

The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

BUSINESS IS pretty good with the Cisco Chapter of the Future Farmers of America. Their teacher and sponsor, Mr. James Starr, reports that some months back the chapter received $66.66 from the Phillips Oil Company for a fertilizer program on their farm near College Hill.

Despite below normal spring and summer rainfall, the FFA farm made some 45 tons of sudan hay and gained a lot of valuable experience in the process. The field was recently plowed and replanted to winter cover crops. The boys now have a tractor, having obtained it through the county vocational agriculture school. They need some farm implements for the tractor to pull. They appreciate the loan of some equipment recently by Mr. Roy Pippen.

Right now, the FFA farm is under winter grass lease to Mr. Sutton Crofts who has 10 or 12 Angus bulls in it. The boys have 29 registered Hampshire hogs in their feed lot at the farm.

UP AT Weatherford, they're trying to make arrangements to run a special train to Cisco for the football game next Friday night. The issue will be in doubt until Monday or Tuesday when the T&P Railroad learns whether or not they find equipment for the special.

When we talked to some Weatherford folks Friday, they already had 500 people who wanted to ride the special. And, they said, if Cisco beats Stephenville and Weatherford beats Comanche, some 1,500 people from Weatherford would want to see the game in Cisco this week. (Comanche won the game 26 to 0.)

Some of the best football trips we've ever made were on special trains. The auto has just about ended the special train demand. Was talking with Mr. Gene Abbott and Mr. Ted Waters the other afternoon and they recalled that one of the best football special trains to go out from Cisco was to El Paso in 1929. Some 1,000 local fans made the 3-day trip to see the Lobos beat El Paso.

Gene, who played in the band in those days, recalls that as a special excursion, the Ciscoans attended a bull fight the next day in Mexico. The band played and cheered for the bull.

MANY OF YOU will be interested to hear that Mrs. Joe Kilborn, long-time resident of Cisco who now lives in Houston, recently made a non-stop airplane trip to Washington, D. C., to see her son, Col. John Chesley Kilborn. It was the first plane ride for the former Ciscoan, who is over 80 years old, and it took four hours and 25 minutes of flying time to reach Washington.

Col. Kilborn, who is stationed with the Army in Washington, is a CHS graduate and is also a graduate of West Point.

RAN INTO MR. Omer Burkett, the state representative, in town the other day. He's against calling a special session of the Legislature to deal with the drought situation. He is advocating that the state or federal government or both buy surplus feed from Texas farmers for distribution to victims of the drought.

Feed surpluses on farms is hardly worth harvesting or baling in some parts of the state, he said. He has written his idea to Texas leaders and to Senator Lyndon Johnson.

MR. HARRY Schaefer, the sign painter, brought us a limb from one of his four pear trees. It contains a dozen pears and a good many blooms. He says the blooms are the result of sap rising twice in a season in the trees, and this is the second time in 40 years that he has seen the likes . . . Mr. D. B. Perdue, who operates a farm out northeast of town, has some registered white-face Hereford pigs. We didn't know they made Hereford pigs.

OUT AT MRS. Peggy Gallagher's farm, they got 200 eggs from her 500 hens Friday. Everything operates on a strictly business basis at the farm. Mrs. Gallagher sells herself eggs, but she buys the small eggs, soft (Turn to page four)

He and Mrs. Kent, the former Miss Betty Gallagher, daughter of Mrs. Bethel Gallagher of Cisco, were expected in Cisco Monday for a week's visit with their parents.

RODEO "EXPERT"

Rodeos are getting to be a career with Boyce House—not riding and roping, however, but writing.

The former West Texas Oil Belt editor, who is the author of "I Give You Texas," has just been appointed publicity director of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show. This will be his fifth season with the Fort Worth show, which features the "world's greatest indoor rodeo." He served in the same capacity for the recent Heart O' Texas Fair in Waco, which likewise presented a spectacular indoor rodeo and he also directed the publicity for an outstanding outdoor show, the Possum Kingdom Roundup in Graham.

House was editor of the Cisco Daily News, Eastland Telegram and Ranger Times more than 20 years ago, and has written two books about the Eastland County oil boom.

Lutheran Church To Present Final Religious Picture

The final of a series of picture programs being sponsored by the young people of Grace Lutheran Church will be held at the church at 8 p. m. Sunday.

The fifth in the series of film programs to be shown by the church was said to be the best of the 10 pictures obtained for the program.

The first 30 minute picture, "The Beginning Of The Rainbow," tells the story of how a couple tried to find happiness in an endless round of pleasure, only to find their lives on the brink of ruin. They found true happiness in turning to Christ.

The final film tells the story of the trials of a Filipino mother and her eight year old son who move into a new town only to find it difficult to gain acceptance from their neighbors.

A nine year old boy leads the way for the town in breaking down the barriers and succeeds, through the church, in bringing happiness to the strangers.

Everyone was invited to see the pictures without charge.

Loboes Tie Stephenville Team In Opener; Wranglers Lose, 7-6

Rain Mars Game As Wranglers Are Beaten At Bryan

Coach Red Lewis' Cisco Junior College Wranglers roundly outplayed Allen Academy for 56 minutes in Bryan Friday night but the remaining four minutes gave the Academy seven points that proved to be enough to win the Texas Junior College Conference contest by a 7-6 score.

For the first four minutes of the game the Ramblers went through the Wrangle defense at will, and pushed across the touchdown during that lapse on the part of the Cisco team. James Boehme drove 17 yards through the line for the counter and Gerald Losack kicked the point after touchdown that proved to be the margin of victory.

After the score the Wranglers tightened up and the Ramblers were never able to get started again.

Cisco's lone tally came in the third period on a 40 yard play that saw Hut Hutson lateral to Del Wright on the 20. Hutson broke through the Academy line at the 40 and was trapped on the 20 when he pitched to Wright who went on to score. A bad pass from center on the all-important point after touchdown attempt nullified the one pointer.

Approximately three quarters of the game was played in the rain, and Coach Lewis was on the sideline against the orders of a Bryan physician who treated him for a severe cold.

The team arrived in Cisco at 5:30 a. m. Saturday. Gene Burk and Don Denard were injured in the contest but will probably be back in action soon. Burk received a badly bruised leg and Denard received a bad hand injury. The Wranglers were playing without the services of Jimmy Adams and Ray Westmoreland, two of their best backs.

They will begin work Monday in preparation for their game with McMurry "B" at Chesley Field Thursday night.

Survivors include four sons, Finis Eppler of Causey, N. M., Paul Eppler of Fort Worth, Barton Eppler of Gorman and W. R. Eppler of Abilene, and other relatives including Mrs. Cole Nunally, Mrs. Rudolph McHaffey and Mrs. Odel Thompson, all of Gorman, Mrs. Delmer Ashworth of Kingsville, Mrs. D. E. McVey of Lubbock, Mrs. Phil Gates of Levelland and Mrs. Melbourne Collie of Austin.

RED CROSS GIVES INFORMATION ON ARMY LEAVE AND DISCHARGE

Rev. Otto Marshall, Eastland, home service chairman for the Eastland County Chapter of the American Red Cross reported Saturday that many persons had been asking for information or assistance in obtaining emergency discharges for members of the armed forces.

1. What Is The Present Procedure Regarding Applications for Emergency Leave?

Servicemen in all branches of the military services who are stationed in the United States must make applications for emergency leave to their commanding officers.

A serviceman in the Army or Air Force who is stationed overseas may make application for emergency leave to his commanding officer, or the serviceman's family may make the request. In the case of the Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard, the family cannot make the application; the serviceman must submit his own application to his commanding officer.

2. What Steps Should The Family Take When Emergency Leave Is Desired?

A. If the serviceman is stationed in the United States:

The family may report the situation to the local Red Cross chapter, which will make a verification and will submit a report of the facts to the Red Cross field director at the serviceman's station for decision by the man's commanding officer.

B. If the serviceman is stationed overseas:

The family may report the situation to the local Red Cross chapter, which will make a verification and submit a report of the facts through Red Cross field director overseas, or to the commanding officer of a ship, in accordance with established regulations.

3. Does The Red Cross Recommend That Leave Be Granted or Denied?

No. The Red Cross makes no recommendations. It submits verified factual reports for consideration by the military authorities.

4. Who Makes The Decision?

The decision is made by the serviceman's commanding officer or by the military headquarters, depending upon where the serviceman is stationed and his branch of service.

5. What Is The Present Procedure Regarding Applications for Dependency or Hardship Discharges?

A. If the serviceman is stationed in the United States:

Last Half Scores Allow Visitors To Overcome Deficit

The Loboes of Cisco High School and the Yellowjackets of Stephenville High School battled to a 13-13 tie here Friday night in the District AA-9 opening football game for the home team. It was a hard fought contest before a good crowd in cold, damp weather.

The first half of the contest was definitely Cisco's as the Loboes pushed across both of their touchdowns in the second period. The Yellowjackets came back to score in each of the third and fourth quarters to knot the count.

Fullback Kent Davis and Quarterback Tommy Reynolds tallied for the Loboes, while Quarterback Lon Leatherman, Halfback Jim Kelley and End Looney were the offensive big guns for the visitors.

The Lobo forward wall was especially alert and effective during the first two periods, virtually holding the Yellowjackets to a standstill. Fumbles were fairly frequent, due probably to the cold weather. The contest was free of injuries.

To open the game, the Loboes took the kickoff on their 20-yard line. Harold Pippen and Reynolds got 11 yards on three plays. The Loboes then fumbled. Don Cleveland recovering for Stephenville on the Cisco 34-yard line. Three plays later, the Yellowjackets fumbled and Benny Edwards recovered for Cisco on their 19.

Davis and Marcos Gallegos got 10 yards, and Davis drove through for 21 yards to midfield. Gallegos got loose for 14 yards, and then he and Davis got six yards each to the Yellowjacket 24. Davis hit center for three yards, and Reynolds circled for 9 to the 12. Here, the Loboes fumbled again, the Yellowjackets recovering on their 11-yard line.

Leatherman got 9 yards, and Stephenville fumbled. Edward Bernie recovering for Cisco on the visitor's 22. Davis and Pippen drove to the 11. Davis got 4 yards and Reynolds scored on the first play of the second period. His try for extra point was low.

The Yellowjackets took the kickoff on their 34. After Leatherman made 9 yards, the visitors fumbled and Ronnie Qualls recovered on the Cisco 45-yard line, setting the stage for the final Lobo score.

Short gains by Gallegos, Davis and Pippen carried to the Stephenville 44. Gallegos got 4 yards, and Pippen circled for 10. Reynolds got loose for 22 yards to the 8. Four line bucks sent Davis over with the touchdown. Reynolds converted.

The Yellowjackets offered their only threat of the first half after taking the kickoff on their 33. Leatherman and Kelley alternated to carry the ball to the Lobo 12 before Cisco held and took over on downs as the half ended.

Opening the third quarter, Stephenville took over on their 26 and a drive carried to the Cisco 25 before the Loboes held and took over. Three Cisco plays gained nine yards, and Bill Smith punted to midfield.

The Yellowjackets then began their first touchdown march. Leatherman circled for 11 yards, and Kelley drove to the Cisco 27. Two bucks then carried to the 15. Four plays gave the Yellowjackets a first down on the Cisco 2. Kelley hit center to score. The try for extra point failed.

An exchange of punts gave the Yellowjackets the ball in mid-field midway in the final period. Kelley and Leatherman used four line bucks to make a first down by inches. Leatherman passed for a first down on the Cisco 23. On last down, he passed to Looney for a touchdown and Roberson kicked the goal to tie the score.

The Loboes took the kickoff on their 33 and drove to the

AN OPEN MIND

The man or woman who can maintain an open mind as the years fly by will always retain some of the elements of youth. L. L. Colbert, president of the Chrysler Corporation and a native of East Texas, said recently in Dallas at a dinner in his honor that the business world today is eagerly looking for men with "free wheeling imagination." He meant men and women who dare to dream and to think ahead of the crowd and to challenge and question the existing methods.

America is great today because of men and women who dared to seek always bigger and better ways of doing things. We want better ways of doing things. We want better houses, cars, roads, radios, television, air conditioning, and better living. About 75 years ago a United States Senator said in a debate on the appropriation for the U. S. Patent Office that there was no use keeping the patent office open because "everything that the mind of man can conceive of has already been invented." Since that statement was made Americans have come to know and enjoy the modern miracles of electricity, the automobile, the airplane, and countless thousands of gadgets and conveniences not dreamed of in that day. It is said that if you will go around the business district of any American city and note the places of business that are based on ideas not known 50 years ago, you would have listed three-fourths of all of them. You might try it sometime. If some Americans had not kept their minds open to change and new ideas, we would still be riding in horse-drawn vehicles on dirt roads and reading by coal oil lamps.

EMPTY SPACE IN THE PEW

Luther Burbank once said: "It is well for people who think to change their minds occasionally in order to keep them clean. For those who do not think, it is best at least to rearrange their prejudices once in a while." Dorothy Walworth, in the Reader's Digest, once wrote about a devoted teacher who changed the thinking of the whole town of Xenia, Ohio, under the title: Miss Elwell Opened the Blinds. She talked to Miss Elwell when she was "a winsome 91-year-old" and found her still alert, bright and eager for new ideas. When asked why she refused offers of marriage and chose to teach for 49 years, Miss Elwell said, "I wanted to open the blinds."

Xenia was a stodgy, narrow-minded, prejudiced and non-progressive community. The older people closed the blinds of their minds and resented any new information that might disturb their long-fixed opinions. Miss Elwell dared to see and to teach new and beautiful ideas. She brought out the young minds and encouraged them to think and to dare to be different.

One of the reasons I hate to leave this world is that I know I am going to miss so much. It is our glory in America that we have always had brave souls who would not be content with little plans.

Hold fast, my friends, to the open mind as we face the oncoming years of challenge and opportunity for more abundant living. — Hubert M. Harrison in East Texas Magazine.

P. Hackney, Commander, Department of Texas, Disabled American Veterans, to participate in the 6th Annual Essay Contest sponsored by the two organizations.

Crozier said that rules of the contest had been sent to all High School Superintendents and Principals and those students interested should contact their respective schools.

Commander Hackney stated the essay, on the subject "The Physically Handicapped — Competent, Dependable Workers," could be a lucrative project for the winners. He pointed out prizes for the State Contest will be $100 first plus a gold medal, $60 second plus a silver medal, $40 third plus a golden bronze medal, $20 fourth plus a bronze medal, $10 fifth.

Mr. Crozier said the first place essay in the State Contest would be submitted as the Texas entry in the National Contest. Prizes for the latter contest are $1,000 first, $400 second, $300 third, $200 fourth, $100 fifth, plus all National winners receiving an expense-paid trip to Washington, D. C.

The D. A. V. in Texas will pay transportation to Austin, Texas, for the State winner to attend their State Convention in June, 1954.

Crozier said for entries in the essay contest to be considered they must be postmarked not later than midnight February 5, 1954, and addressed to Chairman, Texas Committee for Employment of the Physically Handicapped, c/o Texas Employment Commission, Brown Building, Austin 19, Texas.

Crozier and Hackney said background material for the students is available from any one of the Texas Employment Commission local offices; through the Rehabilitation Division, Texas Education Agency; or by writing Disabled American Veterans, Department of Texas, P.
