Mrs. Fred Cox was scheduled to enter St. John's hospital Wednesday of this week, and to have eye surgery Thursday.

Mrs. Ford Oglesby Sr. has been a patient in the hospital, with flu. Dan Griffin was a patient in the local hospital in recent days.

BACK FROM FUNERAL

E. C. Peters flew to Wisconsin recently to attend funeral services for his brother, Howard Peters, who died at the age of 40, and who underwent heart surgery last summer. He had visited here a few times in past years.

Survivors include three brothers of whom E. C. Peters of this place is one.

Post Script

Last week when he was in our shop we had the opportunity of asking Ford Oglesby about the progress of his Plateau Wool and Mohair Corporation which has been under construction in Uvalde for over a year.

From my sketchy notes taken while he was talking, this is the substance of his report:

(1) The building, or buildings, have been completed for some time.

(2) The machinery which was ordered from a weaving firm in Ireland, arrived some time ago and has been installed.

(3) Machinists from the Ireland firm that designed and built the equipment, are already on the job at Uvalde, setting it up and instructing local hands in its operation.

(4) Some time later this spring Plateau Wool & Mohair Corp., will have a formal opening to be announced in the near future.

(5) The devaluation of the dollar in world markets has sent the price of wool and raw mohair skyrocketing. He mentioned Japan especially—that manufacturers there are using their stockpile of cheap dollars to buy up large amounts of American raw materials.

In last week's Success issue, we had a report about a heifer being stolen and butchered, and Ronnie Mittel offering a reward. That same week, the Devil's River News at Sonora had a somewhat similar happening, entitled, "Where Are The T-Bone Steaks?"

"A number of jocular remarks have been made recently to Freeman Mears about the price of beef. . . several persons have warned him that it isn't safe to have beef around. Unfortunately, Freeman now agrees since a party or parties gained entry into the Branding Iron Smoke House early Sunday morning and walked out with a side of beef."

"No clue was found except a lantern, evidently belonging to the robbers. Mears is offering a reward for information leading to the capture of the poachers."

More news of building: An addition with carport on the front is being put on the Ross McAngus house north of the school.

Workmen were casting foundation for the new ready-built house to be brought in south of town for Jerry Swift. The house was being built by a firm in Lubbock.

John Edward Meador has bought two lots in Sunset Acres, east of the Bobby Sykes house, to be location for a new house, sometime in the future.

The site of the C. J. Niblett house has been cleared of debris from the fire of Feb. 10th. The house foundation has been cleared and is now ready for rebuilding to begin.

The firemen made runs to grass fires recently on the Mettie Roverster place and the Merton highway. The latter run was made at 11:30 Monday morning.

Sign erectors were at work at Raymon Mobley's service station changing the long-familiar "Enco" signs to the new "Exxon" trademark. This included the high sign which required the use of a tall crane and crew of men to work with the equipment. The crew had to take down the old signs before they could install the new ones. Photos of the old and new signs are on page 4 of this issue.

Changing the name of a well-known consumer product is one of marketing's most dangerous and delicate tasks. The local change-over of signs was part of the nationwide change. Exxon is a less than lyrical word produced by a computer and meaning nothing at all.

The new company trademark had to be affixed to 11 million credit cards, 22,000 oil wells and 18,000 buildings, plus innumerable employee identification badges, other objects, and all at an estimated cost of $100 million. The Esso tiger was brought back in ads with the slogan, "We're changing our name, but not our stripes."

Girl Scout Week Is Set March 11-17, 1973

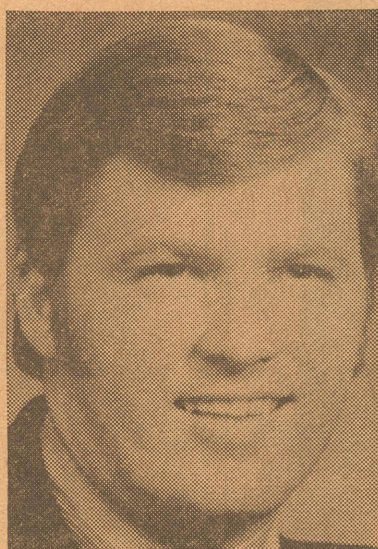

The week of March 11-17 will find Girl Scouts all over the United States celebrating their 61st anniversary.

On March 12, 1912 a small group of girls met at the home of a dynamic, forward thinking woman who had as she said, "... something for the girls of Savannah, and all America, and all the world." The place was Savannah, Georgia and the woman was Juliette Gordon Low. The "something for the girls" was Girl Scouting. Today Girl Scouts of the U. S. A. is the largest voluntary organization for girls in the world. There are 3,110,000 girls from the age of 7 through 17 who are members of the organization in the U.S.A. There are also groups of Campus Girl Scouts made up of college students serving their community through the Girl Scout Councils. For United States citizens living abroad, there is TOPS (Troops on Foreign Soil) in 49 countries. Girl Scouting is a girl-centered, flexible, informal educational program. It involves girls and volunteer adults in an ongoing partnership to help girls develop as creative, responsible individuals with a deep sense of personal worth. The program provides opportunities for girls to experience, to discover, to share girl-planned activities that meet their own needs and interests. These activities encourage personal, social, ethical, and individual skill development through a wide variety of projects in service, social and environmental action, youth leadership, and career exploration; foster a sense of oneness and interdependence with others, and promote active participation as citizens in their homes and communities, the nation and the world.

Calk To Seek Re-Election As Eldorado Mayor

Eldon T. Calk threw his hat in Tuesday to be a candidate for re-election as Mayor of the City of Eldorado. Raymon Mobley previously announced as a candidate.

At press time this week, there were five in the City Alderman race; the two incumbents and three challengers.

Incumbent aldermen Alvin Faris and Granvil Hext will be on the ticket, with challengers Bill Rieken, Nick Robledo Jr., and Jimmy Doyle who was the most recent one to announce.

The filing deadline for candidates to file was late Wednesday, and it remained to be seen how many more, if any, would come out and get their names on the City Election ballot.

The Success printers expect to print the ballots soon for the City, Hospital District, and School Trustee elections, all of which come up on Saturday, April 7th. Ballots will be printed ahead of election time in order to allow voters to cast absentee votes.

First Hail Of Spring Falls Early Tuesday

Local residents were awakened at about 2:30 Tuesday morning when a wet cool front whistled through, dropping marble-sized hail over the area.

The front triggered a rain that dumped about three- to four-tenths of an inch of moisture.

The hail was not large enough and did not last long enough to do any appreciable damage. The rain was welcomed, as always, by ranchmen, although it will further delay the cotton crop and other farming operations.

Some rain totals reported Tuesday indicate that the rain amounts were varied and scattered:

Runge Ranch	.20
McIntosh Ranch	sprinkle
Jas. Williams farm	1.00
Billy Jack Reynolds	.10
Jimmy West	.45
E. H. Dannheim	.65
Floyd West	1.65
L. E. McCalla	.40

DOYLE ANNOUNCES FOR CITY COUNCIL

I wish to announce that I will be a candidate this Spring for City Council of Eldorado. I was formerly a member of the council and had to resign because state employees were forbidden to hold elective office. That regulation has now been rescinded and I could again be a councilman.

I will appreciate the support and vote of all city residents in the April 7 election. —Jimmy Doyle

Gin Ran Monday

After a long delay Mikeska Gin opened Monday morning with a back log of a dozen cotton trailers on the yard and they ginned them all out by quitting time.

All was quiet at the gin Tuesday following the early morning rain. Season's bale total is approaching 3,000.

It's Rodeo Week In San Angelo

Bunting and banners are the obvious indicators that a very big, very busy week is under way in San Angelo. Another obvious indication that something big is happening is the steady stream of pickups, livestock trailers, and 4-H club buses on the highways leading to San Angelo's 40th annual Fat Stock Show and Rodeo.

While the stock show events technically don't get under way until Wednesday, March 7, many show exhibitors were bringing their fat lambs, sheep, goats and cattle in early.

According to Stock Show and Rodeo Association president George H. Crownover, all livestock except cattle must be in place by 8:00 a.m. Wednesday. Weighing, classifying and sifting of fat lambs will begin at that time.

Also on tap Wednesday are the registered quarter horse show, adult Delaine breeding sheep show, adult Rambouillet breeding sheep show, Suffolk breeding sheep show, Columbia breeding sheep show, Hampshire breeding sheep show, sale of sifted livestock and the quarter horse jumping competition.

Also on Wednesday, the commercial exhibit will be opened as will the carnival and midway.

Thursday youth quarter horse show kicks off at the same time the weighing and sifting of fat sheers begins. The fat lamb show begins at 8:30. That night, the rodeo begins the first of six performances at 8:00 p.m. Roger Miller is the headline entertainer for all six performances.

Friday is probably the busiest day with much junior livestock activity scheduled. That morning jud-

REV. MORTON'S MOTHER DIES

The Texas Methodist had an item in a recent issue that Rev. Doyle W. Morton's mother had died Jan. 21st, and that her funeral was held at Rotan.

The Rev. Mr. Morton is pastor of St. Mark's United Methodist Church in McAllen. He served as pastor of the Eldorado Methodist church about 20 years ago. He has served several churches since leaving here, including Sonora.

Coy Bishop made a business trip to Ballinger Friday morning.

Sen. Ogg Introduces Election Reform Bill

State Senator Jack Ogg of Houston introduced two election reform bills recently reforming the present system of primaries in Texas. The legislation is a major change resulting in a presidential primary and the election of delegates to state conventions being held in May. The second bill changes the date of primaries for state offices, from representative to governor, from May to August. Under the Ogg bill runoffs for state offices would be held in September.

The presidential election primary provides for a statewide primary in which the people vote for their presidential preference. At the same time they would also elect their precinct delegates to attend the state convention. The bill also provides for the election of precinct chairmen in May.

Senator Jack Ogg said, "The presidential preference primary would be every four years while the precinct chairman and delegate election would be every two years. The election date set in both bills would make all state elections consistent with federal elections. The presidential preference primary and precinct delegate election would occur on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in May. The state office primary election would be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in August. The runoff would be the first Tuesday after the first Monday in September. The general election as provided by federal law is held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November. The bills would also change the time in which candidates file for office to no later than the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June."

Under the Ogg bill, the present system of precinct, district, and county conventions would be streamlined and only one convention would be necessary, at the state level. In presidential years, the percentage of delegates for each candidate going to the national convention would be the same percentage of votes that that candidate received in the statewide primary.

Senator Ogg said, "There is no question in my mind that a large majority of Texans are for a presidential primary. This opens the selection of delegates and percentage preferences for candidates to the entire electorate, rather than only 5 or 10% of those who attend precinct conventions. The bills also move the state office primaries back to the late summer where they originally were until about 15 years ago and makes the dates uniform. Under the present law candidates are never sure when they are supposed to file, when they are supposed to run, the primaries and runoffs are on Saturdays and the general elections on Tuesdays. It is one mass of confusion."

Ogg stated, "The old argument that is made that elections should be held on Saturday because of bigger turnouts is certainly rebutted by the fact that the November elections always produced a larger turnout than primaries. In many instances across the state in local races, runoffs which are held during the week out poll elections held on Saturdays. People from all walks of life are sophisticated enough that they do vote. There are more people in town and at their polling places during the week than on the week ends when people seem to leave for the country, beaches, etc.

"Also, a statewide primary would motivate candidates to come to Texas on their campaign tours giving Texans the opportunity to see these candidates in person. There is no question that this will stimulate interest in both primaries and should increase the voter turnout. The object of any election reform bill should be to simplify the process, to include the most people possible, and to allow the result to be representative of the broadest cross-section of people," Senator Ogg concluded.

YOUR BUSINESS WILL BE APPRECIATED

Austin, Tex.—“Future financing of public schools in Texas is the most talked about, but least understood, problem in the state today,” Sen. Pete Snelson told the West Texas Press Association at their winter meeting in Midland.

“The courts have said that the wealth of a school district cannot be the criteria for future financing,” he explained. “And all future school financing in the state is affected by the court suit on the Edgewood district of San Antonio. Public school financing has been challenged in the courts in 30 states.”

He compared Edgewood with Odessa's school district. Odessa has 24,984 pupils, 1,119 teachers with a starting salary of $7,445. Edgewood has 22,134 students, 805 teachers with a starting salary of $6,000. This is not the “equality” promised under the 14th Amendment, the courts have ruled—and the U. S. Supreme Court is looking at the appeals on this and other state cases.

The U. S. Supreme Court decision will write the next public school financing formulas in Texas, Snelson added, which might force a special session of the Texas Legislature—after this 63rd regular session has adjourned.

He speculated on the future of school districts—pointing out that ideas have ranged from a “state-wide school district” to more “consolidations of school districts”—unitizing all districts in counties and statewide “property assessment at true market value.”

Snelson, vice-chairman of the Senate Education Committee, quoted an El Paso newspaper clipping which said: “We are watching the demise of public education in Texas.”

“The wealth of Texas as a whole will determine our future on public education,” Snelson concluded—and asked these questions: “What will be the effect on the state tax structure? What will it do to consolidation of 1,100 school districts?” and “Will there be room for local enrichment programs?”

Constitutional Panel Picked

Legislators have until the end of the week to lodge their objections to the 37-member Texas Constitutional Revision Commission selected by the state's top six officials.

In order to reject the slate, a majority of both houses would have to signify their objections with the Secretary of State. Apparently, a relatively small number of objections will be lodged, although complaints on equality of the representation on the Commission were lodged by blacks, Republicans, women, youth and a West Texan. Mexican-Americans were also among signers of the objection petition.

Former State Supreme Court Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert was named chairman of the Commission which must report its recommendations to the Legislature by November. Mrs. Malcolm Milburn of Austin, former Republican state vice chairman, is Commission vice chairman. The Legislature will sit as a constitutional convention next year, using the Commission's work as its starting point.

The Commission includes four Republicans, four women, three blacks and three Mexican-Americans. Neither group was satisfied with its numerical representation, although individuals named by the selection committee generally drew commendation.

Calvert is expected to call the group together soon after the Legislature's “veto period” expires. Members were warned they may as well be prepared to block off at least half their time for the next year to the revision task.

Newsman's Privilege Bill

Hearings on the “free flow of information” bill, commonly called the newsman's privilege, was changed to March 6 at 2:00 p.m. in the Lieutenant Governor's committee room.

Sales Tax Recommendations

Tens of millions of dollars in sales tax collections are not finding their way into the state treasury, a Senate committee reported last week.

Former Sen. Joe Christie said the final report of the interim committee to study the sales tax reveals “glaring deficiencies in the way sales taxes now are collected.”

Christie said the report is not meant as an attack on the office of the comptroller, the state's chief tax collector, but as an effort to suggest better and more efficient ways to get maximum yield out of the lucrative and sensitive sales tax.

In the committee's opinion, the state lost at least $18.2 million in 1971 due to faulty administration of the levy.

Committee members offered the recommendations:

—Employment of more auditors to monitor payments by business firms to the state.

—Authority for cities to pursue in the courts collection of sales taxes once they are declared delinquent by the comptroller.

—Requirement that business firms post bond to insure payment of their sales taxes.

Sens. O. H. (Ike) Harris and Oscar Mauzy, both of Dallas, served on the committee and will co-sponsor legislation to carry out the report's recommendations in the Senate.

The report charged Comptroller Robert S. Calvert has “pursued a policy which encourages sales tax delinquency” and has refused to demand adequate assurance of payment from new and consistently delinquent taxpayers.

The proposed bonding requirement passed the House last week but failed to clear the Senate.

Attorney General's Opinions

Atty. Gen. John Hill held two bills to reinstate the death penalty for murder would be unconstitutional if enacted.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

—Financial requirements of a proposed state officials' code of ethics are constitutional, although there are some “problem areas” with the bill.

—The Legislature's extending the Governor's Committee on Human Relations beyond February 1 is valid, even though a bill to bring about the extension was not passed until after that date.

—Amendments to the budgets of counties under 225,000 population can be made at any time prior to and during the affected tax year.

Courts Speak

The State Supreme Court upheld lower court rulings that former Crystal City School Superintendent John Briggs was due a $21,000 contract settlement due to removal from duties in 1970.

The High Court also said a Houston hotel is responsible for loss of a purse a customer left in the restaurant.

A San Antonio grocery store owner who sold a magazine that may have been “unpleasant, uncouth and tawdry” should not be fined for violating pornography laws, the Court of Criminal Appeals said.

The Court of Criminal Appeals further held a defendant's testimony in court cannot be discredited by a conversation heard in a police station, since this would tend to circumvent the Texas prohibition against using oral confessions as evidence.

Welfare Budget Questioned

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby asked additional data from the Welfare Department to justify its case for major budget increases.

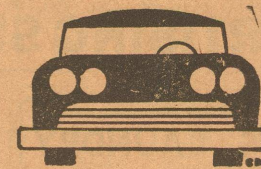

Hobby complained the department is asking for 2,851 new staff positions at a time when the federal government will take over cost of public assistance payments to some 275,000 aged, blind and disabled. While more Texans may qualify for state Medicaid coverage under the new federal provisions, Hobby said, he is not convinced the number of recipients of the medical care will be doubled as estimated by the Welfare Department. Texas Research League, meanwhile, accepted Governor Briscoe's request to make an analysis of the impact of new Social Security amendments on state finances and welfare programs.

Short Snorts . . .

The Senate confirmed appointments of Joe Christie of El Paso to the Insurance Board, Maj. Gen. Thomas Bishop of Austin as adjutant general and Joe Golman of Dallas to the state board of cosmetology.

Governor Briscoe has been suffering from a painful virus infection in both eyes that required bandaging and bed rest.

Pregnancy Disease

Many Schleicher County producers are having trouble with pregnancy disease. Pregnancy toxemia is the most common occurring metabolic disease of sheep. It is often observed in overly fat ewes as well as ewes in poor condition. Most always, affected ewes are carrying twin or triplet lambs.

The basic cause of pregnancy disease is a disturbance of carbohydrate or sugar metabolism. Unless treated early, it is a highly fatal disease. The total metabolic rate increases by at least 50% during late pregnancy. Ewes in late pregnancy require about 50% more feed if bearing a single lamb and about 75% more feed if carrying twins.

Inadequate nutrition is probably the most common factor in rendering ewes susceptible to the disease, but many stresses may actually trigger initiation of the disease. Ewes may first start to show symptoms after they have been hauled or driven, during shearing, during storms, during extreme cold or other stresses.

Affected ewes normally lag behind the other ewes in the flock. In later stages they may be unwilling to stand, will grind their teeth, are dull and finally coma and death occur.

Pregnancy disease may also occur after lambing if the ewe is not receiving adequate energy to support milk production.

Pregnancy disease can be and should be prevented with proper nutrition and management. Treatment during early stages of the disease is essential to be effective. Glycerol (glycerine) and glycerol plus insulin are recommended in treating affected ewes. Two hundred ml. of glycerol given as a drench twice daily is the recommended dosage.

Garden Check List For March

1. Make another application of fertilizer to those pansy and calendula beds to insure continued growth and bloom.

2. Check all growing plants, especially the new foliage for aphids. Control with Diagonin or Malathion.

3. Prepare beds for new plants or rooted cuttings of chrysanthemums for fall color. Should plant by early April.

4. Don't be in a hurry to remove the foliage on your permanent bulb plantings. Those used as annuals, as the tulip, can be removed as soon as they have finished blooming.

5. Don't forget to wrap trunks of newly planted trees to prevent sunscald, reduce borer damage and prevent drying out.

6. Last chance to get garden tools in good condition before you need them.

7. Beware of outlandish ads for nursery stock.

8. Dethatch Bermuda and zoysia lawns now before new growth starts. Also cut back St. Augustine lawns at this time to remove dead leaves.

9. If Evergreen Euonymus plants are covered with scale it is best to cut to the ground, haul off the tops and spray he stubs with Diazinon. Consider replacing with Yucca before mildew attacks the new foliage.

10. If nematodes were present on the roots of garden plants consider fumigation of the bed before replanting.

11. Fertilize all established plants as well as the lawn in early March if you neglected to do so in February. If a complete fertilizer has been used year after year it would be good to consider a soil test.

12. Azaleas and camellias should receive two or three applications of an acid azalea fertilizer at two week intervals as soon as blossoms begin to fade.

13. Be selective in planting annuals and bedding plants. Set out no more than can be properly cared for. A small, well cared for, bed is always more attractive than a large poorly kept area.

14. Complete all dormant pruning of evergreen and summer flowering shrubs this month. Be ready to prune the spring flowering shrubs as soon as they finish blooming.

15. Renew existing mulches on shrub and flower beds and mulch new plantings.

16. Select and order Caladium bulbs, as well as Geranium and Coleus plants for mid to late April planting.

17. Begin the disease prevention program on roses as soon as new growth appears after pruning. Continue to spray at 7 to 10 day intervals throughout the growing season. Refer to L-878, Roses. Summer Care for Recommended Controls.

Eagles Take 4th At McCamey Relays

The Eldorado High School boys' track team participated in the McCamey Relays, and finished with a total of 63 points, good enough for 4th place. The meet was won by Iraan, with Sanderson second, and Wall finished third.

In the 440 yard relay, the Eldorado team which was composed of Mike Manning, Mort Mertz, Ben Minor and Ken Peters, finished fourth with a time of 46.9. In the mile relay, Eldorado also finished fourth with a time of 3:55.4. This relay team was composed of Mike Ferguson, David Swigart, Mort Mertz, and Timmy Farris.

In the individual events, the Eldorado squad, which does not possess a great deal of experience, fared quite well. Ken Peters was first in the 100 yard dash with a time of 10.8, and finished third in the shot put with a toss of 43' 11 1/2". Timmy Farris finished 3rd in the 880 yard dash with a time of 2:10.8, fourth in the broad jump with a jump of 18' 2 1/2", and 4th in the high jump with a jump of 5-6. Mike Manning finished fourth in the 100 yard dash, running N. O., and fifth in the discus with a toss of 118' 2 1/2". Mike Ferguson finished fourth in the 440 yard dash, running a 54.9. In the mile run, Jamie Minor finished third with a time of 5:10.6 and Mark Bishop finished sixth with a time of 5:32.9. Billy Donaldson finished fourth in the discus with a toss of 118.4.

This Saturday the track team will be in Iraan for the Cactus Relays. The fields events will begin at 9:00 with the preliminaries in the running events beginning at 9:30 a.m. The finals in the running events will begin at 1:30 Saturday afternoon. The A Division should be very competitive with Sonora and Rankin being the favorites. Iraan, Sanderson, and Eldorado should provide a good challenge.

330 yard Int. Hurdles, Billy Donaldson, Jim Cawley.

100 Yard Dash, Ken Peters, Mike Manning, Hunter Henderson.

Caring For The Sick Child

A sick child requires special care and entertainment. Like an adult, a child may be concerned about himself and his illness. Therefore, let him ask questions. Answer these inquiries and provide reassurance.

Give the child something to do—activity benefits eating and sleeping habits during the illness and reduces tenseness and restlessness.

However, don't overdo suggestions. Despite his normal energy, a sick child tires more easily and his attention span may be shorter than normal.

In addition, he may revert to more simple play than usual. If so, let him—it's not unusual for sick children.

When choosing toys and play equipment for a bed-ridden child, avoid extremely messy materials. Anything requiring extensive clean-up may be shunned due to its necessity but tiring clean-up efforts.

For example, furnish felt-tip pens instead of water paints. The pens' inks should be water-soluble in case they touch bed coverings or sleepwear.

A child's illness may be the ideal time for adding a new object to his room. For example, encourage him to make a mobile to hang over his bed or from a window.

Decorating With Sheets

Consider sheets when decorating on a budget. They're economical, colorful and versatile.

Today's sheets are available in a wide variety of colorful solids, prints and designs.

Home decorators should find several possibilities to fit family tastes and fancies.

Sheets make numerous decorating accessories—indicating their versatility.

For example, they make excellent cafe curtains and full draperies. In fact, a home decorator can achieve complete window coordination by cutting a motif from a sheet and appliqueing it onto a windowshade.

Chair and sofa cushions, extra pillows and throw pillow all can be constructed from sheets.

They're ideal covers for round and oval tables since they're wide enough to form circular, floor-length tablecloths.

Turning to bedroom accessories, dust ruffles add a dressy appearance.

To make dust ruffles, cut an old sheet the size of the box springs. Cut the ruffle from a new sheet, allowing enough width to reach from floor to top of the box springs. Attach ruffle to old sheet and place between springs and mattress.

In addition, sheets make attractive quilts. A decorative sheet is used as the quilt top, with machine stitching around the major motifs—as in doing quilted upholstery.

A luxurious appearance can be accomplished simply with creative thinking and a little effort.

The Difference In Pork Chops

Pork chop price and quality varies depending on location on the loin strip. Pork chops involve five special cuts.

Although all come from the loin, position makes a definite difference.

Blade chops are cut from the front part of the loin. Having considerable bone plus seams of fat between the muscles, they aren't as desirable as cuts further down the loin.

Many markets offer this section cut into country style spare ribs or roasts, rather than chops.

Next are the center cut rib chops. These have a chunk of loin eye, part of the backbone and a curved rib. Cut thick, they are excellent for stuffing.

Center cut loin chops are next—looking like miniature pork T-bone steaks. They usually have the most meat and demand the highest price.

The final cuts on the loin strip are sirloin end chops. Like the front area, they have more bone. Because of this, they are often sold simply as loin end roasts.

The fifth type of chop isn't limited to any certain section of the loin. Butterfly chops are cut from the loin after the bone is removed—anywhere a sizeable chunk of meat is located.

Since this variety exists, it's important that the shopper knows what chops are on sale—to determine whether they are really a bargain.

Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Bradley, their son Charles, and Mrs. Jim Lacy, Sr., and daughter Andrea, recently visited their children in Austin.

Mrs. S. Blair spent the week end visiting the Kenneth Pennington family in Austin.

Mickey Pennington flew back to San Antonio Friday after spending some time in training with an insurance company in Hartford, Con.

The following events, selected by the Texas Tourist Development Agency, Box 12008, Austin 78711, are but a few of the many excellent recreational opportunities offered by communities across the state. A more complete listing of Texas events may be obtained free of charge from the Texas Highway Department, Travel and Information Division, Box 5064, Austin 78703.

March 1-4 The 36th Annual Charro Days Fiesta, Brownsville. This pre-Lenten costume festival features fun and frolic. A full schedule includes continuous street entertainment, food, art exhibits, street dancing, rides, children's parade, night parade, three balls, a Grand International Parade and golf tourney. Added this year in the self proclaimed "Tamale Capital of the World & Texas" is a tamale cookoff running all four days. For full details write Charro Days Fiesta, Box 1904TT, Brownsville, Tex. 78520.

March 4-April 14 Holiday Trails, Mineola. Not an event, but a time of year when this scenic area bursts forth with blossoms of the dogwood, the redbud, crimson clover, blue-bonnets and Indian paintbrushes. Trails wind through verdant walls of hardwood and evergreen trees interspersed with pastures and gently flowing streams. For a folder on the trails, write Mineola Chamber of Commerce, P. O. Box 68, Mineola, Tex. 75773.

March 16-17 St. Patrick's Celebration, Shamrock. It's here, on the eastern edge of the Texas panhandle that thousands go to kiss a slab of the world-famous Blarney Stone imported from Cork County, Ireland. A kick-off banquet the evening of the 16th and a full day of activities the 17th mark the event. On the schedule are an all-day carnival, colleens vying for the title of "Miss Irish Rose," parade, old fiddlers contest, stage show, and two dances.

March 24-25 Texas Rattlesnake Sacking Championship, Brownwood. This event, which started as a joking statement in 1968, has drawn national attention. Held in the Brownwood Coliseum, the contest is to catch ten rattlesnakes in a pitted area and place them in a burlap bag. One person catches and the other holds the bag. There are novice and professional divisions and entries are coming from as far away as Pennsylvania. Also in progress at this time is a wildcat show of antique, coin and gun dealers.

March 24-25 First Gulf Coast International Folk Festival, Galveston. Dedicated to bringing together the many cultures which have contributed to the development of the Gulf Coast area, this event will feature ethnic foods, arts, songs, dances and costumes. Located in Moody Civic Center, the festival will feature continuous stage entertainment. Admission $1.

Which describes your feelings?

Yes___No___ I could do more enjoyable things if I had the time.
Yes___No___ I have a good occupation and my supervisors approve of my work, but personally, I'm not satisfied.
Yes___No___ My realistic conception of an ideal life is very different from that which I'm living now.

Did at least one question apply to you? If so, it's quite possible that you're not getting the most out of life. Only you know the reasons, but whatever they are, God can help you.

Among many other things in the Bible, He promises freedom and a new life to those who sincerely seek it.

Why don't you come to church this Sunday and let Him know that you want to be free of your chains?

To live a half-life when a full life is available isn't really like you.

Is it?

Girl Scout Days . . .

It Started In U. S. 'Way Back In 1912

Girl Scouts are part of the worldwide movement founded by Sir Robert Baden-Powell in 1910; the organization in the United States is a member of the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts.

Juliette Gordon Lowe of Savannah, Ga., formed the first Girl Scout troop in the United States on March 12, 1912, following the pattern set up for Girl Guides, sister organization of the Boy Scouts of Great Britain. Mrs. Low had lived in England and helped organize Girl Guide troops. She became the first president of the U. S. organization. When she retired from office in 1920 she received the title of founder, and her birthday of Oct. 31 was set aside as a special day for the Girl Scouts. At the time of her death in 1927 the Girl Scouts had troops in every state in the union.

One day each year Girl Guides and Girl Scouts everywhere join their thoughts and send them round the world as a powerful prayer that all men shall be friends. They chose Feb. 22 as the day to do this because it is the birthday of both Lord and Lady Baden-Powell. Girl Scouts in the U. S. A., through donations or service projects, give money to the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund. Part of the money is sent to the Thinking Day Fund. Part of it is used to send Girl Scouts to other countries, and to bring Girl Guides from other countries here. When you give your money to this Fund, you help bring together people from different lands so they can become friends. Making friends brings about a lasting peace. —Kathy Gabbert, Alamo, N. C.

SAN ANGELO RODEO

There will be a Girl Scout float and marchers in the parade on the 9th of March.

Troops or individuals may also enter their projects in Women's Division of the Fair.

TYPEWRITER RIBBONS, for Royal, Underwood, and Remington—available at The Success.

Skating Party Held

Angelia Faye of Troop 25, Eldorado, reports that their troop went on a skating party to San Angelo a while back. Mrs. Bill Holsey, Mrs. Earl Tacker and Mrs. Gail Patton accompanied the nine girls. They went to the skating rink and to McDonald's for hamburgers.

They completed their skating badge with bruised knees and soreness all over but had lots of fun.

Time to 'Think Camp'

Summer is not too far off and we are beginning to "think camp"! Registration for Jo-Jan-Van will begin April 1. Any Brownie, Junior, Cadette or Senior Scout may attend camp.

Dates have been set and camp folders will be distributed at troop meetings in March. Dates are as follows:

Session I—June 10-23 (Brownies and Juniors may attend Session I for one week if they do not wish to stay the whole session. When registering, specify first or second week.)

Session II—June 24-June 30.

Session III—July 1-July 14.

The Pioneer Unit (for Cadettes who have completed the 6th or 7th grade) will be held both Session I and III. The Primitive Unit (for those who have completed 8th grade and up) will be held Session III and the Gypsy Trip (in the covered wagon) for those with Primitive camping experience will be during Session I. Girls must be at least 9th graders in Sept. for this unit. First year CIT will be June 17-July 14, and second year CIT will be June 10-23.

Campers will be glad to know that there will be three new shower-latrines units in camp this year—one building in each unit. These will be concrete block structures with four showers, four toilets, and large sink units.

Be sure to register on April 1 so you will not miss out on the fun this summer! Come and bring your friends. See you at Jo-Jan-Van!

Further information is available from local Girl Scout leaders, or from the El Camino council offices in San Angelo.
