Lady Wolves clinch district with win

After some close games this week, the Colorado City Lady Wolves cruised to a district title Tuesday night, defeating Lamesa in three sets by the scores of 25-18, 25-13 and 25-19. After the game, Head Coach Anita Graham was quick to point out the work that went into the game.

"They never quit tonight," she said. "They stayed focused through the game and got a good, solid win."

Ten years ago, the Lady Wolves shared a district title, but in 2012, the honor belongs solely to the girls in Black and red.

"It was just amazing to see," Coach Graham said of watching the final match. "The girls were amazing. They worked hard and they deserve this."

The Lady Wolves will be back in town to host Post in the regular season finale October 23 and will be looking to keep their district record unblemished. Currently, it stands at 7-0.

Spencer counters misinformation

After several town meetings which caused an upsurge in voter support for the bond election for a new school in Colorado City, a negative voice is whispering its message via the U.S. Postal Service.

Many residents received orange flyers in the mail this last week, calling for residents to vote no in November. The flyers, which say they were paid for by Citizens for Sensible Taxation, do not question the fact CISD is needing a new elementary school, but it appears to question the current proposed bond, calling $8 million of the proposed $29 million "fluff."

Colorado ISD superintendent Reggy Spencer said the letter

Early voting begins Monday

Early voting in the 2012 presidential election gets underway Monday, Oct. 22 at the Mitchell County Courthouse. Anyone in Mitchell County wanting to vote early, will do so at the courthouse in the lobby.

Voters wanting to cast ballots in the CISD school bond election can also begin voting on Monday, Oct. 22 at the courthouse.

Early voting for the November 6th general election runs through Friday, November 2. Any registered voter can vote in the general election, even if they did not vote in the May 29 primary.

City strapped by fake cash

Only the best can talk the seller down from $100 to $5 on a given product, but that is what several people have been doing recently in Colorado City. Are they castoffs from American Pickers or Pawn Stars? No, they are counterfeiters and they have been using very unique, almost undetectable bogus bills to get over on city businesses.

Instead of making their own money, these new con artists are using actual currency, most often $5 bills. They then overlay what appears to be a perfect replica of a $100 bill over it to produce a magnificent copy. It can pass many tests designed to spot counterfeits without being spotted, including the pens most stores use. How? Because it is actual currency.

The only way to spot the discrepancy is to hold the bill up to the light and look at the watermark. There, you will see that it is a $5 bill, $95 less than what was expected. The counting machines at most banks can spot the bills as well, but by the time the bill makes its way to the bank, it

Petticoats return to the prairie

Petticoats on the Prairie presents its annual Country Carnival October 19-20 at the Mitchell County Fairgrounds in Colorado City.

Kids 12 and under get in free and tickets cost $5 at the gate. Advance tickets are available by emailing petticoatsontheprairie@hotmail.com.

Special guest at the flea market style event will be author Irene Rawlings. The event is open 12-6 p.m. on Friday and then 9 a.m. through 5 p.m. Saturday.

The event promises antiques, furniture, clothing, jewelry and unique goods.

New officer sworn in at C-City PD

After a lengthy process, close to a year now, the Colorado City Police Department has hired a new officer to cut down on overtime within the department as well as giving some of the more seasoned officers a bit of breathing room.

Brian Allen was officially sworn in Friday by city secretary Donna Madrid at an informal gathering at the police department. His wife, Amy, was there to pin his badge on his uniform, as his parents watched with pride from the sidelines.

After he was sworn in, Colorado City Police Chief Roy Owens welcomed the new officer to the ranks.

"We have worked long and hard here to make the relationship between our department and the citizens a close one," Chief Owens said. "You have an entire community behind you here."

Allen thanked the chief and everyone who had turned out for the occasion, including Officer Nick Holbrook, Lieutenant John Bivins and Investigator Kelsey Rivera, along with Colorado City's mayor, Carol Sue Dakan and Amie Wood from Colorado City's Economic Development department.

Officer Allen has been an officer for six years, serving in the

OBITUARIES

Bill Newell Jr. 1943-2012

ROBERT LEE - Oliver William "Bill" Newell Jr., age 69, of Grand Marais, Minnesota, died Thursday October 11, 2012 in Lubbock, Texas from injuries sustained in a motorcycle accident.

Bill was born on January 11, 1943 in Longview, Texas. His family moved to Silver, Texas in 1949 and Bill grew up adventuring around Silver and the surrounding area. He attended school in Silver and in Colorado City, Texas and loved participating in sports, especially football. After graduating high school, he attended El Dorado, Kansas Junior College on a football scholarship and then attended an aircraft mechanical school in California. He later served in the Army and was stationed in Alaska where he excelled at and received awards for his biathlon participation. After his time in the military, he moved to Mississippi and began working off the Louisiana coast on offshore oil rigs. He married Gayle Hart of Colorado City and had two daughters. He and his family then moved to Fredericksburg, Texas in 1972. Bill became a seasoned veteran in offshore drilling and worked in the field until his retirement in 2004. His work took him to Peru, Libya, Cameroon and different areas of the United States while he oversaw many aspects of the petroleum industry including drilling, production, maintenance and safety training. Upon his retirement, he spent his time between Texas and Minnesota.

Bill had the soul of an explorer and enjoyed flying planes, riding motorcycles, skiing, traveling, golfing, boating, hunting, dancing and building. Forever young at heart, he was a wonderful companion in any adventure. His greatest loves were spending time with his family and friends and watching his grandchildren grow. He had an infectious smile and heart-warming laugh, made friends wherever he went, and his generous nature endeared him to people around the globe. His legacy of generosity will continue even after his death due to Bill's choice to become a tissue donor. As many as 100 people could have their lives enhanced through Bill's gift.

He is survived by his daughter Hartley Newell-Acero, son-in-law Ramiro Acero, granddaughter, Matea Acero and grandson Doran Acero of Grand Marais, Minnesota; daughter Mary Devlin DuVall and son-in-law Mike DuVall of Austin, Texas; sister Beth Prather of Robert Lee, Texas; sister Susan Mouser and brother-in-law Pat Mouser of Abilene, Texas; and numerous nieces and nephews.

He is preceded in death by his parents, Oliver William Newell and Dorothy Irene Devlin Newell of Robert Lee, Texas.

A memorial service for Bill will be held at the Recreation Hall in Robert Lee, Texas on October 19, 2012 from 3:00-3:30. The Recreation Hall is located on Austin Street at the county park next to the swimming pool. Visitation with the family will occur after the service and last until 6:00pm.

In lieu of flowers or gifts, the family encourages all to register as organ and tissue donors in honor of Bill.

Virginia Albidrez 1921-2012

COLORADO CITY - Mrs. Virginia Albidrez, age 91, died Monday morning, October 15, 2012, in a local hospital. A Mass of Christian Burial was held at 1 p.m. Wednesday, October 17, at St. Ann's Catholic Church with Father Michael Udegbuma officiating. Burial followed in the Mitchell County Cemetery under the care and direction of Kiker-Seale Funeral Home.

Mrs. Albidrez was born September 16, 1921 in Marfa to Vidal and Juana Gonzales Perales and had been a lifelong resident of Colorado City. She married Santos Albidrez in November, 1964 in Colorado City. He preceded her in death in 1970. She was a presser for a cleaners and a member of St. Ann's Catholic Church.

She is survived by a son, Tony and wife, Matilda Albidrez of Colorado City; a daughter, Rita Perales of Denver, CO; a grandson, Vidal Vasquez of Denver, CO; nine nieces and nephews; seven great-nieces and nephews; 10 great-great-nieces and nephews.

She is also preceded in death by her parents and four brothers, Eugenio Perales, Saturnino Perales, Manuel Perales and Francisco Perales.

Kirshbaum pleases reunited crowd Has plans to relocate to Mitchell County soon

Another year has come and gone, but again the memories will remain to see them through.

The Mitchell County Reunion was as successful as always recently, as former Colorado City business owner Joe Kirshbaum took the stage as the guest speaker this year.

The room was filled with current and former Mitchell County residents, as they talked, reminisced and enjoyed a catered meal by Gas 'n' Grub.

Kirshbaum, always the entertainer, kept the crowd engaged with his stories, but as good as they were, he topped them all when he told the crowd he bought Summer's Out West in Westbrook. It was a shining example of what happens when two salesmen meet each other at the bargaining table.

He told the residents of Mitchell County he planned to move back to Colorado City as the endeavor in Westbrook gets further along.

Kisses for Kinsley gains momentum

Fund raisers have been set up to help area youngster fight cancer

After years of hoping to have a child, Galen and Melissa Sorrells were excited when their dream came true in July. The couple gave birth to Kinsley Sorrells on July 27, but almost from the start, they knew something was wrong. Baby Kinsley was born with a tumor and now is diagnosed with Rhabdomyosarcoma cancer.

She had her first surgery September 6 and started taking chemotherapy October 1. Currently she goes through a routine where she has one big chemo procedure, followed by two smaller ones, before another large one.

"She seems happy through all of this," Galen Sorrells said.

"Her hair has not fallen out at this point and to look at her, you might not think anything is wrong."

A former Colorado City resident, Sorrells lives just over the Scurry County line in Dunn and works at the prison here in Colorado City. Kinsley's mother, Melissa, works as school teacher at Snyder ISD.

As news of their darling daughter's health made its way from friends to coworkers, people began to get involved. Kinsley's father said that neither his wife nor he had ever asked anyone to do anything, but they have just the same.

"People just keep coming up and asking if they can do this for Kinsley or that," he said. "It has been phenomenal the way people have supported her." A Facebook page, <http://www.facebook.com/KissesForKinsley>, has had the "like" button hit over 1,500 times and boasts 74 friends. Several fundraisers have been staged, including a wrist band promotion which Sorrells says has been extremely successful. Sorrells said t-shirts have also been selling well, with over 400 already sold.

Anyone wishing to buy a t-shirt or wrist band can get in touch with Kristin Kuhl Carter at 903-573-0217 or by email at kristinkuhl@yahoo.com

Breaker Fest successful

The Oasis Missions of Love held its third Breaker Fest Saturday at the mission located at 1546 Westpoint. The name derives from a biblical verse, Micah 2:13 which claims "...they will break out, pass through the gate and go out by it; their king will pass before them, the Lord at their head." The theme of this Breaker Fest was "Waging War."

The Oasis Missions of Love is a non-profit, volunteer-driven organization, with a vision to help hurting women and children.

"We couldn't do anything without the support of the community," Karen Magill said. Magill is the founder of the mission, along with her husband Deacon. "We absolutely need that support."

The mission was joined by the Joyful Noise band at the event, as well as the Nothing Missing puppeteers.

"In all, we collected over $300 in donations for the mission," Magill said. "That will help pay the utilities."

According to Magill, somewhere between 100 and 110 people showed up for the event to listen to the music and just enjoy the food. Of the 120 hamburger patties cooked at the event, Magill said they had 10 left over.

"We were a bit concerned about the weather early in the day, with the tornado warnings in Scurry County," she said, "but it cleared up nicely and the event went well."

Anyone wishing to contact Oasis Missions of Love, to help out or learn more about the ministry, can go to the group's website oasissionsoflove.com. People can also email Karen Magill at karenm@wtconnect.com or by phone at 325-242-0975.

Mickey Neff, CFO of Neff Crane and Rigging, LLC, was on hand Monday at the site of Mitchell County's new law enforcement center. Josh Brady was operating the big 100,000-ton crane placing cement ceiling panels on top of a portion of the new jail. Neff said he had three cranes larger than the monster working at the jail. Neff said they would be unloading a total of 25 trucks of the panels this week, with nine trucks on two days, including Monday, and seven on another day.

BREAKER FEST FEAST — Participants of Oasis Missions of Love's third Breaker Fest got a good dose of music, food and fun Saturday night.

County weighs its health care options

Seeks to help retired workers

In a called meeting Monday, the Mitchell County Commissioners Court met to discuss a short agenda. After approving a payroll of $66,764.75, the commissioners moved on to deliberate the county's participation for retiree medical benefits.

The county has been offering a plan to retirees as a Medicare supplement, though the county does not pay the premiums, as it does with current employees. A discussion to simply approve what they have always done turned complicated when one commissioner asked why the county did not offer its retirees a chance to retain their medical benefits upon retirement.

"Is there any way we can keep them as part of our group plan," Commissioner Bill Preston asked. "I know we can't pay the premium, but they should be able to get a cheaper rate by being part of the group plan."

The supplemental insurance currently offered to retirees costs $210, but for those who are not old enough for Medicare, it is unavailable. Preston was asking if there was any way the county could bridge that gap.

The county currently pays $670 for the health insurance of each county employee.

The commissioners asked for more information to be researched so they could make a better decision and expect to bring the issue back up in an upcoming meeting.

Checking the Facts:

- Q. Will teacher's pay increase if the bond passes?
A. Yes, with the bond passage, teachers and staff will receive much-deserved pay increases.
- Q. Is a 200 vehicle parking lot really necessary?
A. Between all the grades housed in the new school building, the teachers and staff will number approximately 125. Assemblies, programs, and family events will easily fill up the remaining spaces.
- Q. Does the high school currently have a competition gym?
A. No. The current gym facility at the high school has no permanent bleachers, no public restrooms and no concession stand area.
- Q. How much was spent on roofs across the district?
The roofs for all buildings in the district were $1.1 million dollars, funded by a 1.5% interest rate government loan. The CHS, CMS and administration building utilized $750,000 of the $1.1 million.

OPINION & COMMENTARY

TUMBLEWEED SMITH Bill Stinson: outdoorsman

Bill Stinson of Colorado City spends a lot of time outdoors. He loves to hunt. During the winters when he was growing up, he trapped bobcats and coyotes. "We hunted mostly bobcats 'cause they were worth the most money," says Bill. "In those days they would bring up to two hundred dollars for a good bobcat hide. Some of them would bring more than that. It had to be a real good, furry pelt. One year we got 164 fox, 30 something bobcats and I don't know how many coons, coyotes and other predators."

Bill hunts rattlesnakes in springtime and has a room full of trophies he has won at rattlesnake events all over the state. "People wouldn't believe how many snakes I've caught and help catch. One year we caught 4,800 pounds."

He has been bitten three times. "It's like you got stuck with a hot ice pick and it don't cool off for days. The first bite I got put me in the hospital for a few days. It bit me on the finger. When I got out I caught that snake. I thought if I don't catch this one I'll never catch another one."

He started catching snakes when he was about 12 years old. "I dug a little hole in the ground and put the snakes in it. I put a board over the hole. That hole caved in one night and the snakes got out. Daddy wondered why they were around the house and when he found out where they came from, he gave me a paddling. I had to move the snakes into a pasture."

Bill has been hunting all his life. "I started out when I was a little ole kid. I wore my pockets out carrying rocks for my shooter. I shot birds mostly. I got pretty good with it. I could shoot a can while somebody was holding it. I never broke anybody's fingers. We'd go down what we call the old road and somebody would throw a bottle in the air and I'd bust it." Bill got to be an expert with a slingshot. If you toss an aspirin into the air, he'll pulverize it.

He calls up animals by sucking on his hand, making the sound of a wounded rabbit. "One of my best calling experiences was in a calling contest in San Angelo. In 17 hours we came in with 35 coyotes and one bobcat. Once it gets in your blood and you do it for 40 years, you learn a few tricks and get better at it."

When he's hunting rattlesnakes, he sometimes finds a rat's nest about the size of a basketball. He says the nests are made of weeds, grass, cactus, anything the rats can find. "Sometimes they use cotton. Snakes like that. I've got some you have to work 30 minutes to get the rattlesnakes out of it. They live with the snakes in there year round. I put one of those big pack rats in with a snake one day to find out which one was tougher. Next morning that rattlesnake was in one corner and that rat was in another and they were looking at each other. That rattlesnake's head was bleeding all over the place. That rat had done worse him out. I couldn't believe it. That big old pack rat had whipped that rattlesnake."

They grow up so fast

By Robert Griffin

Warning: What follows is sports-related.

In Friday night's district opener at Wolf Stadium, it would be easy to crown Nathan Jackson as king of the game, scoring all three Colorado City touchdowns, two on offense and returning the second half kick-off for a score as well.

No one could argue that he dominated the field and it is highly probable that some Ballinger players are still having nightmares about trying to "Catch 22." All I can suggest for them is to try some warm milk; the nightmare was very real. In one of his songs, Kid Rock said, "It ain't bragging, if you back it up."

But the most remarkable thing happened midway through the third quarter. Mark Henderson broke through the line and went 91 yards to the house, but the play was called back on a penalty. Two plays later, Ballinger picked off a pass and returned it for a touchdown of their own, making for a 14-point swing in a matter of seconds.

If ever the 2012 Wolves had a reason to lie down, this was it. The momentum shift was so intense, I believe I have pictures of it crossing the field to the Ballinger sideline. It was a defining moment for the Red and Black. How they reacted at this very moment would have implications for the rest of the game and possibly the season. But they huddled up and drove the field, going 80 yards and using over five minutes of time off the clock, stopping only when Jackson punched it into the end zone to tie the game. NFL coaches would love to see that sort of resolve from their team. We got to witness it right here in Colorado City Friday night. When Jackson broke free from 48 yards for a touchdown with 3:55 left in the fourth quarter, it was only fitting, as it gave the team the win.

As much as Jackson deserves all sorts of accolades for his impressive performance — something which is becoming frequent — the highlight of the game was the way the team, as a whole, responded to adversity.

There is a Pack of Wolves here in Colorado City and if you were in town Friday night, chances are that you heard them howl. And whether the leader of the Pack is Jackson, Henderson or that fear-inducing linebacker Jake Johnson, does not matter.

As we move forward in the season, opponents may choose to focus their energy on stopping one or two of these Wolves, but that would be a huge mistake. This team is proving itself to be more than that. They win as a team and they lose as a team. But most importantly, they hunt as a Pack.

Letters to the Editor

Letter to the Editor:

There are a couple of things about the CISD bond issue I would like to discuss. I have wondered all along where the opposition was in this thing, but, so far, I have not seen nor heard much. I feel sort of compelled to speak out because I think a lot of people, including some of my friends, just assume that I am supportive of it when I am really not, at least not in its present form. My friendship with anyone will not be weakened because they might disagree with me on this, and I hope the reverse is true for them. I feel that I am being less than completely honest with them by not coming out and openly stating where I stand on this.

I will admit that some of the facilities of CISD are very old and need to be replaced. My own personal feeling is that Hutch is the facility that should be replaced first. There are others. The HS band hall is completely inadequate for a band of our size and quality. I would be completely supportive of something of this nature.

But, a $30,000,000 bond issue for a AA district and a town our size is unimaginable to me. All my life in education in my roles as a teacher, principal and as Supt., when asked to fill out a list of things needed for the future, we were always asked to make our list but prioritize it because, in all likelihood, we were not going to be able to receive everything we wanted or thought we needed. In my own personal life, it was no different. I have always prioritized and had to get what I needed most first and the rest when I could afford it.

I don't know about anyone else, but in my personal life, my tax situation is worse now than it has ever been. Taking on my share of $30,000,000 in additional debt is completely incomprehensible to me. That is so much debt that I can't even begin to see the light at the end of the tunnel. This would, indeed, be a case of passing along our debt to our children. This is the type of additional expense which will, very likely, cause a family to take a good, hard second look at things they will do or buy on a monthly basis for the entire life of the debt, however long that might be. (I missed the meetings and have not seen nor heard anywhere what the life of the bond would be nor what all the $30,000,000 would be spent for, specifically. I'm thinking that 15 years would be at the absolute minimum of time and it could likely be longer. I could be wrong, that's for sure. Some of the things I have heard that some of the money is designated for are things that I don't believe I could support bond money being spent on.)

I agree with the idea that our children deserve the very best educational facilities, but I would refine it a bit. I would say that they deserve the best that we can afford to provide for them. They also deserve to enter adulthood with the opportunity to live debt-free for at least a little while.

Another idea that deserves some discussion, I think, is centered on some of the rumors running rampant around our part of the country right now. I'm speaking of the coming boom in the oil business in our part of world. If these rumors are correct, our property values are going to do nothing except increase very significantly. If these tax values go up in this manner, all this would do is lessen the burden on the average home or property owner. If the bond were passed first and then the values increased in this manner, the only tax relief, if I understand things correctly, that the taxpayers would feel would be a shortening of the bond life. In other words there would not be any decrease in the amount of taxes owed per year. No less taxes on a yearly basis is no tax relief in my book.

My suggestion — offer a smaller bond package now or in the near future. Let's support it and give the oil business time to get our district's values on up there and then take a look at something else. But, time is of the essence. The first order of business, if this idea is one that appeals to anyone, is to defeat this bond issue in November's election.

In closing, I appreciate what we have in this country — the freedom to openly discuss our feelings with others and in the newspapers. I am only stating my position on this particular issue because I think it needs to be stated and some additional discussion should take place. If the bond election fails, the district has every right to come back with another one which, hopefully, will be more in line with what we truly need and can afford. I think you for your time and consideration.

Letter to the Editor:

I want to thank all of the people who support this ministry and will support the diabetes fundraiser on October 18th at Fuller Foods. Rick Alvarez has been very kind in letting me set up and collect donations for the American Diabetes Association. I know how much Fuller Foods does for the city of Colorado.

Now I ask for the people to come and make this the best-ever collection for the diabetes efforts. I need $500 for this district. Also, there will be a table set up at the Railroad Trade Days for donations to the diabetes association. There will also be three AF-gnans available for those wanting to donate.

I know the pains and suffering that goes with diabetes. Sometimes I have to walk the floor because of the pains in my legs that won't let me sleep. Sometimes the pains are so bad that I can't hardly stand them.

So, I am grateful for every cent given. Come now on Oct. 18th and raise the $500 needed. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Jimmy Huff

Letter to the Editor:

Thank you so much for making the Pink It Up for Breast Cancer Awareness Style Show a huge success. Thank you to the local merchants who displayed in their businesses advertising the event. A thank you to Bella Jane's, The Dragonfly and Desert Rain for supplying darling clothes, accessories, decorations and a charming location for the style show.

Thanks to Robert Griffin of the Colorado Record and Jim Baum of KAUM radio for interviewing members of Beta Epsilon and running PSA's announcing the style show.

A thank you to Jill White for coordinating the PSA's, clothes and merchants, writing the scripts and getting the seats for the event. Kitten Arthur also deserves thanks for emceeing the event. Thanks to Pam Carnes, American Cancer representative from Abilene, for attending the event and bringing brochures to raise awareness of breast cancer.

We appreciate Amanda Rivera for surprising us with a beautifully created electronic display announcing the event on the sign outside of the Mitchell County Hospital. Thank you to all of the beautiful women, from toddlers to grandmothers, who volunteered to model the adorable clothes. Thanks to all of the members of Beta Epsilon for donating their time, monies and supplies to make the style show a great event.

Thank you to the members, Bella Jane's, Desert Rain and the Mitchell County Hospital Gift Shop for selling tickets. In addition, a very special thank you to Janet Mayo who spearheaded the entire project, organized everyone and kept the project on track.

But most of all, thanks to all of the community members who bought tickets, made donations and attended the style show. We have never tried a project of this magnitude and were not certain if we could pull it off, but the community helped us raise almost $900 to support the fight against breast cancer. Thank you all for your part in the success of the style show.

has usually changed hands more than once. Chances are that many residents have passed the bills themselves, completely unaware.

According to Colorado City Police investigator Kelsey Rivera, the recent bills were from a counterfeit ring in Oklahoma. A man was passing the bills in several locations.

"The bills were made by a very big organization in Oklahoma," she said. "Most of the suspects are in custody already."

Rivera said her department, with help from the secret service, was able to identify a "near-local" man passing the bills. The names of those involved are not being released at this time, due to an ongoing investigation.

According to Rivera, there have been reports of a new group passing counterfeit bills in the area as well, completely unlinked to the original ring from Oklahoma.

"That new group has been brought to our attention and they will be prosecuted as well," she said. "Also, we are experiencing a rise in forgery cases as well."

Linked together, due to their nature of theft by deception, the forgery cases seem to go hand in hand with the counterfeit bills, in the eyes of an investigator.

"No matter how you look at it, it's still theft," Rivera said. "And right now, our forgery cases are going through the roof."

She said that since check-writing software was so readily available, thieves have been using it to produce counterfeit checks. The checks appear real, either as personal or business checks, and genuinely do not raise suspicion until the routing number does not match up, once it reaches the bank.

"I have several checks being investigated right now," she said. "and one of those checks has resulted in one suspect already being in custody. We are up to $10,000 in losses due to forgery."

Rivera said she was not sure why the cases were up at this point, but she was concerned it would get worse before it got better.

their first anniversary October 22. Amy Allen will be finishing her college at San Angelo, preparing for a career in the nursing industry. She said she was proud of her husband and supported his decision to be an officer.

"As long as he comes home," she said with a tentative smile, "and as long as he always wears his vest."

While Officer Allen will do what he can to make Colorado City his new home, his wife already has a head start in that area. Her father, Colorado City resident Timothy Armenta, lives here, making the move a little easier.

contained a lot of misinformation and opinion rather than facts.

"It refers to $8 million in fluff. I believe that to be their opinion," Spencer said. "A new band hall is not fluff. We have an excellent band, with great kids. Also an art studio is not what I would call fluff either."

Superintendent Spencer said over 80 percent of the students Colorado High School were involved in extracurricular activities and those activities were partly responsible for the success rate of the school's students.

Spencer also talked about a multi-purpose facility with turf, another item described in the letter as fluff.

"It's not just about football," he said. "The things it can offer the community are just wonderful. It's a great opportunity for the community to draw people into the city. Saturday morning soccer games can be played there, the baseball and softball teams can also work out inside when the weather is bad."

Spencer also addressed the opposition of a competition gym. The unsigned letter said one already existed at the high school, along with $250,000 recently spent to renovate The Pit.

"I believe we ended up spending $275,000 all together," he said. "As far as a competition gym at the high school, we don't have one. No permanent bleachers, no bathrooms, no concession stand, that's not a competition gym. But a new competition gym, wow, besides what it brings our kids, I think it holds well for the community to host playoff games. Hopefully, everyone saw with the renovations we placed on the football stadium and how we hosted six playoff games. I think the possibility to bring playoff basketball games to the community is definitely there."

Spencer added that the new press box was almost a necessity if the community wanted to host

Officer Allen will be working the night shift for the time being, being the newest man on the roster, but he says he has no problem with that.

"I enjoy this - it's what I have always wanted to do," he said. "I am still enjoying it and I look forward to being here in Colorado City and meeting all the people here. I just want to be able to help."

Allen said though in time he might want pursue higher aspirations in law enforcement, for the time being he is completely happy working on the streets with the people.

more playoff games, stating that Snyder had put a new one in and that Big Spring had added turf as well, hoping to get some of the post season action.

"As far as the new weight room, ours simply cannot house all the athletes we have right now," Spencer added.

The letter went on to say the school spent $2.3 million on new roofs for the schools. Spencer said it was closer to $1.1 million, but of that, about $725,000 went to roofs the district would still be using.

"People had said to me we should just wait a couple years," he said. "I just read an article which said we are expecting a 20 percent rise in building costs just in the next year. No, this is the time to do it. If we wait, we may not be able to afford anything but the k-8 building."

But that seems to be what the writers of the orange correspondence want. Their letter states, "We deserve to make a choice: basics or frills. The CISD board is asking you to let them write a check that your grandchildren can't cash."

It referred to the taxpayers in this district as "Ford-types of people - not Cadillac drivers."

Spencer's response? "Our goal is the best for these kids."

Forest Service unveils task force

Prepared to work on prevention as well as fight fires

Texas A&M Forest Service on Thursday hosted an open house to showcase the Heart of Texas Task Force, one of five wildland firefighting teams strategically stationed across the state.

The Heart of Texas team — more commonly referred to as the HOT Task Force — consists of four dozers, one engine and eight wildland firefighters. It was stationed in the Killeen-McGregor area last year to better support local fire departments.

The other four task forces are in Smithville, Fredericksburg, Merkel and Fort Stockton.

"We are here to protect Texans, but we are also here to help Texans help themselves," said Tom Boggus, agency director and state forester for Texas A&M Forest Service.

Texas A&M Forest Service established task forces in 2009 after receiving approval from the 81st Legislature. The move was designed to create nimble contingents of firefighting resources that would be strategically located for incident response.

The agency can shift the teams throughout the state, staging them where dangerous fire weather conditions are predicted. The ability to preposition resources in at-risk areas decreases response times, which leads to fewer homes destroyed and lives lost.

"Stationing resources in strategic places enables rapid response and saves lives and property," said Paul Hannemann, Incident Response department head and chief regional fire coordinator for Texas A&M Forest Service.

Among the state and local dignitaries attending the open house was State Rep. Jimmie Don Aycock, whose district includes Killeen. He heralded the agency for its work both statewide and in his district.

"We've got to work on participating together, planning carefully and spending wisely," Aycock said. "TFS does a good job of that."

When not responding to wildfires, members of the HOT Task Force work on prevention and mitigation projects, establishing fire breaks around select structures, removing potentially-dangerous dead vegetation and presenting fire prevention programs to the public.

They also work with local fire departments, helping them get grant funding for needed equipment and training.

Friends of the Library finalize book sale

The Friends of the Library met Monday, October 15 at the library. Ten members were present.

The main business was the book sale coming on November 17th and 18th in conjunction with Railroad Trade Days. Hardbacks in good condition will be $1 each, and paperbacks in good condition will sell for 50 cents.

Bargain books will be 3/$1 for hardbacks and 5/$1 for paperbacks. The stock of books will be continuously replenished as they are sold.

A drawing will be held for a nice MP3 player for those who are new members at $5.00 or donate $5.00 or buy $20 worth of books. You do not have to be present to win. The winner may pick up the MP3 at the library on Monday.

The ink-jet recycling program has been a success and we will soon be accepting cell phones for recycling.

The friends encourage the use of the library and all its many facilities and available programs such as e-books.

Westbrook Fall Festival slated

Westbrook ISD's fall festival will be Friday, Oct. 19. The Junior Class will start the evening off with a steak dinner beginning at 5 p.m. which includes a steak, baked potato, green beans, dessert and a drink for $6.50 per plate. Booths, sponsored by grades PK-10th grades will open at 5:30 p.m. in the old gym. The Jr. Class' annual auction of items generously donated by local and surrounding area businesses and individuals will begin at 6 p.m. in the science lab wing of the main building. Concessions will also be provided by the junior class.

The coronation hosted by the Senior Class will be held in the auditorium beginning at 9 p.m. There will be plenty of fun for everyone, so come on out and support the students of Westbrook ISD. As always, your support is greatly appreciated.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC MEETING

Westbrook ISD will hold a public meeting on October 23, 2012 at 6:45 p.m. in the administration board room, 201 Bertner Street, Westbrook, TX.

The purpose of this meeting is to discuss Westbrook ISD's State Financial Accountability Rating

LET THE TRUMPET SOUND — Jonathan Castillo performs a trumpet solo during halftime at Friday night's varsity football game.

Burglaries plague Colorado City

Two Colorado City businesses were burgled this last week and investigators are looking to nab the guilty parties. On Wednesday, October 10, someone broke into the Alco store on Hickory Street.

"They used a ladder to gain access to the roof," Colorado City police investigator Kelsey Rivera said. "Then they came down through the roof into the store."

Rivera said nothing was taken, though the suspect(s) tried to take a television, but ran off after the alarms scared them off.

In an unrelated incident, the following night someone broke into Sassy Chix Salon on Business 1-20. This came weeks after of an attempted break in at the same location. According to Rivera, there was a lot of damage done to the store.

"There was stuff taken," she said, "but there was more damage done to the building. This leads us to believe it is unrelated to the break in at Alco."

Spencer, Kreidler speak at Garden Club meeting

By Janie Lou Greenlee
Secretary, Colorado City Garden Club

Most of the programs for the Colorado City Garden Club are to inform the members about gardening in some way, but at the October 5th meeting, they received information on the upcoming school bond proposal as well.

The first speaker was Reggy Spencer, Superintendent of Colorado ISD, who was introduced by Sally Neff, president of the CISD School Board. Spencer gave the group reasons the new school was needed and added some goals for our school system concerning the future of our students.

Mr. Spencer said one concern of most citizens was cost. He reminded the members that those 65 and older with a homestead would see no increase. Mr. Spencer said our newest building was the high school. It was built in the mid-1970s and the oldest building, Hutchinson, part of it was built in 1911. To repair all the buildings would take $15,000,000 and you would still have old buildings which make wiring for technology difficult.

With the new buildings, the school could save on yearly maintenance plus the $15 million that it would cost to remodel. That $15 million would pay half of the cost it would take to do the new buildings. Mr. Spencer said taxes going up is the only down side to the proposition, but the benefits to our children will far outweigh the cost. On an average home, the new tax would be about $1 a day. He stated that if we wanted to attract new students, we must keep up with the school systems around us.

The second speaker of the day was Bruce Kreidler. He is the owner of Broken Willow Tree Service in Abilene. He is I.S.A. Certified, Arborist, Certified Municipal Specialist, Certified Utility Specialist, Board Certified Master Arborist, Certified Texas Master Naturalist, Member of the American Society of Consulting Arborists, 2012 winner of the I.S.A. True Professional award, frequent columnist for several different papers including the Abilene Reporter News and a published author. He spoke of the effects of the drought on area trees. He stated that Texas has lost about 8% of non-urban trees, and 10% of urban trees.

Trees will continue to die for several more years because of their weakened condition. The cause was as much from the extreme hot temperatures last summer as the lack of water. He said the best way to water your trees is using a drip system to soak water deeply into the roots. Maintain them by having a professional prune them correctly.

The club discussed their part in helping with Frontier Days. Bobby Johnson and five of her committee members checked in entries, and Brooksie Raschke and her committee decorated the Civic Center for the Mitchell County Reunion. There was discussion of The Christmas Tour of Homes. Action on the matter will be taken later.

Co-Presidents Wilma Reynolds and Gay Houston will be attending the Texas Garden Club State Convention on October 10-11, 2012.

The hostesses for the day were Betty Fuller, Laverne Chalker, Georgie Griffith, and Jill White. There were 29 members and three guests, Bruce Kreidler, Reggy Spencer, and Sue Young, present. Sue Young joined the garden club.

WALK AROUND THE LAKE

By Ginny Harmon

Hi, everyone. Happy month of October already!

We were so blessed with the Lord's rain a few weeks ago. Not to be greedy, but I could stand to see at least two more straight weeks of this heaven-sent rain to fill up the lake. We would be in pretty good shape if this were to happen.

I have seen or talked to so many friends this past month. Jean Hobert and I had a lovely "catch up" visit on the phone. So glad to hear she is doing a lot better these days.

Ellen Newby called to say hi, and we had a nice visit.

Had a nice chat with Linda Archer at church Sunday. We were all treated to a beautiful song sang by Charlene Hays. Bobbie Roberts' son accompanied her on the guitar.

The Dorn Chapel is truly blessed with the special people who come in to praise the Lord.

Met a lovely lady named Pat at the service Sunday. All in all, there are so many wonderful people who attended the Sunday worship. Remember, you are all invited to come visit any Sunday at 9:00 a.m.

Pastor Abbott's wife, Mary-Ann, will be having heart surgery on November 2nd. Please keep her and the whole family in your prayers.

Ed, Vickie and I got our flu shots. After 30 something years, this is the first time we have all felt under the weather afterwards. I do still strongly recommend that you all get your flu shot. The side effects will be nothing compared to getting the full version of the flu.

Predictions are that this flu season may be a rough one.

I try to sit on the east porch as many mornings as I can. We have had such beautiful mornings lately. Each morning I see Linda Baum, the now famous cat, run down to the lake and climb a tree.

While she is going up, Waylon and Willie are scampering down. These little squirrels are getting so big! It's like a game of tag each morning I see them. I haven't seen their mom, Dolly, in a while. I am sure she is hunting food for her kids. These are fun mornings.

Linda Baum brings me such joy. A side note here: As I am writing this out this afternoon, Linda B is sitting right on the pages I am trying to complete. She knows I am writing about her.

Come on, Linda B...move it over a little.

I almost forgot to mention that Marion Hays was also at church, Sunday. Marion, Ed and I thought you looked great, and it was so good to see you.

Got my hair done at Bren's on Saturday. Saw my dear friends Doris and Bill from Sterling City. Every time I see Doris I think to myself that that is how I want to look in my next life. She is truly a beautiful lady!

Bill shared that they came over for the Boer Goat Cook-off. Even though the weather was a bit cool, they had a wonderful time.

Brenda Shifflett shared that her husband, Charley, has been down in his back for a while. We wish you well and send love and prayers that you are feeling better very, very soon.

I must add that Brenda is a kind and warm person. I enjoy going into town each Saturday to see her and laugh about anything and nothing. What a good friend she is to me and Ed and to all that know her.

Please keep the following dates on your calendar:

The Dorn Chapel will be having their annual Thanksgiving Dinner on November 11, 2012 at 12:30 p.m. Please come join in this meal to give thanks for all we have and are blessed with.

On December 8, 2012 at 6:30 p.m., the annual old fashioned Christmas program will be held to open the season of joy and peace of the birth of our Lord. Gifted singers, talented musicians and a puppet show for the children will be among the entertainment for the evening. Dana Moody and Sharon Culp are in charge of this year's program. Food and fellowship will be served immediately after the program. All are invited to attend. I have been asked to sing a special and if God is willing, I will. Bro. Horace will be sharing his gift of playing the piano for all of us to enjoy!

I was so saddened to hear about the Loraine Senior Citizen Center closing. I pray our dear Lord will provide a miracle and help us find a way to keep this wonderful facility open. Billie Powell is pulling deeper in her faith that something good will happen. God bless Loraine!

In the past weeks, I have had two major tests done and I am happy to report that they have both came out wonderfully. Praise you, Jesus!

Sharon Mayberry is doing great! She did share that Jack, of the famous donkey duo of Jack and Jill, may be feeling under the weather for about a week or so. She and Jack had "the talk", and she explained that there will be no more baby donkeys surprising her and Ron again.

He (Jack, not Ron) took it well and in the background she could swear she saw Jill grinning as big as Texas.

Halloween is right around the corner. It is one of my favorite times of the year besides Christmas. As a child, I would go "Trick or Treating". It was not as popular as it is now, but we still went to every house on the block and were thrilled at what we brought home.

If we had three suckers, a popcorn ball and some candy corn, well, we were just walking in high cotton. Of course now, the children fill their buckets or pillowcases to the top! We even made our own costumes. One year, I went as Martha Washington and my friends dressed like ghosts.

Look at some of the costumes the kids wear now. Wow! Life certainly has changed, and we expect it too. But we always had fun and were never afraid to eat the candy we received or stay out past dark or fear that anyone would harm us.

Again, I say that part of life has changed...sadly.

My mother, God rest her soul, made the worst fudge, and we all knew it. But, at Halloween, she would give out this delicacy, and all the kids would say it was the best they ever had. Some would say it was "yummy".

There were many times I wondered why after Halloween, my friend list would dwindle...you don't think it was because of...nawwww...neither do I.

Okay, my friends, I have a confession. I am addicted to the "Real Housewives" from anywhere. (Orange County is my fav, I must admit) I do get razzed by Ed and Vickie because all these women do is fight and argue and collect their million dollars for doing so in front of all of America to see.

Ed refuses to watch TV with me while this is on. Vickie does not blame him one bit. So, I will continue to watch, by myself, because I simply cannot give up the excitement.

I will leave Ed to his football and sports and Vickie to whatever she watches and just let them ask me...one time...what is going on in the world of the crazy women in the world of make believe.

Presley Victoria is 4 months old, now. She laughs out loud, coos and is the apple of Ed's eye. She still brings such joy to us. Sadly, we do not see her everyday like we used to.

Jenn and the kids have moved into town into a lovely, big house and we miss them so much. But, we are so happy for her and the kiddos. They will still go to Westbrook and are loving it there!

We would like to welcome Mr. and Mrs. John Clegg to Colorado City. They live off of Lake County Road 256.

And come November 6, 2012, please get out to vote! Early voting starts October 22 at the county courthouse. Stop by and tell Brenda Kelly hello and VOTE!

Happy Halloween to everyone! See you next month.

WE'VE BEEN GIVEN NO CHOICE!

Most of us agree that there is a need for a new school, but before you vote yes to the $29.9 million bond, ask yourselves why we've only been given one option....should we not have a choice when it comes to what WE, the taxpayers, are being asked to pay for????

Do you really think we need:

$8 million plus going towards:

- *New Band Hall
- *New Art Studio
- *New Weight Room
- *New Competition Gym (remember the pit has recently been remodeled)
- *Multi-Purpose facility w/indoor Astroturf

$400,000 plus going towards:

- *Visitors side press box
- *Remodeled home side press box
- *Field House Additions
- *New Bleachers
- *Concession Stand remodel

Vote NO and send a message to the CISD School Board that we want a more affordable option brought to the table next election cycle!

4-H Jr. Leadership Retreat to be held

Younger 4-H members, ages 9-14, will have an opportunity to hone their skills in several 4-H programming areas during the Junior Leadership Retreat set Nov. 9-11 at the Texas 4-H Conference Center on Lake Brownwood.

"The Junior Leadership Retreat features Texas 4-H Council members conducting hands-on educational workshops with younger 4-H members," said Mark Carroll, conference center program director. "This year's program will focus on increasing knowledge and skills in five 4-H project areas, golf challenge, food show/recipe rally, science engineering and technology, sport fishing and the any soldier project."

Carroll said the retreat starts with registration at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 9, followed by general orientation at 9 p.m., with adult chaperone orientation at 9:30 p.m.

November 10 activities start at 7:30 a.m., followed by a flag ceremony and breakfast, with the first of the day's three general assemblies beginning at 8:30 a.m. Adjournment is set for 11 a.m. Nov. 11.

Carroll stressed that each county sending 4-H youth to the retreat must provide adult chaper-

Students of the Week are named at Hutchinson Elementary

Students of the Week at Hutchinson Elementary are Jonathan Connell, Madison Sims, and Matthew Madrid.

Jonathan is a 3rd grader in Mrs. Jones' class. He enjoys playing with Transformers as a hobby, and math is his favorite subject. His favorite thing about Hutchinson is the Challenge Chains.

Madison is a 4th grader in Ms. Lindsey's class. Reading is her hobby, and math is her favorite subject. Learning new things is her favorite thing about the school.

Matthew is a 5th grader in Ms. Stone's class. He enjoys playing video games after school, and math is his favorite subject. He also says learning is his favorite thing about Hutchinson Elementary School.

School bond is topic of Retired Teachers meeting

By Janie Lou Greenlee
Secretary, Mitchell
County Retired Teachers

On October 8th, Reggy Spencer, Superintendent of Colorado ISD, spoke to the Mitchell County Retired School Personnel on the reasons Colorado City needs a new school, what the school needs, what it will cost, and when.

As for why, Spencer stated that the oldest school in the district is Hutchinson Elementary which parts of were built in 1911. Middle school was built in 1924; Wallace School 1953; and high school 1976. All were built before technology was necessary for the children to use in their studies.

Now there is no way to update the wiring to an acceptable level. Many places are fire hazards. Science has been added to the STAR Test. Middle school, Hutchinson and Kelley need science labs.

The expenses on upkeep on the old buildings are very high. To get them up to state requirements is also expensive. One school has termites, and in others the plumbing is a disaster. It will take about $15 million, half of the cost of building new buildings, to get them patched up and the community would still have old buildings. Another reason he offered was bringing people to our community.

Spencer said our students deserve the best that we can give them to prepare them for the future, like schools that have enough space. Kelley Elementary had the most growth this year. If they grew the same amount next year, there are no more rooms for the new students. Temporary buildings would have to be brought in for them. There is no space for technology in the old buildings. There is no storage for Kelley and Hutchinson.

We must prepare for the safety for our students. The new schools will have all outside doors locked and visitors will be buzzed in from the entrance.

The cost of the project will be just over $29 million. In taxpayer dollars, that would be about $1.00 per day raise on a home with an evaluation of $125,000. Those people 65 years and older would not see any increase if they have a homestead exemption. The reason this is a good time to build is because interest rates are at an all-time low, and construction costs are at a 10-year low. Therefore, we will be getting more for our money.

Some asked questions about the new gym at Colorado High School. Spencer stated that the gym would bring revenue into Colorado City. The renovation done to Wolf Stadium last year brought in estimated $100,000 revenue into the community through six playoff games. As for using other existing property, he stated that the plans are to keep the middle school facilities to use for the accelerated school. In addition, the community would still be able to use the facilities for other things. The Pit gym will be used for overflow games and tournaments.

The MCRSP enjoyed Spencer's PowerPoint presentation and lunch at La Fe. There were 17 members and two guests, Reggy Spencer and Terri Robben, present. The meeting adjourned at 1:45 pm.

October is Head Start Awareness Month

Every day nearly one million children across the country walk through the doors of their local Head Start center and begin working, playing and learning their way toward school readiness success in Kindergarten and in life. In the Region 14 Education Service Center area, this includes over 350 children, birth to 5 years old. This month Region 14 Education Service Center Head Start and others like it across the country will join together to celebrate and strengthen the nation's awareness of the Head Start Program.

Created in 1965, Head Start is the most successful, longest-running, national school readiness program in the United States. It provides comprehensive education, health, nutrition and parent engagement services to income-eligible families and their children.

Head Start families have long recognized the positive effects the program has on their children. On average, Head Start graduates rank higher in language, literacy, social conduct and physical development than their non-Head Start peers. Head Start children are also significantly more likely to complete high school and attend college than those who did not participate in the program. With more than 28 million alumni to date, Head Start is making a positive impact on the lives of eligible pre-school children across the country.

Region 14 Education Service Center Head Start serves ten school districts in eight counties. We have 18 Head Start classrooms with children ages 3 & 4; 14 Early Head Start classrooms with children birth to 3 years old. These school districts are Albany, Anson, Breckenridge, Colorado City, Hamlin, Haskell, Merkel, Rotan, Stamford and Sweetwater.

For information on enrollment & eligibility, please contact Region 14 Education Service Center Head Start at 325-675-8685, or Kelley Elementary at 325-728-3471.

TO THE HOUSE — Nathan Jackson breaks free and goes 48 yards for the game winning touchdown Friday night at Wolf Stadium. Jackson scored all three of Colorado City's touchdowns.

Wolves win district opener with 20-13 defeat of ballinger

The Colorado Wolves overcame a huge obstacle in Friday night's district opener at Wolf Stadium, as Nathan Jackson scored three times and the team rallied for a 20-13 victory.

Ballinger came into the game 5-0, but left with their first loss of the season at the hands of Jackson and the Wolves. The Colorado City senior opened the Wolves' scoring as he returned the kickoff to start second half 86 yards for his first of three touchdowns on the night.

After a Mark Henderson touchdown was called back on a penalty, Ballinger scored on a pick-6 interception, making for a 14-point swing in a matter of seconds. The Wolves responded by driving the field for another Jackson touchdown, this one from 14 yards out.

After returning a punt to the Wolves 48 yard line in the fourth quarter, Jackson put the Wolves on top two plays later, when broke free and went 49 yards for a game-winning touchdown.

"I was really pleased the way the team came together after the interception," head coach Frank Johnson said. "You never know what kind of team you really have until they are faced with something like that. They responded very well."

Jackson finished the game with 99 yards of rushing on 12 carries, followed by Henderson with 40 yards on 14 carries.

Henderson was 12 out of 17 for 128 yards in the air, hitting three receivers. Rylan Gardner, instrumental in the game-tying drive, caught 6 passes for 69 yards, while Corbin Castillo seemed to find his feet again, catching four passes for 42 yards. Jonathan Jackson caught one pass for 18 yards.

Josh Sutton went 2-3 on extra points in the game.

"I feel like we played a full four quarters in this one," Coach Johnson said. "Ballinger has not had to do that this season and we had them worn out pretty good by the end of the game."

Johnson names Nathan Jackson as the Player of the Week in special teams and on offense.

"He scored all three touchdowns, including the kick return," Johnson said. "The final touchdown was set up by his punt return as well. He had a great game."

On defense, Johnson recognized the work of Sutton and Jaime Espinoza.

"Josh (Sutton) led the team in tackles," he said, "but that was due largely to the work of Jaime Espinoza. Jaime was being double-teamed all night and he was making them work at it. That freed Sutton up a lot and let him and Jake Johnson make a lot of tackles."

Johnson awarded the Monster Hit award to David Garza for what he describes as "two huge hits on special teams."

The 4-2 (District 1-0) Wolves will be on the road this week, taking on the 5-1 (1-0 in district) Hamilton Bulldogs. The game starts at 7:30 p.m. in Hamilton.

Wolves face Hamilton, both 1-0

They're big, they're mean and quite frankly, they are scary. The Hamilton Bulldogs, like the Colorado Wolves, are sitting atop District 4-2A with a 1-0 record after defeating Coleman Friday night to the tune of 24-6. Wolves' head coach Frank Johnson said most of the team was over six feet tall and weighed between 190 and 200 pounds.

Before the season began, Texas Football magazine predicted Hamilton to make the playoffs this year, along with Colorado City and district favorite Cisco. All three teams won this last week, but no one is out of the woods just yet and the order certainly has not been established.

"I'm not ready to crown Cisco or anyone else in this district just yet," Wolves head coach Frank Johnson said. "Hamilton is a really good football team, especially on defense, but I like our chances."

The Bulldogs should come out in their standard Slot T formation, running north and south with two backs that Johnson said had some speed.

The Bulldogs have allowed an average of 11 points per game by their opponents, scoring 26 of their own. They aren't overly speedy, but their size can wear a team down with slow, purposeful drives.

Coach Johnson said some keys to winning Friday night began with making the Bulldogs change their game.

"We want to make them run east and west, spreading out their running game," he said. "We also want to use some time off the clock ourselves and limit their offensive possessions."

Coach Johnson added he was also hoping Hamilton has not been hit as hard as the Wolves intend to hit them.

"We saw that with Ballinger," he said. "They weren't ready to play four quarters and we were. We intend to go out and hit somebody in Hamilton, maybe knock them off their game."

The Wolves are averaging 21 points per game, which falls right in line with Hamilton and presents what could be the game of the year, as far as closeness goes, maybe even closer than the win in Breckenridge.

It's a long trip so give yourself plenty of time to reach Hamilton before the 7:30 p.m. kickoff.

All sub-varsity games against Hamilton, including middle school games, will be played Thursday in Coleman with successive games, beginning at 5 p.m.

Loraine takes a tough loss

The Loraine Bulldogs ran into a tough squad Friday night in the Newcastle Bobcats. The Bulldogs' Tim Garza found the end zone late in the third quarter on a four yard run, before providing the extra points himself. Unfortunately for the 3-4 Loraine, it would be the last time they saw the end zone in the game.

Newcastle rang up the points, scoring 12, 22 and 20 in the first three quarters, before the game was called due to the 45-point rule.

Jr. Bulldogs stumble

The Loraine Jr. High Bulldogs fell on Thursday to Borden County. Jacoby Williams scored on a 31-yard fumble recovery in the first frame. An extra-point run by Brandon Lara put the Bulldogs up 8-7 at the end of the quarter. But Loraine would not see the end zone again until the fourth quarter, with Borden County scoring 25 unanswered points in the two middle frames.

The Bulldogs opened up the game's final frame with a 15-yard

Loraine had a total of 146 offensive yards in the game, with 99 coming on the ground.

Ricky Cantu led the Bulldogs with seven tackles, a fumble recovery and two blocked extra-point kicks.

Tristan Mosher and Cody Halton each had five tackles in the game.

Loraine will be off this weekend, as they prepare for their district opener in Lueders/Avoca October 26. That game is set to kick off at 7:30 p.m.

Lara touchdown run. After Borden County scored immediately afterward, Lara scored again when he ran back the kickoff for a 70-yard touchdown. His two scores came 22 seconds apart.

Lara would go on to lead the Bulldogs in rushing, accumulating 39 yards and a touchdown on 19 carries.

Defensively, Oscar Gonzales led the team with six tackles. Williams had two tackles to go along with his scoring fumble recovery.

Westbrook cross country competes

The Westbrook Wildcats started their cross country season with a trip to Anson on September 19th. Teams participating in this meet were Westbrook, Haskell, Breckenridge, Merkel, Roscoe, Anson, Eula, Baird, Stamford and Lueders-Avoca.

The varsity girls team of Kenzey McKay Morris, Shannon Taylor Morris, Kaylea Holbrook, Reanna Krapf, Madison Anderson, Kat Rivera, Chelsey Lamb and Sarah Andrews earned 4th place overall as a team. Haskell won the team title, Breckenridge won runner-up and 3rd went to Merkel.

The Lady Cats beat Roscoe, Anson, Eula, Baird and Stamford. There were 92 girls running in the varsity division. Three individual Lady Cats that deserve recognition include freshman Shannon Morris placing 17th with a time of 13:46.

Her senior sister Kenzey came through next with 23rd and ran a 13:53. Junior Kaylea Holbrook placed 28th with a time of 13:59.

The JH girls were separated into 7th and 8th grade divisions. The 8th grade division placed 4th and the team's placing was exactly the same as the varsity. The 8th grade girls team consists of Georgianna Rivera, Kelcee Witte, Baylee Raff, Brianna Lathers, Katie Rees, Emily Whiteley and Shea Hale. There were 78 girls running in this division. Three of the girls placed in the top 20, starting with Georgianna Rivera placing 17th (15:44), Kelcee Witte placing 18th (15:46) and Baylee Raff placing 19th (15:50). Other scorers were 39th Brianna Lathers (17:20), 40th Katie Rees (17:20.7), 42nd Emily Whiteley (17:51) and 51st Shea Hale (18:56).

The 7th grade girls division is made up of Cheyenne Reyes, Kierra Witte, Hannah Bishop, Kaci Ferris and Brae Boedeker. They placed 8th overall as a team. There were 86 girls running in this division. Two individuals worth mentioning were 29th Cheyenne Reyes (17:09) and 32nd Kierra Witte (17:21).

The JH boys division was not separated by grades. The JH Wildcat team was Robert Booth, Austin Buckalew, Taylor Anderson, Rowdy Morris, Alejandro Chavez III and Caton Ferris. There were 60 runners in this division and the Wildcats placed 4th overall as a team. Individual results are: 17th Robert Booth (13:46), 24th Austin Buckalew (14:42), 26th Taylor Anderson (14:54), 34th Rowdy Morris (15:49), 43rd Alejandro Chavez III (16:43) and 53rd Caton Ferris (18:10).

The Westbrook Wildcats teams traveled to San Angelo's state park to participate in a meet thrown by Cornerstone Christian Academy on October 6th. Despite the cold, rainy conditions of the day the Varsity Girls team of Kenzey McKay Morris, Shannon Taylor Morris, Kaylea Holbrook, Reanna Krapf, Madison Anderson, and Kat Rivera placed 3rd overall as a team. Teams running at this meet included Westbrook, Irion County, Trent, Eden, Christoval, Eldorado, Robert Lee, Cornerstone, Veribest, Rankin, Winters, Cumbria Academy and San Angelo Christian Academy. There were a total of 68 runners in this division. Two Lady Cats got medals. To achieve a medal you must come in 1st through 15th. Kaylea Holbrook lead the Cats placing 6th (14:05), Kenzey McKay Morris wasn't too far behind at 8th (14:14) and Shannon Taylor Morris just missed getting a medal placing 16th (14:41). Other runners were 26th Reanna Krapf (15:18), 59th Madison Anderson (18:51) and 60th Kat Rivera (19:05).

The varsity boys fared well running and placing 28th Ian Hale (20:09), 32nd Michael Watson (20:52), and 38th Chris Gomez (21:35).

The JH girls team ran together in this meet and placed 5th overall. There were 87 runners in this division. Kelcee Witte led the team with 20th (15:31) with Georgianna Rivera just behind her at 22nd (15:47). Cheyenne Reyes improved her time by one minute and placed 32nd (16:18). Brianna Lathers also improved her time by one minute, placing 37th (16:37). Other participants were Kierra Witte, Brae Boedeker, Kaci Ferris and Shea Hale.

The JH boys team ran together and tied for 3rd place team title with Eldorado. There were 48 runners in this division. Leading the Wildcats was J. Lopez, who snatched his medal with 14th place (14:30). His teammates weren't far behind him with Taylor Anderson placing 17th (15:04) and John Rey placing 19th (15:09). Austin Buckalew came in 22nd (15:18), Cutter Williams 26th (15:35), Chris Chavez 28th (15:45), Alejandro Chavez III 37th (16:48) and Caton Ferris 45th (19:41).

Wolves JV buries Bearcats

The Colorado City JV squad made short work of the Ballinger Bearcats Thursday night, cruising to a 36-13 win, scoring on offense and defense.

Andrew Burrola had two interceptions, while Brandon Nava and Isaiah Jennings each had one, as the stingy Wolves' defense shut down the Bearcats high-powered offense. Burrola took one of his picks to the house, going 58 yards for a fourth quarter touchdown.

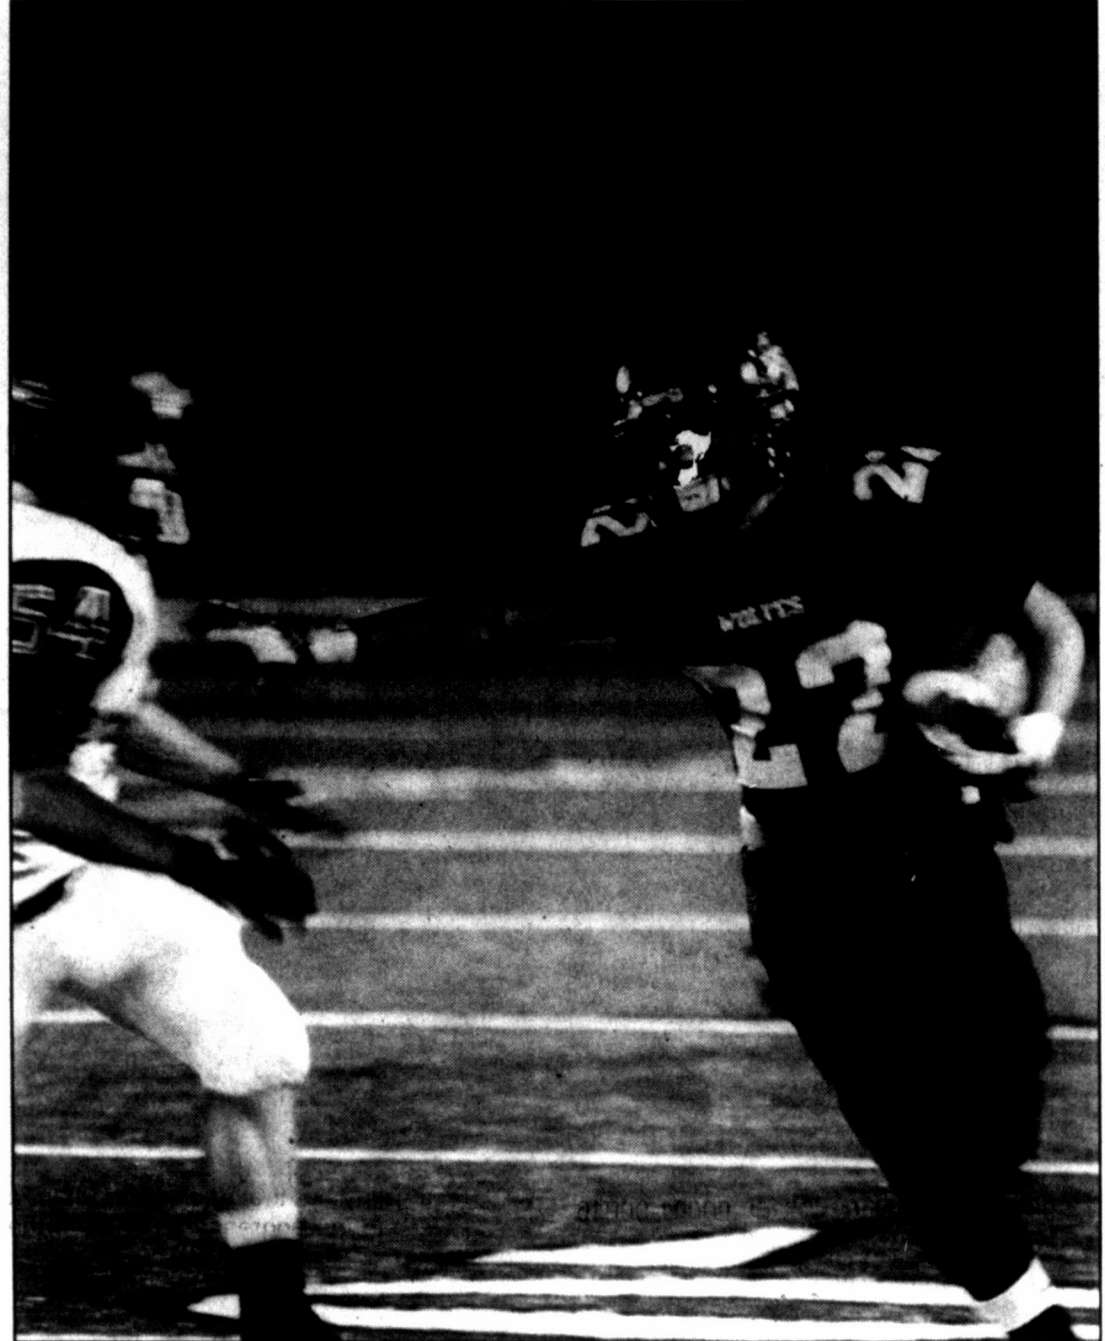

On offense, it was a who's who in the end zone for Colorado City. Jennings opened the game up with a 45 yard touchdown run. Mark Munoz snagged a Trinnon Jackson pass for a 10-yard touchdown reception in the first quarter as well.

Ballinger found the end zone twice in the game's second quarter, one on a pick-6 interception, but it would be the last time they saw the scoreboard light up in their favor. Jackson hit Jennings on a 26-yard crossing route to end the first half and take the momentum back.

The second half was all Wolves, as Jackson and Brandon Thomas each scored in the third quarter. Then it was Burrola's interception which took all the fight out of the Bearcats.

The Wolves' JV squad is 1-0 in district as they prepare to take on Hamilton Thursday night in Goleman.

BACK OFF — Varsity Wolves running back Nathan Jackson uses a stiff arm to ward off a would-be tackler Friday night at Wolf Stadium, as the Wolves took down the 5-0 Ballinger Bearcats to the tune of 20-13. Jackson scored once on a kick off return and twice on the ground, including the game winner with four minutes left in the game's final frame.

October Breast Cancer Awareness Month

To help promote the importance of early detection, Cogdell Memorial Hospital is offering a $50 special on mammogram screenings for all women 40 years old and older during the month of October.

No insurance filed and no physician order is necessary. Call 325-574-7441 today to schedule an appointment.

MAMMOGRAPHY SCREENING REMAINS THE BEST AVAILABLE METHOD TO DETECT BREAST CANCER EARLY.

We combine Selenia full-field digital mammography with a new breast cushion, MammoPad® that dramatically eases the discomfort many women feel when they get a mammogram. MammoPad and digital mammography together, provide a more positive experience for women.

LORAINE NEWS

By Sandra Graham
Loraine Correspondent

"I will love thee, O Lord, my strength. The Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer; my God, my strength, in whom will I trust; my buckler, and the horn of my salvation, and my high tower." Psalm 18: 1 & 2

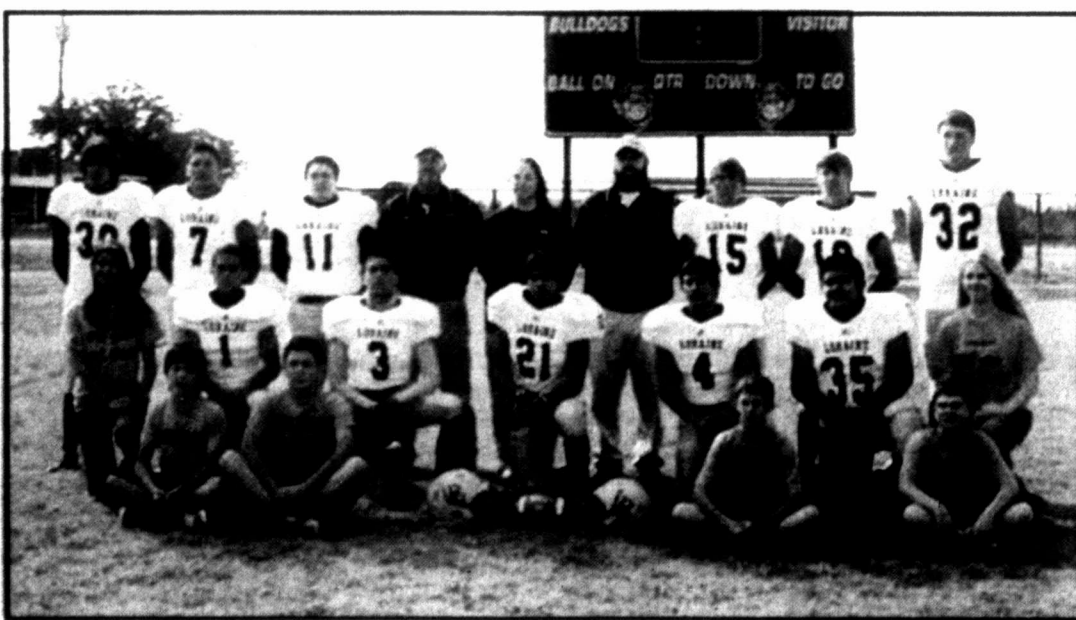

Greetings, everyone. Hope you have had a good week.

First I would like to apologize to the family of Ina Vay McAdams for any discomfort. I misunderstood when I got the call about Vida Mae McDaniels; and would still like to send condolences to the McDaniels family. Once again, I'm sorry for any misunderstandings.

At this time I would like to thank everyone for their prayers last week. My angiogram went really well and I didn't need any stents. I give all the honor and glory to God for healing me.

Hope to have a lot of news next week. If anyone has something they would like to include please call me at 325-728-8733.
