Assembly Of France Near Crucial Vote

By PRESTON GROVER

Paris (AP) — Pierre Mendes-France's hours as French premier appeared numbered today as the National Assembly headed for a post-midnight vote of confidence on his North Africa policy.

Mendes - France demanded the vote—on which defeat would topple his seven-month-old government—after two days of bitter debate highlighted by a rift in his own Radical Socialist party.

The defection among his nominal followers made the prospect of his ouster so great that some of his own ministers privately voiced hopelessness.

The vote will be on Mendes-France's whole North African policy, including Tunisian home rule, an increased share in government for Algeria's Moslem majority and certain "reforms" for Morocco.

But the critical issue was home rule for the Tunisian nationalists, a specter which alarms the important French landowners and businessmen living in the protectorate.

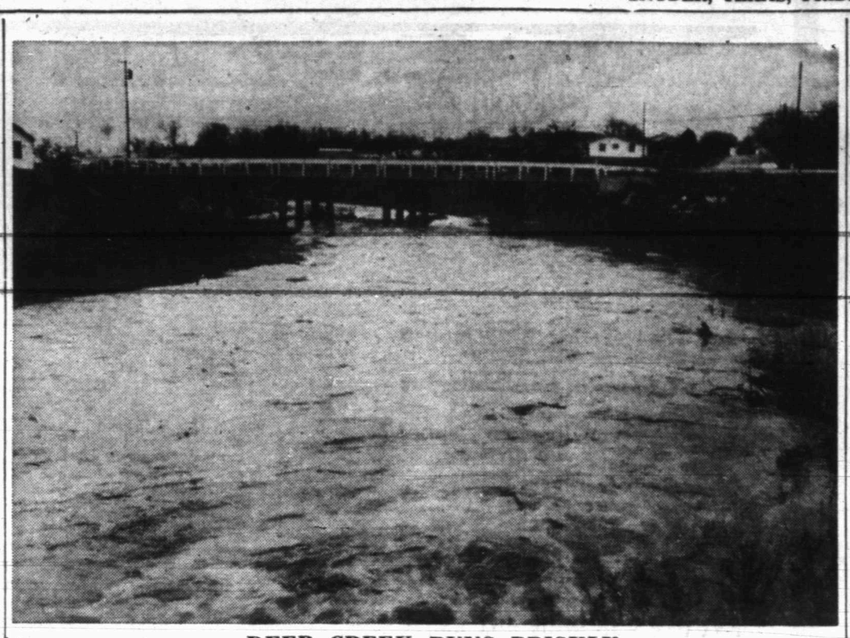

The probability of France's 20th postwar government crisis raised the question of what might happen to the Paris accords to rearm West Germany as a member of the North Atlantic Alliance.

These treaties, approved by the Assembly, are still under consideration in the Senate. However, Assembly observers believed there were other possible premiers who could successfully pilot the pacts through the remaining parliamentary stages.

Mendes-France bluntly told the Assembly last night he planned to continue the African policy he launched when he visited Tunis last July. To quiet terrorism stemming from nationalist discontent, he promised "local autonomy" to the protectorate's 3½ million people. So far he has been unable to conclude an agreement with the nationalists, though. The only alternate, he said was police repression to put down violence and unrest.

His remarks failed to rally much evidence of support.

Many deputies felt Mendes-France's doom was sealed yesterday when former Premier Rene Mayer, a Radical Socialist, broke with him on his North African policy in a speech that split the party wide open .

DEEP CREEK RUNS BRISKLY

Although Snyder received only a small amount of rain last night, Deep Creek was running about half bank full this morning from heavier rains north and northwest of here. Three inches of rainfall was reported from parts of north Scurry County. Fluvanna received one inch of rain, and the Fullerville loading rack reported 2.4 inches of rainfall. The picture above shows Deep Creek south of the Twenty-sixth Street bridge looking toward the Twenty-seventh Street bridge. (Lee Watson photograph)

Request To Evacuate Considered By Chiang

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist China's President Chiang Kai-shek was reported today to be considering a U.S. request that he evacuate his troops from the Red-threatened Tachen Islands, 200 miles north of Formosa.

The request is believed to have been transmitted to Chiang by U.S. ambassador Karl L. Rankin in a 75-minute conference Wednesday. The U.S. reportedly took the stand that the mighty U.S. 7th Fleet, which is to help in the evacuation, could not be held in a state of readiness indefinitely.

There was no confirmation here of rumors that Chiang would reply to the U.S. request today. Increasing talk was heard at middle Nationalists levels of fighting for the Tachens instead of abandoning them. No Red attack appears immient at the moment.

Red China's rejection of a U.N. invitation to join in cease-fire talks signaled trouble ahead.

Chiang's warplanes ranged the East China Sea round the tense area last night, bombing and shooting up Chinese Communist shipping and the newly won Red base of Yikiangshan Island.

Official reports said the bombers destroyed two vessels near Nantien Island, 30 miles north of the Tachens, scored hits on two more about 11 miles northeast of the Tachens and bombed nearby Yikiangshan with excellent results.

Another small U. S. built transport landed today at the north coast port of Keelung with refugees from devasted Lower Tachen. Aboard were 111 sick and wounded Nationalist soldiers, 67 prisoners from Tachen jails and 6 civilians.

Powerful U. S. 7th Fleet units cruised off Formosa today and AP Correspondent Forrest Edwards reported from a carrier that Navy jet fighters and propeller-driven attack bombers filled the skies as brilliant sunshine replaced three days of foul weather.

The fleet was primed for orders to evacuate the 30,000 troops and civilians from the two Tachen Islands.

But the orders appeared stalled in a dispute between Chiang and the United States over the fate of two other Nationalist outposts, Quemoy and Matsu.

The United States balked at giving clear-cut guarantees to defend the two outposts just off the China mainland. Chiang apparently wanted such public guarantees as an inducement to abandon the exposed Tachens.

Clouding international efforts to lure Red China into cease-fire talks was Premier Chou En-lai's bristling rejection of the U. N. invitation to discuss New Zealand's proposal for a hoid-fire in Formosa Strait.

Chou said he would join such talks in the U. N. Security Council only if Nationalist China were kicked out and the parties took up only Russia's demand that the United States withdraw all its forces from the China area.

A Chnese Nationalist spokesman commented thus on Chou's rejection:

"The Western world invited this insult. We had seen this development all along and are not surprised. This is typical behavior of the bandits. . . . The Reds again are trying to force their way into the Security Council with a loaded gun."

Matusow Says False Documents Furnished By McCarthy Office

NEW YORK (AP)—Former Communist Harvey Matusow says he used "false documents and materials" from the office of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) as campaign material against several western Democratic senators in 1952.

McCarthy was unavailable for comment.

Matusow, who swore last Monday he gave false testimony that helped convict 13 Communist leaders of conspiracy, made the statement at a news conference yesterday.

At the same time he denied the Communist party had "planted" him as a witness to give fake testimony so cases of Congressional investigating committees would be discredited.

Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa), chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, said in Washington yesterday "there's no question" Matusow was a Communist "plant."

Matusow, 28, said he campaigned in 1952 against candidates in Montana, Idaho, Utah and Washington, but the only one he mentioned by name at his news conference was Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont).

Duval Hearing May Be Ended By Compromise

SAN DIEGO, Tex. (AP)—A hearing on an injunction restraining Duval County officials from cashing checks without the counter signature of a county auditor may end in a compromise.

Duval County has had no auditor since spring.

Judge Cullen Briggs of Corpus Christi, sitting temporarily in 79th District Court, said yesterday he would rule today.

Briggs suggested that an interim auditor be appointed until the status of Donato Serna is settled. Serna's case seeking a court order requiring the commissioners court to accept his official bond and let him be auditor was argued before the 4th Court of Civil Appeals in San Antonio, Jan. 26.

Appeal Is Planned In Lattimore Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government announced today it will appeal the decision by Federal Judge Luther W. Youngdahl dismissing a new perjury indictment against Owen Lattimore.

The decision to take the issue to the U.S. Court of Appeals was announced by U.S. Dist. Atty. Leo A. Rover.

Lattimore, controversial Far Eastern affairs specialist, was accused in the indictment of lying when he denied to a Senate committee that he had ever been a follower of the Communist line or a promoter of Red interests.

Judge Youngdahl in a decision Jan. 18 described the charges as "formless and obscure." He said that to require Lattimore to stand trial on them would "make a sham" of the Sixth Amendment which requires that a defendant be advised specifically of charges against him.

Rover made the announcement of the intention to appeal before Chief Judge Bolitha J. Laws of U.S. District Court.

Lattimore had been scheduled to go on trial Feb. 14 but Rover suggested that in view of the appeal the trial be continued to some indefinite date or set far enough ahead to allow the Court of Appeals to rule.

Judge Laws continued the trial to an indefinite date, and told Rover and Thurman Arnold, one of Lattimore's attorneys, to consult with him after the Court of Appeals decision.

Rover said he felt the "feasible way" was to try the entire Lattimore case at one time.

Arnold said that was his view, too.

Five perjury charges from a 1952 indictment remain in force against Lattimore.

These five counts accuse the 54-year-old writer and lecturer of lying about some details of his connections over the years.

The five charges survived a long legal battle which followed a decision by Judge Youngdahl in May, 1953, in which he threw out four of seven charges in the original indictment.

The Court of Appeals reinstated two of the dismissed charges but upheld Youngdahl's dismissal of the key count of the indictment which alleged Lattimore perjured himself when he told the Senate Internal Security subcommittee that he had never been a Communist sympathizer or promoter of Red interests.

The new indictment which Youngdahl dismissed in January replaced the key count of the original indictment.

After the new indictment was returned in October, Rover tried to get the case out of Youngdahl's hands.

The district attorney filed an affidavit accusing Youngdahl, former Republican governor of Minnesota, of having "a fixed personal bias and prejudice" in favor of Lattimore and against the government.

Rover demanded that Youngdahl step aside and allow another judge to handle the Lattimore case. Youngdahl struck Rover's affidavit as "scandalous" and refused to disqualify himself.

Woman Wrestler's Story Under Study

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Police studied the statement today of a dark-haired woman wrestler who has given a motive and another bizarre touch to the bomb - trap death of Helen Harris Weaver.

Mrs. Weaver, 51, socially prominent ranchwoman, was blasted to death Jan. 19 in San Angelo, Tex., by a bomb planted in her husband's automobile.

The pretty woman wrestler, who performs under the name of "Nature Girl" and works some as a barmaid in Dallas, said Harry L. Washburn offered her $10,000 to murder Mrs. Weaver's husband. His murder, she said, was to be a part of a $100,000 extortion plot against the woman.

But "Nature Girl," otherwise Mrs. Adela Heninger, said in her signed statement last night that she told Washburn, now charged with murder in the case, that she wanted no part of the deal.

Mrs. Heninger is the estranged wife of Carl Heninger, Houston carpenter, who was charged with murder last week in the Weaver slaying. He was released this week and the charge dropped.

The olive - complexioned woman wrestler, whom police said had "ridden all night to get here" from Dallas, quoted Washburn as saying:

"Weaver is a hard touch. Mrs. Weaver is an easy touch. If I can get rid of Weaver, his wife would pay off to keep her family from harm." She added that Washburn intended to get an initial payment of $20,000 and eventually a total of $100,000.

Washburn's plan, she said, was for her to contact Weaver in San Angelo and get into a discussion with him about his gun collection.

She was to get Weaver into a target practice session at his Coke County ranch and then to shoot him, making it appear accidental, the signed statement said.

Meanwhile, police said they found few holes in the story told by ex-convict Andrew H. Nelson, 45. Nelson told them Wednesday that a friend of his planned and carried out the murder.

Nelson said the friend planned to kill Weaver but admitted killing the wrong person when Mrs. Weaver entered her husband's car.

Wire like that which could have been used in rigging the bomb trap and a scrub oak showing signs of a blast were pointed out yesterday by Nelson, who said the site was used by his friend in a rehearsal of the murder at San Angelo.

Nelson said his friend had an intense hatred for Harry E. Weaver, husband of the murdered woman, and added: "I know he wasn't in Houston that night."

Washburn, maintaining his innocence in the Tom Green County Jail at San Angelo, says he was in Houston when the blast occured.

At Columbus, Tex., Police Chief E. Y. Ginn said yesterday he arrested Nelson's friend 73 miles west of Houston—on the route to San Angelo—and that the man gave his correct name and paid a $5 fine for running a red light.

Nelson's statements have been attacked by Percy Foreman, Washburn's attorney, who said last night the ex-convict was a "poor source."

Already a two-time loser, Nelson is held under a burglary charge in a $7,400 grocery break-in here last Sunday.

Three Children Burn To Death

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — Three children, huddled together apparently to escape the flames, burned to death in their two-room home today.

They were Daniel Soles Jr., 4; Gloria Martinez, 3; and Nellie Martinez, 2, all children of Mrs. Nellie Rogers.

The mother was at a home on the front of the property when the fire started.

She and a neighbor, John Johnson, tried to save the children but were unable to enter the house because of the flames.

Fire Marshal Ben Van Pelt Jr. said the fire apparently started from a kerosene lantern.

Mrs. Rogers' husband was in jail serving out minor fines.

A fourth child, 6, was in school.

$50,000 Libel Suit Is Filed By George Parr

ALICE (AP)—George Parr, Duval County political figure, has filed a $50,000 libel suit at San Diego, his home town.

Defendants are Santos de la Paz of Corpus Christi and Diego Heras, former Benavides independent school district tax assessor and collector.

De la Paz publishes the Spanish language newspaper, La Verdad.

The petition, filed Wednesday by Everett Looney and Thomas James, Austin attorneys, alleged that the defendants published in La Verdad a defamation tending to injure Parr's reputation.

North Scurry Area Gets Rain Measuring Up To 2.5

State's Planting Prospects Bright

Thunderstorms which left Snyder only .18 of an inch of rain yesterday afternoon and last night dumped up to 2.5 inches in the north end of the county. Deep Creek was running a wide stream this morning as the rain drained away.

The heaviest rain was apparently concentrated in an area north of Snyder. Bill Riley, who lives about 17 miles north of town on the Clairemont road, had 2.5 inches. At the Humble Oil camp north of the Kent-Scurry line a guage showed 2.4 inches. The Fullerville loading rack, about 17 miles northwest on the Lubbock highway, also had 2.4 inches. The Paso-Tex camp about nine miles north on the Clairemont road had 1.65 inches.

At Fluvanna, the fall was gauged at an inch, with reports of heavier rain south of town. An area three to four miles west of Fluvanna had 1.3 inches.

Gail reported very light showers yesterday afternoon, with an estimated .04 of an inch last night. Rain at the pump station at Lake J. B. Thomas measured .4 of an inch. In Ira, the Coffield & Guthrie office estimated the rain at .1.

A minimum temperature of 40 degrees was recorded overnight here, David Strayhorn, acting weather observer, said. By 7:30 this morning the temperature was up to 41 degrees. A high of 69 degrees was recorded yesterday afternoon.

Snyder's official rainfall total for the year now stands at .64 of an inch, more than twice the amount which had fallen at the end of January and February last year. It is .1 less than the 44-year January-February average of .74 of an inch.

By The Associated Press

A winter storm spun through Texas Friday, unloading the state's best rain this year. Widespread downpours set dusty creeks gurgling and lakes rising. Spring growing and planting prospects brightened.

But freezing cold behind the storm turned to ice in the Panhandle and South Plains. The treacherous glaze was blamed for three traffic deaths. The Highway Patrol warned against travel on some highways.

The rains were general over Texas but appeared heaviest in North Texas and in the drought-cracked country around San Angelo.

The cold moisture sprang from a low pressure, or storm, center that flailed Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska and Kansas with wind-driven snow. At mid-morning the low was centered over North Texas and drifting northeast.

Unstable air curving around it set off the rains, ranging up to almost 2 inches.

The wintry weather was due to get colder as the murky day turned into night. Freezing rain was forecast Friday night in West and North Central Texas. The low expected was 15-25 degrees in the Panhandle and South Plains.

Lightning knocked out electrical service to four communities around San Angelo. Ice played havoc with phone lines in the Panhandle. Roads around Borger were still iced up, and the Highway Patrol advised against unnecessary travel.

Up to 1½ inches of rain fell in San Angelo and heavy rains fell on watersheds of the city's two lakes.

The North Concho River was up slightly at Carlsbad, 20 miles northwest of San Angelo—the first time in months the river has run. Rains of more than an inch fell along the watershed. It flows into North Concho Lake. Ranchmen reported draws all along the North Concho River were rising. The watershed extends to near Big Spring.

San Angelo's other reservoir, Lake Nasworthy, was fed by rains of up to an inch along the watershed of the South Concho River. Spring Creek and Dove Creek were on the rise at Mertzon and Knickerbocker, respectively.

Big Lake, also on Spring Creek, received up to 1½ inches. The Skiles area, also in the South Concho watershed, received 2 inches.

Norton, in Runnels County northeast of San Angelo, had a 2-inch rain and an electrical storm. The storm disputed the power lines. Officials were trying to decide whether to dismiss school because of the lack of heat.

Other communities in the area without electricity because of storms were Norton, Knickerbocker, Mereta and Pecan Station. The West Texas Utilities Co. was trying to restore service.

The bulk of the San Angelo area rain fell after 1 a.m.

Rains up to 1.78 inches fell in the Lake Dallas watershed.

The Panhandle got little moisture. Observers generally termed it mostly an inconvenience as ice glazed highways.

By noon, the overcast was beginning to break up in the West but some snow was expected Friday night in the eastern Panhandle, where drizzle continued most of Friday.

Highways were termed treacherous in the northern and eastern Panhandle Friday.

The highway department reported that U.S. 66 was slick as far west as Albuquerque.

Some typical overnight rainfall figures for the Panhandle included Pampa and Perryton .10 inch, Dalhart .03, Amarillo .05.

House Starts Land Probes

AUSTIN (AP)—The House of Representatives started its own investigation of the veterans land program today.

The first work session of the House Investigating Committee was called for 2:30 p.m.

The committee mailed letters yesterday asking for help from all legislators and county and district attorneys in the state.

Chairman Joe Burkett Jr., of Kerrville said the committee will respect requests for secrecy from prosecuting attorneys, if publication of data might be detrimental to prosecution.

The committee letters said in part, "It is the purpose of this committee to determine the true facts concerning the administration of the veterans land affairs."

Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton, on the Senate's investigating team, said he would like some "public" assistance for the Senate probe. He asked for letters from anyone with information. The Senate committee has been at work since December.

The Senate group will resume its inquiry Monday with Phillips questioning of Atty. Gen. Shepperd.

Diver Finds Ancient City

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—A Chicago diver searching the bottom of Lake Titicaca for fabled treasures of the ancient Incas says he has discovered the ruins of a submerged city, built centures ago.

William Mardorf, 29, said yesterday he had found no gold thus far. But his report on the ruins, and stone implements he brought to the surface have excited Bolivian archeologists.

The Island of the Sun in Lake Titicaca has long been believed to have cradled the Inca civilization that ruled northwestern South America when the Spaniards first reached the land. The now-submerged city, however, could have been built by the Aymaras, whose culture preceded even the Incas.

Lake Titicaca—on the border between Bolivia and Peru—is the world's highest known lake. Although only about 15 degrees from the Equator, its waters are frigid because it is over 12,000 feet high in the Andes.

Mardof, who said he learned diving with the U.S. Marine Corps, reported the ruins were located 95 feet deep, near the mouth of the Escoma River. Some archeologists guess that the site originally may have been an island which disappeared beneath the surface in an earthquake.

Funeral Pending For Mrs. M. T. Popejoy

Survivors in addition to the husband include a daughter, Mrs. H. C. Brook, and two sons, Fred Popejoy and Bill Popejoy.

Patterson Ponders Future Of Court

By ED HARTE
Daily News Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — Extending the life of two West Texas district courts is is occuping Reps. Louis Anderson of Midland and Robert Patterson of Snyder.

Anderson's bill making permanent the special district court set up in Midland County is in the Attorney General's office being drafted. The court, which was severed from the old 70th District Court in Ector County, expires in 1956. Anderson says the Midland bar can show sufficient case load to justify the court.

Patterson says he hasn't decided whether to ask for an extension of the 132nd District Court in a single-shot bill or wait for the general judicial redistricting bill.

It was generally understood last summer during Patterson's campaign against former Rep. Frank Sentell that if elected Patterson would work to extend the district court serving Scurry and Borden Counties.

Patterson said Judge Sterling Williams of Snyder is now checking the possibility of adding Garza County to the district and making it permanent.

Whichever way it turns out, Patterson is strategically situated to get the kind of legislation he wants. He is a member of the 7-member judicial redistricting subcommittee of the House Judiciary Committee. His subcommittee will get first crack at all redistricting bills.

West Texas House members joined the legislative exodus to Houston Thursday noon. The Houston Fat Stock Show always entertains legislators for one evening, taking them down on special trains and bringing them back to Austin a few hours later.

Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Stroman of San Angelo and their daughter, Miss Eileen Stroman of Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Moyne Kelly of Afton; Truett Latimer of Abilene; A. J. Bishop of Winters; Mr. and Mrs. Cotton Kirklin of Odessa and their 7-year-old son Donald Frank; and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brashear of Cisco; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Patterson of Snyder.

Organization Procedure For Boys Club Is Discussed Here

About 50 local residents met with the city council of the Parent-Teacher Association last night and heard Thomas Craighead of Dallas, regional director for Boys Clubs of America, discuss organization of boys clubs.

Mrs. Amon Weaver, president of the council, told the group that the P-TA had discussed the need for more recreational facilities for boys here, pointing out that there are now 2,200 boys in Scurry County between the ages of six and 18 and that as many facilities as possible are needed to reach all the boys and provide recreation for them in their spare time.

The P-TA council had appointed a special committee, headed by Dr. Thomas Hartley, to study the need for a boys club here and to learn methods used in organizing one. This committee has as members Pat Falls, Herman Trigg, Mrs. Bill Atwood, Dr. Carl Dillaha, Bill Ballard, W. W. Park, Bob Crowell, and Mrs. Weaver.

Craighead, during his discussion on boys clubs, suggested that organization of one should start with at least 50 persons, who would elect a board of directors. At the end of the meeting, Hartley said an organizational meeting may be called in the near future.

The director told the group that the U.S. birth rate has been very high since 1947 and that in 1960 the country will have 42 per cent more children than it had in 1950.

Some persons, Craighead said, will ask why all the concern with boys, at least more than with girls. Figures of the Federal Bureau of Investigation show that nationally about eight boys to every one girl present problems, indicating the need for more attention. Another figure quoted by Craighead was that 50.3 per cent of all automobile thefts are by boys under 18 years old, one-half of them not even old enough to get drivers licenses.

Craighead told the group that the BCA will aid local groups in organization and will continue with advice and aid until a club gets started. Many boys clubs, he said, start on a small scale and expand later, while some raise enough money to start a large project. They usually start with facilities for indoor athletics, handicraft, a library, meeting room, and game room. Each, he said, should have at least one full-time director responsible to the board.

A boys club, Craighead said, does not conflict with activities of other organizations. There are 14 such boys clubs in Texas, he said. The local board of a boys club conducts the club as it feels is best for the community. To affiliate with Boys Clubs of America, the local club must have administration, be non-secterian and non-political, have meeting place and adequate budget, and have a membership of at least 100 boys. For affiliation, the national club asks a contribution by the local club of one per cent of its annual budget.

The club committee asked that any persons interested in the project contact the P-TA.

Government To Appeal Antitrust Decision

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government announced today it is appealing the decision of the Chicago federal court which dismissed an antitrust action against the E. I. Du Pont de Nemours & Co. and members of the Du Pont family.

Atty. Gen. Brownell said the case will be taken directly to the Supreme Court. Notice of the appeal was given to the Supreme Court this morning.

The action against the Du Ponts and their principal company, along with General Motors Corp. and the United States Rubber Co. was filed in the summer of 1949. It is generally regarded as one of the biggest antitrust actions ever initiated.

The defendant companies have assets totaling more than 5 billion dollars.

Champ Steer Brings $13,500

HOUSTON (AP) — The Anheuser-Busch Co., brewers, paid $13,500 today for the grand champion steer of the Houston Fat Stock Show.

As Lile Lewter, 10, of Big Spring nervously prodded his 1130-pound Hereford in the auction ring, his face broke into a wide grin when the bidders pushed the price over $13,000.

For Lile it was a premium price of $12 per pound, as compared to the "going" market price of 25 cents per pound for prime beef on the hoof.

In one of the fastest auctions in show history, the price jumped from cattleman Joe Wadsworth's opening bid of $10,000 to the sale price within five minutes.

A crowd of 5,000 set up cheers as the bidders, dressed in western regalia, shoved the price up.

The $13,500 paid for Lewter's steer is $1,000 more than Orange rancher Edgar Brown paid for last year's grand champion.

Liquor wholesaler Les Tarrant paid $6,950 for the reserve grand champion steer. It is a Black Angus, owned by Harvey Hartter of Carlock, Ill.

The grand champion will be donated to the Texas Children's Hospital.

Felony Count Is Dismissed

A felony complaint against Carey ("Bird Dog") Byrd, 16, Lamesa, alleging forgery of a $15 check, was dismissed here yesterday.

The complaint was filed several days ago on information Byrd was either 17 or 18 years old, but it was dismissed after the sheriff's department verified through the county clerk's office at Birmingham, Ala., that Byrd was only 16, therefore legally a juvenile. Byrd was born there.

Byrd was quoted by officers as saying he had claimed he was 17 in an attempt to enter military service but would not be 17 until next December.

He was returned here Wednesday night by Bill Love, chief deputy sheriff, from Greenville, where officers arrested Byrd at the request of the department here.

Byrd and a 16-year-old Lamesa girl who has been held in the county jail here several days were to be returned to Lamesa today by Lamesa officers.

The girl signed a statement here that she cashed the check for Byrd.

No charges were filed in juvenile court here.

Record Price Paid At Show

FORT WORTH (AP)—The grand champion steer of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show sold at auction today for $6,300, a record.

The 940-pound Hereford, owned by K. O. Dixon, 16, of the Honey Creek Ranch of Grove, Okla., was knocked down to Jesse Roach, Fort Worth cafe owner, after four other bids topped the previous sale record of $6,000.

The reserve grand champion, a 900-pound Hereford owned by Dub Sims, 15, Haskell County 4-H Club member, was sold to the Amon G. Carter Foundation for the Lena Pope Home for $3,500.

Mystery Surrounds Death In Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP)—A man died in bed without a sign of violence. It was as simple as that, but the case plaguing police here and in New York is loaded with mystery.

The body was found sprawled across the bed in a room at the Lord Baltimore Hotel. The clues:

The room was registered to a Dr. Edward James Phillips, of New York City. But New York medical directories list no Dr. Edward James Phillips.

A New York acquaintance who had known Phillips for two years said he was a brigadier general in the Army Medical Corps stationed at Ft. Jay in New York harbor. But no such officer is listed or known by officials at either Ft. Jay or the Pentagon in Washington.

A dinner honoring Phillips reportedly was to have been given at the Waldorf-Astoria last night. But the banquet department at the Waldorf said there were no reservations for such a party.

Dr. Russell H. Fisher, state medical examiner, said a preliminary autopsy showed the man's death was due to a "potent-acting group of barbiturates" or a simple overdose of phenobarbital. But police found no indications that the man had been taking phenobarbital—no pills or pill bottles.

And here's the "piece de resistance" for the amateur criminologist: Phillips' wife said in New York he called her from his hotel room at 12:42 a.m. Wednesday—17 minutes after a telegram announcing his death was phoned from a pay station in the lobby.

The telegram was sent to Dr. Erna Gutenstein, a New York Dentist, who told police Phillips was a general. She said she had been invited to the testimonial dinner, but had received a telegram saying:

"It is with sincere regret that I must inform you that dinner will be canceled Wednesday evening due to sudden death of Edward James Phillips from heart attack in Baltimore." The wire was signed "Robert Ritter."

Police found from Western Union records that the telegram had been sent from the pay station at 12:25 a.m. Wednesday. The body was discovered about 5 p.m. Wednesday after Dr. Gutenstein called the hotel to ask details.

Dr. Gutenstein said it was her understanding a retired Army colonel by the name of Robert Ritter was to have been guest speaker at the dinner.

Detective Lt. George Klemmick quoted Mrs. Phillips that her husband called her at 12:42 a.m. to say the dinner might have to be canceled. She said he told her the guest speaker had died.

A woman at the Phillips apartment in New York said Mrs. Phillips was in a state of collapse last night after hearing the news and was unable to talk to anyone. She was scheduled to come here in a few days to identify the body.

SWEDISH APPLE SALAD
. . . looks good, tastes better

Helps For Homemakers

Send your questions to "Helps for Homemakers," Snyder Daily News, or call 3-5486.

Entertain a scrumptious Swedish way. Assemble an array of foods—most of them cold, a few hot—and then let guests walk around your lavish buffet table and help themselves to the Smorgasbord.

Salads, too, belong among the cold dishes. Choose among cole slaw, potato salad, herring salad with apple and beet. You also should have one molded salad. Try this one from a Swedish recipe. It is one of the grandest molded salads you can eat. Made of a base that tastes like old-fashoned boiled dressing, it contains unflavored gelatin, unpeeled red apple, canned pineapple, celery and whipped cream. It looks beautiful in a ring mold, as directed in the recipe, but it may also be put into small fancy molds or custard cups.

SWEDISH APPLE SALAD

1 can (20 ounces) crushed pineapple
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
2 eggs
1¼ teaspoons prepared yellow mustard
1½ teaspoons cider vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup heavy cream (whipped)
¾ cup diced celery
2 red Delicious apples (one diced and the other cut into 8 lengthwise wedges)
Salad greens

Drain pineapple well; measure syrup; add enough water to make 1¼ cups. Pour into top of double boiler. Sprinkle gelatin on syrup to soften. Add eggs, prepared mustard, vinegar and salt. Beat with a rotary beater only until blended. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly until gelatin dissolves and mixture thickens slightly — about five minutes. Remove from heat; chill until slightly thicker than unbeaten egg white. Fold in whipped cream. Fold in celery and diced apple. Stand apple wedges against sides of ring mold (5 to 6 cups size). Carefully spoon gelatin mixture into mold. Chill until firm. Unmold on flat serving plate. Wipe off any gelatin mixture adhering to apple wedges so red peel shows. Fill center of ring with salad greens. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Margaret's Hairdo Is Talk Of Trinidad

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (AP)—Trinidad society buzzed today over Princess Margaret's new evening hairdo—an "Empress Josephine" upsweep that's just the thing to support a tiara.

Margaret wore the coiffure last night at a state banquet Gov. Sir Hubert Rance gave in her honor.

A royal party spokesman said the hairdo was the creation of Rene, noted London hairdresser who is accompanying the princess on her month's good will tour of the British West Indies.

Rene, the spokesman said, wanted to match Margaret's "gay" personality. He raised the back of the hair to "give a touch of sophistication" and to support the diamond tiara she wore.

Margaret planned to see a good deal more of Trinidad today. The schedule included opening a new highway to be named after her and attending a children's rally.

Elaine Perry Finds Show Game Easy

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Woman's Editor

Anybody can get into show business nowadays, says Elaine Perry, a Broadway producer who has amazed old pros by scoring two hits in two years.

Her current drama "Anastasia" has just been sold to the movies for $350,000, a fact which she regards with understandable satisfaction.

"It will help pay off the original investment, and reassure all the investors," she says soberly. "You know, it's a big responsibility for a producer to know that a lot of people have put money into a show. You feel you just have to make it a success.

"It used to be that the big producers put up all the money themselves and would not allow outside investors. But the tax situation and the rising cost of production has changed all that. Today hundreds of people have a piece of practically every show that opens—and they are people who often know nothing about show business, but like the excitement of being in on a show. Anybody can be a Broadway angel these days, if he has an adventurous spirit."

Elaine, one of the few women producers on Broadway, is the daughter of the late Antoinette Perry, one of the theater's most noted women directors, and the sister of Margaret Perry, well known as an actress, author and director. So it never occurred to her to go into any other endeavor except the theater.

She started as an actress as soon as she was graduated from high school, appearing in several Brock Pemberton productions. Her first show under her own banner was "Touchstone," a flop. Her next "The Paradise Question," she decided a solid success, "The King of Hearts." This season "Anastasia," which she describes as "real drama with lots of schmaltz," is considered a top nonmusical hit on Broadway.

Meringue recipes sometimes call for a little lemon juice because the juice not only gives flavor to the meringue when it is used as a pie topping, but it helps the cutting quality. Add the lemon juice to the egg whites just before beating.

Dali Wins Fee For Portrait

NEW YORK (AP)—Socialite Mrs. William Woodward has paid surrealist Salvador Dali $7,000 for a portrait she says she can't stand and won't have in her home.

The attractive Mrs. Woodward sat for Dali for a year, agreeing not to look at the painting until it was completed. Came the finish — in April 1953 — and after one look Mrs. Woodward said take it away.

Dali sued for "the reasonable value of his services."

Yesterday Theodore Miller, Mrs. Woodward's attorney, said Dali got a $7,000 check and agreed to withdraw the suit.

The painting shows a woman resembling Mrs. Woodward standing on a beach in front of a coral cave.

Commented Dali: "She has now paid the agreed price. The painting will be delivered to her. I have no further comment."

Brasselle Is Fully Sold On Himself

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The career of Keefe Brasselle is doing fine these days, thanks largely to Keefe Brasselle.

In this town of phony modesty, it is refreshing to meet a fellow who is completely sold on himself and is not afraid to admit it.

The son of Betty Grable's hairdresser, Marie Brasselle, Keefe has been around show business most of his life. He did a few bits in pictures, then landed a lead in "Not Wanted." An MGM contract followed.

"I got lost at MGM," he said. "Oh, they took good care of me—top pictures and all. But they just had too many other players under contract."

He was washed out when the dam broke in Hollywood. The film depression trimmed contract lists to the bone, and Keefe was a casualty. But the boy didn't lose hope. He sold himself as the actor to portray Eddie Cantor. The biog was something less than a critical triumph. Since it presented the danger of being typed, I asked Keefe if he felt the film had been good for him.

"No doubt about it," he replied. "My career was at the bottom. Anything would have been a boost.

"I can't knock the Cantor picture. Although the critics didn't like it, it was one of the biggest money-makers last year. And I think time will prove that I did the best job possible. They wanted me to play the role of Cantor off stage as well as on, and I did it for them."

There was a lull following "The Eddie Cantor Story," but Keefe didn't loll around the house. He put on his dancing shoes and hit the night club circuit.

Now the Flamingo in Las Vegas has signed him to a lush three-year deal. Columbia Pictures bosses caught his act, liked him, put him into "Bring Your Smile Along," wants him for more. And NBC has him tied up for a TV series.

Sabrejets In Collision

TOKYO (AP)—Two U.S. F86 Sabrejets collided above northern Honshu today, killing one pilot, Far East Air Forces announced. The other pilot landed unharmed. Name of the dead flier was withheld.

Prejudice Is Hit By Council

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Council of Churches says that anyone who condones or practices racial prejudice of any kind "sins against God."

In one of the strongest church denunciations yet of color - line discrimination, the council of 30 Protestant and Orthodox denominations declared yesterday:

"Racial prejudice in any and all forms is contrary to the will and design of God. It is not merely bad, unfortunate, unrighteous—it is sin."

The message, approved by the council's 125 - member General Board and addressed to the 35½ million Christians belonging to its member bodies, said that "all life is one" by God's act of creation.

"As a child of God, a man is a member of one family, the human family," the message said.

"Any and all attitudes, moods, concepts, feelings, customs, practices, laws, personal and collective acts, that arbitrarily separate men are against the human family," it said.

"If they are against the family, they are opposed to the will of the father. If they are against God, then, whatever may be the basis for them—ignorance, fear, prejudice, or aught else—they are sin."

The message was drawn up for use in connection with the churches' 33rd annual observance of Race Relations Sunday Feb. 13. It was adopted last fall, but its text was not released until yesterday. It will be read from pulpits in many of the 147,000 churches embraced by the council.

It urged opening the church's membership, services, organizations and facilities to all men, regardless of race, and conducting of study groups to deepen understanding.

Polio Work Is Cited At Meet Of Rotarians

A program concerning the work of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and the March of Dimes was presented yesterday at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club.

Leah Davis, county health nurse, reported on the crippled children's services here. She said a recent survey showed that the county has 28 cases of crippled children needing aid. None who have made application to various organizations have been turned away, she said.

Herman Trigg, recently-appointed drive chairman for the local March of Dimes, said industrial, advance gifts, and porchlight drives are being planned for the Scurry-Borden County area, as well as other activities in the local drive.

Bob English of Abilene, West Texas representative for the NFIP, reported on intense interest in field trials with use of the Salk vaccine. Results of extensive tests with this vaccine as a possible aid in fighting polio will be known this spring, he said.

English said that $14,000 was collected in drives for the NFIP by the local chapter in Scurry and Borden Counties last year and contributed two-thirds of this to the national office for use in research and aid to badly-stricken areas. This area, however, became one of the badly-stricken areas in that it had several of the more serious cases of polio, and in December the NFIP sent $13,500 back to this chapter.

English showed a film, "They Shall Not Want," released by Helen Hayes to show work done in polio treatment centers.

The Museum of Modern Art in New York City now earns two-thirds of its annual income of almost 1½ million dollars.

Workmen dismantling the old railroad depot in Deadwood, S.D. discovered $1,200 in $20 bills cached in the attic.

During the business meeting, it was also announced that a statewide meeting is to be held February 28 through March 2 in Waco. At least two officers from the Snyder group plan to attend.

New officers who took office at the meeting included Mrs. James A. Walker, presdent; Mrs. C. C. Miller, vice president; Mrs. Ted Zeck, secretary - treasurer; Mrs. Robert Patterson, publicity chairman; Mrs. Stanley Kerbow, World Day of Prayer chairman; Mrs. W. A. Smallwood, May Fellowship Day chairman, and Mrs. Dale Clemmer, World Community Day chairman.

Meeting For Sunday School Workers Set

A conference for Sunday school workers and teachers of the First Methodist Church is scheduled for 7 o'clock Tuesday night at the church.

Other activities at the church next week will include the mission study on "Crowded Ways" Wednesday night, Mrs. B. J. Bartels will be study leader. A sub-district Methodist Youth Fellowship council meeting will be held at the First Methodist Church in Loraine Sunday afternoon, with representatives from Snyder expected to attend.

Revival In Progress

A revival now in progress at the Church of the Nazarene will continue through Sunday, the Rev. Henry C. Thomas, pastor, said. The Rev. Edward Cloud, a student at Bethany-Penial College in Bethany, Okla., is speaker for the revival. Services will be held tonight and tomorrow night at 7:30.

The Liberty Bell! Washington, Lincoln and Lee; all symbols of freedom under Democratic Rule. What a setting for a good round of education; a teacher trained and devout with a class of eager fellow students ready to speak. This is a real school. Why should not every public school and church school room be thus equipped? It is all too common to find both school and church without any symbols that represent their true purpose and high goal. Imagine a church school without a picture or symbol to represent its faith! Imagine a public school without a picture of Moses, or of Socrates, or of Jesus, or of Thomas Mann, or of John Dewey!

Upon the shoulder of him who would teach rests great responsibility. Tomorrow's leaders are today's students. They may be compassionate or they may be cold and hard. Many times the teacher spells the difference. The noble utterances of great teachers such as listed above should be put into the memory of our school children. They are profound and their words are the golden threads which hold our Democratic system of government together. Why not make special effort to see that our children develop in the presence of such great silent teachers? Our teachers must be supported by the masters of yesterday. What sort of American education can we expect if the growing mind is not exposed to the persons of Washington, and Jefferson, and Lincoln, and Robert E. Lee?

Tigers Go On Road, Look For 3A-1 Lead In Weekend Games

The Snyder Tigers were looking for a chance to jump into first place in the District 3A-1 cage race today as they took to the road for weekend games.

Now standing in second place in the district with a 7-2 record, the Tigers tonight will meet the top basketeers in the district, the Plainview Bulldogs, who have been defeated only once in nine district outings. Lamesa gave Plainview its lone defeat. Tomorrow night, the Tigers will be in Levelland, where they will meet the Lobos, who are now tied with Lamesa and Big Spring for third place in the district.

A win over the Bulldogs tonight could put the Tigers in a tie with Plainview for first place. After that time, if they won all their games, they would have either the championship or go into a playoff with the Bulldogs for the title, depending on whether any other club beat Plainview before the end of district play. Plainview must still meet some of the roughest teams in the district, but the squad will be at home for all the rest of its loop games. Tomorrow night, Plainview will host Sweetwater, a team capable of giving any squad in the district a run for its money.

In other games tonight, Levelland will host Sweetwater, Vernon will go to Lamesa, and Breckenridge will be at Big Spring. Tomorrow night, it will be Sweetwater at Plainview, Vernon at Big Spring, and Breckenridge at Lamesa.

After this weekend, there will be only three more district games for each team. The regular district schedule will end a week from Tuesday.

Coach J. P. Ward reports all the varsity squad in shape for tonight's game. Many Snyder fans believe the Tigers have good chances tonight. When Plainview played in Snyder earlier this season, the Bulldogs won 44-35, or by a margin of only nine points. Jack Spikes, who is now leading scorer for the team, and Jimmy Bennett, who was leading scorer last year but was slowed this year by injuries, were both out of that game.

Both of those will be playing tonight, plus other regulars such as Alan Snead, Jerry Taylor, Joel Tankersley, Don McNew, Milton Ham, and Hubert O'Neal. Powell Berry and Robert Dabbs, who double with the B squad, complete the varsity roster. While Spikes, Snead, and Bennett lead the Tiger offense, McNew and Taylor are leading defensive players for the locals.

The Tigers are taking a season record of 11-9 into the game. They have scored 1,120 points to opponents' 1,116 in season games and 500 to 471 in district games.

While the Bengals are favored over Levelland, the Lobos are expected to give them a rough time tomorrow night. When Levelland played in Snyder, the Tigers won by a bare margin, 56-53. Levelland had the lead for a good part of that game and made a terrific comeback in the last minutes after trailing by 16 points.

Hugh Tilson and Bobby Bryant lead the Plainview squad, while Larry Corbin and Mack Freeman are foremost for Levelland.

The Snyder B team is going into weekend play with a 10-7 season record. In district games, it has won five and lost three. It has scored 734 points to 786 in season play and 360 to 355 in district games.

In its last game with the Plainview B, the Snyder B won 42-32. It lost to the Levelland B 66-36.

Leading coach Jack Dillon's B team in scoring are Berry with 144 points, Dwayne Prince with 121, Dabbs with 108, Ronnie Smith with 83, Earl Rhoades with 82, Pat Fowler with 71, and Tommy Prichard with 48.

Longhorns Heading For Worst Mark

By JOE BENHAM
The Associated Press

The University of Texas basketball team Friday was on the brink of the worst record since the school took up the cage game back in 1906.

A 79-74 loss to Texas Tech Thursday night gave Texas its 15th loss in a row and its 15th of the season—the first time a Longhorn team has lost 15 games since 1931.

Fred Walker's team wound up that year with a 7-15 standing.

This year's club stands 1-15 with eight games to go.

Next action for the Longhorns comes Saturday night, when they face Arkansas at Austin in a conference tilt.

Thursday night's loss was one of the toughest of the season for the Longhorns, who dropped the game only after one of their strongest showings since they beat Hardin-Simmons in the season opener.

Texas led 39-35 at halftime, kept the score as close as 59-57 with 12 minutes to play, but fell behind when Tech turned on the pressure.

Jim Reed of Texas Tech and Raymond Downs of Texas shared scoring honors with 20 points, following by DuWayne Blackshear with 19 for Tech.

The Raiders took the game on free throws, sinking 27 of 12 for Texas. Texas held the edge in field goals 31-26.

No games are slated Friday night. The Arkansas-Texas clash and the Baylor-Texas Christian battle make up Saturday's schedule.

Brooks Five Stomps On Sunray 88-9

Brooks Oil Well Service crashed over Sunray to stay at the top of standings in the city basketball league last night, and Hermleigh broke a tie for third place and took it alone by downing Gail.

The Brooks team took Sunray by a score of 88-9. The game was a runaway from the start, with Brooks leading 19-1 at the end of the first quarter and 42-3 at halftime. During the first half, Sunray didn't score a field goal. At the end of the third quarter, the score was 62-5.

Sunray was playing without its leading scorer, Larry Hooker. The Brooks team held the Sunray squad last night so that no man scored more than three points. Bill Couch led Brooks with 20 points, while Bill Tillman had 16 and Zeke Strange 13.

The Hermleigh squad took Gail 65-25. Hermleigh jumped into a quick lead in the game and was ahead 12-4 at the end of the first quarter. At halftime, it was 27-10, and at the end of the third period Hermleigh was leading 41-14.

Ray Isaacs paced the Hermleigh team with 22 points, followed by Jack Medford with 18. Pat Willingham led Gail with 15.

In the league's next games Tuesday night, Chuck Wagon will meet Sunray and National Guard will be matched with Hermleigh.

Frosh Beat Roscoe B

The Snyder High School Freshman basketball team yesterday afternoon downed the Roscoe B team 37-27 in a game played in Snyder.

The win brought the team's record for the season to 7-3.

Israel Hinojos paced the team with 11 points. Bud Morgan and Maxey Carey got eight each, while Bill Jennings had three and Dwaine Merritt and John Ward two each.

The Snyder squad led 10-2 at the end of the first quarter, 21-9 at halftime, and 29-16 at the end of the third quarter.

Still Don't Know

ROSWELL, N.M. (AP)—Directors of the Class C Longhorn baseball league will know tomorrow whether league President Harry James will remain through the 1955 season, he said yesterday.

James resigned at yesterday's league meeting but agreed to reconsider after directors urged him to remain with the league for a third year.

Junior High Season Ends

Snyder's two junior high cage teams finished their seasons yesterday by taking lopsided wins over Hamlin teams.

The eighth grade, coached by Charlie Storrs, won its game 36-13. At halftime it was leading 18-4. Storrs said 25 boys played during the afternoon. Roger Hensley, Jimmy Allen, and Gale Courtney each had six points to lead scoring. That team's record is 9-1.

Roy Carter's seventh grade squad won 31-10. The Hamlin team did not score until the third quarter. At halftime, the score was 20-0. Leading scorer was Dick Hayes with 12, while Barry Walker had eight and Norman Gladson four. The team finished with a record of 8-2.

Rupp Is Assured Of Player Confidence

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Kentucky Coach Adolph Rupp has himself a vote of player confidence today, whether he needs it or not.

The controversy involving Linville Puckett, starting guard on the No. 1 team in the Associated Press college basketball poll, left some loose strings dangling. Particularly since his departure from the squad in a training rules squabble with Rupp—a gentleman who has not had much chance to learn how to lose—followed Georgia Tech's second upset of the Wildcats.

Puckett got off a parting shot about basketball being a matter of life or death on the Lexington campus. That left the question of whether Puckett was the only player out of step with Rupp.

The question was answered last night as Kentucky rolled over Florida 87-63 in what Rupp termed the Wildcats' best effort in a month.

Kentucky worked smoothly and with team finesse. It was 45-35 at the half and the Wildcats—who dropped both games to Georgia Tech at the foul line—hit on 27 of 33 free throw attempts.

Phil Grawemeyer led the assault with 20 points. Bob Burrow, just recovered from a sinus infection, chipped in 16, as did Captain Billy Evans.

Puckett's replacement Gayle Ross scored 12 in his first starting job. Jerry Bird, the other starter, also hit for 12.

All in all, a very neat job for Kentucky's 13th victory in 15 games.

Florida, incidentally, was fresh from an upset of Alabama, the Southeastern Conference leader. Kentucky is No. 2 in the league.

In other games, George Washington, No. 7 nationally, knocked off highscoring Furman 76-71 after a scare; fifth-ranked Utah won No. 16 with an 81-49 job on Los Angeles State; and Dayton, No. 15, disposed of Murray (Ky.) State 49-45.

At New York's Madison Square Garden, Cincinnati had trouble but won its seventh straight, 88-78 over Seton Hall, and Manhattan ran its streak to nine, 88-61 over St. John's of Brooklyn.

Two upsets occurred too. John Carroll, 8-12 for the season, knocked off St. Francis (Pa.) — the team that surprised high-ranked Duquesne earlier and had bopped John Carroll 115-94 a week ago. And Drake surprised Detroit 93-86 despite Guy Sparrow's 33 points that set a Drake field house record.

George Washington, defending Southern Conference champ, stayed within reach of a repeat with its victory, but the Colonials made the mistake of underrating Furman.

Darrell Floyd, top scorer in the nation, joined Fred Fraley in a shooting exhibition to pull Furman into a 46-39 lead after seven minutes of the second half, and it was only the great floor work of 6-5 Joe Petcavich that enabled George Washington to rally.

Three SW Schools Open Spring Drills

By The Associated Press

Three schools have opened spring football training in the Southwest Conference. Two more begin next week.

Baylor will be finishing before Arkansas, the defending champion, even starts. The Golden Bears opened training two weeks ago.

Arkansas will wait until March 1 when new Coach Jack Mitchell calls the veteran Razorbacks into acton.

TCU and SMU started training this week. Texas and Rice open practice Monday. Texas A&M begins Feb. 14.

Baylor has 16 letiermen, including end Henry Gremminger, fullback Reuben Saage and halfback Del Shofner. The Bears picked up the quarterback who may become Baylor's greatest of all—Doyle Traylor. Traylor laid out last season, injured before the campaign opened.

SMU held a tough scrimmage the very first day, indicating Woody Woodard plans to use the 18 days fully. His team may be a favorite in 1955. It has 20 lettermen. The Methodists will be stout as oaks from tackle to tackle and will have the finest running backfield in the league featuring Don McIlhenny, John Marshall, Blake Tucker and Hal O'Brien.

TCU is loaded with 26 lettermen in a squad of 82 that reported Monday. The Frogs also expect to have the sophomore fullback, Buddy Dike, who was seriously injured in mid-season last year.

Texas, the disappointment of 1954, will have plenty of veteran material and also some of the brightest sophomores in Longhorn history. These include Larry George, Johnny Elam, Walt Fondren and Joe Clements, all backfield prospects. Texas will have 20 lettermen and three new coaches.

Rice looks stronger despite the loss of Dicky Moegle, All-America halfback. The Rice line should be powerful and Pinky Nisbet, Jerry Hall and Jack Throckmorton head up a dangerous backfield.

Texas A&M lost more lettermen. The latest is Bill Schroeder, a top lineman. He has quit football because of a sunstroke suffered last year. Paul Bryant had a strong freshman team last season with such standouts as Ken Hall and John David Crow. The Aggies should see definite improvements.

Arkansas should be much stronger next season. The only notable loss has been Bud Brooks, the All-America guard, and the champion Porkers picked up some great prospects from the freshmen. Tailback George Walker, fullback Henry Moore and Preston Carpenter, heart of the Razorback attack, made the Arkansas backfield indeed formidable.

Snyder Volleyball Teams Lose Games

Two Snyder volleyball teams lost games at Big Spring yesterday.

The B team fell to its Big Spring opponent 54-21, bringing its season record to 0-2. Charlotte Chauncey led Snyder scoring with eight points, while Oneta Forguson had five and Rita Grimmett had four.

The freshman team lost its first game of the season 51-21. Oma Ivison scored 12 points, and Shirley Payne and Viola Hinojos had three each.

Goldman And Riepen Favored In Tourney

HARLINGEN (AP)—Semifinal play expected to land defending champion David Goldman of Dallas, and Missouri State Amateur Champ Warrem Riepen of St. Joseph in tomorrow's finals was scheduled today in the Life Begins at 40 Golf Tournament.

Goldman met Lonnie Wendland, McAllen and Riepen faced W. H. Inloe, Arlington, in today's matches.

Redleg Pilot Says His Team Can Win

By BIRDIE TEBBETTS

NASHUA, N.H. (AP) — Our Redleg team should be a powerful run-scoring team. If our younger ball players produce, we should be in contention all the way. Any one of six teams has a chance to win the pennant in 1955. Cincinnati is one of those teams.

If the Giants could move up from fifth place, 35 games behind the pennant-winning Brooklyn Dodgers in 1953 to win the pennant the next year, then I see no reason why one of the first six teams last season could not win it in '55. We finished fifth, only 23 games away from the top.

We are not conceding anything to any club in advance of the pennant race. To win, naturally, we will have to make a big improvement. I think we have the players with which to make this improvement. Our lineup, and especially our batting order, is not set for 1955. Everybody has a chance.

Our Cincinnati team last year did not have outstanding weaknesses but the overall strength of the league was so great that our pitching staff was not numerically strong enough to compete with the stronger clubs. The experience gained by Art Fowler and Corky Valentine and the showing of Joe Nuxhall will tend to strengthen our staff.

The addition of Gerry Staley from the Cardinals may give us a rotation which will allow us to compete with the best of them. Johnny Klippstein, whom we obtained from the Chicago Cubs and Bill Werle, purchased from Louisville, should help. Then we have several fine looking young pitching prospects who may come through.

The addition of Ray Jablonski, who drove in more than 100 runs for the Cardinals last year, will give us an exceptionally well-balanced attack of righthanded and lefthanded hitters. We should not be bothered as much by southpaw pitching as we were last year. We are lacking in speed, but maybe that will not be such a big handicap if some of our fellows who have had the habit of hitting the long ball will continue to do so. Base stealing and taking long chances to get an extra base are not as important these days as they once were.

We are going to go all out in an effort to improve our pitching. I think much headway can be made in that direction this year by the hurlers now on the club. When we opened our training camp last spring, Fred Baczewski was the only pitcher on the club who figured to be a regular starter. Now we go into training this year with Nuxhall, Valentine and Fowler definitely regarded as starters. I don't know who will be our other starters but we have numerous possibilities. We'll find out about all of them during spring training when we'll have lots of games, with two squads playing on many days.

Right now it appears our No. 1 relief pitcher as successor to Frank Smith, whom we traded to St. Louis, may be Klippstein or Jerry Lane. The latter, up from Chattanooga, impressed me last fall as a fellow likely to be a capable reliefer. Howie Judson also will work frequently in that role. Little Jackie Collum may be our top southpaw fireman but he will also start now and then.

On the overall league picture, Brooklyn, New York and Milwaukee have the depth, the pitching and the strength to be rated highly but none of these clubs can afford unfortunate accidents to key men and still win.

Sen. George Leading Senate's Foreign Relations Panel Well

By ROWLAND EVANS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Walter F. George of Georgia, a Democrat, is one of the most effective leaders in the Senate for President Eisenhower's foreign policies.

The normally mild-mannered, quiet-spoken chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, whose 77th birthday tributes last week included a kiss from Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower, told a reporter recently:

"I think that working with a Democratic or a Republican administration is pretty much the same on questions of foreign policy."

George relaxed in the high-backed leather chair behind his desk, chewed on a cigar and rubbed an eye under thick-lensed spectacles. His soft white hair was parted on the right side, his double-breasted blue coat open to reveal a bright red necktie.

"I am not concerned which party is guiding our foreign policy," he said. "If I am for the policy and if I believe it is a workable policy, it makes no difference whether it is put forward by a Democratic or Republican president."

When George is "for" a policy, its success in the Senate is often assured. A recent example was the 85-3 vote by which the Senate approved Eisenhower's defend-Formosa resolution last week, despite private reservations by many who ended up voting for the resolution.

In 1941, when President Franklin D. Roosevelt asked Congress for power to lend and lease billions of dollars worth of military equipment to U.S. allies fighting Hitler's Germany, George took command of the fight in the Senate, bucking an influential group led by the late Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio).

"That was probably the most important single matter I ever have had the burden of carrying," George said. "I think it shortened the war by perhaps two years or more."

George was Foreign Relations Committee chairman at that time. Not long afterward he took over chairmanship of the tax-writing Finance Committee. He was and still is the senior Democrat on both committees. When the Democrats took control of Congress last month he chose to become chairman of Foreign Relations again.

But the Finance Committee under his chairmanship during the record spending and heavy taxing years of World War II and the Korean War, George says, "examined the administration's tax proposals pretty drastically in line with what we thought to be the best system of taxation."

What are the sources of the influence, if not power, that George has accumulated during his 22 years in the Senate?

A former Republican senator defeated in last November's election says George "is the only senator today who in my opinion would have been a great senator at any time and in any Senate in our history. He has the rare ability to lead. He is the only senator who can make votes by a speech."

George's background in constitutional and statutory law, this ex-senator told a reporter, has no equal in the Senate today. The combination of legal training and what he called George's "keen intellect and sense of timing," give George more capacity for leadership than any of his colleagues, this Republican said. He asked not to be quoted by name.

George himself had a more modest answer.

"It has not been my habit to fill the Congressional Record with speeches, or to even speak unless I had a real conviction one way or the other," he said.

"If I have any influence in the Senate at all, which I very much minimize, it is because the Senate has generally credited me with being sincere."

When George has the burden of carrying an issue on the floor of the Senate, he undergoes a remarkable transformation.

His quiet, resonant voice rises to a dramatic thunder of mellifluous rhetoric and falls to a whisper of scorn for the opposition. To make a point, he shakes his hands as though they were palsied.

"All my early experience was in the law and its administration," George says. "My early ambition was to serve both in the profession and in the administration of law."

He "greatly enjoyed" a career as judge of the Superior Court of the circuit of Cordele, Ga., judge of the Circuit Court of Appeals and associate judge of Georgia's Supreme Court. He held that post for five years, then ran for the Senate when Sen. Tom E. Watson's death in 1922 created a vacancy.

He came to Washington in November 1922, after 21 years practicing and administering the law.

The senator and "Miss Lucy," his wife, live quietly at the Mayflower Hotel when in Washington, avoiding most social life.

"I don't go out at all at night," George said, "except maybe in the hotel or right next door."

Red China Travels Path Used In 1950

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Red China is going through the same performance it put on in 1950, with variations. Its refusal yesterday to discuss a Formosa cease-fire in the United Nations doesn't necessarily mean it won't be glad to talk about Formosa, one way or another, outside the U.N.

It might be glad to, perhaps at a place like Geneva, completely outside the U.N. It could make propaganda, might split the allies a bit, and might make a good deal for itself, just as it did the last time it went to Geneva, where the West gave up half of Viet Nam in Indochina.

The Red Chinese made their first and only appearance in the U.N. in 1950. Then they demanded a U.N. seat as the price of discussing a Korean cease-fire. They got nowhere. Four years later they were willing to discuss Korean and Indochinese problems in Geneva. Nothing happened in Korea. They got a chunk of Indochina.

Now they not only demand a U.N. seat but refuse to discuss a Formosan cease-fire. They want to discuss, they say, only American "aggression" against Formosa. This is the history repeating itself:

In the summer of 1950 Chou En-lai, Chinese foreign minister, accused the United States of aggression against Formosa when, after the start of the Korean War, President Truman threw the 7th Fleet around the island where Chiang Kai-shek had taken refuge. Now Chou once again charges the the United States with aggression against Formosa, which he claims belongs to Red China.

In 1950 Russia backed up the Chinese Communists by accusing this country of aggression in Formosa. Now again Russia makes the same charge. The U.N. in 1950 invited Chou to send a delegation to New York to discuss the "aggression" charge. Chou refused at first, changed his mind 10 days later.

At that point he hadn't demanded a U.N. seat as the price of talking about American "aggression." But by the time the delegation reached New York, Red China had entered the Korean War and was herself then under the charge of "aggression."

The Communists demanded the U.N. Security Council penalize the United States for "aggression" against Formosa but refused to discuss a similar charge against themselves. They said the Red Chinese in Korea were just volunteers. After a while Chou produced a pricetag:

He said Red China would not discuss a cease-fire in Korea unless the Communists got a U.N. seat, Chiang's Nationalists were thrown out of the U.N., and the 7th Fleet left Formosa. The U.N. wouldn't buy. Red China, instead, was condemned as an aggressor.

Red China in 1953 finally agreed to a Korean cease-fire, but not in the U.N. Then in the spring of 1954 it agreed to go to Geneva to talk about a final peace settlement in Korea and a cease-fire in Indochina. That was outside the U.N. and since Nationalist China wasn't involved in Korea or Indochina, Nationalist China was not at Geneva.

Both Savings And Debts At Record Levels

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans are stashing their money away in the greatest volume of savings ever — and at the same time they are going deeper and deeper into debt.

Deposits in mutual savings banks have reached a record high. Saving and loan associations have had a record year. Total liquid savings have risen. At the same time, installment debt and mortgages have taken a sudden spurt and reached the highest levels in history.

Total debt — what is owed by government, corporations and individuals — has risen 47 per cent since 1946, with corporate and personal debts leading the way. Total debt now exceeds 600 billion dollars.

Is this dangerously high? If not, where will the danger point be?

Mortgages on family homes have climbed to 75 billion dollars. The Home Loan Bank Board estimates that more than 16 billion additional dollars will be needed this year to finance home buying.

DE Principles Emphasized At Local Banquet

Learning and teaching are fundamental principles of the Distributive Education program, members of the Snyder High School DE club and their guests were reminded at their annual banquet last night in the High School cafeteria.

Speaker at the banquet was Joe Pickle, managing editor of the Big Spring Herald.

He urged the DE students here to take full advantage of the opportunity they have in actually working in business establishments while they study correlated courses of instruction in the schools.

At the same time, he challenged the employers of DE students to see that the students receive practical and ethical experience in their work.

The students lose sight of the DE goal when they enter the program primarily for the salary they receive as part-time employes, and the employers are not doing ther job if their only objective in cooperating in the program is to acquire labor at a relatively low scale, Pickle warned.

Betty Green was presented as the DE club's sweetheart. Results of the sweetheart's election had been kept secret until the banquet. Miss Green was introduced by T. D. Wiman, principal of Snyder High School.

Henry Beckett, DE student, gave the welcome address, while Roland Bell responded for the visiting employers.

Out-of-town guests were introduced by M. E. Stanfield, assistant superintendent of schools.

Special entertainment was provided by Pat Taylor, vocalist, who was accompanied by Ralph Wesson at the organ. Wesson also played dinner music throughout the banquet.

Dr. C. L. Yarbrough, superintendent of schools, led the invocation, and Don Boone, president of the Snyder DE club closed the session by reading the DE creed.

Billy Sellars was master of ceremonies.

Ray Anthony Gets Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Band leader Ray Anthony is due back in Hollywood from Mexico City tomorrow with a divorce decree in his pocket and a new flame at the airport to greet him.

A spokesman at 20th Century-Fox Studio, where Anthony is making a movie, said he went to Mexico to divorce his former band vocalist Dee Keating. They were married in Denver in 1939, separated in New York last August and have no children.

The studio source said a financial settlement was reached, giving her a cash sum plus $1,000 a month until she remarries. Anthony, who played 251 one-night stands last year, blames the breakup on incompatibility.

The girl at the airport is to be Mamie Van Doren. Some close friends say she and Anthony are planning to wed, but she says "Definitely not."

GLEN H. HOLLADAY

Local Student Is In Contest

Glen H. Holladay, a freshman at Texas Technological College where he is a member of the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps, was to leave today for Reno for competition in rifle marksmanship.

His mother, Mrs. Glen Holladay, 3010 Avenue T, said he was chosen with eight others in his troop to compete in the contest because of high honors in marksmanship during the last four-month semester. Young Holladay averaged a grade of 97 points out of a possible average of 100. His was the highest AFROTC marksmanship grade.

Several groups from various colleges are to compete at Reno. The contestants are grouped in troops of nine each.

Man Admits Taking Stamps In Burglary

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—Edward F. Andrews, a welder with a hard luck story, has admitted the 48-cent stamps burglary of the Chama Bank.

Andrews, of Holly, N.Y., told district attorney's investigator Tom Gonzales yesterday his pregnant wife and their two small children had only potatoes and cornmeal to eat for the last two weeks.

Investigating officers were so touched they passed the hat and gave the money to Mrs. Andrews. Andrews was held for investigation.

Say Many Committed To Recognize Reds

DENVER (AP) — Sen. George W. Malone (R-Nev) says that "many high government officials in Washington are committed to the recognition of Red China" and are "dangling free trade as the bait."

Malone made the remark at a panel discussion at the Colorado Mining Assn. convention. He later told a newsman:

"Many substantial people in Washington, including Supreme Court Justice Douglas, want recognition of Red China. They're conditioning industrialists throughout the nation with the idea of more trade to get them ready for recognition."

Tangier Suffers While Other Places Enjoy Prosperous Era

By PRESTON GROVER

TANGIER, International Zone, Morocco (AP)—If the good times keep up elsewhere, this town is going to be ruined for sure.

It has had a depression for the past two years that is worrying the local population of overseas Americans, British, Frenchmen, Spaniards and Italians, not to mention tens of thousands of Moors.

It is a fact that the better it gets elsewhere, the worse it gets here. Tangier thrives on hard times—in other places.

After the war new capital flocked here by millions of dollars. It was a safe place to hide out the economic uncertainties. There is no other place in the world with so little official curiosity about what you do with your money, how much you have, where you get it or where you send it.

Maybe even more important, there are almost no taxes.

It is a wonderful place for people who quietly want to retire on a smallish income. You can live here for a third to a half of what it costs in Paris.

The sun shines almost all the time and, so the regular inhabitants tell me, it is not too hot even in summer. In winter it is dreamy. No overcoats except at night.

But in spite of this inviting climate, the times are tough here for people who used to make a lot of money fast.

The smart money which rushed here in troubled times has largely run away again. A few fugitive fortunes got stuck, of course. They built apartment houses and business blocks which haven't a chance of being profitable unless there is a collapse elsewhere.

Officials here—the town is saturated with them—estimated that there are 3,000 empty apartments in this town where the total population is about 125,000. Moreover, these 3,000 were designed for rich Europeans, not poor Arabs.

Despite hard times the place has an air of romance and mystery.

I wandered into the Casbah with a camera and no guide to get a whiff of intrigue. Barely inside I tried to photograph an Arab in country dress. He was carrying a black goat in his arms. Instantly he began screaming, evidently such insulting passages that even the passers-by were shocked. Mohammedans don't like to be photographed.

The passages became narrower and narrower and there were more and more dead ends, yard-wide passages you follow until suddenly you are faced with three solid walls and have to turn back.

Those veils over Arab women's faces are intriguing. And the women know it. They are tiny white silk or sheer cotton affairs, often delicately embroidered, which rest on the bridge of the nose and cover all the face except those clear brown eyes with the heavy lids and long black eyelashes. If a pair of those eyes beckoned you into a corner to disclose all your military secrets, it would be hard to refuse.

Casbah means in Arabic simply "fort," but so often has the Casbah become the congested Arabic part of North African cities it is now almost a synonym for the Arab part of the city.

From the Casbah you can see the little port in which so many contraband ships operated in the years just after the war when there was a great smuggling trade in American cigarettes, nylons and gold.

It was a great place to bring goods to be smuggled into France, Spain and Italy.

Tangier didn't mind. The city provided harbor facilities, its banks handled the exchange, everybody made money and it was wonderful.

There is no law in Tangier against smuggling nylons or gold into France. In fact, everybody became unhappy when France began making enough nylons for itself, and wrecked the Tangier gold market by opening a gold market in Paris.

Even the tourist business has gone to pot. For a while Tangier thought it was going to profit from the disturbances elsewhere in North Africa which had frightened away the visitors. Then Tangier foolishly had its own riot and spoiled the picture.

Two Bills Are Proposed To Aid Juveniles

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two bills designed to aid in rehabilitating juvenile delinquents and another intended to keep teen-agers away from vice spots in Mexico were proposed by Senate investigators today.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) said he and Senators Hennings (D-Mo) and Langer (R-ND) were joining in introducing the measures as a result of an inquiry conducted last year.

They were members of the special Senate juvenile delinquency subcommittee which was headed by former Sen. Hendrickson (R-NJ).

One of the bills provides for the waiver to state authorities of juveniles who also have violated federal law. In explanation of this, Kefauver said in a statement:

"Welfare and correctional authorities unanimously subscribe to the principle that a delinquent boy or girl is most effectively rehabilitated when he can be kept close to his own home, family and community.

A second bill would permit foster parents to claim income tax exemption for foster children, in an effort to encourage families to take in homeless children.

The third bill would restrict unaccompanied juveniles from crossing the nation's borders—a measure Kefauver related to conditions along the Mexican border.

Rubinstein Slaying Still Baffles Cops

NEW YORK (AP)—The search for Serge Rubinstein's killer continued today, with authorities apparently as baffled about the crime as they were when the playboy-financier's body was found Jan. 27.

The Russian-born, 46-year-old Rubinstein was trussed, gagged and strangled in his bedroom. A ruthless businessman, a heavy spender on luxuries and glamor girls, Rubinstein was in so many deals and knew so many people that his slaying left police with a maze of details to untangle.
