Mitchell County Crops In Excellent Shape

Cotton About 3 Weeks Late

By JAMES ANDERSON
Record News Editor

"Prospects for a crop look real good right now," Entomologists
A two-man team of entomologists from Stamford which checks Mitchell County crops on a regular basis has reported a buildup of beneficial insects including ladybugs and hooded beetles in most fields.
Joe Hoover and Randy Deusch are working in the county on a joint project with the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers and the Extension Service.
Wind and Sand
The county agent explained that some of the younger cotton or plants just coming up over the county had been damaged by sand and wind.
Feed Outlook
"Feed crops are in good condition over Mitchell County," Logsdon said. "The good supply of moisture is giving the plants rapid growth," the agent noted.
Some cutting and baling is in progress in the county at present," Logsdon said, and "some maize is already heading out in some spots in the county area."

Head Tall Sudan

COUNTY AGENT Buddy C. Logsdon is almost hidden by this tall crop of hybrid sudan found on the farm of W. M. Bratcher four miles west of Colorado City. Bratcher was in the field cutting the crop Friday morning. All feed crops appear to be in excellent condition across the county according to the county agent.

Cotton Crop Good

CONDITIONS described as the best in the past few years are found in most cotton fields in Mitchell County. Moisture supplies are adequate and insect problems have only developed in minor infestations in most parts of the county. The crop is estimated to be approximately three weeks late due to the heavy rainfall received according to Buddy Logsdon, county agent.

TO RUN THREE DAYS

Equalization Hearings On School Taxes Begin

Equalization Board hearings are set for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at 9 a.m. in the administration building at Colorado High School.

Re-evaluation notices on city and rural property have been received by property owners and anyone having questions or inquiries on school tax matters should be present at their designated day.

Under the new tax percent formula city property is based on a rate of 45 percent of actual value according to present day values.

Rural property is taxed at a rate of 45 percent based on the productive value.

Previously, city property was taxed at a rate of 55 percent and rural at a rate of 35 percent. An attorney general's ruling stipulated that all percentages must be the same on rural and city property.

In addition the old percent figured the worth at 1942-43 values. The new value is based on present day values.

Farmland is classed as no. one and no. 2 with values figured at $60. per acre for the first and $45 per acre on the second class.

Number one grassland is valued at $25 per acre and number two at $20 per acre. Improvements such as houses or other farm buildings are added to the land valuation to reach the total value of the farm or ranch.

First Hearing
Hearing on the new evaluation for oil, utility and railroad properties was held Monday. Total value of this property in the school district, as yet, was not available from the school tax office. Total valuations of the property in 1964 was set at $14,463,560.

4-H PROJECTS

County Youths Raising Calves

Sixteen 4-H Club members in Mitchell County are currently raising show calves for upcoming livestock shows in the fall and winter according to Buddy C. Logsdon, county agent.

Logsdon explained that the group currently had 27 calves on feed. "This is the most in a few years," Logsdon said, "and there is a lot of interest in the program."

"Participating in the program and going to the various livestock shows over the state provides the boys and girls with an opportunity to meet the top livestock people in Texas," the county agent noted.

"This program is designated to build leadership, and character among the members and to grow some top-notch boys and girls as well as producing quality livestock," Logsdon said.

Among the calves this year are Herefords and five are of the Angus breed. The projects were begun at various times in the first three months of 1965.

Included in the group raising calves are Larry Don Watlington, Charley Smith, Charles Ray Watlington, Allen Smith, Lindley Smith, Wayne Banks, Jerry Boyd, Glenn Chalker, Tommy Boyd, Robert Cooper, DeLynn Grisham, Christy Hammond, Bobby Grisham and Kenny Hammond of Colorado City, Becky Merket and Eddy Merket represent Lorraine in the group.

Total Values
Total value of all property in the school district for 1964 was $25,571,645. Of this figure city and rural property was $11,108,085, with the oil, utility and railroad property being the remainder.

Rate To Be Set
Tax rate for the school district is currently $1.50 per $100. value. Following the equalization board hearings a new tax rate will be set by the Board of Trustees of the school district.

Fort Worth Firm
The current re-evaluation project has been a joint effort by the city and school district and was conducted by Pritchard-Abbott of Fort Worth.

City tax rates will also be based on 45 percent of present day values. City tax rate will remain at the present $1.65 per $100. value.

CONVERSATION CORNER

SAW a little quip the other day which went something like this: "One of the hardest things for a married woman to get used to is being whistled for instead of at."

Yeah. And reading that little gem had a reminiscent feel. Remember — long before knock-knock came in — when people were always thinking up and quoting gags about "How to tell when the honeymoon is over?"

It was the rage. Most men, and some women, thought the sayings were pretty funny.

WELL? How DO you tell when the honeymoon is over? Some of 'em were over and done with so long ago it may be difficult to recall the symptoms exactly.

Let's see now. The honeymoon is over when how she cooks rates more than how she looks.

The honeymoon is over when he buys flour more often than flower. It is definitely over when all "Sunday drive" means to him is straight down the fairway on the golf course.

And it is over when billing takes the place of cooing.

HONEYMOONS, brides, and grooms have been the subject of more jokes than politics, probably.

That's because the human heart always seeks relief and respite from anything that touches the deep wells of feeling too much.

Witness the numerous clean little jokes about Heaven and its opposite, "the bad place."

"HOW TO TELL when the honeymoon is over" is usually a very individual matter. But when a man starts addressing her as "Hon," instead of "Honey," it's usually time to get set for the beginning of the end.

Honey-moons aren't supposed to last forever. No woman in her right mind could stand it.

And there's always the absolutely beautiful off-chance that when he whistles for her all he wants to know is where she put the check book.

LIFE always has its compensations. After the honeymoon is over people can get down to the serious pleasures of living.

There is always the wonder and the joy of watching your children grow into men and women. And there is the companion joy of learning about the growth and accomplishments of other people's sons and daughters.

SAW Elton Mahon, former district judge who is an attorney in Abilene now. He and Novalee are building a new home which is nearly finished.

Their daughter Jana, to be a senior in Cooper High next term, is studying civics this summer and is also taking a course in speed reading at McMurry College. Martha, second daughter, will be in the 8th grade at Madison Junior High. Son Brad, Little Leaguer, will tackle 4th grade in Austin Elementary. The Mahons are loving Abilene.

HERE for the Judy Root-Bill Hubbard wedding were Sam and Edwina Cobb who live now in Cyril, Oklahoma.

Sam's an old Col-Tex man and the couple spent a number of years here in Colorado City.

Merrill Cobb, their first son, is living in Tulsa, Oklahoma, for at least six months. Then he'll go back to Houston where he works for Pan-American Oil Co. Merrill's father of three children, Sam, Sandy and Sari.

Dick Cobb lives in Kermit where he works for Cabbot Oil Corporation. He and his wife have two sons, David and Walter.

HEAR TELL that two sons of Colorado City families are working on a ranch in Mexico this summer. They are Stetson Cowan, son of the Ken Cowans, and Mike Sadler, son of the J. A. (Junior) Sadlers.

Hear, too, that a former C-City Vocational Ag teacher, Doyle Williams, received the "Man of the Year" award given by Lions Club at Shallowater, recently. He and his wife Alice are parents of two sons. Dr. W. F. Williams of Lubbock and Dr. B. K. Williams of Indianapolis, Indiana.

Doyle is brother of our Dr. J. D. Williams, 202 East 10th St., Colorado City "Vet."

SEEN LATELYS included George Leonard, Sweetwater lawyer. Ed and Margaret Rothwell coffee-breaking after office hours. She works now in the Robinson Drilling Co. office. Ed, of course, is with Lone Wolf Electric Co-op.

Saw G. D. Foster and Dick Wistrand at a cold drink refreshment break. And met for the first time-Eddie Pilant who bought the W. L. Doss Drug store.

Met, too, Mary K., lovely bride of Jon Corydon Elliot. Mrs. W. C. Martin, mother of recent bridegroom Lowell Martin.

VACATION season is getting into full swing now. Mary Anne Lipps, red-head daughter of Farris and Margaret, flew to Florida where she is visiting her cousin Fannie Bess (Porter) and her husband Capt. Eddie K. Norris, plus their sons Skip and Dale. The Lipps returned Thursday from a visit in Okmulgee, Oklahoma, with Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Roberts, aunt and uncle of Farris.

Out in California for an extended visit with her parents are Betty Guezel, wife of the county attorney Frank Guezel. With her are daughters Carol and Marcia and son Carl. Carol is to take a tour of Washington, D. C. with a group of students from the West Coast.

VACATIONS, like honeymoons, were never meant to last forever.

And they have this much more in common: they are always wonderful to look forward to... and just as wonderful to look back on... once they're over. Which they always are, sooner or later, life being what it is and largely made up of anticipation... realization... education... and resignation.

"Our debentures" over the years have been purchased at extremely competitive rates, often on a par or only slightly higher than federal government issues," Rhein said. Banker Is Toastmaster For Houston Meeting

Charles C. Thompson of Colorado City, chairman of the board of directors of the Farm Credit Banks of Houston, will serve as toastmaster at a luncheon for the Houston Bank for Cooperatives in that city Wednesday.

The Houston Bank for Cooperatives, a lending institution for more than 300 farm and ranch cooperatives in Texas, will retire the last $2,000,000 of its government-owned stock on June 30, and will become wholly owned and operated by its farmer and rancher stockholders.

President John C. Rhein has announced. Final payment will be made at a luncheon at the Shamrock Hilton Hotel in Houston Wednesday, June 30, when Rhein will present a $2,000,000 check to Robert B. Tootell of Washington D.C., governor of the Farm Credit Administration.

The Houston bank will be one of only two of the 13 banks for cooperatives in the Farm Credit System to complete retirement of government capital with The Berkeley, California Bank for Cooperatives retiring the last of its federal capital on the same day.

Several hundred guests, including agricultural, business and financial leaders from throughout Texas and the nation, will attend the luncheon. The week of June 27 - July 3 has been proclaimed Agriculture Cooperative Week in Texas by Gov. John Connally in recognition of the bank's accomplishment and for the years of service the bank and its member cooperatives have provided the state's agricultural economy.

The Houston Bank for Cooperatives was organized on Oct. 31, 1933 under the Farm Credit Act of that year. Original capital of $5,000,000 was provided by the federal government. As the bank's capital needs increased, government capital later reached a maximum of $10,000,000.

The Farm Credit Act also required borrowers to purchase stock in the bank each year in proportion to the amount of credit extended, and private ownership of stock increased as the bank's loan volume continued to grow.

A comprehensive plan for gradual retirement of government-owned capital was put into effect in 1955, and the Houston bank now has capital of $15,000,000, as owned by its stockholder-borrowers. The bank's loan volume for the fiscal year ending on June 30, will exceed $100,000,000, highest in the bank's history, Rhein said.

The completion of our government stock retirement program gives evidence that farmers can help themselves if given the right opportunity," Rhein stated. "There was a void in financial assistance for farmers who wanted to help themselves through cooperative enterprises and the Congress of the United States planted the 'seed capital' for a bank to offer this credit."

He emphasized that at no time are federal funds used for loan purposes. The 13 Banks for Cooperatives, 12 Federal Land Banks join to

DEAR DORIS

By Doris Clark

Dutch By Invitation

DEAR DORIS — My husband and I have asked another married couple to help us celebrate our first wedding anniversary. It's dinner at a restaurant, then dancing afterwards.

I feel sure that my friend knows it will be "Dutch treat." However, I wonder if I've done wrong in expecting them to spend a slightly expensive evening with us, by invitation. It's simply a matter of finances, Doris; we are not in a position to treat, but did want to spend that evening in a special way, with another couple.

Should we have just planned to go out by ourselves? Is this expecting too much from friends? How about us treating to beverages?

Is it a Boo-Boo? DEAR DORIS — Are your friends close pals of yours? Have they the money to put such an evening easily within reach?

If so, it's no boo-boo. Just clarify things with a phone call ahead of time to say you want to take care of the drinks. Happy Anniversary!

DEAR DORIS — My fiancé and I quit smoking eight months ago. Joe said the other night that he might start smoking again some day. (Neither of us had any problem kicking the habit.)

I told him I hoped he never starts again, most of all because when I am not smoking the taste of nicotine nauseates me. I told him I would not kiss him if he started the dirty habit again. He thought this a great joke and laughed heartily. If Joe ever starts smoking again, would I be fair in sticking to my promise? Also, I fear I will start again if he does.

Non-Smoker

P.S. We have been going together two years and this is my biggest problem. Isn't that marvelous?

DEAR N.S. — Wouldn't keeping such a promise mean breaking another more important one? You've promised to marry him. Can you imagine a lifetime with your dreamboat, but no kisses?

More promising would be to link up with a national Non-Smoker's Association. That way you get moral support and practical facts about why and how to quit the habit.

It's foolish for a quitter to go back on the hook after investing weeks in getting unhooked! I'm sending you an address to write to.

DEAR DORIS — I have been going steady for about three months. For the last three weeks he hasn't even phoned me. I don't think there is any reason why he should be angry with me. If he doesn't want to go steady any more I think that he should tell me and I'd give him back his ring. Should I phone him, and if I did what would I say? I'm very quiet and a bit shy, but I like him very much.

If there is a chip off the stone of the ring, should I do anything about it?

What's The Matter?

DEAR WHAT'S — He may be just as wordless as you about breaking off.

Write a brief note offering to return the ring — setting him free if he wants to be. If the ring has been chipped, well — that's the way the cookie crumbles! Forget it.

DEAR DORIS — Someone who comes to my house reeks of foul perspiration so much that I feel the odor is clinging to me if I sit in the same chair hours afterwards. If it is a problem of chemistry, what can be done? I would try to get the information across in some tactful way, or even anonymously, which I know is unspeakable, but perhaps better than making a lifelong enemy.

Nearly Gassed

DEAR NEARLY GASSED — Perspiration does not smell when it is fresh. Frequent bathing and clean clothing are the answer.

Some bright sparks can take a hint. I'd try the gift box approach first: an un-birthday present of soap, talc and deodorant. Friendship is risked either way!

Braves Capture Pony Victory

Braves 8 Colts 3

ColTex Recreation Club Braves continued their winning ways in the Pony League by defeating the two-hit pitching of Koney Key and an airtight hit attack of an 8-3 victory over the Scotty Constructors.

Colts scored first in the initial frame as Dale Pix walked and crossed the plate.

Bottom of the first saw Terry Brock crank a leadoff single followed by a one-base hit by catcher Gene Davis. The next batter struck out and Key then blasted a double to lead two runs in for the Braves.

Colts went scoreless in the second and third frames.

After a scoreless inning, Braves erupted for five tallies in the third on four hits and a Colt miscue.

Brock again smacked a leadoff single and Davis duplicated the feat. Gary Chaney followed a two-base hit and Key followed up with his second hit of the contest. Randy Parker reached base via an error and when the dust settled the Braves held a 7-1 bulge.

Colts struck back for a pair of runs in the fourth as Ricker Wharby and Lyndall Gibson scored.

After being set down 1-2-3 in the fourth Key scored the final run for the Braves after reaching first on an error.

Key whiffed 13 and walked only four in gaining the pitching victory. Dick Thomas was the loser striking out seven Braves. He issued no bases on balls.

Lions Win

Lions Club Lions won the second game of Thursday's action from the Robert's Butane White Sox when the Sox failed to have enough players to field a team.

CHEMICALS, ROTARY HOE

Farmers Battle Weeds, Grass

The battle cry of many Texas farmers for the immediate future may well be "Let's get 'em down with weeds and grass!" Muddy fields have kept machinery idle but not weeds and grass, says Fred C.
Elliott, cotton specialist for the Agricultural Extension Service at Texas A&M University.

Elliott said that farmers now have available more post-emergence herbicides than ever before to help them in the fight but that the danger one weed control practice was still mechanical rotary hoe equipped tractors. More than 51,000 were used last year in 173 counties, he added, and they did a good job. Careful attention to the operation of this equipment is the secret of its success, he said.

As for the herbicides, Elliott said herbicidal oil gives very effective control of small weeds and grass. This is an old practice, he added, and can be used to get out of the grasses for about $150 an acre.
Conditions must be right for its use. Timing must be correct and application made with precision, he added.

He listed the following as other recommended post-emergence herbicides and herbicide mixtures. Diuron or caparol plus a surfactant - they are effective in the control of a wide range of weed species and do the best job on small actively growing weeds. They are used after the cotton is too large for lateral oiling.

DSMA plus a surfactant is effective against many grass species including the cocklebur, he said. It is more effective under hot dry conditions above 75 degrees F. Its effectiveness is reduced when applied under cool, wet conditions, the specialist said.

Diuron plus DSMA plus a surfactant is more effective against a wider range of weeds and grass species under some conditions than either of the two materials used alone, said Elliott. This mixture is desirable when the

Felony Theft Charge Filed Against Trio

Three men have been named in a charge of felony theft in the alleged taking of 14 rolls of three-strand copper wire from Lone Wolf Electric Co-op on Jan. 28.

Charged in the case were Arthur Smith, Herley Jones and John Claude Lyons. Wire taken was valued at $900.

The trio is currently in jail at Ballinger in connection with another case, but local officers have placed detainees on them should they be eligible for release in Ballinger at a later date.

Permits Out For $3500

Building permits for construction totaling $3,550 have been issued in Colorado City recently.

Following permits were issued:

Ben Gonzales, 14x12 addition $300.

Harry Ratliff, double garage and storage, 24x36, $1,500.

A. G. Ballard, carport, 20x14 $300.

Cullen Dade, 14x5 1/2 bath room, $400.

Tony Alvarez, 5x6 building, $50.

H. R. Bell, 10x12 frame utility room, $200.

Eulalia Ornelas, 14x12 addition, $600.

Test Date

Next testing date for driver's license applicants will be held July 7 at the City Hall in Colorado City.

Announcement was made by Gene Posey, driver's license officer for the Texas Dept. of Public Safety.

Cattle Prices Rise Over Last Year

Cattle prices during the last two months have averaged well above those of the same period a year ago, reveal John G. McInerney, economist, Texas A&M University.

With few exceptions, range and pasture grasses are in good condition in Texas, and grazing prospects through the early part of the summer are excellent, he explains. Range area is generally snowed out growth over the western range area of the United States.

This is favorable from a price standpoint because it permits producers to hold longer cattle on the range longer. This produces heavier marketing.

Although feeder cattle prices remained low through early May, they increased in mid-May and after the recent rise in feeder cattle prices can be attributed to the increase in feeder cattle prices, strong demand and a smaller seasonal supply.

McInerney says that feeder cattle prices will likely stay above year-earlier levels through the rest of the second quarter and into the summer for 1965.

During this period, it is anticipated that cattle feeders will continue to place large numbers of cattle on feed. At the same time, good grazing conditions will enable ranchers to hold more feeder cattle on the ranges. This will restrict available supplies of feeder replacements and will tend to strengthen feeder cattle prices.

A further increase of feeder cattle prices would probably curtail the slaughter of non-fed animals as feedlot operators would compete strongly with packers for these cattle, the economist explains.

Feeder cattle prices in the fall and early winter of 1965 will depend largely upon range conditions at that time, McInerney adds.

He points out that fed cattle prices were steady through the winter, averaging $2 to $3 above those recorded a year earlier. In late April, they were about $4 above prices in the early spring of last year.

These prices may decline slightly about mid-year 1965, but in the third quarter, July August and September, they are expected to average about the same as those of a year earlier.
