RAILROADS ARE TO GET $500,000,000 FROM GOVERNMENT

PLAN FOR A FINAL VOTE ON THE TARIFF THURSDAY THE 21

MINORITY VOTE FILED BY DEMOCRATIC MEMBERS OF COMMITTEE.

CHARGES A CONSPIRACY IS HATCHED IN SECRET

Declare Measure Would Benefit Few Favorites at Expense of all Humanity.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—With the house beginning consideration of the general tariff bill today, the republican majority has fixed July 21 as the date for a final vote on the measure.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Democratic members of the ways and means committee in a minority report filed today in the house of representatives denounce the administration tariff bill as a "conspiracy to benefit a few favorites at the expense of all humanity."

"Like every conspiracy, it has been hatched in secrecy," the report says, adding:

"We record our solemn judgment that this measure is a plan to plunder the people of our own country and to oppress the people of every country for the benefit of a few men who have succeeded in usurping for all practical purposes the taxing power of this government, using it primarily to enrich themselves, and secondarily, to finance the political party which tolerates, encourages and facilitates the usurpation."

The report declares the tariff was not an issue in the last campaign and that this is not the time to write a tariff law. They assert that the problems which "confront our people, cripple our industry, stifle our commerce and perplex an amiable administration have nothing to do with the tariff."

Criticising the republican majority of the committee for withholding the bill from them and from the house membership generally and for permitting only a week for its study, the democratic members declare there has been an insufficient time to draft a substitute. They do not undertake any detailed discussion of the individual schedules in the bill, confining their 27-page typewritten report to a general indictment of the whole measure and the manner of its preparation.

Emphasize Two Things.

Emphasis is laid upon two things—the probable effect of the bill of American commerce and the world industrial situation generally and upon the substitution of the system of American valuation as a basis for levying tariff duties.

Pointing to the rapidly increasing American foreign trade the report says "we need no tariff to cut off the imports and the exports of the United States."

Calling attention that the foreign trade of the United States fell from $1,148,255,449 last July to $527,378,825 in May, 1921, the report says:

"Certainly the natural process is preferable to the infected knife of interested surgeons who by selecting the industries to protect and those to destroy, can reap the harvest their campaign contributions seeded last fall."

Charging that the bill was prepared outside of the ways and means committee, the minority report says the manner of its making up "cannot be defended."

Last Minute Changes.

"Its last minute changes, whispered to a favored few," the report continues, "are in keeping with the intrigue, secrecy and jobbery which inspired its subtleties, its concealed indirection, cast its complex and compounded rates, and fixed its unascertainable and incalculable duties, with the trickery which has transformed schedules, hidden jokers, transplanted items, changed its nomenclature and made it impossible to compare it with any of its predecessors.

"Cunning has made difficult, if not impossible, a comparison by printing it in deadly parallel with previous law. This conspiracy has required since last December, or six months, to hatch its monstrosity."

The democrats say in their report that they vainly sought to have the committee refer the bill to the treasury department with a view to obtaining information as to the probable amount of revenue to be derived as well as the economic effort upon the country. They also say that they sought to obtain action through the committee from which the rates and classifications in the bill might be compared with the Underwood and Payne-Aldrich laws.

"It seems," the report says, "that the majority prefer not to give information to the house touching the provisions of this bill and this is a very natural position for them to take, since if the membership of the house, or the country, really knew the meaning of its classification, rates and general provisions, they would repudiate it in the most pronounced fashion."

PROTEST BRINGS CONFLICTING STATEMENTS FROM LEADERS

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Announcement from Paris that the French government had forwarded to the state department a protest of the French chamber of commerce against the provision of the emergency tariff bill authorizing American agents to examine the books of French firms exporting to the United States brought conflicting statements today from the leaders in the fight on the permanent tariff bill which includes substantially the same provision.

Chairman Fordney of the ways and means committee declared the French attitude was based on a misunderstanding of the law. Representative Garner of Texas, a democratic member of the committee, said the examination provision was "just a part of the program of high tariff advocates to bar all imports by one means or another."

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Treasury Secretary Mellon announced today that under a provisional refunding arrangement made with the railroad executives the carriers would receive approximately $500,000,000 in additional advances from the government within the next six months.

Mr. Mellon said the negotiations with the railroad executives probably would be completed within two days and that the advances contemplated would give to the railroads in cash, sums of money equivalent to those which the government spent in capital betterments during the period of war-time control. The government will receive for the advances six per cent security evidencing the indebtedness of the particular railroads which receive the advances, it was explained. Mr. Mellon also indicated that additional appropriations would be sought from congress to make the advances.

SHARES BECOME ACTIVE ON RECEIPT OF REPORT

NEW YORK, July 7.—Railroad shares became active and strong on the stock exchange today on receipt of word from Washington that railroads would receive $500,000,000 additional under the treasury departments refunding plan.

Atchison, Northern Pacific, Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Chicago Northwestern, Reading and New York Central showed gains of 1 to 2 points. Many junior rails, including Lehigh Valley and Southern railway, also strengthened.

NIGHTWATCHMAN FOUND DEAD AT CORSICANA WITH BULLET WOUND IN BACK

CORSICANA, TEXAS, July 7.—J. E. Carroway, 45, night watchman at a local brick ward, was found dead early today at his place of employment with a bullet wound in the center of the back. Officers said complete mystery surrounds the shooting.

CHAIRMAN FORDNEY TO INSIST ON ACTION

Will Press Bonus Bill Notwithstanding Opposition of Secretary Mellon.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Despite Secretary Mellon's yesterday opposing enactment of a bonus bill, Chairman Fordney of the house ways and means committee said today he intended to press for action on his measure to compensate former service men as soon as tariff and tax legislation was completed.

"I have no doubt," Mr. Fordney said "that some such legislation will be put through at this session of congress."

BEND EVERY EFFORT TO FIND A SOLUTION OF IRISH QUESTION

LONDON, July 7.—Forces of conciliation led by General Jan C. Smuts, premier of the Union of South Africa, are bending every effort to find a solution of the Irish problem. Sinn fein and unionist leaders from south Ireland will meet in Dublin tomorrow and it is probable that Earl Midleton, one of the unionist chieftains, who has been in conference with Prime Minister Lloyd George and other government officials, may take with him some statement of the government's position when he leaves for Dublin late today.

General Smuts in an address delivered at a dinner given by the South African colony here last night, declared the Irish problem could be solved, and pointed out that the situation in Ireland was similar to that which existed in South America when the republican movement was strong in that dominion. He said that since the Union of South Africa had decided to remain linked with the empire, the people had benefited from their "forbearance and self-sacrifice."

The question whether General Smuts would attend Friday's meeting in Dublin between Eamonn de Valera and the southern unionists was settled in the negative this evening, when it was announced that General Smuts would not go to Dublin tomorrow.

GOES TO IRELAND AT THE INVITATION OF DE VALERA

LONDON, July 7.—The prime minister, Mr. Lloyd George, stated in the house of commons today that he understood General J. C. Smuts, the South African premier, went to Ireland on Tuesday last on the invitation of Eamonn de Valera, the Irish republican leader. Asked whether he had conferred with General Smuts before the latter went to Ireland, the prime minister replied laconically that he was seeing General Smuts constantly.

In answer to another question, Mr. Lloyd George said none of the dominion premiers would attend the proposed Irish conference in London, to which Mr. de Valera and Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, had been invited.

REOPEN CASE INVOLVING DIFFERENCE IN SUGAR RATE

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The interstate commerce commission reopened today the case involving difference in rates on sugar to Chicago and Missouri river points from New Orleans and from Pacific coast points.

HARDING RECEIVES MEMBERS OF JAPANESE PARLIAMENT

President Harding photographed with the members of the Japanese parliament visiting this country in courtesy of the visit last year by American congressmen to Japan. Standing on the right of President Harding is Secretary of State Hughes, and on the left of Mr. Harding is Rokuasabur o Nakanishi the speaker of the Japanese house of parliament and chairman of the visiting party.

PREMIERS CRITICISE BRITISH INACTIVITY

Declare Country Suffers From Lack of Direct Communication With Dominions.

LONDON, July 7.—Sharp criticisms of the paucity and slowness of communications by steamship, airplane, telegraph and wireless between Great Britain and the dominions were voiced at Tuesday's session of the imperial conference at which a decision was reached to appoint a committee to consider development of communications throughout the empire. The official text of the speeches delivered at the meeting was issued today and in it are expressions of disapproval of American world distribution of news.

Premier Hughes of Australia declared America was daily radiating in every direction, not only American news, but American concepts of world events, and instanced the transmission of such news to China, which he said formed its opinion of the British empire thereon, while Great Britain did nothing. He contended that if Great Britain and the dominions failed to increase their wireless telegraph and telegraph services in the immediate future they would be left far behind other countries.

Premier Meighen of Canada said that while Canada had less cause to complain than Australia and New Zealand, her exchange of news with the motherland was unsatisfactory.

"News that comes to Canada," he asserted, "filters through New York and is censored there, not by government authorities, but from the American standpoint. It reaches us in an undesirable condition, and as a result has an undesirable influence, and a very serious influence it is."

Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary of state for the colonies, spoke sympathetically regarding these complaints.

"There is no doubt," he said, "that the American press is able to collect its news on a vast scale, and having been paid the cost of this collection by international circulation, it can afford to dump news into other English-speaking countries."

"And advertise itself," interjected Premier Massey of New Zealand.

Mr. Churchill declared it was vital in the dissemination of news of the British empire that a strong British empire atmosphere be adopted, adding "this will come when the mother country and the dominion are able to tell their story to each other instead of having it told by other men."

THREE JURORS TENTATIVELY SELECTED IN THE TRIAL OF THE WHITE SOX PLAYERS

CHICAGO, July 7.—Efforts to obtain a jury to try the cases of the White Sox players and alleged gamblers in connection with the 1919 baseball scandal were continued here today. Three men have been tentatively accepted by both state and defense.

CAPT. CHAMBERLAIN PRESENTS HIS CASE

Continue Hearing of Former Marine Aviator Behind Closed Doors.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Captain Edmund G. Chamberlain, former marine corps aviator, began today presentation of his case to the senate committee investigating his court-martial and dismissal from service as a result of his stories of participation in a thrilling air battle on the western front in July, 1918.

Captain Chamberlain told his story to the committee behind closed doors, Chairman Ball remaining firm in his decision to conduct the inquiry in executive session until "matters affecting the navy" were determined.

ELEVEN ARE KILLED TWENTY-FIVE INJURED

MEXICO CITY, July 7.—Eleven persons were killed and twenty-five others injured when a train en route for Tampico from San Luis Potosi was derailed yesterday at Las Cosoos, because of a washout, according to reports received here from Tampico. At the railroad offices here no confirmation of the reports were obtainable.

COTTON RECEIPTS EXCEED LAST YEAR

GALVESTON, July 7.—Receipts of cotton at Galveston today passed the three million mark bale, with the total for the season 3,003,095. This is an increase of 912,559 bales over receipts on the same day last year.

SPIRIT MYSTERIES FEATURE IN TRIAL

Witness Tells of Visits of Mrs. Kaber to Her Home to Obtain Advice.

CLEVELAND, July 7.—Mysteries of the spirit world were discussed today in the trial of Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber, charged with the murder of her husband, Daniel Kaber.

Mrs. Mary J. Wade, who claims to be a spirit medium, told on the witness stand of visits by Mrs. Kaber to her home to obtain advice.

"I want you to try to get rid of Dan Kaber for me," Mrs. Wade said Mrs. Kaber told her on the last visit.

"How?" Mrs. Wade said she asked Mrs. Kaber.

"I want you to kill him—any way to get rid of him. The man I love has no money, only brains, and Mr. Kaber has fifty thousand dollars life insurance," Mrs. Kaber was alleged to have replied.

Mrs. Wade previously had testified Mrs. Kaber told her she had met a professor of an English college where her daughter, Marion McArdle, was in school and that she loved him.

On cross-examination by Attorney W. J. Corrigan, Mrs. Wade said she had been able to communicate with spirits ever since her birth.

"Can you get into communication with the spirit world now?" Corrigan asked.

"Yes."

"Go ahead."

The jury and spectators were all set for a seance but the court sustained an objection interposed by County Prosecutor Edward C. Stanton.

Mrs. Wade then told briefly how she communicated with the spirits.

On one visit Mrs. Wade said Mrs. Kaber was accompanied by her spirit friends.

Mr. Corrigan asked if they were "good spirits." Mrs. Wade said they were.

DERANGED MIND TO BE DEFENSE OF MRS. KABER

CLEVELAND, July 7.—That the plotting of Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber, which resulted in the murder of her husband, Daniel F. Kaber, was the work of a mind deranged from birth and even before, is to be Mrs. Kaber's defense in her trial for first degree murder, according to declaration of her counsel, William J. Corrigan, to the jury of men that is to decide her guilt or innocence. This declaration came as a surprise to the state's counsel as they had expected the defense to be based upon temporary insanity, brought about by alleged practices of the murdered husband. Instead of claiming these alleged practices were the cause of insanity Mr. Corrigan asserted the defense would show they augmented an already weakened and deranged condition of the mind.

It was also intimated by Mr. Corrigan that an attempt would be made by the defense to show that Mrs. Kaber did not anticipate the murder of her husband and actually did not intend that he should be murdered by the two men who are alleged to have stabbed him. Mr. Corrigan said the wounds themselves were proof of this. He asserted the stabbing was done by members of a black hand gang who knew how to kill and that if they had intended to kill their victim they never would have stabbed him where they did, in the lower part of the abdomen.

That the state will attempt to establish that Mrs. Kaber tried to kill her husband by poisoning, a count charged in the indictment, was indicated yesterday when after proving the corpus delecti by Moses Kaber, aged father of the dead man, county attorneys placed Dr. C. F. Hoover, professor of internal medicine at Western Reserve university, on the witness stand to show that Mr. Kaber was suffering from a poisoning. Dr. Hoover said he treated Mr. Kaber but that at the time he was unable to ascertain the cause of the neuritis.

The state has more than 30 witnesses which it expects to call County Prosecutor Edward C. Stanton said he expects the state's testimony to be completed next Tuesday.

GOVERNOR MAY CANCEL A PAROLE AT ANY TIME

AUSTIN, July 7.—The governor of Texas has the right to revoke paroles granted to convicts, at any time he sees fit, regardless of whether the parole has been violated, according to an opinion given to Governor Neff today by the attorney general's department.

GUNBOAT SACRAMENTO ARRIVES AT TAMPICO

Mexican Government Refuses to Comment on Situation Pending Developments.

MEXICO CITY, July 7.—The United States gunboat Sacramento, sent to Mexican waters as a result of alarming reports reaching Washington, arrived at Tampico yesterday and is anchored in the harbor there, it was said in advices received last night from that city.

In view of the regulations of international law which provide that foreign warships can enter the port of any friendly nation and remain for 24 hours, the Mexican foreign office refused last night to comment on the arrival of the Sacramento at Tampico.

"The Mexican government," said Elias F. Calles, secretary of the interior and chief of the cabinet, last night, "does not see in the dispatch of vessels to Tampico a show of naval strength on the part of the United States, inasmuch as there is no conflict at present which might cause the hostile presence of those ships."

The secretary said he anticipated no naval demonstration by the United States at any Mexican port.

President Obregon refused to comment on the situation.

Reports Received Canadian Indians Eat Human Flesh

FORT MCMURRAY, ALBERTA, July 7.—Canadian mounted police left here today to investigate reports that starving Indians in the Caribou tribe have been eating human flesh. The report states that human bones were found showing evidence of cannibalism.

A few years ago officials state caribou were so plentiful that the Indians ate only tongues of the animals which they held as a delicacy. They slaughtered the animals in thousands. The prophesy was made at that time by officials of the Canadian province that the caribou would soon disappear and starvation would face the aborigines.

CONTINUE EFFORTS TO UNRAVEL MYSTERY OF YOUNG WOMAN'S DEATH

RANGER, TEXAS, July 7.—Officers today continued efforts to unravel the mystery surrounding the death yesterday of Miss Mabel Morris, 20, of Drumright, Okla. A coroner's verdict was that the girl died from "fractured skull, cause unknown."

EVIDENCE BEARING ON MISSING NOTE

Submitted By State in Trial of Mrs. James and Goldie Gordon at Tulsa.

TULSA, OKLA., July 7.—Attorneys for the state indicated at the resumption today of the trial of Mrs. Jesse James and Goldie Gordon charged with the murder of Judge John Devereux, that they were prepared to submit evidence bearing on the alleged disappearance of a $10,000 note from the judge's safety deposit box and the cashing by the defendants of checks on the judge's account for $1,200 shortly before his death. The women were nurses.

RULING OF JUDGE A VICTORY FOR DEFENSE

TULSA, OKLA., July 7.—Attorneys for Mrs. Jesse James and Goldie Gordon, on trial here for the alleged murder of Judge John Devereux, scored a temporary victory today when Judge Redmond Cole ruled out testimony of Mrs. G. E. Thomas, proprietor of the apartment where Judge Devereux lived. The state sought to have the testimony given by Mrs. Thomas at the preliminary read in the record of the trial. Mrs. Thomas is at a sanitarium in Minnesota, where her son underwent an operation, and cannot testify.

Mrs. Thomas' testimony at the preliminary dealt with alleged conflicting statements made to her by Mrs. James relative to an injury which Judge Devereux received on the head and which was said by a committee of physicians to have been partly responsible for his death.

DALLAS WOMAN IS KILLED IN WRECK DAUGHTER INJURED

DALLAS, July 7.—Mrs. W. T. Watson, 32, of Dallas, was killed and her 11-year-old daughter, Ola May, seriously injured when an automobile driven by Mrs. Watson ran into a ditch and turned over on the Dallas-Fort Worth pike just east of Grand Prarie early today. Mrs. Watson was on her way to spend the day with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Garrett at Grand Prairie.

DR. CARRICK REFUSES A REQUEST FOR NEW LAW

AUSTIN, TEXAS, July 7.—The request of a Texas citizen that a bill be introduced in the legislature providing certificates of ability for masseurs, barbers, manicurists and chiropodists has been refused by Dr. Manton M. Carrick, state health officer.

The writer of the letter to Dr. Carrick enclosed a bill introduced in the Illinois general assembly, in which these practices were referred to as "cosmetic therapy," and those taking out certificates called "registered cosmeticians," the certificate to be given by the state department of registration and education. The writer also insisted that Dr. Carrick present the bill to Governor Neff as urgent legislation and request that he submit it to the special session of the legislature. Dr. Carrick said he would not do so.

LEOPARD RELEASED FROM CAGE ON VESSEL CREATES PANIC AMONG PASSENGERS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—A leopard released from its cage on the forward deck of the Pacific mail liner Granite State, which arrived here yesterday from Calcutta, created excitement among the passengers while the liner was at sea, according to passengers and crew. The animal broke loose during a storm and was captured after it had been locked in the officers' mess room and prodded into a cage.

BANDITS ROB BANK AND SHOOT OFFICER

Make Getaway in Launch on Lake Erie But Are Later Captured, According to Report.

ASHTABULA, OHIO, July 7.—The Marine National bank at Ashtabula Harbor was robbed this afternoon of $3,000 and Policeman Shennon shot through the mouth by several bandits who fled in a launch on Lake Erie. It is reported the bandits have been captured.

FAVORABLE REPORT ON CAPPER-TINCHER BILL MADE TO THE SENATE

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Favorable report on the Capper-Tincher bill to regulate future dealings on grain exchanges was ordered today by the senate agriculture committee by unanimous vote.

INVESTIGATING MUTINY ON BOARD POCAHONTAS

NAPLES, July 7.—The American consulate here is engaged in an investigation of the mutiny on board the American steamer Pocahontas which left New York May 23 and did not arrive here until Monday last because of trouble with the crew and damage to the machinery which necessitated a long stop at the Azores.

"It appears from the information so far available that because of the seamen's strike in New York a crew consisting mostly of foreigners was engaged for the Pocahontas and that when the steamer was well out to sea, some of the men began to threaten the commander and to damage the machinery and the electric lighting apparatus, and even to attempt it is declared, to sink the steamer. After volunteer aid from the passengers had enabled the steamer to reach the Azores, through temporary repairs being made, the vessel was laid up at St. Michaels and repairs of a more permanent nature effected the Pocahontas finally reaching Naples after a voyage of six weeks.

OFFICERS DENY REPORTS OF MUTINY ON VESSEL

NEW YORK, July 7.—Officials of the United States Mail Steamship company today denied reports from Naples that a mutiny had occurred on the steamship Pocahontas during her voyage from New York to that port. She carried 420 passengers.

Wireless reports from the captain said that two men in the engine room force were giving trouble. On arrival of the ship at St. Michaels, these men were arrested and confined aboard the vessel.

GOVERNOR DENNY NAMES GEN. T. COLEMAN DU PONT SENATOR FROM DELAWARE

DOVER, DEL., July 7.—General T. Coleman DuPont was today appointed United States senator from Delaware by Governor Denney to succeed Josiah O. Wolcott, who resigned last week to become chancellor of Delaware.

The appointment of General DuPont adds a republican to the senate. Senator Wolcott having been elected to the office as a democrat.

PRESIDENT DISCUSSES BONUS BILL WITH A NUMBER OF SENATORS

APPEARS UNANNOUNCED AT CAPITOL TO HAVE LUNCHEON WITH LEADERS.

CONSIDER HOUSE ACTION ON THE TARIFF MEASURE

After Luncheon President Retires to Private Office and Sends For McCumber and Underwood.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—President Harding plans to address congress in a formal way soon, probably by special message, on the subject of the soldiers' bonus legislation and also the tariff and tax bills.

During an unannounced visit today to the capitol, the president was understood to have told senators that he would supplement his conferences today with a message on the bonus legislation. The president was quoted as favoring such legislation but the question of its immediate enactment or deferment temporarily to expedite the fiscal legislation for which the extra session of congress was called was said to be in his mind.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Deferment of senate action on the soldier bonus bill and suspension of business by the senate while awaiting house action on the permanent tariff bill were said to have been topics of discussion at a luncheon conference today between President Harding and republican senators at the capitol.

The conference was informal and grew out of the president's unannounced arrival at the capitol to have luncheon with a group of senators, including Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the republican leader. After the luncheon the president retired to his private office off the senate chamber and sent for Senator McCumber, republican, North Dakota, in charge of the bonus bill, and Senator Underwood of Alabama, the democratic leader, who spoke at length yesterday in opposition to the bonus bill.

The president was said to have stated there was some legislation which, he believed, ought to be deferred. He did not specify the particular bills in talking with some of the senators, but they said they gathered the impression that the bonus legislation was in his mind.

PRESIDENT HARDING BREAKS A PRESIDENTIAL PRECEDENT

WASHINGTON, July 7.—President Harding broke a presidential precedent today by motoring to The capitol and taking lunch with some of his old associates in the senate. The president left the white house at one p.m. without announcing his destination and dropped in unexpectedly on the senators in the midst of their luncheon hour. To all appearances Mr. Harding's trip to the other end of the "avenue" was purely social in character, although it was taken for granted that pressing questions of legislation undoubtedly would come up for discussion during the visit.

ANOTHER GERMAN GENERAL IS ACQUITTED BY COURT

By Associated Press.

LEIPSIC, July 7.—Dr. Schmidt president of the supreme court in announcing the acquittal of Lieut. General Karl Stenger of the charge of having ordered the execution of wounded French soldiers and prisoners, and the conviction of Major Ernno Crusius on the same charge declared that an experienced officer like Crusius should have known General Stenger was incapable of giving such order. Crusius was sentenced yesterday to two years' imprisonment and was deprived of the right to wear the German uniform in the future.

It has not been established that Stenger gave the order of which he is accused," said Dr. Schmidt. "The executions which undoubtedly occurred, cannot be imputed to him. No credence can be attached to the evidence of Heinhaus—and oberdorff—two of the witnesses against the prisoners."

"Crusius was not responsible for his actions on August 28, owing to mental derangement, but on August 21 he knew quite well what he was doing. The actions of Crusius were due to negligence, he thought Stenger had given the order to finish off the wounded and prisoners. An experienced officer like himself, however, should have known that Stenger was not capable of giving such an order."

During the trial Dr. Sernau, an alienist, testified that Crusius had been sent home from the front a nervous wreck and had repeatedly told him that "his soul collapse was chiefly due to the ghastly scenes witnessed on the battlefield incident to General Stenger's order to shoot wounded men and prisoners."

ACQUITTED GENERAL GETS CHEERS FROM THE CROWD

BERLIN, July 7.—The Tageblatt says today that Lieut. General Stenger, on leaving the court room in Leipsic after his acquittal of the charge of having ordered the shooting of wounded French soldiers and prisoners, was hailed with loud cheers. Four Frenchmen who attended the trial in behalf of the French government, the newspaper asserts, were received with cries of "shame."

WOULD ADMIT JAPANESE LABORERS TO HAWAII

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Authority during the next five years to permit the entry of Japanese laborers to the Hawaiian islands would be granted the president by a resolution introduced today by Delegate Kalanianole who urged the house immigration committee to take immediate steps to relieve the labor situation in Hawaii.

RECOVER MORE OF GOODS BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN STOLEN

Nine rolls of composition belting such as is used on threshing outfits was recovered by the police department Thursday morning and another incriminating link established in the chain of evidence being wound around a trio of men, two of them former police officials, who are now charged with theft of interstate commerce shipments.

A man was arrested in connection with the theft and is now being held in the city jail pending further outcome of the situation. No complaints have been filed against him, although he is alleged to have admitted purchasing the belts from one of the former policemen, with the full knowledge that it had been stolen. The prisoner taken into custody Thursday is proprietor of a local machine shop.

The latest recovery amounts to about $300 in value, it was stated at police headquarters, and brings the value of the goods recovered thus far well over the thousand dollar mark. The belting is believed to have been taken only a short time before the arrest of the thieves.

There still remains thousands of dollars worth of goods that have been taken from the railroads and are not yet accounted for, according to Chief of Police Huff, but it is thought that in time all of this will be found.

ADJOURNED SESSION OF CITY COUNCIL SCHEDULED FOR FRIDAY AFTERNOON

At an adjourned meeting of the city council at 3:30 Friday, attention will be given the various paving protests submitted at last Monday night's hearing. It is expected that Mayor Cline will return from Louisiana in time for the session.

The council is expected to abandon the Fifteenth street project, owing to the numerous objections from property owners. When the matter first came up, the council declared that the project would not be undertaken unless desired by the property owners, and while it was indicated at that time that the owners were anxious for the paving, Monday night's developments put a different aspect on the matter. It is understood that Fourteenth street property owners will revive the effort to get the paving on that street.

A decision will also be reached Friday as to the paving of north Indiana, where property owners are seeking to revise the agreement under which the paving was originally ordered.

AMERICAN BURLESQUE CIRCUIT HAS ADOPTED THE OPEN SHOP

NEW YORK, July 7—Directors of the American Burlesque Circuit today decided to adopt the open shop policy.

CONDITIONS IN THIS CITY BEST IN TEXAS JOHNSON DECLARES

"Wichita Falls is in far better condition than any city in Texas that I have visited," B. F. Johnson told members of the Rotary club today. It was Mr. Johnson's first meeting in some weeks, as he has been all over the state during the past two months, in the interest of the repeal of the truck tax bill.

Mr. Johnson said that business men here seem to be facing the future with much more cheerfulness and confidence than is evident in other Texas cities, and that it was his belief that conditions were fundamentally sounder here. Mr. Johnson favored starting a movement to have all Rotary clubs meet on the same day of the week, so that traveling members might know, when in a strange town, when the meeting would be.

Bert Scharff presided at the meeting in the absence of President Horrace Robbins. There was no formal program for the day, the principal entertainment feature being the effort of the club as a whole to master a new song in which the words weren't geared to the tune.

C. W. LANE SUCCUMBS TO BRIEF ILLNESS THURSDAY

C. W. Lane died early Thursday morning at the Wichita General hospital after a short illness. The funeral services are to be held Friday at the home of a sister, Mrs. C. C. Hurless, at 304 Elm street.

Mr. Lane is survived by his wife and three children, Frances Blanche, Troy and Carl Lane Jr., and by his parents, three sisters, and four brothers.

EDUCATION PRIMARILY A MEANS OF ESTABLISHING IDEALS SAYS COOLIDGE

PHILADELPHIA, July 7—Science, commerce and social culture could not progress if our educational system dropped the classics of ancient civilization from its curriculum, Vice-President Calvin Coolidge today told the American Classical league, at session at the University of Pennsylvania.

Education is primarily a means of establishing ideals, the vice-president said, its first duty being the formation of character, which is the result of heredity and training. It is the ancient classis, he declared, that inspire the ideals toward which all men and nations are advancing today.

"The most pressing requirement of the present hour," the speaker asserted, "is not how we are to solve our economic problems, but where are we to find the sustaining influences for the realities of life? How are we to justify the existing form of government in our republic? On what can we rely for a continuation of that service of sacrifice which has made modern civilization possible?

"The progress of the present era gives no new answer to these problems. There are no examples of heroism which outrival Leonidas at Thermopyloe, or Horatius at the bridge. The literature of Greece and Rome, is, from beginning to end, an inspiring plea for patriotism.

"The world has recently awakened to the value and the righteousness of democracy. This ideal is not new. It has been the vision which the people of many nations have followed through centuries. Because men know that the ideal had been partly realized in Greece and Rome they have had faith that it would be fully realized in Europe and America."

There has been a theory, Vice-President Coolidge continued, that all learning ought to be at once translated into scientific and commercial activities. Advancement, however, cannot be insured without a culture, he declared.

"Unless Americans shall continue to live in something more than the present, to be moved by something more than material gains, they will go down as other peoples have gone down, before some nation possessed of a greater moral force. The will to endure is not the creation of a moment, it is the result of long training."

Another Regains His Speech During Ride in Airplane

INDIAN HEAD, SASK., July 7—A case parallel to that of the American soldier who regained his speech, during an airplane flight, has been brought to light here. Over a year ago Wilfred Verner, a young farmer, was kicked in the head by a horse, and he had been unable to speak until the other day at a picnic he took an airplane ride. As a result of sharp loops and dives he was ill when he landed but was able to talk.

ELECTIONS TO BE HELD IN PORTUGAL ON JULY 10

MADRID, July 7—Elections will be held throughout Portugal on July 10, but royalist exiles living in Spain do not expect their party to obtain a majority in the chamber of deputies, or even a strong representation as a result of the balloting. They assert that the republican government of Portugal has decided to use the registration lists of 1919, from which most royalist partisans were excluded.

NATIONALISTS DEMAND THAT SULTAN ABDICATE

By Associated Press.

ATHENS, July 7—The Turkish nationalist government in Angora, according to advices from Constantinople, has demanded that Sultan Mohammed VI abdicate. The latter replied he was ready to abdicate in favor of any member of the imperial family with the exception of Prince Abdul Medjid, the legal heir, who belongs to the nationalist party, the advices add.

KANSAS PETITIONS FOR RATE REDUCTION ON GRAIN AND HAY

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The petition of the Kansas public utilities commission for a reduction of freight rates on grain and hay in western territory was presented today to Chairman Clark of the interstate commerce commission by Clyde M. Reed, chairman of the Kansas commission. He was accompanied by members of the Kansas congressional delegation.

Proposals that hearings be held before the commission here instead of in the different states involved, met with the approval of Chairman Clark, Mr. Reed said, adding that the proposal would be made to the different state commissions by John E. Benton, general counsel for the state commissions.

Reduction of rates in the western territory would involve the rates in all territories, Chairman Clark said, and one hearing in which all states would be given opportunities to present their views would expedite the inquiry.

The Kansas congressional delegation presented a petition to Chairman Clark declaring since the Kansas wheat crop has just been harvested and the bulk of the movement must take place within the next 90 days, early relief in the matter of freight rates is imperative.

The petition declared present freight rates were a ruinous burden to the producers and in many cases are actually prohibitive."

DODSON KILLING USE OF CALOMEL

Says Drug is Mercury and Acts Like Dynamite on Your Liver.

Dodson is making a hard fight against calomel in the south. Every druggist has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason, Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggists. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist. A large bottle costs but a few cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tone instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition.—adv

NON-PARTISAN LEAGUE CONSIDERS CONDUCT OF PARTISAN NEWSPAPERS

FARGO, N. D., July 7.—The state executive committee of the non-partisan league convened here today to consider steps in connection with the conduct of league newspapers as a result of the suppression yesterday of a special edition of the Fargo Courier-News in which charges of misuse of league funds were made.

The Courier-News issued a statement today saying the special edition had been the "work of disgruntled employes."

Greatest Stove Offer Ever Made

We will deliver into your kitchen this wonderful gas range equipped with a "Lorain" Oven Heat Regulator — give you a free home-demonstration, and let you use the range for thirty days—

FREE

We make this remarkable offer to prove to you conclusively that this wonderful invention will do all that we and the manufacturers claim it will do. We realize that this stove does so many things in a new and better way—does so many things that other stoves can't do—does everything so easily, perfectly, pleasingly—that housewives just won't believe until they actually try out the stove in their own kitchen.

Here's The Offer: Just come to our store. Pick out the gas range you like the best. Pick out the one that fits the space in your kitchen. Tell us your name and address. Tell us the day and time you want it delivered. Now—we'll deliver the range you select. We'll disconnect your old range, and move it out of your way. We'll connect the new range. Then we'll send to your home a trained expert to show you the new and wonderful things you can do with a stove that's equipped with a "Lorain" Oven Heat Regulator. Then for four weeks you can use it any way you please.

Now—if at the end of thirty days you are not thoroughly convinced that it's the best stove you ever used; or if you haven't been able to do more things with it than you were ever able to do before—and do them easier and better; or if for ANY reason you do not want the stove—just call us up. We'll replace your old stove just as it was. We'll take the new stove back to the store—and we'll not charge you a single penny for all the work and use of the range.

Just an Idea

To give you just an idea of what a "Lorain-Equipped" stove will do:

First—You can cook a whole meal in the oven at one time—soup, fish, meat, vegetables, dessert.

Second—You can put the meal in the oven at noon, and return at four, five, six, or seven o'clock. Nothing will be burned or overdone. The foods will be hot, brown, delicious.

Third—You can exactly duplicate every cooking success—the same flavor, the same brown, the same flakiness, crispness, fluffyness—whatever you will, and exactly as you will it.

Fourth—You can take fresh fruits or vegetables, peel them, wash them, place them in glass jars, then place the jars in the oven for an hour or so. A year afterward you can eat from those same jars the most delicious canned fruit, or vegetables, you ever tasted.

Now you KNOW you want to try out this wonderful range, so why delay? It is now possible for you to try it in your own kitchen, free of charge.

NEW WATER MAIN IS NOW SERVING MOST OF FLORAL HEIGHTS

Improved water pressure in Floral Heights has resulted from partial completion of the 14-inch main being strung from the water plant to Hayes street. The line has been laid as far west as Harrison street, where it was tied into the distributing pipes already in use.

Work on the big main is now temporarily halted while the ditching machine is being used on Indiana and Ohio, laying pipe that must be put down before paving starts.

Manager F. N. Lawton of the water department states that the ditching machine has already paid for itself, giving no trouble whatever. In laying the big main, use was also made of an automatic compressor, for welding the joints of pipe. Recently two men welded 996 feet of pipe in one day, said to be a record.

REVIVAL IS CONDUCTED AT FIFTH AND BLUFF STREETS

Evangelist J. E. Gaar is conducting a meeting at the corner of Fifth and Bluff, where services are held each night. For the service Wednesday evening his text was from Eph. 3:20: "Now unto him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us." Rev. Gaar said, in part:

"I lost my lace jacket (or became free) 25 years ago. I love God, my neighbor and am desperately in love with a lost world. I want to go to heaven before I cool off, let up or backslide. I want to reach all the people I can. I believe in the Holy Ghost religion that's prayed down. If you are not in a good humor, why pray up, believe up, hope, pack up and get ready to go up. Bring your Bibles. Am anxious, longing to see scores of souls come into the fountain of life.

"The main thoughts of the text are ability, his willingness and his readiness. Our difficulty is measuring God's ability by man's ability. The measure of success in this meeting is our faith. God is able to save the usual severe cases. To illustrate: The man among the tombs had four characteristics. First, he lived in the grave yard, second, he was lawless, broke the chains asunder; third, he was a wild man; four, crying and lacerating himself. God's ability resulting in clothing the man in his right mind, sitting at the feet of Jesus.

"We need to deal definitely. Every help desire or anxiety of your heart God will satisfy. Ask for what you want, whether it is a blessing on your own heart or souls to be saved. God is willing and ready to give a revival, ready to pardon, ready to make past records clean, ready to forgive."

BERLIN STRIKE THREATENS TO INVOLVE ALL WORKERS

BERLIN, July 7.—The strike of laborers employed on lands controlled by the municipality of Berlin, in progress for some time, is threatening to develop into a general strike of all the municipal workers in support of the agricultural laborers. Their leaders state that partial returns of a vote show there will be a two-third majority for a strike.

The communist organ, the Red Flag, declares that as far as the electric and tramway workers of Greater Berlin are concerned, the two-thirds majority necessary for the general strike already has been exceeded.

TOOTS AND CASPER—Casper Looks Like a Ferocious Flirt. Oh, My Yes! —BY J. E. MURPHY

TOUSSAINT WOULD SACRIFICE BLOOD FOR TRANSFUSION

Henry J. Toussaint, prisoner in the county jail facing a charge of murder, in a letter to The Times Thursday stated that he was willing to sacrifice the required amount of blood needed in the transfusion operation as detailed in Wednesday evening's issue.

The prisoner stated that he was in good health and that he would gladly make this sacrifice provided the sick party was of a respectable character and loyal to his family.

There was a large number of applications received by the Red Cross in answer to the articles in The Times and a test was being made Thursday of each applicant to determine the condition of the blood of each.

The letter of Toussaint in full follows:

"In answer to a notice on the front sheet of your yesterday's issue, requesting someone to donate some red blood for a dying man. I wish to make an offer to furnish same, provided the sick party is really worthy of me making such a sacrifice. That is, if he is of a respectable character and loyal to his family.

"I am not in a position to take up this matter personally and ask that you call up Red Cross headquarters, also get in touch with Sheriff Smith who will co-operate with you in this act of humanity and make arrangements so that I can leave the county bastile in which I am confined and have the blood extracted.

Physically I am in the best of health and not going through any exertion, I feel I shall not suffer much from weakness from the effects. Very truly yours,

"Henry J. Toussaint."

THIRTEEN MURDER CASES ON DOCKET IN THIS COUNTY

Thirteen murder cases stand on the dockets of the district courts in this county. There are three more represented in the county jail. In the latter instances decisions of the higher courts are being awaited.

In three of the cases on the docket no arrests have been made, while the remainder are either under arrest or out on bond.

It is believed that a number of these cases, perhaps three or four, will be disposed of during the present term of the 30th district court.

General Exodus Of Undesirables From Muskogee

MUSKOGEE, OKLA., July 7.—A noticeable exodus from the city of undesirable citizens resulted from the kidnaping and mistreatment last night of Billy Ware, alleged police character. It was said today by the authorities. Ware was taken by a party of masked men to a secluded spot about five miles from town and beaten, according to the story he told the police, until he revealed information relative to a former kidnaping. The police have been unable to identify any of his assailants.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR SALVAGING THE GLOUCESTER

HALIFAX, N. S., July 7.—Word came today from Sable Island that prospects were bright for salvaging the Gloucester schooner Esperanto, winner of last year's international fishermen's race, which was wrecked several weeks ago. It was expected that with good conditions she might be floated and started for Halifax today.

The difficulties of the salvaging expedition have been increased by danger of hunger and thirst. A still was improvised for treating sea water and all the crew sent fishing when not on other duty.

Ancient Persians punished murderers only if they were habitually given to killing.

PLAN ORGANIZATION OF ALL FAIRS IN THE STATE

DALLAS, July 7.—Consolidation of the 70 fair associations in Texas into an organiation for mutual help and protection is to be effected under direction of the Texas chamber of commerce, according to Stuart M. McGregor, publicity manager of that body.

Under the proposed plans, the central association would serve as a clearing house for matters relating to all fair associations in the state and many serious conflicts in dates be avoided, Mr. McGregor said. The association would endeavor to aid its members by passing worthy exhibits from one fair to another and would handle the problem of concessions in a business-like manner, it was pointed out.

Mr. McGregor mentioned the cooperation between the Texas State Fair at Dallas and Waco's Texas Cotton Palace as examples of what the state fair association might be able to accomplish.

"Dallas and Waco pass on their best exhibits to the other city," he said, "and care is taken that dates for the two expositions do not conflict. Both profit immensely in the matter of their displays. This idea of cooperation would be extended, by means of the association, to all such events in the state."

Mr. McGregor said he plans to call a meeting of managers and secretaries of all community and county fairs for discussion of the proposed organization.

REPORTS FROM FIRE SWEPT AREA NOT ENCOURAGING

QUEBEC, July 7.—Reports from the area in this province being swept by forest fires continue to be anything but reassuring. Premier Taschereau and Honore Mercier, minister of crown lands, said today after a conference last night with forest rangers throughout the province.

Local showers have in some instances helped where fires were just starting but where the blaze had gained a headway it was declared a long and heavy downpour would be necessary to relieve the situation.

House Party Doesn't Lose One Golden Minute, and Program Is Still "Full"

Beginning with the breakfast with which Mrs. C. W. Snider, fraternity sister of the Kappa Kappa Gamma, complimented Miss Lula Wood and Miss Ruth Barnard, newest local members of the fraternity, on Wednesday morning the house party which opened so happily Sunday afternoon at the Wood home danced through the whole day without time for a single dull moment.

Mrs. Snider's breakfast given at the Golf club, included in its personnel of guests only Kappa Kappa Gamma members and Mesdames C. J. Barnard, Clint Wood and J. W. Maupin. After the breakfast, which was served on the cool porch dining room at the club, the girls sang fraternity songs and talked over college happenings, spending several delightful hours. Those who enjoyed Mrs. Snider's pretty hospitality included Misses Wall, Howe, Brooks, Wood, Ruth Barnard and McCullough, and Mesdames Fred Elbert, Ross Mason, Warren Dale, Robert Collier and Circle Donald.

Bridge Luncheon.

Miss Wood's bridge luncheon followed close upon the winged heels of the breakfast party, and was given at her home on Brook.

The table was beautifully decorated and centered with a big basket of Shasta daisies. The place cards were tiny hand-painted fans, suggesting a motif further preserved in the party and bearing the guest's names. At each plate a tiny atomizer of delicate perfume invited the attention of the diner nearest, and served as mementoes of the luncheon, which was served in four dainty courses.

After luncheon the tables were arranged for bridge, and the afternoon spent at the game. Miss Howe won high score, and the first prize, a beautiful hand-painted sandalwood fan, and Miss Lois Moore low, with the consolation of a pretty Jap fan. The guest favors, presented to the house party members, were hand-painted fans.

The guests included the house party members and Misses Cecilia and Sadie Adickes, Ruby and Gretchen Avis, Lois and Katheryn Moore, Margaret Duncan, Sybil Kell, Mattie Ruth Corlett, Louise Frieze, Crystelle Waggoner, Ethel Owen, Madeline Mackechney, Katheryn Noble, Ruth Barnard and Adele Marcus.

MRS. HARVEY ENTERTAINS AT COUNTRY CLUB IN THE EVENING

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Harvey were host and hostesses at the Country club Wednesday evening for the young ladies of the house party, closing one of the happiest days of the gathering with one of the happiest hospitalities. Two dozen young men and women, with Mr. and Mrs. Harvey and Mr. and Mrs. Wood, made up the personnel of the party, and spent the evening swimming, dancing, patting on the green, and dancing again. At 10 o'clock a two-course salad luncheon was served to the following: Misses Wood, Howe, Brooks and Wall, Ruth Barnard, Madeline Mackechney, Crystelle Waggoner, Gretchen Avis, Adele Marcus, Cecilia and Sadie Adickes, Rhoda Willis and Mattie Lee Strauss, Messrs. Charles and Robert Nolen, Jackson Henry and Ernest Robertson, Callendar, Frank Wood, Crim McCutcheon, Sam Mann, Cullen Massie, Sam Beattie and Walter Nelson, and Mr. and Mrs. Wood and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey.

TUESDAY BRIDGE LUNCHEON HAS PARTY WITH MRS. J. L. JACKSON JR.

The Tuesday Bridge luncheon club members and a table of visitors were guests at a pretty orange party given by Mrs. J. L. Jackson Jr. at her home, Wednesday.

The orange motif was most attractively suggested throughout the party, orange colored nasturtiums being used in pretty baskets and pots for decorations, with hand-painted orange nasturtium score cards. The luncheon menu included chicken salad in orange cups, stuffed celery hearts and orange ice.

High score was won by Mrs. Jack Oltorf among the members and Mrs. Walter Robbins among the guests, and to both, and to Mrs. Clint Murchison, holding low score, the hostess presented pretty gifts, which were also suggestive of the orange motif. The players included the club members and a table of guests—Mrs. Walter Robbins and Misses Taylor of Tyler, Ruth Chumney of Austin and Nell McKibben of Vernon.

SIX O'CLOCK DINNER HONORS GRADUATE NURSES TUESDAY

Miss Helene Bingsten, superintendent of the Wichita General hospital, was hostess at a most attractively planned 6:00 o'clock dinner in the hospital dining room Tuesday evening honoring Misses Myrtle Payne and Alma Wagnon, 1921 graduates of the three-year nursing course at the General.

The occasion was in the nature of a homecoming also for the graduate nurses of the General, who made up the personnel of the dinner party. The dining room was prettily decorated with cut flowers, and the table centered with a tulle tied basket of gladioli and fern. Plate favors were dainty little rose baskets. Dr. Joe E. Daniels acted as toastmaster, and the double quartet of guests enjoyed a number of reminiscing talks and happy toasts during the serving of a five course dinner.

Those present included Misses Payne and Wagnon, Myrtle Wells, Frances Liemann, Leone K. Rand, Myrtle Pittman and Vera Bamberg, Mrs. Leone Guy Leslie, and Drs. Daniels and J. C. A. Guest.

LATEST STYLE

By LENORE

When the young belle turns from daylight to evening hours, she may take on the mystery and romance of old Spain in a shadowy black frock of satin and Chantilly done in the Spanish manner. Note the quaint little bodice wrinkled about the slender waist, and the filmy bouffancy of the lace, supported at the hips by invisible wiring. Back and front remain flat against the slimness of the satin underneath, the brief underskirt emphasizing the intangibility of the silhouette.

French costumers are still enthusiastic over this Spanish effect, and there is little doubt of its general acceptance during the coming season. Even now the full-skirted evening frock is shown by the side of the slim effect. But ladies, beware! It is meant for youth and slenderness.

PATTERN NO. 202.

A pattern for the above model (No. 202) can be obtained in sizes 34, 36, 38 or 40, by sending to Lenore, 8 West Fortieth street, New York City, your name, address, the number of this pattern and the size required, and 25 cents in postage stamps. Be sure to keep this newspaper clipping of the sketch and description of the garment to use as a working model when the pattern reaches you—which will be within two weeks' time.—The Editor.

SWITZERLAND'S PRIZE BEAUTY

Miss Martha Muller, winner of the National Swiss beauty contest recently held at Berne. Several hundred women from all parts of Switzerland were entered in the contest. Out of this number sever were chosen. Pictures of these seven were furnished to all the moving picture theaters, and the photos were shown on the screen. The public was then asked to vote for the girl they thought the prettiest. In this way Miss Muller was elected.

SWIM AND SUPPER AT FOREST COUNTRY CLUB FOR VISITOR

Among the other hospitalities which have made Mrs. H. M. Harvey's visit with Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Connell pass pleasantly was a swimming party and picnic supper given by several friends at the Forest Country club Wednesday night.

The guests went out on a big truck and in several cars, enjoying half an hour's swim before supper. The repast, sandwiches, olives, pickles, chicken, cakes, soda pop and lemonade, was served on the board table during a jolly hour, after which the guests were entertained for another hour at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Art. Those who were present included, besides the guest of honor, Mrs. Harvey of Nashville, Tenn., Messrs. and Mesdames Art, Connell, Gene Seagle, John Morrison, H. A. Deans and T. M. Rinehardt; Misses Rose Riesenberg, Kathryn Brothers and Irene Davidson; Messrs. Julius Levy, Harry Viner, Abbott, Workman, Milburn Nutt and Fred Clark, and Drs. Coleman and Ledford.

ASK FOR and GET Horlick's The Original Malted Milk for Infants and Invalids Avoid Imitations and Substitutes

My grandfather says that once when he was down south licking the war him and a couple of other fellas went out fishing in the Gulf of Mexico on a boat and he said that the Gulf was so full of catfish that when they would pull one out of the water they would have to beat the rest back with clubs to keep them from following it, and he said that he got all covered with the slippery stuff off the catfish from faking them off the hook so that when the boat tipped his pants was so slippery that he skidded off the box he was setting on and went overboard. And he said that he found out that the slippery stuff is what makes a catfish swim so good, because he slid through the water faster than a steamboat and clumb up on a rock when he got to it, and just then a offshore gale come up and he was looking at the boat and the wind blew the anchor off the front of it and clear out to the end of the rope and it stayed in the air and pulled the boat after it till the boat was out of sight and he never seen his friends again.

I asted him how he got ashore and he said the wind blew all the water out of the Gulf into the ocean and he walked ashore without getting his feet wet, but he hated to lose all the fish he had ketched. It is a offal thing to have a lire for a grandfather, but a fella kindo likes to listen to him. I should think that a old lire that had set on a piece of punk on the Fourth and found out what a fire feels like would try to go to heaven.

We went out behind our barn and talked about it and we all knew it couldn't happen, but all the fellas said they wished they had a grandfather like that, not only because he was a good lire but he gave me a dollar for the Fourth, and just as we were going to go and play ball my mother called me so we scrooged down and went down the alley to get away, but just as me and Jubilee was almost around the corner someone hollered, "You come back here, young man!" and I turned around and looked and my ant had her head out of the manure hole looking at me.

I just swang my shoulders and walked around the corner, and then me and Jubilee legged it as fast as we could and came around the front way and went in the front door, and I was in the kitchen with my mother when my ant came up the steps and

And just as we were going to go and play ball my mother called me so we scrooged down and went down the alley to get away, opened her face to tell my mother that I heard her holler and wouldn't come, and when she seen me setting there she forgot to close her face. Then after awhile she said how long had I been there and I said quite a while, and she said she could of swore she saw me in the alley, I guess she was disappointed. Darn a ant. Me and Jubilee had to stay home and mind Annabell Lee. Darn a kid sister!

Mercury Climbs Way Up Wednesday, Summer's Hottest

Wednesday was probably the hottest day Wichita Falls has experienced this summer. The thermometer registered above the 95 mark late in the forenoon, stepped up to 101 in the afternoon, and stuck there like Fort Worth in the percentage column.

During the night the mercury dropped all the way down to 80 degrees. Thursday gave some promise of being more reasonable, with a reappearance of the south breeze.

Secured Lasting Relief from Bad Case of Indigestion

Dallas man suffered for years, yet Ware's Black Powder brought quick and lasting relief, he says.

The remarkable value of Ware's Black Powder in the treatment of indigestion is shown in the case of Mr. G. M. Anderson of Dallas, who writes, under date of Sept. 9th, 1920:

"I suffered from indigestion for many years, and got in such condition I could not work at times. Ware's Black Powder was recommended to me, and I started taking it. After using two or three bottles I was permanently relieved. I believe Ware's Black Powder is without an equal for its recommended use."

This wonderful remedy is sold by all druggists for 60c and $1.20 the package. Not a purgative. Contains no harmful drugs. Forty years in use. Send for Dr. Ware's free booklet on digestive trouble.

THE WARE CHEMICAL CO., Dallas.

"Thanks to Ware's Baby Powder, My Baby Boy is Fine and Sturdy"

This famous Medicine brought Quick and Lasting Relief in bad case of Bowel Trouble.

On May 25th, 1920, Mrs. E. Howard of Marquez, Texas, writes: "My little boy was a year old when his bowels got bad. We tried everything we had ever heard of, with no result, until a friend recommended Ware's Baby Powder. We gave it to him according to directions, and he began to change in every way until he got entirely well. Thanks to the powder, he is a fine, sturdy boy of three years. I am now giving it to my 7-month-old baby girl with the same good results."

Ware's Baby Powder is just as successful in cases of teething, summer complaint and stomach trouble. Given to babies in liquid form, mixed with sugar and water, they love to take it. Perfectly harmless. At all druggists. 60c and $1.20 the package.

DEAD LOSS

The Illinois Central railroad recently appealed to shippers for help in eliminating an economic waste which last year amounted to $104,398,930. This enormous sum was paid last year by railroads of the first class in the United States for damages resulting from insufficient or improper packing and loading of commodities for railroad transportation. For the year, 1916, the railroads paid similarly $23,346,965, approximately $81,000,000 less than the loss of last year. The study and comparison of the figures for 1916 and those of last year indicate that the greater part of the loss is due to carelessness.

The railroads are not alone to blame for this loss, far from it. Shipping clerks, truckers and individual shippers share this very great responsibility.

The payment of such a huge sum reacts against all of us. The railroads' earnings are cut down, manufacturing plants are slowed down and business generally helps carry the load, an unnecessary load of useless and careless waste. And surely the world has seen sufficient waste for one decade. To continue squandering our resources only postpones the day of sound prosperity.

Sound business men of wide connection and inclusive experience offer the opinion that the coming winter will see more business and bank failures than this country has experienced for many, many years. The economic waste of a war which costs hundreds of billions of dollars cannot be made up with flourishes. Only painstaking, careful, universal saving and effort can in time offset that loss. One hundred millions of dollars a year loss for careless packing and handling of commodities hauled by the railroads is a poor start toward saving and progress.

Some of the old maxims which launched this nation's prosperity could well be taken out and dusted and restored to everyday use. Whatever is worth-while doing is worth-while doing well. And certainly in this instance, a penny saved, when everyone in the industrial fabric saves it, is a million earned.

GETTING RESULTS

When General Dawes of "Hell'n Maria" fame began pushing federal budget plans, the public expected results. It is too early for us to know yet the outcome of this initiative, energy and force, but advance notices from Washington indicate that he will effect a saving of one million dollars a day in the cost of operating our government.

This is a real nest egg with lodestone powers. Add to it the $92,000,000 the house saved on the senate bill, several more millions Walter Brown's commission will save by means of its reorganization—and this program will be whipped into some sort of working order within another 90 days—a hundred million or so saved by a naval holiday, and it may not be necessary to kill the gold-laying goose. That is to say, taxes can be cut down to a point compatible with business progress.

The business of our federal government is about the biggest and poorest handled business in the world. It is high time that government expenses be cut. Not even the richest of nations can call for six billion dollars or more annually from its citizens and have sane expectations for progress and prosperity. For after all the government's money is only the money of individual citizens pooled. It is not secured by magic, it does not come forth by wishing. It is toll taken from the earnings of individual citizens.

Washington is a long distance from the scene of our citizens' plan and toil. Washington is a place peculiarly apart, and even a condition afar off, at times suggesting to the innocent taxpayer, nirvana. But Washingtonian isolation does not carry the right to expend without thorough consideration, or to squander.

WOMEN JURORS

Are women as jurors more likely to reach just decisions than men? Are they more likely to be governed by prejudices than men? Katherine Kaber, on trial for the murder of her husband, believes the answer is affirmative to one or the other of these questions, for her lawyers have carefully excluded women from the jury which was selected to try her case. It is probably that her attorneys believed that in her case women would be less lenient than men. Compassion will doubtless be sought from the jury in Mrs. Kaber's case. Women are generally accredited with having less compassion than men, especially where members of their own sex are involved. Men are generally considered more impressionable to influences outside the law and the evidence in cases where women are concerned than are women jurors.

Jury service by women result in sterner justice for women who transgress the law.

Petroleum Production and Prices.
(Bradstreet July 2)

According to the United States Geological Survey, the production of petroleum in the United States during May, amounting to 41,920,000 barrels, was the greatest ever recorded in any one month. The daily average production of 1,352,258 barrels represented an increase of 16,891 barrels over that for the month of April. The estimated value at the wells of the oil produced during May, about $66,000,000, contrasted with about $113,000,000, the value of the 36,503,000 barrels produced during May, 1920, emphasizes the shrinkage in value due to the precipitous fall in prices of crude oil that has taken place since the beginning of the current year. Daily average consumption of domestic and imported crude oil during May, 1921, decreased 77,414 barrels, and the total daily average consumption of 1,354,419 barrels amounted to only 2,161 barrels a day more than domestic production. Although imports decreased slightly to a daily average of 295,078 barrels, there was a net increase in stocks during the month of more than eight million barrels. Pipeline and tank-farm stocks of domestic petroleum and stocks of Mexican petroleum held in the United States by importers on the last day of May, a total of 155,341,000 barrels, equivalent to 115 days' supply at the current rate of consumption, were the greatest on record. From January to May, 1921, inclusive, the increase in production of petroleum in the United States amounted to more than 21 million barrels as compared with the production in the first five months of 1920. Imports of crude oil for May, which amounted to 9,147,416 barrels, showed a decrease in daily average as compared with April of 39,719 barrels, although for the first five months of the year imports increased more than 25 million barrels as compared with the similar period of 1920. Stocks of Mexican petroleum held in the United States by importers decreased 323,000 barrels, and stocks of Lima-Indiana grade decreased 35,000 barrels, but stocks of all other grades were greatly increased during the month. Net pipe-line and tank-farm stocks east of California increased 5,910,000 barrels, and California stocks increased more than two and a half million barrels.

The bureau of mines has compiled a preliminary estimate of the country's stock of gasoline, which shows 808,551,519 gallons on hand at refineries. This is an increase of 61,328,619 gallons over the figures for April 30, at which time it was announced that the largest supply of gasoline on record was on hand, and is 40 per cent larger than a year ago. The price of gasoline is about 25 per cent below that ruling on January 1 this year.

The following table shows prices of principal grades of crude oil at their present low point this week, the high of 1920, and prices at the beginning of the year 1918:

WHY?—

Do We Speak of the "Banns" of Marriage?

(Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

When we remember that the word "ban" means to forbid, but that, at the same time we speak of the "banns" of marriage in an entirely different sense, it would appear that this word has at least two different sources or roots. But the denunciation or condemnation understood in the verk is really closely allied to the "banns of matrimony," proclamations issued before the wedding so that persons who know of reasons why the ceremony should not be performed may have an opportunity of presenting them.

The difference in the spelling is due to the fact that ecclesiastical language is extremely conservative, so the church has retained the extra "n" while this has been dropped in the more colloquial use of the verb. Both, however, come from the Anglo-Saxon ge-bann, meaning a proclamation, derived in turn from a root which is widely diffused throughout the Teutonic languages. It is only from its secondary meaning of summoning to trial—a meaning inherent in a proclamation of any kind—that "ban" has acquired its denunciatory significance.

My sister Gladdis was up in her room looking at some of the paintings and things she did in Art Skool, and I sed, Hay Gladdis, do a drawing of me, will you Gladdis, wont you Gladdis?

O I gess you'll do to practice on, sed Gladdis. Proberly meening my looks wasent enything wonderfill to draw, and she got out a pencil and a pad of drawing paper and I sat down in a chair and she started to draw me, and after about a minnit I sed, Can I come over and look at it, Gladdis?

Certeny not, keep still, Ive barely started, sed Gladdis. And she kepp on drawing me by putting some lines on the paper and then looking up at me and then drawing some more lines and then looking up at me agen as if she wunted to make sure I hadent changed eny aints the last time she looked, me thinking, G, I know wat, Ill serprise her the next time she looks up.

And I quick terned erround in the chair so wen Gladdis looked up agen all she saw was my back view, saying If you ixpect me to dray you kindly remain in one position please.

Wich position? I sed, and Gladdis sed, Tern erround the way you were immeeditly. Wich I did, saying, Can I come over and look at it now, Gladdis?

No you cant, and now for mersey sakes keep still, youre about as mutch fun to draw as a flee, sed Gladdis. And she kepp on drawing me, and the next time she looked down at the paper agen I quick got off the chair and the next time she looked up to see my face she saw it upside down on account of me standing on the floor on my hands, saying, Hello Gladdis, can you see me all rite?

And I quick got off my hands to keep from falling off, saying, Can I look at it now, Gladdis?

Neither now or at eny future time, sed Gladdis. And she took the page off the pad mad and tore it up, inclooding my pickture on it, me saying, O well, I bet it dident look mutch like me enyways.

And I went out to see if eny of the fellows was out, wich about 4 was.

HUMNAISMS

Inner Lights on Lives and Whims of Personages in the Public Eye

By WILLIAM ATHERTON DU PUY.

"Were you aware," said Dr. E. D. Ball, assistant secretary of agriculture, "that there are plant diseases that are transmitted in exactly the same way that the mosquito is biting you, transmits yellow fever?

"Tipburn in potatoes is such a disease. Spinach blight is another. But the first of them was curly top in sugar beets, a disease which baffled scientists for a decade and cost many millions of dollars.

"A field of beets might be growing ideally. Then the curly top would appear, the leaves would crinkle up and the plants die. I developed the theory out in Colorado that it was insect-borne disease, that a tiny leaf hopper that could hardly be seen with the eye carried it.

"I took healthy beet plants and exposed them to the leaf hopper and they got the disease. Plants from the same field, shielded from it, remained healthy.

"These insects insert their little bills in a leaf just as a mosquito bites. As soon as a leaf hopper drinks of the sap of an infected plant it becomes a carrier. Whatever plant it bites thereafter gets the disease.

"The establishment of this fact is as vital in combating this disease as was the establishment of the mosquito theory in yellow fever."

When W. L. Radcliffe, the Chautauqua man, was a youngster, he told me, he lived in a mill town near Petersburg, Va. His father owned a mill and he went to school. All the other boys, son of mill hands, worked. So young Radcliffe was the only one of the crowd who learned to read.

So one Sunday when he was out on a hike with "the gang" they sat down on a big flat rock and he told them the story of Sinbad, the sailor.

Thus was Radcliffe's first Chautauqua started. Thereafter he read diligently and delivered a lecture every time the boys got together.

Then, one day, he wr reading Carlyle, and in "Sartor Resartus" he ran onto this bit of philosophy:

"That there should be one man die ignorant who had the capacity for knowledge—that I call a tragedy."

And he thereupon dedicated himself to a career of averting as many of those tragedies as he could.

Congressman T. Frank Appleby of New Jersey, says that the "Star Spangled Banner" is "animated, patriotic, defiant, that it neither cringes nor boasts, that it adequately expresses the spirit of America," and he offers a resolution in congress that it be sung every day by that body.

Secretary Hughes wears a big gold watch that was given him by a law class to which he lectured at Columbia thirty-four years ago.

GOVERNOR NEFF'S VIEW

Editor's Note.—In an address at Palacios July 4 Governor Neff made an earnest plea for the passage of his law enforcement measure and for tightening of the state prohibition law and scored the suspended sentence law. As these are matters on which the governor will ask the legislature to act at its approaching special session his address is herewith reproduced in part in order that the people of this section of the state have his view.

Governor Neff said in part:

"The law of the land is that stabilizing influence which holds society together. It is the foundation of every civilization. To uphold it is the first duty of a government. When a government ceases to enforce her laws, it ceases to be a government and becomes a mob. Disregard for the law undermines the very foundations of organized society. If the state is to be respected, her laws must be obeyed. A lax enforcement of the law encourages a disrespect for the law. A disrespect for law makes criminals. Criminals fill the land with terror and make unsafe both life and property. 'Obey the law' should be written on every school boy's tablet, should be chiseled on the cornerstone of every public building, should be arched over the doorway of every home and hung in letters of gold in every hall of the state.

"The genius of man has never found any better way to prevent crime than to punish criminals. If it were not for the fear of the punishment of the law, neither your life nor your property would be safe for one hour. Repeal all our laws and turn mankind loose and you would not and could not live in Texas one week. It is the law that protects you in property, in life, in liberty and in the pursuit of happiness. I am opposed to that maudlin sentiment that loses sight of truth and justice and right and makes a hero out of every person that commits a crime. Punishment should follow a crime as night follows the day. The law-abiding people should demand a more certainty of punishment for the lawless element of the state.

"For the past two years Texas has witnessed and is now experiencing the greatest crime wave in her history. This crime wave is the result of a complete breakdown in the administration of our criminal code. The law no longer has a terror for evil doers. We have minimized punishment for crime until it has stripped the law of its power. A traditional and parasitic growth of technicalities has sucked the life blood out of the penal code of Texas. The wonder now is not that so many guilty men escape, but that under our present system any guilty man is ever convicted. If by chance he is convicted, the probability is he will never be punished. Too much procrastination, too much probation, too many paroles, too many pardons, have robbed the law of its fear. Seven hundred and eighty convicts went out of the penitentiary last year by parole, by pardon or by escape. I am in favor of revivifying, rehabilitating, re-electrifying the criminal laws of the state. The administration of the criminal laws of Texas is a disgrace to our civilization.

"Never before were so many murders committed, so many holdups experienced, so much property stolen, so many laws violated, and so many crimes committed; for every offender there are those ready to explain his act and assign a reason for his pardon. During the first five months of this year the official records show that in one city in Texas there were approximately 900 automobiles stolen, and yet during that same five months not a conviction was had in that city for stealing an automobile. Lawlessness is rampant in Texas by day and by night and the time has come when the people should demand that our laws be respected and obeyed.

Counties, Not the Judges.

"Argument has been made by some people that the officers and the people of the respective counties are the judges as to how the laws should be enforced in their respective counties, and that the enforcement of the laws in these counties is not a matter in which the state should interfere, and that for the state to do so is a violation of the fundamental principles of local self-government. There is no such thing as local self-government in regard to violation of the law. Every crime that is committed is a crime against the state. The state enacts laws, not the counties. The state is the sovereign government. Counties are but political divisions of the state made by the state for the convenience of the state in the administration of the government. Every indictment charging an offense against the law begins in the name of the state and closes against the peace and dignity of the state. Every person in the penitentiary was sent there at the expense of the state. The state paid the sheriff who arrested him, the judge who tried him, the jury that convicted him, and the penitentiary authorities to keep him. Therefore this campaign in behalf of law and order is being waged in the name of the state. State laws, not county laws, are being violated. Counties enact no laws. When county officers protest against the state sending her rangers and her state officials to a county to enforce the laws, the protest is always made for the benefit of the criminals, and not the law-abiding people. I am for the enforcement of the law on every square foot of Texas soil.

Cites County Records.

"I have before me a statement showing the record of various counties in the state for the years 1919-1920, which fairly represents the loose method of law enforcement throughout this state. The statement shows this:

"During the years 1919 and 1920 in the entire state over 2,000 criminals were given suspended sentences. A fair and conservative estimate of the cost to the taxpayers to secure those convictions shows it amounted to approximately one-half million dollars. During these two years more than 2,000 were either pardoned, paroled or escaped from the penitentiary.

"This law—breeding crime and incurring economic waste, without appreciable resultant good—is a blot upon the body of our laws and should be wiped from the books.

"I am going to recommend to the legislature an amendment to our prohibition law that will require the person entitled to the special defense to produce the proof which shows that he has authority to handle the liquor in the manner in which he is handling same. Is there any reason to require so much greater burden upon the state in this than in other offenses where special exemptions lie? I certainly think not. If a person is found carrying on his person a pistol he is presumed under the law to be guilty unless he can show that he has the right to carry the pistol under one of the exceptions in the statute. If a person is found in possession of stolen property the law presumes he is guilty until he can prove that he had a right to possess the property. I want a law so that when a person is found in the brush or in caves manufacturing corn whiskey that the law will place upon him the burden of showing that he was manufacturing same under one of the exceptions in the statute and that he held a permit authorizing him to manufacture same.

"I shall also recommend to the legislature that the prohibition law be amended so that a purchaser of intoxicating liquor will not be guilty of a felony. The law should never have made the buyer guilty of a felony. For the reason that such was manifestly wrong for the legislature, no prosecution has yet been had in the state against any person for buying intoxicating liquor, yet under the law every person who buys intoxicating liquor is guilty of a felony. The law should be amended in this respect. I shall recommend this change, not for the benefit of the buyer, but in order that the law can be more easily and effectively enforced. When this change has been made in the law, the buyer will be authorized to testify as other witnesses against the seller.

"The prohibition law should be amended so that bootleggers can be convicted. Did you know that with all of our courts and all of our officers and with all of our work last year, only 58 persons were sent to the penitentiary for violating the prohibition law, when as a matter of fact the law was being violated by day and by night. Twenty-four of these 58 were pardoned; therefore only 34 were punished for violating this law. That was last year. There is doubtless not a county in the state which should not have had that many convictions. Under our system, as we are enforcing the laws now, the bootlegger had become bold and defiant and in several instances have killed the enforcement officers.

Fearless Officers Needed.

"The enforcement of our laws must depend largely upon a fearless and faithful discharge of their duties by all of our commissioned officers. Under our form of government, they are elected and vested with the authority and power to enforce our laws. It becomes their duty to do so, and in its performance they are supported not only by the influence of the great majority of our citizenship, but the military power of the state and nation as well. Every resource of our government is subject to their command. There can be no legitimate excuse for dereliction of duty.

"Our people themselves place their trust in their officers; they make them the guardians of their property, rights and liberties. An officer so honored should not fail his constituents. The government as a government, and the people as a people, have a right to expect the officers to maintain order and uphold the law. The people should accept nothing less. An officer who does less, violates his oath of office and becomes unworthy of the further confidence of his people.

"I lay it down as a fundamental truth that when an officer willfully and corruptly fails and refuses to enforce the law, he should be immediately stripped of every official power and every insignia of office. Personally and officially, now and forever, I am opposed to the officer who willfully and corruptly refuses and fails to enforce the laws of the state. If it can be proven by legal testimony in an open court and before a jury that an officer has willfully and corruptly refused to enforce the law, he should be promptly removed from office. As Christ whipped the money-changers out of the temple of worship, so with that same righteous courage should the people put worthless officers out of their temples of justice. Therefore, with this object in view, it is my purpose to recommend to the approaching special session of the legislature the passage of a law which will make effective the removal of such officer."

AND RIGHT THERE IS WHERE I MADE MY BIG MISTAKE

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

The Blame Dodgers.

The other fellow's in the way
When victory has crowned the day,
With him we do not wish to share
The splendor of the spotlight's glare;
We'd like to have it widely known
To us the praise belongs alone—
But when defeat is ours to take,
Few have the courage not to make
The old excuse and place the blame
Upon the other fellow's name.

Since first the fall of man took place
This trait has marred the human race.
The other fellow drops from sight
When everything is going right;
The plaudits and the round of cheers
Are not intended for his ears—
But let us falter, as we may,
And lose by careless work or play,
Few have the courage then to own
The fault belongs to them alone.

The test of man is not the way
He smiles on his victorious day,
It's how he stands to pay the cost
When he has made his fight and lost.
In failure's hour he merits fame
Who does not seek to dodge the blame.
Oh, boy of mine, whate'er you do,
Whate'er of failure comes to you,
Blame not the other man, but take
The censure just for manhood's sake.

WHO? WHAT? WHERE?

The History of Your Name

POTTS.

Variations—Philpott, Philipot, Phillips.
Racial Origin—Norman French.
Source—A given name.

You'd never imagine, from the mere comparison of the family names of Potts and Phillips that there was any connection between them. But the fact is that they are virtually the same name, that they have come from the same source, the given name of Philip.

As a given name, you must go back to the ancient Greek for the source of Philip. In its original form it was Philippos, from the Greek root "phil," for "love," and "hippos" for "horse." The name means "lover of horses." It was taken over by the old Romans from the Greeks, and became with them Philipus, and first with the spread of the Roman conquest through what is now France and Normandy, and later through the spread of Christianity—for it had become a popular Christian name—over the same course, it became quite common in the northwestern section of the European mainland. It was taken over to England by William and his Norman conquerors, and throughout the Middle Ages became quite common there also, though today its popularity as a given name has fallen off somewhat in England. The name was often shortened to Phil, though this shortened form has not survived in any form of surname. With the diminutive ending it became Phillipot—little Phillip. Strangely enough, in numerous cases practically all of the given name was dropped, leaving only the final "ip" with the minimutive ending for the modern family name of Potts. Phillips is a contraction of Philipsin, a form now seldom met with.

Tomorrow—Hacket.

LISTED AS A SLACKER; WAS CITED FOR BRAVERY

NEW YORK, July 7.—Henry Frank Guggenheim, listed as a slacker on the list made public yesterday, served throughout the war as a lieutenant commander in the naval aviation service and was recommended for a citation for bravery by Admiral Sims. He is a son of Daniel Guggenheim, president of the American Smelting and Refining company. He enlisted the day this country declared war.

25 PER CENT CUT IN APARTMENT RENTS IS MADE THURSDAY

A 25 per cent reduction in rentals on two apartment houses was announced Thursday morning from the office of Curlee and Johnson. The apartment houses are the Lorraine, at Tenth and Holliday, and the Brook Manor, at Eighth and Brook. The reduction brings the rents down to $60 to $75 per month.

At a recent meeting of chamber of commerce directors, a suggestion was made that the organization should take some steps for lower rents here, and the reduction announced Thursday, Mr. Curlee said, was in line with that recommendation.

LORD BALFOUR DIES IN LONDON EARLY THURSDAY

LONDON, July 6.—Lord Balfour of Burleigh died today.

Lord Balfour of Burleigh (Alexander Hugh Bruce) was the sixth baron (created 1607).

Lord Balfour was born in 1849. He served in many official capacities and was lord-in-waiting to Queen Victoria in 1888. He was lord rector of Edinburg university 1896-1899, and chancellor of St. Andrews university in 1900.

He was chairman of the royal commission on closer trade relations between Canada and the West Indies in 1903, spending considerable time in both these countries. In 1917 he was elected chairman of the Carnegie educational trust, succeeding Lord Elgin.

SAM BROWNE BELT NOW PART OF OFFICER'S UNIFORM

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The Sam Browne belt, which was worn by officers of foreign armies and Americans who saw service overseas during the war, was approved yesterday as part of the regulation issue uniform for officers of the United States army. Under the orders all commanding officers in uniform will be compelled to wear the belt beginning July 15.

ONLY THIRTY-SIX COUNTIES FREE OF BOLL WEEVIL

DALLAS, TEXAS, July 7.—Only 36 counties out of 175 in Texas are free from the cotton boll weevil, while in 17 counties the weevil situation is reported as "very bad," the Texas Farm Bureau federation announced.

The counties in which the weevil situation is said to be worst are Bastrop, Bosque, Brazos, Brown, Colorado, Cook, Dallas, Dewitt, Denton, Erath, Falls, Fayette, Kaufman, McLennan, Montague, Palo Pinto and Tarrant.

The reduction in cotton acreage this year ranges upward to 75 per cent, the farm bureau federation reported. There was no reduction in Kleberg county and the reduction in Camp county was only nine per cent. In Hale county the reduction was 75 per cent.

The condition of food crops in all the counties is fair to good, according to the report.

TWO THOUSAND SOLDIERS TO ATTEND CELEBRATION

JUAREZ, MEXICO, July 7.—Two thousand soldiers, representatives of foreign countries, will attend the Mexican centennial celebration in Mexico City in September, according to reports received at the American consulate in Juarez. The visitors will be accommodated at the San Jacinto Military college at Chapultepec and at military headquarters in Mexico City.

RUSSIANS IN CANADA WILL MOVE TO MEXICO

EL PASO, TEXAS, July 7.—A company of about 200 Russians now living in Canada is preparing to follow the Mennonite sect in entering Mexico for colonization. Two representatives are in El Paso preparing to arrange for colonization rights in Durango and Chihuahua, Mexico.

The Russians have property worth about $5,000,000 in Saskatchewan to dispose of and will have about $8,000,000 to invest in Mexico, the representatives said. William Moeller, who is assisting the Mennonites, also is helping the Russians to obtain passage into Mexico.

MRS. J. L. SHORT DIES AT HASKELL TUESDAY MORNING

HASKELL, TEXAS, July 7.—Mrs. Livina Jane Short, wife of J. L. Short of this city died at the family residence Tuesday morning at 9:00 o'clock after a lingering illness of several weeks. She was 74 years of age and has lived in Haskell 16 years. She was a consistent member of the Christian church and had so lived for 60 years.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday morning at 10:00 o'clock by Rev. P. W. Wallthall, pastor of the First Christian church, after which her remains were laid to rest in the Haskell cemetery. Her aged husband and all of their children attended the funeral.

USED SIGN LANGUAGE IN TRIAL OF INDIAN

EL PASO, TEXAS, July 7.—Judge Charles Pollock had to resort to the sign language and dismiss the case when trying a Navajo Indian on a charge of vagrancy.

The judge first spoke in English, then tried Spanish and finally Indian, Patrolman Tob Threepersons of the Cherokee tribe acting as interpreter. The Indian shook his head each time, indicating that he did not understand.

At last the judge pointed to the door leading from the court room. The Navajo bowed his thanks and made a hasty exit.

TOO MUCH ADVERTISING FOR A CHICAGO SUBURB

CHICAGO, July 7.—City officials of Evanston, Chicago's exclusive North Shore suburb, have decided that advertising does not pay, or rather paid too well. A year ago Charles Ward was hired by the city as its $6,000-a-year advertising specialist to extol the advantages of the suburb as a summer resort. As a result, the city aldermen declared home town folks were crowded out of their own parks, beaches and amusement places.

Mayor Harry Pearsons instructed the police to enforce, beginning today, a new ordinance prohibiting automobiles without the Evanston license from parking near the beaches, parks and on down town streets.

PROGRAM OF TACTICS THIRD INTERNATIONALE ADOPTED BY CONVENTION

By Associated Press.

RIGA, July 7.—The program of tactics formulated by Karl Radek for the third international of Moscow has been adopted by that organization, says the Rosta News Agency, the official Russian soviet bureau here. Those opposing the program, while agreeing with its general idea, contended it could not be applicable to their own countries, the agency states, but a resolution proposed by Radek, making the program binding on all countries, was adopted.

Premier Lenine, according to the agency, spoke in Radek's favor, declaring the fundamental rule of revolutionary struggles was winning over the masses. Up to the present, he said, not a single communist party in Europe had reached the state where it could truly be called the actual leader of the majority of the working classes.

Replying to critics who asserted that the Russian soviets held power although in the minority, Lenine said that in 1919 half of Russia's army of ten million was on the side of the soviets. Otherwise, he declared, the soviets could not have kept power two and one-half years.

Lenine's big speech to the conference on the internal and external situation of Russia was made Tuesday, but the text has not yet been received here. An official radio message, however, says his position was sustaining, notwithstanding some opposition. M. Bocharin, head of the left wing of the soviet central committee, supported Lenine.

DRILLING CONTRACTOR DIES AS RESULT OF INJURIES

CLARENDON, TEXAS, July 7.—O. O. Dick of Arcadia, Ind., who was contractor of the drilling of the Bugbee well northwest of this city and was seriously injured last Saturday, died in the hospital Tuesday afternoon about 5 o'clock. His brother from Kansas arrived last night and will take the body to Arcadia, Ind., for burial. Mr. Dick is survived by two sons and one daughter, all of Arcadia, Ind.

TWENTY-FIVE CARS WHEAT ARE SHIPPED FROM HASKELL

HASKELL, TEXAS, July 7.—There has been 25 cars of wheat shipped from Haskell since the threshing season began which is far better than was thought possible from the grain crop that suffered so much from drouth during the winter. Some of the best wheat is making 20 bushels per acre. The acreage was short of last year and in many places the wheat was not high enough to cut with binders, which has greatly decreased the average yield.

The grasshoppers in the south and east part of the county have done considerable damage to the feed and cotton crops and are still at work but the farmers are poisoning them by the thousands and running machines of different kinds with coal oil vats, trapping them, until they have checked the ravages of the hoppers and have them pretty well under control.

WILBARGER WILL STAGE A COUNTY FAIR THIS YEAR

VERNON, TEXAS, July 7.—Wilbarger will stage a county fair this year. It will be the first undertaking of the kind for two years, after having been an annual event since 1912. The local exposition will open its gates August 30 and will continue four days.

It is thought by those in charge that unusually fine exhibits of agricultural products and fruits can be obtained. Plants and vegetables of this vicinity that have matured thus far are of superior quality, and pioneers insist that never before has the outlook been so good for crops at this time of the year. A. H. Bourland is president of the fair association, R. H. Coffee manager and Carl Smith secretary.

GLENN ROYALTY COMPANY SPUDS IN HASKELL TEST

HASKELL, TEXAS, July 7.—Haskell county is believed to be nearer oil production now than ever before. The new test well that is to be put down by the Glenn Royalty company of Chicago on the N ranch, 16 miles southeast of Haskell, has completed the derrick and is reported to be making preparations to spud in by the 15th of the month.

Kourt No. 1 which is located 12 miles southeast of town, is reported at work cleaning out the well to put in the new five-inch casing that is already on the ground. It is agreed by oil men and those who are in close touch with the workings of Kourt No. 1 that it can be made a producer when the well is put under control from the flooding of salt water.

ALARMED OVER CONTINUED FALL OF THE POLISH MARK

VIENNA, July 7. — Banking and speculative circles in this city are alarmed over the continued fall of the Polish mark and something approximating a panic exists. It is stated that many billions of marks are held here, having been bought at a price averaging four times the present value of the mark.

Austrian bankers are declared to have drafted a number of plans for the rehabilitation of Polish finance in order that they may protect themselves from gigantic losses and even the final collapse of that currency. But all these plans have been rejected. It is said that sixty per cent of the adult population of Vienna has been speculating in Polish money, being inspired by the great fortunes made from phenomenal rise of the Hungarian crown. The situation has been aggravated by the refusal of Hungary to cash counterfeit over-stamped notes sent by Vienna banks for redemption. These notes are said to total about two billion crowns.

CHICAGO PARKS OPENED FOR SLEEPING PURPOSES

CHICAGO, July 7.—Chicago's parks have been opened for sleeping purposes to enable citizens to gain relief from the heat while the temperature continued around 85 degrees and the weather bureau offers no immediate relief. Five deaths yesterday were due to the heat and health authorities asserted the city's mortality rate had been doubled.

Spudders Hand Atzmen Final Game of Series In Ninth Stanza, 8-7

The final clash between the Spudders and Panthers yesterday had gone only a few innings when practically every fan in the stand conceded that it would come to an unexpected, abrupt ending. And it ended just that way. Like a bolt out of a clear sky Danny Gross heaved Haley's easy grounder several miles over Cecil Griggs' head in the ninth with Dutch Hoffman perched on first and the Panthers romped all the way home with the run that gave the Panthers their luckiest win of the series. The final statistics were Fort Worth 8 and Wichita Falls 7.

It was little short of criminal the way the Cats stopped Hollingsworth's long winning streak. The Spudders belted four of Jakey Atz's best boxmen to all corners of the lot and yet couldn't win. On the other hand, several of the Panther hits gleaned off Holly should have been the easiest kind of outs.

In the first inning, for instance, only one clean smash was made off the Spudder slabster. Taylor, Sears, Kraft and Haley are all credited with hits, but Taylor's was a rank error on the part of Buddy Tanner; Sears' was a puny fly that went off the handle of his bat just over Tanner's head; while Kraft's safety was a blow that bounced off Tanner's shins. Haley did get a clean drive to center. A couple of wild pitches and a passed ball were sandwiched in between these drives and the net result was four runs.

Their run in the second was a real earned run and one of the few of the game. The tally scored by them in the fifth was by far the luckiest of the series. Rigney hit one at Tanner and the latter was all set for the ball, but it took a mean hop over his head and rolled to the fence in left field. Then Moore was completely fooled by one of Holly's drops and struck out. The final strike hit the plate and bounded away from "Kitch" and Rigney scored. It should have been the third out.

A rank error by McDonald in left gave them another in the seventh. After Kraft had walked Hoffman sent a skyscraper to left. Tex camped under it, but it bounced out of his glove and Kraft reached third, scoring later on an infield out.

The way they scored in the ninth has already been narrated, so it is not hard to see how the Panther luck is winning ball games.

First Inning

WICHITA FALLS—Tanner went out on a roller, Rigney to Kraft. Gross swung at a third strike. Miller hit to center field for two bases but died when Clark popped out to Haley. No runs, one hit, no errors.

FORT WORTH—The Panthers came within one of batting around and chased four counters across the pan on four hits, a passed ball and two wild pitches. Taylor started by beating out an infield hit to Tanner. Coombs sacrificed him to second. Holly to Griggs, and he went to third when Sears singled to left. Kraft followed with another single and went to second while Taylor was scoring and Sears was making third. With the count two all on Hoffman a passed ball got by Kitchens, Sears scoring and Kraft taking third, after which Dutch obligingly struck out. Haley singled to center, scoring Kraft, and then stole second. Hollingsworth ascended to the clouds and cut loose with two mild pitches in succession, Haley taking third on the first one and scoring on the last. Rigney walked and stole second but Moore fanned. Four runs, four hits, no errors.

Second Inning

WICHITA FALLS—Bischoff beat out an infield hit to second. Griggs got one ball and then swung at three straight. McElwee forced Bischoff at second, Hoffman to Rigney. Kitchens popped to Hoffman. No runs, one hit, no errors.

FORT WORTH—Johns grounded out, Tanner to Griggs. Taylor singled to center and took second while Clark and Griggs were disposing of Coombs. Sears doubled to left, scoring Taylor. Kraft flew out to Miller. One run, two hits, no errors.

Third Inning

WICHITA FALLS—Johns' wildness got him in trouble in this frame but he pitched out without being scored on. Haley threw out Hollingsworth. Tanner singled to center and Gross and Miller walked, filling the bases. Clark lined to Haley and Bischoff flew to Coombs. No runs, one hit, no errors.

FORT WORTH—Hoffman raised a long fly which Miller took Haley drove a torrid liner at Hollingsworth, who deflected it straight into Tanner's hands and Haley was out at first, the ball beating him by a step. Rigney lined out to McElwee. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fourth Inning

WICHITA FALLS—Griggs soaked a two-bagger to center. McElwee fanned and so did Kitchens. Hoffman threw out Hollingsworth. No runs, one hit, no errors.

FORT WORTH—The Panthers filled the bases again in this inning but airtight pitching enabled Holly to pull out. Moore led off with a one-ply wallop to left. Johns sacrificed him to second, Holly to Griggs. Taylor and Coombs walked, filling the sacks, but Sears struck out and Kraft's heat was a long fly which Miller got under. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Fifth Inning

WICHITA FALLS — The Spudders came to life in their half of this frame, knocked Johns out of the box and counted four times on clean hits. Tanner, fouled a few and then walked. Gross singled to center, Tanner taking second. Miller doubled to left, scoring Tanner and Gross. Clark went out, Kraft to Johns, the pitcher covering first and Miller going to third from where he scored when Biscoff singled to center. Griggs sent Biscoff to second with another single to the same garden. Bowman batted for McElwee, singled to left, scoring Bischoff, putting Griggs on second and sending Johns to the showers. Goodbred replaced the port-side star and forced Kitchens to hit weakly to Rigney, Bowman being forced at second. Kitchens nearly broke up the game by stealing second, but Hollingsworth took a called third strike. Four runs, five hits, no errors.

FORT WORTH—McDonald went to left field in place of McElwee. Hoffman fanned. Haley popped to Gross. Rigney tripled to the center field fence and scored when Kitchens missed a ball that Moore swung at for a third strike. Moore made first, but stayed there while Goodbred was flying out to Jake Miller. One run, one hit, no errors.

Sixth Inning

WICHITA FALLS — The Spudders landed on Goodbred without delay and knoted the count by walloping out three hits for two runs. Buddy Tanner drove a sizzler to right for one sack, went to second while Goodbred was throwing out Gross, took third on Millers' infield hit to Rigney and scored when Clark drove out a long sacrifice fly to Sears. Bischoff doubled to center field, scoring Miller all the way from first. Griggs went out, Kraft unassisted. Two runs, three hits, no errors.

FORT WORTH—Holly made the ferocious Cats look like veterans of the revolutionary war this time, three men lifting measly pop flys to the infield. Taylor popped to Tanner, Coombs did the same for Gross and Sears lifted another one for Tanner's attention. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Seventh Inning

WICHITA FALLS—The scoreboard changed to one run in favor of the Spudders this time. Pate went in at the start, replacing Goodbred. McDonald greeted him with a double to the right field wall. Kitchens singled to center, scoring McDonald and going to second on the throw to the plate. Holly put Kitch on third with another hot single and Pate was yanked in favor of Wachtel. Tanner went out, Hoffman to Kraft, Holly taking second. Haley threw out Gross and Miller fanned. One run, three hits, no errors.

FORT WORTH—An error by Tex McDonald presented the Cats with the tying run. Kraft walked and took third when McDonald dropped Hoffman's long fly. Haley hit to Tanner and was thrown out at first, Kraft scoring. Hoffman attempted to make third on the play and was thrown out, Griggs to Tanner. Rigney popped to Clark. One run, no hits, one error.

Eighth Inning

WICHITA FALLS—Hoffman threw out Clark. Bischoff walked. Griggs fanned. Bischoff stole second while McDonald was getting four wide ones. Kitchens was thrown out by Haley. No runs, no hits, no errors.

FORT WORTH—Possum Moore's freight train speed saved the Spudders an opposing run. He led off the inning by getting a base on balls. Wachtel doubled to left and Poss was thrown out at third, McDonald to Gross. Taylor flied out to Bischoff, Wachtel being held at third. Coombs went out, Gross to Griggs. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Ninth Inning

WICHITA FALLS — Hollingsworth fanned. Tanner followed suit. Hoffman threw out Gross. No runs, no hits, no errors.

FORT WORTH—Danny Gross is guilty. He spilled the beans at the last, presented the Panthers with a run they never should have had and beat the Spudders, 8 to 7. Sears went out, Tanner to Griggs. Kraft singled to left and was forced at second when Hoffman rolled to Tanner. Haley then hit an easy roller to Gross who threw it so far Hoffman scored all the way from first. One run, one hit, one error.

REPORT DISCOVERY OF PLOT TO CREATE DISORDER AT FIGHT

CHICAGO, July 6.—Two men were caught in Jack Dempsey's corner in the Jersey City arena where he fought Georges Carpentier last Saturday, waiting to throw towels into the ring from the champion's corner and create a scene of disorder. Dempsey charged here today when he stopped on his way to Salt Lake City.

"One man had a towel in his hand," said Dempsey, "and my friend Mike Trant questioned them. The men told Trant Rickard put them there. Trant did not credit the story and had the police take them away. I believe these men intended to throw the towel into the ring from my corner, creating a scene of disorder."

This happened in the third round, Dempsey said.

SURPRISE TO NEWSPAPER MEN WHO COVERED THE FIGHT

NEW YORK, July 6.—The statement of Jack Dempsey in Chicago that two men appeared in his corner in the third round of the Carpentier bout presumably to throw a towel into the ring was a surprise to newspaper men here who "covered" the contest from ringside seats. Apparently the presence of the mysterious visitors went unnoticed by the eight hundreds newsmen for their stories made no mention of them.

To reach the ringside the men either would have had to press their way down a narrow aisle heavily guarded by police, or climb over several rows of workers, typewriters and telegraph instruments.

SALM IS AFTER DICK HUMPHREY OF BEAUMONT

FORT WORTH, TEXAS, July 6—Bob Bescher will not go to Shreveport with the Spudders on account of the condition of his leg, but will return to Wichita Falls to remain until the team goes home on next Monday.

Manager Salm is trying to land Dick Humphreys, the Beaumont twirler, and expects to have a definite answer within the next few days.

The Spudders are still fighting, notwithstanding the reverses of the past two days, and expect to be well up in the running by the time they open the series of games at home on Monday.

Hank O'Day Says Ball Is Too Lively And Hurts Game

NEW YORK, July 6—Hank O'Day, National league umpire, thinks the ball is too lively, is hurting the game and making "suckers" out of the infielders.

"It's a better ball than ever," he said today. "There is no question about that. It's wound tighter and the cover is stretched so that it's tight as a drum. But it's too lively, and is hurting the game.

"The ball goes so fast that spectacular stops and fine plays in the infield are getting to be things of the past. Outfielders play back so far that you seldom see anybody put out at the plate by one thrown from the outfield."

CHICAGO TRACK TEAM SETS UP NEW WORLD'S RECORD

CHICAGO, July 7.—A world record of one minute and 15 seconds for the 160 yard relay was set by the Chicago A. A. track team which defeated the Yale team, eastern inter-collegiate champions, last night in a dual meet by a score of 31 to 19.

Burman to Meet Smith

CHICAGO, July 7.—Joe Burman, Chicago bantam, who recently won a newspaper decision over Champion Joe Lynch, has been matched to meet Midget Smith of New York at East Chicago on July 22. The weights are to be 119 pounds.

WANT DEMPSEY TO STAGE FIGHT WITH JOHNSON

LOS ANGELES, July 6.—Proposal of a bout between Jack Dempsey and Jack Johnson was telegraphed to Jack Kearns, manager for Dempsey, at New York last night by Captain J. M. McCaw, British war veteran here. The proposal was endorsed by E. H. Calvert and G. B. Manly, who have been handling wrestling bouts here to raise funds for Los Angeles post No. 1, disabled veterans of the world war, of which they are members.

DEMPSEY'S MANAGER HAS NOT DRAWN THE COLOR LINE

NEW YORK, July 6.—"The public can have a Dempsey-Johnson match if it wishes, but I believe there is no demand for the bout now or in the near future," Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, said today on learning that Captain McCaw of Pasadena had offered the champion a guarantee of two hundred thousand dollars to box Jack Johnson on Labor day. Kearns stated that he had drawn no color line on behalf of the champion, but suggested that Johnson should meet Harry Wills or another leading negro boxer before being considered for a championship match. He added that he would demand the posting of heavy forfeits in case the match were made.

Enthusiastic Fan Robs Babe Ruth of Another Home Run

NEW YORK, July 6—Babe Ruth would have been credited with two homeruns instead of one in the box scores published today had not an enthusiastic fan tried to catch the ball yesterday. Ruth's high drive mingled with the clouds and was descending on the edge of the right field stands when the fan jumped up and diverted the ball into the field instead of clasping it in his hands. Ruth was on third base, but Umpire Connolly sent him back to second under the ground rules.

Ruth has 31 homers to his credit with New York yet to play three games before reaching the half-way mark of the season. At this rate he would hit at least 64 homeruns, 19 more than last year.

HOUSTON, TEXAS, July 6.—Perryman had one bad inning here today and the Buffs bunched four hits for three runs. Clyde Parfoot, local hurler, virtually won his own game by hitting one to the left field fence for two bases. It was the longest hit made in the local lot this season.

DALLAS, July 6.—Munson's double with the bases full in the seventh enabled Dallas to win the final game from Shreveport today, thus evening the series. The score was 7 to 5. Ethel hit his eighteenth home run, scoring two runners in the first.

The SPORTLIGHT by Grantland Rice

(Copyright 1920 New York Tribune Inc.)

What is the one big event in sport that attracts a more varied drift of humanity than anything else?

Simple enough—a heavyweight championship boxing match, prize fight or whatsoever label you may care to install.

Baseball and football, carrying more general interests through their respective seasons, appeal to large bodies.

But you could never imagine any single ball game nor any single football carnival pulling in over a million dollars at the gate, calling travelers from so many distant ports, nor luring to the scene so many widely varying human types from the highest financially, intellectually and socially to the lowest.

MORE ELEMENTAL

The heavyweight championship carries a more direct, more elemental appeal. The spectators gets more drama with less need of technical knowledge to collect his thrill.

The man who knew nothing whatsoever of baseball could get no thrill from the greatest game ever played, for he would not know what it was all about.

The man who knows nothing of football may enjoy the spectacle of the crowd itself and the attendant scenes, but he will never get intensely aroused over the actual play.

But he doesn't have to know a lot about the technique of boxing to pick up his thrill from a fight.

He can see, in the main, what is taking place. Boxing may be the most scientific game in the world, but it carries drama along beyond any technique.

It is the most elemental of all the sporting arts, the most primitive, with wrestling a close second.

THE LEADING THRILL

There is no moment of thrill in sport to watch that of two well matched heavyweights, where one is champion and the other is challenger, advancing to battle just after the bell has sounded the attack.

There is something in this sight that grips beyond anything baseball and football have to show.

We never get anything approaching the same thrill from a bantamweight or lightweight match that we get from a heavyweight encounter, although the former more frequently shows a greater degree of speed and skill. The heavyweights are the final word, after, all.

AFTER THE WAR

Before the war the number of women attending championship contests was extremely thin.

The number, not the women.

But there has been a decided change since the war. With the ice once broken there was a general increase in feminine attendance until all such records were broken by the championship affair last week.

Whether this is merely a passing phase of the late suffrage upheaval or is something that is here to stay is beyond any prophet.

Many of them appeared to be interested in seeing "just one fight." Whether one fight will make them fight fans or end their curiosity depends upon the fight—and the women. No set rule will cover the case.

AFTER TWELVE YEARS

After a 12-year lapse Pittsburgh moving on into July, insists upon making threatening gestures at another pennant.

The first Pirate success took place in 1909, when Fred Clarke, aided and abetted by Hans Wagner, scrambled to the top. Pittsburgh was picked by many as one of the two most formidable contenders and the dope in this respect has made good at the half-mile post, which is just being turned. The harder part of the grind is still ahead. But while they never pay off at the half-mile post, it is no small advantage in a pennant race to start the last section of the drive with something to spare in case tire trouble develops later on.

SPORT SHOTS by Paul W. Barkin

Well, the series is over and the Spudders gained the decision in only one, whereas they should have come out on top in at least three.

The Panthers don't have to go out and win ball games. All they have to do is sit back and let the other clubs beat themselves. At least that is true when they meet the Spudders. The Spudders won the first tilt because they played better ball. They should have had the first game of Monday's double header, but a couple of close decisions that went against them ruined their chances.

Their own dumb work was all that beat them Tuesday. They gave the worst exhibition of the national pastime that day we have ever witnessed. Bill Whittaker pitched nice ball, true enough, but not nice enough to win had the Spudders kept their heads up and stayed in the game.

Yesterday the Panthers had all the breaks and luck. But looking at it from another angle, the Panthers never pull the skullis the other clubs are guilty of. They don't play big league baseball, but they do play steady ball and always do the right thing at the right time. They don't blow up under fire.

The umpiring was terrible, but was not wholly responsible for the Spudder defeats as one would be led to believe. The Panthers suffered just as much as the Spudders except in one instance when Bob Bescher was called out at the plate Monday. Bob was a couple of feet across the platter before Moore had the ball on him. But outside of that one, the Panthers suffered almost as much as the Spudders.

The Spudder outfit as it stacks up at present is a sorry looking aggregation. A third baseman played left field yesterday, a catcher was in right, a man that has been playing short all year was on third, and a man just recovering from an operation was at short. And at that, they gave the Panthers a rub.

Bescher and Rothfuss were both sent home by Salm. They will probably be ready to go again when the Spudders return, but it will be a patched-up lineup in Shreveport. Bescher's ankle will unquestionably bother him all year, though we hope not. He was lucky he didn't break it when he slid into the plate Monday. His toe caught on the plate and wrenched his ankle.

Salm did not go to Shreveport with the club. He hopped over to Galveston instead. He would give no reason for going, but it is our own personal opinion that it has something to do with a split season. We won't be one bit surprised if the clubs start all over again within the next week. The move was squelched once, but it is understood on good authority that every club in the circuit except the Panther outfit wants one now.

Should a split occur and some club other than Fort Worth win the second half, a post-season series between the two will have to be played off before the Southern champions are met. It would not be the worst move in the world, as it would make money for some club, while if the Panthers cop again, it's a cinch they wouldn't lose money. Interest is bound to lag if things continue as they have much longer.

CULLUM WINNER IN DUBS' TOURNAMENT TAKES FINAL ROUND

Frank Cullum was crowned king of the dubs Wednesday afternoon, when he defeated W. M. Hagler in the final round of the Dubs' tournament. The two had tied in the first 18 holes, Cullum taking the second 18, two up, in a hard fought match that was not settled until the 18th green was reached.

The tournament was for players with a handicap of 18 or over, and a number who competed in it lowered their handicap marks. The trophy is a handsome silver cup, presented by M. D. Rowe, Pres Lea and W. M. McGregor.

The Adventure of the Six Napoleons

By A. CONAN DOYLE

Copyright, 1921, by Harper & Bros. Published by special arrangement with The McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

The story thus far:

Mr. Lestrade of Scotland Yard tells Sherlock Holmes of the strange case of a man who commits burglary apparently for the pleasure of destroying images of Napoleon. In the first case, a plaster cast of Napoleon was shivered to fragments in Morse Hudson's shop. In the second a physician, Dr. Barnicot, living nearby, found his two plaster casts of Napoleon, duplicates of the one in the shop, both smashes. Next morning Holmes received a note from Lestrade uring him to come immediately to an address in Kensington and he and Watson rushed there.

At the house they went to they met Mr. Horace Harker of the Central Press Syndicate. As he was a journalist he said he often worked at night. When so engaged the previous night at 3 o'clock he thought he heard a noise, but decided it was outdoors. A few moments later he heard a frightful scream, and, dashing downstairs, found his bust of Napoleon gone and a murdered man lying on his doorstep. In his pocket were a shoestring, an apple, a map of London and a photograph of an unprepossessing man. Under a lamp down the street was the shattered bust of Napoleon. Mr. Harker started to write up the murder for his paper.

Holmes went to Hudson's shop. Hudson said he got the busts from Gelder and company, and identified the photograph as one Beppo, who used to work for him. Then they went to Gelder's. He said Hudson's busts were part of a batch of six sent out the year before, the rest of which went to Harding Bros. of Kensington. He said the photograph was that of an Italian who once worked for him. Then they went to see the manager of Harding and Bros. He had records of selling one of the three remaining busts to Mr. Harker, one to Mr. Josiah Brown of Chiswick and one to Mr. Sanderford of Lower Grove Road.

PART FOUR

Holmes had taken several notes during Mr. Hardin's evidence, and I could see that he was thoroughly satisfied by the turn which affairs were taking. He made no remark, however, save that, unless we hurried, we should be late for our appointment with Lestrade. Sure enough, when we reached Baker street the detective was already there, and we found him pacing up and down in a fever of impatience. His look of importance showed that his day's work had not been in vain.

"Well?" he asked. "What luck, Mr. Holmes?"

"We have had a very busy day and not entirely a wasted one," my friend explained. "We have seen both the retailers and also the wholesale manufactures. I can trace each of the busts now from the beginning."

"The busts!" cried Lestrade. "Well, well, you have your own methods, Mr. Sherlock Holmes, and it is not for me to say a word against them, but I think I have done a better day's work than you. I have identified the dead man."

"You don't say so?"

"And found a cause for the crime."

"Splendid!"

"We have an inspector who makes a specialty of Saffron Hill and the Italian quarter. Well, this dead man had some Catholic emblem round his neck, and that along with his color made me think he was from the south. Inspector Hill knew him the moment he caught sight of him. His name is Pietro Venucci, from Naples, and he is one of the greatest cut-throats in London. He is connected with the Mafia, which, as you know, is a secret political society, enforcing its decrees by murder. Now, you see how the affair begins to clear up. The other fellow is probably an Italian also, and a member of the Mafia. He has broken the rules in some fashion. Pietro is set upon his track. Probably the photograph we found in his pocket is the man himself, so that he may not knife the wrong person. He dogs the fellow, he sees him enter a house, he waits outside for him, and in the scuffle he receives his own death-wound. How is that, Mr. Sherlock Holmes?"

Holmes clapped his hands approvingly.

"Excellent, Lestrade, excellent!" he cried. "But I didn't quite follow your explanation of the destruction of the busts."

"The busts! You never can get those busts out of your head. After all, that is nothing; petty larceny, six months at the most. It is the murder that we are really investigating, and I tell you that I am gathering all the threads into my hands."

"And the next stage?"

"Is a very simple one. I shall go down with Hill to the Italian quarter, find the man whose photograph we have got, and arrest him on the charge of murder. Will you come with us?"

"I think not. I fancy we can attain our end in a simpler way. I can't say for certain, because it all depends—well, it all depends upon a factor which is completely outside our control. But I have great hopes—in fact, the betting is exactly two to one—that if you will come with us tonight I shall be able to help you to lay him by the heels."

"In the Italian Quarter?"

"No. I fancy Chiswick is an address which is more likely to find him. If you will come with me to Chiswick tonight, Lestrade, I'll promise to go to the Italian Quarter with you tomorrow, and no harm will be done by the delay. And now I think that a few hours' sleep would do us all good, for I do not propose to leave before eleven o'clock, and it is unlikely that we shall be back before morning. You'll dine with us, Lestrade, and then you are welcome to the sofa until it is time for us to start. In the meantime, Watson, I should be glad if you would ring for an express messenger, for I have a letter to send, and it is important that it should go at once."

Holmes spent the evening in rummaging among the files of the old daily papers with which one of our lumber rooms was packed. When at last he descended, it was with triumph in his eyes, but said nothing to either of us as to the result of his researches. For my own part, I had followed step by step the methods by which he had traced the various windings of this complex case, and, though I could not yet perceive the goal which we would reach, I understood clearly that Holmes expected this grotesque criminal to make an attempt upon the two remaining busts, one of which I remembered, was at Chiswick. No doubt the object of our journey was to catch him in the very act, and I could not but admire the cunning with which my friend had inserted a wrong clue in the evening paper, so as to give the fellow the idea that he could continue his scheme with impunity. I was not surprised when Holmes suggested I should take my revolver with me. He had himself picked up the loaded hunting crop, which was his favorite weapon.

A four-wheeler was at the door at eleven, and in it we drove to a spot at the other side of Hammersmith Bridge. Here the cabman was directed to wait. A short walk brought us to a secluded road fringed with pleasant houses, each standing in its own grounds. In the light of a street lamp we read "Laburnum Villa" upon the gate-post of one of them. The occupants had evidently retired to rest, for all was dark save for a fanlight over the hall door, which shed a single blurred circle on to the garden path. The wooden fence which separated the grounds from the road threw a dense black shadow upon the inner side, and here it was that we crouched.

"I fear that you'll have a long wait," Holmes whispered. "We may thank our stars that it is not raining, I don't think we can even venture to smoke to pass the time. However, it's a two to one chance that we get something to pay us for our trouble."

It proved, however, that our vigil was not to be so long as Holmes had led us to fear, and it ended in a very sudden and singular fashion. In an instant, without the least sound to warn us of his coming, the garden gate swung open, and a lithe, dark figure, as swift and active as an ape, rushed up the garden path. We saw it whisk past the light thrown from over the door and disappear against the black shadow of the house. There was a long pause, during which we held our breath, and then a very gentle creaking sound came to our ears. The window was being opened. The noise ceased, and again there was a long silence. The fellow was making his way into the house. We saw the sudden flash of a dark lantern inside the room. What he sought was evidently not there, for again we saw the flash through another blind, and then through another.

"Let us get to the open window. We will nab him as he climbs out," Lestrade whispered.

But before we could move the man had emerged again. As he came out into the glimmering patch of light, we saw that he carried something white under his arm. He looked stealthily all round him. The silence of the deserted street reassured him. Turning his back upon us he laid down his burden, and the next instant there was the sound of a sharp tap, followed by a clatter and rattle. The man was so intent upon what he was doing that he never heard our steps as we stole across the grass plot. With the bound of a tiger Holmes was on his back and an instant later Lestrade and I had him by either wrist, and the handcuffs had been fastened. As we turned him over I saw a hideous sallow face, with writhing, furious features, glaring up at us, and I knew that it was indeed the man of the photograph whom we had secured.

BRIDGING OF THE BAY AT SAN FRANCISCO IS FEASIBLE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—The bridging of San Francisco bay is feasible, John V. Davies and Ralph Modjeski, tunnel and bridge experts of New York and Chicago, respectively, stated here yesterday in forecasting the contents of a report they will submit to authorities today. They said the construction cost would be high, but expressed the opinion that it will be warranted from an economic standpoint.

The proposed bridge would be built from San Francisco to Oakland.

NATIONAL W. C. T. U. TO HAVE ANNUAL CONVENTION

CHICAGO, July 7.—The forty-ninth annual meeting of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, the first convention to be held since the eighteenth amendment became effective, will be held in San Francisco August 18 to 23.

DROP IN TEMPERATURE REPORTED AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, July 7.—Chicago gasped and looked extremely skeptical today when the weather bureau reported the thermometer at only 82 at 8 o'clock this morning, after a sweltering night when thousands sought the parks and the beaches in an effort to snatch a few minutes' comfortable sleep. Another hot, humid day brought no relief from the heat wave.

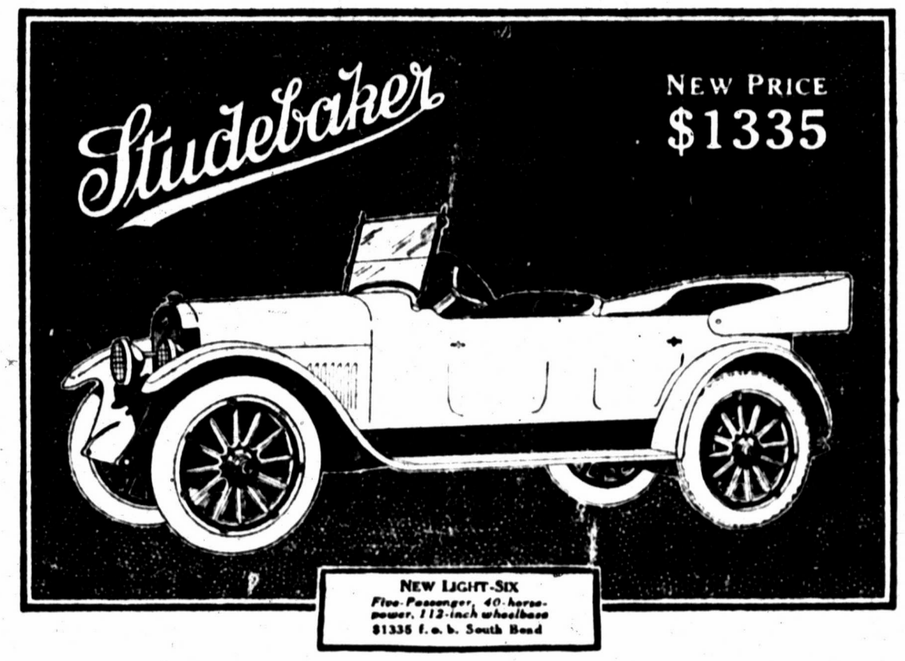

The heat yesterday was held directly responsible for five deaths, the doubling of the city's mortality rate and dozens of prostrations. One large company laid off 5,000 men because the heat was too great to continue work in the foundries.

Here's why CAMELS are the quality cigarette

BECAUSE we put the utmost quality into this one brand. Camels are as good as it's possible for skill, money and lifelong knowledge of fine tobaccos to make a cigarette.

Nothing is too good for Camels. And bear this in mind! Everything is done to make Camels the best cigarette it's possible to buy. Nothing is done simply for show.

Take the Camel package for instance. It's the most perfect packing science can devise to protect cigarettes and keep them fresh. Heavy paper—secure foil wrapping—revenue stamp to seal the fold and make the package air-tight. But there's nothing flashy about it. You'll find no extra wrappers. No frills or furbelows.

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And remember—you must pay their extra cost or get lowered quality.

If you want the smoothest, mellowest, mildest cigarette you can imagine—and one entirely free from cigaretty aftertaste,

It's Camels for you.

W. O. W. INSURGENTS FROM TEXAS DENIED A SEAT IN CONVENTION

NEW YORK, July 7.—Spirited arguments were made at the convention of the Woodmen of the World today when the credentials committee refused seats to the so-called insurgent delegates of Texas and Missouri after recognizing insurgents from Nebraska. Action of the 1919 convention at Chicago, increasing fraternal insurance rates, caused the factional fight, it was said.

R. A. Buck, judge of the court of civil appeals, at Fort Worth and Assistant Attorney General Bryan of Texas, led the fight for the ousted delegations. They declared the higher insurance rates had caused sixty thousand members to be lost to the order in Texas last year, and declared others would quit as a result of the action of the credentials committee today.

The unseated Texans were delegated by a rump convention after they had bolted the regular state gathering at Houston last March in a dispute over voting. The credentials committee here decided insurgent conventions had no authority to elect delegates.

EDITOR WAMPUS CAT PLACED UNDER ARREST

Charged With Having Sent Out Matter Barred From the United States Mail.

SHREVEPORT, LA., July 7.—W. L. Shields of Leesville, La., editor of the "Wampus Cat," a monthly publication, today was arrested on a federal warrant charging him with having sent by express into Texas, May 21 last, matter which the government forbids sending through the mails. Shields was released under $1,500 bail.

The warrant describes the publication as "obscene, lewd, lascivious and filthy."

LOCAL REFINERIES ASKING LOWER RATE

See Possibility of Reviving Export Business If Reduction in Freight Is Given.

A move to re-establish the old export rate of 20 cents per hundredweight on gasoline has been inaugurated by local refineries as a result of the meeting held here last week. The matter has been taken up by committees representing local refineries, who are hopeful of favorable action.

In a letter to the Fort Worth & Denver, V. E. Jackson, traffic and sales manager of the Texhoma company, says:

"As late as November, 1920, the refineries in North Texas and Oklahoma were exporting approximately 50 per cent of their product through New Orleans terminal points, but excessive freight rates have enabled companies operating refineries on the Gulf and Atlantic coasts, who handle their oil in pipe lines and by boat from Mexico, to not only monopolize the export market, but also to monopolize the seaboard markets.

"If you will investigate, you will find that the railroad tonnage to Gulf ports and to lower Mississippi crossings has been reduced 50 to 75 per cent since the rate increases.

"There have been rumors that there was no export market at the present time. However, this is not the fact, for we have statistics to show that export business is about as great as it has ever been, but instead of the north Texas and Oklahoma refineries getting this business, it is being taken as stated above by the refineries along the coast, on which business you receive no revenue whatever."

General Manager Hubert M. Harrison of the chamber of commerce, who is visiting relatives in Greenville, will be one of the speakers there at the dedication of the large electric sign which will welcome visitors to that city.

A negro porter at a local drug store was arrested by the city detective department Wednesday night when two bottles of hair tonic were found hidden in a small box used exclusively by him. He admitted the theft, having taken the liquid for "refreshment" purposes, he said. He was turned over to county authorities.

REASON WHY TELEPHONE WAS USED TO GIVE FIRE ALARM

Residents in the vicinity of Second and Seymour streets near where there was a fire Tuesday night, state that the reason the alarm was turned in by telephone, instead of by alarm box, is that there is only one fire box in all that section of the city east of the tracks and north of Seventh street, and that the box is several blocks distant from the scene of the fire.

As a result of the alarm being telephoned in, fire department officials said, an error in the address was made, and some valuable time was lost. Residents of the section mentioned think they ought to have some additional boxes.

SATTERTHWAIT AND HURLEY RECEIVERS GILLILAND OIL CO.

WILMINGTON, DEL., July 7—John J. Satterthwait of this city and P. J. Hurley of Tulsa, Okla., were appointed receivers of the Gilliland Oil company by Judge Hugh M. Morris, in federal district court today.

The company, a Delaware corporation, operating in the southwestern oil fields, appeared in court and consented to the appointment in advance of the hearing set for July 12. The plaintiffs are the Liberty Central Trust company of St. Louis and Edward Cornell of New York City, who claim mismanagement of the assets of the company.

IOWA PARK C. OF C. ORGANIZATION IS GETTING UNDER WAY

Organization of the Iowa Park chamber of commerce was perfected this week, with appointment of committees, and the body will soon be installed in permanent offices on Cash street. It will maintain a complete statistical and information service, giving special attention to automobile tourists' needs.

The co-operation and assistance of the Wichita Falls chamber of commerce was extended the new organization, Secretary J. W. Chatham Jr. being at Iowa Park Wednesday to meet with committees.

Dr. J. Frank Clark is president of the organization, A. C. Golden is vice president, and E. M. Burge secretary. The finance committee consists of Tom L. Burnett, Tom Corridon and Scott Ralston.

IMPROVEMENT IS FOUND IN BAKERY AFTER OWNER IS FINED FOR VIOLATION

W. F. Barker, one of the partners in Barker Bros. Bakery, was fined $25 and costs by a jury in the county court at law Thursday morning. The jury found him guilty of a violation of the state baking laws with reference to sanitary conditions.

S. M. Ramsey, the state inspector who filed the charges against him, made the following statement Thursday afternoon:

"Immediately after adjournment of court, at the request of Mr. Barker, I went with him to his bakery and made another inspection of the plant, which is a good one and can easily be kept in a sanitary condition. I found that the walls and ceiling had been painted and that the floors had been scraped. Mr. Barker declares that by the end of the week he will be in first class condition and that from this time forward he proposes to employ an ample number of efficient men to keep his place in first class condition at all times."

NAVAL BLIMP C-3 EXPLODES AND BURNS FOUR MEN ABOARD

WASHINGTON, July 7—The naval blimp C-3 exploded at the naval air station at Hampton Roads, Va., today burning and injuring the four persons who were aboard, according to reports to the navy department.

None of the persons aboard the C-3 was seriously injured, according to the reports to the department but two were painfully burned. The big gas bag had just been released for a photographic flight and was raising slowly when the explosion occurred. Those aboard jumped with parachutes. The blimp was destroyed.

The explosion was caused by the carrying away of the rip panel of the balloon, the vibration setting fire to the craft. Lieutenant Johnson, who was in command, was burned about the hands, while Photographer Russell was burned about the back. Lieutenant Edward, the pilot, and Machinist's Mate Limke escaped unhurt.

TIMES DAILY MARKETS

COTTON MARKET.

New York Cotton.

NEW YORK, July 7.—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 5 to 9 points in response to higher Liverpool cables, and soon showed net advances of 15 to 20 points on active positions, with October selling at 12.70. Reports of an increased spot demand in Liverpool was one of the early features, while a possibility that the covering movement reported in stocks might extend to cotton, may have accounted for some of the local buying. Scattered southern hedge selling was reported at the start but it was not in sufficient volume to make much impression on the market and prices held generally steady toward the middle of the morning.

Favorable weather advices failed to create any selling power and when early offerings had been absorbed the market worked higher on trade buying and a continued scattering demand from Wall street and local sources. October sold up to 12.74, with active months generally showing net advances of about 20 to 24 points around noon.

Trading remained quiet but there was continued covering on reports of an increasing export demand in the south and a firmer spot basis. October sold up to 12.76 with the general market 24 to 26 points net higher during the middle of the afternoon.

Cotton closed barely steady.

New Orleans Cotton.

NEW ORLEANS, July 7.—Reports of a better spot demand and that sales of spots had been made after hours yesterday in this market at the highest basis of the season put the price of cotton higher today, active months gaining 16 to 20 points in the first hour of the session. October traded up to 12.23. Shorts were disposed to cover.

Favorable spot accounts from Texas helped to steady the market as did also the claim by freight brokers that they were feeling a steady demand for ocean room for cotton for July sailing. While the tone held very steady the market advanced slowly. At 11 o'clock the trading months were 17 to 21 points up with October at 12.25.

Price movements became slow but a very steady tone was retained and in the late trading prices were sent to gains of 18 to 25 points October touching 12.27.

The market closed steady at net advances of 13 to 18 points.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

CHICAGO, July 7.—Firmness developed in the wheat market today chiefly owing to bullish crop reports from North Dakota. It was said that on much acreage in that state the crop had been almost entirely destroyed by drought and that elsewhere the quality had been injured. Opening quotations, which ranged from 1c off to 4c advance with September $1.16¾ to $1.17 and December $1.18¾, were followed by material gains all around.

Black rust reports from Manitoba and Saskatchewan attracted notice later, and so, too, did disappointing threshing returns from Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa and Missouri. The close was strong, 3c to 5c net higher, with September $1.20½ to $1.30¾ and December $1.23 to $1.23¼.

Corn, after opening unchanged to 1c higher, including September at 59¾ to 60c, scored a decided general advance.

No important reaction took place. The close was firm, 1@1¼c net higher, with September 60¾@61 to 61¼c.

Oats started 1c to 1¼c up, September 37¾ to 37⅞c and soon hardened all around.

Higher hogs helped provisions.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

NEW YORK, July 7.—Stocks forfeited part of yesterday's substantial gains in the early stages of today's trading. Profit-taking was observed in most of the speculative favorites, notably foreign oils. Mexican Petroleum soon declined 2 points and Pan-American Petroleum 1 point. Irregular recessions were made by American Sugar, Atlantic Gulf, Studebaker, Baldwin, Bethlehem, Crucible and U. S. Steels. Rails retained much of their firmness, but gains were confined to inactive specialties. These included Chicago Pneumatic Tool, Remington Typewriter, Wilson company and California Packing.

Rails became the dominant feature at the midday announcement that they would receive an additional 500 million dollars under the government's refunding plan. Advances of 1 to 2 points were made by the leading Pacifics, grangers and coalers. Among industrials and specialties higher prices ruled.

The clothing was heavy. Sales approximated 800,000 shares.

NON-INCORPORATED CONCERNS MUST FILE THEIR TRADE NAMES

All merchants and companies doing business in Wichita county must file their trade name with the county clerk, according to the dictates of a statute passed by the state legislature at its last session.

The law went into effect June 12 but as yet the blanks for the filing of this information have not arrived.

County Clerk W. T. Harris stated Thursday that just as soon as the blanks arrived he would advertise the fact. The fee for the filing of this report is $1.

Incorporations are not included in the law but failure on the part of the unincorporated firms to file this report is punishable by a fine from $25 to $100.

The first report of this nature filed with the county clerk Thursday contained 635 names. The county clerk only receives the usual fee of $1 for this also. Filing of this report is not an annual affair but a new report must be made upon any change in the company's partners or stockholders.

Adverse money exchange in the United State: is costing Great Britain 225,000,000 pounds a year, more than the administrative cost of the country before the war.

No! Positively No!

We do not loan money at 3% interest. This is NOT a "contract 3% loan company," but an "old line" building and loan association, a corporation of $1,000,000, authorized capital stock. We charge 10% interest for our money, because we are earning this same ten per cent for our depositors. A small fee pays the running expenses of the association and though we are but about 30 days old, we have made and completed four large real estate loans. The Board of Directors want YOU to KNOW, not PRESUME or SUPPOSE what THIS association is. Mail the coupon below and you will fnd out.

LEGAL NOTICE.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

The State of Texas, county of Wichita. By virtue of a certain execution issued out of the honorable district court of Wichita county, on the 13th day of June, 1921, in the A. F. Kerr, district clerk's office against Jupiter Petroleum Co. et al for the sum of $3,000.00 and costs of suit in cause No. 4236 in said court, styled Beaver Electra Refining Co. versus Jupiter Petroleum Co., C. A. Kitson, R. E. Carter and placed in my hand for service. I, Fred K. Smith as sheriff of Wichita county, Texas, did on the 13th day of June, 1921, levy on certain real estate situated in Wichita county, described as follows, to-wit: Forty acres of land out of the R. Hodson survey, Abst. No. 97 and the D. L. & C. Co. survey, both in Wichita county, Texas and known as lot No. 4 of the subdivision of said surveys and more particularly described as follows: Beginning 146.6 vrs. north of the S. W. corner of the D. L. & C. Co. survey, thence south 146.6 vrs., thence east 134 vrs., thence south 146.6 vrs., thence west 134 vrs. to place of beginning and levied upon as the property of said Jupiter Petroleum Co. et al, and on the first Tuesday in August, A. D. 1921, the same being the 2nd day of said month, at the court house door of Wichita county, in the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, between the hours of ten a. m. and four p. m. I will sell said real estate at public auction for cash to the highest bidder as the property of said Jupiter Petroleum Co. et al, and in compliance with law I give this notice by publication in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale, in the Wichita Daily Times, a newspaper published in Wichita county, Texas. And in the 6th day of June, 1921. Fred K. Smith, sheriff Wichita county, Texas. By C. Dakan, deputy. July 7-14-21

$10,000 DAMAGE IN SCOTT AVENUE FIRE

Building Owned by Marvin Smith is Gutted—Three Concerns Suffer Losses.

Property loss which will exceed $10,000 was sustained at the Marvin Smith building, 902-04 Scott avenue, when fire of unknown origin completely gutted the structure at 5 o'clock Thursday morning, totally consuming the stock and fixtures of the Chapman Automotive Accesories company and the Chapman Cleaning and Pressing company and badly damaging the shop of the White Sign company, all of which were located in the building.

Heaviest loss was occasioned at the accessory department room, which was located at the front of the building near the Ninth street side. It was separated from the cleaning establishment, where the flames are believed to have originated, by beaver board partitions, which added fuel to the fire and allowed it to gain a start in a large stock of expensive tire casings. A quantity of electrical supplies was also ruined or badly damaged, bringing the total loss of the department to approximately $7,000.

The cleaning establishment was wiped out more completely even than the accessory room. About 50 suits, coats and ladies skirts were consumed, together with all the shop equipment which included two steam presses, boilers, ironing appliances and sewing machines. Loss here will not exceed $2,500, officials of the company stated Thursday morning, part of which is covered by insurance. The automotive department also carried some insurance, it was stated.

Damage to the sign company stock can be covered by $600, it is believed. It was located in the rear of the building and although separated only by beaver board partitions, was saved from the flames by the fire department. Smoke and water wrought heavy damage, however.

The building itself was not badly damaged and can easily be repaired. It was of hollow tile construction, which resisted the flames. The inside partitions were burned away and the roof damaged but the walls themselves were not hurt.

Firemen and officials of the three companies were at a loss to explain the origin of the blaze but it is thought that the fire started in the tailor shop. Reports were circulated Thursday morning that an explosion had taken place just before the flames broke out but this was not given much credence. No gasoline was kept in the establishment over night, the owner declared, and all fires were extinguished the evening before.

The interior of the building was a mass of flames when the fire department arrived on the scene, the alarm having been turned in by a newsboy who ran to the Central station and pulled the firemen out. Some one pulled a box after the trucks were at the scene of the fire.

RUSSIAN REFUGEE REACHES THIS CITY, WILL REMAIN HERE

Sam Skibell of somewhere in Russia arrived in Wichita Falls recently and has entered the employ of Philip Kleinman. With several other refugees, Skibell reached Dallas several weeks ago, and Mr. Kleinman brought him to Wichita Falls.

Skibell is from Poland, leaving that country when the recurrent outbreaks against members of his race made things too uncomfortable. He cannot yet speak English, but is learning fast.

PRIDDY SAYS TARIFF ON OIL IS NECESSARY

Calls Attention to the Plight of Producer in Letter to Senator Sheppard.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—A tariff of 75 cents to $1 per barrel on oil is absolutely necessary, according to W. M. Priddy of Wichita Falls, who writes Senator Sheppard, reviewing the situation in the Burkburnett and northwest fields. Mr. Priddy operates 40 wells, which are producing an average of 12 barrels each per day. During April he produced 12,415 barrels of oil at an average cost of $1.15 per barrel and for the month of May 13,645 barrels at an average cost of 95 cents per barrel, the variation being due to the amount of cleaning work done each month and the reduction in the cost of labor. At this time, he says, the pipe line companies are paying for this oil only $1 per barrel, so that "you can see that it is useless to produce the oil; however, I am selling my oil at prémium of 15 cents above the pipe line prices, so that my production showed a profit of about 20 cents per barrel less overhead."

He says large companies are following the lead of the Standard, and that the most serious situation is brought about by the very large amount of oil being imported from Mexico, amounting to around 400,000 to 500,000 barrels per day, which is almost as much oil as is being produced by both Oklahoma and Texas. He says this condition cannot continue long without the small producers and the refineries being forced out of business so that the Standard oil group will buy up these leases at an enormous loss to those who have previously owned them, and as soon as matters have been pretty well threshed out in this way the Standard oil group will run the prices way up.

Mexican oil producers can show a profit of 20 cents per barrel under present conditions, Mr. Priddy says, and in view of the fact that ocean transportation is very much cheaper than rail transportation, the Standard oil interests can put the Mexican oil in any gulf port for probably less than 50 cents per barrel.

A tax of 75 cents to $1 per barrel on the importation of crude would equalize the difference in the cost of producing Texas oil against the cost of buying and shipping the Mexican oil into this country. Continuing Mr. Priddy says, "Of course we ought to all shut down our leases until conditions change, but there are many operators who would not do this and who would take advantage of the fact that the offsetting leases were not operating. This condition forces all to continue to operate," he concludes.

MOVING PICTURE SHOW MAN PLEADS GUILTY TO VIOLATION

L. L. Millar, a moving picture show proprietor of Newtown, pleaded guilty to the charge of violating the Sunday laws before Judge Guy Rogers late Wednesday evening and he was fined $25 and costs. It is alleged that Millar operated his show two Sundays in succession.

NEGRO PUT UNDER BOND OF $500 ON THREATENING CHARGE

Ed Burley, a negro, waived examining trial before Justice of the Peace R. V. Gwinn late Wednesday evening on a charge of threatening to take human life and his bond was set at $500. It is alleged that he threatened his wife and that she made the complaint upon which he was arrested.

Ream the Oil Sand by Rotary-Centrifugal Process

HERE IS WHAT I ACCOMPLISHED WITH A RENTED TOOL ON THE LEASE OF

THE BRINKLEY PRO. & REF. CO., BL. 74, F. C. VOGEL FARM, NORTHWEST POOL

Reamed well No. 2 March 4th. It was making about 30 bbls. Increased in 30 days to about 55 bbls, now making about 55 bbls.
Reamed well No. 3 May 20th. It was making 4 to 5 bbls. Increased in 30 days to about 35 bbls. now making about 35 bbls.
Reamed well No. 4 June 4th. It was making about 45 bbls. Increased to date to about 50 bbls. and increasing.
Shot well No. 5 Dec. 5th. It was making about 25 bbls. Increased in 45 days to about 40 bbls., now making about 28 bbls.
Well No. 5 is going down, and will have to be REAMED. No. 2 is remaining stationery. Nos. 3 and 4 are increasing.

It required nearly six weeks to overcome floating sand troubles in No. 5 while wells Nos. 3 and 4 were shut down, cleaned out, reamed and loose sand removed and back pumping the evening of third day and no cup troubles followed. REAMING done by PATENTED tools which I have purchased. QUICKER and CHEAPER than shooting. NO RISK. NO FLOATING SAND. LARGER sand EXPOSURE for VACUUM to work on, and big STORAGE space in bottom of wells to accumulate oil while pulling rods and tubing and working on surface equipment.

TOOLS RENTED, SOLD OR REAMING CONTRACTED FOR CASH OR PRODUCTION, OR WILL WORK OVER AND OPERATE YOUR WELLS FOR A ROYALTY
