Maneuver Of Lunar Craft Works Well

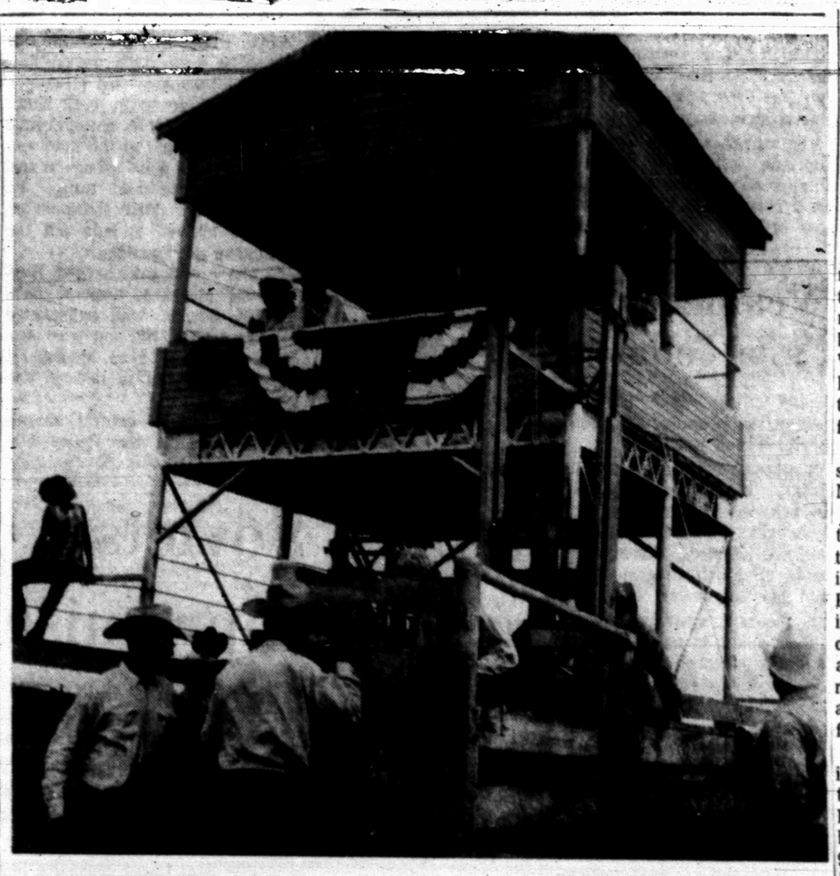

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —Ground controllers today triggered a tiny gas jet aboard America's Lunar Explorer spacecraft and successfully changed its pointing direction as it sped on course toward an orbit around the moon.

"The maneuver worked beautifully," said National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials as the radiation-studying mooncraft passed the three quarter mark in its 25,608-mile trip through space.

The windmill-shaped craft, officially named Explorer 35, was launched Wednesday from Cape Kennedy. It is to trigger a retro-rocket about 5:30 a.m. (EDT) Saturday to swing it into an orbit around the moon ranging between 800 and 4,500 miles over the lunar surface.

There, for the next two to three years, sensors aboard the 230-pound payload were to study cosmic dust, magnetic fields and potential radiation hazards facing moon-bound astronauts. No camera is aboard.

Today's maneuver adjusted the spacecraft's orientation slightly to change the direction of the retro-motor, aiming Explorer 35 toward an orbit where its experiment sensors have the best viewing angles, officials said.

Three MIGs Are Downed

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese and South Korean troops reported killing 380 Communist soldiers in two savage battles Friday while, over North Vietnam, American carrier pilots blasted three MIGs from the sky and probably downed a fourth.

The aerial action was the first significant dogfight over the North in six weeks.

South Vietnamese headquarters said an elite airborne battalion killed 240 enemy soldiers in northernmost Quang Tri Province along the coastal plain in a fight with what was evidently a Communist battalion of about 500 men. The Communists were reported to have abandoned 89 weapons on the field.

About 100 miles to the south in coastal Binh Dinh Province, troopers of South Korea's White Horse Division overran jungle headquarters of the Viet Cong's 95th Regiment and reported killing 140 guerrillas. They captured 70 weapons.

The Koreans were still in pursuit of scattered guerrilla forces at last report. They said their losses were light.

The South Vietnamese did not announce their casualties.

Heavy Communist weapons losses in both fights indicated clear-cut victories for the allies.

U.S. Command announced two American coastal amphibious assaults to seek out Communist units which have avoided battle for 11 days. The landings were in the Mekong delta and just below the demilitarized zone.

Two American Crusader jets were shot up in the air battle 20 miles north of Haiphong but made it safely back to the carrier Bon Homme Richard in the Tonkin Gulf 130 miles off the North Vietnamese coast.

It was the first big air battle since the North Vietnamese virtually grounded their air force six weeks ago after losing five jets within three days. Eight MIGs came out last Wednesday but fled when fired on by Air Force pilots.

The Navy Crusader pilots were flying cover ahead of other jets coming in to attack a fuel dump when about eight MIG17s "popped up out of the clouds."

For the next seven minutes the opposing fliers—each group numbered about eight planes—criss-crossed the skies with rockets and cannon fire.

The American pilots reported that they saw three of the MIG pilots eject from stricken planes. They believed a fourth pilot also ejected but this claim remained a "probable" pending evaluation of gun films aboard the Bon Homme Richard.

The MIGs were felled by heat-seeking Sidewinder missiles and 20mm cannon fire from the Crusaders. Two of the Crusaders flew back to the carrier with gaping holes evidently caused by the MIGs' 20mm cannon, but none of the American pilots was hit.

The Navy fliers credited with kills were Cmdr. Marion "Red" Isaacks of Redding and San Diego, Calif., Lt. Cmdr. Robert Kirkwood, Fall River, Mass., and Lt. Cmdr. Ray Hubbard Jr. of Poway, Calif. Lt. (J.G.) Philip W. Dempewolf of Bellevue, Iowa, was credited with the probable.

It was the first such credit for all the pilots except Hubbard who now has one confirmed kill and two MIGs damaged.

Despite the battle overhead, other Skyhawk pilots from the Bon Homme Richard pressed ahead with their raid on the fuel dump at Ta Xa. There was no immediate assessment of damage nor any announcement of planes downed.

In the ground war, the U.S. Command announced that an America Marine battalion of about 1,000 men went ashore from assault boats about 20 miles below the 17th Parallel between North and South Vietnam, while a similar U.S. Army force was landed in the Mekong delta paddyfields of Long An Province about 20 miles southeast of Saigon.

Both landings took place Thursday morning but the announcement was withheld for 24 hours for security reasons.

Silver Coins Withdrawn

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government quietly is withdrawing from circulation some of the old dimes and quarters containing 90 per cent silver.

They could be pumped back in during the Christmas shopping rush this year.

Officials say they have no plans to recall the 90 per cent silver coins in the wake of a Treasury Department decision to free the price of silver from its four-year level of $1.29 an ounce.

They described the new move as a contingency to handle any emergencies which might occur late this year or during 1968.

No announcement of the withdrawal into a coin stockpile has been made but officials said it's been going on for some time.

When silver coins find their way back to a Federal Reserve Bank in their normal course of circulation, officials said, they are held in reserve rather than recirculated.

The new copper-nickel sandwich coins — less likely to be set aside by collectors — are circulated instead.

One official gave three reasons for the move:

— To insure a stockpile of coins for possible use during the upcoming Christmas season when the demand for coins reaches its yearly peak.

— To gather a stockpile of silver should the Treasury need it to redeem silver certificates before the redemption deadline next June 30.

— To make certain enough silver is available to satisfy the strategic stockpile quota of 165 million ounces.

Officials emphasize they believe enough new type coins are available to satisfy needs but want an extra safety valve just in case.

The price of silver shot this week to more than $1.80 an ounce after the Treasury last Friday stopped selling it to private industry at $1.29. It now is selling up to 2 million ounces weekly to industry at the going market price.

The idea in maintaining the price of silver at $1.29 was to preserve the coinage. But officials said enough of the silverless coins now are available to satisfy needs if the silver content coins should disappear from circulation.

With the price of silver exceeding $1.80 an ounce the old dimes and quarters are worth more in silver than their face value. The melting point — the price at which the silver content equals the face value — is $1.38 an ounce for the old dimes, quarters and half dollars and $1.29 for silver dollars.

But since half dollars still are in short supply there is little use in trying to stockpile them.

The Treasury has barred the melting, treating or export of silver coins as another safety factor. This offense can be punished by a maximum $10,000 fine and five years in jail.

Eligibility Is Restored

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Office of Education has restored the eligibility for federal financial assistance for new programs to 32 Southern school districts which have agreed to substantial desegregation next fall. One is Groesbeck in Central Texas.

Other districts are in Arkansas, Georgia, Mississippi, the Carolina and Alabama. Included are 13 in Alabama which have arranged new school desegregation plans under court order.

The Office of Education said 446 school districts in 17 Southern and Border states have completely abolished dual school systems since the summer of 1966.

There are 4,878 school districts in these states. Now 3,187 have the unitary system, with no separate schools, 227 are desegregating under court orders and 1,464 are desegregating under voluntary plans.

New War Minister Named By Nasser

CAIRO (AP)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser appointed a new war minister today.

He is Amin Howeidi, 45, considered tough and hard-working, and his appointment was viewed as evidence of Nasser's announced intention to "carry on against Israel and its Western backers" until all Arab territory held by Israel is regained.

First Rodeo Performance Lively Despite Damp Arena

Despite muddy conditions, an enthusiastic band of cowboys gave fans plenty of thrills Thursday night during the opening performance of the Thirty - first annual Scurry County Rodeo.

The opening performance, originally scheduled for Wednesday night, was postponed until last night due to heavy rains. Water left the arena muddy and the footing was slippery. Despite these conditions, several respectable times were posted.

Only one rider scored points in the bareback bronc event with Slim Berry of Tulia staying on Yo-Yo, a kicking, twirling horse, for a score of 49. Other riders in this event include Joe Don Falker of Abilene, Charles Bell of Snyder, Gary Ward of Odessa and Butch Wimberly of Abilene.

The broncs were wild enough and gave the cowboys plenty of trouble trying to remain in the saddle. Stock producer is Red Whatley of Crosbyton.

Gary Wood of Odessa took the lead in the bull riding contest with a score of 54 points. Runnerup was Jack Bearden of Lamesa. He scored 48 points. Third place in the standings is held by Tony A. Clark of Midland with 46 points.

Conny Gibbs of Winters turned in a fast 16.7 to take the lead in the calf roping contest, and was in a close second with 17.9. Rufus Hart of Snyder lassoed his animal and tied it up in 20.2 for third place.

Times of other calf ropers: Edwin Parks, Snyder, 20.3; Ronnie Brunson, Crosbyton, 20.5; Dennis Hill, Breckenridge, 22.8; and Bob Clements, Dalhart, 27.8.

There were no times posted for rour ropers: Hunter Mann of Colorado, Kenny Hart and Floyd Payne, both of Snyder, and Harold Green of Hobbs, N. M.

Times in the girls barrel race will not count due to the muddy condition of the field. Jo Lene Glegham of Lubbock recorded the best time — at 20.7. She was only two-tenths of a second faster than Snyder's Connie Springer, who posted a 20.9. Marie Voss of Snyder was timed in 21.5.

Other unofficial scores in the barrel race: Jenny Voss, Snyder, 21.9; Gladys Pinkert, Ropes, 22.5; Jo Myers, Post, 24.1; and, Donna Parks, Snyder, 27.4.

Dwayne Fagan of Snyder won the wild mare race over two other contestants, and Doug Arnold of Snyder took top honors in the goat sacking contest. His partner is Bobby Wall. These were two special events held in addition to the regular events.

Mike Stevens of Gail grabbed the lead in the yearling tie down with 17.7 seconds, and Bill Preston of Loraine was a distant second with a time of 33.7. Third place in the standings is held by Lawson Hart of Aspermont with a 68.1. He beat the animal out of the chute.

Three contestants in the tie-down did not record times: Dick Hart of Snyder, Roy Beavers of Sweetwater, and Ronnie Brunson of Crosbyton.

The stockholders roping event attracted 11 entries, and Snyder's Joe Rollings turned in a respectable 13.8 clocking to take the lead. He was almost seven seconds faster than runnerup Buster Dickey, also of Snyder, who was timed in 20.7.

Times of other contestants in the stockholders roping event: Floyd Payne, Post, 21.1; Rufus Hart, Snyder, 27.0; Sidney Johnson, Snyder 30.4 (beat animal out of gate), Riley Miller, Snyder, 30.6, Jerry Springer, Snyder, 35.4; G. B. Williams, Snyder, 38.4 (calf came untied); Mike Stevens, Gail, 43.9; Brent Murphy, no time; and Roy Beavers, no time.

Rodeo officials predicted a bigger crowd tonight for the second performance of the 4-day rodeo.

As usual, there will be a dance in the pavillion at the conclusion of the performances.

Patrolman Held In Slaying Case

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — Alfred P. White, 37, a 14-year veteran of the Highway Patrol, was held without bond today in the Taylor County jail awaiting grand jury action on a charge he beat his wife to death.

Police refused to tell newsmen more than a sketchy outline of the case, citing "guidelines laid down by the U. S. Supreme Court in the Miranda, Estes, and Sheppard cases."

White was arrested in Austin late Thursday, taken before Justice of the Peace Bob Kuhn and advised of his rights, and driven 216 miles to Abilene.

He was accused of murdering his wife, Mrs. Joyce White, 3, last Friday night. Police had reported earlier that two Negroes beat both the Whites and only Tuesday a reward fund was begun for the arrest and conviction of her slayer.

The couple's son Scottie, 14, was visiting in Dallas at the time of the slaying.

White was booked into the city jail Thursday night, fingerprinted and photographed, then taken to the county jail. Justice of the Peace Henry F. Long of Abilene denied bond.

It was not known immediately when the 42nd District Court grand jury will meet. Lawyer A. L. Rhodes said he would represent White "for the time being."

The Department of Public Safety in Austin declined to say whether White had undergone a lie detector test. A spokesman said only that he joined the department in 1953 and was stationed at Beaumont and Eastland before coming to Abilene.

White had reported to police that he and his wife were beaten by two men, one weighing about 200 pounds and another described as tall and thin. He said both were Negroes.

Capt. George W. Sutton, Abilene police criminal investigation chief, had said the Whites were attacked after coming home from a 11 p.m. movie. Sutton said Mrs. White went into the bedrom, turned on the lights, screamed and her husband ran to her aid.

The police captain said at the time that the house was not ransacked, but about $25 was taken from White's wallet. Sutton also said the Whites were beaten with lengths of pipe which had been taped to form a handle.

White was taken to a hospital in what was described as a groggy and semiconscious condition. It was reported Saturday that he was in "satisfactory" condition.

Police Chief Warren Dodson of Abilene filed the complaint against White. Dodson said further information was not being made public so nothing will "affect the rights of the man being tried."

White arrived in Abilene Thursday evening wearing an open, checked shirt and said nothing to the newsmen and photographers. He was whisked into the jail without handcuffs.

Congress Shows Its Anger

By CARL P. LUEBSDORF

WASHINGTON (AP) — "This Congress may be regarded in history as the angry Congress," one Democratic House member said this week — and worried administration floor leaders could begin to fear he's right.

Action taken by the House on three bills this week, added to the slim record of the last seven months, sounded still another warning that the Johnson administration is in deep legislative trouble, especially in the House.

Some Democrats have talked seriously about finishing up necessary appropriations business and adjourning, but three big fights lie ahead — antipoverty, foreign aid and taxes.

The first two are "must" administration bills if the programs are to continue at all. The last, President Johnson indicated this week, is in almost the same category although it could be put off util 1968.

The comment about the angry temper of Congress came from Rep. John G. Dow, D-N.Y., who was making a vain effort to stem passage Wednesday of the so-called antiriot bill, which members pushed through 347 to 70.

Less than 24 hours later they turned on a $40-million administration proposal to help cities exterminate rats and voted 207 to 176 against even bringing it up for debate.

It marked the first time since 1961 the House refused consideration of a measure by rejecting the resolution from the Rules Committee setting terms of the debate. In 1961, the measure was an emergency school aid bill.

Tuesday, Republicans scored another success when they succeeded for the second time this year in amending an appropriations bill with their pet amendment to restrict expenditure of funds to 95 per cent of the amount appropriated.

The amendment was attached to the bill providing money for the new Department of Transportation. Its effect was unclear, since some of the money in the bill is for future years, but it demonstrated gain the increased GOP punch in the 90th Congress.

The antiriot bill approved Wednesday also was passed last year, but as part of a civil rights bill which later died in the Senate. It was forced to the floor by a bipartisan combination of Rep. William Cramer, R-Fla., its chief sponsor, and Chairman William Colmer, D-Miss., of the Rules Committee.

It sets stiff penalties for persons who cross state boundaries with intent to incite riots. Colmer told the House recent racial rioting is due to an "organized conspiracy" which he said is backed by "the Communists" who "have the most to gain in this kind of anarchy and unlawfulness."

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y. of the Judiciary Committee, who tried in vain to keep the bill bottled up, asserted that rioting results from the Negro's "disenchantment as to promises made but not fulfilled, the dreary slow pace by which he achieves equality."

All but a handful of Republicans and a majority of Democrats supported the bill.

Republicans and Southern Democrats teamed Thursday to block the rat eradication bill.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I decided after many years to refurnish our home. I am now in the midst of it and am quite pleased with the results so far, but I've encountered a problem.

My decorator makes uncalled for advances toward me when he comes to my home and also at his shop when no one is around. He is a very unattractive middle-aged family man.

I prefer not to change decorators at this point, but I am getting tired of ducking and dodging and avoiding his pinches and pats. Please don't advise me to put him in his place as it won't work. And don't suggest I report him to his boss, as he owns the studio.

VALLEY CLIENT

DEAR CLIENT: For you to go on ducking, dodging, and using fancy footwork to escape the clutches of this self-styled Casanova-type merchant is ludicrous. Stop playing games and tell him to keep his mind on his business or you will take your business elsewhere. I guarantee you from that time on with him.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter (I'll call her Nellie) is 24 and plans to marry a "handyman." He makes his living from jobs provided by relatives — stacking grocery shelves, running errands, etc.

He is pouty, sullen, discourteous, and egotistical. He attended college but flunked out.

Nellie is the private secretary to an executive and draws a good salary. She has over $6,000 saved, is intelligent, nice looking, and well-liked. She could have her pick of many nice young men, but what she sees in this dud we will never know.

Our pastor tried to talk some sense into her head, but he got nowhere. She says she "loves" him. How can we keep her from making the biggest mistake in her life by going thru with this marriage?

WORRIED PARENTS

DEAR PARENTS: You can't. So don't try. "Love" with some people is a mental illness which doesn't respond to logic. If this is a "mistake" she will have to make it and learn the hard way. Let's hope her "handyman," with Nellie's help, turns out better than you think he will.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: We have recently become friendly with a couple who are strict vegetarians. They are very quiet about it, and don't try to talk other people into it, which we respect and admire.

When we entertain at home and include our vegetarian friends, we always have plenty of vegetables and fruits along with meat and fish for those who are not vegetarians. We've never made an issue of it, but this is the way our vegetarian friends seem more comfortable.

Well, we came in for a great deal of criticism from a CLERGYMAN, mind you. He said when vegetarians are guests, the host should serve NO meat or fish as vegetarians would be offended at the sight of others eating it. Are we wrong?

WILLING TO LEARN

DEAR WILLING: After checking this out with the authorities (some of my best friends are vegetarians) they unanimously agree that they PREFER their hosts to serve normally, and let each guest select what he wishes.

Cypriots Exchange Fire In Village

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Greek and Turkish Cypriots exchanged fire for more than three hours late Thursday night at the village of Ayios Theodoros in southern Cyprus.

The shooting, which sometimes was heavy, continued until early today, when the U.N. peace force arranged a cease-fire.

A U.N. spokesman said no casualties were reported on either side. He said it was believed the shooting was between villagers and that no regular troops took part.

Three Firms OK Rubber Contract

CLEVELAND (AP) — It's three down and two to go, a United Rubber Workers spokesman said Thursday after the union and Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. agreed to a tentative three-year contract.

Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. and Uniroyal resumed bargaining with the URW today in Cincinnati. The two companies employ about 43,000 workers.

Firestone, B. F. Goodrich Co. and General Tire & Rubber Co. all settled within one week for the same basic contract, setting a pattern that could be followed by the last two firms.

A Firestone spokesman said it was the "largest package negotiated in 30 years."

If it is ratified, the company said 17,000 production workers in 11 plants will go back to work as rapidly as facilities can be reopened and schedules established.

The Firestone settlement came in the 91st day of the strike, longest in the industry's history. Firestone, Goodrich and Uniroyal were struck April 24, General on June 22 and Goodyear July 13.

The hourly wage hike in the Firestone settlement is 43 cents over three years, with skilled workers getting an extra 10 cents the first year. The top hourly rate is now $3.88. The contract expires April 20, 1970.

No date has been set for ratification, a union spokesman said. The company said it would be handled by individual locals at Firestone plants.

There was an increase also to 80 per cent of normal pay for supplement benefits to laid off workers, six weeks vacation after 40 years service and five weeks after 22 years.

In the pension area, the contract calls for an increase of $1.50 a month, times years of service, for those now on retirement and an increase of $2.25 to a credit of $5.40 monthly, also times years of service, for future retirees.

There was a $1,000 increase to $7,500 in company-paid life insurance and hospital expense payments for two years instead of the former one year, plus a $10-a-week increase in sickness and accident insurance.

Operations at General's Akron plant were resumed Thursday after about 1,500 members voted 4-1 Wednesday to accept the contract. Another 1,200 workers at the firm's plant in Waco, Tex., will vote Saturday.

On Sunday, 12,000 Godrich employes will decide on the contract.

Firestone has plants in Akron, Ohio; New Castle and Noblesville, Ind.; Los Angeles and Salinas, Calif.; Pottstown, Pa.; Decatur and Bloomington, Ill.; Memphis, Tenn.; Fall River, Mass., and Des Moines, Iowa.

Weather Is Calm Today

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Texas weather calmed today. It also turned warmer.

Violent thunderstorms slacked off after raging through several sections of the state the past few nights. There were still occasional showers, however, in parts of North Central Texas and near the coast.

A pleasant spell of unusual July coolness in northern areas of Texas appeared at end. Overnight readings stayed up again, and thinning clouds were expected to let the mercury climb during the day.

Morning fog blanketed much of the Panhandle and covered most of East Texas from the Red River to the Gulf. Skies were clear to partly cloudy.

Minimum temperatures ranged from a cool 62 degrees at Dalhart high in the Panhandle up to 80 at Corpus Christi on the Gulf.

Rainfall amounts for the 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. included: Galveston 1.16 inches; Palacios 1.12; Alpine 1.02; College Station .98; and Beaumont Port Arthur .85.

Top marks Thursday failed to reach 100—a rare circumstance for this time of year. Laredo was the warmest spot with a high of 96 degrees and Alpine the coolest with a maximum of 74.

200-Pound Boulder Separates Couple

REEDPORT, Ore. (AP) — Something came between a Fairview, Okla., man and his wife while they were vacationing in Oregon—a 200-pound rock.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Winter, both in their 50s, were driving along the Pacific Ocean near Reedsport Wednesday when the boulder fell down a steep embankment, crashed through the top and windshield of their car, and landed between them on the front seat. Winter suffered a scratched hand. His wife suffered from shock. Policeman Darrell Jolley Jr., said, "If they'd been newlyweds, one of them would certainly have been killed."

Report Soviets Urge Compromise

By WILLIAM N. Oatis

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union was reported trying to persuade Arab nations today to accept a U.S.-supported compromise linking the withdrawal of Israeli occupation forces with the end of the Arabs' 19-year-old state of war against Israel. But the Arabs, led by Syria and Algeria, were reported adamantly resisting the Soviet pressure.

The 122-nation General Assembly, seeking agreement on a resolution before it ends its five-week emergency session on the Middle East crisis, was to meet this afternoon. Some diplomats expected another quick adjournment until Saturday or Monday to give the compromise efforts more time.

East European sources said the Russians were attempting to reach a compromise on the basis of a modification of the Latin-American resolution they rejected earlier. It called for Israel to pull its troops out of Egypt, Jordan and Syria if the Arabs ended their state of belligerency, and informed sources said the revised draft preserved the principle of reciprocity.

Despite the reported Soviet reversal and the Arabs' dependence on the Russians to make up their losses in the June 5-10 war, diplomats said Algeria and Syria were holding out for an assembly demand for unconditional withdrawal of Israeli forces. This along with the Latin-American resolution failed on July 4 to muster the two-thirds majority necessary for approval.

In Tel Aviv, informed sources said Soviet arms shipments to Egypt to replace losses in the war have included limited numbers of the new MIG23 and Sukhoi9 fighters, as well as about 200 earlier models of the aircraft and quantities of tanks and artillery. Israeli estimates put Egyptian plane losses at about 500.

In London, where reports of Soviet wishes for a compromise between Arabs and Israelis arrived from various capitals, British officials appeared convinced that the Soviet military replacements are likely to be far below the level needed for any new Arab campaign.

The Suez Canal cease-fire line was quiet again Thursday.

Percy Has Exciting Day

SHERBORNE, England (AP) — Percy, the racing pigeon, left by the wrong door when the inmates of his loft were released for their daily flight and flew into the jaws of a terrier.

Minus a feather or two, he made a quick getaway into another home Thursday, where the housewife was doing the family wash.

She screamed, and Percy nosedived into the washing machine.

Round and round went Percy and the wash. But the bird managed to keep his head above water.

He was retrieved, balder, cleaner and mostly unharmed to dry out in the sun.

They All Prefer Farm Boys

By ANGELA PENNA

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — There may be more virtue to living down on the farm than meets the city-dweller's eye.

Girls seem to think so, anyway.

Some of the 10 finalists in the Texas Future Farmers of America (FFA) Sweetheart contest had this to say about farm boys:

—They make better dates than city slickers.

—They have higher moral values.

—They're more responsible.

The new sweetheart was to be named today in the closing session of the state FFA's 39th annual convention. New state officers also were to be named, as well as the winner of the public speaking contest.

"Boys in the FFA are decent," said one finalist. "I used to think they were just hicks until I began to see how worthwhile their lives are."

Perhaps some of the boys' attitudes have something to do with how the girls feel.

"I want to live out in the country where you can be alone and nobody rushes you," said FFA delegate George Shirley of Wilmer-Hutchins.

Wayne Foster of Arlington, asked if he planned to live in a city, replied: "Not if I can help it."

More than 4,500 high school FFA boys from all over Texas attended the three-day convention in the Dallas Memorial Auditorium.

Thursday, national FFA President Gary Swan of Jaspers, N.Y., told the delegates that agriculture was the "strength of America."

"I cannot believe we will ever satisfy ourselves with working in mass production, making only a part of something when we have never seen a whole," Swan said.

Ten farming, ranching and business associations presented numerous state awards to winners Thursday.

Many delegates said they planned to spend their lives as farmers if they can manage it.

"There'll always be a future for a farmer," said Ray Baugus of Lancaster.

The outgoing sweetheart, Susie Flahaven, 19, of Houston, had some rather harsh words for the lads from the big city.

"They seem to be trying for some kind of undefined sophistication, they seem superficial," she said.

His Routine Is Broken

Police dispatcher Gene Kirk normally lives a routine, quiet life. Not so Thursday.

He was off duty when he received word that assistance was needed in the north part of town to help chase down a man who fled when Sheriff's authorities tried to serve a warrant on him.

The suspect led officers a merry chase before Kirk located him hiding in a field. Kirk pointed his gun at the man and told him to quit trying to escape. At the same time, he sounded the alarm and other officers arrived to help put the man in the "hoosegow."

The warrant charged Raymond Medrano, General Delivery, Snyder, with aggravated assault. The warrant was issued in JP Court here. Medrano is in County Jail in lieu of $500 bond.

Kirk also is central records supervisor at the Police Station.

Roberts Auction Brings $200,000

KENNEBUNKPORT, Maine (AP)—Antiques, paintings and other items belonging to novelist Kenneth Roberts have brought more than $200,000 in three days of auction at his estate here.

In Thursday's final day of bidding an early French map of Benedict Arnold's expedition to Quebec was sold for more than $300. The map details the setting of one of Roberts' eight historical novels, "Arundel."

Art dealers and museum curators from throughout the country attended the sale, which ended just one day before the 10th anniversary of Roberts' death.

Roberts' niece, Mrs. Marjorie Ellis is beneficiary of the estate.

Car Fire Put Out

City Firemen answered a call to a car fire at 2407 Avenue S at 10 o'clock this morning.

Fire of undertermined origin burned the wiring under the hod of a 1962 Model Ford owned by H. J. Alsip of Odessa.

Tunnel Test Shows Error

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Wind tunnel tests indicate the National Aeronautics and Space Administration "has miscalculated the control spacemen would have over the Apollo spacecraft at the critical point it re-enters the earth's atmosphere," the Nashville Tennessean said today.

In a copyrighted story by science writer William Greenburg, the newspaper said the loss of control "means that the moon spacecraft's maneuvering ability would be cut, perhaps to a dangerous degree."

Results of the tests, conducted in a wind tunnel at Arnold Engineering Development Center in Tullahoma, Tenn., have been sent to the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston.

The tests, the Tennessean said, "will cause NASA to alter its computer projections of the Apollo's re-entry path."

It quoted a spokesman for the Houston center as saying refinements dictated by the test findings will not cause a major change in the lunar program.

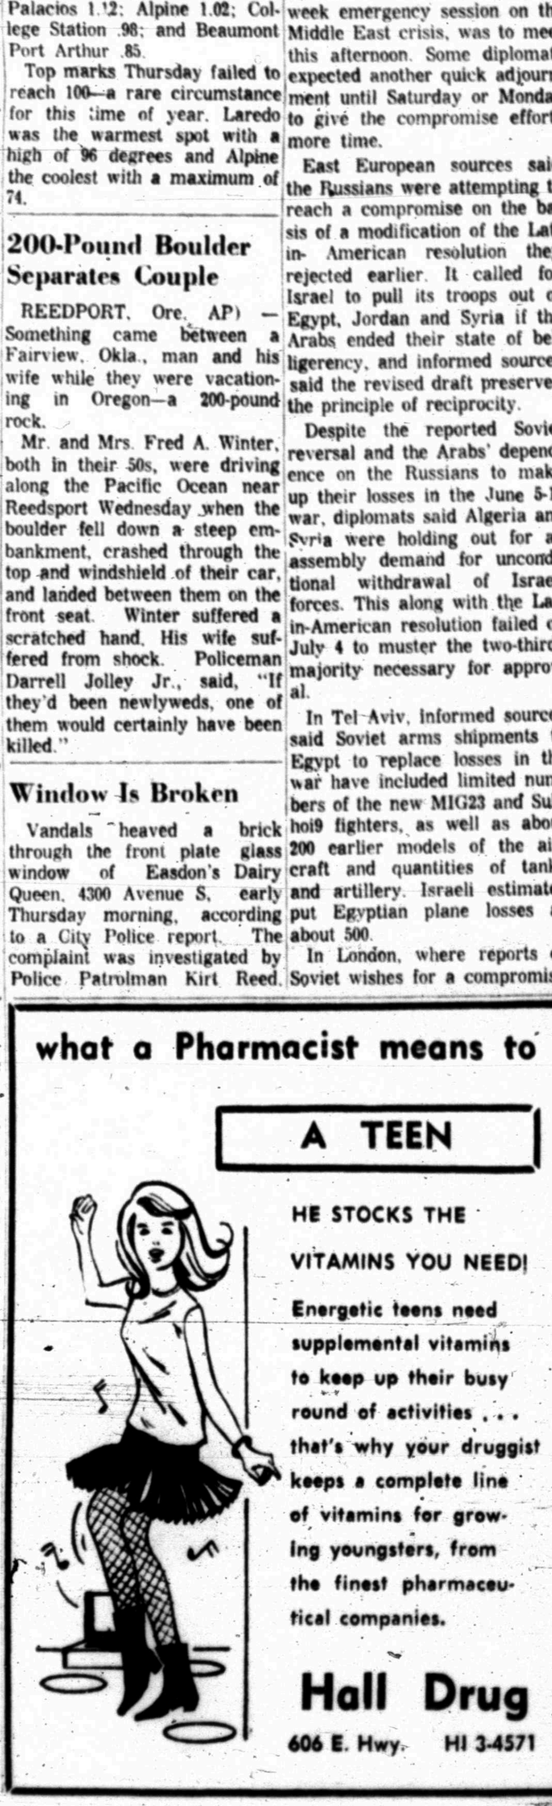

The Apollo moonshot program has come under criticism since a fire in an Apollo capsule at Cape Kennedy killed three astronauts earlier this year.

Rotary Club In Session Thursday

The Rotary Club held its regular weekly meeting at noon yesterday with the program presented by Jay Don Rogers, who gave a talk on communications.

Guests included Harvey Adams, Big Spring, L. M. Dawson, Fluvanna, Bill Ray, Abilene, and Paul Gilbert, Snyder.

President John Thomas gave a brief report on attendance standings in the district and challenged the club to obtain a better percentage.

REMEMBER WHEN eating outdoors meant only one thing — a picnic? With today's emphasis on leisure-time living, outdoor meals can mean anything, from a knapsack lunch on a wilderness trail to a lavish patio barbecue. But no matter what the occasion, try this new outdoor meal.

Zesty Menu For Outdoor Cooking

Potatoes, the world's most popular tuber vegetable, originated in the high plateaus of South America. The Spanish explorers introduced them to Europe, and they were brought to American by the early settlers. This versatile, nutritious vegetable is served in many ways and a new "outdoor" way is Zesty Grilled Potatoes! Cooked potatoes marinated in spicy salad dressing are grilled to crisp, golden-brown perfection over charcoal. They are a natural "mate" on the grill with everyone's favorite — grilled steak!

Grilled Steak originated on the western plains of North American and has since spread to many millions of backyard barbecues. You will find complete instructions on the popular art of barbecuing steak plus recipes for many other barbecue favorites, foods for cooking-afloat, ideas for camp cookery and even hunters' specialities.

Sizzling From The Grill

Charcoal-grilled Steak

Choose 1-, 1½-or 2 inch thick steak for best results. For each person, allow 1 pound of any steak with a bone, such as sirloin, porterhouse, club or T-bone; allow ½ pound of boneless cuts, such as tenderloin. For a small group, select individual steaks if your grill can accommodate all at once; if not order one large, very thick steak so everyone can start eating at the same time.

Trim excess fat from edge of steak; slash remaining fat at 2-inch intervals to prevent curling. Grill steak 4 inches from hot coals suggested time (see chart below). Handle steak with tongs (a fork releases juices). Season with salt and pepper turning and after removing from grill. Test doneness by making a knife slit alongside bone. Serve steak piping hot topped with Blue Cheese Topping (below) or spread with Sesame Buter (below).

Grilling Time for Each Side

Rare, 1 inch thick 4 to 5 minutes; 1½ inches thick 7 to 8 minutes; 2 inches thick 12 to 13 minutes.

Medium 1 inch thick 7 to 8 minutes; 1½ inches thick 10 to 12 minutes; 2 inches thick 15 to 7 minutes.

Well Done 1 inch thick 10 to 11 minutes; 1½ inches thick 14 to 5 minutes; 2 inches thick 22 to 25 minutes.

Blue Cheese Topping

Mix about 1 ounce blue cheese with about ¼ teaspoon Worchestershire sauce or bottled steak sauce.

Sesame Butter

Beat ¼ cup soft buter, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce and ½ teaspoon garlic salt until fluffy. Stir in 1 tablespoon toasted sesame seed.

Zesty Grilled Potatoes

4 medium unpared potatoes
½ cup bottled Italian dressing
1 teaspon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

Scrub potatoes: cook in skins just until tender, about 30 minutes. While hot, cut unpeeled potatoes diagonally into ½-inch slices. Place in shallow glass dish; pour dressing over hot slices. Let stand 1 hour, turning slices once. Remove potatoes from dressing; place potatoes on grill 3 inches from hot coals. Grill 8 to 10 minutes on each side until golden brown; season with salt and pepper after turning. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

The distinction of being the world's southernmost municipality is debated between Argentina's Ushuaia (population 3,900) and Chile's Puerto Williams (population 350), eight miles farther south. Argentinians concede Puerto Williams the title "southernmost town," and claim that Ushuaia is the "southernmost city."

There's No Cure For Deep Bite Of Presidential Bug

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—There's no telling where the presidential bug will bite but once it bites deeply there is practically no cure.

Richard M. Nixon, the former vice president who once ruled himself out of politics, is thinking of trying for the presidency in 1968.

It will be no surprise if New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller makes another stab at the Republican nomination although he, too, said he had given up all thought of it.

And Esquire magazine indicates even Harold E. Stassen may be thinking of the same thing.

These three Republicans have been around so long, eyeing the White House, or perhaps it only seems long, they're like an earlier generation of politicians. Yet, the oldest of them, Stassen, is only 60.

Two other Republicans most often mentioned as most likely prospects for their party's nomination—Govs. George Romney and Ronald Reagan—are in the same age bracket as the others but politically are like newcomers.

Romney, 60 and serving his second term as Michigan's governor, hasn't been mixed up in any presidential bids. He was a governor but not enough of a political figure in 1964 to be considered a contest for Barry Goldwater.

And Reagan, 56, only emerged as a politician in 1966 when he won California's governorship.

That the Republicans badly need fresh blood and new faces is pretty evident from the fact that only Romney and Reagan are being talked of seriously as candidates among the party's newcomers.

Stassen, more than any Republican in sight, seems unable to accept the thought his defeats and frustrations meant he was washed up long ago. But Nixon also was left by the wayside more than once. So was Rockefeller.

In its August issue Esquire describes Stassen, now a Philadelphia lawyer, as a heavy-built, lumbering man who keeps giving politicians of both parties, including President Johnson, his ideas in endless letters and is deeply grateful for any recognition, even from a stranger on the street.

He wasn't always lumbering. He was a very nimble politician once, starting at 22, right after he got out of school, when he was twice elected a district attorney in Minnesota. Starting at 31, he was elected governor three times.

He was called the "Boy Wonder" in those days. He tried for the Republican presidential nomination in 1948 but didn't have a chance. He tried again in 1952 but was drowned out by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and then went to work in Eisenhower's administration. Things really went sour for him after that.

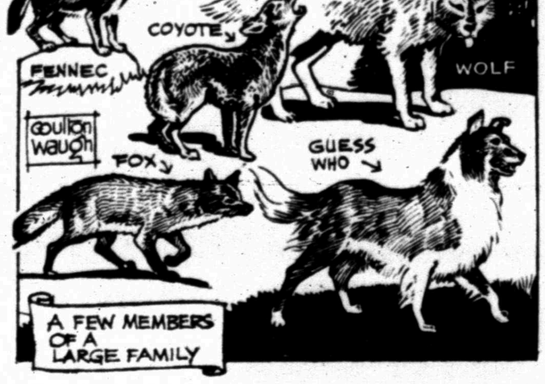

In 1956 he tried to block Nixon's vice presidential renomination. That turned into a farce. He only angered Republican leaders. Then he tried for the Pennsylvania governorship, and lost in 1958. Undiscouraged, he tried for the Philadelphia mayor's job, and lost again.

But Esquire says that to the question of the 1968 Presidential nomination Stassen's response was: "I do not rule it out."

Nixon, now 54, was pretty nimble, too. He got himself elected to the House at 33, to the Senate at 37, and to the vice presidency at 39. After two terms in that job Nixon and the Republicans thought he was a natural to suceed Eisenhower in the presidency. But when he tried for it in 1960 John F. Kennedy beat him by a whisper.

Apparently unwilling to believe this had significance, Nixon tried for the governorship of California in 1962 and lost again. In an ugly mood he told reporters: "You won't have Nixon to kick around any longer."

Junior Editors Quiz on WOLVES

QUESTION: What is the difference between a wolf, a coyote and a dog?

* * *

ANSWER: The dog family as a whole is called by the scientists Canis. The scientific Latin name of the wolf is Canis lupus, of the coyote Canis latrans, and of the dog Canis familiaris. You can see that these dog-like animals are all closely related. The dog family may have descended from such an ancient mammal as Cynodictis, whose picture we show. A later ancestor was Tomarctus, looking very much like a wolf. Indeed, wolves are the most characteristic members of the family. The coyote is a smaller wolf. The dog is thought to have originated from wolf cubs having been domesticated by cavemen. But, because they are wild, wolves and coyotes continue with little change in appearance. Man has deliberately bred his dogs to develop different characteristics, which fit them for different purposes. Consequently there are many dog varieties, large and small. We picture the fennec and fox as examples of other wild dogs, of which there are quite a few. Keen intelligence, a remarkable sense of smell and physical stamina have made members of the dog family highly successful.

Pavement Plato Has Some Gems

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "Dear Pavement Plato:

"Everybody has been knocking women lately, as if to be one were almost against the law.

"All we hear every day is how bad we are. We are accused of pampering ourselves, henpecking our husbands, and spoiling our children.

"Surely we aren't altogether bad. We must have some nice qualities. Why doesn't someone tell us what they like about us for a change? That might even inspire us to try to be better. Modern Eve".

Not a bad idea, Eve. Woman must have some good qualities or she wouldn't have managed to remain the apple of man's eye since the Garden of Eden.

But what are they? It's hard to say. What one man finds appealing in a woman another man may find upsets his digestion.

However, at the risk of being regarded as a traitor in some quarters, here are some of the things I like about women:

Most of them no longer sweep dirt under the living-room rug, as they now have vacuum cleaners.

Some of them are fun to walk behind and look at when a fellow doesn't have any big, important world problem on his mind.

They may whimper about small annoyances, but they are as strong as granite under real adversity.

If a big lie is needed to save a social situation, they can tell one without batting an eye.

Merely by the way they throw a baseball they can give a man a vast feeling of superiority.

It is amazing how many things they can keep cooking on a kitchen stove and still manage to get them all done at the same time.

When you take one of them to a restaurant, she can give you sound advice on whether it is better to eat the cantaloupe a la mode with a fork or a spoon.

If your child gets a runny nose, your wife will generally wipe it rather them ask you to. You simply can't beat them for many small chores like this around the house.

A nomely man becomes bitter and full of secret self-pitty about his homeliness, but a homely woman is always sure that there is something beautiful about her. And this is true.

Woman is a wiser animal than man. As a man becomes more knowledgeable through experience, he comes to distrust his instincts. A woman rarely does. She retains a blind faith in her instinctual wisdom, which she calls intuition, and there are occasons in life when this gift of nature is a better guide than the precepts taught by experience.

When it comes to getting a button sewed on, there is nothing like a dame.

They tend to be forgiving. No matter how shabbily a man has treated a woman, if she loves him he can melt her anger into fondness with the surprise gift of a handful of flowers — or even a mink coat.

Benny Hollis Cuts Down Tying Run As Americans Advance In Playoffs

By TERRY WILLIAMSON

SNYDER —Never did two teams play so bravely, and never did two teams deserve to win more, but when the fireworks had cleared Thursday in Towle Park, the American Little League All-Stars had won the right to represent Snyder in the national Little League playoffs.

American and National League fans will never forget two key plays that brought about the slim 9-8 victory for the Snyder representatives.

First in their minds will be a lofty fly ball that turned into a home run, and a perfect throw from centerfield that cut down the tying run at the plate.

The main story of the whole game has to begin in the end — the deciding sixth inning. It starts as a story in a fairy tale book, and the setting is a comfortable 7-4 lead for the National League.

Jimmy Brandon led off the inning with a walk and Benny Hollis was put in as a pinch runner. Kevin Jones was then safe at first base when the Nationals forced Hollis at second for the first out. Charles Anderson then struck out for the second man in the inning to bite the dust for the Americans. The stage was set.

Marvin McClanahan singled, Bobby Guzman singled, and Scotty Sullivan singled driving in McClanahan, and the score stood at 7-5 still in favor of the Nationals.

Daryl Stokes, the hero or the villian of our story depending on the way one looks at it, came to the plate. With two outs, losing pitcher, Tim Holder, worked the count to two balls and two strikes. There were two out and the Nationals were one pitch away from victory.

Stokes lofted a high fly ball that kept climbing, and by the time gravity played its role, the Americans had a 9-7 lead. Charles Cain struck out to end the inning.

This would have been fitting enough for any ending for a fairy tale, and it would seem that anything else could only be anticlimatic. But let's continue the story of the fantastic or fatal sixth, depending on how one looks at it.

Scotty Sullivan, winning pitcher for the Americans, seemed to have everything under control. He struck out Jim Fred Liner and Mark Hargrove flied out for the second out of the inning. Fireworks began again.

Jimmy Dyess reached first on an error by the American third baseman, Mark Bostick singled, and both runners advanced to second and third. Greg Godair was called on to run for Bostick.

Brett Bell walked to the plate with the tying runs in scoring position. Sullivan got two quick strikes on Bell. Bell then fouled off three more pitches, and Sullivan hadn't thrown a ball out of the strike zone to the National third baseman.

Bell then delivered a sharp single into centerfield. Dyess scored from third, and Godair was digging for the plate in a tie it or lose it situation.

Substitute centerfielder, Benny Hollis uncorked a perfect throw gunning down the tying run at the plate ending the game.

Both teams gave a hint of what was coming in the first inning when both scored two times, but the National League seemed to break the game open in the third inning when they recorded a four run out burst. Allen Knight, Dyess and Tommy Gardner led the way in the inning with three singles.

The American League bounced back in the fourth inning to regain some of the lost ground by scoring two more runs. Charles Cain and Tommy Welsh scored in the inning without the aid of a base hit. The National shortstop committed three errors in the frame.

The National League took a 7-4 lead in the bottom of the fourth on a home run by Dyess. The fifth was a scoreless inning for both teams, and again we are at the end of the story, which happens to be the beginning.

McClanahan pitched three and one-third innings for the Americans, but did not figure in the win. He allowed seven runs and six hits. He hit one batter and issued six walks. He struck out six batters. He was relieved by Sullivan in the fourth after Dyess connected for the homer.

Sullivan pitched two and two-thirds innings and received credit for the win. He struck out nine, allowed one run, two hits and issued a lone walk. He struck out nine National batters.

Holder, the losing pitcher, went the distance for the National League, and seemed smooth with the exception of the sixth inning. Nine runs scored while he pitched. Nine hits were recorded and he struck out 11 Americans.

The American League scored nine runs on nine hits and the National League scored eight runs on eight hits.

McClanahan led all batters at the plate as he recorded three hits in the game and he scored twice. Sullivan had two hits for the Americans.

Stokes, who virtually won the game for the Americans, had struck out three straight times against Holder before connecting for the home run. It was his first home run.

Knight and Dyess each had two hits and Dyess scored three times during the night, for the National League.

Snyder, C-City Meet Tonight

The Snyder Little League All-Stars will travel to Colorado City tonight for the second round of the district tournament at 7:30 p.m. The winner will advance in the Little League playoff chain.

The American League All-Stars, who defeated the National League last night 9-8, will be known as the Snyder Stars from here on out.

Colorado City dew a bye in the first round, and will meet Snyder tonight for the right to advance.

The winner of this game will meet the winner of the Ballinger, Winters, Colorado River tournament. Their game will also be played tonight. Ballinger drew a bye in the first round and is to meet the winner of Winters and Colorado River tonight.

Both winners of tonight's games will meet Saturday night. The playoffs are played on a single elimination basis. One loss will knock a team from the running, and the final national winner will not lose a game.

Manager H. G. Bishop, of the Snyder Stars used both of his ace pitchers in last night's wild affair, and it was not known at noon who would pitch for the Stars.

Scotty Sullivan and Marvin McClanahan will not be able to pitch under present Little League rules. If Snyder wins tonight, however, both will be ready for action in Saturday's battle.

Flames Play Tonight

The Snyder Flames will meet Big Spring at 8:30 tonight in Winston Park in a soft ball game.

Alma Smallwood will perform the pitching chores for the Flames and Johnnie Scott will complete the battery.

Brandt, Wilson Make Good Team For Houston Astros

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jacki Brandt already knows it is easier to hit for teammate Don Wilson than against him, and the rest of the National League hitters are quickly learning it, too.

Wilson, a rookie right-hander who pitched a no-hitter a month ago and a three-hitter 11 days ago, cut down New York on two hits Thursday night as the Houston Astros belted the Mets 7-0.

It was his third straight victory and while he has discouraged opposing hitters, his pitching has brought out the best n Brandt. The veteran reserve outfielder, hitting only .237, had six hits in 11 at bats with his only triple and homer and eight of his 10 runs batted in during those games.

"I don't know what it is, but I sure do well when he's pitching," Brandt said.

Brandt drove in four runs Thursday night with a sacrifice fly and the homer and added a double.

Another part-time performer, Gene Oliver, also had a good night, stroking three singles and a two-run homer as he led Philadelphia over Los Angeles 10-4.

League-leading St. Louis unleashed Julian Javier, Orlando Cepeda and Bob Tolan, who each homered, and whipped Cincinnati 7-3.

Pat Jarvis snapped the Chicago Cubs' five-game winning streak with a four-hitter that lifted Atlanta to a 2-1 victory, and Gaylord Perry broke his own six-game losing string by pitching San Francisco to a 6-1 triumph over Pittsburgh.

In the American League, Detroit humbled Washington 8-4 and Cleveland blanked the New York Yankee 4-0, Boston was rained out at Baltimore in the only other game scheduled.

Wilson, 22, now 7-5, allowed only singles by Ed Charles in the first inning and Larry Stahl in the ninth. He struck out nine.

Clippers Play Reds In Towle Park Tonight

The Snyder Clippers will play the Sweetwater Reds tonight in Towle Park at 8 p.m. In their last game of the Senior Teenage League.

The Clippers have already won the league championship, and they will participate in the Post Jaycee Tournament Tuesday before entering the playoffs later this month.

Snyder will play Shallowater in the first game of the Post Tournament. The Clippers have a 12-2 season record.

PRACTICE PUTTING — Ray Kizer (left) and Larry Anderson practice their putting in preparation for the annual City Golf Tournament to be held Saturday and Sunday at the Snyder Country Club course.

Tee Off In City Tourney Set Saturday

Tee off in the annual City Golf Tournament will be held at noon Saturday at Snyder Country Club.

Today is the last day for qualifying rounds in the medal play tournament. There will be 18 holes of play each day except the Championship Flight provides for 18 holes of play Saturday and 27 holes of play Sunday.

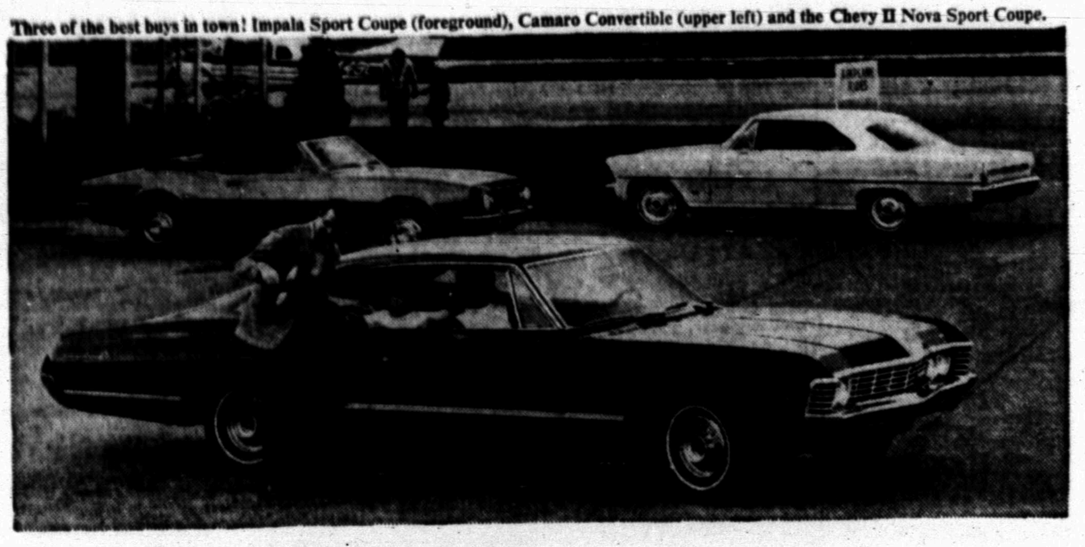

Entry fee for members is $7.50. For non-members, entry fee is $7.50 plus greens fees.

Golfers may use handicaps to be placed in flights in lieu of a qualifying round.

Don Copeland is the defending City champion.

A highlight of the tournament will be a barbecue Saturday night.

Blundering Soviets

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Western diplomats are not as surprised by the Soviet Union's failure to win the diplomatic battle at the United Nations over the Middle East as by the string of blunders that caused the Russians to lose the skirmishes as well as the war itself.

No one can recall a time when the Kremlin got into so many untenable positions and suffered so many rebuffs in any similar two-month period.

This raises some questions whether Soviet diplomat suddenly lost their touch, and if so who was to blame for the step-by-step lapses.

There has been widespread speculation that Nikolai T. Fedorenko was the central figure and that he may be replaced, but it would be an oversimplification to pin the whole thing on Moscow's delegate to the U.N.

At least part of the trouble can be traced to top-level officials in Moscow. Some of it stemmed from faulty intelligence and some from diplomatic necessity which required the Soviet Union to take losing positions.

Most U.N. officials don't think Fedorenko initiated the idea of the emergency session of the General Assembly, overriding the long-held Soviet doctrine that peacekeeping matters should be handled by the Security Council.

Since 1950 the Soviet Union had insisted that the "uniting for peace" procedure for calling emergency assembly sessions was illegal, but that is the way the current session was convened. This procedure was first proposed by the United States to get around persistent Soviet vetoes in the Security Council.

The decision on this seemed to be one for the highest level. This is true also on the personal participation of Premier Alexei N. Kosygin in the assembly session.

That is one reason why the failure of the Soviet Union to get a clear-cut assembly demand for the withdrawal of Israeli troops from Arab territory is a blow to the Russians and helps explain why they have kept Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in New York for more than four weeks trying to find a face-saving formula.

As the permanent representative of the Soviet Union at U.N. headquarters, Fedorenko was the man in the middle during most of the debate, and he was responsible for carrying out the Kremlin's decisions. It is generally agreed that his bitter attacks on Israel and his sniping at various individuals, including Secretary-General U Thant and three Security Council presidents, contributed to an unfavorable image presented by the Russians.

When the war broke out June 5, most council members were ready to vote an immediate cease-fire appeal. Fedorenko insisted that the appeal be linked with a demand for Israeli troops to pull back to their June 4 positions. The Soviet position apparently was based on intelligence reports which failed to show the extent of Egyptian military losses.

Eventually the Russians and the Arabs accepted the cease-fire resolutions without any call for troop withdrawals — but by that time Israeli troops had made further gains against Egypt and had inflicted heavy losses on Jordan and Syria as well.

The biggest single mistake made by the Russians, diplomats suggest, was to call the assembly into emergency session. They apparently believed they would win support for Soviet demands already rejected by the Security Council. These included condemnation of Israel and the immediate and unconditional withdrawal of Israeli forces from Arab territory. They first dropped their demand for condemnation and then agreed to a watered-down resolution on troop withdrawal, but they were unable to win the required two-thirds majority even then.

Arab sources express the belief that the Soviet Union was the biggest loser in the session because it staked Moscow's prestige on it. The Arabs, they say, came out at least as well off as they went in.

Ex-Child Star May Seek Office

WOODSIDE, Calif. (AP) — Shirley Temple Black is thinking seriously of running for Congress. The former child movie star expects to announce the decision within two weeks.

Mrs. Black, 39, a Republican, said Thursday she was considering entering a Nov. 14 special election race because State Sen. Richard J. Dolwig, Alberton attorney, had decided against running.

"He was my candidate," Mrs. Black said.

Gov. Ronald Reagan on Thursday set Nov. 14 the special election to fill the 11th district seat vacated by the death of Rep. J. Arthur Younger. He died June 10 in Washington of leukemia.

If no candidate wins a majority in the Nov. 14 voting, a runoff election will be held Dec. 12.

Three Republicans already have announced for the seat representing San Mateo County, immediately south of San Francisco on the San Francisco Peninsula.

Mrs. Black and her husband, Charles, are active in social and community affairs in the county and Woodside, wealthy suburban area. Black is a business executive. His late father headed Pacific Gas & Electric Co.

Rep. Pipkin Takes Post

AUSTIN (AP) — State Rep. Maurice Pipkin of Brownsville, a member of the legislature since 1953, will resign his seat to take the job of executive director of the state Judicial Qualifications Commission.

Chairman Spurgeon E. Bell of Houston announced Pipkin's appointment Thursday, and said he would assume his duties as head of the commission Sept. 1.

Pipkin, 59, is vice chairman of the House Appropriations Committee. He was educated at Texas A&I and the University of Texas. After a career as a teacher, football coach, Brownsville High School principal and dean of Texas Southmost College, he was admitted to the bar in 1957 and took up private law practice. He has served in the House since 1953.

The commission was created by the voters in 1965. It administers a program of compulsory retirement of district and appellate judges at age 75. The commission also is authorized to recommend to the state Supreme Court involuntary retirement for misconduct or permanent disability.

Teen Talk Moves Along

DETROIT (AP) — Bring your bod over tomorrow and we'll hop in my pig, catch the rays and have a boss time.

If that makes sense to you, then you're hip (which is an outdated word) to the latest in teen-age talk, which they call slanguate.

The bod is the body—yourself; the pig is a car that looks powerful but has a small engine; catching the rays is getting a suntan; and boss is the same as great.

A Detroit News survey of teen-age talk uncovered these gems, and more.

For example: "I'm weak means I'm shocked; bag it means forget it; freak means fine; jacked up means ruined; just can't cut it means just can't bear it.

If you're in your pig and you hang a Louie, you've just turned left, man. If you hang a Ralph, it's a right turn, hang a Sam is go straight and hang a Ulysses means make a U-turn.

If you understand it all, then you're groovy—which is what cool and neat used to mean.

Quaker Organization Plans 2nd Shipment To N. Viets

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religious Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — An American Quaker organization which recently transported a cargo of medical supplies to North Vietnam in defiance of the U. S. government today made known it will try to make another shipment soon.

"It's a matter of conscience," said Lawrence Scott, 58, the white-haired leader of the group. "When people are being harmed and are needing, it's a matter of conscience to help them, whoever they are."

Despite a tightening web of federal penalties and roadblocks, the undeterred task group is going ahead with its planning, gathering funds, screening volunteers, awaiting a go-ahead from the North Vietnam Red Cross.

"We're lining up a new boat crew," Scott said. The sponsoring unit, of which he is executive secretary, is called simply, "A Quaker Action Group," to indicate it is only one of various Quaker approaches to the situation.

It operates from a scuffed three-room office on the second floor of the old, red-brick 12th Street Quaker Meeting House in midtown Philadelphia. In an atmosphere of informal improvisation of cluttered mail, peace posters, ringing telephones and anticipation.

"I'm excited," said a tow-headed college boy when asked how he felt as a potential recruit for the intended new voyage into Haiphong. He's among about 40 who have offered their services for the outlawed mission, aimed at helping civilian war casualties.

It still is contingent on approval from North Vietnam, Scott said, adding that arrangements are being made through correspondence handled from abroad to avoid government interception. However, the sailing date is expected to be in late August.

Scott said the organization has chartered for a year's use the 50-foot U. S. ketch, Phoenix, which carried an initial $10,000 medical shipment to Haiphong last March. The crewmen on that voyage were ordered deprived of their passports.

In Washington Thursday, officials of the U. S. Treasury Department said it had recommended to the Justice Department prosecution of those crew members under the assets control provisions of the Trading with the Enemy Act.

The Justice Department said the case is under review. Conviction would carry a maximum penalty of 10 years in jail and a $10,000 fine.

"We don't feel that what we're doing is unpatriotic, even though it may be illegal," said Sam Legg of Baltimore, an adviser on the project.

"Essentially, patriotism is doing what's good for the country and the world, and I don't see how this humanitarian effort to relieve suffering can be anything else but that. I consider myself a loyal American as I break some American laws."

Challenging law's considered opposed to higher ethical obligations is an old Quaker tradition, forged in early persecutions, in their 19th century underground railroad for fugitive slaves, in their widespread disavowal of modern war.

Rep. Pipkin Takes Post

AUSTIN (AP) — State Rep. Maurice Pipkin of Brownsville, a member of the legislature since 1953, will resign his seat to take the job of executive director of the state Judicial Qualifications Commission.

400-Pound Bell Is Missing From Church

TURKEY, N.C. (AP) — A 400-pound bell hoisted to the top of the new Wilson Chapel church in this tiny rural community last week is missing.

A crane was used to put the 70-year-old bell in place in the 35-foot-hight steeple. How it was removed is a mystery.

Duplin County Deputy George Merritt says residents have posted an $80 reward for return of the bell.

LIGHT

GOD said, "Let there be light: and there was light."

How much is shining on you? Are you just sitting there — oblivious to the needs of your fellow-man — and inactive in your church? Then a cloud is hiding you! Want to be a reflector? Then get out in the open — out where the light can beam upon you. Absorb aplenty of it... enough to purify and light up the dark corners of your soul. Lead your family and others to church. That is being a reflector of real light... true light. For, "God is light and in Him is no darkness." 1 John 1-5.
