Reds Tighten Curbs In Berlin Blockade

Soviets Cancel German Auto Passes Into Red Zone; Allies Study Move

By OMER ANDERSON
INS Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, July 12—The Russians tightened the screws on the Berlin blockade tonight by imposing new restrictions while western leaders conferred in Berlin and London on ways to end the Soviet siege.

The Soviets cancelled all German auto passes for travel from Berlin into the Soviet zone.

This new measure apparently was aimed at eliminating all German auto traffic from west Berlin into Soviet-occupied territory. It is expected that new passes will be issued to selected Germans in the Soviet sector of the city.

Record Load Hauled

The western air lift to Berlin meantime continued to bring in record cargoes.

American planes challenging the Russian land blockade hauled in 1,249 tons of food and other supplies in the last 24 hours. There were 240 flights, second only to yesterday's record of 270 planes carrying 1,500 tons.

U. S. Ambassador to London Lewis Douglas flew from London for on-the-spot talks today with America's military commander Lucius D. Clay.

At the same time British Germany chief Lieut. Gen. Sir Brian Robertson was in London where he was summoned by King George VI to a Buckingham palace conference.

"Repairs" Continue

Soviet commander Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky was reported to have returned this afternoon from Moscow talks on the protest notes from the U. S., Britain and France demanding an end to the Russian "starvation siege" of Berlin.

Unconfirmed reports persisted that Sokolovsky will be relieved of his Berlin command sometime after the end of the East-West Berlin stalemate.

The British DPD news agency quoted Soviet-controlled German rail officials as declaring that repairs on the Berlin-Helmstedt line would be completed soon.

Stoning Investigated

The Russians have attributed the rail stoppage to these repairs.

Meat Prices In Sharp Advances

NEW YORK, July 12. (AP) — Wholesale meat prices advanced today by three to eight cents a pound over last week's quotations.

At the same time, hog and steer prices were soaring to record highs in the midwest livestock centers.

Good and choice beef sold at 58 to 62 cents a pound wholesale, forecasting possible retail prices of $1.25 to $1.35 for choice steaks and roasts. Pork loins for 62 to 65 cents a pound in the wholesale market. Observers said the pork may go to $1 a pound in the retail stores as a result.

At Chicago, an all-time record price of $30.50 was paid for one load of hogs. A record of $30.25 a hundredweight was set in East St. Louis for two lots of choice hogs. A still higher record was reported at Buffalo, N. Y., where a few select lightweight hogs sold for $31—up 50 cents from the previous peak of last week.

In East St. Louis, another record was set with the sale of a carload of choice steers for $38.75 a hundred weight. Three loads of steers brought $40 in chicago.

Dallas Federal Grand Jury To Report On Veterans Housing

DALLAS, July 12. (AP)—Federal Judge William H. Atwell will receive a special federal grand jury Wednesday to investigate veterans housing in Dallas, U. S. Attorney Frank B. Potter said today.

Due to the death last week of Mrs. T. Whitfield Davidson, Judge Davidson will not be in court, Potter said. Judge Atwell agreed to instruct the jury and to receive their reports, Potter said.

The jury will investigate nothing but housing problems and probably will complete its work by Thursday evening or Friday at the latest, Potter said.

Soviets Urge German Pact

LONDON, July 13 (Tuesday)—(INS)—The Soviet radio today called for the withdrawal of all occupation troops from Germany and the conclusion of a German peace treaty. The broadcast made no mention of the western protest over the Russian blockade of Berlin.

A Moscow radio commentator lashed out at the London conference on Germany, at which it was decided to set up a western German state and place the Ruhr under six-power control without Soviet participation.

Referring to the German problem, the commentator said:

"The people of the world want a rapid decision on Germany and an end to the prolonged state of war and occupation regimes in Europe."

He said that the London conference decisions had completed the splitting of Germany and violated the Yalta and Potsdam agreements.

The Soviet broadcaster criticized the London decisions for failing to mention a peace treaty with Germany.

Warsaw Program Praised

(Western statesmen have called the blueprint for a western German state an "ersatz" peace treaty).

The spokesman said that the decisions of the Warsaw conference on Germany—which was attended by Russia and her eastern European satellites — represented a "clear and steadfast program, for a stable and lasting peace."

He specifically mentioned the withdrawal of troops and the conclusion of a peace treaty as the basis for a "restoration of peacetime conditions in Europe."

These were both proposed at the Warsaw conference on June 24, in addition to four-power control of the Ruhr and the fulfillment of big-four agreements on German disarmament.

Jews Thrust Toward Key Arab Base

By BENN FELLER
INS Staff Correspondent

TEL AVIV, July 12—Jewish infantry, supported by artillery and aircraft tonight closed in on strategic Ras El Ain, Arab stronghold 10 miles northeast of Tel Aviv.

Israeli troops captured the village of Majdal Yaba, three miles from Ras El Ain. The latter controls Jerusalem's water supply and is the base for Arab artillery which has been shelling Petah Tikvah, four miles nearer Tel Aviv.

The capture of Majdal Yaba was marked by the Israeli army's first use of a concentrated artillery barrage. Iraqi troops holding Ras El Ain were reported in an "untenable" position, inasmuch as Jewish soldiers now hold the surrounding Judean foothills.

Ramle and Lydda, seized by the Jews yesterday in their most important victory of the war, are some 13 miles southeast of Tel Aviv. Their seizure paves the way for an all-out Israeli offensive to open the supply road from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem.

Path Is Blasted

The Holy City itself was rocked by Arab and Jewish mortar fire as both sides launched campaigns to win control of Jerusalem.

The Jews hurled shells into Trans-Jordan Arab legion positions in the old walled city and against an Arab-held police depot strongpoint in the north sector of the new city.

Israeli sappers blasted a block of three buildings in a pre-dawn raid to cut a path to the foot of the ancient walls of the old city at Jaffa gate. This appeared to be a prelude to a Jewish offensive to retake the quarter.

American Wounded

During the night the Arabs carried out three thrusts into Jewish lines outside the walls to prevent the start of such an attack.

The mortar exchange wounded another American today. Chester H. Vincent of Raymond, Ill., a U. S. consulate clerk, was taken to Hadassah hospital when he was injured by a mortar burst in the consulate garden.

Iraqi and Jewish aircraft appeared over Jerusalem during the UN Council Gets Palestine Report

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., July 12. (INS) — Palestine mediator Count Folke Bernadotte flatly told the United Nations tonight there can be no peace in the Holy Land unless armed force "is forbidden" and made "prohibitively unprofitable for the Arab states."

Bernadotte's statement, a 36-point analysis of the Palestine situation, was distributed to all members of the Security Council a few hours after the mediator reached New York by plane after a flight from Rhodes.

Jewish State "Is There"

In his request that continuation of the Holy Land war be made "prohibitively unprofitable" for the Arabs, Bernadotte seemed to be issuing a call for the United Nations to institute economic sanctions against the Arab countries if they refuse a "last chance" to lay down their arms.

Bernadotte's report made the point that "the plain fact remains that the Jewish state (of Israel) is there" and the Arabs must accept it.

The mediator's report will be studied overnight by all Security Council members, and a special meeting of the council was called for 11 a.m. Tuesday at which Bernadotte will appear personally.

New Demand Drafted

Meanwhile, the United States and Britain began drafting plans for a new cease-fire demand for UN approval to be submitted after the Bernadotte hearing.

A significant observation in the Bernadotte report specifies

Panama Assembly Votes To Unseat President Jimenez

PANAMA, Panama, July 12. (AP) —The national assembly voted tonight to unseat President H. Enrique Adolfo Jimenez and install Henrique Obarrio as provisional president.

The vote was 26 to 25 and was pushed through the house despite a government spokesman's threat that the Jimenez regime will not obey the assembly action.

The deputies voted on a resolution, submitted by the 26 majority deputies, which would oust Jimenez. Further the resolution would elect Obarrio to serve until Oct. 1, 1952, and annul the recent presidential election which Arnolfo Arias Madrid, a former president, won on the basis of complete unofficial returns.

(By The Associated Press)

BANGOR, Me., July 12—Fourteen U.S. Air Force jet fighters bound for Germany arrived safely at Goose Bay, Labrador, tonight, Dow Air Force base reported.

Lt. John E. Maloney, public information officer, said the fully-armed F-80 "Shooting Stars" were reported down at Goose Bay at 6:18 p. m. They began their 714 mile flight, second lap in the history-making overseas flight, at 4:10 p. m.

Two of an original flight of 16 planes from Selfridge Field, Mich., stayed behind here for engine adjustments.

The 56th fighter group's mission was the first west-to-east trans-Atlantic flight ever undertaken by jet-propelled aircraft.

Simultaneously, six British "Vampire" jets pointed for New York and Montreal. They reached Reykajvik, Iceland, two hours after taking off on an 800-mile jump from Stornoway, Scotland.

The Americans' 700-mile Labrador leg lay over New Brunswick, the Gulf of St. Lawrence and eastern Quebec. The distance was about the same as Lt. Col. David Schilling and his flying-mates streaked from Selfridge Field, Mich., their starting point, to Dow base this morning in less than two hours.

From Goose bay the flight's north Atlantic "stepping stone" route leads tomorrow to Marsarssuak, Greenland; Keeflavik, Iceland; Stornoway, Scotland and Idiham, England. Thursday they're due at Furstenfeldbruck in troubled Germany.

U. S. STEPS UP PLANES AVAILABLE IN GERMANY

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—The U. S. Air Force disclosed tonight it is stepping up the number of transport planes available to supply Russian-blockaded Berlin.

All told, the U. S. Air Force will have on hand tomorrow in Germany a total of 160 two-engine and four-engine transport planes for that purpose.

Nine C-54 Skymasters are scheduled to arrive tomorrow in Germany, bringing to 54 the number of Air Force four-engine transport planes available to supply Berlin from Frankfort.

Six other Skymaster transports arrived in Germany last week to supplement the 39 C-54s sent there two weeks ago.

Each C-54 is capable of carrying seven tons of freight from Frankfurt to Berlin.

Three of the nine Skymasters arriving tomorrow were based at Brookley Air Force Base, Mobile, Ala. Three at Great Falls, Montana, airbase and three at Fairfield-Suisun field, Calif.

Montana Alarmed As Strange Religious Group Seeks Land

(By International News Service)

CHOTEAU, Mont., July 12—The Hutterites are marching into Montana.

Members of the strange religious sect, who dress in loosely fitted homemade clothing, with the men bearded, are buying tracts of land in north-central Montana, in the heart of the livestock growing area.

Montanans are alarmed. Pledges have been made to sell no more land to the sect, who want to leave Canada, and some businessmen say they will sell nothing whatever to the Hutterites.

Ranchers Fear Invasion

The ranchers fear the invasion of a possible 6,000 persons will lower land values and possibly wipe out free enterprise in that section of the state. The Hutterites allow only the barest necessities of life, and manufacture most of their own requirements themselves. They live in communal dwellings, and have communal type of economy.

While Montanans are organizing to rebuff them, members of the sect and their agents continue to offer some of the fanciest prices for land ever heard of in the state. Many years ago an advance guard settled near Lewistown, Mont., and three years ago they purchased 11,000 acres near Augusta west of Lewistown and south of Choteau.

In recent weeks, agents have been moving into Choteau, seeking to buy every acre available in the area.

The crisis brings fear of violence. Substantial residents fear they may have to protect the Hutterites from physical violence as the anger against the "invaders" mounts.

GOP's Record Assailed In Keynote Talk

(By The Associated Press)

CONVENTION HALL, PHILADELPHIA, July 12—Senator Alben W. Barkley tonight pitched the Democratic party's claim for victory on what he called its "consistence, constructive and farsighted record of devotion to the people's welfare."

Keynoting the Democratic convention, the Kentuckian lashed at the Republicans as dominated by men who would turn their backs on needs of the great majority at home, and would hamstring efforts to promote free institutions abroad.

Barkley said the Democratic party's record is the "New Deal," oft lambasted by the Republicans. He said it is a series of measures to bring recovery and prosperity to America and "to make democracy live and work for the American people."

Grundy Scored

Against that he contrasted the record of the Republican Congress and the Republican convention held in this same hall last month.

In his thunderously applauded address, Barkley said the GOP convention saw the reappearance in power and influence of Joseph R. Grundy, former Pennsylvania Republican senator and onetime head of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers association.

He said:

Grundy was the "dominating influence" in enactment of the Smoot-Hawley law of 1930, raising "the highest tariff barriers ever raised against international trade." Grundy "inspired" Senator Edward Martin of Pennsylvania to throw his support to Thomas E. Dewey for the Republican presidential nomination.

GOP Words Tossed Back

Grundy influenced "if he did not actually dominate" the selection of Rep. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania as the new Republican national chairman.

Scott, Barkley declared, has called in so many words for "a resurgence of the ancient Hamiltonian doctrine that only the rich, the well educated, and the well born are qualified to participate in government in these free United States."

Barkley picked up and tossed back repeatedly words Clare Boothe Luce used at the Republi-

More Rain Seen For Area Today

Lubbock and South Plains residents could look forward to partly cloudy weather with scattered thundershowers today, following a weekend of heavy downpours and hail which brought rain to crops in several areas but destruction in others.

The Weather bureau said at mid-night that the warm temperatures of the past two days would continue today but that some relief could be expected with thundershowers in scattered areas. The top reading for Monday was a sultry 92 degrees.

Meanwhile, reports continued to come in of hail damage over the area.

Hail Causes Damage

Hail wiped out approximately 1,250 acres of cotton and grain in the northwest part of Lynn county late Saturday afternoon and farm buildings and homes in the vicinity were damaged by a heavy windstorm, reports from the section revealed Monday. The hail struck on the heels of a heavy dust storm and then a heavy downpour of rain followed the hail.

Farmers in the Idalou and Lorenzo section also counted thousands of acres of cotton damaged in a late Saturday afternoon hail storm.

Sunday afternoon, crops on a two-mile strip of land west of Levelland were reported damaged by hail. A Pettit resident describ-

WRANGLE ENDS

Texans Vote To Support Laney

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

PHILADELPHIA, July 12—The Texas delegation tonight voted to back the presidential candidacy of Gov. Ben Laney of Arkansas so long as it is within the framework of the Democratic party.

It reached this decision after a six-hour wrangle over whether or not its action would be a repudiation of its instructions not to bolt the party.

Gov. Laney in a dramatic appearance before the stormy Texas caucus told the delegates he would not vote for Mr. Truman if he is the nominee.

Jester Opposes Move

A test vote on the Laney proposition showed 33 delegates favoring it and 21 opposing it. The final vote on supporting Laney was by voice.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester, delegation chairman, and other members of the Jester faction, opposed the proposition to support Laney.

Adoption of the resolution backing Laney means the Texans will support the Arkansas governor so long as he does not bolt the party.

The proposition was offered as a "complimentary vote" after Laney had appealed to the Texans to draw upon their historic courage to help him fight the national pary leadership which he said "has been figuring that the southern revolt would crumble."

"If the principle is worthwhile, let's go," Laney cried. "If it isn't, let's forget it."

Daniel Supports Laney

Attorney General Price Daniel of Texas appealed for support of the Laney resolution with these words:

"We are bound to support the Democratic nominee but let's give a complimentary vote to a spunky little guy like Laney. After that, we can support the party nominee. Vote one vote for principle and the rest for party loyalty."

A Texas caucus earlier in the day recessed for an hour after a long, angry argument over two proposed resolutions bearing on whom the Texans would support for the presidential nomination.

"I believe in keeping pledges and instructions," Gov. Jester said in casting his vote against Laney. "We agree with him on most things but we are bound by the instructions of our convention."

Texas Group Split

The action left the Texas delegation badly split. It is bound to cast its 50 votes as a unit. Delegation leaders noted that the delegation could

Harrison Negroes File Election Suit

SHERMAN, July 12. (AP)—The U. S. district court was asked today to enjoin certain defendants from denying negroes the right to vote in the Democratic primaries.

The suit was filed by a group of Harrison county negroes against E. A. Coleman and others, election judges and the executive committeemen of the Citizens party.

They asked a permanent injunction and $5,000 damages. The petition stated the state primary in Texas is "the only election for any meaningful choice" of U. S. senator and congressman. Judge Randolph Bryant set hearing for 11 a. m. July 22.

Frances Perkins Says Demos Have No FDR To Offer Now

CONVENTION HALL, Philadelphia, July 12. (AP)—Frances Perkins said tonight that lots of Americans would like another Franklin D. Roosevelt for President "but we have to face life as it is."

"There is no duplicate in this, or any other party," the former secretary of labor in late President Roosevelt's cabinet said in a speech prepared for the Democratic national convention.

"We here will hold him and what he did in grateful memory —grateful that this party was able to produce and give to the nation and the world the man who was needed at the time when he was needed," she added.

There still live many who "will strive in the same spirit . . . the same direction" as Roosevelt, Miss Perkins who is Mrs. Paul Wilson in private life, said, and "two of these men will be nominated in this convention."

She called for a presidential election campaign this year "without mud-slinging."

Demo Chiefs Swing Behind Kentuckian

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

CONVENTION Hall, Philadelphia, July 12 — Sen. Alben Barkley's bid for the Democratic vice presidential nomination received prolonged and enthusiastic support tonight near the end of a torrid day of doubt and denials within party ranks.

The 70-year-old Kentuckian was embraced by Jimmy Roosevelt, Sen. Tom Connally and other Democratic brass in the midst of a 20 minute demonstration that followed his jowl-quivering keynote speech denouncing all things GOP.

Banners flying, the long-silent and frankly pessimistic Democratic delegates swarmed up and down the aisles in a show of pro-Barkley unity which was in sharp contrast to the operations behind closed and open doors downtown today.

Douglas Is Opposed

The day had produced, among other things:

1. The decision of Gov. Ben Laney of Arkansas to run against President Truman and to bolt the Democratic party and lead a rump session at Birmingham, Ala., if Truman gains the nomination;

2. The veto of Truman's favorite for the vice presidency, Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, by such Democratic leaders as Jim Farley, Frank Hague, Ed Kelly and Jake Arvey;

3. The determined efforts of Sen Joseph O'Mahoney, of Wyoming, to gain a place on the ticket which President Truman is held certain to head.

Laney Threatens Bolt

Laney made his position known in a speech to the 50-vote Texas delegation, which promptly endorsed him as their man "as long as his candidacy is in the framework of the Democratic party."

Even as Barkley strode to the speakers rostrum at convention hall, Laney told the Texans:

"I'd like to accept the nominee of this convention, I'd like to. I'm going to to tell you this—I am not going to vote the Republican ticket. If Harry S. Truman is the nominee of the Democratic party

Fight Seen On Demo Platform

PHILADELPHIA, July 12 (AP)—A first draft of the 1948 Democratic platform today was reported to pledge repeal of the Taft-Hartley law. It also was said to contain a racial plank that doesn't promise any specific civil rights laws.

Labor union people at the Democratic convention were pleased at the widespread reports of the Taft-Hartley pledge in a highly tentative platform draft.

Neither southerners nor northerners seemed pleased with the civil rights plank, which was said to be about as general as the plank of four years ago. And this hot question remained:

Changes Possible

Will the Democrats parade their differences in a bitter convention debate on the race issue—or will they settle them "out of court?"

Chauncey Sparks, former Alabama governor, was one of the first to comment on the reported civil rights plank. "It don't suit," he declared.

All platform language so far is subject to many changes before the first draft, besides dealing with the labor law and civil rights, included:

1. Support for sending U. S. arms to Israel "subject only to the decision of the United Nations."

2. An anti-inflation program which blames the Republicans for high prices.

STATE DEPARTMENT LAUNCHES RADIO ATTACK

President Is Informed Yugoslavia Will Remain Communist Despite Nation's Break With Russia

By GEORGE DURNO
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 12—President Truman was reliably informed today that Yugoslavia will remain Communist despite its rift with Russia. The State department asserted Moscow had "created a state so much in its own image" it cannot control it.

Cavendish Cannon, U. S. ambassador who returned from Belgrade a few days ago to report personally on the Yugoslavian situation, conferred lengthily with Mr. Truman.

Cannon would not comment to newsmen on the conference, except to declare Yugoslavia would not abandon Communism.

At about the same time, the State department's "Voice of America" overseas radio broadcast said the Russians now "could neither penetrate nor control" their Yugoslavian frankenstein—"so they denounced it."

The "voice" broadcast, beamed into Yugoslavia and other countries behind the "iron curtain," was titled "The Pot and the Kettle." Declared the "voice:"

"The spectacle of the Communist leaders of Russia and its satellites girding themselves to do battle in the name of democracy, free criticism, and free elections, pointing the finger of shame at Tito (Yugoslavian dictator) for behaving like an autocrat, accusing him of turning his party into a 'Turkish terroristic regime,' has comic overtones despite the serious nature of the questions concerned."

The broadcast dwelt on objections of the Moscow-directed Cominform to Tito's failure to permit "inter-party democracy" and a true electoral principle within Yugoslav boundaries. The commentator said:

Marine Reserve Forces Begin Extensive Postwar Maneuvers

By HARRY McCARTHY
INS Staff Correspondent

CHERRY POINT, N. C., July 12 — "Weekend warriors" set Cherry Point's Marine Air station into wartime tempo today as 2,000 reserve officers and men began the first day of a two-week training program.

The reserves began their biggest postwar maneuvers at 4:30 a.m. CST today, when the first groups of fighters roared over Onslow beach in a simulated strike.

Before the day was over, nearly all of the 185 Corsair fighters had unfolded their wings and thundered into the air.

Ground Forces Camped

All this is part of the first chapter of the Marine corps largest reserve preparedness program. Four battalions of ground forces are on the scene at nearby Camp Lejune. More are scheduled to arrive for the 14-day training schedules all summer.

Before the program ends in October, 22,000 ground men will have "fought" over the two Carolina bases.

For their part, the Marine pilots took off today on "combat patrols" gunnery strikes and rocket firing at Cherry Point's range. Each of the Corsairs roaring across the target carried four of the deadly rockets.

Squadrons were brought to Cherry Point over the weekend in the Marine Corps' fastest mobilization in history. The pilots came from Norfolk, Va., Columbus, O., Grosse Ile, Mich., Atlanta, Ga., and Will Grove, Pa.

Both pilots and ground forces wing into the biggest part of the maneuver next Monday, when all the organized reserves of eastern air units will fly cover for the rutted Onslow beach in a full scale landing.

"Many's the night I'd get up and pace the floor with terrific gas pains and a bloated stomach," continues Mr. Louthan. "I tried lots of medicines but none of them did me any real good. I also had to take strong laxatives because of severe constipation. And on top of everything else, I had a terribly logy, tired-out feeling most of the time.

"How glad I am that I learned about Retonga when I did. For the prompt relief it brought me has made me feel like a different man. I'm not troubled at all with those griping gas pains any more. I sleep like a baby all night long and my constipation is relieved. And, thank goodness, I've got plenty of pep and vigor again. Retonga is great. It sure did the trick for me."

Demo Convention Given One-Act Drama Of High Prices; GOP Congress Is Blamed

PHILADELPHIA, July 12. (INS) —Mrs. India Edwards presented a one-woman, one-act drama at the Democratic convention tonight—and the "villains" were the Republican party and high prices.

The plump, brown-eyed executive director of the Democratic National committee women's division used a big box, a balloon, a heavily-loaded shopping bag, and a little girl as "props" in her performance.

Mindful of the television audience, Mrs. Edwards played to the hilt her role of housewife and mother, tilting a gallant lance at the inflation bugaboo she blamed on the GOP.

Price Flew Up

With appropriate gestures, she explained that the lid on the box was "like the lid the Democrats kept on prices." She went on:

"But the Republicans were the henchmen of big business—they became the willing accomplices of the lobbyists who swarmed over Washington throwing big expensive parties."

Mrs. Edwards loosened the strings on the box and said that was the way the GOP loosened price controls. Out popped a fat balloon, and Mrs. Edwards said:

"You see what happened when the lid on prices was lifted . . . Prices flew up—sky high."

But there was a long string on the balloon and, using it, Mrs. Edwards demonstrated how "the Republicans could have pulled prices back into line."

GOP Solons Assailed

She observed that when President Truman was blessed with a Democratic Congress "a man could support his family and save something." But now, Mrs. Edwards said, "the poor are getting poorer . . . the rich getting richer."

Next, the lady, displaying a shopping bag and its contents, announced the results of her last-minute research on "actual food prices."

She dug out a pound of round steak and said the price of same has almost tripled in the last two years—and twitted Sens. Wherry of Nebraska and Taft of Ohio, both Republicans, for "selling the American people down the river" by killing OPA.

Mrs. Edwards also exhibited a bottle of milk, and other items from her market bag, and suggested that New York voters purge Rep. Taber of the Empire state for his part in the death of OPA.

Five-year-old Sally Zimmerman of Philadelphia then got into the act. Mrs. Edwards pointed to Sally's shoes and observed that they cost $4.75 in 1946 but sell for $6 now.

Sally's dress, slip, and even her little panties (59 cents two years ago, 69 cents now) came in for attention.

Mrs. Edwards said she'd like to ask the voters a question they've heard before — "Had enough?" She answered:

Sure, we've had enough of Republican high prices.

"Our President Truman has clearly shown where he stands on the important issue of inflation. He has asked not once but many times for stand-by price controls to bring down the cost of living."

Sagebrush Eradication Tests Being Run On Dalhart Land

DALHART, July 12 (AP)—An experiment in sagebrush eradication is being run on 6,000 acres of pasture land in the Dalhart area. The brush is attacked with the chemical weed killer 2, 4-D, sprayed by airplane.

The U. S. southern great plains field station, Woodward, Okla., has been experimenting with sagebrush eradication since 1937. Comparative tests showed — according to Dick Peck, head of the soil conservation service office in Dalhart — that the pastures on which the brush had been eradicated produced 80 per cent more beef per acre than the untreated pastures. The net dollars and cents gain on the sprayed pastures, he said, was estimated at $5.05 per acre.

Allies Build Strength As Break In Berlin Deadlock Is Expected

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

The Allies are continuing to build up their front against Soviet expansion in Berlin amid a strong air of expectancy that some sort of a break in the deadlock is about due.

London dispatches refer to the "critical" week-end just passed, and to the fateful week ahead, and Berlin correspondents report speculation that a Russian reply to Allied demands is in the offing.

U. S. Officials Sit Tight

United States officials, meanwhile, are sitting tight, professing a complete lack of foreknowledge of what comes next.

Russian propaganda, at first directed toward ouster of the Allies, now apparently is directed more toward producing another four-power conference on all Germany. The firm determination of the Allies not to retreat may have had its effect.

The general feeling, however, seems to be that Russia will refuse to lift the blockade prior to a four-power conference, presumably on the foreign minister level. The western powers have no stomach for more than that.

The United States is willing to talk when the blockade is lifted, but only on the same old low-level basis. Our contention is that the control council for all Germany and the kommandatura for Berlin both stem back to the Potsdam agreements and that their problems are separate. If the all-German problems have an impact on the administration of Berlin it is Russia's fault for extending them, we say, adding that we intend to stay regardless.

Allies Face Hard Decision

This brings the Allies flatly up against the question of what to do if Russia remains adamant.

One step, of course, will be to bring the fight to the United Nations. But this would only produce more propaganda, without practical effect.

The practical situation is that the Allies, while putting up a bold front, know that they cannot supply Berlin by air when confronted by winter flying weather and winter demands for coal.

Allied maintenance of military forces in Berlin then would mean unconscionable hardship for the population, regardless of whose fault it is.

Russia, as the instigator of the situation, also would be under heavy pressure. The question is, who would be affected the most.

Many observers already are wondering how long the Allies can ignore Russia's demand for renewed negotiations, no matter how much her motives are suspected. If Russia continues the blockade the question of low-level or high-level negotiations will appear more and more academic. If Germans begin to starve by the thousands, if penumonia begins to stalk through heatless and lightless dwellings, and if the already-failing productivity of the western sector becomes a complete shutdown, it seems almost certain that the Allies will have to negotiate, for the record if for nothing else.

Six hundred years before the birth of Christ The Book of Job spoke of an evil that "consumeth, as a garment that is moth eaten."

National Guard Unit Planned For Lamesa

LAMESA, July 12 (Special) — Plans were launched here today for the formation in Lamesa of an active National Guard company and the eventual construction of a permanent armory costing in the neighborhood of $50,000.

Col. E. P. Whitney of the adjutant general's staff met here with local national guard leaders and preliminary steps toward the formation of the unit were outlined.

The unit would be composed of mechanized cavalry, and would consist of six officers and 151 enlisted men. Requirements for the organization, which would bring an annual total of about $5,000 in drill pay to the area, include 25 per cent of officer strength and 10 per cent of enlisted strength.

The unit, when and if organized, will be known as Troop C, 124th cavalry of the National Guard of Texas.

An effort will be made to secure about 20 acres of land near Lamesa where a permanent armory would be erected. Present plans call for the rental of a building on the fair grounds which would be used by the unit until the construction of the Armory.

Two Persons Die In San Antonio Crash

SAN ANTONIO, July 12 (AP) — A dental chart and a crankshaft today identified the pilot of an airplane which crashed into an apartment house here and burst into flames, killing the flier and an elderly woman.

Air Force officials identified the charred body of the pilot as that of Aviation Cadet William N. White, 21, of Kansas City, Mo. Identification was made through the dental chart by Capt. A. R. Gloyeck, dental surgeon at Randolph Air Force base. White was a cadet at the base.

Numbers on the crankshaft and other findings in the plane identified it positively as a Randolph Air Force base AT-6 trainer plane.

Randolph officials said that the flight was unauthorized.

The single-engine plane plunged into the frame house early yesterday. The apartment house and two nearby dwellings were engulfed by burning gasoline.

The woman who was killed was Miss Ethel Hanes, 61, occupant of the apartment house.

Reading Of Carole Landis' Will Postponed Until Today

HOLLYWOOD, July 12 (INS)— The reading of Carole Landis' will was postponed today because some of the persons concerned were not available.

The dead actress' attorney, Jerry Giesler, said the reading may take place tomorrow at her Brentwood home.

The value of the estate has not been determined, but it was disclosed that one item will be about $30,000 from the star's estranged husband, Horace Schmidlapp, New York theatrical producer.

Shortly before the actress' death a property settlement involving that sum was reached. Although Miss Landis ended her life with sleeping pills before she signed the agreement, Schmidlapp has agreed that the settlement should stand.

HASTY COBBLER

THIS recipe for hasty cobbler, from Miss Clara Pratt's files is especially good during the days when you want to spend as short a time as possible in the kitchen. It doesn't require shortening and the dough does not have to be rolled.

One cup flour, one cup sugar, one cup milk, one teaspoon baking powder, one fourth to one-half teaspoon salt, two to four tablespoons butter.

Mix and put in well-greased cobbler pan. Spoon one quart of fruit of your choice over and bake in 250 degree oven for about thirty minutes. As it bakes, the dough mixture bubbles up through the fruit and forms a crust.

QUIZ PROGRAMS

PEOPLE who answer questions—or who don't answer them—on radio quiz programs currently are receiving the scorn usually heaped on traitors, spies and political opponents. When an inane answer is given to the question "What's the name of that song?" The laughter in the studio audience and in home audiences about the country is as loud and long as a 21 gun salute.

But the housewife who opines Sinclair Lewis wrote "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and the insurance man who identifies Jesse James as a former government official aren't as dumb as they sound to the naked ear. They are average citizens in the middle of a nightmare.

IT'S easy to sit in front of a radio in the living room and sneer. We laugh until our sides ache when we hear some one fluff a question, but at the same time we are dreaming about how easy it would be to pick up a 17 jewel lawn mower or a mink coat, a helicopter or a five-room completely furnished house simply by answering an easy query.

This disease of wanting to get something for nothing seems to be an affliction common to many Americans. They are greedy and the questions appear easy but when they get up on the platform and have the mike thrust under their nose, their minds seem to freeze over. Indeed these quiz shows have shown the Average American to be a tongue-tied goon who flounders hopelessly if asked any question other than his name and his home town. People who are called up in front of the microphone do not represent a fair sampling of Americans; most of them don't even represent themselves.

BUYING YULE GIFTS

DO YOU remember last Christmas when so many of you complained about the rush of the season and how there wasn't enough time to buy what you wanted and things were gone before you got around to seeing about them? Well, many of you told the Woman's Angle you were going to buy early this year; perhaps around July or August.

We'd like to remind you that if you are still in that frame of mind that this is the month of July. Furthermore the sales are in progress and you might find a bargain or so if you are thus inclined.

By the way, we don't want anyone to suggest that the women who "just love a bargain" were not out in solid numbers Monday. Although we did not join them in the stores, we were swept along down the street in a wave of them.

OBSERVATION

WHEN District Judge John A. Rawlins of Dallas was in the office not long ago; he sat in a chair that was sadly in need of dusting. When he arose a film of dust clung to his summer suit and one of the reporters apologetically gave him a brush off (we mean the dust, not the judge.)

"That's all right," the handsome, blue-eyed white-haired man who is a candidate for associate justice of the Texas Supreme Court said, "if I run this race without getting any more dirt on me than this little bit, I'll be a lucky man."

First Contributions Made To Braille Book

A total of $5.10 in contributions to the fund to buy Braille editions of books for 13-year-old blind Charles Ray Isbell of 418 Ave. C was received Monday in the Avalanch-Journal editorial department, but the fund was still far short of approximately $100 needed for Braille editions he has expressed a wish for.

Braille editions cost more than editions in usual print. He expressed wish for a dictionary, a pocket edition of which in Braille would cost $10; for one or all of the four books in the "Our World and Ourselves Series," total cost of which would be $80; and for a Concordance, cost of which had not been learned but which would bring the total probably in neighborhood of $100, without shipping costs.

Radio-Record Player Given

Mrs. R. Q. Stubbs of Lubbock route 6 gave $5 to the fund and someone visiting the Avalanche-Journal editorial department dropped 10 cents in the box for donations.

Contributions to the fund may be mailed to Mrs. Opal Dixon, Avalanche-Journal.

W. C. Cole, manager of the Texas Technological college book store, obtained for the boy a copy of the general catalog of Braille publications and appliances from the American Printing House for the Blind, from which prices were obtained.

The blind boy was happily playing his new combination radio and record player Monday afternoon, after a woman anonymously presented it to him that afternoon according to her previous telephoned promise. She also gave him several records and three other persons delivered records to him. An additional offer of a record player was made, but he informed the caller he already had one. He has received about 12 or more offers of record players and has received an estimated 50 to 60 calls since Friday afternoon from persons offering gifts or expressing interest.

Old U. S. Bomber Is Held By Canadians

HALIFAX, Nova Scotia, July 12 (AP)—Canadian officials refused to release a converted Flying Fortress today although the nine-man crew denied reports the plane was bound for Palestine and promised to return to the United States if cleared for flight.

Royal Canadian Air Force officials and customs men began an inquiry into the legal status of the war surplus B-17, which made an emergency landing at Dartmouth airport last night. The crewmen said they had decided to return to New York and would take off for the Westchester county airport later today if they were granted permission.

I. R. Shindler of New York, pilot of the four-engined plane, said it was owned by the Overseas Training company and that it was on a "routine training flight" when it ran into trouble over Halifax. He denied reports that the plane was bound for Palestine.

"We were out on a navigational training flight and got caught in some bad weather," Shindler said.

The old bomber, carrying spare aircraft parts, had taken off from the Westchester county airport four hours before it made the forced landing at Dartmouth airport.

'Ike' Writes Texas Housewife Of Determination Not To Run

ALICE, July 12 (AP)—Another refusal by Gen. Dwight Eisenhower to be considered as a presidential candidate was made public here today by Mrs. O. H. Tolson, Alice housewife.

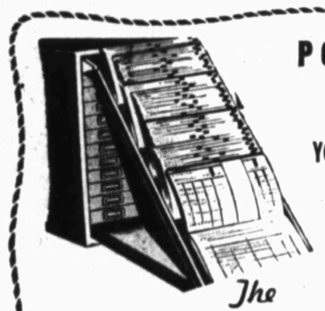

Mrs. Tolson, who had written Eisenhower, president of Columbia university, asking him to seek the Democratic nomination, said she received his reply three days before his letter to Senator Claude Pepper of Florida convinced his adherents that he would not run.

"I am flattered by the implications of your letter," the reply to Mrs. Tolson said, in part.

"I do hope you realize that my determination to abstain for partisan struggle has been adopted only after careful reflection and study. It was based upon what I believe to be the best interests of our country.

"I have felt that as a part of one of the nation's greatest and most influential universities I could perform a useful service in helping spread understanding of today's critical issues; to cherish and defend our freedoms and our rights; to discharge our obligations to ourselves and others. These are the things to which I wish to devote myself in the belief that through this fundamentally simple approach, our American future of freedom will be assured."

Polio Taking Heavier Toll Of Adults, World Survey Shows

By PAUL F. ELLIS
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, July 12.—Infantile paralysis is striking down more teen agers than adults and fewer infants, a world-wide survey of the disease showed today.

The report came from Dr. Albert B. Sabin, professor of research pediatrics, University of Cincinnati, at the opening of the first international poliomyelitis conference here.

European Cities Hit

He disclosed that the trend toward the older groups is stronger in such cities of Copenhagen, Berlin and London, but that the age group affected by the disease also is on the increase in the United States.

"The fact that 53 per cent of the 228 paralytic cases in Copenhagen in 1944 occurred in individuals over 15 pears of age is perhaps an indication of what may be expected elsewhere in due time," he told the conference.

The conference, sponsored by the National Foundation for Infantile paralysis, is being attended by polio experts from many foreign countries.

Sabin reported that in 1916, 3.7 per cent of the polio victims in cities in the United States were over 12. Today, 25 per cent are over 15, he said.

"One inescapable fact is that, regardless of how you analyze it, poliomyelitis is becoming less and less infantile in many parts of the world," he said.

Various Cases Studied

Tracing a patern of polio epidemics, notably in Europe and the United States, Dr. Sabin showed that the trends of the disease noted years ago in the Scandinavian countries may be the future trends in the United States.

Sabin said there were several theories why the age group was rising.

One, he said, may be the result of latent immunity which followed some mild, unnoticed contact with the disease in early life. Another theory, he said, might be the rising of hygenic standards in certain countries. It has been known that polio strikes mostly in communities where citizens are better fed and live a more hygienic life. Science has been unable to explain the phenomenon.

He cited another theory to account for changes that have occured in the incidence, age selection and severity of polio in certain areas in the past 50 years. It suggests, he said, that the changes may be due to some subtle influence — water, soil, or diet — which resulted in differences in constitutional resistance among people of various regions with different environments and ways of life.

Muleshoe Bean Crop Prospects Are Reported To Be 'Good'

MULESHOE, July 12 (Special)—Bean growers in the Muleshoe area planted approximately 100 more acres of the crop this year than last, and prospects for this year's crop look very good, officials of Muleshoe Canning company, which has contracted for the crop in this vicinity, have announced.

The company has a total of 342 acres under contract, and processing of the crop is scheduled to begin within the next week.

Three hundred acres of the crop has been reported to be in "excellent" condition, while the remaining acreage is termed "fair."

Authorities have estimated that sufficient labor will be available to harvest the crop, but additional workers will probably be needed to process it in the canning factory.

Three Immigrants Are Held In Probe Of Gold Smuggling

EDINBURG, July 12 (U.P.)—Three immigrants, two of them aliens, were arraigned before a U. S. commissioner today on charges of smuggling gold into this country from Mexico.

Charles Kurt Wajnryb, 23, Felix Klaberg, 36, and Jacques Bodmen, 28, told their story after customs officials had brought high ranking agents to the lower Rio Grande valley to join secret service agents in questioning the trio.

The three men, questioned as to how 26 pounds of gold bullion and Mexican gold 50-peso pieces came into their possession, said they had been in Mexico on business and pleasure trips.

Innocence Is Claimed

They met in Monterrey and drove back to the United States together in Klaberg's car, they said. At the International bridge at Hidalgo, Tex., Saturday night, U. S. customs officers spotted gold filings and quickly found the gold, concealed in a butane tank.

Klaberg said he had taken his car from a garage in Monterrey and didn't know there was gold in it.

Bodmen, punctuating his statement with emphatic gestures and tears, said "I didn't know anything about the gold. I wish they'd tell me. I always been a good citizen. I got a G. I. loan on my business.. I have three American children. I want to go home."

Wajnrby said, "I never was so surprised in my life as when they found gold in the car.

Each of the three said he was from New York, but customs and secret service agents were unable to learn their street addresses.

Klaberg originally was from Tel Aviv, Palestine, and is not a U. S. citizen. Bodmen is a naturalized citizen from Vienna, Austria, and Wajnryb came from Weisbaden, Germany, a year ago and has applied for citizenship papers.

Commissioner J. C. Hall set bond at $7,500 for Klaberg and $3,500 for the other two. Klaberg said he'd try to arrange bond wtn friends in New York.

Senator Parrish To Present Museum With Collection Of Early Day Area Photographs

The West Texas Museum on the Texas Tech campus will be presented 12 photos of early day West Texas scenes and events within the next few days by State Senator Sterling Parrish.

The pictures, collected by Gen. W. D. Cope, former adjutant general of the Texas Rangers who is writing a history of the Texas Rangers, contain one scene of Lubbock, made in 1890 before the townsite was laid out.

Other pictures in the collection include a scene of Plainview in 1890 and a picture of the first murder trial being conducted in Hale county in 1892. Also in the group are pictures made in the '90's at Amarillo, Canyon, ranch scenes and other points.

Senator Parrish introduced a bill in the legislature in 1945 calling for compilation of the history of the Texas Rangers and Gen. Cope, who was commissioned to write the history, has been at work on it ever since. He reported that he is nearly finished with the assignment. He recently gave Senator Parrish copies of the pictures.

Abilene Airman Is Killed In Food Plane Crash In Germany

ABILENE, July 12 (AP)—First Lt. Leland V. Williams, 28, of Abilene was one of three Americans killed July 8 when a transport plane crashed near Frankfurt, Germany, on a food run to Berlin.

Williams was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Williams of Abilene. He was graduated from the Fort Worth Air Force base as a bomber pilot Oct. 7, 1843, and had been overseas 28 months. He was a graduate of Abilene High school.

SENATOR TO STUMP OHIO

Strategy Talks Scheduled By Dewey And Taft In New York

WASHINGTON, July 12. (INS)—Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) said today he will confer with Gov. Dewey, Republican presidential nominee, tomorrow in New York.

Taft declined to tell newsmen what the two leaders will discuss but it was assumed that GOP campaign strategy and legislative issues will be high on their list of topics.

The senator planned to leave Washington tonight for New Haven before meeting tomorrow with Dewey. He is en route to his summer home at Murray Bay, Quebec, for a six weeks' vacation.

GOP Win Seen

The Ohioan confidently predicted that Republicans will win Senate seats in six doubtful states to insure their complete control of Congress in the next session.

He said GOP candidates will unseat Democrats in New Mexico, Montana, Rhode Island, Colorado, and retain control in Oklahoma and Kentucky.

Taft reiterated that he would fill any campaign assignment. He said he would stump Ohio for the GOP national ticket and the governorship. He added, however, that "outside of that nothing has been determined yet."

The senator also declared that his role in the new Congress would be decided after the November elections. However, he doubted that any change in congressional leadership would result from the "stop Dewey" drive at the Republican national convention in Philadelphia.

Heroine Of Philippines Is Confined In U.S. Leprosarium

CARVILLE, La., July 12 (U.P.)—A heroine of the Philippine resistance, Mrs. Josefina Guerrero, today was confined to the infirmary at the national leprosarium here, after a 12,000 mile trip in search of medical aid.

The 30-year-old woman, weighing only 100 pounds, was flown to New Orleans immediately after her arrival by sea at San Francisco. Hospital authorities said she was tired and "shaken up" by the long journey.

Mrs. Guerrero won the U. S. Medal of Freedom, highest award given to civilians, for her valiant work in spying on Japanese and in aiding the escapes of American prisoners in the islands.

She took advantage of her leprosy (Hansen's disease) to go back and forth through enemy lines to smuggle food and information to the Americans.

In Carville, she will be given the most modern treatment for the age-old disease. Authorities would not comment on the chances for a cure until they have been able to give full study to her case.

Calcium and riboflavin are the two nutrients most often left out in American diets.

Pay Boost Proposed By French Premier

PARIS, July 12. (AP)—Premier Robert Schuman proposes to grant about $100,000,000 in wage raises to more than 2,000 different classifications of French government employes who either are striking now or are about to strike for more pay.

It is understood that the raises in some cases will be as much as 50 per cent. Schuman has asked leaders of the Communist-dominated General Confederation of Labor (GGIL) and non-Communist workers to give him until Tuesday to work out the plan.

60,000 Have Struck

Already 60,000 workers in the finance ministry have struck. Their action has created a cigaret shortage, endangered the wine industry, halted tax and pension payments and tied up heavy baggage coming through customs.

All other government employes are threatening to strike and hamstring the country unless wages are raised.

Speaking in Lille yesterday Schuman asked the French people to be patient until the Marshall plan gets under way. He said the United States will be giving France $1,100,000,000 a year and declared:

"The Marshall plan is the greatest enterprise in history for the solidarity of humanity."

Catholic Nuns To Wear Regular Dress While Teaching School

BISMARCK, N. D., July 12 (U.P.)—Catholic nuns will wear the "new look" next fall so they can continue to teach in public schools despite a law designed to oust them.

The law approved by the electorate in the June 29 primary election, prohibits teachers from wearing religious dress in public schools.

Two North Dakota bishops in a joint statement today advised nuns who have been teaching in some rural schools that there will be no objection to their dispensing with the traditional garb in favor of "respectable" non-religious dress.

The statement was issued by the most Rev. Vincent J. Ryan of Bismarck and the most Rev. Leo F. Dworschak, auxiliary Bishop of Fargo.

Ryan said sponsors of the new law had solicited support for it on grounds it would keep Catholic sisters from teaching in public schools. But, he said he had been informed by competent legal counsel that no law can discriminate against any teacher because of religious membership or belief.

Lobbying Charges Denied By Four Men

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP) — Pleas of innocence were made today by four men, including the State Agricultural commissioners of Texas and Georgia, charged with violating the federal lobbying act.

The defendants are Texas Agricultural Commissioner James E. McDonald of Austin, Georgia agricultural commissioner Tom Linder of Atlanta; Ralph W. Moore of Granger, Tex., and Washington, and Robert M. Harriss, New York commodity broker.

Similar pleas were entered on behalf of the National Farm committee and the Farm Commissioners council.

Federal District Justice Bolitha J. Laws tentatively set Nov. 15 for trial of the group on charges they lobbied in Congress for higher commodity prices but failed to comply with the law requiring registration of lobbyists and periodical reports of expenditures.

The Justice department, which obtained the indictment last month, accused the four individuals of having a financial interest in keeping prices up through trading accounts in the commodity markets.

Moore is secretary of the National Farm committee. Linder and McDonald are the principal officers of the Farm Commissioners council, which maintains headquarters here.

Shakespeare Had Words To Paint Convention Picture

By ED CREAGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

PHILADELPHIA, July 12 —Now, if you will just step up in front of the television cameras, sir—you with the funny little beard and the quaint old ruff around your neck . . . .

Say, you look like—aren't you Bill Shakespeare, the playwright? Well, don't they hire the darndest people to cover these conventions! I thought you were dead.

"But in that sleep of death, what dreams come

"When we have shuffled off this mortal coil . . . ."

Ike Is "Esteemed"

Whaddya think, Bill? Looks like they're going to nominate Truman?

"He hath indeed bettered expectation."

Quoting from your own plays, huh? Well, don't mind slipping in a plug for a guy like you. Whaddya think of Eisenhower, Bill?

"A man of sovereign parts he is esteemed;

"Well fitted in arts, glorious in arms."

Sure, but he won't run. That last statement of his . . . .

"Here are a few of the unpleasant's words

"That ever blotted paper!"

An Upright Judge

There's talk of Bill Douglas for vice-president. Any opinion of that, Mr. Shakespeare?

"An upright judge! A learned judge!"

Bill, what's your candid opinion of the average political orator?

"He draweth out the thread of his verbosity

"Finer than the staple of his argument."

And of party platforms—

"Bait the hook well. The fish will bite."

Do you think the Democrats are going to win in November?

"If you can look into the seeds of time

"And say which grain will grow, and which will not—"

Bill, some of the delegates are predicting that Mr. Truman will carry all 48 states. What do you think?

"As I may have remarked in 'King Henry IV':

"'Thy wish was father, Harry, to that thought!'"

Two quarts of water and two quarts of alcohol make only three and four-fifths quarts, when mixed.

Philadelphia Negro Executed For Gun Slaying Of Woman

BELLEFONTE, Pa., July 12. (AP)—A 48-year-old Philadelphia negro died in the electric chair at Rockview prison today for the "scared-to-death" killing of Ella Wiggins.

Grant Holley showed no emotion as he walked from the death cell. Asked if he had anything to say, Holley shook his head in the negative.

He was convicted of shooting the 27-year-old woman to death in a taproom July 4, 1946. His attorneys contended Holley was drunk on the night of the shooting and did not mean to kill the woman.

Attorney James C. Welch said Holley heard someone in the taproom say "let's get that nigger," and that he then started shooting. "He was scared to death," Welch added.

A handful of observers witnessed the execution at 12:31 a. m., EST. None of Holley's relatives appeared and Deputy Warden C. C. Rhoads said the man would be buried in a potter's field grave near the prison if the body is unclaimed.

Eight hours before his death, Holley ate his last meal. It consisted of soup, cold beef, pie and coffee. He refused an offer of stationary to write a letter to relatives or friends.

CONVENTION CALLED 'SHAMBLES'

Author Paints Gloomy Picture Of Democratic Party Session

(EDITOR'S NOTE: One of the nation's foremost men of letters and ideas, Louis Bromfield, predicts in the following exclusive article that a new and genuinely liberal party may emerge from the "utter disintegration" marking the Democratic convention. Bromfield foresees the possibility of "historic developments" from the confusion to which he acidly refers as a "shambles.")

By LOUIS BROMFIELD
Written For INS

PHILADELPHIA, July 12.—The wake has reached that point where the relatives have begun to fight among themselves and tell a lot of home truths.

Behind the scenes the intrigues, the hopeless efforts to "stop Truman," the talk of bargains that could never possibly come off, are still going on, but out in the open a lot of Democrats aren't pretending any more. They're not even showing any grief over the corpse.

Galleries Nearly Empty

At the convention hall the galleries on the opening day were two thirds empty despite a free distribution of seats to hospitalized veterans, school children and anybody who held out his hand. The speeches of Mayor Lawrence of Pittsburgh and Chairman McGrath of the Democratic national committee echoed back and forth in the big hall with the hollow sound of men speaking at the bottom of an empty gas tank.

Phrases like "victory in November" and "the Great Democratic party" followed by feeble cheers which quickly died away, made you feel uncomfortable, as if you were witnessing some kind of obscure incident which you could not escape.

The fact is that the shambles has very nearly reached the limits. Jim Farley's frank and honest statement of disgust over the quarreling and behavior of the various factions was expressed a little differently by May Craig, one of Washington's shrewdest correspondents, when she said this morning, "You know when history is written, Truman will look a lot better in all this than the Democratic party."

GOP Handed Ammunition

Individual Democrats are beginning to ask "how could this happen? Why did it happen?" and in corners they're beginning to face honest home truths, a lot of them for the first time. They're beyond the stage of trying to kid themselves. It's pretty bad when the Democrats themselves furnish the Republicans with volumes of campaign ammunition against the man they are about to nominate. All the Republicans have to say is, "Well, if Harry Truman isn't good enough for the Democratic party, he isn't good enough for the nation!"

In corners for the first time I heard whispers today — whispers almost bitter in character which ran something like this:

"F.D.R is responsible. He cut down everybody who came along so now we haven't got anybody. He invented Henry Wallace who, otherwise, would never have been heard of. He forced Truman on us . . . he . . . "

These aren't very gallant comments considering that most of the politicians here rode gladly enough into office and patronage on the coat-tails of F.D.R. and at the time found that he could do no wrong.

Laughter Is Heard

On the other hand I did hear laughter for the first time this morning on the third floor of the Bellevue Stratford where the Democratic headquarters is located and which has become known as the mortuary.

Among the hushed voices the laughter came as a shock, like hysterical giggling at a funeral. It came from a little knot of the old-line Democrats who are sitting around waiting to pick up the pieces. And they're the ones who are going to have to do the job after the deep southern Democrats the old dealers and the Missouri Pendergast boys have done their worst. The little knot of men looked like a group of ambulance chasers waiting on a bad corner for the first accident.

The Southern Democrats keep muttering but there doesn't seem to be any place for them to go and unless they stage a riot on the floor, they'll fall in line behind the man they have been blackguarding. Leon Henderson, chairman of Americans for Democratic Action, it still rushing about trying to think up combinations to "stop Truman." And Jimmy Roosevelt, perhaps more responsible than any one man for the mischief and intrigues that have ripped the party end to end, has taken to sulking in his hotel room after the most bitter and devastating denunciation by delegates from his own state that any man in such a situation has probably ever received.

The Missouri-Pendergast forces are just going ahead certain of the bitter fruit of their sterile and tragic victory.

Out of all this many come historic developments. It may be that out of the utter disintegration, a new and liberal party, uniting with the better elements of Wallace's frantic Gideonites, may be born.

For a long time we have needed a liberal and a conservative party instead of two parties which are neither one thing nor the other. Such a development would give a lot of people in both parties some place to go where they could be happy.

One of the fantastic facts of this convention is the virtual boycott on it practiced by all the forces of organized labor. Even Truman's veto of the Taft-Hartley act doesn't seem to have brought the boys into camp. But maybe even the boys who called the act "a getting on the Dewey-Warren slave law" aren't willing to back a loser. They too show signs of bandwagon.

It sure is funny some of the things you hear in corners if you just keep your ears clean and open.

Meat Probers Score Houston City Worker

HOUSTON, July 12 (AP)—A recommendation that Dr. E. L. Lepon, city veterinarian in charge of meat inspection, be dismissed from the city health department was made today by J. F. Lakey, who conducted the State Health department investigation of the sale of horse meat for human consumption here.

Gus Dittmar, foreman of the grand jury who released the eight-page report containing seven recommendations, told newspapermen in the presence of other grand jurors that the grand jury concurs with the report "in every respect."

Lakey's report, made to his superior, Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, charged Dr. Lepon had been "derelict in his duties and has not only failed in his duties but has hampered either directly or indirectly the work of those inspectors under his supervision.

The report charged that Dr. Lepon also had interfered with state inspectors "during the past several years."

During the past six weeks the grand jury has heard more than 250 witnesses and last week returned 14 indictments against 11 Houston meat dealers for the sale of horse meat for human consumption and the sale of sulphite-treated meat for human consumption.

Dalhart Man Is Imprisoned In Iced Refrigerator Car

DALHART, July 12 (AP)—City and county officers are investigating the recent four and one-half hour imprisonment of James H. Cook in an iced refrigerator car in the Rock Island yards here.

Cook, an ice dock employe, told Police Chief Floyd Reeves that someone slammed the door of the car shortly after he stepped inside, and said "I've wanted to do this to you for a long time."

He was released four and a half hours later after Jimmy Kemish, a Rock Island fruit inspector heard his pounding on the car walls. Cook was ill from cold and strain, but recovered.

Jam Of Wheat-Loaded Boxcars Continues At Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, July 12 (AP)—The jam of wheat-loaded boxcars continued unabated today as weekend arrivals exceeded unloading operations Saturday and Sunday.

Arrivals from the southwest totaled 2,390 cars. In the same period 2,361 cars were unloaded, leaving the terminal with a backlog of more than 8,000 cars to empty.

An embargo on further shipment here went into effect Friday at midnight, but it did not apply to the grain already consigned or en route here.

R. E. Clark, manager of distribution for the Association of American Railroads, said there were more than 10,000 unloaded cars here or within 100 miles.

"It will be Thursday or Friday before we can expect to break this backlog," he added.

Suicide Verdict Is Returned In Death Of Houston Woman

HOUSTON, July 12 (U.P.)—A suicide verdict was returned today in the death of a pretty brunette, whose body was found last night on the Rice Institute campus.

Justice of the Peace W. C. Ragan said Mrs. Dorothy Barnes Melton, 41, died from a self-inflicted bullet wound through the right temple.

Mrs. Melton's body, clad in a low-necked red cotton dress, was found before 9 p. m. last night by campus nightwatchman Cecil L. Tipton. A .32 caliber automatic pistol was nearby.

The woman's parents told officers she separated from her husband three months ago, but that she had not been despondent. They could give no motive for the shooting.

Death Of Australian Race Track Driver Investigated

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., July 12 (INS)—An investigation was held today into the death of Jimmy McMahon, 35, Australian race track driver, who was killed last night during an exhibition at Carpinteria thunderbowl.

McMahon's midget auto was leading three other cars when it sudenly ran out of control on a curve and crashed into the wall and telescoped into a light pole. He was killed before the horrified eyes of his wife, Betty, who was in the stands.

The Australian, who lived in North Hollywood, was driving a car of his own design at the Carpinteria speedway.

McMahon, believed to be formerly of Sydney, was a veteran of the speedways. He had participated in many races in Australia before he came to America last year.

HOW INSECT-O-LITE WORKS
Insect-o-lites are impregnated with powerful insect-killing crystals which vaporize and are dispersed invisibly through the entire room by the heat given off from an ordinary lamp bulb. JUST SNAP ON THE SWITCH, and Insect-o-lite goes to work in these two important ways:
(1) Insects are attracted by the light, contact the Insect-o-lite and absorb the insect-killing crystals.
(2) Heat from the light vaporizes the crystals and air currents distribute the insecticide to all room surfaces. Even though insects don't contact the Insect-o-lite directly they pick up the crystals from walls and ceiling surfaces.
The length of time required for Insect-o-lite to reach maximum effectiveness depends on how long the light is burned, and the size of the room to be covered.
HOW EFFECTIVE IS INSECT-O-LITE?
Triplett & Barton, nationally known testing laboratory, proved in exhaustive tests that the insect-killing crystals in the Insect-o-lite are disseminated to all room surfaces, and Dr. C. H. Curran of the American Museum of Natural History states, that the crystals thus spread are lethal to insects, yet are harmless to humans and warm blooded animals.
INSECT-O-LITE IS EFFECTIVE AGAINST FLIES, MOSQUITOES, MOTHS, SILVERFISH AND HUNDREDS OF OTHER COMMON FLYING AND CRAWLING INSECT PESTS.

Best, Lawson Nose Rivals In Opener

Two championship flight clashes opened match play in the City Open golf tournament Monday at the Meadowbrook Publinx course, with Melvin Best downing Jack Trammell, two and one, in a feature encounter.

Best was three down on the first six holes, but rallied to even up the tally at the half-way mark. Best then stroked smoothly to a par 71 for the round, two strokes under Trammell's 73.

Dave Lawson nosed by Houston Trammell in the other championship flight play, one up. Lawson took an early lead, but was never able to gain more than a one-hole lead over the determined Trammell. Lawson shot a 75 and Trammell turned in a 76.

Tourney officials announced Monday night that the first three rounds of match play must be completed not later than Sunday night, July 18. Earlier club officials had reported that only two matches would be played this week.

Trophies and prizes worth more than 850 will be awarded by tournament officials.

DISTRICT TEAMS SEEK CROWN

Lubbock Legion A, Morton Will Clash In Meet Opener Tonight

Lubbock's powerful American Legion "A" squad and the smooth-working Morton team will make the first bid for victory in the District 2 Legion junior baseball tournament which opens tonight at Rosenthal field, with the two nines clashing at 6 o'clock in the initial encounter of a twin bill.

The Hub city team coasted to the lead position in the South half of the district pre-tournament title chase, while Morton compiled a five-and-five record to top certified nines in the North division.

In the second tussle of the opening night doubleheader improving Brownfield, a North representative, tangles with the strong Spur team. Spur edged by Slaton for the right to compete in the district meet, with Brownfield getting a close nod over Littlefield. Brownfield and Littlefield were actually tied in the final standings, but Brownfield had won more games against "certified" nines. The nightcap is slated to get underway at 9 o'clock.

Winner of the four-night double elimination tourney will represent District 2 in the Region 1 playoff meet, with the regional champion slated to go to Austin in August for the state finals. All state winners in the nation-wide Legion baseball program will battle for the United States crown.

Lubbock Coach Fred Taylor is expected to start Jackie Martyn, fire-ball lefthander, on the mound against Morton tonight, with veterans of High school and Legion competition scheduled to get other starting assignments. Jack Cook, sturdy catcher, will handle the duties behind the plate, with Jesse Fullerton at first base.

Other starters will probably be Charles Galey, second base; Jack Whitehead or Hulen Fowler, shortstop; Bill Tatum, third; Dorrance Guy, left field; Garnett Reeves, center field; and Jimmy Richards, right field.

Pitchers available for relief duty will be Jim Wilson, Jack McCabe or Fowler.

John King will serve as head official for the tournament, with Red Norman as his assistant.

Admission prices for the meet will be 50 cents for adults, 25 cents for children or $1.50 for an all-tournament ticket, Legion officials have announced.

Texas League Player Is Fined And Suspended For Umpire Abuse

DALLAS, Tex., July 12 (AP) — First baseman John Hernandez of Oklahoma City was suspended indefinitely and fined $100 today by president J. Alvin Gardner of the Texas League for "unwarranted abuse, verbal and physical, upon an umpire."

Hernandez, according to a report from umpire Chester Fowler, shoved umpire Al Atkins yesterday after protesting a called third strike in the first game of a doubleheader between Oklahoma City and Fort Worth at Fort Worth.

Gardner said he was informing vice president Jim Humphries of Oklahoma City, who is with the club; manager Pat Ankenman of Oklahoma City and Hernandez himself by telegram of the suspension.

Sports Study

By Earl Sendday

These hot summer days are better suited for discussions of fishing or baseball problems than on the hunting season which is still several months away, but the alert public relations division of the Remington Arms company has just warned sportsmen that the success or failure of their trips this fall may depend on "contacts" established now. Good hunting places are very scarce over most of the nation, the company warns, and a little planning and groundwork with farmers now will prove of great value on the opening day of the season.

"Every sportsman should insure himself a place to hunt this fall," officials emphasized. "You may have to use a bit of diplomacy, but the effort should create a better relationship between the farmer or land owner and hunters. The reason the farmer is usually rather 'gun-shy' of the sportsman is the attitude taken by many hunters. About the only time the farmer sees them is when they're asking him for permission to hunt on his land or trespassing on it without his permission. This is where the 'city sportsman' makes his mistake."

"One of the best methods in winning the farmer's friendship," officials advise, "is to ask permission to hunt woodchucks or crows on his property. Both are destructive and farmers are always glad to let hunters 'bang away' in an effort to reduce the population of the pests."

A group of Lubbock hunters recently spent several hours debating the question of the speed of game birds—and especially questioning the report that teal can hit a near-100 mile per hour clip. Here are the best figures available on the subject:

Blue-wing teal—89 miles per hour.

Green-wing teal—79 miles per hour.

Canvasback—72 miles per hour.

Quail, prairie chicken, ruffed grouse, mallard, black duck, spoonbill, pintail and wood duck —50 MPH.

Canada geese and brant — 45 MPH.

Dove—40 MPH.

The above statistics are the "normal" ratings for the birds and do not prove the maximum speed they are capable of reaching under unusual circumstances. The big surprise of the chart, at least for an inexperienced nimrod, is the fact that quail hit only 50 miles per hour. After a day of futile walking some hunters would testify under oath that the birds are capable of 150 miles an hour.

Albuquerque Tramples Hubbers, 10-5

Shone Shines On Duke Hill

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., July 12 (Special) — Virgil Richardson's three-run homer in the first inning was not enough here tonight and the Albuquerque Dukes sent the Lubbock Hubbers down to fourth place with a 10-5 trampling of the pennant defenders.

A four-run second inning at Lefty Fred Pollack's expense and a five-run blast off Pollack and Cotton Russell in the fourth sewed up the victory. Neither Lubbock hurler was effective and Manager Jackie Sullivan twirled the final two frames.

Tomorrow night the Hubbers probably will face the hurling of big Virgil Butler, who nearly beat them in Lubbock recently, while Sullivan is expected to pitch Bob Clodfelter at the Dukes.

Hubbers Take Lead

The Hub City crew got off to a good start, Jackie Wilcox doubling and Sullivan walking to open the game. Then Richardson poled his homer of the rightfield fence and things looked good.

But the Dukes soon went ahead. Len Pill opened the second stanza with a single and scored on Dick Dawson's triple to left. Les Mulcahy walked and Frank Shone, who fanned 11 and gave up only two walks, was safe on Wilcox's error, Dawson scoring. Len Attyd sacrificed, advancing both runners and they scored on Frank Okrie's double. Okrie was out at third on the first of two beautiful plays started by Chick Fowler. Fowler heaved to Sullivan and his throw caught Okrie at third.

Dukes Clinch Game

Another run scored in the third on Manager Herschel Martin's triple to right center and Pill's double to right, Fowler and Sullivan collaborating to erase him at third.

And in the fourth, the Dukes put the clinchers on the game. With one out, Attyd triple, bringing on Russell, who got Okrie on an infield grounder for the second out. But Dixon singled to score Attyd and stole second, with Ron Bowen drawing a walk. Martin doubled both runners home and Pill's triple scored Martin. Dawson then singled to plate Pill and the game virtually was over.

Gene Hixson's bunt, Sullivan's triple and Richardson's fly scored the final Hubber runs in the eighth.

Jones, Dawson Pace Yankees To 16-8 Win Over Cardinals

Heavy-hitting by George Jones and Kenneth Dawson paced the Yankees of the Pee-Wee league to a 16-8 victory over the Cards Monday afternoon at Lubbock Boys club. Ray Clark and Raymond Stevens each collected two safeties for the Cards.

In the Junior loop the Jaycees pounded the Methodist Men, 14-3, behind the slugging of Carol Walker. Walker slammed out a triple and a single, but the Methodists' Johnny Carpenter shared the spotlight with three singles in four trips to the plate.

Two games are scheduled this afternoon at the club diamond, with the Tigers battling the Yankees and the American Business club tangling with the Exchange nine.

Altus, Oklahoma, Team Noses Out Legion A Squad, 5 To 4

ALTUS, Okla., July 12 (Special)—Altus' hard-hitting American Legion baseball nine nosed out the Lubbock "A" team, 5-4, in an exhibition tilt there Sunday afternoon.

Dorrance Guy paced the Lubbock crew at the plate, with a single and a double in four trips.

The game was marred by 10 errrors.

AMARILLO, July 12. (Spl)—Bob Crues blasted his 40th home run of the year tonight as the Amarillo Gold Sox swamped the Lamesa Loboes, 22-3.

The Loboes' Stan Grzywacz, who was belted for 19 hits and 16 runs in six and one-third innings, was charged with the loss.

Addington Leading In Junior Golf Play

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 12 (AP)—Seventeen-year-old Don Addington of Houston fired a four under par 67 over the tree-lined fairways of the Brackenridge Park municipal course Monday to lead a field of 154 youthful swingers in the 18-hole qualifying round of the 22nd annual State Junior golf championship.

One of the first to tee off over the 6,400 yard municipal course with its par of 36-35—71, the Houston shotmaker shaved three strokes off par on the outgoing nine and shot a one-under-par 34 coming home that stood up under the day long firing of one of the strongest fields in the history of the event.

Single Runs Insure Victories

Cloverlake, Thomas Win A.S.A. Openers

A pair of Lubbock teams, Cloverlake Dairy and Thomas-Sunbeamers, won initial round games in the A.S.A. softball tournament opening last night at Jumbo Webster Field, Cloverlake turning back Bennett Motors 4-1 and Thomas-Sunbeamers beating the Lubbock Barber College 11-1 in a game halted at the end of six innings.

Bennett Motors got off to an early lead when Lester Pyle, second baseman, slammed a home run over the fence for a 1-0 lead. But that was wiped out in the bottom half of the inning.

Ira Layman walked and Morris was safe on a error, Layman going to third. Layman scored when Whistle Banks grounded out short to first. And Morris tallied on A. J. Collier's double.

The victors picked up single runs in the fourth and sixth to insure the victory.

Score Two In First

The Thomas-Sunbeamers lost no time in winning the game, scoring two runs in the first inning on one hit, a passed ball and two errors.

In the third, the dam broke and four runs came over. James Abbott singled and went to second on Roy Butler's single, both men advancing on a wild throw by the third baseman. Willis James hit an infield ball that the shortstop threw home, when there was no play there, loading the bases. But Butler, on second, ran to third and when he was caught in a hot box, Abbott scored and Butler was safe at third, James moving to second. Reynolds dropped a single into short centerfield scoring Butler and Jackie Neel's ball that went for a fielder's choice scored James.

Doyle Steals Home

The single run for Barber College scored in the fifth when Earl Doyle walked, went to second on a passed ball and to third on Floyd Ashley's infield hit. Ashley stole second and while Zac Henderson argued with the umpire on the play, Doyle stole home.

Tonight Levines will play Colden Light Coffee at 8:30, with Baker - Fleming company of Plainview playing Baldridge Bakery in the nightcap. Both games will be in the championship first round.

The line scores:

BENNETT MOTORS	100 000 0—	1	2 1
CLOVERLAKE	200 101 x—	4	6 2

Brewster and Woodard; Hale and Ray.

BARBER COLLEGE	000 010—	1	3 5

Black Hubbers To Play Kermit Oilers

KERMIT, July 12. (Spl)—The Lubbock Black Hubbers will be entertained here tomorrow night by the Kermit Oilers, a strong, white semi-pro nine with an impressive record.

Lubbock Manager James Roy Lewis probably will start Alexander Johns on the mound, with Jack "Rocking Chair" Brown behind the plate. The visiting manager expressed considerable respect for the Oilers, who have played and beaten several of the leading pro teams.

The Black Hubbers go to Wichita Falls Sunday for a single game with the Wichita Falls Black Spudders, and Lewis has announced plans for a chartered bus "if enough are interested." Providing as many as 25 persons wish to make the trip, Lewis said, the cost would be $6 for the round trip.

Further information regarding the bus trip can be obtained by contacting Lewis at 1823 Ave. B, or by calling 4049 or 2-9083.

Next home contests on tap for the Black Hubbers are a pair of single games scheduled July 25-26 with the Austin Black Pioneers.

Roach Decisions Negro Fighter

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—LaVern Roach of Plainview, Tex., won a unanimous 10-round decision from Aaron Perry of Washington tonight before 4,000 fans. Roach weighed 157, Perry 149.

After he was slowed in the early rounds by a bloody right eye, Roach came back to nail the Washington negro with scores of straight lefts that had Perry groggy for the last five rounds.

Perry Is Hurt

Roach drove Perry against the ropes with a pair of sharp lefts in the fourth round and started a bloody flow from Perry's nose.

Battling back gamely, Perry carried the fight to his opponent on several occasions but could not outmaneuver the Texan's precise left hand.

FIRST METHODIST NINE WINS

Morris Named Westerner Cage Coach

Davis Named As New Blue Sox Manager

ABILENE, July 12 (Special)—Otis Allen "Dixie" Davis, 28, of Charleston, Ark., has been appointed manager of the Abilene Blue Sox to replace Arthur Bowland, Jr., and assumed his position at Borger tonight.

The action came rapidly after Bowland submitted his voluntary resignation Sunday. The former Blue Sox director will remain with the club as an outfielder, the same position his successor plays.

Bowland was manager of the Blue Sox for the final three weeks of 1947. He gave no reason for his sudden resignation, but it is suspected that Bowland felt chagrin at the poor record Abilene has compiled this year. The club currently is in seventh place, one game ahead of Lamesa.

Davis is a veteran of the Brooklyn Dodger system, of which Abilene is a farm. He will take his place with Bowland and Ernie Falappino in the Blue Sox outfield, joining the club from the Pueblo, Colo., Dodgers, where he was batting an anemic .287.

In Several Leagues

The Arkansas-born fielder got his start in baseball at Hamilton, Ont., Canada, in the Pony League. He later saw service with several minor league clubs, including the International League. He went up to the Brooklyn Dodgers and appeared in one game, as a pinch runner, and the next day was returned to the minors.

Davis also has played with Montreal and Fort Worth, also Dodger organizations. He succeeds the affable Bowland, who was liked as a player, but disagreed with as a manager.

Bowland entered pro ball in 1942 when he was 19 years old. He spent the one season in Class D ball in the George-Florida League, then spent three and a half years in the Marines, with most of his service in the Pacific.

Basketball Setup To Be Expanded

Roy L. Morris, Central Junior High grid, cage and track mentor since 1944, has been named as head basketball coach of Lubbock Senior High school following the resignation of Harvey Dunn, Athletic Director C. R. (Pat) Pattison announced Monday night.

Dunn, Westerner cage coach for the '46-47 and '47-48 seasons, submitted his resignation to the Board of Trustees of Lubbock Independent school district Thursday, and the board accepted the resignation at a later regular meeting.

Good Coaching Record

In announcing the appointment of Morris to the post, Pattison said, "I think that we have selected the very best man that could be obtained for the job. Coach Morris has a wonderful coaching record, experience and the best recommendations of those who have worked with him. He will take over the duties of the position immediately."

Morris-coached basketball teams at Central Junior High have been defeated by a junior high opponent only once in the last two years, while his football elevens are undefeated over a four-year period. Morris' cagers have won the city junior high basketball championship for the four years that he has served as mentor.

Before entering the Lubbock school system, Morris was superintendent of schools and head coach at Sudan during 1943-44. He is a 1928 graduate of Hardin-Simmons university, where he lettered three years with the grid team, and received his masters' degree from Texas Technological college in 1939.

System To Be Expanded

Morris revealed Monday night that he is working with Pattison on a plan for expanding the basketball setup throughout the entire system, with the objective of giving as many youngsters as possible an opportunity for recreation and for competing with the various teams. Morris said, "I realize the responsibility in following a fine coach such as Harvey Dunn," adding that, "we hope to continue the development of a comprehensive basketball setup throughout the system."

Dunn On Active Duty

Dunn, who holds the rank of lieutenant commander in the Naval reserve, is now on active duty as inspector-instructor for the Amarillo, Lubbock nd Abilene naval reserve units. He will serve in this capacity until about Sept. 1, when he will return to a civilian occupation not yet announced.

Dunn's Westerner cage teams finished in second place in District 1-AA in 1947, then completed the '48 schedule in third place.

TUGBOAT JONES RESIGNS

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., July 12 (AP)—Resignation of Thurman (Tugboat) Jones as end coach on the Texas A. & M. football staff was announced today by head coach Harry Stiteler. Jones will enter the oil business as an associate of an oil well servicing company, with headquarters at Wichita Falls.

U.S. Olympic Squad Assembles In N. Y. For London Sailing

NEW YORK, July 12 (AP)—From every section of the land more than 300 select youth of America began assembling today to form the U. S. Olympic team.

Ahead of these picked men and women athletes in 17 varied sports that range from field hockey to track were two days of processing—checking of passports, health certificates, issuance of uniforms and even swearing anew of the amateur oath.

Then, at 3 p. m. (EST) Wednesday almost all will be aboard the S. S. America for England and the games, July 29 to Aug. 14.

The track squad, 65 and strong in every event, arrived this morning—50 from the final tryouts at Evanston, Ill., and 15 from their homes. The latter group had made the team some time ago.

After a morning of checking in, the Clyde Scotts, the Jerry Thompsons, the Whitfields, Stones and the Morcoms formed impromptu groups after lunch and marched across Times Square to the Olympic committee headquarters at another hotel.

On the afternoon schedule was a light workout at Randall's Island.

El Paso Umpires Association Granted Charter By Congress

WICHITA, Kans., July 12 (AP)—The National Baseball Congress today announced that it had granted a charter to the El Paso Umpires Association, comprising members in West Texas and New Mexico.

Twenty have already been certified for membership in the national organization for this group, president Ray Dumont announced.

William Holt of El Paso has been named president of the new organization.

Kirkpatrick, Henderson Set For JC Fights

Light Heavyweight J. D. Kirkpatrick of Petersburg and Featherweight Bill Henderson of Levelland arrived in Lubbock yesterday afternoon from Cliffside Park, N.J., glad to be home and ready to take part in their six-round fights on the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce fight card July 22.

Kirkpatrick and Henderson are in top condition and will take two or three days of rest before going into training for their fights. Both are unmarred by their professional ring engagements.

Meanwhile, one change was made in the 42-round card that the Jaycees have lined up under the promotion of Bert Kahn. Tony Olivas has been signed to replace Waldo Romero in the principal eight-round bout against Jose Andre. Dick Griffin, El Paso promoter, called Kahn and told him that Romero was not in shape for a good bout and that Olivas was a better fighter.

Bill Louderman, former stablemate of LaVern Roach of Plainview will meet Howell Steen of Lubbock in the second eight-round feature. Both men are middleweights.

Tommy LeNoir of Dallas will fight Joe Music of Lubbock, an Oklahoman who fought in the Marines, the West Coast and Oklahoma before moving here. They are heavyweights and are booked for a four-round fight.

Tickets for the fight are still selling rapidly, with virtually all ringside seats gone. Several box seat holders hurried to reserve their baseball boxes yesterday before the Jaycee deadline, but about two-thirds of the boxes now are on general sale to the public.

General admission tickets will go on sale before the end of the week, but there still are good grandstand and ringside seats available. A telephone call to the Jaycee office, 6861, will reserve seats, while Preston Baumgardner also will take reservations at 4363.

Williams Scores Technical Kayo Over Beau Jack

PHILADELPHIA, July 12 (AP)—Iwe Williams retained his lightweight boxing crown tonight, pounding challenger Beau Jack into submission in the sixth round of a scheduled 15-round bout at Shibe park. Each fighter weighed 134 pounds.

Swarming all over his opponent as the bell started the sixth round, Williams was awarded the verdict via a technical knockout when referee Charley Daggert stepped in and stopped the bout after 33 seconds.

Jack, his face a bloody mass, stood in a neutral corner helpless against the rights and lefts that the sharp punching champion threw at him from every angle.

Once Williams looked at Daggert as if he wanted the official to stop the bout. But the referee looked at Jack and nodded for Williams to go ahead. Ike swung three or more rapid fire belts before Daggert stepped in and halted the carnage.

The technical knockout was the first time Jack had been stopped in 82 fights since coming out of Georgia eight years ago.

Only One Change In National Lineup

American Loop Stars Crippled By Injuries

ST. LOUIS, July 12 (AP)—American League All-Star hopes suffered a staggering blow today when Ted Williams, Hal Newhouser, Joe DiMaggio and George Kell were scratched from the starting lineup for tomorrow's 15th test against the National League's best.

Williams suffered a torn cartilege in his left side in Friday night's game at Philadelphia and missed all the week-end contests. He was on the scene but definitely out of the show.

A Williams-Stan Musial slugging duel was one of the tidbits that had excited the enthusiasts who cast well over 4,000,000 votes in nation wide balloting.

Newhouser was to have been the American's starting pitcher against Ralph Branca (10-6) of Brooklyn. But the Detroit lefthander reported he was suffering from bursitis and could not work. Hal said he requested manager Steve O'Neill of the Tigers to take him out of Sunday's game in the eighth inning because his arm was bothering him.

Manager Bucky Harris immediately switched to his own staff, nominating either Raschi (10-3) or Lefty Joe Page (3-4) of the Yankees to do the honors.

Walt Masterson of Washington (6-6) and Joe Coleman of Philadelphia (8-6) or Bob Lemon of Cleveland (13-7) may follow.

DiMaggio has been troubled by a tender heel for several days and has a badly swollen left knee. He was unable to play in the week end series against Washington, except as a pinch-hitter. He will be in uniform but probably will do more than pinch-hit if needed.

Kell has a badly swollen ankle that forced him to miss recent Detroit games. He will be here but he won't start.

Harris went into a huddle with his coaching staff and substituted Tommy Henrich of New York for Williams in left, Hoot Evers of Detroit for DiMaggio in center field and the veteran Ken Keltner of Cleveland for Kell at third base.

There will be only one change in the National lineup as selected by the fans. That will be at second base where Eddie Stanky of Boston, who broke an ankle, will be replaced by Red Schoendienst.

Italian Philosopher Thinks U. S. Culture Hope For Civilization

By JOSEPH J. BAICICH
United Press Staff Writer

FLORENCE, Italy (U.P.) — Giovanni Papini, Italy's greatest living literary artist, believes religion must transform man to achieve goodness through hard effort.

He described the United States in an interview as the "anticipation" of what future civilization should be.

The almost-blind author of "The Life of Christ," the framed work which marked his conversion to Catholicism, observed:

"The inner life of man must be changed to reduce human selfishness by one third."

Noted as a tameless debunker of everything shoddy in life and letters, the 69-year-old Papini demanded "consistency between living and preaching."

Cites Latest Book

He referred to his book, "Letters to Men by Pope Celestine VI." recently published in New York, and said he invented an imaginary Pope to speak to the various classes of people—the priests, philosophers, the rich and the poor—"to say things no living Pope ever had the courage to say."

In the book he maintains the necessity for the return to "integral Christianity."

"Man cannot improve by mere outward formal alteration," Papini said pursuing his theme. "His soul must be transformed. Religion must make him new. It must not be only an exterior form and a social function. It must be a total living thing and carry out Christ's first intention.

"Modern science, especially biological sciences, can be a great aid to inner transformation," Papini said. "Although religion has not received as great an impetus after the last war as it did after World War I, good signs are visible which indicate that science will be put to the service of religion. Every epoch has had its apologetic foundation in philosophy or art. Today it is the return of science to furnish the defense of religion.

Has Faith in U. S.

"The great contribution to universal culture and science made by the United States, is one of the present age. America's scientific passions has produred two mighty weapons for the liberation of man —the atomih bomb and the Mount Palomar observatory in California. The atom bomb will liberate him from the Communist nightmare, while the world's greatest telescope will bring him new victories over the mystery of the universe.

"We look with great hope not only to Amerilan literature, but also to American culture. After attaining world supremary, the Ameriran people cannot fail from giving the world a distinct idea of their own. We believe they will give a new direction to spiritual life. The idea of liberty is not enough. Somthing more is needed. America does not have a distinct doctrine of its own yet."

Making his prediction about America, Papini said:

"The mixture of races in the United States, with the contributions of the various nationalities, will produce the greatest cultural achievements during the next 20 years. The United States are an anticipation of what future civilization should be—a result of collaboration of all the civilizations and nations."

Hopes To Make Visit

Papini said he had never visited the United States although he had been invited several times to lecture there.

While Papini's failing eyesight first prevented him from traveling, now it is his near-blindness which makes him newly desirous of going to the United States in the hope of finding an eye specialist who can help him. Hie left eye is totally lost and the right one is virtually useless.

Papini still works feverishly. He is preparing the "Life of Michelangelo" and has plans for a film story in which there will be "a world ig goodness, and humanity can realize that best that is in it."

200 Laney Votes Claimed

Laney's anti-Truman candidacy swelled apace as the convention neared the nominating stage. Frank Upchurch, chairman of the Florida delegation predicted Laney would receive 200 votes for the presidential candidacy in opposition to the present White House incumbent.

At the same time, Upchurch said Florida, which has its own candidate in the race in the person of Sen. Claude Pepper, would give 12½ votes to the Arkansas states' rights leader.

Barkley, "compromise candidate" for the vice presidential bid, pushed into the limelight in the hope that he might unite a badly split party, emerged in a welter of discontent.

Barkley Gains Support

Featured in the upheaval was the withdrawal of Douglas, the addition of Laney as a rival for the presidential nomination and the expectation that there would be a critical political civil war over the civil rights aspects of the harried Democratic platform.

The President's tacit approval of Justice Douglas was dealt a crushing blow today by Democratic leaders, as the most pessimistic convention in the history of the party convened amidst pickets, threats of bolts in the south and determined efforts to restore the President's prestige.

Barkley's chances were aided by the enthusiastic support of Sen. Millard Tydings, of Maryland, and Sen. Scott Lucas, of Illinois, both of whom came out strongly for the Kentuckian who once defied FDR on a tax measure and—by reason of this—forfeited his chances of becoming the vice presidential nominee in 1944.

Farley Pessimistic

Wilson Wyatt, former federal housing commissioner, and Gov. Preston Lane of Maryland, tacitly entered their names in the "wide open" vice presidential race during the day, but the Barkley boom blotted out their importance and cut into the determined efforts of Sen. O'Mahoney to secure the No. 2 place.

The deep gloom which seems to wrap the convention like a shroud was epitomized in the refusal of James A. Farley to predict a Democratic victory in November.

Farley, who piloted the New Deal to sweeping triumphs in 1932 and 1936, said in an interview, however, that he expected the party eventually to "recover" its strength.

The former postmaster general, whose estimates have proved reliable in the past, said he expected Henry Wallace's "new party" to poll between four million and five million votes, largely at the expense of the Truman ticket.

Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas of California, long one of the most optimistic distaff Democrats, joined in the general pessimism. Asked for her opinion on the November outcome, she said: "I honestly don't know what the outcome will be."

Justice Douglas declared in Portland, Ore.: "I say definitely and finally that I am not available for any public office."

At convention hall, half-empty and stewing in 90 degree heat, the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters picketed outside—charging segregation in the armed forces—while disgruntled Democrats selected Laney as their candidate to run against Mr. Truman.

Police Arrest Negro Woman Carrying Pistol In Purse

A 34-year-old negro woman, Pearlie Mae Richardson, of 2804 East Ave. F, was arrested by patrolmen of the city police department last on a charge of carrying a prohibited weapon. She and another negro woman were involved in an argument when patrolmen arrived on the scene. The Richardson woman had a .38 caliber pistol, fully loaded, in her purse, the police report said.

County Attorney John Steele said yesterday that Eddie Henderson had been fined $200 and costs for violation of liquor law, and Daniel Hernandez had been assessed a fine of $100 and costs for the same violation.

William H. Hale, 20, and George W. Hale, 21, were each fined $1 and costs for check law violation. Raymond J. Turner, 27, of Lubbock, was fined $100 and costs for violation of the check law.

gram, including federally financed housing.

Convention delegates waited curiously to see whether the race issue would be aired in public.

That question teetered in the balance today as a committee of 18 took over the sweaty job of writing the 1948 party platform after a committee of seven had completed the first tentative draft.

The committee of 18, in turn, will hand the task to the full platform committee of 108 delegates, probably tomorrow. When the committe of 108 gets through it will hand its finished product to the whole convention for approval.

Compromise Sought

Peace-maker minds of the party worked hard to get a north-south agreement on a civil rights plank in order to make a show of a solid front when platform chairman Francis J. Myers finally says to the convention. "I move we adopt . . . "

The document prepared by the committee of seven was as closely guarded as a D-Day war secret. Also, it was so tentative that the civil rights plank could change three times—on three different levels—before the platform became final.

Despite the secrecy, word got around that version No. 1 contained a civil rights plank very much like the one in the 1944 platform.

The 1944 plank was pretty general and might be acceptable to many southern leaders, though not to some northerners who are demanding that the party promise federal laws against lynching, poll taxes, and racial discrimination in jobs.

night and the Israeli planes apparently dropped several bombs on Arab positions in the northern suburbs.

An Arab shell knocked out most of Jerusalem's electric power temporarily today when it struck a transformer station.

Jerusalem Bombed

Two Egyptian planes dropped bombs on Jerusalem yesterday—the first such raid on the Holy City in history—and today Egyptian Spitfires roared over Tel Aviv again giving the city three morning raid alerts.

Shop windows in the capital's market center were smashed, a large building under construction was hit and other property damage inflicted, but no casualties were reported.

A Jewish communique told of heavy fighting in northeastern Palestine at Mishmar Hayarden near the Syrian invasion route across the Bridge of Jacob's Daughter, 80 miles northeast of Tel Aviv.

Arabs In Retreat

Syria claimed that 27 Jews were killed in fighting in northern Palestine's "finger." Haganah forces were said to have suffered the losses in an unsuccessful attempt to relieve the settlement of Yesod Hamaalah, on the west shores of Lake Hule.

Israeli forces evacuated several heights near the Arab base of Jenin, 35 miles northeast of the capital, where Arab planes carried out sorties.

The spectacular Jewish seizure of Ramle and Lydda sent the main body of Arab defenders in the area retreating eastward to Latrun, midpoint on the 50-mile highway to Jerusalem.

The Jews must take Latrun—main Arab hill fortress astride the only real highway to Jerusalem—in order to insure a steady flow of supplies to the Holy City's 100,000 Arab-surrounded Jews.

Not only does the capture of Ramle and Lydda lay the groundwork for such action, but the twin victory also widens the defense area east of Tel Aviv and relieves the nearest threat to the provisional capital.

Judge Refuses To Force Firm To Open Books To Agency

DALLAS, July 12 (AP)—Federal Judge William H. Atwell today refused to issue a court order sought by the Department of Labor's wage and hour division to force Hunsaker Trucking contractors to open their books to investigators.

He took the action after Charles H. Kelly, wage and hour attorney, said his agency had no complaints against the trucking firm. Kelly replied "yes" when the court asked "in other words, you don't know whether there is a violation or not and you want the court to help you find out?"

Cominform might have been talking about the Russian Communist party rather than the Yugoslavs in each one of these cases. Chapter and verse come easily to hand and make interesting reading."

Laws governing Communist party activity in Russia were read, particularly that one stating:

"The supreme organ of the all-union Communist party is the congress of the all-union Communist party. Regular congresses are to be called at least once every three years."

It was then noted that the last congress of the all-union Communist party was held in March, 1939.

Cominform distaste "for Tito's habit of spying on Soviet officials and Russian Communist representatives in Yugoslavian territory was mentioned. The broadcast then said:

"But what foreign government has not had to submit to the same treatment in Moscow itself?"

Children Learn Proper Diet From White Rat Experiments

ITHACA, N. Y. July 12 (U.P.)— Children in the third grade of an Ithaca elementary school are learning they have something in common with white rats. The right food every day makes them all plump, pleasant and healthy.

The children are discovering through observation the effects of proper food on the rats, says Fern Jacobs, their teacher.

"Right now, the white rats are the best teachers the children have. I doubt if they ever forget what those rats have taught them about the value of drinking milk and eating a well-rounded diet," she said.

can convention. Mrs. Luce said President Truman is a "gone goose."

Assails GOP Congress

Barkley asked where was housing legislation in the Republican congress' record. It is a "gone goose," he said, surrendered to a housing lobby.

Health legislation, aid to education and other measures asked by President Truman are also, Barkley said, "part of the flock of 'gone geese' put to flight by the Republican Congress."

He added:

"Why did these measures remain unacted upon? It may be because they bordered too much upon the hated and despised theory that government should place its powers and its facilities at the disposal of the people to be used by them to advance their welfare."

Dewey Also Hit

If more information is wanted about the "utter incapacity" of the Republican Congress to deal with such measures, he said, it might be sought from the more than 1,400 registered lobbyists who he said spent more than $8,000,000 to influence the 80th Congress.

Barkley let go with a direct sally or two against Dewey. He recalled the Republican presidential nominee has promised a "housecleaning" of cobwebs in Washington.

Barkley commented:

"When the Democratic party took over the government of the United States 16 years ago, even the spiders were so weak from starvation that they could not weave cobweb in any department of the government in Washington."

Recovery Plan Praised

Assailing the Republican record on foreign affairs, Barkley excepted by name Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, and Rep. Eaton (R-NJ) of the similar House group.

They made great contributions, he said, to the administration's European recovery plan — "the greatest international effort at economic, moral and political stabilization in the whole history of mankind."

Barkley closed by saying the self-evident truths proclaimed in the Declaration of Independence as to the individual's rights apply to all the world.

On America's door, he said, knock the dead of the war, the sufferers in other lands, civilization and destiny itself.

He asked:

"Shall we hear the voice and open the door, or shall we slam it in the face of an appealing world, turn our backs upon a divine obligation and refuse to lead the children of men out of the bondage of fear and slavery into a free world and a free life?"

Texans Back Laney

run out the Laney action by a poll on the convention floor.

The resolution as finally adopted was framed by former state Senator Joe Hill of Austin and amended by Clyde Smith of Woodville to limit the Texas support of Laney strictly to the effort to nominate him at this convention.

Byron Skelton of Temple sharply criticized Daniel.

"I am amazed that a public servant elected as a democrat would stand up here and advocate the candidacy of a man who has just said he would bolt the party," Skelton said.

In the showdown vote, National Committeeman-Elect Wright Morrow of Houston voted with Jester. This was on a motion to adjourn, but put by Jester forces in an effort to stall off a final vote on the Laney resolution.

They were hoping they could round up some missing delegates and alternates.

Of the two resolutions which provoked the earlier argument, one would have committed the Texas vote flatly for Laney. The other would have bound the vote to "any loyal Democrat" on whom the Texans might agree and who is opposed to bolting.

National committeeman-elect Wright Morrow of Houston reminded the Texans they were bound by the state convention not to bolt. He said he would back Laney "if he will go with the nominees of the party."

Hill Backs Laney

Long-smouldering dissension within the delegation broke into the open in debate over the two resolutions.

Carrying the ball for a right wing group which has been flirting with the southern revolt movement was former state Senator Joe Hill of Austin. He was author of the resolution to back Laney.

Robert W. Calvert of Hillsboro, state Democratic executive committee chairman, offered the resolution specifying that the Texans would back no bolters.

"I will not cast my vote for any man who is committed to a program which will take out electoral votes and cast them for anyone else than the nominee of this convention," Calvert said.

Hill called Calvert's resolution a "document of defeat." He denied that his own was anything but a resolution to carry out the directions of the May 25 state convention.

"I have never bolted the party," he shouted. "I do not intend to bolt the instructions of the Brownwood convention."

It was at this point that Morrow raised the question as to whether Laney would bolt.

Hill, state Senator Jimmy Phillips of Angleton and others struggled heatedly for recognition as the cacus opened. Hill claimed he was entitled to the floor and sharply criticized Jester, presiding as delegation chairman, for not immediately recognizing him.

Hill reminded Jester that his (Hill's) party element had helped him keep control of the state convention.

"Those opposing you there would have got your scalp if we hadn't fought for you," he said.

Tests Indicate Bats Not All Warm-Blooded, Scientist Says

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12 (U.P.)— All mammals are not consistently warm-blooded, according to Dr. Robert T. Orr, curator of birds and mammals at the California Academy of Sciences in San Francisco.

He said the temperature of some species of inactive bats varies with environment.

Live bats placed in a cold-room where the temperature was kept between 40 and 50 degrees F. soon had about the same temperature. Dr Orr pointed out that the cold-room conditions are about the same as in the caves in which the bats sleep through the winter.

When roused from sleep, the little bats vibrate "like B-29s warming up," the scientists said, "and rapidly become warm and ready for flight."

ed the strip as located one mile west of the Levelland refinery. Levelland received light rainfall Sunday.

Rainfall, ranging up to five inches in the O'Donnell section, fell elsewhere Sunday and Sunday night.

An estimated 1:50 inches of rain fell Saturday and about one inch fell Sunday at Buffalo Lakes southeast of the city.

Water Over Highway

Water rose about six inches over the highway about midway between Tahoka and O'Donnell late Sunday afternoon. The rainfall was estimated at five inches in that vicinity, according to information received by Ben Moore at O'Donnell. The measurement in O'Donnell was 1:50 inches.

In the area where water rose above the highway, a lake is located on each side of the highway. About 15 miles northwest of O'Donnell, sufficient rain was received to enable the farmers to replant in feed following loss of cotton crops.

Rainfall reports received by the Santa Fe for the period from 6 a. m. Sunday to 6 a. m. today were: Slaton, .25 inch; Post, 1 inch; Littlefield, shower; Hale Center, .50; Plainview, .50, and Kress, .25.

From Lamesa came a report of .45 inch rainfall late Sunday afternoon and indications that precipitation was general over Dawson county, ranging from one-half inch in most areas to as high as two inches in the northeast sector. No hail fell at Lamesa and no damage from hail was reported there from rural areas.

Moisture may retard re-planting operations in some areas, according to C. E. Tarter, agricultural official at Lamesa. There still are about 175,000 acres of cotton in Dawson county, despite loss of an estimated 125,000 acres that have been washed, hailed and blown out, Tarter said. He said there were about 100,000 acres of feed in the county in "good shape." The total land in cultivation will be around 400,000 acres, about the same as last year, if farmers are able to replant bared fields, he said. Cotton hoeing has been in full swing several days and thus far there is an over supply of labor, he reported.

Higher Than Average

Rainfall in some sections of Dawson county has totaled 30 inches since May 1, more than double that in the same period in the highest previous yar, and the fall over most of the county is more than twice the annual average.

Father Refused Permission To See Son Who Renounced U.S.

WASHINGTON, July 12 (U.P.)— Col. James M. McMillin was revealed today to have asked and been refused permission to go to Moscow to talk with his soldier-son who went AWOL with a pretty Soviet woman agent.

Informed sources said the colonel, whose home is in Boulder, Colo., first appealed to the State department to let him interview his 21-year-old son, Sgt. James M. McMillin, jr. The department turned him down, reportedly on the ground that Russian officials would never permit the interview and the trip to Moscow would be in vain.

Later, it was said, Col. McMillin asked the department to send an American official of the U. S. embassy to talk with his boy. The department agreed to this arrangement. But Russia refused. Soviet spokesmen advised the State department that young McMillin did not want to see any Americans.

The father, a West Point graduate and career officer, presumably wanted to satisfy himself as to his son's welfare and future plans. Latest reports from Moscow said young McMillin and his girl friend, Mrs. Galina Dunaeva, Biconish are living in one of the better apartment houses. Mrs. Biconish is the wife of an Army sergeant now stationed at Fort Riley, Kans.

Woman Is Held In Slaying Probe

Sandra Bitela, 23-year-old Mexican woman, was in the county jail Monday with bail denied, following her arrest Sunday night on a charge of murder with malice growing out of the Nov. 9 fatal shooting of Ignacio Lopes, south Texas Mexican, in a cafe at 1008 Sanders.

Lopes' killing had been investigated exhaustively last fall, but witnesses could not be found who would admit they knew anything, District Attorney Lloyd Croslin said.

Argument Is Cited

But Sunday, upon evidence upturned in connection with a beer raid of the cafe by City Radio Patrolmen George Hall and Doyle Clark, Mrs. Bitela was arrested, and several witnesses were questioned by Croslin and the police.

This story came out, officials said:

Lopes and another Mexican went into the cafe, which was being operated by Sandra Bitela for the widow of Morin Bitela, slain in an earlier affray.

They got into an argument over the food check.

Ben Garcia Bitela, who was arrested in connection with Sunday's beer raid and posted bond this morning on a liquor law violation complaint, put the two quarrelsome Mexicans outside the cafe.

Sandra Bitela grabbed a pistol and went to the doorway of the cafe.

Lopes stooped and picked up a rock. When he was about to hurl it at the cafe, Sandra Bitela fired one shot.

In an autopsy conducted by Dr. William L. Baugh, county health officer, upon order of C. E. Lynn, justice of peace who conducted a coroner's inquest, it was found that Lopes jugular vein had been severed by a .25 caliber slug that entered under the right arm pit and plowed upward to stop near the left collarbone.

Sandra Bitela, Croslin, said, stoutly denied the shooting upon her arrest, and reaffirmed her innocence Monday morning.

Questioning of witnesses was being continued Monday afternoon.

Bond Is Set

Bond of $1,000 was set Monday by Justice of the Peace D. W. Robertson for Allen O'Neal, 28, Lubbock county negro charged with theft of a pickup truck owned by C. L. Goodnight of Lubbock route 3.

Goodnight had allowed another negro to drive the pickup. The negro went to another negro's house and went to sleep. The pickup "went into circulation."

Another stolen car, owned by L. F. Tannery of 1918 Twenty-seventh, was reported recovered by police.

Police said they held a 45-year-old Cleburne man for investigation into theft, after he had run when found attempting to remove a spare tire from an automobile. Arrest was by Moore's Bonded patrol.

Two negroes, 29-year-old Ernestine McKinney of 2304 East Ave. D and Ralph Watley, 28, of 2109 East Ave. D, were jailed on disturbance charges after they allegedly had "cut on each other." Police said neither wished to prosecute the other.

A 28-year-old Abernathy man was fined $25 for indecent exposure at a tourist camp.

The sheriff's department said Wilson Naney of 202 Temple had reported theft of a $40 one-H. P. electric motor.

Fender skirts and hub caps valued at $40 were reported stolen from the car of J. B. Williams of the naval reserve training center here.

Youth Held At Plains

Ike Toler, sheriff at Plains, reported that he had in custody there a 16-year-old boy who may have been implicated in a minor theft in Lubbock Saturday night.

The boy, picked up by the Yoakum county sheriff on a charge of prowling and suspicion of a break-in, was said to have had under the front seat of the car he was driving a driver's license belonging to Mrs. Ralph Drerup of Lubbock route 4. Mrs. Drerup reported to Lubbock city police late Saturday that a bag of groceries and a purse containing $1 and personal papers, among them the driver's license, had been stolen from her car in the 1,000-block of Ave. J.

The sheriff's office at Floydada advised the Lubbock sheriff's department that about 100 White Rock chickens weighing from three to four pounds each had been stolen there. Each had been web-punched in the left foot, it was said.

Bond was posted by Charles W. Spencer, 37, and Ollie Flakes, 52, a negro, both of whom were charged in county court with liquor law violation.

Cincinnati Ex-GI Becomes Texas' No. 1 Booster Now

WACO, July 12 (AP)—Ray Halloran, the former Texas hater who won a tour of the state as a guest of the Madisonville sidewalk cattleman's association because of his hate, now admits he is a "No. 1 Texas booster."

The Cincinnati ex-GI who received his Army training in Texas wrote a letter to C. D. Orr, chairman of the chamber of Commerce committee which directed his entertainment here during his tour of the Lone Star state.

"This," he wrote, "is the former No. 1 Texas hater, but since converted to a No. 1 Texas booster."

Expressing his appreciation to those who made his visit a pleasant one, Halloran said, "I never will forget that ride into Waco on that donkey cart.

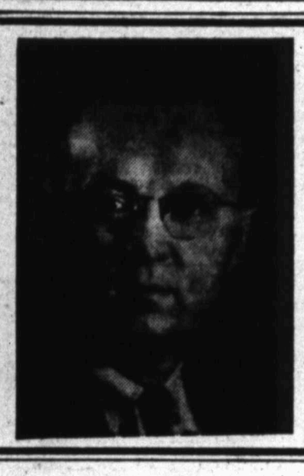

"I hope that some day I will have the opportunity to visit Waco and renew old acquaintances."

Great Drama Of Atomic Test In New Mexico Recalled By Writer

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, July 12 — Three years ago, just along this time of year, mankind was coming to the end of a cycle which—in the centurties to come—may be known as the dark ages of industry, and perhaps even of man's drudging lot in life.

The players in the incredible drama which was about to unfold in a deserted part of the New Mexican desert were some of the most famous people in the world, and some of the most of obscure.

President Truman, at far-off Potsdam, was kept informed of developments each tense day and night.

Kept In Tent

At Princeton, Prof. Albert Einstein sat brooding in his study, wondering and waiting.

In barracks, and in bunkers which knotted the forbidding desert, and in cheap hotel rooms in the sun-baked general area, men who had changed their names worked, and talked and wondered. And some prayed.

But the heart of the drama to be unfolded rested in an Army tent hard by a 100 foot steel tower that was hardly distinguishable from a power-line structure, or the abandoned rig of a barren oil well.

Here in the tent was the first atomic bomb, tiny in this case because there would be no need to enclose it in a great cylindrical affair with tail feathers of iron to improve the aim.

This was not to be dropped. It was to be lifted, more tenderly perhaps than any object in history, and carried to the top of the tower—and then detonated by remote control.

Created New Element

At least that was the hope. More than a million men and women, the vast majority of whom never knew what they were fashioning with their hands and brains, had worked actually to create the little bits of silvery metal which the principals in this fabulous experiment dreamed of exploding.

Create is the right word, for this stuff was plutonium, second in line of astonishing new elements which man had created in the tedious years leading up to the impending raising of the curtain.

Man had in effect wrenched himself loose from God and nature—hitherto the makers of all elements—and made one for himself.

The first of these he called neptunium and before his startled eyes he saw that element die—yes, die just as surely as a leaf dies, Then the imaginative scientists made something that would last a long time, and which they called plutonium.

Lightning Hits Dummy Bomb

Roosevelt had known about all these things. He had risked the $2,000,000,000 whose fruit was this bit of matter, and with his flair for the dramatic had set July 4, 1945, as the day for the test.

But he passed on, and Truman —now engaged in a fight for his political future—told the men to forget the date, and fire only when ready.

And so at last, in the black and stormy early morning of July 16, the precious load was lifted to the top of the tower, shortly after lightning had struck the dummy bomb up there and terrified those who were standing nearby and who did not know that it was a dummy.

There was an excruciating delay for a couple of hours, because of the weather, while men huddled in their bunkers and smoked or paced.

A third of those on hand (it was later discovered) believed it would not explode. A third believed it would go off but only as a fizzle.

The rest thought it would not only explode with a force which to this day remains utterly indescribable but set up a chain reaction in the nitrogen and oxygen atoms which make up the atmosphere of the earth and in a split second sear the world over as a crust. And as Dr. Robert Oppenheimer stood in a dugout a little over four miles from the silent tower, a scientist broke down and kept crying, "dear God don't let it go off . . Don't let it go off."

Oppenheimer restlessly told him to be quiet, and then, peering through his periscope at the shrouded tower, he gave the signal which—in one horrible, blinding moment—caused the earth to open and, in that ghastly torment, a new and bizarre source of power to be born . . . for good or for bad.

For good or for bad.

Gun-Packing Trio Arrested In Stolen Car In Chicago

CHICAGO, July 12 (U.P.)—Suburban police arrested three gun-packing westerners early today after overpowering them in their parked automobile.

James Kernquist of the Berwyn, Ill., police stopped the three near a gasoline service station after station attendants said they had been cruising around the station for nearly an hour. Berwyn police said the men admitted stealing the car and some of its contents.

Jesse Green, 21, Lowell, Ariz., Roy Duncan, 21, Fort worth, and Claude Waldrup, 20, Andersoon, Tex., stopped when Kernquist pulled up in front of them.

Signaled To Police

Kernquist said he walked up to the car and began questioning the driver. He noticed that the other man in the front seat had a coat in his lap, he said, and saw the muzzle of a revolver protruding from the coat.

He said nothing about it but went on questioning the men. Soon Jerry Lablanck of the Stickney, Ill., police approached and Kernquist was able to warn him that the men were armed.

Lablanck walked around the rear of the car and saw that the man in the back seat had a shot gun. At a signal Lablanck jumped into the back seat and Kernquist grabbed the man in front. They surrendered without a struggle.

Kernquist said in addition to the revolver and the shot gun, the men had two high powered rifles in the back seat.

There were several cups and some silverware which the men admitted were stolen in Texas and Arizona. They said they had stolen the car in which they were riding.

Kernquist said that between the three, they had only five cents in cash.

Deadline On Applications For Market News Service Aug. 15

West Texas farmers desiring to receive classification and market news service on their 1948 cotton crop were reminded this week by the extension service that the deadline for such applications is August 15 in the western part of the state.

The mid-August deadline applies to all counties lying entirely or for the most part west of the 100th meridian. East of the meridian the deadline is Aug. 1, according to John L. McCollum of Dallas, manager of the southwestern area cotton branch of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing administration (PMA).

Both services are free to organized cotton improvement groups under the Smith-Doxey act. McCollum said the group applications should be made to the Dallas branch office at 1104 South Ervay, or at any of PMA's classing offices, which in West Texas are located at Lubbock, Abilene and El Paso.

Texas last year had more than 1,000 organized improvement groups consisting of nearly 100,000 farmers who had more than 1,500,000 bales classed. This represented about half of the state's 1947 cotton crop.

Name Of NTAC Would Be Changed To Arlington State Under Bill

ARLINGTON, July 12 (U.P.)—The name of North Texas Agricultural college here would be changed to Arlington state college in a bill being prepared for presentation at the January session of the state legislature.

President Ernest H. Hereford said it was felt that NTAC was "inappropriate as a name" since the majority of students take engineering courses. He explained, however, that the college offered "an excellent agricultural course."

Hereford said directors of Texas A&M college, the governing body of NTAC, had approved the proposed name change.

TAKING POLICE EXAMINATION—Thinking over a hard question are two applicants of 28 who took a civil service examination to determine appointees to the city police force at fire station No. 1 Monday afternoon. They are Arlen Mason of 2420 Fourteenth street, left, and Curtis Noland of Spur, right. Supervising the examination were Marion Sanford, member of the civil service commission, and Argo Peek, city personnel officer. Applicants must make an over all grade average of 70 on the examination, which includes a wide variety of subjects. After taking the examination applicants must pass an oral interview and a physical examination. Five per cent additional credit is given to veterans provided their grade is above 70 without it. Successful applicants are hired in the order of their grade average on the examination. Results of the examination from which 14 top men are to be chosen will be available later. (Staff Photo).

CROP PROSPECTS AID BUSINESS

Large Crowds Take Advantage Of Seasonal, Dollar Day Sales

By ROGER SOUTHALL
Avalanche Staff Writer

Prospects of a record-breaking cotton crop, further aided by recent rains in the area, brought large crowds into stores in downtown Lubbock Monday to take advantage of dollar day and seasonal sales conducted by merchants.

This was in spite of the fact that Dollar Day—always conducive to increased traffic and dollar sales—came almost in the middle of the month because of last Monday's holiday, and was further removed than usual from the "first of the month" pay days.

Big Crowd In City

Hemphill Wells Co., conducting a traditional July sale at this time, had more people in the store during the first two hours of business Monday morning than ever before, J. D. Hassell, manager, said. Crowds were extremely large throughout the day, and both store traffic and volume of sales were in excess of the July sale last year, he added.

Dunlap's had a "very successful" day, Manager J. H. Hoskins reported, with an upsurge of traffic in the store and increased sales volume. A third department store reported very heavy crowds, although not as heavy as several days ago when that organization opened its clearance sales. Dollar sales showed impressive gains, the management reported, and sales were considerably ahead of most dollar days.

"Very nice traffic" that remained consistent throughout the day was reported by a downtown dress and sport shop. The manager said that, although it was too early to make more than an approximation, dollar sales apparently were commensurate with store traffic in the Monday increase.

W. C. O'Mara, manager of Sears, said that Monday had been a better day than any recently, with a larger number of people in the store than usual. Volume of sales was up with the store traffic, he added.

Glassman's reported considerable upsurge in sales volume and dollar sales, and unusually good crowds in the store throughout the day.

Levine's reported traffic and sales far in excess of last month's Dollar Day, and a considerable rise in sales volume. As in some of the other stores, the manage-

Minor U.S. Senate Candidates To Map Strategy

One Man Due To Face 'Big Three'

(By The Associated Press)

Lesser-known U. S. senatorial candidates today were planning to revamp their strategy against their "big three" opponents.

Tomorrow night at least four—possibly as many as seven—will drop out of the race to concentrate their future efforts toward the election of one of their number.

The "one" is to be selected at a caucus at Dallas' old county courthouse at 8 p. m. tomorrow. Texans who are willing to pledge themselves to support of the selected candidate are invited to participate in the selection.

Johnson Blasts Communism

The five candidates who have already bound themselves to the will of the preferential "caucus" are Terrell Sledge, Cyclone Davis, F. B. Clark, Roscoe H. Collier and Jesse W. Saunders. Three other candidates have been invited to join their ranks in the selection of one candidate to oppose Coke Stevenson, Lyndon Johnson and George Peddy.

Meanwhile, the so-called "big three" pushed their campaigns into the next-to-last week before the July 24 primary.

Johnson in Austin said on an early-morning talk that Communism is waiting to move in on Berlin whenever America yields "a single inch."

Noting that he had been labelled "an apostle of fear," Johnson declared: "My fear is of false prophets . . . of complacency based on inexperience . . . of mental astigmatism that cannot see beyond the borders of Texas — and cannot read the clear lesson that the moving finger of history is spelling out today across the face of Berlin."

Johnson said he wants to close "every door by which Communism may enter and keep it bolted."

Stevenson Hits Tax Load

Stevenson at Kilgore said that 30 cents out of every dollar earned goes to the tax collector. "That's too big a bite," he declared.

"During the war the federal government repeatedly appealed to the states to keep their own taxes down," the war-time Texas governor recalled. "I think that today the shoe is on the other foot. I think it's time for the federal government to get its tax rates down."

Peddy worked the Houston and Bay Town area while a Houston printer tried drumming up labor votes for him.

J. B. Sparkman, Houston Chronicle printer and member of the typographical union, said in a prepared text that the best two reasons he could give for asking support for Peddy was Peddy's two opponents.

He criticized Johnson for voting for the Taft-Hartley bill.

He claimed Stevenson had "trad-

LUBBOCK MORNING AVALANCHE

Band School At Tech Is Praised

Praise for the Tech Summer Band school and its director, Dr. D. O. Wiley, was expressed Monday afternoon by Dr. A. A. Harding, nationally famous director of the University of Illinois bands, who will be guest director for the second time at 8:15 o'clock tonight when the summer school bands present their final concert of the 1948 season in the area north of the band building on the campus.

"The Tech Summer band school is one of the most progressive institutions of its kind in the Southwest," Dr. Harding said. I consider Mr. Wiley one of the leading figures in the band field in the Southwest. He is widely known and well thought of in other parts of the country, and he seems to attract the best of players and high school bandmasters to the school."

Dean of Band Directors

Dr. Harding's final appearance will be a fitting climax to the school, which has drawn its membership from nearly all parts of Texas and Eastern New Mexico. For he is recognized as the dean of university band directors.

For 43 years he has been at the helm of the University of Illinois bands. A great friend of John Philip Sousa for years, he mentioned that Sousa's library was bequeathed to the University of Illinois. Sousa's podium is also exhibited at the university, but no other director ever stands on it for "there is no successor to John Philip Sousa."

Tonight's program promises to be a particularly brilliant affair. Opening with the combined intermediate bands, the concert will then be taken up by the concert band, which will open with the fanfare from the "Seahawk" by Korngold. Dr. Harding then continues with a rare Sousa transcription of D'Albert's "Der Improvisator" overture. This will be followed with Dr. Harding's transcription of the third movement from Harl McDonald's "Santa Fe Trail" symphony, which is titled by the composer "Wagon Trains of the Pioneers." Massenet's ever popular "Meditation from Thais" will follow, and then will come the brilliant cornet solo by Chaminade titled

Cameron Doctor Released From Prison Early Monday

Dr. Newton Returns To Home

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

CAMERON, July 12—Dr. W. R. Newton, freed from the state prison today, came home to a joyous reunion with his family. By nightfall he was still opening the Christmas and Father's Day presents he found stacked in the den of his cool 11-room, half-century old home.

"This is Christmas and Father's Day for me," said the 39-year-old physician and surgeon. "This is all the big days of the year, rolled into one."

Had Lost Weight

He seemed tremendously happy, with his wife and children clustered around him, but he also seemed tense and nervous and the tan suit he swapped today for white penitentiary clothes was baggy on his lean frame. That tan suit told the story of the 30 pounds the doctor dropped during the 11½ months he served of a two-year sentence.

It was a sentence lightened considerably by blood transfusions he gave other inmates. Last July 30 he entered the prison, convicted of assault to murder on Dr. Roy Hunt of Littlefield. The assault on Dr. Hunt occurred near Littlefield May 21, 1942. Almost a year and a half later, Dr. Hunt and his wife were found slain at their Littlefield home.

Jim Thomas, a paroled convict, was three times convicted of the crimes but each time the conviction was set aside by the State Court of Criminal Appeals.

Leaving prison, Dr. Newton continued to maintain he was innocent of the assault on the Littlefield doctor. "I had no reason for shooting him. He was a good man and a gentleman. I had not even seen him in nine years. I am going to devote my efforts toward clearing my name."

Record Said Good

H. E. Moore, warden at the main prison, Huntsville, said Dr. Newton had "a good record and was treated here just like any other prisoner."

A trusty, Dr. Newton worked in the prison print shop and the hospital.

"I have been very busy, I have been going to bed around 2 a. m., and getting up at 5. At the hospital I helped the doctors by doing electrocardiograph readings in heart cases and have been allowed to assist in some operations. The medical library has been open to me and I have done a great deal of studying. All this has helped me keep my hand in."

The black-haired, brown eyed Cameron physician left state prison at 7:08 a. m. today with his wife, an attractive brunette. She arrived at 6 a. m. bringing the tan suit, and she waited an hour for her husband in the warden's office.

He walked in the office about 7 a. m. and left with his wife almost immediately, coming to Cameron by the way of Crockett where Newton "stopped off to see a friend who had done me some great favors."

The children, Billy 11, Elizabeth 10, and Turner 9, were waiting when their father arrived at the big cypress house.

They had been waiting impatiently for hours, whiling away the time by playing ping pong, baseball and football. Every car that approached the house brought them scurrying to the drive and whenever the phone rang they swarmed into the house to answer it.

Tries Out Lake

Dr. Newton had not seen the children since December. After giving each of them a sound hug, he listened grinning, as they boiled excitedly around him, all talking at once. Then they brought him some presents. Turner had bought him a novel pipe and Billy had made him what Bill called "a cigar box." Billy had even painted it white and had put nickle-plated hinges on it.

"I had a lot of trouble getting those hinges on straight, dad."

Dr. Newton brought each of the children a radio. Elizabeth darted out of the room and was back in an instant with some new slippers, real golden slippers."

"Fine, fine," said the father appreciatively.

He lighted a good cigar and inhaled it with considerable delight. Then he headed for a big rack where he keeps his many guns and fishing rods. "Think I'll try out that lake of mine, right now. Not going to wait another minute."

He chose a flyrod and headed for his private, spring-fed lake on the back of the eight acre, oak shaded estate. The children followed, Elizabeth dragging her own cane pole.

"This lake is well stocked with

HONORED BY JAYCEES—Homer Hensley, above left, and Vernon Peters, right, were honored with Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce Man-of-the-Month keys for the month of June when the Jaycees met for luncheon Monday in the Hilton hotel. The presentations, which are based on outstanding leadership in Jaycee civic work, were made by Alton Taylor. The club also heard Barney Stagner discuss plans for the district softball tourney which got underway Monday, heard a financial report by club treasurer Dr. Linley Millsap, gave a vote of thanks to Dr. P. K. Palmer for heading Miss Lubbock contest arrangements, and heard preliminary plans discussed by Curly Wilkinson for the Jaycee-sponsored fight card set at Rosenthal Field July 22. (Staff Photo).

Wildcat Extends Levelland Field

News of oil developments in three West Texas counties—Gaines, Cochran, and Andrews counties—held interest Monday.

Anderson-Pritchard Oil corporation No. 1 Dorothy L. Slaughter et al, central Cochran county wildcat 4½ miles south of Lehman and several miles from the nearest commercial oil producers in the west extension to the Levelland field, has been officially completed as a new discovery.

The project made a daily pumping potential of 65.14 barrels of 27 gravity oil, plus 30 per cent water from pay in the San Andres-Permian at 4,849-4,960 feet.

The zone had been treated with a total of 5,000 gallons of acid. The well showed a gas-oil ratio of 569-1, but it would not flow consistently, and a pump was installed.

The new producer, opener of a new area for development, is 440 feet from south and west lines of the northeast 888.8 acres in league 114, Potter county school land survey.

The Texas company, Humble Oil and Gas and Refining company, and Ralph Lowe No. 1 Jenkins, southwest Gaines county prospector, was on a total depth of 11,362 feet in an unidentified sand section and was taking a drillstem test.

The project is about 15 miles southwest of Seminole, and 622 feet from south and 660 feet from the west lines of section 4, block A-25, psl survey. It is due to go about 12,000 feet to explore into the Ellenburger.

Phillips Petroleum company No. 1-T Texas university, north-central Andrews county wildcat, one mile south of the discovery well of the Shafter Lake-Devonian field, has been officially completed as a small well, and a discovery from the Tubb zone of the lower Permian.

Second Test Planned

This prospector, located 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 36, block 13, University survey, made a 24 hour pumping potential of 26 barrels of 34 gravity oil, plus seven barrels of water.

The pay was between 6,910 feet and the plugged back total depth of 6,956 feet. The production was through casing perforations, after acid.

This exploration drilled to a total depth of 11,000 feet in lime. There were some slight shows in several zones between 6,956 feet and 11,000 feet—but extended testing failed to develop any production from any of them.

Added Taxes Sought

TEXAS enjoys the distinction of being one of the seven states with neither an income nor a sales tax. Thirty-one states levy income taxes and 27 sales taxes. Seventeen have both.

This state's fortunate position is not due to lack of effort by advocates of such taxes. Attempts have been made to levy them in nearly every legislative session in recent years. Drum-beating for the regular session next January already has begun.

The brazenness of the advocates of such taxation is astonishing. Without such levies, the state has piled up a surplus of nearly $75,000,000. Yet efforts are being made to create a public and legislative sentiment which will accept, if not approve, these additional taxes.

The probability of the success of the efforts depends almost entirely upon how the public generally reacts to the proposals. The main reason for such taxes not being imposed in the past has been recognition by the majority of the legislators that Texans would not stand for them. If legislators and politicians continue under the conviction that such taxes would be political suicide, the taxes won't be imposed.

Therefore, the citizen who opposes these levies should lose no opportunity to emphasize his views in any manner that might reach the ears of the tax-makers. If enough people do that, the revived income and sales tax movements in Texas will be crushed even before they get well started.

Hope Is Justified

DESPITE the resumption of fighting between the Jews and Arabs, the United Nations' handling of the Holy Land war justifies revived hope that the UN, if ever given a real chance, might prove an effective instrument for world peace.

There were two strikes on the organization when it went to bat for Peace in the Holy Land struggle. There was no apparent possibility of reconciling the bitter differences between the belligerents. The UN was wholly without power to enforce anything it might suggest as a means of ending hostilities. It could not even make pledges with the assurance they would be observed. About all the UN mediator, Count Folke Bernadotte, possessed was his own gift of persuasiveness.

Yet the UN did succeed in obtaining a 28-day truce. It should be self-evident that any war which can be brought to a standstill for 28 days should be possible of termination permanently.

Whether the means of obtaining an enduring peace in the Holy Land can be found remains to be seen. But the fact that the UN did stop bloodshed for four weeks suggests that it might deal effectively with wars there and elsewhere, if the nations of the world ever entrust it with powers commensurate with the tremendous responsibilities imposed upon it.

THE Oxford train drew into Paddington sharp on time. Miss Helen and Miss Alice stepped out onto the platform. Their suitcases were light and they could carry them easily. They'd been deciding on their way to town just what they would do. It was barely 3 o'clock and their train to the country wasn't due till 6:30.

"The Stanton Academy first, we thought, didn't we, dear?" said Miss Alice.

"Yes. I've not seen Madame Girard since Patience started. I'll be glad to have a little chat with her, and to hear how she is getting on."

They took the train to Great Portland Street. Miss Helen remembered the Academy was just around the next turning to the left.

They rang the bell. They gave their names. The message came back that Madame Girard would be delighted to see them.

Miss Alice let her sister do the talking. Helen, she thought, was always so much better at this sort of thing than she was. She always knew just the right sort of questions to ask. And Madame Girard seemed rather a formidable sort of woman. Still, she appeared to be very pleased with the way Patience was progressing.

"I really must tell you, Miss Melville," she was saying, "that I consider her one of my most painstaking pupils. She takes a real interest in her work."

"Patience certainly enjoys her days here, Madame Girard. I don't think she'd miss one of them for anything."

Madame Girard said she was glad to hear it. And certainly her attendance had hitherto been most regular. It was such a pity that she wasn't there today.

Miss Helen and Miss Alice started visibly. They sat forward in their chairs.

"Not here today?" they echoed blankly.

Madame Girard looked from one to the other.

"Didn't you know?"

"WHY, no. We certainly understood she'd be here," said Miss Helen.

Miss Alice's heart trembled.

"Helen, dear, what can have happened?" she gasped.

Miss Helen pursed her lips.

"This of course, is Charlotte's influence."

"Charlotte?" queried Madame Girard.

"Her twin sister. Patience has been staying with her this weekend. But she was naturally to have come to you as usual today."

Madame Girard smiled understandingly.

"Well, I shouldn't worry about her," she said soothingly. "I expect she is having—how shall we say it?—a little razzle. You know what young girls are. They like to have some fun. I remember when I was about her age—when I was in Paris—" Madame sighed reminiscently.

Miss Helen rose to her feet. She didn't want to hear what had happened to Madame Girard when she was a young girl in Paris. Paris, from all she'd heard, was a very wicked city.

She said goodby rather abruptly and left the Academy, walking quickly down the steps and out into the street, cold wrath in every line of her figure.

Miss Alice followed nervously behind her.

"We'll go straight to Charlotte's flat," announced Miss Helen. "Luckily I have the address here with me."

THEY took a taxi. A commissionaire stepped smartly forward and opened the door for them as they drove up outside the main entrance to the block of luxury flats where Charlotte lived. Miss Alice looked about her with wide eyes as they entered the thickly carpeted foyer and made they way to the lift.

"Flats here must be very expensive, Helen."

"I suppose Charlotte makes a great deal of money. It's very bad for her, I consider. I don't approve of young girls living extravagantly."

Miss Alice sighed. She only hope that once they reached the flat they'd find Patience there with Charlotte.

But neither girl, it seemed, was in. The trim maid who opened the door said she was sorry but Miss Mond wasn't at home. Nor Miss Patience Mond either.

"I'm their aunt," said Miss Helen, stepping firmly into the hall. "I'd like to wait until they return. Alice, come along in."

The maid looked at them uncertainly.

"I'm not quite sure when they will be back, madam."

"Where have they gone?"

"Er—er—they've gone away for the week-end."

"Where?"

"Well, madam, Miss Carlotta doesn't tell me where she goes when she goes away."

By now Elizabeth was treading warily. She'd guessed immediately who were her unexpected visitors. Miss Carlotta had said they were a couple of old tartars.

She showed them into the drawing room and offered to make them tea.

"Thank you. We'd like some," said Miss Helen coldly.

Elizabeth closed the door, and was just crossing the hall as the front door bell rang.

"Telegram for Mond," said the telegraph boy.

She lay the telegram on the hall table and went into the kitchen to put on the kettle.

Charlotte, entering the flat some short while later, picked it up, and went straight on into the sitting room with it still unopened in her hand.

She stopped dead as her aunts rose from their chairs.

"Heavens above!" she gasped.

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

NOW that I am out of a sick bed and once again beginning to live a somewhat vertical life, I am strictly circumscribed by my doctor, supervised by my wife, and advised by my friends.

You must not do this and you cannot do that, I a mtold.

BRANDEIS

If you do so-and-so you will be better than ever but if you don't — and then then comes the pause that does not refresh. "If you don't — ", well, you know what that means.

So now I am confronted with a strict diet and a strict limitation of movement or—, there it is again, "if you don't—".

I have the greatest respect for doctors (particularly after receiving my doctor's monthly bill!).

I have the utmost confidence in my wife and try to do whatever she tells me.

I appreciate my friends' good intent and their medical knowledge, although Heaven only knows where they got it.

But let me tell you something about a friend and neighbor of mine—but don't ever say that I advised you to follow his example. I don't.

This fellow's name is Raymond Benjamin.

To thousands of you his name is familiar.

He is past Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks.

He is a former Assistant Chairman of the Republican National Committee, a former Chief Attorney General of California—and he is 75 years old.

Raymond Benjamin had a coronary thrombosis a good many years ago, but he never knew it until just the other day.

And the only reason he found out was that his wife Hazel, made him go to the doctor for a general check-up.

She thought that when a man is seventy-five it might not be a bad idea to have himself checked occasionally.

BENJAMIN is six feet two inches tall. He is as straight as a ramrod. He cuts his own lawn and has a voice like a roaring bull.

He smokes countless cigarets a day. He eats with the zest of an athlete. He violates every rule of scientific living and, it looks to me, will outlive many, many people twenty years younger than himself.

Just before the conventions he bought a television set.

He sat up until three in the morning watching the conventions and remarking, as a number of his old political friends were shown on the screen, "That fellow certainly is getting old."

He still is being consulted by politicians all over the country, and he still goes around to Elks' meetings all over the state, sometimes as often as three nights a week, and makes speeches.

Hazel, his wife, thinks he ought to start taking it easy. So, to comply with her request, he just had his membership in the Masonic lodge transferred from California to Connecticut.

So now, in addition to all his other meetings, he will also attend the local Masonic affairs.

Incidentally, he is also our local Republican chairman and, with the elections coming on, that will give him still some more "taking it easy."

He is 75. My doctor is 40. I wonder who'll live the longer.

GOOD NEWS FOR DEMOS

Wallace Loses Ground

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA—The only bit of good cheer the Democratic leaders have heard since their arrival in Philadelphia, which is not a City of Brotherly Love at the moment, is that Henry A. Wallace's strength is slipping away steadily.

Even from his supposed strongholds, New York, Illinois and California, word comes that he is on a steep downgrade.

Such a seer as James A. Farley recently estimated that the Iowan would roll up 8,000,000 votes, while some placed the figure at 10,000,000. But these latest polls indicate that he will be lucky if he hits 4,000,000, possibly less.

TUCKER

The significance of this total lies in the fact that the insurgent ticket of La Follette and Wheeler in 1924, when there were only about half as many voters as will cast ballots next November, got almost 5,000,000 votes. Such a burlesque demonstration by Wallace would destroy his dream of building a permanent third party as a threat to both the major organizations. It has historical as well as contemporary meaning.

FAVOR: Inasmuch as the former Cabinet member was expected to score his greatest gains among Democratic elements — labor, liberals, racial groups—any decline in his support should naturally favor she "ins." And at the moment President Truman's scouts here are grasping at the slenderest of straws.

Governor Dewey's friends, for instance, figured during the GOP convention that Wallace would get at least 750,000 votes in New York State, perhaps 1,000,000. Such a total would insure that New York's electoral count of forty-seven would be registered in the Republican column.

They probably will be recorded for the Dewey-Warren ticket, anyway, but the latest canvass suggests that the Empire State race may be closer than expected a few weeks ago.

BATTLEGROUND: Governor Earl Warren has said that Wallace would receive about 500,000 votes from the "Okies," the ham-and-eggers and other radical fringes in California. Next to New York, the Iowan's managers have counted on the coastal commonwealth as their banner state.

Since Franklin D. Roosevelt won here by only 475,000 in 1944, such a showing by the third party candidate, together with Mr. Warren's popularity, would guarantee a GOP triumph here. Now, despite Mr. Warren's presence on the ticket, the Democrats still rate California as a battleground because of the Roosevelt popularity there and the Wallace blow-up.

In Illinois the Wallace strength was originally placed at from 300,000 to 250,000, more than enough to overcome Roosevelt pluralities in this territory. But should the Iowan's army fall off to 50,000 or 75,000, as the new check indicates, the Republicans might not have the walkaway they anticipated.

BAR: The Wallace retrogression is not due entirely to the fact that his Kremlin pals have done him wrong by precipitating the Berlin crisis and by threatening to drive the Allies out of the German Capital if it takes all winter.

It stems largely from the not so curious fact that since the La Follette-Wheeler uprising of 1924, state legislatures have rewritten their election laws so as to bar interlopers from getting on the ballot.

As of today, it is doubtful if Wallace's name can be presented to the voters of more than eight states, or fewer than T. R. in 1912 and La Follette in 1924 were able to board.

DISCRIMINATORY: Another victim of the regular, political legislators' blacklist is Norman Thomas, the Socialist presidential nominee. The brilliant and delightful Norman, who is reporting both conventions for The Denver Post, got almost 1,000,000 votes in the depression year of 1932. It is doubtful if he will get half that fany next November, but he is philosophical about his dim prospects.

"Wallace won't hurt me," he says, "because he has sharpened the issue as between Communists and Socialists. Like the Socialists in Europe, we are the Reds' worst enemy in this country.

"My difficulty i sthat I cannot get on the ballot in this democratic country. I am also a victim of Civil Rights discrimination."

Then, apparently thinking of the Roosevelt-Truman crusade for civil liberties, he went on:

"And the irony is that these discriminatory election laws were mostly enacted by so-called 'liberal lawmakers' and upheld by judges appointed by New Dealers at Washington. Ah! Well!"

FAILING: These reports on a Wallace slump, together with confidential word of the third party candidate's recent fit of physical weariness and mental dejectoin, have inspired certain Democratic strategists with a bright idea. It is for this reason alone that they are encouraged by news of his failing strength. They believe that they may still persuade him to withdraw from the contest in favor of President Truman. They have noted that he has not been particularly bitter against the Administration in recent diatribes, reserving his shafts for the Republicans.

While even a Wallace withdrawal would hardly elect Mr. Truman or any other Democrat, in view of the we-want-Eisenhower fiasco and its repercussions in the wings, it might make for a more even struggle. And as of today, both the President's friends and enemies in the party simply seek a showing sufficient to give the Democrats a reason for being around in 1952 and thereafter.

PLATFORM: The harassed makers of the Democratic platform have tried to distract the attention of squabbling factions and of a skeptical electorate from their immediate clash over presidential personalities and policies by a nostalgic review of the Roosevelt-Truman Administration's peacetimeand wartime achievements in the last sixteen years of "crisis government."

Inasmuch as the identity of their full ticket may be in doubt until almost the last minute of the convention, they have wisely chosen to exalt the party rather than any particular individual, including Franklin D. Roosevela.

In a sense the platform will be a port of missing men because of the postwar slump in F.D.R.'s prestige and because of the general dissatisfaction with President Truman.

It will offer a strange and ironic contrast to the 1944 document, which closed with a unique eulogy of F.D.R. that reads rather oddly now in view of the trend of events on the domestic and foreign scene.

In view of the only passing mention which the four-time President will get this year and the prominent part which his three sons are playing in the anti-Truman movement, that accolade to Mr. Truman's predecessor bears repetition:

Today's quatrain: If man wants little here below we wonder why he frets; for it is true, as well as you know, that's all he ever gets.

Demo Feud Blasts Party Power

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA — It was in this city or hereabouts that wise old Benjamin Franklin made the observation:

"If we don't hang together, we'll all hang separately."

With application to a slightly different situation, the Democratic party has acted that out here, hanging itself, so to speak, in the public square, in full view of everybody.

It's not a single corpse dangling at the end of the rope. There are four or five, figuratively, representing the various parties of which the Democratic party is made up—irate and hot-blooded southerners, big city bosses, the energetic but politically inept ex-New Dealers, the silk-stocking element clinging sedately still to something incorrectly labeled the Thomas Jefferson tradition, and just ordinary Democrats, moderately progressive, who ask a fair deal from their govenment.

STOKES

Must Have Good Leader

The Democratic party always has been several individual parties. They only hang together under the stress of a great national need, when some leader of extraordinary capacity rises to weld the diverse and conflicting elements into something approaching a single party with a single purpose.

Such as, for example, when Woodrow Wilson pulled them together to become the voice and instrument of the progressivism then welling up among the rank and file of people who saw that our growing industrial society was not organized to serve their needs. Or, as twenty years later, in 1932, when the system again failed to meet the needs of the people and collapsed in the nation's most severe depression and another magnetic leader came along to fuse the various elements of the Democratic party into an instrument of political revolt to change the existing order.

Franklin D. Roosevelt held the party together longer than anyone expected. It was obvious at the Democratic convention four years ago, when the southerners and the big city labor and minority elements were holding meetings denouncing each other, that the party probably would hold together for only that election, the 1944 election, and that would happen only because of Mr. Roosevelt's leadership and the national emergency of war.

It has been flying apart faster and faster since then under the looser reins and the less intense purpose of his succesor Harry Truman, and so now, in its 1948 convention here, it is, as Ben Franklin put it, hanging separately, with the gibbets all over the scene.

But, while this basic inner weakness has been apparent for some time, nobody could have foreseen that the party would commit suicide so publicly and with such evident relish, particularly in view of the natural self-protection instinct of politicians and the auspicious outward circumstances, meaning the general prosperity, full employment, and the lack of any argument against its continuance of power on that score. It chose to commit suicide when its household affairs were in excellent order.

The wrangling between the confederates and the free-soilers in the Democratic party is perennial. It broke out in 1924 over religion and "likker," with Al Smith of New York, the Catholic and "wet," the inciting factor, and the rift still was not healed when Al Smith became the nominee four years later and lost four southern states in going down to rather inglorious defeat.

Politicians Lost Own Fight

But the spectacle this year tops them all. Nothing has been seen in our time quite like the great rush to the public platform and the public prints in the two weeks preliminary to the convention by self-appointed leaders of the various elements to cry down their President in the White House and ask publicly that he be cast into outer darkness. Queerest of all is that these Jeremiahs included some usually astute practical politicians. They did it, of course, for self-preservation.

But the upshot is that, with the party in the shape to which they, themselves, now have brought it, they would seem to have far less chance for self-preservation than if they had gone along the way practical politicians normally do with what they had and make the best of it.

But most astounding is the hysteria into which they worked themselves over a war hero to save them, with no assurance whatever that the war hero, namely General Dwight D. Eisenhower, had any intention of saving them from their folly. It was a hysteria more weird than the tulip craze of Holland, the Mississippi bubble, the Florida land boom of the middle twenties or the stock market speculative spree that ended the twenties in a parade of breadlines.

Most of the principals in this hysterical episode woke up woozily in the eerie morning-after, and stumbled contritely to the Truman mourner's bench. But the damage was done. They've got to go back home now, being Democrats, and make some sort of gestures for the man they condemned, with their double lives known to every village gossip—and to every Republican who can read and who, it is certain, will make the most of such political asininity.

RAILS LEAD STOCKS

NEW YORK, July 12. (AP)—Railroad issues turned in the winning hand again in today's stock market.

The carrier group reached a new peak since July 1946, with advances running to an extreme of more than two points.

Turnover dropped to 1,300,000 shares.

The Associated Press average for 60 stocks was unchanged at 72.4, equal to a 22-month high established Friday. The rail component, though, was ahead 1 of one point to 48, a top since July 1946.

Several issues responded briskly to corporation news.

Standard Oil of Indiana sprinted late and closed 1⅝ higher at 51¾.

Chicago & Eastern Illinois "A" backed up to a new high for the year.

The "A" closed 1¼ ahead at 15½ and the common was ahead a trifle at 8½.

Richfield Oil lost 1⅜ at 43⅜.

Missouri-Kansas-Texas preferred closed 2⅝ higher and the common up ⅝ at 8⅝ after each had reached new 1948 highs.

Also hitting new highs for the year were U. S. Steel 82½, Youngstown Sheet 87, Curtis Publishing 11⅞, New York Central 18 and Nickel Plate.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, July 12. (AP)—Cotton futures turned irregular today following early weakness.

The market started off easy on nearby July liquidation, following the issuance of 10 July transferable notices. Some light hedging was also in evidence against early moving new crop cotton in Texas.

Later, mill buying and short covering met only limited offerings, and the market rallied. There was some buying in the new crop deliveries which are selling not far above the expected loan on the next cotton crop.

Futures closed 30 cents a bale lower to 15 cents higher than the previous close.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, July 12. (AP)—Corn staged a good rally on the board of trade today. The crop outlook was as splendid as ever, but selling had dried up. Covering by previous short sellers sent prices up more than 3 cents at times and brought July above the $2.00 mark again.

Oats also were firm, although gains were not as large as in corn. Both corn and oats were aided by good demand for the cash grain here. Wheat started off a little lower, but recovered quickly and held above the previous close for the rest of the session. Gains were small.

Wheat closed ⅝ lower to ⅜ higher, July $2.29-2.28¾, corn was ¼-4½ higher, July $2.03 ⅞-⅛, oats were ⅜-¾ lower, July 90¼-⅝.

Body Of 16th Victim Of Plane Crash In Mexico Finally Found

ORIZABA, Mex., July 12. (AP)—Searchers for the 16th person killed in the July 2 plane crash here solved the mystery of puzzling footsteps.

When rescuers found the wrecked foot and mouth disease commission plane high on the Orizaba volcano July 6 they saw footsteps with heel marks leading away from the plane.

Finally yesterday they found the body of Ignacio Garcidueanas three-fourths of a mile from the scene. Apparently he was thrown clear, walked away and died alone in a small cave. Brush and grass were gathered about him as if he had sought to keep warm.

When the bodies were brought down all eight Americans aboard were identified by the families.

ed" for organized labor's vote on the claim of having done nothing. "That, my friends, is the ultimate in negation."

"When you and I finally come to vote for a United States senator," he said, "we want to know we have a man who is positive in thought and in action, for the coming years will be confused ones."

March Criticizes Jester

Gubernatorial candidate Caso March was critical of incumbent Gov. Beauford H. Jester's name appearing at the top of the list of candidates on what he estimated at "about 90 per cent" of the state's ballots.

For the estimate he said he had checked ballots at random throughout the state.

"I don't believe only Curly Locks could have been that lucky. I rather think that a poltical organization may have been active in rigging the ballots contrary to law. I'm going to make a thorough investigation," he said. Law requires that the order of candidates on the ballot be determined by drawing in each county.

Gubernatorial candidate Roger Q. Evans was critical of a mounting state surplus which, he said, is being built up "at the expense of the people."

"They (the incumbent governor and his administration) didn't spend it for the purposes it was intended for," he charged. "Many school teachers are borrowing money to live on because the state hasn't paid off. But they've got vaults full of money in the treasury that, for some reason known only to the high financiers on capitol hill, can't be spent until next year."

"L'ete" which will be played by John James Haynie. The remainder of the program promises to be as interesting.

An invitation to the public has been extended. There is no admission charge.

The weekly concerts have been attracting large crowds of music lovers from Lubbock and the surrounding territory for the 15th season. The crowds this summer have been larger than usual, with the largest one attending the night of June 29, when Director Wiley presented and named the current "mystery tune" on ABC's "Stop the Music" program.

game fish," said the doctor.

"If they're biting today, I ought to catch one in three casts." He made about three dozen casts. Several nibbles but no bites.

"I don't care if they don't bite. It's so wonderful just to be here."

Dr. Newton said he planned a 30 to 60-day rest. "I have to get that weight back," he said ruefully. Then he'll go back to work in the 50-bed hospital he established here.

"I have paid society a debt I never owed, but I bear no malice toward anyone. There is no place in life for revenge. I know I can find my place again as a physician and surgeon."

Child Welfare Unit Voted County Funds

County commissioners court at its Monday session authorized donation of $650 from the county general fund to the Child Welfare unit of the state welfare program in Lubbock county.

The funds, which will match a similar donation from the City of Lubbock, will aid the program the remainder of the year.

Judge Walter Davies voted for the proposal, to untie a vote of two ayes and two noes. Commissioners R. O. Short and Pat Corley supported the proposal, and Commissioners Ben Mansker and Ottis Isom opposed it.

In addition, the court approved expenditure of $3,441.62 for parts and repairs for county machinery, rightofway for highway 87 northeast of Lubbock and on estimate number one of a contract for light fixtures and wiring for the county courthouse.

Other business transacted was of routine significance, court officials said.

Sales Draw Crowds

ment said it was too early to report in detail about dollar sales.

Another downtown department store, which began its clearance several days ago, said the day had been "very good" and reported sales up 25 to 35 per cent over the same period last year.

S. & Q. Clothiers reported a "pretty good day." The management said that while Monday was not abnormally better than most dollar days, it had been better than most days this past month. Sales volume and store traffic were up.

Voters Offer Suggestions For Improving National Conventions

BY GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., July 12—If the Democratic Party is anxious to please the general public during this week's nominating convention, it can get some valuable tips from voter reactions to the way the Republicans ran their convention two weeks ago.

A nationwide Institute survey among representative voters of varying political affiliations suggest that future convention managers wishing to escape unfavorable public opinion might consider these steps:

1. Cut the length of the convention, or try to eliminate all appearances of wasted time and confusion.

2. Limit the time alloted to all speakers, but most particularly the keynoter and the nominators.

3. Avoid appearances of extravagance and wasteful spending of money.

4. Advise speakers to spend less time on attacking other parties and more time on constructive proposals of their own party, and avoid tiresome repitition in speeches.

5. Eliminate long stretches when apparently no important business is being conducted by the delegates, and avoid appearance of behind-the-scene activities.

These tips are based on the things that voters say they liked least about the convention proceedings after reading about them in newspapers or listening to radio and television broadcasts. The most vehement comments of critical voters were saved for the length and content of the speeches.

Large numbers of American voters took advantage of the unusually heavy coverage of the convention to keep informed on what was happening in Philadelphia. Voters in today's survey were asked:

"Did you happen to read about the convention?"

Yes, most of it	20%
Yes, only part of it	44
No, not any of it	36

The percentage of voters throughout the country witnessing parts of the convention on television, of course, includes those watching in taverns, hotels, restaurants and other public places, as well as in homes.

"Did you happen to listen on the radio to the Republican Party Convention in Philadelphia?"

Yes, most of it	24%
Yes, only part of it	50
No, not any of it	26

"Did you happen to see any part of it on television?"

Yes	4%
No	96
