Shopping For Christmas Dinner

The Salvation Army gave many needy families in the area an assist with their Christmas dinners this morning by providing baskets of food. Some 15 baskets were distributed in the Coahoma and Sand Springs area Thursday and about 200 more were given to persons this morning. Shown in the background are a few of the 6,000 cans of food donated by local school children. Maj. Robert L. Short, commander of the local post, assists Mrs. H. M. Moore, a volunteer worker, prepare a basket.

Kennedy, Macmillan Reported In Accord

Various World Crises Reviewed

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—President Kennedy and Prime Minister Macmillan today were reported in complete agreement on their next steps in the Berlin crisis, the results of the recent Soviet nuclear tests and the little they know about the confused Congo situation.

Kennedy and Macmillan resumed their talks this morning.

The two leaders of the Western alliance were expected to go deeper into all three situations, and others as well, in further talks before Kennedy flies back to Palm Beach, Fla., late today to the bedside of his seriously ill father.

They conferred for five hours in their first session Thursday and there was every indication that the atmosphere was harmonious. But their spokesmen emphasized that each subject was discussed only to a limited extent.

In their talk on Berlin, White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said, Kennedy and Macmillan concurred on "steps that can be taken in this particular field." Informants said this meant the position the West should take in trying to negotiate a peaceful solution with Moscow.

The next step, it was agreed in Paris at the Big Three foreign ministers' meeting last week, will be talks by U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in Moscow to determine if there is a chance for formal negotiations on a new Berlin agreement.

But informants said they still must decide on a further approach to Moscow; whether, for example to work toward a foreign ministers' meeting and ultimately an East-West summit.

They also must discuss ways to bring French President Charles de Gaulle around. De Gaulle insists that the tension over Berlin is all of Soviet making and therefore the Soviets must take the first steps toward easing it.

In the field of nuclear testing, Kennedy and Macmillan heard reports by their experts on the recent Soviet tests and what the experts have been able to deduce from them about Soviet advances in development of nuclear weapons.

Salinger said the discussion did not extend to policies — whether the United States should resume testing in the atmosphere—but it was felt the conversation may have strengthened Kennedy's hand with fearful European allies if he decides the United States must resume testing above ground to counter Soviet advances.

One source of tension between the two Western allies was eased by reports of an accord reached in the Congo between Premier Cyrille Adoula of the Leopoldville government and President Moise Tshombe of Katanga.

The United States has staunchly supported the United Nations military action in secessionist Katanga while Britain has been critical of the fighting.

A joint communique issued after the first talk said the information on the Congo "is still very scanty," but added: "We must hope that a satisfactory solution is in the course of achievement on the spot."

Bermuda's governor, Sir Julian Gascoigne, gave a small dinner and reception for the President and the prime minister.

Kennedy was keeping in close touch with Palm Beach, where his father, former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, is seriously ill after suffering a stroke.

MODERN FACILITY TO RISE SOON IN DOWNTOWN BIG SPRING
Architect's conception of the First National Bank's new home

1st National Bank Gets Green Light On Building

The First National Bank in Big Spring today had its go-ahead approval of new building plans from the United States Comptroller of Currency.

Lester Morton, president, said that the architect had been instructed to proceed with drafting of working drawings for the plant to be erected at Third and Main.

It is possible that work on the modern baking facility will be started by the end of the first quarter in 1962. The cost is estimated at slightly over three-quarters of a million dollars.

DELIGHTED

"We are delighted with this approval," said Morton. "We will move at once toward an early start on a facility which will enable us to provide even better service and in which we hope the community and area can take pride."

Preliminary plans have been shaped by George L. Dahl, Dallas, architect, and he will start immediately on the final phase of planning. Morton estimated that this will require about 60 days. Then another 30 days will be allowed to receive bids. Work will start as quickly as the contract can be executed.

HOPEFUL ON BIDS

"Naturally, we want local builders, suppliers and others interested in the project to consider submitting bids, and we are hopeful that they will have the most advantageous offers," added Morton.

The initial phase of the building program contemplates a story and a half structure which is high enough to permit the development of a tier of offices on the upper floor of the work area.

The space is approximately 110 x 140, and the building will be located on the north end of the half block which the bank owns between Fourth and Fifth Streets, facing east on Main Street.

GLASS PANELING

The front, which will be on the Main Street side, will be virtually all glass paneling. The other sides will be of stone and brick, and there will be a concrete and stone overhang all around the building.

Drive-in facilities will be located on the south and there will be either three or four windows to facilitate a smooth flow of traffic.

The lobby dominates the front of the building. Running along the north side will be a tier of departmental offices, first the installment loan department, then the bank officers. At the rear (the west end) of the building will be located other administrative offices and the vaults.

Plans call for the teller line to extend down the south portion of the building. Behind this, and accessible by door from each teller cage, will be the bookkeeping department, thus permitting easy contact by tellers with the records.

While an office tower, considered in original plans, is not in the first phase, the building is being located so that the office tower can rise immediately beyond and be joined to the bank building.

"We hope that the time will not be too far off that demands will make it possible for the office tower portion of the building to be raised," said Morton.

CONVENIENCE

Parking area will be developed for the convenience of the bank's customers. The drive-in plan is arranged so that there can be a double line of cars with ample line length between the street and the windows.

The new plant will, of course, have completely new fixtures and furnishings, Morton pointed out.

Plans for the building have been in the mill for more than a year, and after revisions and contacts with banking officials, the way has now been cleared for construction. Morton said he was not only pleased that First National could proceed, but that this, together with the First Federal Savings & Loan Association plans for a new building, might encourage other downtown commercial development.

Cleric Sees Elder Kennedy, Reports He's Much Improved

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Richard Cardinal Cushing visited his old friend, ailing Joseph P. Kennedy, today and reported the President's father was very much improved, and had spoken to him.

The cardinal, who is from Kennedy's home city of Boston, said he had told Kennedy, a former ambassador to Great Britain:

"My dear friend, Mr. Ambassador, keep up your courage. We're all praying for you. You're going to be all right."

And, to this, he said the 73-year-old Kennedy, who has been partly paralyzed from a blood clot on the brain, replied: "I know I am."

This was the first time since his Tuesday stroke that the elder Kennedy had been reported able to talk. Previous reports from his doctors had indicated that he was unable to speak but he could recognize members of his family.

The cardinal said that he had cautioned his old friend not to say anything more so that he would not use up his reserve strength.

The cardinal visited some 20 minutes in the hospital on his way home from Lima, Peru.

When reporters asked Cardinal Cushing about the fact that Kennedy had spoken to him, when all prior reports had been that the patient was unable to speak, he explained Kennedy "says a word or two, but they don't want him to keep speaking or tire himself out."

The cardinal's summing up of the situation was, "I think he's very much improved."

One of the ailing Kennedy's sons, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, had spent the night at St. Mary's Hospital after returning from a quick trip to Washington. He had gone back to the capital for one day after a hurried trip here when his father was stricken.

An 8 a.m. bulletin from the team of physicians attending the elder Kennedy said:

"Mr. Kennedy spent a good night, resting comfortably. His condition is unchanged."

Dr. Marco Johannsen, chief attending physician, said Thursday night his patient was "a little better." At the same time the doctor described himself as "more satisfied."

The fact that the President's father has managed to survive for three days with a blood clot on the brain increased his chances for survival, hospital sources said.

But whether he can overcome the partial paralysis and other effects of the stroke was another question.

The President will return to his father's bedside tonight from his overnight conference in Bermuda with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Meanwhile, other members of the Kennedy family have kept a constant vigil in the wing of St. Mary's Hospital where Joseph Kennedy occupies Room 335.

There have been a number of conflicting statements from official sources regarding the elder Kennedy's condition.

Dr. Johannsen, emerging from a look at his patient at 11:30 p.m., gave the first firm report that Kennedy had improved.

Before Dr. Johannsen's hopeful comment, the latest official medical bulletin had been issued at 6:50 p.m. by Kennedy's youngest son, Edward M. Kennedy.

It said only: "Mr. Kennedy's condition had not changed significantly. He is resting quietly." Asked if he thought there was any improvement, young Kennedy said, "There's nothing that would indicate a significant change."

But even at that time, when pressed by reporters, Dr. Johannsen, a German-born internist, smilingly lapsed into French phrases like "un soupcon" and "un peu" to disclose that a little improvement had been noted.

Another hospital source declared the President's father had shown marked improvement and was holding his own very well.

The first few days, this source pointed out, are critical and Kennedy was not yet out of danger.

However, "the prognosis now is much better than it was when he first came in," the source said.

The close-knit Kennedy family and friends were always close by.

The First Lady, Mrs. John F. Kennedy, visited the hospital Thursday morning.

The ex-ambassador's son Edward, daughters Eunice Shriver, Jean Smith and Patricia Lawford, and neice Ann Gargan were in constant attendance.

W. A. Bigby, Garden City Rancher, Dies

William Archiebald Bigby, 67, a prominent rancher in the Garden City area, died at 8:30 a.m. today in a San Angelo hospital. He had lived in Garden City since 1902.

Mr. Bigby made his home on a ranch about eight miles west of Garden City. His ranch is composed of four sections and a portion of it is underlaid by the Spraberry Trend, oil area. He had a royalty interest in several producing wells.

He was one of six old settlers honored at a reunion and a barbecue dinner June 11. At that time a mythical trail drive supposed to have been made by the group in 1914 was disclosed as the figment of someone's imagination.

Mr. Bigby had been ill for the past several months. He underwent surgery in San Angelo Monday morning and was progressing well until Thursday night. His condition became worse and he died early this morning.

Mr. Bigby was born Oct. 14, 1894 in Ballinger and was a member of the Baptist Church. He was a veteran of World War I.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the River Funeral Home Chapel with burial in the Garden City Cemetery.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Christine Bigby, Garden City; one daughter, Mrs. Billie Clements, Garden City; one son, James Lester Bigby, Garden City; one brother, J. A. Bigby, Garden City; three sisters, Mrs. Vera Neely, Garden City, Mrs. Velma McDaniel, Odessa, and Mrs. Bud Hanson, Garden City; and five grandchildren.

Don't Be A 52-Timer

A 52-timer is a Herald reader who has trouble every week digging up change to pay his newsboy.

On the other hand, a ONE-TIMER is a Herald reader who sends in his check to have the paper delivered to his door for all of 1962, and never worries about it again.

Thing about it, he not only is happier about saving time and making his newsboy happier, he saves real money — more than 10 per cent, in fact.

The ONE-TIMER has to send in his check this month, though. It comes to $18.45 (newsboy's share included), plus a sales tax of 37¢ to help take care of the state. That's a total of $18.82.

Bing Crosby Enters Hospital

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Bing Crosby went to a hospital early today with abdominal pains and a doctor said later it appeared to be just a case of stomach flu.

The crooner, who complained of the pains after a dinner party, may be released later today.

Crosby, accompanied by his wife, Kathy, arrived at St. Joseph's Hospital at 12:15 a.m.

House Report On Escheat Situation Nearly Complete

AUSTIN (AP)—The report of a special House committee investigating Texas escheat laws as they apply to banks may be completed today, Chairman Franklin Spears said.

The committee worked on the report late Thursday after agreeing to ask an attorney general's opinion on its authority to compel banks to submit information on inactive accounts.

Bankers, who want the attorney general to clarify the committee's powers, agreed to give the requested information in sealed envelopes if the committee would seek the opinion.

Spears said the envelopes would remain sealed until the attorney general told him what to do with them.

"We already have enough information to write a good report," he said.

The committee issued subpoenas to 38 banks. Five were excused after they answered a questionnaire from the House group. The other 33 were represented at the hearing.

Spears said he probably would take his oath as a new state senator today and Thursday's meeting was likely to be the committee's last public session. Spears was elected Saturday to the Texas Senate seat left by Henry Gonzalez, now congressman from Bexar County.

The Legislature set up the committee during its first called session this year to investigate how the state's escheat laws would affect banks. A new law sets out a reporting procedure on abandoned property held by insurance companies, utility firms, pipeline companies and other institutions. The measure does not cover banks.

A special legislative session opening Jan. 3 was called with the aim of putting banks under the abandoned property law. Gov. Price Daniel also has asked protection for inactive accounts, some of which he said are being worn away by service charges and other assessments.

State banks are prohibited from making service charges on dormant accounts.

Reps. Paul Haring of Goliad and Ted Springer of Amarillo were at the committee session. Two other members, Reps. Reed Quilliam of Lubbock and Richard Slack of Pecos, have never attended a meeting. Quilliam was author of the resolution establishing the group.

State Auditor C.H. Cavness presented his tabulation of answers to a questionnaire sent to 1,015 banks and answered by 161.

At Spears' request, Cavness projected his figures to get estimates on inactive accounts held by the rest of the state's banks.

Cavness estimated 356,710 dormant accounts totalling $25,501,422 are held by Texas banks. Since 1959, by his figures, 187,154 inactive accounts with $1,055,069 have been closed by various banks charges. He estimated 97,860 dormant accounts now pay service charges.

Sukarno Again Rejects Choice For Island Folk

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno, who has ordered Indonesian armed forces to be ready to invade West New Guinea, today again rejected self-determination as a solution for the Dutch-ruled region.

His air force stepped up its activities along the borders of the disputed territory on the world's second biggest island.

Sukarno has demanded the Dutch leave the territory.

In a speech to a mothers' meeting in Jakarta, Sukarno declared: "I call on the whole world not to bother trying to get us talking about self-determination for West Irian (West New Guinea.) We definitely reject that sort of self-determination."

Sukarno repeated that Indonesia is ready to enter into negotiations with the Dutch—but only on the basis of a transfer of power over West New Guinea from The Hague to Jakarta.

Taylor Quits Guard Post

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Price Daniel announced today the resignation of Maj. Gen. James E. Taylor as adjutant general of Texas and the appointment of Brig. Gen. Thomas S. Bishop to succeed him.

Bishop is now assistant adjutant general.

In the same announcement, Daniel said he has named Brig. Gen. James D. Scott of Dallas as assistant adjutant general.

Taylor's resignation is effective Jan. 1, Daniel said.

Scott is assistant division commander of the 49th Armored Division on duty at Fort Polk, La. Daniel said Scott will assume his new duties when the 49th is deactivated from federal service.

Living Costs In Decline

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs as measured by the government declined in November by one tenth of one per cent.

At the same time, spendable earnings and buying power of the average worker rose to a record high.

Somewhat lower food prices, and modest declines in most other consumer buying categories brought the living cost index down to 128.3 per cent of the 1947-49 base period.

Announcing the figure today, Robert J. Myers, deputy commissioner of labor statistics, said a rise of seven-tenths of one per cent from November 1960, represented the smallest November-to-November living cost increase since 1955.

He predicted another small decline for December.

"We're pretty sure we'll have another little drop," he said. "The indications point in that direction. But we don't think we'll have any big decline."

In November, costs of both toys and sporting goods, items that are in heavy demand as Christmas gifts, were down by two-tenths of one per cent from the level of a year earlier.

Spendable earnings and buying power of the average factory worker rose to a new record level in November.

The factory worker's weekly earnings after federal income and Social Security taxes rose by about $1 from the October level to $85.03. The figure is for the worker with a family of four.

Over the year the average factory worker's spendable earnings have increased by more than $5 a week, or about 7 per cent.

Dutch Cabinet Split In Crisis

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP) —The Dutch Cabinet was reported divided today on what approach to take toward negotiations with Indonesia, whose President Sukarno has threatened to invade Dutch-held West New Guinea.

A Cabinet spokesman said Foreign Minister Joseph M. A. H. Luns and Interior Minister Edzo Toxopeus favor bilateral talks only on the condition that the Papuan population of the Dutch territory will be granted self-determination.

He said three right-wing members head another faction within the 13-member Cabinet which proposes that talks with Indonesia be started without stipulating conditions.

The Netherlands retained West New Guinea in 1949 when it granted independence to the Netherlands East Indies.

More Nuclear Testing Possible

An AP News Analysis
By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—President Kennedy and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan in their first five-hour talk here may have reluctantly come to the conclusion that the United States must soon resume nuclear testing in the atmosphere.

Macmillan's spokesman told newsmen that "the President and the prime minister heard a presentation by their experts on the subject of the recent Soviet tests."

He was asked whether the discussion included the possibility of resumption of tests in the atmosphere. He declined to "go into the substance of the discussion." And White House press secretary Pierre Salinger quickly added that the discussion "centered on the report from nuclear experts of both governments on the recent Soviet tests."

Salinger was asked if the President requested these reports so he could make a judgment on what policy the United States would pursue. Salinger replied the President's statements on the whole question were clear and still stand.

The tenor of the President's statements in recent weeks on testing has been that it might be necessary to resume above-ground tests in the interest of national security.

A decision to resume testing might be a difficult message for Macmillan to bring home to fall-out-fearful Britain and Europe. It may be one of those hard decisions which is broken to the world public gradually.

On Berlin, too, there are apparent differences. Macmillan's spokesman said there was complete agreement there also, but Salinger qualified this by saying the agreement was on "the subjects discussed which are . . . steps which can be taken in this particular field."

The two leaders, through their foreign ministers, already had agreed that the next step would be probing talks by their ambassadors in Moscow to determine what basis might be found for formal negotiation with the Soviets on Berlin.

But there was no indication that they had agreed on possible steps after that.

On the Congo, Macmillan's spokesman also reported full accord although he said information from the strife-wracked African nation was scant. The British and U.S. governments have not seen eye to eye regarding United Nations action in the Congo. And the two leaders' spokesmen did not claim there was agreement on tactics—that is, on how to achieve unification and peace there.

Yule Trees Light Up One Side Of Berlin's Red Wall

BERLIN (AP)—More than 800 huge Christmas trees are lit each dusk along the Western side of the Communist wall through Berlin.

On the East Berlin side of the barrier nothing matches this pre-Christmas atmosphere.

There are Christmas decorations, lighted trees and all, deeper inside East Berlin at the shopping centers. But along the Communist side of the 25 miles of concrete and barbed wire there are only three spindly fir trees set up by the East German guards.

One, at Elsenstrasse between the Soviet and American sectors, is stuck into a low, concrete road barrier. It has no lights, no decorations.

In the background a powerful battery of Red loudspeakers blares out Communist propaganda slogans interrupted by popular German—and some American — Christmas songs.

"You in West Berlin will be able to celebrate a peaceful Christmas because we built the wall to ward off any provocations," a shrill voice announces.

Then come "Silent Night" and "I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas" with German lyrics.

Across the end of Harzerstrasse cuts the ugly Communist wall—eight feet high. Behind it, Red guards can be seen looking through the slit of a wooden watch tower.

One of the many West Berlin Christmas trees stands at the dead end of Harzerstrasse.

East German border police occasionally hurl bricks at it. "They have missed so far," the lone West Berlin policeman on duty said.

Police report that at least five of the 800 trees set up by various West German organizations have been damaged by brick-throwing Red guards at other points.

In West Berlin, up to the wall, there is the usual pre-Christmas bustle. Busy shoppers hurry home with armfuls of parcels.

Busy with their Christmas shopping, West Berliners have little time to go to the wall. Hardly anybody waves across to East Berlin relatives.

New Success For Nike-Zeus

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nike-Zeus, the nation's most advanced missile-killer project, has successfully tracked and intercepted another missile, the Army reports.

The success claimed by the Army was scored Dec. 14 at the White Sands missile range in New Mexico against a 3,000-mile-an-hour Nike Hercules antiaircraft missile.

The speed of the Nike Zeus antimissile has never been announced publicly. But the intercontinental ballistic missiles it would have to defend against travel about 17,000 miles an hour.

The Army's announcement on Thursday came on the heels of reports that the service has lost a new round in its fight to win approval of money to start production of long-lead items that would be needed in an operational Zeus system.

More than a billion dollars has been spent by the Army since 1957 in developing the Nike Zeus. The Kennedy administration had decided tentatively to allow about $125 million to start tooling up for limited production next year, but this proposal is reportedly a victim of the budget-pruning process.

MRS. FRANK L. MURPHY

Murphy-Wagner Vows Said In Thursday Rites

A morning ceremony, read in the Garden City Baptist Church, united in marriage Glenda Carol Wagner and Frank L. Murphy, Thursday.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wagner and Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Murphy, all of Garden City.

The Rev. D. D. Smith, pastor of the church, read the double ring service before an altar decorated with baskets of white chrysanthemums and fern.

Margaret Jo Cook played a prelude of wedding music and accompanied Mrs. R. J. Hightower of Midland, aunt of the bride, as she sang nuptial selections.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in white Chantilly lace over satin and tulle. The street-length skirt, scattered with rosettes, also featured three rosettes at the back waistline. A crown of pearls and satin held in place a veil of tulle, and the bride carried a white Bible under an orchid.

Recognizing tradition, she named her wedding ensemble as something new; for something old she carried a handkerchief which had been a gift from her aunt, the late Mrs. Carl Oglesby. Something blue and borrowed was a garter, belonging to Mrs. Marck Schafer, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Schafer, matron of honor, wore a frock of brown silk organza with shirred cummerbund and scooped neckline; she carried a white chrysanthemum nested in feathered carnations and tied with brown streamers.

Marck Schafer was best man.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Murphy guests gathered for a reception following the ceremony.

Mrs. Tommy Horton of Ackerly, aunt of the bride, presided at the guest book, while house party duties were discharged by Mrs. Tony Parsons of Anson, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Hightower.

Others attending from out of town were Parsons, Sammy Hilton and Judy Beth Wilkins of Dallas; Horton, Hightower and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Smith of Stanton.

For a trip to points in East Texas, the bride was dressed in a suit of red wool with black accessories, white hat and gloves. The orchid from her bridal bouquet was pinned to her jacket.

The couple will make a home in Garden City, where the bride is a student in the high school; the bridegroom, a graduate of the school, is a sophomore student at Howard County Junior College.

"Christmas in the New Testament" was the program title and was presented by a group of the members. Gifts were exchanged by the 18 present.

The next meeting will be held Jan. 2, with Mrs. Harwood Keith as hostesses.

White satin fashioned the bride's dress with bell skirt and strapless bodice covered with a jacket of lace, high-necked and with bracelet sleeves. She wore a headband of satin and pearls to which was attached a brief veil, and she carried a single orchid.

June Murphy of Big Spring attended as maid of honor, and John McClary was best man.

The couple will make a home in Big Spring, where the bridegroom is stationed at Webb AFB. He attended the University of Arizona and Texas Christian University and is attending Basic Instructors' School at Randolph AFB, San Antonio.

Roast Prime Ribs Of Beef Rare To Well

Season standing rib roast with salt and pepper and place in shallow baking pan fat side up. Roast in moderately slow oven (325 degrees F.) to desired degree of doneness. For rare beef, 5 to 6 pound roast will require 18 to 22 minutes per pound, 7 to 8 pound roast will require 17 to 19 minutes per pound. For medium beef, 5 to 6 pound roast will require 23 to 28 minutes per pound, 7 to 8 pound roast 20 to 23 minutes per pound. For well-done beef, 5 to 6 pound roast requires 27 to 33 minutes per pound, 7 to 8 pound roast 25 to 29 minutes per pound.

These times are for chilled meat, which has been refrigerated until it goes into the oven. In computing time, take the greater number of minutes per pound for the smaller weight roast. For example, for a 5 pound rare roast cook the meat 22 minutes per pound.

When using a roast thermometer, insert bulb in thickest part of meat, not resting against bone or fat. Roast until thermometer registers 140 degrees F. for rare beef, 160 degrees F. for medium, or 170 degrees F. for well-done meat.

The Christmas Story was told by Mrs. Rogers Hefley, after which Mrs. Moad read from a letter written to the class by Mrs. Audrey Johnson, former member who sent $25 to the class.

Gifts of food, clothing and toys were brought to be delivered to two needy families. Also gifts for special veterans at the VA Hospital were given, and plans made to add new accessories to the church kitchen.

Members were dismissed after repeating in unison the class benediction.

Hostesses to the 60 members were group majors, Mrs. Hugh Duncan, Mrs. Harold Parks, Mrs. Joe Leatherwood, Mrs. Clyde Denton, Twila Lomax, Mrs. Robert Stripling and Mrs. Hayes Stripling.

NONE IS PERFECT

By T. B. Tarbet, preacher,
Church of Christ, 2000 West Highway 80
P.O Box 1283

In his letter of protest to us, a local pastor said, "None of us is perfect either in conduct or in understanding." This statement is true; but it does not make it wrong for one to point out our imperfection to us. In these articles I have sought to point out some common imperfections in both conduct and understanding of the Scriptures. The pastor is protesting against my doing this. That is what his letter is about.

He did the very thing he condemned in me. He sought to correct what he thought was an imperfection in me. I do not in any way resent his letter of protest. I have considered it honestly. I am not obliged to accept his reproof if it is not justifiable reproof. I grant the same right to others when I point out what is believed to be their errors .....

All I ask is that they give it honest consideration.

An earnest soul appreciates having his mistakes pointed out. His constant question is, "What lack I yet?" (Mat. 19:20).

Plan to be with us Sunday.

U.N. Legates Agree Group Will Survive

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —A neutralist and a Latin-American U.N. delegate concurred today in Adlai Stevenson's belief the United Nations will survive despite the life-and-death issues that tested it this year.

Stevenson, chief U.S. delegate to the world organization, told a news conference Thursday the 104-nation body would win the struggle for existence even though many claimed it was in its death throes and he himself had warned it had taken a turn that could lead to its destruction.

The Soviet Union's diagnosis of the U.N.'s chances was expected today when Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin meets newsmen to give his appraisal of the 16th General Assembly, which recessed for Christmas Thursday.

Stevenson noted that when the 16th assembly met last September, a host of life-and-death issues faced it.

"On every one, we have today . . . a result better than we dared to predict," he declared.

The crucial problems, he said, had included the job of replacing the late Dag Hammarskjold as secretary-general, the China seating question, the financial crisis which threatened to bankrupt the U.N. and the Congo problem.

The first three have been solved for the time being at least, he noted.

"The news from the Congo," he added, "is a fresh reminder of the durability of the United Nations."

Stevenson emphasized again he was disturbed by the support Asian and African nations gave India's use of force against Portuguese Goa. Such an attitude, he told the Security Council Monday night, "can only lead to chaos and the disintegration of the United Nations."

He charged that the Soviet Union had tried to pit the large Asian-African group against the West but said this had not succeeded.

Stevenson's view on the U.N.'s durability was shared by the Asian neutralist and Latin-American delegates, both of whom asked not to be named.

"They said the U.N. was wrecked on the problem of the secretary-general and then on the Congo, and now they say it on Goa," said the Asian diplomat. "I don't think so. The organization has even grown with each of these crises."

Congo Expects Enforcement Of Katanga Peace Agreement

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The central Congo government and Belgians in Elisabethville say they expect the United Nations to enforce the unity agreement by President Moise Tshombe of secessionist Katanga, resorting to force if necessary.

Joseph Ileo, information minister for Premier Cyrille Adoula's Leopoldville central government, declared that "we do not intend to be outwitted again" by the Katanga leader, who signed an eight-point pact Thursday agreeing to accept the authority of the Congolese government over his wealthy province.

Ileo noted that Tshombe had repudiated similar agreements in the past but asserted that "this time the U.N. is directly involved and has the responsibility to see that the commitment is completely respected."

Tshombe signed the declaration at the U.N. military base at Kitona after 17-hour talks with Adoula and handed it to U.N. Undersecretary Ralph Bunche. The accord promised to place Tshombe's Katanga gendarmerie under the authority of Congolese President Joseph Kasavubu and pledged to support policies of the United Nations, which has demanded expulsion of foreign mercenaries directing Katanga armed forces.

On returning to Elisabethville, the Katanga capital, Tshombe declared he had "not found anything at Kitona."

"The important thing is that the accord we have reached has to be ratified by my ministers and by the national (Katanga) assembly, and that cannot be done for at least 10 days," he said.

Belgian observers in Elisabethville—where Katanga armed resistance crumbled after a two-week battle with U.N. troops—said they doubted that Tshombe's ministers and other followers would accept the agreement.

The Belgians also speculated if ratification is denied, the U.N. Command will feel compelled to resort to further military action.

A U.N. spokesman declared that there is no question of ratification as far as U.N. representatives are concerned. "It is signed, sealed and delivered," he said of the agreement.

Officials in Washington were also doubtful. A high-ranking U.S. official said that "the road ahead is still a rocky one. What we hope is that Katanga will live up to the agreement."

Wintry Blast Hits Rockies

By The Associated Press

Snow, sleet and rain blown with cutting force by winds up to 97 miles an hour swept down the northern Rockies today, closing highways in three states.

A cold front erased balmy temperatures and produced a weird variety of weather that included lightning, storms and rain.

Northern Montana was hardest hit, but winds triggered a series of snowslides that closed two major highways in western Wyoming.

In Colorado, winds up to 62 miles an hour smashed signs and windows and overturned two light airplanes—both with occupants—on runways at Denver. No one was hurt seriously.

U.S. Highway 6 was closed for a time Thursday night at 11,992-foot Loveland Pass, west of Denver, where winds and blowing snow created nightmare conditions.

Lightning bolts knocked out telephone service at Helena, Mont., and caused damage in at least one home.

Highest wind velocity in the region was 97 m.p.h. near Livingston, Mont.

In Wyoming, snowplows chewed away at giant drifts and a number of snowslides.

The first full day of the winter season also brought wintry weather to many other sections of the country.

Light snow fell across northern areas from Montana eastward through the Dakotas into the upper Great Lakes through Michigan into northern Ohio and western Pennsylvania and northeastward through interior parts of New York and New England.

American Stock Exchange Begins Reformation Moves

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Stock Exchange has begun reformation moves.

An investigating committee of its own members recommended reorganization of the nation's No. 2 securities market to the board of governors Thursday.

"A fundamental revision of the exchange and its administrative machinery is necessary and should be undertaken without delay," it said.

The nine-member committee of broker members was appointed Oct. 12 to review the exchange's rules, policies and procedures.

This came after the Securities and Exchange Commission had launched its own investigation following a price manipulating scandal involving two specialists, the father and son team of Jerry and Gerard Re.

The Res were suspended by the SEC and later arrested.

The exchange committee's interim report came only 10 days after the resignation of Edward T. McCormick from the $75,000-a-year exchange presidency.

McCormick, 50, and general counsel Michael E. Mooney, who quit with him, said they felt they should sever connections because of "recent publicity."

There had been complaints of laxity in enforcing exchange rules and policies, and McCormick's administration had been under pressure from elements of the financial community.

The committee said the most immediate problem confronting the exchange is the selection of a new president. It conceded that it may be difficult to fill the office until details of any reorganization are known.

Noting the tremendous growth of the exchange in new listings and trading volume in the last 10 years, during which McCormick was president, the committee said: "These facts make it clear that the administration, staff and membership of the exchange have a broad public trust. Their actions at all times must both seem and be right. Those in positions of authority at the exchange should not tolerate any deviation from this mandate."

The committee called the exchange's existing organization, "including reliance on an awkward committee system" inadequate.

It recommended that the nine standing committees be eliminated because the system "has demonstrated its inherent weaknesses" including "division of authority and an absence of well-defined responsibility."

The committee, headed by Gustave Levy of the brokerage firm Goldman, Sachs and Co., said the objectives of its program were:

To establish a board of governors which will represent all segments of the membership as well as the pulic at large on a properly balanced basis and be the sole policy making body.

To center all administrative authority in the president with an adequate staff responsible directly to him.

To provide a constitutional framework rigid enough to insure the division between policy and administrative responsibilities, but also be flexible enough to permit prompt and decisive action by the exchange as required in the public interest.

To secure for all firms doing business on the exchange an opportunity to be represented by direct ownership and the right to vote.

The committee said the board of governors should include representatives of organizations doing business for the public in all parts of the United States.

Rockefeller Search Ends

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller announced "with deep regret" Thursday that a search for his youngest son Michael, 23, who was lost off the coast of New Guinea had been ended and no trace of him has been found.

Rockefeller said he had been notified by the government of New Guinea that "the search has been brought to an end."

Rockefeller made the announcement at a news conference in his office.

Michael Rockefeller last was seen Nov. 19, when he plunged into waters off the coast of New Guinea from a disabled boat. He was on an anthropological expedition in search of primitive art in a remote, uncivilized section of New Guinea.

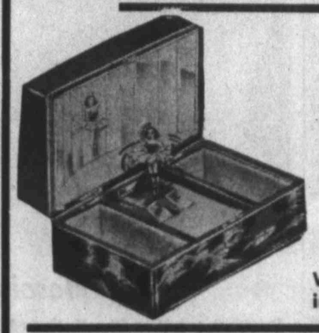

The governor flew to New Guinea and joined the search by plane and boat.

AF Officer Held On Security Count

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force has charged a decorated officer with giving U.S. military information to foreign agents during a visit to Germany last year.

The officer, Capt. Joseph P. Kauffman, 43, has been returned to Germany for investigation.

The foreign power involved was not identified, but it was believed to be a Communist country.

Officials here said they did not know whether any money had been paid or what the motives were.

The Air Force said Thursday the investigations now under way will determine if Kauffman, a finance officer who holds the Bronze Star and several other World War II and Korean War decorations, will be tried before a court-martial.

The possible penalty could be as severe as death, but Air Force officials said they doubted the extreme penalty would be imposed if there were a trial and conviction.

The four alleged violations reported by the Air Force in response to inquiries were:

1. Conspiring with foreign agents to communicate U.S. defense information to a foreign country on or about October 1960.
2. "Wrongly" communicating information relative to the national defense with reason to believe the information would be to the advantage of a foreign nation.
3. Failure to notify his commander of attempts by foreign agents to get him to reveal security information.
4. Falsifying answers to a questioner by "denying that he had been employed by a foreign government or any agency of a foreign government."

At the time of the alleged offenses, the Air Force said, Kauffman was on leave in Germany en route to his new station at Sondrestrom Air Force Base, Greenland.

The Air Force said the information allegedly handed to foreign agents concerned personnel and installations where Kauffman had been stationed.

Kauffman, a bachelor, was born in Rutland, Vt.

'Peter' Makes Gift Of Faith

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) —A car with Connecticut license plates stopped at a Christmas tree sales lot and the driver approached Bob Desselle, 15.

"Are you a member of the boys' club?" the driver asked. Desselle said he was.

"Son, do you remember the passage in the Bible where Peter is walking on the water and is told to keep on walking and not look back—but to keep the faith?" the man asked. Again the boy said yes.

"Keep your faith...I'm Peter," the man said as he pressed a roll of bills into Desselle's hand.

As the stranger drove away, Desselle counted $67.

Hound Dog Has Profitable Yule

ACCORDING TO BIG SPRING MERCHANTS:

Biggest Christmas Business Yet

By SAM BLACKBURN

"Biggest Christmas business we have ever enjoyed!"

This sums up the viewpoint of most businessmen in Big Spring as the final hours before the big holiday.

Downtown and out in the suburban shipping areas the story's the same.

"We've had the biggest business in our history," is the general report from stores of all kinds.

Downtown, the onslaught of buyers is making itself evident. Shelves and counters which were piled high with holiday merchandise three weeks ago are beginning to look gaunt and depleted. Warehouses which were crammed to capacity with reserve items are beginning to appear empty.

The cash registers continue their cheerful clamor and clerks, still wearing their welcoming smiles in spite of hurting feet and weary arms, have plenty to keep them going.

Saturday sees the end of the big season. This year, there will be no last minute Christmas Eve shopping—Christmas Eve this year falls on Sunday. These belated folk who have failed to complete their shopping have only tomorrow to make amends.

Most merchants do not anticipate any huge rush on the final day. They believe that the buying, which has been steady since the season opened, has about absorbed all of the steam. There will be, of course, the inevitable last minute buyer who will have to seek those gifts he had neglected to buy.

"We think most of the real buying is over and done," said most of the merchants. "This year, the customers seemed to be keenly alert to the advantage of shopping early. They benefited by the practice and so did the stores."

Downtown department store operators said that this entire fall, beginning with October, has been good. In 1960, they recalled, October and November were slow. December was a big month but all insist not as big as the current December.

In all lines of merchandise — jewelry, clothing, appliances, furniture—the story is the same.

"Biggest business on record," is the general chorus.

Nor was the rush restricted to the downtown stores. The suburban shopping centers have had a good month—possibly better than usual for the reason that traffic downtown was so difficult.

Some of the stores, which make much of their sales in January, are faced with the happy situation of not having too much left on hand to offer. If the buying power of the holiday season carries over into the January sale interval, the stores will be able to chalk up 1961 as an admirable period in all respects.

Food stores, which will close their doors almost 100 per cent on Christmas Day, were bracing for the big push on Saturday. Last minute buying to get ready for the big Christmas dinner will send the housewives of the city thronging to the food marts.

Here again, the celebration of Christmas on Monday changes the general pattern of buying. In other times, when Christmas Eve was a weekday, the buying could be stalled to the last moments before closing time on Dec. 24. This time, for many, the purchasing has to be out of the way a full day before the holiday itself.

No one would hazard a guess on the total volume of Christmas buying in Big Spring.

An item of considerable significance is the large number of new automobiles which have been sold this month. While these cannot all be charged off as Christmas purchases, still the volume of business they represent reflects itself importantly on the prosperous picture the season projects.

Many business establishments, which have enjoyed a good year, have marked the occasion with Christmas bonus checks to their employes. This has added additional fuel to the buying fire—the extra money thus afforded has been freely used by most recipients for special gifts they had not planned to buy.

Another barometer of buying is the number of chattel mortgages filed with the county clerk. This week, with two days to go, has already seen 271 of these instruments presented for filing.

For the most part these are indications of the purchase of more expensive appliances, furniture, television receivers, and other costly merchandise.

The entire month has been marked by many chattel mortgages but the past week has been exceptionally heavy in that field, according to Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk.

Utility Company Names Aaron District Manager

W. TRAVIS AARON

W. Travis Aaron, who was reared in Big Spring, has been named district manager of Southwestern Public Service Company in Amarillo.

He went to Amarillo in 1953 as the system's safety supervisor and began his career with the company in the late 40's while a student at Texas Tech.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron plan to be here Christmas to visit with his mother, Mrs. Houston Parker, US 80 west, and his sister, Mrs. Aubrey Hethcoat.

While attending high school here, Aaron worked for Texas Electric Service, and afterwards he left the company to enter the Armed Forces. After separation from service, he returned here and was married to Miss LaVon Olson, a teacher in the high school.

Then he entered Texas Tech and made his initial connection with Southwestern Public Service as a journeyman electrician. When he earned his degree in 1951, he became safety supervisor for the southern division of the system. In 1954, the program he directed resulted in company employes working 3,000,000 man hours without a lost-time accident, the second time in industry history that a company had achieved such a record.

Aaron has been active in many affairs. He is chairman of the industrial section of the civil defense organization in Amarillo; associate chairman of the Panhandle chapter of the American Association of Safety Engineers; past chairman of the Mental Health Association; a member of the Southwestern Safety Exchange. The Aarons live at 3905 Linda in Amarillo.

Berlin Wall Keeps Child From A Full Christmas

BERLIN (AP)— For Christmas Christiane wants a toy wash tub, a wash board and a carriage for her dolls. She probably will get them. But she will not be able to see grandma.

Christiane lives in West Berlin, her grandma on the other side of the wall in East Berlin.

For the first time, this Berlin child of 5 may grasp the meaning of the concrete wall the Communists have erected right in front of her window.

Christiane's parents live in one of the shabby tenement houses of Sebastianstrasse, a border street in a West Berlin workers' district.

"It would be wonderful if we could spend Christmas together," said Christiane's mother, Frieda Schmilk.

"But I don't believe the wall will come down in the near future."

A 30-year-old housewife, Mrs. Schmilk is one of the thousands of Berliners separated from kinfolk by the concrete curtain. It will be the first time that she cannot visit her parents at Christmas.

"You will find no holiday mood in this neighborhood," said Christiane's aunt, Annemarie Kotte. She lives in the same border house.

"We have the Vopos (East German police) with their submachineguns right in front of our nose. We dare not wave to our neighbors across the street," she said.

"And now we also have to stand this terrible noise from the loudspeakers in the East."

Eight loudspeakers across the wall were blaring propaganda slogans and martial music.

Koreans Hanged

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Choi Inkyoo, 43, home minister under former President Syngman Rhee, and four others were hanged Thursday. They had been convicted on charges ranging from political terrorism to pro-Communist activities.

Library Closes For Christmas

The Howard County Library closed for the Christmas holidays today at noon and will re-open at noon Tuesday, according to Mrs. Opal McDaniel, librarian.

Books which become due during this period, and books already overdue, may be returned by using the drop box outside the library. There will be no charges for late books returned during that time, she said.

DEAR ABBY

Innocent Luncheon?

DEAR ABBY: I am a secretary and I resent the implication that just because my boss takes me to lunch three and four times a week there must be some funny business going on between us.

He takes me to lunch because it is his way of showing me that he appreciates a good secretary. We might even have a cocktail or two before we eat and I see nothing wrong with it. It has come back to me that there is talk in this office, and his wife has even asked the other girls questions about me. I wish you'd tell me just what two people could do between 12 and 1 in a crowded restaurant.

LUCKY MISS BROWN

DEAR LUCKY: They could make plans to meet after 5 where it isn't so crowded.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I can't stand my husband when he is drunk and he can't stand me when he is sober. What should we do?

I am a nervous wreck. After being married for 14 years we have nothing in common. We do have five children, but you would think I found them in a cabbage patch for all the help he gives me with them. The only affection I ever get from him is when he has liquor on his breath, and that is when I would like to run a mile. What is a woman supposed to do in a situation of this kind?

HAD IT

DEAR HAD IT: It is difficult to tell whether your husband is miserable because he's drinking or drinking because he's miserable. Catch him when he's sober and ask him to lay his cards on the table. Ignoring a poor relationship only makes it worse. It's time for some plain sober conversation. Start it!

* * *

DEAR ABBY: A neighbor got my 19 - year - old daughter interested in corresponding with her (the neighbor's) 22 - year - old "nephew" by showing her his picture. After writing back and forth for 8 months a big romance bloomed. Now it turns out that this young man is not really her nephew, but the son of her best friend. She never told us that this fellow has had a nervous breakdown which has required psychiatric treatment off and on for years. His hobby is writing and my neighbor excuses it all by saying she thought it would be "good" for him to have a pen pal. In other words, she used my daughter as someone for him to write to. He is coming to this city soon. My daughter wants to meet him, knowing all about his background. We are against it. We'd like your opinion.

HER PARENTS

DEAR PARENTS: It was dishonest of your neighbor to have withheld this revealing information about the man. Don't condemn him for having had psychiatric treatment. His mental state could now be better than that of others who need treatment but never have had it. If your daughter, knowing his history, wants to meet him, don't interfere.

Christmas At The VA Hospital

Volunteers from numerous local and area civic groups brought Christmas to veterans in the Big Spring Veterans' Administration Hospital in a few days ahead of schedule as the seasonal festivities there were climaxed Thursday night with the annual party. Patients gathered in the recreation room on the second floor for a program and refreshments. Gifts were then distributed at the bedside of each patient by volunteers who helped provide them. Mrs. James Horton is shown giving a present to James E. Goodman. In the background is R. R. McKinney.

Pleads Not Guilty To Charges Arising From Highway Chase

James Preston Roberts, who was transferred from Cowper Clinic and Hospital to the Big Spring city jail Thursday afternoon, entered a plea of not guilty in corporation court Friday morning to five charges of traffic violations. His bond was set at $100 and trial will be Dec. 29. He did not make bond.

Roberts, who is facing charges of swindling by worthless checks in Midland and Lamesa and with issuing worthless checks in Seminole, was injured in a collision east of Stanton on IS 20, when his car struck the car being driven by Stanton police officer Jake Bruton. Bruton, also hospitalized, was attempting to stop Roberts, who is charged with traveling at speeds in excess of 100 miles an hour trying to elude Big Spring police and highway patrolmen.

Roberts will be tried in city court on two charges of failure to yield right of way to an emergency vehicle, one of improper lane change, one of disregarding a red light, and another of driving 100 miles an hour in a 45-mile speed zone.

Four charges were filed against Roberts by highway patrolmen in Justice of the Peace Walter Grice's court Wednesday, and bond set at $2,000 on each one. The charges were for failure to obey a lawful order of police, speeding at 110 miles per hour in a 60-mile zone, changing lanes without proper safety precautions, and failure to yield right of way to an emergency vehicle.

Bruton was still in the Cowper Clinic and Hospital Friday at noon. He said he was sore all over but otherwise feeling "pretty good."

"The doctors still want to see me for a while but I believe I will be out before long. "I have been stopping drivers for 37 years, but it's the first time I ever had to get hurt doing it."

City Named In Suit

The City of Big Spring has been named as the defendant in a $27,800 damage suit.

Betty Fulcher filed the suit naming the city as the defendant. The case was lodged in the 118th District Court Friday morning.

She alleges that on Sept. 18, as she was stepping from the pavement to the sidewalk in front of 209-218 Runnels, the curbing gave way under her feet. She fell and suffered injuries which she alleges will be of long duration.

She charges that the City of Big Spring was negligent in not keeping the curbing in good repair and she asks $27,800 damages.

Roberts Seeks Congress Seat

GREENVILLE (AP) —State Sen. Ray Roberts declared Thursday night he was a "no strings attached" candidate for the congressional seat of the late House Speaker Sam Rayburn.

He sent an estimated 300 supporters home from a rally with red ribbons on their fingers. Roberts said the "ribbons for Ray" would remind them to urge others to vote in Saturday's special election.

Roberts said he was the only candidate who could win without a runoff and be on the job in Washington Jan. 10 when Congress reconvenes. If a runoff is necessary, the date must be set by the governor.

Representatives from all seven counties in the North Texas congressional district attended the rally, broadcast over a three-station radio hookup.

Pilot Escapes

EDGEMERE, Idaho (AP)— An F106 Delta Dart jet fighter exploded and crashed Thursday. The pilot, Maj. Joseph F. Passantino, chief of fighter group operations at Geiger Air Force Base, Spokane, ejected safely and drifted several miles by parachute, landing in about 30 inches of snow.

Reserve Group Lashes Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Reserve Officers Association has accused Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara of not dealing fairly with the nation's Reservists and their families.

The accusation was in a broad attack the association directed Thursday at the Pentagon on reserve matters.

There has been "obvious downgrading of the Reserve consideration at all levels," the association said. It also claimed the Pentagon reaches decisions on the Reserves "by mysterious methods not shared with the American people or even with the Congress."

Later, the Defense Department commented in a statement that it is "fully convinced of the importance and the capabilities of the Reserve system and the indispensable contribution" it makes to the nation's defense.

The association's statement asserted that:

1. McNamara has permitted to go unchallenged many public misconceptions" about the Reserve program and that this threatens to undermine the morale of Reserve units.

2. The Defense Department has failed to understand the broader aspects of the Reserve program and abolished the offices in each service of the assistant secretary for reserve and personnel affairs.

Free On Bond

ABILENE (AP)— Mrs. K. P. Jones was free under $5,000 bond today in the fatal shooting of her estranged husband. A murder with malice charge was filed after her husband was shot in the chest with a pistol Thursday.

Lions Hear Of School's VE Program

Louis Maneely, coordinator, explained to Downtown Lions Wednesday how the vocational program works in Big Spring High School.

Maneely has the industrial cooperative training program, a successor to the original diversified occupations. (Since 1947 a parallel program for sales and service occupations has been offered also as Distributive Education.)

The ICT program here, centering on skilled trades and occupations, is the oldest countinuous program in the state, having 26 consecutive years of operation, Maneely explained.

It is not a part-time job situation for high school pupils, he emphasized, rather an intensive training program. While the pupil puts in 20 to 25 hours a week on the job training for that particular job, he also carries on regular school work plus parallel technical studies.

Each occupation has its own course of study, and Maneely said that Big Spring High School has the best technical library of this type in the state.

Out of the program here have come some three dozen individuals who are either owners or managers of businesses in Big Spring, and many hold similar status elsewhere, he said. Besides the training program, there is a corollary club program (Vocational Industrial Club) which schools young people in civic responsibility, leadership qualities, the social courtesies and graces, Maneely said.

Air Crash Kills 27

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — A British Comet-4 jet airliner Thursday crashed and burned shortly after taking off from Ankara airport Thursday night, killing 27 of the 34 persons aboard.

Four Americans were among the seven survivors. It was believed they were the only Americans aboard.

All the survivors were sitting in a rear section of the cabin that came through the crash almost intact.

The British European Airways jet was flying from London to Tel Aviv, Israel.

The Americans pulled alive from the wreckage were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Joseph Goldman, believed to be from Roslyn Heights, N.Y.; Doris Mae Freudenberger, Bethlehem, Pa., a teacher in the U.S. Armed Forces School in Turkey who was flying to Cyprus and Israel for a Christmas vacation; and Arnold Holtzman, whose address was not immediately known.

All suffered burns and shock but the airline said their chances of recovery were good.

Wintry Chill Back In Texas

By The Associated Press

A wintry chill moved back into Texas with mild force Friday, but there was no prospect for a white Christmas anywhere in the state.

By the calendar, Thursday night brought the official start of winter and another cold front started arriving right on schedule. Its leading edge lay somewhere along a line stretching from somewhere between Wichita Falls and Fort Worth toward San Angelo by early Friday.

Skies grew at least partly cloudy over the east und southeast sections of the state. It was mostly clear in other areas.

Visibility dropped to zero for a time in dense fog at Cotulla in Southwest Texas.

Behind the advancing norther the mercury dipped to 32 degrees at Lubbock and El Paso before sunrise. Temperatures elsewhere ranged up to a balmy 63 at Brownsville.

Christmas Gift For Janice

Janice Walker, who was one of 100 boys and girls who were guests of the Kiwanis Club Thursday at the annual Westside Park party, wasn't sure just what the gift she received was but, nevertheless, she was pleased with it.

Kiwanians Sponsor Santa In Trip To Westside Center

Christmas — as symbolized by Santa and gifts—came to a hundred youngsters at Westside Park community building on Thursday noon.

It was the annual Kiwanis Club party for the underprivileged children of the West Side. The Kiwanians were given an assist this year by the American Business Club, which furnished sacks of fruit and candy, and by the Council of Church Women, which helped select the kids.

Each of the young guests received a gift. This year all presents were toys. No "practical" presents were tolerated and there were no long faces as the young guests eagerly ripped away the gay wrapping.

As a preliminary to the gift distribution, the boys and girls munched happily on tasty ham sandwiches and drank gallons of Coca Cola. To finish off the meal, there were stacks of Christmas cookies.

During the meal, the youngsters heard a tape recording provided by Bob Bradbury describing Santa Claus' trip from the North Pole.

At 12:30 p.m. the jovial guest of honor arrived — brought to the community house at the park by Jay Banks, police chief.

The distribution of the toys and the sacks of fruit followed.

Ward Jackson, chairman of the Kiwanis youth work committee, assisted by Bradbury and Walter Eubanks, arranged details of the meeting. The wives of Kiwanians assembled the mountains of ham sandwiches and the cookies. Jack Roden, Coca Cola Bottling Co., provided the drinks.

The youngsters who were given presents were from three to 12 years of age. They were carefully selected by workers at the park. The club members were given the names of their young guests and information as to their age.

Ernest Welch, president of the club, had emphasized that all of the club members buy playthings this year rather than garments, as some have in other years.

As a result of this decision, the party was a happy one for the kids.

Deasons Get Youth Plaque

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Deason were recently presented with a plaque in Yuma, Arizona, for their work with youth.

Frank, son of Lawrence (Curley) Deason, formerly of Big Spring and now of San Antonio, was born and reared in Big Spring.

The plaque was presented to the Deasons by the Park and Recreation Department and the Optimist Club of Yuma at a banquet.

Deason and his wife, Dorothy, have worked with the Babe Ruth baseball league for several years and for the past two seasons Deason has served as the circuit's president.

He is secretary-manager of the Yuma County Fair.

The two have a 15-year-old boy, Larry, who pitched in the Babe Ruth league last season and who plans to go into the Connie Mack league next season. He has been in youth's baseball since he was nine years of age.

The Deasons have been residents of Yuma since shortly after World War II.

Curley Deason, who says he still regards Big Spring as home although he has been away from here for many years, is now spending the holidays here with his sister, Ima Deason.

Graveside Rites

Graveside rites will be held at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at City Cemetery for Jannie Louise White, one-day-old daughter of Mary Jo White, 710 Ohio, Big Spring. The Rev. Howard Adams will officiate. Arrangements will be in charge of River Funeral Home. Survivors are the mother, a sister, Brenda Sue, and the grandmother, Mrs. Artis White, all of Big Spring.

OIL REPORT

Two Locations Logged In Area

Howard and Mitchell counties each gained a new location on today's report. There were four completions logged.

In Howard County, Schkade Brothers Drilling Co. No. 4 M. M. Edwards is projected to 1,500 feet in the Howard - Glasscock field. The Mitchell County site is Standard No. 14 H. C. Miller, set for 3,300 feet in the Westbrook field.

The Lamesa, West field gained its fifth producer in both the Mississippian and Spraberry with completion of Texaco No. 1 B. B. Bratcher Jr. It pumped 37.41 barrels of oil from the Spraberry and 163.99 barrels of oil from the Mississippian.

Other completions were in Howard, Borden and Martin counties.

Commie Gets Knot On Head

NEW YORK (AP)—Communist leader Benjamin J. Davis was hit on the head with a sign as a group of booing, hissing students pursued him following his address at City College Thursday. He was not injured.

Davis was followed by about 50 students when he left the college's Finley Student Center after challenging the Justice Department to prove that he still is national secretary of the Communist party of the United States.

The group quickly grew to more than 100 which surrounded Davis and three college guards. Students and guards exchanged punches in the brief melee that erupted.

Many of the students carried placards reading "Commies go home" and "Free speech—but why invite traitors?" Others sang "God Bless America," and one shouted "Sell your free speech to the widows in Hungary!"

The demonstration was called "hoodlumism" by Davis, who added: "There would be a million of them, and they wouldn't intimidate me or my party."

The college said the demonstrators were members of the Ukrainian and Hellenic societies on the campus and that many of their parents had suffered under communism.

State's Biggest Inheritance Tax

AUSTIN (AP)—The state comptroller received an inheritance tax payment of $5,853,596 Thursday and called it "the biggest inheritance tax collected in state history."

Robert S. Calvert, the comptroller, was given the check by J. C. Gunter, treasurer of the estate of the late Sid Richardson, Fort Worth oil and cattleman.

Gunter said the tax was paid on an estate of $105,346,000, the bulk of which was left, he said, to the Sid W. Richardson Foundation.

Richardson died Sept. 30, 1959.

Kennedy Wants Sanctions Lifted

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy says that if the Organization of American States (OAS) lifts its sanctions against the Dominican Republic, the United States will restore its diplomatic relations with the Caribbean country.

He said solution of the political difficulties in the country, the principal feature of which is the immediate creation of a council of state, has now been accepted by the major elements of the democratic opposition.

District Awards Two Contracts

Two contracts were awarded by the Colorado River Municipal Water District here Wednesday, one of them rounding out a shortwave automatic control system for the Morgan Creek pump station.

Communications Engineering Company submitted the low bid of $7,133 for the supervisory control system, said E. V. Spence, general manager, and engineers recommended award of the contract to the firm. Previously General Electric's low bid of $19,378 on the carrier equipment, including the tower, was accepted by the board. This makes the total for the installation $26,511, about $2,500 under estimates.

While the equipment will be used to operate the Morgan Creek booster station in northeastern Howard County, it is designed to fit into an over-all system for eventually controlling the entire pumping operations on the pipeline system electronically and automatically.

The other contract awarded was to Western Machinery Company of Abilene for a 58-hp maintainer to be used in road and other dirt work around Lake J. B. Thomas and at the Martin County well field. Western allowed a $3,575 trade-in on a maintainer in use, leaving a net of $4,490 for the district. The maintainer is an Allis-Chalmers.

Students Prove Good Hearts In Toy Campaign

BRENTWOOD, N.Y. (AP) — Brentwood High School students, officially taken to task recently over short skirts and tight pants, have proved they are made of finer stuff.

Baring their hearts instead of their knees, they collected 500 gifts for young patients in nearby St. Charles Hospital. They delivered them Wednesday.

The toys were collected in a door-to-door campaign, undertaken to combat what the students termed bad publicity for their school.

At the end of November, 37 girls were suspended for one or two days for wearing knee-revealing skirts. Boys with too-tight pants also came in for censure.

More than 60 of the Brentwood junior and senior high students took part in the toy drive. If they couldn't get new toys, they accepted old ones which could be renovated.

Vice principal Harvey S. Brickman also pointed out that the students conduct an annual drive before Christmas to aid needy families in the area.

"The students of each home room 'adopt' a family and bring in nonperishable foods for distribution at holiday time," said Brickman.

As for the high-hemline and tight pants furore, he said that has quieted down.

"The girls are really complying (with longer hem-lines) and so are the boys," said Brickman, "but of course you may find one or two improperly attired students floating around."

Driver, Daughter Burned To Death

RIVER SIOUX, Iowa (AP)—A Texas truck driver and his daughter trapped in the wreckage of their truck after it collided with another and collapsed a bridge, burned to death Thursday.

They were William Moore, 31, and his daughter, Cindy Ann, 10, of Mesquite, near Dallas.

Highway Patrolman Carl Lenz said he talked to Moore and Cindy and held the girl's hand but was unable to free them before the truck burst into flames.

Moore was pinned in the cab. The girl was wedged in the sleeping compartment in the rear of the cab.

Officers said Moore's truck sideswiped a gasoline transport at the edge of the bridge, caromed from side to side over the bridge and then fell about 18 feet into a drainage ditch below when the bridge collapsed.

Gains Pardon In Bomb Case

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Former labor leader Warren K. Billings, who spent 23 years in prison in the aftermath of one of labor's most celebrated cases of the century, has won a pardon. He called his imprisonment "unjust" but said he's not bitter.

Billings, now 68, was convicted with Thomas J. Mooney of a bombing in San Francisco on July 22, 1916, during a parade of Spanish-American War veterans urging preparedness for World War I. Ten persons were killed and 40 injured.

Mooney, who had been pardoned in 1939, died March 6, 1942, after his death sentence was commuted to life imprisonment. Billings who received a life sentence, was released from prison in 1939 after his sentence was commuted to time served.

"It will not change my outlook on life," the short, blond Billings said Thursday at a news conference after learning that he had been granted one of 37 Christmas pardons by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

"It's something I feel I have been entitled to for 45 years," said Billings, a part-time clock repairman here who lives in nearby San Mateo.

Billings added, "It was an unjust imprisonment, you might say. I wasn't there (at the bombing site) and didn't know anything about it."

The historic San Francisco Preparedness Day bombing touched off widespread labor demonstrations.

Organized labor and liberal groups contended for some 20 years that the case was contrived to weaken the then struggling labor movement.

Billings and Mooney, who had been trying to organize San Francisco's streetcar workers, maintained that the bomb had been planted by detectives for antilabor employers.

In 1918, after a massive protest campaign against their convictions, President Woodrow Wilson urged Mooney's execution be postponed.

"I blamed it on the situation of the time with the open shop operators fighting to break up the unions," Billings said.

Billings, who spent 22 years without parole supervision and without incident, said he was not bitter.

Now that his civil rights have been restored, he says an immediate result of the pardon will be his right to vote. He said he had only voted once, for Franklin D. Roosevelt for president in 1944.

They let me vote rather than take a chance of being sued," he said.

Wilson Enters Suit Over Land Deeded To Church

AUSTIN (AP) — Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has asked a Parker County court to set aside a default judgment voiding conveyance of 1,000 acres of land to the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

He asked that the case be tried on its merits.

He stepped into the suit in 43rd District Court in Weatherford under a law requiring the attorney general to be made a party to any suit to annul or impair any instrument creating or affecting a charitable trust.

The suit was filed by John Stocks as guardian of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stocks Sr. The land involved is about 500 acres each in Parker and Hood counties.

The attorney general said the couple deeded the property in trust to the Baptist Convention in 1955, retaining a life interest in the property.

In 1961 they conveyed their life estate to the church organization. Two months later they were placed in the guardianship of their son.

The son alleged that the Stocks had contracted with their six children in 1933 to convey to them, upon their parents' death, all the property involved, if the children agreed to work with and for the parents until the land was paid for in full.

The suit alleges the children complied with their part of the bargain and that the parents were not legally competent when they deeded the land to the Baptist General Convention and that they were under undue influence.

The court granted the default judgment when the church organization failed to file an answer to the suit in time.

G'water Acclaims Kennedy's Tour

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., a frequent critic of the Kennedy administration, has praised the President's South American program.

"I'll have to take my hat off to him," Goldwater told a civic club Thursday night. "What he said (on his recent South American trip) took courage.

"Before much progress uan be made, the land owned by a few in Latin-American countries must be divided. The big question is how."

Eure Sure?

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) —The Christmas greeting this year from North Carolina Secretary of State Thad E. Eure to radio broadcasters contains a lesson on how to pronounce his name. After 25 years in office, Eure wrote: "It is NOT pronounced Eu-ry, E-ray, Er-re, U-ry, Ooer, U-ree, Ooray or U-rie. It's pronounced "your're."

Shooting Unfair Labor Practice

CHICAGO (AP) — Shooting at union organizers is an unfair labor practice, says A. Bruce Hunt, National Labor Relations Board trial examiner.

Hunt ordered Spectator Sports Wear Co., and its owner Earl Spector, 39, to post a sign in the shop saying: "We will not use firearms or other violent means in order to combat our employes' organization efforts."

Spector was arrested last Aug. 25 and charged with firing four shots at a car carrying two union organizers. Neither was hurt. Spector claimed the men menaced him with pipe lengths.

Hunt's ruling was in favor of Local 743, Warehouse and Mail Order Employes Union. The local won a collective bargaining election at Spector's plant Nov. 27.

Pope Urges Peace, Equity Of Wealth

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII in his fourth Christmas message Thursday night combined a plea for peace with an appeal for more equitable sharing of the world's wealth.

The 80-year-old pontiff directed his appeals to "the rulers of nations, who today hold in their hands the fate of mankind."

The Vatican Radio today broadcast the annual message of the head of the Roman Catholic Church in scores of languages to all parts of the world, including the Communist East and troubled Africa.

There was hope in the message, but there was anxiety too.

"Shun all thought of force," the pontiff urged world rulers. "Think of the tragedy of initiating a chain reaction of acts, decisions, resentments that could erupt into rash and irreparable deeds."

He expressed a "heartfelt appeal that all those who control the economic forces should risk everything—but not the peace of the world and the lives of men — (and) seek every means that modern progress has put at their disposal to increase the welfare and security of the world."

To mankind as a whole, Pope John said: "All humanity must be good . . . just, upright, generous, disinterested, willing to understand and to forgive. . . ."

He spoke with concern of current world strife where "man is no longer brother, good, merciful and loving, to his fellow man, but has become a stranger, calculating, suspicious and selfish."

But the pontiff held out this hope: "We cannot believe that the terrific energy now under the control of man will be released for the world's destruction. For side by side with elements of fear and apprehension, there are positive signs of goodwill that is constructive and productive of good."

He concluded on a sober note: "We cannot pass over the anxiety that our heart feels at the thought that when next Christmas Day dawns upon the world, there will still be people without peace, without security, without religious liberty, people tormented by the specter of war and famine."

Card Exchanged For 30th Year

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Remember the fad back in the depression days of the early 1930s of using the same Christmas card year after year?

It's still going on here. One of these cards has just made its 30th trip between two friends, Mary Louise Jordan of Columbus, and Mrs. William Bond of Bloomsbury, Pa.

They started the exchange when they both lived in Johnstown, Pa. Mrs. Jordan received the card this year. Next year it will go back to Mrs. Bond. Beside the usual Christmas greeting, it bears a picture of a Scotchman who says, "Noo dinna get careless and lose this card . . . You can sent it next year if times get hard."

'Sweet Emma' Loses Savings

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—"Sweet Emma the Bell Girl" lost $2,500 to a purse snatcher.

The Dixieland jazz pianist, in private life Emma Barrett, 64, said this was her life savings.

She said she had the money in a shopping bag Wednesday when a man approached her and told her to be careful in traffic. While pretending to help her, the man grabbed the shopping bag and fled.

She told the police she distrusted banks.

"Sweet Emma" got her name from the tinkling bells she wears on her ankles while belting out Dixieland jazz with her combo.

God Is Born Among Men

EDITOR'S NOTE — In the Heavens, music. In the stillness below, the cry of a newborn infant. The mystery of the incarnation forms the subject of this last of four articles on the Christmas story, with its setting in heaven. The narrative is based on Scriptural allusions. Quotations are from the Bible, as attributed to angels, prophets and apostles whose words reflected the Mind of those higher realms.

Outwardly, there is little noteworthy about the planet.

It is relatively small and drab, a minor fragment of a minor sun, turning in the black ranges of the light-years.

Astronomically, one would scarcely notice the earth.

Yet on this night, it is a breathtaking attraction. The Pliades cannot match its glory. The magnificent Sirius pales in comparison. The earth on this night radiates with surpassing distinction.

"The Light shineth in the darkness."

Out of the throbbing skies, a luminous shaft streams down like spun silver on a rocky Judean hillside. And over the scene hovers a multitudinous host, exulting in the broad compass of the heavens.

"Lift up your heads, O gates! And be lifted up, O ancient doors! That the King of Glory may come in."

The lowly planet is touched by the Highest Presence, A unique Visitor crosses its threshold. The Sovereign Will bursts forth among uncertain humanity. Providence sets foot on earth. God joins man.

"In the beginning was the Word . . .and the Word was God. . . and the Word became flesh and dwelt among them."

The great intervention is commenced, the divine quest to reestablish living union with a dubious and precarious people.

HOSANNA CHORUS

It was thrillingly strange that the Most High should stoop to mingle directly with such errant and wavering planetary life, even to sharing its wretched state. Over that barren slope, the angelic concourse made a hosanna chorus, as swarming and lightsome as leaves in summer.

"God so loved the world. . ."

Amid all the brilliant forms of interstellar space, the whirling spiral nebulae, the first-magnitude stars, crimson, blue and gold, with their imposing planets, He had elected to merge Himself with straggling earth.

It was a tiny, brownish ball, far out on the arm of the galaxy that men call the Milky Way, revolving in a secondary, aging solar system.

It presented a sallow, depressing character beside the flaming supernovae, the sparkling eddies, the constellations, the dynamic rhythms and dazzling colors of the firmanment.

Yet God had leaned down to this lesser globe and its meager folk, cherishing them though they rejected Him, embracing them though they mocked, giving Himself to those who had failed to reciprocate.

"The love of God is shed abroad. . .Clap your hands, all peoples! Shout to God with loud songs of joy."

The surroundings in which He chose to appear were of the sort men consider most miserable, a smelly stable in a cave outside a cramped little town called Bethlehem in a bitterly oppressed land.

HUMBLEST LOT

He took on all the drawbacks of flesh, as a mere babe, in a penniless, migratory family from Nazareth. He acted to involve Himself in men's hardest, shabbiest, humblest lot, and hallow it.

He cast Himself into their world without reserve, because it mattered much to Him, all its woes, its anger, tears, diseases, frustrations, sarcasm, rituals, anxieties and hurts.

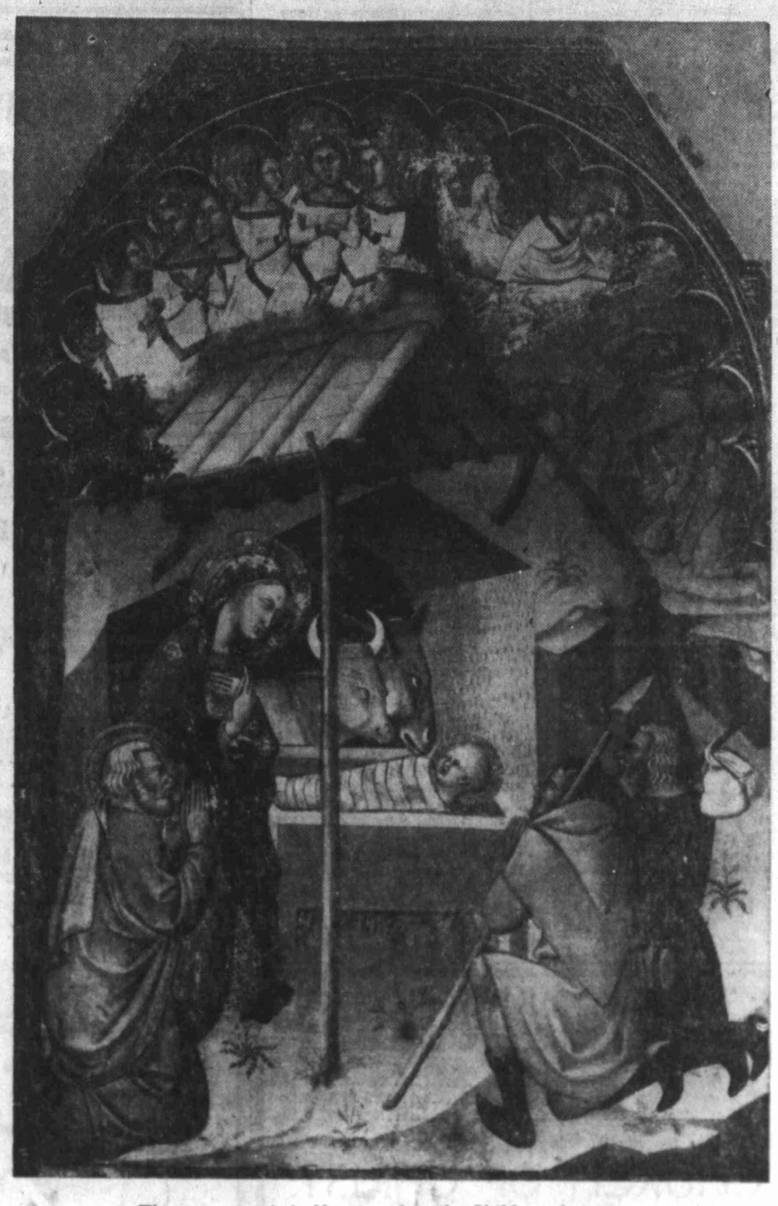

"He made Himself of no reputation, and took upon Himself the form of a servant. . .in the likeness of men. . .He had to be made like His brethren in every respect. . .to seek and to save that which was lost."

One of the angel throng swung down to announce the event through other commonplace humans, a crew of shepherds guarding their flocks in the valley.

"Fear not; for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David, a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord."

The herdsmen stood wide-eyed with awe.

"And this shall be a sign unto you; ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger."

There was music in Heaven when the Child was born

HASTY JOURNEY

The trembling men, hiding their faces, moved in disorderly haste across the dim valley floor, tripping on roots and boulders. Over them, benign gazes marked their shadowy course to the grotto.

"O man, greatly beloved. . . peace be with you."

Throughout the pinnacles and towering outposts of heaven, among the winging company that kept vigil, a frevent delight pulsed and swelled. from the zenith of creation to the musty stall.

Low in the stratosphere, three other planets converged in a triangle, Jupiter, Saturn and Mars, forming a scintillating cluster like a giant, close-hanging star.

It cast a pearly halo over the barnyard there and, across the desert and mountains in an area called Persia, racing spirits impelled learned magi to read the meaning of that star, and journey toward it.

"Arise! Shine! For thy Light is come."

It was a bountiful night, laden with ineffable solicitude for troubled man. The heavenly minions regarded him with gentle hope, wondering at his blurred perceptions.

He could not see the noontide vista where they moved, nor hear the melody of their hallelujahs. He could not imagine those eyes that saw all ways at once, those agile spirit bodies that could change direction without turning, that could be anywhere in an instant.

His distorted ways blotted out the loftier circuits, where wish was fulfillment, where work was accomplishment, where empathy was complete and life of a connected strand.

He groped in a three-dimensional prison, yearning to break out but too buried in his intellectual dogmas and conventional frame of references to see the way. He was alienated from true freedom by misuse of his own. In declaring independence from God, man had become trapped in a medium of matter, shackled to his perishable physical environs.

"Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

SPIRIT LIVES

God descended to show that even in human form, it is the spirit, not the flesh, that lives. He could have abandoned reprobate earth to its darkness. He didn't. On unseeing humanity, heaven rained its utmost revelation.

"The Light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ."

The Most High lowered Himself to close the breach between truth and mankind, to shatter the blockade shutting earth off from eternity. Men could not live up to Him. So He bent down to lead the fugitives back to their spiritual heritage, to mark the way, to end the separation and restore them to full friendship.

He offered a living pledge, in person, because he cared — immensely.

"God is love."

And it was Love that dropped that night into the sea of human history, an utter, unconditional, unparalleled ardor, a love for the unloving. "Everyone that loveth is born of God and knoweth God."

Moreover, God was not remote and distant, as many assumed. He was there, in that stony cleft of earth, among men, the least and greatest of them.

"Behold the kingdom of God is with men, and He will dwell with them."

The cascading light caressed the limestone cliffs, eddied through the curling leaves of olive trees and spilled into the blue shadows where the livestock grazed. In the stillness below came the cry of an infant.

And there was music in heaven.

"Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will to men."

Northside Baptist Mission In Achievement Program

The Mision Bautista "La Fe" (Northside Baptist Mission) of Big Spring has entered the 1962 Texas Baptist Church achievement program, Pastor Luis Gomez said this week.

REV. W. M. DOROUGH

Sponsored by the Baptist General Convention of Texas, the program is designed to stimulate interest in small-church work by providing growth incentives. Outstanding achievements by pastors and churches in areas of church, community and world improvement are recognized locally and at the annual Texas Baptist Convention.

More than 660 Texas Baptist town and country churches entered the program last year. Some of the churches recorded twice as many baptisms per member as the Southern Baptist Convention average. Others recorded outstanding increases in Sunday School attendances and gifts to missions.

Goals for advancement are adopted by each participating church for the three improvement areas. An inventory questionnaire furnishes suggestions for projects, such as health education, community recreation programs, citizenship training, race relations studies and world missions.

Pastors recognized in each of the denomination's 17 geographical districts receive parchment scrolls and the churches receive achievement certificates.

Churches in the open country and in towns of up to 2,500 population, all Latin American churches and missions, and city churches with less than 300 members, are eligible to enter the program. About two-thirds of the denomination's 3,876 churches are classified as town and country congregations.

Records and scrapbooks of program progress are made under the direction of three special committees. The scrapbooks are the basis for judging on the associational, district and state-wide levels.

Darwin Farmer, director missions associate for the BGCT, Dallas, is in charge of the program. He said the enlistment of a church's total membership in active service is the program's primary value.

Rev. Dorough Recalled Sunday By Nazarenes

Rev. W.M. Dorough was recalled to serve a four year term as pastor for the Church of the Nazarene, 14th and Lancaster, by the members of the Church in a special meeting last Sunday.

The Doroughs came to Big Spring in June, 1958 to serve a one year term as pastor. In 1959, a three year term was extended, to expire May 1, 1962.

Last Sunday, the members voted to recall the present pastor for an additional four year term, the longest period for which a pastor may be called at any one time in the Church of the Nazarene. The present call would expire May 1, 1966.

If the call is accepted and completed this will make eight years Rev. Dorough will have served as pastor of the Big Spring church.

Rev. Dorough is expected to give an answer concerning acceptance of the call Sunday morning.

Church By Correspondence Headquartered In Boston

BOSTON (AP)— Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Pitts, of Big Lake, Alaska, located above the Arctic Circle, are members of the congregation of a Boston church.

Another member is Dr. Albert Schweitzer, famed humanitarian, who lives in West Equatorial Africa.

The Pitts family and Dr. Schweitzer are among more than 4,000 members of the Unitarian Universalist Church of the Larger Fellowship, which has a congregation scattered across the United States and 62 foreign countries.

There is no church building. Most of the members have never met the Rev. George N. Marshall, spiritual counselor of the church.

A packet of church material, including a sermon, mailed twice a month to members of the congregation is the only contact most of them have with their church.

The Rev. Mr. Marshall said membership in his church appeals to persons "who live where there is no one with whom they can share beliefs, converse freely, and exchange ideas." The Rev. Mr. Marshall's mail, he said, covers an endless variety of topics, including questions of theology, family relationships, books and education.

Chartered in 1944 by the board of directors of the American Unitarian Association, the Church of the Larger Fellowship has operated a home religious education program for more than a decade.

"As the church program developed, some parents realized that their children needed to belong to the church too," the Rev. Mr. Marshall said. "The problem was worked out through correspondence with the children themselves."

The Junior Fellowship was organized for children over 6 years old and a Junior Fellowship Youth for children over 14.

The Rev. Mr. Marshall, who said his church is the largest and fastest growing in the Unitarian Universalist Association, encourages its members to leave the fold.

Members usually leave, he said, to join or help found Unitarian and Universalist societies when they find persons with similar religious views.

His correspondence church, the minister said, "serves the settled churches and also the members of the denomination who are on the move.

"The frail link of paper and pen brings to the individual a sense of belonging, a safe pole for the orientation of life—no matter what great distances might separate members from one another."

Catholics Slate Mass Services

Christmas services at Immaculate Heart of Mary Church will begin with Christmas carols by the choir at 11:30 p.m. Christmas Eve. Choir numbers will include "The First Noel," "Little Christ Child," and "Joy to the World." Mrs. Harold Talbot will sing "Silent Night."

The solemn High Mass will begin at midnight with Mass in C by A. Werner. Soloists will be Bill Sneed and Mrs. Harold Talbot. The offertory will be Adeste Fideles, by the choir.

The public is invited to attend Christmas Day Masses at 8 and 10 a.m.

Episcopal Church Plans Eucharist

"The Importance of Believing the Virgin Birth" will be the sermon topic of the Rev. Donald N. Hungerford at the 11:30 p.m. Midnight Eucharist at St. Mary's Episcopal Church on Christmas Eve.

The local church will observe the Mass of the Christ Child a few minutes past midnight with the Senior Choir singing the music. John R. Anderson and Mrs. Lester Beauvais will be soloists.

Good News of a Great Joy

THE MAGNETIC POWER OF THE BABE JESUS SEEN IN DRAWING MANY DIFFERENT GROUPS TO BETHLEHEM

Scripture—Matthew 2:1-12; Luke 2:1-20.

By N. SPEER JONES

TODAY'S lesson concludes the annual subject of Christ's birth, begun last week.

In the two Biblical records of Christ's birth reported by Matthew and by Luke, very little is duplicated. Matthew tells us about the visit of the wise men; about this several legends have grown up which have no basis in the Biblical version set forth by Matthew.

The consensus is that the wise men came from Babylon, once the capital of the great empire of Babylonia. Centered between the Tigris and Euphrates rivers, the land is now called Iraq. Babylon, south of Bagdad, was famous for its magnificence, culture and learning.

One of the legends concerning these wise men is that there were three of them. Actually, Matthew mentions three gifts, but says nothing as to the number of wise men.

Another legend is that these men were kings; here, again, careful reading gives no such indication.

Wilbur Smith in "Peloubet's Select Notes" (p. 426) offers a figurative interpretation of the three gifts: Gold may indicate deity, as it often does in the Bible; thus we see Christ set forth as God. Frankincense, a fragrant gum or resin from India, may indicate prayer and intercession, showing Christ's life as a fragrant hymn to God. Myrrh, a gum resin from the Red Sea used greatly by the Egyptians in embalming, carries a reference to death—Christ's death. Thus in the three gifts we may see a prophetic summation of Christ's life.

In the record of Christ's actual birth (Luke 2:1-7), we read of a decree from Augustus Caesar that all the world should be "enrolled."

Historical evidence now indicates that this was an epoch-making decree, marking the first of such enrollments, which were continued every 14 years for more than 200 years.

In the Old Testament are prophecies that Christ would be David's son, born where David was born, in Bethlehem; the town's name itself means "house of bread." (See Micah 5:2). It was also prophesied about when Christ would appear. (See Daniel.)

The star which guided the wise men has received a great deal of attention from theological students and astronomers. It may have been a star specially created as a guide, and then withdrawn from the skies; on the other hand, it may have been one of the regular stars in the heavens today. It may have been a star-like, supernatural light, as Chrysostom asserted; it may have been high in the sky, or low enough to stand over one particular house.

The story of the shepherds, told by Luke, completes today's lesson.

GOLDEN TEXT

"And the angel said unto them, Be not afraid; for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all people; for there is born to you this day in the city of David a Saviour, Who is Christ the Lord."—Luke 2:10,11.

"MY RIGHTS, MY LIBERTY"

Men everywhere are fearing bondage, conquest and slavery. Have we forgotten that "Eternal vigilance" is the price of liberty? Rosseau said, "A country cannot subsist well without liberty, nor liberty without virtue." Have we forgotten this? With all the swearing here in America and lying and killing and stealing and adultery, fornication, lust, greed and materialism, you answer it for yourself! Edmond Burke once said, "Men are qualified for civil liberty in exact proportion to their disposition to put chains upon their own appetites — Society cannot exist unless a controlling power upon the will and appetites is placed somewhere; and the less of it there is within, the more there must be of it without. It is ordained in the eternal constitution of things, that men of intemperate habits cannot be free. Their passions forge their fetters" — The freedom of some is the freedom of the herd to swine that ran violently down a steep place into the sea and were drowned. The only liberty that is valuable is a liberty connected with order; that not only exists with order and virtue, but which cannot exist at all without them. It inhere in good and steady government, as in its substance and vital principle." If this statement is true at all, and it is! Then there are many people in this land of America who are, by their lawless and godless lives doing their utmost to destroy this land, and yet they think they are good, helpful, tax paying, voting citizens; but they do not know that it is "not by might, nor by power, but by my Spirit saith the Lord." II Chronicles 7:14 "If my people which art called by my name will humble themselves and pray and seek my face, then will I hear from heaven and will forgive their sins and heal their land." Amos 5:14 "Seek, and not evil, that you may live: and so the Lord, the God of hosts shall be with you—" Hosea 4:6 "My people are destroyed for the lack of knowledge: because thou hast rejected knowledge, I will also reject thee—." Is your home a place where "a world of love is shut in and a world of strife is shut out?" If this is true you are contributing to the freedom of this nation by your virtue, but if NOT true you, to that degree that your home is destroyed are helping to sow the wind and the people of this land shall reap it in the form of a whirlwind! Are you one of those people who trust NOT in God's words but trust in the advancements of science? Consider then that Science has not developed a way yet for me to sow in righteousness that they might reap mercy. Consider that many who trust primarily in knowledge and human materialism have plowed wickedness and have reaped iniquity. God has written the great things of his word unto us but they are counted as strange things among us. Yet were it not for the freedom of circulation of the Bible amidst the people of this land we would know nothing of our precious heritage of freedom!

The call of the Carols...

The spirit of Christmas is contagious. Clarion bells and holy music break through the hum of our busy world.

The spell of Christmas calls you!

And it makes you want to call others!

Christmas has always affected men this way. First the herald angels bringing their good tidings to shepherds . . . the star beckoning three Wise Men to Bethlehem. Then Wise Men and shepherds returning from the Manger to thrill others with their strange story of the birth of the King.

Is it enough to answer the call of the carols?

Brighten someone's life by sharing the vision. Bring someone with you to worship the Christ.

This someone will understand Christmas better when he sees what it means to you!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A Devotional for Today

The shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen. (Luke 2:20.)

PRAYER: O Christ eternal, be born anew in our hearts and move our lives to sing to the glory of God and the salvation of men. In Thy divine name we ask these things, humbling ourselves before Thee. Amen.

(From The 'Upper Room')

But Who's Going To Pay?

Few, if any—including Harry Van Arsdale Jr. who made the proposal—expect the demand of the International Brotherhood of Electricians to get their asking of a 20-hour work week in New York. Mr. Van Arsdale, the business manager, indicated his union was prepared to strike if demands were not met.

Right now the craft is on a 30-hour work week in New York at $4.40 per hour (which compares with the industrial hallmark in steel of $3.55 per hour). The 20-hour proposal is the result of a move to spread the work, according to the business manager, but actually there is a shortage of electricians when it comes to some major construction jobs. What the issue boils down to is the same amount of money for one-third less hours worked. Of course, this is nice if you can get it, but it doesn't answer right off who is going to pay that extra third in increased costs for electrical work.

Mr. Van Arsdale promises that with the advent of his proposed four-hour day, each member of the craft will spend four hours in school, absorbing that leisure time, and what's more important, preventing him from taking another job on the side.

This business is supposed to be resulting from automation, yet it is ironical that every time pressures are exerted to overcome displacements attributed to automation, these constitute an even greater pressure to accelerate automation. Where all of this will end nobody knows—maybe in Mr. Van Arsdale's 20 hour week, and maybe with a nation that makes things by pushbuttons and services them by hand, or with a population that doesn't know what to do with its time.

What It Is All About

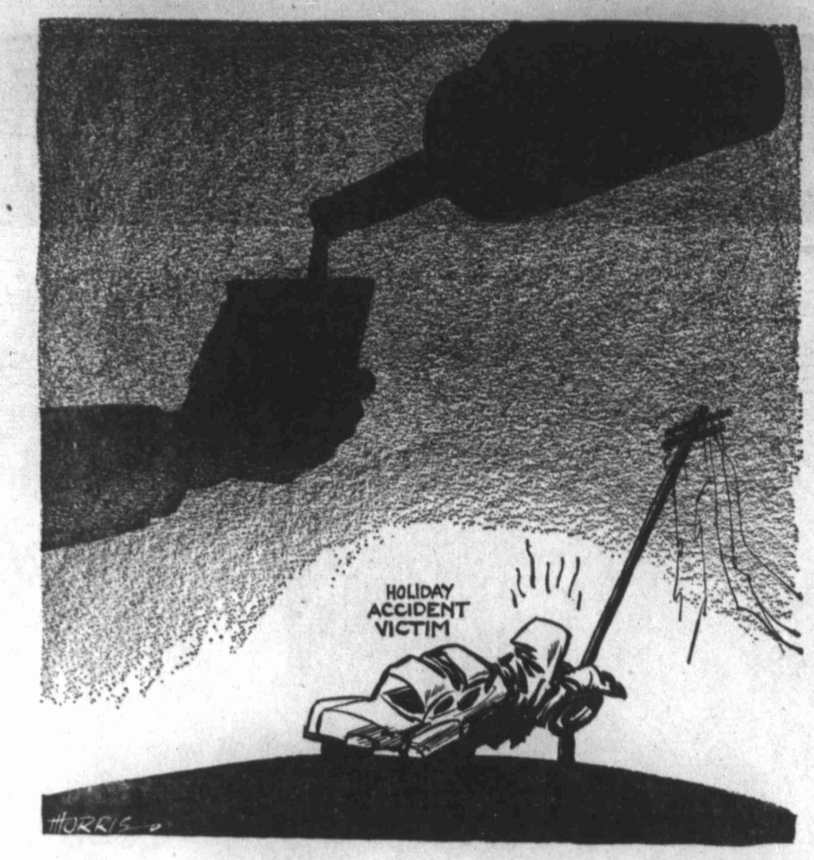

We come to the close of what has shaped as a highly successful pre-Christmas season in terms of activities and business. Some say it was never bigger or better.

Now, let's not forget what Christmas is all about.

It is well and good to make our gifts of love and affection between one another, but it is wise to remember that we commemorate the birth of Christ as an expression of God's love.

Remembering this, we cannot reconcile violence and ugly conduct with the season.

If but one day in the calendar of the year we could reflect upon the latent powers of Divine love as the base of peace and good will toward men, we would be richer for the experience.

JUST ONE MORE

Around The Rim

Back To The Briny Depths

The sea around us may someday become our source of existence, allowing us to turn our continents into parks and natural preserves.

Fantastic? Well, it was only a few years ago that any impossibility was compared to taking a flying leap at the moon.

Anthropologists will tell you that food, clothing and shelter are the basic ingredients of survival; but the bases of our complex civilization are food, minerals and power. (Minerals would include all raw materials not meant for food; power would include various fuels as well as hydroelectric and other sources.)

THERE ARE many ways, particularly in the tides, in which the oceans might be made to yield power, but I think these may be safely dismissed in the certainty of eventual harnessing of the nuclear fusion process, which would run the most complex, energy - consuming world for millions of years.

As for minerals, it is already well known that the oceans contain every natural element in solution, and in almost inexhaustible amounts. Some minerals already are being extracted, ways are being found to extract others. Yet, recent discoveries may make all these coastal extraction plants unnecessary. The bottom of the deep is covered with nodules of nearly every conceivable mineral, precipitated and crystalized from the waters. At the same time, deep - diving nuclear submarines are being developed which will be able to harvest these nodules as easily as plucking fruit. The supply is estimated several times that of our landlubber mines, and the evidence is that the nodules continue and will continue to grow.

PEOPLE TODAY east less than 10 per cent of the available oceanic fish, throwing back the other species as "weeds." But these "weeds" can be dried and powered into "fish flour," containing all the nutrients for a high protein diet. People in poor countries can eat fish flour in the form of food additives; and the flour can be mixed with mash for livestock in wealthier countries. Already, the trend is away from ranching and toward stock farming, in which the meat animals are kept enclosed and fed through hoppers. Vegetative potentialities are still vague, but Japanese scientists are diving deep into nutritive values of seaweed. They also are considering a Burbank - type crossing of fruits and vegetables with seaweed; and genetic mutations of seaweed into edible forms and of land plants into ocean forms.

FISH OILS, extracted during the production of fish flour, are in enough abundance to supply the markets now dependent upon animal and vegetable fats and petroleum. This would mean we can leave our trees alone, for the present trend already is away from the use of wood as a building material, in preference of plastics stones and metals.

Odd, isn't it — how we, like the dolphins, seem to be headed back to Mother Ocean. —BOB SMITH

Failure Of The United Nations

WASHINGTON — India has turned the clock back several centuries to espouse the doctrine that might makes right. No longer is India "non-aligned." It now is aligned with the aggressors—the Soviet Union and Red China—in grabbing nearby territory and arguing that it is merely following "the tide of history." The theft of the Portuguese province of Goa by India's military forces indeed has put a black mark on the pages of history.

WHAT IS TO happen to Mr. Nehru's cause if Red China starts moving across the Tibetan border to invade India or uses his argument to justify a seizure of the adjacent territory of Hong Kong from Britain? What becomes of the validity of treaty rights and international law if at any moment these can be converted into "scraps of paper" just as Hitler did in the 1930's?

Plainly the quest for peace by the processes of reason has suffered a setback. It is all the more distressing because the new violator of human rights—Premier Nehru—has hitherto been their staunchest defender. He has been the world's chief exponent of non-violence and of the pacific settlement of disputes.

WORST OF ALL is the hypocritical and transparently immoral behavior of the United Nations itself. How can respect for that organization be maintained when it tolerates acts that tear to shreds the solemn obligations of its charter?

The Security Council was estopped by the Soviet veto from dealing with India's action, but the General Assembly can still function and express itself. It now is said this would be futile because the Afro-Asian bloc would vote down any resolution condemning India's aggression. Nevertheless, a record vote would go a long way toward defining the issue for the future. If the charter is to be formally repudiated, the sooner the world knows it the earlier a new organization will be formed to bring together the nations that sincerely believe in a rule of law.

A REREADING of the United Nations Charter adopted in 1945 at San Francisco is pertinent today. Here are some extracts that place aggression outside the pale of civilized conduct:

"Purposes and Principles . . . . to take effective collective measures for the prevention and removal of threats to the peace, and for the suppression of acts of aggression or other breaches of the peace. . . .

"All members shall refrain in their international relations from the threat or use of force against the territorial integrity or political independence of any state. . . .

"ALL MEMBERS, in order to ensure to all of them the rights and benefits resulting from membership, shall fulfill in good faith the obligations assumed by them in accordance with the present charter."

Adlai Stevenson, the U.S. ambassador to the U.N., acting upon instructions from Washington, made some pointed comments during the debate at the Security Council meeting at which the Soviet veto was registered against any action by the Council denouncing India's course. He said:

"Can anyone believe that huge India is acting in self-defense against this little territory? . . . The League of Nations died, I remind you, when its members no longer resisted the use of aggressive force. . . .

"THE FAILURE of the Security Council to call for a cease-fire in these simple circumstances is a failure of the United Nations. The veto of the Soviet Union is consistent with its long role of obstruction. But I find the attitude of some other members of the Council profoundly disturbing and ominous because we have witnessed an effort to rewrite the charter, to sanction the use of force in international relations when it suits one's own purposes. This approach can only lead to chaos and to the disintegration of the United Nations."

THE FOREGOING remarks point up the weakness that has been revealed time and again in the U.N.—that nations do their voting on the basis of political self-interest rather than from the viewpoint of international justice.

What are the tragic consequences already? Indonesia is preparing militarily to move against Dutch-held West New Guinea, which is located on an island hundreds of miles away from the Indonesian seat of government. The sole claim of Indonesia is that it has a right to whatever The Netherlands owns in the archipelago. Will the U.N. step in to avoid the use of force? Will it help the people of New Guinea to exercise their right of self-determination?

AND SUPPOSE the Peiping government decides to go back a few centuries to the days when Genghis Khan claimed all of Asia, including India, and asserts now that Red China has inherited all the land once claimed by preceding regimes?

There are many places in the world where bloodshed could ensue if the doctrine that might makes right is to be employed to justify seizing areas now held by other governments, whether as colonies or as integral parts of the sovereign territory of the nation attacked.

THROUGHOUT AFRICA the torches of more war have been lighted. A West African newspaper says: "The amazing thing was that Nehru was so patient. When independent African countries are strong enough to give the command to pack up and go, Angola, Mozambique and Portuguese Guinea will suffer the same fate as Goa."

Nuclear wars may perhaps be averted, but little wars that can grow into big wars seem destined to plague the world. Sooner or later the United Nations must be reorganized to include truly free nations which are willing to make sacrifices to establish a rule of law for the settlement of international disputes.

Just Like Here At Home

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United Nations got a belting this year for what it did or failed to do. But it operated as any representative assembly could be expected to, including the American Congress.

From any adult and realistic view it couldn't be expected to please everybody all the time.

On any given issue the 104 U.N. member nations voted unanimously or broke up into special interest — or selfish — groups to carry a point or try to block it for their own particular reasons.

AND, FROM the viewpoint of its own special interests, this country had a lot to be satisfied with in the U.N. session which ended this week. Some examples of a representative group in action:

The Asian-African bloc stood together on racial and colonial issues but split on political ones. There were also neutral blocs, Communist blocs, Western blocs, each looking out for its own interests.

This could have been predicted without looking further than American history.

In Congress Southern Democrats down through the years formed a bloc—on civil rights, for instance — when they broke off from a majority of their party. On some other issues they voted solidly as party regulars.

And, carrying the example further, groups in both the Democratic and Republican parties, like liberals or conservatives, cross party lines to join their like-minded colleagues on a specific issue.

THE U.N. could explode and fall apart for a number of reasons, but always depending on what the special interest alignments happen to be at any one moment. This country exploded in civil war once for that reason.

Nor would it be outside the American experience if one or more U.N. members refused to abide by a majority decision — as has been the case.

The American Senate, for instance, has jealously established and protected the privilege of any member or group of members to try to block the will of the majority by a filibuster.

But at least in Congress once the will of the majority has been established — by a final vote — those who disagree accept the verdict, more or less.

IN THE U.N., still only 16 years old, there have been rejections of the majority view which show either sheer wilfulness or immaturity, even on the part of old nations which by now should be grown up.

For example:

The U.N. banged into a financial crisis in the session which ended this week—it surmounted

The Communists, France, Belgium, Portugal, South Africa and most of the Arab states in one or both cases refused to pay their share.

The Greatest Gift

NEW YORK (AP)—The greatest gift at Christmas time isn't prosperity.

It is peace—and family unity.

No group of our people realizes more the blessing of Christmas at home than the millions of ex-servicemen who spent past Christmases far from home in wartime.

Their minds this time of year turn back to those past times, their half-forgotten ordeals abroad, and their hearts surge with gratitude that they made it home at last. And they remember, with a pang, the fate of those who didn't.

Men are never more desperately lonely than at Christmas time on a battlefront. No matter how strong their faith in their cause, on this day that cause has an air of unreality and illusion.

"Why am I here?" each man asks himself. "Why am I not home? War doesn't make sense."

That timeless query rises in the breasts of thousands of men on both sides of a battlefront: "Why? What am I doing here? What are any of us doing here?"

And their only reply is the growling of distant guns somewhere over the horizon, or the throb of hostile engines in an unfriendly sky.

Life is bittersweet as well as lonely to troops at war on Christmas Day. No one wants to have to pull a trigger or launch a bomb.

The men at the actual front drop back in clusters for a hot meal and maybe a religious service. They feel closer to each other than ever—because there is no one else near in that strange land to feel close to.

Unit loyalty has to take the place of family loyalty. The members of a platoon are all brothers —blood brothers. A man's platoon is his whole family.

But as he gulps his scalding coffee he looks around and wonders: "Will he be here tomorrow? Will I be here?"

Sometimes presents from home arrive on Christmas Day. They are opened in reverence. A man peers into a battered package, then lifts out broken chunks of dried and crumbling fruit cake and passes them around to his buddies. Everybody shares what he has.

The men who get mail take their letters and walk a little way apart. They want to read them alone. They don't want to show the sudden tears in their eyes.

Sometimes the soldier holding the mail calls out a name twice. "Well, do you want it or don't you?" he demands.

No one answers. No one wants to. Suddenly the soldier understands. He calls out another name as he puts at the bottom of the pile the letter that came for a man who could have read it yesterday, but today is deaf to news from home—and will be forever.

On Christmas night, back in the line, the troops lie in their foxholes and stare up at the stars, and that yearning query again rises inside with a strength that almost chokes them:

"Why?"

Helping their loved ones garland a Christmas tree now, many a man looks back and remembers a Christmas spent in snowy Belgium, or on some stinking Pacific island, or on a frozen ridge in Korea — and thinks a grateful prayer.

Hail! Bigger Turkeys!

The news isn't all bad. A conscientious reader can find little rays of sunshine tucked here and there in the newspaper if he has the patience to keep hunting.

By dint of hard work I have just turned up a radiant nugget. Agricultural and poultry experts announce that a 50-megaton turkey is already in the barnyard and that a 100-megaton bird will be on the market in no time at all, maybe within five years.

NO, NO! Not 50-megaton turkeys! Fifty-pound turkeys. That only goes to show how the old subconscious perks in these unsettled days. Megatons-shmegatons! Until a few years ago, no one had ever heard of that term of measurement. Now, such are the tensions, it pushes the lid off the id and out comes a turkey large enough to feed the world, with hash the next day and soup to follow.

Like the 50-megaton bomb, there aren't very many 50-pound turkeys yet — just enough to prove to the barnyard scientists that they are feasible. The poultry experts, not to be outdone by the physicists, say that the 100-pound bird, like the 100-megaton bomb, is easy after the breakthrough on the 50-yard line.

IN MY OPINION, the bigger the bird, the bigger the feast. There has never been such a thing as too much turkey. Ever since I can remember I have looked with greedy and envious eyes at those 40-to-45-pound turkeys that turn up at the White House every Yuletide.

I have never been able to get my hands on one that large. Once, through bullying Nat, the best butcher in town, I got a turkey that weighed 33 pounds and almost overflowed the oven. Both Nat and the cookbooks agreed that three-quarters to one pound per person is the just allotment of turkey.

SO, I ROUNDED up 30 guests with the result that hash and soup lasted only four days. It is my conviction that there is nothing better than cold turkey on the second go-round, or day, served with a real Waldorf Salad. The late Louis Bromfield, whose many talents included cooking, taught me to put two or three drops of onion juice in a bowl of Waldorf Salad, which transforms it from a mighty good dish into a gourmet's delight.

But to get back to that 50- or 100-megaton turkey — anyway, a blockbuster — I hope the poultry specialists, who have been laboring under a Jayne Mansfield syndrome for years, will quit working on the wrong end of the turkey.

TURKEYS, as a result of scientific abracadabra, are now so broad-breasted they're top-heavy at the bow. We real turkey aficionados who favor the dark meat have been getting less and less of it in the past 20 years. It is about time to redress the balance, if the turkey is not to topple over on its gobble. We must add weight to the stern.

A 100-megaton bird with 75 pounds of white meat and only 25 pounds of second joints and drumsticks may make the hotel men happy, but for home use let's at least divide the light and dark even Stephen.

INDEED, I look forward to a future of 100-pound birds when I shall call up Nat and order a leg of turkey, as I now order a leg of lamb. Or a turkey steak for two, four or six persons. When I was a child, we used to draw straws for the gizzard. In the future the host ought to be able to carve it and serve the multitude.

How I wish my Grandmother Callaway had lived to see this gargantuan day! Her favorite piece, in her own words was that "part that went over the fence last."

If she had only lived into the age of 100-megaton turkeys what a Pope's nose she could have enjoyed!

Compensations In Being A 'Low Pressure' Person

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I've never read anything about a slow heart beat. My blood pressure is 85 to 90 and my heart beat is 49 to 53 to the minute. Is either dangerous?

"I am fairly active, I feel good, but tire easily. I am 5 feet, 4; weigh 135 and am 60 years old. —Mrs. L.D."

Blood pressure and heart beat, like temperature, preferably should be just right, neither too far up nor too far down, although some variation is normal among people.

The figures you cite, Mrs. L. D., are at the lower part of the scale. Other healthy people may have figures at the higher part. Yours may be normal for you.

In view of your age, your "tiring easily" may be related to the slow heart beat and the lower blood pressure.

Have your metabolism checked. Lowered thyroid activity is common in your age bracket and could easily be a factor in your problem. (It is doubtful whether any other nutritional or glandular defects are at work.)

Another enlightening diagnostic test is an electrocardiogram. The purpose of this is to determine whether the slow heart beat is normal, or whether it is due to any fault in the conduction of the impulses which control the beating-rate.

My overall suspicion — and a suspicion is all I can legitimately offer from a brief letter, rather than from a thorough examination — is that you are probably a healthy "low pressure person." Such a person avoids a good many of the serious troubles that go with an unduly rapid heart beat or excessively high blood pressure.

For the sake of both health and happiness, I recommend the tests to determine whether or not there are corrective measures which may be helpful.

* * *

"Dear Dr. Molner: My face seems swollen all the time. Is it because I am taking cortisone for arthritis? Is there any other drug that I could take? — Mrs. E.B."

The "moon-face" is one of the common, but not invariable, side fects of cortisone. There are modifications of cortisone, but no real substitute, depending on your case, that do the same thing. Your doctor, however, may perhaps switch to an entirely different drug. Aspirin, that familiar, commonplace drug, often does exceptionally well.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I have a lump in the breast which appears to be a cyst. Assuming that it is non-malignant, can it in itself be harmful? I do not wish to have surgery, even for removal of the cyst to be analyzed. — Mrs. E.C."

Sorry, but I can't go along with your views. "Assuming" that the cyst is non-malignant leaves you on shaky ground. Your surgeon may have a good idea in advance as to whether the lump is just a cyst, but there's a difference between being "pretty sure" and "positive." I vote for being positive.

Removal of the cyst for biopsy (testing to see whether it is malignant) requires only a small incision and the resulting deformity, if you want to use such a term, is almost zero. So have it removed. (A cyst can become infected, or simply enlarge until it becomes painful, so you should shed no tears over being rid of it.)

Of all the problems that pediatricians encounter in children, pinworm is the commonest. To learn the newest methods of treatment for this pest, write for my booklet, "The Commonest Pest, Pinworm," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Nature Will Have Its Way In Africa

WASHINGTON — Under Secretary of State George Ball, a skilled lawyer, is doing in the case of the Congo vs. Katanga what an urbane counsel with the facts against him has to do — he reluctantly stoops to bombast and pettifoggery.

AARON BURR, a charming scoundrel and winning barrister, said: "Law is whatever is boldly asserted and plausibly maintained." This is about as much as anybody can honestly say for Secretary Ball's defense of our policy in suppressing the Katanga secession against the weak, unloved, almost non-existent "government" of the Congo.

Other State Department spokesmen have done no better in trying to explain to reporters why the American determination to put down self-determination has not gone over big with Britain, France, Belgium and the Netherlands. Nor has it gone over at all with conservatives here at home who grew up believing that armed intervention is justifiable only when our own national interest is involved.

THE ADMINISTRATION did not much want to win against a Communist regime in Cuba, but now is hell-bent to crush an anti-Communist regime in Katanga. The official State Department attitude toward dissenters was given to me in response to a query. It seems that dissenters are victims of a "well-financed propaganda machine" which feeds out mis-information in favor of Katanga and in disfavor of the Congo government.

MEANWHILE A CALL, or it may be a challenge, has been issued by a columnist who often speaks for the State Department, but who is today opposed to the intervention policy. The call is for any man with a plan that will solve the Congo crisis to bring it forward in the public interest. No such "plan" will be forthcoming, chiefly because planned societies are dictatorial societies, and no dictator of the Congo is in sight since Dag Hammarskjold's death.

Dag had the makings of a unifier-by-force, in the tradition of Bismarck, Cavour and the early empire builders for Britain. With U.N. legions at his beck, Hammarskjold might have forced a political solution upon the Congo, even though the Congo State would not for many centuries have the dignity and authority of nationalism by self-rule.

BUT WITH THE particular genius of the Swedish statesman lost to us, it would seem wise of the State Department to recognize that the shape of a worldwide pattern is forming in the Congo. If nature takes its course, if history has its way, there will be at least two separate countries in the Congo. There will be a partition of the geographical unit into provinces to the North, East and South.

Why this should surprise anybody I do not know. The assertion of liberty in our day, and far back in history, has taken the form of partition which is maintained by force wherever it cannot be maintained by agreement. The States of Virginia and West Virginia are domestic proof that incompatibility need not, and cannot, be perpetuated. The several divisions of Palestine, with today's strong State of Israel, show that a national identity over the centuries will not be downed.

THE RUSSIANS have raised a wall in East Berlin which dramatizes the apartness of freedom and Communism. The "D. M. Z." (demilitiarized zone) between North and South Korea has persisted throughout the Eisenhower administration and into Mr. Kennedy's. The liberation of "India" from Britain resulted in the unfriendly and rightly separate Republics of India and Pakistan.

The list could be extended, but the principle needs no lengthy exposition. It is there to see—all over the map.

There is no lawyer or statesman in Washington who can make a stronger case for unifying the Congo than the principle makes for allowing the Congo to fall into its normal lines of partition.

Designs Churches For People

VANCOUVER (AP) — Churches, like homes, should be designed for those who live in them, says architect William Wilding.

Color, light, fabric and the use of appropriate wood can induce a worshipful response on the part of the church-goer, just as a wellplanned home give a sense of warmth and security to a family, he says.

Wilding says the order of service of the church should have an effect on the design of the building:

"Some denominations require a church that could almost be classed as an auditorium, others with a strong emphasis on liturgy require focusing of the main attention on the chancel and the minister."

Loudemilk Hits 37 As Mustangs Win

By The Associated Press

Arkansas won its sixth straight game Thursday night to keep the Southwest Conference ahead in intersectional basketball.

Jerry Carlton did the honors with 24 points, including a long jump shot in overtime, as Arkansas toppled Louisiana State 84-81.

The Razorbacks, moving just as fast as the opposition warrants, were one of two conference teams to win. Another, Rice, took a 91-57 hammering from Creighton.

Southern Methodist lashed Vanderbilt 91-73 with Jan Loudermilk pitching in 37 points. The big fellow hit 13 field goals in 20 shots and 11 of 16 free throws for SMU.

LSU's George Nattin sank a jump shot to tie the score at 77-77 as time ran out in the Arkansas-Louisiana State game, but Arkansas poked in seven points in overtime with Carlton's 30-foot jump shot putting the Razorbacks ahead to stay.

Southern Methodist's 91 points were the biggest output by the Mustangs in more than a year. The Vanderbilt pressing defense led to 32 fouls being called and SMU hit 35 free throws.

Creighton scored in splurges while Rice slumped. Breaking a 10-10 tie, Creighton scored 24 points while Rice could get only 9. The Owls never were seriously in the game after intermission, when they were only 4 behind.

Paul Silas scored 34 points for Creighton. Larry Phillips was high for Rice with 13.

Texas easily beat East Texas State 82-67 to make the Longhorn record 5-2 for the season. Texas jumped to a 16-5 lead and never looked back. It held a 46-28 bulge at the half and surged as much as 29 points in front before putting in the reserves.

Bill Mayes of East Texas was top scorer with 27 but didn't get much help. Texas had four players in double figures, led by Jimmy Gilbert with 21 points.

Only Texas A&M and Rice are busy the remainder of the week. The Aggies meet Aubrn Friday night and UCLA Saturday night in a doubleheader at Houston. Rice meets Drake at Des Moines Saturday night.

Loudermilk ran his scoring total to 143 and that gave him first place in the conference. Carlton dropped to second with 133.

SIGNS WITH BROWNS

Davis Passes Up Buffalo Offer

CLEVELAND (AP) —Ernie Davis "sacrificed a very substantial sum of money" in accepting an offer to play with the Cleveland Browns, according to attorney Anthony W. DeFilippo, adviser to the All-America halfback from Syracuse.

Arthur B. Modell, front-office boss for the Browns, announced Thursday night that Davis had agreed to sign a three-year contract with the Browns for $80,000 —$65,000 salary plus a $15,000 bonus. This is the most the Browns ever have invested in a rookie, but Jim Brown, who reportedly received $31,000 this year still is the highest paid player on the club.

The Buffalo Bills of the American Football League also were bidding for Davis, and Dick Gallagher, general manager of the Bills, said Davis had been offered a three-year deal worth "well over $100,000." Reports were the Buffalo offer was worth $135,000.

Modell was delighted.

"There just aren't words to express my happiness now that Ernie has decided to play with us," the board chairman of the National Football League club declared. "It's certainly gratifying to know that young athletes like Davis consider their long-range future rather than immediate financial gain."

Brown preceded Davis at Syracuse, and many of the records the big fullback set there were broken by the 6-foot-2, 215-pound Davis. The two are friends. It was on Brown's advice that Davis went to Syracuse, and Brown presented the NFL club's case when Davis was trying to make up his mind on a pro career.

Modell and Coach Paul E. Brown had been sweating out that decision, for the Browns have gambled quite a bit on being able to sign Davis. Cleveland traded speedy Bobby Mitchell and a first-round draft choice to the Washington Redskins to get a chance at Davis.

K. State, Hosts Meet Favorites

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—An all Wildcat final is expected in the ninth annual University of Kentucky Invitational Tournament, one of college basketball's richest.

Dangerous Xavier meets 4th ranked Kansas State and powerful Kentucky tangles with winless Tennessee tonight as the first round of play gets under way.

The least money the UKIT has ever paid each team was $8,000 the first year. Two years ago the tournament paid each team more than $15,000.

Kansas State's Wildcats bring a 6-0 record into the tournament while Kentucky's Wildcats are 4-1. Xavier is 3-3 and Tennessee 0-4.

Bobcats To Dumas

SAN ANGELO — The San Angelo Bobcats go to Dumas tonight, where they meet Phillips in one portion of a basketball doubleheader. San Angelo has won seven of 11 starts and is working on a five-game winning streak.

Rupp To Find Out About Kentucky

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Everybody thinks we're a much improved team over last year," Kentucky coach Adolph Rupp was saying. "I hope to find out in this tournament just how good we are."

Rupp, who is supposed to be in a rebuilding year, referred to the Kentucky Invitational that opens tonight with Kansas State and Xavier meeting in the first game at Lexington, Ky., and the host Wildcats going against Tennessee.

It marks the second major test for the Wildcats, attempting to rebound from last season's 19-9 record, the worst in 32 years under Rupp.

Kentucky, with only one starter back from last year's team, failed its first big test, losing to Southern California, the nation's sixth ranked team, in the second game of the season.

Should the Wildcats (4-1) get past Tennessee (0-4), and they're heavily favored to do so, their performance in Saturday's final can give a solid indication whether Rupp has succeeded.

They'll face either Xavier (3-3) or Kansas State (6-0).

In Thursday night's top games, second-ranked Cincinnati bombed Colorado 84-67 on the Bearcats' home court, eighth-ranked Purdue outlasted Evansville 83-77 and Wichita's tough Shockers knocked Santa Clara from the unbeaten ranks, 60-48.

Cincinnati (6-1) used a first half scoring burst, triggered by sophomores George Wilson and Ron Bonham, to establish a 42-20 lead and coasted in from there. Colorado's Ken Charlton led all scorers with 23 points while Paul Hogue had 20 for the winners.

Purdue (5-1), beaten from the floor, used free throw accuracy and experience as the keys to its victory over Evansville's homestanding Aces. Purdue hit 29 of 30 free throws while the young Aces converted only 19 of 34.

In other major games, Georgia Tech surprised Missouri 58-57 at Atlanta; Homestanding Syracuse lost its sixth straight, 74-63 to Pitt; Creighton unleashed a devastating first half attack in crushing Rice 91-57 at Omaha; Bradley romped over touring Brown 89-62; Iowa punished Nevada 88-46 in Nevada's last game of a Midwest trip; Oklahoma State beat Colorado State 60-44; and Utah State stretched its unbeaten string to eight with a 77-64 triumph over Pacific University.

Carter Leads HC In Scoring

Big Walter Carter leads the HCJC Jayhawks in scoring after nine games with 165 points.

The freshman from Gate City, Va., and Larry McElyea, former Abilene star, are the only two players on the team with more than 100 points to their credit. McElyea has 116 points.

The Hawks, who don't play again until their own tournament next week, have averaged 72.2 points a game, compared to 55.5 for the opposition.

HCJC has won all but one of its starts.

Eight Swifties Go To Sunland

EL PASO—Sunday's Christmas Eve Feature, the $3,000 Rio Grande Handicap at 5½ furlongs matches two of the hottest sprinter on the grounds, Admiral Van and Destroy. Both come off clever wins and appear to be at their peak, although contention runs deep with eight of the areas swiftest nominated for the dash.

Admiral Van, who hails from the hard hitting barn of Ed Bassford, owns the six-furlong track record here and off his corking victory in the Fabens Women's Club Purse last week will undoubtedly go postward as the public choice. Frederick Wagner's Destroy finally came into his own and is expected to be a potent factor in the outcome.

Quarter Horse Racing Secretary Harry Henson has assigned Charles Harper's Fly Straw, champion quarter horse of the spring meeting, 124 pounds for her engagement in the $3,000 Coronation Handicap, up for decision Saturday. The 440 yard dash has attracted 16 nominations with Arizonian next on the weight scale at 122.

Villanova Cats Arrive Wednesday

EL PASO—Villanova and Wichita, who meet Dec. 30 in the Sun Bowl, have released their arrival times here.

The Wildcats will fly by chartered American Airlines plane to El Paso at 12:23 p.m. Dec. 27 while Wichita will not arrive until the afternoon of Dec. 28, also by chartered plane.

Both teams break for Christmas holidays after today.

The Sun Bowl game will be the final one at Wichita for Coach Hank Foldberg, who was appointed head coach of Texas A&M the past weekend.

Sea Island Play Begins Jan. 19

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The 1962 tour of the Ladies Professional Golfers Association will open with the Sea Island, Ga., Invitation Jan. 19-21 and reach its climax with the National Open at Myrtle Beach, S. C., June 28-30.

Making this announcement today Leonard Wirtz, tournament director, said he expected the ladies to play for a record purse during the 1962 season. The first six months alone with offer tournaments netting them $100,000 he said.

Lake View Wins Over Brownwood

SAN ANGELO — San Angelo Lake View defeated Brownwood, 50-49, in a game that was decided in an overtime period here Thursday night.

Dan Tomlinson scored 24 points for Lake View. The win was the sixth in 14 starts for Lake View. Brownwood is 5-4.

No Bowl Contest At Prairie View

PRAIRIE VIEW (AP)—There'll be no Prairie View Bowl game this year—the first time it has been skipped in 34 years.

Prairie View, the host team, said it could not obtain a suitable opponent.

The game will be resumed next year, but in December so it won't have to compete with the big bowl games New Year's Day.

Blanda Is Named Player Of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Houston Oiler's quarterback Georga Blanda and defensive end Earl Faison of the San Diego Chargers, two players who may see a lot of each other in Sunday's American Football League title game, were accorded the two top player designations in their league today.

In an Associated Press poll, a special board picked Blanda, 33, as player of the year and Faison, a 256-pounder from Newport News, Va., as the loop's rookie.

Blanda, who spent 10 years as a pro with the Chicago Bears, got only slight competition from halfback Billy Cannon and end Charley Hennigan of his Eastern Division champion Oilers. Faison won in a breeze over Charley Long of Boston and tackle Ken Rice of the Buffalo Bills.

Blanda's honor as the league's top player went right along with the choice of his coach, Wally Lemm, as the AFL Coach of the Year. When Lemm took over in October—never to lose a game—he took Blanda off the bench and made him the Oilers' top quarterback.

Blanda, of LaGrange Park, Ill., completed 187 passes for 3,330 yards and 36 touchdowns; kicked 16 field goals and 64 extra points for 112 points.

Faison, 22, was the Chargers' No. 1 draft choice a year ago, and was particularly outstanding in the 1960 East-West Shrine Game.

Steers Seek 12th Win In Game Here Tonight

The Big Spring Steers wind up pre-Christmas activity in a game with Colorado City here at 8 o'clock this evening.

Delnor Poss' team won't be idle long, however. They go to Andrews a week from tonight to end pre-conference skirmishing.

In a previous meeting with Colorado City, Big Spring won by a score of 67-50. The Wolves drove to within one point of the locals at one stage of the third period but the Longhorns swiftly pulled away, after that.

Poss got a fine all-around performance out of Albert Fierro and some excellent shooting by Eddie Nelson and Dick Ebling.

Big Spring has won 11 of 12 starts and will be heavily favored to topple Caddo Matthews' team again tonight.

The Wolves' chief basket threat is senior Steve Hillhouse.

Ebling leads the local team in scoring with an 18.3-point per-game average. Nelson, the club's most effective rebounder, has a 12.5 scoring average.

Those two will probably start for Big Spring, along with Fierro, DeeRoby Gartman and either Richard Bethell or Coy Mitchell. Fierro has tallied 90 points and Gartman 79.

Mitchell and Ebling are the only two seniors who have been seeing much action with the Steers. Nelson is a junior while Fierro, Gartman and Bethell are sophomores.

The Longhorns have hit 67 points in each of two different games this year. They were held to their lowest point total by Lamesa—36 points.

This will be the first home game for the Longhorns since Dec. 5, at which time they hosted Brownfield.

B teams of the two schools clash in a 6 p.m. game. Under Jimmy Marcus, the local reserves are enjoying a very successful season.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Most everyone agrees that Big Spring fielded a fine football club the past season.

Think what the Steers would have done, though, had Mike Love been running in the secondary and helping back up the line on defense.

It could have happened, too. Love resided here when about six years of age, back in 1949. His father, Herbert Love, was a Church of Christ minister at the time. His church was located at Fourth and Donley Streets, where Coker's Twins Restaurant is now located.

The father was troubled with arthritis and later moved his family to Odessa where he went into the insurance business. Mike has grown up to be among Odessa Permian's finest fullbacks in history and will be back to terrorize District 2-AAAA lines again next fall.

Baylor has fine representation in the East-West Shrine football classic at San Francisco Dec. 30.

The Waco school will be represented by Ronnie Bull, star of the recent Gotham Bowl game in New York City; and end Bobby Lane.

Incidentally, Herby Adkins, the Baylor guard Big Spring's Emmett McKenzie coached in high school, started every Baylor game during his football career there.

Big Spring and San Angelo are the only two schools in District 2-AAAA where head coaches double as athletic directors.

Harry Wismer, who made his reputation as a hysterical football announcer and then married the boss' daughter, is making a fatal mistake as an AFL magnate.

Harry reasons that a great football player makes a great coach. That does not always hold true. Sammy Baugh, deposed recently as Harry's coach, showed some restraint in dealing with his boss. The new coach of Wismer's Titans, Clyde (Bulldog) Turner, may not have that much patience.

One of the worst kinds of punishments I could imagine would be to get Wismer and George Preston Marshall in the same room, wind both up and let them go. I think the Chinese water torture would be more humane.

Robert Lambert and Art Fowler, members of the Midland Lee basketball team which comes here Jan. 2 to help the Big Spring Steers kick off the lid on their District 2-AAAA schedule, were both named to the all-tournament team at Snyder last weekend.

Jerry McGuire, the Lubbock Monterey cager who was supposed to attend school at HCJC but wound up at West Texas State College instead, scored 16 points for the Canyon frosh against Texas Tech recently.

George Halas, owner of the Chicago Bears of the NFL, hasn't announced it yet but he plans to return as coach of the club again in 1962.

Halas, who had more to do with the success of the NFL than any other individual, feels it would be an ideal life with this sort of setup:

(1) If Walter Wolfner (St. Louis Cardinals) had no part of the organization, nor any voice in its affairs: (2) Dallas could field a strong NFL entry—George is the big reason the NFL decided to put into the Texas metropolis and thus combat the threat by the AFL; (3) the AFL would continue as is, losing money by the bucketsful and not improving by much its calibre of play.

Shrine Players And Tots Become Friends In Hurry

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"Todd doesn't smile much," said the nurse, "but he's been waiting for you."

The lanky young man looked at the skinny little boy and picked him up.

"He's heavy with those braces on his legs," the nurse said.

"Not for me, he's not," said Gary Barnes, an end from Clemson.

And Todd, 3, broke into a great big grin.

Forty-eight of the finest football players in the nation will play in the Shrine East-West Game at Kazar Stadium Dec. 30. They visited the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children Thursday, meeting the youngsters who will benefit from the game proceeds.

A tiny doll named Maria, just 18 months old, sat in her bed, all dressed up, watching the young giants walk in.

Irv Goode, a 6-foot-5 end from Kentucky, was heading toward a little girl in the next bed when he stopped and lifted tiny Maria into his arms. She blinked her big eyes, then rested against his big shoulders, daring the world to take her new friend away from her.

It was a big day for the players, their wives, the coaches and those crippled kids. And it didn't take long to see who was running the affair.

"I want my book filled with autographs," said a little girl.

Roman Gabriel, the North Carolina State quarterback—a fellow who's been chased by plenty of professional scouts—hurried off on a chase for signatures.

"Here they are, sweetheart," Gabriel said.

"Thank you," replied the 6-year-old. "Now get her book filled."

She jerked a thumb at the child in the next bed and Gabriel went scurrying off again.

Suddenly the nurses were telling the youngsters and the players that the players had to leave.

The kids hugged the brawny young men, kissed them and smiled.

The football players smiled back. And those big guys' eyes were glistening.

All-Stars Taper Off In Drills

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—North and South squads tapered off today in practice for their Christmas night charity football game in the Orange Bowl.

It was a relative rest for the arms of the South's busy passers.

The Rebels have emphasized the aerial end of the game since practice sessions began.

"It has been our policy," said South coach John Bridgers of Baylor, "to keep at least one ball in the air at all times."

The North found a passing combination, Eddie Wilson of Arizona to Bennie McRae of Michigan State, which it hopes will effectively counter the South's passer Bobby Ply, from Baylor, and ends Bill Miller of Miami and Johnny Burrell of Rice.

Gill To Houston

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP) — Bobby Gill, Ouchita Baptist College line coach, is joining the University of Houston staff. The former Baylor player, a coach here since 1957, will be offensive line coach at Houston.

Oilers Place Six On Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Houston's explosive offensive unit and San Diego's stern defensive platoon dominate the 1961 American Football League all-star team.

Houston, which swept to the Eastern title with nine straight victories after a dismal start, placed five men on the offensive team selected by an Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters from the league's eight cities.

San Diego, the western champion, eas just as heavily represented on the defensive squad, placing three front-line men and a pair of backs on the squad.

In addition, Houston had one defensive man and San Diego one offensive man, giving the two teams 12 spots on the 22 man team.

Each of the teams was represented. New York and Denver placed three each and Dallas, Boston, Buffalo and Oakland one each.

George Blanda, Houston's veteran do-everything quarterback, was the top choice of the voters, gaining all but one of the votes.

His mates included halfback Billy Cannon, flankerback Charlie Hennigan, end Bill Groman and tackle Al Jamison.

Also on the offense team were end Lionel Taylor of Denver, tackle Ron Mix of San Diego, guards Bob Mischak of New York and Ken Adamson of Denver and center Jim Otto of Oakland.

The defensive platoon included the Chargers' ends, Ron Nery and Earl Faison, and tackle Ernie Ladd, along with backs Charlie McNeil and Nick Harris.

City Readies Christmas Shut-Down

County, city, state and federal offices will lock their doors this afternoon at the regular closing time and not reopen for business until Tuesday morning.

The long weekend is the holiday allotted to Christmas—which this year falls on Monday.

Saturday, as a general rule, is always a holiday for the help in the bulk of the public offices and on this occasion fits in neatly to give the staffs an additional day off for the Yuletide season.

The sheriff's office in the county court house will be open on Saturday, Sunday and Monday but a plan will be in effect to enable the deputies to have some time off.

Other county offices will be closed down effective Friday afternoon.

City offices will be closed after today until Tuesday morning, A. K. Steinheimer, city manager, said this morning.

The police and fire departments will operate as usual through the holidays. The street and sanitation departments will operate Saturday but will not be on duty Sunday and Monday. In case of emergency, street department men may be reached through the police department, as can the city electrician.

The water filter plant and the sewage disposal plant will be operating with skeleton crews.

Emergency calls for water and sewer service men may be placed through AM 4-4134.

The post office plans to push deliveries on Saturday just as on ordinary weekdays. The windows at the office will close at noon but operations will go ahead in other departments. On Sunday, according to E. C. Boatler, postmaster, the office will be closed but all Christmas packages which are received will be delivered. Boatler said that through Thursday, the mail load at the office, incoming and outgoing combined, was nearly 30,000 pieces ahead of the same date last year.

Outgoing mail has dropped off sharply in the last few days but the incoming mail volume continues to soar.

No date so far has equalled the all-time high score on Dec. 18, when the office had handled 171,000 pieces of mail.

Highway patrol officers sounded an urgent plea to all Christmas travelers to exercise exceptional care on the roads in an effort to keep down the number of accidents.

The patrolmen will be on duty, augmented by men from other divisions of the Department of Public Safety, in a drive to keep the highways safe.

Stores will be operating at full capacity on Saturday as the last fading rush of Christmas buying pushes to the end. They will close their doors on Monday and the city will present a Sabbath-like appearance.

Schools have already shut down for the holidays.

Parties For Patients Set

Celebrations during the Christmas season by patients at the Big Spring State Hospital will begin tonight at 7 p.m. with 11 parties scheduled, according to Dr. Preston E. Harrison, superintendent.

Each ward will have its own party with festivities and refreshments chosen by the sponsor. Gifts for the occasion have been provided by the Volunteer Council.

Volunteers have been preparing for the big event for about three months, ever since sponsors chose the wards they wished to host. Gifts, refreshments, decorations and sacks of candy, fruit and nuts have been prepared.

Santa Claus is scheduled to visit all the wards at some time during the two-hour festivities. In addition, five hospital personnel will visit all wards. They are Chaplain Max Maguire, Mrs. Otillie Jolley, Glenn Bunn, Dr. Frankie Williams and Mrs. Hila Weathers.

Numerous other hospital personnel will return for the evening to assist ward personnel and volunteers with the various programs.

City Vehicle Is Damaged

A city dump truck and a mail truck figured in two of the city's six accidents investigated by police in the past 24 hours. It was the second mail truck involved in a wreck this week.

The dump truck, driven by Pablo Aliantor Ramirez, 610 NW 3rd, was reported stalled in loose dirt over a gas line in the 500 block of East First. Crews had installed barricade markers to hold traffic away from the work areas. A station wagon was involved in the accident. It was riven by John Henry Day, 2510 W. 16th. Estimated damage was $230.

The mail vehicle was driven by Bennie Ronnie Schafer, 1404 Stadium. Driver of the second vehicle involved in the accident at Main and Twenty-first was Brenda Lou Gray, 1612 Indian Hills.

Locations of other accidents, and drivers of vehicles involved, were: Northwest Second and Gregg, Thomas Clark Hancock, Big Spring, and Willie Derrick McClain, Ackerly; State and Ridglea, Kenneth Larry Tubb, 609 State, on a motorcycle, and Billy Joe Knight, Webb AFB;

Northwest Eighth and Gregg, Marvin Bell, 1100 N. Gregg, and Joe Ortega, 609 NW 8th; Fourth and Scurry, Helen Castlow, Stanton, and Golinda Ramirez, 204 N. Nolan.

Rattler Saves Home From Fire

A little dog named Rattler probably saved the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Dupre, 2604 E. 16th, from burning at 1:30 a.m. Friday.

"The dog, in the garage attached to the house, began an awful noise," Mrs. Dupre said. "I went to see what the trouble was and as I opened the kitchen door into the garage the smoke poured in. My husband grabbed the garden hose and put out the fire."

Mrs. Dupre said an old quilt in the garage, next to an old wooden showcase, was burning. The case was damaged but that was about all except some smoke in the house.

The Dupres lost their house and contents about a year ago from fire.

Pack Party Held

Cub Scout Pack 10 held its annual Christmas party Thursday night at the First Baptist Church with 35 boys and parents present. Santa Claus dropped in for a surprise visit. The Cubs will not meet during the school holidays, but will resume regular meetings when school reopens.

Daniel May Get Money For Tourism

By LEE JONES

AUSTIN (AP)—If Gov. Price Daniel asks the legislature next month to finance an advertising program to bring tourists to Texas, he probably will get the money he wants, a sampling of lawmakers' opinions indicates.

But if he seeks a new and tougher lobby control law, as he did in July, he won't be so lucky, the same legislators say.

These were the answers given by most members of the House and Senate who responded to an Associated Press poll.

Daniel said recently at a "Texans for Tourists" conference he will ask the session to appropriate $300,000 a year for such advertising, if state Comptroller Robert S. Calvert says the money is available.

"I think most of us are in agreement that such a program is worth the money. The issue will be 'How much, when and how administered?'" Rep. Ronald Bridges of Corpus Christi said.

Rep. Truett Latimer of Abilene said he thinks there should be "no trouble getting it through."

The regular session refused to vote the advertising money.

Lobby control proposals stirred some rousing debate during the first called session in July. The House passed a heavily amended bill that many said would not work.

"Chances of passing a strong bill would be very remote and could stymie all other propositions," said Rep. George Hinson of Mineola.

Recalling the bitter House debate on lobby control, Rep. Neil Caldwell of Alvin said, "God help us. The House created a monster of a bill after amendments."

Rep. W. T. Dungan of McKinney said a lobby control bill would "pass the House again but is doubtful in the Senate; but since many senators are leaving it might get through.

Some legislators said they had ideas of their own about what the session should consider.

Hinson said the lawmakers should work on "legislation directed to the Railroad Commission regarding drilling spacing orders. Many, many independent oil people will be forced out of business prior to 1963."

Rep. Ronald Roberts said, "The governor has indicated that he will open the call to include my 'discretionary juvenile bill.'" This bill would allow local authorities to decide whether a juvenile over 16 should be tried for a crime at once in the regular criminal courts or in juvenile court.

Merry Christmas!

NEW YORK (AP) — A young gunman walked into a store, handed the owner a note warning her not to scream, and robbed her of $385. The note was written on a Christmas card.

Yuletide Welfare On A Large Scale

By JOE BEYER

Christmas giving by local welfare agencies was on a large scale again this year, but demands have not increased greatly, according to most reports.

The Salvation Army, largest giver of food, distributed about as many baskets as last year. At last count the number was 220, but a few late emergency cases are expected, according to Maj. Robert L. Short, commander. The number of persons served by baskets this year has risen, however, from about 1,400 last year to about 1,600 persons. Last year there were 227 baskets distributed.

Some 340 names of needy families were originally submitted to the Salvation Army. Investigation revealed that some of these persons were to receive assistance from other sources annd some names were dropped from the list. Others were able to obtain work, eliminating the need for assistance.

The Howard County Welfare Asocation added about 40 names to the list; the State Welfare Office, 32; the prison bureau, two; and 15 names were provided by Kate Morrison school.

Food to fill the baskets was obtained with money from Christmas kettles and letter solicitations. These two sources had brought in almost $2,000 by the weekend. About $3,000 will be needed to pay all expenses.

The food purchased includes 200 hens, 1,000 pounds of sugar, 400 loaves of bread, 400 cans of milk, 200 pounds of coffee, 1,000 pounds of potatoes, 200 heads of cabbage and other items.

These were supplemented by about 6,000 cans of food donated through local schools. Church organizations and civic groups contributed other items.

In addition to the food, the post distributed toys. The Rotary Club furnished 100 toys and the Officers' Wives Club at Webb Air Force Base purchased $75 worth of new toys.

Most of the toys came from city firemen who have been restoring them for about a month. This year they repaired 120 bicycles, 150 tricycles, 400 dolls and an assortment of other toys.

"Our giving this year has helped tremendously in an indirect manner by the surplus commodities which many needy families received," Maj. Short said. "The families received such things as milk, eggs and butter and we furnished the other things which go into preparing meals."

The surplus commodities were distributed through the regular channels of the Howard County Welfare Association. The association has no regular Christmas program. However, the requirements in surplus commodities have increased substantially toward the year's end, according to Mrs. Ruby Phillips, welfare officer.

"At the beginning of this week we had 1,269 persons receiving commodities," she said. "During the first two days the number rose to about 1,300 and we expect it to go as high as 1,500 before the year ends."

She attributed the increased need to a lack of work as the harvesting season closes.

Service at the American Red Cross office has increased since August, according to Mrs. Moree T. Sawtelle, executive secretary of the Howard - Glasscock counties chapter, but none of this is attributable to the Christmas season.

The Red Cross deals mostly with veterans and servicemen and these requirements remain about constant, she said. Persons who are able to receive aid from other sources are referred to such agencies as the Salvation Army.

Numerous church and civic groups gave food and other Christmas gifts to needy families in the area.

Car-Train Crash Kills 3

SULPHUR SPRINGS (AP)—A small boy who suffered grave injuries was the sole survivor of a car-train crash claiming the lives of three others in the automobile Thursday.

Attendants said the youngster, 2-year-old Mark Gregory, was in critical condition at Hopkins County Memorial Hospital. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Gregory of Sulphur Springs.

The crash, involving a local freight train of the Cotton Belt Railroad, killed Judson Gregory, 45; Thomas Gregory, 17, and Douglas McCord, 2, like Mark a grandson of the elder Gregory.

The 2:55 p.m. accident occurred on a private road from State Highway 11 to the Judson Gregory farm home, 4.1 miles northwest of Sulphur Springs in Northeast Texas.

Crew members of the six-car freight train said the automobile paused at the crossing momentarily and then moved directly in front of the Diesel engine.

C.E. Shirey of Commerce and Dallas was the train's engineer. He told officers he approached the crossing with the locomotive's headlights on, horn blowing and bell ringing. Police said the track was plainly visible for 200 yards in each direction.
