SCHOOL NEEDS ARE OUTLINED

HOME TOWN TALK

By Beddy

Two things already done speak well for the tireless efforts being made by Chairman Robbins and the Chamber of Commerce civic committee in its beautification campaign. They are the beautification of the court house grounds and removal of dumping grounds from near the Blankenship highway east of the city.

These things were accomplished either directly or indirectly because of the committee's activity.

The civic committee has built a formidable organization, which enlists scores of citizens in the campaign for a clean, sanitary, beautiful city. Its program for 1930 justifies the support of every citizen.

If it succeeds in accomplishing nothing more than a thorough cleaning of all property within the city, including removal of any menace of health, its existence and efforts will be completely justified. However, we are sure it will accomplish many more things.

The Herald will between now and April 5 present for your consideration detailed facts connected with your public school system, the better to help the public in voting intelligently at the school bond election on that date.

It is the function of this, as well as other newspapers, to provide such facts, uncolored to fit any individual or editorial opinion. This newspaper favors adoption of the bond issue because it is convinced first, that the improvements proposed are actually needed; and second, that the school district, which means all payers of school taxes, can afford to pay for improvements.

Our idea of a community 100 per cent "out of luck" would be that one unable to pay for improvements in its public educational system which, on the obvious surface, become actual needs.

From a preacher at the luncheon club meeting came this statement: "The community which does not provide modern churches, roads and schools tells the world that it is itself yet an experiment."

From a representative of the aeronautics division of the department of commerce, also at the luncheon, came this echo, "add to the trio—airports."

No West Texas city can point to a greater program of building by churches than our own. We are in a fair way to provide needed improvements for our schools. Much effort is being made in promotion of our splendid—airports.

Our highways are being neglected.

Federal Aviation Envoy Visitor

W. J. McKenize, a representative of the department of commerce aeronautics division, is in Big Spring today conferring with the Big Spring Airport directors and Chamber of Commerce officials pertaining to the official rating of the flying field here.

Details of the conference between Mr. McKenize, Ray Wilcox, E. Reagan and C. T. Watson were not available at noon Wednesday, but several phases of questions were yet to be considered in an afternoon session.

Blankenship Address Luncheon Club On Subject

Remedies proposed to alleviate overcrowded conditions in the Big Spring schools—remedies proposed after detailed investigations and analysis of the conditions—were outlined by Supt. W. C. Blankenship at Wednesday's meeting of the Business Men's Luncheon Club.

Other speakers on the program were Dr. W. R. White, evangelist now appearing at the East Fourth Street Baptist church; a Mr. M. Kenzie, representing the U. S. department of commerce. Announcements were made by W. A. Chachere, Jr., personal representative of W. K. Henderson of radio station KWKH, Shreveport; C. T. Watson of the Chamber of Commerce, and others.

The program was in charge of a committee represented by E. G. Towler. Music was furnished during the meal by Walter Deas, Jr., orchestra of high school students. Guests of the day included, Dr. White, Mr. McKenize, Mr. Chachere, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor McCasland, Rev. S. B. Hughes, Mrs. V. R. Smitham, Ray Wilcox.

Next week's program committee, Messrs. Rix, Cornelson and Baxley; the next week, Messrs. Kelley, Watson and Morrison.

The school board has called an election to decide whether a bond issue of $125,000 shall be issued. It was called after a petition of 150 citizens had been filed.

Purpose of the bond issue is to provide additional grade school classrooms, to alleviate present overcrowding to care for 6-year-old children next fall, and perhaps to provide some space to care for future growth, said Mr. Blankenship.

Following a detailed investigation of the entire situation the superintendent recommended 36 new classrooms provided Central Ward building were dispensed with and the small wooden structures now in use were disposed of.

The $125,000 bond program anticipates continued use of the present Central Ward building and probably of the two wooden structures. It would not be economy not to use the buildings unless they could be disposed of, said the superintendent.

The $125,000 program is designed to provide 25 or 26 additional classrooms.

At present three grades are being taught in the ward building, the sixth and seventh grades and three large sections of the fifth grade are being taught.

In the senior high school building the four high school classes, the sixth and seventh grades and three large sections of the fifth grade are being taught.

All first grade pupils are being taught on half-day schedules instead of the regular full day plan.

In the senior high school building net enrollment for this session is 1276, including the four high school classes, the sixth, seventh and most of the eighth grade pupils. This is net enrollment, not actual daily attendance. Mr. Blankenship estimated the actual enrollment at 1000 to 1100.

Enrollment Net enrollment in the other buildings is as follows: South ward, 425; north ward, 137; central ward, 520; junior high, 440; Mexican, 236; negro, 46.

Total net enrollment is 3080, including almost 3000 white children. Actual daily attendance is approximately 2380.

PURCHASES ARE MADE BY AGENTS

Fear Of Sheriff Leads Man With 'Bumpers' Across Line

Federal prohibition officers and members of the Howard county sheriff's department conducted a series of liquor purchasing efforts Tuesday night and after the evening's work had been completed, three men were in the Howard county jail charged with sale of intoxicating liquor and two others were in Abilene where similar charges were filed in federal court.

D. N. Harris, Sostenes Gomez and Frank Kell were in the Howard county jail on default of bond set in the sum of $1,000 in each case. One of the men transferred to federal court in Abilene was arrested at a local filling station after he is alleged to have sold whiskey to one of two federal agents and the other was arrested in northern Glasscock county just across the Howard county line where he led federal agents before making the sale.

The man taken into custody in Glasscock county told federal officers that he would under no conditions sell whiskey in Howard county because the officers were watching him like a hawk. However, he confided to the federal agents who have unrestricted jurisdiction regardless of counties, that he could supply their desires if they cared to cross into Glasscock county. Consequently, the transaction was made in Glasscock county, but it didn't prevent the officers transporting the man to Abilene where his case will be submitted to the federal grand jury.

Major Van Zandt Dies In Ft. Worth

Major K. M. Van Zandt, 33, father of Sidney Van Zandt and Mrs. O. Y. Miller of Big Spring, died at his home in Fort Worth Wednesday, according to Associated Press dispatches. Death came from heart trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Van Zandt and Mr. and Mrs. Miller left for Fort Worth early Tuesday on being informed their father's illness had grown critical. Up to his last illness, which began a week ago Thursday, he had been active president of the Fort Worth National Bank since its organization 58 years ago. He came to Texas from Tennessee in 1839, the family settling in Harrison county.

He was former commander of the United Confederate Veterans. His father, Isaac Van Zandt, was prominent in negotiating for the annexation of Texas and died at the age of 34 while a candidate for governor of Texas.

When Major Van Zandt first came to Fort Worth in 1865 he engaged in the mercantile business.

Prior to his last illness, Major Van Zandt enjoyed good health during practically all his life. He spent six hours each day at the bank and officials of the Fort Worth National said "you could almost set your watch by watching him go to and from work."

A year previously almost to the day he was stricken with a similar attack from which it was feared he would not recover. At that time he was ill for two months, but recovered to resume his routine of six hours each day at the bank.

His wife and 12 children were at the bedside when death came. Besides these, he is survived also by 34 grand children, 25 great grand children and three great great grandchildren.

Mrs. V. R. Smitham has just returned from a week's stay in Dallas.

'Wide Place In Road' Wakes A 'City' As Oil Strike Stirs East Texas

VAN, Texas, (AP)—A wide place in a road developed into a bustling oil town; poor farmers made rich; oil derricks a towering new crop. That is a short history of Van since "black gold" was discovered less than six months ago. It's an old story in the southwest. Thrust suddenly into the midst of a bewildering turmoil that accompanies development of an oil field, the town, which half a year ago was composed of only a filling station and store and a few houses, today is laid out like a modern city with rows of stores and business houses on either side of the streets. Immediately after oil was discovered last October fortune seekers flocked to Van in droves. Farmers "most ceased in the vicinity for the former tillers of the soil had oil in their blood and they visioned untold wealth waiting to be tapped. Seven producing oil wells already are making rich fortunate residents of Van, and as many more are expected. Located in East Texas the oil field is developing in all directions and is expected to equal in territory the famous West Texas and Oklahoma fields. Not a dry hole has yet been encountered. One hundred carloads of oil are being shipped daily to the refinery, and now a pipeline is being built to the plant and development of the entire field seems assured.

Van, Texas, became a town overnight when oil was found. Now autos park in the business section (top) where they rarely paused a few months ago, and there was no "hotel" (inset).

SON BOARDS PLANE HERE ON DASH INTO MEXICO: CASH RANSOM SOUGHT

J. E. Bristow Of Bristow-Merrick, Local Producers, Held Captive Near West Coast

The trail of Gordon 'Obie' Bristow seeking to aid his father, J. B. Bristow, prominent West Texas oil operator, who is held captive by a band of Mexican bandits in the rugged country of western Mexico, led west from Big Spring Wednesday afternoon aboard a Southern Air Transport airplane. The elder Bristow, a partner in the oil producing firm of Merrick and Bristow, which holds extensive leases in southern Howard county, was captured while exploring for oil in the rugged country south of Tepic, Nayarit, Mexico. He was at Santa Maria Del Oro, Nayarit, at the time of the capture.

Younger Bristow Former Varsity Star At Oklahoma

"Obie" Bristow is well known among the Big Spring people who are from Oklahoma. Bristow was a member of the varsity football team in the University of Oklahoma at Norman, in the years of 1924 and 1925, when his work on the team brought him to the attention of the entire student body. "Obie" was exceedingly popular because of his amiable disposition which makes him easily approached, and because of his distinct individuality and disregard for the small conventionalities.

Mr. Bristow was a member of the Kappa Sigma social fraternity at the University of Oklahoma. He came to West Texas with his father about two years ago and with his rare adjustability has become a thorough West Texan.

Baptists Plan Debt Payment

The First Baptist church has a vigorous finance committee directing a campaign to raise funds to pay on its church debt.

The first semi-annual payment on the bonded indebtedness is due April 1 and the congregation is getting ready to meet the amount when due. A campaign, with the slogan, "I Will Be One of the Givers," is now being featured. The plan is to commit each member of the church and Sunday school to a promise that he will be present next Sunday and make a contribution when the collection is taken. One of the special features of the movement is the getting 100 persons to give as much as $25, or more, each.

The committee is composed of G. H. Hayward, chairman, C. S. Holmes, Mrs. B. Reagan, J. C. Douglass, D. C. Maupin, F. C. Hopkins, Nat Shick, W. R. Creighton, Mrs. J. C. Douglass, M. L. Tinsley, W. C. Blankenship, and Frank Pool.

Rev. Dow H. Heard, pastor, is ex-officio member of all committees appointed by the church.

Missing Man Believed Safe

LUBBOCK, March 19, (AP)—R. L. Chambers, 55, retired farmer who left his home here Monday after he was alleged to have mailed a letter to a friend instructing him as to the disposition of his property and insurance, was reported today in an indefinite message to be safe in Dallas.

Mrs. Carmen Hilbert of Waco, sister of Chambers' wife, reported to officers here that a man by the name of Jones called at her home and related he had seen the missing man and he was enroute to Dallas to seek work.

The false teeth of the missing man were found here today at his residence and his automobile on a suburban street.

3,000 Pesos The Mexican bandits are holding the elder Bristow for 3,000 pesos ransom, according to advices received by Gordon Bristow from William Blocker, senior consul in Juarez, Mexico. However, a later wire received from Consul Spencer in charge of the consulate at Matatlan, Mexico, indicated that an "messenger" from the bandits is expected in Tepic almost any hour and at that time the consulate staff will attempt to speak to the messenger personally. The son seeking to assist his father, who is 60 years of age, arrived in Big Spring shortly after noon Wednesday and departed on the west bound S. A. T. passenger plane for El Paso. Gordon Bristow, the son, was not sure what course he will follow after arriving in El Paso but he indicated the payment of ransom money has already been promised. The consul at El Paso has advised that immediate release of information that the 3,000 pesos ransom money will be paid will only cause the bandits to double their demands. With that information, it is likely the younger Bristow will attempt to handle delivery of his father through the consular service.

To Use Consul "I don't know what to do. This is an entirely new experience to me. I suppose I will go to El Paso, get in touch with the consulate there, and then form a definite campaign for release of dad," said Gordon when interviewed in Big Spring before time for his airplane to depart. Numerous agencies took part in efforts to gain Mr. Bristow's release from the bandit crew Wednesday. Sam Kimberlin, Wichita Falls merchant, last night wired his cousin, William Blocker, senior consul in Juarez, Mexico, guaranteeing payment of the ransom. Bristow is a business partner of Kemper Kimberlin, San Angelo oil and mining operator and owner of Kimberlin Brothers' men's clothing establishment in Big Spring.

The Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, of which the elder Bristow is a member, wired Senator Morris E. Sheppard at Washington Wednesday urging him to do everything possible to cause the safe return of Mr. Bristow.

The occurrence was the first reported in several months. The region, infested several months ago by religious fanatics, is considered the most hazardous of all Mexico.

According to advices received last night from Mexico City, the American embassy there requested the Mexican government to make every effort to free Bristow. Three Mexicans captured with Bristow also were reported held.

Dr. W. A. Davis of Austin, associated with the state department of health, was a brief visitor in Big Spring Tuesday.

Mr. Blankenship displayed a map of the city into which a red head-on pin stuck at the location of the residence of each school child, insofar as possible to make definite locations. This presented a picture of the sections where the population is most dense.

Any new buildings erected with proceeds of the school bond issue will be located solely on the basis of accommodating as many school children as possible without regard to the interests of anyone else, said Mr. Blankenship.

"We have no desire to assist anyone except the school children," he said.

The new buildings would be of unit type, that is constructed in units of six rooms, so that addi-

Salvation Army Directors To Meet

The executive committee of the Salvation Army organization in Big Spring met in the offices of Steve Ford Tuesday night and set April 2, 3, and 4 as dates for the general appeal through which the charity organization hopes to raise $3,500 on which to operate the coming 12 months.

Members for the advance gift committee are being named and that work will be started just as soon as workers can complete organization.

The executive board elected a general appeals chairman Tuesday night, but the individual elected was confined to a hospital Wednesday and it was not known if his condition will permit direction of the financial campaign.

C. L. Portwood of the Salvation Army divisional headquarters in Dallas, who is in Big Spring assisting with the drive for $3,500, an-partment of commerce, told the gathering Dr. White should have added "reports" to his triumvirate.

Mr. Chachere asked that arrangements be made for a meeting of local business and professional men, whom he said he wished to speak, in connection with the campaign of W. K. Henderson against "chain" stores.

Legislator Calls Upon University President To Stop Distribution Of Bulletin Telling Of Dream Tests

AUSTIN, March 19.—President H. Y. Benedict of the University of Texas has been called upon by a member of the Texas legislature to suppress distribution of a "dream book" issued this month as a university publication.

President Benedict said he was not aware of the contents of the publication. It is University of Texas bulletin 3009. It deals with experiments at the university in the production of dreams during hypnosis.

The conclusions drawn by David Klein, associate professor of psychology at the university, are already being widely quoted. These contradict the Freudian theory set forth in Freud's interpretation of dreams.

Admittedly highly valuable as a study in this field, the objection is raised because of the details of the experiments as set forth in the publication. The bulletin frankly avows that in selection of dream stimuli there were deliberately chosen "those having direct sexual implications in terms of Freudian symbolism." Special note was taken of dreams in which members of the opposite sex appeared to the dreamer.

By RAYMOND BROOKS.
AUSTIN, March 19.—Freud's theory that most dreams are sex dreams has been disproven in dreams, produced by stimuli, of students under hypnosis, in experiments conducted upon five men students, two women students and an instructor in the University of Texas.

The dream-test results were recorded by Dr. David Ballin Klein, associate professor of psychology in the university, in Bulletin 3009, published and distributed by the university.

The stimuli included "an unambiguous type of sex stimulation" and other types that included kissing on the forehead or back of the neck, and the display of objects "intended to serve as phallic symbols," Dr. Klein's published report said. Holding of perfume to the nostrils of a woman student was another form recited.

171 Dreams
Of 171 hypnotic dreams recorded by a stenographer who was hidden from sight of the subject, the university publication recited that 24 of the dreams could be considered as sexual, as including the vision of a person of the opposite sex. But 171 limited to "those dreams in which an erotic or semi-erotic element figured," the number of sex dreams was reduced to 15, or less than 9 per cent.

"We venture to say," Dr. Klein concluded, that the chances are that not over 10 per cent of dreams are sexual, and even this estimate may be too high if the word sexual is limited to a direct physiological connotation. "In our selection of stimuli we deliberately chose some having direct sexual implications in terms of Freudian symbolism."

Objects were described as having been intended to serve as "phallic symbols," and the "less ambiguous" sexual stimulus also was explained. "It was also hoped the olfactory stimulus of the perfume would serve to incite some amorous associations."

"Sometimes we even went so far as to kiss the subject on the back of the neck or on his forehead, or to stroke his hair by way of stirring suppressed erotic proclivities to vicarious satisfaction or expression in the dreams. We even included such verbal stimuli as 'love' or the name of some member of the opposite sex in whom the subject was known to be interested."

"If anything, our list of stimuli was weighted unduly in the direction of the sexual so that on a priori grounds we were justified in expecting a preponderance of sex dreams in our experiments."

"In strict justice to the Freudians, it should be stated that we are using the term 'sexual' in its ordinary and traditional sense and not in the less restricted psychological sense. It might also be no more than just to point out the fact that Freud, to the best of our knowledge, has never committed himself on the question of the influence of sex symbols presented as stimuli to a sleeping of hypnotized subject, his work having more to do with the implications of such symbols when appearing in the dream response."

Tests
In hypnotic dream tests of "appearing in public inadequately clad" Dr. Klein said tests were made by a "combination of the exposure of the body, plus a cooling of the exposed part," but this and all others failed to produce such a dream.

A man student failed to react to the stimuli of "throwing off part of the clothing and exposing the skin. In trying this we had the subject wear his pajamas to facilitate the work."

Tests of falling through space resulted almost invariably positive results. A woman student, reclining on an army cot, recorded dreams of falling when the cot was depressed or tilted.

A sophomore girl student, hypnotized, had perfume held to her nostrils for 10 seconds. She dreamed of anaesthetics and an operation.

A wax candle was placed in her hand. She dreamed of playing golf with her brother's roommate. When the candle was allowed to remain in her hand for a longer time in a different test, her dream was that she was in physical training class, and trying to chin the bar, but failing.

Cold Weather
A sophomore man student, when a piece of metal was touched to his forehead, dreamed of cold weather.

When perfume was held to his nose, he dreamed of flowers in his grandmother's garden. When a tuning fork was buzzed at his ear, he dreamed of a vitaphone picture and sound of an aeroplane.

When a professor, a qualified psychologist, submitted to the hypnotic tests, his hand was stroked with cotton. He dreamed of a shaggy dog rubbing against him.

The same professor, again hypnotized, was subjected to the "less ambiguous form of sexual stimulation," with the result that he dreamed he was in company with a woman who had a dog on a leash and that it came up and sniffed him and "embarrassed me and her too."

She had a great deal of sang froid. She didn't seem to mind so very much. I was anxious to talk to her, otherwise I would have gone on.

"What happened then, in your dream?"

"Nothing."

When this professor, in a third hypnotic test, had a tuning fork sounded at his ear, he dreamed of an oscillator signal in a submarine.

Wrecked Car.
A senior man student's hypnotic dream was described after the word "help" had been uttered. He dreamed he heard a call for help, saw a wrecked car and helped pull the victims from it.

He could describe the type and color of the car his dream created.

A sophomore man student, when his hand was stroked with absorbent cotton, dreamed a cow licked it. She had blue horns, when an ill-smelling substance was held to his nose he dreamed of a dead horse.

When the back of his hand was pinched, he dreamed a rat bit him.

When a "cardboard triangle, covered with cotton" was placed in his hands, he dreamed he held an old newspaper, but didn't read it.

Another man student, when the back of his hand was pinched, dreamed he was "sufficing with boys, then rode a horse, went swimming, met girls."

When asafetida was held to his nostrils he dreamed of the pranks of a fraternity initiation, and dreamed they went out and got some ill-smelling bootleg whiskey.

Dr. Klein's monograph said at its conclusion: "This summary of results already secured by the experimental production of dreams augurs well for the future application of the method. . . . To those whose skepticism is not yet allayed, we can only urge thorough-going duplication of the method in their own laboratories and on their own subjects."

When perfume was held to his nose, he dreamed of flowers in his grandmother's garden. When a tuning fork was buzzed at his ear, he dreamed of a vitaphone picture and sound of an aeroplane.

When a professor, a qualified psychologist, submitted to the hypnotic tests, his hand was stroked with cotton. He dreamed of a shaggy dog rubbing against him.

The same professor, again hypnotized, was subjected to the "less ambiguous form of sexual stimulation," with the result that he dreamed he was in company with a woman who had a dog on a leash and that it came up and sniffed him and "embarrassed me and her too."

She had a great deal of sang froid. She didn't seem to mind so very much. I was anxious to talk to her, otherwise I would have gone on.

"What happened then, in your dream?"

"Nothing."

Mrs. Blomshield's Father Succumbs

The funeral is to be held Friday afternoon in Blanchard where Mr. Welch was residing with his son, Bryant Welch.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Blomshield and twin sons, John and Harry left Tuesday night for Blanchard, Oklahoma, called there by the unexpected death of Mrs. Blomshield's father, Harry M. Welch, who was a visitor in Big Spring during the Christmas holiday period.

Mr. Welch died at 8 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and news came to Mr. and Mrs. Blomshield just as they returned from a brief business visit in Dallas. John Garrison of the Texas Electric Service company accompanied the party to Oklahoma.

To Tax Payers of Big Spring:
It is a well known fact that you pay your city marshal as salary the sum of $100. per month, to your city attorney and city judge the sum of $225. per month. It is a well known fact that the fines per month collected from the criminals do not pay Ed Long's deputies. The deficiency amounts to something like $450. per month. You can't jail a criminal for an offense of the laws in a city but you can take his property away from him to pay the fine.

Four thousand and five hundred dollars per year deficit of our city government because enough of fines have not been collected to pay the salaries of the city officers. If one opened his mouth fifty years ago in Chicago asking the city commissioners for relief along this line he would have been hooted at. But Chicago today is feeling the effects of that prayer of the humble tax payer. The above facts concerning the deficit are found in your city records. Under Home Rule, which governs this city, the statute, says that the city council has the right, which means by ordinance, of the mode and manner of assessing taxes, which means that one kind of tax may be changed into another kind.

There is in this city already royalties amounting to quite enough to take away a load from the already overburdened people, just awaiting an ordinance to be written in the city authorizing the collection of that tax. If we had that ordinance it would be cold cream and gravy for the citizens. Can't we have it?

Franchise Tax Affords Equality
AUSTIN, March 19.—A franchise tax law that will bring five more dollars than the old, but that will equalize the tax to avoid discriminations which threatened validity of the old law, was enacted when the senate, after adding two amendments, passed the Van Zandt bill, drawn by the state department.

The new law sets up for the general run of corporations a tax based on "that proportion of the cash value of gross assets of such corporations as the gross receipts of its business done in Texas bears to the total gross receipts." It is intended to cover both Texas and foreign corporations. Rate on these will be 60c per $1,000 for the first million and 30c per thousand above that, with a $10 minimum.

Corporations created for two or more purposes shall pay one-half additional for each separate purpose after the first.

Corporations now paying the intangible assets tax—railroads and ferry companies, will pay one-fourth the amount required of other corporations, through 1933 and thereafter one-fifth. Non-profit terminal companies are exempt.

The senate amendments, which require house acceptance, add a new basis of tax and a different rate for public utilities. It provides that where a corporation's rates are regulated or fixed by the state, the franchise levy shall be based on the proportion of their capital stock issued and outstanding, and including surplus and undivided profits, as shall apply to business done in Texas. Rate on these corporations shall be 75 cents per thousand for the first $1,000,000 and 35 cents for each $1,000 above that.

Banks shall pay the franchise tax only upon outstanding and undivided profits.

Lubbock To Get Federal Building
LUBBOCK, Texas, March 19. (AP)—Contract for construction of a new federal building and postoffice for this city will be awarded next December, according to information received here from Senator Morris Sheppard. The building will cost approximately $335,000 and will house the Lubbock postoffice and the Lubbock division of the United States district court, northern district of Texas.

Appropriation for the building was passed by congress last year but, owing to the presence of the Lubbock county jail on the site donated by the county to the government, southeast corner of the square, the government has held up procedure. Recently the county commissioners' court passed a resolution declaring the jail would be removed by the time the government desired to start construction.

The commissioners are studying costs and plans for a new courthouse and jail building, following the filing of a petition to call a county-wide bond issue to vote $250,000 for erecting a new courthouse.

CHURCHES TAX FREE

AMARILLO, Tex., Mar. 19 (AP)—All church property in Amarillo is now free of city taxation. The city commission voted to exempt from payment of taxes all parsonages and other church holdings.

Heretofore parsonages and vacant property have been taxed, the former on 20 per cent of the value and the latter 75 per cent. Great difficulty was experienced in determining what property was taxable because numerous churches held Sunday School sessions in parsonages.

It was decided to present Ruth King and Robert Owen, who will represent the Junior High school in declamation in the county track meet, with gold medals if they win awards in the county meet.

Slight Change In Crude Oil Industry

AUSTIN, March 19 (AP)—Only a slight change was noted in the petroleum situation in Texas during the past month, according to the February report of the Texas Business Review. The daily average flow remained almost unchanged and no increase in field activity was noted.

The report pointed out that there was no reduction in the price of crude oil although gasoline was marked down in a few areas. The daily flow averaged 849,000 barrels as compared with 848,000 barrels in January. During February a total of 23,772,000 barrels was produced while the production in February, 1929, was listed at 22,092,000 barrels.

A total of 536 new wells was brought in during the month, only 283 of which were producers. In February of last year 300 producing wells were recorded out of 556 drillings.

World To Drill Third Well On McDowell Ranch

World Oil Company has announced further exploration work for its McDowell ranch lease in northwestern Glasscock county which will consist of drilling a third well and deepening the original discovery producer in that section.

World's No. 3-C McDowell will be located 2,310 feet from the north and east lines of section 21, block 33, township 3 south, T. & P. Ry. Co. survey and will be approximately 600 feet south of No. 1-C McDowell, the discovery well.

Pay was topped in World's No. 1-C McDowell at 2,349-56 feet and a second pay in which production received a substantial increase was topped at 2,383 feet and drilled to a total depth of 2,398 feet, the present total depth.

World's No. 2-C McDowell topped pay at 2,440 feet and drilled to a total depth of 2,453 feet, the present total depth. Lime was topped at 2,225 feet. No. 2-C McDowell is a comparatively light well producing at the average rate of 15 barrels of fluid daily of which 50 per cent is water. No. 1-C McDowell is capable of pumping 40 to 45 barrels daily, but the well will be deepened as an experiment to give operators more definite information as to the formations they may expect in sinking the third well.

After coring to a total depth of 2,058 feet, F. H. E. Oil Company's No. 1 Cox, northern Glasscock county oil test, was shut down to make boiler repairs. While coring from 2,050 feet to 2,064 feet, samples appeared to be anhydrite while the next four feet showed considerable red rock.

Glasscock Brothers' No. 1 Edwards, a well approximately one mile south of the F. H. E. test is approximately 3 feet lower, structurally, than the No. 1 Cox and first lime was topped in No. 1 Edwards at a total depth of 2,155 feet.

F. H. E. No. 1 Cox is located 330 feet from the south and west lines of section 8, block 33, township 2 south, T. & P. Ry. Co. survey and is one of the most important oil tests now drilling in the Howard and Glasscock areas. Operations will be resumed on the well when necessary repairs are completed, it was stated Wednesday morning.

CARTHAGE, Tex., March 19 (AP)—Four oil companies and independent oil promoters are seeking locations for test wells in all directions from Carthage. A test well started about a month ago in the western part of the county on the Rusk-Panola county line is down 2200 feet. Leases for the other four test wells will be completed in a few days and drilling will start shortly thereafter.

SPORTS ON PARADE

COURSE OPEN

The Big Spring Country Club golf course will not be closed to the general public. We were advised that last Sunday was the final Sunday on which non-members of the club would be permitted to enjoy access to the fairways and greens, but John Northington, president of the Big Spring Country Club, dispelled that theory in no uncertain fashion.

INDEFINITE

Mr. Northington informs us that the Big Spring Country Club does not desire to deprive local golfers of the pleasure of playing on the only course available here, but on the other hand the country club wishes the public to use the course no longer as the crowds do not overcrowd the fairways and make play impossible.

UNSELFISH

The attitude of the directors of the country club have taken in the matter is indeed commendable. It reveals that they are an unselfish lot despite the fact that the 50 cent green fee from all non-member golfers returns a tidy revenue from day to day. Of course, if the directors so desired, it is entirely within their jurisdiction to bar all players not affiliated with the Big Spring Country Club, but they have renounced that course and consequently the dubs and duffers such as this humble scribe that are too poor to own a full fledged membership can swing merrily on by plunking down the 50 cents per round.

CHARLIE BREEDEN

Charlie Breeden, a rookie hurler that pastime with Big Spring in the West Texas League last year is to get his chance with the Houston Buffs in an exhibition fracas with a semi-pro club this afternoon. Charlie, probably lost more close decisions while a member of the Cowboy outfit than any other hurler on the club. Charlie had days when he was nearly unbeatable for seven or eight innings only to become the victim of a fielding bobbie or a stroke of ill luck. Breeden has potentialities and if he fails to make the grade this season in class A baseball, he will be heard from in another season or two. Houston retained strings on Breeden when he reported to Big Spring last season which was evidence alone that the Buff management was unwilling to turn him entirely free.

POSSIBLY

An amateur baseball league in Abilene is coming in for some consideration. Organization and details of schedule are being held up temporarily awaiting permission from the Wichita Spudder office to use Gardner park during the summer months. San Angelo is also talking amateur baseball now that the West Texas League question has been dropped from consideration. Possibly a playoff series between city league champions of Abilene, San Angelo and Big Spring can be arranged later in the season if those two cities perfect plans for a municipal loop.

SAME ROUTINE

If constant drill is a stepping stone to perfection, the Steer griders will show the Oil Belt a thing or two about passing next season. Coach George Brown has worked 15 or 20 potential football players for the past three or four weeks and the work has been strictly fundamental. Blocking, tackling, passing with some kicking has been the daily menu dished out to the spring football candidates.

IMPROVEMENT

Big Dave Hopper from Coahoma is looking better every day. We journeyed out to the practice lot Tuesday evening and the improvement Hopper has registered is almost phenomenal. The big boy handles his body much better now than when he made his first appearance on a football field and it will not be surprising to see him develop into first string material by the time the Steers take the field for their first tussle next fall.

COOK REPORTS

Cook, a newcomer, has discarded the track spikes and slipped into a pair of cleated foot bear and shoulder harness. He is a chunky youngster and apparently has more ginger than Jamaica.

WANTED

By the way, folks, does anyone have a job which will pay a living salary for a good football player?

GIRL SHOWS THE BOYS HOW

RIDGEFIELD, Wash., March 19. (AP)—Coached by a woman, Miss Catherine Collety, the Rockinson grade school boys' basketball team has won the division B championship in this section. The quietest went through the season undefeated.

Tinsley Made President Of City Baseball Loop

SIX CLUBS PLAN RACE FOR TITLE

Complete Machinery To Be Set Up At Meeting Friday

Temporary machinery for a city baseball league organization was established Tuesday night at a mass meeting held in The Herald office. I. C. Tinsley, a man of wide experience in amateur and semi-pro baseball, was elected temporary president and the sport editor of The Herald was made temporary secretary and treasurer.

Definite assurance that six clubs will be represented in the loop was given Tuesday night, but the names under which all will play was not definitely decided. Two or three individuals volunteered teams for the league if organizations in the city can be found as sponsors.

Volunteers will be called nearly next week to condition the park on East Third street for play. There is no huge amount of work necessary, but the hurrying mound must be shaped up a trifle and some repair work done on the fence and gates.

Quality Desired

Sentiment of those attending Tuesday night's organization meeting was that six fast amateur nines will be of more interest to local people than will eight or more clubs of less ability. The purpose of the city league will be to furnish Big Spring fans with the best brand of baseball possible to produce from amateur ranks.

It will not be necessary for this city league to divide time this season with a professional nine, consequently six teams will be enabled to lay two games each during successive weeks. Saturday will probably be eliminated when the schedule is drawn.

One representative from each club seeking entrance to the league will be asked to meet with Mr. Tinsley and the secretary treasurer next Friday night at The Herald office to perfect plans and possibly adopt an opening date. A committee from club representatives and the temporary officers will be named to draft a constitution and by-laws.

Rules and By-Laws

It was suggested at the meeting Tuesday evening that by-laws and rules of the city league be stringent and that the president of the loop be given all the power possible in enforcing such rules. There was considerable discussion and petty jealousies generated from the city league last season and that undesirable condition will be avoided this year if possible.

Teams that seek entrance to the city league should go into organization and send a representative, only one desired, to the meeting Friday night. If there are more than six clubs, forces of two organizations may be combined to form one stronger unit.

Martin And Conger Feud On Track Is Drawing Interest

NEW YORK, March 19. (AP)—Dr. Paul Martin, Swiss Olympic ace, and Ray Conger of the Illinois A.C. can beat each other at their favorite distances but meet trouble when they invade the other's domain.

Martin, defeated in a mile race a week ago, came back last night in the national A.A.U. indoor championships, last night to conquer Conger at 1,000 yards. Martin had to set a new meet record of 2:12 6-10 to do it, but he left the Illinois Flyer three yards behind in a great finish.

Herman Brix, Los Angeles A.C. shot putter, set a new world record with a 16-pound iron ball, 51 feet 2 1-2 inches.

The accepted world's indoor record of 8 6-10 seconds for the 70-yard high hurdles, beaten earlier in the season, was equalled twice last night. Monty Wells of the Boston A.A. tied it in winning his heat, then Lee Sentman, Illinois star, repeated the time in winning the final.

Dorothy Driver's Southpaw Drives Defeat Mary Gene Dubberly In Net Match As Local Tourney Opens

A newcomer to Big Spring night tennis circles with a crashing southpaw service and a consistent left-hand drive became a favorite to win the singles championship of the local high school Tuesday afternoon when Dorothy Driver defeated Mary Gene Dubberly in the first round of the local tennis tournament 6-3, 3-4, 6-1. Miss Dubberly, who had been a member of the tennis team that represented Big Spring in the district meet last year, was a top heavy favorite to win, but with the exception of the second set could do little with the wrong handed returns of her less experienced opponent.

Nevertheless Miss Dubberly waged a game fight against her underdog rival. She broke through Miss Driver's drives to take the second set 6-3, almost running her opponent ragged with a series of brilliant placements and impossible returns. But in the last set she weakened before the steady play of her rival and was defeated in the deciding set 6-1.

Ruby Smith, for two years the singles champion of Big Spring High, defeated Zillah Mae Ford, a veteran of two years doubles experience, and a top heavy favorite to win the tournament, in a bitterly contested match, 7-5, 5-7, 6-2. Only in the last set, when the faulty play of Miss Ford gave way, did either contestant display an advantage over the other.

Twice in the first two sets the favorite came from behind to bring the games back to 5 all. Once she faltered and allowed Miss Smith to win, but the next time she broke through the defending champion's southpaw service to win, 7-5. Miss Smith took the last set by a clear margin, fighting off a last desperate rally with two brilliant placements that won her the match.

Ruby Smith will meet Doris Smith and Dorothy Driver will oppose Rosemary Duff in the semi-finals of the tournament Wednesday afternoon. Neither of the two left-handed players are expected to experience any real difficulty in their matches. The finals will probably be played off Thursday afternoon.

Fighting Spirit Of Boston Red Sox Lives Gallantly On

By ALAN GOULD

Associated Press Sports Editor

PENSACOLA, Fla., March 19 (AP)

The glories of the old Red Sox have departed, but the spirit carries on.

When Connie Mack, in 1922, gave up his long-term occupancy of the American League cellar for better things, the Red Sox took over the lease. With the exception of one season in the past eight, the Boston entry has finished last, a far cry from the halcyon days of 1903 to 1918 during which the Sox won six pennants and were seldom out of the first division.

Wagner At Helm

Bill Carrigan, great catcher and manager of two world's championship teams, failed in a three-year comeback attempt to life the Red Sox from their lowly estate. This year, Charles (Heinie) Wagner, Carrigan's lieutenant and himself a veteran of the famous 1912 champions, has taken over the somewhat thankless job of trying to get somewhere with a team that lacks the punch to be considered a serious factor in the race.

Nevertheless, the Red Sox have spirit and a number of redeeming factors in player talent. Unable to compete financially with a number of their rivals, they have stuck to the task of rebuilding slowly. This determination was manifest early in the year when President Bob Quinn and Manager Wagner stoutly refused to listen to flatterers offering players and cash from the Yankees for the services of the No. 1 right hander of the pitching staff, Big Ed Morris of Mobile, Ala.

Southpaws Scarce

In addition, Wagner counts on capable right-handed flingers from Charley Ruffing, Danny MacFadden, the former Somerville school-boy star, Jack Russell and Milt Gaston. This group lacks something in left-handed support, with only the veteran Billy Payne, Edgar Carroll and Ed Durham, the latter up from Pittsfield, as portable entries, unless Ben Shields, formerly with the Yankees, stages a comeback. Ray Doherty, ex-college star, and Horace Lisenbee, once a sensation with Washington, have chances to stick.

The principal punch in the lineup is packed by two outfielders, Jack Rothrock and Russ Scarritt. Both are 300 hitters, but their wallop is not sufficient to offset the disadvantages of an infield, good defensively but weak at the bat.

Tom Oliver, Alabama product, may get the other outfield post, although John Winsett, 340 hitter with Mobile last year, 19-year-old Joe Cicero from the Eastern League, and Bill Barrett, formerly of the White Sox, are battling for jobs.

Infield O. K.

The regular infield shapes up as fast and snappy with Phil Todt at first, Bill Regan at second, Hal Rhyne, former Pittsburgher, at short and Bob Reeves, former Georgia Tech star obtained from Washington, at third. Bill Sweeney, who did some good stickwork with Toronto last year, will give Todt a battle. Bill Narlesky, Ernest Holman and Otis Miller also are candidates for infield jobs, where hitting ability will have considerable to do with Wagner's final choices. Since Carrigan's emphasis on defensive skill failed to work, the new manager may put a higher value on offensive power.

Behind the bat, the veterans, Charley Berry, former LaFayette All-American end, and John Heving, have the call.

EARTH—New business building recently completed just east of hotel.

Foul Fighters Given Warning

NEW YORK, March 19 (AP)

Stringent regulations designed to reduce the number of bouts ending on fouls have been adopted by the New York State Athletic Commission.

Hereafter, boxers losing on fouls will draw a suspension of two months for the first offense; four months for the second; six months for the third, and life for the fourth. Boxers who foul will be paid only for the completed rounds before the disqualification. Remainder of the purse will be turned over to the promoter.

James A. Farley, chairman of the commission, said: "Fouls and unsatisfactory endings of the bouts are choking the boxing game to death."

Placid security could not interest her and rejected suitors in a steady stream learned marriage was not even a distant desire. She wanted to live, to enjoy herself, to feel the thrills of adventure and excitement, to meet romance far different from the prosaic affairs of mannequins at Byrns. TEXAS LOOP BOSSES ARE IMPATIENT

Skippers Plan Bout Despite Weather Of Deplorable Type

By The Associated Press
Texas League battle front today found managers champing impatiently to get their charges at work again. Exhibition games were scheduled by half a dozen teams.

Even muddy weather wasn't expected to hamper Skipper Snyder of the Fort Worth Cats, who today planned to place his team in the first of a two-game series with the Texas Christian University team. The second game was set for tomorrow. Another duo Saturday and Sunday with the Baltimore Orioles will give the Cats their first professional opposition of the season.

The Shreveport Sports were matched against the College of Marshall today. They went through their regular training drill yesterday in spite of a light shower which forced cancellation of the scheduled game between the Grays and Whites. Three rookies, Barnes, former Texas Aggie pitcher, Wright, Dallas sand lotter, and "Red" Anderson, third sacker, were cut loose.

Spudgers Stiff

Still nursing sore arms, the Wichita Falls Oilers planned a trek to Ryan, Okla., to tussle with the all-stars there in their second exhibition game of the season.

Manager Joe Schultz expected to send his Houston Buffs into action today against Manager Joe Presswood's all-stars, state amateur champions in 1929. Due to start the fracas were two glib right-handers, Charlie Breeden, youngster from Hallettsville, for the Buffs, and Charlie Wittmer for the all-stars.

Arrival of Al "Monk" Edwards, outfielder, and Leon Dondero, infielder, was awaited by the San Antonio Indians, these two being the only lacking to make a complete squad. Catcher Pete Lapan and pitcher Ray Auer donned the uniform yesterday, although the Indians had to work out in the Fort Sam Houston auditorium because of a muddy diamond.

Cubs and Orioles

The Waco Cubs were due to play the Baltimore Orioles if weather permitted. Yesterday they missed a practice session for the first time this season because of rain.

Only Chick Shiver was absent from the Beaumont Exporters, in training at Orange, where they were driven to cover by Jugs Plivins yesterday, interrupting a practice game between the regulars and Yankigans.

The Dallas Steers and the Southern Methodist University Mustangs planned to tangle today—barring weather, which caused their scheduled game yesterday to be side-tracked. Skipper Jake Atz whiffed away a rainy day by pruning his roster to 29 players, passing out "pink uns" to three youngsters, catcher Noah Holley, Plano; outfielder Frank Wilson, Tulepe, Minn.; and shortstop Fred Morris, Reno.

Bob Tarleton, business manager of the Steers, announced the purchase of Frank Brewer, hard-hitting outfielder-first baseman, from the Baltimore Orioles. He declined to divulge the price. Baltimore paid $8,000 for him.

University Faculty Takes Another Step In Athletic System

AUSTIN, Tex., March 19 (AP)—The University of Texas faculty took another step toward a final vote on organization of the five athletic departments at its meeting yesterday. The health service was placed under the immediate direction of President H. Y. Benedict, the physical training for men, physical training for women, and physical education courses were made a division within the college of arts and sciences.

Intercollegiate athletic endeavors, under the plan adopted, are under supervision of the athletic council. In matters concerning contract and finances the council will deal directly with the president of the university. In matters of rules and regulations it will deal with the president through the general faculty.

These conclusions represent developments from a committee study of two years, which resulted in the D. A. Bobbitt report and a minority report signed by Dr. R. A. Law and Dr. J. A. Fitzgerald.

LONDON — Mrs. Mary Lillian Hamilton, labor member of the Liverpool city council, has been invited by the laborites of Carnarvon to run against Lloyd George for parliament. She is a friend of Mrs. Lloyd George.

SORORITY TO MEET

The Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority will meet Thursday evening 7:30 in the clubhouse for the regular study hour. Miss Georgia Kirk Davis will be hostess for the evening.

DE LIRIO—$185,000 school bond issue approved by huge majority.

Ford And Curry Win Elimination Debate For Right To Represent Big Spring High During Season

Robert Curry and Steve D. Ford Jr. were named as the debating team that will represent Big Spring high school in the county tournament at Cosham Friday evening. Phillip Slusser was selected as alternate.

Ford represented Big Spring in the district meet as a member of the debating team last year in company with Marvin Sewell while Curry won the local junior declamation championship two years. Slusser, the alternate, has also represented Big Spring at the district meet.

The Big Spring debaters have enjoyed an unusually successful season in competition with other schools this year. Curry and Ford represented Big Spring in an invitation tournament at Colorado and went to the semi-finals before losing to Glaco. They have defeated Stanton twice and lost to Colorado. The two debaters will meet Midland Tuesday night and Stanton Thursday night. Both contests will be held in the local high school auditorium.

Curry was low man with five points, two seconds and a first. Ford came second with six, a first, second, and a third, and Slusser next with seven, two thirds and a first. County Attorney James E. Little and Justice of Peace Olen Collins acted as judges.

Turning the light of Truth on false and misleading statements in recent cigarette advertising

WHAT ANOTHER MANUFACTURER of cigarettes chooses to say about his product is not our affair. Even when he sees fit to misrepresent his product and leave false impressions concerning it, that still is his business—not ours.

But—when, in his advertising, he goes beyond his own product and makes false statements or leaves misleading impressions about other cigarettes—then it is time that the truth be told.

Some time ago a manufacturer of cigarettes used the following statements in his advertising:

"The extra secret heating process removes from (——) harmful irritants, corrosive acids, which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way, and which cause throat irritation and coughing."

"No matter how much or how little you pay for cigarettes you have a choice of only two general classes, and not more than two. In one class you have the billions of cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way and in the other class you have (——), the toasted cigarette, a product of modern science, a cigarette from which harmful irritants have been removed by that extra secret process described by the phrase 'It's Toasted'."

WHEN THESE STATEMENTS were first made, we assumed that they were a casual phase of that manufacturer's advertising and did not represent a deliberate and calculated policy. After making a few such statements, he abandoned this particular form of advertising. However, other statements used in his advertising came to the attention of the Federal Trade Commission on a question of their truthfulness.

As a result of the action of the Federal Trade Commission he was ordered to stop his admitted practice of using in his advertising false testimonials of non-smokers to the effect that they kept slender by smoking his brand of cigarettes, and was further ordered to stop using other fake testimonials and the specious argument that all can keep slender by smoking that brand of cigarettes. He then began to use again the form of statement quoted above or variations of it.

IF ANY MANUFACTURER chooses to say that the tobaccos he uses contain "harmful irritants, corrosive acids, that are injurious to the throat," and then to claim that these things are removed by the heat-treating process, that is his own affair. But when he tries to create the impression that it is general practice to use in cigarettes such rank tobaccos as he describes, we object to the attempted reflection on the industry.

We have never used in our blend those rank tobaccos which can be properly described as containing "harmful irritants, corrosive acids," nor do we believe that they are used by some of the other manufacturers.

If that manufacturer wishes to advertise heat treatment, calling it toasting or what-not, that is his right. But when, in so doing, he tries to create the impression that he is the only maker of cigarettes who treats tobaccos with heat, the truth again needs to be told.

The publication of a fake testimonial is no greater perversion of the truth than to imply that the heat treatment of tobaccos is an exclusive process with any single manufacturer.

THE FACT is that the use of heat treatment in the manufacture of tobacco is about the most commonplace and universally practiced method in the industry. It has long been standard practice.

We use heat treatment in its most modern and scientific application, both in the preparation and in the manufacture of those mild, fragrant, ripe tobaccos that carry their natural goodness into CAMELS.

The first CAMEL Cigarette we ever made was manufactured under the heat-treating process. Every one of the billions of CAMELS produced since has been manufactured under heat treatment. We rely upon heat to the limits of its possibilities to make our good tobaccos better. It cannot make inferior tobaccos good.

WHETHER OR NOT a manufacturer, he has something to talk to the public about, attaches a contrivance to his heat-treating machines to catch, condense and bottle the vapors that come from them can have no more effect toward improving the tobacco than your catching and bottling the vapors that come from your teapot would have toward improving the tea in the pot.

Our own brand, CAMEL, continues to grow, but we are, nevertheless, unwilling to let these far-reaching false statements or impressions regarding the cigarette industry go uncorrected.

Says It Was A Big Surprise

YOUNG BUSINESS WOMAN IN CHARGE COFFEE SHOP, NAYLOR HOTEL, SAN ANGELO, DRAINS ORGATONE

"I have gained wonderfully in health on three bottles of Orgatone and feel like my old self again," said Miss Billie Preston, in charge of the coffee shop, Naylor Hotel.

"I was in a very much run down condition," she explained, "from stomach disturbances, and most everything I would eat gave me trouble. My food would sour on my stomach and form gas that made me miserable for hours. My nerves were all on edge so I got little rest at night and when morning came I was most as tired as I was when I went to bed. I had headaches most all the time and felt so wretched and no-account I hardly had any life or energy left to do anything."

"I heard so many people telling about the good that Orgatone had done them that I decided to try it. The way it took hold of my trouble was one grand surprise and I hardly know how to begin telling of all the benefits I have derived from using it. I can say, though, that it just made a new person out of me. The gas had stopped forming in my stomach, my complexion is clearing up, I can eat anything I want and I feel well all the time." Genuine Argatone may be bought in Big Spring at the Cunningham & Phillips Drug Store.—adv.

Work Progresses On Building Of Nazarene Church

Excavation for the basement of the building to be erected on East Fifth street by the local congregation of the Nazarene church has been finished and concrete work will begin shortly, according to an announcement by R. T. Smith, the pastor.

Those wishing to donate cash, labor or otherwise aid the campaign to provide a permanent house of worship for this congregation are assured their help will be fully appreciated.

Rev. Smith said that 14 professions of faith have occurred in regular services since January 13, that the congregation is an organized body, that the Nazarene church has its own general superintendent, district superintendent, its colleges and publishing house.

"We certainly appreciate the co-operation of the good people who have helped to make this new church building possible," said Rev. Smith.

Until the building is finished the church will continue to hold services in the district court room.

Earl Of Balfour, Statesman, Dies

WORKING, Surrey, England, March 19 (AP)—The Earl of Balfour, veteran British statesman, died here at 8:45 a. m. today in a room at the home of his brother, the Honorable Gerald Balfour. A window at his bedroom overlooked one of the most beautiful scenes in Surrey.

The end came peacefully to the statesman, who was in his 82nd year. He had been ill for a long time with laryngitis. He was never able to return to his home at Whittingehame, Prestonskirk, East Lothian.

From the time he entered Parliament in 1874 until the closing years of his life he figured as an important factor in British politics. He visited America as head of the British commission in 1917 and was a member of the British delegation to the Washington Arms Conference in 1922.

Secretary for Scotland in 1886, chief secretary for Ireland, first Lord of the Admiralty, foreign secretary, prime minister and member of innumerable government commissions and committees, the Earl of Balfour's political life spanned by a good margin the latter years of the reign of Queen Victoria, down through the reign of King Edward VII and through more than fifteen years of the reign of King George.

He was most famous perhaps for the so-called Balfour note in which Great Britain renounced all past year claims in continental Europe, both from her allies and Germany, beyond what was needed to pay her own debts in America, and by the Balfour declaration of British policy in Palestine, which set that country aside as a home for repatriated Jews.

VICTORIA—Local fire department to soon undertake construction of three-story drill tower on central fire station grounds.

Midland Stages Good Will Tour

MIDLAND, March 19.—Midland Goodwill excursionists 150 strong returned to Midland last night after one of the longest one-day automobile trade excursions ever staged in Texas, according to available records. The Midlanders traveled 260 miles and stopped in six towns.

Led by the Midland high school band of 2 pieces, the automobile caravan first visited the city of Seminole. Marshal John Bonner had charge of short speaking programs in each city visited. Those who made talks were Bonner, T. Paul Barron, Rev. L. A. Boone, B. Frank Haag and Paul T. Vickers.

The party had lunch in Lovington, N. M., and spent an hour in that city. The new Hobbs chamber of commerce was host at a short entertainment in that city. C. C. Emerson was in charge. The party spent 30 minutes in Hobbs and made a brief stop at Nadine.

Andrews, one of the principal stops, served a barbecued supper to the Midlanders with Grafa-Garlington as hosts. The auto caravan staged a parade on its arrival home. The trip, piloted by Gus Edmondson, required about 12 hours including all stops.

This trip was arranged by the automobile and retail committee of the chamber of commerce composed of R. D. Scruggs, C. Y. Barron, A. P. Baker, Tom Patterson, R. J. Moore, Ben F. Whitefield, J. P. H. McMullan, Raymond Upham, W. F. Hejl, C. G. Stanley, Fred Morley, and C. A. Daniels.

MOERNE—Drive launched here to secure natural gas.

MRS. BARHAM HONORED AT BRIDGE

Mrs. Frank L. Hamblen entertained Monday afternoon with a St. Patrick bridge honoring Mrs. George Barham, who recently moved here from Shreveport.

Baskets of green carnations with beautiful flowering pot plants about the rooms created a charming setting for four prettily decorated tables, with bridge accessories in the St. Patrick motif.

At the close of the games the refreshments were arranged on trays which also carried the St. Patrick color scheme, in the plates and St. Patrick pipes, which were used as favors. Centerpieces were dolls beautifully dressed in green, which later were used as table prizes.

High score was won by Mrs. A. M. Evans. Consolation prize went to Mrs. T. W. Ahlley. Mrs. Barham received a beautiful favor. All these were of pieces costume jewelry. Table prizes were awarded Mesdames Victor Martin, Richard Scheig, A. E. Pistole and Bruce Frazier. Guests were Mesdames Barham, A. M. Evans, Richard Scheig, Seth Parsons, Ashley Williams, Tom Ashley, A. E. Pistole, Bruce Frazier, J. E. Young, G. E. Petty, Victor Martin, T. J. Costello, Kemsey, Fred Coleman, H. B. Hurley, Ben LeFevre.
