Laos Photo Flights May Be Resumed

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Premier Souvanna Phouma said today that U.S. reconnaissance flights over Laos will be resumed if he gets information of further Communist troop movements.

The neutralist premier, returning from a visit to the royal capital of Luang Prabang, said he had asked the U.S. government for a "temporary suspension" of the photographic missions over central Laos "because there were no signs of (Communist) troop movements."

"If we receive information in the next few days that there are further troop movements," he said, "The reconnaissance flights will be resumed."

RED REACTION

The United States temporarily halted the fighter-escorted photographic missions Wednesday. Despite Souvanna's statement that they were not necessary for the time being, the general impression was that he was disturbed by the angry reaction from the Communist Pathet Lao and Communist China after the United States last weekend began using armed jet fighters to escort the unarmed reconnaissance jets.

U.S. Ambassador Leonard Unger said Wednesday that continuing the flights still was a matter of discussion between him and Souvanna. Unger said he would meet with the premier today or Friday, after Souvanna returned from seeing King Savang Vatthana in Luang Prabang.

Sees Barry's Platform Okay

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Robert E. Smylie of Idaho predicted today that Republican governors will produce a "forward-looking" platform declaration that Sen. Barry Goldwater will accept as the GOP presidential nominee.

Smylie said in an interview the failure of the 16 Republican governors to agree on a policy declaration during the Governors Conference which ended Wednesday does not mean the project will be abandoned.

The Governors' Conference wound up without producing a new moderate opponent for the conservative Goldwater.

Gov. George Romney of Michigan issued a statement that was interpreted by his aides as saying he would fight for a progressive platform, but he would not battle Goldwater for the presidential nomination.

This seemed to end an effort by former Vice President Richard M. Nixon to get a moderate Republican other than Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York into the contest.

However, Nixon said in London that Goldwater does not have the nomination clinched and that Romney has the best chance of beating Goldwater.

"Goldwater is odds-on favorite at this time," Nixon told newsmen, "but the jury is still out. I would say the question is whether he goes over the top this next week."

Most Republican governors seemed to agree with Smylie, who said he thinks Goldwater has the nomination locked up.

The conference elected Gov. Grant Sawyer of Nevada, a Democrat, to succeed GOP Gov. John Anderson Jr. of Kansas as chairman. It picked Minnesota for next year's meeting, with indications that Minneapolis will be the site.

In contrast to previous meetings, the conference avoided any major controversy over the civil rights issue.

CREWMEN RE-BOARD JINX SHIP AT SEA

Freighter Pomona abandoned after fire erupts near Hawaii

Jinx Ship, Captain Slain, Limp To Port After Fire

HONOLULU (AP) — The jinx ship Pomona, its former captain hacked to death with an ax on the high seas, was heading back to Honolulu today after a fire forced the freighter's new crew to abandon ship.

With the Liberian-registered ship only 100 miles southwest of Honolulu, en route to Formosa, fire broke out Wednesday in the engine room and 30 crew members were ordered over the side into aircraft-dropped lifeboats.

There were no injuries. The crew, less three men who remained aboard the Pomona, were picked up by the freighter

Rio Manamo and transferred to the Coast Guard cutter Kukui.

Four hours later, with the fire under control but the engines apparently disabled, the men were placed back aboard the Pomona to await the arrival of a tug boat from Hawaii.

The new crew was composed of former first mate Alf Olsen, the captain; six Norwegian officers; a Brazilian radio operator and 25 Chinese seamen.

The old crew refused to sail again after the slaying of Capt. Jacob Natvig in May. Natvig was slain with a fire ax in the vessel's first attempt to get to Formosa with 9,500 tons of scrap.

The captain's body was discovered by Olsen May 15 in his bunk and the ship diverted to Honolulu from 1,000 miles east of the islands. An extensive investigation failed to turn up the killer.

Wednesday's fire broke out 15 hours out of Honolulu. Coast Guard planes radioed that smoke was billowing up from behind the wheelhouse, above the engine room.

Olsen's SOS brought the Rio Manamo to her side within three hours. The Pomona remained on even keel throughout the crisis, the captain messaged.

Cause of the fire is under investigation.

The ship is owned by the Namdal Shipping Co. of Brazil.

duction in his committee of $250 million, as has been described in a published report.

"Anybody who guessed on a figure of $250 million is really wild," Passman told a reporter.

"Why, we'll take out that much in the first hour of the markup (subcommittee consideration of the appropriation bill)," Passman previously mentioned publicly a figure of $900 million as what he would like to lop off the President's program under the ceiling set by the authorization bill.

"If I was going to capitulate on 90 per cent, why not go the whole way and be a real flop in the eyes of my constituents?" the Louisiana congressman asked.

Nonetheless, foreign aid supporters were elated by their victory Wednesday. And Johnson said the members of both parties "who rightly concluded that this is no time to be cutting a carefully drawn measure, deserve the thanks of their countrymen."

The authorization now goes to the Senate, where it is likely to get kind treatment.

Fifty-six Republicans joined 174 Democrats for passage, while 60 Democrats and 115 Republicans voted against the authorization.

"An awful lot can happen before convention time at San Francisco," Schweiker told a newsmen. "I think time can be in our favor."

At the Governors Conference, Scranton was reported ready to expand his position, making himself more available for a drive for the nomination, following last Saturday's meeting at Gettysburg, Pa., with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

However, reports from Cleveland indicated, Eisenhower asked Scranton Sunday morning not to step into any stop-Goldwater movement.

Later that day on CBS' interview program "Face the Nation," Scranton indicated he was available for the nomination but would not work for it. This was little different than the position he had taken months before that he would accept only an honest and sincere draft for the nomination.

Schweiker intimated that this sequence of events "did not help" the Scranton cause.

"We were hopeful that something would come out of the Governors Conference," said Schweiker. "But we believe we still have a chance inasmuch as we have some five weeks to work before the convention."

Senate Chiefs Foresee Rapid Rights Passage

Cloture Win Credited To Many Points

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate did Wednesday what it has never been able or willing to do before—vote down a Southern filibuster against a civil rights measure. What made the difference this time?

Some credit, or blame, men—such as President Johnson and Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen.

Some say it was politics in an election year. Others contend it was the pressure of religious groups.

And some, like Dirksen, believe it was the tide of history.

But the difference was there, dramatic and obvious.

LACKED MAJORITY

In most of the efforts to limit civil rights debates since the cloture rule was adopted in 1917 the Senate was unable even to muster a majority, much less than the required two-thirds approval.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., veteran leader of the Dixie forces, pointed to President Johnson.

If he had to name the one individual who had the most to do with it, he said, the President would be the man.

But many observers believe it would have been impossible to obtain cloture without the aid of Dirksen, the chief architect of a proposed substitute for the House-passed bill.

DIRKSEN'S WORK

When the historic vote on cloture was taken, only six of the 33 Republicans voted against it in an impressive testimony to Dirksen's labors.

Also working on Dirksen's side was the fast approaching date of the Republican National Convention, which starts July 13 in San Francisco. Many Republican senators felt the civil rights battle had to be settled before the convention.

Sen. Lister Hill, D-Ala., said "There is no question that Sen. Goldwater's victory in the California primary helped to win Republican votes for cloture."

"The party leaders decided they had to settle this issue in Congress before the convention next month," he said. "Some of them told me that otherwise it could tear them to pieces."

BARRY AGAINST

Goldwater, the front-runner for the GOP presidential nomination, was among the six Republican senators who voted against cloture. But he said his vote had no relation to civil rights, that he always has voted against cloture.

Of unmeasured but unquestionable great influence on the outcome were the delegations of clergymen who have looked on the civil rights bill as a great moral issue and urged senators to vote for cloture.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., the bill's floor manager, said in past weeks that if cloture were obtained it probably would be due above all to the pleas of clergymen of all faiths.

REDS' Activity Declines In Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist activity in South Viet Nam dropped to its lowest point in three months last week but Red casualties nearly doubled over the previous week, an American military spokesman announced today.

American and Vietnamese military casualties increased also, but not as much as the Communist Viet Cong, he said.

Vietnamese patrols reached a peak of 7,530 last week, he said, but only 100 made contact with the Viet Cong.

The weekly summary covered the military situation through last Saturday. Since then, Viet Cong attacks on government outposts have increased, but no major clashes have been reported.

Amendment Job Next For Solons

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the Southern filibuster broken, Senate leaders predicted today the Senate will pass the civil rights bill by the end of the next week.

Still to be voted on is a mountain of some 100 amendments. But Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., the bill's floor manager, figures the Senate should be able to dispose of them at a 15-a-day clip.

It set to the task Wednesday, beating down two Southern amendments, and drawing the wrath of Dixie leader Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., who shouted the Senate was acting "in the spirit of a lynch mob."

75 DAYS

Such daily-dozen progress on the amendments would be a breathtaking change of pace after the 75 days of debate and filibuster which the senators voted Wednesday to choke off.

In so doing it made history. For the first time the Senate invoked cloture — the limitation on debate — in a civil rights battle. The vote was 71 to 29, four more than the necessary two-thirds majority. All 100 senators were on hand, including the ailing Sen. Clair Engle, D-Calif., who cast his vote for cloture from a wheel chair.

From then on, each senator is limited to one hour of speaking time on all questions in connection with the measure. Leaders said they were certain a substantial part of this 100 hours will not be used. A little more than two hours were consumed Wednesday after cloture was imposed.

NEXT WEEK

Humphrey told a reporter he believed the bill now would be passed and sent back to the House in amended form by Friday of next week.

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., the Republican whip, suggested it might be done by Wednesday.

The bill's bipartisan managers demonstrated Wednesday in two key votes they were in full command of the field following the cloture vote.

SLEDGEHAMMER

Gore, in urging that the federal aid cutoff section be stricken, called it "a sledgehammer provision" whose use would harm many innocent people.

He said Congress never should surrender control over the purse strings to federal officials.

The Southerners won one tentative victory after cloture was invoked.

This was on a 49-48 vote to adopt a "double jeopardy" amendment of Sen. Sam Ervin Jr., D-N.C., to bar a person from being tried twice where the same act constitutes both a crime and a criminal contempt of court.

ACT IN A HURRY

Ten of them already have been passed by the House and another is slated for passage next week. A filibuster has prevented action on any of them in the Senate. Still, the Senate has been known to act in a hurry on money bills.

Many of the President's major proposals are in favorable position to be acted on quickly after the civil rights battle ends.

Among them are these:

1. Federal aid for development of mass transportation programs in urban areas. It has passed the Senate and is on the House calendar.

2. A package of antipoverty proposals. It has won approval of a House committee and may be cleared for House action by the Rules Committee next week.

3. Federal assistance for area redevelopment. This bill passed the Senate and was approved by the House Banking Committee last year.

FINAL HOURS

4. Foreign aid. The House Wednesday passed a bill extending the authorization for the program, subject to appropriations in a later measure. The program will be extended and financed, as usual, but the fight over its scope may run into the final hours of the session.

5. Pay raises for federal employees. Defeated once by the House, it has been tossed down and presumably is headed for enactment.

The one big administration proposal in difficulty would set up a program of medical care for the elderly through higher Social Security payments.

Montana Continues Hunt For Dead; Plans Rebuilding

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—Flood-torn Montana took on aspects of a zone of war today as government and business leaders directed multimillion-dollar rebuilding projects and authorities searched for dead and missing.

As floodwaters receded, officials in various search centers reported at least 30 persons dead.

Many of the more than 35 persons listed as missing were believed to be dead. Authorities said some bodies may be buried under tons of silt and rock.

Gov. Tim Babcock, who made an aerial inspection of the stricken area, called it the worst thing that has ever happened to the state.

NO ESTIMATE
"We can't begin to estimate the damage," he said. "It will run into tens of millions of dollars. Sections of highway as long as 20 miles have been destroyed by floodwaters."

Highway crews "ready" have been created temporary roads of mud and rock and set up makeshift bridges.

Many small towns were cut off from food and medical supplies. Supply-laden U.S. Air Force planes, including C123 transports, landed on grass and gravel runways and even open stretches of highway.

In the tiny reservation community of Heart Butte, where a number of persons were reported injured, a nurse was in charge of medical treatments. She received instructions by short-wave radio from a physician.

AIRLIFTED
Thousands of pounds of food and medical supplies were airlifted into flood-battered communities. The largest of these was Choteau, a town of 2,000 made an island by the flood.

Communications to Choteau were out until Wednesday when The Associated Press was able to reach Mrs. D. P. Fabrick by telephone.

"So far everyone is safe but there is still plenty of trouble here," she said.

Mrs. Fabrick said the town was supposed to have been evacuated by helicopter due to sewer and water system failure. However, she said the Air Force later decided it would be unable to bring out all of the town's residents. A group of tourists stranded in Choteau were taken out Wednesday.

HEAVY RAINS
The massive floods started Monday on both sides of the Continental Divide after days of heavy rains and the sudden melting of a huge mountain snowpack.

Federal aid began pouring into the nine hardest-hit counties, in northwestern and west-central Montana, declared a disaster area by President Johnson.

The Red Cross operated 11 shelters around the flood area, housing and feeding more than 4,000 refugees.

Burglars Can Now Total Up

Burglars took an adding machine and an electric skillet valued at $200 from the home of Mrs. Isabella Hess, 910 Johnson. The theft was discovered Sunday and reported Monday, according to police, who said Mrs. Hess rented the adding machine.

Someone forced entry into a vacant house in the 200 block of Union within the past two weeks and removed a saw valued at $50 and a typewriter valued at $10. Police said Fred Coleman, owner of the house, was using it for a storehouse.

A car radio valued at $25 was taken from Parker's Garage, 4003 US 80 west, within the past two or three days. Someone took a radio valued at $22 from the law office of Harvey Hooser Sr., 382 Scurry. The theft was reported Tuesday.

Mrs. R. C. Jones, 1203 Wood, told police someone left a threatening note in her car Monday while she was inside Woody's Cafe, 904 E. 3rd.

Juvenile Officer Bob Darland warned three boys, 9, 11 and 13, following their arrest Tuesday in connection with the theft of keys and personal property from the car of T. R. Brewer. Brewer and his wife were en route from Arizona to Macon, Ga. when their car broke down Monday. A mechanic, he is repairing the vehicle. Charges were not filed, and the boys were released after receiving the warning.

Approve Request

City commissioners Tuesday opened the way for additions to the Ponderosa Apartments on East Sixth. They approved a request by Kent Morgan for a zone change from IF-2 (single family residential) to MF (multiple family) for eight lots in the Hall Addition. The affected property is west of the existing apartment complex, north of Sixth and divided by Linda Lane.

Lions Hear Rev. Polk

Peg points in the quest for happiness were driven down by the Rev. Robert F. Polk at the Downtown Lions Club at the Wednesday noon meeting in the Settles.

Happiness, the First Baptist pastor, said, is not attainable by some easy or magic formula, but certain principles will help achieve it. Moreover, it cannot be found in escape mechanisms which amount to running away from life.

One of the cardinal rules for finding happiness, he said, is to face life squarely, realizing that everyone faces difficulties and even tragedies. Another help is to try to understand the other person and his viewpoint, to convert an expanding neighborhood into a brotherhood.

Stop and count your blessings, he advised, "because all we have is the now." He also urged morality as a basic concept of living for "how can we be happy when we feel that what we are doing may not be quite right?" Every life should be involved in active service—not merely in job-holding or profit-making, but in service to others in order to experience the full measure of joy. Finally, he said, most people need to persevere, for too often a person gives up on the edge of victory.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, president, said that installation of officers for the 1964-65 year beginning July 1 would be accomplished at the June 24 meeting with Louis D. Carothers, governor of Lions District 2A-1, as the installing officer.

Man Arrested For Tarrant Officers

Police apprehended a 32-year-old Negro about 1 p.m. Tuesday, who, allegedly, is wanted by the Fort Worth sheriff's office for burglary, theft over $50 and possession of narcotics paraphernalia.

Detective A. P. Hurley said O. R. Bolinger, operator of Bolinger's Grocery, 300 NW 3rd, called police after he became suspicious of the man. While police were en route to the store the man ran, breaking a plate glass window and knocking down a boy who got in his path. Bolinger said, and saw him enter a small rooming house. Police surrounded the area and then arrested the suspect.

Hurley said the man has been to the penitentiary five times. At first, he gave detectives the name of his wife before finally admitting his real identity. Detectives said Fort Worth authorities returned the suspect to Tarrant County.

Champ Wears Trunks Too High, Says Foe

By ROBERT MYERS

Associated Press Sports Writer
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Pre-fight verbal skirmishes between the camps of welterweight champion Emile Griffith and challenger Luis Rodriguez on the eve of their title match here reached an intriguing level. Perhaps indelicately, but dead seriously, the issue concerns the level of the navel.

Angelo Dundee, Rodriguez' handler, appeared before the Nevada Boxing Commission Wednesday and bluntly charged that Griffith wears his trunks too high.

"Every time he gets hit legitimate at the waistline, he screams foul because he wears his waistline up around his armpits," Dundee declared, taking some liberties with the truth.

Griffith also rolls the top of his trunks over the wide belt of his protective cup, which further adds to the high rise, said Dundee, adding: "It would take a search warrant to locate Griffith's belly button."

Retorted Gil Clancy, Griffith's co-manager: "Maybe we could paint a new belly button on Emile. Up higher, of course."

Still in serious vein, Dundee demanded that the commission order a personal check of the matter and the Griffith people quickly requested the same examination be made of Rodriguez' fighting gear.

So executive secretary Jim Deskin dutifully went to their respective headquarters and had each fighter pose in his ring costume for the nationally televised 15-rounder Friday night.

Reporting back with tongue in cheek, Deskin said: "I can announce that both of them have navels. Griffith's is one-quarter inch smaller than Luis' but both are located at the legal height at the waist line."

"I told them to wear their trunks at the waistline and no sneaking around trying to pull them up during the fight."

Water System In Operation

City golfers had reason for rejoicing this week when the new $22,000 sprinkling system for the back nine of the golf course was put into operation.

Water for the golf course now comes from a 1,000,000-gallon open storage tank in the city park. This reservoir held drinking water until state health officials declared open tanks unsanitary several years ago. The city put new caulking in the tank and repaired the leaks. A new pump house houses the machines which pump water to the golf course.

Now, it is possible to flow water onto the golf course without waiting for a small storage tank to be filled from well pumps. The small tank, located behind the Prairie Playhouse, still is available for use. The city has been using the smaller tank to pump water onto the back nine, but now it is possible to use the larger tank.

Several Big Names May Miss Big Bout

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—It is election time in baseball. In the next few weeks, the big leaguers will pick the players for the All-Star game to be played July 7 at Shea Stadium. Unless they ignore the batting averages, some big names will be left off the ticket.

If you take the top average man from each position, the only repeaters of last year's regulars will be Ken Boyer of St. Louis, Willie Mays of San Francisco and Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees.

Actually, Mantle didn't start last year in Cleveland because he was out of action due to a broken foot. However, Mickey had been picked for the team. Albie Pearson of Los Angeles, hitting .220 this year through Tuesday's games, was his replacement.

Boyer is the only member of the Cardinals' All-Star infield in a position to repeat on the basis of average. Bill White, the first baseman, is hitting only .228. Julian Javier, at second base, is batting only .224 and Dick Groat, at short, with .284 is close but not quite up to Maury Wills of Los Angeles with his .288 mark.

Javier got in on a rain check last July when Bill Mazeroski of Pittsburgh suffered a pulled leg muscle. Maz is way down there at .229 this season. Boyer, of course, has been among the leaders all season with a .328 average.

Mays is in there solid although his .400-plus average has dropped down to .359. But Tommy Davis of the Dodgers, 1962 and 1963 batting champion, is way off at .254 and Hank Aaron of Milwaukee, the right-field starter last year, is hitting .293.

Ed Bailey, then with San Francisco, was the starting catcher in '63 but he is hitting only .184 for Milwaukee this year.

Through Tuesday's averages, the top men in the National at each position are Orlando Cepeda, San Francisco, first base, .309; Ron Hunt of New York, second base, .306; Wills, shortstop, .288; Boyer, third base, .328; Billy Williams of Chicago,

.395; Mike White of Houston, .352 and Mays, .359, outfielders, and Joe Torre, of Milwaukee, catcher, .339.

In the American League, Joe Mauer of New York, Nellie Fox of Chicago (now Houston), Volie Versalles of Minnesota, Frank Malzone of Boston, Earl Battey of Minnesota, Al Kaline of Detroit and Leon Wagner of Cleveland are not leading their respective positions. Wagner, of course, leads the league with 46 runs batted in but his average of .290 isn't among the leaders.

American League leaders at each position are Fred Whitfield of Cleveland, first base, .317; Bobby Richardson of New York, second base, .302; Jim Fregosi of Los Angeles, shortstop, .347; Brooks Robinson of Baltimore, third base, .306; Chuck Hinton of Washington, .350; Tony Oliva of Minnesota, .369; and Mantle, .306, outfielders, and Elston Howard of New York, catcher, .323.

FORT WORTH (AP)—More than 150 will compete in the Texas State Trapshooting Tournament opening today at the Fort Worth Gun and Skeet Club.

Defending champions are Ken Jones and Daro Handy of Lackland Air Force Base. They are doubles champions and Handy is also the singles titlist.

Larry Gravestock of Amarillo is the handicap champion.

Lee Moves Up

MIDLAND — Midland Lee defeated Lubbock Monterey twice here Wednesday by identical scores of 10-5 to advance to the State meet in the baseball playoffs.

Smith's Wins Practice Tilt

E. C. Smith Construction, crowding all of its runs across the plate in the last two innings, blanked the Big Spring Merchants, 3-0, in a practice softball game at the City Park Wednesday night.

A walk to Boyce Hale, a single by Martin Gehling and a one-baser by Gordon Fitz gave the Contractors two runs in the sixth.

They added an insurance tally in the seventh when D. A. Miller, who had attained first base on a bobbie, came home on another error.

Troy Wetzel, on the mound for Smith's, yielded six hits to the Merchants but kept them well scattered. He retired the last seven men to face him.

Joe Sharpnack drove out two hits for the Merchants while Oakey Hagood and Buck Drake got the other ones off Wetzel.

Fitz, Ted Mainord, Hale and Gehling banded out the hits off Cotton Mize for Smith's.

Both teams return to Westex league competition Saturday night.

Youth Is Signed

MT. SAVAGE, Md. (AP)—A spokesman for the Pittsburgh Pirates announced Wednesday the signing of Bobby Robertson, a 17-year-old Mt. Savage High School outfielder and third baseman.

Whatley's Blast Breaks Up Teen-Age Game Here

Whatley's Printers rallied for two runs in the seventh inning to topple the Indians, 5-4, in a Hi-Junior Teenage Baseball league game here Wednesday night.

Van Tom Whatley, the club's shortstop, drove out a two-out home run with Gregg Pate on base to provide the Printers with the victory.

Pate had reached base on an infield bobbie after Gary Mearns, the Indian hurler, had fanned the first two batters to face him in the inning.

Whatley wound up with two hits for the evening while Eddie Crittenden smashed two safeties for the winners, who were out-hit by the Indians, 13-5.

The Tribe had started off with two runs in the initial inning and added their other two in the third.

Dunn, Harp, Burnett, Douglas and Gonzales had two hits each for the Indians.

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The Texas League is up in attendance by 5.3 per cent.

Through 119 games the league has drawn 150,358 this year compared to 137,993 for 115 games last season. The average attendance is up 5.3 per cent. The total attendance is up 12,365.

Tulsa leads with 46,577 followed by Fort Worth with 25,266. Fort Worth replaced Amarillo and showed a gain of almost 11,000.

PLAY BETTER GOLF

By Tommy Armour

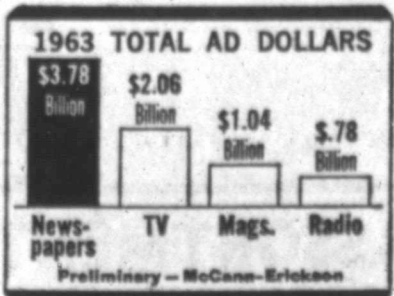

The Power Side

USUALLY the ordinary golfer is 30 to 50 yards short of the expert's drive for the primary reason that the fellow who plays just so-so rarely makes good use of his right side — the power side — in making a shot. Watch the right knee of a star and see how that gets into the shot, moving the body and arms into position so the hands can really whip the clubhead into the ball with absolutely perfect leverage and timing. Keep the head steady and the right knee moving into the shot. Watch the winners do those two things and you'll learn something that will add yards to your shots.

To put muscle in your ad message...

... say it in newspapers where you get mass coverage and maximum attention, where you reach more people than you can with any other medium. (86% of all homes in America receive a newspaper every day.) Your message reaches every segment of the market... people of every age and income level, in city and suburbs. And 71% of the people read their paper page by page. The median reading time per paper is 37 minutes, and the average adult reader sees 1.4 newspapers on a typical weekday. The newspaper is a part of daily life... that's why it's the No. 1 advertising medium, with more dollars invested than all other major media combined.

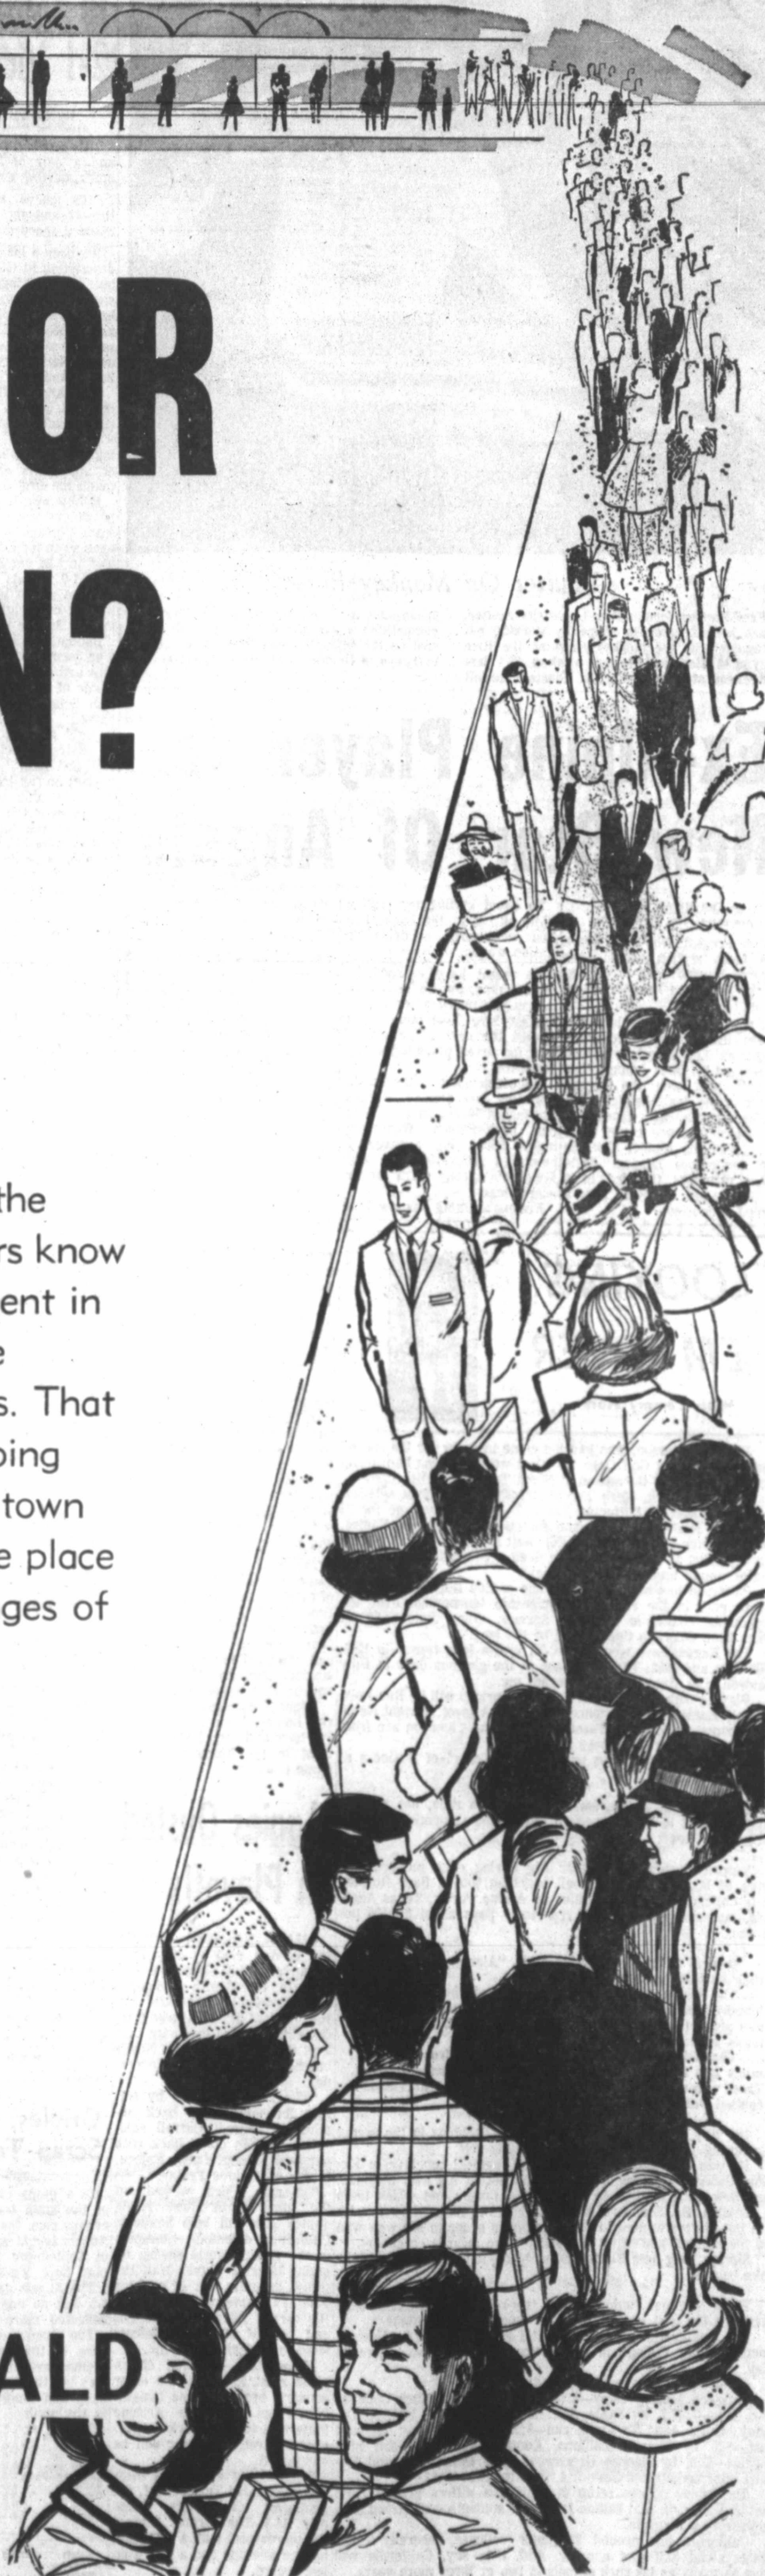

MORE MONEY IS INVESTED IN NEWSPAPERS THAN IN ANY OTHER ADVERTISING MEDIUM.

Airman I.C. Earl H. Barrington Jr., assigned to the hospital at Webb AFB, has been selected Airman of the Month for June for his unit. He is a physiological training specialist and has been stationed here since August, 1961 when he entered the Air Force. He is a native of Farmington, N.M.

Asks City Cooperation

Joe Blum, 1901 Alabama, Tuesday asked city commissioners to furnish a truck and an electrician to aid in a light decoration campaign for the downtown area next Christmas season.

He said he represented the retail merchants committee of the Chamber of Commerce. The committee has raised several thousand dollars for annual light decorations, he said, but needs help in installing and taking down the lights. It would be in the public interest for the city to help, he said.

Some 60 poles in a 16-block area downtown are affected by the request. Blum said he understood lights would be put up in three shopping centers in decoration campaigns independent of the committee's campaign.

Commissioners told Blum no action could be taken until they know what type of decorations are involved.

Trailways Expands

An exchange of common stock of Transcontinental Bus System, Inc. of Dallas for stock of Queen City Trailways of Charlotte, N.C. has been announced, according to Frank Rice, local Continental agent.

The deal, representing a transaction of almost $10,000,000, adds 6,900 route miles to the Trailways system and 354 buses. This makes 63,955 route miles and 2,852 buses (counting the recent acquisition of the Virginia Trailways, Safeway Trailways and Trailways of New England).

Under the latest agreement, 218,196 shares of Transcontinental Bus System, Inc. (Continental Trailways), with a current market value of $9,800,000, was exchanged on the basis of 7 1/2 to one share of Queen City stock and one share of General Realty and Insurance Corporation stock. General Realty held part of the physical assets of the Queen City group, which also included Tennessee, Eastern, Smoky Mountain Trailways and Georgia-Florida Coach.

Fifth Grader Tackles College

COCOA, Fla. (AP) — Billy Green, who is failing his fifth grade subjects, is going to college this summer.

Billy, 12, scored 200 on an intelligence test administered by the University of South Florida. The genius category starts at 140.

County school Supt. Woodrow Garden says Billy reads eight to 12 advanced science books a week but struggles with his fifth grade work, perhaps because it doesn't challenge him.

The board of Brevard Junior College voted Tuesday to allow Billy to enroll in one course.

Billy, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Green of Eau Gallie, Fla., probably will take a mathematics or science course.

"We want to determine what kind of program he should have," said Garden.

Uncle Sam Tries Citizen's Squawk

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Uncle Sam took on the role of a private citizen here and complained about his water bill.

The director of the Veterans Administration domiciliary, E. C. McDaniel, told city officials the domiciliary's water bill had jumped 84 per cent under a new rate plan and he urgently needed an adjustment.

Otherwise, he said, he would be compelled to readjust his budget to the extent of firing at least one employee.

The commission took the request under consideration with a promise to provide relief if possible.

Joint Venture Idea Growing For Mexicans

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A leading Mexican industrialist says that joint ventures are the new way of doing business abroad.

Bruno Pagliai in an address to members of the American Chamber of Commerce of Mexico said Wednesday that old theories of investment are outmoded, and no longer meet the needs and aspirations of developing nations such as Mexico.

Pagliai said that "successful joint ventures require a genuine identity of interests between managements of several nationalities."

"I believe this presents no greater difficulty than faces management of large companies in the United States which are owned by hundreds of thousands of shareholders," he said.

"One common objective—increasing production while improving profits—normally will unify diverse interests regardless of nationality."

"Mexicanization" is increasingly mandatory in Mexico. This means that 51 per cent of a certain type of company must be owned and operated by Mexicans.

Pagliai said he saw no problem in this. He said it is an effective means "for stimulating capital growth, expanding consumer markets and providing the latest technology."

He listed many successful businesses in Mexico which have become genuine joint ventures since World War II.

"I can state without qualification that my own experiences in this field have not only been satisfying and rewarding, but they have developed more efficiently and effectively than I would have thought possible just 10 or 15 years ago," he said.

He said that among the 25 largest companies in Mexico, nine are joint ventures and seven others are ventures with mixed capital.

Program Nears Limits

Youngsters are running jam against enrollment limits in the Citywide Summer Recreation program.

The Monday-Wednesday section had filled its 160 places for the two Space Clubs, reported Jim Gilbert, director of the program. The Tuesday-Thursday section had 134 enrolled.

Gilbert said that enrollment would be held at 160 maximum, so far as possible, because of staff limitations. However, names are being taken, at the YMCA and children will be placed as rapidly as vacancies occur.

There are no figures yet on registration at Lakeview branch, and Gilbert urged parents to sign their children there as rapidly as possible. A staff has been assembled, and the Lakeview program also will start Monday.

Under the Summer Fun program, the clubs will be broken into squadrons so that an adult leader will be over each. At 45 minute intervals the groups rotate from the instructors who are specialists in swimming, arts and crafts, gymnasium and outdoors activities. Buses pick up the children at their nearest school, transport them to the YMCA and return them to the schools just before noon. On alternate Fridays, the clubs will have special events, such as movies, field trips, etc.

The City of Big Spring, YMCA, Big Spring Schools, United Fund and YMCA combine resources to make the summer program possible.

Sterling City Man Named Assistant Agent At Lamesa

LAMESA (SC) — Danny Stewart, 22, of Sterling City, has been appointed assistant county extension agent for Dawson County. Stewart, a May graduate of Texas A&M, finished his college career by obtaining a degree in agricultural education. Dawson County agent Lee Roy Colgan said Stewart's principal duties will include work with 4-H Club boys and girls. Stewart was a member of Sterling City's Future Farmers of America in high school, and at A&M was a member of the Collegiate 4-H, FFA and agricultural council.

One-Vote Defeat

Walker Goes Back On Stand In Libel Suit

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker returns to the witness stand today in the State District Court trial of his $2-million civil libel suit against The Associated Press.

Walker claims that some AP reports from Oxford, Miss., falsely represented him as leading a charge of students against U.S. marshals during the Sept. 30, 1962, riot on the University of Mississippi campus.

The night-long riot followed the admission of Negro student James H. Meredith on federal court orders. Two persons were killed and many others injured.

BACKGROUND
Walker started to testify Wednesday and briefly sketched his background and Army career. He resigned from the Army in 1961 after an official admonishment in which the Defense Department accused him of attempting to influence votes of soldiers under his command in Europe during the 1960 congressional elections.

The court recessed before Walker's testimony reached his visit to the Ole Miss campus during the rioting. Walker also told of his part as commander of U.S. troops when federal forces were used to force integration of a Little Rock high school in 1957.

CIVILIAN DOMAIN
"I certainly developed the concept against the use of military forces in a strictly civilian domain and concerning civilian problems," he told the jury.

That was the reason, Walker testified, he considered going to Mississippi—"but only if federal troops were used."

Walker testified he first made a public statement on his possible trip to Mississippi about Sept. 25-26, probably over a Shreveport radio program (Party Line). He said he flew to Jackson, Miss., the afternoon of Sept. 29 but at that time had no intention of going to Oxford. Walker said his decision not to return to Dallas was made after receiving first hand reports and hearing news accounts that led him to believe there was going to be "some sort of military operation" at Oxford.

TO OXFORD
Earlier Wednesday, Louis Leman, 25, Crosby, Tex., a friend and political associate during Walker's unsuccessful 1962 campaign for Texas governor, testified that he and Walker drove to Oxford the night of Sept. 29.

He said they registered at an Oxford motel with Walker listed as "John Waters" to evade newsmen. Leman said he first went to Oxford on Sept. 27 and several times called Walker in Dallas to report on the sentiment of university students.

Leman said he was with Walker almost constantly during the 4 to 5 hours the two were on the campus. "We just spent the night talking to people," Leman testified.

Credentials Committee Holds Key To Demo Meet

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas Democrats may learn today who will serve on the key credentials subcommittee, which will screen seven contesting delegations to Tuesday's state convention in Houston.

State Democratic Executive Committee Chairman Frank Erwin Jr. said he would announce the appointments today.

Erwin earlier named Austin Attorney Will Davis to head the important subcommittee, which will hear Monday arguments of opposing delegations from San Antonio, Dallas, Houston and smaller counties. Hutchinson, Randall, Edwards and Sherman.

Two delegations from each county were formed at the May 9 county conventions when factions opposing the majority broke into rump, or contesting, delegations.

Liberals are demanding that their San Antonio, Dallas and Houston delegations be seated, to give them needed convention votes. Forces of Gov. John Connally claim a clear majority of the convention votes.

A liberal leader warned Wednesday Connally forces are heading the convention toward a "Chinese fire drill" if they do not withdraw present convention plans.

The liberal, Harris County Chairman Bill Kilgarlin, made the warning in a statement complaining the executive committee "has failed to allot enough time for contested delegation claims to be heard."

Kilgarlin, also chairman of the steering committee of the Convention For a Fair and Loyal Convention formed this week to push demands of U. S. Sen.

Ralph Yarborough's supporters, criticized convention plans for distributing credentials to contested delegations 30 minutes before the convention opens.

These plans, Kilgarlin said, "look like an attempt to keep loyal Democratic delegates from getting on the convention floor in time to take part in proceedings."

Erwin, however, said the convention wouldn't begin "until they have time to get into the hall."

Convention eve activities began shaping up Wednesday with announcement of caucuses by forces of Connally and Yarborough Monday night following separate dinners at which each will speak.

A boy in business for himself doesn't worry about summer jobs

Or fall jobs, or winter jobs, for that matter. Because the boy with a newspaper route—a junior independent merchant—has a year 'round income. The few hours he puts in each week not only provide monetary returns but the even more significant dividends of learning how free enterprise operates.

The business of learning the value of money, of keeping books, collecting, buying at wholesale and selling at retail is important. But not even money can buy the other skills acquired from route experience—learning to deal pleasantly with people, for instance, or the value of punctuality.

Your newspaperboy is learning all the time. His route experience helps him acquire the intangible skills so necessary for success both socially and professionally. He makes money at it, too.

Only about one boy in ten gets the opportunity to have a newspaper route. If you think your son or some other youngster might profit by newspaperboy route experience, why not suggest that he come in and talk to us.

Ole Miss Prepares For Its Third Negro Student

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — The University of Mississippi, which nine months ago resumed its status as an all-white institution, prepared today to accept its third Negro student.

On Sept. 30, 1962, when the first Negro arrived on the oak-circled campus, a night of death and turmoil followed.

Cleveland Donald, 17, of Jackson, Miss., who wants to become a lawyer, was expected to register today for the summer term.

Federal Judge Harold Cox cleared the way for Donald to enroll Wednesday. He also directed Donald to refrain from participation in civil rights activities or from engaging in any publicity programs by civil rights groups. Donald was arrested twice last summer during Negro civil rights protests in Jackson.

Acting Gov. Carroll Gartin said he would have no comment on the decision. Gov. Paul Johnson who attended the annual governor's conference personally blocked James H. Meredith from registering at Ole Miss two years ago.

Johnson, then lieutenant governor, and former Gov. Ross Barnett, face criminal contempt charges in the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals stemming from the crisis over Meredith's enrollment.

The federal government rushed in 22,000 troops to the Oxford area to restore order after Meredith enrolled. A riot the night he arrived left two dead and several hundred injured.

Meredith was graduated last August.

A second Negro, Cleve McDowell, who enrolled last June in the law school, was expelled last fall for carrying a pistol.

Ole Miss officials have prepared special housing arrangements for Donald, who attended predominantly Negro Tougaloo College, a church-supported institution near Jackson, this past term.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — After a second straight night march punctuated by violence, the integration drive in the nation's oldest city shifted focus today to Dr. Martin Luther King's vow to court arrest by civil disobedience.

King, who heads the sponsoring Southern Christian Leadership Conference, indicated he would attempt a sit-in at a segregated restaurant.

This type of demonstration has brought nearly 400 arrests here since Easter.

The last of the demonstrators got out of jail, with the help of a federal court order reducing bonds to $100 a charge, just in time Wednesday night to join 400 integrationists in the march to the old Slave Market downtown.

Despite a police force of 200 or more, augmented by the state highway patrol and enforcement personnel from other agencies, an unruly white mob of about 100 broke through police lines.

The marchers, predominantly Negro, did not fight back as they had the night before, and nine or 10 were injured.

One white youth was pulled from the marching group by a gang of white youths and pummeled before a Florida highway patrolman rescued him.

Four whites were arrested on charges of disorderly conduct, a deputy sheriff at the jail reported. These were the first arrests at the night marches although violence marked two earlier ones.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Negroes scorning the threat of arrest, promised to resume demonstrations today and to "fill up the jail" if necessary to dramatize their battle against segregation.

A singing, foot-stomping congregation which emerged from the mass meeting in a Tuscaloosa church Wednesday agreed to return today, ready "to do business."

Police Chief William Marable warned the Negroes that they will go to jail if they attempt to march through the streets as they have done in recent days and as they tried to do Tuesday in an outbreak of racial violence.

One of the Negro leaders, the Rev. T. Y. Rogers, told newsmen following the mass meeting in 95-degree heat that his followers would attempt to demonstrate in groups of 20 or less and that they expected to be arrested.

He will stop by the World's Fair in New York on his return trip.

Features of the five-day convention include talks by Lester B. Pearson, Prime Minister of Canada; Carlos P. Romulo, former ambassador to the U.N. and now president of the University of the Philippines; and Senator Clinton P. Anderson of New Mexico, past president of Rotary International; an Ice Revue at Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens, an all-star cast musical show, and the mixing of thousands of Rotary families in the House of Friendship.

Marriages Breaking Up For Margaret's Friends

LONDON (AP) — The marriage of two of Princess Margaret's close friends is breaking up.

Camilla Fry, 33, has filed suit for divorce from her husband, Jeremy, 39, godfather to the princess' older child, Viscount Linley.

Fry has been named co-respondent in a divorce action brought by sculptor Lynn Chadwick, 50, against his wife, Frances, 26.

Margaret's husband, Lord Snowdon, reportedly proposed to her at the Fry's home near Bath. Fry was to have been best man at the wedding but had to drop out because of illness.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The opening of the 1964 U.N. General Assembly has been postponed until Nov. 10, one week after the U.S. presidential election.

The 19th annual session had been scheduled to start Sept. 15. Twenty delegations requested a postponement because heads of state and government of non-aligned countries will meet in Cairo in October to discuss issues the assembly will take up.

Secretary-General U Thant polled the 112 U.N. members and said more than 80 agreed to the postponement.

OTTAWA (AP) — The giant Columbia River control and power project cleared its final legislative hurdle Wednesday as Canada's Senate approved by acclamation the 1961 U.S.-Canada Treaty.

With approval already voted by the House of Commons, the way was cleared for the federal government to ratify the long-debated pact.

Since the U.S. Congress approved the treaty in 1961, the only formality remaining is an exchange of instruments of ratification.

The United States is to pay British Columbia $274.8 million by Oct. 1 covering downstream power benefits for 30 years. Another U.S. payment of $60 million will cover the cost of three storage and flood-control dams to be completed in British Columbia by 1973.

Halfway House Has Balance

A financial report showing that the Halfway House is out of debt highlighted the luncheon meeting Wednesday of the Halfway House board at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant. There were seven present.

The May bank statement showed the rent received from occupants of the house totaled $38 more than it cost to operate the institution. That leaves a balance of $38 in the bank, since May was begun without any money in the account.

A five-member evaluation committee, which will study the objectives of the house to determine how much has been accomplished, will meet during the month and prepare a report for presentation at the July meeting of the board with their recommendations for improvements. Lee Porter is chairman of the committee.

Mrs. James Watts, Odessa, is secretary. Mrs. Ernest Nelson, Midland, Dr. W. B. Hardy and Clyde Hollingsworth are members. It was also decided to contact the United Fund to see about the yearly help for the house.

Elliott Returned To Zoning Board

George Elliott, veteran chairman of the zoning board of adjustment, was reappointed to the board by city commissioners Tuesday. The city governing body prevailed on Elliott to reconsider a letter of resignation he had previously submitted.

Commissioners also reappointed E. P. Driver, Coy Nalley and Jack Y. Smith to the city traffic commission. Terms of each appointment are for two years, and all terms will expire in September.

The traffic commission is an advisory board, but the zoning board of adjustment has the power to act upon requests, subject to appeal to city commissioners.

West Texas Outings Can Be Easy, Fun

By JUDY BARNEYCASTLE

You do not have to wear out yourself, your family and your car trying to get to some far away place for the weekend. There are many places right here in West Texas within easy driving distance where a weekend family outing can be fun, interesting and inexpensive.

Big Bend National Park, located along the Rio Grande about 350 miles southwest of Big Spring, affords many opportunities for the outdoorsman—sight-seeing, camping, horseback trail riding and photography. Of course, there are modern cabins for those less inclined toward "roughing it."

The park is indeed a land of contrasts—from the breathtaking depth of the expansive Boquillas Canyon overlooking the Mexican town of Boquillas to the lofty plateau of the South Rim, 7600 feet in elevation.

A great deal of the park is accessible by automobile. You may drive your car to the Rio Grande where you will see the desert and mountains of Old Mexico—another dramatic contrast.

The two paved approach roads to the park are U.S. Highway 385 which intersects U.S. Highway 90 at Marathon and State Road 118 which intersects U.S. Highway 90 at Alpine. A paved road in the park connects these state roads, forming a loop through Big Bend from east and west.

Campsites are scattered throughout the park and cabins are available in the Chisos Mountains area.

Saddle horses may be rented for short scenic rides or for an all-day guided trip to many parts of the park. Several miles of trails lead to such places as the Lost Mine Ridge, the "Window" and to the South Rim.

Park rangers conduct campfire programs to acquaint visitors with the history, terrain and wild life of the park.

Outdoor and sports clothes suitable for hiking and horseback riding are suggested and always desirable.

You don't have to be an expert to capture colorful mountains, flowering plants, wildlife and the Rio Grande with still or motion picture cameras for a record of your visit to the park.

On the way home you may stop at the Davis Mountain State Park or take a side trip to Marfa, near where the movie "Giant" was filmed.

For a one-day outing you can take a 100-mile trip to Monahans State Park. This is an ideal place for a picnic and for the children to play and roll on the sand dunes—a safe sport. Comfortable, washable clothes are best for this.

There is a museum at the entrance to the park in which are displayed artifacts and examples of the nature of the West Texas area—arrowheads, animals, birds and colorful stones.

To the south of Big Spring about 200 miles are the Caverns of Sonora—site of another possible weekend excursion.

Here you can take your time and stroll down the trails to see glittering coralline and limestone formations—the product of

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Old Stockings Make Quickdrying Mops

Dear Heloise:

What to do with old nylon stockings? Here's my answer:

From the leg part of the stockings make yourself some quickdrying mops. They are the greatest.

Fold the stockings over double and tie them on to the end of your old mop handle. This can be done with any mop handle, but I prefer the dust mop handle which has a wire loop on the end. After folding the stockings in half tie each one on the loop until you have a full mop head.

Then take the scissors and trim the ends and you have a dandy mop that is especially good for applying liquid wax or for dusting.

The best part about this is that it washes so easily and dries so quickly, never snags on furniture legs and never sours.—Mary Wadsworth

True!—Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I teach school and every minute is valuable when it comes to housework.

When buying a cloth for my kitchen table, I always purchase small, matching terry cloth towels to use as place mats over the tablecloth.

This saves frequent washing and ironing of the tablecloth because the little towels can be whisked off the table in a jiffy, run through the washer and put back on the table with no ironing.

These little matching or contrasting cloths are attractive as well as useful. They certainly save extra work.—Lois Stanley

Dear Heloise:

A few nights ago we found ourselves badly in need of an ice bag and all the drug stores were closed for the night. Know what I did?

I filled my plastic shower cap with ice cubes and tied it tightly at the elastic edge with some plant tie (gardener's tape). I wrapped a towel around the entire cap and—presto—it was ready for use.—M. R. Day

Dear Heloise:

Did you ever use a good grade floor or furniture wax on your silver to keep it from tarnishing?—P. N. C.

Yes, I have. I like the "no-rubbing liquid waxes best. They are easier to apply.

I do find that it dims the luster of the silver a little bit but it sure keeps it from turning black so quickly. I do not recommend using wax on silver which comes in contact with food. However, it is wonderful for the outside of a tea service set, candelabra, etc.—Heloise

Dear Heloise:

That wonderful nylon net again . . .

For men and women who wear black (or any color that catches lint), try wrapping a piece of nylon net around your hand and rubbing the garment.

Off comes the lint! This works on sweaters, too.—Mrs. D.

Dear Heloise:

When I have a recipe that calls for small meat balls, I do it this way:

I make my meat mixture as usual. Then I line my ice cube tray (or trays) with waxed paper. I pack the mixture into the tray, put the cube divider on top, and press down right to the bottom, and there they are!

The little meat squares are all the same size and need only a pat or two to make them round. Quick and easy.—Mary Borthiste

Brazil Studied When Baptist WMS Meets

A program on Brazil was presented the Royal Service meeting of the Women's Missionary Society at the East Fourth Baptist Church.

Mrs. Pete Sanderson introduced the program, and those who participated were Mrs. Rayford Dunnagan, Mrs. W. R. Clayton, Mrs. W. R. Crowmover, Mrs. L. R. Helms, Mrs. G. W. Holden and Mrs. T. V. Clifton.

The meeting began with the call to prayer read by Mrs. Morris Sewell. In the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. R. E. Wilson, members agreed to have two meetings a month instead of four. The two held will be the royal service and community mission programs.

Mrs. Don Cannon was given the crown for most members present.

Mrs. Harold Cain was elected stewardship chairman, and Carolyn Cook and Shirley Taylor were elected to work with the Sunbeams.

The Judy Burdett Circle will meet at 9:30 a.m. on Tuesdays instead of 2 p.m. beginning June 16 when the community missions meeting will be at the Bennett House.

The Anita Lowe Circle will present a program at the Veterans' Administration Hospital Saturday.

League Collects Project Money

The Ladies Home League of the Salvation Army received $5.49 for the Mexico offering from their smock project Wednesday afternoon in the basement of the Citadel. They will have a family night Friday at 6:30 p.m. in the City Park and two baby showers for Wednesday afternoon.

TOPS See Flower Arranging

A demonstration of flower arranging was seen Tuesday evening by the Pound Rebels of TOPS when they met in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Co. Mrs. Marshall McAdams, introduced her husband as the guest speaker.

McAdams constructed three arrangements, explaining the design and use of each. He said that a good balance should be maintained, colors should be kept simple to bring out basic lines and that tones should be kept together. Every arrangement should have a focal point, he said, and the designer should start with the tall flowers and fill in with others. In concluding the program, he showed the procedure for making ribbon bows.

Roll call was answered with a weight loss or gain with a total loss of 15 pounds reported. Mrs. Alma George was crowned queen for the month, and Mrs. Roy Salame was a visitor.

Morning Chat

Mrs. R. C. Armstrong saves several kitchen chores to perform while visiting with friends on the telephone. The special fitting on the phone and a long cord leaves this busy homemaker free to continue the morning chores while talking.

No Timetables To Interrupt 'Unscheduled' Homemaker

By MARY COCHRAN

Mrs. R. C. Armstrong, 1318 Stadium, is a homemaker with a penchant for unscheduled but busy days. With three children, a husband and a wide circle of friends, she thinks it is tiring and frustrating to tie herself down to a timetable at home.

There is always plenty to do and hearty appetites to satisfy so she fits her activities around the family and finds the right time for the right job.

This is no haphazard arrangement. Mrs. Armstrong has taken all the short cut methods possible in running her house. The kitchen is her center of activity where she chats on the phone while she washes dishes or stirs up a meal-in-a-dish casserole as she is planning her bi-monthly trips to the grocery store.

When she makes chicken spaghetti, she eliminates the time consuming chore of boiling and preparing the poultry for the dish. Three cans of prepared chicken will give her the equivalent of one hen and not cost anywhere near the fresh bird. Chipped barbecued beef bought in the can will make a quick filling dish when spread on buns and will please her Little League, Barry, who is 10, and daughters Susie, 12, and Jan, 5.

Canned biscuits come in for their share of alterations from this versatile cook. They may be served as doughnuts or cinnamon rolls. To make the latter, Mrs. Armstrong rolls them very flat on a floured board, spreads with soft butter and cinnamon and rolls them up to make a delightful dessert.

SPECIALITY

Cakes are a speciality of hers, and of course, she starts with a basic cake mix, usually white. Instead of any liquid she may add the required eggs and apricot preserves, or a large can of crushed pineapple. She finds no boundaries in the various combinations. If the cake is baked in a loaf pan, a generous topping of brown sugar and a few minutes broiling will make an excellent icing in jig time.

Birthdays are a bit different. There's always a cake for the youngsters, carefully decorated by mother. She uses a cake decorator and lets the mood of the moment dictate what decorations she will design for the masterpiece.

There's always plenty of homemade ice cream for the family in the summer time. She varies the recipe to suit the fresh fruits that are in season or relies on the old favorite, vanilla, served with chocolate sauce.

During the ball season, snacks are the evening specialty. There's sandwiches, potato chips and dips. These may be of an avocado base, or dried onion soup in sour cream. Chili con queso is easy when a can of tomatoes and chili are combined with one-half pound of soft cheese that has been melted. Hot cakes are a favorite supper time dish.

Breakfasts at the Armstrong home are served by the clock at 7:15 a.m. sharp, summer and winter, and consist of bacon, eggs, juice, milk, biscuits—canned of course—and jelly.

FOR COMPANY

For company meals, one of Mrs. Armstrong's specialties is a Mexican dish with no name. She simmers beef, tomato juice, onion and spices for an hour. The meat mixture is rolled in soft fried tortillas and topped with onion and cheese. Several layers of the mixture and it's ready for a 20 minute heating in the oven. With it she serves pinto beans, tostados and guacamole salad.

Here are some recipes Mrs. Armstrong has used many times that you will want to test.

CHICKEN SPAGHETTI

3 flat cans boned chicken
1 box cut spaghetti
1/2 cup onion
2 buttons garlic
4 tbsps. salad oil
3 tbsps. flour
1 tsp. Worcestershire

1 cup grated cheese
Boil spaghetti and rinse with cold water. Saute onions and garlic in oil until tender. Add flour and stir until smooth. Add soup and water. Add Worcestershire, paprika, salt, pepper and pimientos. Add chopped chicken and mix with drained spaghetti. Cover with cheese and bake 1 hour at 275 degrees.

1/2 tsp. pepper
Saute onions in oil until soft. Add remaining ingredients and simmer 15 minutes.

CHERRY PIE

1 can cherries
1 can condensed milk
1/2 cup lemon juice

Shrimp Can Make This Fine Souffle

Rich, creamy cheese adds zest to a southern favorite.

SOUTHERN SHRIMP SOUFFLE

3 tbsps. butter or margarine
3 tbsps. flour
1 cup milk
1/2 cup grated cheese
3 large eggs (separated)
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. tabasco sauce
1 tsp. finely grated onion (pulp and juice)
1 can (4 1/2 - ozs.) shrimp (drained, rinsed and coarsely chopped)
In a saucepan over low heat melt the butter; stir in the flour. Add milk; cook and stir constantly over moderately low heat until thickened and bubbly. Off heat or over very low heat stir in cheese until melted. Gradually stir the sauce into the slightly beaten egg yolks. Stir in salt, tabasco, lemon juice, onion and shrimp. Beat egg whites until stiff; fold into shrimp mixture. Turn into an ungreased 1-quart souffle dish and bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven for 40 minutes. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

Planning This Pirate Party Is Fun For Young People

Treasure Island, and all the mystery and excitement surrounding it — from pieces of eight to mysterious maps—spells sure-fire magic for young people. Why not vary the usual party theme, and delight the youngsters with a Pirate's Party.

Since most young people have big appetites, it's wise to consider the refreshment as more than "goodies." A mug of flavorful soup with a "treasure" at the bottom is filling, easy to digest, favorite. Served with sandwiches and followed by cookies, soup helps make rounded nourishing party-fare, sensible, yet fun.

BURIED TREASURE SOUP

2 cans (10 1/2 ozs. each) condensed cream of chicken soup

2 soup cans water or milk
2 tbsps. chopped pimiento
Stuffed olives, sliced

In saucepan, blend soup and water. Heat, stirring now and then. Add pimiento. Place a few olive slices in bottom of each soup mug; pour in hot soup. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Sandwiches, too, can have a gay air and be fun when served imaginatively. It's easy to get a long, narrow piece of board for a sandwich platter. Reminiscent of "Walking the Plank," it is also the perfect way to serve open faced long narrow "hero" sandwiches.

WALK THE PLANK SANDWICH

Split a crusty loaf of French or Italian bread in half lengthwise and spread softened butter on each half.

Arrange a mixture of your favorite tuna salad on one-third of each sandwich half; garnish with a green pepper ring.

Place slices of boiled ham and Swiss cheese on center third of sandwich; garnish with slice of dill pickle.

On remaining third of sandwich, arrange your favorite cole slaw salad; garnish with slices of striped olives.

Allow one-half loaf bread for each serving.

No party is perfect without a touch of the sweet. It is here provided by "X Marks the Spot" cookies.

X MARKS THE SPOT COOKIES

2 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 1/2 tbsps. baking soda
1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. each ginger and cinnamon
1 cup milk light molasses

1/2 cup shortening
2 tbsps. grated lemon or orange rind

Sift dry ingredients. Combine molasses and shortening in saucepan. Bring to boil. Cool.

Mix in dry ingredients and rind. Chill 2 hours. On a floured board roll dough 1/4-inch thick.

Cut out cross or "X" shaped cookies with cookie cutter or tip of paring knife. Place 1/4-inch apart on greased cookie sheet. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) 8 - 10 minutes. Makes 48 cookies.

FROSTING 'X'

Blend a little confectioners' sugar with one or two teaspoons orange juice just to moisten sugar. With toothpick or decorator set draw an "X" or dot in the center of each cookie.

Fresh Blueberries Arriving To Use In Summer Desserts

By The Associated Press

Increased shipments of fruit and melons have joined an abundance of fresh spring vegetables at Texas markets. But heavy recent rains may affect future supplies, according to fruit and vegetable market news offices of the Agricultural Marketing Service.

Fresh apricots and Bing cherries from California are arriving in limited volume. Peaches and bruise plums are on the increase. Fresh blueberries from the East have arrived. Strawberries and blackberries continue to meet an excellent demand.

Honeydew melons from Texas have started. Cantaloupes and watermelons are priced attractively, lower at most points. Banana supplies are fully ample.

Avocados are priced slightly higher than a week ago. Limes are generally lower.

Here are recipes that make fine desserts for summer meals.

BLUEBERRY SHORTCAKE

Bake 1 package scone mix according to directions, patting dough into a square. While still warm, split, and spoon Blueberry Sauce over center and top layers. Top with sweetened whipped cream.

BLUEBERRY SAUCE

2 cups fresh blueberries
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 tsp. Angostura bitters
Wash fresh blueberries. Place half the blueberries in saucepan with water, sugar and Angostura bitters. Simmer for 15 - 20 minutes. Remove from fire and let cool slightly. Add rest of whole fresh berries and chill.

BLUEBERRY CREAM PUFFS

Make cream puffs from 1 package of cream puff mix. Fill with 1 cup of fresh cultivated blueberries folded into 1 package of instant vanilla pudding or 1 cup heavy cream, whipped.

BLUEBERRY CAKE

To any of your favorite cake mix batters, carefully fold in 2 cups washed and dried blueberries for a 2-layer cake. Bake in layers in a double-layer pan or in square or rectangular pans.

SEALED BLUEBERRY TARTS

2 cups fresh blueberries
1/2 cup confectioners sugar
1 pkg. pie crust mix
4 tbsps. butter
1 egg, separated
6 tbsps. ice water
3 tbsps. sugar

2 tbsps. cinnamon

Rinse fresh blueberries in colander and let drain thoroughly. Roll berries in confectioners sugar. Empty pie crust mix into large bowl. Add butter and egg yolk, cutting into pastry mix until the consistency of coarse meal. Sprinkle water over mixture and mix just until dough holds together. Chill.

On lightly floured board roll out about 1/4-inch thick. Cut dough into rectangular pieces. Sprinkle with mixture of sugar and cinnamon. Place mound of sweetened blueberries on one half and fold remaining crust over berries. Seal 3 edges with tines of fork. Slightly beat egg white and use to seal and glaze each tart.

Bake on ungreased baking sheet at 425 degrees for about 15 minutes. Yields 16 tarts.

Be More Than Simple Cook— You're Chef With French Food

By The Associated Press

Take a holiday from everyday cooking and try your hand at French cuisine with a famous chef's recipe for brioche.

Ingredients:
1/2 cake or envelope yeast
1/2 cup warm water
3 cups flour
1 tbsps. powdered sugar
1 tsp. salt
1 cup sweet butter
4 eggs

Dissolve the yeast in the warm water and mix it with 1/2 cup of flour. Knead the dough well and put it in a bowl two-thirds full of warm water to rise. Sift the remaining flour in a mound on a pastry board and make a well in the center. Add the sugar, salt, and the eggs, lightly beaten, and knead thoroughly to make a smooth dough.

When the sponge rises to the surface of the warm water, work it into the dough. Soften the butter by kneading it with the hands, and work it into the dough.

Put the dough in a bowl, sprinkle it lightly with flour, and set it in a moderately warm place to rise until it is double in bulk, from 2 to 3 hours.

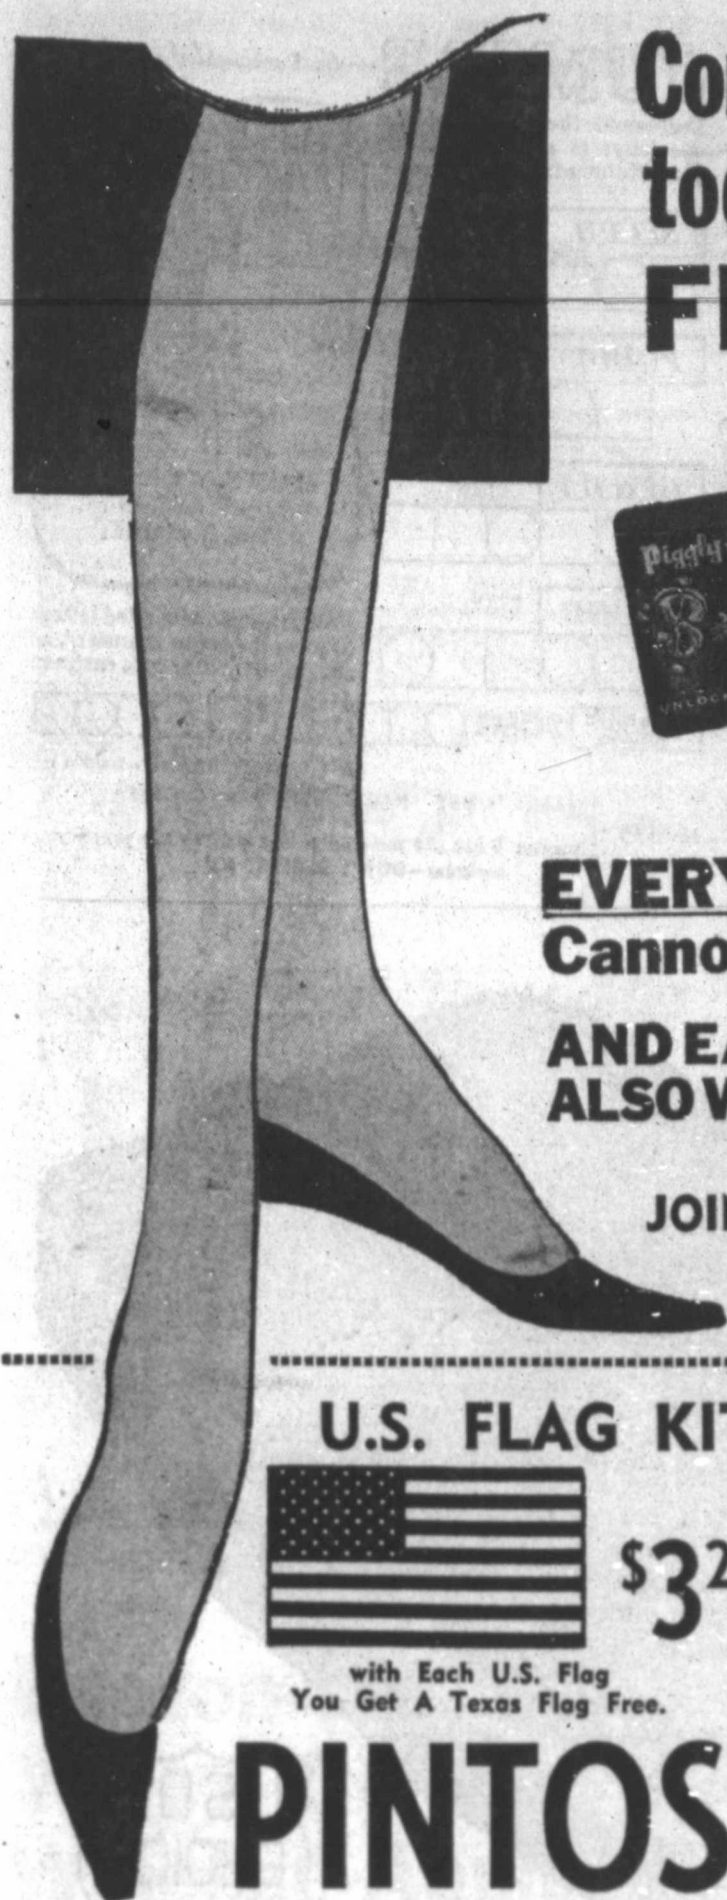

Punch the dough down and chill it overnight. Cut off one-fourth of the dough and form it into a ball. Shape the rest into a large ball and put it in a buttered, bowl-shaped brioche mold. Cut a cross in the top of the large ball and insert the small ball in it to make the head, or crown of the brioche. Let the brioche rise in a warm place until it doubles in bulk. Brush with lightly beaten egg yolk and bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees) for an hour, until the brioche is browned and tests done. Individual brioches may be made, if preferred, and baked for about 20 minutes.

DEAR ABBY

The Kidding Ain't Funny

DEAR ABBY: What would I do if your husband came home and told you who he would marry if you were out of the way? That's all he talks about lately. He makes me feel like I should do him a favor and just lay down and die. I am sure that is what he is hoping for because we don't believe in divorce. I don't know the lady he would like me out of the way for, but I asked him once how he knew she would have him and he didn't answer me. I told him I had as much right as anyone, but he is sure making my life miserable. What should I do?

DEAR ABBY: A gentleman doesn't oggle anything. He follows the lady up the stairs and keeps his eyes on her heel. If he's no gentleman, the lady should keep her eyes on HIM—the heel.

DEAR ABBY: Since when is it a sin to check on what your kids are doing? If people were more concerned about what their offspring are up to there would be a lot less unwed mothers. When I was a girl I wasn't turned loose with every Tom, Dick and Charlie. My mother did when I was 14 and my brothers went along to chapelone me. Don't think it spoiled my fun because it didn't. I never had to chase a fellow to get him, either. When my girls came along I checked to see what they were doing. I didn't read any diary for they never kept one, but if they had, I would likely have read it. And I wouldn't have felt I did wrong.

DEAR ABBY: I believe in having trust in your children after you find out you can trust them. Girls today ask for what they get. They can't say, "I didn't know." They know more at nine than I did when I got married. I don't suppose you'll print this, but it's time mothers woke up. When your daughter says, "Mother, John and I done wrong and I am expecting a baby," it's too late to go read her diary.

DEAR ABBY: You said the lady should precede the man when walking up the stairs in case she trips so he can catch her. I was taught in my youth that the gentleman should go up the stairs ahead of the lady so that she would not feel self-conscious. If he is behind her, she may get the idea that he is ogling her "derriere." And she would probably be correct. So in my opinion, the gentleman should precede the lady.

DEAR ABBY: I believe in having trust in your children after you find out you can trust them. Girls today ask for what they get. They can't say, "I didn't know." They know more at nine than I did when I got married. I don't suppose you'll print this, but it's time mothers woke up. Shoo-In Mexican President Sticks To Middle Of Road

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico, which has never lost a presidential election in over 30 years, and probably will win this one with about 90 per cent of the total.

BY CATHOLICS Gonzalez-Torres' PAN is the Party of National Action. It is conservative, backed by most Roman Catholics, is the second most powerful party in the country.

Diaz Ordaz is expected to follow the policies of President Adolfo Lopez Mateos, although he may be a bit more middle-of-the-road, a possibility which caused Communists and leftists to buck him at first.

Mexico also is electing a full new Congress of 60 senators and 178 deputies. However, the new Congress will have more opposition deputies than in the past, because of a new law designed to give them more voice.

Under a constitutional amendment, opposition parties which poll 2 1/2 per cent of the total national vote will automatically be entitled to at least five congressmen. They also get one more for each additional 1/2 per cent, up to a maximum of 20 seats, which PAN may well win.

RUBBER-STAMP PRI will continue to dominate Congress, a rubber-stamp deal anyway.

The election is expected to be quiet, with a turnout of around 13 million of Mexico's 38 million population. This is the predicted total, and would be a new record.

Diaz Ordaz is a wiry, lean, dark-haired lawyer, considered by many to be more middle-of-the-road than Lopez Mateos, although any Mexican president must conform to Mexico's revolutionary constitution and thus be left by American standards.

As interior minister, the highest cabinet position, he has done a good job. His nomination was discreetly hailed by conservatives, although Americans have kept silent, feeling an expression of favoritism would be a "kiss of death."

Communists and far leftists were openly against his nomination, later fought him although one group finally endorsed him.

POPULAR

Diaz Ordaz was not widely known prior to his nomination and preferred a background role. But during his six-month campaign, much of it by bus, he visited every Mexican state and blossomed into a popular politician.

An American newspaper, the Wall Street Journal, once compared him with a Volkswagen—"unattractive, but on the whole he's a practical, efficient machine and a good buy."

He was born in the state of Puebla. His father was a school teacher. He is married, has two sons and a daughter.

In speeches and interviews he has promised to push the goals of the Mexican revolution: more education, economic well-being and social justice for all.

He makes it clear his government will continue the current policy of stepping in wherever private enterprise leaves a gap. But he pledges fairness to private enterprise and foreign investments. He promises to live up to all foreign commitments.

CAMPESINOS

Diaz Ordaz says he believes Mexico's number one problem is its campesinos or farmhands. He promises them help, with agrarian reforms.

Opposition candidate Gonzalez Torres, a short chunky lawyer who was reluctant to accept the nomination, has been more open in his promises.

For one thing, he says, he would immediately break relations with Castro's Cuba. PAN believes, he says, that Mexico's non-intervention policy should not apply to Cuba because that island has been taken over by Communists, who thus violated the policy of non-intervention.

Gonzalez Torres challenged Diaz Ordaz to a public debate, but was not taken up on it.

SALT PROBLEM

His campaign has been based on such controversial but popular subjects as immediate solution to the Mexican salt problem, better prices for Mexican raw materials, better treatment for braceros in the U.S.

When Diaz Ordaz was nominated last fall, the small but noisy leftist parties tried to unite as the Popular Electoral Front (FEP).

Under law, a party must have 75,000 signed members before it can enter a presidential nominee. Even unified, they could not raise this total.

The government refused to recognize the FEP.

Later the Popular Socialist Party headed by leftist Vicente Lombardo Toledano came out for Diaz Ordaz. Lombardo Toledano said it was not possible for his PPS "to isolate itself from the ideals of the Mexican revolution" backed by Diaz Ordaz, and that inasmuch as the PRI was following these ideals, PPS would endorse him.

PROPOSALS

There were half-hearted proposals that the PPS just stay out of the elections, but Lombardo Toledano won his point.

Former President Lazaro Cardenas, enigmatic leader of Mexico's volatile but politically weak leftists, did not play a prominent part in the campaign as many expected. The FEP tried to use him, but failed, and Cardenas stayed in the background.

The new president will take office in December, serve for six years, and will not be eligible for re-election.

And he takes over a solid economy, a quiet country that is booming. Many say the future looks bright.

Airman I.C. Thomas J. Daily Jr., has arrived for duty with a unit of the Pacific Air Forces (PACAF) at Osan AB, Korea.

Airman Daily, an aircraft structural repairman, previously served at Kincheloe AFB, Mich. His new unit supports the PACAF mission of providing airpower for defense of the U.S. and its allies in the Pacific area.

The airman's wife, Betty, is the daughter of W. C. Kennedy, 1315 Princeton, Big Spring.

Navy Lieutenant junior grade Walter C. Rose, son of Mr. T. E. Rose, 1226 E. 15th, Big Spring, is participating in the deployment phase of "Operation Desert Strike" with Air Transport Squadron Seven in the Mojave Desert. The squadron will help transport 13,000 combat troops to the simulated battle area. The operation is the largest joint military maneuver conducted since 1955 and will involve approximately 100,000 men.

Army Spec. 4 Donald E. Hauser, 19, son of Mrs. Alice I. Payne, Coahoma, is participating in Exercise LIGTAS, a combined amphibious - airborne maneuver conducted in the Philippines by member Nations of the South-East Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO).

Specialist Hauser, regularly assigned as an automatic rifleman in Troop E of the 173rd Airborne Brigade's 17th Cavalry on Okinawa, entered the Army in April 1962 and arrived overseas the following November. He attended Big Spring High School.

Larry J. Neece, electronics technician third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe F. Neece, 1020 Ridgeroad Drive, Big Spring, returned to Long Beach, Calif., last month aboard the Navy radar picket destroyer USS Herbert J. Thomas from a tour of duty with the U. S. Seventh Fleet in the Far East. This cruise marked the last operational voyage for the Thomas as a radar picket destroyer. Thomas is scheduled to undergo fourteen months Fleet Rehabilitation and Modernization at the Mare Island Naval Shipyard, Vallejo, Calif. When she returns to active duty she will be a destroyer, a unique one. Thomas is to be the first destroyer to receive the program ships Toxicological Operational Protective System (STOPS).

After the system is installed, Thomas will be equipped for nuclear warfare. Every space not exposed to the air will be pressurized. Entry and exit to the interior of the ship will be through airlocks.

BENJAMIN T. TISDALE

Benjamin T. Tisdale III, airman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Tisdale, 711 Main, Big Spring, graduated this month from Aviation Familiarization School at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, Memphis, Tenn. During the two-week course he received instruction in Naval Aviation orientation and survival practices. The curriculum included the history of naval aviation, theory of flight, aircraft carriers and operations, cleaning and inspecting aircraft, survival evasion tactics, parachutes and jump techniques.

SGT. RAUL MENDOZA

T. Sgt. Raul Mendoza has completed his tour of duty with the Air Force Recruiting Service at Harlingen, and is being reassigned to a unit of the Pacific Air Forces in Osan Air Base, Korea.

Sgt. Mendoza enlisted 455 applicants during his four year tour. His recruiting area also included San Benito, Rio Hondo, Olmito, Los Fresnos, Port Isabel and Brownsville. He spent his first six months of recruiting at San Angelo and was formally stationed at Webb AFB.

KENNETH A. WIGNER

Kenneth A. Wigner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Wigner, Route 2, Colorado City, has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force upon graduation from Officer Training School (OTS) at Lackland AFB.

He will now go to one of the more than 250 Air Force installations world-wide where combat and support units are based for his first assignment as an officer.

Water-Filled Underwear May Ease Hot Spacemen

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A suit of mail-order house long underwear riddled with 144 tiny water pipes could prevent astronauts from getting "dispan red" all over during a space flight.

Manned Spacecraft Center engineers are developing a water-cooled undergarment to replace the oxygen cooling system now used in space suits.

In past flights, astronauts have emerged from the space suit dripping with perspiration, looking as if they had spent hours in a dishpan.

Refinements in the gas cooling system for Gemini and Apollo space suits haven't helped much. The heavy garments and their high pressurization, are sweat boxes.

BRITISH DOCTOR
Research into conductive cooling for space suits has been led by a young British doctor, John Billingham, who first saw the possibilities of such a system as a Royal Air Force flight surgeon.

He now heads the environment physiology branch of the Manned Spacecraft Center, where experiments have been going on for a year.

Until May 20, tests here were conducted with store-purchased long underwear with the plastic water pipes sewed in the material.

A factory-made suit built to specifications was put to use in an experiment with engineer Gil Freedman wearing the garment and walking a treadmill for one hour at a time.

He wore the water-cooled underwear under a cumbersome and heavy Mercury space suit. Despite the brick walk and the heavy clothing, his skin temperature stayed at 82 degrees, nine degrees below normal, which was satisfactory.

OXYGEN SYSTEM
Dr. Billingham said that if Freedman had been using the oxygen system, his skin temperature would have been 97 degrees.

Conduction heat transfer is one of four methods by which the human body can exchange heat with its environment.

Working on this theory, Dr. D. McK. Kerslake, head of climatic physiology, RAF Institute, Aviation Medicine, Farnborough, England, determined that different parts of the body had different skin temperatures.

The deep body temperature is 98.6 degrees, while skin readings range from 94 degrees at the head, chest, abdomen, back and buttocks to 83 degrees at the hands and feet.

Drek Burton, an English human engineering expert, set to work using these values to make a water-cooled space suit. The suit today is basically his design and this week he published a technical paper.

SMALL PUMP
The device requires two pounds of water, a small pump to circulate the water and about 144 pipes fitted into the underwear. The pump and its battery power source weigh 12 ounces. Billingham said the water cooling method eliminates dehydration caused by excessive sweating.

A Devotional For The Day

Now it happened that as he was praying alone the disciples were with him. (Luke 9:18, RSV.)
PRAYER: May we, O Lord, even when our closest friends seem far away, find ourselves near to Thee in prayer. May we learn more and more to hear Thee speak and then to do Thy will. In the name of our Lord and Master, Thy Son, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

(From the "Upper Room")

By Whatever Name

Addressing the Society of Residential Appraisers in Abilene recently, that city's Mayor Lee Byrd said out loud what the Texas League of Municipalities and other city groupings have been whispering with the soft sell for several years.

Cities must have some additional sources of revenue to meet the demands of varied and expanding services, he said. The two most likely sources are the city sales or city income tax.

This comes under what others have described in vague terms as a broad-based tax. Some others have cited the need as a growth tax, that is, some source that will produce increased revenues in proportion to a local economy's growth.

Whatever the name, it probably boils down pretty close to what the Abilene mayor said. Of the two, the local sales tax is the simpler and easier to administer.

This will stir cries of anguish on the grounds that those least able to contribute to municipal improvement and operation will be taxed on a greater percentage of their total income. There is merit in this contention that everyone should participate to a reasonable degree in the services which they enjoy.

If there are alternatives to the local sales or income tax, these should be advanced for consideration, because within a couple of years the citizens of Texas and then of various localities will be asked to reach some decisions. Cities are requiring more nourishment, and real property has been about sucked dry.

Time To Look Ahead

All three members of the Texas Highway Department have been in Washington this week in an effort to get some word on what may be expected in Interstate highway and other federal road programs beyond 1972.

This is the first time that all three commissioners made a trip to the national capital at the same time, and they did this to underline the urgency of their appeal. It is commendable that they are pressing for definitive projections now, because, as they pointed out, much of this type of work must be planned five and 10 years in advance.

Texas is one of few states in the union which is abreast of its schedule on the Interstate system. When the magnitude and the quality of its program is compared with that of other states, we venture that the Texas record is the leading one in the nation.

The adage of haste makes waste has some validity, and part of the achievement of our Texas Highway Department has been in sound, methodical planning. It is therefore imperative that the department be given some peg points on the Interstate outlook in particular and the other federal aid highway programs in general.

We do not know that any of these would touch us directly, but what benefits Texas benefits us.

Amending The Constitution

WASHINGTON—A surprising statement has just been filed with the House Judiciary Committee by 223 lawyers, including 55 deans of law schools and several college professors, many of them of the so-called "liberal" school of thought. They have taken a stand which will be construed as meaning that, so far as possible, further amendments to the Constitution must be blocked and that the Supreme Court of the United States must be left to rewrite the Constitution at will.

THE CURRENT controversy arises as a consequence of the Supreme Court's decisions which have produced widespread apprehension that the word "God" cannot be mentioned in public school exercises and that voluntary prayers may be prohibited in educational institutions or in connection with official activities of the government.

The statement warns those who have been agitating for a constitutional amendment that they are, in effect, engaging in something bordering on impropriety. Dozens of amendments, for instance, have been proposed to overrule the decisions of the Supreme Court on the subject of prayer in exercises or ceremonies in schools, but the statement of the 223 citizens asks for a kind of closure on further consideration of all such amendments by Congress. The statement says:

"AMERICAN LIBERTIES have been secure in large measure because they have been guaranteed by a Bill of Rights which the American people have until now deemed practically unamendable."

This will come as a shock to many people who have always thought the Constitution could be amended whenever public opinion desired it and that there is nothing so sacred about anything in the Constitution that the people couldn't change it at will. Objection rather has been voiced against the Supreme Court's assumption of a right virtually to introduce any meaning it pleases, thus giving to an oligarchy of nine judges appointed for life the power to amend the Constitution through judicial decisions.

THE RECENT movement to submit to the people an amendment safeguarding the right to pray grew out of a deep-seated belief that the Supreme Court had taken away a fundamental right and has indeed violated that part of the Constitution which states that there should be no interference with "the free exercise" of religion. The statement of the protesting group, however, says:

"Whatever disagreements some may have with the Bible-prayer decisions, we believe strongly that they do not justify this experiment. Accordingly, we urge that Congress approve measures to amend the First Amendment in order to overrule these decisions."

THE SPONSORS of this viewpoint add: "If the first clause of the Bill of Rights, forbidding laws respecting an establishment of religion, should prove so easily susceptible to impairment by amendment, none of the succeeding clauses will be secure."

Such a sweeping declaration is hardly justified because, for one thing, there are more than 100 proposals for a constitutional amendment along with the resolution submitted by representative Frank J. Becker, Republican of New York, in behalf of many members of Congress, all of which are merely designed to safeguard the right to pray in official surroundings.

THERE ARE many ways by which this right can be assured without imposing any established church. Just as one group respects the right of another group to hold differing opinions, there is every justification for at least tolerating voluntary prayer by another body of citizens, whether outside or inside a government building, in a public ceremony. Billy Graham

I try to live a Christian life but I always seem to fail. What can I do?—L. J.

You must realize that the Christian life is not a matter of self effort. The secret of successful Christian living is "Christ in you." The Bible says, "Work out your own salvation with fear and trembling," but it adds very quickly, "for it is God that worketh in you both to will and to do of His good pleasure." While many schemes of salvation are self-help plans, the Christian life is not a matter of just lifting ourselves by our own bootstraps. It is God in Jesus Christ who both saves us and keeps us saved. If you will trust Christ for your initial salvation, you can also trust Him for your continuous salvation.

The Apostle Paul says: "I am crucified with Christ, nevertheless, I live, but the life I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God who loved me and gave Himself for me." You can be a radiant Christian if you will yield yourself to Christ alone and trust Him to keep you.

Congress' Foreign Aid Game Takes New Tack

WASHINGTON (AP)—Almost from the time foreign aid began 17 years ago there has been a kind of game every year between the President, any president, and Congress over money.

Wednesday, suddenly, the game stopped. But until then this was the yearly routine: Whatever the President asked for, Congress cut down. Then he got along with the money Congress voted. The same thing the next year, and the same result. The big exception was that first time in 1947.

BECAUSE GREECE and Turkey were threatened by communism President Truman asked $400 million in a hurry, and Congress gave it to him. Later that year he proposed a much bigger aid program for Western Europe, the Marshall Plan.

It got going the next year when Congress gave him $6 billion instead of the $6.8 billion he asked. The game was on. As the years passed the critical mood in Congress and the country toward foreign aid hardened.

The criticism went in a number of directions, of which these are only a few: The prospering Allies weren't doing their share of aiding backward countries; too much waste; some of the receiving countries weren't showing enough self-discipline and cooperation. On it went.

LAST YEAR the game between President and Congress came to a boil when President John F. Kennedy pulled a tactical boner.

On Jan. 17, 1963 he asked $4.9 billion in foreign aid but this was just about a month after he had set up a special 10-man committee, headed by Gen. Lucius D. Clay, to study the whole aid problem.

By the end of March, which was before the dawdling Congress ever really got down to work on Kennedy's request, the Clay committee came in with its report. It was a contradictory and often foggy document.

KENNEDY PROMPTLY and obligingly cut his original request down to $4.5 billion, which just bolstered the argument of those who had always claimed any President's foreign aid request was full of fat and unnecessary padding.

To make a long story short—and it was a very long story—Congress finally authorized spending only $3.6 billion. Nothing shows better the dawdling condition of the Congress last year.

It didn't do the authorizing on President Kennedy's request until Dec. 9, and by then he was dead. And the $3.6 billion it approved was $1.3 billion less than he had originally asked.

But when Congress authorizes spending, it's just saying what the ceiling must be. After that, the actual amount of money it will let the President have to spend.

IT WASN'T until Dec. 30 that it finished the appropriations bill originally asked. This year President Johnson did a complete switch in the routine.

He asked for only $3.5 billion and said that was rock bottom. And meanwhile, a real pro in dealing with Congress, he went to work.

Wednesday, the result was almost a miracle. The House authorized practically every penny of the $3.5 billion Johnson said he needed. The Senate still has to act. And after that both houses must decide on the appropriation.

Maybe before it's over Johnson will get less than he asked. In its own way this is as big an achievement for Johnson as getting the railroad dispute settled earlier this year without a strike.

It was the first time anything like this has happened since 1947.

Memories Reveal Ages

NEW YORK (AP)—Memories date people just as surely as growth rings tell the age of a tree.

So, if you're trying to pass for under 50, never admit out loud that you can remember when—

It cost a dime to go to the movies, and you could get a fair seat at a Broadway play for $10.

BUTCHERS wore straw cuffs. Motor cars had isinglass curtains to protect the occupants from rain or cold weather.

All babies were born at home. Hospitals were for sick persons. Dieting was practically unheard of. A fat man could spill more calories on his necktie at lunch than a modern doctor would now allow him to eat all day.

When you wanted to go out for an evening of fun on the town, you said, "let's make whoopee!" A strong dose of epsom salts usually cured anything that ailed you.

NO GIRL who valued her reputation would be seen entering a bowling alley or a billiard parlor.

One of the nuisances of railroad travel in summer was having to get cinders out of your eyes from the steam engine's exhaust.

The nation's No. 1 ideal marriage was that between Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford. Calvin Coolidge was being hailed as the perfect president.

There was no canned beer in the refrigerator, then known as an icebox. If father wanted an evening drink of beer, he'd send one of the kids with a pail to the nearest saloon. The trick was to grease the sides of the pail with butter. That was supposed to keep down the suds.

THE ONLY people in college who were married were members of the faculty. Small towns had hitching posts, no parking meters.

Your congressman was measured not so much by how he voted on international issues but by whether he remembered to send you a packet of free seeds.

To Your Good Health

Smoking Increases The Heart Rate

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: Why does a physician recommend no smoking for a heart patient (coronary thrombosis) who has never inhaled?—H. G. M.

Don't think that inhaling is the only way smoking can have an effect on the body. The lung cancer controversy is only one part of the whole picture.

The nicotine itself may, for all we know and suspect, have nothing to do with cancer, but it, and perhaps some ingredients, can be absorbed other than through the lungs—for instance, the mucus surfaces of the mouth, nose and throat.

Smoking has known effects such as increasing the heart rate and the amount of work the heart is required to do. This may be of little consequence in most cases, but it is not advisable for a patient with coronary disease.

Dear Dr. Molner: Does emphysema have anything to do with asthma? What relationship is there to the nerves or psychosomatic factors?—S. S.

There is a distinct relationship to asthma—or rather, there can be. The interference with respiration, and the struggling for breath can, in time, contribute to emphysema, which is a breaking-down of the tiny sacs of the lungs where oxygen is transferred to the blood.

Since emotional upsets often trigger attacks of asthma in susceptible patients, you can say that the nerves have an indirect effect on emphysema. However, sheer nerves do not cause emphysema.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have a floating, or dropped kidney. All I can do about it is to wear a kidney belt. I am working as a domestic and the reaching and stretching leaves me never without pain, on my left side under the ribs. Lately I get back pains, too.

Can anything be done?—Mrs. E. H.

I'm sorry, but there is very little besides a belt or similar supporting garment. Surgery (for suspension of the kidney) is performed in extreme cases in which obstruction of the urine flow has been found.

If you are quite lean, putting on a little weight may help, because a padding of fat can form around the kidney and act as a cushion.

Dear Dr. Molner: My daughter, who is 39, craves water just about all the time. Why? This has been so for about three months.—L. L.

Among several possibilities are:

Diabetes mellitus (the usual form of diabetes) which would also result in sugar in the urine. Diabetes insipidus, an entirely different disease despite the similarity of name, which does NOT cause sugar in the urine.

Psychological problems. Other conditions—which, however, would be readily noted: High fever, vomiting, diarrhea, swelling of tissues.

Drugs. Sometimes drugs on the order of belladonna cause a dryness in the tissues and hence excessive thirst.

Dr. Molner welcomes all mail from his readers, but because of the great volume received daily he is unable to answer individual letters. Dr. Molner uses readers' letters in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

Not So Intrepid Pilgrim Returns

We learned to expect many things on a vacation tour toward and in California this year. Some could be expected; others were entirely unforeseen.

For instance, we found out some highway garages in the desert areas need only a black mask to complete the character they ably represent. In one area, they employ men to patrol the highways to bring in the hapless motorist for a suitable fleecing.

WE WERE warned before leaving that some folks out there are rude. This turned out to be often true, but ruthless would be a better one-word description. Prices are phenomenally high, a cup of coffee going usually for 20 cents, depending on the availability, the location, and the demand.

Despite the hazards to the neophyte on those raceway freeways, they work remarkably well. It is relatively easy to cross major cities in a short time, providing the motorist can locate the proper turnoff in time to get to the right lane. Obviously, we missed it many times.

TRAFFIC is about the only thing that works well in that latter day paradise. For instance, we drove through many intersections where there was no signal light—all traffic is required to stop. Most of these intersections have a waiting line of traffic. But motorists appear to have a tacit understanding that the driver to the right has first chance. We saw no bottlenecks as each driver waited his turn to cross. Imagine a system like that working here.

The mammoth ball park of the Dodgers leaves a lot to be desired. The parking situation is catch-as-catch-can, and leaves the fan a good mile or more from his seat in the best of circumstances. More often, it is much farther. The ticket hucksters have all the finesse of a race track tout, and could care less whether you get a seat in the stadium or somewhere east of Singapore. The stadium itself, although much more modern, is no better than the Cleveland stadium and it is much more dangerous to walk down the aisles.

POLICE OFFICERS were helpful, motel operators gouged for every penny, service station operators appeared honest, food was typically tourist fare in most places, and the smog was constantly annoying. Everywhere, there is the mark of the huckster, however, and we came to suspect that the natives are the most constantly "conned" people in the world. Even television stations are more solidly packed with commercials. What scenic beauties remain have been carefully tucked behind monstrous billboards on every side.

THE FALSE, TINSEL glamor of Hollywood has given way to modern office buildings, and the streets are still badly paved. We were surprised to see signs in two city parks warning that children under eight years old were prohibited from entering under any circumstances. And one of the parks was closed daily at 5 p.m. to everyone.

All-in-all, there are few things out there that worth the tortuous trek across hot desert sand.

'The Invisible Government'

WASHINGTON—Who was the mysterious stranger who tried to buy up the entire printing on "The Invisible Government," a soon-to-be-published book that has the Central Intelligence Agency climbing the walls in anguish?

When the CIA was told that some informed persons charge the CIA itself tried to swing the deal, it fell back on the explanation it most often uses: No comment.

BENNETT CERF, president of Random House, which is publishing the book, contributed considerably more words (interlarded with sincere chuckles) but little more information. For a publisher who had just (maybe) almost sold 12,500 books at one fell swoop, Mr. Cerf might as well have been the most witless of financially incompetent authors for all the lasting impression it made on him.

"Somebody from Washington," he said, chuckling in the manner of a YMCA secretary engaging in man-to-man talk, "came to somebody here and suggested that perhaps — it was very amorphous, like a balloon, a trial balloon — they might buy up the entire first printing. I told them . . ."

"THE MYSTERIOUS stranger?" we inquired silyly.

"No, no," Mr. Cerf replied, bubbling with good humor. "One of our people, a salesman, I think. I told them we'd sell as many of the books as they wanted."

"As who wanted?"

"I honestly and sincerely don't know," Mr. Cerf replied.

BUT APPARENTLY (it's all very amorphous, like a balloon full of good-natured hot air) the proposed purchase collapsed when it became clear that Random House would immediately order a second printing for public distribution if it were fortunate enough to sell out the first printing. "The whole idea was laughable," Mr. Cerf laughed.

LOOK MAGAZINE, however, which printed excerpts from "The Invisible Government" in its June 16 number, readily conceded that the CIA had urged it to make changes in the text prior to publication. "The CIA approached Gardner Cowles (Look president and editor) and asked that some changes be made — things they considered inaccuracies," a spokesman said. "We made a number of changes, but we do not consider that they were significant."

THE AUTHORS of "The Invisible Government" are David Wise and Thomas B. Ross, two young, energetic and respected Washington reporters. Neither will discuss for the record the spooky bibliophile who apparently tried to smother their book in money. Nor will either talk about the not-so-mysterious campaign to blackguard the book as a breach of national security.

But it is a fact that publishers, editors and authors associated in production of the book use the same word to describe charges that the book reveals security secrets: "Nonsense."

WHATEVER the details of the invisible campaign to keep "The Invisible Government" out of the hands of the reading public, it seems to have backfired. Mr. Cerf cheerfully confided that the original first printing order of 12,500 copies had been increased to 17,500. But, ho, ho, ho, no — as the result of the shadowy attempt by that rich, unnamed book-lover from Washington corner the market. (Distributed by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Military Education

AIRBORNE, HOME BOUND—In a week of traveling along the education circuit which trains pilots and technicians for Naval aviation, the reporter looks for reasons why our military society handles American youth so much better than our civilian sector does, and these factors can be documented:

DESPITE SOME political lip service in the upper echelons, the Navy frankly regards its social structure as aristocratic, not democratic. Speaking recently at Vanderbilt University, Navy Captain J. A. Masterson, who's in charge of 15,000 technical trainees a year, described his service as "an aristocratic organization" where "we still have segregation—not according to race, creed or color, but according to rank, rate and capabilities."

These, of course, are the specifications of the entire American society, not just the Navy, but Navy educators say so—and civilian educators don't.

THE MILITARY services, perhaps surprisingly, take far more religious and spiritual responsibility for their trainees than ever happens in the civilian economy. About half the States are so afraid of religious tyranny that they have curtailed public worship in the schools, and the Supreme Court has outlawed school-time worship as a national practice.

I KNOW of no private company which encourages religious observation among employees or trainees. But at the Pensacola Naval Air Station, the young officers and cadets are marched to chapel on Sundays. I heard of an instance when three young men declined to attend chapel because they were agnostics. Their commander told them that, as officers, they had responsibility for the spiritual well-being of their troops and crew members. The next Sunday the doubters marched into chapel. At the Memphis technical training station, there is no compulsory religious observation. But there are 11 chapels on the base.

THE MILITARY educators, although dealing with large student bodies who attend courses which last only a matter of weeks or months, give far more personal attention to their charges than school principals, college deans or industrial personnel officers.

Military education is singularly successful because it makes use of instructors instead of teachers. The Navy instructors are petty officers who come in from the Fleet for three years of shore duty with their families. They are experts who have been through the mill themselves. Their relationship with the trainees rests on the admiration which young men always have for somewhat older men who have made good.

AT A TIME when the civilian education is on the rocks, and President Johnson's War On Poverty is cranking up for a massive effort at training high school drop-outs and other mixed-up youths, the military service ought to make the best possible how-to-do-it models.

It may be that the same officers and men, methods and machines, which keep the foreign enemy at bay, can be used to subdue this deadly enemy of social disintegration which has us by the throat at home. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Needs Cattle?

BARDSTOWN, Ky. (AP)—Texas supposedly has cattle all over the place so there was some surprise in these parts when the Maywood Farms shipped a load of cattle to a Texas ranch.

The shipment included 33 purebred Brangus cattle. Bardstown cattleman Cam Blincoe said the cattle are crossed three times to produce an animal five-eighths Angus and three-eighths Brahman.

The bidding:
West North East South
1♥ Pass Pass Double
Pass 2♣ Pass 3♦
Pass 4♣ Pass Pass

Opening lead: King of ♥
A too casual approach toward the fulfillment of his four spade contract led to declarer's downfall in today's hand.

West opened the bidding with one heart which was passed around to South who reopened with a take-out double. West passed and North responded to partner's request with a bid of two clubs. South now chose to jump to three spades. He did not relish the idea of taking such drastic action with a somewhat questionable suit; however, he was aware that a mere call of two spades would not begin to do justice to his holding. Some inducement must be offered to partner to carry on if he has one or two key cards. North got the message, and, holding the ace of trumps as well as a potential ruffing value in diamonds, he carried on to four spades.

West opened the king of hearts and South played the ace. A quick appraisal of his assets revealed that there was a reasonable expectation of winning 10 tricks—five spades, four top side tricks, and a diamond ruff. He proceeded to cash the ace, king of diamonds, and then ruffed the ten in dummy. Next came the ace and another spade. When West showed out on the second round, revealing the unfortunate trump break, there was no way declarer could avoid losing a spade trick as well as two clubs and one heart. Altho the four-one division in spades was somewhat against the odds, it was by no means a remote prospect, and declarer could have taken precautionary measures which would have enabled him to single in the small trumps in his hand if that proved to be necessary.

It is suggested that declarer permit West to hold the first trick with the king of hearts and then win the continuation. He may now cash the top diamonds and ruff the third round. The key play of trumping one of dummy's hearts comes next. The king, queen, and ace of spades reveal the bad news and leave East and South alike with one trump in their hands. The last heart is led from dummy and East cannot prevent declarer from scoring his remaining spade. The ace of clubs becomes declarer's 10th trick.

Gardeners Hear Talk

Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow spoke to the Four O'Clock Garden Club Wednesday afternoon on "Awards and Rewards." She is a member of the Big Spring Garden Club and is awards chairman of District I of the Texas Federation of Garden Clubs.

The club met in the home of Mrs. Bill Swindell, 1012 E. 21st. Mrs. Guy Cook presided over the business meeting during which Mrs. B. E. Reagan was elected schedule chairman for the fall flower show.

Mrs. Bristow told the group that awards are an incentive to work and that "to cultivate interest in beauty is the reason for organized garden clubs." There are several awards for which garden clubs may apply each year, and last year the club won the Sears Roebuck Grant Award.
