Levees Of Trinity River Sandbagged To Prevent Break

(By The Associated Press)

Hundreds of sweating men toiled at Rosser today, sandbagging the levees of the rampaging Trinity river to brace them against a dreaded break.

At places, the swollen river lapped within 16 inches of the top of the dike, Richard McMurray, Associated Press reporter said.

Rosser is 30 airline miles and about 100 winding river miles below Dallas.

High Crest Seen

At 8:30 a. m., the river at Highway 34, two miles downstream from Rosser, stood at 36.90.

The official prediction was that the river would crest in the neighborhood of 40 to 41 feet but seasoned river men in this section thought it would be lower.

Great gaps in levees near Hutchins, 10 miles south of Dallas and opposite Ferris in northern Ellis county, relieved pressure in this section considerably.

The men at Rosser were trying to save crops on land so rich that it is called the "Texas valley of the Nile."

The Trinity in flood left death and destruction at Fort Worth and lighter damage at Dallas.

Dikes Are Broken

The muddy water broke through dikes at Hutchins, 10 miles south of Dallas, and at Ferris, in northern Ellis county, and rolled over many bottom-lands.

At Rosser—90 miles from Dallas as the winding river flows—the flood surged against weakening levees that are supposed to protect 40,000 to 50,000 acres of rich Ellis and Kaufman county farm lands. It is near Rosser that the gorged East Fork will dump its debris-laden crest into the swollen main stream.

Residents of the area worked all Wednesday night clearing out livestock and personal belongings.

But in the path of the flood lay fields of wheat and small grains almost ready for the harvesters, two-inch stands of cotton and foot-high corn.

Damage Is Repaired

James A. Cotton, engineer in charge of the Army engineers suboffice in Fort Worth, said the water last night was about three feet from the tops of levees in northern Ellis county. It was rising three inches an hour.

Meanwhile, Fort Worth started shaking the water off its back.

The main problems were restoring the drinking water supply to Texas' fourth largest city, cleaning up muck and rebuilding the levees that gave way to let the river drive 13,200 people from their homes, drown 10 and cause

Floods Again Hit Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 20 (AP)—Overnight rains brought on new flood problems for Oklahoma today. Streams spread out over large areas.

Thousands were driven from their homes and crop and property damage mounted steadily.

A flash flood on Cottonwood creek dealt a severe blow to Guthrie, 30 miles north of Oklahoma City.

Red Cross workers counted more than 1,000 homeless after the swollen creek sent a wall of water surging through the center of the town.

Several persons were believed missing as houses floated away. Water was seven feet deep in one block. City officials reported 30 blocks in Guthrie underwater.

New Overflows Seen

The Cimarron, North Canadian and Washita rivers and their backwaters caused the major flooding.

The Arkansas was expected to overflow at several points in east ern Oklahoma today.

Rivers observers said they expected serious trouble from the Arkansas.

Many state highways were closed.

Tornadoes put a scare into several communities near Bartlesville

Secretary On Way To Paris Big Four Meet

U. S. Will Guard Recovery Efforts Of West Germany

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Secretary of State Acheson left for the Paris foreign ministers meeting today bearing President Truman's best wishes and pledged to a firm policy in dealing with the Russians on Germany.

The President was at the airport to see Acheson off at 11:05 p. m. (CST) Mr. Truman shook hands with the secretary and then turned to reporters, saying:

"I wish him luck."

Mr. Truman was asked whether he thought the Paris meeting would be an auspicious occasion.

"No Compromise" Pledged

"That remains to be seen' the President said. "You can tell more about it after it has been in session a while."

Pressed further, Mr. Truman referred reporters to Acheson's statement pledging a "no compromise" stand in the talks with the Soviets on Germany's future.

In a pre-departure statement he made clear that his primary concern will be not an east-west agreement on Germany made just for the sake of agreeing. Instead he spoke of a determination to protect the economic recovery and political stability of all western Europe in which Germany plays a vital part.

New Problem Seen

"We shall neglect no real opportunity for increasing the area of solution and transquility in the world," Acheson declared. "At the same time, we shall not barter away success achieved (in western Germany and western Europe) for the sake of promises which might again prove to be illusory as they too often have in the past."

In his last rounds of preparation for the Paris meeting, Acheson was confronted with a new problem: What attitude to take before the world on Russia's apparent bid for a settlement of the Greek civil war? News of the bid was circulated today by the Russian News agency, Tass.

While Tass denied there had been any talks for including the Greek question on the work schedule for Paris, there was an obvious significance to the matter in the whole East-West conflict. Caution was the prompt Washington reaction to the Russian proposal.

Acheson's departure today was

Three Hurt In Auto Accident

Three persons were injured at 11 a. m. today when two automobiles were in collision at Thirteenth and Ave. W.

R. O. Christesson, police radio car patrolman, said a car driven by O. B. Nichols, 32, an oil field worker of 2305 Thirteenth, proceeding eastward on Thirteenth rammed one driven southward on Ave. W by Raymond A. Coker, 44, of Lubbock route 3 in the right side.

Car Flipped Over

The Coker car was "flipped completely over on its top," Christesson said, adding that "a charge of negligent collision by excessive speed" will be filed against Nichols.

Nichols, Coker and J. C. Green, about 23, of 617 Ave. N, were taken to hospitals for examination and treatment—Nichols and Green by Bryan McDonald and Son ambulance to St. Mary's, Coker by Rix ambulance to West Texas hospital.

Noted Flier Arrives In Lubbock For VFW Convention Saturday

By BILL CLARK
Journal Staff Writer

Capt. James H. Morris, co-pilot of "Lucky Lady II," the superbomber which flew non-stop around the world, arrived in Lubbock late this morning.

His arrival was the first event which heralded an annual district 7 convention of Veterans of Foreign Wars in Lubbock Saturday and Sunday.

Capt. Morris arrived by transport plane at Lubbock Air Force base after departing from Tucson, Ariz., early today. He will be a principal speaker at the convention, which is expected to attract more than 300 foreign service veterans from the South Plains and West Texas.

The convention opens Saturday morning and will continue through Sunday.

Sets Flight Record

The Lucky Lady II took off from Fort Worth Feb. 28 and landed March 2 after a 94-hour non-stop flight around the world. The "Lady" and her crew are from the 43rd Bomb wing (M) stationed at Davis-Monthan Air Force base, Tucson, Ariz., an Eighth Air Force Strategic Air command unit.

The convention will draw out-of-the-district delegates from Amarillo, Dumas, Abilene, Plainview, Odessa and Wichita Falls. District posts which are expected to have representation are Tahoka, Denver City, Levelland, Lamesa, Lorenzo, Morton, Slaton, Brownfield, Post and Spur.

The convention opens at 10 a. m. Saturday with registration in the post home.

A caucus of district post commanders will be conducted at 2 p. m. Saturday. The resolutions committee and nominating committee will meet in the Pine room of Lubbock hotel from 3 until 6 p. m. Saturday.

Dance Is Scheduled

From 6:30 until 7:30 p. m. the ladies auxiliary will hold a tea and reception in the lounge of the post home. A dance in the main ballroom there will feature music by Burl Hubbard and his orchestra from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m.

Sunday registration will con-

Solon Blasts Probe Of Massacre Trials

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP) — Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) today angrily quit the Senate group investigating the Malmedy trials and blasted it for "attempting to whitewash a shameful episode" in armed forces history.

McCarthy, a World War II Marine veteran, has been at odds with Senator Baldwin (R-Conn), chairman of the group looking into the trial of Nazi soldiers charged with massacring American prisoners of war during the Battle of the Bulge.

The Wisconsin lawmaker issued two bitter statements—one for the press, another for the Senate record—in which he accused Baldwin's armed services subcommittee of "a deliberate attempt to avoid the facts."

WATER WELLS POLLUTED HERE

Health Department Continues Typhoid Vaccination Project

By OPAL DIXON
Journal Staff Writer

The first big scale typhoid immunization project ever conducted in Lubbock county resulting directly from recent flood conditions—continued today in additions east of Lubbock having no piped-water and which depend upon wells for their supply.

More than 700 children and adults of Morrow, Whitehead, Puckett and Avinger additions have been immunized against typhoid in the last two weeks, said Gerald Jarvis, director of the City-County Department of Public Health established here a few months ago, the department is now undertaking its biggest program to date in guarding public health.

Dr. Fred P. Kallina, county health officer, and director of the immunization program, said if proper precautions are taken there need be no danger to persons in water contaminated areas.

Many Wells Polluted

Many of the wells were polluted when flood water got into the wells. In some areas, outdoor toilets were in use and a pronounced danger resulted.

The cit-county department has condemned an estimated 75 to 100 wells, said Jarvis. In cases of private wells used only by the owners the families were told they could use the wells only "at danger to their own lives."

In case of wells serving more than one family and classified as public, a state penalty is provided for use of the well, if condemned.

Most well owners have been able to treat the wells and get good samples following treatment. Others are getting water from unpolluted sources.

Water Still Standing

Water still stands in two residential areas east of the city.

This morning, representatives of various organizations were cooperating in giving typhoid vaccine to students of East Broadway school.

Jarvis said purpose of the program is not to take over the work

Contempt Adjudged; Nall Goes To Jail

Judge G. V. Pardue this morning adjudged J. G. Nall, 33, in contempt of a June 3, 1946, child support order of his 99th district court and ordered Nall to county jail until he has:

1. Spent three days of imprisonment.
2. Paid a fine of $100.
3. Paid the court costs.
4. Paid $1,294.70 in delinquent child support.

Moreover, Judge Pardue warned the defendant, "if you ever get all this done and get out of jail, you must pay $45 a month toward support of those four children, just as you've been ordered to do heretofore."

To top today's action, Nall faces indictment for child desertion, court officials said.

He was arrested May 3 at Anson, the sheriff's department said, after letters "had been sent out to various Texas officials asking for his arrest on the indictment."

One of the children must be kept in bed almost every hour of the day, a sheriff's deputy said.

McGrath Pleased At Conger Choice For Federal Post

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 20.—President Truman today appeared to have broken the ice on southern appointments with his nomination of Abraham Benjamin Conger, as federal judge in Georgia.

Conger was recommended by Senator George (D-Ga), vigorous foe of the President's Civil Rights program and one of the Democrats who has refused to go along with Mr. Truman's request for $4,000,000,000 in new taxes.

The President's action in sending the nomination to the Senate yesterday was widely interpreted as a victory for those in the Democratic party who have counseled against trying to punish Dixie lawmakers who didn't get out and root for the President in last year's campaign.

McGrath 'Pleased'

Democratic National Chairman J. Howard McGrath, as leader of this group, has been trying his best to patch up the breach which the Civil Rights issue caused between the southerners and the main body of the party.

McGrath, who went to bat at the White House for George on the nomination, told a reporter he was "very pleased" at the President's decision to appoint Conger.

The action also made it seem that Mr. Truman wasn't laying down an iron-clad rule when he said recently that those who don't support his program in Congress can't expect a voice in patronage, or job dispensing, matters.

Patronage Is Issue

At that time, the President hinted that House members who didn't vote for the administration's substitute for the Taft-Hartley labor law would find themselves out in the cold as far as patronage is concerned.

McGrath is known to have insisted in party conferences there should be no attempt by the administration to slap at Dixie lawmakers such as George. Those so classified obviously didn't want Mr. Truman as the party standard bearer but made no open fight against him after he was nominated.

Showers Forecast For South Plains

After a welcome day of fair weather Thursday cloudy conditions were expected to return to the South Plains today and Saturday.

A few widely-scattered showers were predicted for late today by the Lubbock weather bureau, which also forecast slightly higher winds.

Today's high temperature was expected to be 88 degrees, the same as Thursday's top reading. High reading of the year was the 91-degree mark May 2.

Slightly cooler weather is forecast for the area Saturday, with partly cloudy skies.

Bikes Stage Comeback As Bus Strike Goes Into Second Day

(By The United Press)

BEAUMONT, May 20.—Bicycles enjoyed their greatest vogue since the '20s in Beaumont and Port Arthur today as a bus strike went into its second day.

Bus riders employed every conceivable means of transportation to get to work and to go shopping in downtown regions.

Merchants, reviewing business during yesterday's initial day of the strike, reported no decrease in patronage.

Meanwhile, mayors of Beaumont and Port Arthur requested riders to stand in bus zones and asked motorists to give them a lift.

A rushing business was reported by taxicab companies. However, the demand for cabs was not too heavy to handle.

Some 175 AFL employes were idled by the strike in support of wage demands. Members of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes of America, they rejected a "slight" wage hike offer tendered by National City

Quit Sending Arms To Greeks If Peace Desired, Reds Told

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 20.—United States has told Russia that if it wants peace in Greece it should get the Communist satellite states to stop aiding the Greek guerrillas.

Until such help is ended this government will not relax assistance to non-Communist Greece.

These two points were disclosed in a lengthy statement issued by the State department today. The statement brought out that the department has rejected Soviet efforts to get the Greek situation out of the United Nations and into the hands of the great powers for what amounts to a compromise settlement.

The statement declared: "We are prepared to discuss any matter with the Soviet Union in the proper forum—in the case of the Greek government it is the United Nations."

The declaration on Greece was released as a result of a Tass report last night that Russia had proposed informally at United Nations headquarters that the United States

Turbulent Weather Sweeps Over Nation

Snow In California And Tornadoes In Midwest Reported; Temperatures Drop

(By The Associated Press)

Turbulent weather, including thunderstorms, tornadoes, and snow in California, swirled across most of the nation today along with unseasonable chill.

Tornado wreckage dotted the map in Oklahoma and Missouri. The death of an 11-day-old baby, Sammie Kay Stewart, was reported in Parma, Mo., when a high wind demolished his home.

At Fisk, Mo., wind unroofed the high school building, and caused other damage estimated at $50,000 to $100,000, but did not injure anyone. Three tornadoes struck in the Bartlesville, Okla., area, but no injuries were reported. Twisters also hit in Kansas and Missouri.

One person was killed and another injured in Ohio windstorms which damaged scores of homes throughout the state. High winds also did extensive damage in Kansas, but without fatalities.

Up to three inches of snow fell in the mountains of southern California. Most of it melted as it fell, but it marked the 11th consecutive day of precipitation with more showers forecast for today.

In the east, temperatures fell sharply as the cold breath of the Canadian air pushed across the country. In New England, where marks of 90 were reported, the mercury fell into the 40's with scattered showers helping douse forest fires in Maine.

In Alaska, Air Force twin Mustangs bombed a Yukon river ice jam to release water five feet deep in Fort Yukon. A C47 dropped emergency rations to the villagers.

Early morning temperatures registered 31 at Duluth, Minn.; 33, at Traverse City, Mich.; 49 at Cleveland, O., and Syracuse, N. Y., 46.

Six Prisoners Escape Guards

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., May 20 (UP)—Six long-term prisoners at the state prison farm near here shot their way to freedom today.

Clyde Berry, 31-year-old prison guard, was seriously injured when one of the fugitives shot him at almost point blank range with a high-powered rifle.

Four other guards were overpowered. Their weapons—four automatic shotguns and three .38 caliber revolvers—were confiscated.

Escaped In Truck

Five of the prisoners, described as desperate and highly dangerous, then commandeered a pickup truck and sped into Milledgeville, a few miles from the site of the break.

The sixth man was reportedly left on foot by his companions and was believed to be roaming the vicinity of Milledgeville.

The five men in the truck abandoned it in the city and stole a physician's maroon Chevrolet Sedan in which they were last reported speeding in the direction of Atlanta.

Georgia state troopers and all local authorities immediately joined in the chase for the fugitives. All patrol cars were loaded with guns and ammunition. Road blocks were thrown up on all principal highways.

Warning Are Given

The state patrol broadcast repeated warnings that the escaped men are heavily armed and are considered desperate and dangerous.

Prison officials said the escape was made about 9:30 a. m. EST, shortly after the men were taken to a spot near the old state prison farm for their day's work.

Two Children Killed In Bus-Truck Wreck

ALEXANDRIA, La., May 20. (AP)—Two children were dead and another seriously but not critically injured today as a result of a school bus-log truck collision near Oakdale late yesterday.

Eleven-year-old Timothy Ballard, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Ballard, died shortly after he was taken to the Oakdale infirmary immediately after the accident.

Senators Seek Drastic Slash In Army Funds

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Economy-talking senators bounced back for another try today after suffering three straight defeats in their drive to cut federal spending.

One undaunted Democratic senator in the economy group proposed the deepest cut yet—a 39-per cent slash in the Army civil functions bill.

Sponsored by Senator Douglas (D-Ill), the amendment would whack $300,000,000 out of the $751,000,000 measure up for Senate debate.

Rejection Is Seen

Even those backing the economy move most vigorously predicted privately that Douglas' proposal would be scuttled.

One reason they cited is that the bill carries $722,000,000 for development of rivers and harbors and for flood control projects scattered throughout the country. Dozens of senators are plugging for projects in their states.

The Senate also had before it the now standard proposal sponsored by Republican Senators Ferguson (Mich) and Bridges (NH) to cut the bill by five per cent.

They have offered that one on all three money bills passed by the Senate so far, and each time the idea was rejected.

Two Efforts Fail

The third defeat came late yesterday on the $1,465,000,000 Agriculture department bill. The measure passed the Senate by a voice vote and went back to the House, which allowed $21,000,000 less.

Before the final action there were two attempts to whittle the Senate bill. They both failed, by Congress Receives Crop Storage Bill

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP) — The Senate and House today received a compromise bill giving the Commodity Credit corporation authority to acquire storage for government-supported crops.

The bill was worked out by a committee of senators and representatives after the two houses had passed differing bills.

The compromise drops a Senate ban against CCC storage of cotton or tobacco, or refrigerated storage. But it says the agency must determine that private facilities fall short of farm needs before it provides any storage at all.

The measure also would give the credit corporation power to lend farmers money to build storage facilities on their own land.

Heavy Movement Of Combines Reported

ARKANSAS CITY, Kas., May 20 (AP)—The movement of combines to Texas and Oklahoma wheat fields is becoming heavy, port of entry officials here reported today.

The traffic through here was headed toward southern Oklahoma and Texas. At Caldwell, 20 miles to the west, most of it was going to the Texas Panhandle.

The port of entry said 15 or 20 combines were passing through Arkansas City daily.

Newly elected chapter officers honored were Mrs. Morris Cranford, worthy matron; Mrs. Kirby Nutt, associate matron; Mrs. John Cocanougher, conductress; Mrs. Cliff Elliott, associate conductress; and Mrs. C. B. Harris, treasurer.

Also were Mrs. Pat H. Boone, assistant grand conductress, Littlefield; Mrs. J. A. House, grand warder, Yoakum; Mrs. Blanche Dodgen, deputy grand matron, Littlefield; Mrs. L. D. Thomas, grand committeeman; Mrs. Ben V. Smith, chairman of the welfare committee; Mrs. A. T. Cocanougher, grand representative; Mrs. U. L. Wilie, Matador; Mrs. Gardy Goodpasture, Brownfield; Mrs. Florence Parker, Brownfield.

The coffee was attended by approximately 80 guests.

Mary Haworth's Mail . . .

Woman Treasures Husband, But Another's Kiss Has Kindled Conflict In Her Heart

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My husband is lovable and kind and wouldn't hurt a fly. Our three children adore him, he has twice as many friends as I have, and I wouldn't leave him for the world. But in the 15 years we have been married he has held 12 jobs, his highest salary was $50 a week (which didn't last long) and at present he is unemployed.

As soon as I realized his instability I took a business course and got a job to keep us afloat, and I have held this job ever since, with time out when the babies were due. My husband is always getting into personal debt, which I clean up annually with my bonus check; but he loves me very much and we get along.

Now for my problem: In my work I have met a charming, smart, successful men who attracted me almost at first sight. I used to laugh at my co-workers' teasing every time he came into the office. They said we would be a perfect couple if we were single again. I enjoyed their fun and went right on being nice to him; and we had a lot in common culturally.

HUSBAND SENSES SOMETHING WRONG

THEN ONE evening as the office was closing John came to my boss for some specific information that we catalogue. The boss had another appointment that he couldn't break, so he referred John to me and left. As John and I were alone, going through the papers, we spontaneously embraced. I felt an overwhelming desire to belong to him. We kissed, then regained control, but I've been upset ever since, wanting to be in his arms. When I don't see him I am miserable and my husband senses that something is wrong.

If I could be free for one day, I would spend it with John in perfect bliss, and I know he feels the same about me, for we met at a busines convention recently and discussed the whole matter. He agrees with me that we can't hurt our families; yet he says he longs for me with his whole being. If I keep my job, I shall be seeing him occasionally, so what can I do to conquer this crazy infatuation? I've bee ntrying to smother it, without success, since that kiss six months ago. Signed E. P.

MOTHER'S NEUROSIS ACTIVATES DAUGHTER

DEAR E. P.: I've had to cut your letter in half, leaving out the synopsis of your childhood, in which you say you'll never forget the terrifying incident, long ago, when your neurotic mother threatened suicide, brandishing a gun that your father snatched from her,—a scene that was due to her chronic jealousy of his civility to other women.

Also you say that you had many beaux in girlhood, plus a reputation for being a flirt; that you made a game of captivating boys without caring for them; and broke a wonderful boy's heart on your wedding day, because he had thought might marry him.

Your father was an able and prosperous man and your husband is not. Rather he is a helpless, dependent, ne'er-do-well type; and in effect you wear the pants. But he loves you very much and you like that, and wouldn't leave him for the world. Thus it seems that your mother's neurosis has been the driving force in your emotional life.

FEELS DEFENSIVE; WANTS TO CONQUER

YOUR DEALINGS with men, including marriage, have been instinctively designed to make the male, not yourself, the "captive." You were unconsciously taking care that you'd never suffer as your mother did, of jealous panic or unrequited passion. You married a man who wouldn't hurt a fly, and there is balm in your conviction that he need you. You feel dominant in the relationship and that's why you treasure him as emotional "security."

As for John, he's probably a ladies' man, who ties in with memories of your father—as you "saw" the latter through your mother's eyes,—and thus at first sight made a nostalgic appeal to your senses. Your subsequent desire to "belong" to him is probably a desire to make a conquest, and thus cancel out the "threat" to your supremacy that his self confident "charm" suggests. And perhaps this slant on the situation will help dissolve your crazy fixation. M. H.

Breakfast Planned By Club Members

Plans were made for a June 2 breakfast when Amiga club met with Mrs. Floyd Pipes Thursday afternoon. Eighteen members and two guests, Mrs. Emmett Phillips of Los Angeles and Mrs. Lora Tucker, attended.

The breakfast will be given at 9 o'clock at the home of Mrs. R. R. Holmes, 2510 Twenty-fifth.

Students To Be Models

"A Stroll Down Lollipop Lane" will be the theme carried out in a style show to be given this afternoon at 2:50 o'clock in the O. L. Slaton Junior High school auditorium by homemaking students of the school.

Appropriate decorations will be arranged on the stage and a fairy, Shirley Chapman, dressed in white with a flower crown, will introduce models and describe their costumes. Styles to be shown include sports dresses, sun dresses, sports ensembles and blouses and skirts which have been made by homemaking students.

Mothers of the girls, faculty members and girls of Slaton school are invited to attend. A reception to be given in the homemaking department after the style show will be in honor of mothers of all homemaking students. Foods classes are in charge of planning the entertainment and serving. The refreshment table will be laid with a white organdy cloth and arranged with two tea services and a centerpiece of red roses.

Mrs. Richard Pettyjohn teaches the classes, assisted by Miss Ruth Cook, student teacher from Tech.

Summer Meetings Set For Morning

Due to recent heavy rains in Lubbock private well owners are urged to Test Water for Contamination!

RAW WATER IS DANGEROUS!
Chlorinate With SURECLOR

RAW WATER is water from any source—surface, streams, lakes, tanks, shallow or deep wells. Any water that has not been tested for purity at least every 30 days, or treated by Health Department approved methods, is not safe for human or farm animal consumption. Many human and animal diseases such as typhoid, dysentery, cholera, hook worm, summer complaint, tuberculosis, anthrax, glanders, and stomach intestinal worms are often caused by contaminated water. Don't take chances—RAW WATER IS DANGEROUS.

INEXPENSIVE: SURECLOR, the automatic water operated hypo-feeder, is especially designed to sterilize contaminated or questionable domestic pressure water supplies, and small community water systems. Lowest Cost. Easy to Install. Simple to Operate.

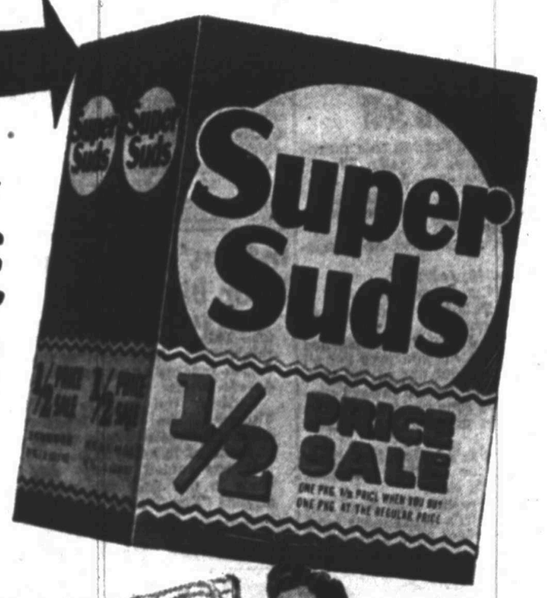

LOW MAINTENANCE: Fabricated of transparent plastics. Complete operation visible through unit. Resists corrosive action of chlorine and water. With exception of ball check valves, no moving parts to wear out. Chlorinating agent—household bleach (Sodium Hypochlorite 5.25% available chlorine). Available at most any grocery store. Cost less than 1½c per 1000 gallons water sterilized. The amount of chlorine usually required is between a trace and 1 part per million, to make water safe for human or animal consumption without boiling or other treatment.

DEPENDABLE: Operates by water pressure. Fully automatic and on the job 24 hours a day. Positive check on correct chlorine content is quickly and easily determined by a color density test. Built-in test set with each SURECLOR. Many municipal water works install SURECLOR as emergency standby unit for gaseous chlorinators.

Fires Raging In Shanghai

SHANGHAI, May 20 (AP) — Twenty-six fires burned tonight along the Whangpoo on the Pootung side of the river as a result of shelling and demolition.

The blazes appeared to range from small villages on the horizon to industrial installations a few hundred feet from the east bank of the river opposite Shanghai's Bund. They extended from Shanghai almost half way to Woosung fortress, where the Shangpoo and Yangtze converge.

Night Is Quiet

Except for this fearsome chain of fires the night was relatively quiet. The Communists did not appear to be pressing their drive toward the river from the east. Very little shellfire was heard and only occasionally some machine-gun bursts. Now and then small arms fire rattled But it sounded more like trigger happy soldiers than fighting

The city seethed with rumors. But what looked like a Nationalist withdrawal last night looked less so tonight.

A garrison communique claimed the Nationalists threw back all new red efforts to close in from the Pootung area across the Whangpoo. Nevertheless four Red shells fell in Shanghai proper—killing half a dozen Chinese.

One foreigner who went to the front said he walked three miles beyond Kaochao and saw no Communists. The Reds are supposed to have attacked that are alast night.

Although the famed Bund, waterfront street, is closed, the expected evacuation of troops has not developed The foreigner who visited the front said he saw no large ships loading there.

PROTESTS STILL UNANSWERED

Trucks Roll Again Through Red Zone

BERLIN, May 20. (AP)—Traffic rolled on all roads to Berlin today without Russian interference, although the Soviets still have not answered Western protests against their on-again-off-again rules.

Economists of the Russian and western zones got together for more talks in their deadlocked efforts to arrange for a revival of inter-zone trade. But the whole situation still was a merry-go-round of confusion, with nobody really understanding what lies behind the recent Soviet tactics.

The Russians renewed their accusation that the Western military governments are trying to "destroy" the Soviet zone's economy, and the westerners stuck to their old denial.

Berlin railway workers, disgruntled by failure to obtain full payment of their wages in West marks instead of the less valuable Soviet zone currency, threatened to start a crippling transport strike at midnight tonight. Mayor Ernest Reuter of West Berlin said he would meet with leaders of the anti-Communist railway union this afternoon, and hoped to get a settlement.

The Soviets yesterday called off temporarily their ban on the movement of freight trucks on the Autobahn, the main road and shortest one linking Western Germany to Berlin.

They had indicated this was a temporary move, and that only trucks bearing Soviet permits as well as those from the Western allies would be permitted to move on to Berlin on this route starting today. But they made no move this morning to interfere with those lacking Soviet permits.

The Russian accusation against the Western military governments was voiced in the Soviet army newspaper Taegliche Rundschau.

The paper reiterated Soviet demands for reinstatement of the 1948 East-West trade agreement which was suspended during the blockade, and which the West contends is no longer applicable.

Piano-Voice Students Plan Recital Tonight

PATIENT SAID BEATEN TO DEATH

Witness Is Heard In Wichita Trial

WICHITA FALLS, May 20 (AP)—Testimony continues today in the trial of T. C Saucier, 33, accused of beating and stomping a patient to death at the Wichita Falls state hospital. Two witnesses testified yesterday they saw Saucier do it.

He is on trial for murder with malice in the death of Thomas Houston Gibbons Sulphur Springs produce dealer. Gibbons died last March 4 less than 20 minutes after he was admitted to the hospital. Saucier was a hospital attendant.

Witness Is Heard

One witness was Travis McLaughlin, 29 of Sulphur Springs, who entered the hospital on a voluntary 90-day commitment for alcoholism. The other was Silbur W. North, 36 an attendant.

Ebb Wheeler and Bill Mabe, deputy sheriffs took McLaughlin to the hospital with Gibbons. McLaughlin emphasized that Gibbons caused no trouble.

Wheeler testified that Gibbons "minded like a child. He appeared ruffled and talkative, rather than his normally quiet self."

McLaughlin said he and Gibbons were turned over to Saucier and North.

He said Gibbons and Saucier went into the linen room and that he followed while North stood at the door. McLaughlin testified that Saucier then told Gibbons to take off his clothes.

Hit In Stomach

"Mr. Gibbons reached for his shirt collar to unbutton his shirt" McLaughlin said. "Saucier hit him in the pit of the stomach with his fist.

"Mr. Gibbons bent over to catch his stomach and then Saucier hit him in the back of the head. He fell to the floor. His head popped like a shotgun. And there was blood on the side of his face. Saucier kicked him."

McLaughlin said Saucier then picked up Gibbons, knocked him down again and "stomped him and kicked him with the right heel of his shoe."

McLaughlin said David Beck, an attendant also under indictment in Gibbons' death, came into the room and jumped on Gibbons.

The witness said both Saucier and Beck beat and stomped the prone man and that Saucier choked him while Gibbons pleaded for help.

Changes In Church Announcements Set

Note to pastors:

From now on, all church announcements will be run in the Friday Evening Journal and the Saturday Morning Avalanche at the unanimous request of members of the Lubbock Ministerial Alliance.

Pastors are urged to have their announcements, which heretofore have appeared in the church calendar in Sunday's paper, in the Avalanche-Journal offices not later than 6 p. m. on Wednesday of each week.

Other church news will appear on Sunday as usual.

Poultry Course Set At Tech May 24-25

A field poultry short course, under the general chairmanship of D. W. Sherrill, Lubbock county agent, will be held at Texas Tech College, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 24 and 25.

The first day of the course is planned to benefit anyone interested in learning the latest practical poultry production methods appliable to Texas. Especially invited are the V. A. agriculture teachers and their classes, hatchery and feed men, and farmers in general.

The second day will be devoted to flock selectors and pullorum testers. Those who wish to requalify in these two categories, in accordance with the National Poultry Improvement plan, will be required to attend the two day course and pass all of the examinations, Sherril said.

Registration will begin at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday. Talks on poultry subjects will be given by W. J. Moore, T. A. Hensarling, J. C. Williams, Bernie B. Bailey, James R. Grubbs, Dr. W. C. Banks, W. L. Braddy and F. Z. Beanblossom.

Combine Permits Are Ready For Harvesters

A 30-day permit under which a combine can be hauled over state highways now can be issued, according to the State Highway department today.

The permit, officials said, will simplify the movement of such machines. They cost $5.

Permits are obtainable at 108 Broadway, in Lubbock, and in highway department offices in Amarillo, Borger, Perryton and Pampa.

To save gasoline, Sunday automobile driving is banned in Holland.

ATOMIC MYSTERY—At left is Dr. Walter M. Zinn, director of the Atomic Energy commission's Argonne National laboratory near Chicago. Dr. Zinn was quoted in a copyrighted dispatch as saying that three-quarters of a pound of Uranium 235 had "vanished" from the Argonne laboratory. Church Claims Hail And Sleet Same Things, Sues To Recover For Building That Fell In

A suit in which the Hardware Dealers Mutual Fire Insurance company of Wisconsin seeks authority for refusing payment on an $18,000 hail and fire policy has reached the argument stage in Federal court.

The suit was brought after trustees of the First Baptist Church of Lockney sought to collect for damage to their building during an ice storm last January 12.

On that date a sleet storm caused ice to accumulate on the roof of the church structure to a depth of five inches. The weight of the accumulation caused to building to collapse.

The argument of the church trustees, defendants in the suit, is that sleet and hail are the same thing and that the insurance policy in specifying hail protection is in reality including sleet. The defense attorneys stated that the majority of Lockney citizens considered hail and sleet as being the same thing.

Difference Claimed

Attorneys for the insurance firm contend that hail is entirely different from sleet. Hail, they say, usually falls in warm weather and melts quickly. It is of such nature that it cannot accumulate to any great weight and therefore become a peril in that respect.

The insurance company says sleet is freezing rain that clings to where it falls. As it piles up it becomes ice and continues to add weight as long as the sleet is falling.

Federal Judge Joseph B. Dooley has indicated some of his views in the case by stating that according to meteorological terms there is a distinction between hail and sleet and that the chances are that the people of Lockney and others know the difference. Judge Dooley further indicated that in most respects hail and sleet are synonymous. Both were ice, the judge said. One is large pellets and the other small.

Russia Accused Of False POW Report

TOKYO, May 20. (AP)—An occupation official today accused Russia of holding more than four times as many Japanese prisoners of war as Moscow admits.

This was the reaction to an announcement by the Soviet repatriation authority in Moscow that 95,000 Japanese prisoners remain in Russian hands. Moscow said these all would be repatriated by November.

Col. Ben Anderson, chief of the repatriation division, said headquarters and Japanese government figures show "408,729 Japanese prisoners of war remain to be accounted for."

The figures include Japanese captured in Manchuria and on the former Japanese islands north of the homeland.

About 20 Japanese repatriation ships have been standing by for morte than month on the west coast awaiting word to call for Russian ports. Approximately 918,000 Japanese have been repatriated so far from Russian-controlled territory. This includes civilians. Moscow said the total number of Japanese soldiers captured was 594,000.

Dorazio Convicted In Philadelphia Murder

PHILADELPHIA, May 20 (AP)—A quarter sessions jury of 11 women and one man deliberated an hour and 15 minutes yesterday before convicting former heavyweight fighter Gus Dorazio of second degree murder in the fatal beating of a fellow brewery worker.

Assistant District Attorney John C. Kane had told the jurors Dorazio's beating of Albert Blomeyer, 32, was "an unprovoked attack." Blomeyer died in Women's Homeopathic hospital last Jan. 7, six hours after an alleged fight at a Philadelphia brewery.

Dorazio, who was knocked out by Joe Louis in February, 1941, faces a possible prison sentence of 10 to 20 years.

Sentencing was deferred, however, pending motion for a new trial. Meanwhile Dorazio was remanded to jail without bail to await this action.

Grain Storage Space Scarce

DALLAS, May 20 (AP)—The millions of bushells of wheat and other grains about to be harvested in the United States have almost no place to go.

But the railroads, often hard-pressed when the grain rolls in, are ready to roll this year.

"It's a question of storage, and I don't know what's going to happen," R. E. Clark told the 26th annual meeting of the Southwest Shippers advisory board. Storage space still is filled with the 1948 crop as the 1949 crop is about to be harvested, he said.

Clark is manager of the American Association of Railroads Car service division. In his annual report to the board today, he said:

Less Storage Space

"We have 70,000,000 bushels less storage space in the southwest this year than at the start of the harvest last year. All terminals and sub-terminals are full.

"But the railroads are ready; we can handle all the grain for which storage space can be found. We have 14,000 boxcars stored in the southwest, waiting for the grain — the largest ever stored this early. We have 22,000 boxcars stored in northern states, which puts us in a better position than at any time since before the war."

Clarg said grain men have "gone as far as they can" in pressing the government to move the grain, most of which is destined for export. He said he has suggested that maturity dates on grain under Commodity Credit corporation loan be staggered so that it can be released from storage ahead of the harvest as the harvest moves northward.

Post Rodeo's Third Performance Tonight

POST, May 20 (Special) — The annual Post Stampede and Rodeo enters its third performance tonight.

Good times were posted by many contestants in Thursday night's second go-round, witnessed by a crowd of 4,000 persons.

Sadie Smith of O'Donnell led in the Cowgirl Sponsor contest with a time of 12.2 seconds. Finals are scheduled Saturday night.

Solons Query Atomic Policy

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—A young medical student in Boston holds a $3,750 atomic fellowship, it was disclosed today, although he has been denied clearance on security grounds for secret work.

The student was named before a Senate appropriations subcommittee as Isidore S. Edelman, of the Peter Brent Brigham hospital, Boston.

Senator Wherry (R-Neb) brought up Edelman's name after a list of some 500 fellowships granted by the atomic energy commission (AEC) had been given to the committee and AEC Chairman David E. Lilienthal had acknowledged "there may be as many as three in the 500" about whom questions of loyalty had been raised.

Charge Is Denied

Wherry asked Lilienthal if Edelman is a Communist.

"He denies he is a Communist," Lilienthal replied.

Wherry then asked if Edelman had been refused security clearance for access to secret information." Lilienthal said this was true because of "derogatory evidence" against him.

"Did you recommend him and insist that he get a fellowship?" Wherry asked.

Action Is Defended

"That is completely contrary to facts," Lilienthal replied.

Dr. Shields Warren, head of the AEC's division of biology and medicine and a Boston pathologist, stepped in with a defense of the award of the fellowship. He had accompanied Lilienthal before the committee.

Warren said the fellowship was granted in the spring of 1948 and is for medical work in a non-secret field. Warren said Edelman was "outstanding in his field."

The senators are out to tighten up atomic security.

Negro Man Is Saved From Electric Chair

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 20 (AP)—The electric chair no longer holds a threat for a 22-year-old negro who prepared to occupy it 16 times.

"Thank goodness," exclaimed Samuel Taylor when he was told yesterday that Gov. James E. Folsom had commuted his death sentence to life imprisonment. "I'm sure proud."

Taylor was preparing to march to the electric chair when word of the governor's action was brought to him. Fifteen times before he likewise had made ready to die, but each time was saved from the chair by reprieves or court action.

He was convicted in Mobile in 1946 of raping a 14-year-old white girl.

Folsom gave no reason for sparing the young negro's life. Attorney Nesbitt Elmore said Taylor was the victim of racial prejudice. The young negro himself has insisted from the start that he is innocent and that a confession used against him at his trial was forced from him by police.

Damaskinos, Former Greek Regent, Dies

ATHENS, May 20 (AP)—Archbishop Damaskinos, former regent of Greece, died suddenly today. He was 58.

The archbishop who ruled Greece as regent from 1944 to 1946, had been in poor health for the past several months. He suffered from heart trouble.

Damaskinos who was Greek Orthodox primate, took over the reins of troubled Greece after its liberation from the Germans, to serve until a plebiscite was held on the return on the monarchy. When Greece voted for the return of the king Damaskinos relinquished the position.

$1,415 Given To Boys' Club

The Lubbock Boys' Club fund was boosted by $1,415 today when Wayne Henly presented American Business Club President George Dale with a check for that amount, president of the Lubbock Lions club, explained that the contribution was the balance of concession profits made at last year's rodeo. The Lions handled the concessions then as they will do again this year at the rodeo, June 8-11.

Last week ABC members were warned they would have to wear all or part of a cowboy outfit at club luncheons, pay a fine or suffer the consequences. Today a dozen members paid fines of one dollar each. Two members elected to take the consequences.

They were ducked head first into a large can of cold water.

The two ducking victims were Verne Waldron and Earl Burnett.

Various committees reported on progress of rodeo ticket sales. Program advertising has passed the $4,000 mark as the club strives to raise the $15,000 necessary to complete the Boys' Club building program.

Teams will begin tours of Plains and Panhandle cities next week to invite every community and club in the Lubbock trade area to the show.

Danish Unions Quit Red WFTU

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, May 20 (AP) — Danish unions moved today to follow American, British and Dutch labor organizations out of the World Federation of Trade unions. American union leaders have called the WFTU a Communist propaganda agency.

The executive board of the 600,000-member Danish Federation of Trade unions introduced a resolution's annual meeting yesterday saying Danish membership in the world group ended "when major British and American federations left it, thus causing a split in the organization."

New Group Sought

The resolution is supreme approval, since it is opposed only by the Communists, who are a small minority at the congress.

The Danish congress was also asked to vote authorization for the executive committee to work with American and British trade union leaders to set up a new con-Communist world organizaton.

The executive committee indicated Swedish and Norwegian unions probably will take similar action this summer by saying that the moves were being made in "intimate cooperation" with the other Scandinavian organizations.

Woman Wrestler And Girl Companions Are Acquitted In Robbery

RENO, Nev., May 20 (AP)—A woman wrestler and two girl companions took the verdict calmly in a first degree robbery case here.

But their friends cheered when the jury acquitted them of the charge.

The three were charged with beating and robbing Salvadore Manriquez, Sacramento, Calif., safe owner, of some $1,500 gambling winnings Jan. 28.

The girls are Johnny Mae Young, 28, the wrestler; Eva Lee McDevitt, 24, a Houston, Tex., bar owner, and Mary Anise Huse, 22, a former barmaid and night club photographer from Monrovia, Ala.

Memory Lapse "Convenient"

The jury had been asked to decide whether Marriquez was "rolled" or was the victim of his own amorous advances.

"The defense wants you to think 'amorous Sal' came to town to enjoy all the vices," Assistant District Gordon Thompson told the jurors.

"I can't stomach this age-old story that when a woman is involved she was being attacked by a beast."

The girls' attorney, Peter Echeverria, who was admitted to the bar only last week, attacked Manriquiz' lapse of memory as being "very convenient for a married man."

Manriquez had testified he couldn't remember anything after several drinks with the women until he woke up in their car with his head streaming blood. He was pushed out and almost froze to death before he was found.

Fine Of $250, Four Months Jury Verdict

A county court jury, of which L. L. Rowell was foreman, returned a verdict of guilty about 5:40 p. m. Thursday in the liquor law violation trial of Wesley Crecelius, 29, of Lubbock, and assessed a fine of $250 and court costs and a jail sentence of four months.

Crecelius was charged April 23 with possession for purpose of sale of a case of beer and 13 pints of whiskey. The filing of the charge followed a raid the previous night by members of the Texas Liquor Control board and city police.

County Attorney Waggoner Carr and Dudley Brummett, assistant county attorney, represented the state in the case. The defendant was represented by Robert Allen and Shelby Boling of the law firm of Boling, Smith & Allen.

Betty Hutton Replaces Judy Garland In 'Annie' Picture

HOLLYWOOD, May 20 (AP) — What kind of news about Hollywood do you like to read? Stick around, today's the day you can take your pick. For example:

Betty Hutton has replaced Judy Garland in the title of "Annie Get Your Gun." Judy was suspended last week when she turned up two hours late for work; then refused to report after lunch, when she was criticized for keeping a high-priced cast waiting to film a musical scene. She lost the role despite a conference with M-G-M's boss, Louis B. Mayer. Cost of reshooting the Garland scenes approximates $80,000.

Rosemary Lane of the sisters, and makeup man Buddy Westmore, of the brothers, have split. Miss Lane's attorney says he will file her divorce suit shortly. She says: "We just can't get along together." Wed eight years, they have a daughter, Bridget, 3.

Peck Hospitalized

Gregory Peck is hospitalized with an eye infection, and his current picture has been suspended until he returns.

Eddie Bracken turned up with laryngitis last night, 10 minutes before he was to go on the air with Dorothy Lamour. Dotty put out a hasty call for substitutes, drew Alan Young, Jimmy Durante, Garry Moore, Groucho Marx and Dennis Day by the time the program was on the air. Young was there first, and got the job.

Director Mitchell Leisen has been named America's best dressed man by the Guild of California Dons, a west coast men's wear manufacturing group. Of eastern clothiers the Dons commented: "They have been making the same type of clothes for generations, and since their clientele haven't changed their styles, they cannot be considered well-dressed men of today."

Claim Rejected

Arthur V. Jones, composer, says 20th-Fox used his popular tune, "Again," in a picture without his permission. He wants $75,000.

Wally Beery's executors, his actor-nephew Noah and actor's agent Phil Berg, says they are not convinced Beery was the father of a son born to Gloria Schumm, bit player. On behalf of Beery's estate, they rejected her claim for $104,135. As a result, the 32-year-old Mrs. Schumm, who had a paternity suit pending when Beery died April 15, will have to press her claim in court.

Taxpayers Owe Him $1 Billion For FDR's Gold, Silver Plan, Claims Brooklynite

By ARTHUR EDSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Franklin Hugh Ellison, a Brooklyn manufacturer, has figured up how much he thinks the nation's taxpayers owe him.

The bill comes to a cool $1,000,000,000.

Yesterday Ellison and his lawyer visited the Court of Claims and discussed the application for presenting the claim. The actual suit, they said, will be filed later.

How did we taxpayers ever get so deeply in debt to Ellison?

Roosevelt Forgot

Ellison thought someone would ask that question, so he called a news conference to explain.

He said that on July 22, 1933, he sent President Roosevelt a plan to revaluate the gold and silver of the U. S. Next year, sure enough, out came a plan, which, says Ellison, was 100 per cent pure Ellison.

For some time Ellison waited for Franklin Roosevelt to say he owed everything to Franklin Ellison. But Roosevelt got busy with the war, and apparently forgot about it.

Now, Ellison thinks, the day of reckoning is at hand. Since by his figures his plan aided this country by $46,000,000,000, Ellison thinks $1,000,000,000 will let us off dirt cheap.

"You Never Can Tell"

I got to talking, too, with Dick Roffman, Ellison's press agent.

"You never can tell about these things," said Roffman musingly. "Take that woman client of mine. She teaches neuro-somatic reconditioning.

"She says people don't relax enough. Her method is to have you lie flat on the floor with your feet elevated. Then you think your head is full of sawdust, only there's a hole in the back of your head, and the sawdust is leaking out. I tried it, and, by golly, it worked."

I tried it, too, at home later. I never relaxed much, but I did get a very tidy little heap of sawdust.

Few DPs Ask To Go Back To Red Areas

HAMBURG, May 20 — The Russians are not having much success in persuading displaced persons to return to countries under their rule.

A British Military Government report said: "Soviet repatriation is proceeding very slowly and during the 12 months ended Jan. 31, 1949, a total of only 799 persons volunteered for repatriation, the great majority being displaced persons from the former Baltic countries."

The Soviet repatriation mission which achieved so little has 21 officers and eight enlisted men. They are scattered in six places in the British zone.

The similar mission in Frankfurt was recently ordered to leave the American zone, General Lucius D. Clay ruling that the Russians no longer served any useful purpose.

Clovis Edges Hubbers, 10-9; Dukes Defeat Lamesa, 8-7

LUBBOCK EVENING JOURNAL

Amarillo And Abilene Split

(By The Associated Press)

Albuquerque's Dukes widened their West Texas-New Mexico league lead to three and a half games over runnerup Borger last night.

While Albuquerque was defeating Lamesa 8-7, Borger was losing to Pampa 6-4. Clovis edged Lubbock 10-9 and Abilene and Amarillo split a doubleheader. Abilene won the first game 7-3 and Amarillo took the night cap 7-4.

SPECIAL NIGHT SET

Tonight will be ladies' and children's night at Rosenthal field, club officials announced this morning.

Borger's defeat slipped the Gasser's to a .667 average, just one game ahead of third place Abilene. Amarillo slipped half a game to hold onto fourth place by two full games over the Loboes.

Dukes Hammer Hurlers

The Dukes hammered three Lamesa hurlers for 15 hits. Duke First Baseman Allen Maul paced the attack with four safeties, including two doubles, in five trips to the plate, driving in three runs.

The deciding tally came in the fourth inning, when Cliff McClain romped home from third base on a wild pitch. The Loboes kept pecking away at the big Duke lead and nearly caught them in the ninth, when Glenn Coats singled, went to second on a passed ball and scored on Jackie Wilcox's third hit of the night. But Leo Rheingans grounded out to end the inning.

Five home runs and a fist fight enlivened proceedings at Lubbock where Clovis won its seventh game of the year, three of the victories coming at the expense of the Hubbers.

Ray Bauer slammed a third inning homer with no one on and I. B. Palmer smashed one in the sixth with one on for Clovis. The Lubbock opened up. Pepper Martin hit for the circuit in the sixth with the sacks empty, Manager Jackie Sullivan homered in the ninth with one on and Jim Prince concluded the fireworks with a roundtripper with one on in the same frame.

Hubs Start Rally

The Hubbers rallied for three runs in the eighth and four in the ninth, but their rally died with the winning run on first base. It also was the ninth when the fight broke out.

With four runs in, no one out and the bases empty, Martin grounded to Bauer, who had no chance for a play. He tossed to Raymond Drake, who had relieved winner John Waselchuk after Prince's home run, and Drake crossed first barely a step ahead of Martin.

Martin's drive carried him forward and he and Drake collided, the latter falling down. Bauer charged Martin and accused him of intentionally hitting Drake, then started a swing.

Martin beat him to it, landing a right, left and right to Bauer's face. One of the blows opened a cut over Bauer's left eye that ran from the nose to the outside corner of the eye and he left th game.

Tonight Lubbock and Clovis conclude their three-game series and Charles Willis will be the probable choice. Bill Grafton, Hubber righthander, received word yesterday that his wife was probably dying in Shreveport and left by plane immediately for her bedside.

Since Grafton and Cotton Russell both have left the Hubber staff temporarily, Sullivan has little choice in his starting hurler.

AUSTIN NEEDS WIN

GREENVILLE, May 20. (AP)—Stephen F. Austin college has to beat Hardin college here today to win the Lone Star conference baseball championship. A loss would throw the Lumberjacks into a tie with Sam Houston State.

Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig finished one-two in American League home run hitting four straight years—1927-30 and in 1931 they tied for the lead.

Indians Shade Yankees, 3-2

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Red Rolfe is winning his spurs as a successful big league manager at Detroit.

The ex-New York Yankee third baseman, who never managed any team, except Yale university, until this spring, has his Tigers in second place, only two games behind the leading Yankees.

Washington, Cincinnati and the Chicago White Sox have been stealing the big black print in the newspapers, but Detroit rates high among the surprise teams of 1949.

They laughed at Rolfe last March in Lakeland (Fla.) when he said he was taking dead aim at the American league pennant.

Everybody nodded politely, grinned and said, "they'll be lucky to beat out the Philadelphia A's to get in the first division."

Despite a decided weakness at first and second base, Rolfe maneuvered the Tigers into a contending position on the hitting of George Kell, Vic Wertz and rookie Johnny Groth. Then he plugged the second base hole by acquiring Don Kolloway from the White Sox. Recently he benched George Vico and started playing Paul Campbell at first. It worked.

Rolfe set up a pitching "big four" of Hal Newhouser (4-2), Virgil Trucks (5-1), Ted Gray (3-1) and Freddie Hutchinson (2-2).

Hutchinson, who turned back Washington with seven hits yesterday, 10-1, is as handy with the bat as he is on the mound. Hutch drove in three runs with a single, double and triple in the attack then hung loss No. 3 on Rae Scarborough. Not even three hits by First Baseman Eddie Robinson could save Washington.

Detroit picked up a full game on the first place Yanks, who were dropped by Cleveland, 3-2, on a terrific slugging display by Larry Doby. The Indians' negro outfielder smashed a 450-foot-plus homer—said by veteran observers to be the longest ever hit in the Yankee stadium—as Steve Gromek shaded Bob Porterfield.

Hits Long Homer

Doby's blast in the second inning cleared the 20-foot bleacher wall and landed in the seventh row of the center field bleachers. Later he hit a single with the bases loaded in the fifth to break a 1-1 tie.

A jittery defense cost the Boston Red Sox a 10-inning ball game on an error by First Baseman Billy Hitchcock on Vern Stephens' throw. The Red Sox made four errors in the game but Hitchcock's was the big one that gave Chicago a 7-6 margin.

The Philadelphia A's and St. Louis Browns were not scheduled and a National league game between the Phillies and Chicago Cubs was postponed because of threatening weather at Wrigley field.

The Boston Braves and New York Giants, tied for first place in the National for an entire week, remain deadlocked. The Braves came up with two in the ninth to top Pittsburgh, 3-2, and the Giants bumped off Cincinnati, 6-2.

Vern Bickford won his own game at Pittsburgh with a ninth-inning single scoring Phil Masi to climax the two-run uprising.

Sheldon Jones picked up his fifth victory for the Giants, although nicked for 13 Cincinnati hits. Johnny Mize's ninth homer and a two-run double by Walker Cooper sent Johnny Vander Meer down for his third loss.

Brooklyn, sizzling through the west with three straight victories, moved into a third-place tie with Cincinnati on Preacher Roe's 2-0 shutout of St. Louis. It was the Cards' third loss in a row since returning home.

Stan Musial pocketed a $500 check and accepted the Hillerich memorial award for winning the National league batting title last year. Then he broke out of his slump with three hits in four trips.

Sunbeamers Slated To Contest Oilers

SAN ANGELO, May 20 (Special)—Doubleheaders Saturday night in the Texas Softball league will bring together leaders of both the Eastern and Western divisions.

Outstanding on the night's card will be the battle at Crane between the home town Oilers and the invading Bluebonnet-Sunbeamers of Lubbock. Last week the teams met in Lubbock and failed to get anywhere, Crane winning the opener 8 to 3 and the Sunbeamers winning the nightcap 1 to 0.

In the other Western division battle San Angelo's Maurice Shop goes to Fort Stockton. The host team is seeking its initial victory while San Angelo will be shooting at a challenging position behind the leaders.

Mackey of Abilene, surprise winner over Stamford in an Eastern division doubleheader last week, puts its unblemished record on the line against Howard Payne at Brownwood. Stamford entertains Dallas in an exhibition.

Big Joe Goodwin, member of the TSL all-star team in 1948, is leading the batting parade with a .529 average after collecting five hits last week. Byron Clark of Lubbock and Curly Hays of Stamford are next in line with .455 and .383 respectively.

To promote contacts among Asian countries and advance the physical well-being of youth, representatives of nine Asian countries—Afghanistan, Burma, Ceylon, India, Indonesia, Nepal, Pakistan, the Philippines and Siam—met recently at New Delhi to form The Asian Games Federation.

"Sanity Code" Of NCAA Under Fire

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 20. (AP)—Southeastern conference coaches tomorrow will consider proposals which may take the deep south schools out of the National Collegiate Athletic association.

The issue is the NCAA sanity code, which outlaws aid to college students solely because of their athletic ability.

Coaches will discuss four possible changes in present rules. All would permit financial help for athletes. In this conference, such help has been given most often to football players.

The coaches also will discuss what might happen to the SEC if it withdraws from the NCAA. The latter adopted the sanity code in January, 1948, and applied it to its 400 college members.

Final 1-AA Tilt Today

Westerners To Bid For Title

The Lubbock Westerners are in Amarillo today for the third and final game of the District 1-AA baseball playoff with the Golden Sandstorm in a game scheduled for 4 p. m. at Gold Sox park.

A special bus left Chapman fieldhouse at approximately 9:30 a. m. today in order to arrive in Amarillo in plenty of time for a lengthy hitting practice before the game. Coach Fred Taylor's charges are in good shape for the contest, and Pitcher Jimmy Richards will start on the mound for the locals.

Lubbock Evens Series

Lubbock evened the three game series at 1-1 Wednesday with a 15-8 drubbing of the Sandies in the first game of a scheduled double-header. Rain and hail intervened to stop the second game with the Westerners leading, 4-0, in the second inning with no outs and the bases loaded.

The winner of the 1-AA title will play Wichita Falls, District 2-AA champion, for the bi-district crown and the right to go to the state finals in Austin the first weekend in June.

Postponement of the third game made the fourth time that games in the playoff series had been reset. The first contest was set for Friday, May 13, but it was not played until Tuesday of this week.

The team took the day off yesterday since Chapman field was being used for a District 4-A baseball game, and the boys were expected to benefit by the rest.

In the game Wednesday several of the Westerners looked very good at the plate. Leading the hit parade was Morris Turner with three hits in four trips to the plate, one a double.

Also potent with the big stick were Charles Galey and Jessie Fullerton with a homer and a single apiece Galey's round-tripper came with the sacks full, and Fullerton hit his with one man on.

The team looked much better in winning this game than they did in losing the one the day before although several errors were made in the winning game.

Bowie Chalks Up Win Over Lamesa Nine

Denison, Waco First Teams To Enter State Tournament

(By The Associated Press)

Two teams already are in the Texas schoolboy baseball tournament and another may qualify today.

Denison, winner of the District 5 championship, and Waco, which captured honors in District 9, go directly to the state meet at Austin June 6, 7 and 8. They drew byes in the bi-district round.

Bowie of El Paso needs to win from Lamesa today to qualify for the state tournament. The El Paso team, champion of District 4, beat Lamesa, champion of District 3, 9-1 yesterday in the first game of a bi-district play-off series.

Amarillo and Lubbock decide the championship of District 1 today when they meet at Amarillo. They will be playing the third game of the series. Amarillo won the first 7-3 and Lubbock the second 15-8.

The winner will meet Wichita Falls, champion of District 2, in the elimination round.

Highland Park, champion of District 6, is one down to Stephenville, kingpin of District 7. Stephenville won 9-8 yesterday in the opening game of the bi-district series. They play the second at Stephenville next Thursday.

Marshall, champion of District 8, whammed Jacksonville, titlist of District 10, 24-0 yesterday in their first play-off game. They play the second at Jacksonville Monday night.

Beaumont, winner in District 11, opens a series with Baytown, champion of District 12, at Baytown tomorrow night.

Austin, title team of District 13, meets Robstown, champion of district 14, in the bi-district series opener at Robstown today.

Texarkana Bears Top Wichita Falls, 3-2

(By The Associated Press)

Some changes were made today in the Big State league standings but leading Texarkana wasn't bothered.

The Bears edged Wichita Falls, 3-2, last night to help put over the switches.

Wichita Falls fell to third place while Austin moved into the runner-up slot with an 11-8 victory over Waco.

Gainesville made the biggest push, however. The Owls, who were languishing in the cellar, shot to sixth by beating Sherman-Denison 4-3.

Greenville whammed Temple 14-1 to move within a game of fourth-place Waco.

Between The Lines by Joe Kelly

Ending of the Mike Jacobs boxing era in Madison Square Garden may mean a new impetus to the world of fistiana. It might mean the emancipation of boxing from the slavery in which it has been held for the past few years. There is little question in anyone's mind that Jacobs, while doing a lot of good for a lot of fighters, has held a virtual monopoly on boxers and the boxing scene. Fighters fought primarily for him, although they might have managers.

• • •

If Jacobs wanted a fight, he contrived in every possible manner to land it—and usually succeeded, because to the powerful fall the riches. He also had the long manipulating fingers with which to convince the stubborn that he should have the particular extravaganza in question. He is said to have been without heart, and yet he also could be generous when the occasion rose. He may not have been the czar of boxing, but he was king. He used his shrewdness to build an empire that seldom was challenged and when it was, proved strong enough to fight off all challengers.

• • •

Now times have changed. Jacobs is an old, feeble has-been. His lieutenants and captains failed to enforce his policies. They failed to show the magic which their master had. As a result, fights slipped away from the Garden that normally Mike would have had and newcomer challengers rose up to question the king's status. And, as is so often true, the empire began to crumble and then was eaten away entirely. No longer is Jacobs able to fight the inevitable. He bows out before he is discredited and beaten entirely. Long live the king!

Somehow or other The Avalanche-Journal received credit for winning a softball game that the team didn't play. Naturally, we like to win, but for the official records, we don't want to win games we don't play. Therefore, it is with humble apologies to the Order of DeMolay that we give up the triumph claimed in yesterday morning's paper. On a matter of fact, the DeMolay team turned in a 17 to 13 triumph over the Exchange club nine at Wagner Park. The person who phoned in the result apparently was excited and in his eagerness to get the score in the paper gave credit to the wrong team. Just hope the paper's team makes the phoner a good phophet!

Firman W. Williamson, whose brother Jack in an employe of this paper, was in yesterday with the news that he was taking over operation of the trap and skeet ranges at the Lubbock Gun club. Firman was responsible for the recent appearance of Herb Parsons, the rifle expert, who put on such a fine exhibition at the club's range. At any rate, Firman is going to do his level best to make the Lubbock Gun club competition sterner than it ever was before and he's going to try to ramrod people into coming out Saturday and Sunday afternoons for shooting. After watching the shooters in action, we know that you will be tempted to shoot also. Go ahead. It's fun.

Clark Schooley returned from New Mexico with a big grin on his face over Texas Tech's victory in both the Class A and Class B doubles. Arizona has held a monopoly on the tennis championship in the Border Conference for six years and they fully expected to repeat this season. Then Jack Broyles extended Tom Van Fleet, Arizona ace, in the singles after beating Steve Vidal, No. 2 Wildcat. In the doubles, Broyles and Glen Ivy were all even after two sets against Van Fleet and Frank Iaccino.

• • •

About the time the final set was to start, a light wind sprang up. It wasn't much of breeze compared to West Texas standards, but it seemed to discomfort the Arizona players. Broyles and Ivy looked at one another, exchanged grins and began taking point after point. When the match ended, the Red Raider netters had won a 610 set, allowing the Arizonians only seven points. And David Hester and Carl Schmidt made it unanimous in the doubles by taking their Class B match without to much difficulty. Arizona was most unhappy.

Barber College Nine Tops Economy Mills

Approximately 250 person witnessed the softball games at Jumbo Webster field last night as two games in the City Softball league were played.

In the first tilt Lubbock Barber college won by a close margin from Economy Mills, scoring in the last of the seventh as David Lloyd singled with the bases loaded to end the game, 5-4.

Pacing the winners was Charlie Vandwenter with three singles, and Leroy Breshear knocked two doubles and singled. J. White was the winning hurler and Crow the loser.

The final game was also won by a one-run margin, and Bennett Motors defeated Sanders Motors, 4-3. Herb Wilson, Joe Hall, and Jack Mills were instrumental in the victory, each garnering two hits. Sterling and Foster shared the mound chores for the winners.

C. B. Wright was the loser for for Sanders, and Joe Fralin and Bill Tibbets had two hits apiece.

Pygmy Red Sox Nine Beats Dodger Club

With only one hit, the Red Sox defeated the Dodgers, 12-11, yesterday in the Pygmy league at Boys club. The lone safe blow was a homer by Gene Calvert with the bases loaded.

Leading the Dodgers was Jimmy Blair with a homer and a single in three trips. The Dodgers made six hits off of several pitchers.

The Dodgers in the Pee Wee league gained revenge for their younger namesakes, downing the Red Sox, 17-2. Delman Hilton had a triple and two walks in three appearances, driving in three runs with his three-ply wallop. The Red Sox were hitless before the efforts of three Dodger pitchers—Jack Richardson, Don Mullinix, and Ronald Burns.

Tomorrow's games will be between the White Sox and Indians.

Luke Appling of the Chicago White Sox did not hit a single homer in 1948. He had a three-year stretch, 1938-40, in which he also failed to clear the wall.

Brown, James On Fight Card

LEVELLAND, May 20 (Special)—The signing of Dickie Brown, Amarillo, to meet Heavyweight Gene James, Lubbock, was announced yesterday by matchmaker Dickie Griffin of El Paso for the semi-final bout of the Jaycee fight card here May 31 at the Rodeo arena.

Brown was signed to meet James last month in a Jaycee card in Lubbock, but he could not keep the engagement. In an exhibition bout last year James defeated Brown in an amateur fight. In his only two professional bouts the Lubbock boy has won both with a TKO.

Opposing James will be Dickie Brown of Amarillo who was scheduled to fight James in Lubbock last month. He was unable to keep the engagement, and another fighter was substituted. James and Brown will square-off in the semi-final event, a six-rounder. In two previous fights as a professional James won both by TKO's.

Highlighting the fights will be the 10-round main event between Lightweight Bill Henderson, Levelland and Lubbock, and Chino Alonzo of Douglas, Ariz.

Both fighters appeared on a Jaycee fight card in Lubbock recently, and Alonzo took a decision over Sammie Galvan while Henderson was losing to Jean Mougin, former French lightweight champion, by the vote of the judges. The loss was the second of Henderson's career, both being to the French fighter.

Also scheduled on the card are three four round bouts, but these fights have not been arranged.

Tickets will sell at $4.80 for ringside, $3.60 for reserved seats, and $1.50 for general admission ducats.

Tickets will go on sale in Ropesville, Sundown, and other points.

Vernon Gaining On Big Spring Broncs

(By The Associated Press)

Things are tightening up in the Longhorn league race.

The Big Spring Broncs are only a game and a half ahead of Vernon.

Last night Big Spring was tumbled by Roswell, 16-4, while Vernon was busting Sweetwater, 7-3.

Ballinger trimmed Odessa 13-4 with Lou Dawson leading the offensive with a homer and three singles.

Midland beat San Angelo 9-3 with a 14-hit attack featured by Julian Pressley's homer with two on in the eighth.

Johnny Sain of the Braves and Rip Sewell of the Pirates had the longest National League winning streaks in 1948, each winning eight straight.

Post Beats Morton For Diamond Crown

A 7-4 victory over Morton at Chapman field diamond Thursday gave the Post Antelopes the District 4-A baseball championship and the right to meet Spur in a bi-district game. Spur won District 3-A.

Perfect baseball weather attracted a large number of followers of the two teams for the third game in the playoff series which was tied at one-all.

Rammage Winning Pitcher

Billy Rammage was the winning pitcher for Post, and he limited the Morton batters to four hits. The victory was largely due to walks and errors on the part of Morton's defense, several being made by a couple of the losers.

Post stepped out into a 3-0 lead in the first inning, increased the margin to 5-0 in the third, and added runs in the fifth and sixth to pile up the total of seven.

A four-run outburst in the sixth by Morton was encouraging, but it fell short of the mark. Three of the runs came after Clifford Wall, Roy Smith, and Fred Stockdale loaded the bases. Jimmy Winder then poled a long triple to left-center field to score the runners ahead of him. The next man up, Derrell Bowman, sacrificed Winder home with the fourth and final tally. In the second inning Morton loaded the bases with one out but could not score. In that inning Wall doubled.

Billy McDaniels was on the hill for the losers.

In the first two games of the playoff Post took the first one with a 17-2 count at Post, and Morton scored a close, 3-4 victory at Morton in the second encounter.

Lamesa Shifts Five Players

LAMESA, May 20. (Special) — The Lamesa Loboes have bought one player, suspended two and released two more, it was announced yesterday by Manager Jay Haney.

First base problems have been solved with the purchase from Texarkana of D. C. Miller, a veteran. Walter Buckel has been suspended for 10 days and Hawel Houck, righthanded pitcher, has been suspended indefinitely.

Larry Williams, righthanded pitcher, and Bill Cunningham, rookie southpaw pitcher, have been given outright releases.

Miller Power Hitter

Miller, who has been with Gladewater this year, hit .350 for Texarkana last season. He smashed 29 home runs for Texarkana and, with Wichita Falls in 1947, belted 57 fourmasters while hitting .360. Manager Haney hopes that he will solve the long ball problem for the Loboes, who have hit only four home runs in 27 games.

Jackie Wilcox, on a five-day look after his release by the Lubbock Rubbers, has been signed and will replace Buckel in the shortstop slot.

Houck was purchased during the winter from Mangum, Okla., and never recovered from a knee operation. He never joined the club and isn't expected to until late in the season.

Williams was a limited service righthander and Cunningham was a rookie southpaw.

Dallas Eagles Top San Antonio, 13-3

(By The United Press)

The Dallas Eagles had proof to offer today that they haven't lost the punch that carried them to the top of the Texas league race.

The Eagles crushed the third-place San Antonio Missions 13 to 3 last night in Dallas and rapped out 14 hits in the process.

Big Jerry Witte hit two home runs; his ninth and tenth of the season. Witte drove in four runs, the same number as Shortstop Leo Wells who smashed a pair of doubles and a grand-slam homer.

Don Grate, purchased last Saturday from the Milwaukee Brewers, was the winning pitcher. He was hit hard only once, when Don Lenhardt rifled a home run with two Mission teammates on base.

Meanwhile, the second-place Shreveport Sports didn't lose any ground to Dallas. They were hard-pressed to do it, but downed Oklahoma City 10 to 7 to remain four games off the pace.

Shreveport's George Brown and Oklahoma City's Milt Nielson hit homers with one man on base in the slugfest. Shreveport amassed 14 hits to bring the victory to Bobby Hacker, the fourth Sport pitcher used.

The Fort Worth Cats, still homeless as a result of fire and flood at their park, blanked the Houston Buffs 8 to 0 behind George Dockins four-hit pitching. The victory was a timely one and moved the Cats within half a game of third place.

The loss was the ninth in a row for the Buffs, who are crying for help from the parent St. Louis Cardinals.

Beaumont's scheduled game at Tulsa was rained out.

The schedule remains unchanged tonight: San Antonio at Dallas, Fort Worth at Houston, Shreveport at Oklahoma City, and Beaumont at Tulsa.

Thief Ransacks Cash Register

A cup of coffee cost a Lubbock business man $130 Thursday afternoon.

Jess Davis, who operates a grocery store at 1960 Texas Ave., went next door from his store to a cafe for coffee at 1:20 p.m.—returning a few minutes later to find the money missing from the cash register.

A purse and billfold containing $82 in cash and valuable personal papers were taken in a burglary of the 2601 Thirty-eighth residence of Mrs. P. L. English, police were informed.

Mrs. English said the burglar apparently entered through an unlocked back door, leaving by a door at the front of the house.

Two bikes, valued respectively at $15 and $25, were stolen at O. L. Slaton Junior High school from Jancy Little of 1711 Forty-sixth and Bill Hollers, 1801 Ave. D, police said.

A box of radio tools valued at $25 were stolen from the parked car of C. R. Price of 2224 Twenty-seventh, he informed police.

Condition Of Storm Victims Is Improved

SPUR, May 20 (Special)—Continued improvement has been reported in the condition of Larry Don Kittrell, 8-month-old victim of the tornado Tuesday which struck the Soldier Mound area north of Spur.

Attendants at Nichols General hospital said the youth, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Kittrell, seemed to be "well on the road to recovery."

X-rays showed the child received a broken arm in the tornado, when he was blown from his parents' home which was flattened by the twister.

The boy's sister, Sue LeJune, 8, was in satisfactory condition after an operation on hip fracture. The operation was performed at an Abilene hospital.

The grandmother of the injured children, Mrs. Charity Smith, 52, was killed in the tornado, which also slightly injured seven other persons.

Paris Meeting

set for noon. With him on President Truman's big plane, the Independence, he arranged to take Mrs. Acheson and John Foster Dulles, his Republican adviser.

Statement Is Issued

Acheson's statement on his policy approach to the new meeting of the council of foreign ministers was issued here after he had previewed his policies and plans with the Senate foreign relations committee. He was said to have received the committee's full bipartisan support .

The Acheson statement was a stern and—diplomats said—a realistic appraisal of the situation with which he will be confronted at Paris when he sits down with the Soviet Foreign Minister Vishinsky, British Foreign Secretary Bevin and French Foreign Minister Schuman.

Repeatedly Acheson emphasized his conviction that the primary concern of the United States now must be to stand firmly on its policies "for a world of peace and security" and not be swayed by Russian maneuvers or the possibilities of success in the cold war.

Allies Are Stronger

He said that he did not know whether the Paris conference would succeed in producing "workable and effective agreements" between the western powers and the Soviet Union on Germany.

He thought perhaps the opportunity for success would be better in Paris than in the 1947 meetings at Moscow and London. But he added that if failure is to be the result of the Paris session the west can take it.

"We most certainly are now in a better position to deal with the consequences of a failure," he said.

Behind this estimate stood his belief that in the past two years the growing strength and unity of the western powers has given them a stronger hand in world affairs at the same time that Russia's position has become relatively weaker.

Defense For Reds To Get Ruling By Judge

NEW YORK, May 20 (U.P.) — Federal Judge Harold R. Medina said today he would rule Monday on a series of defense motions in the conspiracy trial of 11 top Communist party leaders.

The defense is expected then to begin presentation of its case. The government rested yesterday.

With the jury excused until Monday, Medina today heard arguments on various technical motions. The principal one was a move by Abraham J. Isserman, defense attorney to have the case dismissed on the ground that it violated the right of free speech guaranteed by the constitution.

West Berlin Rail Workers To Strike

BERLIN, May 20. (U.P.)—Trade union headquarters announced today that 15,000 rail workers in West Berlin would go on strike at midnight (6 p. m. EDT).

The strike would cripple traffic on the intra-city elevated lines and on the railroads in and out of Berlin. It was decided on after the collapse of negotiations between workers and management. The railroads are operated by the Soviet zone German administration.

Workers living in the western sectors of Berlin demanded payment in western currency. The railway administration normally pays its employes in eastern marks, worth about one-fourth as much as the western marks.

Daily Market Report

Stock Market

MARKET ON LOSING SIDE

NEW YORK, May 20 (AP) — The stock market closed on the losing side today for the fourth day in a row after a timid rally failed to develop any power.

Turnover was about 800,000 shares.

Bethlehem, Republic Steel and Youngstown Sheet all hit new 1949 lows during the day but at times showed signs of coming back. Several of the largest losses appeared in the railway section where prices were a little less resilient than in the steel group.

Others lower most of the day included Chrysler, Studebaker, Goodrich, Sears Roebuck, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Texas Pacific Land Trust, United Fruit, American Telephone (at a low since 1943), Consolidated Natural Gas, Kennecott Copper, General Electric, U. S. Gypsum, Santa Fe, Standard Oil (N.J.), Pacific Western Oil, and Richfield Oil.

Among the steadier spots were J. C. Penney, Consolidated Edison, Lockheed, and Southern Pacific.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

Senator Asks Limits On Petroleum Imports

WASHINGTON, May 20 (U.P.) — Sen. Elmer Thomas, D., Okla., proposed today that imports of petroleum and petroleum products be limited to five percent of domestic requirements.

He introduced an amendment to the administration's reciprocal trade bill, now awaiting Senate debate, to require the president to fix petroleum import quotas on that basis.

In a statement inserted in the Congressional Record, Thomas said imports had increased steadily during the past year, resulting in a drop of about 750,000 barrels daily in domestic output.

Communist Threatens To Go "Underground"

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP) — A Communist party leader said today the party will go underground" if Congress passes Communist-control legislation.

Arnold Johnson testified before a Senate judiciary subcommittee that the Communist party would not register and would resist such "unconstitutional" legislation.

He referred to two bills to require registretion of Communist-front organizations.

India Planning To Boost Paper Output

NEW DELHI, India, May 20 (AP) —The government has approved eight schemes for producing a total of 70,000 tons of paper annually.

Industries Minister S. P. Mookerjee said in parliament that the government has allowed the import of the necessary machinery for the schemes. He said a factory is being established in the central provinces for producing 30,000 tons of newsprint annually.

Mookerjee also reported that India's production of cement is 2,245,000,000 tons annually. After partition there were 19 cement producing factories, he said. The government, he added, has sanctioned 29 schemes with a total annual capacity of 282,000,000 tons.

Television In Japan Is Still Far Behind

TOKYO, May 20. (AP)—Japanese have received their first blurred and expensive look at television. Their own technicians say it will take another six years of experimentation before they can see a program without getting spots in front of their eyes.

A roomful of standing spectators was nevertheless impressed with the first public show in Tokyo. It was an experimental demonstration in connection with the 24th anniversary of the Japan Broadcasting Corp., the nation radio monopoly.

Japanese waited in long lines for a chance to enter a battered downtown building and see a fleeting image of a girl singer, telecast from a quarter-mile away. The girl looked all right when stationary, but blurred all over the screen at every abrupt movement.

"Action pictures are still far off with our present equipment," conceded Akira Yamashita, deputy chief technician for the JBC. Commercial use of the medium seems equally distant.

The Japanese experimented with television for 17 years before the outbreak of the war, then put it aside. Now they have returned to the field with their antiquated pre-war equipment and technique.

Yamashita expressed hope that "we can receive American technical advice soon."

Occupation experts said the Japanese were about ten years behind.

British Are Pushing Plans For Housing

LONDON, May 20 (AP) — The House of Commons has passed a bill to let local authorities make housing loans of up to $20,000.

The bill went through second reading—approval in principle—without a record vote on motion of Health Minister Aneurin Bevan, in charge of the labor government's housing program.

Bevan said that for the first time in any nation's history, "we are now within sight of providing for every separate family the comfort and privacy of a separate household."

The measure raises the loan limit from $6,000.

Bevan noted that 852,000 new postwar homes had been built in Britain by the end of January—441,617 of them permanent. He said there were more homes per head of population today than in 1939.

The reasons there is still a shortage, Bevan claimed, are that more families can afford to rent, young people get married earlier and old people are keeping out of workhouses.

Conservatives took severe exception to his analysis.

Clark Reports Alien Probes

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—Attorney General Clark disclosed today that the Justice department is investigating or taking action against "833 suspected subversive aliens."

He supplied the information in a letter read to a House judiciary subcommittee by immigration Commissioner Watson B. Miller. The letter strongly urged passage of a bill that would let the department jail deportable aliens like Gerhart Eisler.

Hearing Is Awaited

Eisler described by the House committee on un-American activities as the former No. 1 Communist in the United States, is awaiting an extradition hearing in England after being taken off a Polish ship on which he escaped from this country as a stowaway. He was under bond in a deportation case and two criminal cases which are on appeal.

Rep. Hobbs (D-Ala) testified that thousands of aliens have been ordered out of the country but:

"They tell us to go to hell and there is nothing we can do about it."

Hobbs is author of the bill Clark wants enacted. Chairman Walter (D-Pa told a reporter there will be no more hearings and the subcommittee probably will vote on the measure next Wednesday.

Polish Police Delay Trials Of Prisoners

WARSAW, Poland, May 20 (AP) —Persons who go to jail in Poland usually stay there a long time before they face a trial court. The security police take their time in their investigations of persons whom they arrest. Thus, it's not uncommon for accused to be imprisoned a year or more before they are tried.

Most of the arrests now being made by security police are based on "anti-state activities" or alleged membership in underground bands which seek to overthrow the government by force.

Employes of foreign embassies or consulates are not exempt. The security police recently seized three French citizens and one Polish citizen at the French consulate in Wroclaw. All are accused of subversive acts against the Warsaw regime. But there's no indication when they will be tried.

Three employes of foreign missions in Warsaw were arrested in early December, 1947. They, too, have not yet been brought to trial and specific charges against them have not been made public. All are Polish subjects. One woman worked for the U. S. consulate in Warsaw. Two other women were translators for the Belgian and Swedish legations.

G. W. Hutcheson, of 2619 Thirty-second, safety director for George P. Livermore, Inc., will attend the fourth annual Drilling Industry Accident Prevention clinic in Dallas May 24-25. Hutcheson, vice-chairman of the insurance and safety committee of the American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors, is to preside at the Tuesday session of the clinic.

More than 300 persons attended the annual barbecue of the Texas Public Employes Association at Mackenzie park yesterday evening. Members and their families from a fourteen county area were welcomed by Association President Carl Hart, Lubbock. The affair was strictly social and no business was attempted or transacted. The barbecue was served under the direction of Jim Hill, Lubbock chairman of the entertainment committee.

Regular fourth Sunday singing at the First Foursquare church at Eighth and Ave. Q will be from 2 to 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Several visiting singers are expected, said P. O. Brock, chairman. The public is invited.

Lubbock squadron of the Civil Air patrol will meet at 10 a. m. Sunday in rooms 521 and 522, Lubbock National building, Lt. Henry A. Moore, squadron commander, has announced. All local members and interested persons 21 years or more of age are urged to attend, Moore said.

Teen-Agers As Baby Sitters Ruled Out

DENVER, May 20 (AP)—When a Denver grandmother, Mrs. Mary Louise Dunham, decided to operate a baby-sitting service, she made this her first rule: No teenagers.

"They create too many problems," says the head of Baby Sitters, Inc., "Our sitters are all 21 or over and we prefer mothers, grandmothers, older sisters or others who understand children and have taken care of them."

Mrs. Durham began her service two years ago and now gets about 1,000 calls a month from parents. Her 200 sitters manage to keep busy. Parents have to pay a $1 per month registration fee to Baby Sitters, Inc., and 60 cents per hour to the sitter.

Picture Scarves Are Praised By Briton

LONDON, May 20 (AP)—A reader away up in Alloa, Scotland, wrote to the "Daily Mirror" to thank girls who wear picture scarves on their heads. Because of these, he said, "every morning my bus ride to work brings me new joys, new horizons, memories of old ones.

"One morning I saw a circus, with clowns and performing horses, and on another mosques and minarets. Later on I met pirates with golden earrings and kegs of rum.

"Every week I roam the world. I see the Taj Mahal, the racecourse at Alexandria, Naples and its lovely bay, Paris, lovely ladies languishing in the harmems of the East.

"Thanks, girls, for those lovely daydreams—and memories."

U. S. Moving In On Strike

DETROIT, May 20 (AP) — The striking CIO United Auto workers threatened today to pull out of peace talks with the Ford Motor Co.

Coincident with the UAW's threat the federal government—after a Ford request—prepared to intervene as a mediator. Ford assailed the union's "attitude" in the private talks.

The maneuvers came as the union's "speed-up" strike idling more than 100,000 workers entered its 16th day with an agreement apparently still distant.

Work Rate Disputed

Ford and the UAW are locked in a dispute over workmen's production rates at Ford's Rouge and Lincoln-Mercury plants.

The union, at a strikers' mass meeting last night, made its threat to quit negotiations unless Ford agreed to go into simultaneous new contract discussions.

Meanwhile, a tenth negotiation session was set for today.

UAW President Walter Reuther demanded that Ford start contract talks next Monday and continue simultaneously with strike negotiations "until both matters are disposed of."

There was no immediate reply from Ford.

Trees Big Problem For Chicago Store

CHICAGO, May 20—A big department store planted six Moline elms on State St. in the fall of 1947. It wasn't easy. Six pits, each five feet long, five feet wide and five feet deep, were built in the sidewalk. Each one was equipped with a drain, filled with soil on a floor of crushed rock, and covered with a grate.

The skinny trees began a struggle for survival against soot, fumes and an unhealthy environment. The subway rumbles underneath. Streams of pedestrians pass on one side. Lines of automobiles and busses roll on the other. There is also a steady flow of advice from curbstone coaches.

"Glad to see you wrapped those trees in paper to protect them."

"Take that paper off. It's smothering them."

"They need more water."

"To much water. You want to drown them?"

One lady dashed up to the waiting room, snatched a sheet of free stationery and put down these hot words: "I don't believe it does your store any credit to let these trees stand here and die. If you can't do something, take them out."

She was informed: "We are spending time, effort and money to get these trees established. We have retained one of the best nurserymen in the midwest. He examines these trees almost daily and prescribes for them much as a doctor would."

To "get these trees established"—and they are deemed to be in good shape—has cost more than $1,000 per tree to date.

The grates were sealed recently to keep out salt strewn on the sidewalk in winter. It also stopped a trickle of coins that rolled down the holes. That ended the store's only chance to get a cash return on its investment.

Strife In Polish Industry Reported

WARSAW, Poland, May 20 (AP)—The Polish government claims all basic industries still are exceeding monthly production targets, but apparently all is not well behind-the-scenes. Trials of factory directors and managers for "economic sabotage" are becoming more frequent.

Communist newspapers are criticizing those workers who lag in filling their production "norms" or targets.

Government officials are demanding an end to "wasteful" industrial practices. At a national savings conference in Warsaw, 1,000 directors of industries and trades unions officials, were told they must save $287,500,000 on production costs this year. such incidents as these have become almost a daily occurrence somewhere in Poland:

A military tribunal in Katowice recently sentenced five industrial plant managers to four to 10 years imprisonment for selling coal to private enterprises. Another tribunal announced it would shortly try six high officials of a state brick factories combine on charges of sabotage.

The government recently ordered a 10 percent general boost in wages. But throughout the country, many workers complain wages have failed to keep pace with increased living costs.

Britons Warned To Modernize Business

LONDON, May 20 (AP)—British manufacturers are being told they will have to modernize their selling and production methods if their export drive toward recovery is to be successful.

"Exporting in 1949 and subsequent years is not going to be a cakewalk," the president of the Board of Trade, Harold Wilson, recently said. He pointed particularly to competition from the United States and to Europe's reviving output.

He said there were great opportunities for British exports in Canada and the United States provided British manufacturers have regard for changes in consumer demand, the variation in taste between different parts of the two countries and wider distribution outside the big cities.

He added exports were about two-thirds greater by weight and nearly five times greater by value than in 1938.

lines.

The company, which operates in both cities, offered the increase in September if the lines were showing a profit at the time. But the union voted to reject the proposal.

The company issued a prepared statement saying that a work assignment plan, not wages, was the issue bringing on the walk-out.

Union leaders said their demands had included a proposal to drop the work assignment plan, but that it had been dropped in favor of a wage increase "of any kind."

Drivers, who comprised most of the strikers, were paid $1.10 per hour and mechanics $1.22 when they struck.

Littlefield Farmer's Funeral Is Sunday

LITTLEFIELD, May 20 (Special)—Funeral services for Fred Kraushar, 78, a farmer of near Littlefield who died Wednesday in West Texas hospital, have been tentatively set for Sunday afternoon in the Emmanual Lutheran church of Littlefield.

Rev. Hickman of Littlefield has been named to officiate.

Definite time of services are pending arrival of a brother from Canada, Hammons Funeral home reported today. Burial will be in Littlefield cemetery with Hammons in charge.

Kraushar, who resided on his farm about four miles northwest of Littlefield, was a resident of Lamb county about 25 years. He had been a patient in the hospital for several days before his death.

Survivors include a son, Alec Kraushar of Littlefield; two brothers, George Kraushar and Jack Kraushar, both of Canada, and two sisters.

Girl Stowaway Causes Fight

MIAMI, Fla., May 20. (AP)—An immigration board meets today to determine the fate of a 22-year-old British girl stowaway who precipitated a fight among three young crew members aboard the tanker, British Genius.

The tanker put into port here yesterday after Capt. Herbert A. Scott had radioed for police assistance to put down a free-for-all fight.

The stowaway, Miss Lavinia Ross, of Southampton, told immigration authorities she did not remember going aboard the British Genius the night before it left Southampton May 2 bound for Beaumont.

Met Sailors In Tavern

Miss Ross said she was born in London but had no relatives in England. She said she met three seamen in a tavern.

She woke up in the ship's rope locker and was spirled to the three friends' cabin where she remained in hiding until May 14, she related.

Scott identified the seamen as Donald Hanford, Gerald E. Leech and Charles Piper. He said Leech tipped him off after trouble broke out among the trio.

Scott had Miss Ross confined to the hospital cabin for the remainder of the journey.

A fight with fists and buckets broke out among the three seamen yesterday and Piper received an eye injury. That was when Scott called for help and headed for Miami.

He said the vessel would remain here "at least 24 hours."

Those two votes gave the backers of administration budget plans their most decisive victory since the start of the economy drive.

Besides $723,000,000 in direct appropriations, the agriculture bill carries $603,000,000 in contract and loan authority—most of it for the Rural Electrification administration—and $139,000,000 in so-called permanent appropriations. The latter figure includes $125,000,000 from customs receipts that are used for farm purposes.

Dutra's Visit Symbolic Of An Old Friendship To Be Guarded

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst

The visit of amity by Brazilian President Eurico Dutra to the United States is a happy burst of sunshine through the international storm clouds.

It is symbolic of a great friendship which cannot be too assiduously guarded in these days when the nations of the Western hemisphere must stand together for the common good.

President Dutra's stay with us got away to a fine start when official Washington, aware that he was arriving on his sixty-fourth birthday, staged a surprise party —cake and all—with President Truman as genial host. It was the sort of thing which captures the fancy of Americans, and sets them to humming "Happy Birthday To You." So we are glad to see General Dutra.

Addresses Congress

In an address before a joint session of the Senate and House, the general referred to relations between Brazil and America "as a rare example of fraternal association of two peoples which has prevailed over a period of more than 120 years." He spoke of President Truman's visit to Rio de Janeiro in 1947 for the signing of the histric Inter-American Defense pact, and said it was a memorable event in the friendship of the two nations.

"In the international field," declared the general, "this friendship, through its practical manifestations and by virture of its example, is the greatest guarantee of good understanding and comprehension among the other sister nations in this hemisphere."

Dutra said the Inter-American defense pact "established the reciprocity of the American republics in common bond against aggression." That is true—at least on paper—but he might have added that such an agreement to be effective must be supported by constant cultovation of friendships and study of ways and means to strengthen the association.

Friendship Example

The visit of General Dutra to the United States is of course an excellent illustration of how friendships can be cultivated. And naturally it is pleasing to see the two largest countries of the hemisphere moving in such close harmony.

As a matter of fact our friend Brazil is bigger than continental United States, although the South American country's population is only 47,550,000. Furthermore Brazil's natural resources are enormous.

However, we mustn't overlook that there are nineteen other republics belonging to the hemisphere pact. That declaration of friendships shouldn't be allowed to lie fallow too long lest it lose its fertility.

It is well for the Americans to remind themselves that they still are the "New World." The known resources of this hemisphere which still remain undeveloped are tremendous. Who can say that those resources don't exceed the total for the rest of the world?

Certainly if we stand together, one for all and all for one, there will come the time when the Americas need have no fear of aggression.

Marihuana Claimed "Planted" In Cars

BROWNSVILLE, May 20 (U.P.)—Allegations that marihuana is being "planted" in automobiles of U. S. visitors in Mexico circulated here today.

Earlier this week three lower Rio Grande valley residents were acquitted of smuggling marihuana into the county. The defendants said the weed was hidden in their car in Matamoros, Mexico, by persons who later phoned the U. S. customs men to search the vehicle at the border.

Yesterday George E. Harson said that "informers" in Mexico were paid enough to make it profitable for them to plant marihuana in cars returning to the United States.

LINCOLN BUST—Five-year-old Henry Gulick, of Middleton, N. J., snuggles up to a plaster bust of Abraham Lincoln. On display at the County Antigues Fair in New York, it is the earliest known bust of Lincoln and was done in 1860 by C. H. Volk, brother-in-law of Stephen A. Douglas.

Church Meet Site Disputed

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 20 (AP) A spirited fight by Chicago to wrest the 1950 Southern Baptist convention from Houston was anticipated today on the strength of reports that the Texas city had won the selection committee's nod by a slim 4-3 vote.

Atlanta, Ga., was reported to have been designated for the 1951 session. San Francisco also is seeking the convention.

May 10-14 was set as the dates for next year's session, the 93rd.

The convention president, Dr. Robert G. Lee, Memphis, Tenn., unanimously won re-election to a second term yesterday.

Dr. J. D. Grey, New Orleans, was elected irst vice-president and U. S. Sen. Robert E. Kerr (D-Okla), second vice-president.

Others Listed

Other nominees were Dr. Homer G. Lindsey, Jacksonville, Fla., and Dr. E. Herman Westmoreland, Houston.

The Baptists ignored the report of one committee yesterday, choosing Glorieta, N. M., instead of Harrison, Ark., as the site of a permanent summer assembly for the denomination west of the Mississippi river.

The Baptists heard their first out and out temperance lecture of the convention.

W. Henderson Barton, associate general superintendent of the Temperance League of America, said:

"We want every one of the 6,000,000 Baptists, from the President of the United States on down, to sign a pledge for total abstinence from liquor and to keep that pledge."

'Girl' Finds She Is Both Sexes, Operation Turns Her Into Man

YONKERS, N. Y., May 20 (AP)—An attractive 25-year-old girl has developed into a handsome man after a series of sex-changing operations.

He thinks the change is "swell" and plans to begin a new life with his parents.

All her life "Joan Doe" considered herself a girl and wore dresses. After being graduated from high school as a girl, she worked as a woman secretary.

But she discovered she had both sexes when she went to a doctor to be treated for a stomach ailment.

Chooses To Be Man

Amazed that she had a choice, the slender, dark-haired "Joan" said "I'd rather be a man."

The doctor, assisted by two others, started a series of operations two weeks ago.

"Joan," with a boyish 135-pound figure of medium height, became "John." He had his hair trimmed and changed from dresses to trousers.

The story was revealed by Yonkers Professional hospital yesterday. Names of the patient and doctor were not disclosed.

"John" met Dr. John A. Faiella, president of the hospital and deputy city health commissioner, in a cafeteria yesterday.

The doctor asked how he liked his new role, and "John" said it is "swell."

NOT JUST "FOOLISH LUXURY"

Plastic Surgery Is Gaining Popularity With Men In U. S.

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, May 20 — More men than women are giving themselves a change of pace today by getting themselves a change of face.

They get a new outlook on life by going to a plastic surgeon to have an objectionable facial feature remodeled.

"Since the war we have more men than women patients," said Dr. Gregory L. Pollock, a pioneer specialist in this form of human sculpture.

Operated On 5,000

In the last 30 years he has operated on some 5,000 persons. Among them were the widow of a U. S. president—she had her face lifted—and scores of society, theatrical and movie celebrities.

Dr. Pollock is something of a Broadway notable himself. He went from booking to bobbing. As a youth, before he went to medical school to learn the art of how to bob noses, ears and bosoms, he worked as an entertainment booking agent. Many of his old clients later became his patients.

The science of plastic survey has undergone significant change in three decades. At present it is a mushrooming branch of medicine, allied in some ways to psychiatry.

Give Cocktail Parties

"It used to be a hush-hush matter, done in strictest privacy. People were ashamed to admit they wanted to try to improve on the face that their parents—or life—had given them.

"Today they want to brag about it. They even throw cocktail parties to unveil their new nose."

And the patients are no longer merely the idle wealthy, seeking to hide the traces of age. Most are working people.

"Plastic surgery isn't a foolish luxury," said Dr. Pollock. "In an overwhelming number of cases it is an economic investment. It isn't just vanity that impels them to want their faces changed.

Nose Favorite Target

"Lawyers, entertainers, schoolteachers, beauty parlor operators, salesgirls, waitresses—any people who meet the public—find their incomes suffer from facial disfigurements. So they have them removed.

"The improvement of their features also helps them in personality ways. They lose lifelong feelings of inferiority and regain self-confidence."

The feature most people find fault with about their anatomy is the nose. Then come the ears—too much like Peter Rabbit or a pair of swinging doors. And then, in order, are wrinkles, over-sized bosoms and weak chins.

Valley Growers Will Drop Plans For Suit

HARLINGEN, May 20 (U.P.)—Rio Grande valley tomato growers and state Agriculture Commissioner J. E. McDonald remained far apart today in a dispute over regulations governing sizes of tomatoes packed for shipment.

The issue was whether the fruit should be packed as McDonald ordered — in jumbled sizes—or in standardized sizes as sought by the growers.

The growers reached a partial agreement yesterday with McDonald.

Their spokesman, Austin Anson, said the Texas citrus and vegetable shippers and growers had agreed to give up an injunction suit to restrain McDonald from enforcing new regulations.

Anson, executive manager of the shippers and growers, said McDonald agreed to reinstate regulations in effect prior to May 4 on wrapping, branding, marking and grading of tomatoes shipped in 30-pound lugs.

McDonald said the rules would be lifted Monday, but the shippers and McDonald failed to agree with regulations regarding uniform sizing.

New Devices Aid In Landing Of Planes

AKRON, O., May 20 (U.P.)—Plane pilots always have strived to make smooth, bumpless landings. Now more and more air jockeys are coming in for cushion landings, but they credit new engineering developments along with their own flying proficiency for the easier set downs. In some cases they are "almost too smooth."

Take the U. S. Navy's new 92-ton behemoth, Constitution, for example. Landings of this big ship are so smooth that the pilot doesn't know he's on the ground until a special flashing signal on the insrtument panel lights up.

Elimination of the tell-tale landing bump was accomplished by Lockheed engineers working with technical men of the B. F. Goodrich Co., who devised a new landing gear using eight tandem twin wheels equipped with pre-rotation tires.

Small flaps of rubber on the sides of these "rotovane" tires get them revolving at high speed before the plane touches the ground. That takes most of the shock out of landings and landing-gear shock absorbers do the rest. The rotating wheels also enable the big plane to land on shorter runways.

DIES FROM INJURIES

HOUSTON, May 20 (U.P.) — Injuries received when struck by a car last Saturday night proved fatal last night to Thomas L. Rhinehart, 58.

Saturday Rites Set For Lamesa Woman

LAMESA, May 20 (Special) — Funeral services for Mrs. Eva Lee Henderson, 67, of Lamesa, will be held at 3 p.m. Saturday in Lamesa First Baptist church.

Dr. Julian Atwood, pastor, will officiate, assisted by Rev. Troy Dale, and Rev. Aubrey White.

Burial will be in Lamesa cemetery under the direction of Higginbotham Funeral home.

Mrs. Henderson died Wednesday in her home here after suffering a heart attack.

She had been a Lamesa resident for the last 25 years, coming here from Hood county where she was born. She was a member of the Baptist church.

Her husband, the late J. F. Henderson, died in 1943.

Survivors include two brothers, J. G. Neal of Lamesa, and Elmer Neal of Goldthwaite; two sisters, Mrs. Virgie Roberts of Hamilton, and Mrs. Ola Harris of Goldthwaite; four daughters, Mrs. W. M. Roberts of Goldthwaite, Mrs. J. Agent of Corpus Christi, Mrs. Aubrey White of Big Spring, and Miss Myrtle Henderson of Lamesa; five sons, Floyd of Terrell, Roy and Cecil of Cincinnati, Ohio, Hulin and Earl of Lamesa; 18 grandchildren; and four great grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Arthur Nolan, John T. Agee, John G. McDonald, Joe Hansard, Joe Medlin and Jack Mitchell.

Weather Forecasts Hampered By Reds

SHANGHAI, May 20 (AP) — The Communist - "b a m b o o curtain" around North China extends to the stratosphere. It not only contains the news, but weather reports as well.

Much of Asia's weather is born in the high-pressure areas of Siberia. It often undergoes great change as it crosses Manchuria and North China into the low-pressure areas of the south.

For this reason, accurate forecasting requires regular reports from the north, but for the past several months the Communists have blacked them out.

Forecasters no longer can depend on the data which once came regularly from Mukden, Tientsin, Peiping and other northern centers. Except for a very rare report from some pilot flying over red territory, the weatherman these days makes up his forecast largely on a basis of past experience.

WAAF Was Jinx To Bomber Squadron

LONDON, May 20 (AP)—She became known as the Femme Fatale of the bomber squadron.

Dr. D. Stafford-Clark, wartime medical officer with the Royal Air Force, told her story in an article on "Flying Stress" in the Journal of Mental Science.

An attractive young officer in the Women's Auxiliary Air Force (WAAF) got dates with many of the fliers in the squadron. Then one day they stopped.

Two men she'd been out with had got killed on an operation. Others told her, "you're a jinx. You carry the kiss of death."

The doctor wrote:

"One captain went so far as to borbid any member of his crew to take her out on pain of expulsion from the crew. 'There was no point in adding to the risk', he said."

Bavaria Rejects Constitution For New State; Loophole Left

(By The Associated Press)

MUNICH, Germany, May 20 — Bavaria, while rejecting the constitution for a West German republic reserved the right today to enter the new government if the other 10 states in the western occupation zone accept it.

The American zone Bavarian state parliament, after 14 hours of debate, refused to ratify the constitution by a vote of 101 to 6. Nine members failed to vote. It was the first state to reject the constitution drawn at Bonn and approved by the western military governors.

Resolution Is Adopted

Cohen, by a vote of 97 to six, with 71 abstaining, the parliament voted to join the proposed West German government, if the other 10 states approve the constitution.

The parliament also adopted a resolution asking a state-wide referendum to determine whether the Bavarian people approve the action of the legislators in becoming the first state to reject the constitution.

Only Communists have voted against the charter in the four states that ratified the constitution.

The six other states in the British, American and French zones will vote by the end of the week. Two-thirds of the 11 states are required to ratify the charter. It was believed improbably that the six states would follow the action taken by traditionally independent Bavaria.

Federal Power Hit

Most of the Bavarians who opposed the constitution complained that it would put too much power in the federal government and leave the member states too weak.

Before the vote, Dr. Hans Ehard, minister - president of Bavaria, demanded a rejection of the constitution on those grounds.

Separatist feeling in Bavaria has been strong. Monarchists have suggested that Bavaria have its own king again—the aged Prince Rupert, pretender to the throne.

The four states which have ratified the constitution are Wuerttemberg-Baden in the American zone; Rhineland-Palatinate and South Baden, French zone, and Hamburg, British zone.

The western allies hope to see the constitution ratified before the four-power foreign ministers conference opens in Paris Monday.

Western observers believe that the Russians might proclaim a "German democratic republic" while the foreign ministers are in session. It would be the Soviet answer to the West German republic.

But non-Communists take the view that the Russian position has been weakened by the 33 per cent "no" vote cast in this week's east zone elections against the Communists' hand picked slate.

Dogs Owned By City Couple Win Prizes

Two black Cocker Spaniels owned by Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Paschall of 1520 Twenty-sixth were judged best in the All Breed Dog show held in Baton Rouge, La., Sunday.

A total of 305 dogs from 15 states was entered in the show.

Coleta's Ebony Rocket was judged best black male and Lancaster's First Love was judged best black female and also the best of variety, winning over the international champion, Storybook Dedication, and also was third in the sporting group.

Mr. and Mrs. Paschall and sons, Phil and Danny, returned Wednesday night.

They were accompanied to Baton Rouge by Mr. and Mrs. Lee Murray of Fort Worth. They went to Fort Worth following the show and were detained there by the flood. The Murray home is in Meadowbrook, a high area, and was not damaged by water.

Tuesday night, the Paschalls saw the Amarillo tornado by television.

The Paschall dogs will be shown early in June in Chicago, Akron and Cleveland.

Scots More Healthy, Fewer Children Die

LONDON, May 20 (AP) — The Scotsman's healthier than he ever was before, according to the annual health report of the department of health for Scotland. What's more, fewer of his brothers and sisters and "wee bairns" (infants) are dying than ever before recorded in the history of Scotland.

Annual figures for last year showed the general death rate to be only 11.8 per thousand—a sharp decline over previous years. Records were broke in the lowness of the infant mortality rate, only 44.7 per thousand last year as compared with 55.8 the year before.

For the past five years, according to the report, the average infant mortality rate was only 59 per thousand. Up to 1943, it had never fallen below 68.5 and before 1938, never below 76.8.

But the Scotsman's not crowing, because these rates still are "substantially" higher than those of New Zealand, Sweden, the United States, Holland, Australia and England and Wales. Furthermore, deaths from respiratory tuberculosis and the number of new cases of the disease show sharp increase over previous years. Main reason for this, the report said, was that hundreds of available hospital beds for tubercular patients could not be filled for lack of trained medical and nursing staffs. At the end of the year 6,900 hospital beds in Scotland were empty for this season.

Police Probe Heggen Death

NEW YORK, May 20. (AP)—An autopsy report was awaited today in the death of Thomas Heggen, 31, war-veteran author of the best-seller, "Mr. Roberts," which he helped convert into the Broadway smash hit.

Heggen was found drowned yesterday in a half-filled bathtub in his apartment. A nearly empty bottle of sleeping pills was on a washstand.

Dr. Leopold Bellak, a Manhattan psychiatrist, said Heggen had been receiving treatments from him for some time.

Details Not Given

The doctor said he could not divulge details of Heggen's case, except to say the author had been mentally depressed. He said he had prescribed sleeping pills for insomnia.

"His condition had improved recently," Dr. Bellak said. "The indications are his death was an accident."

Heggen reportedly drew more than $4,000 a week from the play, "Mr. Roberts," which stars Henry Fonda.

The play, which already has netted Heggen a reported $200,000, still is drawing packed houses after 65 weeks on Broadway. Another company is playing it in Chicago.

Divorced In 1946

Heggen wrote the book while on Navy combat duty in the Pacific during the war, and later collaborated on the play version with Joshua Logan.

Police theorized that Heggen might have taken an overdose of sleeping pills, entered the bath to try to overcome his drowsiness, then dozed off and drowned.

Heggen, a native of Fort Dodge, Ia., was divorced in 1946 from the former Carol Lynn Gilmer of Okmulgee, Okla. His book is dedicated to her.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O. Heggen, now live at Minneapolis.

PRIZE-WINNING RECIPE FOR BLACKBERRY JELLY

TEXAS STATE FAIR 1948

CRUSH two quarts blackberries and place in boiler. Bring to boil very slowly. Cook 15 minutes, strain and measure. Bring to boil again. To each cup of juice, stir in one cup of Imperial Pure Cane Sugar. Boil until it makes a good test (slides off the side of a spoon or falls from the center of the spoon in one place). Pour in glass jars and cover with paraffin.

The above recipe was used by Mrs. O. C. Goodwin of Corsicana to win a blue ribbon at the Texas State Fair. Mrs. Goodwin says: "I never have preserving failures when I use Imperial Pure Cane Sugar" 104 out of 105 prize winners in 1948 State Fair Culinary Contests used Imperial Pure Cane Sugar. Hollywood's Prices Hit All Ranges So Take Your Choice

By GENE HANDSAKER
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, May 20—What will your Hollywood vacation cost?

You can stop at leading hotels, centrally located, for $4.50-$6.00 a day and up, single, to $5.50-$8.00 and up for double. You probably wouldn't care to go below the $2.50-single and $2-double accommodations offered by other hotels. In nearby Beverly Hills, you can pay $7.50 to $12 a day (single) and $14-$22 (double) Or rent a hotel bungalow at from $35 to $85 a day.

Reservations and one night's deposit, a week or two in advance, are advisable. Lots of motels, too. Single rates start at about $4; doubles reach a top of about $8. Some even have swimming pools.

In food, too, you have a wide range of choice. At Ciro's, swank Sunset Strip night spot, a filet mignon is $4.75. a fresh stewed tomato 75 cents. Prime rib of beef at the nearby Mocambo is $3.50, onion soup 75 cents. A Brown Derby specialty is chicken a la king, $1.75.

Too expensive for every day? All right, you can dine in a drugstore on the world-famous corner of Hollywood and Vine. Boiled New England dinner of corned beef over new cabbage, parsley buttered potatoes, roll and butter, 60 cents. A hamburger is 35. There's a drive-in sandwich stand at Sunset and Vine, across from NBC's slick round-cornered building.

Vine Street's Ham & Egger features half a chicken, southern fried, "served with spuds 'n' slaw, $1.45. Across the street, the "It" cafe boasts: "We pour 4-year-old straight bourbon whiskey, 45 cents." Mike Lyman's Playroom brags about its 30-square-foot television screen.

Hollywood nights are likely to be cool. Bring coats. Ladies don't have to have formals, and business suits are okay for men in the plushiest spots. You can't get into the Derby without a coat or jacket. No shirt sleeves Many places insist on ties.

You'll probably want to see some radio broadcasts. Most of the top shows go off the air for the summer. Remaining through the season, however, will be: On Mutual, "Queen for a Day" and "Mayor of the Town." On CBS: "Family Hour of Stars," "Gene Autry Show," "Life with Luigi," and "Lum and Abner." On ABC: "Clark Dennis Show," "Railroad Hour," "Mr. President," "Bride and Groom," "Breakfast in Hollywood," "Surprise Package," Art Linkletter's "House Party," and Kay Kyser's "College of Fun and Knowledge."

On NBC: none of the rest-of-the-year top shows. But a card from your local NBC station helps you get tickets to the summer-replacement broadcasts. Requests four weeks in advance, with a forwarding address here, are advisable when you seek tickets to the most popular programs. Mutual, which has classy new studios painted in many colors, is the only network that conducts tours of the building. They're three times a day, and free.

One other thing when you come to Hollywood. Have fun. Keep looking, and you'll probably see some movie stars.

Magnetic Oil Survey In Gulf Is Finished

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP) — The first detailed magnetic survey ever conducted has been completed over 9,000 square miles of the gulf of Mexico off Texas and Louisiana.

A new technique for locating submerged oil fields may result, said Navy, Army and Geological Survey officials who made the survey. They used SHORAN (short-range radio navigation aid.)

Mrs. Sullivan To Get $2,000 Bonus

DES MOINES, Ia., May 20 (AP)—A $2,000 veteran's bonus check is to go to Mrs. Thomas F. Sullivan of Waterloo, Ia., whose five sons went down together when the cruiser Juneau was sunk in the Pacific.

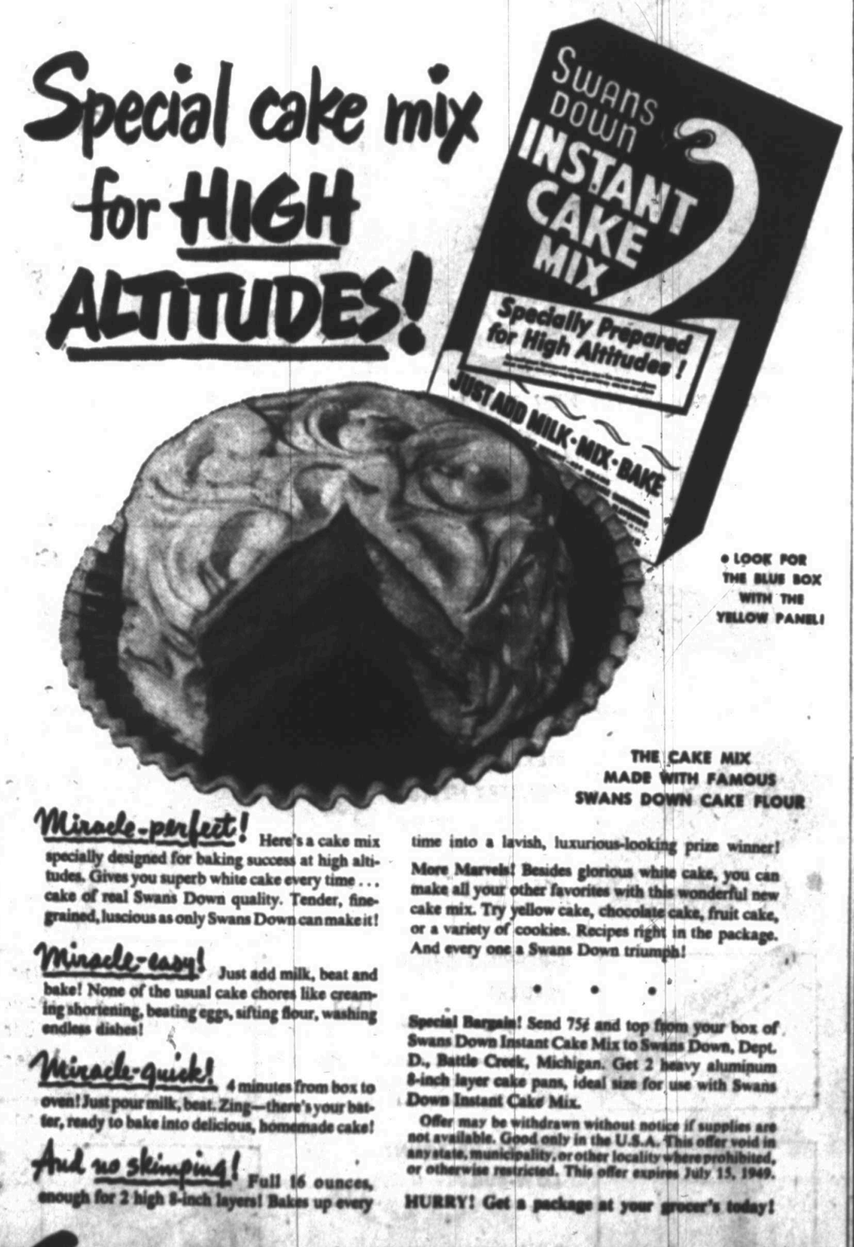

The state bonus board said yesterday Mrs. Sullivan had applied for the $500 beneficiary bonus on George, Francis, Joseph and Madison.

"That undoubtedly will be the largest single bonus paid," a spokesman for the board said.

Albert, the youngest Sullivan son, was the only one married. The board said it had been informed his widow would apply for the $500 bonus on him.

The Juneau was sunk Nov. 13, 1942, off Savo island during the battle of the Solomons.

Latest Developments In Fight Against Cancer Are Reported

By PAUL T. ELLIS
United Press Staff Writer
(Copyright, 1949, By The United Press)

NEW YORK, May 20—The human body is composed of some billions of individual cells. They constantly wear out and are constantly replaced if the body gets its proper nourishment.

In about one out of eight persons in the United States, something goes wrong with the normal reproduction of the cells. The offspring, or daughter cells, change their characteristics and go on a mad rush of multiplication, like rapidly-growing weeds.

Certain Acids Required

For many years, medical science has been trying to find what substance taken in the diet eventually creates the substances which compose the nucleus of a life cell —because it has been established that such substances, nucleic acids, probably control the proper growth, or multiplication, of the cell.

Furthermore, it has been established that cancerous cells demand abnormal amounts of certain necessary nucleic acids to continue their criminal multiplication. Medical science now has evidence that abnormal substances can be made in the test tube which are poisonous for the cancer type cell, and yet serve the needs of the normal.

One way is to "fool" the cancer cell. That is, give it something that looks to it like the nucleic acid it needs—but isn't.

To find such a "phony food" that will starve the cancer cell and at the same time give the normal cell what it needs has been a problem in many cancer laboratories. Scientists at the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer research, part of memorial hospital center here, may have the answer.

In three years of study they have determined that a chemical substance known technically as 2,-6-diaminopurine, when given in the diet, converts into a constituent of nucleic acid, known as guanine. This is an important constituent of the living cell.

Cells Poisoned

However, it has been shown that diaminopurine apparently alters the makeup of the nucleic acid—making it poisonous for the abnormal cell. The diaminopurine has been found to be poisonous to normal cells ,too, if given in too heavy doses.

Diaminopurine is not found in nature. It has been made in synthetic form and may be one of science's most powerful weapons against cancer.

First it was tested in the test tube, and then in mice and rats. It was found to poison temporarily transplanted leukemia in mice and one type of cancer in the rat. It also was found to be effective against a mouse type of cancytin tissue culture.

It is now being given human trials. The results, while inconclusive, are incouraging.

IN DEBTORS' PRISON—These World War II veterans, Bernard Smith, jr., (left) of Fairhaven, Vt., and Ralph J. Fugatt of Springfield, Mass., are being held in jail in Rutland, Vt., and have no idea when they will be released. In separate cases growing out of automobile accidents, a judgment of $2189.52 was ordered by a court against Fugatt, and another of $2675.96 against Smith. They're held in jail by a Vermont law dating from the early 1800's—a "close jail execution," which does not permit bail. They will not be freed unless they can raise the amount of the judgments or take pauper's oaths. Fugatt has been in jail seven weeks and Smith nearly as long. (AP Wirephoto).

Political Programs On Radio Assailed

FRANKFURT, May 20 (AP)—German radio listeners prefer polkas to politics and quiz shows to educational classes. That's what a survey of listeners response at Radio Frankfurt shows.

Radio Frankfurt, a 60-kilowatt station, serves a million and a half listeners in the state of Hesse and has a total audience of about two million people. It is run by Robert Lochner, military government radio chief in Hesse. Wolfhart Mueller handles the 10,000 to 15,000 letters a month.

Political programs, which began in 1946 and were designed to awaken the Germans to their new responsibilities have fallen flat. Mueller says the response is pitifully small, averaging some five to ten letters a month. A few write in anonymously to complain about the broadcast of political programs. They want music instead, or object to politics in principle. No one gives opinions on economic or political problems. Opinions are confined to program preference or musical selections. But there is an encouraging note in the station's educational programs.

"The working class of Germany is becoming more and more interested in features of this type. But they want to be sure these programs are presented in an interesting manner," Mueller said.

Soil Diseases Are Destroyed By Heat

DAVIS, Cal., May 20 (AP)—Heat treatment is being used by California scientists to destroy soil disease.

In a process called "soil pasteurization," the ground is heated to high temperatures, held there for half an hour, then cooled.

The method has proved successful in limited areas such as seed beds, nurseries and greenhouses. Chemical treatment is used in the [illegible]ld.

"MELODY" PROBLEM

STOCKHOLM, May 20 (AP) — Professor P. G. Lestrade of the University of Capetown arrived in Sweden recently with the avowed desire to learn the "melody" of spoken Swedish. He hoped that mastering the difficult Swedish intonation might help find the solution to some linguistic riddles in 333 dialects spoken by African Bantu negroes.

James Howard Rites Scheduled Saturday

Funeral services for James D. Howard, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Howard of 1916 Eighth, will be held Saturday at 3 p. m. in the First Baptist church with Rev. J. Ralph Grant officiating.

HOWARD

Howard died at 11:30 p. m. Tuesday night in a Columbia, Miss. hospital. He had received a fractured skull in an automobile accident near Columbia Saturday night. He failed to regain consciousness before he died. His body is being sent overland and will arrive at the Bryan McDonald and Son funeral home early Saturday morning.

Howard was employed by the United Geophysical company in Columbia at the time of the accident. He graduated from Lubbock High school in 1944. Following his graduation, Howard served in the U. S. Navy for a short period. He attended Texas Tech during the 1947-48 school year.

Survivors include, besides his parents, one sister, Mrs. Louise Chapman of 3108 Twenty-ninth. Burial will be in the Lubbock cemetery under the direction of the Bryan McDonald and Son funeral home.

Frenship Banquet Scheduled Tonight

WOLFFORTH, May 20. (Special)—Parent-senior banquet is to be conducted at 8 o'clock tonight in the study hall at Frenship Rural High school.

Parents of members of the graduating class will honor the graduating students at the banquet.

Rev. Burgin Watkins, pastor of Forrest Heights Methodist church in Lubbock, will give the principal address.

Toastmaster will be E. B. Teague. Invocation will be given by E. A. Deering, superintendent. The welcome address will be given by L. V. Preston.

Avocal solo will presented by Ruth Williams, accompanied by Betty Hitt, Both are junior students.

Seniors and parents will be introduced. Ray Gillit, president of the senior class, will respond. Ruth Williams will lead the singing of the class song, "Members."

The baccalaureate service is to be conducted at 8 p. m. Sunday at graduation service will be conducted May 27.

German movies, hitherto barred in the Netherlands since the war, are likely to be shown there again soon, following a poll which showed that public opinion probably will not be as hostile as expected, latest reports indicate.

MINE LEADER FACES OPPOSITION

John Lewis Ready To Return To AFL

CLEVELAND, May 20. (AP)—AFL leaders said today that John L. Lewis is dickering to return to the American Federation of Labor.

If he does, he will face strong opposition to any effort to come into power again in the AFL, these influential men predict.

President William Green reported to the AFL executive council on a meeting with Lewis two weeks ago. Green had indicated earlier that the session with the Mine Worker's leader had been devoted principally to the fight over repeal of the Taft-Hartley act.

Lewis Said Anxious

But one top AFL leader said that Lewis was anxious to come back to the organization "on any terms" now because of the imminence of his own contract showdown with the soft coal industry July 1. Also, any new labor law enacted in the next two months may carry provisions directed squarely at Lewis, the AFL leader thinks.

Lewis took his 600,000 miners out of the AFL in December 1947, after he lost a convention fight in San Francisco to persuade the federation to boycott the Taft-Hartley Acts. He has done so himself, but other AFL leaders decided to comply with the act where they had to, including the filing of non-Communist affidavits.

Those who say Lewis is making peace overtures think he wants to become head of the AFL of on retirement of 75-year-old Green, a former mine worker who has held the post since 1925. Lewis many times has denied any such ambition.

Will Fight Return

But members of the AFL executive council who previously were willing to make peace with Lewis say now they will fight any new return to power in the federation for the shaggy-haired mine leader.

Although there is considerable rivalry among some council members to succeed Green in the presidency, others will vote to block his retirement at least for another year. That is because they cannot agree on who should step into his place.

In the meantime, the peace-loving president of the AFL plods along in an effort to keep at least outward harmony.

The council will conclude its quarterly meeting here tonight or tomorrow. Green has minimized the few differences of opinion which flared up at this session—unlike the warring CIO executive board which yesterday voted overwhelmingly to bounce out any left-wing union chiefs who stray from the majority policy decisions.

Marcantonio Tries New T-H Law Move

WASHINGTON, May 20. (AP)—Rep. Marcantonio (AL-NY) said today he hopes to force every House member to go on record publicly on the question of repealing the Taft-Hartley labor law.

Amid fresh signs of delay in congressional action on labor legislation, Marcantonio, an advocate of outright Taft-Hartley repeal, resorted to a little-used but effective maneuver in his attempt to force a showdown.

He introduced a resolution which, if approved by the rules committee, would bring before the House the New Yorker's repeal bill. No one expects the rules committee to approve it.

But if it does not act by June 1 the rules permit Marcantonio to file a "discharge petition."

House Leery Of Labor

When such a petition is signed by 218 members it automatically brings the subject matter to a House vote.

Marcantonio said he resorted to the discharge procedure because there is every indication the House leadership does not plan to press for action on labor legislation.

High administration Democrats told newsmen there are no present plans for another House debate on a labor bill. They pointed out that the House only a few weeks ago debated furiously on a labor bill and would up by rejecting it.

"We do not mean to do that again," a leading House Democrat said. "It is the Senate's turn now."

Kelley Goes To Paris

Chairman Lesinski (D-Mich) of the House labor committee acknowledged that it will take his group at least until July to get together on a new labor bill—one which would change the Taft-Hartley law and restore many of the provisions of the old Wagner act, which Taft-Hartley replaced.

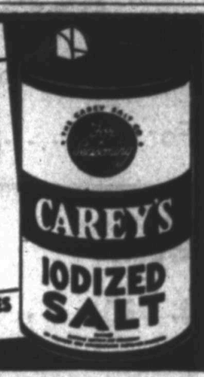

The committee's situation has been made more difficult by the fact that Rep. Kelley (D-Penn) probably will leave Washington June 1 to go to Geneva as a United States representative at a conference of the International Labor organization.

The labor committee in the past has been divided 13-12 on controversial legislation. Kelley votes on the administration side—that is, for major revision of the Taft-Hartley law. His absence until July 6 also may tie up committee action on bills to increase minimum wages and to prohibit racial discrimination in employment.

Fort Worth Citizens Not Discouraged As City Begins Rebuilding After Big Flood

FORT WORTH, May 20 (AP) — "If we can only rake together a stick of furniture, we'll make out."

That was James A. Pate talking—a young Marine veteran with a family who lost his home and possessions in the Fort Worth flood this week.

His is the spirit of Fort Worth, a city on the mend.

"You'll find no discouragement here," said Amon G. Carter, Fort Worth publisher. "The flood was a bad break but better breaks are on the way."

The flooding Trinity, bursting through levees Tuesday, drowned 10 persons, left an estimated 13,200 temporarily homeless and wrought $5,000,000 to $25,000,000 in property damage.

But this spunky city rolled with the punch and is quickly bouncing back to normal.

Its stores are crowded—its business section hums with activity.

"Everything is under control," said W. O. Jones Fort Worth city manager. "Barring accidents, we'll have our water supply completely normal by Saturday morning. We are really cleaning up the flooded area and rehabilitation will come later. The Red Cross and Salvation Army, Carswell airbase, National Guardsmen, city employes and others have done a wonderful job.

"Citizens have cooperated 100 percent in following instructions. But I wouldn't expect anything less of citizens of Fort Worth."

The crippled water supply is the biggest problem. "I need a bath," is the cry of the day. Many rent hotel rooms—some hotels have private water supplies—just to take baths.

Tenth Of City Flooded

"Outside of the water problem, most of Fort Worth was not affected by the flood." Carter pointed out. "The greatest distress is in the loss of lives, homes and personal belongings. The greatest financial loss was to industries and businesses in the affected area.

"Not more than two or three percent of Fort Worth's citizens were touched by this disaster. It is true that 10 percent of Fort Worth was inundated—but it was a sparsely-settled area.

The Star-Telegram is sponsoring a relief fund and expects to collect $100,000. Of the $25,000 already collected Carter and Sid Richardson of Fort Worth each gave $10,000. Jesse Jones of Houston gave $2,500 and Fred Florence, Dallas banker, $1,000.

Army engineers will open sealed bids here Monday for repair of levees damaged. It was possible dirt-moving equipment would be in operation early next week. There were seven major and seven lesser breaks in leves along Clar Ford and the Trinity.

"The levees will be patched immediately," Jones said. "Then we'll see that they're built bigger and better."

And Carter said, "The Texas spirit of our people is undaunted."

Mother Shoots Son And Self

MOUNT JULIET, Tenn., May 20. (AP)—A young housewife shot and killed her young son shortly after he had finished his dinner last night and then critically wounded herself, Sheriff Ewing Atkinson said.

The mother, Mrs. Alvin Hutchens, 29, was reported in critical condition at a nearby Lebanon hospital.

Atkinson said neighbors rushed to the Hutchens' three-room frame house after hearing shots and found the two-and-a-half year old child, Charles, lying on the living room floor.

Shoot With .22

He had been shot with a .22 caliber pistol.

The mother was found in the yard.

Atkinson said there was no known motive for the shooting.

The woman's husband was away from the house at the time of the shooting.

Atkinson said he questioned the mother at the hospital and asked her if she shot herself. He said she answered:

"Yes, I shot myself and my baby."

Get 2 Chicken Dinners for the Price of 1 with Crisco's "Chicken Dinner" Shortcake!

Want something deliciously new to do with leftover bits of Sunday's chicken? Then this is your dish! This creamy chicken mixture topped with flaky, tender Crisco shortcake makes a Monday dinner that's yum-some eating!

RECIPE (8 to 10 servings)

Shortcake's oh-so-tender the Crisco Way!

Creamy, easy-blending Crisco makes it easy as can be to turn out tasty, flaky hot-breads—digestible as they are delicious!

CRISCO BISCUIT

3 cups sifted flour
4½ teaspoons baking powder
1½ teaspoons salt
½ cup Crisco
1¼ cups milk

CREAMED CHICKEN

¼ cup Crisco
6 tablespoons flour
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. poultry seasoning
1 cup chicken broth
2 cups milk
2 cups diced cooked chicken
1½ cups cooked vegetables

All Measurements Level: Sift dry ingredients. Cut in Crisco with knives until mixture looks like coarse cornmeal. Blend one cup of mix with milk to form a paste (do not try to smooth). Stir paste into dry mix. Transfer dough to floured board. Knead lightly. Divide in half, and roll each into an 8" circle. From one circle cut out a 2" center. Bake each round in a cake pan or separated on a baking sheet in a hot oven (425°F.) 15 to 20 mins.

While shortcake is baking melt Crisco, stir in flour and seasonings. Add liquids. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add chicken and vegetables. Serve between and on top of shortcake rounds.

Change In America's Attitude Shown By Acceptance Of Pact

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 20.—All over the country it must have been something like this:

The husband was sitting in the living room, thumbing through the newspaper, and the wife looked up from her sewing.

She said: "I was talking with Mrs. Diefenderfer today and she said. . ."

The husband, looking at something on an inside page, interrupted: "I see they finished the hearings on the Atlantic pact."

"Oh," the wife said. "I wasn't following it."

"Me neither," the husband said. "What was the business about Mrs. Derfendorfer, Dorforderfer, Deffendoofer, or what's her name?"

Lot Of Difference

There must have been a lot of the same indifference to the pact around the country, judging from what happened here.

For three weeks the Senate foreign relations committee had held hearings on the pact, and finished this week.

But most of the time it played to a half-empty house although the seats at the hearings were free, there were plenty of them, and joining the pact would be one of the most far-reaching moves in this country's history.

Why wasn't there more public interest?

For one thing, no one has doubted the committee would approve the pact. And no one doubts the full Senate, when it gets around to voting, will overwhelming approve it, too.

Broad Outlook Seen

But a couple of other things explain the lack of deep public interest in the history-making hearings:

1. This country has moved a long way from its old isolationism, which existed even as recently as the 1930's.

Those were the days when Congress passed neutrality acts to keep this country outof war by refusing to ship arms to countries that got into war.

But once we got into one foreign tie-up after another, and we've been doing it ever since.

So there's nothing unusual in one more step puts us deeper into world affairs.

Attitude Said Tough

2. The attitude toward Russia and Communism has grown amazingly hard and tough in this country.

So the public has come to accept pretty much without question anything the government considers necessary to throw another block in the road of Communism.

We're already up to our necks in that. It started with giving help to Greece and Turkey. Setting up the Marshall plan was the next big step. There was big interest in that.

And the Alantic pact must seem to the public as merely the logical next step after the Marshall plan, as it does to the government, even though it almost certainly means we'll go to war if Russia attacks one of our allies in the pact.

Increase In Public Payroll Indicated

MINNEAPOLIS, May 20 (U.P.)—There is now one government employe for every six and a half families in the United States, according to the calculations of an insurance company.

The family economics bureau of Northwestern National Life Insurance reported that each family's pro rata share of the cost of federal, state and local government salaries averages about $33 a month, or $400 a year.

The bureau figures that in 1929 there were approximately 3,100,000 employed by the government, which is one for every 10 families. Today, there are slightly more than 6,100,000 civilians working for our federal, state and local governments.

Public workers' salaries totaled a little under $5,000,000,000 in 1929, exceeded $15,000,000,000 in 1948, and may go $1,000,000,000 higher this year, according to the bureau's report.

CLEANING UP IS MESSY JOB—Cleaning up after a flood is a muddy, messy, heart-breaking job. The T. J. Mason family of Fort Worth stand in knee deep water as they try to salvage belongings from their flooded homes. Water was up to the ceilings in this area. (Nea Photo).

Two Ousted In Bill Hearing

WASHINGTON, May 20 (INS)—Two more men were hauled off a congressional witness stand Thursday when they tried to make statements against anti-Communist legislation before disclosing whether they have Red connections.

The witnesses, scheduled to testify against the Mundt-Nixon bill which would restrict Communist activities in the U. S., were Rev. John Darr, jr., a Congregational minister, and Tom Buchanan, Civil Rights congress official.

Darr and Buchanan were forcibly removed from the witness stand, as was Arthur Schultzer on Wednesday, by capitol policemen, after they refused to say whether they were Communists or members of Red-front groups until after they read prepared statements.

Refuses Explanation

Sen. O'Connor (D-Md.), chairman of the judiciary subcommittee holding the hearings, waved away when he kept on trying to explain his position after being removed from the stand. O'Conor shouted:

"We don't want any explanation from you at all. If you want to remain in the room you must be quiet."

Both men took seats among the spectators. A policeman took up a position nearby.

Schultzer, an official of the American Labor party in New York, was dragged off the stand for the same reason Wednesday.

Peru has imposed special controls on sale and use of leprosy medicines.

Truman's Ex-Teacher Candidate For Mayor

SAVANNAH BEACH, Ga., May 20. (AP)—Brig. Gen. D. G. Rickart taught Harry S. Truman to march and shoot. Now, he wants to be mayor of this Georgia beach town.

Rickart and his slate of candidates qualified yesterday for the municipal race. He came here after retirement from active Army service. During World War II, he was commanding officer at Fort Jackson, S. C.

Still earlier in his career, he was senior National Guard instructor for Kansas and Missouri. One of his star students in military science and tactics was Lt. Harry Truman, now President of the United States.

Truman was captain of artillery in the first World War before entering politics and finally becoming President.

General Rickart also was a classmate at West Point with another famous man, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, now president of Columbia university.

But he may have a tough race for mayor of Savannah Beach. His opponents is Edward Dutton, who has served severa lterms and has no thought of giving up the job.

The election will be June 14.

INFESTATIONS REPORTED

WESLACO, May 20. (U.P.)—Nine new infestations of the black fly near Tampico and 19 at El Mante in Mexico were reported yesterday by the lower Rio Grande valley chamber of Commerce. Meanwhile, the House agriculture committee in Washington yesterday reported out favorably a bill to appropriate $250,000 to finance research and control of the citrus-damaging insect in Mexico.

Two Held As Aides In Jail Break Try

BROWNWOOD, May 20 (AP)—A couple charged at Comanche with helping a prisoner attempt to escape is under arrest at Salem, Ore., Sheriff Otis Shaw said yesterday.

Shaw said they were accused of smuggling a pistol into the Comanche county jail to her brother—Charles Gilbert Cleary, under 15-year sentence for armed robbery from Waco

Later Shaw said Cleary pulled a pistol and wounded a guard as he was being taken to the state prison at Huntsville. Another guard disarmed Cleary.

POLIO VICTIM

POWER OF BLACK BASS STRESSED

Clumsy Work After Big Fish Is Hooked Blamed For Losses

(By The United Press)

The big ones really do get away—from the average fisherman, that is.

For that word of solace to the man, woman or child who has cried over the "one that got away," you can thank one of the southwest's recognized authorities on black bass — Arno Brill.

Brill operates a fishing camp and docks known as Brillville, in the Hudson bend area on Lake Travis, near Austin.

He is a charter member of that small, select group that does not count a black bass unless it weighs five pounds and is therefore known as a "horse."

Methods Are Blamed

Brill says the reason most run-of-the-mill sportsmen let the big ones get away is because they handle the "Horse" clumsily after it is hooked.

As the veteran angler puts it: "He just sort of winches them in and they snap the line every time."

Brill believes not many fishermen realize, that with the right twist, a bag black bass can hat a terrific lick. A seven-pounder, he declares, can hit the equivalent of an 80-pound lick.

At that, he adds, many a good fisherman will let even a two-pounder take line if it wants it.

Brill speaks with a little awe of the prowess shown by some of his angler friends along this line. Among those he classifies as experts are Bob Beckley and A. L. Bloomer of San Antonio and Horace Roberdeau and Raymond Hulsey of Austin.

Beckley and Bloomer, he says, have taken lickings only twice in five years from the monster blacks.

Anglers To Attend Meet

If Galveston residents happen to see fishing poles sticking from windows of the auditorium on the municipal pier next month, it will be just an extra-curricula activity.

Chances are they will be members of the Texas Restaurant association, dividing their attention between convention business sessions and their chances at fishing rodeo prizes cooked up by the association's manager — Pat Moreland.

When word got out the association was to meet in Galveston, Moreland was deluged with inquiries about fishing. Running a quick survey, he found that more than 1,000 of his 1,500 members were fishermen.

So, he got together with Bill Dugan, operator of the fishing concession on the municipal pier, to lay plans for a three-day fishing rodeo during the convention.

Moreland a fisherman? He hasn't been fishing in 20 years.

Not Sea Cats

It just isn't true that anglers at inland lakes are catching "sea cat," according to game commission aquatic biologist Marion Toole.

Toole disputes reports that fishermen at Marble Falls are pulling in the coastal variety.

The trouble, Toole said, is that the catfish — actually a southern channel cat — has a head which looks something lige the coastal catfish.

But, he points out, a sea cat has only six "whiskers," while the channel cat has eight.

Fishermen at Marble Falls boasted of catches in the past 10 days, claming that about half the fish were sea cats.

BIBLE BANS RAIN MAKING

JOHANNESBURG, May 20 (AP)—Experiments in artificial rainmaking are "another Tower of Babel that will never see completion", declares the Rev. J. J. Jordaan. He was commenting on the unanimous decision of two communities of the Dutch Reformed church to petition the South African prime minister to introduce legislation prohibiting such experiments. The scriptures made it clear that none but God could control rain, it was declared.

Basic Malay Tongue Is Urged In Pacific

BANGKOK, May 20 (AP)—A single lingua franca to be spoken and understood in all the Asian countries which attended the New Delhi conference on Indonesia: that is the idea advanced by a correspondent of the "Bangkok Post."

The writer, a Malay-speaking European who has travelled widely in Southeast Asia, suggests that basic Malay be adopted. He says he used it as his "right hand" for several years and profited widely by it.

"When I write of Malay," he says, "I am not thinking of the 'high' and extremely difficult Malay of Indonesia or that spoken by the Sultans of Malaya. I mean the type of Malay used by Chinese dealers and drifting seamen of a host of races from the China coast down into New Guinea.

"Those people have 'picked the eyes' out of the Malay language and trimmed it down to about 800 essential words which they use daily in conversation. I can swear that this tongue, sometimes called 'Bazaar Malay', is one of the easiest and most precise vehicles of communication ever devised by man. It could be taught to children in schools the world over. There are no death-traps in basic Malay. There are no tones and there is a minimum of gramatical form.

"Millions of dollars worth of Asian and Pacific trade each month is conducted in this simple language. The hard-headed fellows who developed it over the centuries had no time to waste on elaborate linguistic scholarship, and the product they evolved is alike the language of children and business tycoons."

Electra Finds New Way To Stop Train

ELECTRA, May 20 (AP)—If Electra citizens don't get writer's cramp, they can stop the Fort Worth & Denver City's streamlined zephyr every time it comes through here. All they have to do is work up more than a bagful of mail for each trip.

As it is, a lot of whistling has been going on in this little north Texas town that claims the railroad has made a whistle stop of it. Electra is fighting a new schedule that halts the Zephyr only to pick up or discharge long-haul passengers.

Since the new schedule went into effect, the Zephyr has stopped 16 out of 17 trips to pick up or let off passengers. The train goes through at 5:51 p. m. and 3 a. m. daily.

Now station agent N. M. Baird has orders to flag down the train when necessary for it to pick up first class mail. That means more than one bagful has to be waiting at the station. The train crew can snag one mailbag from a hook as the Zephyr speeds by.

Senators To Inspect Mexico Disease Fight

WASHINGTON, May 20. (AP)—A group of senators will fly to Mexico City Monday for a general look at the campaign against foot and mouth disease in cattle.

The Senators, members of an agriculture subcommittee, will check on the work of a joint United States-Mexican commission.

PRICE WAR RAGES

Because retailers' prewar profit margin has been cut down since price controls on candy were lifted in Australia, a bitter price war is raging between candy retailers and wholesalers for control of the $10,000,000-a-year industry.

House Hearing On Bonus Set

AUSTIN, May 20 (AP) — House committees have rejected a veterans bonus proposition twice this session, but backers of another, similar version will try their luck at a public hearing Monday night.

Rep. Jimmy Horany of Archer City talked the House into transferring his bill yesterday from an unfriendly subcommittee on constitutional amendments to the revenue and taxation committee.

The latter group immediately decided to hear proponents and opponents of the measure at 7:30 p. m. Monday.

Horany would pay flat bonuses of $250 to World war I and 11 veterans who served within this country's continental limits, $250 more to those overseas at least three months.

A bonus bill by Rep. J. A. Benton of Wylie that would benefit veterans of the Spanish-American as well as the two world wars has been turned down by both the House committee on constitutional amendments and the committee on state affairs.

Eskimo Education In Canada Big Problem

OTTAWA, Ont., May 20 (U.P.)—Dr. Carter B. Storr started on one of the hardest education jobs in the world, in which he has to imagine himself an Eskimo.

Storr is a public school teacher who has been chosen by the government to illustrate a second book of education for the Eskimo. The book's text is prepared in an Eskimo script.

Storr returned to Ottawa after a two-week flying trip into the Arctic to gain ideas. One of his jobs will be to do a full-page chart to explain how democracy operates.

The first book dealt with prevention of disease. It was a difficult job. The Eskimo has no idea of the theory of bacteria. All he knows is that he doesn't feel well.

The government set out to get him to accept the fact that he gets sick because of small animals he can't see.

Southern California's Winter Not Over Yet

LOS ANGELES, May 20 (AP) — Southern California's rugged winter isn't over yet, although it's mid-May.

It snowed last night in the San Gabriel and San Bernardino mountains, as much as three inches falling in Big Bear valley (elevation 6750 feet).

A couple of Los Angeles residents even reported seeing white flakes here, but the weather bureau explained that it rarely snows when the temperature is in the sixties.

Agriculture Leaders Shaping New Farm Price Support Bill

WASHINGTON, May 20. (AP)—House farm leaders today began drafting a new farm program expected to keep in effect much of the present price support system.

There were strong indications that the agriculture subcommittee headed by Rep. Pace (D-Ga) will reject both (a) the Truman administration's "production payment" bill and (b) the Aiken law passed by the Republican congress last year.

The Aiken law, due to go into effect in 1950, calls for a 60 to 90 per cent of parity "flexible" price support system. The administration plan would let certain prices drop below support levels—to give consumers the benefit of lower prices—with the U. S. treasury making up the difference to farmers.

New Bill Expected

The House members were expected to produce a bill based on the present system of rigid 90 per cent of parity price supports for major crops, with continued production payments as proposed in the administration bill.

(Parity is a price calculated to give farmers a return for their crops in fair relationship to the prices of things they have to buy).

Pace gave the key to thinking within his group when he told reporters:

"There has never been and there never will be high national income without a prosperous agriculture. It can be made stable and prosperous only through the assurance of a fair parity price for farm commodities.

"Certainly supports at 90 per cent of the fair price is the least the farmers can ask and the least the nation can afford to pay, if we want to continue to enjoy good wages and prosperity."

"Drastic Reduction"

Over four months of public hearings, he said, have "shown beyond question that if the Aiken bill is permitted to take effect January 1 it would immediately bring about a drastic reduction in farm income and would set in motion forces which would bring about a serious depression." He added:

"It is quite singular that not one member of Congress has appeared and testified in favor of the Aiken bill."

The Aiken law seeks to minimize farm controls by government, such as acreage allotments and marketing quotas. It would try to get farmers to quit growing crops that are being over-produced by lowering the price support level for these crops.

Pace declined to discuss the administration program. However, spokesmen for some farm organizations have attacked it as a dole or subsidy program.

Pace's committee probably will labor for several days behind closed doors before it brings out its farm bill.

Cleveland Indians Will Take Part In New Motion Picture

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, May 20. — The Cleveland Indians will start emoting before the Cameras May 27.

The baseball club is scheduled to begin location scenes for "The Cleveland Story" on that date. The shots will be taken on the home grounds with the team taking part. Bill Veeck, Lou Boudreau, Tris Speaker and Hank Greenberg are slated for important roles.

Actress "Different Gal"

Speaking of baseball brings us to Laraine Day. She is a different gal since being married to New York Giants pilot Leo Durocher. She had a kneeling scene in "I Married A Communist." When she finally finished it and straightened up, she remarked, "Now I know how Walker Cooper feels." (For non-baseball fans, he's a Giant catcher.))

Abbott and Costello probably won't be back in action for quite some time. Lou is seriously ill and their next film has been postponed indefinitely.

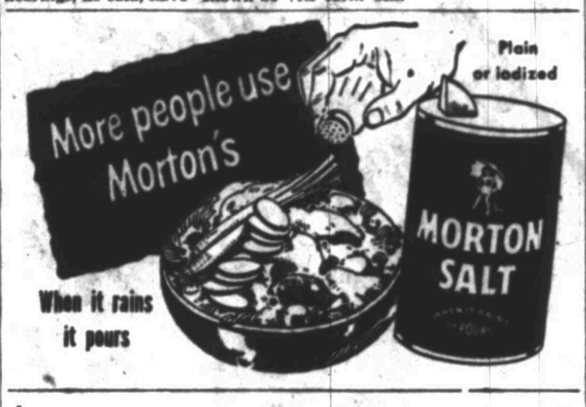

Roy Rogers and Dale Evans had an offer to play London's Palladium, but they'll probably have to pass it up. Their picture schedule is loaded. The western stars were anxious to play Britain because they have a big following there.

Infant Is Killed By Missouri Twister

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., May 20 (AP)—An 11-day-old baby was dead today and at least five persons seriously hurt as four southeast Missouri communities dug out of debris left by a ripping tornado.

The twister which struck rural areas late yesterday afternoon was fatal to Sammy K. Stewart at his farm home three miles northwest of Parma.

The tornado smashed two warehouses at the Malden air base and caused damage to several homes and a school building at Fisk, in addition to the destruction it caused at Bernie and Parma, the state highway patrol reported.

LIST REVEALS FIRE HAZARDS

Governor Studies Report On School

AUSTIN, May 20 (AP) — Gov. Beauford H. Jester took under consideration today a long list of fire hazards found at the Galveston medical school.

The report, submitted by fire insurance Commissioner Paul H. Brown, shows six buildings — three and four-story structures— without fire escapes. One was the crippled children's hospital, another the negro hospital, and another the nurse's home.

Disaster Cited

Jester asked Brown for the report on April 18 shortly after a disastrous midnight fire at St. Anthony's hospital in Effingham, Ill.

The report recommended the installation of fire escapes on all buildings above one-story. It stressed the need for special chute-type escapes for bed-ridden and mental patients.

The building-by building inspection was made by Galveston Fire Marshal J. C. Kelso and Fire Chief W. J. Henderson under the supervision of state fire prevention Chief Eugene Sanders.

Deficiencies Noted

Some of the "glaring deficiencies" noted were:

Nurse's home, four-story — no fire escapes, open stair wells, light fixtures need repair. Women's building, four-story—two outside fire escapes with no guide signs or lights. John Sealy hospital, three-story — three outside escapes, "insufficient number of escapes to comply with the fire escape law."

Dormitory building — "Wiring condition very bad." Psychopathic building, four-story — one outside escape, "window to fire escape kept locked because of mental patients. Negro hospital, four-story —no fire escapes. Crippled children's hospital, three-story — no fire escapes. State psychopathic hospital, four-story — no fire escapes. Out patient building, four-story — no fire escapes.

VFW OFFICIALS HERE — Expected to arrive today to attend sessions of the district 7 convention of Veterans of Foreign Wars are the state department commander, S. A. Childress of Waco, above; and the state ladies' auxiliary president, Mrs. Violet Kenney of Borger. Some 300 delegates from the South Plains and surrounding area are expected to attend the convention which opens Saturday morning and continues through Sunday.

Nelson Loses Arm To Naval Dignity

CHATHAM, Eng., May 20 (AP)— Lord Nelson in the flesh lost his right arm off Tenerife in 1797. The Spanish shot it off.

The effigy is a figurehead saved from the old wooden man-of-war H. M. S. Nelson. It overlooks the parade ground of the Royal Naval barracks here.

Sailors got in the habit of hanging old boots, knapsacks and domestic utensils on its one good arm. Authorities now have ended this practice.

A senior officer explained:

"It was too much for naval dignity to let this continue. The admiralty ordered amputation."

Civil War Vet, 102, Will Not Be Evicted

HOLLYWOOD, May 20 (AP) — Civil war veteran William A. Magee, 102, is going to move, but not until he finds another place.

His landlady, Mrs. Zina Heinisch, says he won't be evicted, although she wants to annex his apartment to her home. "Why," she declared, "we're old friends. I'll see to it he's not thrown out. He has nothing to worry about."

Model Circus Coming Here

The circus is coming to town. The biggest show on earth in this case is close to being the smallest show on earth.

The Morris Miniature Circus will be presented to Lubbock beginning Saturday, May 21, at 1207 Main street. It will show for one week under the auspices of the Lubbock Lions' club. According to Lion President Wayne Henly, all proceeds from the show will go to the Girl Scout camp fund.

Working Scale Model

This miniature circus is a working scale model that required 15 years to build. Every detail is to accurate scale and is a complete circus layout. The three-ring show was built as a hobby by W. J. Morris in his basement workshop. Morris is an Amarillo wheat farmer and insurance man.

There are seven tents; the "big-top," the menagerie tent, dining and stable tents, blacksmith tent, dressing rooms and side show. In each case a section is removed to permit a full interior view.

This midget circus won honors and acclaim at the Tri-State Fair, Amarillo; the Minnesota State Fair, Oklahoma and Louisiana State Fairs, last year. It is said to be the most elaborate of its kind in existence. It is valued at more than $15,000.

Loads Into Train

Just like a real circus it loads into 67 wagons and the wagons load into a 25 car circus train. Some 1,600 workers, performers and spectators cover the circus lot and add realism to the highest degree. 135 horses and 25 elephants are included along with every variety of wild animal.

The show will be open to the young and the young at heart. Everyone is welcome to attend and the admission prices will be modest. The show room was formerly occupied by the Adair Music company and is being loaned to Lions Club by Bob Walker, RCA distributor.

Airplanes Available For Reservists Here

Airplanes are now available for reservists who wish to fly, Capt. C. E. Jennings, assistant operations officer of the local unit of 707th Bombardment Squadron reserve, announced Thursday night at the unit's regular meeting at Lubbock Air Force base.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the local unit entertained members with a picnic lunch in the squadron clubhouse following the meeting.

American Passport Gateway To Freedom

Lubbock Women Say Europe Still Under Shadow Of War

If your're an American, you're rich," Miss Margaret Turner, woman's editor of The Avalanche-Journal, said Thursday afternoon upon her return from Europe.

"We decided an American passport was the most wonderful thing you could possess. It's a passport to freedom," said Miss Ruth E. Ford, a vice president of Citizens National bank.

Visited Several Countries

Miss Turner and Miss Ford returned to Lubbock Thursday afternoon, after landing in New York on the Nieuw Amsterdam last Friday. They were gone from Lubbock two months. Accompanied by Mrs. John D. Lynch of Grosse Pointe, Mich., they traveled in France, Austria, Germany, Italy, Switzerland, England and Scotland.

They came home with a vast appreciation for the beauties of Europe and also a tremendous appreciation for the privileges of being an American.

Many of the residents of Europe and especially the youth with whom they talked think of America in glowing terms.

"And do they want to come to America!" said Miss Turner. "This is still the mecca to them.

Would Work Hard

"They don't think of America in terms of what they might have seen in picture shows—in terms of the rich or of someone to wait on them. They don't think in terms of riding in a helicopter or living in penthouses. The ones we talked to said if they could come to America they would work hard night and day."

The travelers talked with many residents of France, Italy and Austria and their conversations indicated residents of those countries "still live under the shadow of war and they think there will be another war." In Switzerland, the shadow of war fears seemed absent. In Germany, the travelers made only a brief visit.

"We felt that Austria was the poorest of all the countries," said Miss Ford. The people of Austria for the most part wear tattered clothing. Few of the men have complete matching suits, but instead wear odd bits of clothing garnered where they could find them.

No Mechanization Noted

"It has been 10 years since they have had many clothes in Europe," Miss Ford pointed out. Although the travelers saw some of the wealthy of Europe and saw some of the beautiful clothing in shops, they saw the peasants in the various countries dressed in clothing which had seen many years of wear or which had been sent from America.

Both Miss Ford and Miss Turner expressed an appreciation for simplified means of performing work in the home, in industry and in agriculture in America. "From what me saw," said Miss Turner, "they are still doing everything the hard way. They haven't mechanized. We saw men sowing seed by hand; women working in the field along with the men; plows drawn by oxen." It was "the way they did it in Bible times," said Miss Ford. "They sow and they reap by hand."

Along with the aftermath of war and the indications of a hovering cloud of fear of another war, the travelers also saw the beauties of Europe.

Nation Was Beautiful

Since Europe experienced an early spring, they saw the early blossoming fruit trees, the tulips, the pansies and the forget-me-nots in each country they visited; the flowering chestnuts and the flower stalls in Paris; the lake country in Scotland near Edinburgh; the majesty of the Swiss Alps.

They rode by gondola in the moonlight down the Grand Canal in Venice. They saw the operas "Tosca" and "A Night in Venice" in Vienna. In Munich, they saw the opera "Carmen" and in Paris they saw "La Traviata."

In Switzerland, they saw modern cities comparable to those in America; cows grazing on the hillsides with huge bells around their necks; beautiful Swiss chalets; the mountainside dotted with thick carpets of wild flowers creating a gay patchwork of color.

Visited Relatives In Austria

They were enthusiastic concerning the beauty they saw.

The countries of Europe, they found, are getting ready for an influx of tourists. The travelers from Lubbock and Grosse Pointe were the first American tourists some of the Europeans had seen since before the war and especially was that true in Austria, where tourists still are barred unless they have military permits. Miss Ford's sister and brother-in-law, Lt. and Mrs. Robert M. Smiley were in Austria when the travelers visited there. The Smileys since have returned to America.

"Where we went, they were painting hotels. They are getting ready for a bumper crop of tourists this summer," said Miss Turner.

Data On Wheat Harvest Asked

"Our office has been flooded recently with requests for information concerning the wheat harvest in the Panhandle and Plains area," Vernon O'Farrell, farm placement representative for the Texas Employment commission, said Thursday.

"Most of these requests come from combine owners and operators, harvest hands and truckers," O'Farrell said. "The letters have come from as far away as Florida and from points along the Canadian border. They want to know what the situation is here and what it will be like at harvest time.

"Excluding the effects of the storms, most of the signs have been favorable. Everything points to heavy production on the large acreage planting.

Temporary Office Set Up

"We have set up a number of temporary employment offices in our district to facilitate the handling of the crop," O'Farrell stated. "We hope to open more offices as the season progresses.

"While we don't have much wheat to harvest in Lubbock county or the immediate vicinity, Lubbock has become a sort of headquarters for some of the larger operators," O'Farrell continued.

"For instance," he said, "we have more than 60 custom combines in Lubbock whose owners, for the most part, live here. They go all over the wheat belt following the season as it moves north and some even get into Canada.

Crop Damage Unknown

"According to my records there are some 40 combines in Hockley county and another 35 in Crosby county. Crosby county has a fair acreage in wheat but not so much as last year. Lots of the combine operators also have a truck or a fleet of trucks to haul the grain to the elevators," the TEC man said.

O'Farrell said that it was impossible at this time to give any figures on the extent of damage to the wheat crop.

"We know that there has been considerable hail damage in some sections, such as Deaf Smith county, but because of impaired communications it will be several days yet before we can get an accurate report compiled.

"Other Panhandle counties have suffered some losses but I doubt if they will be as high as some of the original rumors would have us believe," O'Farrell said.

"What we need now is some good warm weather. If we can get the amount we should logically expect at this time of the year we may yet have a record crop," O'Farrell concluded.

THE QUESTION

Do you think men should give their seats on crowded buses to women?

THE ANSWERS:

M. E. COBB, 2701 Second, manager of Texas Finance Co.: "Yes, I think they should on city buses. I don't think they should on long distance buses. After all, the man might be riding a lot farther than the woman and he might be more tired than she is. On city buses, I think it is more gentleman-like to let a lady have the seat."

A. B. SLAGLE, 1615 Eighteenth, editor of Southwestern Crop & Stock: "Under normal circumstances, yes, but this is altered by conditions depending partly on the age of individuals involved. Since women have moved in on many fields formerly occupied by men, the age of chivalry is largely past."

MISS BESSIE McCLESKEY, Lubbock route 7, cashier at John Halsey Drug store: "I think it would be nice. It would show courtesy for the women and I the women would think more of the men for it. They would appreciate it."

JIMMY COLEMAN, Wilson, senior in Wilson High school, "Yes. Men usually are stronger and healthier than women and women usually need the seat worse than men do. It's polite for men to let women have their places on buses."

WEIGHT REDUCERS

The average human body loses weight at the rate of one pound every eight hours by evaporation of moisture through the lungs and the pores, and through exercise.

MRS. GENE SOUTHWICK, 2017 Fifteenth, cashier at Hanna-Pape & Co.: "Yes, I do. I have seen men give their places on buses to women and the ladies certainly think a lot of it and appreciate it so much, I think it is the thing for them to do."

MRS. B. C. LINN, 2213 Twenty-fifth, saleslady for Lubbock Monument works: "Yes, I do. I guess I'm too old fashioned for this modern age, but I think there is a degree of refinement and ethics that should characterize each sex and I appreciate courtesy in any gentleman."

Many City Residents Are Bitten By Dogs

Reports from Lubbock residents that they have been bitten by dogs are received almost every day in the City-County Department of Public Health, Gerald Jarvis, director of the department, said Thursday.

In the last two months, approximately 25 dogs have been placed under observation after biting persons and that number is below the average for a two-month period, he said.

Woman Is Bitten

Mrs. F. V. Williams of 2405 Tenth reported Thursday she had been bitten by a dog that day and J. C. Thompson of 2808 Twenty-seventh reported he had been bitten by a dog Wednesday.

Owners of dogs that have bitten persons, breaking the skin, have the choice of sending their dogs to a veterinarian at their own expense or letting them be placed in the city dog pound for the required 12-day observation.

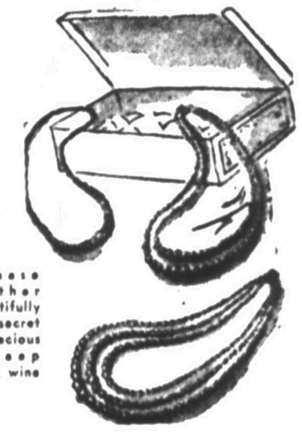

Because of seriousness of rabies, close records are kept on such cases. If the dog is normal at the end of the 12-day period, the person bitten is safe, said Jarvis.

A case of rabies has not occurred in Lubbock in at least four years, he said.

In event a dog should prove to have rabies, the person bitten would have time to begin Pasteur treatment, or rabies vaccine, to guard against the dread disease.

★ ★ ★

That Man on Avenue Q says many more people equip their consciences with mufflers than with loudspeakers.

★ ★ ★

YESTERDAY, we promised to unfold today a word picture of a Way of Life—an unusual Way of Life in these days of widespread suspicion and prejudices: the Way of Life of Los Dos Laredos.

Down on the Texas-Mexican border, 150 miles Southwest of San Antonio, stand two unusual cities: Laredo, Texas, and Nuevo Laredo, Tamaulipas, Mexico.

The American city has a population of around 60,000; the Mexican city around 40,000. In the 100,000 total there are about 15,000 Anglos. All the rest are Americans of Mexican extraction, or Mexican nationals.

Strangely, what today is Laredo, Texas, is the older of the two cities. It was founded 194 years ago on soil which then was Mexican. Nuevo Laredo came into being a few years later, but for well over a century the two have stood together, separated only by the Rio Grande (called the Rio Bravo by the Mexicans). They are linked by bridges, both highway and rail, but also by bonds of mutual respect.

★ ★ ★

Despite occasional differences between the U. S. and Mexico, Los Dos Laredos have managed to live not only in peace, but in accord throughout most of the many decades of their twin existence.

In recent years, the co-operation and the understanding between the peoples of both sides of the border there have been outstanding.

More than at any other point where Mexico meets Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California, at Laredo people of both cities practice goodwill, international amity and complete business, social and cultural intercourse.

BECAUSE the residents of the Laredos live together without thought to either Anglo or Latin ancestry, it probably never has occurred to them that their example should be publicized, so others on both sides of the border might be influenced to do likewise.

But if we were a resident of either of the Laredos, we should suggest the adoption of a joint slogan, one to be prominently displayed so all of the many thousands of daily visitors there could read, see and then understand.

That slogan, taken from Psalm 133, would be:

"Behold how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity."

In Laredo and in Nuevo Laredo, the Way of Life is unified—and is both good and pleasant.

★ ★ ★

Hugh Cluck, the popular mayor of Laredo, puts it this way:

"Really, we have only one city here.

"Laredoans pitch in with Nuevo Laredoans in celebrations, civic efforts, etc. Nuevo Laredoans do the same with us. I spend much time in Nuevo Laredo and the mayor there spends much time in Laredo. The police, sanitation and other city departments of both municipalities—and the schools, too — work together under a system of complete reciprocity.

"It is no exaggeration to say that Los Dos Laredos make up one, big municipal family."

★ ★ ★

IT IS natural, under conditions like those on the Laredo-Nuevo Laredo border, for Anglos and Latins to mix in business. There are many partnerships in which both races are represented.

But what is not so usual at other border points is the complete merging of the Latins and Anglos from the social standpoint.

Important and unimportant citizens of both races in Laredo live side-by-side. Latins and Anglos mingle in clubs, in neighborhood parties, in each others homes.

It is not at all unusual for a social function to find the Latins and the Anglos represented half-in-half. It is less unusual for there to be more Latins present than Anglos, because of the heavier Latin population.

The Smiths and the Gomezes, the Joneses and the Gonzaleses recognize no racial lines. Divisions in their social lives are economic and/or cultural, not by ancestry.

★ ★ ★

In addition to the unusual Anglo-Latin situation in Los Dos Laredos, there is an unusual religious situation, too.

The population is something like 80 to 90 per cent Latin and about the same per cent Roman Catholic.

But the church groups get along well, and with a maximum of tolerance.

The First Presbyterian church, for instance, has three deacons whose wives are Catholics. One Protestant church has a set of beautiful chimes purchased in Switzerland and presented to the church by the Catholic husband of a member of that church.

Religion does not enter into politics there. Mayor Cluck, for instance, is a Presbyterian. If religion were in politics, he wouldn't have been mayor for 15 minutes, let alone for 10 years without opposition.

★ ★ ★

THOSE of us who live in other parts of the United States—including those of us who live in other parts of Texas—can learn a great deal about tolerance and understanding from the people of the two Laredos.

We Protestants and Catholics can learn from the Protestants and Catholics there. So can we Anglos and Latins learn from our counterparts where Webb county meets the Tamaulipas border.

There's a pleasant, refreshing "live-and-let-live" philosophy along the Rio Grande there by which it is not considered good taste for one person, or group of persons, to butt into the personal affairs of another individual or another group.

Laredo and Nuevo Laredo seem to have "done the impossible" in keeping Old World charm while adding New World conveniences and opportunities.

The people live a relaxed life, yet they have at their fingertips all the modern gadgets and improvements to be found in Waukegan, or Rock Island. They have fine, modern hotels, theaters, business buildings and stores; beautiful residences and others quite satisfactory, if simple. The Laredo Boys club is the largest and handsomest we've ever seen—several times as large as ours here. And despite the fact that the two Laredos are what are called "low income cities," their juvenile delinquency problem is not nearly so pressing as in many of the so-called "rich" cities.

INTERNATIONAL amity and goodwill didn't just happen at the two Laredos. It came about through application of common sense, and plain human decency, by the people on both sides of the river.

The keystone in the structure of international goodwill there is the intelligent and lively Laredo Times, whose astute owner, William Prescott Allen, daily lives and breathes tolerance and understanding between the Mexican and American people.

Only non-Mexican to hold both of Mexico's top decorations for outstanding service to the Republic to the South, Mr. Allen long has been an unpaid, unofficial liaison man between our country and Mexico. Frequently, his advice is sought by high officials in Mexico City and Washington. He is a confidant of President Aleman, with whom he often travels when the Mexican president is in this country.

Mr. Allen's abiding interest in good relations between the American and Mexican people is mirrored, every day, in his newspaper and in the Way of Life in his home towns: Los Dos Laredos.

He, and the many others who have parts in the international program have set a pattern not only for Mexican-American relations on the border, but for sound American relations with other

BY DREW PEARSON: REAL ESTATE LOBBY SUFFERS SETBACK AT WASHINGTON DINNER

Sen. Humphrey Has New Symbol For Republicans

WASHINGTON — Hottest backfire the real estate lobby has suffered in its battle against public housing didn't get into the newspapers. It occurred at a private dinner in Washington honor of Sir Harold Bellman, British housing tycoon.

PEARSON

The dinner was given by Mrs. Frances Freed, widow of the late Allie S. Freed, a big construction tycoon who built the Buckingham apartments across the Potomac in Virginia. At the dinner were Edward Carr, ex-head of the National Association of Home Builders Oscar Kruets, president of the National Savings and Loan league; and Morton Bodfish of the U. S. Savings and Loan league, the latter indicted for violation of the lobbying act.

Sir Harold is chairman of the Abbey National Building society—British equivalent of the Savings and Loan league—so his American friends were all set for an evening of oratorical fireworks against public housing on both sides of the Atlantic.

The British financier got a big hand when he blasted at "stringent government controls" on private housing construction in his country. Suddenly, however, the applause died like a busted light bulb.

Figuring he would also blast public housing in England, and thus provide ammunition they could use against the Taft-Ellender-Wagner housing program, the dinner guests began asking about the dangers of "socialized housing" in America.

"I can't agree to that," replied Sir Harold. "Of course, I would rather not comment on your American program for public housing, because I do not feel it proper to do so. But I can tell you that the British program has worked out satisfactorily. In fact, as I see it, it's the only way to provide adequate housing for low-income groups."

GOP Mole Instead Of Elephant

Minnesota's jack-in-the-box Senator Hubert Humphrey has come up with a new symbol for the GOP in place of the traditional elephant. At a Democratic banquet in Pittsburgh, Humphrey suggested that the new symbol for the Republican party be the mole.

"The mole," Humphrey explained, "only sees in the darkness and is blinded by the sunlight.

"That is typical of the Republicans," explained the senator from Minnesota. "They are just discovering the yesterdays today, and are unwilling to recognize that there will be any tomorrows."

OUT in Seattle Republicans are scheming to run a woman against bachelor Senator Warren Magnuson of Washington next year. They figure the only candidate who can beat the handsome senator is Mrs. Pearl Wanamaker, state superintendent of education, but there is some worry that Mrs. Wanamaker at heart is a Democrat . . . The Wardman Park hotel in Washington refused to let Dr. Ralph Bunche, the negro diplomat who mediated the Palestine dispute, speak in one of its hotel rooms. The Middle East institute had reserved a private room in which Dr. Bunche was to hold a round-table discussion with a small group of experts. But when the hotel discovered Bunche was a negro, it canceled the reservation and returned the money . . . The Chinese Nationalist government has moved half a billion dollars in gold reserves to a secret hideaway in Formosa. The gold was moved in the dead of night . . . President Truman will name George P. Shaw, now ambassador to Nicaragua, as ambassador to El Salvador . . . The Russians are making exhaustive preparations for the foreign ministers meeting. The American embassy in Moscow reports that lights in the Russian foreign office have been burning until 3 a. m. for the past week. Foreign Minister Vishinsky reports on the job about 2 a. m. and doesn't leave until about 8 a. m.

Lou Gehrig's Widow

Mrs. Lou Gehrig made a big hit with the Senate subcommittee on health when she testified for legislation to combat multiple sclerosis, the dread disease that felled her baseball-playing husband at the peak of his career.

However, one sidelight of the hearing didn't get in the newspapers. It occurred when committee clerk Bill Reidy passed her a note that caused Mrs. Gehrig to reach for her handkerchief. The note read:

"Dear Mrs. Gehrig — You don't know me, but I used to play ball on the sandlots of New York with Lou. When he was playing ball for Columbia university and later when he was a great star with the Yankees, he frequently came down to 116th street in Harlem to teach me and other kids the fine points of the game.

"That was a mighty tough neighborhood, but the gang fights always stopped when Lou showed up. He did a lot to stop delinquency and many of those tough kids who went on to amount to something will always be grateful to him."

ARMS for Korea—General MacArthur has urgently requested that a big shipment of American arms and supplies be sent to South Korea immediately to build up the anti-Communist government of President Syngman Rhee. MacArthur has pass on the word that the Communist government of North Korea is getting tremendous arms shipments from Russia and its army, which has Russian officers, may try to take Southern Korea by force. MacArthur recommends that enough rifles, machine guns and artillery be sent to arm a South Korean army of 100,000 men.

Communists in Philippines—a secret Army mission has just returned from the Philippines with a recommendation that the United States arm and equip a Filipino army of 100,000 men immediately. The mission, headed by Maj. Gen. Albert Jones, strongly urges that the U. S. Army build up the Filipino army to help it fight off the attacks of the Communist guerrillas who are getting more and more recruits each day.

U. S. shuns Hong Kong—Great Britain has invited the U. S. Navy to use Hong Kong as a base in the Far East, but the Navy has said "no." Inside reason is that the American embassy in Nanking has warned that the Chinese Communists are determined to drive the British out of Hong Kong, even at the risk of war, and the U. S. Navy doesn't want to get mixed up in it.

The American Medical Association derives a small crumb of satisfaction out of the fact that four hisses can be registered in pronouncing the term, "socialized medicine."

It can be debunked by reading the initial chapter of Paine's classic, "The Age of Reason" . . . The youngest Supreme Court Justice was Joseph Story, who became a member at 32 . . . Our country didn't become a nation of 48 States until a mere 37 years ago—when Arizona joined the Union.

Well Worth Special Attention

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

TODAY'S TIP to husbands: Paying your wife compliments is like putting money in the bank. Why is that? Well, it works like this:

The woman who is sure her husband loves her and thinks she is beautiful hasn't the urge to spend money that women have who feel neglected.

Some women whose husbands have long since quit paying them compliments spend every cent they can get their hands on to make themselves feel more attractive.

MILLETT

They are "suckers" for the most expensive cosmetics. They can be sold any kind of treatment a beauty salon has to offer. They work their way out of low moods caused by never getting a build-up from their husbands by going on clothes-shopping sprees.

Others just figure what's the use of worrying about their lost looks, anyhow, and decide to concentrate on a house. They compete with other women not on the basis of personal attractiveness but on the basis of who has the most impressive house. They go in for the newest ideas in rugs and draperies and household gadgets the way the first type go in for cosmetics and clothes.

And still other neglected women spend money just for the lift they get from spending it. They can be sold anything. Being unhappy and dissatisfied with themselves, they get a lift out of buying a new possession, showing it off for a few days — and then they're as dissatisfied as ever.

• • •

CRITICISM COSTS MONEY

SO NEXT time you're tempted to take a verbal dig at your wife remember it will probably cost you something — in dollars and cents. She'll brood over the remark and the longer she broods the unhappier she'll become.

And finally she'll telephone her best friend and say: "Let's go to town tomorrow and shop a while and have lunch. Maybe it will pep me up. I've been feeling kind of down in the dumps the last few days."

That, my friend, will cost you money. Your little woman will see something expensive she wants. She'll be just disgruntled enough not to care whether she ought to spend the money for it or not. She'll buy it, and come home feeling in a much kinder mood toward you.

And you probably could have avoided having to foot the bill for that extravagance if you had just complimented instead of criticized her.

World conditions hav about become such that a person can't avoid following the advice, "Live dangerously!"

"Try And Stop Me"

THERE is a subtle bit in Noel Coward's super motion picture, "Brief Encounter," that is flashed on the screen too quickly for many spectators to catch. The hero and heroine are visiting a local cinema to see something called "Flames of Passion." In tiny letters under the title appears the legend "From 'Gentle Summer' by Alice Stoughey."

That reminds me of the producer who hired a top writer to make a scenario of a Broadway hit the studio had bought for a modest half million or so. The producer didn't like the scenario at all. "What did I need him for?" he complained. "It's just like the play!"

Today's Thought

And Jesus answering said unto him, Suffer it to be so now: for thus it becometh us to fulfill all righteousness. Then he suffered him.—Matthew 3:15.

Think not the good, the gentle deeds of mercy thou hast done,
Shall die forgotten all; the poor, the prisoner,
The fatherless, the friendless, and the widow,
Who daily owe the bounty of thy hand,
Shall cry to Heaven, and pull a blessing on thee.

—Nicholas Rowe.

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

British Marquess Evaluates U. S. By Life In Night Clubs

NEW YORK, May 20—My set—the one that meets at teatime at "Babe's Bucket of Blood"—has been most awf'ly intrigued with dear David's evaluation of America, for a magazine called Look. Dear David is the marquess of Milford Haven, an engagingly gap-toothed young buck who spent most of the past year in the U. S.

RUARK

He was here avowedly to front for a British radiator firm, and he strove mightily. He wore his highball hand to the bone at private tea-fights. He was to be seen nightly at the Stork club or El Morocco, in which latter palace he sat with such tenacity they occasionally had to cut him loose from the zebra-hide seats.

Dear David is described as England's most eligible bachelor. As best man at the royal wedding, Prince Philip's best buddy, and nephew of Lord Louis Mountbatten, David is altogether a tasty dish to set before a commoner.

• • •

Publicity Is "Avoided"

The young marquess looks a bit askance at our native land, with its curious tribal rites and customs. You can't blame him much, since he collected his lore in those strongholds of average Americana, the Stork and Morocco. Every so often, when the wind blows me into one of the early morning celebrity traps, I get to feeling a little uneasy myself.

Dear David was devilishly put out by the Ameddican press, always poking and peering into a bloke's privacy. It's simply staggering that a chap can be so confoundedly annoyed by the gossip columnists and photographers, when a chap's always been brought up to think that unless one broke the law, one's privacy was one's own.

I staggered right along with Davie. It's outrageous to think that a fellow can't spend night after night in the plush gin joints, dating a different doll each night for her publicity value, without having those nasty old house photographers popping flashbulbs at him. You'd think he would become so outraged that he might even stay home to preserve his precious privacy. So few photographers batter down doors any more.

• • •

OF THE 13 photos the magazine ran on the marquess, I noticed that four were snapped in Morocco, three in the Stork, and two at the St. Regis. At no time did he appear to be about to smash a camera.

It is obvious, too, that David chose his female companions with an eye to incognito hand-holding in some hidden tea-room. His public companions were Sharman Douglas, daughter of our ambassador to England; Sandra Rambeau, described as formerly "beamed by the Duke of Kent"; two of the more resounding post-debs, Mary Damon and Virginia Leigh, actresses Kyle McDonnell and Selene Walters; and finally, Felicia Warburg of the banking family and Mrs. Reginald Vanderbilt. These ladies undoubtedly qualify the marquess as an authority on simple American womanhood.

I agree with the marquess when he says the American businessman is working himself to death, but I wonder how he ever found out. If we all agree that David has to sleep sometime, it is obviously in the day time, when other people work. You can't fight that rumba all night, every night, and still go to commerce in the cold gray dawning.

• • •

New Tour Planned

David says that out intolerable American over-heating is wrecking the complexions of our lovely ladies, and that the British complexion is basically more beautiful. This is either a pitch to peddle his radiators or just simple hometown pride.

One has always known of the magnificent English complexion — the fine, smoked leather texture of the horsewoman's face, the raw, chapped cheeks of the lass who sees hot water only in a tea-jug, the delicate ingraining of soft coal in the Welsh lady's pores, and the lovely clear pallor induced by freezing from October to July. The chilblain, not the lion, should be Britannia's emblem.

As I was saying, the Bucket of Blood's tea club was most frightfully intrigued by dear David's impressions of our barbarous democracy. Next trip, we are going to toughen him up with a luncheon at Lindy's, and then take him over to Third avenue. That's where the boy will really see life. And I ain't referring to the magazine.

William the Silent, Prince of Orange who died in 1548, won his nickname because he held his tongue when a King of France incautiously tipped him off about Spain's plan to root out Protestantism in the Netherlands.

Today's Journal Editorial

IT MAY SERVE A PURPOSE

Those who would like to revive the legalized horse race betting racket in Texas must be given credit for persistence. They have tried to get such a bill through every session of the Legislature since racing was kicked out of the State after short experience many years ago.

It had begun to look as though these lobbyists finally had decided they were wasting their time and that no such bill would be proposed in the present session. But they could not resist temptation and a racing bill has been introduced by Rep. A. J. Vale, of Rio Grande City.

He supports it with the stock argument that racing would produce large tax revenues. He has avoided carefully references to the costs and other evils which, as Texans know from experience, are inherent in such a racket. Vale's sponsorship of the bill may serve the useful purpose of adding to the emphasis that residents of this State would not tolerate the return of anything so rotten.

Compare STRETCH-R DELINTED with ordinary cottonseed:
Goes farther in equal volume.
Germinates 3 to 5 days faster.
Germinates on less moisture.
Needs no extra planting tools.
Keeps planter box clean of lime and lint. Makes cotton chopping unnecessary. Resists seed-borne diseases. Proves its profit in the field.
Order one of our five STRETCH-R Delinted brands . . . they make the crop that makes you money.

REDS HIT BLOW BY NEW DEMANDS

CIO Leaders Take Action To "Smoke Out" Left-Wing Men

WASHINGTON, May 20. (AP)—The CIO has shoved the leaders of its left-wing minority toward an outright break with the parent organization, and more shoves are coming.

This is the meaning of the three-day meeting of the 52-man CIO executive board which ended last night with the board's demand for the resignations of all its members who won't abide by official CIO policies.

Nobody resigned.

Murray Makes Statement

CIO President Philip Murray publicly announced that the CIO is facing up to "a Communistic situation" which must be dealt with at the CIO convention starting Oct. 31 in Cleveland.

Harry Bridges, head of the CIO longshoremen's union, who was by far the most talkative of the left-wing group at the board meeting, told a reporter the board action had "nothing to do with Communism." He said it was strictly a question of whether CIO unions are to run their own affairs or whether they must take orders from the CIO.

Bridges also said he wouldn't resign from the board or lead his union out of the CIO.

Murray and the board, by a three-day stream of stern warnings and resolutions, told the left-wingers—and especially Bridges—that if they don't end their defiance of CIO decisions such as supporting the Marshall plan, they will be dealt with by the convention.

All Unions Represented

Murray pointed out to newsmen that the convention has power to revoke union charters and knock members off the 52-man CIO executive board.

All of the CIO's 41 unions are represented on the board. Most of them are represented by their presidents.

There are 11 unions in the left-wing group that has been opposing Murray's leadership and CIO policies. Only six of them were represented in the meeting when last night's resolution was adopted by a 29-6 vote. The six representatives were announced as follows:

Harry Bridges of the longshoremen; Donald Henderson of the food and tobacco workers; Joseph Selly of the American Communications association; Hugh Bryson of the marine cooks; Abram Flaxer of the public workers; and James Durkin of the office and professional workers.

The other five left-wing unions are: United Electrical workers; farm equipment workers; fishermen's union; mine, mill and smelter workers; and fur workers.

Murray said at a news conference these 11 unions have "less than ten per cent" of the CIO's membership. He had previously said 12 per cent, but last night he said further calculations showed a lower percentage.

Murray told the reporters "this is an obvious attempt of the CIO leadership to legislate against Communist infiltration into our movement."

In reply to questions, Murray made it clear that a Communist could remain on the executive board if he conformed to the official CIO policies laid down by the conventions and the executive board between conventions.

James B. Casey, the CIO's secretary-treasurer, broke in to remark:

"In other words, a CIO officer can be a Communist, but he can't act like one."

WHERE BIG FOUR MEET—The Palais de Marbre Rose, home of the Duchess of Tallrand-Perigord, in Paris, will be the scene of the Big Four conference on Germany, which opens Monday.

Travelers

er. "That's one harvest they will have," Miss Ford added.

The travelers had to do fast arithmetic in their minds frequently to determine how much various items were costing them in American money. In France, 320 francs were equivalent to a dollar. In Switzerland, four francs were equivalent to the dollar, Swiss money being more nearly equal American money in value than the money in any country visited. In Italy, approximately 600 lira were equivalent to a dollar and in Austria, about 20 Schillings. Miss Ford's experience as a banker sometimes was convenient in the figuring necessary in deciding cost.

Miss Ford expressed appreciation that, "We don't have any black market in money in America. Our money is stable. We can't go around the corner and get $10 for $1 on the black market.

"Their money system is improving in all of those countries due to the American dollars which have been brought in there under the Marshall plan," she said.

Miss Turner, who wrote accounts of travels in Europe while still there, will write further accounts for the Woman's Angle, her column on the woman's page of the Morning Avalanche.

"If you want to get ahead, get a hat" is the British hatters' new slogan.

Doctor Charged In Slaying Is Slated To Take Witness Stand

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., May 20 (AP)—Dr. Robert C. Rutledge, his attorney says will take the witness stand sometime today to testify in his first degree murder trial.

Dr. Rutledge is accused of fatally stabbing Byron C. Hattman in a fight in a Cedar Rapids hotel room last Dec. 14.

The defense contends Hattman, 29, a St. Louis aircraft instrument designer "seduced and debauched" Mrs. Sydney Rutledge, the defendant's blonde 23-year-old wife, after a sailboat ride and drinking party last July 31.

Doctor To Testify

Defense Attorney Walter Barngrover has stated Dr. Rutledge will tell "what only God and Dr. Rutledge know" about what occurred in the hotel room when he takes the stand. John Wilkerson, 41 of St. Louis, a private detective, said yesterday Hattman pulled a knife from his pocket early last November and indirectly threatened to use it on Dr. Rutledge.

The detective testified the incident occurred when he met Hattman at Dr. Rutledge's request in an effort to persuade Hattman to let the Rutledges alone.

Meeting Is Revealed

Wilkerson said the meeting took place after Dr. Rutledge had reported Hattman demanded money from the doctor.

"I told Hattman Dr. Rutledge had called me and said Hattman was demanding money," the detective testified. "I said Dr. Rutledge had told me Hattman asked for $200 first and then a little later demanded $2,000.

"I told him the demands constituted blackmail and if he didn't stop bothering Dr. and Mrs. Rutledge I would go to the Emerson Electric company (Hattman's employer) officials and see what they could do.

"That made him mad. He took a knife out of his pocket and said, 'you tell that—he'd better not cause me any trouble out there.' Then he said something about him (Hattman) not being a doctor but that he could operate too."

Sydney Rutledge previously testified that Hattman seduced her against her will while her husband, a young geriatrician, was at work at the hospital.

Japanese War Loot Will Be Returned

TOKYO, May 20 (AP)—Occupation headquarters has approved restitution of $39,000,000 worth of property stolen by the Japanese during their wartime conquests. The figure was given by Brig. Gen. Patrick Tansey, civil property custodian.

"Claims have been received for all manner of property which the Japanese seized in occupied areas," he said, "from personal items such as watches and rings to whole industrial plants, passenger and cargo vessels, gold, silver, diamonds, raw materials, automobiles and cultural objects."

Tansey said China, the Netherlands, United Kingdom, France and the Philippines were the principal claimants of recovered loot. Much property claimed has not been found. Raw materials were used during the war, and other stolen goods were destroyed in bombings or ship sinkings. However, Tansey said, much unidentified loot has been found. It is to be sold and the proceeds distributed to the claimant nations.

The Swiss now buy most of their chemical raw materials in the United States.

Trainmen Remember Old Friendship Of Rail Worker, Boy

CHICAGO, May 20 (AP) — Each Memorial Day—since 1888—a train has come to an unscheduled stop on the lonely prairie near Elrod, South Dakota, and while passengers waited and wondered members of the train crew have visited a tiny grave along the right of way.

There, a moment of silence is observed, a few brief prayers said, and flowers are laid on the grave. The trainmen return to their train and the trip is resumed.

When curious passengers ask about the stop, they learn the story of how a railroad man's sympathetic understanding of a small boy's fascination for railroading led to a friendship that has been memorialized for 61 years even though both the railroad man and the small boy have died.

The man's name was William F. Chambers, better known as "Big Bill" Chambers, and the small boy is known only as "The Little Fellow." Back in 1888 Big Bill was a brakeman on the train hauling track ballast for repair work under way in the area. "The Little Fellow" was the 12-year-old son of the couple who had charge of the kitchen and mess cars for the construction gang.

Each day when Bill's train pulled into the railroad camp, the boy ran to meet him and Chambers would spend hours telling him tales of the big cities and of railroading. Then, in August, the boy became seriously ill and died. He was buried there along the right of way and Bill promised the boy's parents he would take care of the grave until they could return and remove the body. They never returned but Chambers kept his promised even when he became freight conductor and later passenger conductor. Section crews helped him by keeping the grass and weeds away from the spot. Someone put up a boulder to mark the grave.

Eventually Bill reached retirement age yet still visited the grave regularly on Memorial Day as long as he was able. Others took up the task for him and continued the practice even after his death in 1939. Vice J. Ford, conductor, married Bill Chambers' daughter. Every Memorial Day Ford has taken Chambers' place although he, too, is now retired. The flowers are sent by his wife and Mrs. Lydia Benson, another daughter of Bill Chambers, both of whom reside at Redfield, South Dakota. Together with the train crews these people have kept alive the friendship of "Big Bill" and "The Little Fellow."

For 61 years the Chicago and North Western's Train 108 has stopped on the prairie near Elrod, South Dakota, as it will again this year. Passengers have waited and wondered. They have heard the story and seen the ceremony. Not once has a protest been heard.

U. S. Judge Gives No Hope For Dismissal Of Commies' Trial

NEW YORK, May 20 (AP)—The prosecution completed its case in the Communist conspiracy trial yesterday and Federal Judge Harold R. Medina indicated strongly he would over-rule the usual defense motions for dismissal today.

"I am wholly at a loss to see what arguments could be presented by the defense," Judge Medina told defense attorneys. "The evidence submitted by the government is of such character there seems to be very little room for discussion. I don't see how I could fail to submit this case to the jury."

Defense counsel, caught by surprise late yesterday when the government rested its case against eleven top U. S Communist leaders, aimed new attacks on the conspiracy indictment today.

Trial In 18th Week

The defendants—who compose the party's American "politburo"—are charged with conspiracy to advocate overthrow of the government by force and violence. The trial has been under way for 18 weeks.

One of the points on which the defense is expected to base its arguments for dismissal is the U. S. supreme court's free speech decision last Monday. The high court ruled in a five-to-four decision that free speech must be permitted even when a speaker's words stir people to anger and unrest.

Defense lawyers told Judge Medina yesterday that the supreme court had ruled that "a clear and present danger must be present" in order for speech to be in violation of the law. Saying he considers that "a substantial question," Judge Medina said he would allow argument on it.

Testimony 'Improper'

Another point listed for argument is a defense contention that the testimony of seven FBI undercover agents who took the stand for the government was improper.

With the jury removed from the court room the judge and defense counsel engaged in more of the bitter arguments that have highlighted the trial since it started Jan 17. The judge again warned the lawyers of disciplinary measures.

As defense lawyers jumped up and down assailing him, the judge left the bench for a short recess to let things cool off.

At one point Judge Medina told lawyer George W. Crockett, jr.:

"Nothing you can do can goad me into doing anything to bring about a mistrial. I think I know just what you're up to now . . . I expect this sort of thing will get worse in the weeks to come."

Services Held For Former Lubbock Man

ARTESIA, May 20 (Special) — Funeral services for Albert Burdine Cockerham, 60, former Lubbock resident, were held Wednesday in the Paulin Funeral home chapel. Rev. Robert Hudson officiated.

Burial was in Woodbine cemetery of Artesia.

Cockerham, who moved to Eddy county in 1945, was a property owner in Lubbock during the preceding 20 years. Since moving to Artesia, he had been farming. He was a member of the Baptist church.

He died Monday evening in his home here.

Survivors include the wife, the former Maud Bray of Floydada; four daughters, Mrs. A. M. Hughes and Miss Gwynetta Fay Cockerham, both of Artesia, and Mrs. M. Turner and Mrs. W. A. Bishop, both of Lubbock; a son, Leonard, of Artesia; three sisters; four brothers and nine grandchildren.

Negro Mother Not To Show Siamese Twins

LOS ANGELES, May 20 (AP) — "They are worth more than money," says Mrs. John B. Jones of her Siamese twin daughters. "I have no intention of making them public exhibits."

She referred to an inquiry from an Atlantic City, N. J., amusement pier.

The 35-year-old negro mother of nine other children, five still living, went home from the hospital yesterday after naming the twins Mary Yvette and Gladys Yvonne. She hopes to return to her job as presser in a garment factory. She is estranged from her husband, a cafe worker.

Joined at the top of their heads, the girls were born Saturday.

Seven similar cases have occurred in the past, of which at least one lived 10 years, said Dr. Phoebus Berman medical director of General hospital. Possibility of separation by surgery will be decided only after much study, he said.

Last Performance Of Dance Show Tonight

END OF FOREIGN AID PROPOSED

Russians Reported Ready To Join Peace Talks On Greece

MOSCOW, May 20 (AP) — Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said today Russia has told the United States and Britain she is willing to take part in negotiations for settlement of the Greek civil war, under certain conditions.

These, Tass said, would include withdrawal of all foreign military aid to the Greek nationalists government. (The United States is pouring millions of dollars into Greece to help her government fight the Communist-led guerrillas).

Tass said Dean Rusk, U. S. assistant secretary of state, and Hector McNeil, British minister of state, proposed unofficial discussion of the Greek issue at a meeting with Andrei Gromyko, Soviet deputy foreign minister. It said the meeting took place in New York April 26.

Joint Action Sought

Gromkyo, the agency reported, replied that Russia "'would not refuse" if the United States and Britain formally proposed three-power joint action. But, it continued, he told them "it would be best to utilize" the recent peace proposals of the Communist-led Greek guerrilla government as a basis for settlement.

(The Russian terms, as described by Tass, follow closely terms which the rebels have proposed to the Greek government on several occasions, and which each time were flatly rejected. The Athens government demands the rebels' unconditional surrender).

Tass said Gromyko proposed that, if the big three powers decide to work together on the Greek problem, they jointly call for an end of hostilities, the Greek government to proclaim a general amnesty and call free elections.

He proposed creation of an international commission to control troubled frontier areas of Greece, Russia to serve on the commission, Tass said. (This departs from past Soviet policy. The Russians have refused in the past to join any United Nations commission studying frontier problems in Greek areas bordering Communist-ruled Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria).

Election Board Favored

That step, Tass quoted Gromyko as saying, should be accompanied by an end of foreign military aid to the Greek nationalists government.

He said Russia would agree to serve on an election board to guarantee free elections in Greece, and that the board should include also representatives of the other big powers and the Communist-led guerrillas.

Rusk and McNeil, Tass reported, told Gromyko they would give him their government's views on his statements at their next meeting. The agency denied, however, that the Greek problem has been added to the agenda for four-power talks opening Monday in Paris.

In Washington, official sources were described as studying Gromyko's statement warily. It is questionable, informants said, whether the United States would look with much favor on his terms.

Funds Are Asked

Only yesterday President Truman asked Congress to appropriate $50,000,000 more for aid to Greece and Turkey in the fiscal year ending June 30.

United Nations sources said Gromyko, Rusk and McNeil met in New York Saturday, to discuss Balkan problems. The informants said Gromyko told the western diplomats the Greek guerrillas were ready for peace talks with the Athens government.

Rusk and McNeil, these sources said, told Gromyko their countries would do nothing about the fighting in Greece without the knowledge and approval of the Athens government.

Clearly, the United States would be happy to get the expensive Greek problem settled and off its hands. But its attitude in the past has been that if the guerrillas want peace, they should deal directly with Athens.

Second Of Guam Rape Suspects Is On Trial

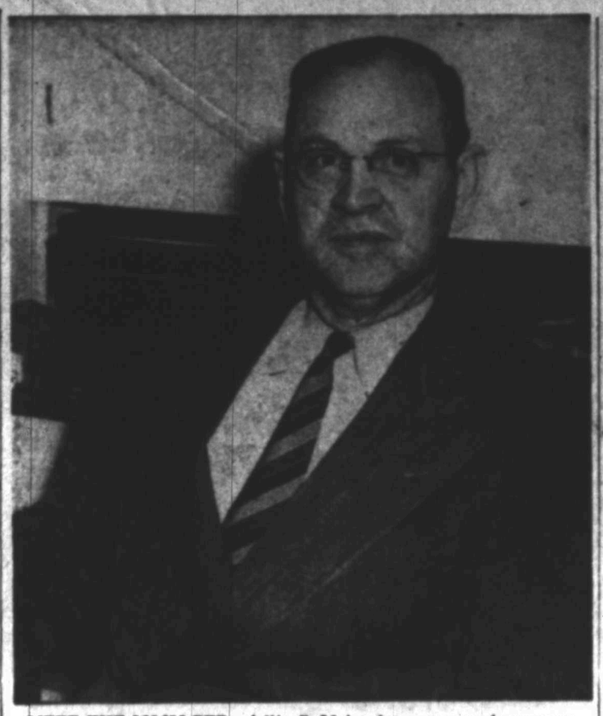

AGANA, Guam May 20 (U.P.)—The second of three negro servicemen accused of participating in the rape slaying of Navy civilian employe Ruth Farnsworth last December went on trial today before a court martial board.

The defendant, Pvt. Calvin Dennis, 27, of Frederick, Md., is a half-brother of Pvt. Herman Dennis, 20, of Calvert, who already has been sentenced to death on the same charges.

Miss Farnsworth, a former WAC who often was referred to as "the prettiest girl on Guam," was kidnaped from a curio shop where she worked evenings and was beaten and ravished. She was found unconscious in a jungle and died in an Army hospital here.

The third man accused of participating in her death is Sgt. Robert W. Burns, 32, of Spokane, Wash., who will be tried later.

Trinidad and Tobago, British West Indies, had a bumper cacao crop in the 1947-48 year — 7,990 tons, almost double the production of the preceding year.

MEET THE MANAGER—Adlia S. Meinecke, owner and manager of Meinecke Bros., was born near Krum in Denton county Sept. 3, 1899. He attended school there and was graduated from high school at Krum. He took a business course at Brantley-Draughon Business college in Fort Worth. He worked for the National Biscuit company in Fort Worth for about a year as a cashier, then joined the office force of Armour & Co., in Fort Worth. In 1924 he joined two brothers, Truman C. of Plainview and the late Robert Meinecke, who died in 1938, in establishing a hardware store at Idalou. They operated it as a partnership and in 1927 opened another store at Plainview. In 1930 they discontinued the Idalou store and simultaneously opened a store in Lubbock at Broadway and Ave. K. They moved to the north side of the street in the same block in 1935. In 1939 the store was moved into the Meineckes' own building at 1633 Broadway. The partnership was dissolved Jan. 1, 1945, and Mr. Meinecke became sole owner of the Lubbock store. Mr. Meinecke is a member of the board of stewards of First Methodist church, a 15-year member of Kiwanis club and in 1947 was president of the Panhandle Hardware and Implement association. He now serves on the advisory board of that organization. He is immediate past president of the Retail Credit Executives club. Mr. and Mrs. Meinecke live at 3115 Nineteenth. They have two sons, Steve, a Texas Tech student who is married and has a son of his own; and Charles, who is associated with his father in the store. Mr. Meinecke's principal hobby is a farm where he loves to spend time watching things grow. (Staff Photo).

Pennsylvania "Dowser" Gains Respect After Water Found

STOYSTOWN, Pa., May 20 (AP)—The good people of Stoystown have a new respect today for Dave King and his pair of pliers.

Recently the Stoystown Water Co. decided it needed a new well but didn't want to dig a lot of test holes. King was called into play as a dowser.

Uses Wire Pliers

A dowser is a person who claims ability to detect underground water by using a divining rod. Some dowsers employ peach tree twigs but King — an Amishman from Pennsylvania's Lancaster county—scorns such old fashioned methods in favor of a pair of wire pliers.

King paced across a plot of ground for the water company until at one point the pliers almost leaped from his grasp.

"There's a lot of water here," he announced. Using a pendulum made with a piece of string and a gold ring set in motion over a tumbler of water, he counted the number of vibrations.

Water Is Reached

Water, he said, would be found first at about 141 feet, again at 200 and 291 feet.

Despite the scepticism of a few residents, the water company started drilling. Yesterday, they reported, the drillers reached the 141-foot mark—and water gushed forth.

Yes sir, that Dave King and his pliers are highly considered in these parts now.

The short-eared owl contradicts about every popular concept of owl traits and habits. It frequently hunts its prey in broad daylight, almost never perches in a tree, and prefers open fields and marshlands to the woods.

Pravda Raps West Powers

By EDDIE GILMORE
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, May 20 — Pravda placed the blame for the "Berlin crisis" on the Western powers today, declaring the situation never would have developed if they had not "boycotted" the council of foreign ministers.

Almost on the eve of the Paris meeting of the foreign ministers of Russia, the United States, Britain and France, the official Communist newspaper devoted almost a half page to an editorial setting forth the Russian positin.

'Allies Ignored Council'

"There is no doubt whatsoever the 'Berlin crisis' would not have taken place if the United States, Britain and France had not set out at the very beginning on the road of ignoring the council of foreign ministers," Pravda said.

The editorial said the Potsdam conference had laid down a program based on the assumption there could be no peace in Europe unless Germany were transformed into a peace-loving democratic state.

The Western powers, however, tried to partition Germany and draw the Ruhr into an "aggressive" Anglo-American bloc instead of forming a united, demilitarized, democratic German state, Pravda charged.

The editorial summed up the Russian view of the present situation in this fashion:

Germany Divided

1—A peace settlement for Germany is being postponed and the occupation is being regarded more and more as permanent.

2—Germany is divided, notwithstanding the pledges of the big powers. The editorial added it was not accidental certain foreign newspapers were suggesting a new decision — economic unity without political unity.

3—Western Germany is in a difficult economic situation. The British military governor, Sir Brian Robertson, was quoted as saying that anyone who thinks the situation in Western Germany is good is a jackass.

4—The division of Germany has rekindled reactionary groups in western Germany and at the same time sharpened the opposition of "progressive" elements in Western Germany to Anglo-American policy.

Vacations On Farms Proposed By Grange

NEW YORK, May 20 (AP) — An unusual plan for the coming summer months which will increase farm incomes and broaden understandings between urban and rural people has been presented by Grange organizations to members in 12 states from Maine to Virginia.

The plan encourages farmers who have two or more spare rooms to take in city vacationers on a paying basis, and thus develop a new type of resore business in rural areas.

The project was originated by William P. Wolfe, New York representative.

Aged "Minnie" Still Evading Fishermen

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., May 20—Minnie Methuselah is still evading capture.

The prizes for her, offered by local merchants, remain unclaimed.

Minnie, when last netted by state conservationists in 1945, measured 42 inches long. She's a muskellunge residing in Chautauqua Lake and a fish with a price on her head.

The famous fish was first netted in 1930 and tagged with the number "230". Since then she's escaped all anglers and has appeared only once—in 1945—in the conservationists' net.

Navy May Train Men On Carrier In Gulf

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP) — The Navy may send an aircraft carrier to the gulf of Mexico to train reserve airmen.

State Rep. Jack Cox of Breckenridge said yesterday, "It looks pretty good." He is here with others connected with Hensley Air Base, Dallas, favoring the plan. Hensley trains Naval air reservists of Texas and Oklahoma.

Rep. Thompson (D-Tex) said he understands the Navy favors sending a carrier to the Gulf and it has recommended it be based in the Galveston area.
