First Bale In Eldorado

The first bale of cotton arrived at the Mike's gin Wednesday night and is expected to be ginned this evening.

The new equipment at the gin was not completely installed, which resulted in the day's delay.

Edgar Spencer brought in the cotton which will make Schleicher county's first bale. The cotton was picked.

Farmers in the vicinity of the Moore gin are making preparations to begin cotton picking, and the Moores expect to begin ginning in another day or two.

Jess and Gene Koy Lease N. M. Grassland

Jess Koy of Eldorado and his son, Gene Koy have leased 134 sections of land near Roswell, N. M., upon which they will raise cattle and sheep. The land, which is practically all grass land, is located twenty-four miles west of Roswell. Mr. and Mrs. Gene Koy will move from their place near Barksdale to the new location about the middle of October.

The couple from whom the Koy's are leasing came to the U. S. from Germany and settled on this ranch in 1900. They plan to go back to Germany to settle their old estate, and will then return to Roswell and retire.

Revival At Rudd Scheduled Next Week

A revival meeting at the Rudd Methodist Church will be held next week, according to Rev. Roy Shilling, pastor, who will conduct the services. The meeting will open Sunday afternoon at the 2:30 service, and will continue Monday night through Thursday night at 7:45.

Everyone in the community, and any others throughout the county, are invited to attend the services.

Bailey Ranch Church Announces Revival

Revival services at the Bailey Ranch Baptist Church have been announced for next week, beginning Sunday, Rev. W. L. Taylor of Big Lake will do the preaching and C. F. Jones will lead the singing, according to Rev. Baltis Mathews, pastor of the church.

Services will be held at 10:00 a. m. and 8:00 p. m. next week. The evening services will be held outside. Everyone is cordially invited to attend any of the services.

BAPTIST REVIVAL CLOSURE WEDNESDAY

Dr. A. C. Donath of Conroe, prominent Baptist pastor, was assisted by Rev. Jim Hays, pastor of the First Baptist church of Eldorado, and Song Leader Joe Philbrick of Baylor University, in closing out a most successful ten-day revival last night. There were fifteen additions to the church as a result of the evangelistic services. Baptismal services are planned for Sunday night.

School Representatives Make Successful Trip

Supt. C. A. Reynolds and several board members secured additional concessions for teacher allowances, as a result of a trip to Austin during the week end.

The school had made a preliminary application for funds under the Gilmer Aikin program, and on Aug. 9 received word that the school's case had been reviewed, and that 18 white classroom teachers, one negro, one vocational unit and one superintendent would be granted—figures which were disappointing to local teachers.

Special consideration had been asked for the local school, which serves one of the more sparsely settled counties in the state. A clause in the law provides that a school with as much as 100 square miles in its district, and as little as one student per square mile, be given special consideration. The local school was granted two more teachers than originally announced, as a result of the local men's efforts. Other teachers needed will be employed also.

South American Cattle King Is Former Schleicher Cowboy

Schleicherites hardly expect to get news from a former resident, under a Paraguay heading in Time magazine, but that is what they have done.

In Time of August 22, there appears on page 26 a two-column story on George Lohman, the former Schleicher County cowboy, who is now a cattle king in Paraguay, South America.

The story opens with the statement that after 37 years in Chaco, Paraguay, Lohman is slowing up because of heart trouble and high blood pressure, and that he is now bossing his 960,000 acre cattle empire from a porch rocker.

Other facts given are these: He has more land than any other man in Paraguay, and about 80,000 head of cattle. He got his start when Fight Promoter Tex Rickard advertised for cowhands for a ranching project in Paraguay in 1912 and he went South with Rickard, staying on after Rickard quit.

With 600 head of cattle and 50,000 acres he started ranching 110 miles west of Concepcion. He was the only white man there, other residents being Indians.

It took him 10 days to make a trip by bullock cart to Concepcion for supplies and he went only every couple of years. He managed to stay on through numerous revolutions, though Bolivians once bombed his ranch house.

He took charge of 350 Lengua Indians, who did the ranch work. These and about 40 Paraguayan gauchos took care of the horses, fenced off poisonous swamps, provided water for the stock, and fought against cattle rustlers. By last year he was selling 20,000 steers per year.

Schleicher ranchers will read with interest the descriptions of his ranch house. He lives like a frontiersman, in a ranchhouse surrounded by a palm grove stockade, with no running water or plumbing. To keep out the numerous mosquitoes he has screened the bedrooms, which is his only concession to comforts of civilization. The Indians live in a dirty village nearby.

His wife, a native Paraguayan who formerly cooked at a Conception hotel, has learned to cook fried chicken, and bake buckwheat cakes and biscuits. Of the cattle king's nine children, only 3½-year-old Juancito is still at home.

The Time article carried a picture of Lohman and his wife and child standing on their ranch-house porch. The story concludes with mention of the fact that Lohman thought early this year of selling out and returning to Texas, but had changed his mind and planned to stay in Paraguay.

Lohman arrived in Schleicher county seemingly penniless many years ago, and he worked as a cowhand a number of years for Will Davis. Many old-timers here remember him well.

Guests Tuesday night and Wednesday in the Leonard Lloyd home were Mr. and Mrs. Rex Morton of Big Spring and the John Lloyd family of Morton.

Details Are Announced For Opening of School

Assembly at 9:00 Monday morning in the high school auditorium will formally open the 1949-50 school year in Eldorado.

Seniors and freshmen will register at 10:00 and juniors and sophomores at 1:00. Classes will open Tuesday morning, Sept. 6.

Busses will run over the same routes they covered at the close of school last year. They will run Monday, opening day, bringing students in by 8:30 and leaving on the return trip at noon. Regular runs will be made Tuesday.

People who have moved and caused changes in their children's bus routes which will need adjusting are asked to call the school.

New students who are entering for the first time are asked to bring book cards and report cards Friday or Saturday preceding school opening, and enroll with their respective principal. This will facilitate enrollment on the following Monday. High school principal Gordon Griggs and elementary principal Wyndell Hall will be in their buildings on those days.

First grade students entering school for the first time will be required to present a birth certificate. The beginners will attend school only a half day each day during the first week.

Teacher Meetings

There will be a general faculty meeting Friday night at the high school, beginning at 7:30, Sept. 2. On Sept. 3 teachers will have conferences and instructional periods with their principals.

New Teachers

Four new teachers have been employed, and will be on the job when school opens.

Juanita Smith, a member of this week's graduating class at NTSC, Denton, will teach physical education. She has had three years of experience.

Mrs. Vada Burns of Brownwood, graduate of Daniel Baker, with over 12 years of experience, will teach in the grades. She taught recently in Sherwood and Water Valley and has been in college the past year. She has two sons who will attend school here, and her mother also makes her home with her. She will live in the teacherage opposite Harper's residence.

Miss Crystal York, a recent graduate of Sul Ross, will teach in the Latin-American school. She was reared at Vancourt and has a major in elementary education.

Miss Joyce Schwartz of Talpa, graduate of Sul Ross, and a teacher with six years experience, will teach in the grades. Mrs. Ted Kirby will return to the homemaking department instead of transferring to the grades as recently announced.

Most of last year's faculty will return to Eldorado.

Anthony Bricker of Sanderson visited Tuesday and Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. John West. He bought feed from the Wests to use on his 18-section ranch. He is an uncle of the Wests.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Peel and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Keys were among those attending a church meeting at Murr Sunday.

Dr. A. C. Donath Speaks to Lions

Dr. A. C. Donath, pastor of the First Baptist church of Conroe, was guest speaker at yesterday's meeting of the Lions club in the memorial building.

Speaking on "Practical Religion," Dr. Donath pointed out the many American institutions which owe their existence "...directly or indirectly to the Christian religion." He emphasized the fact that the churches need more support from their men in order to carry on the principles of Christianity. Dr. Donath has been conducting a revival at the First Baptist church here, and was introduced by Rev. J. M. Hays, pastor of the church.

Soil Conservation District News

"Better grass means bigger profits" was the theme at a field day and barbecue held at the D. C. O. Wilson ranch near Ft. McKavett, Friday, Aug. 19.

The program started at 11:30 with a movie, "Raindrops and Soil Erosion" being shown.

After lunch the program continued with J. Forrest Runge, Chairman of the board of supervisors of the Eldorado-Divide Soil Conservation District, giving a brief history and set up of the Soil Conservation District program.

Next a discussion on past use of the pasture to be toured and a history of grasses and range condition classes was presented.

The tour of the pasture started from the house and a stop was made in a draw about the middle of the pasture. Soil depth was checked and three clippings of grasses were studied. It was found that Side oats Grama produced about three times as much air dry forage and litter as did sod grasses on the same site and that a hillside site produced much less than the low land site.

A short walking tour was taken with grasses labeled and relative grazing value of each discussed.

An apparatus for checking soil splash, as shown in the movie earlier was set up over a good grass covered area and one set up over a bare area. The splash board in the area with a good grass cover was unsoiled, in the area that was bare the splash board was soiled up to two feet.

There were 57 registered guests and some who failed to register, with approximately 50,000 acres represented.

Mr. Wilson plans to hold this event next year to see what improvement is being made.

The field day was conducted by technicians of the Eldorado-Divide Soil Conservation District.

Two conservation films, "Raindrops and Soil Erosion" and "Soil and Water Conservation" were shown to two groups of farmers and ranchers last week. Tuesday night the films were shown at the Reynolds school house and Wednesday night at the Memorial building in Eldorado. A good crowd attended each showing.

"Raindrops and Soil Erosion" was a film dealing mainly with the effects of rain on erosion. It showed that raindrops hitting directly against the soil had a high displacement force with some soils being harder to displace than others. The same being true concerning the transportability of the soil. It clearly showed that a soil easy to detach and easy to transport will wash away much quicker than one that is hard to detach and hard to transport.

The effects of raindrops to range land and cultivated land under different uses and conservation treatment was shown. On range land with a good cover of grass there was no displacement of the soil and therefore no erosion. Range land having the same type soil and the same amount of rain but with a poor cover of grass was easily displaced and therefore easily eroded with a big percentage of water being lost by runoff. Cultivated land with a good stubble mulch lost very little soil but cultivated land with little or no stubble mulch was easily displaced and easily eroded under the same rainfall conditions.

In the final analysis it was pointed out that each acre should be used for what it is best suited and the needed soil and water conservation practices applied and maintained to conserve soil and moisture, and keep the land in a good productive state.

MUNDS HAVE DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Mund are the parents of a daughter, Norma Kay, born last Saturday morning in a San Angelo hospital. The infant weighed six pounds, three ounces at birth, and has two sisters, Jeannie, age 8, and Marsha, age 2. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hodges and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Mund, and great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Clark and Mrs. Henry Mund, all of Eldorado.

Mrs. Mund returned from the hospital on Wednesday, but the baby will remain there for about a week.

Eagle Team Looks Good

The first scrimmage of the new football season resulted in several injuries to the local team, announce coaches Ted Kirby and Bud Hopkins. The scrimmage was held Saturday night under lights at the local field with the Lakeview team, with a good crowd of Lakeview and Eldorado fans on hand.

Bill Jones, one of the captains, received an ankle injury which will keep him out of the first two games. Gerald Hicks, another first-string man, sustained a sprained ankle but is expected to be able to practice again next week.

For some reason a number of players have developed sore ankles in practice. Pinkney Craig cracked a bone in his foot during workouts.

The loss of these men will be felt, state the coaches, but nevertheless the team looks much better than it did last year. The boys looked especially well on defense in the scrimmage with Lakeview.

The local team will scrimmage with Lakeview tonight in Lakeview. The coaches and the team are taking great care to see that no more injuries result before the opening of the season. They are having workouts once each day.

The first game of the season will be played in Del Rio September 9.

ROBERT BAKERS MOVE TO TISDALE ESTATE RANCH

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baker, formerly of San Angelo, are moving this month to the Joe Tisdale Estate ranch. Mrs. Baker, the former Laura Tisdale, is a long-time Eldorado resident. She will be teaching near San Angelo during the school term and will join her husband for the week ends.

POST-SCRIPT

This newspaper family have just rounded out another year—our fourth—with the Eldorado Success. Each August we've forgotten to mention it, and anyway the time has gone by too fast.

We took over the paper with the second issue in August, 1945.

These four years, short though they may be, have brought so many changes to the business district, that we're already old timers; the majority of business houses have changed hands at least once since we came.

Sometimes an old resident shows up who says, "The town doesn't change at all," but we know better, for we've duly chronicled lots of business sales and changes in our news and advertising columns, and listed dozens of new houses and renovations on older ones.

We remember a few firsts concerning that first week as your publishers: first advertiser, Randy Fondren; first club woman in the office, Mrs. Joe Edens; first merchant, Archie Wright, who was grocer and ex-publisher; first church representatives, Rev. Jim Hays and Rev. F. B. Faust, who called on us together; first public official we met, City Secretary A. J. Atkins, whom we met at church; first ride around town (we ended up at the airport gate, turned, pointed out a large square white house surrounded by a picket fence as the type of house we'd like to own; last year we bought it).

We are glad to call attention to the fact that a birthday gift "from us to us" has arrived at the Success and is in operation this week—a larger press and a new attached folding machine.

The reader may note little difference except that the pages are longer. Later we'll be able to put out a seven-column paper if and when business justifies. Press runs of four pages at a time, and automatic folding of the completed paper will save the crew many hours of work per week. The two-page press will be sold when we find a buyer. Among other pieces of equipment we have added are: a new casting box, new paper cutter, stapling machine and punch machine. We have a number of items on our "want list."

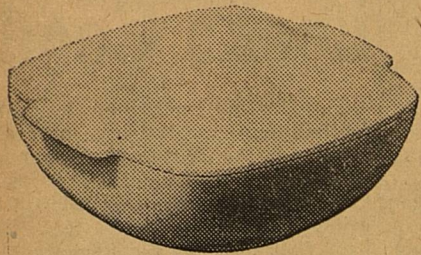

The next issue of the Eldorado Success, our annual school edition, will be published on Sept. 1. It will carry pictures and special stories concerning the school and advertising messages from the merchants along that line.

Miss Wilson Weds Luke Thompson Jr. Saturday Evening

Mr. and Mrs. Jap R. Wilson of Claude announce the marriage of their daughter, Nancy, to Luke Thompson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Luke Thompson Sr. of Eldorado. Vows were repeated at the First Baptist Church Saturday evening in Claude.

The bride entered on the arm of her father. She wore an ice blue slipper satin dress, fashioned with an overskirt which formed a train in the back. Blue medallions trimmed the sweetheart neckline, and the fitted bodice was fastened in the back with covered buttons. The long sleeves formed points over her hands. Her fingertip veil was of matching French illusion, attached to a cap of rhinestone-studded satin. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid.

Rev. Howard McClure officiated at the double-ring ceremony before the altar, which was decorated with urns of white gladioli and greenery. Candles burned in white holders.

The bride's attendants wore dresses of blue organza, designed with fitted bodice and long skirt, over which was an overskirt similar to that of the bride. They carried cascade bouquets of peach gladioli. Maid of honor was Miss Martha Wilson of Claude, sister of the bride. Miss Doris Smalley of Claude and Miss Pauline Forman of Chicago, Ill. were bridesmaids.

Kay Frances Peters, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. Her dress of blue organza was a miniature of the bride's.

Douglas McSwain of San Angelo was best man, Joe Wilson of Claude, brother of the bride, and George Stanley Finley of Eldorado were groomsmen. Eugene Southall of Amarillo and Bobby Williams of Lubbock were ushers.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony in the church parlors.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N. M., the bride was wearing a beige gabardine suit with black accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The bride is a graduate of the Canyon high school and of Texas Tech. The bridegroom is a graduate of the Eldorado high school and is beginning his senior year at Texas Tech. He served two years in the Navy. The couple will be at home at 1625 Broadway in Lubbock.

Those attending the wedding from Eldorado were Mr. and Mrs. Luke Thompson, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Peters and Kay, and George Stanley Finley.

Mr. and Mrs. (Billy) Oles McMillan drove to Ft. Worth last week, where Betty had another operation on her injured leg Wednesday. She remained at the hospital, and Oles returned to Eldorado. She was badly injured in a car accident over a year ago. A bone specialist at Ft. Worth performed the operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mund and Grete spent the week end in Dallas with their daughter and sister, Mrs. D-Eon Priest.

Washington News Letter

By Cong. O. C. Fisher

The B-36 probe has bogged down. It all began as a result of rather sensational charges made by Rep. Van Zandt of Pennsylvania a few months ago when he charged in a speech on the House floor that the B-36 was probably no good,
 that it cost too much, and, besides,
 that Secretary of Air Symington and Secretary of Defense Johnson were both controlled by ulterior motives in advancing the program of the world's biggest bomber.

Following the Van Zandt charges
 the House Armed Services Committee, of which I am a member, decided to conduct a full-dress investigation of the entire subject.
 That hearing has been going on for two weeks and will probably continue for as much as a month or more.

But already the charges have fizzled out. Van Zandt, when challenged to produce proof of some of his accusations, fumbled around in his files and produced a clipping from a newspaper which contained some loose talk by a Broadway gossip columnist. Aside from that, he had no proof to offer except an anonymous letter which the Congressman had apparently used in his blast at the Air Forces.

In the meantime the history of the much-talked-about B-36 was unfolded step-by-step before the Committee. It was put on the drawing boards back in 1941 when it was feared Britain might collapse and we might eventually be faced with absolute dependence upon long-range bombers to carry on a war. As time went on many changes were made in designs in order to speed the plane up and make it air-worthy. More recently four jet pods have been added which give the plane temporary speed of more than 400 MPH.

It was developed that by actual tests the plane has been flown for more than 10,000 miles with bomb loads of 10,000 pounds. In other words, the B-36 according to actual tests, has flown 5,000 miles, dropped the bomb load and returned to its starting base. It flies at a 40,000-foot altitude which is considered by experts as being reasonably safe at night time against enemy interference. In other words, the plane, equipped with heavy armor and its capacity bomb load, can fly to any target in Soviet Russia, do its damage and return to a starting base in the United States.

Lieut. General Curtis LeMay,
 head of the strategic air command, described by General Vandenberg as the most experienced bomber in the world today, in his appearance before the committee, declared:
 "If called on to fight, I'll order out the B-36 crews and be in the first plane myself."

What is true is that the B-36 is costing a lot of money. Already around one billion dollars have been spent in the costly experiments with this giant bomber which has made the B-29 obsolete.
 Nearly a hundred of them have been built, and additional ones will come from the Fort Worth plant during the next few months. There are few, however, who will say the expense has not been money well spent, if America is to have that much-needed advantage in event another war is forced upon us by the Russians.

Airplane development costs a lot of money. It takes five or six years to draw plans for a new design and finally get the finished product. The B-17 used so extensively and with so much success during the recent war, has long since become obsolete. The B-29 which dropped the atomic bombs on Japan, was six years in the making and is now considered obsolescent. And, already, a new bomber to take the place of the B-36 is on the drawing boards and will be ready in a few more years.

But as the world stands today, the B-36 is undoubtedly the world's best inter-continental bomber. It is undoubtedly the only bomber in existence which can fly 10,000 miles with a 10,000 pound bomb load and at an altitude of 40,000 feet, with a cruising speed in excess of 300 miles per hour.

In an atomic age the future belongs to those who hurry. And that means constant research and development of airplanes which will undoubtedly play a controlling part in any future war that may occur.

So the B-36 has thus far survived the tests—both in the air and in the Congressional hearing rooms. It is America's Number One symbol of power and security in this Air Age.

Ernestine Clark Weds Sonora Man

Miss Ernestine Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Clark, became the bride of James Cook of Sonora in a ceremony performed at 10 in the bride's home, this morning. The couple left immediately afterward on a trip from which they will return Sunday.

Rev. Jim Hays, the bride's pastor, performed the ceremony in the presence of about fifty friends and relatives.

Maryvonne Griggs, wearing brown taffeta, was maid of honor, and the bride's brother, Earl Dean Clark, was best man.

The bride wore blue taffeta with white accessories, and carried a white Bible, which was topped with pink carnations on white satin. For her going-away costume she wore a white linen suit with navy accessories.

June and Jane Craig and Jonnie Lee Dickens, wearing blue taffeta, and Mrs. Chester Biggs Jr., wearing brown, were the four bridesmaids.

For something old the bride wore a bracelet belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. Henry Mercer; also a medal which her mother had been awarded when as a ten-year-old child she saved a child from drowning, and which was used as a Bible marker during the ceremony.

The white Bible which she carried was borrowed from Jane Craig, and her dress was new and blue. She also wore the traditional pin in her shoe during the ceremony.

Two large baskets of white gladioli provided the setting for the wedding, which was performed in the living room of the Clark home.

The bride has been attending the Eldorado schools, and was a member of the junior class this year. She expects to enroll at Sonora as a member of the senior class.

The groom is the son of Mrs. R. Cook of Sonora. He graduated from Sonora high school in 1945, and is in the windmill business there. The couple have rented a house in Sonora.

Plans For State Fair Are Announced

A bigger, brighter, gayer, more fantastic and original spectacle is the promise which the world's largest state fair holds for the two million visitors expected for the gigantic 16-day exposition starting Oct. 8 in Dallas.

The 1949 Fair will be the best balanced show in the history of the exposition. Commercial exhibits such as foods, agriculture, automotive, home show, and farm implements, will feature more interesting displays than at any time since the war. This is attributable to new market conditions and increased competition for public interest.

Two new foreign exhibitors—the British and Belgian governments—will add a new international flavor to the fair by presenting the best of their export articles in a serious bid for Southwestern favor.

More money for livestock premiums has resulted in a heavier flow of entries than for any previous fair. Headlining the 1949 livestock exhibits will be the National Aberdeen Angus show, Oct. 8 to 13. Herds from all representative Angus-producing states and from Canada are expected. Other breeds in the Beef Cattle show include Herefords, Shorthorns, and Brahman. Breeds in the Dairy Cattle show are Holstein-Friesians, Jerseys, Milking Shorthorns, and Guernseys.

Other major shows of the Livestock division will be swine, sheep, Angora goats, Quarter and Palomino horses, and an outstanding junior livestock show. Premiums total $65,235.

An entirely new type of agricultural show is being built to provide a harvest of ideas for farmers who wish to increase crop yields and incomes. Featured will be flax, grain sorghum, grass, corn, cotton, peanuts, rice, wheat, roses, pecans, oats and barley. Living, growing specimens of each crop will be presented in a dramatic setting "show-scaped" by the nationally famous Lambert Landscape Company of Dallas.

A revolutionary poultry exhibit will discard competitive classes and show instead how to raise better poultry under typical farm and backyard conditions.

Three major football tilts: Texas vs. Oklahoma, SMU vs. Rice, and SMU vs. Kentucky, top an impressive nine-game gridiron schedule in the Cotton Bowl which is being increased in capacity from 67,431 to 75,347 by addition of a second dock on the east side. The fair's parking lot is also being enlarged at a cost of $25,000 to accommodate 1,000 additional cars under all weather conditions.

Also in the Cotton Bowl will be six nights of free 30-minute fireworks shows and the spectacular "Marchiesta" climaxed Music Festival Day, Oct. 19.

Entertainment features being signed for the Ice Arena, Grandstand and Auditorium, will round out the best-balanced entertainment program in the fair's history.

Free outdoor acts on the Midway will include the Stratosphere Man, highest sway pole performer in the world; and the Waldorfs, daredevil motorcycle act 100 feet in air.

The women's division will feature two new classifications, potted plants and ceramics, and the world's largest cake baking contest.

Most breath-taking event of all, however, is expected to be the Rural Youth Day, Oct. 15, when 75,000 4-H Club boys and girls, Future Farmers and Future Homemakers will be the honored guests of the fair. Interest in this day alone is a good indication that the 1949 Fair will be the most successful ever staged.

Mrs. Hanson Nixon and children spent the week end visiting in San Angelo.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Topliffe and two daughters have rented a cabin at Telegraph and will spend the week end there.

V. P. O'Harrow and Roy Martin fished during the week end on the San Diego river in Mexico. The river was up and they report only fair luck.

Herrin Ramsey of San Angelo spent the day Tuesday with his mother, Mrs. J. D. Ramsey.

Mrs. J. T. Ottaberry is on the sick list. Her daughter, Mrs. Gloria Cavness of Menard, is with her.

Becky Mund returned home Monday from a San Angelo hospital, where she sustained an operation recently, and is doing nicely.

Mrs. Joab Campbell is having medical treatment at a San Angelo hospital.

Mrs. W. F. Edmiston has been on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Phillips and children spent Sunday with Mrs. Phillips' sister, Mrs. Atlee McClary, in Tankersley.

LOOPHOLES in the Law

By WILL WILSON

Past President, Texas District
and County Attorneys Association

(Editor's Note: This is one of a series of short case histories, all taken from court records, showing how legal loopholes often enable criminals to escape punishment in Texas. Will Wilson, of Dallas, is chairman of a special steering committee of the State Bar, which is working for revision of the antiquated Criminal Code and Code of Criminal Procedure in order to eliminate these loopholes.)

Having drunk more beer than he could handle, Joe started a great disturbance in a tavern. The county sheriff was called. When he reached the tavern he tried to quiet Joe by talking to him. But Joe was in no condition to listen to reason. He threatened to kill the sheriff.

The sheriff was unarmed, so he went back to his car and got a pistol. When he returned to the tavern Joe had been carried to the back door by two men. The sheriff followed the men and approached Joe. As he came close, Joe stabbed him in the chest with a knife.

The wound was wide and went to the rib. It would have produced death if it had not struck a rib. Since that happened, however, the wound was not serious and the sheriff had to make only one visit to a doctor.

Joe was arrested, of course, and charged with assault with intent to murder. He was convicted of that charge. But when the case was appealed the higher court reversed the decision, the court ruling that the trial testimony was faulty because the record contained no testimony regarding the size and length of the knife blade or the type of knife Joe had used.

Too many criminals go free in Texas because of such technicalities as this one. The State Bar wants to close the loopholes thru revision of the criminal statutes.

CARD OF THANKS

When the God of all grace and wisdom, and love and mercy, and justice and holiness, and goodness and kindness called the name of Mrs. Viola Capps Kerr, our dearly beloved, she responded and quietly slipped away into the presence of her Lord and God, there to dwell in newness of life through all eternity. To those who ministered to us in our sorrow, we are grateful, and although we know not all who came, neither all the kind things that were done and said; but for each of you, for each kind word that was said, and each kind deed done for us, we express to you our heartfelt thanks, for in so doing you greatly helped us bear our loss. To our good doctor, our considerate undertaker, our faithful minister, as well as all others, may we say "God Bless You."

—The family of Mrs. Viola Capps Kerr.

And to our loved one we say in the words of the poet:

"Sleep on beloved, sleep, and take thy rest; Lay down thy head upon the Saviour's breast; We loved thee well, but Jesus loved thee best, Goodnight! Goodnight! Goodnight!"

Calm is thy slumber as an infant's sleep, But thou shalt wake no more to toil and weep, Thine is perfect rest, secure and deep; Goodnight! Goodnight! Goodnight!"

Until the shadows from the earth are cast, Until He gathers in his sheaves at last, Until the twilight is overpast; Goodnight! Goodnight! Goodnight!"

Until the Easter Glory lights the skies, Until the dead in Jesus shall rise, And He comes, but not in lowly guise; Goodnight! Goodnight! Goodnight!"

Only Goodnight! beloved, not farewell, A little while and all his sons shall dwell, In hallowed union indivisible; Goodnight! Goodnight! Goodnight!"

Until we meet again before his throne, Clothed in the spotless robes he gives his own, Until we know even as we are known, Goodnight! Goodnight! Goodnight!"

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

If They're Wild, They Belong To Tik!

Saw Tik Anderson last week and was reminded of the first time I ever spoke to him. The missus had sent me out one Saturday afternoon to hunt for some blackberries.

I took a long hike and couldn't find any. Finally, I came to Tik's house along that low stretch east of the fork on River Road. "Hi there," I says, "any blackberries around here?"

Tik says, "There used to be—but I don't know much about things that grow wild." Later, I found how Tik supports his family by picking berries. Ever since, I've been like the rest of folks in town—respectful of his right not to tell where "his" berries grow.

From where I sit, respecting other folks' rights comes natural in our town... in America for that matter! Whether it's a person's right to enjoy a temperate glass of beer or ale, or whether it's Tik Anderson's right to keep secret where his berries are, it's all a big part of a real democracy!
