Citizens Part In War Told At Defense Bond Banquet

The part that every man and woman and child in Collingsworth County can play to help win the war was re-emphasized Tuesday night, February 24, when community leaders met for a Defense Bond banquet and rally.

Guest speakers were Rev. Chas. T. Tally, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Childress, who will soon enter the U. S. Army as a chaplain, and R. F. Curry, Wellington postmaster.

Dick Wiley, county Defense Bond Chairman, was in charge of arrangements for the banquet, which was served by women of the Methodist Church.

Dr. E. W. Jones served as toastmaster for the occasion, and in a short introductory talk, urged the cheerful cooperation of the group in making the bond and stamp drive a success.

"I still believe we are going to do what is expected of us," Mr. Curry, who spoke first, told the group at the beginning of his talk. "There are three things we must know," he continued. "We must know what we want to do; we must know about our adversaries; and we must know about our own

Sgt. Turner is a brother of Doc Turner and Sam Turner. His mother, Mrs. T. J. Turner, now lives in Bend, Oregon.

He made his home here for approximately 14 years. He was a senior in the local high school in 1928, and later took a business course.

Upon entering the army he was stationed at Camp Roberts, Calif., where he remained until he was sent to Hawaii shortly after the outbreak of war.

Midnight Fire Destroys Livestock Auction Barn

Fire that broke out about midnight Tuesday night, Feb. 24, destroyed the building of the Wellington Livestock Auction Company, located at the northeast corner of the town section. In addition, a part of the lot fences adjoining the building were burned.

Owners of the Auction Company, Jess Deger, Ray Peeples, and Joe Rountree of Lutie, were not aware of the loss until Tuesday morning, when Mr. Deger arrived in town.

The loss was set by them at approximately $2,500, part of which was covered by insurance.

Several head of horses and cattle penned in the lots were saved when members of the local fire department tore down the high wooden fence to let them escape. Frightened by the blaze, the animals scattered, and all of them had not been located by the owners late Tuesday evening.

The blaze was discovered by Mrs. Shorty Lucas at about 12:30 o'clock and she immediately notified the fire department. The owners said they were unable to explain how the building caught unless it was from a gas stove located near that portion used as a cafeteria.

The regular weekly stock sale had been held in the building during the afternoon.

Work will begin in the near future. (Continued on Page Six)

School Census Listings Begin March First

Census enumerators to have charge of listing all scholastic students of the county were named this week by B. W. Beard, county superintendent. Actual enumeration will begin March 1.

As in the past, every child in the county between the ages of 6 and 18, inclusive, will be listed.

"We cannot urge too strongly that all patrons see that their children are enumerated. Every child missed means a loss to the school of your community, since the school apportionment is made on the basis of $22.50 per child," Mr. Beard said.

"The census trustees will call at every home, but it is still likely there will be some family that cannot be contacted. If this is the case, we ask that the patron contact his enumerator to list his children."

School census enumerators for the various school districts include:

Wellington, Mrs. J. A. Dukeminier; Samnorwood, E. G. Sanders; Buck Creek, J. A. Lancaster; Quail, Carl Chaudoin; Fresno, J. A. Killian; Elm Valley, H. G. Fitzgerald; Dodson, Mrs. B. C. City Teacher Contributes Time To Draft Board

Although her week's work is done Friday evening when she closes the typing lab at the Wellington High School, Miss Margaret Hix, local teacher, puts in another day's work as her voluntary contribution to her country.

Each Saturday, she contributes her time to the local Draft Board, where she takes care of all necessary office work.

"Of course, the Draft Board appreciates very much the work Miss Hix is doing. We get snowed under with work sometimes, and I don't know how we'd do without her," Ross Wilkerson, clerk, said recently.

Quail Boys And Girls Take Ball Championships

The old controversy of man's superiority over woman, or vice versa, couldn't be proved by the records of Quail High School's two championship basketball teams.

And here is why—The Quail Class B boys' basketball team was declared district champion Friday night, February 20, after caging the Groom Tigers with a score of 33-17 in the second game of a two-out-of-three series.

On Saturday night, February 21, the Quail girls' basketball team proved themselves just as capable as the boys when they defeated a smooth working quintet of Darrouzette girls by one point to cop the district title at the district tournament at Wheeler. Thus, they won the right to represent the eastern half of the Panhandle at the state tournament March 6 and 7.

Quail boys were district winners last year, but this is the first time for the girls' team, although they were runners-up in 1941.

The boys started this season with only one returning squadsmen and a new coach but have achieved a presentable record of sixteen wins and nine losses. C. R. Brown is their coach.

J. B. Riddle, girls' coach, with a team of polished veterans, has lost only three of 25 contests.

Quail School has always had outstanding teams, but this seems to be a record, as no other school in this section has won the district in both boys' and girls' divisions the same year, according to school administrators.

The girls will participate in the state meet at Hillsboro on March 6 and 7. The boys will play in the regional basketball meet February 27 and 28. The place for this meet had not been definitely determined Tuesday, but it will be either in Canyon or Lubbock.

Cooking Substitutes To Take Sting Out Of Sugar Rationing

The nation's sweet tooth is going to be disciplined by sugar rationing and housewives of the Wellington territory are dusting off recipes and ideas collected in World War I to try to make the rationing as painless as possible, Miss Rose Erisman, county home demonstration agent contributes the following suggestions to take the sting out of rationing.

"In the first place," says Miss Erisman, "let's don't get panicky because of the idea of rationing. Three fourths of a pound of sugar a week, about 1½ cups, amounts to a little over 10 teaspoons a day; and many of us may find that is more sugar than we are in the habit of using."

In the second place, most of us can get along on less sugar than we are using, and never feel the loss at all. According to bulletins of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, such foods as whole grain cereals, starch vegetables and dried fruits supply the same energy as sugar and can be substituted in many cases. Those of us who do not work at hard physical labor need little of the quick energy supplied by sugar.

Here are some other suggestions contributed by Miss Erisman.

Stir That Coffee

Keep a weather eye open for out-and-out sugar wastes. One of the most obvious sugar wastes, of course, is the undissolved sugar in the bottom of a cup of coffee or tea. Other sugar wastes are over-sweetened foods, cake failures, or failures of any product that contains sugar.

Next, cut down on sugar in less noticeable ways. Experiment to see if the amount of sugar you have been putting on your breakfast cereal or in your coffee is just a matter of habit—whether you could be just as happy with half a teaspoon or so less. If the breakfast cereal is topped with dried fruit, you need less sugar than for plain cereal.

Take a tip from children's diets, says Miss Erisman, little sugar is given to a child early in life so he can learn to like the natural tastes of foods. And his sweets are kept simple, served to him either for dessert or just shortly after a meal. Sweets tend to take the edge off of the appetite, to make children or adults less hungry for foods they really need.

Substitute Natural Sweeteners

Substitute natural sweets, canned fruits, dried fruits and puddings made with raisins or dates, for rich pastries and very sweet cakes.

Also remember that white refined sugar can be supplemented with other naturally sweet foods. Available now are honey, cane syrups, molasses, sorghum, corn syrup and maple syrup. Molasses, cane syrups and sorghum contain a good deal of calcium and iron.

Measurement Suggestions

When honey is used to sweeten, it may be used instead of sugar, cup for cup, for it is of about equal sweetness. If you use honey in cake or quickbreads, you have to make other allowances. A formula worked out for honey substitution by the Bureau of Home Economics is this:

If you substitute medium thick honey for all sugar in a cake or quickbread, reduce the liquid in the recipe one-half. If you substitute medium thick honey for half the sugar in a cake or quickbread, reduce one-fourth. Bake all cakes and quickbreads at a moderate temperature to prevent too rapid browning and to keep the good honey flavor.

Syrups are even better than white sugar for sweetening certain types of cakes—especially gingerbreads and spice cakes, and cakes made with syrups tend to be heavier than sugar cakes and they usually stay moist longer. Syrups, like honey, may be used for sweetening on cereals, in puddings, sandwich fillings and sauces. It takes about 1½ cups of these syrups to equal 1 cup of sugar in sweetness.

Many Uses For Corn Syrup

Corn syrup is half as sweet as sugar. It may also be used as the only sweetening in many ways. When it is used in beverages, puddings and sauces in place of sugar, the other liquids in the recipe must be reduced by one-fourth.

Corn syrup may be used in standard recipes for muffins, plain cake and drop cookies. The corn syrup may be substituted, measure for measure, for the sugar specified, and the liquid in the recipe reduced one-third. These products are less sweet than those made with sugar. The cakes are especially good if served as a cottage pudding with a sauce or with a sweet icing. The cookies are good frosted or unfrosted and served as accompaniments to a dish of sweetened fruit or pudding.

Corn syrup may also be used in candies, icings and mousses but for these, special recipes are necessary.

In other words, it may take ingenuity to outwit the sugar shortage, but nobody is going to suffer seriously from the rationing.

Be Good to your Electric Appliances and they'll be good to you!

We're ALL soldiers and in the army NOW. And that means new responsibilities.

For us, our salesmen no longer blithely offer you this or that appliance. We must advise that you take good care of your electric refrigerator, your washing machine, your sweeper, radio, food mixer, and every other appliance. The factories that make these marvelous time and labor-saving servants are being turned to the manufacture of war materials. Be good to these appliances—and they'll be good to you.

It is true that meats shrink less and vegetables lose less of their vitamins with electric cooking. It is true that there is less food spoilage with electric refrigeration. It is true that the electric washing machine, the sweeper, and the food mixer all have greatly relieved women of tiresome, unnecessary household drudgery and save time and energy for wartime work. And it is true that both workers' and children's eyes show less strain when the lighting is good.

So, as soldiers fighting for our American way of living, it is our duty to provide electric service for all these things which are normal in peacetime and imperative in wartime.

Hence, it is proper also to urge that you keep your electric appliances in good condition... get longer wear out of them.

Whenever needed, ask the advice of our servicemen. They, too, are in the war... rendering an essential service.

Work On East To West Roads Moving Fast

Rapid progress on construction of both Highways 203 and 52 was reported this week by H. T. Cunningham, resident engineer for the State Highway Department. Both roads are under contract to be surfaced, and upon completion this county will have a hard surface road from east to west for practically the entire distance across the county.

Dirt work is now under way on Highway 203, running from Quail to Wellington. Laying of the crushed rock base is due to begin in about two weeks, Mr. Cunningham said. Between 20 and 30 men are at work on this road.

Ernest Lloyd of Fort Worth has the contract for this job, while Mr. McBride is superintendent in charge of construction.

Approximately two miles of gravel base has been laid down on Highway 52, from Wellington east to the Oklahoma line. This road is being built as a joint project of the state and WPA. Approximately 60 men are now working on this road, Mr. Cunningham said.

No detouring is necessary on either road at present.

American College Students have united and are calling for an immediate place in the war effort, student opinion surveys conducted by the University of Texas on a nation-wide scale indicate.

Mrs. Jean Knox, 33, is the only female major general in the British Army, and heads the auxiliary territorial service, composed of women.

A Week Of The War

Secretary of War Stimson told his press conference this nation is confronted with a situation in which we cannot "buy our way out or produce our way out," and the only way left is to "fight our way out by intelligent offensive action." Every effort is being made to build powerful armed forces, he said, and when conditions warrant, they will "seize every opportunity" to strike at the enemy. In the meantime, the U. S. must be prepared to take sporadic attacks along its coasts, Mr. Stimson said, because "if we scatter our forces for the defensive, it is the surest way to defeat."

President Roosevelt told his press conference that under certain conditions enemy planes could bomb cities as far inland as Detroit, or enemy ships could shell New York City. Congress completed action on the $10,000,000 appropriation for the Office of Civilian Defense, to provide fire-fighting equipment, gas masks, protective clothing and emergency medical supplies.

Assistant Secretary of State Berle, speaking in Des Moines, Iowa, said the U. S. is determined to fight an aggressive war, rather than a defensive one, and "the fruits of victory will be available to every free people throughout the world." Mr. Berle said "We can no longer think of ourselves as a supply base. . . . Our work is more than that of making guns and planes and tanks. Winning the war is now America's job." He said all signs point to big offensives this spring against the United States.

Foreign Relations

President Roosevelt announced a new loan to Russia is planned because the original Lend-Lease authorization of a billion dollars has been obligated for future deliveries. Commitments for making American war materials available to Russia were maintained up to schedule until December 7. Delivery of supplies for the Soviet Union slowed down in December and January, he said, but will be brought back up to schedule by March 1. Under Secretary of State Welles said answers from the Vichy Government to this country in regard to French aid to Axis forces in North Africa were considered unsatisfactory. Mr. Welles said the French Ambassador had reported, however, no commitments have been made by the French to Japan in regard to Madagascar.

Production And Conversion

The War Production Board announced war production of the "big three" automobile companies—General Motors, Chrysler and Ford—will be running at a rate of almost $11 billion when they reach peak production on present orders. The companies will need 900,000 to 1,000,000 workers as compared with a peacetime peak of 550,000. The Board said war expenditures authorized by Congress, including pending bills and Lend-Lease, totaled $145 billion on February 15. Chairman Nelson issued a set of regulations regarding the employment of dollar-a-year men by the Government. The Army Ordnance Department ordered ordnance chiefs in the 13 districts of the U. S. to provide engineering assistance to small manufacturers whose plants could be converted to arms production.

Army

The House passed and sent to the Senate the new $32 billion War Appropriation Bill which provides $23 billion for the Army and more than $5 billion for Lend-Lease. The Senate passed a bill to authorize payment of allotments for one year to dependents of military personnel captured or listed as missing. Voluntary enlistments in January totaled 90,000—double the highest World War I figures. The Army announced formation of the 1st Filipino Infantry Battalion at Camp San Luis Obispo, Calif., to provide loyal Filipinos a means of serving in the U. S. armed forces and eventual opportunity of fighting in their homeland. The War Department reported American pilots in the Chinese Air Forces "are giving Japanese airmen their worst licking of the war . . . knocking down more than 10 Jap planes for every loss" of their own. The Army Signal Corps is seeking civilian engineers to fill radio and telephone positions in Civil Service jobs paying $2,600 to $3,800 annually.

Selective Service Headquarters announced new Army physical standards for inductees will permit reclassification as Class 1-A of thousands of men now deferred due to teeth and eye defects. SS Director Hershey instructed local draft boards to defer labor leaders and Government labor liaison men to permit continuance of their work in aiding war production and to defer men engaged in maintenance of essential agricultural activities. Men registered February 16 will be called for induction only after local boards have exhausted their existing lists, he said. A lottery in March will determine the order of classification and induction. Questionnaires on vocational experience will be sent to every registrant who has not yet been called for service.

The War Front

Gen. MacArthur reported continuous fighting on the Bataan Peninsula and battery attacks on the fortifications throughout the week. The Navy announced the destroyer Shaw, previously reported lost at Pearl Harbor December 7, arrived at a U. S. West coast port, is being repaired and within a few weeks will be in service again on the high seas. A U. S. tanker was torpedoed in the Atlantic area, while U. S. forces inflicted enemy losses which included: 10 planes, one large and one small enemy transport and one 5,000-ton cargo ship sunk, and two enemy barges destroyed.

Navy

Navy Secretary Knox said the Navy, operating over three-fourths of the globe under the heaviest burden in its history, must now protect U. S. shores and coastal commerce, strategic areas vital to our defense, the American Republics, and the flow of supplies to Great Britain. It must check Japanese aggression until "we can muster our forces and send it hurtling back whence it came."

The Navy announced launching of a battleship, four destroyers and a submarine chaser. The Navy said 1,000 Naval and Marine Corps officers and enlisted men and 1,200 civilians in the Pacific war area presumably were taken prisoners of war by the Japanese after Dec. 7. The Portland, Oregon, recruiting office topped all others in January with 114 enlistments for each 100,000 persons in its area. The nation's schools started work on a program to make 500,000 accurate scale models of United Nations' and enemy warplanes for U. S. naval, military and civilian defense forces.

The Chief of Naval Operations ordered representatives of local Naval District Commandants to arrange with ship owners to do preliminary work when ships are in port loading or unloading to speed arming of American merchant vessels. The House passed and sent to the Senate the War Appropriation Bill providing nearly $4 billion to expand the merchant fleet. The Senate passed a bill authorizing an additional $100,000,000 appropriation for expanded Navy manufacturing and production facilities.

Rationing

Price Administrator Henderson announced three consumers forms for sugar rationing are expected to be printed and distributed by March 6. He said there will be two registrations for rationing cards, one for housewives and another for small commercial users. Petroleum Coordinator Ickes said nation-wide rationing of petroleum products may be necessary if other methods fail to prevent shortages on both coasts. He announced regulations governing sales of fuel oil to all East coast consumers to keep stocks at a reasonable minimum and to prevent hoarding. The Justice Department said it is prepared to prosecute all violators of wartime industrial regulations including priorities, allocation, rationing and price control.

Protection From Sabotage

President Roosevelt authorized the Secretary of War to move out of vital defense areas any persons believed inimical to the U. S. war effort—citizens and aliens alike. Attorney General Biddle said the FBI has apprehended almost 4,000 alien enemies since the outbreak of the war. Approximately one-third of these are Japanese from California, Oregon and Washing-

R. L. King Goes To Vernon Bank

R. L. King, who for the last seven years has been associated with the City State Bank in Wellington, left recently for Vernon, where he became teller of the First State Bank in that city. His family accompanied him to Vernon.

Mr. King formerly lived in Vernon, and worked in a bank there before coming to the City State Bank.

He had spent practically all of his life, however, in Collingsworth County, and was widely known throughout this entire area. Both Mr. and Mrs. King were active in the work of the Methodist Church. Mr. King has for several years been a member of the Board of Stewards.

Mrs. King was reared at Vernon.

Former Resident Nurse In German Retention Camp

Mrs. Harry Simms of Roswell, N. M., was called recently to Fort Stanton, N. M., to serve as a nurse in the detention camp maintained by the government for German war prisoners.

Mrs. Simms was formerly Miss Oleta Mae Graham of Wellington, the daughter of Mrs. T. E. Graham of Dallas, who has been visiting here.

Approximately 400 prisoners were stricken ill because of eating bad meat. Four additional doctors and 10 nurses were called to the camp to care for them, Mrs. Graham said.

Southwestern Life Shows Continued Gains Says Forbis

With a gain of $24,077,074 for 1941, Southwestern Life Insurance Company enters the new year with $405,210,008 insurance in force, C. F. O'Donnell, president, reports in the 39th annual financial statement to policyholders.

Copy of the report was received here today by the company's local representative, J. T. Forbis.

The continued progress of the Texas institution records numerous items indicative of the financial strength of Southwestern Life.

Assets are $80,618,343.61 reflecting an increase of $7,203,213.84 for 1941—a gain of $977,304.50 over the increase reported for 1940, which was the largest in the company's history.

The company continued its enviable record of never having had a default of either interest or principal on any bond owned by it. The report also shows that the company carries no real estate in excess of current market value and that it continued to earn a rate of interest during 1941 in excess of 4 per cent.

During the past year, the company continued to pioneer innovations in the field of legal reserve life insurance business. At its annual agency convention held in Galveston during last June, Mr. O'Donnell announced a retirement program for agents which has been nationally acclaimed as one of the leading pension plans to be adopted in the industry. The company began a sales training program for new agents in 1940 which has attained enviable results, and the institution was one of the first to inaugurate a salary plan for new salesmen, as an income floor to guarantee revenue beneath which they would not fall during their first year in the business.

The company confines its business to the state of Texas and aside from its investments in United States government securities, practically all of its investments are in Texas.

Since 1903, the 39th annual report shows that Southwestern Life has paid out to policyholders and beneficiaries $76,597,298.15.

SOLDIER'S LIFE

... As Soldiers See It

Hdq. Camp Beauregard, Camp Beauregard, La., February 20, 1942.

Wellington Leader, Wellington, Texas,

Dear Deck:

I have missed The Leader very much lately. I have been under "Confidential" orders for some time and could not divulge my address. I have completed my mission and am at Camp Beauregard, La. I think I will be here for some time.

I think you are doing a great work for the morale of the soldiers from Collingsworth County by sending them The Leader free, which I am afraid will become quite a burden. Feel free to bill me any time for The Leader. Anyway, keep the paper coming.

Your friend,

Capt Wood Coleman, Infantry Hdq., Camp Beauregard.

Camp Roberts, Calif. Btry C, 53rd F. A. February 15, 142

Mr. Deck Wells, Wellington Leader, Wellington, Texas, Dear Sir:

It gets pretty lonesome out here in the hills at times, so I thought I'd write you and ask if you'd please send me your wonderful paper. I know it would help cheer me up a lot. My address is:

Pvt. Travis V. Brown, 38082063 Btry C, 53rd F. A. Camp Roberts.

Deck, you may put this letter in your paper if you wish.

I am in the 53rd Field Artillery Training Battalion. We have been drilling on all kinds of marches, 155 m.m. Howitzer Cannons, gas masks, and truck driving, also rifle drills.

I like the Army life fine.

Tell everyone "hello" for me, Deck, and that I'm going to fight for good old Collingsworth County.

I'm hoping to receive the Wellington Leader by return mail, so please don't disappoint me, Deck.

Thanking you in advance.

Your soldier friend,

Vernon Brown.

369 School Squadron Scott Field, Illinois

Dear Deck:

I am here at Scott Field, Illinois, plugging out the routine life of a soldier.

As you probably already know I enlisted in the Army Air Corps. I have been sent here to Scott Field to study radio, and what I mean, to study.

They give a twenty-two week course in eighteen weeks now, which in reality is a compact course of nine months. Our motto is "Time is Short," so you can see why one does have to study.

I receive so very little actual news from Wellington and immediate vicinity that I am losing out on the social and domestic news of livelihood there, so I would like very much to have the Wellington Leader around so that I could keep posted.

Give my regards to your wife and your personnel.

Sincerely yours,

James E. Abel

Courage Of England's Men Is Highpoint As

Templeton Tells Of RCAF

Sergeant-pilot R. L. Templeton, Wellington youth who for the last nine months has been training with the Royal Canadian Air Force, visited in Wellington last week with his mother, Mrs. R. H. Templeton, before going into active duty with the Royal Air Force.

Dressed in the smart grey uniform of the Canadian pilots, Templeton recounted his experiences—so far as he is not forbidden by the Canadian government—that in less than a year have developed him into a pilot of Britain's giant bombers.

"I've trained all over Canada. I started in Vancouver, went on to Brandon, Manitoba, and I'll end up in Nova Scotia," he said.

"Snow was waist deep when I left Canada, but I get colder here than I did there," he explained, adding that altitude and humidity made the difference.

Training with Templeton have been men from many parts of the world—slender English youths from factories and offices—big Australians whose fighting prowess has been compared to that of Texans—New Zealanders—known for their sportsmanship. And for everyone of them Templeton expressed his admiration.

Especially was he impressed by the courage of the Englishmen. "They're not much to look at, but they fight for the love of the fight, even if they're getting whipped."

The Wellington youth spoke modestly of his own accomplishments, but he did reveal that no one, not even the big Australians, could lick him when it came to boxing.

Sgt.-pilot Templeton spoke seriously when the conversation turned to America.

"There's nothing I'd like better than to be fighting with the United States Air Corps. There's not an American in the entire Royal Canadian Air Force but feels the same. But there's just so much red tape that has to be cut before we can make the change, and meanwhile we're under orders," he stated.

During his stay here R. L. visited those boys and girls who have been his friends since childhood, before leaving Monday for Canada and active war duty.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

My wife tells me that Dick Wiley, who just completed a successful Red Cross drive, did a splendid job in promoting the Defense Bond banquet. She was also vocal in her opinion that Elmore Dodson, Rev. Charles T. Tally, Dr. E. W. Jones and R. F. Curry rendered quite a service, each in their own individual way, in behalf of getting our part of the war program in full swing. Her opinion is rather simple. She thinks we are fighting—not for democracy, not for Britain, not for China, not for Russia, not for a way of life, but that we are fighting to live. She thinks we will fight and keep on fighting.

We would like to receive pictures of every man from Collingsworth County who is in the armed forces. We have some of them, but we would like to have a picture of each one. If you have a son, brother or husband serving in the Army, Navy, or Marines we will appreciate it if you will help us get his picture. I would also like to ask the men in the armed forces who are receiving this paper to help us. Send us your picture. We would prefer a new one.

They tell this one on a Texan who was sent to a training camp in California: He was asked: "Are you from Texas or the United States?"

The tendency of the average Texan to speak in his "modest" fashion of his native state may cause a few fist fights, but the truth is there is something for them to talk about. It is astonishing to consider the number of Texans in the armed forces.

I do not know whether I will eat two bowls of chili for supper again or not. Anyhow I had a bad night. The first part of the night I lay half asleep and half awake writing mental paragraphs. In one of these I wrote or dreamed that Australia and Texas had served a joint notice on London and Washington. The gist of it was that if London did not send immediate help to Australia that the Commonwealth would withdraw its armed men to protect the land where they lived. That was the Australian part. The Texas part consisted of a demand on Washington that the strikes and labor trouble be stopped now or else the Republic of Texas would withdraw its sailors, soldiers, aviators and marines from the Alliance. Of course, you understand that this was only a dream and in dreams one writes with much more diplomacy and at the same time much more force than on white paper.

The second part of the night—after I ate the chili—is of no significance except that I did have great nightmares. They might be considered the reverse of the adventures of "Superman" and "Sparky." I chased spies and aliens and saboteurs all over Collingsworth County and from New York to California. Once I chased a whole bunch down a road that resembled that sub-irrigated part of the Mangum road, but I simply couldn't run. (I finally woke up and found that my foot was asleep.) After that I crept up on a whole bunch of the lousy beings who were sitting in a circle plotting against the United States. By fortunate circumstances, known only to dreams, I had a grenade in my hand. I pulled out the plug, drew back my arm and I could not throw it. I braced my legs this way and that way, I leaned backward and forward, but still I could not make the dead wing throw the grenade that was in my hand. (You guessed it. I woke up to find my head on my right arm and my arm was asleep.) Perhaps I had better go see a doctor about the circulation of my blood.

FIRESIDE POSE

Local people who are in charge of collecting waste paper request your help. A place has been arranged on the southeast corner of the courthouse lawn for you to deposit the old paper. But they ask that you tie it in bundles instead of dumping it in the sacks. They are giving their time and a lot of it. Why not give a small amount of your own in co-operating with them.

If you want to do something start taking the first aid classes that are being held each Monday and Thursday night at the Wellington high school. I understand that this type of work is considered vital in every community. Here in Wellington it is being taught by experts. If enough register a second course will start in the near future. Watch for the dates.

Lieutenant Binder Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Moore, is in Java. He is in the Army Air Forces. This simple local means that more aid is being sent to the far-east than many of us realize.

Things happen while I am writing this column. Austin Gammel has just sent me a double banana split. Is he "teched" in the head? I do not want a banana split—I want chili. I gave the gift to the printers and they said it was excellent.

They tell me that many congressmen are so angry over the publicity the papers gave their pension grab while the nation was at war and while our young men are fighting for $21 a month and while Congress is afraid to settle the labor bottleneck for the duration that these same congressmen intend to try to take it out on the newspapers. They are contemplating cutting off certain mailing privileges the weekly papers have in their home counties and only in their home counties. If they do that, there is going to be another row about the franking the congressmen enjoy. This means mailing stuff at government expense. By this they campaign for reelection at the expense of the taxpayers.

Wholewheat comprises only three percent of all the flour sold in the United States, notwithstanding that the whole grain contains three times more phosphorus, four times as much iron and eight times as much vitamin B. Both have the same number of calories.

Miss Gibbs Is Kiwanis Speaker

Miss Allegra Gibbs, who is in charge of adult education in Wellington High School, was a guest speaker Friday at the regular Kiwanis luncheon. Miss Gibbs discussed the part of the schools in national defense.

Taking up the different departments, she outlined the work of each.

The departments of the school named by Miss Gibbs as contributing to defense were homemaking, vocational agriculture, commercial training, physical education and health, English and other languages, music, science and mathematics, and the social sciences.

Later she told of the part the faculty members are contributing through their leadership, their Red Cross and Defense bond activities, and through their promotion of patriotism in the school.

He further said: "I will greatly appreciate the consideration and active support of the people of precinct 4 and will do my best to justify your confidence."

In answering the question: What Have You to Give? Mr. Curry stressed time. The work of selling bonds, he believed, is just as necessary as fighting. As a closing thought, Mr. Curry asked, "What are we going to do about it?"

Rev. Talley, after tracing the history of the flag, pointed out that this nation has never felt the sting of ultimate defeat. "We are equal to any other man. Our flag has never been lowered for another flag," he continued.

Stressing that America must never have anyone to dictate to her, Rev. Talley said pointedly: "The only thing that can bring defeat is division in our own ranks."

"Buy bonds to help remove war from our globe," he urged in closing.

Following the talks, Dr. Jones presented Idell Smith, high school typing student, with an award of Defense Stamps for writing the best letter used in notifying community chairmen of the Defense Bond meeting.

Elmore Dodson, pioneer of this area, made a brief inspirational talk relative to the present situation.

Registering at the meeting were T. J. Way, E. J. Smith, W. W. Breeding, W. E. Childers, J. L. Hess, Miss Margaret Hix, Miss Idell Smith, Mrs. Deskins Wells, Wallace O'Rear, J. F. Skaggs, Carl Chaudoin, Joe Rountree, John L. Beard, Guss Gooch, E. G. Sanders, R. L. Porter, Sr., J. L. Light, Bud Manzer, S. R. Pinkston, Dr. Chas. B. Jones, T. C. Crabtree, Dr. E. W. Jones, Dick Wiley, Rev. Talley, Jett E. Roberts, R. F. Curry, Mrs. Pink Sullivan, Mrs. W. R. Orr, Mrs. Walter Campbell, Mrs. John Coleman, U. E. Kelly, D. C. Lacy, Joe Thompson, Mr. Dodson and J. I. Ammons.

Members of the department said the origin of neither fire was known.

One other man from this area was included on the list from the Navy Department. He is Jacob Max Sanders, a private first class with the U. S. Marine Corps and at the time of attack was serving at Wake Island.

It was pointed out that because of the interruption of communications and the eliminating of contact entirely when various outposts were overwhelmed, the Navy Department cannot have absolute information of the exact status of all individuals who were serving in the armed forces or civilians who were engaged on these Pacific Island outposts.

However, from information that had been available up to the time or near the time of the capture of some of the groups, and from the rosters of personnel serving at the different places, it is presumed that those not otherwise accounted for are prisoners of war.

LUBBOCK.—Miss Erlene Dowell of Quail represented home economics organizations at Texas Technological college in a spring style show Wednesday evening. Miss Dowell modelled sports and play costumes.

Army Bayonets Housed In Cotton

Dover, N. H.—While one group of chemists have been busy perfecting new high explosives for the War Department, other scientists have turned their attention to solving another military problem—that of providing soldiers with stronger, lighter and less expensive bayonet scabbards.

A manufacturer here has just begun production of new scabbards made of heavy cotton duck impregnated with a plastic called Cellulose acetate-butyrate. The scabbards used heretofore consisted of a wooden shell encased in rawhide and canvas. Officials point out that the new scabbard is stronger than the old bayonet holder and decreases slightly the overall weight carried by an infantryman.

Editorial

By GENE A. HOWE
In The Amarillo News

The most over-worked word in the English language right now is complacency. Most every one who writes and everyone who talks in public uses it as a verbal invigorant to stir up the people to the fact that not only are we engaged in war but we are being given a good and thorough whipping for the time being.

But I maintain that among the average run of people out on the plains of Texas there is much, much less complacency than right here in certain circles in Washington. Our Texas boys are enlisting by the thousands, our Texas people are falling all over themselves in buying bonds, and they also are following all of the instructions and suggestions of their leaders at Washington. Texas, you know, leads the nation in enlistments, per capita, and in the purchase of bonds, in proportion to purchasing power; and the sensational fighting of our lads in the Orient is the talk of our nation.

With one big exception it is my opinion that the administration and the army and navy are doing everything humanly possible to get ready for any and all eventualities. We are far, far better prepared than the alarmists and the critics and the isolationists will admit.

Some small incidents are being over-exploited by the enemies of the administration and by those who seek the headlines of the newspapers. The hiring of the fan dancers and of the movie heroes came of something that was started before actual war was declared and when the government was spending money in most every possible way to pump it into circulation. Many men in business have enthusiastic, eager wives who sometimes attempt to be helpful to their husbands but who sometimes only create confusion by their impracticalness. This is about all the Mrs. Roosevelt rookus in the OCD amount to. But it did actually slacken up the sale of war bonds and it did provide much stinging ammunition for those who are gunning for the administration. It was unfortunate in its effects but of trivial significance.

However, there is one enormous white elephant looming larger and larger and which is of grave concern to so many millions of patriotic Americans who are trying so hard to do as they should do in this great and terrible emergency. It is something that is really damaging to our morale both at home and abroad and which is affording solace and hope to both the Japanese and the Germans. This white elephant is the labor situation in the industrial centers where labor has won such great victories in higher wages and better working conditions.

The true facts are that while our soldiers and sailors are being shot to pieces, sacrificed in so many instances because of lack of modern and adequate combat material, thousands of our workmen continue to walk out on strikes upon the slightest provocation. In Detroit recently tens of thousands of men making arms for our fighters threw down their tools and walked out from their work because one workman belonging to one union, had slapped the face of another workman belonging to another union.

It's disgraceful that such childishness is tolerated. Those responsible for such a treasonable outrage should be thrown in jail. An example should be made of them. Congress should and must pass a law prohibiting strikes in war industries for the duration of the war. If this is not done, there will be a great doubt in the minds of so many thinking people as to the ability of the present administration to win the war. Such walk-outs are not permitted in Germany or Japan or in England, for that matter. They were not squashed with an iron hand in France and where is France at this writing?

What happens in the army when one soldier slaps the face of another soldier? Why the two of them go out behind a tent or dugout and they slug it out toe to toe, and after one has had enough, they go back to their job of fighting. They don't call out the whole army from the trenches or the fortifications and tell them to cease fighting and to take it easy until one of the soldiers is made to apologize to the other.

This labor situation has become serious and there is a complacency among administration and congressional labor circles that it is beyond the understanding of most American citizens. The truth is that the Roosevelt administration is a labor administration. The liberal labor groups, led by Roosevelt, have taken over the Democratic party and it is their party. To those who believe in true democracy all well and good, but all citizens of every race and creed and political affiliation can well insist, in this time of national peril, that labor meet this responsibility of leadership and that all elements of labor must accept the virtue of real sacrifice when it becomes necessary and imperative.

Millions of our young men are being taken into our fighting services to risk and to give their lives to their country. The feeling among these youngsters as to the strikes and demands for higher wages, in vital industries, is becoming increasingly acute and bitter. After the war they will have much to say and if something isn't done as to these strikes they will come back with chips on their shoulders that cannot help but create more national disunity in the reconstruction period.

Yes, there is danger of our losing the war. We may lose it as France did. If Congress hasn't the courage to back up our courageous young men who are fighting breast to breast with the Japs and the Germans, anything may happen. A soldier at the front, according to all just and decent laws of man, should have as much right to strike as a workman who is supplying him with his arms and ammunition. If this isn't patriotism, if this isn't Americanism, God help America.

Folic acid, a vitamin discovered recently by a Texas scientist, is a member of the family of B vitamins. It was so named because of its abundance in leaves.

Thanks to American food shipped to Britain under the lend-lease act, people of the United Kingdom are not near the starvation or even the real hunger state, but they are still far from enjoying the plenty to which Americans are accustomed.

In the United States there were surprised howls in restaurants when the open sugar bowl disappeared and a small ration of sugar was dished out for the traditional cup of "cawfee." Long ago in Britain the sugar ration was two tiny pieces for coffee, three for a pot of tea. The butter or margarine ration was a piece about the size of a quarter and not much thicker. Meat ration per person for a week was not much more than the average American eats in two meals.

A survey by the U. S. Department of Agriculture shows that from the spring of 1941 until the Japs attacked Pearl Harbor, there was a definite improvement in the British food situation. From now on, the problem of feeding the British will be more difficult. If we can get the ships, we have the food.

Something over $100,000,000 worth of foods rich in proteins, vitamins and minerals—evaporated milk, cheese, eggs and egg products, dried and canned fruits and vegetables, lard and pork products—have been sent over.

But average British civilian consumption of some foods is still considerably below that of pre-war years. Figures were between 60 and 70 per cent of pre-war level in meat consumption; 40 per cent in sugar; and only 33 per cent in eggs. But consumption of bread, potatoes and vegetables was at least 10 per cent above pre-war levels.

The British government helps the poor man's pocketbook by subsidies designed to keep down the retail prices of important foodstuffs like flour and bread.

Never Lost

A school teacher, in Dundee, was giving her class of young pupils a test on a recent natural history lesson.

"Now, Sandy McDorm," she said, "You're a banker's son, tell me where the elephant is found."

The boy hesitated for a moment, then his face lighted up. "The elephant, teacher, he said, 'is such a large animal it is scarcely ever lost.'—Efficiency Magazine.

A man walked reluctantly into a hat store.

The customer gazed at it speculatively. "What I want," he said reluctantly, "is something a little more tender. I've got to eat it."—The Office Cat.

Final Rites For Elisha Brewer Held Saturday

Elisha Brewer, 59-year-old retired farmer, died Thursday morning, February 19, at his home in Wellington. Although he had been in ill health for several years, his death came as a surprise to many of his friends over the county.

Funeral services were conducted at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon from the First Baptist Church, with Rev. J. P. Neal in charge. Pall bearers for the service were Freeman Gilbreath, Bob Bowen, D. W. Harris, R. H. Isbell, L. J. Jones, and Harry Creed. Flower bearers were Verna Lee Harris, Marie Shields, Texene Shields and Eva Creed.

Hymns included "Never Grow Old," and "Does Jesus Care," and "Farther Along," by O. B. Wilson, George Brewer, Winfield Brewer and Cecil Craven, with Mrs. J. P. Cummings as accompanist. Interment was in the Wellington Cemetery with the Ellis Funeral Home in charge.

Mr. Brewer was a native of Missouri, where he was born February 8, 1883, but half of his life had been spent in Collingsworth County. He was one of the early settlers in the Lillie area, and later lived at Roundup.

He engaged in farming until about two years ago, when he moved to Wellington.

Mr. Brewer was converted and joined the Baptist Church at Lillie about 30 years ago. He remained a faithful member, although in recent years ill health had kept him from attending services regularly. During the years he had lived in the county, Mr. Brewer had gained a host of friends who loved and respected him.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Elisha Brewer of Wellington, and nine children who are: Mrs. J. M. Reynolds of Myrtle, Mo., Mrs. H. E. Obenhaus of Muleshoe, Mrs. Ira Welborn, Dave Brewer, Mrs. Emanuel Miles, Wade Brewer, Mrs. Jahue Creed, Hanford Brewer and Louella Brewer of Wellington.

Other survivors are several grandchildren and a brother and three sisters, Willis Brewer of Bonham, Mrs. Virgie Campbell of Myrtle, Mo., Mrs. Ethel Lewis of Clovis, New Mexico, and Mrs. Lois Phillips of White Deer.

It's Your Life! Safety Pointers

By GEORGE CLARKE, Director Texas Safety Association.

Are your feet killing you? Maybe they aren't yet—but one out of every four persons killed in traffic accidents this year have walked to their deaths.

Among the objectives of the December Traffic Safety Emergency Campaign is the prevention of 52 pedestrian deaths which are expected under the present accident trend.

Thirty-one of the pedestrian fatalities are expected to occur on city streets. Twenty-one are due along the rural highways.

The main reason for these deaths will be that the pedestrian forgot to be careful. Unless in extreme cases such as in drunken driving, the machine isn't going to seek out the pedestrian. The latter, through carelessness, usually puts himself into a hazardous position. At night when the majority of rural pedestrian fatalities occur, the victim might have avoided the accident had he worn something white that would reflect the beams of the approaching headlights.

A good rule to follow for any highway walker is to use the left side of the highway, facing traffic.

The best rule for the city pedestrian is to "watch while you walk." Never depend on the driver. Play it safe.

And then, maybe, your feet won't kill you!

Before the war only 37 percent of England's food was produced on the British Isles; today the figure is around 60 percent. Usually the Isles have around 12 million acres of land in cultivation; in 1941, some 16 million acres were put under the plow.

United Gas Wins Trophy

By leading all other gas companies in Division II, which is composed of gas utility companies of similar size throughout the United States and Canada, United Gas Corporation, winner of the 1940 CP Ranger Club Victory Trophy, has again been awarded this symbol of outstanding sales activity, Mr. R. W. Lindsey, district manager of the company, announced this week.

Sponsored by American Gas Association, the CP Ranger Club has for several years provided national recognition, cash, and honor awards for Gas Company and Dealer salesmen, and awards for individual gas companies who compiled the best CP gas range sales records.

During 1941, 132 gas companies representing more than eight and one-half million domestic meters and eight thousand gas company and dealer salesmen, both utility and leader, qualified as members of the CP Ranger Club.

"The accomplishment of the local Gas Company in again winning the trophy for the greatest number of company and dealer CP Range sales per 1,000 one-, two- and three-family domestic meters, was made possible by the wholehearted cooperation of dealers and their salesmen in this territory," Mr. Lindsey said.

Final Rites For Bob Jolly Are Held Friday

R. S. Jolly, retired farmer and former county jailer, died Wednesday night at 12:00 o'clock at his home at Quail. He had been in ill health for more than a year, and seriously ill for several weeks.

Better known as Bob Jolly, he, with his family, had lived in this county for the last 23 years, and during the time he served in an official capacity, he became well known in every section of the county.

Funeral services were conducted from the First Baptist Church in Wellington Friday afternoon, Feb. 20. In charge of the services were Rev. J. R. Lawson of the Calvary Baptist Church, assisted by Rev. J. P. Neal of the First Baptist Church.

Pallbearers for the service were Luther Gribble, Claude McKinney, John Deger, Jim Light, Andrew Poteet, and Shelby Dyer.

Interment was in the Wellington Cemetery with the Ellis Funeral Home in charge.

A native of South Carolina, Robert Stanford Jolly was born December 24, 1877, and at the time of his death he was 64 years, one month, and 24 days of age. He was the son of George Wright and Jane Duff Jolly, both of whom were natives of South Carolina.

Many years ago, Mr. Jolly came west to make his home and to spend the remainder of his life.

Mr. Jolly had farmed in this county for several years before being named county jailer. After retiring from that office in January, 1941, he and Mrs. Jolly made their home in Wellington for several months, then moved to Quail, where they were living at the time of his death.

In addition to his widow, Mr. Jolly is survived by six children, Mrs. Luther Ray Irwin of Aberdeen, Glenn A. Jolly and G. W. Jolly of Kellerville, Mrs. Vada Willis of Amarillo, Durwood Jolly of Orange, and Ozette Jolly of Wellington. Other immediate survivors are ten grandchildren and the following brothers and sisters: Grant Jolly of Lutie, Will Jolly of Ardmore, Okla., French Jolly of Russell, Okla., Mrs. J. A. Gor-

Mr. Deskins Wells
The Wellington Leader
Wellington, Texas

Dear Deck:

Thank you for your excellent handling of the Mayfield advertisement in connection with the Open House and Poultry Clinic at Devenport Hatchery. Mr. Mayfield stated that it was the most successful event of this kind with which he had ever been connected.

He gave the Leader full credit for the splendid turn-out, although he also sent out letters to 1600 boxholders in that area. Because they were interested in the manner in which such fine results were obtained, they asked numerous persons where they learned of the event. EVERY PERSON QUERIED SAID THEY SAW IT IN THE PAPER—not one person mentioned having received a letter out of the 1600 mailed out.

Mr. Mayfield was so enthusiastic over the results obtained that he immediately started planning a series of advertisements to appear in the Leader, to lend support to Devenport's sale of the Mayfield feeds.

Sincerely yours

Rockets Fight This Week In Lockney Tourney

Members of the Skyrocket Boxing team will fight this week in the Lockney invitation tournament, to be held in that town Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, Coach John Lee has announced.

While members of the fighting squad who will make the trip have not been picked, there will be enough for this school to be represented in practically all weights, the coach said.

Winning team of the tournament will receive a $25 defense bond as a trophy. Individual winners will receive satin robes, while golden gloves will go to second place winners.

Last week's fights scheduled with Amarillo were cancelled by that school, but a series of bouts were matched for Friday night with Shamrock. Five of the six bouts went to the Rockets.

Barney Stafford, fighting in the 115 pound class, got his first knockout of the year. Other winners were Cummings, Montague, Cooper and McPherson. Brewer, fighting for the first time, lost a close decision to his Shamrock opponent.

As an added attraction, several fights among local colored boys and a battle royal were included.

These men know the fire hazard of such rubbish — and they also know the necessity of having sufficient fire insurance.

Callahan Group To Appear Here

The appearance of Bill and Joe Callahan and their barn dance in Wellington on Saturday night, February 28, is being sponsored by the Houselog Home Demonstration Club, it was announced late last week.

These entertainers are radio stars who have enthusiastic listeners throughout the Wichita Falls area and all of north Texas, the sponsors pointed out.

This is their second appearance here, as they were sponsored by the Houselog Club in January.

"We appreciate greatly the patronage of the people of the area the last time these entertainers were here, and we extend you a cordial invitation to be present for Saturday's program of good clean entertainment," Houselog women said.

The program will begin at 8:30 o'clock, and proceeds will be used toward the Demonstration Club work.
