summer in the passage of the $350,000 city bond issue has already begun and will be weather for movement was a bear factor as to corn.

Opening 3-8c to 1-8c off, Chicago wheat prices afterward held near to the initial range. Corn started 1-8c to 7-8c down and later showed but slight power to rally. Oats were easy. Provisions held about steady.

Two surprises were furnished in the New York Federal Reserve bank statement, yesterday, first the unexpectedly small decrease of $17,304,000 in brokers' loans, and second, the changes in gold holdings which disclosed an unheralded arrival of $23,000,000 in gold from Canada offset by the earmarking of $30,000,000, presumably for the bank of France.

National Bellas Hess extended its gain to 7-1-2 points. Wright Aeronautical and Brooklyn Union Gas each sold more than 3 points higher. American Machine and Foundry climber 3-3-4 points to a new high at 187 and American Steel Foundries attained a new top at 75-1-2.

A brisk demand was again apparent for the railroad shares. Texas & Pacific and Norfolk & Northwestern quickly advanced 2 points and early gains of a point or more were recorded by St. Louis Southwestern, Missouri Pacific, Erie common and Kansas City Southern.

continued until the paving program is completed. Several down town alleys are being prepared for the cement base of the pavement, and two gangs are at work making curbs and gutters in other parts of the city. A total of twenty blocks of city streets and seven blocks of alleys was authorized in the bonds. Work is reported progressing at a rapid rate on 20th street.

A Courteous, Dependable Electrical Service

In many South Plains communities, this Public Utilities is the medium by which hundreds of families enjoy the conveniences and advantages which electricity bring to the home.

We thoroughly realize our responsibility to those people who look to us to maintain that service in order that they may always have an adequate supply for cooking, light and power purposes. Our facilities are maintained to be in a position to supply MORE than the present demand in the event that unusual demands for electricity may be supplied upon a moment's notice.

It is our pledge to you that we shall never cease to give you the high character of courteous service you have been accustomed to... rather we shall seek ways to improve it wherever possible.

BROWNS, SURPRISE TEAM OF PAST YEAR, ARE INTACT FOR 1929

HARD BATTLE FOR HONORS IS PROMISED

HOWLEY BELIEVES LUCK WOULD PUT SQUAD IN CONTENTING POST

BY REX NEWMAN

Associated Press Staff Writer

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 11 (AP)—The same team that surprised baseball by finishing a strong third in the 1928 American League race will be virtually intact when the St. Louis Browns go into the 1929 campaign.

Manager Dan Howley not only has lost none of the first string strength of last season, but has added what he considers to be some promising new material. He also believes the team will show improvement because of experience.

If he can develop a stronger pitching staff, and possibly do some shifting in the infield to strengthen the second base position, Howley feels confident the team will be a grave menace in the scramble for the flag.

The new flock of pitching prospects includes Warren Collins, veteran major league who is staging a comeback from Toronto; Herb

Cobb, from Wichita Falls; Chad

Kinsley, from Tulsa; Oscar Estrada, of Shreveport, blown in by the draft; Claude Jonnard comes up from Milwaukee for another trial in the big show. Howley has faith in the future of Dick Coffman, a younger, and believes that George Eisenbinder, Ed Burbeck, and John

Ogden should be more effective this year. He is counting on Sam Gray and Alvin Crowder, mainstays of last year's mound staff for a large share of victories.

Rick Ferrell, sensational young catcher whom Cincinnati has declared a free agent recently, is regarded as a valuable addition to the Browns ranks. He will aid the veteran Wally Schang and Clyde Manion.

Lu Blue, flashy first sacker is to be back on the initial bar with

Buck Stanton, Tom Whitt, Fails in reserve. Otis Brannon is still available for second, but if Eddie Grimes can make good at third, it is regarded likely that Howley will send the veteran Frank O'Rourke to second.

Another third base prospect is Leon Dandero, a former football star. Red

Kress, who started last season like a whirlwind, will be back at short.

Heinie Manush, runner-up to Goose Goslin for the league batting championship, will be at his old post in left field. Fred Schulte, Frank McGowan, and Earl McVey, of the old guard, will be back for the other garden jobs. Tom Jenks, Wichita Falls slugger, also will make a bid for the outfield.

We're all children of the sun, say the geologists. But how do they account for the national taste for moonshine?

A. A. U. POLICY IS EXPLAINED

ORGANIZATION SEEK TO GUIDE, NOT CONTROL AMATEUR SPORTS

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—The Amateur Athletic Union of the United States seeks to guide, not to control, amateur sports in this country, President Avery Brundage of Chicago explained today.

The statement was issued after a controversy with Northwestern University, which severed relationship with the A. A. U. when that organization disqualified several Northwestern swimmers from competing in a meet with the Chicago

Athletic association Wednesday night.

The controversy threatens to cause a break between the A. A. U.

and the Big Ten, one of the strongest athletic conferences in the United States.

For 40 years, the Amateur Athletic Union, as the governing body of amateur sport in the United States, has watched amateur sport grow and expand its guidance.

Brundage said, in part, "It stands firmly for an observance of the rules and insists that those who wish to play the game shall observe the code."

Brundage explained that the disqualified Northwestern swimmers knew they would be disqualified before they competed in the "outlaw" meet last summer.

Further action from the Big Ten, of which Northwestern is a member, today was expected to come from Major John L. Griffith, athletic commissioner of the conference.

That talking marathon in New York would have made more money if the promoter had postponed it until after congress adjourned.

PROGRAM FOR YEAR WILL BE REARRANGED

MARKET FOR EXPENSIVE CAULIFLOWERS MAY SHOW A DECLINE

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Benefit of its leader, a puzzled boxing industry looked at the world today and found nothing there to cheer about.

Without Tex Rickard, the market price for high-grade cauliflowers threatens to decline.

At the start of the year the heavyweight program for 1929 was rather clearly defined: The Stribling-Sharkey bout at Miami Beach, February 27; a battle between two other leading contenders, probably

Tom Heeney and Paulino Uzcudun; a clash between the winners of these two matches, and a final round battle for the title between the ultimate survivor and Jack Dempsey.

But all that has been changed.

There are indications that the Stribling-Sharkey bout will not be held, at least on its scheduled date, and that Dempsey will reconsider his decision to return to the ring.

At the same time it became rather plain Dempsey will not become head of the boxing end of the garden's business.

Dempsey said he had not been offered that post nor any other by the Garden and that besides, he had too many other business interests to serve as an executive of the garden. Even more pertinent to the subject perhaps was his remark:

"I don't kid myself that I could fill Tex's shoes even if they gave me the job."

The boxing world in general is inclined to believe that no one else will find that an easy task.

UTILITIES BOARD

PROPOSED IN BILL

AUSTIN, Jan. 11 (AP)—A constitutional amendment creating a public utilities commission of from five to seven members, with power to regulate all enterprises upon which the public is dependent for service, will be proposed in the house by Representative A. P. C. Petch, of Fredericksburg.

Under his proposal the new commission would absorb the railroad commission as at present constitu-ed and would have the power to regulate all transportation, including airships carrying passengers and freight; cotton gins; ice facilities; electric light and power plants; motor buses, and other forms of utilities.

DEMPESEY MAY YET BE BIG HERO OF SEASON

OUTSTANDING STAR OF SPORTS WOULD BE JACK'S TITLE

By HENRY L. FARRELL

NEA Service Sports Writer

There wasn't an individual performer in 1928 who stood out so tall among all the others that you could put your finger on him with a careless jab and call him the real big fellow of the year.

Maybe it was Babe. He was close to it in any man's league.

Maybe it was Tunney, if your fancy leans to that kind of stuff. Perhaps it was Jones or Farrell if you can believe the claim for heroes on a golf course, or it might have been the Haig busting through the British open. Or perhaps it was Helen Wills if you want to be gallant.

It was a mean year for picking and it is followed by another year in which the day for heroes on a golf course or of real good ones and no one outstanding candidate.

The list of holdover champions is one of familiar names who are in their prime. It is hardly possible that they can do anything more than they have done to contribute a year's outstanding performance.

There are no new ones just coming along unless it is a youngster like Percy Williams, the Olympic sprinter. And you know that he is not going to run any hundred yards this year in nine seconds.

Jones could go out and win the British amateur and open and knock off the American amateur and open. That would be something for the book. But that is too much to ask even of the Jones, and it would be something to boast about if Farrel, the British amateur and open, but it wouldn't cause the commotion that would attend a double victory for Jones in the two big American classics.

The spot just doesn't seem to be set for a golf player or a tennis player or a baseball player. They are sports that don't lend themselves naturally to the making of great big heroes.

It's the fighting champion that gets a crowd following him on the street and it may be that along in the middle of the summer it will be old John Dempsey who will be strutting down the street with all the other athletes rooting in the crowd for him.

The spot is made for a Dempsey comeback and Dempsey never has been one to ignore his spots. It believes to appear almost certain that he will know his own mind now but he's a great fellow to listen and it can't be mistaken that the customers want him back.

If the elimination thing that Rickard was still playing with produces the right kind of a man, you can bet that Dempsey will be in there swinging and that the old mob will be laying any kind of dough necessary to see him swinging.

Dempsey obviously wants to know

Thought For Today

For the turning away of the simple shall slay them, and the prosperity of fools shall destroy them.—Prov. 1:32

As riches and honor forsake a man, we discover him to be a fool, but nobody could find it out in his prosperity.—La Bruyere

Using It

It is quite possible that our scientific knowledge is moving so fast that it will leave our ability to use it properly far behind. If it does, we may be in for some very serious trouble.

This thought is suggested by a strange play, "Wings Over Europe," recently presented in New York.

In "Wings Over Europe" a scientist discovers the secret of releasing atomic energy. This secret gives mankind power greater than ever dreamed of before. All of the work of the world can be done offhand, people everywhere can be released from poverty and drudgery, all of the material barriers to progress and happiness can be knocked down overnight.

Fired with enthusiasm, the inventor goes to the British cabinet and offers his discovery in the belief that the statesmen will know better than he how to use this mysterious power for the good of mankind.

But the statesmen can see only the vast destructive power of his discovery. With it they could blow a continent off the map. So they plan to accept it and use it as an instrument of war. They will be able to annihilate their enemies and the nation will be invincible forever after.

Dismayed and shocked at this perversion of his great discovery, the scientist concludes that mankind does not deserve to be given the tools with which it can raise itself to new heights of achievement, so he uses his secret to blow the whole world to bits and destroy the entire race.

This fanciful tale contains matterial for some serious thought.
During the last century and a half mankind's knowledge has advanced prodigiously. There seems to be good reason for doubting that it will make a similar advance in the next 150 years. Every research scientist assures us that we are only on the threshold of knowledge, and that what we have discovered is only a fraction of what we shall discover in the near future.

Thus we—the race—are getting into our hands the means for completely remaking the earth. The revolution in human affairs brought by the steam engine, electricity, the gasoline motor and the airplane will be carried infinitely farther.
We are, quite conceivably, at the dawn of a golden age.

But these new inventions are double-edged affairs. Along with the automobile, science has given us the torpedo. With insulin it has handed us poison gas. The air mail has developed beside the aerial bomber. Hand in hand with the radio has come the machine gun.

We are developing new means of making life comfortable and enjoyable, but we are also developing new means of making life unbearable.
And the question is: are we going to be wise enough to use our new knowledge for our own good—or shall we, like the cabinet members in the play, be blind and stupid and prove our unfitness for advancement?

This is not a mere academic question. It is perhaps the foremost issue of the age. If we can not outgrow some of the passions, superstitions, prejudices and meannesses that we have brought up with us from the jungle, our golden age may turn out to be a reign of terror surpassing anything in human history.

The number of millionaires has grown to 40,000 in the last fourteen years. Quite a lot of them are reported to have made their money outside of the liquor business.

THE PLAINSMAN

Says
That Girl on Broadway says leading a double life might not be so bad if the expenses were not quadrupled.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce have decided to hold another general membership meeting, in the form of a banquet, this year and a committee is already at work laying plans for the event. As stated in this column Wednesday, The Plainsman believes that any general meeting of this kind is a hoax for a community and Lubbock needs it. This column commends the directorate and hopes that the meeting will become an annual affair.

Such a meeting was held last year on February 17 but no announcement as to whether or not it was to become an annual affair was made.
Prior to last year, no general meeting had been held since 1924—too long an interim. As the Plainsman uses it for the citizens of any general community to fail to gather for discussion of general civic work.

And while on the subject of the Chamber of Commerce—or the B. C. D. if you prefer—The Plainsman seizes the opportunity to commend the directors and congratulate the city upon the selection of Hubert L. Allen, better known perhaps, as "Sherlock," as president of the organization in 1929.

A former post commander of the American Legion, an ex-president of the Rotary club and the champion of many a success, a civic campaigner, Mr. Allen moves from the post of director to the presidency, a well experienced, well fitted and entirely capable to fill his new duties. Further than that his tireless energy and devotion to the city and its projects can not be surpassed.

There is no necessity of wishing Hubert Allen well in his new task. Those who know him best know he will do well. He will take up the reins laid down by H. Sherrod and carry on in the same unobtrusive yet efficient and earnest manner of his predecessor. Those deeply interested in the future of Lubbock —and we should be thankful that that characterization takes in almost everyone within the city's gates—may rest assured that the city's civic bark will be guided by a steady hand during the 12 months to come.

That Man on Avenue Q says the

VOTE FOR THE BONDS
Now once again the election rings Across the plains and ponds And summons Lubbock citizens To vote on highway bonds!

The future of the country Now depends on you and me.
For wealth or woe, it's up to us.
What shall the answer be?

truth may hurt but it's the half-truth which does the most damage.

Make up your mind to aid the cause.
Let's do the job up brown!
Let's give the glad news to the world.

That Lubbock STILL SOME

An "anti-evolution" bill has been introduced in the Texas legislature by a couple of gentlemen who evidently have little to do. As has been stated in this column before, The Plainsman doesn't know any more about the theory of evolution than the average person yet he knows this much: if the theory is right it will be proved so and all the laws in the world won't keep people from finding it out. If it is wrong no law will be needed to keep people from believing it. In other words, no matter how you look at it, an "anti-evolution" law is about the most useless thing in the way of laws—which is saying something in this day and time.

In considering an anti-evolution bill, Texas joins with Arkansas and Tennessee—states which have never been ballyhooed for their progressiveness—in becoming the laughing stock of the nation. Most Texans should and will agree that our state furnished enough amusement in the pasternational gymnastics as performed by the Ferguson family and it is now time to yield the spotlight to Oklahoma or some other state that seems to want it.

Representatives J. W. Harper and W. T. Graves, of Mt. Pleasant and Stephenville, respectively, are authors of the anti-evolution bill and while The Plainsman congratulates them on their zeal and activity in the halls of legislation, he believes that had they stopped to consider the state's business a little more, they could have figured out some kind of bill which would have meant more to the people.
Heaven knows, in this day of mass production in statutes as well as in everything else, there is plenty of room for more common sense in Austin.

Babies catch everything, it is said, but did you ever hear of one getting sleeping sickness?

"Without-Or-With, Offense To Friends Or Foes, We Sketch Your World Exactly As It Goes"—Byron

Although Hoover Prefers Simple Proceedings, Friends Arrange For Gaudy Inaugural Of New Chief ExecutiveWith Our Contemporaries"WHITE ELEPHANT" FOR HOOVER

Of all the "white elephants" presented to a president-elect, Mr.
Mabel Walker Winderbrandt, who the G. O. P.'s gift to Hoover is the whitest and the most elephantine.

Hoover, naturally desiring to maintain party harmony and at the same time throw a "son" to the democratic side of congress, is not expected to favor the retention of Mabel in the department of justice.

Because of the bitterness of his speeches aroused during the campaign, however, as she is a G. O.
P. worker, he is felt, can not afford to antagonize her and her supporters.

It is rumored that Mabel wants to be the first woman ever to sit upon a U. S. court bench, and she particularly desires to be elevated to the judgeship of the California district. If Hoover should nominate her, would the senate confirm the nomination? In view of the fact that Joe Robinson, Carter Glass, Tydings, and a few more senators can not see Mabel as a United States employee in any capacity it is felt that any such nomination would be given rough treatment in the senate.

While Hoover might select her for a cabinet officer, this would not be as well treated as her nomination for the judgeship. One can well imagine what Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi would have to say in case she was nominated for a cabinet position. Either Mr. Hoover is in for considerable embarrassment, or Mabel will have her feelings hurt. It is no little problem Mabel presents—El Paso Times.

HOPE IN CANCER TREAT

Dallas News: Deaths from cancer in the United States rose from fourth place in 1926 to second in 1927, yielding first place only to mortality occasioned by diseases of the heart. There were 109,578 deaths last year as compared to 99,833 in the preceding twelve months.

Alarming as the increase in cancer is, as indicated by these statistics, the rising count of deaths may be accepted as a forerunner of surgical aid to stricken humanity.
It has not been so long ago that tuberculosis was the principal agent of death outside of heart disease.
The ravages of the white plague offered a challenge to medical science.
That has been with results that have cut down materially the losses to tubercular afflictions.
Cancer's mounting toll makes it the inevitable target of study. It can only be a question of time before cancer will come under control.

A recent announcement from Chicago reported the selection of a city-wide national center in which the leading medical minds of the United States will be pitted against cancer under the direction of Dr. Charles Mayo of Rochester, Minnesota.

Medicine is mobilizing against an enemy whose aggressions have reached unprecedented proportions.
There is comfort in that, if not for the stricken, at least for the future generations that will profit by surgical victory.

While Coolidge was down hunting wild animals, several wild animals were waiting to hunt Hoover.

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

Washington Correspondent for Central Press and The Journal

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—A very simple program for his inaugural ceremony, President-elect Hoover has instructed when he sailed away on the man-o-war Maryland last November.

The ceremony planned for him, in his absence, included a grand audience parade in the whole history of inaugural events, with trimmings in proportion, winding up with a ball of unprecedented magnificence—unless the new president refuses to attend it, which naturally would take considerable of its edge off, as an inaugural function.

Probably, however, Mr. Hoover will stand for the ball, too, if he acquiesces in the rest of the celebration. It would hardly be worth while to balk at that one item, among so many festivities.

That Mr. Hoover will submit to the blow-out arranged for him—little as he may like such a carnival of fuss-and-feathers—is practically certain. It would be impossible for him to veto it without causing a great deal of hard feeling—an inauspicious beginning for his administration.

The truth is that what the new president wants weighs very lightly against the inauguration-manufacturers' wishes—especially when he is several thousand miles away while they are connecting their schedule.

There was a lot of talk, at the outset, concerning the simplicity which must characterize the inauguration, but nobody meant a word of it. Bit by bit feature was super-imposed upon feature until the various committees on management had turned out just the article they originally were bent on.

Washington itself always clamors for a regular quadrennial cora-tion.

The capital, of all cities in the country, is geared up to make money from big crowds of tourists. Inauguration day brings such crowds, of course, and the bigger they are, the bigger the takeoff.

I suspect the railroads of encouraging it also.

Moreover, it is astonishing how many folk fairly revel in parading past a presidential reviewing stand and congratulating themselves on playing their part in a historic "occasion"—governors of states, members of their staffs, army and navy officers, assorted politicians, "prominent citizens" from hither and yon —all sorts of people who, it might seem reasonable to suppose, would have outgrown such glad rags anyway. These of the inaugural ball, the society and official "sets" simply are crazy about it.

The men, if anything, are more so than the women.

The latter have reasonably frequent opportunities to wear their gladdest of glad rags anyway.
Those of the sterner sex with gorgeous full dress uniforms—gold lace, plumed hats and clanking cutlery —are less often privileged to appear in all their splendor. The inaugural ball gives them their chance —and how they love it!

With all these influences at work,

House Considers Reapportionment

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (P)—Under a special rule the house today took up the Fenn reapportionment bill. Reapportionment has come up at each congress for several years, only to fail, but this time the author of the bill, Representative Burke of Connecticut, has hopes for its passage. It will have opposition, however, Rankin of Mississippi being one of its outstanding critics.

Rankin and other opponents of the measure claim the bill is anti-federal legislation and declare reter an accurate census is taken at Burke's administration, wealthy Indian, and Mr. Work told the committee he appealed to Attorney General Sargent after Commissioner Burke had charged to him the inquiry was

"Pow Wow" Doctor Is Facing Life In Pen

YORK, Pa., Jan. 11 (P)—John H.
Blymyer, "pow-wow" doctor, faced life imprisonment today, and the first of a series of "witchcraft" murder trials was at an end.

The jury last night found Blymyer guilty of murder in the first degree, and held that an obsession of being bewitched did not justify the slaying of Nelson D. Rehmyer, reclusive farmer "to break a spell." The verdict carried with it the sentence of life imprisonment.

Two youths, Wilbert G. Hess and John Curry, charged with having aided Blymyer in beating Rehmyer to death on the night of November 22 when he resisted their attempts to obtain a lock of hair, were in jail awaiting trial.

tremendous.

The essence of the whole thing is to have the president and the

The parade is no good minus the president to review it. The ball is a fiasco unless the president and his consort are in attendance.

In New York
By

Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Just a gentle hint to the stage-struck girls and boys—17,000 actors are now pounding the pavements of Broadway looking for work.

Yes, it's a great life—this stage life!

Nothing to do but look for work, and when you get it nothing to do but pray that the show keeps running for more than three weeks.
Nothing to do but work 12 hours a day in rehearsal and then finally open only to learn in the next morning's paper that your show is headed for sure failure. Then there's nothing to do but trust that you can collect your wages, pay out the landlady and eat somehow or other while going around looking for another job.

What with this reason and what with that, there are 10,000 legiti-mate actors whose shoe leather is worn thin in walking from office to office; there are 5,000 vaudeville actors in the same fix and something like 2,000 "transients," which means chorines and such.

Oh, yes, you'll hear that this is a particularly bad season—and it is.
But it is also true that the ranks of the performing business have been increasing from year to year.
It is also true that any one of the 17,000 jobless might be you.

And what happens when 17,000 ladies and gentlemen of the entertainment business are plodding Broadway desperately trying to get the price of hash and beans?

Well, hundreds of them swallow their thespian pride and go to work in the ribbon and dry goods departments.

Hundreds more turn up the traveling and clean ends of their cuffs, scrub their trousers into a pair or wash their waists in the bath tub and face the landlord with a "well, what are you going to do about it?" look in their eyes.

None is more patient than the manager of a "bad broker" actor. I venture to say that thousands of barbers and tailors and restauran-ters and boarding house landladies are "cutting" the bills of thousands of performers.

There's a little world in the theatrical belt that is unlike any other little world. It has had years of experience in the other fellow's problems, and it is prepared to share the good times with the bad times. All the business folk know that an actor must, of all people, put up a good front—even when that front sags in a little at the waistline from lack for food.

Adversity is nothing new to the people of the bright lights world.
Each day ends blackly and with each dawn new hope rises. The actor goes blithely forth, lying to itself and to everyone else, whistling gaily as it passes the graveyards.
The wise agencies see them come day after day, chattering of tomorrow's great plans and of yesterday's promises. The wise ones listen sympathetically—but it's old stuff. Tomorrow they will be back again.

The report of any dim rainbow sends the army racing for a glimpse, and even the smallest bit is snapped up.

I am told that the actor's fund, maintained for such emergencies, has been drained almost to the last copper.

And the coldest days of winter are still ahead.

If the stage-struck girls and boys think this picture—well, then, come right along. GILBERT SWAN.

Work Ordered Quiz
To Be Interrupted

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (P)—Hubbert Work, former secretary of the interior, told the Senate Indian af-airs committee today he asked Attorney General Sargent to "stay" a grand jury investigation of Commissioner Burke of the Indian Bureau in Oklahoma last summer to permit a review of the case by disinterested parties.

The investigation was directed at Burke's administration of the case of Jackson Barnett, wealthy Indian,
and Mr. Work told the committee
he appealed to Attorney General
the outgrowth of a political feud.

CHILD WHO TENDS TO USE

Answers to Mothers
God could not be everywhere; therefore He made mothers.—Jewish Proverb.

Your recent article stating that possible injurious effect might result from insisting that a naturally left handed child use the right hand, interested me greatly. My oldest girl, now seven years of age, showed a decided preference for us-
when she first began to feed herself. I always put the spoon in her right hand and she soon learned to use the right hand. She has always been extremely restless, fidgety and excitable. She laughs and cries easily. A school nurse once told me that she thought her excitability was part of her disposition. She has always been sturdy, active and exceptionally strong. I am wondering if this excitability is caused by my having forced her to use the right hand?
Would it be of any benefit to her to encourage her now to use the left hand? MRS. D.

I don't believe, from your description, Mrs. D., that your little girl was very strongly left handed.
It is probably only when there is a very strong tendency to use the left hand and there has been considerable difficulty in teaching the child to use the right, that there may be some upset to the nervous system. Even then, this does not always occur.

Evidently your little girl could easily be ambidextrous—use both hands with equal facility—and that is desirable. I wouldn't worry about trying to change her to left handed-ness.

The World And All

BY CHARLES B. DRISCOLL

THAT NEXT WAR

A naval officer of the United States said to me, "The next war between old powers will be over fifteen minutes after the fighting fleets come, within range of one another."

He explained that the improvements in explosives, gun, gunnery and airplane "spotting" that have been developed since the battle of Jutland are so important that they will make the next great naval battle short and thoroughly decisive.

But I have read recently of something that bids fair to be more decisive than big guns and fighting ships. Somebody in Chicago has done a little talking about a new poison gas which, he says, is in the possession of all the great nations.

It is so deadly that it can wipe out whole armies in a few minutes.
Whole armies or whole cities, as you will. The scientist who talks about this new killing agency explains that it is very cheap and easy to make, and that any nation can make and use it in great quanties in a very short time.

Then the simple-hearted scientist adds that he doesn't believe any nation would really make use of it, except in a dire emergency, since it would be so easy, once the thing came into use, to wipe out nations and races.

Of course they'll use it! Can you imagine this country, for instance, engaged in a war to win or to establish freedom of the seas, and failing to use ANY deadly weapon within its reach? Can you imagine the roar that would go up from the parents of the boys at the front if our secretary of war should refuse to authorize the use of a weapon that might and the war overnight?

Furthermore, our public officials know their jobs just well enough to realize that they'd better not run the risk of being caught napping when the next war comes. They'll have plenty of deadly gas, and some-even more deadly stored and ready to release upon the big cities in the enemy country. The next war may be over before it is formally declared, for the nation that beats the others to the releasing of the deadly gas upon the big cities of the enemy will have the war won out of hand. The polite custom of formally declaring war will be abandoned for safety's sake, and the gas will be sent swooping down upon the enemy's cities before he has time to realize that he is actually engaged in a war. When politeness and self-preservation clash, in the policy of nations, politeness always goes by the board.

Yes, it's going to be a rather tough war.

LET'S KEEP LUBBOCK COUNTY Abreast of the Times!

THE WINGED SHOE OF MERCURY, expressing the speed and change of the world is symbolic of the progress of Lubbock county — progress that has been made because of the cooperative spirit that exists—the spirit that builds communities.

Progressive minded men whose signatures are affixed to this advertisement, realize the importance of keeping pace with current day improvements and none could be more important than GOOD ROADS. Ever on the alert to increase Lubbock's prestige and position as the Hub of the Plains, and Lubbock county's reputation for progressiveness these men are convinced that the interests of those who reside in Lubbock county will best be served by passage of the bond election Saturday.

Lubbock county's need for paved roads stands out in front of all charges and counter-charges with reference to routing, class of construction, etc. If Lubbock county is to maintain the position it has earned in the past for consistent growth and progressiveness, it is vitally important that this election providing for GOOD ROADS be successful, for nothing hinders progress as much as an inadequate system of roads NOT PAVED.

It is their opinion that everyone in Lubbock county will profit if this Bond Issue is passed—and that the progress of everyone in Lubbock county will be retarded if it is defeated.

TWO CHINESE CHIEFS SLAIN

PAIR OF HIGH STANDING UNDER PAST REGIME ARE EXECUTED

(By Associated Press)
MUKDEN, Manchuria, Jan. 11.— Yang Yu-Ting and Chang Yin-Hual two men who held high posts under the late dictator, Chang Tso-Lin, were reported to have been executed today. They were taken into custody at the headquarters of General Chang Hsueh-Liang, present ruler of Manchuria, last night.

At the same time the men were taken in custody the Mukden arsenal was occupied by troops of Hsueh-Liang.

Yang Yu-Ting was a former chief of the general staff and Chang Yin-Hual was a former minister of communication. Reason for their arrest was not divulged but it was understood it was probably due to a difference of views regarding the recent holding of the nationalist flag by General Chang and the transfer of foreign and military affairs to the Nanking government.

Report Confirmed

TOKYO, Jan. 11 (AP)—The general staff received an official report confirming that Yang Yu-Ting had been shot to death in Mukden, Manchuria. Anxiety was felt in Tokyo as it was realized the situation held dangerous possibilities.
Unofficial advice from Mukden said General Chang Hsueh-Liang, governor of Manchuria, had invited Yang Yu-Ting and Chang Yin-Hual to his headquarters last night.
When they arrived they were surrounded by armed soldiers and confined to the room. Then General Chang charged both with crimes and later they were led out and shot.

Five Classes Seen In Turkey Exhibit

DALLAS, Jan. 11 (AP)—Five classes of turkeys were judged at the All-the-World Turkey Show here yesterday by A. D. Walker of Memphis, Mo., and Walter Burton, of Dallas. Entries judged were Glats, Bourbon Red, Black, Narragansett and White Holland. Bronze turkeys will be judged today and grand champions and champions of the various classes selected.

THE TINYMITES

BY HAL COCHRAN

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

Some dwarfs stood near and laughed. "Ho, ho! Into the cream the Tynmites go! We played a dandy trick on them, but it was just in fun. We curvly hope that they're not mad, 'cause if they are it's just too bad. We will not let them catch us, 'cause we'll turn around and run."

By this time all the Tynmites were very funny looking sights.
They'd landed in the bowl of cream and splashed it in the air.
The cream was whipped up very thick, so really it made quite a slick place for the bunch to land in, and they didn't seem to care.
Said Scooty, "We won't make a fuss. It's quite a joke you've played on us. I've swallowed 'bout a quart of cream and it tastes pretty fine." Then Clowny added, "So have I," and then he heaved a mournful sigh and said, "Oh, you

In a session filled mostly with routine business matters the Lubbock city commission met in regular semi-monthly session at the city hall yesterday afternoon considering the proposed subways of the city and the Santa Fe railway, and learning that the railway company had already begun tests of the soil, dirt and rock formations in an effort to determine the cost of excavation.

Commission Named For Repairs

PARIS, Jan. 11 (AP)—The European experts, including four members of the old Davies committee, were appointed today by the reparations commission to form a new body to study final liquidation of the reparations problem.

Eleven Years Given On Narcotics Charge

NEW YORK, Jan. 11 (AP)—Caught sneaking $2,000,000 worth of narcotics out of the city when the slaying of Arnold Rothstein, the gambler, brought federal agents hot on the heels of drug peddlers, Joseph Unger stood in court today and begged for what he called justice.

Federal Judge Winslow looked down at the confessed agent of the drug traffic, a pallid, ineffective looking little man with a weak face.

He sentenced Unger to 11 years and 6 months in Atlanta penitentiary.

cream tastes good. The fun will soon be over, 'cause it's just too good to last."

work in the next story.)

Steamship Owners Seek Legislation

NEW YORK, Jan. 11 (AP)—The American Steamship Owners Association today decided to ask Congress for legislation to prevent what it regards as an invasion by foreign lines.

The action was precipitated by the recent placing of the Cronia of the Cunard line in the New York-Havana traffic in competition with the Ward line.

Franklin D. Mooney, president of the Atlantic Gulf and West Indies company owners of the Ward line, was named to head a committee which will study American rights at sea and recommend to Congress legislation it considers necessary.
