It still isn't cool enough to satisfy most of us. After a long stretch, probably one of the longest on record, of extremely hot weather, you just naturally look ahead with longing to autumnal weather with its soothing temperatures.

★ ★ ★

This reminds one that we now are on the down-stretch from summer, headed into fall and the bleak, wintry days that follow just as sure as you're a foot high.

★ ★ ★

With that, we may as well go along a little farther and remind you that there remain only 119 more shopping days until Christmas. Ah, there's a cooling thought. Merry Christmas time, with its peace on earth and good will to men, which many of us—nations and individuals—seem to forget when the holidays have ended.

★ ★ ★

The Yuletide and Old Saint Nick! What memories they revive. Christmas trees, glowing logs in the fireplace, little children, stockings hanging from the mantelpiece and the thrilling expectancy of the annual visit from Santa Claus.

★ ★ ★

The Christmastide, without a doubt, is the happiest season of the year. Homes brightly decorated. Colored lights on the front-yard fir trees. Festive days and nights. Family home-comings. The entire Christian world permeated by an atmosphere of glad tidings—but,

★ ★ ★

We're getting far ahead of the calendar. Probably you have noticed by this time that we have a way of rambling off into far corners. We must chop off this line of thought hurriedly . . . For there are Labor Day and Thanksgiving Day still ahead of our favorite of all holidays, Christmas.

★ ★ ★

Labor day falls this year on Sept. 7 . . . Thanksgiving, with its turkey, stuffing and cranberry sauce arrives on Nov. 26 . . . And this is still the first week in August . . . So why write of these things when there is real news breaking in the Panhandle.

★ ★ ★

As we jotted down these words, something as rare as a cold day in June was taking place over this area of the Panhandle. A downpour of rain was falling. It was great while it lasted, but by the time this gets into print and into your hands, no doubt it will again be as dry as an exposed cracker.

★ ★ ★

From here on you are being taken into the dark room where you will be premitted to view the development of a movie film showing a columnist coasting on out to the end of his day's work.

★ ★ ★

First, you are privileged to see the man, leaning back in his chair in front of a typewriter which has in its roll a blank piece of paper. The columnist, too, is a bit blank.

★ ★ ★

With sound equipment, you hear wheels clicking in the columnist's so-called brain factory, but nothing comes out of the idea slot. He lights a cigaret and tries to think again. Now you see the blank look growing still blanker.

★ ★ ★

By this time things are in a pretty mess for the columnist. He begins to wonder just why he is paid. Others may have wondered the same thing for a long time, but now it comes home to him, very forcibly.

★ ★ ★

At this stage of the afternoon, with his blank look indelibly there for the day, you can see that his hat almost fits him again. All of a sudden, the fellow turns to his wealth of filed-away information, thumbs through some pages and finally attacks his typewriter with these words:

★ ★ ★

"Some things a columnist never knew before until today:" Then in double-quick fashion he does some powerful clipping, grabs the paste-pot and slaps the clipping on the blank space on the typewriter page. As a result you read clear down to the end of the column, things like these:

The first brewer in the United States was not of German-American origin, as is commonly supposed. He was a Scotsman and became one of the country's largest producers.

The invention of photography is not credited to any individual, but is the development of discoveries by several men, among them Daguerr, Nicephore, Niepce, and Talbot.

The quality of a wine depends largely upon the quality of the grape as it grew on the vine, and no amount of skill can produce good wine from inferior grape-crops.

DOG SNOOZES AS TRIAL FOR MURDER DRAGS

OWNER TESTIFIES HIS PUP WAS NOTHING BUT PLAYFUL

BROCKPORT, N. Y., Aug. 5 (AP) The mongrel dog, Idaho, which has been accused of the murder of a swimming boy, was returned to his owner by Justice of the Peace Homer D. Benedict today "for confinement until October 1, 1938."

BROCYPORT, N. Y., Aug. 5 (AP)—Idaho, half-grown mongrel pup, fell sound asleep today at his trial for life for the drowning of a boy swimmer.

After an exciting half-hour facing flashlights and the crowd that jammed Brockport's little village hall, the trial bored Idaho, and he proceeded to take a morning nap.

Previously, however, Idaho had yelped in gleeful recognition when his 22-year old master, Victor Fortune, took the stand.

They had been separated during Idaho's stay in a Rochester kennel for observation.

While Idaho dozed the defense went on uninterrupted.

Young Fortune testified he had been swimming with Idaho many times.

"I never found him anything but playful," he insisted.

Idaho roused momentarily as the trial reached its first climax, then lapsed back into his nap. This was when defense attorney Harry A. Sessions called in Rex, an "alibi dog." Like Idaho, Rex is part police, huge and shaggy.

At this point Clem Snoves, 18, who arrived at the scene shortly after the drowning of Maxwell Breeze, 14, on July 4, took the witness stand. Idaho is accused of pawing Breeze until he sank.

Q. What were they doing when you arrived?

A. They were dragging for Max's body.

Q. Did you see a dog there?

A. Yes.

Q. Do you know Idaho?

A. Yes.

Q. Was this dog in or out of the water?

A. Out of the water.

Q. Was he wet?

A. Yes.

Q. Tell the judge if the dog you saw was Idaho or not.

A. The dog we saw was not Idaho.

Q. Was there another dog there?

A. Yes.

Sessions then called for the "alibi" dog and he was led in by a deputy sheriff.

Q. Did this other dog resemble this dog?

A. A little, but it's not the same one.

Another witness was William Brady, a morgue attendant.

"Were there any scratches on Maxwell's body when you examined it?" Sessions asked.

"No," Brady replied.

JAPS BEAT U. S.

BERLIN, Aug. 5 (AP)—Japan defeated the United States 5-1 in Olympic field hockey competition today.

Owens And Discus Hurler From U. S. Shatter Records

Brown Thunderbolt Now Holds Third Title

BY ALAN GOULD,
Associated Press Sports Editor.

BERLIN, Aug. 5 (AP)—Jesse Owens streaked over the 200-meter course in 20.7 seconds, creating a new world record for the distance around one turn, in annexing his third title of the 11th Olympiad today as husky Ken Carpenter of Compton, Calif., won the discus throw championship.

Owens' time bettered his own previous record of 21 seconds flat made last month in the final American Olympic tryouts at Randalls Island, N. Y., and shaved four-tenths of a second off the new Olympic record of 21.1 he set in yesterday's trials.

Today's victory, coupled with his earlier triumphs in the broad jump and the 100-meter sprint, made him the first Olympic "triple champion" since Paavo Nurmi won three gold medals at Paris in 1924.

The 200-meter final produced a one-two finish by American Negroes just as did the 100-meter final. Then, it was big Ralph Metcalfe of Chicago who trailed Owens across the finish line. Today it was Matthew (Mack) Robinson of Pasadena, Calif., who equalled Owens' former Olympic mark of 21.1 seconds.

Owens captured the 100-meter sprint crown Monday with an Olympic and world record-equalling performance in 10.3 seconds after shaving one-tenth of a second off the marks running his quarter-final trial in 10.2 seconds. This time, however, was disallowed as a world record because there was a favoring wind.

The Ohio State flash won the broad jump championship yesterday with a leap of 26 feet 5 21 64 inches, smashing to smithereens the former standard of 25 feet 4 21 64 inches made by Edward Hamm in 1928.

Five Triples Now.

Previously "Olympic triples" have been achieved five times, thrice by Americans. Ray Ewry of New York captured the standing high jump, standing broad jump, and standing hop, step and jump in the 1900 and 1904 games. He also won the standing high and standing broad jumps in 1906 and 1908.

Archie Hahn won the 60, 100, 200 meter springs in 1904.

Hannes Kolemainen of Finland won the 5,000, 10,000 meters and cross country gold medals in 1912 and then, 12 years later at Paris, Nurmi triumphed in the 1,500, 5,000 and 10,000 meter events.

Owens won his second sprint title after big Ken Carpenter of Compton, Calif., won the discus throw championship with a record-breaking toss of 50.48 meters, 165 feet 7 29 64 inches. Gordon (Slinger) Dunn of Fresno, Calif., finished second.

Harold Whitlock of Great Britain captured the 50-kilometer walk. Arthur-Tel Schwab of Switzerland was second.

Owens won the championship in 20.7 seconds—four-tenths of a second faster than the new Olympic record he set in the trials and quarter-

War Nurse Dies

Mrs. V. E. von Brunow, pictured here in the uniform she wore as a war nurse, died just after noon today at her home. She had been in failing health for some time, and seriously ill all summer.

LONG ILLNESS IS FATAL TO MRS. BRUNOW

Was Commander Of American Legion Post Here

Mrs. Lemuel G. Von Brunow, 42, the only woman who ever served as commander of the Kerley-Crossman post of the American Legion, died this afternoon at one o'clock in the Brunow apartments in the Brunow building.

Mrs. Brunow was a direct descendant of Andrew J. Sowell, Texas historian and Texas revolutionary hero. She was the first woman, it is believed locally, to be elected commander of an American Legion post.

Dr. V. E. von Brunnow, her husband, was removed from Worley hospital yesterday. His condition caused by injuries suffered in an automobile collision two weeks ago, is still critical, hospital attendants said. Mrs. Brunow had been confined to bed since last January.

Mrs. Brunow served as a Red Cross nurse at Camp Travis and in New York during the World War. She was commander of the local post about 1924, it was said. She had lived in Pampa 20 years.

Mrs. Brunow attended Simmons University and later received her nurse's training at St. Anthony's hospital in Amarillo. She was a nurse

TESTIMONY TO CLOSE BANNED SPOTS WANTED

COMPLAINTS MUST BE HAD BY SHERIFF'S DEPARTMENT

County law enforcement agencies today were moving in deliberate fashion to reach a solution to recent grand jury complaints about Sunday closing of beer parlors and dance halls in Pampa and Gray county.

Sum and substance of their plans add up to the fact that pressure will be brought to close down and eliminate such places where flagratn law violations are practiced, and places that can be designated as disorderly, falling in the category of public nuisances.

To bring this solution of the problem, Acting Sheriff O. T. Lindsey and County Attorney Sherman White today were planning a campaign in which public cooperation will be sought to bring about the desired results.

Complaints Received

Grand jurors had received complaints from residents in the vicinity of certain places where it was alleged there is noise and disorderly conduct permitted to such an extent that it interferes with the peace and quiet of the neighborhood.

Acting Sheriff Lindsey and the county attorney spent several hours yesterday afternoon and today pouring over law governing the Sunday closing situation.

They found, according to Mr. White, that a dance hall cannot be closed on Sunday unless it can be proven that it is operated in connection with a disorderly place.

The law also states, he pointed out, that it is not illegal to sell beer on Sunday in any place where the sale of beer is not the principal business.

It is illegal, however, to sell liquor between 12 Saturday midnight and 7 a. m. Monday.

Places where beer is the principal business cannot sell between 12 Saturday midnight and 7 a. m. Monday, nor between 12 midnight and 7 a. m. of any week day, under the law.

The county law enforcement agencies, it is planned, will make a close check of the various places complained of in the grand jury report. Residents in their immediate vicinity will be asked to testify that they are conducted in a disorderly fashion. In many instances, it is understood, this type of evidence is available.

Five Spots Cited

The decision of the sheriff's office and the county attorney was reached following citations made last Sunday against five night spots in

STRIFE IN CITY WPA REPORTED QUIETED TODAY

Men Scheduled To Be Back On Job Monday

Status of Pampa's labor troubles among WPA workers will not be known until Monday when the men are scheduled to resume work on the fairgrounds project.

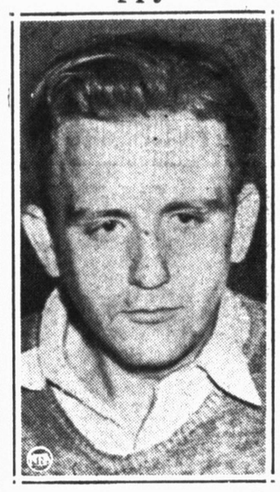

Work for the week was completed yesterday and the men are not scheduled to return to the jobs until Monday, City Manager C. L. Stine said today.

The trouble first flared last Friday when some of the 62 men on the local job complained of working methods and against the wage scale paid.

Differences were ironed out Monday and most of the men returned to work after five of the alleged leaders in the disturbance had been given five-day suspensions and a promise that they would be rehired at the end of the suspension period in the event they agree to abide by WPA rulings.

About 25 men walked off the jobs Monday, but most of them returned to the jobs after a conference with officials.

'Puppy Love' Slayers Confess

Calmly, almost flippantly, Gladys MacKnight (right), 17, of Bayonne, N. J., recounted to police how she hacked her mother to death with a hatchet while Donald Wightman, 18-year-old choir boy, pinioned Mrs. Helen MacKnight's arms. Ill-feeling engendered by Mrs. MacKnight's opposition to Gladys' romance with Wightman flared into violence according to the confession, during an argument over a tardy supper when she and Donald returned from drinking beer at a nearby tavern. The girl said she struck in self-defense when Mrs. MacKnight brandished a carving knife at her.

Editor Of Texas University Paper Fights Gag Rule

Dean Claims Journal Lacks Right To Criticize

AUSTIN, Aug. 5 (AP)—University of Texas students incensed at the new faculty supervision of the Texan, campus newspaper, took fresh courage today from the vigorous support given them by Maury Maverick, plain-spoken congressman from San Antonio.

Maverick said the new rule of the board of regents, the university's governing body, was a step towards "Nazifying" the school. A journalism faculty member was appointed in accordance with the rule to pass on news and editorial content of the paper.

After coming to Austin to investigate, Maverick protested to H. J. Lutcher Stark of Orange, chairman of the board of regents, and Dr. H. Y. Benedict, president of the university.

"That my university should adopt the policies of Communists and Fascists in suppressing freedom of speech and press is astonishing," he said. "The ukase of the board of regents sounds almost exactly like the press decrees of Hitler, Communist Russia and Fascist Italy."

Ed Hodge, of El Paso, student editor of the Texan, said he was in "this fight against censorship to the finish."

"The board chose this time to gag the Texan because 8,000 students are not here and the state legislature is not in session," he said. "I can't do much now but I'm not going to resign. I'm going to do what I can until the long-term students get back next month.

"There are rumors the regents plan to bring back the R. O. T. C., which this paper fought in the past, and take action on other matters the students oppose. If the voice of the Texan is quieted, they can get by with anything."

President Benedict and V. I. Moore, dean of student life, said the regulation was not intended to curb the students' freedom of speech on university matters. Dr. Benedict said it was designed primarily to place an experienced newspaperman in charge of the student staff.

Dean Moore said he believed students of a state university should

LEGION POST TO ELECT OFFICERS AT HUT TONIGHT

Delegates To Attend Convention To Be Named

The regular meeting of Kerley-Crossman Post 334 American Legion will be held at the Legion hut tonight at 8 o'clock.

At this meeting it will be necessary to hold the election of officers for the yer 1937. It is also necessary that delegates be elected to attend the Department Convention at Beaumont, August 29 to September 1 inclusive.

There will be other important business to discuss, so every member is urged to be present and see that you bring another member with you.

Postal Receipts Show Nice Gain

Pampa's July postal receipts for 1936 show nearly a ten per cent gain over the same month a year ago, according to a report made public today by Postmaster C. H. Walker.

Total receipts for July this year were $7,182.36, compared with $6,574.80 in 1935.

The 1936 July figure also shows a gain of more than $1,900 over the preceding month of June. A major portion of this monthly gain is due, however, to payment of box rentals during July.

Fascists Nearer Spanish Capital After Gory Fight

WITH GENERAL MOLA'S ARMY AT ROBLEGORDO, Spain, Aug. 5 (AP)—Spanish fascists in a 48-hour battle today had battered their way two miles closer to Madrid at a cost of 300 killed and a thousand wounded.

Unable to bury their dead, troops engaged in the bitter encounter poured oil on the bodies and burned them on the battlefield.

The advance brought the insurgent right flank to within 36 miles of Madrid.

The insurgents still have to dislodge the strongly-entrenched Loyalist troops from the protective Guadarrama mountains miles north of the capital city plateau before the way is clear for a march on the seat of the Spanish liberal government.

BOY INJURED

A bad bump on the head was the worst injury received by the 12-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Shelton when the bicycle he was riding collided with an automobile at the corner of South Cuyler and Brown streets at noon.

A Malone ambulance took him to Pampa-Jarratt hospital, then to his home after he received treatment for the slight concussion.

Mrs. Eva Mae Enbody has been visiting in Hobbs, N. M. for several days.

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM

It was in one of the larger Panhandle towns, quite a distance from Pampa. "Yes," said the old timer, "I voted for Jimmie Allred, but I am beginning to believe I made a mistake. Take that old man who lives over there," and he pointed to a nice house. "Well he and his wife draw $25 apiece. Old age pensions. They own a brick building and the rent is paid to them every month. I've been doing a little investigating and I'm finding that most of the people who draw pensions don't need it, and those who need pensions are not getting anything. Something's wrong some place. I'll bet you can go back to Pampa and find more people who don't need pensions drawing them than the other way around."

AMARILLO WPA GROUP VISITED BY DELEGATION

GROUP WOULD KNOW WHY JOB DIDN'T START AUG. 1

Assurance that work on the new short-cut road between Pampa and Amarillo will get under way between Aug. 12 and 15 was given by district WPA officials in Amarillo yesterday to a Pampa Board of City Development delegation.

The Pampa group, consisting of J. M. Collins, chairman of the board's highway committee; John Roby, board president; J. S. Wynne, BCD director, and Garnet Reeves, manager, went into conference with the WPA officials after a promise to start the work on Aug. 1 failed to materialize.

The local men were joined by Judge J. C. Jackson, of Panhandle, Carson county judge and Homer Pruitt, Borger Chamber of Commerce president.

They conferred with A. A. Meredith, District 16 WPA director; William Hardy, WPA senior examiner; Nick Jordan, field supervisor; W. J. Van London, divisional engineer of the state highway department, and P. S. Bailey, resident engineer.

The Pampans were told that temporary delay on the work has resulted because of failure to receive authority to employ trucks and teams for the job. A requisition for this part of the work has been filed by air mail and approval is expected to be received in time to get the project under way by the middle of next week.

District officials told members of the delegation it is the plan to have a crew of from 35 to 50 men, taken from Gray and Carson county WPA labor rolls, and four or five teams and trucks to start work on the project near Skellytown.

Approximately 20 men have been employed on the new road project at the Borger end of the highway in Hutchinson county since July 15. Other than that no progress has been made.

The new highway will provide a straight road from Borger to Pampa, replacing the present cut-of-the-way longer route.

The new highway also will cut approximately ten miles off the distance required over the road now in use.

The route already is paved in Gray county from Pampa to the Carson county line. Beginning at that point there is a stretch of 18 to 19 miles of unpaved highway, touching into Hutchinson county where it runs into another short strip of pavement which reaches within a mile or two of the Borger city limits. It is on this stretch at Borger where the only work on the new highway has been in progress.

Pampans yesterday impressed upon WPA and state highway officials that all three counties are anxious to have the work progressing on both ends of the proposed improvement.

Gaylor, Bradley Named Delegates

John I. Bradley and O. K. Gaylor were elected delegates to the national convention of Foreign War Veterans to be held in Denver next month, at the regular meeting of the Pampa veterans' post in American Legion hall last night.

D. A. Bartlett and H. W. Waddell were named alternates to the convention which will be held Sept. 13-18. The post also recommended Mr. Bradley for the office of state deputy chief of staff.

Machines Damaged In Collision On Road At Kingsmill

A gasoline truck driven by I. B. Walker, of Conway, and an automobile driven by Frank Bassett, of Kingsmill, collided on the highway near Kingsmill at 7:30 a. m. today.

Both truck and passenger car were damaged by the collision, but nobody was injured, altho Bassett was badly shaken up in the impact.

CANDIDATE QUITS

BIRDS TO PLAY TOMORROW

Zioncheck Is In Race Again

Would Prove He Is 'Neither Crazy Nor Foolish'

SEATTLE, Aug. 5 (AP)—Marion Anthony Zioncheck, (D-Wash) sought re-election to congress today at his mother's request, to prove he is "neither crazy nor foolish."

"At all times I wanted to file to succeed myself in congress, but I was advised that my mother's breakdown, caused by malicious and largely false reports about my activities, made this course inadvisable," said Zioncheck.

"Later, however, my mother asked me to run to show the people that I am neither crazy nor foolish."

In a surprise declaration of candidacy yesterday, only three days after he said he would not seek re-election, Zioncheck became the sixth democrat and No. 13 on the list of those who seek the post from Washington State's first congressional district.

Kodak And Field Glasses Stolen

A $36 kodak and a pair of government field glasses belonging to W. B. Birdwell and Ben Williams were stolen from an automobile on a downtown parking lot last night, according to a report filed with city police today.

Theft of a 30-foot piece of garden hose from 901 N. Frost street also was reported.

Seven Jailed In Constables' Raid

Constables Earl Lewis and Jim Sullivan last night made a round-up of alleged drunks and vagrants, with the result that seven were jailed on charges of intoxication and vagrancy.

BLACK LEGION TYPHOID GERM PLOT CHARGED

DETROIT OFFICIAL WAS FORCED TO JOIN HE TESTIFIES

DETROIT, Aug. 5. (AP)—Charles T. McCutcheon, the city bacteriologist discharged because he did not report being "approached" in a Black Legion typhoid germ plot, said today he was forced to joint the secret society three years ago and has "lived in terror ever since."

Tears filled his eyes as he told of being questioned by a high legion officer about the possibility of infecting the legion's "class enemies," particularly Jews, by contaminating milk and cottage cheese delivered to them.

McCutcheon said he thought he was being invited to a political meeting when he went with a friend to the basement of a house.

"We were in there only a few minutes when the lights went out and I was told I was to be a member of the Black Legion. I had never heard the name before.

"The light from a flashlight shone on a pistol which was pointed at me. I was terrified. It was enough to make me sick. I saw other men initiated at these meetings. Some of them were so terror-stricken they fainted."

McCutcheon said he was only slightly acquainted with high legion officer at the time the latter inquired about typhoid germs.

"It was at a convention of dairymen in Grand Rapids that he came to me and asked me if it would be possible to inject typhoid germs into bottles of milk at the homes of certain people without spreading the disease.

"I told him he must be mad and that he should certainly know that the disease would spread like wildfire. That was the first suggestion; that was my answer and that is the last time I ever spoke to him."

finals yesterday. He beat Robinson by half a meter.

Robinson, the dusky Pasadena junior college star, was clocked in 21.1 seconds, duplicating his time in the semi-finals this morning. Martin Osendarp of Holland ran third.

Dunn, who hails from Fresno, Calif., grabbed runner-up honors with 49.36 meters, 161 feet 11 11/32 inches, a few centimeters short of the former Olympic record of 162 feet 4 7/8 inches made by John Anderson of New York at Los Angeles in 1932.

Forrest (Spec) Towns of Augusta, Ga., America's ace high timber topper, Fritz Pollard Jr., Chicago Negro, and Roy Staley of Corona Calif., won their heats in the 100-meter hurdle trials.

Towns' time was 14.5 seconds.

Cunningham Qualifies.

Glenn Cunningham of Lawrence, Kans., ran second to Eric Ny, trailing the Swedish star by two feet in the 1,500-meter trials. They were so close at the finish both were clocked in three minutes 54.8 seconds.

The Kansan never extended himself and was satisfied as he qualified comfortably for the final tomorrow.

Werner Boettcher of Germany, who set the pace until Ny moved to the front of the gun lap, gained the third qualifying place in a blanket finish.

Gene Venzke of Philadelphia qualified in the second heat, crossing the finish line with John Cornes of Great Britain and Jack Lovelock, celebrated New Zealander, in a team like fashion.

Venzke was awarded the judges' decision, winning in the slow time of 4:00.4.

Cornes and Lovelock both pulled slackening their paces, as soon as they were satisfied they had clinched places in the final.

Venzke, meanwhile, was forced to put on a stretch drive to beat Clerke Scholtz of South Africa. Gene was fourth entering the stretch, Collario his rival in the last 20 meters and carried on the spurt to victory.

San Romani Second.

Archie San Romani of Frontenac, Kas., staged a thrilling last lap drive, pulling up from second place and finishing a little more than a meter behind Robert Goix of France, who was timed at 3:54 flat.

Stanley Wooderson, the British favorite, folded in the stretch and finished eighth.

Luigi Becalli of Italy, the defending champion and Olympic recordholder at 3:51.2 won the third heat in 3:55.6.

Rotarians Are Scouts' Guests

Rotarians acquainted themselves with the members of Boy Scout Troop 20 and their home when they met in regular meeting at the Scout home on East Scott street today at noon. The troop is sponsored by the Rotary club and the home was built last year with funds raised by the troop and the help of members of the club.

Entertainment was furnished today by boys of the troop who playstringed instruments. Lee Bowden is scoutmaster and Ely Ponville is assistant scoutmaster of the troop.

Visitors were W. L. Patton of Galena, Kas., R. B. Fisher, Frank Carter and Rotarians J. R. Phillips of Borger. Harvey Todd was introduced as a new member.

DOG ON TRIAL FOR DROWNING NEW YORK BOY

Forty Witnesses To Testify For Idaho In Case

BROCKPORT, N. Y., Aug. 5 (AP)—A half-grown dog, accused of causing the death by drowning of a 14-year-old boy, was put on trial for his life today amid a setting rivalling that of the nation's famous murder trials.

Idaho, a shaggy bully of Airedale and police dog parentage, was the defendant before Justice of the Peace Homer D. Benedict on charges brought under the farm and markets law that he is a dangerous animal and should be destroyed.

Interest in the hearing caused Judge Benedict to change the courtroom from his office to the village hall, which accommodates about 250 persons.

The Brockport Hook and Ladder company next door moved out its equipment to improvise a press headquarters.

Harry A. Sessions, attorney for Victor Fortune, Idaho's 22-year-old owner, said he would call nearly 40 witnesses to testify that the dog is not vicious and was only frolicking in the water when Maxwell Breeze, Brockport high school student, was drowned on July 4 while swimming in the barge canal.

The Negro team which the Pampans will play tomorrow, also has met with one defeat. The Monarchs lost yesterday by a score of 10 to 0 to the Blackwell Oilers of Shawnee, Okla.

In other games played yesterday the House of David nine of Benton Harbor, Mich., eliminated the Greeley, Colo., Merchants by a 6-0 win, and the Eason Oilers, of Enid, Okla., eliminated the Leyden, Colo., Miners, 5-3.

Coburn is scheduled to pitch for the Road Runners tomorrow afternoon if Lee Daney is unable to take the mound because of a torn ligament sustained in the first game. It appeared highly doubtful today that Daney would be in trim to pitch.

The weather in Denver still remained cold and misty today.

The Borger Huber Carbons will meet the negro national league all-stars tonight at 8:30 o'clock.

Cy Young is scheduled to start on the mound for Borger, while Hughes will start for the negroes.

DENVER, Aug. 5, (AP)—The third round of the Denver Post annual baseball tourney gets under way today with the field whittled down to teams that have won one or more games.

The House of David nine of Benton Harbor, Mich., eliminated the Greeley, Colo., Merchants yesterday by a 6-0 win.

The Blackwell Oilers, Shawnee, Okla., defeated the Monarch's Denver negro nine, 10-0. The Blackwell team has not been scored on during the tourney.

The Eason Oilers, Enid, Okla., defeated the Leyden, Colo., Miners 5-3.

All Stars Will Clash At Dallas

FORT WORTH, Aug. 5 (AP)—Coach Bernie Moore's "Southerners" will have a pull in the weights when the two all-star high school football teams clash here Saturday night. In fact, after watching the two squads work out the last two afternoons, the consensus of experts is that the club made up of senior stars from the eight lower districts of the Interscholastic League will go into the encounter a slight favorite.

Should Coaches Moore and J. R. (Ears) Whitworth decide to start their largest team against the largest boys Coaches Francis Schmidt and Bear Wolf can muster, the southerns will outweigh their rivals slightly more than seven pounds to the man.

Most of the difference is concentrated at the tackle positions where the south can start the 220-pound Bill Lawrence of Corpus Christi and the 225-pound J. B. Gilbert of Cameron.

Neither side has indicated its starting eleven.

Pampa Youth Is Attending Games

Siler Faulkner, Jr., is taking in the Olympic games at Berlin, according to word received in a letter today by his father, Siler Faulkner, Sr., Democratic county chairman here.

Young Faulkner has been making a tour of England and Europe. The letter received here was written from Monte Carlo, and advised Mr. Faulkner that by the time it was received in Pampa, he would be in Berlin.

Faulkner expects to leave for the states in time to arrive in Pampa about Sept. 10.

Miss Lema Jane Butcher returned yesterday from Amarillo, where she has been teaching and studying in a business school this summer.

Flying Flags Make Beauty Spot of Esplanade

The flags of the six nations under which Texans have lived flutter in the breeze to make the Esplanade of State one of the beauty spots of the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas. The Esplanade leads from the main entrance to the $1,200,000 Hall of State, visible in the background.

Czech Senate President Honored

the city and county which failed to follow the sheriff's order to close at midnight Saturday.

The county attorney and acting sheriff also stated today that a close check will be made of all places to determine if the law is being violated by the sale of liquor by the drink, which is illegal at any time in Texas.

Beer parlors, cafes or dance halls where this can be proven, fall into the category of a disorderly place and can be closed according to law, it was stated.

"I realize that the people of Gray county do not wish certain conditions to exist in connection with the operation of beer parlors, cafes and dance halls, and it is our purpose to work out a plan which the conditions complained of can be eliminated for the good of the general public," Mr. White said.

As Acting Sheriff Lindsey today began the new drive to close down so-called "sore spots" in the county, he was supplied by County Attorney White with the following information on the state law:

ARTICLE 667-13.

(f) No person who may engage in the sale of beer, as a principal business and which is to be consumed on the premises, under the provision of this Article shall offer for sale or sell such beer between the hours of twelve o'clock midnight and seven o'clock a. m. on each day as herein provided, and from and after twelve o'clock midnight Saturday until seven o'clock a. m. Monday of the following week.

LAW PREVENTING SALE OF LIQUOR ON SUNDAYS.

ARTICLE 666-25.

No sale or delivery of liquor shall be made on or from the premises of the holder of any permit (except upon a prescription of a duly licensed physician):

(d) On Sundays.

SELLING GOODS ON SUNDAY.

ARTICLE 286.

Any merchant, grocer, or dealer in wares or merchandise, or trader in any business whatsoever, or the proprietor of any place of public amusement, or the agent or employee of any such person, who shall sell, barter, or permit his place of business or place of public amusement to be open for the purpose of traffic or public amusement on Sunday, shall be fined not less than twenty nor more than fifty dollars. The term place of public amusement, shall be construed to mean circuses, theaters, variety theaters and such other amusements as are exhibited and for which an admission fee is charged; and shall also include dances at disorderly houses, low dives and places of like character, with or without fees for admission.

Child's Drowning Is Investigated

BROWNSVILLE, Aug. 5 (AP)—The drowning last April of Tommy Bachman, 9, was under investigation again today after a 12-year-old schoolmate revealed, according to police, that he held Tommy under water 'until he drank a lot of water."

The story of the drowning came out, police said, while they were questioning the boy about a burglary.

The boy was seen leaving school with Tommy the day of the drowning, which occurred in a "resaca" near Brownsville. The boy told police he was "chased from the resaca by two other boys who were ducking Tommy when I left."

He named two boys who were arrested with Bachman's clothing, but who told police they found the clothing hidden. These boys were released later.

Charges of delinquency will be filed, police said, against the 12-year-old boy.

TO FIGHT THOMPSON

DALLAS, Aug. 5 (AP)—Carl C. Hardin, who was eliminated from the race for railroad commissioner in the first primary, announced today that he would take the stump for Frank S. Morris, run-off candidate. Hardin said he would wage a vigorous campaign for Morris in his race against Ernest O. Thompson.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Aug. 5. (AP)—The stock market today cast off the influence of early selling in the motors and aircrafts and crept up from its lows with the aid of a good demand for specialties.

The late tone was irregular. Transactions approximated 1,200,000 shares.

TEXANS HONOR VICE-PRESIDENT AT CENTENNIAL

Tribute Is Paid To John N. Garner At Dallas

DALLAS, Aug. 5 (AP)—The Lone Star state paid tribute today to its outstanding native son—John Nance Garner, the country lawyer who became vice-president of the United States.

"Cactus Jack" and Mrs. Garner, the woman who had much to do with his rise to national political prominence, drove up from their borderland home at Uvalde for ceremonies in their honor at the Texas Centennial exposition. They broke the trip by spending last night at the governor's mansion at Austin.

There were luncheons arranged for immediately after their arrival. A stag affair was on Garner's program while his wife was honored at an invitation luncheon.

The Garners, who have been trying to get as much rest as possible this summer, planned to spend most of the afternoon in their hotel suite.

A "Garner day" banquet at 6:15 p. m. in a downtown hotel was another main event on the program. Afterward, the Vice-President will speak in the cotton bowl on the exposition grounds.

They will see "Cavalcade," the Texas historical pageant, later in the evening.

Tomorrow Garner will review military units at Camp Stephen F. Austin on the exposition grounds, dedicate the centennial administration building and greet Gov. Henry Horner of Illinois, a centennial visitor.

He then will proceed with Mrs. Garner to Fort Worth to attend the Frontier Centennial show there.

The Garners intend to return to their South Texas home and finish their vacation. The Vice President has been taking it easy for several weeks in Uvalde, fishing occasionally and resting.

not be given a free rein to criticize state and national office holders and comment on controversial political questions.

"I favor students having their say about internal university matters concerning its administration, athletics and student life in general," he said. "If they want to haul me or any of us over the coals they are entitled to do so. But I believe they should not go beyond the bounds of the campus in their editorial comment."

The board of regents did not say what prompted the faculty supervision. It was recalled, however, that the Texan recently criticized the Lower Colorado River Authority and had taken positions on controversial state issues.

DALLAS, Aug. 5. (AP)—Congressman Maury Maverick of San Antonio said here today he will campaign over a national radio hook-up in September against the recently inaugurated censorship of student publications at the University of Texas.

"We haven't had a real censor since Cato," Maverick said, "and it's too late to start that sort of thing in Texas now. It's un-American and as an old student of the university I am going to fight it."

Maverick was in Dallas to attend a dinner honoring Vice-President John N. Garner.

Water Service To Be Cut Off Tonight

Water service will be cut off in four city blocks downtown between 9 and 12 o'clock tonight in order to make repairs to a fire plug which was broken out during the fire at the Moore and Smith body shop yesterday afternoon.

City Manager C. L. Stine said shortly after noon today it would be necessary to shut off the water for three hours tonight in order to make the repairs.

The area effected will include from Kingsmill north to 603 N. Russell and south between Russell and Cuyler streets. No other areas will be affected.

SKUNK DELAYS CONCERT

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., Aug. 5. (AP)—While 7,000 persons were listening to George Britton, operatic singer, last night, a skunk walked onto the stage in the open air auditorium. Britton, who was singing a spiritual, suddenly stopped singing, then broke into, "I Got Plenty of Nothin'." The skunk scurried for the woods.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Satterfield are the parents of a daughter born yesterday at Pampa-Jarratt hospital.

GARNER TALKS ABOUT FISHING, NOT POLITICS

Answers to Questions Of Reporters Are With-Held

DALLAS, Aug. 5 (AP)—John (Cactus Jack) Garner, the country lawyer who became vice president of the United States, came to his state's Centennial exposition city today and answered burning political questions with sly talk of his fishing exploits.

Accompanied by Mrs. Garner, the vice president arrived here at noon after an overnight stop at Austin in Governor James V. Allred's mansion. The Garners will be honor guests at a banquet tonight and Texas' favorite native son will later speak in the Cotton Bowl on the exposition grounds.

Interviewers got nowhere with the tanned, snowy white-haired vice president.

Would he take the stump on a national tour, and if so, when?

"Boys, fishing down around Uvalde has been perfect," was the answer "Why we throw 'em right back in the water unless they weigh more than a pound and a half."

Was he pleased with the recent Democratic primary, which saw Gov. Allred nominated without a runoff?

Most of the best fishing holes in the Llano river have been cleaned out by lucky fishermen, was the general answer.

How much longer would his vacation last and when would he return to Washington?

The seven pet squirrels at the Uvalde home are still there. And had they heard one of them bit him recently?

The interview finished, photographers had their inning. He goodnaturedly posed for several minutes and then told a story for their benefit:

"The Uvalde newspaper man got a request for my picture from a Washington paper the other day. The paper said they would pay $25 for it. When the Uvalde man came to me I told him sure—we might as well bring that $25 down from Washington to Uvalde."

Blaze Damages Are Not Fixed

Estimated damage of a fire early yesterday afternoon at the Moore and Smith body shop, N. Cuyler street, had not been fixed today by Fire Chief Ben White.

Chief White said he believed the blaze was caused by spontaneous combustion. No damage, however, was caused to contents. Principal loss, it is believed, was caused by water, fire and smoke to the building proper.

OIL HEADS SURRENDER

CHICAGO, Aug. 5 (AP)—Edward G. Seubert, president of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, Allen Jackson and Edward J. Bullock, vice presidents, among 58 individual defendants indicted at Madison Wis., for alleged viclation of the Sherman anti-trust law, surrendered today to U. S. Marshal William H. McDonnell and were fingerprinted before their release on bond. Arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Edwin K. Walker, they posted $5,000 bond each for appearance at Madison when the case is called to trial.

Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Seydler returned yesterday from a few days' stay at Red River, N. M.

Alvin Lovell and daughter, Miss Dorothy, Mrs. Sherman Anderson and son, Sherman Jr., and S. S. Lovell, all of Casville, Mo., and Mrs. E. F. Patterson of Tonkawa, Okla., left today for their homes after attending the funeral of Mrs. Lester Lovell here Sunday. All are relatives.

C. L. Williford, Texas state highway engineer, carried on a campaign to install safety devices at a dangerous intersection in Dallas. He was one of the first persons injured there.

MARRIAGE OF COUPLE SUNDAY AFTERNOON IS ANNOUNCED

CEREMONY IS READ QUIETLY IN OKLAHOMA

MR. AND MRS. BELL ARE AT HOME IN PAMPA NOW

Announcement is made of the marriage Sunday of Mrs. Mildred Haggard Myatt and Alvin Bell, both of Pampa. The ceremony was read by a justice of the peace in Sayre, Oklahoma, at 6:30 Sunday afternoon.

The bride wore a navy ensemble. The coupe was unattended, and returned to Pampa immediately after the wedding. They will be at home at 420 Sunset Drive.

Mrs. Bell is the daughter of Commissioner John Haggard and Mrs. Haggard, long-time residents of this county. She was graduated as a popular student from Pampa high school in 1934.

Manager of one of the Furr food stores here, Mr. Bell has been in Pampa several years. His parents reside in Wichita Falls.

Empire Style In Lingerie Sweeps Into Fall Mode

By ADELAIDE KERR

NEW YORK (AP)—A Renaissance of elegance in lingerie has swept into the fashion world with the fall mode.

Negligees and nightdresses alike reflect a "grand dame" effect which is a far cry from the "little tailored pieces" so much in vogue a few seasons ago. The flounces of the gay nineties have not returned, but 1936-37 lingerie is cut on lines of slender grace which sounded a decided note of femininity.

Lace Used Liberally

The empire line, reminiscent of the glamorous Empress Josephine, marks the new fall nightdresses, molding the bust with a high waistline often accented by a soft ribbon girdle. Many nightdresses are designed with short puffed sleeves and fairly high necklines.

Lace—white, ivory and deep cream wich falls just short of ecru—is used liberally in yokes, incrustations and edgings. Valenciennes, Binche and Alencon are among the favorites.

More white lingerie is being shown, and ivory and pearl shades also are smart. Tea rose, a deeper misty pink, turquoise and aquamarine likewise are reflected on the lingerie color palatte, while black still holds a place in both nightdresses and daytime lingerie. Crepe satin with a soft lustrous finish is the favorite fabric, though tripple georgette and very sheer crepe also are used. Several nightdresses combine two fabrics, as a satin skirt and a tucked triple georgette top.

Negligees likewise reflect the renaissance of elegance. Among the new fall designs are house coats of heavy matelasse crepe in such tones as deep blue and red, designed with long, loose sleeves, fitted bodices and rather wide gored skirts.

Rich Colors Seen

Besides these there are crepe and crepe satin pajama suits, also in rich deep colors, combining a short sleeved shirt top, wide trousers, and a loose three-quarter length coat—all of the same material. There also are pale satin negligees with liberal lace incrustations.

With the fall mode expected to emphasize the slender waist and diaphraghm, corsets follow a form fitted silhouette, which aims at a supple slimness from waist to hips.

Some models for early fall wear, designed for coolness on the last warm days, have voile fronts and elasticized backs which can stretch two ways, thus holding the figures in a firm mold and eliminating the necessity of boning. Girdles are shown with both attached and unattached brassieres.

Slips to top them are cut on a princess silhouette, designed to emphasize the slender diaphragm, and finished with a molded brassier-like top, often lace trimmed. The brassiere and pantie combination is shown for wear with sports and tailored clothes.

'Part Of The Way' Is Subject For Evangelist

"Friends, I don't care who you are, you are not fooling anybody when you play with sin and the forces of sin," said evangelist P. H. Elliott in beginning his sermon last night at the First Christian Church, on the subject, "Part of the Way or All the Way with Christ."

"When any individual goes out to serve the devil, don't think you are fooling anyone. Your friends and neighbors will know it. Your family will know it. It doesn't make any difference how keen and cunning you may be, there is always one person you can't fool and that is the one you must live with all through life, yourself. You can't double-cross God. Sooner or later our sins will find us out."

Tonight special numbers will include numbers played on the vibraphone, a duet by Miss Annabelle and Leon Holloway and the picture, "The Beautiful River" drawn by Mr. House.

Junior Girls To Initiate Members

Initiation of new members into the Junior Girls Auxiliary of First Baptist church is planned at a meeting tomorrow at 4:30. All new and old members are asked to be at the church at that time.

Is fruit soup a novelty to you?

If it is, it's high time you were becoming better acquainted with these cool, delicious appetizers. Pleasing to the eye, with the faint fragrance of rich, ripened fruit, they're ideal as the first course of a mid-summer luncheon or dinner.

Must Be Chilled

Fruit soups are fruit juices, thickened just enough to lift them from the cocktail class. Their hot counterparts are cream soups, but fruit soups are ordinarily served very cold.

Tart fruits are best prepared in this manner, and a combination of flavors is desirage. The thickening agent may be cornstarch, arrowroot, tapioca, or even flour. Infinite care must be taken not to make the soup too thick. A firm, sticky concoction is far from inviting, but a slightly thick, syrupy consistency is cooling and delectable.

Any service that would be correct for bouillon or a fruit cup can be used for fruit soup. Bouillon cups, thoroughly chilled in the refrigerator before filling, sherbert cups or cocktail glasses are permissible. The soups are eaten with a small-bowled soup spoon or a bouillon spoon.

The following recipes may suggest other possibilities to you:

Plum Soup

One quart plums, 4 cups water, 1 stick cinnamon, 3-4 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon arrowroot, few grains of salt.

Arrowroot is often used for thickening sauces and puddings in place of cornstarch. It's especially desirable for children, since it is said to be more easily digested than cornstarch.

Salt always is used to do away with the flat taste that comes from adding thickening.

Wish plums thoroughly. Put fruit into kettle with water and simmer until skins are broken and fruit is tender. Strain through jelly bag. Add cinnamon and sugar and bring to the boiling point. Add salt and smooth paste with a little cold water. Cook until mixture thickens slightly. Remove cinnamon stick, chill and serve.

The soup will become thicker as it chills.

Red raspberry soup is one of my favorites. With the everbearing varieties of berries, you can serve red raspberries nearly all summer.

Red Raspberry Soup

Two cups red raspberries, 2 cups currants, 3 cups water, 3-4 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons quick cooking tapioca, few grains salt.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Fresh pears, cereal, cream, crisp broiled bacon with cress, muffins, marmalade, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Broccoli baked with cheese, salad of mixed fruits, Melba toast, iced chocolate.

DINNER: Plum soup, ham loaf, scalloped potatoes, buttered garden spinach, stuffed tomato salad, peach fritters with raspberry sauce, milk, coffee.

Stem currants. Wash berries and currants and put into kettle. Crush and simmer in water for 20 minutes. Strain through jelly bag and add sugar. Bring to the boiling point and add tapica and salt. Cook until the mixture is transparent and syrupy. Chill and serve.

Guests were Mmes. L. C. Gomillion, Mary Hatcher, Madge Murphy, Lillian Murphy, and Katie Vincent; Messrs. Kidd, Anderson and Simmons.

Cool Summer Frock with Cape

Like Sleeves that Cut in One with Front Bodice

By ELLEN WORTH

Here's something just a little different for your vacation frock.

It is so easy to sew.

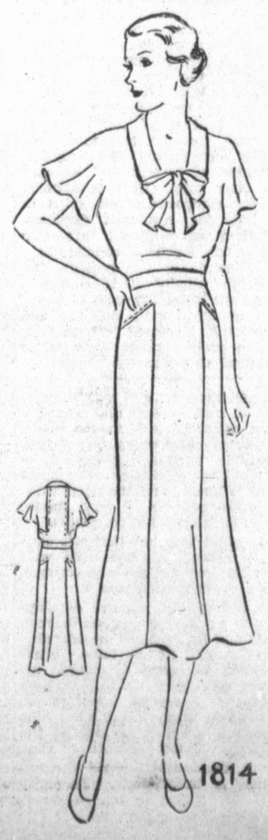

Flattering turquoise blue crush-resistant linen made the model pictured. You can wear it to town as well as for the country.

Fresh sheer cotton prints in voile or batiste and dotted swiss would also be lovely for this model. In these, it is delightful with the collar and bow of crisp organdie.

Sheer seersucker, shantung, tub silks etc., are other good mediums.

Style No. 1814 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18 years, 36, 38, 40 and 42-inches bust. Size 36 requires 4 yards of 39-inch material

Our Illustrated Home Dressmaking Book contains the latest fashions together with dressmaking lessons and the fundamental principles of sewing. Whether you are an experienced sewer or just a beginner, you will find this book helpful indeed in making your summer clothes. It is just full of ideas to enhance your own looks. You simply can't afford to miss it! Send for your copy today.

CHILD STARS RARELY HOLD INFANT FAME

JACKIE COOGAN NOW IS ENTIRELY DIVORCED FROM MOVIES

BY HOMER McCOY,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Aug. 5(AP)—Achild film star, as a rule, has a future like that of an icicle on the sunny side of the house.

And once the youthful actors pass from the pictures, a survey showed today, they rarely come back. Most of the infant and child box-office wonders of yesterday are gone as completely as a last year's snowfall.

There are two or three exceptions. Madge Evans is one of them. So are Mary Kornman and Anita Louise.

But the others?

Jackie Coogan was probably the most famous of adolescent cinema stars. He reached his peak at the smudgy-faced ragamuffin who got kicked around with Charlie Chaplin in the picture, "The Kid." He earned $2,000,000.

Now, at the voting age, he is entirely divorced from the movies and there are no indications that he will ever appear again.

Time was when the round-eyed, impish Baby Peggy scampered across the screen, making a big nuisance of herself, but in the lovable manner that caused doting gasps among movie audiences. The quality of cuteness was never more strained.

At present, Miss Peggy Montgomery is a chorus girl on the stage. She is 19.

Baby Marie Osborne preceded Baby Peggy as the idol of devotees of that extremely specialized sphere of entertainment—childish chicanery and puckishness.

She is 24 years old now and is still in the movies, but in a different role. Miss Osborne is "stand-in" for Ginger Rogers of the dancing feet.

Wesley Barry reached the age when his freckles did him no good. He turned orchestra leader.

Capper Leading In Kansas Race

TOPEKA, Kas., Aug. 5. (AP)—All but one advocate of the Townsend old age pension plan were trailing today in unofficial returns of the Kansas primary election.

Apparently sure of victory, on the basis of returns from approximately half the precincts, were Sen. Arthur Capper, Republican seeking his fourth term in the U. S. Senate, and Omar Ketchum, seeking the Democratic senatorial nomination.

Senator Capper was far ahead of two opponents. Ketchum, who lost the governorship to Alf M. Landon two years ago, had a strong lead in a field of four.

Townsend - indorsed candidates were behind in Democratic races for senator and governor, and in a Republican congressional contest. The only exception was Thomas A. Ralston, Democrat seeking the seventh district nomination for Congress, who led two opponents.

The three Republican senatorial candidates received a total of 159,915 votes, in 1,682 precincts and the four Democratic Senate condidates received 92,465 votes in 1,680 precincts.

Will G. West, former private secretary to Governor Landon, had no opposition for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

HUGE OIL PROFITS

NEW YORK, Aug. 5. (AP)—Amerada Corp., petroleum producers, with principal properties in Oklahoma, Texas, California, Kansas, Louisiana and New Mexico, reported today June quarter net profit of $456,300, equal to 58 cents a share on the capital stock against $374,996 or 60 cents a share in the preceding quarter and $419,024 or 53 cents a share in the June quarter last year.

TWO HANDICAPS

A definite increase in drunken driving during 1935 shown by 35 of 102 cities canvassed by Editorial Research Reports points once more to the gravity of a problem which everybody acknowledges to be serious, but which most persons refuse to face realistically.

Of the same 102 cities, 27 reported no change, which is discouraging enough in itself. Only 24 cities reported a downward trend; the remainder had insufficient data and refrained from making any statement.

The thing is deadly serious, yet enforcement officers agree that they are handicapped by a too tolerant public attitude toward the drunken driver. Sympathy is roused too easily by the pathetic situation of the driver who gets into trouble by mixing alcohol and gasoline. Too many persons see in his plight the nature of an accident, instead of the nature of an offense. In numerous instances, no doubt, condemnation is suspended because of the thought that the same thing might happen to every person who takes a drink. The public does not seem ready yet to accept the rule that no person who has been drinking should attempt to operate an automobile.

The second handicap placed on enforcement officials is absence of a reliable and generally accepted test for alcoholism. Until a clinica test which will hold up in court is devised and adopted, convictions for drunken driving will be difficult to obtain. Laws, furthermore, have not been brought up to date to deal with the problem, which seems so far to be growing more rapidly than determination to solve it.

THE BOYS MAKE GOOD

The civilian conservation corps boys, apparently, are making good. During the month of June, 13,000 of them left the corps to accept employment in private industry, according to Robert Fechner, CCC director. This compares with an average of 12,000 a month during the fiscal year ended June 30.

What is more, evidence abounds to prove that most employers are glad to hire these well trained lads. Rescue from the valley of depression, more than a million youngsters have enjoyed the benefits of CCC in the three years the camps have been operating. Lifted up in mind and body and taught sef-reliance by army discipline, these boys have learned how to meet life's challenges, to think personally and nationally in terms of conserving while using all available resources.

Confirmation of the belief that the CCC is training boys to take their places in a normal scheme of things is a reminder that not all the new deal projects have gone wrong. Visionary and profligately extravagant as have been many of the ideas of the new dealers, they seemed to have scored one generally acclaimed success with the CCC. Fair minded opponents of the present administration will admit that success while reserving the right to condemn many less laudable brain children of the more abundant lifers.

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON.—Democrats planning to meet in Detroit Aug. 7 to express their detestation of the New Deal will not include holders of public office or those who recently enjoyed the suffrage of the voters.

Whether there is any significance in that—or any reason for belief that Al Smith, Gorvernor Ely of Massachusetts, and ex-Senator Jim Reed of Missouri have lost their old popular followings—it is a thought which arises in connection with the fact that the New Deal has been conspicuously successful this year in most Democratic primary elections where its prestige, its favorites, or its enemie were involved.

Numerous pro-New Deal and anti-New Deal members of Congress have been renominated more or less automatically. In 20 state primaries involving 213 House seats, only 10 members have been defeated for renomination. And only one lone senator, Tom Gore of Oklahoma.

The point is, however—if it is a point—that in fights where candidates have been outstandingly identified with the administration and its legislation, and special attacks were made upon them, and in contests where the Democratic incumbents similarly have fought the New Deal to where they were cordially hated in administration ranks, Roosevelt has had the breaks.

Gore, of course, played the role of gadfly in Washington, loud in his contempt for newfangled legislation and constantly censorious of its administration. He will be succeeded by someone definitely more friendly—Congressman Jose Lee.

Defeat of Congressman George Huddleston in Alabama was even more satisfying to the New Deal crowd. It's at least a good guess that the administration went as far as it could, without exposing itself, to contribute to the result.

Huddleston came within a hair's breadth last year of wrecking Roosevelt's pet Wheeler-Rayburn public utility holding company act. He served on a conference committee as a key member, and his die-hard opposition brought and as spectacular a test of strength between a president and a powerful special interest group, in this case the "power trust," as has ever been seen.

In Texas Congressman Sam Rayburn was renominated (equivalent to re-election there), and Congressman Maury Maverick received such a large plurality as to assure his renomination in a runoff.

Rayburn is Roosevelt's candidate (it's supposed to be a secret, of course) for Democratic floor leader and to succeed Bill Bankhead as speaker of the House in case the latter's health doesn't hold out.

Maverick is the South's outstanding liberal in Congress. He also incurred the wrath of utilities and oil interests, and a large slush fund was thrown in against him. He campaigned as a pal of the administration. Roosevelt, although always publicly proclaiming that he can take no part in primary contests, secretly did everything he reasonably could to insure Maverick's renomination.

British specialists reveal city people are taller than country people. This constant flattening out by automobiles has a tendency to stretch one.

The W. C. T. U. is to use a robot to demonstrate the evils of drink. The head probably wil contain stripped gears for the morning-after effect.

ANSWERS to QUESTIONS

A reader can get the answer to any question of fact by writing The Pampa Daily NEWS' Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C. Please enclose three (3) cents for reply.

Q. What is the large green sphere on the grounds of Columbia University in New York? H. G.

A. The dark green granite sphere, which stands on the south side off 116th Street midway between Broadway and Amsterdam Avenue, was erected by surviving members of the class of 1885, Columbia College, to mark the anniversary of their Messrs. McKim, Mead and White and was planned to be primarily an ornamental monument. To give it additional interest and educational value; the sprere was made the gnomon or stylus of a sundial.

Q. When did Will Rogers make his will and what were its provisions? E. M.

A. The actor's will was made on August 3, 1935. He left everything to his wife, including $530,000 in life insurance.

Q. What words are most frequently misspelled by high school students? M. C. W.

A. According to Dr. Alce E. Watson of Teachers College, Columbia University, these words are regrettable, calendar, forcible, likable, defiant, and referred.

Q. Please give the particulars of the crash of the Maxim Gorky. E. J.

A. On May 18, 1935, the world's largest land plane, the Maxim Gorky, crashed, killing 48, everyone aboard. The pilot of another plane, which collided with the Gorky in midair, was also killed. Most of the victims were engineers, technicians, shock-workers and their families, the men being members of the Central Aerodynamic Institute, where the Gorky was designed. They were being taken on a sightseeing flight over the city as a reward for faithful work.

Q. How many Indians own no land? F. D.

A. In 1887, the Indian population, smaller than at present, owned 138,000,000 acres of land. Since that time, 86,000,000 acres have passed out of Indian ownership. Now it is estimated that approximately 100,000 Indians are totally landless, and in many cases homeless.

Q. Is the home of James Whitcomb Riley at Greenfield, Indiana, a shrine? C. L.

A. The Greenfield City Council is to purchase the poet's home from his heirs. Conditions of the sale are that the homestead be maintained by the city as a memorial and that it never be given over to any commercial purpose or used for private profit.

Q. Does reading the newspapers increase one's vocabulary? J. H.

A. According to Dr. Frank Vizetelly, noted lexicographer, the newspaper is one of the most powerful factors in increasing the average person's vocabulary.

Q. Who will be in charge of American exhibits at the 1937 International Exhibition in Paris? J. A.

A. The Honorable Frederick A. Sterling, U. S. Minister to Bulgaria, has been nominated by President Roosevelt, Commissioner of the American section of the 1937 International Exhibition in Paris.

Q. What is the area of New York City? J. T.

A. The total area is 208.86 square miles. Its extreme length, north and south, is 36 miles, and extreme width 16½ miles.

Q. What is a punka? D. D.

A. In the East Indies, it means a fan of any kind. It is applied particularly to a swing screen hung from the ceiling. It is made of cloth stretched on a rectangular frame, and kept in motion by a servant or by mechanical means.

Q. What are the provisions under which a crippled child may enter the hospitals maintained by the Shriners? E. L. G.

A. Crippled children are admitted regardless of creed, race, or fraternal affiliations, provided they are under 14 years of age and their parents are unable to finance proper treatment.

Q. How long did George Washington live at Mount Vernon? J. J.

A. It was his home for fifty-two years. There were many years, of course, when he was seldom there.

Fat Or Lean, Watch Your Weight

Your weight is the barometer of your health. Excessive underweight are alike abnormal conditions that will not correct or adjust themselves. Either state calls for a careful regime of diet and exercise—often a radical change in a person's way of living—and no one should begin it without being thoroughly informed. Hence the booklet on WEIGHT CONTROL, available to readers of this newspaper, is an invaluable publication. It was prepared with the cooperation of the United States Public Health service and is in every sense dependable and authoritative.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

MOST snakes like eggs in their diet, but there is a snake in South Africa that eats nothing else. This curious reptile swallows all eggs whole, thus eliminating waste, and not until the egg reaches the gullet is it broken. Here it comes in contact with teeth-like projections on the snake's vertebrae, which crush the shell.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

BY GEORGE TUCKER.

NEW YORK—Those were the days—when nice old ladies purred up Fifth Avenue in electric buggies. . . . When white pigskin high top button shoes winked shamelessly beneath the ruffled billows of mi'lady's skirts, and ostrich plumes trailed behind each picture hat. . . . When Caruso turned lower Broadway into a crater of thunder with his laughter. . . . When Ethel Barrymore became the tempestous heroine of "Mid-Channel." . . . When Madison Square Garden was really on Madison Square, instead of Eighth avenue, a mile away!

When John McGraw and Bill Boyd staged their epic brawl at the Lambs (they fought all the way from the clubroom out into the street; they gouged eyes, kicked each other in the mouth. Both could take it, and, Brother, they could dish it out!)

When Stanford White was a promising but unknown young architect. . . . When Marie Dressler was a sometimes hungry comedienne with Weber and Fields. . . . When it was the custom for all the glamorous actresses to drink champagne in their dressing rooms. . . When Frank Tinney was a matinee idol and Broadway had never heard of dollike Imogene Wilson, who later became Mary Nolan. . . . When gas lamps were on all the corners and Chinatown was so sinister that all you thought of was tong wars and hatchet men. . . . When everybody was singing, "Angel Child, I'm Just Wild About You!"

When Jimmy Durante was a Coney Island jazz pianist and Irving Berlin was banging out tunes in a downtown dive. . . . When the doormen in front of the big hotels looked like Balkan war lords (now they only look like major-generals). . . . When Irene and Vernon Castle were the dream dancers of a glamorous era. . . . When Mae West was a Brooklyn girl with her hair braids. . . When Marion Davies and Lilyan Tashman were unknown chorines in a Broadway show. . . . When Flo Ziegfeld announced his engagement to Anna Held, vivacious French star of his new "Follies." . . . When most of the streetcars on Broadway were drawn by horses!

When the vogue in men's clothes turned suddenly to olive drab and everybody hummed "Over There." . . . When Tex Guinan reigned as queen of the nightclubs. . . . When Libby Holman sang, "Oh, Give Me Something to Remember You By." . . . When Arnold Rothstein slumped to the floor in a Bradway hotel—with a bullet in his back. . . . When Battling Siki was knifed in Hell's Kitchen.

When everybody was excited about the new liner Britain was building—the Titanic. . . . When Richard Harding Davis was thrilling the town with his exciting dispatches from remote parts of the world. . . When white collars were three inches tall.

Enough of this—can you spare a handkerchief? I'm weeping into my oatmeal.

HOW'S your HEALTH

Edited by DR. IAGO GALDSTON for the New York Academy of Medicine

Imaginary Heart Disease: 1

One of the most taxing of the so-called cardiac patients is the sufferer of imaginary heart disease. The tax is not so much on the patient as on the physician for it takes much to convince such a patient that he really does not have heart disease.

About 10 per cent of the people who come for a cardiac examination have no heart disease whatever. But the catch lies in the interpretation of the term disease.

This 10 per cent of patients have no organic derangement in their heart, that is, nothing is demonstrable which can be charged to any defect in the heart structure. On the other hand, these patients do suffer a something. Their suffering, however, is more to be charged to nervousness, to fatigue and to irritability, than to that category of disabilities collectively called heart disease.

During the Civil war, Dr. Jacob M. Da Costa of Philadelphia described the condition under the title "Irritable Heart of Soldiers." In the World war this malady was labeled disorder action of the heart, briefly recorded D.A.H. and facetiously interpreted as "desperate affection for home."

The symptoms complained of by the sufferer of imaginary heart disease closely resemble those reported by the true heart disease patient. Palpitation of the heart, defined as consciousness of the forceful beating of the heart, is the most common and most frequently complained of symptom. Shortness of breath, and exhaustion after mild effort is another common symptom. Chest pains in the left side, headache, dizziness, a feeling of faintness, are also among the frequent complaints.

On examining the patient, the physician usually finds evidences of nervous instability such as trembling of the hands, flushing and pallor and increased perspiration. But, in such patients there is no structural defect in the heart.

Talks to parents

NATURALIST.
By Brooke Peters Church.

From the time he was a tiny boy, Joe was interested in nature. He knew the names of all the birds, butterflies, trees and flowers before he could talk plainly, and spent hours alone watching the wild life in the woods and fields which fortunately were near his home.

In school he was lonely, for he did not care for games and sports, and was always poor in his work. He learned to read because he wanted to read nature-books, and wrote well when he was given a subject from nature. For the rest he seemed dull and reserved and was the despair of both parents and teachers.

The naturalist is born, not made, and he generally walks alone. It is impossible to study nature in a crowd. Most genius or even great talent is lonely, and the deep study of nature requires a very special gift often amounting to genius.

The child who has this gift cannot be shoved into the mold with other children and made to conform to the average standards.

He will get his physical development in his long excursions through woods and fields, his companionship from the wild life he loves. What education he needs to pursue his chosen work, he will absorb through reading and special investigation. No need to worry about him. The naturalist is apt to be one of the happiest and most contented of men.

In a standardized world the exception is unfortunate. Frequently he is not understood, not even noticed. Parents and teachers both should be on the alert to recognize the really gifted child and give him a chance to develop.

The world could do with a few more outstanding individuals, and especially individuals who, like the naturalist, preach the beauty of simplicity and the commonplace things of life.

Chapter VIII

Ann went to the steak roast with Bill Ware and Lefty Ponds. Aimee, the hostess in her amiable way cornered Bill and made him help with the fire. It was a task he enjoyed. There had been six years since he had last experienced the clear tang of the north woods. After so long in a city office, the kindling of a flame under the stars with pine sticks was an incredible adventure.

Ann watched him closely as he attended to the fire. The tired lines under his eyes seemed somehow to have been erased. In the reddish glow his white face was like that of a blond Viking, looking over a brazier of coals on the prow of a ship.

He had dressed for the part of the fire-tender. He wore an old gray flannel shirt and dungarees. His feet were encased in a species of ancient sandal. In front of the flames his open throat was like a rugged column.

It was a revelation to Ann. The office worker had vanished, and William Ware had become a romantic personage in his own right, like that Viking she imagined. When he rolled up his sleeves saw well-developed muscles in his arms. Evidently he kept fit in the city.

He helped Ann with her steak. When, at the start, she burned a finger, he sat cross-legged beside her and showed her how to cook steak on a forked stick over the coals. Lefty was lackadaisical at this job; he let his steak burn to a crisp.

At intervals Ann saw Bill's eyes following the languid young bond salesman who had somehow monopolized her for this evening. She remembered Bill's hurt look when he had first seen her with another man at the hotel. But Bill hadn't had a chance to talk with her alone.

He got his chance when Ann walked down to the sandy beach to rub sand in the skillet and clean it—this being regarded as a feminine job. Bill caught up with her, as she dipped her hands into the sands.

"Let me do that," he said his eyes shining with the glint of the moonlight on the water. When he reached for the skillet his hand brushed against hers.

A moment later, busily engaged scouring the vessel with sand, he turned and said, "Who is that guy you're with? I mean—what is he?"

"I think he sells bonds, or something of the sort," she said.

"Oh!"

"He used to play football at Princeton. That is, before he was married."

"I used to box at college. It was a small middle-western school. But you say he's married?" Bill faced her with large, hurt eyes.

Ann laughed. "Don't be so shocked. And don't look so indignant."

"But—but he's married!" Bill murmured incredulously. He continued, his eyes still wide, "But you don't go out with him? Not dates?"

Something in Ann rebeled. Perhaps Bill, in his gray flannel shirt and dungarees seemed a bit callow beside the breezy Lefty Ponds. She said, "What gives you the right to be shocked at anything I do? I don't seem to recall—"

"Oh, I'm sorry!" Something of his hurt was revealed in his face. "I didn't meant to be presumptuous."

He turned to the skillet again and, silent, scoured it to shining radiance. Ann got up and went back to the fire, and joined Lefty Ponds.

Lefty asked, "Who is the boy friend with whom you've been exchanging confidential words?"

"Oh, just a boy I met in the travel office back in the city," she said. "He sold me this vacation. He thinks he goes with it."

Lefty was a little indignant. "Well, he had cheek, I must say! He talked as though he had known you a million years!"

"I think he means well," Ann said. "And I don't think he's had much time for the amenities—the little things he should know about courtship and girls."

"Well, tell him not to practice on you," Lefty said hotly. "This was to be my evening with you. Let's leave this crowd and go on some place else."

"No. No," Ann said. "I couldn't do that. That would be selfish. This is a hotel party. We have to be loyal."

Lefty tossed a stone into the fire. "Just as you say," he told her. "Can't we take a stroll down to the lake shore and then come back?"

Ann eyed him with a knowing smile. "You think a lot of yourself, don't you?" she said. But she smiled when she said it. "I have no doubt that you are attractive to a lot of women. You are ruthless."

Lefty laughed. "Not when my wife is around! But don't get a rise out of me. I'll just stick around. I like you. I like your reserve. And please, don't be so exclusive!"

After Lefty had gone to his room, Ann stood on the veranda and watched the moonlight on the water. Lefty had asked them to go to a night club but for some inexplicable reason she didn't want to go. She knew Bill Ware couldn't afford such things and she didn't want to embarrass him.

Bill had gone to the boathouse dock to talk to Ralph Spring, the boatman. He wanted to hire a canoe for two weeks.

Bill came up the path as Ann was ready to go upstairs. His voice detained her. "Don't go in, please!" he said.

She stood in the path of the moonlight on the porch, and Bill merely stood there, think how beautiful she was.

"I'm sorry — about tonight," Ann said.

"Oh, I'm sorry!" he amended. "Perhaps it was selfish of me. I make breaks all the time — with girls. I guess its the old workaday harness chafing me. But I'll get free of it for two weeks." He squared his shoulders, and again she looked at the startling white throat. The moonlight painted his bare head with gold.

"You are going to enjoy this mountain air," she said. "Do you like to climb?"

"Will you?" he said eagerly. "I mean—will you climb a mountain with me? I've just rented a canoe for the two weeks, and I intend to go in for everything. Get fit for the old grind again. Feel like a man. How about tomorrow?"

"I'm sorry. I promised to go sailing on St. Regis Lake with a boy. It'll take all day."

"With that married man?" Bill asked hotly. "With Lefty—?"

She smiled. "No, not with Lefty. His name is Jaime Laird."

"Oh, that lad!" Bill said, and his spirits fell. "I talked to him—at the office. Playboy. I sold him this vacation. "Now I wish I had sent him to the seashore. But look here—" He realized his bluntness had taken her away from him again, that his presumption had repelled her. "It is selfish of me, I guess. Perhaps every man is selfish about the girl he loves."

Then it was out. Bill Ware, on his first night away from the job in the city, had made this formal declaration.

Ann looked up at him, her face troubled. He was gazing at her as if he expected her to vanish in the air and be forever lost to him.

"But, Bill, I didn't know—" There was nothing she could say. She hadn't dreamed this boy regarded her in such a light. They had met so casually in the travel office. He was just another boy in the workaday canyons of the city. There hadn't seemed to be any romance connected with him.

"Perhaps I'd better listen to you some more," Ann went on, regaining her poise. "How about climbing a mountain—the day after tomorrow?" she said.

"Sold!" Bill replied in his best business manner.

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

BY ROBBIN COONS.

HOLLYWOOD—Heat wave moving.

Gary Cooper, looking just about as he did before his boss, Adolph Zukor, put a value of $4,000,000 on his future services, is in his first day of work on "The Plainsman." The set is outdoors, under a broiling sun, and represents a steamboat landing at Leavenworth, Kas., with prospective pioneers of the plains.

Cecile B. DeMille, wearing a lavender shirt, green riding breeches and shiny boots, is directing. He rides on the camera crane, swung low for this shot of Cooper as Wild Bill Hickok, James Ellison as Buffalo Bill, and Helen Burgess as Mrs. Buffalo Bill disembarking with a swarm of extras.

"Stop all this talking," DeMille is scolding the extras through it. "How can I talk against Niagara Falls?"

Gary Keeps Mum.

An assistant pleads for "intelligent confusion" as the passengers land.

Whether the confusion he gets is "intelligent" is for mob experts to decide, not for sun-wilted visitors. But scene, and Gary comes off the set.

Amiable and taciturn as always, he isn't talking about this "alienation of business affections" suit Zukor filed against Sam Goldwyn. "I think it's all a publicity stunt," he comments facetiously of the court action arising from his signing a contract to leave Paramount for Goldwyn's studio.

Cooper was an extra about a year before Goldwyn selected him for a featured role in "The Winning of Barbara Worth," his first of importance—"unless," he said, "you can count a two-reeler I did, playing in support of a dog."

The sun beats scorchingly upon an early American political meeting while Clarence Brown gets a stirring scene for "The Georgeous Hussy." Andrew Jackson's opponents have come to excoriate him outside his hotel. Jackson (Lionel Barrymore) has stormed into the mob to battle a belligerent. Daniel Webster (Sidney Toler) calls for peace. Jackson, he announces, has been elected President!

There are sudden cheers, bitterness forgotten. Bleeding Jackson staggers forward, exclaims: "Rachel! I must find Rachel!"

But Barrymore goes not to Rachel but to his canvas back chair in the shade.

Greeks Prepare To Battle Reds

ATHENS, Aug. 5. (AP) — Greece mobilized forces of workers under martial law today to combat what the government termed "a subversive and seditious movement fostered by communist propganda."

Classes of public service employes were organized under government authority to preserve normal labor operations during a 24-hour general strike called by Leftist labor unions.

Proclamation of martial law and the mobilization decree followed an emergency session of the cabinet of Premier John Metaxas.

The premier hurried to the royal palace and obtained the signature of King George II for the emergency measures, which also included dissolution of the chamber of deputies.

Metaxas told the king the present chamber was elected last January to revise the constitution and insure a stable government. The parliamentary body, however, has been weakened by Communistic propaganda, the premier said, and has not carried out its designted duties.

Garner To Talk At Centennial

DALLAS, Aug. 5 (AP)—Vice President John N. Garner today gave up his favorite recreation, fishing, to take the spotlight in a day filled with festivities planned in his honor at the Texas Centennial exposition.

Big-wigs of the Democratic party in Texas converged on the exposition to hear the vice president in two, and possibly three addresses.

The bushy-browed Texan will make his principal address at 8:30 p. m. tonight in the Cotton Bowl. He said it would not be about politics.

The entire Texas delegation in the lower house of Congress was expected to attend. Senators Tom Connally and Morris Sheppard also accepted invitations.

Centennial officials said Rep. Maverick of San Antonio and Lieut. Gov. Woodul would head delegations from the Alamo City and Houston. Formers Governors O. B. Colquitt, Pat Neff and Dan Moody were expected.

A lunchen was arranged in honor of Mrs. Garner.

Last night the Vice President and Mrs. Garner were guests of Gov. Allred in Austin.

Couple Killed In Collision

DALLAS, Aug. 5 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Byron Robertson of Plano, Collin county, were fatally injured in an automobile accident on the Richardson road near here early today.

B. W. Eddleman and John Forshee of McKinney, occupants of the other car, said the Robertson automobile struck their car from the rear and turned over three times.

Robertson was pinned under the car. He died two hours later. Mrs. Robertson died in an ambulance.

Deputy Sheriff Bill Binford said Mr. and Mrs. James Hollow of Plano were in the Robertson car. He said his department had no record of their being hurt.

Police broadcasting systems sent out a description of Dick Robertson, brother of the victim, reported near Los Angeles driving to Texas. Officers said they wished to notify the traveler of his brother's death.

DOUBLY ANNOYED

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Annoyed by a pack of dogs in his rear yard, Goldie Durston decided to call the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. He poured out his woes to the voice that answered. "They won't go away until I throw chunks of coal at them," he said. "What shall I do?"

"Order some more coal," was the prompt reply.

Durston had called a coal company by mistake.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

BISHOP PATS COUGHLIN ON BACK, TELLS HIM TO GO AHEAD

RADIO PRIEST URGED NOT TO CALL FOR LIAR

BLAMES MONARCHIES FOR CONDITIONS IN SPAIN

ROME, Aug. 5, (AP)—Bishop Michael J. Gallagher of Detroit described today the work of Father Charles E. Coughlin as a type of antidote to anti-clericalism as it prevails in Spain.

"If the priesthood all over the world had begun 40 years ago to preach these principles of greater justice and opportunity for the common man, it might not today be subjected to such odium as it suffers in Spain," the bishop said. "Unfortunately the majority of them in places where these principles are most needed to be preached were subject to control of monarchies.

"Autocratic governments controlled both their property and their salaries. They could not rise their voices for the common man without inviting their own destruction."

For this reason, the bishop said, he told Father Coughlin to "go right on with his work" with a due regard for moderation in his language.

"But," the prelate added, "I told him that before I left the United States. I urged him not to use expressions such as calling the president a liar because it fails to show respect for an office which deserves respect.

"After I had discussed this with Father Coughlin he apologized to the president."

Hearty and jolly as he restated his views on the radio priest and his work, the bishop insisted he did not discuss Father Coughlin officially with any vatican authority.

Garner Claims Rowing Put Him 'In The Pink'

AUSTIN, Aug. 5 (AP)—Vice President Garner and his white house "boss" apparently see eye to eye on this boat business.

As a conditioner both have found manning a boat—regardless of its size—to their likeing.

The Texan was "in the pink" of condition today for his part in "Garner day" at the Texas Centennial exposition—and he gave credit to boat rowing for his fitness.

"Feel this muscle," the Vice President asked Gov. James V. Allred. "It was flabby when I left Washington." He flexed his right arm, explaining he rowed the boat while his companions did the fishing near his Uvalde home.

California is facing a shortage of Louisiana frogs, state game experts warn, because hunters use the wasteful method of shooting them with rifles.

CAVALCADE BRINGS TEXAS HISTORY TO LIFE

DALLAS, Texas, August—Cavalcade of Texas, one of the "must see" things at the Texas Centennial Exposition, recreates the hilarious spirit of the Big Bend country in the above scene in the Jersey Lilly saloon when Judge Roy Bean was all the law there was West of the Pecos. Just below are the famous Wilson Clydesdales, valued at $100,000, drawing one of the covered wagons across the largest stage on earth; lower left, a tragic moment during the Comanche attack on Fort Parker in 1836; Loraine Meeks, at right, member of the cast, dressed as a lovely Spanish senorita, wears a comb brought from Spain by her ancestors a century ago. 22 YEARS AGO TODAY GERMANY'S TROOPS CROSSED BELGIAN BORDER

By RADER WINGET
Associated Press Foreign Staff

NEW YORK, Aug. 5 (AP)—It was 22 years ago yesterday that western Europe felt the first sharp conflict of the World War.

On August 4, 1914, marching German troops crossed the Belgian border and began a driving advance toward Paris.

Great Britain declared war against the German invaders after the halls of parliament rang with bitter debate and a British ultimatum to Berlin had been refused.

In Washington, the United States government headed by President Wilson proclaimed its neutrality—a pledge which stood for 20 months of European strife.

The German offensive halted temporarily before the guns of Liege fortress. But in another direction, more columns pushed toward France through Alsace, Lorraine, and Luxembourg.

Today, the tramp of marching men and the roar of aircraft combine again in what many statesmen have called a swelling dirge for peace in Europe.

In the countries where the war was fought, this is the 1936 picture:

Germany: Step by step the nation is throwing off the shackles of the Versailles treaty. As early as 1921 she bucked treaty provisions and rejected the so-called "Paris decisions" of the Allies for reparations payments.

France: The famed Maginot line of underground fortifications now protects land which was the world's battleground 22 years ago.

About $10,000,000,000, at the present rate of exchange, was spent to rebuild homes, farms and factories.

Italy: The nation was disappointed in the territorial readjustments after the World War, and diplomatic observers declare therein lies a large part of the answer of the Italian urge for empire.

Denied expansion in Europe, Italy, under Mussolini, has turned to Africa, and today her colonial possessions spread over 847,235 square miles.

Austria: The nation which quarreled with Serbia and issued the fateful ultimatum that touched off the world war shudders at the possibility of another conflict.

Internally they are pulled by the sentiments of Monarchists, Nazis, Socialists and the government party of the Fatherland Front.

That internal strife, many believe, may be quieted by the recent Austro-German accord which created a framework of understanding and halted talk of war in Europe to determine Austrian destiny.

Texan Charged With Harboring Prison Breaker

TEXARKANA, Aug. 5. (AP)—Manuel Cox, pleading innocent to a federal charge of harboring the Oklahoma prison breaker, Julius Bohannon, was held in jail here today. He failed to make the $2,500 bond set by U. S. Commissioner F. A. King.

Cox was brought to Texarkana from Daningerfield after an examining trial on charges of kidnaping Mrs. Bohannon nad her daughter has been posted at request of federal authorities. The kidnaping hearing was set tentatively for next Tuesday.

However, District Attorney John Cook of Mount Pleasant did not think the prisoner would be available unless he makes the $2,500 federal bond. Cook considered that unlikely.

Cox also is under bonds of $200 and $750 at Mount Pleasant on charges of assault to kill. These charges grew out of a disturbance there some weeks ago.

The federal grand jury convenes here in October and probably will consider the harboring charges against Cox.

"Daddy John" Davidson of Blackwell, Okla., can lay claim to the marathon whittling title. Employed now by a knife company, he has been carving wooden figures for 57 years.

LEWIS GROUP EXPECTED TO BE SUSPENDED

COUNCIL MEETS TODAY TO DECIDE ON ACTION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—After a talk with William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, David Dubinsky, president of the Ladies Garment Workers, told reporters today he expected the federation executive council to suspend the unions affiliated with the committee for industrial organization.

The council met today to decide what action to take on charges by John P. Frey, president of the federation of metal trades department, that the unions affiliated with John L. Lewis and the committee for industrial organizations had "fomented insurrection" by working for industrial unions as opposed to craft unions favored by the federation.

Dubinsky, the only council member who also belongs to the Lewis committee, said he would protest suspension "for all I'm worth."

"The council clearly lacks jurisdiction," Dubinsky said. "Only the convention of the A. F. of L. could suspend us."

Earlier, it was reported that a majority of the 13 federation vice presidents sitting in judgment on the defendants had decided to suspend the Lewis faction unless it comes to terms within 30 days.

Barring last minute changes of mind, informed sources said this would be the upshot of the momentous "trial" of the Lewis group on charges of "insurrection."

The vice presidents, members of the federation's executive council, were prepared to hand down their verdict today. They were understood to be determined to stipulate that before the suspension order can be lifted, Lewis' committe for industrial organiaztion must dissolve.

This committee, comprising officials of unions numbering more than 1,000,000 workers, has been pressing plans to organize mass production workers into big unions, each covering a whole industry. This is against the wishes of craft unionists on the executive council, who argue that many of the workers should join the distinctive unions of their craft.

In all, the Lewis committee comprises officials of 12 unions. However, two of these unions notified President William Green of the A. F. of L. that they were not affiliated with the committee, with the committee, even though their officers were.

Having listened to "Prosecutor" John P. Frey, friend of Samuel Gompers and leader of 600,000 organized metal workers close his case against the militant Lewis unions, the "jury" of labor leaders "locked itself up" to determine the verdict.

The "prosecutor" contended to newspapermen that his argument was "irresistible and unanswerable."

He would not predict the verdict.

President Green, "presiding judge," said that outright expulsion was not being considered.

Lemke Wants To Debate Landon And Roosevelt

GREELEY, Colo., Aug. 5 ¾—Rep. William Lemke wants to debate the monetary and banking issue with President Roosevelt and Gov. Alf M. Landon "on the same platform" before the November election.

The union party presidential nominee, speaking at a forum of Colorado State college of education here last night, "invited" the democratic and republican candidates to participate in a debate on the issue.

"I will give the two twice as much time as I will take and will pay for a national hook-up over the radio," Lemke said.

The North Dakotan charged that "both of the old parties are sewed up by the international bankers."

At a WPA concert in Madison Square Garden, a realistic touch was given Tschaikowsky's "1812 Overture" when a 75-piece band was added to the orchestral effects.

'Double Cross' Is Claimed In Dallas Slaying

DALLAS, Aug. 5 (AP)—A cross-shaped floral piece bearing the inscription "double cross" sent police on another tangent today in their investigation of A. B. Farrow's slaying at his elaborate drinking establishment yesterday.

Detectives were told a short, swarthy man place the cross in the doorway of the "Nite Spot," downtown resort, closed in mourning for its late owner. Officers said they did not understand the significance of the flowered emblem.

Farrow was killed early yesterday. George W. Redston of Chicago, described as assassinated Mayor Anton Cermak's bodyguard, was charged with murder. He readily admitted firing his pistol after he was forcibly removed from the night club.

FLY TO RUSSIA

SAN PEDRO, Clif., Aug. 5. (AP)—Bound for Moscow along a dangerous route through tolar latitudes, two Russian Soviet fliers expected to skim off from Los Angeles harbor water today. The fliers are Pilot Sigmund Levanevsky, often called the "Lindbergh of Russia," and Victor I. Levchenko, his young navigator. Both look and dress like American college athletes.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Craig, of Pleasant Hill, Mo., have returned to their home after visiting for several days with Mrs. Craig's sister, Mrs. Del Love, of the Pampa Country club.

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Aug. 5 (AP)—The original of the famous letter to Col. William B. Travis to "the People of Texas and All Americans in the World" has been placed on display in the state library.

The yellow faded sheet of paper, one of the most treasured of Texas' historic memorials, long had reposed in a safe among the archives in the Capitol bsement.

With a number of other documents and objects which played important parts in Texas' building, it is being viewed daily by throngs of Centennial visitors.

Dated Feb. 24, 1836, the letter, whitten with pen and ink, was dispatched by the commander of the Alamo when his little band of Texas heroes was surrounded by thousands of Mexicans under command of Gen. Santa Anna.

It was one of several messages desperately appealing for assistance which Travis' couriers managed to carry through the Mexican lines.

"I am besieged by a thousand or more of the Mexicans under Santa Anna," the letter read. "I have sustained a continual bombardment and cannonade for 24 hours and have lost not a man. The enemy has demanded surrender at discretion, otherwise the garison will be put to the sword, if the fort is taken. I have answered the demand with a cannon shot, and our flag still waves proudly from the walls. I shall never surrender or retreat. Then, I call on you in the name of Liberty, of patriotism and everything dear to the American character, to come to our aid."

This letter was not the last sent by Col. Travis. As late as March 3, he communicated with the constitutional convention then meeting at Washington. The convention received that message March 6.

The Feb. 24 letter was put on display in the library originally by J. G. Davidson of Plainview, a descendant of Travis, in 1891, and later was purchased by the state for $85 and placed in the archives.

Cansler's Bail May Be Sought

LUFKIN, Aug. 5 (AP)—M. H. Caonsler's attorney debated today whether to press his fight to obtain bail for the accused slayer of Albert Warren, father of a convict electrocuted last week.

Cansler, denied bond at a preliminary hearing yesterday, was bound over to the next term of the Angelina county grand jury. Three witnesses testified they saw Cansler fire a bullet into Warren, who staggered and fell into a ditch.

County Attorney R. C. Musslewhite said the shooting arose from Cansler's objection to returning the body of Glenn Warren, who was executed for slaying Cansler's father, to Zavalla for burial.

As far as the demand for studio tickets is concerned, the Major Bowes amateurs' broadcast still leads.

Three Million To See Olympics

BERLIN, Aug. 5 (AP)—All Olympic attendance records appear due for a blasting before the current games end.

More than 1,500,000 persons, it is estimated, will have witnessed the events in the main stadium by Sunday. The final total probably will be close to 3,000,000 in all competitions.

To Americans the most amazing feature so far is the clock-like precision whereby the main stadium, seating 100,000, fills at least once daily, generally twice and occassionally three times, when the evening pageantry is conducted.

Tickets are at a premium. Many families and visiting groups are compelled to share the pasteboards under a relay system.

Smiles Cement U. S.—Canada Amity

A symbol of the good will that makes possible existence of 3,000 miles of unguarded border between their countries is this picture, taken during President Roosevelt's precedent creating visit with Lord Tweedsmuir, governor general of Canada. Smiles and laughter displaced the grave atmosphere that usually attends the most amiable of international conferences.

Americans Win In Cage Dispute

BERLIN, Aug. 5. (AP)—Settling a dispute between Mexico and the United States over the method of arranging matches after the first round, representatives of Olympic basketball teams voted 9 to 5 to have a draw for later games, thereby inserting an element of luck into the championship.

The Mexicans argued for the right for the loser to select its own opponent under the Olympic system whereby a team must be defeated twice before being eliminated.

The Americans stuck by the system of having a draw at the end of each round, contending the Mexican proposal would open the way to much squabbling among the losers over the choice of an opponent. A draw will be conducted at the end of each round as a result of today's decision.

PENDERGAST IS VICTOR AGAIN IN ELECTION

TOWNSENDITE TRAILING IN KANSAS GOVERNOR'S RACE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—Latest returns from state primaries—showing a Pendergast-backed candidate piling up an apparently unbeatable lead in Missori and a Townsendite trailing in an important contest in Kansas held the attention of political leaders today.

Interest centered on the midwestern vote counting, there being few major presidential campaign developments.

Endorsed by the potent Tom J. Pendergast organization of Kansas City, Major Lloyd C. Stark was running away from William Hirth, state farm leader, in the contest for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Stark held a 3 to 1 advantage as returns piled up.

Former State Attorney General Jesse W. Barrett, like Hirth a critic of the Pendergast regime, held a big margin over opponents to win the Republican nomination.

In Governor Alf M. Landon's state of Kansas, former Governor Jonathan M. Davis, who advocated the Townsend old age pension plan, trailed Walter A. Huxman, attorney from the Democratic nomination for governor. Huxman's lead was such that he seemed assured of the nomination. Will G. West won the Republican nomination unopposed.

The veteran Kansas Republican Senator Arthur Capper outdistanced two opponents and apparently clinched renomination. Omar Ketchum seemed to have won the Democratic senatorial honors.

Lack of major contests marked Virginia's primary. In the only two races for Democratic nominations for the national house of representatives, one incumbent won and the other lost.

Norman R. Hamilton, publisher of the Portsmouth Star, and a New Dealer, beat Rep. Colgate Darden, while Rep. A. J. Montague won a close contest with Dave E. Satterfield Jr.

Spain's last royal ruler, Alfonso XIII, was born a king.

TEXAS RANCH FORECLOSURE IS COMPLETED

INSURANCE COMPANY IS NOW OWNER OF O-2 RANCH

ALPINE, Aug. 5 (AP)—The story of the modern cowman's plight was written in large and bitter letters here yesterday when the 24,695-acre O-2 ranch in Brewster and Presidio counties was sold at a trustee's sale on the courthouse steps for $250,000 to the Aetna Life Insurance Co., holder of the mortgage. The price paid was approximately the face value of the indebtedness. The state has a prior mortgage of almost an equal amount.

This was the largest foreclosure of land in recent Texas history, representing roughly 400 square miles of territory extending from the foot of the rim rock 25 miles south of Marfa, to a point below Alpine.

The O-2, one of the great ranch properties in West Texas, was owned by W. W. Tunney, Alpine and El Paso attorney, and his nephew, Henry T. Fletcher, of this city. Mr. Fletcher had managed the ranch for a number of years.

Mr. Tunney came to the Davis mountains from Marshall in the early eighties, taught school at Fort Davis more than 50 years ago and served Brewster county as its first county attorney. In 1888 he gathered together the land that became the O-2.

Upon the 400 sections of land in the O-2, 10,000 high grade Hereford cows ranged and each fall from 5,000 to 6,000 calves went to middle west feed lots bearing the O-2 brand. Water was a problem on the O-2 and it went in for deep wells and tanks and then spent thousands of dollars piping water into remote areas.

Mr. Tunney, now 75, is a leader in the cattle industry. He helped organize the Texas Cattle Raisers' association. He served as its president perhaps longer than any other man, serving first from 1903 to 1906 and again in the critical post war period of 1919 to 1921.

The ranch undertook to buy out all the squatter sections in the period from 1905 to 1907, and this accounted for a considerable debt being placed upon the property which was not retired in good times and could not be paid off in bad. The land was bought for a considerable bonus over the state's first lien. All of this debt was refunded by the Aetna a number of years ago and it increased until it reached a quarter of a million dollars.

Flat Tire Mystery Of Hollywood Ends

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Aug. 5. (AP)—The famous "flat tire mystery" in the movie colony was a closed case today.

For the past week, players at M-G-M studios have been digging nails out of their automobile tires. Clark Gable was one who found the rubber on his car closely resembling a pin cushion. Robert Taylor, Jeanette McDonald and Eleanor Powell were others.

The case threatened to develop into a murder mystery. Then they discovered the trouble:

The studio parking lot adjoins a lot where new dressing rooms are being erected. The autos picked up the nails, themselves.

STATE WAREHOUSE LOOTED

PALESTINE, Texs., Aug. 5 (AP)—Thieves took 14 wheels and tires, 36 files, five slickers and assorted odds and ends from the Texas Highway department warehouse here last night.

Guinn (Big Boy) Williams is the only five-goal polo player in the motion picture colony. He owns a string of 23 ponies.

Orioles' Boss?

Baltimore's Orioles, one of the more fruitful clubs in baseball during its long guidance by John M. (Jack) Dunn, age may have that family's leadership if his widow takes over the club. According to reports, Mrs. Dunn, above, is to succeed Charles H. Knapp, who recently died of a heart attack, as president of the International League club.

INDICTMENTS DISCUSSED
By ALFRED WALL

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 5 (AP)—Ordinary prognostications on price trends and production figures within the oil industry were overshadowed today by discussions of the government's blanket indictment naming 23 major companies, three trade journal publishing companies and 84 individuals as alleged violators of the Sherman anti-trust laws.

Despite official silence on the probable effect of the indictments on the industry as a whole, it was easily discernible to observers that this factor was getting its full share of attention in the "off the record" discussions.

If the charges were sustained by convictions,, it was pointed out in one quarter, the self-control features of the industry's organization might be shaken.

More rigid government control to enforce fair practices thus might again become an issue in an industry which has, generally speaking, leaned toward state regulation and conservation of resources by marketing arrangements within the industry itself.

The industry had taken considerable pride in its own moves to put its house in order after the dark days of flush production and crude oil at "two bits a barrel."

After repeated expressions of "surprise" over the indictments there was a hurried summoning of legal counsel and it became apparent that leaders, individually and collectively, would prepare a strong legal fight against the charges.

Some conceded that the scope of the charges virtually had put the entire industry on trial.

Until the indictments at Madison, Wis., the general attitude toward the future had been one of considerable complacence.

The unprecedented consumer demand had been whittling down stocks of gasoline in storage, production figures were going down the scale and the markets for crude and refined products were steady.

The agreement at a Dallas meeting to ask congressional approval for a renewal of the interstate oil compact was considered a stabilizing influence.

Texas Picked To Win Grid Title

FORT WORTH, Aug. 5 (AP)—The University of Texas is likely to win the football championship of the southwest conference this fall, according to Marty Karow, long-time Longhorn assistant coach, who is visiting the Texas high school coaching school here today.

"Texas will have the greatest collection of backs in the land, a much improved line and an abundance of reserves," declared the man who resigned from the Longhorn staff last week to accept a place on the U. S. Navy Academy athletic staff.

"I hate to leave all the friends I have made in Texas, and the fine material coming up at the university," he said, "but I couldn't afford not to take the promotion this opportunity affords."

Jack Holt began his motion picture career, in 1912, by riding a horse over a 40-foot cliff into a swirling torrent of water.

Softball Tourney Will Be Held At Road Runner Park

Meeting Of Managers To Be Held This Evening

Final enries in the district softball tournament of next week are being received today by Commissioner Jack Kretsinger, and arrangement on a tournament schedule will be started at a meeting of managers this evening.

Use of Road Runner park has been granted, while the diamond at Skellytown is also being put in condition for the games that will be played there. Make-up of the schedule will depend upon the exact number of teams entered, and the playing hours most convenient for them. Amarillo teams have requested that their games all be scheduled at night. Some twilight games may be arranged if the schedule is crowded.

Entries are expected to total about 20, more than was hoped for when tournament plans were first made. Response to the tournament reflects the interest in softball over the Panhandle, where it has become more and more popular during recent years.

This is the first district tournament held in the Panhandle. Another is assured for next year, as Pampa has again been designated the tournament city by State Commissioner Harold White of Wichita Falls. District champions decided next week will go to Fort Worth in September to compete in state play for a chance at the national title.

Americans To Finals Of Pole Vault At Berlin

BERLIN, Aug. 5 (AP)—Bill Sefton of Los Angeles qualified in his third and last try today in the Olympic pole vaulting preliminaries, clearing the bar at the specified height of 3.80 meters, 12 feet 5 5-8 inches, by a margin of at least one foot after two failures. The trials were held during a heavy rain.

Sefton's teammates, Bill Graber of Ontario, Calif., and Earle Meadows of Fort Worth, Tex., had less difficulty in qualifying for the finals to be held this afternoon.

Likewise the United States' representatives in the discus throw, Gordon (Slinger) Dunn of Fresno, Calif., Kenneth Carpenter of Comp-Wood, Jr., of Summit, N. J., survived the preliminary competition.

All three passed the 44 meters, 144 feet 4 5-16 inches, required in the trials. The Olympic discus record of 162 feet 5 7-8 inches was made by John Anderson of New York in the 1932 games at Los Angeles.

Bobby Riggs And Parker To Meet

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 5 (AP)—Bobby Riggs of Los Angeles, national clay court tennis champion, will get another chance at his particular grass-court nemesis, Frankie Parker, in the quarter finals of the Meadow Club's invitation tournament tomorrow.

Their match will share the quarter final headline spot with the battle between the Florida rivals, Art Hendrix, the Lakeland "giant killer," and Charlie Harris of Miami.

In other round of eight engagements, Eugene Smith of Los Angeles meets Gilbert Hall, the New Jersey veteran, and scholarly John McDiarmid of Texas Sea Bright tournament winner last week, takes on Gegory Mangin, the national indoor champion from New York.

GOLF VERNACULAR

BEAVER, Pa. (AP)—Judge Henry H. Wilson says he is a duffer at golf, but his officials decision denying a new trial in a civil case caused attorneys to lift eyebrows.

"In reducing the verdict or granting new trials for excess, we cannot strike a balance of pounds and pence; there must be a fairway, with the verdict into the rough, before the court can be called to retrieve a sliced drive by the defendant," Judge Wilson wrote.

TEXAS SPORT NOTES

BY FELIX R. McKNIGHT,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

DALLAS, Aug. 5 (AP)—Look who's here . . . less than seven games out of the money division, breezing along at a pace which has made them the Texas league's best club in the last two months, are Fort Worth's "Horatio Alger" Panthers . . . Close figuring reveals 29 victories in their remaining 43 games probably will put them in the Shaughnessy playoff . . . Since Homer Peel took charge, the Cats have surged out of the cellar, when apparently hopelessly imbedded, and a climb to the first division would be the most popular ascent in league history.

Give the orchids to Peel and Little Jackie Reid, the pitching veteran who says ti's true that life begins at 40 . . . The right-hander has won nine and lost one . . . He has held enemy batsmen to three runs in the last 28 innings on the hillock . . . Even the fans have awakened . . . A Sunday double bill with Beaumont drew 2,500 paid admissions.

What's happened to Beaumont's Exporters, contenders four weeks ago and a fifth place club now?

Houston's famed Du Quesney lefties, a baseball nine of wrong-handers, has suffered embarrassment at its worst . . . A southpaw, Lefty Jones of Barber's Hill, blanked them, 10-0 . . . The irony of it . . . That West Texas polo team startled the Long Island fans recently with a 10-4 victory over the highly-regarded Roslyn team . . . H. W. (Rube) Williams, Charley Waring, J. T. Mather and E. Q. O'Brien formed the Texas four with Williams clouting five ogals through the posts.

What started out to be news in this corner a week ago has switched to the commonplace . . . High school grid teams are leaving their home towns by the flock to train elsewhere . . . Latest to report is Port Arthur.

Coach Tom Dennis will take his Yellowjackets into the heart of the hills on the Blanco river . . . Beaumont agents report there is still a chance the Beaumont-Port Arthur high school athletic relations will be continued . . . A Beaumont city board of education meeting is scheduled soon to consider the recent action of the Beaumont high athletic council in severing relations with Port Arthur because of differences in the semester rules.

Al St. John, former San Antonio golfer, has been named course manager of the Raymondville muny course . . . He won the recent onion fiesta tourney.

STEERS LEAD TEXAS LEAGUE SEVEN GAMES

ANOTHER GAME WON BY ONE-RUN MARGIN

(By The Associated Press)

Today's Games:

Beaumont at Dallas (night)
San Antonio at Fort Worth (day)
Galveston at Oklahoma City (night)
Houston at Tulsa (night).

The Dallas Steers, six straight wins to their credit, thundered far ahead of the pack today. Less than a third of the season remains for the seven contenders to chop off the mauling Mavericks' seven-game advantage.

Last night the pace-setters demonstrated again their amazing knack for winning games on one-run margins. Two were out in the last half of the ninth and Dallas needed a run to win. Catcher George Rensa caught one for a double to score Jimmy Levey from second, giving the heard a 3 to 2 victory.

Houston found its batting eye again and defeated Tulsa 9 to 2. The second place club connected for 15 hits off Irv Stein while Tom Seats held the Oilers to five safeties.

San Antonio came from behind twice to defeat Fort Worth 11 to 9, the fence with two on in the ninth to supply the margin of victory.

Galveston bested the third-place Oklahoma City Indians, 8 to 2.

Henry Armstrong Beats Arizmendi

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5 (AP)— Henry Armstrong, St. Louis negro, wore one of the several different crowns denoting the featherweight boxing championship today as a result of a 10-round decision last night over Alberto (Baby) Arizmendi of Mexico City. The score by rounds was 10 to 0.

While the National Boxing association may recognize Petey Sarron as the featherweight king, and others class Mike Belloise as the best of the bunch, there was no question of Armstrong's class in the minds of 10,000 persons who saw him buzz-saw Arizmendi out of the picture.

The Mexican never had a chance. He was four rounds behind before he was able to strike a blow.

Armstrong smothered him. At the opening bell, the negro nestled his head against Arizmendi's shoulder and began throwing punches with both hands.

Protecting himself as well as he could, he waited for Armstrong to slow up. But the pace never slackened. Henry was going as hard in the tenth as in the first ten seconds of the first.

BOBBY WAUGH DIES

FORT WORTH, Aug. 5 (AP)—Bobby Waugh, 42, once a challenger for the lightweight boxing crown, is dead. Almost totally blind since 1934, he died of tuberculosis here last night. Among his ring opponents were Battling Nelson, Harvey Thorpe, Otto Wallace, Joe Mandot, and Joe Rivers.

Four pieces of a statue of King George III, erected in New York City's Bowling Green in 1770, are on exhibit at the N. Y. Historical society.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By The Associated Press)

Mel Ott, Giants—Hit two homers in 4-1 win over Bees.

Johnny Mize, Cardinals — Hit homer, double and single, batting in four runs in 6-1 wi over Cubs.

Johnny Mize's Bat Pushes Cards Back Ahead Of Cubs

Accounts For 4 of 6 Runs Made On Tuesday

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

They ought to frame Johnny Mize's big bat out in St. Louise. It shot the gas house gang right back into the pennant picture again.

When Frankie Frisch benched Rip Collins because of his hitting slump two weeks ago and turned first base over to rookie Johnny, the Cards were slipping fast.

Today, they're in first place in the national league.

Mize produced so well, in fact, that he's the number one man in the league batting race. Since Mize took over first base 11 games ago, he and Ducky Medwick have combined to lead the way to seven victories.

In that time, he has been batting at a .448 pace, has driven in ten runs and has hammered out four homers and a half dozen doubles.

The gas house gang moved back into first place yesterday with a 6-1 decision over the Cubs, sinking the Chicago champions into second place. Johnny, the Rochester rookie the Cincinnati Reds couldn't use last year and tourned back to the Cards, clubbed out a homer with two on, a double and two singles to account for four of the six St. Louis runs.

The victory put the Cards a full game in front of the Cubs, and 5½ ahead of the Giants, who scored a 4-1 victory over the Boston Bees, largely through Mel Ott, who crashed his 22nd and 23rd homers out of the lot.

The Dodgers and Phillies put on one of their customary slam-bang affairs, with the Brooklyns just managing to last for a 6-5 edge, as Chuck Klein's homer with two on in the ninth all but tied the score. Rain forced postponement of the Pittsburgh-Cincinnati night game until tonight.

The Yankees, with Charley Ruffing chalking up his 15th pitching victory of the season, broke their Lefty Grove jinx and beat the lean portsider 4-2 for the first time since 1934, thereby increasing their American league lead to 11 full games.

Tommy Bridges turned in a five hit pitching trick for the Tigers to shut out the second place Indians 9-0, and enable the Chicago White Sox to move up to one game back of the tribe by downing the Browns, 8-2.

Washington's Senators, still in their worst slump of the year, were unable to hit against Dusty Rhodes and Herman Fink, and bowed to the Athletics 5-3.

Sports Roundup

BY EDDIE BRIETZ,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5 (AP)—Today's puzzle: A week ago Tony Canzoneri told the New York State Athletic Commission he was in no shape to defend his lightweight title against Lou Ambers August 6, and asked for a postponement . . . The commission turned him down . . . Yesterday four commission doctors went over Canzoneri inch by inch and found him O. K. . . . Meantime, Madison Square Garden must refund all of that $27 advance sale.

The red hot pace the Jints are setting has given New Yorkers visions of another subway world's series . . . Our favorite golfer always has been and always will be Walter Hagen . . . Just can't beat that guy for what is known as the old color . . . Or for golf, either, when he gets down to business.

Laurie Stevens, Australian lightweight star, who won the Olympic title at Los Angeles four years ago, is honeymooning here . . . He isn't interested in fights—that is, in the ring . . . But a big shot Australian promoter is due here in two weeks to offer Tony Canzoneri $25,000 to meet Stevens in Brisbane or Sidney in the fall.

Success story: Five years ago Jim Crockett, Charlotte, N. C., wrestling promoter, borrowed $50, hired a hall and put on a match at Bristol, Tenn. . . . Today he features the grunt-and-groaners in 20 leading cities between Norfolk and Miami . . . He has offices in five cities and pays three publicity men $100 a week each . . . Jack Curley, dean of all wrestling promoters, thinks well of Crockett.

Babe Ruth will get a major league managerial offer before Christmas . . . Guess where? . . . Max Schmeling says he'll train longer and harder for Braddock than he did for Louis . . . He'd better . . . The rumored deal that Col. T. N. Huston, former half owner of the Yankes, will buy the Dodgers, isn't dead by a long shot.

The once-famous Provincetown Playhouse in New York City got its name from the Cape Cod, Mass., town where Eugene O'Neill and other writers alunched their first theater.

Berlin, Aug. 5 (AP)—Even the Olympic games which previously have remained severely independent, appear to have fallen under the spell of Nazi precisionu.

Three days of concentrated athletic activity have failed to produce a single surprise worthy of the name.

True, Jesse Owens and others, aided by the stiff wind, scattered Olympic records about like confetti. But the first one of the hundred thousand spectators who have packed the stadium at each performance like birdshot in a bowl has yet to lift a startled eyebrow in token of an upset.

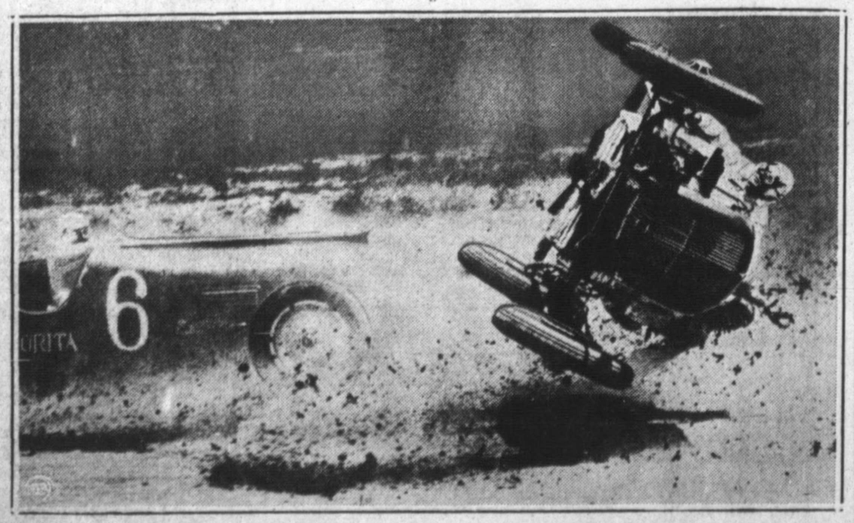

No dark horse like Luigi Beccali and Duncan McNaughton were in 1932 is in sight.

Today's fare promised to consist principally of another dash of Owens, a taste of Georgia's Forrest Towns, and probably a full course of Bill Braber and two other American pole vaulters.

Owens, already in possession of a brace of gold medals and one Olympic record, didn't appear to have a real rival for the 200 meter title unless it might be his own teammate, Matthew Robinson of Pasadena, Calif.

Chance of Victory Goes To Smash

Had the cameraman flicked his shutter an instant later, the shattering impact of the speeding racer at left with the overturning car would have been registered. For breathless moments after the crash it seemed both drivers must have been killed. Then it was learned that they had escaped with slight but painful injuries. The accident took place during the motor championship races in Japan.
