GRAIN MARKET FLUCTUATIONS WILL BE PEGGED AT THURSDAY'S CLOSEDAILY RANGE

FUTURES TRADING IS SUSPENDED

WASHINGTON, July 22. (AP)—Establishment of minimum prices for trading in wheat, corn, and other grains until further notice were announced late today by Secretary Wallace after approval by President Roosevelt of a hastily drawn program designed to prevent further collapse of commodity prices.

Wallace disclosed that a trader, whose identity was kept secret, was "long" 13,000,000 bushels of wheat and several million bushels of corn and other grains when commodity prices began their precipitous decline last week. The trader was caught in the fall of prices.

He announced that the Chicago Board of Trade has agreed that when it reopens after being closed Friday and today that it will allow no trading below the closing prices of Thursday.

Restrict fluctuation in any one day to five cents a bushel for wheat and for "other grains in proportion."

Both restrictions will remain in force until either they are released entirely or a program of commodity market reforms put into effect.

Other markets, including those at Minneapolis, Kansas City, and Duluth, are expected by the department of agriculture to take similar action when they reopen, probably Monday.

The Chicago market is the chief center for trading in futures which the restrictions will principally affect. Trading at the other markets emphasize cash transactions more importantly and largely reflect the trends of prices established by futures trading at Chicago.

There is a prospect that the Chicago market will remain closed Monday when a conference of representatives of grain exchanges and other phases of the industry will be held here with Wallace and farm administrators in an effort to plan a method for bringing about greater stability in grain prices and reducing speculation.

Later, it was reported, this conference will be followed by others aiming to achieve the same purposes for trading in cotton and other farm commodities.

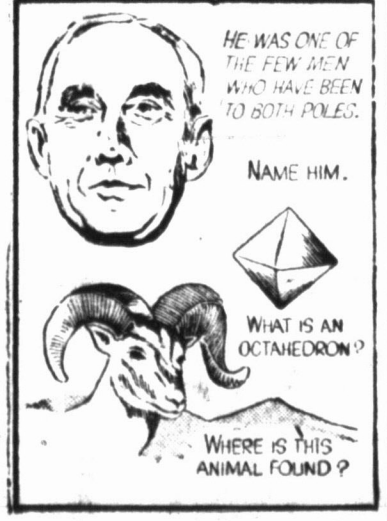

Closing prices on grain in Chicago Thursday July 20 which are set as the minimum for the opening on Monday are:

Wheat—July 90; Sept. 91-92; Dec. 95-96; May 1.00-1.01.
Corn—July 46; Sept. 53-54; Dec. 56-58; May 63-64.
Oats—July 35; Sept. 34-35; Dec. 37-37 1/2; May 41.
Rye—July 69; Sept. 67; Dec. 72-73; May 81 1/2.
Barley—Sept. 79 1/2; Dec. 80 1/2.

TEST OF NAZI STRENGTH
BERLIN, July 22. (AP)—Probably for the last time in decades protestant Germany will vote tomorrow in a final test of Nazi and non-Nazi strength.

Some 400,000 church elders and members of church governing boards are to be chosen. They in turn will elect delegates to provincial synods and from these will emerge delegates to the national synod to choose the first Reichs bishop.

THREE GUESSES

ANSWER FROM STATE'S ROAD
BODY AWAITED

Hope of Designation Still Strong—Tax Rate Of County Is Involved.

Gray county officials this week will seek from the state highway commission an answer to the county's request for state designation of the Pampa-McLean road and its hard-surfacing by the state.

Should the state give an affirmative answer, it would mean a great saving to the taxpayers not only as represented by the cost of construction but in future maintenance as well. The commissioners and Judge C. E. Cary are giving much of their time to the effort to obtain state designation and have been encouraged by the state's decision to take over the Pampa-Borger road, somewhat similarly located.

Need for paving the Pampa-LeFors road is acknowledged generally in Pampa and McLean and points between. It is a matter of regret to most people that this road was not paved when bonds were saleable. Now the road bed is suffering damage daily for lack of toping.

Senator Clint Small, Representative John Pudeyer, and oil company executives have been consulted during the last week concerning the proposed designation.

The state highway department is expected to let a contract for hard-surfacing highway 122 soon, with closing of gaps on highways 66 and 33 to follow as soon as right-of-way is ready.

Mollisons Take Off on Long Hop
—Goal Is Gotham

PENDINE, Wales, July 22. (AP)—Carrying a lipstick for Amy and no luggage at all for Jim, the flying Mollisons took to the air today to make their long delayed flight to New York.

For Amy, "the greatest adventure of my life," for Jim, "this may be my last spectacular flight."

Their plan is to cross the Atlantic non-stop to New York, thence again across the sea non-stop to Bagdad. They ran their plane, the Seafarer, off the beach of Pendine Sands and in to the air at 11 a. m. Greenwich time (6 a. m. E. S. T.).

At 1:20 p. m. Greenwich time (8:20 E. S. T.) the Mollisons were sighted between Passet Rock and the Cork mainland.

The Seafarer carried 400 gallons of gasoline, which Captain Mollison believed would provide an 800-mile margin. They expected to reach New York tomorrow night and they planned to rest only a short time before continuing the 12,000-mile adventure.

Little Theater's
Membership To Be Enlarged at Once

Pampa's Little Theater is making preparations for a membership campaign and several late summer meetings, including a session soon of the board of directors.

It is hoped that the many Pampans who are interested will join at once instead of waiting until the season is well advanced. Membership applications may be entered by telephoning the membership chairman at 767 or 577.

Since the plays to be presented during the coming season will be selected by the membership, it is imperative that the rolls be increased immediately. Dues are only $2 for the whole season. Players will be selected only from the membership during the coming year.

All plays will be selected this summer so that the members will know far in advance what to expect. It is emphasized that those who wish to join the Little Theater and contribute to its success in the community should call the membership chairman without any further notice.

BUSINESS MEN
PLEDGE TO AID
IN NEW DEALMORE WAGES, FEWER HOURS OF LABOR
PLEDGED

WASHINGTON, July 22. (AP)—Swift advances were made today in President Roosevelt's mandated industrial re-employment march.

Telegrams by the thousands brought to him and to Hugh S. Johnson, his industrial recovery administrator, pledges of cooperation in the push for voluntary agreements from all employers to pay higher wages and make millions of new jobs by shortening work hours.

Representatives of the many conflicting oil interests, meeting in preparation for next week's public hearings on their code of fair competition, agreed to extend the 40-hour week to all retail outlets, a move expected to mean altogether 200,000 to 300,000 new jobs in the industry. They proposed also federal price regulation and licensing.

Johnson called in shipbuilders and spokesmen of shipyard labor, proposed a compromise for their differences and asked them to come back with an agreement late tonight. Their code, under hearing for days past, is wanted quickly because the big naval construction program must be bid on this week and labor costs depend on the code's terms.

President Roosevelt, before starting a week-end cruise on the Sequoia, signed an executive order putting into temporary force, pending a hearing, labor benefits of a code presented by the rayon dyeing and printing industry. Its 100 plants were estimated to employ 30,000. The wages will be 35 cents an hour minimum for women, 45 cents for men; the hours 40 a week. In the many branches of the textile industries nearly a million workers are now under such code provisions.

A large share of the telegrams received today were from chambers of commerce which almost without exception announced they were organizing local campaign committees at Johnson's request.

Hundreds, however, came from employers, big and little, pledging cooperation or announcing they were not waiting for the July 27 beginning of the "blanket" agreement campaign, but were immediately raising wages and shortening working hours. Clothing and grocery stores, hardware establishments, miscellaneous factories, a few banks and a couple of newspapers announced their participation.

I SAW—

Ommo Behrends, who told this, the best story of the week: It was at a big red ant bed on the Behrends' place north of town. About 50 big black beetles had formed a ring around the ant bed which was seething with ants. Every now and then, a beetle would advance toward the ants but he wouldn't get very far until several ants nabbed him, and he would turn tail and flee. Then the ants would let go and run back. A regular war. Too bad, Mr. Beetle, why don't you come back some time!

COOPERATION with President Franklin D. Roosevelt in seeking to attain the goals of the national recovery act will take organized form this week with C. H. Walker heading a committee to bring this about in the Pampa community.

Mr. Walker, appointed by General Hugh Johnson, head of the recovery act administration, will seek the aid of various organizations and will have one or more meetings during the week. Meanwhile, grocers of the city will meet at the city hall Tuesday evening and dry goods merchants on Wednesday evening to discuss their problems in connection with the "new deal."

General Johnson wired Mr. Walker as follows:

"Will you take the initiative immediately in organizing a campaign committee in your community to be composed of the mayor, the official heads of the chamber of commerce, Rotary, Kiwanis, and Lions clubs, Retail Merchants association, labor body, Federation of Women's clubs, welfare society, Ministerial association, and any other civic organization which in your judgment is representative of an important element in the economic life of your community?"

"The function of this committee is to direct a campaign of education and organization which is to be a part of a national movement to speed the return of prosperity through the expansion of consumer buying power in accordance with the principles set forth in the national recovery act. Will communicate with you covering the further steps in this campaign upon receipt of your reply. It is an inspiring thing to be a part of a great national movement to restore economic security to our people and I appeal to you to marshal all the forces of your community in one united effort to get rid of unemployment."

To this telegram Mr. Walker replied as follows: "I accept the responsibility requested in your telegram this date (July 21) and await your orders."

Every individual and firm will be given an opportunity to pledge allegiance to the president's program and the steps to be recommended in stimulating recovery.

Tropical Storm
To Strike Coast

HOUSTON, July 22. (AP)—The Gulf coast from Freeport to Corpus Christi tonight awaited a tropical disturbance of moderate intensity, scheduled to strike some time after midnight.

While the Washington weather bureau in an advisory at 4 p. m. said the disturbance apparently had not changed its course, which would make it strike the Matagorda Bay region, rising barometers at Houston, Galveston, Freeport, Port O'Connor, and changes in the wind direction at those points and Corpus Christi indicated the center of the disturbance may strike slightly to the west of the region named in the Washington advisory.

Northeast storm warnings indicating a wind of from 30 to 40 miles an hour, were posted along the coast from Port O'Connor to Freeport.

TEXAS GIRL IS WED TO SON OF
U. S. PRESIDENT

Elliott Roosevelt And Defendant Said That Bride To Travel in West

BURLINGTON, Iowa, July 22. (AP)—Atop a towering bluff swept by breezes from the broad Mississippi, Elliott Roosevelt, son of the President of the United States, was married tonight to Ruth Josephine Goggins of Port Worth, Tex.

The double ring ceremony was read in the flower bordered garden on the river bank estate of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Swiler, uncle and aunt of the bride, by the Rev. Naboth Osborne, retired Congregational minister.

Young Roosevelt's marriage followed by only five days his divorce from Elizabeth Browning Donner at Minden, Nev. It was Miss Goggins' first marriage.

The bride wore a long, simply fashioned dress of white georgette cut full in the skirt, and carried a large bouquet of lilies of the valley. The bridegroom wore white flannel trousers and a camel's hair coat. Neither was attended.

Guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Miller of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Moore of Chicago, Mrs. Park Sowden and her son, George, of Palatine Bridge, N. Y., Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Dail, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Swiler of Burlington, and their sons, Wesley and Hudson, Mrs. J. W. Swiler of Burlington, David Goggins, and Mary Ruth Goggins.

Immediately following the ceremony a supper for 25 persons was served on the lawn.

Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt were to depart later tonight for the west. During the ceremony a crowd of 500 watched from the street at the rear of the house. Police guarded the estate, allowing only guests and newspaper men inside the grounds. A part of the street was roped off six hours before the wedding, and no automobiles were allowed within a block of the house.

NEW YORK, July 22. (AP)—Wiley Post brought his monoplane "Winnie Mae" down to Floyd Bennett Field at 10:59 p. m. Eastern Standard Time tonight completing the fastest round-the-world trip ever made and a solo trip at that.

The one-eyed Oklahoman straddled across Canada and the United States on his last lap, from Edmonton, Alta., so fast that he shot down out of the darkness fully two hours before he had been expected. Making the last 2200 mile leg in a little over 13 hours, he cut his total elapsed time to 186 hours, 49.5 minutes.

This bettered by more than 21 hours the best previous globe encircling flight, made by Post and Harold Gatty in 1931.

NEW YORK, July 22. (AP)—Wiley Post set four records on his dash around the world. He made:

The fastest trip around the world.

The first solo flight around the world.

The first solo flight across the Bering Sea and Sea of Okhotsk.

The fastest flight from New York to Berlin, 3,900 miles in 25 hours and 45 minutes.

In addition he was the first solo trans-Atlantic flier since Col. Charles A. Lindbergh to reach his announced destination without a stop.

all that Post's exhausted condition permitted.

The 25,000 persons who had gathered at the field to witness the end of Post's epochal flight seemed stunned by the suddenness with which he appeared. He had not been sighted for some time and was not expected for one or two hours.

Post's first request, when he came to a stop was for an eye-patch. An ambulance surgeon made one for him.

The airport manager, explaining the confusion of the landing, said that "everybody was caught flat-footed."

"I personally didn't know Post was within 100 miles of the field," he exclaimed.

KINGDOM IS WITHIN: Neither shall they say, Lo here! or lo there! for behold, the kingdom of God is within you.—Luke 17:21.

We Never Learn

Recent fluctuations of the stock market show again how quickly Americans forget any hard-learned lesson. Bullishness, partly inflation and manipulation, needed to give little more than a hint of advancing business to carry shares well beyond any reasonable mark. When traders were ready for their "pickings", support was withdrawn and, in the absence of any bullish factor, there had to be a collapse. A nervous, impulsive public is ready to follow any mass movement, up or down. Meanwhile, it is noticeable that shares held by troubled eastern banks have been among the leaders, and presumably the bankers profited handsomely. The violent fluctuations should convince the public that folks, not laws, make steady progress possible, and that the president's problem must be worked as well as planned. It will be interesting to see what the resourceful chief executive does in the face of extreme aggravation.

"Clyde and Buck"

A couple of unimpressive young men by the name of Barrow—Clyde and Buck—are roaming the southwest armed with pistols and machine guns. They are regarded as being, in many ways, more dangerous than "Pretty Boy" Floyd. They lack Floyd's cold nerve and they shoot on less provocation. Officers who try to arrest them know that there will be a battle. To say, "I arrest you in the name of the law," or some such sentence in their presence is to invite a fusillade of lead. But officers realize that they must be sure of the identity and a burst of fire is the best proof of that identity. If you think an under-paid officer has an easy lot, just get a job enforcing the law and look up the brothers, Clyde and Buck. Yet we know many, many officers who would welcome a chance to take the gunmen.

Effective, at Least

Friends of proration have had cause to rejoice that Uncle Sam's agents have gone into the East Texas field. Enemies of proration as it works down there are equally alarmed. Authority reaches its maximum effect when enforced, and it has been a matter of record that illegally produced oil has been moving despite state laws. Tank car movements have declined this month from about 800 per day to less than one hundred. Tender permits are required before railroads can move the oil in interstate commerce. . . . Laws should be thus enforced. If there are inequities, they will be clearly shown and we presume the federal courts will right them. Moreover, President Roosevelt's authority and influence are now behind proration with the order out to 'dry up every drop' of 'hot' oil in East Texas.

Too Lightly Taken

Much of the blame for the prevalence of crime rests with the people who demand too drastic economy in enforcing the law and vote too many bonds for other purposes. Officers ought to be fairly paid, well equipped, and given ammunition for target practice. We as a western nation boast of our prowess as fighters but go unprepared to fight. We do not properly train, educate, and drill our peace officers and fire fighters. Improvement in our system would cost money at first but would prove a public economy in the long run. Crime costs us a billion a year. Ponder over that sum if you think it is economy to have inefficient crime detection bodies. . . . We day by day make arrests of men who never go to jail. Part of the blame is lack of cooperation between arresting officers and the prosecution. Gathering of evidence on which to base an arrest is as important as the arrest itself. Officers need to know the laws—which few people except lawyers do know.

PAMPA MAN IMPRESSED WITH PRECISION OF ITALIAN FLIERS

C. C. Co., 1821, Sargent, Colo.

Editor, The NEWS:

"Lafayette, we are here!" We certainly are here! We're certainly in the cool weather. But along in the wee hours of the morning we wish we were back in Texas. It requires 6 blankets to keep the body warm and sometimes that is not enough. Our camp is 6 miles north of Sargent.

Sargent is a town of about 125 persons and evidently contains no bootleggers, although 32 is sold. The town is served by a narrow gauge railroad running from Salida to Gunnison. The road was built in 1882, primarily to serve gold, lead, zinc, and coal mines between the two terminals.

Most of the old soldiers nearly froze the first night we were here. We had only two blankets. There was an issue of blankets and winter clothing the next day. They even issued heavy underwear with long handles and plenty of wool therein to scratch. We are being issued clothing held in stores since the war, with insignia removed. Our work clothing is of blue denim, the same kind the army has used for years. When in full uniform we resemble half-breed soldiers.

I've figured this reforestation business in my mind the best I can, and I'll declare, the government is going to lose. Of course, they don't pay much, but they feed well and they spend a lot of money

If anyone wishes to hire any Pampa man in this camp, just let us know. That's the best way to get out and save one's good name, although nothing is done if somebody just gathers up his duds and walks out.

The altitude here is 8,500 feet and a short distance from Monarch Pass, which is about 12,000 feet high. Timber here is not very thick. Our job is to clear dead timber and brush 100 feet on both sides of federal highway No. 50. We have 15 miles of this to do in 90 days. We expect to be sent to a southern camp by that time, since it will be too cold to work here.

GRAY FARMERS TOLD HOW TO KILL COTTON

APPLICATIONS TO PLOW UP PLANTS NOT YET RECEIVED

COUNTY Agent Ralph Thomas remains in Pampa while delegations of Gray county people turn toward College Station and the annual short course at A. & M. college.

Mr. Thomas yesterday awaited the blanks on which Gray and Roberts county cotton farmers must make applications to plow up that acreage of their crop accepted by the government under the retirement plan. These will be issued as soon as possible after being received, in order that destruction of a portion of the fields may begin.

There are at least two safe methods of destroying cotton accepted in the national cotton acreage reduction campaign, according to word being sent Texas county agents and local committees by H. H. Williamson, Texas extension service vice director and state agent. Upon his return from Washington where he had been in touch with national officials concerning details of the campaign work in Texas, Mr. Williamson said that instructions outlining the procedure for certifying and destroying the accepted acreage now are in the mails to Texas.

Young cotton, he said, can best be destroyed by plowing and large cotton by running stalk cutters thru the crop. These ways are sure to be acceptable to the government, he added, pointing out that proposals to destroy the cotton by grazing probably would mean weeks of delay in obtaining certification of destruction by local committees and a consequent long delay in obtaining government rental payments.

"The system announced this week for speeding acceptance of contracts by county agents and county committees signing emergency plow-up permits," Mr. Williamson said, "should mean that farmers will get their payments beginning early in August. Such a move was absolutely necessary or farmers probably would have had to wait until late August or September for their money. Under the present arrangement, the plowing up should begin in Texas next Monday and most of it out of the way in two weeks time," he said.

Mr. Williamson estimated that Texas will benefit to the extent of at least $100,000,000 through the reduction campaign. Of this amount, he said, about $40,000,000 will come from cash rental payments, $20,000,000

REVIEWS and NEWS OF CURRENT BOOKS

THE BOOK OF THE TIGER—By Brig-General R. G. Burton. Boston, Houghton Mifflin Co. $4.

This volume dealing with the most fascinating of all wild animals is one that should not be overlooked by the American reader as a valuable addition to the library shelf as it is not only instructive but most entertaining and written by one who is an authority on adventure and natural history.

Included in this book are many thrilling short stories, quotations from ancient books, and of course facts and figures. One learns that the tiger population is gradually diminishing in spots although that animal will never be entirely exterminated so long as the jungles of the Orient endure. The native shikari will eventually be the means of the extermination of the tiger as the game laws and game wardens seem to have little success in preventing it.

There are chapters dealing with character and habits of the tiger, man-eaters, protective coloration, geographical distribution, and one especially interesting—THE LION OF INDIA. It is interesting to know that tigers hunt by sight or sound instead of by scent; that the tiger prefers man as prey.

The author neglected the splendid Siberian tiger and the short-haired tigers of Sumatra and Java which most animal dealers consider most important. Passages on a white tiger, though brief, are very instructive.

HOSTAGES TO FORTUNE—By Elizabeth Cambridge. New York: G. P. Putnam's Sons. 1932. $2.

HOSTAGES TO FORTUNE is a book that needs an intelligent and tasteful reader, because it has corresponding qualities. It should not be taken as a momentary and light diversion. This interesting volume is an accomplishment of a difficult literary feat—that of a description, day-by-day, of life in an Oxfordshire village, and in doing it, the author succeeds in drawing a faultless picture of what Storm Jameson describes in her most recent novel, dealing with the almost identical subject, as the "lost generation."

The story opens with the birth of a child to Catherine, the young from advances above six cents on optioned cotton, of which Texas farmers took option on more than 800,000 bales, and the remainder from the general price advance on all cotton.

The secretary of agriculture has taken over from the farm credit administration all available cotton held by government credit agencies to fulfill the terms of the options with producers in the cotton reduction program.

Oscar Johnston, director of finance, who has handled the negotiations for the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, stated that the contracts were completed for immediate delivery of 1,019,184 bales of actual cotton and 455,200 bales of cotton futures, and that delivery was expected, some time between August 1 and August 5, of between 150,000 and 200,000 bales, making an available total of more than 1,624,384 bales.

In addition to this amount of cotton, the Farm Credit Administration is endeavoring to acquire title to an appreciable portion of the 788,000 bales of cotton upon which the government holds crop production loan liens. Acquisitions from this source, added to the cotton already delivered, will provide sufficient cotton to cover the options to producers who have agreed to reduce production.

Mrs. Post was in the crowd that had been waiting at Floyd Bennett field since early evening for the Oklahoma flier, who reached here after a non-stop trip from Edmonton, Alberta.

Major J. Nelson Kelly, superintendent of the field, who recorded Post's takeoff at 4:10 a. m. (E. S. T.) last Saturday, checked his return officially at 10:59:30 p. m.

Post's official elapsed time herebefore was 186 hours, 49½ minutes for his journey of approximately 15,400 miles. He had flown around the world in little over a week, and nearly a full day less than on his previous journey.

As Post taxied along, the crowd became frenzied. About 3,000 persons broke through the straining lines of policemen and pushed toward the Winnie Mae's spinning propeller.

Post was forced to stall his motor to prevent possible injury to them. The flier did not climb from his ship immediately. It was pushed up the taxi strip to the administration building with him still in the cockpit.

Post had flown from Edmonton with phenomenal speed. He had left there at 9:41 a. m., coming southeast across Canada and thence back to the United States.

After several minutes Post was pulled from the cockpit by Lee Trenholm, his representative, and a policeman. He was taken immediately to an automobile and there was no opportunity for anyone to speak to him.

He was wearing a blue shirt and had a handkerchief tied around his forehead.

In the forefront of the throng that had rushed to the Winnie Mae was a group of Oklahoma men who had flown here to welcome Post.

The enthusiasm of the crowd for 24-year-old aviator's stirring achievement exceeded anything ever seen at the field, attendants said.

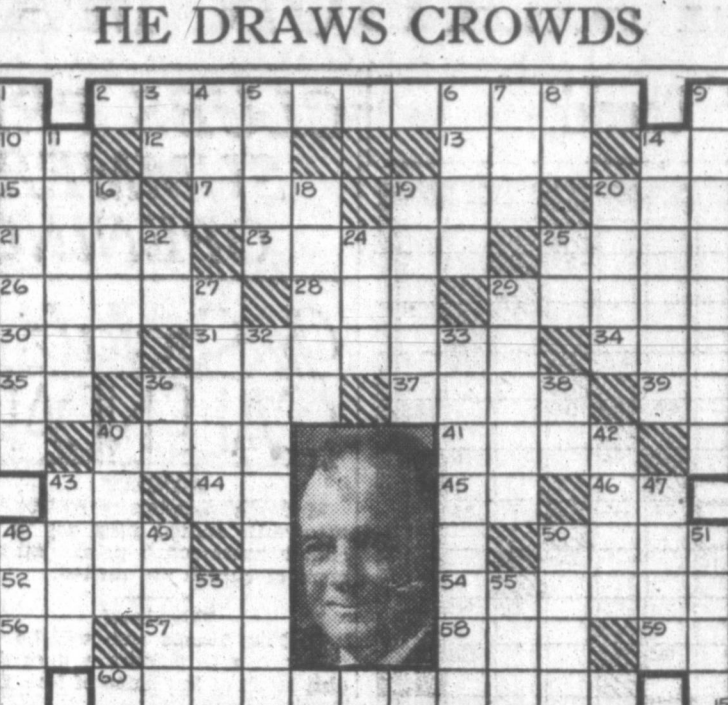

As the deafening cheers continued unabated Post rose and waved a couple of times, then slumped back into his seat. Apparently he was close to exhaustion.

by MacMillan early in October.

Houghton Mifflin company has just contracted for the American publication of Adolf Hitler's autobiography, MEIN KAMPF, which will be issued this fall under the title, My Battle. For the first time, the German Dictator speaks directly to the American people. In the form of an autobiography, he tells the stirring story of the growth of an idea from the beginnings to the proportions of a great national movement and of his own meteoric rise from obscurity to one of the leading figures of contemporary Europe. He expounds in all the essentials the doctrines which are being put in effect in Germany today and from which the majority of Germans are hoping for a regeneration both of their country and of the whole world. Hitler's great oratorical powers, one of the chief factors in advancing the cause of National Socialism, are here seen at their very peak. The publishers maintain that this book from Hitler's own pen is infinitely more valuable and interesting than any which has been written about him.

"THIRTY HOUR DAY"

WASHINGTON, July 22 (P)—Hugh S. Johnson, the industrial recovery administrator, leaned back in his chair, closed his eyes and relaxed tonight after a long conference with shipbuilders and a day devoted to multiple tasks in connection with his job.

"Have you worked your 30 hours this week yet, General?" newspaper men asked.

"Huh!" he said. "I'm working on a 30-hour day."

Oregon in Line As Repeal Voted

PORTLAND, Ore., July 22 (P)—Oregon, after 18 years of prohibition in one form or another, today had become the 30th state to vote repeal of the 18th amendment, and had erased every dry law from the statute books of the state.

A wet tide of ballots in yesterday's special election gave the repealists a margin of nearly two to one.

Dry leaders said that although they held some hope for victory, "we were prepared for such a job. We'll fight harder than ever now."

Returns from 1,643 precincts out of 1,787 in the state showed 180,456 votes had been cast for repeal of the 18th amendment, and 69,126 for its retention.

State repeal had a greater margin of victory. On this proposition the yes vote was 136,238; no, 69,295. State repeal threw into the discard the remaining "constitutional" proposition.

CHARTER ASKED BY CAMP FIRE GIRLS FRIDAY

MOTHERS PRESENT AS APPLICATION IS SIGNED

MOTHERS of Camp Fire girls and other visitors were present for their meeting Friday afternoon, when application for a charter was made and signed by seven girls and Mrs. V. E. Fatheree, official sponsor.

Tatapochon was selected as the group name. It is symbolized by the square knot and expresses the thought of unity of the group. Symbolism as used by Camp Fire girls was the theme of the afternoon's program.

Symbols Explained.
Roll call was answered with the meaning of Indian names and explanations of headband symbols. Each is a symbol of an ideal to be lived daily. The creed and law of the Camp Fire were given to impress girls and mothers with their depth of meaning.

Mrs. Fatheree reviewed a talk given by Kathleen Norris, noted novelist, to Camp Fire girls in California on the 21st birthday of the organization last March. Mrs. Norris was Camp Fire girl, and still follows its laws, treasures her gown with its three pines, symbolizing the name meaning a clean, pure life of service, and says that nothing is of more benefit to girls than Camp Fire training.

Visitors Talk.
Miss Susie Belle Smalling told of the Camp Fire of which she was a member in Gallup, N. M. In short talks the mothers present told of benefit their daughters derived from the organization.

Reports were given from the doughnut sale of last week, when 110 dozen doughnuts were sold at a profit of $12.16. Girls worked on a sales plan that showed their ability as sales girls, and were pleased with the addition to their treasury.

Present for the meeting were Anna Mae Jones, Mary Seeds, Jessie Marie Gilbert, Katherine Ward, Catherine Culbertson, Kathleen O'Hara, Winnie Pearson, Mrs. Fatheree, Mrs. J. H. Jones, Mrs. T. F. Smalling, Mrs. Robert Seeds, Miss Susie Belle Smalling, Mrs. Nolan Harris, Mrs. Bo Barrett.

Sunday Program At Revival Given

Sunday school will begin at 9:30 tomorrow morning. Instead of the usual time, 9:45. There will be special features in charge of the Vawter evangelist party at the Christian church.

The morning worship will begin at 11. The sermon will be "Why We Commune Every Sunday." The Christian church is practically unique in this respect and those interested in knowing why they commune once each week are urged to be present. Mrs. Vawter will sing "He Tenderly Looked at Me."

At 7 p. m. there will be another of the free sacred concerts. This will last for half an hour and the program will include another quartet on the chimes: "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere." There will be special on the marimba and piano, singing and whistling and two pictures by Howard House. The crayon picture will be "In the Garden" and the rag picture, "Calvary."

A special effort is being made to increase the seating capacity so that all who come may find seats and it is hoped no one will have to stand during the services.

Revival Services To Be Continued

Revival services at the Assembly of God church will continue thru next week, with outdoor meetings each evening. The Rev. Guy Shields of Amarillo is preaching the series of sermons.

Children's services have been featured in recent days, and will continue during the revival. Attendance has increased through the past week at all services the evangelist said. The public is invited.

Regular morning services will be conducted in the church today, with Sunday school at 9:45 and preaching at 11 o'clock.

Show Features Auxiliary Social

American Legion Auxiliary members and guests enjoyed a social at the Legion hall Thursday evening. A shower of staple groceries was collected, to be delivered to a needy family here.

The evening was spent playing bridge and forty-two. High prize in bridge was won by Mrs. F. E. Hoffman, and Mrs. Ray Anderson won high in forty-two.

Refreshments of iced lemonade and cakes were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Al Lawson, Mrs. Katie Vincent, and Mrs. Roy Sewell, to the following: Mesdames J. A. Pearson, Ray Anderson, Stella Pollard, W. M. Voyles, E. C. Hazard, E. S. Hoggatt, Nels Walberg, F. E. Hoffman, Georgia Dotson, Hoyt Allen, Jake Stiles.

Mack Graham has returned from a trip to Dallas.

Linen Chic? Check!

Martha Sleeper

(By NEA Service.)
HOLLYWOOD—Linen, if you note what the Hollywood stars are wearing, is by no means an "also ran." It's cool—it's chic—and you'll win easily if you wear it!

Simple to wash and press, linen is one of the most practical summer cotton fabrics. You can wear it on the beach, at smart dining and dancing places and on the street. The Hollywood stars do!

Martha Sleeper had a stunning black and white checked linen suit. The hip-length coat, with raglan sleeves, had a square neck with two button fastenings. Her skirt was perfectly plain—no pleats—cut on slim lines with seams in front and back rather than on the sides.

Incidentally, having the skirts in front and back of your seams, instead of on the sides, takes pounds off the appearance of your figure.

With her handsome linen ensemble, Martha wore white linen gauntlet gloves and a white linen hat.

Heather Angel, lunching at the Brown Derby with her mother and some friends, wore a periwinkle blue linen skirt and swaggar jacket. Heather's blouse was of navy blue handkerchief linen, polka-dotted in white.

The blouse tied at a medium high neckline, with a huge bow under her chin. The outfit was topped by a periwinkle blue stitched linen hat.

Dorothy Jordan plays tennis in linen. On the court the other day she wore a blue and white striped linen sports dress with hat to match.

VACATION DAYS WILL BE BUSY FOR H. D. CLUBS

Short Course Next Week Is First Event

A month of vacation from regular club work, but likely to be crowded with special activity, begins today for home demonstration club women of the county. Departure of the county delegation to the annual A. & M. college short course marks the start of club holidays.

Ten women and girls, including Miss Ruby M. Adams, county agent, will be in College Station next week for the short course. The agent's annual vacation starts at its conclusion, and she will be away several days longer.

August, always observed as club vacation month, will find club women busy on individual projects, preparing for fall fairs in communities and county.

The one formally planned club event will be the annual encampment, set for late in the month.

Claytons Back From Trip to Oklahoma.
Mr. and Mrs. Tom Clayton and daughter, Miss Anne, have returned from Oklahoma City, where they were guests with a number of other Texas florists at the Oklahoma state florists convention. They especially enjoyed attending a two-day school of design, with leading floral designers of the north and east as demonstrators, they report.

Mrs. Clayton's sister, Miss Maude Leach, of Muskogee, accompanied them home and is visiting in their home and that of Mr. and Mrs. Ewing Leach. She is also a sister of Mr. Leach.

H. G. McCleskey, commissioner of precinct 3 was here yesterday.

Tom Kirby of Jericho visited in Pampa yesterday afternoon.

William Hall of Nolette was a Pampa business visitor Saturday.

Mrs. Monty Hudson and daughter, Wanda, left for Lubbock yesterday afternoon to be at the bedside of Mrs. Hudson's mother who is critically ill.

Recent marriages of their two daughters have been announced by Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Bailey. Miss Vera Bailey of Enid, Okla., married Dr. D. D. Roberts of that city, and Miss Sylvia Bailey married Lee Shomber of Potwin, Kansas.

Miss Ada Flathers and Mrs. Flathers entertained the M. M. M. club last week, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McNordie were hosts to the Anonymous club, and Misses Lorene Coyne, Marjorie Richardson, and Edith McGaugh to their bridge club.

Doll Wedding Given.
SHAMROCK, July 22.—A "Wedding of the Painted Dolls," presented as the highlight of the rhythm band program at First Baptist church recently proved the week's leading social event. June Ann Nix and Charles Boston were the miniature bride and groom.

About 50 members of boys and girls 4-H clubs, home demonstration club women, and other interested farm residents left Saturday for College Station for the annual state short course.

Miss Lavone Collins of Clovis, N. M., and William W. Hall of Shamrock were married at Clovis July 5. They will make their home here.

Joel Zeigler, son of Dr. and Mrs.

Orange sherbet with wafers and lima- were served at the close of the games.

Leaders Are Busy Below Surface Quiet

BY SUE VINSON, Woman's Page Editor.

WHILE club activity is apparently at its quietest, undercurrents of midsummer committee work ripple the surface with indications that seasons will not open next fall without thorough preparation.

Resignation of their president-elect, Mrs. E. C. Will, broke the vacation quiet for members of the Twentieth Century Culture club last week, and a successor was chosen in a called business meeting. Mrs. Carl Boston, vice president, will fill the office, it was decided, and Mrs. Marvin W. Lewis will serve as vice president.

Informal reports of officers and committee heads at that meeting revealed that membership lists and programs will be complete when regular meetings are resumed.

Another group that is making summer preparation for fall work is the Association of University Women. Its season will start early, with the first meeting planned for the first week in September.

Mrs. C. A. Clark, membership chairman, is preparing her list, and expects to have it complete at the start of regular programs.

P-T-A. Starts Project.

An active summer project that is expected to add many dollars to their cafeteria fund was started recently by the Baker Parent-Teacher association. It is a series of "vanishing parties," to which each guest brings a dime and then acts as hostess at a similar party.

Its cafeteria fund fed dozens of underprivileged children daily during the school term, was an important work of that association last year, and will be this year.

With programs already outlined, yearbook committees in most clubs are busy now getting their club names into print. The bulk of this task will be completed during July.

Clubs not already mentioned, but which are preparing this summer for fall programs, include the Twentieth Century, with Mrs. William T. Fraser as president; the Twentieth Century Junior, with Mrs. Margaret Buckler as president; the Arno Art club, headed by Mrs. T. F. Morton; El Progresso, with Mrs. W. Purviance as president; the Child Study club, with Mrs. Robert Gilchrist as president; the Civic Culture club, of which Mrs. Ralph Thomas is president, and the various Parent-Teacher groups.

Hi-Lo Club Has Party Wednesday

Accented by a black and white color note, an attractive party was given for the Hi-Lo bridge club and a table of guests at the home of Mrs. Homer Lively Wednesday afternoon.

The silhouette color scheme was stressed in tallies, score pads, and table covers. Ice cream and angel food cake were served as refreshments.

Mrs. Travis Lively scored high for guests and Mrs. E. A. Myers for club members, while low score went to Mrs. J. G. Teeters.

Guest players were Mesdames Sam Rodgers, C. D. Hunter, Shelby Gantz, and Travis Lively. Club members present were Mesdames William Dull, Roy Dyson, E. P. Hollingshead, Teeters, Myers, N. B. Ellis, W. M. McWright and Tom Morris.

OIL INDUSTRY CODE WOULD PUT 250,000 IDLE MEN BACK TO WORK

40-HOUR WEEK IS ADOPTED BY RETAIL BRANCH

PRICE REGULATION AND LICENSING ALSO APPROVED

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—In accord with the administration's idea to put as many people back to work as possible, the emergency national committee of the petroleum industry today voted to apply the 40-hour week to all retail outlets including agencies that handle oil products as a side line.

The committee, preparatory to the opening of hearings Monday before Hugh S. Johnson, the industrial administrator, also approved federal price regulation and licensing, an issue which has split the petroleum industry in the past few weeks.

Harry F. Sinclair of the committee's labor sub-committee and advocate of bringing all retail outlets under the 40-hour week, estimated that its general application would mean putting from 250,000 to 300,000 men back to work as compared with an increase of employment of only 75,000 to 100,000 if all retailers were not covered.

Among other things in its day's work, the committee elected an executive committee of eight members, their products.

Cattle Inspector Finds Stolen Stock

Work of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' association in detecting cattle thefts was cited yesterday by T. D. Hobart, former president of the association.

He quoted a letter from E. J. Spiller of Fort Worth, association secretary, which showed how cattle stolen from C. T. White of Brady were recovered and returned to their owner. An inspector for the association saw two truck loads of yearlings and became suspicious. Investigation disclosed that the stock had not been sold.

Two men were arrested.

four from the major companies and four from the independents with Artell J. Byles, president of the American Petroleum Institute as chairman.

This executive committee in substance will be the governing board of the oil industry under the proposed trade practice plan and act as liaison agency between the government and petroleum interests.

The committee approved 21 to 18 a proposal by Sinclair that it recommend to Johnson that the so-called lease and agency practice under which retail agencies are required to handle exclusively the products of one refiner, distributor, wholesaler or jobber, be prohibited in the code.

Some of the Standard companies and the Texas company, oil leaders said, opposed this recommendation and had proposed another rule which would permit refiners, distributors, jobbers or wholesalers to lease or sub-lease filling stations or sites for them for the distribution of their products.

STOCK PARTLY RECOVER

NEW YORK, July 22 (AP)—Following the ruthless battering of the past three days, stocks today recovered some of their losses and at the final gong many leading issues showed advances of fractions to 4 points. At the opening prices fell under their previous closing levels. The market rebounded, however, on covering with the approach of the close, and on enormous volume for a Saturday session—4,224,070 shares—the Associated Press-Standard statistics average of 90 selected stock rose half a point to 77.1.

Advances for the most part were well distributed throughout all categories. The alcohol stocks, which had been careening downward wildly since their recent joride, were serene.

Business news in contrast to the pyrotechnics of the stock market, gave cause for solid satisfaction to the exhausted financial district. Revenue freight handled by the railroads last week spurted to a new high for the year, totaling 648,206 cars. With the exception of one week last October, this was the best

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, July 22 (AP)—The cotton market continued nervous and erratic in today's short session but final prices were higher after further wide fluctuations. A late recovery in stocks helped the final rally, and the close was steady at net gains for the day of 27 points on July and 7 to 12 points on later positions.

The opening was steady as Liverpool came in better than due and sterling was firmer. Fresh waves of selling came on the market as stocks were easier and good rains were reported in the west.

The market quieted down for a period but in the late trading prices rallied rather sharply on short covering and October advanced to $10.24 and December to $10.44 or 44 points up from the lows. October closed at $10.22, up 11 points net. December at $10.40, up 7 points net and July sold right at the end at $10.03, up 27 points net.

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, July 22 (AP)—U. S. D. A.—Cattle trade during the week at midwestern markets was featured by fairly broad demand for grain fed and yearlings at prices generally 15-25 higher, but instances of a 25-50 upturn on strong weight steers. Chicago had a top of $7.50 on several loads of 1240-1450 pound steers and one load of yearlings. Western grass steers wound up on a 15-25 higher basis while most of the week's early decline on grass cows and heifers was recovered. Wintered Kansas grass steers sold upward to $5.75 and a spread of $3.50-$4.75 took the bulk of the straight grassers. Stocker and feeder grades were in limited supply and quality for the most part was plain. Better grades are strong and off-quality kinds barely steady. Finishers paid up to $6 for fleshy yearling feeders while a few loads of well-bred grass steers went to feeder buyers at $5.00-50.

In the OIL FIELDS

Production in the Panhandle field increased 4,517 barrels, largely due to the order of the railroad commission increasing the daily allowable 5,000 barrels to 55,000 barrels and setting a maximum allowable of 60,000 barrels, the additional output to be authorized when the demand increased.

The field was a seat of rumors during the last week. It was reported that nearly 50 locations had been made or were authorized. Several companies are planning drilling campaigns and several derricks are being erected.

Two new locations were made officially during the week. They were the Wilcox Oil & Gas company's No. 20 Combs-Worley in section 35, block 3, and the British American No. 3 Phillips in section 27, block 3. The rig has been nearly completed for the British American test.

Oil was encountered in the E. B. Warner No. 1 Webb in section 42, block 25, east of LeFors. The test started flowing better than 100 barrels just below 2,300 feet and drilling was in progress. A flow of 7,000,000 feet of gas was found at 2,200 feet.

The railroad commission has authorized a five-day test on wells in the flush area, and more than 50 wells are under this test.

"No wonder more people buy Buicks than all other eight in its price range combined!"

Cool Breezes with the Fisher Ventilation System

Public preference for Buick today is so overwhelming that with 11 rights in its price range to choose from—more people buy Buicks than all of the other 10 cars combined.

To the man or woman who is not familiar with the new Buick Eight, such dominance may seem almost unbelievable; but to those who have driven this car, and gained even the most casual acquaintance with its capabilities, the reasons for Buick's leadership are crystal-clear.

"What," you may ask, "is so different about Buick? Why do so many people consider it superior to any other car selling at similar prices?" The answer lies chiefly in design.

U.S. DOUBLES TEAM TRIUMPHS OVER ENGLISH AND STAVES OFF ELIMINATION

VINES' INJURY GIVES BRITONS BEST CHANCE

ENGLISH FAVORITES TO TAKE AT LEAST ONE SINGLES MATCH

AUTEUIL, France, July 22 (AP)—Fighting American doubles team of George Martin Lott Jr. and John W. Van Ryn pulled the United States back into the thick of the Davis cup tennis battle today with a straight-set triumph over the English pair, Frederick J. Perry and George Patrick Hughes, but the development of Ellis worth Vines' poor physical condition minimized the chances of saving the series tomorrow.

Lott's heroic play staved off another bad start for the Americans today and furnished the inspiration for the first U. S. victory in three straight matches. The set scores were 8-6, 6-4, 6-1 as the two ex-colleagues finished with a blast of power.

England's two singles conquests yesterday kept the British forces in front 2 to 1, and they were heavy favorites to capture at least one of the two singles encounters tomorrow, bringing together first Wilmer Allison and Henry W. (Bunny) Austin, then Vines and Perry, the rival top-ranking players.

Vines had two short workouts today with one ankle bandaged, the result of a recent practice sprain, and bothered also by a pulled abdominal muscle. The American champion developed the abdominal injury while serving one of his "cannonball" shots, also in practice. He hurt his ankle the first time at Wimbledon but appeared fully recovered from this when he faced Austin.

Bernon Prentice, American captain, insisted Vines was in shape to give a good account of himself. His match with Perry will be an anti-climax unless Allison can stop the rampaging Austin, who lowered Vines' colors in straight sets and has been especially coached to combat both Americans.

CHORUS TO REHEARSE

WINNERS OF GOLF PRIZES TO BE KNOWN

Today's Play to Complete 54 Hole Rounds at Red Deer Course Here.

Winners of prizes in the Gray County club golf tournament, which has been in progress the past week will be decided following play today when the 54 holes must be completed by entrants who desire to compete for prizes.

Up to last night 11 players had finished their 54 holes. More than 25 had played 36 holes and the rest of the entrants had played 18 or 27 holes. The course should not be crowded because of the number of players who have finished or nearly finished their 54 holes.

Many of those who have not completed play can be among the prize winners. The low score of those who have already finished can be bettered.

Winners of prizes will be given slips which will be taken to the City Drug Store where the prizes are on display. Eleven prizes will be awarded. Two of the prizes have already been won when Grover Austin won a putter for low qualifying score when he bettered the course record with a sensational 66. Tom Darby won a sweater for second low qualifying score.

Women Swimmers Beat Two Marks

NEW YORK, July 22 (AP)—Before a crowd of 25,000, five of America's speediest mermaids today lowered two recognized world marks. Katherine Rawls, of Port Lauderdale, Fla., shattered her own mark in winning the 300-meter medley for the third successive year and the Carnegie Library club of Homestead, Pa., anchored by the queen of the country's free styler, Lenore Knight, swept to victory in the 880-yard relay.

Through the waters of Zach's bay Miss Rawls stroked her way to the new record in 4:35 3-5, lowering by more than 10 seconds the mark of 4:45 4-5 she made in winning the 1931 crown.

With Miss Knight, already victor in three individual events swimming the anchor-lap of 220 yards in two minutes, 38 3-10 seconds, the Homestead four, which also included Louise Clark and the Gorman sisters, Anna Mae and Johanna, sent the relay record down to 11:10. The old mark of 11:15 1-5 was made by the Los Angeles Athletic club in 1930.

MAGS TO PLAY REJUVENATED IRISH TODAY

DANCIGER - MAGNOLIA GAMES SET FOR NEXT WEEK

A week of baseball faces fans of Pampa with the first game this afternoon, two during the week, and a doubleheader next Sunday. The Magnolia "Mags" will appear in all five games. The Danciger Roadrunners will participate in three games, while Shamrock and McLean will be the other teams to see action during the big baseball week.

The game this afternoon will see the newly organized Shamrock club in Pampa for an encounter with the Magnolia "Mags" in a Cotton-Old league fixture. The Irishmen have picked up some new hurlers and two or three fielders and have little doubt but they will take the Pampa entry under the last meeting between the two clubs this season. Manager Buckingham will more than likely use three or four pitchers today in order to have a strong staff ready for the rest of the week's games. Two of his regulars will be unable to play, and Warner will be shifted to first or the outfield. Freddy Busman will probably do the receiving. Bozeman's ankle is still weak and he can't play a running position. One or two new players will also appear in uniform.

The game will start at 3 o'clock at Magnolia park on East Foster avenue. Admission will be 25 cents. The big baseball series of the season will start Wednesday afternoon when the "Mags" meet the Danciger Roadrunners in the first of a three-game series. The game will be called at 4 o'clock at Danciger park east of the city. The second game will be played Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock on Magnolia field. The third and last game will be part of a doubleheader at Roadrunner park next Sunday afternoon. The first game next Sunday will be between the "Mags" and McLean.

Proceeds from the three-game series between the local teams will go to the underprivileged children's fund of the Kiwanis club. Admission to the games will be 35 cents. The same admission will admit fans to the doubleheader. The series is not only being played for charity but to decide the City championship. The two teams have been at loggerheads for some time. The "Mags" will be strengthened for the big series and for the rest of the season, Manager Buckingham

Phillies to Celar
CHICAGO, July 22 (AP)—Heavy hitting by Kiki Cuyler and Babe Herman plus effective pitching by Charley Root when there were enemy runners on the paths, gave the second place Chicago Cubs a 4-1 victory over Philadelphia today and sent the Phillies tumbling back into the cellar again.

Root gave up ten hits and four walks. Austin Moore went the route for Philadelphia and gave up nine hits, one fewer than his mates derived off Root's deliveries. The victory was Root's ninth of the season.

First of Year
CINCINNATI, O., July 22 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers won their first game of the year at Redland Field in a decisive fashion today, shutting out the Reds 8 to 0 in the series final to shatter a six game losing streak.

Van Mungo gave the Reds only three hits and allowed only two runners to get as far as second. The Dodgers jumped on Johnson early in the game and drove him to cover. Bob Smith pitched good ball for the rest of the game.

End All Even
PITTSBURGH, July 22 (AP)—The Pirates and the New York Giants divided today's doubleheader and ended their six-game series on even terms as Carl Hubbell pitched the league leaders to a 1 to 0 victory in the opener and the Bucs batted out a 7 to 2 victory in the second game.

Hallahan Is Beaten
ST. LOUIS, July 22 (AP)—The Boston Braves pounded Phil Hallahan out of the box in the second inning today and won a slugfest from the St. Louis Cardinals, 9 to 5. The Braves thereby advanced to fourth place and the Cards dropped out of first division.

After the Cards got four runs off Mangum in the first and third, Brandt held the locals scoreless until the ninth when the Cards made one run and filled the bases only to have Hornsby hit into a double play.

EQUIPOISE IS RACE WINNER

$10,000 Arlington Handicap With Watch Him Second Won By Length and Half

ARLINGTON PARK, Chicago, July 22 (AP)—Equipoise won the $10,000 added Arlington handicap today by a length and a half with Watch Him second and Gallant Sir third. Seven started.

Equipoise, the odds on favorite, paid $3.50 to win, $3.72 to place and $2.58 to show. Watch Him, an outsider in the betting, paid $9.52 to place and $3.56 to show. Gallant Sir was at $2.54 to show.

The race had a gross value of $12,580, with $9,200 going to Owner Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney. Charging down the stretch like a champion Equipoise came from behind to beat Watch Him, which had set the early pace.

Equipoise ran the mile and a quarter in 2:02 3-5. By his victory Equipoise not only proved his claim to the 1933 handicap championship, but convincingly demonstrated he could carry a crushing impost of 135 pounds to victory.

Equipoise, ridden by Jockey Sonny Workman, was laying back in third place, when the field hit the stretch turn. Then responding gamely he came on to pass Gallant Sir and Watch Him to win galloping.

Yanks Muff Chance
NEW YORK, July 22 (AP)—Yankee errors ruined a good pitching job for Charley Ruffing today and gave the Cleveland Indians a 2 to 1 victory that was a painful blow to the Yankees' hopes of capturing the American league lead.

Monte Pearson, rookie right hander, pitched a steady game for Cleveland.

Senator at Top
WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—The Washington Senators again took top place in the American league by defeating Detroit 4 to 3 in a hard fought game that was not decided until the last of the ninth. In the meantime, the New York Yankees dropped into second place, a full game behind the Senators, through a 2 to 1 defeat from Cleveland.

A's Take Series
PHILADELPHIA, July 22 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics won both ends of today's doubleheader with the St. Louis Browns and took the series three games to one. The Mackmen won the first game 8 to 7 and the second 6 to 5.

Dib Williams' tenth home run of the season, coming with the bases filled, climaxed a seven run rally in the eighth inning to give the Athletics the opening encounter.

Jimmy Fox's twenty-seventh homer of the year with two on base in the third inning gave the A's a 5-0 lead that the Browns wiped out

HORSE SHOE PITCHING COURTS WILL BE OPENED ON MONDAY

Plans For Tourney Being Drafted; Participants Are Asked to Register.

Three courts for pitching horse shoes are being laid out at the rear of the R. & R. service station at the corner of North Cuyler and West Francis streets, and they will be ready for play tomorrow. Lights will be strung over the courts and night play will be featured.

A. B. Zahn and C. Y. Stitt are installing the courts. Mr. Stitt, an old horse shoe pitcher of some prominence, will be in charge of the course, which is north of the Montgomery Ward building and is in the shade most of the day.

A tournament is being sponsored by The NEWS, and entries are being received. Opening date of the tournament has not been set, but those intending to participate should register immediately so that a practice period can be set before play starts.

The courts being laid out are of regulation size, 40 feet from stake to stake, each stake being in the center by scoring three runs in the fifth and two in the seventh.

Kline Holds Sox
BOSTON, July 22 (AP)—Bob Kline, Red Sox hurler, limited the Chicago White Sox to six hits today and the Red Sox took their third straight game, 5 to 3.

The three tallies by the White Sox all were unearned, errors by Werber and Seeds accounting for the scores.

Werber was the big gun on the offensive, getting two doubles and a single in five times at bat and driving in two runs.

Meet Will Be Open to Players of City and Surrounding Territory.

Plans are under way to hold a city tennis tournament. Entries will be received by THE NEWS and then a meeting will be called at which plans will be made and rules adopted. Four good courts are available and there will be plenty of time for practice before the tournament gets underway.

It is planned to leave the tournament open to players from Pampa and surrounding territory. There are many good players working in the oil field near Pampa, and it is hoped that they will be able to enter. Pampa high school tennis players made several excellent showings this spring and are hoped to give the veterans of the city plenty of competition.

Entries may be filed with THE NEWS sports department and the sooner the list is completed the sooner the tournament will get underway. It is planned to charge a small entry fee, 25 or 35 cents, with which to purchase balls for the tournament and purchase prizes. Interested parties are invited to visit THE NEWS and talk over the tournament.

Firechief's Mascot

Larry Butler, the 9-year-old mascot of the radio firehouse temporarily vacated by Firechief Ed Wynne, has all that it takes to make an ideal American boy.

The lad on the Tuesday evening Texaco programs, has been in the movies with Nancy Carroll, but these things are also true:

He has had the mumps and the measles and diphtheria. His favorite sport is baseball, to which he contributes his 4 feet as a first baseman.

He swims and plays basketball and belongs to the Boy Scouts. His favorite baseball player is "Hack" Wilson, because "he's good in the pinches," and his favorite pitcher is Dazzy Vance, "because he's got a lot of smoke."

He reads "Tarzan" and "other adventure stuff," and, perhaps oddly, gets his highest marks in arithmetic. He will be graduated from grammar school in June of 1934, when he will be less than 11 years old.

The program on which Larry appears is sponsored by The Texas company, represented here by Lee Waggoner, Bill's Certified Texaco Station and Addison & Gunn. (Adv.)

SYNOPSIS: Apparently George Boncroft's step-father is being added to Bernie Boyd's string of admirers. He hints to Bernie that he will be well to divorce Nicholas Boyd, and his wealth makes the suggestion palatable. George is in love with Nicholas, who cares for her but wishes to save her from becoming involved in a scandal. He has promised to keep her in touch with her; but Billy Taylor, Bernie's friend, tells George that Nicholas is leaving London that night.

Chapter 42

UNLUCKY MEETING

THE two girls stared at one another, and it was Nelly who looked away. "I thought you'd be sure to know," she muttered.

With an effort George recovered herself. "Going away? Where?"

Her lips felt as if they were cut in ice. "I don't know—abroad, somewhere. Miss Boyd saw him last night, and from what I can make out there was no end of a row. Can't think why she doesn't divorce him."

"Are you sure?" George asked faintly.

Nelly joggled, and then with a rush of sympathy she added, "Here, don't you worry about him. They're all the same, these film stars."

George hardly heard; she was struggling desperately to drag herself out of the mists that seemed to be closing around her on all sides; she wanted to say "I don't believe you," but she could not, because in her heart she knew it was true.

Nicholas had broken his word to her. He was going away.

"Well, I must be off," Nelly said briskly. She touched George's shoulder. "Cheer up," she said. "There are as good fish in the sea as any that are caught."

The door shut behind her, and George stood up wondering why she suddenly felt so cold.

Going away after he had told her that she was very dear to him. After he had promised that he would not go away without telling her.

And Bishop too! Was there nobody in the world who was really sincere and honest?

The door opened quietly and Bishop walked in.

"Hello," he said. "I wanted to talk to you."

George stared at him without answering. She remembered that she had told him about her love for Nicholas; that he was the one person in whom she had dared to confide, and all the time he was sending presents to Bernie. "Running after her," Nelly had expressed it.

She shivered and Bishop said, "What's the matter?"

George shook her head helplessly. She realized suddenly that she had thought a great deal of this man, had set him up on an absurd pedestal.

Life was horrible. Love was a lie. Bishop said quietly, "I am not going to Germany after all."

George said nothing, and he went on, "Of course you know that your friend is in London."

She nodded then; there was a hard, constricted feeling in her throat that allowed no words.

"What's the matter?" Bishop asked again; he put out his hand as if to lay it on her shoulder, and hardly knowing what she did, George struck it down.

"Don't touch me. Leave me alone," she said passionately, and before he could speak or move to prevent her, she had fled past him and out of the room.

"EIGHT—nine—ten."

George looked up at the clock on the shelf which was striking out the hours with such maddening cheerfulness, and shifted her position a little.

She felt cold and stiff.

The fire had died down, and she had not once moved to replenish it during the two long hours during which she had sat in Nicholas Boyd's deserted room waiting for him to return.

Ten o'clock!

There was a little sound at the door behind her, and she turned her head as Boyd's man entered.

He looked at her apologetically. "Shall I make up the fire, Miss?"

"Thank you."

He moved forward quietly and stirred the dying embers into a weak blaze, adding more coal.

"Mr. Boyd is late, Miss," he said. "Yes."

George put up a hand and dragged off her hat; her head ached unbearably.

Balbo Declares Wars To Be in Air

NEW YORK, July 22 (AP)—A firm belief that the next war will be fought in the air and that governments should concentrate on development of their air forces was attributed tonight to General Italy Balbo by a source close to the Italian aviation minister.

The leader of Italy's air squadron of goodwill, which is en route home after an epic mass flight to Chicago's Century of Progress, also is convinced that lighter-than-air craft are valuable commercially or as a means of aerial defense or offense.

He said he plans to take off early Monday morning, if weather permits, or Tuesday at the latest.

Miss Addie Bryant of Borger spent yesterday with friends here.

Audrey Bartholomew, Omaha, took the women's title by trouncing Elizabeth Donohue, Omaha, 7-5, 6-3.

SYNOPSIS: Apparently George Boncroft's step-father is being added to Bernie Boyd's string of admirers. He hints to Bernie that he will be well to divorce Nicholas Boyd, and his wealth makes the suggestion palatable. George is in love with Nicholas, who cares for her but wishes to save her from becoming involved in a scandal. He has promised to keep her in touch with her; but Billy Taylor, Bernie's friend, tells George that Nicholas is leaving London that night.

The man rose from his knees and looked at her.

"Can I get you some coffee, or something warming?" he asked.

"No, thank you."

He turned to the door again and George asked:

"Is it tonight Mr. Boyd is going away?"

"By the midnight train, Miss."

"Thank you."

She did not like to ask to what destination Nicholas was going. Where did midnight trains go?

The door closed softly and she leaned her head on her hand.

After Nelly left her that afternoon, she had felt that she did not care; she had had wild ideas of ringing Clifford Asher and of telling him that she had changed her mind, but the impulse had died away.

At dinner time she had gone to bed, pleading a headache.

That had made Evelyn irate. "You've no right to have headaches at your age," she declared, unsympathetically. "Bishop will be furious. He has got tickets for the theater. I thought you were so fond of the theater."

George shut her eyes.

"I don't feel well enough to go anywhere tonight," she said, wondering vaguely if Bishop had ever been furious with anyone in all his life; he had always seemed to her to be the acme of patience, and endurance, but perhaps in that also she was mistaken, as she had been about other things.

"The time may come when you won't have the chance to go anywhere," her mother said sharply. "You're getting thoroughly spoilt."

She giggled round the room. "If you think I want to go to the theater alone with Bishop, you're mistaken," she added. "He only got the tickets to please you."

But Evelyn had gone alone with him after all, and then George had got up and dressed again, and had come to Boyd's rooms.

No doubt he would be angry with her; possibly Nelly had been right when she suggested that he was not worth worrying about. Possibly she was not dear to him at all, and he had only said it to—in his own words—"make things easier."

THERE was a ring at the bell. George sat up stiffly. It could not be Nicholas—he would surely have a key.

She heard footsteps crossing the tiny hall, then voices—a woman's voice.

"Nonsense, I shall certainly wait."

Then the voice of Nicholas's man. "But, madam—"

The door opened under an impatient hand.

George rose to her feet, pushing back her soft hair; how her head ached! She felt a little giddy as she turned round and came face to face with Bernie Boyd.

She was in evening dress, something white and fluffy, and an expensive fur wrap was slipping from her bare shoulders.

She was frowning, as if something had made her angry; George realized that that frown before Bernie stopped dead with a little sharp exclamation.

The two girls stared at one another; George said nothing, she felt as if she was an onlooker in a queer dream.

Then Bernie said blankly: "What in the world are you doing here?"

George found her voice with an effort.

"I am waiting to see Nicholas."

"Nicholas?"

Bernie came forward slowly, her eyes very blue against her careful make-up. When she was quite close to George she spoke again.

"Nicholas! How long have you known my husband?"

"Quite a long time," George said slowly; each word seemed a difficulty. "We came back from America on the same boat."

"I see."

The silence fell again, which Bernie broke with a cutting little laugh. "Hardly tactful of him, is it, to have asked is both to his rooms at the same time?"

"He didn't ask me," George said. "I just came."

"Really! And don't you think it's rather strange for a girl like you to be visiting a married man, at this time of night?"

"I suppose you think so," George said, and then: "It's not very late, is it?"

Hollywood Gets Thrill as Jolson Slugs Winchell

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., July 22 (AP)—Week-end vacations momentarily were thrown into the discard in Hollywood today while everybody tried to find out from everybody else the low-down on the Al Jolson-Walter Winchell battle of the century last night.

There were as many opinions as the long count of the Jack Dempsey-George Tunney embroglio provoked. However, there was a general agreement that Jolson hit Winchell last night as the columnist trod down the aisle at the Hollywood Legion stadium to attend the weekly fight program there.

Jolson said he hit Winchell fairly and squarely in venting his anger over an understanding that the columnist, in preparing a scenario for the screen, had written disparagingly of Jolson and the black-face comedian's wife, Ruby Keeler.

Miss Keeler, said Jolson, had cried much over the reported scenario.

Winchell, who denied such unbecomingly conduct with his pen, claimed Jolson hit him on the neck and some other "guys" chimed in, flooring him.

Harpo Marx said he understood Ruby waded in with her slipper in hand.

Art was Lupe Velez disgusted. "I see nothing. Shucks!"

First shipments of peaches and apples from Georgia orchards in 1933 were reported the same day.

A bale of cotton picked in 1919 when it was selling at 40 cents a pound, was ginned recently at Bamberg, S. C.

Moreland's Knee To Bother Play

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 22 (AP)—The quest for the western amateur golf championship starts here Monday without a single challenger from the far west—the region that has produced five champions in the past seven years.

The Pacific coast sector, home of Don Moe and Frank Delp, twice champions, and Ben Stein, was not represented among the 118 players who had registered tonight, but to balance the loss of those contenders there was the biggest field in history from the south and southwest.

Four former titleholders, Charles (Chick) Evans of Chicago, Keefe Carter of Oklahoma City, Johnny Lehman of Chicago, and Gus Moreland of Dallas, were ready for the chase.

Moreland, although somewhat bothered by a right knee injury, showed the soundness of his game with 68, two under par, in practice.

Moreland is not required to qualify but the others will stake their title hopes in the 36-hole medal play test Monday and Tuesday to determine the 31 players who will join him in the match play rounds beginning Wednesday.

Beaumont Wins In 13 Innings

TULSA, Okla., July 22 (AP)—The Galveston Buccaneers went on a 20-hit batting spree at the expense of three Tulsa pitchers tonight, counted four runs in each of four innings and won 16 to 7, sweeping the three-game series.

George Darrow went the route for Galveston, although he let the Oilers hit him 17 times and walked seven batters.

DALLAS, July 22 (AP)—Beaumont's Exporters outlasted the Dallas Steers to win 5 to 4 in a 13-inning contest on Steer field last night.

Oklahoma City won a surprise 3 to 0 game from Houston as Galveston swamped Tulsa 16 to 7.

Two Pampa baseball teams will be playing away from home this afternoon. The Danciger Roadrunners will go to Canadian for a game while the Busby Indians are to play the McLean Juniors in McLean.

Canadian has a fast fielding, hard hitting aggregation that defeated Skellytown last Sunday. The Roadrunners defeated the Skellytown team the previous Sunday which makes the two teams nearly on an even footing. T. Riley, Canadian hurler, allowed Skellytown only seven scattered hits while striking out 11 Oilers. Carrol pitched good ball for Skellytown, allowing only eight hits.

Manager Earl Roff will probably start Lefty Thomas on the mound, although he was considering Godwin last night. Leggett will do the receiving. T. Riley will hurl for Canadian with Teas catching.

Trenary will be on the mound for the Indians when they go to McLean this afternoon. Lloyd Hamilton will do the catching. The youthful Indian hurler allowed the Pampa All Stars only three hits and held them scoreless for eight innings last Sunday. He will be pitching his third game today.

McLean has been winning games with ease the last few weeks. Headed by two and Denworth once during the last two weeks.

A COOLING BREEZE

just where you want it!

"Fisher Controlled Ventilation"—here's a magic phrase that means more than you can believe till you've experienced it yourself.

At a turn of a handle you adjust ventilators—get the breeze just where you want it, and in just the volume you want.

And speed of travel doesn't make any difference—for a turn of the wrist adjusts the breeze to suit you. It is really controlled ventilation, you see—and you, yourself, control it, not the speed of the car or the direction of the breeze.

This one feature alone would make Pontiac an outstanding car compared with others at or near its price.

But Pontiac gives more. It is a Straight Eight, with a 77-horsepower engine that gives 78 real miles per hour.

It is a big car—115-inch wheelbase, and due to its balanced weight and design, it gives you safety, comfort, durability.

All this may lead you to think of Pontiac as a costly car. But its first cost is low and as for operating, ask any Pontiac owner, and you'll learn that it is giving 15 miles or more to the gallon.

Try a demonstration. Note how easily it handles; how smooth it is; how comfortable and roomy. And don't forget that it takes a Straight Eight to give Straight Eight performance.

Be sure to try Fisher Controlled Ventilation. You'll be amazed and delighted. No car can be really modern without this comfort feature.

SEVERAL BIG SHOWS USED IN 'JAZZ KING'

REVOLVING STAGES ARE BUILT TO CARRY HUGE CAST

IN "King of Jazz," the Paul Whiteman feature which is now playing at the La Nora theater, there are really seven shows in one, in addition to several clever black-outs, comedy sketches and specialty song and dance numbers. Each one of the revues could very readily be sold as a show in itself, for each has been executed with infinite care, attention to detail and a lavish production hand. There is a novelty and diversity of style which is very refreshing in "King of Jazz." John Murray Anderson, who is a master of stage revues and who has to his credit many of the popular New York stage hits of the past ten years, gave the best of his talent and creative genius to the revues and ensemble numbers of this Whiteman picture.

"The Melting Pot" number is perhaps the most pretentious of all the units of "King of Jazz." Huge revolving stages were especially built to accommodate the hundreds of extras and principals required in this colorful episode which is a composite of many short national numbers. The spectacle takes place in a huge melting pot set upon an elevated terrace, beneath which are the gold gates leading from a subterranean chamber below. Eight changes of costumes were required for the dancers to interpret the various nationalistic sequences—English, French, Spanish, Scotch, Italian, Russian, German and American, music especially arranged by Ferde Grofe, based upon national anthems and folk songs and played by the incomparable Whiteman and his band. The Russell Market Dancers with their perfect precision work are a feature of "The Melting Pot." Two thousand musical instruments were employed by the orchestra in this number.

An entirely different number is the Monterey sequence, which intro-

Eight stars, each playing the type of role in which he or she has won the greatest success, bring Phil Stong's popular novel, "State Fair," to the screen of the Rex theater today. Janet Gaynor, Will Rogers, Lew Ayres, Sally Eilers, Norman Foster, Louise Dresser, Frank Craven and Victor Jory are the stars of the Fox production.

Miss Gaynor and Ayres are the lovers of a romance between a little farm girl and a dashing newspaper reporter, and Miss Eilers and Foster are the principals of another affair, said to be as intense as it is unconventional. Rogers has what is reported as the greatest comedy role of his career, that of a Midwest farmer whose great ambition is to land a grand championship for his prize hog, Blue Boy. Miss Dresser takes the part of Rogers' wife, Craven appears as a country storekeeper and Jory portrays a carnival stand barker.

The action locales are Rogers' farm home and the grounds of a big state fair.

duces the exquisite song, "It Happened in Monterey," written by Mabel Wayne and Billy Rose, and sung by John Boles.

Musically as memorable and beautiful is heard in the "Song of the Dawn" episode, which is sung by Boles and a chorus of male voices known as the Cowboy chorus.

One of the most unusual and talked-of musical compositions of the century, "The Rhapsody in Blue," is dramatized with musical accompaniment, of course, in "King of Jazz." Paul Whiteman, who first introduced the George Gershwin symphonic jazz composition to the public at a concert in Carnegie Hall in New York, interprets it with his band in this production and here the hauntingly fascinating work is played exactly as the composer wants it to be played, bringing out its appeal in the fullest and most sympathetic interpretation. A huge piano, forty feet long and seven feet high was constructed to contain the entire Whiteman orchestra.

In "The Ragamuffin Romeo," "Happy Feet" and "The Bench in the Park" the most intriguing dance ensembles which the combined talents of John Murray Anderson, Paul Whiteman and the costume designer, Herman Rosse, could contrive, may be seen.

ing for a victim. Their spiritual fortress was the church, and they turned to the priests for assistance when they considered their immortal souls in danger.

An Old Story. In the 1150's a town such as Freiburg, was both strong and weak. The men were able soldiers, ready at any moment to leave their work and dash to the city battlements to repel the attack of besiegers. But from these same battlements they could see the dense green mass of the Black forest, within the dark glades of which they were afraid to set foot—for had not their grandparents told them of the fearful inhabitants? The haunts of Satan were within sight of their homes. Each day traveling merchants arrived, bearing new tales of horror from out of the woods that made the citizens doubly anxious to complete the cathedral already towering above the walls of the town. With in the bare nave, the worthy priests had augmented the ceremonies of the church with the symbolic story of the life of Christ. The townsfolk flocked to this primitive form of drama, although they could not understand the spoken Latin word. But it gave the simple folk spiritual stamina with which to withstand the fear of the unknown which surrounded them. As a result the early religious drama in Freiburg and her kindred towns, came in response to a very definite need. As early as the 9th century a dramatic device had been resorted to by the church in order to impart religious instruction to the masses, and the choir on Easter had sung: "Whom Seek Ye in the Sepulchre of Christ?" "Jesus, the Nazarene"; "He is Not Here—He Has Risen as He Foretold"—but the words were in Latin, and held no meaning for the majority of the listeners.

Ceremony Popular. It therefore was inevitable that ceremony with popular appeal be introduced. The first methods were the most simple imaginable. A portion of the altar was draped on Good Friday to resemble a tomb. A crucifix wrapped in linen was deposited in the presence of the worshippers. On the morning of Easter Sunday, before the arrival of the congregation, the cross was removed. Later during the service, three monks walked down the aisles of the church, searching to the right and left. On the altar stood another monk, representing the angel. As

PAUL WHITEMAN SEEN IN SINGING-DANCING PRODUCTION

RINGSIDE motion pictures of the world's championship battle in which Primo Carnera won the title from Jack Sharkey are included in a La Nora theater film program today which features the all-technical production, "King of Jazz," with Paul Whiteman and his orchestra.

Local interest in the fight pictures was whetted by the recent showing of the Schmeling-Baer battle won by the latter.

The theater program of the week follows:

LA NORA—Today, Monday, and Tuesday, "King of Jazz," all-technical, singing and dancing hit with Paul Whiteman; also Sharkey-Carnera prize fight picture, Wednesday and Thursday, "Made on Broadway" with Robert Montgomery and Sally Eilers; also taxi boys in comedy, Friday and Saturday, "The Narrow Corner" with Douglas Fairbanks Jr.; also "Two Black Crows" comedy and Pampa Daily News reel.

REX—Today, Monday, and Tuesday, "State Fair" with Will Rogers, Janet Gaynor, and all-star cast; Wednesday and Thursday, "Looking Forward," with Lionel Barrymore; Friday and Saturday, "The Man from Monterey," with John Wayne; also serial.

There will be short subjects with each film program.

TO PROSECUTE PROMOTERS. DALLAS, July 21 (AP)—A. T. Cole, special assistant to the attorney general, said today that the federal government was launching a determined drive against promoters of fake oil schemes in north Texas. Cole said that evidence had been gathered against 60 persons whom he expected to bring to trial at the September term of the United States district court.

Two Near Death In Powder Blast

M'KINNEY, July 22. (AP)—Willie Hayes, 31, remained in an unconscious condition here tonight as a result of injuries received Thursday when he and his brother, Kenneth Hayes, 23, were overcome by fumes from blasting powder while helping their father, R. L. Hayes of Cottage Hill community, dig a well. At 8 o'clock tonight the younger brother had been unconscious for 54 hours. Physicians regarded his condition as critical. The older brother was recovered sufficiently to be removed to his home late today.

Mrs. Hattie Lane of LeFors was a shopper here last night.

Shooting Is Fatal In Aransas Pass

CORPUS CHRISTI, July 22. (AP)—Gus Singler, 31, was shot to death today at Aransas Pass, five pistol bullets striking him. Walter Richardson surrendered a pistol to Deputy Sheriff May Keeper.

Richardson was held in jail at Sinton, facing murder charges. His examining trial was set for Monday at Sinton.

TODAY — MONDAY TUESDAY

You've Heard That Old Song "My Wife's Gone To The Country, Hooray!"

Well, this is a new version of it: "OUR BOSS HAS GONE TO NEW YORK" to look for new Fall Merchandise.

Just before they left, we had our 7th Anniversary Sale — and it was a decided success, but left us with a lot of short lots of very desirable dresses and furnishings and Boy! O-Boy! Are we going to clean them up! Nobody here to say "That's losing us too much money!" What do we care for expenses when there "ain't any."

Here's our store—"Believe it or not!"

The entire line of our very best Lace Dresses in pastel shades, all sizes. At $3.50. See some of them in the front east window.

Fifteen of our nicest summer Suits and Dresses in both printed and plain light weight silks. Sizes 38 to 50. At $7.00, but don't ever mention it around this place that you got them for that. A few of them on display in the west front window.

And for the smaller girls—our best line of silk Sport Dresses and suits, formerly $16.75. Sizes 14 to 20. At $5.00. (Keep quiet about that too, when the Big Shots get back). See some of these in the west front window.

All styles and kinds of Panties, Trunks and shorts. Fresh, new merchandise, but we just have too many of them. At 39c. You don't usually find this quality at twice the price. West side window. Three white summer coats, cute styles in sizes 12, 14 and 16. A real buy at $4.00. West side windows.

Sixteen pair of Slacks, mostly white, sizes 10 to 14. 50c each.

The remainder of our $3.98 Voile Dresses and twine Sport Dresses. These are nice because they won't wrinkle or sag. At $1.50.

Two dozen Summer Sport Skirts, pastel shades, silks, piques and novelty weaves. All sizes. At 75c. West side windows.

Those cool Voile Gowns and Pajamas, cleverly made, garden prints and plain pastels. At 75c.

And on our balcony—Honestly, the prices are so ridiculously low for the high quality of cotton and linen tub frocks which we always carry, that you will just have to see them for yourself. A big assortment of clever styles and color combinations.

New Counter At City Drug Store

The City Drug Store has recently completed the installation of a new counter display in the center of the store for a better display of merchandise and to make shopping more convenient.

Other changes and improvements were made including re-painting the interior of the store and a change of decorations and color scheme. According to W. F. Cretney, manager, this is in accordance with the policy of the store to make a complete cleaning and change in the store's appearance each spring or summer.

STATE FAIR

Henry Ford Dearborn, Mich.

Until we learned better, we used to mix wood and steel in our car bodies and wheels.

It was the best way to make bodies—then. But the state of the art has advanced.

Of course, it is more expensive to make an all-steel body than to make a wooden frame and nail steel panels on to it. The better way involves an initial expenditure of several millions of dollars for new dies, which renders a change very costly. Cars, especially large expensive cars which are produced in small volume, cannot afford this, because the dies cost as much for one car as for a million. That alone explains why all-steel bodies are not used in all cars.

But our basic policy from the beginning is to make a good car better, regardless of cost.

For example, when we discarded wood-steel body construction, it was not because we lacked wood. We still have some thousands of acres of the best hard wood in America. Economy would urge us to use up the wood first, and then adopt the better all-steel body. But we decided that quality was more important than expense.

We weighed the reasons, for and against, before we made the change.

We could see only one reason for retaining a mixed wood-and-steel body—nailing the metal on, instead of welding an all-steel body into a strong one-piece whole. That reason was, it would be cheaper—for us.

Our reasons for adopting an all-steel body were these: A wood-steel body is not much stronger structurally than its wooden frame. In all American climates, wood construction weakens with age. Every used car lot gives evidence of this. Rain seeps in between joints and the wood decays. A car may have a metal surface, and yet not be of steel construction. Under extreme shock or stress the steel body remains intact—dented perhaps, but not crushed.

Steel does not need wood for strength or protection. Wood is fine for furniture, but not for the high speed vehicles of 1933.

In the Ford body there are no joints to squeak, no seams to crack or leak.

The all-steel body is more expensive—to us, but not to you.

By all odds, then, steel bodies seem preferable.

Wheels also have become all-steel. No one argues that an electrically welded one-piece steel wheel, such as the Ford wheel, needs to be "strengthened" by adding wood to it.

The one-piece all-steel body is the strongest, safest, quietest, most durable body made. That is our only reason for making them.
