Europe Defense Would Be Hurt By Mac Plan

New Plan To Oust Acheson

WASHINGTON, May 14. (AP) — Rep. Phillips (R-Calif) today came up with a new strategy for House Republicans seeking to force Dean Acheson out of office as secretary of state.

Such a campaign has been under discussion in House cloakrooms for several weeks, and administration leaders have conceded privately they are not at all sure they can stop it.

Phillips, a member of the Appropriations Committee, has drafted an amendment which would strike Acheson from the State Department payroll without mentioning him by name. Attempts to eliminate individuals by name have been blocked in the past by court rulings.

Phillips' amendment would prohibit use of any State Department funds to pay anyone in the department who in the previous five years "was connected directly or indirectly with a business or professional office, any part of whose income was derived from business relations with or professional services for any government other than the government of the United States."

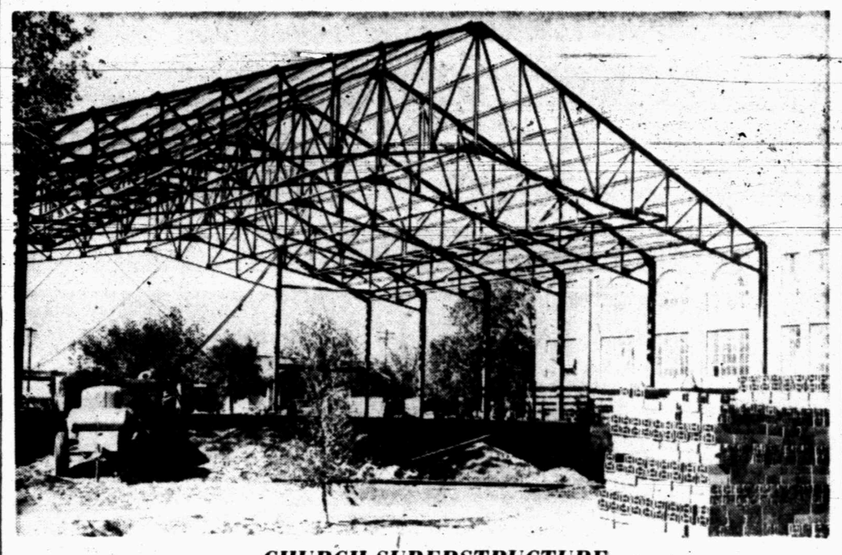

"That would get Acheson," Phillips told newsmen, "because his law firm represented some foreign governments within the past five years and while he still was associated with it."

Phillips said he questioned the validity of a proposal advanced earlier by some House members to deny, in an appropriations bill, any funds for payment of Acheson's salary.

"To name the individual could be construed as a bill of attainder and would be illegal," he said. (A bill of attainder is a legislative act which takes away a person's civil rights or capacities without a judicial trial. The Constitution forbids bills of attainder.)

Phillips and others seeking Acheson's removal doubt the wisdom of another proposal to tie up all State Department money until Acheson gets out.

Just when they will get a chance to offer their amendment is anybody's guess. The Appropriations State Department budget bill in Committee has been holding up the the hope that sentiment will change.

VOLUNTARY BAN ON BURNING OF TRASH IS ASKED

Caution in the burning of trash while the high winds persist was urged today by Mayor Forest G. Sears.

"Because of the fire hazard created by burning trash in this windy season, it would be advisable if everybody would discontinue the practice until the wind subsides," he said.

Voluntary steps of this sort to curb the fire hazard could possibly result in big property savings, if everyone co-operated, he noted.

Beef Price Ceiling Into Effect Today

(By The Associated Press)

Retail price ceilings go into effect on beef today — but don't count on general price-slashing at your butcher shop.

Some of the new beef prices will be higher, some lower, some unchanged.

Many stores have found the new government ceilings permit advances on several items from prices they were charging last week. Where competitive conditions permit, most of these retailers are expected to take advantage of this.

They say they're entitled to a little relief after being squeezed in recent weeks as costs went up while their own selling prices were frozen.

CHOICE CUTS HIGHER

A spokesman for a leading supermarket chain in the east said the ceiling prices in general allowed boosts for the more expensive cuts, like porterhouse and sirloin steaks. But the ceilings either held the prevailing price line or required reductions on "the poor man's meats" like hamburger and stewing beef.

Imposition of the retail ceilings today is the third major step in a series of actions ordered by government price stabilizers and designed to reduce beef prices about 10 cents a pound by October.

Earlier, packers and slaughterers were ordered to start grading their beef according to federal standards, if they ewrent' already, and to set up a sales record system for use in the event meat must be allocated later. And last week, dollars and cents ceilings on beef at the wholesale level went into effect. Coming later Rollbacks in packers and slaughterers' buying prices for livestock, and in the wholesale and retail ceiling schedules.

CEILINGS VARY

The Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) said the retail ceilings effective today were calculated by adding a fixed margin percentage to the price the retailer pays for each wholesale cut. Generally, these markups approximate pre-Korea dollar margins plus increased operating costs since then.

The ceilings list standard beef cuts (sirloin steak, boneless chuck roast, etc) in each of four grades (prime, choice, etc.), and vary according to the type of store, its volume of business and its regional location.

The dollars-and-cents controls don't directly affect most cured, smoked, cooked, barbecued or dried beef products, certain types of specialty steaks, or sausage, pork, lamb or mutton.

Retail ceilings on Kosher beef were postponed until May 21.

Safeway Plans To Build Here

Plans and specifications for a new Safeway Store for Snyder are being prepared at this time, O.V. Farnsworth, West Texas Disrtict manager of Abilene, said last week.

The new establishment is to be located on property recently purchased by Safeway from the Joyce Brothers. It is on Twenty-fifth Street and Avenue O, just east of the Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific railway tracks, where the Joyce Brothers gin was located for many years.

In order to comply with present building regulations, Safeway must have the approval of the National Production Authority to develop the project, Farnsworth said.

With favorable action by the governmental agency, the Safeway Company will proceed with a modern retail food store for Snyder, he said.

Engineers for the project were in Snyder last week checking on building, plumbing, and electrical specifications which will be required by the city.

The engineers said that construction on the new building would not be started before mid-summer.

Charge Against Chief Of Police to Be Heard At Later Court Session

A motion for continuance was granted this morning in the county court case of Chester Bairrington, Snyder chief of police, charged by the grand jury with driving while intoxicated.

No definite date was set for the trail when the motion was granted by Edgar Taylor, county judge, after the defense attorney, George T. Thomas of Big Spring, presented proof that he had already made arrangements to appear in two other courts today before he was notified of the date of this trial.

Thomas presented two letter, one requesting his presence in a federal court hearing in Dallas, and the other notifying him to appear in a district court case in Martin County.

Charter Petition Has More Than 160 Names

There are now more than 160 signatures on the petition circulating here to ask an election on a new charter for Snyder.

Wayne Boren, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce civic improvement's committee, said the petitions would be called in Thursday. He suggested that those who have not signed the petiion do so as soon as possible.

About 200 signatures are needed on the petition.

Not Considering Recess

WASHINGTON, May 14 (AP) — President Truman's congressional leaders said after a White House conference today that they are not even considering a recess at the present time.

"We've yet to see further ahead before we can talk about a recess," Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) said.

Reds Tighten Hold At Choyang River

By OLEN CLEMENTS

TOKYO, May 14 (AP) — Chinese eRd troops today expanded a threatening bridgehead across the Choyang River on the General Korean front despite the pounding of American guns.

These forces northeast of Chunchon may spearhead a second spring offensive by the 50,000-man Red army, expected in about ten days.

Elsewhere along the 100-mile front United Nations patrols probed no-man's-land with little opposition. However, two sharp clashes broke out on the western front.

One American task force ran into a Chinese ambush and pulled back after a determined battle. The second prolonged fight began when an armored American outfit ambushed a Chinese patrol.

For the first time in the war U.N. forces are getting a small but steady trickle of Chinese deserters, AP Correspondent John Randolph reported from this front. The deserters, often showing up with surrender leaflets, include some officers.

The Reds appeared to be awaiting strong contact while rushing fresh troops into buildup areas on the west and central fronts.

WEATHER HELPS REDS

Bad weather screened their movements Monday.

AP Correspondent George MacArthur reported the Chinese deepened their penetration below the Choyang River despite a thundering American artillery barrage. There was little fighting between opposing infantrymen.

The bridgehead poses a flanking threat to Chunchon key to rail and road networks, 45 miles northeast of Seoul. Strong enemy units were massing north of the river and between Kumhwa and Hwachon above the 38th parallel.

Allied pilots hunting through the rain clouds reported Reds steadily filtering southward. One U. S. F-80 Shooting Star crashed behind Communist lines. The 5th Air Force said the pilot was killed.

Airmen reported more than two divisions, roughly 15,000 men, were concentrating north of Chunchon.

County Sets Ceiling On Aid For Funerals

The commissioners court this morning voted to set county aid in paying funeral expenses of charity cases at a maximum of $100 each.

The decision was made after receipt of two bills seeking county aid. One bill for $115 from the Bolger-Barnes Funeral Home was ordered paid in full, and the court agreed to pay $115 of the other bill which was from the Dennis Funeral Home for $314.

The Dennis bill was for a recent funeral at which a Latin-American woman made selections for materials for her husband's funeral but did not inform the funeral home the county would be asked to pay the bill.

The commissioners agreed to pay as much on this bill,however, as on the other, which was made lower at the time of funeral arrangements, the home knowing it was to be a charity case.

The court agreed in the future to pay funeral expenses not to exceed $100 each in such cases.

At the request of Keith Merrick, county attorney, the court voted to sell an old set of obsolete law books to him for consideration of $1. The books had been on the county's hands several years, Edgar Taylor, county judge, said.

NORFOLK, Va., May 14. (AP)—The Collier Thomas Trace and the Navy Seaplane Tender Valcour collided five miles east of Cape Henry today. Atlantic Fleet Headquarters said, "Both ships are burning and their crews are abandoning ship."

Minutes later, however, fleet headquarters reported it had received reports that the crews of both vessels still were aboard and are getting the fires under control on both ships."

Canal and Coast Guard ships and planes were dispatched to the area.

Spokesmen said they did not know how many men are aboard the Valcour.

GOP To Hit Truman Wage Board Again

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON, May 14. (AP) —The congressional check-up of administration economic controls switched today to President Truman's new wage board which Senator Taft (R-Ohio) says he doesnt' like at all.

The wage board set-up was recommended by labor, and endorsed by Mr. Truman's farm and public mobilization advisers, but bitterly opposed by his industry advisers.

Labor agreed to go along with the mobilization program — after its walkout in January — only if the wage board was given authority to recommend settlement terms in defense industry labor disputes It was designed originally simply to fix limits for wage increases under the government stabilization program.

The matter comes before Congress now because all controls powers stem from the Defense Production Act which expires June 30. Proposals to renew and broaden that law are being weighed by House and Senate committees.

WAGE BILL SOARS

Dr. George W. Taylor, chairman of the new wage board, testified today before the House banking committee.

In prepared testimony, Taylor said the nation's wage and salary bill in January and February ran at the rate of $158 billion. This was some $27 billion above the rate at the close of 1949 and $20 billion above the mid-1950 rate he said.

The wage board chairman cautioned that a further increase will make more difficult the job of effective price control.

A similar view was advanced Sunday by Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston.

YEAR'S SQUEEZE SEEN

Johnston and Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson spoke before the Business Advisory Council of the Department of Commerce meeting at Hot prings, Va.

Wilson predicted that a one-year squeeze of civilians — from next July 1 to mid-1952 — will carry the country over the "hump" of the defense program.

Taft's criticism of the wage board setup was made in a Senate LaborManagement Subcommittee report Saturday. The report endorsed the idea of organiezd labor's participation in planning and executing mobilzaton polices.

Taft fled "supplement lviseaw" cautioning that Congress should look into the idea that one board, under Mr. Truman's plan, would be both fixing wage policy and seeking to settle labor disputes.

State Action Of Labor Bill

AUSTIN, May 14. (AP) — Debate of a bill to bring labor unions under the antitrust laws delayed House action on a Senate approved tax bill today.

An attempt to send the restrictive labor legislation to the House Agriculture Committee for revision was killed, 83-40.

Rep. Horace Houston of Dallas accepted an amendment removing criminal penalties for violation of right - to - work or anti-closed shop law. He also accepted a change removing a prohibition against a labor monopoly.

City Collects Little Oil For Spreading On Unpaved Dusty Streets

Outside competition has about scuttled Snyder's program of oiling dusty, unpaved streets, W. J. Ramsey, city superintendent, said today.

A private concern from Abilene regularly sends a truck to Snyder to pick up waste oils from service stations here, Ramsey said.

"The city only picks up oil when service stations call in, and we don't get many calls," he said.

Snyder began the program during the winter, but so far has not been able to collect enough waste oil to oil many blocks of unpaved streets.

Hearing For Marshall In Its Last Day

WASHINGTON, May 14. (AP) — Secretary of Defense Marshall testified today he fears adoption of Gen. MacArthur's Korean war proposals would seriously affect Gen. Eisenhower's European defense plans.

Winding up seven days of testimony on MacArthur's ouster, Marshall also said:

He believes Eisenhower supports President Truman's limited Korean war program.

Administration military leaders—including Gen Matthew B. Ridgway in his understanding — present a solid front in support of the president's plan and in opposition to MacArthur's proposals for blockade of China, bombing of Manchurian bases and use of Chinese Nationalist troops.

MacArthur testified 10 days ago that it was his understanding that Ridgway, his successor in the Far Eastern commands, had similar views to his. He said he thought other military leaders there also agreed with him.

BRADLEY DUE TUESDAY

Senator Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) When recessing today's session of the Joint Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees, Chairman Russell (D-Ga) announced that Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, will be the witness Tuesday.

He said it was possible, however, Marshall might be called back later Today, Marshall again told the Senators Russia has made "sizeable increases" recently in her military garrisons in the Korean area.

He also emphasized repeatedly, as he has before, that he fears adoption of the MacArthur program might bring Russia into the Korean fighting and extend it to a world wide conflict.

Marshall contended, too, that there were serious doubts that MacArthur's program would — as MacArthur contends — lead to quick defeat of the Chinese Communists.

Senator Johnson asked if it was not true that all military commanders think that "The programs and policies that we are now carrying out in Korea is the most prudent and wise policy that this government could carry out under the circumstances?"

Marshall: That, 7th graf.

Marshall: That is correct, sir.

Johnson: General, do you know whether your viewpoints is shared by the civilian heads of the three services, the Army, the Navy, and the Air Force?

Marshall: I wouldn't answer that. I don't know of any difference in viewpoint.

Johnson: Do you know of any disagreements they may have as to the wisdom of the present policy?

Marshall: I don't know of any.

Johnson: Do you know of any disagreement that any individual member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff

UN Committee Votes Ban On War Shipments To Red China

By STANLEY JOHNSON

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., May 14. (AP) — The United Nations Sanctions Committee today voted a worldwide ban on shipments of war goods to Communist China. The vote was 11 to nothing, with Egypt abstaining.

The sanctions group, formally known as the Additional Measures Committee, is a 14 nation body set up to consider punishment of Red China for her intervention in Korea. The committee's vote is only the first step toward imposition of the worldwide embargo.

Following this, the ban must be debated by the Political Committee of the General Assembly, and then by the assembly in plenary session. The Soviet bloc is expected to fight it in both forums to the last ditch .India, leader ofthe neutralist group in the U.N., is also expected to oppose the embargo as endangering any chance of peace negotiations with Peiping.

All signs point to eevntual assembly acceptance, however, and the U. S. hopes adoption will be by an overwhelming majority.

British and French opposition to the move, based on the fear that it might enlarge the area of conflict, evaporated last week. Informed sources said conservative protests in the British House of Commons about rubber shipments to Red China plus much adverse U. S. comment helped change London's mind.

Britain announced Thursday it was cutting off further rubber shipments from Malaya to areas controlled by Peiping.

Pushing of punitive measures against the Chinese Reds indicates the extreme pessimism with which a negotiated peace in Korea. The Additional Measures Committee, set up under the resolution branding Red China an aggressor in Korea Feb. I, was to hold off recommendations for punishment until a U.N. Good Offices Committee had every chance to try conciliation.

Members of the punishment group are Australia, Britain, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, Egypt, France, The Philippines, Turkey, Mexico the United States and Venezuela. India and Burma were named to the committee but have refused to serve.

The American embargo resolution proposes:

1. Shipment of arms, ammunition, implements of war, atomic energy materials, petroleum, and items useful in the production of armaments be prohibited to areas controlled by Communist China or North Korea.

2. That each state determine the extent to which exports fall into that classification and apply controls.

3. That all states prevent circumvention by such means as transshipments.

4. That the committee study additional measure and make a further report. This would be deferred, however, if the Good Offices Committee reported progress.

The ban's effect is expected to be more moral than practical since the Soviet Union, which supplies most of Red China's arms potential, will most likely ignore it.

Redistricting Bill Not Given Much Hope For Passing Senate

By MAC ROY RASOR

AUSTIN, May 14 (AP)—An 8 to 1 Senate Committee vote today sent the House passed bill on congressional redistricting to a subcommittee.

The action meant virtual death for the measure unless a major deadlock develops to hold the Legislature in session far longer than present expectations.

Sub-committee study was ordered in preference both to the House plan and to a suggested substitute to give Harris County two congressmen.

Spokesmen from Far West Texas protested the House plan's effect on the present Midland-to-El Paso District of Congressman Ken Regan. The House bill would have sliced off oil-important Midland, Regan's home and attaches it to the principally cattle, sheep and goat raising district of Congressman O. C. Fisher of San Angelo.

MIDLAND BACKS REGAN

Midland's Mayor Perry Pickett and Chamber of Commerce manager Delbert Downing joined with El Paso Times Editor Bill Hooten and El Paso Businessman W. R. Blair to urge the preservation of the present district.

"The entire area is basically oil producing and is geared to an oil economy," explained Pickett.

"Even to think of being represented by anyone whose interest and loyalty lies in sheep and goat raising is somewhat ridiculous," added Downing.

"We in West Texas are interested in staying together from a mutual interest standpoint," said Hooten.

Complaints also came from another proposed district that would combine the two present districts of Congressmen Bob Poage of Waco and Olin Teague of College Station.

CHANGE PROTESTED

"We feel it is an injustice to both districts," argued Byron Skelton of Temple. "It would be extremely difficult for one congressman to represent a district that extends from river bottoms to sheep and goat lands."

Senator Kyle Vick of Waco also protested the plan.

Senator Searcy Bracewell of Houston called for substituting a plan to give Harris County another congressman. He noted it is the heaviest populated congressional district in the United States.

"It boils down to this: Either we must have a congressman at large or add a Harris County congressman. It is so close to the end of the session, there is not a great deal of chance for any bill to pass if we get into a redistricting fight."

A substitute motion by Senator George Nokes Jr. of Corsicana ordered the subcommittee study. Only vote against the study was by Bracewell. The "aye" votes were cast by Senators A. M. Aikin Jr. of Paris, Joe D. Carter of Sherman, Mrs. Neveille Colson of Vavasota, Ottis Lock of Lufkin. Crawford Martin of Hillsboro, Warren McDonald of Tyler, W. A. Shofner of Temple and Nokes.

Bus Strike In Detroit Still In Deadlock

DETROIT, May 14. (AP) — Detroit's striking streetcar and bus operators today defied the city to attempt to resume transit service without their consent.

Hopes of a settlement in the bitter, 24-day-old walkout, which has left a million persons without public transportation, again were low.

The defiance came at a meeting of the strikers Sunday when Frank X. Martel, president of the Detroit and Wayne County Federation of Labor, declared

"DSR (Department of Street Railways) vehicles will appear only on the streets of Detroit when they are operated by members of Division 26 (the striking local) under union conditions."

The members roared approval.

The operations are asking a wage boost of 8½ cents an hour, but the city has offered but five cents an hour with the provision that an equivalent amount in fringe benefits be surrendered.

Begin Defense In Trust Suit

NEW ORLEANS, May 14. (AP) — The Times Picayune Publishing Co. began its defense against the government's civil anti-trust suit in U. S. District Court today with about 40 witnesses scheduled to give testimony.

The government rested its case Saturday.

Defense Attorney Ashton Phelps said the publishing company would offer testimony in support of its accounting system. The government charged that the company's afternoon New Orleans States actually lost money each year since 1947 but that the publishing company's arbitrary allocating or expenses made the paper show a profit.

On cross examination the Times Picayune Publishing Co. maintained that its morning Times-Picayune and Afternoon States were not two separate newspapers but a morning and afternoon edition. The company contended that its book keeping was for the publishing company as a unit and not for two separate newspapers.

The publishing company is expected also to offer rebuttal testimony to the government's charge that its combination advertising sales policy directed business away from the competing New Orleans Item.

Requirements For President

WASHINGTON, May 14. (AP) — Senator Paul Douglas (DIll) attached some labels Sunday to a few possible presidential candidates

See if you can match them with the men Douglas had in mind:

1. "Able and virile — a little too old" for the job of president.
2. "Great recuperative powers— don't count him out."
3. The job would be "too big" for this one, even though "certain illadvised persons" have proposed him as a candidate.
4. "We Democrats have hopes" that this one is a Democrat. If he is, said Douglas, then he is a possible Democratic candidate.

Answers:

1. Gen. Douglas MacArthur.
2. President Truman, of course.
3. Senator Douglas.
4. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Douglas aired his opinions over NBC's television show "Meet the Press."

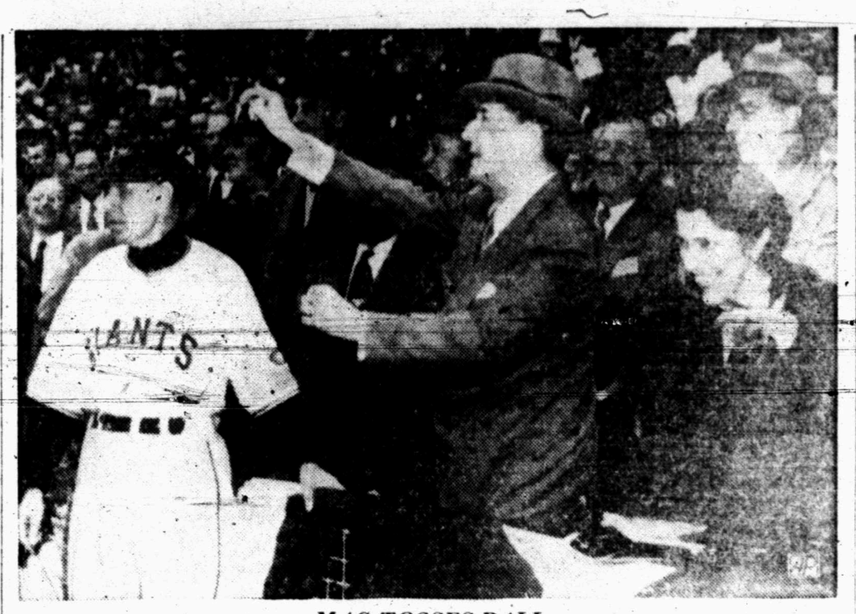

Patrolman Resigns

John T. Harrel, 27-year-old patrolman, resigned today from the police force, Chester Bairrington, chief, said.

He then resigned and was rehired about three weeks later.

Milk Drivers End Walkout

CHICAGO, May 14. (AP) — AFL milk drivers today agreed to end their three day strike, but other dairy workers kept the strike alive in a dispute over wages.

Mayor Martin H. Kennelly met with union and milk dealers' representatives at noon Sunday. Nearly 15 hours later, the drivers agreed to a two-year contract which would give them a $2 a week raise, retroactive to May 1, another $3 Oct. 1, and a final $3 May 1, 1952. Drivers also would get six days pay for five days work, and deliveries would be on a seven day basis.

Drivers now get $77 a week plus commissions.

AFL Dairy Workers pressed demands for a 10 per cent wage increase. Salaries now range from $64 to $80 for a five-day week. The Associated Milk Dealers have offered a flat $4 raise.

Without the inside workers, the drivers wouldn't have any milk to deliver.

Murder Trial Venue Change

DALLAS, May 14. (AP) — Trials of three hillbilly musicians charged in the fatal shooting last January of Dallas Policeman Johnny Sides were transferred today to Brownwood.

Judge Robert Hall granted the change of venue. He said widespread publicity and notoriety given the case might make jury selection difficult.

Under the ruling J. W. Johnson, 23, Marvin Johnson, 21, and Maxfield Bill Pomeroy, 19, will be tried before Dist. Judge A. O. Newman in Brown County in June.

Robert Lee Johnson was sentenced to death by a district court jury here for his part in the Sides slaying.

(By The Associated Press)

The challenge of Corpus Christi's Aces is growing louder and louder in the Gulf Coast League.

They now have won five straight and are showing the power expected of them.

Sunday night the Aces battered Laredo 16-2 to move into third place just one game away from first. The top club is Laredo.

The Aces spiked the dish 11 times in the second. A grand slam homer by Bob Moyer was the most telling blow.

Port Arthur clipped Brownsville 12-9 to allow Corpus Christi to move into third place.

Galveston beat Texas City 7-4 with a five-man outburst in the first inning.

Healthy Lead For Gainesville In Big State

(By The Associated Press)

Gainesville's Owls were pulled away from the field today in the Big State League.

A rousing round of Sunday double-headers, one of them featuring a fist fight, left Gainesville atop the circuit by three and one-half games. It was a pickup of two games.

Gainesville whammed Tyler 9-4 and 3-1.

Second place Austin was toppled by Texarkana 4-3 and 12-0.

Sherman-Denison clipped Temple twice, 6-5 and 8-5, and Wichita Falls and Waco divided. Wichita took the first game 19-10 and Waco the nightcap 10-4.

The Wichita Falls - Waco meetings required seven hours to play. Two players were put out of the park there was a fight and the two teams scored 43 runs on 44 hits.

The fight was between Wichita Falls Catcher Joe Neidson and Waco Outfielder Paul Smith. They got into an argument over who was going to stand on home plate after Smith scored in the seventh. Neidson came out on top in the scrap was thumbed out because he heckled the umpires too strongly.

Sherman-Denison blasted over four runs in the sixth to win the first game then used homers to take the second.

Texarkana won the first game in the tenth inning when Pioneer Outfielder Don Maso let a single get through and Bill Hyatt scored from first. In the second game Jodie Phipps allowed Austin only five hits.

Jodie Beeler was the man with the hits in Gainesville's first win over Tyler. He drove in six runs with four bingles. In the nightcap Gainesville got only three hits but Tyler pitchers helped with seven walks.

All Eight Teams In National League Huddled Around Top

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Staff)

At long last those smart-alecky managers perhaps knew what they were talking about when they predicted an eight-team dogfight in the National League pennant race.

"Anybody has a chance to grab it all," said Cincinnati's Luke Sewell last March in Florida. His words were echoed by Eddie Sawyer, Leo Durocher, Billy Southworth, Charlie Dressen and all the rest.

Here it is mid-May, with a month of the season gone, and a mere three and a half games separate the cellar-dwelling Cincinnati Reds from the roof-roosting Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Sabbath's activities left National League President Ford Frick whooping with joy. The tighter the race the happier is Frick.

Cincinnati and New York were chiefly responsible for contracting the standings. The Reds twice subdued the St. Louis Cardinals, 7-2, 6-3, while the Giants swept a twin bill from the Phillies, 11-2 and 4-2 to climb past Eddie Sawyer's men into sixth place.

Brooklyn displaced Boston in first place, overcoming the Braves, 12-6. Chicago and Pittsburgh swept past the Cards into a third place tie dividing a doubleheader. The Cubs won the nightcap 6-0 after Pittsburgh had walked off with a 2-1 opener.

The high and mighty Yankees, American League pace-setters, received a double-barrelled jolt when the lowly Athletics thrashed them, 5-4 and 9-6 in Philadelphia. Boston defeated Washington, 10-1, and Detroit, Chicago and Cleveland wound up in a three-way tie for third. The Indians whipped the White Sox 11-2, while the Browns held the Tigers even in a twin bill winning the first 13-10, and bowing in the nightcap, 5-3.

When Dallas picked on Shreveport for a flock of victories the boys in the back room said yeah, but just wait until the Eagles hit the toughies like Beaumont and San Antonio. Anybody can beat Shreveport, they said, cynical like.

But Beaumont moved in for three games and limped away winless.

San Antonio, riding high at the top of the Texas League, came to Dallas Sunday. The Eagles turned on the pitching and the Missions took a 3-1 licking.

Dallas today is just two games out of first place and has two games to go against San Antonio in the series. If the Eagles keep up their pace, which has produced eight victories and one tie in the last nine games, they'll be leading when the Missions leave.

Again it was great twirling that put the Eagles over. This time Ralph Albers turned in a six-hitter.

Otherwise interest in the league rested on the fight of Rex Barney, waived out of the Major League because of wildness, to make a comeback at Fort Worth. The 26-year-old former Brooklyn fireballer, however, made absolutely no progress. He worked seven innings and allowed only two hits but probably would have given up more if he could have gotten the ball within striking distance of the batters. Barney said a new Texas League record for bases on balls in a single game 16.

Houston beat Fort Worth 6-2.

Tulsa, wallowing deep in the cellar, won a double-header. The Oilers found Shreveport still yielding and beat the Sports 8-1 and 7-6. Fletcher Robbe singled in the winning run in the tenth inig of the second game.

Oklahoma City and Beaumont split a double-header. The Roughnecks took the first game 8-6 with Ford Garrison furnishing the margin in the ninth with a two-run homer. Oklahoma City won the second 5-1 behind the five-hit pitching of Johnny Beazley.

Truman Changes His Mind On Price Controls Several Times

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, May 14. (AP) —It's hard to get bored in Washington where things change around and people who were against something yesterday are for it today.

It was only last summer that President Truman said he saw no need for price and wage controls although Bernard Baruch, who convinced Congress he was right ,urged complete controls and in a hurry.

By the time September came around Congress was so much for the idea it passed a law — the Defense Production Act (DPA) — giving Mr. Truman authority to slap on the controls pronto.

In fact, Mr. Truman had the authority in his hands several months before he ever got around to setting up the barest kind of machinery for price controls, even though prices were rising rapidly.

This, of course, was a slightly different position from the one taken by Mr. Truman in 1946 when Congress, particularly the Republicans, were itching to ditch OPA, which we still had at the time.

OPA END RECALLED

Mr. Truman wanted to keep it then, he said, to keep down inflation. But Congress — a bunch of Democrats teamed up with most Republicans — put the skids under OPA.

And, sure enough, prices shot through the roof in spite of the soothing assurances, by some of the congressional bigwigs who disliked OPA, that once it was gone prices might go up but would then come down. Come down they did not

Then last summer, just a couple of months after the Korean fighting and just before the congressional elections in November, when Baruch had needled Congress into wanting controls, Mr. Truman suddenly didn't want them.

Democrats teamed up with Republicans wanting controls and together they passed the DPA. In the November elections with Democrats beat the Republicans. And by the end of November, with prices still rising, Mr. Truman set up the OPS — Office of Price Stabilizaton — for controlling prices.

EXTENSION LIKELY

But DPA expires June 30—meaning an end to all controls unless Congress votes to continue it.

By now, though, Mr. Truman has come around to the view that OPS is very necessary, so necessary, in fact, that April 26 he most urgently asked Congress to keep DPA not only after June 30 but for another two years, at least.

He also asked Congress to strengthen DPA ,giving the government even wider control powers.

But now the mood of Congress for controls seems a little less ardent than Mr. Truman's — or at least for some controls — for there seems a pretty cold shoulder toward Mr. Truman's request for wider rent controls.

Nevertheless, since we're in the middle of a defense program, and things seem sure to get tighter and tougher before they get better, Congress is pretty sure to contiune DPA, whether stronger or weaker than now. But a DPA in some form.

Korean Veep Quits Position

PUSAN, Korea, May 14. (AP) —The resignation of Lee See Yung, 82-year-old vice president of the Republic of Korea, was accepted today.

The National Assembly vote accepting the resignation was 77 to 10 with 41 members abstaining

Last week the assembly, with only one member dissenting, had voted against accepting Lee's resignation.

Lee complained that he had no real authority. He also voiced criticism of President Syngman Rhee's cabinet selections.

There was some talk among Rhee's opposition of bringing impeachment proceedings, but political observers were inclined to doubt the success of any such move.

Darrell Starnes, 6, Is Dead After Brain Tumor Operation

Darrell Starnes, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Starnes, 2511 Avenue U, died last night at Baylor Hospital in Dallas. The child had undergone surgery for a brain tumor about three weeks ago, and had remained in critical condition following the operation.

He will be brought to Snyder from Dallas today. Funeral services will be arranged by the Bolger-Barnes Funeral Home here.

Survivors in addition to his parents include three brothers, Hubert Lee Starnes, Johnnie Starnes and James Starnes, and a sister, Linda Starnes; his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Crumley of Hermleigh, and his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J.A. Starnes of Snyder.

Be Caesar, Lincoln, Bob Hope Or Continue to Be Yourself

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK, (AP) — Everybody says, "Be yourself."

And isn't it wonderful that you can? It's the nicest thing in the world—the mere miracle of being you.

It is the biggest single treasure anyone ever has — his own identity.

Wouldn't you really hate to shuck it off and be somebody else?

Sometimes people get exasperated by their own lives. They say, "I'd like to be somebody else!"

But would they? Whom? Pin them down, and it turns out they always want to remain themselves. They may want to have some trait or look that belongs to someone else. But as for actually trading places with him—no, indeed. Each self wants to retain its own individuality.

Suppose you absent-mindedly rubbed your reading lamp one night and there came a great puff of smoke and out of it reared a genie and said:

ONE WISH

"Well, you poor, frail miserable creature of an hour, You've got a wish coming. One wish. I am hereby authorized by higher authority to change you into the exact likeness, inside and out, of any other human being that has lived in history. Whose life do you want to lead?"

The average man would hesitate and say "That's a pretty big decision. Can I talk it over with my wife?"

So you go into a huddle together Who do you want to be? Who does she want you to be? You hurry through history — this man? That man? At last you go back slowly to the genie.

COMMON SENSE

"My wife," you tell him, "doesn't want me to be anybody else. She says she wants me to stay myself."

And the genie's face suddenly creases in a tremendous grin.

"You've got more common sense than I thought," he said. "You know what I wish though—I wish I were you. It's lonely being a genie. Goodbye."

The genie disappears in a clap of thunder and black smoke

"Don't you be sorry, honey, you're nice enough as you are," says your wife, patting you on the cheek. And then he adds suspiciously:

"What were you rubbing that old lamp for anyway? Don't you think I dust this room every day."

And there you both are—back in the daily heaven of being merely you, together.

Snyder Drug Shows Plastic Wading Pools

Wading pools for small children no longer are limited to homes of the very rich.

Snyder Drug is displaying portable plastic wading pools, ranging in size from small ones about 36 inches across and built to accomodate one child to large ones seven feet across and nine inches deep, which ought to take care of the whole neighborhood.

The plastic pools are becoming increasingly popular, R. E. Patterson, owner of Snyder Drug, said.

The pools are built of sturdy plastic to last many seasons. However they can be punctured. In case they are broken a kit of patches is included so that rapid repairs can be made.

Versatility of the pools is their big feature. They are composed of a flat piece of plastic for the bottom. Two or three plastic tubes surround the bottom part to form the sides when the tubes are inflated with air. When deflated the entire thing folds into a small, compact package for easy storage or moving.

To inflate the wading pool, one merely puffs air into it through a valve. When inflated the pools can be filled with water to make a pool that forms a cool, refreshing bath for children.

Some of the larger models hold up to 250 gallons of water and make a nice play pool for a gang of kids, Patterson said.

Other summer-time items were being displayed prominently by the store. Picnic ice boxes, thermos bottles and jugs, and all types of beach toys and accessories are available from the store's collection.

Durability of the plastic pools is proven by one in use all last summer by Patterson's children and neighbors. "Its still as good as new," he said.

Two Men Are Slightly Injured When Car Overturns Near Here

Clarence Ernest Freeby, 17 years old, Haskell was slightly injured in an automobile accident on US. Highway 180 about seven miles west of Snyder yesterday afternoon.

Freeby's father, a passenger in the car, suffered a cut hand but no other injuries, according to Lloyd Merritt, sheriff, who investigated the accident. Both men were released from Snyder Hospital after first aid treatment.

A Bolger-Barnes Funeral Home ambulance took the men to Snyder Hospital.

Apparently Freeby lost control of the 1950 Ford sedan when he attempted to miss another car which pulled on the pavement from the side road, Merritt said. The car overturned one time and skidded 378 feet before stopping, he added.

HONEYMOON HOPE

NEW YORK, May 14. (AP) — In the summertime, a young platypus' fancy turns to love.

At least, the Bronx Zoo officials hope that Cecil and Penelope — this country's only platypuses — will follow the custom and elope to a eucalyptus "honeymoon cottage."

The cottage, or nest, is a replica of platypus palaces back in the duckbilled, furry little animals' native Australia.

President Of Rollins Voted Out; Still In

WINTER PARK, Fla., May 14. (AP) — Dr. Paul A. Wagner, who aroused student, alumni and faculty wrath when he said nearly one-third of Rollins College faculty members would be dismissed in an economy move, said today he is still president of the school.

The 33-year-old Wagner, youngest college president in the nation when he was picked to head Rollins in 1949, made his blunt statement after being informed trustees of the institution announced Sunday night that a majority of their number voted to oust him.

Dr. Wagner said he was advised by the attorney for the school, Raymer F. Maguire, of Orlando, that the April 27 trustee meeting in New York was illegal. At that meeting a majority, 11 of the 21 trustee board members, voted to fire Wagner.

Halstead W. Caldwell of Winter Park, a trustee who did not attend the New York meeting, said announcement of the decision to fire Dr. Wagner was delayed to give him a chance to resign.

Art professor Hugh F McKean was named acting president by the trustees, who also reinstated the faculty members who had received dismissal notices and voted to continue intercollegiate athletics.

The announcement that Dr. Wagner had been fired set off a demonstration among Rollins students who had been on strike since Thursday in an effort to force a decision in the controversy.

Quadruplets' Parents Compile Statistics on Sets-of-Four

By SHERRY BOWEN

NEW YORK, May 14. (AP)—More and more American mothers are having families of four all at once.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cirminello, who had their quads in 1944, have studied the scant reports on such births and report things are looking up. Their records list 18 sets of living quadruplets in the United States. Twelve of these sets were born in the last 10 years.

They have found no full records of quad births, but they think about 40 sets must have been born in that ten years. Death rates for young quadruplets are still terribly high. But there are new methods to care for them both before and after birth. Cirminello, a statistician for the Securities and Exchange Commission, expects the chances for survival will continue to improve.

He points out that the four girls born to Mr. and Mrs. Flake M. Keys in Oklahoma in 1915 were the first quads reported to have lived in the United States. These girls all are mothers and their children all were single births.

The Cirminellos have reports of quadruplet births in this country as far back as 1806. They have another report from 1847. And after the 1915 Keys births, it was 1929 before four boys were born to the Joseph Perricones in Texas and lived. These boys recently went into the Army together.

The Cirminellos do not think you can predict where quads will appear. For twins, the experts think the trend runs in families—through the women. The men have nothing to do with it. The Cirminellos who have been in touch with many parents of quads, can find nothing to show that they run in families.

There is scant evidence that quad mothers will repeat. The Cirminello reports show by far the most other births in quad families have been one-at-a-time, but they cite some exceptions.

The L. D. Tigners, in Oregon, had quads in 1946 and later had twins. Then there was Mrs. George Womack of Dallas. The Cirminello records show she had quintuplets in 1933; quadruplets in 1929; triplets in 1911, 1926 and 1936; twins in 1916, 1918, 1920, 1924 and 1931 besides some single births. Many of the children died and she is not included in the list of living quad sets.

Iran Premier Playing Safe

TEHRAN, Iran, May 14. (AP) — Fearing for his life, aging Premier F. Mohammed Mossadegh moved Sunday night into the sanctuary of the parliament building. He says he will remain there until his "dream"—nationalization of Iran's huge oil industry—is completed.

Mossadegh fainted and fell headlong from the rostrum Sunday after telling the Majlis (lower house of parliament) of threats on his life by the fanatic secret moslem sect of Fedayan Islam, whose assassination tactics have made it a power in Iranian politics. Carried feet first to the parliament dispensary, he was declared fully recovered a few minutes later by doctors.

The jittery premier was laughed at during his talk by skeptical deputies, many of whom felt he used dramatic characteristic of him to pressure them into quickaction.

However, the Majlis speedily acceded to Mossadegh's demand that it elect five members to work jointly with a Senate five-man group on a board to run the giant Anglo-Iranian Oil Company when it is taken over from the British.

All five board members named by the Majlis are known supporters of Mossadegh — making it appear there will be little compromise with Britain.

War Material Embargo Will Not Stop Trade With China

By DeWITT MacKENZIE
(Associated Press Staff)

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York State is urging a complete embargo by all free nations against Communist China.

The governor says he doesn't mean "an embargo just of rubber or steel or military equipment" but "a total embargo against shipment of any goods or any trading whatsoever with Red China." Many observers will agree with that viewpoint, although admitting the difficulties getting concerted acton for such a move.

The United States already has before the United Nations a proposal for a world-wide embargo against shipping arms, ammunition or war materiel to Red China and North Korea. And there are strong indications that our principal allies—Britain and France—will supports this proposition.

However, there would be small hope for obtaining the passage of restriction on every form of trade. This means that, even with an embargo on war materiel, there will be a continuation of trade in other lines, all of which in one way or another strengthen the war potential of our enemies.

This amazing exhibition of divided attitude towards an enemy reminds me of a curious incident. I encountered a generation ago in India, up by the famous Khyber Pass.

There were two savage tribes which were forever having fights with each other. One of these tribes managed to get hold of an antiquated muzzle-loading cannon which threw a non-explosive ball. So the next time this tribe went into action against the enemy, the cannon was trotted out.

Naturally, the phenomenon disconcerted the enemy, and finally the latter sent over a flag of truce with this message.

"It isn't fair for you to use a cannon when we don't have one. If you don't cease firing the cannon, we will call off the battle and won't fight you any more."

So the side possessing the cannon discarded it.

In not dissimilar fashion the allies continue to pour into enemy countries foodstuffs and goods which indirectly, but very certainly, giv military aid and comfort.

SILENT SERVICE

LOS ANGELES, May 14. (AP) — The choir sang, the congregation joined with an amen and the pastor preached but not a sound was heard in the new church.

This was the Los Angeles Baptist Church for the Deaf, dedicated Sunday.

The choir of three men and two women "sang" in sign language. The congregation silently spoke "Amen" with their hands. And the Rev. Noble A. Hower preached with his hands.

GALLUP POLL

Poll Shows Ike More Popular Than Mac As 1952 Candidate

BY GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Instute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N.J., May 12—If the choice for President of the U.S. in 1952 lay between Gen. Douglas MacArthur and Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, the public today would prefer General Eisenhower.

This is revealed in a national public opinion survey by the Institute whose field interviewers talked personally to a representative cross - section of people from Maine to California.

Interviewing in this survey was begun shortly before General MacArthur took the witness stand before the Senate Armed Services Committee. It was compelled while the General was testifying and before the administration had offered its rebuttal arguments.

To find out which of these two highly popular military leaders—each a five-star General of the Army—would have the greater appeal to the voting public as a candidate for the Presidency, the Institute put this question to the voters interviewed:

"Which of these two men would you prefer as President —General MacArthur or General Eisenhower?"

The results :
Eisenhower	51
MacArthur	27
Neither	7
Undecided	13

Although he has emphatically denied having any political ambitions, MacArthur met cries of "Mac for President" everywhere during the recent mammoth parades in his honor.

General Eisenhower, like General MacArthur, has also given no indication of interest in political office. But an Institute survey last month found General Eisenhower to be the most popular choice of the rank and file of both the Democratic and Republican parties.

Mac a Good President?

The second question put to voters interviewed in today's survey dealt with the question as to whether people think General MacArthur would make a good President.

Despite the fact that MacArthur will be 72 at the time of next year's elections and that he has been a principal witness in the heated controversy in Washington, still more than one-third of the people think the dismissed general would make a good President.

The results show that even though General Eisenhower comes out first in today's Presidential "trial heat," there still are appreciably more people who believe that General MacArthur would make a good President beyond the number who say they would prefer him to Eisenhower.

This is shown in the following question put to voters:

"Do you think General MacArthur would or would not make a good President?"

Yes, declared	36 per cent.
No, said	55 per cent.
The rest,	9 per cent, were undecided.

Opinion on Dismissal

National opinion on the question whether President Truman should or should not have removed General MacArthur shows little change since the Institute survey on the subject reported in mid-April.

Here is the trend:

"Do you approve or disapprove of President Truman's action in removing General MacArthur?"

British Alert Parachutists

LONDON, May 14. (AP) — Britain has alerted its 16th Independent Parachute Brigade to ready itself for action, but has given no explanation for the order.

The brigades' 3,000 members were ordered to return to their headquarters barracks at Aldershot from training exercises.

The parachute troops are known as the "Fire Brigade" because they are used in emergencies.

Meanwhile, Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison, spending a Whitsuntide holiday on the Isle of Wight, suddenly cancelled a visit to the traveling Festival of Britain exhibit ship.

Homemaking Tops List For Federated Women's Clubs

By MARTHA COLE

HOUSTON, May 14. (AP) — Homemaking responsibilities still have No. 1 priority among the modern women of today.

Among the 20 resolutions to be presented to the 60th annual convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs is one to assure the protection of families during mobilization.

The majority of the 750,000 women in the 14,500 clubs that are members of the national federation are housewives and mothers.

Two thousand delegates from these clubs started gathering here today. Their convention opens formally tonight with a banquet.

Early arrivals are expecting a week of renewing acquaintances, attending study groups and listening to experts talk.

"Sometimes, though, we get some pretty heated discussion on our resolutions," said Miss Binnie Porter Harris of Key West, Fla.

The resolutions already have been distributed to the various clubs in the 48 states, the District of Columbia and Alaska. They will be presented to the convention Wednesday.

The first declares that "A devoted affirmation of faith in God is the world's greatest need." Others call for economic stabilization, punishment for strikes in essential industries during an emergency, universal military training administered by a majority of civil personnel and measures against Communist infiltration.

On protecting the family, the resolution declares that the "present and future strength of the United States is dependent upon the proper training of our youth and upon the protection of mothers and youth in the home." It asks that recruiting for industry be directed primarily to women with few homemaking responsibilities.

Mrs. Hiram Cole Houghton, national federation president, of Red Oak, Iowa, welcomed the junior federation delegates today with a reminder of just how far women have pushed back their horizons.

DEBATE ON LOVE

The first club in the federation, she said, was founded in 1836 in Jacksonville, Ill., and was called "The Ladies' Association for Educating Females."

"They studied for the first year Ripley's 'History of the Rise and Fall of Rationalism in Europe'," she said. "And then half way through the year, they decided it was to heavy and took up debates of common interest, and the first subject of any debate listed is "Resolved that One Woman Can Love Two Men at the Same Time and in The Same Way."

"And the woman who took the affirmative side almost lost her happy home!"

Women now are studying the United Nations, the Marshall Plan, the North Atlantic Pact and the reciprocal trade treaties, Mrs. Houghton said.

Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, May 14. (AP)—Podner, you'd never guess what happens to that there Randolph Scott in his latest movie show. He gets kissed.

I don't mean he gets kissed by his hoss, either. That's what happens to other movie cowpokes; they ain't supposed to have any sparkin', you see. But this wrangler Scott is defyin' the old tradition. He's even gettin' smacked by two gals — Joan Leslie and Ellen Drew. Right purty fillies, huh?

You might blame the whole thing on that newfangled television. Or so sez Harry Joe Brown, the feller who's producing the new Scott flicker, "Man in the Saddle."

"With so many westerns on television," the man sez, 'we have to give the public something more than a routine western. We have to give them a strong plot. That's what we've got in this picture. It's a story that could take place in the city, without the added values of world war and has 'em pegged to a system now.

"Western picture fans —and that includes just about everybody — have rigid requirements for what they see," he sez. "They want action. If you don't give them action often enough, they get restless.

"Our pictures generally run about eight reels and I lay out the pictures to have at least one piece of action in each reel. Say you have 15 sequences in the entire picture. At least seven of these have to be action.

"I wasn't surprised when Randy placed in the first 10 movie moneymakers this year," sez Brown. "I could have told people that by watching the money our pictures make. They play more U. S. theatres than nearly any other picture and their popularity overseas is amazing. The foreigners like having plenty of action and a plot they can easily follow."

Creswell Brothers' Suit For Damages Is Filed In Abilene

A $7,000 slander suit originally filed here against an Abilene pastor and a layman by the Rev. Earl Creswell, of Snyder and his brother, the Rev. Bob Creswell, of Hermleigh, has been filed in district court at Abilene.

It was filed in the 104th district court there after the court of civil appeals, Eastland, upheld the decision of A. S. Mauzey, district judge here, who granted the defendants transfer on a plea of privilege. Judge Mauzey, in a public courtroom hearing here last November, ruled in favor of the plaintiffs but the following day altered his decision before signing judgment.

ABILENE DEFENDANTS

The defendants are the Rev. J. B. Pruitt, pastor of the Bethel Baptist Church in Abilene, and O. T. Foster, a member of that church.

The plaintiffs allege that Mr. Pruitt, while moderator of the North Colorado Missionary Baptist Association last year, refused to allow them the rights to vote as messengers to an annual convention, refused them the right of free speech, that he and Foster prompted the body to exclude their churches from the association, and threatened to eject them from the meeting by a squad of Abilene policemen.

Messengers from the North Side Baptist Church were Earl Creswell and Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Hobbs. From the First Baptist Church of Hermleigh, messengers were Bob Creswell, J. L. Norris, and O. H. Culp. The meeting was held in the Bethel Church at Abilene.

The plaintiffs state in their petition that they as individuals could not constitutionally be excluded from the body since the association was composed of churches, rather than individual members or messengers. Their petition charge that the defendants "did without cause . . . speak and publish to and in the presence and hearing of about 125 persons defamatory words, to wit: 'Two men in our association are objection able and are not for the association and its policies and are not with us.'"

The plaintiffs allege further that when Earl Creswell protested the statement of the moderator on grounds that no messengers had yet been seated, Pruitt commanded him to sit down, asserting: "There is not going to be any trouble here this time. We're prepared for this. Go get those men" (meaning policemen).

The plaintiffs allege that Foster named Earl and Bob Creswell as the "objectionable men" and made a motion not to seat them. Earl Creswell then protested the motion on grounds that a charge would have to be made against the churches they represented and not against them as individuals.

The motion was then ammended to apply to the churches. "What are the charges against our churches?" Earl is quoted as asking.

"Same charges as against the pastors," the petition quotes Pruitt as answering.

VOTE TAKEN

The petition states that the moderator then called for a vote of those favoring the exclusion of the churches but that no opposing vote was allowed. It states also that the vote was not in order since no messengers had been seated at the time it was taken. The petition cites 11 votes for the motion.

The summation of the petition asserts the plaintiffs were injured in their good name, fame, reputation, and respectability. Each claims he was damaged $2,000 and special domages of $500 for loss in not being employed in revivals, and each asked $1,000 exemplary damages.

The firm of Park & Hollyhill, Snyder, is representing the Creswell brothers. The defendants are represented by Scarborough, Yates, Scarborough & Black, of Abilene.

MRS MARY FESMIRE, stopping to chat with me a minute, recalled that one year ago yesterday on Mother's Day, oil was struck on her 208 acres near Union, a "nice present", she thought. "In the early days when my husband was living, we often worried about no rain, but it always came, as it will this year. I don't bother to worry any longer. You'll find out it DOESN'T PAY"! Her son, LE ROY FESMIRE of San Angelo was with her over the week end, bringing as a house guest Mrs. Effie Whitley.
