Cut Not Warranted Now, Anderson Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Anderson told Congress today a tax cut is not warranted now as a stimulant to snap the economy out of the current recession.

"I have heretofore stated," Anderson said, "that I can conceive of situations where tax reductions might appropriately be brought into play to help the resumption of economic growth.

"It is our judgment that the present condition of the economy does not warrant such action now However, we must continue to examine developments as they progress from month to month, with a willingness to use this or other methods of stimulation if conditions should require them."

Anderson phrased the statement in testimony before the Senate-House Economic Committee at a hearing on President Eisenhower's recent economy message to Congress. The committee also is looking into possible cures for the current business slump and unemployment.

Eisenhower said at his news conference Wednesday that tax reduction could be held as a tool to give the economy a lift. But he did not recommend a cut and cautioned against "going too far with trying to fool with our economy."

In his message, and since then, Eisenhower said he looks for a business upturn in the second half of this year.

Anderson struck a generally optimistic tone in his prepared statement.

"Neither inflation nor deflation will be allowed to run a ruinous course," he said. He used the words readjustment and deflation rather than recession.

Anderson gave no estimate in his prepared testimony as to when an upturn might be expected.

"First of all," he said, "part of the readjustment has occurred. Reduction of inventory in some lines and certain adjustments in outputs and prices have already taken place.

"Possibly in reflection of this fact, most sensitive industrial material prices and the prices reflected in the all-commodity index of the Bureau of Labor Statistics have recently showed considerable stability."

Listing other factors he considered favorable, Anderson said personal income has held up well and residential housing construction has turned upward slightly. Mortgage money to help this is more readily available, he added.

Anderson said the administration is sticking to these recommendations:

Continue for another year existing corporation income and liquor, tobacco and automobile excise tax rates; eliminate "some unintended benefits and hardships" in the tax laws and simplify the tax laws.

Chairman William M. Martin of the Federal Reserve Board told the committee he did not think the recession would last "too long." He cautioned against too drastic steps to check it.

"Excessive stimulus during recession can jeopardize long-run stability," he said, describing the economy as "robust and strong (but) at the moment suffering from indigestion or overexertion" after three boom years.

Cast Of 100 Set To Stage 1958 Follies

One hundred Snyderites will go on stage tonight, and tomorrow night in presenting the Snyder Follies of 1958, a musical comedy being presented by the Acacia, Atheneum and Cosmorama study clubs.

Curtain will rise on the opening number at 8 o'clock, and within the next two hours the Snyder High School stage will be filled with a continuous display of local talent in songs, skits, dances and capers.

Some tickets are still available for both performances, but more have been sold for tonight's performance than for tomorrow night's, Mrs. W. B. Lee, Jr., ticket chairman, said.

"A number of good seats are still available for both performances, and student tickets have been reduced to 75 cents for high school students," she added. Adult general admission tickets are $1.50 at the door or in advance at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Some scenes in the follies include the "Roaring Twenties," "Around the World," "Calypso Capers," "Sunday at Lake Thomas," "Elvis Pretzel" and "Calling Uncle Sputnik."

The final dress rehearsal was held last night and director Bob Stephens of Cargill Productions of New York, said he was well pleased with the smoothness of all routines.

"We will have a show that offers entertainment every minute, and a surprising supply of good talent has been gathered for the Follies," Stephens said.

Sets for the Follies were made by Bob Sinclair.

"Members of the cast have been practicing every day for the past two weeks, some of them rehearsing two or three times daily, in preparation for the Follies," Mrs. Martha Hartley, general chairman, said.

Behind the scenes work on the follies has been divided between the three sponsoring clubs headed by the committee chairmen from the clubs.

The committee chairmen are: Mrs. Dan Warren, talent; Mrs. Fickas Bell, program; Mrs. Jack Nesbitt, costume; Mrs. Bill Brown, cast; Mrs. W. B. Lee, Jr., tickets; Mrs. Grady Elder, publicity; Mrs. Holman Odom, patrons; and Mrs. Thomas Hartley, general chairman. Presidents of the sponsoring clubs are: Mrs. Carl Dillaha, Acacia; Mrs. B. F. Zimmerman, Atheneum; and Mrs. Clyde Hall, Cosmorama.

Trigg Put On Zoning Panel

Herman Trigg, principal of Central Elementary School, has been appointed to the city planning and zoning commission, Harold Bennett, mayor, said.

Trigg is to replace Charlie Hooser who recently moved away from Snyder.

The planning and zoning commission meets regularly once each month and considers all annexations, zoning, street changes and other things related to future development of the city. Special meetings are held when special problems require urgent action of the commission.

Members of the commission are Russell Yorgesen, chairmen, Trigg, Fred Bullard, Stanley Noah, and Cecil Boren.

Four Die In Crashes On Ice-Covered Roads

By The Associated Press

Traffic crashes on ice-slick Texas Panhandle highways Friday killed four persons as a new wintry onslaught threw a blanket of snow over the top of Texas.

Two victims were Kenneth Clayton, 23, and Homer Peterson, 28, employed by the Noble Oil Co. of Canadian.

Details of the accident in which they and two other persons were killed near Canadian, Matador and Vega weren't available at once.

The Highway Patrol warned that all roads in the Panhandle area were extremely hazardous.

Ice or snow was reported on U.S. 87 between Happy and Canyon, around Borger and Skellytown, on U.S. 66 in the McLean area and around Borger.

Some 20 cars were stalled during the night north of Canyon. Motorists were having difficulties on U.S. 60 between Pampa and Amarillo, on U.S. 66 near Vega and U.S. 54 in the Oklahoma Panhandle.

Two inches of snow were reported at Clayton, N.M., and at Dalhart, Pampa, Panhandle and Gruver, in Texas.

Other amounts included: Hereford .50 of an inch, Borger 1.75, Clarendon 1.50, Canyon 1.60, and Guymon, Okla., 1.

Temperature lows included Clayton, N.M., 9 degrees; Gage, Okla., 14; Guymon, Okla., 18, and Amarillo 23 degrees.

Most snow, about 2 inches deep Friday morning, fell Thursday night or shortly after midnight Friday. Long before dawn the snow had quit falling and there was no precipitation over the state. Skies remained cloudy, however, in the Panhandle, South Plains and along the coast.

Several airline flights were cancelled at Amarillo because of low visibility. The airport there reported "bad braking conditions" for planes landing there Friday morning.

The only highway trouble reported was that of 15 or 20 cars stacked up on a steep hill just north of Amarillo on Highway 87. No roads were reported closed and only one accident was blamed on the weather.

Bill Damro, 25, of Big Spring suffered minor injuries when his car skidded and overturned on a farm road three miles east of Canyon, Tex.

Evidence Plentiful In Kidnap-Slaying

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Officers from Texas said today they have sufficient evidence against two ex-convicts in the kidnap-slaying of a Waco, Tex., filling station attendant to take the case to court.

Waco Police Chief Jesse Gunterman said extradition proceedings were being started to return Allen Runo, 24, of Oklahoma City and Franklin Perkins, 28, of Houston to Texas.

"We have a good case of murder against them," said Ranger Capt. Clint Peoples.

Gunterman said ballistic tests were to be held on guns which the two men carried.

Spectacles which may be those of the Waco victim also were found in their possession.

The men admitted kidnapings here and at San Antonio but denied the kidnap slaying of Ray Spencer, 51, near Waco.

Gunterman indicated he would not disclose some evidence in what he termed the senseless slaying of Spencer but said it was strong enough to take the case to court. He said an overcoat with Perkins' name on it had been found in Waco.

Two 38 caliber automatics and a 38 shell found near Spencer's body were being tested. The guns and a large quantity of ammunition were found on the two outlaws.

The two were arrested yesterday by police who had just freed their last kidnap victim from his bonds. He was Joseph Tonglet, who was kidnaped here on brightly-lit Canal Street.

Police said the two men also were sought in Houston for questioning about a robbery of a food market and burglary of a sporting goods store.

Two pistols, the same size gun believed to have been used in the slaying of Spencer at Waco, were found in their possession. A pair of glasses thought to be Spencer's also were found in their possession along with a large quantity of ammunition.

Housing Panel Is Appointed

A five-member housing authority for Snyder has been appointed by the city council, Mayor Harold Bennett, said today.

Members of the unit are: Bill Wilson, chairman, B. F. Pinnell, R. C. Patton, Lee Smyth and Joe Graham.

Wilson, Pinnell and Patton are to serve two-year and Smyth and Graham one-year terms on the authority.

The housing authority will select sites for possible low-rent housing projects here, apply for a Federal government loan to pay for planning of the projects, present the locations selected and reasons for needing the housing to the city council, and call a bond election to build the housing if the project is deemed necessary for Snyder by the city and the federal government.

The cost of operation of the housing uits, a manager's salary, and other expenses would be deducted from revenues from the housing, and 10 per cent of the revenue would be given to the city in lieu of city taxes. If any money were left, it would be paid on the bonded indebtedness, and if not the federal government guarantee on the loan would pay the bond obligations in the form of a subsidy to the low-rent housing project.

Cafe, House Damaged By Fires Here

A cafe and a residence were damaged by fires here last night.

Damages were heaviest to the cafe, Gordon's Grill, 2405 Avenue S, operated by J. A. Flint. The building is owned by the Foster Carroll estate.

D. A. Porter, fire chief, said the floor was burned from under two stoves in the building, and that the building received heavy smoke and water damage.

Two adjoining buildings received some smoke and water damage, Porter said. They are the Joe Graham Cleaners building, and the Tatum's House of Color.

The cafe fire occurred about 3:30 o'clock this morning.

The residence fire was at 7 o'clock last night in a duplex at 1205½ Twenty-fifth Street. The duplex is owned by Arthur Roberts and is occupied by C. E. Wallis.

Apparently the fire started from kitchen window curtains near the range, Porter said. There was smoke and water damage to the kitchen, and the curtains were destroyed, and a kitchen cabinet charred.

At about 11:20 this morning, the fire department was called to put out an oil well slush pit fire east of Parker's Food Store on the Clairemont Road in north Snyder. firemen were called to the 2900 block of Avenue S, but could find no fire. The report was apparently a false alarm, Porter said.

New Deputy Authorized

An additional deputy in the sheriff's department was authorized by the county commissioners court in a special session held yesterday.

The sheriff's office now has four deputies and the staff, other than the sheriff, can now be increased to five.

In other action, the court approved the low bid of $2,056 by Mack's Auto Exchange of Abilene on a new jeep for the city-county mosquito-fly control program. The city council has previously opened the bids. The city and county will each pay half of the cost of the new jeep.

4 Children Die In Fire

SOMERVILLE, Tex. (AP)— Four children burned to death in an early morning fire at the home of Jose Ximines in this Burleson County town.

Three others of the family were burned, one seriously, in futile attempts at rescue.

The dead were two boys and two girls: Auralia, 12; Joe, 8; Roy, 4, and Lydia, 1. They were sleeping when flash flames swept the house.

Stassen Remains As Disarmament Adviser

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harold E. Stassen said today after talking with President Eisenhower that he is continuing for now as Eisenhower's disarmament adviser.

Stassen said, however, he still is considering running for governor of Pennsylvania.

He said he must soon make a decision on whether to quit his present job and seek the governorship.

"I did not submit my resignation," he told newsmen. "I was not asked for it."

The 50-year-old Stassen, reportedly on his way out as U. S. disarmament negotiator, met with Eisenhower about 45 minutes.

In reply to a flurry of questions, he said he would meet again with Eisenhower—at the President's request.

He said the time for such a meeting has not been set yet but that it will be before March 17, filing deadline for gubernatorial candidates in Pennsylvania.

Stassen's talk of seeking the Republican nomination has been greeted by Pennsylvania GOP leaders with a lack of enthusiasm.

Stassen laughingly declined to comment on a report published in the Baltimore Sun which named White House chief of staff Sherman Adams as the source of news stories saying Eisenhower had decided Stassen must go.

Stassen has been feuding backstage with Secretary of State Dulles over the kind of disarmament proposals to be offered the Soviet Union in any new talks. He also is known to have criticized Dulles' attitude toward negotiations with the Soviet as negative.

Eisenhower, himself officially a Pennsylvania resident, was asked at his news conference Wednesday about Stassen's future and the possibility of his seeking the governorship post.

Eisenhower, noting he was conferring with Stassen this week, said: "Now he, as I understand, expressed some interest in being a governor, and I want to say very frankly that there are many traits of his that I believe to be admirably fitting for such an office. He is a great administrator and he is an indefatigable worker."

But Rep. Stimson, chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee and dean of the Pennsylvania GOP House delegation, said: "The President probably plans to relieve (Stassen) from his present job and, with his tongue in cheek, suggested that Pennsylvania might be willing to accept the discarded Mr. Stassen as its governor."

"I'm sure Pennsylvania will not do this, preferring a Pennsylvanian," Simpson added. Stassen served three terms as governor of Minnesota before moving to Pennsylvania in 1948.

SPOT MUSE

JOHN BOREN, sponsored by the Downtown Lions Club in the Playboy contest of the Snyder Follies of 1958, was leading in a vote count made late yesterday afternoon, but some of the other candidates were running close races. Trailing by only a few votes were the Optimist Club candidate, Joe Luther, and the Evening Lions Club candidate, Tim Dennis. Luther, who is actively campaigning for the honor — and the week-long vacation in the Paradise Inn in Pheonix, Ariz., said last night that he had enough votes "in his pocket" to put him in the lead, and had many more votes pledged to him. The contest will end at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, and the winner will be announced in the Follies finale tomorrow night.

A BUILDING BOOM is underway, or preparing to get underway here in Snyder this year in what looks now like one of the biggest years of building in Snyder's history. Included in the assured projects here are a new cotton warehouse now being built, two school buildings—a new junior high and elementary schools, an assured widening project on the Big Spring highway, and a new shopping center. Total cost of this construction will run to several million dollars. And these are only a few of the building projects which will probably be started here during 1958.

First ICBM Base Due By December

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Air Force James H. Douglas said the first operational U. S. unit armed with an intercontinental ballistic missile will be at its post by December.

Douglas told the House Armed Services Committee the missile is the Air Force Atlas, which is designed to carry an atomic or hydrogen warhead 5,500 miles.

Douglas' testimony, made public in censored form, provided official confirmation of reports the Air Force is approaching the point of declaring the Atlas a battle-ready weapon.

While Douglas did not say where the Atlas unit will be stationed, it was considered certain to be the new ICBM base near Cheyenne, Wyo.

The only other ICBM base, at Camp Cook, Calif., is principally a training center.

Douglas told the committee the Air Force will be able to build up further its ICBM ready strength earlier than had been anticipated as a result of the military construction bill Congress passed Thursday. It includes 128 million dollars for Atlas procurement and base construction.

The Atlas has been flight tested four times from the Cape Canaveral missile center, Douglas said, and the last two, of limited range, were completely successful.

It has been reported unofficially that the Atlas flew about 600 miles in the last tests. The Air Force did not attempt to attain the full range.

Testing will continue at an accelerated pace, Douglas said.

Douglas said the United States already has rocket engines with the potential to explore space beyond the moon and to place in orbit big satellites, manned or unmanned.

"It appears that combinations of rocket engines presently developed have this possible capacity," he said.

Navy Blames Vanguard Loss On Wiring; Suspect Seepage

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Navy blamed the loss of its Vanguard satellite rocket on a wiring failure and pinned suspicion on two possible causes — moisture seepage and vibration.

This is the area in rocketry where it is difficult to pinpoint a defect. The persons associated with Project Vanguard may never be quite sure exactly where the trouble developed.

One expert at the Air Force missile test center here put it this way: "Broken circuitry prevented the Vanguard's gyroscopes, in the far forward end of the second stage, from correcting the missile's abnormal motions.

"As far as we can tell this disruption of circuits was the result of moisure accumulation, or of vibration."

The three-stage Vanguard rocket, with a gold-plated baby satellite in its nose, rose straight and true from its launching stand Wednesday.

The Navy said flight records showed that after 57 seconds the missile developed some "small irregularities in the first-stage engine control system" for three seconds.

Normally the Vanguard's automatic pilot — its gyroscope equipment only seven feet from the tip of the missile nose — would have sensed any irregularity and transmitted corrective commands to the rocket engine at the rear of the main stage.

Charts showed that the correcting signal failed to reach the first stage mechanism that would correct the engine's position and provide a change in direction.

The huge rocket was forced sharply to the right. The strain broke it in two.

The Navy has two more Vanguard rockets here. The first one may be launched later this month with another miniature satellite aboard. The later rocket will attempt to launch a 21½-pound sphere into an orbit.

Vibration is a constant problem in the field of missiles. And pelting rain was one of the elements, together with dangerously high winds, that delayed a Vanguard launching attempt for many days.

"A missile is just like your car," an industry official said.

"Let it stand idle in the rain for a few hours or days and trouble is likely to seep in."

During the four weeks of waiting on its launch stand, the Vanguard assembly was kept covered as much as possible with a plastic material to keep out rain and blowing sand.

New Wave Of Violence Hits Little Rock's Central High

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Violence broke out several times at integrated Central High School yesterday and a white boy and a Negro girl were suspended.

A white girl's parents withdrew her from classes after one racial incident and another Negro girl reported that a white youth kicked her.

The tension-filled day also included a bomb scare but no explosives were found.

Minnie Jean Brown, 16, one of the nine Negroes attending the school, was suspended by Principal Jess Matthews. Apparently the action resulted from a corridor scuffle between the Negro girl and a white girl, Frankie Ann Gregg.

Matthews also suspended Lester Judkins Jr., a white youth who reportedly doused Minnie Jean with soup in a cafeteria incident after the fight in the corridor.

Mrs. Frank B. Gregg Jr. said her husband went to Central High and withdrew their daughter after Frankie Ann hit Minnie Jean with a purse because the Negro girl called her "white trash."

Mrs. Gregg quoted her daughter, a 10th grader, as saying she and Minnie Jean bumped into each other while changing classes. The name-calling and purse slinging followed, Mrs. Gregg said.

Carlotta Walls, 14, Negro, reported that a white boy kicked her. It could not be determined whether any action was taken in this incident.

Minnie Jean has figured in a number of racial disputes at Central High, which still is guarded during class hours by a small force of federalized Arkansas National Guardsmen.

None of the other Negro pupils has been suspended since they started attending school under the protection of federal troops last Sept. 25.

Yesterday morning, a Little Rock television station got an anonymous telephone call that a bomb had been planted at Central High. School authorities and city patrolmen checked but found nothing.

There have been several such reports in recent weeks. Once a stick of uncapped and unfused dynamite was discovered in an unused locker but other searches have turned up nothing.

In another development concerning school integration, Rep. Hays (D-Ark) and Gov. Orval Faubus conferred at the governor's office on legislation that Hays plans to introduce.

The measure would call for a congressional study of school desegregation. Hays said. He declined to discuss details.

Ban On Gifts Is Declared Invalid

AUSTIN (AP)—The attorney general ruled invalid today a recent law prohibiting any official of an insurance company from making gifts to State Insurance Department employes.

The opinion was asked by Dist. Atty. A. W. Lair of Randall County where the grand jury has been investigating the payment of $2,000 cash by John L. McCarty, former president of Estate Life Insurance Co. of Amarillo, to J. W. Pierson of Dallas, former state liquidator.

Mrs. Mary Wall, assistant attorney general, said in the opinion that the portion of the recent Insurance Department Reorganization Bill (SB222) referring to such gifts was void because the provision was not mentioned in the title of the bill.

"Since the description of the subject matter of Article 1.09-3 in the title of Senate Bill 222 does not embrace acts of officers, agents and employes of insurance companies, we are compelled to hold that the portion of this article which attempts to make certain acts of these individuals unlawful is void," Mrs. Wall wrote.

"The opinion did not touch on another section of the bill which makes it a penitentiary offense for an Insurance Department employe to accept a gift from an insurance company official.

In his request for an opinion, the district attorney had said that "A complaint is now pending before the grand jury of Randall County which is based on the provisions of the captioned bill. One of the defendants in the case is an officer of an insurance company in the State of Texas and if indicted, would have to be indicted under the provision of Senate Bil 222."

Lair pointed out that the offense was mentioned in the caption of the measure and asked for an opinion.

Explorer To Flash Across Skies Today

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—The American satellite Explorer is expected to flash across the United States three times late today but only two passes may be visible to moonwatch observers.

The Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory issued this approximate timetable, all times are Central Standard.

4:16 p.m.—Enters over southwest Texas, crosses Louisiana and leaves southern South Carolina coast at 4:21 p.m. The satellite probably will not be seen because the times are before sunset.

6:14 p.m. — Enters southwest Arizona, sweeps over southern New Mexico, Texas Panhandle, out over Georgia coast at 6:23 p.m. May be visible over the Midwest and eastern sections.

8:16 p.m. — Enters Mexican coast just off the tip of Southern California, crosses southwest Arizona, southern New Mexico, West Texas, and goes out over Central Texas Gulf Coast at 9:22 p.m. Theoretically may be seen in western part of the U.S. and possibly in Midwest.

Smithsonian scientists said optical equipment is necessary to track Explorer which reaches a maximum height of 900 miles and minimum of 400 miles within its orbit.

Aly Khan Is Preparing For U. N. Job

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—Prince Aly Khan went to work at the Foreign Office today to prepare for his new job as Pakistan's permanent representative to the United Nations.

An aide said the 46-year-old playboy prince, former husband of movie actress Rita Hayworth and British socialite Joan Yarde-Buller, is anxious "to learn all about diplomacy and foreign affairs."

The Foreign Office said it is planning to send Prince Aly to U. N. headquarters in New York as soon as possible. He is now studying Pakistan's foreign policies in consultation with top diplomats.

A Foreign Office source said the only a token salary of one rupee a month (21 cents).

Aly Khan got the U. N. post after his father, the late Aga Khan, passed him over and named Aly's son Prince Karim his successor as head of the far-flung Ismaili Moslem sect. Aly Khan is now an Iranian citizen but will probably adopt Pakistani nationality before leaving here.

Bank Robber Uses Lame Girl As Shield

NEW YORK (AP)—A goateed gunman, using a lame girl as a hostage, held up a Bronx bank branch yesterday and escaped with two shopping bags full of $12,440 in bills.

The bandit, a Negro, strode into the crowded Manufacturers Trust Co. branch, seized the lame girl—about 12 years old—and ordered bank employes and customers to obey his orders or "I'll shoot the kid if you don't."

He shoved a shopping bag into the hands of a woman ustomer and forced her to collect bank notes at the windows of four tellers. The bank manager himself was compelled to put money into another bag.

Then, taking the child, another youngster and a woman believed to be their mother with him, the man left the bank and disappeared. The mother and children were not identified.

But the woman who had been pressed into service as a collector was quoted as saying: "I thought this only happened in the movies. The man said, 'Hey, miss, take this bag and get all the money.' I saw his gun and I listened to him." She was not identified.

Police said they learned the woman and the two children forced to accompany the bandit were released outside the bank and that they boarded a bus.

Doctors Work In Relays To Save Injured

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—Relays of weary doctors fought desperately today to save the manager of the British championship soccer team and two others critically injured in a plane crash yesterday which took 21 lives.

Among the dead were seven players and a coach of the Manchester United team, eight British sports writers and a steward of the chartered British European Airways plane.

Of the 23 survivors, 15 were hospitalized.

The team from Manchester, north England's industrial capital, was on its way home from Belgrade after tying Yugoslavia's Red Star team 3-3 and advancing to the semifinals of the European Cup matches.

The plane stopped in Munich to refuel. On the third try to take off in a snowstorm, it got about 60 feet above the ground, faltered and plowed into a two-story house. Then it hurtled into a wooden shed crammed with gasoline and oil cans, creating an inferno.

A woman and four children were in the house the plane hit but escaped injury.

The car was a 1955 Chevrolet.

Confessed Slayer Sticks To Story

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The former cellmate of Jimmy Shaver, who postponed for 13 days the ex-Airman's date with death by a confession of his own, stuck to his grim story today.

Donald Martin Summers, 32, appeared before the Bexar County grand jury yesterday and a person present said he "steadfastly maintained his guilt." The jury continued its probe of the case until Monday.

Dist. Atty. Hubert Green Jr. hammered at Summers on every point of his story that he, and not Shaver, raped and killed 3-year-old Chere Jo Horton July 3, 1954.

But Summers stuck to the confession that won a 15-day stay of execution for Shaver only 2 hours and 55 minutes before Shaver was to go to the electric chair Wednesday morning.

Summers, slouching before the grand jury with a cigarette dangling from his mouth, apparently was unmoved by Green's attempts to shake his story.

He repeated that he took the Horton child from a tavern where her parents were drinking, raped her, killed her and covered her body with brush in the ravine where her body was found.

Sheriff Owen Kilday, who like other officers here is highly skeptical of Summers' story, said the convicted robber was only concerned about publicity. "He evidently misses reading about himself," the sheriff said.

Kilday said he had asked Dallas police to check a report that Summers was in a Dallas cafe with a man and woman on the night the Horton child was slain.

Shaver twice has been convicted of the Horton rape-slaying. He and Summers spent 14 months in the same cell here. Sheriff Kilday believes he got details of the Horton case from Shaver during that time.

Shaver says in the death cell at Huntsville, Tex., however, that he barely remembers Summers and said he discussed the case with no prisoners.

New Furniture Styled For Gracious Living

Chicago may not have the romantic charm of Paris, but it is the site just now of a style presentation which is scope of interest rivals, if not exceeds, any "big season" of French Couturiere showings. This is a showing of new furniture styles, from factories in North Carolina, Grand Rapids, Michigan, Jamestown, N.Y., from towns and cities in Indiana, Wisconsin, Texas, California and a dozen more states. It represents the creative thinking of designers long in the furniture field and young, bright newcomers ... it represents the best of technical skills of both large factories and small, and the best and most advanced contributions that chemical science can offer in the way of protective finishes on both wood and metal. In short, this is the kind of fashion show that could make a decorator out of all of us.

Previews of some of the high spots in the new furniture lines assure us of one very satisfactory fact ... new furniture styles are both beautiful and practical. We won't have to worry, either, about being offered new furniture which does not suit our personality or our way of living, as we sometimes worry about whether or not we will be able to wear the new clothes Paris offers us. Neither do we have to worry that we won't be able to afford the new furniture designs, when they are shown in our stores, along about March. Every manufacturer, it seems, has made a special effort this year to offer as much new design as possible, no matter whether the furniture is budget priced, or very high priced. Good design and good taste, seem to be the keynote of the ideas behind these new showings in the Chicago Furniture Market this month.

Knife And Fork Club Elects Directors Thursday Evening

Approximately 50 persons attended the organizational meeting of the Knife and Fork Club Thursday evening at the Village Restuarant.

Coffee and cake was served with the compliments of Knife and Fork International. Mr. Elmer E. Scholtz executive field director, host to the group, discussed the progress of the club's organization in Snyder.

The first Knife and Fork Club was organized in Kansas City in 1898, with the Knife and Fork Club International incorporated in 1921. Purposes of the club are to provide an opportunity in pleasant surroundings for an exchange of ideas between local and national leaders in business, public affairs and the professions. It also promotes social contacs among business and public affairs and the professions. It also promotes social contacts among business and professional leaders of the entire trade territory, regardless of other club, party or religious affiliations.

It provides an opportunity for men and women to keep informed on modern public and private problems of government, business, industry, finance and the professions, through adresses by national leaders, not only at the club dinners but by frequent discussions before other influential local gatherings.

The club is not a classification, civic, sectarian or political organization, but is a social dinner club which meets in the evenings for the purpose of entertaining distinguished guests of outstanding reputation. It provides a common meeting ground for members of all other clubs. There is no compulsory attendance and there are no duties and no community chores. Ordinarily a meeting is held once a month, except during the summer.

Persons interested in joining the club may contact one of the directors elected at last night's meeting. They were: H. H. Allen, Hubert Cargile, Bill Eiland, Herbert Feather, Ralph Geisenhoner, the Rev. Lennol Hester, Dr. Wilton Jones, Paul Keaton, Mrs. Carrie Line, Renal Rosson, Mrs. R. B. Sears, and Cecil Yarbrough.

The group will meet at the Village again on Monday at 12:30 p.m. for election of officers.

Spanish Trick

Americans who think the only way to cook fish is to fry it are cheating themselves of some mighty good eating. The Spanish have a thousand different ways of cooking fish, and one particularly delicious and easy recipe is this: Cut fish fillets fresh or frozen into thin slices then marinate in a mixture of 1 onion, chopped, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 2 cloves of garlic, crushed, and ¼ cup Spanish olive oil. Let the fish stand in this an hour or so, then remove from the marinade and place in a shallow baking dish or casserole and put under broiler with reduced flame. Cook until delicately browned and fish flakes easily with fork. The olive oil marinade seems to point up the delicate fish flavor making it seem "meatier" and more zesty.

Valentine Cup Cakes

Lace Doilies, pink frosting, purple violets, red hearts, silver candies — use one or all on cakes for Valentine's day. Cup cakes baked in individual paper cups hold their shape nicely and save greasing and washing muffin pans. Fill the paper cups only 2-3 full and be sure to preheat the oven to 400 degrees and bake the cakes less time than you allow for layer cakes, 18-20 minutes is usually ample time.

Short Skirts With Vintage Touch, Shown

By NADEANE WALKER

PARIS (AP) — When conservative Pierre Balmain goes in for loose waistlines and short skirts, the sack line has really arrived.

It happened when Balmain unveiled his spring collection of tube dresses and cylinder skirts. Balmain's sack is far from a bag; it fits everywhere except in the middle. His top-of-the-calk skirts were radically shorter for him, but other designers are flirting with the kneecap.

It was altogether the newest-looking Balmain collection in years, but there were still vintage touches. These included sunray pleated backs, sometimes with the slack pulled up and draped over one arm like a Grecian toga; long femme fatale sheaths with feathered or frilled trains, and pannier or basket-skirted formals with fullness at the side.

Balmain suits have short, blouse-backed jackets, loosely tied in front, and he makes many long-waisted, semifitted shortwaist dresses with gathered-on skirts.

He always has fun with fur, and this time it's a broadtail cocktail sack, and an ermine-lined blue satin "trench coat," worn over a sinuously draped sequin tube.

Show-stopper was an endless feather boa, flourished by new Irish mannequin Moira Boynan. One fascinated American fashion writer grabbed it and measured it with four generous arm spans while the towering auburn-haired model from Dublin waited, smiling good-naturedly. The unbelieving comment "Four yards long!" went round the salon.

Clean Sweep

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — When her car wouldn't start after she returned from shopping, Mrs. Norma E. Roberts learned a few essentials were missing. Police said a thief stripped her car of its ignition system — distributor cap and plate, six spark plugs, points, wires, condenser and distributor seal.

Travelers Are Wearing Jersey

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

SUN-SEEKING TRAVELERS are wearing jersey this year.

Travel and vacation wardrobes for both men and women are strong on this packable, wrinkle-shedding fabric which appears nowadays in washable drip-dry versions and with water-repellent finishes.

New weaves also add interest to an old favorite. Many of the new jerseys look like tweeds and other woven fabrics. A herringbone pattern is notable in this group.

There are also imported bulky jerseys that look like hand-knits, and others that appear to be hand crocheted.

Travel suits may be had in pinstripes or other patterns which look like worsted, but have all the light-weight comfort and practical virtues of jersey.

The male contingent also has discovered jersey this season. In addition to the familiar sports shirts, wool jersey appears nowadays in sports coats, blazers, waisteoats, walking shorts and even slacks.

The new jerseys come in many yarns, newest of which is a blend of orlon and wool which can be washed and allowed to drip dry. It holds its shape, dries quickly and can be worn without ironing.

Cotton knits also are being used in many high-style versions, featuring tones of melon, aqua and blue with white.

OUR VIEW

Too Much, Or Too Little

To our knowledge nobody has brought up the subject recently, but a couple of years ago there were those who suggested that trends of the times indicated that the overall climate of the world was growing milder.

Winters were becoming less severe, while summers were producing more heat waves, they reminded.

Well, they would have a difficult time selling people of Florida on that theory today.

Three fantastic freezes, plus an unusual amount of rain and generally unpleasant weather in that sunny vacation land not only have destroyed winter fruit and vegetables crops, but have driven out tourists by the thousands, according to recent reports.

That has dealt Florida's economy a body blow.

Operators of plush hostelries have even resorted to bargain rates for accommodations in their efforts to lure needed coin of the realm into their coffers. This is supposed to be "the season" in Florida—the time when price is no object and the inn keepers are busy hunting space to take care of demands instead of beckoning business.

As we recall, Florida felt few effects of the long drought just past. But its predicament today reminds that too much may be of as much consequence as too little.

Perhaps Floridians can find solace in recent experiences of Texans. Pretty weather almost ruined this part of the country, or so we thought at the time.

Hopeful Signs For Business Show Up

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower may have set a style for a new type of moon-watching teams—spotting the first signs of an upturn in business.

He thinks they'll begin showing up before summer. But already some watchers think they've spotted a sign here and there, all but lost among the more numerous statistics pointing to a deepening recession. Some of the hopeful signs:

Retail sales in January set records in a number of cities, just as Christmas sales managed to in a last-minute spurt.

Enough companies are reporting record earnings and sales to leaven the soggy mass of profit statements by many other caught in the squeeze on profit margins.

A slight pickup in new orders in the last two or three weeks is reported by the heads of the two largest steel companies.

Like many other producers of primary materials they hope that the day of living off inventories is near or at its end. Metals companies stress that for some time the end use of their products has been running well ahead of new orders for industrial commodities—a condition which is self-correcting if continued at the present rate.

Construction in January pleased the Commerce and Labor departments by setting a record for the month, largely due to record spendings for a January by public utilities and office buildings.

Although the utilities find that the industrial slump has cut back power output, they still are going ahead with expansion plans. Their earnings statements show about the same gain as usual over the previous years. Only 9 out of 75 utilities reporting so far have lower net profits after taxes than in 1956. As a whole the 75's net income is 6 per cent higher.

Wall Street thinks it's sighted a different economic moon on the horizon — renewed inflation — and has bid up stocks accordingly. The belief is based on reports that Congress is in a mood to spend even more than the additional amount the President asks.

If Congress also should cut taxes, the result would be a fair-sized Treasury deficit. This would be inflationary because the government would be pumping into the economy more money in spending than it would be taking out in taxes.

And this, Wall Street figures, would give business an inflationary psychology, renewing expansion programs—and, alas, boosting prices.

But while some point to these signs of better days returning, the majority still cautions that there's no sure indication yet that the recession has hit bottom. Some add that it may bump along there for some time before starting up again.

They note that in the 1953-54 slump the economy bumped along on bottom for about six months before the new boom started.

Kind Words For Canines

CHICAGO (AP)—A Florida doctor had a kind word today for the estimated 25 million pet dogs and 35 million pet cats in the country.

"They're good for America's kids," said Dr. Hugh A. Carithers of Jacksonville, even if some of them bite or scratch when teased.

He spent 20 months studying the seriousness or after effects of 137 children who had been bitten by one or more of 10 species of animals.

Writing in the Journal of Diseases of Children, published by the American Medical Assn., he gave his conclusion:

"The joy that millions of children receive from pets, particularly dogs, far outweighs the danger incurred from bites, and diseases that the animals may inflict on them."

He noted no lasting or serious after effects in any of the children.

More Speed Is Predicted

By WILLIAM FERRIS
Associated Press Writer

"You will be able to cross the continent in scarcely more than an hour, span the Atlantic in less than two hours and the Pacific in scarcely four hours."

This is Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, chairman of Eastern Air Lines, talking. He is not talking about the distant future. He is talking about the day after tomorrow.

The airplane and the private automobile are revolutionizing transportation in the United States. This revolution will accelerate in the next decade.

In two years, Rickenbacker says airplanes "will be cruising high above the weather with silent, vibrationless comfort, initially in the speed band of sound, or about 600 miles an hour. Continuing advances in the development of jet power will move these speeds up to 2,500 miles an hour."

On the ground, millions of private automobiles will travel new, high-speed highways.

Within the next 13 years, 9 out of every 10 cities with a population of 50,000 or more will be linked by new superhighways. The federal government will finance construction of 41,000 miles. Estimated cost: more than 37 billion dollars.

Today, toll highways amount to only a little more than 2,000 miles.

If the cities are strangling in traffic jams as drivers hunt for parking spaces, if they are losing passenger train service, if they cannot solve the problems of mass transportation—if all these things are true, and they are, there is one thing they can do. They can build airports. Look around.

In Salt Lake City work will start in July on a 10-million-dollar project to accommodate jet airplanes. Travel at the Salt Lake airport has increased an average of 19 per cent each year for the past 10 years—"probably one of the highest increases in the nation," says Joseph Bergin, airport manager.

New Orleans recently acquired Moisant International Airport at Kenner, La., 15 miles west, and is engaged in a two-million-dollar renovation program. A monorail system to downtown New Orleans is being discussed. Indianapolis is building longer runways (for jets) at its new air terminal, completed in 1956.

New facilities at Boston's Logan Airport will cost 23 million dollars.

Last December Oklahoma City passed a seven-million-dollar bond issue which, with matching funds from the federal government, will modernize the municipal airport to accommodate jets.

A two-million-dollar improvement program is scheduled to start this year at Des Moines Municipal Airport.

Kansas City has constructed a new airport 17 miles north of its downtown area. Toledo has a new airport. St. Louis completed its modernistic Lambert-St. Louis Field only two years ago, finds it is already taxed to handle traffic.

Chicago has put O'Hare Field into operation, helping to relieve congestion at the nation's most heavily used airport — Midway. From 1947 until the end of this year the Port Authority of New York will have put 235 million dollars into Idlewild International Airport.

Major airport construction and improvement projects are under way in Minneapolis-St. Paul; Miami; Portland, Ore.; Columbus, Ohio; and Philadelphia.

All this is aimed to accommodate the enormous growth in airline travel. Passenger miles flown by scheduled and nonscheduled airlines last year totaled 25,800,000,000, compared with only 6,313,312,500 ten years earlier.

In the same period the number of domestic passengers rose from 12,890,000 to 45,000,000.

Yet the airlines are not happy. Stanley Gewirtz, vice president of the Air Transport Assn., says, "While doing twice the business the domestic trunk (airlines) now make half the profit they did in 1952."

The airlines claim their passenger rates have been frozen by the Civil Aeronautics Board, which regulates the lines, since 1939—and, of course, costs have mounted.

The airlines are petitioning the CAB for a rate hike of around 17 to 20 per cent. The CAB has said it will permit a temporary hike of 6.6 per cent, if the airlines ask for it, while studying the requests for the larger increase.

But problems aside, air travel prospects look bright. We can go soaring with Eddie Rickenbacker: "In the span of the next century of aviation, space ships will become commonplace for interplanetary travel. With luxurious accommodations for 1,500 to 2,000 passengers, they will use atomic power to develop speeds up to 5,000 miles an hour or better, and will have a practically unlimited range."

This may solve the problem. You can park on the moon.

Cosmic Ray Activity Up

TOKYO (AP)—Unusual cosmic ray activity in outer space on Feb. 5 was reported today by Japanese scientists monitoring the broadcasts from U.S. satellite Explorer.

The Tokyo Astronomical Observatory said a complete study of the signals would be necessary to know what the changes indicate.

The government radio research laboratory said an analysis of the coded messages from the Explorer indicated cosmic rays increased Wednesday from three to five times those normally recorded here. The laboratory has been listening to signals transmitted by the American satellite on 108.03 megacycles since it was shot up Jan. 31.

Jeff Richards Is Sued For Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The wife of actor Jeff Richards has sued him for divorce for the second time in six months.

The complaint, identifying the 32-year-old actor by his legal name Richard Taylor, was filed in Superior Court yesterday by Mrs. Vicki Taylor, 25. She charged cruelty.

Mrs. Taylor filed suit for divorce last August, but withdrew the action two months later after a reconciliation. They were married in December, 1955.

Tigers Battle Lamesa Tonite

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

LAMESA, Feb. 7 —The Snyder Tigers will be out to protect their undefeated District 3-AAA record tonight when they meet the dangerous Lamesa Golden Tornadoes here.

The Tigers hold a narrow lead over runnerup Sweetwater and must win tonight to maintain sole possession of the lead. A loss would drop the Tigers into a two-way tie for the lead with the Mustangs.

Sweetwater owns a 4-1 district record as compared to the Tigers' 4-0. The Mustangs have an open date tonight.

Lamesa has been eliminated from the title race but the Bengals are expecting a terrific battle with the Tornadoes tonight. The Tornadoes pushed the Tigers to the limit before losing 59-52 in Snyder, Jan. 21.

The Tornadoes have a 1-4 district record but all four losses have been administered on the road. The lone Tor district victory was a 52-50 decision over Lake View here in the season opener.

The Tornadoes have three dangerous scorers in Wayland Holladay, Jackie McKinney and Ronny Hamilton. All three are averaging in double figures with Holladay leading the pack with 62 points in five games for a 12.4 average.

Hamilton has scored 58 points for a 11.6 average and McKinney 57 for a 11.5 clip.

In the first game between the Tigers and Tornadoes, Tornadoes, Holladay captured scoring honors with 22 points.

The Tigers also have three players averaging in twin figures in conference play, Bill Phillips, John Ward and Israel Hinojos.

Phillips leads the Tigers in district scoring with 51 points in four games for a 12.7 average. He is followed by Ward with 49 (12.2) and Hinojos with 45 (11.2).

Rounding out the starting Tiger five and their district scoring marks are Gary Vice with 32 (8-0) and Leon Reed with 21.(5.2).

The other two Lamesa starters are Howard Westmoreland and John Varr who have scored 29 and 24 points respectively in district play.

The Tigers will be seeking their 13th win of the season tonight as compared against 11 losses.

Ed Roebuck Defends Short LA Fence

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Playing baseball in Memorial Coliseum strikes some National League pitchers as something about as pleasant as having their arms sawed off.

The left-field foul line in the Los Angeles Dodgers' home grounds is only 250 feet long.

Now comes a witness for the defense. He is Ed Roebuck, first National League pitcher actually to take a walk around the Coliseum.

"I think it's absolutely terrific," he said. "I've never seen anything like it. It's the grand canyon with seats."

But, the Dodger relief pitcher was asked, how about that short foul line?

"That's just a lot of controversy over nothing," he said. "It will be much better for pitchers than Ebbets Field (in Brooklyn).

"Take it from me, there won't be as many home runs in the Coliseum as there were in Brooklyn.

"In Ebbets Field, the wind blows out to left field and left-center and center. Wind conditions don't exist in the Coliseum. The playing field is far below ground level and those high stands shield it from the wind.

"Without wind, the ball won't carry too far. A batter will have to pull the ball sharply down the left-field foul line for a home run. And with that 40-foot fence up there (behind the left-field wall), he'll have to earn it even then. It drops off fast in left field from there.

"As for center field and right-center," Roebuck said, "the outfielders will be catching drives that would be home runs in most other parks."

Deer Park Coach To Tutor All-Stars

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas High School Coaches Assn. yesterday named Travis Hughes of Deer Park High to coach the South football team in the allstar game at their annual meeting in Houston next summer.

L. W. McConachie, executive vice president, said Hughes will replace Tom Pruett, who recently resigned his Corpus Christi Miller post to become an assistant coach at Baylor.

D&H WINS 1ST GAME

League Leaders Fall In City

The tail-enders knocked off the league leaders last night in City League basketball action at Junior High Gym.

D & H Food Store pulled the biggest surprise by outdueling Boy's Club in the season's top scoring affair, 100-97. In the other game Brooks came from behind in the second half to defeat Canyon Reef Sports Center, 78-60.

Despite the defeats, Canyon Reef and Boys Club remained tied for the league lead, each with 4-2 records.

The top individual performance of the night, and for the season, was turned in by Ned Underwood of the Boys Club who scorched the nets for 61 points.

Underwood, however, fouled out in the fourth quarter with five minutes to play and D & H rallied in the final minutes to pull the game out.

Modrall hit the winning field goal for D & H with five seconds remaining.

Carroll Hatter led D & H to its first victory with 38 points, followed by Durwood Hopper with 23 and Modrall with 22.

Brooks overcame a 35-33 halftime deficit to defeat Canyon Reef. The Oilers moved ahead 58-46 in the third period and led the remaining distance.

Dwayne Prince with 22 and Grady Fafford with 20 led Brooks to victory. Howard Jones led the Sports Center quint with 26 points.

San Antonio Show Opens

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A Western parade opened the San Antonio Livestock Exposition today.

School children had a holiday and lined the streets to watch the 4,200-entry parade led by rodeo stars Gene Autry and Annie (Gail Davis) Oakley.

The first rodeo performance was on this afternoon, with Autry and Miss Davis featured.

About 275 of the world's top cowboys are competing for $40,000 in prize money.

Cattle, sheep, goats and hogs entries totaled 4,467, compared to last year's 4,256.

Wool and mohair entries are double those of 1957 when the event was inaugurated.

Also on display are over one million dollars worth of farm and ranch equipment.

Pimlico race track was the first horse park in Maryland to use the totalisator which records each wager almost instantly. Odds are flashed every 90 seconds.

3 Local Boys Win In Brownwood GG

BROWNWOOD, Feb. 7 — (Special)— Three members of the Snyder Optimist Boys Club boxing team won opening bouts in the annual Regional Golden Gloves tournament here Thursday night.

Three other Snyder boys were defeated. A seventh Snyder entry, Tom Romero, did not appear on the opening night card.

The trio of Snyder lads winning tonight were Leon Deere, Coleman John and James Firtzgerald.

Deere surprised Benny Smith of Coleman in the High School Middleweight division, winning by a decision.

Smith had won the middleweight crown in the Regional Tournament in Abilene last week.

Fitzgerald won a split decision over Keith Fogle of Killeen in a Featherweight scrap.

John won a unanimous decision over Kenneth Lancaster of Gustine in a light weight bout.

Falling by the wayside were Snyder boys Ruden Gonzales, Kenneth Steele and Eddie Watson.

Gonzales lost in the Featherweight division to Terry Busby of Killeen by TKO in the first round; Steele lost a decision to Danny Neal of Brownwood in the Middleweight division; and Watson was desicioned by Taylor Daniel of Sweetwater, also in the Middleweight division.

It was the second meeting between Daniel and Watson. The two met in the Abilene finals last week with Daniel winning by a TKO.

Metropolitan Gives Callas Big Ovation

NEW YORK (AP)—Maria Callas was greeted with an uproar of shouting and applause last night as she sang at the Metropolitan Opera for the first time this season.

Miss Callas took seven solo curtain calls after the final curtain on her performance of Violetta, the tragic courtesan in Verdi's "La Traviata."

She last sang at the Met in January 1957. Since then she has been making headlines all the way from San Francisco to Rome by NOT singing.

Quarterback Dick Winterbauer of Yale played the position for three seasons at Arlington Heights, Ill., High School. He also played basketball there and competed with the shotput and discus on the track team.

Houston May Get Pro Grid Franchise

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The Houston Post today added fuel to reports that the Chicago Cardinals may transfer their professional football fortunes to Houston.

The Post last night quoted Walter Wolfner, Cardinal managing director, as saying that he believes Houston could support pro football.

"They (the reports) are a bit premature, but I think Houston could support pro football," Wolfner was quoted as saying in a telephone conversation.

In another development yesterday, the Harris County commissioners court voted to appoint a seven-member park commission to study the feasibility of Harris County building a 50,000-seat stadium suitable for professional football and baseball.

"The way all this talk (about the Cardinals and Houston) got started is from what I told the league when we discussed expansion," Wolfner said.

"I said then that I thought Houston should be the No. 1 town on the list. I said it would support pro football and would be a bright spot in our league."

The Cardinals, after finishing last in the National League in 1957, picked two Houston area All-America backs as their top 1957 draft selections—King Hill of Rice and John Crow of Texas A&M.

Hill was expected to sign with the Cardinals today.

MICKEY WANTS $75,000

Mantle Among Yank Holdouts

By MIKE RATHET
The Associated Press

With Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox pocketing the highest contract ever paid a baseball player—a reported $135,000 — attention today was drawn to the American League champion Yankees.

What's their problem?

The small ones are biting, but the big ones aren't even nibbling.

Chief among a flock of unsigned Yankee regulars is Mickey Mantle, who is reportedly after a boost of about $15,000 that would give him $75,000, second only to Williams in the American League.

Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals recently signed for an estimated $100,000, tops in the National League.

Williams, who will be 40 in August, batted 388 last year.

He was handsomely rewarded. After an hour chat yesterday with Bosox General Manager Joe Cronin, he agreed to his 18th contract with the Boston club.

Among Yankees still to be signed are Gil McDougald, Bob Turley, Bill Skowron, Whitey Ford, Tony Kubek, Sal Maglie, Bobby Shantz, Elston Howard, Joe Collins, Bob Grim, Tom Byrne, Johnny Kucks and Don Larsen.

The Yankees are having little trouble with the lesser lights, but only a small corps of prominent players are ready to head for St. Petersburg, Fla., in two weeks with contracts signed. This group, headed by Yogi Berra and Hank Bauer, also includes Harry Simpson, Jerry Lumpe, Art Ditmar and Bobbo Richardson.

Frank Robinson, National League Sophomore of the Year, came to terms with Cincinnati.

The Cubs reached agreement with Walt Moryn and pitchers Turk Lown and Dick Littlefield.

Alex Kellner, veteran A's pitcher who had a 6-5 mark, came into the Kansas City fold and Washington came up with pitcher Bud Byerly and infielders Jerry Snyder and Jose Valdivielso.

McClellan Picture Remains Cloudy

STAMFORD, Tex. (AP) — It appeared uncertain today whether football and track star Mike McClellan would run for Oklahoma's Sooners next season, or ever.

McClellan at his home here last night said he was going to stay enrolled at Oklahoma this semester "at least."

"After that, I'll see," he said.

Meanwhile, Coach Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma: vacationing in Las Vegas, Nev., denied emphatically that he had snatched the young star from Baylor University at Waco, Tex.

And Dean Abner McCall, chairman of the Baylor faculty athletic committee, said Oklahoma's skirts appeared not clean in the affair.

McClellan said he would report for spring football training at Oklahoma or compete in track if he could get a "correct release" from Baylor. He said he had received a release from Baylor stating only that "I have no obligation on my scholarship at Baylor."

McCall said he would give McClellan the "correct release" only if McClellan would meet with him and "convince me we are wrong in our thinking." McClellan said he had no such plans.

McCall, Dean of the Baylor Law School, said there is no rule or law that says McClellan has to have a release from his scholarship at Baylor since it constitutes no obligation on his part.

"The three-point release which Oklahoma says it must have to take a transfer athlete is something that school uses to clear their skirts with the public," the dean said, and added:

"We're not helping them clear their skirts in this case when all the information we have points to the contrary." McCall said McClellan "has not been by to see me."

McClellan said it was his idea to enroll at Oklahoma, and that he had not been recruited. Wilkinson agreed emphaticaly.

"Ridiculous!" the Oklahoma coach replied to a question on whether he had recruited the Baylor star. "I've never recruited (from other schools) before, not now, nor do I plan to in the future."

Baylor Coach Sam Boyd has charged that "the people at Oklahoma have known for weeks that McClellan intended to seek to enroll for the second semester." Boyd has said all week that Oklahoma employed questionable tactics to get the 177-pound freshman.

A's To Be More Interesting, Says Manager Harry Craft

Fifth of a series of articles written by major league managers evaluating their pennant prospects for 1958.

Kansas City Athletics

By HARRY CRAFT

KANSAS CITY (AP)—We are looking forward to a far more interesting Kansas City team than we have had in the past three years.

Our greatest weakness last season was in the outfield which was very mediocre in defense. There was no speed and therefore limited coverage. The throwing arms were only par or sub-par.

The picture improved somewhat with the rise of Woody Held, His speed and range, his strong arm and desire to cover the whole outfield improved this department immensely. Now we have Bill Tuttle, Jim Small and Bob Martyn in the outfield. Tuttle and Small were acquired in a winter trade with Detroit and Martyn was obtained in a trade with the New York Yankees last summer.

The acquisition of these three gives our outfield something we lacked last year — speed, range and arms. Our improvement in this facet of the game should be tremendous.

Duke Maas, acquired from Detroit, should fit right in and earn a starting job with us. We have some very fine young holdovers in Ralph Terry, Jack Urban, Ned Garver, Alex Kellern, Virgil Trucks and Wally Burnette and we have several promising newcomers in George Brunet, Walt Craddock, John Tsitouris and several others.

So, our defense should be a great deal better, our pitching should be improved but our need for a good hitter or two is acute. By that I mean men who can get their knocks when the runners are in scoring position.

In all honesty, we cannot be considered as a pennant contender. Our immediate goal is a first division berth. However we do not feel we will be patsies for any of the other clubs.

The team to beat is the New York Yankees. That's no surprise. They've got the most. The Chicago White Sox come next with their fine pitching and defense but they probably will suffer the indignities of weak hitting, too. Detroit appears greatly improved and might make a move that would upset the entire dope.

Polish Plan Is Dangerous

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times said today the State Department has written off as "extremely dangerous" the Polish plan for establishing a central European zone from which nuclear arms would be barred.

A Washington dispatch to the newspaper added that the department has advised U.S. embassies in the leading capitals of Europe of the chief objections the administration has to the proposal.

The proposal was made by Polish Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki.

One of the main factors in U.S. opposition to the proposal is that Soviet forces in central Europe outnumber those of the West.

3 Ex-Sooners Enroll At Northeastern

TAHLEQUAH, Okla. (AP)—Three football players who quit the University of Oklahoma team last season have enrolled at Northeastern State College here.

The three are Lynn and Lyle Burris, twins from Muskogee, and Fred Hood, Denver, Colo.

Carmen Basilio, new middleweight champion, had lost only one of his previous 19 fights when he beat Ray Robinson for the title.

Mountaineers Rap St. John's 87-78

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Get yourself two kids who can set things up and take charge. Pick a center who can rebound, is mobile and can shoot. Add a pair of forwards who drive, shoot and follow shots. Put 'em all together and you have West Virginia, the nation's No. 1 major college basketball team.

Poised, alert and confident. That's how the Mountaineers looked as they build a 16-1 record in the Garden's main bout by shaking off a scrappy St. John's of Brooklyn for an 87-78 decision last night.

Holy Cross scored a 79-74 victory over New York University in the Garden opener. Connecticut used height and a late spurt for a 107-95 victory over Vermont, and Massachusetts took charge in the second half to beat Rhode Island 65-60 in a pair of Yankee Conference games.

Western Michigan slipped past Kent 79-78 in the Mid-American. Little St. Peter's (NJ) rapped Loyola of Chicago 92-63. William & Mary whipped Hampden-Sydney 85-59.

West Virginia, long a one-man show with All America Hot Rod Hundley, got its big scoring from sophomore Jerry West with 21. But it was the Mountaineers' usual balanced attack that did it.

Able Al Seiden, a 5-10 handyman, was top scorer with 30 points and triggered St. John's spirited, almost desperate first-half play that five times hauled the Redmen from behind and put them ahead 40-38 at the intermission.

Holy Cross built and blew a 10-point lead, but Jack Whalen, benched early in the second half with four personals, came back to revive the Crusaders. He and Tom Ryan, who scored on a set shot that put Holy Cross ahead to stay with 1:51 left, each scored 19.

Famous Speakeasy Is Tumbling Down

CHICAGO (AP) — Colosimo's — the notorious era speakeasy where hoodlums, politicos and the hoi-polloi mingled to tipple illegal booze — is coming down.

Where once trod the likes of Al (Scarface) Capone and Big Jim Colosimo are the rippers and wreckers.

The mahogany bar, the stills in the basement and the garish walls that looked down on a generation of flappers and echoed to the black bottom yield now to souvenir hunters.

"They're coming from all over," said the present owner of the vacant building, Ronald M. Thompson. He's tearing it down to build an electrical contracting firm.

"One man came along and offered me $200 for the bar," he said. "Before I could make up my minds parts were gone."

Colosimo's history is as wild as the seamy prohibition era that spawned it.

The old night club under the elevated tracks on Wabash Avenue on the near South Side, was just a restaurant when Big Jim Colosimo bought it in 1914.

Big Jim rose from former street sweeper to precinct captain to vice lord of the city's 1st Ward, amassing a fortune.

The gaudy palace was successful. As Big Jim's wealth increased he hired a Brooklyn gunman, Johnny Torrio, as a bodyguard. In 1919 Torrio brought in one of his Brooklyn hoodlum pals, also to serve as Big Jim's personal bodyguard. He was Al Capone, who became the nation's most notorious gangster and long was identified as Public Enemy No. 1.

After Big Jim was killed on May 11, 1920, as he walked into the gilded portal of his cafe, Torrio took over, with Capone as his chief lieutenant. Colosimo's slaying has never been solved.

But Colosimo's gaudy nightspot went on. Vice lords, hoodlums, stage stars, movie heroes and collegiate flappers packed the place.

As the 20s ended, the club's fortunes declined. It continued as a restaurant until 1945 when its doors finally closed.

In 1953 it was rented as a house of worship by a Negro religious group. Two years later it was vacant again. Now it is falling victim to the wreckers' ax.

Candy Barr Asks Delay

DALLAS (AP)—Attorneys for stripper Candy Barr, charged with possession of marijuana, went to court today asking a postponement of her trial on the basis of what they called "new and startling information."

Judge Joe Brown overruled yesterday a motion which would require prosecutors to name the informant whose tip led to a raid on the blonde exotic dancer's apartment Oct. 27.

Police seized 300 grains of marijuana in the raid. The trial is set for Monday.

Headway On Water Plan Is Reported

By FRANK N. MANITZAS

AUSTIN (AP)—State and federal agencies are making "considerable headway" on a "mock up" statewide water plan, an official said today.

J. T. Ellis Jr., aide to Gov. Price Daniel for water affairs, said he was "very much impressed with the spirit of cooperation" shown yesterday between the State Board of Water Engineers and the Federal Soil Conservation Service.

"The manner in which each freely discussed the desire and steps each will take for cooperating in the statewide plan should prove beneficial to the over-all program," he said.

State Conservationist H. N. Smith of Temple told the board his staff would start informing the state agency on all new projects undertaken. He also agreed to furnish them with any new technical data which may prove useful in preparation of various plans.

The water engineers are at work with the Conservation Service, the Bureau of Reclamation and Army Engineers to prepare a plan of Texas' ultimate water development. The plan was asked for by Sen. Lyndon Johnson by April 30. Water Engineers Chairman Durwood Manford said the project will be complete March 4.

Smith said there are 341,000 "ponds" in Texas which range in size from an average of 1.4 acre feet in the blacklands to an average 11.5 acre feet in the High Plains. The total storage capacity of these ponds is 932,000 acre feet, he said, with each having an average capacity of 2.7 acre feet.

"There should be state leadership," Smith said, pledging his support to the statewide development programs.

Manford said there was. He said he did not feel the board had to sit back "and wait for the Legislature to tell us what to do." We know their intent and are going ahead."

Juvenile Problems Beginning To Multiply In Kansas City

KANSAS CITY (AP) —The fat boy, 15 or 16 years old, stood outside Smith's Viking Book Store.

Inside were five boys and three girls, all 12 to 15, and Miss Elsie Smith and her mother Mrs. Mildred Smith, who manages the store.

It is in the northeast section of Kansas City, a block from Northeast Junior High School and two blocks from Northeast Senior High. It has a juke box and a soft drink counter. The schools were just out.

The fat boy strolled into the store, accompanied by three followers. They lounged near the door. The juke box blared: "You Bug Me, Baby."

"Let's go in the back room," said Elsie Smith. "Let's get away from these kids."

Her left eyelid was puffed and discolored.

She told how a boy hit her.

"You bet I hit back," she said. "I scratched one of them on the face."

The police arrested two boys, a 16-year-old from the senior high and a 13-year-old from junior high.

"I'm going to prosecute," said Mrs. Smith. "somebody has to stop these kids. I told one of them to get out this morning and he said: 'Lady, you're going to need a new door on this place and you might need a new face too.'"

"He's one of the filthy minded kids we have to put up with. They spit on the floor and they spit on each other."

Elsie Smith pointed to her right cheek.

"One of them spit in my face yesterday. Right here.

"After that boy hit me today, one of the girls standing there said: 'You shoulda knocked her teeth down her throat.'"

The Smiths had called the police again in the afternoon.

"They came by, but it was too late," said Elsie Smith. "The minute you call the police, everybody clears out."

The two women returned to the front of the store. Eight boys and three girls clustered about the fat one.

"They're going to stop you kids one of these days," said Mrs. Smith. "They better before it gets like New York."

"You can't do anything to us," one of the boys said. "We're under 16 and you're over 21."

The youngsters laughed.

"You'll find out," said Mrs. Smith. "I'm going to prosecute those two Saturday."

"You ain't gonna prosecute nobody," said the fat one. "We got 2,000 kids who'll say they saw you hit first."

He cursed.

"You can just get out of here," said Mrs. Smith.

"You can go to hell," said the fat one.

Mrs. Smith rushed out from behind a counter. He swore again.

"You get your filthy talk out of here," she said.

"You know what you can do with this place," he said.

Then he told her.

Elsie Smith ran at the boy.

"You can't talk to my mother that way," she said, breaking into tears.

The fat one cocked his fist. He swore at her. Bystanders grabbed both.

"You dirty lousy. . . ."

His followers led him away. Three times he turned to shout obscenities.

"Now you can see what it is like around here," said Mrs. Smith.

"He's tough," said a boy who had remained behind.

"They kicked him out of one school so he went up to Northeast," said one of the girls. "Then they kicked him out of there too. Now he just hangs around here."

It was quiet in the store again. Elsie Smith said: "It's his kind that'd like to think they can drive us out of here. Well, we aren't going to leave. If we left, they'd figure they could drive anybody they wanted to out of this neighborhood."

Kansas City school authorities have taken stern steps in recent weeks against a mounting tide of rowdyism in and around the schools. Automatic suspension has been decreed for any pupil striking a teacher. The campaign also seeks to stamp out the carrying of weapons and the lunch money extortion racket.

Only white pupils attend Northeast High School.

They are in a middle class residential section, peopled by clerks, office workers, railroad and factory hands.

Reporters Harry Jones Jr. and Steve Underwood of the Kansas City Star concluded after an extensive survey that integration in the schools cannot be blamed for the discipline problems. Northeast High being one of the main trouble spots. Kansas City schools in areas where both white and Negroes live were integrated four years ago.

Sarah Has Final Row

NEW YORK (AP)—Actress Sarah Churchill took off by plane last night to visit her father Sir Winston Churchill, but not before creating a scene at Idlewild Airport.

Miss Churchill was to take a 6 p.m. flight to Paris, where she goes on to the Riviera to visit her father. But she arrived at the airport at 5:55 p.m. and the plane was loaded and ready to roll. Overseas passengers ordinarily are requested to check in 45 minutes ahead of flight time.

Miss Churchill was miffed at not being put aboard the flight. She told an airline employe: "Look, get me some service. I've got to get on that plane."

A woman companion, not identified, told her, "Let's not make a scene."

Said Miss Churchill: "Let's make a row. That's what the press wants and they're right here."

A newsman told her she could get another plane out at 7 p.m., and the actress took it.

Miss Churchill was fined $50 in Los Angeles last month for drunkenness.

School Violence Sparks Suspension

NEW YORK (AP) — The City Board of Education has ruled that, effective today, any public school student accused of violence or insubordination shall be suspended from regular school attendance.

The board termed the new order "a departure from previous policy."

The school agency's ruling followed by only a few hours the uring by a special Brooklyn grand jury of "prompt emergency action to clear out of our schools that 1 per cent who prevent the decent 99 per cent from getting the benefit of almost one-half billion dollars of our tax money."

The grand jury has been probing violence, including a recent wave of raping, knifing, assaults and general lawlessness, in the city's 900 public schools housing a million pupils. Both whites and Negroes were involved.

Hundreds of mothers and school officials converged on the state capitol at Albany to seek more state aid for city educational facilities.

The city has announced plans to build six more special schools for maladjusted children. It already has five.

In cases of nonviolent crimes, the spokesman said, the school superintendent may use his discretion in ordering suspension.

In its edict the board made it clear that "under existing conditions no instruction can be provided for such (suspended) pupils."

This poses the problem of what to do with pupils ejected from the schools. Youth House, in the Bronx, is now the only place to which delinquent minors can be remanded for temporary custody pending hearing of their cases. Youth House already is overcrowded.

Racial Issue Played Down In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — New York newspapers have given heavy play to school disorders in New York City, but only rarely mention the races of those involved.

Spokesmen for the newspapers say their policy, in general, is not to use racial identification unless it is a key part of the story—such as a case of racial discrimination or a description of a fugitive.

But if an incident involves a white and a Negro boy, particularly if the dispute appears to have had personal rather than racial motives, there usually is no mention of race.

For instance, on Wednesday a white pupil on monitor duty was stabbed by a Negro pupil he had barred from entering school before the opening bell rang. The same day another white pupil on monitor duty in a school cafeteria was beaten by three Negroes when he told them to pick up some paper they had thrown on the floor.

All New York newspapers reported the incidents, but did not identify the assailants as Negroes.

In editorials, the newspapers called for steps to wipe out hoodlumism.

Conceding that assimilation and integration are part of the problem, they laid the blame largely on slum upbringings, broken homes, inadequate discipline in the schools, and lack of adequate school facilities and recreation areas.

Housewife's Plea Heard

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—A housewife's plea yesterday helped open the way for a fare increase that ended the immediate threat of Portland losing its mass transportation system.

The Rose City Transit Co. had said that if a 5-cent fare increase was not granted, it would pull its buses off the streets here Feb. 28.

Commissioner Ormond Bean, whose lone dissenting vote had blocked the increase in two earlier ballots, changed his mind.

The Council then unanimously passed an emergency ordinance permitting the firm to boost its adult fares 5 cents — to 25 cents a ride.

Bean said the housewife told him that if the company suspended its operations, her husband would lose his job and their five children might go hungry.

The commissioner said that he still basically opposed the increase, but could not bear to have the firm's employes lose their jobs, or retired employes their pensions.

Honey Lover Gets 45 Days In Jail

BEAVER DAM, Ky. (AP)—It's 45 days in jail for Calvin Parks, a man with a liking for honey.

Parks was convicted of petty larceny on a charge of stealing a bee hive, the bees and some honey from farmer Jeff Aldridge.

A search turned up a quart of strained honey and a dishpan full of honeycomb at Parks' home. The bees were outside in the snow—dead.

REA Opposes Interest Hike

DALLAS (AP)—The National Rural Electric Cooperatives Assn. opposed yesterday any move to raise interest they pay on government loans above the present two per cent.

Members also asked that 300 million dollars in federal loan funds be made available to the Rural Electrification Administration, about twice that asked by President Eisenhower.

The President also recommended that the cooperatives turn to the private money market for additional needed funds. Convention speakers said this might raise the borrowing cost to as high as six per cent.

Also included among 41 resolutions were measures requesting 100 million dollars for rural telephone loans and 100 million dollars for farm electrification research facilities.

Crude Cut Is Severe Blow

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — An oil group yesterday forecast a "severe blow to the economy of Texas" if an announced 50-cent a barrel price cut in crude oil is carried out.

The executive committee of the West Central Texas Oil and Gas Assn. said such a cut was a "threat to the general price structure, consequences of which would be a severe blow to the economy of Texas."

Eastern States Petroleum and Chemical Co. Wednesday announced such a cut on sour crude produced in West Texas effective Feb. 10.

Warrant Out For Kingfish

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A bench warrant is out for the arrest of the Kingfish of television's Amos 'N' Andy Show. But it won't be served if he shows up in court next Thursday.

Actor Harry R. Moore, 70, failed to appear yesterday for arraignment on an assault charge. He was in New York. His attorney explained that Moore, whose hearing is faulty, had thought his case was announced for next Thursday.

Superior Judge Maurice G. Sparling issued the warrant and the proviso on its use.

Moore's wife Vivian, 39, filed the complaint against him. She said he fired a shot last Jan. 5 while enraged because her children had eaten a beef roast. She has since indicated she wants to drop the charge.

Hungry World Is Predicted

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—A California Institute of Technology scientist foresees "a very hungry world in 100 years" unless agricultural knowledge in the United States is spread to other countries and other steps are taken.

Dr. James F. Bonner told a regional meeting of the American Geophysical Union that in a century the world's population will be eight or nine billion—3½ times its present size.

"Most of the people of the world are hungry right now," he asserted.

Dr. Bonner suggested further use of the ocean's enormous food stores and attempts to control pests that now consume one-third of all plant food. By these and other measures, he said, 500 times the present world population could be fed.

Construction Of Church Protested

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Construction of a church next door to their $90,000 home would lower property values and "create disturbances" in the neighborhood, a Phoenix couple contends.

Mr. and Mrs. David Keith filed a request for a temporary restraining order in Maricopa County Superior Court to prevent the Mountain View Church of Christ from building a new church next door.

"We just don't want anything that would collect lots of people and noise in the neighborhood," Keith, an investor, said. "We have nothing against the church."

Ministers Hope To Preserve Firm

AUSTIN (AP)—Four Baptist ministers petitioned the State Board of Insurance yesterday to breathe new life into the defunct Physicians Life and Accident Insurance Co.

"The people who owned the company never had control of it," claimed the Rev. E. H. Owen, an original incorporator, former vice president and purchaser of $58,000 in stock.

"Is there no balm in Gilead? Is there no justice for the widow's son?" the wealthy retired minister asked the board.

Owen, along with the Revs. L. M. Huff, E. W. Marshall and John C. Shanks, presented a petition asking that Physicians Life either be reactivated or liquidated. Huff protested about news photographers being present and ducked when pictures were taken.

Owen, who did most of the talking, also contended that "watered stock" caused a switch in control of the firm before it went under. He asked that the "watered stock" be cancelled.

"The seven men running that company had exactly $1,000 interest in it," he said, "while the rest of us had almost a million dollars in stock."

"Why don't you file a suit to intervene and prove you are the majority stockholders?" asked Insurance Board Chairman Penn Jackson. "We don't have the power to change it and the receivership court won't either if you don't file a suit."

In Dallas last year five of the firm's original incorporators were indicted on charges of embezzling $225,000 from Physicians Life stockholders to pay off personal debts. G. B. Hamman was convicted on the charges and given a 10-year sentence. He has appealed.

Owen read a letter today from the Dallas district attorney's office saying that Owen was instrumental in the investigation of the firm and the resulting indictments.

Two Volcanos Are Erupting

MESSINA, Sicily (AP) — Two of Italy's most active volcanos, Stromboli and Etna, are erupting but there was no immediate threat to farms and villages around them.

Stromboli, on a Mediterranean island north of this Sicilian port, went into action yesterday after almost two years of rest. It sent a small stream of lava hissing down one slope toward the sea. There were occasional explosions.

Etna, a 10-700-foot volcano on Sicily north of Messina, has been in a state of intermittent activity for more than four months. Last night was one of its active periods, with four or five explosions every minute hurling rocks and ashes 1,000 feet into the air.

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP)—Edinburg city commissioners have joined McAllen city fathers in approval of increased telephone rates, subject to approval by other cities.

The increases range from 25 cents on four-party residence phones to $2 on business phones. The new rates also must be approved, the telephone company said, by city officials in Mission, Pharr, San Juan, Alamo and Donna before they can be put into effect.

Religious Survey Is Completed Here

A religious census has been completed here and is now being tabulated under direction of the Snyder Ministerial Alliance.

The census was taken by a group of canvassers who, through the Chamber of Commerce, took both a school and religious census of the Snyder school district during January.

The census will soon be compiled and available for Snyder churches. Each church wishing to have the result of the census may make remittance for the cost of the census on the basis of 10 cents per member.

Checks from churches wishing to share in the cost of the census should be mailed to the secretary of the Ministerial Alliance and be made payable to the alliance. Secretary is the Rev. Ralph Odom, pastor of the Union Methodist Chruch, Route 1.

The census information is being organized and compiled at the Chamber of Commerce office. Date of availability of the information for churches will be announced soon.

The Rev. Jack Dean, president of the Ministerial Alliance, said it is believed there was about 80 per cent coverage in the census. Cards completed in the census number 4,082. Each card has a family, and the average number of persons on each card is four, so the census covered about 16,000 persons or more.

New Panel To Organize

AUSTIN (AP)—The new State Law Enforcement Commission meets here Feb. 15 to organize and Gov. Price Daniel said its first objective will be to crack down on juvenile crime.

"Our most serious problems concerning law enforcement at the present time is the rapid increase in juvenile crime," Daniel said yesterday.

Daniel said he would recommend the Texas Youth Council, which governs the state correctional institutions, and the enforcement council to give top priority to the study of juvenile crime and delinquency. He invited the Youth Council to discuss means of coordinating a statewide study with the law enforcement group.

The Public Spirited Firms and Individuals On This Page Bring You This Weekly Message In The Hope That It Will Point To A Better Way Of Life And Be An Inspiration To Everyone.

Here are little minds hearing words, receiving impressions, being taught. A passing teacher fixed it that way. "Little pitchers have big ears." That is why wise sayings often fall from tiny lips... they are repeating you. What words are you passing on to your child or your neighbors' children... what are you teaching them? They all have talent but it must first be awakened by someone if it is to grow and be productive. We can give them good tastes in food, recreation, reading and religion. Actually, we carry the next generation on our shoulders. I wonder where we are taking them. Are we giving them good environment? Do we take them to church? Their future depends upon The Lessons We Teach.

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.
