Only One Serious Injury Results From 5 Accidents In County Tuesday

One Results From Driver Swerving To Miss Bicycle

Clarence Dan Bledsoe, 19, of Olton, received a broken leg in one of five automobile accidents which occurred within a 24-hour period Tuesday in this area. Bledsoe was injured in an accident at 8:30 Tuesday night two and one-half miles west of Amherst on the Littlefield highway.

Bledsoe, who was driving, apparently failed to negotiate the turn from a farm to-market road onto the highway, and the automobile overturned on the slippery way. Other riders in the car were Sonya Dixon, 15, who is in the Littlefield hospital, and Edward Stinson, who was not injured.

Cow Causes Wreck

Highway patrolmen B. J. Davenport and C. P. Taylor began investigating accidents at 9 a.m. Tuesday when a pickup driven by Charles Seagler of Morton overturned nine miles west of Littlefield on Highway 54. Davenport said Seagler was passing a car when a cow walked onto the highway. Seagler was not injured. Damages to the pickup amounted to about $35.

Avoids Bicycle

Miss Martha R. Neuschwander, 21, was bruised and shaken after the automobile she was driving overturned two or three times at 8:15 Tuesday night. Miss Neuschwander was coming into town on the Springlake highway about one mile north of the city limits. She said she swerved to avoid hitting a man riding a bicycle toward town in the right lane. She said she hadn't seen him because of heavy fog and rain until she was quite close behind him.

The automobile flipped three times and landed practically in the front yard of the Oscar Hollingsworth home.

Miss Neuschwander, only occupant of the car, said the automobile, owned by her fiancé, Doyle Alford, was a total loss. The Hammons Funeral Home ambulance brought Miss Neuschwander to the Littlefield hospital where she was given emergency treatment and released.

Just Missed By Train

Creed Lamb of Hammons Funeral home said the accident, fifteen minutes later, in which Bledsoe was injured could have been quite serious had the car been a few feet closer to the railroad track. Lamb said the train passed just after the ambulance arrived to bring the victims to the hospital.

Damages amounting to $350 were received by two late model automobiles involved in an accident four and one-half miles east of Littlefield on the Lubbock highway Tuesday afternoon at 5 p.m. Neither of the drivers of the automobiles, Catherine Myers Holt, Littlefield, and Jerry Biffle, Anton, was injured. Davenport said the cars collided at the intersection of the highway and a country road.

High Water Causes Another

Davenport was called again at 1:30 a.m. Wednesday to investigate an accident just this side of Shawlwater. An automobile had been hit from behind when its driver stopped at the edge of a four foot deep pool of water on the highway. The second car, occupied by servicemen from Albuquerque, glanced off into the deep water.

Lisso Drilling

J. W. Murchison was reported to be drilling at 3400 feet Wednesday in the Lisso well 6½ miles south-east of Littlefield. This well is scheduled to go to the Clear Fork formation at about 6500 feet. Rumors persist that the Huber Corporation has swabbed oil abandoned by Homer Cain on the Bundick lease ten miles northeast of Littlefield and that Huber is preparing to install pumping equipment. Huber officials could not be reached by the Leader for confirmation of this rumor.

Gentle Rains Are General Over All Of Lamb County

This week's rains were general across the county and apparently amount to more than an inch everywhere. Official measurement in Littlefield was 1.24", 1.75" was reported at Olton, nearly 2" at Springlake, and more than an inch at Sudan.

The county agent's office reports that the soil is wet to a depth of 15" in most "dry land" areas. This, they say, is ample to get cotton started well and another inch or so scattered through the summer will almost insure a good crop this fall.

More rain is predicted for this month.

The rain was so gentle that cotton already planted is not believed to have been damaged. Most farmers whose cotton is planted but not yet up will use scratchers to break the light crust formed by the rain.

The cold weather which accompanied the rain is not believed to have been severe enough to more than stop growth temporarily.

Texas Co. Buys Ten Acres; Probably For Tank Farm

The Texas Company has completed a deal for almost ten acres of land on the west edge of Littlefield for probable use as a tank farm and pipe yard. The tract is made up of the back part of the lots owned by A. H. Lollis and T. L. Matthews. It lies east of Cundiff, behind the Lollis and Matthews houses, and First Street forms its south border.

The Texas Company has not stated definitely what it plans to use the site for. It is not suitable for housing because it is covered with water during wet weather. However, that is not considered to be a disadvantage for tank farm purposes.

and unanimously agreed the architect proceed to a twenty-three room elementary building to replace the 4th, 5th, and 6th grade room extension on the north wing of the school building, which will be the junior high building.

Board had previously approved a plan but ordered it when some opposition to it was developed. They asked for an opinion on the matter and it was overwhelmingly in favor of the plan. It was recommended by the architect the incoming and outgoing.

Split Bids

Local craftsmen may bid, decided to call for bids per semester to defray their proportionate part of school costs.

The board discussed the possibility of discontinuing the long senior trips after this year. High cost to the students (only half of the seniors could afford the $50 fee this year), plus disciplinary problems on the trip, plus parental refusal to accompany the students, were cited as reasons for discontinuing school sponsorship of such trips. Many other of the larger schools have already done so.

A one day trip to Lubbock Park for the entire class has been planned for Friday of this week, and next year that may be the only senior trip, unless students and parents wish to organize one on their own without school responsibility.

The skating rink and swimming pool at the park in Lubbock have been rented for the outing scheduled for Friday.

The board adjourned shortly after eleven. The next regular meeting will take place on the second Monday evening in June.

Payne No "Pretty Boy" In "Rails Into Laramie" Role

From a beginning as a romantic singer in movie musicals, actor John Payne has moved along the line of rugged action roles to the character of Jeff Harder in Universal-International's Technicolor production of "Rails Into Laramie," in which he is co-starred with Mari Blanchard and Dan Duryea, scheduled to open Saturday midnight at the Palace Theatre in Littlefield.

And rugged indeed is the part of the Union soldier sent to Laramie as a special marshal to clean up the railroad construction town. During this assignment he participates in seven blistering brawls, slugs six opponents into submission and, balancing the tides of battle, gets kayoed twice, himself.

A total of nineteen days were devoted to filming fight sequences in the picture, making this the most virile screen characterization in Payne's fifty film assignments.

Though Payne's physique was never an important factor during his rise to stardom, he stands 6 feet 3 inches, weighs 195 pounds, and keeps in perfect condition, mainly through long ocean swims.

Featured in the cast of "Rails Into Laramie" are Joyce MacKenzie, Barton MacLane, Ralph Dumke and Lee Van Cleef. Jesse Hibbs directed and Ted Richmond produced.

The showdown at Laramie takes place when marshal John Payne and his aide, James Griffith, accuse Dan Duryea and Charles Horvath of inciting the railroad workers to riot, in this scene from Universal-International's Technicolor adventure "Rails Into Laramie," which co-stars Mari Blanchard with Payne and Duryea, Joyce MacKenzie and Barton MacLane are featured.

Public Service Employees Work Million Man Hours Without Lost-time Mishap

One million consecutive man-hours worked without a lost-time accident is the safety record achieved this week by the 1850 employees of the Southwestern Public Service Company. This is the longest continuous accident-free accomplishment in the company's history.

"This safety accomplishment, and we regard it as only our first goal, is of vital importance to our customers. It is safety which makes it possible for us to offer dependable, economical service to our customers. Accidents are expensive in time and money, and we are best serving our customers when we reduce them to the minimum. Our employees have continued to work for this goal in the face of several setbacks, and now that they have reached their mark, you can be sure they will continue their efforts to add another million," A. R. Watson, Executive Vice-President and General Manager, said.

The accident-free period started on January 30 of this year, and remains uninterrupted at the moment, with, as Mr. Watson points out, 2,000,000 man-hours the next goal of the electric light and power company employees.

The 1,000,000 man-hour goal was first set in 1953. Last year the employees worked one 910,000 man hour period without an accident. Time run out on them before it was again possible to amass a million before the year's end.

The goal was re-established for 1954, and after a temporary setback on January 29, the string of consecutive accident-free days, 1850 employees to work a million hours, reached the mark this week.

To more dramatically portray the magnitude of this accomplishment it can be pointed out that it would take one man working 2000 hours a year - that's 50 forty hour weeks, 500 years without an accident to work one million accident-free hours.

Southwestern Public Service Company's safety record is one of the most outstanding in the electric light and power industry. Last year, the industry averaged 11.50 lost-time accidents for every million man-hours worked, while Southwestern's figure was 4.52 per million man-hours. The 1954 figure for the Public Service Company is now down to 1.56 lost-time accidents for every million man-hours.

New Latin American Wrestler Billed For Littlefield Saturday

Professor Roy Shire, who has been involved more than somewhat with Dory Funk over the wrestling championship of the Southwest States territory, bumps into Funk's pal and partner, Cowboy Carlson, in the top half of a double main event at Littlefield's Sports Arena Saturday night.

Carlson, formerly a "real cowboy" from Ekalaka, Montana, has been doing his wrestling stuff in the Houston area for the past several months, meeting and defeating the heavyweight grapplers who throng that neighborhood. With his "bulldogging" headlock, his drop-kick and his general knowledge of wrestling science, he has been making the "big boys" look a little silly.

But now Carlson comes up against the man who put Dory Funk away last week to win the Southwest States Junior heavyweight title - a class belonging to 200-pounders and under - and it's due to be a classic contest. Shire, former professor of physical education at Northwestern University where he earned two degrees, is one of the stoutest young men to invade this area. He has a great ability to absorb punishment, and a fine facility for dishing it out.

The non-title match, two out of three falls or one hour, could be one of the more interesting seen in these parts for many months.

Johnny Demchuck, a foreign-born athlete who once held the world's light heavyweight title, makes his debut here against another newcomer, Lou Palacio, Latin-American athlete from San Antonio. They'll go for two out

Spade P-TA Has Installation At Last Meeting

Installed were Mrs. J. H. Nelson, president; Mrs. A. L. Lockwood, vice-president; Mrs. Bill Cook, secretary; Mrs. Ed Mitchell, treasurer.

Mrs. W. B. Jones, out-going president, was presented a gift and Jerry Lumsden was given a certificate of honor.

of three falls or one hour in the first section of the twin feature.

Demchuck is a clever wrestler, and the way he applied the whirling toe-hold and knee lock to gain popularity in that field is the same way he applies it today. Palacio, a handsome Mexican who has gained national publicity, could have what it takes to offset Demchuck's pet hold.

An executive board meeting of officers and representatives will be held at 8:30 p.m. May 18 in the FHA office in Littlefield to discuss plans for a social meeting.

Kindergarten students of Mrs. Quinton Bellomy are pictured above at Mileur-Ross Hatchery, which the group toured as part of their end-of-the-year activities. Delbert Ross, left, displays brand new baby chicks to Beth Roberts, Billie Babb Brown, and Robert Maurer, seated on the floor, and Andrice Penn, David White and Cecilia Brantley, on the bench. These six youngsters were among the group who also toured the Chisholm Floral as the climax to a nature study project. J. E. Chisholm also displayed for the group his private aquarium of tropical fish. Last Wednesday the children visited Primary school and those who will enter next fall were pre-registered. They were taken over the school ground and the School Store, and were explained traffic and safety rules. A picnic lunch at the Carl Keeling home was held last Thursday. Other kindergarten students are Sharon Berg, Bo Roberts, Ruth Ann Zoth, Joe Hilbun, Trudie Grizzle, Patti Wayne Howell, Carlita Keeling, Martha Naylor, Bradeen Bigham, Mickey McFarland, Larry Schovajsa, Mamie Sue Underwood, Mike Oliver, Donna Sue Smith, and Susan Jones, all of whom will enter the first grade next fall. Plymouth is your "best buy"
in the lowest-price field!

Recently a 1954 Plymouth and current models of the other two best-known low-price cars were taken apart by Plymouth engineers and compared, part by part. Standard "stock" models were used. We've listed some typical findings below.

Plymouth is "best buy" in many ways. Here are just a few!

Front Wheel Brakes

Plymouth engineers provide two hydraulic brake cylinders in each front wheel to ensure smooth stops without "grabbing." The other two low-price cars have only one.

Seat Springs

Plymouth uses coil seat springs, for longer lasting support. The "other two" have a zigzag platform type. Also, Plymouth's "springs-on-springs" design adds more comfort.

Piston Rings

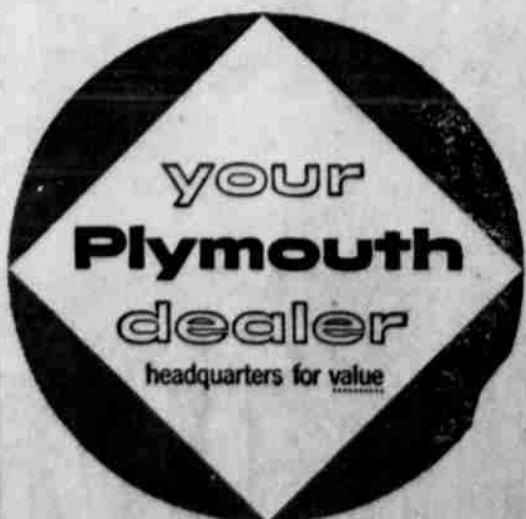

Plymouth has four rings on each piston; the "other two" have three. Result: decreased carbon deposit, more consistent power output, increased oil economy, too!

Micronic Oil Filter

Standard on most Plymouth models. Keeps abrasive dirt out of the engine, reducing wear and achieving greater oil economy. Extra cost on the other two low-price cars.

And dozens of other part-by-part comparisons prove Plymouth is your "best buy"! See us today... and get the facts!

Ask us for the big illustrated booklet that shows how Plymouth leads in frame construction... engine design... performance... economy... comfort... safety.

... but I'm just bustin' my buttons over the fact that my fellow employees at the Public Service Company have worked one-million man-hours without a lost-time accident.

They've been striving for this goal for a long, long time, and have been mighty close to making it before. Yes, they made more than 600,000 hours one time, and 910,000 another, but they never quite hit the magic million. This time they have!

This safety record is, of course, very important to you. The safe worker is the dependable, productive worker, and the one that makes possible the most economical, as well as the best, electric service.

Making a million man-hours without a lost-time accident is like making your first million dollars—it's the hardest million. We're shooting for two, now, and hope to make it, for safety makes your service better.

USDA Outlines Details Of Farm Storage Facility Loan Extension

The U.S. Department of Agriculture announced March 19 details of the farm storage facility program which was extended for another year through June 30, 1955, by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, according to Charles Hill of the A.S.C. office in Amherst.

Loans are designed to help farmers throughout the country obtain the storage needed for the anticipated big supplies of grain to be stored this fall and are a part of a broad coordinated attack by USDA on the general storage problem. Under this loan program, farmers and others can borrow a large part of the cost of additional storage space.

Any farm owner-operator, tenant, landlord, or producer partnership is eligible to participate in the program. Application for a loan may be made at the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office. The loan may be made either directly through the county office or through an approved local bank. Loans may be obtained on storage for wheat, corn, oats, rye, barley, soybeans, grain sorghums, dry edible beans, rice, peanuts, cottonseed, flaxseed, and winter cover crop seeds.

Farmers in most states can borrow up to 80 percent of the cost of new storage bins, cribs, or other approved storage structures. The structure must meet requirements for storage under the price support program. The loan can be paid off over a 4-year period. The first installment is payable 12 months after the loan is disbursed. Interest on the loan is at the rate of 4 percent per year. Since the program started, about 46,118 loans have been made covering structures with a capacity of approximately 175 million bushels.

Continuation of the storage facility loan programs will enable producers to finance more readily the acquisition of additional storage during the coming crop year. Special income tax features (similar to those authorized for defense plant or installation) under which the cost of new farm or commercial storage facilities can be amortized over a period of five years is an added encouragement for farmers to increase their farm's grain storage capacity.

Other storage plans announced recently include a special resealing program for seven 1953-crop grains under loans and purchase agreements to hold these commodities on farms for another year. This will help relieve commercial storage congestion and keep the grains on farms where they may eventually be needed. The storage facility loan programs will help farmers with grain under loan to obtain the storage to participate in this special resealing operation.

Spot cotton prices were relatively steady and weak, and spot portable sales decreased slightly from the preceding week. Sales for export increased and domestic demand remained slack. A recovery parity price for Upland cotton was reached in mid-April. CCC Loans on 1953 crop Upland and extra long staple cotton which have a maturity date of July 31, 1954, will be carried in a past due status through July 31, 1955. Loans on 1952 crop Upland cotton unrefined on August 1, 1954, will be purchased by CCC on that date. Cool and rainy weather during the early part of the week retarded field work and seed germination in most areas. Plants continued to develop favorably with only light insect infestation being reported in early-planted areas.

Prices for Middling 15-16" cotton were about unchanged during the week and averaged 34.42 cents per pound in the ten spot markets on Thursday, May 6. This compares with 34.36 cents a week earlier and 33.27 cents a year ago. The top market average price for Middling from Holland, living and working with Cooner on his farm. While there he will write his thesis. He has been in the state about three weeks. He arrived here with three more students who were assigned to other states, Florida, Indiana and one to Canada.

15-16" in April was 34.19 cents per pound. Spot prices were about 8-10 cents above the average of 34.91 cents in April 1953.

Trading in the ten markets continued moderately active during the week and reported sales totaled 17,600 bales. This compares with 94,000 for a week earlier but is considerably larger than the 50,100 bales for the corresponding week a year ago. Shipper demand was mostly for specialty lots needed to meet nearby commitments. Domestic mill inquiries continued relatively few with purchases confined mostly to small lots. There was some interest for new crop cotton, but most shippers were reluctant to offer at prices bid by mills. Export inquiries increased and demand strengthened for the better grades of staple 1" and longer. Shippers were offering cotton on hand freely. CCC reported loan entries at 9,550 bales during the week. The figure on notes covering bales returned for correction was adjusted upward by 36,300 bales. This resulted in a reported total entry for the season of 6,810,300 bales. Repayments have been made on 947,626 bales of 1953 crop cotton, leaving loans outstanding on 5,862,674 bales as of April 30, 1954.

The Grabbers

Lesson for May 16, 1954

ONCE there was a little boy who went to a party. His sister Annie was invited but she was sick and couldn't go. When the party was over the lady of the house gave each little guest a sack of chocolates. The little boy got two, one for himself and one for his sister, just alike. On the way home he stumbled his toe, fell down, and when he fell one of the paper sacks broke and the chocolates spilled into the road. "Poor Annie!" he said. "We are all like that little boy. There is something in each of us that wants more than half of everything. If anybody is going to take a loss, let it be some one else! One car will pass another and perhaps the driver of the car being passed (if he has no manners) will Dr. Foreman yell out of the window: "Road Hog!" As a matter of fact, isn't a road hog just a person who takes the wide share of the road you'd like to have yourself?"

Greed and Deceit

You might think the little boy in the story would be less of a grabber when he grows up; but he may be worse by that time. You might think people could be cured of being greedy by giving everybody just exactly the same; but there would be any number of schemers figuring how to get their share increased. You might think people could be cured of the grab-habit by letting them have all they want; but that seldom works, because some of the greediest people in history have been people who had more than any of their neighbors. The Bible story of Ahab and the vineyard of Naboth is a case in point. It isn't a story of the poor stealing from the rich, it is the story of the rich stealing from the poor, which after all is a rather common occurrence. The story of Ahab also illustrates some notable facts about this thing called Greed. One is that greed and deceit go hand in hand. Ahab told some terrific lies, and got others to do the same, all because he wanted Naboth's vineyard. When Hitler was on the rise, he made the solemn statement that all he wanted was the little area of the Sudetenland; what he really wanted was all of Europe, only it would never have suited his schemes to say so. When a poor man gets into the clutches of a loan shark, he is never told at first what the rate of interest is. When the St. Louis Post-Dispatch back in 1898 justly accused some prominent citizens of having accepted a quarter of a million dollars in bribes, of course those gentlemen denied the whole thing. Your greedy man—or for that matter the greedy corporation—all the way from the simple robber who pretends to be the night watchman, up to the monopoly that overcharges the public—never likes the light of truth on the operation.

Greed and Murder

When a murder has been committed, almost the first question the police ask is: "Who stands to make money by this crime?" Murders are about as common in the country as in the city, in proportion to the population. What is the story back of killings in the farmlands? Very often it is some quarrel about a boundary line, about some stock, about the price of land or produce. Not all murders are for the sake of gain; but if a man is greedy enough, he will not stop at murder. Penitentiaries contain many a "lifer" who would not be there today if he had not been a greedy man.

The Prophetic Spirit

There must have been thousands of Israelite citizens who knew Ahab was a greedy murderous scoundrel. But it took the prophet Elijah to come out with the truth in plain language. Prophets are not always wild figures in hair-cloth robes. They are not always even preachers. A newspaper can have the prophetic spirit. That St. Louis paper, for instance, broke the Teapot Dome scandal; it exposed a half-million dollar "slush fund" spent by a utility company to bribe a legislature; it defeated a Democrat for governor who had tried to steal the election; and it defeated a Republican by showing that his party was tied up with those number-one Grabbers, the big-time gamblers. The spirit of Elijah is not dead; otherwise the grabbers might inherit the earth. Season On Candidates

At that time again when we are selecting the men who will serve as our county officials for the next year. Sensible people will, of course, cast their votes for those whom they feel will do the best job for the county rather than for those who buy the most pies at the supper, contribute the most to their favorite charity.

Some voters are not sensible and their votes count much as the sensible ones. For that reason candidates for public office feel compelled to spend large amounts of money to get their names before the voters. They cannot afford everytime a voter group has any money raising project.

The practice of making public office so expensive to get into makes it difficult for us to get and keep good men and women in office. We need competent people in public office even more than every business firm needs competent men and women in office. We need competent people in public office even more than every business firm needs competent men and women in office. We need competent people in public office even more than every business firm needs competent men and women in office.

It would be money ahead in the long run if we would contribute to our own charities and not force candidates to bleed themselves to do a large share of it.

The Law

Smith's property out on Main Street. Smith has a fine big tree on his property but it juts over on to your lot and those overhanging branches will interfere with the plans you have for building your house.

You can't go over to Smith's lot and cut down his tree even though the branches will make your proposed living room as dark as the catacombs at midnight. On the other hand, neither does Smith have a right to let the tree on his land extend over your property, especially when it is going to interfere with your use of that property, so you do have the right to get rid of the offending branches.

However, before you start saying you had better consider whether the removal of the branch will damage the tree. It is still

SCS Supervisors

Approve 9,127

Program Acres

At their meeting on May 3 the Board of Supervisors of Lamb County Soil Conservation District approved 24 conservation plans covering 9,127 acres.

O. F. Armstrong of the State Conservation Board met with the board. Mr. Armstrong is a field planning engineer and gave a talk on speeding up soil conservation work.

Smith's tree and you don't want to cause it to die. The best thing to do is have a talk with Smith and see if you can arrange to have the limb cut off by someone who knows how to do so without harming the tree.

Of course, a boundary tree—where the trunk is on both sides of the boundary line—can be cut only by consent of both the owner.

Another possible problem: Let's say you want to cut down the front of your lot below the level of Smith's yard. The soil is pretty loose and you are sure that when you lower the grade, Smith's yard will slide all alone the cut. However, you figure that it is up to Smith to do whatever is necessary to keep his land from sliding over on yours. He can put up a retaining wall or something.

The law says you had better slow up a bit in this instance. The way things stand, Smith's yard is not currently in any danger of sliding. If you chance that condition by cutting your land down, then it is your obligation to see that it does not cause damage to his property. It is up to you to put up the retaining wall if one is necessary to keep the adjoining land from sliding.

Suppose you and Smith build a driveway together so you can both save the biggest possible space for lawn. You cut alone fine with Smith, but he later sells his house to a new owner who wants to take up part of the driveway and plant petunias there. He can probably do it if you did not have a definite, written agreement with Smith by which the subsequent owner is bound.

Probably the best way to handle such a situation would be to have a written agreement with Smith and record it with the County Clerk before the driveway is built. Anyone buying the property later would thereby have notice of the agreement and be bound by it.

HANG YOUR CLOTHES ON A HICKORY LIMB-

Highlights And Sidelights From Your State Capitol

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Governor Allan Shivers thinks that his opponent, Ralph W. Yarborough, "may be" receiving some financial help from George Parr, the South Texas politico.

It was quite a coincidence, Shivers said, that Yarborough and Parr announced their candidacies on the same day. Parr is running for district judge.

Shivers said he supposed Yarborough will make "the same sort of campaign of personal vilification and name-calling he made two years ago."

After making these remarks to reporters, the governor left with Mrs. Shivers for a vacation in Alabama. Later he will go to Korea with several other governors, returning to Texas June 1.

Thereafter, he said, "there will be a long time for campaigning."

Yarborough's Reply
To Shivers' remarks about him, Yarborough retorted that "my opponent realizes that the political ground is slipping out from under him and is wildly slinging mud in all directions. Anyone who can manufacture that much mud in one sitting ought to go to work and do something about the drought."

Shivers and Yarborough shined up as the leading contenders in the race for governor. Other candidates who paid their $600 filing fee were J. J. Holmes, Austin general contractor, and Arlon Barton "Cyclone" Davis of Dallas, frequently a candidate for state office.

Young Democrat Of Texas squared away into two factions, ready for the coming summer's political battles.

One side, friendly to Shivers, promised a precinct-by-precinct fight for control of the party machinery. The other faction held a meeting at San Antonio, where Yarborough was a principal speaker.

OTHER Races

A number of state office holders were unopposed for re-election.

These included Land Commissioner Bascom Giles, Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson, Congressman-at-large Martin Dies, Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, Treasurer Jesse James and Supreme Court Justices J. E. Hickman and Clyde E. Smith, and Agriculture Commissioner J. C. White.

Attorney General John Ben Shepherd drew a late-filing opponent in the person of Doug Crouch, a state representative from Denton who recently moved to Fort Worth. Opposing Judge Few Brewster for a place on the state supreme court are Alfred M. Scott of Austin and Robert B. Keenan of Glade-water.

A three-man field set out in the race for lieutenant governor, with Ben Ramsey seeking re-election and having as his opponents Geo. T. Hinson of Mineola and C. T. Johnson of Austin.

Harry N. Graves of Georgetown retired from his place on the court of criminal appeals, and the position is being sought by Alan B. Haley of Wichita Falls, Lloyd W. Davidson of Austin, W. C. Graves of Dallas and Sam W. Davis of Houston.

Running against U. S. Senator Lyndon B. Johnson is State Representative Dudley T. Dougherty, wealthy Beeville rancher and oil man.

Republicans File

All those candidates listed above will seek nomination at the Democratic primaries. The Republicans will have a primary election, too, for the third time in Texas history. Here are the G. O. P. candidates:

For U. S. Senator: Carlos G. Watson of Brownsville and Willard T. Holland of Houston.

For governor: Todd R. Adams of Crockett.

For commissioner of agriculture: Harold W. Linderman of Houston. For congressman-at-large: Thomas H. Nolan of San Antonio.

More candidates may be permitted to file up to June 7, said Alvin Lane, state Republican chairman.

Two Million Voters

It is possible that more than two million votes may be cast in this year's elections.

Anyway, there are that many persons eligible to vote in Texas.

Comptroller Robert S. Calvert announced that poll taxes paid add up to 1,640,101. More than half a million others may vote by getting exemptions.

In the presidential race between Eisenhower and Stevenson, Texans cast 2,075,946 votes.

More to come

Texas' population will stand above the 12 million mark by 1975 according to a survey made by the Texas Research League.

Privately financed, the league makes studies for the state and other units of government.

If Texas' water problem is solved, the population growth will be much faster than the survey shows said Alvin A. Burger, the league's director.

The state will be wise, Burger said, to anticipate population growth and plan to provide public services for a greatly expanded population.

Not Enough Money

Agricultural Commissioner John C. White was gratified to learn that President Eisenhower had authorized the expenditure of $10 million to aid five drought-stricken states, including Texas, but he said it wasn't enough.

Ten or fifteen million dollars won't whip the drought problem, said White, "but it's a move in the right direction."

Road Situation

For a long time, Texas has had and still has a road problem.

To build a first-class highway system in this state will take an expenditure of $1,665,310,000, according to the state highway department.

In a booklet titled "Texas Highway Needs," the department said: "The trunk or main highway, representing the backbone of the highway system, presents the most critical problem confronting the people of Texas."

"These trunk highways have now become outmoded and obsolete."

Next year, the Texas Good Road Association will ask the Legislature for an additional tax on gasoline of a penny a gallon to boost revenue for highways.

Heavy footed drivers will be arresting themselves before long. A radar system has been installed by the Texas Department of Public Safety to facilitate the apprehension of speeders on Texas highways.

Plan Commission

Governor Shivers appointed an Economic Advisory Commission and called a meeting of its members for May 17 to start long-range planning on a number of problems, such as recession, inflation or deflation, drought, and government.

Public officials, legislators, labor leaders, and representatives of business and agriculture make up the commission's membership.

New Officials

Dr. Henry Holle, Texas who has been a United States public health administrator in New York City, was sworn in as this state's health officer. He succeeds Dr. George W. Cox.

Mark Wentz of Big Spring was appointed state fire insurance commissioner to fill out the term of the late Paul Brown. H. C. Pittman of Waco was named a member of the Industrial Accident Board, replacing Robert L. Hill, who resigned.

Laughlin Case

On its way to the U. S. Supreme Court is the appeal of former District Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin of Alice, removed from office by the Texas Supreme Court. Meanwhile Laughlin is seeking re-election to a new term in the same court.

Junior Colleges

Something needs to be done about junior colleges, which have been growing rapidly in number and size, says Cecil A. Morgan, of Fort Worth, head of a State Board of Education committee.

Good work is being done by the junior colleges, the committee said, but new laws should be passed to regulate them. Thirty-one junior

To The Editor

Dear Sir:

There is a wonderful opportunity for those who believe in God (and every poll taken shows that 97 per cent of all Americans do!) to help in restoring one more reminder of the truth upon which our nation is founded—and without which it cannot survive.

"In fact, we have an infinite lead over the Communists, in terms of our spiritual and moral values because of our firm belief in God, and because of the spiritual bankruptcy of the Communists."

"Indeed, over one of the doorways of this very Chamber is inscribed in the marble are the words 'In God We Trust.'"

"Unless those words amount to more than a carving in stone, our Country will never be able to defend itself. Those words must have a very real meaning in the heart of every American."

"The joint resolution I have introduced will give additional meaning to the spiritual defense of our Nation."

Senator Homer Ferguson of Michigan on last February 10 introduced into the United States Senate a resolution (officially titled Senate Joint Resolution No. 126) to add the words "under God," used by Abraham Lincoln in his Gettysburg Address, to the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

The pledge would remain unchanged, except for the addition of the two words "under God." It would read as follows:

"I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation indivisible, under God, with liberty and justice for all."

The handful of Americans who strive to eliminate God from all phases of public and private life would naturally like to see this resolution remain forgotten and buried in Committee.

It is up to you to decide for yourself whether or not you wish to make your voice heard—and a million others like you—send a telegram, letter or postcard to your own Senators and Congressmen on this matter, you can help make this hope come true.

Keep in mind that unless there is widespread and immediate support for this measure it will die in Committee for lack of interest. The effort of you and your friends is most important.

Sincerely,

Edith Chandler

Year-Round Dress Best Investment

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Fashion Editor

The woman who sews has learned that fashion is an investment, and that it pays the biggest dividends when it is not limited to any one season.

This year the feather weight woollens widely available at every piece-goods counter are winning top popularity for all-season outfits. The airy six and seven ounce woollens of 1954 are admirably

Some folks say women rarely look sweet any more. Smart, efficient, contented — even happy maybe. But the look of pure sweetness is almost as rare as snow in It's little wonder, we might answer. What with tension, and gaining weight, and trying to make inflated dollars cover inflated living costs. With bunions, hot winds and drouth.

We challenge the statement, however. There are a few situations that will always bring out the sweetness in a woman's face, even suit to clothes that will see a woman through a summer vacation and go right on through fall, winter and spring.

With all the sewing aids now available to home seamstresses, practically any woman can turn out clothes with a custom-made look. Modern patterns carry explicit cutting and sewing directions and practically every community offers some kind of sewing instruction, either free or at nominal cost. Here are some tips from experts on how to select and handle fabrics:

1. If you are not sure just what fabric you want, don't hesitate to consult your sales clerk for detailed information on colors, textures, weights and care of fabrics.
2. When combining plaids or stripes and plain colors, choose the most subtle tone of the plaid or stripe. Also allow a little extra for matching when working with patterned fabrics.
3. Coordinate rough-textured, tweedy fabrics, perfect for coats or jackets, with the smoother, lighter-weight woollens appropriate for dresses.
4. Always choose your pattern before you buy your fabric, and take it along with you when you shop for the fabric.

Girl Scouts Fete Mothers, Leaders

Girl Scouts of Troop 14 demonstrated their skills Saturday morning when they invited their mothers to a breakfast at Community Center at 8:30 a.m. They planned the menu, invitations and made all the decorations, under the direction of Mrs. Leonard McNeese and her assistants, Mrs. Boyd Roberts and Mrs. Virgil Fields. Mrs. Sam Davis is chairman of the Troop committee.

The invitations sent out were in green and yellow, Scout colors, and in the shape of a trifold, Girl Scout emblem. Place cards were also trifolds. Tables were decorated with runners of green and yellow crepe paper.

The center piece of yellow chrysanthemums and a corsage for it's only fleeting.

One of these is a mother's look when her baby smiles up at her. Another is that of a grandmother when something nice is said about a favorite grandchild (usually that's any of them).

A third is the look of a woman makes a good speech, if he gets some special honor, or if someone else tells her about a kindness he has done them—her look says she already knew he was a fine man. But it's good to have others recognize it, too.

The other is the look of a very young girl when she sees pretty clothes. We were sitting in a department store the other day waiting for our favorite clerk, when two little girls walked by. They were about thirteen years old and—thank goodness—hadn't yet learned to covet every pretty thing they saw. They stopped to examine a rackful of starched petticoats. One in particular caught their eye—a soft blue net, its many ruffles bound with blue satin. As they held it at arm's length, and still the many folds had not straightened out, their faces wore much the same expression they might have had in looking at a pretty doll, or a kitten, or a beloved little sister. Just plain sweet!

each mother of yellow mums were made by Lee Ann Bell, Marihelen Garrison, and Gay Hall.

After the breakfast, the girls sent their centerpiece to Donna Thompson, who recently underwent surgery.

Guests were registered at a hand made book in the shape of a trifold made by Marihelen Garrison and Janice Duncan. Margo Williams and Linda Cloninger and Bernice Flores pinned on the corsages.

Tables were arranged and set by Joan Oden, Nell Fields, Sandra Joyce Martin, Carolyn Hampton, and Janice Duncan.

Beth Gee, Sandra Sue McNeese, Patricia Allred, and Twila Davis assisted in preparation of the food. Mothers present for the breakfast were Mrs. Manuel Flores, Mrs. McNeese, Mrs. Fields, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Earl Hampton, Mrs. J. C. Duncan, Mrs. Sam Williams, Mrs. Katherine Allred, Mrs. Houston Oden, Mrs. Forrest Martin, Mrs. A. L. Bell, Mrs. Cecil Hall and Mrs. Homer Garrison.

Other guests were Mrs. T. A. Hilburn, president of Lamb County Girl Scout Council, and Mrs. C. H. Colbert, camping chairman for Lamb County.

Mrs. Colbert spoke to the group on Girl Scout Camping and urged the girls to plan to attend Camp NIT June 7 through 11, here at Littlefield.

Marihelen Garrison and Margo Williams presented a gift from the troop to the leader, Mrs. McNeese, a potted ivy in a lovely black planter. Mrs. McNeese has been Leader for Troop 14 since it first started in 1949.

IT'S AMERICA'S "BEST SELLER"

Because it's America's Best Buy

Ford has pioneered in bringing the most worth-while things to the most people... and more and more people are now buying Fords

FOR A LONG TIME, people have recognized that Ford is the "Worth More" car. And they have been expressing their preference in a great and growing volume of purchases.

The reason is simple. More and more people have found in Ford everything they want and need. They have found that Ford offers exterior beauty that has set the trend for the industry... interiors that are so colorful and in such good taste that just sitting in a Ford is fun.

If you're in the market for any new car, you'll be missing something if you don't come in and value-check a Ford point by point. And when you Test Drive a Ford and find out what a brilliant performer it is, you'll really understand why Ford is America's Best Seller and America's Best Buy.

In the first place, Ford offers the two most modern engines in the entire industry: the completely new 130-h.p. Y-block V-8 and the outstanding new 115-h.p. I-block Six.

As for comfort—Ford is the only car in its field with Ball-Joint Front Suspension. This amazing new principle provides a degree of handling and riding ease that cannot be equalled in any car without this new suspension system.

Choice, too, is a department where Ford excels. You'll find just exactly the car for you among the 14 body styles and more than 100 body color and upholstery combinations in Ford's three great lines.

And consider these facts, too. Ford is a completely modern car. The advanced fine-car features that make it "Worth More" when you buy it, will also make it "Worth More" to someone else when you sell it.

Why not accept our invitation to Test Drive a '54 Ford. We believe that you've never driven a car in Ford's field that is in any way comparable.

SPORT Shots

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Significantly, the sport that has been drawing the smallest crowds in the past is the one that's showing an attendance increase while the sports that did get all the gravy are in a slump.

Track and field, of course, still has a long way to go but it is getting, at last, a boost in interest in Texas.

Track is riding its highest in the State from the standpoint of class, too. Texas colleges never had better teams and the high school boys are cracking records right and left. There are more meets for them to perform in. The way things are going now, there's a meet for every college or high school each week.

Track is unfortunate, from the spectator standpoint, in that it is conducted in such a way you never know, sitting in the stands, all that's going on. But adequate advance publicity will give you the proper background.

The quadrangular meet which polish, try putting rolls of cotton favorite shade of polish. Watch the load on the brush. It is better between them.

6. Now you are ready for your to have not enough than too much which runs down the sides and under the cuticle. Oily polish remover, however, can be used to clean up these problems. Two coats of polish wear much longer than one. Allow the first coat to dry for a few seconds before the second one is applied for best results.

Choose a shade of polish that will go with summer costumes—swimsuits, play clothes and dance dresses. This year fashion experts predict that pearly polishes ranging from silver to tomato shades will be popular. These complement white, pastels and soft green and yellow so popular for summer wear. If a good all-around shade of polish is chosen, you won't need to change it each time you wear a new color. Chip-proof polishes are available, too, making the pedicure even more foolproof.

Working For The Yankee Dollar

All American tourists are supposed to be rich, and if they are not, they certainly come as a great disappointment to Europeans.

Once off the boat, however, the American tourist—whether prepared to live first-class or to sleep in a tent—is the object of numerous schemes designed to deprive him of his money. It is seldom that Mr. Tourist bumps into any big swindle, however, so he need not worry too much. Most of the time his losses will be small pickings.

The "Parker" fountain pen scheme runs full blast in Italy, Paris and Spain. Some hungry-looking fellow will slide up to you in a suspicious manner and offer a fountain pen at a cheap price. He'll tell you that it is a genuine "Parker", either stolen from a ship or else on emergency sale because the rent is due. Close examination might also reveal the name of Barker or Farker. One way or another, the pen won't be worth a bargain at all.

Counterfeit currency isn't too much of a problem if the American deals through "authorized" agencies. (But who does?) Buying on the black market, however, can easily bring counterfeit currency into a person's wallet or purse.

Italian lire and French francs are the most commonly found bogus money.

Buying foreign currency in a travel agency is a good guarantee of getting legitimate notes, but not 100 per cent sure. Even the tellers get fooled these days. But when the notes come that good, there's no need to worry!

Many people still believe that "getting something for nothing" is conveniently open to them. So when a man spots you coming out of the American Express office in Paris and offers you a perfectly fantastic price for your dollars, beware! He's either prepared to snatch your money and run, give you false currency, or later tell you that there was a big mistake and that he pays less (which turns out to be less than the bank rate!).

On the Riviera and in Parisian cafes one will encounter Algerians who are selling leather goods. If a tourist expressed an interest in, say, a purse then the peddler swings into clever action.

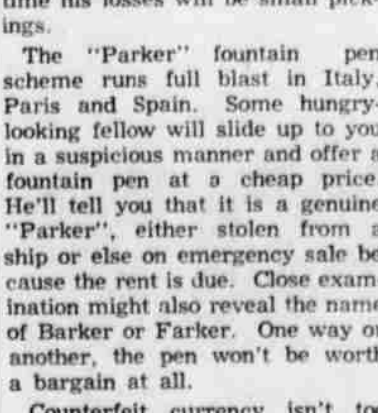

He'll say, perhaps, that the price is around ten dollars, but that you can have it for nine. With continued bickering, however, you might find that it's possible to buy it for fifty cents! The working psychology of these merchants is simple: if you ask an American ten dollars for something, at the very least he might think it is worth seven or eight. Nobody would dream of asking ten dollars for a fifty-cent item. Only one of these merchants, that is!

Southern California, which has won 17 national championships, puts on relay meets in its own territory that draw as high as 50,000. Dual and triangular meets in California will attract 10,000 to 20,000.

To build such interest you must, of course, have top teams. To have top teams you must, as Col. Anderson says, have meets that all the boys with track aspirations may participate in.

FISH FOR DINNER!

By Marguerite Mickelsen

The secret of cooking fish with a minimum of odor is in quick cooking. Most fish will cook in any fashion in from 5 to 15 minutes. All fish should be cooked just long enough to enable the flesh to be flaked from the bones.

The way to have pan fried or deep fat fried fish without much odor is to heat the cooking fat to a rather high temperature, dip the fish in cold water or beaten egg, and then bread the fish with a mixture of corn meal, flour, and salt. Put the fish in the hot fat and cover the pan. Cooking should take about 8 minutes.

Serve hot with lemon wedges and your favorite sauce.

To remove the odor of fish from your dishes, wash them in a strong solution of salt and hot water, not soap.

You can prevent the odor of fish on your hands if you chill them thoroughly in cold water before you handle the fish or you can remove the odor by washing them in hot water and salt.

CLEANED - BLOCKED

Next time you make Apple Betty, serve it with whipped cream if you want to taste something delectable. Beat the cream until it's partly stiff, then beat in a confectioners' sugar mixed with cinnamon and nutmeg. Use two tablespoons of sugar and one eighth teaspoon of each of the spices for a half cup of cream.

When you are making a butter cake and the recipe directs that the fat and the sugar be "creamed" well, be sure to do so. This creaming incorporates air into the batter and helps to make a light fluffy cake. The creaming may be done with the electric mixer. To cream by hand, tilt the mixing bowl and work the shortening and sugar together with the back of a wooden spoon against the sides of the bowl until smooth and light in texture.

And no extra protection like a shed is necessary because this motor is fully protected against all kinds of weather."

"Another thing I like about G-E motors is that you don't have to lubricate them for a long time. When you do, there are only two places to take care of—one at the top and one at the bottom—both easy to get at."

"Notice that G-E control—protected against the weather just like the motor. It protects our motor against overloads, undervoltages, and short circuits. And I don't have to worry about you getting hurt because you can't open the panel while the power is on."

"General Electric knows our irrigation problems, and they have the engineering experience to give us the motor and control team that will do the best job. Yes, son, when you take over, profit by my experience. Insist on G-E motors and controls!"

Be sure to ask your local pump dealer for G-E motors and control for your irrigation pumps.

STUDENT DESIGNERS WIN FASHION HONORS

AP Newsfeatures
ST. LOUIS, Mo. — Today's college girls may be tomorrow's famous designers.

At least they have the talent, if the annual school roundup of the St. Louis Fashion Creators is any indication.

Students from Washington University, St. Louis, and from Stephens College, Columbia, Mo., took part in the roundup, modeling their own designs and showing more than 70 garments.

Winner of top honors was Barbara Larson, of Minneapolis, a student at Stephens, who stands feet in her stocking feet. Designing clothes especially for the tall girl, pretty Barbara was judged tops by a panel made up of four fashion experts and four young officers from the Scott Air Force Base, Belleville, Ill.

The students showed unusual originality in play and lounge wear designs. Top honors in this class were taken by Barbara Josephs, of Beverly Hills, Calif., a student at Washington University, for a lounging outfit in raw silk with poncho jacket decorated in Mexican applique.

Dress award for Washington University went to Nancy Sharp of St. Louis, for a novelty cotton dress with full skirt, slim bodice and sleeveless jacket.

Stephens winner in this class was Marilyn Sharp, of Centralia, Ill., for a cocktail dress of black faille with a deep flounce of nylon net.

Though the fashion experts and the Air Force officers did not compare notes during the judging, their decisions were almost unanimous.

If you like smoke-flavored yellow cheese you'll enjoy using it this way. Make white bread sandwiches of the cheese; toast them in an iron skillet in butter or margarine; turn to brown both sides.

UNTIL YOU TRY A MERCURY

COME IN—DISCOVER MERCURY'S NEW 161-HORSEPOWER ENGINE, BALL-JOINT SUSPENSION, MERC-O-MATIC DRIVE AND EASY POWER FEATURES

It's an entirely different feeling from any car you've ever driven. So effortless and sure-footed you won't believe it until you try it.

The first thing you notice is the easy passing power that comes from Mercury's entirely new overhead valve V-8 engine. The secret is Mercury's new four-barrel carburetor with the two rear barrels vacuum-operated. These rear barrels deliver extra power at the precise second you need it.

Coupled with this new passing power is the biggest improvement in front-end design in many years—revolutionary new ball-joint suspension that lets you take every corner, every curve more smoothly—easier than you ever thought possible. Two simple ball-and-socket joints replace old-fashioned kingpins that tend to bind and make steering stiff. These smooth-operating ball-joints give you a new feeling of road stability . . . of extra highway safety.

But you can make your driving still easier with Mercury's 5 easy power features.* Power steering, power brakes, a 4-way power seat, smooth, no-shift Merc-O-Matic Drive . . . even electric window lifts.

Come in and let us show you how easy driving can be—and why it will pay you to own America's fastest growing car. Take a demonstration drive in a Mercury today!
