VFW Week Observed With Series of Community Events

The Glynn Moore Post 6439 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars is joining with posts throughout the Nation in observing January 24 to 31 as National VFW Week. A full week's activities to benefit the community as well as the post was announced this week by Russell Yates, commander, and Donald Curry, chairman of the committee in charge of the observance.

The two community-wide projects sponsored by the post during the week are filling the blood bank at St. Joseph's Hospital, and a benefit entertainment, all proceeds from which will go to the March of Dimes.

In the third important event, the VFW Man of the Year will be designated.

The week's program includes:

Friday, January 25: Members to meet at the Post home at 7:30 p. m. and go to St. Joseph's Hospital to donate blood to the Blood Bank. Mr. Yates and Mr. Curry explained that since the storage facilities at the hospital are limited, and the time which whole blood may be kept is also limited, part of the blood given will be made into plasma.

Saturday, January 26: 2:00 to 5:30 p. m., Open House for all Overseas Veterans. Refreshments to be served.

Sunday, January 27: 7:00 a. m. to 9:00 a. m. Membership Drive Breakfast. Every Overseas veteran is invited to be present. "Come and enjoy some good food and good fellowship," the post invites.

Sunday, January 27: 2:00 to 5:30 p. m.: Open House to the public at the VFW Home.

Monday, January 28, 7:30 p. m.: Special meeting to take in new members. Announcement of the member to be designated as VFW Man of the Year. This selection will be made by the Post Commander and Quartermaster.

Tuesday, January 29, 7:30 p. m.: Hamburger supper for all 1952 card holders and families given by Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Savage.

Wednesday, January 30: 8:00 p. m. The Childrens Post Ritual Team will be present to give Obligations to all who haven't been Obligated.

Thursday, January 31: March of Dimes benefit entertainment.

Final Rites for Mrs. Castleberry Held Saturday

Final rites for Mrs. J. B. Castleberry were held Saturday afternoon, January 19, at the First Baptist Church, when friends coming from distances of several hundred miles joined with those here in paying final tribute.

Mrs. Castleberry, one of Wellington's outstanding and beloved women, died in Tucson, Arizona Tuesday, January 15. She had been there through the winter months seeking relief from asthma, from which she had suffered for a number of years. Her condition had become worse during the preceding week, and members of the family were called to her bedside.

The Rev. Howard Jones officiated at the service here, paying tribute to Mrs. Castleberry as a leader in the church and among women's affairs. Pall bearers were James Sullivan, J. M. Moore, Dr. Tom Hunter, Dan Henard, Henry Sullivan, John Holton, Ansel McDowell and Sandy Parsons Jr. Honorary pall bearers were the women of Mrs. Castleberry's Sunday School Class.

Music included "Face to Face," and "When the Mists Have Rolled Away," by the choir and "Sunrise Tomorrow," a solo by L. B. Bratten.

Burial was in the Wellington cemetery under the direction of the Ellis Funeral Home. Assisting D. G. Ellis in the arrangements, was another brother-in-law, Carl Christian of Decatur.

Mrs. Castleberry was born Bennie Bobo at Rhame April 11, 1886, and at the time of her death was 64 years, 9 months and four days of age. She was the daughter of Mrs. Z. B. Bobo of Rhame and the late Mr. Bobo. She grew up there attending school at that place. Later she attended Baylor University.

She was married to J. B. Castleberry August 12, 1911, at Rhame, and a short time later they moved to Collingsworth County, living first at Dodson, then moving to Wellington.

Mrs. Castleberry had been a member of the Baptist Church since she was a young woman. Reared in a home where religion had an important place, throughout her life it was a major force in shaping her own character and thinking. She was active in the First Baptist Church here, and one

Norwood Baptist Pastor Resigns

Rev. W. C. Stockett has resigned as pastor of the First Baptist Church of Samnorwood. His resignation effective January 31, 1952.

Rev. Stockett came to Samnorwood church from a Missionary pastorate in Benton County, Arkansas. He has served Samnorwood since July 9, 1950.

During the Samnorwood pastorate there has been twenty-four professions of faith in the Lord, seventeen baptisms into the fellowship of the church, and twenty-five additions by letter and statement. Three candidates are now approved for baptism and will observe this ordinance next Sunday, January 27.

Rev. Stockett will preach at both services next Sunday. The Ordinance of Baptism will be observed at 4:00 p. m. at the First Baptist Church of Wellington, Texas. The Ordinance of the Lord's Supper will be observed at the evening service.

A Study Course will be conducted each night this week at the church. Rev. Stockett will teach the book, "The New Testament Doctrine of the Church" by Dr. Clyde Turner.

The public is invited to attend the study course and the Sunday services.

Rev. Stockett has announced that he is open for revivals, supply, or the pastorate. His address after January 31, will be 507 N. Taylor, Amarillo, Texas.

Pay-Your-Poll-Tax Campaign Gets Under Way for Week-Long Drive

THEY TURN CHARM ON THE MARCH OF DIMES

Three of the county's prettiest girls are the inspiration for some of the most intensive work on behalf of the March of Dimes. Candidates for the honor of March of Dimes Basketball Queen, they are Joy Martindale, Samnorwood, Ruthie McCaskill, Wellington and Jo Helen White, Quail. The lucky lass will be crowned at the close of the March of Dimes basketball tournament at Quail February 9.

Castor Bean Crop Closed Out by January 31; 1951 Yield Short

The county's castorbean crop is practically harvested, and the hulling plant of the Baker Caster Bean Corp. will close for the season Thursday, January 31, Charles Allen, manager, announced this week.

Mr. Allen explained that it will be necessary to use the plant's conveyors and other machinery when cleaning the caster bean seed begins at the Altus plant February 1. For this reason, he is asking all Collingsworth County growers who have beans left to get them in during the coming week.

The local plant has hulled about 150,000 pounds, grown on approximately 2,500 acres.

This has been an unusually poor crop for caster beans, both growers and the hulling plant manager agree, and the results were far below the anticipated harvest, as well as the yield last year.

Considering weather and other factors affecting the crop, most growers seem fairly optimistic as to prospects for the crop, and present indications are that the caster bean goal for next year will be around 5,000 acres.

Contracting is due to begin soon, and this will be handled by Mr. Allen. He will also handle the planting seed at the hulling plant.

Robert Lacy to Quail School Board

Robert Lacy of the Buck Creek community has been appointed a member of the Quail School board to take the place of Benton Shields, who resigned.

Mr. Shields and his family of the Swearingen community moved recently to Willow, Oklahoma to live.

Mr. Lacy's appointment was made by the remainder of the Quail board.

Loffis Home After Surgery at Waco

Mr. and Mrs. Z. S. Loffis and sons, Shelton Ray and Eddie Bill, have returned from Waco, where he has been under medical treatment for the past seven months.

Mr. Loffis underwent a hip fusion operation for the correction of an ailment from which he has suffered since 1927. He will be on crutches for another two months.

He is returning to his work as dental technician for Dr. J. M. Orr.

Mrs. J. C. Darrow, Here 45 Years, Dies Sunday

Mrs. J. C. Darrow, 82, died Sunday, January 20, in St. Joseph's Hospital, after being in ill health for some time. She, with her family had come to Collingsworth County 45 years ago. They formerly lived in the Aberdeen community, on what is still known throughout that area as the Darrow farm. A number of years ago, however, she and the late Mr. Darrow moved to Wellington and had lived here since.

Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church Tuesday, with the Rev. Howard Jones, pastor, officiating. Pall bearers were Raymond Patton, Temple Slay, Robert Posey, George Scott, Steve Owens, and France Holley. Flower bearers were Mrs. Belford, Ruth Scott, Miss Catherine Turner, Miss Maudie Coffee, Mrs. Ed Warren

Pee-Wees and High School Takes Trophies

Rocket Boxers Win District Golden Gloves

Skyrocket boxers won the district golden gloves championship in both pee-wee and high school divisions last week at Pampa and the winners are now fighting in the regional Golden Gloves event, sponsored by the Amarillo Globe-News.

Eleven Wellington boys went into the finals, and nine of them won their bouts, Coach John Lee reported. Trophies were awarded in each division, and these will be presented to the school Saturday night, February 2, when the Skyrockets box the Roswell, N. M., team here.

District winners in the pee-wee division, which corresponds generally to junior high in matched fights, include Ronnie Thompson, a 65 pounder who fought in the 70 pound class because that is the lightest weight fought in Golden Gloves; Olan Murdock, 85 pounds; Don Hood, who knocked out his opponent in the finals in the first round, 90 pounds; Dugie Jameson, 95 and Ronald Havron, 100 pounds. Elbert Loving lost to Wilhelm in the 80 pound class.

In the high school division, Gary Phillips won in the 105 pound class; Jimmie Thompson, 125 pounds; Gene Baird, 145 pounds, Floyd Hood, 155 pounds and Dan Jameson, 160 pounds. Eddie Clements of Lefors took the 112 pound district title. Scotty Davis of Pampa defeated Drew Wyrick in the 113 pound class; and Dixon of Pampa the light-heavy weight division.

Lay Plans for Youth Project Show Monday

The planning committee for the annual Youth Project Show will meet Monday night, January 23, in the county court room at 7:30 p. m., County Agent J. W. Thomas has announced.

The date for the show will be set and classes of livestock established. The premium list will be made up.

It will also be decided at this time if a local sale will be held, or if the boys wishing to sell will

A Pay-Your-Poll-Tax campaign has been launched throughout the county and between now and Thursday, January 31, an effort will be made to have every person between the ages of 21 and 60 pay his poll tax so that he may speak his voice in the public affairs of 1952.

The drive is sponsored by the Citizenship Activities Committee of the Kiwanis Club, and is a part of the Citizenship Month events sponsored annually by the State Bar of Texas.

Key Club members are joining their senior club in working to get poll taxes paid. These boys will distribute handbills urging poll tax payment to cars in Wellington, and to business houses throughout the county.

Kiwanis Club members are passing out cards to all adults, with this request:

"Pay your Poll Tax and hand this card on to somebody else." It is expected that each card will change hands a dozen or more times.

Members of the Citizenship Activities committee include J. W. Thomas, chairman, J. B. Stevenson and Paul Spillman.

Other events leading up to drive have been a series of speeches before civic clubs.

Dr. E. W. Jones was the first speaker, appearing before the Business and Professional Women's Club, urging better citizenship from the home level up. Judge Luther Gribble, judge of the 100th Judicial District, addressed the Kiwanis Club and John Coleman, commander of the American Legion spoke before students of Wellington high school. Paul Spillman, county chairman for the Citizenship Month activities, has addressed the Excelsior Club, the Wellington Rotary Club and the Shamrock Rotary Club.

Approximately 1,600 poll taxes have been paid in the county to date, according to Hubert Mauldin, sheriff, tax assessor and collector, and it is at the remaining 1,000 persons who have not yet paid poll taxes that the Kiwanis campaign is pointed.

O'Hair Again Asks Precinct 3 Place

Pat O'Hair this week authorized The Wellington Leader to announce his candidacy for re-election to the office of Commissioner of Precinct Three. Mr. O'Hair has made the following statement:

"To the people of Collingsworth County and more especially Precinct Three:

"I want to recognize the will and support you have given me and express many, many thanks.

"In announcing for re-election I wish to state some of the principles which, I think, are of much importance to the county.

"(1) All of the road funds should be used strictly on the roads.

"(2) All of the road funds should be divided to the precincts according to the county road mileage.

"(3) Oppose and resist all moves to add extra territory to Precinct 3, as has been done in the past.

"(4) We should effect means to economize — except at the expense of roads.

"(5) We should have a sound budget, calling for less borrowed money, decreasing our interest load and working toward less taxes.

"If re-elected I shall continue to hold these principles as a guidance in the future as I have heretofore.

"To each of you, I solicit your vote and support."

VFW Event Planned

Interest Mounts in Three March of Dimes Entertainments

Fun and sportsmanship have teamed up for one of the county's worst drives of the year, the March of Dimes, and interest in three scheduled events will reach a keen pitch during the next two weeks.

Latest of the March of Dimes benefit activities announced is the entertainment Friday night, January 31, sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post as part of its observance of National VFW Week.

A good old-fashioned country style singing will be sponsored by the VFW Thursday night, January 31, at the community building, Russell Yates, commander, said.

All the singers of the county are being rounded up and the public is invited to come for a full evening of family type enjoyment.

An opportunity will be given to make a donation to the March of Dimes, and all money taken in will go to that drive.

With three of the county's prettiest young girls in the running, interest in the March of Dimes Basketball Queen Contest is leaving school circles and taking on an community-wide aspect.

"The schools get over their mid-term exams this week, and we expect work to start in earnest. Wellington students are determined the basketball crown won't go to a girl outside of town, and the Quail and Samnorwood students feel the same way," said Mrs. Laryn Lindsey, sponsor of the Press Club, which is promoting the contest.

The contestants are Ruthie McCaskill of Wellington, Joy Martindale of Samnorwood and Jo Helen White of Quail.

The Queen will be crowned at the close of the finals of the March of Dimes basketball tournament at Quail Saturday night, February 9.

The first games will be played Saturday night, January 26, with Quail Quails playing the Samnorwood Eagles and the Wellington Rockettes meeting the Samnorwood Eaglettes.

Winners of these games will meet the Wellington Skyrockets and the Quail Bobwhites in the finals February 11.

Advance ticket sales for the final games will go on sale within a few days, and every basketball fan will be contacted, Paul Spillman, chairman of the March of Dimes announced Tuesday night.

Dimes, with larger coins, are coming into the miniature iron lungs placed for collection in the business houses of Wellington, although these donations have not yet been counted.

Several persons have expressed the wish to make personal contributions and these should be taken to William Worth McClaskey, secretary-treasurer of the drive, at the First National Bank, Mr. Spillman said.

He again emphasized that there except for the campaigns waged by will be no solicitation for funds, the students in behalf of their Queen candidates.

Three Suits Settled

Nineteen Indictments Made by Grand Jury

Nineteen indictments were returned by the Grand Jury in a two-day session, Judge Luther Gribble of the 100th District reported Tuesday evening, January 22, after that body has reported its findings.

During the same period Judge Gribble disposed of three civil suits for which juries had been called.

Nine indictments of passing forged instruments were returned by the grand jury, four cases being against one individual and five against another. Five indictments for forgery, two of burglary, one driving while intoxicated, one child desertion and one defrauding by worthless check were also returned.

Several of those indicted are not yet in custody of local officers.

In the civil cases tried, that of Bill Friend et al vs. Roy Roberts, a damage suit, was dismissed on request of the plaintiff, Judge Gribble said.

A settlement of agreement was reached in the case of W. F. Box vs. Texas Employers Insurance Association.

A jury was selected and part of the testimony had been heard in the case of J. W. Webb vs. Texas Employers Insurance Association when the parties made an agreed settlement.

Court will convene here again Monday, January 28, when the non-jury docket is set.

Funeral Sunday For Wolf Baby

Funeral services for Janet Carol Wolf, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wolf, were held at Arlie Cemetery Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p. m., with the Rev. J. F. Michael, pastor of the Wellington Methodist Church officiating.

The baby was born in St. Joseph's Hospital Thursday and died approximately twelve hours later.

Funeral arrangements were directed by the Ellis Funeral Home. The baby is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wolf, and a twin brother, James Clifton, of Wellington, and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Adkins and Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Wolf of Loco.

Concert Number Here Tuesday, January 29

One of the outstanding young acting teams in the American Theatre will appear in Wellington on Tuesday, January 29, at 8:00 p. m., when Hal Holbrook and Lee Firestone bring their unique two-person show to the Community Building. Sponsor of the program is The Wellington Concert Association.

In their program, entitled "Theatre of Great Personalities", Holbrook and Firestone portray a wide variety of well known figures, including Mark Twain, Queen Victoria and Prince Albert, as well as two characters from Moliere's hilarious French comedy, "The School For Wives." Echoing the sentiments of critics in the more than forty states where they have performed, the Salt Lake City Telegram calls their show "first class theatre." Authentic costumes and make-up highlight this unusual program.

Possibly the most successful young dramatic duo ever to tour the U. S., Holbrook and Firestone have been featured on both radio and television in addition to their stage appearances.

Mr. Holbrook, whose mother had been in musical comedy with Ziegfeld and whose uncle had a long career in the theatre, was a student at Denison University before the war. While stationed in Newfound as a member of the armed forces, he played leading roles with the St. John's Little Theatre and upon release from the service returned to complete his college work. Since graduation, Holbrook has toured the United States several times and has appeared in every one of the forty-eight states. Numerous TV appearances and several

Farm Cash Income 37 Per Cent Higher In First 8 Months

AUSTIN — Cash income for Texas farmers and ranchers in the first eight months of 1951 was 37 per cent higher than in the same period last year, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Most impressive were cumulative gains in income from cattle sales — half again as large as in 1950 — and in income from cotton, cottonseed and wool production — all up more than 50 per cent from the preceding year.

Other commodities which yielded greater revenue during the first two-thirds of 1951 included mohair (up 41 per cent), hogs (up 36 per cent), sheep and lambs (up 12 per cent), poultry (up 44 per cent), eggs (up 45 per cent), and milk and milk products (up 10 per cent).

Except for cotton, cottonseed and grain sorghum, all commodities that registered year-to-year gains were animals or animal products. In general, vegetables, fruit and field crops fared worse this year than last.

Grain sorghum brought raisers twice as much income in 1951 as in 1950.

Incomes from wheat and oats, victims of widespread drouth, were down 57 and 18 per cent, respectively. Revenue for rice, peanuts, fruit and vegetables dropped 15 per cent. Corn income declined only 2 per cent, but flaxseed growers were hard hit, netting only 5 per cent of the 1950 yield.

Texas Isn't Proud Of This "First"

AUSTIN — Texas established another "first" last year but it's one in which the State's citizens can find little to be proud.

The "first" was officially announced in the Texas Motor Vehicle Traffic Accidents Summary for 1950 just released today by Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety. Entitled "Their First Time — and Last," the annual booklet does an exceptionally fine job of traffic accident analysis, breaking down the subject into every conceivable category from age of drivers and autos involved to the causative factors contributing to accidents.

The "first" was the all-time high of 2,410 lives lost in traffic accidents in the State last year. These represented the more gruesome aspect of the twelve months period which saw a total of 202,041 accidents and 68,801 personal injuries on the streets and highways of Texas. Total economic loss resulting from these accidents was reported in excess of $96 million.

Texas can find even less to boast about in the fact that N. K. Woerner, Chief of the Public Safety Department's Statistical Division, indicates that the all-time traffic fatality toll of last year is due to be replaced this year by an even higher figure. "Precluding the adoption of a rationing program affecting gasoline and tires, and more rigid controls governing the manufacture of motor vehicles, all of which would result in a reduction of traffic accidents through the curtailment of vehicular travel," Woerner stated, "we estimate that traffic deaths in 1951 will exceed $600."

Every Family Should Prepare For Disasters

Thousands of families found themselves with electric services cut off last November when the great windstorm hit the Northeastern coast. Not prepared for home living in such an emergency, a large number of them had to seek refuge elsewhere.

Since 94 per cent of homes in the U. S. are equipped with electricity, according to the last census, this question of "What do you do if your electricity is shut off?" becomes an important one in case of windstorms and other disasters.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters recommends that each family prepare a home "disaster kit" which would carry the family over several days of interrupted electric services when lights, refrigerator, food freezing units and other such household services may be temporarily discontinued.

In the kit should be:

1. One or more flashlights and a supply of batteries.
2. A battery-type radio.
3. Enough canned food to last three or four days.
4. Supply of drinking water.
5. Disinfectant, first aid kit.
6. A small solid-alcohol type stove.

7. If electric power fails, turn off all electric motors and appliances. When current comes back on, it may not be strong enough to make motors run properly. This may cause serious overheating.

Leprosy Appears In Texas Annually

AUSTIN — About 12 persons in Texas come down with leprosy every year, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. "Since 1921 over 300 individual cases have been diagnosed, mostly in counties bordering the Gulf Coast and Rio Grande River.

"Leprosy," Dr. Cox says, "is one of the penalties of being human. No other animal ever gets it. You do not need to worry a great deal about it because it is probably the least catching of all communicable diseases. The horror and shame in which the disease is held today is a hold over from Biblical times.

"One consolation about the whole thing that a Russian satellite—Rumania—is the world's focus of leprosy.

"The disease takes two forms, one called tuberculoid because it resembles tuberculosis, and the other lepromatous. The second type affects twice as many men as women, presumably because "there are more modes and opportunities for infection in men."

"Lepromatous patients live an average of 8 to 10 years, while the tuberculoid type apparently doesn't affect the patient's life span. Neither type is as catching as tuberculosis or other communicable diseases.

"Most cases of the disease are contracted during childhood," Dr. Cox reports, "with manifestations actually appearing in the teens or early 20's.

"Medical researchers at the national Leprosarium at Carville, La., are having success in the treatment of leprosy by the use of certain drugs. The Texas State Department of Health can assist anyone suffering with this disease in securing treatment at Carville."

That's the jubilant news that comes from Flint to every Buick dealer—and here we pass the thrilling story on to you. It sure is true for '52 that better automobiles are being built—and Buick is building them. Read the good word and you'll agree.

LET's pare this down to plain statements of fact and let them speak for themselves:

The dynamic darling pictured here is the 1952 ROADMASTER.

It has the mightiest engine in Buick history.

It has the biggest brakes of any postwar Buick.

It is the quietest car that Buick ever built.

It has the richest fabrics and smartest tailoring that ever graced a Buick's interior.

It has the greatest trunk space since spare tires moved off the front fenders.

It has the most superb ride in Buick history.

It has the finest carburetor that Buick research has ever devised.

And with all its new power, it delivers more miles per gallon.

But that is not all.

For those who wish it, there is a brand-new version of power steering that works like a helping hand—gives you the same sure feel of control you have always known in straight-away driving—yet takes less than one-fifth the effort needed to turn the ordinary wheel standing at curbside.

Sure, we're putting our best foot forward when we talk about ROADMASTER.

But you'll find a host of notable features in SUPERS and SPECIALS too—plenty to make them, as always, the standout buys in their fields—for ride, for comfort, for style, for room, and for power.

Come in—look this triumphant trio over—and you'll know why every Buick dealer from coast to coast is going around with a smile on his face.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

Civil Air Patrol Maps Work For Coming Months

Establishment of a training program, setting up of a communications system, and the operation of Marian Airpark are the main projects of the Wellington CAP Squadron at present, according to the commanding officer, Bill Hughes.

Air Navigation, Map Reading and Code are the courses which have been set up and will be taught to cadets and senior members for the next few weeks at the regular weekly Monday meetings. These courses are part of the training program which will enable members to qualify as civil air patrol observers.

Communications headquarters for the squadron is being up in Childress under the direction of Robert H. Rudasill, communications officer; and Ray Yarbrough, assistant. From Childress, the squadron hopes eventually to be able to send and receive messages to Group I headquarters in Amarillo and Wing headquarters in Dallas.

An assistant communications officer will be named in Wellington, and when an operator is licensed, a system will be set up for communications to Childress.

With the resignation of the airpark manager, Wellington Squadron members have been organized to handle the operation of Marian Airpark. The field will be kept open by the squadron, and planes coming onto the field at anytime will be serviced and the pilot's needs cared for.

Regular meetings are held at Marian Airpark every Monday night at 7:30 p. m. Staff meetings are held each Thursday at 5:30 p. m. at which time the administrative work of the squadron is completed.

Members renewing their membership are Blayne Brannum, Charles Caldwell Jr., Doris Caldwell, Lon Castleberry, Priscilla Chase, Earl Clement, Weldon Cleveland, Jimmie Cochran, Betty Cochran, Orval Couch, H. I. Comp-ton, Childress; Fred Cox Jr., Hiram Cudd, Beryl Faulkner, Charley Francis, W. H. Francis, Max Gra-bein, Archie Gray, Bruce Handley, Willie B. Harwell, Ernest Harwell, Roy E. Hassell, Childress; Raymond Horton, Katharine A. Hughes, Bill Hughes, Randolph Hunt, Tom R. Hunter, Emil Kersten, Jim Leach, Hubert Mauldin, Dora E. McClaskey, William W. McClaskey, Conrad Melton, J. M. Moore, J. M. Orr, Sandy Parsons Jr., Louis Patterson, J. K. Porter, John Pound, Dorothy Robertson, Vivian Scarberry, D. E. Scott, Tommy Stall, Jack Strong.

Herman C. Terry, Orville Vaughan, Dale V. Watkins, J. W. Wells, Sam White, R. A. Williams, Jesse Wilson, and Ray Yarbrough, Childress.

New members are Bessie Rainer, Mary Ruth Orr, Frank Orr, Joe Anna, Flint, Stanley Brooks, Jewell Sugg, Charles Allen, and Robert Rudasill, Childress.

Quail Teams Play Hedley Friday

The Quail Quails and Bobwhites will meet the Hedley teams on the Quail court Friday night, January 25, Supt. Herman Moseley has announced.

The teams have met several times already this season, with the Quail boys and girls emerging as winners in all tilts.

SEEKS GOLDEN GLOVES TITLE

Jack McPherson, a former winner for the skyrockets, and later competitor in the National Golden Gloves contests, will try his luck again this year in the event at Edmond Oklahoma Thursday, Friday and Saturday. McPherson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther McPherson of Wellington is a student in the University of Oklahoma.

STAND BACK BOYS—Heavy artillery is no mystery to Pvt. Donald Nothdorff of Chicago, who has spent a good part of his life working inside big guns. Before beginning his Army training at Indiantown Gap, Pa., Don served three years as a human cannonball in a circus act.

THEY'LL GET A THRILL ON HOLMENKOLLEN HILL—Ski jumpers from 35 nations will try their skills on the huge Holmenkollen Ski Jump Hill when Oslo, Norway, plays host to the Winter Olympic Games this February. After leaving the lip of the jump a skier flies through the air at about 50 MPH. Right under the takeoff spot is a restaurant from which spectators can watch as the contestants zoom overhead.

READY FOR RIOTS—A West-German policeman and a GI of the U. S. 6th Infantry Regiment compare notes during a combined riot control exercise in the American sector of Berlin. Armed with rifles, fixed bayonets, and expert in the use of tear gas and fire hoses, allied troops are confident that they can make it plenty tough for trouble makers.

Anglin Barn Burns Wed. Evening

The barn and shed on the Everett Anglin farm in the Cross Roads community was destroyed by fire Wednesday evening, January 16, along with a stack of approximately 1100 bundles of feed, which Mr. Anglin had bought and stacked that day.

The origin of the fire is not definitely known, the owner said. Stacking the feed was completed about 3:00 p.m. and the blaze was discovered about 5:30. Mr. Anglin had bought the feed from his father, E. W. Anglin of Wellington. Neighbors gathering at the scene helped Mr. Anglin remove part of his cottonseed from the barn, although part of the 12 bale seed stock was lost. The barn was approximately 14 by 14 feet and the attached shed about 10 by 20 feet, he said.

Today's Cowboys Better Than Early Day Riders

FORT WORTH — Cowboys who take part in the rodeos today are better riders than the cowboys of earlier days, declares Verne Elliott of Platteville, Colo., who will be the producer of the rodeo of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, Jan. 25 through Feb. 3.

And Elliott ought to know because he himself was a cowboy riding the range and was a champion rodeo rider and, as the foremost producer of rodeos for more than 30 years, he has seen the best performers.

The reason that present-day rodeo riders are superior to the cowboys of years ago, Elliott says, is that, in the early days, about the only rodeos were at Cheyenne and Pendleton besides a few strictly local shows. So the only other opportunity for a star rider was to tour the country with one of the Wild West shows, of which Buffalo Bill, Pawnee Bill, the Miller Bros., of 101 Ranch fame and Zack Mulhall were the best known.

Rodeo contestants then were mainly actual cowboys who came in from the range. But today, rodeoing is a career. Many contestants go from one show to another and are busy the year 'round. They get much more practice in riding wild horses than their predecessors did and so are better riders, Elliott says. A top-notch performer in the rodeo world can make from $10,000 to $25,000 a year. Contrast that with the $30 a month and show which the rider on the range used to get!

"Many of the present-day riders were never actually cowboys at all and are really athletes," Elliott declared.

When asked whom he considered the greatest cowboy in rodeo history, "Mr. Rodeo" pondered, then said, "I wouldn't want to say. Leonard Stroud, who was at his peak

3 Rockets Enter Golden Gloves

Three Wellington boxers won fights the first night of the Globe-News Regional Golden Gloves tournament Tuesday in the City Auditorium.

Gary Phillips, 105 pounds, TKO over Bebe Perez, Amarillo; Bill Branch, 112 pounds, dec. Douglas Kirkland, Dumas; and Floyd Hood, 155, TKO'd T. A. Carriker of Dumas.

around 1918, could do everything well. So could Hugh Strickland, who came along afterward. In recent years, I would rank Gene Rambo, as the best all-round cowboy."

Among rodeo stars of the present, Elliott considers Bill Linderman the best, although Bud Lind-erman is probably the equal of his brother in ability but Bill takes the work more seriously, the producer said.

Both men will be seen in the Fort Worth stock show rodeo (greatest indoor rodeo in the world) as will nearly 400 other top-flight artists of the lariat and saddle.

Mrs. Enis Schaded and daughter, Yvette, went to Taylor Thursday to visit with relatives. They took Edmond as far as Dallas to meet the plane to fly to Rhode Island where he will attend a naval school.

Norwood Boys Win First at Canadian Tourney

Sammorwood boys' basketball team won first place in the Canadian Tournament Saturday night, January 19, with the girls winning consolation.

Sammorwood boys met White Deer Friday morning defeating them 36-26. Friday morning they beat Panhandle 59-27, and on Saturday afternoon downed Miami 37-33. The boys defeated Briscoe 40-23 in the finals Saturday night.

Lawrence Overcast was voted the most valuable player in the tournament. Billy Alexander made the first string of the all star team. Overcast was high point man with 97 points and Alexander next with 47.

The girls' first game was with Panhandle and were defeated 40-35. Saturday morning they beat their second opponents, Darrrouzett, 40-35. The consolation win came Saturday night when the girls defeated Canadian 49-24.

Joan Martindale and La Donna Mayberry made the all tournament team.

Tuesday night the Sammorwood teams played Quail with the Quail girls defeating the Sammorwood girls 33-27 and the Sammorwood boys winning over the Quail boys 39-35.

Dodson Nazarene Revival Planned

The Dodson Church of the Nazarene will join in the national observance of Youth Week, January 27-February 3. The Young People of the Dodson Church will sponsor a Youth Week Revival Monday, January 28 through Sunday, February 3.

The special speaker will be Rev. Don Owens, a student of Bethany-Peniel College in Bethany, Oklahoma. Don Owens was graduated from the college last year with his A. B. degree and is now working on his Th.B.

While in college, Rev. Owens traveled in a male quartette and with the college A Cappella Choir. He is in demand as a Youth Speaker in many of the churches of this section.

The Young People will have charge of the music during this Youth Revival and will feature a Youth Choir each night. The services will begin each evening at 7:30 and everyone is welcome.

Russell Offered Professional Job

I. D. Russell, former Skyrocket star who will graduate from Southern Methodist University this year, has been offered a well-paying job as a professional football player with the Green Bay Packers, Green Bay, Wis., it was learned here this week.

A backfield ace for the SMU Mustangs, he was named in the recent National Football Professional League draft.

Russell has not announced his acceptance.

McPherson Golden Gloves Fighter

Jack McPherson, veteran Golden Gloves fighter, will be a leading contender for a district title Thursday when the Oklahoma City area tournament opens for a three-day stand at Edmond.

Approximately 60 boxers are expected for the tourney.

McPherson not only fought for and won Golden Gloves titles while a Skyrocket boxer, he also went into the national tournament two years ago, when a broken jaw received in one of the fights put him out of the competition.

With the younger players, the Junior High boys team is entering the Junior High tournament at Memphis Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and the Rocket B team and the Junior High boys will meet the Childress teams here Monday.

McPherson then enlisted in the Army and was selected for officer training, when he received a medical discharge due to the jaw injury. He is now attending the University of Oklahoma.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther McPherson, Wellington.

Dr. E. W. Jones To Medical Meeting

Dr. E. W. Jones was in Austin during the week end to attend a meeting of the executive board of the Texas State Medical Association. Dr. Jones is a member of the Medical Economic committee or the association.

This meeting was in the nature of a business session and plans were held for work during 1952.

Judge R. H. Cocke, Frank Cocke and A. V. Cocke are visiting in Florida for the rest of this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Caldwell and Cheri have returned from a sight seeing tour of South Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi, including a several day stay in New Orleans.

RODEO FEATURE WILL AMUSE

The Hendricks Family, offering the most spectacular as well as the most hilarious rodeo specialty acts in the nation, will be presented at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show rodeo in Fort Worth, January 25 to February 3. The photo shows the Hendricks Family as hillbillies with one of their trained white mules in a comedy act.

FOR SHORT FLIGHTS—With arms outstretched, Lois Pearce, left, and Sally Alford of Manteo, N. C., can almost reach from tip to tip of this tiny plane's 15-foot wing spread. The midjet plane, built by Bill Anderson, manager of Roanoke Island Airport at Manteo, has room only for the pilot. Its cruising speed is 120 miles per hour.

GOING UP—Korean laborers struggle up a mountainside with a length of cable that will soon be a part of an aerial tramway designed to ease the problem of transporting supplies to mountain troops. U. S. Army engineers (foreground) believe it will haul 400-pound loads on each 1200-foot trip in less than two minutes.

New Score Board Installed

ROCKETS, ROCKETTES MEET LELIA LAKE, SHAMROCK AND HEDLEY

The Wellington Skyrockets and Rockettes will entertain the Lelia Lake teams here Thursday night at 7:30, then go to Shamrock Friday night for what will probably be some of the best games of the season so far, Coach Maxey McKnight said.

Continuing basketball activity, the Hedley boys and girls teams will play here at 6:45 p.m. Tuesday, and on Thursday night, Shamrock will return the games on the Rocket court.

With the younger players, the Junior High boys team is entering the Junior High tournament at Memphis Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and the Rocket B team and the Junior High boys will meet the Childress teams here Monday.

night, January 28, at 7:30. "Lelia Lake is a little better than the average, and fans will see some fast playing," McKnight predicted. The Rockets won their last games over the Lelia Lake teams.

The Irish will be out to even up the defeat suffered at the hands of the Rockets in the Canadian tournament. The Lassies, however, were the winners over the Rockets in the same event. Scott McKnight is coaching both teams.

TEJAS TRIBE

New officers of the Tejas tribe were installed in a candlelighting ceremony January 12, when Faye Pope became president, Francis Drake secretary-treasurer, and Carolyn Joyce Wright corresponding secretary. The outgoing officers are Mary Parsons, president, Janet Jones secretary-treasurer and Joan Henry, corresponding secretary.

The ceremonial was planned and written by the outgoing officers. Members not holding office stood in front of a lighted candle in the Wohelo triangle. Each outgoing officer, as she made her speech, lighted a candle from the Wohelo candle, and as she passed the duties of office to the new officer, lighted her candle. The girls decorated their candles for the ceremonial with sequins.

During the afternoon pictures were made to be entered in the "Picture of the Month" contest of the Camp Fire Magazine.

In their January 19 meeting the girls studied and designed symbols to be used in their work. Mrs. Clyde Drake is guardian of the Tejas tribe and Mrs. E. K. Jones assistant guardian.

FOUR TRIBES

Wellington now has four Camp Fire Girl tribes, the Tejas, Wam-waste, and two more recently formed tribes that have not been named. Guardian of the Teja-group is Mrs. Clyde Drake, while Mrs. E. K. Jones is assistant; Mrs. John Lee is guardian of the Wam-waste tribe. One of the new tribes has as guardian Mrs. Gene Glenn and Mrs. Bill McCarver as assistant guardian. Mrs. Cecil Shanks is guardian of the fourth tribe and Mrs. Earl Bowen and Mrs. Paul Brewer are assistants.

ASSOCIATION FORMED

The guardians, assistant guardians and sponsors of the four tribes are forming an association to co-ordinate their work. The first meeting was held Tuesday morning, January 22.

The first regular meeting will be Tuesday, February 4, when officers will be elected and the organization completed.

Welcome to Wellington

Moving to Wellington from Oklahoma City this week are Mr. and Mrs. Uther Taylor.

Taylor will be associated with Darwin Nix, his uncle, and will be in charge of the custom deep plowing operations carried on by the latter, both here and in other counties.

Before coming here, he was an aircraft inspector for the H&E Distributing Company in Oklahoma City. Mrs. Taylor was employed at Kerr's.

Taylor lived here a number of years ago and attended Wellington high school.

for the first time Tuesday night when the Lakeview boys and girls played here. The Rockets won this game 54 to 50, while the Rockettes were losers by about 15 points.

"We're anxious for basketball fans to come out and see how the score board works. You'll get a lot more fun out of the games, and the games will mean more to you," McKnight declared.

Price Daniel Announces

Price Daniel, attorney general, announced this week that he would make a vigorous race for the democratic nomination for the United States senate. In a hard-hitting, militant address he advocated a house-cleaning in scandal-ridden Washington bureau, lashed out at "blunders of the foreign policy in Korea and the Far East" and demanded an end to government waste and increasing taxes. He pledged a continuation in the senate of his fight for Texas to keep its tidelands for the public free school funds.

Cloyd Harris to Shreveport, La.

Sloyd Harris, who has been with the United Gas Corporation here for the past eight years, has been transferred to Shreveport, La., and he, Mrs. Harris and their three-year-old daughter, Cathy, are leaving Tuesday for that place.

Harris will be in the gasoline department of the Shreveport company.

Louisiana is Harris home state, as he formerly lived near New Orleans.

While with United Gas here, he served two years in the Army, with service in Africa. He and Mrs. Harris are active in the work of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Auxiliary.

Don't Neglect Any Cold

AUSTIN — Carelessness in the treatment of respiratory disease is not only foolish but very hazardous, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, who warned Texans today to be on guard against such illnesses as lead to pneumonia.

Dr. Cox pointed out that pneumonia can and does strike with little or no warning, and in many instances its forerunner is a simple cold, an attack of influenza, or some other respiratory infection.

"A cold or any other infection of the breathing passage which makes one constitutionally weak, especially if it is accompanied by fever, demands the immediate attention of the family physician. To self treat and fight on ones feet a condition of this kind is to endanger life unnecessarily. It is advisable to take all possible steps to avoid respiratory illnesses since they so frequently lead to that dangerous complication — pneumonia."

Dr. Cox stressed the fact that it is important to build up, normal physical resistance by sufficient outdoor ventilation, adequate nourishing food, outdoor exercise and sufficient sleep, but added to that the family physician should be called immediately if, in spite of such care, a respiratory disease develops.

Guard against pneumonia which is a communicable disease. It may be acquired by direct or indirect contact with a pneumonia patient. Reduced bodily resistance resulting from habitual disregard for normal physical requirements makes pneumonia doubly hazardous. A physician should be consulted immediately upon the appearance of any respiratory ailment."

1952 Offers Challenge to Texas Farmers

COLLEGE STATION — Farmers and farm families are faced with a challenge for the coming year that can best be met through planning and more efficient production. The level of farm prices is edging downward; but the prices of materials, equipment, labor and other things that farmers buy are edging upward. At the same time, more and more agricultural production is needed to take care of a growing population at home and to meet foreign demands.

This situation, says C. H. Bates, farm management specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, calls for careful planning if the present farm living standards are to be maintained. Crop yields must be increased and every job on the farm should be studied for the purpose of cutting down on expenses and labor requirements, adds Bates.

When the farm plans are made, the specialist suggests that they include the use of the highest yielding adaptable crop varieties. Research workers of our experiment stations are continually introducing new and improved varieties of crops and as these are tested and planting seed becomes available, Bates says, substitute them for the varieties now grown. The new corn hybrids and grain sorghums are examples. He says the most productive part of the farm should be planted to cash crops. If you are in an area of the state where commercial fertilizers can be successfully used, get your fertilizers early and apply them generously. To help make their use even more profitable, we suggest that before the planting season rolls around that soil samples be submitted to the state laboratory for analysis. Local county Extension agents have detailed information on how to take and mail the samples to the laboratory.

Don't forget to include in your production plans, provisions for taking care of the insect enemies. Book orders now for enough insecticides to take care of your minimum needs. Planting seed should be treated to control seed borne diseases and then follow through with a good insect control program for better yields and quality in the crops, says Bates.

Another mighty important item is timing. Plan your production program for the farm so that peak labor loads can be avoided and so every piece of machinery and equipment can be used to the best advantage.

Finally, the specialist urges the use of good business methods in managing the farm. Farm records are a must. And Bates points out that detailed records should be the basis for making major changes in farm operations or practices. Complete records are also mighty useful about this time of the year for income tax figuring purposes, he adds.

MEET THE "RAILPLANE"—Latest effort to solve the transportation problem of big cities is the "railplane," now being considered by Los Angeles traffic authorities. Pictured with the first model of the train are John A. Hastings, left, and Ayres Houghtelling, creator and design engineer of the Hastings Railplane. Operated on elevated tracks, the trains would travel at speeds up to 150 mph, with fares ranging from 15 cents to a dollar within a 100-mile radius of Los Angeles.

Governor Shivers Urges Drivers to Learn Hand Signals

AUSTIN — Governor Allan Shivers has urged the automobile drivers in Texas to learn proper hand signals and apply them while driving as a means of lowering the "death and injury" toll on our streets and highways. This appeal is contained in an official memorandum issued by Shivers which designates January as "hand signal month" in the Lone Star State.

"The use of proper hand signals," said Shivers, "is a most effective weapon in the curbing of traffic accidents. The hand-signaling motorist is the courteous motorist. I am firmly convinced that if all drivers were courteous while at the wheel, our traffic toll would be reduced to the minimum."

"When a motorist applies hand signals in his driving, he automatically becomes conscious of all aspects of traffic safety and courtesy — the protection of pedestrians, the danger of weaving in traffic, the death-dealing results of speed, the folly of hogging the highway, the importance of yielding the right-of-way. So, I urge all motorists to acquaint themselves with the proper hand signals and to apply them diligently. The hand signal is the mark of a courteous driver; he doesn't keep the other driver guessing."

Shivers stated that a number of cities and towns in Texas have carried out campaigns on hand signal education, and in practically all cases, these points have become recognized for their "courteous drivers."

The state-wide hand-signal campaign is sponsored by the Texas Safety Association, Inc. and is patterned after the project conducted jointly last September in Dallas, by the Citizens Traffic Commission and the Dallas Civitan Club. Highway posters and other media proclaimed the slogan: "Right turn — hand up. Left turn — hand out. Slow or stop — hand down."

The hand signal month in Texas is to be promoted by the press and radio facilities throughout the State and is to be directed by J. O. Musick of Austin, General Manager of the Texas Safety Association; Bruce Cunningham of Dallas, representing the Dallas Civitan Club and the Citizens Traffic Commission, and Weldon Hart, formerly of Governor Shivers press staff.

Immunizing Man Against Polio Scientists Goal

Eliminating the polio virus or preventing its coming into contact with man is the goal of the research program now engaging scientists in their fight to control this disease. To attain this goal they must, among other things, first determine where the virus exists in nature and just how it is transmitted to man.

That the largest reservoir of the virus is in the digestive canal of human beings themselves is the common belief now. It is also thought that this disease seems to be transmitted most frequently by intimate contact between a susceptible individual and someone harboring the virus.

Even with this knowledge, scientists have not yet learned how to determine quickly which individuals are the "distributing agents" for polio. Furthermore, they are as yet without any sure test to designate which individuals are the especially susceptible ones. Since it has not yet been determined just how the virus is transmitted, scientists are not as yet able to isolate susceptible persons.

Certain inherent dangers remain even though that knowledge should be attained. That man can develop a measure of resistance to the virus by coming in contact with minute quantities of the virus is generally agreed. These quantities are too minute to induce recognizable disease; but if such contact is repeated frequently and with progressively increasing quantities of the virus, man usually develops an effective resistance to that disease. For this reason many people may go through life without ever having a recognizable attack.

Finding a successful means of preventing contact between man and virus, without finding other means of control, might result in a generation of highly susceptible individuals. In fact, a greater number might succumb to the disease when exposed to a small quantity of the virus than is now the case. The number of those suffering severe paralysis might be greater also than today when most people are able to resist the serious consequences of the infection.

Next week's discussion of poliomyelitis will concern methods science is developing to help man resist the nerve cell destructive action and the crippling after-effects of the virus.

But the construction of The Dalles power dam will force the Red men to retreat from their ancient fishing grounds. The area will be flooded to make way for a 60-mile-long lake and spear-fishing for salmon at Celilo Falls will fade into history, another loss for the American Indian.

Good Eyes Most Valued Asset

AUSTIN — One of your most valued assets is good eyes. Many people thoughtlessly abuse the eyes and think little about it until trouble comes, declares Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

What can you do to protect your eyes? Avoid unnecessary strain by reading in good position and with sufficient light. If your eyes bother you, have them examined by a physician trained especially in diseases of the eye.

Eye strain begins when you need to use too much effort to focus clearly. If you have normal eyes, you do not need to use the focusing muscles to see clearly at a distance; and when you look at something close, like reading matter, you need to focus only a little. If you are farsighted, your eyes have to focus even when you look far away; and when you read, you have to focus a lot more than a person with normal eyes. Children have strong focusing muscles, and their eyes do not tire easily need glasses unless they have a large amount of far-sightedness. Then they need glasses to do the focusing and give their eyes a rest. Older people have weaker focusing muscles and usually need glasses for reading when they are about 45 years old. For other specific eye difficulties glasses may be needed.

ous and calls for more exercise. Whatever the actual cause of the disease may be, vocational and economic conditions are factors, since it seems that a fact that those who do not indulge in luxurious living and whose occupation calls for manual labor are not frequently affected. Simple living, wholesome diets, sufficient exercise and sleep are factors in the prevention of diabetes. An annual physical examination, with a blood or urine analysis, is important to determine whether or not the disease is present in the middle age group."

Diabetes Fatal To 887 in Year

AUSTIN — Diabetes, a disease for which modern medicine can do much, took a toll of 887 lives in Texas during the past year, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"While the communicable diseases such as typhoid fever, malaria, diphtheria and smallpox are causing a decreasing number of deaths each year in this State, diabetes is now taking an appalling number of human lives, especially in the middle-aged group," Dr. Cox said.

"Until recent years diabetes was not noted as a major health problem but it became accepted as such in direct ratio to the development of medical laboratory procedures, which made the disease more easily diagnosed.

"Diabetes is generally recognized as a class disease. It seems to attack the white collar class of indoor men and women much more frequently than it does the outdoor person whose work is more vigor-

Hudson Hornet Now on Display at Johnson Motor Co.

Matt Johnson of the Johnson Motor Company announced that the new Hudson Hornet is now on display. Other new models are the Wasp, the New Pacemaker and the Commodore Six.

Concerning the Hornet, Mr. Johnson said:

The fabulous Hudson Hornet appears for 1952 in new Hudson-Aire Styling — an inspired new design that provides a longer, lower, richer look for this handsome National Stock Car Champion. Beautiful new front-end styling is massive with husky bumper and guards, a heavy but graceful grille, huge parking lights, a low-mounted hood ornament, and an over-all symmetry that makes the oncoming Hudson Hornet low and sleek. There is a sturdy functional rub-rail in unbroken line from front to rear to accentuate the clean streamlining in this 124-inch wheelbase beauty. Gleaming trim all around the curved, full-view windshield in a continuous belt, above and below the side windows, and completely around the huge, curved, one-piece rear window, adds a fresh note of airiness and luxury to this famed member of the Hudson family.

The power-packed, high-compression engine that has made the fabulous Hudson Hornet the nation's stock car champion. It's a masterpiece of advanced engineering for amazing get-up-and-go, longest life and minimum upkeep.

The Super Power-Dome cylinder head increases turbulence, gets more power from every drop of gasoline. The high chrome-alloy cylinder block, toughest in the industry, outwears blocks of ordinary metals by thousands of miles. Fuel economy is assured because its automatically controlled lubrication minimizes wear and friction, adds to power output. Fuel intake is economically controlled by a dual downdraft carburetor, automatic choke, automatic-mixture heat control, heat-resisting Austenitic valves, air cleaner with silen-cer, and constant-pressure fuel pump.

Instant starts and smooth operation in all kinds of weather are assured by the waterproof, high-voltage ignition system with automatic spark control. Power rating is 145 horsepower with 7.2 to 1 compression ratio of Super Power-Dome aluminum head (compression ratio of 6.7 to 1 or 7.2 to 1 with iron-alloy head at no extra cost).

The Hornet is a combination of superb styling, luxurious comfort and spacious room unmatched in any other motor car. Fashion-tailored upholstery is beautiful nylon, the most durable and luxurious fabric money can buy. Its exclusive 3-dimensional weave prevents slipping, clinging to clothes, makes it easy to clean.

Trim is Dura-fab, Hudson's wonder material that won't crack, chip or scratch, and wipes clean with a damp cloth.

Custom appointments include thick pile carpeting, front and rear; deluxe 16" center arm rest; overhead dome lamp; two rear-quarter reading lamps; arm rests at ends of seats; assist straps at rear doors; hand grips, robe cord and magazine pocket on back of front seat. There is a large mirror that gives complete rear vision; and swivel sun visors; door and window controls that are easy to operate and conveniently located; ash receivers at ends of seats and in instrument panel; automatic courtesy lights at all doors. Door locks won't let you lock yourself out. Everything to give you heretofore unmatched luxury, comfort and relaxation.

Baylor Nurse to Visit City School

All young people interested in nursing as a career or even in investigating the advantages of a nursing education have been invited to meet Mrs. Ruth A. Maxson of the Baylor University School of Nursing in conferences at Wellington, Thursday, January 24.

Mrs. Maxson will be at Wellington High School all day Thursday. Appointments with her should be made through the counselors at the institution.

The current need for nurses in America, advantages of a nursing education, and the details of training for the profession will be explained by Mrs. Maxson in the conferences, it was said.

Baylor's unique professional nursing program, in which the student studies for a year on the Baylor co-educational campus at Waco, and then takes two years of training in associated hospitals, will be outlined. The student gains a certificate as Registered Nurse at the end of the third year, and then can return to the Baylor campus for a year of study leading to the Bachelor of Science degree in Nursing. The degree program qualifies the nurse to meet the high standards of nursing programs.

Nursing is no longer a profession for women alone, Mrs. Maxson said. Several men students are enrolled in the classes now being taught at Waco.

Mrs. Maxson is a graduate of Mary-Hardin-Baylor College, the University of Houston, and the Baylor School of Nursing. She had been educational director at Memorial Hospital in Houston and a school nurse for the Houston public school system before coming to Baylor.

seasons of summer stock have earned him the reputation of being one of the most gifted and versatile young actors of the day.

Lee Firestone, who is teamed with Mr. Holbrook for this season, is a graduate of Northwestern University where she won a scholarship and was assistant to the head of the dramatic department. Miss Firestone has done TV and radio work where she has played leading roles in such productions as "Peer Gynt", "Our Town", "Twelfth Night" and "Dark of the Moon". She also has done two seasons of summer stock in the East.

Originally scheduled to appear here with Mr. Holbrook was his wife, Ruby, who at present is at home preparing to welcome a new member to the family. Hal and Ruby Holbrook plan to continue their joint theatre career just as soon as their first born is old enough to play bit parts and assist with the handling of curtains and lights.

For their program here, Holbrook and Firestone plan to present scenes from Moliere's "School for Wives", Maxwell Anderson's "Victoria Regina" and one from the life of Mark Twain.

of its deepest students of the Bible. Her religion took practical form, also, although she worked quietly and only her family knew of many of these activities.

One of her interests in recent years was the Protestant Mission on Okinawa, of which she was a supporter. In her honor, many floral offerings from friends were sent there, where memorial services were planned.

Mrs. Castleberry was an active member of the 1924 Study Club, and she supported and took active part in many activities sponsored by the women of Wellington through the years.

Ahead of these affairs, however, Mrs. Castleberry put her own home and the welfare of her family, and through the years she was known as one of the town's gracious hostesses.

Her husband, J. B. Castleberry, and three children survive, Mrs. Jimmie Gillentine of Hereford, Bob Castleberry of Wellington and Capt. John Ben Castleberry of the Air Force on Okinawa. There are two grandchildren, Sara and Buz Gillentine of Hereford; her mother, Mrs. Z. B. Bobo of Rhome, and these brothers and sisters: Mrs. Dewey Ellis of Wellington, Mrs. C. L. Christian of Decatur, Mrs. L. W. Renshaw of Rhome, Mrs. C. E. High of Pampa, Mrs. R. B. Huddleston of Fort Worth, Dr. Zack Bobo of Arlington, Dr. Tom Bobo of Midland and Pat R. Bobo of Muleshoe.

and Miss Inez Holt. Burial was in the Wellington cemetery under the direction of the Ellis Funeral Home.

Mrs. Darrow was before her marriage Miss Mary Tennessee Harmon. She was born in Tennessee November 8, 1869, and always took great pride in the fact that she was named for her native state.

She was a member of the Baptist Church and was devoted to its work.

Surviving are five children: Mrs. Myrtle Roller of Wellington, James Darrow of Ozarkie, Kansas, Mrs. M. E. Tyler of Lelia Lake, Mrs. John Arnold of Fort Worth, and Mrs. J. V. Green of Bell, Calif. Six grandchildren and thirteen great grandchildren also survive, along with four sisters, Mrs. Lillian Binkley of Maypearl, Mrs. Alice Newton of Panhandle, Mrs. Fannie Whitt of Waxahachie and Mrs. Jennie Clay of Willis point.

week released the following statement in behalf of the Post:

We of the Veterans of Foreign Wars have proclaimed the week of January 24-31 as National V.F.W. Week. We want to celebrate this event by rededicating ourselves to the fundamental aims of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

The purpose of our existence was clearly defined by the founders of our organization in 1899. When the 74th Congress of the United States adopted Public Law 630 on May 28, 1936, the charter which we were granted under this legislation described our principles in these words:

"The objects of this association are fraternal, patriotic, historical and educational; to preserve and strengthen comradeship among its members; to assist worthy comrades; to perpetuate the memory and history of our dead, and to assist their widows and orphans; to maintain true allegiance to government of the United States of America, and fidelity to its constitution and laws; to foster true patriotism; to maintain and extend the institutions of American freedom; and to preserve and defend the United States from all her enemies, whomsoever."

Mrs. Holiman was a member of the Church of Christ, having joined in girlhood.

She is survived by her husband Earnest Holliman, and one daughter, Mrs. Archie Ketchersid of Dodson; three brothers and five sisters: Pete O'Brien of Dodson, Bob O'Brien, Miss Ellie O'Brien of Del Rio; Mrs. Eddie Sam-bough and Miss Addie O'Brien of Bowie, and Mrs. Mollie Kendall of Temple.

Music Club Has Opera Study

Mrs. Lowell Wells and Mrs. Pat Swift were hostesses to the Wellington Music Club Tuesday evening, January 15, in the Wells home for a study of modern operatic works.

Following a discussion of the life and works of Giacomo Puccini, Dr. Darlene Hunter told the story of one of his favorite operas, "Madam Butterfly," and one of the arias, "One Fine Day" was presented as a recording.

Mrs. Jack Kopp gave two selections from the opera, "Samson and Delilah," by Saint Saens, the aria, "Amour, Viens Aider" and "Mon Cœur L'Ouvre te Voix."

Miss Virginia Robey was leader. Attending were Mesdames Charles Allen, Jack Davis, A. L. Elliott, John Holton, Howard

Jones, Kelly Pigg, Estella Cocke, Truman Estes, Dr. Hunter, Mrs. Kopp, Miss Peggy Riggs, Miss Robey and Mrs. Wells.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Vaughn of Amarillo spent last week end in the home of her sister, Mrs. John Henard.

Simplicity Is Keynote in 1952 Lamp Designs

BY EDNA MILES

MODERN lamps, as reflected by the new designs for 1952, provide something for everyone. There are lamps for homes where space is limited, since nearly every home has that problem these days. There are lamps with casual styling, for provincial and colonial interiors and lamps in simple good taste that are not pegged to any period.

Whatever the new lamp, its keynote is simplicity. Because they are planned to balance the clean lines of modern furniture, many of the 1952 designs have thin, hairpin curves that carry on the shape of metal supports used on chairs, tables and cabinets.

Since ironstone china is enjoying a heyday, there are lamps in this off-white, gleaming glaze. But these lamps are made along basic, simple lines to fit in with either contemporary or traditional settings.

Casual styling, the end result of ranch house and provincial decors, has produced pine and maple bases that are paired with chintz or plaid shades. Other lamps in this group are those with burlap-covered shades and bases, or shades in straw and nubby fabrics. Especially planned for ranch homes, according to the Lamp and Shade Institute of America, are lanterns from California that combine such rustic materials as weathered "Hairpin" curves in polished, tubular brass give sleek, fluid lines to this modern pin-up lamp. Doubly flexible, it swings from the wood block and its shade turns on a swivel.

Blending perfectly with either traditional or contemporary interiors, this ironstone lamp is fashioned in a simple "Platter" design. The shade matches the off-white color of the base.

brass, rusty iron and Salem maple.

For homes where the need for flexibility is foremost, there are floor and table lamps equipped with two swivels and shades that turn in complete circles. Other types convert from table to floor lamps by means of extension shafts.

EDITORIAL COMMENT — THE WELLINGTON LEADER
Thursday, January 24, 1952

The Land and Prosperity

Agriculture always has been a major art of our Panhandle economy. Through bitter experience—such as in the 1930's—we've found that when the farmer is down, so are the rest of us.

And the Polk Street merchant, the country seat drygoods man, and the cross-roads filling station operator are in fair financial shape—when the farmer is making money.

It's true that farm and livestock production is not the whole of our economy. Production of petroleum products, our distribution system, our industries and small manufacturing are not to be disregarded.

But the wide base of our prosperity has been in the land. And questions such as these pop up in many conversations:

Just how much money are the farmers making?

How many cattle are being sold for how much?

What's the value of farms in this country and what's been the increase?

Rep. Walter Rogers, curious just like the rest of us, did a little digging with the Department of Commerce. And he came up with some interesting figures.

Mr. Rogers' research was just for the 28 counties in the 18th Congressional District. But in general terms an extension of the farm prosperity of the Panhandle would apply to the remainder of the Tri-State Empire.

Here's some of the findings:

In 1950 the value of all farm products sold on Panhandle farms was $242,112,018. By comparison the figures for 1945 was only $166,675,966.

A breakdown of the general classification "farm products" reveals 164 million dollars were in crops and 77 million dollars were in livestock and livestock products. That's for the 1950 figure.

The Department of Commerce assesses a valuation of 753 million dollars for land and buildings on Panhandle farms. In 1945, the valuation was only 352 million.

Of course these figures do not take into account the inflated position of the dollar. The actual advance in value in terms of farm purchasing power would be much less.

Mr. Rogers' figures also reflect some conditions which are not conducive to expanded farm business.

The number of farms has decreased significantly between 1945 and 1950. In 1945, 15,717 farms were tabulated; in 1950 there were only 14,691.

The decrease in farms means a decrease in farm families and to some extent a curtailment of purchasing power from those families.

The market from the families, however may not be lost entirely. Our census report already has shown a marked change from rural urban living in the High Plains. But the type of market—entailing purchase of commodities for city rather than rural living—is changed.

Farming is getting to be a bigger and bigger operation for the individuals involved. In 1945, the average number of acres per farm was 1,082 acres. Last year, the average had jumped to 1,161 acres.

In 1950, of the total number of farms, nearly 7,000 (6,992) produced $10,000 or more dollars in farm products.

The Plains farmer—who stuck it out through the Dust Bowl—is getting a little coming his way now—Amarillo News.

The Buck Creek Philosopher

Editor's note. The Buck Creek Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Buck Creek is off on economics this week, which is as good as anything else for him to be off on.

Dear editor:

After the old year is definitely over and I'm convinced the new year is well underway, along about this time, I generally get to speculating on what's gonna happen in an economic sort of way in the months ahead, is it gonna be better or worse, and this mornin' I was out here speculating as hard as I could without bein' inconsistent with my philosophy of not doin' any of your thinkin' or workin' in one lump, when a newspaper blew across my face, I was reclining under a tree at the time on the south side of the barn, and later in the mornin' I got to wonderin' if any rain clouds was formin' and since it was necessary to remove the paper in order to see I went ahead and removed it. I noticed there wasn't any clouds, and since I wasn't ready to get up anyway I glanced over the paper and noticed an article on what the economic outlook is for 1952.

Accordin' to a group of ten of the nation's outstanding economists, 1952 is gonna be a good year. But they go further than that, they tell in detail how much the stock market is gonna go up, how much it's gonna go down, how much department store sales will increase (7 percent), how much farm prices will go up (1 percent), etc.

Now it's good to know this in advance, but what has always puzzled me is why an economist don't have more faith in his own predictions. If I could tell in advance what the stock market was gonna do, you wouldn't catch me holdin' down an economist's job, I'd quit and clean up on the stock market. If I knew in advance what the price of cotton was gonna be this fall, you wouldn't catch me workin' any land, I'd use my foreknowledge and take things easy from here on out. In fact, when a man can guess what the cattle market is gonna do, he ain't got any business raisin' the critters, he ought to just start buyin' and sellin'.

But I have noticed you don't find many economists stakin' their bank roll on their opinions, and consequently I don't either. As far as I know, 1952 is an unanswerable problem, same as 1951 was, but I got confidence in makin' it through the year all right and I expect to enjoy it. I guess economists are like sports predictors, they don't know any more about how a game is gonna come out than anybody else, but they got to live, too.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Over the years, through its scholarship and fellowship program, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis with March of Dimes funds has financed professional training in 28 different fields ranging from physical therapy and orthopedic nursing to sanitary engineering.

March of Dimes research grants are awarded on a basis of merit and qualifications of the personnel conducting the study upon recommendations of a Medical Advisory Board, made up of the nation's most prominent physicians and scientists serving voluntarily.

Since it was established in 1938, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has allocated more than $14,000,000 in March of Dimes funds to finance scientific research into every phase of polio.

March of Dimes funds pay for hospitalization, nursing care, physical therapy, transportation, wheelchairs, braces and crutches wherever the need is indicated.

The March of Dimes organization maintains equipment depots in seven strategically located cities to speed shipment of iron lungs, rot pack machines and other essential polio-fighting supplies to any stricken area.

Belief in Miracle Doesn't Save Man

Among the most amazing stories of all time is the feeding of five thousand people with five barley loaves and two small fishes.

Many of us are familiar with stories, ancient and modern, of the assertion of mind over matter and readily accept them as true. But Christ's multiplying of the loaves and fishes defies physical laws and modern "realists" find it hard to accept.

It is important for not only the "realists," but all, to remember that belief in miracles doesn't save, but belief in Christ as Saviour and Redeemer does.

Why try to rationalize miracles? If you can "explain" a miracle it ceases to be miraculous. It is said that in the miracle of the loaves and fishes that many of the five thousand, besides the small boy, merely followed suit and produced their own provisions. The notion is absurd in view of the plain record.

More intelligible is the suggestion that it would have been remarkable if tales of great wonder-working power had not become associated with the ministry of Jesus.

The noteworthy thing about the miracles recorded for posterity is that almost without exception the physical miracles correspond with the spiritual mission of Christ.

In the words of Jesus, "... the bread of God is he which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life unto the world."

His are miracles of feeding, healing, life-giving, all symbolic of Jesus the Bread of Life, Jesus the Healer of Souls and Jesus the Saviour and Redeemer, giving to men the new birth.

National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis chapters do not give polio treatment or care; they purchase it, with March of Dimes funds.

OTHER EDITORS SAY:—

Grass Roots Government Most Is Economical

Governor Langie said "a mouthful" in his Colfax speech Friday night when he declared "the greatest success in administering government economically is reached where government is closest to the people."

He laid the blame for increasing centralization of government where it belongs—on county, city and school board officials who have run to the state legislature and their pleas for financial aid, and on state officials who would have shed tears on the shoulders of congressmen.

Faced with the need for more funds, the local units of government, which function most efficiently because they are "closest to the people," have surrendered more and more of their powers to larger units instead of buckling down and raising money where it should have been raised—at home.

Twenty years ago, local agencies collected the biggest share of all taxes paid by the individual but today the opposite is true. Taxes paid to governmental agencies "close to the people" are of small importance compared to those collected by the state and federal governments—yet far too many people do not realize this.

Taxpayers associations continue to battle to hold down local taxes, apparently feeling powerless to do anything about the mounting federal taxes—yet they would be doing their members and society in general a far greater service if they were to unite their efforts in combating higher federal taxes.

The only answer to the dilemma is to choose more carefully the men elected to the nation's higher offices—to choose men pledged to cut federal spending and pledged to return a larger share of the tax burden to local governments.... also to elect men to local offices who believe that grass roots government should raise a larger portion of its costs.—Colfax (Wash.) Gazette-Commoner.

What Laughter Can Do For You

Laughter is a blessing provided you know when to laugh.

It is all right to laugh at yourself, and highly beneficial to do so. It is even permissible to laugh with your friends but never make the mistake of laughing at your friends.

Not every person is psychic enough to understand that your merriment is an expression of friendly sympathy and good fellowship. They hear the raucous laughter but they seldom read your mind.

The one who can laugh at his, or her mistakes will rise to become master of individual life. One who takes misfortune with a smile exhibits greater courage than those who grumble and complain and is on the road to overcoming evil.—White Country (Ind.) Democrat.

Kiva Makes its Contribution

JAMES MEMBER OF McMURRY CLUB,
A TRAINING GROUND FOR ALIENS

ABILENE — Teddy Joe James of Wellington is among a group at McMurry College that has very unconsciously turned into a training ground for male foreign students.

The group is Kiva, men's social club, and since the spring of 1950 it has pledged five foreign students — a former Japanese army officer, a Korean whose home was completely destroyed by the war, two brothers who are Spanish-Americans and an Estonian who escaped from his home-land when the Russian persecution began.

Besides James, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. James, about 30 other men's names are listed on the membership of Kiva, organized in 1939 to promote friendliness and sociability of the campus.

Byoung Kee Min from Seoul, Korea, paved the way for the other four by accepting a bid to pledge in 1950. Then the second semester, 1951 Juri Nou of Tallinn, Estonia, and Servando Trevino of Chihuahua, Mexico pledged. Shigeo Sato, the Japanese, and Mauro Trevino rounded out the five by completing their pledge-ship last semester.

To observe the quintet now — in their varied college activities, in their complete adjustment to the American way of college life, it is difficult to imagine any one of them ever feeling or acting like an outsider. Yet prior to their pledge-ship, being very unaccustomed to "extra-curricular side" of an American college, all five found themselves wondering and standing on the outside of activities. During the past two years it's been absolutely amazing to observe each of them during his period of pledging as he lost his self-consciousness, awkwardness and came from the outside of the Reservation to the inner parts of it. Yet into the inner circles each has come. They still maintain enough of their native culture though to lend a variety of atmosphere to the college. Every one of them fills at least one speaking engagement a week for local and area civic clubs.

Through certain requirements of pledging the boys have been forced to adjust to American customs, ideas and traditions to a certain extent. For instance at first all were extremely bashful about asking a girl for a date. However, since it is a strict club requirement that all pledges have dates for club socials, then dates they would get. Now all are able to enjoy a normal social life without any qualms.

In the case of Mauro Trevino the club seems to have had a very stabilizing effect, as he attended two other universities before finally settling at McMurry and filling out a degree plan.

Naturally in pledging there were a lot of difficulties for all of them, but after successfully overcoming these obstacles each is better adjusted. For instance in the case of Sato and the Japanese view that women are of a lower level than men. Sato had to become accustomed during pledging to acting

Wellington Coed
To Star in Play

ABILENE — Veda Mae Kiker, McMurry College student from Wellington, has been chosen to play one of the leading roles in the McMurry Theatre's forthcoming production, "Hansel and Gretel."

Miss Kiker in the role of Gretel and James Plumlee of Odessa as Hansel will be presented in the play 15 times before an estimated crowd of 10,000.

The play is being sponsored by the Abilene Junior Service League, in order that about 8,500 school children of Abilene and the surrounding area may see the production free of charge. Some 1,500 regular McMurry Theatre patrons are expected to bring the total audience to 10,000 or over.

Dates named for the presentation are Feb. 26-March 5, with a preview being slated Feb. 23 for members of the League and children of pre-school age. During the week-long period, both morning and afternoon performances will be given. Dates will also be announced later for two night presentations for regular patrons.

Bill Adams, director, says that technical conferences, aimed at producing a truly spectacular production, are underway. Besides planning and building all the stage settings, and part of the costumes, the members of McMurry Theatre are writing the script themselves.

Miss Kiker, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Kiker of Wellington, is a speech major and has been active in the dramatics group of the college since her enrollment in September, 1950.

R. Y. Anderson and son, Ervin, of Perryton visited Mrs. S. B. Jackson and Mrs. J. H. Anderson last week end. Mr. Anderson is the son of Mrs. Anderson and a brother to Mrs. Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gulley, Mrs. E. M. Gulley and Mrs. Ivis Prestidge and Cinda Kaye visited in Shamrock Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Prestidge.

foolish in the presence of women as well as men. He also had another big problem. He thought the members picked on him because he was a former officer for the Japanese. It wasn't until he was rid of this idea that he attained his first real happiness as an American student. The Latin pride-over class distinctions was quickly eliminated in the Trevino brothers when they started carrying shoe-shine boxes and cleaning rooms, the two most obvious signs of menial labor and an insult to the higher class Spanish-Americans.

"Course too, many amusing things have happened to both the club and the boys during their days of pledge-ship, for to say the least the usual pattern of pledging was slightly disrupted by the quintet. Like the time club members ordered Juri Nou to pull a fainting spell in a local theater. He did so and was gently carried out by the ushers, causing a mild disturbance. The next day while he was addressing a group of women at local civic organization, he was recognized by one of the previous night's theater patrons, who exclaimed much to Juri's embarrassment and confusion, "Why you poor boy, what in the world happened to you last night?"

Sato probably had the most trouble in comprehending because his English is still rather limited. For instance the pledges were given corsages of flowers and each was supposed to sell at least ten. The pledges were lined up in a row and the members were questioning them as to the results of their sales. The first boy replied, "twelve", the second, "eleven", and the third, who was Sato, said "ten". Knowing full well Sato hadn't sold any of his, the members queried him as to his truth; finally Sato replied, "Oh no, no, no, I sold some corsages, though we were counting backwards!"

Although Kiva has definitely contributed to all five of their college lives and helped each to adjust, it hasn't been a one-sided deal at all.

Members and fellow pledges have learned the real meaning of tolerance — they've even learned to write in some of the boys' native languages, but the pay-off came at Christmas. It was quite a treat to hear the Kiva boys — the group that's gradually assuming a distinct international flavor — as they sang, "Silent Night", all together, first in Korean, then in Spanish, again in Estonian, and finally in Japanese.

News of Men in Service

Marvin Vernon Fritts Jr., BM 2/C, of Amarillo, formerly of Samnorwood, was one of 300 service men to dock January 12 at Treasure Island, coming from Korea. He phoned his wife, who is living in Amarillo, that he arrived on the ship Andrew Jackson.

Fritts has been on duty on the USS Hanson, a destroyer, but left it December 24. This was his second time on the Hanron in Korean waters. Boatswain Fritts had two classes of Chinese officers for a time.

He entered the service in August, 1950. In World War II he served at a submarine base in New London, Conn.

His parents and brother, Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Fritts and his brother, Louis Fritts of Amarillo also talked with him long distance. The young Navy man hopes to be discharged soon, they said.

LUKE AFB, Phoenix, Ariz. — Private First Class Iris L. Long has recently completed basic training and is now stationed here. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin L. Long of Grand Prairie. His wife, Atha, lives in Wellington. He has two children, Joy, 3 years and Michael, born January 9th. Iris enlisted into the service in October 1951.

Stuttgart, Germany — Master Sergeant Elmer R. Roy, son of Mr. H. Lee Roy, Route 2, Wellington, arrived at Stuttgart Military Post last week and has been assigned to duty as an administrative specialist with the planning board, Stuttgart Post Headquarters announced.

During the war Sergeant Roy served in this theater for almost two years. He wears the Bronze Star medal, the European Theater ribbon with two battle stars, Occupation, World War II, and Victory ribbons.

Here on 15 day leave recently were Mr. and Mrs. Walter O'Neil and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Strickland of San Diego, where both men are stationed at the Naval Base.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Neil visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wood and Mr. and Mrs. Austin O'Neil. Parents of Mr. and Mrs. Strickland are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Light and Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Charles Rogers.

BEAR DEFIES LAW — The little guy having lunch in a Washington zoo is too busy to care, but he's living in defiance of the Law of Genetics. He's the sole surviving son of parents which include one, maybe two, hybrid bears. It started 20 years ago when a polar bear set himself up as the head of a whole line of bears that "could not be."

E. M. Strickland Sr.

O'Neil is assigned to duty at the Navy hospital while Strickland does office work.

Mrs. Strickland is employed by a bank in San Diego, and Mrs. O'Neil is teaching in a kindergarten in that city.

They left Friday to return to San Diego.

Pvt. Charles R. Walker, who entered the Air Force December 29, is now stationed at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio for his basic training.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Walker of the Elm Valley community.

Walker recently was elected councilman of his flight.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Wilkerson spent last week end in Dumas with her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rogers.

Quail Juniors
Defeat Lela

Quail junior boys and girls basketball teams defeated the Lela teams in games played at Quail Monday night.

The girls were winners 27 to 12, with Nancy Stephens high scorer with 14 points. Martha Johnson was second for the Quails with 6 points, and Louise Chapman's 8 points were high for Lela.

The Quail team led 8 to 2 at the end of the first quarter and 20 to 2 at the half. Coach Bill Phillips then sent in his second string for the remainder of the game.

Starters for Quail were June Russell, Peggy Clay, Clela Clay, Martha Johnson, Nancy Stephens and Sonia Morris. Substitutes were Glenda Phipps, Sherri Graham, Geneva White, Jessie Compton, Barbara Norman and Rita Bowen. The Quail boys took a 33 to 21 victory, leading their opponents throughout the game. The score at the first quarter was 8 to 4; at the half 18 to 8, and at the third quarter 20 to 15.

Donald Johnson was high point man with 16 points and James Young second with 5. Anderson of Lela was high point player for his team with 5 points.

Starters were Donald Johnson, James Young, Leroy Todd, Dean Maxwell and Z. J. Neeley Jr. Substitutes were Jerry Peebles, Jackie Davis, Gerald Davis, Alan Daugherty and R. A. Newman.

The junior girls have won 5 of 7 games played and the boys have won 3 of 4.

The girls will play in the Memphis junior tournament this week end, meeting Dumas in their first game.

More Efficient Engine and New Styling Will Distinguish Oldsmobile for 1952

Major style changes and important mechanical improvements characterize the Oldsmobile 1952 models being introduced today (January 24) in Oldsmobile dealerships throughout the United States. Innovations in the new models, according to J. F. Wolf-ram, Oldsmobile general manager and vice president of General Motors, are a more efficient 160-h.p. "Rocket" engine with the high performance Quadri-Jet carburetor in the Series "98" and Super "88" cars; complete new styling and more luxurious interiors in the "98"; a new Super range for increased performance of Hydra-Matic Drive, and GM power steering, both available at extra cost.

Oldsmobile presents three lines of cars in 1952. The Classic Series "98", powered by the improved 160-h.p. "Rocket" engine, is available in three body styles — four-door sedan, Holiday coupe and convertible coupe. The Super "88" uses the same "Rocket" engine and has five body types — four-door sedan, two-door sedan, Holiday coupe, convertible coupe and club coupe. The Deluxe "88" series is offered in the four-door and two-door sedan and is powered by a 145-h.p. version of the "Rocket" engine with dual downdraft carburetor.

The overall length of the Classic "98" Series has been increased from 208 to 213 inches. Wheelbase also has been increased two inches to 124 inches. A rear stabilizer bar has been added in the rear, improving car handling and stability and minimizing side sway at high speeds. There is greater rear deck length, making more luggage space available in the spacious trunk.

In exterior styling, the Classic "98" with its high rear fenders and long deck creates a new styling silhouette. The wrap-around rear window is now one single piece of curved safety glass. The Holiday coupe has a distinctive round Holiday medallion on the brightwork where the roof and rear window meet the rear quarter panel.

Interior appointments of the Oldsmobile 1952 models reflect more luxurious upholstery combinations and a tasteful selection of matching colors. Instrument panel, seats, carpeting, headlining, door panels and interior trim all harmonize in pleasant and colorful shades. Broadcloth, leather, nylon and Bedford cord offer a broad choice of upholstery in the various series to promote the individualized treatment available in Oldsmobile body styles for 1952.

The Deluxe "88" Series Oldsmobile for 1952 has a larger and roomier Fisher body, with a longer wheelbase of 120 inches and overall length of 204 inches. This makes it comparable in size to the Super "88". A variation in exterior trim and a black rubber gravel shield distinguish it from the Super "88". The 145-h.p. "Rocket" engine with dual downdraft carburetor marks an increase of 10 h.p. over the 1951 model.

The 1952 Super "88" is powered by the same "Rocket" engine that drives the Classic "98". The Super "88", like the "98", uses the Quadri-Jet carburetor that accounts for the improved efficiency and boosts the horsepower rating from 135-h.p. to 160-h.p. Compression ratio is 7.5 to 1. The Super "88" also has a new rear stabilizer that improves car handling and reduces side sway.

Due to the 25 additional horsepower developed, other changes have been made in the 1952 "Rocket" engine. Sturdier pistons have been installed. This in turn has necessitated the addition of heavier counter-weights on the five-bearing crankshaft to compensate for the power increase. Increase of the ratio of the valve travel to the rocker arm has raised the valve lift and thus contributed to the greater horsepower.

The Quadra-Jet carburetor is a further advance in high compression engine development achieved by Oldsmobile engineers. It consists essentially of a primary and a secondary carburetor, each of the dual downdraft type. There are four barrels essential to safe driving. It is used in conjunction with the regular mechanical steering linkage and does not change the amount of wheel turn by the driver.

The GM hydraulic steering system offers smooth positive steering with little effort on the driver's part. Action of the steering gear on light loads is entirely mechanical. When three pounds or more of pressure is applied to the steering wheel, such as in parking, a booster pump is actuated and this lessens the effort necessary to turn the wheel. The hydraulic pump is driven by the car engine and builds up enough pressure to overcome the resistance to rotation

Quail Teams Win From Lelia Lake

The Quail basketball teams won two games from the Lelia Lake teams Friday night at Lelia Lake. The Bobwhites of Quail, playing without four regular team mates who were ill with the flu defeated the Lelia Lake girls by a score of 65 to 53. Led by Jo White who scored 49 points for the Bobwhites, the Quail girls played ahead of the Lelia Lake girls all of the way.

of the steering apparatus. The pressure required of the driver to put the hydraulic pump into action allows him the "feel" of steering and maintains the "feel" throughout the turning cycle. GM hydraulic steering does not steer beyond the path the driver has set.

Elizabeth Wilson played a good game for the Bobwhites as forward and Erma Lee Farris scored 14 points to help her team win. The guards for the Bobwhites were Ginger Miller, Juanita Boen, Alice Wilkerson and Joan Kirkland. The guards played a good game all of the way through. Juanita Boen was the outstanding guard of the game.

Butler of the Lelia Lake girls team was high point scorer with 29 points.

The Quails won over the Lelia Lake boys 38 to 36 in one of the tightest games the Quail team has played this year. Lelia Lake lead until the last few minutes of the game, when the Quails added up enough goals to give them the two-point lead. Jasper Peebles was high scorer with 23 points, while Jessie Young played the outstanding defensive game for the Quails.

Leach and Curry VFW Delegates

Donald Curry and Jim Leach were appointed delegates to the mid-winter roundup of Veterans of Foreign Wars in Abilene January 19 and 20 by members of the local post in a meeting Thursday, January 17.

Plans were made for the observance of National VFW week. Present for the meeting were Commander Russell Yates, Senior vice commander J. N. Glasgow, Junior vice commander Ross Swift, Quartermaster Jim Leach, and Hubert Mauldin, Howard Hunt, Jake Leach, Kenneth Dopson, David Robinson, Billie Earl Wallace, Jack Scott, Bear Bowen, Kelly White, Donald Curry and Taylor Lowrie.

Fifth Grade Visits Wellington Leader

A class of fifth grade students, along with their teacher, Mrs. Jack Davis, visited The Wellington Leader Monday afternoon, January 21, as a part of their study of newspapers.

The group was shown through both the editorial and mechanical departments of the paper.

The students included Billie Anglin, Ray Henry, Linda Leigh Brantley, Wanda Bowen, Janet Ann Jones, Brenda Nell Norman, Glenna Jean Ward, Edna Fay Bryant, Bobby Lee Sisk, John David Johnson, Grover Graham, Carroll Nunnelley, Robert Owens, Tom Belew, Omer Condor, Emmitt Longley, Faye Gray, Patricia Hughes, Joan Henry, Virginia Graves, Glenda Fay Ward, Retha Manila Linville, Pauline Tucker, Dolly Marcella Savage, Ruby Mae Miller, Jo Ann Langford, Sandra Kaye White, Harmon Hudson, De Holliman, Dewey McGill, Jerry Scott, Earnest Peach, and Danny Ammons.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Sullivan of Amarillo visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Weaver over the week end.

New Dress Rooms For Quail Gym

Two new dressing rooms for the Quail gymnasium have been completed and will be used by visiting teams, Supt. Herman Moseley said this week.

The rooms were built by the Future Farmers and their instructor, Frank Kennedy, along with a few of the adult leaders of the community.

The junior teams will use these rooms except for the time visiting players are at Quail.

The girls room will accommodate approximately 30 players and the boys dressing room 55 players.

Jackie Moore and Faye Cox, freshmen at Bethany College, Bethany, Oklahoma, spent Thursday and Friday visiting with Vada Cook. Miss Moore is a former resident of Wellington.

Lord Jim Says--

By Bill Hughes

I write eagerly about the prospects for the year 1952.

More money and more power is involved in this election than any in your history. In fact, you will find that the present spending and power, a prime issue in this election, is greater than all of 'em put together in the U. S. A. More people are dependent upon those in power than ever before. There are now many more big shots in power with no scruples, no integrity, no principle beyond greed and selfish ambition. The underworld never had so much influence in high places on so vast a scale. But you will change this in 1952.

Division is everywhere. Unity is only among thieves.

American lives in Korea are being sacrificed to serve political expediency at home and, internationally, the old world game of balanced power. You are playing it with foreigners who are utterly the masters of your present leaders' brain power, experience, and moral delinquency.

The great American people are being subjected to hypnotic promises, distorted idealism of the old world that makes Stalin and Company pikers, and false lures so untenable that even the fish in the sea run from them. Again I say, you will change this in 1952.

The whole question for America hinges upon whether you people not only can see, but do actually believe in the greater power and good of God and individual worth, rather than in pitiful and so temporary materialism and in the illusory luxury of the moment. After that and finally, it hinges on whether or not there is enough courage, and will, enough character, enough love of God and liberty left to rise up and cut out this cancerous drift that has sooner or later laid low every nation of people in the whole history of the world. I think there is.

"It cannot happen here," but it is. You are still the richest people on this earth, but you are being out-brained and constantly divided and drained, not only by many powers of lesser wealth, but by your own leaders seeking to cover their blunders, perjuries, and to perpetuate their power at the expense of your individual identity, your independence and your self-determination. This, Americans, has been your own doing. This is the price of security, of something for nothing of government paternalism of neglecting to vote which in the end will destroy the very materialism that you are now depraving your souls to keep!

Since in the final analysis no name, American, English, Chinese, German, French, etc., alters the true nature of man himself, perhaps man will only know peace and happiness when the whole world materially is poorer than a church mouse and the prize of man is peace of mind and the sunrise, instead of golden ulcers and crimson atomic explosions.

A toast to a hope for America and mankind in 1952. But it is all up to you and to you, each and everyone of you. You cannot leave it to the other guy. Every individual who does not vote, automatically votes against this hope, votes against freemen, votes against America, votes against liberty and justice, votes against the efforts for peace.

Precinct conventions are the fundamental concern of all. You must participate. You must vote—all of you. That is the hope for 1952.

Mrs. S. G. White, County Pioneer, Dies at Artesia

Mrs. S. G. White of Artesia, N. M., who with her family lived here during the county's pioneering days, died at her home January 6, at the age of 92. She was the mother of Mrs. John Henard and a sister-in-law of J. H. White of Wellington.

Funeral services were conducted at the First Methodist Church, Artesia, January 8, with the Rev. R. L. Willingham and Rev. C. A. Clark officiating. Burial was in that city.

Grandsons were pall bearers, and included from this county Dan Henard, John Robert Henard and Edd Henard.

Mrs. White was born near Chapel Hill, N. C. February 26, 1859 and moved with her parents to Collin County, Texas, in 1860, before the Civil War. She was married to Samuel G. White of Nevada, Texas, on January 9, 1879. They moved to Hunt County in 1882, to Bowie in 1885, and to Collingsworth County in 1890, settling in the Aberdeen community. Four years later they went to Hall County and to New Mexico in 1904. They had lived at Artesia since 1908.

Mrs. White is survived by nine children: Mrs. Eugenia Wright of Memphis, Mrs. Willie Montgomery of Corpus Christi, Oscar D. White of Roswell, Mrs. Henard of Wellington, Mrs. Conrad Hatchitt of Quanah, Sam E. White of Encino, Mrs. K. R. Rowan of Sunland, Calif., Mrs. Roy Vaughn of Amarillo and Mrs. E. L. Collins of Artesia. Another son, Robert J. White, died on April 1, 1951.

Going from here to the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. John Henard, who were also at her bedside for two weeks prior to her death; Mr. and Mrs. John Robert Henard, Dan Henard, Ed Henard, Mr. and Mrs. Elzie White and Leonard Bumpas.

Hall County REA Gets $50,000

WASHINGTON — A loan of $50,000 to the Hall County Electric Cooperative, Memphis, has been approved by the Rural Electrification Administration, REA informed Senator Tom Connally today.

The money will be used to finance improvements, the purchase of wiring, plumbing facilities, and irrigation facilities by members of the coop in Hall, Cottle, Childress, Motley, Donley, Briscoe, Collingsworth, and Floyd Counties.

March of Dimes Will Reach New High in Texas

AUSTIN — The March of Dimes, January 2-31, will reach new heights this year in Texas, believes state chairman, Lloyd Gregory of Houston.

"With the assistance of thousands of volunteer polio fighters in every Texas county, better organized, better supplied, and better informed than ever before about the service program of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis good results should be predetermined," Gregory said this week.

An example of outstanding cooperation pointed to by Gregory is the support offered by representatives of 57 state-wide organizations, many of which have organized for the campaign in their local units throughout Texas.

Examples of all-out effort in the move to provide Texas county chapters and the National Foundation with sufficient funds for polio treatment, education, and research have come from many varied groups.

Gregory announced that messages requesting local support had been sent to National Guard units, Fourth Army units, theatres, local chapters of Epsilon Sigma Alpha, the United Daughters of the Confederacy, local posts of the American Legion and chapters of the Disabled American Veterans, unions in the Texas Federation of Labor, local brotherhoods of the Railroad Trainmen and Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Texas Hospital Association.

Also, county chairmen of the Texas Home Demonstration Association, Rotary Clubs, members of the Outdoor Advertising Association of America, clubs of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, Rebekah Assemblies of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, women's auxiliaries of the Texas Medical Association, and district presidents of the Texas Council of Church Women.

Gregory said he was certain other letters had been sent by state officers of organizations about which he had not been informed. The state polio chairman declared it seemed to him that everyone was eager to see that enough money would be raised to guarantee that no polio patients needing help would be denied, that Texas would pay its own way in patient care, and contribute its share to the National research, professional medical education, and epidemic aid programs.

Virginia Evans spent Sunday in Quanah visiting a friend, Kathleen Sparks.

LaFont Definitely In Senate Race

Rep. Harold M. LaFont of Plainview has informed The Wellington Leader that he has definitely made up his mind to make the race for State Senator in the new 30th Senatorial District.

This district includes Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Motley, Childress, Hall, Briscoe, Swisher, Castro, Farmer, Deaf Smith, Armstrong, Donley and Collingsworth counties.

Mr. LaFont said that he will make formal announcement of his candidacy at a later date.

Welcome to Wellington

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. McKeever and children, Lurlene, Roberta and Burlin, moved here recently from Paducah.

The family is living in the Aberdeen community, on the farm of Mrs. Donnie Ammons.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Edwards spent Sunday in Shamrock visiting with relatives.

LIVEWEIGHT TRACTION

gives farming a real boost!

When your field work calls for more real pull, live-weight traction will see you through.

The hydraulic TRACTION BOOSTER in the CA and WD Tractors changes deadweight to liveweight. Weight of both tractor and implement is automatically shifted to bear down on drive wheels when soil is stubborn and tillage is tough.

The hydraulic TRACTION BOOSTER reduces wheel slippage — enables the CA and WD to do draw-bar jobs that normally would require heavier tractors. Stop in and let us show you how it works.

15 different American stock automobiles—equipped as you buy them—were driven by Motor Trend Magazine as hard as steel and rubber can be driven. In these actual road tests of efficiency and performance, measured by the most accurate instruments obtainable, Chrysler proved itself superior to all others. In 13 tests Chrysler was first in 7—tied in 2, making a total of 9 out of 13... and first in total points!

Only by taking an engine to the limit of its potential, only by turning the corners at high speeds, applying brakes for emergency stops, torturing body, springs and shock absorbers, can you learn just what performance you can expect from the make of car you drive. The results of the Motor Trend tests were conclusive... as Chrysler, again, proved itself the one best car in America.

The Motor Trend Award, like numerous other honors today's Chrysler has won, is both a proof of and a tribute to Chrysler's magnificent Fire-Power engine and master engineering. Each demonstrates why, among men and women who know automobiles... Chrysler is always the first choice.

1951 City Taxes Due

1951 Taxes for the City of Wellington are due and payable on or before January 31, 1952.

Taxes which are not paid by that time will become past due on February 1, 1952, and will take a penalty, with interest to be added until paid.

Taxes become delinquent July 1, 1952 — and a larger penalty is incurred.

All property owners in the city are urged to pay their taxes before the end of the payment time.

Don Willingham spoke at the Church of Christ n Quail Sunday, in the absence of the Minister Atkinson. A good attendance was reported.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Price and family have moved to Childress to make their home. We regret to lose them from our community but wish them the best of luck.

Mrs. Maudie Harrison returned Wednesday from a six-weeks stay in California. In Sacramento she visited with her daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Jackson and daughter, Zalese, and Miss Neva Harrison. The latter is employed by the State Water Resources Commission, while Mr. and Mrs. Jackson are employed in the Post Office of that city. From Sacramento she went to San Diego to visit a brother, Vernie Mays, whom she had not seen in a number of years.

Official Memorandum

BY

ALLAN SHIVERS
Governor of Texas

AUSTIN, TEXAS

GREETINGS:

The Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States is made up of men who have served overseas in the Armed Forces of our Nation in time of war in defense of American institutions.

The principles of the Veterans of Foreign Wars reflect the highest ideals and aspirations of the patriotic citizens of this great state. The Department of Texas, Veterans of Foreign Wars, through its aggressive leadership, has contributed much to the welfare of Texas.

All members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, throughout the United States and elsewhere, will observe the period of January 24 to 31, 1952, as National V.F.W. Week.

Therefore, I, as Governor of Texas, hereby designate the period of January 24 - 31, 1952, as in Texas, and call upon all loyal Texans to join me in saluting the members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and in expressing our grateful appreciation for the patriotic and unselfish contributions which this organization is constantly making to our national welfare and security.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 14th day of Jan. 1952

Allan Shivers
Governor of Texas

Big Prizes for the Winners

STUDENTS OF 13 SCHOOLS ENTER GREENBELT ELEC. ESSAY CONTEST

Students from thirteen schools in counties served by the Greenbelt Rural Electric Co-operative, Inc., have entered the essay contest now being sponsored by Mrs. Roy Bounds, electrification advisor, has announced.

The contestants may choose any phase of electricity they wish for their papers.

Two divisions are set up, one Greenbelt lines, and the other for students whose homes are on homes not serviced by it. Identical prizes will be awarded in each division, and will include first prizes of a radio; second, choice of electric mixer or electric motor; and third, desk lamps. One student from each school will also receive pin-up lamps.

Greenbelt is also planning a surprise gift to reach school participating.

The papers will be taken up in mid-February, and the winners announced and the awards presented at the annual meeting April 25, Mrs. Bounds said.

Schools entering the contest include Wellington, Dodson, Vinson, Samnorwood, Quail, Wheeler, Mobeetie, Lefors, McLean, Clarendon, Hedley, Goodnight, and Claudon.

Rogers to Seek Senate Office

Concerning his plans for candidacy for the place of Senator from the newly created senatorial district, A. J. "Andy" Rogers of Childress, has sent The Wellington Leader the following information.

"For several months I have been laying the groundwork necessary so that I might make the race for State Senator in the new district which has been created in our area.

"As yet I have not had the opportunity to contact all the newspapermen of the district personally. I will do so in the next few weeks. While my funds will be limited, I will make every effort to announce in all the newspapers in our new district as soon as possible.

"Several weeks ago I noticed that a number of newspapers in our area announced the event of the future announcement of another possible candidate. I had not intended to impose upon you in such a manner, but if it will not inconvenience you, and you are one of those who carried the above mentioned announcement, I would appreciate such a short news story about myself. I will be a candidate.

"My entire livelihood is derived from farming. I have been a member of the Texas House of Representatives for nearly four years representing Motley, Cottle, Childress and Hall counties."

Maxine Cook to Graduate Thurs.

Friends here have received announcements of the graduation of Maxine Cook from Forest Avenue High School in Dallas. The commencement is to be held January 24.

Maxine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cook, 1227 Strickland, Dallas. The family formerly lived here.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Barrow of San Antonio and Mrs. Pat Harbourn of Dimmitt visited their sister, Mrs. Earl Tollett, and family from Thursday to Monday.

SALT FORK

By MRS. R. H. ISBELL

Mr. and Mrs. Holcomb of Carnegie, Oklahoma, are visiting their daughter and family, Mrs. Rex Joyner. They attended Sunday school here Sunday morning.

Dee Harris isn't feeling as well as usual. He had another attack Saturday night.

Clyde Gollighugh visited his uncle Duard Harris during the week end and helped him pull cotton Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cummings and son visited last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Cummings, and Mr. and Mrs. Hallmark and boys.

Darrell Morris was sick with the flu Sunday and couldn't attend Sunday school.

Mr. Dude Bruce was a dinner guest in the J. W. Gollighugh home Friday.

Folks out this way are getting through pulling cotton.

C. A. Wright and J. W. Gollighugh finished pulling Wednesday. R. T. McKeever of Aberdeen finished pulling R. H. Isbell's cotton on the Wright farm Wednesday. Mr. McKeever and Lurline, Roberta and Burlin visited Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Isbell Wednesday.

Oran Starkey and his helper have been doing some work on his farm out here lately.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hallmark are back home from Garman where they attended his grandfather's funeral. He was run over by a train a few weeks before he died. At the time of the accident it was decided he wasn't seriously hurt. He was driving a pickup truck and never saw the train. He never got over his injury, and he gradually got worse and died. Doctors said he had a blood clot on his brain.

Doris Cummings and his brothers helped their grandfather, J. P. Cummings pull cotton Saturday.

Mrs. J. P. Cummings, Charles Wright and R. H. Isbell attended the singing in Wellington Sunday afternoon.

Wednesday night is study time again in our WSCS. We hope all members and anyone else interested will come. It is at the Wright Isbell home. We're studying the book of Acts.

Jackie Isbell was sick last Friday.

New Aero Willys
Low and Wide...Big Inside...and It's Beautiful

IT HAS EVERYTHING
YOU WANT IN A FINE CAR...

The comfort of a smooth, quiet air-borne ride... with road roughness and vibration soaked up by rubber-cushioned springs, aero-type shock absorbers and drive system floated on rubber pillows.

Interior roominess for six adults, with 61-inch-wide seating, front and rear.

"Take-off" performance with the new 90-h.p. 6-cylinder Hurricane Engine... 7.6 compression... uses regular gas.

Panoramic visibility... all 4 fenders can be seen from the driver's seat.

Aero-Design beauty... just 5 feet high... streamlined from its distinctive new plane-wing hood to the rear air-fins.

Record economy—up to 35 miles on a gallon of gasoline, with overdrive.

Come in and see America's only full-size car that gives up to 35 miles per gallon
