Poll Tax Payment Procedure Brings Explanation

PREPARING POLL TAX RECEIPTS — Bill Steger, deputy tax collector, and Sydna Doggett, employe of the Gray County tax collector's office, study a county map as Mrs. Doggett prepares to fill out a poll tax receipt for a county resident. Interest in poll tax sales in the county is up since new regulations have gone into effect this year covering the purchase of receipts. (Daily News Photo)

By GLENN McCASLAND

Changes in procedure in purchase of poll tax receipts and a slow sale of taxes have brought concern from the Gray County tax collector's office.

Collector Jack Back said the use of agents to purchase poll tax receipts has been eliminated under a new provision of the Texas Election Code.

He said that a number of service organizations in this area and across the state had acted as agents to purchase receipts for taxpayers.

* * *

BACK SAID so far a total of 800 tax receipts and exemptions had been sold and issued in the county this year. Normal poll tax records show a sale of 10,000 in a general election year.

Under the former law, any person wishing to allow an agent, such as a service club or church organization, to purchase their tax, could do so. A number of service clubs assisted with poll tax purchases each year, not only in Pampa, but throughout the state as well.

* * *

THE NEW CODE halts this practice, Back said.

"Only a duly sworn and authorized deputy, appointed by the assessor or collector is permitted to issue a poll tax or exemption," Back said.

The change is made in Article 5.11 in the election code.

It provides that a poll tax must be paid by the taxpayer in person or by a remittance of the amount of the tax through the U.S. mails to the county tax collector, accompanying the remittance with a statement in writing, signed by the taxpayer, showing all the information necessary to enable the tax collector to fill out the blank form of the poll tax receipt.

* * *

THE CODE states "except as herein permitted, it shall be unlawful for any person to pay the poll tax of another or to act as agent for another in the payment of the tax. It shall be unlawful for the tax collector to mail or deliver a poll tax receipt to any person other than the taxpayer or a person lawfully acting in his behalf in the payment of a tax."

He reminded residents that Jan. 1, 1963, is the date determining the exemption from the tax. The tax payable during the period of the year beginning on Oct. 1 in each year is the tax levied for that year against persons who were residents of the state and were between 21 and 60 years of age on Jan. 1 of that year.

IF A RESIDENT becomes [illegible] after that date, he is required to pay the tax within the time prescribed by law in order to be able to vote in elections held beginning Feb. 1.

Back said that information needed to fill out poll tax receipts by mail includes the date of birth of a taxpayer, and place of birth, state or county. Places for this information is being prepared on the new tax receipts.

Anyone needing further information concerning the poll tax purchase, may obtain it by contacting any member of the tax collector's office.

But speedy purchase of poll taxes is urged.

Barry Evades Debate Issue With Rockefeller

Outgoing Grand Jury Indicts 11, Reports

Eleven indictments were returned Friday afternoon by the Gray County grand jury, including two seperate counts of felony theft against one person.

District Attorney Bill Waters said the jurors returned true bills in seven driving while intoxicated cases, one forgery and passing case, one burglary and the two theft cases.

The second offense DWI indictments, Waters said, were returned against James Lee Matlock, Paul Edward Havnes, Juan Delina, Clarence R. Hill, Bill Mac Wilson, Walter Kyle Choate and Leonard D. Blanton. None of the parties addresses were given in the indictments.

An indictment was returned against Ernest L. Huff, charging forgery and passing. An indictment charging burglary was returned against Vernon L. Moore.

Separate indictments charging felony theft in two counts were returned against Robert Johnson Jr.

Waters said all of the persons named in the indictments had been arrested previously and charged with warrants served against them, therefore, their names could be released following filing of the indictments with the District Court clerk's office.

The grand jury made a brief oral report, thanking District Judge Lewis Goodrich and Waters for assistance in their deliberations during the past months.

The jury was dismissed after the report and Waters said a new grand jury would be impanelled Monday to begin work at once on another series of felony cases.

"I certainly want to thank each member of the jury for their fine work and co-operation in the past term of grand jury proceedings," Waters said. "Working with a group of citizens interested in good law enforcement is always a pleasure."

Judge Goodrich also thanked the jurors for their time and hard work as he accepted the indictments and heard the report.

62 Die As Trains Hit in Yugoslavia

BELGRADE (UPI) — Sixty-two persons died Saturday when a highballing express flashed through a red signal light in fog and plowed into a stationary passenger train at a suburban railroad station.

An official communique said 182 other persons were injured, and 72 of them admitted to hospitals.

Most of the victims were peasants and soldiers, bound for their homes on leave on the overnight trains.

All day rescue teams crawled and cut their way into 16 wrecked coaches, eight of them de-railed. They found a pitiful jumble of bodies and twisted metal.

The crash took place at suburban Jojinco station, eight miles outside Belgrade. Both trains were jampacked with 350 to 400 passengers filling every seat and standing in the aisles.

"The jolt sent us flying and tumbling. It was like an earthquake," survivor Danilo Tadic told reporters. "I had been sleeping and woke up to find myself hitting my head on the other side of the car. Fortunately my coat was hanging there.

Auburn Jeers Greet Negro

AUBURN, Ala. (UPI) — Harold Alonzo Franklin, 31, entered heavily-guarded Auburn University without a federal escort Saturday and was greeted by jeers from whites as he registered as the school's first Negro student.

Segregationist Gov. George C. Wallace had scores of riot-trained state troopers stationed around the campus and had given the orders to oust, bodily if necessary, any federal officials who put in an appearance.

Franklin entered the campus unnoticed shortly after the lunch hour, went to Magnolia Hall, where he arranged for his dormitory room, and then walked across the campus — a distance of about 3½ blocks —to the library building, where he formally registered.

Although a slight drizzle was falling, about 150 students gathered outside the library building and it was here where most of the students got their first glimpse of Franklin.

"I'll bet the nigger won't have to stand in line to register," one youth yelled.

Another, after watching the state troopers check Franklin's identification and usher him inside, commented:

"Well, I'll be damned. It took me more than two hours to register. This nigger is really getting good treatment."

Despite the jeers and slurs, however, the atmosphere Saturday was in sharp contrast to that of last June 11 when Wallace "stood in the school house door" and tried to block the desegregation of the University of Alabama.

Johnson Ready To Meet Solons As Holidays End

Competition Ends Between Ohio Papers

News dispatches from Lima, Ohio, Saturday reported that the Lima News, a sister newspaper of the Pampa News, has purchased the principal mechanical assets of the Lima Citizen and the Citizen has agreed to terminate publication in the Lima market on or before Tuesday, Jan. 7.

Details of the sale were not disclosed. The agreement did not settle litigation between the papers involving charges under the anti-trust laws. Representatives of the Citizen have stated its $7,875,000 civil suit against the News will have to be concluded in the courts.

Freedom Newspaper interests purchased the Lima News, which has been in business more than 70 years, in March of 1958. The Lima Citizen was founded in July of 1957 by local interests there. Actually, the Citizen came into being largely out of strikes called against the News by several newspaper unions.

The purchase transaction ended keen competition between the two newspapers, the only ones in Ohio engaged in direct competition. Both newspapers published afternoon and Sunday editions making Lima, a city of 52,000 one of the few in the country in which there was edition-to-edition competition.

Publisher of the Lima News is E. Ray Smith, former publisher of the Pampa News. Smith moved from Pampa to Lima in April of 1962.

Goldwater Flies to Capital for Campaign

By ROGER E. TIMBERLAKE

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, who flew to Washington Saturday to begin his GOP presidential primary campaign battle against New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, issued what amounted to a rejection of Rockefeller's challenge to debate the issues.

Goldwater said during a brief stopover in Los Angeles to change planes for the flight east that he did not believe Republicans should debate each other.

He added that debating Rockefeller "would be more like debating a member of the New Frontier" than a fellow Republican.

"He's been tearing my hide off for the past two months," Goldwater said of Rockefeller. I don't call that debating.

Rockefeller had issued a challenge for a public debate after Goldwater's announcement Friday that he would seek the GOP presidential nomination.

As for the issues he could debate with Rockefeller, the conservative presidential hopeful said his views differed from those of the New York governor on a number of important points.

He said Rockefeller favored compulsory unionism, while he is against it.

And he said Rockefeller wants Red China admitted to the United Nations, which Goldwater strongly opposes.

"He (Rockefeller) seems to have implicit faith in the United Nations, despite the fact it is not living up to its promises," Goldwater said.

Asked whether he would be willing to debate President Johnson, Goldwater replied: "Sure, I've been debating him for 10 years."

The senator said he expected that Johnson would consider a public debate with him as comparable to the famed television debates between the late President Kennedy and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon during the 1960 presidential campaigns — which were credited with helping Kennedy to a large extent in defeating Nixon.

Goldwater begins his stumping for the nomination with speeches in New Hampshire Tuesday and Wednesday, the first of several states in which he plans to run for the Republican presidential nomination in primary elections. Rockefeller is already campaigning in New Hampshire, where the primary voting will be held March 10.

ROCKEFELLER FIRES SARCASM AT OPPONENT

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, first announced candidate for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination, flew home Saturday from his initial campaign trip with words of sarcasm for Sen. Barry Goldwater "and mild criticism of President Johnson.

The governor flew here from Concord, N. H., last stop in a two-day tour of the state, which has the nation's first primary next March.

Hysterical Mob Endangers Pope As Holy Land Pilgrimage Opens

By WILLIAM SUNDERLAND

JERUSALEM, Jordan (UPI)— Pope Paul VI, first pontiff to visit the Holy Land, arrived Saturday on a humble pilgrimage in the steps of Jesus Christ and was greeted by such hysterical throngs that his safety at times seemed to be in danger.

Jordanian security guards, using every means short of firing into the mass of 100,000 persons, lashed out with rifle butts and clubs to hold back the mob whose aim seemed to be to get close enough to kiss the Pope's ring or touch him.

The crowds were so dense the Pope was unable to stop and pray as he retraced the 14 stations of the cross—Jesus' path to Calvary. Many pilgrims and spectators were injured.

At the sixth station, where Veronica wiped the face of Jesus, the Pope was forced to take shelter from the crowds in the doorway of a convent. He was there for about 15 minutes. He seemed to be near exhaustion, and his face was ashen.

Shop Windows Broken

Shop windows were broken and toys and glassware and cheap watches were trodden into the cobblestones as the security guards forced a pathway for the Pope to the Church of the Holy Sepulcher.

At the Church of the Holy Sepulcher where the body of Christ lay entombed the Pope arrived exhausted but was able to celebrate Mass though a short circuit in a television cable above his head sent up a flicker of flame that threatened disaster before it was extinguished.

As the pontiff intoned the ritual, the flames broke out 15 feet above his head. A workman climbed a ladder and tried to put it out but only managed to short circuit all the lights in the church. The workman beat out the fire with a long wooden mace used in church ceremonies.

Ignores Confusion

Pope Paul ignored the confusion and continued the ceremony by the light of candles. Later the electrical circuit was restored as the Pope mounted the stone steps to another part of the church where he uttered a brief prayer.

The day of buffeting by the crowds so tired the 66-year-old pontiff that he later cancelled audiences with other church leaders and remained in the apostolic palace for a rest.

Six Thefts Cleared With Arrest of Boy

Six theft cases were cleared by Pampa city police Saturday after the arrest of a 12-year-old youth who was attempting to run away from home.

Patrolman C. L. Wallace and police dog Tyi apprehended the youth about 12:30 a.m. Saturday as he walked along the 600 block of W. Brown, carrying a suitcase.

The boy told Wallace he was leaving home when the officer spotted him. A search of his suitcase brought discovery of a sock containing some $7.50 in small change.

Wallace and Police Lt. Bob Crouch questioned the boy and he admitted the following thefts:

Entry of a soft drink machine at the Red and White Laundry at 723 E. Craven, breaking open a soap dispenser and a candy machine at the laundry, taking $4.75 in change.

Entry of the Merchants Motor Freight Line at 412 W. Brown, opening a soft drink machine, but obtaining no money.

Entry of Footes Deep Rock service station at 323 W. Brown, where he took $1 in change from a soft drink machine.

Opening of a soft drink machine at Griffins Gulf Station at 613 W. Brown, taking 50 cents in change.

Theft and entering of two paper racks at the Harding and Roth Station at 821 W. Brown, taking some $3 in change from the racks.

Entry of a soft drink machine at Ables K-Tex station at

Voluntary Acreage Plan Eyed for Cotton

WASHINGTON (UPI)— The Agriculture Department is considering a voluntary acreage diversion program for cotton, somewhat like the feed grain program. It would be designed to reduce the huge cotton surplus in much the same way that the feed grain surplus was cut down.

The department will seek the advice of the Cotton Advisory Committee at a Jan. 6-7 meeting on the proposed surplus reduction program. If the committee agrees, the agency may ask Congress for enabling legislation. Action would have to be quick if the 1964 crop is to be affected, because cotton planting usually is completed in March.

The department has not worked out details of the proposed diversion program, but a spokesman said the payments probably would be based on 1.5 cents per pound of cotton, which would be in the neighborhood of $40 to $50 per acre, depending on region, land productivity and the like.

The producer would be paid in kind for diverting his cotton land to conserving uses. The department would sell the payment-in-kind cotton for the producer and turn over the cash.

The spokesman estimated 4 to 5 million acres of land would be affected, that net farm income would be increased about $200 million and that the cost of the cotton program would be cut by about $200 million.

He said such a diversion program would mean a reduction of 3 million bales in the cotton carryover by Aug. 1, 1965, to a total carryover of about 10 million bales.

Fund Started for Family of Officer Slain in Amarillo

Contributions for the family of slain Amarillo policeman, Jerry Cawthon, were mounting rapidly today, according to Police Chief Wiley Alexander, and had passed the $5,500 mark as of late Saturday.

The largest single contribution to the fund came from C. B. Gunn, former Pampa resident and businessman. Gunn's contribution was $1,000. Gunn, who is a partner in the Gunn Bros. Thrift Stamps, 318 N. Cuyler, trained and donated Tyi, Pampa's police dog to Pampa.

Alexander said, "Funds are pouring in from over the Panhandle and City Manager John Stiff said the insurance policies, sick leave, vacation and retirement fund accumulated came to over a total of $14,381 Mrs. Cawthon will receive from the city."

"Franz," Patrolman Cawthon's dog will be given to the Cawthon family according to Amarillo officials.

Childress, Cawthon's home town, also has started a fund for the slain officer.

Patrolman Cawthon was a cousin to local Texas Highway Patrolman Vernon Cawthon, 1124 Russell.

Police Quiz Suspect in Drug Theft

Pampa Police Chief Jim Conner and Texas Ranger Bill Baten returned Saturday from Amarillo where they quized a 21-year - old narcotics addict about the Dec. 12 burglary of Heard - Jones Drug Company.

The suspect was arrested New Year's Day in Amarillo in connection with a number of area burglaries after officers stopped the car he was riding in for a traffic violation.

Conner said the man refused to answer any questions, but Amarillo police were working on a series of laboratory tests on narcotics found in the man's possession at the time of his arrest.

Conner said he planned to return to Amarillo Monday to check reports on the narcotics and a number of reports from Kansas cities who are seeking to question the man.

The Pampa officer said the suspect had been staying in Pampa at the time of the burglary, leaving the city about Dec. 22.

'Street of Grandparents' Fails to Baffle Postmen

Unaddressed letters prove a challenge to the postal department of this country.

Not so in Pampa.

To prove the efficiency of the Pampa post office a Christmas card was delivered by D. L. Warner, postman, to Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Thorne of 109 S. Wynne, three days after it was mailed in Burbank, Calif.

The card was addressed as follows:

"Mr. and Mrs. Thorne on street of grandparents, Pampa, Tex."

Postal authorities here realized the address had been forgotten by the sender. A quick check of the city directory aided in sending the letter on its way.

The safe arrival of the card proves in Pampa "neither Christmas rush or lack of address" should be added to the old adage "neither rain nor sleet. . . ."

Auto Parts Thefts Under Investigation

Thefts of a number of tires, wheels and batteries were being investigated Saturday by Gray County deputies.

Sheriff Rufe Jordan said six batteries were taken from machinery at the Ransom Carter farm, just north of the Lake-ton community.

Deputies Jim Bowers and Dwight Day reported the batteries were taken from tractors, a pickup truck and irrigation pump at the farm.

The thefts were reported Saturday, but apparently had occurred in the past three days, the deputies said.

A 1957 model automobile was found jacked up at Jack's Garage on Price Rd. and two tires and wheels, along with a battery, taken from the car.

Day said the theft apparently occurred during the night. No value of loss was given.

The two deputies also were investigating a burglary at the F. E. Bull Construction Co. offices on the Lefors Highway. taken were two tool boxes and tools, a spare tire and a wheel. The burglary apparently occurred since Thursday, the officers said.

City police reported one tire and wheel theft during the night Friday.

Robert Gabel, 1032 E. Browning, reported someone took a tire and wheel from a pickup truck parked in the 500 block of S. Cuyler Friday night.

AIR CONDITIONING

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UPI)—Investment of $9.7 billion for central air conditioning in the seven largest markets for the industry's products during the five-year period of 1964-68 was predicted here recently by Russell Gray, president of Carrier Air Conditioning Company. The equipment will go into homes, office buildings, apartments, hotels and motels, factories, hospitals and schools and colleges.

By 1968, Gray said, one new one-family home out of every four will be centrally air conditioned, in contrast with the one-out-of-six ratio in 1963.

Back home now, Mary Beth, March of Dimes National Poster Child in 1960, has been making excellent progress. She attends school and is learning to walk (above), wearing leg braces and supporting herself on parallel bars. March of Dimes contributions support the fight against birth defects, arthritis and polio.

Makarios Says Partition Out

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI) — Archbishop Makarios, president of Cyprus, Friday night ruled out partition as a possible solution to his nation's problems.

Fighting between Greek and Turkish communities on the island has killed an estimated 200 persons during the holiday season. Turkish Cypriots are outnumbered by about four to one.

Dr. Fazil Kuchuk, the Turkish vice president of Cyprus, had called partition "beyond doubt the shortest way to solve this problem." Makarios is of Greek descent.

The fighting broke out when Makarios proposed amendment of Cyprus's constitution. Turkish Cypriots fear any change in the constitution, which clearly defines their rights as a minority group.

Makarios also wants to cancel treaties with Greece and Turkey which he says give them the right to interfere in internal Cypriot affairs. He has said he wants to negotiate a new treaty with Britain alone.

The fighting on Cyprus has quieted down since British troops established a buffer zone between warring Greek and Turkish factions.

The Lighter Side

Capitol Hill Shows Varied Signs of Life

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress has been the target of many barbed remarks recently but what I regard as the unkindest cut of all came from one of its own members.

As his contribution to the New Year's gaiety, Rep. Frank Thompson Jr., D-N. J., suggested that the National Geographic Society might send an expedition to Capitol Hill "to look for signs of life."

Now that is ridiculous. Of course there is life on Capitol Hill. As surely as there is life on Mars, Venus, Uranus and the Long Island Railroad. We don't need the National Geographic to tell us that.

Anyone poking around in the ruins of the recent congressional session can see that life exists there in some form.

Slow-Moving Fsorm

The only question is: What kind of life is it: Each person has his own theory abbut that.

Whatever its form, it is generally agreed that the life process on Capitol Hill is slowing down, as opposed to the universe at large, which is accelerating.

Some authorities believe this is a result of mysterious mutations in carbon molecules. Others attribute it to inept leadership.

It is my belief that the deceleration was brought about in part by a gradual atrophying of the old custom of naming legislation for members of Congress.

It used to be that a lawgiver who pushed a bill through Congress stood a pretty good chance of having his name attached to it. The Volstead Act, the Mann Act, the Wagner Act, the Taft-Hardley Act are some examples that spring readily to mind.

Prestige Misplaced

That doesn't happen much any more, and as a result there is more prestige and publicity associated with blocking a bill than with promoting its enactment.

I am not suggesting, of course, that Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., of the Senate Finance Committee would endorse the pending tax cut bill if it were labelled the "Byrd Act."

Or that path of civil rights legislation would be made smoother by dubbing it the "Eastland-Smith bill." Or that the annual foreign aid appropriation would be larger if it were called the "Passman Act."

I do maintain, however, christening a new law for its chief congressional patron is a powerful incentive to get it passed.

For a congressman, having a bill for a namesake is the next best thing to a statue in the park. It's a sign of life.

"VOLUNTEER"

It was a beautiful winter day, and Sally decided to go for a walk on her grandparents' farm. While walking some distance from the farm house, she tripped on an ice-covered rock and sprained her ankle. Her injury was quite painful, and Sally was unable to walk back.

A friendly hunter, Mort Meanswell, happened by and volunteered to carry her home. Despite Sally's protests, Mort decided to take what he believed to be a short cut over a nearby hill. The path up the hill was steep and covered with ice and sleet. Mort was not watching where he was walking, and about half way up he slipped and fell, dropping Sally. This fall caused her to break her leg.

Sally and her parents sued Mort for the injuries he caused. Can he be held liable for trying to do a stranger a good turn?

In such a case Mort would most likely be liable. The courts have said that even a volunteer or a stranger is liable for an injury negligently inflicted on the person or property of another. Anyone attempting to do anything, even gratuitously, for another must exercise some degree of care and skill in the performance of what he has undertaken.

One who, being under no duty to do so, takes charge of another who is helpless adequately to aid or protect himself, is liable for personal injuries to such other through failure to exercise reasonable care for such other's safety. When a volunteer assumes the care of an injured person, he is, while not an insurer, charged with the duty of common or ordinary humanity to provide proper care and attention.

One person seeing another in distress may or may not be under a legal obligation to help. However, if he does try to help, he must act with reasonable care so that even if his efforts are unavailing, he will at least not increase the injury which he seeks to relieve.

Canadian Wins Loser Bracket Championship

By ROCKY RANDALL
News Sports Writer

CANADIAN — The Canadian Wildcats won consolation honors in their own basketball tournament last night as they downed Booker, 73-42, while the Booker girls rode over Allison for girls consolation honors, 51-24.

Darrouzett, which had beaten powerful Briscoe, 81-59, was slated to meet Lonnie Richardson and his Allison teammates in the tournament finals late last night.

The Wildcats beat the Kiowas at their own run-and-shoot game as they roared to their highest point total of the season behind the slashing Butcherboy Eckles. The hot-handed Eckles led the way as Canadian took a 20-14 quarter lead, but picked up his fourth foul early in the second quarter. No longer a rebound threat but still shooting accurately, Eckles kept rolling as Jumping Joe Schaef took the boards.

Booker, down 10 points in the frame, rallied to close the gap, but Deadeye Ken Willis started hitting his jump shots and manned the boards with Schaef, and Tony Steinle moved the ball down on the fast break. Canadian built it back to 36-27 at half and broke it open after three quarters, 55-35.

Eckles finished with 26 points, Willis had 19 and Steinle 12.

Canadian had advanced to the consolation finals with a 56-41 thrashing of Kelton Friday as Ken Willis ripped the cords for 23 points. The Wildcats took a quick first quarter lead and steadily increased it as the action wore on. Butcherboy Benny Eckles did the major damage to Kelton by dominating the boards.

The Cats were in fine form whipping Higgins 62-51 in the semi-finals Saturday morning.

Leading throughout the contest, the Wildcats had some shaky moments in the final minutes of play, Eckles with 23 points, led the scoring.

Allison's fabulous Lonnie Richardson gave Follett and an overflow crowd a thorough basketball lesson as he led the Antelopes into the finals Friday.

Richardson poured in 38 of his team's 48 points in an exciting 48-46 win that kept the crowd standing.

Both Wheeler teams fell to the eventual finalist in second round action Friday.

The Bronchettes took the Fillies out of the tournament to the tune of 45-39. Wheeler managed to control the lead, 12-10, through the initial period, mainly on the shooting of Estelle Fillingim. But hot shooting Mickie Fulks canned a pair of free throws, then sank a jump shot to put Briscoe in front to stay. Fulks had 17 points to pace Briscoe while Estelle and Beverly shared scoring honors for Wheeler with 12 points each.

The Mustangs could never get rolling against Darrouzett. Mendell Hunter who had pumped in 31 points in the opening game could manage only 14 against the Longhorns.

Hunter and Neil Rogers generally controlled the boards for the 'Hosses' but the Mustangs' shooting was as cold as Admiral Byrd's North Pole in the final three stanzas. The twin losses knocked Wheeler out of the tournament.

In the girls second round action Friday and Saturday, Follett crushed Higgins 67-35, Allison whipped Kelton 43-29, Canadian fell to Follett, 60-43, Briscoe copped their second win of the day as Mickie Fulks scored 37 points.

The Kittens from Canadian made a gallant bid for victory after a disastrous opening quarter when they could score but one field goal.

Canadian found the middle jammed and used the sharp-shooting Dixie "Squeaky" Petree outside to close the gap and give the Pantherettes all the action they wanted. Petree poured in 33 points to lead all scorers. The Canadian defense led by Mary Rivers put a blanket on Follett's twin scoring punch of Judy Robertson and Cheryl Kliewer. Rivers did most of the damage as she switched from one to the other. It was that nightmarish opening period however that nullified the defensive gem turned in by Rivers.

Both Mobeetie teams were eliminated from the consolation brackets Saturday morning, both by Booker.

Mary Helen Gudgel paced the Hornettes with 16 points while the great Ray Corcoran led the Hornets with 26 points.

Spearman Rallies Over Warriorettes At Claude

By MILO O'LOUGHLIN
News Sports Correspondent

CLAUDE — Powerful Spearman came from behind in the fourth quarter to take a 51-42 win over the Miami Warrioretes for the girls bracket championship of the Claude Basketball Tournament last night. Highly-favored Quitaque was scheduled to meet upstart Silverton in the boys finals.

Miami led through most of the game as Martha Paris and her defensive mates clamped down on 6'2" Helen Greever, but three Warriorettes fouled out in the second half, and when Martha got her fifth foul early in the last frame, Helen and Diana Patterson were virtually unstoppable.

The game was tied at 14-all at the quarter, Miami took a one-point lead early in the second quarter and held it until the final frame except for a brief minute, 29-28 at the half and 36-35 at the three-quarter mark. Diana finished with 30 points, Helen with 13, Connie Dodson slammed in 25 for the Warriorettes.

Claude boys won third-place honors as they took out Spearman in double overtime, 48-46. Spearman had defeated Groom, 47-44 and Claude had crushed Turkey, 60-40.

Silverton girls won third place over Claude, 34-33. Silverton had eliminated Groom, 57-28 and Claude had chewed up Turkey, 44-29.

The Miami Warriorettes moved into the finals of the crazily-bracketed Claude Tournament as they beat Clarendon, 45-39 and then downed McLean, 57-37, Friday. The Miami Warriors, minus leading scorer Roy Bean, slipped by Claude easily, 40-26, but then were stunned by unheralded Silverton in a thriller, 40-39.

Derrith Welch gave one of his finest performances for McLean, but in vain, as favorite Quitaque took a 67-50 win in the second round to eliminate the Tigers.

Spearman's girls moved unchecked toward the finals as they crushed Quitaque, 78-20. J the Claude girls nipped Clarendon, 45-34 and Claude's boys knocked off Clarendon, 40-23 in Friday action.

The shooting of Cheryl Gill and Connie Dodson pushed Miami to a 17-7 quarter and 32-16 halftime lead over Clarendon, but 5-10 Janette Rampey led Clarendon in a second-half rally that cut the edge to 36-25 at the three-quarter mark. with Miami holding them off in the final frame. Cheryl had 19 points, Connie 18 and Janette 14.

Connie Dodson exploded in the second quarter against McLean to break open a tight game. The lead went back and forth in the first quarter with Joannie Flowers hitting for the Tigresses, and Miami held a narrow 11-10 margin. The two-time all-district star then hit from outside and on drives to put the game out of reach at 48-23 at the half. Marilyn Murphy dominated the boards as Miami moved to a 48-23 three-quarter edge, and Miami played the reserves in the final frame, with Connie Ratliff sparkling. Connie Dodson had 33 points, Marilyn 13. Joannie had 20 and Jan Bailey 16 for McLean.

Derrith Welch whipped another all-stater his own size and two other players as well, but the ball-hawking Quitaque Panthers ran wild in the first quarter and never lost the edge.

Despite 6-6 Jack Johnson and two other defenders triple-teaming him every time he went near the basket, Welch gave possibly the finest performance of his career as he broke through them time and again for 34 points, keeping McLean in the game singlehanded.

Putting on a full-court zone press in the opening frame, the Panthers clawed the Tigers loose from the ball again and again and ran up a 22-10 quarter lead. Welch personally pulled McLean to within three points midway in the second quarter and the halftime margin was 33-27.

Early in the third quarter, Welch cut the lead to two, but Quitaque put the press back on and stole the lead up again to 53-43. Jim Saul scored most of his 15 points in the final frame for the winning margin.

Jody Holland completely dominated the game as Miami mauled Claude, shooting and rebounding the Tribe to an 11-5 quarter lead, a 20-8 halftime margin and a 30-17 three-quarter edge, with Lewis Holland helping in the scoring and reserves playing most of the second half. Jody finished with 20 points and Lewis 11. Bob Bartlett had 12 for Claude.

Leading by as much as 10 points in the first half, Miami lost the touch when Jody fouled out in the first minute of the second half against Silverton, and Greg Towle hit the bucket that put Silverton in the winners bracket.

Jody put the Warriors into a 13-8 quarter lead, and joined by Daugherty on the boards, had the lead to 10 before stolen passes cut the edge to 21-17 at the half.

Jody heard the final whistle and Silverton came steadily back, with Vern Stafford tying the game up at 27-all late in the third quarter and Towle putting them in the lead for the first time. Guerrero scored, but again Towle hit to give Silverton a 31-29 edge.

Lewis Holland tied the game again in the fourth quarter, but for the third and final time, Towle scored to give Silverton the lead for good. Stafford had 15 points and Towle 12, Lewis had 14.

National All-Stars Smash Southwest in 66-14 Riot

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (UPI) — George Bork threw for three touchdowns and scored a fourth and Matt Snell scored four times Saturday to lead the National All-Stars to a crushing 66-14 victory over the Southwest in the second annual Southwest Challenge bowl.

Bork, from northern Illinois, connected on 20 of 27 passes for 243 yards and was an overwhelming choice as outstanding back. Snell's touchdowns came on runs of 1, 1, 7 and 25 yards.

Bork's favorite target was his college teammate Hugh Rohrschneider, who caught 10 passes for 207 yards. Rohrschneider was voted the outstanding lineman. A crowd of 10,217 watched the game under leaden skies.

The National team literally ran over the Southwest All-Stars as Snell, from Ohio State, and George Byrd of Boston University provided a bruising ground attack to complement Bork's passing. Snel gained 117 yards on 23 carries and Byrd 88 on eight carries, plus a 47-yard kickoff return.

The Southwest spotted the visiting team four touchdowns before Pete Jaquess of Eastern New Mexico intercepted a pass by Dave Matheson of Washington State and ran 95 yards down the sideline to score.

The other Southwest score came late in the game on a seven-yard pass from Beau Carter of Fresno State to end Jerry Kelley of Rice.

Bork started the scoring the first time the Nationals got the ball. He ran two yards to climax a 34-yard drive set up by Byrd's long return of the opening kickoff.

Bork, a skinny, 165-pound six-footer, cranked up two 71-yard drives for the next two National touchdowns, one scored on a 15-yard pass to Al Denson of Florida A & M and the other on a 1-yard plunge by Snell.

Byrd scored next on a 5-yard intercepted pass from Carter, who did almost all his teams signal calling.

Packers Favored In Playoff Tilt

MIAMI (UPI) — The two best fullbacks in pro football measure off against each other for the first time in more than two years Sunday when the Green Bay Packers and Cleveland Browns clash in the National Football League's playoff bowl.

Green Bay is the pre-game pick by 6½ points.

Jim Taylor and his Green Bay cohorts haven't met Jimmy Brown and his Cleveland sidekicks since the 1961 season when the Packers came off with a 49-17 victory that still rankles the Browns.

The linemen of both teams should be in for a rough afternoon, starting with the 2 p.m. EST kickoff in the Orange Bowl Stadium before 50,000 fans.

CBS television will carry the game nationwide, starting at 1:30 p.m., EST, with the telecast blacked out in the south Florida area.

Taylor took the rushing title away from Brown in 1962 but the Cleveland linebuster recaptured it last season by blasting for 1,863 yards and 12 touchdowns in 291 carries. Taylor had a total of 1,018 yards and 9 touchdowns in 248 attempts.

White Deer Sweeps Consolation Titles

By RICHARD ULRICH
News Sports Correspondent

WELLINGTON — White Deer boys and girls both won consolation championship honors in the Wellington Basketball Tournament last night as Wellington was slated to play Paducah for girls championship honors and Wellington vs. Hedley were the boys finalists.

The Does had a surprisingly easy road to the consolation honors, smashing Dodson, 64-15, Friday, and then rolling on over Lakeview last night for the trophy, 62-13.

Neither game saw the Does in any difficulty. Friday Cindy Hubbard and Betty Peters each canned nine points in the opening frame to give WD an 18-3 quarter lead. Linda Hawpe switched from guard to forward in the second frame and she and Betty, who played one of her best games, moved the edge to 33-7 at the half. WD put in the reserves in the second half as they moved to a 45-11 three-quarter lead on the shooting of Linda Hawpe and Barbara Linder. Linda, who scored 10 in the fourth quarter, totalled 16 points, Barbara 15 and Betty 13. Eva Duncan, back off the injury list, and Carolyn Young sparked the defense.

The second game was equally easy as the Does opened an 18-4 quarter lead and moved it to 33-7 and 47-11. Linda Hawpe, again playing both guard and forward, dunked in 21 points, 10 in the second quarter. Cindy had 16 and Barbara and Betty 10 apiece.

The Bucks had a rougher time on their road to the consolation championship, but downed Dodson, 37-32 and Paducah, 50-43.

Dan Simmons hit the bucket four times to push WD into a 15-7 quarter lead against Dodson as Gary Turner completely dominated the backboards, pulling down 17 rebounds. With Turner and Jack Dunivan hitting, the Bucks had a 23-15 halftime edge. Dodson rallied to close the gap in the third quarter, but White Deer upped the edge again to 29-24 going into the final frame. Once more Dodson came back, to within two points in the last minute, but Turner and Simmons hit free throws to clinch the win. Simmons had 11, Turner eight and Dunivan seven points. Foster Riley and Larry Ellis each had 11 and Willie Riley 10 for Dodson.

The sharpshooting of Roy Armstrong from the floor and Simmons from the free throw line gave the Bucks the consolation title over Paducah. Armstrong hit five of six field goal attempts, and Simmons' six-for-six at the charity stripe was the difference as WD made 18 of 29 free throw attempts while Paducah got seven of 12.

Armstrong and Gary Moran matched baskets as the Bucks took a 11-8 quarter lead, but Paducah came back to tie the score at 21-all. Simmons hit one of his patented sideways jump shots at the halftime buzzer to give WD a 23-21 edge they never again lost. Cal Johnson and Turner manned the boards and dumped in the buckets in the third period for a 39-32 edge.

Johnson had 14, Armstrong 13 and Simmons 10 points to lead the Bucks. Moran had 16 for the Dragons.

Curtis Named Coach of Year For Title Win

DALLAS (UPI) — Charles (Chuck) Curtis, who guided Garland to the state Class AAAA schoolboy football title and became the first coach to ever win successive championships in different divisions, Saturday was named Texas High School Coach of the Year for 1963.

Curtis was voted the honor by members of the Texas Sports Writers Association by an overwhelming margin and will be honored at the annual Balfour Awards luncheon at the coaching school next August.

Curtis coached Jacksboro to the Class AA crown in 1962 and then moved up to Garland, where he inherited a team which wasn't expected to be much more than a mild threat in his own district. The Owls swept through the season unbeaten with only a tie against Dallas Adams to mar their record.

Curtis received 106 of a possible 138 first-place votes and in the preferential balloting where lowest points determine the winner, he had 190 points.

Pat Patterson of Amarillo Tascosa, beaten 7-6 by Garland in the semifinals, was a distant runnerup with 456 points.

San Diego Holds Edge For Crown

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — The San Diego Chargers are 6½-point favorites to win their first American Football League championship by beating the Boston Patriots here Sunday.

San Diego has taken the Patriots 17-13 and 7-6 this season, and promise of warm dry weather indicates the Chargers' league-leading offense should do better Sunday.

Both clubsstress speed, but the Chargers have a little extra in flanker Lance Alworth, the league's most valuable player.

Boston's defense, the best in the league, has stopped San Diego's running game this season, but Alworth has been too much.

The former Arkansas University sprinter snared four passes for 76 yards and one touchdown in the 17-13 win. But he capped that with a record-tying 13 catches for 210 yards and the only touchdown in the 7-6 victory.

If Boston uses double coverage, San Diego quarterback Tobin Rote still can hit ends Don Norton and Dave Kocourek, besides Keith Lincoln and Paul Lowe.

Burrell Leads South Victory

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI) — The South combined the running of Mississippi State's Ode Burrell and the passing of Miami's George Mira to topple the North 28-21 Saturday on a muddy field in the 15th annual Senior Bowl football game.

The Rebels took a three-touchdown lead into the final period and survived a last-ditch assault by the Northerners to win their fourth consecutive victory and their 10th of the post-season series.

Each member of the winners received $900 and the losers $700 in the first play-for-pay for the 50 ex-collegiate stars, at least 47 of whom have been drafted by the pros.

Razzle-Dazzle TD

Halfback Burrell ran for two touchdowns and quarterback Mira passed for one. The Rebels got another score on an accidental bit of razzle-dazzle when Georgia Tech's Billy Lothridge, trying a field goal, retrieved a bad pass from center and converted it into a touchdown pass to end Billy Martin, also of Georgia Tech. Lothridge kicked all the South's extra points.

Burrell was named the game's outstanding player.

The North scored when Maryland quarterback Dick Shiner took his team eight plays from their 27 and sneaked into the end zone from the one in the first period. The North's two other scores came on fourth-period passes from Utah State quarterback Bill Munson to end Paul Krause of Iowa and Dick Drummond of George Washington. Krause kicked the extra points.

Rebs Shock North

The Rebs shocked the North by scoring the first two times they had the ball.

On the first series of plays, Mira passing less than usual because of the rain, tossed long to Mallon Faircloth, the Tennessee tailback, on the two yard line. Faircloth dropped the ball but pass interference was called on defender Glenn Holton of West Virginia.

Burrel bulled over for the South.

Hutchinson III With Cancer

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) — "Privacy and seclusion—plenty of rest and be left along," was the prescription ordered Saturday for Cincinnati Red Manager Fred Hutchinson, who disclosed Friday that he is suffering from cancer in the chest.

The prescription was ordered by Hutchinson's older brother, Dr. William B. Hutchinson.

Hutchinson said he first noticed a swelling above his right collar bone two weeks ago. Medical tests showed a malignancy, and the Reds' manager was notified of this the day before Christmas.

Hutchinson placed a long distance telephone call to his brother, a well known local surgeon, and the doctor recommended that Hutchinson come here for treatment at the Swedish Hospital Tumor Institute.

To Begin Treatment

Hutchinson will begin treatment known as hybaroxic radio described as "a whole new area of treatment for cancer."

The treatment, X-ray in a high pressure oxygen chamber, is the only one of its kind in use in this country, although the method is used in Australia and England.

Hutchinson said the treatment probably would last about two months and as far as is known now, no surgery will be involved.

The 44-year-old Seattle native, who pitched his way into professional baseball at the age of 18, said he hopes to be able to return to Florida to open the Reds' spring training camp at Tampa Feb. 29.

John Pennel Winner of Sullivan

NEW YORK (UPI) — John Pennel of Northeast Louisiana State College, the only man ever to clear 17 feet in the pole vault, Saturday was named the winner of the 1963 James E. Sullivan Award.

President Jay-Ehret Mahoney of the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) announced the selection of Pennel by a tribunal of 524 sportsmen as the amateur athlete who "by performance, example and good influence did the most to advance the cause of good sportsmanship during the year."

Hawaiian weightlifter Tommy Kono was runnerup in the voting for the third straight year and Bob Hayes of Florida A&M, "the world's fastest human," was third.

Fourth in the voting was hurdler Hayes Jones of Detroit, followed by gymnast Mrs. Muriel Davis Grossfeld of New Haven, Conn., swimmers Donna de Varona of Santa Clara, Calif., Chet Jastremski of Toledo, Ohio, and Robyn Ann Johnson of Arlington, Va., and discus champion Jay Silvester of Trementon, Utah.

As most of you already know, I am no longer employed at Harvester Bowl. Therefore, this will be my last column.

I would like to thank Charlie Webb for gathering the data from Garden Lanes. I would also like to thank all of you for the wonderful way you received this column. It is my hope that someone will continue to bring the bowling coverage.

Speaking for myself and for the bowlers, we certainly want to express our gratitude to the Pampa News for allowing us the space and freedom to bring the bowling world a little closer together.

As of January 1, I accepted the appointment to the City Secretary office. It will be a pleasure to serve under the competent leadership of our president, Barbara Moore. I plan to continue the same procedure as outlined by retiring secretary, Mary Pryor.

Please, may I request one consideration. Next week I will begin my employment with Milliron Engineering. Though Mr. Myatt and Mr. Milliron are interested in bowling, their business is construction, their phone is for business, and my time is for their business. Therefore, I absolutely refuse to accept personal calls during office hours. Please understand, and please feel free to phone me at home evenings and on Saturdays and Sundays.

Bulldog Shooting Nets 68-64 Victory

By JEFF COHANE
Pampa News Sports Editor

The fantastic shooting of the Plainview Bulldogs earned them a 68-64 district 3-4A victory over the Pampa Harvesters Friday night at Harvester Fieldhouse.

Although a rugged Harvester defense, led by Charlie Price and Ropes Roper, stopped 6-9 Ronnie Peret cold, holding the big boy away from the bucket and allowing him only 11 points, Pampa could find no way of stopping the Bulldogs' unbelievable outside shooting. Plainview hit a fantastic 80 percent from the floor, mostly on unstoppable long shots from quarter - court and beyond.

The Harvesters hit a red-hot 57 percent of their field goals, enough to beat most college quintets, but couldn't stop a Bulldog crew of little boys who hit a perfect nine of nine in the third quarter to build a lead that Pampa could never overcome and made 20 of 28 from the free-throw line.

Peret was kept in foul trouble by Price, and spent most of the second quarter and half of the final frame on the bench, but was tremendously effective on the defensive boards when in the game, while the deadliness of Don Hollis, Paul Adey and Manuel Nagar left the rebounding chances for Price, Roper and Danny Heil on their own back boards.

The Harvesters were in the game until the final 14 seconds, when Hollis canned two free throws to clinch the game after the Bulldogs had successfully frozen the ball for the last four minutes.

Plainview scored the opening bucket of the game, and then trailed until the opening seconds of the second quarter. With Price driving past Peret for scores and Roper working in under the basket, both set up by Heil's ball-hawking, the Harvesters held as much as a five-point lead before Plainview came back as Pampa missed additional chances at the free throw line. Adey, who had 10 points in the period, made two from the charity line just before the buzzer to cut the edge to 19-18 Pampa.

Peret opened up the second frame with five straight points, but then picked up his third foul and headed for the bench with 6:42 left in the period. 6-3 Gene Hight replaced him and Plainview started shooting from the outside, with Hollis and Nagar matching drives by Price and circle jumpers by Hebert. Nagar hit a field goal and a pair of free throws and moved the bulge to 40-34, but Hebert hit a jumper and Heil added a free toss to cut it to 42-36 at the half.

The third quarter saw a matchless shooting exhibition as Plainview hit nine of nine field goal attempts and Pampa seven of 13. Hebert and Price hit in succession to cut the gap to two points early in the frame, but Peret, moved his boards, Hollis hit two shots in a row to move the margin back up and Plainview had a 60-53 edge going into the last quarter.

Hebert continued gunning and Roper worked his way in for a couple of key buckets and the Harvesters were off and hustling again, cutting the edge to 64-62 with 4:40 left. Hight canned a free throw, but Peret fouled out with 3:32 left in the game.

Plainview immediately put the ball in the deep freeze, with Nagar and Tom Sawyer alternating dribbling out the clock, and Price followed Peret to the bench 22 seconds later. Hollis made the free throw and Plainview went into slow motion again.

Hebert harassed Adey into walking, Pampa had the ball, and Harry Harnsberger cut the gap to two points with an outside shot with 2:35 to go.

Plainview passed, dribbled and stalled, and the frantic Harvesters fouled with 34 seconds left in an attempt to get possession. The deadly - eyed Hollis killed their hopes with two swishers and Plainview moved their district record to 3-2.

The Pampa Shockers won their 15th straight game easily, 53-38. Led by the shooting of Jane Bell Peret, record has [illegible]

Fishing—The Gamble That Pays Off in Fun

By JEFF COHANE
Pampa News Sports Editor

CORPUS CHRISTI — Fishing is a gamble—you put your money down and you never know whether you are going to come out winner or loser—the only difference is—if you lose, it's win or lose, you're ahead of the game.

Ocean fishing is a little different than lake or river fishing. Although the basic ingredients are the same—water, rods, reels and fish—your preparation must be different because one mistake in deep water may mean trouble—if you have faulty equipment you can't run into the dock and repair it.

So—a night of cleaning and oiling your reels very carefully—a thorough check of your boat and motor—oiling, greasing, battery charging—a hundred and one little things to get set and ready.

Then early in the morning—too early for comfort—you drag out of bed, pour down scalding coffee until you're in some semblance of wakefulness and then into your fishing clothes. And they better be warm ones—the temperature is about fifty. That cold wind in the Laguna Madre cuts through you like a knife.

Its into the lagoon, for the winds are coming in westerly and Corpus Christi Bay shows whitecaps — no try for sailfish or tarpon today. Down to the Intracoastal Canal and you fish off the bottom for big drum and redfish.

Across Padre Island, get your bait and down the channel. They say they're hitting well around the twenty markers and you had good luck at marker 17 last year so let's stop there for a minute.

An ounce sinker, a shrimp above it and you cast out into the channel. The current drags at the weight, then it settles and you sit back and wait for something to happen.

Two quick tugs at the line—you reel back frantically—nothing but half a shrimp—must have been those croakers or piggy perch—better rehait your hook. Wait a minute, your fishing partner has something—something really pulling on his line—it isn't showing too much fight but it's really bending his rod—closer, closer suddenly the water boils as it comes to the surface and then back down again—a flash of black and white—it looks like a sheepshead.

Sure enough, about ten minutes later you slide your net beneath a ten pounder. That's a good way to start the day.

Started it off right too—within an hour there are six more on the stringer—a pair of twelve-pound drum that really gave a battle, a nice three pound red fish, a pair of keeper size gilt-en croaker—and the culinary prize of all—a delicious flounder.

Suddenly the action stops as soon as it started. Another hour and nothing but croaker and catfish bites. You move up and down the channel but it seems the same every where, all the fish seems to have knocked off for a coffee break—boats are all over the channel but no one seems to be getting much action.

Another hour. Still just about the same and its getting a little discouraging. One more nice drum and a couple of catfish which you have thrown back—most saltwater catfish is inedible—and you are starting to lose your alertness in response to tugs on the line.

Idly, you pull out a light rig barely heavier than a fresh water outfit—a seven foot casting rod with 12 pound test line on spinning tackle. Put a gold spoon on it and cast out into the channel.

You reel back fast enough to battle the current but not too fast—you're close to the edge of the channel and suddenly you feel a fast sharp tug at the line-one that you'll never forget once you've experienced it—that smashing slashing feeling of a trout hitting a lure. He comes up in spurts, fighting all the way. He gets to the surface and goes into a mad dance—he leaps, he spins, walks on his tail—slowly, carefully you draw him closer, closer — the net's under him — you've got him—a thrasing, splashing beauty of a speckled trout—he'll go three pounds easily — and where there's one there are more.

Two golden spoons sail across the channel as one and then begins an hour that surpasses anything in the world in the heart of a dedicated saltwater trout fisherman. A solid hour of battling the toughest fish, pound for pound, that ever spit out a trouble hook, shook off a lure or leaped back out of a net.

Finally, tired, exhausted but

McLean's Patton Found Football Saved Education

By ROCKY RANDALL
News Sports Writer

"If it wasn't for football, I probably wouldn't even be finishing high school much less be planning on going to attend college," opined McLean's all-state tackle Bob Patton.

BOB PATTON

Football has played a major role in the 210-pounder's high school career and Patton has played a big part in the school's football program for the past four years.

As a raw 14-year-old freshman, Patton was good enough to be named to the starting line up on the varsity, and for the past three seasons he has made the all-district honor roll. This season found Big Bob earning a berth on the Fort Worth Star-Telegram's Class A all-state eleven. He was also selected as one of the top 33 Class A schoolboy footballers in the state by the Texas Sportswriters Association.

Patton possesses all the tools to become an excellent college performer. He has desire, size, versatile, has ability and leadership.

The agile senior has impressive credentials as an all-stater. This year the bullish Patton was shifted to fullback from tackle and performed in superb fashion, showing surprising speed for such a big man.

Unfortunately, the move wasn't made until the final few contests of the year. Patton, as a fullback, made two touchdowns against Canadian, scored all 20 points in a 20-12 win over Lefors and in the process garnered 226 yards rushing and TD runs of 66 and 47 yards.

Patton's coach, Derral Davis, terms the congenial co-captain to be headed for an outstanding career in college. He has all the necessary physical and mental equipment to become a topflight college player," Davis explained. "The potential is there, and if fully developed, he will do any school fine job. He certainly was a driving influence on our club the last four years. We are going to miss him," the chief mentor of the Tigers concluded.

Patton gives the credit for his selection as an all-state player to his team and Davis. "When the going got tough," Patton said, "Coach Davis always made us realize that we could put forth a little more effort, and we did. Coach Davis certainly has been a real inspiration to me."

And All-Stater Bob Patton has been a real inspiration to the Pampa Jaycees.

YCC Basketball

The Pampa Jaycees went down to their first loss of the season yesterday when Motor Supply took a 60-42 win in YCC play.

League play Motor Supply led all the way, breaking the game open in the second half. James Lee had 18 points, Jim Krinklow 10 for the winners. Roy Pool 15 for the Jaycees.

Sporting Sidelines

by JEFF COHANE

ACCORDING TO wire service articles while Petersburg made their way to the state finals, the team, coach and fans had the greatest love affair in the world. Wonder how the eternal triangle feels after one of the sweethearts skipped town?

Actually, there seems ample chance from his previous record that coach James Odom can bring Monterey of Lubbock out of their football doldrums. Seems like a kinda dirty trick to play on coach Bill DuBose though, to kick him out (or rather down) with just one year left on an eight-year contract. Couldn't they have let him finish out his term?

SOME OUTSTANDING basketball play viewed at the Canadian Tournament Thursday. Incidentally, apologies to host coach James Anglin and the officials, especially Weakeyes Ramsey, for getting in their way with a camera the whole day and ending up with no pictures. Guess the camera, like the Ol' Swami, hasn't recovered from taking that fish picture. Lonnie Richardson of Allison, in my opinion, is one of the finest basketball players in the area, regardless of school size. There doesn't seem to be anything on a basketball court he can't do. Mendall Hunter of Wheeler reminds me of Kenny Hebert. I think if you showed either of them a sport they had never even seen before, handed them a ball and explained the rules, they'd be starring in it in about five minutes' time.

THE COLUMN on those pages concerning Gulf Coast fishing was written while vacationing in Corpus Christi as the result of a "practical joke" by my humorous bosses, Tex DeWeese and Hal Gamble. Seems the morning after I had gotten home, and before I had even had time to get unpacked, let alone get my boat near the water, Tex read a weather report saying that the temperature in Corpus was 25 degrees. (A complete canard, it was in the 60s and 70s the whole time).

That afternoon, my mother received a telegram sent by Hal stating "Holding Yule issue for fishing column, send at once!" Calling Ray Swann, local outdoors editor, and a number of bait stands and boat docks, I knew, I was told that the weekend had produced no results and that fishing was expected to turn for the better shortly.

Realizing that would not suffice, an overall column, written painstakingly and at length, was immediately pounded out and sent via telegram, only to find upon returning to Pampa, that it had all been a somewhat premature April Fool joke. Since I hate to waste $26 worth of telegram, and since the column might have some merit for those interested in saltwater fishing, we are going to run it anyway.

Phillips Eliminates Lefors Bucs From Stinnett Cage Tournament

STINNETT (Spl) —A fourth-quarter rally by Lefors fell short Friday as they were eliminated by Phillips, 59-52, in the second round of the Stinnett Basketball Tournament. Hostess Stinnett knocked off the Lefors Pirettes in girls consolation action, 37-20.

Lefors did a masterful job of defensing Phillips' two great outside shooters, Larry Lewis and Danny Dawson, with a press headed by Terry Bromlow and Don "Squash" McCool. Lewis, who has been averaging over 20 points per game, was held to three field goals and two free throws, and picked up five fouls. Dawson, with a 16 point-per-game average, made only two field goals and one free throw.

While Phillips' "Mr. Outsides" were stopped cold, their inside man, 6-3 Charlie Robbins, went wild in the first half, scoring 20 points. Minus Lightning Coleman, the Pirates were unable to defense the big boy in the first half, but held him to only six as they rallied in the second half.

With McCool and Bromlow leading the way, Lefors took a 12-11 quarter lead, but Robbins, hitting on jumpers from the high post position, stammed 15 points through the bucket in the second quarter and shot Phillips into a 37-25 halftime bulge.

Lefors turned stone cold dead in their shooting in the third quarter and Phillips apparently wrapped up the game as they took a 49-31 lead into the final period.

McCool and Bromlow suddenly exploded in a tremendous surge which saw Squash hit five straight field goals and close the gap to only five points, but the third-quarter margin was too much and the Buccaneers could never quite catch up.

McCool had 23 points and Bromlow 16, Robbins had 26 for Phillips.

The Lefors girls took a 7-6 quarter lead, but sharpshooting Peggy Dean broke the game open in the second quarter to make it 22-11 Stinnett at the half. Peggy led the scoring with 19 points, Frances Clarke had nine and Nita McCool seven for Lefors.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself, no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Another Foot in the Door

The federal government apparently has shoved another foot in the door that leads down the hallway to more power over individuals in local communities across the nation.

One of the Wonderful Wizards of Washington has come up with the bright idea that it would be much easier to extricate Community Fund "donations" from federal workers if collection of the "donations" is placed on the payroll deduction plan.

That would be setting up a sure-fire deal like the one now used to take so much from your pay check each week for a couple of items known as income tax and social security.

Of course, all this would be on a "voluntary" basis at first and would be tried out in key places around the nation where there is an overflow of federal employes. Sort of a trial run.

Oh, boy — can't you just see the government starting this thing and then calling it off. Once it is in, you can bet what you have left of your bottom dollar that it stays.

And once it takes in the millions of federal employes, don't get the mistaken idea that it won't eventually take in all of us.

Take Pampa for instance. The United Fund plan here is conducted locally and only a minimum of essential office expense is incurred. Pampa's United Fund money is used locally. None of it goes to high-powered campaigners, and none goes to government.

But this federal plan, if it is allowed to catch on, eventually would entail part of the money going to federal job holders who would have to be hired to conduct campaigns and administer funds. Local control eventually would be out the window just as it is on other projects where government funds and control are involved.

The federal plan, if finally adopted, would take control of the United Fund campaign out of the hands of the local United Fund. It would result in the annual appeal being conducted by a government organization with the United Fund placed in the position of just another participating agency.

Worst of all, if this proposal is given universal adoption for government employes, the thing is bound to spread and sooner or later take in every individual worker in any kind of business or industry.

As one official of the Pampa-Lefors United Fund said:

"The United Fund should be on a voluntary basis of contribution. It is a selling job rather than one of coercion."

In other words, the individual should be free to make his own decision in the matter.

The federal payroll deduction plan is another arrow aimed at the heart of individual freedom.

Those who view it as a pattern, instead of an experiment, are just as right as they can be.

We trust that the Pampa-Lefors United Fund will join in refusing to participate in any way.

If you are not in favor of any further inroads on your freedom, write to your congressman and senators and tell them to stop this plan before it gets a strangle hold on us.

The Urge to Unmerge

The Federal Trade Commission has ordered a large soap and detergent company to sell a bleach manufacturing company which it acquired half a dozen years ago, on the peculiar grounds that the soap manufacturers can do a lot of advertising.

The FTC fears that the big company has the power to create a monopoly in the liquid bleach field, although the figures show that its bleach had half the market in 1957, and still has half the market today.

No account seems to have been taken of the fact that large companies and small ones have been successful in introducing other products that housewives can use instead — packets, powders and built-in bleaches in other washing products, for example.

The FTC's experts express the belief that all liquid bleaches are much alike, and the housewife can be duped into paying more than she should just because a product is widely advertised.

Well, the soap comany probably will appeal to the Federal Courts, and it may be a ½ doz. more years before the case is resolved. In the meantime, presumably, the merger will stand. But many thousands of pages of testimony will be recorded, and many legal bills settled before justice, whatever it is, can be implemented.

We are intrigued with the FTC's new notion that advertising too much (with the Government deciding how much is too much) can be a violation of anti-trust laws. The laws contain no mention of it in the "letter," so the FTC must be relying on the "spirit," or just plain trying to by-pass Congress by writing its own laws.

It is also interesting to note that FTC prosecuted, not for something the company had done, but for something it might do, but didn't. It hadn't monopolized the market in liquid bleach, but in the FTC's opinion it could if it wanted to.

It's a little like hauling a man into court for having chewing gum, because he is in a position to toss the wrapper away, and thus violate the anti-littering ordinance.

Hasn't the FTC anything more sensible on its mind?

Pull Up A Chair

By Frank J. Markey

One of Uncle Sam's unusual jobs is to identify and redeem mutilated currency. A classic example concerns a Midwestern farmer who dropped his billfold while feeding cattle. He later discovered his loss and after searching the barn area concluded a particular cow had eaten the billfold. He butchered the cow, and found the mutilated currency in the cow's stomach. Treasury experts were able to identify and redeem $473 of the $600 the farmer claimed he lost. Once a Minnesota farmer buried a strong-box full of currency in a wheat field. Years later he dug it up only to find it had fused into a hardened mass. The Treasury Department packed it in moist cotton for several days, and then identified and redeemed $27,000.

Today's smile: The Sunday School teacher asked: "What happened to Lot's wife when she looked back?" A small lad, wearing thick-lensed glasses, said: "She was transmuted into sodium chloride."

One of the most fascinating volumes we have perused in a long time is the Commerce Department's 1963 Statistical Abstract of the U.S. It takes some digging, but the facts are there and indisputable. Boiled down they draw a profile of our habits, trends, preferences and even morals. For example: the book tells you Oklahoma City is the windiest city, not Chicago; Nebraska is the only state without a sales or income tax; and 50 per cent of the men smokers and 72 per cent of the women prefer filter tips. It's great bedside reading. Guaranteed to kill insomnia. . .Recently 2000 coeds were asked to cite their preference in a home after marriage. The winner was the modern split-level or ranch type house, with three bedrooms, one bath, a powder room, and ample dining space, costing about $17,000. The gals know what they want.

Thoughts while shaving: Of the 6900 medical students in the U.S. only 388 are women. The gals score higher than the men in some of the entrance tests, but the laddies score higher in the quantitative ability exams, which includes the pre-medical sciences. . .Met a friend at a supermarket recently who was totaling up his purchases on a hand-sized adding machine. He knew to the penny what he would be required to pay before he reached the check-out station. One of the handiest gadgets we've seen lately. . .Reported in the Washington (D.C.) POST: "The company will design and engineer the reactor for a $10.8 million unclear power project." Our reaction is that 10 million bucks would make us "unclear" too. . .If you're looking for something different while motoring this winter try the Overseas Highway in the Florida Keys where there are 42 bridges, one of them the famous Seven-Mile Bridge. It would be a conversation topic when you return home. . .Things are different in Marlboro Country—in this instance, Phoenix, Arizona — where a rancher reportedly owns a five-legged cow that walks on only three legs. If that's true, the cow should be psychoanalyzed since it obviously has a fixation on those old-fashioned three-legged milking stools.

Country Editor speaking: "Baby sitting is a big business, according to economists. It meets a crying need."

Proponents of Civil Rights Have A Long Row to Hoe

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The honest but discouraging word is that no one has any accurate idea when civil rights reform legislation will emerge from Congress in 1964 or what will be in it if it is passed. There is a long, hard fight ahead.

There was considerable jubilation among liberals in Washington when Judge Howard Smith of Virginia, chairman of the House Rules Committee, finally said he would open hearings Jan. 9 on the bill approved by the House Judiciary Committee.

Smith is personally opposed to this bill. He has requests from a score of other congressmen who want to testify against it and he expects more. There will be some witnesses for the bill, too. Hearing may run through January.

House majority leader Carl Albert, D-Okla., is more optimistic. He thinks the hearings might run two weeks and that the House will pass a bill by the end of January.

Either way, and assuming that the bill eventually passes the House, it will then have to clear the Senate. And no one can write a timetable on that action.

Republican House whip Leslie Arends of Illinois speaks for many in Congress when he says that President Johnson will have to work out some kind of compromise with the southerners to get a bill through the Senate.

The imponderable question is, What compromise?

If it is a compromise that satisifes the southern senators, it won't satisfy the Negroes or the leaders of nearly a hundred church, labor and civic organizations working actively for a new deal on civil rights.

Senate segregationists include the most skilled parliamentarians in Congress. They can be counted on to use again every delaying tactic in the book of rules to dam up or water down the provisions of whatever bill the House passes.

Civil rights leaders took a terrible beating in the Congress in recent weeks. They had deluged congressmen with letters and telegrams, phone calls and personal visits to get 218 signatures on a discharge petition. This was to by-pass Rules Committee consideration of the bill and bring it directly to the House floor for debate and a vote.

They failed by approximately 60 signatures. They wanted Congress to stay in session during the Christmas holidays just to consider civil rights. They failed on that, too.

But there was no retaliation. The "Christmas boycotts" which some of the more aggressive Negro leaders had advocated were not called. On the whole, civil rights leaders have acted responsibly and respectably. They may not do so indefinitely.

It may take another March on Washington far less peaceful than the first one, with active lobbying, picketing and demonstrations in other cities, to convince Congress that a weak compromise civil rights bill will not be enough.

On the other side of the argument, there are some things to be said in defense of both Democrats and Republicans who did not sign the petition for discharge.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., anti-civil rights leader in many previous battles, jumped on House GOP leader Charles Halleck of Indiana for his revision of the original House bill to make it more workable legislation. But if Halleck had not done this, the bill would have been loaded with extremist provisions that made certain its defeat.

Also, Judge Smith may not have been too dilatory in bringing the final House Judiciary Committee bill before his Rules Committee.

As Rep. Jerry Ford, R-Mich., points out, it took the Kennedy administration 29 months — January 1961 to June 1963 — to send its civil rights proposals to Congress.

It took four months more, to Oct. 29, for the House Judiciary Committee to draft the bill it finally approved. It took another month, to Nov. 21, to get Part I of the Judiciary Committee report on the bill to House members and two weeks more, to Dec. 4, to get Part II distributed.

In the rush of last-minute business to adjourn Congress, there just wasn't time to give this controversial legislation any consideration at all.

Between the Bookends

WHAT CAUSED THE GREAT DEPRESSION?

The claim that "unregulated free enterprise" brought on the depression of 1929 has been with us for years. The lack of available data to challenge this claim has hampered many interested students.

At last, however, the necessary evidence has been masterfully assembled by Murray N. Rothbard in his new book, "America's Great Depression" (published by Van Nostrand Co., 120 Alexander St., Princeton, N. J.; $8.95).

Mr. Rothhard, a research economist and widely-respected author, provides page after page of examples of government intervention into our economy during the 1929's. He proves conclusively that the cause of the depression was the inflation generated by government meddling and by the overabundance of credit issued by the nation's banks, managed by the government's Federal Reserve System.

Textbook Quality

The book is divided into three sections. In the first, there is a detailed explanation of the causes of depressions and how they can be cured. As this is covered in the economist's technical language, the reader may find it difficult to follow without intense concentration.

If too difficult, the reader should move onto the second section. It is pure history and much easier to understand. The author covers the multitude of examples of government meddling in the economy during the twenties.

For example, he cites the manipulation of interest rates; the seizure of the nation's railroads; creation of public works programs, grants-in-aid to states, the War Finance Corp. and the Foreign Trade Financial Corp.; the subsidizing and regulating of agriculture; the pressuring of businesses with regard to labor and union problems; the planned inflation of the Federal Reserve System; and the imposition of regulatory-type taxes.

Historical Basis

In section three, the book shows how the government aggravated the situation during the first four years of the depression with more of the same. The author makes it clear that the depression could have been liquidated quickly and much less painfully had it been allowed to run its natural course without government interference. He cites the histories of previous depressions to support his claim.

As a textbook with a limited market, it must command a high selling price. It is well worth that price, however; and a wide understanding of the history contained therein could help redirect America's effort away from big government toward the capitalist system that brought us prosperity.

Office Cat

The office buzzed with surprise when word went around that old Joe, the porter, was going to retire. He said that he had accumulated a sum of $10,000 and since he was well along in years he felt that he could afford to retire.

Another Office Worker — Afford to retire, I should think he could retire on $10,000 but how in the world did he manage to save all that money? He has been with this firm as a porter for the last thirty-five years and he certainly never drew more than $25 a week in salary.

The management, following its usual custom, gave a farewell dinner for old Joe. He was asked to say a few words and he reluctantly agreed.

Old Joe — You have all heard that I am able to retire. I owe it in part to my own abstemious and thrifty habits. Even more I owe it to the carefulness and good management of my wife; but still more, I owe it to the fact that a month ago my aunt died and left me $9,950.

When a little boy had sneaked his cap pistol into church, fired it in the middle of a sermon, the father grabbed him by the arm and started to lead him out.

As they passed an elderly and plain-spoken woman she laid her hand on the father's arm and whispered I hope you aren't going to punish that boy; he's scared the devil out of more people today than our preacher has in the last 10 years.

The veteran was telling his mother about the terrible barrage at Belleau Woods.

Mother — Why didn't you get behind a tree?

Veteran — Tree! Why, there weren't enough to go round for the officers.

The cost of keeping a youngster amused is greater today than it was to educate his father.

Don — I got a real kick out of kissing Jane, last night.

Dan — Any more than usual?

Don — Yea, the old man caught me.

TROUBLESOME NUT

Investigations by those concerned with traffic hazards in our city, have indicated that we may soon be in trouble with our ever increasing traffic. No doubt many situations can be improved to keep our accident rate down to a minimum. I am convinced that the biggest improvement for traffic safety could be made by the man under the steering wheel.

I have observed the following type drivers in Pampa. We have the pass and turn driver, who roars past you and immediately applies his foot to the brake and gives a left hand turn signal about ten feet from where he turns off.

We have the watch thy neighbor driver. When he pulls up at a red light, he does not watch the light. He watches his neighbor sitting along side, because he has a deathly fear that his neighbor may get started before he does. If the neighbor car moves forward one inch, he zooms off like the lone ranger.

We also have the friendly driver. There is something about getting under a steering wheel that causes him to love everybody and he feels a compulsion to wave at everyone in front, behind and on each side of him. He resembles a windmill wheel in a sandstorm.

We have the house number reader, he is inclined to drive very slowly near the center of the street, hunched over the steering wheel as if he were holding a horse's neck. His head looks like a rubber ball floating in choppy water, as he reads the house numbers on both sides of the street.

We have the rocket back driver. When he backs out from the curb he sticks his foot into the carburetor, other drivers beware.

We have the swerve left turn right driver. Just before he makes a left hand turn, he swerves far to the right across the center stripe, then starts wheeling left like a man fishing in a fishing line.

We have the drive along together drivers, who like to drive side by side while they discuss the weather, girl friends, etc.

We have the drifter driver who slowly drifts from one lane to the other, just far enough to keep anyone from daring to pass him.

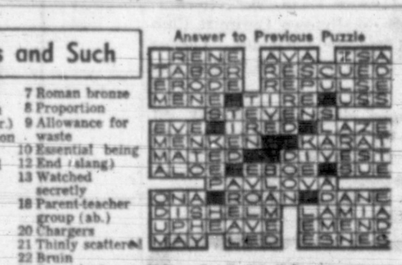

And, finally, we have the race car spinner. He likes to race the motor and see how many times the wheels will spin before the car moves one inch.

It seems the most troublesome nut in any car is the one under the steering wheel.

Gunmen Slug Eva Gabor And Get Ring

MIAMI (UPI)—Two masked bandits bound and gagged actress Eva Gabor and her husband at a plush resort early today, struck her over the head with a pistol and escaped with a $25,000 diamond ring belonging to Miss Gabor.

Miss Gabor, who with her blonde sisters Zsa-Zsa and Magda are internationally known as "the Gabor Sisters," was admitted to a hospital in "fair condition" with a cereberal concussion.

According to Miss Gabor's husband, Richard Brown, the couple returned to their apartment at the plush Racquet Club in North Bay Village shortly after midnight where they were confronted by two young gunmen with handkerchiefs over their faces.

Brown said one of the men stepped out of the bathroom and the other was hiding in the living room. He said the men, both wearing brown suits, tied him and his wife up with a sash cord from a venetian blind and then asked "where's the ring?"

Police said Miss Gabor then told them that she started to call for help and one of the men struck her across the forehead with a pistol.

Brown then said he told them Miss Gabor's ring—a 12-carat diamond—was at the main desk in a private safe deposit box.

The two bandits untied Brown and ordered him to go down and get the ring or "we'll kill you."

After he got the ring from their private deposit box, Brown told police, the two men tied him up again and then stuffed socks into their mouths so they couldn't yell for help.

Police said Miss Gabor told them that the men also took a plain gold wedding band, a gold woman's wristwatch and about $150 in cash from the room.

TV Notes

NEW YORK (UPI) — Look for Mae West to appear in a "Mister Ed" episode on CBS late this winter. The story will be filmed the week of Jan. 13. The star has made only one previous video appearance, with Red Skelton several years ago.

Joe Connelly and Bob Mosher, who fathered the long - run "Leave It to Beaver" series, have another show called "Karen" on the fire. The producers have described it as being "'Beaver' with girls." In short, the main character is a teenaged girl trying to grow up in a hurry, and she has a younger sister. Debbie Watson, 14, has the title role. Revue Studios is making the pilot in association with NBC-TV.

James Franciscus, star of NBC's "Mr. Novak," became the father of a second daughter, Kellie, last Dec. 4, the same birth date as that of Jamie, aged two years.

ABC's "Wagon Train" has 18 full-scale copies of the Conestoga wagon on tap for use in its episodes at $5,700 per vehicle.

Don't be surprised if Robert Morse, the young actor who made it big as the leading player in Broadway's fabulous musical success, "How to Succeed in Business without Really Trying," turns up in television next season. He left the show last October to co-star with Robert Goulet in the Hollywood movie, "Honeymoon Hotel," and will appear in "Genius" for film producer Otto Preminger. Meanwhile Morse has formed his own company, called Mayfair Productions, Inc., which seeks to acquire properties for video, movie and stage presentation. ABC is reported to have even more immediate television plans for Morse.

Pipe Line Executive On Information Panel

DALLAS (Spl) — Jack A. Horner of Houston, president of Shell Pipe Line Corp., has been named state chairman of the oil information committee of Texas Mid - Continent Oil & Gas Assn., James L. Sewell, Dallas, association president, announced Thursday.

Horner has served as OIC executive vice-chairman for the past two years. He succeeds A. O. Saenger of Houston, retired Humble Oil and Refining Co. marketing official.

As OIC chairman, Horner will direct the Texas oil and gas industry's organized public information and service program through a volunteer committee of approximately 900 industry employees.

Horner became president of Shell Pipe Line Corp. in 1960. A graduate of the University of Oklahoma with degrees in law and arts and science, he joined the Shell organization's legal department in Tulsa in 1936. In 1941 he went to New York and was later appointed to the group that mapped Shell's postwar expansion plans.

He became administrative assistant, office of the president, and in 1949 was named assistant secretary of Shell Oil Co. He was named secretary in 1953 and two years later was also appointed vice president in charge of the licensing division of Shell Development Co.

Horner is a member of several oil and gas industry organizations, including Texas Mid - Continent Oil & Gas Assn. and the American Petroleum Institute. He is a member of the Illinois, Oklahoma and New York bar associations, director of the Texas Manufacturers Assn., and a member of the board of trustees and executive committee, United Fund of Houston and Harris County.

Oilmen Grin at Cold, Evaluate 'Degree Day'

By TRAVIS HUGHS

TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — An Arctic cold front makes most people shiver, but oilmen just grin and mentally figure up its value in "degree days."

As the temperature goes down, business goes up for the sellers of home- heating fuels. Conversely, a mild winter seriously affects suppliers of fuel oil, natural gas and liquefied petroleum gas products.

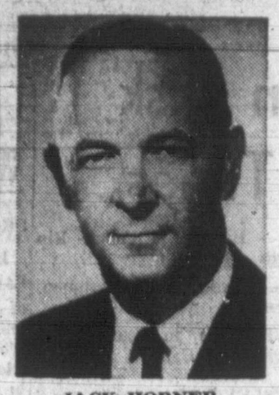

A more or less effective means of measuring the worth of a cold spell is the "degree day." It is not completely exact, but it can give the industry a pretty close estimate of the fuel to be used on a certain day.

Knowing the amount of fuel demand for a given temperature is not so important in areas heated by natural gas. The gas is stored in fields and underground storage systems. As customers use more fuel, it is automatically replaced in the pipelines.

However, in fuel oil areas such as the upper Middle West and the East, fuel distributors must be able to gauge and anticipate the demand closely.

As the customers' fuel tanks begin to empty, the distributor knows he will have to start refilling them and that his own storage tanks will need replenishing. The refiner also must anticipate the demand from distributors.

The degree day is the only systematic way to measure the cold in relation to fuel demands.

Texaco Expects Banner Business

NEW YORK (Spl) — Operations and earnings of Texaco Inc. will reach an all-time high in 1963, Augustus C. Long, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of the giant international oil company, announced today in a year-end statement.

Texaco's capital and exploratory expenditures in 1964 will amount to more than $700 million, Long disclosed. This compares with approximately $625 million in 1963. Texaco's chief executive said the Company would continue to emphasize investment in producing properties, approximately 60 per cent of the total budget going for these purposes.

Contributing to the projected increase in capital expenditures in 1964 will be a new 100,000-barrel-a - day refinery to be located in the United States, east of the Rocky Mountains. Long said. Location studies are now being completed and site of the new plant will be announced shortly, he added.

Long also pointed out that a 100,000-barrel - a - day refinery now being completed at Pembroke, Wales, in the United Kingdom, will go on stream in mid-1964, and that a smaller refinery located in Halifax, Nova Scotia, has just been placed into operation.

Capacity of Texaco's refinery at Pointe - a - Pierre, Trinidad, one of the world's largest, has been increased to 275,000 barrels a day and a further addition is being planned for 1964.

Steel Usage in US Homes Betters 1955 Record High

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Roger M. Blough, board chairman of United States Steel Corp., said that domestic use of steel reached an all-time high in 1963, bettering the earlier mark of 77.4 million tons set in 1955 by about one per cent.

Blough, in a year end statement, said the past 12 months ago marked the end of the inventory depletion cycle, but showed a worsening in the import-export balance of trade in steel mill products.

"Steel imports exceeded exports by about 3 million tons, and there is no evidence that we can expect any improvement in this relationship in 1964," Bough said.

Blough said the import-export imbalance kept last year's steel shipments from matching the 1955-57 average. A favorable balance of foreign trade of more than 3½ million tons raised steel shipments to slightly over 82½ million tons in the 1955-57 period.

The record volume of steel usage last year was credited to the automotive industry, an apparent new high in total tonnage used by the vast construction industry and a new peak in steel usage by the machinery and equipment producing industries.

Blough said achievement of a "reasonable contract without public furor or strike deadlines' reaches between steel and labor in 1963 helped avoid ". . .some of the inventory excesses that characterized previous years in which labor negotiations took place."

The year also showed an improvement in profits, Blough said, due to a rise in volume and recovery in prices.

Blough, while anticipating a continued upward trend in the nation's economy during the 1960's, expressed uncertainty about the immediate future.

However, he said the "preponderance of economic opinion promises further improvement in economic output in 1964," including "an improved period for steel also."

Geologists Report On Mineral Output

AUSTIN (UPI) — Texas 1963 mineral production, 92 per cent of which was petroleum products, amounted to $4.47 billion, the University of Texas Bureau of Economic Geology said today.

The report, prepared jointly by the university and the U.S. Bureau of Mines, said the total 1963 production was up $143 million over 1962.

Of the total value last year, $4.108 billion was from production of petroleum, natural gas and natural gas liquids.

The nonmetalic industrial minerals, metals and miscellaneous commodities were valued at $362 million and accounted for the other 8 per cent.

IPAA Seeks to Intervene in Area Rate Cases

WASHINGTON (Spl) — The Independent Petroleum Association of America has petitioned to intervene in two new Federal Power Commission area rate cases which it condemned as aggravating the "costly and burdensome" requirements placed on natural gas producers by the still unsettled Permian Basin and Southern Louisiana rate proceedings.

In separate petitions, IPAA asked FPC's permission to intervene in behalf of its members in hearings in which the commission will attempt to establish "just and reasonable rates" for sale of natural gas at the wellhead in the Hugoton - Anadarko and Texas Gulf Coast areas.

The IPAA said it was seeking permission to intervene in the two new cases because "inherent in the health and strength of the natural gas producing industry is a proper economic climate, including fair and reasonable prices for natural gas, which is sufficient to encourage exploration and development of reserves of natural gas to meet present and future needs of the consuming public."

Las Cresas Presents Pledges

"Paris At Twilight" was the theme of the annual Las Cresas Club Presentation Ball held Dec. 26 in the Starlight Room at Coronado Inn. Pledges were presented beneath an ivory archway representing the "Arch of Triumph", and escorted down a glittering pink carpeted aisle to the stage, encircled with clouds of pink net, and flanked by two French flower carts. A fountain of wishes completed the setting. Each pledge received a single long - stemmed white rose from her escort as she was presented.

* * *

Miss Debbie Earp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Earp, south of city, was named Best Pledge of the 1963 rush season. Miss Patty White, Best Pledge of 1962, presented Miss Earp with the traditional crown and a bouquet of pink roses. The honor was accorded Miss Earp because of her cheerful attitude and effort during pledge season. Her gown, fashioned of blue net, was accented by a sequined bodice. She was escorted by David Robertson and introduced with this verse: "A vision of pure loveliness, A sight of sights to behold, Of sweet and gentle temperament, A heart that's filled with gold. Oh, Debbie's friendship will be true, When others have grown cold."

* * *

Miss Pam Brooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Brooks, 604 Dean Dr., was escorted by Ted Vance. She wore a floor length gown of aqua satin brocade with a bell shaped skirt accented with a wide bow on the bodice. She was presented with this description: "In Pam we found a priceless treasure, Just to be around her is always a pleasure. Surely her smile is as radiant as the sun, And all of this beauty is wrapped up in this one."

* * *

Miss Glenna Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Brown, 938 Bruno, was escorted by Larry Hollis. She chose a white satin formal gown highlighted with a blue band on the bodice. A wide blue bow with streamers provided back interest for the gown. She was introduced with: "Of bright, twinkling eyes and manners so sweet, With this wonder girl, It's hard to compete."

* * *

Miss Donna Gibson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Gibson, 712 Sloan, escorted by Dale Gallimore, wore a gown of white net over taffeta accented with rows of white lace around the skirt. Red accessories complemented the gown. The verse introducing her: "Precious as Havilland china. Delicate as fine woven lace. Connie's charm is sure to brighten, Anyone's bluest days."

* * *

Miss Donnie Nichols, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Nichols, 2701 Navajo, was escorted by Mike Newton. She wore a gown of dark lavendar satin brocade accented with a light pink sash on the side. This verse introduced her: "She's bright and so merry, And a lass so bonnie, too, This of course is our Donnie, An angel through and through."

* * *

Miss Martha Pryer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Pryer, 633 Sloan, wore a gown of blue silk organza with a pearlized sequined jacket complementing the full skirt. She was escorted by Larry Wayne Scott and was introduced with this verse: "Martha is enchanting as a melody with a gracious air, She has sparkling brown eyes and pretty blonde hair. With a big loving heart, she's a real joy to know. Her manners and tact are always just so."

* * *

Miss Shelia Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Stewart, 2217 N. Wells, was escorted by Donnie Kidd. She wore a floor length gown of red chiffon over taffeta with a sequined bodice. A large flat bow complemented the back of the skirt. She was introduced: "Personality plus, that describes this girl. Of soft, white complexion and dark shiny curl. An image of loveliness, She's a priceless pearl."

* * *

Miss Brenda Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Thompson, 1204 Garland, wore a full length pink organza gown. Small ruffles and rows of white lace trimmed the strapless bodice. Each tier of the full skirt was trimmed with white lace. Escorted by John Brown, she was introduced: "She is always kind to the friend in need. Her actions never prompted by selfishness or greed. Of friendly manner and personality so rare, With a girl like Brenda, it's hard to compare."

Following the presentation, music for dancing was provided by the "Mello-aires" of Pampa.

A party for the Las Cresas members and their dates was held in the home of Miss Brenda Waller following the dance.

Dear Abby....

Letters In Answer To Letters

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR READERS: A few weeks ago I ran this letter in my column:

Dear Abby: Happiness is knowing your parents won't almost kill you if you come home a little late. Happiness is having your own bedroom. Happiness is having parents who trust you. Happiness is getting the telephone call you've been praying for. Happiness is getting good grades and making your parents proud of you. Happiness is being included in the popular circle. Happiness is having parents who don't fight. Happiness is knowing you are as well-dressed as anybody. Happiness is something I don't have.

FIFTEEN AND UNHAPPY

I received hundreds of letters from readers who wrote to comment. Here are a few:

DEAR FIFTEEN AND UNHAPPY: Happiness is coming home on time so your parents don't worry. Happiness is having someone to share a bedroom with. Happiness is proving to your parents that you can be trusted. Happiness is realizing that sometimes you're lucky you don't get what you pray for because it isn't always good for you. Happiness is including someone who is lonely and unpopular in your circle. Happiness is in having two parents who haven't already fought it out in a divorce court. Happiness is keeping the clothes you have neat and clean and not worrying about whether somebody else is "better-dressed." Happiness is not something you get. It's something you give.

FIFTEEN AND HAPPY in Richmond, Va.

DEAR FFITEEN AND UNHAPPY: Unhappiness is having to punish your 15-year-old for coming home late because if he didn't he'd keep coming home later and later. Unhappiness is listening to your son gripe about having to share a room with his brother when he should be old enough to understand that all parents aren't financially able to provide each child with his own bedroom. Unhappiness is knowing that your 15-year-old can't be trusted. Unhappiness is finding out that the reason your son's grades are poor is because he cut classes, came unprepared for tests and never did his homework. Unhappiness is in knowing that the "popular circle" your son runs with will call him "chicken" if he doesn't do what they do, regardless. Unhappiness is knowing that your son will be well-dressed only if you hang up his clothes, shine his shoes and see that he changes his socks, and underwear. Unhappiness is something we have brought on ourselves because we loved our son so much we couldn't say NO to him.

UNHAPPY PARENTS

DEAR ABBY: We're a bunch of guys in Vietnam doing a job for Uncle Sam, and we read your column in the Stars and Stripes. That 15-year-old kid who was unhappy because she didn't have a bedroom of her own, didn't get the telephone calls she wanted, and wasn't as well-dressed as some of the other kids, sure has a lot to learn. Do you know what happiness is for the kids here?

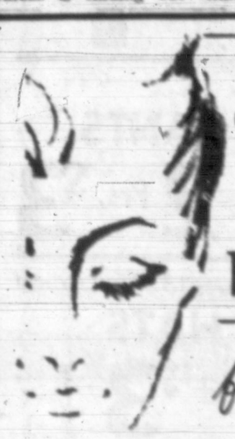

Happiness is having enough to eat so when you go to sleep at night your stomach doesn't ache. Happiness is having shoes on your feet and any kind of clothing to keep the cold out. Happiness is having a roof over your head. Happiness is the hope that maybe you'll be lucky enough to get some kind of an education. Happiness is believing that the dream of freedom, brotherhood and peace for all mankind will someday come true.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Light

Wedding Promises Given by Couple During Formal Candelight Ceremony

Wedding vows were exchanged in the Church of the Nazarene, Laverne, Okla., December 11 by Judy Casey and William Clayburn Light. Rev. Robert Meade read the double ring ceremony before a floral background of white carnations and gladiola.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John T. Casey, Laverne, and Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Light, formerly of Pampa, now residing in Dublin, Tex.

Mrs. Maxine Meade provided traditional wedding music from the piano and accompanied Mrs. Doris Malita and Mrs. Wanela McCuckle as they sang "Because", "I Love You Truly" and "Wedding Prayer".

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white satin. The fitted bodice was overlaid with imported French lace and featured a scalloped neckline forming a "V" line in the front and back. The sleeves, wrist length, were fitted. Soft pleats added interest to the center front and back of the full skirt. The gown was handmade by Mrs. Toby Alby. A pillbox hat covered with seed pearls and imported lace, accented with a back flat bow, held the bride's veil of double illusion. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and pink streamers on a white Bible.

ATTENDANTS

Mrs. Earlene Alby, matron of honor, wore a blue velvet sheath trimmed with a blue sash fastened with a pearl pin. A carnation corsage and matching accessories completed her ensemble.

Mrs. Louise Kilgore, sister of the bridegroom, Pampa, and Mrs. Barbara Light, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, Pampa, were bridesmaids. They wore identical three-piece suits of turquoise satin with brocade theater jackets and white accessories. Their corsages were white carnations.

Billy Light, Pampa, served his brother as best man. Miss Sharon Casey, sister of the bride, was candlelighter, and Miss Beverly Gail Light, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl.

Mrs. Casey wore a black suit with white and black accessories for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was fashioned of white carnations and net.

Mrs. Light chose a magenta dress of embossed material and black accessories. Her carnation corsage was trimmed with net.

RECEPTION

Following the ceremony a reception, in honor of the couple, was held in Fellowship Hall. Miss Pat Ray, cousin of the bride, Shawnee, registered guests and Mrs. Marvin Tibbits, Mrs. Wanna Luethy and Mrs. Nancy McNamara presided at the coffee service and punch bowl. Mrs. Margaret Gibbons served the four-tiered wedding cake which was flanked by gladiola and candles.

For a brief wedding trip, Mrs. Light wore a rust wool ensemble with black accessories and lifted a carnation corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Light will be at home in Laverne where he is an employe of Cabot Corporation.

The bride is a graduate of Tulsa High School. The bridegroom, a 1949 graduate of Pampa High School, attended Frank Phillips Junior College and Texas Tech. He is a member of Phi Theda Kappa.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Bob Schmidt, Shawnee, Miss Betty Hammers, McAllister, Miss Pat Ray, Shawnee; Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Light, Dublin; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kilgore, Pampa and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Light, Pampa.

Women Made News in '63 With Feats of Courage, Science Etc.

By SEL ERDER
United Press International

CHICAGO (UPI) — The undisputed first lady of the year, Mrs. John F. Kennedy, made her mark in the hearts of the world in 1963.

Her profile in courage during tragedy won the world's admiration, respect, sympathy and love.

In early August, Mrs. Kennedy lost her two-day-old son, Patrick Bouvier. On Nov. 22, tragedy struck again when her beloved husband, the President of the United States, was assassinated.

Her courage was so tremendous that a London newspaper saluted Mrs. Kennedy in an unprecedented way, saying that in her grief she has given the American people something that they heretofore lacked: majesty.

The loss was felt at the Kennedy hearth and in Washington. It was felt also in the hearts of America and the world . . in every circle from politics to art.

First Woman Orbits

Meanwhile, the most-spectacular woman title of the year went to Valentina Tereshkova, a Russian, 26, who spent almost three days in space in mid-June. The gray - eyed cosmonette later married Russia's cosmonaut Adrian Nikolayev.

Down-to - earth, an American woman, Helen Klaben, made news by surviving a 48 - day ordeal in the frozen wilderness of Canada after a plane crash. Given up for dead, she and her companion, pilot of the plane, survived on little except hope and prayer.

Survival also figured twice during spectacular happenings in maternity suites. Mrs. Andrew Fischer, of Aberdeen, S. D., caught world headlines by giving birth to America's first surviving quintuplets. And Mrs. Pietro Cuervo, a Venezuelan grandmother, brought into the world quintuplets able to survive.

Salute Researcher

In the scholarship - pays department, Mrs. Maria Goeppert-Mayer, a Polish - born American, earned salutes from the world's eggheads by sharing the 1963 Nobel Prize in physics with two men. Acclaim stemmed from her excellence in nuclear shell structure research.

The most controversial female newsmaker of 1963 was Madame Ngo Dinh Nhu, of South Viet Nam. The beautiful former first lady of that Southeast Asian country traveled widely and talked a lot.

Early in November, while in California, she was informed that her husband and her brother-in-law, Ngo Dinh Diem, the president, had been shot to death during a military coup which overthrew the regime.

On the domestic front, Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson took over as America's new first lady.

Mrs. Johnson is mother of two teen-age daughters and a devoted wife, and an expert business woman. She runs a home in Washington and a 2,900 acre ranch in Texas at the same time.

Swears in President

Other female newsmakers include a federal judge in Texas and a senator from Maine. Judge Sarah Hughes became the first woman to swear in a president when she administered the oath to Lyndon Johnson 90 minutes after President Kennedy's assassination.

Margaret Chase Smith, R., Me., caught front page space when she said she will announce whether she will be a presidential candidate for the 1964 elections early in the new year.

Dear Kathy

By KATHY PETERSON

Dear Kathy: We servicemen stationed at bases near small towns lead a lonely life. Most of the girls avoid us. If we get a date with a nice girl, her parents practically insist on letters of character reference. What can be done?—George M.

Dear George: Small communities guard their fillies zealously from the uniformed set. Unfortunately, you and many young men in their late teens and early 20s are suffering for the sins of other generations, and a few of your own. If you are really sincere and are not looking for a rowdy weekend you can boast about on Monday, talk with the base chaplain. He, in turn, can talk with the local ministry and businessmen. Perhaps they can sponsor community parties where you and the girls' parents can become acquainted.

Teen-agers: Please send your personal problems to Kathy Peterson in care of this paper. While she cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

Hosts for the occasion will be children of the couple; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Black, Mr. and Mrs. Mearl Black, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Ammons, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hapeman and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Black.

Reunion Party Held By '52 Graduates

LEFORS (Spl) — The graduating class of 1952, Lefors High School, met recently in the Lefors Civic Center for a reunion party.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dickerson, Terri and Lorri; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Clemmons, Mrs. Burly Bigham and children of Lubbock; and Miss Shirley Perkins of Midland.

Games were played for entertainment.

TONE UP IN POOL

Many cities have indoor swimming pools. If you feel you won't follow an exercising routine at home, head for the pool. Swimming is an excellent exercise for women of all ages, if your doctor approves. And you can trim your legs, thighs and tummy by merely doing a scissors kick while holding the edge of the pool.

CLASSIFIED ADS GET RESULTS

TUB CALISTHENICS

Women who feel they don't have time for sports or don't like them can do their figure trimming in the tub. Scrubbing your back, for example, is a good exercise for arms, shoulders and back. Hold a well-lathered washcloth with both hands behind your back. Stretch and twist your torso as you scrub. Another tub toner is to keep your back and legs straight as you wash your ankles and feet. This exercise helps firm your waist and arms and stretches the thigh tendons which tend to shorten when you wear high-heeled shoes.

Rinse towels well—three times if washed by hand and all rinse cycles if washed by machine.

Team Teaching Gets Full Class Tests

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A number of California elementary schools are trying something new — team teaching.

Ordinarily, each classroom is a self-contained unit. One teacher is responsible for all or nearly all of the day's teaching and activities.

A team-teaching plan works this way:

Four teachers team to work with about 115 children, approximately the total of their four classroom enrollments.

One teacher might have a special talent for science and arithmetic. Another's forte might be language arts. A third might specialize in social studies; a fourth in creative arts.

A single child thus receives high-grade instruction from not just one teacher during a school day, but from four teachers.

Couple Says Wedding Vows At First Baptist Church

Miss Jon Naylor, daughter of Mrs. Roberta Wood, 908 E. Francis, and Bryan C. Speck, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Speck, 1328 Garland, exchanged wedding vows December 22 during a candlelight ceremony read by Dr. E. Douglas Carver in the First Baptist Church. The double ring service was read before a seven-branched candelabra and baskets of white gladiola.

Miss Eloise Lane provided traditional organ music and accompanied vocalist, Joe Whitten who sang, "Because" and "Whither Thou Goest".

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her uncle, T. C. Lively, the bride was attired in a waltz length dress of embroidered tulle over taffeta with a jewel neckline.

She wore long tulle mitts and a double tiered veil of tulle attached to a headpiece re-embroidered with sequins and pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and white carnations.

ATTENDANTS

Attired in a blue silk linen sheath with an overskirt of silk organza, matching accessories and white kid gloves, a gift of the bride, Mrs. Richard James, Amarillo, twin sister of the bride, attended as matron of honor. She carried a nosegay of white carnations with blue trim.

In identical attire was Miss Carolyn Tennyson, bridesmaid.

Frank Pryor, Canyon, attended the bridegroom as best man. Bob Followell and Richard Hopkins were ushers.

Mrs. Woods wore a navy blue silk suit, matching accessories and an orchid corsage for the wedding.

Mrs. Speck chose a royal blue silk sheath, matching accessories and a corsage fashioned from an orchid.

For a short wedding trip, the bride wore a rose silk suit complemented by white accessories. Her corsage was the orchid lifted from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Speck is a graduate of Pampa High School and attended West Texas State University and Frank Phillips Junior CCollege. She was formerly employed as a bookkeeper with Pampa Hardware Co. The bridegroom, presently serving in the U.S. Navy, attended Pampa High School.

PRE - NUPTIAL COURTESIES

A miscellaneous shower honored the bride Dec. 9. The event, held in the First Baptist Church parlor, was hosted by Mmes. Mildred Lafferty, Vivian Jones, Bertha Hussa, LaVerne Bayless, Nancy Hopkins, Thelma Hoover, Leona Barnett, Pauline Carlson, Mildred Payne, Jean Scott, Welladean Cradduck and Miss Jan Hall and Miss Carolyn Tennyson.

Cost of Food Upswing Forecast by Experts

By GAYLORD P. GODWIN
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. Department of Agriculture predicts there will be plenty of food available in 1964 at retail prices higher than in 1963.

But the price rise is not expected to be as large as the 1½ per cent hike in 1963, the department said in a review of the national food situation. It said that any upward price pressures that may develop in 1964 are apt to be on foods from field crops, as was the case in 1963.

Retail prices of food from livestock products in 1964 are expected to average about the same as in 1963. In fact, the department said, some price declines may take place for beef, eggs, and other products expected to be in large supply.

The department's review of the food situation features these highlights:

—Further strength in the demand for food is in prospect for 1964. Further expansion in consumer buying and increases in business investment and government spending are expected to contribute to increases in employment and income. Population is expected to increase about 1½ per cent in 1964, the same as during 1963.

—The increase in food expenditures in 1964 is expected to exceed the $76 billion spent in 1963 by about 3 per cent.

—Charges for marketing farm products are expected to continue rising in 1964. Both operating costs and profits of food marketing firms in 1963 were up from 1962.

Although the farmer will be chiefly responsible for the huge amount of food available in 1964, his share of the consumer's food dollar probably will shrink a penny to 36 cents. The farmer's smallest share of the food dollar was 32 cents in 1932 and 1933, and his greatest share was 54 cents in 1945.

The department said the per capita consumption of food in 1964 is expected to be about steady with the high level of 1963. In 1964, declines in consumption per capita of eggs, processed fruits, and pork are expected to offset smaller increases for beef, chicken, and processed vegetables.

Consumption of all food in 1963 was up one-half of 1 per cent per capita, the department said. This was the largest increase since 1959. A substantial increase in beef consumption plus small increases in poultry, and several other foods more than offset declines in consumption of eggs, fish, and fruit, mostly citrus.

The department said total food expenditures in 1964 may outrun the 1963 increase of about 3 per cent, if the current outlook for disposable income is achieved. Food expenditures normally move upward with income. Department economists said disposable income was up about 4½ per cent in 1963 compared with the 3 per cent rise in food expenditures. In 1962, income was up 5.5 per cent and food expenditures were up 3.8 per cent.

The department said long-term trends show that, per capita, Americans are eating more meat, fish, poultry, dairy products, eggs, and fruits and vegetables, but fewer cereal products and potatoes than in past decades. Many of these long-time trends have been modified or reversed in recent years. Declines since the late 1940's in per capita consumption of dairy products and eggs are notable examples. Even potato consumption has stepped up a little.

The department said new food products and new ways of handling and presenting food are on the way.

To satisfy the American homemaker, pointing toward convenience and preference, food scientists have changed the flavor, shape, or nutritive quality of fruits, vegetables, meat and poultry. They have tailored for her the small turkey, the broiler, and the leaner hog. They are working to develop beef cattle with a higher proportion of lean, tender beef. They seek dairy cows that will produce milk with more solids and less fats, and hens that will lay eggs with longer lasting fresh qualities.

The department's Economic Research Service said there are enough new developments in food products "to make the cook hustle just to keep up with them, as manufacturers vie for the attention and pleasure of the housewife."

There are "squeeze tubes" for handy feeding of a baby, a bed patient, or an astronaut weightless in a space capsule. There is gelled applesauce, a new apple product with the consistency of cranberry sauce. There are new ways of drying, bleaching, and drying again the ordinarily sun-dried fruits. There is "instant bulgur," which is expected to take a prominent place in the preparation of soups, desserts, and even main dishes. New ways of freezing have been developed, which should take the guesswork out of finding enough just-ripe avocados to whip up a salad.

"Instant omelets" and "instant sweet potato flakes" are headed for the retail counter.

Success Marks Teens' Ideals

By MYRAM BORDERS

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (UPI) —Teen-age girls are learning how to "grow into graceful womanhood" with the help of big business and local government.

A teen-age self-development program was started here last summer and a course currently is underway in East Los Angeles. Previously it was successful in eight other cities throughout the United States.

A total of 500 young women have been aided by the program (sponsored by Clairol Inc.). The sponsoring firm sets up groups either through the city department of parks and recreation, the YWCA, or in some cases, service organizations.

Each "class" is directed by experts in fashion, diet, behavior or social relations and consists of about 40 girls.

"Of course we're interested in making better women through grooming and civic interests," said group worker Barbara Snader.

"One of the greatest side benefits is that some cities have been stimulated into starting their own programs." She cited the South Bend, Ind., department of recreation as one example.

The Doctor Says

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT

Although many people associate emergency health care with civil defense and atomic warfare, it is also designed to help persons through any kind of emergency such as earthquake, hurricane and flood.

I urge that every family procure the new revised "Family Guide Emergency Health Care" booklet put out jointly by the U.S. Department of Defense and Department of Health, Education and Welfare (U.S. Government Printing Office Publication 1963 o-665199).

In some communities, it is provided for all those who enroll in civil defense first aid courses. It covers all phases of emergency self-help in clear, simple language.

Q—Is it harmful to use a copper kettle to boil pickles?

A—Although modern pickle factories now use stainless steel containers, copper containers are perfectly safe. The very small amount of copper that goes into solution is not poisonous, but rather is beneficial. Copper is one of the trace elements essential to health.

Q—Why do some brands of vitamin contain calcium pantothenate and dicalcium phosphate anhydride?

A—Calcium pentothenate is the calcium salt of pantothenic acid. This acid is part of the vitamin B complex. Like vitamin E, it has been shown to be necessary for some lower animals but has no known function in man. The calcium is added as a source of this element for persons who have a calcium deficiency.

Q—My doctor has me taking Ambar tablets. What are they for and are they habit-forming?

A—Ambar is a combination of drugs used to treat some types of palsy, an abnormal tendency to sleep (narcolepsy) and alcoholism. Because it lessens hunger it is also widely used to help weight reduction. It contains another drug used in the short-term treatment of obesity.

Q—My doctor says I had a sinus attack of cardia. Is it serious and what precautions should be taken after such an attack?

A—What your doctor said was that you had sinus tachycardia. This is an extremely fast pulse rate arising supposedly from a stimulation of the carotid sinus. It may be caused by fever, hyperthyroidism (toxic goiter), shock and extreme anxiety. The severity of the condition and its treatment depend on the cause.

1964 Hairdos Lean on Past

By ALICIA HART
Beauty Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A woman looking for something refreshingly new for 1964 may find history has gone to her head.

According to Lupe, a Castilian hairstylist with Julius Caruso, feminine tresses will be fashioned into variations of crowns and head adornment worn by European royalty through the ages.

He feels, "The expression 'a woman's crowning glory' will never be truer than during this year." To back up his theory, Lupe designed three crown hairdos at the request of a comb company.

Lupe derived the idea for a sexy daytime hairstyle from a mid-19th century painting of Queen Isabella of Spain. He calls it Castilian Fantasia. The hair is cut just short of the shoulder and set with rollers, then combed into a sleek page - boy effect. The ends are flipped upward to accentuate the cheeks. For the whimsical crown, Lupe separated part of the top hair and worked this into looped curls. These are held in place with hairpins.

An elaborate, upswept style, Castilian Bonnet, was inspired by the Infanta of Spain, Maria of Austria. The Infanta wore it, Lue said, during informal court occasions.

For the bonnet, the front hair is held with hairpins and the back hair swept into a French twist. A switch makes the crown and its ends are arranged into a swirling pattern around the hairpiece. The final sophisticated touch comes from the half-loops of hair worked to stand out over the French twist. This may inspire some style wags to do their quippiest darndest but the hairdo should be fun.

The ultimate crown style fashion comes from Queen Isabella. Lupe uses a switch to create the high effect of the hairdo which he calls the Castilian Crown. The side, front and back is swept up and secured tightly. The "loops" made from the ends of the switch are arranged in uneven petal fashion.

You can see that the final effect is elaborate but with the use of switches and proper combing you can do them yourself.

And, if you let your hair grow longer, you can follow a simpler style which the New York hairstylist foresees. This will be the classic hairdo worn by Spanish dancers.

Spanish goes to the head for a new mood in coiffures. Lupe of Julius Caruso created these high but unteased styles primarily with switches. For evening (left) the stylist chose the Castilian Crown inspired by Queen Isabella. The loops are separated unevenly to form petals. Back is simple and upswept. Lupe whipped up the Castilian Fantasia (center) as a fun daytime hairstyle. The top hair forms five loops while the rest of the sides and back are turned under with the ends flipped toward the cheek. Again the high crown (right) is achieved with a switch and the ends fall in a swirling line. Two loops in back for a plumed effect complete the Castilian Bonnet.

Intriguing Interiors Beckon

By KAY SHERWOOD

Will the New Year bring a new look to your home? Whether you would like to liven up an alcove or overhaul the whole place, you probably join me in the desire to try something new.

The stereotyped lackluster interior floor plans of many modern houses disturb us. The small room or alcove, the absence of architectural interest, the large areas of glass which are not meaningful in terms of view or ventilation are well known to me.

Modern interior designers who take a sympathetic and imaginative approach to these realities are of service to the homemaker. They insist, however, that we shake up our notions of traditional room furnishings.

For example, one designer, Larry Peabody, brought sharp drama to the walls in a small area by hanging one large and two smaller drawings, mounted on unframed masonite. But these weren't drawings culled from an art fallery. They were photostatic enlargements of a graceful motif Peabody had cut from a calendar.

Fred Davis, another A.I.D. designer, brought new excitement to a typically small area which might be a family room, one end of a family-kitchen or the dining ell. Instead of draperies at the glass wall he used a bottom-up window shade, livened with handstenciled ladybugs marching in regimented order. The vinyl tile floor has a few random accent tiles, stenciled with more bugs.

Davis also used comfortable chairs and a low party table which is handy for cocktail, tea or supper parties or for a children's play table. He dressed up a simple openshelf hutch and cabinet with paper-covered storage boxes, peppy figurines.

This small area has decorative excitement thanks to skillful use of ladybugs stenciled on window shade and accent tiles. Note hanging lantern in corner.

Tub Rentals Rage In 17th Century

NEW YORK (UPI) — Rental bathtubs were the rage in 17th century Europe.

The Cleanliness Bureau, at any rate, reports that renting a tub on a regular basis was the only sure means then of keeping clean.

The tub was brought to the house at the appointed hour and then picked up again to be taken to the next customer. The cleanliness historians made no mention of who assumed the responsibility for removing the ring.

But the system did cause some complications — especially among women who even then liked to bathe at their leisure.

The "London Times" reported one law suit that came to court because of a mix-up in bathing arrangements.

A young lady named Rosalie was relaxing in the tub when two tub-movers rushed into her boudoir. Her feminine modesty out-raged, Rosalie sued.

But the tub-carriers won. The court decided they merely came to pick up the tub for the next customer and that Rosalie, indeed, hadover sayte d erhilmi.t deed, had overstayed her limit.

The Clothes Poll

By HELEN HENNESSY

Fashion jargon would badly confuse a student of the language.

For instance, "in" means not the opposite of "out," but that a particular style has been adopted by the smart set.

When an item is said to be "big," it doesn't usually mean that it's large, but that everyone is wearing it.

So to avoid misunderstanding, we're taking Webster at his word now in stating that costume jewelry will be big this holiday season — large, massive, chunky.

Sharply contrasting, large, colored stones will sparkle as the trend toward elegance comes into full swing.

Even for daytime wear ornate jewelry will highlight soft, understated dresses.

Watch for jeweled buttons on suits, huge domed rings set with multicolored stone clusters, long necklaces and "pagoda" necklaces, which are reversible. One side is a monotone for day, the other gives a startling striped color effect for evening.

Glitter pins are to be found everywhere. Only your imagination can limit their use. They light on and light up every type of hat from tweed fedora to mink turban. And they perch on lapels, shoulders and cuffs, singly or in flocks.

For evening, sparkling hair ornaments will top wiglets and hair pieces and pins and pendants will highlight the new plunging necklines.

Through mass-produced, many of these pieces have a handcrafted look.

You can doll yourself up like a sultan's wife in the beautiful costume jewelry that's "big" (there we go again) for the holidays.

Q — I bought a black brocade evening dress for my office party. The dress is brocaded in pink, blue and lots of gold. Should I wear my gold shoes and bag with it? I have long, white gloves and a mink stole.
— Dorothy G.

Dear Dorothy G. — Better choose your shoes and bag in black. If there's as much gold in the brocade as you suggest by your letter, gold shoes and bag will make you look like something that fell off the Christmas tree.

The fabric of your dress must be beautiful. Play it up with black. Gold would detract from it and you would look overdressed. If you have them, wear black gloves as well.

Provide Proper Setting For Bold And Imaginative Young Knights

By KAY SHERWOOD
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

If you have a young knight at your round table, you appreciate the strong pull the good King Arthur still exerts on the imagination, a fascination which may not diminish with the years.

In our household, the medieval king has pushed Davy Crockett, Daniel Boone, cowboys and Indians and soldiers right out of our 11-year - old's room.

He has brought home handsome new editions of the old tales, new books on heraldic design and miniature knights for battles which have made me realize many other lads may be on the same kick.

At my suggestion, Mary Ann Wills, decorating consultant for a wall accessory manufacturer (Arabesque), designed a room setting especially for a young Galahad. She incorporated some inexpensive, expendable, home-made touches and some elements that could be switched to another setting at a later date, when his interests shift to girls and cars.

Classic Battle Looms Between Barry, Rocky for GOP Standard

By RAYMOND M. LAHR

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Barry Goldwater and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller are squaring off for a classic conservative vs. liberal contest which many fellow Republicans believe neither can win.

Goldwater announced Friday he was a candidate for the GOP presidential nomination because he had heard of no other announced candidate ready to give the voters a "clear choice" in the election next Nov. 3. Rockefeller is the only other announced candidate preparing for a national campaign.

Both the conservative Arizona senator and the liberal New York governor have announced they will be in presidential primaries in New Hampshire March 10, Oregon May 15 and California June 2.

Presidential primaries sometimes lead to victory at national nominating conventions and sometimes they are ignored. The late President Kennedy followed the primary route to the Democratic nomination in 1960, but the late Sen. Estes Kefauver followed it in 1952 only to lose to Adlai E. Stevenson, who had entered none of the primaries.

Still Rates High

Among the announced and possible Republican candidates for 1964, Goldwater still rates as the front-runner despite his slide downward in public opinion polls since Kennedy's death. He is the only Republican with a substantial bloc of national convention delegates in sight—in the Southern, Midwestern and Rocky Mountain states.

The New Hampshire primary is shaping up as a significant test which could be fatal to the loser without guaranteeing the nomination to the winner.

Republican leaders, who have been reappraising the political outlook since Kennedy was assassinated, expect to begin another reassessment after the New Hampshire primary.

Eye Other Possibles

Meanwhile, those unenthusiastic about both Goldwater and Rockefeller will continue to mill around, eyeing such other possible candidates as former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania and Gov. George Romney of Michigan.

Despite his hard core of support, Goldwater has been deemed a weaker candidate since Kennedy's death because President Johnson is presumed to be stronger than Kennedy in Goldwater territory.

Rockefeller's chances never have been rated high since his remarriage last May to the divorced mother of four small children.

US Subsidy Provision Aids Red Wheat Deal

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An obscure provision in the government's subsidy program appeared today to have eased the way for the long-delayed sale of 1 million tons of U.S. surplus wheat to Russia.

The Agriculture Department announced Friday that Continental Grain Co. of New York had sold 37 million bushels (1 million metric tons) of wheat to the Soviet Union for cash in an historic transaction.

The wheat will cost the Russians about $78.5 million—the world price of the grain plus shipping costs. The department said the sale was the largest commercial sale of wheat ever made by a single U.S. firm.

Export subsidies on the sale will amount to about $25 million but the result will be a drop of 1 million tons in U.S. surplus wheat stocks, with an accompanying saving of storage costs amounting to about $5 million annually.

In addition, the Commerce Department announced approval of export licenses for three other grain dealers. These potential deals add up to another 500,000 tons of wheat plus 50,000 tons of flour.

Michael Fribourg, president of Continental, said that half the wheat would be shipped in U.S. vessels, as specified by the late President Kennedy when he first authorized such sales last Oct. 9, "if ships can be made available."

But one big question remained: Is the United States subsidizing part of the cost of shipping the wheat sold?

About one-third of the sale, 350,000 tons, will be durum wheat. On the other wheat involved in the transaction, the Agriculture Department is paying its regular export subsidies. These enable U.S. wheat to be competitive with other world wheats. In effect, they bring down the price of U.S. wheat to the lower world price.

But on the durum wheat, the subsidy approved by the department under a little-known "bid subsidy" program adopted in 1962.

First Summer In Europe Trip Offered by TCU

FORT WORTH (Spl) — Texas Christian University's first "Summer Session in Europe" will be offered next year under the direction of Dr. Bita May Hall, professor of French.

Under the recently-announced plan, participating students will spend July at the University of Nantes, attending classes taught by French professors and living with French families.

A student may earn six semester hours in first or second year French, advanced conversation, literature, French history or modern art.

Before beginning study at the university, students will attend a 10-day orientation session in Paris which will include sightseeing in Normandy, Brittany and at the Chateaux of the Loire.

An optional tour continuing through August will include southern France, Italy, Switzerland, Germany and England.

Also next summer, TCU will again sponsor a six-weeks session at Monterrey Institute of Technology in Mexico. The program in that country was initiated in 1950.

For further information about either program, contact the Department of Foreign Languages, TCU.

Dunn is a 1963 graduate of Wheeler High School and a freshman at LCC. He recently played the lead role in another dramatic production at LCC, "Do You Know the Milky Way." His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dunn.

Wirtz Urges New Jobs, No Overtime Pay

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI)—Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz, wrestling with the unemployment problem, said Friday that 919,000 new jobs would be opened if manufacturing industries would hire additional personnel instead of paying overtime.

Wirtz, in a meeting with President Johnson, tempted the administration with a proposal that overtime payment be raised from one and one-half time regular pay to double pay.

A massive stay-in-school program also was proposed by Wirtz. He said youth unemployment rose 5 per cent last year and that 17 per cent of the workers 20 years old, or younger, could not find jobs.

While job finding was growing more difficult for youths, Wirtz said, adults were being hired.

"The unemployment problem improved markedly for adults," he said, "going down to a rate of 3.1 per cent."

The overall unemployment rate of the entire labor force in the nation is about 5 per cent.

Wirtz said 1.6 million youths will enter the labor force this year. At the same time, he said, the employment level will be reduced 2.5 to 3.5 per cent because of improved productivity.

"At least two million more mobs than we would otherwise have," was predicted this year by Wirtz if Congress allows a tax reduction which, he said, would stimulate the economy.

Morris Opens Senate Effort

AUSTIN (UPI)—Robert Morris of Dallas last week launched his bid for a seat in the U. S. Senate, calling the Texas Republican primary of 1964, "the most important in history."

The GOP candidate for the seat now held by Sen. Ralph Yarbbjough, D-Tex., said that because of the importance of year's primary, those who participate have "a great responsibility to utilize this forum to frame, to articulate and to communicate the great issues of our time."

Morris, a 49-year-old attorney and former president of Dallas University, is a strong backer of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., who announced Friday he would seek the Republican presidential nomination.

He said with Goldwater on the ticket, he would sweep his home county of Dallas.

Two other GOP candidates have already announced they would seek the nomination. They are Dr. Milton Davis of Dallas and George Bush of Houston. Morris described them both as "gentlemen."

Women Get Good Shot At Sharpies

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI) —President Johnson opened the White House doors last week to the woes of the American consumer and housewife.

Johnson named Mrs. Esther Peterson, a Utah mother, to handle the "sharp dealers" and merchants who make unwarranted price increases. Packing and labeling of consumer goods also will be reviewed.

Mrs. Peterson, 57, urged housewives to write to her at the White House about purchasing problems.

"Consumers are not organize and make the voice of the consumer heard loud and clear."

One goal she set for herself was to make it so homemakers "won't have to shop with a sliderule" to see "whether a product of 13½ ounces at one price or 13 2-3 ounces at another price is a good buy."

"For the first time in history," Johnson said in appointing Mrs. Peterson Friday, "the American consumer's interest—so closely identified with the public interest—will be directly represented in the White House."

Mrs. Peterson, the mother of four, will handle the new job in addition to her regular job as assistant secretary of labor.

Separate Trials Won for Slayers

HOUSTON (UPI) — Carolyn Ann Lima and Leslie Douglas Ashley, accused slayers of Houston real estate man Fred Tones, won separate trials Friday. Criminal Dist. Judge Myron Love said Miss Lima would go to court Feb. 17.

It will be their second trial on charges they shot Tones to death after a three - way sex party in hissHouston office.

They were sentenced to death, but after several appeals and a close brush with the state's electric chair, they won new trials.

In a pre-trial hearing Friday, Ashley's lawyer Lloyd Lunsford successfully moved that Miss Lima, represented by Clyde Woody be tried first.

Her trial was originally set for Jan. 20, but the date was moved back after it proved to conflict with another case in which Woody is an attorney.

Ruby Bond Case Halted by Trial

DALLAS (UPI) — The second half of the Jack Ruby bond hearing has been delayed two weeks until Jan. 24, Judge Joe B. Brown said, because a murder trial which begins in Brown's court next week is expected to take several days. The hearing has been scheduled to resume Jan. 10.

Ruby, who shot accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald Jan. 24 in front of a national television audience, appeared in court for his bond hearing Dec. 23. But because of the length of the hearing and the Christmas holidays, Brown recessed the court after one day of testimony.

Two Oilmen Plead Innocent in Case

TYLER (UPI) — Judge Joe Sheehey last week heard two Longview oilmen plead innocent to an 88-county indictment charging them with transportation of illegal oil across the state line and set a Jan. 20 trial date for them both.

Charged in the case were B. B. Ror and F. S. Barton.

They are accused with failing to make proper reports to the Federal Oil Commission and violating the Connally Oil Act.

The alleged violation took place on the O. N. Childress oil lease in Wood County.

EDUCATIONAL SAIL—It may or may not be true that travel broadens the mind, but it is very true in the case of the University of the Seven Seas, a floating university shown here anchored in Port Said, U.A.R. It is the only sea-going U.S. college and it is stopping at some 22 ports on its cruise.

Pampan on Duty At Pendleton

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif., (Spl) — Marine Cpl. Joe I. Timms, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Timms of 1304 East Foster, Pampa, is serving with the 3rd Battalion, 1st Marine Regiment, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

The battalion recently returned from a 13-month tour of duty with the 3rd Marine Division on Okinawa.

West Texas State To Host Swine Show

CANYON (Spl) — West Texas State University will host one of the most important swine events ever to come to the Texas Panhandle, when the Southwestern Poland China meat type hog conference, show and sale, will be held here Jan. 17 and 18.

Sponsors of the national event include the Poland China Swine Registry of Galesburg, Ill., Southwestern Poland China breeders, with personnel from four state universities.

The program will get under way Jan. 17 with a meat type swine evaluation contest, open to everyone wishing to enter. Prizes and trophies will be awarded in separate categories for 4-H and FFA member, commercial pork producers, ladies, extension personnel and vocational ag teachers, and pure bred swine breeders of all breeds.

HELP FOR FARMERS—As of October 1963, 370 counties (in black on Newsmap) in 30 states were eligible for emergency loans from the Farmers Home Administration. These areas were where natural disasters, such as drought, floods or windstorms, caused a need for credit that could not be met by private lenders. In the fiscal year ended June 30, 1963, FHA made about 19,000 emergency loans totaling $83 million, about the same volume as in the preceding year. Data from U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Low Profits Give Feeders Poor Season

AUSTIN (UPI) — Prices for Texas farm and ranch products at the close of 1963 were down slightly from a year ago due mainly to lower livestock prices, the U. S. Department of Agriculture said today.

Livestock and products rose one point on the index listing in December over the previous month, but still were down 25 points, or about 8 per cent from a year ago.

Texas farmers during 1963 produced a total of $77,002,000 in commercial vegetables, down 5 per cent from total 1962 production. Increased volume of cabbage, cantaloups, lettuce, onions were offset by reductions in carrots, sweetcorn, tomatoes, potatoes and sweet potatoes.

Vegetables, melons and potatoes harvested in the state last year totaled 302,750 acres, up 2 per cent over 1962 but 12 per cent below the five-year average.

Leading crops in value of production for fresh market during 1963 were onions, cantaloups, watermelons, Irish potatoes, cabbage, carrots and lettuce. These crops accounted for 72 per cent of the commercial vegetables production.

On the price scale, the all-crop index at the end of 1963 was 2 points above levels at the end of 1962. Rice and wheat prices were up. Slight increases also were noted in the price of corn, oats and grain sorghums.

Meat animal prices were down 15 per cent over 1962. Hog prices were down $1.80 per cw over a year ago, beef catt down $3 and calves $4.60. B sheep and lambs were 90s ar 40c respectively above la year.

You, Your Child and School

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

Current events should be used to supplement the school curriculum regardless of grade level —kindergarten through college.

A teacher can make excellent use of current events by molding them in appropriate lessons. A study of Africa would be unrealistic without including the many recent political changes. Science is moving forward so rapidly that it is essential to know recent discoveries.

Textbooks are valuable as far as they go. But they cannot be kept fully up to date and it is not economically sound for the schools or the publishers to replace them on a yearly basis.

For example, there are not many texts in use which make mention of the Berlin wall, and it will take several years before that books will include the recent assassination of President Kennedy. This does not make the books useless. It only points out the need for using additional materials to keep information up to date.

There are many instructional materials available, depending upon the level of the students. In the elementary grades, teachers should start introducing the use of regular materials such as newspapers, television, etc., and participate in the future.

The secondary schools and colleges depend upon these and all other available adult materials including pamphlets, reports of lectures, and forums.

There has been an increasing use of newspapers and television in the classrooms. Reports of the recent space flights were used by teachers in many ways. These events stimulated a great deal of interest at all levels. The coverage by the mass media was particularly good for education. Students learned much from the diagrams, explanations, and discussions which were appropriately designed for the public. There were implications for every level and subject.

One of the major aims of education is to develop effective citizens. A study of current events helps to create an awareness and interest in the problems facing local communities, states, nations, and the world. The growth of the ability to analyze these problems and recognize their implications is the responsibility of the schools.

As a student analyzes present happenings, he becomes aware of the existing directions and needs of the various fields. His understanding of the past helps him to understand the present and participate in the future.

Prices Down For Texas Farm Fare

Many cattle feeders will remember 1963 as the year of their discontent. The cause was low profits, and the primary culprits were falling fed cattle prices and higher feed costs.

Also contributing to the low profits was the cost of feeder cattle in relation to the price of fed cattle, according to the latest summary published by the Cattle Feeders Division of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association.

Lloyd Bergsma of Fort Worth, director of the Cattle Feeders Division, said at year's end the price of 900 to 1,100 pound choice steers in Chicago was down $6.25 per hundred compared to prices a year earlier. Prices on 500 to 800 pound good feeder steers at Omaha were down $3.70 per hundred during the same period. Cattle prices followed a downward trend nearly all year.

Total domestic production of beef reached an estimated 26,470 million pounds during 1963, and this total was swelled by record beef imports. Per capita consumption of beef was 95 pounds during the year, an all time high.

In 1964, domestic beef production is expected to be slightly above 1963 levels and shipments of foreign beef to the United States could exceed the record 1963 tonnage. Feed costs are expected to average near 1963 levels and feeder cattle below 1963 levels.

"With the supply of beef available in 1964 estimated above 1963, we can not expect fed cattle prices to return to 1962 levels," Bergsma explained. "However, with a continued strong demand we might expect prices to be above those of the last half of 1963."

New Religious Program Planned

A new religious radio program, "Back to God," was announced for Pampa this week by Mrs. L. V. Grace of Kelton, who will give the weekly meditation program.

The program, to be broadcast each Monday morning from 9:15 to 9:30 over KPDN, is interdenominational in scope and will feature prayer and advice for daily living, according to Mrs. Grace.

Mrs. Grace and her husband, Rev. L. V. Grace, were longtime residents of Pampa before moving to Kelton last year. Mrs. Grace plans to reside in Pampa while her program is conducted here.

WORKING WIVES

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Consumer Finance Association suggests that working wives — the Department of Labor counts 13½ million of them — left their kitchens to get money for labor-saving household appliances. While it didn't say how long this usually takes, the association did say that half of all women in the 45 to 54 age bracket are gainfully employed.
