State-Wide Meeting Farm Holiday Ass'n to Be Held Here Saturday

On Saturday, Feb. 25, delegates from the Farm Holiday association of the various counties in New Mexico which have been organized, will meet in Portales at the court house at 11 a. m. Delegates from Dona Ana, Chaves, Quay, Curry and Roosevelt counties will be present, and from other counties which have perfected organizations.

At this time it is expected to perfect the state organization and elect permanent officers.

At the meeting last Saturday J. C. Page resigned as temporary secretary and Mrs. O. P. Bartlett was appointed to the position.

Resolutions were presented by the legislative committee and adopted. Sunday morning the legislative committee, composed of J. Whitfield Taylor, J. W. Lovorn and O. P. Bartlett, accompanied by L. J. Kirby, left for Santa Fe to present the resolutions to the legislature.

O. P. Bartlett last Saturday went to San Jon, Quay county, to assist in organizing the farmers in that county.

Friday night of this week a meeting will be held at Richland, starting at 7:30 o'clock, for the purpose of organizing in that section of the county.

Prominent Speakers to Be Here Saturday

Two prominent speakers will be in Portales Saturday, Feb. 25. The Hon. George LaFollette of Albuquerque and Charles McKee, an Indian, will address an audience at the court house in behalf of the Farmers Holiday association. Everybody should hear these men.

Business Men Will Meet at C. of C.

All business men of Portales are invited to meet at the Chamber of Commerce building tonight (Thursday) for the purpose of discussing trade conditions and to make plans for better freight rates and better roads into Portales from the rural communities, and to consider such other business as may come before the meeting.

Every business man in Portales is urged to be present at 7:30 p. m.

New Tax Law Aids Collections

"The new tax law that went into effect recently is assisting the people in paying their taxes and also is stimulating tax collections," said Homer Barnett, county treasurer and tax collector.

The new law cancels the penalty on the past due taxes of 1932. Mr. Barnett explained how the penalty cancellation helps.

Say that you owed $100 for taxes. Your penalty for 1932 would be $33.50, and $21.50 would be the penalty for the 1931 taxes, while $1 is the penalty for delinquent 1932 taxes. This is a saving in penalties of $56 for $100 of taxes delinquent three years.

Mr. Barnett estimated that 30 per cent of the 1932 taxes were paid. The estimated total of the amount of 1932 taxes paid into the county treasury was $97,000.

The state returned to the county $4,481.16 of the car license money, $1,583.04 of this amount going into the county road fund and the remainder into the general distribution fund.

Siren Whistles Are Unlawful on Cars

Last Thursday night while the business men were in session a motorist caused quite a little excitement by driving through the Portales streets sounding a siren.

The central telephone office was kept busy answering questions as to the location of the fire, and the entire police force was engaged in chasing down the motorist.

The guilty party was captured and when arraigned before the police magistrate was fined and released on $100 bond.

This stunt caused inconvenience and excitement all over town, and those who persist in such capers will find that the hand of the law is far-reaching.

EVANGELIST ADDRESSES HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Rev. J. L. Brimberry, who is in Portales conducting a series of revival meetings at the Christian church, addressed the students of the Portales high school last Friday afternoon at the assembly hour.

The evangelist had for a subject, "Growth," and gave to the young people some splendid thoughts concerning their growth, not only physical, but also their mental and spiritual development.

M. L. Stout and Chester Hobbs were in Friona Monday on business.

Sen. A. A. Jones' Widow Dies in East

Mrs. Natalia Stoner Jones, the widow of the late Senator Andrius A. Jones of New Mexico, died early Tuesday at Garfield hospital in Washington, D. C., following injuries from a broken hip received in a fall last week, says an Associated Press dispatch. Pneumonia, which set in after the break, was the immediate cause of death.

Mrs. Jones, who made her home here, was Democratic national committeewoman from New Mexico until recently, when she was forced to resign because of ill health. She also was a past president of the Woman's National Democratic club of Washington.

Senator and Mrs. Jones first went to Washington from Las Vegas in 1913, when he was appointed assistant secretary of the interior in the Wilson administration. Three years later he was elected senator from New Mexico and returned to Washington in that capacity in March, 1917. The senator died on Christmas day in 1927.

Funeral services for Mrs. Jones were held Wednesday at the Church of the Epiphany. The body was cremated and the ashes taken to New Mexico.

Mrs. Jones is survived by the son, Andrius A. Jr., a law student at Harvard. A sister, Mrs. Frank R. Lord of Schenectady, N. Y., was with her at her death.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Thomas and Mrs. Sam Mersefelder motored to Lubbock, Tex., Wednesday, where Mr. Thomas attended to some business matters and the ladies spent the time sight seeing.

Rams Meet Elida to Complete Schedule for Basket Ball Season

Warnica & Bell Find Market Slow

Warnica & Bell are shipping some cattle to Kansas City. These men are doing their part to bring some cash into this part of the country.

Mr. Warnica says that the market is slow, but some of the stockmen can sell for cash some of the surplus cattle which are not needed at the present time.

Some of the Iowa stockmen with whom he talked, believed the people in this part of the country were in a lot better shape than the Iowa farmers, who are losing their farms and everything else.

Orchards Injured by Cold Weather

The sub-zero weather which eastern New Mexico experienced two weeks ago has proven extremely injurious to the fruit crops, according to reports from orchardists.

Immediately following the cold spell the fruit growers felt very little loss would be suffered, but time has developed serious damage.

Reports from the Roosevelt district are that the trees have been damaged to such an extent that the fruit crops will be affected for two or three years.

Westerman Buys Car Load of Tires

Leonard W. Westerman has just received a whole car load of tires and tubes for his service station in Portales. This order of tires is probably the largest single order ever received by a Portales firm.

Westerman is quite optimistic about the future and said that new tire prices were lower than he had ever seen them before. He is erecting two large signs, size 8x24 feet, on the Clovis and Elida highways inviting the tourists to stop at his station.

The Orange service station was completely filled with new tires unloaded on Tuesday and Wednesday. Employees were busy assorting the sizes and checking the order that the tires might be placed on the shelves out of the way.

Sheriff J. H. Bone and his deputy, J. R. Finkbeiner, returned from Santa Fe Tuesday night, where they had been attending a meeting of the New Mexico Sheriffs' association. They reported that Floyd Kennedy and A. E. Hunt were stopping at the OK Wagon Yard.

Mrs. Willie Brubears is in Lubbock, Tex., this week visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Nelson.

Miss Zada Maxwell and Miss Muriel Galloway, two of the teachers in the Clovis schools, motored to Portales Sunday afternoon and visited Miss Galloway's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Galloway.

Home Ec District Conference Meets Here on Saturday

The Home Economics District conference will meet at the Portales high school on Saturday, Feb. 25, with Katie Lee Foster presiding.

An extremely interesting and instructive program has been arranged, as follows:

Roll call, 9 o'clock, Lucy Stinnett, secretary.

"What Information About Home Economics Courses Should We Get to Our Patrons?" Verda Oakley, home demonstration agent.

"Are Home Economics Teachers Meeting Community Needs?" Supt. Charles Rose, Fort Sumner.

"In What Special Ways Has My Department Contributed to the Community?" round table discussion, with Emma Bynum and Inez Kolson as leaders.

"Organizing and Conducting Adult Classes," a demonstration by Lucy Stinnett, Fort Sumner.

"Information One Should Have to Teach Family Relationships," by Leona Brown.

"Interesting and Useful Material for Child Development," Ottilie Schopp, county health nurse.

"Ways to Get Reliable Statement About Home Economics," Opal B. Burt.

"What Mothers Would Like for the Homemaking Course to Do for Their Girls," Mrs. Edith Martin.

"Instructing for Happy Modern Marriage," Zelpha Bates, state supervisor of home economics.

Business.

Mrs. Elizabeth Stinnett, sponsoring student clubs, has arranged a program by members of these clubs which will be given beginning at 10:45 a. m.

Following this program the conference will adjourn for luncheon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Rex Forrest were in Portales Saturday afternoon.

Tigers Have Won Over Rams Already

The Portales Rams will complete the schedule on the home court Friday night when they meet the Elida Tigers for the second time this season.

The Portales five went to Elida early in February and were downed by the Elida Tigers by a three-point margin. Friday's contest will give the Rams a chance to prove their ability on their own court.

The Rams have not had a very successful season this year, having lost 6 games and won 4.

This will be the last game in the local gymnasium this season. The Rams later will enter the district basketball tournament to be held in the Clovis high school gymnasium.

Miss Mary Alice Walton, one of the teachers in the Port Sumner school, came to Portales yesterday and was present last evening at the marriage of Miss Helen Compston and Byron Perry.

United States Congress Passes Bill Repealing Eighteenth Amendment

FRESHMAN GIRLS WIN DECLAMATION CONTEST

Mildred Hollis of the freshman class in high school was awarded first place in the declamation contest at the Portales high school last Tuesday afternoon, when representatives of the various classes competed for the honor.

Mildred is a freshman and a representative of Miss Jamie Greenwald's home room.

The second honors went to Johnnie Lee Compton from Mrs. C. F. Brown's sophomore home room.

Vera Gross of the freshman class and Frank Craddock from R. A. Young's sophomore class tied for third place.

Other students in the contest were Lora Whitton, Lillian Richardson, Marvin Smith, Travis Smith, Derry Wise, Junior Means, Mamie Lee Starkey and Mamie Lois Naylor.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Sparks were visitors in Clovis Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Johnston of Alamogordo joined the Portales group at Ruidoso for the Sunday outing and enjoyed the very happy day. They arrived at Ruidoso in time for breakfast with their friends.

Clarence Barnett entertained his playmate, Billy Judevine, at dinner last Friday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Barnett. These two lads have been very close friends and the dinner was a parting compliment to Billy, who left Monday for Montana.

Ratification by 36 State Conventions Now Is Necessary

Monday the congress of United States passed the bill repealing the Eighteenth amendment to the Constitution. In this resolution there was no provision eliminating the open saloon.

Before the act becomes effective it must be ratified by thirty-six state conventions, and the time limit for ratification is fixed at seven years.

Many states have already called for special elections for conventions to act on this measure.

The people of the various states will have an opportunity to express their sentiments before this repeal measure can become a law and the saloons allowed to return.

A number of states are considering legislation which will prevent the return of the open saloon in their jurisdiction.

New Mexico will have an opportunity to vote on this measure the coming fall.

SPANISH WAR VETS MEET NEXT SUNDAY IN ARTESIA

A meeting of the Spanish War Veterans and the Auxiliary will meet Sunday in Artesia. Several of the members of that organization are planning to attend the meeting. A banquet is being served at the American Legion hall for the attending members.

Silver Dollar Week

In this issue of the News will be found many attractive bargains offered by the Portales merchants during Silver Dollar week.

During this week, your silver dollars will have a greater buying power than for many years.

Every reader of the News should take advantage of this event and dig up the old tin can, unwrap the silver dollars, and put them into circulation, and at the same time buy what you need while you can make such a great saving.

A silver dollar buried does no one any good, it only corrodes and helps put the nation on the rocks. A silver dollar turned into the channels of trade or deposited in the bank has the buying power of many dollars, and will help bring back prosperity. Dig up your silver dollars and keep them rolling during this week.

Farmers Approve of Free Saturday Auction—Many Sales Reported

"Iron Man" Kerns Entertains Throng

Last Saturday afternoon Jack Kerns, the "Iron Man," entertained about 3,500 people with a free exhibition on the public square. The only announcement of this entertainment was through the advertisement in the Portales Valley News, and demonstrated that the News is thoroughly read by the people of Roosevelt county.

This show was made possible by the co-operation of the merchants of Portales, whose advertisements appeared in the announcement.

Mr. Kerns performed a number of feats of strength and skill and, owing to the large crowd, all could not see the exhibition, and he deviated from his rule and performed the feats over again so that all might see.

This free show brought many people to town that day and, as a result, the merchants of Portales report a good business.

1,580 Licenses Issued for 1933

Returns Amount to $13,767.62

M. A. Gallegos of the state comptroller's office was in Portales last Thursday night checking over the report of the license plates purchased in Roosevelt county. Mrs. Mary Morgan is the collector for this county.

Mr. Gallegos stated that "the report from Portales was the best report made."

The money received from passenger cars in Roosevelt county was $8,336.28. While that for trucks amounted to $5,913.78. Other collections, such as for trailer licenses, certificates of title, etc., totaled $417.58. A grand total of $13,767.62 from Roosevelt county has been sent into the state comptroller's office for 1933 licenses from Roosevelt county. The report covers the period from Nov. 1 to Feb. 13.

There have been 317 truck plates and 1,373 passenger car plates issued so far in this county.

J. B. Turner Is Real Optimist

J. B. Turner, one of Roosevelt county's successful stockmen, says that he has a large amount of grain and stock on his hands. He does not seem to be worried about the fact that he is not able to sell some of his products for cash.

Mr. Turner says that he has turned some of his mules for cash. He finds that the demand for good mules and mares is good. He says there have been several mule buyers in the country here of late.

"I favor horse and mule power as much as possible for farm work," he says. One advantage of this is that it furnishes a market for some of the grain products of the farms.

Stool's Dept. Store Is Quitting Business

In this issue is a double page spread announcing that the Stool department store is quitting business in Portales.

Three years ago Mr. Stool bought the Priddy-Pooshee dry goods business, one of the pioneer stores in Portales.

In this sale merchandise is offered at prices never before heard of in this section, and this sale will result in many coming for a hundred miles or more to lay in their supplies of dry goods and clothing.

R. L. YOACHUM ATTENDS RED & WHITE CONCLAVE

R. L. Yoachum was in Amarillo Monday attending a meeting of the Red & White store managers. Mr. Yoachum is a director in the district unit of Red & White stores in eastern New Mexico.

Miss Norene Yoachum and Mrs. Muriel Wallace accompanied Mr. Yoachum to Amarillo and visited friends.

CLOVIS GLEE CLUB TO SING AT HIGH SCHOOL FRIDAY

The Glee club of the Clovis high school will put on a special program in the assembly Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Harry Barton, professor in the Clovis high school, will be in charge of the program.

TRUMAN GREEN PRAISED FOR BALL PLAYING

A recent issue of the Albuquerque Tribune complimented Truman Green for his splendid basketball playing when the Texas Tech team made a tour of New Mexico and defeated the university team in a scheduled game.

Truman plays guard on the first string Tech team and, because of some very quick plays made at opportune moments in the Albuquerque game, he was nicknamed "Bright Green."

Truman is completing his sophomore year at college this spring.

Taxpayers Ask Legislature to Economize in Tax Measures

Irish Potato Growers to Meet Here Friday

The Irish potato growers of the Portales valley will meet at the Chamber of Commerce building on Friday night of this week to discuss marketing conditions and pure seed.

An organization along the lines of the sweet potato growers will probably be formed by the Irish potato growers.

Portales Loses Roswell Games

The Rams lost both games at Roswell last week end. The first game Friday night with the Roswell high school ended 27 to 18. The second game Saturday night was won by the New Mexico Military Institute Colts by a score of 31 to 25.

The Portales quintet was unable to make a showing against the Roswell high school Friday, but were leading in the Saturday night contest until the last three minutes of the game, when the Colts rushed into the lead, leaving the Rams 6 points behind at the finish.

Large Crowds Attend Revival

Good crowds are attending the Christian revival and Evangelist Brimberry is delivering splendid gospel sermons.

Those who have attended speak highly of the evangelist and urge others to attend.

The meeting will continue throughout the week.

Business Men Co-operate to Make Portales Better Marketing Center

Last Friday night sixty of the business men of Portales met at the offices of the Carr Lumber company to discuss means of making Portales a better marketing and buying center.

Representatives of the cream buyers were present and these gentlemen voluntarily raised the price of cream.

A. D. Ribble called the attention of those present to the large amount of cotton lost to this section by being hauled to Texas for ginning, and stressed better farm roads into Portales.

The freight rate on broom corn and other commodities was discussed, and another meeting was called for tonight (Thursday) to see if some plan could not be worked out to obtain better freight rates out of this section for farm products.

The business men of Portales realize that the prosperity of the city depends upon the prosperity of the farmers, and all pledged themselves to work to this end.

Farmers Planning Bartering Station

The Farm Holiday association is planning to secure a building to be used as a barter headquarters, where farmers of the organization may bring what they have to exchange so they may trade with buyers from other parts of the county.

MAYBELLE MCCARTY PLACED IN CAST

Miss Maybelle McCarty was put into a cast last Friday and will probably be so incased for the next seven or eight weeks.

Miss Maybelle slipped and fell upon the floor in the McCarty home, breaking her hip bone.

JUDEVINE FAMILY TO SEEK LOCATION FARTHER WEST

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Judevine and their son Billie left Portales the first of the week for a new location which they will select within the next few weeks.

The Judevine family came to this city about six years ago from Montana and established the Judevine creamery. Later this was sold to the Midwest Dairies of El Paso, with Mr. Judevine remaining as local manager and Mrs. Judevine as cashier.

Mr. and Mrs. Judevine resigned Feb. 1 and now will seek a location in some other state.

After doing some sight seeing in Los Angeles and San Francisco, Cal., and Portland, Ore., the family will visit Mrs. Judevine's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Fransham, in Roseman, Mont.

Mr. and Mrs. Judevine have been actively interested in the growth and advancement of Roosevelt county during their residence here. Mrs. Judevine was a helpful club worker and one of the talented musicians of the city.

George Green of the Texas highway department, with headquarters at Post, Tex., was a week end guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Green.

LEA AND EDDY COUNTIES PLACE $2,000,000 ON TAX LIST

Property valued at close to two million dollars was placed on the tax rolls of Lea and Eddy counties by a decision of Judge M. A. Otero in District court at Santa Fe.

The decision made permanent a temporary writ of mandamus secured by George L. Reese Jr., district attorney of the Fifth Judicial district (Lea, Eddy and Chaves counties) against the state tax commission.

Reese in his petition alleged the commission was not complying with a law passed in 1925 requiring the commission to certify to county assessors the value of these properties for tax purposes. Judge Otero two weeks ago granted a temporary writ, returnable this week. Arguments were heard Monday.

Property placed on the rolls includes supplies, material, personal property and other taxable property.

ALL INTERESTS MUST BE PROTECTED

A debt moratorium is being advocated over the nation. Such a move has merits, yet it is full of danger.

A proposition of such a nature must be so arranged as to give equal protection to the creditor as well as the debtor. Very few of us could have operated without credit, yet when the time to pay comes, it is found that the means of meeting these obligations has been removed owing to economic conditions. Any legislation which protects the debtor on a fair basis would be welcomed by the majority of the public. On the other hand, serious injury to the creditor could result without proper safeguards for his protection.

The News does not believe that the public as a whole would be so unreasonable as to ask for debt cancellation. The average American desires to meet his obligations, and he should do all in his power to meet them. But under present conditions, and the low prices of commodities, he oftentimes finds it impossible to do so.

A moratorium for a reasonable length of time, that would give equal protection to the creditor and the debtor, would be wise. A one-sided legislation would wreck many who have advanced money on mortgages.

The News trusts that a fair measure may be arrived at that will protect both interests.

FARM MARKETS

On the fourth of March President-elect Roosevelt will go into office as the President of the United States. Mr. Roosevelt has spent months studying the conditions of the entire nation, and, to the minds of the thinking public, there is no doubt that under his leadership, constructive legislation for the protection of the farmer and the laborer will be passed. The employment of labor is the most sensible method of giving the farmer relief. Under the reconstruction plan of Mr. Roosevelt many of the idle will be put to work on constructive work, which will give them a buying power that will enable them to become consumers. The farmers will then immediately see an upward trend in the prices of farm commodities.

Every loyal American, regardless of political faith, should give the President whole-hearted co-operation, that the nation may be pulled out of the disastrous conditions which have prevailed for the last three years.

SHALL THE SCHOOLS BEAR THE BRUNT?

Economy in the expenditures of public money is being demanded by the taxpayers over the entire nation. The schools seem to be bearing the brunt of this economy campaign, and it now looks as if many of the schools will either have to be closed or operated on a four or five month term.

The greatest investment in America today is the children. Shall they be deprived of education that will fit them to compete in life, or will the public meet the emergency and demand cuts that will not cripple the school system of the nation?

Millions and millions of dollars of the taxpayers' money can be saved and yet not affect the school system. State and national legislation should be enacted cutting expenses and high salaries, starting at the top and going down the line.

In the New Mexico legislature there is a bill up for passage making drastic cuts of county officials. Why not start these cuts at the state house and make them apply to every office holder in the state, both elective and appointive. That would be fair and would meet with the hearty approval of the public.

PORTALES ON THE AIR

The News was informed last week by a reliable citizen that, while recently listening to a radio program from the San Antonio station, the name Portales caught his attention. The story of the barter lot in Portales, where hundreds of the county farmers exchange products of the farm, was being broadcast. This was good advertising for Portales and for Roosevelt county.

Then again, last Saturday, a farmer told the News that he first learned of the News swap proposition on subscriptions from a story carried in the Chicago Tribune.

Portales is on the air and also in the metropolitan press, and possibly something good may come from these stories. At any rate, they let the rest of the world know that Portales is on the map.

GO TO CHURCH

During prosperity many persons forget the Creator and pay little attention to the command to observe the seventh day. But when adversity comes, the people call upon their Maker for relief.

No better method for bringing back prosperity can be practiced than attending church regularly. There is something inspiring and soothing about the church which relieves the soul of its worries. Attending church regularly will create a better feeling among mankind, and will promote the observance of the Golden Rule.

No nation has prospered after the church has been forgotten. No nation or individual will prosper without the proper reverence for the Creator. No individual can live unto himself and prosper.

The church is the nation's greatest community center, and it is there that the masses relieve their hearts of the burdens of life, and it is there that they find new ideals and, departing for their homes, are imbued with renewed courage to meet the problems of life.

Were the nation to become a 100 per cent church attending people, prosperity would return overnight, and there would be little use for the courts. Racketeers and gangsters would no longer terrorize the nation. Law and order would prevail throughout the land and America would shine as a beacon light for the entire world.

Try it—go to church Sunday.

ATTEMPT TO ASSASSINATE ROOSEVELT IS A DASTARDLY CRIME

The attempt to assassinate President-elect Roosevelt at Miami, Fla., last Wednesday night was a dastardly crime. Mr. Roosevelt has shown that he is a friend of the common people and is doing all in his power to hasten prosperity for the nation. Had the attempt on his life been successful, the country would have suffered untold hardships.

Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley fell victims to assassins, and Teddy Roosevelt's life was attempted, causing serious injuries. Franklin Roosevelt is indeed fortunate to escape unhurt, but Mayor Cermak of Chicago has our sympathy in being the victim of circumstances.

This crime may result in a better sentiment for law enforcement, and we hope will result in ridding the nation of gang rule.

A CLEAN-UP PROGRAM WOULD AID EMPLOYMENT

Spring will soon be here and now is the time to clean up your premises and be ready for its arrival. Vacant lots, dirty alleys and lawns create a bad impression on the visitors to our city.

A clean-up campaign at this time would provide the means of employment for many deserving men, and help to relieve the unemployment situation.

The News again will sponsor a Yard and Garden contest this year, and now is the time to begin preparations for this event. Nurserymen and florists will assist in landscaping your premises. Now is the time to begin.

PORTALES VALLEY NEWS GIVES THE NEWS

The Portales Valley News was the first paper on the news stands in Portales giving an account of the attempt on the life of President-elect Roosevelt. In the same issue it carried the telegram from the state tax commission announcing relief on delinquent taxes.

A weekly paper is handicapped in giving the news before the daily papers arrive in Portales, but when news breaks at the last minute the News gives it to its readers in advance of other papers.

The mailing list was in the post office before the train arrived Thursday morning, and many received this news first through the Portales Valley News.

The News not only serves Portales, but the entire county of Roosevelt, and is doing all in its power to secure better prices for farm products and to serve the farmers in the county in every way possible.

As an advertising medium, it covers the entire trade territory, and when the merchants have a message for the shoppers the most economical plan is to tell them through the advertising columns of the News.

The News has served Roosevelt county for over thirty years, and the present management for the last twelve years. Service is our motto.

NEWS "SWAP" PROPOSITION RECEIVES WIDE PUBLICITY

The story of the Portales valley News campaign of "swapping" subscriptions for farm products has gained a momentum that is nationwide. The story of this campaign was recently carried in a Chicago trade paper, and this week the News received an inquiry from a paper in the state of Washington for details of the plan.

The Muleshoe (Tex.) Journal has adopted the News plan and its campaign is now well under way. So far only two farmers in Roosevelt county have turned the proposition down.

This campaign will soon result in the entire subscription list of the News being paid one year in advance, which is a great record for a time like this.

Thirty-five new subscribers have been added to the list since the first of December, and more are coming in each week.

The News has one of the best subscription lists in the west, and it claims as its readers the best class of farmers in the entire nation.

* MOST POPULAR BACHELOR CONTEST *

Beginning this week in this department will be conducted a "Most Popular Bachelor Contest" during the next six weeks.

The fair sex of Roosevelt county will now be able to select the most popular bachelor. All they will have to do is to clip the coupon appearing in the News of this issue, fill in the name of their candidate and sign same as sponsor, and this coupon will be good for 10,000 votes. Each week the names of the candidates, with their sponsors, will be published, and the number of votes each candidate receives.

Each week a coupon good for the number of votes specified in same will be run in the News. Clip these voting coupons and mail or deliver to the News office Saturday afternoon of each week, so that the vote may be published.

The goddess of love, the Venus de Milo and the fair Cleopatra, great rivals of the fair sex in the art of loving—all of these will shudder if they perchance look upon Portales from the great celestial heights during the next six weeks, for the greatest mile-high city in all the land is going to pay its respects to bachelorhood.

So intent are the sponsors of the movement that they are going to select the most popular single he-man of this great cow county, crown him with an appropriate title and send him off into the realm of single blessedness for keeps. The title is justly fitting, because no popular bachelor should ever marry, say these folk. For that reason the MOST POPULAR BACHELOR is going to be selected by popular vote during the six weeks of heated balloting and the winner will be justly crowned. In order to send him on the road of single blessedness rejoicing, the News has consented to provide him with the necessary equipment for living, namely, a tin coffee pot and a frying pan. This equipment will go on display in the show window of the News office today.

Along with this equipment will be exhibited the total vote of the leading contestants from week to week.

"Of course the fair sex can't be left out of the contest," say those in charge. "Women always like to do something, so we are going to give several prominent ones the

The value of these ballots will vary from time to time. Sometimes they will be worth 1,000 votes, sometimes 500 votes, sometimes 250 votes and sometimes 2,000, 5,000 and 10,000 votes.

Ballots will appear in the News each week, with their value stated thereon. Sponsors are urged to have their friends clip these ballots, sign their name thereon and turn them into the News office each Saturday afternoon. Ballots will be tabulated and the results printed in each issue of the News until the contest closes and the prizes are awarded.

F. L. Jones, who lives in the Floyd community, was in Portales Saturday. Mrs. Jones is an old-timer of Roosevelt county and is a successful stock farmer. He plans to start his plow in time to get his land ready for the 1933 crop.

H. Y. Freeman says that he has more feed and stock than he has had since he has lived in New Mexico, and that is for no short period of time. He complains that he cannot turn his farm products for ready cash due to the poor markets of the present time of depression.

Ed Ross is planning to set some trees on his rent property. Mr. Ross is doing his part to make Portales a more beautiful place in which to live.

Overcome Pains this better way

WOMEN who get into a weak, run-down condition can hardly expect to be free from troublesome "small symptoms."

Where the trouble is due to weakness, Cardui helps women to get stronger and thus makes it easier for nature to take its orderly course. Painful, nagging symptoms disappear as nourishment of the body is improved.

Instead of depending on temporary pain pills during the time of suffering, take Cardui to build up your resistance to womanly ailments.

J. H. Short of the Richland community plans to start his plow to going next week.

T. R. Chambers, one of the Portales truck farmers, is getting his farm in shape for the 1933 crop. He has not decided yet just how he will handle this year's crop.

J. W. Helmer of the Richland community is getting ready for his 1933 crop.

Foreclosures Halted Without Resorting to Mob Violence

(Advertisement)

Winemucca, Nev., Feb. 21 (Special)—That if state legislatures hesitate or fail to pass laws to provide relief from farm mortgage foreclosures, such relief may be obtained by the citizens of any community, county or state without the necessity of passing any new laws, is indicated by the report of an extensive investigation of the agricultural credit councils now operating throughout Iowa which has just been completed for the Humboldt County (Nev.) Farm Bureau by Paul L. Maloney of this city, county agricultural agent for the district.

Maloney's report is now being considered by the Humboldt County Farm Bureau to determine the advisability of establishing an agricultural credit council in this county and it is expected that other counties in Nevada will seek relief from the farm mortgage foreclosure problem through adoption of the Iowa plan.

The information gathered by the Nevada county agent with the assistance, through correspondence, of the county agricultural agents of more than half of the 100 counties in Iowa, and of Charles E. Hearst, chairman of the Iowa state agricultural credit council, reveals overwhelming evidence that the Iowa plan is effective in halting foreclosures.

In Iowa, the report shows, the number of farm mortgage foreclosures in many counties has been reduced from several hundred per month to from six to ten per week, and in numerous other counties not one farm mortgage foreclosure had been recorded since the organization of agricultural credit councils in those counties.

"Most of the farm foreclosures since the organization of the councils," Iowa county agents advised Maloney, "have been cases where the borrower has deliberately chosen to 'abandon the ship'."

"The agricultural credit councils in Iowa initiated by the Iowa Farm Bureau federation," Maloney's report states, "consist of a state council composed of representatives of the principal lending agencies operating in the state, state officials and representatives of the farm bureau and the Agricultural Extension service; and similar councils organized in practically every county in the state whose membership, appointed by the local county farm bureau, is composed of five or six prominent farmers and business men of the locality."

"When any farmer who is threatened with, or fears, foreclosure of a mortgage on his property wishes to bring his case before the council," explains the report, "he secures from the county agricultural agent or from any member of the credit council a blank known as a 'mortgagor's statement.'"

"On this blank the debtor must record a complete statement of his financial condition, showing all debts owed. To each creditor to whom the debtor owes any sum, is sent a 'creditor's blank' showing the sum owed that creditor by the person filing the statement. The creditor is asked to verify or correct the statement of account and return same at once to the council."

"After complete and verified information concerning the liabilities and resources of the debtor has been secured, the council asks the debtor and the mortgage holder to appear before that body to work out, with the assistance and advice of the council, a plan of settlement that will be satisfactory and fair to both parties."

"Where possible," Maloney was informed, "the credit councils attempt to secure agreement to a plan that will protect the investment of creditor and which will allow him to collect at least a part of the sum due him and that will, at the same time, permit the farmer to continue to operate and to retain possession of his farm."

What was reported to Maloney by a number of Iowa agents to be the most equitable and successful plan, as well as one of the most popular, for adjusting farm mortgage foreclosure problems yet developed by the agricultural credit councils is one which, in effect, constitutes a three year moratorium. It operates, the report shows, as follows:

"The debtor pays up all back taxes and interest and then deeds the farm to the creditor;

"The creditor, in turn, enters into a contract by which he agrees to lease the farm to the debtor for three years;

"The proceeds from the lease is used by the creditor to pay the taxes and the balance may be used in lieu of interest;

"At the close of the three year period, the debtor may exercise the option of restoring himself to his original position by again taking up the mortgage and keeping up the taxes and interest payments;

"If the debtor decides, at the end of the three year period, that it is useless for him to make any further attempts at ownership there is nothing more to be done but to move off the farm, as the deed is already executed and the contract is void."

Under the existing laws in Iowa, neither the state or county agricultural credit councils have any legal powers. They must reach satisfactory and fair adjustments of mortgage problems by mutual agreements between the debtor and creditor. "Public opinion against unfair treatment of debtors has been a powerful force in bringing about satisfactory settlements," the Iowa county agents advise Maloney.

KENNA NEWS

The young folks and some of the older ones enjoyed song practice at the home of Louis and Lella Cooper Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Sims gave a party for their son Howard one night last week. There was a large crowd present and everyone enjoyed the evening immensely. Dancing and cards were the means of entertainment. Mrs. Sims served delicious cakes and hot chocolate for refreshments.

A crowd of young folks visited June Nicholas at the Sims ranch Friday night.

R. L. Hollis of Portales was in Kenna this week.

Floyd School Notes

Boos Finley is able to be in school again after an illness of a few weeks.

The people of the Bethel community plan a surprise at the church Sunday night. No one has learned anything about this "surprise," so everybody is invited to attend and receive their share.

After a prolonged absence and much persuasion Chalmers Wilson has decided to attend school again. The eighth grade class is planning a party to be held before the play Friday night.

Miss Lucy Wright has recovered from an illness of several days' duration.

The Broncos went to Center Friday night, Feb. 17, to play the Center basketball team. They showed up very good, played with good team work and sportsmanship, and, if they play that kind of ball in the district tournament, they may be state champions. The Floyd junior high boys lost their game by a score of 29 to 12, and the first team boys won, 31 to 19.

The following night, which was Saturday, Feb. 18, the Melrose fives came to Floyd. The junior high won, 26 to 18, and the first team boys took their game, 37 to 17. The Floyd girls beat the outside girls, 12 to 8.

The Broncos are working hard each day, with the object of winning the district tournament to be held at Clovis.

Everyone is invited to attend the free program to be given at the Floyd high school on Friday night, Feb. 24, at 7:30 o'clock.

and was on his way." Thus Jaime Miguel Higuera—the liar! However, he comforted himself with the thought that it was only a white lie and was to be preferred to violating his word of honor to Crooked Bill not to reveal to his niece the news that only two days previous he had been in Los Angeles, plotting against their peace and happiness.

"You're such a dear, Jimmy." So thoughtful. Dear Uncle Bill, I know he's missed me. Does he know I'm hurt?"

"Yes, the papers carried the story. I've wired him on the train to save his tears until our wedding day."

"Are we engaged, Jimmy?"

"I'll get my guitar and sing you a little Spanish love song my grandmother taught me," he suggested.

"It's very old. It came into Peru with Pizarro and worked north. Oh, by the way, I forgot something! Let's get this on record officially. Miss Antrim, will you do me the great honor to marry me?"

"You outrageous Celt," she laughed. "You're the last of the troubadours. Of course I will."

[THE END.]

"Are We Engaged, Jimmy?"

can't remember that you've ever asked me to marry you."

"Oh, didn't I, sweetheart?"

"Never."

He rubbed his tanned chin and his lazy eyes roved over her whimsically. "I suppose I was afraid I might speak out of my turn, but of course when you came stampeding into that corral yesterday and broke the glad news to me, I couldn't, as a man of honor, pretend I didn't understand you. So I rather took it for granted."

He bent low over her and swept her cheeks with his eager lips.

"Still interested in those bumper lambing, bull-weevil and irrigation, brown babies and cholo men and women, heat, dust and purple lights on the buttes at dawn and sunset, darling?"

She nodded. "I can be a good partner, Jimmy. I never had any responsibilities—and now I want so badly to share yours—always. How are your wounded men?"

"Taking an interest in life. I sent them over a quart of thirty-year-old Bourbon whiskey—a friend gave me recently. Mrs. Gahny is still weeping with joy over our engagement, and Robbie is jealous as a colt. He has an idea that when we're married he'll have to leave the ranch."

"I wouldn't even have a ground squirrel leave that ranch, Jimmy."

"Then we'll keep Robbie and his ma as the payroll."

"Does Uncle Bill know of our engagement?"

Don Jaime produced a telegram and read:

"I never figured on you taking over my principal responsibility but now that you insist on being reckless take a tip from one who knows gon. Do not spoil her stop."

silence that follows a congressional oration.

"Sheepishly yours

"UNCLE BILL."

"Why does he sign himself 'sheepishly yours,' Jimmy, dear?"

"Some far-fetched allusion to the sheep that brought you here, Bobby. Just some of his gringo humor, I imagine."

"I see." She was silent, turning his brown, strong, useful hands, counting the calluses on them.

Hands that had known toil and would always know it, the hands that build empires, hands that, when folded at last in the peace that would mean their parting, would be kissed by lowly people and sprinkled with their tears.

"It will be forever and ever, Jimmy," she whispered, "and I'm so happy—and grateful."

"The Higuera men keep their women," he assured her gravely.

"Poor dear," she murmured absently.

"He never had a chance," Don Jaime assured her, with a flash of that precience, that clairvoyance, that would always make him, for Roberts, a new, puzzling, yet wholly understandable human being and a joy forever. Yes, he would be the same always, yet always new, always challenging her interest, always holding it. Of him (the girl thought) it might be said that age could not wither nor custom stale his infinite variety.

"I'll get my guitar and sing you a little Spanish love song my grandmother taught me," he suggested.

"It's very old. It came into Peru with Pizarro and worked north. Oh, by the way, I forgot something! Let's get this on record officially. Miss Antrim, will you do me the great honor to marry me?"

PORTALA THEATRE Celebrates First Anniversary Feb. 28

I, as manager of the Portala Theatre, desire to take this means of expressing my genuine appreciation of the patronage of you people of Roosevelt County, that we have enjoyed the past year. Continuing our ceaseless effort to provide you with the PICK OF THE PICTURES AND STARS AT LOW PRICES. In celebrating our first anniversary we have gathered together an unusual week of super stage and screen attractions as listed on this page. We especially desire to thank our honorable mayor, J. N. McCall, the city officials and the business men of Portales, for their thoughtful co-operation.

—TEMPLE DeVILBISS.

We Are Proud to Offer to Our Many Patrons and Friends Such a Picture As

as the crowning feature attraction at the close of our first year's service to you. "SILVER DOLLAR" starts Saturday night at a midnite show and will continue through Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

The producers of talking pictures realize that today calls for extraordinary attractions, and we take pleasure in listing below some that will be shown at our theatre in the near future.

"BACK STREET"

Featuring Irene Dunne and John Boles

Based on a Story Written by Fannie Hurst
It first appeared in Cosmopolitan Magazine as a serial and was followed in 1931 by a most successful novel. Now it has been made into a successful screen production. This picture has two great stars, who make the characters real and a pleasing story, so we believe that you will be entertained when you see it at our theatre SUNDAY AND MONDAY, March 5 and 6.

"SMOKE LIGHTNING"

Taken from ZANE GREY'S "Canyon Walls"

We who live in the West especially enjoy seeing a good picture about our country during the time of the early settlers. We know that you like ZANE GREY'S stories and enjoy seeing pictures based upon them. Modern improvements may have changed the appearance of the old West, but the spirit of adventure and romance keeps alive. George O'Brien is doing his best to maintain these traditions, and plays in most of our Zane Grey pictures. You will remember him in "Rober's Roost," "The Rainbow Trail," "Riders of the Purple Sage" and "The Golden West."

"FRANKENSTEIN"

The Man Who Made a Monster

I have had many requests for this picture, but due to the many engagements it has had I have not been able to buy it until now.—Temple DeVilbiss.

"PRIVATE JONES"

LEE TRACY, star of "Blessed Event," brings you another interesting characterization as the stubbornest, funniest, laziest, most reckless and most lovable soldiers on the Western Front.

"KING KONG"

There is something about the average person that makes him enjoy seeing the unreal, the impossible. And don't think that he will be disappointed when he sees "KING KONG." Imagine an ape 50 feet high, with a face 7 feet across, nose 2 feet, lips 6 feet, eyes 10 inches around, ears 1 foot, eye teeth 10 inches long and 7 inches at the base; chest 60 feet around, legs 25 feet long, arms 23 feet long, reach 75 feet.

"20,000 YEARS IN SING SING"

Spencer Tracy and Betty Davis

I am pleased to place my personal indorsement on this picture and will gladly refund anyone the price of their admission if they are dissatisfied.—Temple DeVilbiss, Mgr.

"TARZAN AND HIS MATE"

(Sequel to "Tarzan, the Ape Man")

"STATE FAIR"

Sure, you're interested already in a story about a celebration that is an event of the Middle West. It's a thrill to have a blue ribbon hog, or to win a prize on your products. Well, WILL ROGERS plays the part of a lucky farmer. Other stars appearing in this picture are: JANET GAYNOR, LEW AYERS, NORMAN FOSTER, Sally Eilers, Louise Dressler and Frank Craven.

"TUG BOAT ANNIE"

with those two grand old favorites
Wallace Beery and Marie Dressler

It is named "Tug Boat Annie" because it is a story of the waterfront.

"HELL BELOW"

"Hell Below" is a picture about the submarines, a portion of the navy that you have never seen pictured on the screen before. It features ROBERT MONTGOMERY, with Walter Huston, Jimmie Durante, Madge Evans and Robert Young.

ON OUR STAGE

IN PERSON

Mysterious Dr. YEN

THURSDAY NITE, FEB. 23rd

The mysterious Dr. Yen, one of the foremost mentalists and hypnotists of the present day, will be here in person to answer the questions that are placed in the sealed box now at your service in our lobby. These questions will be answered from the stage at no extra cost to our patrons. One question to each patron, and it must be signed with an initial so that you may recognize the answer to your question. In no case will any name of a patron be divulged. Only your initial will be called. These questions may pertain to marriage, changes in business, love affairs, health and general advice.

Friday Night at 8:30

Dr. Yen will attempt to cause the audience to see "The Mummy" (now on display in front of the theatre) arise in its casket on the stage. In case this should prove too great a shock to any of you, the management has arranged for a doctor to be in attendance to care for you.

If you have a weak heart or your nerves are run down, we ask that you please do not attend this unusual performance.

BETHEL

We had a splendid attendance at Sunday school in the morning and in the afternoon. Bro. Loris preached one of his fine sermons to a large crowd. We were favored with a quartet by Mr. and Mrs. Ham and Mr. and Mrs. Collier, and a solo by Miss Thelma Breshers. We were glad to have Miss Agnes Foreman with us, too, and hope these folks will come again.

Roy Dutton spent Thursday night with Mr. and Mrs. Horace Reeves and family at Artesia.

Misses Florence Elkins and Effie Totten and Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Perkins and son Clifton were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Boteler and family Sunday.

Mrs. Chester Wormington was able to go to Portales Wednesday for treatment. We hope she will be well soon.

Walter Brunson spent Wednesday night with Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Early at Goodland, Tex.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Pribble returned from an extended visit at Merket Smith and Colorado, Tex. The following guests were entertained at dinner Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Pribble and family: Claude A. Loris, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Elder, Miss Thelma Breshers and Agnes Foreman, Mr. Elkins, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Adams.

Isaac Little and John Adams spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Jones and family.

Jo Ann, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Jones, was severely burned by hot grease last Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Woodburn and family were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dutton Sunday.

Recent callers in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Selin were Rube Anderson and Barto Onstott.

Last Sunday the following friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Pribble for dinner: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brunson and children, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. White, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow White, Anna and Carl Miller, Bud Carsrud, Alice Maness, Dorothy Wormington and Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Pribble and children of Portales. The occasion was Mr. Pribble's fifty-fifth birthday anniversary and the cake was beautifully decorated with pink candles. Delicious turkey with the usual trimmings was served and greatly enjoyed by these guests. They all wish Mr. Pribble many more happy birthdays.

J. B. Preston of Los Angeles, Cal., spent Monday with his brother-in-law, Bud Carsrud.

The following guests were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Coley Sunday: Louis Collier, Monroe Boteler, Kell Theiford, Cole Foster, Anne Lee Talley, Louise Smitham and M. Netie Maness.

Mr. and Mrs. Sim Coley entertained the following guests at dinner Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Guy C. Tiller and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ham, Mrs. Lee Little and son.

Mr. and Mrs. Barto Onstott are the proud parents of an 8 1/2 lb. boy born Saturday, Mrs. Onstott was Miss Juanita Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lamb are rejoicing over a new arrival in their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Turnbough have welcomed a 6 1/2 lb. girl in their home.

Mrs. A. C. Woodburn has charge of the group of young folks who gave a splendid program Sunday night.

My Breshers was a guest of J. Vance Miller Sunday.

FARM PROCESS CREAM CHEESE

Use three gallons of clabbered milk as in cottage cheese making. Heat in double boiler arrangement to 145 degrees Fahrenheit, hold for thirty minutes. Pour into a cheese cloth and drain out the whey until a rather dry curd is obtained. The curd should be worked into small particles by the use of a fork. Take a quart of the pulverized curd, one level teaspoon of soda, one pound of butter and mix thoroughly, place in a double boiler and melt slowly over hot water, heat slowly until a smooth consistency is obtained, stirring constantly. Remove from fire and add one pint thick sour cream and two teaspoons of salt and one of cheese coloring. Mix well and pour into a bowl. Cool and it will be ready for use.

It may be stirred occasionally while cooling to avoid separation. After cooling the cheese may be warmed to improve the texture. When cooling it, beating will increase the smoothness.

During the cooking process the cheese may becomeropy. If so, simply remove from the hot water and beat it. After a few minutes return to the hot water and cook again, stirring constantly, and soon the ropiness will disappear. Re-heating seems not to harm, but rather to improve it.

ROEBUCK

Today (Monday) is a beautiful day. It makes us think spring may be near, although we may change our minds soon, as we are having so much cold weather these days.

Our Homemakers club met with Mrs. Crockett Stone last Friday. All present seemed to enjoy the entire afternoon. The club will meet with Mrs. J. W. Stone Mar. 3 for an all day meeting. Miss Oakley is to be present and demonstrate different kinds of bread making. We hope to have all our club members present that day.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Scott are the proud parents of a baby girl, Emily Florence, which arrived Feb. 13 to brighten their home. Mrs. Scott will be remembered as Miss Opal Gates. So Mr. Gates and family are rejoicing over their first grandchild and niece.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Swope, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Nance were visitors in the B. J. Gates home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Harding made a business trip to Portales last Saturday.

Pete Croft is drilling a well for C. L. Wortham on his place near Midway school house.

PIGGLY-WIGGLY

YOUR POWER SUPPLY

AS MUCH electricity as you can use—or as little as you may require; at the place where you want it, at the time when you want it—reliable and continuous, always ready, instantly delivered.

These standards of electric service have resulted from years of building.

Large, efficient power plants—and widespread networks of transmission lines to serve groups of towns—have resulted in the ample inexpensive power supply available everywhere today.

The New Mexico Utilities Company, with large central generation stations and auxiliary plants and hundreds of miles of transmission lines, is providing this modern power supply to many prosperous and progressive cities and towns.

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule—and adds only a small amount to your total bills?

NOTICE OF SUIT PENDING

The State of New Mexico to the defendant, L. A. Johnson et al., impleaded with the following named defendants against whom substituted service is hereby sought to be obtained, to-wit: J. W. Rains, and rised, and Simson H. James, a married couple.

Said defendants are notified that a suit has been commenced against them in the District Court of Roosevelt County, N. M., by the Federal Land Bank of Wichita, Wichita, Kansas, a corporation, as plaintiff and being No. 2920 on the civil docket of said court; the nature and objects of said suit being to collect the amounts due on a note executed to plaintiff, by defendant, Simson H. James, Sept. 1, 1922, with interest, and taxes paid by plaintiff, as follows: $619.88 with 8 per cent interest from Sept. 1, 1931, until paid; $22.75 with 8 per cent interest from Mar. 1, 1931, until paid; $22.75 with 8 per cent interest from Sept. 1, 1931; $30.79 with 8 per cent interest from Oct. 20, 1930; $24.72 with 8 per cent interest from Sept. 22, 1931, and $54.42 with interest at 8 per cent from Jan. 19, 1933, respectively, until paid, and the sum of $65.00 attorneys' fee, and the costs of said action; and foreclose the mortgage executed of even date with said note to plaintiff by said defendant, Simson H. James, to secure the due payment of all said indebtedness, said mortgage covering the following described lands situated in Roosevelt County, N. M., to-wit:

Lots 1 and 2 and 3 1/2 of NE 1/4, and the SE 1/4 of Sec. 6 in Township 2 South of Range 29 East of the New Mexico Meridian, New Mexico.

as against each of all of said defendants and to have said lands sold for the purpose of paying said indebtedness and costs, and for a deficiency judgment, and for general relief. Said defendants are notified that unless they enter their appearance in said cause on or by Mar. 27, 1933, judgment will be rendered against them by default and plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in its complaint.

C. C. Davidson and W. E. Pepperell, Wichita, Kansas, and T. E. Mears, Portales, N. M., are attorneys for plaintiff.

Given under my hand and seal of said court this Jan. 30, 1933.

VALENTINE PARTY
The members of the East Valley View Sunday school gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Nelson Tuesday evening to enjoy a Valentine party.

A number of games were played. Miss Anna Mae Aaron and Mary Warren formed the entertainment committee assisting Mrs. Nelson in making the evening pleasant for all.

Refreshments were served to about eighty people.

DINNER PARTY
J. I. Brimberry, evangelist, was the guest of honor last Sunday when Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Camp entertained with a dinner.

The friends were invited to gather at the Camp home soon after the close of the morning church service. The after dinner hours were spent visiting very informally.

The guests enjoying the occasion were Rev. Brimberry, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Catt, Mrs. Mary Moody, M. T. Moody Jr., Durwood Wright, Mrs. J. W. McMinn and Miss Beola McMinn.

SUNDAY PARTY
Miss Lola Taylor invited five of her close friends to the country home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Taylor last Sunday for dinner and an afternoon of various pleasures.

The young ladies formed a line at the Portales for a portion of the afternoon and later they enjoyed a motor trip to Clovis.

The five guests included Misses Loe and Louise Trout, Ruby and Lucille Ison and Pauline Baker.

FACULTY MEETING
All the members of the high school faculty with the exception of Mrs. Marion Stinnett were present at the meeting held on Tuesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Brown.

R. A. Young was chairman of the program of "Supervised Study." Miss Bernice Van Kirk, Mrs. W. R. Daniel and Marion Stinnett assisted Mr. Young.

After the four members had given their well prepared papers the subject was opened to a general discussion.

BIRTHDAY PARTY
Last Saturday Kathleen Ison celebrated her birthday with a party at the home of her father, Charley Ison.

Games and toys had been provided for the children through the entire afternoon hours.

Refreshments were served as the closing feature of the party and the birthday cake with the candles was one of the greatest attractions for the children.

The guests included Margaret Lynn Kornegay, Geneva Kirby, Betty Jim Hatch, Thelma Keller, Bobbie Joe Smith, Marjorie Ann Taylor, Maxine Kanyon, Olive Thomas and Evelyn Walker.

Y. W. A. MEETING
Thirteen members and the sponsor, Mrs. Lucille Cumble, were present at the regular meeting of the Y. W. A. held last Tuesday evening in the annex to the Baptist church.

This was the regular program meeting, with Miss Louise Trout as leader. She had chosen the "History of the Y. W. A." as the subject for the program and invited Misses Loe Trout, Hazel Galloway, Ora Denny and Emma Lee O'Neal to assist with numbers.

SURPRISE SUPPER
The members of the class of the Methodist Sunday school taught by Mrs. H. E. Taylor planned a surprise for Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Youngblood last Friday evening.

Each of the ladies took a covered dish of food and gathered at the Youngblood home just about 6:30 o'clock in time for the evening dinner. There were fourteen the local organization of the Y. W. C. T. U. presided at the meeting of the organization last Friday at a meeting in her home.

The program was a Frances E. Willard memorial and was an account of her work in prohibition. In a recent poll of outstanding women of the nation, Miss Willard stood fourth in a selection of twelve. She is the only woman honored with having a bust of her placed in the Hall of Fame at Washington, D. C.

Mrs. L. L. Brown was program leader and was assisted by Mrs. John W. Clem, Mrs. W. H. Catt, Mrs. J. W. King and Mrs. J. D. Autry.

The union is planning a medal contest to be held in the near future.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Clem on Friday, Mar. 17.

COMPTON-PERRY
The marriage of Miss Helen Compton and Byron Perry, which was solemnized last evening at the home of the bride's parents, was of unusual interest to Portales and Roosevelt county.

The bride is the only daughter of pastor Attorney and Mrs. J. C. Compton and has been born and reared in Portales. She graduated from the local high school with the class of 1928 and did three years of her college work in Texas, then returned to her home state for her senior year at the University of New Mexico and graduated with the class of 1932. She is a member of the Alpha Chi Omega sorority and has been one of the leaders of the social and club activities of the young set. She is president of the Junior Woman's club, past worthy advisor of the Rainbow for Girls and is now an officer in the Eastern Star.

Mr. Perry is the only son of Mrs. Sam B. Fletcher and has grown to young manhood in Portales, where his friends are numbered by his acquaintances. Probably no young man has lived in Portales who is more universally loved and respected than Byron. He is considerate and thoughtful of everyone at all times.

Byron graduated from the Portales high school with the same class as did his bride and it was during those high school days of seven years ago that the romance began. He furthered his education at the Texas college in Canyon and graduated from that institution in June of 1932. At Canyon he was a member of the "Redmen," which is one of the exclusive and honor societies of the institution.

The simple ring ceremony was read last evening at 6 o'clock by Rev. C. A. Lorts in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends.

Immediately after the wedding the young couple left for a short motor trip. They will pass through Portales the last of the week on their way to Perryton, Tex., where they will be for the next few weeks. James Compton, a brother of the bride, came from Canyon yesterday to be present at the marriage of his sister.

Friends invited to witness the marriage ceremony were Miss Mildred R. Rowley, Miss Mary Alice and MacKewen Walton, Mrs. Paul E. Morrison, Wayne Stratton, LeRoy Cranford and Jack Walker.

ASSEMBLY OF GOD CHURCH
East Nevada Street.
D. Z. Little, Pastor.
Sunday school, 10 a. m.
Preaching services, 11 a. m.
Preschool services, 7 p. m.
Last Sunday we had with us Bro. H. C. Brown, from Wheeler, Tex., who, under the anointing of the Holy Spirit, brought us the message both morning and evening. Bro. Brown is a splendid musician and singer.

Next Sunday evening, beginning promptly at 7 o'clock, John P. Taylor, president of the Plateau Singing convention, with a chorus of singers from Clovis, will give us a program of songs. Everyone is invited most cordially to join with us in this song feast.

Preaching will follow the song service.

NEW HOPE RESIDENTS
New Hope residents gathered at the church last Wednesday evening and organized a literary society and kangaroo court. This organization plans to meet every Friday evening. Officers were elected as follows: President, Mr. Bartlett; vice president, Tom Lovorn; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Bartlett; editor of "New Hope Gossip," Othal Barry.

Flora Lovorn, Mrs. S. G. Little and Mrs. Greenhaw are to have charge of the program for this week.

Officers of the kangaroo court were selected. "Shorty" Greenhaw is district judge; Wayne Breshers, district attorney; Donald Brooks, county judge; Jesse Greenin, court reporter; and John Lovorn, sheriff. The grand jury is made up of Joe Harris, Mr. Stokes, Mrs. Grant, Mrs. Greenhaw, Lloyd Jeter, Mr. Roberts, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Lovorn, Foster, Bartlett, Bill Jackson and Delmer Lovorn.

One arrest was made before the meeting adjourned Wednesday, and the young folks of the community are afraid to miss Sunday school or B. Y. P. U. or to smoke in the house, as they will have to appear before the grand jury.

The following lawyers and law firms have announced their intention of practicing before the court: Harris & Grope, Bartlett & Jeter, Chambers & Grope, Henry, Greenin, and Chester Greenhaw.

An interesting program, consisting of music, readings, debates and short plays is expected each week.

BULLET HOLE THROUGH DOOR
On opening the M. system, store last Friday morning, the employees found a small hole through the right door, apparently a bullet hole. The store had been swept the night before and the glass was lying on the floor that morning.

Whether it was a bullet or not could not be determined because they could not find the bullet and no one knew anything of the incident.

MARRIAGE LICENSES
Miss Leona Owens and Mack M. Hayes, Elida.
Miss Lida Adams and Herbert Boggs, Rogers.
Miss Oleta Leonard and Weir Clem, Post, Tex.
Miss Nancy Irene Carter and J. D. Hutchinson, Rogers.
Miss Virginia Goat and William Snell, Clovis.

Josh Harrington's little son was quite sick the first of the week.

Maurice Gragg of Tucuman has been in Portales for the last few days visiting in the home of his brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Morton Gragg.

Mrs. H. A. McCall was taken to the Clovis hospital last Friday, where she underwent a minor operation. She is returning to her home here in Portales this week.

J. H. Bond and Bob Poundexter left Sunday for Santa Fe to attend a meeting of sheriffs of New Mexico. They were expected to return Tuesday night.

Mrs. C. B. Wilson and two children returned to their home in Portales after a month's stay with her mother in Clovis, while she was recovering from an operation for appendicitis. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will be at their home in the Do-honey apartments.

KANGAROO COURT
B. M. Schumpert was in Amarillo Monday on business.

Miss Emma Lee O'Neal was assisting in the United Dry Goods store Monday during Miss Knight's absence.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Rawlins, MacKewen Walton and Jack Howard were in Lubbock Sunday visiting friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hinerman were business visitors in Lubbock last Friday. Mr. Hinerman was looking after the cream business there of the Midwest Dairies.

Mrs. S. A. Jackson left Tuesday for Santa Fe for a short visit with her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Jackson.

Dick Morrison went to Muleshoe Sunday, where he will remain for a while.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Medlock were in Portales Tuesday on business. Mr. Medlock is a farmer in the Floyd community. He said that real estate was changing hands fast there during the recent windstorms.

H. M. Reddy was a business visitor in Portales Saturday, and also Tuesday.

Ether Cleveger went to Tlan, N. M., Monday of this week in the interest of the local laboring people who are planning to get work on the highway construction work being done there.

Charles Goodlee left Tuesday for Yuma, Ariz., for an extended visit with an uncle living there.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Nelson returned last week from a visit in Fort Worth and Dallas, Tex. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson live in the Red-lake community.

Wesley Little, who has been absent from his duties in the Yon-chum grocery, due to sickness, is somewhat improved and was able to go to Ft. Sumner Tuesday.

John Stokes is making a crop this year with his father, whose farm is seven miles southeast of Portales. John is a former basketball star for the Portales high school.

John Kidd was in Portales attending the meeting of the tax payers Saturday. His ranch is in the Midway community. He says that his cattle came through the blizzard in fair shape and he lost but one cow.

A. C. Ross was in Portales Monday on business. Mr. Ross is an irrigation farmer living near Rocky Corner.

John White and two sons, Woodrow and Ralph, were in Portales Monday. Mr. White is a truck farmer in the Bethel community.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Williams were in the Grady community Sunday afternoon. Mr. Williams reports lots of damaged wheat and part of this damaged grain already has been plowed under.

B. C. Stricklin left Saturday night for Littlefield, Tex., to spend Sunday with his wife and small daughter, returning to Portales Sunday night. Mr. Stricklin is manager of the Stone's store here.

Markable.

BOYS SHOW INTEREST IN MARBLE CONTEST
The boys of the junior high school are showing great interest in the marble contest which is directed by Jay Thompson, one of the teachers of that department.

The boys play marbles as soon as and through the contests, representatives were chosen from the eight home rooms. The eight boys were given passes to the Portales by Manager DeVillbia as a reward for their skill. These eight boys now will compete for the grand prize, which is an agate offered by Mr. Thompson.

This agate is indeed a coveted award for it is one of the marbles Mr. Thompson used at Atlantic City, N. J., when he represented California in the National Marble tournament several years ago.

Lovers of the 68 class, Stanley Simms, 68; Paul Tyson, 7A; John Thomas McGee, 7B; Guy Barker, 7C; Frank McDonald, 8A; Mrs. Woodcock, 8B; Russell Edwards, 8C.

The finals will consist of a round robin of fourteen games, and the winner will be the holder of the greatest number of victories.

At present Guy Barker, 69, has won five of twelve games; Paul Tyson, 7A, nine of twelve games; Stanley Sims, 8A, nine of ten games; Walter Lovorn, 8B, six of ten games.

Rev. W. A. Kercheville came over from Albuquerque, N. M., for a truck load of household goods. Rev. Kercheville reports that during his five months as pastor of the Church of Christ at Albuquerque, California in the National Marble tournament several years ago.

SILVER DOLLAR

By DAVID KARSNER

The Epic Story of a Man Who Was Made by Silver and Ruined by Gold.

CHAPTER V

A few months later Martin had reason to recall Bryan's prediction when huge headlines carried the headlines in the newspapers' front pages.

"PRESIDENT CLEVELAND SETS GOLD STANDARD; SILVER MEN IN PANIC"

Stock markets everywhere reacted as the pendulum of finance swung erratically, with the price of silver going down . . . down . . . and down!

The Denver stock exchange was in an uproar that fatal morning. Excited brokers ran about bare-headed, shouting, one to another, in a wild chaos of voices. It was a bedlam, comparable to our own stock market collapse of 1929.

Through it all Yates Martin sat at his desk, vainly trying to shut out the shouts and noises of the outside.

His manager came in. "Look at this, Senator," he said, showing a paper beneath his gaze. "Silver's down to forty-eight cents."

Yates straightened in his chair. "What do we care? We'll dig twice as much," he said.

"But it costs more than that to mine," came back the reply. "We need more margin."

"Draw on the Leadville bank," Yates ordered.

"Leadville bank closed its doors an hour ago," said the manager.

Yates Martin's luck had turned. In the Martin mansion on the hill the huge hall clock intoned the hours until daylight. Mrs. Yates Martin, the once Lily Owens, moved from her station at the window, passing the table. She looked worn and haggard. There came a step at the front door—a shuffling step of broken man.

Yates Martin almost fell into the man. Wild-eyed, disheveled, collar open, clothes rumpled and disordered, he was sadly unlike the happy, carefree Yates Martin of other days.

"It's terrible! . . . I don't understand . . . don't see how it could happen! My own bank busted! There must be some mistake. I had twelve million dollars. Now, everybody says I owe them."

Several days later Yates Martin appeared at his business office. His manager discreetly stepped in. "Mr. Yates," he said sorrowfully, "the people are here with some things they want to move in."

Yates nearly crumpled, but recovered. "Tell them to wait. They can wait this office tomorrow—when I'm ready."

"Yes, sir," said the manager as he withdrew.

Yates sat stonily gazing into space, then slowly got to his feet. He moved for his hat and coat, and was about to leave, when there came an interruption. The manager returned, and with a sympathetic glance at his employer, said, "There is something the girl looked up toward the back door as her mother appeared, wearing a cheap print dress, and carrying in her arms a basket of family wash.

As Lily paused to speak of "Silver Dollar," her gaze appeared fixed on a grocery boy who had suddenly appeared at the back gate. "Just leave the things on the stoop," she said with a lightness she did not feel.

The boy became embarrassed. "Sorry, Ma'am, I was told you would have to pay today." But he held the package out to Lily just the same.

Footsore, with a pain in his heart, Martin returned to his home empty handed after a fruitless search for work.

Lily had nothing comforting to offer. "The landlord was here today. We're behind two months in the rent. He says if he doesn't get it tomorrow, we've got to move."

"How much is it?" Yates tried to appear casual.

"Sixty dollars," she replied, while Yates walked contemptuously toward the door. Pausing outside, he looked grudgingly at the opening and slipped quietly into their sleeping room. Furtively he searched a bureau drawer and found what he sought. It was the gold-lettered album. He ripped off the gold letters, put on his hat and left the house.

"One and a half ounces," the jeweler a few minutes later said. "You know the market price of gold, Mr. Martin. Twenty-two dollars to the ounce." Yates nodded sadly, and a sympathetic look came over the jeweler's face.

Along the brilliantly lighted street, Yates wended his way, until he came to the Windsor Hotel, the scene of many of his former triumphs.

Coming upon Colonel Stanton, his former political advisor and mentor, Yates stopped hesitatingly. Stanton was reading, did not look up.

"Can I see you for a moment, Colonel?" he said, nervously.

Stanton apparently did not recognize the voice. "No, what do you want?" was his answer.

"I was going to ask you if you'd loan me a hundred . . . just for a few . . ."

Stanton, with his eyes still on the paper, grunted "No!"

Yates turned abruptly away. He was hurt at this blunt and discourteous reply to a request from an old friend, and then started away.

At the same moment Colonel Stanton looked up and saw his interrogator for the first time. "Senator Martin," he exclaimed. "Good heavens, Senator, I did not know it was you. You want a hundred. Here's five hundred."

"That's real kind of you, Colonel," said Yates. "I'm in rather a tough spot . . . only temporarily, though . . ."

He smiled hopefully into Stanton's face.

"Say, Senator . . . Colonel Stanton had a small loan of money for you like to be postmaster of Denver?"

"Why, Colonel . . .?" Yates was dazed. "Postmaster? Why that's none of my line. Used to be postmaster up in Leadville."

"Yes, I remember . . . I'll wire Washington tonight."

Leaving the hotel, Yates passed for a moment to contemplate the sign spreading the important looking building on . . . next block. The Martins Opera House. It was late afternoon and the crowd had dispersed. He slipped through the stage door and on to the stage.

Yates looked at the familiar surroundings, living over again his triumphant night when he presented the Opera House to the City of Denver. There was Lily's box, and—was it his imagination? For surely that was Lily! She was alone and she was smiling across the space at him. Softly he filled the stage auditorium.

Once again he relived those ecstatic moments. "Ladies and gentlemen," he began. "I've seen Denver grow from a mining camp to a city of . . ."

He paused. Yes, surely that was applause. . . . thirty or forty thousand people, and I said that if Denver is to have an opera house it should have one worthy of the city . . ."

Suddenly he gasped, clutching his chest. "Wait, I . . . can't go on now . . . there's something I . . ."

He choked. "Lily! Lily, girl! Sarah! Oh, Sarah, I need you . . . Where are you, Sarah, Lily, General Grant . . . I . . ."

Yates staggered and fell to the stage floor. Two stage hands rushed toward him. Gently he was carried to a waiting ambulance—and home.

In that cheap, tawdry home, Yates Martin, white and wan, struggled for a last breath. In another room, Colonel Stanton, Adams, Hamilton—other prominent citizens—had gathered. Colonel Stanton said in hushed tones, "The President has just appointed him postmaster of Denver, I hope it's not too late . . ."

Yates, in a conscious moment, raised himself slightly. "Lily, don't forget . . . Remember, Lily . . . Hold on to the Matchless Mine. Silver is coming back . . . stick by me . . . buried . . . silver casket . . ."

Martin passed on.

And then Yates, three days later, as the sun sank to its rest in the West, a casket of solid gold, reflecting a dull shimmering glow, was slowly lowered into a grave. As it disappeared, two women stood, with "Silver Dollar" between them. Their hands were clasped. As the last clod of earth fell, with the intoning of the man of God, "Dust to dust," Sarah and Lily turned and looked at each other's eyes—in dumb sorrow—with no trace of bitterness. Yates Martin had been a good man, loved by both women.

—The End—

Gordon Lucas was in Portales from Elida Saturday.

John W. Russell and his nephew, W. T. Russell, of Floyd were in Portales last Saturday visiting and looking after some business matters.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Batton and their three daughters spent the week end in Roswell with relatives and Sunday morning were informed of the serious illness of Mr. Batton's uncle, Tom Batton, in Arizela. Mr. Batton hurried to the aged relative's bedside, but death had come before he arrived. The uncle had been ill for the last several weeks at El Paso, but had been brought home Friday apparently much improved in health.

Mrs. Blanch Trigg and Ted Bonner motored to Portales Wednesday from Fort Sumner and spent a portion of the day visiting here.

Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Watson, Dr. and Mrs. I. D. Johnson, Miss Rose Littlefield, Bill and Jay Thompson left Friday afternoon for Roswell to spend the week end in the Johnson cabin. They were joined Saturday night by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bonner, Miss Lucille Wurster, Paul Wurster and Harold Sweetland.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Fenn and family have moved to the Portales valley from the Rogers community. Mr. Fenn has rented the Bouldin place on the north Floyd highway. There are two boys in the family attending grade school.

Rev. J. C. Chapman returned to Portales Sunday from Clovis, where he has been in the hospital for the last two weeks at the bedside of his seriously ill son. The child is now improving slowly.

Mrs. Bert Rawlins came home the last of the week from Lubbock, where she visited her sister, Mrs. Harris Garrett, in the Lubbock sanitarium. Mrs. Garrett's home is at Lovington.

Miss Louise Robinson spent Sunday in Clovis visiting with friends.

Byron Perry came in Saturday night from Ferryton, Tex., and will be a guest during the week of Wayne Stratton and other friends.

Ed Barker has accepted a position as cook with the new Club cafe which opened Saturday. Jack Six and Slim Snell are the operators of the new cafe.

James R. Cole, district gas manager at Clovis, was in Portales Friday visiting with the local office. Mr. Cole recently took the place of W. K. King.

J. P. Steiner was in Roswell Friday and Saturday night with the basketball team.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Smith moved this week from the residence on Union street, where they have been living, to the Nazarene parsonage on Colorado street.

Mrs. Louis Smith is expected home from Dumas, Tex., Saturday, where she has been spending a few weeks with her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. John Davidson.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace King were visitors in Clovis Sunday afternoon.

Fred Maxwell and Aaron Griffin were in El Paso, Tex., last Tuesday and Wednesday on business.

J. W. Stone Jr. has accepted a position with E. N. Smith and entered upon his new duties on Tuesday of this week. Mr. Stone has been employed for the last several months by Leonard Westerman.

Miss Willie Terrill is improving from her recent illness and plans to return to her responsibilities as nurse in Dr. Brasell's office this week.

Charles Prater is improving from his recent attack of pneumonia and Lester Prater, a brother who was called from Wink, Tex., has returned to his home in the Texas town.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Smith moved this week from the residence on Union street, where they have been living, to the Nazarene parsonage on Colorado street.

Mrs. Louis Smith is expected home from Dumas, Tex., Saturday, where she has been spending a few weeks with her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. John Davidson.

A BACKYARD of cheap-looking houses—in a poor section of the city!

It was Fall. Everything looked cold and drab. Desires of every description cluttered the spaces in the foreground, of which cluttered a hen with a covey of small chicks. A tiny tot babbled coaxingly to the brood—"Silver Dollar," the little daughter of Yates Martin and the former Lily Owens—now four years of age. "Nice chickie, nice chickie," she crooned.

Remember Lily . . . Hold on to the Matchless Mine . . . Yates is coming back!

REBEKAH LODGE

Mrs. Ida Lindahl, state president of the Rebekah lodge, came from her home in Gallup, N. M., and made her official visit to the local lodge on Thursday evening of this week.

The evening opened with a banquet served at 6:30 o'clock. Mrs. Harry Cissell was chairman of the committee having the banquet arrangements in charge.

After the regular lodge meeting Mrs. Lindahl held a school of instruction and the members were reviewed in their ritualistic charges. Mrs. Edna Disney Mize is noble grand of the Portales organization. Miss Loreta McCarty, past district deputy, presided during the conferring of the degrees when Mrs. Paul E. Morrison was initiated into the order.

CLUB AT FAIRFIELD

A Homemakers club was organized in the Fairfield community on Friday of last week, with twenty-four members.

Mrs. William Harpold was selected president of the new organization. Mrs. D. J. Brown vice president, and Mrs. J. W. Bradley secretary.

The members chose the first and third Wednesdays as the regular meeting dates of the club, and Miss Oakley, county demonstration agent, will meet with the women on the third Wednesday, when an all day meeting will be held.

The next meeting of the club will be Mar. 1, and will be in the home of Mrs. J. F. Curry.

Miss Ottilie Schlapp, the county nurse, held her regular monthly baby clinic at Fairfield on the afternoon of the club organization day. Many babies were weighed and measured during the afternoon.

CLOTHING LESSONS

Miss Dee Maler, extension clothing specialist from State College, was in charge of the clothing school which was conducted in Portales on Monday and Tuesday of this week.

This was the first of five lessons which will be given to the housewives of the county during the year.

These lessons will include "Care of Clothing," "Clothing Clinic," "Remodeling," "Tailored Finishes," "Decorative Stitches and Accessories," and "Wool Coat Making."

Miss Maler is unable to meet all the club women of the county, so representatives from each community club were sent to the school to receive the instructions and these will carry the information back to the respective club women.

Miss Oakley will announce later the exact dates of the other lessons which will be given in April, May, June and November.

The women derived a great amount of benefit from the lessons given Monday and Tuesday.

The representatives chosen from the several clubs were Mrs. Winnie Pierce and Mrs. Nation, of Arch; Mrs. J. W. Jacobs and Mrs. J. T. Swope, from Causey; Mrs. George Leverett and Miss Mary Warren, of East Valley View; Mrs. William Harpold and Miss Helen Martin, of Fairfield; Mrs. E. B. Womack and Mrs. J. H. Parsons, of Floyd; Mrs. C. D. Vandiver and Mrs. Mason, from Longs; Mrs. Joe Harris and Mrs. Ira Cook, of New Hope; Mrs. Homer Barnett and Mrs. Sherman Bracken, of Portales; Mrs. Rice and Mrs. H. D. Fulton, from Richland; Mrs. R. C. Massey and Mrs. Lem Miller, of Rogers.

JUNIOR CLASS PROGRAM
The members of the junior class of the Portales high school entertained at assembly last Friday afternoon with a program entitled, "Another Washington."

Annie Lee Talley was the pianist and gave short musical selections as an introduction of the various groups offering to Miss America the young man who would make another Washington.

Robert Hill and Ernest Scott were the page escorts to the stage. Winnifred May, the trumpeter, Glenda Patterson carried the role of Miss America.

Faye Gunn and Alice Gregory were the Indian maidens presenting to Miss America their chief, who was fitted to be another Washington. Kenneth Garland was the chief.

Mary Frances Smith, Alpha Lewis and John Redmon were the Puritan representatives.

Georgia Johnson, Ruth Carr and Paul Jergins represented the early colonial settlers of the United States.

The roles of the southerners were carried by Willie Couch, Della Mae Brown and Albert Woodburn.

Winnie Couch and Dorothy Dutton brought from the north Jennings Grimes, who was their candidate to become another Washington.

The darky girls, Monte Creek and Maude Kennedy, brought their hero, Floyd Naylor.

Scott Brown was the sailor presented by Cleta Mae Alford and Barbara Carter.

Andrew Bedinger was the soldier, with Ethel Stroup and Blondie Cosgrove feeling he was the favorite Washington.

Josephine Goodloe, Barbara Green and Raymond Lee were the faithful pioneers.

The farmers, who are the backbone of the nation, were represented by Bess McCall, Ruth Gryder and Patrick Heckman.

Collins Hilliard was the athlete, who was escorted to Miss America's throne by Ruth Blanton, Jollene Howell, Helen Warren, Damon Morrison and Beulah Mae Moser.

The students presenting Chester Anderson as the ideal Washington were Kathleen Goodwin, Neil Riley,

EVENING PARTY

Miss Winnifred May invited a few of her friends to the home of Mrs. May last Saturday evening for a few hours of games and visiting. The bridge tables were arranged for those wishing to play cards and other diversions were provided for the non-card players.

Light refreshments were served during the course of the evening. The guests included Misses Beulah May Moser, Mildred Lyons, Maynor Hayes, Cherry O'Dell, Frances Estelle Bryant, Marie Neer, Madeline Russell, Messrs. Clark Foster, Woodrow Slaten, J. R. King, Earl Stratton, John Redmon, Rhea Crow, Melvin Cissell, Douglas Terrell and Vernon Long.

METHODIST MISSIONARY SOCIETY
The members of the Methodist Missionary society were entertained last Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. E. N. Smith in the regular program meeting of the month.

The Scarritt Training School for Missionaries was the subject for study and was under the leadership of Mrs. J. D. Marlow. Mrs. H. E. Taylor told of the training received when she was a student at Scarritt. Mrs. A. W. Freeman visited the Methodist school when the Freeman family was in Nashville, Tenn., last summer and she gave a very graphic description of the buildings and the campus.

The other members assisting with the program were Mrs. E. N. Wheeler, Mrs. A. H. Sweetland and Mrs. G. A. Whitmore.

There were about thirty-five members. During the social hour following the program Mrs. Smith served a bountiful plate lunch.

JUNIOR CLUB PARTY
The social committee of the Junior Woman's club, of which Miss Mildred Rowley is chairman, was in charge of the valentine party given at the club building last Wednesday evening.

The auditorium was appropriately decorated with valentines and guests were invited to match valentines for partners in the contests and games which were played during the evening.

Zigzag puzzles of valentines occupied a portion of the evening. The refreshments were suggestive of the valentine season and carried a color plan of red and white.

Each of the club members invited one guest to join in the evening entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Steiner, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Golden, Mrs. A. F. Jones and her son David were the hosts and hostesses. Mrs. Steiner, Mrs. Golden, Mrs. Jones and Mrs. T. E. Meers are sponsors of the Portales Junior Woman's club.

CIRCLE MEETINGS
Circle 3 of the Baptist Missionary society met last Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. P. Steiner.

Mrs. Claude Smith was in charge of the program, which was taken from the Royal Service. Several women were invited to appear upon the program and all gave interesting numbers.

The circles that were scheduled to meet with Mrs. J. A. Parrish and Mrs. D. A. Lee united in a very interesting meeting with Mrs. Lee.

Dorothy Harrington and Essie DeMont.

Then came the Boy Scout, B. C. Rogers with his sponsors, Ethel Orr, Dink Kilgore and Annie Mae Willingham.

The last offer of another Washington was the American mother whose son, through his education and efforts, can become a citizen of use and influence the same as the first President, George Washington. James Lynn Hill represented the American mother and Ray Joe Ellidge the boy who may grow into another Washington.

Mrs. W. E. Daniel and P. M. Bailey are sponsors of the junior class and had the direction of the program in their charge.

COFFEE CLUB

Mrs. E. R. Black invited members of the Coffee club and other friends to meet with her last Thursday afternoon for a few hours of bridge. Three tables were arranged in the living room and the contest continued for six progressions.

Mrs. Leon Slaten held the high score for non-members and Miss Mabel Morrison for members. Mrs. Billie Booker received the prize for low score.

Mrs. Black served a plate lunch at the close of the afternoon to Miss Mabel Morrison, Mesdames Leon Slaten, James D. Turner, Luther Thomas, Sam Mervelfelder, J. H. Lee, Ted Forbes, Billie Booker, Ray Snelson, Cline Caperton and J. O. Blanton.

FLOYD HOMEMAKERS CLUB
The members of the Floyd Homemakers club are meeting in the home of Mrs. J. E. Gaasch tomorrow for an all day gathering. The meeting, which was scheduled for Friday two weeks ago, was cancelled on account of the extremely cold weather.

All the members are cordially invited to attend the all day meeting tomorrow.

LADIES' AID SOCIETY
Mrs. J. W. McMinn was in charge of the program given before the members of the Christian Aid society last Thursday afternoon in the church annex.

The evangelist, J. I. Brimberry, assisted with the devotional services given before the opening of the program on "God's Kingdom."

The leader was aided by Mrs. J. M. Sanders, Mrs. C. A. Loris and Mrs. Willis Breshers in giving the interesting program.

Mrs. Sanders and Mrs. Walter Scott added to the program with a vocal selection.

Mrs. T. J. Keller and Mrs. J. E. Camp were hostesses and prepared refreshments which were served at the conclusion of the program.

Connie Snelson left Thursday for Benjamin, Tex., where she will visit her sister, Mrs. George M. Sollock, for several months.

RICHLAND CLUB

The Richland Homemakers club met with Mrs. J. H. Short Thursday, Feb. 16, in an all day meeting. Each member took a covered dish of food and an appetizing meal was served at noon.

In every way it was by far the best meeting of the year. There were thirteen members present.

During the business session Mrs. R. R. Sutton was received into the organization as a new member.

The guests for the day were Mrs. Dennis Setser and baby, Mrs. J. T. Creighton, Mrs. Dewey Hayhurst and small son, Miss Ruby Lewis, little Miss Billy Frances Ming, Miss Pearl Partin and Miss Verda Oakley. After the business meeting Mrs. Oakley demonstrated cheese-making to an interested group of women.

The next meeting will also be an all day gathering at the home of Mrs. Dee Broyles. All the members are cordially invited to attend this meeting and are asked to bring their thimbles.

BOYS' CLUB ORGANIZED
Alfred Powell, one of the teachers in the grade school, has organized a club of boys which is known as the Outdoor Boys' club. The members with their sponsor have outdoor parties and trips to study nature and also enjoy the outings.

Last Saturday afternoon the members and their sponsor motored to Poker Flat for a wienie roast. They left Portales about 5 p. m. for the picnic ground.

The boys enjoying the occasion with Mr. Powell were Bert and Jeff Morgan, Owen Drake, Jimmie Whitcomb, Elmer Nowlin, Ruben South, Charles Kessler, Walter Neil and Billy Bob Case.

CAUSEY CLUB
The meeting of the Causey Homemakers club was held last Friday afternoon, Feb. 17, in the home of Mrs. Crockett Stone, with fourteen members present.

A business meeting occupied the first part of the afternoon, after which some time was spent with the exchange of flower and garden seeds as suggested in the year book program.

WOMAN'S CLUB PROGRAM

Mrs. James Christie was program leader for the regular meeting of the Portales Woman's club yesterday and she invited P. M. Bailey and the members of his public speaking class to present the George Washington program to the members.

The afternoon was one of the most delightful the club has had and a very sincere vote of thanks was given to Mr. Bailey and his students.

Granville Simmons opened the program with a musical reading, "Dreams," with Miss Ruth Carr at the piano.

Brooks Hillard gave a splendid reading entitled, "A Patriot in the Making."

These two numbers were followed by a one-act play entitled, "A Dish of China Tea." This was a colonial play with the scene in the sitting room of "Wynnewood," the plantation home of Col. and Mrs. Nathaniel Wynne. The ladies were pretty in the colonial costumes and were as follows: Mrs. Wynne, Ruth Carr; Lady Augusta Clive, Hazel Harvey; Lady Courtenay, Lella Dooley; Mrs. Throckmorton, Musette Kennedy; Mrs. Ravenscroft, Dorothy Dutton; Janette Wynne, Marie Neer; Mary Gordon, Annie Maud Hunter.

Mrs. E. N. Neer, Mrs. Ray Bonner and Mrs. J. B. Fridy were the business managers of the afternoon. They served a plate lunch during the social hour.

WEDNESDAY LUNCHEON

Mrs. Lacy Armstrong entertained fourteen guests at a George Washington luncheon in her home yesterday. The decorations were in the patriotic colors and these were also accented in the dessert course.

In the center of the dining table was a pig, baked whole, and holding a bright red apple in its mouth. Baked apples garnished the large platter on which the roast was placed.

After luncheon the ladies visited for a while and later many of them went to the meeting of the Woman's club.

The guests included Mesdames E. T. Hensley, E. L. Wright, A. D. Ribble, Bert Rawlins, Frank C. W. Carr, P. D. Golden, C. V. Harris, A. P. Jones, M. B. Jones, J. C. Compton, P. E. Jordan, C. J. Whitcomb and J. G. Greaves.

U. D. C. MEETING

Mrs. C. V. Harris, second vice president of the United Daughters of the Confederacy chapter in Portales, presided at a business meeting Tuesday afternoon when the society met with Mrs. J. C. Compton.

Mrs. J. G. Greaves was leader of the program and was assisted by Miss Kate McManaway.

Mrs. Greaves discussed the origin of the Confederate flag, and Miss Kate told of old Natches under six flags. The program was interesting and instructive.

The meeting closed with a social hour, at which time Mrs. Compton served a plate lunch.

Thirteen members were present.

7A Class Gives Puppet Show

Students of the 7A class of the Portales junior high school, under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. P. M. Bailey, gave the story of "Sleepy Hollow," by Washington Irving, before several audiences in their home room last week. One performance was before the English class of the senior high school, which recently had studied the famous legend, and Friday afternoon the parents of the 7A students were special guests.

The students had arranged several feet of scenery showing the many things Ichabod Crane saw on his way to the home of Katrina Van Tassel, and this moved across the back of the stage, giving the effect of a horse really traveling.

Four scenes were given in the presentation of the story: The school room where Ichabod ruled; Crane's ride to Katrina's home; the party, and Crane's ride home.

Pay Fulton read the story, while the children dramatized the same. Frances Creek carried the role of Ichabod Crane; Nettie Belle Batton, Katrina Van Tassel; Thelma France, Brom Bones; Mary Jane Taylor, Mynheer Van Tassel; Wynema Whitcomb, Mrs. Van Tassel; Blanch Lyons and Norma Lee Chamberlain, friends of Katrina.

Other students assisted in forming the two horses, Gunpowder and Dandeevil. The negro musician also came in for his share of attention. Those taking part in the show other than the above were Jane Mauk, Rufus Creek, Firman Haynie, Ella Pearl Starkey, Ruby May Fisher and Lizzie Reynolds.

Bernie Watts was busy the first of the week getting a car of sweet potatoes off to the Los Angeles market.

A baby daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Champ Porter of Clovis Sunday. The little girl was named RoJean.

William Tarplay and Miss Virgie Tarplay have returned to their home in east Portales, after having spent the last month visiting in Anadarko, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Smith of East Valley View were in Portales Tuesday visiting with friends.

U. S. Frame of the Longs community was in Portales Monday on business.

Dr. and Mrs. H. T. Brasell and Mr. and Mrs. Owen Cloud were in Clovis Saturday night attending the Clovis-Carlsbad basket ball game.

Mrs. Jack Howard of the Floyd community was in Portales Monday shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Frost of Clovis were in Portales on business Monday. They were former residents of Portales.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Newberry of Dora were in Portales on business Monday. Mr. Newberry runs a store at Dora.

Mr. and Mrs. Burl Johnson spent Sunday in Wink, Tex., with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Johnson, a teacher in the Wink schools. They returned to Portales Monday.

Marvin Hase, an employee of the Orange service station, was a visitor in Clovis Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wat Stewart, Leon Jones and Lee Carter were in Roswell Sunday night.

W. W. McClintock, H. D. Fulton and J. D. Page of the Richland community were in Portales Tuesday on business. They reported land to be in good condition, ready for spring plowing.

H. T. Wash and Mike Millard of Arch moved to California last Sunday.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Bays of Kingsport, Tenn., a boy at the Lilac Park ground last Saturday.

J. H. Jett of Claudell was in Portales on business Tuesday of this week.
