Your Newspaper Serves — In National Newspaper Week and Every Week

This is National Newspaper Week, and we would take note of only one of the many facets a newspaper offers its readers. That facet is service rendered to the people of the Wellington area . . . service each newspaper renders in every community.

We have many fine service organizations, yet the weekly newspaper offers a service not duplicated by any other institution.

Information is its basic ingredient, both in the news stories and in the advertising columns.

No other institution can keep the people so continuously informed of the activities of the local governing bodies, the work of the schools. Their achievements are recorded and their problems are aired.

A man, no matter how much he wishes to be an enlightened, intelligent citizen, cannot attend each meeting of the city council, each school board meeting and each commissioner's court session. But his newspaper tells him what happens in these meetings.

Your newspaper sets out the work of the churches. It is easy to know of the work of your own church, but it is the newspaper that helps you see the picture of the religious life of the community as a whole.

Agriculture is our way of life—our way of making a living. Few papers devote so much of its news space to farmers and their activities. As the revolution in agriculture goes forward, the responsibility of the newspaper in this respect has become heavier.

No institution mirrors so faithfully the activities of all people, year in and year out, as does the local newspaper. It regularly provides information vital in performing our duties and planning our lives. We cannot live in ignorance on a local level any more than we can on the national or international level.

In advertising there is service, too.

Advertising as it is carried in your local newspaper is not out to sell you a bill of goods. It has a vital selling job to do, yes. But that job is to enable your merchants and business people to make known the merchandise or services they have to offer, here at home. Advertising is a service to the buyer and the seller.

This year's National Newspaper Week theme is "Your Newspaper—Guards Your Freedoms!" Besides telling its own story to the reader, your newspaper would remind you how important and wonderful it is to live in a land with a free press . . . a land that the free press has helped make great.

Safe Teen-Age Driving, Like the Proverbial Charity, Begins at Home

An Oklahoma State Highway Trooper put his finger on the problem of teen-age wild driving recently at a Mangum Rotary Club meeting; his answer is worth passing on:

"With their drivers training programs, schools can help a lot. But many boys already have warped ideas about their responsibilities as drivers because they have watched their fathers break the speed limit and run stop signs." Trooper Don Wickoff said.

"First, let's set a good example to youth with our own driving habits.

"It is bad practice to teach a 13-year-old boy to drive a car because he won't be satisfied until he takes the wheel even though he's too young to have a driver's license. Parents would never think of teaching their children to take another's property but they do let them drive when it's against the law," the trooper continued.

In Texas, a highway patrolman or county law enforcement officer can give a driver under 16 a ticket, but he can also file a charge on the parents or the owner of the car the youngster is driving for permitting an underage person to operate a motor vehicle. The minimum fine, with costs and mileage, is $20.70.

But better than any fine, minimum or otherwise, is the example for safe, sensible driving which parents can set by their own driving.

The swift depreciation of the franc has been partly responsible for French political unrest, in the view of the president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and should be a warning to this country. The franc of today is worth only 1/84th of its 1918 value. If the same fate should befall the dollar, a $100 suit of clothes would sell for $8,400; a $100 social security check would buy two pounds of hamburger, and $100,000 in life insurance would provide board and room for a widow for about a year.—Ouray (Colo.) CROSSROADS REPORT

County Exceeds 1958 Savings Bond Goal

"Savings Bonds sales for the first eight months of 1958 totaled $136,389", John Forbis, chairman of Collingsworth County's bond committee reported today. "Our county has now reached 104% of its 1958 goal of $130,000. August sales were $17,921."

Texas sales through August 1958 were $118,503,413 which was 5% greater than the same period in 1957.

The last three days of March are called "borrowing days" in Scotland.

Dear Editor:

The U. S. Constitution and the Bible are very prominent in the news these days as guides to our political and religious lives.

Trouble is, nobody seems willing to let either document speak for itself. We hire judges and preachers to tell us what the writers of same would have said if they had been as smart as the interpreters.

My calloused neighbor says if we only had as many Supreme Courts as we have Churches, a man could also pick out an interpretation of the Constitution to match how he wants to live.

Editorial cartoon in a newspaper a while back pictured Federal bureaucrats as similar to hogs, and this is considered by some around here as a base insult to hogger.

My hog-herder neighbor claims there is practically no resemblance between these two species of critter, on account of the hog is a useful animal which earns his keep.

Says further that once a bureaucrat sets, he is like rheumatism—no reliable way to get rid of him. But if you get tired of a hog you can eat him.

City neighbor says the kids in his town are getting so fast on their feet that the traffic department has been able to raise school zone speed limits to 20 miles an hour.

He figures that if mankind keeps on evolving, in two or three more generations our children will come so agile that only the most dedicated driver can ever hit one of them.

Says likely we can then raise the speed limit around school-grounds to 30 or 40 m.p.h. without losing more than an expendable minimum of offspring to the high cause of hurry.

I see where rumor has it that the new 1959 cars will be somewhat dechromed, and there is even hope that some of them will look more like cars than high-tailed pinball machines.

Reports are they will also be wider and lower, but it will likely be 1960 or 1961 before we will have to ride horizontal and get into them like loading a shotgun.

My potted neighbor says any further lowering of cars is going to generate problems for some of us citizens who are taller lying down than sitting up.

I see where Vice President Nixon is a very prominent member of the NAACP, but sends his own kids to an all-white school, and some non-reverent individuals are saying this borders on insincerity.

My domesticated neighbor says it is not fair to Mr. Nixon to criticize him for failing to practice what he preaches in this case.

After all, this is a matter in which his own children are involved, and he likely forgot to ask his wife about it before he went on record.

I note that all of the fuss raised on the subject has apparently forced the Pentagon to abandon the project making plans on how to surrender gracefully.

Which I guess means that hereafter any surrendering we find it necessary to do will have to be done free style or catch as catch can.

My formerly independent neighbor says, though, it won't be a completely amateurish performance, on account of us rank and file have already had considerable experience surrendering to Washington.

Badgers hibernate during the winter.

I Saw . . . by Virginia Robey

Deputy Sheriff Kenneth Hodge with the radio aerial knocked off his car . . . Coming back from Childress he ran over a Turkey buzzard. He estimates its wingspread at least four feet, for when it hit the windshield, it completely covered it. Childress officials had brought over a handcuffed prisoner, without the keys to unlock him, and none Sheriff John Rainey had would do the job. Kenneth's errand was to get the right key.

Wendell Morgan hunting Judge Luther Gribble to explain why he couldn't report for Grand Jury Duty last Monday. He doesn't live here any more . . . teaches at Community Center, Childress county.

County Agent Bob Lynch saying there weren't any more rats than usual this time of year, it just seems that way because they migrate from the fields to town, hunting winter quarters. The biggest one I've seen migrated too far into the territory of the blue-eyed blonde cat, Puddin, that is this column's next-door neighbor. There is now no rat.

Bob Watson, down with Dorothy and their baby, saying he'd changed from the Perryton police department to deputy sheriff of Ochiltree county. "I'm glad to be off traffic duty. Nothing makes people madder than a $3.00 traffic ticket, and the thing is, they stay mad," he remarked. They are selling their house, next door to his mother, Mrs. Vesta Watson, to Mrs. J. M. Homer.

The mother of two well-behaved Wellington children—a woman who does a great deal of youth work—explains it like this: "I just don't hold with this modern theory that you mustn't discipline children, it might warp their personalities. I just go right ahead and warp their little personalities, and if that doesn't work, I warp somewhere else."

The Leader's Alta Wheeler took small daughter Laurie Lynn to church the other night, and a strange woman inquired, "Whose baby do you have?" "Mine," Alta replied. The embarrassed visitor finally stammered out that she had thought Alta was just a little girl, herself.

Good to see: Becky Wells again at work in Wells & Wells; Mary Miles Kern doing part time work in the office of St. Joseph's Hospital.

In a non-political moment of the Democratic State convention, part of the men from this county had the last evening with time on their hands and went to the show. It turned out to be "Cat on the Hot Tin Roof," and up to that point, none of the group had paid any attention to the furor over either the play or the picture. As things developed, one of the group remarked: "My, pictures have changed since I used to go. This isn't at all like Wyatt Earp."

Brilliant Design

'59 Oldsmobile Offers Total Redesigning

Full details of the totally new 1959 Oldsmobile with brilliant, distinctive exterior and interior styling and two new family-sized body styles, were announced today by Jack F. Wolfram, general manager of Oldsmobile and a vice president of General Motors.

Wolfram stated that the 1959 Oldsmobile will feature increased passenger and luggage space, two completely new and more efficient Rocket engines, more responsive power steering, new Air-Scoop brakes on all four wheels and a host of other engineering and accessory advancements.

"Oldsmobile for 1959 represents the most outstanding product in Oldsmobile's history in styling, quality and value", Wolfram stated. "And our two new Holiday hardtops introduce an entirely different trend in passenger car design", he added.

The Holiday Sport Sedan is a sporty four-door family-size car. The two-door Holiday ScenicCoupe has an entirely new silhouette, a snappy appearance and exceptional visibility in all directions. The two new styles will be available throughout the Oldsmobile line.

An extra large, heat-resistant rear window on the Holiday ScenicCoupe curves high into the roofline to give unparalleled visibility. Rear window glass area on this model measures a big 1792.5 square inches. On the Holiday

SportSedan the rear wraps around beneath the extended rear edge of the roof.

Total glass area in all models has been increased up to 36 per cent to give increased visibility in all directions. The new "Vista-Panoramic" windshield has up to 570 square inches more glass area and contours deep into the roofline offering an unhindered view of overhanging traffic signals. Electric windshield wipers, with a wider cleaning area, are standard equipment.

For 1959 Oldsmobile is offering 15 body styles in its Dynamic "88", Super "88" and "98" series. In each series are the Holiday ScenicCoupe and Holiday SportSedan, a four-door sedan and a convertible. In the Dynamic "88" series, in addition, there is a two-door sedan and a Fiesta station wagon. The Fiesta is also built in the Super "88" series.

All models are marked by their thin rooflines, with increased passenger compartment roominess and comfort. Shoulder room has been increased over four inches and yet the overall width of the car was increased less than an inch. Rear seat passengers have over an inch more leg room in the Dynamic "88" and Super "88" series. Trunk space has been increased up to 64 per cent. In the "98", a new larger body, distinctively Oldsmobile, gives rear seat passengers 4 inches more leg room.

The trim, tasteful beauty of Oldsmobile's new "Linear Look" for 1959 is apparent at first glance from the completely redesigned body and wide-spaced four-beam headlamps set within a full-width grille of anodized aluminum.

Scouts Deliver Civil Defense Handbook Oct. 11

Some 5,500 Scouts and Explorers of the Adobe Walls Council will mobilize on October 11 for their biggest Good Turn of 1958—delivery of the new Federal Civil Defense "Handbook for Emergencies" to every home in this area. High light of the Boy Scouts of America National Safety Good Turn, the handbook delivery is being duplicated in every town and city across America.

Starting at 9:00 a.m. on "Delivery Day," Scouts from 220 local units will carry safety messages and the CD booklets to homes in assigned territories. Distribution centers for each area of the county are being set up in every town and city across America. The handbook is a guide to help families prepare for natural and man-made disaster. It emphasizes five steps to safety, covering such topics as home shelters, flood and hurricane preparation, first aid, warning signals, Conelrad instructions, fallout protection, and community emergency planning.

For maximum protection, the rectangular patterned grille is deeply recessed under the hood and well behind the leading edge of the bumper. Oldsmobile identification appears in bold block letters across the center of the grille. The new, circular parking lamps are located between each pair of headlamps which provide better lighting from their new wide-apart spacing and closer-to-the-road location.

del and details for delivery of the handbook were set up and organized by a committee of volunteers with Rufe Jordan acting as chairman.

A Guiding Light on Local Affairs...

Upon the occasion of National Newspaper Week, we pause to take note of the many services rendered to the people of this area by the local newspaper.

It is service not duplicated by any other institution. It keeps us informed of the activities of our local governing bodies, the progress and problems of our schools, the endeavors of our churches, developments in agriculture and hundreds of other events. It regularly provides information that is vital in performing our duties and planning our lives.

Just as the guiding beacon of the lighthouse has helped generations of mariners avoid the hazards of the sea, so our newspaper helps us chart our course and reach our goal.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Jones Establish Home in Lubbock after Midland Rites

Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Jones are at home in Lubbock, following their August 23 wedding, and their return from a wedding trip to Kerrville and Monterey, Mexico.

Mrs. Jones is the former Miss Sharon Fink, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harvey Fink, 2304 North Main Street, Midland. The bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles B. Jones of Wellington.

The couple was married in St. Ann's Catholic, Midland, at nine o'clock in the morning, with the Rev. T. J. Kennedy officiating.

Decorating the main altar were arrangements of white gladioli and white asters, while similar arrangements accented with gypsophelia were placed on the side altars. Lighted candles in candelabra completed the altar decorations.

Wedding music was presented by Mrs. Ben Dansby, organist, and Mrs. A. C. Casbeer of Victoria, soloist.

Mr. Fink gave his daughter in marriage.

Her bridal gown of diamond white silk chiffon and Chantilly lace was designed with a deep yoke embroidered with miniature seed pearls and iridescent paillet-

tes. The princess-style skirt flared to the aisle, and her elbow veil of French illusion flowed from a heart-shaped tiara of Chantilly lace embroidered with seed pearls.

She carried a prayer book topped with a bouquet of white carnations accented with stephanotis and centered with a white cattleya orchid. It was completed with nylon tufts, seed pearls and a white picot satin ribbon shower in which love knots and setphanotis blossoms were tied.

Mrs. Gilbert Gilles of Midland, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor, and the bridesmaid was Miss Lucille Smith. The junior bridesmaid was Mary Helen Langford of Fort Worth, niece of the bridegroom. They wore identical princess style dresses of white, each fashioned with a jacket of white Chantilly lace with elbow length sleeves. They carried hand bouquets of peppermint carnations, accented with nylon tufts and flowing red satin ribbon shower streamers.

Charles B. Jones, III of Lubbock was his brother's best man. Groomsman were Dr. John Jones of Houston, another brother and Gilbert Gilles of Midland, a brother-in-law. Charles Harvey Fink Jr., was junior groomsman.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Fink chose an empire dress of royal blue lace with matching accessories. Mrs. Jones wore a green dress, with accessories of the same color. Each had a corsage of white carnations.

Reception

The reception was held in the Eik's Club. Forming the receiving line were the bride and groom, their parents and the attendants.

The reception table was centered with a floral arrangement of peppermint carnations, flanked by the bride's tiered wedding cake and a punch bowl. A line arrangement of peppermint carnations was placed on the table which held the bride's book.

As the couple left on their wedding trip, the bride wore a brown and forest red tailored suit, accented with natural suede accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid.

The bride was graduated from Midland High School and attended Texas Technological College, where she was a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority and the Newman Club.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Wellington high school, is a senior architectural engineering student at Texas Tech. His social fraternity is Sigma Nu and he also is a member of the Newman Club.

The couple is at home at 2513 Sixty-third Street, Lubbock.

Vehicle Safety Inspection for 1959 Under Way

On September 1, 1958, Texans began having their vehicles safety inspected for the 1959 inspection period. Captain Alan Johnson, of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Service, Texas Department of Public Safety, reminded motorists that there are over 4 million vehicles registered in Texas, and 2,938 vehicles registered in this county which must be inspected, approved and bear the new inspection sticker prior to midnight, April 15, 1959.

Passenger cars are inspected for brakes, lights, reflectors, horn and windshield; while commercial vehicles are inspected for the above plus additional items as required by law. Due to the fact that in 1957, 5 out of every accident were caused by a mechanical defect, motor vehicle owners are urged to have their vehicles inspected as soon as possible, to be sure their vehicles are as safe as possible. There are 5 inspection stations in this county at which owners can get their vehicles inspected now, without having to wait in line as thousands of motorists did as the deadline neared at the close of the last inspection period. Motorists arrested for not displaying a current inspection sticker on their motor vehicle are subject to a fine up to $200.00 and cost of court.

Trees for Stock Is Beneficial

Farmers and ranchers of the Plains of Texas are finding a livestock shelter of trees near their windmills, feed lots, and such are beneficial during the winter months for livestock.

These farmers and ranchers plant an acre or so of evergreen trees and fence them off to prevent cattle from stomping them out. Woodrow Wilson of Lillie uses his shelterbelt for about the same purpose. He puts his feed troughs on the south side of the belt during the winter feeding period.

Co-operators of Salt Fork SCD are invited to contact the SCS technicians for assistance on this matter.

Dimmitt, Tex., Man Reports—

"Ammonia makes a big difference in my wheat"

Frank S. Wise, who farms 960 acres near Dimmitt, says: "I know from experience that Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia makes a big difference in my wheat yields. I figure I'm getting an average of 20 bushels more to the acre by putting down 80 to 100 pounds of Phillips ammonia pre-plant."

Other successful Southwestern farmers use Phillips 66 ammonia to give them higher grain yields... and more profitable grazing. The 82% nitrogen in Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia gives young wheat a fast start, supplies plenty of lush, protein-rich forage that puts on more beef at less cost per pound.

Many of these farmers plow down Phillips 66 ammonia in the fall on maize land. They know that 82% nitrogen helps decompose crop residue, to provide extra plant food and make the soil more productive. Remember, Phillips 66 ammonia gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of fertilizer—a full 82%.

Modern Gas Ranges Offer Many Features

Modern gas ranges, fully automatic in cooking operations, also offer a variety of special features—some 67 in all—for the convenience, comfort and efficiency of the homemaker.

Economy of operation is another factor that makes a gas range today's best buy. With the cost of living—especially food prices—at an all-time high, gas range manufacturers this year have concentrated their attention on helping the homemaker make the most of the meat she buys.

New ranges offer a variety of automatic controls for top burners, rotisseries and ovens—intended to insure the housewife against excessive meat shrinkage and overcooking. Controls take the guesswork out of cooking—maintaining exact temperatures and indicating when meat has reached the desired degree of "Doneness."

Ranges in 1958—many designed with the new square look and giving a built-in appearance—have such features as top-of-the-range rotisseries, vertical broilers, push-button controls and even remote controls that permit the homemaker to turn the range on or off from the bedroom, backyard or anywhere around the house.

One new range includes what the manufacturer calls a rotisseries with a meat thermometer. The rotisserie converts to a vertical broiler and also may be changed readily into an automatically controlled griddle. The same manufacturer is offering a 30-inch range with a rotisserie located so that an entire meal can be cooked in the oven while the rotisserie is in operation.

Another manufacturer features a 20-inch oven in a 36-inch range, a second oven with built-in rotisserie, a griddle in the middle of the range top and an automatic top burner heat control.

Pushbutton controls placed on the back splash of the range are a feature of another range which also offers a remote control that permits the homemaker to turn her range on or off whether she is in the living room, in the garage, or relaxing on the lawn. The electronic device has no wires, no connection whatever.

Another manufacturer is offering a line of 30-inch and 36-inch

"square look" completely automatic ranges with top-burner-heat control. The matchless oven in the 36-inch range is a 20-inch size, while the 30-inch range has a 26-inch oven.

The "flip-top" idea is featured on a 20-inch range. It permits the entire top to be raised for servicing or cleaning. The same manufacturer is offering in a 36-inch range a barbecue pit rotisserie which converts to a high broiler and a sizzle-griddle which converts for frying. On some models, the automatically controlled griddle is convertible to a fifth burner.

A newly styled line designed as "classic modern" by the manufacturer features ranges in straight simple lines with midnight grey and silver satin trim. The 36-inch range in the line features a high broiler and meat oven. The ranges feature a swing-out broiler or a broiler that slides out when the broiler door is opened.

An eye-level periscope on the back splash of the range to permit easy viewing of what's cooking in the oven is featured by a West Coast gas range manufacturer. This same manufacturer offers a one piece lift-top, a triple rotisserie, a transparent space-saver shelf and a new type of super speed burner.

A combination range and heater with a giant 40,000 Btu burner in the heater section is the 1958 offering of a Midwest manufacturer. An added feature in a rotisserie operation is an automatic self-baster, a device that dips into the pan below, picks up the sauce or juice and pours it over the meat. This manufacturer also offers a kebab attachment which has six small skewers for individual shish-kebab servings. The line includes completely automatic ranges with built-in griddles, built-in meat probes and waist-high broilers.

Innovations are being shown in built-in gas appliances. One range manufacturer is showing a "drop-in" top that requires no front cut-out in the kitchen cabinet since the controls are on the top surface of the unit. The drop-in top in only three inches deep and will fit above the drawer space in most base cabinets.

Colored ranges—pink, green turquoise and yellow, in addition to white—are featured in a line which stresses easy cleaning. The broiler and oven may be lifted out for washing in the sink. This manufacturer offers optional equipment, oven windows, top burner temperature control, varieties of finishes, and in short, "permits customers to custom-tailor ranges to their own specifications."

The automatically controlled middle griddle on both 30-inch and 36-inch models featured in another range line has a three-in-one high broiler barbecue adjacent to the oven where it serves as a special meat oven. It is equipped with a rotisserie spit for roasting and a broiler pan. The same manufacturer offers built-in oven, broiler and top burner units in coppertone and brushed chrome.

An automatic meat thermometer which turns off the oven when the meat is cooked to the desired degree and an adjustable broiler which guarantees smokeless broiling are featured in the line of free-standing and built-in models which are available in a variety of colors including black and white, pastel yellow, green, pink and coppertone.

A top of the range rotisserie unit that fits into the manufacturer's "Sizzle 'N Simmer" burner is a highlight in a line of gas ranges which includes such features as automatic top burner heat controls, automatic roast controls, lift-off oven doors, chrome-lined ovens and giant oven windows.

A free-standing cabinet type oven-broiler unit, offering the same ease of location and installation as the conventional type range, provides a built-in appearance without requiring special cabinet construction. Units are available in satin chrome or coppertone porcelain with counter-top burner units to match. Free-standing ranges in this line offer an automatically controlled fifth burner that can be converted easily into a griddle.

A complete all-in-one cooking center equipped with two top burner heat controls, ventilating fan, frosted fluorescent lighting, an expandable baking oven with removable side racks and a barbecue broiling oven with a motorized rotisserie is offered by a West Coast gas range manufacturer.

Don't Use Butane in Tractor Tires

W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer, says you are taking your life in your hands when you use butane or other LP gases to inflate tractor tires or to operate paint guns. These gases, he says, have the explosive power of 100 octane gasoline and if an open flame should come in contact while tires are being inflated or with fumes from a paint gun, there would be an immediate explosion. He gives one instance where a mechanic in West Texas was killed while attempting to change a tractor tire, which, unknown to him, was filled with butane.

The reason for this practice of using butane to inflate tractor tires apparently is that butane is the only gaseous material under pressure on the farm. But, as

The year of 1958 has seen a great change in the Collingsworth County Library. This change began when the Library Club of Wellington High School asked permission to help catalogue the books in the County Library. This was done under the supervision of Mrs. John Justice, the Librarian at the High School.

I have just completed my first year as your County Librarian and I wish to thank the Commissioners Court for enlarging and redecorating the Library. Also Mrs. Justice and the Library Club for the many hours they helped in the work of Cataloguing the books. I especially want to thank all who have made donations to the Library and those who have given of their time and have helped so faithfully in this work. I wish to mention a large Globe mounted on a stand that has recently been given by Rev. and Mrs. Michael. This Globe was greatly needed. As a result of this work I will be able to give you better service in the Library.

Universal Gas Range Designed for Convenience

There is a Universal gas range for today's kitchen, large or small. And, the all-new Universal gas range gives the homemaker an exclusive combination of better cooking and better living features.

Top-of-the-line Universal gas ranges carry an automatic top-burner control, Barba Broil Rotisserie, the Miracle Roastmaster that tells the homemaker the doneness of the roast or fowl in the oven, a Comfort-Touch oven door, and simmer and keep-warm burners. Universal gas ranges are equipped with automatic oven controls, extra burners, and giant ovens.

Considered as one of the most important developments in Universal's history, the automatic top-burner control brings about a new era of accurate top-of-the-range cooking. Just dial the temperature and automatically the heat remains constant throughout the cooking process.

The Universal gas range

line is truly "tailored to fit." One model has six top burners and double oven-broiler units ideal for large families and loads of guest cooking. Universal gas ranges come in 40-, 36-, 30-, and 21-inch widths. The 21-inch apartment size is ideal for small quarters, yet comes with a big 17-inch oven and broiler built to operate as efficiently as the larger Universal gas ranges. The easy-to-clean whirlpool broiler pan, designed to catch grease and prevent grease fires, is a feature of all Universal gas units. These in-a-drawer broilers glide out easily and many models are waist high for the homemaker's convenience. A built-in cast aluminum griddle is featured on one Universal gas range model. The griddle is neatly concealed when not in use and it may be removed to make a giant burner available.

OPTOMETRY: The Art and Science of Visual Care

The odds ARE against her

Through 12 years of public schooling, your child must read and understand an average of 432 books. With such great demands on her reading vision, the odds are against her completing these years without developing a visual problem.

She begins life very farsighted, seeing only form and motion. By the time she starts to school, it is assumed her focusing and eye coordination are developed and equal to the task. If they aren't, then seeing problems can develop.

Professional optometry can determine if she is "visually ready" to start to school. EYESIGHT IS NO GAMBLING MATTER.

Crackers Lose Opener Friday

The Wellington Junior High Firecrackers lost their first game Thursday night, September 25, 37-6 to Shamrock Junior High team, Coach Harvey Millsap reported. The Firecrackers had two games called off this season while Shamrock had played two.

Craig Bervael ran twenty yards for the only touchdown on a hand off from Lynn McLain, quarterback.

McLain later received a neck injury and didn't finish the game. He may be back in later games, Millsap said.

"They did very well for their first game as they were unexperienced," Millsap reported. "All 27 boys played in the Thursday night game."

Millsap is trying to give the boys experience by playing everyone on the squad. He pointed out the boys would like to win, and if they can win and play all the team that is wonderful, but if they couldn't, they would play all the team anyway. They will enter high school with experience.

Patrolmen in four services of the Texas Department of Public Safety are among the best trained lawmen in the state.

Lefors Pirates Down Skyrockets 38-0

BL ALTA AND DON WHEELER

The small but courageous Rockets lost Friday night, September 26, to the Lefors Pirates at Lefors before a homecoming crowd. Though the weather held promise of rain it cleared up an hour before the game to present excellent football weather.

The score, 38-0, indicated a dull game but there was never a dull moment as the Rockets made Lefors work hard for their scores.

The Wellington team did some very good blocking and tackling and there wasn't any of the usual slacking even when defeat seemed certain.

The Rockets were hampered by injuries before the game and during the game. One or two Rockets were hurt and could have left the game but chose to remain as their fighting spirit was greater than their pain.

The Lefors Pirates, coached by H. W. Callan and Ed Lehnick, have a perfect record of wins, while the Rockets have three losses and one win. Some observers think Wellington will do all right when their conference games start if the Rockets steadily improve with each game as they have been doing and if there are no further injuries and the ones they have now improve.

Lefors started their scoring in the middle of the first quarter with Tommy Johnson, quarterback making the tally and conversion. Johnson intercepted a pass in the 2nd quarter thrown by Bruce Crosby, quarterback, and ran 36 yards for the touchdown. Junior Taylor, 153 fullback, ran the pigskin over an extra 2 points.

Tex Nolan, fullback, made two touchdowns in the third quarter while Johnson ran the ball over for the conversion once and the other try was no good. Nolan made the last touchdown for Lefors in the fourth quarter. David Smith, halfback, was good for the conversion.

Wellington got close to the goal line but was held each time. They had quite a few bad breaks and were penalized at the most crucial points. All in all it was a heated battle with fans from both sides cheering their teams on.

First Quarter
Charles Dickerson, 150 end, kicked and Bruce Crosby received making a 15 yard run and was stopped on the Rocket 35 yard line. Kent Peeples carried the ball on a hand off from Crosby and gained a 1st down. Carroll Nunnelley who had a knee injury later in the game, carried the pigskin 11 yards in the next play making two first downs for the Rockets in the first few moments of the game.

Wellington fumbled on the next play and Lefors recovered but to no avail as the Pirates had six yards to go on their fourth play, punted and Nunnelley received on the Rockets 10. Due to the alertness of Nunnelley and Cager Wilkins, tackle, the Pirates had gained only four yards in those four plays.

Wellington	Lefors

The Rockets couldn't match their beginning plays of the game and on their fourth play with nine yards to go, Nunnelley punted. The kick was a high one and Lefors advanced to catch it. One of their men touched the ball but was unable to cover it and the Rockets recovered, gaining 15 yards.

John Duncan carried the ball but made only one yard as he was smothered by four of five Pirates. On the next play Crosby fumbled and Calvin Stracener, 187 pound tackle from Lefors, covered the ball. Junior Taylor of Lefors made 9 yards on the first play and 12 or 13 on the next, making a first and goal to go.

Johnson plowed through for a touchdown and also ran the ball over for the conversion.

Dickerson kicked and Duncan received. The Rockets could make no headway and decided to punt on the fourth play. The punt by Nunnelley went out of bounds on the Lefors 45. Lefors immediately chalked up two first downs but were having trouble making the third. They attempted a pass on their third play. It was broken up by Kent Peeples. A rollout pass to David Smith was good on the fourth play for 15 yards. Through the hard hitting tackle of Lonnie Roark, Lefors was set back 2 yards making it the second play and 12 yards to go. Lefors had only 17 yards to go for a touchdown when they fumbled and the Rockets recovered.

Peeples carried the ball 5 yards on the first play, Duncan none on the second play when the second quarter began.

Second Quarter
A pass to Roark was good for 4 yards making it the fourth play and 1 yard to go. Carroll Nunnelley carried the ball, making good yardage and a first. He also made 5 yards on the next play but a pass from Crosby on the second play was intercepted by Johnson and he darted 36 yards for a touchdown. Taylor was good for the conversion making the score 16-0.

Nunnelley received for the Rockets and was hit on the Rocket 35 yard line. His knee was injured and he was taken out of the game. Ronnie O' Rear was good for a first down. The Rockets weren't so successful on the next plays and decided to punt on the fourth. Lefors received on the Lefors 20 and made a first down. The next series of plays proved unsuccessful, they punted and Kent Peeples received on the Rocket 29. Duncan and O'Rear gained 2 and 1 yards, respectively; Gibbs punted on the fourth play and Lefors carried it to their 35. Lefors plunged over and over a few yards at a time for two first downs.

Robert Carter was hurt during this time but remained in the game.

Lefors made a first down before the half and tried to make another by passing in three plays. Their attempts were broken up by the alert Rockets. On the fourth play the Lefors completed a pass just as the whistle signaled the halftime.

Third Quarter
David Smith, Pirate, halfback, received Wellington's kick on the Lefors 20 and carried it 10 yards. He was tackled by Crosby, Roark, and Elbert. Ronnie O'Rear was hurt in that play. Lefors started a scoring drive that terminated with Tex Nolan, quarterback, carrying the ball 23 yards for a touchdown. Johnson ran the ball over for the conversion, making the score 24-0.

After an incomplete pass from Peeples intended for Gibbs, the Rockets decided to punt on the fourth play. Lefors took the ball but the good defensive playing of the Rockets again held them and prevented a first down. Granvel Killian received Lefors punt and carried the ball four yards before being tackled. The ball went back and forth between the Rockets and Lefors with only one first down made and that by Wellington, before the end of the quarter.

Fourth Quarter

Scouts Honor "Elusive Elmer" in Fall Drive

Each Cub Scout, Boy Scout and Scout Leader of the Adobe Walls Council, and especially the Comanche District, are looking for a character known as "Elusive Elmer". "Elusive Elmer" has been pictured as a firey eyed steer wearing a broken down Cowboy hat. In reality he is a boy between the ages of eight through sixteen who is not yet, but would like to be, a Cub Scout or Explorer.

The 5,800th boy who joins a Scout unit in the Adobe Walls Council between September 1 and December 15 will be given the distinction, and honored, as "Elusive Elmer". He will be presented with a complete Scout Uniform and will be the guest of honor at the next regular meeting of the council executive board.

As further attractions to the fall membership roundup, each boy who recruits another boy will receive the roundup patch which he wears on his uniform. Each Cub Pack, Scout Troop and Explorer Post is also working towards awards for the units. Each unit that recruits as many as five new boys receives the large unit roundup award. Each unit that is able to recruits 20% of its September 1 membership receives a large 20%er award.

final touchdown for Lefors. David Smith ran the ball around for two points. Wellington made a 1st down before the end of the game. The fore the end of the game. The final score was 38 for Lefors; 0 for Wellington.

We aren't going to mention any of the boys as outstanding football players as each and every one that played could easily be classified so.

NEW EQUIPMENT

To Serve You Better

We have recently installed the latest model MOSS LINT CLEANER.

This machine removes additional pin trash, blends spots, and along with our other 36 cylinders of cleaning equipment will give you a better sample, which is most important this year due to the big differential in loan value of white grades and lower grades of cotton.

As usual, an experienced gin crew will be here to serve you, with Jack Brewer as manager, Don Jones as bookkeeper and Andy Potteet as gin-ner. Careful ginning and courteous service await you at all times.

We will be glad to help you get your cotton in the loan. We always pay top prices for cotton and cottonseed. We have housing for cotton pullers and will do all we can to help you secure pullers at all times.

For greater PROFIT, make your plans now to gin your cotton at the Tindall Gin No. 1. Gin No. 2 will not operate this year because of the short crop.

Illustration of "choice plan" for 1959 and 1960 on two farms, each having a 100-acre allotment in 1958 and a yield of 250 pounds per acre.

Assumption

Parity 39 cents per pound in 1959 and 39.50 cents per pound in 1960. 375 points difference between Middling 1/8" and Middling 1". 16,000,000 acre minimum national allotment would represent a decrease of 8 per cent in acreage for choice "A". The 40 per cent increase in acreage for choice "B" would calculate from the 16,000,000 national allotment base and would amount to a 28 per cent net increase in acreage above the 1958 allotment.

1959

Parity: 39 cents per pound.
Support of "A" at 80 per cent of parity: 34.95 cents per pound for Middling 1".
Support for "B" at 65 per cent of parity: 29.10 cents per pound for Middling 1".
Resale at 110 per cent of "B": 32.01 cents per pound for Middling 1".

Parity: 39.50 cents per pound.

More Information Needed for Many Drivers Licenses

The Texas Department of Public Safety reported today that it is returning applications and fees for renewal of Texas Driver Licenses at the rate of one-thousand per week because of information insufficient to identify the applicant.

The wholesale return of DL applications is brought on by the omission of a number of factors that must be included for the proper identification of the person desiring to renew his driver license. The department reported that it must have the full name of the individual, the person's birth date and current address. The number of the old license is a quick means of identification.

Most of the information needed is already included on the renewal notice that is sent by the department to the motorist prior to the expiration of his license. A space is provided for the license owner to change his address.

H. C. Smith, manager of the DPS License Issuance and Driver Record section reports that most of the difficulty comes when a person applies for renewal without returning a renewal notice. In this type of renewal application the individual simply writes a letter and includes the fee.

Insufficient information in renewal applications received by the Texas DPS sets up a chain reaction of processes for identification of the individual asking for a new license. But in many instances the search is hopeless.

When a man gives the name of A. B. Smith in his renewal application, file clerks of the Driver License service of the state police organization set to work in an attempt to identify the individual by birth date, address, or other information contained in his permanent file. However, if all identifying information does not correspond, the application must be returned to the individual.

You can imagine the task that awaits a DL clerk who must search through a file that contains more than five-million individual records, and more specifically, to look for the name of A. B. Smith in 35 trays with each containing 700 personal record files. There are 36,400 files in the department's massive record system bearing the name of Smith.

In order that it may improve its service of renewing licenses with a minimum delay to motorists, the Texas Department of Public Safety asks that you give complete information.

A woman give her date of birth, all given names, and her surname. If she is married, she should also give her maiden surname and previous married names.

A man should give his date of birth, first name, middle name and surname.

If you have changed addresses, clearly indicate the proper address. And it always helps to list the number of your old license. That number belongs to you and

NFLA Loans Total Million

According to Rayburn L. Smith, Secretary-Treasurer of the National Farm Loan Association, the Federal Land Bank has adjusted its loan values upward and is now in position to lend more on most properties. This added loan value is important to persons buying land and to those who use long term credit on their farms and ranches.

The National Farm Loan Association of Wellington now has 250 loans outstanding for $1,000,000 approximately in Collingsworth County, Smith said.

The officers and Directors of this farmer owned corporation are:

John R. Henard, J., president; J. C. Emmert, vice president; Woodrow Wood, director; P. C. Cummings, director; and Tom R. Cunningham, director.

Texas driver licenses are issued for a two year period and expire on the date given on the face of the license. The fee for an operator's license is $2.00, a commercial operator $3.00 and a chauffeur's 4.00.

The Texas DPS asks that you check the expiration date of your current license and renew it in time—before you discover you are driving without a valid license. And in making application for renewal, include complete information. Correct, complete information on your renewal will result in a more rapid return of your new Texas driver license.

Federal Service Exams Slated

Applications for the first written test under this year's Federal Service Entrance Examination may be filed beginning today and through October 30, the Civil Service Commission announced today.

The test is scheduled for November 15 and will be given at more than 1,000 examination points scattered throughout the United States.

The Federal Service Entrance Examination, established in 1955, is aimed at recruiting talented college-caliber persons for careers in the Federal Civil Service. It is open to college graduates and to persons who have had equivalent experience. College seniors and juniors may also file; however, their appointment is predicated upon completion of their college work or a combination of college education and experience.

Positions to be filled through the FSEE are in a wide variety of occupational fields ranging from general administration through library science. The jobs are located in Washington, D. C., and throughout the United States. Starting salaries for these entrance level positions are $4,404 per year for GS-5, and $4,980 for GS-7. A few management intership positions filled through the examination will pay $5,985 per year for GS9.

Five other written tests are scheduled under this year's examination. Dates are January 10, February 14, March 14, April 11, and May 9, 1959. For future information potential applicants may obtain Examination Announcement 170 from most post offices or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

Tetraploid Rye Heavy Producer

Guy Bumpas, co-operator of Salt Fork SCD, reports good results with tetraploid rye, a new variety introduced here.

"My cattle like it as well or better than wheat, and it has made good hog feed, too," he says. "It produces more grazing than our common rye. It is also outstanding as a soil conditioner."

Bumpas considers its outstanding quality this soil conditioning ability. After grazing his tetraploid rye all winter in 1957-58, it still produced 30 bushels of rye per acre. He sold all the seed he had for same to his neighbors at $6.00 per hundred.

SCS Studies Grass Production

Technicians of the Soil Conservation Service, assisting the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District, recently made studies of the amount of forage produced on some of the range sites found in this district.

They found that the gyp hills produced 1500 pounds of grass and 400 pounds of weeds per acre; gyp breaks produced 1600 pounds of grass and 500 pounds of weeds. However mixed land sites produced 2,500 pounds of grass and only 250 pounds of grass and 1500 pounds of weeds per acre.

together with the bridge across Salt Fork, at the same time we get the six miles south of Quail, since the entire 12 miles would be built in one contract, saving thousands of dollars of highway money," Judge Templeton reported.

The Highway Commission had before them the figures as to how much it would cost to build these six miles and this bridge. The six miles of paving would cost $84,000.00 and the bridge would cost $176,000.

The Highway Commission complimented the delegation on their coming to the Highway Commission requesting the connecting of farm to market roads, stating that they liked to connect up all loose-ened paving projects.

Mark Twain's Story OF THE READING SPIDER

During Mark Twain's days as a newspaperman, he was editor of a small Missouri newspaper. One day he got a letter from a subscriber, stating that he had found a spider in his newspaper and asked if this was an omen of good luck or bad luck.

Twain wrote: "Finding a spider in your newspaper is neither good luck nor bad. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant was not advertising so that he could go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."

You will find no spider webs across the doors of the merchants who advertise in your local newspaper.

Your Newspaper Serves — In National Newspaper Week and Every Week

This is National Newspaper Week, and we would take note of only one of the many facets a newspaper offers its readers. That facet is service rendered the people of the Wellington area . . . service each newspaper renders in every community.

We have many fine service organizations, yet the weekly newspaper offers a service not duplicated by any other institution.

Information is its basic ingredient, both in the news stories and in the advertising columns.

No other institution can keep the people so continuously informed of the activities of the local governing bodies, the work of the schools. Their achievements are recorded and their problems are aired.

A man, no matter how much he wishes to be an enlightened, intelligent citizen, cannot attend each meeting of the city council, each school board meeting and each commissioners court session. But his newspaper tells him what happens in these meetings.

Your newspaper sets out the work of the churches. It is easy to know of the work of your own church, but it is the newspaper that helps you see the picture of the religious life of the community as a whole.

Agriculture is our way of life—our way of making a living. Few papers devote so much of its news space to farmers and their activities. As the revolution in agriculture goes forward, the responsibility of the newspaper in this respect has become heavier.

No institution mirrors so faithfully the activities of all people, year in and year out, as does the local newspaper. It regularly provides information vital in performing our duties and planning our lives. We cannot live in ignorance on a local level any more than we can on the national or international level.

In advertising there is service, too.

Advertising as it is carried in your local newspaper is not out to sell you a bill of goods. It has a vital selling job to do, yes. But that job is to enable your merchants and business people to make known the merchandise or services they have to offer, here at home. Advertising is a service to the buyer and the seller.

This year's National Newspaper Week theme is "Your Newspaper—Guards Your Freedoms!" Besides telling its own story to the reader, your newspaper would remind you how important and wonderful it is to live in a land with a free press . . . a land that the free press has helped make great.

Safe Teen-Age Driving, Like the Proverbial Charity, Begins at Home

An Oklahoma State Highway Trooper put his finger on the problem of teen-age wild driving recently at a Mangum Rotary Club meeting; his answer is worth passing on:

"With their drivers training programs, schools can help a lot. But many boys already have warped ideas about their responsibilities as drivers because they have watched their fathers break the speed limit and run stop signs." Trooper Don Wickoff said.

"First, let's set a good example to youth with our own driving habits.

"It is bad practice to teach a 13-year-old boy to drive a car because he won't be satisfied until he takes the wheel even though he's too young to have a drivers license. Parents would never think of teaching their children to take another's property but they do let them drive when it's against the law," the trooper continued.

In Texas, a highway patrolman or county law enforcement officer can give a driver under 16 a ticket, but he can also file a charge on the parents or the owner of the car the youngster is driving for permitting an underage person to operate a motor vehicle. The minimum fine, with costs and mileage, is $20.70.

But better than any fine, minimum or otherwise, is the example for safe, sensible driving which parents can set by their own driving.

The swift depreciation of the franc has been partly responsible for French political unrest, in the view of the president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and should be a warning to this country. The franc of today is worth only 1/84th of its 1918 value. If the same fate should befall the dollar, a $100 suit of clothes would sell for $8,400; a $100 social security check would buy two pounds of hamburger, and $100,000 in life insurance would provide board and room for a widow for about a year.—Ouray (Colo.) Bird of Another Feather

CROSSROADS ★ REPORT

Dear Editor:

The U. S. Constitution and the Bible are very prominent in the news these days as guides to our political and religious lives.

Trouble is, nobody seems willing to let either document speak for itself. We hire judges and preachers to tell us what the writers of same would have said if they had been as smart as the interpreters.

My calloused neighbor says if we only had as many Supreme Courts as we have Churches, a man could also pick out an interpretation of the Constitution to match how he wants to live.

Editorial cartoon in a newspaper a while back pictured Federal bureaucrats as similar to hogs, and this is considered by some around here as a base insult to hoggers.

My hog-herder neighbor claims there is practically no resemblance between these two species of critter, on account of the hog is a useful animal which earns his keep.

Says further that once a bureaucrat sets, he is like rheumatism—no reliable way to get rid of him. But if you get tired of a hog you can eat him.

City neighbor says the kids in his town are getting so fast on their feet that the traffic department has been able to raise school zone speed limits to 20 miles an hour.

He figures that if mankind keeps on evolving, in two or three more generations our children will come so agile that only the most dedicated driver can ever hit one of them.

Says likely we can then raise the speed limit around school-grounds to 30 or 40 m.p.h. without losing more than an expendable minimum of offspring to the high cause of hurry.

I see where rumor has it that the new 1959 cars will be somewhat dechromed, and there is even hope that some of them will look more like cars than high-tailed pinball machines.

Reports are they will also be wider and lower, but it will likely be 1960 or 1961 before we will have to ride horizontal and get into them like loading a shotgun.

My potted neighbor says any further lowering of cars is going to generate problems for some of us citizens who are taller lying down than sitting up.

I see where Vice President Nixon is a very prominent member of the NAACP, but sends his own kids to an all-white school, and some non-reverent individuals are saying this borders on insincerity.

My domesticated neighbor says it is not fair to Mr. Nixon to criticize him for failing to practice what he preaches in this case.

After all, this is a matter in which his own children are involved, and he likely forgot to ask his wife about it before he went on record.

I note that all of the fuss raised on the subject has apparently forced the Pentagon to abandon the project making plans on how to surrender gracefully.

Which I guess means that hereafter any surrendering we find it necessary to do will have to be done free style or catch as catch can.

My formerly independent neighbor says, though, it won't be a completely amateurish performance, on account of us rank and file have already had considerable experience surrendering to Washington.

Badgers hibernate during the winter.

I Saw . . . by Virginia Robey

Deputy Sheriff Kenneth Hodge with the radio aerial knocked off his car . . . Coming back from Childress he ran over a Turkey buzzard. He estimates its wingspread at least four feet, for when it hit the windshield, it completely covered it. Childress officials had brought over a handcuffed prisoner, without the keys to unlock him, and none Sheriff John Rainey had would do the job. Kenneth's errand was to get the right key.

Wendell Morgan hunting Judge Luther Gribble to explain why he couldn't report for Grand Jury Duty last Monday. He doesn't live here any more . . . teaches at Community Center, Childress county.

County Agent Bob Lynch saying there weren't any more rats than usual this time of year, it just seems that way because they migrate from the fields to town, hunting winter quarters. The biggest one I've seen migrated too far into the territory of the blue-eyed blonde cat, Puddin, that is this column's next-door neighbor. There is now no rat.

Bob Watson, down with Dorothy and their baby, saying he'd changed from the Perryton police department to deputy sheriff of Ochiltree county. "I'm glad to be off traffic duty. Nothing makes people madder than a $3.00 traffic ticket, and the thing is, they stay mad," he remarked. They are selling their house, next door to his mother, Mrs. Vesta Watson, to Mrs. J. M. Homer.

The mother of two well-behaved Wellington children—a woman who does a great deal of youth work—explains it like this: "I just don't hold with this modern theory that you mustn't discipline children, it might warp their personalities. I just go right ahead and warp their little personalities, and if that doesn't work, I warp somewhere else."

The Leader's Alta Wheeler took small daughter Laurie Lynn to church the other night, and a strange woman inquired, "Whose baby do you have?" "Mine," Alta replied. The embarrassed visitor finally stammered out that she had thought Alta was just a little girl, herself.

Good to see: Becky Wells again at work in Wells & Wells; Mary Miles Kern doing part time work in the office of St. Joseph's Hospital.

In a non-political moment of the Democratic State convention, part of the men from this county had the last evening with time on their hands and went to the show. It turned out to be "Cat on the Hot Tin Roof," and up to that point, none of the group had paid any attention to the furor over either the play or the picture. As things developed, one of the group remarked: "My, pictures have changed since I used to go. This isn't at all like Wyatt Earp."
