After Christmas... Comes Politics

County Tax Assessor-Collector Monte Hardegree and Miss Juanice Bruce, secretary in County Superintendent Roy Davis Coles' office, face the camera during the traditional Courthouse pre-Christmas party. Just as traditional are the political campaigns that are coming up soon for seven Courthouse officials, including Mr. Hardegree.

SHERIFF SEEKS RE-ELECTION

Claxton 'Breaks Ice' In Politics

Politics is warming up at the heels of chilly weather and Christmas holidays. And the first to break the political ice is Sheriff Lewis Claxton, who announced Saturday that he would be a candidate for re-election in the Democratic Party primary. Claxton, who was elected to his first 4-year term in 1960 and took office in January 1961, said his campaign for re-election would be based on "my record of diligent service, fair and impartial application of the law for all citizens at all times."

"I express my thanks to all the citizens of Mitchell County for their support of my efforts for honest, fair and gentlemanly service during these four years you have honored me as your sheriff. At the same time, I express my gratitude to county, city and precinct officials and state officers for the type of cooperation that promotes effective law enforcement for the good of all our county. And my pledge is that, if re-elected as your sheriff, I shall renew my efforts for this same honest, hard-working service for efficient and fair law enforcement."

TO NEEDY FAMILIES

97 Baskets Are Delivered

Ninety-seven Christmas baskets of food were distributed to needy families here through the community effort coordinated by Ministerial Alliance. More families—a total of 150—received clothing and toys through the same program. Tabulation of the Christmas basket program was made Saturday by Mrs. Mary Lee Moore, who expressed thanks for the cooperation of organizations, churches and individuals. This fine cooperation is the ingredient that made the basket effort successful," said Mrs. Moore, who was supervisor for the coordinating office. Furnishing the 97 baskets delivered before Christmas to families were Colorado High, 3; Colorado Junior High, 14; Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, 5; Colorado City Volunteer Firemen 5; Kiwanis, 10; Lions, 10; Local 826 International Union of Operating Engineers at Col-Tex Refinery, 10; Dorn Nursery School, 1; H&G Food Store, churches and anonymous donors.

Medicine for two ill persons were also provided in the Christmas program as were three cases of condensed milk for babies. Mrs. Moore said special thanks also were in order for the Earnest Estate, for providing rent free headquarters in 100 block of Walnut; Junior Chamber of Commerce for sponsoring the collection and rehabilitation of toys; Colorado High School shop students, who repaired the toys; Boy Scouts for special food and clothing collection; Woodmen of the World for providing shoes and two coats; five anonymous givers of meat for baskets of canned food, and two anonymous donors of 100 pounds of potatoes and beans. The basket program is coordinated annually by the Ministerial Alliance so that Christmas charity can be distributed in the most efficient manner—reaching those persons who are in need, avoiding duplications while at the same time providing adequately.

AT FAMILY FARM

Accident Kills 'Chip' Payne

A day-after-Christmas hunting accident cut short the life of James E. (Chip) Payne Jr., 21, a young man who distinguished himself scholarly and was named most likely to succeed in Colorado High's 1960 graduating class. His father, James E. (Jimmy) Payne, found his son fatally shot, one leg snagged in a barbed wire fence at the Payne farm about four miles south of Colorado City.

The tragic discovery was at 7:30 p. m. Thursday after the younger Payne had failed to meet his father at a designated area at the farm.

The rifle discharged as Payne, attempting to step over a fence, snagged his right leg under the thigh in the barbed wire.

He fell backward and was still caught in the fence when found.

The fatal accident happened when Payne was enjoying an afternoon off work from a job he assumed while waiting to resume studies in January at Rice University.

His studies at Rice were interrupted by a six-month tour of duty with Army.

His father drove him to the farm, which adjoins the Colorado River, and let him out of the car early Thursday afternoon for a few hours of hunting.

When young Payne, failed to meet the car when the father returned at about 4:30 p. m., the father returned home, thinking the son likely had caught a ride into town with friends.

The father returned again to the farm looking for his son, then sought help and returned to the search again.

The body was found in the See 'CHIP' PAYNE Pg. 8

BURGLARY HERE, TOO

Break-in at T&P

A burglary before midnight Christmas Eve took $63.25 in cash from Colorado City's T&P Station. The break-in, committed the same night inexperienced juvenile burglars were on a spree in Loraine, was discovered at 11:55 p. m. by Terry Howell, T&P employee.

Entrance to the large rock building, Walnut at First St., was gained on the south side next to the railroad tracks.

Burglar or burglars raised a window, then went to a metal cash drawer in the office area.

Currency amounting to $62, one 50-cent piece and two 25-cent coins were taken from the cash drawer after the lock was broken.

Police Chief Leon Yeager said investigation was continuing Saturday

Six Firms Looted In 2 Nights

Young burglars—five of them juveniles—struck six Loraine firms in a pre-Christmas crime spree.

But Sheriff Lewis Claxton and his deputies apprehended them all in a swift Christmas day round-up.

Pennies—coins which one of the six youths spent—was a major factor in leading officers to the suspects.

Only limited loot was taken in all the break-ins which began Saturday night and resumed Christmas Eve.

Four of the youths broke into Loraine's Co-op Gins No. 1 and No. 2 Saturday night—getting only a small amount of change at No. 1 and about $5 of $6 in money plus some pencils, at No. 2.

It was this initial break-in that the youths carried away a lot of pennies—the coins which were to put officers on the trail of one of the boys under suspicion.

They raised a window at No. 1 to gain entrance and opened a door at No. 2.

Christmas Eve night the burglary spread to Cree-Mee Drive-In, where $25 in cash and 63 packages of cigarettes were taken; Roy Richard Auto Parts, about $7 in loot taken; C. M. Duke Service Station, about 40 cents in loot; Percy Bond's Donna-Lin Drive-In Theater, where the haul was nil.

At the Cree-Mee, the burglars cut a hole in the back door, then unlocked the door. They broke a window at the Auto parts firm, broke another at the service station.

Joining the sheriff's department in the Christmas Day investigation and apprehension of the six suspects—ranging in age from 15 to 17—was Loraine Constable Lawrence Graham.

Two of the youths live near Loraine and others have been in the county with cotton crews, according to Claxton. Felony charges are being prepared against the oldest of the group and the others are See BURGLARY Pg. 8

President Lyndon Johnson's said, "and what the imports are doing to the U. S. beef industry."

"We may have given them a new viewpoint and we believe that we made a better impact by talking on their invitation—not by making a lobbying trip on our own."

The fact that president Johnson talked personally

For they were concerned with the attitude of representatives of the Agriculture Department while Washington.

PLEADS GUILTY

Youth Sentenced In Traffic Death

A five-year probated sentence was pronounced here Friday in 32nd District Court for Jan Gutierrez, 18, in connection with the auto-pedestrian death of Richard R. Howell last October.

Gutierrez waived a jury trial and pleaded guilty before Judge Austin McCloud to the charge of homicide with a motor vehicle while driving while intoxicated.

The probated sentence provides the youth opportunity of rehabilitating himself, but also provides District Attorney Weldon Kirk the avenue to place Gutierrez in prison if he returns to law troubles.

Gutierrez was placed under supervision of B. H. Erwin during his probation period.

Police that two flinder skirts were stolen from his 1957 Chevrolet while parked downtown Monday afternoon.

Firemen quickly brought under control a fire at an oil pit Christmas Day just west of the city limits and north of U. S. Highway 80.

Twenty-three volunteer firemen interrupted their Christmas activities to extinguish the blaze from waist high weeds and grass, keep it from spreading to oil storage tank and the cotton compress.

BY MRS. BOB CARVER

Christmas in The Holy Land Program for Zetagathians

"There was a star in David's land," sing the carolers recalling the Christmas story that Christmas love and live by," said Mrs. Bob Carver, as she began her talk to the recent meeting of the Zetagathian Study Club.

"The vast sweep of the Old Testament and the New, ranging across deserts and mountains, seems to cover a territory whose horizons are limitless. The still waters, the howling wilderness, the flung battlefields, and cities whose names toll like church bells, all exist in the landscape that every reader of the Bible can visualize, stretching endlessly into the distance.

"It comes as something of a surprise then, to visit the Holy Land and find that the Biblical world is in reality very small. When Jesus taught in this land, he covered a radius of 110 miles, but the ideas born there reached to the end of the earth," the speaker stated.

Egyptians, Hebrews, Babylonians, Assyrians, Persians, Greeks, Romans, Crusaders, and Turks have all left their stamp upon this sun dried strip of land called Canaan, later known as Palestine, she remarked.

"Today it is the bitterly divided land called the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan to the North and the State of Israel to the South. And yet, despite its political boundaries, it is still Holy Land to millions of the world's three great faiths, Judaism, Christianity, and Mohammedism. The major shrines of all three faiths are found there," Mrs. Carver said.

"Jerusalem, the Holiest City of all, now ironically riven by barbed wire barricades and a no man's land, contains on the Jordan side the Christian's 'Holy Sepulchre,' the Muslim's 'Dome of the Rock' and the Jew's 'Wailing Wall.' On the Israel side, there is the 'Tomb of David,' most revered of the Jewish shrines, and above it the room of the 'Last Supper,' a Holy place of the Christians.

"Since it is a land of shrines, it is a land of pilgrimages," she said. Continuing, the speaker told how for months the Feast of the Nativity, the towns of Bethlehem and Jerusalem in Jordan, and Nazareth in Israel prepare for the Christian celebrants who throng in from all quarters of the globe. She said that to Bethlehem in particular they come, in thousands, in scores of different sects.

"In Bethlehem, which means 'House of Bread', the secular Christmas feast is Arab, curiously tinged with the customs of the West. The Christmas tree is a live, growing tree in this land where timber is so scarce. It is strung with lights and trimmed in gilded silver and gold pine cones, and walnut shells that are carefully kept intact and rejoined when the nuts are cracked for the Christmas cookies. . .

"In Israel, the greatest Christmas celebration will be in Nazareth, the little town sunk like a bowl in the hills of Galilee, where all is related to the boyhood of Jesus," Mrs. Carver told her audience.

"... to travel today in the land where Christmas started is most satisfying and disturbing. An hour or so away from Jerusalem in Jordan, you can actually see the excavated 'Wall of Jericho', watch the veiled women filling their water jugs at 'Elisha's Fountain' just as they did 2,000 years ago, see the lush tropical vegetation that made the Jordan Valley the land of milk and honey.

"Your Sunday School pictures come to life when you visit the Dead Sea, the Mount of Olives, and The Garden of Gethsemane, with its ancient, gnarled olive trees that seem to have a look of mysticism about them. On the Israel side, there are the quiet waters of the Sea of Galilee to visit with the nearby Mount of Beatitudes," she said in a description of the land.

Iva Helen Gross Here From Andrews

Miss Iva Helen Gross was a holiday guest of her mother, Mrs. Clarence R. Gross. Miss Gross is school librarian in Andrews.

Visiting the Robert Ramage family during the holidays were Miss Inez Gartman of Robert Lee, sister of Mrs. Ramage, and Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Gartman, Mike and Roby of Big Spring, her brother and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Roberts were holiday guests of her parents. Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Thompson, Roberts is a student at Arlington State College.

"There was a star in David's land," sing the carolers. Today it is thought that its dazzling light was an infrequent confluence of the planets Jupiter and Saturn which led three ancient scientists to Bethlehem on the night that Christ was born. But does that really explain away the miracle? The planets are a miracle in themselves.

"We know, we Christians know, that the true miracle of the star is this—after nineteen hundred and sixty odd years the Christ child is reborn every year in the hearts of each of us," the speaker said in closing.

The December meeting was hosted by Mrs. Brady Warren in her home. Program leader was Mrs. Bob Robinson. A new member Mrs. Floyd Morris, was welcomed into the club.

Decorations in the party rooms included a tree of gold and green, with gold candles and greenery on the mantle. The tea table was covered in Normandy lace with appointments of silver.

Following the program gifts were exchanged and a basket for a needy family was prepared.

Atheneum Club Party Held Tuesday

Atheneum Study Club met in the Terrace Room of the Baker Hotel Tuesday for their Christmas luncheon. The president, Mrs. T. J. Riden welcomed guests. Mrs. Jim Johnson gave the invocation. Guest speaker, Mrs. George Mahoney, was introduced by Mrs. Bruce Johnson.

Mrs. Mahoney gave a human interest story of Christmas celebration in which a mother proved to her children that giving themselves to help others is the happiest way to celebrate the glad season. The story was emphasized and highlighted by scripture readings concerning the Christ child.

Christmas carols were sung by the group. The decorating committee had arranged a Christmas centerpiece with candles and place cards which added a festive air to the occasion.

Visitors present were Meses: B. W. Tarr, Howard Tarr, Virgil Walker, George Mahoney, S. E. Meadow, Harold Martin, Joe Terry, Ira Coffee and Mrs. Hubert Meadow. Members present were Meses: Percy Bond, Thomas Riden, T. C. Wilson, Robinson Green, Glen Coon, Bob Looney, Woodrow Pratt, Lily Bennett, Bruce Johnson and Mrs. Jim Johnson. A box of gifts was sent to the Senior Citizens Home in Roscoe.

fence in an area where it appeared the son was quitting the hunt and walking a short distance to the rendezvous point with his father after checking on a heater.

Funeral service was conducted Saturday at 2 p. m. in First Methodist Church with the minister, Rev. Darris Egger, and Rev. Herschel Thurston of Hereford, former First Methodist pastor, as officiants.

Burial was in Colorado City Cemetery under direction of Kiker & Son Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Garrett Boone, Bill Carlisle, Joe Simmons, Steve Smith, Bob Grant, Jay Shimer, Kerry Kendrick, Tommy Humphreys, Jody Patterson and Bobby Patterson.

Payne, who was born Jan. 14, 1942, had lived almost all his life in Colorado City.

He was awarded an appointment to the U. S. Military Academy at West Point while graduating as valedictorian of his 1960 Colorado High Class and accumulating a long list of honors that included Most Likely to Succeed, Eagle Scout rank, president of Colorado High Math Club, charter member of his school's National Honor Society, offices of leadership in Methodist Youth Fellowship, activity in school band, speech and stage groups, selection as one of 35 Texas high school juniors for a special advanced summer course in physics at Texas Tech.

He successfully fought a bout with rheumatic fever his junior year in high school while still earning special honors.

Payne resigned his U. S. Military Academy appointment after a year of study at West Point, then entered Rice to continue his college study. He entered the Army for a six-month tour of duty last February and returned here in late August, planning to return to Rice in January.

During interim, he was employed by Dresser Engineering Company at Silver.

Survivors are his father and mother, prominent in school and civic activities, and a sister Aria Jo Payne, senior student at Colorado High.

Justice of Peace T. E. Arnold, who investigated the tragedy, returned an inquest verdict of accidental death.

CATTELMEN—

"They appeared less perturbed about the conditions than anybody," Kelley said, "and this was puzzling."

Kelley said the point they were trying to get over to Washington officials was the fact that U. S. cattlemen need some protection from increasing imports — particularly Australia and New Zealand — without full government intervention in the cattle industry.

"We discussed lots of ramifications of the problem," Kelley said, "and we discussed the possibility of more positive sanitary controls for beef imports."

"And we all admitted if the imports could be cut in some manner other than by tariffs, this would be more suitable and helpful."

While in Washington, the Angus representatives conferred with Congressman George Mahon, who also voiced concern over the cattle market and said the Texas Congressional delegation had discussed the problem in detail.

Kelley said much of the beef imports were going into meat products. And he emphasized that U. S. regulations require that 25 per cent of better grades of beef carcass go into these products — thus hitting at the heart of the cattle market.

"We came back from Washington," Kelly said, "with the belief that beef producers need to talk their problems over with their Congressmen and Senators so our Washington officials will know, first hand, how conditions are affecting the individual producer."

of Precinct 1 and J. C. (Jake) Northcutt of Precinct 3.

Three precinct constables also have terms expiring—Mose Allen of Precinct 1, Lawrence Graham of Lorraine J. W. Plummer of Westbrook.

Courthouse observers are watching closely the developments in the 32nd District Judge's race—where McCloud is due to run for his first elective term and District Attorney Kirk is considering announcing his candidacy, too.

Kirk, who had strong support for the Judge's bench when Eldon Mahon resigned a few months ago and Governor John Connally appointed McCloud, is expected to make his decision soon.

If Kirk becomes a candidate for judge, then County Attorney Ginzle may become a candidate for district attorney. Or he may seek the DA's job anyway.

But Ginzle is keeping his plans quiet for a while, too.

County Judge Elmer Martin, who presides over juvenile court, conducted hearing Saturday morning for one of the youths who participated in one of the burglaries.

The judge placed the boy on probation for one year and released him in custody of his father.

Hearing on the other juveniles are scheduled to begin Thursday morning, Martin said.

10 Straight Days Below Freezing

Ten straight days the temperature has been dipping below the freezing mark for Colorado City.

The sub-freezing weather has been almost regular for more than three weeks, but last long cold spell began Dec. 18 with a low of 22 degrees.

It has continued right on through Christmas and all of this week. Lowest temp recorded in Colorado City during the 10 days was 16 degrees Dec. 23.

Nearest to rising above the freezing mark was Dec. 20 when the thermometer showed a low of 31 degrees—just one degree below freezing.

Christmas eve the low was 23 degrees and Christmas had a low of 27 degrees. Dec. 26 the temp was up to a low of 30.

Just before this extended sub-freezing weather, there was a slight rise for two days with a low of 33 Dec. 16 and low of 37 for Dec. 17.

But for five consecutive days before this interlude the weather was dropped below the freezing point.
