$151 Million Tax Bill Gets State Senate Panel's Okay

By DAVE CHEAVENS

AUSTIN (AP)—Senate committee approval of a budget-balancing tax bill today was a major step toward solution of the state's fiscal crisis.

The State Affairs Committee rammed the sharply revised revenue measure through the first vital action preceding floor debate in less than half an hour.

The committee junked Gov. Price Daniel's proposed natural gas tax aimed chiefly at the exported product. It added three cents to the present five cent a pack cigarette tax.

Altogether the Senate version raises 151 million dollars for the next two years compared to the 149 million approved by the House.

Debate on the tax bill in the Senate is expected to start tomorrow.

The tax bill was one of two major revenue measures facing vital tests as time ran short for the special session.

House members reacted quickly.

"It's a monstrosity and the House won't be stampeded into taking it," said Rep. George Hinson of Mineola, author of the original bill.

"The best thing the Senate can do is to pass it over here by Wednesday and let us get a quick conference committee on it and give us time to work. The way I look at it, the measure is 87 per cent sales taxes. The Senate sales tax group is not going to make us take it."

Speaker Waggoner Carr said: "Let's wait and see what the Senate does to it."

"I love it," Rep. Sam Bass of Freeport said. "It's just the way I wanted it."

Bass headed the house tax subcommittee which offered a substitute to Hinson's measure. It was similar to the senate committee proposal which the house refused.

House Revenue and Taxation Committee members generally approved the Senate measure. It is similar to proposals they have made in the past, but which were defeated by the house.

"I like it," Rep. V. L. Ramsey of Beckville said. "I wouldn't venture a guess on whether the House would take it."

"If the House wants to go home, they'll take the Senate version," Rep. H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock said.

Hinson also said: "If the Senate doesn't give us a chance for a good conference committee and plenty of time, they can take the blame for the second special session. One will have to be called."

Pending in the House is a watered down version of Gov. Price Daniel's plan to use abandoned bank funds to help retire the 65 million dollar deficit.

This is the last full week of the 30 day special session, called to finish the job left dangling by the regular 120 day session.

The lawmakers failed in the full session to make any headway in trimming the general fund shortage.

They also failed to pass a general appropriations bill to finance state services for fiscal 1960-61.

The new fiscal year starts Sept. 1. If money is not available, state services will halt.

That means no pay for state workers, no grocery money for the hospitals, no gasoline for the Highway Patrol. It is the first time in recent history that state government in Texas has faced such a prospect. Many times in the past, deficit financing has been used. That now requires a hard-to-get four-fifths vote under a constitutional amendment adopted in 1942.

Counting next Saturday, the lawmakers have eight days in which to pass a tax bill before the session automatically ends June 16.

The general spending bill—calling for approximately 2¼ billion dollars—is now being processed for final submission to both the House and Senate. The conference committee, working behind closed doors as usual, has not reported what progress has been made.

That has led to speculation that it is waiting to see how much new tax money will be put up, if any.

Ike Seeks End To Ceiling On Bond Interest

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today asked Congress to scrap the interest ceiling on government bonds, both long and short term. He also called for an increase in the national debt ceiling.

In a special message, Eisenhower said such steps are necessary for successful management of the public debt, now a record 286 billion dollars.

He said the Treasury Department will formally put before Congress requests for:

1. Removal of the current 3¼ per cent interest ceiling on savings bonds.

2. Elimination of the present 4¼ per cent interest limit on marketable bonds of more than five years maturity.

3. A hike in the permanent national debt ceiling from the current 283 billion dollars to 288 billion dollars, plus an increase in the temporary limit from the present 288 billion to 295 billion.

In the savings bond field, Eisenhower said the Treasury Department plans a new interest rate of 3¾ per cent on all series "E" and "H" bonds sold beginning June 1. That is an interest hike or a half of one per cent.

Eisenhower said further the Treasury Department plans an "improved interest rate" on all series "E" and "H" bonds now outstanding, as well as improved extension terms for outstanding "E" bonds when they mature.

"The public debt must be managed so as to safeguard the public credit," Eisenhower told Congress.

"It must be managed in a way that is consistent with economic growth and stability."

The President cited reasons why he believes removal of the interest ceiling on governmnt bonds is necessary at this time.

Rapid growth in borrowing demands of corporations, individuals, state and local governments tends to diminish the amount of funds available for investment in direct federal government securities, he said.

Also, Eisenhower added, the bond market has been affected by recent preference among some buyers for common stocks.

The President noted that some bonds are priced in the market to yield more than 4¼ per cent.

Thus, he said, the current ceiling makes it virtually impossible to sell government bonds in the competitive market.

Eisenhower said the government must do more long-term borrowing in order to "avoid undue shortening of the public debt," which is inflationary.

Trial Involving Triangle Opens

CINCINNATI (AP)—A murder trial that is expected to mix technical legal battles with the age-old love triangle, opened today in Hamilton County Criminal Court.

On trial is Edythe Klumpp, 41, blonde part-time home economics teacher and operator of a day boarding home for children.

Mrs. Klumpp, twice divorced and the mother of four, is accused of slaying Louise Bergen, 32, last Oct. 30. The state claims Mrs. Bergen was killed because she refused to divorce her husband, William, so he and Mrs. Klumpp could marry.

Mrs. Bergen's badly burned body was found Nov. 1 on the shore of Lake Cowan in nearby Clinton County. The state claims Mrs. Klumpp made a statement admitting Mrs. Bergen was shot to death and the body was kept in her automobile overnight before she took it to Lake Cowan and set it afire.

Mrs. Klumpp has claimed the shooting was an accident as she and Mrs. Bergen grappled over a gun in Mrs. Klumpp's car.

A special venire of 75 persons begins the tedious job of selecting a jury today in Judge Frank Gusweiler's court.

Hamilton County Prosecutor C. Watson Hover hopes that task can be completed in three days. Defense attorney William F. Hopkins isn't so optimistic.

Hopkins is expected to make much of what he says is the failure of the state to have a coroner's report on the actual cause of death. Mrs. Bergen's body was examined twice by a pathologist and Hopkins is expected to contend there has been no definite word as to how Mrs. Bergen actually died.

Saunders Trial Is Set Aug. 3

AUSTIN (AP)—The trial of J. B. Saunders, former state Insurance Board chairman accused of perjury, was set today for Aug. 3.

Dist. Atty. Les Procter agreed on the date with John Cofer, Saunders' lawyer.

Saunders, a Tyler lawyer, is charged with perjury in connection with testimony concerning his dealings with BenJack Cage. Cage was convicted in Dallas of misappropriating $100,000 from stockholders of the ICT Insurance Co., which he organized.

Cage, last reported in Brazil, faces two Austin indictment alleging that he bribed Saunders and Garland Smith, another former chairman of the Insurance Board, to gain favors for ICT and some of the 73 other financial ventures that Cage promoted.

Saunders and Smith were indicted by the same Austin grand jury on perjury charges concerning their dealing with Cage. Also indicted was Max Rychlich, Smith's son-in-law.

First Successful Delivery Of Mail Made By Guided Missile

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office Department today announced the first successful mail delivery by guided missile.

The missile, a Navy Regulus I, was launched by a U. S. submarine in the Atlantic and landed at the auxiliary naval air station at Mayport near Jacksonville, Fla.

The submarine was the Barbero, a missile vessel.

The distance the missile traveled was not disclosed. The department said only that the submarine was "somewhere at sea."

The cargo of 3,000 letters included one addressed to President Eisenhower.

Other messages in the cargo, all from Postmater General Summerfield, were for members of the Cabinet, members of Congress, justices of the Supreme Court, the governors of all American states and territories, and the postmasters general of the 99 other nations which are members of the Universal Postal Union.

The missile was fired at 10:10 a.m. and landed safely at 10:32 a.m., the department said.

Summerfield, describing the event in a telephone conversation with the Washington Evening Star, said it was a dramatic sight.

He reported the wheeled missile made a perfect landing on the runway, trailing a parachute to slow it down.

The weight of the payload was not immediately disclosed but Summerfield said postal workers were ready for it.

They unloaded the mail, processed it and sped it on its way.

Questionable Morals Denied By Liberace

LONDON (AP) — American entertainer Liberace denied in a British court today that he is a homosexual.

His denial came at the opening of a libel action against the Daily Mirror and its columnist, William Neil Connor, who writes under the pen name of Cassandra.

The entertainer, whose full name is Wladziu Valentino Liberace, was asked by his lawyer, Gilbert Beyfus if he ever indulged in homosexual practices.

"No sir, never in my life," Liberace replied.

Beyfus said the language used by Connor in the Daily Mirror "meant, and was intended to mean, that Liberace was a homosexual."

The trial opened before a judge and a jury that included two women. The gallery was crowded with women and girls.

As is the practice in British courts, the libel suit does not ask for a specific sum in damages. The amount, if any, will be fixed by the jury.

Beyfus quoted in court the offending articles.

"He reeks with emitic language that can only make grown men long for a quiet corner, an aspidastra, a handkerchief and the old heave-ho. Without doubt he is the biggest sentimental vomit of all time," one said in part.

Beyfus said the article caused Liberace intense distress and that his mother was most upset when she finally saw it.

In its defense plea the Mirror contended that statements of fact in the Connor article were true, and that his expressions of opinion were fair comment.

Rocket Ship Passes Test

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The rocket ship X15, expected some day to carry man 100 miles high at 4,000 miles an hour, successfully made its first glide test today.

A brief announcement said everything went as planned.

This means the ship was dropped at 38,000 feet from a B52 mother plane, glided for four or five minutes, and landed on a dry lake bed.

Veteran engineer-test pilot Scott Crossfield was at the controls.

The dart-like black craft carried no fuel, and landed on special skids.

It has made four previous captive flights, locked under the B52's wing.

The glide test had been delayed by various failures of electronic equipment.

32 Injured In Explosion

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Sixteen farm laborers were killed and 32 others were injured when a crudely fashioned bus crashed into a tree and exploded near Phoenix today.

The highway patrol, which had difficulty determining the number of charred and cremated bodies in the twisted wreckage, listed these figures as official but said there may be more dead.

All the victims were Mexican nationals.

Many of the injured were reported in serious condition with burns and broken bones.

Patrolmen said the driver, Nato Manuel Gloria Jr., apparently fell asleep at the wheel while taking the workers from the farm labor office at Mesa, Ariz., west of Phoenix, to fields at Tolleson, east of Phoenix.

The patrol quoted the driver, Nato Manuel Gloria Jr., as saying he dozed at the wheel. Gloria said he had been feeling sleepy and was going to stop at an intersection 10 yards ahead to turn the driving over to his assistant.

The driver escaped serious injury.

The truck, which had been converted into a bus with sides and a top, left a main suburban thoroughfare just south of the Phoenix city limits, ploughed through a ditch and smashed into a tree.

Patrolmen said the head-on crash burst the vehicle's fuel line and caused an explosion.

Elmer Charbeneau, who lives near the scene, said an explosion awakened him.

"It sounded like a loud clap of thunder," he said. "I ran to the window and saw flames spread over the entire bed of the bus. Then I heard screaming.

"By the time I got there, most of those who could get out were wandering in a nearby field or were stretched out in the ditch."

The converted truck had only one exit, a single door at the rear.

Those who escaped appeared to be in a state of shock. They wandered about the field aimlessly.

Two survivors told of the scramble to get out the only door, and how the laborers had to fight their way around a big water barrel and a pile of suitcases.

Leopold Martinez, 28, said he was sitting near the door when he felt the crash. "It knocked me to the floor. The whole bed was afire," he said.

"Three or four men jumped over me and out the door. I crawled to the door and rolled out into the ditch.

"Some of the men were asleep on the floor under the benches. They never had a chance to get out."

The accident was the worst traffic crash in Arizona history.

County Plans Paving Work

The county commissioners court voted this morning to authorize the county judge to call for bids on eight miles of paving of county roads in Precinct 1.

The paving will be on the "Plainview Road," a county road extending east from the end of Twenty-third Street, and the "Murphy Road" near the Lloyd Mountain community.

On request of Woody Powell, caretaker of the county's Winston Park, the court authorized the lowering of swimming pool prices in that park from 25 cents to 15 cents for children 6 to 14 years old and from 40 cents to 25 cents for those 14 through high school. Powell said he believed the pool would have as much income and more participation at those prices.

A report for the month of May from Elmer L. Taylor, county veterans service officer, showed he had completed three applications for non-service connected pensions for veterans, eight applications for veterans hospitalization, one application for participation in the Texas Veterans Land Program, two social security applications by veterans dependents, two insurance benefits for veterans dependents, and worked on requests for other benefits.

Taylor said Scurry County veterans and dependents received $44,602.40 for the first four months of 1959.

Soviets Trying To Sidetrack Berlin Crisis Negotiations

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union today appeared trying to sidetrack Big Four negotiations on the Berlin crisis by driving directly for an agreement to hold a summit meeting. Western officials insist Berlin comes first.

Secret exchanges were to resume today as the foreign ministers began their fifth week of negotiation. An American informant said the talks still hinge on the Soviet threat to Berlin, which has hamstrung the parley from the start.

The apparent Soviet strategy for the final stage of the conference emerged in statements by Premier Nikita Khrushchev and a spokesman for the Communist East German regime. They seemed to rule out any radically different instructions to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

Khrushchev said in Budapest before returning to Moscow that East-West accords "undoubtedly will be reached at the summit" even if no agreement is achieved by the foreign ministers.

The Soviet premier displayed confidence a summit meeting will materialize by advising the governments of Finland, Denmark, Sweden and Norway that he may have to postpone the Scandinavian tour he is scheduled to make in August.

Stefan Heymann, chief information officer of the East German government, told a group of Western newsmen flown to East Berlin from Geneva that the issues of Berlin and Germany "can only be solved at the summit."

"There can be no concrete agreement of any kind in Geneva," Heymann said.

It was the threat of a new blockade cutting traffic to the isolated city that made the Berlin crisis acute last year and forced the calling of the foreign ministers' conference in an effort to avoid a military showdown.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, Britain's Selwyn Lloyd and France's Maurice Couve de Murville seem to have run out of fresh ideas to propose to the Soviets. Gromyko hasn't come up with anything acceptable to the West.

Eastern diplomats in Geneva began taking an optimistic line over the weekend, talking of a quick, successful conclusion to the foreign ministers' talks with a summit conference to follow.

Western diplomats stuck to their reports that secret talks of the last 10 days have made little or no progress on Berlin. They are keeping a weather eye on talks opening in Moscow today between Khrushchev and East German leaders. They could provide a guide to Soviet policy at Geneva.

Munitions Lobby Concerns Solons

WASHINGTON (AP)—Heads of two potent House committees share President Eisenhower's concern about what has been called the munitions lobby, but they doubt that a congressional probe would solve anything.

They agreed lobbying activities have had the result of forcing defense costs higher, but they pretty well agreed also that the average citizen himself unwittingly is a strong force behind the drives.

These views came from Chairman Clarence Cannon (D-Mo) of the House Appropriations Committee and Chairman F. Edward Hebert (D-La) of a House Armed Services investigating subcommittee.

But they and other Congress members who were interviewed had differing ideas on what constitutes a munitions lobby—if any.

Of course there are sales representatives trying to peddle their firms' products to the government, and, to do that, seeking congressional appropriations to provide the money. Some push newly developed planes, or missiles, or guns as the best and most necessary weapons of defense.

Hebert referred to advertising as one of the stronger ways the lobby works. He and Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill) criticized some firms' hiring of high-ranking military officers as they retire. Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash) referred to executives from business and industry who hold temporary but important posts in the Pentagon.

But Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex), Senate majority leader and head of a Senate Preparedness investigating subcommittee, discounted the idea of a munitions lobby as such.

"I don't know any who deserve that label," Johnson said.

He saw no need for an investigation, and was joined in that view by Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo), a former secretary of the Air Force and a sharp critic of Eisenhower administration defense policies.

Fight To Finish Looms On State Use Of Dormant Funds

AUSTIN (AP)—The administration is ready for a finish fight with bankers over a bill to give the state use of dormant funds.

Sen. Crawford Martin of Hillsboro struck back sharply at Texas Bankers Assn. officials who have renewed a campaign against the bill.

Martin said his bill was rewritten in line with the banker's suggestions. Then, he said, they started fighting it again.

When the House quit last Thursday, it was debating its version of the abandoned property bill. It is pending business today.

Martin's bill is stranded in the Senate State Affairs Committee.

Gov. Price Daniel originally submitted the measure to give the state use of dormant funds, estimating it would help retire the general fund deficit by 25 million dollars. He urged the bill as one putting into actual effect existing statutes which were written to give the stae use of money whose rightful owners can not be found.

Bankers and others including pipeline companies have opposed the measure.

W. A. Pounds, president of the Texas Bankers Assn., wrote senators last week, saying the bill threatened public confidence in the banks. Their enactment would be a "grave mistake in public policy," the letter said.

The action by voice vote sent the measure to the Senate floor for debate, probably tomorrow.

The bill is just slightly above the House - approved plan for balancing the state budget. However, it radically changes the methods of taxation. Several senators indicated they would attempt floor changes.

"No, it's not going to be laid out today," said Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey.

"We may run with it tomorrow, that would be about usual," said Sen. Charles Herring, Senate sponsor of the House-approved bill that was ditched in favor of a Senate subcommittee plan. Herring said he had not decided whether to try to substitute the House plan in floor debate.

Shooting Act Star Is Shot By Child

By JOHN MOODY

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A woman entertainer who faced death daily holding targets in a trick shooting act was accidentally shot to death Sunday by a 5-year-old boy who came to see her perform.

The shot came at a frontier town exhibit at the Pittsburgh Bicentennial Exposition in Point Park. It ended the life of Mamie Alice Penman, 30, of Sun Valley, Calif.

The youth, who thought he was playing with a stage prop, started to run but was halted by his father. The victim's husband, Frank, 40, rushed over and slapped the youth, shouting, "You shot my wife."

The exposition, crowded with Sunday visitors, took on a tense and tragic air as police rushed to the scene.

The boy's mother, who permitted him to handle the 22 caliber rifle, stood stunned. The victim's 8-year-old daughter wept.

The shot came a few minutes before Mrs. Penman was scheduled to go on stage and step in front of her husband's blazing guns as he fired at targets she held in her hands and mouth.

Police took young Frank Monaco of nearby New Kensington, Pa., into custody for questioning. No charges were preferred.

Mrs. Penman performed with her husband and daughter, Mary Alice. He is known professionally as "Wild Bill Cody." They joined the exposition last week after touring with a Wild West show.

Mr. and Mrs. John Monaco said they had taken their boy to the exposition for a Sunday outing. After visiting several other exhibits they went to the frontier village.

Young Monaco and his mother walked into a jailhouse cell. He saw two rifles and asked his mother if he could examine them.

Mrs. Monaco said she thought they were part of the display props and agreed. Police quoted her as saying the boy picked up a rifle and pressed the trigger.

Mrs. Penman was standing outside the jail talking to other show people. She had loaded the rifles moments before in readiness for the show.

2 Neighbors Are Slain By Farmer

MACON, Mo. (AP) — Faking a search for a cow, a farmer lured three neighbors into some timber and killed two of them Sunday. Then he took his own life.

The third neighbor ran away as a bullet zinged past his head.

Sheriff Claude Bloomberg said the killer was Mike Kordash, 70. Despondent and nervous since the death of his wife two weeks ago, Kordash had stayed with various neighbors at night.

Claude Inman, 68, and Charles Hermis, 55, were slain in a woodlot about eight miles southeast of Macon.

Sheriff Bloomberg told this story:

Kordash stayed Saturday night at the Denver Orbin home and left there at 5:30 a.m. Sunday, refusing breakfast.

He went to Inman's home and asked for help in finding a cow he said was lost in the woods.

Inman and his brother-in-law, Forrest Vansickle, 70, went to the area with Kordash. There Kordash pulled out a .32-caliber revolver, aimed at Vansickle and pulled the trigger.

The weapon didn't fire. The two men started running while Kordash fumbled with the gun.

"He shot at me first—I heard the bullet whiz past my ear," Vansickle said. "Then there was another shot and I heard Inman scream. There were three more shots."

Kordash went to the Hermis farm and asked for help in finding the cow. Hermis went with him and was shot near where Inman lay dead.

Kordash then shot himself in the head.

Town Faces Gas Threat After Wreck

McRAE, Ga. (AP)—Frightened townspeople waited today for authorities to decide what to do about two derailed 55-ton tank cars loaded with deadly liquid chlorine and covered by pulpwood.

The grim pile of potential death lay beside a shattered warehouse one block north of Main street and 40 feet from U.S. 441 in this south-central Georgia town of about 3,500.

Army reserve and air patrol units cordoned off the area. Authorities broadcast messages urging residents to be calm.

A helicopter brought gas masks from Warner Robins Air Force Base. Bulldozers started moving the pulpwood.

"We're ready to evacuate," said Mayor George Callahan, "but there's no wind and we don't know which way to go."

Officials of the Olin-Mathison Chemical Co. at McIntosh, Ala., arrived by plane to examine the situation.

A company official said it was possible for the chlorine in the two cars to contaminate an area in a one-mile radius. The chlorine is shipped in liquid form and turns into a gas when released. It is an essential part of many war gases.

Police Chief E. L. Blume said "the people are all scared but we've advised them to keep calm and stay away from the chlorine tanks. We're just holding on and waiting to see what is decided."

The situation developed Sunday night when 16 freight cars and three diesel engines derailed near the center of town. The cars were part of a 66-car Southern Railway train southbound for Brunswick from Macon.

Say Cliburn 'Immature'

LONDON (AP) — British music critics told young American pianist Van Cliburn today he has a fine keyboard technique—but he still is an immature artist.

The Moscow prize winner from Kilgore, Tex., gave his first full London recital at the Thames-side Festival Hall yesterday.

"He showed he has the kind of technique which does win prizes," said the Daily Telegraph's Donald Mitchell. "It is indeed of a most remarkable calibre, a technique capable of yielding a great variety of tone and vivid, sparkling textures in which every note sounds."

Before a capacity audience, the Texan played Chopin, Beethoven, Prokofieff and Mozart.

The Times critic said:

"Only in the opening movement of Prokofieff's taxing Sixth Sonata did Van Cliburn really show us what a fine pianist he has it in him to become."

Former Chief Of Secret Service Dies

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — James Joseph Maloney, 63, former chief of the Secret Service, died at a veterans hospital Sunday after a stroke.

Maloney began his law enforcement career as a police patrolman at Binghamton, N.Y. Later he was a New York state trooper. He entered the U.S. Treasury Department's Secret Service in 1931.

When he retired in 1950 he was coordinator of all the Treasury Department's agencies — Secret Service, Intelligence, Customs, Narcotics and Alcohol Tax units.

Ride In Race Car Is Too Exciting

HAMILTON, Mo. (AP)—Gwenith Stetina, 25, had just been given a ride in a midget race car around a dirt track Sunday.

Getting out, she remarked: "My, it was exciting. It takes your breath away."

She climbed onto the tailgate of a truck to rest, apparently fainted, and fell to the ground.

She was pronounced dead at a doctor's office.

Twins Graduate 70 Miles Apart

AMHERST, Mass. (AP) — Widowed Sarah Plante of Fall River saw her twin sons graduate from colleges 70 miles apart Sunday because President Jean Paul Mather of the University of Massachusetts is understanding.

He held a one-man commencement for Dale Plante, landscape architecture major, at 10:30 a.m. Sunday, 5½ hours ahead of schedule. That permitted Mrs. Plante to hurry to Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., to see the other twin, Dana, receive his degree at 6 p.m.

Nuclear Talks Set To Resume Today

By TOM OCHILTREE

GENEVA (AP) — The three-power nuclear negotiations resume today amid prospects that a final decision on suspending the testing of atomic and hydrogen weapon tests will be taken at a summit meeting.

Sir David Ormsby-Gore, British representative for the talks with the United States and the Soviet Union, said he considered it likely that Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, President Eisenhower and Premier Nikita Khrushchev would deal with final aspects of a test ban treaty if they meet this summer.

There were still two big qualifications, however.

The Western powers want the Big Four foreign ministers' conference on Germany to make some progress, particularly with regard to the Berlin crisis, before committing themselves to a summit session.

Also the negotiators in the atom talks must make more headway before the nuclear problem is in shape for a final decision at the top level.

The talks began last Oct. 31, but so far have failed to produce a complete treaty draft. They recessed a month ago, ostensibly because two major international conferences were one too many for the facilities of the U.N. Palace of Nations.

The French are participating in the foreign ministers' talks on Germany but are taking no part in the nuclear negotiations.

During an earlier stage of the Big Four talks, British Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd, U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko met privately to discuss nuclear problems without including French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville.

But if the French explode their own atomic bomb between now and a summit meeting, they undoubtedly will have to be brought quickly into the nuclear negotiations.

Arriving from London, Ormsby-Gore told reporters this is "the last lap—we hope."

Ormsby-Gore assumed any treaty the negotiators might draft probably would still have holes that would have to be filled in by Eisenhower, Macmillan and Khrushchev.

"Certain points might have to be dealt with at the summit," he said.

Graham May Go To Russia

LONDON (AP) — American evangelist Billy Graham said today he may fly to the Soviet Union Thursday for a few days to meet religious leaders. But he told a news conference he has no plans to conduct a crusade there.

One of Graham's friends said the evangelist had been invited to visit the Soviet Union by leaders of the Baptist Church there.

Graham said he believed "the Soviet people are basically religious. We must distinguish between the Communist government and the Soviet people, for the Russians are very wonderful people and we must have love for them."

He announced he is planning big crusades next year in several African countries, including Liberia, Ghana, Nigeria, Kenya, Ethiopa, the Rhodesias and Belgian Congo.

Actress Takes Too Many Sleeping Pills

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Police had to break down the locked door at actress Lynn Baggett's home after she took an overdose of sleeping tablets Sunday.

The 36-year-old ex-wife of producer Sol Spiegel had dialed a telephone operator and called for help. Police found her in bed at her home in Beverly Hills.

She was taken to a hospital where attendants said her condition was serious.

Swift River Claims Girl

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — When 10-year-old Joyce Watkins fell into the churning waters of South Boulder Creek Sunday, her father rushed to a nearby road and commandeered a car.

Earl Watkins and the motorist raced downstream.

A mile down they stopped and Watkins waded into the chill waters frantically looking. He rushed back to the car, and again they took up the chase.

Stopping three miles downstream, Watkins again rushed into the stream. There in waist-deep water he caught at an object that surged by. It was his daughter. She was dead.

The family had been on a picnic. The father is a Denver truck driver. The motorist who helped him was not identified.

Mr. And Mrs. Lee Maberry, Newlyweds, Will Live Here

STAMFORD, Texas (Special) — Myron Loyce Olson and Lee Gillis Maberry exchanged wedding vows in a double-ring ceremony last Saturday evening in the Bethel Lutheran Church of Ericksdahl.

Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Olson of Stamford are parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Maberry of Hamlin.

The couple were united in marriage by Rev. Hugo B. Haterius, pastor. Nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Hugo B. Haterius, organist and, Birger Haterius, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white lace and satin. The fitted bodice was designed with long tapered sleeves and a scalloped neckline embroidered with pearls. The full satin skirt was fashioned with front and back panels of lace which extended into the chapel length train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a headdress heavily embroidered with pearls and rhinestones. She carried gardenias and stephanotis on a white satin covered Psalm Book printed in the Swedish language.

Miss Vyron Olson, of Abilene, was maid of honor for her twin sister. Mrs. Harvey Kendrick of Earth, cousin of the bride was bridesmaid. They wore street length dresses of white embossed taffeta with pink sashes and pink shoes. Miss Olson wore a tiara of pearls attached to a veil of nylon net. Mrs. Kendrick wore a pink embroidered tiara. They carried cascade arrangements of pink glamelias.

Jill Maberry was flower girl. Gerald Olson was ringbearer. Sonny Olson and Dwain Rogers were candlelighters and ushers.

The reception was held in the church parlor. Members of the house party included Mrs. Wayne Wash, Mrs. Harry Burnett, both cousins of the bride, and Miss Frances Olson, aunt of the bride.

The bride is a graduate of Stamford High School. She attended North Texas State College, Denton. He is employed b Santa Fe Railroad in Snyder. The couple will reside in Snyder.

The rehearsal was hosted by the bridegroom's parents in the dining room of Son's City Pig in Stamford.

A host of friends and nephews also attended.

There were 59 persons present.

Installation Set By Dunn OES

DUNN — Installation of new officers will be held this week by the Dunn Chapter No. 358, Order of the Eastern Star.

The regular meeting of the chapter will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Wash-day Tip

Hot weather brings an increase in the items to be starched. It is a good idea to accumulate the clothes to be starched so you'll have a good-sized load for the clothes dryer. If the load is too small, much of the starch will be tossed out of the clothes. Starch will transfer if you add laundry that has not be starched to the same load. Remember to preheat your dryer before putting starched clothes in it. This will lessen the amount of starch that adheres to the dryer drum.

Eastern Star To Install Officers

Installation of officers of the Order of Eastern Star will be held in Masonic Hall at 8 o'clock Thursday night.

Frances Billingsley will be installed as Worthy Matron of the organization, and J. P. Billingsley will be installed Worthy Patron.

[illegible] Claxton of Abilene will be the installing officer.

New Officers Installed By Eastern Star Of Hermleigh

Mrs. Modelle May and Joe May were installed as worthy matron and worthy patron of Hermleigh chapter No. 974, Order of Eastern Star, last Thursday night in the Hermleigh Masonic Hall.

The hall was decorated with blue carnations and white yucca flowers in gold covered baskets.

Mrs. May's theme, "Whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them," was written in letters of gold and attached to blue taffeta curtain with white ruffled edge. The gold, blue and white were her chosen colors.

Installing officer was Mrs. Worth Hatten, Snyder, deputy grand matron of district 2, section seven. Other installing officers were Opal Simmons, Hylton Marshal, the Rev. R. L. Stuckey, Hermleigh, chaplain; Ileta Hall, Snyder, secretary, and Edric Reich, Sweetwater, organist.

Mrs. May presented Jerry Vernon, soloist who sang "Others," and Romona May, who played "The Blue Danube," as a piano solo.

Other officers installed were Thaba McMillan, associate matron; Dave Ammons, associate patron; Maurine Wall, secretary; Mattie Mae Ammons, treasurer; Patsy James, conductress; Georgia Davidson, associate conductress; Rachel Lassiter, chaplain; Ota Groves, marshal; Adala Drennen, Adah; Roxie Soules, Ruth; Mary Layman, Ester; Allie Ammons, Martha; Mary Nell Mayo, Electra; Ittlean Shelburne, warder, and A. K. Bayless, sentinel.

A reception followed the program.

Nothing else but a dyed-in-the-wool sports car like the Corvette can take a turn with the solid assurance of this sweet-handling Chevrolet. Drive it—and feel the extra smoothness and stability born of Chevy's better balance and supple full coil springs.

It's easy to see where Chevrolet gets its road sense. With big coil springs at every wheel, a firm, wider stance and all of its pounds distributed with painstaking care, Chevy's born with it.

The only thing that may be hard to understand is how it can offer the ride it does, along with so many other luxury-car virtues, and still compete in the low-price field.

We use the word compete only in the sense of price. For with a ride as special as Chevy's, real competitors are hard to come by.

There's a world of difference between Chevrolet's coil springs at all four wheels and the leaf springs that most other cars still use. Take a Chevy down a snaky back road and you'll feel the difference in the sure way it holds through curves and shoots over rough spots with hardly a ripple. Science In Red China

—THE CORPUS CHRISTI CALLER

It is often disputed whether history ever really repeats itself. But the probability is high that a nation repeating a past mistake will encounter a similar set of hurtful or dangerous consequences.

Congress, unless the Senate corrects the House's shortsightedness, is about to repeat in the case of Red China the U. S. mistake of underestimating Russian scientific progress. The minor economy involved seems negligible when measured against the risk.

For years before the Sputnik surprise, untranslated Soviet scientific journals gathered dust in the Library of Congress and other files. Had they been studied, virtually every Russian technological achievement could have been anticipated well in advance.

Subsequently, the National Science Foundation, the clearinghouse for international scientific information, has stepped up translation of the Russian journals. It has asked Congress for funds to expand that program, and also to begin systematic translation of the more significant of the some 200 Communist Chinese scientific periodicals now being published. A House appropriation cut would prevent any increase in Russian translations and postpone the Chinese project.

Dr. Burton W. Adkinson, who heads the NSF Office of Scientific Information, warns that "in a few years Communist China may suddenly appear on the scene as one of the powers in the scientific and technical world," much to our unnecessary and perhaps fatal surprise. The Peiping government is reported to be training thousands of scientists, engineers and technicians, and since 1952 it has doubled its research institutes to 68, Dr. Adkinson reports.

It is obviously foolhardy to spend multiplied billions on free-world security and leave such a gaping hole in our military-scientific intelligence. To make the same mistake twice would be inexcusable.

Panel To Probe Retired Generals

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — What could be nicer for a retiring general or admiral than to get a job—paying up to $40,000 a year or more—with a company which sells some kind of military equipment to the government?

But the question Congress is going to ask now is: What does he do to earn his money?

About July 1 a House Armed Services subcommittee headed by Rep. F. Edward Hebert (D-La) is going to start hearings digging into questions like these:

1. When a retired general or admiral gets a fat job from a company selling to the armed forces, is it strictly because of his executive ability and professional experience?

2. Or is he really hired as a lobbyist or influence-peddler to use his old friendships and contacts in the Pentagon for the benefit of the company which hired him?

There is a third, underlying question: Is a high ranking officer, still in the service, influenced in the selecting of equipment from a particular company by the prospect of going to work for that company when he retires?

Hebert says the picture is not all white and black—that many retired officers now with military equipment companies do a good, legitimate job because of their knowledge and background.

However he says he thinks more business in Washington is done on the golf links and over the cocktail tables than is ever transacted in the Pentagon.

But any legislation Congress considers to correct abuses—and Hebert expects to have remedial measures for Congress when it returns in 1960—runs squarely into a problem of individual rights.

Many officers retire in the prime of life and, like nonmilitary people, have a right to make income in addition to their pensions—particularly in fields where their knowledge and experience should pay off best.

Pending results of the Hebert investigation the House rejected last week a ban on such employment for five years after retirement. But there is a long history of congressional agitation about military brass going into private industry which does business with the government.

When Sen. Gerald Nye, a North Dakota Republican, conducted his historic investigation into munitions-making back in the 1930s, it was brought out that retired military brass had big jobs in that industry.

There is a difference between the Nye inquiry and the one to be made by Hebert.

The former had its roots in American pacificism and neutralism—this country was isolationist then—and the munitions makers were accused of getting fat by fomenting conflicts around the world.

There is no dispute now about American needs for heavy armament. The American economy is so tightly linked with defense production that a sudden decision to reduce armaments drastically might throw the country into depression.

The Hebert investigation will examine not only the roles of retired officers in firms dealing with the government. It also will want to know how the military equipment makers go about competing with one another to sell their products to the government. Meaning, how they try to influence decisions in their own favor.

Kremlin Checks Commies In Iraq

Editor's note — William L. Ryan, AP news analyst, is making another tour of the Middle East. Because all dispatches sent from Baghdad are censored, Ryan waited until he reached Beirut to report on Iraq.

By WILLIA ML. RYAN

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—There is a strong suspicion in Baghdad that the Kremlin, in a calculated gamble, checked the Iraqi Communists' bid to grab power.

Some such move apparently aroused disagreement and resentment in the ranks of less disciplined party members. It looks as if there has been a serious split. But there seems little question that Moscow has prevailed.

Moscow seems to want to hold Iraq's Communists back so they can handle the country like a chesspiece in the game for global power. Thus it may be months, even years, before the Communists try anything akin to a total takeover.

Actually Moscow is toying with a powderkeg. None can say how long the fuse is, but the Middle East seems expecting a new explosion which will echo throughout Iraq and the world.

The Communists are enormously strong in the key Arab country. Their press has become the bellwether for all newspapers. In the city streets, Red Communist banners are eclipsing the traditional green standards of Islam.

They have supporters, if not members, high in the government.

To the casual onlooker Iraq, a key to the Persian Gulf, seems a pushover for the Communists, so far gone as to be beyond rescue.

But the Communists seem unable or unwilling to press their huge advantage to the utmost. Indeed they seem to be quarreling over the methods and pace to be employed in the attempt gradually to turn the country into a Middle East version of a people's democracy.

Moscow apparently is insisting on an internationalist approach. This clashes with the impatience of some local Communists who emerged from jails and underground hideouts in July, eager to strike for power.

Iraq should be an alluring prospect for Moscow: a foothold in the Arab East, authority in an oil producing state, access to the Persian Gulf. If Moscow is willing, Iraq might be a Communist state in a matter of weeks.

But Iraq is not Hungary. It has no border with a Communist power. While Turkey and Iran stay with the West, there is little immediate prospect of a land bridge for direct control of Soviet troops. Isolated Iraq might prove difficult to hold.

An explosive overturn would be a Communist black eye won at the price of economic political penetration elsewhere.

From Moscow, Baghdad's Communist leaders heard a stern warning against opportunism. In Red jargon that means attempting a decisive step without advance assurance of success.

Moscow seems to want a patient program along tested lines such as made Hungary, Bulgaria and Romania people's democracies with the help of Soviet troops over a period of years.

Iraqi Communists would continue to support the premier and current hero, Maj. Gen. Abdul Karim Kassem.

The party would participate with others in a national union front, dominate it and prepare carefully for the time when it is able to take power in its own name.

Moscow has a bigger goal than Iraq in mind — a long run stab at a large slice of the Middle East.

Westerners keep telling themselves that Iraq is a highly volatile and unstable land where things change suddenly. Yesterday's hero can be tomorrow's monster, as President Abdel Gamal Nasser of the United Arab Republic learned.

Many Iraqis still look to the West for help and support. If the Communists are not able to strike, the contest would seem far from over.

President Keeps Reporters Moving

By ED CREAGH

WASHINGTON (AP)—Had a letter from a journalism student the other day. He'd seen my name over a story about President Eisenhower, and wondered how a man goes about covering the White House. I wish I could tell him. I've been trying to find out since 1947.

All you really need is the strength of a lion, an encyclopedia in your brain, an endless capacity for boredom, and a family that is used to getting along without you.

It helps if you have a talent for missing meals, battling small-town cops, passing up cocktail parties, hopping off moving trains, and — when necessary — clawing press secretaries.

Marvin L. Arrowsmith, who regularly covers the White House for The Associated Press, comes as close as anybody I know to meeting all these requirements. The rest of us occasionally fall by the wayside.

I'll never live down that time I missed a presidential press plane in Chicago.

One part of the White House beat consists in growing bunions on your spine from sitting around the lobby. Now and then you buttonhole callers from such exciting groups as the Save the Chipmunks Federation. Or you get a thriller-diller of a report on corn pone production since 1903.

You never relax. There's always a big story coming, and often when you least expect it. Then you sprint for your telephone, politely bashing in some other reporter's ribs with your elbow.

That's the time when you wish you had paid more attention in school to history, economics, political science and jiu-jitsu.

Eventually, sooner than later, you go "on the road" with a president. They all travel.

You go by plane or train or credit card car, or slump through the mud in your formerly shiny new shoes.

One day you live like a prince. A President goes to some suage resort and you can't lift your hand without finding a daiquiri or a Hollywood starlet in it.

Wilhelm Pitches Orioles To Within One Game Of AL Lead

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

Casey Stengel might as well announce it today. Hoyt Wilhelm will be the starting pitcher for the American League in the All-Star game at Pittsburgh, July 7.

If old Case has any other ideas he had better forget them. Wilhelm has everybody on his side except the poor catcher who will have to dive for those darting knucklers.

Just to be on the safe side, the players and managers had better vote Gus Triandos to the team as the first-string catcher. He lets one get away now and then but he says, "I can take it if Wilhelm can."

Wilhelm and Triandos teamed up on Kansas City Sunday to boost Baltimore into second place. The surprising Orioles are only one game behind the league-leading Chicago White Sox.

While Hoyt's knuckler was fluttering past the A's for a 3-0 seven-hit shutout, Triandos' 13th home run with Al Pilarcik on base was providing the insurance. It was Wilhelm's ninth straight victory without a defeat.

After the game, the statisticians went into a huddle and reported Wilhelm's earned run average, figured all the way down to a third of an inning, was a startling 0.999. Every now and then somebody gets as far as third base against the man who was let out by the New York (now San Francisco) Giants, St. Louis Cardinals and Cleveland Indians.

Chicago's lead was shaved while they split two with Boston. After the White Sox staged one of their rare big innings — six runs in the second — in winning the opener 9-4, Boston grabbed the second 4-2 although Frank Sullivan needed help from Leo Kiely and Mike Fornieles in the ninth after eight shutout innings.

The largest American League crowd of the season, 59,823, gathered at Cleveland where the Indians divided a pair with the New York Yankees. Herb Score beat Don Larsen in the first game 7-5 but the Yankees hopped on Cal McLish for four runs in the second inning of the nightcap to get an even break 4-3.

Eddie Yost hammered two home runs against his former Washington mates in Detroit's 6-4 victory that pulled the Tigers up to the .500 mark. Charlie Maxwell also homered for the Tigers and Jim Lemon and Roy Sievers for the Senators.

Cubs Climb To 3rd In National Race

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

Ask National League managers about the best lefty-righty relief combination in the league and they'll point to Chicago's Bill Henry and Don Elston.

Henry and Elston did it again Sunday when they chipped in to help John Buzhardt and Elmer Singleton rack up victories that boosted the Cubs into the rare atmosphere of third place.

Henry, the lefty, saved Buzhardt in the eighth inning of a 4-2 first game victory over Pittsburgh. It was Henry again in the second game when Singleton walked two men in the eighth inning. The southpaw retired Bill Virdon on a fly ball and Elston marched in to mop up the rest of the way to complete a 1-0 three-hit shutout.

Milwaukee's Braves snapped out of their slump, scoring eight runs in the seventh inning to rout their most persistent tormentor, Don Drysdale, with an 8-2 victory over Los Angeles. Bill Bruton had two of his four singles in the big inning but the key hurt was a pinch three-run double by Andy Pafko.

San Francisco whipped Cincinnati 5-3 behind Jack Sanford in the first game, only to slip back in the race by losing the second 7-1 to Orlando Pena's four-hitter.

They had a wild Sunday in quiet Philadelphia. First the Phillies battered St. Louis pitching for 16 hits and an 11-9 decision in the first game. Then a fist fight erupted between Don Cardwell, pitcher, and Gino Cimoli, Card outfielder, while Vinegar Bend Mizell was shutting out the Phils 2-0 with five hits in the second game.

Newhouser Gives Views On Scouting

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

Associated Press Sports Writer

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — The big business of baseball scouting is typified by Hal Newhouse, former Detroit Tigers pitching great.

Hal has driven more than 1,000 miles in the last several days as a supervisor scout of the Baltimore Orioles, looking over high school talent in state tournaments in Akron, Nashville, Lexington, Ky., and the Illinois meet at Bradley University.

"I think the best time to watch a boy is in pre-game practices," said Newhouser, who combs a 10-state Midwest area. "During a game you might never get a chance to see an outfielder throw, or maybe not even do much running. You can get a pretty good line on them in pre-game drills.

"The two most important things in my book when I watch a youngster is his running and throwing ability. If he hasn't got much in these departments, then he has to be awfully powerful at the plate to get consideration.

"As for a pitcher, I rate his poise No. 1. If he has no awkwardness out on the mound and if he keeps his head under pressure, I'll keep looking. The next thing he has to show me is speed, and if he has any stuff on his fast ball.

"The curve is the last thing I consider. You can teach a boy to throw a curve or a slider, but you can't teach him speed."

Buffs Tie For Lead In GPL

The Walter Hales Buffs pulled into a tie for first place in the Graduate Pony League Saturday night with a 4-2 victory over the Snyder Savings and Loan Braves.

In the Pony League, the Courthouse Tigers moved to within one-half game of the lead with 9-7 victory over the Von Roeder Red Sox. Both of Saturday's games were makeups. The Tiger-Red Sox game was a continuation of their tie game which was called after four innings because of rain.

Freddie Miller won his second decision in as many starts in pitching the Buffs to victory Saturday. Miller gave up five hits. He had a 2-hit shutout working for five innings before the Braves broke the spell with two runs in the sixth.

Bubba Fleming blanked the Buffs for three innings but the Lumbermen picked up a run in the fourth, two in the fifth and another in the sixth for a 4-0 lead.

Tommy Minton led the Buffs with two hits in three trips including a triple. Minton tripled to lead off the Buff fourth and the scored the first run of the game on a single by Tom Romero.

Franklin Moore got two of the five hits off Miller to lead the Braves at the plate.

The Tigers and Red Sox, picking up with the score tied at 6-6 in the fifth, continued in a deadlock until the sixth when the Tigers erupted for three runs. The Red Sox got one of the runs back in their portion of the sixth but pitcher Ronnie Bennett struckout the side in the seventh to preserve the Tiger lead.

Gerald Bullard with three hits and Ed Foree and William Robinson with two each accounted for seven of the nine Tiger hits.

Adam Romero collected three hits for the Red Sox and Mike Murphy two.

The Buffs and Cats are now tied for the lead in the Graduate Pony race with 2-1 records. The Yankees are 2-2 and Braves 1-2.

In the Pony League, the Dodgers lead with 3-0, followed by the Tigers with 3-1, Phillies with 1-3 and the Red Sox with 0-3.

Cubs Stay Unbeaten In National LL

The Lions Club Cubs made it four straight in the National Little League race Saturday night with a come-from-behind 5-2 victory over the Quarterback Giants in a make-up game.

The Von Roeder Indians pulled into a two-way tie for the American Little League lead with a 5-1 triumph over the West Texas Bank Athletics in the other half of Saturday's twinbill. The Indians and White Sox share the lead now with 4-2 records.

Jerry Vestal pitched the Cubs to victory over the Giants with a 4-hitter.

The Giants took a 2-0 lead in the first inning but the Cubs rallied in the late innings with one in the fourth and four more in the fifth for the victory.

Drew Bullard led the Cubs at the plate with two-for-three while Z. B. Rinehart of the losers also collected two-for-three.

In the American League contest, the Indians broke a 1-1 tie in the third inning with a three-run rally and then held on for the victory over the Athletics.

Blake Roberts picked up the victory for the Indians with Bobby Kay absorbing the loss.

Jackie Rice, Ritchie Smedley and Ramon Valdez got two hits apiece to lead the Indians offensively.

The Athletics collected only two hits with Rudy Benitez singling in the first and Jerry Tatum rapping a one-baser in the second.

The National League standings to date shows the Cubs leading with a 4-0 record, followed by the Cardinals with 3-2, Giants with 2-4 and Braves with 1-4.

The Indians share the American lead with 4-2 marks followed by the Athletics with 3-3 and the Yankees with 1-5.

Phillips 66 Regains 1st In Keg Loop

Phillips 66 Station regained first place in the Men's Summer League as a result of last week's play. Everett's Studio, previous leader, took a nosedive to fourth place, however, remaining within 3 Peterson points of the leader.

State Farm Mutual climbed from fourth place to second, only a .3 points behind. McAlister Transfer dropped to third as they lost to Phillips 66.

John Pickering reaped all the individual honors in last week's play. Pickering had first and second high games with 230 and 212. He also had high individual series with a grand total of 621. J. L. Bunch bowled the second high series as he toppled 577.

As a result of his outstanding bowling Pickering raised his average enough to become the third highest bowler in the league. The leader in the department is still J. L. Bunch, who has a 189 average. He is followed by Jimmie Guy, who lowered his average to 186 during last week's bowling. Pickering with 182, Lowell Guy with 182, and im Tatum with 178 round out the top five bowlers in the league.

Following is the complete standings including last week's play:

TEAM	PONTS
Phillips 66	292.5
State Farm Mutual	292.2
McAlister Transfer	290.5
Everett's Studio	288.9
Welex, nc	274.0

SHRUGS OFF BAD START

Ted Not Thinking Of Quitting, Yet

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP)—Ted Williams, Boston's splendid splinter, isn't hitting his weight, but bury those rumors that he might quit baseball before the season is over.

"Sure, I might have decided to call it quits now if I had had a bad season last year," said Williams Sunday before a doubleheader against the Chicago White Sox.

"But I got off to a bad start last year and won the batting championship, so why should I call it quits?"

Williams, always confident, expects to shake his present slump and eventually get up above the .300 mark.

"I think I came back too soon after that trouble with my neck," said Williams. "There were about 40 at bats that I shouldn't have had."

So far, he hasn't been able to untrack himself. He is batting a feeble .185.

"So what," is Williams answer to his bad start. "On May 20th last year I was batting .224. By the time the All-Star game came around I was batting only .280. But I finished up okay."

That he did. Williams ended the season with a .328 average to capture his sixth American League batting championship.

Williams never has batted less than .317 since breaking into the big leagues in 1939.

"The way reporters come after me in every town you'd think I was batting .436," he said, laughing.

"Say, do you think Hank Aaron (Milwaukee) can hit .400? I do," said Williams. "He's got a good start and that's what counts."

Once again the conversation returned to the possibility of retirement.

"There are a lot of factors to consider," said Williams. "Heck, it's no secret that I want to hit 500 home runs." The man who batted .406 in 1941 has a career total of 483 rome runs, including one this year.

White Sox, Yanks Set Farm League Pace

The White Sox and Yankees share the lead in the American Little League Farm League through the first week of play, each with 2-0 records.

The White Sox made it two straight Saturday night with a 10-9 decision over the Athletics.

Earlier in the week the Sox had won over the Indians, 12-6.

The Yankees hold wins over the Athletics, 24-8, and the Indians, 14-2.

Pace led the White Sox to victory Saturday with four-for-four. F. McDowell and McKinney paced the Athletic attack with three hits apiece.

Central Tire Offers Free Safety Check

Summer is the time when the weaknesses in a worn or damaged tire show up the most.

That is also the time when the average motorist uses his car the most, placing himself and his family in danger if he is driving at highway speeds on tires which need attention.

There is a simple solution to such a problem, and it may not even cost the car owner anything. He can get a free safety check on his tires at Central Tire Service, 1931 Twenty-fifth Street, where experts in the field can point out to him whether his tires need attention or whether he may possibly need to change tires.

Sometimes all the tires on a car need is switching, with no replacements, and the switching of tires on the wheels of a car can mean big savings in longer wear of tires.

Sometimes a motorist does not yet need to stand the expense of buying tires but only needs wheel balancing or alignment to prevent unnecessary wear. The service department of Central Tire Service can easily show him the needs of the tire.

If the car does need tires, Central Tire Service is the best place the motorist can go.

For example, right now at Central Tire Service has a special double savings sale on Gates Super Silent-Safety nylon cord tires. Nylon tires are being sold at rayon price. With $7 to $9 discount for the customer's old retreadable tire. Budget terms are available.

The Gates Super Silent-Safety tire, with the Gates revolutionary HC manufacturing process, has far higher capacity to resist damage from road impacts than conventionally built nylon tires.

Always available at Central is the well-known value in recapping to give new-tire mileage at half the cost of new tires. The guaranteed recapped tires from Central are widely known in many counties in the Snyder area serviced by the firm.

The tire rebuilding process at Central is just like the new tire process in the factory from the carcass to the finished tire. In the factory, a builder, building the tire up layer by layer, lays the strip of tread rubber on the new tire just as the operator at Central Tire Service lays the new tread rubber on the tire carcass which has been cleaned, roughened and coated with vulcanizing cement.

The next process is also the same for the new tire in the factory and the one being rebuilt at Central. It is placed into the mold for vulcanizing. There the vulcanizing is completed and the mold adds the tread design. Just as is done in the factory Central Tire then makes a thorough inspection of both the inside and outside of the tire to make sure there are no flaws.

Large truck fleets have proved the value of such recapping service as is offered at Central Tire, as have hundreds of motorists here.

Since the hot weather season is here and many residents will be using their cars for vacations and other road trips Stanley Noah, owner of Central Tire Service, asked motorists to either check their tires for these signs or have them checked at Central.

Impact break — This may appear as a small blemish on the tread but may mean the cords inside are broken. This is caused by running over a rock or sharp object.

Sidewall bruise — Caused by hitting a curb or pinching, this will allow the tube to work its way out, form a bubble and blow out, if it is a tube tire.

Cupping — The indentations in the tire sometimes are caused by sudden stops at high speed, bad shock absorbers or brake grab. The cord may break from the outside, or the cupping can cause rapid uneven wear on the tire.

Uneven wear — If a tire is badly worn on one side, it is dangerous, easier to bruise by impact and highly susceptible to blowout. This is caused by misalignment of the wheel assembly or front end.

Tread cut — This appears as a small crack on the tread and can be easily missed if the inspection is not close. Tire movement and heat can make the cut grow.

Thin thread — With excessive wear, the tire body has less protection and is easily punctured, cut or damaged by impacts, as well as having less stop power in emergencies.

Under-inflation wear — This is caused by not having enough air in the tires, sometimes when motorists underinflate them to make riding "more comfortable." It increases tread wear on the outside edges of the tread.

BALANCING of wheels may mean big savings and better safety, as could a number of other things in connection with tires and other safety features on a car, according to specialists at Central Tire Service. Here, Harold Crouch, Central Tire employe, is doing a balancing job. If a motorist has tire needs, Central Tire urges him to take advantage of its special new tire sale or its regular offer of tire recapping to give new tire lift at half the cost of new tires. Weed-Out Of Misfits Cuts Stockade Roll

FT. SAM HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) —A military doctor reports that an Army program to weed out misfits and rehabilitate prisoners has cut admissions to stockades by 76 per cent.

Maj. Edwin T. Cooke, chief of the psychiatry and neurology branch in the Army medical service school at Brooke Medical Center here, explains the decline in the current issue of the Armd Forces Medical Journal.

Cooke writes that the program was "evolved simultaneously in several areas of the United States through the cooperation of psychiatrists and military police."

He says the approach to the soldier who gets into trouble is to find the cause, and then point out that the stockade is for rehabilitation, not punishment.

It first is determined whether the men are potential military material or unfit for Army service, the doctor writes. In this latter group are persons who are sub-standard by Army regulations and those who have had three more court - martial convictions during a current enlistment.

The undesirable are eliminated by boards.

Cooke continues: Those who will make good soldiers are assigned to useful work. They go to it unguarded by the side of men not in the stockade and sleep in barracks with unlocked doors. The number of guards has been reduced to about 25 per cent of the previous number and escapes are no greater.

Propaganda Fight Urged

LONDON (AP)—Western leaders at the Atlantic Congress today urged NATO to set up a division of counterpropaganda to fight back against Soviet political warfare.

They urged too, that the West sponsor a new international organization to be called the Free World Assn. Open to all nations, its aims would be to make clearer "the ideological aggression of totalitarian communism" and the true value of liberty.

These proposals were among recommendations set before the Congress, an unofficial NATO Parliament. They came from subcommittees which have been debating for three days on the course NATO should take in the next 10 years.

The Congress has brought 650 of the NATO nations' more distinguished persons into a six-day thinking session. It closes Wednesday with a declaration of recommendations to member governments.

Hundred Attend Open House At New Beauty College Here

Several hundred persons visited the formal open house of Jessie's Beauty College, 2207 Avenue S, yesterday afternoon.

The new college was opened one week ago with classes having started last Tuesday morning for both a group of beginning students and a group of advanced students who have transferred here from other beauty colleges.

Visitors yesterday were conducted through all parts of the school including the 50-student classroom where theory of beauty culture is taught by Mrs. Thelma Clark, the students lounge, the dispensery where all supplies are stored, the junior and senior departments where the students gain actual experience in beauty work of all types, and the facial and tinting rooms of the school.

The school is completely equipped not only to offer a complete and thorough course of instruction but to offer beauty care to persons of this area as well.

The senior students in the school give all types of beauty care under the strict supervision of the three instructors, Mrs. Hampton, Mrs. Clark and Modina Wilson.

The instructors and students invite all women to use the college for their beauty care, and to take advantage of the savings offered by the college.

Mrs. Hampton is also owner and operator of the Modern Beauty Salon located just west of Avenue S on Fortieth Street.

Students may register in the school at any time, and instruction can begin at any time, Mrs. Hampton said.

OPEN HOUSE AT JESSIE'S BEAUTY COLLEGE—A formal open house at Jessie's Beauty College, 2207 Avenue S, was held from 1 to 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Two of the visitors are pictured above with Mrs Jessie Hampton, right, owner and operator of the college. They are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Warden, owners of Jack's Beauty College, Wichita Falls. Mrs. Hampton was graduated from the Warden's beauty college in Sherman. (Lee Watson photograph)

Junior Editors Quiz on CATS

QUESTION: Why were cats important in ancient Egypt?

* * *

ANSWER: Many thousands of years ago during the great days of the Egyptian Empire, cats were deeply revered, even worshipped.

They were family pets, just as they are today. And they performed a great service in protecting the huge grain warehouses from rats. But in time they became a symbol of fertility and identified with a goddess named Pasht (or Bast or Bastet.) In this way they were considered sacred. It was a crime to kill a cat or smuggle one out of the empire. When the family cat died, it's owners shaved off their eyebrows in mourning. She was wrapped in linen and mummified, just as a person was. If she belonged to a rich family, she might have her own tomb, with her picture painted on the walls.

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: Here is an Egyptian boy who has a green stone statue of a sacred cat on the wall. He is just about to give his own pet cat a saucer of milk. Cut out this picture, mount it on cardboard and color it.

* * *

Two Girls In 50-Foot Fall

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Two girls on a church assembly outing fell 50 feet over a waterfall near here Saturday. One was killed and the other injured seriously.

The girls, members of a party of 10 from the Ridgecrest Baptist Assembly, hiked to the Upper Catawba Falls in McDowell County.

Members of the party said one girl apparently slipped, and when the other attempted to grab her, both went over.

Barbara Butler, Saluda, S.C., a high school student, died about four hours after she was brought out of the western North Carolina country by jeep.

Her companion, Margaret Sue Morrow, 20, of Inman, S.C., suffered from a broken jaw, a broken leg and exposure.

Racial Issue Cancels Out Camp Plans

LEESBURG, Fla. (AP) —There will be no summer camps at Weekiwachee for some 100 Presbyterian boys because of threats of violence if Negroes were included, a church leader has announced.

The Rev. Terrell K. Kirk, pastor of the Leesburg Presbyterian church and camp director, said the threats came from persons in Hernando County, where the camps are located.

One camp was to operate for white children with the other open to "qualified boys 11 to 4 from any of our churches," said Kirk.

"No individuals were specifically threatened," Kirk said, "but members received word of the threats through residents of the Brooksville area in Hernando County, on the Gulf of Mexico north of Tampa.

The presbytery is St. Johns, one of five in Florida. It includes churches of the Sebring, Sanford, Deland, Daytona each and Orlando areas.

One Orlando member is the Washington Shores church, a Negro church.

"We felt that it was only right and proper that young people from all of our churches should be allowed to attend the youth camp," said Kirk.

A decision to cancel the camps came June 2 at a meeting of the presbytery in Daytona Beach.

A letter announcing the cancellations said the presbytery is taking steps "to provide for unhindered conduct of our camp program next year."

Williams Gets 5-Star Rank

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—To the distinction of being the last survivor of the Confederate army, 116-year-old Walter Williams has added still another.

Now he holds higher rank than any ever achieved by his comrades at arms.

In a weekend ceremony at his bedside, a group calling itself the Confederate High Command presented the old soldier an honorary commission at a five-star general — a rank which didn't exist in Civil War days.

Donald A. Ramsey, a St. Petersburg, Fla., mining engineer, made the presentation as executive commissioner of the semi-military order.

Williams, fortified with a nip of whisky for what his doctor described as a slight chill, dozed during most of the ceremony.

Freedom Island Without Power

NEW YORK (AP) — Freedom's light is burning bright from the Statue of Liberty on Liberty Island. But it sure is dark on the rest of the island.

Power has been cut to most of the tiny, 12-acre island in New York harbor since early Saturday when a submarine cable from New Jersey was cut.

There are 12 residents on the island. They take care of the statue for the National Park Service.

"All the homeowners are using candles," said Mrs. Noel Foster, wife of the island's superintendent.

A spokesman for the Public Service Electric & Gas Co., struck by its maintenance men since May 14, said sabotage may have been responsible.

Refugee Colony Gains Population

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Florida's Cuban refugee colony is larger today by five ex-soldiers and a sailor.

They told immigration authorities they chipped in $700 to buy the 16-foot motor boat in which they cruised from Havana to Key West.

Miguel Victoreto y Garcia, 29, said he fled from Fidel Castro's navy because of political trouble and hid out 15 days before embarking.

The others said they were in the Cuban army of ex-President Fulgencia Batista. All asked political asylum.

Noted Spy Due Freedom Soon

LONDON (AP)—In a few more weeks the gates of prison will probably swing open for the man they call the deadliest spy in history.

Klaus Fuchs will be free after serving nine years for betraying Western atomic secrets to the Soviet Union — secrets that probably enabled the Soviets to produce an atomic bomb five years sooner than they could have otherwise.

Home Secretary Richard A Butler probably will tell the House of Commons this week what happens next to the German-born scientist.

As a docile, model convict Fuchs 47 is believed to have earned the maximum remission of one-third of the 14-year sentence passed on him at London's Old Bailey in March 1950.

This would make him due for release early next month.

He could be deported. Although Fuchs acquired British citizenship in 1942 he lost it after being sentenced.

But demands have been raised in press and Parliament that Fuchs should be prevented from going to live in the Communist East for fear he may pass over more secrets or use his scientific learning to the Reds' advantage.

For seven years Fuchs worked with British nuclear scientists. Part of that time he was on the British team that worked with American nuclear scientists during World War II.

American and British scientists generally agree that the knowledge he acquired during that time would probably be of little use to the Soviets after all these years.

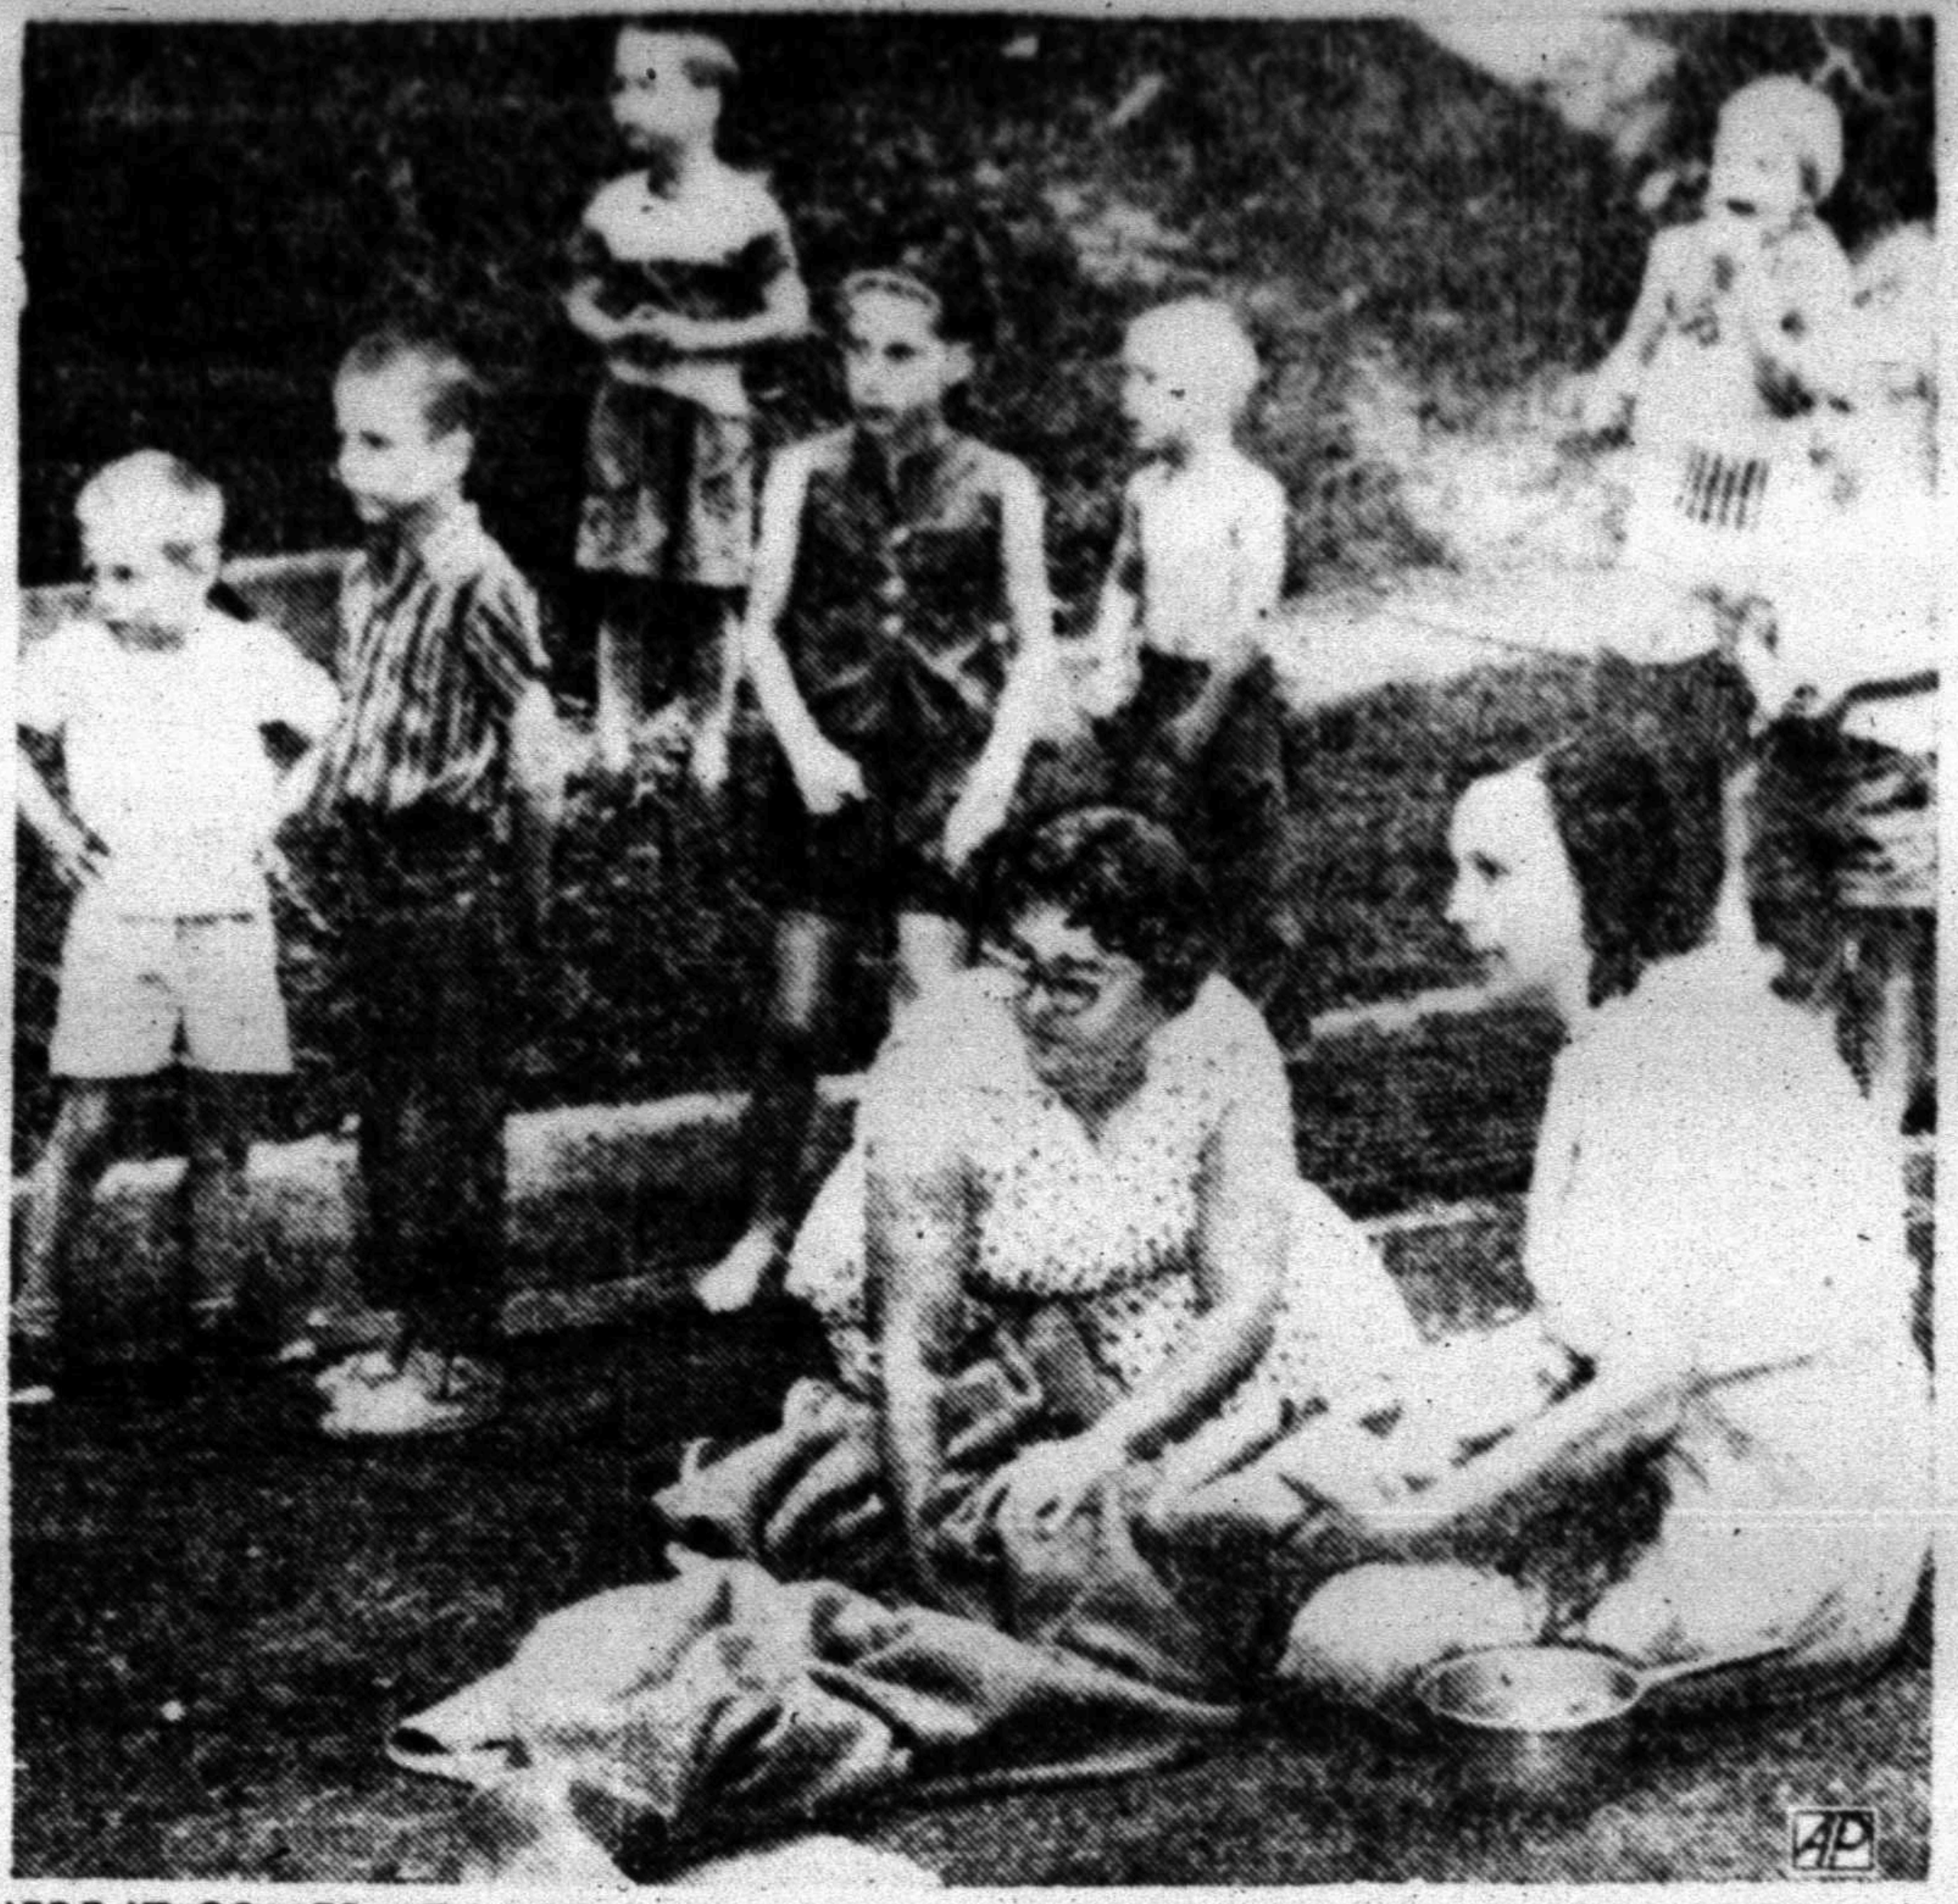
But fears have been expressed that his brilliant brain still could be put to service in Communist laboratories. It also has been argued that Fuchs' presence behind the Iron Curtain could prove a powerful propaganda fillip for the Soviet bloc.

Reports seeping out of Wakefield Jail in northern England say Fuchs has expressed a desire to live in East Germany with his father, Prof. Emil Fuchs, 85, of Leipzig University.

If he really wants to go, there is some doubt that British authorities could prevent him.

Other reports say Fuchs has shed his Communist convictions and wants to work again for British science. But it is certain the British would never again trust him with even the smallest secrets.

In Leipzig, Prof. Fuchs declined to comment on his son's plans. The father was honored last month with the East German Order of the Fatherland on his 85th birthday.



HERE IT COMES AT LAST—Eyes of playmates and the mother strain toward the ambulance summoned for Ellen Surber, 4, injured when she ran into the side of a car in front of her home in Nashville, Tenn. Her mother, Mrs. Bill Surber, nestles the girl in her lap while an unidentified neighbor assists. The child, who suffered a head injury in the mishap, is reported in good condition. (AP Wirephoto)

Beatniks Have License Trouble

By BARRY SCHWEID

NEW YORK (AP) — The embattled Beatniks of Greenwich Village want to co-exist, like, but the fuzz doesn't dig them and is trying to down them.

This means the bearded young men who read their poetry in Greenwich Village coffee houses are having their troubles with the police.

The difficulty boils down to this: Is it art or is it entertainment when a Beatnik reads his poetry aloud in a coffee house?

To the police department, it is a simple matter of law. It is illegal to provide entertainment without a cabaret license. The issuance of such licenses is a police department function.

So the department is continuing houses in which regular poetry readings are held without cabaret licenses.

The proprietors of several coffee houses where poetry readings are pulling in tourist and native trade are protesting.

The Beatniks, natch, are backing them up.

"Dig this," says Dick Woods, a coffee-house poet from Shreveport, La.

"These summonses are strictly a bum rap. People come to the Village expecting something like these poetry readings. They come to enjoy them. Without them, the Village would be as dead as any other part of town."

William Morris, a poet and painter who has had exhibitions and readings at Yale University, minces no words.

"Until now," he says, "Poetry hasn't been considered a crime. This is absolutely ridiculous."

Deaf Child Unable To Understand Shooting

SALEM, Ind. (AP) — A 4-year-old deaf boy who shot his three young playmates still "doesn't understand what he did," his father said Sunday.

The youngster, Troy Hoggatt, found a pistol, loaded it and shot the neighbor children Saturday night.

Two of the victims were in critical condition in a hospital here and the third was listed as in fair condition.

Randy Hinton, 5, his brother, Ricky, 6, and Dawn Short, 10, were hit. Randy and the Short girl were wounded critically.

Curtis Hammond, 12, told police the boy was holding the pistol in both hands and he thought it was a cap pistol.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H.* At your druggist. Money back guarantee.

Father Of Quads Has Two Families

EAST ORANGE, N.J. (AP) — Ciro Bravata's quadruplets and their mother are doing fine in East Orange General Hospital.

But the proud papa admits "I've got troubles" — another family in New York City.

Bravata became the father of a girl and three boys Saturday. Sunday he admitted he was married to another woman and had two children by her.

"Oh, he's a fine one," moaned Bravata's wife, Grace, 38, as she lay in bed under sedation after hearing of the quads.

But Bravata, 39, a railroad freight conductor, said the quads' mother, Louise Strohlein Bravata, knew all along he was married.

"Louise couldn't be happier," Bravata said.

As for Grace: "I have no desire to talk to her. I never did. She's been giving me a hard time since the first day I married her."

Bravata said his lawyer, Herman Caponi of New York, "has got the case."

Caponi said Bravata and the mother of the quads had never been married, that legal action the wife Grace had started never had been put on a court calendar and never "brought to termination."

The only thing legal about the separation, Caponi said, "is that it's mutual."

However, Caponi said that under a court order, Bravata was required to pay $40 weekly in support of Grace and their two children, a girl and boy, now 13 and 12 years old.

Grace, at her home in Hollis, Queens, New York City, said her husband's support payments had been an on-again-off-again thing and that he owes her $900.

"I suppose he's proud of himself with his picture in the paper, grinning with that other woman," she said.

Several years ago Grace underwent a delicate heart operation. "My relatives lent him money to pay most of the hospital bills," she said, "then he goes and buys a new car."

Bravata, who makes $115 a week as freight conductor of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and Louise have been living here for more than two years in a five-room apartment.

Bravata spent two hours at the hospital Sunday visiting Louise and the quads. Then he had two aspirins and went to bed.

He will be 40 years old on Father's day.

Californians End Hike Of 2,300 Miles

By JACK RUTLEDGE

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Two Californians boasted they could walk 2,300 miles to Mexico City. Twelve pairs of shoes later they made it.

Bill Tynan and Bill Bates, both from Los Angeles and 28, quit good jobs for adventure. They don't regret it.

But both Bills say: "We're through walking for a while. We'd even accept a ride on a bicycle."

The 7-month trip started from Los Angeles Oct. 18, 1958. Unshaven, they soon looked like Fidel Castro's Cuban rebels.

"In fact, we were mistaken for Cubans several times," said Tynan, who resigned from Walt Disney Studios for the jaunt.

"And once in Sinalca de Leyva, in the state of Sinaloa, we were arrested as Russian spies."

Bates, who worked for Douglas Aircraft, said they had been warned that Yaqui Indians might cause trouble in remote areas.

"People told us they would cut our throats. Instead, they ran every time they saw us coming."

The walkers carried no weapons of any kind.

"We were often stopped and searched. Indians would come up, sort of surround us, make a thorough search, and as soon as they found we were unarmed, they became friendly."

Actually, Indians helped make the trip possible. The two started from Los Angeles with $400 between them, hoping to live on $1 a day.

They soon ran short but Indians in the Sierra Madre area fed them free for almost a month.

Another money-saving device: jails.

"We know more about Mexican jails than most people," said Tynan. "We slept in them in almost every town we visited — free."

The two Californians spent weekends of five months practicing hiking in the sandy Mojave Desert prior to taking off for Mexico.

"It was a good thing, too," said Bates, "this walking is tough."

Find Couple Dead In Bed

St. LOUIS (AP) — An elderly man and his wife were found dead in bed in their second floor apartment Sunday. They left behind a message of despair.

The way in which Joseph M. Palmisano, 65, and his wife Sabina, 63, died was a mystery. No marks of violence were found. Several bottles of medicine found near them were being analyzed.

A note written by Mrs. Palmisano indicated they had not been able to afford moving into a home for the aged.

"This is a coward's way out but better this way than to be a burden," it read in part.

"We tried to get in a home, $4,800 a year. When we heard the cost we knew there was no other out.

"What are people like Joe and I to do?

"Why don't you think of the sick and aged? I do not have a single relation and no one cares what becomes of us. Please, for God's sake, try and help the sick and aged."

She mentioned the family doctor, her husband's brother, Thomas Palmisano, 58, and a man identified only as John E. Smith as the only ones who had treated them kindly.

"I pray God will forgive us for taking this way out," the note ended.
