RODEO, BARBECUE SET

Frontier Days Celebration Starts Three Day Shindig

Frontier Days Celebration gets off to a fast start in Colorado City today with a 5:30-7 p.m. barbecue on tap at the Mitchell County Fairgrounds. At the same scene, months of beard growing by many local male citizens will come to an end with contest judging to select the top beards, mustaches, goatees and sideburns for the entire celebration period.

Beard judging is set for 6 p.m. The Frontier Days rodeo, with the stock being furnished by George Haynes of Round Mountain, will have three nightly performances today through Saturday. Rodeo headquarters at the Baker Hotel reported the entry lists to be growing by "leaps and bounds" with the bull riding event already completed with a full slate of riders. Officials were well-pleased with the large number of entrants in the six events on the program with participants from the area, state and out-of-state filling the bill. Deadline for entering was at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

The six events on the rodeo card include bareback bronc riding, saddle bronc riding, bull riding, calf roping, team roping and barrel racing. In addition a calf scramble will add to the excitement of each night's performance. Colorful banding decorates many of the city's business places.

The Jaycee Jail has been erected and put into operation for all violators of the whiskey ordinance in the community. Sale of shaving permits has been on the increase for these not choosing to "ban the shaving bomb" in the period prior and during the Frontier Days.

Badges may still be purchased from members of the Jaycees and the Western Riding Club — co-sponsors of the Frontier Days Celebration and Rodeo. Whisker officers will be checking close during the festivities for one of two things — either a fuzzy growth of facial hair or the presence of that black and white shaving badge.

Tommy Marricle will handle announcing booth chores during the three rodeo performances at the arena west of the city.

Local residents are invited to join in the fun 'n festivities of the celebration by all members of the local sponsors of the events.

Burglars Make Big Haul At Local Electric Shop

Owner Estimates Loss At $2,500

Burglars had a big haul in a break-in at a local electric shop Tuesday night.

Law enforcement officers have failed to turn up any clues as to the burglar's identification at the present time, but the investigation is continuing.

A charge of felony theft was filed here Tuesday against a Lubbock man whose auto and identification had been found at the burglary scene by investigators.

Further checking by local officers, who traveled to Lubbock Tuesday, found that the man identified in the charge had reported his billfold and auto stolen on May 27 at Lubbock police.

Local officials then prepared to drop the felony charge against the man whose auto still had not been recovered.

Jay Guelker, owner of C. City Electric, first reported the burglary to local police at 8:03 a.m. Tuesday when he arrived for work at the shop located at 113 Robert Lee Highway.

Entrance was gained to the padlock on the back door.

All of the wire taken was new according to Guelker who explained that the wire was highly expensive and also in short supply. The loss was not covered by insurance according to Guelker.

Stealing of copper wire in the area has been happening at a high rate according to police with many cases of theft being reported.

James Hull, manager for Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative, reports the organization has incurred an expense of $1,500 due to the loss and replacement cost of copper wire. The Coop has voted to give a $100 reward to anyone furnishing information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons found stealing the wire.

Hull also noted the Coop was installing aluminum wire to replace the copper in order to cut down on the thefts.

Guelker said he had been extremely careful to keep copper wire locked up when working on jobs outside his shop due to the high incidence of theft of the material.

The wire taken Monday night was in buckets and on reels.

All of the containers were marked with Guelker's and the firm's names.

Brands of the wire in the buckets were Anaconda, Magna-Pak and IWI while all of the reel wire was General Electric.

The magnetic wire taken in the burglary is of the type used in rewinding electric motors Guelker said.

Included in the haul was 200 feet of 24-conductor microwave cable and 185 feet of 3/10 THW wire on a reel.

Officers are making checks of all salvage dealers in the area who purchase scrap wire.

Working on the case are the Colorado City Police Department, Mitchell County Sheriff's office and Texas Ranger Gene Graves.

Chiropractors Will Attend Convention

Three Colorado City chiropractors, Dr. Elton H. Berkman, Dr. Virginia B. Berkman and Dr. William A. Pattillo, are expected to be among the 700 Texas chiropractors who will attend the annual convention of the Texas State Chiropractic Association in Houston, June 9-11, it was announced here today.

Dr. Elton Berkman is also scheduled to serve as chairman of the convention's resolutions committee and be master of ceremonies for the banquet.

Main speakers at the convention will be Ben Barnes, speaker of the House of Representatives, and two nationally recognized chiropractic educators, Dr. Earl A. Rich, vice-president of Lincoln Chiropractic College in Indianapolis, Indiana, an x-ray authority, and F. Maynard Lipe, president of the American Society of Chiropractic Orthopedists and dean of the graduate school at Los Angeles College of Chiropractic.

During the convention a "superior journalism award" for outstanding community service will be given to the editor of a Texas weekly newspaper and the name of the outstanding chiropractor of the year announced.

WINS NOMINATION

Martin Sweeps Mitchell County

Former secretary of state Crawford Martin swept to a landslide victory in the second Democratic primary Saturday in an extremely light turnout of Mitchell County voters balloting for the attorney general nominee.

Martin romped away from his runoff opponent, State Senator Franklin Spears, by more than a 2-1 majority in the county. Over the state the winner ran up an impressive majority of near 2-1.

The meager unofficial turnout in the county of 388 votes was even lighter than most observers had predicted. A lack of any local runoff and minimum interest in the attorney general's race is said to account for the low vote.

Final unofficial figures gave

Martin, 277 votes, to 111 for Spears.

In the county's largest voting box of precinct one, Burton and Colorado City, Martin took a decisive 109-50 win including all of the four absentee ballot cast.

Precinct two including Carr, Cumber and Westbrook gave Martin a very narrow edge 13-15.

Martin swept through precinct three, Spade and Civic house boxes, by 31-14 and placed further away from his challenger in Lorraine Landers with a 62-34 budge.

Martin, who had the unofficial endorsement of the County administration in Austin, ran true to form in Mitchell County after winning a decisive number of votes here in the first primary in May by polling 1,066 to Spears 511. Spears, the young state senator from San Antonio, failed to come up with needed strong majorities in the metropolitan areas and fell by the wayside in the wake of Martin's huge vote total.

NOW PAYING 4.15% WHEN HELD TO MATURITY

Mr. Jack Benny, distinguished star of the entertainment world, may not have a computer's memory when it comes to his age, but his dates are accurate about Savings Bonds. The first Series E U.S. Savings Bond was issued 25 years ago on May 1, 1941, by Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau to President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

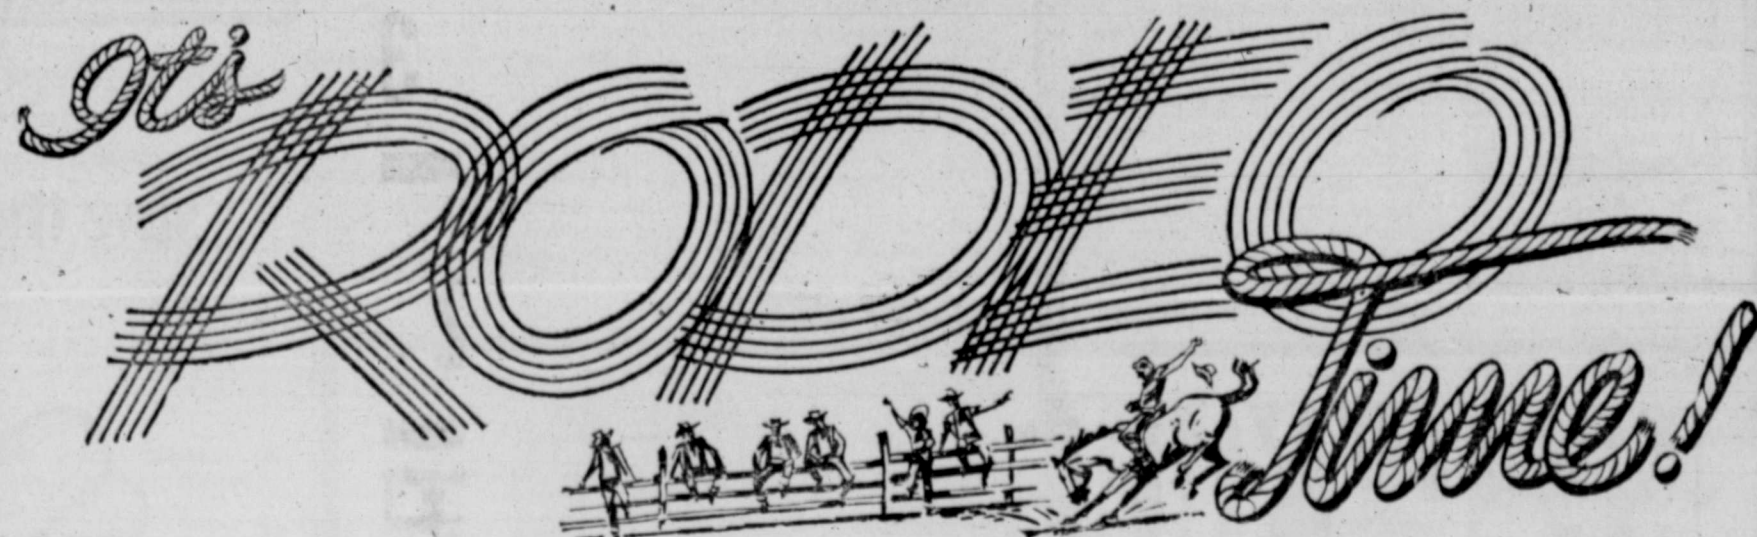

Mr. Benny was already famous as a radio comedian (the youngest in the business, by his own admission). And in the years which followed, he proved himself to be a good friend of the Bond Program, not only buying Bonds, but helping to sell them to the American people.

Why not start building your nest egg with Savings Bonds—for yourself, and to back up our men in Vietnam. But give it a chance to build up by starting young. Like Jack Benny.

NOW—Savings Bonds Pay 4.15%! Interest on new E and H Bonds you purchase has been raised to 4.15% when held to maturity. E Bonds mature faster—now in just 7 years. Your old Bonds will earn more, too. Savings Bonds are better to buy, and hold, than ever.

Womack To Head Society's Work

George Womack of Colorado City has been named Easter Seal representative for Mitchell County.

chell. As the Texas Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults representative, Womack will be the person to contact in requesting assistance or services of the Society.

Womack's appointment was announced by Robert W. Milam, M. D., of McAllen, Texas, chairman of the Case Service Committee. Last year the Society aided 14,395 Texans in the form of treatments, services, equipment loans and related aids. The Society is carrying out a program to reach every disabled person in the state who needs assistance. This program is to insure that every disabled child and adult has an equal opportunity at a normal way of life.

Womack urged that any person needing assistance from the Easter Seal Society contact him at the City National Bank here. There is no charge for these services, he added.

Disabled Texans are aided by the Texas Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults regardless of age, race, cause of disability or financial status. Womack said in order to secure services that a disabled person or their family should contact him.

The Texas Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults is the oldest organization providing direct care and treatment for the crippled children and adults of Texas.

CONVERSATION CORNER

HOW LOW is your boring point? NOT your boiling point which has to do with how quick-tempered you are, how fast you get "mad."

What were talking about here, is just how low is your boring point? How quick-bored? How fast do you get bored anyway?

Don't cheat, if you vow that you never get bored with anything or anybody, you're suspect. You're either dead, too mentally lazy to care, or just a natural prevaricator.

If your boring point is such that you could boast "I bore, easily," you need real sympathy... a change of scenery... or maybe one of those fine pills, TV commercials promise will change your disposition from acid to angelic.

BEST WAY to keep from spending too much time being bored is to make yourself a check list of exactly what wears you down... then run like blazes, in self defense. "Course nobody is ever going to escape being bored upon occasion. You're sure to get cornered once in a while. There are those times when changing the subject simply doesn't work.

Only thing you can do, then, is to think about something else — something more pleasant — while the details of the operation... or the neighbors' marital problems, credit rating... or some other long tale of woe or scandal goes on and on and on.

THINKING about something more pleasant comes easy, once you get the hang of it. It does take a little practice, though.

Thinking something pleasant is fun, even when you're all alone, anyhow, and not particularly worried about anything or anybody... except maybe the age-old ills of the whole world. Disease... war... prejudice... and plain hate.

Ever try thinking about all the tiresome things you have not got to do? Like making soap as your feminine ancestors had to? Or milking two cows?

EVER think about all the nice things you have not got to do — yet? Just think of the possibilities! Have never yet tasted an artichoke, have you? Or eaten passion fruit, either. Have never got to ride in a dog sled... or a helicopter... or a sail boat in the moonlight.

Never saw an orange tree full of fruit... or picked an orchid. Never tried surf boarding... or water skiing. Never visited one of those fashionable havens specializing in making ladies more beautiful.

Never turned down a country road just to see where it winds... and always have wanted to.

PEOPLE who live long enough should never have to be bored — for long. There's still too much to see, to taste, to try, to do.

And with enough practice you can concentrate on all the good things you expect to experience some of these days.

It's only fair to issue a warning here, however. There's a very real danger that should you think about something pleasant while you're supposed to be listening to something unpleasant, you'll get caught at it.

How would it sound right in the middle of somebody's saga of surgery if you broke in to say "Have you ever eaten an artichoke?"

And just how many friends would you have left if you interrupted a depressing discussion of anatomy, say with "Did you ever sleep in an igloo?"

HAD the absolute delight of seeing for the first time a little lovely from Baton Rouge, La.

Her name is Crystal Jones and she is granddaughter of Betsy and Buster (Robert Jr.) Aycock, great grandchild of the Fielding Lees, Sr.

Crystal, who is two, is the beautiful little girl child of Cynthia Aycock Jones and her husband. And guess what? She inherited the red hair of her grandmother Betsy... only Crystal's is more red-gold than auburn.

SEEN LATELYS were Fanny Fay Feaster (Mrs. Orin) on the downtown scene... Dr. Ralph Graham, too, in conversation with Mabel Kelley (Mrs. Frank H.) on the post office steps.

Jeff Taylor breezing along... Bill Randle on an office visit... Joe Barnett, husband of Ruth... Don Benson supervising, strictly supervising, the watering of the grass on the new TESCO office lawn... Bob Kelly saying this column was in error (again).

"My son said tell you," Bob waggishly announced, "that I had not rather talk sports than to eat. That there is nothing in this world I'd rather do than eat."

Right on top of that Eddie Brasswell vigorously denied hunting possums. "I'm a coon man," he vowed, "and it's simply not the same as."

C'est la vie.

HEAR TELL our little Joan Mann Watlington, wife of Raymond, broke a bone in her foot which takes her off her downtown job for now.

Hear, too, that the Ralph Lees and Mrs. J. D. Norman met Eva and Ted Bossenroth of Austin and Rodney and Sarah (Norman) Lee and their children of Waco at Brownwood, Saturday night and Sunday for a family houseparty and Sabbath Day visit.

That Louise (Mrs. Sam) Gelsenberger and her father Bert Wulffjen have returned from Natchez, Miss. There is to be a Wulffjen family reunion, hear tell, in Community Center, Sunday, June 19. That means Dora Wulffjen-Winn should be home from Arizona, soon, and that her sister Mrs. S. H. Wallis will likely come with her.

The Pace family has a reunion scheduled for Sunday June 26, too.

OFF THE CUFF: Raymond Gary is here from Dallas completely redoing his house on Chestnut St.

Debbie Baker, daughter of Alice and Curtis, is now Worthy Advisor for the C-City Rainbow Girls, inducted Saturday evening.

Our Lucille Raer, daughter of the Jim Bodines, leaves June 9 for a 70-day tour of Europe as guide for about 50 University of Texas students. Her party will go by ocean liner and come home by air.

Lucille is assistant program director for the University Union. Her son Jim, who recently won a rifle medal at Schreiner in Kerrville, is attending summer school at Colorado High while his mother is away.

DAUGHTER of the Virgil Stones, Janet, and her husband Ronald Rogers left Monday, by the way, for their vacation and delayed honeymoon trip.

Janet and Ronald will spend two weeks in Mexico City and in Acapulco.

The Stones, as you know, are living now in Mineral Wells where Virgil is constructing a beautiful new (Baptist) Church.

"We love the beauty of this part of the country," says a little note from Gerry (Mrs. Stone). "We are sitting on a hilltop with seven large oak trees in our back yard and two in the front. Flowering shrubs, beautiful orchards, spring gardens, red birds, bluejays, squirrels everywhere."

"It somehow makes you feel closer to God. But the climate and the people here can't compare to those in C-City."

It's little letters like that which make a columnist glad to be alive... and glad to be a livin' "rightthere" in C-City.

'Reg' Gary Funeral Held

Funeral for Reginald (Reg) Gary, 63, was held in Inglewood, Calif., at 3 p.m., Tuesday.

Mr. Gary, reared here and in Loraine, was the son of the late C. P. Gary. He is survived by two brothers, John Gary of Aromas, Calif., and Raymond Gary of Dallas.

Also surviving is his sister-in-law, Mrs. Em Harwood whose home he had shared since the death of his wife.

While he had been in ill health for several years, Mr. Gary's death, Saturday in his sleep, was unexpected. He had visited in the home of Mrs. C. P. Gary for several days, last December.

Frontier Days

A lot of activities are scheduled in the next three days during the annual Frontier Days Celebration.

There'll be three big performances of what promises to be a top flight rodeo with cowboys and cowgirls in attendance from around the area and neighboring states. And of course there will be the local performers well-known to all of us to add that necessary touch of local color.

On opening day, that's today, there will also be a beard judging contest and barbecue.

These events should provide a lot of fun and entertainment for the entire family. So let's all be in the audience when the first chute opens tonight.

Mrs. Robby Lynn Thomas ... Formerly Miss Mary Alicia Hamrick

CHURCH CHAPEL

Hamrick-Thomas Vows Repeated In Ft. Worth

A wedding of interest to Colorado City took place in Ft. Worth Saturday evening, May 28, at seven, when Miss Mary Alicia Hamrick became the bride of Robby Lynn Thomas. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Truett J. Hamrick of 3108 Mary's Lane, Ft. Worth, formerly of Colorado City. She is granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fielding E. Lee Sr., 1220 Vine St., and of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hamrick, 620 East 9th, all of Colorado City.

Marriage of Miss Hamrick and Mr. Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy J. Thomas, 7701 Norman Ave., Ft. Worth, was solemnized in the chapel of Connell Avenue Baptist Church with Barton Davis, minister of Ridgely West Church of Christ officiating.

Banked with palms and baskets of white stock, white gladioluses and carnations, the altar was lighted by wedding tapers in candleholders. Organist was Mrs. Brooks Arnold. A quartet sang "O, Promise Me, More, and the Wedding Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of Chantilly lace with mock ballo effect for the bodice. Pearls outlined the scoop neckline and sprinkled the bodice and skirt. Designed with an empire waist, the dress had a sheath skirt, a sash of organza tied in a graceful bow at the back.

Chapel length train was fashioned of organza over taffeta. The bride's elbow-length veil was seeded with pearls and arranged from a cluster of organza rosebuds. Her bridal bouquet was of white carnations centered with white rosebuds.

Miss Linda Hurks, of Arlington, attended the bride as maid of honor. Her dress was designed of chiffon over taffeta with fitted bodice and softly gathered skirt. Bodice of the gown was moss green edged in Venice lace and the skirt was of rife green. She carried green and white carnations. Denise Clark, flower girl, wore a simpler copy of the maid of honor's gown.

Lawrence Hamrick, brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers were Larry Thomas, Roy J. Thomas Jr., and Randy Hamrick. Candles were lighted by Larry Thomas, the groom's brother, and by Randy Hamrick, younger brother of the bride.

Parlor of the church was setting for the wedding reception. Miss Sammie Lettrill presided at the registry. Assisting with serving refreshments were Miss Dorothy Gage and Miss Susan Bennett both of Ft. Worth.

The bride's table was laid in white. Chantilly lace over white. Crystal and silver services, green and white carnations, and the white three-tiered pedestal cake served with green punch carried out the bride's chosen colors.

For travel, the bride chose a pink silk suit, white accessories, and a white rosebud corsage. The couple will live in Arlington where the bride is a student in Arlington State College.

The bridegroom, a spring graduate of ASC in Business Administration was named to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." is a member of Phi Kappa Theta, Phi Beta Kappa, and was awarded the Delta Sigma Pi Scholarship, highest honor for a Business Administration graduate.

He is now employed in the accounting department by Socony Mobil Co. and expects to continue work toward his master's degree next year.

Nationalism

CANADA, made up of ten provinces, is a country as diverse as the United States, perhaps more so. Primarily English, it has the one province of Quebec which is French and wants to stay that way. Quebec is nationalistic. As a result, it is a source of constant trouble to the Canadian government. To please Quebec is to displease the other nine provinces. To please the other nine is to displease Quebec.

IT IS NOT TO BE unexpected that the conservative's sympathy lies with Quebec. As Editor Wes Izzard wrote last week, "We can't put down entirely a feeling of admiration for the French Canadians who have clung so tightly and proudly to their own ways. It is a form of nationalism; and nationalism is sweeping the world. Those liberals who would erase boundaries and submerge racial differences in a world authority despise these manifestations."

"But nationalism stems from human nature, and so far the people manipulators haven't managed to cope with it."

WE MIGHT ADD that it is this feeling of nationalism that is the source of so many of our world troubles. We can best understand this problem by confining our remarks to our own country instead of to all the world.

Until World War II, we had several nationalist spirits living side by side here in the United States, each mistrusting the other. The Southerner from Alabama and Mississippi mistrusted the Northerner from Chicago. The Southwesterner mistrusted the Yankee from New England.

Prospective pastors were not called because they were from the "wrong" part of the country. Northerners were considered cold and unfriendly. Southerners were considered lazy and without initiative.

Neither liked the way the other talked. But the war did much to change all this.

Southerners and Northerners found themselves living, fighting and even dying together. They found that they had much in common, that they weren't different after all. We can credit the "integration" of the Armed Forces for advancing the understanding of our once provincial people... and we are richer for it!

ONCE THERE EXISTED little neighborhoods in a community, neighborhoods made up entirely of ethnic groups. There were German neighborhoods, Italian neighborhoods, Polish neighborhoods. They didn't mix, they conducted their own church services in their native tongues, they didn't intermarry. Suspicion... unhealthy suspicion was the result.

But much of this segregation has been eliminated. People know each other better, and as a result they understand each other much better.

Mr. Izzard pointed out that "nationalism stems from human nature." This is true. Human nature, almost always evil because it is in reality, the Adamic nature, is selfish. The rich seek to segregate themselves from the poor. Even churches seek to appeal to social groups, building new churches "for those who don't have good enough clothes to attend our church" and for those whose skin is a different color.

RACIAL DIFFERENCE promotes misunderstanding between Uncle Sam and China. Jesus Christ integrated the church when he defined it as a body made up of "both Jew and Greek," rich and poor, wise and unwise. Prior to Christ, religious segregation had been practiced.

Differences divide, similarities attract. We are proud to be numbered among those "liberals" who would bring people closer together rather than drive them farther apart, who would de-emphasize the spirit of nationalism both at home and abroad.

TULIA HERALD

The Right Of Dissent

OF PRESIDENT Johnson's earnest desire for peace we have no doubt, nor have we ever had any doubt. But we take strong exception to some of the President's statements at a recent Cook County Democratic fund-raising dinner.

What is unacceptable in the speech the President made in a highly political context to a highly political audience is his clear indication that critics of his Viet Nam policy are somehow just a little less American, just a little less patriotic, than those who go down the line for it. This is a most dangerous tack for the President to take, particularly in an election year, and it is not the first time that spokesmen for his administration have taken it.

"I ask every American to put our country first," said the President, with the unmistakable implication that those of us who believe that the continued escalation of the war in Viet Nam is dangerously unwise are putting our country second. It apparently has not occurred to Mr. Johnson that untold numbers of patriotic Americans are critical of present policy just because they do love this country, just because they are uneasy over the moral, legal and political position of the United States in Viet Nam, and just because they fear that the side effects of this war may even be bringing the American democratic ideal into jeopardy.

"Put away all the childish, divisive things," said the President, demanding "unity" and an end to "the luxury of fighting each other back home." Perhaps the critics of Viet Nam policy are wrong — what man is wise enough today to know that his is the right solution? But certainly the President is wrong in thus dismissing the questioning, the dissent, the criticism. And he is even more seriously wrong in his unsavory suggestion that "every candidate for every office" which is a critic of the war's conduct becomes by that very circumstance a mere self-serving demagogue.

Few responsible critics, and certainly not this newspaper, have ever suggested that the United States "run out" on its Viet Nam commitment, as the President would have his listeners believe. Few have even questioned the primacy of the American commitment, at least while there seemed some hope of a popularly based Vietnamese government to be committed to. But many question the large-scale bombing, the constant build-up, the apparent belief of the administration that the United States' commitment is to whatever group of Vietnamese generals happens to be in power. And many question whether the present policy and strategy of the United States, however well meant, will, in President Johnson's words, insure that "the gallant people of South Viet Nam have their own choice of their own government."

We do not pretend that it is easy to counter Communist attempts to control South East Asia. We do not dispute President Johnson's comment that neither Communist China nor Communist North Viet Nam has — at least in recent months — shown any interest in peace negotiations; nor that if they wanted to, the Communists could speedily bring the hostilities to an end at a negotiating table.

But that is quite different from saying that all American policies have been wise, that the emphasis and the actions have always been well judged, that things could not have been done differently or even better, or that those who are in disagreement are somehow unpatriotic. On the contrary, we believe it to be the right and the duty of every American to voice his criticism and dissent when he thinks it.

Sermon Of The Week

By REV. DON LAING, Pastor, Calvary Baptist Church, 6445-52

CONTRARY WINDS

I'm sure we have heard about the man on the lake fishing on Sunday morning and the storm came up quite suddenly and began to toss the boat. As it worsened he began to pray, "Lord, I have not bothered you now in almost five years and if you'll just help me out of this storm, I'll promise not to bother you in another five."

Perhaps the apostles felt if the Lord would just deliver them from this storm they would never ask Him so great a favor again.

How short are our memories sometimes! They had just come from the feeding of the 5,000 and as evening sun began to set, Jesus had told them to get into a boat and go to the other side of the Galilean Sea (about 6 miles). With his provisions for the 5,000 so fresh upon their minds, how soon their anxiety mounted. Verse 48 tells us "... for the wind was contrary unto them." As the night wore slowly on they battled some nine hours against the fierce sea and had gone scarcely halfway. Then in an instant they saw Him — Jesus walking on the water! At first they thought they had seen a ghost, but in a moment He was in the boat and in another moment the wild sea was calm. The raging water, the fierce winds submitted to their Mighty Maker and the long struggle was over for these faithful men. There is much comfort for the sagging heart in this account.

The trouble they met came when they were doing their best to obey the Lord. Jesus had constrained them to leave Him on the shore. In obeying Jesus they met contrary winds. When one sets out to really serve Jesus he is due for resistance from Satan. This trouble did not come from their being disobedient but they were really trying to obey. Satan can manage the elements to suit his program. He can stir up contrary winds, he can bend himself to hamper, hinder, impede, disillusion and discourage.

Jesus saw his faithful men struggling against the storm. No darkness can hide his children from Him. No storm could keep Him from seeing their need. No storm could keep Him from their side. Disciples learned they were not alone in their struggle against a fierce world of opponents. They learned Jesus is always near. He is always interested. He is always looking. He is always available. How good it is to know we always have help against contrary winds.

It is important to see that Jesus let his men have the contrary wind for quite sometime before He came to their aid. God does not always rush to our side at the first sign of discomfort or struggle. Often the Lord lets us face the storm awhile to learn lessons well. There could be no real testing, no real seasoning, no real maturing if at the first breath of contrary winds the Lord came running. It is for our best that we learn to face problems ourselves for awhile.

A baby might never learn to walk if the parents supported its arms every step of the way. Without strain and stress the muscles cannot develop. It takes contrary winds for our "spiritual growth."

Favorable Talk Heard On Preliminary Plan

By VERN SANFORD

Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex. —

Comments by legislators and water leaders generally were favorable on the $3,700,000, 600 preliminary "Water for Texas" plan of the Texas Water Development Board.

This massive plan calls for a "rescue operation" for the Lower Rio Grande Valley irrigated region, where a recent court decision knocked out water rights of more than 100,000 acres.

Project, to be designed by the Bureau of Reclamation, would use two big reservoirs on the San Antonio River (Cibola in Wilson County and Goliad in Goliad County), two on the Guadalupe River (Confluence in Victoria County and Cuero in De Witt County) and one on the Lavaca-Navidad Rivers (Palmetto Bend) to link to a 190-mile canal to the Lower Valley.

Water from the three watersheds could be used for a number of years. As needs in those valleys develop, a canal would be linked to the northern end of the pipeline-and-canal system which would start at Texarkana Reservoir, go west to Dallas and Fort Worth to meet their future needs, then down the Trinity, Brazos and Colorado Rivers to link with the southern portion of the canal. Then it could be said that water from Lake Texarkana was being used in the Lower Valley — after repeated use and re-use along the 980 miles of the State Water Project system. Irrigation in the Sinton and Baffin Bay regions also would be supplied from the canal.

In addition to the 14 reservoirs connected with the State Water Project, the big plan proposed 46 other reservoirs or enlargements. These would supply in-basin needs in all parts of the state except Far West Texas, where there simply is not enough stream flow to justify reservoirs.

For that region, a massive research and development plan is proposed. First a special West Texas office of the Water Development Board would seek ways to spread present supplies as far as possible. This would include recharge of the Ogallala formation from the 36,000 playa lakes in the High Plains, deepening of those rainwater lakes to cut down evaporation.

Plan also calls for West Texas to be designated by Congress as part of a study by the Bureau of Reclamation for finding new supplies for the Southwest, in the hope of bringing water from the Columbia River in Oregon by 1985, when Plains ground water supplies are expected to become severely depleted.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES — Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr has held that veterans and fraternal organizations may charge a service fee for serving drinks from liquor owned by members without having a private club registration permit.

In the recent opinions, Carr decided:

- Texas Educational Foundation, Inc., operator of Gary Job Corps Center, San Marcos, is not exempt from state motor fuel taxes.

- Clarewood House, a Harris County retirement home for aged, is entitled to ad valorem tax exemption as an institution of a purely public charity.

- State agencies may pay registration fees for employees attending required courses of instruction in new laws, programs, etc.

- Only licensed engineers are legally entitled to use such titles as "sales engineer," etc.

- Parolee "eloper" from another state cannot be turned over to proper authorities without usual extradition formalities. (Restatement)

- State military men on official trips are not entitled to free use of toll roads, and a law attempting to give them that privilege is invalid.

- A soil and water conservation district does not have the power to create a separate, non-profit corporation for operating a natural gas distribution system.

- Arlington State and Texas Western University presidents, deans of South Texas and Southwestern medical schools and the director of the Cotton Research Committee should be compensated for official travels on an actual-expense basis.

- Act requiring taxing authorities, using a county tax office, to place their tax rate in the hands of county assessor-collector by July 20 is constitutional.

- County clerk must file and record properly acknowledged deeds on request.

COURTS SPEAK — In a case dealing with widespread water rights interests the Third Court of Civil Appeals

By RALPH YARBOROUGH
United States Senator

Dear Fellow Texan:

This week I want to talk about the problems of production and the problem of marketing in Texas.

Something is wrong when the Texas housewife is asked to pay more for Texas meat products because of the unjust freight rates the Texas poultry and livestock industries are forced to pay on food grains that fatten poultry and livestock.

These industries are in grave danger in Texas because of the unequal, unjust railroad freight rates on coarse grain shipments. The freight rates on a ton of feed grain are three times as high per ton mile from Kansas City to Texas as they are on a ton mile of feed grain shipped from Kansas City to areas east of the Mississippi River that compete with Texas.

It means that a Texas housewife, if this keeps up, would have to pay more for locally produced broilers and beef than she did for the same items shipped in from east of the Mississippi River. These freight rates on feed grains must be reduced or the Texas chicken and beef producers will lose their markets.

This situation has come about because of the action of the Southern Railroad, serving the southeastern states, in lowering shipments to the southeastern states east of the Mississippi River.

It now costs only $4.23 per ton to haul a ton of feed grain from St. Louis, Missouri, to states east of the Mississippi River — Mississippi and Alabama — while it costs $10.60 a ton to haul the feed grains the same distance to Bronson, Texas.

So, a broiler producer east of the Mississippi can get its feed grains at about a third the cost per ton mile insofar as freight rates are concerned. He can sell his products in Houston — including the cost of transportation — for one-half cent a pound less than a broiler producer can produce those broilers for right there near Houston in Harris County, itself.

The reason is obvious. The southeastern producer pays less than half what the Texas producer has to pay per ton mile.

Agriculture has always been one of the most important factors in the economy of Texas and the Southwest. We cannot afford to let it suffer unjustly from outside competition.

With the cost of living of constant concern to the meat-buying housewife, anything that can be done to help lower the final cost to her — while keeping a fair price for the producer, the farmer — must be done.

The Texas members of the poultry and livestock industries are keenly aware of this; they want fair freight rates so that they can sell meat more cheaply. Recently a delegation of them, led by Steele Wright of Nacogdoches, went over this problem with me.

They want fair freight rates so that they can furnish meat more cheaply in the Texas markets than producers in distant states — east of the Mississippi River — can.

I have requested Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman to file an official complaint with the Interstate Commerce Commission for fair freight rates on feed grain from the Midwest into the Southwest. The Secretary can do this under the law of 1938, passed to help farmers in cases like this where a farmer doesn't have the money to spend to correct freight rates by himself. The Secretary of Agriculture is ordered to do it for all the farmers and that is what we requested.

The ton mile rate on grain from Lubbock to Temple is still more than five times the rate paid for the same mile east of the Mississippi. The Texas farmer is unfairly treated on these freight rates and he deserves an even break on them.

The Texas housewife should get the break of lower competitive prices when she goes to the market to buy meat, poultry and eggs. These higher freight rates for feed grains mean higher prices for meat for the housewife. The farmer and the rancher get blamed for the higher price, but they don't get the credit that goes into the freight rate.

The Church For All All For The Church

A WORLD IN TROUBLE

What has happened to this marvelous world of ours in this twentieth century of God's grace? Mankind seems to be passing through a sea of troubles which has no counterpart in human history.

There are wars and rumors of wars among the nations, and many of the nations themselves are split into warring factions, each faction striving for supremacy, and each intolerant of the views, hopes, and rights of others.

The great trouble with the world is that men have forgotten God. They no longer seek spiritual guidance, but follow the vain ways of the modern world. We have become a cynical, materialistic generation.

If this drift toward world tragedy and chaos is ever stopped, the churches of the world must do it. The world's hope—our hope—is in God and His Church. He alone can save mankind from a sorrowful fate.

The Church seeks to turn the hearts of men from the ways of war and fear and hate to the ways of peace and love.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
