Petrolia Man Killed In Accident; Henriettan Attacked

RAY HAWS, 28, FATALLY HURT AT SEMINOLE

John Klein, Clay County Resident, Assaulted Near Home

CONDITION CRITICAL

Tom and Andrew Adams Held in Jail After Filing of Charges

One Northwest Texan was killed and another critically injured in mishaps over the week-end, according to information received Sunday.

Word was received Sunday in Petrolia of the death of Ray Haws of that city in an oil well accident at Seminole, Okla. Haws, 28 years old, was connected with the Trigg Drilling company of Seminole. Details of the accident were not received immediately by friends and relatives at Petrolia.

Henriettan Attacked

At Henrietta, Tom and Andrew Adams were held in jail in default of $2,000 bond in connection with an assault on John Klein, about 60, who lives four miles north of Henrietta. The alleged assault occurred about 6 p. m. Saturday near Mr. Klein's home and was said to have been the growth of a quarrel over some mules.

Mr. Klein was beaten by two men who later lassoed a rope around Klein's body and, riding on horseback, drug him through a water tank. He was discovered in a serious condition by a neighbor and taken to the home of a brother, Leonard, of the Beard community. Physicians said Klein probably was injured internally and that his condition was critical.

His alleged assailants were charged in justice of the peace court at Henrietta with assault with intent to murder.

Rites Tuesday

Funeral services for the Petrolia man will be held at 2 p. m. Monday from the Baptist church with the Rev. R. J. Fletcher, pastor, officiating. Services at the grave will be in charge of the Odd Fellows lodge, of which Mr. Haws was a member.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Haws of Petrolia; his wife; a son, Billy, 6; a daughter, Patsy Sue, 3; a brother and two sisters.

Public Works Program Delayed, Lobby Charges

WASHINGTON, July 24. (US)—"A wicked holiday" in the program of public works this year was charged in a statement issued today by the people's lobby, of which Prof. John Dewey is president.

"Nearly $2,000,000,000 more of public works should be carried out this year than the actual construction will amount to unless there is an immediate acceleration in the rate of construction," the statement said.

Contracts have not been awarded, it is charged, for many projects which were contemplated.

Condition of Negroes Reported to President

WASHINGTON, July 24. (US)—A majority of America's 12,000,000 negroes are unable to obtain dwellings meeting minimum standards of sanitation, the president's conference on home building and home ownership reported today.

Establishment of a minimum standard of housing below which no dwelling shall be built, and the supplying of enough low-priced dwellings to meet that standard for all wage earners, was recommended.

Movie Players Barred From Selecting Stories

HOLLYWOOD, July 24. (US)—Screen players under contract to Warner Brothers and First National companies will no longer have a hand in the selection of stories or the roles they will play, according to an announcement issued today by Jack L. Warner, vice president in charge of production, and Darryl Zanuck, his associate.

The producer, they say, has a much better opportunity to keep in touch with the public, through theaters and exchanges, than has the individual star. In addition to which, supervision will be overcome.

DEATH CLAIMS WILL GLASGOW

Clay County Attorney Dies Suddenly Here

Will J. Glasgow, 49, county attorney of Clay county since Jan. 1, 1929, died at a local hospital about 7 o'clock Sunday evening after an illness of only a few hours.

Mr. Glasgow, a prominent member of the bar in Clay county for the past 13 years, was scheduled to speak at the Highland Heights Christian church Sunday morning in place of Rev. J. E. Montgomery, the pastor. He became ill Saturday night, however, and was brought to the hospital here about noon Sunday.

According to Judge William Wantland, with whom the deceased had maintained a law partnership for the past eight years, Mr. Glasgow had been ill the past 10 days. Physicians at the local hospital attributed his death to a complication of abdominal disorders.

Mr. Glasgow served with the American forces in France during the world war, attaining the rank of captain, and established his home and law practice in Henrietta immediately after leaving the army.

He is survived by his wife, to whom he was married about one year ago; a half-brother, John Glasgow, and a sister, Mrs. Mabel Cope, all of Henrietta. His parents were pioneer settlers and business folk of Clay county.

The body was removed to the F. O. Moore funeral parlors at Henrietta Sunday night, accompanied by Judge Wantland and Judge Vincent Stine. Funeral arrangements are to be made Monday.

D. M. Perkins Extends Thanks to Voters

D. M. Perkins, who Saturday won a place in the August run-off for state representative from district 111, place 2, issued a brief statement Sunday night thanking those who accorded him their support in the first primary.

His statement follows:

"I wish to express to all my friends my heartfelt gratitude for their vote and efforts in my behalf in my race for the legislature regardless of the outcome.

"In the years left to me, be they few or many, I shall always remember."

ANDY MELLON EXPECTED TO RESIGN POST

London Paper Says Envoy To Tell Hoover That Young Man Needed

NEW PARLEY URGED

Idahoan Proposes Meet To Settle All Post-War Problems of World

LONDON, July 25. (UP)—(Monday)—The usually well-informed Daily Herald said today that it is expected Andrew W. Mellon, United States ambassador to the court of St. James, would resign on his present visit to Washington.

The newspaper said it was believed Mellon intends to tell President Hoover the coming negotiations on war debts should be in the hands of a younger man.

It is believed Mellon also will tell the president there is an urgent demand for drastic reduction or complete cancellation of Britain's war debt to the United States, the newspaper said.

Sir Ronald Lindsey, the British ambassador to Washington who is making a trip to London coincident with Mellon's journey, will inform Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald of the United States attitude toward war debts revision, the Daily Herald said.

New Determination

It was recalled that Mellon, before leaving London, said his trip was purely for personal reasons although he would spend sometime in Washington. The Sunday Dispatch also carried a story saying political observers expected Mellon to resign.

The Daily Express, commenting on Senator Borah's debt suggestions said it would be "easily to read into Mr. Borah's words a new determination of the American people to face the war debt problem in a realistic way. The immense volume of American opinion is still rigid against even revision. However, we should say Mr. Borah is fairly considered a straw in the wind that is beginning to blow."

BORAH FAVORS NEW PARLEY IN WAR DEBTS

WASHINGTON, July 24. (AP)—Discussion of the war debt question echoed on both sides of the Atlantic today after Senator Borah's proposal for a world-wide program to settle post-war problems including revision or cancellation of the obligations of the United States.

On this side, Borah's proposal revived the debt problem which has been virtually dormant since congress last winter turned down President Hoover's proposal to recreate the debt funding commission.

The suggestion of the chairman of the senate foreign relations committee was received warmly in most European capitals and aroused new hopes across the water for revision of debts.

Hoover Silent

Borah, in a nation-wide radio speech, proposed an international conference at once to consider revision or cancellation of the war debts in connection with other post-

Melvin Traylor Proposed As Next U. S. Treasurer

CHICAGO, July 24. (US)—Melvin A. Traylor, who rose from a Kentucky farm boy to the presidency of the First National bank of Chicago, may be national treasurer of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt's campaign for election as president.

He was offered the place by James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic national committee, according to advices from New York today, and is considering acceptance.

It was also learned Governor Roosevelt looks with favor upon Traylor for appointment as the next secretary of the treasury in the event the Democratic ticket wins.

Traylor is credited with first having warned the nation of the ultimate collapse of the stock market.

Final Reports Confirm Cooper's Victory Over Bundy In Precinct One

By a margin of 75 votes, J. P. Marrs defeated T. A. Hicks for the county judgeship nomination, according to complete unofficial totals Sunday night. Final figures were: Marrs 5,148; Hicks, 5,073.

M. A. Bundy was defeated for county commissioner precinct 1 by Lee Cooper, the final count being Cooper, 3,738; Bundy, 3,607.

Sunday's additional returns did not change the relative standing of candidates in any of the races, the late vote following the same trends as that recorded Saturday night.

In the races in which there had been some doubt as to the outcome, the final figures were:

Legislature, Place 2.—Tennyson, 2,438; Perkins, 1,797; Cowart, 1,592; Williams, 1,589; Martin, 1,568; Van Deventer, 745. Tennyson and Perkins go into the run-off.

Judge 89th District Court—Martin, 4,563; Somerville, 3,131; Bunnenberg, 2,862. Martin and Somerville go into the run-off.

County Clerk—Hall, 4,797; McFall, 2,376; Avis, 2,119; Trevathan, 1,388. Miss Hall and McFall go into the run-off.

Justice of Peace, Precinct 1, Place 1—Gwinn, 3,758; Lawler, 3,528.

Constable, Precinct 1—Bradford, 3,989; Barker, 1,372; Ashcraft, 1,266. Bradford wins without a run-off.

Daniel County Chairman

Roy Daniel won the county chairmanship, 1,086 voters writing in his name, while 633 wrote in that of Harvey Harris. The vote was surprisingly large considering the quite informal nature of the race. Scattering votes were written in for various others.

COMPLETE WICHITA VOTE

The complete unofficial Wichita county vote by precincts is given on page 2 today.

Sunday's returns increased the heavy majorities of Hunter and Allred in this county and, generally speaking, were in line with the vote recorded Saturday night.

A total of about 10,600 votes were polled. Whether this is a record figure for the county was not ascertained Sunday, but there is no doubt that it is remarkably high in proportion to the number of qualified voters in the county. Despite the heavy vote and unusually lengthy ballot, election officials completed the count in excellent time. Sunday noon found all but three or four boxes complete, and all were in by 10 o'clock Sunday night.

Existing Races

The biggest upset of the returns was the defeat of County Commissioner Bundy by Lee Cooper. The race had not attracted a great deal of attention and political observers had thought Bundy would be returned by a comfortable majority. His younger opponent, son of one of this county's best known farmers, J. D. Cooper, took the lead late Saturday night and additional returns Sunday increased it. Thus there will be at least one new face on the commissioner's court.

The contest for the county judgeship was one of the most exciting ever witnessed in a primary here. At one time during the compilation only five votes separated the two candidates, but additional figures widened the margin. It was not until complete returns were in that the winner was definitely known.

In other races, Sunday's returns followed the trends indicated Saturday night.

Kuntz and Hines in Run-Off

Only one run-off race will be necessary in precinct races outside of Wichita Falls, complete unofficial returns indicated Sunday.

County Commissioner L. L. Kuntz of precinct No. 3 and M. L. Hines will be contestants in the one run-

Use of Medical and Dental Clinics Grows

WASHINGTON, July 24. (US)—Use of clinics for medical and dental care is increasing in the United States, but the gain in recent months has been less marked than in former years, due to reduced budgets, the children's bureau of the labor department reported today.

Comparison of figures for 144 agencies in 19 metropolitan areas which have reported monthly since the beginning of 1929 show the rate of increase in clinic service was 18.5 per cent from 1929 to 1930 and 14.3 per cent from 1930 to 1931.

Clinic visits reported totaled 4,276,560 in 1931, against 3,630, 163 in 1930 and 3,233,103 in 1929.

Walker Nominated for State Representative

Albert G. Walker of Vernon was renominated as state representative of the 112th flotorial district, comprising Wichita and Wilbarger counties, with a lead Sunday night of over 3,000 votes over O. T. Warlick Jr., of Vernon, his only opponent. Walker polled 6,336 votes to 5,275 for Warlick, combined tabulations of both counties revealed.

Walker was an easy winner of the nomination for his second term in Wichita county with the vote standing, 6,434 to 3,010. Wilbarger county gave Warlick a lead with the tabulations showing a standing of 2,326 to 1,812.

Takes Rest

With policies of his department endorsed by the people of Texas by a tremendous majority, James V. Allred prepared Sunday to take a brief rest in Wichita Falls, with perhaps a fishing trip for diversion before his return to Austin.

RITES SAID FOR 'FLO' ZIEGFELD

Services Held for Famed 'Follies' Producer

LOS ANGELES, July 24. (US)—Florenz Ziegfeld, for whom life meant color and gayety, whirling rhythms and the lilt of music, slept quietly today in the hushed stillness of a funeral chapel.

There was the beauty that he loved in life—but a different beauty; the austere loveliness of white roses and lilies drooping over a blossom-hidden gray casket; golden sunshine softened into a dim radiance through high windows; masses of flowers in crimson and rose and tawny yellow.

John Boles Sings

There was music—the far-away singing of an organ, and then, softly and tenderly, the voice of his friend, John Boles:

"Going home—going home—I'm just going home . . ."

Men and women, who had worked and played and laughed with Florenz Ziegfeld, wept quietly in that peaceful stillness. His passing had meant so much to them.

Only a score or so of those who had known and loved Florenz Ziegfeld were there today to say farewell to him.

Billie Burke Ziegfeld, her daughter, Patricia, Will Rogers and a few intimate friends sat together in a curtained alcove. They were weeping when they left the chapel after the last good-byes had been said, but Miss Burke, whose courage in her ordeal has amazed even those who have been close to her, walked steadily to her car.

Notables Attend

The Rev. Frank Gibson read the comforting words of the Episcopal service and spoke of the man who slept beneath the roses and lilies:

"His passing was a blow to the theater and to the world at large. He was a genius; a man of limitless talents."

Those who came today to say good-bye to Florenz Ziegfeld were men and women whose names are known everywhere that footlights burn or motion pictures are shown. They included Marion Davies, Ethel Barrymore, Bebe Daniels, Norma Shearer, Katherine Hepburn, Louella Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Goldwyn, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Lasky, John Barrymore, Eddie Cantor, Ben Lyon, Will Rogers, John Boles, Winfield Sheehan, Leon Errol, Harold Lloyd, Irving Thalberg, Walter Wanger and a score of others.

ALLRED TELLS APPRECIATION OF BIG VOTE

Wichitan Pledges Anew His Fidelity to Interests Of People

PLANS FISHING TRIP

Attorney General Views Huge Majority as Vote Of Confidence

James V. Allred, Democratic nominee for attorney general, who received one of the largest majorities in Saturday's primary ever given a candidate in Texas, Sunday afternoon issued a statement expressing his appreciation to the voters of Texas and pledged anew his fidelity to the interest of the people.

In his statement he referred to reports that employes of some large corporations in the state had been threatened with the loss of employment if they voted for him and said that he hoped the legislature would pass a law that would prevent and punish such coercion in the future.

Mr. Allred expects to remain here for several days and hopes to enjoy a fishing trip to one of the lakes near here before returning to Austin.

Vote of Confidence

"Unofficial returns from Saturday's primary," said Mr. Allred, indicate my renomination by a majority of more than 150,000 over both my opponents. Such a vote of confidence could not but overwhelm a public official with gratitude and inspire him to greater efforts in the service of his people. Too often is it true that a faithful officer, subjected to the abuse and unfair criticism of a heated campaign, grows discouraged and wonders if it is really worth while to hold public office. An endorsement like the one just given my department, however, removes those doubts and fills my heart with unspeakable joy. It proves, once more, that there is something in the world besides the power of money; that friendships are real; that most people are honest, fair and loyal; that principle rises above political expediency; and that the intelligent citizenship of Texas will rise to any occasion or emergency once they understand the facts.

Victory for People

"Mine was not a personal victory; it was a triumph for the people, the greatest battle for the rights of the independent citizen and opportunity for his children that has been fought or won in half a century. The issue was clearcut and unmistakable. The people settled it at the polls even more decisively than they did under the leadership

Soviet and Jap Ships Fire on Each Other

LONDON, July 24. (US)—The Exchange Telegraph reports today from Harbin that Soviet and Japanese naval guard ships assigned to protect fishermen of the two nations off western Kamchatka have been firing at each other since Friday. Details are lacking.

The Soviet consul general at Mukden is reported in Harbin on his way back to Moscow to discuss the Kamchatka situation with his government. Hostilities are not expected, and neither country is expected to precipitate a diplomatic break, it was said.

Curtis to Leave Today For Olympic Games

WASHINGTON, July 24. (US)—Vice President Curtis leaves tomorrow for Los Angeles to represent President Hoover at the opening of the Olympic games next Saturday.

He will make no political speeches on the trip.

From Los Angeles Curtis plans to go to his home in Topeka, Kan., to await notification in mid-August of his renomination for the vice presidency.

Mrs. Ferguson's Lead Increases to 73,166; Shaver Leading Woods

Appreciation for Staunch Support of Friends and for His Big Vote in Home County Expressed by Hunter; Allred Piling Up Huge Majority

Apparently consigned by late election returns Sunday night to third place in the race for nomination as governor, Tom F. Hunter of this city had no promise of support to make to either of the two opponents who ranked him in Saturday's primary.

Asked directly whether he would extend his support to Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson or Gov. Ross S. Sterling in the August run-off, Mr. Hunter promptly replied:

"I'm leaving Wednesday morning for a few days' fishing trip."

Expressing his deep gratitude to those who supported him in his commendable race, particularly for a six-to-one majority in Wichita county, Mr. Hunter attributed his apparent defeat to the strength "of the political machine which we have in our midst."

His statement follows:

Issues Statement

"I have the greatest admiration for the understanding of the thousands of our great citizenship that supported me in the face of paid propaganda that I had no chance. I harbor no malice.

"A six to one vote over the highest of my opponents in my home county, while neither of my opponents had a majority in his, is a greater honor than a governorship defeated by those who know you best. To all who supported me, I return my heartfelt thanks.

"I have made the race without money, without an organization and with the support of but one large newspaper. I have made a hard, tiresome fight because I have foreseen a perilous condition of my people. I believe people do not fully understand the extent of the stranglehold of these predatory interests nor do they fully appreciate the strength of the political machine in our midst.

Will Continue Fight

"Whether I am accorded the honor of the leadership or not, I shall continue to fight the battle of the plain people so long as I shall live or until we have crossed the great gulch that I see. I fear that the 99 per cent of our people that own 40 per cent of our wealth shall continue to bear the yoke of taxation while the one per cent with 60 per cent of the wealth escape their just portion. That it may not be so, I will be on hand, without pay, at every available opportunity, as I have during all of this impending danger, in support of consistent, conservative and just measures for relief.

"During the run-off campaign, regardless of who the two candidates are, I shall make no statement nor offer argument inconsistent with either of the nearly 200 speeches I have made."

'MA' FERGUSON HURDLES ODDS IN COME-BACK

First Woman Governor Of State Shows Power In Amassing Votes

DALLAS, July 24. (AP)—The determined efforts of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson to regain the power of the governor's office in Texas over bitter opposition have met with success in the state's Democratic first primary.

Leading her nearest opponent, Gov. R. S. Sterling, seeking re-election by a large margin, she was assured a place tonight in the run-off, or second primary to be held Aug. 27, with the likelihood Governor Sterling would be her opponent.

A majority over all candidates, eight of whom were in the race, was necessary for nomination, and there was no possibility any candidate would have such a majority.

Hunter Strong Third

Tom F. Hunter of Wichita Falls, attorney and oil man, who came into state and national notice two years ago by leading independent oil operators in a fight for an oil tariff, was running strongly in third place.

The other candidates for governor were out of the running. They were M. H. Wolfe of Dallas, Frank Putnam of Houston, J. Ed Glenn of Kopperl, Roger Q. Evans of San Antonio and C. A. Frakes of Port Arthur.

The last tabulation tonight by the Texas election bureau, with the next expected about 10 a. m. tomorrow, showed Mrs. Ferguson had increased her lead to more than 70,000 votes over Governor Sterling. In the first primary two years ago Mrs. Ferguson led Sterling by about that margin when all returns were tabulated, but in the run-off primary she lost to Sterling by about 90,000 votes.

Returns compiled by the election bureau at 9 p. m., from 235 out of 254 counties, 26 complete, gave the following for governor:

Submission Leads

Ferguson 264,594; Sterling 191,428; Hunter 139,944; Wolfe 16,993; Evans 2,134; Putnam 1,887; Glenn 1,221; Frakes 1,043.

The election bureau estimated 619,244 votes had been tabulated, and possibly 250,000 were not reported. In the first primary of 1930 the total vote was about 853,000.

On a proposal that congress submit the question of retaining or repealing the 18th amendment through conventions "to consider that issue by itself," the vote in favor of submission led by a ratio of more than two to one, or 218,963 for and 88,518 against. Reports indicated the referendum was conducted in virtually all counties, on a special ballot for that purpose, although some, including Dallas county, one of the largest, did not hold it.

Dry leaders were quick to say the referendum did not represent the sentiment of Texas Democrats, citing the fact the vote on the question ran far behind in the governors race. Wets claimed on the other hand, it was representative.

Thomas B. Love of Dallas, militant dry leader, said in a statement the figures "made it certain that more than 500,000 majority of the Democrats who voted in yesterday's primary election either voted against submission or refused to vote for it."

Mrs. Florence N. Rodgers, state chairman of the women's organization for national prohibition reform, stated the vote proved the people of Texas were overwhelming in favor of constructive changes in the prohibition laws.

Crutchfield Preaches Baccalaureate Sermon To Open Senior Activities

Commencement activities for the mid-summer high school and Junior college graduating class were inaugurated Sunday morning at the Floral Heights Methodist church when the entire class of 26 graduates heard Rev. Finis A. Crutchfield speak on "The Larger Life" in the baccalaureate sermon.

Social affairs will bring the graduates together several times during Monday and Tuesday, with commencement exercises scheduled for 10 a. m. Wednesday, followed by a farewell luncheon for the class.

Members of the mid-summer class were the valedictory commencement address Sunday morning and occupied a reserved section immediately before the speaker. The class was accompanied by its sponsor, Prof. R. O. Jones.

Rev. Crutchfield's admonition to a life of broad aspiration was based upon the 19th verse of the 18th Psalm, his text being, "He brought me forth also into a large place: he delivered me, because he delighted in me."

"Man is never satisfied with his limitations," the speaker said. "To every lover of the sea, each ocean constitutes a new challenge, and for the mountaineer each towering peak becomes at once a new antagonist to be conquered. It is an innate quality of the human soul to supersede the bonds imposed by

Tom Love, Dryest Of Dry, Scoffs At Idea Referendum Vote Is Wet Sign

DALLAS, July 24. (AP)—Former State Senator Thomas B. Love, one of the prohibitionist leaders of the bolt to Hoover in 1928, today issued the following statement on yesterday's Democratic primary in Texas:

"Texas remains overwhelmingly dry.

"It is erroneously claimed that the Texas democracy voted wet in yesterday's primary election. On the contrary, it undoubtedly voted overwhelmingly dry. According to the 4 o'clock Sunday totals, out of 466,640 votes cast, 145,000 voted for submission, or just 30 per cent of the total vote counted.

"These figures make it certain that more than 500,000 majority of the Democrats who voted in yesterday's primary election either voted against submission or refused, to vote for it. It should not be overlooked that the drys were widely urged by dry leaders to ignore the prohibition referendum in casting their votes.

"There is nothing unusual in the Ferguson vote for governor. At 4 o'clock the Ferguson lead over Sterling was 57,000 votes. In 1930 Ferguson led Sterling 72,000 votes in the first primary and Sterling beat Ferguson over 90,000 votes in the run-off. The Ferguson vote is running about 52 per cent of the total vote. In the run-off in 1930 the Ferguson vote was 45 per cent of the total vote."

Veteran District Judge Leads for Nomination

Special to The Record News.

CHILDRESS, Texas, July 24.—James V. Allred carried every precinct in Childress county by a five to one majority in the state race for attorney general, polling 1,408 to 270 for Clem Calhoun.

Childress county's highest tribute was paid to a fellow citizen, Bob Alexander, candidate for state representative, who polled 1,587 votes to 321 for Sam A. Bryant, who sought re-election. Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson carried the county by a small margin over R. S. Sterling in the governor's race, with Tom Hunter running third. The tabulations: Ferguson, 660; Sterling, 627; Hunter, 589.

of the immortal Hogg 40 years ago. Certain selfish interests doing business in this state conceived themselves to be above the law. Boldly and brazenly they asserted their immunity from prosecution for offenses. They poured out money as freely as water in an effort to defeat and discredit me. To use the language of one of their hirelings, they wanted to 'smear' me for the future if they could not beat me. In carrying out their program, they resorted to a costly campaign of villification and slander, waging the most unholy war ever unloosed against a state official. But the common people everywhere rose up in righteous indignation and administered this crushing defeat to the candidate of these sinister influences. By their vote, the citizenship of Texas said in no uncertain terms that while we want our state developed, yet any organization doing business here must abide by our laws; and that no corporation is greater than the people that created it.

"I hold no ill will towards employes of some of these companies, who were frightened and intimidated with threats that they would lose their jobs if they did not vote and work against me. They had been misled and deceived and, I realize, could not help themselves. I hope the legislature will pass a law that will prevent this coercion of employes by any organization.

"In a few days, I shall return to the attorney general's office at Austin and, in keeping with my campaign pledges, my oath of office, and this special mandate of the people, apply myself anew to a faithful enforcement of the laws of Texas. In all humility, I hope I have emerged from this campaign a bigger and a better man, and may measure up to the responsibilities of this high office more truly than ever before.

"I desire to address a special message of appreciation to my home people, and to the citizenship of Northwest Texas, for the splendid testimonial they gave me at the polls. Majorities of five and six to one continue to swell my total vote and I can never adequately express my heartfelt appreciation for this expression of confidence. The people of this district have always been more than generous with me. Fourteen years ago I came here, unemployed, hungry and thirsty, without clothing except a uniform of navy blue. You gave me work; you gave me food and drink, and clothed me with the honor of public office. I shall not soon forget the people I love, my scores of friends in this great section of Texas."

Waggoner for Public Weigher

In some communities the office of public weigher is an important one. It has not been so in Wichita Falls for a good many years, wherefore some of the primary voters undertook to have some fun out of it.

A movement was started to write in the name of T. J. Waggoner Jr. in the space provided, there being no candidate's name on the ballot. Mr. Waggoner got a good many votes; nobody knows just how many, for election officials and newspaper men had more important things to do. Ross Robertson also got a few votes, and a number of other citizens were honored by scattering ballots. Indications were late Sunday that Mr. Waggoner can have the office if he can qualify.

Claude Thornton, composing room foreman for The Record News, was variously written in on the ballots for justice of the peace, public weigher and other offices which Mr. Thornton's admirers apparently believed he could fill.

Some writing-in of a more serious nature was done in the race for congress, 13th district. There seemed to be something of a concerted movement to write in the name of Judge A. H. Carrigan.

M'FARLANE'S LEAD GROWING

Backus 5,178 Behind And Hinson Low Third

W. D. McFarlane of Graham increased his lead over George W. Backus of Vernon more than 1,000 votes in the race for nomination for congressman of the 13th district with tabulations approaching the completion point Sunday night. McFarlane polled 16,604 votes to lead Backus, who had 11,426 votes, by a wide margin of 5,178. Dillard Hinson of Graham polled 6,926 votes, 4,500 under Backus' total, and was apparently eliminated from the August runoff.

Archer county reported a complete tally from the 24 precincts, giving McFarlane a commanding lead. Returns from Wilbarger county did not list one box of 150 votes in the congressional race but paid a tribute to the home citizen, Backus, by giving him more than a two-to-one lead over his nearest opponent, McFarlane.

Baylor county tabulations included 11 of 17 boxes. McFarlane was an easy leader in Clay county where two boxes, totaling 60 votes, remained to be counted. Cooke county reported tabulations of 26 of 35 boxes, and Denton county had one precinct to report out of 32, with 75 votes uncounted. Jack county reported practically complete tabulations giving McFarlane a more than two-to-one lead. Montague county returns were incomplete and Throckmorton county's report covered 50 per cent of the total vote.

McFarlane had a wide margin in Wichita county with 43 of 45 boxes reporting and 41 of the precinct totals complete.

Members Of B. E. F. Leave By Thousands

WASHINGTON, July 24. (US)—The evacuation of Washington by bonus seekers reached its peak today when thousands of men surged into the railroad yards and caught trains for home.

Most of them failed to avail themselves of the government's offer to give them tickets to their destination.

It was estimated by police tonight that fully 10,000 of the 15,000 who were here when congress adjourned a week ago had departed.

Walter W. Waters, commander-in-chief, and about 5,000 of his die-hard followers remain. They are awaiting advice of attorneys on whether they should obey a treasury department order to evacuate all camps by midnight tomorrow or fight it out in court.

The treasury has notified all veterans they will be treated as trespassers and prosecuted if they fail to get off government land by Monday night.

The food situation was acute today. The veterans are now living from hand to mouth. They had a clim breakfast of cracked wheat and coffee this morning.

Pleasant Social Events Enliven Summer Holidays

Even as August draws near, and cool days are few and far between, Wichitans who have chosen home as their summer resort, meet often in pleasant parties. Not the least of these is the dinner that has become a regular Monday evening event at the Municipal Country clubhouse, when a charming progra mof impromptu numbers follows the dinner.

The group has grown in attendance each week. There is no membership, but those who attend, make dinner reservations by 10 o'clock Monday morning and are associated as lovers of fine arts. There are no officers in the association, but Emil Hermann, whose idea probably originated the pleasant contact, acts as informal host at the dinner table.

The Municipal clubhouse, located outside the city and surrounded by groves of trees, is an ideal place for the evening meetings, Mrs. G. Wayne Barker, hostess, will take reservations early Monday mornings. A number of those who attend, have made permanent reservations which must be cancelled by Monday at 10 o'clock if they find it impossible to be at the dinner.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

Greetings to friends in Fort Worth, Tyler and Longview. We have had letters in the past week from former Wichitans who tell us they wait to read the morning paper from this city and learn what we have seen, or heard—or sometimes thought. Such letters come as a charming surprise and there's always a glow in our heart after reading them. We make new resolutions to try to tell of only the worthwhile things.

We know, however, that in the past week, they have been having just what we have had, political speeches. We have wondered at times if ever before in the history of the world the word "I" was so often uttered. Of course that pronoun is a very important thing. But because it has somehow a personal sound, we have preferred the editorial "we."

In common with thousands of you, we sat up until 1 o'clock Sunday morning, to hear election returns—or rather, election estimates. Then Sunday morning, when ministers and music filled the air (it was their turn) we heard a radio listener say "I'm tired of sermons and music; I want to hear some good common sense."

That's all right; everyone enjoys hearing common sense, but people's ideas of what common sense is, differs greatly. With election returns in as far as they are, partisans are just beginning to electioneer. And of course, no congressional partisan, no gubernatorial partisan can see common sense in his opponent's arguments.

We have done our duty so far. So we leave politics off our page for a bit. The radio comes into our mind. This morning, we heard two sermons going at the same time, and a baby was lifting her voice in distress as she listened to one. We could not help wondering what effect the radio will have on children as they grow up.

Quite often you have heard our idea of heaven. It must include much space, and quite hours and peace. The majority of the homes that own radios, fail to know what quiet is. Will the infants of today be puzzled by quiet? People are living more and more in apartments. Few apartments know what space is.

Someone said Sunday afternoon, "Well you see what the younger set has done about the resubmission." We do not know if it was really the younger set that turned Texas' opinion upside down; but the idea gives us qualms about the heaven that will be preached in the future. The younger set that is brought up in apartments to the sound of jazz music, may revolutionize the idea of heaven.

We remember dimly a street of great old three-story brick mansions in Memphis, Tenn. At least they were once mansions. Their loft; ceilings and prism'd chandeliers still breathe of a day, vanished now when the rooms are used as homes for boarders, those who keep them being often fragile old ladies who have "seen better days."

The heyday of those homes is a time we would love to see perpetuated in American memory. There, under the great trees; in the lofty rooms where old square pianos stood; where candles gleamed in sconces on the walls; where faithful old darkies went about their duties, there was no hurry, no noise, no disturbance. It must have been a heavenly period.

The group has grown in attendance each week. There is no membership, but those who attend, make dinner reservations by 10 o'clock Monday morning and are associated as lovers of fine arts. There are no officers in the association, but Emil Hermann, whose idea probably originated the pleasant contact, acts as informal host at the dinner table.

Writers' Club

The Manuscript club, a group of professional writers, whose summer meetings are bi-monthly, will meet Wednesday morning with Miss Mildred Gildhouse, at her home on Kemp boulevard.

Members bring their work and read it for criticism. Quite often definite changes are suggested that result in salable manuscripts. The summer sessions are charmingly informal but highly inspirational. To become a member of the Manuscript club, one must be a professional writer.

Members of the Wesley Girls Sunday school class of the First Methodist church have planned a real summertime outing for Tuesday morning. They will go to Haven park at 6:30 o'clock for breakfast and a swim. This will take the place of the regular monthly business and social meeting, usually held in the church parlors.

Mrs. A. H. Carrigan's lawn will be the scene of a pretty lawn party given to honor Miss Dorothy Dragon, educational director of the First Presbyterian church, Tuesday evening. Miss Dragon, outstanding in ability in her work, is popular with members of the First Presbyterian church and with many Wichitans outside the church circles.

One table bridges, informal picnic suppers, backyard dances, lawn parties and swimming parties complete the social round that interest the younger society set of Wichita Falls through summer days.

Fortune Of Hoover Cut By Investment

WASHINGTON, July 24. (US)—Herbert Hoover no longer is a millionaire president.

An article in the magazine Fortune declared today Mr. Hoover's personal fortune has shrunk from $4,000,000 at the time of his retirement from active business in 1914 to approximately $700,000 at present.

"Unfortunate investments," plus "generous contributions" to relief work, caused the shrinkage, the article said.

What is left of the president's once large fortune, it was added, is invested in bonds, "where it will be safe from the vicissitudes which have reduced the principal to less than one-fifth of the original total."

Klein Warns Against U. S. Factories Abroad

WASHINGTON, July 24. (US)—A word of caution to the American manufacturer, who contemplates building branch factories abroad, was issued today by Dr. Julius Klein, assistant secretary of commerce.

In an address over the Columbia Broadcasting system, Dr. Klein pointed out that pitfalls in the shape of doles, pensions, disability bonuses and housing payments awaited the manufacturer who seeks to extend his plants to foreign countries.

Dr. Klein admitted that the prospect of "getting behind" foreign tariff walls frequently offered a great temptation to American producers, in that a large saving might be achieved in transportation costs through the establishment of supplementary factories abroad.

But, he warned, foreign tariffs are apt to change not only quickly, but "subtly and evasively."

Hostess Can Make Picnic Supper Charming Affair

By EMILY POST
Author of "Personality of a House"

A dinner or a picnic supper at little tables is a favorite form of party-giving, because equally suitable for indoors in winter or outdoors in summer, as well as for those who have many servants, or for those who have one, or none! If you have many servants the advantage of a dinner at little tables is that the number of people you invite is limited only by the number of tables that can be fitted into the rooms or upon the verandas of your house. And since the setting of each table can perfectly well be the same as those in a restaurant, any caterer can supply tables, table-setting, waiters and menu—exactly as for a sit-down breakfast at a wedding or a supper at a ball.

But now, in answer to countless letters asking that I devise a substitute for a serviceless buffet supper at which (to quote my readers) "people have nowhere to sit" and also which is apt to be "a failure because guests won't help themselves—let alone each other!" Our problem, then, is to consider the best method of serving a supper of 20 or possibly 30 with only two persons to serve it and, as one letter puts it, "those two not trained." Or as another letter puts it "when service must be done by yourself."

To begin with, the number of guests you can have depends upon the number of tables that can be fitted into your dining room and wherever else you choose. If your dining table is a big one, take it away if you can. But if you can't then push it flat against the wall. Don't forget, if you are setting tables in your living room, to leave plenty of space in which to receive your guests—even though they may not be able to sit down until they take their places at the tables. The smallest and cheapest card tables are excellent unless their legs wobble!

Have each table set with a small damask tablecloth—if you have damask tablecloths, if not, use what you have. At each place put a napkin and the amount of flat silver necessary for the menu. A glass for water and a wineglass for fruit cup, or a cup and saucer for chocolate (or both), a salt cellar and a pepper pot, and a dish of finger rolls already buttered. Put a hot-plate mat in the center of each table—otherwise leave it clear. Seat the tables with place cards because many people, without place cards to guide them, are rather at a loss.

The menu must be short and simple and easy to serve—but substantial! For example, don't waste energy on a cold nothing-to-eat first course, which leaves every one even hungrier than when he sat down. Begin at once with a hot course, such as lobster Newburgh, or scalloped fish, or spaghetti milanese, or chicken a la king, then have a second course of hot chicken, if you have spaghetti or fish first, or cold meats (or plenty of stuffed eggs will do) with a vegetable salad. Third course, ice cream or pie, or whatever you like.

And now the question of serving, which in our present problem, must be of the "bring-in and carry-out" variety. To begin with, water glasses would be filled and hot plates used as service plates. As soon as guests are seated, the first course is put down on the plate-mat in the cleared center of the first table. Those at the table help themselves. Then a tray with a pitcher of iced fruit cup, a pot of chocolate, sugar and whipped cream is put in the center of the second table. By this time those at the first table have helped themselves to the hot dish, which is now carried to the third table. Likewise, those at the second table have served themselves to fruit cup or chocolate, these are now placed on the first table. The second table, in turn, gets the hot course from the third table. Each course is served the same way. The three (or however many) other tables are served meanwhile by a second person to duplicate provisions.

The only delay is in removing used plates, since they have to be carried one in each hand by whoever waits at table. Or perhaps you put no dishes on the tables, but set your dining table as a buffet. The difference between an ordinary buffet supper and a little-table buffet supper would be merely that every one at the latter sits comfortably at table instead of balancing plate and glass and implements on his knee. Moreover, he does not have to collect napkins, knives, forks, spoons, glasses or cups and saucers, since all of these are set at each place on each table, and place cards, furthermore, direct the seating.

But whether you have perfect service, incomplete service or none the informality of this type of dinner or lunch or supper disarms criticism. And whether served formally by plenty of servants, or caterer's waiters or by Mrs. Littlehouse alone by herself in whichever way she finds most practical, lots of people are giving all varieties of these parties and liking them better than all others.

Our Children

What Have You?

When a boy and a girl nears the end of the elementary school course it is usually time for them to think about where they are going and how they are to get there. It is time for them to consider what work they are going to do when they have arrived at maturity.

It is clear that the work they are to do depends upon the gifts and the powers they have. When a young person asks about his future work the first question that must be answered is, "What have you?" Now a pupil in the elementary grades is not a skilled analyst. He doesn't need to be. His equipment is not fully indicated and he cannot be certain of what he has, or of what he can do. All he has are some suggestive trends. There are some things he likes to do rather well, there is usually one thing, or one group, that he prefers. That is enough for us to go upon. We ought to fix his course on them, on his strong points.

We must not consider this course as final. It may be anything but that. It may be the beginning of a long and winding road. If it arrives at the center of his power he and those who directed him, have done well. He will be happy and successful.

All teachers and vocational directors know this. They are eager to help the child find what he has and help him to develop it. Are the schools ready? Usually they are not. They are for the most part still organized and maintained on the old, old basis of the same general course for everybody from the infant class to the college. It is useless for us to ask children, "What have you?" and prepare to cultivate the talent when there is no means of doing so. We have to organize the equip schools so they can give the necessary training to the individuals as they come.

Many of our failures can be traced to wrong training. We take a child who has a manual equipment and insist that he take a college course for a degree. He fails and becomes a mentally warped creature. We allow young people whose temperament is opposed to all that a teacher's ought to be and we allow them to become teacher's to their great loss and our own. A misfit teacher is a community tragedy. We make professional workers out of mechanics. We make mechanics out of artists. We waste our own substance because we do not take an inventory of our possessions and plan to make the most of them.

Our children are our choicest, most precious possession. As parents and as citizens of a great nation we ought to consider that gravely. Our consideration ought to show in the maintenance and administration of our schools. So long as we ignore the individual's equipment and keep on with mass instruction long after it has lost its meaning and values we are going to suffer the prodigious waste of youth that is now going on.

When we ask a child what he has and respect his answer, when we educate every child according to his gifts, when we applaud usefulness as wholeheartedly as we now applaud financial success, when we value spirit above mattar, we shall achieve the ideals of this people, freedom in its richest sense.

Summer Fallowing Helped This Farmer

DUMAS, Texas, July 24. (AP)—Elgin Boulware, Moore county wheat farmer, has evidence that summer fallowing pays.

This year he planted 2,240 acres, divided into three plots. The first had been summer fallowed and plowed four times. It produced 21 bushels to the acre of 60-pound wheat, with more than 15 per cent protein content.

The second plot was not summer fallowed, but it was plowed twice. Its yield was 11½ bushels to the acre of about the same weight and protein test of the first.

The third plot was handled as the average farm, and produced seven bushels to the acre, an average yield for the surrounding farms. The yield from summer fallowed land was equivalent to three crops handled in the average manner.

BURGLARS RAID SUNSET STORE

Intruders Work Within Few Feet of Sleeper

Special to The Record News.

SUNSET, Texas, July 24.—One of the cleverest burglaries ever committed in Sunset occurred here Friday night when burglars entered a rear door of the Sunset Grocery company store and carried out and completely escaped with about 3,000 pounds of groceries, while a man slept within a few feet of the door through which they entered and loaded out the goods. They took $50 worth of tobacco, about $30 worth of shoes, 1,500 pounds of sugar, 500 pounds of flour, 100 pounds of coffee, 8 cases of buckets of lard, and other things, altogether amounting to more than $250. And to the present time nothing has been found sufficient to establish a single clue as to who took the goods or how they carried them away.

New Collingsworth Road Route Undecided

WELLINGTON, Texas, July 24. (AP)—With several routes under consideration, officials have not definitely decided what course the new highway survey will take across Collingsworth county in connection with this city. Engineers have completed 15 miles of the survey and expect to have the entire route surveyed within three weeks.

The new highway will not come directly through the business district of Wellington as it would necessitate building an underpass costing $30,000. The highway is expected to reduce the distance from Childress to Wellington by five miles and between Shamrock and Wellington one mile.

About 9 per cent of the forest fires are due to railroads, it is said.

Answers to Questions

By FREDERICK J. HASKIN

Thousands of government experts are working constantly for the benefit of all citizens of the United States. They will work directly for you if you will use our Washington bureau. This newspaper employs Mr. Haskin to act as an agent for its readers. He will take your matters to the proper authority. State your inquiry briefly, write clearly, and, enclosing three-cent stamp for a personal letter in reply, address The Record News Information bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C.

Q.—In contract bridge, one side is vulnerable the other invulnerable. If the vulnerable side sets the invulnerable side one trick, does it score 50 or 100 points, if invulnerable sets the vulnerable side does it score 100 or 50 points?—J. D.

A.—In contract bridge, the penalties are assessed according to the vulnerability of the declarer. If his side is not vulnerable, the other side scores 50 a trick for undertricks, regardless of whether it is vulnerable or not. Likewise the first trick counts 100 if a side making the declaration is vulnerable.

Q.—Is the business of supervising the recipients of government permits for the use of alcohol a large one?—T. D.

A.—Since alcohol has many lawful uses, the magnitude of the task of controlling its use may be realized by the statement that there are more than 177,000 individuals, firms, and corporations under the government's supervision by virtue of permits issued by the bureau of industrial alcohol.

Q.—Does each member of congress have a page?—J. S.

A.—He does not. At present time there are 21 pages in the house of representatives and 20 in the senate.

Q.—Are there extant any paintings done in the time that Greek culture was at its height?—R. D.

A.—No Grecian paintings are known to be in existence, but there are records of artists and their works.

Q.—How much hard money is in circulation in the United States?—V. B. M.

A.—The total amount of money in circulation according to the last circulation statement is $5,464,626,961. Of this amount $411,046,905 is in gold coin and bullion, $30,393,367 in standard silver dollars, $256,716,740 in subsidiary silver, and $113,663,127 in minor coin.

Q.—How far is it from Nazareth to Bethlehem?—C. M. P.

A.—By the usual route it is about 110 miles.

Q.—How are mental defectives classed?—W. F. W.

A.—The American Association for the Study of the Feeble-Minded defines the classes as follows: idiots, mental age below two years; imbeciles, mental age from 2 to 7 years; morons, mental age between 7 and 12 years; subnormal variety, mental capacity slightly above the average custodial case.

Q.—How is vinegar used to prevent or relieve sunburn?—P. D.

A.—Vinegar is patted on the skin, the face, and the neck to prevent and relieve sunburn. Persons using vinegar, however, usually tan.

Q.—What foods are indigenous to America? Is tobacco?—L. M.

A.—There has been much controversy concerning the foods originally found in the Americas. It is generally agreed that in North America were tobacco, maize, a certain type of pear, and a small variety of tomato. In Central America and the islands the early explorers also found tobacco and tomatoes. In South America, particularly Brazil, wild potatoes were found in abundance, so much so that in about 1840 it was necessary to import thousands of these native plants to develop in order to save the potato crop of the world. It was originally thought that bananas were first found in Central and South America and the islands, but later this theory was the subject of much debate, and it is generally believed today that while bananas were originally in that section of the world, they were also found in tropical sections of the eastern hemisphere at the same time.

Another good old American custom has gone by the boards. With several colleges announcing that they will not permit football broadcasts this fall, it will become impossible to sit around the radio on Saturday afternoons and wonder what is actually happening on the gridiron.

An African tribe which confines its language to grunts has been found. That language is known in the United States, too, but is used only at breakfast.

A Time for Thought

THINKING is hard work, and nobody likes to do any more of it than he has to. But it is daily becoming more apparent that the people of the United States are going to have to do more serious and earnest thinking in the next few years than they have had to do in a long time.

The depression may have slowed down a lot of things, but the nation as a whole has been moving rapidly—moving in a direction and toward a goal which are not quite clear, yet, but which will have a profound effect on national life from now on.

That is why we are going to have to think. We are going to have to figure out, first, just where we want to go, and, second, whether our present course is going to take us there. Hardest of all, perhaps, is the job of making ourselves realize that we are not standing still; but sooner or later the logic of events will force that on us.

The federal government has taken a number of steps that may have incalculable consequences. They deserve a lot of attention.

It has advanced large sums to certain railroads; it will advance much more to other roads in the near future. Where is that going to lead us? Suppose that some railroads, or all of them, eventually find that they cannot repay these loans; what then? Will Uncle Sam do what any other creditor would do—take the defaulting roads over to protect his investment?

Have we, in short, begun a program that will ultimately mean the nationalization of the railroads?

Another unexpected development might come out of the vast loans which Uncle Sam is about to make to states and cities. Suppose that some of these loans cannot be paid, when the obligations mature; will not some radical revision of our entire governmental structure be necessary?

By becoming a gigantic lending agency, our government has embarked on an entirely new course, and no living man can say what its outcome will be. Only one thing is certain; we are in for some profound changes, and it behooves us to take thought, before the changes are upon us, and decide exactly what our goal is to be.

The Roadside Lunchroom

ANY ONE who does much motoring through the open road country must be convinced that solid prosperity—depression or no depression—awaits every roadside lunchroom proprietor who appreciates the value of cleanliness, good cooking and a neat appearance.

The country roads of America are lined by thousands upon thousands of eating places and most of them, unfortunately, are pretty bad. In appearance they are eyesores; there is filth about the premises, on the table cloths and among the crockery; and the food they put out is greasy, poorly cooked, unpalatable and indigestible.

But things are looking up. The exceptions are not as rare now as they used to be; furthermore, it is comforting to notice that the man who has the good sense to operate one of these exceptions almost invariably prospers.

For the motorist, who is a pretty long-suffering citizen, soon learns about such things. He develops a keen eye and when he spies a roadside restaurant that is neat and clean in appearance, with a bit of grass about its walls, screens on its windows, not too many advertising signs nearby and some slight evidence of decent taste in its architecture, he loses no time in stopping to sample its wares.

To be sure, he is sometimes disappointed. But the disappointments are fewer than they were three or four years ago. The unpretentious little places where you can buy a realy good meal and eat it in pleasant surroundings are getting more numerous.

And how they stand out in the motorist's memory! Like the elephant, he never forgets. He tells his friends about the good places, he goes back to them himself; and gradually they build up a patronage that insures their permanence.

There are, of course, too many roadside lunchrooms already. But there are not too many good ones; and the host who knows what good food and clean, tasteful surroundings are, and supplies them, is apt to stay in business for a long, long while.

Your November Vote

IT IS one of the axioms of politics that when the voter is disgruntled his first impulse, when election comes, is to march to the polls and sock the office-holder. For this reason Washington correspondents are expecting to see a great many new faces in the next congress. Regardless of which party wins the presidentipl election, a lot of congressmen are going to fall by the wayside simply because of this blind feeling of dissatisfaction.

There is in this the chance for a good deal of injustice. Vote to sock your congressman, if you feel like it, by all means; but first check up on his record and see what he has done in the past session.

A whole lot of very useful and intelligent legislation was passed in that session; before you get your scalping knife out for your congressman, find out how much of it he shared in.

Portrait of a Man Talking to Himself

Well, I didn't think he was on the up-and-up about it, anyway . . . I mean that exploiter for the new Broadway dining place, who wanted to pay a sum for an orchid I had tossed at it . . . And when his offer was snubbed, he said: "Well, here's . . . something you can't turn down." . . . And then he unfolded an exciting plan in return for the testimonial . . . His place would feed 1,000 unemployed chorus girls, he said, until the season began . . . And that's the last I've heard of it . . . You'd think some of the Broadway spots would do it collectively . . . I mean the ones that are prospering—and several of them are . . . And it is a certainty that the girls, who have no homes here, but depend on the restaurants, would pay them back when the breaks came . . . They could identify themselves by showing their Equity or N. V. A. cards, whether or not they were paid up, I mean . . . The only part about the whole thing that would spoil it, I'm afraid, is that too many of the caterers would invite the cameramen—to take photos and make it another racket . . . And if they didn't, I would choke from the shock . . . I've probably been wasting time regretting that I returned from the Hollywood scene too soon, instead of loafing until the town came to life again . . . Poor Willard Keefe, who quit New York for the coast, must be weary of the monotony . . . He long distance phones friends here at 6 a. m. and cries, "For God's sake, talk to me."

Leave it to one wag to figure out why so many actors are glad to sign autograph albums . . . He says with times being the way they are—most of them are glad to sign something . . . Wonder why they call that Riverside drive spot, "Inspiration point" when the binoculars won't let you park there long enough to be inspired? . . . That speakeasy owner in the latter 30's hasn't enough trouble, so the only customer of the afternoon ambled in and asked him to have a drink on him . . . And so he accepted—to which the patron pulled a flask from a hip and poured! . . . The dizzy things you hear about Hollywood . . . The tale about the Austin Parkers, f'instance . . . Before they split . . . They maintained four different homes there, one for Austin, to be alone in, one for his wife, Miriam Hopkins, to get away from it all in, another for them to be together alone—and a fourth when they wanted to be together publicly! . . . Probably a fact—considering he is an author and needed some privacy . . . Strange, too, how divorce reacts on that duo . . . Ever since the melting they've been devoted—and usually dine together . . . I've found out why most movie mags rarely need material . . . Each romance means four yarns . . . Number one is the rumor of the marriage. The second is the Happy Marriage Story. The third is the rumor of the divorce and the fourth is: "Why Our Marriage Wasn't a Success."

Now my idea of good writing is the piece of Woollcott on the late Father Duffy . . . Who was it that said columnists were merely good listeners trying to be writers? . . . The most devastating crack ever aimed at the craft, but so true . . . That Aimee Semple McPherson woman must be all right, regardless of all those stories about her in the rags . . . The tales that come to my desk about her charm, her manner and the good deeds she has done for people rate her right with me, at any rate . . . Never thought the day would come when Broadway dime-a-dancehalls would outnumber all the other diversions . . . A fruitful racket for the sponsors, at that . . . Hire all the good-lookers they want—at no wage—and give them a percentage on the take . . . Must be a fair enough proposition for the gals—when one of them said her income is usually 60 to 70 smackers a week . . . That ought to bring the shudders to the stenogs who labor long for considerably less . . . Wonder if it is true? I mean that legend about depressions in the past—that it takes at least seven years to come out of the ether?

I didn't think they existed any more—these spots called "steer" joints . . . But there it is . . . the line holdout—hidden in a dark alley below Naughty-second street out of the Times square area . . . The dozen or so hostesses are are trained to handle chumps who have to drink to keep cunnul from setting in, and these gals weather the storms by drinking what is known as a "down" . . . A "down" is a Delmonico glass of ginger ale, but the spender thinks he is getting her potted on hooch . . . Of course he pays six-bits for her drink, too—and that's how the money rolls in . . . In fewer words he gets the hooch and she gets the indigestion, but one must live . . . In the pre-depression days in 52nd street, the most colorful of the "steer" joints enticed the biggest chumps . . . There the girls would keep the cash register bell busy by telling everybody in the place to be sociable and to play "Ring Around Rosie" . . . Of course all the steers responded and games would be played on the dance floor . . . The wind-up would be "The March to the Bar" in the rear—where each of the lads was urged to buy a round for the entire party . . . The group invariably numbered a dozen—and after the fourth or fifth drink, the bouncers had to be summoned to carry them out . . . But not until their pockets were rifled, of course . . . The good old days, the boys call them now . . . Perhaps . . . But it took one or two complaints to the gendarmes—and now look what's happened!

Can't remember having so good a time as I had the other evening at the Mayfair theater, where "What Price Hollywood?" isn't unfolding the racing customers . . . "Winner Take All" with Mescal Cognac, perhaps, was the last good entertainment, but this new arrival is a first-rate entertainment and reveals among other things that there is more intelligence in the cinema pot . . . Probably because they recruited Gene Towne, who appeared the screen writer, when not he's a newspaper man, whom brains are anything but . . . But Lowell Sherman's performance in this great screen show is something to see, and Constance Bennett's performance appears to be the best thing she has contributed yet . . . Maybe an other reason why the movie moguls seldom shine by lack of gall is that so many of the smithers do not appreciate their art . . . These girls, however, sitting in the next pew, who thought of one of the film's scenes as nothing more than a peach, a banana smash, looks at Mae Clarke in the mirror and realizes that he is no longer in the parade . . . Which tugs at your heart and tightens the cords in your throat . . . But these girls too-hard and I plead them innocent. It was over their heads . . . But the local adults will respond to every flawless movement of it . . . and see life as it actually unwinds in Hollywood or in Waynesburg Falls . . . I exhibit the cast, Mr. Cohen, the director, and the other responsible for it . . . For it is Broadway's only excitement, and not one of them wouldn't pay to see at 8:40 because you have a date at 6:30.

EXPLANATION OF SATURDAY'S CARTOON

THE FIRE THAT LASTED FOR 78 DAYS—During the winter of 1906 spontaneous combustion started a fire in McCarthy's Rag Shop, Troy, N. Y., and actually burned and smoldered for four days before it was noticed. The building, which was filled with cotton waste, was entirely surrounded by a huge wall of ice, preventing passers-by from looking in.

Then, when the fire was discovered, the firemen were greatly handicapped by the immediate formation of ice from their water hose, which, after some days, gave the building the appearance of a huge ice block. For 78 days the fire burned despite the ceaseless efforts of the fire fighters, and on the last day it took a combined force of 15 streams to water to quench the flames.

'Go After Garner' Is Strategy Adopted By Republican Leaders

Herb's Aides Hope to Picture "Jack" as Radical But Demos Are Confident He Can Hold His Own

By CHARLES S. HAYDEN
Record News Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 24.—"Go after Garner" is the gist of orders issued by the Republican high command and for the next few weeks at least, until it can be ascertained what sort of public reaction there will be to such a campaign, the big guns of the G. O. P. will be directed pretty largely at the Democratic vice presidential nominee.

This maneuver is said to have been developed by Walter F. Brown, postmaster general, as well as political generalissimo of the administration forces. It is Brown's belief that Garner is not popular in the East and can be made to look like a radical. This was the strategy pursued by the Coolidge forces in 1928 when they paid little or no attention to John W. Davis, head of the Democratic ticket, directing most of their fire at Charles W. Bryan, brother of the Great Commoner and who, as governor of Nebraska, had sponsored a number of ultra-progressive proposals. They raised the specter of Bryan domination and succeeded in arousing the fear that, in case of a deadlock and the election thrown into the house, Bryan would emerge as the president.

To Watch "Jack's" Speeches

Then, too, the belief is entertained by Brown and his co-workers that Garner is somewhat hot-headed and impulsive, inclined to answer every attack possibly with a short and ill-considered reply. Every talk the Texan makes will be subjected to the closest scrutiny in the hope he will say something which may be turned against him. Meanwhile he is to be goaded from every side, by the so-called three horsemen—Secretaries Hyde, Hurley and Mills—as well as by the lesser spokesmen for the administration. Republican newspapers will be expected to join in the attack and be ready to do a lot of "yelling with alarm" at the proper time.

This procedure, it has been argued, also may have the effect of creating a breach in the friendship between Garner and Roosevelt. Garner is to be pictured as sort of rip-snorting, roaring bull of Bashan, wild-eyed and radical, who is trying to take the play away from Roosevelt. By the same token Roosevelt will be classified by the Republican propagandists as a weak character, rather spineless and more or less of a dilletante, certain to be dominated, in case of election, by the ruthless Longhorn from West Texas. Roosevelt, they believe, will rise to this sort of bait and seek to have Garner muzzled and this might create a situation beneficial to Republican chances.

Ammunition Assembled

At the same time while the Republicans intend to make Garner out an object, with which to scare little children, politically speaking, domineering and dictatorial, they will endeavor to saddle on his shoulders the sales tax debacle at the last session as well as responsibility for the publicity feature in reconstruction finance corporation loans. This last bugaboo is to be made much of by administration spokesmen, who insist that it will tend to shake confidence in any institution applying for a loan and thus delay recovery of economic conditions. The Democratic reply to this is that the Republicans have their psychology all wrong; that it was the recent announcement of an $80,000,000 loan by the reconstruction finance corporation, to the Dawes bank in Chicago which not only saved it but the other financial institutions of that city and that had a like policy been pursued with reference to the 40 small banks which failed there most of them would have been saved.

Demos Aren't Afraid

The Democrats who have been informed of this master strategy on the part of the Republicans are profess to welcome it. They insist there is no man in public life, in either major party, better able to take care of himself in debate and politics' repartee than Speaker Garner. It is suggested that if it is well within the range of possibilities that some ugly Garner may provoke an unwise retort from President Hoover, known to be rather thin-skinned, and this will be the cue for Governor Roosevelt to enter the picture with a dignified but crushing reply. Certainly it is a situation well worth watching, form the side lines.

Lightest Girl at T. S. C. Weighs 76 Pounds, Heaviest 240

DENTON, Texas, July 24. (AP)—From the leanest to the largest the average girl at Texas State College for Women weighs 125 pounds, regardless of whether she is attempting to gain or lose. The heaviest girl weighs 240 pounds and the lightest 76.

These facts were derived from a weight chart taken during registration. At the end of summer school, weights will again be taken and an estimate made as follows:

Are changes of weight or holding of weight indications of good health? Do girls living in dormitories hold their weight more consistently than those who do not live in dormitories? Do girls who take the most work gain or lose weight during the summer and which group of girls is most ambitious in carrying excess work?

Prices Delay Grain Exports at Galveston

GALVESTON, July 24. (AP)—With unfavorable prices as compared with Canadian prices, exports of wheat and other grains are unusually slow in starting and are expected to fall far under the volume of last year.

Little hope is felt for continuance of the big hadir and milo movement, since the action of the German government in putting a high import tariff on these grains. Information received by grain men, states that the German government more than doubled its duties.

Present outbound movement of wheat consists mainly of No. 1 or high grade wheat to Greece, but scarcity of this grade now in the Southwest has raised a doubt whether Greek buyers who demand No. 1 quality, will take much grain from this region.

A Washington Bystander

By KIRKE SIMPSON

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Presidential campaigns are, or at least they ought to be, serious matters. Yet, the business of politics in the American democracy being what it is, a funny side to it all is forever cropping up.

LOUIS M. HOWE

It has bobbed up now for the Republican management in New York City. No national campaign is ever conducted without a headquarters in that noted financial center. War chest considerations demand it.

The Republicans started setting up a New York headquarters almost before the transition of the main shop from Washington to Chicago had been started. And for reasons of their own, they thought a Roosevelt hotel would be a good place.

No Roosevelt Monopoly

Then they recalled that this year, for the first time since 1912, the name Roosevelt is not exclusively Republican. They wondered how it would look to have Hoover-for-president literature and appeals to go out with the name Roosevelt, that of his Democratic rival, also advertised at the top of the sheets.

Indications were that the Republicans would just grin and bear it.

Incidentally, the locale of most of the preliminary work which made Governor Roosevelt his party's choice for president is in the Prudence building, New York City.

That is where "Big Jim" Farley, the large and affable ex-amateur in politics—for who could call him amateur now in view of what happened at Chicago?—and Louis McH. Howe, little known and rarely seen nerve center of the Roosevelt-for-President idea from its start, jointly held forth.

It is Democratic state headquarters by name, but has been virtually the hub of the Roosevelt drive for the nomination ever since he became governor.

A Little Twisted

By the time Republican orators get going strong on Roosevelt's expressed or implied political philosophies their idea will present itself that "Prudence" is the last name in the world to be associated with him.

Perhaps that selection of the Prudence building for his headquarters was one of those little things for which the wily Mr. Howe is noted among his intimates.

Anyway, with the New York City campaigning for Hoover located under a Roosevelt sign and the Roosevelt center under a Prudence sign, things seem a bit mixed, don't they?

Big Spring C-C Proposes Cooperative Canning

BIG SPRING, Texas, July 24. (AP)—The city, county officials and the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce are cooperating on a plan to have several thousand cans of beans, peas, and corn put up on a cooperative basis. The plan proposes to have the farmers who have surplus produce bring it on certain days to a central location in the city where it will be prepared and canned under the supervision of a competent leader, the farmers receiving one-third. The plan also calls for an organized method in the rural communities whereby produce can be brought to a central place and canned on the halves, the cans would be furnished without cost to the farmers.

Soldier Returns to Santone After 34 Years

SAN ANTONIO, July 24. (AP)—Col. Pegram Whitworth is back on duty in San Antonio after an absence of 34 years. He has assumed his duties as chief of staff of the second division. Colonel Whitworth came here from Jefferson Barracks, Mo., where he commanded the sixth infantry three years. He was stationed in San Antonio as a second lieutenant with the 18th infantry from 1896 to 1898.

BRAZIL NEAR CIVIL STRIFE

Both Armies Determined Fight to Finish

BUENOS AIRES, July 24. (US)—Uncensored dispatches from Brazil today disclosed that the situation at Sao Paulo is rapidly developing from revolt into civil war, with both northern and southern armies well disciplined and organized and determined to fight to a finish.

The strength of the Sao Paulo rebels' positions was assured by the promptness with which Gen. Betholdo Klinger took possession of the fortified Cruzeiro and Pereque regions.

While the rebels continue to hold these positions, a federal advance into Sao Paulo is virtually impossible from the north. The rebels, however, are beset by the naval blockade of their harbor by the navy, loyal to the northern Rio de Janeiro government.

Border advices today indicate the federals have occupied a number of small villages on the Sao Paulo frontier following bloody encounters with rebel outposts. A rebel rising in the town of Vaccaria, Rio Grande du Sul, was suppressed.

It was officially claimed the federal forces took Faxina this morning following a brief action in which 10 were killed and 40 wounded.

Brown County Farmers Stock Tanks With Fish

BROWNWOOD, Texas, July 24. (AP)—Farmers and ranchers of Brown county are getting plenty of fish to stock their private tanks and lakes. When water in Lake Brownwood, which was filled recently before Brownwood dam was completed, was let out, thousands of fish were trapped in shallow pools.

Game wardens are in charge of the fish and are giving them to any one for stock fish who will drive to the lake and get them.

Funds Nearly Complete For Canyon Museum

CANYON, Texas, July 24. (AP)—The building committee in charge of plans for the proposed Panhandle-Plains Historical society museum will advertise for bids before Aug. 1, it was announced by L. F. Sheffy, secretary of the society.

Sheffy, who has conducted a campaign to raise $35,000 among Panhandle people to meet a similar amount appropriated by the state said the fund was only a few hundred dollars short and that the total would be raised within a few days.

The museum building—the only one to which the state has ever contributed—will be erected on the campus of West Texas State Teachers college.

Beaumont City Budget Lowest Since 1920

BEAUMONT, Texas, July 24. (AP)—When city officials gave their approval to a budget totaling $472,698 for the coming fiscal year, it marked the lowest figure for departmental operating expenses since 1920.

The figure is 34 per cent lower than the one for the fiscal year 1930-1931 and about 22 per cent lower than the 1931-1932 budget. A reduction of 35½ per cent under last year's pay roll is shown by the new figure.

Extent of the reductions is more impressive when the growth of the city is taken into consideration. Its area in 1920 was 5.8 square miles while today it is 9.7 square miles.

Collingsworth Crops Hindered by Storms

WELLINGTON, Texas, July 24. (AP)—According to a survey, Collingsworth county has suffered possibly more than any other in the Panhandle from rain, hail, and storm damages. Nevertheless, Collingsworth county is expecting an average crop despite the fact that most of the production will be late because of numerous replantings.

Nearly half the total number of radio receiver licenses in Canada are held in the province of Ontario.

WARNEKE DOES BIT ON MOUND

Bill Harris Big Factor In Leaders' Triumph

CHICAGO, July 24. (AP)—Pittsburgh's Pirates preserved their four and one-half game margin over Chicago today by splitting a double-header, dropping the first game to Lonnie Warneke, 7 to 2, and salvaging the second 7 to 5.

Bill Harris' great relief pitching was the big factor in the Pittsburgh victory. Scores:

French Davis Cup Team Is Selected

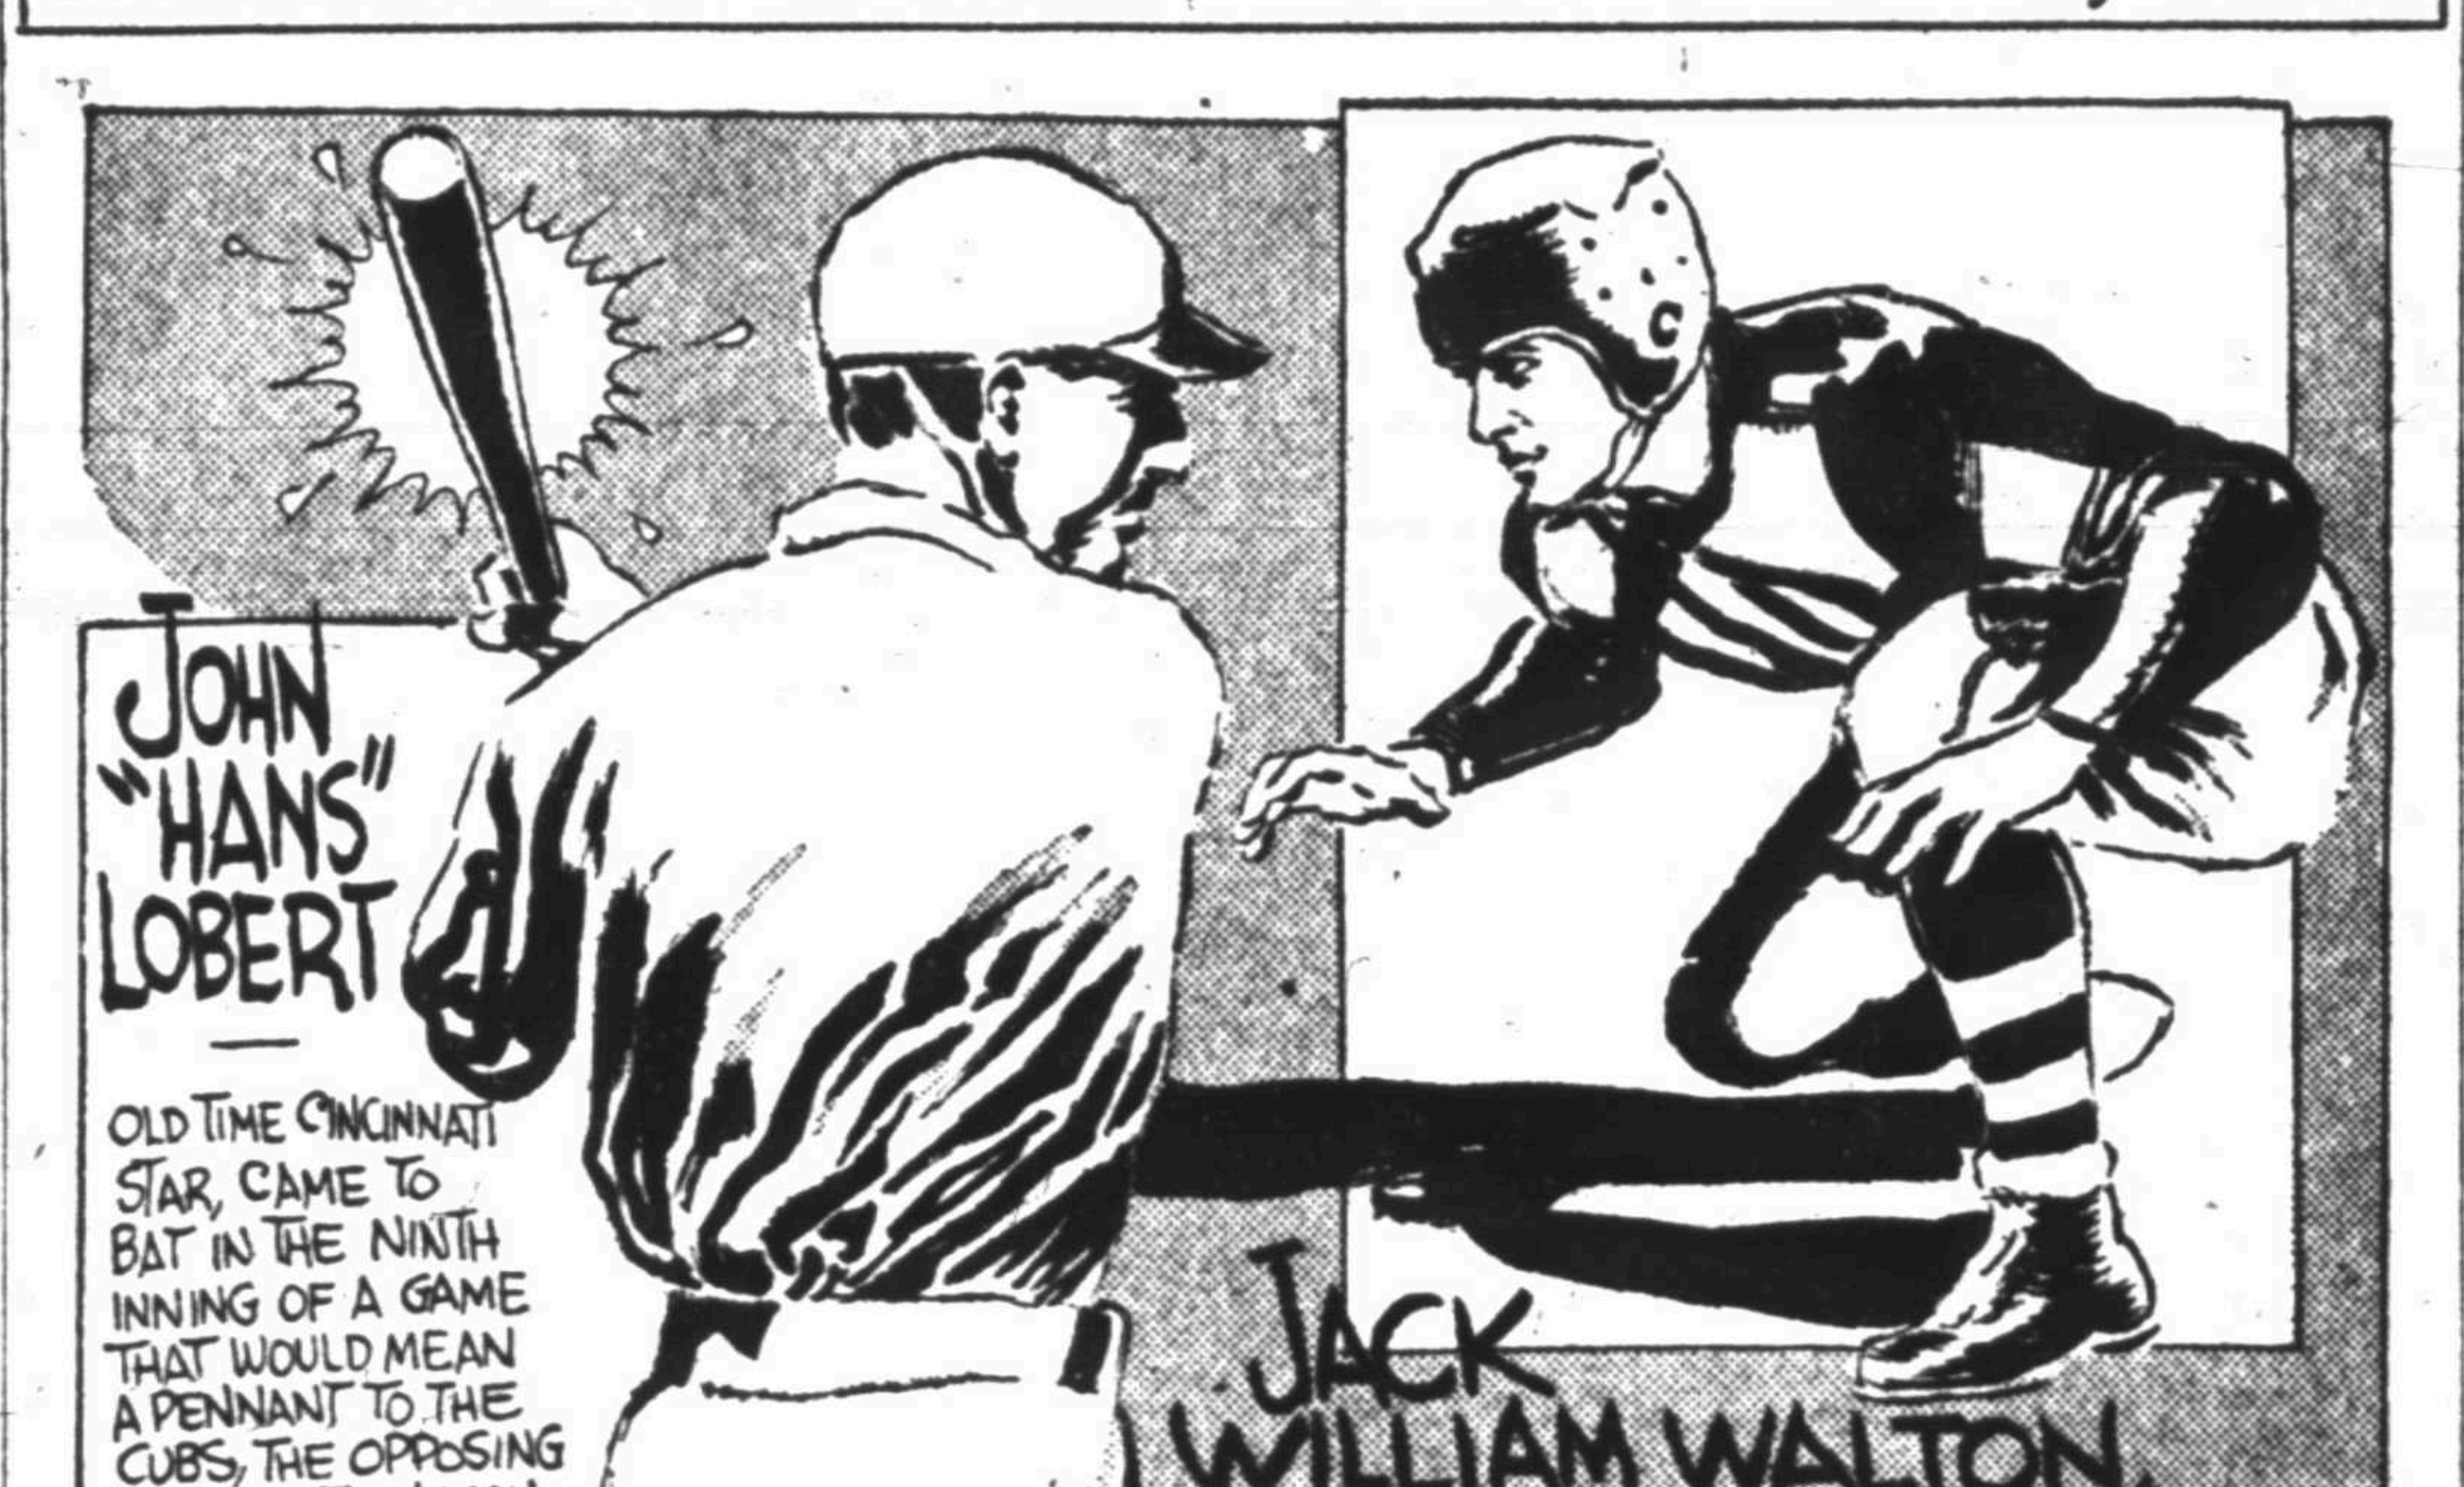

PARIS, July 24. (US)—The French Davis cup tennis team which will defend the coveted trophy against the American challengers will be composed of Henri Cochet, Christian Boussus, Jean Borotra and Jacques Brugnon, it was announced today.

While officials indicate Cochet and Boussus will play the singles and Borotra and Brugnon will be paired in the doubles, general opinion is that Borotra will eventually be induced to play in the singles with Cochet and Partner Brugnon in the doubles, leaving Boussus on the side lines in reserve.

Charles Lindbergh last fall, has a sister ship. The new plane is known as the Caribbean Clipper, and will run on the Florida-Latin America route.

PIGG STOPS NOBLE-LITTLE

Wichita Hardware Earns 18-9 Victory

The fast flying Noble-Little Hardware company baseball nine, champions of the first half race in the Commercial league, came to a sudden stop Sunday afternoon on Harrison field when Dewey Pigg's Wichita Hardware company nine blasted out a wild 18 to 9 victory. The hardwaremen started the fireworks in the fourth inning off Ridling and continued against Hillin in merry style.

Wild Bill Janeway and Skipper Dewey Pigg led the attack for the winners with three bingles, Janeway connecting for a triple and double in his collection of base knocks. Eight of the Wichita Hardware runs were scored by the battery with both Pigg and Sammy Roberson scoring four times each.

Harry Costley was the big noise at the bat for the day, getting a double and three singles in five trips to the plate. Led by Fritz Taylor, Harry Costley and Craig, some of the greatest catches of the year were turned in by the outfielders during the game. Time after time one of this trio would gallop back to take long drives of the lusty bats of the two teams.

The game started off like an air-tight pitching battle between Pigg and Ridling, but as both weakened in the later innings, it developed into a matter of the most powerful bats being the winner. Score:

Vines Defeats German Netter

PARIS, July 24. (AP)—Ellsworth Vines Jr., young American champion, again proved himself one of the world's great stars today and single-handed carried the United States into the challenge round for the Davis cup against France this week-end.

Vines, though slightly off form, defeated Baron Gottfried von Cramm, 3-6, 6-3, 9-7, 6-3, while Frank Sheilds, making an even worse showing than in his first match Friday, lost to Daniel Prenn, 6-1, 6-0, 6-8, 6-2, to give the Americans victory by the narrow margin of three matches to two over Germany's hard-worked two-man team in the interzone finals.

The Americans, however, received no thanks from France for routing the Germans from the flowery setting of Roland Garros stadium in the Bois de Boulogne. Through the three-day series the voluble French galleries were decidedly pro-German, and there is no Anglo-Saxon reticence about French tennis fans showing where their sympathies lie.

One demonstration against a line decision in Vines' favor in the critical third set of his match with Von Cramm threatened to develop into a riot.

The French cheered and whistled encouragement to the Germans perhaps because they believed a German victory would make France's defense of the cup easier.

GOMEZ BESTS LEFTY GROVE

Yanks Trim Philadelphia Athletics, 9-3

NEW YORK, July 24. (AP)—Vernon Gomez outpitched Robert Moses Grove by a wide margin today in a duel between the American league's outstanding left-handers and, due largely to little Joie Sewell's hitting, the Yankees defeated the Philadelphia Athletics, 9 to 3.

Gomez shut out the 1931 champions with only four hits up to the eighth inning and then an error helped deprive him of a shutout. Score:

Star Transfer And Red And Whites Bag Victories In City League Games

Star Transfer continued on their merry way to a second half championship in the City league when Lefty Marvin Robertson annexed their sixth win in a row Sunday afternoon at Spudder park. Robertson downed the Meyers Grocery 5 to 1. Robertson whiffed an even dozen in the nine innings. Henry and Pete Hefner collected two hits each to account for four of the seven hits off the left hander.

A ninth inning spurt in the last inning by Red and Whites gave them a 9 to 8 victory over Thomason's Super Service when Hubert Scott weakened in the late innings. After a rocky start, Lupher hurled wonderful ball the rest of the way. Two hits and an error gave the Red and Whites the game which had resulted in a battle of free hitting and costly errors. Schaaf To Fight Uzcudun Tonight

NEW YORK, July 24. (UP)—Ernie Schaaf, fair-haired Boston Adonis, and Paulino Uzcudun, the grotesque Basque, will launch Madison Square garden's new heavyweight elimination contest tomorrow night with a scheduled 15-rounder at the new Long Island bowl.

Schaaf, protege of Champion Jack Sharkey, is an 8 to 5 favorite to eliminate the veteran Basque slugger.

While the Schaaf-Paulino battle has failed to stir the populace much, it may develop into an excellent scrap. Despite Schaaf's youth and his highly touted boxing ability, he is stacking up against probably the toughest man in the ring, an iron man who never has been knocked out, in fact never even been knocked down in more than 240 battles.

Paulino at 33 still is the same formidable shell slugger, with head drawn back behind protecting elbows, who proved an "ugly duckling" in Tex Rickard's elimination contests. Paulino was good enough to wreck the hopes of many a heavyweight brought forward by Rickard but not good enough to be a championship contender himself.

Schaaf, who was hailed as America's third ranking heavyweight this winter, has been in a fistic slump recently. He climaxed his backward march by dropping a decision recently to Stanley Poreda of Jersey City. The experts, who quote the 8 to 5 odds, believe Schaaf has risen from the doldrums and will outpoint the wood-chopper.

The supporting card comprises three heavyweight bouts, James J. Braddock, of New Jersey faces Tony Schucco of Boston; and Jack McCarthy of Boston meets Arthur Huttick of New York in eight-rounders. Red Berry of Washington tangles with Frankie Simms of Cleveland in the opening six-rounder.

Chicago Cubs Recall Pitcher From Coast

LOS ANGELES, July 24. (US)—Leroy George Herrmann, right-handed pitcher, today was recalled from the Los Angeles Coast league club by the Chicago Cubs. He left to join the National leaguers tonight.

Loss of Herrmann is a big blow to the Angels as he has been their best bet on the rubber.

But Pirates Win Second, 4 to 2

LONGVIEW, Texas, July 24. (AP)—Longview and Galveston divided a double-header here this afternoon, the Canibals winning the first when Hal Wiltse bested Stormy Cromer, 1 to 0. Doubles by Green and Clift in the second inning won the game.

A four-run lead piled up in the second inning of the nightcap decided the struggle. Fuss allowed Moore's single to get past him with the sacks loaded to clear the path and send Moore to third.

Governor made a spectacular catch in deep center in the sixth on Green's drive. Score:

Accused Kidnaper Goes To Trial at Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 24. (UP)—The kidnaping of Mrs. Nell Donnelly last December will be retold in criminal court tomorrow when Paul Scheidt, charged with participation in the abduction plot, goes to trial for the second time.

Scheidt was charged with plotting with Martin Depew and other members of the gang to hold the wealthy garment manufacturer captive in an isolated farm house and extort $75,000 from her husband. Scheidt's first trial ended with a deadlocked jury. Depew pleaded guilty and received a life sentence.

HERB ACCUSED BY CONNALLY

Texan Says R. F. C. Used For Political Gain

WASHINGTON, July 24. (US)—Charges that "the White House has brought pressure to bear upon the reconstruction finance corporation to make loans to particular corporations," were dumped unceremoniously into the national political caldron today by Senator Connally, Democrat, of Texas.

In a statement, issued through Democratic national headquarters here, the Texas senator who nominated Speaker Garner for the presidency at Chicago, added:

"The treasury department in prior years has made refunds of taxes to powerful individuals and corporations who made generous contributions to the campaign fund. That old habit will not be overlooked.

"Day of Reckoning" Seen

"With more than a billion dollars added to the reconstruction finance corporation's funds, the possibilities of using the corporation for political purposes will be greatly increased."

He observed, however, there will be a "day of reckoning" in connection with the corporation's activities, as congress already has acted to investigate all such loans.

In tart terms, Connally declared American business is "dying of malnutrition" after 12 years of Republican control, and said a Republican "poisonous gas batallion"—made up of Secretaries Hyde, Hurley and Mills—already is striving to divert attention from the economic issues of the campaign.

He continued:

"The Republican committee still has on hand a large supply of the 1928 Hoover coins, upon which is stamped: 'Good for four years of prosperity.' What will they do with them this year?

"They are excellent examples of Republican campaign methods. They were bright and shining and looked like gold. Now they are tarnished and corroded and stained and debased. They are now their true selves polishing and rubbing will not make them into gold."

Sunset Blacksmith Carves Life Size Rabbits From Rock

Special to The Record News.

SUNSET, Texas, July 24.—John Morris, a Sunset blacksmith, is making quite a local reputation as a sculptor. His latest work is that of cutting life-size jack rabbits from lime-sand rocks. He recently completed one for the Bowie Jack Rabbits club, and he is finishing another large rabbit with a small one by the side of it.

Mr. Morris selects a rock of sufficient size for cutting the form of the rabbit and leaving the proper sized base beneath the rabbit. When the form is completed he then paints it the natural colors of a jack rabbit and gives it the exact likeness of a live rabbit. And as he works he often starts a laugh by telling inquisitors that he is making a Hoover monument.

Amherst Farmer Profits With Bee Husbandry

AMHERST, Texas, July 24. (AP)—Raising bees has been profitable for Charles Crawford, a farmer living west of Amherst.

He bought two hives at Dallas last August and brought them here in the trunk on the back of his car. The bees made enough honey to last the farmer through the winter.

Now Crawford has four hives and expects to market some honey soon.

Gossett Apparent Winner Over Owens In District Attorney's Race

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, July 24.—Complete returns from the 24 Wilbarger county precincts gave Ed Gossett of Vernon a comfortable margin over Jesse Owens of this city in the race for nomination for district attorney of Wilbarger, Foard and Hardeman counties, with a vote of 2,548 to 1,741. Gossett will succeed John Myers of Vernon, provided returns from other counties are in the same order. Myers was not a candidate.

M. G. Poteet was nominated for county judge to succeed L. P. Bonner, winning over his only opponent, J. O. Rouse, 2,400 to 1,938. Bonner was appointed several weeks ago to serve the unexpired term of James V. Townsend, resigned.

Curtis Renfro of Vernon was leading in the nomination for county attorney with 1,862 votes as compared with 1,437 for M. M. Wade. Marvin C. Culbertson, a third candidate, polled 1,067. Mrs. Hazel Lisman was unopposed for district clerk.

J. E. Collins, incumbent, was renominated for county clerk over two opponents. The tabulation: Collins, 2,505; Frank Massie, 1,642; F. W. Grogan, 179.

Joe Parker was leading a field of 15 candidates for nomination as Wilbarger county sheriff with 884 votes. J. D. Linton was second with 625 votes. Other tabulations: H. H. Hutto, 479; D. E. McClanahan, 342; W. E. Claybrook, 22; G. H. Richie, 98; C. H. Morrison, 215; J. D. Key, 170; Jim Armstrong, 276; Chester Green, 291; S. W. Bailey, 273; W. A. Larimore, 59; L. D. Campbell, 216; B. H. Lewis, 155; E. P. Williams, 321.

A. J. Carpenter was leading six opponents for nomination as tax collector to succeed C. D. Greene, resigned, polling 1,375 votes. J. C. Smith was second with 987, and other tabulations are: Ollie Youngblood, 352; Miss Frances P. Parr, 651; J. M. Abbott, 646; and Mrs. Cecil Davis, 337.

Fred Newth, incumbent, had a bare margin in the race for tax assessor with 694 votes with Carey Alger, running second, polling 688 votes. Other counts were: H. A. Blevins, 424; L. D. Terrell, 628; Walter McCaleb, 616; D. K. Brock, 485; John B. Hardin, 465; Ercell W. Brooks, 354.

Mrs. J. B. Love held a slight lead over Mrs. J. B. Hodges, incumbent, for county treasurer, the vote standing 1,783 to 1,746. J. M. Batchelor polled 792 votes.

Fillmore Grateful To County Voters

Gratitude for county-wide support which enabled him to lead a field of four contestants in the race for judge of the county court at law was expressed in a statement issued by H. W. Fillmore Sunday night.

Mr. Fillmore also asked for consideration by voters who gave their support Saturday to the two candidates who were eliminated. His statement follows:

"To my many friends throughout Wichita county: I thank you one and all from the bottom of my heart for the votes cast in my favor, and for the influence exercised in my behalf, the same giving me a splendid majority and permitting me to lead my nearest opponent in Saturday's election. I will be very thankful to you if you will keep up the good work, using your influence to obtain as many votes for me as possible, and your vote again on Aug. 27 will be greatly appreciated.

"For fear that I shall be unable to see personally all the loyal supporters of the two splendid gentlemen eliminated in the first primary, I am using this means of asking you to consider me, and if possible to give me your influence and votes in the next election.

"I promise you as I have heretofore, that if elected, I will put forth every effort possible in trying to make you one of the best judges of the county court at law that you have ever had."

ANCIENT CUSTOM

Federal District Clerk Insists Gun-Toters Park 'Irons'

SAN ANTONIO, July 24. (AP)—A good old Texas custom prevails in the office of the federal district clerk here, investigation has revealed.

In the old days celebrating cowboys, professional gunmen and plain citizens were requested to leave their firearms with every saloon man, if the "barkeep" was wise.

Now officers of the government, including marshals, department of justice investigators and others who must go armed, have to "park" their ammunition and firearms in the office of the federal district clerk. Often an array of "shooting irons" that would have done credit to an old-time sheriff's office adorns the clerk's quarters.

HOOVER PLANS AT RAPIDAN

President Studies Several Pressing Problems

RAPIDAN, Va., July 24. (US)—President Hoover devoted his week-end away from the heat of Washington to consider the three most pressing problems ahead of him this week.

1. Reorganization of the Reconstruction Finance corporation for which he must name two additional board members to get the new $2,122,000,000 federal relief machinery started with a minimum of delay.

2. Selection of a board of five members to direct the organization of a new $125,000,000 home loan bank system to save thousands of small home owners from foreclosure or eviction.

3. The unfavorable reaction to his St. Lawrence waterways treaty, especially in New York, where he has a conflict on with Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Senator Robert F. Wagner, and in Chicago and the Middle West where explanations by Secretary of War Hurley and others have not allayed antagonism to make Lake Michigan an international body of water with Canada to have a voice in how much water may be taken for the Chicago-to-the-gulf waterways.

Secretary of Commerce Lamont, who has been the president's chief adviser on the home loan legislation was a guest at the camp. He had a list of potential selections for the governing board. Hoover hopes to have the system organized and functioning in 90 days.

Former Senator Henry J. Allen of Kansas, who was one of the negotiators of the St. Lawrence treaty was among the Rapidan guests. He was able to report the unfavorable reaction to the treaty in and around Chicago where Allen has been headquartered as director of publicity for the Republican national committee. Hoover had anticipated a highly favorable reception for what he announced was a fulfillment of his 1928 campaign pledge to the Middle West. Allen outlined methods to meet the contrary reaction.

Ferguson Takes Big Lead In Race

arkana declined to comment on the submission proposal at this time, saying he wished to study the complete returns. Sheppard has been quoted in Washington as stating he would vote for submission if the Democrats of Texas approved it.

Allred Easy Winner

Atty. Gen. James V. Allred won his race for reselection, out-stripping his nearest opponent, Clem Calhoun, of Amarillo, by a large majority. Calhoun attacked Allred's conduct of ouster suits which Allred brought against 15 major oil companies and two petroleum associations on grounds they had violated Texas' antitrust laws.

The final tabulation tonight gave Allred 355,045 votes and Calhoun 174,317. Ernest Becker of Dallas had 35,757.

In the race for congressman-at-large, place No. 1, Geo. B. Terrell, former state treasurer, and Pink Parrish were leading several other candidates and faced a contest in the run-off primary.

The vote was Terrell, 71,493; Parrish, 50,777. Judge Erskine Williams of Fort Worth was in third place with 47,777 votes.

Bailey in Lead

For congressman-at-large, place No. 2, Joseph Weldon Bailey of Dallas, son of the United States senator of that name, now dead, was far in the lead. J. H. (Cyclone) Davis of Hopkins county and Oscar Holcombe of Harris county, former mayor of Houston, were running neck and neck for the position of runner-up. The vote was Bailey, 114,948; Holcombe, 68,457; Davis, 68,093. Bailey is a wet and Davis a dry.

For congressman-at-large, place No. 3, Sterling P. Strong, of Dallas, a prohibitionist, was assured of first place. Douglas W. McGregory of Harris county was second, and Joe Burkett of Bexar county was third. The vote was Strong, 94,913; McGregor, 54,678; Burkett, 50,351.

Further tabulations of the Texas election bureau will be available about 10 a. m. Monday. The bureau's 9 p. m. Sunday totals are as follows:

All district congressmen running for re-election appeared to have safe leads, with the possible exception of Thomas L. Blanton of Abilene, so-called "watch dog of the treasury," in the 17th district. Blanton's vote from 19 counties, one complete, was 19,988. Joe H. Jones of Eastland, his opponent had 18,703.

Thompson Holds Slight Lead

W. D. McFarlane, of Graham, seeking the seat of congressman Guinn Williams, who did not run for re-election, led in the 13th district with 15,238 votes. His nearest opponent, Geo. W. Backus, was second with 10,779.

For state superintendent of public instruction, Charles N. Shaver, incumbent by appointment, had 265,719 votes to 260,847 for L. A. Woods of Waco.

Ernest O. Thompson of Amarillo held a small lead over W. Gregory Hatcher of Dallas for the four-year term on the state railroad commission, to which Thompson recently was appointed by Governor Sterling. Thompson's vote was 142,160, and Hatcher's was 140,396. A run-off between them appeared certain.

Negroes Protest

C. V. Terrell, chairman of the railroad commission, led with 217,984 votes in the race for the six-year term of the commission, Lee Satterwhite of Odessa having 134,945.

For the supreme court William Pierson, associate justice, led his opponents, Ocie Speer of Travis county and J. E. Hickman of Eastland county, the vote being Pierson 207,588, Hickman 170,814 and Speer 117,749.

A development from attempts of negroes to vote in the primary occurred in Houston, where a negro lawyer sought the arrest of some Harris county Democratic judges for not allowing negroes to vote. U. S. Commissioner Winston Mc-

Mahon, from whom the lawyer sought warrants of arrest, referred the matter to the United States district attorney's office.

Negroes were allowed to participate in the primary in several counties, but were banned in others.

Canyon Student Tends Paint Rack to Pay Way

CANYON, Texas, July 24. (AP)—Henry Whitley, senior at West Texas State Teachers college, has one of the most unusual jobs of any student working his way through an American college.

He is custodian of paint racks maintained here by E. I. DePont de Nemours & Co. About 3,000 pounds of paint is exposed on the racks in an effort to find a paint suitable to this climate, and that can be used on cheap wood without cracking and flaking.

There are only three other similar stations in the nation, located in Delaware, Florida and Colorado.

Hope for Buffalo Herd Dwindles at Canyon

CANYON, Texas, July 24. (AP)—The hope of having a buffalo herd here has dwindled since it became known that Mary Ann, one of the mascots of the West Texas State Teachers college, had died. Charles, the immense buffalo bull, who with Mary Ann came to the college campus a calf in 1922, wanders about disconsolately missing his mate. A cow about 3 years old remains with him.

The buffalo were bought from Colonel Goodnight and named for him and Mrs. Goodnight. Another of the herd died last year.

According to census figures, about 22 per cent of all deaths in the United States are due to communicable diseases.

Advice To Investors

By Charles W. Storm—Editor of the "News Service of Wall Street"

C. A., Wichita Falls—Please send me some data on American Telephone and Telegraph stock as an investment.

Answer—American Telephone and Telegraph has paid dividends in varying amounts for more than 48 years, but earnings in 1931 dropped to $9.05 a share on the average stock and $8.93 a share on the stock outstanding Dec. 31, 1931. This compares with $10.00 a share average in 1930 and $9.22 a share on the stock outstanding at the close of that year. Annual average of earnings from 1921 to 1931, inclusive, was about $11.70. Per share earnings of $2.07 reported for first quarter of 1932 against $2.53 in first quarter of 1932. Latest report includes dividends from associated companies in excess of earnings equal to 27 cents on average common share. Working capital position was strong at end of 1931. The stock has considerable long term investment merit and at the proper time would be one of the first investment stocks to be included in a list to be recommended for long term holding. Nevertheless the favorable long term factors are out-weighed by the present general economic conditions. The rate of decline in earnings has caused grave doubts regarding maintenance of the current $9 dividend rate, despite company's strong cash position.

J. E. B.—What is the long term outlook of Continental Can?

Answer—Upward earnings' trend of Continental Can company broken in 1931 when earnings were $3.27 against $5.04 in 1930. Reported $3.05 per share in 12 months to March 31, 1932. Book value about $47 per share, net working capital equivalent to about $18 per share. The second largest manufacturer of cans. Regard long term outlook good despite current uncertainty about 1932 results.

L. F.—What is your opinion of Columbian Carbon stock?

Answer—Columbian Carbon company is a large carbon black and natural gas producer and earned $3.08 in 1931 against $5.04 in 1930 and $7.83 in 1929. Per share earnings declined to 51 cents in first quarter of 1932 against $1.04 last year. Book value about $51 working capital equivalent to about $17. Stock fluctuates over wide-range and is very speculative.

Miss L. H., Wichita Falls—How can I invest $150 to bring more than savings bank interest? This is money saved during the past year from my wages.

Answer—The proper place for the money you have saved so painstakingly is right where it is, in the savings bank. There would be no advantage in putting this limited amount in a standard security. Be content with savings bank interest and continue to build up the fund.

M. R. Y.—Let me have your opinion of New York, New Haven and Hartford preferred and common stocks as investments.

Answer—New York, New Haven and Hartford preferred and common stocks have been relegated to the non-dividend list and the earnings outlook remains definitely unfavorable. Omission of the preferred dividend has relieved the company of an outlay of $3,433,000 annually, or slightly less than total maturities to the end of 1933. Traffic has been running about 30 per cent under last year's figures, and the margin of coverage for fixed charges in the full year 1932 probably will be small. Bank loans are heavy and financial condition is not strong. Both issues are considered unattractive.

H. L. D.—How is Corn Products stock rated?

Answer—Corn Products Refining company is the leading corn refining company with impressive record. Net income of $3.54 per share in 1931 compared with $4.86 in 1930 and $5.75 in 1929. Earned 66 cents per share in first quarter against 77 cents last year. Marketable securities carried at $27,000,000 had market value at end of 1931 of $15,000,000. Financial position strong. Stock is classed as a business man's type of investment. Current annual dividend rate $3 war problems, including disarmament and monetary policies.

There was no intimation here of the reception given Borah's proposal in administration quarters. President Hoover read the speech in the morning papers at his Rapidan camp, but there was no comment from him. The state department also was silent.

In other quarters, the speech was regarded with utmost importance not only in view of Borah's position as chairman of the foreign relations committee, but because he is the outstanding spokesman in congress on international affairs.

Although the Idaho Republican made it plain he would only consider revision or cancellation in connection with a general program for international economic rehabilitation and only from the standpoint of benefit to America, he went further than most other members of congress.

Favors Cancellation

While the sentiment on Capitol hill has been almost unanimously against even a discussion of revision, Borah took the position that cancellation, with disarmament and settlement of other problems, would benefit this country.

Europe's first reaction apparently was to accept Borah's statement as to indicating that he had been converted to cancellation and to ignore the condition he made.

Questioned by telephone today by a London newspaper, the senator denied he had changed his former position and reaffirmed his opposition to cancellation except under the conditions he stated.

The statement attracted widespread official interest in Europe, in many parts of which Borah is considered as important a spokesman on such questions as President Hoover.

BIBLE CLASS HEARS DANIEL

Teacher Relates Story Of March to Red Sea

Divine approval is sincerely desired by every man in preference to the approval of his fellowmen, Roy J. Daniel told members of the Kay Bible class at the First Methodist church Sunday morning.

Referring to the crossing of the Red sea by the Hebrews en route to Canaan, Mr. Daniel pointed out that only through the approval and intervention of Jehovah was Moses enabled to accomplish the escape from pursuing enemies.

March Out of Egypt

His lecture on the day's lesson was in part as follows:

"When Moses began the great job of leading the children of Israel out of Egypt, he took them the longest way round and came to the Red sea near the present Suez canal. After Pharoah had given his consent for their departure he changed his mind about it and sent his army in hot pursuit after them. So Moses and his followers found the Red sea in front of them and the Egyptian army behind them. They became panic-stricken, and began to blame Moses for all their misfortune. They expressed their regret having left Egypt and wished they were back under the bondage of Pharoah. When they began to complain to Moses, he displayed a first great quality of a true leader of men—he was firm. He called upon the people to be firm and told them that God would see them through and destroy the large Egyptian army. Then Moses prayed but God interrupted the prayer by saying: 'Tell the people to go forward.' Moses performed a miracle. He waved his hand over the waters of the Red sea and a strong east wind began to blow so that the waters were parted into two walls and the ground between was dry land. He then ordered the people to cross over, which they did. And the pursuing Egyptians were engulfed by the falling walls of water.

"In every human heart there is a Red sea. May the clean, pure winds of heaven come and blow in every heart, piling up the water into walls on either side so that the human soul and spirit may go forward across the dry land between into the divinely appointed promised land.

Miracles

"The dividing of the waters at the Red sea is called a miracle. But a greater miracle than that is the change that comes to a man when he has driven from his life all selfishness, all hate, all greed, all bitterness, all jealousy. As a man thinks in his heart so is he.

"The blade of a knife could never be sharpened were it not for the resistance of the opposing grindstone. So it is with a man's life. The grindstones of resistance bring sharpness. The mountains of steep resistance bring development both of mind and body. The difficulties in the path of Moses made it necessary for him to call upon the Lord but his seeking for divine intervention was not in vain.

"The greatest manifestation of faith is when we see and know that every experience we have or that everything that happens to us can be used to further the purposes of God. But the condition must be added—if we will.

"Whom had you rather have on your side—God, or all the men of earth? Do you know the kind of man on whose side God is? Well, God is on the side of the man who has learned to be firm—has learned to stay 'hitched' if you please. I had rather have God on my side than all the millions of men of earth, and when you quietly search the recesses of your own hearts you will find that so do you."

WINSTON SALEM, N. C., July 24. (UP)—Inquiry into the death of Zachary Smith Reynolds, 20-year old heir to the tobacco millions who was shot to death July 6, reached a new point tonight with receipt by Forsythe county authorities of a sharply critical telegram from Alfred Holman, father of Reynolds' widow, Libby Holman, of Broadway fame.

The telegram said "zealous functionaries," actuated by "self-seeking motives ignoring every canon of decency" were attempting to "overcome" the "incontrovertably established" self-destruction of young Reynolds.

Two 'Gold Diggers' At Work

Maxine Noland (left) and Billie Gatty, Washington State college coeds, are among others who have turned prospectors in the Northwest. There women as well as men are panning for gold along scores of streams and making from nothing to $2 and upwards to $20 daily.

Jobless Take To Pick And Sluice Box In Effort To Turn Time Into Money

SPOKANE, Wash., July 24. (AP)—A mountain stream beats a bread line, even if there isn't big money in washing out gold by old time methods, some 50,000 make-shift miners in western hills agree.

Officials of the Northwest Mining congress estimate that, in their territory alone, this number of gold seekers are eking out a living ranging from "scant" to "good."

From Georgia to the Dakotas additional thousands have turned to the pan, the sluice box, rocker-cradle and pick and shovel means of turning idle time into cash.

The same is true of the Rocky mountain area from Arizona to Montana, mining statistics disclose, and in California.

Several thousand amateurs have received instructions in the art of panning gold in schools conducted here, in Colorado and in several other western states.

Hardware dealers in many cities have been unable to supply the demand for the apparatus used by amateur gold seekers.

A placer mining school conducted for unemployed at Spokane resulted in 3,000 enrollments of men and women.

In this new gold rush many women are pushing shoulder to shoulder with men. There are stenographers, waitresses, housewives and unskilled workers in the wholesale exodus to the hills.

The "takes" at the assay offices comes in batches worth from $25 to $100. Along the Shasta river in California the average day's net has proven about $2. Many find nothing, but the northwest "strikes" often yield $5 to $20 a day.

To aid this otherwise "jobless" army the federal government has authorized the acceptance of as small amount of gold dust as two ounces at assay offices, where formerly the minimum was $100.

LEAGUE FORMS TRUCK FIGHT

Battle in Congress Seen For Next Session

WASHINGTON, July 24. (US)—Lines are being drawn for a vigorous battle over regulation of trucks at the next session of congress, it was revealed today in railroad circles here. It will be a battle of two powerful lobbies.

Opposed to the railroads, which are demanding that trucks be made subject to the same regulations as railroads, is a new and influential organization known as the National Highway Users conference.

The avowed purpose of this organization is to fight taxation and regulation in the nation, states and municipalities. At its first meeting, presided over by Alfred P. Sloan, head of General Motors, decision was reached to open headquarters here and prepare for the coming conflict with the railroads.

Others who attended the first meeting are Judge Beatty of the National Petroleum institute; J. G. Tew, of the rubber institute, and Chester H. Gray of the American farm bureau.

The organization is composed not only of representatives of these industries but of chain stores, bakeries, bottling concerns, building material dealers, packers and contractors and others who use trucks.

Bills to regulate trucks are now pending in congress. They were introduced by Senator Couzens, Republican, Michigan, and Representative Rayburn, Democrat, of Texas. They will be called up at the December session.

Body of Man Found Near Texline Unidentified

Special to The Record News.

DALHART, Texas, July 24.—Efforts to identify the body of a man found on the prairie west of Texline 10 days ago has brought a number of inquiries. The latest inquiry of any importance came from Mrs. F. E. Platt of Denver, Colo., who stated that her husband had left her 14 months ago and had not been heard or since. The description offered in her letter, however, failed to tally with the description of the dead man made by authorities.

A hat and pistol were found near the body, the pistol being a .38 caliber and the hat was found to have been purchased in Monta Vista, Col. The man was about 50, wore a mustache and had $5 in his pockets. Apparently he had been dead several months.

MARTIN TELLS NEED OF FAITH

Floral Heights Bible Class Hears Lecture

Faith is the most important factor in human nature, without which neither character nor material results may be attained, Judge P. A. Martin told members of the Men's Bible class of the Floral Heights Methodist church Sunday morning.

The faith of Moses, by which he was enabled to lead the Hebrews safely from Egyptian slavery to freedom in Canaan, may be "emulated with great profit by all," the speaker declared.

Stating that without the skilled leadership of Moses the Hebrew hosts could not have accomplished their escape, Judge Martin asserted that through 430 years of slavery, the Hebrews probably had been reduced to savages. He pictured their slow march down the west coast of the Red sea to a point where "a strong east wind enabled them to pass over the sea in safety."

People Were Savages

Judge Martin's discussion continued as follows:

"The event stands out as one of the landmarks in the unfolding of historical religion. Jehovah's chosen people were ignorant savages; their long residence among the people who worshipped Isis and Osirus led them into at least a partial dependence upon these false gods; they must be taught a higher and better way and their intellect was in such crude state of development that it was necessary to teach them through their physical senses; so they must have the miracle of the Red sea, the pillar of fire by night and the cloud by day; they must exist on manna and quail in the desert for 40 years and must all perish in the desert so that a new generation should come to the promised land, raised up in a wilderness where their sole dependence was upon the God of Abraham. And these children of the valley of the Nile had to be taught by object lessons like the little children of today. They had to see God in the pillar of smoke and fire, eat out of His bountiful hand the manna and the quail, in order to understand that Jehovah was superior to Isis and Osirus.

"As Saint Paul says it was 'through faith Moses refused to be called the sea of Pharoah's daughter, choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season.'

"And it was through the faith of this great man that the race was preserved and became a shining light in history. If he had ever lost faith, Israel would have been doomed to destruction and nothing would ever have been written or known of the sons of Abraham.

"Do you know that faith is, after all, the most important element of human character? Without it we can do nothing. And we have too little faith in this age of the world. Many men have lost their faith in their fellowmen, in their country, their government, and, worst of all their faith in God and in themselves and a man who has lost confidence in himself and his God is in a pitiable condition.

"Too often, like the ignorant slaves Moses led out of Egypt, we murmur and complain at things that befall us, not recognizing the hand of providence working out what is best for us in every emergency.

Example for All

"The example of Moses may be emulated with profit by all. While he did not enter the promised land himself and did not live to see the fruition of all his hopes, he had a faith that never wavered in any emergency. Many great leaders of men, like him, have never lived to see the ultimate fruition of their faith, but their lives have inspired others to carry on their work like Joshua and Caleb carried on the work of Moses in the long ago, and divine will has prevailed over all difficulties.

"The faith of Moses was sublime in its nature. He never faltered when he understood the divine will. He confronted a frowning Pharoah with sublime confidence. He thrust his rod over the turbid waters of the Red sea confident that the east wind would blow them away and keep them back until the host could safely cross over. He smote the rock in the desert and cooling waters gushed forth in obedience to the divine will. He lifted a brazen serpent in the wilderness for the salvation of his people as the Christ was lifted up centuries later for the sins and the salvation of a lost world."

Schools Plan Test Of Admission Tax

COLUMBIA, Mo., July 24. (UP)—State universities throughout the country plan to challenge validity of the new 10 per cent admission tax in its appliance to state institutions, Chester L. Brewer, Missouri university athletics director, said today.

Brewer said he planned to confer soon with the Missouri attorney general, Stratton Shartel, regarding plans to test the tax. He also will ask the collector of federal internal revenue at St. Louis to interpret the new law.

The levy will be attacked on two points, Brewer said; first, right of the government to tax an athletic contest sponsored by a state institution; second, right of the government to require a state institution to collect such a tax.

Plans for tests of the law are underway in the East, on the Pacific coast and in the Rocky mountain and southern conferences, Brewer said.

SOVIET DROPS MAJOR RULE

Decree Allows Artisans To Sell in Open Market

MOSCOW, July 24. (UP)—Extensive rights to produce and sell goods on the old-fashioned "capitalist" basis was granted to private groups of artisans today by a government decree, considered one of the most significant moves in recent years to revive private profit in the Communist state.

The decree was issued jointly by the tzik, or central executive committee of the Soviet union, and the sovnarkom, which is the council of peoples commissars, headed by Premier Viacheslav Molotov.

The decree granting production and sales rights to the private groups was issued in the hope of overcoming the scarcity of manufactured articles in Russia, where such products recently have been available only to an extent far below the demand.

The importance of the move lies in the revival of private profit and stimulation of a large class of producers, who previously have made up the so-called cooperative artisan cartels.

These groups worked exclusively for the government on the basis of fixed prices. They were subject to strictest official supervision.

The present decree removed such restrictions and reduced taxes to permit the groups to buy raw materials and to sell their finished products in the open market. Under the new arrangement they will be able to make the biggest profit possible from their products.

Summer Graduates Hear Rev. Crutchfield

nature upon him, and to transcend the limitations implied by average standards.

"We are led into larger places when we learn the proper relation of the physical or mental and the spiritual qualities in life. Persons who build their lives upon selfish purposes only, or for the gratification of physical and material desires, live only in a lower stratum of human experience. The perfection of physical well-being and of mental health is a laudable objective, but beyond it lies the field of exercise for our humane and spiritual personalities. It is the Elysian field of beauty and happiness into which we are led by our dreams.

Brain vs. Brawn

"We may appreciate this distinction by considering the values, and the limitations, of athletic prowess. The finished athlete has set his records and is an old man, athletically speaking, at 36 years; Milton was still young at 50, and was in his prime at 60, for his life was that of the mind and soul jointly dedicated to a great work. Jack Johnson, for many years peer of the big fighters, was retired by age from his field at 40; Michael Angelo accomplished his masterpieces after passing the age of 70, giving to the world immortal gems in sculpture.

"Imagination should be cherished and nurtured as one of the elements by which life is broadened. The aviator often must seek a higher level of flight because of an unduly low ceiling. Similarly, many individuals live in a low atmosphere of human experiences because their lack of vision, their poverty in dreams, forms above them a "low ceiling" beneath which they crawl uncertainly.

"Literature is another of the valuable avenues through which we may rise to broader and richer enjoyment of life. Through the writings of masters who have preceded us, we may cultivate warm friendships with the greatest lives humanity has produced, and may appropriate the visions toward which humanity yet moves, slowly but with determination born of faith.

"Christianity, and the manner of its establishment, offer us admirable examples of individuals being led into 'larger places.' Matthew was led from that hated post of tax-extortioner to that of the trusted interpreter of Christ's Messiahship for the Jews; Peter was lifted from the post of poor fisherman to the exalted calling of the world's greatest evangelist; and Paul was led from the place of a young teacher in Tarsus to become the greatest missionary apostle in all Christendom.

"There is nothing in Confucianism to lead the individual soul to greatness; Buddhism teaches the extinguishment of the individual; Epictetus taught suppression of human emotion, and denial of desire. But in Christ we have a new and wonderful teaching. He teaches the proper control of emotions and the enjoyment of desire. He has led us into high and large places; has opened our eyes to the mountain peaks of possibility; to the skies of truth and beauty toward which we shall direct our thoughts and our hearts."

Monday morning at 7 o'clock both high school and college graduates are to meet at the J. I. Staley home for a swimming party, after which they will go to Kiwanis park for a picnic breakfast. At 1 p. m. they will attend the Majestic theater in a body, and at 8 p. m. Monday will meet at the home of Miss Nathaline Hendricks, 2011 Brown.

Tuesday's program for the graduates calls for a party at the home of Allen Clark, 2500 Ninth, at 9:30 a. m., and a picnic at 4:30 p. m., the group to meet at the Junior college at that hour.

Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock, the class will meet at the Junior college auditorium for rehearsal, and will receive diplomas in the commencement exercises to follow at 10 o'clock with Dr. Nat F. Grafton, pastor of the Floral Heights Presbyterian church, as speaker. A farewell luncheon at Ansley's cafe will conclude the commencement week program.

Sheriff and Deputy to Return Prisoner Here

Sheriff Perry Browning and Deputy A. N. McKelvey, day jailer, left shortly before noon Sunday for Longview, where they expect to take in charge Raymond Helm for return to the Wichita county jail.

Helm was arrested in Longview recently for Wichita county officers and is being brought back to face trial on a charge of robbery with firearms for which he was indicted five years ago.

He is a brother of Henry Helm, executed several years ago for participation in bank robbery at Cisco in December, 1927.

Three Face Charges in Outboard Motor Theft

Complaints charging receiving and concealing of stolen property were filed late Saturday evening against three men accused in connection with the theft of an outboard motor from the cottage of F. P. Cullum at Lake Kemp about July 1, according to District Attorney Sam B. Spence.

Two of the men charged were arrested Saturday by county officers and now are held in the Wichita county jail. The third defendant is being sought by the sheriff's department. The motor was recovered at a house in Wichita Falls, it was said.

Greta Garbo Expected In New York Tuesday

NEW YORK, July 24. (US)—Greta Garbo, the Swedish film actress who shuns the spotlight except when on the Hollywood movie lots, is expected to arrive in New York Tuesday morning, en route for Sweden where she will remain indefinitely.

The actress, traveling, it is believed, under an assumed name, left Los Angeles Friday evening and should arrive in Chicago tomorrow morning. A Los Angeles report said she has an engagement here tomorrow morning with Joseph Buhler, attorney of 274 Madison avenue.

Apparently the report erred in the date of the appointmnet as Miss Garbo is not expected here until Tuesday. She will sail July 31 on the liner Gripsholm.

The actress is reported to have told friends she has ended her American film career, although saying she may make a picture in Europe next year and possibly will return to this country later. Miss Garbo was delayed in leaving Hollywood by the closing of a Beverly Hills bank where she had large deposits.

After hesitating a few minutes she replied: "I think vanilla would look best on my dress."—Edmonton, Alta., Bulletin.
