SEE IF you can get Wade Freeman to tell you about the troubles he had replacing a wheel cover on his automobile. It sorta reminds you of the old Dave Gardner gag about the thief who was heisting hubcaps off a Rolls Royce; decided he couldn't sell EM, AND WAS BACKING OUT WHEN HE GOT CAUGHT BY A POLICEMAN. Who'd believe he was putting EM ON ?

ECT Record Of Hits Continues With Portrait

T.HE ECT has delighted their audiences with a variety of productions throughout past years. Who can forget last year's production, "Neil Somon's riotous "Odd Couple", and who thinks of a villain without a thought of "Pure as the Driven Snow", a classic of melodrama?

In keeping with the desire to give audiences a variety of productions, ECT presents this year "Family Portrait" by William Joyce Cowen and Lenore Coffee.

If, upon hearing this play is about the family of Jesus, you imagine a Passion Play, you will be quite surprised when you attend a production. Jesus is not among the list of characters.

How can this be? With a marvelous script, talented actors, a fine director, and after many hours of rehearsal, the Eastland Civic Theater will show you.

Exact dates of production and information about ticket sales will be announced soon.

Do not miss the Sunday edition of the Eastland Telegram for an inside story on the stage crew of "Family Portrait".

They are hard at work at rehearsals and between rehearsals preparing for production time.

Workshop

The latest Shakespeare Workshop was held Monday, Feb. 25, at the Civic Theatre. It concerned the play, Romeo and Juliet. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed listening to the sound track from the movie which included i important scenes and the very popular song "A Time For Us!". Refreshments were served afterwards, to the delight of everyone.

The next workshop will be held March 18th at 7:30 p.m. at the theatre. It will concern the play, "The Merchant of Venice". This play will be televised on March 16th. A All faculty members of Eastland Public Schools are reminded that they are cordially invited to attend. They are asked to please encourage their students to attend these workshops. The workshop is a painless way to learn about Shakespeare in his own environment, the theatre. I have often heard people say they don't want to come because they know nothing about Shakespeare. I'd like to remind everyone, that this is the main reason the workshop was formed- - to help everyone understand and better enjoy Shakespeare. Shakespeare was meant to be heard and not read. The program on March 18th will be conducted by Gay Hart, an active member of the Civic Theatre who has appeared in several productions. Please take out a few moments of your time and attend these workshops. All members of the theatre and friends are asked to support this effort by the theatre.

Thoughts

From The Living Bible

"All right," the angel said, "I accept your proposition and won't destroy that little city. But hurry! For I can do nothing until you are there." (From that time on that village was named Zoar, meaning "Little City.")Then the Lord rained down fire and flaming tar from heaven upon Sodom and Gomorrah, and utterly destroyed them, along with the other cities and villages of the plain, eliminating all life—people, plants, and animals alike. But Lot's wife looked back as she was following along behind him, and became a pillar of salt.

Coins are not made of pure gold or silver because they are not durable enough and would wear rapidly if they weren't hardened with copper.

Eastland County club members will be working the next two weeks to help build a State 4- H Center. They will be selling Worlds Finest Chocolate between March 1st and 16th in an effort to raise $1000.00 so that a state 4- H training center can be completed.

The Eastland County 4- hers have pledged to raise $3000.00 over a three year period to assist in the building of the state center to be located at nearby Lake Brownwood.

These young people and their leaders believe that Texas 4- H members need a permanent home where many educational programs and activities can be conducted throughout the year.

Thus youth and leaders of Eastland County are joining with others from throughout Texas to help bring about a 4- H center for Texas.

The enthusiasm of the young people and their adult leaders apparently motivated other business and industry groups around the state to join in the project. This spirit of cooperation is again needed as local citizens move to complete the building fund program. A 78 acre site overlooking scenic Lake Brownwood has been selected.

The ground breaking ceremonies for the 4- H center was held at Lake Brownwood last Friday. Construction work will soon get underway. THE Educational Training Center includes an administration building and ten dormitory units, each containing a conference room and sleeping area for 20 people. The administration building will include an assembly room, dining room, food preparation facilities and offices. The center will be able to accommodate 200 people. It will be used for training of 4- H members and 4- H adult leaders throughout the year. Because of the location the center will be a valuable asset to the Eastland County 4- H program.

The 4- Hers urge the citizens of Eastland County to help them reach their goal by purchasing candy with the special 4- H label.

Texas Farm Bureau Says Wage And Price Controls Failed

The Eastland County Farm Bureau has asked Congressman Omar Burleson and Senators John Tower and Lloyd Bentsen to use their influence in permitting wage and price controls to expire April 30.

The Economic Stabilization Act, authority for federal wage and price controls, is due to expire April, 1974.

In a letter to the Texas Senators and Congressman Omar Burleson the local county Farm Bureau president, Jack Cozart of Cisco, said that wage and price controls had failed.

He pointed out that the Consumer Price Index has risen 13 percent, wholesale prices advanced more than 20 percent and numerous shortage have developed since the price controls went into effect august, 1971. He added that the energy crisis had been made worse by price controls.

The county leader mentioned instances where shortages have effected local farmers and ranchers. This included items like baling and fencing wire and other farm equipment.

Mr. Cozart also pointed to the ill- fated attempt last year to control beef prices. He said this only created chaos in the industry- - - and shortages aththe meat counter.

Mr. Cozart said that controls do not work because they do not strike at the root causes of i inflation- - - deficit spending by the federal government. He also pointed out that controls act as a ceiling on profits and lead to shortages- - - which add to inflationary pressures.

Chief Morren Challenges Cubs At Blue, Gold Event

A record number of Cub Scouts, Webeloes, leaders, parents and friends attended the annual Blue and Gold Banquet Monday evening at the First United Methodist Church.

Each was rewarded with a fine meal and an excellent program.

Webelo Kenneth Wilcoxen lead the group in the Pledge to the Flag, and Webelo Leader Mike Collins served as master of ceremonies.

Eastland Police Chief John Morren was guest speaker and he introduced Police Sgt. Ben Sancillo, a Cub father.

Chief Morren spoke out in favor of an international language, saying that it would be a fine project for Cubs and Scouts so that, among other things, the some four million Cubs in 64 countries of the world could communicate, and thereby promote world peace.

Challenging the cubs to be what they wanted to be, he reminded them that leaders in every field have been Cubs and- or Scouts. He cited Vice President Gearld Ford; some 140 military generals who were Eagle Scouts; 119 generals who made Life Scouts; 111 who were Stars; and the 170 generals who were Scouts of other rank.

He remarked that 59 U.S. senators and 262 U.S. representatives were scouts. In athletics, he cited Roger Staubach, Mickey Mantle and Stan Musial as having been Scouts. "Where do we go? It's up to you" the chief said.

He recalled that Presidents Roosevelt, Kennedy and Johnson all had Scouting backgrounds.

In closing he told what the pledge of allegiance means to him: that he would give his life for others freedom that all .i are free to worship as they please; and that liberty is for everybody.

Cub Leader Joe Housson assisted in an awards program which saw achievement steps earned by the following:

Chico Underwood, Casey Meazell, James Miller, Jackie Meeks, all getting Wolf badges; Shem Culpepper, gold arrow point; Kenneth Wilcoxen, Webelo Badge and athletic badge; Kevin Johnson, craftsmanship badge; Joe Moore, athletic; Kent Wolcroftk athletic; Shan Housson and Larry Martin, scientific badge; and Vance O'Brien, scholarship.

Mr. Housson called the event a most successful event. He recognized his leaders: Mrs. Bill Culpepper, Den One; Mrs. Patsy Miller, Den Two; Mrs. Herman Alsup and Mrs. Rich, Den Four; Tom Holland and Mrs. Hodges, Den Five; and Mr. Collins, Webelo.

I REMEMBER

I remember when I was a kid preacher in Eastland county young people were inclined to "cut u- " in church. Going in and out, whispering and otherwise disturbing the congregation. Dr. W.T. Connor, a seminary professor, told about a time when he went to Houston to supply the pulpit of the First Baptist church. They asked him to teach an intermediate boys Sunday School class. He said the seven or eight boys were very noisy and rude, except one boy who set his eyes on Dr. Connor's face and apparently was deeply interested. Dr. Connor said he decided to do his best for this one boy. And for fifteen minutes poured out his heart to him. When he finished, the boy relaxed and said: "It's the bottom jaw that works when you talk. ain't it? I have often wondered what people were thinking about while I was preaching. There is nothing more encouraging to a preacher to have a still quiet, apparently interested congregation. And may I suggest to any preacher who may read this, that a congregation like that deserves something worth listening to. One of the most embarrassing things that has happened to me, is when I was listening to one of my sermons on radio as it was played back, and fell sound asleep.

Texas Day At The Library

Centennial Memorial Library is ever ready and a bit ahead in keeping timely exhibits set up.

March 2, Texas Independence Day, finds an elaborate display centering on the Alamo. Two replicas of Texas' most honored historic monument have been furnished by Kay Plowman and Jill Coleman and by Dale Spurlen, Eastland students. The Library committee, led by Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins, assisted by librarian Mrs. A.E. Cushman will prepare the exhibit. Included will be bits of Texana, a 24' shelf expanse of books related to Texas. the six flags of Texas, a new pamphlet on the eleven Mexican Presidents who served Texas from 1824 to 1836.

Now in the library are books on the ethnic groups who settled and built Texas. These have been a source of great interest to readers- - each of whom belongs to some ethnic group.

Presently, through the courtesy of Mike Collins, chairman of Eastland County Historical Survey Committee, an extensive study of the Japanese Texans, in plaques and pictures is in the Library. One Japanese contribution, which few Texans know, is the hanging gardens in the city of San Antonio. The Jingu family managed and acted as guides for the gardens for man y years.

Texas rice and fruit industry is covered fully in the exhibit: The introduction of the Satsuma orange to South Texas was made by the Japanese: Families were brought from Japan in 1907 by K. Kishi who invested $300,000 in Southeast Texas rice land- - - a son Taro Kishi was a star halfback at Texas A&M in the 1920's. He later introduced contour levee rice farming to Texas and formed a Petroleum Co.

One Texas- Japanese hero was Benny Ogata of Dallas who was one of the 100 percent casualties of the 442nd. All-Japanese "Go for Broke" regiment which rescued the Texan 36th division in France. The 442nd was the most decorated military unit in u.s. military history.

The Library personnel invite Eastland and surrounding residents to come visit.

Rev. Marney Tells of Trip To Holy Land

The unchanging Sea of Galilee and the Jordan River are the most impressive, the Rev. Ben Marney, pastor of First United Methodist Church, told members of the Eastland Lions Club at the luncheon meeting Tuesday at the Ramada Inn.

Rev. Marney showed beautiful color slides of his January visit to the Holy Land, explaining each with with detail which made the program a highlight for the club. He said that so many of the locations are held in tradition to be associated with the life of Christ, but that these bodies of water were there then, here now, and that it is so easy to imagine Christ in connection with them.

The pastor will show more slides at the church the next Sunday evening and the public is welcome to attend.

Homer Smith was program chairman and introduced Rev. Marney.

President Darwin Miller presided and guests included Al Novak (a Lion transfer from Seymour); Mrs. Otis Coleman, Mrs. Dick Johnson, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Marney.

Lewis Tiner will have the program next week.

Servicemen Bronze Placque Due Courthouse

A bronze plaque listing Eastland County men who died or who are missing in action in the Vietnam War will be erected in the County Courthouse Lobby, County Judge Scott Bailey has announced.

Similar bronze plaques are already in place in the lobby, honoring servicemen who lost their lives in the World Wars and the Korean War.

A concentrated effort will be made immediately to secure the names of those county servicemen who lost their lives in Vietnam fighting. Three are presently known. Persons may turn in names to the County Judge's office or to either of the County Commissioners, who have approved the project.

A target date has been set for unveiling on Memorial Day, assuming that all names may be secured and the plaque struck by that time, Judge Bailey said.

"We want to be sure that all are listed" the judge said.

In other business before the Commissioners Court Monday, a bid of $2800 was accepted from Graham Motor Co. Cisco, for a new sheriff's car.

Commissioners also visited informally with District Highway Engineer Shultz regarding plans for highway work.

A "try it and see" attitude was taken Monday when brief discussion was held regarding the new commissioner precinct redistricting which puts most of the south part of the county in one precinct in keeping with Supreme Court rulings on districting by population alone. The result is that the South Precinct has substantially more road mileage to maintain. The Citizens Committee which assisted in the redistricting was honored, and reaffirmed their recommendation that county money be proportioned on mileage, and the court agreed, within its power to do so, to make such provisions at the beginning of 1975.

Some from Rising Star stated that they felt the district was too big for one commissioner to handle, and it was reported that probably the man there will need additional supervisory help in handling the bigger precinct.

The Eastland County Commissioners Court Monday voted to sell approximately $70,000 worth of county school bonds and to divide the money among six county independent school districts according to average daily attendance records of each district.

Eastland County Judge Scott Bailey said the decision to sell the bonds was based on requests from individual county school boards as well as the Eastland County School Board.

The sale of the bonds will be made through the county's fiscal agent, C.N. Burt and Co. of Dallas.

Judge Bailey said the decision to sell the bonds was made because of deductions made by the state which offset any profit on interest from the

In other business eight members of a Citizens Advisory Committee who, in 1973, chose new county precinct lines that were eventually adopted and became effective Jan. 1, were honored at the meeting.

Judge Bailey presented the group with certificates of recognition for its work. James Reid of Eastland Precinct 1 was chairman of the group.

Other members included O.L. Cantrell of Ranger; Guss Frossard and Graydon Baze, Gorman; C.C. Rutherford and Harry B. Sone, Rising Star; and Arlin Bint and Mrs. B.E. Wagley, Cisco.

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER

By Michael A. Guido, Metter, Georgia

A fugitive is one who is running from home. A vagabond is one who has no home. A stranger is one who is away from home. A pilgrim is one who is on his way home. A Christian is a stranger and a pilgrim.

One said in Living Psalms 119:19, "I am but a pilgrim on earth: how I need a map - and Your commands are my chart and guide."

When a person becomes a Christian, he comes to know God. He not only knows there is a God, but he knows the God that is. To all who have received Christ, He gave the right to become children of God.

When a person becomes a Christian, he comes to know goodness. But with the pattern comes the power. Of what value is the knowledge of goodness if one is helpless to attain it. In Christ there is the pattern and the power.

When one becomes a Christian, he comes to know a guide. Life is no longer a bewildering maze. He has the Bible. It shows him the right way to go, and it enables him to do what is right.

A person without a country is an exile in this world, but one without God is an orphan in eternity.
