Kennedy's Housing Program To Solons

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today sent to Congress a $2.5 billion save-the-cities housing program, to be run by a proposed new cabinet-rank department of housing and urban affairs.

In a special 10-point message Kennedy called for prompt housing legislation to spur the economy and reinforce the cities in their "desperate struggle against blight and decay."

Housing Administrator Robert C. Weaver, who presumably will become the first Negro cabinet member if his housing agencies are wrapped together as an 11th department, said drafts of the whole package of legislation will be laid before Congress this month.

While stressing the need to spur homebuilding as a stimulant to jobs and income, Kennedy's 10,000-word message was aimed chiefly at helping the middle-income and lower-income city dweller rather than the two-car suburbans.

The highlights included:

- A four-year, $2.5 billion authorization for urban renewal grants and loans.
- A test program of 40-year mortgages—with no down-payment—for low cost dwellings, under the Federal Housing Administration loan insurance program.
- A go-ahead for construction of 100,000 public housing units, in perhaps three years. Half would be earmarked and specially built for the elderly.
- A major expansion of the program of home improvement loans, to make available the major vehicle of the drive to upgrade decaying neighborhoods and modernize the nation's housing inventory.

The five-year limit and $3,500 ceiling on FHA repair and modernization loans would be greatly increased, Weaver indicated, and some new types of home-improvement credit never before made available may be devised.

Kennedy said the problem of cities and their suburbs should be "constantly brought to the cabinet table" and deserve leadership at the top level of government.

He told Congress: "I therefore recommend—and shall shortly offer a suggested proposal or—the establishment in the executive branch of a new, cabinet-rank department of housing and urban affairs."

This left wide open the question whether he would ask Congress to act by its normal procedures, or would short-cut the process by issuing a presidential reorganization plan, subject to congressional veto, under reorganization powers which Congress is now weighing.

AUSTIN (AP)—Atty. Gen. Will Wilson asked a Beaumont District court today to remove Dist. Atty. Ramie Griffin from office.

The attorney general's department said the suit, filed in behalf of six Jefferson County citizens, was filed in 1958 District Court.

The citizens were named as J. C. Berry, S. L. Bates, George Dishman, Alf M. Miller, P. L. Robinson, and John W. Standlee.

Wilson alleged in the order, among things, "that the proper administration of justice in Jefferson County will be impeded unless Ramie Griffin is removed from office."

The court was asked to appoint a special district attorney to represent the state.

Griffin was a principal in the recent investigations of alleged vice conditions in the Beaumont and Port Arthur areas by a House Investigating Committee and by the attorney general's department.

At the same time Wilson asked the court to appoint a special district attorney. His assistants offered the Beaumont court a petition to be filed by new district attorney, if appointed.

The petition alleges that Griffin has been guilty of "official misconduct and incompetence" in the discharge of his office in four particulars.

The announcement said that the removal action is directed against either of these officials that the court may properly appoint a member of the bar to represent the interests of the state.

Showdown Due On Measures To Tackle State's Deficit

By LEE JONES

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Legislature met today with all indications pointing to a House showdown on whether the representatives will try to end the state deficit before tackling general tax measures.

A decision to plunge directly into permanent financing plans would be a stinging slap for Gov. Price Daniel and Speaker James Tamm, both of whom want the deficit erased before going after more than $300 million in new taxes for the next two years.

Rep. Charles Ballman of Borer, chairman of the Taxation and Revenue Committee told The Associated Press he plans to run today with his resolution to put the House on record as favoring deficit retirement first.

Soviets Say Space Ship Back Safely After Orbit

Dog, Other 'Life' Aboard

MOSCOW (AP)—A five-ton space ship with a dog aboard was launched into orbit today and landed safely, the Soviet government announced.

The official news agency Tass said the space ship landed somewhere in the Soviet Union on a signal from the earth, duplicating a feat announced last August.

Aboard the space ship in a special cabin was a dog named Chernushka (brunette) and other biological objects," Tass said. "The initial inspection of the landed vessel proved that the experimental animal feels well."

Chernushka thus joined the dogs Strelka (arrow) and Belka (squirrel) as pioneer space vehicle riders.

In their voyage last August, the Soviets said Strelka and Belka traveled about 435,000 miles in an orbit.

The Tass announcement did not say how far Chernushka traveled, but the maximum height of the space ship's orbit was given as 154.5 miles. The minimum height of the orbit was 113.4 miles.

A Tass announcement broadcast in Russian by Moscow radio said the aim of the new test "is the further adjustment of the design of the space ship and of the systems on board so as to insure the necessary conditions for the flight of man."

A later announcement by Tass in the English language made no mention of this, saying "the main object of this effort was a further improvement of space vehicle design and of life support equipment."

The dog and its companions rode in special capsules aboard the space vehicles.

When recovering the two dogs last Aug. 19, the Soviets said the capsule was detached on signal and was landed safely, followed by the undamaged landing of the space vehicle. The latest announcement did not make clear whether this was the case today.

It spoke only of the successful recovery of "the fourth Soviet satellite ship."

This is the fourth in what the Soviets call their space ship launchings.

Last May 15 the first space ship went up with a dummy but its signals failed after it achieved an orbit.

This was followed on Aug. 19 by the flight of Strelka and Belka.

Frost Grets Texans Today

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Winter temperatures, patches of frost and clear skies summed up Texas weather Thursday.

Only some high, thin cloudiness in the Wink area marred otherwise cloudless skies.

The temperature was in a chilly range from 19 degrees at Dalhart to 29 at Junction, 39 at El Paso, 40 at Dallas and Midland, and on up to 51 at Galveston.

Freezing temperatures extended over the South Plains and Panhandle country.

A warming trend was expected by mid-afternoon continuing at least through Friday. There had been no rain and forecasters indicated none.

Teachers To Attend Meet

Pupils in local schools will get a holiday tomorrow while their teachers are attending a convention.

The teachers will go to Midland for the West Texas Teachers Association's annual meeting. The date of the association's meeting is set aside as a school holiday each year so that all teachers in the school systems may attend.

The session in Midland is for teachers in District IV of the Texas State Teachers Association.

One Man Killed In Truck-Train Crash

ROARING SPRINGS, Tex. (AP)—One man died and another was injured critically in a train-truck crash which derailed three diesel locomotives and 12 freight cars Wednesday.

The crash killed Walter Lee Robinson, 33, of Amarillo, instantly at the east edge of Roaring Springs, 60 miles northeast of Lubbock.

An earlier report said that two men were killed.

In extremely critical condition, according to doctors at a Matador hospital, is Gene Vancamp, about 25, also of Amarillo.

The collision involved a heavy truck loaded with wheat and a westbound Quahak, Acme & Pacific Railroad freight.

Soil Conservation Is Discussed Here

Progress in soil and water conservation and possible methods of promoting more participation in such projects were discussed here Wednesday by leaders from eight Soil Conservation Districts.

The meeting was held in the community room of the Snyder National Bank, with the board of supervisors of the Upper Colorado SCD serving as hosts. Other districts represented included the Mitchell, Martin, Howard, Dawson, Gaines, Andrews, Younkum, Upper Clear Fork and Terry Soil Conservation Districts.

Principal speakers were Paul Walser, deputy state conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service in Temple; the Rev. Harry Vanderpool, pastor of the First Methodist Church; Howard Boswell, executive director of the state association from Temple; Richard Brice chairman of the Upper Colorado SCD board; Robert Hunt, member of the Gaines-Andrews SCD board, and Emmett Campbell, chairman of the Younkum SCD board.

Bill Rouch, Scurry County agricultural agent, was master of ceremonies.

Walser discussed progress made by Texas Soil Conservation Districts since their creation in 1937. He said the districts face an even greater challenge in the years ahead if they are to cope with the expanding agricultural problem.

Boswell discussed with the group the work of the state association. He cited a need for finances for Soil Conservation District operation and urged each supervisor to support the work.

Vanderpool addressed the group on soil stewardship activities and their relation to soil conservation. He said each man is endowed by God with unique qualities of personality—the individual characteristics of spirit and conduct which set him apart from all others.

"Each of us is possessed with varying capacities for love and work, varying degrees of courage and ability, varying needs for security and self expression. Each of us, in a sense, is a man alone with his maker. In accepting the responsibility and performing the work of soil stewardship, man finds large avenues for the expression of his individuality. On the land he is able to employ his talents in full measure."

Richard Brice led a group discussion on progress and problems of Soil Conservation Districts, while Robert Hunt discussed beliefs and opinions as to why farm operators do not plan and carry out more conservation work. Emmett Campbell discussed methods district supervisors may take to get more conservation practices applied to farm land.

Press Status In Cuba Is On Agenda

By MORRIS W. ROSENBERG
ACAPULCO (AP)—A full report on press freedom, or lack of it, in Cuba was to be made today by the press committee of the Inter-American Press Association.

The IAPA is in convention in this Pacific resort city.

Bolivia, Cuba, the Dominican Republic, Haiti, Nicaragua and Paraguay were named by the committee Wednesday as American countries in which freedom of the press did not exist.

The committee noted with approval that there had been a recent improvement in the situation in Paraguay, but the members said they still could not say definitely that there was press freedom.

As for Bolivia, the committee said it must continue to say freedom of the press does not exist as long as the cases of La Razon and Los Tiempos of Cochabamba are not settled.

La Razon of La Paz was closed in April of 1952. Los Tiempos was badly damaged by a mob in November 1953, and the newspaper has been vainly seeking indemnification from the government.

Juan S. Valmaggia of La Nacion in Buenos Aires, one of the committee's regional vice presidents, sent a report on the press in Argentina which was read by Francisco A. Riquelme of the magazine Veritas in Buenos Aires.

John H. Perry Jr. of the Perry newspapers of West Palm Beach, Fla., reported that freedom of the press existed in the United States but said all editors have "the responsibility to fight every effort made to limit a freedom of expression by legislation, taxation or other means."

SHAKE, RATTLE AND STRIKE—That's what this pen of 34 live rattlesnakes were doing at spectators Wednesday. Gene Ragsdale, left, Jesse Youngblood, and Mrs. Ragsdale caught the rattlers near Gail for the Rattlesnake Rodeo in Clairemont. The huge rattlers are destined to be steaks for the Law Association soon.

Ex-Tenant Visitor In White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—A former tenant of the White House was greeted by one of the new occupants today as a man who "used to live in our house."

The visitor was former President Harry S. Truman. He was welcomed by President Kennedy's daughter, Caroline, 3.

Truman is in town for a dinner tonight marking the 20th anniversary of the founding of the Truman Investigating Committee—a congressional unit he headed as a senator from Missouri. Truman told newsmen after a 25-minute chat with Kennedy that the President plans to attend the dinner.

In response to questions, Truman—smiling broadly—told reporters that in his opinion Kennedy is doing an excellent job.

Asked what he and Kennedy talked about, Truman grinned and replied:

"Shoes and ships and sealing wax. Any further statement will have to be by the President."

Caroline, blonde and cute in royal blue overalls and white pullover sweater, was on hand in her father's office.

Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan, Truman's former military aide, was along. He told newsmen that Kennedy had to prod Caroline a bit to recall a greeting that obviously had been rehearsed.

"What did I tell you to tell him?" the President asked the youngster with a nod toward Truman.

"Oh, yes," Caroline bubbled. "You used to live in our house."

Juvenile Parley Set

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Gov. Stephen McNichols of Colorado, chairman of the National Governors' Conference, plans to confer next week with Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy about juvenile delinquency.

McNichols said Wednesday he hopes to get Kennedy's approval for a program being worked out by the governors to combat the problem.

McNichols also announced he has appointed 11 governors to serve with him on a committee to consider delinquency. They are Govs. Edmund G. Brown, California; John Dempsey, Connecticut; Michael V. DeSalle, Ohio; Norman A. Erbe, Iowa; Mark D. Hatfield, Oregon; Ernest F. Hollings, South Carolina; Otto Kerner Jr., Illinois; David L. Lawrence, Pennsylvania; Gaylord A. Nelson, Wisconsin; Wesley Powell, New Hampshire; and Terry Sanford, North Carolina.

Pleads Guilty In Stabbing

NEW YORK (AP)—Norman Mailer, 37, author, pleaded guilty in a surprise move today to a third-degree assault charge in the stab wounding of his wife, Adele, last Nov. 30.

The novelist was continued free in $2,500 bail pending sentencing April 25. He could receive a year in jail, a fine of $500, or both, or an indeterminate sentence up to three years.

Mailer entered his plea before General Sessions Judge Mitchell D. Schweitzer.

Mailer's wife was wounded after a party in the Mailer apartment. Mrs. Mailer had refused to sign a complaint against her husband.

Mailer pleaded to a lesser charge than that originally brought against him.

Neither Mailer nor his counsel would comment on the writer's decision to plead guilty, but it was learned that he feared a trial would result in publicity harmful to his wife and child.

The wounds suffered by his wife, 35, were inflicted in the back and abdomen by a penknife.

Trails Of Two Candidates For Senate To Cross Today

By CLAYTON HICKERSON
Associated Press Staff Writer
Campaign paths of at least two of the better known U.S. Senate candidates almost crossed Thursday as both State Atty. Gen. Will Wilson and former State Rep. Maury Maverick Jr. toured North-east Texas areas.

Wilson expected to get back on the campaign trail in Cooper, Commerce, Greenville and Sulphur Springs after being bedridden for about 36 hours in Paris.

Maverick, who called for distribution of U.S. farm surpluses abroad in a Temple appearance Wednesday, planned to campaign in virtually the same areas.

Republican John Tower also planned an East Texas tour Thursday and Friday with appearances in Gladewater, Kilgore, Marshall, and Texarkana. The area, once staunchly Democratic, has become increasingly conservative in the last decade.

Rep. Jim Wright of Fort Worth, interim Sen. William Blakley of Dallas and others of the 71 candidates seeking Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson's first Senate seat had not announced itineraries.

Meanwhile, it appeared that many counties would put the names of candidates on the April 4 ballot in alphabetical order. Some were drawing lots for places on the ballot, and State Sen. Henry Gonzalez still asked that the names be listed in the candidates' order of filing.

Gonzalez' home county of Bexar called on a drawing and County Clerk Fred Huntress said the names would be listed in five columns of 14 candidates each on the Bexar ballot.

Supporters said it was "Wright Night" in Fort Worth Wednesday as the young congressman met with a crowd they estimated at more than 3,000 in the Will Rogers exhibit building. Portions of the Wright speech were telecast as he went all out for the rest of the campaign.

Wright, who claims the endorsement of the big United Auto Workers Union in Fort Worth, received his loudest applause with two hot jobs at Blakley and Tower.

"On the extreme right," said Wright—a native of conservative-voting Dallas—"a little all-or-nothing group of extreme reactionaries is trying to decide whether to support the Republican candidate who proclaims to be the 'only conservative in the race,' or the interim senator who opposes all forms of government aids and subsidies... except those that benefit airlines."

Blakley has heavy financial interests in the airlines, Wright continued.

"Our interim senator in Dallas last Saturday joked about unemployment and boasted that he has found only one item on which he could vote with the president... confirmation of one appointment."

Wilson Wednesday issued from his bed in a Paris hospital statements in which he favored various water projects in the state, including Pat Mayse Dam on Sanders Creek, in the Paris area.

Gonzalez, who appeared in Taylor Wednesday after the Senate recessed, scheduled a talk in Poteet Thursday night.

Tower, who campaigned in Stamford, Big Spring and Waxahatchie on Wednesday, said he was mailing a letter this week to thousands of "known conservatives throughout Texas." The letter will say that Tower led more than a million Texans to voice their opposition to the "liberalism of the present administration in Washington."

Zeke Zbranek of Liberty, Maverick's state campaign manager, chided Blakley for what Zbranek called use of the franking privilege to campaign for the Senate. He asked that Texans contribute to a "Stamps for Blakley" fund.

'Child Art' Topic For Central P-TA

Dr. Bill Lockhart head of the Applied Arts Department at Texas Tech, spoke to a crowd of over 100 parents and teachers at West Elementary P-TA Monday.

A delightful art exhibit was arranged on tables displaying the cafeteria, featuring various types of art work from students of each room in the school.

Mrs. Fred Bullard introduced Dr. Lockhart who spoke on the subject "Understanding Child Art." He said in part: "A child's mental emotional maturity can be judged by his art work. A child does not draw things like adults because things do not look the same to him. One dog might be two entirely different animals to two different children because of different attitudes toward it.

"We as adults should not judge children's art by its beauty, but by its manner of expression, as the primary value of art at any level is a means of self-expression."

Mr. Lockhart exhibited some drawings of children of various ages, stressing the importance of cultivating creative thinking and self-expression in our children. "The value of each individual is the most important thing," he concluded.

The group enjoyed a period of fellowship while cookies and coffee were served.

Mrs. Weaver's room won room count.

Snyder China Painters Entertained

Three members of the West Texas Porcelain Art Guild held a coffee to entertain Snyder China Painters and their guests recently. The affair was held in the home of Mrs. Jack Wright, 2007 Thirty-sixth Street, with Mrs. W. H. Seeker and Mrs. Eunice Weatherbee, co-hostesses.

The Porcelain Art Guild is a Federated Club that meets in Sweetwater but includes all the West Texas District.

China slides were shown from the Midland exhibit held by pupils of Mrs. Gladys Dresley in her honor, also slides from the yearly exhibit of the West Texas Porcelain Art Guild held in Sweetwater. However, one outstanding group of slides were shown that were taken by Mrs. Louise Jones of Midland when she attended the National China Painting Teachers Exhibit in Dallas. Included in this group were slides of antique pieces painted by Aulick.

Refreshments of coffee and cake were served to Mrs. Walter A. Mitchell, Mrs. R. C. Patton, Mrs. Virgil Walton, Mrs. Raymond Williams, Mrs. J. T. Hughes, Mrs. Nathan Wade, Mrs. Davis Shaw, Mrs. J. M. Nowton and Mrs. Dell Smith.

Diamondmen To Plainview

The Snyder Tiger baseball nine, having emerged victorious in two out of three early tests against rugged class 4A competition, hit the road for Plainview and some more of the same tomorrow, when they meet the District 3-4 Bulldogs in a 4 o'clock battle.

Snyder opened with 3-2 and 17-16 conquests of Odessa Permian and Big Spring, respectively, before losing to Abilene Tuesday, 6-5.

The Tigers return to the home front this Saturday, when they engage Lubbock Monier in a twin bill beginning at 1

Ingo, Floyd Tapering Off

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Ingemar Johansson has his "hammer of Thor" right and Floyd Patterson has his "automatic hook," but both fighters believe a fundamental punch—the left jab—will be the key to victory Monday night.

The big Swedish ex-champion has ended his sparring practice with his trusty right and his not so reliable left. The next time he tries to unload either hand on a man it will be against Patterson, the heavyweight champion, at Miami Beach's Convention Hall Monday night in their third fight.

Per custom, Ingo finished his boxing preparations early. He closed with a six round workout Wednesday against three sparring partners at Palm Beach. He will rest mostly until Monday to permit "strength to flow into my body and arms." It worked the first time when he dethroned Patterson in three rounds. In the return bout it wasn't effective as Floyd blunted him in the first round with a thunderous left hook.

Patterson worked three rounds, looking impressive in the only round in which he tried, Wednesday. Today he was to end his sparring with another three round drill. Ingo appeared sharp in his final six rounds.

Both have stated that the advantage will go to the one who mounts the attack first. And both said the left jab will be a vital factor.

"My style is adjustable," said Patterson today. "I'm trying to improve and develop every punch. I'm not concerned with my left hook. The hook is automatic with me like the right is for Ingemar. It acts on its own."

Between You And Me

BY JERRY JACKSON

The weather reverted to "typical" here Tuesday, with New Mexico settling down into Texas, bit by bit, and Texas highlighting it for the likes of Louisiana.

Disappointingly rusty, but the fans were cruddy, as a hardy handful braved the grit and grime, while Snyder and Abilene collided on the Towle Park diamond here. Some huddling in the stands, while others peered out from behind car windshields. All who witnessed the spectacle were rewarded with a brand of play which was surprisingly good in view of the muddled conditions, though, as errors afield were held to a minimum and the pitching on both clubs never regressed to the erratic stage.

In a way, the gale-like wind which blew in from behind the plate and toward the outfield, had a neutralizing effect on the hitting, so that the batsmen didn't hold the upper hand as much as might be expected.

Granted, some of the extra-base knocks as landed would normally have been easy outs on a calm day. But, on the other hand, at least a half dozen fouls as lofted behind the plate and which would at any other time have been out of play blew back into the playing area for simple catches. So it constituted an overall wrap-up in the final analysis.

As the unseen and dust-covered sun dipped lower and lower toward the unseen and dust-covered horizon, the temperature began to dip a little, too. In fact, it started to get uncomfortably cold, come to think of it.

But was I alone in my chilly pre-boxing vigil?

Nay, for there with me were William Robinson, who was tending to the public address chores, and Truman Black, heading up the moral support brigade.

Robinson was sitting there with his hands crammed inside the pockets of a jacket that was all-weather in name only. He made no bones about becoming progressively cold, and even went so far as to point out the inner lining in his trusty All-Weather Jacket.

"Genuine rat's fur," he confided confidentially.

And from his implication, I guessed that what was billed as genuine rat's fur must've in reality come from an imitation mouse.

Congrats

A vote of confidence is extended to Tiger Weldon Ware, who was yesterday named to the Class 3A Abilene all-area team along with Bruce Ashton (Lamesa), Billy Belew (Sweetwater), Gene Hallum (Brownwood), and Jerry Reeves (Graham). All are seniors, with Ware the shortest of the bunch at an even six feet.

Two other Tiger seniors—Jimmy Don Robinson and Charles Glendon—gained honorable mention designation, also.

McMurry In Laredo Trek

ABILENE—Using the same crew that swept to a college division title at the Southwestern Recreation Meet For Worth last week, McMurry College's Indian track team Saturday will be seeking more glory at the Border Olympics in Laredo.

Coach Grant Teaff's Indians will be strong contenders for another college division title, on the border. The McMurry team ran up 54 points in For Worth to best second place East Texas State which had 52.

McMurry won first in the 440 relay, breaking a five-year-old record, by Abilene Christian College; in the 100-yard dash, tying another mark; in the 220 dash, breaking another record set in 1950; and the low hurdles.

The sprint relay time was 41.1, clipping a tenth of a second from ACC's old 41.2 record set in 1956. John Dale Lewis won both the 100 and 220, doing the 220 around a curve in 21.5 to break a 21.7 record set in 1950 by David Syron of Northeast Louisiana. Lewis ran the 100 in 9.6, tying a record held jointly by four other performers.

Lewis was awarded the R. D. Evans Memorial Trophy as the No. 1 athlete in the Southwestern Recreation Meet.

Javelins Searching For Two More Foes

KINGSVILLE (AP)—The Texas A&M Javelins, who compiled a 19-21 record last football season, are looking for two more opponents next fall.

Coach Gil Steinke says he has open dates on Sept. 16 and Sept. 23 and that he would like to fill both of them, either at home or away.

LOCAL STARTER—Linda Williams will be one of the six Tigerettes taking the floor tonight here in Tiger Gym when the Snyder girls try to knock the probe out from under Abilene for the second time in as many volleyball attempts. The varsity match has a starting time of 7:30, and will be preceded by a "B" game at 6:30. (Photo by Jackson)

Tigerettes To Test Abilene Here Tonight

For the second time this week, local volleyball fans will be afforded a peep at the rampaging Snyder Tigerette sextet, as they entertain Abilene in a non-district clash tonight at 7:30 in Tiger Gym.

Tuesday saw Coach Peggie Holdrege's prodigies inching out into district 3-3A competition in fine fettle, as they bounced Colorado City by 30-18 in the first of six family fairs. Following tonight's game against Abilene and a Tuesday bouting of Denver City, the locals will once again mount the payoff trail Friday against Sweetwater, with that game and the remainder of the scheduled encounters being district affairs.

Over the span of the season the team stands 6-1, with its only loss being a 43-20 clipping as dealt by Plainview in the opening round of the Lamesa Tournament of the past weekend. From there the Tigerettes went on to win their remaining three contests, in taking the tourney's consolation crown.

Prior to the varsity "go" the Tigerette "B" team will test the Abilenians in a game set for 6:30. The Snyder "B" is 2-1 for the season after gliding past Abilene, 37-30, and splitting a pair of battles as waged against Colorado City.

The Tigerette varsity has also tested Abilene on one previous occasion, and succeeded in carting home a 27-19 triumph.

running of the Border Olympics of tomorrow and Saturday.

The Bengal boys, coached by Dutch Stehley, have competed in two meets to date, coping third place finishes in both the Comanche Relays (Fort Stockton) and Canyon Reef Relays (Snyder).

Much of the success of the team rests on the supple shoulders of speed merchant Jesse Crawford, a veteran senior who in a variety of events. In both of the meets as entered by Snyder he has topped high point individual honors, as he personally accounted for 30 of the Tiger's 614 aggregate at Fort Stockton, then nabbed 14 1/2 of Snyder's 38 1/2 points as garnered in the Reef Relays.

He stepped to a new Comanche Relays record in the 180 yard hurdles with a 19.3 second timing, which got under the record figure of 19.5 as set last year by Snyder's Stanley Woolver, who has since graduated. He also won the broad jump event, was second in the 100 yard dash, and was anchor man of the fourth place finishing 440 yard relay team in the Fort Stockton runnings.

In the Reef Relays he barreled to first in both the 100 dash and low hurdles with times of 9.9 and 19.0, respectively. In addition he placed third in the broad jump and was a member of the third place 440 relay quartet.

Bobby Brown picked up the only other "first" as gained by the Stehley men in Canyon Reef competition. That was in the broad jump event, where he leaped 21' 5" for top honors.

The Tiger 440 relay team of Mike Morris, Brown, John Weaver and Crawford should once again be a contender at Laredo, where the cream of the Texas schoolboy crop will be vying for spots. Crawford, of course, will be the performer to watch in the low hurdles, while he and Morris both represent prime 100 yard dash hopefuls.

Jimmy Taylor will carry the Snyder banner into the high hurdles, and will also fling the discus. Snyder's strongest weight man, however, is Bill Weaver, who will be heading both the shot put and discus.

Brown and Ronnie Overby are the team's pole vault aspirants, while Brown and Crawford represent the potential broad jump point-getters and Bax Callaway a likely prospect in the high jump.

John Weaver is a probable contender in the 440 and 220 dashes in addition to being a relay stalwart. Stehley has announced one possible switch in the relay lineup, with there being the chance that Crawford will be pulled from the 200 yard dash event in order to bolster the mile relay team. Up until now the foursome has been composed of Mike Bailey, Ronnie Ma-

Texan Linebacking Vet Inks New Pact

DALLAS (AP)—Sherrill Headrick, star linebacker of the Dallas Texans of the American Football League last season, today signed his 1961 contract.

He became the first of the Texan veterans to join the fold for the coming season.

General Manager Jack Staudman, in signing Headrick, called him "the heart of the Texan defense."

He heads a linebacker corps that includes Ted Greene, Smokey Stover and Walt Corey, who played last year, and E. J. Holub, Jerry Brown and Roy Lee Rambo, rookies.

One Stockholder Awaiting Resignation Of President

By INEZ ROBB

Now that Ralph J. Cordier has resigned as chairman of the U. S. Commerce Department's Business Advisory Council, I, as a stockholder in General Electric Corp., am impatiently awaiting his resignation as chairman of big boss of that sprawling industrial complex.

My impatience for his resignation is based on the belief that Cordier is incompetent to head General Electric.

Ever since Federal Judge J. Cullen Gandy in a Philadelphia court room last month sentenced second-echelon leaders of 29 electrical-equipment companies for conspiracy to rig prices and sent several packing off to jail, I have expected the resignation of Cordier as boss of General Electric.

From the moment that General Electric, Westinghouse and other electrical-equipment companies were convicted of cartelization in a U. S. anti-trust suit, the chairman of General Electric has denied that he is the head of this industrial spread, knew anything about the naughty goings-on of his immediate subordinates.

Ignorance has never been any defense before the law, but somehow Cordier's ignorance has been translated into innocence for himself and General Electric. By this magic he and his company, pure as the driven snow, are the hapless victims of a little conspiracy of wild men at the second level of management.

Somewhat, the vice presidents and general manager of General Electric who were jailed by Judge Gandy managed to pull the wool over Cordier's eyes and the corporate eyes of General Electric. These guilty men pulled so much wool during the years they conspired with others to fix prices in the electrical-equipment field that General Electric led all its peers in the case with three executives jailed and with a total of $437,500 in fines.

It seems to me that a man heading a tremendous company who says he is unaware of what goes on in his own ballistics and among his own executives has, per se, confessed his incompetence any longer to lead or direct that corporation.

Who was running the General Electric shop, in the long years of this inter-industry conspiracy to rig prices, if not Cordier? And if he was on the ball or job, how and why did he remain in complete ignorance of what was plainly and patently going on under his corporate nose?

The stockholders, no less than the public in general, have a right to know whether Cordier worked at his job. If he worked at it, then he should have known what was going on in the offices down the hall. A plea of ignorance on his part is only an admission of incompetence and failure.

Put City In Jail, Mayor Suggests
FRANKFURT, Ky. (AP)—Putting a city in jail might pose a problem, but the mayor of Mayville, Ky., has suggested it.

Testifying at a Water Pollution Control Commission hearing Wednesday, Mayor Rebecca Hord acknowledged her city was guilty of dumping waste in the Ohio River but added the city couldn't afford a sewage treatment plant.

"You'll just have to put the city in jail," she concluded.

"We'll study that," said City Gen. John Breckenridge, acting as commission chairman.

Get Ready For National Laugh Week

By FRANCIS STILLEY
NEW YORK (AP)—Get your funnybones tuned up folks. You'll want to be ready for the big event coming up April 3-10: National Laugh Week.

Some of you may be out of condition for this, for lack of enough things to laugh about these days. In that case, you'll doubtless want to prepare for the big ha-ha fest.

So here is our handy program of easy exercises, especially designed to ginger up your guffawing by April 3.

For the rest of this week: Try smiling for a minute or two once an hour—while working on your income tax return.

Second week: Turn on a big grin at assorted moments—such as when you keep getting threatening letters about overdue bills.

Third week: Practice giggling—after household disasters, such as Junior spilling a gallon of molasses on the living room rug.

Fourth week: Time now for the restrained belly laugh. An excellent occasion would be upon learning you've got to have a new roof put on the house.

Fifth week: You should be ready now for the big showdown test: The howler. Do it while considering that your rich uncle has cut you out of his will.

Friends, if you can do all that, you are obviously ready for National Laugh Week.

National Laugh Week is a project of National Laugh Enterprises of New York. A memo from the NLE says:

"The National Laugh Enterprises was formed in 1945 to promote a national sense of humor. It represents the National Association of Gagwriters, which tries to discover, develop and encourage creative performers and writers in the Seven Laffing Arts—radio-TV, stage, screen, cartoons, literature, music and dance."

The NLE also sponsors meetings at which people get together and laugh, anytime and anywhere they feel like it.

Furthermore, it has a broad program to try to keep people chuckling all the year round. Save the Pun Week in January, National Laugh Week in April, National Humor Week in June and Pass the Laugh Week in October.

Between times, the NLE tries to maneuver the mirth movement with a number of projects.

One of these is, according to the NLE, a "humor report to the nation" presented annually to Congress.

"Remember," says the NLE memo, "humor is therapy. Won't you join our crusade for a happier world through humor? Laugh. It's good for you."

Record Is Claimed On Bunk-Stuffing
BLACKSBURG, Va. (AP)—Virginia Tech students were laying claim today to the national collegiate record for bottom-bunk stuffing.

Bottom-bunk stuffing, the newest collegiate fad, is getting as many pajama-clad students as possible into a bottom bunk of a double-deck bed.

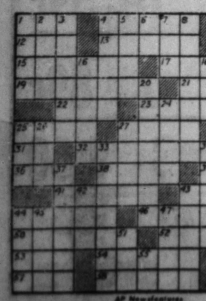

Students at Tech's Campbell Hall waged their "contest" Wednesday morning.

Through diligent effort, grunting, groaning, and just plain ingenuity, 65 male students were packed into the bunk.

Then it collapsed. The students claimed the record anyway.

Junior Editors Quiz on GARMENTS

QUESTION: What is a burnoose?

ANSWER: In the Near East, the days can be very hot and the nights quite cold. Arabs, and Moors, have answered this problem for centuries by wearing the burnoose. This is a cloaklike garment and hood, woven in one piece. It is good protection from the sun, from wind-driven sand, and from the cold. A loose garment, it gives the wearer freedom of movement. The light weight wool fabric is not too hot to wear during the day because it permits free passage of air. At night, drawn close like a blanket, it keeps the wearer warm. The burnoose was worn in Biblical times and today it is used in modernized versions in outdoor and camping outfits.

FOR YOU TO DO: Make your own burnoose from a blanket. It can double as a dressing gown and as an extra blanket.

New Play Can Give Brain Rest

By WILLIAM GLOVER
Associated Press Drama Critic
NEW YORK (AP)—The gags have all the lines in "Mary, Mary," the new show at Broadway's Helen Hayes Theater. And maybe that's the best.

Whipped up by best-seller author Jean Kerr, the slick trifle arrived Wednesday night with a cast headed by Barbara Bel Geddes, Barry Nelson and Michael Rennie.

Giving a little twist to the old romance triangle, the frolic concerns a couple reunited instead of separated by the ardent wolf at the door.

Since the outcome is obvious almost as soon as the curtain goes up, "Mary, Mary" pads along to finale with an assembly-line assortment of those topical jokes that raise howls of glee at a cocktail party.

Miss Bel Geddes, as the wife, Nelson, the husband, and Rennie, the interloper, behave, however, as though they were more than cartoons.

Also present are Betsy Von Furstenberg, a rich girl who has been sent in health diets than compatibility, and John Cromwell, an elderly adviser on taxes and tangles.

Director Joseph Anthony keeps them all about their chores with lively enthusiasm. The Oliver Smith setting is the usual Broadway version of a book-lined living room and the Theloni V. Alred costumes are properly chic.

If your brain needs a rest, "Mary, Mary" can please.

Lieutenant Governor Visits Kiwanis Club

Tommy Murphy of Odessa, lieutenant governor of Division 22, visited the Kiwanis Club of Snyder at its luncheon meeting Wednesday.

Murphy spoke to local Kiwanians on Kiwanis aims and activities. Snyder Mayor John Hamblen also was a visitor at the meeting.

Plans have been completed for the "Americanism" seminar to be sponsored by the Kiwanis Club next Monday evening in the high school auditorium.

Parking Problem Is Solved By Bar

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A downtown bar has solved the parking problem for daytime drinkers.

Every hour a timer sounds, sending the beer sippers scampering for the parking meters.

It gives the waitresses a chance to clear away the bottles and the bartender time to reset the alarm.

3 Galveston County Bills Clear Panel

AUSTIN (AP)—Three Galveston County bills, already approved by the Senate, cleared a House committee Wednesday despite considerable wrangling among the area's two representatives and several county judges.

The House Committee on Counties recommended passage on three bills (SB136, 162, and 173) that would have the net effect of giving Galveston County a second county judge and another judge for the juvenile board and juvenile court.

Rep. Peter LaValle, Texas City, handled the bills which had been introduced in the Senate by Sen. A. R. Schwartz, Galveston. However, when LaValle tried to get committee rulings on the bills, one at a time, Rep. Maco Stewart, Galveston, objected, saying he had a group of witnesses to testify on the bills.

Rep. Schwartz appeared later and commented that he did not believe Stewart ever understood the contents of the bills.

Mrs. Martha Jacobs and Mrs. Ethel R. Farris, both of Galveston, testified that they did not object to county commissioners raising the salary of Galveston County district judges except they wanted to be sure there was a enough money left for a county juvenile court.

D. S. Trammone Jr., Galveston attorney, said he represented the Galveston County Tax Payers Association in opposing a bill (SB136) authorized a second county judge. LaValle said the present county judge had been ill and a new judge was needed, particularly to handle criminal cases.

"We don't feel the situation is drastic enough for this bill," Trammone said. "We think this is a temporary situation and by saving this money for a second county judge we would be sure to have enough for a juvenile court."

LaValle said the bill had been endorsed by the Galveston County Bar Association. Trammone said he had not heard of such action. Stewart said he did not know of such endorsement.

"That's because you don't go to bar meetings," said LaValle. "I do when the legislature is not in session," said Stewart.

Edward B. Marsh, FPC examiner, outlined the Midland results this way: "I believe we have accomplished a great deal although we have not accomplished the basic purposes of the pre-hearing conference."

The FPC has assigned Marsh the task of recommending the ground rules for formal hearings on area price ceilings.

When the conference began Monday, there was indication it could last from 10 days to two weeks. But Marsh ordered the recess after Marsh producers from the Permian Basin area of West Texas and Southeastern New Mexico endorsed a motion that, in effect, tossed the cost issue right back to the FPC.

Alfred C. DeCrane, attorney for Texas Seaboard Inc., Houston, drew a parade of producer support when he filed a motion asking the FPC to simplify the issues with a special ruling saying area price ceilings are not to be based on utility-type cost factors.

The only opposition to the motion came from distributor-consumer spokesmen, and Marsh gave them until March 27 to file their objections.

John C. Mason, FPC general counsel, said it was not desirable for the FPC staff to join in the motion at present, but he told the producers he did not propose to introduce utility-type evidence in the area price proceedings.

Mason agreed with the producers that the FPC in a Sept. 26 opinion had said cost of service evidence is neither desirable nor useful when applied to producers. The recess was suggested by Kenneth Heady, Phillips Petroleum Co., Bartlesville, Okla. Heady was the spokesman for a group of 50 large and small producers who contended a 109-page financial questionnaire prepared by Mason's staff was based on a cost-of-service approach that posed a threat of utility-type controls.

The producer group has prepared its own questionnaire. Marsh scheduled the April 12 meeting for the specific purpose of seeking areas of agreement when the producer document and the FPC staff questionnaire are placed side by side.

Heady said it was essential the FPC act on DeCrane's motion prior to April 12.

"We cannot finalize our own questionnaire until the commission rules on the motion," he said. Mason and spokesmen for the producer and distributor-consumer groups agreed a much brief and more simplified form should be required of small producers.

Mason began preparing the ground work for such a form Wednesday by conferring informally with small producer representatives.

A Sept. 28 policy statement establishing price ceilings for each of the nation's 33 gas-producing areas eliminated a seven-year-old cost-rate system under which each producer case was handled individually.

Teaching Machine Seen As Big Aid

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Suppose you could hook up a teaching machine to an electronic computer, plug in a student, and turn on a switch.

How much would the student learn, and how fast?

Much more and much faster than ever before, says Prof. Edwin McClintock of the University of Illinois.

The idea seems pretty far out, and it's still a long way from complete development. But McClintock and others at Illinois are convinced it's more than just an idle dream.

"It combines the best of the teaching machines, the best of the computers, and the best of the student-teacher relationship," McClintock said recently in an interview. "We haven't yet begun to apply our technological advances to the learning process, and it's time we did."

Here is how it would work:

A program of instruction in mathematics, for instance, would be broken down into tiny bits and pieces of knowledge designed to lead the student from ignorance of the subject to mastery at his own speed. This is the basic idea of the so-called teaching machines.

The program of instruction would then be fed into an electronic computer on tapes, films and sound tracks.

Next, you plug in the student by attaching a device, similar to a lie detector, to his arm.

The student might be on his own, or working with a class. There might be a professor in the room, although this wouldn't be necessary.

With a flick of a switch, the machine would begin to present the material on one of several small screens facing the student. On another screen, a professor's face is seen as he discusses the material, with his voice coming from a recorded tape.

Once the problem had been presented, the student would begin to work it. He would do his work on a roll of paper which would be fed back into the machine.

Comic Divers Hurt In Act

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—A comic diving act was disrupted by a near-tragedy during a circus performance Wednesday night.

Three professional divers were injured, none critically, when a 30,000 gallon tank filled with 10 feet of water burst as one performer dove into it.

The other two, climbing to the 20-foot diving platform, fell to the arena floor. The crowd watched horror-stricken.

Injured were Gary Gaines, 38, of Trenton, N. J., who was diving; Atlas Darigo, 32, Miami, Fla.; and Hartley French, 31, North Miami Beach, Fla.

Gaines and French suffered chest and rib injuries. Darigo had a leg and arm injured.

If the student got bogged down, the machine would take note and a recorded voice would say, "Look, you need some help. Why don't you go see Professor Jones in Room 783?"

And if the device on the student's arm indicated he was merely flustered, the machine would say, "Here, let's take a break for a minute or two." While the student leaned back in his chair, soft music would be played to ease his tension.

"The only limit on what you can cover with this method is the amount of time you can devote to it," McClintock said.

One of the big advantages, McClintock added, is that it gives the professors more time for individual work with the students.

"In education, there must always be the student-teacher relationship," he said. "If we can perfect this idea, that relationship can be better, more intimate, than ever before."

Three Held In Contempt

BEAUMONT (AP)—Dist. Judge Owen Lord Wednesday held two women and a man in contempt and ordered them to jail for refusing to answer questions before a Jefferson County grand jury inquiring into vice.

They also refused to answer when put on the witness stand in Judge Lord's court.

Lord fined Margaret Infinger Richmond, identified as operator of the Midship Hotel in Port Arthur but a resident of Galveston, $100 and sentenced her to three days in jail.

He ordered Gertrude Infinger Gustafson of Port Arthur and Jerry Netzek, operator of the Blue Mist Dinner Club in Beaumont, to jail until they answered the questions.

The lawyer for the three, Joe Goodwin, said he would appeal.

Taxes To Be Taken From Bonus Checks

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—There will be prepayment deductions from the state bonus paid to some veterans who entered military service from Kentucky.

The state, which hopes in May to start paying its bonus to veterans of four wars, says it is checking every application to see if the veteran owes any back state taxes.

If he does, the taxes will be deducted before the bonus is paid unless he files a protest.

Cold Blast Fades Northeast

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Of man winter's parting blast at the Midwest, where up to 6 inches of snow paralyzed traffic, closed schools and caused at least 8 deaths, faded into the Northeast today.

Grudgingly relinquishing its fury, the storm spewed snow, rain and sleet today over New York state and into Southern New England.

It appeared that a storm of major proportion was building up in upper New York state. Many up state areas counted from 5 to 10 inches of snow in the early hours of the day and the fall continued.

The snow, rain and sleet made driving hazardous in many sections of the state.

South of this storm area, it was raining.

Snow flurries still dotted portions of the Midwest today. The clean-up process was slow. The snowfall that ranged from 6 to 16 inches, with drifts piled up 2 feet and higher along highways, had poured down over Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan.

Southern Wisconsin got 8 to 12 inches of snow, forcing the closing of many schools and facties. Countless roads became impassable.

Eleven deaths were blamed on the snow in Wisconsin—all from heart attacks induced by overexertion while shoveling or plodding through snow.

Illinois counted 3 deaths attributed to the storm, and Michigan and Nebraska had 2 each.

South of the snow, thunderstorms and heavy rain raced across parts of the Deep South. A rash of tornadoes hit Georgia, causing an estimated $1 million in damages. There were no reports of death or injuries.

In Tennessee, scattered flooding Wednesday in the Knoxville areas forced dozens of families to higher ground. The Mississippi River was expected to flood in the western part of the state today.

The Weather Bureau reported some morning rain in West Virginia and Maryland and along the northern and central Pacific Coast. Early temperatures ranged from the teens in the northern tier of states, through the 20s and 30s from the Rockies to the Appalachians, from the 40s through the 60s in the South Atlantic states and into the Gulf states. On the Pacific Coast, the readings ranged from the 40s in the north to the 60s in the south.

Bandit Is Defied By Elderly Woman

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The armed bandit faced Mrs. A. G. Wall, 70, in an alley behind her home and announced, "This is a stick-up."

She slammed a gate in his face. "Do you want me to use this gun?" he demanded.

"You suit yourself about that,"
